Dr. Orton, M. P., arrived this morning. Dr. Griffiths, the bigamist, was at one time his partner, and he says rumors were afloat up West that Griffiths was keeping company with the young lady he subsequently married. His attention was drawn to the fact but he gave it an emphatic denial.

Miss Romaine has at last entered an action for breach of marriage against Mr. McLean, of the law firm of Walker & McLean. It will be remembered that the ceremony was somewhat short through the intervention of a friend of McLean's entering the church and whispering something in his ear as the couple knelt before the altar, awaiting the vows which would make them man and wife.

Annie Thompson, keeper of one of the most notorious dens in the city, was discharged today, the inmates swearing that they never saw anything disorderly happen. This is taken as strengthening the Commissioner's contention that the suppression of such places is impossible without direct evidence.

Some fifty or sixty representatives of the various benevolent and provident societies and associations of Canada assembled in one of the parlours of the Rossin House this afternoon to consider the advisability of placing the business and operations of such associations upon a more definite and satisfactory basis, having in view the doubts lately cast upon their position under the existing laws. IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—In the House of Commons to-day, Sir C. Dilke, replying to various attacks on the foreign policy of Government, denied that French troops had been prepared for embarkation to Egypt. The Government, he said, still adheres to European concert as a means of adjusting foreign difficulties, and believes its influence to be useful in the Egyptian question. He denied the reported revolt at Herat. In regard to the Jews of Russia, all precedents showed English interference in the internal affairs of a foreign country would meet a rebuff and do more harm than good.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, Feb. 15—Commander Selby, of the British man-of-war "Falcon," while on a shooting excursion near Artaki, was seriously wounded by an Albanian with an axe. At the request of the British Ambassador, the President of the Turkish Council of Ministers ordered the arrest of his assailant. Turkish and British men-of-war have proceeded to Artaki. Selby is in a critical condition. Selby had been warned by the Albanian not to shoot in the vicinity of his flocks, but did not understand the warning. Selby put his gun on the ground to show he was peacefully inclined, whereupon the Albanian attempted to seize it. A struggle ensued for the possession of the weapon. The Albanian desisted on Captain Grenfell pointing a gun at him, but afterward returned with a comrade, when Selby was attacked with an axe. While returning to their ship the English officers were attacked by 15 armed Albanians, who knocked them senseless with the butt ends of muskets and bound them with cords. Subsequently Consul Wrench succeeded in procuring the release of Selby and his companions by offering himself as a hostage. Wrench was afterwards released.

VIENNA, Feb. 15—Considerable money and military maps, with notes written in Russian, were found at the residence of the Burgomaster of Orahovac, near the Montenegrin frontier, which were recently captured from the insurgents.

A semi-official organ, discussing the Panslavist agitation, admits the majority of the population of Servia and Montenegro sympathise with the insurgents, and says Austria would be prudent to avoid raising difficulties for the Servian and Montenegrin Governments in maintaining its hitherto loyal attitude.

He gave a description of the resources of the colony, and said not one in a thousand in the colonies desired separation from England, though, if they had a tenth of the grievances America had one hundred years ago, they, too, would demand liberty. He predicted that in a few years the colonies of Australia would become a vast empire and a great power.

AGE OF ENLIGHTENMENT.

In an age of enlightenment like the present, the value of electricity, and of compounds containing an electric principle as remedial agents, is widely appreciated. Foremost among the latter both as regards the thoroughness and safety of its effects, and the rapidity of its action, is THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL, a widely popular external and internal remedy for coughs, colds, sore throat, asthma, croup, and other affections of the breathing organs: an invaluable outward specific for lame back, soreness and contraction of the muscles, and every variety of sore or hurt; a prompt source of relief for pain, and a medicine upon which the public can also implicitly depend in cases of rheumatism, neuralgia, piles and kidney complaints, inflammatory affections, dysentery, and many other ailments. Its persistent use eradicates the most obstinate of the disorders to which it is adapted. Physicians speak of it in the highest terms. Moreover, horsemen and stock raisers administer it with the greatest success for diseases and hurts of horses and cattle. Sold by all medicine dealers Price, 25 cents. That Informer Business.

St. Patrick's Society Investigation—The Report of their Committee—Mr. McNamee Defines an Informer's Fate—He should be made "An End of: Quick, Sharp, and Decisive."

Last evening a meeting of St. Patrick's Society and kindred associations was held in St. Patrick's Hall, to consider the report of a committee appointed some time ago to proceed to New York and investigate the authorship of a certain article that had appeared in the New York Hour, and was afterward copied into the Post and other Canadian newspapers. Its tenor was that a certain Irishman, a citizen of Montreal and wealthy contractor, had received from the Government a large sum of money for turning informer upon the Fenian Brotherhood and its plans during the raids of 1866 and 1870. The committee reported through Mr. J. F. Quinn, who read the following affidavit. It sets forth that Mr. F. B. McNamee was the party named, and gives the sources of his information:

THE AFFIDAVIT.

CITY AND COUNTY OF NEW YORK.

I, Frederick J. Hamilton, of the city of New York, formerly of the city of Montreal, in the Dominion of Canada, journalist, being duly sworn, do depose and say:

1. I am the author of the article published in The Hour, a paper published in this city, headed "The British Secret Service in America," which article appeared on the 5th of November last, 1881.

2. That I had no special reason or motive for writing said article at the present time, to wit, last November, other than that mentioned in the letter of to-day's date addressed by me to Mr. M. J. F. Quinn, Montreal, and said article was not prompted or instigated by any one, nor did I consult any person prior to or at the time of writing the same.

3. That I had no personal knowledge whatever on which to base said article.

4. That during the year (1875) eighteen hundred and seventy-five, while in the city of Ottawa, in the said Dominion of Canada, and during a session of the Parliament of Canada, dependent heard the name of Mr. Francis B. McNamee, contractor of the city of Montreal, mentioned as having received sums of money from the Government of the Dominion of Canada for having given to said Government the names of certain persons in Canada supposed to be connected with Fenianism, and as having designs against the peace and good order of the said Dominion. That the names of those who informed deponent of this were Rufus Stephenson, member of the Parliament of the said Dominion, and one Isaac Brock, formerly of Ottawa, in Canada.

5. That subsequently, in the city of Montreal—deponent cannot recollect any specific dates, but during different election times and times of public excitement—on various occasions and places, deponent was told the same thing, viz.: that the said Francis B. McNamee had received large sums of money from the said Government for having given information to it concerning the Fenian organization, and for having exposed names of parties who were supposed to be or were connected with the Fenian organization in Canada, by John J. Curran, Q.C., of said city of Montreal.

6. That deponent was furthermore told the same thing during the month of September, 1879, during the time of the contemplated visit to the city of Montreal of the 69th National Guard of the State of New York, by Mr. Bernard Tansey, inn-keeper, of the city of Montreal.

7. That both the said Messrs. John J. Curran, Q.C., and Bernard Tansey accused the said Mr. Francis B. McNamee of receiving sums of money from the Canadian Government for the reasons already mentioned.

