A DISASTROUS FIRE IN TOWN OF CHICOUTIMI

Blaze Originated in the Chateau Saguenay
and Spread with Marked Rapidity Doing Great Damage on its March

MANY IMPORTANT BUILDINGS DESTROYED

One of the most disastrous fires which has occurred in this district since the Three Rivers fire in 1908, took place in the town of Chicoutimi, situated at the head of the Saguenay River, and 225 miles from this city.

The first news of the fire arrived in town early yesterday afternoon, when a despatch announced that a fire had originated in the Chateau Saguenay, the most important hotel in the town, and had spread to the Colazza building adjoining the hotel. Unfortunately the town, although provided with a fire system, has no fire engine, and although practically all the citizens had turned out to fight the flames, the fire continued on its destructive work and had reached the Cathedral which soon became a prey to the flames.

One of the next buildings to disappear was the residence of Mr. Cloutier, broker, which had cost $30,000. The flames spread in all directions in the east ward of the town and the Chicoutimi Hotel, Warren & Harvey blocks and the residences of Messrs. Aubin, Laroche, Boily and Belleau were soon a mass of flames.

About two o'clock Mayor Rivest wired Mayor Drouin, of this city, requesting him to send a fire engine as the town threatened to be wiped out. Mayor Drouin replied that he was sorry he could not comply with the request, as one of the fire engines was being repaired and two other engines were required here in case of emergency.

Even if an engine had been sent down by special train, it would not have reached Chicoutimi in time to prevent the fire spreading, as it could not have reached there before an early hour this morning, and the fire was under control about six o'clock last evening, owing probably to the fact that four buildings were dynamited.

The news when received in this city caused considerable anxiety as hundreds of enquiries were made at the Chronicle office last evening. However, the news was not available as the telephone and government telegraph wires between this city and Chicoutimi were out of order and the only source of information could be obtained over the G.N.W. wires, and the day operator of that company had his hands full and only sent on a short despatch. Several telegrams were sent by the Chronicle last evening to Chicoutimi, but the parties to whom they were sent, could not be found.

The despatch received from the G.N.W. operator at an early hour this morning is as follows:

Terrible conflagration in this town. Fire started at 10 o'clock this morning in the Chateau Saguenay Hotel and communicated itself to the Colazza building, adjoining and then spread to that portion of Racine street and Rue du Couvent in a very short time. Sparks were flying in all directions and in a few minutes the steeple of the Cathedral, one of the finest in this Province, was noticed to be on fire. Every effort was then made to save the church, but all to no avail as the sacred edifice was soon a mass of flames and nothing could prevent it becoming a party to the fiery element.

While the citizens were trying to save the Cathedral the flames spread to all the adjoining buildings, and the college, convent, a school, restaurants, private residences and store, were a mass of flames, and it was impossible, with the high wind prevailing, to save any building in the commercial district.

The fire was under control about 6 o'clock, but was not extinguished, and it is estimated that between one hundred and one hundred and twenty-five buildings were destroyed, and about one thousand residents are homeless to-night, but have secured temporary quarters with their relatives and friends.

It is impossible this evening to estimate the damages or amount of insurance.

From reports yesterday, it was stated that the fire originated from a gasoline engine in the Chateau Saguenay, but this could not be confirmed last evening, as Mr. J. D. Guay, proprietor of the hotel, could not be communicated with either by telephone or telegraph.

Mr. Labrecque and several priests and citizens of Chicoutimi, who had arrived here yesterday, to attend the Congress du Parler-Francais, will leave for Chicoutimi this morning.

In response to a despatch from Mayor Rivest, Lieut. Col. Landry, D. O. C. will forward 150 tents to Chicoutimi this morning.

Mayor Drouin forwarded the following telegram last evening to the Mayor of Chicoutimi:

"Sympathies of citizens of Quebec; regretting could not send you help."

ARREST OF ALLEGED FRENCH CRIMINAL.

Montreal, June 24.—Wanted in France on charges of robbery and the attempted murder of a gentleman, Jean Pierre Pande, alias Marcel Dutil, said to be one of the most noted of French "apaches," was arrested this afternoon by local detectives. The detectives, acting on advice from the French Consul-General through Col. A. P. Sherwood, Chief Commissioner of Police of Canada, have been working on the case for some time, and made the arrest this afternoon while the accused was claiming baggage at the Canadian Express office. The crime for which Darraque is wanted was committed in November last. With an accomplice he broke into a house and removing a safe to the road broke it open and secured $2,400 in gold. A gangster surprised the men and a revolver battle followed. One man was arrested, but Darraque escaped. He was traced to New York and thence to this city. Extradition papers are being made out.

NATIONAL CAR DEMURRAGE RULES

Washington, June 24.—The Interstate Commerce Commission announced to-day that it had tentatively approved the revised national car demurrage rules recently adopted by the American Railway Association. The action is important to shippers because, as the commission says, "the causes for the refunding of demurrage charges by the carriers have been made in several particulars more liberal for the consignee. When the condition of the weather during the prescribed free time is such as to make it impossible to employ men or teams in loading or unloading, or when it is impossible to place freight in cars or move it from cars without injury to the freight, the free time is extended until a total of 48 hours free from such weather interferences shall have been allowed."

SPLIT IN RANKS OF GARMENT WORKERS.

Montreal, June 24.—There is a bad split in the ranks of the striking garment workers here and as a result a new union is to be formed to be called the Canadian Garment Workers' Association. A large section of the garment workers intend to break away from international affiliations and the new union will apply for a charter in the Canadian Federation of Labor. At a mass meeting of strikers, discontented with the manner in which the strike is being conducted by the organizers from the United States, fiery speeches were made to-day and the decision to form the new Canadian union was arrived at. Speakers declared that they had been promised strike pay and support from the garment workers of the United States and received none. Other speakers declared that the strikers had used violent methods and that many of the workers would not have gone out had they not been intimidated.

BANK CLERK COMMITS SUICIDE AT SASKATOON

Saskatoon, Sask., June 24.—Frank Gillespie, teller of the local branch of the Dominion Bank, shot himself through the head at 12:40 to-day. The cause of his act is shrouded in mystery, as the management of the bank refuse to divulge any facts at present. The suicide was committed in the basement of the bank.

ONE MAN DYING, FIVE PERSONS SHOT

By Armed Deputies Firing on
a Mob of Strikers Who Were Unarmed.

Hastings-on-the-Hudson, N. Y. June 24.—One man is probably dying and five other persons, including a woman, lie dangerously injured tonight at the Dobbs Ferry Hospital, victims of renewed hostilities this afternoon in the strike declared about ten days ago at the plant of the National Conduit and Cable Company.

P. Stilleck has a bullet in his stomach. He was operated on and is not expected to recover. Michael Rocco was shot in the right leg and Tony Reo in the left arm. Mrs. Tony Crazchi was shot through the abdomen. An unidentified man was operated on for a bullet wound in the left shoulder. Michael Zithizl, a boy, was shot in the left leg.

The trouble took place after the company announced that it would take back those of the men who wished to resume work at the old wage scale. About 600 of them accepted the offer and took their places this morning. This afternoon on their return from lunch they were attacked by a mob.

A wire fence was built as a stockade around the works shortly after the strike was first called. Behind this fence the men who resumed work took shelter when attacked today. Included in the guard at the stockade are fifty armed deputies. Some among the defensive force opened fire on the mob, which was driven off. None of the mob members was armed and no one within the stockade was hurt.

PILGRIM SOCIETY OF GREAT BRITAIN

Celebrate Founding of Organization by Dinner—Many Distinguished People Present.

London, June 24.—The Pilgrim Society of Great Britain at a dinner to-night celebrated the tenth anniversary of the founding of the organization. Among the guests of the pilgrims were many of the most distinguished men of the British Empire and the occasion was given an international flavor by the presence of a number of American Pilgrims. It was announced at the dinner that a large British delegation would attend the tenth anniversary of the Pilgrim Society of America, which will be held in New York next spring.

Earl Roberts, president of the society, occupied the chair and the toasts proposed emphasized the society's policy to encourage Anglo-American friendship and hospitality. The speakers were the Postmaster-General, the Rt. Hon. H. L. Samuel; the Canadian Minister of Commerce and Trade, George E. Foster; the Rev. Dr. W. T. Manning of New York; Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and Lord Robert.

Ambassador Whitelaw Reid and his secretaries sent their regrets, as they were in attendance at court, which had been postponed from an earlier date on account of the mourning period for the late King Frederick of Denmark.

Among the British guests were Sir Ernest Shackleton, Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty; Lord Mersey, who presided at the Titanic inquiry; Sir Mortimer Durand, former ambassador to Washington; Sir H. Rider Haggard, Sir Gilbert Parker and the Duke of Newcastle.

OPENING OF THE FRENCH CONGRESS LAST EVENING

Distinguished Gathering of Archbishops, Bishops, Clergy, State Officials and Laity at Drill Hall

FOUR THOUSAND DELEGATES PRESENT

The French-Speaking Congress was formally opened last night in the Quebec Drill Hall, something like 4000 people being present. These included three archbishops, ten or twelve bishops and many distinguished politicians and delegates from all quarters of the world. The three archbishops were Mgr. Langevin of Manitoba, Mgr. Bruchesi of Montreal and Mgr. Begin of Quebec. The bishops included—besides Mgr. Roy, who presided and was one of the prime movers in the congress—Mg. Mathieu of Regina, Larocque of Sherbrooke, Guertin of Manchester, Cloutier of Three Rivers, and Archambault of Joliette. Mgr. Stagni, the papal delegate, was also present and made an effective speech.

