QUEBEC IN FOCUS

Reject contract offer

MONTREAL (CP) — Employees of Daly and Morin, a drapery-making firm in suburban Lachine, voted during the weekend to reject the company's latest contract offer to settle a strike that started 16 weeks ago.

The 73-year-old firm announced Friday it would move to Ontario if the offer were rejected.

The striking workers, members of the National Federation of Clothing Workers affiliated with the Confederation of National Trade Unions, voted 136 to 29 against the proposed settlement, not made public.

The union represents 273 employees at Daly and Morin. During the weekend meeting, union leaders said they doubt the company will move to Ontario.

Union leader Raymond Lacroix said 60 per cent of the strikers have found other jobs but would return to Daly and Morin after the holiday season when he believes everything will be settled.

Fire victims buried

NOTRE-DAME-DU-LAC, Que. (CP) — A memorial service was held Saturday for 38 persons who perished when fire raged through a home for the aged last Tuesday.

The service was celebrated by Msgr. Louis Levesque, Bishop of Rimouski, and attended by several Quebec government and religious figures.

Notre-Dame-du-Lac is in Temiscouata county about 120 miles northeast of Quebec City.

Thousands cheer Leger

MONTREAL (CP) — Thousands of Montrealers packing St. Joseph's Oratory gave Paul-Emile Cardinal Leger a standing ovation Sunday as he spoke for the last time before a major public gathering prior to his planned return to Africa to work in a leper colony next month.

The prelate urged the attentive crowd to "turn your eyes towards the Third World" of underdeveloped countries.

The time when unions must be involved

PIEDMONT, Que. (CP) — Raymond Laliberte, president of the 60,000-member Quebec Teachers Corp., says there are times when a labor union must get involved in political action.

Union members are not just interested in salaries and working conditions, he told a meeting in this Laurentian community Sunday. They are also citizens, consumers and voters.

For these reasons, he said, "a teachers' union, in addition to pursuing professional objectives, must also occupy itself with political questions."

The corporation last month took a strong stand against the Union Nationale government's language bill, which aims to promote French as the priority language in Quebec while guaranteeing parents' rights to choose the language of school instruction for their children. The bill was overwhelmingly approved by the national assembly of Quebec.

"Being part of the public service, a teachers' union whether it likes it or not faces an employer — the government — whose principal characteristic is being political.

"I once thought it was possible to limit our relations with the government purely to the realm of employer-employee matters.

"But I no longer believe that."

A text of Mr. Laliberte's address was released in advance.

TODAY'S CHUCKLE — It usually takes pretty good backing to put up a good front.

OTTAWA (CP) — Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand said Sunday night Quebec province would neither make nor accept ultimatums at the constitutional conference.

He arrived from Quebec City accompanied by Claude Morin, deputy minister of intergovernmental affairs.

Mr. Bertrand told reporters:

"We didn't come here to make ultimatums nor will we accept them. We came here to negotiate."

This is Mr. Bertrand's third constitutional conference since he replaced the late Daniel Johnson as Quebec premier.

Asked about the federal government's refusal to grant Quebec exclusive jurisdiction over social security programs like family allowances, Mr. Bertrand indicated he will take a strong stand on his province's rights in that field.

Premier Bertrand told reporters that he will defend Quebec's position on social policies outlined in a working document tabled at the conference in 1968. It says:

"Social security, including all social allowances, old age pensions, family allowances, health and hospitals, manpower and placement training, should come under the exclusive jurisdiction of the constituent states."

The document says the presence of two levels of government in the social field "leads to waste and administrative overlap," thwarting "all effective planning."

It also argues that social security measures have a cultural impact and Quebecers "cannot be deprived of their own social security system any more than they can do without their own education system."

A guaranteed annual income a major topic on the agenda.

Debate is not expected to be acrimonious, but most of the provincial leaders have stated their case strongly.

A simple, five-point agenda has been set out for the three day meeting:

Division of Powers, with three sub-headings—income security and social services, the spending power; federal grants to provincial governments and taxation—heads the list.

But the second item—Regional Disparities—is of prime concern to the Atlantic provinces.

Other items are simply: reports from committees of ministers; future program of work and other business.

PEARSON CALLED FIRST

It is called the third meeting of the current series—that is the third since Mr. Trudeau became prime minister. It is actually the fourth. The first, in February, 1968, when Lester Pearson was prime minister, is remembered chiefly for the lively and sometimes bitter debate between Mr. Trudeau, then justice minister, and the late Daniel Johnson, then premier of Quebec.

In a television interview Sunday night, Prime Minister Trudeau said this week's conference approaches "the final or semi-final stage" of constitutional reform.

He said a clearer picture of Canada is emerging from the conferences embodying legal, cultural and other agreements.

PREMIER BERTRAND ... no ultimatums

Asked about the federal stand on incomes insurance, Mr. Trudeau said the federal government has to have jurisdiction in the area of social insurance first.

He said the debate with Quebec over constitutional law has been less acrimonious recently.

Federal officials nevertheless have taken hope from Mr. Bertrand's recent firm statements in favor of federalism and against separatism.

No other province is demanding as complete a control over social spending as Quebec, but most reject the federal government's moves towards centralism.

Ontario's Premier John Robarts has insisted that the provinces be treated as equal partners as supreme in their fields of jurisdiction as the federal government is in its own.

Mr. Robarts was the only premier not to reach Ottawa by Sunday night. With bad weather closing in, the Ontario party came by train, arriving early this morning.

Mr. Robarts gave his views on the federal-provincial conference at an Ontario Progressive Conservative party convention over the weekend.

'TAKES FIXED POSITION'

"The federal government is approaching this week's conference from fixed positions that would shove all parties into adversary positions," he told his supporters.

He said Ontario was not interested in any change that would centralize all power in Ottawa.

"Any inflexible stand, especially on tax-sharing, ignores the fact that there is only one taxpayer and he can only pay so much."

