U.S. TROOPS LAY SIEGE TO CHERBOURG DEFENCES

Gen. Montgomery Building Up His Forces For Typical "Monty" Punch Backed By Thousands Of Big Guns

British Division Breaks Through German Defences in a Small Breach 11 Miles West of Caen—U.S. Forces that Seized Peninsula Busy Widening Their Break-Through Path to Atlantic Coast—Germans Unlikely to Succeed in Destroying Port of Cherbourg.

Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 19.—(P)—American troops laid siege today to the defences of Cherbourg while to the Eastern end of the beachhead at Tilly sur Seulles, 11 miles West of Caen, a British division broke through German defences in a small breach. The British forces were reported fighting in the streets of Tilly.

All along the rest of the beachhead front there were brisk small actions as Gen. Montgomery, Allied Ground Commander, built up his forces for a typical "Monty" punch backed up by thousands of big guns.

East of Tilly, too, British forces have made lighter gains in minor attacks, and have beaten off German counter-attacks in the woods there.

There have been small gains by British and Canadian 3rd Division troops in the area around Caen, while a small advance has also been made Southeast of Bayeux.

The spearhead of the American drive to capture this big port, developed by Napoleon, was the U. S. 9th Division. It was this division that broke through German defences to take Bizerte, Tunisia, thirteen months ago.

United States forces that severed the Peninsula were busy widening their break-through path to the Atlantic coast, which even last night was seven miles wide. They were driving the Germans down toward La Haye du Puits, big road junction seven miles South of St. Sauveur le Vicomte, into what appeared to be another trap, for one American trans-peninsula spearhead has been with in four miles of La Haye for several days.

If this spearhead takes the town of Le Haye, the Germans in that area will be in another pocket—between St. Lo D'Orville and the Atlantic coast.

A third American column struck South of Lisson to within six miles of St. Lo, important rail and highway junction in the Vire River Valley, 42 air miles South of Cherbourg.

Beach areas were quiet, with the wind at "force two," and unloading of men and material proceeded at a rapid rate.

One officer returning to Britain said it was quieter behind the lines on the beachhead than in Southern England, where the Germans sent over hundreds of rocket bombs, causing casualties and damage, particularly among the civilian population.

But in six days of incessant bombardment with the new weapon, the Germans had failed to halt the dispatch of a single ship to the beachhead.

On the beachhead side the German air force virtually had disappeared, which might be an indication.

PROGRAMME IS MAPPED OUT BY QUEBEC C.C.F.

R. J. Lamoureux Elected President of Quebec Section of C.C.F. Party, Succeeding Dr. Frank Scott.

By GUY BEAUDRY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Montreal, June 19.—(P)—Delegates at the closing session of a two-day provincial convention of the C.C.F. party yesterday mapped out a large-scale organization provincial plan to familiarize Quebecers with the draft of their programme they adopted during their meeting here.

Definite phrasing and wording of the programme was left to the Provincial Council after delegates in closed and open sessions decided on the principles of the programme.

R. J. Lamoureux, assistant director of District No. 6 of the United Steel Workers of America (C.I.O.), was elected President of the Quebec section of the C.C.F. party. He succeeds Dr. Frank Scott, of Montreal, National Chairman of the C.C.F., who has held both offices for a number of years. Dr. Scott remains on the Provincial Council.

Other members of the Provincial Council whose job will be to implement the convention's recommendations, were elected as follows: Vice-Presidents, William Long, International Union of Machinists (A.F. L.) and Guy Merrill Desautels, legal adviser of the Canadian Congress of Labor; members of the executive, J. M. Bedard, Harry Wilks, Frank Watson, Dr. N. Weirick, Dr. Frank Scott, all of Montreal, Lucien Lepinay, Ph. Vaillancourt, both of Quebec, and F. R. Larocque, of St. Lambert.

Here is a summary of the adopted draft programme to be presented to Quebec voters at the next provincial elections:

1. Public ownership of public utilities.
2. Long range plan for the development of social ownership of natural resources.

3. Creation of provincial commissions with exclusive right to produce and sell essential commodities.
4. Public ownership of breweries, wineries and distilleries under the Quebec Liquor Commission.

5. Encouragement to producers and consumers; co-operatives, credit unions, mutual insurance companies and non-interference with existing co-operatives in Quebec.
6. Private ownership of the farm with a programme of large-scale drainage, assistance to producers, extension of farm credit, provision of cheap electricity, provision for price floors, development of industries using agricultural products, legislation to deal with indebtedness of farmers, crop insurance.

7. Free and compulsory education up to 16 years, free and uniform text books; recognition that education is within provincial jurisdiction; taking over by the province of 50 per cent of the cost of education; programme of education for adults.

Protection of the "fundamental" rights of the working class, positive recognition of the right to work and to economic and social security for workers; repeal of Quebec's new labor legislation.

8. Free and compulsory education up to 16 years, free and uniform text books; recognition that education is within provincial jurisdiction; taking over by the province of 50 per cent of the cost of education; programme of education for adults.

British Premier Says Invasion Was Launched in Full Accord With Reds; Great Tactical Surprise To Germans

London, June 19.—(P)—Prime Minister Churchill, in a speech delivered at the Mexican Embassy four days ago and permitted to be published only today, said the months of this summer may "bring full success to the cause of freedom."

He said the invasion of Normandy was a great tactical surprise to the Germans who did not know it was coming until they saw the ships and "it may be that events will occur in the next few months which will show us whether we are soon to be released of the curse which has been laid upon us by the Germans."

The invasion was launched "in full accord" with the Russians and the decisions reached at Teheran, he added, "and although the execution of the plans adopted there is far from being complete, it is being steadily unrolled, and the months of this summer may bring full success to the cause of freedom."

Touching on political aspects of the war, the Prime Minister said efforts were being made "to achieve permanent co-operation and to build up an organization which after this war will strengthen the bonds between all our nations and will succeed in preserving peace."

"We look forward to the future in which the rights of small nations will be upheld and protected and in which the strong will use their power under the law for the protection of the weak."

Whether the Germans are defeated this year or next, the British and American peoples will never falter or withdraw their hands from the task which they have undertaken, he declared. "Together with our Allies we will go on to the end, and the end will be the more terrible for our foes the longer their struggle continues and the longer this war is protracted."

Referring to the inconvenience caused the diplomatic corps by restrictions on communications to preserve secrecy, Churchill said, "the lives of a million men may be engaged now on both sides of the present struggle in France."

OMINOUS LULL GIVES CANUCKS CHANCE TO REST

Canadians Preparing for Next Phase in Their Campaign After Fighting for Days and Nights with Little Sleep.

By WILLIAM STEWART,
Canadian Press War Correspondent.
With the Canadian Forces in France, June 19.—(P) Cable.—The last week has been quiet on the Canadian sector of the Normandy front but the lull is ominous. It has seemed uncharacteristic to see troops who in their successful landing fought their way up beaches and kept fighting for several days and nights with little sleep.

The Canadians have made use of the lull to rest up and get ready for the next phase but all the while they have had one ear cocked for an outbreak that might be the signal for another of those jabbing counter-attacks by which the Germans tried to break a hole into the bridgehead positions.

A lull in the battle, of course, doesn't mean a complete stillness in which the droning of bees can be heard. By day, the roar of our fighter-bombers has been constant. The second-front air cover is as great as ever provided an army.

Then there have been artillery exchanges and mortar fire and Canadian and German patrols have worked their way through the tall grasses and creeps along the edges at night on reconnaissance.

But generally it's meant a lay-up for the infantrymen who fought magnificently after marching quickly in from the beaches and digging in.

In forward areas, the lull has produced a picture of soldiers, stripped to the waist, sunning themselves in the green fields into which they have cut their life-saving slit trenches. As long as there is no shell or mortar fire close to them, they doze. But the whistle and explosion of one or two enemy projectiles sends them underground.

Sometimes there is a little gunfire for a while, then the guns behind the Canadians will open up with a dozen rounds or so. A few minutes after they have fired, German shells will come singing over.

Because the war on the Canadian front has been more or less static, with only nibbling movements here and there, fewer German prisoners are seen lately. Sniping also has practically disappeared.

The Canadians have had more time to examine the hulks of German tanks thrown against them last week and decided they are 45-ton panthers rather than 60-ton tigers. The panthers are worthy opponents for any tanks and it is remarkable to see some that have been knocked out.

Evidence of the success of the beachhead buildup is more apparent in rearward areas where many little roads are busy with Allied military traffic.

The nightly increase in bridgehead anti-aircraft defences is just one of the ways of measuring the solidified Allied position in Normandy. From a few guns on the night of landing

JAP ASSAULTS ARE REPELLED ON MARIANAS

U.S. Soldiers and Marines Fight Their Way Through Cane-Fields Halfway Across Saipan Island.

Pearl Harbor, June 19.—(P)—American soldiers and Marines, fighting their way through cane-fields halfway across Saipan Island in the Marianas and repelling Japanese assaults by tanks and by landing craft, drove down toward the island's principal harbor and naval base at Magicienne Bay today.

Slightly more than 100 miles Southwest, American warships bombarded Guam heavily for the first time in the war. Admiral Nimitz, in announcing that this former American base had been shelled last Thursday, gave no indication as to whether an invasion was in prospect.

Fifteen hundred miles to the South, just below the Equator, medium bombers and escorting fighters temporarily neutralized Japan's last remaining effective air base in New Guinea. They destroyed 50 enemy planes at Sorong and sank five enemy merchantmen and half a dozen smaller vessels.

Radio Tokyo reported that hundreds of bombers and fighters attacked two islands, in the Kazan group 750 miles Northwest of Saipan, Friday. American planes raided the Kazan and Bonin Islands for the first time on Wednesday, destroying 47 Japanese planes and sinking or damaging more than a dozen ships or small water craft.

The Saipan beachhead established by Marines, with the support of army infantry units, at last reports extended from Azingian Point on the Southwestern tip 5 1/2 miles to the West Coast almost to Grapan, the island's largest town.

EDMONTON AREA IS STRUCK BY SEVERE FLOODS

Residents Report Loss of Livestock, Wash-out of Railway Roadbeds and Highways and Evacuation of Low-Lying Districts.

Edmonton, June 19.—(P)—The worst flood in 35 years struck Bellevue, Manola and Rossington, about 65 miles Northwest of Edmonton, during the week-end following heavy rains in Alberta's foothills that sent swollen rivers over banks in several districts.

Loss of livestock, wash-out of railway roadbeds and highways, and temporary evacuation from some low-lying areas were reported while residents of Cadomin, Luscar and Mountain Park, about 165 miles West of Edmonton, were short of food supplies.

