Ormstown Fair

Bigger-than-ever crowds

People in record numbers flocked to Ormstown at the weekend to enjoy summer's first hot spell at the rural celebration and entertainment that was the 60th renewal of the Ormstown Fair.

Officials estimated total attendance at better than 40,000. In all areas - crowds, the horse show, livestock, poultry, handicrafts, home skills and the midway it was an unqualified success.

"We couldn't have had better weather and this is the key to the record crowds," said President Bury McGerrigle. "When it rains people simply stay home. As it turned out, there were times when our crowd handling facilities were hard pressed."

Traffic heavy

At times roads into the village were thick with cars enroute to the fair. There were periods on Friday and Saturday evening when traffic was directed one-way only and cars backed up through the village and onto Highway No. 4 as front gate pressure reached its peak. Parking facilities met the need, but barely.

Paid admissions were 24,337 at the gate and fair officials said the number of people who bought fair-long admission tickets prior to the opening would easily bring total paid to more than 25,000. This would be an increase of more than 1,500 over last year.

Peak period was Friday evening when less than 100 seats in the arena were unsold.

Top honors in the 4-H judging events went over Howick way. Carol Ness was the junior showmanship winner with Bobby Tolhurst the senior.

Kenny Tolhurst showed the champion Holstein which was grand champion, all breeds and Danny McKell showed the Ayrshire champion which was reserve grand champion.

Horse show

Fair officials considered the horse show successful though noting that there had been several late cancellations which left some classes short---notably the Morgans and some harness and saddle events. Some would-be exhibitors were unable to show because they were not aware that last-minute entries would not be accepted this year.

This was a decision taken some time ago and Secretary-Treasurer Harold McCaig said he felt that with this system established, it would be generally accepted by next year's fair.

Down too were some of the pony events and Carlyle Dickson, honorary secretary treasurer, laid this to the weather. Dickson, a tireless worker during the five days of the fair as horse show co-ordinator, said some farm entries didn't show because owners had to take advantage of fine, dry weather to finish spring farm work.

A factor bearing on the calibre of jumping horses, said honorary president John Dickson, was the increasing popularity of Grand Prix events being run elsewhere. For instance there was a Grand Prix Sunday in Aurora, Ont., and one the previous week in Hamilton, Ont., which attracted many top eastern Canadian horses who

Brave show

Eighty-year-old Ralph Lewis of Mooers, N.Y., competing at Ormstown Fair for the 20th year, captured the hearts of horse show audiences even though he and "The Colonel," placed only second and third prize in parade horse classes. He says he'll be back to try again next year.

Fair booth cash stolen

A thief or thieves broke into the Ormstown residence of H. J. McMahon during Sunday afternoon and escaped with an estimated $500-600, a substantial part of the Friday night receipts from the Ormstown Ladies' Curling Club booth at the Ormstown Fair.

Mrs. Alice McMahon told the Gleaner that she left the house shortly before noon on Sunday and returned around 4:30 p.m. Early in the evening, she began to organize the weekend takings before depositing them in the bank on Monday morning.

It was then that she discovered the loss.

The money had been hidden in a tin in the bedroom. There was no obvious disturbance in the house, but after various cupboards were checked, it became evident that the thieves had searched in several places.

They did not, however, find all the money. Some of the receipts were in another drawer.

Mrs. McMahon, treasurer of the Ladies' Curling Club, was deeply upset by the loss.

"When you have done this for as many years as I have and have lived in a small town where you know and trust your neighbors," she told The Gleaner,"you don't expect anything like this to happen."I guess I was just too trusting."

Ste. Martine Provincial Police were called to the scene and are investigating the theft.

Cohesion sought

Quebec rural English search for identity

The English speaking rural people of Quebec seem not at all sure if, in relation to French culture, they have a problem. This was the consensus of a weekend conference of Anglophone farm groups at Macdonald College in Ste. Anne de Bellevue.

Attending from the Chateauguay Valley was Marielle Green who represented the Huntingdon Local Community Service Centre for which she is an English-Language animator; also Jim Feeney of Huntingdon, a member of the provincial association of Quebec Young Farmers; Buff Wilson, of Huntingdon's

Two cars collide

A two-car collision at the intersection of Routes 3 and 236 at Cazaville on June 8 around 5:45 p.m. resulted in considerable damage to both vehicles.

Involved were cars belonging to André Lussier, 52, of Valleyfield, and Fernand Hart, 22, of St. Anicet. The former received damages of over $500, and the latter, between $200 and $500 damages. No one was injured.

This and That in Town

SORRY AND ALL THAT - but this column was crowded out the past week. Likewise for other more important news, too. An avalanche of display advertisements received at the deadline was the reason and it was just too late to add two more pages.

THIS WEEK - the column was started on Thursday a.m., but because of extra pictures and prize-winners at the successful '74 Ormstown Ex which ended Sunday, we realize full well that this column stands a good chance of ending up in the 'round file' (waste basket) again. However, here goes:

DID YOU KNOW - that $1,026. was realized at the Pancake Festival at Chateaugay N.Y. High School jointly sponsored by the 8th Degree Knights of Columbus and Shriners of Media Temple. The handsome sum goes to the Shriners Hospital for Cippled Children in Montreal.

SO MANY PEOPLE - believe an effort such as the Knights and the Masons at Chateaugay make is a good way to raise money that it's a wonder that more organizations don't follow suit.

THE HUNTINGDON OPTIMIST CLUB - is sponsoring a one-day circus and on July 1 they will have the model powered boat races at Moonlight Lake. These too are commendable ways to make money. The public appears to be sick and tired of buying 'raffle tickets' and frankly, we don't blame them. Most people don't mind making donations for worthwhile projects but once in a while it's a good thing to see an organization giving something tangible in return. Dances, suppers, special events in which all can participate, etc. gives one shelling out $$$s a better feeling.

THIS, BY SPECIAL REQUEST - your white driving hat and red 'stache stand out in that '74 Vette, Steve.

AND THE FELLOW WHO MADE THE REQUEST - admonished "Don't say I said that. He'd take me apart." So we'll keep it as quiet as possible, Willie.

AND SOME AREA FARMERS - aren't singing the blues as loud as others. Fact is, a Dewittville man told us "I'm surprised the attendance figures at the Fair were so good. Most farmers were busy from daylight until practically midnight on the land. I don't think crops will be so late. We're getting good, hot weather now which will bring things along fast. Seeding has usually been a lot earlier but then with cold, wet weather half the seeds rot. This might be an okay summer yet." So sayeth Mac and we set a lot of store in what he thinks. And says.

HIGHER PRICES FOR GASOLINE - doen't seem to deter tire squealing - especially in the wee hours of the a.m. when most of us require some sleep.

OUR HATS ARE OFF TO HUNTINGDON TOWN FATHERS - for rejecting recent tenders for laying pipe, etc. Good body of men!

MET A FRIEND FROM COVEY HILL AT THE FAIR - and of course the weather came up as one topic. Charlie is one of the area Quebec Game Wardens and can sense both good and foul weather while it's still days away. He rhymed off a few of the old dependables which seem to work without fail, such as: "Sky red at night, sailor's delight, sky red in the morning, sailor's warning." Then, "When the dew is on the grass, rain will never come to pass." And, "When grass is dry at morning light, look for rain this very night." More, "When smoke descends, good weather ends." Still more, "A sunshiny shower won't last the hour."

CARLYLE DICKSON - couldn't resist adding a couple more - "Singing telephone wires are often a sign of changing weather ahead." And "Birds perch more before a storm and fly lower in bad weather." One reason that sage gave for the latter is because birds that pursue insects on the wing fly lower then because the insects are moving closer to the ground.

SOMETHING FOR CAMPERS - and this from a Hemmingford visitor to the Ormstown Ex. - "Wooden tent pegs won't split if you put a tin can over tham as you pound them into the hard ground". Or was it Dan Tully from Moonlight Lake who said that?? With such a crowd around, who can remember!

CHATEAUGAY, N.Y. BEER & CHEESE FESTIVAL - Sunday June 16 [Father's Day] the Chateaugay Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the 3rd annual Beer & Cheese Festival. A completely German meal consisting of knockwurst & sauerkraut or smoked pork-chops baked in sauerkraut as well as sweet-sour red cabagge, applestrudel, German rye bread, relishes and beverages will be served from 12 noon on - $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12 years . Of course there will be a beer tent, a booth serving and selling 20 varieties of cheeses, as well as a refreshment stand serving hotdogs, hamburgers, ice cream and soft drinks. The German Band from Montreal's Old Munich will play German and other popular tunes from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. An Arts & Craft exhibit and sale will again be part of the event. Many outstanding artists from Northern New York, as well as inmates from Dannemora Prison will exhibit their paintings, drawings, pottery, leatherwork and needlecraft.

TALKING ABOUT THE BARRIE - it is expected that the annual Barrie Memorial Hospital Fall Bazaar date will be November 16. (This is a reminder for anyone wishing to knit, crochet and do other fancy work ... we don't expect anyone to make homemade bread, cookies, cakes etc. yet).

BLOOD DONOR CLINIC -the Red Cross blood clinic will be held at Br. 81 Legion Hall, Huntingdon, next Monday. Your blood is needed now. Remind your friends that theirs is too. Help save a life by donating your blood. Local volunteer workers will be assisting the Red Cross staff. Roland Greenbank, chairman, states that a minimum of 200 donors is required at this clinic next Monday. Blood is urgently required by the Red Cross and this is one contribution that doesn't cost the donor a dime. Won't you plan to be a donor this year? [See editorial].

TREMBLAY POOL CENTRE INC. - of Ormstown - again turned over the coins dropped into the miniature swimming pool which was erected in their booth at last week's fair to the Chateauguay Valley Association for the Mentally Retarded. Leonard and Sheila have been donating the coins annually for a number of years. We aren't sure if they have been made aware of what the total amounted to, but Mrs. Willa Hooker advised The Gleaner on Monday that the pennies, nickels and dimes amounted to $149.05!

HAROLD McCAIG - Ormstown Ex secretary-treasurer - said on Monday that he had never seen the grounds so clean after the fair. By noon, everything was back to normal.

WE REALLY DIG - that old Caddy hearse the Ormstown Lions recently chopped into a glorified station wagon. SEEMS every one of the two dozen or so Lions can pile into it for parades, etc. All except one member, that is. Friend Cliff says he's not about to ride in a hearse until he has to.

Culture...

Craft and Recreation Centre; and two volunteers from the Centre, Jean Bonenberg of Elgin, and Alice Rennie of Huntingdon.

Some 40 people from various English-language rural areas of the province joined in the discussion called by the Quebec Farmers Association. The meeting was backed financially by the secretary of state's department.

Basic aims

Basically it was aimed at discussing general and local problems of rural English-speaking Quebecers --- if they have a problem, which, for the most part, seemed difficult to pin down.

However, it was agreed that English-speaking rural Quebecers would benefit if they could break from their traditional isolation from the French-speaking majority. At the same time it was felt that to avoid outright assimilation by the French, the English-speaking population must strive for stronger work and social relationships with each other to preserve their identity.

A common theme was that rural English-speakers, perhaps unlike those in Montreal, would eventually have to become bilingual or else leave the province altogether.

Quebec's proposed language legislation occupied relatively little of the two-day discussion, and several speakers said Montreal protests against Bill 22 were harming their relations with their French-speaking neighbors in the country.

English Decline

The English-speaking population outside Montreal has declined from 20 per cent of rural total at the end of the Second World War to a mere seven per cent today, most of it pocketed in Pontiac County the Eastern Townships, the Gaspé and the Chateauguay Valley, according to the Quebec Farmers Association.

"We called this conference because we are concerned about the future of English-speaking farmers," said Doug Menzies, organizer for the 350-member association.

"But we are by no means fighting the fact that French is the dominant language."

The predominantly English-speaking association, he said, is trying "to work out our future as a minority."

"What is lacking on the English side is an acceptance of change."

The stiffest objections to closer union with the French-speaking population were voiced by delegates from Pontiac County, a sprawling agricultural region west of Hull where about 12,000 English-speakers make up 60 per cent of the population.

"I have two sisters married into the French community and I feel very bad when this goes on," said one elderly farm wife.

Pontiac is the only rural region where English is predominant and a clear contrast developed between the attitudes of its delegates and those from regions where the anlophone population is vastly outnumbered.

Retired farmer Wyman MacKechnie of Shawville argued that the area's English population had little chance to learn French because the francophone minority were all bilingual. For that reason, the Quebec government should provide translations of correspondence and documents now received only in French.

Defensive Attitude

The editor of Shawville's weekly newspaper, The Equity, said the defensive attitude common to Pontiac County's English-speaking residents could be explained by their isolation from Quebec City and a strong identification with towns such as Pembroke on the Ontario side of the Ottawa River.

"The area has been cut off for so long that any efforts to make it feel a part of Quebec are met with great resistance," said Rosaleen Dickson.

"But they'll have to change their attitudes if they want to survive in the province of Quebec."

The largest conference delegation represented the Eastern Townships and it expressed more concern about opportunities to learn French and join the mainstream of Quebec society than it did about defending the future of unilingual English-speakers.

About one-third of the townships delegates consisted of young, bilingual persons who have recently joined rural life and their opinions may not have accurately reflected the sentiments of the established anglophone farming community.

There were not, however, any serious objections from the others to a policy of increased participation in French-speaking social and agricultural organizations.

"We have isolated ourselves and what we have to do is plug ourselves into the Quebec government and community," said Russell Pocock of Compton.

Pocock, 23, is one of four full-time organizers of the Eastern Townships Social Action Group, which is using a $50,000 federal grant to help the region's English-speaking citizens cope with their minority status.

The grant came from the same secretary of state program which supports the cultural development of francophone communities outside Quebec.

Dundee UCW

Cameo painting studied

The United Church Women of Ste. Agnes de Dundee were hospitably entertained at the home of Mrs. Franklin Cameron on Wednesday, May 22.

The meeting opened with prayer, led by the President, Mrs. Alexa Leslie.

A report of the Workshop in Valleyfield was given by Mrs. Elma Sutton, who stated that community and inter-group visiting was greatly stressed.

Some discussion took place on archival material. Mrs. Lester Fraser would welcome any information concerning old minute books and past records of the Women's Missionary Society or the Ladies Aid.

The June luncheon and auction sale scheduled for June 19 in Zion Church hall came up for detailed planning.

A price was requested for the Centennial design quilt, which in all probability will be on displaly at the luncheon this month.

Cameo painting

A demonstration on cameo painting was an interesting feature of the afternoon. Mrs. George Atcheson of Powerscourt gave a background of cameo arts and craft as a hobby, and showed some beautiful pieces which she had done. She has been an instructor in this art since 1968.

Mrs. Cameron served tea at the close of the afternoon, and a social hour was enjoyed by all.

Liana Hooker, right, is suspicious as too many Aunt Hildas have turned up for the circus, and her suspicions are justified when the old ladies turn out to be boys in disguise. Left is Todd Coté, and in the charming lampshade hat is Donny Hamilton. Background is Mrs. Green, played by Allison Taylor. The operetta "Molly Be Jolly" was presented by Grade Four, under the direction of Mrs. Genevieve Glover on May 29 at Ormstown Elementary School.

Student music workshop at Chateaugay Lake Aug. 4

Dusquesne University, College of Music, Pittsburgh, Pa. and Recordings For Recovery, Oakmont, Pa. will stage a one-week workshop Aug. 4 - 11 at Chateaugay Lake under a plan approved by the National Association for Music Therapy and the National Federation of Music Clubs.

This will be the first such conference held in the interest of high school graduates and young college students who wish to study the possibilities of a career in music therapy as a profession.

This will also mark the third international meeting with Canadian neighbors. Their American counterparts have previously met with them at the invitation of McGill University in Ormstown, Que. and the Ontario Ministry of Health at Cobourg, Ont.

Indicating their intention to participate at Chateaugay Lake are staff members of Ontario Hospital in Cobourg, Douglas Hospital in Montreal and the Society for Emotionally Disturbed Children of Quebec.

Richard M. Gray, Music Therapist, director of the four year course at Duquesne University will monitor the sessions and cite the requirements of a well rounded course leading to a degree as Registered Music Therapist, from his experience in studies and application in the states of Kansas, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Jean Tomat, Assistant Professor of Music Education, Hartt College of Hartford University will demonstrate her work with geriatrics. Mrs. Vally Weigle of The Urban Federation of Music Therapist has been invited to lecture on her work in Europe and a number of universities and centres. Miss Sona Nooera and associates have been invited to represent Crane School of N.Y.S.U., Potsdam. The Speech Therapy Dep't of State College, Plattsburgh has also been invited to participate.

