WESTMINSTER CHURCH.

Anniversary Services at Westmount on Sunday Next.

The Westminster Presbyterian Church at Westmount, will have special anniversary services next Sunday, June 12th, both morning and evening. At each service a special collection will be taken up to help pay off the debt now owing on the church. Since organization this church has been struggling under a heavy debt, and during the past year it has made an extra effort to free itself from all liabilities.

The church was organized April 26th, 1892, and on the first Sunday in May, 1893, the resent building was opened. Since that time the membership has more than doubled. The present structure is now too small for the accommodation of either the congregation or the Sunday-school, and if the plans of the officers can be carried into effect, and the debt wiped out, it is expected that the main building will be constructed. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Stewart Oxley, has worked hard under many difficulties, due largely to lack of church accommodation, and deserves success in his prese.

Workmen employed in digging for the foundations of the new St. Jean Baptiste Church, yesterday unearthed a number of human skulls.

THE PLEBISCITE BILL

The Senate Refuses to Strike Out the Mention of "Cider"

IN THE QUESTION TO VOTERS.

Sir MacKenzie Bowell Forces the Government To Face the Issue.

DELAYED THE THIRD READING

Until Ministers Announce Their Intentions Respecting the Amended Franchise Bill.

(Special to the Star.)

OTTAWA, June 8.—In the Senate yesterday afternoon Hon. David Mills moved that the Senate have two sessions daily until the end of the session. Sir Mackenzie Bowell suggested that until the committees were disposed of it would be well to have an afternoon and evening session. After that three sessions daily could be held, if necessary. The motion was adopted.

The bill to authorize the Quebec Harbor Commissioners to borrow money was passed through committee and read a third time.

The report of the special committee appointed to enquire into the report on the construction of a canal uniting the waters of Lake Huron with those of the St. Lawrence via the Ottawa, was adopted after a short debate.

THE PLEBISCITE BILL.

The Senate then went into committee on the plebiscite bill. Senator Sullivan contended that the principle of the bill was vicious. The Government should decide this question upon their own responsibility and not like Pontius Pilate shift the responsibility upon the public. He thought it would be better if the Government would see to it that the present laws were faithfully carried out instead of making new ones which would not be enforced.

Senator O'Donohue was opposed to the principle of prohibition as an infringement of individual rights. More than that, the finances of the country were not in a position to warrant the trying of an experiment of this kind no matter how much it might be desired.

Senator Vidal pointed out that it was the plebiscite that was under discussion and not the principle of prohibition. The bill was not asked for by the temperance people, who regarded a plebiscite as unnecesary. He proposed an amendment striking out from the question to be submitted all mention of specific drinks that should be prohibited, and to amend it by the substitution of words to the effect that the importation, manufacure or sale of spirits and all intoxicating liquors should be prohibited. The inclusion in the question of cider and all kinds of wines would prevent thousands who were in favor of temperance from voting, if non-intoxicating wines and cider were included in the beverages to be prohibited.

The Secretary of State said that the adoption of the amendment would render the bill wholly useless. No law could be enforced unless the drinks to be prohibited were specified. Otherwise it would be necessary to have an expert called in, in all prosecutions, to say whether the liquor used was intoxicating or contained alcohol.

Senator Vidal said the prohibitory law could define what was an intoxicating liquor. The amendment was declared lost on division, and the clause passed without amendment.

On clause six, which provides that the voter shall be taken on the lists to be prepared under the franchise law now under consideration. Sir Mackenzie Bowell wanted to know if the carrying out of the provisions of this bill depended upon the passage of the franchise bill now before the Lower House.

Hon. R. W. Scott—This Act provides that the vote shall be taken under the Franchise Act now before the other House.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell—I know that, but will this vote be taken if the franchise bill does not become law?

Hon. R. W. Scott—I cannot announce the policy of the Government upon a hypothetical question, but under the provisions of this bill I do not think the Government could submit the question to a vote if the franchise bill was not passed into law.

THE SENATE'S ULTIMATUM.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell pointed out that during the debate in the House of Commons the Minister of Railways had expressed an exactly contrary opinion. He desired to state now that until the Lower House decided what it was going to do about the amendment made to the franchise bill by the Senate, the third reading of this bill would be postponed and if the Commons refused to pass the franchise bill as it was amended, he would, on the third reading of this bill, propose an amendment that the vote on the plebiscite be taken upon the provincial lists without reference to the franchise bill at all. For this reason, he would not support any amendment to this bill, but would leave the entire responsibility for the measure with the Government of passing the bill, as it was introduced. The bill was passed through committee without amendment, and reported for a third reading on Thursday.

AFTER THE VOTE.

Senator Perley wanted to know whether a majority of the votes cast under the plebiscite would constitute a decision in favor of prohibition.

Hon. David Mills replied that the object of the plebiscite was to ascertain the sentiment of the public on the subject, and find out if the sentiment in the country was strong enough to secure the enforcement of a prohibitory law. The vote polled might be so small that it would not be an indication of the popular will, but only an evidence of indifference on the part of the people on the question. It would be the duty of the Government to use its judgment as to whether the vote taken is an expression of the popular will in favor of or against prohibition, or not.

Senator Perley—Can the Government say when the vote will take place?

Hon. David Mills—No; that will have to be decided later to suit public convenience.

A number of public bills from the Commons were passed, and the Senate adjourned at 11.15 p.m.

STARVED AND STOLE

A Lamentable State of Affairs in United States Army Camps.

A SUBSCRIPTION SUGGESTED

By a Mother of a Member of the Fourteenth Regiment to Feed the Men.

THERE ARE LOTS OF SUPPLIES,

But They Are Badly Managed and Side-tracked Along the Railroads.

(From the Star's Special Correspondent Resident in New York.)

Star Bureau,
195 Broadway,
New York,
June 8, 1898.

Evidence is accumulating that a most lamentable state of affairs exists in the great military camps of the United States. The mother of a member of the Fourteenth Regiment of Brooklyn now in camp at Chickamauga, sends the following letter to the newspapers:

"I am astonished to see in the newspapers of June 5 that this nation—supposed to be so impressed with the cruel want imposed on the Cubans that it asks its gallant boys to help to liberate the starving Cubans—is actually starving our boys at Chickamauga. Such is the treatment our boys are receiving from this philanthropic Government, so anxious to extend its aid to the negro of Cuba at the price of the blood of our sons. Who is to blame? Let us start a public subscription to feed Uncle Sam's army. Where is De Witt Talmage, who looked so well after the famine-stricken Russians, the Indians of Asia? Why cannot he send some meat to the poor starving Fourteenth? Shame to the wealthy who read of the disgraceful treatment of our loved ones, without a thought of extending any help to them. Can you not possibly devise means so that the boys be sent some meat for next Sunday? Please see if there is not some method for obtaining permanent help toward better treatment as regards food, and thereby oblige a worried mother.

ANNA KEATING,
809 Fulton street, Brooklyn, New York."

THE BREAD IS BLUE MOULDED.

A member of Company E, Fourteenth Regiment, writes from Chickamauga to a friend in Brooklyn: "The grub is so rotten that the bread is blue moulded. I am eating so much pork that I am ashamed to look a pig in the face. If you don't mind you can send me one of Smith's bills of fare to eat for breakfast. We have to walk about two miles for a drink of water."

A private in Company D, Fourteenth Regiment, writes to his father: "For twenty-four hours we did not have anything to eat, and then we were given hard tack, canned beef and coffee. The other day they started in giving us good food, and almost knocked us out last night by giving us steak that you could chew and potato salad and plenty of it."

STOLE ALL THEY COULD.

A volunteer belonging to Company H, Fourteenth Regiment, writes: "Our treatment has been so outrageous that many of us had to go across the country to rob farmers' hen coops, steal chickens and destroy crops. So hungry were the boys of the Fourteenth that, on our way South, at every station we jumped from the train and stole everything that we could lay our hands on. Those of us who have money cannot use it, for we are not allowed to go outside the grounds unless accompanied by an officer. The afternoon we left New York we received a loaf of dry bread for three days' rations. Coffee, or, rather grounds and chicory, was served at 7 a.m. next day. The last drink of the same was given us at 6 a.m. the day preceding. Twenty-five hours waiting for a drink of coffee!"

Another Fourteenth Regiment man writes to his cousin: "I have recently read articles in the papers relative to the ill-usage in treatment of the Spanish soldiers by their Government, butu their life must be a paradise as compared to ours. We are actually weak on account of scarcity of food."

MEN NEARLY STARVED.

A Brooklyn merchant received the following from one of his former employes, now in camp with the Fourteenth: "We arrived at Camp Thomas May 20; have slept in the rain three nights. It was rather hard, but we would not have minded the sleep so much if we only had had enough to eat, but we nearly starved from the time we left Camp Black, and the men all say that Camp Black was Paradise compared to this place. All we had to eat at the meals we've had has been a couple of hard crackers, two small pieces of bacon, and a pint of black coffee. We received the first meal, if you will call it such, twenty hours after we left the old camp. The men in this company will never forget that trip. We slept on the ground the first night we got here, and the next morning we went out on a skirmish drill, lasting two hours and five minutes. After recall we received orders to march into our present quarters, and all we got to eat and drink was crackers and coffee. We shouldered our packs and started on our four mile march under a terrible heat. The men in our company kept up pretty well, but the company in front of us fell by the dozen before we got to the camp."

SNAKES FOR BEDFELLOWS.

Another soldier writes that the boys have snakes for bedfellows, and that there is no end of lizards, spiders, and all sorts of reptiles in the camp.

It has been learned that several hundred carloads of clothing, food, and ammunition shipped to the army at Tampa have never been unloaded. What is described as an almost hopeless congestion of traffic is said to exist there. Freight cars are reported to be sidetracked at every available point for ten miles away from Tampa.

The Quartermaster's Department disavows blame for this state of affairs, insisting that when they ship the supplies to the camp it ought to be within the power of the local authorities to distribute them. Just who is to blame for the congestion which has kept the army from getting the supplies sent it, is not known.

It is understood that Gen. Miles has made a protest against the method of handling freight by the railroads at Tampa, and he is said to have described the confusion resulting from the accumulation of cars there in very strong language in a communication to the Secretary of War. It is probable, that an investigation will be made by the War Department, with a view to finding out who is responsible for the cars not being unloaded more promptly.

ADMISSIONS FROM THE AUTHORITIES.

The heads of the various bureaus at Washington generally admit that everything is not as it should be, but they insist that the faults, as a rule, are such as are inevitable to the hurried mobilization of an army of 150,000 men in a country whose military system is as limited as ours. They contend that it is imposible to raise the armed force of the country from 25,000 to 150,000 men, as has been done in the past six weeks, without some confusion and delay.

In my recollection no such paralysis as seems to exist throughout the whole military branch of the service existed at any time during the Civil War. The only possible conclusion to be arrived at is that the entire army administration, from the Secretary of War down, is incompetent and unable to grapple with a situation which is far from being extraordinary. There is no lack of funds; there is no lack of supplies of everydescription in the country. It is simply a question of timely preparation and a proper and expeditious distribution of supplies.

It has been said that the red tape of the bureaucracy system at Washington has tied up the commissariat, but if so is it not time to cut it asunder and place a responsible head in control?

A SPANISH CONSUL.

Protest Aganst Proposed Expulson of Spaniards.

AMERICAN CONSULS EQUALLY VIOLATE NEUTRALITY LAWS.

(Special to the Star.)

TORONTO, June 8.—The following letter from J. Enoch Thompson, Spanish Consul in this city, is published to-day:

"Sir.—So many untrue statements have been published about the alleged spy system that I must ask space to say something on the other side. Spain has only one consulate in this province; the United States has twelve or fifteen, every one of which is practically a recruiting station for the United States Army and Navy, doing everything short of actually enlisting men. They furnish their Government with information, just as the Spanish agents in this country are censured for doing. If the latter be requested to leave the country, so should every United States Consul.

"Spain is accused of blowing up the Maine, and the United States refused to allow an impartial tribunal to investigate the cause, knowing full well that this would have exposed the lack of discipline which existed on that unfortunate ship, and was the probable cause of the disaster. Under the British Admiralty, Captain Sigsbee would have been courtmartialled, instead of given another ship.

"Dewey's achievements in massacring defenceless Spaniards at long range while he sat on the bridge and fanned himself, is described by this bragging nation as equal to Trafalgar, where the British lost 1,500 men. Such bombast is disgusting, even to those who are friendly to the United States. I wonder what Dewey thinks of Lord Charles Beresford's sarcastic comment, that he would hardly have shot down foes who could not defend themselves had he been in Dewey's place.

"So long as the Spanish officials were in the States where letters and other kinds of stealing is looked upon as honorable it was none of Canada's business; but now these Spaniards are as much our guests as the United States officials, and as such are entitled to protection from those 'sneak thieves,' whom the United States delight to honor.

"The desire of the Canadian Government to be on friendly terms with our neighbors should not allow them to wink at crime. Few know the extent of the tampering with letters which has taken place. A great many of the letters addressed to the Spaniards while in Toronto, and many of my own, were, and are yet, opened in transit.

"A despatch from the Governor-General to Senor Polo was never received by the latter, and there was more than a suspicion as to what became of it. Instead of asking Messrs. Du Bosc and Carranza to leave Canada, it would be the more consistent with the dignity of a great country to order those letter-thieves and spies to leave. What respect can a nation inspire which employ such men, and unblushingly uses letters so acquired?"

SCOTT-DAVIS.

Fashionable Wedding at St. Joseph's, Ottawa, To-day.

(Special to the Star.)

OTTAWA, June 8.—A fashionable wedding took place in St. Joseph's Church this morning, when Miss Queen Davis, eldest daughter of Mr. M. P. Davis, was married to Mr. D'Arcy Scott. The church was beautifully decorated with palms and foliage, as well as an abundance of white roses. A high mass was chanted by Rev. Father Constantineau, assisted by Rev. Father Tallm and Rev. Father Howe. The pupils of the Rideau street convent supplied the vocal music, Mr. Collier Grounds presiding at the organ. The mass sung was Gounod's with several fine selections introduced throughout. The bride's grown was a truly lovely one—white duchesse satin made with a square train, beneath which one caught glimpses of lace and orange blossoms. Across the front and up the left side were true lovers' knots of pearl embroidery and silver sequins. The bodice was made with a shirred gimp of chiffon, trimmed with exquisite rose point lace. The sleeves also were of shirred chiffon. A bunch of orange blossoms adorned the left side of the corsage. The bridesmaids' gowns were white dotted mousseline de soie with yokes of turquoise blue silk covered with pearl embroidery. They wore large hats of leghorn with white ostrich plumes and rosettes of blue silk and folds of white chiffon. The bridesmaids were Miss Agnes Davis and Miss Murphy. The bride's train was carried by little Miss Nellie Davis, looking very sweet in white mousseline de soie over pink silk, and Master Adrian Fletcher, a handsome page in white satin court dress.

Mr. Scott was assisted by Mr. John Thompson, eldest son of the late Sir John Thompson. The ushers were Mr. J. A. Ritchie, Mr. James McGee, Mr. Arthur Brophy, Mr. William Davis, Mr. Edward Burnett, and Mr. Fred White. Mrs. Davis, the mother of the bride, wore a handsome costume of grey poplin trimmed with rose pink.

A large number of guests assisted at the ceremony in the church and later at the reception at Mr. Davis' residence, where breakfast was served in the marquee on the lawn. Among the guests the Cabinet was largely represented.

TORONTO WON AGAIN.

Cincinnati is Still Ahead in the National League and Likely to Remain for a While.

Montreal made a basketful of errors yesterday, and on this account deserved to lose the game. But the errors were not responsible for the defeat. Mr. Doescher, one of Pat Powers' aggregation of star umpires, has a lot to answer for on this account. Judgments were bad from the start, and undoubtedly gave Montreal the worst end of the stick on every occasion. His eyesight was off on balls and strikes and also on his base decisions. Schiebeck kicked so hard on one occasion that he came pretty near being put out of the game, but Mr. Doescher evidently recognized that he had given a shakey decision and was lenient with the kicker. Montreal outbatted Providence and they made Mr. Rudderham feel weary for a little while in the seventh, when they scored three runs on good hard hitting and took the lead. The home team went first to bat yesterday and this gave Providence one advantage. Barry Shearon and Bannon were out in order in the first.

For Providence, Canavan got to first on Henry's error and stole second, Lyons bringing him home with a base hit. Schiebeck was kind enough to Lynch to get tangled up with a scratch hit, and Lyons advanced to second. Crisham hit it to Dooley who put the ball to second, and Lynch was out. Here was a chance for a double play, but Lynch blocked and Doescher refused to see it. Crisham was thus allowed to occupy first. Lyons scored in the meantime. A hit by Drauby and an error by Shearon allowed Crisham to cross the plate. The next two men went out on flies.

With two men out in the second, Schiebeck hit out a two bagger. Miller than drew a base on balls while Schiebeck was engaged stealing third. On the first ball pitched, Miller started for second and got himself caught between the bases. The trick worked and Schiebeck crossed the plate with the first run before Miller was tagged.

Providence made two more in the third. Lynch's single, a stolen base, and Crihsam's three bagger being responsible for the damage. Crisham scored on Weigand's out at first. Montreal scored again, making one on two bases on balls and a base hit by Bannon.

Providence drew a blank in the fourth, but Montreal sent Souders across the plate with a run. Two bases on balls and a base hit by Bannon being responsible for this.

Providence scored again in the fifth. Lynch went to first on balls and down to second on Crisham's out at first. He then stole third and scored on Drauby's out a first. Montreal was blanked.

Providence made nothing more until the ninth, but Montreal scored one in the sixth on an error, a stolen base and a timely hit by Miller. In the seventh they hit on Rodderham for a home run, a three bagger and two singles, which netted them three runs, that ended their scoring. Providence evened up matters in the ninth, Crisham knocking out a home run with two men out.

Dooley started the tenth with a hit, and was called out at second in an attempt to pilfer that bag. Doescher called him out, but he was just as safe as any man who had stolen the base during the afternoon. The next two men were easily retired.

For Providence with Weigand out, Cooney got his base on balls and stole second, Schiebeck making an elegant stop of a high thrown ball. Leahy flew out and then after Rudderham had two strikes called on him he knocked the ball out into centre field, and sent Cooney home with the winning run.

SYRACUSE BEATEN.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 8.—Yesterday's Buffalo-Syracuse game was one continued root from start to finish. Everybody roasted Umpire McDermott unmercifully. Greminger and Wise were put out of the game for calling McDermott names, and threatening to punch his head. Syracuse went to pieces in the seventh, and gave Buffalo a winning lead. Score:

UNCERTAIN FUTURE.

Springfield's Prospects Are Not Very Bright—Salaries Due.

TORONTO, Ont., June 8. The Springfield team left last night for Montreal. According to Manager Lush its future is uncertain. The club is in arrears for salaries and the players have been notified that the club is not in a position to pay more than twenty-five per cent. on the amounts due up to the 21st of this month. Lush says the players will have to accept this offer. Brouthers and Duncan who left the team last week were settled with on this basis. With reference to the transfer of the franchise to a New York State Club, Lush says he knows nothing. There is just a possibility, in his opinion, that the directors of the club will go down into their pockets and put up the money necessary to run the team.

A Large Attendance at the Opening of Highland Park Meeting.

GRAVESEND RESULTS.

Good Work at Harlem --- The Stratford Trotters Racing.

OTTAWA, June 8.—Mr. Joseph E. Seagram, M. P., of Waterloo, arrived in the city yesterday. Speaking regarding the chances of Havoc and Tragedian securing honors in the Suburban, to be run at Sheepshead Bay, N. Y, on June 18th, he said that he did not look for either of his horses to go under the wire in first place. Both are in great form, especially Havoc, who will be ridden by Tiny Williams. Mr. Seagram is of the opinion that Ornament will carry off the prize. Havoc will carry fifteen pounds more in weight than last year. Tragedian, who had several ribs broken last year, has fully recovered, and Mr Seagram says that he started the horse in Toronto to see if he could stand the strain, and the result proved most satisfactory, the horse winning with comparative ease.

HIGHLAND PARK.

Opening Day's Races at the Detroit Track.

DETROIT, Mich., June 8. Six thousand people saw the second renewal of the Detroit Derby at the opening of the running meeting at Highland Park yesterday. Stanton and Vickers Strathmor colt Isabey won the Derby and the $1500 first money in clever style from Nabob and Miss Gussie. Alice Farley and Laverock were the other starters. They ran in close order all the way. Miss Gussie showed the way by a length for the first half mile, the others well bunched. Laverock then led the bunch until they straightened for the finish. At the quarter pole Isabey, who had been close up and well in, came in with a rush and won by a length and a half to the good. Nabob and Miss Gussie fought it for the place, and the former drew away near the end, and got the verdict. Alice Farley and Laverock were three lengths back. Isabey was always the favorite in the betting and Nabob was a strong second choice. Sixteen bookmakers handled the money, and were kept busy. Weather and track conditions were fine. Three of the six favorites won. Summary:

First race, 6 furlongs—Lennep, 100, Kuhn, 1 to 2, won; Takanassee, 102, Knapp, 2 to 1, 2; Belle of Corsica, 99, McKee, 100 to 1, 3. Time, 1.14. Ella Rae, Sister Clara, Farm Life, Santa Cruz, Wallipsie, and Snowden also ran.

Second race, half mile—C. Mitchell, 115, H. Lewis, 7 to 5, won; Contravene, 110, Sullivan, 30 to 1, 2; Mouseltoff, 110, Powers, 6 to 1, 3. Time, .49. Victory Rye and Jim Lick also ran.

Third race, selling, 7 furlongs—Reprieve, 167, Cottrell, 15 to 1, won; Onalaska, 105, Sullivan, 4 to 1, 2; Manzilla, 98, Crowhurst, 15 to 1, 3. Time, 1.28. Gracie C., Alamo, Irksome, Sifter, Will Wallace, and Bob Chance also ran.

Fourth race, Detroit Derby, 1 1-4 miles—Isabey, 122, Knapp, 4 to 5, won; Nabob, 122, H. Lewis, 13 to 5, 2; Miss Gussie, 109, Ross 40 to 1, 3. Time, 2.08 1-2. Alice Farley and Laverock also ran.