NO CARDINALS WILL BE NAMED TILL WAR ENDS

College of Cardinals Now Reduced to 42 Members, Lowest Number in 144 Years.

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Associated Press War Correspondent
Vatican City, June 19.—(P)—The Allied occupation of Rome finds the College of Cardinals reduced to forty-two members—the lowest number in 144 years.

The normal complement of the College theoretically is seventy although it is practice always to have some vacancies.

There are no prospects for an immediate increase as Pope Pius XII has decided not to create new Cardinals while the war lasts in Europe, persons familiar with the Vatican say. There have been reports that the Pontiff secretly named some Cardinals under a process known as "in petto" but these reports are denied authoritatively.

There were sixty-two Cardinals at the conclave at which the present Pope was elected in 1939. His elevation to the Papal reduced the number to sixty-one. Two Cardinals died before the war started and seventeen have died since.

Of the surviving forty-two Cardinals, one is a Canadian, Rodrigue Cardinal Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec.

Twenty-five are Italian, four are French, two Germans and one each American, Argentine, Spanish, Hungarian, Irish, Australian, Polish, Portuguese, Belgian and Syrian.

Eighteen Cardinals are living in the Rome area, fourteen live in German-controlled territory, five (in addition to those in Rome) in United Nations territory and five in neutral countries. All the Cardinals are over 60 years of age.

Rocket Bomb Base Bombed Early Today

Fighter-Bombers, Attacking at Rate of One a Minute, Drive Home Three-Ply Assault in Direct Support of Invasion Forces—Pilotless Explosives Hurlted Over into England.

By GLADWIN HILL,
Associated Press War Correspondent
Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 19.—(P)—U. S. heavy bombers 500 to 700 strong hammered Hitler's rocket-bomb launching area at Pas de Calais today as more of the pilotless explosives hurtled over into England, and other big Allied planes struck heavily at German air bases in Southwestern France.

Fighter-bombers, attacking at the rate of one a minute, drove home a three-ply assault in direct support of the invasion forces. One wave pounded trapped German forces on Northern Cherbourg Peninsula. Another battered communication routes to the Southwest over which the Nazis were trying to reinforce their armored divisions in the Tilly-Caen sector. The third stream bombed the area North of Paris, disrupting enemy reinforcement lines.

The American heavy bombers slashed at rocket installations after a night assault by the R.A.F., in which one plane was lost, and a raid in the same area Sunday by 250 big U. S. bombers.

Other formations hit airfield targets including Bordeaux-Mérignac and Cazaux, West of Bordeaux, and Corne Elouse near the coast West of Cognac.

A rare stretch of bad June weather still was hampering air operations. Fighter-bombers blasted to pieces one concentration of several hundred Germans. One fighter group saw what looked like a big procession of citizens out for a ride in horse shays, but when the pilots "buzzed" the cavalcade for a closer look German soldiers dived for cover. The ammunition-loaded "shays" were sent up in a string of firecracker explosions while horses scampered across the fields.

The Germans apparently are making increased use of horse-drawn vehicles, indicating perhaps a shortage of motor vehicles.

More than 1,300 American heavy bombers hammered oil refineries and storage plants in the Hamburg area and three enemy airbases in Northwest Germany yesterday, while 250 other heavy bombers

French Colonial Battalions Seize Greater Portion Of Island Of Elba

By LYNN HEINZELING,
Associated Press War Correspondent
Rome, June 19.—(P)—French Colonial battalions captured Porto Ferraro and now hold the "greater" part of the island of Elba, Allied Headquarters announced today, while the Italian Peninsula met one of the Allied troops made gains on both flanks and in the centre of their line, taking Assisi, birthplace of St. Francis.

Beating down determined German resistance on Elba, the French have rounded up several hundred prisoners, including several high officers, a communique said.

A field dispatch said the French had seized more than two-thirds of Elba.

German Pilotless Planes Proving Only Nuisance To British People

By ALAN RANDAL,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.
Somewhere in Southern England, June 19.—(P) Cable.—There's a Welshman atmosphere in living on Southern England since Hitler decided to bring Britain's little people back into the front line by putting to use pilotless planes—or more correctly winged bombs—which Britons have known for some time he had been holding up his sleeve.

It's a weird feeling, like getting a glimpse of some world of fantasy, to know these so-called buzz-bombs, rattle bombs or comet planes are shooting through English skies day and night, without regard for military objectives and likely to strike anywhere.

Generally, Britons seem to feel that if Hitler is laughing at what he believes is British terror, the last laugh definitely will be with Britain because it is generally agreed he is wasting his time if this weapon is supposed to win the war for him.

Fuzz-bombs are nothing like as bad as even the pocket blitz on London early this year.

WAR BULLETINS

Chungking.—The Chinese High Command announced tonight the withdrawal of Chinese troops from the Burma Road town of Lungling.

Kandy, Ceylon.—Allied troops have compressed further the Japanese defensive arcs at the enemy's North Burma bases of Mogaung and Myitkyina, and have advanced steadily on the Kohima dent in India despite monsoon conditions and enemy demolitions.

An Advanced Landing Ground in France.—American fighters and fighter-bombers began operating from this base yesterday and by supper-time fighters had run off seven missions in close support of troops. The planes took off as fast as they could be refueled, re-armed and strung with bombs.

London.—Algiers Radio reported today that the British 8th Army entered the Southern suburbs of Perugia, 129 miles North of Rome, this morning. Reports from Italy, however, said merely that armored units of the 8th were at San Martino Delfico, less than three miles from Perugia.

ALCOHOL TOLL IN SAINT JOHN NOW THIRTEEN

Sixteen More in Hospital as Police Scour City for Twenty-Five Gallons of Poison Still Unaccounted for.

Saint John, N.B., June 19.—With thirteen dead after drinking methyl alcohol as a beverage, police scoured this city today in search of twenty-five gallons of the poison still unaccounted for.

Sixteen are in hospital for medical treatment and some are in a critical condition. Two iron lungs are being used for those more seriously affected by the alcohol.

Authorities said the alcohol was part of a shipment going Overseas for the Canadian Red Cross and that it disappeared from a shed on the waterfront at West Saint John early last Friday. Most of the victims are stevedores.

Deaths of four men and a woman were reported during the week-end. The woman was Mrs. Julia Ewart.

dinals in countries held by Germans are believed to be in their sees except for Cardinal Augustus Hlond, Primate of Poland.

Cardinal Hlond came to Rome after the German invasion of Poland, later moved to Southern France and, when the Germans took that area, is said to have left for Spain.

The Pontiff's resolve to appoint no Cardinals during hostilities is based on his feeling that the creation of a Prince of the Church is a joyous occasion and war, with its destruction and suffering, is no time for it.

It is expected that he will call a consistory shortly after the war is ended at which time a large number of Cardinals will be named. It is expected that he will call Pope Benedict XV created several Cardinals during the last war.

2,000 planes into the Karelian offensive and that Soviet air superiority was overwhelming, despite assistance offered by German airmen based in Finland.

Before smashing through the Mannerheim Line the Russians had driven through two other intricate defence belts which Moscow advisers quoted Russian officers as saying were the strongest they had encountered in this war.

Soviet dispatches, however, said that the Finnish troops—whose fighting qualities the Russians always have respected—were not offering the same desperate resistance as they did in the winter of 1939-40.

There were no reports of large-scale action elsewhere on the Russian front, but the Karelian campaign generally was regarded as only a prelude to greater Russian blows elsewhere.

In this connection, Associated Press War Correspondent Henry Cassiday said in a dispatch last night from the Karelian front: "There are signs that this offensive, while of major importance in the aim of knocking Finland out of the war, is only a sideshow to the Red Army as a whole. A further offensive carrying out the Russian part of the Teheran pledge of combined blows at Germany from East, West and South is expected."

Gen. Montgomery

tion that Marshal Rommel was conserving his forces for an all-out attack.

The German-held Channel Islands, which have many heavy guns, may give the Allied Western flank a good deal of trouble, but so far British and American battalions have been able to deal with any coastal defences encountered.

While the Germans were expected to attempt destruction of the port of Cherbourg, they are unlikely to prevent its use by the Allies. The naval docks, especially, are hewn out of solid rocks and there is little the Germans can do against these.

Nor is it likely they can seriously cripple the great mole, which dates back to 1862 and is largely a work of Sebastian de Vauban, Marshal of France, who became a great engineering authority on sieges and fortifications.

It was disclosed today that on the Eastern end of the beachhead Gen. Montgomery has under his command the British 7th Armored Division, famed as the "Juba," or "Desert" Division.

"Monty" apparently was biding his time, as always, to launch an all-out blow to beat a way out of the beachhead and into the open country of France.

When the time comes, it is more than likely that the "Desert Rats," who Montgomery insisted be brought to England, will be playing a major role in the assault.

There was no E-boat or U-boat activity reported, and the great invasion armada sent an unending stream of supplies to the beachhead without interruption.

Neither today's communique No. 27 nor that of last night made specific mention of action on the Canadian front where 3rd Division troops were last officially reported holding German armor tightly engaged on the Eastern flank of the jagged invasion front.

In a dispatch last night, Ross Munro, chief Canadian Press War Correspondent in the field, reported British columns in this area were maintaining strong patrols on the German defence perimeter around embattled Caen, aided by Canadian patrols which also were in action night and day.

Meantime, American troops have forged a seven-mile band of steel across the Cherbourg Peninsula a few days ago. The strategic port of Cherbourg itself with its 25,000 to 30,000 Nazi defenders, whose fate now appears sealed.

This new victory apparently assured the ultimate possession of Cherbourg, France's third most important port as a base of operations from which the Allies might enlarge and solidify the continental toe-hold which their military leaders already have declared secure against attack the Germans may bring against it.

Isolation of the strategic peninsula was accomplished early yesterday by United States forces, headed by the battle-tried 9th Division.

Thus today the Allies held an ever-tighter bridgehead in France. Further, the strategically vital Cherbourg Peninsula was one-third clear, with an almost certain prospect for its complete occupation. This would give the Allies necessary freedom of manoeuvre, and build-up of supply, for a full-scale drive inland.

And even yet the Allies had not shown their real strength. Their accomplishments thus far had been achieved with no real sea base, but had been fed from a beach by an almost incredible cross-Channel shuttle of every available craft.

A seven-hour battle developed after the 9th Division reached the sea at Barneville-sur-Mer. The Nazi 77th Division attacked in waves and ran into the heaviest concentration of mortar and artillery fire laid down since D-Day, 13 days ago. Its shattered remnants finally retreated to the North, harassed by Allied fighters and fighter-bombers.