Recordings for Recovery's program for prisons has proven its value in establishing communication through music, and has been in use at all units of the Correctional Proceedure at Dannemora. One full day will be devoted to the use of music in correctional institutions, with lectures by psychiatrist, psychologists, chaplains and counsellor staff. The student group will be taken on a tour of available areas at Dannemora on Thursday, Aug. 8.

Sessions on a day to day basis will be open to hospital workers, nurses, teachers in special education, nursing home operators and workers in the field of mental health.

Field trips

Outdoor education gaining ground

by Judy Taylor
of the Gleaner

During last week's five day camping trip by 85 Huntingdon Academy pupils at Morrison Island, Ont., one youngster told Principal Dave Daoust, "You learn lots more out here than you do in that old school as well as having fun," and this unsolicited comment points out exactly what outdoor education's aims are.

The week was a great success, with projects ranging from canoeing to dissecting a dandelion, and the teachers and volunteer parents who went along learned a lot about the kids while the kids were learning about the world around them.

"The perceptive abilities of the kids were exceptional," Daoust told The Gleaner. "Once they are shown how to identify a certain type of tree, for instance, they will notice it anywhere."

This is the kind of experience which more and more schools are trying to give their pupils.

Outdoor education, in its simplest aspect, says: 'Don't try to bring the whole world into the school... take the children out to where the world is", and this educational concept is coming increasingly into vogue in the schools of the Chateauguay Valley.

Even now, as the current school year draws to a close, planning is underway for a weekend in the Laurentians next September for biology students from C.V.R.'s Cycle 2.

This Biology Workshop will provide three action - packed days of hiking, bird-watching, group observation projects, and discussions at the Camp Oolahwan site at Ste-Marguerite, and co-director Chuck Baranowski sees the project as a prime opportunity for students to learn about the environment and themselves.

"It can't help but be fun as well as an experience of learning-in-depth," he told the Gleaner. Other organizers are 'Wink' Keeler, and Joanne Baker, both of the Biology Department.

Orientation

"The group will observe and measure such things as concentration and variety of animal life on land and in the water, " said Baranowski, "and they will learn some orienteering skills, and have the opportunity to canoe and swim as well."

In a recent issue of the Chateauguay Valley Regional Board newsletter, the benefits of outdoor education which plunges the student into the world were stressed:

It is estimated that 50 percent of our youth drop out of school before the end of the regulation period and that 35 percent drop out during the last four years.

"Studies of this problem reveal that these young people, for the most part, have failed to make adjustment to the traditional ways of learning; they grow restless and launch out seeking new adventures. Experiements in learning out-of-doors give good reason to hope that at least a partial solution to this problem may be found.

Educators have learned more and more through the years the importance of teaching from natural situations. Most of the things children learn about are brought to school to be touched, handled and studied. This begins with 'Show and Tell' in the primary grades and must continue through the final years of high school if textbook learning is to bring meaningful significance to the lives of the learners.

"The best way to learn is to come into contact with the things we seek to know."

On the way to and from school, our youth pass by or through the very things that they go into the classroom to study about. Authors of textbooks pass on second-hand information they have found by observation and discovery. Naturally, good textbook material and references are valuable in helping students and teachers understand about conservation of our natural resources, but reading alone will not ensure genuine understanding. It is the person who sees, discovers or explores a situation for himself who gets the most out of it. Such learning is faster, more deeply appreciated and is retained longer.

Example

In one school, the teacher and youngsters were studying geology, using a textbook with pictures showing formations to be found in some remote area. While they were studying, within a quarter mile of their school, the Highway Department had made a 40-foot cut through a section of a big hill. There, exposed to the eye, were formations of the rock strata of that area representing two-and-a-half million years of geology, including an 18-inch vein of coal. Many excellent fossils were uncovered as well as leaf prints which told an important story of the formation of the rocks and of the coal. A trip to this cut in the hill would have been worth more than all the lessons in the book and it would have cost less.

Camping stands at the very peak of Outdoor Education. School camping, in many school systems, has come to play a very important part in the learning process. It is not just something to do when the school year is over; it is something to do in order not to miss the benefits that are so easy to gain when a group goes into the open to live and study together.

Here students meet the mre subtle problems involved in group living. Thrown together in a single group with others who have different backgrounds - social, racial, economic, religious, the student learns good and valuable lessons very quickly and by very natural means. Lessons in democracy do not have to be instigated and assigned by the teacher.

First hand

Camping classes are not "excused from school"; they are sent to school at camp. They learn to solve their own problems as they come along. They might take exploration trips to the lake bog, to the hills, to the marsh lands. They might work with their hands in the soil.

At a camp farm, they might gather eggs, milk cows, feed pigs. They see how potatoes are grown. They live in small groups, plan their own menus, cook their meals over an open fire. Many school systems have tracts of land that can be put to use as campsites. In almost every case, where there has been a will to add the benefits of camping to the curriculum of the schools, places have been found where, with woods and open fields, the children could gain experience of natural living as a means of sharpening and deepening all of their learning.

Outdoor educators have no quarrel with the idea that much subject matter about the outdoors can best be learned indoors. They would simply demur that learning having to do with the outdoors is sometimes incomplete, and often insipid, if the whole learning experience is limited to the indoors.

Be a blood donor

How is a 260 pound bulldozer driver like a 109 pound college co-ed? iIf you expect the answer to be a joke, it isn't. It's a miracle.

Both can be blood donors, and each donation is of equal value. Size, strength or sex doesn't matter. Neither does race, creed or color. Every blood donation is of equal value. Each can save a life.

So the next time you think about the state of the world, and despair that one person can change anything, remember the equality of blood donations. One donation does matter. Every donation matters. There is something you can do to make the world a better place in which to live. You don't have to be wealthy; you do have to be healthy. You don't have to be as strong as Tarzan; you do have to be between 18 and 65 years of age [17 if you're a boy and have your parent's permission]. You don't have to be as beautiful as Helen of Troy; you do need a nice hemoglobin count. You don't need hours and hours of spare time; you do need one-half hour during either the afternoon or evening of June 17.

The Red Cross has been operating the blood transfusion service for 26 years and they haven't lost a donor yet! Being a blood donor isn't difficult or painful or costly [it's not fattening either!] You get a nap on a bed, a free cup of coffee, cookies, and the thanks of all the clinic workers. But you get something else too.

There's no way to beat that warm inner glow you get from doing a job you know matters. On June 17 be a part of the action. Be a donor at the Blood Clinic at the Legion Hall. It is sponsored bythe Huntingdon Branch of the Red Cross.

Safety on the farm

In the next 12 months,if the current rate continues, 120,000 of Canada's farm population will be involved in accidents of which 32,600 will result in injury, reports the National Safety League of Canada.

Worse still, 2,400 of these accidents will result in death.

It turns out, according to Safety League Statistics, that an accident kills a farm resident every 3.7 hours and somewhere in Canada a farmer is killed every 7.3 hours in a work accident.

Modern farm machinery is equipped with safety shields and guards to protect the operators and there are safety instructions to be followed. But safety goes out the window if the instructions are not followed or, because it is too much trouble, the safety gadget is left in the tool shed. Something like it being too much trouble for the motorist to snap on a safety belt.

Farming is one of the few industries where accidents to non-workers, such as children, are included in work statistics. On the farm safety is truly a family affair. The tractor is involved in most fatal farm accidents and operators of this versatile machine should know and use safe-operating procedures.

Too, a farm is likely to have more insecticides and other poisons than other places. Farmers are urged to lock such perilous items away from small children.

Heartening news

Some heartening news for newspaper people and perhaps for dairy farmers comes to hand via the Milwaukee Journal which, among North American publications, is a helluva paper.

The report is that government researchers in Japan have been pouring molasses over old newspapers and feeding the mess to four Holstein milk cows to provide a sixth of the animals' daily food.

So far, the word is, the cows still are yielding good milk. In dairy country such as Wisconsin or the Chateauguay Valley this might be a portent for the future in cattle feeding. For newspaper people it is something else. For them it is a warming thought that yesterday's newspaper, black and white and read all over, may have some other use than as c fish or garbage wrapper.

Sneeze season

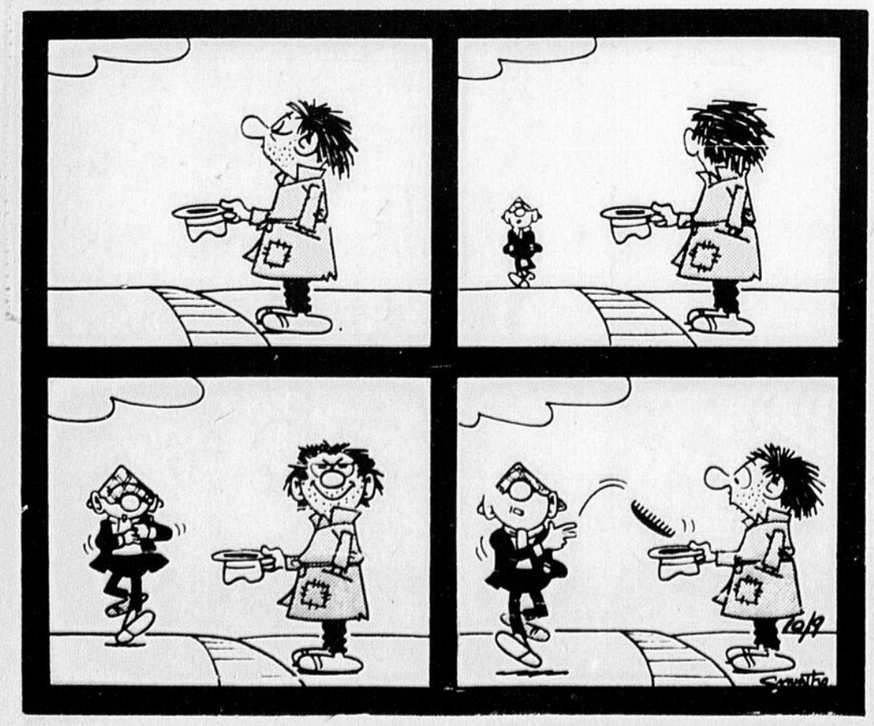

The season of the sneeze is with us again. Allergies blossom along with the vegetation at this time of year and the Ormstown Medical Centre has a constant stream of patients coming in for regular allergy shots all year round.

Some of these are farmers who may be allergic to such things as cow dander. This means that their source of livelihood is also the cause of unpleasant physical symptoms. Even with preventive shots, runny noses, itchy eyes, and frequent sneezing cannot be completely eliminated.

Such a person makes a conscious and courageous decision to keep on with the occupation he knows and loves, despite a drawback which he cannot help and which may well be with him for life.

In a society which frequently advocates taking the easy way out, such examples of stoicism show rare devotion.

Crowd pleasers

Big hit of the horse show and a constant attraction in the barns were the heavy draft horses, the Clydesdales, Percherons and Belgians. They were shown in line classes and the unicorn three-horse hitch and in four horse teams.

On Friday night they brought the house down when they came out in six-horse teams and lumbered deftly with their wagons through figure eights, an event won by the massive and beautiful Clydesdales shown by Smith and Cleland of St. Hermas, Que.

Sunday was the big day for Valley entries when Viola Lallemand of Huntingdon took first for western pleasure horse and first with a Morgan horse in harness owned by Royce Beattie of Huntingdon . Under saddle with this horse she placed second.

Debbie Lohrenz of Athelstan had a big day. On Little Big Man, she was first in Appaloosa western pleasure, junior rider, and with Arapahoe Maid, showing for the first time, placed second in pleasure riding, English tack. Debbie followed this up with a first for Appaloosa rider in Indian costume and earlier had seen her pony Spunky, driven by Donna Riel, win the children's pony turnout event.

In pony events Robert Milford of Ormstown took three line class firsts and the Riel Stable of Athelstan scored two firsts with four going to J. Edmund Sproule of Franklin Centre.

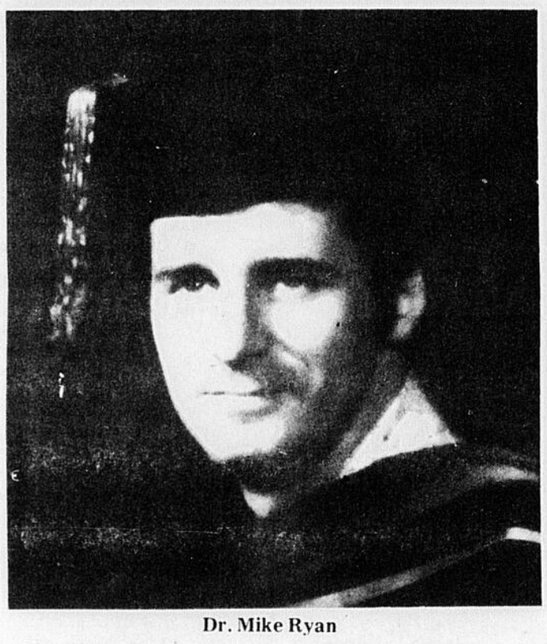

In saddle pony, western equipment not exceeding 12-2 hands and ridden by A B or C rider, My Texas Dandy ridden by Susan Riel placed first and second was Donna Riel riding master Jim for the Howieson's Glenburn Farm in Athelstan.

Parade

The weather was good from the opening moment when the event opened with a parade through Ormstown, featuring the Chateauguay Valley Pipe Band, the Ormstown C.V.R. Band, the Salmon River Marching Shamrocks, the C.V.R. Franklin Rythmettes, the CVR Precision Dancers, Brownies, Guides and Wolf Cubs from Ormstown, and a special carload of Ormstown Lions.

Thursday was Kiddies Day when 3,000 school children were bussed from Montreal and swarmed over the arena, the barns and the midway with its various rides and all the accoutrements of any carnival.

Fair officials expressed themselves as well pleased with the midway run by King-Reid Shows, particularly with the manner in which the area was kept tidied up.

Dr. Mike Ryan

Dr. Mike Ryan received his Ph.D degree from the University of Oklahoma on May 13, 1974 at the annual convocation. Mike, who majored in speech communication, has accepted a position as a research psychologist with the Communications Research Centre in Ottawa. He has edited two books and authored articles, convention papers and a chapter in a forthcoming book. He has also taught at Purdue University, the University of Oklahoma, and will be teaching one course at the University of Ottawa this autumn.

Mike is the son of Mrs. Gladys Ryan and the late Joseph Ryan of Huntingdon.

Seeding progresses

The warm hot weather of the past week was just what Chateauguay Valley farmers had been hoping for and on all sides they took advantage of it, working long hours to get on with spring seeding.

Agronome J. Lalonde----he had no new figures on area seeded in the Valley but said a lot of progress had been made in the past week.

He noted farmers had been working from early morning to darkness and in some cases far into the night most of last week.

Of Monday night's heavy rainfall he said: "This would be particularly welcome for those who got corn in in the past few days."

Huntingdon Locals

Gladys Duheme, Louise McCallum and Babs Laberge motored to Kingston on Sunday to visit their sister Hazel McQuarrie who is recovering from a major operation in the Kingston General Hospital.

Sincerely, Anna Elder

Senecal returned to board

Incumbent School Commissioner Emile Senecal was re-elected Monday by the voters of Ward 2 of the Huntingdon Catholic School Commission.

Senecal received 210 votes to defeat his opponent Richard Alary, who had 55 votes.

Twenty-nine per cent of the 945 eligible voters turned out to the polls.

Lawrence renamed to Board

William Lawrence was re-elected School Commissioner for Ward 5 (Ormstown Village and the Parish of St. Malachie) of the Ormstown School Board in an election held Monday June 10.

The vote was 137-17 in favor of the incumbent commissioner, with a total of only 162 of an eligible 958 voters turning out.

This was the first school board election to be held in Ormstown in several years.

$100 stolen

Some $100 was stolen from the Ormstown residence of Jean-Paul Forget on Friday June 7.

The burglar entered by forcing a door.

Huntingdon Hospital Auxiliary

An Executive Meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary was held June 3 at The United Church, with Mme Claire Pilon in the chair.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Mrs. Horsley, treasurer, issued aFinancial Report which showed the Auxiliary to have a working balance of $4,109.76

Mrs. Horsley stated that the monday after-noon Bridge Club had donated $37 to the Auxiliary, and it was agreed we should buy a specific item for the hospital and advise the Bridge Club when the purchase has been made.

Membership: Canvassing for members is now under way and to date the list stands as follows: New Members 90; three new Life Members: Mrs. Mary Fennell, Mrs. Bernice Burns and Mrs. Alfred Shand.

Huntingdon Fair: Mme Pilon made arrangements for the forthcoming event and we shall once again be having our Parcel Post and Fish-Pond for the youngsters. Early August all members will be contacted for their assistance in this project.