Sir Francois Langelier represented H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught, and was also present in his official capacity as Lieutenant-Governor of the Province. Others present and occupying positions of prominence were Sir Lomer Gouin, Senator Landry, Hon. Thomas Chapais. A noticeable figure was that of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The clerical element predominated on the platform and the sombre garb of priests was to be seen distributed over all parts of the capacious Drill Hall.

Bishop Labrecque of Chicoutimi was another of the bishops in evidence, and seemed very much cast down at the calamity which has befallen the progressive little town over which he presides.

The speeches were of a high order, although they lost something by the fact that most of them were read. All the orators had their manuscripts with them and used them, but Mgr. Langevin and Sir Lomer Gouin spoke extempore for a while.

The most militant and outspoken speaker of the evening was Mgr. Langevin, who preached the doctrine, "What we have we hold."

In opening the Congress Mgr. Roy, the president, explained its objects. These were the conservation and culture of their mother tongue, which meant the maintenance of their faith, their nationality, their characteristics. By it the Catholic faith had been handed down through the past ages and depended on it for transmission to future generations. It was spreading into the West, over the States, and there were missionaries of their tongue who were penetrating even into China.

Mgr. Roy then welcomed the delegates, referring in laudatory terms to the hearty co-operation which the French Canadians of Quebec had experienced from their brothers in Ontario, in the prairie provinces, from the Acadians, from Louisiana and other places in the United States. He then read a number of messages from Frenchmen and French Canadians in different parts of the globe.

Let them, said Mgr. Roy, keep their tongue pure and untainted by the introduction of words which did not belong to it.

The speaker concluded by declaring the Congress open in the name of three million French-Canadians in Canada and the United States.

After this, Senator Landry presented the homage of the delegates to Sir Francois Langelier, who was representing the Governor General, H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught.

When Sir Francois had replied Mgr. Begin presented the homage of those present to the papal delegate, Mgr. Stagni.

The latter made an eloquent oration in which he emphasized the importance of the part played by the French language in the teaching and prosecution of the ideals and traditions of the Catholic Church. Especially had this been remarkable in the case of missionary work. It was the Catholic priests of old Quebec who had lit the torch of their faith on the continent of America and kept it alight through centuries till its rays spread far and wide. Their heroism, their dauntless courage and their devotion in the early days was almost without a parallel, but the seed which they had sown had not fallen on stony ground. It had multiplied and flourished.

Mgr. Stagni paid a great tribute to the fore runners of the Catholic faith in Canada and their sacrifices and dwelt on the many ties still existing between the French-Canadians and their Mere Patrie. He received an enthusiastic ovation from the audience.

The next speaker was Mr. C. E. Bonnin, representing the French Consulate, who also made a speech of considerable merit. At the conclusion Mgr. Roy shook hands with him and expressed his keen appreciation of his remarks in honor of the French-Canadians.

Sir Lomer Gouin welcomed the delegates to the province and expressed his approval of the Congress and its objects. He spoke highly of the services rendered by the French clergy to the people of Quebec, and said that the latter had no better friends. Although the French-Canadians of Quebec had, many of them learnt English, yet they had in no case forgotten their own tongue.

Last, but by no means least of the orators of the evening was Mgr. Langevin, who hit out from the shoulder. The French-Canadians, he said, were loyal and devoted to the British Crown, and they respected the British flag for the privileges which it guaranteed them. But, where it was a question of their language, they wanted equal rights and they were entitled to them. They did not ask for favors but for justice.

Recalling the fact that the French language had for some time been the official language in England, His Grace said that they relied on getting British fair play so far as it was a matter of instruction in their tongue. There might be some hostile to them in Ontario and Manitoba, but as French-Canadians they should all unite to make common cause of defending their rights.

Some of them, said His Grace, might be surprised to hear such belligerent words from a bishop. For his part he had no hesitation in saying that he was a member of the church militant and not the church quiescent. Si vis pacem, para bellum.

The aims and causes of the French-Speaking Congress now being held in Quebec is clearly and distinctly set forth in the appeal issued to the public by the organizers. In brief, they hold that the constant contact with the English, which is becoming more frequent and more intimate each day, is gaining strength as a menace to the French language. Who, they ask, is so blind as not to see that, whether it be in commerce, in the professions or in industry, the English language too often and too easily is gaining on the French, and that, if a reaction that will be more general, more energetic and better organized does not take place soon, the French tongue will run the risk, not only of being deformed as to syntax, but also of losing its essential characteristics.

What the ultimate issue might be may be gathered from the following words of the organizers of the congress:

"The traditions of our race show that it is due in large measure to the use and culture of the French language that we have maintained our faith, our customs, our character. This language must be in the future, as in the past, the safeguard of our nationality and the custodian of our traditions."

In the course of the appeal the organizers say:

"French Canadians of Quebec, of Ontario, of Manitoba, of the West and the United States, Acadians of the East, of Louisiana, it is our duty to make common cause in leaving nothing undone to conserve the French language among us in its integrity and to vindicate those its rights which are recognized or should be so."

We are the representatives of France in America. Our mission is to work that in spite of contrary fortunes and new allegiances we may ensure the survival of our race's genius in the New World and keep intact from all alloy the French spirit which is ours. Now, the use and development of our mother tongue are necessary for the accomplishment of our destiny, since that tongue is the guardian of our faith, the keeper of our traditions, the very expression of our national conscience. The French nation cannot subsist without its language, without it it cannot serve its mentality, its imagination, its gaiety, its spirit, and the day that the language jerishes or another is substituted for it, so also will disappear the essential virtues of the race and the forms of its intelligence."

"If it is true that Canada is becoming a nation, is it not useful to know what part the French language has taken, will take or ought to take in the expression of the popular mind which will be born or is born already? Is it not best to take most effective means to assure the survival of our spirit and our tongue?"

"Friends and enemies alike have understood. Never, on the one side, has the affection for our tongue been so marked; never, on the other, have there been such determined efforts to enslave it."

"Today that language is attacked openly, and in certain places there are those who would seek in the school to dry up the very sources of French. Shall we allow those of our race who

ROOSEVELT CUTS LOOSE FROM PARTY

Will Have a New One from the Ground Up—Wants No Compromise, No Straddle.

Cleveland, O., June 24.—A new party from the ground up is the Roosevelt programme. After a series of discussions with his lieutenants to-day before leaving Chicago, in which there were several sharp clashes, Colonel Roosevelt decided to cut entirely away from the party with which his whole public career has been identified. His decision was a disappointment to those who favored the organization of what might be considered an independent Republican party with which various state organizations might co-operate and still maintain, it was hoped, a nominal regularity.

"There must be no compromise, no straddle," Col. Roosevelt said. As an indication of his determination, he said that when he returned to Oyster Bay he would communicate with a number of Democrats who, he thought, might wish to join the new party.

When he had left Chicago, with the first plan completed and his leaders scattering to all parts of the country, Col. Roosevelt expressed himself as pleased with the outcome of convention week, although it was unexpected to him. He said that the way in which his action had been received was encouraging, and that he had a mass of letters and telegrams from all parts of the country, from both Democrats and Republicans, offering support.

GOVERNMENT FORTY-SIX; OPPOSITION, TWO.

PARKER CHOSEN AS THE CANDIDATE

For Temporary Chairman of Democratic National Convention—Bryan Protests.

Baltimore, Md., June 24.—Former Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York, was chosen as the candidate for temporary chairman of the Democratic National Convention by the national committee to-night. Parker received 31 votes Senator-elect Ollie James, of Kentucky, 20, and Senator O'Gorman, of New York, 2.

The committee balloted on the recommendation of the sub-committee on arrangements, made several days ago, that Mr. Parker be the chairman. This aroused the protest of William Jennings Bryan and a sub-committee, tried in a conference between Mr. Bryan and Judge Parker this afternoon to prevent a promised fight in the convention to-morrow. When this failed the committee determined to stand by the sub-committee selection. Progressive Democrats, 22 of them, protested against the selection, 20 supporting Mr. Bryan's champion, Representative James, of Kentucky, and two voting for Senator O'Gorman, who had also been pronounced as acceptable for the temporary chairmanship by the Bryan faction.

The action of the national committee is expected to result in a bitter factional fight on the floor of the convention, and a struggle for supremacy between the Bryan Democrats and so-called Conservatives that may affect the Presidential nomination.

The debate over the temporary chairmanship was not prolonged. Representative Talbot, the Maryland member, severely criticized Mr. Bryan and declared that the Nebraska has assumed the role of dictator to the Democratic party. "I, for one," said Mr. Talbot, "do not propose to submit to the dictation of this man or any one man."

Senator Newlands, of Nevada, sitting in the committee with the proxy of his colleague, Senator Sunderland, defended Mr. Bryan. The senator declared that he did not yield to the dictation of any one man, but that he did not regard Mr. Bryan as a dictator, but as the representative of progressive principles endorsed by the Democratic party.

At the conclusion of the vote on the temporary chairmanship the National Committee took up consideration of the delegates' contests.

THE NEED OF STATISTICS.

The appointment by the Dominion government of a departmental commission on statistics is important. Few countries there are with such possibilities and enormous natural resources as Canada. It needs statistical references so much and lacks them to an astonishing degree. Heretofore, under governments of both political colors, the statistical work of the Dominion has been clumsy, somewhat inaccurate and quite insufficient. A search for special figures has almost invariably resulted not in the obtention of what was required, but of what meagre information chanced to be available. Every modern nation has a government statistical bureau, which keeps tab of periodical and special returns of all descriptions. Canada limps along without any such comprehensive system. The customs department, whose duties should be confined to what its name implies, is responsible for a certain measure of statistics. The Trade and Commerce Department hears another part of the statistical burden. The Department of Agriculture, which should have its thinking powers chiefly in the farming districts, is required to furnish other figures. In addition, there is a census office, which has on average of work every ten years, enough to put it out of business.