The Americans enlarged their corridor to the Atlantic coast. Today it appeared doubtful that Cherbourg could remain long in German hands.

Elsewhere there were few major changes in the situation along the beachhead front yesterday. In the centre of the front, Allied troops were within six miles of St. Lo, vital road junction on the Eastern flank Canadian and British forces still were locked in battle with Nazi armor.

Yesterday, 1,300 Flying Fortresses and Liberators hammered targets in Germany, while lighter craft supported the beachhead forces.

The American drive to the sea placed Lt.-Gen. Bradley's troops firmly on an 18-mile stretch of the Atlantic coast between Cape Carteret and St. Lo-D'Ourville, cutting off 400 square miles of the Cherbourg Peninsula.

The next indicated move was enlargement of the four-mile sector at St. Sauveur le Vicomte, the area of greatest peril from Nazi counter-attacks down the road and rail routes to La Haye du Puits.

Yet another threat to the port of Cherbourg was an American drive in the Montebourg-Quineville sector, some 14 miles South of Cherbourg.

Allied Headquarters announced yesterday that the bag of prisoners in the beachhead operation had reached 15,000.

Associated Press War Correspondent Don Whitehead, writing from the front described the German 77th Division's fanatical and fruitless attempt to break the American trap on the peninsula as "literally a massacre—the massacre of St. Jacques de Nehou. For that is where the Americans battered the Germans in one of the bloodiest encounters of the invasion." St. Jacques de Nehou is 4 1/2 miles Northwest of St. Sauveur.

"The enemy literally is running in circles trying to find a way out of the Cherbourg trap," Whitehead said.

Munro said in a dispatch from Ally-held Bayeux last night that Maj. H. B. Gooding, formerly of Fort Colborne, Ont., had been named Head of the First Civil Affairs Detachment to establish itself in France in the wake of the in-planes, they can forget about it and settle down to let Britain work out a quick solution.

Meantime, "too little and too late" is the verdict of British experts. Used by thousands months ago, they might seriously have interrupted with invasion preparations. On the scale they are appearing now, they are only a nuisance.

Already a good number have been destroyed in the air by gunfire. But their very presence is changing the British way of life a bit.

Shelters are more crowded at nights and tin hats are becoming the customary thing for civilians and service people alike to sling over the shoulder.

The German-controlled Paris Radio quoted a Berlin announcement, saying that in addition to London, targets hit by the rocket bombs included Plymouth, Southampton, Portsmouth, Weymouth, the Isle of Wight, Brighton, Littlehampton, Hastings, Folkestone, Dover, Margate and Gravesend.

Rocket Bomb

The Germans hurled more winged bombs at Southern England today, carrying their attack with these new weapons into its fifth day.

The Western air war has developed into a three-sided battle, with Allied air units engaging in a cross-Channel duel with German rocket bombs, maintaining ceaseless support of the invasion troops in Normandy and mounting strategic attacks on the Reich itself.

Although the Germans threw up a flak barrage described as one of the heaviest yet encountered, not a single enemy fighter rose to challenge the mighty aerial fleet which struck into Germany yesterday.

About 500 fighters accompanied the heavy bombers, which made an attack aimed at shutting off the lifeblood of Germany's motorized divisions.

Only two German aircraft were sighted all day yesterday by United States 9th Air Force fighter pilots who made more than 1,000 individual flights. They attacked hundreds of moving targets on the Cherbourg Peninsula and military objectives in the Pas de Calais area, and made sweeps into Central France near Paris, Amiens and Arras.

Many formations of medium, light and fighter-bombers laid down a withering fire on enemy forces being thrown back by American troops smashing across the Cherbourg Peninsula.

Some American medium bombers heavily attacked the rail yards at Rennes yesterday. Others joined in bombing ammunition dumps at Fort D'Andaine South of Villers-Bocage and other targets close behind the enemy's lines.

The attacks made on the three German airfields yesterday brought to 15 the number of German fighter bases hit by American heavy bombers in two days.

Two missions Saturday, the Americans struck a dozen landing fields behind the Normandy battle zone, in addition to heaping new destruction on the Pas de Calais area, which also was hit by R.A.F. fighter-bombers.

R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. bombers battered enemy installations in Northern France and laid mines in enemy waters Saturday night, while Mosquitos struck targets in Berlin and Western Germany and also roamed behind the Normandy battle front. These operations cost one plane.

The latest tabulation on Saturday's combat scores showed 37 German planes downed over France. This represented about 10 per cent of the total air forces the enemy risked during the day and night. The list also showed 44 Allied losses—around one per cent of the sorties flown.

Four Local Servicemen Killed In Allied Invasion

Canadian Army Members Fall In Initial Wave Of Assault

War struck forcibly at the citizens of Sherbrooke today with the announcement that four of its servicemen had paid the supreme sacrifice in the launching of the great Allied invasion of Western Europe.

All Canadian Active Army members, the four, Lieut. Trevor Charles Stevens, Lieut. William Henry Tremholme, Sgt. Fred J. Allsop, and Cpl. Joseph Leonard Paul Fountain, gave their lives on the battlefield of honor in the long-awaited movement for the liberation of free peoples now under the heel of Nazi tyranny.

Two of these, Sgt. Allsop and Cpl. Fountain, were former carriers of the Record, two of the large number of Record personnel enlisted in the Dominion's armed forces.

LIEUTENANT STEVENS
A former resident of Lennoxville, where he was born in 1916, Lieut. Stevens was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Stevens, of 189 Quebec Street. He received his early education in the Sherbrooke High School and St. Patrick's Academy, and was a graduate of Bishop's University. Prior to enlisting, he was in the employ of the Sherwin-Williams Company of Canada in Montreal and later in Kingston.

Lieut. Stevens received his commission with the Bishop's University Cadet Corps, and transferred to active service with the rank of lieutenant in July, 1940. He saw service in many parts of Canada and Newfoundland prior to proceeding overseas in November, 1942.

The telegram reporting his death while on active service on June 7, was received by his wife on Saturday, June 17.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Agnes R. McDougall, of Three Rivers, and one daughter, Charlotte, his mother and father, and two brothers, Captain Basil W. Stevens, his twin brother who is at present also serving overseas with the Canadian Army, and Edgar Stevens, B.Sc., who is in the employ of the D.L.L. plant at Nitro, Que.

Lieutenant William Henry Tremholme, 28, went overseas with his unit in April, 1942.

Born February third, 1916, he received his early education at the Lennoxville High School, later graduating from the University of Bishop's College with a B.A. degree in 1937. Entering McGill University the same year, Lieut. Tremholme graduated from that institution in 1940 with the degree of Bachelor of Commerce.

The only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Tremholme, he married Edith Marion Havard, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. R. Havard, January first, 1942.

He deceased leaves to survive him his wife, his father and mother, and one son, James Graham, eighteen months old.

SGT. ALLSOP
Sgt. Fred J. Allsop, 28, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allsop, 48 Bowen Avenue North, was born in Sherbrooke in 1922. He received his education in this city, having attended the East Ward School, the Mitchell School, and receiving his graduation diploma from the Sherbrooke High School.

Prior to his enlistment, Sgt. Allsop was an employee of the Canadian Fairbanks-Morse Company Limited. While in civilian life, Sgt. Allsop was keenly interested in the Boy Scout movement, and was also a member of the Trinity United Church and Sunday School.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT HISTORIC LETTER SET SOUND POLICY
In the Johns-Manville letter there's a mighty interesting letter written in 1868 — seventy-six years ago — by H. W. Johns, one of the two founders of Johns-Manville. This letter reads in part:

"We would invite your attention to the newly discovered uses of asbestos by which we have been able to add greatly to the value of our manufactures. We promise and claim less than many others, but shall endeavor as heretofore to furnish the best materials of the kind, and to make every resource available for their improvement."

For more than 76 years this statement of policy has guided Johns-Manville in its continuous effort to make better products for less money — serving the home owner, industry and now our country at war. And today, the J-M mine at Asbestos, Que., is the largest asbestos mine in the world.

PROMOTED

Flying Officer Harry Blue, son of Col. and Mrs. J. Harry Blue, of Sherbrooke, who has received official notification of his promotion from rank of Pilot Officer to Flying Officer.

While overseas as Flying Officer Blue took part in numerous bombing sorties over Occupied Europe and also served in several theatres of war. Shortly after the beginning of the war he was in the Canadian Army and held the rank of Lieutenant, but subsequently transferred to the Royal Canadian Air Force. He was overseas for two years.

This morning Flying Officer Blue was a donor at the Dufferin Avenue Blood Clinic, thus serving in his holiday period to help those who are carrying on, as he is, the fight for freedom and for victory.

INSTITUTE AT ASCOT HOLDS BUSY SESSION

A largely-attended meeting of the Ascot Women's Institute was held at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boddette, Johnville Road, Mrs. W. S. Richardson, the President, was in the chair. After the usual opening, Mrs. W. T. Pearson reported on the unveiling of the honor roll which was placed in the Ascot Consolidated by the Club, and a special vote of thanks was extended to Miss Thelma Crawford of Lennoxville who prepared the roll.

Mrs. W. T. Pearson was then elected as official delegate to attend the annual convention at Macdonald College, as the delegates chosen at the previous meeting were unable to attend.

Mrs. D. A. McElrea gave a splendid report of the Farm Forum Rally recently held at Macdonald College which she attended as a delegate.

Correspondence included a letter from Mrs. Smallman, which was discussed, and a most interesting letter from Mrs. Smith, a Scottish correspondent, who gave a splendid description of Glamis Castle, which she had visited. Another member exhibited a calendar, which she had received from a Scottish pen friend.

The roll call was responded to by "Wartime Economics." Conveners' reports were then given. Mrs. D. McElrea, agriculture, reported the sum of $10 voted for the annual County School Fair work and prizes. Mrs. G. L. Robinson read several short items on national and international relations and Mrs. M. A. Smiley read an article on legislation.

Mrs. W. S. Richardson then gave a short report on the proposed plans for a temporary honor roll to be erected in Lennoxville for the Ascot and Lennoxville men and women in the services.

Mrs. W. T. Pearson read an article on education and reported that meetings were being held in Lennoxville to arrange for adult school classes and urged members to do their best to take advantage of these classes if possible.

In the absence of Mrs. R. S. Lipsey, Convener of Home Economics, Mrs. T. Billings, introduced the guest speaker, Miss Stewart domestic science teacher of the Lennoxville High School, who gave a very interesting address on "Canning," describing different methods, various containers and causes of spoilage. She also explained the many sources of the very necessary vitamin C and told of some of the research work now being done with rose hips.