The federal government working paper made public Thursday, said Ottawa wants concurrent power with the provinces to take public insurance measures.

Ottawa also wants federal law to over-ride provincial law in any conflict over retirement insurance and wants the constitution to spell out that the federal government has concurrent power with the provinces to make income support payments to persons—as in the case of family allowances and old age pensions.

Western premiers have interpreted this as a move towards a national guaranteed income plan.

GIVE GENERAL SUPPORT

Premier W. A. C. Bennett of British Columbia and Premier Harry Strom of Alberta both gave general support for such a scheme. But both were concerned that it should not copy the pattern of the medical care insurance plan.

SAY IT ISN'T SO, PIERRE

MONTREAL (CP) — The Sunday Express says it has learned the marriage of Prime Minister Trudeau and actress Louise Marleau may be in the offing.

The weekly newspaper says sources in Ottawa and Montreal believe there will be a wedding announcement at any time and that the wedding may be held in June or earlier.

Mr. Trudeau recently turned 50 and Miss Marleau is 25.

The report was denied by staff members at Mr. Trudeau's Sussex Drive residence in Ottawa.

Miss Marleau, a well-known French-Canadian actress, is quoted as saying, "How would I know that?" When asked if she plans to wed Mr. Trudeau.

A spokesman for the prime minister's office in Ottawa said, "No comment."

CONFERENCE AGENDA

OTTAWA (CP) — Jurisdiction over "income security and social services" is the first item on the agenda of the federal-provincial constitutional conference beginning today, the third in the current series.

The topic is the first of three under the heading Division of Powers.

Items 2 and 3 are titled The Spending Power: Federal Grants to Provincial Governments, and Taxation.

Regional disparities are down as the second general subject, one dearest to the hearts of the less-wealthy provinces.

Following that, the order of business for what could be a three-day meeting are reports from the various ministerial committees, future work programs and, finally, other business.

President sees no change in RTS operation

SHERBROOKE — (Staff) — Power Corporation's sale of Radio Television Sherbrooke may ease the minds of those who were concerned that the area's media was controlled by the powerful conglomerate, but it won't affect the operation of CHLT-TV and CHLT Radio.

Jean-Louis Gauthier, president of RTS, said Saturday the stations have been managed "for a long time" by Telemedia, the company that bought them and also purchased Montreal radio station CKAC. "It (Telemedia) was a subsidiary of Power Corporation in the first place," said Mr. Gauthier. "so I foresee no major change in the operation of our stations." Students from the University of Sherbrooke and the Sherbrooke CEGEPs protested the stations' ownership earlier this year.

It was announced Thursday that CHLT-TV, Sherbrooke's only television station, CHLT Radio and the Montreal station had been sold to a private owner, Philippe de Gaspé Beaubien, who was chief of operations of Expo 67.

A spokesman for the Beaubien group said the total purchase price of the radio and television stations will be $8,960,000 of which $7,260,000 is for properties owned by Power Corp. subsidiaries and the balance for options held by Power Corp. on radio station CHLN, Trois Rivières, Que., and on radio station CJBR and television station CJBR-TV, both in Rimouski, Que.

The $7,260,000 purchase price for directly-owned Power Corp. radio and television stations represents their cost as shown in the Power Corp. June 30 first-half report.

The deal results in Power Corp. liquidating all of its radio and television holdings. It sold its newspaper interests to Gelco Enterprises previously.

Paul Desmarais, president of Gelco, is also president of Power Corp.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH

Periodontal Disease Can Be Arrested

By WILLIAM LAWRENCE, D.D.S.

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE: Can pyorrhea be cured? And why do periodontists charge such exorbitant prices?
ANSWER: The name pyorrhea is an old one and not often used these days. Periodontal disease is the term now used to describe infection and abnormal changes that occur around (peri) the teeth (dontia), mainly the gums and bony supporting structure.
Dentists who specialize in this treatment are called periodontists and we need about 20 times as many of them as we now have.
Can periodontal disease be cured? Probably not. I think most periodontists will admit to that. BUT, while a complete "cure" is not yet available, periodontal disease can be arrested; infection can be eliminated; premature loss of teeth can be prevented and the chewing apparatus can be restored and maintained in healthy condition for many extra years.
There are many causes of periodontal disease and many organisms seem to be involved. But much research work is being done and cures may be available some day.

As to exorbitant fees that periodontists supposedly charge, they are probably not out of line with the rest of our over-inflated economy. I've heard dentists say that many of the new and exciting things that dentistry is now capable of doing to save teeth are much too expensive for most people and are available only to a small percentage of our population who can afford to pay the high fees. Everything costs too, too much. In fact, I don't know any more how much is too much.

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE: What makes my dentures click when I eat? And what can be done about it? It's so embarrassing when I'm out in company.
ANSWER: Porcelain teeth in dentures can produce clicking when brought sharply together. Some denture wearers seem to take special delight in clicking, emphasizing a word or phrase with a resounding click.

UPPER YAMASKA

Job is to deal with province

When a regional planning council, working independently, finds that its draft action program meshes almost perfectly with the latest plans of a just-reorganized government planning department, something of a miracle has occurred.

But this is exactly what happened in Granby on Saturday, as 60 men and women from three and-a-half counties spent the day founding the new Upper Yamaska Regional Development Council Inc. The result: a lot of smiling faces and a good deal of enthusiasm about the future.

"Our job is to become the chief spokesman for the Upper Yamaska Region in dealing with the provincial government," said Gilles Baribeau of Granby, president of the new Council.

This was echoed by Germain Dallaire of the Quebec Planning and Development Board, guest speaker at the closing dinner, who told the delegates that the government's new policy is to "encourage the establishment of a single regional spokesman in each of the ten economic regions of Quebec."

First priority for the new Council, which takes in the counties of Brome, Missisquoi, Shefford and part of Rouville, is to persuade the government to start getting serious about the Yamaska River development project.

