World News In Brief

By The Canadian Press
Five fatalities were recorded in Ontario during the week-end, with none reported in Quebec or the Maritimes, for the lowest total this year.
They included the death from exposure of a Detroit woman at Windsor, one drowning, one death by asphyxiation and two traffic fatalities.

Sydney, Australia, Feb. 20—(Reuters)—Events are moving so quickly in southeast Asia that Australia may be prevented from creating a Pacific pact unless she acts promptly, foreign minister Percy Spender said today.
Australia, he said, is prepared to enter into a Pacific pact if she can find other powerful countries willing to join her. But, he added, no such pact could be effective without United States' co-operation.

Johannesburg, Feb. 20—(P)—A police sergeant was killed yesterday and 16 persons injured when police and natives shot it out in the latest of a spreading series of disorders in South Africa.

Yesterday's rioting grew out of a clash between two native factions involving about 100 persons.

St. Etienne, France, Feb. 20—(P)—Premier Georges Bidault said yesterday he hoped Winston Churchill would have a second thought about a "big three" meeting without France. He noted that in the past Churchill has fought for the inclusion of France at big power parleys. He suggested that it was because of frequent French cabinet changes that Churchill had not mentioned this country in connection with a proposed conference with Russia.

Montreal, Feb. 20—(P)—Nine people were injured—two of them seriously—in a collision between an automobile and a pedestrian in the city's north-end late Sunday.

Injured seriously were: Charles A. Lapointe, 28, driver of the car, who suffered a fractured skull and fractures of both legs and Hubert Lapointe, 31, fractured skull.

Colombo, Ceylon, Feb. 20—(AP)—The United States intends to avoid intruding in domestic affairs of the Asiatic countries it aids in the stemming of communism, Philip C. Jessup, United States ambassador-at-large, said today.

Jessup told a press conference there is no basis for a suspicion that the United States aims at building up a military alliance or a bloc of western-dominated Asiatic states.

"That was not the intention, veiled or otherwise, of American interest in Asia," Jessup said.

Bill To Aid Unemployed Will Be Introduced Today

Ottawa, Feb. 20—(P)—A plan to extend additional aid to Canada's mounting unemployed population will be introduced in the Commons today.
Labor Minister Mitchell gave notice Saturday that he intended to introduce a resolution asking Commons approval for broadening the scope of unemployment insurance and providing supplementary winter benefits for workers who have exhausted their benefits.

With more than 375,000 Canadians—7.4 per cent of the total labor force of 5,100,000—now out of work, the unemployment problem is expected to come under searching scrutiny in the Commons in the next few days.
Opposition party leaders are expected to devote a considerable portion of their speeches in the Throne Speech debate to attacking government unemployment policies. George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader will lead off the debate today.
M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, who will follow Mr. Drew and Prime Minister St. Laurent in the Throne-Speech debate, already has placed on the order paper a series of probing questions on government employment policy.
The questions ask such information as changes in government policy since last January, the lapse of time in which unemployment figures are received and made public, appeals from municipalities for federal help to meet unemployment costs, and what part of the

British Political Experts Give Labor Slight Margin

London, Feb. 20—(P)—Ten of 20 political experts in Britain forecast a Labor victory in Thursday's general election.
Six see a Conservative win.
Four say the race is so close they wouldn't hazard a guess.
All foresee a narrow margin for whichever party wins.
The Associated Press sought the views of 18 of the country's leading political journalists and the strategists of the two principal minority parties.
Both Labor and Conservatives predict victories for their side, in statements put out for home consumption.
Of the 20 polled, seven said their forecasts might well be upset by political oratory in the closing days of the campaign.
The writers questioned represented practically every shade of political opinion.
All agreed to speak frankly. Some, because their personal forecasts differ from those of their employers, asked not to be quoted by name.
Bookmakers' odds still favor Labor.
Douglas Stuart, Limited, one of Britain's biggest bookmaking houses, quoted four to six on Labor (you bet $6 to win $4); six to five against Conservatives Stuart's odds had narrowed from four to seven on Labor, reflecting a growing confidence among Conservatives bettors.
The experts forecasts included: Kingsley Martin, editor of the pro-Labor New Statesman and Nation, influential weekly journal of opinion: A Labor majority.

Ship Burns, Passengers Are Saved

Copenhagen, Feb. 20—(P)—Flames swept a little Danish steamship in fog-covered Kattegat strait early today, driving 103 passengers into lifeboats or safety.
All the passengers—travelling from Oslo to Copenhagen, aboard the 3,038-ton Kronprins Olav—were picked up safely a short time later by a Swedish-American liner which answered the burning vessel's distress call.
A spokesman for the Kronprins Olav said all passengers were taken aboard the Swedish-American liner Stockholm, but a few were injured in abandoning ship.
Although the sea was calm, fog hampered the rescue work.
The Stockholm, which stayed to help fight the blaze on the Danish ship for some time, was due later this morning in Copenhagen with the rescued passengers.
H. U. Garde, a director of United Steamships, Limited, said fire broke out amidships when the Kronprins Olav was seven miles

Foreign Secretary Says In Election Address That Economic Assistance Is Under Discussion.

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
London, Feb. 20—(P)—Britain's election campaign moves into the stretch drive today with a statement by Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin that his Labor regime is discussing steps with the United States to get economic assistance when the Marshall Plan ends in 1952.
Meanwhile, both big parties braced themselves against last-minute manoeuvres aimed at swaying the crucial on-the-fence voters between now and the balloting on Thursday.
Door-to-door canvassing efforts and speech schedules have been stepped up throughout the country by candidates seeking the 625 parliamentary seats.
Bevin made his United States aid announcement last night before a political audience in suburban Croydon. He said:
"We are already discussing with the United States the situation which may arise (when the Marshall Plan ends). We are taking every possible step in order that there will be no economic crises and catastrophe and to ensure that we move steadily over from one system to the other, which is what America wants to see—Europe on its own feet and with its own dignity contributing once again to the great civilization whose cradle she rocked and developed over so many centuries."
"We are working hard," he added, "to see whether we can bring about a new payment scheme in exchange which will not involve us in this gold and dollar business, and which will not cut across our own commonwealth and overseas territories."
During the week-end both Labor and Conservative campaigners accused each other of promoting stunts in an effort to stampede the voters. The Labor speakers contrasted their fire on Winston Churchill.
Churchill's proposal that the west should undertake high-level talks with Russia drew the heavy fire. Bevin called it a stunt.
The deputy prime minister, Herbert Morrison, assailed the Churchill plan as "badly thought out" and said "it was a pity to drop this proposition into an election campaign."
Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said Churchill's proposal was a desperate Conservative effort to find a talking point.
Conservatives followed their usual policy of refraining from political campaigning on Sunday. Saturday night Churchill renewed

US Will Be Asked To Cut Tariffs

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Lake Success, N.Y., Feb. 20—(P)—A concerted plea from United Nations delegates is expected this week urging the United States to lower tariffs and other trade barriers.
The call will come in the U.N. economic and social council. The council, boycotted by Russian delegates, is scheduled to discuss the world economic situation and possible methods to improve a dark picture.
The U.N. talk will perhaps be phrased in even more diplomatic terms than those voted in New York Feb. 10 by Canada's Prime Minister, Louis St. Laurent.
He urged the U.S. to reduce tariffs and other trade barriers as a possible huge boost to western security.
Canada is expected to have a detailed statement on "major economic changes in 1949," a report by U.N. economists. The 101-page survey released last week will form the basis for the council's discussion.
Raymond Eades, Liberal member of the Commons for Montreal Hochelaga, heads the Canadian delegation. His alternates are Sidney Pierce, associate deputy minister of trade and commerce; and Dr. George Davidson, deputy welfare minister.
The U.N. economists reported that world trade troubles toughened in 1949 and no remedy is yet in sight. The drop of imports into the U.S. during 1949 was seen as the major factor aggravating the chronic imbalance in world trade—excluding Russia and the Soviet-Bloc countries.
The experts did not lay down any hard and fast rules for solving the stiffening problem but made these two major general suggestions:
1. Increase in U.S. imports, decrease in U.S. exports or both, coupled with continued large-scale U.S. economic aid.
2. Re-adjustment of western Europe's trade and production to supply the requirements of underdeveloped countries during their period of economic development.
Growth of industrialism in underdeveloped countries was cited by the U.N. economists as one of the inevitable changes which has thrown world trade out of its old gear.
The U.N. delegates do not expect to get any direct action out of the U.S. or any other country immediately they finish speaking. But they do believe their views reach the public and government policy makers through the forum of the council, bringing some action in time.

Country Doctor Will Appear Today In Mercy Death Case

Manchester, N.H., Feb. 20—(P)—Dr. Hermann N. Sander, 41, a slim, quiet country doctor, goes on trial on a charge of murder today in the mercy killing of a dying cancer patient.
Dr. Sander, one-time Dartmouth college ski team captain, is accused of killing Mrs. Abbie Borroto, 58, by injecting air into her veins last December.
International attention is focused on the case because of the euthanasia—mercy killing—angle. Press representatives from the major cities of the United States and Britain are on hand to record the details of the trial that will unfold in a 45-year old red brick courthouse in this New England industrial city.
The tall, mustached physician has been in seclusion since he was indicted in January. He was absent yesterday when his pastor, at Sunday service in the Congregational church in nearby Candia, prayed for his speedy acquittal.
The state of New Hampshire charges Doctor Sander injected 40 cubic centimeters of air into the veins of Mrs. Borroto as she lay dying of an incurable bowel cancer.
As lawyers for both sides wrapped up their strategy there was no hint whether the doctor would take the stand.
Legal observers were of the opinion that "mercy killing" would become a subordinate issue if Dr. Sander is not a witness.