It was felt that we should still wait until the new hospital is opened before the Auxiliary purchases anything specific for the hospital.

The next General Meeting will be held Monday July 29 at 2p.m. at the United Church and everyone will be made welcome.

Hit and run

A car driven by Steven Rennie of Hemmingford was hit from behind near the railroad crossing in Ormstown on June 8 around 9:30 p.m.

The other vehicle stopped briefly, then turned around and left the scene of the accident, heading towards Valleyfield.

Rennie's vehicle received over $1,000 in damages.

Leo Goneau of St. Antoine Abbé was driving on Bridge St. in Ormstown shortly after 2 a.m. Sunday June 9, when his car was hit by another which did not stop.

Ormstown

Be a good neighbour... call before you dig.

At long last, spring has finally arrived. And now you can get out and start working around the house. Maybe it's a small garden. Or even a large pool. But if it means digging, dig this: One of our underground cables might be located right where you want to dig. If you were to break one, you could easily knock out telephone service for blocks around. This could seriously disrupt service for hospitals, doctors, the police or the fire department. And that's something a good neighbour wouldn't want to do.

So, before you start digging, put in a call to the number below. We know where the cables are located and can save you a lot of trouble. This service is free. And part of our "good neighbour" policy.

SATURDAY NIGHT DRAWING for the Chateauguay Valley Association for the Mentally Retarded: Ormstown Fair President Bury McGerrigle draws the first prize ticket at the Association's booth in the Industrial Building. Also shown are Rev. Brian Prideaux, President Mrs. Willa Hooker, and Helen McCormick, Fair Handicrafts Chairman. First prize, a quilt made by Mrs. Stewart Ross, was won by Mrs. Isabel Greer of Ormstown; second prize, a woollen rug made by Miss Lorraine Lewis, went to George Tolhurst of Dewittville; and third prize, a pile rug made by Mrs. John Patenaude, was won by M. Thibodeau of St. Michel. The raffle raised over $600 towards the expenses of the society.

Streaker tours arena in buggy

The 1974 edition of the exhibition put on in Ormstown by the Livestock Breeders' Association of the District of Beauharnois had everything every previous fair had and more, including a Saturday night streaker.

Nobody was prepared to identify the streaker, described as chubby, blond and male. But as he whisked around the arena as a passenger in the four-wheeled carriage driven by A. Alderman of Caistor Centre, Ont., he appeared to be about 40 years old.

Mr. Alderman professed not to know who his passenger was.

Fair officials who were giving out no names, other than that of Alderman for this unscheduled event, seemed neither impressed nor distressed by the one-circuit streak which served as a sort of nude exclamation mark during a between-events break which had a good many people napping.

On the loud speaker system the streaker drew equal time with any other exhibitor and was described as a "first time in a buggy." Pictures taken by the official arena photographer reportedly were quickly snapped up at rising prices.

It was quick streak following, so it was said, a period of figuring out the logistics of the manoeuvre during a little joy juice session in the barns. The approach to the in-gate in Alderman's rig was made under protection of a blanket. Then, as the entry went through the in-gate the blanket was thrown aside and the streak took only a split second to reach the arena's end where the chubby figure hopped to the ground, seemingly intending to vanish over the boards.

However the crowd was so dense that passage was impossible so the streaker hopped aboard the Alderman rig again and streaked down the arena and disappeared through the out-gate.

Immediately, amid laughter and nattering of a crowd taken completely by surprise, the fair went back to the more serious business of the horseshow and Alderman, this time alone in his cart, was the first one in his class to enter the arena.

Léger 'better'

A long road to recovery faces Governor-General Jules Léger, the former diplomat from St. Anicet who suffered a stroke in Sherbrooke last Saturday while attending graduation exercises at the University of Sherbrooke.

On Monday he was transferred from the intensive care unit of the University of Sherbrooke's medical centre to the hospital's neurological ward.

Latest official announcement on his condition was: "In general terms, his condition has improved."

He was said to be able to sit up and even stand beside his hospital bed despite signs of paralysis. He spoke to his wife during a visit on Monday.

Aubrey party

Mrs. Maud Allen belies 94 years

by FLORENCE CRAWFORD

Mrs. Maud Allen of Aubrey celebrated her 94th birthday on June 5, but the years don't seem to change her. Her serene, smiling face, active mind and quick movements would be envied by many younger women.

Her modern home beside the English river has a dream view of trees and rippling water. It is kept immaculate by her own hands.

Maud was the middle child in a family of six boys and five girls and as she says, "My mother brought us up to work."

They started as little children with the easy jobs and gradually worked through the main housekeeping arts.

Bread maker

Baking the bread was her No. 1 job during the years when she was a business girl in Montreal. It was set at night and baked in the morning.

From the mid 1880's the Walton family had spent 18 years in London, Ont. before her father was transferred again by the C.N.R. back to Montreal.

When she married Andrew Allen in 1920 and came to live on his Norton Creek farm it was a great change from city life, but Mrs. Allen adapted quickly to the country.

Curler

Her husband was a curler so she joined the Aubrey Club in 1921 and played regulary until the rink was destroyed by fire. Later she played a few games at the new Riverfield Curling Club. Two pretty silver nut dishes, donated by Alex McGregor were ther first curling prizes.

When Aubrey-Riverfield Women's Institute celebrated their 50th Anniversary in 1973, Mrs. Allen was proud to receive a 50-year pin. For this special day, the members had given her a pink hydrangea which was admired by everyone. A great selection of birthday cards surrounded the plant.

Maud's Scottish-born mother was Rachael Anderson and her morning birthday visitors were the Rev. John S. Anderson and his wife. All Andersons seem to love music so when her friendsfrom Unit A at HowickUnited Church appeared at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the leader, Marna Brown, brought along taped accompaniments for a hymn sing.

They received a warm welcome from Mrs. Allen who is a charter member of the United Church.

A bouquet of lilacs from Isabel Templeton's garden was presented and greetings extended to Mrs. Allen, with best wishes for good health and happiness.

The short program prepared for her pleasure, included a timely poem - Happiness, two hymns, the Lord's Prayer, repeated in unison and a beautiful closing prayer by the leader. This type of birthday gift made Mrs. Allen happy.

A few ladies prepared the birthday treat, but there was the candle-blowing ceremony, before the decorated cake was served with ice cream. A cup of tea and a social hour were much appreciated by Mrs. Allen and enjoyed by the 17 ladies who were there. Before leaving pictures were taken - a reminder of a delightful visit with a lovely lady.

Mrs. James Crawford

Congratulations to all the 4 H Club members who took part in the Ormstown Fair.

Carol Ness was Junior Showmanship winner and Bobby Tolhurst Senior winner. Kenny Tolhurst had the champion Holstein which was also Grand Champion over all breeds; Danny McKell had Ayrshire Champion which was also Reserve Grand Champion. Other local names are among the winners so read the Gleaner lists and find out what the young people have been doing. Other youngsters, not all involved in 4H entered other classes - baking, handicraft, art, and were at the top of several classes.

Locals win one lose one at rugby

During the past week Ormstown played two games winning one and losing one.

On June 4 they played T.M.R. first team in the senior cup and lost 24 - 0. Against a well drilled senior club, they were holding their opponents well when they lost their Captain Rod Beattie with a leg injury. With no substitutes allowed Ormstown had to play 50 minutes a man short.

Last Saturday Ormstown entertained T.M.R. second team in a league game and came out top by a score of 6 - 4. In 85-degree weather the sponge was in much evidence. With T.M.R. scoring first in the second half, Ormstown fought back with a try by Maurice Labelle and a convert by Harold Magnussen. Several new players showed good form, none more than Luc Pilon of St. Louis de Gonzague and Dwight Arthur of Huntingdon. Ormstown are now 4-0 in the League

On Saturday Ormstown plays Westmount in Montreal.

On the left is Miss Peggy Wood of Athelstan, being presented with the Anderson Department Store Ltd., Kemptville Award by Mrs. R.K. Martin of Kemptville. Miss Wood is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wood.

Antiques as an Investment

by Richard H. Rush

The entire Western world is entering a period of antique boom. Prices have been rising rapidly in the past several years, and if the factors that are responsible continue in force, they will continue to accelerate within the next few years.

There is developing a notable shortage not only of good antiques but of any antiques. There are many fakes which are being sold as genuine. If this book can help the inexperienced buyer to determine what is genuine and what is fake, and indicate a reasonable price range for each antique, it will have served a major purpose.

The recognition of quality is not always instinctive. To a large extent it must be learned and this book will help a prospective antique buyer to recognize what is fine and beautiful. The field of antiques is bewildering to many because of technical factors which determine prices. In addition, many buyers do not know what the market has to offer. They do not know what 'Jacobean' antiques are, nor do they quite understand the meaning of 'Regency'. Dr. Rush's book traces prices of twenty-three distinct types of antiques.

'Antiques as an Investment' describes and illustrates French antiques from Louis XIV through to French Provincial; Italian antiques, Renaissance and painted; English antiques, Jacobean to Victorian; American antiques of the Golden Century, Hepplewhite, Sheraton, Duncan Phyfe and American country furniture.

Dr. Rush explains the criteria for estimating future prices and recognizing quality. He also discusses the important style characteristics of each period - changing trends - auctions - dealers - discoveries - how - where - and when to buy and sell - and the detection of fakes.

Lacolle couple enjoy Arizona

THE LEGAULTS IN SUN CITY

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Legault of Lacolle recently returned from beautiful Sun City, Arizona where they were holidaying. This retirement community was interesting in every aspect. Ideal accommodations, activities for every taste, cleanliness to be compared with any other city ever visited.

Two more weeks were enjoyed in Phoenix, and to end the holiday Mrs. Legault's sisters and their husbands and family, a niece and her husband were all at the airport to greet them.

Hooker-Cameron reunion lively, 31-member affair

The Hooker-Cameron reunion was held at Howick this year, when 31 members of the two families gathered on Sunday June 2 at Bob and Dorothy Barr's home.

Eddie Hooker has passed his 87th birthday fallen down stairs, and had a lot of misery since that happened in March, but he hasn't lost his zest for a family party. Nor has his wife Mayford.

They were the senior members at this gathering along with Eddie's sister Florence, Mrs. Archie Cameron, of Massena, N.Y. The Cameron's have celebrated their 57th wedding anniversary. Archie and their son Lindsay were not present on this occasion. Sylvia and Bob Rickard of Massena and Grace and Neil Sheeham from California, joined their Canadian cousins - only cousins of Mr. and Mrs. Hooker's family.

The day started as a garden party with a buffet lunch and homemade pies for dessert. A casserole supper with cold cuts and watermelon dessert was served in the early evening.

In between times everyone had a grand visit with side trips by the Massena family to see antiques at Douglas and Marjorie Templeton's home, and a call on their cousinMary Younie. The younger people chose football and other activities.

When evening came everyone picked up a chair and moved inside to see slides of past reunions and the Templeton-Cameron wedding.

U.P.A. protests claim rejections

The executive of the St. Jean-Valleyfield U.P.A. at a meeting in Quebec City May 27, registered a protest against the Quebec Crop Insurance Board's rejection of many claims made by area farmers.

The claims were made for 1973 crop damages. The farmer's group felt that the reasons given by the Board for turning down the claims were unacceptable, and requested re-examination of all cases and payment of indemnities according to the terms of the Crop Insurance law.

The Board agreed to form a regional revision committee, to which the Federation will appoint two representatives.

The committee will meet during the second week in June.

Drying flowers talk subject

The Franklin U.C.W. on May 22 enjoyed a talk and demonstration by Miss Cathy Cross of Hemmingford on ways of drying flowers and vegetables.

An attractive centerpiece was made with iris, spidermums and chrysanthemums. Everyone really enjoyed the evening.

The flowers later were taken to Mrs. Emma MacMillan, in hopes she will be up and around soon.

At noon

At noon on May 25, 63 Senior Citizens from St. James United Church in Westmount were entertained with a turkey dinner by the Franklin U.C.W.

After their meal, Mrs. Clarence Dunn went with them on a tour of Covey Hill and Hemmingford to see the apple blossoms and things that would be of interest to them.

news from huntingdon's craft and recreation centre

by Buff Wilson

Last Wednesday close to 70 adults attended the activities of the Centre and found the Legion Hall a cool haven during the heat of the afternoon. There were no complaints however, especially after the cool drive of the week before to Franklin Centre.

The "Bring and Brag Day" was an unqualified success with over 30 exhibits brought in by members and volunteers. As promised last week, here is a resumé of the various articles which were displayed for those of you who were unable to come and see them for yourselves.

By far the oldest article was a piece of hand worked Coptic tapestry done by a Christian of the 6th or 7th Century. The workmanship was extremely fine and not unlike a much later Sampler executed in 1838. The Sampler was worked on what looked like linen and was done in a very fine cross stitch. Both pieces indicated a love of detail and expertise in embroidery which was interesting as nearly 1,200 years separated their dates of execution.

Labor of love

One of the largest pieces displayed was a crocheted banquet table cloth made in 1939 by a lady who had been completely bedridden for many years. She made the 480 medalions and 360 center joinings while lying on her back, which made her work a labor of love and devotion.

A number of needlepoint pictures were shown, some simple and some very ornate. One, which was made over 100 years ago, was done in wool and beads, a unique combination of materials which indicated a great deal of originality on the part of the artist who made it.

Some rather unusual items were contributed to the exhibit. Among them was a velvet pillow which had as its central design, a grouping of roses which had been outlined with a woodburning tool. The brown of the burnt velvet and the off-white background made a most interesting effect.

A wreath of wired flowers protected under glass was also among the unusual items. This picture was made prior to 1900 out of unspun wool and the brilliant colors were achieved solely with the use of the dyes found in nature. It looked as if it had been made yesterday!

Somebody used their imaginations in creating two basketry trays with glass bottoms to protect the pictures under them. Using natural grasses and milk weed pods as well as what were once living butterflies she created what resembled a living summer field, a little bit of the past preserved for today.

Embroidery, rug punching, pen etchings, oil paintings of local scenes, designs done on birchbark, a hand carved doll's cradle complete with tiny quilt and pillow which has seen use by three generations of daughters and many other fine examples of craft artistry were also on display for everyone to admire.

High interest

The Bring and Brag Day was fun and perhaps we will have another one next year. I feel quite sure that this exhibit only scraped the top surface of what is available locally for such a display and that the next time we will see more samples of the same quality and uniqueness. Our appreciation goes to everyone who helped to make this such an interesting afternoon.

The delicious tea and refreshments were provided and served by the ladies of Unit 8 of the Huntingdon United Church Women.

During the tea birthday greetings were sung to two people who thought their birthdays were well guarded secrets. I and Richard Stevens were the surprised recipients of well wishes from the group. Our thanks go to all of you !

The Little Green Library services ends June 12. Please bring all your books in for the summer. Your membership in the library continues on into the fall so that you will be able to take out books then. Keep your eyes open during the summer months for any special books which you might like to read during the fall and winter seasons and come with your list for the library in September. They will be happy to accommodate you if they can.

June 19 will be the last day for activities at the Centre before the summer recess. It will be a fun affair for everyone so do try to come if you can and bring a friend. Until then, everyone connected with the group, me, the drivers and all the volunteers hope that you have had a happy week. Un mot à nos amis français. S'il vous plait, venez au centre la semaine prochaine, le 19 juin, pour notre dernière journée spéciale. Bienvenue à tous !

Farmers' liaison officer

by Judy Taylor

SUZELLE THAUVETTE

During the past few weeks, Huntingdon has been one of the three places in the province where your friendly neighborhood agronome is a woman.

Suzelle Thauvette, 22, is an extension worker with the Ste. Martine agronome's office, but she has been borrowed to help out in Huntingdon during the illness of Leslie Robertson, and several farmers have been surprised to find their telephoned queries being answered in fluent English or French by an unmistakably female voice.

When asked just what an agronome does, Suzelle explained, "About half our time is spent in the office, and the other half is occupied with travelling to farms, to consult with farmers about crops, drainage, etc.

"We do not have the equipment to conduct such things as detailed soil tests- for those, samples must be sent in to the laboratory. But wedo answer questions about types of fertilizers, government subsidies for various crops, and livestock feeding."

Holds degree

Suzelle qualified for her job by taking an Agricultural Engineering degree at MacDonald College, from which she graduated a year ago. She is the first woman agricultural engineer in Quebec, and one of only three women and 500 men to hold this degree in Canada.

A native of Moose Creek, near Cornwall, where her family has a farm, she decided that agriculture was for her after starting a general science course at Carleton University.

"A B.Sc. just didn't seem specialized enough, at the time when many university graduates were having trouble finding jobs," she said. "So I switched to Mac. Having been brought up on a farm, I was interested in agricultural problems and I decided that I really wanted to be an extension worker, out where that action is. Most girls who takeany kind of agriculture course end up in research or administrative work.

