NEW SUSTAINED LONG DISTANCE FLIGHT RECORD

Coaticook Man Drowned—Reply To Britain's Note Is Received

'Columbia' Broke Propeller In Forced Landing Seventy Miles Southeast Of Berlin

Clarence D. Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine, Who Flew From New York to Germany, Will Spend Day and Night at Kottbus, and Will Be Escorted to Berlin Tomorrow—Flight Had Previously Been Broken at Eisleben, Saxony, About 110 Miles Southwest of Berlin, at Five O'Clock This Morning, When "Columbia" After Forty-Two Hours of Continuous Progress from Long Island Was Forced to Descend Owing to Shortage of Fuel—Covered Approximately 3,800 Miles as Compared With Captain Lindbergh's New York-Paris Flight of 3,610 Miles.

(Associated Press Despatch)
BERLIN, June 6.—Clarence D. Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine, who flew from New York to Germany, will spend the day and night at Kottbus, and will be brought to Berlin tomorrow afternoon. The trans-Atlantic aviators made a forced landing in their Bellanca-designed monoplane, the "Columbia," at Klinge, a small village near Kottbus, shortly before noon today. While here they will stay at the United States embassy.

The propeller of the plane was broken in the forced landing, but neither of the aviators suffered any injury.

CROWDS WAITED AT BERLIN TO WELCOME AVIATORS

The "Columbia" was located by one of the Lufthansa scouting planes from Tempelhof field, Berlin, at the moment Chamberlin was making his forced landing in the marshy meadow, about seventy miles southeast of Berlin.

On the receipt of the news of the landing, the bands stopped playing at the Tempelhof airfield and the great crowds waiting there were advised to disperse.

"COLUMBIA" HAD COVERED APPROXIMATELY 3,800 MILES

The flight had previously been broken at Eisleben, Saxony, about 110 miles southwest of Berlin, at five o'clock this morning, when the "Columbia" after forty-two hours of continuous progress from Roosevelt Field, Long Island, was forced to descend by shortage of fuel. Resuming the flight at 9:35, Chamberlin passed over Magdeburg in the direction of Berlin at 10:10, but apparently miscalculated the direction and swung slightly to the southeast instead of the northeast. While coming short of its goal, the "Columbia" in reaching Eisleben set a new record for long distance sustained flight, covering approximately 3,800 miles, as compared with Captain Charles A. Lindbergh's New York to Paris hop of 3,610 miles. Captain Lindbergh, however, was unaccompanied in his flight.

SWOOPED DOWN CLOSE TO GROUND TO ASK DIRECTIONS

The Columbia was first sighted and identified over German soil when Chamberlin flew over Dortmund, 260 miles from Berlin, swooping close shouting: "To Berlin? To Berlin?"

That was at four o'clock this morning. Then came conflicting reports. Aeroplanes sent from Berlin's air field, Tempelhof, to welcome and escort the plane, returned without finding it. The welcoming committee gave up its vigil and went home, believing Chamberlin had been forced down at some isolated point.

Then came the news of the landing at Eisleben. United States ambassador Schurzmann went home, dressed in warm clothing and a golf cap and prepared to fly to Eisleben. Meanwhile, however, it was learned that the "Columbia" had again taken the air. Then followed her sighting over Magdeburg and the forced landing at Klinge with the damaged propeller putting immediate resumption of the flight out of the question.

A Mysterious Flight From the Start

It was a mysterious flight from the start, for when the "Columbia" hopped off from Roosevelt Field, Chamberlin and Levine kept their destination secret. The possibility was reported of their swinging southeastward over Europe to Rome, or at any rate of continuing as far as their gasoline would carry them. Their fuel supply was believed to be sufficient for a forty-eight hour flight under normal conditions.

When it became definitely known that the "Columbia" intended landing place was the Tempelhof field a crowd began gathering there.

Early in the morning the brass band of the Lufthansa (German Air League) appeared and got ready for action, amid an outburst of enthusiasm from the watchers. Telegrams for Chamberlin and Levine began arriving at the field.

Two Fliers Will Go on to Berlin Tomorrow

At the direction of the Lufthansa, a keg of Pilsener beer was put on ice to welcome Chamberlin with a glass of foaming brew when he should arrive, in accordance with the wish attributed to him in New York.

It was shortly after noon when officials announced to the waiting crowds at the air field that the Columbia would not arrive, as it had suffered a propeller break seventy miles southeast of Berlin and could proceed no further.

Chamberlin and Levine will be brought to Berlin tomorrow on one of the Lufthansa's passenger planes.

FRANCE ADOPTS ENGLISH WORD "STOP"

PARIS, June 6.—The English word "stop" has crept into the French language by way of motoring, much to the disgust of one irate Frenchman, who says he will refuse to obey the injunction whatever the consequences. Many car-owners have adopted stop-lights, or bought them before the French article was put on the market. The word "stop" is as often flashed in red light on the back of French cars as is the French equivalent, "halte."

LIKELY TO HAVE OBSERVERS AT CONFERENCE

Presence of Italy and France Would Make British Participation in Sessions Heartier and More Confident.

(Associated Press Despatch)
GENEVA, June 6.—The likelihood that both France and Italy will send observers or other representatives to the forthcoming tripartite naval conference is regarded in Geneva as of the greatest importance.

The presence of representatives of the two countries which participated with Great Britain, the United States and Japan in the Washington conference is felt to increase the chances of success of the parley.

