Cabinet confers over Berlin

Our defence plans kept under wraps

OTTAWA — (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker is keeping under wraps, at least for the time being, any revision of Canada's defence policy made necessary by the current Berlin crisis.

The cabinet, meeting Monday for the first time in a week, is understood to have spent most of a 2½-hour afternoon session discussing international affairs and problems caused by a possible separate Russian-East German peace treaty.

Mr. Diefenbaker told reporters after the two-hour morning session that the Berlin crisis created "problems that necessarily rest on us as a member of NATO." It is believed that these included a review of Canadian defence planning both at home and in NATO commitments in Europe.

However, the prime minister declined to comment further following the afternoon session.

The immediate cabinet business of the day was approval of the appointment of Louisof the bank and will render a

JFK's plan for Berlin to be aired tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy tonight unveils a broad plan for stepping up defence against the Communist threat to Berlin and throughout the world.

In advance of his radio-TV broadcast, set for 10 p.m., Kennedy scheduled his usual Tuesday meeting with Democratic congressional leaders.

This gave him an opportunity to brief them on points he will cover in his speech and in a formal message to Congress Wednesday.

Informal sources said Kennedy's strategy will provide for a step-by-step Western strengthening as Communist pressures mount on Berlin and a long-term increase in ability to counter the Communists should they turn on the heat elsewhere.

This involves a boost in the U.S. preparedness program above the $43,000,000,000 Kennedy has already asked for the military this year; bigger arms contributions by the NATO allies, and further teamwork among the allies in diplomatic, political and economic tactics.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev says he will sign a peace treaty with Communist East Germany at the end of this year, thus wiping out the rights of the United States, Britain and France in Communist-surrounded West Berlin.

WOULD TRIPLE BUDGET

One major item in the Kennedy package is civil defence.

Informants said he wants to raise to around $300,000,000 — triple his present budget — the federal outlays for preparedness against any Soviet attack on the United States. This apparently would include large-scale installation of fallout shelters.

Military proposals prepared for White House consideration are reported to include stepping up the regular armed forces by 100,000 men or more, including a couple of army divisions and a marine division; a higher state of national guard and reservist preparedness and some rise in weapons production. The army now has 14 divisions, the marines three.

Orders for increasing the pool of men available for draft calls already have gone out.

Nova Scotia visit is definitely on DEEP COVE, N.S. — (CP) — Nova Scotia began Monday to lay plans for a visit from Russian spaceman Yuri Gagarin, now on a Cuban visit.

Cleveland industrialist Cyrus Eaton, vacationing at his farm in this south shore community, announced Monday that the first man into space had accepted his invitation to visit the province and would arrive Friday.

But details of the visit could not be learned immediately. They depended on when the 11-year-old Gagarin and a Soviet party of 15 from Cuba would reach Nova Scotia, and on how long it would stay.

Millionaire Eaton and his wife asked the astronaut to pay them a visit more than a month ago in Bulgaria. At that time Gagarin was reported to have been especially interested in seeing Eaton's Pugwash birthplace on the north shore.

Pugwash, a scenic fishing village, has become known in recent years as the "home of the thinkers," international figures invited by Eaton to discuss world matters.

A secretary to Mr. Eaton said Monday night nothing about the visit could be made final before today. Early indications were that Gagarin was interested in seeing both Pugwash and Mr. Eaton's prize shorthorn cattle farm here.

MAY PLAN DINNER

It was understood that the provincial government would plan a dinner for the spaceman, as it did for Russian Deputy Premier Mikoyan when he visited Halifax in October, 1959.

Mayor Lloyd of Halifax said Halifax and its twin city of Dartmouth would join in making preparations for Gagarin. Four village commissioners in service to Canada of the highest importance." He was sure the appointment would "mark a new period of relations between the bank and the government, and the bank and the people."

Mr. Rasminsky, a native of Montreal and brought up in Toronto, is widely recognized as an expert in international finance. His new job also automatically makes him president of Canada's Industrial Development Bank — an agency for financing small and medium-sized businesses and industries.

Another item on the cabinet's work sheet was earmarking $50,000 of federal disaster relief funds for compensation to those who suffered personal losses in this spring's New Brunswick floods. This matches a similar payment by the province.

The next meeting is tentatively set for late this week after Mr. Diefenbaker returns from a two-day trip through Southwestern Ontario, including a visit to the Stratford Shakespearean festival.

FORTUNE GOES TO THE DOGS

SCUNTHORPE, England (AP) — Dog lover Jeremiah Green has made a will setting up a £300,000 ($840,000) trust fund to build and maintain a luxury home for stray dogs.

"Some people will call me a crank for leaving all my money to dogs," said real estate dealer Green, "but they have been my greatest friends."

The dogs' home will be a memorial to Rusty, a cocker spaniel Green had for 14 years.

ARMED CARS CONVOYED

Salisbury (AP) — More army and police reservists were called up in chief Southern Rhodesian cities today following violence here Monday in which three Negroes were slain.

Four other Negroes were wounded when police opened fire after they said Negro crowds stoned them.

The reservists were called up to protect Negroes who want to go to work in defiance of a general strike called to protest the new Southern Rhodesian constitution.

Armored cars conveyed buses with Negro workers into Salisbury this morning and soldiers and police patrolled the main roads.

The streams of workers into this capital indicated the strike had failed.

Premier Sir Edgar Whitehead in a broadcast to the nation claimed the strike had been broken and said: "The failure of the strike has caused fury among the organizers."

Whitehead accused Joshua Nkomo's African National Democratic party of organizing the strike.

TUNIS — (AP) — Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba accused France today of violating the Security Council's Bizerte cease-fire order by refusing to withdraw to their pre-battle positions and by extending their hold on Tunisian territory.

Bourguiba warned at a press conference that fighting may break out again. He said he had told nations that had offered volunteers to help Tunisia that he needed trained guerrilla fighters.

planes based in Tunisia or other countries, arms and mobile anti-aircraft batteries.

Bourguiba did not accuse the French of renewing the attack. But he said that if they did not withdraw from Bizerte city into the naval base enclave, "fighting is bound to start again."

"We have decided to resist until the end and we are prepared for new hostilities," the president declared.

WILL INFORM U.N.

"We have decided to inform the Security Council that this cannot continue. This situation cannot last indefinitely."

While Bourguiba spoke, United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld conferred with Tunisian officials in an effort to keep the crisis from mushrooming into even bigger proportions.

Hammarskjöld, who arrived in the Tunisian capital Monday at Bourguiba's invitation, was studying Tunisia's case against France in one of the thorniest and most difficult tasks of his career.

A number of Tunisians doubted that the UN official would produce a solution that would satisfy Tunisia, which wants total unconditional French withdrawal from the Bizerte base.

Hammarskjöld had a three-hour session Monday night with Bourguiba which a Tunisian official described as "exploratory."

The UN chief was tight-lipped when he emerged from Bourguiba's sea-side summer palace 10 miles outside the capital. His only comment to reporters was that he had not scheduled a visit to the city of Bizerte, which the French captured in four days of bloody fighting before a cease-fire call from the UN Security Council stopped the shooting.

NEW ALLOWANCE NOT AUTOMATIC

QUEBEC (CP) — The Quebec youth department said Monday a special $10 monthly allowance to mothers of students aged 16 to 18 is not automatic for those receiving federal family allowances.

During the last session of the legislature a bill was passed for the $10 allowance to encourage secondary education.

The youth department said applications for the allowance should be made to The Allowances Commission, Department of Social Welfare, 265 de la Couronne, Quebec.

With wages high and unemployment low, Britons have been buying record quantities of consumer goods. The rush on the home market has kept prices at a level that has resulted in serious loss of foreign demand for British products.

Britain last year spent nearly $1,000,000,000 more than it earned in foreign trade, the biggest gap since 1951.

Mayor 'boss' for survival

By MYER SHIMELMAN
(Record Staff Reporter)

Mayor Armand Nadeau would direct survival efforts in Sherbrooke should an atomic emergency ever hit the Eastern Townships.