8. That subsequently to the writing of the said article in The Hour, deponent met John P. Whelan, one of the proprietors of the Montreal Post, in this city, and in the course of conversation with him regarding said article, the said Whelan informed deponent that the said Mr. Francis B. McNamee had been suspected by the Fenian Brotherhood of New York, of having betrayed their secrets and cause, and that the organization in Canada had warned P. J. Meehan, publisher of the paper known as the Irish American, a paper published in this city, against the said Francis McNamee. That this conversation took place between the deponent and the said John B. Whelan in the city of New York on the seventeenth January, 1882, and the said Whelan further informed deponent that the said Meehan had stated to him that he had a correspondence in cipher in his possession warning the Fenian Brotherhood against the said Francis B. McNamee, and that the said Meehan had promised to forward the said correspondence to the said Whelan.

9. That deponent on the twenty-fifth January instant, called upon the said Meehan, having obtained a letter of introduction to him from the said Whelan (and which letter is now in my possession) to ascertain the truth of the statements made to him. That said P. J. Meehan neither denied nor admitted the correctness of said Whelan's statements, and declined to divulge any correspondence, but stated that he knew nothing personally against the said Mr. Francis B. McNamee; that all his knowledge was based on hearsay.

10. That the said John P. Whelan further informed deponent, at the time of the said conversation, that he (Whelan) knew and could lay his hands on four or five persons who knew the career of the said Mr. Francis B. McNamee, but mentioned no names.

11. That the said John P. Whelan further stated that one Eugene O'Rourke (whom deponent does not know and has never seen to his knowledge) could give evidence against the said Mr. Francis B. McNamee relative to the matters referred to in this affidavit.

12. That deponent knows nothing whatever personally against the said Mr. Francis B. McNamee, and furthermore has no other information in his possession other than that above detailed. That this affidavit includes everything concerning the said Mr. Francis B. McNamee with which deponent is acquainted, and further deponent saith not and hath signed.

(Signed,) FRED. J. HAMILTON.

Sworn and subscribed this twenty-sixth day of January, 1881, at the city of New York.

(Signed,) G. H. ALEXANDER,
Notary Public, King's County, N. Y.

REPLIES TO THE AFFIDAVIT.

Mr. Quinn then showed that he had written to each of the parties named in the affidavit and had received replies from most of them. Mr. Rufus Stephenson, M. P., replied that he never had met Mr. P. J. Hamilton during a session of Parliament or at any other time, and that so far as it concerned him the affidavit was false in every particular. Mr. B. Tansey could call to mind no conversation such as the affidavit mentioned. He had, however, heard of the informer and was prepared at the proper time and place to tell what he knew, under oath, before a court of justice. Mr. J. J. Curran, Q. C., also was ready to tell what he had heard concerning the matter if called into Court to do so. He did not recollect having made use of the language attributed to him in the affidavit. Mr. James Humphreys also was ready to tell what he knew in a court of justice. Messrs. Lyons and McGrath wrote, stating that they never had made accusations against McNamee. No replies had been received from the other parties mentioned in the affidavit. The report concluded by saying that—"Your Committee, therefore, conclude that, having used every possible endeavor to discover the truth of the article published in the Post of the 23rd of December last, they have been unable to find any fact upon which such an article could be based."

Mr. Quinn moved the adoption of the report, when Mr. Richard McShane took exception to it, and said he had not signed it because he believed that the Committee had not gotten such information as could be had.

A member objected to the name of St. Patrick's Society being used in connection with the Committee's report.

Mr. Quinn said that that point had been decided at the last meeting. He believed that the Committee honestly had endeavored to find out the truth of the statements made. Having found out the author of the article, they failed to discover any facts to justify it, and believed that they were called upon to give their opinions from the evidence before them.

An awkward pause ensued, during which the presiding officer called upon any member to say what had to be said upon the subject.

MR. M'NAMEE'S SPEECH.

Mr. F. B. McNamee then came forward, and was greeted with applause. He said: I stand before you here to-night after living in the city of Montreal for over half a century, to meet the accusation of having been an informer. During my life and during my association with the men of Montreal, my doctrine always has been that informers should have short lives. (Loud applause.) I have always advocated that doctrine, and I fervently hope that it will be carried out to the end of the chapter—(applause)—that any informer that damaged the cause of Ireland, either in Ireland or Montreal, by informing upon any man, should be made an end of—quick, sharp and decisive. (Loud cheers.) Mr. McNamee then complained that he had been hounded by men opposed to him and who had tried upon every occasion to ruin him. Mr. A. M. Sullivan, of Ireland, had been accused of being an informer, but had come out of the crucible as pure as pure gold. He, Mr. McNamee, would do the same. (Cheers). He was connected with St. Patrick's Society in 1862, and had called upon the lamented John O'Mahony, in New York, whom he endeavored to induce to give a lecture in Montreal. When he came back he had the anger of scorn pointed at him as a Fenian head centre and was held up to the odium of his Protestant fellow-citizens. They had not ruined him, notwithstanding. He then referred to the bitter opposition made to him in St. Patrick's Society when he had run for office. Again, when they had had trouble in Montreal about processions. When these processions, intended to insult the Irish people, had been talked of, did he show the white feather? (Applause). Certain gentlemen thought they would bring their friends to Montreal and have a military parade at that time. He was then glad to see them. (Laughter and applause.) Well, the St. Patrick's Society thought it would be a good thing to invite the Sixty-ninth Regiment, of New York, to come to our city. (Prolonged applause.) The very same individuals that had hounded him all along then found that the Sixty-ninth was the regiment that had insulted the Prince of Wales when in New York. They said that McNamee was at the bottom of it and wanted to insult the Protestant people of Montreal, with whom they wanted to live in peace. This he denied. Passing on, he recounted the slanders put upon him, and bitterly denounced the Post newspaper management. He had done his best to found that newspaper, but it insulted him through its management every time an opportunity presented itself. He continued at some length, and held that the damning charge of being an informer had hurt him no more than other charges. If any man in the room believed him, F. B. McNames, to be an informer, in God's name let him shoot him, and he would give him money to buy the revolver. He concluded a very long speech in a few more words.

Mr. J. P. Whelan, in answer to repeated calls said that he also had been investigating the informer question. There was little doubt that there had been informers. Who they were he was not prepared to say. He would tell the result of his investigations when the proper time came, and not until then. He sustained the course of the Post as one taken in the cause of Irishmen of Montreal, and said it would be so continued.

After some further remarks the report of the Committee was adopted and the meeting adjourned—Witness.

Oscar Wilde is said to have received a guinea a line for the short poem by him in Our Continent. As the poem is thirty lines long this brings his pay for the trifle up to $150. Men have been paid more, Tennyson once received $50 a line; but no verse in recent years has been quoted higher.

The late Prof. Skoda, one of Vienna's greatest surgeons, had, until within a year or two before his death, worn garments of a most unfashionable cut. His friends often joked with him about the matter, but he bore their fun good-naturedly, without making any explanation. One day a friend observed that he was much more stylishly clad than usual. "This is an unhoped-for pleasure, Skoda," said he, "to see you for once properly dressed." "Say no more," said the surgeon gravely; he who has made my clothing for all the years you have known me did not, it is true, give it a very fashionable shape; but he let me have clothes long before I had achieved success; and he never pressed me for money when he suspected that I was pressed for it myself. How would you do, my friend—leave such a man for one who merely cut cloth in a different shape?" "But why then do you leave him now?" inquired the friend. "He is dead," said Skoda.

