

GENERAL JOFFRE PUSHING ADVANCE AGAINST ENEMY

Offensive Movement Has Been Developed Between the Meuse and Lorraine Frontier. French Advance is in Three Sections and German Resistance is Very Stubborn. At One Point 1000 of Enemy Were Left Dead on the Field

London, April 9.—(Special)—The French movement between the Meuse and the Lorraine frontier is developing a distinct offensive, with General Joffre pushing his advance, while the Germans are making fierce counter attacks. This is the substance of the latest despatches reaching London from the continent.

According to an analysis of the situation by the French general staff, the French offensive movement of the last few days has been on the sectors. The first is a front of fourteen miles to the east of Verdun, the actual line running southeast from a point near Etain; the second on a front between St. Mihiel and Pont-a-Mousson, where the French are attacking from the south, and the third is in the north in the vicinity of Gussainville, where the French now dominate the valley of the Orne and are threatening the railway beyond the River Orne with attack.

The French advance is thus being pressed from three bases in three different directions. According to Paris official reports, the French forces on fronts many miles long have occupied new ground measuring from several hundred yards to two miles deep.

That the German resistance to these advances has been stubborn is strikingly indicated by the French report that the Germans, on one point of the attack, left a thousand dead on the field.

FRENCH REPORT IMPORTANT GAINS ALONG ENTIRE LINE

Paris, April 9.—The French War Office has announced important gains along the entire line from the Verdun district to St. Mihiel, and Pont-a-Mousson. There is no word in the announcement of the cost in lives to the French forces, but the death toll among the defending Germans is said to have been terrible.

The French offensive at this point of the front, which is generally referred to as the German wedge at St. Mihiel, has developed during the last 24 hours into what seems to be a general assault on the German trenches. It is being delivered with a greater fury than any other fighting in the western theatre since the winter set in and both sides sought protection in their trenches.

An advance at Les Eparges, which is southeast of Verdun, was made in the face of fierce German resistance. Three times the Germans tried to regain the ground lost here, but in each attempt they failed to dislodge their enemy. The fighting in the Morville wood, slightly south of Les Eparges, was carried on by infantry. Here the fire of the French gunners was so terrific that a German company was annihilated. When the French troops advanced over the ground that the company had occupied it was found that only ten men remained alive.

At Athly wood, southwest of St. Mihiel, the French troops charged into a line of German trenches, ousted the German forces and held the position against two desperate counter-attacks delivered one after another.

In a resume of the fighting between the Meuse and the Moselle, since April 4, the War Office announces gains on two fronts which amount to a total gain of 40 square miles of ground held by the enemy in the St. Mihiel wedge.

Despite the desperate character of the German defence in all this fighting, the French have in no instance been driven from ground once gained and it is not the least of important developments that the offensive movement of the French forces seems to have been so strong that the Germans have not been able to collect sufficient strength to do more than parry their blows.

POLITICAL AIM IN RUSSIA'S FIGHT.
London, April 9.—"The battle in the Carpathians is being fought for political ends first of all," says the Morning Post's Bulgarian correspondent. "Nothing would suit the Russians better when established on the Hungarian plains," he adds, "than to begin negotiations with the Hungarian leaders and, if possible, detach Hungary from Austria in a separate peace. To delay this is the reason Germany is making such great efforts to hurry troops into the Carpathians."

"The Russian advance into the plains will at best be slow, for every hill is a miniature Przemysl."

TURKS DEFEATED IN CAUCASUS.
Petrograd, April 9.—An official communication concerning the fighting in the Caucasus says: "On April 6th our troops threw back the Turks along the whole line between Oldi and Artvin."

PRACTICAL BUSINESS MAN AND HIS MUNICIPALITY

Subject of Stirring Address at Board of Trade Banquet—The Man Who Holds Aloof From Active Participation in Civic Affairs and Only Criticizes is Severely Scored—Other Interesting Speakers at Annual Board of Trade Function.