Yukon Patrol

The Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry were the first troops from the "Allied Force" to make contact with the "enemy" on the joint Canadian-U.S. Exercise Sweetbriar which got under way north of Whitehorse in the Yukon last week. The Pats came to grips with the invading force near Donjek River, about half way between Whitehorse and Northway, Alaska. ## Hungarian Prosecutor Asks For Severe Punishment For Vogeler, Co-Defendants

Dispersal Of A-Targets Is Advocated

Albuquerque, N.M., Feb. 20—(P)—The new chief of civilian defence in the United States will recommend soon that key targets of possible atomic attack go underground or be widely scattered.
Larsen was for 2 1/2 years head of the atomic energy commission's Sandia laboratories here where the atomic bomb is assembled.
He said last night he considered prompt defence measures for the United States capital his most urgent duty.
"Our first job will be relocation and re-design of the present governmental office setup in Washington," he said.
"Dispersion, even out of the Washington area, and underground installations either in or out of the capital, will be our chief means of defence."
Larsen's program follows the lines of a report given recently to the national security resources board by the Los Alamos laboratory and army engineers.
His plans for defence of the civilian population and the country's home front war potential are based upon:
1. Dispersal of industrial and governmental targets.
2. Construction of bomb-proof structures underground to shelter essential agencies which it is not feasible to move elsewhere.
3. Stockpiling of disaster equipment at strategic points in the country. This would include vast amounts of blood, blood plasma and equipment to combat injuries resulting from the terrific heat of an A-bomb explosion.
4. Reduction of what he considers over-apprehension resulting from fear of atomic attack.
Larsen says if the country is properly prepared, he has no doubts concerning its ability to withstand A-bomb attack.

Budapest, Feb. 20—(P)—Hungarian prosecutor Gyula Alapi today asked the "most severe punishment" for American business man Robert A. Vogeler and his six co-defendants on trial for spying and sabotage. But he did not ask the severest penalty—death.

Alapi told the peoples court that Vogeler, 38-year-old assistant vice-president of the International Telephone and Telegraph Company "is a spy who lost and was unmasked."
Alapi made the charge after nine witnesses had paraded to the stand to testify that Vogeler and his co-defendants were guilty of sabotage and spying for the United States intelligence service.
It could not be learned immediately what possible penalties the defendants face.
Vogeler, who has pleaded guilty, was described as "a great spy."
"The sentence should bring him the fate of such persons," said Alapi, who also prosecuted Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty and Laszlo Rajk, former Hungarian interior minister, last year. Cardinal Mindszenty was sentenced to life imprisonment and Rajk was executed.
Alapi declared that every charge against the seven defendants "was proved in the course of this trial" and demanded the "most severe punishment which corresponds with their deeds."
Vogeler, on trial with six co-defendants, asked for a mild sentence Saturday after pleading guilty. He said he used his business connections as a cover for professional intelligence activities and that nearly all American business men in eastern Europe were required to turn in intelligence reports to the U.S.
Six co-defendants, who confessed to similar charges, were Edgar Sanders, a British official in the Standard Electric Company, a Hungarian subsidiary of I.T. and T.; Imre Geiger, Hungarian manager of the company; Zoltan Rado, a section chief in the Hungarian ministry of heavy trade, Edina Doery, hotel barmaid and telephone operator; the Rev. Istvan Justin, a Roman Catholic priest; and Klemen Dokoko, chief accountant for the Standard Company.

Farmers In China Revolt Against Reds

Taipei, Formosa, Feb. 20—(P)—The national defence minister today said 100,000 farmers revolted in the Tungting lake region of Hunan province killing many communists.
The ministry said the revolt was sparked by excessive requisitioning of rice by the Chinese communists. The revolt occurred in the heart of the main rice growing district of China.
At the same time the ministry announced the return of a nationalist gunboat which had gone over to the Reds in October. The gunboat was said to be operating with the nationalist fleet in the south China sea.
Yesterday three nationalist Mitchell bombers damaged a power plant at Nanking, scoring a hit on a big transformer.

Farmers In China Revolt Against Reds

Hong Kong, Feb. 20—(P)—Informed foreign sources said today the Chinese communists have massed more than 25,000 troops on the Hong Kong-China border during the last three weeks.
They said the 41st and 42nd communist armies under generals Wu Yuan-Mau and Sung Chi-Hung were concentrated less than five miles from the border.
Maj. W. Billett, British army spokesman, said: "The situation on the border is the same as it was two weeks ago. We have no further comment."
Other sources said "some significance might be attached to such troop massing since the Reds never before had more than a few hundred uniformed guards along the frontier."

Contempt Of Court Action Considered Against Miners

By NORMAN WALKER
Washington, Feb. 20—(P)—The possibility of stern court contempt action today faced miners in the continuing coal strike.
Federal lawyers also prepared to ask for an 80-day, back-to-work order to replace the temporary one which 372,000 rebellious United Mine Workers have ignored for nine days—despite the urgent pleas of their leader, John L. Lewis.
The miners' apparent decision to continue their "no contract, no work" strike might lead to a whopping contempt penalty against the union's $13,000,000 to $20,000,000 treasury.
Their refusal to work already had led to widespread protests that the whole national economy was being seriously endangered. There was talk here of possible government seizure of the mines.
West Virginia and Pennsylvania soft coal miners today led defiant miners who refused to end their strike until they get a new contract.
Overnight crews did not show up at 15 mines in West Virginia and four in Pennsylvania.
U.M.W. field workers and the ranks and file say they do not believe the strikers will obey Lewis's new cease-strike command.
Action of the midnight shifts in West Virginia and Pennsylvania usually sets the pattern for the rest of the soft coal areas.
These two states together employ more than half of Lewis's 400,000 dues payers in the bituminous industry.
Few of the hundreds of U.M.W.

Hollywood Kisses Are Cooling Off

By EDWARD C. HEYEN
Hollywood, Feb. 20—(P)—Love in Hollywood is supposed to be wonderful and wicked, but actually the clinch is weakening, the kiss is cooling off.
This recession started a long time ago, yet you can hear or read almost anything: That kisses are limited to 16 seconds, that actresses won't do love scenes while their husbands are on the set, that great real-life romances blossom between stars in that final ardent camera embrace. Never, or almost never, true.
Is it fun, kissing the gorgeous blonde or the rugged leading man? Well, hardly. Not with 160 other people standing around, and the trusty lighted by enough kilowatts to power a battleship.
In rehearsals and takes for three kissing scenes, Montgomery Clift kissed Shelly Winters 329 times. They got pretty sick of it. Rita Hayworth once had a leading man with a penchant for garlic bread. That's fun?
Movie kissing is governed by the industry's production code and that nebulous yardstick "good taste." A kiss can be held indefinitely—if there is nothing suggestive about it. That's just the point.
In sharp contrast to 20 years ago, there is a flat ban on: excessive and lustful embraces, suggestive postures, such as horizontal kissing scenes, suggestive gestures and movements, neck kisses, open-mouthed kisses.
Back in the silent days, a screen lover could get away with a kissing routine that resembled eating corn on the cob. He started at the wrist and worked up.
Conrad Nagel and Aileen Pringle went through love scenes in "Three Weeks" (1924) that would curl a censor's toes. Their contortions on a chaise longue made cinema history. John Barrymore and Mary Astor almost scented the screen with several scenes in "Don Juan" (1926). Maybe you remember Jean Harlow and Ben Lyon in "Hell's Angels." The year was 1930, and the celluloid is still sizzling.
Film editors have a lot to do with the way the kiss is finally shown on the screen. If the kiss stirs the cutter, he snips it off and splices in the next scene.
Violet Lawrence, a film director for 25 years, says many current films still manage to get the idea across. She cites the clinches of Glenn Ford and Rita Hayworth in "Gilda," and Humphrey Bogart and Gloria Grahame in "In a Lonely Place."
Whatever its degree of intensity the kiss has been a fixture since movies began. But Theda Bara's loveliness in "A Fool There Was" (1914) now looks more like wrestling in a contemporary film. She seized her boy friend, bent him backward until his spine almost cracked, and then whispered in his ear, "kiss me, my fool!" chances are the audience—and the boy friend—would laugh themselves to death.
Toronto, Feb. 20—(P)—Twelve persons were injured today when two street cars collided on downtown Church street.
No details were available immediately.

It has been announced from Rome that Pope Pius XII will broadcast in English, February 26, a special appeal to North American children to aid the poor children of Europe and Asia. It is felt that the day will serve as a fitting climax to Brotherhood Week.

Philathea Society Has Meeting

Members of the Philathea Society of the United Church were pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. M. G. Stewart, on Church Street, where they held their regular monthly meeting. Mrs. E. A. Orr, the president, presided and Mrs. N. D. McLeod read a portion of the ninety-first Psalm and a poem entitled "Our Home."

The various work committees were named as follows: tea, Mrs. W. Robinson, Mrs. A. Raycraft, Mrs. H. Worster and Mrs. H. Wallace; food, Mrs. W. Wark and Mrs. C. E. Sterling; kitchen, Mrs. A. Scott and Miss C. George; apron, Mrs. W. Stanford and Mrs. W. A. Henderson; fancy work, Mrs. T. Saunders, Mrs. R. H. Frizzell and Miss E. Taylor. Other committees were: Flowers, Mrs. W. A. Henderson; gifts, Mrs. M. G. Stewart and Mrs. W. G. MacDougall; telephone, Mrs. E. A. Orr, Mrs. W. A. Henderson, Mrs. R. Sutor, Mrs. C. H. George, Mrs. M. G. Stewart and Mrs. T. Saunders; equipment fund, Mrs. E. Wellman, Mrs. A. Scott and Miss C. George.