This was clarified today by Lt.-Col. Aime Biron, civil defence co-ordinator for the Sherbrooke district. Col. Biron was appointed to this position by civic and provincial authorities.

Col. Biron made his statement following a survey in Monday's Record in which 12 persons polled in the city streets showed a vagueness as to who would be "the boss" in the event of such emergency.

Col. Biron said the mayor would be responsible for the conduct of city but that the actual administration would be left to the civil defence co-ordinators.

The plan at present according to Col. Biron is to mobilize service clubs to do all that they can in order to alleviate the situation. The militia would be used to evacuate such disaster areas as Montreal which would be prime targets.

Col. Biron said he and Lieut. Col. Bert Lyon have been working for years to get some aid from the provincial and federal governments for this project. However, these efforts have met with no success.

He also claimed that the government is being short-sighted by stock-piling medical supplies and blankets in the city of Montreal as a bomb falling on that city would definitely wipe out these supplies.

Also on the question of Montreal, Col. Biron said that Sherbrooke is expected to accept approximately 60,000 evacuees in event of such an emergency and that we are certainly not prepared to do so.

Col. Biron said that if the proper financial support was given from the provincial and federal governments, Sherbrooke could be prepared for an emergency in the matter of a few weeks.

Mayor Armand Nadeau said civil defence is a question of the "utmost importance" and that he plans to make a statement in the very near future about the actual position of city hall on it.

Alderman Everett Nicol said civil defence is primarily a responsibility of the Federal Government. He claimed that we (the city) pay taxes to the Federal Government for exactly this purpose.

Lieut. Col. Bert Lyon, deputy co-ordinator of civil defence, claimed that a disaster plan is absolutely necessary for Sherbrooke and that it should be more than a "paper-plan." He said it should be rehearsed at least twice a year.

The ignorance of the population of Sherbrooke and area as to who is "the boss" is pathetic and an absolute shame but it can be corrected", Col. Lyon stated.

The means of correction he went on to explain would be aid from the provincial and federal governments.

Lieut. Col. Douglas W. Ward, commanding officer of the Sherbrooke Regiment, deplored public apathy over civil defence. He said that the people of Sherbrooke and area are taking the viewpoint of an ostrich by burying their heads in the sand. "They feel that such an emergency could never arise here."

He went on to say that the Sherbrooke regiment has been preparing for just such an emergency for years by holding regular civil defence exercises.

SLITS THROAT SAVES INFANT

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — A steelworker used a paring knife to perform a tracheotomy and save his six-month-old son from choking to death.

David Sears, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sears, was choking on a piece of teething cookie when the father heard him cough and he noticed the child was turning blue from lack of oxygen.

Deciding that he would not have time to take the child to the hospital, Sears got the knife, cut an incision in David's throat and dislodged the piece of cookie. After the child was able to breathe, he was taken to hospital where he was kept overnight for observation.

Sears said he had read about tracheotomies and felt he knew what to do. He was baby-sitting with David and a three-year-old daughter while his wife was visiting with a neighbor.

The agency's report was picked up by the North American Air Defence Command (NORAD) at Colorado Springs, Colo., and the Homestead, Fla., air force base was ordered to send up a fighter to intercept the $3,500,000 airliner.

Capt. W. G. Hayes, flying an F-102 Delta Dagger, intercepted the airliner and waggled his wings in a futile effort to turn it back. He took no other action for fear of endangering those aboard.

Cubans are too busy celebrating to discuss hijacked U.S. plane

HAVANA (AP) — The Swiss Embassy sought today to arrange the return to Miami of passengers and crew of a hijacked U.S. airliner, but its efforts were hampered by the anniversary celebration of Fidel Castro's revolution.

A spokesman said the embassy hoped to get the Americans aboard a Pan American flight to Miami today but so far hadn't been able to get the necessary permission because all government agencies were closed until Friday for the anniversary celebration.

Premier Castro was said to have no objections to returning the passengers and crew as soon as arrangements could be made.

But his government is reported planning to hold onto the plane unless the United States turns over six Cuban planes that have been seized in Florida to satisfy a legal judgment

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

ROME (AP)—"People are amazed that we're so happy. They expect us to be fighting all the time."

Ernest Borgnine was talking about his marriage to Katy Jurado. In 18 months, the union has weathered many a storm. Real and otherwise. Although he is an Academy Award winner and she is a talented actress, neither is skillful enough to fake the felicity they now display. "Everyone makes a one big mistake in his life," said Ernest of the charges and counter-charges they flung at each other in California last year.

Both denied photos and news stories that purported a fight between them after they arrived in Rome earlier this year. They attributed the whole business to the city's packs of freelance photographers.

"They are monsters," said the fiery Katy. "They follow you around, waiting to catch you in some embarrassing pose."

"They prey on celebrities," Katy said. "If they can get one good shot, they can sell it and live for half a year on the money."

"OUT TO GET US"
"We were new in Rome and they were out to get us," Ernest said. "Also, we had gone through that silly business back home, and they were expecting us to have trouble."

The results of an evening's outing: A photo of Ernest glowering at Katy in a cafe ("I was just rising from the table and leaning on my fists"); another of Katy supposedly struck by him in an argument ("I twisted my ankle and hit my face getting in the car").

The following furor, said Ernest, "was the most horrible experience of my life."
But they're not soured on the Roman life.
"The five months we've been in Italy have been like a honeymoon," said Ernest. "We've prowled through every museum, every gallery, we've studied the history of every important city, we've visited every antique store. We also visited the town where my mother was born and met cousins galore."

Members of Presbytery tour old cemeteries

MILAN — The members of Quebec Presbytery, Presbyterian Church in Canada, made a tour of inspection of the nine cemeteries in this area recently. The meeting opened in St. Andrew's Church, Lake Megantic. The entourage then proceeded to Marsboro Mills and Echo Vale, then on to Sand Hill and Stornoway.

At Stornoway, they were greeted by the ladies of Milan Carry-On Society, who served a light lunch of sandwiches, cake and coffee. Following a short discussion at Stornoway, they visited the Tolsta and Gisa cemeteries.

Time did not permit a visit to Dell of the cemetery near Milan. The business meeting continued in Bethany Church, Milan. The moral and monetary support of the Presbytery is being accorded to the Cemetery Trust Association, which is in process of formation, and with this generous gesture the meeting was adjourned.

Prominent in music, cultural life of ET

Mrs. F. H. Bradley, widow of a former mayor of Sherbrooke, and a prominent figure in Townships musical and cultural circles, died early Tuesday at the home of her son, Douglas, in North Hatley.

The former Sarah Mabel Maud Barker, she was in her 82nd year.

Mrs. Bradley was born at Lime Ridge, Que., daughter of James and Matilda Barker.

From her earliest years she was a lover of music and possessing a fine voice, studied in Montreal, Quebec and Paris. She made several concert tours of Canada and also made appearances abroad.

She was married 51 years ago to the late Dr. Frederick Hamilton Bradley, a Sherbrooke dentist, who served several terms as a member of the Sherbrooke city council and was mayor from 1934 to 1936.

On taking up residence in Sherbrooke, Mrs. Bradley played an important part in developing musical and cultural organizations.

She was one of the founders of L'Alliance Francaise and L'Union Musicale and for her efforts in promoting understanding between the French and English speaking people was presented with the palm of the Legion of Honor by the French Government in 1936.

She held many offices in these groups and for many years was honorary president of both organizations.

Mrs. Bradley was a founder and served as president of both the Schubert Music Club and the Sherbrooke Community Concerts. She was also an active supporter of the Sherbrooke Symphony Orchestra.

Mrs. Bradley was a member of the choir of Trinity United Church and earlier, the Sherbrooke Methodist Church.

Her husband predeceased her in 1948.

She is survived by five children, William Barker Bradley, of Wilmet, Ill.; Douglas Hamilton Bradley, of Forest Hills, L.I.; Moira, Mrs. John Bassett, of Toronto; Margaret, Mrs. William Mitchell, of Mississippi; Frederick, Mrs. Angus Boulton, of Wimbledon, England; as well as several grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

CPL. MORIN

City area QPP head retired

After 23 years of service, Corporal Eugene Morin, head of the Sherbrooke branch of the Quebec Provincial Police, will retire this week.