This project was announced amid great fanfare in Granby last year by Paul Allard, minister of natural resources, but there has been very little action since.

The Upper Yamaska River basin corresponds very closely to the territory covered by the new Regional Development Council, and poor water management is a major problem throughout the area. Some examples are the water shortage in Granby, pollution below Granby, springtime floods at Cowansville and algae blooms in Brome Lake.

Mr. Baribeau, an executive with the Granby Agricultural Cooperative, said the Council expects to receive an operating grant from Quebec, and hopes to establish a permanent secretariat by the end of 1970.

In the meantime a membership campaign is planned among the municipalities and organizations of the region. All the major towns of the area have already agreed to participate and were represented at Saturday's meeting.

The executive of the Upper Yamaska Regional Development Council is composed as follows: President: Gilles Baribeau, Granby; Vice-President: Roger Lague, Farnham; Secretary: Francois Mercier, Granby; Treasurer: Jean-Paul Bernier, Granby; Directors are Normand Gaudreau, Dunham; Rosaire Raymond, Cowansville; and Lionel Duhamel, St. Cesaire. Legal adviser is Jean Massey, Granby.

TO SING IN COWANSVILLE—The Island City Singers who began as a singing group composed of Bishop's University graduates but have since expanded their scope, will be featured at two church services Dec. 14.

The choir will be singing at Emmanuel United Church at 11 a.m. and at the Communion Service at the Protestant Chapel of the Cowansville Institution at a special family service.

ROCK FESTIVAL

Four dead and four born

TRACY, Calif. (AP) — A sea of trash covered a speedway Sunday where the day before a crowd estimated by police at 300,000 youngsters attended a free rock-music festival and four persons died.

Aside from 60 or so stragglers, only bottles, discarded clothing and other junk were left.

A few untidy heaps turned out, on closer inspection, to be sleeping bags with someone inside. A man sat on a 30-foot light stand contemplating the scene.

At least 500 youngsters stayed through the night rather than enter a massive traffic jam that for a time stretched almost 30 miles.

The Rolling Stones and other rock groups performed all day Saturday.

An unidentified man was fatally stabbed in the back and face when he leaped on the stage and pulled a gun during a performance. His assailant apparently escaped, authorities said.

The body of a youth was pulled from the nearby California

Aqueduct after witnesses reported, he accidentally toppled in.

A car driving out of the speedway ran off the pavement and killed two persons lying on the ground. A woman was seriously hurt.

Four babies were born and their mothers were cared for in an emergency medical tent set up on the grounds.

Many persons were reported treated for an overdose of drugs. Some were seen huddling under blankets, victims of bad LSD "trips." One youth was seriously hurt in a leap from an overpass on to concrete paving below.

Hundreds of persons were treated by 19 doctors and six psychiatrists hired by one British rock group. A 20-year-old youth was arrested after he was reported to have accosted an ambulance driver with a gun and ordered him to drive to Livermore. The vehicle was stopped by police a mile away.

Mostly, the California festival spectators, arrayed on the rolling brown hills of Alameda County, were content to stand or snuggle together on the ground as they listened to the music. The mood was peaceful. Some were naked.

Many persons seemed to be smoking marijuana openly. Far more were drinking beer or wine or soft drinks. Officers reported several arrests for drunkenness.

Shreyer pledges French rights in Manitoba

ST. BONIFACE, Man. (CP) — Premier Ed Schreyer drew rounds of applause from French-speaking Manitobans Sunday when he promised legislation to ensure development of the French culture.

"Your government will adopt policies that encourage the development of bilingualism, especially in areas where the majority is French-speaking, without neglecting the pluralistic cultural aspect of our province," he told more than 500 persons attending a meeting of the Societe Franco-Manitobaine.

Speaking in French, he added: "We intend bringing about the necessary changes so that your children and our children are given every opportunity to receive instruction in their maternal tongue first of all, and then, in a second language.

"To this end we intend introducing immediately... laws that will permit the teaching of French from kindergarten to Grade 12 and extending far beyond the 50 per cent already allowable in the primary grades."

Mr. Schreyer said he opposed setting "statutory limits" on the amount of French to be used as a language of instruction in schools.

The statement sparked wild applause from the packed meeting hall in this predominantly French-speaking community across the Red River from Winnipeg. About 150 persons had to be turned away for lack of space.

Suggests Geneva law to soldiers

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Amid the furor over the 1968 massacre of civilians by United States troops in My Lai, South Vietnam, United Nations Secretary-General U Thant is suggesting that all soldiers be given copies of the 1949 Geneva conventions against mistreatment of civilians, prisoners and wounded in wartime.

"Special emphasis should be placed on the dissemination of such persons as to the principles of the convention and the application of those principles," he said in a report to the UN General Assembly.

Thant's report, "Respect for human rights in armed conflict," reflects the Nuernberg tribunal ruling on Nazi war crimes that orders are no defence for war crimes. He says: "Breaches of the laws and customs of war involve the personal responsibility of those committing them."

But he also says the presence of civilians amid fighting "may impede the observance of the relevant norms by those responsible for the conduct of military operations."

Thant suggests the UN organize regional and worldwide seminars on this subject for "qualified civilian and military experts."

E.T. linked to McGill governors

Two of the four new appointments made to the Board of Governors of McGill University last week have strong ties with the Eastern Townships.

Claire Kerrigan, first woman governor in McGill's history, is a part-time resident of Knowlton, where she has been a driving force behind the Brome County Family Services social welfare organization.

She has also been active in the United Red Feather Services and the Vanier Institute of the Family. She obtained a degree in social work from McGill in 1964.

Sherbrooke native Gordon Echenberg, 29, is the youngest McGill governor ever. He attended school in Sherbrooke, where his family is well known, before taking degrees in Arts and Law at McGill. In 1961-62 he was President of the McGill Students' Society, and he is now a partner in a Montreal law firm.