Plans were made to hold the annual crokinole and sugar on snow party on February 24, in the Scott Hall. The name of the party was voted to the campaign for the blind. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss E. Wellman, Prospect Street. Following the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed during which Mrs. L. Parker, the treasurer, was honored by surprise on the occasion of her birthday and was presented with a pen by the president, Mrs. Orr, on behalf of the members present. Games were enjoyed and the winners were Mrs. W. G. MacDougall and Mrs. H. Worster. The hostesses Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. L. Parker and Mrs. W. G. MacDougall served a salad lunch at which the center of attraction was a decorated candle-lit birthday cake made especially for the guest of honor by Mrs. N. D. McLeod. The singing of "She's a Jolly Good Fellow," concluded a most pleasant evening.

Halpin, running in Spelthorne, Middlesex. While in Parliament 35-year-old Legge-Bourke and 32-year-old Beamish have been "unemployed" as far as the army has been concerned. They have received no army pay or allowances since election in 1945 and have forfeited their places on promotion lists. Beamish belongs to the "Fighting Fifth," the Royal Northumberland Fusiliers, while Legge-Bourke is an officer of the Royal Horse Guards. Officers who in future resign their commissions to become candidates are cut of luck if they lose—being neither servicemen nor members they will have to obtain other employment if dependent on their service incomes for a living. Other ranks wishing to contest an election seat—there have been none in this campaign—must obtain discharge or retirement from the services, say the regulations, before offering themselves as candidates.

Valentine Tea And Sale Held By Mission Band

Waterville, Feb. 20.—On Friday, Feb. 10, a Valentine tea was held in the United Church Hall by the Waterville Mission Band, led by Mrs. F. Davison and Mrs. H. Shering. The hall was suitably decorated for St. Valentine's Day with red and white streamers, cupid and hearts. Six tea tables were set, each one centered with a Valentine centerpiece. Each table had a waitress a young member of the Mission Band, wearing a white heart shaped apron, with a red pleated frill and a cap to match. Tea was poured by Mrs. W. A. Edwards, Mrs. P. Colquhoun and Miss H. Woodside. An attractive tea table was centered with a piece to match the small tea tables flanked on both sides with red tapers in silver holders. The tea was made by Mrs. A. March and Mrs. O. E. Johnson and Mrs. G. T. Miltimore, assisted the children. An added feature of the afternoon was a mitten and handkerchief sale held at a booth decorated with red and white crepe paper with tiny red and white mitts and pleated frills to match the waitresses' aprons. The booth was attended by Masters Henry Pessig and Kenneth Davison, while in the kitchen other members of the Mission Band looked after the food and dishes. The tea was a great success, both socially and financially. Much credit is due the children of the Mission Band for their effort, as they only range in age from 5 to 11 years.

OBITUARIES

MRS. MARY JOHNSTON
Mary Elizabeth Weed, wife of the late Thomas L. Johnston, passed away at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. C. L. Hall, Lennoxville, on January 21. She was in her 99th year, the last surviving member of a family of 10. Born in Melbourne, the daughter of Nathaniel Weed and his wife, Maria Bartlett, she was a lifelong resident of Melbourne, until the last four years when she went to Lennoxville to live with her daughter-in-law. Her first husband, Charles L. Hall, died six years after their marriage leaving her with two children, Ethel Hall and Charles. The daughter passed away at the age of 7 and Charles died in Lennoxville, in 1920, at the age of 32. Later the deceased married Thomas L. Johnston and they lived on a farm in Melbourne for many years, before moving to the village of Melbourne, where Mr. Johnston passed away in 1935. She still occupied the family home until forced to leave, because of ill health. She then made her home with Mr. and Mrs. J. Michaud, but owing to sickness in Mr. Michaud's family, she was obliged to leave Melbourne where she had hoped to spend her remaining years. It was then that she came to live in Lennoxville, where in spite of her failing sight and the fact that she was somewhat hard of hearing, her young spirit and ever ready smile earned for her a host of friends, who are much saddened by her loss. She is survived by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. C. L. Hall; a grandson, C. Wayne Hall, of St. Anne de Bellevue; a granddaughter, Mrs. D. A. Finlayson, of Winnipeg; three brothers and sisters-in-law, Mrs. C. E. Hollywood — Releasing a theater and supper club act for a coast-to-coast personal appearance tour but he'll stick to the tradition that Harpo never speaks. The gimmick: A pantomime routine backgrounded by special recordings—orchestra, sound effects, whistling and animal noises. News item in a Hollywood trade paper: "Production of popcorn, which is sold extensively in theaters, was down to half the 1948 figure in 1949." Things are serious, kids. A motion picture product shortage is one thing—but a popcorn shortage? Ye gods! Brian Donlevy and Eve Arden are making with the date department. Three studios are discussing film deals with Pancho Gonzalez, the 21-year-old tennis sensation. Ty Power and Linda Christian rejected a big radio deal which would have had them doing a Mr. and Mrs. series. Irving Berlin told M-G-M producer Arthur Freed that of all his shows which have been made into films, only in the case of "Annie Get Your Gun" does he feel that the picture is better than the play. ## City May Seek Additional $500,000 Bond Issue To Finance Public Works

The first formal move toward the passage of the annual public works by-law may be made at the regular session of the City Council tomorrow evening. At this time, Ald. Armand Fiset, chairman of the General Administration Committee, may present notice of his intention to introduce a by-law calling for a bond issue of approximately $500,000 to finance various municipal projects.

At the present moment the municipal engineering department is busily engaged in preparing the list of various works required—chiefly extension of gas, water and sewer mains and the laying of new streets and sidewalks—to meet the growing needs of the city. However, it may be found impossible to complete the tabulation by tomorrow night and the notice may be for a nominal sum, leaving the exact sum to be determined when the by-law comes up for first and subsequent readings at a later session.

Special efforts are being made to speed the preparations for the public works program this year in view of the unemployment situation locally and the need of the City Council to provide as much work as possible for the local citizens. If the preliminary details are disposed of within the next month, it would be possible to launch the works program as soon as weather conditions are favorable. Officials of the Unemployment Insurance Commission place the number of unemployed reporting to the local office at over four thousand, the majority of whom are residents of Sherbrooke.

The remainder of the session is expected to be devoted to the study of routine committee reports, chiefly approving the payment of bills contracted during the past month.

Hopes Raised

Hopes were raised this morning that CAROLYN ANN WRIGHT, a sick little five-year-old, might have her lost playmate and companion, a puppy, back by tonight.

MR. CHIPS, the pup, (shown above in Carolyn's arms) wandered away from 3-A Elgin avenue, where Carolyn lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Wright, last Wednesday at noon and hasn't as yet been found.

Police called the Wright home today, however, saying they had found a puppy whose description corresponds to that of Mr. Chips. Mr. and Mrs. Wright will identify the dog this afternoon. If it is Mr. Chips, he will be back in Carolyn's arms tonight.

Carolyn has not been told of the police discovery. Her parents fear that any disappointment might seriously upset the child, who has been bedridden for almost a month with tuberculosis in the right kidney.

THE RUSSIAN-CHINESE PACT

On the surface the new pact between Russia and Red China looks like a diplomatic victory for Mao Tze-tung, Chinese Communist leader, but it would be advisable to wait and see. This will probably turn out to be one of those formidable Russian Arctic icebergs — nine-tenths below the surface.

The part of the treaty the world is being told about will make good reading back in China. Mao is granted a number of important concessions in Manchuria. He is to get back two key ports, the Changchun railway, and property acquired by Soviet economic units from owners.

Then Moscow is granting Red China $300,000,000 in credits. It is expected they will be used largely to buy Russian railroad and mining equipment. Repayment is to be made over ten years in products like tea and gold.

Furthermore the two nations signed a thirty-year alliance of friendship and assistance. Both parties pledge to come to each other's aid in the event of aggression by Japan or any other power associated with that country directly or indirectly.

The outstanding fact about these agreements is that nowhere is it really disclosed what the Chinese will pay in return for Moscow's concessions. Many diplomatic experts believe the treaty must contain some secret clauses covering this price and probably additional vital issues.

A hard bargainer like the Soviet Union does not hand over so much, even in theory, without getting something back. Russia has yielded on Port Arthur and Dairen, the two Manchurian ports, despite the fact that at Yalta in 1945 the Big Three powers recognized Russia's "pre-eminent" interests in those areas. There were other examples of this apparent generosity.

The question might be asked what it is all about. The military alliance cannot mean enough to Moscow to explain it. Nor can Chinese acceptance of the independence of the Mongolian People's Republic, which surely will prove in practice to mean Soviet domination of that area.

To learn the real story of the treaty the world must watch carefully the actual workings of Chinese-Russian relations from here on. Sooner or later expert observers will pick up clues to the price Mao has paid.

We might find out, too, that Moscow has not given as much as we think. The Manchurian concessions will not take effect before 1952 unless the Allies sign a peace treaty with Japan before that date. And there is a slim chance of that. Will Russia honor 1950 promises in 1952? The risk that it will not is certainly considerable.

Two years hence Mao may have suffered the sad disillusionments of others who have experienced Life with Father Stalin.

RATS, CATS AND BUREAUCRATS

Bureaucracy at work — that is, really big-time bureaucracy, like the current British type — is a fearsome thing.

For instance, take the number of people employed in the rat-catching department of the Ministry of Food last year. There were dozens and dozens of them and the cost of operating this particular bureau was about $325,000 in revalued dollars.