QUEBEC, THURSDAY, FEB. 16, 1882.

FOOD ADULTERATION.

Continuing our consideration of the departmental reports, which, as we have before remarked, are in very good season this year, we have to deal to-day, with the report on the adulteration of food. This is a most important subject, and we are glad to see that it continues to receive careful attention at the hands of the authorities. It is under the control of the Minister of Inland Revenue, and forms supplement No. 3 of the Blue-Book devoted to his Department of the Public Service. This is the sixth annual report of the Commissioner, and it deals fully with the analysis of food, and the tabulated details furnished by the experts appointed under the act made and provided. The returns are most interesting and striking, and should prove of great value to every household, as they shew at a glance, the amount of adulteration which is practised by many of the suppliers of the various articles of consumption which enter into our method of living. This statement is a summary of the whole number of samples analysed by the Dominion analysts:—

Name of Samples.	Genuine.	Adulterated.	Doubtful.	Total.
Allspice	8	17	....	25
Bread	59	2	2	63
Butter	146	56	7	209
Canned Fruit	19	3	....	22
Cloves	6	7	....	13
Cinnamon or Cassia	12	12	....	24
Chocolate	51	3	3	57
Cocoa	35	11	8	54
Coffee	17	41	....	58
Ginger	7	5	....	12
Mace	1	1	....	2
Milk	150	42	17	209
Mustard	2	2	....	4
Nutmeg	1	....	....	1
Pepper	16	29	....	45
Potted Meats and Fish	20	2	....	22
Sugar	63	....	....	63
Sweets	52	4	....	56
Syrup	16	6	....	22
Tea	62	17	1	80
Total	743	260	38	1,041

From the above table it will be seen that out of one thousand and forty-one samples analysed, two hundred and sixty, or nearly twenty-five per cent. were adulterated, and thirty-eight returned as doubtful. This is altogether too high a proportion. We cannot help feeling that there is something radically wrong and dishonest somewhere. Take the article of butter, and what do we find? Out of 209 samples the returns how 56 as adulterated and 7 doubtful.

Allspice the difference is over fifty per ent,—seventeen samples adulterated against only eight, exhibited as genuine In Cinnamon or Cassia, an article largely used by the housekeeper, we find 12 samples returned as bogus and 12 as pure. In Cocoa only 35 were approved of as good as against 11 samples as bad, and 8 doubtful, in a total of 54 specimens. This is out of all reason. But Coffee is far worse. The total number of samples submitted of this popular article was only 58, 17 of which were discovered to be genuine, while 41 were adjudged adulterated. Ginger ranked 7 good and 5 bad. Two hundred and nine samples of milk, were found to show 150 samples genuine, 42 adulterated, and 17 doubtful. Pepper is another article which is easy of adulteration. The returns give us 16 good and 29 bad. Potted meats and fish exhibit a better showing, there being 20 samples adjudged as genuine against 2 proved to be not true. In tea 80 samples were analyzed with this result, 62 good, 17 bad and one doubtful.

This table shows the percentage of adulteration for the past six years:—

Year.	Genuine.	Adulterated.	Doubtful.	Total Number Analysed.	Percentage of adulteration
1876...	87	93	..	180	51·66
1877...	241	247	..	488	50·61
1878...	523	271	19	813	33·33
1879...	619	235	42	896	26·22
1880...	728	295	20	1,043	28·28
1881...	749	260	38	1,041	24·97

The following table shows the percentage of adulterations of condiments for the past six years:—

Year	Genuine.	Adulterated.	Doubtful.	Total Number Analysed.	Percentage of adulteration
1876...	5	39	..	44	88.63
1877...	24	83	..	107	77.57
1878...	26	108	..	134	80.59
1879...	51	64	2	117	54.70
1880...	66	74	..	140	52.85
1881...	53	73	..	126	50.79

The late Dr. Larue, the public analyst for Quebec, in his report to the Commissioner, A. Brunel, Esq., dated 27th June, 1881, said "out of 73 analyses which I made in 1876, 30 samples were adulterated and six doubtful. From the return for 1881, it will be seen that not a single sample has been found adulterated. The manufacture of butter is alone complained of." The foregoing part of this statement is highly gratifying, but the concluding portion, the reference to butter, only confirms the remarks which we have ime and again, made in these columns. The fact is our farmers and dairy people do not know how to make butter and they seem to evince no desire to learn the art. We think it well to add here, the words of Dr. Larue on this point. He says that too much water is used, too much kitchen or coarse salt is employed, and the proportion of caseine is far too great. These are the conditions necessary to the production of good butter:—

"1st. The cream must be fresh.

"2nd. To ensure the freshness of the cream in summer, the milk should be placed in an ice-house, or over cold well water or dishes filled with cold water. In our farmers' dairies as now constructed, it is impossible to preserve cream in the fresh state. Fermentation rapidly sets in, and, owing to the presence of caseine, mould is formed.

"3rd. The dairy must be well ventilated.

"4th. The milk should be placed in tin dishes, or in tureens, having the edges turned out; the tin of these vessels should be of the best quality. The vessels should be washed each time that fresh milk is put into them.

"5th. In summer time the cream rises to the surface of the milk within thirty-six hours, when the foregoing precautions have been taken.

"6th. Three varieties of butter are offered for sale on the markets of my division—spring butter, summer butter and autumn butter.

"Spring butter is the white butter produced before the cows have been put out to grass, while they are still fed upon hay. This butter is to be found in my division until the 1st of June. In June and July the butter assumes a yellow color, which is owing to the chlorophyll contained in the herbage of the pasture. Autumn butter (August, September, October) is also of a yellow color. Winter and spring butter should not be salted down for use during the same year, still less for use during the ensuing year.

"The manufacture of butter being so important a matter in my division, I consider it proper to give certain details in respect to the manner of making it. These details are taken from reliable sources, and have been furnished to me by eminently practical persons.

"In my division butter is made in two different ways—by churn and by hand.

"Butter made by hand is always bad; that made by churn is alone to be recommended. The churn should be entirely of wood, either pine or fir; the latter wood is to be preferred. The tub should be made without ears, and fitted with a tightly-closing cover. If the tubs have ears, the butter contained in them passes for Canadian butter on the English market, a reputation of which the Americans are careful to avail themselves. Before the butter is put into new fir tubs, care should be taken to scald out the latter with an infusion of raspberry bush twigs. The same tubs should never be used twice; those that have already been used are utilised as vessels for the making of soap, or for keeping it for use. One of the principal precautions to be observed in the making of good butter is to entirely remove the butter-milk full of caseine, and this can only be done effectively by powerful compression.

"Compression may be effected in two different manners. It is done by hand, with the assistance of a rolling-pin, on a marble or birch table. Compression may also be applied by aid of a machine, and this method is infinitely superior."