End poverty, cut crime

In its latest report to the United States people, the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence, created by President Johnson after the assassinations of Martin Luther King and Robert F. Kennedy, has revealed or confirmed the belief that the high crime rate is linked directly with poverty.

Violent crime stems disproportionately from ghetto slums, where most Negroes live, and is committed primarily by individuals of the lower end of the occupational scale, the Commission found.

Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, chairman of the commission, emphasizes that "the correlation is not one of race with crime" but of "poverty with crime."

The top law enforcement officer in the United States, Attorney General John N. Mitchell, has taken sharp exception to the report.

"No doubt some of our social evils contribute," said Mr. Mitchell in reaction to the report. "But we should not accept poverty as an excuse for the commission of a crime."

This could lead, he warned, to the point where a person could be exonerated for a crime on the grounds of poverty.

The attorney general has responded to a truism with a non sequitur.

The link between a poverty background and violent crime is not an "excuse" for crime, but an explanation for crime, or at least one kind of criminal behavior.

It is at best a partial explanation—and a far from novel or startling one, as even a cursory glance at crime statistics suggests—but still an explanation.

Mr. Mitchell to the contrary notwithstanding, the greater peril facing the people of this continent today is not one of making excuses for crime but continuing to make excuses for the perpetuation of poverty in the midst of plenty.

African drums silenced

"Darkest Africa" is turning pale. "(Africans) have not yet adopted electric signals but possess, however, a system of communication quite as effective," famed explorer Henry M. Stanley could write some 50 years ago. "Their huge drums by being struck in different parts convey language as clear as the initiated as vocal speech."

Today, most Africans are no more able to interpret a tom-tom message than visitors from this continent, reports the National Geographic Society. Once the mainstay of primitive communication, village drums have grown silent. Tribes that once relied on drums now use the mails, despite the fact that the old way was cheaper and faster.

The same is true of tribesmen around the world.

In India, says the Society, relays of drummers could once send a message 300 miles in just seventeen minutes. Perhaps the Canadian post office, which is not exactly famous for delivering communications at the speed of sound, could do worse than take a look at this art before it vanishes completely.

....But fight goes on

Little by little, workingmen are winning the struggle against their capitalist exploiters. Consider these recent gains in the area of time spent not working.

Right here in Canada, a recent settlement gives Toronto Harbor Commissioners' employees time-and-a-half pay for vacations. The rationale, evidently, is that most people exert at least half again as much energy relaxing as they do when they are on the job.

Getting a paid holiday on your birthday is a common practise in many shops, but one union in an eastern state has now written an annual "Moon Day" holiday—July 21—into its new contract in recognition of the accomplishment of Apollo 11.

In all justice, however, the holiday ought to rate double-time pay because the first manned landing on the moon actually took place on a Sunday.

THE ART BUCHWALD COLUMN

WASHINGTON — All of Washington is talking about Attorney General John Mitchell's wife, Martha. Mrs. Mitchell has made almost as big a splash as Vice President Spiro Agnew, with such remarks on TV as the one that her husband would like to trade some American liberals for some Russian Communists.

She also told Time magazine's Dean Fischer, "Any time you get somebody marching in the streets, it's catering to revolution. My family worked for everything. We even had a deed from the king of England for property in South Carolina. Now these jerks come along and try to give it to the Communists...."

Commenting on life in Washington, she said, "It's quite a comedown in many ways. We're not living on the same means we had in Rye, N.Y. I think the government should give us free housing. We'll be happy to go back and make some money."

Mrs. Mitchell in her TV broadcasts and interviews has given us an insight into a Cabinet officer's life that we never had before, and I can imagine what happens when the Mitchells return home in the evening to their posh apartment at the Watergate in the Foggy Bottom part of Washington.

CHECK THE CLOSETS

The attorney general enters first and checks all the closets.

"There's none in here."

Mrs. Mitchell looks under the bed. "There's none here."

They both look in the laundry room. "There's none here," the attorney general says.

Mrs. Mitchell sighs. "Oh, John, can't you do something about the liberals so we don't have to go through this every night?"

"I'm trying, Martha. I'm working on a list of liberals to exchange for Communists with the Soviet Union. Once we get it drawn up, we'll present it to Russians at the SALT talks in Helsinki."

"Good," Mrs. Mitchell replies. "I'd rather have out and out Communists in this country, than people with Marxist ideas who won't admit their true colors."

"Well, let's go to bed, Martha."

"Suppose they march tonight?" Mrs. Mitchell says.

"I don't think they will. The Justice Department would have let me know if they had any plans. We should be able to get a good night's sleep."

"How do we know they're not in the lobby waiting for us to go to bed?"

"Don't you remember? I checked the lobby before I came up. There isn't a liberal in the entire Watergate complex."

"If they only gave us a free house, we could electrify the fence."

"Martha, you shouldn't fret."

COMEDOWN FROM RYE

"Why shouldn't I? This place is costing us a pretty packet and it's certainly a comedown from Rye, N.Y. Why don't we go back and make some money, John?"

"We will, Martha, but there is important work to be done. Do you know I managed to keep a Marxist Belgian professor from entering the United States last week, over the objections of the secretary of state."

"I'm so proud of you, John. Have you done anything yet about the 55 senators who voted against Judge Havensworth?"

"I've got everyone at Justice working on it now. We think we may be able to prove a conspiracy between the mobilization organizers, the Eastern Liberal Establishment, Joan Baez and the senators who voted against Havensworth."

"That would be wonderful, John, did you hear something in the bathroom?"

"The water's running. Stay back, Martha."

The attorney general goes into the bathroom and comes out white-faced.

"It's John Kenneth Galbraith. He's taking a shower!"

"I knew it," Martha cries. "I told you we should have never come to Washington."

Little Shirley Dimple at UN

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Few delegates have been under such close scrutiny from colleagues and public alike, but Shirley Temple Black seems to have stood the test at the United Nations.