Fifth race 1 1-8 miles—Brighton, 97, Kuhn, 11 to 5, won; Our Johnny, 104, Shields, 2 to 1, 2; Old Saugus, 99, Henson, 40 to 1, 3. Time, 1.53. Otto H., Reckwood, Paul Kauvar, and Bagpipe also ran.

Sixth race, 7 furlongs Bon Jour, 102, Kuhn, 4 to 1, won; Pearl, 96, Reitz, 9 to 5, 2; Carlotta C., 105, Castro, 50 to 1, 3. Time, 1.27. Holy Land, Isen, Skillman, and Stanza also ran. Nicholas left at post.

YESTERDAY'S RACING AT STRATFORD.

STRATFORD, June 8.—The meeting of the Stratford Turf Association opened yesterday. The weather was fine, the track in excellent shape and the attendance very good for a first day. Unfortunately the starting judge, Mr. Culbertson, of New York, missed his connection at Niagara Falls in the morning and could not reach here in time for the races, and his substitute was not up to the mark at the business, and gave rather indifferent satisfaction. This will be remedied to-day, and a good day's sport is looked for.

LACROSSE.

DEFEAT WILL BENEFIT TORONTO.

TORONTO, June 8.—From the talk around among the Toronto players the defeat on Saturday administered by the Shamrocks will, perhaps, do more good than is found on the surface. Because the Toronto team is made up of the best material from Torontos and Tecumsehs of last year. It was thought that the outfit would prove invincible, that it merely had to turn around, win games, without effort, and collar the championship. The result on Saturday dissipated this beautiful vision, and practice is now going on with the proper conception as a working basis. There is no doubt that the team as it stands with one or two changes, which will be made next Saturday, can play winning lacrosse, and from the determination evinced by the players, the first of it will be seen at Rosedale on Saturday against Cornwall.

BILLY POWERS INJURED.

OTTAWA, June 8.—The Caps had an excellent practice last evening and will be in first class condition far Saturday's game here with the Shamrocks. Billy Powers was out for the first time last night, but injured one of his legs and will be unable to play. The team, with perhaps one exception, will be the same as defeated the Shamrocks on May 24th.

AQUATICS.

HOP AT POINTE CLAIRE.

The first dance of the season given by the Pointe Claire Boating Club will be held in the hospitable club house this evening. The committee in charge of arrangements have determined that it shall be a success and for some time past the event has been anticipated along the lake shore with the greatest pleasure. It will officially open the club house for the season. A large number of friends from Montreal are expected out for the evening, indeed all the club's friends have the heartiest invitation to be present.

VALOIS BOATING CLUB.

The annual meeting of the Valois Boating Club was held last night at the boathouse. The meeting was a large one, and very enthusiastic. The secretary and treasurer submitted their reports for the year, which were very satisfactory, the treasurer carrying forward a balance to the good.

After considerable discussion with matters connected with the club, the election of officers took place, and resulted as follows:

President—Wm. Strachan.
1st Vice-President—Dr. Oliver.
2nd Vice President—A. E. Walsh.
Hon. Secretary—Harry Paton.
Hon. Treasurer Douglas Hemsley.
Committee F. W. Barlow, F. Tremblay, W. Henderson, C. A. Lockerby, J. J. Riley, jr., J. Walsh, T. L. Paton.

The boat-house will be formerly opened by the new committee on Saturday night, Miss Riley officiating at the piano. Members from sister clubs in good standing will be welcome.

ROD AND GUN.

A PLEASANT EXCURSION.

Mr. A. Ibbotson, of Montreal, accompanied by Dr. P. P. Vosburg, of Montreal, had a pleasant fishing excursion to Rush Lake, in the vicinity of Lake Megantic, the sportsmen's paradise, last week. The gentlemen, under the direction of the well known and experienced guide, Tom Perry, had magnificent sport, securing over a hundred and fifty lake trout, many of them weighing over a pound. A loon was shot as part of their quarry, and is to be mounted, for it is a very handsome specimen of the crazy bird, so hard to shoot. Partridges were seen in large numbers, and the proscribed deer—splendid bucks, with antlers in an advanced condition of growth—were most tantalizingly plentiful. Bear and lynx are also in evidence in this marvellous region.

FOOTBALL.

EDDIE GLEESON MAY RETIRE.

OTTAWA, June 8.—It is now said that Eddie Gleeson, of the College football team, will not make an effort for reinstatement as an amateur, but will retire from sport. This is borne out by the College Owl, which has the following on the retirement of Gleeson and Clancy:

"It will seem very strange next autumn when the garnet and gray again shows on the field to have Tom Clancy and Eddie Gleeson with us no more. All that these two men have been to the champions of Canada during the past four years can be understood only by those who have followed the fifteen closely and are familiar with every detail of the work done. It will be long ere we see their places at centre forward and centre half back so satisfactorily filled. Their services are appreciated and they may rest assured that though absent from our future struggles, they will not be forgotten."

CRICKET.

THERE MAY NOT BE AN INTERNATIONAL MATCH THIS YEAR.

TORONTO, June 8.—"I don't think there will be any international cricket this year," said Mr. John E. Hall, secretary of the Canadian Cricket Association yesterday, "I have written to the secretary of the American Association, and they have ignored my letter. It is nearly two months since I addressed them. I will not write again, unless the association compels me to do so. They offered to play us on July 4 and 5, but we replied this was too early in the season, and we could not get our men in shape, and we offered to give them any date after August 1st. The standing agreement is that the Canadians shall visit Philadelphia the first Monday before September 15.

Bald and Kiser Win Their Events ---An Ottawa Opinion Regarding World's Championships.

OTTAWA, June 8.—President Beament, of the C. W. A., has not yet received any word from President Potter, of the L. A. W., that he was able to secure at Washington better Customs regulations for Canadian wheelmen going into the United States. The tourist rafic is starting, and the L. A. W. should get a move on if the officials intend to reciprocate the arrangement the L. A. W. members have on coming into Canada.

ZIMMERMAN IS IMPROVING.

Father of the Former Champion Wheelman Writes to the World that while his Son is Still Very Ill He Has a Chance to Get Well.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Following is the letter of Zimmerman's father to the Editor of the World :

Yours just received. Contents noted. I am pleased to say Arthur is a little better this p.m. and I will write you more particulars to-morrow. Thanking you kindly for inquiry and all past favors, believe me as ever, your friend,

T. A. ZIMMERMAN.

P.S.—June 6th, '98.—Your letter sent to Freehold came here too late to mail. I retained it until this a.m. Arthur is here at Mana square with me, was taken sick here and not at Freehold. He surely is a sick boy, scarcely knowing no one. No one is permitted to enter his room save his wife and nurse. The doctors state he is still improving this a.m. This will be his ninth day sick, and trust he will pull through.

Truly yours,
T. A. ZIMMERMAN.

ZIMMERMAN SHOWS SLIGHT IMPROVEMENT.

MANASQUAN, June 8.—Arthur Zimmerman, the greatest cycle rider of the age, is a little better to-day. "Zimmy" lies sick at the home of his father in this city and is lovingly cared for. To-day his father said : "Arthur is a very, very sick boy. He knows no one. Not a soul is allowed to enter his room save his wife and a nurse. The doctors state that he shows slight signs of improvement. He has two skilled physicians constantly with him."

AN OTTAWA OPINION OF THE MATTER.

If Montreal's offer for the world's bicycle meet for 1899 as published is correct, said a well known C.W.A. man, Toronto is likely to get the meet in a walk. Toronto is reported to have made a bona fide offer, the best they could make, but Montreal simply offers to send the rider and delegates to Vienna and discuss further details. The C.W.A. is not likely to dicker any further with Montreal, whose game appears to have been to learn Toronto's offer and then go a little better in discussing details. The two cities were asked to submit their best offers and if Montreal has not done so the meet will likely go to Toronto.—Ottawa Journal.

BALD AND KISER WON THEIR RACES.

ROHCESTER, N. Y. June 8.—The National Circuit race meet of the Lakeview Wheelmen attracted four thousand people to Culver Park yesterday afternoon. Bald and Kiser, the favorites, won the one-mile championship and two mile professional handicap respectively. Summary:

One mile National Championship, professional, final heat, E. C. Bald, Buffalo, won; Arthur Gardner, Chicago, 2; A. C. Mertens, St. Paul, third. Time 2.04 1-5.

SPOKES.

About this time of the year the cyclists begin to look about for the usual dark horse for the championships. Few have been spoken of this year, however. From Sarnia comes the news that they have an amateur cracker jack, who is laying low for the C. W. A. meet at Peterboro' on July 1st. It is said that the Sarnia lad rode two miles recently unpaced on a half mile horse track in 4.02.

Judge Morson, at Toronto on Tuesday, gave judgment in the case of William White, farmer, vs. P. McIntosh & Sons, grain buyers. White sued for a balance of account on a load of grain. At the time of the sale the buyers inspected one bag of the load, and bought at $1.02 per bushel. Subsequently they claimed that the balance of the load was of an inferior quality, and only allowed 80 cents per bushel. Judge Morson held that as the farmer was not asked and never said that the load was all alike in quality, he is not responsible, and gave judgment accordingly.

SKAGWAY AND WRANGEL.

Both Places Are Exceedingly Quiet Just Now.

MUCH DISAPPOINTMENT REGARDING THE MacKENZIE & MANN RAILWAY.

(Special to the Star.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 8.—The steamer Coquitlam arrived from Skagway and Wrangel yesterday. Construction has been commenced on the Dyea railway to connect with the aerial train at the summit.

Skagway is very quiet at present. On Memorial day a great celebration took place in the Opera house, amid orations of patriotism and music. Afterwards the graves of the Skagway pioneers were decorated.

At Wrangel everything is quiet. Glenora is, however, overcrowded, and very active. There is keen disappointment at the delay over the MacKenzie and Mann road. One hundred and fifty men are working on the waggon road, which was expected to reach the summit on May 30th.

MacKenzie and Mann have eight miles of roadway cleared. If the railway is not built this route is doomed.

D. D. Mann arrived here yesterday. He leaves to-day for Victoria to interview Premier Turner and Vice-President Shaughnessy, of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

To anxious enquirers he said that when he returned from Victoria he could say positively whether the road could be built or not. Mr. Mann confirmed the statement that his firm had obtained a contract for the building of a portion of the Robson Penticton Railway.

There was a mutiny on the Canadian Pacific Railway steamer Tartar yesterday. Ten men deserted, claiming that the captain was an excessively strict disciplinarian, and they thought that according to the British law they could quit 48 hours after reaching port. The Magistrate explained that the Canadian law was different. The men were arrested and given the choice of gaol or returnig to the ship. They returned to the ship.

ANGLO-AMERICAN CONCORD.

A Committee Formed in London to Make the Present Friendship Permanent.

LONDON, June 8.—The Chronicle yesterday printed a preliminary list of the members of an Anglo-American committee, the declared object of which is to promote better relations between Great Britain and the United States.

The committee does not aim at a treaty or other bond of alliance. It aspires only, in the words of the Right Hon. James Bryce, to "a constant, cordial co-operation." It excludes from its sphere of operations anything directly concerning the present war and does not intend to present any kind of public demonstration.

The idea of the promoters is to enroll 10,000 representative men and women in Great Britain. More than a hundred have already signified their intention of joining the committee, including the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Archbishop of York, the Duke of Fife, the Earl of Jersey, Earl Grey, the Bishops of London, Durham, Winchester, Chester, Hereford, Liverpool, Manchester, Worcester, Ripon and Peterborough; Viscount Peel, Lords Brassey, Coleridge, Farrer, Kinnaird, Lister, Welby and Charles Beresford, and Messrs. Asquith, Bryce, Mowbray, Northcote, H. M. Stanley, M.P., Sir Frederic Pollock, Dr. Broadbent (the Prince of Wales' physician), Lewis Morris, Sir Walter Besant, Ian MacLaren, Anthony Hope, Conan Doyle, Rudyard Kipling, and a number of the leading non-conformist clergymen.

MRS. STERNAMAN.

This Unfortunate Woman Will Now Practically be Tried a Third Time.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 8.—Mrs. Oliver Sternaman, recently acquitted at Cayuga of the charge of murdering her husband, was in the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon. It was expected that the suit entered by her against the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company to recover $1,000 insurance on the life of her late husband would come up. Another case, however, occupied the attention of the court until adjournment, and Mrs. Sternaman's case went over. The insurance company sets up the defence that Mrs. Sternaman murdered her husband and refuse to pay the money. Mrs. Sternaman, therefore, as a matter of fact, will be tried again for the murder of her husband.

Speeches were made setting forth the services of Mr. Dryden in the past and his knowledge and experience of farm and stock breeding.

GODERICH, Ont., June 8.—Mr. M. C. Cameron, ex-M.P. for West Huron, was duly sworn in as Lieutenant-Governor of the North-West Territories yesterday afternoon at his own residence, by Mr. John J. THE BELFAST RIOTS.

A Renewal of the Trouble Last Night Quelled by the Police.

BELFAST, June 8.—Last night there was a renewal of the riotings that began yesterday. The Nationalists attacked a body of Orangemen who were leaving their work and there was a veritable hurricane of scrap iron and other missiles. The police at first were overpowered, but, having been reinforced, they cleared the streets with a free use of their clubs.

A HORRIBLE MURDER.

An Intoxicated Son Kills His Father With an Axe.

ATTACKED THE BODY AND CUT OFF A LEG—IS NOW FLEEING FROM JUSTICE.

HARTLAND, N. B., June 8.—Word comes to Hartland of a fearful atrocity that occurred Monday evening at Blaine Maine. It is reported that Daniel Murphy was slain by his seventeen year old son while the latter was in a state of intoxication. The young fellow struck his father a blow on the forehead that rendered him unconscious and then horribly hacked the body, cutting off the right leg. Soon after this the young fellow realizing of his terrible deed took the precaution to flee from justice. Deputy Sheriffs were at once notified and a vigilant search is now going on. One of these in company with Constable McFarlan, of Woodstock, was here yesterday and several parties have started to look for the perpetrator of the awful crime. The victim was a little weak minded. He was well known in Hartland and in Woodstock where he served for some time as hostler at the Victoria Hotel.

A ST. ARMAND SUICIDE.

Rodney Hunter Kills Himself While Temporarily Insane.

(Special to the Star.)

SWEETSBURG, June 8.—Last Friday Coroner Fuller, of Sweetsburg, was called to hold an inquest on the body of Rodney Hunter, of St. Armand East, who was found dead in the haymow of one of his barns not very far from his residence. The body was found at about seven o'clock in the morning by one of the sons of deceased. The last seen of Mr. Hunter alive was on the night previous, when his wife had left him sitting up in bed. He had been unable to lie down for several weeks, owing to heart weakness, and for a number of years had suffered from very poor health generally, and it was no doubt owing to his brooding over his condition that induced a state of temporary insanity, during which he had ended his life. He was found with a revolver grasped in his right hand with one of the chambers empty. There was a bullet wound over the right ear. The jury returned a verdict of suicide, while laboring under a fit of temporary insanity. Deceased was partner in the firm of Hunter & Harvey, woollen manufacturers. He was 56 years of age, and leaves a widow and several sons and daughters, all grown up. He was very highly respected by all his neighbors and acquaintances, and was a man of nobility and honor.

AN INSURANCE CASE.

Company Contests a Policy on a Man Giving His Wrong Age.

TORONTO, June 8.—The Master-in-Ordinary has endorsed the case of Macdonald vs. the Massachusetts Life Insurance Association to look up the Massachusetts law in point. The widow of Thomas Macdonald, of Montreal, sues to recover a $5000 policy on the life of her deceased husband. Macdonald was insured in 1895, and died in 1897. His policy was contested because he had represented himself as a year younger than he really was. The insurance company took advantage of the clause, which makes three years the term after which a policy is incontestable. Mr. Frank Denton, for the plaintiff, pointed out that under the Dominion statute errors in age do not void the policy, but the amount may be reduced on adjustment, and that the company, which is doing business under a Dominion license, should come under Dominion laws.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

Pledges of the Epworth League Becoming Too Numerous.

(Special to the Star.)

GUELPH, Ont., June 8.—At Monday afternoon's session of the Hamilton Conference of the Methodist Church, the General Conference Committee on memorials presented its report. Among the memorials was one from the St. Catharines district relating to Sabbath observance, in which the General Conference was asked to include in the Epworth League Pledge the following addition: "And I will observe the Lord's Day as a holy day." The discussion on this memorial, which is aimed most directly at Sunday bicycling, was long and animated. A number of speakers urged its adoption, but a large and influential portion of the meeting opposed the memorial on the ground that the multiplication of pledges for acceptance by the young was becoming a distinct evil. Finally, on a vote being taken, a large majority of the meeting ordered the elimination of the memorial from the report.

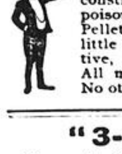
The drummer who tries to talk a merchant into purchasing a bill of goods may be handicapped by a face rendered unsightly by pimples and blotches and by a foul breath. Some men imagine that bad health does not handicap them in business. A bigger mistake was never made. The slightest disorder may be the biggest kind of a detriment to a business man. An unsightly skin is caused by impurities of the blood. A foul breath means a weak stomach, an impaired digestion and an inactive liver. A sweet breath means that the stomach is sweet, the digestion good, the liver active and the bowels regular. It is an indication of a thoroughly constitutional sweetness. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach, facilitates the flow of digestive juices, gives edge to the appetite, makes digestion and assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It is the great blood-purifier. It makes the eye brighter, the skin clearer, the breath sweeter and the step more elastic. It imparts both mental and bodily activity. It cures all diseases resulting from impurities in the blood. Found at all medicine stores.

"I was a complete wreck; appetite gone, nervous system impaired; could not sleep; and was so weak that I could not stand on my feet ten minutes," writes Miss Ella Bartley, of No. 213½ South Grant Ave., Columbus, Ohio. "I only weighed 95½ pounds. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cured me and now I have an excellent appetite, sleep soundly and my friends say they never saw me so well."



A man or woman who neglects constipation suffers from slow poisoning. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. All medicine dealers sell them. No other pills are "just as good."

FOUR BOYS ARRESTED.

They Are Accused of Breaking Into Houses and Stealing Fixtures.

The recent depredations committed by the gangs of young boys who are in the habit of stripping vacant houses of lead pipe and other metal fixtures will be put a stop to. Many complaints have been made to Chief Detective Carpenter against these young vandals, who had, in the absence of the owners, almost completely ruined the fixtures of several expensive houses in the upper part of the city. Dr. Brennan, of St. Denis street, is one of the losers, and his house at 364 Sherbrooke street was rifled to the extent of about $1800.

The Chief has made a raid on these young criminals, and within the last three days upwards of a dozen have been arrested. Yesterday Detective Charpentier, Cote and Samson caught Arthur Fiset, of 309 Drolet street; Emile David, of St. Hubert street; Wilfred Bourguingoin, of Montana street, and Ernest Cousineau, of Church street. They were brought before Magistrate McMahon yesterday, and, notwithstanding the entreaties of the mothers, the Magistrate found sufficient evidence against them to remand them for enquete.

HARBOR PLANS.

Mayor Prefontaine Says the Government Has Decided to Pass the Harbor Bill, and Make

MONTREAL A NATIONAL PORT.

The Government Will Substantially Assist the Commissioners in the Undertaking.

ACTION DEFERRED JUST NOW.

Announcement That Expression of Opinion at the Present Would be Useless.

The interest with which the meeting of the Harbor Commissioners yesterday afternoon was looked forward to by a news loving public was not developed by the proceedings of the meeting itself when it took place. The absorbing question of harbor improvements was not even discussed, with the exception of a passing reference to a particular phase, and the views of individual members are not yet definitely on record.

As on the occasion of the meeting last Thursday, Mayor Prefontaine movewd the adjournment when the item of harbor improvements came up, and the motion was carried. Both sides appeared willing that the adjournment should take place. The Mayor explained that the Government had determined to pass the bill introduced in the House providing for the harbor loan, and that any expression of opinion by the Harbor Commissioners at the present time would amount to nothing. After the Government had obtained from Parliament the power which the provisions of the bill gave them, it would remain for them to settle with the Harbor Board, and the Board might well wait till that time came.

The other members agreed that an adjournment might therefore as well be taken and the matter went over to the next regular meeting.

The circumstances of the adjournment last Thursday, with the newspaper discussion which followed, and the several statements made by the Hon. Mr. Tarte at Ottawa yesterday, had promised a different outcome of the meeting, and the tables set apart for the newspaper men were filled by representatives of the local press and the correspondents of papers in other cities when the hour for the meeting arrived.

Mr. Robert Bickerdike occupied the chair, in the absence of the president, Mr. Robert Mackay, who was still ill, and there were present, besides: His Worship Mayor Prefontaine, A. A. Allan, D. G. Thomson, Wm. Farrell, E. H. Lemay, John Torrance, Jos. Racine, Jos. Contant and Jonathan Hodgson.

It lacked just five minutes of three when the reading of the minutes was completed by the secretary, and the Mayor announced that some legal gentlemen were waiting outside to present a petition in connection with pilotage matters. Hon. Chas. Langelier and Mr. E. M. St. Jean were then admitted, as the legal gentlemen in question. Mr. St. Jean presented a petition, which he said was for the purpose of permitting the Pilots of the Tour de Role to keep agents at Montreal, with whom the captains and managers of the steamship lines could negotiate. This, it was claimed, would be advantageous in many respects, resulting in a saving of travelling expenses and a more equitable distribution of business among the pilots. It was the desire of the pilots of the Tour de Role to pool their earnings and divide them at the end of the season. The matter was referred to the Pilots Committee.

A number of communications of minor interest were then read by the secretary, and the first mention of the matter of harbor improvements was contained in a letter from the secretary of the Board of Trade, enclosing a resolution passed by the Council of the Board, protesting against the construction of a dry-dock in the east end, with funds provided by the Harbor Commissioners. Similar communications protesting against the dry-dock project were read from the Corn Exchange and representatives of the shipping interests. These resolutions have already appeared in the Star.

