ALLIES EXPECT PEACE PROPOSALS FROM HITLER

Believed Germans Likely To Offer Separate Pacts For British And French

London Suspicious that Hitler-Goebbels Conference at Western Front May Be Followed by Peace Offer Designed to Split Allies with Threat of Italian Intervention if Offer Is Rejected—British Opinion Divided on Possibilities of Blitzkrieg Against England, with Nazis Preferring to Smash French Resistance and Take Paris.

(By GUY RHOADES, Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

Suspicion arose in London today that Adolf Hitler, reported conferring at the front with Propagandist Joseph Goebbels, is about to offer a separate peace to one or other of the Allies, possibly threatening them with Italy's entry into the war should they refuse, as they undoubtedly will.

It was almost taken for granted that Italy would join the war against the Allies, perhaps directly helping in an assault on the southern end of the Maginot Line, possibly through neutral Switzerland, indirectly or in a drive to fulfill her somewhat considerable "aspirations" in the Mediterranean Basin.

A division of opinion arose amongst British experts regarding the likelihood that the Nazis would try a blitzkrieg against the United Kingdom, now at any rate. Although authorities took no chances and pressed their precautions to the highest pitch, many believed the Germans before attacking Britain would seek to reach Paris through the newly-established Somme line or by flanking the Maginot Line.

These persons took the stand that Hitler likes to concentrate on one thing at a time. They argued it would take an enormous force for an attempt on Britain and that such an attempt would leave Germany exposed to the new French lines in danger of being broken up in a French advance. They noted also that a new British Expeditionary Force had reached the French positions even while the Northern forces, caught in the Dunkerque pocket, were being brought home.

Nobody placed the slightest credence in the suggestion Germany might be able to divide the Allies by alienating their mutual regard through Goebbels' department, although some leaders warned the public against criticizing the French. Some newspapers pointed out that both Allies admitted they had made costly mistakes, the French when the Germans broke through their lines in the vicinity of Sedan and the British long before that when they allowed their vigilance and armed strength to wane in the days when they had misplaced confidence in Hitler's good faith.

The troops of both Allies were blazing mad at what they saw the Germans do in their Flanders advance when their tanks rode roughshod over refugees, killing men, women and children. Men who arrived in British ports yesterday were eagerly eager to get back into the fight, even when they were suffering from wounds.

It has always been a strange characteristic of the Germans to underestimate the toughness of Britons. The Kaiser was fooled at the start of the First Great War into thinking Britain would not fight. Hitler's advisers apparently made him think the same thing this time. The fact that the British in 1914-18 proved to be better soldiers than the Germans apparently escaped Hitler's memory and led him back to the delusive notion that a nation of shopkeepers cannot fight.

Refugee-Clogged Roads Resulted In Allies Losing Flanders Fight

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ, Sr. (Associated Press Staff Writer) Bern, Switzerland, May 31.—(AP)—Clogging of vital Allied roads with millions of refugees and the efficiency of Germany's supply machine in keeping its own supply routes unobstructed defeated the Allies in the battle of Flanders, eye-witnesses returning from the war zone declared today.

One said the morale-shattering presence of masses of refugees in areas where the Belgian army was being "cut to bits" by the Nazi aerial and land assault accounted in part for surrender of King Leopold III.

Seven eye-witnesses, who came here through Germany after being caught in the midst of fighting in four different zones of Western and Southern Belgium and Northern France, agreed on contrasting these pictures:

1—Chaos of the streams of refugees and non-combatants, flowing with all their movable possessions into roads essential to Allied communications.

2—Orderliness in the rush of German supplies over highways leading to the front.

3—The eye-witnesses, who declined to be named, included four diplo-

TWO SEATS IN HOUSE VACANT OWING TO WAR

Other Members of House of Commons Expected to Take Place in Active Service Ranks.

Ottawa, May 31.—(AP)—At least two seats in the House of Commons are unoccupied and will remain vacant most of the session due to enlistment of members in Canada's fighting forces. Back in the First Great War years greatest number absent on active service during any one session was twenty-seven in 1917.

Early this year Denton Massey left his peacetime pursuits to take up a commission as Flying Officer in the Royal Canadian Air Force, and subsequently he was re-elected Conservative Member for Toronto-Greenwood. Adjutant of a squadron at Trenton, Ont., he has made only one appearance in the House this session, but it is expected he will fly up to Ottawa every month or so for a sitting.

DETERMINED TO SPEED UP PRODUCTION OF ARMAMENTS

London, May 31.—Supply Minister Herbert Morrison warned he would use the "full rigor" of his emergency control powers against war factories showing "signs of slackness, irresolution, slow starting or muddle."

Mr. Morrison said that an appeal for "harder and longer work" in the munitions industries had met with "a splendid response" and that "essential munitions are coming forward more swiftly and the rate of growth of the arms production machine is accelerating."

Germans Planning Overthrow Of De Valera Government In Eire

Leeds, England, May 31.—(AP)—A Nazi plot to overthrow Prime Minister Eamon de Valera and land parachute troops in Eire was reported today by the diplomatic correspondent of the Yorkshire Evening News.

"From documents seized in Dublin in the last few days," he wrote, "De Valera is aware of Hitler's instructions to German agents in Eire to overthrow his Government. Hitler has reached the final conclusion that nothing can be expected from de Valera, who has persistently refused to play the game of Germany and her I.R.A. allies."

"German calculations are based on the conviction that whatever hap-

Important French Units Finally Reach Haven Of Dunkerque Harbor

Paris, May 31.—(AP)—Advance units of the French army of General Rene Jacques Adolphe Prioux, described officially as "important," today reached the safe haven of Dunkerque after battering their way through the German line during the night.

French and British warships rushed the evacuation of the weary, war-torn units which has been fighting off furious Nazi onslaughts.

At the same time, the vessels landed new food and war supplies for French divisions still fighting at the southern end of the corridor to the sea.

The Prioux units, a military spokesman said, reached Dunkerque with the war equipment which they succeeded in saving from the Germans.

The situation for the French troops still inside the Nazi pocket, with German infiltrations threatening them, remained "grave but not desperate," the spokesman said.

With the "Line of Mounts" slight, which the Germans established yesterday, fractured, the French apparently held an advantage for maintaining the breach.

The Germans, however, still held Mount Cassel. Nazi advance units pushed furiously to "Mount des Cats," near Goiswacvelde, one of a series of French-Belgian frontier hills about 500 feet high.

South of the ridges straddling the Flanders plain, the rest of the Prioux army continued to fight.

Like an ancient fortress, Dunkerque is protected by a semi-circular "moat" or muddy water several miles wide which rushed in from the sea when the Allies opened the canal locks.

Strips connecting the port with the Flanders pocket from which the Allies are withdrawing are reported firmly held by French and British units.

Military sources said that German advancing from the Southwest had come to a halt at the water's edge. On the Northeast side of the port,

Liberals Refuse Proposition Of Forming National War Government

Ottawa, May 31.—(AP)—No matter how dissatisfied the thirty-eight Conservatives in the House of Commons may be with Prime Minister Mackenzie King's war leadership, the Liberal members have left no doubt about where they stand on that question.

In a rarely preceded outburst of enthusiasm, Government supporters yesterday made plain their confidence in and loyalty for their leader.

After sitting for ten days under intermittent demands from Conservative benches for the Prime Minister's resignation, Liberals finally arose to a furious counter-attack that matched the intensive and directness of Conservative jibes.

First, Hon. Earl Rowe (Conservative, Dufferin-Simcoe) gave up under cross-fire before he reached the climax of a prepared speech in which he was to have urged the Prime Minister to "step aside."

From then on, the Liberal counter-attack rolled forward.

NO WARNING IS EXPECTED FOR ITALIAN ENTRY

Few Expect Even Formal Declaration of War When Italy Enters Conflict on Side of Germany.

Rome, May 31.—(AP)—Most observers confronted with reports from Berlin that Adolf Hitler was planning an announcement which might deal with Italy's role in the war predicted today that Italy would lash out without warning when she decided to strike for her "aspirations."

Few expected any sort of declaration of war, although the general expectancy that Italy soon would enter the conflict centered attention on a cabinet meeting called next Tuesday by Premier Mussolini to discuss "important matters."

Newspaper posters screamed the theme that British and French resistance is doomed and that therefore it is useless to think Italy might desert Germany for the Allies in the eleventh hour.

Over Half British Army Already Removed From Flanders Battle Region

Craft of All Shapes and Sizes Pressed into Service as Tens of Thousands of British Expeditionary Force and French Allies, Evacuated from Dunkerque, Are Landed in South British Port.