The famed dimpled smile and an eager show of interest in the issues before the UN Social Committee where she sits have won over many delegates who were less than enthusiastic two months ago at the prospect of having a one-time child star in their ranks.

"She is like a fresh breeze that has gently blown into our midst," Saudi Arabian Ambassador Jamil Baroudy told a reporter. "After I heard her speak, I realized that Shirley Temple had not rested on her laurels as a child movie star. She has emerged as a sincere activist and an exponent of youth and its aspirations."

The problems of youth have long interested Mrs. Black, the mother of three children. Her first speech in the social committee dealt with youth and national development.

"We didn't expect to hear such fresh ideas from someone we had looked upon as more or less a dilettante in this field," said one diplomat.

Many delegates have been critical of the U.S. policy of staffing its General Assembly delegation with at least one celebrity who often has little or no real interest in United Nations matters.

Such criticism was directed at Mrs. Black when the session began, but she won many of her colleagues over.

"She is most charming, very nice to everybody," commented Rita Cadieux, delegate from Canada "and she certainly is interested in all the topics we are discussing."

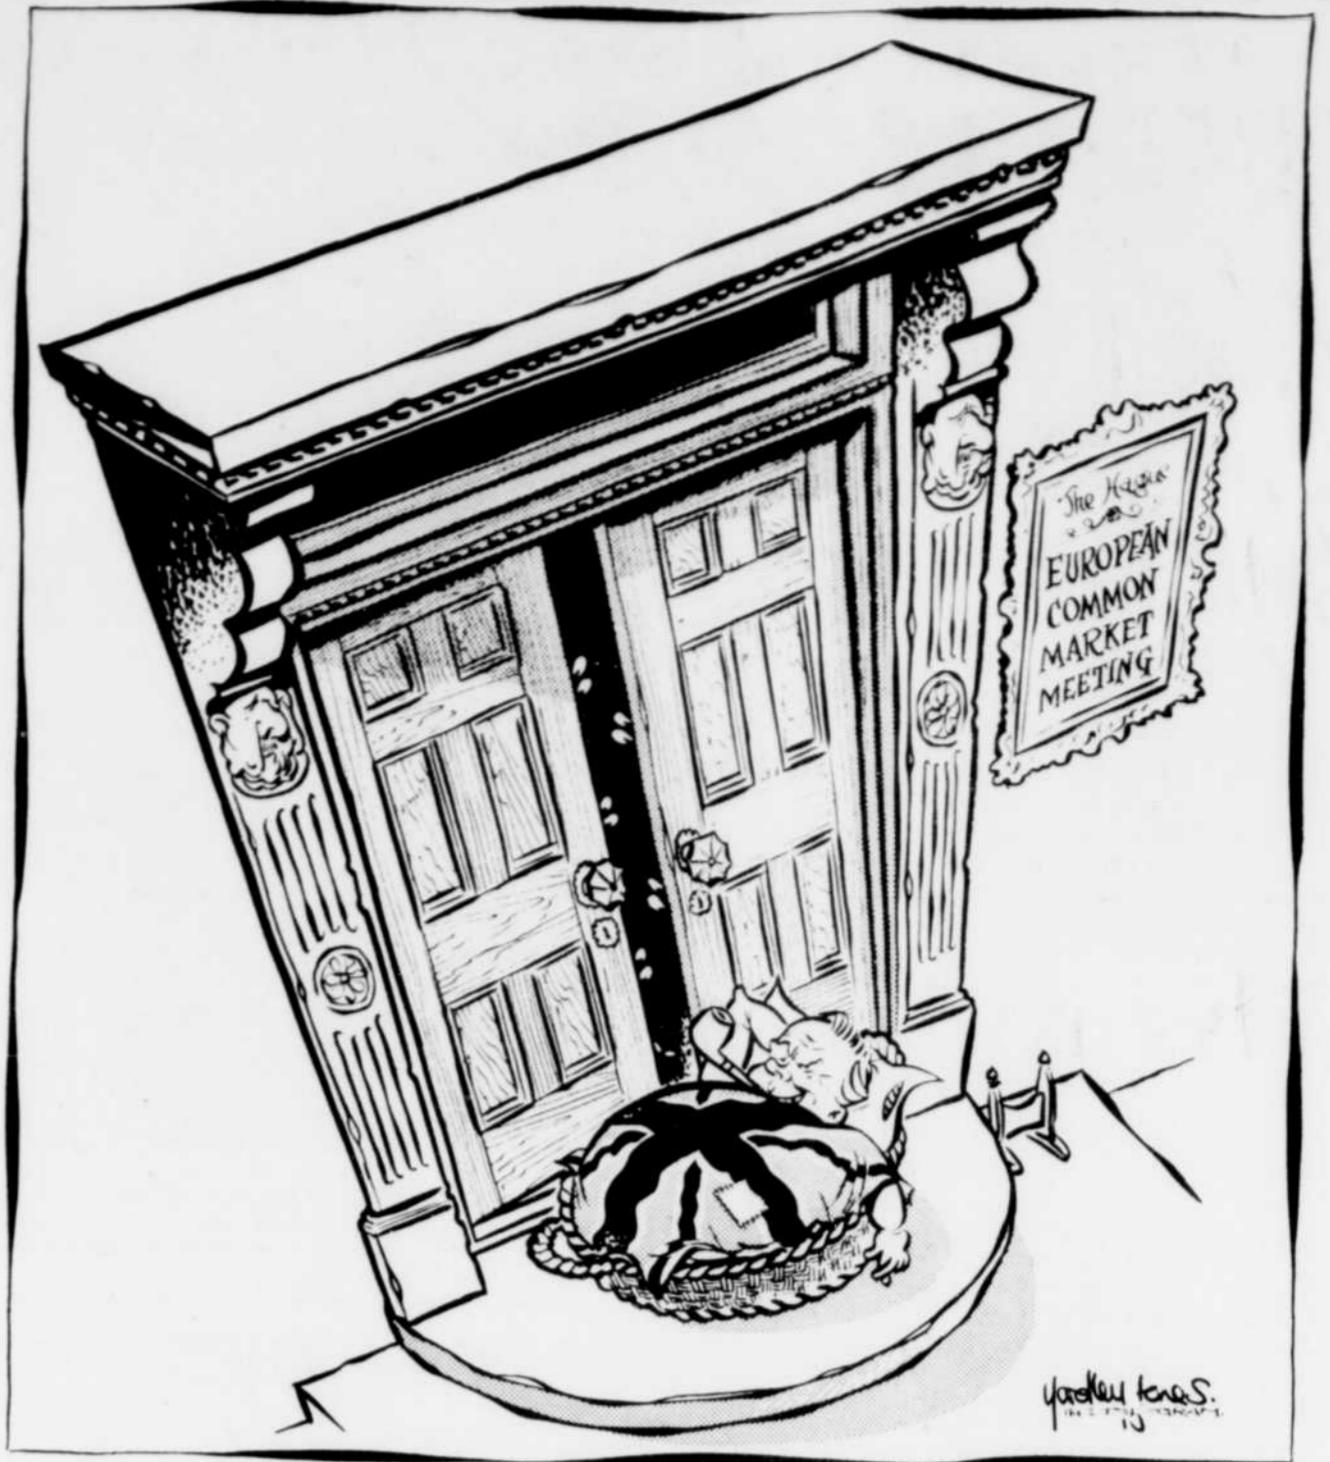

"Does she write her own speeches?" asked a woman delegate. "We never see her taking notes during the debates. It's a bit puzzling."

Actually, Mrs. Black follows the policy of most delegates. Some texts are written for her at the U.S. mission, but much of the material is her own.

What has endeared her most to delegates, perhaps, is Mrs. Black's talent for telling stories on herself. She intrigued them with an account of a visit she made to President Franklin D. Roosevelt's home in Hyde Park when she was eight years old.

Mrs. Roosevelt was bending over a barbecue on the lawn to turn the luncheon steaks. Little Shirley pulled a sling shot out of her pocket and let fly a pebble at the bending figure.

The startled Mrs. Roosevelt screamed and threw up her hands. This brought a bevy of secret service men on the run, convinced that a serious attempt had been made against the president's wife.

LASER BEAMS Cancer treatment or 3-D TV

EDMONTON (CP) — Laser beams may one day treat cancer, guide the blind or provide a three-dimensional successor to conventional television.

Laser research is expanding so fast that scientists at the University of Alberta, a major North American centre for laser research, say they are hard-pressed to keep up with developments.

Basically, a laser is a beam of light produced when an electrical charge is passed through a gas. The technical definition from which the name is derived is light amplification by stimulated emission of radiation.