Actually 169 of these people were engaged in the administrative part of the rodent warfare. They were the pen-pushers, the statisticians, the file clerks and, of course, the top brass who dictate documents which begin like this: "Miss Smith, take a letter on the brown rat census in Nether Wallop and make sure there are seven carbon copies for inter-departmental use as well as one good copy for the Minister."

The other people in the department — by actual count 104 — were honest-to-goodness rat catchers. This means it took thirteen office workers to keep eight warriors in the field against their common foe. Unfortunately, we have no record of how many rats the 104 catchers caught, but somewhere in the files of the 169 there may be some reference to this rather important phase of the bureau's work. But who can tell?

It might not be unreasonable to suggest, however, that the government could retain its beloved bureau and still save money by firing the 104 rat catchers and hiring 104 lean tom cats.

Then there was the case of the bureaucratic note to a home builder in the Plymouth area who, incidentally, waited four years before he got his building license through the maze of planners. This ignorant individual topped his bungalow with red tiles and moved in. Two months later, he got the following note from the planning authority:

"Grey is the standard color for new buildings in this district. You have seven weeks in which to remove the red roof and substitute grey. There is no appeal."

A good heading for the red roof story might be: Bungle-O!

NO PLACE FOR A JOKE

An Englishman living in Buenos Aires has just learned the hard way that in a dictatorship such as exists in Argentina a sense of humor can be a dangerous thing. He spent a week in a South American jail, charged with "crimes against the security of the state" because a friend of his in Brazil sent him a jocular cable of congratulations when his wife presented him with a new baby daughter.

As soon as the cable was received the Englishman was arrested on the supposition that he was plotting against the life of Argentine President Juan D. Peron. What happened was that the Englishman had informed several of his Brazilian friends of the birth of his daughter and told them proudly that she weighed three and one-half kilos (seven and one half pounds).

One of the friends gaily cabled back as follows. "Congratulations safe arrival three and one-half kilos dynamic." Well, that did it. The Argentine secret police took the cable at its face value and threw the Englishman into the pokey as a potential assassin. There just isn't any sense of humor in a dictatorship.

OUST SPIES AND SABOTEURS THREATENING CANADA

Toronto Telegram

The arrest in England of Dr. Klaus Fuchs, German-born British scientist, on charges of supplying Russian agents with secret information on the manufacture of atomic bombs is a new reminder that the investigations and prosecutions which followed Igor Gouzenko's disclosures did not stamp out all the activities of Soviet spies and their agents in this country. Justice Minister Garson has said that foreign espionage and sabotage agents are at work in Canada in a plot against the nation's security.

Concluding report of its investigations into the infamous Soviet espionage plot, the Taschereau-Kellock Commission made a number of recommendations for giving the country greater protection against foreign spies and their agents. It recommended that all services and departments take steps to prevent further transmission of confidential information. Suggestions were made that all security measures should be co-ordinated and made as uniform as possible, and the Official Secrets Act amended to provide additional safeguards. The Commissioners said that the practice and procedure in connection with the issue of Canadian passports should be revised and they urged additional security measures to prevent the infiltration into government positions of trust persons likely to betray their country and pass information to unfriendly foreign governments.

Opposition Leader George Drew, in an interview with The Canadian Press last week stated that beyond prosecuting the persons named in the Taschereau-Kellock report, "no action has been taken (by the government) on the other recommendations." Mr. Drew added that the complacency of the government may have had consequences which go far beyond Canada's domestic security.

Within the limits imposed by the confidential work of the RCMP the government at the Parliamentary session which opens this month ought to explain what it has been doing to checkmate the operations of Soviet spies in this country. If, as Mr. Drew alleges, it has not followed the recommendations of the Royal Commission, it is open to severe censure. Something more specific than the Justice Minister's statement to the press on this subject seems to be called for.

Aggressive action must be taken to hunt out the spies and saboteurs.

RACE RIOTS TO BE EXPECTED IN SOUTH AFRICA

Kingston-Whig Standard

News that one of the worst race riots in many years occurred on Monday in the city of Johannesburg, South Africa, is not surprising. In fact, it would be most surprising if no rioting whatever had followed the imposition of the racial segregation policies of the present government of South Africa, for active intolerance commonly provokes violence and the policy followed by the government of South Africa in dealing with the native population of that country is almost universally regarded as altogether unenlightened and intolerant.

There have been protests against this policy at meetings of United Nations organizations, but they have been either ignored or answered bluntly to the effect that the policy would be continued. According to the descriptions of some observers, the status of the natives is now that of economic peons who are also subjected to rigid restrictions politically and socially. These observers go on to cite specific instances of intolerance which need not be repeated here, but which, if accurate, are proof that the natives of South Africa are victims of rank racial discrimination.

If this is so, the return to such conditions, after long years of far more tolerant treatment under other South African administrations must be a bitter blow to the natives. It is certain to arouse deep resentment, even hatred, to a point where violent outbreaks occur. That has already happened, and reports of similar and perhaps even more serious riots, may be expected from time to time, as long as a policy of racial intolerance is pursued in South Africa.

WILL SOME ONE PLEAD FOR US?

Some say it is sentiment, born of mere folly, To make a close friend of dumb brutes, Such as horses and dogs, perhaps kittens,—By Jolly, Their opinions I'm bound to refute! Some contend 'tis but humans in life who are fine, Loyal, trusty, on which we depend; Now, for downright intelligence, just why not canine Of worth, or a horse for a friend? Most every young boy needs a dog for a chum, (And he needs to be taught, I am sure, Both kindness and care, to that which is dumb, That Friendship with "Pup" may endure.) There is nothing I know to justly surpass The fidelity of a dumb friend; It holds special place, and is rated first class, Through observance, I'm bound to contend. For times without number, through instinct and love Of their owners, they've shown I am right;— Though humans are gifted, and classed high above, They'll oft "let you down" in a plight. There's a wealth of affection, companionship, too, In the eyes and the ways of a horse, Who has long shown his master he's tried to be true Through the long and tough years of his course. I wish to deposit some word to relieve The harshness, and needless neglect, Inflicted on those who try to achieve Results for the "Boss," and respect. With less of the lash, and more of the feed, A blanket in sub-zero weather, 'Twould promote finer feelings, and fill a long need Where man and a horse work together. Now, when you're inclined to look with weak nerve On some poor, helpless dumb brute, Regard with suspicion the ones whom they serve Let the term of "fine fellow" scarce suits. Then manhood with judgment combining Emulating the old "Golden Rule," The S. P. C. A.'s work refining Would reap thanks from humanity's school.— I trust that this poem may kindness produce, 'Twould please the composer most dearly. Just to know that a gift had been put to good use.— And for space, I now thank you sincerely.

Serving Members Of U.K. Forces Cannot Hold Seat In Commons

London, Feb. 20.—The fighting forces will have no serving representatives among members of Britain's next House of Commons.

Parliament was suspended. If elected they were given leave without pay. Under normal conditions no person holding "an office of profit" under the Crown may sit in the Commons, and Britain is working back to that regulation.

The recently-dissolved House had only two members, both Conservative, who were servicemen. They were Maj. Tufton Beamish, member for Lewes, and Maj. Henry Legge-Bourke, member for the Isle of Ely.

The government announced last December that after this election no candidate might present himself from the services. Any sailor, soldier or airman wanting to enter politics would have to resign or obtain his discharge or retirement before nomination.

Modification of the regulations was permitted for this selection, enabling serving personnel to obtain leave of absence from nomination day until the election. If elected they would have to complete their withdrawal from the services, whether or not they desired to take their seats in the Commons.

Non-electer they would be eligible for re-employment in the services.

The Record Short Story

Address — "The Gold Mine"

By OLGA A. ROSMANITH

Milly Reid had been going steady with Sam Davis in high school and she was still his sweetheart. "But why don't you take me with you?" she asked. Sam had real love in his candid eyes. "Because it's going to be rugged till I find what I want. Camping out. Desert, rocks, mountains. Mines, irrigation projects. The wilderness, the open air."

"Fresh air wouldn't kill me either." "You're too fragile. Look at your waist. I can almost close my hands round it. Think I want to kill you?" "I'm wiry. My foremothers came to California in a covered wagon. They didn't wait to invent trains."

Sam laughed ruefully. "Stock degenerates with city living. It don't mean a thing. Now, if only this had worked out."

"This" was the forlorn sight they were looking at from his parked car. Half an acre of barren ground littered with rock falls in Eagle Creek Canyon. On it was a shack of redwood logs too sturdily built to fall down, but uninhabitable—except by its present tenants, lizards and black widow spiders. Behind it was a hole in the ground with a few porcupine where a working had caved in. A pulley sticking up and a rusty chain and bucket.

It was what Grandpa Davis had always called his gold mine. He had got a lot of fun out of it, but never any gold. Neither had anyone else found gold in Eagle Creek Canyon, nor ever would. The government experts had established there was no gold. But Grandpa Davis had left his barren half acre in this wild and remote spot jointly to Sam and Milly. With the proviso neither could part with that half share except to the other. He admitted facetiously in his will that he hoped to keep them hog-tied.

Milly said nothing, but her hand big in the warm nest of Sam's love. Sam spoke again. "Why in the world did the old coot leave it that way? I could sell it if I didn't have to sell to you."

"Nobody would buy it, Sam, so why worry about it?" It was a three hour drive back to Los Angeles beginning with the road downhill following the creek bed. Wide and dry, except for a blue trickle down the center, it was strewn with shining limestone and some mighty boulders. The sky was a river of bright blue hemmed in by precipitous mountain walls.

"You said it, sweet. It's miles from anywhere. So inconvenient. You'd wonder why all these people lived here and what they can do for a living."