When the letters were read, Mayor Prefontaine moved the adjournment of the meeting. Mr. Lemay, seconded the motion to adjourn, but Mr. Thomson wanted the board to come to a decision on the matter of harbor improvements, as embodied in the resolution of the Mayor some days ago. Mr. Thomson wanted to know what would be the effect of a failure of the Harbor Board to express its opinion before the adjournment of Parliament.

In reply to this, the Mayor said that any present expression of opinion by the Commissioners would count for nothing. The Government intended to pass the Harbor Loan Bill, and after the bill had been passed it remained for the Commissioners to either accept or reject the Government's proposals.

The Mayor said that it was the intention of the Government, repeatedly asserted by its responsible Ministers, to make of Montreal a national port. This being the case, His Worship thought it might be taken for granted that the Government would see to it that what was essential for the proper equipment of the port would be provided.

Mr. Thomson wanted to know if the Mayor had any assurances that the Government would furnish any of the money necessary for carrying out the plans it contemplated. To which Mr. Prefontaine replied that he believed that any shortage in the needed funds, as available out of the revenues of the Harbor Board would be supplied by the Government.

The meeting then adjourned till next Tuesday.

The question of the electric lighting of the home was left in the hands of the treasurer.

CHARITABLE WORK.

Of the Irish Protestant Benevolent Society.

At the quarterly meeting of the Irish Protestant Benevolent Society held on Monday night, the society was launched into another very successful quarter. As shown by the quarterly report of the Charitable Committee, the society had assisted 196 families during the months of March, April and May, had given away 16½ tons of coal and 5½ cords of wood, while 165 pounds of meat had also been dealt out to deserving poor, and 223 large loaves of bread distributed, in addition to a large quantity of tea and oatmeal. The society were pleased to acknowledge the receipt of two cash donations. In view of the popularity of the concerts, it is possible that the society may decide to hold another during the autumn season.

THE CLUB LETELLIER

Congratulate Messrs. Tarte, Desmarais and Mayor Prefontaine.

At the meeting of the Club Letellier the following resolution was adopted upon motion of Elie Gauthier, seconded by Ed. Girard: "That the members of the Laurier Club take, with pleasure, the opportunity of presenting their warmest felicitations to their honorary vice-president, Mayor Prefontaine, member for Maisonneuve; Hon. Mr. Tarte, Minister of Public Works, and Mr. O. Desmarais, member of the St. Jacques division, for the way they have worked in the interests of the club, and especially for having done everything in their power to have justice done to the eastern part of the city in the way of harbor improvements. It is but fair to state it and it is of such a nature as to favor equally the several parts of Montreal city, which are every day increasing and acquiring more importance.

Resolutions of condolence were also adopted with the members of the family of the late Mr. A. N. Monpetit. It was also decided to hold a political picnic on the Exhibition Grounds some time in August.

CASE NOT PROVEN.

Judge Doherty has dismissed the case of Pierre Malo vs. Alderic Bleau and Pierre Malo vs. Adelard Carriere. The plaintiff sought to recover $399 damages by reason of the death of his daughter who, while walking on the public road in the parish of Riviere des Prairies, was knocked down and crushed by a horse and waggon owned by Bleau and driven by Carriere. The Court held that the plaintiff had failed to make out his case or to attach any blame to defendants.

JUDGMENT RENDERED.

In the case of the Mechanic's Institute vs. Mrs. A. The Golden Rock

BY ERNEST GLANVILLE.

ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

CHAPTER XIV.—(Continued.)

Within the patio of the white-walled convent, where the hot air was cooled by swinging mats and the spray of a fountain, Miss Anstrade, within a week of her arrival, was reclining in a long wicker-work chair, with two young men at her side. She had quickly recovered under the tender hands of the sisters, and was now listening to the plans made for her departure for England. She was dressed in white, with a rich red rose for her only ornament, and a deep pallor in her cheeks from her recent illness, her figure, by contrast with the sun-browned men at her side, looking altogether slight and delicate.

"I understand you are not returning to England; what, then, if I may ask, are your intentions? You surely do not mean to remain on this cinder?"

"Do you remember," said Hume, "what I told you of the Golden Rock?"

"A long time since, was it not? but I remember it well, and the strange feeling of second sight that came upon me, so that it seemed to me I saw the flash and sparkle of the Rock in a savage land. I weaved a romance about it in that time before—before the world changed to me."

The two men looked enquiringly at each other, for they had found no romance in the thought of the Rock, only a thought of money.

"Everyone," she continued in a dreamy voice, "has a Golden Rock somewhere within the sweep of his horizon—a gleaming spot of whiteness that fills them in times of depression, with hope of better things. But you have not told me."

"We have talked it over, and Webster has promised to throw in his lot with me, though I am afraid it will be a fearful loss of time to him."

"This man has no imagination Miss Anstrade; but, as for me, I thoroughly believe in this mountain of gold that awaits us, and look upon my fortune as already made."

"Ah! yes, it is there; and how happy you will be seeking for it, strong in your friendship and confident in your strength, while I—I must go back to the old life, a prey to my thoughts." She brought her brows together in a frown, and then leant back in her chair with an air of depressoin.

"I am afraid," said Frank, slowly, "there is little romance awaiting us, and little pleasure, for the difficulties are great."

"Still, you will be together, and the joy of companionship compensates. When do you go?"

"By the first opportunity after you sail, Miss Anstrade."

"So," she said, pulling the petals from her rose, "you abandon me; leave me to go back alone among strangers, with my memory."

"We will return with you, Madame, if you wish it, but we could be of no further assistance to you, else, be sure, we would not have thought of our plans."

"But I have money yet, and could equip another ship."

"Yes, Madame; but the war in Brazil is near its end. The news was brought yesterday. The Government has triumphed."

"Ah!" She let her hands drop in her lap, and looked straight before her. "And what of my father?"

"Colonel de Anstrade lost his life in the attack upon the castle, whilst gallantly leading a sortie on the Government troops. He died like a soldier."

There was a long silence. She made a sign of the cross, but gave way to no storm of weeping, being dulled by the force of grief. Presently a sister stole to her side, and they withdrew, going back to the little town to await the arrival of the steamer from Cape Town, which was reported due within two days. Before that time, while they thought of returning for the last time to the convent, a cart drew up before the small hotel, and out of it stepped Miss Astrade herself.

"You see," she said with a wan smile, "I have recovered, and since you have not been to call on me I have come to you."

"We are just about setting off, having waited for certain information of the steamer. If the good sisters had allowed it we would have remained near you all the time."

"Aye, kept watch and watch without the walls, and every night we strolled to the fort to see the distant light on the convent tower. If there was anything amiss with you the sister agreed to show two lights, when we'd have posted off."

"So you did not forget me, then," she said, with one of her old radiant smiles.

"No more than the sailor could forget the lone star by which he steers in the dark night."

"We have your luggage ready, Miss Anstrade," said Hume, after handing her to a seat on the balcony, "and we are ready to go with you to England."

"And the Golden Rock?"

"That can wait for a few more months."

"There may be others in search of it. No, you must not lose no time, for success will not wait upon your leisure. Remember how delay thwarted my plan, leaving me without a comfort or a friend in the world."

"Are not we your friends?" they said, leaning eagerly forward.

"Friends of a day—gone to-morrow—forgotten, and forgetting in a while."

"You may forget," murmured Frank, "but we will never."

She looked at them a moment steadily.

"Women do not forget. Their lives are confined by convention, narrowed down by small duties—the memories they have of things outside their usual limit remain with them always. I will not forget—oh! would to heaven I could rub out the events of the last month."

"Would you blot us out also?"

"Why not? I cannot, but if I could, why not? You are passing away into fresh scenes and excitements, where your regrets will vanish, and your memories be blurred. But what is then left for me?"

"You are young, Miss Anstrade, and it is not meant that youth should suffer."

"When do you sail?"

"We sail with you to-morrow."

"I am not going."

"What!"

"Yes; I will remain here. There is work in the Convent yonder for such as would forget."

"You cannot mean it," said Hume, looking at her steadily. "No; it is impossible It would be cruel."

"I astonish you, my friends; and yet, if you consider, it is very reasonable this step of mine. I have talked with the gentle sisters, and found them steeped in a loving patience that knows no fear of the past and allows no dread of the future. Yet some of them gave up more than I do—brothers, sisters, even lovers."

"It is horrible! And this island of all places, with a copper heaven above and an earth of iron below."

"We can't allow it," said Webster, gruffly.

"Then take me with you," she said, softly, as she bent forward, with a flush in her cheeks.

CHAPTER XV.—A QUARREL.

They had left behind them the arid rock of Ascension, the murmur of the sea, and all that it spoke to them of tragedy and defeated hopes. They had passed from under the granite walls of Table Mountain, through the vine-clad valleys of the Paarl up on to the melancholy plateau of the Karroo, crossed the Orange River in the night, sped for a day through the treeless flats of the Free State, and had arrived at Pretoria—a town of strange contrasts, where the low-walled house of the old days stood in the shadow of the lofty modern building, where the slow moving Boer looked askance at the restless uitlanders, unwelcome visitors from the crowded haunts of Europe.

Before them was the Golden Rock, the "fairy spot," already glorified by a halo of mystery, the goal of their endeavors, whose brightness lured them on, though they secretly feared it would always elude their grasp; and behind, like a dream vividly remembered, was a vision of a calm sea, and a ship rushing to its doom. For them there was no interest in the people around them; but they were observed and discussed with a freedom that did not stick at coarseness.

In the verandah of the principal hotel after dinner when the men were smoking over their coffee, and there was no other lady but Miss Anstrade, drinking in the cool of the evening, the conversation grew both free and loud, especially at one corner, where a party of three leant with their backs to a balustrade and laughed boisterously at each other's jokes.

"She is an actress," said one. "I can see that from the way she manoeuvres her fan."

"You're wrong, for a fiver. Why, she wears no jewellery!"

"Done with you. I say, Coetzee, step up and ask who she is."

"Coetzee darn't do it. Another fiver he does not ask."

"Stuff man; you should know better than to dare Coetzee after dinner. Eh, Piet?"

"What is it you say?" asked the third of the noisy group—a tall, powerfully-built young Dutchman. "She looked at me a minute ago, and if it was not an invitation, I'm mistaken in woman."

"And you know them so well, don't you?" said the first man, with a sneer.

"None better, although the little barmaid did throw him over for five feet ten of starched collar and eyeglass."

"You laugh, you skeppsels, but you know well I could take the two of you, one in either hand, and drop you into the street."

SIR MACKENZIE FINDS A WAY.

What the Government has joined together, Sir Mackenzie Bowell seems inclined to put asunder. He has announced that if the Government will not accept the reasonable Senate amendment to the franchise bill, thus condemning that measure to the shambles, he will move to amend the plebiscite bill so as to permit the vote on Prohibition to be taken at once on the existing Provincial voters lists, without, however, tieing the country up to the use of these lists for all purposes in the future.

This is an exceedingly simple and common-sense path out of the difficulty. The Liberals have promised the temperance people a Federal plebiscite. They probably did this because they could think of nothing else to promise them when they were out of office and needed their votes. No politician imagines that the plebiscite is going to do anybody any good or any harm, for that matter. But the Liberals made the promise, and it did look for a while as if they were going to make an exception of this promise and keep it. But when the bill came down, it was found to be tied arbitrarily up to another bill about whose fate there was considerable doubt. This was keeping a promise in anything but a generous spirit; and now that the Senate and the Government have come to a dead lock over the plebiscite's travelling mate," it is equivalent to the breaking of the pledge.

But the Government had a plausible excuse ready. Was it not necessary to have some kind of voters lists on which to hold the plebiscite election? And were not the existing Federal lists too old? And, as the Government intended to provide for a new franchise arrangement anyway, was it not obviously the right thing to order the plebiscite polling on these new lists? These provincial lists, which the Government intended to appropriate, would be comparatively fresh; and would enfranchise the young man while cutting down the cemetery vote. Nothing could be neater. So the two bills were attached to each other; and when the Senate asked for the improvement of one, it was told that it was killing the other.

But the Bowell proposition cuts this deftly tied Gordian knot. It frankly accepts the contention of the Government, and points out a way in which the plebiscite can be given the advantages of the new lists without involving it for a moment in the ruin which now seems to threaten the Ministerial franchise bill. These provincial lists are not to be created by "the franchise bill of 1898." They already exist, and are only to be appropriated by that bill. So why not, says Sir Mackenzie Bowell, appropriate them for the purposes of the plebiscite at once; and fight over the provisions of the franchise bill at our leisure? In this way the plebiscite will not be delayed by a thorough and painstaking discussion of the franchise measure; and we shall probably have some kind of settlement of the franchise question before the lists are needed for the next general elections.

The Ministers will, no doubt, be overjoyed at the discovery of this easy way out of the trouble into which their unequalled yoking together of different measures has brought them; though it is just possible that they will succeed in dissembling their gratitude. They may even deny themselves so far as to reject the proposition though that will necessitate the invention of a brand new set of "reasons."

THE ATTACK ON HANSARD.

The growing frequency of the attacks upon "Hansard" seems to foreshadow something like an agitation for either its curtailment or its abolition. It may as well be set down to begin with, that a condensed "Hansard" would not be worth the paper it must be printed on. If "Hansard" is not the verbatim record of the preceedings of Parliament, it is of no more value than a file of any first class newspaper which reports the debates; and the file room of the library of Parliament could supply every need that the best condensed "Hansard" would meet. There, members could hardly fail to find any rendering of any especial speech which might serve their purpose; and any reference to the discussion of a past session would bring out a delightful Babel of contradictory reports. Those who are so ready to spare the country the expense of "Hansard" surely forget or else never knew the reason for its establishment. Newspaper reports were then more inclined to be mere formal records of the debates of the House than they are now; but still there was no authoritative record to which members coud refer and say that these were the words of the honorable gentleman on that occasion. It was too often possible for the hon. gentleman to fish another newspaper out of his desk and assert that it and not the paper quoted by his opponent had the correct report. And it was to put an end to this nuisance that "Hansard" was established.

But it is not necessary to go back to the benighted days when party journalism was confessedly more in vogue than it is now to find cases of contradictory reporting. The "stump" still shows us what a political speech without "Hansard" may be like.

The First Minister himself will remember the great doubt that existed for a long time and for that matter yet eixsts in some quarters as to whether he did or did not on a certain occasion thank the Deity that there were no members of a certain order "amongst us, the Liberals." A perfectly faithful report of a political speech is by no means certain to go unchallenged; and the consequence of this is that our people place little store by the "stump" as a place where authoritative public utterances may be expected.

It may easily be that the cost of printing "Hansard" can be reduced. That is a legitimate subject for enquiry by a Parliamentary committee; but any scheme for either condensing or abolishing "Hansard" ought not to be considered for a moment. To saddle that publication with the odium of the long speeches which are certainly becoming too common in Parliament, is a superficial judgment when pronounced by an outsider, but is something decidedly more objectionable when it comes from the members of Parliament themselves. It is within their own power to stop haranguing their constituents at long range from their Parliamentary desks and to confine themselves to debating; and they would exercise this self-restraint more if they realized how little political benefit they secure by these inappropriate and tiresome speech-makings. To deprive Parliament and the country of an official report of the proceedings of the two Houses because they cannot keep themselves from talking too much, if their talk is certain to get into print, is like getting grown folks to stop eating certain things in the presence of children lest the latter ask for them.

MR. BELLINGHAM'S CASE.

On Wednesday, June 1, there was published in the columns of the Star a statement, based on what was considered reliable information from Edmonton, that "Mr. William Bellingham, of Montreal, who was arrested at Edmonton on the 26th April, charged with defrauding the Traders and Mining Co. of Canada, has been ordered to return to Montreal, where the preliminary enquiry into his case will be held. The reason for this is that all the important witnesses in the case hail from the Canadian metropolis."

Later information from Edmonton states that the exact contrary was the case. Mr. Bellingham was not only not committed for trial at Montreal, but was completely exonerated by the evidence of every witness heard in the case. There was no proof of any attempt to defraud on the part of Mr. Bellingham; he was not imprisoned and has been at liberty ever since he left Montreal of his own free will, to do what lay in his power to remedy the grievance of those who were induced to go out to the western country by misrepresentations.

WORKMAN INJURED.

Jas. Meek, of 309 Visitation street, was badly injured at the Wellington bridge yesterday morning at about half past nine, by the fall of an iron shod block. The block was being raised aloft by the derrick when, slipping from the grip, it struck Meeker on the back. His spinal column was badly injured, and he was removed to the Western Hospital for treatment.

MR. OGILVIE'S KLONDIKE BOOK

The St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary Revelations Discussed in the Commons.

(From the Star's Special Correspondents.)

OTTAWA, June 8.—When the afternoon sitting of the House opened on Tuesday the members proceeded at once to the estimates, giving further consideration to the vote of $8,500 to provide for expense of the commission in the Crow's Nest Pass Railway inquiry.

The debate was a continuation of that carried on at the morning sitting, a ringing condemnation of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for the manner in which workingmen have been treated while at work upon the mountain railway. The speakers of the afternoon were quite as outspoken as were those of the forenoon, but, perhaps, their language was not so strong as that used by Mr. Ross Robertson.

Mr. Bertram was the first speaker. He had read the report, and it showed that the workmen had been badly treated, the food had been poor, and the housing wretched. He wished to see the whole matter thoroughly investigated.

Mr. Jameson, in the course of his remarks, expressed no surprise at the conduct of the Canadian Pacific Railway. He had seen its treatment of the settlers of the North West. The system employed in the Crow's Nest Pass had simply been one of robbing systematically carried out. At the rate of wages and cost of living, a man would work all year, and at the end of that period he would have five or six dollars clear. The contracts with the men had been violated, and damages should be collected. He suggested a remedy. The Canadian Pacific Railway were to receive $3,500,000 from the Federal Government in the form of railway subsidies. Let the damages be collected by stopping them out of such subsidies.

LET JUSTICE BE DONE.

Mr. Richardson added to the indictment against the Canadian Pacific Railway. He had been informed that the superintendent of construction received a certain percentage of the sum he saved on construction below a certain figure. He shared in such saving, and so had an interest in grinding down the poor workmen. Mr. Richardson wished the blame placed where it belonged. Let justice be done, no matter how high in official and railway circles the enquiry would have to go.

Mr. Rogers loked upon the Crow's Nest case as another illustration of the need of a competent and impartial railway commission to adjudicate in such matters and protect the public.

Mr. Ross Robertson here answered a remark made during the debate of the forenoon. An attempt, he said should be made to learn if any official tried to assist the Canadian Pacific Railway in this case. As to Canadian Pacific Directors, if they were called to the bar of the House to answer for these things, he hoped the director, who is a member of the House, would stand with the others and make defence in answer to the charges brought against them.

MR. CHARLESON'S SON.

Mr. Clarke raised a new point. It was stated that J. B. Charleson, an employe of the Public Works Department, had engaged many men for the contractors and sent them out to the Crow's Nest Pass railway.

Mr. Tarte, in reply, said he had seen the name mentioned in the report, but had since been informed that the person referred to was a son of the Charleson in his department.

Mr. Poupore corroborated that. He personally knew the men and it was a son of J. B. Charleson, who engaged the men. He had seen the son at Renfrew and at Pembroke.

Mr. Foster informed Mr. Tarte that he would insist upon more positive information, which the Minister promised to give.

Here the matter was talked out and the vote carried.

THE CARE OF RECORDS.

The sum of $1,000 was voted for classifying records of the public departments.

Mr. Ross Robertson here made an appeal for more care of the public records. Last year, he said, many papers were carted away from the office of the Privy Council, and among them were books of great value as public records. He suggested that next year $40,000 be spent upon a building in which to collect the public records of Canada.

The Premier thanked Mr. Ross Robertson for having brought this matter to the House. There should be a better system for the arrangement and preservation of the public records. The valuable geological collection also needed safer and larger accommodation. It might be that the Government would be able to see its way to construct a suitable fire-proof building, one part of which could be used as a geological museum and the other part as a record office.

Good progress was made with the votes, and many were passed with very little discussion.

BEHRING SEA CLAIMS.

One vote was for $20,000, being further emount required for Behring Sea claims commission. Sir Louis Davis explained Great Britain had agreed to pay one-half of the visible expense, which, at that time, was one-half of $16,000. The cost had been $30,000, voted in 1896, and $20,000 in 1897, a total of $50,000. The total cost of the commission had been $70,000, leaving $20,000 to be provided for, of which Great Britain would pay $8,000, as agreed, at the opening of the case.

VOTES FOR MAIL SUBSIDIES

and steamship subventions were carried without much discussion; also votes for the ocean and river service. The sum of $10,000 was voted for repairs to fishery protection service steamers. The greater part of this sum is to be spent upon "La Canadienne," damaged through collision with the United States steamship "Yantic." Of course the department expects to be recouped.

One vote of $60,000 for immigration stood until certain information is produced by the Minister.

THE KLONDIKE GUIDE.

The Yukon Provisional District called for $550,000, of which $5000 was for the purpose of paying a gratuity to William Ogilvie in recognition of his services in connection with exploring and surveying the Yukon district. Upon this arose a discussion over the printing of the Ogilvie Klondike Guide by the Toronto firm of Hunter, Rose & Co. The book had been practically given to them. The criticism was led by Mr. Ross Robertson and Mr. Clarke, both practical printers and publishers. The former claimed that the Klondike Guide would cost about 12 cents per copy for a fifty thousand edition. Then the book had been sold to the general public at fifty cents per copy. That tended to restrict the circulation and consequently Canada was not so widely advertised as the country should have been and would have been if a cheaper book had been issued. Both contended that the work should have been done by the Printing Bureau, and so said Mr. Foster.

To this Mr. Sifton said that the Bureau, with its ordinary work, could not have got out the Guide in time.

Mr. Foster did not admit that, but if so, why were not tenders asked for? Why close a deal with Hunter, Rose & Co.?

Mr. Foster went on to show that the Guide could have been so supplemented with other matter as to have made it a most valuable immigration advertisement. The whole thing had been a blunder.

The Government had thrown to the wind the system of public tender. They had had an example of it in the case of the Coteau dredging, where Mr. Tarte had let a contract to a relative in order that the latter might farm it out to political friends. A more disgraceful admission had never been made in any constitutional parliament.