The annual banquet of the Sherbrooke Board of Trade was held last night at the New Sherbrooke House. Mr. J. E. Poutre presided over a large attendance. On the right of the chairman was the principal speaker of the evening, Mr. F. J. Hillman, of Springfield, Mass., and amongst those at the head table were Col. C. A. Smart, Lt.-Col. Baker, Capt. Gordon, W. S. Daniels (U. S. Consul), D. J. Steele, E. W. Farwell, C. W. Cate, K.C., — Cooper, divisional superintendent of C.P.R.; — Charlton, Grand Trunk Railway Co.; Ald. Brault, Ald. Denault and Ald. Forest. Apologies for inability to be present were received from Hon. W. T. White, Minister of Finance; Sir Lomer Gouin, Premier of Quebec; Hon. W. G. Mitchell, Provincial Treasurer; Mr. C. J. McCuaig, Mr. R. C. Wilkins, President Farnham Board of Trade, and Mr. Geo. H. Ham.

Mr. E. W. Farwell acted as toastmaster. After a good meal, served by Host Wright, had been done full justice to, the toasts to "The King and 'Our neighbors to the south'" were duly honored.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.
Mr. J. E. Poutre, President of the Board of Trade, said:

Gentlemen,—It is a great pleasure to welcome, on behalf of this Board, the distinguished gentlemen who have, at such great personal sacrifice and inconvenience, honored us with their presence here to-night as our guests, and to say that we appreciate to the full the interest they manifest in our work, which is shown by their attendance at our modest table. We all trust that they may enjoy their visit, and hope they will give us the opportunity of showing them our "Electric City," of which we are all so proud.

I feel honored in being called upon to preside at the head of such a progressive and important organization, but I confess at the same time that the task, though pleasing, lies heavily on my shoulders, and as I fully realize my shortcomings I shall leave to more experienced and gifted speakers the duty of enlarging upon its usefulness and the great measure of good it has achieved in the community. For my part, I will simply endeavor to outline the idea of to-night's meeting.

Some years ago, when the enthusiasts of our Association met to renew, rejuvenate and make more active and useful the Sherbrooke Board of Trade, I think I may fairly say they hardly realized that, in such a short space of time, the result of their efforts would crystallize themselves into the prosperous and progressive organization we have here to-day.

Prosperous, in the number we have on our roll and in the interest taken by the committee and members in the discussion of important matters. Progressive, on account of the civic, industrial and fraternal development which it has promoted in our midst, by the increased prosperity and growth which was forced on our city through the co-operation of so many active optimistic citizens, and the publishing to the outside world of the advantages we have to enjoy ourselves, and to offer to others as well.

It may be true that the same state of affairs exist elsewhere, but it is, nevertheless, comforting to review in our minds what the spirit of initiative and self-denial may accomplish, when aimed towards a noble and common purpose. The work, nevertheless, can neither be effective nor productive, unless it is directed by a firm hand which can pick up the elements of co-operation and lead them through the paths of everyday life.

This is the reason that we request the officers and members to sacrifice their time and to exert on behalf of the movement their best energy and talent. The success we have achieved proves undoubtedly that we have been fortunate in our choice of leaders and workers in the past, and if we cannot say as much at the end of this year, it will not be due to any lack of earnest hard work on my part.

Let me remind you that this evening's banquet is not merely to enjoy ourselves and to satisfy the inner man but rather to exchange ideas, make plans for the future, renew our energies, and to get closer together, ready to fight our way through the crisis which surrounds us, and more especially to prepare to take full advantage of the trade expansion which will certainly follow the terrible war. Gentlemen, let us hope and pray that we may have the required support to grasp all opportunities, and express the wish that we may be successful in leading them into port for the greatest welfare of our country in general, and our own beloved city in particular.

"OUR GUESTS."