The shores of the creek were beautiful with birch, pine, maple, cottonwood, pepper, gum, spruce, and many unfamiliar plants. Spaced, small houses were rich with flowers. In olden days, some read-

Lesson Hand

FOLLOW INSTRUCTION IN CAREFUL BIDDING

While I am not going to try to justify the fact that North and South got into a slam contract on today's hand, it does bring up a very good lesson in bidding. South's bid of one diamond certainly is sound. There are very few players with West's holding who would not bid one spade.

North's jump to three hearts shows a very powerful hand with control of at least two suits. East made a bid of three spades to show his partner that they might be in a position to take a sacrifice later and that he has some strength on the side, which his partner should realize.

South showed his long diamond suit and now North made the first mistake when he bid four spades. Why cue-bid when the lead of another suit might defeat your contract?

South was optimistic in bidding four no trump with three small clubs. He really does not have any more than he advertised when he bid one and then four diamonds. So, in bidding six diamonds, he really was an optimist.

Hand analysis showing cards: ♠ A 5, ♥ A Q 10 7 6 5, ♦ 4 3, ♣ 8 7. Also shows a deal: ♠ K Q J 9, ♥ 8 7, ♦ 9 2, ♣ 10 3 2. Dealer is South. A K J 9 is also shown.

Lesson hand—N-S vul. South West North East. 1♦ 1♠ 3♥ 3♠. 4♦ Pass 4♠ Pass. 4N T. Pass 5♥ Pass. 6♦ Pass Pass Double. 20

Therefore, he should use a little common sense and open a club. You can see what happens. East will cash the first three club tricks while if a spade is opened declarer will make 13 tricks.

Mr. F. Corr Had A Bad Accident In Brome Village Due To The Icy Road

Brome, Feb. 20.—Three persons were injured and taken to a hospital for treatment in an accident which occurred in Brome Village, on Sunday afternoon, at 5 o'clock.

The accident took place on Mechanic Avenue, in a car owned and driven by Mr. Frank Corr, and travelling towards Main Street, skidded off the road, crashed through a telephone post along the highway, tore down the veranda of Mr. William Beaumont's tenement, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson and family, and struck the house, which halted its progress.

Occupants of the vehicle were returning from Knowlton, where they had attended a hockey match. In addition to Mr. Corr, were his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Salsbury, all residents of Brome.

The Provincial Police were summoned to the scene, and Dr. S. S. Raymond Avery took the victims to the Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins Memorial Hospital, Sweetsburg, for treatment. X-rays revealed that Mrs. Salsbury had received a slight concussion of the brain and she remained a patient in hospital; Mr. Salsbury escaped with bruises to his left shoulder and wrist, while Mr. Corr is suffering from a broken right arm. By a seeming miraculous act of fate, Mrs. Corr, was unharmed.

from burns received two months ago, when she upset gasoline over herself.

The car, a Buick, was badly damaged. Miss Judith Salsbury was visiting her mother, who is a patient in the B.M.P.M. Hospital, Sweetsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hebert and two sons, of Bondeville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Johnston, at "Hemlock Ridge Farms."

Mrs. Walter Sweet, of Knowlton, was a business visitor in Brome. Mrs. E. W. Patch, spending a few weeks with her children, in Sweetsburg.

Miniature aprons were distributed to members, who are to place a penny per inch for waist measure, in the pocket, and return same at the March meeting. It was decided that the sum of three hundred dollars be given to the church funds. The "Mizpah Benediction," and tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. D. A. Campbell, Mrs. Arnold MacKenzie, and Mrs. K. R. MacLeod.

A meeting of the Home and School Association was held in the High School, and was directed by the president, Mrs. P. A. Sherman. MacIver, Mrs. William Taylor, and Mr. F. C. Goodwin, were named as a committee to organize a "500" marathon. It was reported that several donations had been received towards the "VICTORIAN" school. It was also decided that seventy-five free lunches had been given. It was decided that a request for medical inspection in the school, be sent to the Health Unit. Concerning the dental clinic, it was agreed that a survey of the parents be made, to the satisfaction obtained from former dentistry. Following a social hour, under the supervision of Mr. G. Buchanan, refreshments were served by Mrs. D. A. Campbell, Mrs. A. A. MacIver and Mrs. K. R. MacLeod.

The Doctor Says:

LASTING DAMAGE OFTEN DONE TO HEART BY RHEUMATIC FEVER

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

Jordan without permanent harm, but its permanent damage to the heart is its most serious effect.

Lack of knowledge of the cause of rheumatic fever certainly holds back efforts at prevention and treatment. Rheumatic fever is somewhat more common among the poor than among the economically well to do. It is more frequent under damp and other undesirable living conditions than under good conditions.

Although better economic circumstances for all probably would cut down somewhat on the number of cases, this alone is quite certainly not the answer. At present the most promising line of investigation on prevention is the use of the sulfa drugs or antibiotics.

Treatment of rheumatic fever is also not wholly satisfactory. Complete rest in bed is necessary, as is good nursing, such as would be used for any acute infection or illness. Drugs of the salicylate family, such as aspirin by mouth and oil of wintergreen externally, have been used for many years and still are used in this disease. The principal aim of whatever treatment is employed is to prevent heart damage or at least keep it to a minimum and also to speed recovery from the acute attack.

After the attack of acute rheumatic fever has gone, a long period of convalescence is desirable. This is important not only to try to build up some kind of resistance to future attacks, but also because it helps the heart to recover to the greatest possible degree.

Careful tests of the heart must be made to find out how badly it has been damaged and just how much further care is necessary. Many people recover from an attack of rheumatic fever with hearts which are not seriously affected, but on the other hand some get heart trouble from attacks which have been so mild that they passed unnoticed at the time.

Can you believe your eyes?

Probably you had to look twice at this picture to be sure you'd seen it correctly. No wonder. For of course you know that, no matter how much houses may look alike, the families who live in them differ in countless ways. No other family on your street has, for instance, exactly the same number of members at the same ages, the same income, tax bills, rent and other living expenses as your family. Nor can any of those families match your family's plans and dreams for the future—or its special needs for life insurance.

To help you meet those special needs, your life insurance company serves you through a representative. He is trained to analyze the problems you face in trying to provide security for yourself and your family. The income-protection plan he suggests is designed for you and you alone. So when your life insurance man calls, confide in him. He's always ready to help you in any way he can. More than a million Canadian families have benefited by the advice and experience of the modern life insurance company representative!

A Helpful Citizen in your Community

When a life insurance representative sells you a policy, he also helps to improve your community. For a large part of each life insurance dollar is put to work through investments to build schools, bridges, highways, industrial plants and many other projects that create jobs and make for better living. You share in these improvements, made possible through the efforts of your helpful fellow-citizen—the modern life underwriter!

On Sunday afternoon, February 12, Miss Doris Rice, of Montreal and Stanbridge East, entertained at a musicale, for her pupils in this district and for their parents. The programme consisted of instrumental and vocal selections. Those who played piano solos were Charlotte Creeler, of Frelighsburg; Lawrence Moreau and Bob-electricity and running water. Rural electrification received strong support in these findings from branches representing all sections of the province. This survey, which was undertaken at the request of the Association of Country Women of the World, covers many aspects of country life being carried out by every constituent society of that organization. When completed it will give revealing pictures of conditions under which rural women live and work the world over. A Farm Forum Fourth Night was held recently at the Bedford High School, when the members of the Dutch Street Farm Forum entertained the members of the Stanbridge Ridge Farm Forum Group. Following the broadcast, "What the Forums Say", a short address was given by Mr. Alfred Rousseau, agronomist, and several interesting films were shown. The evening concluded with dancing and the serving of refreshments.

Mrs. J. Davidson and daughter, Pam, of Sherbrooke, are spending the week in Bedford with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bradshaw.

Miss Joan Beerwert spent the week-end with her parents at her home at Bromo Centre.

Mr. Donald Lowe, of Toronto, Ont., spent the week-end in Bedford, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm McCaw.

Mrs. Hannibal Sheltus, who has been the guest for a time of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. Frank Bowles, K.C., and Mrs. Bowles, in Cowansville, has returned home.

Mrs. Dorothy Wells, who has spent the past weeks with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Hayes, on Stanbridge Ridge, has returned to her home.

News has been received of the death of a former resident of this district, Mr. Robert Moore, who passed away at his home in Wordsworth, Sask., on June 16, last, at the advanced age of eighty-six years. Mr. Moore was a son of an early settler of this community, Mr. George Moore, who came to Canada from Ireland, early in the last century and took up land, on a portion of that which now forms part of the farm of Mrs. Robert Soden, on Dutch Street. Previous to going west many years ago Mr. Moore carried on farming on his father's farm. He is the last surviving member of his family, which was a large one. Predeceased some years ago by wife, he is survived by two sons, Messrs. Raymond and Donald Moore, both of Wordsworth, Sask., where they are farmers, having a tract of eight hundred acres.

Mrs. Robert Soden, of Montreal, who has been the guest of her sister, Miss Luella McNamara, has returned home.

Mrs. Nellie Oakes spent the week-end with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Chamberlain, at Pigeon Hill.

Mr. Malcolm Bradshaw, who has spent the past week at his home here, has returned to Sherbrooke.

At the Saturday evening meeting of the Social Club in the Masonic Hall, the prizes for the highest scores went to Mrs. W. MacArthur and Dr. F. E. Draker. The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Wilbur Borden, Mrs. W. J. Baglow, Mrs. W. J. Ford and Mrs. F. E. Draper. The members who will entertain at the next meeting are Mrs. J. Ewing, Mrs. E. Fry, Mrs. G. Gould and Mrs. L. Elliott.

Mr. F. Porter, of Hemmingford, was a visitor to Bedford on Thursday.

Miss Margaret Cockerline, of Montreal, spent the week-end in Bedford with her mother, Mrs. J. W. Cockerline.