Corporal Morin has reached the compulsory retirement age of 60. He will leave his post before the week-end.

Eugene Morin has been a member of the Provincial Police for 23 years. He joined the force in Quebec in 1938 and has served in Rimouski, Drummondville and Sherbrooke—where he has headed the local detachment for seven years.

He was promoted to the rank of sergeant in 1942 and held the rank until the recent reclassification under the new Provincial Police Director Joseph Brunet.

Under the new classification, the rank of corporal is equivalent to that of sergeant under the old system. Corporal Morin is still called "sergeant" by his acquaintances.

A lover of police work, Corporal Morin recalled Tuesday that he had turned down a higher-paying job in order to enter service with the force.

"I especially liked detective work," he said.

Corporal Morin will be replaced by Sergeant Ralph Allen, formerly of Lachute and St. Jerome.

Two other members of the Sherbrooke detachment of the Provincial Police are also retiring this week. They are detectives Hubert Lawrence and Henri Cantin.

The City's business

To help widening of St. Catherine Road

City council agreed in principle when council was asked to give its authorization to a bill for widening of St. Catherine Road $1,585.86 for the renting of such a machine for 508.3 hours.

The combined request of the Fish and Game Club and the Forestry Association for a grant of $100 was granted by Sherbrooke City Council at its meeting Monday evening. The $100 was put on next years budget.

The city council after much deliberation has decided to allow the Model Airplane Club to continue using the land of 10th Avenue as a testing area even though they had ordered them not to use this land the previous week.

The reason for the reversal of last week's decision was that the Club presented council with a petition signed by 49 residents of the area who said that they were in favour of the Club's using that area for its testing ground.

A petition from Marcel Street proprietors was turned over to the Sherbrooke Police Department for study.

The terms of the petition were first, that heavy traffic would not be allowed on that street in the future, and secondly, that the speed limit in that area would be cut down to 20 miles per hour.

The petition also asked that the city display a sign on Marcel Street advising motorists of this change.

The reason given for the presentation of such a petition was that the traffic as it now exists on this street constitutes a threat to the children of the area.

At its regular weekly meeting on Monday evening, city council renewed its options for the purchase of land on Wellington Street South until the first of September.

Council was advised that the "costs" affixed to fines incurred due to infractions of the Motor Vehicles Act are divided as follows: For infractions of city bylaws the "costs" go to the city but for infractions of Criminal Code the "costs" go to the provincial government.

Maurice Despres was invited to come to the next Sherbrooke City Council meeting which will be held this coming Monday, July 31.

At this meeting Despres will explain the reasons why he wishes to build a retaining wall around his property on the corner of Chalfoux Street and 5th Avenue.

City council Monday evening authorized Sherbrooke Director of Services, Charles Langlois, to call for tenders for the construction of rest room facilities at the following parks: St-Jean Baptiste, London, Cambron, and St. Boniface.

A report has been called for by city council before it will give its authorization to an exchange of land with the Catholic School Commission.

The Commission wants city land on 14th Avenue for the construction of a high school there. In return they are prepared to give the city some land between 13th and 14th Avenues.

The request of Maurice Letourneau for a change in the zoning laws on Bowen Street South was rejected by Sherbrooke city council at its regular meeting Monday evening.

Letourneau wanted the laws changed so that he could build a bowling alley in the basement of an apartment building which he is constructing there.

The most popular sailboat at these outings is the 'Scorpion' used mostly by the younger sailors because of its safety features and relatively low cost.

The Scorpions will not sink should the boat turn over and will drain itself automatically when upright. Cost is less than that of a boat and outboard motor.

Brome Lake Boating Club has been in existence for the past 60 years and organized racing has been practiced here for the past 28 years. This year however, a special effort is being made to interest the younger set.

Before a youngster is allowed out on the lake, he is drilled in the basics of yachting. Once the youth has learned the theory of handling a boat, he is then given the chance to put his knowledge into practice.

Once out on the lake, the youngster is taught how to manipulate his craft in a race. He is given pointers on how to start when he is in a windward position and so on.

The course usually consists of a three-mile run and enthusiasts get the go-ahead from the soundings of a miniature 12 gauge cannon.

Races are run off for trophies which are presented aggregate winners at the end of the season. There are three trophies, one for each of three classes.

The Lt. Col. Stairs Cup is awarded Class A winners while the C. B. Price Cup is given class B winners and Juniors compete for the R. E. Haldenby Trophy.

'Exercise Mixed Foursome'

Biggest Army scheme of year tests skill in the battlefield

CAMP GAGETOWN, N.B. (CP) — The Canadian Army's biggest exercise of the year, a mock battle involving 6,000 British and Canadian soldiers, goes into its second day today.

The week-long contest—tuned to test the army's skill on the battlefield, its strategy and its machinery—is staged on the irregular 427-square mile expanse of this camp, the biggest in Canada.

The mock war, called Mixed Foursome by the exercise planners, pits the warring Fantasians against the peace-loving people of Blueford with the bombing, gunfire and tent life of a real war. But blank ammunition is used.

As the troops prepared for battle Monday, exercise director Maj.-Gen. M. P. Bogert, general officer commanding the army's Eastern Command, briefed the three battalions of the Royal 22nd Regiment in French.

He told the Val Cartier, Que., soldiers, playing the enemy in this contest, that they were to teach lessons to the main force of our infantry battalions, an Infantry Brigade group, stationed here.

There were no skirmishes the opening day. But today the evil Fantasians were to begin to meet obstacles.

Participating in the exercise, besides the three battalions of the Royal 22nd, are a field ambulance unit from Quebec Command, about 800 soldiers of the Duke of Edinburgh's Royal Regiment in Reading, England, a signals unit from Kingston, Ont., and the 3rd Canadian Infantry Brigade group, stationed here.

Council briefs

City council has decided to take legal action against Larkin Realty Corp. since the company has not removed a sign from the lawn in front of their offices on Queen Street North in Sherbrooke.

Larkin Realty Corp. was notified that the sign was in contravention to a city bylaw on May 19, 1961.

Permission was granted by the city fathers to Henri-Bolduc to enlarge his building on Denault Street in Sherbrooke since none of his neighbours have complained about it.

The request of Philippe Gagnon to build a garage on 11th Avenue South was refused by city council as this would be a violation of Sherbrooke's zoning laws while the request of Mr. Laboux, to build a garage on 12th Avenue was granted as this is in accordance with the local zoning laws.

City council authorized the Sherbrooke city treasurer to send a cheque for $620 to the Federation of Mayors of Municipalities as its dues for the coming year.

The dues are levied on a per capita basis.

VICTORIA (CP) — Mayor Percy Scurrah, president of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, said Monday he expects about 12 Canadian municipal heads will make a good-will tour of Russia.

Sailing, sailing over waves of Brome Lake

By PAT BOUGIE
(Record Staff Reporter)

BROME LAKE — Hoist the mainsail mate and get ready to cast off!

These words are heard often by members of the Brome Lake Boating Club as each week they prepare to take part in the graceful sport of sailing.

Once a week during summer months and sometimes more often, depending upon the weather, grown-ups and youngsters alike race each other on the watery five-mile expanse of Brome Lake.

As many as 20 boats may be seen with all their sails trying to spallow up the breeze and gain the lead in the competitions.

AWAY THEY GO — Above, a dozen sailboats can be seen lining up in preparation for a race on Brome Lake. At right, Barry Ellison, 15, of Knowlton outrigs his Scorpion sailboat. The whole process takes him less than 15 minutes. The lightweight craft is one of the safest sailboats on Brome Lake. There is a special draining system in the boat which permits automatic bailing. A new threat

A new threat is emerging in the Berlin crisis, one that could rule out all possibility of an eventual united Germany.

Since 1945 almost four million East German — 22 percent of the population — have crossed over to the West. They're leaving now at the rate of 1,000 a day. And among the emigrants so far have been 5,000 doctors, 912 professors, 16,000 engineers and 16,500 teachers.