"After graduating last spring, I did have some trouble finding the kind of work I wanted. I was employed for 10 months by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture in Ottawa, and then I heard about the vacancy in Ste. Martine, and that was the chance I had been waiting for."

Well-Known

Suzelle was already well-known to the younger farmers in the area as she worked with the Young Farmers Clubs in Howick-Ormstown and Huntingdon while she was a student, and served as provincial secretary of that organization.

A forthright young woman, she admits her lack of experience but is poised and confident. She also has some interesitng views on the position of the English-speaking farmer in Quebec.

"Inasmuch as one can generalize," she said, "I find the English-speaking farmer is more of a rugged individualist than his Francophone counterpart. They are excellent farmers and have got on well in the past without advice or belonging to unions or organizations."

"The French farmer often tends to be more business-oriented and more politically minded than the English farmer," she said. "Of course, anyone in farming these days has to love what they are doing - there isn't that much money to be made, what with rising costs.

"I believe that the English farmers will have to get out into the world more in the future if they are to survive. This is why it is a good thing that they have formed their own local under the U.P.A. The farmers must learn to take advantage of new business methods and government assistance, and keep in communication with their confreres all over the province."

She expressed concern over the delayed planting season this year and wondered how many farmers would be able to survive another bad crop year.

As matters stand now, Suzelle Thauvette will be returning to her regular post at Ste. Martine shortly before she becomes Mrs. Alvin Barrington on June 15. Shortly thereafter, she will be back at work helping farmers to help themselves. A rewarding kind of job for anyone, male or female.

Hemmingford Golf Club off to swinging start

Despite the bad weather of the past weeks the Hemmingford Golf course is in fine condition and the season is off to a good start. On Saturday, May 25, the Pro. Bernie Periard presented a Fashion Show of attractive golfing attire. Prepared by Mrs. Huguette Periard, the fashions shown were for both men and women and were modeled by Club members, Steve Barr (1973 Club Champion) and Donny Keddy for the men and Alice Salmon (1973 Women's Champion), Linda Keddy and Phyllis Nystrom for the women.

Hector Forbes was an efficient Commentator and all the fashions came from the Pro. Shop. There was a record attendance of 205 members and friends who later enjoyed a roast beef supper and the dance which followed. The lucky winners of the door prizes were Robert St. Amour, Phyllis Nystrom and Bob Curry.

On Thursday, May 30, both Club and car park were filled to capacity when a tournament for International Law Officers (Canadian and American) was held. With an early tee-off 188 players enjoyed a good day which ended with the usual appetizing supper with 'chef' Henri presiding.

Hemmingford Club is host this year for the annual Q.G.A. Group Intersectional matches which will be held on Sunday, June 16. Members are now qualifying for the Club 10-man team which will compete against teams from Nun's Island, Green Valley and St. Lambert.

Ladies clinic

The Ladies Golf Clinic got off to a good start on Tuesday, May 21. It was so well attended that the pro had to divide the group in order to give each player equal attention. The first group meet at 10 a.m. and the second at 11 a.m.

The Ladies League also met on May 21 for a short meeting before teeing off. All ladies are welcome to join the league irrespective of skill in the game. The entrance fee is $1 and players contribute 25 cents each Tuesday in order to build up a kitty for prizes etc., New members are always welcome, come along on Tuesdays at starting time, 1:15 p.m.

Clinics for the Juniors will be held this year on June 4 - 11 - 18 - 15, at 6 p.m. and for pre-Juniors on June 7 - 14 - 21 - 28, also at 6 p.m. Clubs will be provided, just bring your enthusiasm.

Another outstanding tournament will be held on Friday, June 14, and a group of famous figures in the sporting world have been invited to attend. They are Larry Smith, Don Sweet and Ed. George of the Montreal Alouettes and our own Terry Harper of the Los Angeles Kings. A roast beef dinner and the awarding of - at least 50 golf and door prizes will wind up what promises to be an enjoyable day. For further information call the Club, 247-2445, Gary Wilson at 247-2271 or G. Smith at 247-2088. The tournament is under the auspices of the St. Jean Federal Liberal Association.

Phyllis Hayter honored at shower

On Saturday afternoon June 1, in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Annex, Huntingdon, a miscellaneous shower was given in honor of the bride-to-be, Phyllis Hayter when about 45 guests gathered.

The annex was decorated in pink and white streamers and bells and several bouquets of spring flowers.

Phyllis was taken by surprise as she entered the annex to the music of the Bridal Chorus which was played by Mrs. Ellis Wilson.

The guest of honor was presented with a corsage of pink carnations by Miss Lyla Stewart and was ushered to a pink and white decorated chair with decorated umbrella overhead.

Little Shirley Millard passed the many gifts to Phyllis to open assisted by Joan Hayter, Barbara and Allison Millard. Phyllis was pleased and thanked everyone for their kindness.

Then the party went downstairs to the church hall for refreshments which included a decorated shower cake. Guests were served by the hostesses, Miss Gladys Duheme, Mrs. Pearl Milne, Mrs. Violet McClatchie, Miss Lyla Stewart. Also assisting with the serving was Mrs. Helen Stewart and a number of Phyllis' girl friends.

Firemen discuss travelling time

The regular monthly meeting of the Hinchinbrooke Volunteer Fire Brigade was held June 3 at Athelstan fire hall. President Ernie Maither chaired the meeting assisted by secretary Stanley Erskin.

A contribution of $25. to the brigade sent through the Hinchinbrooke Council from Edward Ottney was gratefully recorded. In his covering letter Mr. Ottney expressed approval of the recent youth training program put on by the brigade.

Chief Dan Tully reported on the recent meeting of the mutual aid.

A considerable portion of the evening was spent in discussing ways and means of improving the time taken to get to fires with special emphasis on safety in driving.

Hog numbers show increase

Hog numbers are up, according to Statistics Canada. At April 1, 1974 pigs on Canadian farms were estimated at 6,969,000 head, a gain of 2 percent over a year earlier, Eastern numbers were up 4 percent, with the West virtually unchanged.

A 3 percent increase was recorded for pigs in the age category three to six months as of April 1. This gain was made up of a 5 percent Eastern gain and a 1 percent Western increase. In the under three months category, Western numbers were down 2 percent, while the Eastern total was 3 percent higher resulting in a national gain of 1 percent.

Compared to a year ago, the basic breeding herd at April 1 was unchanged. A 3 percent decline in Western Canada was offset by a 3 percent gain in the East.

TEXTILES

More broad woven fabric of man-made fibres were shipped in 1973 than in 1972, Canadian Textiles Institute report.

Last year Canadian mills shipped 357,993,000 square yards, compared with 304,792,000 square yards in 1972.

Huntingdon teams win

Huntingdon teams scored week-end victories in all three divisions of the Intercity Baseball League.

The Mosquitoes brought their season record to two wins and one loss by defeating Melocheville 10 - 2 on Saturday, and Mercier 4 - 3 after two extra innings on Monday night in Huntingdon.

After a crushing 25 - 3 defeat by Ormstown, the Bantam team rallied to take a 4 - 2 win over Melocheville on Sunday evening, for their first win of the season.

In the Midget category, Huntingdon defeated Beauharnois 12 - 9 on Sunday night, and also captured Monday's game against Chateauguay by a 6 - 1 score, bringing their season total to three victories.

For a schedule of upcoming games, see La Gazette.

St. Chrysostome

The Golden Age Club held their annual dinner May 30. The attendance was good and a buffet supper was served by "Le Buffet Bourdeau." Many door prizes were given and a memorable event was underlined the "55th Wedding Anniversary" of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Lefort. Most of their children were present. Mrs. Lefort was presented with a basket of dried flowers and Mrs. Liliane Charland had baked a huge cake for the occasion.

Rear - end collision

Heavy traffic occasioned by the Ormstown Fair resulted in a rear-end collision on Saturday evening on Church St.

Involved were cars driven by André Labelle of Beauharnois and John McCaig of St. Louis de Gonzague. McCaig's car received about $500 damage.

PROPERTY FOR SALE

HEMMINGFORD
A beautiful three bedroom bungalow on a quiet side road for peace and quiet. The house is on over an acre of land, and has a garage and paddock for horses. This house has been beautifully decorated and the owner is leaving the country, so you know the price is right. M. Barry Martin 264-5065.

HEMMINGFORD
STONE HOUSE PRICED TO SELL!!! Secluded and with four acres of land plus garage, wood shed and swimming pool. This 100 year plus home has a large living room with a fireplace, three bedrooms, large kitchen, with new stove, fridge, washer and dryer, new wiring and plumbing. Additional land is available if desired - M. Barry Martin 264-5065.

HOWICK
A beautiful Victorian 15 room house with approximately four acres of land with three outbuildings. This old home is of brick construction and as sound as the day built. The inside could use some decoration but nothing major, and at the price is just a great buy. M. Barry Martin 264-5065.

ST. ANICET
So you retired and have been looking for that special small home at a reasonable price!!!! Well, this just might be it; a four bedroom house with electric heating on almost three acres and on Highway 3 for easy access to Montreal via the Trans-Canada Highway - M. Barry Martin 264-5065.

DUNDEE
This is another home for someone thinking of retiring or maybe a young couple just starting out! Two bedrooms, kitchen and living room with a large porch on over three acres. A small barn and chicken house make this a good buy. M. Barry Martin 264-5065.

DUNDEE
A beautiful four bedroom home on two acres with 14 apple trees at a price you can afford. The children are all grown up so who needs four bedrooms!! This house has been kept in beautiful condition and has a large kitchen and dining area with picture windows, as does the living room, and there is the possibility of 5 more acres of land. M. Barry Martin 264-5065.

HUNTINGDON
100 acres - 70 tillable - Immaculate, best describes this farm. A large barn with several buildings all in tip top shape along with a beautiful four bedroom home custom built by the owner. Were it not for age, this farm would not be available. The barn and outbuildings couldn't be duplicated for the price of the complete farm. M. Barry Martin 264-5065.

HUNTINGDON
428 Acres - This is a combination of two farms in a single block with two houses, 4 barns, several outbuildings, 2 silos and the total acreage is tillable. Good fences ditches and the amount of land involved could make this one of the largest single operations in the area. M. Barry Martin 264-5065.

ORMSTOWN
270 acres - This one is a sleeper. From the road, you might not give it a second thought but behind the trees at the front of the property, is one of the really better farms in the area. It has 170 tillable acres, 80 of which are tile drained. A good white clapboard house with three bedrooms. A large dairy barn which can hold over 100 head, two silos, three corn cribs and good outbuildings make this an excellent buy. The cattle and machinery are also available. M. Barry Martin 264-5065.

HEMMINGFORD
538 Acres - This presently being run as a beef operation, but the possibilities are diverse, as this farm has black muck land for vegetables, good high land for corn or grain and an excellent woodlot that has seen neither axe nor saw for a good number of years. This farm is only available due to ill health and includes the complete line of machinery and cattle. A beautiful old brick farm house which is in immaculate condition complete the picture. The investment possibilities for this farm are unlimited with booming land values in the Hemmingford area. Please call M. Barry Martin 264-5065.

PROPERTY WANTED
I have a client who has sold his home in Montreal and desparately needs a four bedroom house in the Huntingdon area. He would prefer a few acres with trees around the home. He would like possession before the 15th July or he is going to have to live in a tent!! Willing to go to $40,000 with $10,000 cash with possibly more if the property is exactly what he wants. Please call M. Barry Martin: 264-5065.

Huntingdon W.I. notes

The June meeting of the Huntingdon W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Helen Henry with 16 members and six visitors present. The roll call was answered by bringing a book for the Little Green Library. A goodly number of packaged used Canadian stamps were handed in to Mrs. Anderson for forwarding to Australia.

Miss Debbie Rodgers has been awarded the Laura Rose Stephen Scholarship of $200. This was established several years ago by our W.I. from a bequest left by the late Mrs. Stephen to be used as scholarships for girls from the Huntingdon area to further their studies in Home Economics. A minutes silence was observed in memory of Miss Isabel Ferns, a W.I. member.

A recent new member, Mrs. Doris Ryan, was the delegate to the Provincial Convention. She gave a most enthusiastic report of her experiences and brought back much useful information.

The Conveners reports followed: Agriculture -A native Manitoban weed - the Jerusalem artichoke - may become a possible sugar substitute.

Citizenship - Spoke on Bill 22 and its ramifications.

Education - told of the work done by volunteer helpers for slow readers in Huntingdon Academy.

Health & Welfare - Insect stings fatal to some people.

Publicity - Britains W.I.'s have about 250 cooperative markets.

Home Economics had several household hints and the following recipe for seasoned salt: 2 tbls salt, 1 tbls onion salt, 1 tbls. garlic salt, 1 tbls paprika, 1 tbls celery, 1 tbls hickory salt, 1½ tbls accent, 1 tbls pepper.

Mix all together thoroughly; Use a little mixed with the flour for flouring pork chops, chicken, etc.

Smiles best

It's always best to smile, because other people may be taking you at face value.

First aid needed

Manon Champagne of Montreal, a passenger in a car driven by Raymond Champagne, received minor injuries in a two car collision on Route 3, St. Anicet on June 9. She was given first aid treatment at the Huntingdon Hospital after the 4 p.m. collision with a car driven by Viola Higgins of Huntingdon. The latter vehicle was not damaged. The Champagne automobile received minor damages.

Wallet stolen

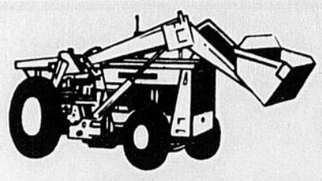

One of the exhibitors at the Ormstown Fair had a wallet, containing about $50 and personal papers, stolen from one of the barns while he was participating in a class in the arena. Ste. Martine Provincial Police were called after the theft, which occurred on June 7.

BEAUHARNOIS

Canada — Province of Québec
Superior Court — District of Beauharnois
No. 13,303. { DAME ANNE MARIE THÉRÈSE WILLIAMS, wife of Robert Vaux, of the City and District of Montreal and therein residing at 4160 Hingston Avenue, plaintiff, vs DAME LISE BERGERON, residing at R.R. 3, Cazaville, District of Beauharnois, Québec, defendant.

"That certain farm lying and situate at Cazaville, in the Township of St. Joseph of Godmanchester, known and designated on the official plan and book of reference of the Parishes of St. Anicet and Ste. Barbe, County of Huntingdon, as being lots numbers six hundred and twenty and six hundred and twenty-one (620 and 621) containing together one hundred and fifty acres in superficies, more or less, with the buildings thereon erected; to be deducted, however, from the said lots the following:

(1) A part of said lot number six hundred and twenty-one, sold by Aristide Beauchesne to François Latreille by deed executed before Me Claude Pilon, notary, on the fifth day of November, nineteen hundred and sixty, and registered in the Huntingdon County Registry Office under the number 63312;

(2) A part of each of the said lots numbers six hundred and twenty and six hundred and twenty-one (Pts. 620 and 621) sold by Aristide Beauchesne to Her Majesty the Queen Elizabeth II by the deed executed before Me Claude Pilon, notary, on the twenty-eight day of June, nineteen hundred and sixty-one, and registered in the said Registry Office under number 63857.

As everything stands actually with all the active and passive servitudes attached thereto, and most particularly the following servitude: — Servitude by François Xavier Beauchesne in favour of The Shawinigan Water and Power Company executed before Me. L. Baillargeon, notary, on the twenty-fourth day of February, nineteen hundred and forty-two, and registered in the said Registry Office under number 47282; Supplementary Trust Deed by the Shawinigan Water and Power Company in favour of "The Montreal Trust Company", executed before Me. D. Cameron, notary, on the fifth day of November, nineteen hundred and forty-seven, and registered in the said Registry Office under the number 52094. The present sale includes nine head of cattle, two horses, tractor, plough and hay.

As the said immoveable property now subsists with all its rights, members and appurtenances without exception or reserve of any kind on the part of the vendor."

To be sold at the Huntingdon Division Registry Office, in Huntingdon, on the FOURTH day of JULY, 1974, at TEN o'clock in the forenoon.

Salisbury and Magna Carta; Stonehenge and its mystery

Some of Stonehenge's stones

by Edward Matthews

Magna Carta is such a fellow that he will have no sovereign.

Sir Edward Coke.

Another must on my sightseeing list was Stonehenge, the impressive prehistoric monument on the Salisbury plain. I went to Salisbury by train, where I was told that it was probably too late to go to Stonehenge that same day. I registered in a hotel, an old building, modernized inside. I had a leisurely lunch and went for a walk. The pride of the city is its cathedral, for the latter's own sake as well as for the perfectly preserved original copy of Magna Carta, its most famous and valuable treasure.