Mrs. P. M. Poaps And Mrs. E. McIntosh Gave Fine Addresses On Decorating And Gardening At Stanstead W.I. Meet

Stanstead, Feb. 20.—Stanstead North Women's Institute members met at the home of Mrs. S. Dewey. A good attendance of members and visitors enjoyed an excellent dinner at the noon hour.

The president, Mrs. Charles Waide, convened the business meeting. Reports of conveners were given and letters of thanks were read. March is the month when annual reports are read and a new slate of officers are elected. The president named Mrs. F. Osborne and Mrs. G. Probyn to constitute a nominating committee. Mrs. C. Lawton and Mrs. C. Bliss will draw up the program for the year to be submitted at the March meeting.

There were two speakers at this meeting who dealt with the subject of beautifying the home with and without.

Mrs. Waide introduced Mrs. P. M. Poaps, who spoke on "Interior Decorating." Mrs. Poaps stressed the use of colour in the room, some colours add size and others add warmth. Note the designs in the drapery material and use these designs in adding colourful touches by painting. One need not be an artist to achieve attractive results in decorating chairs and other furniture. One may even paint a rug on the floor! This is a most relaxing hobby. Materials needed are simple and inexpensive.

Mrs. Poaps gave instructions as to colours and brushes needed for the beginner. She showed pamphlets and books easily procurable as a guide and help.

The final advice given was "Go ahead and enjoy yourself with colour you never know what you can do until you try."

This address was followed by one from Miss Elsie McIntosh, who called her talk "The Country Door Garden." Miss McIntosh said, "Look at your assets and liabilities and make an orderly place, even a simple one is a help. Then begin with the approach to the house, the walk, and driveway. Then look to the foundation planted to the house and well kept. The whole effect is to be restful. Place a small perennial border and to this add a few choice annuals."

The cutting garden should be in another place, perhaps in a spot where you have placed some home made garden seats and you then have a pleasant place to sit outside.

Mrs. Waide expressed the thanks of the members to Mrs. Poaps and Miss McIntosh for their interesting and instructive addresses.

The meeting adjourned to meet on March 2, at the home of Mrs. John Byers.

CENTURY CHURCH SLEIGH RIDE

One Saturday afternoon was a wonderful time for the teen-agers of Century Church, Stanstead. After a great deal of telephoning by the girls and boys, it was decided that there was enough snow on the country roads, if the young people were brought to the snow line.

Messrs. Richard Wallace, Goff Probyn and Edgar Hill filled their cars with brightly and warmly dressed young people and drove them to the spot where Mr. Dewey met them with his big sleigh, drawn by two lovely horses. The party was brought back to the Church hall in the same way. Thanks are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Merriman, Mr. and

"ORDINARY" CLEAN

Though you may think your wash is perfectly clean, a faint "musty" odor often betrays the fact that some remnants of dirt, grease or scum are still clinging to the fibres. Rinsing won't get rid of this . . . but Surf does!

SURF CLEAN

Even without rinsing, Surf removes every last trace of dirt, grease (and scum) . . . every trace of odor, too! That's why it gets your clothes so white, so bright . . . so soft . . . so wonderfully sweet to smell!

Surf contains an amazing detergent which removes not only every last trace of dirt and grease . . . but all "dirty clothes" odor, too. Gets clothes sweeter-smelling . . . cleaner than you've ever known them before.

And that's not all!

They smell that way even if dried indoors! And they stay that way longer . . . retain that

"new-washed" sweetness even after weeks in the linen closet or bureau drawer!

And that's not all!

You don't even need to rinse your Surf-clean wash! It will still be the cleanest, sweetest smelling wash you ever had.

First, because Surf has the magic power of grabbing and holding the dirt in the washwater, so when you wring out the water you actually wring the dirt out with it. Out goes every vestige of soil and grease . . . to leave your wash really clean. At the same time, Surf's special purifying ingredient takes out every last trace of "dirty clothes" odor!

When you don't rinse your Surf-clean wash, this purifying ingredient goes on working in your clothes—to keep them sweeter longer! (If you do want to rinse, add a little Surf to the rinse-water.)

As Teams Battle For Special Prizes And Trophies In Closing Games Of Week-Long Tournament

Henry Bouchard's Jacques Cartier rink won the Sherbrooke Record Trophy, Lee Watson's Lennoxville foursome took La Tribune and Dan MacFavish's Lachute quartet copped the Mitchell in the finals played Saturday evening at the Sherbrooke Curling Club. In Lennoxville W. S. Roy's local squad came through with the H. W. S. Downs' and W. Thompson's St. George's team copped the Webster Motors trophy in the closing matches in the Eastern Townships Bonspiel.

In the Record section Bouchard's Jacques Cartier rink downed A. Jenkinson's Thetford Mines squad in the semi-finals in the afternoon 10-5 and O. Jackson's Granby foursome came through with a 12-6 decision over Sina Gallinger's local team. In the Downs' Nelson Lothrop's Sherbrooke quartet edged out J. E. Isabelle's Granby rink 9-6, and Stew Roy guided his rink to a 9-3 verdict over Kenny Weldon's favored St. George's foursome.

In La Tribune section Lee Watson came through with a 9-6 victory over Jim Fuller's local rink and Don Clark pulled through with a 11-4 win over his clubmate, Dr. Tim Burton. In the Webster W. Thompson edged by his clubmate, R. Baird, 10-9, but only after an extra end as the teams were tied 9-9 at the end of the tenth. In the extra end it required a measure to determine the winner as the stones were very close.

In the Mitchell E. Nicol and his Greenshirts downed L. Gnaedinger's Lennoxville foursome 13-3 and D. MacFavish and his Lachute rink 12-7. Jean Paul Lafontaine and his Thetford Mines aggregation knocked off Sid Cross' local rink 18-5 to win their way into the finals of the Webster Motors section.

The Jackman-Bouchard battle for the Record trophy was a close duel the whole way, and the outcome was only decided with the last stone in the final end. At the end of the third the rinks were tied 3-3. Granby moved ahead 5-3 in the following end, but the Quebec squad gathered three to take the lead 6-3. The next few ends the rinks staged a close battle with Bouchard's foursome leading 9-7 at the end of the tenth. However in the 11th end Granby copped three to move ahead 10-9 coming home. It was nip-and-tuck until the skips stepped into the back to toss their stones with Quebec laying one, the tying point in the match. After Thompson missed with his stones Skipper Bouchard wicked in with his final stone to count two and win the game 11-10.

In the match for La Tribune trophy Lee Watson and his rink took over from the first end when they scored a point. They added five in the second, with three more in the third, to lead 8-0 over Skipper Don Clark. Watson's rink gathered three more in the next two ends to extend their lead to 11-0. Don Clark's foursome began to click a little better, and gathered three singletons in a row. Pilot Watson came right back with three to counter-balance it and extend his lead 14-3. Clark got a three end, and then in the 11th they picked up one more to have the score read 14-7 for Watson's foursome. Don Clark and his rink failed to show the form which had carried them into the finals, as his boys just couldn't do anything right while Watson's rink was right on their toes and played a good game.

The Nicol-MacFavish duel developed into a knock-out game, as both teams kept tossing fast ones, with the odd draw mixed in. It was a tight game until the seventh end, when MacFavish picked up a three end to jump out in front 9-3. In the following end Skipper Nicol had a big house built up with six stones counting, but MacFavish tossed one down to roll and wick in around and count. In the following end MacFavish came through with a repeat to cut Nicol's rink out of four and count another singleton. The match ended in the next end as Skipper MacFavish, still pulling off his outstanding shots, chalked up four to move ahead 15-6 and take the match and the J. S. Mitchell and Company trophy.

At Lennoxville Stew Roy guided his rink to a 20-4 verdict over Nelson Lothrop's foursome to win the H. W. S. Downs trophy without much effort. Lothrop's squad just couldn't keep up with Roy's team as they chalked up a three and two to lead 5-2 at the end of the fourth. Each team added singletons in the next two ends, but then on it was all Roy as his team kept running up the points, as Lothrop's rink lost their touch and couldn't do anything. At the end of the tenth Roy's foursome was out in front 15-4. They added a five end in the 11th to finish well ahead and win the trophy.

In the battle for the Webster trophy W. Thompson's St. George's rink jumped into an early lead and were never headed following that. They gathered two three ends for a 6-0 advantage. Lafontaine's Thetford quartet got a singleton in the third for their first point. At the end of the eighth the Montreal squad was ahead 13-2, and well on their way to victory. Lafontaine's rink came back with a four end and picked up two singletons in the next two ends, but Thompson's rink chalked up two in the final end to emerge the winner 15-8 and take the Webster trophy to Montreal.

Following the games Stan Hamilton, vice-president of the Lennoxville Club, officiated at the presentation in place of president Charles Parkin, who was playing in Sherbrooke. Mr. Hamilton called upon Ernie Gilbey to present the Downs trophy to the winners while Robert Webster made the presentation of the Webster trophy. At Sherbrooke Hubert Johnston, general bonspiel chairman, called upon Everett Nicol, vice-president, to officiate in place of Stew Roy, who was winning the Downs trophy in Lennoxville. A. C. Stevens presented the Mitchell trophy, Len O'Donnell the Record trophy, while Everett Nicol made the presentation of La Tribune.

The top photo shows the two rinks which fought it out for the Sherbrooke Record trophy which was won by Henry Bouchard's Jacques Cartier foursome from Quebec City against Toby Jackman's Granby quartet. ### Your Host Favored In Kentucky Derby

Arcadia, Calif., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Santa Anita got ready today for the big race of the meeting Saturday, the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap, but there was still an echo of praise for last Saturday's victory of Your Host in the $100,000 Derby.