Mr. F. J. Hillman, of Springfield, Mass., President of the Western New England States Chambers of Commerce, responded to the toast, "Our Guests." He expresses his pleasure in coming to the enterprising city of Sherbrooke where he found the citizens bubbling and effervescent with the spirit of progress, and his thanks for the royal manner in which he had been entertained. He was persuaded that the city of Sherbrooke had many characteristics in common with Springfield, and in saying that he assumed he was paying Sherbrooke the greatest compliment possible. In making excuses to his friends during the last few days for not making appointments as he was coming to Sherbrooke, the reply of those who had already visited the city had invariably been that he would find Sherbrooke a very live and enterprising city. There was nothing more calculated to give any place the tone its citizens desired for it than a good reputation. He was more and more impressed from the spirit of progressiveness which he found here and the interest manifested by the preceding speakers of Sherbrooke and other parts of the country, that the great Dominion had a future probably unequalled by any other country in the world. It was a good thing to be a booster, but it took something more than good boosting to make a city what the Sherbrooke citizens desired to make theirs, and sometimes the boosting business could be overdone.

From the reports he had read, Mr. Hillman said he was impressed with the fact that the Sherbrooke Board of Trade was accomplishing something, and he was even more impressed with that fact after listening to the enthusiastic reports of actual results from the speakers that evening. In that respect the Sherbrooke organization was superior to many.

As President of a federation of Boards of Trade, something similar to the Eastern Townships Associated Boards, he was quite accustomed to addressing audiences of the kind before him and he found so many of those boards were not efficient in accomplishing tangible results.

Referring to a remark of a previous speaker upon conservatism, Mr. Hillman said:

The remains were brought from East Angus on Friday the 2nd of April to the home of his son, Mr. Leeman Mackey, and from there to the Methodist Church, the Minister in charge, Rev. Mr. De Gruchy, and Rev. Mr. Mick of East Angus, officiated.

The choir sang favorite hymns in a very feeling manner.

The bearers were Mr. Alexander Mackey, Cookshire; Messrs. James and Willie Mackey, South Dundas; Mr. Reginald Mackey, Erie. The floral offerings were beautiful and included a wreath and spray of flowers and a sheaf from the family.

The late Mr. Mackey was a good living and much respected member of the Methodist Church, and Superintendent of the Sunday School for many years. He leaves to mourn his loss his widow, four sons, one brother and two sisters, and 11 grandchildren who have the sympathy of their friends.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS
No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which not only regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

HEADACHES

Thousands of men and women suffer from headaches every day, other thousands have headaches every week or every month, and still others have headaches occasionally, but not at regular intervals. The best doctor is often unable to find the cause of these headaches, and in most other cases, knowing the cause, he does not know what will remove it, so as to give a permanent cure. All he can do is to prescribe the usual pain relievers, which give temporary relief, but the headache returns as usual, and treatment is again necessary. If you suffer from headaches, no matter what their nature, take A-K Tablets, and the trouble will be satisfactorily in the highest degree. You can obtain them at all druggists in any quantity, 10c worth, 25c worth or more. Ask for A-K Tablets.

SICK-HEADACHES

Sick-headache, the most miserable of all sicknesses, loses its terrors when A-K Tablets are taken. When you feel an attack coming on, take two tablets, and in many cases, the attack will be warded off. During an attack take one A-K Tablet every two hours. The rest and comfort which follow, can be obtained in no other way. Genuine A-K Tablets bear the A-K monogram. At all druggists.

SOUTH STUKELY.

Mr. Charles Getty passed away after four years of patient and severe suffering, on March 23rd, as previously reported. During this period of illness it was thought at times that through the best of medical skill the disease would be conquered, but all was of no avail and he went to his long rest on the above date. Mr. Getty was born in Dunham in 1851, being 64 at the time of his death. In 1876 he was married to Nancy McLaughlin, of Granby. Their union was blessed by three children, namely Albert and Melvin, of South Stukely, and Mrs. Walter Petrie, of West Bolton, who were with him and cared for him during his long sickness and death. The funeral took place on March 25th at the Methodist Church, Rev. M. Gibb officiating and preaching from Numbers, 23rd Chapter and 16th verse. The preacher spoke in the highest terms of the deceased, and that his life and patient suffering was an example for those who are left. The remains were taken to Granby for burial and were accompanied by relatives and other friends and placed in the family plot beside his father and mother.