With regard to milk, Dr. Larue found that all samples submitted with the exception of one, were, in respect of purity, everything that could be desired. He examined five samples of candies, all of which, with one exception were discovered to be perfectly pure. The exception was soiled by fly-blow. All the sugars which he tested, both raw and refined, were found to be pure. Coffee and pepper were also adjudged genuine. Indeed the shewing from Quebec is superior to that of any part of Canada. No returns which we have seen are nearly as clear and satisfactory.

OTTAWA CORRESPONDENCE.

Special to the Chronicle.

Ottawa, Feb. 15.—Mr. Hay to-day presented the petition of the Toronto Board of Trade for the abolition of the stamp duty on bills of exchange and promissory notes.

Petitions for and against the Deceased Wife Sister's Bill are pouring in rapidly. Mr. Girouard will introduce the measure at an early date.

Hon. Mr. Mousseau presented the second report of the Civil Service Commission. The Commissioners state that they found serious difficulties to contend with in attempting to form a new theoretical organization to be applied in detail to each department. The weeding out of the service of those who are incompetent, the removal of redundant employees and the substitution of clerks of the third class for those who are now ranked in the higher classes, and receiving high-class pay for the performance of purely routine work, will require time and consideration, which must necessarily be left to the action of the Government in concert with the Civil Service Commission. Further enquiries have confirmed the Commissioners in favor of impressions as to the cause of redundancy of employees, namely, that work of an inferior order has been assigned to persons holding higher rank than the nature of these duties can justify, and that this has resulted from a desire to paliate injustice by giving promotion to deserving clerks whose legitimate advancement has been impeded by the advancement over their heads of persons who had not passed through the lower grades. In this way the number of chief and first-class clerks necessary for the direction and control of the subordinate classes has been over-estimated, and this over-estimate has influenced almost every one from whom the Commission endeavored to obtain information as to what staff was really necessary. The Commission recommend a complete separation of the duties of control from actual labor; that chief clerkships should be limited; that deputy heads should not be required to do any clerical labor; that in the absence of the deputy the senior chief clerk should act, and that accountants' salaries should not exceed $2,000. The Commission again calls attention to the structural arrangement of the offices, being such as to prevent proper supervision over the employees. The great bulk of the service is purely clerical and should be performed by clerks of the third class, who require the supervision of clerks of the higher grades; they are required under the present regulations to work six and a half hours per day. The Commissioners are of opinion that for want of proper supervision they do not average more than two-thirds of that time actual work, and they urge on the Government the adoption of large rooms where there could be better supervision. The Commissioners then give in detail the number and grades of clerks they consider sufficient for each department, which show a considerable reduction on the present numbers. On the question of superannuatien, the Commissioners say that having carefully examined the superannuation laws of the United Kingdom and Australian colonies, they have come to the conclusion not to advise any change in the Canadian law, which in their opinion "works fairly and equally, both as regards the service and as regards the public." They advise, however, greater stringency in administering the law, and that there should be a determined refusal to superannuate any public servant unless it can be clearly shown that such superannuation is within the intention of the law or that either it will result in benefit to the service or that it has become necessary in consequence of the physical or mental infirmity of the employee. They however recommend that the Civil Service Act should contain a provision to the effect that no person hereafter to be appointed shall be deemed to have served in the permanent Civil Service of Canada for the purpose of the Superannuation Act, unless such person has been admitted into the Civil Service on a certificate from the Civil Service Commissioners. The full returns as to the effect of the Superannuation Act or the cost of carrying on the service shows that it has caused a net gain of $328,566. In order to afford provision for the families of deceased civil servants, the Commissioners recommend the adoption of Professor Cherriman's plan of Government insurance. The Commissioners say it is based on intelligible business principles. It will cost the Government nothing beyond its management and in so far as it is made compulsory the sums to be insured are proportioned to the salaries received by the employees in the various grades through which they are expected to pass. Its chief recommendation as compared with insurance in an ordinary company is that the premiums are not enhanced by charges for profits, management and investment risks, which with many companies amount to as much as one-half of its natural premiums. It is part of Professor Cherriman's plan that as to any one who enters the service hereafter the insurance of his life shall be compulsory, but as regards those already in the service it is proposed to make it optional and to impose reasonable restrictions for the protection of the insurance fund, such as medical examinations and additional years added for impaired health.

The return of superannuation allowance and estimates laid on the table by Sir L. Tilley to-day shows that from 16th December, 1880, to 14th January, 1882, there have been superannuated 75 employees, entailing an annual expense of $27,206, and five clerks have received gratuities on leaving the service aggregating $3,225; five employees have been placed on the retired list on account of the abolition of their offices, their annual allowance amounting to $6,400; 24 annual allowances amounting to $11,857 have lapsed on account of deaths; in nine cases of superannuation periods varying from five to ten years have been added to the terms of actual service. The total receipts on account of the superannuation fund to 30th June, 1880, were $480,450; for payments $948,219.

A return asked for by Mr. Cameron (Huron) last session was brought down today, shewing expenses incurred by members of the Government or other persons sent to England or elsewhere on behalf of the Government from 10th February, 1880, to 16th December 1880. By this it appears that the total expenses of Sir John Macdonald, Sir C. Tupper, Hon. Mr. Pope and Colonel Dennis in London, while negotiating the Pacific Railway contract, were $6,860, which will strike most people as very cheap, considering what they accomplished for the country.

It is rumored here that Mr. McIntyre has sold out his interest in the Pacific Railway to Mr. Vanderbilt for $5,000,-000.

There is a rumor to-night that George Stephens, of the Pacific Railway, has purchased $23,000 of the late Geo. Brown's stock in the Globe, held by Mrs. Brown, and that he has otherwise obtained a controlling interest in that paper.

Sir H. L. Langevin gave another parliamentary dinner to-night.

A deputation headed by Mr. Abbott, M. P., waited on the Minister of Public Works to-day in relation to the slide at Grenville, and expressed themselves pleased with their reception. The three Toronto members and Mayor McMurrich also waited on the Minister of Public Works to-day about the improvements to the harbor. The Minister was unable to inform them of the proposed improvement, in as much as the report of Capt. Eads has not been received.

Mr. Kirkpatrick to-day presented a petition from the Ontario Bank for power to reduce its capital stock to one million and a half, and to change the nominal value of the shares from $40 to $100.

Some surprise was caused at the state ball last night by the appearance of the Mayor of a neighboring city gallantly arrayed in a frock coat which he had made specially for the occasion, believing that to be the proper and correct thing to wear.

A bill to amend the criminal law and to extend the provisions of the act respecting offences against the person will be introduced this session by Mr. Cameron, of Huron. He will also introduce a bill to enable persons charged with misdemeanors to be competent as witnesses.

Sir L. Tilley laid on the table to-day the usual statement of the Governor-General's warrants; the amount of the warrants for the year 1881-1882 was $481,640, of which $179,350 were to meet expenditure in the North-West, the appropriation being exhausted: $147,789 for food for destitute Indians, and $53,604 to meet salaries of judges under the new judicature act in Ontario.

Escape of Gas.