I visited the cathedral, but once again it is impossible to take the reader on a guided tour, fascinating as it is. I did not tarry to see the precinct, it having become too late.

Magna Carta, reluctantly granted to his barons by King John in 1215, is the first historical document, written and sealed, limiting the "King's Pleasure", conceding rights to nobles and freemen , the first real guarantee of liberty for the subjects, and that "for ever". It is the beginning of explicit English legislation and several of its principles have passed into Commonwealth, U.S. and other constitutions. My facsimile copy of Magna Carta I consider a prized possession.

Paper at the time was still a hardly known novelty in the west. England didn't have its first papermill until 1330, more than a century later. There was no printing press and therefore no official government organ. So royal enactments were handwritten in the required number of copies and carried to the places where they were to be promulgated.

EDWARD MATTHEWS, 72, author of this series of articles, has lived at Fertile Creek, Howick, for the last 23 years.

In this sixth part of his series on his recent visit to Britain he tells of seeing Salisbury Cathedral and dwells on the mystery of Stonehenge.

Four copies

Of Magna Carta four original copies are extant. One has become illegible, two have omissions and corrections. The fourth, faultless, is the Salisbury copy. Written on vellum, the noblest and scarcest writing material of the time, it is a superb sample of fine penmanship, in a very steady hand. It must have been the work of a master scribe. The language is Latin, not classic, but medieval, with all the then usual abbreviations and in hard-to-decipher medieval script. Reading it takes some patience and a magnifying glass. There are no subdivisioons between clauses. It is just one continuous text.

Fortunately there is a booklet available giving the English translation, the 63 clauses duly separated, numbered and identified, a welcome short cut, for some, to first learning Latin, buying a magnifying glass and taking a special reading holiday.

The Salisburv Magna Carta counts over 3500 words, distributed over 75 13-inch lines, close to 50 words per line. From top to bottom the text stretches over 15 3-4 inches. The last quarter line carries the date. There is a narrow margin all round. The seal took the place of a signature, because at the time people, including the king, could neither read nor write. As there was nothing to read, there was no incentive to learn it. This art was for specialists only, clerics. However, 400 years earlier, Charlemagne could read, if only haltingly, and he had a signature. I've seen it. The seal itself has not survived the seven and one half centuries since it was first affixed, but its traces are still there.

Once lost

That this Salisbury copy is so well preserved may be due to the fact that at all times it was in Salisbury at the Cathedral or its early predecessor, the cathedral of nearby Sarum. At one time it was mislaid and could not be found, around 1800, when the rebuilding of part of the library produced some confusion. During the last war, from 1940 - 45, it was taken care of in a government repository.

My day in Salisbury was the first when there had been sone night frost and some hoarfrost in the morning, which the sun soon laughed out of existence. Many people came informing me that it was cold, in case I hadn't noticed so myself. I had to explain that in Canada we have entirely different ideas about cold. They shuddered. And everywhere gentlemen began sporting their fur hats. But my room was cold and I had to light a cigar to heat it. It was one of my Dutch cigars, bought duty-free on the open sea, on board a Belgian ship. I slept well.

Salisbury is situated on a river Avon, one of several, but not Shakespeare's. Several small tributaries flow into it, one of which ran next to the hotel. Swans and ducks graced the picture. The swans made it perfectly clear who was boss and came first to snatch up the tidbits thrown at them by people dawdling on the bridge.

An early but enduring monument.

Percy Bysshe Shelley

I have read a good deal about Stonehenge, but was never able to visualize it properly. Now I could go there and see for myself. I took no chance on a guided tour in a tourist bus, which would run only if enough customers turned up, an unlikely event this time of year. Rather I took the regular bus to Amesbury, the place nearest my target.

We are used to reading signs reminding a driver of the speed limit, or warning him of a bump or a cattle crosssing. But I was rather baffled, on the road to Amesbury, to see a sign urging drivers to be on the lookout for low-flying aircraft. There was indeed quite some activity of helicopters, there being a military training camp in the neighborhood.

'So small'

Emerging from a bend in the road, my first glimpse of the site in the distance was anticlimactic, a little stone pile in the midst of an immense empty plain. On the spot the first visual impression also is one of smallness, in spite of scales on illustrations in books that could have made me wise. Stonehenge is, however, a big monument built of very big stones. I was not alone to experience this kind of optical illusion. Two of my granddaughters also were in England last summer and went to see Stonehenge. One of them, after my return, told me spontaneously that she had been disappointed, because it was "so small". The explanation probably is that there is nothing in the immediate vicinity to compare it to visually for size, except this vast expanse of level plain that would dwarf almost anything.

I saw what I had come to see and went back. Many books have been written on the subject and a few notes will have to do here.

Ancient stone circles are not rare. They are found far and wide. Stonehenge is outstanding by its size and state of preservation. Questions crowd the mind. Who built this monument? When, how, why? How do we interpret it? Several of these questions will probably go unanswered for ever. Archeology has answered some. Hypotheses tentatively supply some missing links, but they are diverse and often conflicting. The easier of the questions was where these heavy stones were quarried and how they were transported over such long distances and then erected. The quarries have been identified in Wales and Avebury, some 20 miles to the north of Stonehenge. Transportation from Wales, largely over water, could reasonably be imagined, nor would erection pose insuperable difficulties.

Builders unknown

What people or peoples erected Stonehenge is totally unknown and probably will remain a systery. s to the purpose, there are numerous barrows, burial mounds, in the neighborhood and burial ritual may be involved. A high degree of certainty attaches to the astronomical significance of Stonehenge, both solar and lunar.

In order of time Stonehenge comes after the pyramids of Egypt. It belongs to the neolithic period and the early Bronze Age, from 3000 - 1200 B.C. This is the time of the first agricultural settlements of people coming from the continent, a succession of tribes with different customs and skills, each contributing their share in the building and rebuilding.

There are indeed several distinct periods in the history of Stonehenge. But whoever they were, they must have been organized communities with an established leadership. They must have been far enough advanced to conceive the idea and give it physical reality. They must have been sufficiently prosperous to be able to spare all the labor involved.

Stonehenge is a place to go back to and have a second look. To be continued.

Historic bell restored to place of honor: its name is Gremisle and it was presented to Huntingdon Academy in 1895 in memory of Dr. Francis Sherriff who was instrumental in the founding of the school in the early 1850s. Taken down when the new building was constructed around 1932, the bell was almost forgotten in a dusty corner of the school basement until the School Board provided funds to have it cleaned and mounted this year. Now it greets visitors to the Academy in the main corridor, and is being admired here by Principal Dave Daoust, Student Council President Kevin Donnelly [left] Treasurer Bev Dunlop, and first year Council representative Mike Kelly.

Ste-Marthe, Hemmingford et Godmanchester appuient les Jeux

Les hôtesses Denise Bilodeau, Michèle Toulouse et Murielle Bourque ont assisté à la remise de plusieurs dons. Me. Claude Blanchard apparaît en compagnie d'un conseiller de Ste-Marthe, Aurèle Bertrand, Claude Gendron avec le secrétaire de Hemmingford canton et village, Roger Bouchard et le maire de Godmanchester Réal Racine accompagné de Me Claude Pilon.

Ormstown Village et Paroisse et Grande-Ile contribuent aux Jeux

Le Comité Organisateur des Jeux du Québec a reçu plusieurs chèques en vue des finales provinciales qui se tiendront à Valleyfield du 1er au 11 août prochains. Dans l'ordre, Gérard Lalonde, le maire d'Ormstown, Emile Beaulieu, le maire de Grande-Ile, Jean-Louis Bertrand, le président Claude Gendron, l'Hôtesse Liliane Patenaude, Jean-Paul Riendeau de la paroisse d'Ormstown et Aimé Miron.

Le PQ de H'don répond au député Ken Fraser

Le parti Libéral vient de nous servir par l'entremise de Kenneth Fraser et du groupe de députés anglophones, dont il a pris la tête, une mise en scène politique digne de figurer au chapitre des meilleures réalisations de la comédie francaise. Un scénario politique qui pourrait très bien s'intituler "Le Bon, La Brute et Le Truand", où se joue la survie du français au Québec dans une salle de représentation qui est le pays tout entier.

Déclarant à qui voulait bien l'entendre et dans tous les journaux du Québec, que le Bill 22 était un projet de loi digne d'Adolphe Hitler, que le Bill 22 était une atteinte fasciste mettant en péril la survie de la minorité anglaise, appuyé par ses confrères rassurant leurs électeurs anglophones contre la possibilité de construire des fours crématoires à leurs intentions et de tous les écarts de langages possibles et imaginables, or nous savons M. Kenneth Fraser assez intelligent pour lire un projet de loi et que dit précisement ce projet de loi:

-1- conserver à l'anglais son statut de langue officielle;

2- ne prendre aucune mesure pour rendre obligatoire l'usage du français comme langue de travail

3- maintient le principe même du Bill 63 en ce qui concerne la langue d'enseignement

4- oblige maintenant toute municipalité où les anglophones forment 10 pourcent de la population d'utiliser l'anglais et le français dans tous ses actes officiels; (mesure qui touche près des 2-3 de la population Québecoise.)

Comment donc expliquer la réaction de M. Kenneth Fraser face à un projet de loi, qui non seulement ne change rien à la situation actuelle mais accélère le passage du français comme langue seconde. La seule réponse nous venant à l'esprit tant qu'à l'attitude de M. Fraser est que la population Québecoise se trouve face à une mise en scène humiliante et dont le but est de tromper consciemment la population, tant qu'à la nature même du Bill 22 et de ses conséquences pour l'avenir des Québécois; mise en scène inacceptable qui par les écalats de voix risquent de provoquer des réactions violentes dans la population et c'est ce qu'il faut éviter à tout prix. Le parti Québécois de Huntingdon pacifique mais lucide trouve très regrettable l'attitude du député Libéral actuel et invite toute la population francophone à faire parvenir au secrétaire de la Commission Parlementaire leurs protestations et leurs recommandations, pour que ce projet de loi rende enfin justice à la population majoritaire francophone.

Election scolaire dans le quartier 2:

Emile Sénécal gagne!

Lundi soir, après le dépouillement du scrutin, le commissaire sortant Emile Sénécal était porté en triomphe. Il venait de remporter l'élection scolaire contre son adversaire Richard Alary.

Le vote final fut de 210 voix pour Emile Sénécal contre 55 pour Richard Alary. Toutefois, onze billets de votation furent annulés.

Les électeurs du quartier no 2 de la Commission Scolaire de Huntingdon devaient se rendre à la salle paroissiale de Huntingdon où prenait place l'élection. Les trois bureaux de votation étaient ouverts à compter de 9 heures le matin et jusqu'à 19 heures lundi soir.

Seulement 276 électeurs se sont prévalus de leur droit de vote sur une possibilité de 945, pour un pourcentage de 29%. Mintenant passons à la description des bureaux de votation:

—le bureau No. 1: 22 votes pour Richard Alary; 80 pour Emile Sénécal; et 3 bulletins rejetés.

—le bureau no 2: 28 votes pour Richard Alary; 95 pour Emile Sénécal; et 5 votes rejetés.

—le bureau no 3: 5 votes pour Richard Alary; 35 pour Emile Sénécal; et 3 votes annulés.

Vers les 20 heures, le résultat était connu. Le vainqueur, Emile Sénécal, fit une balade dans les rues de la ville pour ensuite se rendre à la salle des Chevaliers de Colomb pour fêter la victoire. A cet endroit, il remercia toute l'équipe qui travailla pour lui.

Mardi matin, le commissaire Emile Sénécal fit certains commentaires au rédacteur de La Gazette. Il nota l'importance d'une bonne organisation dans toute élection. M. Sénécal mentionna que l'élection fut difficile car il s'agissait d'un quartier rural; il est compréhensible que certains agriculteurs ne vinrent pas voter car la belle température était propice aux semences.

M. Sénécal mentionna également son intention de continuer le travail en équipe au sein de la Commission Scolaire de Huntingdon afin de compléter les démarches actuelles. Il souligna que la Commission Scolaire était attachée par des directives précises du Ministère de l'Education. Il nota que des démarches furent entreprises déjà afin de renseigner la population davantage; il espère recevoir des options du Ministère sur ce point.

Emile Sénécal expliqua que les gens devraient s'intéresser davantage à la question scolaire par leur présence aux rencontres de la Commission Scolaire.

La présidente de la Commission Scolaire de Huntingdon, Mme Thérèse Galipeau, et le commissaire Gaston Parent félicitent le commissaire élu, Emile Sénécal.

La foire d'Ormstown fut bien réussie

Encore cette année, une foule record se rendit à l'exposition d'Ormstown afin de participer massivement à cette foire rurale. Plus de 25,000 personnes franchirent les portes de l'exposition; ce qui est une amélioration de plus de 1,500 personnes comparativement à l'année dernière.

La température clémente fut certes la cause de ce succès. Une chaleur enviable prenait place mercredi dernier pour l'ouverture et demeura jusqu'à dimanche.

Les routes du village étaient pressées par plusieurs automobilistes et plsuieurs piétons; tout le monde se rendait tout simplement à l'expostion.

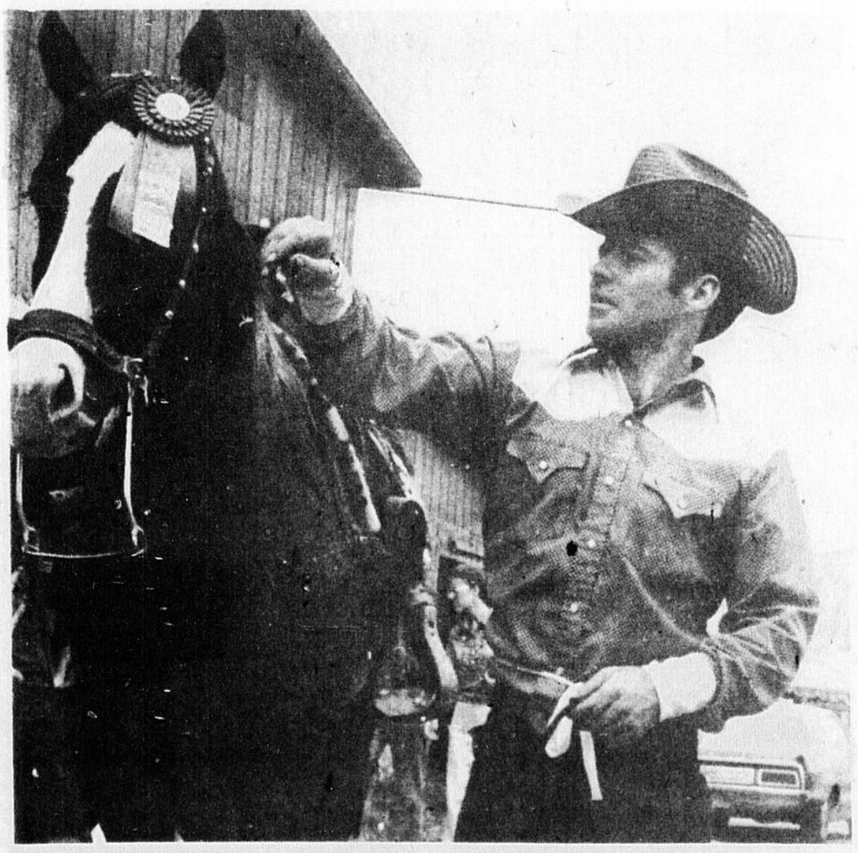

Les divers exhibits, les manèges et les concours hippiques furent le point de regard de plusieurs personnes. Les enfants s'amusèrent, les plus vieux en firent de meme.

Voici maintenant quelques résultats en ce qui concerne la population francophone qui participa à l'exposition:

André Brunet, de St-Anicet, remporta les honneurs de la course au baril en trèfle. Le Cercle des Fermières d'Ormstown remporta des prix dans plusieurs domaines: il faut penser à une 3e place pour les bouquets miniatures, une 2e pour les géraniums, une 2e pour les fougères, une 2e pour les cactus, une première pour les violettes africaines.

Mme Marie-Thérèse Daoust, d'Ormstown, remporta plusieurs prix dans le department de l'art. Il en est de même pour Hélène Dorais et le Cercle des Fermières.

Plusieurs autres personnes se méritèrent des prix et on en fera une liste spéciale la semaine prochaine dans notre édition de La Gazette.

André Brunet, de St-Anicet, avec son cheval Soleil, remporta la victoire dans la course au baril lors de l'exposition d'Ormstown.

M. Alary commente sa défaite

Me Richard Alary, candidat dans le quartier no 2 lors des dernières élections scolaires, était à La Malbaie au moment où le résultat fut annoncé.