The economy of East Germany has suffered badly through this mass exodus of the cream of its population. It has inhibited progress, hurt morale and, to a large extent, is responsible for Nikita Khrushchev's recent get-tough policy on Berlin.

Fears are now being expressed that the Communist regime in East Germany may attempt to make up for this drain by importing immigrants from other countries in the Soviet bloc.

This, of course, would threaten the German character of the population. It would also rule out the possibility of any eventual reunification of the two Germanys through a free vote.

Drought effects

The drought in Western Canada will have far-reaching effects on more people than Western farmers.

In one way or another it is bound to touch all Canadians.

Consumers may even benefit briefly with lower meat prices as feed-short ranchers ship their cattle east to increase supply and lower market prices.

But taxpayers across the country will be the prime sufferers as government aid, quite justifiably, is used to save wheat farmers from financial ruin.

One section of the population, however, will have secondary casualties. These are factory workers producing farm machinery.

Press reports from Toronto reveal that 4,325 employees of a major farm machinery company will be laid off for one month following their annual two-week vacation in August.

The company makes hay balers and combines for sale in Western Canada and the north-western plains area of the United States which also has been affected by the drought.

A realistic note

The problem of smoking, and its relation to lung cancer, has received much attention in recent years. Doctors have made exhaustive research on the subject; defenders of the public health have attempted to inform the populace of the central fact emerging from the medical findings: that there is sufficient evidence to establish a causal relationship between cigarette smoking and lung cancer.

To a certain extent, however, much of the publicity seems to have been misdirected. It has been aimed at the adult smoker, for whom the habit is often too strong and ingrained to allow much hope of quitting.

A more realistic note is being struck in Winnipeg, where an attempt is being made at the teen-age level to acquaint potential and novice smokers of the dangers they could be courting. An educational program intended to inform students of the relationship between smoking and lung cancer has been launched in the schools with the help of the Canadian Cancer Society.

As a preliminary step, a survey of the smoking habits of more than 20,000 Winnipeg school children was made. Following the survey, a test project was initiated using one school area and including the high schools and elementary schools in that area.

The aid of teachers, parents and — most important — student leaders such as class presidents has been sought and won. Filmstrips and pamphlets have been made available and teachers are now presenting the program to their students.

Backers of the project feel it will take two years to complete satisfactorily. Then they will make a repeat survey in order to compare the smoking habits of children in the schools where the project has been carried out and the others in the city.

It is an eminently sensible program. If its value is demonstrated by the results of the proposed survey in two years time, it should serve as a lead to other communities wishing to catch their children before it's too late as far as smoking is concerned.

The developing Berlin crisis

Reason is a casualty in war of nerves

By PHILLIP SYKES

Truth is the first casualty of war, said England's wise Earl Grey in the days before nation-sized brainwashing became part of the propaganda armory.

In the war of nerves through which the world is passing today, there is a second casualty: the faculty of reason. And the failure of reason is now a necessary prelude to war.

As the tension rises, the immediate needs of last-resort planning assume so much more urgency than the search for solutions that discussion of issues begins to appear academic — perhaps even faintly treacherous.

The strategic planning of military men shoulders aside the questionings of policy debates.

By the time the supercharged atmosphere of the "preparedness" buildup has exploded into conflict the issues are no longer of any account.

The developing Berlin crisis is following the ominous illogic of this pattern. Both Russia and the United States appear poised on the brink of irrevocable commitment.

And there are men around both Khrushchev and Kennedy ready to take the giddy plunge from the restraints of reason. As the great power exchanges grow more rancorous, the influence of such men will grow.

There are elements in the Berlin crisis that are vital to the political interests of the power-bloc leaders — elements they cannot surrender. KENNEDY — and his allies — insist on their legal occupation rights in Berlin and access to the city from West Germany.

That insistence could be broken only by brutal and open aggression by the Communist bloc. KHRUSHCHEV has committed himself to sign a peace treaty with East Germany.

And no power on earth can stop him.

On these points, there can and will be no useful negotiation. Does this mutual intransigence rule out the prospect of negotiation?

It need not do so. Khrushchev has offered negotiations — and, making the offer, said he is ready to guarantee West Berlin rights of access to Berlin.

Kennedy says he wants to talk. Prime Minister Macmillan said on Thursday he would be ready to attend a late-autumn summit if there were some prospect of progress.

What is there to negotiate? I name two points.

First, there is the Communist ambiguity about West Berlin. Khrushchev has talked of a Free City arrangement, UN administered, to replace the present Western occupation.

But his guarantee has not been echoed by the East German leadership.

Second, there is the Western ambiguity about West Berlin. The long-range alternatives last week-end loomed into clearer focus.

One: Western recognition of East Germany as the price for guaranteed access to Berlin.

Two: war in which the ultimate use of nuclear arms would become inevitable. (TNS) man Communists. The words and actions of Walter Ulbricht, spade-bearded boss of East Germany, suggests a readiness for a program of harassment and sabotage as soon as the formality of control of the access routes passes from Russia to East German hands.

The West knows — and Khrushchev knows — that it will be only the formality of a transfer of control. Even after an East German peace treaty, Ulbricht's men will do what Khrushchev tells them.

So Khrushchev is in fact in a position to guarantee access — and the West would be right to insist that such a guarantee be firmly written into any new Berlin agreement.

There is hope that this issue could be resolved by negotiation — because it could be conceded without injury to Russian national interest. The second point that could be negotiated is the separation of the Berlin question from the question of the German future.

Here the onus is upon the West. The Big Three Western powers, in their answer to Khrushchev's note suggesting negotiations, replied that a German peace settlement could be reached only "in conformity with the principle of self-determination."

This means an all-German vote that would result in German unity under Dr. Adenauer, or some more ardent successor. And it is lunacy to imagine that Khrushchev could entertain such a proposition.

The Western powers know this. The ominous implication is that they inserted this preposterous ploy into their notes because they prefer the posture of lofty defiance to realistic negotiation.

It is a dangerous position — and one that is not in the interest of the Western nations themselves — individually or collectively. A united, rearmored, resurgent Germany, constantly muscling Eastwards in the pursuit of lost lands, constantly exerting dominance in the family affairs of Western Europe!

It would be a grim prospect for Britain and France. It would be fatal to the peace of Europe. It would be suicide for Khrushchev.

Yet such is the persuasive influence of Germany's Adenauer in Washington that the U.S. was impelled to insist on this Khrushchev-taunting gesture being written into the Western notes.

Now both Russia and the U.S. are committed to a renewal of the arms race. Kennedy is rallying his NATO field force, urging new deployments.

But — even as he urges Western Europe to undertake a new conventional arms buildup — the President must recall Eisenhower's month-old declaration that the West cannot fight a ground war in Europe.

Gerald Waring REPORTING

OTTAWA — Forebodings of worse to come next winter press down upon the government and the four-man commission it has appointed to solve the unemployment insurance problem.

The government either doesn't know what to do about the practical insolvency of the unemployment insurance fund — or, more likely, hasn't the courage to take the action it knows is required without first passing the buck to a commission.

The government has known for more than a year that at the rate of payments out of the fund during the recession, the fund would soon go broke. From a total of $927 millions at the end of 1956, it fell to $87 millions on May 31. And there were 370,000 out of work in June, 55,000 more than in June, 1960, making it obvious that for practical purposes the fund is now bankrupt.

So when Parliament met last November the Speech from the Throne promised amendments to the Unemployment Insurance Act "to safeguard the basic purpose of the act, to strengthen the fund and to correct abuses". But when Parliament adjourned eight months later there was still no sign of these amendments — only the appointment of the commission of inquiry.

Presumably the government will bring in these amendments when Parliament resumes sitting on or before Sept. 7, when the government should have the recommendations of the commission to guide it.

Two insurance executives on the commission emphasize the government's desire to make the fund actuarially sound for coping with new conditions of unemployment. Present conditions were not known prior to 1957, nor anticipated by the Liberals when they broadened the application of unemployment insurance without, it now transpires, a sufficiently great increase in rates of contribution.