It is stated that a serious leakage of gas occurred early yesterday morning up the Cove, the gas filling the residences of Mr. Montgomery, Mr. Huck and Mr. John Burns. Mr. Montgomery, his mother and his sister, Mr. Huck and his entire family and the family of Mr. Burns, were more or less asphyxiated by the gas, a little girl of Mr. Huck's being seriously affected. The escape occurred about five o'clock in the morning. Had it been at night, fatal consequences would probably have ensued.

SPECIAL FROM OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Feb. 15—Yesterday afternoon a constable from Pembroke arrested near there a man named McGuire, on a charge of bigamy. The prisoner was a man sixty years of age, and seemed to take his arrest very lightly, acknowledging that he had married about four or five wives, but did not consider that any legal consequences would follow his arrest. The prisoner was at once put on the C. P. R. train by the officer, who intended imprisoning McGuire in Aylmer gaol. Soon after the train had got under way, McGuire asked as a favor of the constable that his hands should remain free, at the same time alleging that he was troubled with a bodily affliction which would necessitate a frequent visit to the closet. This the unsuspecting officer permitted, but constantly kept a sharp look-out. Everything went well for a while, prisoner seeming quite unanxious about his present position, even joking of the matter with his custodian, who allowed him the liberty asked for. As the train, which was at the time going at the rate of 35 miles an hour, was nearing the town of Ashton, the prisoner pleading his customary excuse arose from his seat proceeded towards the closet door, but instead of entering as before he opened the door of the car, stood for an instant on the platform without, and then to the horror of the dumb-founded officer leaped from the train. A momentary glance from the platform of the flying car showed the daring prisoner evolving with fearful rapidity down the steep incline; another instant and the scene of the daring escape was shut out from view, and as the train sped onwards no thought of a possibility of the prisoner's escape was entertained by any on board. As sooon as the train had reached Ottawa the constable communicated the facts of the occurrence to the authorities here and shortly afterwards a telegram was received stating that McGuire had escaped death and was then in Stottsville, a town about 25 miles from this city, and to have reached which the prisoner must have walked a distance of at least five miles from the scene of his miraculous escape. Procuring a horse and sleigh the officer immediately upon receiving this intelligence drove with all haste to Scottsville, where he found the prisoner and re-arrested him. The prisoner is described as being thoroughly hardened in appearance and utterly reckless as to his fate. McGuire's head is badly bruised and hands and face dreadfully lacerated.

The Griffiths bigamy case comes up on Saturday.

The Governor-General, accompanied by Judge and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. Russell Stevenson, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. and Miss Robinson, Mrs. Campbell and Mr. Verschoyle, visited the Geological and Natural History Museum this afternoon. Much pleasure was expressed at the advanced state of the arrangement of the museum and the fine display made of the economic minerals and fossil treasures of the Dominion. A beginning has also been made towards the accumulation of archiological and natural history collections. His Excellency and party were escorted through the building by Dr. Selwyn and the officers of the survey and spent nearly two hours in the careful examination of the contents.

Lady Balfour and several other lady guests at Government House occupied seats on the floor of the House to-day.

Messrs. Walter C. Stoke, John C. Stoke, Artemus H. Holmes and Hon. Edward Pierrepont, of N. Y., who have been at the capital since Monday, engaged in business connected with the Manitoba and South-Western Railway, left for home this evening. They represent the Northern Pacific Railway interest in that road, and the object of their visit is to secure a connection with the line. It is said the Government refused to act on the matter, pending a decision in the case now before the Manitoba Courts and which will decide whether the Schultz party or the Northern Pacific men have the law on their side.

Mr. D. Smith, of this city, has been appointed to succeed Mr. Gallagher in the Public Works Department.

A deputation of Montreal cigar manufacturers, consisting of Messrs. Lesser, Fortier and Davis, had an interview with the Minister of Customs to-day with regard to the duty on imported cigars, which they wish to have increased from 61 cents per pound to $2.50, the same as in the United States.

The Stomach and Bowels.

The slightest derangement of these vital organs must be attended to at once. Delays are dangerous. Dr. L. R. Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills are a sovereign remedy for all such ailments. They never fail. Ask for them. They are sold everywhere.

For Severe Coughs and Hoarseness.

Philadelphia, Jan. 1, 1876.

Messrs. Seth W Fowle & Sons:

Gentlemen—Miss S. Burns, of Seventeenth and Coates Streets, has long been a sufferer from a severe cough and hoarseness, which I considered chronic. She was treated by some of our most eminent physicians, but they were only able to afford her temporary relief. I prescribed Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, the use of four bottles of which entirely cured her, as it is now four months since she took the last of it, during which time she has had no return of the complaint. For the good of suffering humanity, Miss Burns has requested me to lay the case before the public.

Yours truly, T. D. McGrath, M.D., Druggist and Chemist, S. E. cor. Seventh and Wharton Streets.

50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Mr. Wm. Boyd Hill, Cobourg, writes:—"Having used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for some years, I have much pleasure in testifying to its efficacy in relieving pains in the back and shoulders. I have also used it in cases of croup in children, and have found it to be all that you claim it to be."

News of the City and District.

The Weather.—The thaw still continues, and the weather resembles that usual at the end of March.

Illegal Fishing.—We are glad to learn that Lake Beauport is again closed, in order to the natural propagation of fish.

The Ice Harvest.—A bountiful supply of good ice is being now cut in the St. Charles river. Some of it measured considerably over a foot thick.

St. George's Hall.—We learn that the enterprising proprietor of the Albion Hotel is about arranging for a lease of this Hall in connection with his hotel.

Throat Affections and Hoarseness.—All suffering from Irritation of the Throat and Hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches."

Montcalm Ward.—Mr. James Maguire, plumber, has consented to oppose Mr. Thos. Molony in this ward at the approaching municipal elections.

Canada Asbestos Company.—It was Mr. L. N. Carrier, of the Credit Foncier, and not Mr. C. W. Carrier, who was elected the other day a director of the Canada Asbestos Company.

Annual Meeting.—The annual general meeting of the Quebec and Lake St. John Railway Company takes place at the company's office, Commercial Chambers, this afternoon, at three o'clock.

Accident.—A man named Roger, employed upon the repairs to Montcalm Market Hall, fell from the roof into the room below a day or two ago, and has been so badly injured that he will be some days unable to work.

An Imperative Want.—A correspondent enquires pertinently enough when the Corporation are going to rebuild the St. Augustin street steps which have now been closed for upwards of six months.

A miserable effort at economy is practiced when the owner of stock decides that anything is good enough for his horse. His wiser neighbor uses St. Jacob's Oil, and never has anything else but good fortune with his animals and pleasure in their appearance.

The Thursday Evening Concert and Recitations under the auspices of the St. Patrick's Literary Institute will take place in their Hall, Anne street, this evening. The proceedings will commence at eight o'clock sharp. Admission ten cents.—See advt.

Quebec Temperance Union.—A meeting of ladies interested in temperance work will be held at five p.m., to-day (Thursday), in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, for the purpose of perfecting the organization of the ladies' auxiliary of the Quebec Temperance Union.

Cheap and Good.—For 50 cents you can purchase from any reliable druggist, a box of Mack's Magnetic Medicine, which contains forty-five doses; this is cheaper than any other similar medicine sold, and while it is cheap our druggists say it is the best, and gives satisfaction in all cases. Read the advertisement in another column. Sold in Quebec by LaRoche & Co., opposite Post Office, and J. J. Veldon, 122, St. Joseph Street.