THE PENITENTIARY COMMISSION

items were taken, while papers connected with the Yukon District were being sent up from the Premier's office.

The St. Vincent de Paul investigation cost $17,727.

Mr. Fitzpatrick explained how it amounted to so large a sum. The investigation opened in April, 1897, and the first one closed in August of that year. The report recommended the removal of the warden, Mr. Ouimet. He replied that the charges against him were unfounded and asked a chance to refute the findings of the Commission. His request was granted, and every facility was afforded. Specific charges were drawn up and copies furnished the Warden. A second investigation was opened upon these charges in September, and owing to delays, owing to absence of counsel and witnesses, it was the end of the month before the second investigation concluded, and it was January before the report was presented. The result was that the warden, the deputy-warden and the surgeon had to be relieved. The pay of the commissioners was $7 per day each.

A bad state of affairs had also been found existing in the Kingston Penitentiary. The investigations had cost some money, but results had justified it, for in one year there had been effected a saving of $80,000. But Mr. Fitzpatrick did not wish to discuss this mater in detail, as it would be unfair to the late Solicitor-General, Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, who had watched this matter from the Opposition standpoint. It had been agreed between them that owing to the late stage of the session these reports should not be discussed until next session.

Mr. Haggart and Mr. Wood (Brockville) could not understand what the Inspector of Penitentiaries had been doing all those years when so bad a state of things existed. Why could not the inspector have done what it had cost so much to accomplish through commissions.

Mr. Fortin spoke in justification of the commission and when the report came to be read that would be seen. He indicated a few of the matters proven; the non-delivery of more than a thousand letters from relatives to convicts. Thts was but a sample, for the whole management was rotten from cellar to garret. The most extrtvagane expenditures were allowed; for instance, the Warden had a set of harness made after the pattern of the harness used by the Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec. If ever an investigation was needed, it was the investigation into the administration of the St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary.

Dr. Sproule could not understand how the inspector could have been doing his duty and at the same time allow this system to go on.

The answer was that the system had grown up previous to the appointment of the inspector who went into office more than three years ago.

Dr. Sproule asked if the inspector was still in office.

The answer was yes; the Government had not had the report before it a sufficient length of time to enable it to act in regard to this aspect of the case.

The votes finaly passed the committee.

POLICE IN THE YUKON.

The committee returned to the half million vote for the Yukon district. The explanation of the large item was given by the Premier. The vote was for Mounted Police in that district. At present the force there numbered 239 men and they were distributed as follows: Two officers, and 31 men at Dawson City; one officer and 9 constables at Fort Cudahy; one officer and 20 constables at summits of the passes; 6 officers and 77 constables between Lake Bennett and Dawson City; also 27 special constables, scouts, interpreters and dog drivers; 2 constables on the Dalton trail; 2 officers and 20 constables on the Stickeen River, also 4 scouts; one officer and two constables en route from Edmonton and three scouts.

The vote of half a million of dollars was largely made up by the high cost of transportation in that vast and undeveloped country. That cost alone amounted to $207,627. But these same men were assisting in the collecting of revenue, and had already collected $200,000, and although the expenditure was large the revenue would about meet it. As to the ingress of people, the Premier stated that up to April 26, 13,000 persons had gone over the Chilcoot Pass, and 7,000 over the White Pass, and at Tagish 2,000 persons had paid duties before a post had been opened at the Summit—according to the last report received there are 1,000 tents at Bennett, also four steamers and 14,000 small boats were being constructed on the lake, and 1,000 more were en route. Besides several saw-mills were being constructed.

Such was the explanation of the Premier, and the vote at once was adopted by the committee.

THE FAST ATLANTIC LINE.

When the House passed to the votes for the Department of Customs, Mr. Davin broke in with a question. He directed the attention of the Premier to a cablegram in the Star from its London correspondent, to the effect that Messrs. Petersen, Tate & Co., had failed to secure the capital necessary for the carrying out of the fast Atlantic line.

The Premier stated that the Government had no information upon this, one way or the other.

The discussion then turned upon the Customs Department, Mr. Wallace delivering a long speech that carried the committee beyond the midnight hour. Matters of detail were discussed between himself and Mr. Paterson.

At one o'clock the vote carried.

The next vote considered was $689, to pay A. Kirk for damages by fire, a vote for the Intercolonial Railway.

The vote passed, and that concluded the supplementary estimates for the current year, ending on June 30.

The committee rose, and the House adjourned at 1.30 this morning.

MORE SUPPLEMENTARIES.

Just before the adjournment this morning further supplementary estimates for 1898-99, were brought down as follows: For Intercolonial extension at Levis, $48,000; for the International Conference, to be held at Quebec city, $20,000; for legislation, $2,730.

MR. THOS. GAUTHIER'S DREDGING CONTRACT AT COTEAU.

An interesting discussion arose upon the item of $11,000 for dredging at Coteau Landing, St. Lawrence River.

Mr. Bergeron wished to know what was to be done there.

Mr. Tarte answered—Mr. Gauthier has the work. It was not given by contract, as I am paying $8 an hour, and if I got good dredges of the same quality all the time, I would pay that amount."

Mr. Bergeron—"What Gauthier is that?"

Mr. Tarte—"Thomas Gauthier."

Mr. Bergeron—"Is he doing the work himself?"

Mr. Tarte—"He supplied us with the dredge, and also a second dredge a few days ago."

Mr. Bergeron—"The hon. gentleman knows that Gauthier is not doing that work at all, but has given it to Macdonald, the contractor, who has already got work at the entrance of the Soulanges canal."

Mr. Tarte—"I know that Mr. Gauthier supplied me with the dredges, and when they do the work I care not whether he works them himself or not."

Mr. Bergeron—"Where did Mr. Gauthier get dredges?"

Mr. Tarte—"I do not know."

Mr. Bergeron—"Mr. Gauthier is a real estate agent, and a very respectable man, but he has never done any dredging in his life. He has purely and simply been given by the Minister of Public Works that job, and he transferred it to the contractors on the Soulanges canal, Macdonald & Co."

Mr. Foster—"I think this is a case which ought to attract the attention of the committee. I do not know that I ever came across a case which seemed worse than this on the face of it. In the first place, where is this place at which $20,000 worth of dredging is being done? At what wharf?"

Mr. Tarte—"The work, as I said, is at Coteau Landing, the terminus of the Ottawa, Arnprior, and Parry Sound Railway. There are 300,000 tons of freight at Parry Sound to be sent over this line. Mr. Booth has built an elevator at Coteau Landing. The Department of Public Works are doing here what they are doing everywhere else."

The discussion drifted to other subjects, but after a time it came back to Mr. Gauthier.

Mr. Taylor asked a question—"Is not the son of the Minister of Public Works married to a daughter of this Mr. Gauthier?"

Mr. Tarte—"I could not help that, surely."

Mr. Taylor—"Surely this is farming out in the family, if this be the case. I have received this information, and it certainly shows a case of farming-out in the hon. gentleman's own family."

ST. LAWRENCE WARD.

To the Editor of the Star:

Sir,—The electors of this ward are well satisfied with the way their interests are being looked after by their representatives, and more particularly are the residents and proprietors living on Mance street pleased at the action that has been taken this year in laying out that long-promised square above Sherbrooke street. The flowers are already in position, and everything looks pleasant to the eye—except the two kiosques that are almost adjoining each other and spoil the appearance of the locality very much. The cab stand is also objectionable and could be easily removed to vacant lot on south-east corner below Sherbrooke street, granting the privilege of the cabmen to have two cabs at one time on stand at present occupied by them. Last, but not least, while the representatives are looking after the comforts of their constituents, a new sidewalk is very much needed, and would probably prevent an action in the near future against our city fathers.

IMMIGRANTS ARRIVING.

Many Austro-Hungarians Passing Through for Manitoba.

The considerable influx of Austro-Hungarian immigrants into Canada has been frequently noted of late. No less than 718 of these people passed through Montreal on Sunday, en route to Manitoba and the North-West. Another party numbering about 600 are expected to arrive here some time to-day or to-morrow.

As these people make admirable settlers their vocation will give an increase to the growing agricultural development of the North-West.

The immigrant passengers of the Laurentian, Sarmatian and Yorkshire, numbering in all, about 257 souls, also passed through Montreal on Sunday. Nearly all of these people were English, Scotch and Irish, and they were bound for Manitoba and the North-West. Among them were 42 boys for Rev. Mr. Fegan's home in Toronto, and six boys for Rev. Mr. Stephenson's Home in Hamilton.

Rear-Admiral Sampson is a member of the Presbyterian Church of the Covenant in Washington. He was always regular in his attendance during the several years that he was stationed in Washington, and took a great deal of interest in philanthropic work.

MEDICAL SCIENCE ADVANCES.

Positive Cure for Asthma Discovered.

It has long been recognized by medical scientists throughout the world that nature has supplied all creation with some remedy in the vegetable or mineral kingdom, wherewith all forms of ailments can be cured, but it was not until the discovery by Stanley of the wonderful Kola plant along the Congo River in Africa that asthma was permanently curable. In fact, it was not until the investigations made by Dr. Clarke some years later that this disease was found curable; he found that by combining the extract of Kola Nut with other vegetable extracts that the compound obtained would permanently cure Asthma. Clarke's Kola Compound was then tried on over 100 cases in different hospitals, with the marvellous result that over 95 per cent. were permanently cured in less than 60 days' treatment. Clarke's Kola Compound is now recognized to be the only permanent cure for this dreaded disease. Sold by all druggists. Free sample bottle sent to any person. Mention this paper. WHEAT PRICES ADVANCE.

Some Export Enquiry for Flour, But No Business Yet.

BUTTER AND CHEESE MARKET STEADY AND FIRM — FURTHER DECLINES IN PROVISIONS.

The Liverpool option market opened 1-2 to 1d higher this morning, and prices also boomed slightly in New York and Chicago for some time, but the strength at the opening at 95c, but sold later as low as 94 1-2c, and back to 95 1-4c. September had closed at 79 1-2c, and opened at 81 1-8c, selling down 1-8c during the morning. September gained fractionally. There has been no dealing in cash wheat in Chicago for some time, but the strength at the opening of the market led to some trading, 2 cents being gained over the opening, when it sold at $1.07. This spurt was not maintained, and it sagged back to $1.04 1-2. September had closed at 75 3-8c, and sold up to 76 1-2c, where it remained fairly steady. July opened at 1 1-4c higher at 88c, went to 89 3-8c and back to 88 1-4c.

In the line of peas, barley, buckwheat and rye the local market is non-existent, there being no trading whatever. Oats were sold to-day at 35 cents, but there is little business doing. Much difference of opinion prevails as to the value of Manitoba No. 1 hard. Some have been taking it down as low as $1.16, and sales were made at this point a few days since. It would be hard to obtain it to-day at $1.20. Duluth cash wheat is quoted at $1.27, and Milwaukee at $1.23, so that even higher values are looked upon as justified.

Yesterday's market, says the Chicago Times-Herald, opened at puts, and continued under those privileges all the session. There was no special pressure on the market; no important raiding. There was, however, total absence of support. So far as anyone could see, Leiter was not lending a hand to any of the futures. If there was any one thing more significant than another in the pit, it was selling of futures by foreigners. There was some of that here, and more at the seaboard. Flour traders were the conspicuous sellers of September, Pringle, Mitchell, McDonald, O'Brien and others. It was never a big trade. Shorts and holders of puts were the buyers. The North-West sent as favorable crop advices as the South-West. Oklahoma messages said the yield in that territory would be 40,000,000 bushels, or double last year's. It added that harvesting was general. Texas said the wheat crops were enormous, but complained of rain. That Italy had proved an important buyer of American wheat was shown by the official figures of its imports of foreign wheat during May, 6,416,000 bush. compared with 1,600,000 bush. in May last year. Broomhall cabled that Indian and Russian shipments would be smaller next week. A feature of the cash market was the relative strength of the spring grades, No. 3 spring bringing from 3c to 5c better than No. 3 red. There was some interest in the new winter wheat crop, with a moderate business in new No. 3 hard, Kansas, for shipment at about 1c above September here, f.o.b. Leiter reported his sales of cash abroad at 200,000 bush., and his sales on this side at 25,000 bush. Continental cables after the close reported severe declines at Budapest. This did not influence the curb.

CHEESE AND BUTTER FIRM.

The receipts of cheese this morning were 13,597 boxes, the largest this season, and of butter 1275 boxes. The market was quiet, but the high prices paid at country boards yesterday caused a decided firmness in tone. With western cheese selling at 7c in the country, it could not be handled here below 7¼c. The range is about 7⅛ to 7¼c, but holders find it difficult to realize the outside quotation.

The prices realized by the auction sale in Liverpool yesterday of 95,000 boxes, according to private cables, were 33s to 35s. The public cable for white cheese declined 6d this morning, to 35s 6d, but colored remained at 38s.

The N. Y. Journal of Commerce says: "Supplies of new large full cream cheese are not specially heavy, and generally cost high in the country, but the demand here is slow and disappointing, foreign orders being limited, and exporters operating cautiously. The auction sale in London to-day of 9000 boxes of old cheese is probably holding back orders, awaiting results of sale. Some holders are asking 6⅞c for fancy colored, and 6¾c for strictly dead white, and occasional sales of exceptionally fancy quality are reported at those figures; but they are certainly extreme to sell freely, most exporters refusing to offer more than 6¾c for colored and 6⅝c for dead white, and claim to have no trouble in obtaining all they require at latter prices, and to sell freely those figures are all that can be depended upon. Most of the white cheese is showing a tinge of yellow, and finest grades of such are freely offered at 6½c, and where yellow is more pronounced still further shading is necessary. Small size full creams in fair demand from the home trade, and strictly fancy lots held about steady. Skims continue dull, and prices generally weak and irregular."

The butter market rules firm and steady at 16 to 16¼c for choice creamery. The export demand has been fairly brisk, and this has had the effect of keeping up prices. In a jobbing way to grocers as high as 17c is being paid for creamery, and there was rather a firm feeling on Buyers took hold pretty well in New York, nearly all classes of stock. It was easy to get 16c for fancy fresh creamery, and while that figure represents the general trading basis, occasional lots were placed fractionally higher. Beside a pretty free movement into consumptive channels, there was increased interest on the part of speculative buyers, and a good deal of stock went to the freezers. Exporters were not interested to any extent; they took a few small sample lots of creamery at 16c, but there are no suitable facilities for shipping this week.

SOME CUTTING IN FLOUR.

The flour market is lifeless at present, the only evidence of any revival being the renewal of export enquiry. The Lake of the Woods Milling Company have been asked to quote prices for two lots, one of 5,000 and one of 3,000 sacks, but up to the hour of writing the deal had not been closed. While prices on spot are unchanged, they are purely nominal quotations, and some cutting of prices has taken place in Manitoba grades. The Ontario millers are not sending any flour to this market at present worth speaking of, and in any case there is no demand for it. In the absence of business quotations are purely nominal. We quote: Winter wheat patents, $6 to $6.15; straight rollers, $5 to $5.75 bags, $2.60 to $2.75; Manitoba patents, $6.90, and strong bakers', $6.50; extra, in bags, $2.40 to $2.50.

The feed market was without any new feature, except that the demand was not so good, and business ruled quieter. We quote: Ontario winter wheat bran, $13.50 to $14; shorts, $16 per ton in bulk; Manitoba bran, $14; shorts, $16, and moullie, $17 to $18 per ton, including bags.

There was no actual change in oatmeal, but the tone of the market is easier in sympathy with oats. Rolled oats are quoted at $4.30 per barrel, and at $2.10 per bag.

COTTON MARKETS.

In New York this morning cotton futures opened dull but steady, with sales of 1800 bales. The quotations were: June, 6.38c; July, 6.38c; August, 6.43c; September, 6.29c; October, 6.30c; November, 6.39c; December, 6.32c; January, 6.35c; February, 6.35c; March, 6.41c; April, 6.43c.

Cotton futures closed dull but steady; sales, 33,200 bales; June, 6.37c; July, 6.39c; August, 6.43c; September, October and November, 6.30c; December 6.33c; January, 6.36c; February, 6.39c; March, 6.42c.

HAVANA TOBACCO.

A Two Years' Supply of it Yet Obtainable.

Tobacco—Havana tobacco is not so scarce. There's lots of it at Tampa, Fla., according to advices from there, despite the statements of Montreal dealers that the supply will run short unless the war ceases. The Star correspondent at Tampa and Key West alternately writes:

"I made a visit to a great Cuban cigar-making establishment at Key West the other day, and found it very interesting. Some people have wondered how the manufacture of Havana cigars could go on just the same in Key West and Tampa so long after the exportation of Cuban tobacco ceased by General Weyler's order. A sight of the storing warehouse of this establishment showed how it was done. Here were great bales of tobacco, packed in Cuban palm leaf envelopes, sufficient, it is said, to keep the hands of the establishment at work for two years. When Weyler's famous order was issued the time which he gave before it went into effect was occupied by the agents of American establishments in loading all the ships in Havana with tobacco. It made no difference where they were bound. They might be going to England, to Germany, to Spain, or even to Australia, and unable to change their destination. They were loaded with tobacco just the same, and all this tobacco eventually found its way to Tampa, none the worse—some people say better—for its long sea voyage. Thus a stock was accumulated which has lasted a long time, and will last longer still."

FUTURE OF WHEAT.

Crop news and the quietude of the cash situation gives the bears every help, and it is this cash situation, now improving somewhat, which is the basis of a distinct tension in July. Toward the close of the week there was something of a rally, based largely on an oversold condition and partly on the expectation, amply realized, of very heavy export clearances, and also in awakening life in the cash demand. On the other hand, future prospects were never more bearish, the event of the week in this direction being the Grange Judd crop report, one of the most favorable ever issued, with an assurance that if anything like present conditions are kept up a more than bumper crop will be the result. The main point of interest, therefore, in this market at the present time is the supply and demand from now on to the beginning of July, and the likelihood of an early harvest. It is certain all European stocks are very narrow. Liverpool, for example, carrying scarcely more than enough for the barest needs, and at the same time, local stocks here will be very shortly reduced to an almost nominal figure, and all practically controlled by one man; and inasmuch as the export clearances for the week past came to the splendid total of 5,248,000 bushels, with a close on Saturday of over 38,000 bushels, it would seem that there will be considerable stringency during this month.—Chicago Correspondent of the Boston Transcript.

BOTH CLAIM A VICTORY.

Conflicting Reports From the Seat of War To-day--Spaniards Declare That the Americans Were Repulsed With Heavy Loss.

AMERICANS SAY SPANIARDS WERE DEFEATED WITH MANY KILLED AND WOUNDED.

Balance of Truth Seems to Be With the Americans, Because Spain Admits Serious Losses.

VIZCAYA DAMAGED BY YANKEE SHELL

Captain Philip, of the Texas, Reported Killed, But This News is Unconfirmed--The Spanish Cruiser, Reina Mercedes, Sunk; She Was One of Spain's Modern Boats, and Will be a Serious Loss to Admiral Cervera.

(Special to the Star.)

NEW YORK, June 8.—To-day's reports of the war situation are the most conflicting since the outbreak of hostilities. On the one side, reports from American sources claim that the most severe defeat yet has been inflicted on the Spanish forces at Santiago, while on the other, advices through Spanish channels are to the effect that the garrison and warships at that port have been able to repulse the invading forces with heavy loss.

The one thing that stands out prominently, and is certain, is that there has been severe fighting in the neighborhood of the second town of Cuba, attended by serious loss of life on both sides.

REPORTED AMERICAN DEFEAT.

A despatch received from Madrid at noon said: "Cablegrams received here say a bloody encounter has occurred at Santiago. The American fleet twice attacked the Spanish land and marine batteries and were repulsed, the batteries inflicting heavy losses on them. It is estimated that fifteen hundred Americans were killed and wounded.

The Americans sunk the Reina Mercedes, whose Lieutenant, Acosta, was killed."

The Reina Mercedes was a cruiser of 3090 tons; speed 14 knots; complement, 370; guns, six 6.2-inch, two 2.7-inch, three 6-pounders, two 4-pounders, six 3-pounder rapid fire guns, two machine guns and five torpedo tubes.

ANOTHER CABLE CUT.

CAPE HAYTIEN, Hayti, June 8.—From all indications the cable between Hayti and Cuba has not worked since Monday at midnight. It is possibly cut.

THE TEXAS' CAPTAIN DEAD.

What seemed to be sinister confirmation of this story came shortly afterwards, when it was announced from Washington that the President had received a telegram stating that Captain Philip, of the battleship Texas was struck by a shell and instantly killed at Santiago.

THE VIZCAYA DAMAGED.

Advices from Santiago, via Kingston, Jamaica, say that during the bombardment a shell from the Brooklyn, thrown at long range into the inner harbor, burst under the port quarter of the Vizcaya, dismounted one of her guns, damaged her rudder and injured several seamen.

A shell also burst over the torpedo boat Furor, tearing her forward deck open and badly damaging her turtleback.

JUNCTION WITH INSURGENTS.

Advices from Santiago de Cuba via Cape Haytien, say the bombardment was resumed again for a short time about midnight. It was then believed that the Americans had effected a junction with the insurgents near Daiquiri, some distance east of Aguadores and near the railway line to Santiago.

SPANISH LOSSES ADMITTED.

A despatch from Havana says: Details from Spanish sources at Santiago de Cuba were received here to-day of the Spanish losses during the bombardment of the forts there by the American fleet on Monday. The Marine Chief killed on board the Reina Mercedes was former Captain Emilo Acosta Fyermanu. Ensign Alejandro Molins, also of the Reina Mercedes, was killed. Colonel Ordonez, of the artillery, and inventor of the cannon bearing his name, was slightly injured. Some other officers were slightly wounded by projectiles, shells and fragments scattered by the explosion of shells on land.

The insurgents have dynamited a passenger train near Canas, Province of Pinar del Rio, overthrowing one car and derailing the train.

"THE EXACT LOSS."

According to official Spanish despatches received at Madrid, the exact loss of the Spaniards at Santiago de Cuba on Monday is as follows:

Land forces—One soldier killed and five officers wounded, including Colonel Ordonez, slightly wounded. Sea forces—The second officer in command of the Reina Mercedes, five sailors and 29 marines killed, and an officer and eleven sailors wounded.