(By FRED BACKHOUSE, Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

A Southeast Coast Port in England, May 31.—(CP-Cable)—Every hour, in craft of all shapes and sizes, tens of thousands of men of the British Expeditionary Force with their French comrades are being landed safely at ports on the South Coast of England in one of the quickest movements in British military history.

It was estimated that the landings of British, French and Belgian troops from Flanders were equal to one-half the original strength of the B.E.F.

Grimy and exhausted Tommies said that when they arrived at the Coast, fishermen—many of them old salts of 70—volunteered to a man to take their tiny unarmored boats across the Channel.

One lifeboat, a veteran rescue ship of this war, was promptly put to sea with men over sixty aboard. As more blood-stained and tattered troops landed, private motorboat owners hurried to "help out." Officially nothing was done about them. Unofficially they went.

At one period of the day seven ships docked at a South Coast port in less than two hours. The men clambered into trains and were whisked away to bases in various parts of England within half an hour of landing.

At another port a tug came in pulling five barges packed with troops. Many of the evacuation craft had been bombed and machine-gunned for hours. But backwards and forwards they ferry. One crew made five trips in twenty-four hours.

And, as the undaunted khaki-clad boys came ashore, housewives gladly handed over food from their larders when official supplies ran short. On the platform stood a bride-to-be carrying up her wedding cake to hand to the hungry troops.

As soldiers said German bombers raiding the Allied troops withdrawing in Flanders "attempted to pursue our ships right up to the harbor."

"I never expected to get back alive," he said. "Our work was carried out in a blizzard of bombs and machine-gun bullets. Jerry attacked in waves every ten or fifteen minutes. Still they kept coming."

"The fun began when we were about six miles off the coast. That's where we had to run the gauntlet. The bombers not only dropped their loads but attempted to pursue our ships right up to the harbor. Though the Royal Air Force constantly was taking a tremendous toll of Nazi planes, English soil looked mighty good."

As the streams of battle-scarred Tommies, as well as some of their French and Belgian Allies, continued to pour into reception ports today, it was noticeable there were fewer wounded among them. This indicated the majority of the casualties had been given precedence in the retreat and embarkation.

ANTI-AIRCRAFT CRUISER LOST IN ENCOUNTER

Nine Members of Crew of British Vessel Curlew Lost in Sinking Off Norwegian Coast.

London, May 31.—(AP)—The Admiralty today announced the loss of the anti-aircraft cruiser Curlew.

The 4,290-ton ship was sunk as a result "of a bombing attack some days ago off the North Coast of Norway," the announcement said. Four officers and five sailors lost their lives.

The Curlew had a normal complement of 400.

The Curlew, specially armed with ten four-inch anti-aircraft guns and machine guns, was the second cruiser lost in the war. The first was the Effingham, sunk after striking a rock in Norwegian waters.

The Admiralty's statement followed:

Conditions To Determine Changes In Taxation Policy Of Dominion

Ottawa, May 31.—(AP)—Officials of the Bank of Canada, the Foreign Exchange Control Board and the Finance Department have been struggling daily with the problems of financing Canada's war programme and, within ten days or two weeks, when the budget is presented in Parliament, their decisions will be made known.

When Finance Minister Ralston brings down the budget he probably will announce some new taxes to pay for the war, but in the months to come policy will be altered to meet emergencies. In many cases experience gained in financing the First Great War will determine plans to be adopted now.

Canada's problems in meeting the costs of war are more onerous than those of 1914-18, largely because of highly-expensive mechanized warfare and the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, of which the Dominion bears the major burden.

In 1917, at the height of the First Great War, the March budget showed war costs had mounted to $533,000,000 a year, and Canada had been in the fight more than 2½ years. Col. Ralston has estimated war costs for the current fiscal year at $700,000,000 and the Dominion has only

Draws Three Years In Prison On Breakage And Theft Count

Jean Dupont of Sherbrooke Sentenced for Thefts Aggregating About Sixteen Dollars—Offences Committed in South Ham District.

After pleading guilty to the theft of a dog, a saw, a bottle of beer and other articles with an aggregate value of about sixteen dollars, Jean Dupont, of Sherbrooke, was this morning sentenced to three years in the penitentiary when arraigned before Judge J. S. Couture in Magistrate's Court.

Dupont was arrested by Provincial Police after a series of complaints from South Ham residents who claimed their houses had been broken into by the accused. Four specific accusations were made against the Sherbrooke man and he entered a plea of guilty to each of these.

Remarking on the severity of the sentence, Judge Couture pointed out that Dupont has already served time for similar offences and that three of the current charges were for breakage and theft at night, on each of which the accused was liable to a penitentiary term regardless of the value of whatever goods were taken. On the first accusation, that of breaking into the South Ham farm of Simeon Leroux and taking a pair of lard and a saucepan, Dupont was given three years. Sentences of three years each, to run concurrently with the first condemnation, were also handed down for the theft of apples, a half-pound of butter and a quart of beer from Leger Roy and on this charge was given six months, also concurrent with the three-year term. Leroux, Desrochers and Roy are all residents of South Ham.

ROXTON FALLS YOUTH SUFFERS DECAPITATION

Remi Beauchemin Killed Instantly While Riding on Rear of Truck at Richelieu Bridge.

Roxton Falls, May 31.—His head severed from his body when it struck a low bridge, Remi Beauchemin, of Roxton Falls, was killed instantly in a tragic accident that took place near Richelieu.

Beauchemin, who was employed by Mr. Joseph Laplante, was riding on the rear of a truck loaded with bags of fertilizer and had climbed up to the top of the pile in order to arrange some that had fallen. He was facing away from the bridge and was struck on the back of the head.

The deceased was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Telephore Beauchemin (nee Alice Derome), was nineteen years of age and had lived all his life at Roxton Falls.

The remains were brought to Roxton for burial and a Solemn High Mass was sung by the parish priest of St. Jean Baptiste Church. The funeral was largely attended by relatives and friends. The bearers were his eight brothers.

He leaves to mourn his loss his parents and eight brothers and five sisters. Sincere sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

MOTOR COURSE STUDENTS GET CERTIFICATES

Seven Members of Women's Auxiliary Service Complete Ten-Week Period of Instruction and Pass Final Tests.

Their special course of instruction completed, seven members of the Women's Auxiliary Motor Service are today wearing distinctive pins denoting that they have completed their mechanical training and successfully passed their final tests.

Members of the group, the first class of its type to graduate in Sherbrooke, are Mrs. Ross Bishop and the Misses Margaret Newton, Ruth Echenberg, Catherine Speed, of Lennoxville, Evelyn Veilleux, Dorothy Newton and "Buddy" Walley. Their pins and graduation certificates were presented to them last night at the Minto Street home of the Sherbrooke Motors, Limited.

For the past ten weeks the W.A.M.S. members have been receiving instruction in the care and operation of motor vehicles, fitting themselves for service as ambulance or truck drivers should they be required by the Government. Before earning the pin and certificate each girl passed a driving test and an oral examination. Presentations were made by Ralph T. Perry, of Montreal, Ford district sales manager for the Eastern Townships. The course is sponsored by the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, through its dealers across Canada and hundreds of Canadian women have taken advantage of the opportunity to gain knowledge of the operation and maintenance of motor vehicles.

At the conclusion of the brief ceremony the students presented a gift to Robert Beers, of Sherbrooke, their instructor during the course. A. Allard, general manager of the Sherbrooke Motors, said last night that another class may be started as a large number of girls have applied for the instruction.

Among those to attend the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Leger Derome, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Derome, Mr. Fred Clark, Miss Ellice Clark, Mrs. W. Lancaster, Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Moffatt and son, Harvey, Mr. Percy Norris, Mrs. A. Favreau and Miss Arma Favreau, of Bethany.

City Elementary Schools To Close June 21 For Summer

With the announcement today by authorities of the Protestant and Catholic School Commissions that all elementary schools in the city will close for the summer months on June 21, thousands of Sherbrooke children are looking forward to their two months of freedom from the rule of the three R's.

Right now pupils at most of Sherbrooke's educational institutions are in the midst of the more or less dreaded final examinations while a favored minority has been assured promotion to a higher grade on the basis of their year's work and without the necessity of writing the tests.

CAR ACCIDENT IN MAGOG HAS COURT SEQUEL

Action for $293 Instituted by Romeo Villeneuve—Claims Damages from Dollard Marchand as Result of 1938 Mishap.

Sequel to a New Year's Eve accident on Main Street in Magog a year and a half ago, two residents of the textile town are principals in an action for $293.75 inaugurated in Superior Court this morning before Mr. Justice Charles D. White.