Quebecers at Winnipeg.—The Winnipeg Sun, of a recent date, contained the following:—"Mr. Torrance, of Montreal and Quebec, who bought volunteer claims largely a few years since, has come up to Winnipeg to find out exactly how much he is worth. Mr. J. S. Coolican has secured the splendid premises, known as the Ashdown property, corner of Queen and Main streets, and will open up a boom in the real estate business."

Police Court, Yesterday.—(Before Judge Chauveau)—Joseph Portelance, charged with stealing a valise and other articles from Edouard Jobin, of Charlesbourg, and Alfred Berube and Louis Paquet, charged with stealing $3.50 and a pair of scissors from the person of Benoit Belanger, were committed for trial. All three, however, consented to be tried under the "Speedy Trial Act," and will be brought up again for that purpose to-morrow.

Personals.—We are gratified to learn that the health of Lieutenant-Colonel Andrew Stuart has of late materially improved.——John Sharples, Esq., has been re-elected Mayor for the Municipal Council of the Parish of St. Columba of Sillery.——The Ottawa papers mention that a new waltz has been dedicated to Sir Hector Langevin.——Hon. A. P. Caron will give a musical conversazione, at Ottawa, next Saturday evening.——Messrs. Caron and Robitaille, M.P.P.'s, are at the Russell House.

Early in December Mr. Underwood, of New York, gave an evening of readings in the Y. M. C. A., and although his charges were exceedingly moderate the Association barely cleared expenses. The Lecture Committee have engaged Miss Nella F. Brown, of Boston, for two evenings at a great risk so far as the price they are paying her. Our citizens often cry out because so few first-class entertainments are brought on here. On the 6th and 7th of March there will be an opportunity to shew what encouragement first-class talent will receive in Quebec.

Hockey.—A good hockey match is expected at the Quebec Skating Rink, Grande Allee, at eight o'clock, this evening. Don't fail to go, as the match will be a close one and exciting. We wish good luck to our team and hope there will be a large number of spectators at the rink to show the interest taken in our hockey team. The Montreal team is composed of Chas. Lamothe, captain; J. G. Monk, Ed. Sheppard, D. Kinghorn, W. Brown, A. E. Pell and E. Stevenson, and the Quebec team of W. Scott, captain; W. Ashe, Percy Miles, F. Ashe, Percy Anderson, A Swift and A. Colley.

Culpable Negligence.—We wonder how long the tax-payers of the city will put up with the wilful neglect of the Road Department. Here is a place in the midst of the city in our most frequented thoroughfare, we mean that part of St. John street, opposite St. Matthew's Church burying ground, where the Corporation after clearing the sidewalk, as bound to do, allows the snow to remain in a heap for days after, one of the results being that yesterday afternoon the sidewalk in that locality was impassable, there being no less than six inches of water. We ask with what grace can the Police exact from the citizens a compliance with the by-laws when they are so grossly overriden by the civic authorities. If we have a Road Inspector we would like to know what his duty is. We most earnestly call the attention of the Mayor (who we understand seeks re-election) to the proper discharge of the duties of the official called the Road Inspector.

The Concert last Evening—The National School Hall last evening, was filled with a very large and select audience on the occasion of the St. Peter's Church Concert, and the crowning success of the concert must truly be a source of the greatest satisfaction and pleasure to Miss Stratton and to all who so kindly and efficiently assisted her. The opening chorus of the "Briton's Home" as well as the chorus "Dreaming of Home and Mother" were beautifully sung by a large number of children, shewing the careful training they had received. The recitation of the "Revenge" by Miss B. Campbell, was delivered in excellent style and was much appreciated. Miss Lottie Parke sang "Kathleen Aroon" in a sweet and pleasing manner. A piano duet by Misses Price and King was very nicely executed. The vocal duets "Eve" by the Misses Browning and "Stars of Heaven Gently Guide Me" by the Misses Parke were both well received and called forth hearty encores. "Courtship in the Kitchin," a reading by Mr. McLeod, was given in his usual happy manner, and on being encored he excused himself from again appearing in consideration of the length of the programme. Miss Jessie Martin gave with excellent effect "Ah! Death in thee" from "Il Trovatore." The beauty of her charming voice is well known to our citizens and her appearance last evening was greeted with marked enthusiasm, and she kindly responded to a well deserved encore. Miss Stratton's rendering of l'Alliance by Ascher left no doubt, but that as a pianist she stands in the front rank of our best talent. This majestic piece was beautifully executed, shewing her full command of the instrument, and in response to an encore she played with much taste a "Meditation" by Lange. "Hearest Thou" by Mr. Maingy was very nicely given and called forth the hearty applause of the audience. This is the first time we have had the pleasure of hearing this gentleman, and we hope it will not be the last. Mr. Sanderson's recitation of the "Water Mill" was received with great applause, and he responded to an encore by reciting the "Idiot Boy" in a most effective manner. The solo "Tender and True Adieu" by Miss Woodley was charmingly given, and this young lady's sweet voice won the enthusiastic applause of the audience. In response to a well deserved encore she sang with good effect "In the Gloaming." The duett "Hark I Hear the Organ's Peal" by Miss Jessie Martin and Mr. Maingy with organ accompaniment was magnificently executed. "A Chapter of Nonsense," a reading by Mr. Holt, afforded much amusement and was well appreciated. The vocal solo "Still I Love Thee," by Mr. Wilkinson, was very creditably given and merited the applause which it received. Several of the accompaniments including the organ accompaniments to Miss Jessie Martin's solo and the vocal duett by Miss Martin and Mr. Maingy were beautifully given by Miss Andrews and very much admired. This very successful concert was appropriately closed by the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the Queen."

Jabesh Snow, Gunning Cove, N.S., writes:—"I was completely prostrated with the asthma, but hearing of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, I procured a bottle, and it has done me so much good that I got another, and before it was used, I was well. My son was cured of a bad cold by the use of half a bottle. It goes like wild-fire, and makes cures wherever it is used."

SPORTING NEWS.

RACQUETS IN NEW YORK.

The net result of the visit of the Quebec players to New York was that in the professional matches Boakes won three out of five rubbers in which he was engaged; the amateurs, Mr. Hunt and Mr. Stanley Smith, lost the four-handed match won, one of the single matches, but lost the other. Boakes played better than ever and fully maintained his reputation, but he was over-weighted in having to concede such long odds as an extra hand to so fine a player as Moore. Nevertheless he played up with wonderful gameness and perseverance, and a turn of luck in the fourth game, when he had pulled up to game-ball to his opponent's 12, would probably have won him the match; but Moore stuck to his work with the utmost pertinacity, and the extra hand telling heavily in his favor at the finish, the Quebec representative had to give in. The first game of the return match, when Boakes conceded three aces to his opponent instead of the extra hand, was exceedingly interesting. Moore played up in first rate form and succeeded in setting the game at 13 all. Then came a fine struggle to decide which was the better man. Ace after ace was played without a score, but Boakes gradually wore down his opponent and won the set at five to two. This settled the match as Moore made no further effort worthy of mention and Boakes won as he liked.