In political circles it is thought that the presence of France and Italy would make British participation in the sessions heartier and more confident, and that it might even pave the way for later participation in the projected agreements.

WELL-KNOWN LUMBERMAN DEAD

(Canadian Press Despatch)
RENFREW, Ont., June 6.—Allan Francis, internationally-known lumberman and reputed millionaire, died at his home here yesterday, aged 70. As a hobby, Mr. Francis owned some of the finest trotting horses and show horses in the country. Mrs. B. Morris, a daughter, lives in Western Ontario. Mrs. J. Anderson, of Toronto, is a sister.

Cobham, Great Britain's famous long distance aviator, was most enthusiastic upon hearing the news of the successful flight of the Bellanca plane Columbia from New York to Germany.

"A wonderful flight," he exclaimed. "Not only is it that because of the great distance flown, but by reason of the fact that for the first time a passenger has been piloted across the Atlantic seated in a cabin and not in a cockpit."

Chamberlin and Levine travelled slower than Captain Lindbergh but their flight was 180 miles longer than that of the trans-Atlantic trail

YOUNG MAGOG LAD DIES FROM HIS INJURIES

Jumped Off Wagon in Front of Auto—Died on Way to Local Hospital.

MAGOG, Que., June 6.—M. Fournier, fifteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Fournier, of this place, was fatally injured on Saturday morning shortly after eleven o'clock, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Mr. C. H. Dingman, of Orford Lake.

According to accounts received it appears that the young lad was running in a rig with his brother, and as they were nearing the town limit on the road to Eastman, the boy jumped out of the wagon without taking precautions to see if a car was coming, and was struck down by Mr. Dingman's car, which was following the wagon, in spite of all attempts of the driver to avoid the young chap. Dr. E. Cabana was called and he at once advised his instant removal to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, McKenna's ambulance was called, but shortly before arriving in Sherbrooke young Fournier passed away. Dr. J. A. Boucher, coroner of the district, was notified and it is understood that an inquest will be held here this afternoon.

MOTOR TROUBLE AND A SHORTAGE OF GASOLINE CAUSED TROUBLE.

(Associated Press Despatch)
KOTTBUS, Germany, June 6.—Motor trouble and a shortage of gasoline, caused the descent of the American trans-Atlantic plane Columbia, said Clarence D. Chamberlin, arriving here by motor this afternoon from Klinge, where the Columbia is embedded in mud where it landed.

MEN WHO BROKE JAIL ARE STILL AT LARGE TODAY

Determined Search Is Being Made at Arthabaska to Locate Joseph Lalonde and Eugene Biron, Who Escaped on Saturday Morning—Changed Their Jail Clothes and Left Them Behind School.

(Special to the Record)
ARTHABASKA, June 6.—So far efforts to locate Joseph Lalonde and Eugene Biron, who made a daring and successful escape from the Arthabaska jail early Saturday morning, after having struck Jailer Houle over the head with a stick, leaving him unconscious on the jail floor, had been unsuccessful.

During the week-end a thorough search was made by the police of Arthabaska, assisted by the authorities from Quebec and Victoriaville. Detective Vincent, of the Provincial Detective Department, Montreal, was brought into the chase and arrived here during the week-end.

The search revealed the clothing worn by the two men while inmates in the jail. It appears that the two prisoners broke a chair and, taking one of the rungs, struck Jailer Houle over the head with it. The jailer, who was about fifty-five years of age, fell to the floor unconscious. He was then relieved of two of his keys and the two men made their way to a cupboard from which they took their personal clothing.

It is presumed that after safely getting out of the jail they hurried to a spot behind the Brothers' School where they changed their jail clothing for their present attire. The jail clothes were later found wrapped up in a bundle. The search is still being kept up, but as yet has not brought forth any success.

The injury sustained by Jailer Houle, when he was struck over the head by one of the men, is fortunately not of a serious nature, although the cut on his forehead is very deep.

Egyptian Government's Reply To British Government's Note On Subject Of Egyptian Army Was Received In London On Saturday

Note, Which Is Understood to Be Conciliatory in Tone, Was Received at Foreign Office Before Sir Austen Chamberlain Left for Continent—As It Did Not Delay His Departure, It Is Assumed that It Demands No Urgent Consideration by British Cabinet—Uncertain Whether King Faud, of Egypt, Will Carry Out Proposed State Visit to England Next Month.

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, June 6.—The Egyptian Government's reply to the British Government's note on the subject of the Egyptian Army was received in London Saturday. The note, which is understood to be conciliatory in tone, was received at the Foreign Office before Sir Austen Chamberlain left for the Continent, and as it did not delay his departure, it is assumed that it demands no urgent consideration by the British cabinet.

The Egyptians now assert that the sudden friction between their country and Britain, which produced the British note and caused the dispatch of three battalions, was partly blameable to a tactics

A YOUNG GIRL IS ATTACKED BY MOTORIST

Episode at Ayer's Cliff Causes Indignation in Community—Fellow Escapes—Girl's Brother, Who Was Near, Failed to Get Car Number.

(Special to the Record)
AYER'S CLIFF, June 6. — An episode which occurred here on Saturday evening has caused great indignation in this community. As Miss Grace Wilder, age 17 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wilder, and her young brother, about ten years of age, were returning home from a grocery store, they were accosted by a young man who drew up beside them in a motor car. He inquired the way to Massawippi Station. He then asked them to accompany him and show him the way.