The Dominion authorities often duplicate the results of the provinces. Some provinces are fairly well equipped, others lack the machinery for giving the public the slightest statistical information.

The importance of reliable statistics cannot be overestimated. At Ottawa there should be a fountain of such information, which should flow at request. The manufacturer needs statistics; so does the farmer, the bond houses, the insurance company, the banker, the grain grower, the ship owner, the miner. When seeking to quench statistical thirst at Ottawa, they find an arid desert. The proposed departmental commission hopes to point the way to the oasis.

On so many matters we require accurate figures. No one has ever attempted to calculate the stock and bond indebtedness of Canada, for instance. We know little of the production and distribution of commodities in the Dominion. From the statistical viewpoint, inter-provincial trade—an eminently vital question—is practically an unknown quantity. We have no first-hand information as to labor costs and commodity prices at home and abroad. Such illustrations can be cited indefinitely. An immense scope exists for work in an up-to-date statistical bureau for Canada. Such an institution, too, must have brains at the head, which are given time by the government to think and do constructive work. The governmental tendency is to overload the departmental head with too much detail. It would be fatal to make such a mistake in the conduct of the statistic bureau. The report of the Commission on Statistics is to be made in the fall. All will hope to see early and practical results from the findings of the six special and well-qualified commissioners. It is a matter which has a peculiar interest for every good citizen, because the good citizen always thirsteth for information.

IMPORTING ILLITERACY.

One of the problems of immigration at present is how imported illiteracy is to be dealt with. The scope for illiteracy in adults, or those over fourteen years of age, averages but little over two per cent, among those coming to the country from northern and western Europe. The Teutonic and Celtic races are pretty well schooled these days. The immigrants from the British Isles represent not one per cent. of the illiterates. The hosts that pour in is in constantly increasing number from northern and eastern Europe, however, make an impressive exhibit of backwardness in popular education; among the Lithuanians more than half are totally illiterate; and the average for this grouping of nations is almost thirty two per cent.

Thirty-two per cent. of immigrants illiterate! This seems hardly credible.

ible, but it is nevertheless supported by statistics. What is to be done to cure imported illiteracy it is hard to conceive, and it would seem that the better thing to aim at would be to regulate the importation. That is a delicate matter, for restriction on immigration is as a red rag to the proverbial bull to the persons or nations so restricted, and yet the illiterate immigrant is to be found most extensively in those nationalities which are the least good to the country—those whose ambition is to live in crowded shacks, have freedom with the knife and revolver as far as is possible without its being noticed by the authorities; to earn or otherwise acquire as much money as possible within the shortest possible space of time; to send as much as possible out of the country or take it at the earliest possible moment. It is a psychological fact, and to regulate the importation of illiteracy seems as though it would be to regulate the importation of crime and the exportation of currency, which should go into the channels of circulation in Canada. It is an evil that has to be assimilated in Canada, however, as it has been assimilated in all other countries.

MAKING TROUBLE.

The Toronto Globe says: "The West loses more than the East by trade obstruction, because the industries which suffer most are larger, proportionately, in the West than in the East. That is why the West leads the East in discovering the humbug of which the country at large is the victim." There is a touch of real malignity in such appeals to sectional interests and sectional prejudices. If we should abolish the "humbug" of which the Globe complains, two-thirds of the factories in Eastern Canada would put up the shutters, tens of thousands of workmen would go upon the streets, or flee from the country, many merchants would suffer serious loss of business, and a mighty industrial exodus would afflict Eastern Canada. The Liberal organs dare not advocate free trade openly, but by deft insinuation and continual misrepresentation they endeavor to make a permanent quarrel between the newer and the older provinces and doom even the West itself to a partial development and a restricted prosperity.

THE BALTIMORE CONVENTION

After the events of the past week at Chicago, the Baltimore convention, which meets today, is likely to seem tame by contrast. But, while neither as dramatic or sensational as the western gathering, it will be an interesting convention, as there will be an element of uncertainty about it. Judging from the American papers, the race is all field without any special favorite.

Speaker Champ Clark probably has a numerical lead, but that is an advantage in a convention where one vote more than one-third of the delegates can defeat any aspirant. Governor Wilson is a good second in the number of his accredited delegates, and Representative Underwood not so good a third, with Governor Harmon trailing fourth and last among the real possibilities for whom the delegates have been pledged. To vary the monotony of what may be called the formal part of the contest, there is persistent talk of Mayor Gaynor as a dark horse.

In Baltimore, as in Chicago, conservatives and progressives will struggle for mastery, and at Baltimore the odds are likely to favor the progressive faction or school. It seems probable that Mr. Bryan will exert a decisive influence in the preparation of the platform. In considering these questions it should be borne in mind that while a bare majority of the convention will control its business and shape its policy, it will require a two-thirds vote to select the Presidential standard-bearer. Had the two-thirds rule been in force in Chicago both Roosevelt and Taft would have been retired as candidates and a compromise nomination made.

SOME NEW MODELS.

The fashion of having the two sides of a bodice unlike holds its own, and is occasionally very picturesque. One of these has a trained skirt in black satin, with the bodice of filmy cream colored silk muslin on one side, the other side, with the short sleeve, composed of thickly embroidered opalescent thin silk. The sleeves are of the kimono order and are edged with opalescent beads. In this case the bodice completely covers the shoulders and ends in a neckband of embroidery similar to that on the bodice. A very lovely gown has the two sides of the bodice dissimilar, one being in orange silk crepe, extremely fine and supple, draped from the right shoulder across to the left side of the waist, while the other sleeve and half of the bodice are in the finest pale gray crepe, sewn with very small pearls. In this instance the skirt is in crepe de chine, in the exact tone of gray with that on the bodice.

Correspondence

Editor of the Chronicle.

Dear Sir: As I was passing along Amable st. the other afternoon, the firemen of No. 9 Station were returning from an alarm of fire, and one of the men backing the reel and hose into the station struck the horse several times on the head for no cause which I could see, and when I remonstrated with him for so doing he told me to go to —, and when I said I would report him he again repeated the above words. I came away with a feeling of deep disgust for the inhumane act and the vile language used by one whom I suppose would call himself a "man." Yours truly,

LOVER OF DUMB ANIMALS.

Editor of the Chronicle.

Dear Sir: In your issue of the 15th instant I read, with much interest, of a letter from Mrs. Giegie, president of the W. C. T. U., in which she acquaints the public of a rather despicable fraud perpetrated upon the W. C. T. U. and others of this city by a pair calling themselves "Connelley." I am sure the public feel very grateful to Mrs. Giegie for her warning, but unfortunately she goes out of her way to insult a certain section of the Irish people when giving the benefit of her experience of the pair of frauds when she states that Connelley, as his name indicates, was an Irish R. C.

As a native of Ireland and a member of the Irish Episcopal Church, may I be allowed to point out to Mrs. Giegie that the name indicates nothing of the sort, for, to the writer's knowledge, there are plenty of people of that name members of the Episcopal Church.

This is only one more instance of the intemperate language used by the temperance unions and I do not understand why religion or nationality should be brought into the matter at all. Thanking you for your courtesy and enclosing my card, I remain, yours truly,

CHARLES M. PIKE.

CANTON HOSPITAL.

Dr. G. Stuart Ramsey, who has just completed a most successful university course at McGill, securing the degrees of B.A., M.D.C.M., has been appointed assistant physician at the Canton Medical Hospital during the absence of Dr. Swan on a year's furlough. Dr. Ramsey leaves here Monday next for Vancouver to connect with the China steamer from there. After spending a year in Canton Hospital Dr. Ramsey expects to return via Europe, remaining for some little time in some of the European Hospitals, but hopes finally to settle in Quebec.

The Canton Hospital is the oldest missionary hospital in China, having been established over 70 years ago and has become so thoroughly identified with the interests of the Chinese that they have the utmost confidence in it and an appreciation of its benefits, which has saved it from harm during all the different risings which have taken place during its 70 years of existence. In addition to the superintendent and his assistant, who usually perform all the major operations, there is a large staff of native doctors. There are over 300 beds in the hospital and an average of operations are performed daily.

Chinese of every degree from the Governor of Canton and the General Commander-in-Chief of the South China forces to the lowest coolie have been treated within its wards and it has the entire confidence of the Chinese population.

For many years it was supported by English and American subscriptions, but has been dependant chiefly on native support for some time past, though there are still a number of regular annual subscribers both in England and America and the management is largely controlled by Europeans permanently settled in Canton assisted by an American committee.

Uses Only Cuticura Soap for Prize Baby

"I have always used Cuticura Soap and no other for my baby, and he has never had a sore of any kind. He does not even chafe as most babies do. I feel that it is all owing to Cuticura Soap for he is fine and healthy, and when five months old won a prize in a baby contest. It makes my heart ache to go into so many homes and see a sweet faced baby with the whole top of its head a solid mass of scurf, caused by the use of poor soap. I always recommend Cuticura, and nine times out of ten the next time I see the mother she says 'Oh I am so glad you told me of Cuticura.' (Signed) Mrs. G. A. Selby, Redondo Beach, Calif.