BEDFORD TOWN AND DISTRICT

Only Application For Liquor License Before Council Was Granted Bedford House

BY-LAW RELATING TO THE PROPOSED SEWERAGE SYSTEM TO BE DEALT WITH Bedford, April 9.—(Special)—The regular monthly meeting of the Bedford Town Council was held in the Town Hall, Bedford, on Wednesday last. Present, Mayor Marvin Smith, Councillors W. Pendlebury and Lent, of the North Ward; Councillors Jasper Cruller and Samuel Ewing, of the South Ward, and Councillors Napoleon Rocheleau and Gordon Eulphur, of the Centre Ward, with Sec. Treas. A. T. Gould.

Arising out of minutes of last meeting it was reported that Mr. Mose Delpe had paid the tenant's tax and proceedings to recover same had been withdrawn, also that the opinion of Mr. Geo. Caspey had been received respecting the power of the Council to restrain outside residents from selling fish in the town, to the effect that the Council had no power to prevent same and that Messrs. Clarke and Paré be so informed.

HOTEL LICENSE GRANTED.

The matter of the renewal of the license of the New Bedford Hotel was then taken. The secretary-treasurer read the application and further stated that due notice had been given as required by law. At the request of Rev. Father Lamourie, who with Pastor Ward attended on behalf of the temperance organizations, the names of those signing the application were then read and several were struck off, but sufficient were left to comply with the law. The secretary-treasurer then read a form of certificate which ended as follows, "and that Mr. Sherrie be informed that he must comply with the law respecting same or the penalties of same would be strictly enforced." Pastor Ward asked if that certificate was a copy of that issued 12 months ago, and was informed that owing to certain well known facts concerning the way the hotel had been conducted that clause had been added. Rev. Father Lamourie asked permission to speak upon the matter and stated that it was not his intention to oppose the license on this occasion although he had evidence that during the past year a fine had been imposed and other offences committed which were contrary to the statute. He wished to point out to the applicant that if during the coming year the hotel was not conducted as it should be he would be found opposing the renewal when a future application was made. Pastor Ward associated himself with Father Lamourie in not desiring to influence the Council to withhold its consent on this occasion but stated that should any repetition of this year's mismanagement be repeated he would be found with his coat off to oppose when the year had closed. He took the opportunity of personally appealing to Mr. Sherrie to assist those who were endeavoring to raise the moral and physical tone of the town to enforce the law upon the subject.

On the vote being taken all the councillors voted in favor and the certificate was accordingly granted. No application was received for the granting of any other certificate for the town.

PETITION FOR EXTENSION OF ROAD.

An application was submitted to the Council asking that the road known as South street should be continued in a westerly direction to terminate at the junction with Mills street. After discussion Mr. Michael McNamara was appointed special superintendent to enquire into same, to arrange for three intersecting roads to run north to join with upper Main street, to arrange for a suitable width of road and to report to the next Council meeting.

LICENSE FOR BILLIARD TABLE.

Mr. H. E. Sheward made application for a license to use a billiard table and same was granted with the same addendum attached to the certificate for the hotel.

NEW OFFICERS APPOINTED.

Mr. A. Perealet resigned his position as valuator and Mr. Belisle as rural inspector. Mr. A. J. Bouchard was appointed valuator in the stead of Mr. Perealet and the vacant rural inspectorship was left so until next meeting.

ASK FRANCHISE FOR WATER SYSTEM.

Mr. Smith, of Montreal, asked permission to speak respecting his application for a franchise upon the water question as he wished for an extension of time in which to discover how many residents were likely to have a supply laid on. Mr. Dryden, of Westmont, also addressed the Council.

ACCOUNTS PASSED.

The following accounts were submitted for payment: Edward Campbell, $17.15; Bedford Electric Light, $33.38; B. R. Stevens, $37.21.

NOTES.