While the boy ran to leave the parcels at his home the fellow seized the girl to pull her into the car at the same time starting the machine. She fought to free herself and finally succeeded in breaking away, falling to the roadside.

The young ruffian drove a short distance along the road, then turned and came back without stopping, and disappeared down the road. The young boy failed to get his car number or any very clear description of party.

Miss Wilder was taken to the home of Mr. Goodrow, and it was found that she had suffered considerable shock from the fall. Dr. Brown was summoned and is attending her.

The absence of definite description has made it difficult to locate the assailant.

COATICOOK MAN WAS KILLED IN AUTO MISHAP

John Leo Lafond, Twenty Years of Age, Employed at Rumford, Was on Way Home When Car Plunged Through Fence and Fell into Lake Gorette, Dixville Notch, N. H. — Body Brought to Coaticook.

(Special to the Record)
COATICOOK, June 6.—Falling to observe a sign on the road where repairs were being made cost John Leo Lafond, twenty years of age, lost his life on Saturday, when his car plunged over an embankment into Lake Gorette, Dixville Notch, N.H.

The unfortunate young man, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lafond, of this place, was on his way home to spend the week-end with his parents having come from Rumford, Me., where he was employed.

Although familiar with the road the young man failed to notice that repairs were being made near Lake Gorette and did not turn off to the temporary road which had been opened up, while the main road was under repairs. The results was that the car plunged through the fence and fell into the water in connection with the work and over a deep embankment into the water below.

The body was later recovered and an inquest held at which a verdict of accidental death was returned. The body was brought here to the residence of Mrs. J. M. Gendreau, aunt of the young man, and the funeral will be held tomorrow from the Church of St. John the Evangelist.

The deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. Walter Lafond, of St. Edwidge, and three sisters, Mrs. Ploquin, of Barre, Vt., Mrs. Joseph Beaudin, of Coaticook, and Mrs. Oscar Beaudin, of Rock Island.

The menu card at each place read so that each item reminding the diners of some special "piece de resistance" which was provided for Tommy Atkins in the Boer War, when the quantity, quality and variety of the food was limited by a very slow and dependable mode of transport, and had to be unspoilable and easily handled.

It consisted of Armours canned beef in fourteen pound tins, a heavy biscuit, in weight, texture and taste not to be distinguished from Spratts dog biscuit, and a very infrequent ration of dried compressed vegetables, which even the mules refused to eat, for desert tin ned Apricot jam.

Frequently, owing to the shortage of water, a ration of dry flour, tea or coffee would be handed out, and the ingenuity of the troops was tested to the utmost to devise some means whereby it could be transformed into edible or potable form.

The actual menu was excellent, and was heartily enjoyed, and when coffee was served, the service men settled down to an evening of reminiscence, first toasting "the King" in due and time hallowed form.

The chairman, Private Francis No. 21, Volunteer service Co. 1 King's Liverpool Regt., called on each companion in turn and in their remarks the whole epic of the South African War was unrolled piece by piece, the speakers ranging from Green Point under the shadow

IVES HILL 'Y' ANNUAL MEET WELL ATTENDED

President's Report Read—Financial Condition Excellent—Personals and Other Interesting Newsy Items from Ives Hill and District.

IVES HILL, Que., June 6.—The annual meeting of the Ives Hill "Y" was held in the school house on the evening of May 23rd, a fairly good attendance being present. The evening was taken up with a business meeting, followed by a short social time and games, after which refreshments were served.

The president wishes to submit the following report for the past year, also to thank all officers, members and friends who helped so well and ably to carry on the work of the society.

The membership during the past year was forty-nine, which placed the local society as first in the county, thus entitling members to the prize banner for the second year in succession. Twelve business meetings and nine social meetings were held during the year. The business meetings were usually followed by games or lantern slides and refreshments.

The social meetings consisted of three illustrated lectures, one on "Poultry Raising," by Mr. Lang, of the Experimental Farm, Lennoxville; another on the book, "Ten Nights in a Barroom," by Mr. Shaw, and the third, "The History and Making of the Bible," by Mr. Fresque, of Compton.

Two other of our social gatherings were a house-warming for a newly-married couple, the bride being a member of our society, and a shower in honor of another of our young lady members. The other social evenings consisted of an ice cream social, an oyster supper, a poetry social and a sugar social. These were all well attended and the proceeds good.

Sixteen Christmas boxes were packed and sent to the sick shut-ins and children of poor families, besides which twenty-six boxes and flowers were sent to the sick throughout the year.

The sum of $10 was given to the sick and needy; $6.42 to temperance work; $4.50 for prizes to the two schools and $10 towards an organ for one of the schools. Fifteen books have been added to the library during the winter.

On May 1st, 1926, the society had $30.33 in the treasury, $124.50 was taken in during the last year and $129.87 was paid out, thus having a balance of $35.15 in the treasury on May 23.

The election of officers for the coming year resulted as follows: President, Mrs. A. H. Cairns; 1st vice-president, Mr. J. Campbell; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. R. H. Draper; recording secretary, Miss Alberta Brown; treasurer, Mr. A. Smith; press superintendent, Mrs. J. Campbell, and corresponding secretary, Miss Lena Cairns.

Various other committees were appointed and delegates chosen to attend the county convention in Huntingville.