The beams can be produced from scores of natural gases, or numerous liquids and solids that can be vaporized.

A major university project is designed to provide medical science with a method to "see" inside the human skull without surgery.

The scientists, who decline to be identified, said a three-dimensional image can be produced on a television screen using lasers and computers.

Part of the process is holography, in which a photographic negative is exposed to two beams split from the same laser produces a three-dimensional image when viewed against the same laser light.

The laser laboratory here contains experimental lasers ranging from half the size of a pencil stub to one 100 feet long.

One scientist said that small lasers would allow blind persons to use their canes to determine the size and shape of objects before touching them. Laser beams can be converted to sound, in this case for tiny radio receivers like hearing aids.

This scientist said an application is possible also on typewriters, to replace erasers. Typists would press a button and a laser designed to vaporize ink would do the rest.

Others could be designed to replace the dentist's drill and the scalpel in surgery, weld metal, blast through concrete or drill holes so tiny they can be seen only under a microscope.

The application depends entirely on design of the laser and the materials used.

Lasers now are used to weld connections on transistor radio circuits, some of which are so small that 90 per cent of the circuit is smaller than a snowflake.

Scientists use other lasers for measurements—it is the most accurate means available and can measure less than one-millionth of a metre.

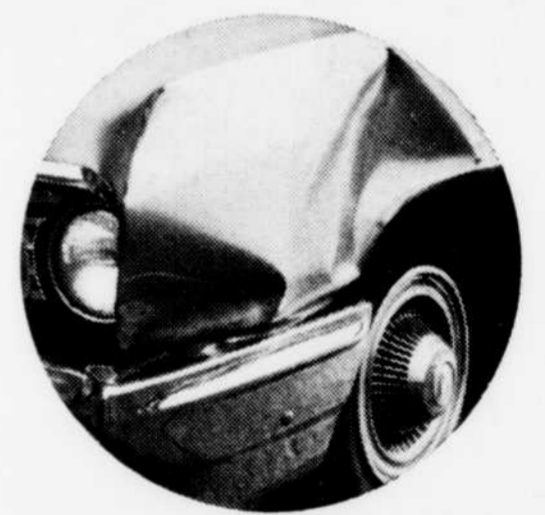

Laser radiation of another kind will selectively destroy malignant cells, and scientists are convinced an application will be found to treat cancer.

With yet another type of laser light, scientists are able to produce holographic negatives of biological materials which scientists are trying to apply to studies of blood plasma types and blood abnormalities.

Scientists say the laser principle is so simple the techniques were known widely long before the technology to develop them caught up.

And the applications are so diverse the scientists who study sub-categories of laser research can only speculate generally on their limits—if there are any.

TV in Room, Definitely

Americans would rather watch television than eat. That's the conclusion suggested by a survey of travelers recently made by the American Automobile Association.

When asked what motel amenity they would most like to have, in addition to standard facilities, 58 per cent of the surveys group picked television; 57 per cent chose restaurant service.

Other preferences listed were: Coffeemaker in room, 46 per cent; free self-service ice, 42 per cent; room telephone, 37 per cent; swimming pool, 31 per cent, and no tipping, 27 per cent.