The official despatch also says that many of the wounded, including Colonel Ordonez, are able to attend to their duties.

LATE SPANISH REPORTS.

Later advice from Madrid says that despatches received there from Havana, from Spanish sources, say: "The Americans were again repulsed at the last bombardment of Santiago de Cuba."

Continuing, these reports assert that the damage done to the batteries and town "is unimportant and is already repaired, adding: "The Spanish guns did not cease to fire an instant during the fight and all the batteries are in condition to reply to the enemy's fire. During the second attack, Colonel Ordonez was on board the Reina Mercedes and personally assisted in working her guns. Every one regards Colonel Ordonez and General Linares as the heroes of the day."

THIS TELLS OF AMERICAN VICTORY.

LONDON, June 8.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Cape Haytien says: "The American victory at Santiago de Cuba cleared the way for the entrance of Admiral Sampson and the destruction of the Spanish fleet. As Santiago's land defences are reported weak it is likely the city will yield to a vigorous attack. It is reported that the commander of the Reina Mercedes, second in command in the Spanish fleet under Cervera, was killed during the engagement.

"The combined American and insurgent forces are entrenched near Daiquiri with guns mounted in preparation for a further movement. From Spanish sources comes a report that a party of Americans landed at Aguadores, but whether it is true of what the result was, is not known here."

PROBABLY CORRECT.

The Times, commenting editorially upon the fact that the Cuban authorities at Havana permitted its correspondent, Mr. Knight, to discharge his function in forwarding the despatch as to Monday's engagement at Santiago, says:

"His despatch says that the American fire was damaging. As he doubtless is subject to rigid censorship this admission is significant, and his statement that the Americans were repulsed at Aguadores is probably correct."

The editorial, in summing up the situation, says: "Spanish obstinacy may prolong the war for many months. The American Government is acting wisely and prudently in refusing to send to Cuba an army of untrained volunteers. Little attention need be given to peace rumors."

SAMPSON'S REPORT.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Admiral Sampson's report is as follows: "Secretary of the Navy—Bombarded forts at Santiago 7.30 to 10 a.m. to-day, June 6th. Silenced works quickly without injury of any kind, though within 2,000 yards.

"SAMPSON."

CAPTAIN PHILIP'S FATE.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Secretary Day was the first caller to greet the President to-day. He spent about half an hour with him. On leaving he said there were no important despatches, and no developments in the war situation. One story was current during the day at the White House that Captain Philip, of the battleship Texas, had been killed by a shell fired by the Spaniards in the recent bombardment. The President was in consultation with a Senator when he received a press despatch to that effect. He promptly handed over the despatch to be read, and remarked that it was "nonsense;" and that there was no reason to believe it to be true. He cited Admiral Sampson's official despatch announcing no casualties, and said if the report was to be given credence he would have been wired immediately.

REJOICING IN MADRID.

MADRID, June 8.—In the Chamber of Deputies last night Captain Aunon, Minister of Marine, read Admiral Cervera's despatch and a despatch from General Blanco to the effect that General Linares had repulsed an American attempt to effect a landing of troops at Aguadores. The Senate, after hearing Admiral Cervera's despatch, unanimously resolved to congratulate the Army and Navy.

DOUBT IN LONDON.

The London morning papers are inclined to doubt the account of the destruction and silencing of the forts at Santiago, but they believe the bombardment was intended to draw the Spaniards' attention from a landing somewhere and that the coming week or two will see exciting events in Cuba.

The sinking of the Reina Mercedes is regarded as probable, for it is known that her boilers were defective and that she had no armored deck. The wounding or death of Colonel Ordonez means a serious loss to Spain, Ordonez being, or having been, her artillery expert, with a European reputation and the designer of the ordnance bearing his name.

REPORTS ARE CONFLICTING.

The Cape Haytien advices of the Daily Mail practically confirm the first accounts. All other accounts here, except the brief despatches from Madrid, emanate from New York. A special from Havana, evidently pro-Spanish, says that nine American vessels retired seriously crippled; that the Reina Mercedes was only slightly damaged and that the American losses were heavy.

THE SIEGE OF SANTIAGO.

It Will Not Be as Easy as Anticipated.

MUCH FIGHTING AND HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE CERTAIN.

(From the Star's Special Correspondent Resident in Washington.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 8.—Secretary Alger is a man of usually calm disposition, who seldom loses his temper, but last night he was angry and the result of his anger was that a number of very tart telegrams were sent over the wires to Tampa.

Late on Monday night, in response to telegraphic enquiries, General Shafter notified the department that all the troops in Tampa were ready to embark and that they could sail by 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The order to sail was promptly flashed back and yet the expedition had not departed up to midnight.

It appears that the delay is chargeable to the railroad companies which have proved utterly incompetent to deliver the freight shipped over their roads to the officers of the army, who were charged with the duty of loading it on the transports. As a result of General Miles' investigation it was supposed that the impediments in the way of the delivery of this freight had been removed, but it appears that the blockade still exists and consequently the expedition for Santiago could not start on time.

Now that Sampson has cleared the way for the landing of American troops, the officials of the War Department are exceedingly anxious to land the army of invasion on the south coast of Cuba immediately. It is not expected that Cervera's fleet will be destroyed or that the town will be captured without a severe struggle, in which the United States forces will undoubtedly suffer many casualities.

As a rule the Spaniards in the army garrisoning in Santiago are better armed than the American soldiers. They are all supplied with Mauser rifles while the Americans have comparatively few of the modern Krag Jorgenson rifles, the volunteers especially being supplied with Springfields and Remingtons.

It is learned that the insurgents had succeeded in capturing and are still holding against repeated Spanish assaults several important positions commanding the barbor and the town of Santiago.

The expedition under Gen. Shafter is expected to carry enough heavy siege guns to fortify these positions and to enable the American troops to do terrific damage to any Spanish ships which may come within range. Owing to the heights on which these heavy guns will be placed it will be impossible for Cervera to elevate his ordnance sufficiently to silence the American batteries.

The siege, which will begin just as soon as the army can be landed and properly placed, may be over in a few hours, but it is more likely to occupy several days. The Government has no idea that the Spanish admiral will permit his ships to be captured by Americans. If the United States Forces, military and naval, fail to destroy the squadron Cervera will undoubtedly do the work himself following the lead of Montijo in the battle of Manila.

METHODIST MINISTRY

The Conference Decides to Adhere to the Four Year Limit.

LAST NIGHT'S VOTE REVERSED.

Members do Not Like the Transfer System at Present in Vogue.

A CHANGE ADVOCATED.

The Conference Bringing Its Labors to a Close---Will Conclude To-day.

The reception of the memorial committee report was continued at this morning's session of the Methodist Conference.

One of the first acts after the opening of the session was the agreement of the conference to vacate the church for the lecture room at this afternoon session, in order to make way for a wedding previously arranged for.

The secretary, Rev. S. G. Bland, said they would always give way for a wedding.

Rev. A. W. Williamson, the conference postmaster, was then called forward and presented with a purse. No response being made to the calls of "speech, speech," the secretary remarked that although the postmaster did not say much he wore a very eloquent smile.

Dr. Griffith then called upon Rev. J. T. Pitcher to take the chair, after which the reception of the memorial committee's report was proceeded with.

Regarding a memorial by Dr. Courtice, respecting a central stationing committee:

The committee endorsed the idea of facilitating the transfer of ministers, but could not see its way clear to adopt Dr. Courtice's motion in its undeveloped form.

Dr. Jackson called attention to the recommendation. He said that it had an integral relation to a motion previously voted down. The system of transfer was not good. He wanted to see a transfer system which would extend the privileges of transfer to everyone and not to special individuals.

Rev. John Armstrong said that the recommendation did not endorse Dr. Courtice's memorial.

Dr. Jackson said he would vote for it in that case.

The resolution of the committee was adopted by conference.

With regard to the appointment of a central examining board, the scheme was approved of by the committee.

Dr. Patton did not think the memorial met all the needs of the case. He thought a better way would be to divide the connexion into eastern, central and western sections, with a central board in each of the three, for the purpose of producing uniformity and at the same time lightening the work of the examiners.

Both amendment and resolution, upon being put to the meeting were lost.

The recommendation regarding the appointment of college professors by the general conference or by its special committee was approved by the committee and adopted by conference.

A question here arose regarding a motion of Dr. Hunter to add to Dr. Jackson's resolution, adopted last evening. The resolution was a sub-amendment, by the adoption of which the term of itinerary was limited to three years without condition. Dr. Hunter wished to have a clause added to the resolution whereby the term might be altered in cases where connectional property was endangered. In a speech he quoted instances where it was of the utmost importance that some such allowance should be granted.

After a considerable discussion it was decided that it would be necessary to have a reconsideration of Dr. Jackson's motion. The whole itinerary question was thus opened up anew and the recomendation of the committee upon the subject (submitted last night) was re-read.

Dr. Jackson then moved in amendment to the recommendation that the term be three years with a possibility of an extension to four or five years in case the interests of the connectional property demanded it.

Dr. Jackson's amendment, upon being finaly put to the meeting, was lost.

The recommendation of the committee that the term of itinerancy be limited to four years without condition was then put to the meeting and carried.

The report of the superannuation fund was then presented by Rev. E. W. Crane. The receipts for the year were $13,558.18, the circuits having raised $8847 more than the conference assessment. There was still a deficiency of $8403 from ministers and brobationers. The expenses for the year were $30.61.

After some discussion the report was adopted.

The sustentation fund report shewed that $1408 had been expended during the year upon poor circuits.

A CONFERENCE POEM.

The following poem was written in conference immediately after the discussion of St. James' church affairs:

Hands all round! We stand together,
Harvests sown in the days of old,
Sown in the bleak and stormy weather,
Stand gleaming now in their waves of gold:
What our fathers sowed and our brethren kept,
Has been given to us to garner in;
For us and ours they have toiled and wept;
And we worship and rest, their graves between.
Hands all round! It shall never be sold
We are here to stay. What we have we hold.

Hands all round! From Atlantic's coast
To Pacific shore, and from north to south
Millions of loyal souls we boast,
And this is the word in their every mouth:
"Not a foot of our consecrated ground
Shall be lost for lack of a brother's aid,
Nor ribald song ever float around
Where His word was preached, and His people prayed.
Hands all round! We have faith and gold.
We are here to stay. What we have we hold.

Hands all round! Oh glorious shrine,
Standing for God in the city's heart;
Thou preacher in stone, with a call divine,
Thou art ours by a tie that can never part!
Still lift thy turreted pinnacles high,
Let the organ peal, let the doors stand wide,
And the light from thy blazoned windows fall
On the worshipping hosts of the Crucified.
Thou art His and ours—more precious than gold.
In His name, for His sake, what we have we hold.

—G. H. Porter.

SIR ADOLPHE CHAPLEAU.

The Distinguished Sufferer Takes a Turn for the Worse.

The condition of Sir Adolphe Chapleau is precarious. His near relatives have been notified respecting his condition.

Sir Adolphe took a turn for the worse last evening. He is exhibiting great weakness, but was reported to be resting slightly easier this morning. Dr. Roddick, M. P., spent half the night at the bedside of the sufferer. There have been many verbal and telegraphic enquiries during the past few days. An intimate friend states that while Sir Adolphe is not afflicted with any organic disease, he appears to be suffering from general debility. His kidneys are said to be slightly affected, and its resultant effect upon the heart is regarded as decidedly dangerous. The pulse of the ex-Governor was stated this morning to be about 108, an abnormal figure.

At an early hour he was visited by his spiritual advisers, the Rev. Abbe Colin, Superior of the Seminary of St. Sulpice.

CLIFFORD'S DEATH.

Deceased's Brother Makes a Scene in Court.

A POWERFUL PLEA MADE FOR THE DEFENCE.

Argument in the O'Meara case was commenced in the Court of Queen's Bench this morning, the taking of evidence having been concluded at yesterday afternoon's sitting of the Court.

Mr. H. J. Cloran, counsel for the defence, made a powerful plea for the acquittal of the prisoner, on the ground that the Crown had not established a case against him. Mr. Cloran carefully reviewed the evidence, and laid especial stress on the sworn statement of Mrs. O'Hare, Miss O'Meara, Drs. McConnell, Dr. Marcil, and Mr. Frederick Caple. The evidence of three of these people, he said, established the fact that O'Meara was not present when the deceased met his death, while the evidence of the physicians went to prove that Clifford was in such a bad condition physically that his death from heart disease was liable to occur at any moment. The statement of Miss O'Meara that she had dropped the bottle of jam while on the way to Mrs. Hood's, fully explained the presence of the bottle on the street, and quite upset the Crown's theory that the deceased had been struck with it by the accused. With regard to the hairs on the bottle, Mr. Cloran stated that although the Crown physicians had affirmed that two of the number corresponded with the hair at the back of deceased's head, still they were unable to say if the third hair found was human or not. Quoting Mr. Caple's evidence, Mr. Cloran maintained that the threat of O'Meara, that he would like to strike the old man was directed towards Daniel Clifford, who had made the seizure on Mrs. O'Hare's goods, and not to the deceased.

An amusing incident happened while Mr. Cloran was reviewing the evidence of Daniel Clifford, who had sworn that O'Meara had threatened the life of his brother. Against this evidence, Mr. Cloran cited the statement of Mr. Parent, who was present at the time the alleged threat was made, and who swore that no such threats had been used.

Daniel Clifford was present in Court when Mr. Cloran was commenting on the contradictory character of the evidence of these two witnesses. Rising to his feet, he shouted "I tell you he's (Parent) a liar. He hasn't spoken the truth."

The court officials promptly seized the man and removed him from the court room.

This afternoon, Mr. Cooke, Q.C., finished his argument on behalf of the Crown, and the Chief Justice charged the jury.

Institution of a New Lodge in Montreal by the District Deputy Supreme Chancellor.

There was a very large attendance of Knights of Pythias, at No. 6 Phillips square last evening, when a new lodge of this Order was instituted under the name and title of Ivanhoe Lodge, No. 5, Knights of Pythias. The interesting ceremony was performed by Knight J. R. Bain, District Deputy Supreme Chancellor, assisted by a number of Grand Lodge officers. THE PARK AND ISLAND.

As a result of the special meeting of the shareholders of the Montreal Park and Island Railway Company, yesterday afternoon, the company will henceforth be operated, until further arrangement, for the bondholders by a committee of trustees. The trustees appointed are Hon. A. A. Thibaudeau, Messrs. D. Morrice, S. Ewing and S. Hanson. In addition to the appointment of trustees to manage the road, the following committee was named to consult with the trustees in regard to further policy to be adopted. The meeting discussed the present condition of the company at some length and decided that some scheme of reorganization was necessary.

DYEING IN CANADA.

R. Parker & Co.'s New Premises on Notre Dame Street.

A HANDSOME STORE — A BUSINESS THAT REACHES INTO ALL PARTS OF THE DOMINION.

One of the largest dyeing and cleaning establishments in Canada is that of R. Parker & Co., with new and handsome premises at 1958 Notre Dame street, Montreal. The name of R. Parker & Co. has been associated with the best and most skillful methods of dyeing and cleaning for nearly a quarter of a century. The business extends over all parts of the Dominion, branch stores being established for years in the leading cities and towns, and upwards of four hundred agencies, carefully managed, and systematically planted, in all parts of Canada, from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The works of the firm are most completely equipped, and upwards of one hundred hands employed. Mr. Parker has made a practice of visiting at frequent intervals leading dyeing establishments of Europe and the States, where the business of the dyer has reached a large degree of perfection, one result of which has been the recent purchase of a large quantity of the newest machinery. Mention might be made of one machine alone for finishing all-wool and union dress goods, put into the works at a cost of $2500. With this machine, goods, such as Bedford cords, cashmeres, nun's veilings, and merinos can be finished without any shrinkage in the width.

Messrs. R. Parker & Co. have for years had among their customers Canadian citizens like Lady Kirkpatrick, of Toronto, Mrs. (General) Montgomery-Moore, of Halifax, and have done the work of prominent visitors like Fanny Davenport, the late Margaret Mather, and others. In passing we may say that R. Parker & Co. have just issued a very handsomely printed booklet on dyeing and cleaning, in which are published fac simile letters received from Lady Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Montgomery-Moore, Fanny Davenport, and Margaret Mather, together with extracts from letters received from many other customers in different parts of Canada. This will be sent free to any one, on application. The new store at Notre Dame street will doubtless attract a large trade from Montreal and this section of the Dominion.

THE DUKE'S FLAG.

At a conference held yesterday afternoon between Lieut.-Col. Gordon, D. O. C., and his Worship the Mayor arrangements were completed for the annual competition for the Duke of Connaught's flag between the city cadet corps. The competition will take place on Thursday of next week, and the Hon. Dr. Borden, the Minister of Militia, will be invited to be present. There are hopes that the Mount St. Louis and St. Mary's College corps may compete after all.

An exploding oil can at Allegheny, Pa., on Tuesday night, caused the death of three children. Their clothing was ignited, and they were burned so terribly that they lived but a short time.

THE HANNAFORD CASE

Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, President of the Grand Trunk, Gives Evidence.

OUTLINES RECENT CHANGES.

Mr. Hannaford Retired Because the System Was to be Combined.

TWO ENGINEERS NOT NEEDED.

Sir Charles Claims That Mr. Hannaford Resorted to Practices Forbidden by Regulations.

The hearing of evidence in the case of Mr. E. P. Hannaford, late chief engineer of the Grand Trunk Railway, for damages for dismissal, was resumed this morning before Judge Davidson, after an adjournment of several weeks to allow of important evidence being taken in England by Mr. Chas. Russell, to whom the commission had been addressed. This commission has been returned, and has been produced in court. It is a voluminous document, and includes the evidence of Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, the president of the company; Mr. Lindley, the secretary, and Mr. Seargeant, the late general manager.

Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson testified that he became president of the company in May, 1895, and shortly after there had been a change in the general managership, as well as other alterations in the staff of superior officers. Notice was given plaintiff that his services would not be required on January 21, 1896. Witness had no knowledge that the plaintiff had engaged some of the company's workmen and material for his own private use. Article 18 of the company's rules strictly forbade any such practice. He could not say off-hand if any distinction had been made regarding the different portions of the staff in this respect. Continuing, Sir Charles added: "But as regards the particular rule you refer to, I looked it up the other day in case any such question should be put to me and I should say that I have no doubt that it applies to the whole body of the staff, from the president down to the platelayer."

THE PRESIDENT CROSS-EXAMINED.

In cross-examination, he said he had no connection with the railway before he became president in May, 1895. He had nothing to do with the framing of the rules, and knew nothing of the practice followed before that period. The motives which guided him and the board regarding Mr. Hannaford were not entirely motives of economy, but motives of improved administration, and incidentally no doubt economy would result from these changes. Mr. Hannaford had been in the service of the company since 1866, but he had not had entire charge of the engineering department. When the present board came into office they found that the system was divided into two portions so far as the engineering control was concerned, Mr. Hannaford having charge of one portion of the system, a very large portion, and the other was in charge of Mr. Hobson, the present engineer. It was determined for administrative reasons that there should be only one engineer instead of two and that the whole system should be combined. That necessitated naturally the retirement of one of these gentlemen, and it was Mr. Hobson who was selected and Mr. Hannaford who was retired. Mr. Hannaford's salary was $6000 and Mr. Hobson's about the same. Witness could not say how Mr. Hannaford had been appointed, but he had not been appointed by the Board; there is no instrument of appointment, and he doubted if there was a resolution.

MR. HANNAFORD'S DISMISSAL.

Mr. Hannaford rose from a low grade by gradual process to his highest position, and he obtained his late position by the progress of promotion. There was no particular instrument recording his appointment on each occasion, as far as witness did not think so. One of the complaints against Mr. Hannaford is that he has employed servants of the company about his own house and other complaints. The retirement took place in the ordinary course of administrative change and for no other reason. They were justified in dismissing plaintiff summarily because he had been guilty of misconduct, that is, so far as the refusal of his remuneration is concerned. The company justify their refusal in not giving plaintiff the remuneration he claims on the ground that he resorted to practices which are contrary to all good administration and absolutely distinctly forbidden by the regulations of the company. His practices of employing the company's servants about his own house are condemnatory. Witness was not acquainted with the details of the erroneous practices, not having read the evidence.

Q. Is there not a distinction made between those officers who are called general officers and the subordinates as to their position?

A.—No doubt, hierarchically there must be a distinction in every administration between a higher and a lower officer. I do not think there is any further distinction in the case of our company than there would be in the case of any administration.

Sir Charles Rivers Wilson further added that the general manager had very wide and discretionary powers. He had no knowledge of Mr. Hannaford's allegation that the employment of the company's men at plaintiff's house was with the concurrence and sanction of Sir Joseph Hickson, the then manager. Witness knew nothing regarding any account being kept for such work, or that the cost thereof had been deducted from monthly payments made to plaintiff.

In re-examination, witness declared that he had found no trace in the documents and reports of any such arrangement between the general manager and plaintiff. No trace was found in the records of Mr. Hannaford having been appointed by minute of the board. Witness had nothing to do with the plea fyled in the case. The board corresponded with the general manager regarding appointment to the higher offices. He could not say what form these appointments took.

Mr. Walter Lindley, secretary of the G. T. R. since February, 1895, said he had searched the minute book and had found no trace of Mr. Hannaford's appointment. The by-laws of the company apply to all officers of the company. There is no trace of any resolution exempting plaintiff from them.

MR. SEARGEANT A WITNESS.

Mr. Lewis James Seargeant, the late manager and a director of the G. T. R. Plaintiff never asked witness while he was general manager for permission to use any of the company's servants or their materials for his own private work. Witness did not know plaintiff did so, and if he had he would have prevented it. He first heard of this on reading the examination, and he never had the slightest idea that anything of the kind was going on. Witness had no knowledge of accounts in which plaintiff debited himself. Such accounts would go to Mr. Hannaford. Had he known of any such system of cross-accounts between the company and a servant he would have stopped it at once. The question as to the length of time and notice to which high officials of the company in Canada are entitled has never arisen as far as witness was aware of. He knew of no retirement except that of Mr. Stephenson's for illness. It was entirely a question of compensation between the officer and the board. There is no custom about it. These high officials sign a contract.