Plaintiff in the case is Romeo Villeneuve, whose car was damaged in a collision with machines owned by Dollard Marchand and A. Q. Read on December 31, 1938. The accident took place when Marchand's auto sideswiped that of Villeneuve, which at the time was parked by the side of the road, in an attempt to avoid Read who drove out of a side street.

When the action was first instituted Marchand and Read were named as joint defendants but eventually the case against Read was withdrawn. Villeneuve alleges Marchand was at fault in the mishap and is responsible for repairs, depreciation and incidental expenses.

Marchand bases his defence on the grounds it was Read, not himself, who was at fault in the collision by failing to take ordinary precautions when emerging from a side street.

BRITISH PILOT THREATENED BY FIRING SQUAD

Daring Escape from German Prison Camp in Belgium Recounted by Royal Air Force Officer.

London, May 31.—The Air Ministry yesterday issued an account of how a Royal Air Force pilot, captured by the Germans, was threatened with death but escaped and returned to the Allied armies.

The Ministry announcement said: "A fighter pilot, who landed his damaged plane in German-held territory, was arrested and taken to a small courtyard crowded with Belgian civilians. At hourly intervals groups of civilians were ordered out, summarily questioned and shot."

"A German officer in charge of the firing squad told the pilot, 'It will be your turn next.' The pilot protested that he was an officer in uniform who had come down behind the German lines as a result of aerial combat."

"The officer shrugged and replied, 'You are a spy or a franc-tireur like all these others.'"

"Waiting until a new group of civilians, going to face the firing squad, afforded the cover of momentary confusion, he did a flying leap straight through a small closed window and, with only a slight cut on the cheek, landed on all fours outside, dashed through the garden and got clear away. Not one shot was fired by the surprised Germans."

"He slept on top of a haystack and the next day mingled with refugees and was given a lift in a Dutch car. On the afternoon of the second day he got over the border and reached Lille."

WINDSOR MILLS CASE SETTLED OUT OF COURT

Agreement Reached in Suit Taken by Arthur Caron Against Municipality After He Was Refused Access to Minutes Book.

Finis to a lengthy period of dissension between civil-minded Arthur Caron, of Windsor Mills, and the paper town's Municipal Council was written yesterday when a Superior Court action instituted by Caron more than a year ago was settled out of Court with the Town paying costs.

During the early part of 1939 Caron displayed more than usual interest in the activities of the Town Council and made repeated demands upon the Secretary-Treasurer for access to the municipal minutes book. So insistent was he that the Councilors called a special meeting to discuss the reasonableness of his requests.

The affair was brought to a head at an open Council meeting which Caron was invited to explain his interest in the activities of the Windsor municipal heads. His attitude did not strike a very responsive chord among the Councilors and as an aftermath to the meeting it was decided to refuse Caron access to the books, this move being ratified at one of the Council sessions.

Two weeks after the Council's decision had been reached, Caron instituted his suit in which he sought to have the ruling declared illegal and named the Windsor Secretary-Treasurer, A. Lagasse, and the Town as defendants.

Yesterday Roland Dugre, Caron's attorney, announced the affair had been settled out of Court and the Town authorities had agreed to pay costs for both sides.

HECTIC DAY IS REGISTERED BY BRITISH PILOT

After Downing Three Nazi Fighters and a Dive Bomber, Pilot Made Parachute Jump and Floated in Sea Until Rescued.

London, May 31.—A fighter pilot of a Royal Air Force squadron reported on his day's work: "Shot down three Nazi fighters and a dive bomber, jumped by parachute from my crippled Hurricane, swam until picked up by a paddle steamer, and was landed at Margate."

The Air Ministry made public his report:

"I was in a formation of nine aircraft patrolling Dunkerque. Toward the end of our patrol we sighted about nine Messerschmitt 109 fighters. A dog fight ensued."

"A Messerschmitt 109 started climbing away from me. I opened fire at 100 yards and the second burst set him on fire. I then turned right and attacked another Messerschmitt 109, firing one burst from astern. His port wing folded up."

"A Junkers 88 flew across my path and after an attack his starboard engine emitted black smoke and he half-rolled into the sea."

"I was then hit underneath by cannon shell. As I did a complete turn to the right I saw a Messerschmitt 110 flying past. I did a beam attack on him. His starboard engine smoked and he turned on his back and fell into the sea."

"I then turned to the right and saw a large number of enemy aircraft, so I turned sharply to the left and saw at least eight enemy aircraft proceeding in the direction of Dover. A number of them immediately turned on me so I headed for home, twisting and turning to avoid attack."

"Whichever way I turned I ran into fire. My Hurricane was hit a number of times. Two shells smashed the instrument panel and three more struck underneath. The engine stopped and flames appeared over the wing roots."

"I was at 400 feet and tried to get out but could not so I pulled the stick back from a crouching position on the seat."

"As the Hurricane stalled I got over the portside and took a header. I was being fired at so I delayed pulling the ripcord as long as possible. I left the fighter at 800 feet. My parachute worked perfectly. My life-jacket held me up well with one deep breath in it."

"I was picked up by a paddle steamer and landed at Margate."

SHARPE-RIOUX ACTION TAKEN EN DELIBERE

Argument of Counsel Heard in Superior Court Yesterday by Mr. Justice Alfred Duranleau.

Sitting in the local Superior Court yesterday afternoon, Mr. Justice Alfred Duranleau, took under advisement the action instituted by G. Stanley Sharpe, of Sherbrooke, against Emile Rioux, also of this city, in which the plaintiff claims $4,856 as the balance of the sale price of the Dufferin Avenue property formerly owned by Forrest W. Lord.

Sharpe, acting in his capacity as trustee for the Lord estate, claims Rioux agreed to buy the property in question and submitted a written offer of $18,000 enclosing a cheque for ten per cent of that amount. The defendant already held a mortgage of $12,875 on the Dufferin lot and buildings.

In spite of the fact that Rioux's offer was accepted by the executors of the Lord estate he refused to go through with the transaction or to sign the deed of sale forwarded to him by the plaintiff. Rioux, in defence, maintains he was not obliged to go on with the purchase because Sharpe was unable to clarify the titles to the property.

John Wolfe and Charles deL. Mignault, K.C., are attorneys for Sharpe while Emery Beaulieu, K.C., and Yvan Sabourin, of Montreal, are representing the defendant. Facts of the case were heard in a Superior Court sitting some months ago and yesterday's proceedings were limited to the argument.

SPANISH DEMAND BRITAIN CEDE FORTRESS AT GIBRALTAR

Madrid, May 31.—(AP)—A demand that Britain cede Gibraltar to Spain was voiced today by Manuel Aznar, Spanish journalist who frequently acts as a semi-official spokesman for the Government.

Commenting on a statement on Anglo-Spanish relations by Viscount Halifax, British Foreign Secretary, Aznar in an article in the Falange Journal Arriba complained that Lord Halifax omitted reference to Gibraltar.

While in some sections of the Eastern Townships the season is later than average and work on the land has been delayed, in this district agricultural activity is fairly well advanced and conditions are generally good, it was announced today by D. A. Finlayson, of the Dominion Government Experimental Farm at Lennoxville.

Of particular benefit to farm-lands in this district has been the warm weather of the last week, Mr. Finlayson said. Excellent progress in seeding has been made, growth is occurring quite rapidly, and there is every indication of a good hay crop. Pastures are doing very well, it was explained, and there is a sufficient supply of moisture, although a rainfall at this time would help the hay crop.

All the grain crops—oats, barley and wheat—are in the ground on most farm-lands, and only on low fields that are poorly drained has seeding been delayed.

Apple trees are coming into blossom and appear to have weathered well, since there is little evidence of winter kill.

In other districts of the Townships, however, cold weather and heavy rainfall have retarded seeding operations. Among backward areas are those beyond Danville and Gould in the direction of Quebec. In many sections low-lying fields are still too wet to work.

An optimistic view is held, however, because the weather is more favorable and from now on progress is expected to be rapid.

MUZZLE THE DEFEATISTS

One of the greatest enemies which the Allied forces have to face today is the defeatist propaganda which is frequently heard in many quarters of the country. Ever ready to believe the worst, a certain element of the population is ready to seize on any statement of the German propaganda machine to declare that the Allies cannot win the war and that resistance is virtually useless.

True, the Allies have had difficult days and will likely have many more before victory is finally achieved, but no citizen of Canada has the right to aggravate the problems by this constant harping of the defeatists who only serve to undermine the morale of the remainder of the population. And this talk does not come from those who are bearing the burden. It comes from those who seek to shirk their share of the responsibility, who would evade making their contribution by the declaration that "The Allies cannot win. What is the use? Let us give up now."