Although Cuticura Soap is sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a postal to "Cuticura," Dept. 514, Boston, U.S.A., will secure a liberal sample, with 32-p. book on the care of skin, scalp and hair.

MONTREAL BOARD OF TRADE

Return from a Visit to Clarke City and Seven Islands Whale Catching.

The members of the Montreal Board of Trade to the number of 172, who left Montreal last week on a trip down the St. Lawrence to visit the whale fishery at Seven Islands and the Clark City pulp mills, passed Quebec on Sunday night on board the old Saguenay steamer, that had been placed at their disposal through the courtesy of the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Co.

Mr. D. O. L'Esperance, M. P., of this city, who accompanied the excursionists on the trip with Senator P. B. Casgrain, of Montreal, as representatives of the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Co., disembarked at Quebec as the Saguenay passed by and yesterday, speaking of the trip to a Chronicle representative said they had a very pleasant time and experience. Mr. L'Esperance said: "With the exception of Mr. Guy, C. E., a couple of Quebec ladies and one or two others, the members of the party were all Montrealeers and members of the Montreal Board of Trade. Some of the Quebec Board of Trade took advantage of the occasion to visit Seven Islands. We first proceeded to visit and inspect the Seven Islands whale fishery, which was indeed a very interesting experience. This industry was established seven years ago, but later failed, and recently was restored under the management of a Norwegian gentleman named Mr. H. Sarsen, and is now evidently doing a flourishing business.

"The catch this season up to the time of our arrival was 74 whales, and we had the good fortune to see six of the latest captured four of whom still alive in the water. The mode of capture was also demonstrating to us by Mr. Sarsen's assistants and was to us quite a novelty.

"A motor boat, specially built in Norway, is used. This boat goes through the water without making the least noise even by vibration and has in its bow a modern harpoon gun. The search for whales is carried on at night, when the boat glides along the surface of the water and when a whale is espied and carefully approached without attracting its attention until the time allows final action, the gun is fired and the harpoon aimed with precision enters the whale's body. The moment the strike is made the mechanism of the harpoon extends fan-like and rents the whale to such an extent that the wound is fatal.

Of course, as soon as the whale is struck it sound and swims away under water at a terrific rate of speed. To the harpoon is attached a flexible wire rope, and as the monster scuds this wire is tolled out from the boat, until the whale is tired and weak and stops. The wire slack is then gathered in on a roller manipulated from the boat motor engine until close quarters with levithian is reached when it make a second getaway, but this time much slower, on account of its failing strength, and the boat allowed to be towed. This lasts for about 15 minutes when the whale rises and is at the mercy of its captors.

The boat then approaches without any danger and a hole bored into the whale's abdomen in which a pump is afterwards inserted and the stomach filled with compressed air. The object for this is to keep the whale afloat, for it will only float when alive, when it dies it immediately sinks to the bottom.

"The next operation is to comply with the rules of the government, tow the body of the monster ashore and the final handling takes place in the factory adjacent to the landing, where a regular village, dependent upon the industry, is located and thrives."

Clark City.

The party were next taken to the landing that is provided for the Clark Bro.'s interests at Seven Islands. Here they were met by the general manager of the Clark City lumber and pulp mills, Mr. S. P. Grogan, of Quebec, whose keen business ability has made the property a complete success. A train was in waiting which carried the visitors ten miles to Clark City, where they visited the large industry founded by the Messrs. Clark of Toronto, with their own means, brains and energy. After an inspection of the interesting industrial properties the visitors were entertained to luncheon at the Clark Hotel.

Clark City has a population of 1047 souls, including two jabberers. There are two churches—one Catholic and the other Protestant—at Seven Islands, a school with two teachers who are paid by the company and 55 pupils attending. Thus it will be seen that education of the young is not neglected. The village is also possessed of its own electric light plant, water-works and drainage, installed at the expense of the company.

The average wage payroll is $16,000 to the mill hands per year. During the winter season 150 men are employed in the woods, lumbering, who were paid in wages last season $126,000 and 21,000,000 feet, board measure, taken out. The company pays to the Provincial Government on an average of $22,000 per annum in stumpage dues. Last year an average of 60 tons of pulp was turned out of the mill per day. The company expects to manufacture 250 tons per day.

Canadian Eastern Mills.

"The party also proceeded to Murray Bay and paid a visit to the Canadian Eastern Pulp Mills, the property of the Forget interests, and the most modern fitted mills in the country, from which big results are anticipated.

"The Saguenay line of railway nearing completion was also inspected at Murray Bay, including the branch line running to connect with the Canadian Eastern Pulp Mills, which was a great surprise to the Montrealeers.

"The Saguenay steamer headed for home when a lunch given by the company was served, at which a number of interesting speeches respecting the development and progress of Quebec Province were made. Among the speakers were Mr. Whyte, editor of the Montreal Gazette; Mr. Phelon, of Toronto; Mr. W. J. Whyte, K. C.; Senator Casgrain, Mr. D. O. L'Esperance, M. P., and others.

MORMONS BUYING UP THE LAND

Every Farm Offered for Sale in South Alberta Purchased by Them.

Montreal, June 24—"Every farm that is put up for sale in South Alberta is bought by the Mormons," said Rev. W. D. Reid, in the course of an address to-day to the committee of ministers who have been appointed by the Ministerial Association of Montreal to examine the Mormon question. Mr. Reid has just returned from Alberta, where he was superintendent of missions for the Presbyterian Church, to take the pulpit of Stanley Church here.

Mr. Reid said he knew the Mormons at close range, and they were a great menace to the civilization of the present time. There are 20,000 Mormons in South Alberta. The little town of Raymond alone sent out thirty missionaries to Great Britain, and the Mormons claim that they have 800 missionaries at work in Great Britain to-day. Their converts are coming in through the port of Montreal at the rate of 100 a week, and something should be done in the matter.

It was announced at the meeting that that morning 93 converts had landed in the city.

A LONG FELT WANT.

It is safe to say that Quebec, the holder of the World's Hockey Championship, will support with enthusiasm the erection and maintenance of a large, commodious and properly constructed Arena, for the accommodation of hockey and indoor winter sports and exhibitions, either industrial or social.

Most of the cities of importance in Canada and the United States, including, Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, Winnipeg, Vancouver, Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Cleveland, Detroit and Chicago, have similar enterprises, which are patronized extensively by the public, and as a consequence afford a safe investment of capital, returning a yield rate which is exceptionally attractive.

It is understood that the Battlefields Commission will shortly expropriate the old Quebec Skating Rink, and unless the Arena is immediately erected, the champion team will be without quarters.

The great public interest in Hockey—Canada's favorite winter sport—and the need of a suitable building for holding large entertainments, are an almost certain guarantee of the success of such an undertaking from the start.

THE PROPOSED ENTERPRISE.

In this connection it is proposed to incorporate a company, to be known as the Quebec Arena, Limited, or such other name as may be decided upon, under the laws of the Province of Quebec, with a capital of $200,000, for the erection of a commodious and up-to-date Arena gardens building.

THE PROPERTY.

Several properties centrally located are held under option to accommodate a building of such size as to effectually bar subsequent competition, but it is pretty certain that the Quebec A. A. grounds will be chosen.

THE BUILDING.

The building, from plans prepared by Messrs. Ross & MacFarlane, Architects, of Montreal, will be solidly built of brick, steel and concrete, and cover a ground space of approximately 300x175 feet.

It will have an ice skating surface of 200x80 feet, with a promenade all round.

EQUIPMENT.

Seating accommodation includes a tier of boxes, each holding six persons, and seats for many thousand spectators all around the concourse in arena-pit form.

Ample provision is made for tea, waiting and smoking rooms, lavatories, dressing rooms, offices, directors' rooms and every possible convenience.

GENERAL BUSINESS.

The rink will be in demand for Professional, Junior, Amateur and School Hockey; Public Skating; Skating Clubs; Boxing and Wrestling Matches; Military Exhibitions; Band Concerts; Summer Opera, Horse and Automobile Shows and other Industrial Exhibitions.

Subscription list must be closed by the 15th July. It is therefore up to the Quebec public to support their enterprise at the earliest possible moment.

BANQUET OF OLD BOYS ASSOCIATION

Great Gathering at the Chateau Frontenac Last Evening—Presentation to Dr. Young.

The first dinner of the Old Boys' Association of the Quebec High School, which took place at the Chateau Frontenac last evening, was a unique event, and was a strong testimony of the loyalty with which the former pupils of the school regard their alma mater. Some 200 of the Old Boys were present, and they represented many years in the history of the famous school. The banquet was presided over by Col. J. F. Turnbull, president of the association, and seated with him at the main table was a gathering of many distinguished and representative people.

The menu prepared for the occasion by Manager Fred McMahon was a specially tasty one, and the menu card also gave pleasure, with its many allusions which the Old Boys could fully appreciate.

Cafe Noir.
Here endeth the first dinner.

When justice had been done to the dainties provided, Col. Turnbull rose to propose the first toast, that to the King. The toast list was also somewhat unique, and was as follows:

Toasts.

"Nature has given us two ears but only one mouth."
"The King," the world's greatest ruler.

"The School and the Rector." High in name, high in nature, high in our esteem. "Si monumentum quaeris, circumspice."

"The Association." A thousand heads, a thousand hearts, One single high ideal.
"Our Guests."

"This strange
A married man talking most away from home."

Boys' High School Menu.

Then eat till you're asked to desist, boys.
And drink till you cannot reply,
But eating or drinking,
You'll never cease thinking
Of old Alma Mater, "The High."