Mrs. W. S. Richardson then gave the monthly Red Cross report which showed that one quilt and several fur garments were donated and fifteen pairs of socks, fourteen two-year-old dresses and panties, three pairs bloomers and one ladies' coat had been made for the Red Cross.

Adjournment followed and refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. W. Boddette, Mrs. W. Brown and Mrs. T. Billings, assisted in serving by Mrs. A. Collins and T. Clement.

Blood Clinic Calls To Those At Home To Help Those Now Risking Their All

L.T. C. STEVENS
L.T. W. H. TRENHOLME
SGT. F. J. ALLSOP
CPL. P. FOUNTAIN

Willingly they volunteered their services. Gallantly they served. Heroically they died.

Young men they were. Men who were but in the prime of life. Years of useful service lay ahead of them, but they realized that there was a greater call to answer. There was a nobler task to perform and they marched forward into battle as soldiers of Christ and soldiers of the King.

They fought a good fight and now their labors are over. Their names and deeds are enshrined in the hearts of those they leave behind them.

But what of those who remain behind? What service can the people at home render? There is a sacrifice to equal the sacrifice which they made, but there is a contribution which any man or woman between the ages of eighteen and sixty can make in a short space of half an hour. Half an hour spent at the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic is a small thing to ask any healthy person.

This morning there were thirty-four donors at the Dufferin Avenue Blood Clinic. Included in this number was Flying Officer Harry Blue, who is spending a furlough at his home in Sherbrooke after two years service overseas.

Tomorrow morning, through the courtesy of K. C. F. Mills, Superintendent of the local plant of the Dominion Textile Company, a clinic is to be held at the plant.

From 8:45 a.m., until the end of the Clinic the Red Cross flag will fly under the Union Jack from the flag pole atop the plant indicating that within the building Dominion Textile employees are giving their blood that suffering might be alleviated and lives saved in far-off lands.

On Wednesday morning a Clinic will be held at Asbestos and on Wednesday evening the usual Clinic will be held at Dufferin Avenue.

Miss Ann MacMaster, Of Vancouver, Elected New President Of C.W.L.

London, Ont., June 19.—Election of Miss Ann MacMaster, of Vancouver, B.C., as President for the coming year highlighted the closing session of the 24th annual national convention of the Catholic Women's League of Canada at the week-end.

Miss MacMaster, who moves up from the office of First Vice-President, succeeded Mrs. P. J. McGarry, C.B.E., of Kitchener, Ont., who has completed a two-year term.

A resolution dealing with immodesty in dress of girls and women was passed. It states: "Whereas immodesty in dress of girls and women has become so flagrant that decent-minded people look upon the situation with deep concern; and whereas as the C.W.L. of Canada in convention assembled views with alarm the disastrous effect of these present-day fashions on the welfare of the nation as a whole and especially on the morals of youth on the stability of the future of our Christian life. Be it resolved that the Catholic Women's League of Canada wage an untiring campaign against such immoral fashions throughout their national, diocesan and subdivision units."

That ex-service men of the small salary class be given assistance was suggested in another resolution which states: "Whereas in our study of rehabilitation plans for ex-service men and women, we find that there is apparently one class of ex-service man which has been overlooked, the man who does not require vocational or university training, is not interested in farming or fishing and is not personable — in short the man in the small salary class. Be it resolved that the Edmonton Diocesan Council, C.W.L., recommends that such ex-service men be given assistance with the above-mentioned classes on an equal basis in the purchase of a home."

A petition that the Federal Government record all citizens, either born in Canada or legally naturalized as Canadians, is contained in another resolution, pointing out that Canada is recognized as one of the important powers in the United Nations, and is given equal status in the present war to the extent of making the supreme sacrifice."

A total of $117,198.24 contributed and expended for war objectives together with money collected for the purchase of a home was recorded in the war services report of Mrs. E. V. Sullivan, of Fairville, N.E., read by Mrs. C. Fowling, of Saint John, N.B.

This showed donations to the cigarette fund amounting to $551; a total of 17,642 religious articles sent to chaplains; 33,189 knitted, 88,950 sewn articles and 26,693 garments for evacuees, as Red Cross work. Cash donations and expenditures of Red Cross local branches came to $1,280.06. A total of 1,728 quilts, afghans and blankets were made, 700 being donated.

Serving as blood donors were 2,635 members, 700 assisting at clinics. For the Merchant Navy, 2,606 ditty bags were made and filled, $10,032.21 having been expended for them and donations to sailors' clubs, Navy League, etc. War Savings Stamps and Victory Loan sales through the C.W.L. came to $186,828.80.

All the fighting in Europe would not mean a thing if Canadian men came home to find a country wrecked by inflation, declared Bryne Hope Sanders, Ottawa Director, Consumer Branch, Williams Bibles and Trade Board, speaking to the League at an open meeting in the Catholic Culture Centre.

Miss Sanders paid tribute to the women of Canada for the work they had accomplished already in the fight against inflation. She has just returned from a journey across the Dominion.

"Working in the fight against inflation we are learning to forget sections," she stated. She had found, she said, that in meeting with women who had problems affecting home and Canada they were working as one.

"In the fifth year of war we are better off and better fed than ever in our lives," stated Miss Sanders, noting that more essentials than ever before were being consumed.

"The cause of inflation is too much money for too few goods," she explained. Half of total production was being spent on war, so with wartime incomes nearly double there was only half the productive capacity.

Miss Sanders spoke of the way in which the Government was meeting this problem, through subsidies, equitable distribution, production directives and rationing.

Others returned to office for the realization that the Government was trying to find the solution best for the whole country.

Through subsidies the consumer has been saved a rise in prices; through distribution the small retailer has been kept in business.

WOUNDED

Word was received recently by Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Bowen, of Hudson Heights, that their son, Pte. S. W. Bowen, of a Canadian parachute battalion, has been officially reported wounded in action.

CHURCH GUILD HELD MEETING AT LENNOXVILLE

The final business session of St. George's Guild was held in the parish hall. A report on the annual tea and sale recently held showed a decided success.

The sum of $200 was voted to the church wardens, $75 to the local Red Cross branch and sums to the Queen's Canadian Fund, Minesweepers' Fund and "V" Bundles of Lennoxville.

Mrs. W. A. Bowen offered her home and garden for a party during the summer which was accepted.

The President expressed thanks to the members for the splendid work and co-operation during the annual tea and sale and special thanks to Mrs. E. Deacon for making the splendid fruit cake and wish was used for a guess cake, and wished all members a happy holiday during the summer months, as no regular meetings will be held until September. Tea was then served by the hostesses, Mrs. G. Povey.

SCOUT MOTHERS' AUXILIARY
Mrs. G. M. Sutherland, First Vice-President, presided at the June meeting of the Scout Mothers' Auxiliary which was held in the troop room. The meeting was opened by repeating the Scout Mothers' Prayer in unison.

Following the roll call the Treasurer's report, given by Mrs. A. L. Kuehner, showed a satisfactory balance. A donation of $25 was voted for the aid of expenses of the Scouts' summer camp.

Each member of the Auxiliary is asked to raise the sum of $1 talent money during the summer months when no regular meetings will be held, unless an executive meeting, until September.

Cigarettes are to be sent to former Boy Scouts on active service overseas, and following adjournment three boxes were packed under the convenship of Mrs. C. S. Langley to be sent to these boys overseas.

General Notes
Red Cross workers please note that hand sewers are urgently needed at the work room for the making of plaster cast boots.

Word has been received by Mrs. Ernest Warnes, Reid Street, Lennoxville, that her husband, L/Cpl. Ernest Warnes had been wounded with the Canadian Army Overseas.

Mrs. Albert Hall, Main Street, and Mrs. John Andrews, Sherbrooke, have returned home after being called to St. Johnsbury, Vt., by the serious illness of their sister, Mrs. Fred Morrison, who is a patient in the Brightloom Hospital.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Pearson and daughter, Anne, were Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Miller, Miss Marilyn Miller and Master Bobby, of Bromie, the Misses Isabelle and Christine Miller, and Master Billy Dewhurst, of Montreal.

COUNCIL WILL GET DETAILED PARLEY REPORT

A detailed report on the annual convention of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, attended by Mayor J. W. Genest and five city officials last week, will be tabled at a regular meeting of the City Council this evening.

City Clerk Antonin Deslauriers also said that much routine business will be disposed of by the City Fathers, inasmuch as the session will probably be the last until September. Although the Council adjourns for the summer months, special meetings are called to deal with important matters.

Guests attending the reunion were Captain Rutherford, V.C., winner of the last war while serving with the 5th C.M.R.

Perfection Of National Unity Is Urged By Brig.-Gen. Draper

Maintaining that in this hour of crisis there should be an end to compromise in Canada, Brigadier-General D. C. Draper, C.M.G., D.S.O., Chief Constable of Toronto, said that the only thing that matters is the defeat of the enemies by the United Nations. He was addressing the tenth annual reunion of the Fifth Canadian Mounted Rifles Association on Saturday night.

"To this supreme task we must dedicate ourselves and our country, and yet such a dedication would be sacrilegious were it not to come from a united Canada," he said.

The speaker told his comrades, with whom he fought in the last war, that national unity should be perfected, and political expediency, party politics, racial differences and sectional dissensions must be swept aside in a mighty tide of sacrifice and determination.

He held these factors as being essential at the present time, so that Canadians may play their part as a nation and as a people in the greatest drama that has ever been enacted upon the stage of the world.

"Only in such a fashion can we exert our greatest endeavors, and only in the fullest assertion of that endeavor can we take pride in our common citizenship," he declared.

Pointing out that the Allies are a long way from Berlin, the speaker said there was no reason to be complacent and over-confident, adding that the successes which have marked the recent campaigns in Italy and the recent invasion naturally give cause for satisfaction.

"But it is still true that the worst service we can render to the cause for which we are fighting is to assume that the end is in sight," he continued, "and consciously or unconsciously diminish the measure of our endeavors, so as to retard the intensity of our war effort."

Remarking it was obvious that the great test is still to come, General Draper said Canada shall have to marshal all its might in men and material before Germany and Japan are overthrown, and peace is restored once again to this tortured world.

"Let us realize, as never before, that this is no time for self-congratulations and over-confidence, as this is the time to concentrate and to dedicate every effort to the great purpose of winning the war, nor from that endeavor must we be diverted in any shape or form," he stated.

"I know that there are thousands of men in Quebec who realize and understand the necessity of unflinching and undiminished prosecution of the war effort, but I know equally well that there are thousands of others whose ineffectual self-interest blinds them to the fact that civilization and freedom in which they live is in jeopardy and danger."