It is a good thing for these people that everyone does not share their views, that others are willing to shoulder the task which they would ignore. Otherwise this country would have been overrun by the Hitler hordes long ago and these calamity-howlers would have come under the influence of the Nazi machine, which at its best is admittedly worse than the worst of the democracies have to offer.

While the supposedly neutral United States citizens might be excused for a certain amount of defeatist talk, the writings of their more responsible editors and columnists indicate that they too appreciate the dangers of loose talk. A fine example of this is contained in the article in the San Francisco Examiner written by Hazel Zimmermann entitled "For Whom Are We Fighting?" The article says:

Oddly enough, everybody is fighting this war. Those in it, yes, those out of it even more. Strangely enough almost every American is fighting for Hitler.

Does that amaze you? Listen to them on any street corner in any city or village in America . . . what are they saying? That Hitler is winning . . . can win . . . has won! That's fighting this war for Hitler. That's accepting Hitler's programme of propaganda . . . hook, line and sinker. The only redeeming feature is that these street corner orators always add, "It's unthinkable!" Certainly it is . . . Then why think it?

You can fight on the side of right today and every day, if you will in your heart of hearts hold to the relentless truth that right is always the victor in the end . . . that evil travels but one path . . . the path to its own destruction . . . Recently England and France gave us a sharp lesson in behavior. While the state of our markets put needless fear and panic into play, the London and Paris markets were quiet, steady, firm . . . and it's their war! Theirs and ours too, when it comes to thinking straight.

Do you know the names of the commodities most in demand today? . . . Confidence, faith, trust. Do you know the name of the stock that will pay you the best dividends? . . . A stock of courage. No sword has ever prospered against these.

This is a time in which to hold to this age-old counsel: "Be not faithless . . . but believing."

ROOSEVELT CALLS FOR ACTION

The great strength or weakness in President Roosevelt, dependent upon whether one is a supporter or opponent of his policies, is his willingness to back his opinions to the limit. He stands for no equivocation or uncertainty of action. Once he sets his mind on a certain course of action he will continue through to the bitter end, come what may.

The strength of his determination has often been displayed but nowhere in such a decided manner as in his efforts to bring the United States defences up to the peak of their efficiency in the shortest possible time.

After bringing down the largest peace-time defence budgets in history in the regular course of procedure, he sent a special message to Congress a week ago requesting $1,182,000,000 for additions to the army and navy. This was accepted by both houses, the Senate writing part of it into the regular Army Appropriation Bill, raising the total to $1,823,000,000, and the rest into the regular Naval Bill, raising funds for that branch of the armed forces to $1,473,000,000.

Now he has sent a fresh request for more than $1,000,000,000, which amount was decided upon by the President after conferences with army and navy officers to modernize the defence system in the light of changes in warfare disclosed in Europe.

A NEW BRITISH FIGHTER

The official Air Ministry announcement yesterday that twelve Boulton Paul Defiants had forced down thirty-seven German planes on the previous day with a loss of one machine whose pilot parachuted to the sea and was rescued draws interest to this hitherto secret plane which Great Britain built as an answer to the light, fast bombers of Germany. These planes, which are armed forward and aft and powered to a speed of more than 335 miles an hour, are two-seater monoplane. They were mentioned in despatches for the first time on May 13, when they were reported to have scored successes in fighting over the Low Countries.

Guarded factories have been working on production of the Defiants since last winter.

Described as larger than the Spitfire—Britain's principal pursuit ship—and smaller and faster than the widely used Hurricane, the Defiant is listed in Jane's All the World's Aircraft as "believed to be the fastest airplane of its class in service."

It has a wing spread of thirty-nine feet six inches, a 1,030-horsepower Rolls-Royce Merlin 111 engine, and a power-driven four-gun turret which can fire to the rear as well as ahead.

LUXEMBOURG AND GERMANY

That the people of Luxembourg do not greatly appreciate the protection being extended to them by Germany is indicated by announcements from Paris that Luxembourg nationals—refugees and students—are flocking to enlistment centres to join a Luxembourg Legion to fight with the Allied armies. The movement started spontaneously among Luxembourgers in Paris and received enthusiastic support of the Luxembourg Legation.

The Grand Duchy has not had an army since 1869, the date of the International Convention establishing its disarmed neutrality. In the last war, however, when it was also overrun by the Germans, 3,300 citizens of the little state volunteered to fight, and all but three hundred gave their lives.

EDITOR'S NOTE-BOOK

It is plain why there were few takers on that million-for-Hitler offer. After you figure the taxes, there's hardly enough left for carfare to Europe and back.

The ukulele is revealed as having originated in Portugal. At last a stain removed from the fair name of Hawaii.

Englistmen are said to use coal dust for fattening pigs, this being a short-cut toward eventual smoked hams.

Earl French, British Commander-in-chief, will be unable to visit the newly-established militia camp at Farnham, Defence Department officials announced. It was hoped the famous British soldier would be able to give some advice on the best means of laying out the camp.

The Bedford Victoria Day celebration reported a balance of $80.60 on the day's activities, the proceeds to be divided between the Bedford Athletic Club and the Victoria Athletic Association.

Reports from Winnipeg indicate that a belated snow-storm has caused extensive crop damage throughout Western Canada.

Eastern Townships warehousemen reported a heavy demand from the Western States for maple sugar and indicated that within a few weeks, the entire stock would be exhausted.

Wild life is becoming tame throughout the district, reports from Brissette's Corner telling of two deer who began to visit farmhouses to beg food.

THE SONG OF THE THRUSH

Ah! the May was grand this mornin'
Shure how could I feel forlorn in Such a land, when tree and flower tossed their kisses to the breeze?
Could an Irish heart be quiet
While the Spring was runnin' riot,
And the birds of free America were singin' in the trees?
In the songs that they were singin'
No familiar note was ringin'.
But I strove to imitate them an' I whistled like a lad.
Oh, my heart was warm to love them
For the very newness of them—
For the old songs that they helped me to forget—an' I was glad.
So I mocked the feathered choir
To my hungry heart's desire,
An' I gloried in the comradeship that made their joy
my own.
Till a new note sounded, stillin'
all the rest. A thrush was trillin'
Ah, the thrush I left behind me in the fields about Athlone!
Where, upon the whitethorn swain',
He was minstrel of the Mayin',
In my days of love an' laughter that the years have laid at rest;
Here again his notes were ringin'
But I'd lost the heart for singin'—
Ah, the song I could not answer was the one I knew the best.

ENEMIES OF GOD

(Le Jour, Montreal)
Everywhere in Germany, above all in the schools, where that sacred sanctuary, the child's mind, may be violated with impunity, Christ's name has been replaced by that of Hitler and the name of religion by that of the State. At the outset of Nazism the Church had a glimmer of hope. Notwithstanding the fanatical Hitlerian persecutions against any other faith than its own, it was sincerely believed that a formidable barrier had been erected against Communism. The Catholic Church tolerated Hitler as an ally against Bolshevism. In a pastoral letter, German Catholic bishops formulated the wish "that our Fuehrer may, with the help of God and the steadfast aid of all his subjects, bring this immense and difficult task (to rid Europe of Bolshevism) to a successful conclusion." Rome signed a pact with the monster. It was not known that he had resolved to devour those who dared make treaties with him. The word of gangsters is worthless. The small nations who had relied on it were crushed by the very hand that had signed the promise, ensuring their independence. When one belongs to a family of thieves, assassins, traitors, one does not allow a little scrap of paper to stand in one's way. And it did not take the Vatican long to see that the German leader was both an enemy and a scourge. When it became known in August, 1939, that Berlin and Moscow had signed a non-aggression pact, that Hitler and Stalin had joined hands, that the resources of the immense Soviet Empire had been placed at the disposal of the Nazi destroyers, it was realized that Christianity was due to be subjected to the most formidable assault in all its history.

HAVE A SMILE

Two men, both noted for their caution when it came to money, met in the street.
"Well, well," said one, "fancy running into you like this. I was just looking for someone to lend me ten shillings."
"Is that so?" replied the other.
"Well, you've got a nice day for it."

Father (after visit to son at college): "Enjoyed my visit, son. Good-bye, and write home often."
Son: "Thanks, father, that's mighty generous of you."

A couple of colonels were chatting in the bar after the reunion dinner. Said one: "How's Hemmingway of the 80th Foot getting on?"
"Oh, he's getting on fine."
"And Cartwright of the 25th?"
"Oh, he's very well."
"By the way, how's your sister?"
"Oh, she's gone off to Blackpool with gout."
"Good gad, man—not Gout of the 17th?"

