No. 107

"LOVE'S TRIAL."

Ballad,

WRITTEN BY

Laman Blanchard.

THE MUSIC

By

CLEMENT WHITE.

Composer of the following Songs.

"Beautiful Maid of the Dale," "Come, Come with me," "Mary a Doon," "There is a grief when tear drops start," "I never have mentioned his name," "She threw back the clustring ringlets of Jet," "I love thee dear England," How dear to me my native Vale, &c. &c.

Ent. Accord. to Act.

Price 2/-

LONDON.

Published by T. PROWSE, at C. Nicholson's Flute Manufactory

13, Hanway Street, Oxford Street.

M2
329
.M67
Mills

LOVE'S TRIAL.

Written by Laman Blanchard The Music by Clement White.

While o'er my life's path-way cold shadows are sweeping, How

pp

wild-ly Love burns, oh! my fond one in thee; It

cres:

tells me in smiles, e-ven while thou art weeping, The

p

cres

more my days dar-ken, the brighter 'twill be..... The

cres:

f

more my days darken, the brighter 'twill be. No

p

gay dream can lure thee a.....waking or sleeping, For

pp

clo---ser in sor- row thou clingest to me.

colla voce

p

f

But if o'er my path-way fair for-tune were glowing, Would

pp

Love light thine eye all it's tears be-ing dried? Ah

cres:

dim:

could'st thou be firm where en---chant-ments are flowing, And

p

p

cres:

cres:

live for Love on-ly 'midst rap--ture and pride? And

f live for Love on - ly, 'midst rap - ture and pride? This dim: p

les - - son the heart all too late may be knowing, - In

pp

joy, not in sor - - row, Love's truth must be tried.

colla voce.

f