Those who lead these men along the path of disunity assume a terrible responsibility, General Draper asserted, for they are betraying civilization itself, and the very freedoms under which they are permitted to carry out their nefarious purposes. Charging that any man who would seek to intensify racial discord in time of crisis, such as this, is knowingly or unknowingly betraying his country and his fellows, he said, for the sake of spreading the insidious doctrine of racial nationalism, he would sacrifice unity in time of peril and national effort in time of need.

"I often wonder when those who blindly follow those betrayers will come to the consciousness that they are being led along dangerous, deceptive and deceptive ways, and realize that only by national unity, both in days of peace and days of war, can liberty of worship and their liberty of life be perpetuated and established for all time," he added.

"What must those gallant French-"

KING GEORGE ON THE NORMANDY FRONT

The visit of King George VI to the troops fighting on the Normandy front is in keeping with the traditions established by his father during the First Great War and with his own course of action in the present conflict to date.

Refusing to quit the British Isles even during the height of the German aerial assault in 1940 and 1941, His Majesty kept in constant touch with his people and was often among one of the first persons to visit a badly-bombed area, spreading such cheer and encouragement as was possible during these trying days. Now with the United Nations turned from the defensive to the offensive it is but a continuation of his practice to learn conditions among his fighting men at first hand.

In this he has an important aide in Prime Minister Winston Churchill, a man who could only be persuaded to abstain from accompanying the initial invasion wave with the greatest of effort. And this abstention was of limited duration, for hardly had the first wave of the attacking armies established themselves on the beaches of Normandy than the Prime Minister was among them to see for himself the progress of the war.

It is such actions by the King and his First Minister that have done so much to strengthen the British form of government in the minds of the people of the Empire and resulted in the survival of the British Crown when thrones elsewhere in the world were toppling.

But both men have proved themselves the real servants of the people.

THE BATTLE OF GERMANY TODAY

One of the strangest and most crucial battles in the history of warfare is going on inside Germany. The opposing "armies" are Allied bombs and the Nazi military and secret police. The "battlefield" is the German people. The prize of victory is their morale.

This is made clear in a Swiss newspaper story by a man who returned home in March after spending months in Germany and undergoing sixty air attacks in Berlin. Even before the pulverizing attacks of the last six weeks, he reported that seventy or eighty per cent of the Nazi capital's factories were destroyed or damaged. He also disclosed that residential bombing had knocked out tens of thousands of small home workshops serving armament production.

But of equal military importance is his story of the terror of German's war-sick people—terror of the bombs and of the Gestapo.

"Fifty per cent of the German population is already demoralized," he writes. "It is unthinkable that the German people can bear the existing conditions for an indefinite period. People now say quite frankly that if the air offensive is further intensified, a way out must be found. There can, however, be no thought of a revolution. The Gestapo and the SS are too powerful for the whole German people to dare to rise up against the National-Socialist system."

It is obvious that the air offensive has been tremendously intensified. And as we attack in growing strength, the Gestapo and the SS surely are finding that their job is also tremendously intensified. First of all there are the physical difficulties. Each attack adds thousands to the dazed and weary homeless, deprives sections of a city of light, gas and water, disrupts transportation.

But there must also be a weakening of morale. Each Allied plane over Berlin is another harbinger of German defeat. Each explosion echoes the ever emptier ring of party boasts and promises.

As late as January, the Swiss writer says, the faithful Nazis were boasting that Berlin could never be attacked by day. But the daylight raids came, and party prestige must have fallen even more.

Against fear, discouragement and weariness, Hitler's brutish police are fighting a grim battle, but a losing one. They are still strong, but we are stronger.

Even the Gestapo's guns cannot delay forever the German people's desperate search for a "way out."

TIGHTENING WAR FRAUDS LEGISLATION

No one will take issue with the desire of the Government to provide greater maximum penalties for those convicted of defrauding the Government in the handling of war contracts and general support will be given Justice Minister St. Laurent in his proposed amendments to the Criminal Code providing for the jumping of these penalties from two years in jail and a $5,000 fine to seven years and a $50,000 fine.

The old penalties may have been sufficient when originally introduced but in view of the ever-increasing cost of modern warfare, with armament contracts amounting to millions of dollars being let to a single firm, they appear almost nominal under present conditions and the maximum punishment does not seem excessive.

Fortunately, few cases of fraud have been uncovered so far in the distribution and fulfilment of war contracts in Canada, but the few cases which have come before the courts have all involved substantial amounts which justify the increased penalties.

The use of war contracts to defraud the Government is one of the lowest forms of criminality and will find little or no sympathy on the part of the Canadian public who are carrying a heavy taxation burden to finance the war and they will generally support any effort being made to put greater protection around the expenditure of their tax monies.

BRITAIN'S FOREIGN TRADE NEEDS

Behind the enthusiasm with which political and business leaders in Great Britain back the idea of clearing channels of world trade after the war and creating an expanding world economy is an urgent need for increasing British exports. Authorities estimate that if the British people are to import goods after the war on the same scale as before the war they must export from forty to fifty per cent more than they did before the outbreak of hostilities.

The principal commodities imported by the United Kingdom are food and raw materials for factories. Unless food comes in as before, the standard of living will go down. Unless such raw materials as cotton come in as before British industry slows down, exports slow down and things become worse.

This necessity for more imports than before the war arises out of the price Britain has paid and is paying for victory and freedom. Foreign investments which in earlier times brought millions of pounds in interest and dividends into British pockets have been cashed in to pay for war materials abroad or through the conquest of territory by the enemy. Proceeds from these investments enabled Britain to buy more goods from the rest of the world than it sold abroad. Now if the same amount of goods is to be bought more must be sold than before.

The problem is claiming the attention of both government and business. For the immediate post-war period there is no particular concern. It is believed that Britain will have to supply much to the rehabilitation of Europe and that continuance of lend-lease or mutual aid principle will obviate any immediate difficulty over payments.

While it is fairly generally accepted that some control and direction must be given trade in the future it is recalled that Britain's wealth and prosperity in earlier times was largely built under a system of free trade. Hard times came in the period between the wars when tariffs, restrictions and currency fluctuations became common. It was during this period that Britain turned from a policy of giving equal opportunity to all in the British market to preferential tariffs for Empire countries and bilateral agreements with others.

Now the question of the respective merits of bilateral and multilateral trade agreements is a live one. Pending an assurance that the rest of the world and particularly the United States will enter into a multilateral trade system the British Government has made no comment. There is reason to believe, however, that if a multilateral arrangement can be made, whereby all or the leading trading nations would lower the barriers to trade and set up currency stabilization machinery, the British Government would welcome such a step.

Participation in such an arrangement would probably mean the end of Empire preferential tariffs either immediately or by a gradual process.

RESURFACE BRIDGE SIDEWALK

To the Editor of the Record,
Dear Sir: Now when our City Fathers have at long last decided on a new sidewalk on Stratheona Square, may I suggest when they have finished this job, and have all the necessary equipment at hand, to continue a few yards further on to Dufferin Bridge and resurface the sidewalks on both sides of the bridge. At present, specially on the West side, the sidewalk is in a disgraceful condition and should have been resurfaced many years ago.

Yours truly,
NORTH WARD.

EARLY ATLANTIC CROSSING

To the Editor of the Record,
Dear Sir: I have read with interest your editorial regarding the first steamship ever to cross the Atlantic. I have heard my grandfather say on several different occasions that he came to Canada from England on the first steamship ever to cross the Atlantic. My grandfather was the late William Burrill, who lived at Kirkdale many years, later moving to Melbourne to the farm now owned by Holland Burrill.

I have before me an old autograph album with the following in my grandfather's handwriting: "William Burrill, born in the City of York in the year 1810, came to America in the ship Earl Fitz William, which was wrecked on the Island of Antiochi and stayed there seventeen days. This ship was commanded by Captain Jackson and was owned by Mr. Moxon and sailed from Hull."

Unfortunately he did not give the date but I expect it could be supplied by some of the Burrill family who live in Melbourne, although most of the early Burrill records were lost in a disastrous fire many years ago. I remember he said it was a very uncomfortable trip, as it was a side wheel steamer and whenever the ship rolled one wheel would come out of the water and the ship would start to turn around. I have no knowledge as to how or by whom they were taken off the island.

Yours truly,
ARTHUR S. BURRILL,
Indian Head, Sask.

CLEVELAND TOURNEY DRAWS BIG CROWDS

It was a pleasure to return to Cleveland and find that the Ohio State Tournament still draws the biggest crowds. It is one of the few states that runs a two-session women's pair event, in which 55 women's pairs turned out this year. Miss Florence J. Stratford, of Cleveland, president of the women's national committee of the American Contract Bridge League, and Mrs. Ralph W. Gordon, of Buffalo, won the event. Miss Stratford, one of the country's outstanding women players, demonstrated her ability in the hand shown today.

She won the first trick in dummy with the ace of spades, then took three rounds of diamonds, the third in her own hand. East discarded a low heart. This was the only tip Miss Stratford needed for her next play, a low heart from her own hand, finessing dummy's nine. Now she took the last diamond trick in her own hand and led a low spade to dummy's queen.

PRESS COMMENTS

THE FOOD IS IN THE FIELDS

Kingston Whig Standard
Four years ago, Canada had a huge stock of farm and dairy products held in reserve. Today that surplus stock has almost disappeared, drained away by the heavy demands of war. The warehouses are nearly empty, and they must be replenished if our fighting men and our Allies are to be assured of Canada's continuance as a main source of supply for their larders.

We have the food to replenish these stocks—plenty of it—but it is in the fields. Farmers all over Canada have planted every available foot of land. Crops this year, particularly in Ontario, promise to give the heaviest yields of grain, hay, vegetables and fruit in many years. But this abundant harvest comes at a time when farmers are facing the most acute shortage of farm workers in history.

The Ontario Government is making an urgent plea for more volunteer helpers to get in the crops. There are several organizations which supervise volunteer workers on the Farm Commodities, Holiday Brigades, service clubs, business men and neighborhood groups. For three years these associations have supplied thousands of workers to help save the food so necessary to victory. This year, with heavier crops and shortage of existing supplies, additional thousands of workers are needed. The war is at a most critical stage, and we need every scrap of food we can get to make sure there will be no shortage of supplies for fighting men.

The food is there—in fields. All we have to do is get it in. People who join the Farm Service Force are helping to win the war, and their help is desperately needed right now. The governments of Canada are appealing to Canadians in this crisis; we feel confident the appeal will not be made in vain.