Mr. A. H. Cook, K.C., was called on to propose the second toast, "The School and the Rector." This he did in eloquent and appropriate terms.

He mentioned some historical facts in connection with the school from the year 1800, when it was the Royal Grammar School. About the year 1842 the Royal Grammar School became the Quebec High School. Mr. Cook referred to the long line of splendid rectors which it had had and had turned out men who had taken leading positions in all walks of life. He mentioned the names of Admiral Douglas, who had founded the Japanese navy; Dr. James Douglas, one of the United States' great capitalists; Col. R. E. W. Turner, V.C., D.S.O., who was with them at the gathering, who had gone to South Africa to fight for his country and had won the highest military honors; Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, chief justice of the Supreme Court of Canada; Hon. Rear Admiral, a former Lieutenant-Governor; Mr. D. R. Wilkie of Toronto, who had built up one of the greatest financial institutions in Canada, the Imperial Bank.

These were only a few of the names which could be mentioned, but why should not such men be turned out when the school had been directed by such men as Wilkie, Smith, Hatch, Dale, Harper and now Dr. Young. At the presentation of Dr. Young's name the presiding rector was given a perfect ovation, the guests rising and cheering enthusiastically.

Dr. T. Ainslie Young, continued Mr. Cook, was esteemed by all, beloved by his pupils, had the confidence of the governors, and had all the points of a good teacher. He was bringing up manly boys, with good moral tone and the record of the school under his direction stood very high. He pleaded for support for the school. It must maintain a good staff of teachers. To whom better could an appeal be made than to the Old Boys. In view of the advancement which was in prospect in Quebec, there should be no letting the High School go down.

Dr. Young was given another ovation when he rose to reply. He thanked those present for the enthusiastic manner in which they had greeted the toast.

He thanked them very heartily for the great honor which they had done him and the school. He urged loyalty to the school and stated that only in this way could it be placed in the position which it deserved. He spoke of the difficulties of keeping good men on the staff. They got good men, but as soon as they were heard of outside they were quickly snapped up. Dr. Young, in closing, again urged loyalty.

After Dr. Young had sat down, Col. Turnbull said that Dr. Chambers had a few words to say, and the latter, approaching him, read a beautifully illuminated address, referring in very complimentary terms to his quarter of a century of work in Quebec and the sentiments which all felt for him. Mr. E. C. Joseph then handed Dr. Young a purse containing $1200 in gold.

Mr. Young, who was much touched by this tribute, managed to express his thanks in very appropriate terms. Canon Scott then proposed the third toast, "The Association." He said that while things might go slow in Quebec, they went steadily. Quebec was working up to the necessity of advanced education. The association just started should prove a tremendous help to the Quebec High School. He paid tribute to the qualities of Dr. Young and to the remarkable demonstration of the evening. The Old Boys' Association had passed from the initial stage and it now rested in the hands of the people of Quebec. Canon Scott said that the question of an endowment was imperative and suggested that the sum to be aimed at be $100,000. After referring to Dr. Young's high qualities, Canon Scott referred to Mr. A. J. Elliott, vice-rector, the mention of whose name also elicited great enthusiasm and applause. Canon Scott praised the self-denying love and labor of the staff.

Col. Turnbull, perhaps the oldest Old Boy present, and president of the Association, replied. He thanked Canon Scott for his kind remarks.

Mr. E. C. Joseph, secretary, read a number of telegrams and letters of regret for non-attendance, among them Lieut.-Gov. Langelier, Sir Lomer Gouin, Judge McCorkill, J. Tyson William and D. R. Wilkie.

Mr. J. T. Ross, President of the Board of Governors, proposed the toast of "Our Guests." This was replied to in very happy terms by Hon. P. S. G. MacKenzie, Provincial Treasurer, and Mr. George W. Parmelee. Both spoke of the great achievements of the school and hoped that the appeal to the Old Boys would not be made in vain. Mr. H. Taylor of Montreal also spoke in behalf of the guests.

The banquet came to a close with the toast of the chairman, which was proposed in appropriate terms by Mr. A. H. Cook and responded to by Col. Turnbull with happy effect.

During the dinner Britnell's Orchestra rendered a choice selection of music.

roof. Very soon the factory was in flames and this was followed by the destruction of the warehouse and contents, including a great quantity of lumber, shingles and laths. The residence, general stores and rotary mill, one hundred feet distant, were saved. The bridge across the highway was burned and the road impassable. Boehmer Bros.' mills were started 30 years ago and were crowded with orders from all over the Maritime Provinces. Forty men are out of work. The mills will be rebuilt. The insurance rates were prohibitive, the premiums demanded being as high as 10 per cent. Hence the non-insurance of the property.

POLITICS CAUSE BLOODSHED ON STEAMER

New York, June 24—A discussion of Cuban politics at sea resulted in bloodshed aboard the steamer Romsdal, bound from Cuba to New York, according to a story brought to port today by the steamship Cristobal. The Cristobal passed the Romsdal en route and on being signalled sent her surgeon, Dr. H. W. Sweeney, to dress the wounds of a passenger who had been wounded. Dr. Sweeney was informed that a white Cuban named La Tour and Cuban black had argued for several days over the political situation on the island until the negro, enraged, slashed La Tour in the neck and abdomen with a razor. La Tour's condition was critical. The negro disappeared after the attack and is supposed to have jumped overboard.

MAIL CLERK CAUGHT IN ACT OF LETTER STEALING

Ogdensburg, N.Y., June 24—Robt. S. Algie, a mail clerk in the post office here, was arrested to-day charged with abstracting money from registered letters. It is alleged that while he was working over the midnight mail on Sunday he opened a registered letter from the Postmaster at Ogdensburg and abstracted $155.

Algie was surprised by an unexpected visit of Postmaster Leonard, who found several registered letters lying open upon the work table. The exact amount missing is not known, but Algie, according to the authorities, told where he had secreted outside of the building several hundred dollars, which was recovered. Algie was arraigned before the U. S. Commissioner and waived examination. He was held in $2,000 bail for the federal grand jury at Auburn in October. He is 28 years old and a member of a prominent family.

COWARDLY ASSAULT BY THREE RUFIANS.

Wolfville, N.S., June 24—Three men named Graves, under the influence of liquor yesterday afternoon went to the residence of Kenneth Lee at Port Williams and demanded to see a young English domestic employed by the Lees. Upon being told that the girl was not at home the men attempted violence. Lee appeared and threatened to use his gun unless the men left. They refused to do so and Lee re-appeared with a gun hoping to scare the rowdies. One of the ruffians then made at him, and in self-defence Lee struck at his assailant with the butt of his gun, breaking it off and thus discharging the full charge of buckshot into his own thigh. The ruffians then set upon the wounded man, kicking him about the body and inflicting further serious injuries. Neighbors came to the rescue and the men were placed under arrest. This morning

Lee was brought to Halifax for treatment. The surgeons find Lee terribly wounded and have only the slightest hopes that he can recover. He is too weak to give a statement. He is an Englishman and came to Nova Scotia four years ago.

WHAT PREVENTS WAR.

Port Arthur, Ont., June 24—That Great Britain's naval strength is the only factor which prevents war between Germany and Great Britain was the statement made here to-day by James Vickers, of the firm which make nearly all of Britain's Dreadnoughts and heavy ordnance. This was coupled with the declaration that relations between the two countries are undoubtedly strained and no better than represented in British despatches. The Vickers Company has two Dreadnoughts on the stocks for Great Britain now. Mr. Vickers thought that war would never be while England maintained her present policy of two-power strength. Mr. Vickers is here with the British manufacturers. The visitors were delighted with the trip about the city.

ROOSEVELT IN THE FIGHT TO WIN.

Chicago, June 24—Col. Roosevelt left for New York this afternoon. He was accompanied to the station by Alexander H. Revell and several leaders of the Roosevelt campaign. A crowd gathered at the station and cheered the Colonel. He bowed acknowledgment and as the train pulled out stood on the back platform and shouted: "I am in the fight to win." Mr. Revell said that he was "heart and soul" with the Roosevelt movement, but that he would take little part in the campaign as he intended to start for Europe soon, having been ordered by his physicians to rest. James R. Garfield will accompany Col. Roosevelt as far as Cleveland.

WHY ROOT WAS ELECTED TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN

Madison, Wis., June 24—Senator La Follette's defeat in the Chicago convention was attributed by Gov. McGovern this afternoon to the "mismanagement of his campaign—a mismanagement that was well-nigh criminal." The Governor said that Walter L. Houser, La Follette's campaign manager, is "responsible for the election of Senator Root and so of the whole cavalcade of calamities that followed."

Gov. McGovern issued a long statement in justification of his candidacy for temporary chairman of the national convention, presented figures showing that had he been named chairman the net Taft strength would have been 480 and the net Roosevelt strength 470.

"Had I been elected temporary chairman," said Gov. McGovern, "and ruled that the 78 contested delegates should be disqualified until lawfully seated—and I should have so ruled—there of course would have been an appeal from the decision, but to support this appeal there were only 480 Taft delegates, while to sustain the chair, the Roosevelt, Cummins and La Follette delegates would have been defeated and the chair would have been sustained. The contests would thereupon have been referred to the committee on credentials, which would have brought, as it did, majority and minority reports. The Taft men would have tried to force the adoption of the majority report in each instance, but without assistance

Lee was brought to Halifax for treatment. The surgeons find Lee terribly wounded and have only the slightest hopes that he can recover. He is too weak to give a statement. He is an Englishman and came to Nova Scotia four years ago.

DEATH OF FATHER
CAUSES SON TROUBLE

Who Is the Respondent in a Law Suit for Money Claimed
 to Have Been Paid.