A young married couple, who lived near a famous golf course, were entertaining an elderly aunt from town.

"Well, Aunt Mary, how did you spend this afternoon?" asked the hostess on the first day.

"Oh, I enjoyed myself very much," was her reply. "I went for a walk across the moors. There seemed to be a great many people about and some of them shouted at me in a most eccentric manner, but I just took no notice."

"And, by the way," she went on, "I found such a number of curious little round white things. I've brought them home to ask you what they were."

And Aunt Mary produced from her handbag about a dozen golf balls.

Husband (listening to operatic radio programme as wife enters from shopping): "Do you like Chopin, dear?"

Wife: "No, I get tired walking from store to store."

A newspaper reporter approached an official of the Ministry of Information and inquired whether British troops had gone into action.
"I'm sorry, I cannot say," replied the official.
"Well, they're in position, aren't they?" pressed the reporter.
"I'm sorry, I cannot say."
"Is a statement likely to be made soon?"
"I'm sorry, I cannot say."
The reporter gave it up. Just as he was about to leave the room, the other called him back.

"Don't quote me," he requested.

PRESS COMMENTS

CANADA SPEEDS UP

(Winnipeg Free Press)
Now Canada rises, with swelling heart and indomitable courage, to assume its share of the new emergency. A third division is to be raised immediately. New steps are to be taken to speed up air training. A separate Minister of Air is to be established to deal with that special series of problems. A separate Ministry of Supply is to cope with the new problems of the hour which are likely to make Canada a much more important centre of production than had been envisaged before. Mr. King has appointed Mr. C. G. Power to the new Air Ministry, and his ability and energy are unquestioned by those who know him. The appointment, however, leaves two posts to be filled, and the Prime Minister should remember that a mere reshuffling of posts was found unsatisfactory two weeks ago in Great Britain. There are men of competence and vigour available in this country who could be called in to stiffen the ranks of his administration. Much depends upon his appointment. The temper of the country is not one to brook half-measures. But, as the country faces the new and perilous commitments which, as its contribution to the cause of freedom, it is its duty gladly to assume, we must avoid unreasoning and prejudiced comment upon our war effort up to now. Popular criticism has centred upon the slow development of the air training plan. Everyone knows of young men eager to offer their services who have been told to wait. But few know that those instructions have been the result of prolonged and reasoned consultations between the Canadian and British Governments. The air training plan, which has been derided as coming to full fruition only in 1941, when the need of new men becomes so lamentably apparent with every new despatch from France, is geared to the production of airplanes envisaged over the same period by the United Kingdom. It was only with the advent of the new Government in Britain and the outbreak of the savage and partially successful assaults by the Nazis on the West, that London has appreciated that its own war effort has been not big enough.

HELPING A SICK INDUSTRY

(Globe and Mail, Toronto)
Canadian newspaper exports in 1938 and 1939 exceeded $100,000,000 and brought more money into the Dominion than wheat. Newspaper mills use 40 to 45 per cent of the hydro-electric power consumed in Ontario and Quebec. They employ thousands of persons; distribute millions in wages. In Canada's two principal provinces newspaper is paramount. It uses the public forests. For these and similar reasons governments must interest themselves in the welfare of the industry. Its progress spells employment for thousands in the mill towns of Ontario and Quebec, dividends for those who have invested their money in the business, and more than $100,000,000 of United States money coming into Canada every year.

HANG ON!

(Halifax Chronicle)
In spite of the real dangers which exist, in spite of the wealth of depressing news, we must cling to hope and determination. This is a test, a terrible test. Everyone must be equal to its demands. There have been such dark hours before. Things looked black indeed during the First Great War. The German tide swept over this Northern French territory before, but the tide was turned. It is a time to hang on, to maintain courage, and to bend every effort towards an Allied victory. After all, the men who are in the midst of that maelstrom of fury and death are equal to its demands. The people in France who are so close to the struggle are determined to carry on as their Premier insists. And the people of Great Britain, with invasion so imminent, are summoning all courage to resist. Can we, on this side of the Atlantic, so far removed from the present titanic struggle, do less?

BOMBING THE INNOCENT
(St. Thomas Times-Journal)
Germany has torn up the book of rules on the conduct of war, although she frequently charges that the Allies are not living up to those rules which mean nothing to her. The news from Holland, Belgium and France shows that the German airmen spare nobody and nothing. They bomb and machine-gun the fugitives, men, women and children crowded together on roads, just as relentlessly as if each one of them was a soldier in arms.

A terrible example of Nazi cruelty, sheer sadism, is cited by Ansell Mowrer of the Chicago Daily News, who is with the French Army in France. Mr. Mowrer states that 22 boys about 12 years of age, were playing soccer football on a field above the village of Trois Maisons, near the "hospital city" of Painsbourg, a place with no soldiers which has been signalled to the International Red Cross as a town of mercy. Suddenly, over the trees, came three returning German planes. Two Messerschmitts soared, but the third—a captured Curtiss still bearing the French colors—swooped to 30 feet over the little grid-iron players. The children scattered like quail and threw themselves on their faces. But not in time to escape the burst of machine-gun fire from the raider. Once its guns were emptied the Curtiss soared and rejoined the squadron returning to Germany, its motor roaring with laughter. White and whimpering, the lads arose—all but two: One, a tiny dark-skinned infant who moaned slightly, is now in a hospital. The other, Paul Magnette, lay still. Five bullets had pierced his body, one entering his back as he lay shaking on his face. Those small boys could not have been mistaken for men because the

CAREFULLY PLANNED DOUBLE SQUEEZE ROBS OPPONENT OF HIS WINNERS

In the recent masters' individual contest, Lee Hazen of New York finished second. Last year he was a member of the winning team of four in the Vanderbilt Tournament. I watched Hazen play today's hand, and it was a pleasure to see him execute a double squeeze with care and deliberation.

The opening lead was won with the ace of clubs in dummy, and the queen and jack of spades were cashed. The five of clubs was ruffed and the ace of spades picked up the last trump.

Hazen then led the deuce of hearts and dummy's queen went to East's ace. A diamond came back, South winning with the king. He cashed the king, nine and eight of spades, discarding three hearts from dummy.

When South led the eight of spades, his last trump, West, holding the queen-jack of diamonds and jack-ten of clubs, discarded a club. East, with the jack-ten of hearts and ten-six of diamonds, had to release a diamond. Now Hazen cashed the king of hearts and West was helpless. If he discarded the club, dummy's seven would be good, while if he let go a diamond, dummy's ace and nine would be good.

Lay these cards out and follow the play, as it is one of the most interesting squeeze plays.

Bones of 2,000 hippopotami, killed by prehistoric hunters, were found in a single cave in Sicily.

COMEDY PLAY IS STAGED AT COWANSVILLE

Cowansville, May 31.—A three-act comedy, "Aunt Abby Answers an Ad," was presented to a large and appreciative audience in the Assembly Hall by the Lend-A-Hand Club of Grace Church, Farnham.

The entire action of the play takes place in the living-room of Abby's home in her Toomerville Tourist-Camp.

The play was directed by Mrs. Pattullo, Sr., and reflected great credit on the directress and the players.

The cast of characters was as follows: Abby Ainslie, a dyed-in-the-wool old maid, Marjorie Gibney, Lucindy Lovejoy, her maid of-all-work, Irene Pattullo; Horace Harter, her unwelcome suitor, Russell Sly, Anna Ainslie, her niece from the city, Madeline Cook, Lillian Lorraine, Anna's girl chum, Mabel Darby; Billy Barberton, engaged to Lillian, Gail Brown; Bobby Barrington, Anna's boy friend, Neil Longtin; Mrs. Purviance, a tourist, Evelyn Harris; Horace Harkwell, a lonely widower, Jack Caldwell; Essie Ebbersole, a tattletale, Vivian Darby.

The audience enjoyed a special treat when Miss Ruby Grigor, concert violinist of Vancouver, B.C., played three selections: "Valse Triste," by Sibelius, an English air, "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes," and "The Last Rose of Summer," with Mr. Clifford Johnston as accompanist.

Miss Grigor was born in Cowansville but has lived many years in Vancouver, where she has had great success as concert violinist and teacher. Miss Grigor's kindness in adding much to the pleasure of the evening was much appreciated.

Mrs. W. H. Smith expressed the thanks of the Women's Association to the Club for presenting their play here.

Refreshments were served to the cast and home-made candy was sold between acts.