NO MORE KHAKI

Windsor Daily Star
Brown tones will be avoided by soldiers after the war, says a group of style arbiters in the Southern States. This prediction is quite reasonable. There will be an inevitable revulsion against anything that lends to remind these men of their military service. They will, for a time, want to avoid anything that even looks like khaki.

But this effect will be felt for only a comparatively short time. Within a year or so, the boys will seize every opportunity to get out of military uniforms, taking a justifiable pride in these reminders of their valiant service.

WORKERS NEEDED

Workers are urgently needed for the Red Cross. Our men are depending on the folks at home to back them up, especially now that the invasion is on. We are all anxious to see this war end and the end will come sooner if we each and every one do everything possible to help the war effort. Blood donors are needed to help save lives.

Sewing and knitting are very much needed. The Red Cross rooms are open every afternoon excepting Saturday for making dressings and giving out wool and sewing. Every woman can do at least a little of this work. Knitting can be taken home and where there is no convenient Red Cross Group, sewing can be taken from the rooms and done at home.

Please help the Red Cross to speed the victory.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

THE BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Sherbrooke held their first regular monthly meeting of their new year on June 12, at the MacKinnon Memorial, Miss Marjorie Moir, who was recently re-elected President for the coming year, presided.

The Treasurer, Miss Leslie Fales, reported on the success of the bridge party, recently held by the Club under her convenship, and thanked the members for their cooperation in assisting her with same.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the Recording Secretary, Miss Jean Williams, after which Miss Eva Hall, Convener of Bundles for British Women, reported that the club had made a shipment on May 26 of six large cases of clothing weighing 700 pounds. The Club is endeavoring to get workroom accommodation for preparing these shipments and hopes to have some definite information on this matter in the near future. Miss Hall made a request for coat hangers, which are badly needed in cleaning and preparing the articles. Any of our members who could spare a few of these will be helping in a worthy cause.

The following committees were formed to carry on the year's work: Programme Committee, Miss Yvette Campbell and Assistants; Membership, Miss Doris Gillis; Press, Miss Florine Mullins; Red Cross Knitting, Miss Lillian Hawker; Red Cross Workers, Miss Kate Fales; Refreshments, Mrs. J. MEETING TOMORROW

The quarterly meeting of the Canadian Red Cross Society, Sherbrooke Branch, will be held in Plymouth Church Hall, Dufferin Avenue, at 2.30 p.m., Tuesday.

A large attendance of all persons interested in the work of the Red Cross is earnestly desired.

Tea will be served at the close of the meeting.

WORKERS NEEDED

Workers are urgently needed for the Red Cross. Our men are depending on the folks at home to back them up, especially now that the invasion is on. We are all anxious to see this war end and the end will come sooner if we each and every one do everything possible to help the war effort. Blood donors are needed to help save lives.

Sewing and knitting are very much needed. The Red Cross rooms are open every afternoon excepting Saturday for making dressings and giving out wool and sewing. Every woman can do at least a little of this work. Knitting can be taken home and where there is no convenient Red Cross Group, sewing can be taken from the rooms and done at home.

Please help the Red Cross to speed the victory.

Senior Students Present Programme To Home And School Club At Sutton

Sutton, June 19.—The Home and School Club met in the High School, Mrs. Douglas, the President, presided, with a large attendance of members, guests and students.

Archdeacon Charter, School of the meeting with the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison and a special prayer for the armed forces. He especially remembered the many boys who have attended this school and who are in the many fields of action.

A splendid programme was given by the senior students, consisting of a dinner by Miss Madeline Miltimore and Barbara Olmstead; a piano solo by Miss Helen Eastman; a vocal solo by Barbara Olmstead; and a vocal solo by Helen Eastman. Miss Gingras accompanied them. A speech giving contest was of great interest. Those taking part were Douglas Miltimore, Wesley Dow and Joyce Bennett, of Grade IX, and Joan Miltimore, Robert Douglas and Hugh Salisbury, of Grade VIII. The members of the School Club acted as judges. The lucky winners were Douglas Miltimore of Grade IX, and Robert Douglas, of Grade VIII.

A very fine tribute was paid Miss Tannahill. It was composed by students of Grade IX, and was read by Madeline Miltimore, showing the high esteem and never-tiring efforts of Miss Tannahill as Principal of the High School for seven years, and regretting her departure. Mrs. Webb, Honorary President, on behalf of the Home and School Club, also paid a very fine tribute to Miss Tannahill for her never-failing cooperation with the Club, and wishing her much happiness and success. Mrs. Webb then presented Miss Tannahill with a beautiful sterling brush and comb set, in their deepest appreciation of her splendid work with the club and school.

A beautiful bouquet of spring flowers was presented to Miss Tannahill by little Miss Dawn McKell, showing the deep affection in which she is held by the students and club members.

The boys of the manual training class, under the splendid supervision of Mr. Russell and Mr. Earle Oliver, held a sale of their wood work. A great display was on hand consisting of desks, stands, benches, tables, corner shelves, magazine racks and other articles, which were quickly disposed of. Much more could have been sold. Great credit is due this class of boys on their excellent year's work.

Miss Powers, teacher of the Domestic Science Class had on display a fine lot of sewing, consisting of blouses, peasant aprons, girlish skirts and pyjamas made by the class during the year. Miss Powers gave a very interesting talk on her work during the year, with her domestic science students.

A delicious lunch was served by the cooking class, showing the splendid work the girls are doing with Miss Powers acting as hostess. A beautiful table was laid with a lace cover, the decorations being carried out with pink candles and flowers. Mrs. Webb and Mrs. Baker poured for seventy-five guests.

Mrs. Douglas, the President, spoke a few words, on behalf of the Home and School Club, of Miss Tannahill's seven successful years as Principal, and with deepest regret at her departure, and expressed the Club's deep appreciation of her co-operation through these years, and wished her happiness and success as she travels through life's path with a smile.

WE'LL DO IT AGAIN - but we need YOUR HELP!

Yes, we need your help... and need it badly. Maybe you don't think this means you... that it's a job for the other fellow.

This is the biggest job we have ever tackled! Everything depends upon Victory. If you do, you're wrong. It's your war, too... a war for every man who is a man... for everyone who has a stake in Canada.

Canada's Army needs volunteers NOW! And, that means you and you and you. Yes, this means you all right and we need you now for the months of intensive training to make you fighting-fit. We did it before and we can do it again... but we need your help.

Wear Canada's Badge of Honour on your arm. You'll be proud of it, so will your family. Every man who is able has got to do his bit!

"Gentle way to stop constipation"

"Believe me, you should try ALL-BRAN for constipation — if it has the same cause mine had. For nothing I tried keeps me so regular, so gently.

No dosing — no nasty harsh purgatives. Here's all you do — if your constipation is due to lack of "bulk" in the diet. Simply eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly, and drink plenty of water. This nutritious cereal helps to produce smooth-working "bulk", and prepare wastes for easy elimination. You'll like the happy relief so much you'll want to stay regular. Eat tasty, toasty ALL-BRAN daily. Grocers have it in 2 handy sizes. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

Rock Island and Derby Line

The Boy Scouts of Derby Line, with Edwin Earle as their leader, staged a patriotic programme on "Flag Day" at the Village Hall, Derby Line, on Monday, June 19. S. Navy, recently returned from a long period of combat service in the Central and Southwest Pacific, was the guest speaker of the evening and gave a very interesting talk of life aboard an aircraft carrier, explaining how the planes were cared for. Lt. Holland is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Holland, of Derby Line. He has participated in many notable raids and battles of the Pacific war, including Marcus and Wake Islands, the Gilberts, Truk, Palau, Hollandia and other points in New Guinea, and other fighting zones in the Southwest Pacific. As the pilot of a dive bomber he has seen the war in its most thrilling and frightful aspects. He told about the life among the 2,300 or more men who make up the crew of the average aircraft carrier and indicated their tremendous size by describing the flight deck as being at least two and two-thirds times the size of a football field. The speaker was introduced by Herbert Rice, and following his talk the Scouts were permitted to ask him questions, which he answered. Scoutmaster Earle expressed appreciation to Lt. Holland for his address. Music for the evening was furnished by Muriel Heath and Maurice Fregeau with Ethel Cowles at the piano. The Scouts marched into the hall to the music of the Star Spangled Banner, after which they gave the pledge to the flag. In his words of welcome Scoutmaster Edwin Earle spoke of the importance of observing patriotic holidays and the consideration of the ideals for which these anniversaries are marked.

After the singing of patriotic songs a patrol quiz based on the history and proper use of the flag was put on by the Scouts. This resulted in a tie between the patrol of Jesse Walsh and that of Arthur Judd. The prizes awarded were a double set of semaphore flags for each patrol. A solemn commemoration of "D-Day" preceded Lt. Holland's talk, including the group singing of the hymns, "Eternal Father, Strong to Save" and "Onward Christian Soldiers" led by C. R. McLean and prayer by Rev. C. R. Stetson. The Village Hall was filled to capacity with relatives and friends of the Scouts and indicated their appreciation of the patriotic affair arranged by the new troop and its leader.

BROME

A large congregation in St. John's Anglican Church witnessed the impressive service of Confirmation, when a ceremony of laying on of hands was performed by the Bishop of Montreal. Eleven candidates were prepared and presented for the rites by the Rector, the Rev. F. W. Gedy, Mary Jackson, Merlyn Derby, Annie Killen, Joyce Wilson, Margaret Johnston, Maitland Johnston, Clayton Johnston, Arnold Wilson, Henry Vail and Earl Marsh. Visiting clergymen included the Rev. Canon G. A. Mason, of Brome; Rural Dean Lidstone, Rector of Granby, and Rev. Kenneth Bolton, Rector of Knowlton. The choir, under the direction of the Organist, Mrs. George Soles, contributed its share to the beauty of the service in the special hymns beautifully rendered, including the "Veni Creator," assisted by the choir of the Church of the Ascension, West Brome. The Bishop's address will be long remembered as this was the first visit of his Lordship to Brome since his consecration. Following his remarks, which will leave an indelible spiritual impression on all who heard, he urged his hearers to continue doing their utmost through the present perilous times. The Bishop was a tea guest at the home of Mrs. Lyla Owens with Mrs. G. A. Mason as point hostess. Later a short reception was held in the Brome Town Hall most attractively decorated with flowers, flags and pennants and formed a most appropriate setting. Invasion Wounded Return Home

Wounded British soldiers, among the first to meet enemy fire when the Allies stormed the coast of France, are helped ashore from an LST transport at an unnamed British port.