Going to Expo '70 — here's some tips

Canadian Pavilion a Hit. Visitors returning from Japan are enthusiastic about the Canadian pavilion becoming one of the principal showpieces on the Expo '70 site. It is being likened to the popular Czechoslovak pavilion at Expo '67 in Montreal. Already the pavilion is one of the sights of the fair with photographers constantly trying to capture its photogenic qualities.

Geographically it is in an excellent position, right in the center of things. Canada, as the first country formally to commit itself to Expo '70 had first choice of a site. Now her Palace of Mirrors, as it is familiarly referred to in Japan, stands majestically on prime ground near the main gate and the stop point of two railway lines. It is also close to a moving, covered, and air-conditioned sidewalk which has a principal exit ramp directly beside the entrance to the Canadian pavilion. It will get the visitor traffic.

Walking in Comfort. The moving sidewalk mentioned above is one of the unique features of Expo '70 in Osaka. Covered, moving sidewalks with a total length of 2.3 miles, will connect the five entrances to all parts of the site. Constructed within a transparent plastic tube 12 to 18 feet above ground, this unusual transportation system is designed to carry 8,750 people per hour free of charge at a speed of about 2 miles per hour. The system is completely air-conditioned.

Another First for Canada. Late in October Canada added to her list of firsts at Expo '70 Osaka by becoming the first country officially to finish work on her pavilion building. Canada was also the first formally to commit herself to participate, and the first to produce a design, to break ground, and to top off her pavilion.

At a colorful pavilion completion ceremony attended by Japanese and Canadian Government and Expo '70 officials, Canadian Commissioner General Patrick Reid received the Construction Completion Certificate from the Japanese Expo Association. This document, appropriately No. 1-1 certified that the Canadian pavilion had been inspected by the Japanese authorities and had met the required standards. Commissioner General Reid then presented the construction workers with specially designed Canadian pavilion medallions.

Unusual Promotion by Canada. Canada's "Super Bus" has started on its five-month tour of Japan to promote next year's World Exposition and Canada's participation in it. This is an endeavour unique to Canada and attempted by no other Country. The results in terms of press coverage and the enthusiastic response from the various groups encountered will be highly productive for Canada.

Its first stop after a ferry trip to the northern island of Hokkaido, was the City of Sapporo, the site of the winter Olympic games in 1972. The bus will visit all of Japan's 46 prefectures or provinces, stopping at about 80 major cities en route, finishing up at the Expo site on opening day next March 15.

Personal invitations to visit Canada at the World Exposition along with pamphlets on Canada's total representation at Expo '70, and general literature on the country are being presented to each Governor, Mayor, and President of Chambers of Commerce. In addition most of the schools in each city are being visited Beavers blank Sorel 5-0, drop 5-2 decision to St. Jerome

By TED ANDERSON
SHERBROOKE — The Sherbrooke Junior Beavers took a 5-0 win over Sorel on Friday night at the Sports Palace and on Sunday afternoon they lost to St. Jerome by a 5-2 count. In Friday's game, Jean Claude Landry was the big star coming up with a three-goal effort and assisted on another. The shutout was the first for Yves Belanger this season. Sherbrooke held the upper hand all the way in this one, leading 1-0 at the end of the first, 4-0 at the end of two and got the only goal of the third period.

Jean Claude Landry came up with his first of three at the seven-minute mark of the first period. Jean Lemieux and Normand Dube drew assists on the goal. Beavers outshot the visitors 19 to 7 in the period.

Beavers drew a slashing penalty to open up the second period and while he was in the cooler Gilbert Smith put the Beavers two up. Lacompte drawing the assist. The Beavers made it 3-0 after Landry finished off a three man breakaway while Gilbert Smith and Bruno Landry got the assists.

Just before the period ended, Landry got his hat trick scoring on passes from Bedard and Smith. Gilbert Smith was the goal-getter in the final period. Lepage and Dube were the men assisting on the tally. Penalties were costly for the Sorel squad—three of the Sherbrooke goals coming while they were shorthanded. Beavers outshot the visitors 41 to 26 in the game.

Jean Claude Landry, Gilbert Smith and Jacques Bedard were the three stars in the game.

Things soured somewhat in St. Jerome, however, when the Beavers took it on the chin 5-2 Sunday. The win enabled the Alouettes to climb into first place with the Cornwall Royals. Each have 30 points.

Winger Robert Dufort led the St. Jerome attack with two goals while Jean Landreville, Luc

Jean-Claude Landry

Charbonneau, and Denis Brisebois all tallied once. Normand Dallaire and Bruno Landry replied for the Beavers. Belanger, the Sherbrooke goaltender, came up with several brilliant stops in handling 39 shots.

The Beavers fell behind 3-0 in the second period before erupting with two goals. Lou Poliquin's squad had excellent chances to square things up, showing an aggressive style of play but the puck simply would not roll in for them.

Doubtless, the Beavers are long overdue, and it should not be long before they rap up a few wins on the road if the kind of drive they exhibited last night continues.

North Stars enjoy productive weekend-win and tie

Rangers sting Habs 6-3; extend streak to 13

The St. Louis Blues' powerplay attack, which provided four goals in weekend National Hockey League action, looms as one of the biggest factors in the club's drive for a third consecutive West Division championship.

The power-play goals Sunday night earned the Blues a 4-1 victory over Philadelphia Flyers and kept St. Louis in a six-point lead over Minnesota North Stars in the West Division.

The Blues now have scored 31 of their 78 goals with a player advantage for the best power play in the league. Boston Bruins rank second with 24 of 90 goals coming with the other team penalized.

In other Sunday games, New York Rangers maintained their lead in the East Division with a 6-3 win over Montreal Canadiens. Chicago Black Hawks whipped Detroit Red Wings 5-1. Pittsburgh Penguins edged Toronto Maple Leafs 3-2 and Minnesota tied Boston 2-2.