WAR VETERANS HONOR MEMORY OF BENEFACTOR

Plaque Unveiled to Memory of Mrs. Gertrude Vankoughnet, of Toronto, a Daughter of Sherbrooke, Whose Life of Service on Behalf of Soldiers Placed Her Among Canada's Greatest Women.

The unveiling in Toronto of a memorial plaque in honored and revered memory of the late Mrs. Gertrude Vankoughnet, of Toronto, formerly Miss Gertrude Smith, of Sherbrooke, culminated a movement for a fitting tribute which began last October, when hundreds of citizens from all ranks of life gathered in Massey Hall, Toronto, to pay tribute to her memory.

Mrs. Gertrude Vankoughnet, war worker, patriot and philanthropist, won by her life of service the honored sobriquet, "The Soldier's Friend," and the service last autumn was arranged by a group representing "war veterans."

The memorial address at the unveiling ceremony was delivered by Lieut.-Col. A. E. Baker, O.B.E., M.C., Croix de Guerre.

For the unveiling a special "Order of Service" was arranged, the printed programmes, done with purple ink and wide purple border, forming a suitable souvenir of the impressive ceremony, during which Mr. Arthur Vankoughnet presented a Union Jack to the veterans.

Those who participated included Hon. George S. Henry, M.L.A., who gave an inspirational address; Rev. E. C. Moddle, who read the burial sentences; Rev. A. W. Triner, who read the Scripture lesson; Rev. H. Roche, M.A., who said the memorial prayer after Col. Baker's address; and Rev. K. D. Whymouth, M.A., who said the prayers for the King, the Empire and the Allies.

The music was furnished by the Scarborough Silver Band, under the direction of Mr. W. Nutt, and included several appropriate hymns, as well as "The Last Post," a two minutes' silence, "Reveille" and "God Save the King."

The memorial plaque bears the following inscription: "In honored memory of Mrs. Gertrude Vankoughnet, a devoted servant of the Veterans of the Great War 1914-18, and to whose untiring enthusiasm this memorial was largely due. This tablet was erected May 5, 1940, by the Veterans of War."

The Scarborough War Memorial was erected by the United Veterans' Association in Scarborough, namely, Branches 13 and 73, Canadian Legion B.E.S.L., Oakbridge Veterans' Club, and Excelsior Veterans' Association.

The memory of Mrs. Gertrude Vankoughnet, who passed away September 18, 1939, is warm in the hearts of many friends and relatives in the Eastern Townships, especially in Sherbrooke her native city, from whence many have followed her remarkable career through the years during which she took her place as one of Canada's outstanding women.

"The death of Mrs. Vankoughnet removes from Canadian public life," in the words of one writer, "one who was in the truest sense a public servant, especially in the interests of ex-service men and their dependants."

Although in ill health when the present war was declared, she offered her services and retained her interest until the last. When the I.O.D.E. rallied in response to an overseas call for clothing for children evacuated from English cities, the girls included a generous one from Mrs. Vankoughnet. A few hours later she was dead.

A member of the I.O.D.E. from its early days, Mrs. Vankoughnet had the unique distinction of being the only member of the Order on its honorary membership list. This honor was bestowed primarily for her magnificent war and post-war service, but also in recognition of the invaluable work she had done for the Order from its first years when she utilized her extraordinary gift for organization.

This intense interest in the Order was tangibly expressed in Sherbrooke when Mrs. Vankoughnet was here visiting her former home. At that time the suggestion was made by her, that a Chapter of the I.O.D.E. be organized here. The local activities of the Order practically owe their existence to this suggestion, for from this seed sown by her, first the King George Fifth Chapter and later others have grown until there are now six primary chapters in Sherbrooke under the jurisdiction of the Municipal Chapter.

After the Great War, in 1919, an effort was made to try and persuade Mrs. Vankoughnet to accept some form of honorarium for her war work, but she declined any form of tangible recognition. In speaking of her activities at that time she was referred to as the "Florence Nightingale of Canada."

She adopted Sir Arthur Currie's motto, "Honor the dead by serving the living," and another speaker, a veteran officer, said, "As we send forth our gallant young men to do the unfinished task from the last war, let us place all our strength behind them. If we do not stand behind them to the limit, we shall be failing her, who are the beneficiaries of her kindness."

Of no woman in Canada could it be said more truly that her works live after her, and when the last Offices of the Church were read in St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, for this daughter of Sherbrooke, a great sorrowful company was in attendance, especially ex-service men and women. The Executive of the National Chapter of the I.O.D.E. attended the funeral service in a body, as did the Gertrude Vankoughnet Chapter, named in her honor and of which she was Honorary Regent.

Rio de Janeiro, Guest
Speaker at Rotary Club Meeting.

Rock Island, May 31.—There was an excellent attendance at the regular weekly luncheon and meeting of the Boundary Rotary Club at the Del Monty Hotel, the Boundary Club now standing fourth in the district in attendance.

Guest speaker was J. E. MacDonald, brother-in-law of Rotarian Ed Kelly, who represents the General Electric Company at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Although not having prepared an address, Mr. MacDonald gave a very interesting and instructive talk on Brazil, the every-day people met there, the various races represented in the country, customs of the people, cost of living and a brief summary of business conditions.

A lively barrage of questions which followed the talk evidenced the interest taken in it. John Holland attended the meeting for the first time since his accident and was warmly welcomed back, and the birthdays of two rotarians, Charles Hepburn and Frank Hearle, were noted. Plans were made for the junior speakers who will be heard in the club in the coming months.

Even the youngsters notice the difference Bon Ami makes! It gets dirt and "bath-tub rings" off in a jiffy—and, at the same time, leaves the porcelain with a high polish. But that's only half the story. Bon Ami is also safe—in fact, just as safe as it is thorough. For it contains none of the gritty substances that scratch bathtubs and sinks. DEATHS REPORTED

MR. ANDREW HENDERSON, OF SCOTSTOWN

Scotstown, May 31.—A highly esteemed resident of the town, Andrew Henderson, passed away at his home here on Saturday, April 27, 1940, after a brief illness which followed an operation.

The largely attended funeral service was held on Tuesday, April 30, in St. Andrew's United Church and was conducted by Rev. C. J. Gustafson, Pastor, who spoke comforting words from the text, "For I am persuaded that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor power, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord," Romans 8:38, and also paid tribute to the sterling qualities of the deceased and to his quiet unassuming manner.

The hymns sung were "Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me," "Just As I Am," and "Abide with Me," favorites of the deceased, with Mrs. J. B. Scott as organist. Beautiful floral offerings included a wreath from the High School pupils in Grades X and XI, a wreath from St. Andrew's United Church and basket from Toronto friends.

Bearers were Angus MacIver, Dan R. Macdonald, A. A. MacKenzie, W. W. Bowman, P. A. Sherman and J. N. MacIver and burial took place in Riverview Cemetery, Balak, where a short service was held. Mr. Henderson was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Donald Henderson and was born in 1878 in Stornoway, Isle of Lewis, Scotland. In 1910 he was married to Colena Angus, youngest daughter of the late Colin Angus, contractor, Stornoway, and resided in Stornoway for many years where he was a partner in the firm of Henderson Brothers and was greatly respected throughout the island. Ten children were born, three daughters and seven sons, the death of one son occurring in infancy. In 1930 Mr. and Mrs. Henderson with a part of their family came to Canada and settled in Scotstown.

Those who mourn his loss are his widow, three daughters, Mrs. W. H. Short, of Cheshire, England, Miss Nan Henderson, of Toronto, and Miss Joyce Henderson, of Scotstown; six sons, Donald William Henderson, serving with the New Zealand Fighting Forces in Egypt; Andrew Henderson, with the Canadian Forces in England; In Kenneth Henderson, engineer in the Royal Navy Torpedo Works somewhere in England; and Colin, James and Walter Henderson, of Scotstown; three sisters, Mrs. John Macdonald and Mrs. Robert Scott, of Stornoway, Scotland; and Miss Alice Henderson, of London, England; a brother, Mr. John Henderson, of Stornoway, Scotland, and numerous relatives and friends.

Those attending the funeral from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Peter MacIver, Mr. and Mrs. Murdoch MacIver and Mr. Willie Campbell, of Galsen, Mr. Angus K. MacLeod, Mr. M. Morrison and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. MacKenzie and son, Jack, of Scotstown, Mrs. George MacRae and Miss Agnes Morrison, of Sherbrooke, Mr. and Mrs. Alex M. Morrison and Mr. Donald Morrison, of Scotstown, and Mrs. J. A. MacLeod, of Knowlton.