Par téléphone, ce dernier donna des commentaires au journal La Gazette. Tout d'abord, il remercia les électeurs qui votèrent pour lui. Il continua en disant: "Je les remercie d'avoir compris que la chapitre sur l'utilisation des locaux de la Commission Scolaire par le public n'est pas clos". Il remercia également les électeurs d'avoir compris que l'impeccabilité de l'enseignement des langues maternelles dans les écoles ne signifiait pas du même coup l'abolition de l'enseignement des langues secondes. Il remercia également son équipe fidèle qui donna de son énergie lors des élections.

Il commenta que sa candidature au quartier no 2 prouvait que les électeurs ne bénéficiaient pas de leur droit de vote, car seulement 29% vinrent voter. Me Alary se demanda quelle aurait été l'option de la masse qui ne vint pas voter.

Prenant conscience de certaines anomalies, il nota que cette liste électorale serait vieille et mal préparée, car plusieurs électeurs légalement éligibles ne purent se prévaloir de leur droit de vote. Il fit ensuite des commentaires sur le peu d'information que les gens reçoivent car plusieurs ne savaient aucunement qu'il y avait élection et qui avait droit de vote.

Me Alary se réjouit car c'est un but poursuivi et atteint. Une nomination par élection valorise plus le candidat élu et éveille la conscience publique à la cause de l'éducation, de dire Me Alary.

En dernier lieu, il félicita le gagnant, Emile Sénécal, et lui souhaita bonne chance.

Avion endommagé...

Un petit avion piloté par Claude Colette de LaSalle fut lourdement endommagé le 7 juin après que ce dernier tenta d'atterrir sur un rang à Ste-Clotilde. Personne ne fut blessé, mais les dommages sont estimés à $6,000.

Au baseball, le Huntingdon reprend du poil de la bête

Les formations inter-cité de Huntingdon, eurent un week-end victorieux, et le tout semble aller pour le mieux maintenant.

Deux victoires pour le Mosquito

Concernant le Mosquito d'abord, cette formation avait perdu son premier match de la saison contre le Valleyfield par le compte de 9 à 2. Or, samedi à Melocheville, le Huntingdon l'emportait par le compte de 10 à 2. Le lanceur Alain Caza brilla dans la victoire avec une soirée fort excitante. En dernière manche, le Huntingdon s'assurait de la victoire en marquant sept points.

Et lundi soir à Huntingdon, Michael Hackett lança une partie de toute beauté, retirant 18 frappeurs sur trois prises. Le tout permettait au Huntingdon de l'emporter par le compte de 4 à 3, après deux manches supplémentaires, sur le Mercier. Le receveur Daniel Vaillancourt brilla également à la défensive et à l'offensive. Il frappa en lieu sûr à trois reprises, et il compta le point de la victoire en huitième à la suite d'un simple de Daniel Quinn.

La fiche, maintenant, du Mosquito est de deux victoires contre une seule défaite.

Aujourd'hui (mercredi), le Huntingdon joue contre le Beauharnois. Vendredi soir, le Valleyfield visitera le Huntingdon à 6 heures. Samedi, le Huntingdon jouera à Mercier. Le 16 juin, le Beauharnois visitera le Huntingdon à compter de deux heures, et le 17 juin, le Ste-Martine fera l'opposition au Huntingdon à 6 heures. Le terrain du Mosquito est situé à l'école polyvalente Arthur Pigeon de Huntingdon.

Une première pour le bantam

Le Bantam de Huntingdon, après avoir été humilié par le Ormstown samedi dernier au compte de 25 à 3, ne se découragea aucunement et remporta leur première victoire de la saison par le pointage de 4 à 2 sur le Melocheville. Cette joute avait lieu à Melocheville

Sur le comité du CLSC:

Mme Joël Lussier élue à St-Antoine

Au cours d'une assemblée publique tenue le 5 juin à Saint-Antoine, madame Joël Lussier a été élue représentante francophone pour Saint-Antoine et Franklin au Comité Provisoire du C.L.S.C. (Centre Local de Services Communautaires). Elle remplace Mme Lorenzo Goneau qui a abattu du magnifique travail et qui demeurera active au sein du comité de travail local.

C'est au cours de cette assemblée que les gens ont travaillé à décrire les problèmes et les besoins qui avaient été soulevés au cours des assemblées du printemps dernier. Ce fut une réunion fructueuse où on a pu déterminer plus sûrement les besoins les plus urgents et aboutir à des solutions simples et réalisables. Rappelons qu'une quinzaine de comités de travail sont en train de décrire les besoins jugés les plus importants par les quelque 600 personnes à travers le comté qui ont répondu à un questionnaire sur les besoins prioritaires, au printemps dernier, et que ce travail devrait aboutir à déterminer l'équipe de base qui démarrera bientôt les activités du C.L.S.C. de Huntingdon.

Les comités de travail sont composés de toutes personnes prêtes à faire quelque chose pour leur communauté et il en existe un où il y a un représentant au Comité Provisoire. Pour ceux que ça intéresserait, voici la liste des représentants; vous pouvez les contacter ouappeler au C.L.S.C. à 264-5386 pour obtenir des informations.

Huntingdon - M. Richard Alary, 264-3298.

Ormstown - M. Normand Daoust, 829 2224.

Hemmingford - Mme Nicole Cournoyer, 247-2992.

St. Anicet et Cazaville - Mme Denis Carrière, 264-4234.

Howick - Mme Philippe Brault, 825-2095.

St-Antoine et Franklin - Mme Joël Lussier, 827-2346.

Ste. -Barbe - M. Claude Boyer, 373-0294.

St.-Chrysostome - Mme Claude Paradis, 826-3672 et Mme Jacqueline Laberge, 826-4474.

Festival socio-culturel

Camille Frédérick donna un concert de grande classe mardi, le 4 juin dernier, à l'auditorium de l'école polyvalente Arthur Pigeon de Huntingdon. Le tout était dans le cadre du Festival Socio-Culturel pour le secteur de Huntingdon. Plusieurs personnes s'y rendirent afin d'applaudir un talent de chez-nous

Anna-Marie Laberge en était à sa première experience pour un tour de chant le 4 juin dernier dans le cadre du Festival Socio-Culturel de Huntingdon. Elle chanta des airs de Bécaud et Brel. Les spectateurs étaient émerveillés. Mlle Laberge était accompagnée de Michèle Archambeault au piano.

Howick

Quinze membres de l'Age d'Or de Howick, du Cercle de Fermières et des enfants se sont rendus au Cap-de-la-Madeleine le 4 juin. Ils faisent partie d'un groupe de 43 personnes de Howick et Ste-Martine, pour ce voyage organisé par Mme Réal Touchette de Ste-Martine. L'autobus quitta Ste-Martine vers 7:30 du matin et, pour ceux qui n'avaient pas eu le temps de prendre leur petit déjeuner, la halte vers le milieu du voyage de 3 heures fut bienvenue.

Au Cap, ils purent se joindre à une foule venue d'autres parties de la province afin d'élever des prières pour obtenir une température plus favorable pour les cultivateurs.

Un repas était compris dans le prix du voyage, ce qui en faisait une activité très raisonnable, si l'on considère la distance du trajet.

La Fête des Mères fut célébrée par L'Age d'Or de Howick à l'école Très St-Sacrement. Les cartes furent le passe-temps le plus populaire mais il y eut aussi du violon et du piano, de la danse et des rafraîchissements furent servis. M. le maire Meunier et son épouse vinrent passer un moment avec les membres de l'Age d'Or et M. Meunier accepta de jouer quelques vieux refrains au piano.

Il faut reconnaître le dévouement de Mme Paul Tellier qui s'occupe beaucoup des activités pour les citoyens âgés et est en partie responsable du succès de l'Age d'Or à Howick.

Nous apprenons avec regret que M. Georges Thibault est un patient à l'hôpital Barrie Memorial. Mme D. D'Aoust du même Rang, a subi une intervention chirurgicale au Barrie. Nos meilleurs voeux à tous les deux pour un prompt rétablissement.

M. Albéni Desgroseilliers peut se promener à nouveau, à l'aide d'une canne, car il se remet de sa deuxième opération pour cataractes. Sa canne lui donne plus d'assurance pour traverser les rues.

L'UPA du district

Au cours d'une rencontre avec la Régie de l'Assurance-Récolte, tenue à Québec le 27 mai dernier, l'Exécutif de la Fédération de l'UPA de St-Jean-Valleyfield a exprimé aux régisseurs présents le mécontentement général des assurés de la région qui ont vu leurs réclamations partiellement ou complètement refusées pour les dommages à leurs récoltes de 1973.

Jugeant inacceptables la plupart des raisons évoquées par la Régie pour diminuer ou annuler sous forme d'attribution le montant des indemnités prévues au contrat d'Assurance-Récolte, la Fédération a demandé à la Régie une revision complète dossiers de tous les assurés de la région de façon à corriger le paiement des indemnités conformément à l'esprit de la loi de l'Assurance-Récolte.

Pour donner suite à cette demande, la Régie a convenu de former un comité régional de revision à cet effet et la Fédération a accepté pour l'instant d'y déléguer deux de ses représentants.

Ce comité de revision doit siéger dans la deuxième semaine de juin et a pour mandat de reviser le dossier de tous les assurés qui le demanderont et de faire les recommandations appropriées à la Régie en vue de corriger le paiement des indemnités justifiées.

Filles d'Isabelle

La dernière assemblée des Filles d'Isabelle de la saison présidée par la Régente Evélina Leblanc et son conseil s'est poursuivie comme d'habitude; vu le peu de correspondance, l'assemblée se termina assez tôt.

Après la pause-café, nous fûmes gratifiées d'une heure récréative bien divertissante avec un sous-entendu de procéder de cette façon à l'avenir. Ce fut une véritable surprise-cadeau de notre Régente.

Il y a invitation à Rigaud pour toutes les Filles d'Isabelle du diocèse et tous ceux qui veulent s'y joindre le 18 juin à 8:30 heures p.m. Il y aura alors le Son et Lumière du Sanctuaire.

N'oublions pas notre bingo le 12 juin à 8 heures p.m. à la salle des Chevaliers de Colomb. Toute la population est cordialement invitée.

Le Conseil des Filles d'Isabelle profite de l'occasion pour souhaiter à tous ses membres des vacances enrichissantes et très reposantes. Les activités reprendront le deuxième mercredi de septembre, soit le 11 plus précisément.

La rédactrice des Filles d'Isabelle.

Activités du Club des Cavaliers de B'nois

Un club pour les amateurs d'équitation est nouvellement formé dans le secteur; it s'agit du Club des Jeunes Cavaliers de Beauharnois.

L'exécutif de ce club se compose comme suit: Réal Miller occupe le poste de président; Bernard Corbeil en est le vice-président; Mme Diane Rivet en est la trésorière tandis que Mlle Suzane Leduc s'occupe du poste de secrétaire.

Ce club débutait ses activités le 28 mai dernier lors d'une rencontre au Club Tourist de Valleyfield. Le 2 juin dernier, il y avait un trajet à cheval organisé sous la responsabilité de Jean-Claude Gibeault. Richard Fortin remporta la victoire pour ce parcours.

Lors de cette rencontre, on en profita afin d'organiser un concours hippique lequel aura lieu à Williamstown; un montant de $50.00 sera offert en bourse pour chaque classe.

Un projet en marche actuellement est l'organisation de deux journées, genre clinique, à l'aréna d'Ormstown pour les 22 et 23 juin prochains. Le tout sera très important.

Baseball

dimanche soir. Le lanceur gagnant fut Kevin MacLeod, avec une brillante performance.

Les prochaines joutes du Bantam sont le 12 juin ici contre le Chateauguay. Le match débutera à 8 heures p.m. Le len demain (jeudi), le Chateauguay Ville jouera encore contre le Huntingdon à 8 heures p.m. Vendredi soir prochain, le Huntingdon se rendra à Beauharnois. Le 17 juin, Ormstown rencontrera le Huntingdon ici à compter de 8 heures p.m. Et le 19 juin, le Huntingdon jouera encore à Beauharnois.

La fiche du Bantam est maintenant d'une victoire contre 4 défaites.

Le midget remonte la pente

Dimanche soir, le Midget de Huntingdon remporta toute une victoire à Beauharnois contre cette formation par le compte de 12 à 9. Raymond Roy fut le lanceur gagnant. A un moment donné, le Huntingdon menait par le compte de 10 à 0.

Et lundi soir, la pluie attendit que la joute soit terminée; le tout permit au Huntingdon de l'emporter par le compte de 6 à 1 sur le Chateauguay Bob "Kicker" Bateman fut le lanceur gagnant. C'était la troisième victoire du Huntingdon.

Ce soir, le Huntingdon jouera à Beauharnois. Samedi, à 17 heures, le Huntingdon jouera à Chateauguay. Dimanche, à 20 heures, le Huntingdon visitera le Ste-Martine. Et le 18 juin, ,le Beauharnois opposera le Huntingdon au terrain local à compter de 20 heures.

Delit de fuite

L'auto de Léo Goneau de St-Antoine-Abbé fut heurté par un autre véhicule qui ne s'arrêta pas. Le tout survint dimanche vers les 2 heures. La SQ de Ste-Martine fait enquête.

Collision de deux autos

Uau coin des routes 3 et 236 à Cazaville, le 8 juin dernier vers les 17:45 heures, deux automobiles entrèrent en collision, ayant comme résultat des dommages assez imposants aux deux véhicules

André Lussier, 52 ans de Valleyfield, conduisait une Cougar '74; cette dernière reçut des dommages de plus de $500.00. L'autre véhicule était conduit par Fernand Hart, 22 ans de St-Anicet; il s'agissait d'une Météor '66 et des dommages de $200 à $500 furent occasionnés à cette auto.. L'agént Richard Guérin, du détachement de Huntingdon de la Sûreté du Québec, fit les constatations d'usage.

Une blessée

Manon Champagne, de Montréal, fut blessée légèrement dimanche le 9 juin vers les 16 heures sur la route 3 à St-Anicet.

Elle était passagère dans l'automobile conduite par Raymond Champagne. La Chrysler '66 de ce dernier reçut également des dommages entre $100 et $200. Manon Champagne fut consuite à l'Hôpital de Huntingdon où elle reçut les premiers soins.

Un autre véhicule était impliqué dans cet accident; il s'agit du Triumph '69 conduit par Viola Grenier Higgins, 46 ans de Huntingdon. Il n'y eut aucun dommage à ce véhicule. Le détachement de Huntingdon de la SQ se rendit sur les lieux pour constater le tout.

Assemblée annuelle du CRD

C'est le 13 juin prochain, à la Polyvalente Armand Racicot, 940, Boulevard Normandie à Saint-Jean que se tiendra l'Assemblée générale annuelle du Conseil Régional de Dévelopement de la Région Sud de Montréal (CRD 6-C).

A l'ordre du jour, on y trouve, entre autres, une refonte des règlements de l'organisme de même que le programme de travail pour l'année 74-75.

Le public en général est invité à assister à cette assemblée.

Réunion annuelle du Volleyball

Tel qu'annoncé dans le dernier bulletin, il me fait plaisir de convier tous ceux qui sont intéressés à la promotion du sport dans la région et en particulier du volleyball, à venir assiter à la réunion annuellle de l'Association de Volleyball du Sud-Ouest.

L'ordre du jour sera, bien sûr, le rapport de chacun des membres de l'exécutif, mais il sera aussi question d'activités importantes comme la ligue d'hiver, les tournois d'été, les championnats régionaux et la promotion du volleyball dans la région.

Donc, c'est une invitation que je lance à tous les intervenants du sport dans la région afin de consolider le travail déja effectué depuis 3 ans par l'A.V.S.O.

Donc, un rendez vous le 12 juin à 7:30 heures p.m. au C.R.L., 48 Avenue Grande-Ile à Valleyfield.

Vol

Un montant de plus de $100 fut volé de la résidence de Jean-Paul Forget, à Ormstown, vendredi dernier. Les cambrioleurs pénétrèrent dans la maison en forçant une porte. La SQ de Ste-Martine enquête actuellement.

La pluie de la partie lors des olympiades

Cette année, les olympiades de l'école polyvalente Arthur Pigeon de Huntingdon devaient être grandioses, mais tel ne fut pas les cas.

Le tout devait débuter le 23 mai dernier, mais la mauvaise température s'objecta carrément. Le lendemain, soit le 24, les olympiades débutèrent mais la mauvaise température vint annuler une majeure partie de l'après-midi. Le tout se termina en diverses tranches les 27 et 29 avril.