Your Host, the prohibitive favorite, won the Derby looking back as the railbirds say, outdistancing the field by 2 1/2 lengths in near-triple-record time.

"He could have won it by four or five lengths if I'd hit him again," said his rider, Johnny Longden.

Bound for a crack at the triple crown that goes with the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont, the winning combination of Your Host and Longden left no doubt that the colt is potentially the best California-bred in many a year.

How good is Your Host? Since I had Count Fleet to win the Kentucky Derby in 1943," said Longden. Your Host has tremendous speed "and even if anyone does catch him, I'm not so sure they'll pass him. He's got a good chance to win the Kentucky Derby."

Actually, the Santa Anita Derby was a one-horse race. Your Host quickly recovered from the faulty start, grabbed the lead, built it into a four-length margin at one stage and was never threatened. F. N. Phelps' Sturdy One was second and the Yolo Stable's Grey Circle third in the field of 12.

Your Host ran the mile and one eighth in 1:48 4/5, three-fifths of a second off the track record set by Cum Laude in 1947. Cam Laude was owned by Dr. L. H. Appleby, of Vancouver.

Now comes the big handicap for the older division, with its triple threat from Calumet Farm—Citation, Ponder and the filly Two Lea.

There was a suspicion this trio might scare off the opposition, but several owners assured the management their steeds would show up.

Included will be Ben F. Whitaker's My Request; Mide, the plucky Argentine grey who defeated Citation in a six-furlong race last month, and still another dark-horse challenger from the Pampas Country, Murano. Murano is owned by J. J. Collins, whose Volcano Forge won the Big Cap a year ago.

Then there's the English-bred Noor, third to Ponder and Citation in the San Antonio Handicap Feb. 11th, and two California-bred threats, Solidarity and On Trust.

Ten Provincial Champions Compete For Canadian High School Curling Championship At Quebec Today

Quebec, Feb. 20. — (AP) — Ten Provincial Champions tee off today in the four-day Canadian School Curling Championship playdowns and from past performances, experts are calling for Western entries to maintain their supremacy in the broom and stone competition.

For the curling champions of high school age from nine provinces—Ontario has two entries—this is one of the major events on the Canadian school sports agenda. Newfoundland has not entered a team.

In today's first draw of the round robin affair for the Sifton Trophy, Quebec meets Ontario; New Brunswick plays Saskatchewan; Nova Scotia hooks up with Prince Edward Island; British Columbia clashes with Manitoba and Northern Ontario meets Alberta.

Strongest contenders according to Bonspiel organizer H. E. Weyman, are the Western entries whose slicking knockout style is expected to carry them far.

Weyman claims this style of game accounts for the surge in popularity of curling as a spectator sport as well as a participating sport in recent years.

"Curling," says Weyman, "is essentially a game of skill requiring much mental control. It takes a long time to develop a top-notch curler and it's only by starting them young that curling will grow in popularity."

As an indication of the game's advancement, Weyman noted that about 150 curling clubs had been established this year in Canada and that a similar number is expected to spring up next year.

Other provincial champions entered long time to develop. Saskatchewan's John Chesner, Trail High School, British Columbia's Ted Ray, Mirror High School, Alberta's Ray Cook, Dryden High School, Northern Alberta's Ray Cook, Dryden High School, Northern Ontario's Glen Sage, Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario's Eddie Rice, St. Catharines, and Prince Edward Island's Eric C. Campbell, New Brunswick's Truro High School, and Newfoundland's Wells College, Charlotte, and Prince Edward Island.

CANADIAN SPORT SNAPSHOTS

By JOHN PATERSON
Toronto, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Throw another log in that stove, bub—the sportswriters are talking baseball again.

Members of the Galt Baseball Association got the full effect of the double whammy the other night when, said Laurie (Galt Reporter) Brain, they decided to hold their annual meeting. The worst blizzard of the winter struck the same evening.

The Association heard the Galt Athletic Club say it intended to try to field another strong team in 1950. Enthusiasm was high, despite the blizzard outside.

Over in St. Thomas, Manager Eddie Atzrott of the Legion's Club, who lives in Buffalo, rushed in to report he had signed two more diamond stars to round out the Intercounty League's St. Thomas team, N.D. (St. Thomas Times-Journal) Whitmore reported.

Umpire Heaven
Milt (Toronto Star) Dunnell has found the umpire heaven. He met an umpire who never had to duck a pop bottle from the stands, nor have his decisions questioned, or have his decisions questioned.

Austin Suckling, arbiter at Ontario Open Bonspiel in Toronto this week, sticks a cigar in his mouth and pins a ribbon on his chest that says "umpire." When there is a close decision on the ice, Umpire Suckling bows out his measuring gadget. He applies the rule to all rocks and all debate stops. Then he walks away and sits down again.

Mrs. F. E. Best Was Returned As Regent Of Missisquoi Chapter, Bedford

Bedford, Feb. 20.—The annual meeting of Missisquoi Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held on Founders Day, February 13, with which was combined the regular monthly meeting, at the Cecil Hotel, in Stanbridge East.

Preceded by a luncheon, the arrangements for which were in the hands of Mrs. William Taylor. The toast to the King was proposed by Mrs. Eric Kemp. The table decorations were carried out in keeping with Valentine Day, with decorations of red and white, the table being centered with a large heart-shaped cake with Valentine decorations and white tapers in tall candlesticks. A vote of thanks was given Mrs. Taylor for her success in arranging the luncheon, which was so enjoyable, the place cards were decorated with the crest of the Order.

Following the luncheon the regular monthly meeting was held. In the absence of the regent, Mrs. F. E. Best, the meeting was conducted by the first vice-regent, Mrs. Richard Craighead, who opened the meeting with the Prayer of the Order, which was followed by the reading of the Minutes of the preceding meeting, by the secretary, Mrs. F. N. Williams, which were accepted as read, and who reported that both the pastor of the United Church, Rev. T. F. Duncan and the rector of St. James Anglican Church, the Rev. W. White had cooperated most heartily with the Chapter's request, in regard to the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Order's foundation, by allowing a special portion of their sermon on Sunday, February 12th, to this Order, together with a special prayer.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. William Taylor, showed a balance on hand of $152.65. A bill was presented for payment for the Chapter's share of the cost of hot lunches, which are being served at the local High School. The cost of these are defrayed by the I.O.D.E. Chapter, the Home and School Association and the School Commissioners, and are proving most beneficial.

The report of the "Echoes" secretary, Mrs. Ellis Jones, stated that in view of the Jubilee issue, which will be issued soon, news would be sent in to be published in this issue. Mrs. Jones requested good work in the district. 126 articles have been sent in and it is hoped to increase the work during the coming year.

Thanks are due to both the Chapter members and their friends who have made possible, through their efforts, the Chapter's success during the past year.

Mrs. Edward Piche then read the slate of officers for the coming year: Mrs. Herman Hulburd, Honorary regent; Mrs. F. E. Best, regent; Mrs. Richard Craighead, first vice-regent; Mrs. Hannibal Sheltus, second vice-regent; Mrs. F. N. Williams, secretary; Mrs. William Taylor, treasurer; Mrs. William Taylor, educational secretary; Mrs. Ellis Jones, "Echoes" secretary; Mrs. Edward Piche, Standard Bearer.

The convener's are as follows: Mrs. Garnet Steel, Child and Family Welfare; Mrs. H. Sheltus, social convener; Mrs. Richard Craighead, post war service.

The secretary was instructed to write a letter of thanks to Mr. M. E. Parsons for his kindness in auditing the book of the Chapter.

A letter was read by the secretary from the regent, Mrs. F. E. Best, who is spending the winter in Lake Worth, Fla., thanking the members for their co-operation during the past year and conveying good wishes for the coming year's work.

The secretary was instructed to write a letter to the honorary regent of the Chapter, Mrs. Herman Hulburd, of Kinuso, Alta., who was for many years a faithful and loyal member of the Chapter, conveying the good wishes of the members.

In keeping with the request of National that each member secure new members, to raise the membership of the Order, in celebration of the 50th anniversary, the Chapter members were asked to make an effort to obtain as many new members as possible during the coming year.

The meeting was closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. William Taylor, showed receipts of $401.69, with disbursements of $338.03. Included in disbursements, contributions to year book, shipping charges on books to Naval Hospital, St. Hyacinthe, bursary and school prizes, and a wreath for monument.

The report of the educational secretary, Miss Siona Brandt, showed that $32. had been spent on educational work, 18 calendars were purchased, of these, six were supplied to the following schools: Bedford High School, Phillipsburg Intermediate School, Stanbridge East Consolidated School, Fredericton Intermediate School, St. Damien's College, St. Joseph's Convent.

$25. were spent on school prizes, of this amount $10. was given for history prizes from Grades V to XI, in the local High School. The Gertrude Chadsey Memorial prizes were given from Grades V to X, in the local High School for English; while the Frances Corey Memorial prize was awarded in Grade XI, for English Literature. A donation was sent to the Provincial I.O.D.E., towards a Household Science Bursary.

Violet Tag Day was held at the school and the Chapter is giving its help towards the soup kitchen at the High School.

The report of "Echoes" secretary, Mrs. Ellis Jones, showed that all of the 26 Chapter members had received "Echoes" and that items reading the Chapter's work had been sent in for publication.

The report of the Child and Family Welfare Work showed donations to the Cancer campaign; anti-Tuberculosis League; and St. John's Ambulance, while Christmas cheer had been sent to a number of shut-ins, and gifts had been given to several English war brides.

The report of Mrs. Hannibal Sheltus, social convener, showed that ten meetings had been held, and a tea in connection with the Wear-Ever brush demonstration.