NO OFFICIAL CONNECTION.

In cross-examination, witness said he had nothing to do officially with plaintiff before 1891, as he was not under his orders. The time of notice to be given to officials is a matter of agreement, and may depend on the position of the man. He should assume that a junior officer would be entitled to a month's notice before dismissal. It entirely rests with the board to say what notice a chief engineer should receive, and whether he should have remuneration or not. Witness would not think he was fairly treated if he got a message from a chief engineer saying: "I am going to leave your service to-morrow," nor if he himself got notice to go to-morrow. It altogether depended on circumstances. If a man has not conducted himself properly he might be told to go at any time; probably one or two months' notice would be quite sufficient for him. Witness, by order of the board, gave one or two engineers of a board twelve months' pay in lieu of notice. Witness did not remember any general officers getting small things done for them by the employes of the company. These things had been avoided, and witness had a horror of any officer having anything done for him by the company in whose employment he is.

It may lead to a great deal of misunderstanding. If there is nothing wrong it throws the officer open to suspicion; it throws the directors open to suspicion. He also always told officers to avoid this. Witness did not know of any organized system of corruption on the part of plaintiff, but he need not have necessarily known what has taken place as developed in these proceedings. Witness did not know it, and there was no reason why he should, though he should have known it, and should have been brought to his notice. This was a new development altogether, and witness never heard of the arrangement which Mr. Hannaford says he had with Sir Joseph Hickson. Witness did not remember any workman of the company ever having been on his (witness') property. Mr. Hannaford himself had looked after repairs done to witness' houses.

Q. What do you say is the justification that the company defendant have for dismissing Mr. Hannaford without notice?

SONS EMPLOYED.

A. Well, there are two or three things which are rather unfortunate in connection with Mr. Hannaford. One thing that he insisted on employing two of his sons in the service of the company, and that was contrary to the wishes of the board, and I informed him of that, the board being of opinion that it was not wise or judicious in the interests of the company that there should be members of the family under the same head.

"When I left a circular was issued by Mr. Hannaford to the effect that his son had been appointed bridge inspector. That I think was in January, 1896. Well, that was an irregular thing, because he had no business to make an appointment of the kind; it was an irregular appointment, and when that came to the knowledge of my successor, Mr. Hays, I believe it was cancelled at once. At all events, it was got rid of by the father's dismissal, and the son's, too."

Witness added that he would not have appointed any such officer without reporting to the board. It was a serious offence for the engineer to make an appointment contrary to regulations. Witness informed plaintiff by writing that the directors objected to the employment of sons, and asked him to find other employment for him. This was in 1894. Plaintiff appointed his son with the full knowledge that it was contrary to the wishes of the board. Plaintiff was dismissed along with four other engineers. Some of those engineers got a year's pay. Further, witness added it was a most improper thing to take two cars of lumber owned by the company and use it for his own purposes, and to employ the company's men in building a green house.

The plaintiff produced some witnesses this morning in rebuttal.

John Murphy, painter, testified that the tinting work done at the residence of the plaintiff's son would amount to about $80. The work in the whole building would probably reach $150. The work done in Mr. Hannaford's own house would cost about $140.

Charles Henderson, a carpenter, testified as to the work done on Bishop street.

Mr. Charles Percy, treasurer of the company, testified that Sir Joseph Hickson had, to witness' own knowledge, paid $550 to two employes of the company for services out of his own money.

The case was resumed at 2 o'clock.

ST. ANDREW'S, BACK RIVER.

The seventh anniversary services of the above church were held on Sunday last. At the morning service the Ven. Archdeacon Mills, D. D., preached an able sermon on the sanctity of the Holy Temple of God materially and spiritually. At the evening service Rev. John Ker, D. D., preached on the interrogations of Nicodemus to Christ, dwelling with intense pathos and sublimity on the picture presented, the timid searcher after truth receiving the kindly home thrusts from the loving heart of Jesus. Both services were well attended, and were marked by the hearty singing of the congregation, supplemented by an anthem in the morning by the choir and a well rendered bass solo in the evening. The rector, Rev. I. T. Flanagan, conducted the services, and to the Rev. W. A. McManus, the founder of the church, was present and participated in the enthusiasm evinced on the occasion.

A DEADLOCK.

The Government Refuses the Senate's Amendment.

AND SENDS THE FRANCHISE BILL BACK AGAIN.

OTTAWA, June 8.—The franchise bill, as amended by the Senate, will engage the attention of the Commons this afternoon. The Government, of course, has no intention of accepting the amendment, so the bill as altered by the Senate must travel back to the Upper House, disagreed to.

The Government, in its rejection of the amended bill, is expected to set forth that the amendment made by the Senate requiring judicial revision in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and Manitoba, is inconsistent with, and subversive of, the general principle of the bill. Further, the resolution will declare that the amendment provides for the continuation of the existing cumbersome and costly system of bringing into use special voters' lists for Dominion elections, and that the proposition of the Senate for the revision of the lists under the authority of Parliament is entirely inadequate, and cannot be made effective without entailing the use of complicated and expensive machinery incompatible with the object of the bill. The resolution will also probably suggest that the Senate's interference with the bill passed by the Commons is inconsistent with the undoubted right and privilege of the Lower House to determine the principles of the franchise under which its members are elected, and is the more unwarranted, in that the country has emphatically pronounced in favor of the principle of the bill.

CONGREGATIONALISM.

The Annual Meeting of the Ontario and Quebec Union Commences

(Special to the Star.)

TORONTO, June 8.—The Congregational Union's annual meeting began in Bond Street Church this morning. The church was decorated with British and American flags, and numerous references were made to the better feeling between Britain and the United States.

The reports of the churches in the union were highly satisfactory. Through the co-operation of the Colonial Secretary of England, the Vancouver, B.C., church property had been saved, and a pastor placed in charge. In the Missionary Society's report, the formation of the Students' Foreign and Home Missionary Society at Montreal was looked upon as an important step, as much interest had been aroused thereby among the students. The evangelistic services which were held in many parts of Ontario were highly successful, much practical good having been accomplished in this way. The financial report showed a credit balance of $1,000.

BODY FOUND.

At the Foot of the Canal Yesterday.

The body of a man was found at the foot of the canal, about noon yesterday. He was dressed in a steel grey suit, and wore a black overcoat. In his pocket was found a complimentary pocket diary, bound in Morocco leather. Very little was written in it, but what there was, went to show that its owner was in some way connected with the engineering professsion. On one page was the word "Halsall," and just below that the word "langlands," while below that again is "W" or "Y. Watt." A tintype photograph of a child, about four, was also found.

The body is terribly decomposed, having probably been in the water since the fall, so that it is impossible to identify it by the features. The writing in the pocket book is English and is written in a fair legible hand.

ACTION DISMISSED.

Judge Archibald Finds That No Slander Was Uttered.

Judge Archibald has dismissed the case of L. E. Germain vs. F. Langlois, for $5,000 for slander at the church door of Sault au Recollet. The defendant was charged with having said that the plaintiff, who is a notary, deserved to be exiled for having changed a deed. The Court found that the statement was made to a party interested in the deed drawn by the plaintiff, and who was aware that the change had been authorized, and further, that the statement had not been made public.

CASE PRESCRIBED.

An Action for Damages Dismissed by Judge Doherty.

Judge Doherty has dismissed the case of Zoel Lavoie, es qual vs. Jos. Beaulieu, for $5,000 damages for injuries received by the plaintiff's young son, by being struck by a double door at the residence of the defendant on Maisonneuve street. It was alleged that the boy had since been under medical treatment, and had to undergo an operation of the skull. The case was dismissed, because it had been taken out more than a year after the day of the accident. The Court mitigated the costs.

INJUNCTION DISMISSED.

The Promotive of Arts Association Wins its Case.

Judge Curran to-day dismissed the injunction applied for by Mr. James I. Boyne against the Promotive of Arts Association, to restrain the holding of the general meeting of the shareholders, February 3rd last; also to annul certain resolutions passed by the board in March.

LORD ABERDEEN.

The House of Commons Formally Expresses Its Regrets at His Leaving.

AN ADDRESS OF FAREWELL.

Mr. Foster Criticises Some of His Excellency's Actions.

THE QUEBEC BRIDGE VOTE.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Once More Shows Himself the Friend of the Enterprise by Voice.

Sir Wilf Laurier

(Special to the Star.)

OTTAWA, Ont., June 8.—In the House this morning on the calling of motions, the Premier rose, and alluded to the approaching end of the term of Lord Aberdeen's tenure of office, which he said would be regretted by every one in the Dominion. He said Lord Aberdeen's term of office had been singularly brilliant, and satisfactory.

He moved, seconded by Sir Richard Cartwright, that ~~the following~~ address, ~~which was carried,~~ be presented:

THE ADDRESS.

To His Excellency the Right Honorable Sir John Campbell Hamilton-Gordon, Earl of Aberdeen; Viscount Formartine, Baron Haddo, Methlic, Tarves and Kelhe, in the peerage of Scotland, Viscount Gordon of Aberdeen, County of Aberdeen, in the peerage of the United Kingdom; Baronet of Nova Scotia, etc., etc., Governor-General of Canada and Vice-Admiral of the same.

May it please Your Excellency:

We, Her Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the House of Commons of Canada, in Parliament assembled, on the occasion of the approaching termination of Your Excellency's official connection with this country, hasten to assure you, the representative of Her Most Gracious Majesty of the unswerving loyalty and devotion of the Canadian people to the Crown and Empire of Great Britain and to express the hope that you will in person convey these assurances to our beloved Queen.

It is our pleasant duty to assure Your Excellency of the high appreciation by the people of Canada of the unfailing courtesy and assiduous care with which you have presided over the affairs of the Dominion for the last five years; a period which, it must be no small gratification to Your Excellency to know, has been characterized by a marked growth of progress and prosperity; and to testify to the generous and kindly interest which you have displayed in all that pertains to the welfare and advancement of the people, irrespective of distinction of class or creed.

We are also highly sensible of the great degree in which the literature, science and art of the Dominion have benefited from the deep and practical interest which Your Excellency has taken therein.

The important services which Your Excellency has rendered to this country have been heightened by the zealous co-operation of Her Excellency the Countess of Aberdeen, whose untiring efforts to promote the social and moral welfare of our people have endeared her to all classes of the community.

We beg to convey the assurances that Your Excellency and your distinguished consort will bear from our shores our profound respect and esteem, coupled with our warm wishes for your future welfare and happiness, and we indulge the hope that this country may continue to have in Your Excellency a friend and advocate in the councils of the Empire.

NOT ABOVE CRITICISM.

Hon. Mr. Foster, in rising to speak, desired to make a very few remarks, and to make them frankly. The Governor-General, as a representative of Her Majesty, was not free from criticism, which in this age was general, but that criticism was always tempered by respect due to the head of the State in a constitutional country, and in one noted for its loyalty to the Queen. There had been in the present case one great cause of complaint, the leader of the Liberal-Conservative party had expressed this, and he, Mr. Foster, as well as a very large section of the Liberal-Conservative party, shared in the views of their leader, but beyond this they were not blind to the many virtues of Their Excellencies. Their virtues had endeared them to the people, and rendered them worthy of the long line of eminent men who had been Governors-General. He spoke of their great hospitality, and of the special pains which Lord Aberdeen had taken to become acquainted with Canada and Canadians; of their endeavors to promote literature and art. All classes had shared their hospitality. He spoke kindly of the Countess of Aberdeen, and in conclusion said the message entrusted to Lord Aberdeen to lay at the feet of the Queen was a very grand one, in which all the people of Canada would join. "God Save the Queen," from five millions of people, as free and happy as any went the prayer, "God Save the Queen," and preserve the nation. That was the message they entrusted to His Excellency to lay at the feet of the Queen.

Mr. McNeil brought up the matter of the Pacific cable.

In answer to Mr. Foster, Sir Richard Cartwright said there was nothing new in the Petersen contract.

THE QUEBEC BRIDGE.

Mr. Foster asked if it was intended to bring down any vote for a grant of a million dollars to the Quebec bridge, or if the House were to be allowed to rise, and an order-in-Council be afterwards issued.

The Premier declined to answer the latter portion of the question. He was in favor of a grant to the bridge, but no vote would be asked this session. He was in this only expressing his own opinion, and had not consulted his colleagues. He had promised to lay the matter before them. He concluded by asking Mr. Foster's views on the matter.

Mr. Foster said he did not feel called upon to make a breach of the rules of the House to answer this question. At which answer the Premier clapped, and Mr. Tarte laughed heartily.

Mr. Fielding moved the House into Committee of the Whole on the resolutions to pay Manitoba $246,445. Mr. Foster asked that these and some other votes for Manitoba stand over, and a long discussion ensued, Mr. Fielding holding that these votes must go through.

On going into committee, Mr. Fielding moved to reduce the amount to $207,026, the remainder being for furniture for which the province was entitled to pay. Several members protested that this was opening the water sluices, but the resolution carried.

The Committee having risen, Mr. Mulock introduced a bill to legalize his new scheme for 10 cent letters for immediate delivery. The Premier stated this was the last legislation to come down and the House adjourned.

ACTION DISMISSED.

Judge Pelletier has dismissed the case of Wm. Sleeth against J. Cradock Simpson, et al., as executors of the estate of the late W. B. Hamilton, for $5,000 for services. The court held that the plaintiff had failed to prove such services.

FRANK MILLER'S CHANCES.

Mr. England, the Lawyer, Who Visited Him, Says They Are Very Good.

NOTHING HAS BEEN PROVEN AGAINST HIM, AND THEY FOUND NOTHING INCRIMINATING ON HIM.

Things are beginning to look bright for Frank Miller, the young westerner, who after living for some time in Montreal, went to Florida, to try and join the American troops, and was arrested at Tampa on the suspicion of being a spy.

Mr. George P. England, advocate, of this city, who was retained by Miller's wife to see what could be done for him, has just returned from a trip to Florida, and says that there is little doubt but Miller will be released, as there has been nothing found against him, and there is no possibility of their ever proving anything against him. He met with uniform politeness on the part of the army officers, and was allowed two interviews with Miller. It appears that the reason for Miller's arrest was that he had been telegraphing to some friends for money. He had been ill on account of the climate, and had become short of money. Then he had pawned some of his belongings, and finally had to telegraph for money to go back to Canada. Through Mr. England's efforts he had been transferred to Fort McPherson, where there is a military prison, which, on account of the situation, is far more healthy than the gaol at Tampa. Miller has been well treated.

THE WAR TO-DAY.

The variety of war news to-day should satisfy the most fastidious. The Spanish claim that the engagements off Santiago have resulted in a serious defeat for the American invaders, who are said to have suffered great loss of life, among the victims being, it is claimed, Captain Philip, of the United States battleship Texas, a sister ship of the Maine. At the same time the reports from Spanish sources admit that the loss of life on their side has been heavy.

Advices from American correspondents, and from English correspondents in Cuba, are that the forts were silenced by the American ships, and that the forts were completely shattered. Nothing is said about any heavy loss of life on the part of the United States forces.

The Spanish reports admit the cruiser Reina Mercedes was sunk by the shells from the American guns, while American advices state that the Viscaya was also badly damaged by the same means.

About the only reliable news that stands out clearly in the day's budget is that the insurgents in both Cuba and the Philippines are inflicting continued severe defeats on the Spanish forces.

CAPTAIN PHILIP,

Of the United States Battleship Texas whose death is reported to have taken place at Santiago.

A SUSPICIOUS DEATH.

Coroner Blanchard, of St. Hyacinthe, to Investigate the Case.

(Special to the Star.)

ST. HYACINTHE, Que., June 8.—Ovila LePage expired yesterday and a jury empanelled by Coroner Blanchard is trying to throw light upon the mystery surrounding his death. LePage is about 28 years old, and worked for Seguin at the boot and shoe factory on Piete street. He had been drinking and on Monday evening in company with four or five others he went into the country and that was the last seen or heard of him until yesterday morning when he was found stretched on the gallery of his boarding house unconscious. He was carried in and medical aid summoned but he expired at eleven o'clock yesterday forenoon. An inquest was opened last evening at the police station where a large number of people gathered. It continued until nearly midnight and will not be resumed until this evening to allow witnesses from the country to be brought in to testify. It is reported that Lepage said that no one was to blame for what happened him, but himself. As usual in such cases all kinds of rumors are being circulated some saying he tried to break into a house and received the blow from which he died. Others that he fell while intoxicated and died from the injuries then received. People are waiting developments with a good deal of interest.

Mr. Crawford's numerous friends are glad to learn that his favorite measure, "comparative or parallel columns" was adopted at the Bank of Montreal annual meeting, 6th instant; their inclusion in the published statements is undoubtedly a step in the right direction, and will aid in the formation of intelligent conclusions.

FURTHER DELAY.

The Capias Case Against Senors du Bosc and Carranza

TO BE ARGUED IN THE PRACTICE COURT TO-MORROW.

The motions of the attorneys of Senors Carranza and Dubosc to have the writ of capias and seizure returned immediately, having been agreed to by Jos. Kellert's lawyers, the case will come up to-morrow morning again, when Messrs. St. Pierre, Pelissier, and Wilson will present a petition in the Practice Court asking that both writs be quashed on certain grounds, which will be stated in the document. Mr. Greenshields will object, and a day will be fixed for hearing unless the parties agree to proceed at once, which is not probable, however, as both sides seem determined to push the matter to the end.

THE SPANIARDS STILL HERE.

The two Spanish gentlemen, Messrs. Carranza and Dubose, are taking things very easily, and absolutely deny that they are making any preparations to leave. They also deny that they have received any notification whatever, from any source, that they will be asked to do so. They continue to be very much annoyed, however, by the way in which they are being watched and shadowed. They cannot make a move without being followed, and they have thoroughly made up their minds to have it stopped and to claim the protection of the authorities. Even the Consul-General of Spain, Senor Martel, is subjected to this.

Last night, as he left his house, to go to that of his friends on Tupper street, he was followed, and when he left there he was followed again to his own house.

Detective Kellert to-day said, that if the Government should expel the two gentlemen, they would, in his opinion, not do so without giving him an opportunity of obtaining some redress for the outrageous way in which he has been treated by the strangers.

STOCK MARKET.

Broadens, Strengthens and Increases in Activity.

BETTER ENQUIRY FOR STOCKS THAN FOR SOME WEEKS

Star Office,
Wednesday, 2 p.m.

This morning's session of the Montreal Stock Exchange was not lacking in liveliness. More business was done than for a long time, and the market broadened and strengthened appreciably. The outside enquiry for stocks was marked, and the brokers generally received a strong support from that fortunate portion of the community which has money to invest.

The cause of the market's sudden awakening was partly to be found in the strength of Canadian Pacific in London, which was quoted at 89. Here the opening sale was at 86 1-2, but the price fell off gradually during the morning, the closing sale being made at 86 1-8. The sellers of the stock were principally Macdougall Bros., Forget & Co., Godfrey Weir and J. R. Meeker, and the buyers, Burnett & Co., W. Mackenzie, J. S. Grant and Forget & Co.

Dominion Coal was in request. The common stock sold at 24, the preferred at 113 to 112 1-2, and the bonds ($6,000) at 106 3-4.

Toronto Street Railway sold up from 98 to 98 3-4, 750 shares changing hands. Forget & Co. were the largest buyers. Burnett & Co. also bought. The sellers were G. Strathy & Co., Forget & Co., and Howard & Co. Heat and Light was placed at 40 to 41, the sellers being Wilson & Gillespie, Forget & Co., and W. Mackenzie. The buyers were Burnett & Co. and F. Nash. Montreal Street Railway sold at 255 1-2 to 256 3-4. Burnett & Co. sold and Godfrey Weir bought. The earnings yesterday were $4,381.38, and increase of $701.81.

Duluth was again in request, 300 selling at 3. H. C. Scott, G. Weir, and Forget & Co. were sellers, and Hamilton & Son, and Nichols & Marler were buyers.

Richelieu and Ontario gained a point on the morning sales, closing at 103. Halifax Tram was placed at 128, Gas at 188, Montreal Telegraph at 180, Bell Telephone at 171, and Royal Electric at 155. War Eagle sold at 201 for 1000 shares; Colored Cotton bonds at 95, and International Coal bonds at 100. Merchants Bank was placed at 170 and Commerce at 135 3-4.

Forget & Co.'s cable message from London quotes Pacific at 89, Grand Trunk, 1st preference at 76 1-2, thirds at 26 1-2, and Hudson's Bay at 20,5-8.

The stockholders of the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railway, familiarly known as the "Soo" held their 11th annual meeting yesterday in Minneapolis. The directors were all re-elected, and also the officers.

The City Treasurer of Toronto announces that the city's per centage of the Street Railway's receipts for May was $7399. Last year, May's per centage was $6674.

AFTERNOON SALES.

55 Montreal Street Railway at 257, 25 Merchants Bank at 169, 1035 War Eagle Mine at 200 1-4, 3300 War Eagle Mine xd. at 200, 75 Royal Electric xd. at 153, 5 Bank of Montreal at 240, 75 Canadian Pacific at 85 7-8, 250 War Eagle Mine at 200 3-4.

PRICES IRREGULAR.

A Split in the Ranks of Operators for an Advance Causes Lower Prices.

(Special to the Star.)

NEW YORK, June 8.—The trading and the movement of prices in to-day's early stock market were irregular. While there was heavy buying of one class of securities there was selling of another. The coal shares displayed remarkable strength, and scored gains of 1-2 to 1 1-4 points. The general list opened fractionally higher, but, under the leadership of the Grangers, Louisville and Nashville, and Sugar Certificates, a sharp reaction took place, and losses of 1-2 to 2 per cent. resulted. The above named stocks were freely sold about the noon hour the market became less active and slightly firmer. Another downward movement was started in the early afternoon and prices fell off with comparative ease. Canadian Pacific moved up 1 3-8 points to 86 1-2, but later re-acted to 86. Sugar Certificates were freely sold throughout the day, the price touching 1.40. There has been considerable realizing of profits during the last two days, and also it is said there has been a split between operators working for an advance, which was partly the cause of the downward movement. Government bonds were fractionally lower.