The flowers from the family and relatives were very beautiful and showed the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

Weekly Letter to Farmers

By D. A. Finlayson, Assistant to Superintendent,
Lennoxville Experimental Farm.

Poultry production has become one of the important branches of the agricultural industry. While considerable development has taken place in specialized poultry farms, a large proportion of this production is derived from the relatively small flocks on farms, where mixed farming is practised.

The average operator of a mixed farm does not find time to practise as intensive a system of management as the operator of a specialized poultry farm. However, with reasonable attention, good results from farm flocks can be obtained.

At this time of the year, most of the hatching has been done and farmers are concerned with successfully raising their growing stock. If chicks from good breeding stock have been procured and successfully brooded, they will merit careful attention during the developing period.

The important requirements during this period can be briefly summarized under the following headings:

- 1.—Provision for fresh air and exercise during brooding.
- 2.—Range.
- 3.—Shelter.
- 4.—Feed.
- 5.—Parasite Control.
- 6.—Management.

Provision for Fresh Air and Exercise During Brooding

Towards the end of the brooding season, as the weather becomes warm, chicks should be allowed access to open air. This permits benefits from direct sunlight, provides facilities for fresh air and exercise and reduces chances of overheating in the brooder house. Small yards with wire floors can be built cheaply for this purpose. In this way the benefits can be obtained without exposing the chicks to disease-contaminated ground.

Range.
The essential feature of good range is to provide an abundance of high quality green feed, without exposing the birds to diseases that are commonly carried over in the soil. On the average farm, this need not involve a complicated system of management. It is important that land allotted to the growing chickens should not have been used for this purpose for at least a year and should be far enough away from the laying house to be free from contamination from that source. It is often practical to provide two or three small fields and to practise a short crop rotation, allowing a newly-seeded clover plot each year for range purposes.

Shelter.
Protection from the sun is important in warm weather. This can be accomplished by growing such crops as sunflowers, adjacent to the range, to be used during summer and by erecting temporary shelters. Housing can best be supplied by the range shelter type of house.

Feed.
Commercial feeds are largely used in the poultry business. Mash is usually made up of a large number of ingredients and the advantages of commercial preparation are that it saves the purchase of relatively small quantities of many individual feeds and assures the poultryman of a uniform mix. Farm grains can be utilized as scratch feed and a mixture of equal parts of oats, wheat and cracked corn is satisfactory.

Grit and plenty of fresh water should be supplied and where skim milk is available, it can be used advantageously.

Parasite Control.
Mites and lice multiply rapidly in warm weather. Careful watch for these parasites should be kept and control measures applied regularly.

Management.
The sexes should be separated as early as possible. Cockerets that are to be sold for meat purposes can stand more confinement than the pullets that are to go into the laying house. Frequent culling of the pullet flock will save feed and improve the appearance of the group.

Traditional Insignia Of Dominion Again Appears At Training Ground

By EDWIN JOHNSON,
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Aldershot, England, May 31.—(C) Cable) — The Red Square identifying patch of the vanguard of Canada's legions made famous in the battles of the last war has been revived in modified form by the 1st Division of the Dominion's modern army.

The new crest, which shows a maple leaf of gold superimposed on a scarlet field, made its first appearance yesterday on the fenders of all divisional vehicles of the Canadian training area.

Use of the insignia will be temporarily confined to transports pending consultation with unit commanders regarding its appropriateness as a shoulder patch for the troops.

A partial canvass indicates that the consensus favors the crest already adopted for the vehicles with the possible inclusion of "Canada" worked in gold above the maple leaf.

By EDWIN I. JOHNSON,
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Aldershot, Eng., May 31.—(C) — Prouddest man today in the 1st Canadian Division is Sgt. Seymour Tyler, of Fredericton, N.B., who came overseas with the Carleton-York Regiment — his second crusade to the battlefields of Europe.

Sgt. Tyler, who served with the 71st York Regiment in the First Great War and was wounded in the battle of Kemmel Hill, recently learned he had been promoted to take charge of the battalion's medical section.

Later the same day he was called into the office of Lieut.-Col. J. E. Ganong, Officer Commanding, and congratulated on the completion of twenty-three years service in the Canadian Army during which time he has never paraded sick nor been charged as a defaulter.

The mailman did the rest. The first package he brought to the veteran sergeant contained the medal which was awarded recently for outstanding conduct, by the Captain Whyte Post of the American legion.

The news, however, that gave him greatest joy was in the letters from home. He shouted to his mates: "Just listen to this. Both my little daughters are leading their class in school. Beulah, she's only six, had an average percentage of 98.9 in all her subjects. Marjorie, aged 12, didn't do so badly either with a standing of 96.1. I'm sure my two boys also did well, but they forgot to send their marks."

He let his colleagues in on the secret — Mrs. Tyler is a school teacher.

GIVES A PRACTICAL EXAMPLE

By EDWIN JOHNSON,
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Aldershot, Eng., May 31.—(C) — Lieut.-Col. Milton F. Gregg, Commanding Officer of the West Nova Scotia Regiment, who won the Victoria Cross and many other decorations and citations for gallantry and resourcefulness in the First Great War, is teaching his men to follow in his footsteps.

Former Sergeant-at-Arms in the Canadian House of Commons, Col. Gregg has lived with his men during their tough regime of training, since he took over command of the unit last February. Through rain and sunshine, on long manoeuvres during cold, inky nights or torrid days he is constantly to be found leading the way and instilling confidence.

"Teach a man the lessons of self-reliance, place him on his own resources, bring him to understand that he is a vital cog in the general scheme of things," he remarked during a brief pause while directing a tactical exercise in a dense wood.

"Once a company has reached the necessary standard of training there is no better test than to send it out on a scheme of its own for a few days where the men can concentrate on a what might be called a private war," he added.

Scattered throughout the woods, "A" company of the Battalion, led by Capt. H. M. Bryson, of Truro, N.S., was undergoing just such a test.

With the kit they will eventually carry into battle, from steel helmet to gas cape, the men were out on practice patrol against a skeleton enemy which had penetrated the battalion's forward position and was menacing the right flank of their sector.

Proceeded by a section of scouts and snipers, under the direction of Lieut. H. F. Parker of Saint John, former Bisley shot, the patrol crept stealthily through the underbrush. In the van was Joseph J. P. Francis, an Indian of Annapolis Royal, N.S.

"Give Francis a job to do and he'll creep within a yard of a sentry without so much as snapping a twig," said Lieut. Parker.

Francis and his colleagues were far into "No-Man's Land" when their attention was diverted by a fusillade of rifle fire from the cover of a canal embankment. It was the "enemy" re-suming his flank assault.

Protected by his own snipers, Francis crawled back to give this intelligence to his platoon commander. While the main party of the W.N.S.R. detoured cautiously towards their objective a running fire was maintained by a reconnaissance squad to distract the enemy.

Watching every phase of the manoeuvre was Col. Gregg. With him were Major A. A. Ernst, of Halifax, Second in Command of the Regiment, and Lieut. H. P. B. Jenkins, Battalion Intelligence Officer, from Truro. They were acting in the role of umpires.

A whistle signalled the end of the exercises. It was scored as a triumph for the Maritimers.

With a background of rumbling artillery, machine-gun and rifle fire arrived to spend the summer at their cottage here.

Mr. A. C. Bell, Mrs. Charles Hawes and Mrs. Blanche Tarcott spent a few days at Mr. Bell's camp at Little Lake.

Mrs. Rod Sterling and two children of Lennoxville, Mrs. Jas. Mitchell, of Sherbrooke, and their mother, Mrs. Logie, spent some time at Mr. Sterling's camp here.

Mrs. J. J. Meagher and daughter, Lorna, of Montreal, have arrived to spend the summer at their cottage here. Mr. Meagher and Mr. and Mrs. John Meagher, of Montreal, spent a week-end at the same home.

An urgent appeal has been made by the Canadian Red Cross Society for more supplies and several cartons have been placed around town for tooth-paste tubes, shaving cream and other articles from which the caps have been removed. It is hoped by the North Hatley branch of the Red Cross that everyone will do their part in this appeal.

SHERBROOKE KNOCKS OFF TRIFLUVIANS 3-2

Klivak Limits Schang Squad To Five Clouts

Right-Hander Finds Right Recipe for Three Rivers—Gets Bang-Up Support from Revamped Line-Up—Koval in Left Field Replacing Spartachino, Now with Granby—Durand at Second and Albertson at Short—Granby and Saints Hold Top.