Thomas Murphy, who was employed on board the Government
 steamer Earl Grey, died at Levis and was buried on Saturday last. Deceased, who was boarding with others
 of the steamer's crew at Levis, pending the repairs being finished on the Earl Grey in the dry dock, took ill
 some ten days ago, and realizing that his end was near, communicated with his son. In the meantime he paid his bills and also gave the cure of the parish, who attended to his spiritual
 wants, $100 to meet his funeral expenses.

The son of deceased afterwards arrived on the scene previous to his father's death and was given some money by his parent to meet any unforeseen expenses. After Mr. Murphy's death and funeral the son was served with a number of bill which he claimed were paid. The parties
 who claimed the amounts threatened
 to have him arrested, when he sought
 the advice of Mr. T. Beland, Quebec
 agent of the Marine and Fisheries Department, who immediately took
 an interest in the matter on account
 of the son's deceased father being in the employ of the department, though
 the Earl Grey came under the jurisdiction of the Halifax, N. S., agency. Mr. Beland placed the case
 in the legal custody of Mr. George Gitsone, who will safeguard the interests of deceased's son.

 the third and final attraction will be

Halifax, St. John, Sydney, Mont-

GOLDEN WEDDING OF CAPT.
 AND MRS. W. H. CARTER.

A most interesting event took place
 on Sunday last when Captain and Mrs. Carter celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding day, all their surviving children and grandchildren
 being present.

Captain Carter first came to Quebec
 with his regiment (the old 16th) about 1854. He was the second son of Admiral Carter, who was with Nelson in Egypt, and at Trafalgar. Of Admiral Carter's nine sons, five were in the army, two in the navy and one in the India office, so that all of them served
 the State in one capacity or another,
 certainly a very remarkable record.
 Capt. Carter married, in 1862, Louisa,
 youngest daughter of the late Henry Lemesurier, Esq., who fought in the Peninsula, losing his arm at Salama-
 naca, distinction in navy and army
 being thus happily combined.

Captain Carter retired from the army in 1866, and has spent most of the 44 years which have intervened in
 the service of the Canadian Customs,
 in Quebec, respected and esteemed,
 indeed, loved, by all with whom he had to do. As regards those who have served with and under him, their feeling have taken tangible shape in the form of a beautiful gold bowl, which
 they presented to him on the anniversary.

That there has been no couple in Quebec in the last fifty years who have more fully won the respect and
 regard of the community than Capt.
 and Mrs. Carter, the beautiful presents
 and magnificent flowers they have received in connection with the celebration of their golden wedding would alone show. It is also remarkable that they were married in the same
 church (the Cathedral) that they attend to-day.

Their many friends all wish Captain
 and Mrs. Carter many more years of health and happiness, a wish in which the Chronicle begs leave to join.

THREE PRISONERS
STILL AT LARGE

One of Them Has a Record in Montreal—Two Jail Guards
 Suspended.

Judging from what happened at the Quebec jail, on Sunday last, the prisoners in that institution require to be looked after in future. How three prisoners could escape on a Sunday
 from the Quebec jail is a mystery, and
 how they were allowed to be at liberty for almost a whole day without
 the proper authorities being notified,
 is another question which will probably be ferreted out later on. However, it is now a well-known fact that
 three prisoners—two of whom are
 well-known criminals—escaped over
 the walls of the jail on Sunday afternoon last, and so far have not been recaptured. One of them is Normand,
 arrested last week on the charge of loitering, drunkenness and disposing
 of cocaine; another is a man named Desjardins, arrested in Montreal,
 charged with a robbery of furs at Si-monard & Charmichael's, and who was undergoing a year's sentence, and the third is a Swede named Hagen, who is known in local police circles as a tramp, and who has probably not left
 the city.

It appears that they were in the jail yard Sunday afternoon and by
 some means secured six inch nails,
 which they stuck in the wall and
 thereby succeeded in getting over the wall on the side of the Plains. They must have taken to the bushes immediately and succeeded in reaching Cap Rouge, where they stole a horse and cart. The jail authorities knew of their disappearance a few hours after,
 but instead of notifying Sheriff Blouin and the provincial police, sent out to search the bushes around the Plains. In fact, the city detectives
 and provincial police were only notified of the escape early yesterday
 morning, while Sheriff Blouin received the news a few hours later.

The latest news received of the prisoners was that they had driven
 through the parish of Portneuf at 2
 o'clock yesterday morning.

Yesterday afternoon detectives and
 police guards were sent to Portneuf, Batiscan and Three Rivers to try to intercept Normand and Desjardins,
 who are attired in prison garb, which consists of a blue and white striped
 shirt, coffee colored pants and cap.

Normand, the cocaine fiend, is stated to be a man named Marquis,
 who was sent down in Montreal last
 year to five years in the penitentiary
 for stealing furs, but who escaped from
 the court house.

Two jail guards have been suspended in connection with the case.

TWO CASES OF
MURDER AND SUICIDES.

Nem Hampton, N.H., June 24—Albert H. Mitchell, a farmer, shot and killed his wife to-day and then blew
 his own head off. The woman, who was Mitchell's second wife, left her husband several weeks ago, but returned to-day. Mitchell is survived by three children of his first wife, the oldest of whom is 13.

Skowhegan, Maine, June 24—After
 shooting and killing George Spencer,
 a boarder at his home to-night, Bert Lane, aged 50, turned his rifle on himself with deadly effect as the
 sheriff stood at the door demanding admittance. The officer, hearing the shot and thinking it was intended for
 him, broke down the door and stumbled over Lane's dead body, as it lay in the hallway. The shooting of Spencer was witnessed by Lane's 9-year-old son, Harry. His father told him, he said, that it was accidental.

ILLUMINATION
LAST NIGHT

In Honor of the Feast of St.
 Jean de Baptiste and Opening of French Congress.

The city was positively ablaze with illumination last night in honor of St. Jean de Baptiste celebration and the opening of the French Language Congress. A large number of business houses in St. Roch and St. Sau-veur were illuminated with electric light effects and Chinese lanterns,
 etc. In the Upper Town the City Hall was outlined with variegated
 electric lamps which illuminated the whole space and flag decorations of the surrounding vicinity. The Basilica, Laval University, Archbishop's
 Palace and Laval Monument, together
 with the Postoffice and Dufferin Terrace were also illuminated by electric lights that outlined the architecture
 of the buildings. The Terrace presented a very pretty effect by the lamps strung from one end to the other and caused the river waters to sparkle in reflection. The Chronicle
 office was also illuminated in honor of the occasion. The city streets
 were thronged with pedestrians from early evening to a late hour in the night, and the Dufferin Terrace was crowded with promenaders in enjoyment of the scenic effects and beautiful weather.

"Do You Think He's Asleep, Mary?"
"Why, Of Course He's Asleep, John. Since We Got That New Banner Spring Bed, He Always Drops Right Off."

There, in a nutshell, is the story of satisfaction told in every household where the

is in use. No matter how "wide awake" you are, you'll find it easy to woo slumber if you sleep on a Banner. For the Banner is so constructed as to give rest to every portion of the tired body.

It fits the body, moves easily and noiselessly as you move—and with a good mattress on the top of it—furnishes that easy, sleep-inducing sensation that means perfect rest and nights of genuine comfort.

TO THE DEALERS WHO SELL BANNER SPRING BEDS

We want you, our dealers, to back up the Banner guarantee. We want you to realize that it is a real guarantee, and that we, in turn, are prepared to back you up should you ever find it necessary to make good the following promise:

"If any spring bed bearing the 'Banner' trade mark should fail to give a lifetime of perfect satisfaction—if the springs ever lose their temper or sag, as the result of any usage that a bed can be subjected to—we undertake to replace it with a new spring or refund the purchase price."

But it means more than that to have such comfortable nights as the Banner gives you. It means that good circulation of the blood, without which you cannot enjoy perfect health.

PROFESSIONAL
PICKPOCKET

Caught in the Act and Arrested
 Last Evening by Detective Lacoste.

Jacob Rubenstein, an American
 professional pickpocket, was arrested
 at the Palais last evening at 5 o'clock
 by Detective Lacoste and is now a prisoner locked up in a cell at the Central City Police Station.

Earlier in the day Detective Walsh
 and his associates were on the trail
 of Rubenstein and a pal in order to catch them at their work. But the crooks had evidently been made wise
 of the identity of Detective Walsh,
 consequently gave no reason for apprehension.

The latter, realizing that he was known, disappeared and left his assistant, Detective Lacoste, to watch Rubenstein, who later proceeded to the C. P. R. Station evidently to board
 the 5 o'clock train to skip the town,
 closely followed and watched by the sleuth. Rubenstein, under the impression that he was no longer kept under observation, could not resist the temptation of plying his business, and
 had just put his hand into a man's pocket when he found himself in the grip of Detective Lacoste, who escorted him to the Central Police Station.

Rubenstein claims to be from Boston and said he recently came to Quebec on an excursion from Portland, Me. This morning the prisoner will be photographed and his picture sent to the detective offices of the United States for identification and particulars of his career. In the meantime several pickpockets who have been in Quebec for some days past have skipped out, but the detectives are still after Rubenstein's pal, whom they suspect is still in the city under cover.

HIS MANAGER CAUSED HIS DISQUALIFICATION.