Thus the problem is essentially to make the fund fit the times: to increase fund revenues (logically by higher contributions from workers, employers and government), or to decrease fund liabilities (logically by reducing numbers covered or amount and duration of payments), or both. For example, it is an anomaly demanding correction that fishermen who may earn $5,000 to $10,000 in a relatively short fishing season should draw unemployment benefits after the fishing season is over.

Whichever way the government goes about correcting the weaknesses that the 1958 and 1960 recessions revealed, workers who may have to pay higher premiums and jobless persons whose benefits may be curtailed will not welcome the changes.

This is undoubtedly why the government has appointed a commission, seeking to interpose the commission between itself and the people on these hard and unpopular decisions. It is also undoubtedly why the government delayed taking any action for so long, in the vain hope that somehow there would be a return to the economic circumstances of the early 1950's, and that then no government action would be required.

But economic circumstances are not much improved, and prospects are not reassuring, with our British export market seemingly about to disappear behind the customs barriers of the European Economic Community, and with the government announcing a broadened winter works program to start Oct. 15.

TRUMP BREAK PERILS SLAM

A cross ruff shortens both declarer and dummy. If you start with a four-four fit and ruff twice in each hand, you will be down to two trumps apiece. This means that one opponent will surely be long in trumps, but that shouldn't worry you if you can make your contract in spite of that.

If you do intend to shorten both hands by a cross ruff it is important that you get your side suit tricks first.

In fact, it shouldn't always worry you if one opponent starts with five trumps against your four-four fit.

South got that bad news at trick one, but he quickly counted one, but he quickly counted 13 tricks provided he could cash six tricks in the side suits. Accordingly, he went after them first. The actual order of play was a heart to dummy's ace, then the aces and kings of diamonds and clubs; followed by a heart to dummy's king.

When this went through he spread his hand since he could cross ruff for the last six tricks and all poor West could do would be to undertrick at the finish.

Cuba's Canadian colony shrinks

HAVANA (CP)—The number of Canadians living in Cuba is dwindling. Those who remain have had to adjust themselves to the clamor of a militant, all-enveloping revolution.

Among Canadian businesses, most that were here before the revolution are still operating but a number have had to restrict their activities.

The Canadian community has ceased to exist as a social unit.

As late as April there were still 216 Canadians in the island, not counting diplomatic personnel or visitors. Of these, 131 were missionaries — 109 Roman Catholic and 22 Protestant.

The April figure represented a drop of 25 from the 241 Canadians who were here last Nov. 28.

Now there are but 131 including 46 Catholic missionaries and 13 Protestant missionaries. The major part of the drop is accounted for by the 62 priests and nuns who have left since the takeover of parochial schools began May 2.

There has also been a slow but steady trickle of businessmen, professional people of various kinds, and other types back to Canada. Of the 71 Canadian "citizens" still here—scattered throughout the island—many are retired folk.

Canadians in Havana used to be a small, but cohesive and active community. They would get together at parties and go to the same clubs. There was much intermingling with the American and British communities.

Now there is only a handful of Canadians left—and a correspondingly small number of British and Americans. Parties are few and far between, except on the diplomatic circuit, and the private clubs have been taken over by the government and turned into workers social centres.

Generally, the Westerner—

By JACK BEST

whatsoever his private views on whether the revolution is a good thing for Cuba—feels out of step with it himself. He instinctively recoils from the clatter and the endless calls to vigilance and effort, which he hears everywhere he goes.

Thus he is likely to move in a narrow circle, and seldom if ever go to a play, a concert or a movie. American movies are few and generally old, anyway, most of the film fare being Russian or Czechoslovakian.

INSURANCE MEN STAY
"It's a boring existence," said a Canadian businessman whose work compels him to remain in Havana.

The Catholic Canadian missionaries still in Cuba are all French-speaking, and represent orders in Montreal and Quebec. There are 21 nuns, 22 priests and three brothers.

The Protestants are mostly from independent evangelical groups. Two are from the Mission to Orphans, Three Hills, Alta., and operate an orphanage near Santa Clara, in Las Villas province.

The biggest concentration of Canadian business is in the life insurance field where five companies operate. However the activities of most are largely confined to collecting premiums and paying claims. They have investments here which they are trying to protect by staying on.

Largest of the five is Confederation Life. It has about 20 employees—down 10 from a year ago. The others are Manufacturers, Imperial, Crown and Sun Life.

RETURNED TO OWNERS
Largely to the Canadian firms from the standpoint of number of employees—it has about 80—is Moore Business Forms with head office in Toronto. Moore's factory and that of another Toronto concern, Exquisite Form Brassiere, were taken over in last year's big nationalization program but were returned to their owners after the authorities satisfied themselves they were in fact Canadian firms.

Two other Toronto firms are also operating — Shulton Products (cosmetics) and United Chemicals.

The Royal Bank of Canada and the Bank of Nova Scotia, which between them had about 30 branches in Cuba until late last year, made their exit after coming to an agreement with the government as to the disposition of their liabilities and assets. The Royal Bank however still maintains a special representative here—as provided for in the agreement.

Earlier last year, the Shell Oil Company's big refinery was taken over. The company's Cuban operations were a subsidiary of Shell Oil of Canada Limited.

ARABS MUST AGREE
(Manchester Guardian)

The Arab League has disappointed hopes so regularly that perhaps one is asking too much to expect it to unite sufficiently to save Kuwait's integrity. But in 1958, against all the prophecies, its members at the United Nations agreed on a resolution that enabled British forces to be withdrawn from Jordan. If they cannot do as much again, then they must share the blame that they will lavish on Britain for its "protection" in Kuwait. Britain, on its side, must be ready to withdraw as soon as the Arabs have caused the threat from Iraq to be removed.

This may not take long, for there is good hope that in Iraq itself responsible servants of the Government, who have had some experience of keeping their country steady in spite of their leader's erratic helmanship, are even now seeking their neighbors' help in escaping from the latest embarrassment it has brought upon them.

War is cruel, and there is no need to pretend it is otherwise. Why should the figment be preserved that it only affects combatants?

The fact is that it is not a difficult task to devise chemical warheads for long-range missiles, and undoubtedly this thought is in the back of some mind somewhere. It would be well to remember, however, that such missiles can travel in both directions. If we intend to give, we must be prepared to receive.

New investment plans give economy a fillip

OTTAWA — (CP) — New investment plans this year in resource based industries have given a moderate fillip to the country's capital expansion program.

The trade department reported Monday that a late spring survey found the public and private sectors of the economy plan capital outlays totaling $8,430,000,000 for 1961.

This is 1.1 per cent higher than the $8,336,000,000 originally forecast at the start of the year, and 2.8 per cent higher than last year's $8,200,000,000 in capital investment.

The upward revision in 1961 expectations is due mainly to new spending programs for oil

Britons are held by Iraq

BAGHDAD Iraq (AP) — Iraqi forces today were reported to have seized a British armored car and captured the three British soldiers in it after they were found inside Iraqi territory near the Kuwait border.

It was the first capture reported by either side since Iraqi Premier Karim Abdel Kassem claimed Kuwait as Iraqi territory and Britain sent troops to the oil-rich little sheikdom to guard its independence.

A British foreign office spokesman said the three soldiers apparently strayed across the border, which is not clearly marked. He said the British Embassy in Baghdad was trying to get the soldiers released. The three soldiers had been missing since they went out on patrol Sunday.

Tips for parents

By HELEN R. HEWSON
Parent Education Associates

Adults make a firm distinction between work and play, but children, especially young children, cheerfully combine the two.

There are occasions when work can be fun for a child. Five-year-old Tommy recently spent a thoroughly happy morning, hard at work.

Tommy is the odd man in his family. Not old enough to join his 9-year-old brother and friends, he is too old for the baby care his little brother receives, and his own age mates are scattered for the summer.

After a few episodes of baby-teasing and messing up brother's prized collections, mother decided that Tommy needed some help.

The next time he wandered aimlessly into the kitchen she asked, "How would you like to play with me for a little while?" He was astounded, "But you don't play."

"Well, I might if you helped me. I'm going to empty the washing machine and then clean some windows and I bet we could have fun doing it to gether."