The four-handed amateur match was a very tame affair, and apart from the service of Mr. Lydig (which won the game for New York) and some well-played aces from Mr. Hunt there was nothing worthy of notice. The New York court is too small for a four-handed match, and it would be difficult to say whether the New Yorkers or Quebecers got the most "mixed-up."

In the single matches Mr. Hunt well maintained his reputation as holder of the Quebec Gold Racquet, defeating his opponent Mr. George Allen by three games to two after a very close and exciting set-to. Mr. Allen got on some very fine service in the fourth game and looked all over like winning, but Mr. Hunt played on with great steadiness and just won on the post. Mr. Smith started well against Mr. Lamontagne, winning the first game, but he finally had to succumb to this veteran racquet-player, who still handles a racquet with all the freshness and vigour of youth, though sixty summers have somewhat tinged his hair with grey. The way in which he placed the ball off a number of hard hit returns was surprising, and it speaks volumes for the health giving qualities of the game of racquets that a gentleman who played in Quebec forty years ago should still be able to rattle the balls about like a youth of twenty.

Of the kindness and hospitality of Mr. Travers and the members of the New York Club towards their visitors it would be impossible to say too much, and it must be admitted that when the New Yorkers take anything in hand they never half-do it. Their Club is a magnificent building, and the sensations of the Quebecers (coming as they did from that square pile of red bricks known as the Quebec Racquet Court, which has so often been condemned by the æsthetic taste of the "utterly too-too" denizens of the ancient city) may perhaps have been somewhat similar to those of the King of the Sandwich Islands when he dined with the Queen at Buckingham Palace. Everything was well done and well managed, and the prizes offered to the professionals engaged were on the most liberal scale.

It is just possible that the New York Club may send representatives to Quebec to play a return match between the amateurs, in which case a good game may be expected as the Quebec Court was built for four-handed matches. A match is also on the tapis between Boakes and one of the best English professionals, but nothing is arranged so far.

Mr. Beaudry, the Mayor, used some very strong and certainly not polite language to his opponent, Dr. Leprohon, on the hustings to-day. The general opinion, however, is that he will be returned, notwithstanding.

The Three Little Chairs.

They sat alone by the bright wood fire,
The gray-haired dame and the aged sire,
Dreaming of days gone by ;
The tear-drops fell on each wrinkled cheek,
They both had thoughts they could not speak,
And each heart uttered a sigh.

For their sad and tearful eyes descried
Three little chairs, placed side by side,
Against the sitting-room wall.
Old-fashioned enough as there they stood,
Their seats of flag and their frames of wood,
With their backs so straight and tall.

Then the sire shook his silvery head,
And, with trembling voice, he gently said :
"Mother, these empty chairs !
They bring us such sad thoughts to-night !
We'll put them forever out of sight
In the small, dark room up-stairs.'

But she answered : "Father, no ; not yet :
For I look at them and I forget
That the children are away ;
The boys come back, and our Mary, too,
With her apron on of checkered blue,
And sit there every day.

"Johnny still whittles a ship's tall masts,
And Willie his leaden bullets casts,
While Mary her patchwork sews.
At evening the three childish prayers
Go up to God from three little chairs
So softly that no one knows.

"Johnny comes back from the billow deep ;
Willie wakes from the battle-field sleep
To say 'good night' to me ;
Mary's a wife and mother no more,
But a tired child whose play-time is o'er
And comes to rest at my knee.

"So let them stand there, though empty now,
And every time when alone we bow
At the Father's throne to pray.
We'll ask to meet the children above,
In our Saviour's home of rest and love,
Where no child goeth away."

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

OTTAWA, Feb. 15.—The House met at 3.15 p.m. A number of petitions were presented.

Hon. Mr. MOUSSEAU presented the second report of the Civil Service Commission.

Mr. McMILLAN presented the first report of the Standing Committee on Standing Orders.

Sir S. L. TILLEY laid on the table a statement of gratuities and superannuations and a statement of Governor-General's warrants. He also brought down returns to several addresses asked for last year.

Mr. GAULT moved to introduce an act to incorporate the St. Lawrence Marine Ins. Co. —Carried.

Mr. KIRKPATRICK introduced an act respecting the sale of railway tickets. He said the bill authorized railway companies and the Minister of Railways to name persons for the sale of tickets and that no other persons be allowed to sell. It further provides that railways shall be obligod to redeem their tickets, that is if a ticket is issued for a journey and only used for part of the journey the company shall refund an amount for the unused portion.

Mr. CASGRAIN introduced a bill to empower the Stadacona Fire Insurance Co. to wind up its affairs.

Mr. CASGRAIN introduced an act for the better prevention of fraud in relation to contracts involving the expenditure of public money.

QUESTIONS.

Mr. LANDRY—Whether the Government have, according to the promise made on the 11th March, 1881, invited tenders for a railway ferry between the terminus of the Intercolonial Railway, in South Quebec, and a point nearest the Occidental Railway, on the Quebec side, so that the carriages may be transported from one side of the river to the other ?

Sir C. TUPPER said correspondence was now going on between this Government and the Local Government on the subject of establishing a ferry to transfer cars from Levis to Quebec, and as soon as the correspondence is in such a condition as it can be brought down Parliament will be asked for an appropriation for that purpose.

Mr. LANTIER—Whether it is the intention of the Government to proceed during next season to the improvement of the river St. Lawrence from Prescott to the Lachine Canal, on the basis of the Welland and Lachine Canals, and in connection with that whether the reports of explorations on the projected Cedars Canal have been examined by the Engineer-in-Chief and a decision arrived at, and if not, for what reasons ?

Sir C. TUPPER said it was not the intention of the Government to proceed with the improvement of the St. Lawrence Canals this year, and that the first location survey had not yet been made.

Mr. TROW—Whether it is the intention of the Government during this session to abolish the postage on newspapers in the counties of publication ?

Sir S. L. TILLEY said the Government had the matter under consideration.

Hon. Mr. BLAKE asked when the report of the Minister of the Interior would be brought down.

Sir C. TUPPER, in the absence of Sir John Macdonald, said it would be brought down shortly.

Hon. Mr. BLAKE asked when the available information as to the result of the census will be brought down.

Hon. Mr. POPE—Probably to-morrow.

Hon. Mr. BLAKE asked what was the total number of persons settled in Manitoba and the North-West during 1881 ; how many from the other Provinces of Canada ; how many from the United States, and how many from other countries ?

Hon. Mr. POPE said that the total number was 28,611, of which 25,514 were from Ontario and the other Provinces of the Dominion, 2,758 from the United States, and 4,339 from other countries, chiefly England and Scotland.

Mr. CAMERON (Victoria)—Whether the location survey of the Trent Valley Canal has been completed, and if not, what progress has been made with it and when will it be completed ?

Sir C. TUPPER said a vote had been passed and an able Engineer had been detailed to make a survey. Owing to the extended nature of the county he had not been able to complete the survey this season. It was expected that a progress report would be made shortly, when the Government would decide whether to proceed with the work wholly or in part.