A Great Place to Play

WHY not spend this year's vacation in your own country? British Columbia has attractions to offer more wonderful than those of Europe; the Matterhorn is repeated in Mt. Assiniboine; the Alps are duplicated forty times over in the Rockies; and the coast shares with Norway the distinction of having a remarkably indented scenic shoreline... over 7,000 miles of fjords. You'll love the glorious mountain areas, flower-starred and cool, amid glaciers, peaks and alpine meadows; or the lovely lake districts with their orchard-clad benchlands.

EVERGREEN FAIRWAYS

If you're an enthusiast of the grand old game of golf—bring your clubs along. Beautiful evergreen fairways have added fame to the name "Canada's Evergreen Playground," by which British Columbia is known wherever tourists travel. There's a new thrill in playing on scenic golf courses over which a majestic panorama of sea or snow-capped mountains casts its spell; in the pure, invigorating ozone of mountain altitudes or the salty tang of the sea air.

SCENIC MOTORING

17,500 miles of excellent motorways thread throughout British Columbia. You can spend weeks, and even months, touring a veritable scenic wonderland. A veil of romance endows the magnificent Cariboo Road with irresistible charm; it is the old wagon road of gold rush days reopened as a splendid highway. The Trans-Provincial, Columbia Valley and Banff-Windermere Highways, with their radiating by-roads, open to the motorist all Southern British Columbia, the beautiful lake districts, the Columbia River Valley and the Big Game District.

AT VICTORIA AND VANCOUVER

Vancouver Island Highway, a thousand miles of wonderland northward from lovely Victoria, lures a steady stream of eager tourists year after year. At Vancouver, you'll find a most delightful motor trip—Grouse Mountain Highway ascending, by a 45-minute, easy climb, to a mountain top, before which rolls a magnificent view of over 15,000 square miles of mountains, valleys and sea! You will want to run up to the Harrison Hot Springs—the famous health and pleasure resort—only 90 miles from the coast.

THINGS TO DO

You'll love bathing in the Pacific—in placid, sheltered bays, or where the giant breakers roll; teasing, salty spray laps beaches silvery as a crescent moon; the waters sheltered by islands off the coast are mild and pleasant, ideal for swimming. Yachting, sailing or excursioning on the big pleasure steamers are inexhaustible sources of enjoyment; there are hundreds of resorts on islands and inlets that honeycomb the coast; and it is a wonderful trip far north through the Inside Passage, to Alaska. The lover of the great out-of-doors finds fishing as never before, in teaming tann and stream, and hunting in the great virgin forest areas.

WHERE OPPORTUNITY ABOUNDS

The time has come for Canadians to realize the great wealth of opportunity that lies in British Columbia. For the manufacturer there is an almost unlimited field. He has the natural resources of forest, mine, field and sea; the service of three transcontinental railways and numerous branch lines; 50 or 60 steamship lines, and an ever increasing market, right at his finger tips. The Pacific ports—open all year—are Canada's gateways to the Far East, Australia and New Zealand; European and Atlantic seaboard markets are accessible through the Panama Canal. There has been an increase in industrial plants of over 300 per cent. in the last eight years.

SOURCES OF WEALTH

Timber is British Columbia's greatest asset, producing last year a revenue of $82,000,000, including pulp and paper valued at $18,000,000; this province is estimated to contain more than half Canada's commercial standing timber! In second place, is agricultural production of $70,000,000, made up chiefly of dairy products, fruit, livestock, poultry, fur and field crops; ten to fifteen million acres of land are known as cultivable; the soil noted for high productivity. Next is the mining; 1926, the greatest year in history, yielding $67,000,000; about 200,000 square miles extensively mineralized still remains a virgin field for the prospector and investor, a field such as exists in but few places in the world today. Then the fishing industry, which for the fourteenth successive year has produced more than any other province in the Dominion, the 1926 output being $25,000,000.

"GO WEST, YOUNG MAN, GO WEST!"

If you're looking for pleasure or for opportunity, you can be more cogent advice than that phrase of Horace Greeley's. "The Pacific era is dawning," is the phrase on every lip. Why not see it for yourself? Follow the setting sun to British Columbia.

SUCCESSION DUTIES ARE LOW

Preferred (1st class) beneficiaries are now exempt in estates that do not exceed $20,000; $50,000 life insurance in addition is also exempt where it is left to preferred beneficiaries. [1st class (Preferred): Wife, husband, father, mother, child, grandchild, son-in-law, daughter-in-law.]

Rate on estates of $150,000 now 3 per cent.; on estates of $700,000, 9 per cent.; and on estates of $1,000,000 and upwards, 12 per cent. Where levies are made by other provinces for succession duty on portions of an estate situated there the Province of B.C. will remit its share of the double charge. This now eliminates double duty for persons domiciled in British Columbia. Mail coupon for detailed information, British Columbia Publicity Committee, 438 Pender Street West, Vancouver, B.C.

GREAT NEED OF MEN FOR MINISTRY
Sunday marked the twenty-second anniversary of the pastorate of Dr. Ellery Read in Plymouth Church. At the morning service he preached on "Imperial Ambassadors," taking for his text the words of St. Paul from 2 Cor. 5:20: "We are ambassadors therefore on behalf of Christ, as though God were entreating by us; we beseech you on behalf of Christ, be ye reconciled to God." In the course of his sermon, Dr. Read dwelt upon the high and authoritative office of Paul's ambassadorship in a world that was in part hostile to the kingly authority and power of Christ, but which, nevertheless, was expectant of some great personage who would bring in a new era of peace and order. By the preaching of Christ Paul won men in every city he visited to submit themselves to Him. In closing his sermon, Dr. Read made reference to the great need of men for the ministry in order to effectually establish the reign of Christ in this and every land. He also referred to the possibilities of the church as an instrument for the furtherance of the Kingdom of God, when all its members are moved to live worthily of their high calling as participants in the benefits of the kingdom.