Shades of darkness lifted at the Park Avenue meadow last night and the Sherbrooke ball team, drubbed badly by St. Hyacinthe and Quebec after marching through four straight home games without defeat, snapped back into line with a 3-2 victory over Three Rivers.

It was the locals' seventh victory in twelve starts, and kept them up within a half-game of the pace-setting teams, both of whom won last night. St. Hyacinthe defeating last stage Drummondville Tigers 4-2 and Granby Red Sox downing Quebec 2-1.

Today's standing shows St. Hyacinthe and Granby with six victories and three setbacks for a percentage of .667 and Sherbrooke with a seven and five record for a mark of .583. Three Rivers ranks fourth, two games behind the leaders. Quebec fifth, three games off the pace, and Drummondville last, three and a half games behind.

George Klivak went the distance for the Gaudreauxmen, holding the Schang-coached aggregation to five scattered base hits and experiencing trouble in only one inning, the sixth, when an error, a passed ball and a free ticket to first set the stage for two runs. The tall right-hander's control was excellent, and his change-of-pace and curve balls kept the visitors guessing all the way. Klivak fanned three of the Trifluvians and issued only three passes.

Playing sparkling ball behind him, his team-mates came through when the chips were down. Eddie Albertson's miscue in the sixth hurt, but the team pulled off several snappy plays that met with enthusiastic approval from the slim assemblage.

The team's hitting could not be termed heavy, by any stretch of the imagination, since they touched Mike Anderson for only six base knocks, but the safeties came when needed, and averages do not mean a thing when runs are what win ball games. Anderson kept step with Klivak in strikeouts, and walked only one man.

Sherbrooke took a one-run lead in the initial frame and added another tally in the fourth. After Three Rivers drew even in the sixth, the homesters came through with the winner in the eighth.

Catching the eye in the field were Ray Cote's terrific running catch of Paul Martin's line smash to centre in the third frame, a nab similar to one the star picketman pulled off on a drive by Whittiak when St. Hyacinthe played here on May 14, a relay from Croteau to Durand to heighten, and a snappy twin killing.

Wilbur Shaw Three-Time Winner Of 500-Mile Car Race At Indianapolis

Indianapolis, May 31.—(P)—Wilbur Shaw of Indianapolis, who looks like a man-about-town but who has made a small fortune in one of the world's toughest sports—automobile racing—today will collect approximately $30,000 as a reward for his third victory in an Indianapolis Motor Speedway grind.

Shaw won a history-making 500-mile race yesterday at an average speed of 114.277 miles an hour and joined Louis Meyer of Huntington Park, Calif., as the only three-time winners of the classic.

He became the first man to win two consecutive races and won the first complete race finished under the yellow caution flag which requires all drivers to hold their places.

Officials hung out the caution flag at the 375-mile mark because of rain and left it there until the contest ended.

The Indianapolis pilot finished slightly less than 2½ miles ahead of Rex Mays of Glendale, Calif., and when Shaw crossed the finish line the race was called off.

Mays led for the first 85 miles, then Shaw moved in front. At 182 miles Shaw stopped for gas and tires and dropped to fifth place. Shaw regained the lead at 260 miles and never was headed.

Shaw made two pit stops. The first one cost him the lead, but on the second he was in and out again before Mays could overtake him.

There were three spectacular accidents. At 77 miles Earl Riganti of Buenos Aires went through the fence at the southeast turn and his car overturned. He received cuts on his nose and a wrenched back.

Almost simultaneously, Tommy Henshaw of Reading, Pa., went into a skid on the main straightaway and crashed head on into the concrete retaining wall. His arm was broken.

A short time later Ralph Hepburn, Los Angeles veteran, spun on the main stretch as he was pulling into the pits. A fourth accident put Duke Nalon of Chicago out of the running, but he was uninjured. His car spun around on the north turn and broke a crankshaft.

0 in 1 inning; hit by pitcher: by Lepine (Walsh); umpires: Prince and Dube; time of game: 1:39.

L.H.S. SCORES 4TH STRAIGHT SOFTBALL WIN

Intercollegiate League Champions Increase Lead with 5-3 Victory Over St. Pat's Academy.

Lennoxville High School surged ahead in the Sherbrooke Intercollegiate Softball League championship race with its fourth straight triumph over St. Pat's by 5-3 at the Parade Grounds yesterday afternoon.

The defending title-holders have now won their two-game series from both the Irish and Sherbrooke Arts and Crafts. St. Pat's still retains a slim chance of making the school playoffs.

The Saints reached Lennoxville's finger, Harry Teal, for five singles in the first four stanzas, but the twirler scattered them well. In the remaining frames the locals belted out as many more singles and received the bases on three different occasions. From this, together with a pair of errors by first sacker Jimmy Groux, they were able to score only three runs.

The visitors, meanwhile, although outthrew 11-7, made the most of their opportunities, which were fewer than their opponents'. Only three of their safeties were wasted.

Leaders in the L.H.S. onslaught were Stew Allen, who hit a triple and a single, and Willie Atto, with a double and a single.

Murphy and Farr each had two hits for the losers.

In the Rand-Fairbanks engagement Howland, Barlow and Boisse hit round-trippers to lead an 18-hit assault on the deliveries of Cloutier and Bradley. Murray Smith paced the losers with a triple and double.

Hubbell And Ruffing Twirl Memorial Day Masterpieces

King Carl, Veteran Screwballer, Comes Within One Single of Perfect Game, Facing Only 27 Batters as Giants Blank Dodgers 7-0—Red Ruffing Limits Red Sox to Two Hits as Yankees Shut Out Boston 4-0 Before 82,437 Fans—Reds Take Over N.L. Lead.

Two of baseball's great heroes fittingly memorialized Memorial Day for nearly a quarter million fans massed in the major league parks by producing pitching performances such as are reserved only for special occasions.

Foremost on yesterday's programme was a one-hit game pitched by Carl Hubbell, the New York Giants' apparently tireless veteran, before a crowd of 34,548 fans in Brooklyn's Ebbets Field.

The Jean, screwballing southpaw came within one single of that rarest of pitching prizes, a perfect game. In the third inning, Johnny Hudson of the Dodgers singled. A double play immediately eliminated him and no other Dodger reached first. Thus Hubbell faced only 27 batters in winning 7-0, and pushing the Dodgers out of the National League lead.

The other outstanding offering was a two-hitter by Red Ruffing of New York Yankees in shutting out Boston Red Sox 4-0 before the third largest crowd in baseball's history, 82,437 at Yankee Stadium. For seven innings the big redhead had a no-hitter. In the eighth Joe Cronin singled and the spell was shattered.

These were just the sentimental high spots of a powerful programme of 15 games, that drew 237,828 fans. A double-header at Pittsburgh was rained out.

Hubbell's victory was the first of two for the Giants against Brooklyn. The second was one of those things that happen only in Flatbush—desperately tight for 11 innings and then the Giants exploded eight runs in the 12th inning to win 12-5.

Ruffing's triumph ran the Yankees' winning streak to six games but the Red Sox won the nightcap 11-4 and preserved a game margin at the top of the American League.

Manager Cronin led a 14-hit attack with a three-run homer and Herb has held New York to six hits.

In taking over the National League lead, the Cincinnati Reds swept two games from Chicago Cubs, who have lost six of their last seven games. Paul Derringer's pitching and Harry Carter's hitting enabled the Reds to march to a 4-2 decision in the opener, but they had to go 12 innings to take the second game 9-8, with Johnny Rizzo sending the winning run across on a single. Chicago's largest crowd of the season, 30,828 was present.

The Phillies and Boston split the other show in the senior circuit. Kirby Higbe allowed five hits to take the first game 6-1. Boston Giants' apparently tireless veteran, "Lefty" Joe Sullivan allowing only six hits and Eddie Miller hitting a grand slam home run in the 11th for a 5-1 victory.

Cleveland Indians cut down Chicago White Sox twice by identical scores of 3-1. First "Lefty" Al Smith scored his fourth victory without defeat on a six-hit performance and then Al Milnar, the league's leading hurler, held the Sox to five safeties.

Tom Bridges and Schoolboy Rowe were Detroit Tigers' winners. Bridges pitched the eight scoreless innings after the first and beat the Browns 2-1 on a homer by Hank Greenberg and a double by Rudy York with Greenberg on base. The Tigers ripped out defeat.

Washington Senators and Philadelphia Athletics divided their double-bill. The A's nosed out the first game 7-6 after Frank Hayes' homer tied the score in the ninth. The Senators stormed back to win the second game 14-2 before dark. seventh.

Rogers Hornsby, No. 1 in the baseball unemployed line, is keeping his hand in playing occasional games with semi-pro nines.