Toutefois, même si la température ne fut pas toujours clémente, il faut avouer honnêtement que le spectacle ne fut pas toujours des plus remarquables. Surtout, les préliminaires n'étaient pas intéressantes, car à plusieurs reprises on pouvait remarquer la loi du moindre effort. Les finales étaient plus intéressantes, car les athlètes désireux de remporter donnaient cent pour centt d'eux-mêmes.

Regardons maintenant les résultats des olympiades de 1974:

CHEZ LES GARCONS

Quelle sorte d'élection?

Un commentaire de Cyril Alary

On sait, et ce n'est pas une cachette, que les élections scolaires ne sont pas les plus populaires. Les électeurs se prévalent de leur droit de vote à faible pourcentage. Il y a certes des raisons à cela.

On sait également l'importance d'une liste électorale bien faite. Si certaines anomalies se produisent suite à cette liste électorale supposément bien édifiée au départ, ceci prouve que les élections scolaires sont en somme une farce monumentale, sinon ridicule.

La démocratie souffre d'un grand mal, soit la non-responsabilité de plusieurs personnes. Il semble, selon plusieurs commentaires, que certaines anomalies survinrent durant l'élection scolaire de lundi dernier.

Certains ne demeuraient plus dans le quartier no 2, mais leur nom était inscrit sur la liste électorale... D'autres demeurent dans le quartier 2 depuis plus de dix ans, et ils n'étaient aucunement inscrits sur la liste électorale.

Une personne crut savoir qu'une liste vieille de dix ans fut le point de départ de la fonte de la nouvelle liste. Certaines personnes sont décédés depuis quelque temps, et ils étaient quand même inscrits sur la liste.

Or, sans vouloir prendre partie, mais en bon analyste de situations politiques depuis les trois dernières années, il semble qu'il y eut plusieurs points obscurs lors de la dern ière élection au sein de la Commission Scolaire.

On se dit publiquement en faveur d'élection, mais les moyens d'exécution sont de moindre qualité. Or, selon plusieurs personnes, la liste électorale était de pauvre qualité. Et, certains pourraient le prouver. Ce n'est pas pour contester l'élection, mais en toute bonne démocratie la liste électorale doit être valable. Ce dernier point est selon une constitution de règlements d'élection. Si la liste, n'est pas valable ou récente, cela ne fait pas véritablement une élection bien démocratique, car la représentativité est absente. Aussi, il faut noter le manque d'information des électeurs; plusieurs ne savaient pas qu'ils avaient droit de vote. Le pourcentage le prouve très bien. Ce n'est pas nouveau. Or, les élections scolaire doivent devenir plus sérieuses et plus planifiées sinon on peut dire que toute démocratie est menacée.

Repensons les structures électorale scolaires; mettons cela plus démocratique car, actuellement, le vote ne représente pas la masse, mais seulement une minorité.

Val Séjour un appel

Le Conseil d'Administration de Val Séjour (Centre d'Accueil) invite tous les membres des groupements Socio-Economiques de la région à se prévaloir de leur droit d'accessibilité au sein de leur conseil (Loi 65).

Les membres de ces groupements, intéressés à siéger sur le conseil d'Administration de Val Séjour, sont priés de se procurer les formules de mise en nomination avant le 25 juin 1974 à l'adresse suivante: Val Sejour Inc., 301 rue Jacques Cartier, Valleyfield - 373-0281

Campi ira dans les écoles

Le 14 juin prochain, l'équipe de Campi se rendra visiter les à,800 élèves fréquentant les écoles de la Commission scolaire de Valleyfield. Ainsi, quinze institutions recevront la visite de Campi dont celles de Nitro et de St-Timothée.

Cette visite a pour objectif premier de sensibiliser les professeurs et les étudiants du niveau primaire à la finale provinciale des Jeux du Québec qui se tiendront du 1er au 11 août prochains. Rappelons encore une fois que les Jeux du Québec n'ont pas été créés en fonction de l'élite sportive québecoise mais qu'ils s'adressent à la masse. Tous et chacun peuvent y participer activement et ainsi prendre part à une manifestation de fraternité qui ne laisse personne insensible.

Du 10 au 14 juin, soit quelques jours avant la visite officielle des hôtes et hôtesses de Campi, les élèves seront sensibilisés grâce à la projection du film Mouska 73, à la chanson des Jeux du Québec, à celle intitulée "Ti-Bonhomme Campi" et au moyen de dessins représentant la mascotte et pouvant être coloriés.

Le 14 juin, quarante hôtes et hôtesses échangeront avec les élèves et apporteront des réponses aux nombreuses interrogations suscitées tant par le film projeté que par les Jeux comme tels. Chaque enfant recevra un décalque de Campi et une affiche et un fanion seront distribués dans chacune des classes. Un "Campi" sera même tiré au hasard et remis au gagnant. Finalement, les professeurs recevront un document comportant tous les détails partinents qui pourraient éventuellement intéresser leurs élèves.

Les responsables de cette visite tiennent à remercier particulièrement tous les directeurs d'écoles pour leur collaboration. Campi sera présent dans les écoles le 14 juin et il espère qu'en retour les élèves seront de la fête du 1er au 11 août prochains.

Mercier: Un-meeting orageux

Mercier---- Dimanche matin, les gouverneurs de la Ligue de Baseball Bo-Chato du Sud-Ouest étaient en rencontre spéciale avec l'exécutif. L'assemblée débuta de façon orageuse, et tous les gouverneurs écoutaient attentivement.

L'arbitre en chef de la Ligue, Richard Gledhill, fut le premier à prendre la parole. Il parla d'abord de la condition de certains terrains; on parla du terrain Midget et Bantam de Huntingdon. On demanda au représentant du Huntingdon de voir à ce que le gazon soit coupé, et que les lignes blanches soient faites jusqu'au champ extérieur. On parla également du système d'éclairage qui devrait être amélioré. Ce dernier mentionna qu'une cinquantaine de parties devaient être recédulée d'ici peu; selon lui, certaines joutes auraient dû être jouées.

Le gérant général de la Ligue, Emile Larivière, continua l'orage de plus belle. Il nota qu'il fera le tour des terrains afin de voir à la bonne marche de la ligue; il affirma qu'il se mêlera à la joute lorsqu'il verra des choses peu intéressantes. Il demanda aux gouverneurs de voir à ce que les règlements de la constitution soient respectés en tout temps.

Le jeu dans la catégorie Bantam fut le point des propos du président de la Ligue, Denis Duval. Ce dernier le caractérisa de "loufoque". L'orage toucha toutes les organisations.

Les gouverneurs décidèrent d'engager un étudiant durant l'été afin de faire les statistiques de toutes les catégories de la Ligue; il s'agit de Daniel Pélerin.

Répresentant sur l'éxécutif

Ensuite, l'executif de la Ligue Bo-Chato demanda à chaque organisation de déléguer un membre sur le comité exécutif afin d'assurer le bonne marche de la ligue. Le Huntingdon délégua Cyril Alary; ce dernier est le gérant général de la formation inter-cité de Huntingdon dans la classe Mosquito. Le Valleyfield délégua Jean-Paul Lamadeleine; le Chateauguay, Marcel Bibeau; et le Melocheville sera représenté par Roger Pilon. Des délais furent permis à Ormstown, Chateauguay et Beauharnois. Mercier et Ste-Martine ont déjà un représentant de nomme au sein de l'exécutif.

Un amendement au règlement du couvre-feu, selon la constitution, fut adopté par les gouverneurs. Il s'agit de permettre à une joute de continuer, lors de manches supplémentaires, après 11 heures. Ce règlement s'applique pour les catégories Bantam et Midget.

Deux propositions concernant les joutes "marathon" au sein des catégories Mosquito, PeeWee et Bantam furent rejetées par les gouverneurs de la Ligue. On proposa d'abord pour ces trois catégories que la joute soit arrêtée à la cinquième manche complétée lors d'un déficit de 15 points et plus.

Le Huntingdon, le Ste-Martine et une autre organisation s'objectèrent à ce règlement. Ensuite, le Ste-Martine proposa que ce règlement s'applique pour les catégories Mosquito et PeeWee seulement; le Huntingdon appuya cette proposition, mais le Beauharnois la rejeta. Le Chateauguay s'abstenait de voter.

On nota que la limite des remises de contrats sera le 30 juin pour la classe AA; les gouverneurs approuvèrent cet amendement à la constitution de la Ligue.

Vers la St-Jean

Le comité des Fêtes de la St-Jean Baptiste des Chevaliers de Colomb annonce que les activités auront lieu, cette année, du vendredi soir 21 juin au lundi soir 24 juin. Toutes personnes pouvant aider à l'organisation sont les bienvenues. Laurent Sirois en est le président, et on peut le contacter à 373-7409.

Saindon élu président du SEC

A Longueuil, le 3 mai 1974, lors de l'ouverture du 5e Congrès du Syndicat des Enseignants de Champlain (Rive Sud), eut lieu la proclamation du nouveau président élu.

Paul Saindon, élu par une forte majorité, a recueilli mille cinq cent soixante-neuf (1569) votes.

Sur cinq mille cinq cent (5,500) membres, quatre mille deux cent un (4,201) ont voté au niveau de leur école, soit soixante-dix-huit pour cent (78%).

Fait à noter, d'après la constitution du S.E.C., le président est élu par chaque enseignant dans son école et non par les seuls délégués au Congrès.

Le nouveau président a remercié les enseignants qui lui ont fait confiance, il a félicité son prédécesseur, André Reny, pour son travail et a exprimé à nouveau son désir de diriger un syndicat avec des services adaptés aux besoins des membres.

Il a insisté à nouveau sur la décentralisation des décisions, des budgets et des services.

Enfin, il a formulé à nouveau sa promesse électorale de visiter durant son mandat chaque école des quatre régions (Granby, Longueuil, St-Hyacinthe, Valleyfield) du territoire du Syndicat des Enseignants de Champlain.

Souper d'ouverture du Chalet de Golf

Le souper et la soirée d'ouverture de la saison de golf a été un véritable succès. La participation fut générale si l'on se fie au nombre de billets vendus, soit 205.

Henri Legault, le sympathique et dévoué gérant, s'est surpassé une fois de plus en offrant un succulent repas au roti de boeuf.

A la fin du repas, le président Bernard Hotte souhaita la bienvenue à tous et présenta les responsables à la direction du club pour cette année. M.A. Somerville, président du Comité des membres, a fait la lecture de la liste de tous les nouveaux membres.

La soirée se compléta par un défilé de mode présenté par la Boutique du Pro, Bernard Périard. Le commentateur du défilé était Hector Forbes.

L'équipe responsable de l'organisation de cette première activité de la saison au Club de Golf était dirigée par Gerry Ouimet qui semblait être partout à la fois.

Les décorations étaient une gracieuseté de la maison Eaton.

Association Athlétique de Hemmingford

Samedi, le 18 mai, avait lieu le Marcheton organisé par l'A.A.H. Cette marche s'est avérée un véritable succès avec un temps vraiment idéal. 101 marcheurs ont pris part à cette activité. Les enfants étaient accompagnés de moniteurs: Barbara Hébert, Dorothy Clark, Pat Duteau, Teeny Wallace, Fern Bolduc, Lorraine Fortin, Mary Petch, Gérald Lussier, Leslie Lussier et Jackie Lussier.

Le trajet fut quelque peu modifié à cause du terrain détrempé en bordure de la voie ferrée. Cependant tous, à l'exception de 2 jeunes, marchèrent leurs 6 milles comme prévu. Les commerçants de la localité, soit Henri Paré, Aimé Tremblay, Léonard Priest, Gérald Smith, Barr Bros., Marché Dauphinais, Andy Latour et Edwin Keddy, commanditaient les différents arrêts tout au long du parcours. Sincères remerciements à ces derniers pour leur généreux encouragement. Un grand merci s'adresse également à Mme Rose Henriksen qui accueillit gentiment cette bande de gais lurons qui profitèrent de l'hospitalité de sa maison. Mme Henriksen, aidée de M.J. Laurin, servit à tout ce petit monde des rafraîchissements, ce qui leur permit de reprendre allègrement la route.

M. Leslie Keddy au volant d'un camion du Service d'Incendie ainsi que plusieurs membres de différentes associations circulaient dans leurs voitures afin de patrouiller. Occupant différents postes se trouvaient Nellie Loughren, Susie Fryer, Georgette Laberge, Claudette Gatien, Carmen Laurie, Darlene Laurin, Hazel Brown, Susan Blair, M. Brousseau, Carol Petch, Erna Somerville et Jean Merlin.

Au terme du parcours, à Barrington, les enfants se régalèrent de crème glacée, gracieuseté de M. Aldred Smith. Puis ils furent ramenés à domicile en auto par des bénévoles dont Gérald Lussier, Clifford Greer et quelques autres. M. Albert Moore les accueillit à la manufacture de cadenas à Hemmingford où des rafraîchissements leur furent servis et où chacun reçut un cadenas en souvenir du Marcheton '74.

L'A.A.H. ainsi que les jeunes qui bénéficieront des sports d'été sont grandement reconnaissants à tous ceux qui ont contribué au succès de ce Marcheton, spécialement aux commanditaires qui ont fourni la somme appréciable de $1,800.

Porte-Feuille volé

Un des exposants se fit voler son porte-feuille lorsqu'il était dans l'aréna pour participer à une compétition. Le porte-feuille était dans un bâtiment, et contenait un montant de $50 et plusieurs papiers personnels. La SQ de Ste-Martine fait enquête actuellement.

Décès

COUTON— A l'hôpital Barrie Memorial, Ormstown, Québec, jeudi, le 6 juin 1974, est décédé Michel Couton, âgé de 59 ans, époux de Lilian Hubin, père de Lionel. Les funérailles ont eu lieu du Salon Funéraire J. M. Sharpe, Franklin Centre à la Paroisse St-Antoine, samedi, le 8 juin à 9h00 et de là au Crématoire Mt. Royal.

Conseil de Franklin

Le conseil municipal de Franklin décida d'accepter la soumission de M. Perreault et Huet pour refaire en ciment le trottoir déjà existant à partir de Roger Daoust à Marcel Chartrand. Le tout est d'une longueur d'environ 830 pieds.

Il fut proposé de donner avis à l'inspecteur agraire, A. Brault, de faire nettoyer le fossé qui passe entre V. Laberge et Denis Frappier sur une longueur de 200 pieds. Le tout fut accepté.

On demanda au Ministère de la Voirie d'étendre une épaisseur de deux pouces d'alsphalte sur la route 14, en face de Lussier et Frères, afin d'empêcher l'eau de rester sur le chemin.

Le conseil de Franklin ne s'objecta aucunement au projet de René Rémillard qui veut opérer un terrain de camping sur sa terre. Mais le tout doit être propre.

Finale du concours Chrysler

Quarante-quatre des meilleurs élèves en mécanique automobile du Canada mettront leur compétence à l'épreuve contre la montre aux finales nationales du concours de dépannage Chrysler 1974. Ces assises se tiendront les 17, 18 et 19 juin, au Varsity Stadium, à Toronto.

Les équipes formées de 2 étudiants représentent les écoles secondaires et technique des quatre coins du pays. Ils se sont mérités ce voyage à Toronto, dont Chrysler Canada assume les frais, et le droit de prendre part à ces finales en remportants la palme aux concours régionaux qui se sont déroulés plut tôt dans les principales villes canadiennes. Plus de 300 écoles furent représentées.

Gaston Sauvé, 17 ans et Christian Beauchamp, 18 ans de l'école Polyvalente St. François, Valleyfield, Québec et Gilles Bossé, 19 ans et Guy Tremblay, 19 ans de l'école Polyvalente Gérard-Fillion, Longueuil, Québec représenteront la région du Grand Montréal aux finales. Deux épreuves ont été nécessaires vu le grand nombre de participants au concours de Montréal.

Les finalistes se partageront des bourses d'études de $2,500, $2,000 et $1,500 ainsi que des trophées et d'autres prix.

Des boîtes à outils contenant un jeu complet d'outils neufs seront présentées à chaque équipe participante. Ces outils serviront durant le concours et demeureront la propriété de l'école représentée, en guise de récompense.

Chaque participant recevra une montre et d'autres récompenses personnelles.

Le Concours de dépannage Chrysler qui entre dans sa quatrième année est commandité par Chrysler Canada Ltée. et par les concessionnaires Dodge.

Il devrait y avoir une bouée de sauvetage à la piscine ou sur le quai. Apprenez à la lancer et pratiquez.

Antique show success fills Hemmingford trio with glee

The three Hemmingford women who rented the Montreal Forum for an antique show Friday, Saturday and Sunday were in a state of delight this week over its success and are laying plans for a repeat performance next year.