The musical service included a solo by Mrs. Alberta Adams, "The Love Divine," by Helen Brown, which was sung with fine feeling, and a trio by Mrs. Adams, Mr. Albert Biler and Mr. Harold McConnell, "The Winter Is Past." This was done very effectively. Both added much to the devotional value of the service.

At the evening service Dr. Read preached on "The Enlightened Optimist," basing his sermon on Psalm 46: "Many there be who say, 'Who will show us any good?' Lord, lift Thou up the light of Thy countenance upon us." The sermon was a strong plea for an enlightened optimism which can be known only as man puts his trust in God's wisdom and love. The choir gave a very fine rendering of Schnek's anthem, "The King of Love My Shepherd is." The parts were well balanced, and the solo part was sung extremely well by Mr. Conrad Jamson. Mr. Kendall, organist and choir leader, was in charge of the music throughout the day.

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY

SALLY LINGFIELD, dancer at the Faun, a night club.
JOSH AKERS, a waster, with whom Sally is in love.
POPPY, Sally's roommate, another dancer at the Faun.
PHILIP SANDERSON, rich young man of wealth and leisure. But loves Sally. One morning when drunk, he runs over her and injures her badly.
SOMETIMES, Sanderson's dog.
MRS. KIFF, his landlady.

John Akers, hearing of Sally's probable permanent injury, very ill at heart, goes to her and Sanderson assumes her care. He gets a cottage in the country for her and Mrs. Kiff. At first Sally hates it, and is heartless to Sanderson—even telling him she is glad when Sometimes is injured by an automobile. But gradually she becomes somewhat reconciled, and even looks more kindly on Sanderson's love for her.

The rector, Robert Nairn, brings his young son, Garry, to see Sally. Sanderson is immediately jealous. When comes that Poppy is very ill and Sanderson goes to her. While he is away Garry comes often to see Sally, and take her out in her invalid chair. After Poppy's death Sanderson goes back to Sally, and is jealous of her interest in young Garry. Nairn and Sally have a heart-to-heart talk.

There was a more friendly note in Sanderson's voice. He could never see Garry's company for more than a few minutes without reluctantly realizing how impossible it was to hate this boy as he wished to hate him.

They spoke very little till they reached the cottage, then Sanderson led the way into the sitting-room.

A small fire burned in the grate, but the windows were wide open to the gathering dusk. There was a bowl of bluebells on a side table, and an elaborate pink shawl of Sally's lying across her couch. Both men were painfully conscious of that shawl; it seemed somehow such a very intimate part of her.

"Help yourself to a drink," Sanderson said. "And there's baccy on the shelf, or cigarettes. I'll tell Sally you're here."

He went away, closing the door, but Garry stood where he was left, his hand hanging limply at his sides, his honest eyes full of trouble.

He was sufficiently sensitive to feel himself an interloper; he knew the Sanderson loved Sally, and hoped to marry her, but he knew also how vain that hope now was.

Sometimes, and went to her away from Sally. Garry Nairn told himself that the best and most honorable thing he could do would be to go right away out of their lives. He tried to persuade himself that Sally would soon forget him; he tried to believe in her happiness with her old attraction for him, and that he would soon weary of it, but his heart gave him the lie.

He loved her for better or worse; for good or evil; in spite of what she pathetically called her "complaint," in spite of his own better judgment.

He knew he could not marry her unless a miracle happened and she was made strong and well once more, and yet all that was best in him longed to take her just as she was, and to love her to the end of her life.

Sanderson came back. "Sally will be pleased to see you. Do you mind going to her bedroom?"

"Of course not."

Garry passed Sanderson with averted eyes, and went to Sally's room. A lighted lamp stood beside the bed, its soft light falling on her beautiful hair, and on the slender hand which she held out to him in welcome.

"I thought you were not coming to say good-bye to me," she said. "I wanted to come. You know that, only—you see—"

He was embarrassed, and could stammer.

"Only—what?" Sally asked.

"He made a hopeless gesture."

"There's nothing I can do. I've done everything—and I know—of course I know that I'm the interloper."

She drew her hand away from his.

"You didn't have to come," she said sharply.

"It's not that unkind."

"It's you who are unkind. You know I am going away tomorrow, and you haven't been here for two days."

They were talking in whispers. Nairn answered desperately: "It's not that I haven't wanted to come—but Sanderson—"

"You put him before me?"

"No, no; you know I don't, but he's such a decent chap. He walked over and asked me to come back here with him—"

"Oh! There was a little hurt note in her voice. "You would not have come if he hadn't done that, then?"

She lost sight of Sanderson's generosity, seeing only what she thought was Nairn's unwillingness, and when he did not answer she said brokenly:

"Oh, I hope I never get any better! I hope I die!"

"Well, you wouldn't care!"

That was more than he could bear; he went down on his knees beside the bed and took her in his arms.

"I love you, Sally. You know I love you."

"And you always will, whatever happens!"

"Always!"

"And afterwards, if I don't get

96,000 Women and Children Served by THE RED CROSS

THE future of Canada lies in the Home. In their honest and loving endeavors to build healthy homes, thousands of Canadian mothers are handicapped by lack of knowledge.