As the wash water drained

Food Tips

Instead of serving soggy sandwiches on a picnic, why not take the makings and let each guest make his own? French bread (sliced and buttered), cold cuts (fresh from the refrigerator), tomatoes, cucumbers, cheese can all be slipped into polythene bags to keep them fresh in the picnic basket. It's less trouble for the cook, more fun for the crowd. When all the food is gone the polythene bags will be just the thing to carry wet bathing suits and towels on the home-ward journey!

HELPED WITH CHORES
In the following days Tommy helped clean silver and helped with the dishes. He preferred to wash but mother did give an extra surreptitious rub now and then.

He also enjoyed stirring and mixing when mother was cooking, and found many other little chores to do.

When the self-centredness of early childhood begins to fade children enjoy doing something useful now and then. It gives them a sense of achievement.

Children of Tommy's age do better as helpers, later they can take on the tasks themselves.

At all ages they need the friendly and patient help of adults who can respond to the child's search for something to do. (TNS).

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. John Evans, London Street, have returned from Seven Islands where they spent two weeks visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Walker and family. They were accompanied home by their grandson, Billy Walker, who will spend a few weeks with them.

Friends of Clifford (John Henry) Royce, Galt Street, East, will be sorry to learn he is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital, following an accident.

Engagement
Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Skillen, of Lisgar, Que., wish to announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Phyllis Ann (Nadine), to Leading Seaman Wendell R. Jameson, of Halifax, N. S., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Jameson, of Sherbrooke, Que. The marriage has been arranged to take place on Saturday, Sept. 2 at 2:30 p.m., in Chalmers' United Church, Richmond.

Camouflage Trick
You can cover and fill in a chip in your refrigerator by dabbing the chipped spot with colorless nail polish and finely ground zinc white, available in hardware stores.

Summer pick your straw for a summer handbag: wicker or eelophane, plain or fancy. Those wicker bags come with patent or natural trim.

ASCOT WOMEN'S INSTITUTE interest to the people here, also a tourist attraction.

Ascot Women's Institute were given an excellent report of the 47th Annual Provincial Convention held at Macdonald College by Mrs. Bertrand Turner president of Milby branch who with Mrs. Roy Sutor, county president, brought greetings and Mrs. William T. Evans who spoke briefly on the need and value of Pennies for Friendship Fund were guests at this meeting.

The meeting was held in the assembly room, of the Experimental Farm on Thursday July 20 with the president Mrs. Ashley Hatcher in charge and the roll call was answered by members presenting a six inch square of cotton with a hand quilted design. This idea was to acquire new designs for quilting.

Mrs. Wallace Wingate, citizenship convener gave a summary of the Jubilee Celebration, commenting on the program and banquet for the benefit of those who could not attend and also told of plans underway in Quebec to build a historical Village, with old buildings restored and old crafts displayed which would be of historical value and of interest to the people here, also a tourist attraction.

Mrs. Harry Arguin reported on the fashion show held in aid of the School for Retarded Children.

Mrs. Albert Parsons read an interesting article regarding Canadian Souvenirs which are much in the news today as not being Canadian made much to the disappointment of the tourist. One Indian home makers Club financed their work through the sale to tourists of their own handicrafts, cooking, jams and jellies.

A new ways and means committee was named with Mrs. Garrett Chapman as convener. Plans were made to bring a donation for Pennies for Friendship to the next meeting in answer to the need stressed in the annual report for a special donation this year.

The sum of $10.00 was voted for school fair prizes and Mrs. Wallace Wingate and Mrs. William Howe were named delegates to the quarterly county meeting to be held at Brompton Road on August 9.

Following the business session a white elephant sale was held and a considerable sum realized.

Hostesses serving tea were Mrs. Everett Bayley, Mrs. Earl Pearson and Mrs. Garrett Chapman.

Norman Hartnell presents his Autumn fashions

LONDON (Reuters) — Norman Hartnell, Queen Elizabeth's dressmaker, presented few surprises when he showed his autumn collection Thursday.

While several other London designers have indicated a move toward a more fitted, curvaceous silhouette Hartnell kept his last season's line, with roomy, swinging coats, loose-suit jackets and dresses with bloused backs and slim skirts.

Irish-born designer Michael whose collection won sustained applause from fashion writers, made the midriff the focal point of his new, slightly more fitted line.

This focus was emphasized in coats and suits by a single shiny black button or a tailored rose matching the fabric.

Victor Stiebel, the third curator to show, moved toward casual, fit in some suit jackets but his coats remained loose, with the arm-holes.

Giants Return, Beat Yanks, 4-1

NEW YORK (AP)—San Francisco Giants came home Monday night to the city they left four years ago and beat New York Yankees, 4-1, in a benefit exhibition for sandlot baseball. The former Polo Grounders were the favorites of the crowd of 47,346 which turned out despite a rainy day.

Max Carey, Newest Hall Of Famer, Advocates Return Of Spit Ball To Put More Emphasis On Base Running

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—If the newest Hall of Famer has his way, the spitball is on the way back in baseball.

Max Carey, inducted into the hall Monday with the late Billy Hamilton, added his voice to those of commissioner Ford Frick and American League president Joe Cronin in a plea for return of the outlawed spitter.

"I think the spitball should come back but not under that name," said Carey, 71. "Maybe we should call it the emery ball or the saliva ball. It would help the pitchers stop some of those home runs. I think a lot of people like to see the kind of game we used to play when there was suspense about your ability to score a run. I believe in running bases."

Carey and Hamilton were great base stealers, ranking with the late Ty Cobb.

STOLE 797 BASES Hamilton stole 797 bases in the National League, including 115 in 1891 with Philadelphia. Counting two years in the American Association, which called itself a major circuit, he stole 937, higher than Cobb's official record of 892. Carey stole 738, the modern National League record, with Pittsburgh and Brooklyn from 1910 through 1929.

Both Frick and Cronin favor return of the spitter, which some claim now is used illegally by some pitchers, including Lew Burdette of Milwaukee Braves and Whitey Ford of New York Yankees.

Plaques to Carey and Hamilton were dedicated by Frick in front of the Hall of Fame before an exhibition game in which Los Angeles Dodgers beat Baltimore Orioles 6-2.

Among the Hall of Famers present were Frank (home run) Baker, Bill Terry, Ray Schalk, Joe McCarthy and Cronin. Hamilton died in 1940.

Bartenders Quit, Crowd Is Thirsty

NEW YORK (AP)—The first race on Aqueduct program Monday got off one minute late before a small, thirsty crowd.

Following the announcement of officers of the AFL-CIO central labor council that it would ask its members to observe the picket lines, bartenders and ticket sellers quit work as did many of the waiters in the various restaurants.

The New York Racing Association hired many temporary ticket sellers, many of them women, but was unable to come up with non-union bartenders. Copies of the day's program, normally sold for 25 cents, were given away free.

Enough electricians were on hand to man the tote board although the lights for the daily double pool did not operate. Mutual clerks are members of another union and reported in full force.

Pickets have been surrounding the track since the stable help went on strike last Friday demanding recognition of the Teamsters union as their bargaining agent. The groomers, exercise boys and hot walkers also asked a pay increase, a shorter work week and better pension and hospitalization programs.

Detroit's Cash And Colavito Set Blistering Pace As They Lead Detroit Tigers To Pair Of Wins

Detroit's C men — Cash and Colavito — are giving New York's M men — Mantle and Maris — a run for batting honors in the American League while Frank Robinson of Cincinnati Redlegs continues his reign of terror against National League pitchers.

Norm Cash supplied the major fireworks in Detroit's doubleheader sweep over Kansas City Athletics Sunday to move the Tigers into first place.

Rocky Colavito produced the heroics Monday night.

He belted a three-run homer in the sixth inning that gave the Tigers their third straight victory. The 5-2 decision over Los Angeles Angels stretched Detroit's lead to a full game over the idle Yankees. Dick McAuliffe's two-run homer in the ninth inning iced the victory for Jim Bunning (11-7) and the Tigers.

Robinson, making a tremendous bid for the National League's triple crown—batting, homers and runs batted in—and the most valuable player award, smashed a homer, double and single and drove in three runs in Cincinnati's 9-3 rout of the Braves at Milwaukee.