"It was most successful," said Kathy Cook who with Audrey Seale and Erna Somerville, put on the show and sale which drew a crowd estimated at 5,000.

"Not only were the people there, including visitors from all over the United States, but they were buying," said Mrs. Cook.

Involved were 64 antique dealers and all of them, reported Mrs. Cook, said business was brisk.

"And no wonder," she added. "The dealers all brought prime antiques."

She spoke of one dealer, Ruth Stalker of Montreal, who sold out her booth twice and another dealer, Westover House from Aylmer, Ont., who chalked up sales of more than $7,000 at the event.

"The show was so successful that we immediately took up with the Forum the question of dates for next year to stage a 1975 edition," said Mrs. Cook. "We'd like to make this an annual thing."

New bride given welcoming shower

Relatives and Brooklet neighbours met at the George Erskine home on the evening of May 20, to welcome a new bride, Mrs. Gerald McCormick (nee Kay Karn) of Woodstock, Ont.

Upon her arrival, the bride was presented by Beverly Erskine, with a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Introductions to the 25 guests were made as she was escorted by Susan Erskine to a gaily decorated seat of honor. The living room was decorated in pink and white streamers and bells.

Games were played while punch was served. The lucky winners received prizes.

Mrs. Francis McCormick, the groom's mother, and Mrs. Marguerite Nelson, the groom's sister, assisted the bride in opening the many gaily wrapped parcels.

A serve-yourself buffet followed, prepared by the hostess, Mrs. Edna Erskine and neighbors, Jean Gomery and Lillith Rennie.

The bride served the shower cake, giving her an opportunity to become better acquainted with her new friends and neighbors.

Cars crash

A two car collision occurred in Ormstown, at the intersection of Route 14 and the Upper Concession, on Saturday June 8, shortly after midnight.

Involved were cars driven by Raymond Lafleche of Valleyfield and Normand Maheu of Ormstown. Minor damages were sustained by both vehicles.

Music and song at family party

The Orrs in the Aubrey-Riverfield district enjoy an old-fashioned family party and on Saturday night, June 1, they were joined by the McDonoughs of Clarenceville, to celebrate the 25th wedding anniversary of Erskin and Ardell Orr of Montreal North.

The party was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Eric Orr and family who live on the family farm near Riverfield, home of the twin sons of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Orr.

More than 40 guests had a grand visit and there was music too. Uncle Everett and Aunt Lois Orr entertained with violin and piano selections, and Berta Orr sang. Donald Greenway, an usher at the wedding, played the piano and sang.

An anniversary cake centered the table for 14 where Erskine and Ardell were seated along with other members of the wedding party. Sandwiches, ice cream and cake were served by the host family and McDonough relatives.

A gift of money and a china tea set were family gifts. Other gifts of a large sandwich plate and cake plate were in china with the same 25th anniversary design as the tea set.

Among those present were the Orr children, Linda and her husband (Bernie Cornell), Kathy, Joanne and Kent; Ardell's mother, Mrs. McDonough and other relatives from Clarenceville; Erskine's aunts, Mrs. Christina Armour and Mrs. Olive Dagg from Ottawa. The happy couple were dinner guests of their children on the actual date.

Historic sites visited

Ten members of the Sir John Johnson Centennial Branch U.E.L. of Stan bridge East on June 2 attended the Third Commemorative Lay Service of St.Stephen's Church, Chambly. Those attending from this Branch were the president, Mr. Donald MacCallum and Mrs. MacCallum, Noyan, and the 1st vice-president Mrs. Laurence Fuller and Mrs. Bradford, Westmount, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Mason, Mrs. H. Mahannah, Cowansville, Mrs. George Tremblay, Stanbridge East and Bernard Derick and Norman Simpson. Noyan.

After the Lay Service was concluded, Mr. Feast, chairman of St. Stephen's Historical Committee, introduced guest speakers, R.A.J. Phillips, who is Executive Director of Heritage Canada and John King, curator, Chateau de Ramezay. Phillips spoke on Heritage Canada - and what it means, and King spoke on Sir John Johnson, which was most interesting to the members of this Branch. Mr. King gave the whole life history of Sir John, from the time Sir William Johnson, Sir John's father came over from Ireland to take charge of his uncle's (Sir Peter Warren) vast estates in the Mohawk Valley, until Sir John's death in Montreal and his burial at Mount Johnson Que.

At the conclusion of the service, retresnments were served by the Anglican Church Women of St. Stephen's Church. After this pleasant social gathering, a walking tour, led by E.S. Cowen, Warden, of the historic old residences along the Richelieu was made to the De Salaberry Manor House. Although De Salaberry was the victorious leader at the Battle of Chateauguay, his wife came from Chambly and that was where they lived. Returning by the opposite side of the street, the group visited the immense three-story stone mansion of the Cowens with six fireplaces, built in the Georgian style about 1812. Mr. and Mrs. Cowen bought the house in 1946 and have been restoring it ever since.

From there some went to visit the Fort and others visited the cemetery.

Walk-a-thon nets $1,800 for sports

The recent Hemmingford Athletic Association sponsored walk-a-thon which drew 101 child participants for a six-mile trek was a resounding success and raised more than $1,800 for the association's activities. To date $1,615 has been realized with approximately $250 still outstanding.

All but two of the sponsored managed to complete the May 18 course with their chaperones, Barbara Hebert, Dorothy Clark, Pat Duteau, Teeny Wallace, Fern Bolduc, Lorraine Fortin, Mary Petch, Gerald Lussier, Leslie Lussier, and Jackie Lussier.

The walk started from the Elementary school and various check-points along the route were sponsored by local business-men, who also contributed to the cause. They were Henri Paré, Aimé Tremblay, Leonard Priest, Gerald Smith, Barr Bros., Dauphinais Market, Andy Latour, and Edwin Keddy.

A much needed service, which was lacking last year, was that of wash-room facilities. This was provided at the home of Rose Henriksen, where the children were also served softdrinks by Rose and M.J. Laurin.

Patrol

The route was patrolled by the "Metro" fire department truck, with Leslie Keddy at the wheel, and also by several other Association members in their cars. Manny various posts were Nellie Loughren, Susie Fryer, Georgette Laberge, Claudette Gatien, Carman Laurie, Darlene Laurin, Hazel Brown, Susan Blair, Mr. Brousseau, Carol Petch, Erna Somerville and Jean Merlin.

At the finish-line in Barrington, the children were treated to icecream, donated by Aldred Smith, and were then transported back to Hemmingford by Gerald Lussier, Clifford Greer and othrs. Upon their return, refreshments were offered, and a highlight for each child, was being presented with a combination lock by Albert Moore at the Lock Factory.

The Athletic Association and indeed, all the young people who will benefit from the summer sports program, are sincerely indebted to so many. Thanks go to both schools; principals and staff for their co-operation and patience, to all those who assisted in any way, to private donors, and most of all to the community for sponsoring the children to the tune of over $1,800. To date $1,615 has been realized, with approximately $250 still outstanding.

The Summer Program will again be handled by Mr. Brousseau, assisted by Miss Carol Warner.

Hinchinbrooke man wed in Woodstock

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald F. McCormick

St. Rita's Roman Catholic church in Woodstock, Ont was the setting for the April 20 wedding of Kathryn Margaret Karn and Gerald Francis McCormick. Father Roach performed the double ring ceremony with Dr. Webb as organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Russell Karn of Woodstock and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis D. McCormick of Hinchinbrooke.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Charles Halsey, of Toronto; the bride chose a white polyester satin gown trimmed with lace at neck, front and hem. Her matching train extended from the waist. The wedding ring headpiece held in place her net veil trimmed with lace. She carried a cascade of red sweetheart roses, white carnations and babysbreath.

Patricia Totten, Wookstock, was matron of honor for her sister with Joanne Karn and Marguerite Nelson as bridesmaids. They wore ivy green floral gowns on white background in polyester double knit with green shoes, large white lace hats and white gloves. They carried yellow daisies with matching ribbons.

Best Man

James McCormick of Albany, N.Y. was best man for his brother with Dale Totten, Woodstock and Michael Nelson, Malone, N.Y. as ushers.

Mrs. Karn, mother of the bride, was attired in a blue polyester gown with matching jacket and a corsage of orange token roses.

Mrs. McCormick, mother of the groom, wore an egg shell colored gown with fortrel and a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at St. Mary's Hall for relatives and friends.

For a honeymoon to New Orleans the bride chose a beige suit, red accessories and a corsage of red sweetheart roses.

The couple will reside at Hinchinbrooke.

Prior to the wedding the bride was honored at prenuptial events given by: Mrs. Glenn Clark; Patricia Totten, Joanne Karn and Marguerite Nelson. A miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Erskine with Mrs. Erskine, Miss Susan Erskine, and Mrs. Stanley Erskine as hostesses.

Guests attending the wedding from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Ed McCormick, Chateaugay, N.Y. Mr. and Mrs. George Erskine, Kenny and Susan; Hinchinbrooke, Miss Yvonne Dupuis, Valleyfield, James McCormick, Albany, N.Y. Mr. and Mrs. Michael Nelson, Malone, N.Y. Mr. and Mrs. Francis McCormick, Hinchinbrooke.

O'Connor - Messier

Yukon bishop officiates as Loyola graduates wed

An impressive marriage ceremony took place May 4, in Loyola Chapel, Montreal, when Marguerite Virginia, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Messier of Granby became the bride of Patrick Earl, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter O'Connor of Huntingdon.

Bishop Hubert O'Connor, O.M.I., of Whitehorse, Yukon, uncle of the groom, officiated at the double-ring ceremony, assisted by Rev. Harold O'Connor, O.M.I., uncle of the groom.

James Dunn sang during mass and the signing of the register. Miss Bertha Dorval accompanied him at the organ. Kevin and Steven O'Connor, brothers of the groom were altar boys. Mr. Messier, the bride's father and David Brisebois, cousin of the groom, read the Epistles.

MR. AND MRS. PATRICK O'CONNOR

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was in a gown of candlelight satin with a lace bodice, long sleeves and the skirt falling into a chapel-length train. Her veil of tulle-illusion was held in place by a floral headdress and she carried a bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath.

Miss Claire Messier, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, was in a frock of emerald green. She wore a matching colored picture hat and carried a bouquet of yellow daisies and baby's breath.

Misses Karen and Alice Messier, sisters of the bride and Miss Joanne O'Connor, sister of the groom, as attendants, wore frocks of floral poult de satin on an ivory background, and carried bouquets of yellow daisies and baby's breath.

Miss Doreen Walsh, cousin of the groom, was flower girl and Master Dennis O'Connor, brother of the groom was ring-bearer.

Ronald O'Connor acted as best man for his brother and the ushers were Donald, Timmy and Gerald O'Connor, brothers of the groom.

Mrs. Messier, the bride's mother, was gowned in pink floral chiffon and wore a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. O'Connor, the groom's mother, was in a gown of powder blue and wore a corsage of yellow roses.

The reception was held in the Campus Centre at Loyola College. A four-tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table. Yellow daisies and green carnations were used to decorate the hall. Later, the bride and groom left for the Bahamas. They will reside in Montreal. Both are recent graduates of Loyola College.

Out-of-town guests were from Whitehorse, Yukon, Tofino, B.C., Williams Lake, B.C., Ottawa, Gatineau, St. Jean, Lacolle, Ormstown and Saranac Lake, N.Y.

Hemmingford's lady pastor endears herself to Rotary

The Rev. Joanne Barr, one of 95 women ministers of the United Church of Canada, addressed a recent supper meeting of Huntingdon Rotarians, outlined her career leading up to her induction in Hemmingford last November, and endeared herself to all her listeners.

Guests included Father Marcel Gareau, the Rev. Clair MacLeod, the Rev. KenMcLaughlin and his assistant Miss Pamela Wilson, Rotary-Ann Grace Cappiello and Martin Beattie.

"I enjoy life and I enjoy people," Miss Barr told the group. "I especially enjoy serving people and to date I haven't heard of adverse comment because I'm a woman minister."

Her road to the ministry and her charge in Hemmingford wasn't an easy one. Invited to address the local service club by Rotarian Alister Somerville, the charming and vicacious young blonde told of the five summers she spent from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts in mission fields prior to being ordained at the age of 26.

REV. JOANNE BARR

First task

Her first assignment by the United Church Settlement Committee was in Montreal. Born and raised in St. Lambert, she elected to live near her work so instead of living with her parents she rented an apartment on St. Dominic St., one block east of the Main. She was engaged in urban renewal projects and as those who know that part of Old Montreal will appreciate, she met all types of people.

She spent the next summer at Petitcodiac, 15 miles north of the Bay of Fundy, in New Brunswick. Her assignment was pastoral work. As a student minister she did everything expected from an ordained minister except administer Sacrament. She served three churches that summer.

Miss Barr requested a posting to the West Coast the next summer and she was assigned to Vancouver to work with a Jamaican. Their object was to set up a first aid centre for aged men. They leased an old building in the heart of the city, washed the ceilings and floors by hand and had the project operating within two months, after which the city took over the project. She then worked with members of a deaf community for a period of weeks, learning sign language from deaf mutes, after which she presented a brief to the Western Institute for the Deaf.

The following summer saw her off the east coast again, at Grand Manan. "This is called the Bermuda of the Maritimes" she explained. "I drove from Montreal to St. John and when I arrived I was told the ferry wasn't running. I had to leave my car and clothes and almost everything I had brought for the summer on the mainland because I was offered a trip over in a lobster boat if I hurried.

Sermon Cancelled

"After the ferry trip I went to my boarding house where I had a room on the third floor of a wooden clapboard home. Next day, while I was at the church hall, the house burned. I lost what I had brought with me in the lobster boat and the rest of my belongings were in my car 15 miles across the bay.

"That was a Saturday and the next day, Sunday, I was supposed to give a sermon. I had to cancel the service because all I had to wear was an old swamp coat and what I was wearing the day before, hot pants. Somebody told me the latter were too hot for the island."

Miss Barr said the population of Grand Manan was 2300 and there were 23 Churches. "My congregation consisted of 12 communicants," she observed.

"From there I went to St. Stephen and worked at a day care centre after which I went to Bermuda and served two colored congregations for six weeks. It was a drastic change in one respect: In Canada it's like pulling teeth to get a congregation to sing out, but there the people loved to sing."

Her next charge was seven-point, meaning it consisted of seven churches, in Prince Edward Island. "Beautiful country and wonderful people."

Before accepting her position in Hemmingford, Miss Barr supplied for six months at Lachute United Church.

Rotarian Cecil Brown thanked the speaker.

Aside to a Gleaner representative following the meeting, The Rev. Ken McLaughlin said that Dominion Douglas in Montreal, one of Canada's largest United Congregations, had accepted a woman minister within the past few days.

U.C.W. fashion show enjoyed

Huntingdon United Church Women recently held a successful spring luncheon and fashion show.

Mrs. Douglas Moore and Mrs. Martha Currie greeted guests at the door on behalf of the Boyd Settlement and Dewittville Units who had prepared a ham and salad buffet, as well as a dessert table.

Tables were decorated with paper flower arrangements. On stage, baskets of huge paper roses drew attention to the display of handwork. Ruth Stark's crocehted cape, Dorothy Stewart's crocheted table cloth and afghan, Evelyn McLaughlin's stole and afghan.

As the second cups of coffee were being enjoyed, Margaret Gill described the clothes being modelled around the room. These had been made during the long bleak weeks of winter. Long gowns in prints and plain fabrics were worn by Florence Reid, Frances Rennie, Margaret Gill and Margaret McCoy. Edith Thompson amd Mary Dobrik had made elegant long skirts and matching tops.

A great variety of mix and match pantsuits and skirts were modelled by Elizabeth MacNaughton, Christina Tannahill, Marjorie Moore, Nova Rogers and Eunice Wallace.

Arline McIntosh put on a white hat trimmed with the material of the dress she was wearing to create a unique ensemble. Other attractive afternoon dresses were shown by Gwen MacGregor, Margaret McCoy and Frances Rennie.

Children's clothes were not forgotten. Mavis Crawford with her little nephew Christopher, Shirley MacNaughton with Jennifer, teenagers Dawn MacGregor and Valerie Greaham, Jean and Susanne Brown in matching mother and daughter night attire all pleased the audience.

Convener Gwen MacGregor, and her committee, and all those who contributed are to be congratulated for such an inspiring and pleasant event.

Golden Agers will remember fathers

On Wednesday, June 12, the Huntingdon Senior Citizens' Club will meet at the Parochial Hall for the last regular session before the summer recess.

Father's Day being celebrated the following Sunday, all fathers will be specially remembered on that day and all members having a birthday in June, July or August, will also be honored.

All members are asked to be present and a cordial invitation is extended to all prospective members, French or English-speaking.