Three years ago, the Red Cross organized its first class in Home Nursing. Since then, 12,000 women and girls, in 800 groups, have received instruction.

They have gained a sound knowledge of the principles of good health . . . care of the sick . . . feeding of babies and children. They have become better managers of their homes . . . enabled to instruct less well-informed neighbors.

With the aid of local leaders, doctors, women's organizations, the Red Cross Organizing Nurse forms a class. The course of 12 lectures comprises instruction by a nurse . . . practical demonstration . . . talks by the local doctor. It is simple but thorough. Nor does the Red Cross forget our new citizens from other lands.

At Halifax, Quebec and St. John it maintains Seaport Nurseries. Here immigrant mothers and children are made welcome. For the babies and young children, nourishing food . . . baths . . . a restful sleep. For the mothers, a few quiet hours in a comforting home atmosphere . . . encouragement for the next stage in their journey.

A Registered Nurse notes any needed medical attention. "Follow up" cards are sent to the Province where they are going. On arrival, the Red Cross puts them in touch with health authorities . . . they are started at once on the road to healthy living.

During the past few years, the Nurseries have served over 84,000 women and children, with "follow up" work for over 12,000 families. In these and other ways, the Red Cross is supplementing and supporting the work of health authorities and doctors, with untold benefit to thousands of Canadian homes. To YOU it appeals for support in this great task.

Since the War THE RED CROSS has disbursed 7 Million Dollars for the Soldiers, Women, Children and Frontier Families of Canada. "STILL SERVING"

INTER-SCHOOL ATHLETIC MEET HELD SATURDAY

Carvel Hammond Took Individual Honors—Ethel Wells Led Girls—Competition Was Keen.

On Saturday the seventh annual city inter-school athletic meet was held with splendid weather conditions and very heavy entries—between three and four hundred boys and girls from the different schools of the city taking part. Some very close contests were held; perhaps the closest and most interesting being the senior boy one mile race when only about four inches separated the first and second, McCullough winning by just a fraction of a second. The pole vault was also very good, Edgar winning with 8 ft. and 8 inches, with Prestwich crossing him hand with 3 feet and 4 inches.

In the individual points Carvel Hammond again came out on top gathering up sixteen points. Mayll Edgar was second with ten points and Howard Prestwich third with nine points.

In the girls' events Ethel Wells came first with eight points and Sylvia Loomis and Dorothy Bambridge tied for second place with seven points.

By schools the High School gathered in 37 points, Cambridge 66 1-2, St. Pat's 7 1-2, North Ward 3, Central 2 and Lawrence 1. The following is the list of events and winners:

Boys under 7, 50 yards—1, Harvey Nutbrown; 2, David Robins; 3, Douglas Bradley.

Boys 7-9, 50 yards—1, Marvin Hall; 2, Maurice Grigsby; 3, Billy Belleux.

Boys 11 to 13, 75 yards—1, Charles Mitchell; 2, Arthur Hutley; 3, tie, A. Gilliland and A. Mooney.

Girls 11 to 13—1, Naomi Stinson; 2, Isabel Mutchler; 3, tie, Lillian Phillips and Marion Insley.

LOCAL GOLFERS BROKE EVEN IN DOUBLE BILL

Won at Waterville by Margin of Three Points, But Lost at Windsor Mills.

The Sherbrooke golfers got an even break in the two friendly inter-club matches they played on Saturday afternoon, being beaten at the Windsor Mills course, but nosing out a victory over Waterville on the latter's links.

Sixteen players made the journey to Waterville, and some very interesting matches were played, the final count being eleven to eight in favor of Sherbrooke Country Club. Great improvements have been made on the Waterville course and still more improvements are being planned. After the match the visitors were entertained at tea. The scores, Nassau system, were as follows:

Sherbrooke: Miller and Stewart 3, H. Edgecombe 0, McCrea 0, 0, Gale 0, 0, K. Wilson and Rider 0, McCutcheon 3, Downs 0, 0, Campbell and Colquhoun and C. A. Joslin 0, Briggs 3, Skelton and Moy and Munster 1, W. Edgecombe 1, Bridges and Osgood and Parkins 1, 1, Johnston 2, Buckland and L. Blier and Wolf 0, J. Baglow 0, Stevenson and Bartlett and Odell 3, W. Baglow 0.

Match at Windsor Mills While not an ideal day for golf due to the high wind prevailing in both the Waterville and Windsor courses, yet the treacherous rain held off until both games were practically over. At Windsor some of the foursomes were obliged to seek shelter between their first and second rounds.

Three of the boys on their way to Windsor met with a motor accident and though they did not reach Windsor it was fortunate that none of them were injured.

The return match will be played at Sherbrooke on August 6th. The line-up and results at Windsor were:

Sherbrooke: H. D. Bayne 2, B. N. Holtham 2, B. A. McManamy 2, H. S. Lawrence 0, K. B. Jenckes 0, R. H. Stinson 1, R. H. Little 1, Peabody 1, E. Conley 3, F. McCrear 0, G. Noble 0, C. Stevens 0.

Windsor: R. McCabe 1, W. Ward 1, J. I. McCabe 1, F. J. Campbell 1, C. Force 2, F. Webster 0, R. Healy 1, E. Dunn 1, K. McNeil 1, C. Breeze 0, G. Noble 0, C. Stevens 0, W. Morrison 3, W. O'Neil 3, W. O'Neil 3, W. O'Neil 3.