Dieppe, June 24—Georges Carpentier, the middleweight champion of France and England, was disqualified in the nineteenth round of his fight with Frank Klaus, the Pittsburgh middleweight, here to-day. Both men used rough tactics, and Klaus worked his elbows into the Frenchman's face and body in the clinches. In the nineteenth Carpentier's manager, believing that Klaus had struck the Frenchman a foul blow on the chin with his elbow, jumped into the ring and threw up the sponge. Carpentier protested that he was able and willing to finish, but owing to the interference of his manager, the referee disqualified Carpentier.

CANADIAN HORSE BREAKS A RECORD.

London, June 24—Hon. Clifford Sifton's horse, Confidence, in its high jump Saturday at the Olympia, cleared 7 ft. 5 1/2 in., breaking the world's record. Judge Moore's Lord Seaton and Lady Seaton captured the blue ribbon in Class 33, tandems, over 15 and not exceeding 15.2 hands, while the pair entered by J. Summer Draper, of Boston, took second prize. In Class 25, single harness horse, exceeding 16 hands, Judge Moore's Robinson was second.

GUARDING AGAINST THE BUBONIC PLAGUE.

St. Thomas, D. W. I., June 24—The strictest precautions have been taken here against the introduction of bubonic plague from Porto Rico. A rigorous quarantine has been established, and the sanitary authorities have undertaken a thorough cleansing of the various towns and a crusade against rats. Much uneasiness is felt here over the possible spread of the disease and advisory publications have been issued to the residents.

The Know-How of 24 Years

Do you realize that for nearly a quarter of a century Dunlop Bicycle tires have held the premier position the world over?

Before "Dunlop" came there were no tires at all—no pneumatic idea, no quick-detachable idea.

And there are no other bicycle tires—foreign-made or Canadian-made—about which the following can be said:—

Dunlop Bicycle Tires

- 1.—Made in the largest Bicycle Tire plant in Canada.
- 2.—Made in Canada and for Canadian roads.
- 3.—Made by the Doughty Patent Process—ensuring uniformity.
- 4.—Made with all the new Dunlop Special features (stud that prevent slipping and give greater mileage).
- 4.—Made and kept in first position—both as to quality and sales—since bicycling began.

See that your wheels are equipped with Dunlop Tires.

The answer to those who want to sell your foreign-made tires is that distance lends uncertainty—not enchantment.

Dunlop Tires are sold by Bicycle Dealers Everywhere.

"Kill the umpire," yelled the anarchist baseball fan in a fine fit of frenzy.

"Oh, no," said the radical baseball
 fan. "I can understand your feelings
 exactly, but, besides being morally
 wrong to kill him, it would do absolutely no good. I have a much better way. My way would be to recall the umpire."

"Come, come," said the conservative
 baseball fan. "You are quite as much
 in error as your more violent brother.
 You must remember that an umpire
 is a judge. It is not fitting that judges should be recalled. Judges are more sacred than other officials. See?

 different chest protector and a dif-

 a much better way to get rid of him.
 If you must say something, if you
 must violate the sacred chest pro-

MRS. E. N. THAW AFRAID OF THAW

Says if He Gets Out He Will Kill Her, as She Says He Has Threatened.

White Plains, N. Y., June 24.—Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw still fears that if
her husband gets out of Matteawan
he will attempt her life, she testified
today at the hearing of Harry K.
Thaw's application for release from
the asylum, on the contention that he is now sane.

"I am afraid that if Thaw is released he will kill me, as he has threatened to do," she volunteered during
cross-examination by counsel for Thaw.

Mrs. Thaw seemed excited when she made this declaration, but Thaw
put a fan up to his face and with a smile turned to his mother and whispered something to her which made her smile. Thaw hardly glanced at his wife during the time she was on the stand today, and the apparently was not aware that he was in the room, as not once did she look in his direction.

Mrs. Thaw declared she was an unwilling witness. "I have always wanted to have my marriage annulled and get out of the business,"
she is still being paid $50 a month
by Thaw.

William T. Jerome, of counsel for the state, again made strong objection to the temporary absence of Thaw from the court room during the progress of the trial. He stated that the alienists who will be called on behalf of the state have not had
good opportunity of examining Thaw
and must base their opinions upon his actions in court. Supreme Court
Judge Keough refused to grant Mr.
Jerome's request that the trial be
suspended.

Clifford W. Hartridge, Thaw's former counsel, and Dr. Charles G.
Wagner, head of the State Hospital
for the Insane at Binghamton, were witnesses at today's session. The latter testified that Thaw had told him
in the Tombs in 1906, shortly after the shooting of Stanford White by
the prisoner, that he had not meant
to kill White, but that "Providence
had intervened and had taken the matter in hand." Thomas W. Flattery and Llewellyn Gland, schoolmates of Thaw at Wooster University, testified that Thaw's actions
while there were such as to indicate rationality.

Freight Elevators In Warehouses

WHEREVER goods have to be lifted
from floor to floor—in the warehouse,
storehouse, or factory—a freight elevator is of great importance.

Suppose you have three floors, on each of
which you transport, or attempt to transport, heavy
goods, each floor being connected by the usual stairway.

Now you will admit that it would be extremely inconvenient if that same amount of time
spent, which you now have in three lifts, could be at your disposal on one lift only.

They say you can't get the effect you will make each upper floor as available and as easy
to transport business on as is the ground floor.

To those who know elevators and the economies they effect it seems well-nigh incredible that
any warehouse establishment should still continue the attempt to do a business on a set of stairs
or from a platform, so that which is not a lift
into account the elevator and its cost.

And we
know such establishments the more along that
way they are working up and down stairs
with goods, when their time might be better
spent. The work is a most untidy appearance
except when the building is the old one—long ago abandoned.

For an elaborately existing goods spaces and
down by hand, more time lost in trying to find things that are constantly misplaced by reason of such lack of system and order, and a tremendous exaggeration in the weekly wage bill, which might be cut down to a great extent by the labor-
saving that is always effected by having one
place the power of an elevator.

No matter what the business—no matter
how that business is conducted, an elevator
will bring down the more expensive—and an Otis-Fensom will get the
maximum amount of work
done at a minimum out-
lay.

An Otis-Fensom
Elevator will give
exactly double your
available floor space
—at the same time
greatly reducing expense.

It is a small booklet, but
it carries a big message.
Send for it—read it—study
it. It's well worth the time and a post card.

This Booklet—
"Freight Elevators
and Their Uses"

explains, in plain English, how
the Otis-Fensom freight elevator
may be applied to your business; and tells whether or not
it will be advisable to so apply
it. The systematic usefulness
of this modern mechanical
aid to any business that really needs it is thoroughly demonstrated.

HAVE you an elevator problem?

You probably think not, but wouldn't it pay you to seek
an elevator problem, if by
so doing you can at the same time
find the solution—a solution—
that will make and keep your business
more efficient? If your factory,
store or warehouse is not equipped
with proper elevator facilities you
have a real elevator problem,
whether you realize it or not.

AUTO TIRES INJURED

BY TACKS ON ROAD

Toronto, June 24.—Several thousand dollars' worth of tires were rendered useless on the Cooksville road
yesterday afternoon by hundreds of large tacks, apparently scattered on that highway. The tacks were long enough to pierce the thickest tread
and were found in handfuls at different spots. The Ontario Motor League has asked for an investigation.

DOCTOR'S SHIFT.

Now Gets Along Without It.

A physician says: "Until last fall I used to eat meat for my breakfast and suffered with indigestion until the meat had passed from the stomach."

"Last fall I began the use of Grape-Nuts for breakfast and very soon found I could do without meat.
For my body got all the nourishment
necessary from the Grape-Nuts and
since then I have not had any investigation and am feeling better and have increased in weight."

"Since finding the benefit I derived
from Grape-Nuts I have prescribed
the food for all my patients suffering
from indigestion or over-feeding and
also for those recovering from disease
where I want a food easy to take and
where to digest and which will not
over-tax the stomach."

"I always find the results I look for
when I prescribe Grape-Nuts. For ethical reasons please omit my name."
Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

The reason for the wonderful
amount of nutriment, and the easy digestion of Grape-Nuts is not hard to find.

In the first place, the starchy part of the wheat and barley goes through various processes of cooking, to perfectly change the starch into dextrose
or grape-sugar, in which state it is ready to be easily absorbed by the blood.

The parts in the wheat and barley
which Nature can make use of for rebuilding brain and nerve centres are retained in this remarkable food, and thus the human body is supplied with
the powerful strength producers, so easily noticed after one has eaten
Grape-Nuts each day for a week or ten days.

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road
to Wellville," in pgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

(Canadian Press Service.)

New York, June 24.—The narrow

and cautious movement of to-day's

stock market mirrored the obscure

conditions prevailing here and abroad.

These were mainly of a political and

industrial character and were sufficient in themselves to excite temporary depression. There was also

some uncertainty respecting the progress of the crops, but fundamental

conditions in various lines of industry

continue satisfactory, with increasing

indications of price advances in iron and steel. Copper suffered something of a setback by reason of a

sharp slump in the metal abroad.

The one feature of actual financial

significance was an engagement of

$2,000,000 gold bars, ostensibly for

export to Paris, but there is a well

defined belief that the metal will ultimately find its way to Berlin. Trading

at the latter centre was quiet, with

no external signs of extreme tension.

Prices were heavy in Paris and Lon-

dron, which sold about 10,000 shares of

our stocks here, chiefly Steel and Amalgamated Copper.

From a dull and weak opening

prices here gradually hardened, and

in the late afternoon a very considerable part of the early decline had been effaced when heaviness again set

in. There was another characteristic

movement in some of the high-priced

specialties, notably the tobacco group,

which gained 1 to 5 points, but as usual, the activity in these issues was

without effect elsewhere.