LEITER BOUGHT JUNE.

And His Purchases Were the Feature of To-day's Wheat Market.

(From the Special Correspondent of the Star on the Chicago Board of Trade.)

CHICAGO, June 8.—Wheat opened 1 to 1 1-2 cents over last night for September. Liverpool showed an advance of 5 pence at one time for July on covering in that market by a Chicago house. The final figures there for the day showed gains over last night of 1-4 to 4 1-4 pence. Foreigners were good buyers at Chicago. Later they were on the other side. This was the case especially with the continent. There is so much rain west that the winter wheat harvest may be somewhat delayed. Crop reports are generally favorable. The Corn Trade News cables the Star correspondent: "The Paris Bourse has decided that American flour is not tenderable on contracts." Broomhall cables: "Weather in England, fine. Hungarian official crop report says if present conditions are maintained indications are for a crop of 120,000,000 bushels or 27,000,000 bushels, below the average, due to decrease in area sown. The crop was in full ear at the end of May."

Leiter has bought June. It was the feature to-day. It was hammered down to $1, and he bid it up to $1.07. July ranged between 89 1-2 and 87, September at 77 and 75 3-4.

The house of Joseph Bourque, farmer, St. Wenceslas, Que., was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday morning. Loss, $1000; no insurance.

A demand of assignment has been made on Dominick Beaulieu & Co., plumbers, of Quebec, by Thomas Robertson & Co., Ltd., Montreal.

HUNDREDS OF THEM.

Hundreds throughout Canada are talking the praises of Foot Elm, for tender sweaty feet. It gives immediate relief, and all druggists sell it at 25c, or 5 for $1.00. S. H. Stott & Jury, Bowmanville, Ont. 133 1

AFRAID OF RITUALISM

Methodist Ministers Discuss an Effort to Introduce an Innovation in the Church Service.

VARIOUS OPINIONS EXPRESSED

As to the Advisability of the Clergy Publicly Receiving the Offertory in Church.

COLLEGE AND OTHER REPORTS

Presented at Yesterday's Sitting of the Conference—Ministers Superannuated.

A friendly war was engaged in at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Methodist Conference. The combative spirit of the ministers was aroused over a resolution, which, it was held, would tend to make the Church more ritualistic, viz., the offering up of prayer over the offertory by the minister.

Rev. W. G. Henderson presented the report of the state of the work, showing that the membership of the Church had decreased 541. This decrease was largely the result of the weeding out process, but this was another evidence that perhaps the proper discrimination was not used in the admission of members.

The report recommended that when the stewards had completed the taking up of the offering on the Lord's day, the plates should be taken from their hands by the officiating minister, and placed upon the communion table; the minister then and there asking the blessing of God upon the liberality of the people. Also that it should be impressed upon the people that the offertory was as much a part of the worship of God as any other part of the service.

Dr. Hunter spoke in favor of the recommendation. He felt that the offertory was a portion of the worship, and that it should be tendered more dignity than at present. He was in no way a ritualist, but he thought it would be adding to the spirit of worship to adopt this method of receiving the offertory from the people, and giving it to the Lord.

The ministers—"No, no."

Rev. W. G. Henderson said he had a perfect detestation of ritualism, yet if he saw any portion of Buddhism itself, which would help in the service, he would adopt it. Evidently the people did not look upon the offering as an essential part of the service of God, yet it was such, and this should be impressed upon their minds, and perhaps their offerings would be more liberal.

Rev. Dr. Rose spoke in favor of the resolution, and was followed by Rev. Dr. Benson, who favored the placing of the collection upon the table, instead of upon the floor, as was at present frequently done. (Laughter.) And Rev. S. G. Bland said it was well to have an antipathy to ritualism, and from all the millinery of ritualism. Yet was not the church recoiling too far from it, and might it not be a good thing to take all the good possible from ritualism, and throw away that which was dross? Here was a place where he thought good might be taken out of it. Undoubtedly a more reverential feeling would accompany the offertory were it received in a more reverential manner.

Cries of "Vote, vote."

Rev. Mr. Chisholm thought there were but three elements in Christianity, prayer, praise and sacrifice. He had noticed in all Methodist services, prayers were offered over singing, but upon the other element, equally important, not a word of thanks was uttered.

Dr. Patton held that though the offering was part of the religious service it was was not part of the worship of God. They were already becoming too ritualistic and he thought the brethren ought not to go still further away from the simplicity of the Methodist Church as they would by adopting such an unnecessary procedure.

"Hear, hear."

Mr. J. H. Carson said he thought the proper time to pray was before the offering was taken up.

Dr. Jackson thought giving was a part of religion rather than of worship, but it seemed to him nothing but stilted empty form to take it in a formal manner and offer it to God after he had already accepted it from the giver.

Mr. W. W. Stumbles spoke in the same strain. Rev. Isaac Hall followed by saying that a ceremony was not necessarily wrong and the fear of accepting ritualism appeared to him to be foolish.

The vote was then taken in response to cries of "vote, vote," and the resolution was completely voted down.

ALMA COLLEGE REPORT.

Rev. William Blair made the report of Alma College. This showed that the college is in an excellent position, the profit and loss account being the most successful in years. The report was adopted and Mr. Bair was re-appointed as the conference representative on the college board.

After considerable discussion it was decided to place G. R. Kitching on the reserve list of ministers. Messrs. Archer, Booth and James Gillan were also placed upon the list. Rev. D. Brown was placed upon the supernumerary list.

Rev. T. J. Mansell was appointed treasurer of the missionary fund; Rev. G. G. Huxtable, treasurer of the church relief fund; Rev. R. Robinson, treasurer of the Sunday-school aid; Rev. S. G. Bland, treasurer of the general conference fund; Rev. G. McRitchie, treasurer of the contingent fund, and Rev. E. W. Crane, treasurer of the superannuation fund.

The following were appointed the reserve ministerial representatives of the Montreal Conference to the General Conference: Rev. George Rogers, Rev. G. G. Huxtable, and Rev. J. T. Pitcher.

The Contingent Fund Committee reported receipts of $1,342, expenses of $1,338.30, leaving a balance on hand of $3.01.

The Lord's Day Observance Committee report was read by the secretary. The report submitted that the observance of the Lord's Day was necessary to a proper physical and mental condition of the individual. That a greater emphasis should be laid upon the spiritual importance of Sabbath observance. That bicycling and boating for mere pleasure, and cheese-making and social visiting on Sunday, be discountenanced, as well as the running of railway trains, etc., thus depriving the employes of rest.

It was recommended that support should be given to all persons striving to preserve the sanctity of the Sabbath.

The report originally included other recommendations, many of which were struck out and altered.

The report was then adopted.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK.

The Sunday School Committee reported that there was a falling off of attendance. This might be the result of the failure of many schools to fill up the schedules. The report asked that normal training classes and teachers' meetings be held on every circuit. Frequent sermons to children by pastors and a more earnest work among the schools, as well as a more extended system of visiting Sunday schools was recommended.

The report was adopted, and session adjourned.

At the evening session of the conference a warm discussion arose upon the question of the term of itinerary and it was eventually concluded to return to the three year term formerly in vogue.

The first business proceeded with was the appointment of a treasurer of the Conference Billeting Fund. The choice fell upon Rev. Joseph Pinel, and it was directed that a report of the fund should be brought in next year.

Rev. Dr. Henderson then said that the Conference was about to proceed to a very solemn service, viz., the memorial service of the three ministerial brethren who had died during the year. Many present had looked into the future world since the last conference, but it had graciously pleased God to bring them back again to continue a time longer in the work.

A hymn was then sung and a hush fell over the conference as Rev. Dr. Shaw led in prayer.

The president then asked the formal question, "who have died during the year?"

The first name mentioned was that of Rev. J. A. Diome. The secretary read the obituary notice of the deceased. He was born in 1846 and was killed by a train on November 24, 1897. He was of French parentage and was born a Catholic. Afterwards becoming a Methodist, he became a missionary to the Indians, and assisted in the translation of the Bible into that language. The reading of the obituary was followed by testimonials from Dr. Jackson and others present, as to the worth of their departed friend.

The next name was that of Rev. J. A. Dorion. The obituary showed that he was born in October, 1828. He was converted from Catholicism to Methodism and after a long service upon various fields was placed upon the superannuation list in 1879. He died on June 21st, 1897. Revs. E. DeGruchy, F. C. Reynolds, T. Roy, Dr. Jackson, J. Pinel, W. Wells and others spoke of their personal experiences with Mr. Dorion, all testifying to his noble and earnest character.

The third and last was Rev. W. H. Demarie, who was born in Roxton, in 1866. His father had been converted to the Protestant faith, and in 1892 Mr. Demarie was received as a candidate of the church. On August, 6, 1897, he was suddenly drowned while bathing.

Revs. T. Roy, J. Pinel, T. E. Burke, L. Massicotte, W. Henderson, E. DeGruchy, and Richard Robinson spoke in the most feeling terms of the love entertained for Mr. Demarie by all those who knew him. As a young man he gave great promise of a future of great success in the winning of souls for the Father.

After the singing of another hymn business was proceeded with.

The second report of the Memorial Committee was then received.

The memorial referring to the amendment of a clause in the discipline regarding the registration of baptisms, which had been referred back to the committee, was brought in in an amended form, and adopted.

Regarding the election of society representatives. The committee considered the provisions of the discipline sufficient, and did not entertain the suggestion. The report was adopted by conference.

With reference to the payment of the travelling expenses of transferred ministers, the proposal was approved by committee, which recommended that the General Conference be asked to provide legislation to bring about the proposed changes. Adopted.

THE ITINERACY.

Then came the subject which caused the discussion of the evening. The committee reported in favor of a four year term of itineracy, as recommended by Rev. Dr. Courtice, in view of the fact that many are in favor of a longer term.

Dr. Patton said that, as the servant of the conference, the minister should be at the command of the conference. At the same time, as it was the people who had to be served, he thought they should be consulted, and the opinion of the Quarterly Boards obtained.

Dr. Patton moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Burke, "that this conference memorialize the General Conference to take steps to ascertain the feeling of the Quarterly Board throughout the conference before any action is taken to change the term of the pastorate."

Dr. Jackson moved an amendment to the amendment that the conference go back to the three year term, without reserve. He said the itinerancy was founded upon facts in human nature and no man could do right and go against the laws of human nature. Wesley could only administer to the needs of a congregation for a short term, and he did not think that he had ever met a man who could minister to all the needs of a congregation. The fire of Methodism was largely dying out for want of an interchange of pulpits. The man who could minister to the pulpit for ten years was not necessarily a success—in fact, he was not fit for the Methodist ministry. In the last analysis there was not a reason given for the lengthening of the term which did not resolve itself into a question of sentiment or selfishness.

Dr. Shaw spoke in favor of the recommendation of the committee. The motion was meant to legislate against the present wrong practice, and he felt that the four year term was, everything considered, the most advantageous.

Dr. Rose spoke in favor of the four years term, saying that he believed it was the best. It fitted in with the quadrennial term. The imputation of selfishness did not affect him. He preferred almost anything rather than the present plan, and he would regret if either of the amendments carried, as he believed the suggestion in the recommendation was the best.

Rev. W. H. Sparling spoke in favor of the longer term. He felt that three years was too short a time for a minister to become properly acquainted with the circuit. He considered that those with the longer terms had the strongest churches and the strongest hold upon their people.

Dr. Patton said the consideration which he had in mind was this: He was thinking of the young men who had just commenced their work, and to condemn them for three or four long terms to a poor appointment was a great disadvantage.

The people should have the decision of the term of pastorate in their own hands, and he thought it would be an injustice to them to not give them a chance to decide.

Rev. Dr. Benson said Dr. Potts' remarks would have more weight if the people were not represented in the conferences. The present scheme was a bad one, and he thought the suggestion of Dr. Courtice a good one.

Rev. E. S. Howard and Mr. Parks spoke in favor of the longer term.

Robert Irvine said there were ministers under whom he would not care to sit for three years, and there were some in the city, and in the church, perhaps, whom he would not want to have preach to him again. At the same time when he got a good minister, he wanted to keep him, and if the ministers were not good, they should not be in the church.

The debate began to lengthen out and many appeared desirous of speaking, while others called loudly for a vote. It was eventually decided that as the hour was late, the vote should be taken. Upon a show of hands being called for it was found that Dr. Jackson's amendment had carried by a vote of 79 to 73.

The meting then resolved itself into a ministerial session, which shortly after adjourned.

Two More Troopships Leave for Santiago.

MEN ARE FULL OF ENTHUSIASM AND READY FOR THE FRAY.

(Special to the Star.)

TAMPA, Fla., June 8.—Crowded to the guards with troops and with their holds crammed full of stores, two more troop ships sailed to-day for Santiago de Cuba. They were part of General Shafter's army of 15,000, which is to fight under the American flag over the southeastern end of Cuba. There is the most intense excitement here. Crowds are watching the remaining soldiers who are marching to the quay to wait their turn for going on board the ships. The published news of the first detachment's skirmish while landing near Aquadores has greatly excited the troops here. They are at fever heat, and the greatest enthusiasm prevails.

SIR WILLIAM HINGSTON

Delivers the Shattuck Lecture Before Massachusetts Medical Society.

THE CLIMATIC INFLUENCE OF THE CONTINENT AND LIQUID MEAT FOODS.

(Special to the Star.)

BOSTON, Mass., June 8.—Sir William Hingston, M.D., of Montreal, delivered the Shatuck lecture, provided by the income of a fund bequeathed by the late Dr. Geo. Shattuck, before the members of the Massachusetts Medical Society, at their 117th anniversary celebration last evening in the Mechanics' building.

Dr. Hingston took for his subject "The influence of the North American climate on the people." He spoke of the climatic conditions in various parts of this continent, and denied the assertion made that "the people of those northern latitudes," speaking of the country just north, "are stupid and mentally incapable to a degree." He said this may be the case in the extreme north, but it is also true of the other extreme.

"The man who is out in the open air every day where the sun beats down upon his head is constituted to make a more valuable citizen and his influence is larger than that of the man who is always seeking the shady side of the street, or, when changes of season come, going where he will be most comfortable."

Dr. Hingston dwelt at length on pre-natal conditions that obtain among the various nationalities, and spoke at length on food supplies and hygienic conditions. He said it was a source of surprise to him to see such an extended menu at the hotels, and he thought it was owing to the fact that such a variety is offered to select from that so much ill-health exists. Toward the close of his lecture Dr. Hingston, in speaking of food products, said that liquid meats had almost no value whatever as a food, and related the history of an investigation carried on by a commission appointed by the British Medical Society. For the purpose of experimenting with liquid meats to test their value as food, the commission caused six dogs to be confined and fed on several different varieties of liquid meats, while six more were also confined and given nothing but water, with the result that the latter starved and the result was little better in the case of the dogs that were fed with liquid meat.

At the close of the lecture a reception was given to Dr. Hingston, and several hundred members took the opportunity to meet him.

MERRIMAC'S HEROES.

How News of Their Safety was Delivered to Admiral Sampson.

SENT OUT UNDER A TRUCE FLAG

The Men Will be Treated Fairly as Prisoners of War by Cervera.

MERRIMAC WAS BLOWN UP.

The Spaniards Admit This Although She was Well Riddled With Shell.

ON BOARD DESPATCH BOAT DANDY, off Santiago de Cuba, via Kingston, Jamaica, June 8.—Lieut. Richmond P. Hobson and the seven heroes who aided him to block the harbor of Santiago de Cuba with the hulk of the collier Merrimac, have escaped with their lives, and are now prisoners of war. Two of the men are slightly injured, one in the cheek and one in the hip. Both will recover in a short time. The news of the safety of the men of the Merrimac was brought to the flag ship New York on Friday afternoon by a Spanish tugboat flying a flag of truce. She came out by order of Admiral Cervera, who was represented by Captain Bustamente Oviedo, his chief of staff.

The Spanish admiral was so struck by the wonderful daring shown by Lieut. Hobson and his men that in generous admiration of the bravery of his foemen he sent his chief of staff to let the American fleet know that the men were safe and well treated as prisoners of war. This treatment, the Spanish admiral promises, shall be given them as long as they are under his charge. Cervera's gallant recognition of the courage of his enemy evoked much favorable comment in the American fleet, and the praises of his geniality were second only to the feeling of happiness that possessed the men of the blockading squadron when it became known that Hobson and his men were alive and well instead of being mangled corpses at the bottom of Santiago harbor, as every man in the fleet had concluded they must be.

THE FLAG OF TRUCE.

It was shortly after noon on Friday when the Spanish signalled from the shore that they desired to send off a flag of truce. A reply was sent that the flag would be received. The wildest rumors ran through the fleet regarding the cause of the flag. Some of the wildly optimistic declared that Admiral Cervera intended to surrender, but others, and they included nearly all the men of the fleet, believed that the Spanish admiral desired to let the American admiral know that the bodies of the heroes of the Merrimac were at his disposal if he cared to receive them, and inter them with befitting honors.

About two o'clock in the afternoon a dingy little harbor tug flying a white flag on her single mast and the red and yellow banner of Spain at the stern, came slowly out from the harbor. As soon as she could be seen from the New York Admiral Sampson directed Lieut. Staunton, his chief of staff, to board the Vixen, which lay alongside the New York, and meet the Spaniard half-way. The Vixen ran up a white flag on her foremast, and started to meet the tug. Being much the faster boat of the two the Vixen met the tug about three-quarters of the distance from the flagship to the harbor mouth.

ALL EYES ON THE BOATS.

As the two boats approached each other every eye and pair of glasses on the American fleet was directed on them. On every ship sailors by hundreds lined the rails and watched intently as the boats came close to each other. As they came within hailing distance the Vixen swung to starboard and slowed down. The Spanish tug lost no time in running alongside, and Capt. Ovideo introduced himself to Lieut. Staunton as chief of staff of Admiral Cervera, and expressed a desire to see Admiral Sampson personally. Lieut. Staunton agreed to the request, and Capt. Ovideo was accordingly taken on board the Vixen and to the flagship. While on the way he informed Lieut. Staunton of the safety of Lieut. Hobson and his men, and as the Vixen ranged up alongside the New York and the good news was shouted through a megaphone the officers and men on the New York went wild, and cheer after cheer went up from the jackies, who literally hugged each other in their delight. The men of the New York were, in fact, so hilarious that the arrival of Capt. Ovideo, as he came up the side of the ship, did not create the sensation it might have caused under other circumstances.

Capt. Ovideo was immediately conducted to Admiral Sampson, and after salutes had been exchanged, he said: "Admiral Cervera, the commander of the Spanish fleet, is most profoundly impressed with the brilliant courage shown by the men who sank the steamer Merrimac in our harbor, and in admiration of their courage he has directed me to say to their countrymen that they are alive, and, with the exception of two of the men, who were slightly hurt, they are uninjured. They are now prisoners of war, and are being well cared for, and will be treated with every consideration."

ADMIRAL SAMPSON EXPRESSES THANKS.

Admiral Sampson expressed his thanks for the kindness and generosity of Admiral Cervera, and invited Capt. Ovideo to his cabin, where they talked for some time alone. Later they returned to the quarter deck, where they chatted pleasantly. Admiral Sampson improved the opportunity to show off the ships of the American fleet. In succession the Texas, Oregon, Marblehead and Iowa steamed close by the flagship in response to a signal from the admiral, and Capt. Ovideo was given an opportunity to judge what chance he and his fellows of the Cape Verde fleet will have for their lives if they ever come sailing out of the harbor of Santiago de Cuba.

In discussing the Merrimac, Capt. Ovideo, as well as the Americans were surprised that any of the men aboard the boat had escaped. He said that all the Spanish batteries had been turned upon the Merrimac, and that she was literally riddled again and again. The Spaniards thought that she must go to the bottom, but she kept straight on her course, guided by the cool heads and steady hands of the American tars upon her deck.

"Lieut. Hobson blew up his ship himself," said Capt. Ovideo, "and I suppose he destroyed it when he reached the place in the channel he considered desirable. She could ont have lasted much longer anyway, for we were tearing her to pieces with shell. After the ship went down Lieut. Hobson and his men swam ashore in a heavy fire, and were taken prisoners. Admiral Cervera, and, indeed, all of us, consider the act of Lieut. Hobson and his crew one of the bravest in the history of naval warfare."

CERVERA'S ACTION A SURPRISE.

It cannot be denied that the action of the Spanish admiral in sending his message on board the New York was a surprise to the men of the American fleet. None of them were looking for such conduct from a nation that had starved the Cubans and which blew up the Maine.

After being aboard the flagship nearly two hours, Captain Oviedo took formal leave of Admiral Sampson, every honor being accorded him as he left the ship. A launch containing clothing and supplies for the American prisoners was sent to the tug, and Captain Oviedo promised that they should be delivered to them. The escape of the men on the Merrimac is considered nothing short of miraculous.

Commodore Schley, who has seen some hot firing during his service, described the Spanish fire on the Merrimac as the most terrific he had ever witnessed, and other veterans of the civil war expressed similar opinions.

There is great exultation in the American fleet over the success of the undertaking. The Merrimac lies in just the place where it was desired to locate her, and Admiral Sampson says that even in daylight and with no interference she could not have been better located for the purpose of blocking the channel.

There were no other happenings of interest on the blockade during Friday. In the early morning the launch which had been sent in shore to take off Lieut. Hobson and his men drew some shots from the Spanish batteries, and as the Brooklyn happened to be standing rather close in shore at the same time the Spaniards wasted a few shells in trying to hit her. She made no reply, although several of the shells came rather close to her, and in a short time she steamed out of range.

MESSAGE FROM CERVERA.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The Herald publishes the following: When the news of Constructor Hobson's daring exploit was received early on Sunday morning, the Herald sent a message to Admiral Cervera requesting him kindly to say whether the Americans were safe, and offering to convey, through the Herald, any message that the men might desire to send to their friends at home. Following is the reply, received yesterday, of the Spanish admiral:

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, June 7.

Herald, New York:

Prisoners no longer submitted to my authority, but to Lieut.-Gen. Linares, Commander-in-chief, Santiago de Cuba. Prisoners treated as Spanish officers of rank. All are in good health.