The report of the Post War Service convener, Mrs. Richard Craighead, stated that an increase in the volume of work had taken place, 708 articles, at a value of $630, had been sent in, consisting of layettes, quilts, used clothing in good condition, socks, mittens, scarves and children's clothing. The need for continued work along these lines was stressed, and members were urged to continue their work. It has been found that since the close of the war, in all too many cases, workers considered that they had done their bit and that further effort was unnecessary, not stopping to realize that suffering and poverty is always the aftermath of war. Donations of clothing, clean and in good repair, also material for the making of quilt blocks were requested. During the past year almost 3,000 books and magazines, puzzles and playing cards have been sent to the Naval Hospital, at St. Hyacinthe. Donations of the above would also be appreciated.

In June last the Chapter took up another branch of work, while not connected with Post War Service, is most worthwhile and one that helps the community at large, that of doing sewing for the B.M.P. Hospital, at Sweetsburg. Many from Bedford are patients there during the year, and it is only right that help should be given this hospital, which is doing such

R.M.C. Downs Bishop's Cagers In Ragged Tilt

In a display of sloppy basketball, Royal Military College defeated Bishop's University 35-25 in an Ottawa-St. Lawrence Valley Conference game played at the Bishop's gym Saturday afternoon.

Klar and Lundell paced the winners with nine points apiece while Johnny Kuehner was high scorer of the afternoon with 11 points.

Lundell and Klar opened the scoring for the visitors with two quick baskets and it took Bishop's until quarter time to tie the score at 7-7. Four minutes later, it was still tied at 9-9 and at half-time R.M.C. led 13-12.

The play was slow and ragged in the second half with both teams unable to pass or shoot effectively. R.M.C. took the offensive and ran up an eight point lead at three-quarter time. Johnny Kuehner and Jack Simpson played effective basketball for the Purple and White, but adequate substitution tired these players past their resistance. The Red and White completely outclassed Bishop's at the end of the game as they scored seven points without being scored on.

Bishop's—Dickson (4), Johnston (2), Bennett (2), Purdy (4), Kuehner (11), Simpson (11), Staples, Burton, MacFarlane (1), Birch, Habool. Total—25.

Buffalo And Cleveland Split Week-End Bill

Buffalo Bisons and Cleveland Barons split a pair of week-end encounters as the American Hockey League's divisional leaders met for the last time during the regular season.

The power-laden Barons, who are making a runaway of first place in the Western Section, came up with an easy 6-2 triumph Saturday night. But the Bisons bounded right back at home Sunday and handed Cleveland a 5-2 trimming.

Meanwhile, Indianapolis Capitals by-passed Pittsburgh Hornets and moved into the runner-up position behind Cleveland with a pair of victories over St. Louis Flyers. The scores were 6-2 and 3-1.

Cincinnati Mohawks, cellar-dwellers in the Western Division, came up with one of their best week-end seasons with a tie and a victory in two outings. Saturday, they battled to a 1-1 draw with Pittsburgh while edging New Haven Ramblers 2-1 the following night.

Hershey Bears and Providence Reds also split in their two meetings.

The Bears ran their victory streak to three straight Saturday by out-scoring the Reds 6-4 at home but Providence took Sunday's game 5-2.

Springfield Indians won a 5-2 decision from New Haven Saturday night in the only other week-end game.

There are no games scheduled for tonight.

Sir George Williams College Blanks Bishop's 6-0 In Regular Fixture Of Intercollegiate Loop

Sir George Williams College of Montreal trounced Bishop's University 6-0 in an Ottawa-St. Lawrence Valley Conference hockey game played at the Sherbrooke Arena Saturday night.

Johnny Ransom sparked the visitors with two goals followed by Paul Asselin with one goal and two assists.

Sir George dominated the ragged play for the first two periods, but Bishop's came to life in the final frame though they were without the services of first-string centre Fred Rider, who injured his back in the second period.

The Red and Gold scored their only goal of the first period at 5:35 when Pogue tallied on passes from Darling and Pinck. Bishop's fought back determinedly but failed to score as Johnston and Zinniger missed perfect scoring opportunities. The closest call Paul Byron had all evening was when a shot by Rider hit Hamre's skate and was deflected towards the net, only to hit the goal post.

After seven minutes of the second period, Price took a pass from Asselin and pushed it in front of the net where Ransom was waiting unguarded. Ransom took his time and scored, putting Sir George ahead 2-0. One minute later, Leger was penalized for interfering with Lawrence. A prolonged attack by the Purple and White failed to click as Meakin and Rider both shot wide of the open net after Joe Stearns had pulled Byron out of position. Seconds after Tom Price had stopped a break-away by Mike Darling, Larry Breakey, assisted by McCarroll and Asselin. Scowen, Bergeron and Hamre were all waved to the penalty box leaving Bishop's with four men and Sir George with five. Darling took advantage of

Waterloo Trounces Granby 7-1 To Cop Opening Tilt In Semi-Final Playoffs; Meet Tomorrow Night

Special to the Record

Waterloo, Feb. 20.—The Waterloo Maroons moved out in front in their semi-finals two-out-of-three series with Granby here last night when they swamped "Peanuts" St. Onge's club 7-1 in the first game of E.T. Intermediate Hockey League playdowns.

The second game of the series will be held tomorrow evening in Granby with the winner taking on Magog for the right to meet the winners of the Eastern Section.

The Maroons moved out in front in the opening frame when Norris and Rainville tallied. In the second period Lemieux got the lone Granby tally, but St. Onge set this later in the period when he scored, assisted by Fausse and Laliberte. In the final session the home team chalked up four markers to tack away the opening contest of the series when Rainville, Smith, L'Heureux and Laliberte tallied.

Granby turned in a good performance but couldn't beat the Maroon rearguard of Al Norris and O. Caouette and when they did Abe Norris would turn them aside.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Willie Hoppe, the perennial world champion, and Willie Mosconi still rule the cue ranks.

They were forced into play-offs last night nailing down their world billiards titles.

The 62-year-old Hoppe retained his three-cushion crown with a 5-0 victory over Irving Crane of Binghamton, N.Y. Mosconi won 50-112 in 17 innings, making a high run of 77 in the second and holding the advantage all the way.

Legs Fraser Outstanding As Locals Are Turned Back 6-2; Cop Tough Tilt At Montreal Yesterday 3-2

Sherbrooke Saints split their week-end games, suffering a 6-2 setback Saturday evening in Ottawa, but came back strong yesterday afternoon to down the Montreal Royals 3-2 in a heavy-checking contest to retain their six-point lead in the Quebec Senior Hockey League.

In Ottawa Saturday the Saints ran into Legs Fraser, who had an on-night, and the Dugre-men could only get two goals by him, although they carried a wide margin on shots on goal. Fraser was outstanding and time after time he robbed the Saints of what looked like sure goals.

In Montreal yesterday the locals held the upper hand, and if it hadn't been for the outstanding work of young Jacques Plante in the nets, the score would have been much higher. The locals outshot the Royals 29-17 which made them a real going concern in the rough tilt.

Sherbrooke remains idle now until Thursday evening when they will be hosts to Shawinigan Falls. The Cataracts took the measure of Chicoutimi 4-0 yesterday, and should give a good account of themselves. Quebec dropped an important tilt to Valleyfield yesterday, after winning Saturday evening and reducing Sherbrooke's lead to four points, but with the Saints winning and the Aces losing the locals went back into a six-point lead over their rivals again.

Ottawa, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Ottawa Senators overpowered the league-leading Sherbrooke Saints 6-2 here Saturday night in a Quebec Senior Hockey League game before 6,889 fans.

while Bill Robinson and Ted Hodgson notched the others. Norm McAtee scored both goals for Sherbrooke.

Rough play featured the final period. Ottawa's Nils Tremblay and Sherbrooke's Bernie Vinet drew major penalties for fighting. The feud had been looming all through the period and the blow came at the 13-minute mark.

Five minor penalties also were handed out in the period, including one to goalie Bill (Legs) Fraser for holding. Alex Smart took his place in the penalty box.

Hodgson drew first blood for Ottawa on a screened shot after he had worked the puck in close. Hellyer caught goalie Paul Leclerc off balance and banged in Eddie Emberg's blue-line pass for the second goal. Dartnell made it 3-0 with the first of his two goal efforts before the period ended.

Robinson took advantage of an extra man while Sherbrooke's Fern Gladu was serving a penalty to make it 4-0 at the 38-minute mark of the middle frame. McAtee scored his first for Sherbrooke late in the period on a power play with Jim Planché and Reg Sinclair while Hodgson was in the penalty box.

Dartnell scored his second in the third period while Red Goupille was off and Hellyer worked the score to 6-1 on his second goal of the game at the 1:06 mark. McAtee scored Sherbrooke's second goal while Vinet and Tremblay were serving major penalties.

New York Rangers Ride Six-Game Streak To Solidify Hold On Last Playoff Berth In National League

New York Rangers, the only team gaining four points during the week-end, have ridden a six-game streak into a solid hold on the National Hockey League's fourth and last play-off spot.

Frank Boueher's men from Manhattan edged Toronto Maple Leafs 2-1 at Madison Square Garden Sunday after beating the Canadiens 4-2 at Montreal Saturday. The Leafs Saturday had extended their own streak to seven games, including three ties, by defeating Detroit Red Wings 3-2. There were only four week-end games and Boston Bruins and Chicago Black Hawks deadlocked 4-4 at Chicago in the remaining fixture.

The league's 70-game string is beginning to run thin, with only 14 games left for Toronto, which has played more than any other club so far. Fighting Detroit, Toronto and Montreal as sure things