Bonds were irregular, with further

depression in Wahash refunding 4's.

Total sales, par value, amounted to $1,605,000.

United States Government bonds

were unchanged on call.

THE ANNUAL FEAST OF ST. JEAN BAPTISTE

Celebrated by French Canadian Population of Quebec with Enthusiastic Eclat.

Yesterday the feast of St. Jean de Baptiste, the patron saint of the French Canadian people in all Canada, was celebrated in usual in the Ancient Capital with enthusiastic eclat. The weather was all that could be desired and at an early hour yesterday morning the streets were alive with French Canadian citizens, getting ready to take part in the street parade that had been arranged for many days in advance. At 8:30 o'clock the various French Canadian national and religious societies assembled on the Esplanade, from which the procession was to start, and wound its way through the principal streets of the Upper Town to St. Rochs and St. Sauveur. The streets were gayly decorated with flags and bunting and young maple trees, and long before the appointed time thousands lined the streets routed for the procession to pass through.

It was 9:30 o'clock when the chief marshal, who rode at the head of the procession, gave the word to start, and the various national and religious organizations that took part, with bands playing, banners and flags floating to the breeze, responded in the following order:

Grand Marshal G. Trudel, followed by four mounted city police. Chief Trudel and detachment of city police, who looked well as they marched in their new uniforms, white helmets and white gloves.

A detachment of the Quebec Fire Brigade, with fire-fighting equipment, followed by the St. Jean Baptiste Society of Lorette, headed by the Lorette band.

L'Union St. Joseph of Old Lorette and St. John de Baptiste Society of Jeanne Lorette.

Charlesbourg band, leading national societies from some villages and members of Carpenters' and Joiners' Union from L'Ange Gardien, followed by Silly Band and Silly national societies, also St. Jean de Baptiste Society from St. Foye.

St. Gregoire Band, leading national, religious and industrial societies from the village of Beauport.

Next in order came the Trades Union branches, with their banners and flags, followed by detachments from the various branches of the C. M. B. A.

The Seminary Pupils' Band came next, leading the St. Jean de Baptiste Society of the colleges, and various fraternal organizations and pupils of the Christian Brothers' schools, trades unions, etc. The St. Jean de Baptiste Cadet Band led the members of the Zouave Association, who acted as a guard of honor to the Carrillon flag. The St. Damase Cadets followed, and courts of Canadian Order of Foresters, National Alliance Association, clubs, Limoulin societies, the Jacques-Cartier Guards in uniform, with bugle band; the Champlain Independent Guards in uniform with band, De Salaberry Guards in uniform, carrying rifles, and with bugle band.

Mayor Drouin, aldermen and presidents and officers of the St. Jean de Baptiste Societies.

There were two representations of St. Jean de Baptiste and court driven in the procession, one presentation of Jacques Cartier and on presentation of Samuel de Champlain. There were quite a number of carriages in the procession properly decorated and drawn by two horses and braided coachmen, that had four occupants, officers of the various societies.

The procession on the whole was most creditable, but not near so large as anticipated or as it should be in the Citadel City of the French Canadian race.

The route of march was from the Esplanade down d'Auteuil street, d'Youville street, St. John street, St. Genevieve, Cote d'Abraham, Crown, St. Joseph to Boulevard Langelier, through St. Sauveur streets to St. Peter's Market, where it terminated.

Yesterday afternoon sports took place on the Exhibition grounds, which included horse racing, trotting and bicycle race, in the presence of a large crowd of spectators.

Crowds of young people went on picnic excursions to the Falls of Montmorency and other points along the St. Ann's railway. There was an immense number at the falls all afternoon who seemed to enjoy their outing under the auspices of beautiful weather.

Last night the city was brilliantly illuminated in honor of the national feast and opening of the French Language Congress.

The arcade of the Basilica and the Archbishop's Palace was outlined by electric lights, likewise the Laval monument, together with the City Hall, etc.

GALACIAN MURDERER

DEFIES ARREST

Gimli, Man., June 24.—After shooting to death Stephen Wytzuk in front of his home, three miles from here, at 7 o'clock last night, John Deider, a Galician, believed to be of unsound mind, took refuge in his own home, one mile distant. The house is surrounded by constables and residents of the district, but the slaver keeps them off at the muzzle of the rifle with which he shot Wytzuk. About a month ago Deider's wife committed suicide. This event seemed to intensify a mental defect already marked. He vowed to kill a number of persons, it is said, among them being Wytzuk. He left his home last night about 6:30, carrying a rifle. When he neared Wytzuk's he saw Wytzuk and his wife and immediately levelled his rifle and shot Wytzuk through the right lung. Wytzuk died almost instantly. The slaver, without haste and swearing to shoot anyone who tried to capture him, turned around and went back to his home. Immediately on the news reaching Gimli a body of police and constables was at once organized.

The St. Damase Cadets followed, and courts of Canadian Order of Foresters, National Alliance Association, clubs, Limoulin societies, the Jacques-Cartier Guards in uniform, with bugle band; the Champlain Independent Guards in uniform with band, De Salaberry Guards in uniform, carrying rifles, and with bugle band.

Mayor Drouin, aldermen and presidents and officers of the St. Jean de Baptiste Societies.

There were two representations of St. Jean de Baptiste and court driven in the procession, one presentation of Jacques Cartier and on presentation of Samuel de Champlain. There were quite a number of carriages in the procession properly decorated and drawn by two horses and braided coachmen, that had four occupants, officers of the various societies.

The procession on the whole was most creditable, but not near so large as anticipated or as it should be in the Citadel City of the French Canadian race.

GREAT BRITAIN'S SURPLUS REVENUE

What the Chancellor of the Exchequer Proposes to Do With It.

London, June 24.—(Through Reuters' Ottawa Agency, Ottawa)—In the House of Commons this afternoon Right Hon. David Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, speaking upon the budget resolutions, reminded the House that there were two contingencies regarding the disposal of the surplus of six and one half million pounds. He said that when he made his budget statement the first contingency was whether the coal strike would cause a loss of revenue in consequence of the decreased consumption. He was now able to say that such was the buoyancy of trade that the estimates of revenue given at the beginning of the fiscal year would be well within the mark and that probably there would be a margin which consequently would render it unnecessary to draw revenue at all to meet the ravages of the strike. The other contingency was a possible increase in the demands of the Admiralty upon the Exchequer. Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, had stated quite clearly, said Mr. Lloyd-George, that he based his estimates upon the assumption that the German navy law would remain unaltered. There was a bill before the Reichstag at that time providing for a very considerable addition to the provision made by the old German navy law. Since then the bill had become an act of the German Parliament. It was now no longer a contingency, but a fact with which Great Britain was confronted. This new law provided additions to spread over a period of six years of naval programme, amounting in the aggregate to ten millions of pounds sterling ($50,000,000).

Mr. Lloyd-George proceeded to say that in due course Mr. Churchill, as First Lord of the Admiralty, would submit supplementary naval estimates. It was not for him to anticipate Mr. Churchill's statement in that regard and he only referred to it insofar as was necessary to explain the financial statement which he was now making to the House. This year the additional sum which Mr. Churchill would ask for, he continued, did not exceed a million pounds, but further heavy payments would fall due in subsequent years as the result of the British naval programme Mr. Churchill had found it necessary to outline. That left a balance of five and one-half millions sterling which was not disposed of. There was, however, a new item of expenditure which he (Lloyd-George) proposed to recommend to the House. It had reference to the expansion and development of the resources of East Africa and Uganda. The Colonial Office were pressing the Exchequer for an advance for the further development of that exceedingly rich country. He had recommended a year or two ago that a portion of the surplus should be expended for the extension of the railways of the Uganda and of the Protectorate, and for the construction of a deep water pier and jetty. There was no doubt at all, he said, about the enormous possibilities of that great country. (Cheers.) There was an increase from year to year of products, which coming from that quarter, especially cotton and wheat. It was undoubtedly to the interests of Great Britain to assist every new cotton producing country. This was a lesson which Britain had had in the shortage from the United States of America last year, of the injurious effect upon our cotton industry. It showed that it was a dangerous thing to rely exclusively upon one particular source of supply for one of our most important industries. Having given figures of the exports of Uganda cotton in recent years, Mr. Lloyd-George proceeded to say that this year it was expected that there would be 15,000 hundredweights exported from Uganda alone. Last year, for the first time, there were exports from the Protectorate. Railroads, steamboats, and piers were quite inadequate to the development of that new source of supply. According to reports to the Colonial Office the products were rotting on the wharves and platforms for lack of carrying capacity and storing room. What were wanted was a large number of engines, carriages and stores, also development of the roads, especially in the district of Lake Kioga, which was one of the most promising districts of the whole empire for cotton growing. In this connection the Chancellor said he was told that owing to the lack of road accommodation the natives could not bring their produce to the lake. The natives were very much discouraged at this situation, because having produced the cotton under the stimulus of great promises, they found it very disappointing that they could not get their cotton away. It was proposed the Government should advance to the Colonial Office a sum of half a million pounds at a fairly remunerative rate of interest. This rate was yet unsettled, but Mr. Lloyd-George thought that the rate to be charged should be that of the last loan, namely, 3 1/2 per cent with one per cent for sinking fund.

The remaining five million pounds of the surplus should, he said, be devoted to the redemption of debt. The local reduction of debt effected by the present Government, including the five millions would be £78,184,000, and he asked as a matter of fair play that when comments were made upon the price of consols, adverse to the Government, the figures of the debt reduction should be given as well.