BISHOPTON

The Junior Refugee Club met at the home of their leader, Miss Ina Hooker. The meeting was opened by the President, Miss Verna Gilbert. The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison. Mrs. Hugh Vintinner reported on the Len Lobb concert and dance proceeds, which were $29.28, and the raffle proceeds were $22.65, making a total of $51.93 for the evening. The election of officers then took place, which resulted as follows: President, Marjorie Bostwick; Vice-President, Gladys Porter; Secretary, Ruth Ainsworth; Assistant Secretary, Lorraine Jenkerson; Treasurer, Verna Gilbert; Assistant Treasurer, Thelma Gilbert. The new officers then carried on the business meeting. The sum of fifteen dollars was voted for the Hong Kong Prisoners of War Fund. The sum of $6 is to be sent to England to the Children's Hospital, Oms Bostwick moved that the club give $5 to the Kinsmen's Fund for milk for British children. This was seconded. This is a new fund for the club to support, as both the Hong Kong Fund and the Children's Hospital Club have been given support each year. Some material was ordered to be bought to finish garments. The collection was thirty cents. The meeting closed by singing "God Save the King."

Mr. W. Oldfield, of Sherbrooke, was an evening caller at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oldfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Little and son, Roger, of Sherbrooke, have moved to their cottage at Mirror Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bennett and son, Denzil, were guests in Sherbrooke.

The Ladies' Guild was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jenkerson. There was a good attendance of members and visitors. Routine business was transacted and at the close of the afternoon, refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. E. Jenkerson, assisted by Mrs. Herbert Howes, Mrs. Ivan Jenkerson and Miss Irene Harrison.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Collet, of Beebe, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. L'Heureux.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bertrand, of Montreal, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand L'Heureux. Miss Teresa Collet, of Beebe, was also a guest at the same home.

Miss Dora Berwick spent the week-end as a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Berwick, in Bury.

Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Allison and family, Beth, Betty, Beulah, Barbara and Gary, were evening callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Allison.

Mr. George Howes, of Rock Island, spent a week-end at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harrison, of Rock Island, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Bishop.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clark were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Clark. Sincere sympathy is extended to Mrs. George Hall, of East Angus, and the family of Mr. George Hall in their sad bereavement by his death.

Mr. Roger Vincent, of Cowansville, is a guest at his home here.

Mrs. Rupert Gilbert, of Lennoxville, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. W. Skinner. Tea guests at the same home were Mr. Ernest Gilbert and Mrs. Henry Riley, of St. Adolphe.

Miss Eunice Bostwick, of Bury, was a week-end guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Bostwick.

The term "iron horse" for steam locomotives was coined by Sitting Bull, Sioux Indian chief.

"A NATIONAL ELECTRICAL SERVICE" means

A trained PERSONNEL imbued with the SPIRIT of service—supported by the FACILITIES and the ORGANIZATION to deliver electrical goods—WHERE required—WHEN required.

Defence Communications Fast...

The feeling of "it must not happen here" motivated the order from Canada's Defence Authorities which called for the manufacture and construction of a vast system of coastal defence communications. And so we went to work. Radio, telephone, telegraph, teletype—almost every known form of communication—entered into this stupendous undertaking. And it is understandable that in the time permitted we could not possibly manufacture all the thousands of items needed. So the hands of our distributing organization reached out—located suppliers and set in motion many sub-contractors across Canada. The necessary materials were supplied on time—our radio engineers, linemen and skilled installers went right into the field—and Canada's defence communications system came into being. We believe that only a truly "national electrical service" could have achieved such a result—in the precious time permitted.

Charter OF A WAY OF LIFE

● The Four Freedoms implied in the Atlantic Charter represent a way of life which it is hoped will be achieved for all freedom-loving peoples.

- The Four Freedoms are—
1. Freedom of speech.
 2. Freedom of worship.
 3. Freedom from want.
 4. Freedom from fear.

Life insurance also represents a way of life for our families. With adequate insurance we can make certain that even should we not live to see our plans for our family carried out they will at least be able to maintain an independent standard of living.

See Your Local Representative Discuss with your local Imperial Life representative how best you can insure your family's way of life.

OBITUARIES

MRS. JANNAH BAILEY

There entered into rest on May 6th, Mrs. Jannah Bailey, at the home of her son, Archie, in Stansfeld, following a week's illness.

The deceased was born in Lennoxville on May 25th, 1859, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Butler, formerly of Sand Hill and of Summer-shire, England. She was married to Clarence Chilton Bailey, of Clifton, in 1887, and lived in Clifton up until the time of her husband's death in 1931. She then moved to Stansfeld to take up residence with her son, Mrs. Bailey was a member ardent worker in the Sherbrooke Branch of the Rebekah Lodge.

Funeral services were held in Christ's Church at Stansfeld following prayers at the late residence, Rev. F. W. Mitchell officiating. The deceased's three favorite hymns were sung, "Lead Kindly Light," "Nearer My God To Thee" and "Abide With Me." Interment was in the Moe's River cemetery, at the side of her late husband.

The deceased was all nephews of the deceased, Lawrence Butler, Art, John, Collins, Fred Parker and Earle Wilson.

Left to mourn her loss are one daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Aldrich, of Sherbrooke; one son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bailey, of Stansfeld; one brother, Henry Butler, of Jacksonville, Florida; six granddaughters, June and Bessie Aldrich, and Hazelle, Donna, Joyce and Marjorie Bailey; one grandson, James Bailey, as well as several nieces and nephews. One sister, Bessie, and three brothers, William, Edwin and Thomas predeceased

SHERBROOKE DEFEATS DRUMMONDVILLE 4-3

Dussault Singles Home Tying Run With Bergeron Crossing Slab With Clincher In Ninth

A wild pitch in the last of the ninth by Provencier, allowing Bergeron to race home with the fourth Sherbrooke run, last night gave Notre Dame a 4-3 victory over Drummondville in a scheduled Provincial Baseball League game played at the Park Stadium before a crowd of some 1,500 fans.

Leading 3-2 going into the last half, Braut, pinch-hitting for Leandre Couture, reached first on a base on balls and advanced to second on a beautiful bunt laid down by Bergeron. Normand Dussault, Notre Dame power-hitter, then lined out a single to right field which brought Braut home with the tying run. Then disaster struck at Drummondville and Bergeron crossed the slab on a wild pitch to give the locals a hard-earned victory.

Leandre Couture, recently-acquired Notre Dame pitcher, made his first start a successful one, fanning eight men, walking six, and giving up only five hits to the visitors. Provencier, Drummondville strikeout ace, sent ten men down swinging, walked four and gave up six hits.

Charland, Notre Dame first sacker, was the locals' hitting star with two hits. He also scored two runs, coming home once on a passed ball by Dubuc. The other Sherbrooke hitters were Normand Dussault, Lamontagne, Caron and "Ton" Bergeron.

Dussault, besides producing the game-tying run, also played a flawless game in centerfield. His amazing running catches repeatedly drew rounds of applause from the crowd. Two of the visitors' five hits were garnered by Bernier, their young rightfielder. Bernier knocked home one of the visiting team's runs with one of his hits. Roland Vandal, tall leftfielder, collected a double in the fifth while Dubuc, catcher, also slammed one a two-bagger. The other hit was obtained by Couture.

With the bases loaded in the first, Drummondville almost took a substantial early lead when Allard poked out a high one to centerfield. However, Dussault, racing over the ground, made a beautiful one-handed catch to retire Allard and the side.

In the second frame, the locals pulled off a beautiful double play. Provencier singled to shortstop, Blanchette scooped up the ball, tossed to Bergeron at second to cut off Laporte who had drawn a base on balls, with the ball being relayed to first to catch Provencier before he could get on.

Provencier also got out of a tight spot in the second when he loaded the bases with a hit, an error and a walk. He bore down hard and succeeded in fanning the next two to retire him, Blanchette and L. Couture.

The visitors' big inning came in the third when two successive bases on balls, a fielder's choice and a wild throw brought home two runs, with the third crossing the plate on a hit, an error and a walk.

Sherbrooke scored their first run in the third also when Charland lined out a single, and advanced to second on Lamontagne's fielder's choice, and then raced home when Dubuc missed a ball after Caron had walked.

In the next inning, the fourth, both pitchers racked up three strikeouts, with Provencier facing only three men and Couture four.

With the bases loaded in the eighth, Perusse was sent in to pinch-hit for Blanchette but grounded out, pitcher to first, for the last out. The locals then came up with their two-run outburst in the last of the ninth to win the game.

Drummondville's throwing was quite a bit off with this fault accounting for three of their six errors. The Notre Dame players were guilty of three miscues.

Henri "Tibi" Couture, Sherbrooke catcher, was forced to retire from the game in the third frame when one of Leandre Couture's pitched balls struck him on the wrist. Lamontagne replaced him as catcher for the rest of the game.

A little diversion was provided around the ninth inning last night when a fan got a little hot under the collar and started throwing his first around. Police broke up the first fight but the gent began another brawl in another part of the stands, with several fans becoming involved. It took the concerted efforts of the guardians of the law for the stadium to break up the scrap. Herve Perusse, a member of the Notre Dame team and member of the local police force, was also called upon to hop the railing

Hole-In-One Scored At Lennoxville

Playing at the Lennoxville Golf Club on Sunday afternoon in a foursome with W. McCabe, G. Sutherland and W. Hunter, Norman Flint achieved the desire and ambition of every golfer by scoring a hole-in-one. Playing the No. 3 hole, and using a No. 5 iron, Norman and his partners watched the ball land on the green, roll eight or ten feet and disappear into the cup for an enviable hole-in-one. This is the second time that a hole-in-one has been scored on this hole at the Lennoxville Golf Club.

SYD SPANSWICK TAKES TOURNEY AT LENNOXVILLE

Syd Spanswick, competing in the Lennoxville Golf Club open field play on Saturday, won Class "A" honors with a net of 68. He was tied for the honors with Larry Pergau who also had 68. However, Spanswick won the draw to take first place in the competition.

Second place went to J. Fowles, of Lennoxville, who tied with Harry Mariasine, of the Mount Pleasant, but who won the toss to take the second position.

In Class "B", top honors went to Gordon LeBaron, of the Sherbrooke Country Club, with a net of 62. N. Flint, of Lennoxville, was runner-up with 65.

J. McKnight won a five-way toss for third position in this class. G. Graham and E. Gilbey tied for first place in the Class "C" tourney while L. Wilson won the toss for second place honors.

St. Pat's Sports Day Held For Children At Vacation Colony

Over three hundred youngsters of the St. Patrick's parish took part in a picnic and sports day at the Jacques Cartier Vacation Colony on Saturday afternoon, sponsored by the Sherbrooke and Junior subdivisions of the Catholic Women's League.