The North Stars downed Montreal 4-3 Saturday while the Maple Leafs beat Pittsburgh 5-0. Boston defeated Chicago 6-1. Detroit whipped St. Louis 5-1 and Los Angeles Kings beat Oakland 5-3.

Phil Gouvette—whose three assists Sunday pulled him within two points of the league's scoring leader, Bobby Orr of the Bruins—and Ab McDonald lead the St. Louis power-play attack with seven goals each. Red Berenson scored twice Sunday to push his power-play goal total to six.

OPENS THE ATTACK
McDonald scored his 13th season goal in the second period Sunday to start the Blues attack before a crowd of 13,760 at Philadelphia. Berenson followed with his 11th and 12th season markers and Gary Sabourin scored his third power-play goal and sixth of the season to wrap up the St. Louis scoring.

Gary Dornhoefer scored the only Philadelphia goal against goalie Ernie Wakely. Bernie Parent stopped 24 St. Louis shots on the Flyers nets.

Rod Gilbert scored a first-period goal and set up two in the third to lead the New York rout of the Canadiens before 17,250 Rangers fans.

Gilbert assisted on goals by Jim Neilson and Jean Ratelle while Juha Widing, Rod Seiling and Real Lemieux provided the other New York goals.

Henri Richard, Jacques Lemaire and Christian Bordeleau replied for the Canadiens who dropped four points behind the Rangers in the standings.

New York pelted Canadiens goalie Rogatien Vachon with 39 shots while veteran Ed Giacomin was tested 27 times in the Rangers nets.

The victory stretched New York's unbeaten streak to 13 games.

HULL SCORES, ASSISTS
Bobby Hull scored his sixth season goal and added two assists as the Black Hawks moved to within one point of fourth place Detroit in the East Division.

Eric Nesterenko, Doug Mohs, Stan Mikita and Lou Angotti also beat Detroit goalie Roy Edwards to delight the 16,666 Chicago fans.

Gordie Howe took advantage of a power-play opportunity to put the puck behind Chicago goalie Tony Esposito who made 33 saves in the game while the Black Hawks had only 26 shots at Edwards.

Rookie centre Michel Briere scored twice before a crowd of 7,310 at Pittsburgh and veteran Dean Prentice scored his 11th season goal for the Penguins victory.

Brit Selby and Ron Ellis tallied for the Leafs who remained in the East Division cellar, four points behind Chicago.

Goalie Bruce Gamble faced 32 Pittsburgh shots while the Leafs tested Penguins netminder Les Binkley only 23 times. The win kept Pittsburgh within one point of Minnesota in the West.

The North Stars gained the Sunday tie on a goal by Bob Barlow with five minutes remaining in the third period before a crowd of 14,831 at Boston.

GRANT ALSO SCORES
Danny Grant beat Boston goalie Ed Johnston for the other Minnesota goal while Phil Esposito and Dallas Smith each got one of 44 Boston shots past goalie Cesare Maniago.

The tie and Saturday's victory moved the Bruins into a tie with Montreal in the standings, five points ahead of the Red Wings.

Detroit goalie Roger Crozier blocked the season's first penalty shot in the contest Saturday at St. Louis. The free shot was awarded to Andre Boudrias of the Blues after he was pulled down by Detroit defenceman Gary Bergman.

Boudrias fired from 20 feet and the puck deflected off Crozier's arm. Frank St. Marselle spoiled Crozier's shutout bid by scoring with less than seven minutes remaining before 16,269 fans at St. Louis.

Howe, Frank Mahovlich, Garry Unger, Pete Stenkowski and Nick Libett scored for the Red Wings.

Gamble had less trouble with the Penguins Saturday night as he stopped 25 shots on the Toronto nets for his second season shutout before 16,449 fans.

Centre Mike Walton, who assisted on Selby's goal Sunday, helped set up goal Sunday. Clancy, George Armstrong, Bob Pulford and Dave Keon. Norm Ullman got the other Toronto goal.

COLLECTS FIRST GOAL
Clancy, parked in front of Pittsburgh goalie Al Smith, banged in a quick pass from the left wing for his first career goal.

Raiders, Chiefs win; new AFL records set

Darvyl Lamonica of Oakland and Jan Stenerud of Kansas City sparked their teams to victory Sunday and advanced them into the battle for the American League's Western Division title next Saturday.

Lamonica threw three touchdown passes as the Raiders avenged their only defeat of the season—they have an 11-1 record—by downing Cincinnati Bengals 37-17.

The Chiefs, 11-2, defeated Buffalo Bills 22-19 on Stenerud's fifth field goal of the game, a 25-yarder with two minutes left.

Elsewhere San Diego Chargers beat Boston Patriots 28-18 and Miami Dolphins downed Denver Broncos 27-24. New York

Jets clinched the Eastern Division crown Saturday with a 34-26 triumph over Houston Oilers.

Lamonica raised his season total to 33 touchdown passes, three short of the record. He completed 11 of 22 for 199 yards and hit Warren Wells for touchdowns of 51 and 16 yards and Fred Biletnikoff for 16.

OTHERS SET RECORDS
Team-mate George Blanda, who shares the mark of 36 scoring passes with Y. A. Tittle, kicked three field goals and four extra points, giving him an AFL record 153 consecutive conversions. His passing late in the game also enabled him to pass the 20,000-yard career mark, another AFL record.

Stenerud's five field goals gave him 16 in a row over a six-game stretch, erasing the pro standard of 12 by Cleveland's Lou Groza in 1953.

Buffalo, trailing by 10 points much of the game, tied it 19-19 with eight minutes left when O. J. Simpson reeled off his longest run as a pro for 32 yards and a touchdown.

The winner of Saturday's Western Division showdown goes into the playoffs and Buffalo both lost. The loser tackles the defending Super Bowl champion

New York Jets.

John Hadl came off the bench to throw two touchdown passes, including a 76-yarder to Lance Alworth, as San Diego held off Boston.

TIES PRO MARK
Alworth tied a pro football record by catching a pass for the 95th consecutive game.