SERIOUS LOSS BY FIRE AT MASSAWIPPI

Farmhouse of Mr. John Gibson

Totally Destroyed on Saturday Afternoon Last—Household Effects on Upper Storey Not Saved—Loss Partially Covered by Insurance.

(Special to the Record)

MASSAWIPPI, June 6.—The farmhouse belonging to Mr. John Gibson was totally destroyed by fire on Saturday. It was situated about one mile north of this place on the government road, the house and sheds being connected.

The fire was first noticed as the family were at dinner, and evidently started in the kitchen attic from the pipe or chimney, and had made such headway that nothing could be done to save the buildings.

Called by telephone, many came and rendered assistance in getting all the goods out of the lower part, but scarcely anything was saved from the chambers. Bedding, clothes, furniture and sugar stored in one room fell a prey to the flames.

The piano was fortunately saved, and a few clothes only.

A barn some little distance away was saved by the efforts of the helpers, as sparks lodged upon it and a high wind carried them far.

There was insurance of about $15,000 on the place.

DEATHS REPORTED

MRS. HELEN L. C. BRESSEE, SUTTON

SUTTON, Que., June 6.—One of the highly respected citizens of this place in the person of Mrs. Helen L. Carr Bressee passed away on Wednesday night, May 25th, after a lingering illness of some months.

The late Mrs. Bressee was the widow of the late Silas Bressee, who predeceased her some years ago. She was born in Rutland, Vt., on October 26th, 1839, where she lived sixteen years, after coming to Sutton, where she was married and lived most of her life here and West Brom, having nine children, two Jessie and William dying in infancy.

A short service was conducted at the house, Rev. H ning skyline, not down to the low roads of failure. Today is a day of skilful living. People are trying to achieve the best in the way of living. Above all never give up your dreams, even if you do not achieve your end. See some calling and grasp it, but keep in mind the ideal of the noblest life.

"The thing that really matters is that you should be your best and keep your life clean, fine and true. Climb the highroad of worthwhile character. If you walk with 'esus Christ you will find strength to keep your life true."

"You will go out as social beings and must live life with others and render service to those around you. Play the game, speak true words, right the wrongs of men, be true to the Christian church and love your school."

"As you go out to live, love and serve, you must grasp the hand of the living Christ. Live for yourself the finest life and serve your fellow the best you can."

Special music was provided by the college orchestra and massed choirs. The musical numbers were a prelude, "March Celebre," (Lachner-Tobani); "Hear, O Lord, When I Cry," (Beethoven), sung by the choir; soprano solo, "With Verdure Clad," (Haydn), by Miss Helen Louise Beach; "Andante Contabile," from the First Symphony of Beethoven; an anthem, "I Waited for the Lord," (Mendelssohn); an organ postlude.

Principal A. D. Mackenzie, of Stanstead College, Rev. C. A. Adey, of Beebe, Rev. H. A. Carson, Rev. J. W. Stevenson and Rev. T. B. Moody, assisted in the service.

An evening service was held at the Haskell Opera House, Rock Island, with Rev. P. W. Jones as the preacher. He spoke on "The Secret of the Happy Life."

The closing events of Stanstead College, which take place before the examinations, are scheduled for this week. On Thursday evening the senior recital will be given and on Friday afternoon the college annual convocation will be held. The annual closing reception will take place on Friday evening and the junior recital will be given on Saturday afternoon. On Saturday evening there will be the annual reunion banquet, to which all alumni of Stanstead College are invited.

STOLE $30. SENTENCED TO SEVEN YEARS

GALT, Ont., June 6.—Convicted of the theft of $30 from a local residence, Sam Ginsberg, of Galt, was sentenced on Saturday by Magistrate Blake to seven years in Portmouth Penitentiary, but the magistrate stated that if the prisoner could be shown to be mentally unsound he would be sent to some place where he would receive proper treatment.

REUNION OF WAR VETERANS

of Table Mountain on the South, to Machador on the North Transvaal, from Wahfisch Bay on the West to Lourenco Marques on the East, they inspired and outspanned and the long forgotten "bat" was dragged from the depths where it had lain hidden for a quarter of a century and linked up with the names of Dr. Jim and Cecil Rhodes, Sir Geo. White, and Buller, Little "Bobs" and Kitchener.

Humorous Years Were Told. A typical characteristic of the yarns told was the ever present humor, the comradeship and esprit de corps of the men, both individually and between all units both Imperial and Colonial, the gallantry and self sacrifice of the officers, the initial blunders and the final success of the campaign and the sense of privilege felt by each one that his own sphere had dared and done, and suffered for England and the Empire.

At the head of the table spread on the wall, glowed the brilliant colors of the "Union Jack," and when Corporal Tom Keeley, previous to the dinners dispersing to their homes, called on them all to remember the common bond of friendship and service there was a tenseness that only loosened as all joined in singing "God Save the King".

There is no doubt but that the comradeship revived at this meeting will be continued and renewed again at an appropriate time next year, when others absent this year may be able to attend; on the other hand, as each year passes some will be called to answer the final roll call, but certain it is that this first meeting of the "Sakka bwana laager" will never be forgotten by at least fourteen "Soldiers of the Queen".

OLD CITIZEN OF RICHMOND DIED SUNDAY

RICHMOND, Que. June 6.—Richmond's oldest citizen in the person of Mr. Simon Rankin Cross passed away yesterday at the age of ninety years and four months. The funeral is taking place today.