A large number of parents accompanied the children, and saw them spend a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon, partaking in the various sports events set forth on the programme.

Officials of St. Patrick's Parish in attendance included the Reverend Canon J. C. McGee, parish priest, and Reverend Father Moisan, curate of the parish, while the Reverend Brothers Berchmans and Joseph, assisted by several senior members of the parish, took charge of the afternoon's events.

At the close of the afternoon prizes were awarded to the winners by Mrs. R. C. Winslade, President of the Catholic Women's League, John Galvin, President of the St. Pat's Old Boys' Association, William Steele, Secretary-Treasurer of the St. Patrick's School Board, and T. D. Walsh and F. Hoye, past wardens of St. Patrick's Church.

The youngsters showed their appreciation of the afternoon by voicing three hearty cheers for Mrs. R. C. Winslade and Miss G. Workman, the two ladies mainly responsible for the afternoon's programme.

Officials were: Starters, M. Parsons and John Galvin; Judges, H. C. Hetherington, C. Doherty, W. Steele, S. Hansford, and F. Lewis; scorers, J. T. Hawkins and Francis P. Kenalty; announcer, F. Simms.

DETROIT TAKES DOUBLEHEADER FROM ST. LOUIS

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer. Hal Newhouse, one of the Detroit Tigers, is finally fulfilling the promise he gave five years ago of becoming the finest left-hander in the American League.

The 23-year-old southpaw became the first pitcher in the league to win 10 games, yesterday, helping the Tigers take both games of a double header from the league-leading St. Louis Browns, 7-3 and 7-5.

He joined Tuckey Walters of the Cincinnati Reds as the only 10-game winners in the majors.

In Pitching his seventh complete game of the year, Hal gave up six hits and fanned five. A home run by Rudy York with one on in the ninth gave the Tigers a clean sweep of the two games. Paul Trout, in relief, won his eighth victory of the season.

The New York Giants took both ends of a twin bill from the Boston Braves, 9-2 and 7-1, to climb into third place in the National League Standings, a half game ahead of the Reds. Phil Weintraub homered in the first game, but had to leave in the third inning due to a strained muscle. Cliff Melton, making his first start since May 19, was the winner in the nightcap, but had to leave in the seventh inning complaining of a sore arm.

The Philadelphia Athletics twice downed the New York Yankees 4-0 and 8-0 to drop the world champions into sixth place. Luke Hamlin blanked the Yankees with four hits in the opener, with Frank Hayes hitting his eighth homer to tie Roy Cullenbine for the league lead. A six-run first inning enabled the A's to win the second, 8-6.

The Chicago White Sox took two close games from the Cleveland Indians, 3-2 in 10 innings, and 6-5. A home run by Wally Pizarro in the 10th won the opener for relief pitcher Gordon Matzberger, his sixth of the year against one loss, the best mark in the loop. Mose's triple and Leroy Schalk's single in the ninth gave the White Sox the second game, Joe Haynes gained his first victory of the season.

The Brooklyn Dodgers and Philadelphia Phillies diverged and Philadelphia, the Dodgers winning the first, 7-3 and the Phillies taking the second, 6-2.

St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates split a double header. Mort Cooper won his sixth game in the opener, 12-2, and Fritz Ostermueller named the Cards 3-1 with three hits in the nightcap. Stan Musial connected for two triples and a double in the opener.

After losing the opener to Boston 9-6, Washington took the nightcap 1-0, behind the four-hit pitching of Larry Wynn.

The Reds defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-2 in the first game of a double header before 40,222 fans, in the largest crowd at Wrigley field. Harry Gumbert, making his first start for the Reds, was the winner. The second game ended in tie called after 13 innings on account of darkness. Bill Nicholson hit two homers for the Cubs.

Savard Blanks Richmond 9-0 To Remain As Yet Undefeated

The Savard entry in the Sherbrooke Intermediate "A" Baseball League yesterday blasted out a 9-0 victory over Richmond in a game played at Richmond. By the 9-0 triumph, the Savard squad increased its lead in the league and kept its winning streak going at four straight.

Couture, limiting the Richmond sluggers to five hits, gained honors as the winning hurler. Gregoire, Richmond pitcher, was charged with the loss.

Leading hitters for the squads were Gauthier, of Savard, and Hume, of Richmond, each connecting for a two-base hit.

The Savard men got off to a fast start, pushing three runs across the plate in the first inning. The game tightened up and neither side was able to score until the fifth when Savard knocked in one run. They repeated this feat in the sixth and shoved another across in the eighth.

In the last frame the Sherbrooke team again got rolling and hit Gregoire for enough safeties to net them three runs. The total for the Savard crew was eleven.

WATERLOO TOPS FUSILIERS 19-4
Waterloo yesterday moved into second place in the Sherbrooke Intermediate "A" Baseball League when they gained a 19-4 victory over the Fusiliers in a game at Waterloo. Having won two and lost two, the Waterloo men take over second place as the Fusiliers and Richmond, by their losses yesterday, slipped back into a tie for third.

ORFORD GOLFER TAKES THIRD IN QUEBEC MATCH
Quebec, June 19.—Gaston Amyot, Royal Quebec Golf Club, won the 10th annual 36-hole Duke of Kent Tournament Saturday, scoring 153 to lead a field of 23 competitors in that major links competition played on the beautiful rolling course of the Royal Quebec Golf Club at nearby Boischatel.

Adjutor Dussault, also a Royal Quebec Club member, took the second and place one stroke behind Gerard Huot, Mount Orford, was third with 164. L. P. McConvey and Bert Barnabe, both of Laval-sur-le-Lac, came behind with 158 and 159 respectively.

It was the first time Gaston Amyot won the historical trophy donated by the late Duke of Kent in 1935. Amyot passed the line through the first 18 holes with a 73 card—one above par—but Adjutor Dussault, a previous winner, and Best Barnabe proved to be very dangerous rivals scoring 74 and 75 respectively. Amyot managed to maintain his narrow one-stroke margin when he came back with an 80 score in the second round to chalk up his victory. Barnabe could do nothing better than 84 in the afternoon to end in the fifth place, one stroke behind McConvey.

Gerard Huot, on the other hand, played steady golf to end the tournament with a pair of 78.

A Mascauly, Royal Quebec, won the 11th aviation tourney with a 65 net score. J. E. Lacasse, also of Royal Quebec, was second with 66.

Jean Barriere Wins Nod Over Young Lebrun In Arena Fight

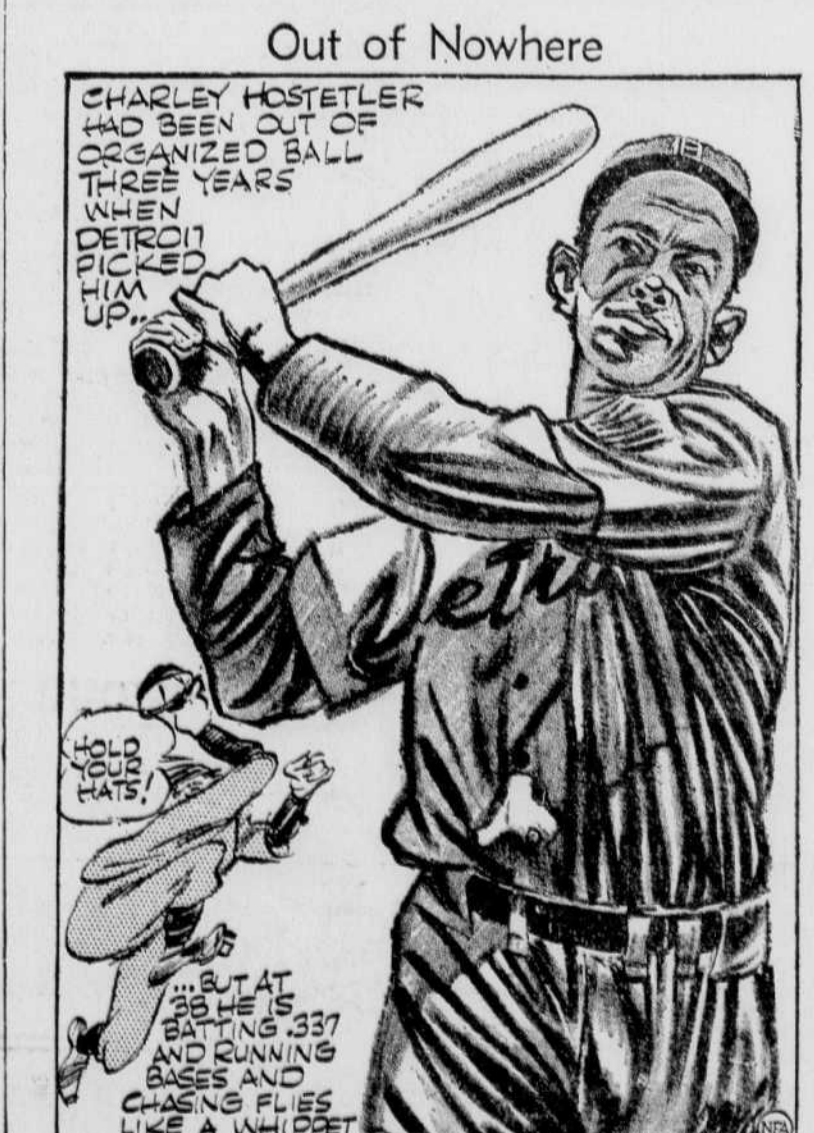

Saturday marked his second win here this year in less than a month. Kid Ben Charette, 112 pounds, of Sherbrooke, and Lefy Young, 115, of Montreal, fought to a draw in a six-round, semi-final. Young, a clean, experienced fighter, won the judges' favor for his exhibition of skill in the first three rounds as he outboxed Charette as the local boy came out fast with the apparent intention of putting Young out of the way.

Charette became more aggressive in the last three rounds and had Young on the go all the time.

In the preliminary, Albert Pelletier, 132, of the Lord Sherbrooke Training Centre, scored a K.O. over Yvon Marier, 130, of Farnham, in the third round. This fight was fast and furious with Marier becoming groggy at the end and a helpless victim for Pelletier.

In the first bout on the evening's programme, Kid Provencal, 132, of Sherbrooke, scored a technical knockout over Wild Cat Choiniere, 120, of Sherbrooke, in the third round. Completely outfought, Choiniere was knocked clean out of the ring in the third round but came back only to absorb a terrific shelling. His manager tossed in the towel around the end of the third.

Indiana, Iowa and Wisconsin each have a village named Honey Creek.