The Reds recorded their third straight win and fattened their league lead over the idle Los Angeles Dodgers to two games.

TOOK TIME OUT

There were only two regular games. Most of the major leaguers took time out for the annual Hall of Fame engagement at Cooperstown, N.Y. The Dodgers bombed Baltimore Orioles 6-2 in the exhibition.

Cash is leading the American League in batting (.366) and RBIs (91) and is tied for fifth place in homers with 27. Colavito is tied for fourth in RBIs with 86, fourth in homers with 28 and is batting .283.

Mickey Mantle is third in hitting (.333), first in homers (37) and tied with Colavito in RBIs. Roger Maris is second in homers (36), third in RBIs (88) and is batting .272.

Robinson, who stretched his consecutive batting streak to 19 games, a National League high for the season, took over first spot in homers (29) and RBIs (87), and closed in on batting leader Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh Pirates with a .349 mark.

HIT A HOMER The Tigers were trailing 1-0 when Colavito blasted his homer off Jim Donohue (4-4), a former Detroit right-hander. The Angels scored one run in the first inning off Bunning on Leon Wagner's sacrifice fly and the other in the seventh on a walk, two singles and an error.

Cash opened the second inning with a triple but was stranded. In the ninth he walked and scored on McAuliffe's fifth homer of the season. Al Kaline, another roaring Tiger, singled in four trips to extend his batting streak to 17 games.

Wally Post (11) and Leo Cardenas (4) joined Robinson in the home run bombardment against Warren Spahn and reliever Tony Cloninger. Robinson's two-run homer in the seventh inning gave Joey Jay a 5-2 lead and Cardenas' two-run smash was the prize blow of a four-run eighth that clinched the verdict.

It was Jay's third straight triumph over his former teammates and his second over Spahn, who was lifted for a pinch hitter in the fourth inning with the score 3-0 against him. The 40-year-old southpaw, still three wins away from the elite 300 set, was charged with his 12th loss of the year. He has won nine. Jay (14-5) paces the league in victories. He gave up nine hits, including Frank Bolling's 13th homer in the fifth inning.

Howe Is Signed For $20,000

DETROIT (CP) — Gordie Howe, who wants to play 20 years in the National Hockey League, signed for his 16th season Monday after a 10-minute meeting with Detroit Red Wings' general manager Jack Adams.

Howe, 33, was the first player to sign. Salary terms were not disclosed but Howe's salary is in the $20,000-a-year area.

Chicago — Bobby Stinson, 173, outpointed Jesse Bowdry, 177, St. Louis, 10.

EAST ANGUS ACE — Jean-Louis Gagne is shown being congratulated on shooting a hole-in-one last Thursday at the East Angus golf course. Jules Hogue (right) presents him with a trophy to mark the feat, while 'Pit' Bourret looks on. Mr. Gagne sank his tee shot on the 176-yard third hole with a four iron.

Lumsdon Sets Out For Third Win In Atlantic City Marathon Swim; Willemse, Park Give Competition

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (CP) — Marathon swimmer Cliff Lumsdon of Toronto sets out today on a stroke-by-stroke circle tour of Absecon Island in search of his third victory in the Atlantic City swim — a victory that eluded him last year.

Between Lumsdon and $5,000 first-prize money are 25 miles of rolling Atlantic and 13 other determined swimmers, including last year's winner, Herman Willemse, 27, of The Netherlands. Four other Canadians are also taking part.

Lumsdon, 30, finished in a dead heat for second place last year with Tom Park after fighting a tough bout with seasickness early in the swim. Park, 37, a former resident of Hamilton, Ont., who now lives in California, is rated by Lumsdon as his toughest competitor this year.

Lumsdon is counting on good weather to keep the seas down today and ward off another turn-of-stomach. A light fog and generally favorable weather was predicted.

Although Willemse, Park and Lumsdon are the far-out favorites, a woman who holds more distance swimming records than any other in the world is not counted out. She is Greta Anderson, 32, of California, who has won the women's division of the Atlantic City swim four times.

A couple of other Canadians are also regarded as dark horses. One is John LaCourse, 26, of Montreal, who was fourth here last year and who placed first in the 24-mile crossing of Lake St. John, also in 1960. LaCourse has been training here since the beginning of July.

Helge Jensen, 26, of Maple, Ont., is the other Canadian threat. He took fifth place in 1957 and fourth in 1959. Last year he swam the English Channel in record time of 10 hours and 23 minutes.

The youngest competitor today is Aloma Keen, 19, of Montreal, who finished third in the women's division here when she was only 16. The women's division has first-place money of $800. Total prize money is $11,000.

Armand Cloutier, 24, of Arvida, Que., a newcomer to the swim this year, is the only other Canadian competitor.

Other veterans trying again include Donald Sabath, 38, of Pennsylvania, who along with Park has competed every year since the swim's inception in 1954, and Steve Wozniak, 45, of Buffalo.

The time for the 25 miles or so should take about 10½ hours—the time set by Willemse last year. Park holds the record of nine hours and 21 minutes, and with the tides in their favor, the lead swimmers might push themselves to a new record.

Justice Department To Study All Package Television Agreements Involving Organized Sports In US

WASHINGTON (AP) — The justice department said today it will study all package television agreements involving organized sports in the United States.

The move stems from last week's ruling of federal district Judge Allan K. Grim of Philadelphia nullifying the National Football League's $9,300,000, two-year contract with the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Judge Grim said that under the format in which the NFL television rights were delivered to CBS as a package, clubs "eliminated competition among themselves" in the sale of such rights and violated a 1953 anti-trust judgment against the league.

Justice department officials said it would be a mistake to generalize the Grim ruling in relation to other TV contracts maintained by such groups as the American Football League, National Basketball Association and National Collegiate Athletic Association. Although the contracts are similar, they are far from identical. Hence the study.

The 1953 NFL judgment resulted from a civil anti-trust action brought by the justice department against the league, challenging territorial allocations for telecasts and radio broadcasts.

RULED OUT ALLOCATIONS

In that case, Judge Grim ruled out territorial allocations for radio on a finding radio broadcasts would not affect attendance at league games. He said, however, that in order to protect gate receipts it was reasonable to block out local TV broadcasts of home games, but unreasonable to prohibit telecasting of these games outside of a 75-mile radius of the playing site.

NFL officials consulted informally with the justice department last year about a proposed league package contract for TV, described as desirable because top and bottom clubs could share equally in proceeds. Justice officials indicated at that time they disapproved of this proposal.

The league signed the package contract with CBS last April, then asked the court's approval.

In Ottawa, a CBC spokesman said Monday the court decision may wash out its plans to carry American football this fall.

The spokesman said the CBC is waiting to see what effect the decision may have on a contract the Canadian network has signed with CBS for televising Sunday afternoon NFL games starting Sept. 17.

The Canadian contract — for an undisclosed amount—would provide CBC member stations with weekly NFL games for the duration of the football season.

Arnold Palmer Favored To Take PGA Golf Crown

CHICAGO (AP)—Par should be highly respected when a field of 160 pros start taking a crack at it Thursday in the 72-hole United States Professional Golfers' Association tournament.

Par 70 at Olympia Fields' wooded north course has stood up well in previous tournaments. Few golfers have boasted of shattering par on the 6,722-yard layout in practice rounds.

Arnold Palmer, expected to arrive today, shot a 69 June 6 to defeat defending PGA champion Jay Hebert by four strokes in climaxing U.S. national golf week. But the rough has been allowed to grow since then in a gradual toughening-up process that will put a premium on accuracy.

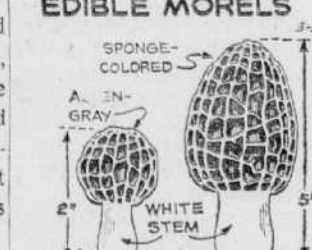

Olympia Fields pro Chuck Tanis says "it's a course on which boldness, in going for the pins, will pay off."

Palmer, who recently captured the British open, is regarded the man to beat in a field which includes champions of 42 of the PGA's co-sponsored tournaments, 16 former PGA winners, 20 leading money-winners of the year, eight U.S. open titlists and seven Masters champions.