HEROIC GEORGE CHARETTE.

George Charette, one of the heroes of the Merrimac, now a prisoner of the Spanish at Santiago de Cuba, is of French-Canadian descent, born in the United States. He is 32 years of age, and is thus described; a finely built, dark-complexioned man, quiet, but determined in demeanor and a brave fellow. His clean shaven lips show a determined mouth and chin. There is no mention of a moustache as shown by a Montreal paper's fake picture.

Charette was last in Lowell, Mass., his home, on May 17. He had then just returned from a long cruise on the San Francisco. Having convoyed the New Orleans from England, and seen her safely inside Sandy Hook, Charette left his ship, because he wanted to get into the thick of the fight that was then going on. His time had expired on the San Francisco, and he went directly to Key West and enlisted as first-class gunner's mate on the New York. He has a brother on the gunboat Vicksburg. Charette, the elder, originally came from near Montreal.

RETURNED FROM MANILA.

United States Fighting Men Speak Highly of Spanish Bravery.

AGUINALDO REPORTS ON HOW HE TOOK THE LAND FORCES INTO CAMP.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Among the passengers who arrived on the Belgic from Hong Kong were four men who participated in the fight of Manila on May 1. They are Paymaster G. A. Loud of the despatch boat McCulloch, Dr. Charles P. Kindleberger, surgeon on the Olympia; Ralph Phelps, secretary to the captain of the McCulloch and J. C. Evans, gunner of the Boston. They all speak of the valor and determination of their opponents in the battle of Manila. They say that the Spanish fought bravely even after the last vestige of hope had gone and stayed by their guns as long as they could be used.

Dr. Kindleberger gives a graphic account of the terrible fight. He was on the Olympia through it all. In the first assault the flagship took the lead, the other vessels following in her wake at four ships' length.

During the first fight the Spanish admiral's ship put bravely out of the line to meet the Olympia. The entire American fleet concentrated fire on her and she was so badly injured that she turned around to put back. At this juncture the Olympia let fly an 8-inch shell which struck her stern and pierced through almost her entire length, exploding finally in the engine room, wrecking her machinery. This shell killed the captain and sixty men and set the vessel on fire.

AGUINALDO.

The Philippine Insurgent Leader, under whose leadership the rebels are inflicting such serious defeats upon the Spanish forces.

THE SECOND FIGHT.

In the second fight the Baltimore was sent to silence the fort at Cavite. She plunged into a cloud of smoke and opened all her batteries on the fortifications. In a very few minutes a shell struck the ammunition and the fort blew up with a deafening roar.

The work on the Baltimore was glorious. After the principal ships had been destroyed, the Concord, Raleigh and Petrel being of light draft were sent close into handle the remaining vessels of the fleet. They made quick work of them. In taking possession of the land forts several hundred wounded Spaniards fell into the hands of the Americans and nearly two hundred dead were accounted for on the spot. Holes in which numbers had been hastily buried were found. The dead were returned to relatives so far as this could be done and the wounded were cared for in the best manner by the American surgeons.

"Our salvation," says the doctor, "was in They handled their pieces like children, the bad marksmanship of the Spaniards. Nearly all their shots went wide. Most of them were high, flying over the fleet and falling into the bay beyond.

"Some of the batteries, however, were better trained. Several guns maintained a raking fire on the fleet. Nearly all of our ships were struck by both large and small shot, but no damage of consequence was done.

LETTER FROM AGUINALDO.

LONDON, June 8.—The Hong Kong correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

"United States Consul Wildman has received the following letter from Aguinaldo, the insurgent leader in the Philippines:

"Before opening an attack upon any town I summoned the Spanish officer in command to surrender. In one case one of the officers so summoned replied by stating that the garrison was not quite ready to fight and he asked if I would defer the attack for three hours. I complied. The first engagement we had with the Spaniards occurred on May 28, when we captured 19, with their arms and ammunition. Toward evening we hemmed them in. One hundred and ninety Cazadores and seventy loyal natives participated. We lost four killed. The Spaniards lost 16 killed, including one officer. The result of this engagement was that fighting became general throughout the Province of Cavite. After four days' fighting over 2000 Spaniards were taken prisoners, including many officers and Gen. Leopoldo Pena, governor of Cavite, who handed me his sword, revolver and golden belt and a formal letter of surrender."

STILL HOLDING OUT.

A despatch to the Daily Telegram from Manila, dated June 3, says: The Spaniards in the church in Old Cavite are still holding out; but, the adjacent town of Imus has been captured by the insurgents. This is an important point at the back of Cavite proper, and its possession by the rebels is a serious matter for the Spaniards, because it is the outlet to the surrounding country, and through it supplies are brought to the city of Manila. It will also afford an admirable base of operations for a further advance toward the city.

The foreign residents are anxious to get away. Those at Cavite are safe under the Stars and Stripes.

The Manila Railway Company has received the following despatch from its superintendent at Manila:

"The line has been cut in the first section. The rails have been removed and there is no means of communication between the second and third sections. Traffic is suspended. The rebels are surrounding Manila and an attack is expected any day.

THE CADIZ FLEET.

LONDON, June 8.—A despatch to the Daily Chronicle from Gibraltar says that Admiral Camara, with the Cadiz reserve squadron, will sail for Cuba in a fortnight.

It is said in Paris that the French and Russian Governments are exchanging views as to the expediency of subjecting such conquests as the United States may have made and may hold good in the China Seas to European sanction.

A CUBAN VICTORY.

Spanish Column Badly Defeated by the Insurgents.

TROOPS SURRENDER AFTER SIX HOURS' BATTLE.

NEW YORK, June 8.—News has just reached the Cuban Junta in this city, of a victory achieved by the Cuban forces over a division of the Spanish army at Jiguani, Province of Santiago, on May 22. It was one of the most decisive battles which the patriots have gained in many months, and the most important one since the war was declared by the United States against Spain.

A column of Spanish soldiers, 1,300 strong, acting under orders from Havana to abandon the interior towns, and advance toward the coast, evacuated the town of La Piedra, after having destroyed their forts and fortifications to prevent them from falling into the hands of the insurgents, and camped at Jiguani, where they expected to remain awaiting further orders.

The Spaniards were surprised on the morning of May 22 by being attacked by a division of the first corps, belonging to General Calixto Garcia's command, under the leadership of Col. Jose Rabi. The Cubans, altogether numbered a little more than 1,000 men, while the Spaniards had fully twice that number. The Cubans advanced in good order, being well equipped with arms and ammunition, and took the enemy completely by surprise. At the start the Spaniards scattered, but afterward made an effort to rally their forces. They only succeeded in being able to retreat in regular order to the village of Palma.

After six hours' hard fighting at Palma the Spaniards raised a flag of truce, and expressed themselves as being willing to surrender. Terms were speedily arranged, and the Cubans took as prisoners one Spanish colonel, seven captains, and several other officers, besides 108 soldiers. The Spanish loss amounted to 76 dead, besides a large number who were wounded. Included in the Spanish losses were 13 officers.

The Cubans sustained a heavy loss, but it was considerably smaller than that of the Spaniards. It is reported that there were 45 killed, including five officers of lesser rank, and about sixty wounded. After the battle the Cubans returned to Jiguani. There they recovered a large quantity of arms and ammunition from the deserted Spanish camp, together with provision and supply waggons, which the enemy had been compelled to leave behind. These were much needed, and were sent to the headquarters of General Garcia's camp at Bayamo.

THE TERROR NOT SUNK.

An Official Denial of a Twice-Repeated Canard.

(Special to the Star.)

KINGSTON, Jamaica, June 8.—There were rumors afloat here this morning that the Spanish torpedo-boat destroyer, Terror, had been sunk near Santiago by the battleship Oregon. If this report was cabled to the United States, there was no excuse for thus promulgating the story, for it did not take much labor here to ascertain that there was no basis whatever for it. Despatch boats arriving from the fleet at Santiago reported that they had heard nothing of the alleged event of last Friday night, and that, in fact, the story was a hoax.

FIRED BLANK CARTRIDGE.

And a Motorman at Sherbrooke Received the Charge in the Face.

(Special to the Star.)

SHERBROOKE, June 8.—John Kerr, a motorman on one of the Sherbrooke electric cars, was severely injured last night in a very peculiar manner. The 53rd battalion had been engaged in a sham fight and some members of the Lennoxville troop put some of the blank cartridges in their pocket to shoot on the way home. At a switch about half way to Lennoxville they passed a Sherbrooke bound car. When just opposite this car one of the men fired a blank cartridge. Kerr was only a few feet distant and the flame and powder struck him squarely in the face and eyes, completely blinding him. The unfortunate man was brought to his home in Sherbrooke. The doctor considers it doubtful if the eyesight will ever be wholly restored. Kerr is about fifty-five years of age and for several years was on the Montreal Street Railway.

FATHER STRUBBE.

Greatly Honored by His Parishioners Yesterday.

ADDRESSES ACCOMPANIED BY A PURSE CONTAINING $1,000.

Rev. Father Strubbe, of St. Ann's, has completed the twenty-fifth year of his ordination to the priesthood, and the occasion was pleasantly observed by his parishioners last evening. St. Ann's Young Men's Hall was the scene of the celebration and was prettily decorated. Over the platform, in red, white and green electric incandescent lights were the words, "73. Soggarth Aroon, 98."

Mr. John Whitty, president of the St. Ann's Young Men's Society, occupied the chair, and on the platform, besides Rev. Father Strubbe, was Rev. Father Lemieux, the new vice-provincial of the Redemptorist Order, and the St. Ann's cadets, who acted as a guard of honor.

Miss Lesperance, on behalf of the Ladies' Auxiliary, presented a prettily illuminated address to the reverend father, congratulating him on having completed a quarter of a century in the priesthood.

The chairman, on behalf of the St. Ann's Young's Men's Society, presented an illuminated address to Rev. Father Strubbe. The testimonial was accompanied by a purse containing $1,000.

Short addresses of congratulation were also made by Hon. Mr. Justice Curran, Hon. D. Guerin, and Mr. M. J. F. Quinn, Q.C., M.P.

Father Strubbe spoke feelingly in reply. Coffee, tea and cake were served at the close by the ladies of the parish.

WEDDED AT GRANBY.

Rev. E. M. Hill and Miss Miner Married To-day.

THE CEREMONY WAS A PRETTY ONE, AND CAUSED MUCH INTEREST.

(Special to the Star.)

GRANBY, Que., June 8.—The wedding of Rev. E. Munson Hill, pastor of Calvary Congregational Church, and Miss Miner, daughter of Mr. S. Henderson C. Miner, Mayor of Granby, in the Congregational Church, Main street, at noon to-day, attracted a large and fashionable assemblage.

The popularity of the Miner family in this town made the pleasing event one of unusual importance, and the ceremony has long been looked forward to with pleasurable anticipations by Granby society, particularly the fair sex, who turned out in full force for the occasion.

The interior of the Congregational Church—a very pretty edifice—was turned into a perfect bower of floral decorations, particularly the pulpit platform, the officiating clergyman being almost concealed behind spreading palms and luxuriant native ferns and beautiful marguerites, hydrangeas and lilies, with large bowls of daisies picked by the bride's Sunday school scholars in honor of the event to show their regard for the bride. The choir rail and the windows also had their quota of floral decorations, and the church presented a charming appearance.

Invitations were restricted to the relatives of the bride and the close friends of the groom, but the body of the church was crowded with friends of the bride's family.

Rev. T. S. McWilliams, pastor of the American Presbyterian Church, Montreal, was the officiating clergyman, and Rev. Mr. Stewart Oxley, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church, Westmount, performed the duties of groomsman.

Miss Miner was attended by her sister, Miss Helen Miner, as maid of honor, and her cousins, Misses Mamie and Adelaide Miner, and Lottie Black as bridesmaids.

Messrs. A. L. White and R. S. Hood, of Montreal, and W. H. Miner, of Granby, cousin of the bride, officiated as ushers. Mr. William Reed, organist of the American Church, Montreal, presided at the organ, and previous to the wedding gave a half-hour recital.

The bride entered the church with her father to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, preceded by the ushers, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids.

The wedding party presented a pretty appearance, the bride being attired in a handsome costume of ivory duchesse satin, with tulle veil, and trimmed with long satin sashes, duchesse lace, and white violets. She carried a magnificent bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern. She wore at her throat a beautiful diamond and pearl broach in the form of a star, the gift of the groom.

Miss Helen Miner, the maid of honor, wore a costume of ivory taffeta with touches of daffodil yellow and white chiffon. Her bouquet was of white carnations.

The Misses Miner and Black, the bridesmaids, looked pretty in organdie muslin made over delicate shades of pink and green, trimmed with valenciennes lace and chiffon hats. Their bouquets were pink and white carnations.

A number of handsome gowns were worn by the friends of the bride and groom in Granby, and from the United States and Montreal.

The service was choral. At the conclusion of the service the bridal party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March. They at once repaired to the pretty residence of the family, where the newly married couple received hearty congratulations. The bridal party and their immediate friends afterwards sat down to a wedding breakfast.

Later on in the afternoon the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Hill left on their wedding trip, it being their intention, after a few days, to visit the former home of the groom in Wisconsin. They will afterwards take up their residence at 25 Crescent street, Montreal, and will be at home after Wednesday, September 15th.

The wedding presents included many from friends in the United States and Montreal, besides those in Granby, and made up a beautiful variety of China and silver.

She was one of those who jumped from the third story, and the injuries she received then have proved fatal. Coroner Blanchard held an inquest this morning, and the verdict rendered was in accordance with the facts.

THE RATE WAR.

A Settlement of the Differences Now Said to be in Sight.

(Special to the Star.)

CHICAGO, June 8.—It is said by some of the Canadian Pacific officers at Vancouver, B. C., that the present rate war will in all probability be brought to an end in a few weeks, as an agreement is said to have been made with President Hill, of the Great Northern, who is favorable to a settlement.

CORNER STONE LAID.

(Special to the Star.)

PERTH, June 8.—The laying of the corner stone of new St. Andrew's Church, Perth, Rev. A. H. Scott, M.A., pastor, was attended by a ceremony which was witnessed yesterday by a large crowd which occupied not only the church grounds but the public streets, which were lined with vehicles and onlookers. The pastor presided and had charge of the service throughout. "Praise God from whom all blessings flow" was the opening of the service. Dr. Crombie, Clerk of the Presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew, with Rev. D. M. Buchanan, read the Scriptures. Letters of regret at inability to be present were referred to, and letters of congratulation were presented from various portions of the Dominion, including those from the Moderator and Clerk of the General Assembly. The Moderator of the Lanark and Renfrew Presbytery, Prof. Hart, of Winnipeg; Principal Grant, of Kingston, Sir Sandford Fleming, of Ottawa, and others. Dr. Cochrane, of Brantford, and Rev. M. Macgillivray, of Kingston, were on the programme for addresses. The former was on the way to Perth, when he was recalled through a death. The latter delivered an excellent address. Mr. J. M. Walker, chairman of the Managing Board, gave an historical sketch and deposited the box of contents, one of which was the daily Star. Mrs. Arthur Meighen laid the corner stone, which is a splendid piece of masonry. The silver trowel used was a gift to Mrs. Meighen. Everything passed off well.

PARKER-BARLEE.

(Special to the Star.)

PETERBOROUGH, Ont., June 8.—This afternoon Mr. W. D. Parker, manager of the Ontario Bank here, formerly of Montreal, was united in marriage at St. John's Church, to Miss Clarissa J. Barlee, of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. C. Davidson, rector of Peterborough.

My Appetite Has returned,

And I am able to do justice to my meals since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was in a very bad condition two years ago; had no appetite and hardly knew what it was to be truly hungry. Of course my strength fell away, and I became all run down. I heard so much about what Hood's Sarsaparilla had done for others, I decided to give it a trial, and can hardly express the benefit I have derived from this medicine. My appetite quickly returned, and my general health has improved so much since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla that I do not feel like the same person." MRS. P. EDWARDS, Marathon, New York.

MR. MARSHALL'S REPORT.

Read at a Meeting of the S. P. W. C. this Morning.

MEMBERS DISCUSS THE REFUSAL OF THE HOSPITALS TO TAKE ERYSIPELAS PATIENTS.

The president, Mr. S. Carsley, presided over the regular monthly meeting of the Society for the Protection of Women and Children this morning. Among those present were the Rev. J. F. Renaud, the Rev. James Paterson, the Rev. James Harris, the Rev. M. McManus, Mr. Walter Drake and Mr. William Farrell.

A long list of cases where help had been extended by the Society, were reviewed by the secretary, and several instances cited where the society had been of vital assistance. One in particular was taken up in which a young girl 16 years of age had been committed to the House of the Good Shepherd as a vagrant through the malicious statements of another party. The true facts of the case came to light when she was taken in charge by the society for conveyance to the convent. On motion of the president the case will be again brought before the courts.

Referring to their decreasing fund, Mr. Drake proposed a scheme to ensure a steady income to the society. The trouble under which they were now laboring was the lack of young men to fill the places of the older ones. The grant of a moderate sum for investment he thought would replace the yearly donations and the interest would give a steady income, while the name of the giver would be placed permanently on the donation sheets. A draft of this scheme is to be presented at the next meeting.

The secretary reported that none of the hospitals of the city would receive an erysipelas patient on the ground that the disease was contagious. Even the Civic Hospital, which was an institution for the treatment of infectious diseases, would not take them in, although Dr. Laberge, of the Health Department, said the disease was not contagious unless an open wound had occurred. The doctors of the hospitals had, however, declared it to be contagious.

The following was a summary account of the cases under the care of the society for the month:

There were fifty-nine cases reported and dealt with during the month of May, 1898, in the following manner:

There were fifteen reports by wives of drunkenness and non-support on the part of their husbands. Of these three proved foundationless, five were warned by your agent, and took the pledge, one was brought before the judge by letter, and warned by him. An allowance of $3 a week was obtained in one case. Another was placed in our lawyer's hands, and the four worst cases were arrested, and punished.

There were seven cases of assault upon women, one case proved frivolous, two were brought before the judge by letter, and warned by him, one case placed in lawyer's hands, and three were arrested and punished.

Three wives reported their husbands had deserted them. In one case the family, consisting of three children, were sent to their home, Vienna, Austria, through the Austrian Consul here. In another case husband and wife were brought together and effected a reconciliation. In the other case, the husband was found working in Brooklyn, and sent to the society there to induce him to return to his family

Four servants complained of non-payment of wages. Three of these proved unwarranted, the other was placed in lawyer's hands. Three old mothers complained of their drunken sons, not supporting them, and abusing them. Dealt with one, and constrained the other two to turn over a new leaf, and do their duty.

The attention of the society was called to the sad condition of three very sick and friendless women. One was placed in the hospital, and in the other two cases obtained the services of two nurses of the Victorian Order. Placed two children in Good Shepherds, and assisted five families, comprising fourteen children, in destitution.

There were also nineteen cases of a miscellaneous character, which were dealt with according to their nature, and very many calls for advice and information.

"HEADS AND COCOANUTS."

Referring to an article which appeared in this paper on the 26th of May, respecting a charge against Mr. John Wilkins of 44 St. John Street, made by Mr. William Rourke, in which it is alleged that Mr. Wilkins' fist and a cocoanut figured as the weapons of attack, the case came up for trial before Judge Desnoyers this morning in the Police Court, who after hearing the evidence dismissed the case and exonerated Mr. Wilkins.

Mr. James Gilmour, M.P., London; Mr. Wm. Stubbs, M.P., Cardwell; and Mr. E. D. Graham, M.P., were introduced on 'Change to-day by Mr. Robert Meighen.

MARKET COMMITTEE.

The Pedlars Want the License Reduced.

IMPROVED WATER SERVICE IS WANTED AT THE EAST END ABATTOIR.

The Market Committee held a long meeting this morning, and discussed a number of items of routine business.

The butchers occupying stalls at the St. Jean Baptiste market complained that some of the butchers of Bonsecours market were engaged in an unfair competition with them, practically invading their territory. The matter was referred to the City Attorney.

A deputation of peddlars waited upon the committee and asked that the license be reduced from $100 to $50. The deputation was notified that the matter was one for the Police Committee to attend to.

Miss Josephine Lachance, a tenant of the St. Lawrence market, wrote asking for $50 compensation for damage to her stock caused by a leaky roof. The matter was referred to the sub-committee.

It was decided to expend $25 on repairs to the big scale at the Eastern Abattoir.

A letter was read from the Council of St. Henri asking for the abolition of the western abattoir. It was decided to leave the matter over for further discussion.

It was decided to hold a conference with the members of the Union des Abattoirs with a view of having the water service at the East End abattoir improved.

THE DEADLY DEVIL STRIP.

(Special to the Star.)

TORONTO, June 8.—In a letter to the Mayor, the Street Railway Company has formally called the City Council's attention to numerous accidents, due to cyclists riding on the pavement between the rails and the tracks and suggesting the advisability of discouraging this practice. As one means, the company will hereafter sprinkle the "devil strip." The Council's attention is drawn to the need of regulations regarding speed of cyclists. It is noted that the act of incorporation is explicit in giving the cars the right of way.

Special Notice.

REPUTATION.

There is probably no article purchased by people requiring a greater amount of trust in the integrity and justice of the dealer than a piano. The amount of outlay is a large one, yet there is no means of testing in advance the qualities of a good piano. The unfortunate part is that cheap and inferior pianos are got up to look well on the outside, case work being made the chief feature instead of the mechanical construction of the instrument itself.

Two important guarantees are, however, always at the disposal of the customer. The name and reputation of the piano itself, and the standing in the community of the firm representing the piano. It is then on these two points we claim the attention of people who contemplate a piano either now or in the near future. We offer in our warerooms choice of such famous makes as Steinway, Nordheimer, Heintzman and other good standard pianos.

We endorse and offer no new pianos that are not strictly reliable. We guarantee in writing for the full term of years new pianos handsomely cased, three pedals, all improvements, for $250, payable on easy terms. All in all, we are in a position to, and do offer the greatest value in the piano line in the city of Montreal. Lindsay-Nordheimer Co., 2366 St. Catherine street.