Mr. Cross was a son of the late James Cross and of Catherine Reid, a sister of the late Benjamin Reid, of Ulverton. He spent the early part of his life on the farm of his parents at Ulverton, and later engaged in farming with his uncle, Mr. Benjamin Reid, and afterwards for himself. Attracted by railroad work, he went to South Durham, where he worked under Agent Layton of the old St. Lawrence and Atlantic Railway now the Canadian National system.

Coming to Richmond in the early fifties, he worked a year in the Dickson tannery on the Danville road (since demolished) and then returned to the railway service as a blacksmith apprentice. An accident forced him to leave the railway. He entered the service of the Canadian Express Company and took charge of the mail delivery service a position he held at the time of his death.

On February 20, 1861, he was married to Mary Jane Richards, of Durham. They had seven children, of which three survive, Misses Clementina and Beatrice Cross and Mr. Burt Cross, of Richmond.

Deceased was about her accustomed household duties through the day, and set the table for supper, then went outside to the poultry house, where she was found a few minutes later by her son. Life was extinct.

Dr. Pichel was summoned and he stated that the cause of her death was heart failure.

She is survived by her husband, three daughters and one son, Mr. George Raymond, who lived at home with his parents. The greatest sympathy is felt for the bereaved family in their great affliction.

NEWS OF SPORTING WORLD

ANOTHER HOME RUN CHALKED UP BY 'BABE' RUTH

Teams With Best Pitching Are Ones that Are Getting Most Victories at Present Time.

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, June 6.—Major league teams with the best pitching are the ones that are getting the most victories at this stage of the pennant races.

Strong everywhere but on the slabs, the New York Giants turned away from Cincinnati with only an even break after a four-gamers split with the cellar-dwelling Reds. At the same time the less highly touted Brooklyn Robins were making most of their pitching strength in a close duel with the World Champion Cards.

Pitching weakness was demonstrated by two teams at once in the closing game of the Giants-Reds series yesterday at Cincinnati, which went to the Reds by a 10 to 9 count. Of nine pitchers who took the mound, none could stop the hitting—a condition, however, which the ball fan relishes as it makes for more thrills. The game had a night's inning rally and counter rally with each club scoring three runs in the final frame.

Tighter hurling was seen at St. Louis, where Brooklyn's pitching gave the club half of a double-header with the Cards. In the first game Grover Cleveland Alexander demonstrated the champions' own pitching strength by granting only eight hits for an 8 to 0 shut-out in which he bested Petty and McWeeny. But in the second Bill Doak of the Robins, outpitched Jess Haines, and allowed but five safeties in a 6 to 4 victory.

Good pitching performances were comparatively numerous. In a 7 to 0 whitewashing administered by the Chicago Cubs to the Boston Braves, Sheriff Blake allowed but five hits, and Zachary, of the St. Louis Browns, pitched a six-hit game for his team's third straight over the Senators 9 to 1.

The one exception to the rule that tight pitching wins was the five to three victory of the New York Yanks over the Detroit Tigers, who out-hit them 12 to 6. However, one of the half dozen hits made off Whitehill was Babe Ruth's seventeenth homer of the year with none on, and another was a single by the same gentleman which drove in the winning run. The Babe's home run puts him ahead of his record year 1921, when he made a total of fifty-nine homers.

GOLF AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

TAKE YOUR TIME IF NERVOUSNESS OVERCOMES YOU—TURN AWAY FROM BALL

How should one conquer a nervousness on the putting green?
By BOBBY CRUICKSHANK
Holder of Three Important Titles, 1927.

Nervousness on the putting green is something that only the pupil himself can conquer. It seems that when a player of nervous disposition starts to putt, he reaches the verge of a collapse. The best method of effecting a cure is to turn away from the ball when you feel this condition approaching and take a few practice swings. Develop a slow putting stroke and this will aid materially in controlling the nerves. Keep the thought in mind that nothing will happen to you if you DO take four or five putts on each green. But you alone can cure this nervousness—no one will be able to do it for you.

cortege of the late Mr. Thomas Netherfield passed and the play was stopped, and the two elevens stood in silence for one minute.

Following the game, the Magog boys were the guests of the Y. M. C. A. team at the "Y" for supper.

Quebec Central Won From East Angus.

Quebec Central took the lead early in their contest against the Angus eleven at East Angus and held it throughout the contest. T. Jackson opened the scoring after four minutes of play from a pass by McNally, and followed this up with two additional counters in rapid succession. Rowlands and Hayes for Angus did some pretty playing, but could not break through the Railroaders' defence, and the Green Shirts retaliated by a rush that netted them their fourth counter when Grime beat Grey with a well placed shot. The fifth tally came near the end of the period when Osman beat the Angus net guardian with a shot from the wing. The home team claimed that the shot was offside, but the referee gave his decision in favor of the tally.

The second session opened with Angus on the defensive and McGinty was given a busy time of it. One of the Quebec Central men handled the ball and Angus were awarded a penalty kick. Hayes notching up a counter with a well placed shot. Quebec Central stiffened up and added three more counts, Grime nothing up one, and Pentland two.

The line-up was:

East Angus	Grey, Mason, Neil, Johnston, Ratcliffe, Rowley, Shore, G. Riddoch, Rankin and Rowlands.
Quebec Central	McGinty, Jackson, Webb, Twyman, Scott, Loach, Osman, Grime, T. Jackson, McNally, Pentland.