Gary Player of South Africa, Gene Littler, Doug Sanders, Bob Goalby and Ken Venturi are other threats. Player, who leads Palmer in winnings this season with $53,989 to $50,585, can become the first foreigner to capture the 72-hole medal-play event since Australia's Jim Ferrier did it in 1947.

Sherbrooke Als Take On Knights As All Teams Go Into Action This Evening

Coaticook Hosts Waterloo While Acton Vale Visits Drummondville; Als' Place In Standings At Stake

All teams of the Provincial Eastern Townships Baseball League will be in action tonight as Sherbrooke battles it out at Granby, Acton Vale visits Drummondville, and Coaticook hosts Waterloo. These games are scheduled to start at 8:30.

The Sherbrooke Alouettes defeated the Granby Knights 11-10 in their last encounter. The game was characterized by unrestrained hitting from both squads.

However, the Als' fielding has been quite shoddy in their last couple of games. Four Alouette errors in their most recent fixture were responsible for the loss that blew their chances to gain third place in the league standings.

The Als will have to show better ball handling this evening if they expect to come up with a victory. They will be playing on the home soil of the league-leading Granby club, so they will not have 1500 fans to cheer them on.

Two games separate Sherbrooke and third place Acton Vale, so an Alouette win would be a significant step towards overtaking the Beavers.

The Acton Vale-Drummond-ville clash should be interesting, since both clubs experienced at least one win last week-end. Acton Vale downed Sherbrooke 5-0, while the Drummondville Royals managed to split with the pace-setting Waterloo club.

Acton Vale has experienced a change in luck lately and are winning once again. There was a time when they lost almost half a dozen games in a row by one point, but the Beavers are now sited two games behind second place Waterloo.

Coaticook will be going all out for a victory over Waterloo tonight. Sherbrooke leads Coaticook by a scant half game, so a win for the Canadians might well serve to give them a tie or a lead over the Als.

Waterloo will make very stiff competition this evening, since they have been winning with surprising regularity in recent weeks.

No. 47—Live Hands

Millions of dollars, years of experience, research, experimentation and thought have gone into making golf clubs the sensitive instruments they are.

All that money and work has been wasted on a golfer if he fails to establish a controlled close relationship between the hands and the club. Without a bond between the two, everything else will go awry.

One of the great secrets of golf is to swing the club with the hands. If you do this properly, other actions of the body will more or less look after themselves.

In order to achieve complete accord between club and hands, a golfer must have what have been called live hands. This means the hands are sensitive and in control and more or less dominate.

After a layoff, the golfer may find that his hands have lost their sensitive control, have become "dead." They don't feel any bond with the club. Lack of exercise has made them duller, more insensitive. This feeling, or lack of it, usually disappears after a round or two.

For golfers who can't play every day, or who must take an extended layoff from the course, I recommend swinging a club indoors or out each day.

If you can't do this, grip a club properly and waggle it to keep the hand muscles tuned.

Tigers got their lone run in the fourth inning. Neil and Bergamin, each with three hits, along with Walker, were the stars for the winners.

M. Cabana, Guay and Salois were the best for Tigers.

White Sox and Yankees battled it out fairly closely, but it was the big first inning when the Sox got nine runs that was the margin of victory for the White Sox.

Yankees kept pegging away at the White Sox's lead but it was too much to overcome. White Sox took the game on the long end of a 17-10 count.

Labonte with three hits, and Vear and Duplessis each with two singles, were the best for White Sox. Fortier, Coates, Garard and Monty shone for the Yankees.

Win By Senators Gives Them Lead In Little League

Senators drubbed Tigers 13-1 and White Sox downed Yankees 17-10 in Little League games played last night.

The win by Senators gives them a three point lead over the Indians in the league standing; White Sox, by their win, take over third spot.

No games are slated for tonight. The All-Star team which plays Valleyfield on Saturday will practice almost every evening for the remainder of this week.

Senators had no trouble in winning their game over the Tigers. They counted six runs in the opening inning, two in the second, four in the third, and finished off with a single tally in the fifth.

Tigers got their lone run in the fourth inning.

Mexican Davis Cup Team Arrives

Bedard To Captain Canadians

QUEBEC (CP) — The Mexican Davis Cup team arrived by plane Monday night for its North American zone cup tie against Canada on the clay courts of the Quebec Civil Employees Tennis Club July 29-31.

Pancho Contreras, the team's playing captain, and Mario Llamas and Antonio Palafox arrived from Chicago where they participated in the U.S. national clay courts championships last week.

A fourth playing member of the team, Rafael Osunas, is studying at the University of California and is not due to arrive until Friday.

Two of the Canadian players, John Swann of Toronto and Vancouver and Francois Godbout of Waterloo, Que., have been training here since last Thursday. They were joined Monday by the team's third playing member, Bob Bedard of Lennoxville, Que.

Swann and Godbout are playing a series of matches with the winner probably drawing a berth for one of the tie's two opening singles matches Saturday.

Swann won the first three matches but lost Monday in straight sets.

Bedard, the No. 1 ranked singles player in Canada, is likely to be one of non-playing captain Lorne Main's selections.

O'Keefe Amateur Tourney Expected To Draw A Good Field July 29-30;

Gordie LeRiche Is Favored To Win

Leading amateur golfers in the Tourney.

The Montreal area will see their low handicaps submitted to a stringent test on the O'Keefe Tourney slated for Saturday and Sunday, July 29 and 30, at the Anjou Golf Club, located on Montee St. Leonard, in this eastern suburb of the Metropolis.

More than 350 entries are expected, out of which some 100 should be Class "A" players. Most clubs in the metropolitan area, as well as others from the surrounding districts, will be represented.

Last year Gordie LeRiche of Hampstead took top honours with a three under par 69, without even playing a practice round before-hand. In commenting on this year's event, Charlie Giraldeau, home Pro for the last five years, pointed out the par for the course this year had been reduced to an even 70.

In addition, the overall distance on several holes has been increased and some tees have been modified. Additional obstacles and hazards mark the approach to many of the greens.

The Anjou Club has a membership of 350. Among these are some of the finest amateur golfers in the area, such as Club Champion Jos Kay, Jos Crossley and Ralph Fuoco.

These players who are familiar with the course should have an edge on other contestants. However, it is hoped that golf personalities, such as Jacques Barrette, who topped the Amateur Division of the Quebec Open; Claude Dufour of Beloeil; Jean David, Isleme and Don Doe of Granby, will participate and won by 213 runs.

Nellie Yarbrough To Get A Chance To Display His Talent Tonight As Als Take On Ottawa Rough Riders

MONTREAL (CP) — Perry Moss expects to learn tonight if Nellie Yarbrough has the stuff to make the Montreal Alouettes go this football campaign.

The lanky youngster is on the firing line as the No. 1 quarterback coach Moss plans to toss out against Ottawa Rough Riders in Montreal's first pre-season game.

He comes to the job virtually untried with the giant shadow of Sam Etcheverry hanging over him.

But there are many in the Alouettes camp who think he could turn out to be a real find, an unknown with untapped possibilities.

Yarbrough, 24, one of five bidding for the job Etcheverry performed for nine brilliant seasons, also faces extra pressure tonight.

In addition to Moss' scrutiny, he'll have to contend with the reaction of fans who doted on Etcheverry, win or lose.

WILL 'HANG LOOSE'
"I guess I'll just have to hang loose in there," the Florida-born 202-pounder said in an interview Monday before the club swung into a two-hour practice.

His experience is restricted to a couple of seasons at the University of Virginia, where he studied dentistry, and last year with a United States Army club overseas.

But in practice and two intra-squad games he handled himself with a superb authority.

The Alouettes defence will also undergo its first severe test tonight.

Moss figures he has the material to convert defence from a severe sore spot to a strong point.

Newcomer defenders who have provided the optimism are tackles Ed Nickla and Bobby Jack Oliver, end Don Paquette, linebacker Ron Brewer and halfbacks Gene Gaines and Billy Wayne.

Ed Meadows, a strong end, will sit out. He injured his shoulder in practice but is expected to return.