Sir R. CARTWRIGHT—Address for correspondence on the subject of the remission of the duties on tea and coffee.—Carried.

Mr. DAWSON—Address for correspondence in reference to the arrears due to the Indians of Lakes Huron and Superior under the Robinson treaty, etc.

Mr. HESSON complained that this matter had been allowed to remain unsettled for many years. It was unjust to the townships which were principally interested, and he hoped the matter would not be any longer delayed.

Hon. Mr. BLAKE concurred with last speaker, and thought that all the accounts between Ontario and Quebec ought to be settled. It was now fifteen years since Confederation, and the accounts of the two principal Provinces were still unsettled.

Sir S. L. TILLEY agreed with both speakers and said the Dominion Government was very anxious to get matters settled, but it was difficult to get the two Provincial Governments ready at the same time. Last summer he thought he would get a settlement, but the local election in Quebec threw the matter back. He would have tried to get a settlement this year.

The House adjourned at 5.05.

From this until the close of the session of the Dominion Parliament, now being held at Ottawa, our column will be curtailed owing to the extra space required to report proceedings.

The third annual meeting of the Ontario Chess Association takes place at Guelph on the 17th and 18th instant.

La Strategie, British Chess Magazine and Brentano's Chess Monthly are all to hand and are up to their usual standard of excellence.

The Cincinnati Commercial states that Mr. H. C. Allen, Chess Editor of Brentano's Monthly and The Turf, Field and Farm, has been appointed Assistant District Attorney of New York, a position which he held several years ago, and that Captain Mackenzie has accepted a position with the Mutual Telegraph Company, in St. Louis.

The chess match for $1,000, between Messrs. Delmar and Judd, has been declared "off" owing to the officials of the bank in which Mr. Delmar holds a responsible position, having notified him that he could proceed further in the match with Mr. Judd only at the risk of forfeiting his position. This he was unwilling to do, hence the result.

It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Brickner, H. Dribe second cook, and two second-class passengers,—total, 20. The Allan sailing vessel "Glenmorag," picked up the boat and brought the saved to New York. They were in the boat twelve hours."

The Mr. Scott, referred to above, as among the saved, is a partner in the firm of A. Outerbride & Co., the Agents of the Company, at New York.

The ss "Bahama" sailed from St. John's, Porto Rico, for New York, on Sunday, the 5th instant, with a full cargo of sugar.

LATER.

New York, Feb. 15—Steamer "Bahama," from Porto Rico for New York, encountered a hurricane Feby. 10th, about 550 miles southeast of New York. She shipped large quantities of water, which carried away two large life-boats, swept the decks, put out the fires, and threw the vessel on her beam ends. It was then concluded to abandon the steamer, and two boats were lowered. The Captain's boat contained seventeen persons. It was swamped shortly after leaving the ship. Two or three persons were seen to swim back to the vessel, but it was impossible to tell if they succeeded in getting aboard. Three of the crew refused to leave the steamer, preferring to take their chance by remaining aboard, as the boats were heavily loaded. The boat with the 1st and 2nd officers, passengers (John S. Scott and H. J. Fear), and nine of the crew were picked up on the 12th, by ship "Glenmorag," and brought to New York.

THE SS. "SARDINIAN."—New York, Feb. 13 —The White Star steamer "Celtic," which arrived on Saturday, reports having passed on Feb. 4th, at three o'clock in the afternoon, in lat 49 05, long 31 29 W, the Allan Line steamer "Sardinian," bound east. She signalled the "Celtic" that she had lost her rudder in long 40 west, and was proceeding with caution. This was the only communication between the vessels, indicating that the "Sardinian" had every confidence in whatever temporary steering gear she may have adopted. The vessels were about six miles apart. The wind at the time was light, easterly, and the vessel seemed to be making about twelve knots and moving steadily. The reasons given for not reporting the circumstance sooner are that it was by no means certain that the vessel signalled was the "Sardinian," and whatever vessel it might have been it was thought she had made her port good before the arrival of the "Celtic" here. Captain Gleadell was only this morning convinced that the vessel was the "Sardinian," and on enquiry learned that she had not yet reached her destination. Satisfying himself of these facts, Capt. Gleadell at once communicated the circumstance to Messrs. Allan, at Montreal.

The steamer "Nederland," from New York for Antwerp, while passing Ventnor, Isle of Wight, yesterday signalled that she had spoken the Allan Line steamer "Sardinian" in a disabled condition in lat 49, long 28. A telegram was sent to Portsmouth for assistance.

LATER.—Moville, Feb. 15—The disabled steamer 'Sardinian' has been towed in here.

Ottawa, Feb 15—A solid silver tankard has been forwarded to the Department of Marine and Fisheries by the Imperial Government for presentation to Capt. S. Knowlton, of the barque "Gladiona," in acknowledgment of his humanity and kindness to the ship-wrecked crew of the barque "MacEden," of Glasgow, abandoned at sea on the 20th Oct.

Halifax, N.S., Feb 15—Steamer "Gladious," from New Orleans for Bremen, arrived for bunker coal ; Autocrat," from New York, arrived for coal.——Barque "Richard Hutchinson," Capt Troop, from Barrow, G.B., for St. John, N.B., has put into Lunenburg short of provisions and with sails split, having experienced very rough weather on Sunday and last Friday week. She will proceed to morrow.—Steamer "Carroll" sailed for Boston.

New York, Feb 15—The survivors of the crew of the brig "Jennie Morton," of Baltimore, abandoned at sea, have been brought here ; one seaman was swept overboard, another died from exposure, and the rest floated several days on the disabled hulk with nothing to eat but two cans of condensed milk. All the men were seriously injured.

Detroit, Feb 15—The ice blockade in the Straits of Mackinaw has been cleared and boats are making regular trips.

London, Feb. 12—Steamer "Critic," Lord, from New York January 27, has arrived at Leith with her cargo badly damaged in the after and main holds. Several hundred sacks of flour have been discharged wet.

Feb. 13—The American ship "Western Empire," from New York January 4 for the Mersey, was abandoned, rudderless, February 2. The crew has landed at Falmouth.

New York, Feb. 13—Barque "Chimborazo," before reported ashore, is a total loss. Wreckers have stripped her and taken materials to Key West——The barque "Scotland," of Windsor, N.S., which arrived to-day from Liverpool, reports the loss overboard of two seamen, and the death of another from apoplexy during the passage. The ship experienced a stormy voyage, and lost and split sails.

THE LAKE MARINE.—Buffalo, N.Y., Feb. 13.—A Washington special to-night says Representative Aldrich introduced a bill to-day to regulate the lake and marine shipping. It provides that every vessel of the United States engaged in foreign or coast trade or navigating lakes Michigan, Superior, Huron, St. Clair, Erie, or Ontario, shall carry, if a sailing vessel, a crew of competent seamen, not less than one seaman for every seventy-five tons burthen, and if a steam vessel, not less than one competent seaman for every thirty-five tons burthen. The vessels must be examined by quarantine officers within six hours of arrival and previous to clearance, except vessels making daily trips. They must be inspected once every ten days. The bill makes it unlawful for a master of a vessel navigating the lak