Mr. F. D. Walsh has been summoned to St. Catharines to attend the funeral of Mrs. Chaplin, wife of the vice-president of the Welland Vale and Bedford Manufacturing Cos., who died very suddenly on Tuesday morning of this week. The interment

WHAT IS DOING IN GRANBY TOWN

Prospects Are That Works of Consolidated Rubber Co. Will Start Up Again

TOWN COUNCIL ADOPT A POLICY OF ECONOMY IN REGARD TO PERMANENT WORK.

Granby, April 9.—(Special)—The election of Mr. J. H. McKechnie as president of the Consolidated Rubber Companies, and Mr. W. H. Robinson on the board of directors, leads some to think that the works in this town may be started up again and possibly enlarged, as was rumored last summer, especially as it has been demonstrated that on account of the water power manufacturing can be carried on cheaper here than in any of the other plants of the Consolidated.

THE PUBLIC "DUMP."

Not the least important subject discussed by the Council at their last meeting was the regulation of the public dump. Complaints have been frequent, both from private individuals and the Township Council, that garbage is scattered over the roads and ditches and adjoining fields instead of in the lot set apart for the purpose. It was suggested to hire a man to do sentry duty at the dump and see that garbage was deposited in the proper place. Councillor Boivin suggested that the corporation men collect the garbage at stated intervals.

TOWN COUNCIL WILL ECONOMIZE

It is said that there is no great evil but results in some good. The shooting war now devastating the Eastern Hemisphere has taught the virtue of economy and self-denial to millions, and even in remote Granby its lessons are reaching home. The Village Council at their last session declared their intention to economize and a resolution was passed to the effect that in the future no permanent improvements should be undertaken, and that expenditure be limited to repairs and upkeep of the various public utilities, under the control of the Finance Committee. There is a sum due from the Provincial Government under the Good Roads Act, and one of the councillors suggested that the secretary-treasurer go down to Quebec and remain there until the money was forthcoming.

GRANTED POOLROOM LICENSE.

At the meeting of the Council on Tuesday, Messrs. Dery and Fournier appeared as applicants for a license to run a poolroom, one in lower and the other in upper town. The Council were willing to grant the license, but thought the room should be closed on Sundays. Councillors Kent, Barr and Bradford thought that they should rest from their labors on the Sabbath as do citizens engaged in other callings. Councillor Boivin was willing that they should have their licenses under proper restrictions, but keeping closed on Sunday was not one of them. The applicants promising good behavior, and to keep their curtains up in the evening, were granted licenses.

The funeral took place on Monday at Kingscroft of Mrs. Ulderic Houle, born Henrietta Auger. Deceased was much respected and esteemed, both in the locality where she lived and in this city, where she had many friends. ACCIDENT AT ARMOURY

An accident occurred yesterday at the 53rd Regiment Armoury, when the decorations used for the Red Cross Ball were being removed.

A young Englishman named Harry Branscomb was assisting in the work when a ladder upon which he was mounted fell, bringing him with it to the floor.

Dr. Lambly was called immediately and the unfortunate man taken to his home in Prospect Street in the ambulance. It was at first thought that he was injured internally, but upon examination it was found that he had sustained a severely sprained ankle, with torn ligaments, which will confine him to the house for some time.

Mrs. Hurd spoke of her extensive travels in the East, dwelling especially upon the cities of Damascus and Beyrout, their people, conditions of living, architecture, occupations and peculiarities. In connection with her graphic description, some beautiful specimens of Damascus work were shown, including a silver collar, necklaces, inlaid jug, etc., for which this Eastern city has been famous from the most ancient times.

Mrs. Hurd was cordially thanked

MILITARY MATTERS

SHOOTING COMPETITION.

The match on Easter Saturday resulted in a win for the section which previously held the Championship.

The finish was in the following order: Section 2, Section 3, Section 4, No. 1, section did not put in a team owing to the absence from the City of many of its members.

INDIVIDUAL RIFLES.

The condition of this match which required each competitor to use the rifle allotted to his care was the cause of a good deal of eccentricity in the individual scoring. One competitor in particular whose average is usually high scored 3 clean misses by not being familiar with his rifle. On the other hand one of the best scores was made with a rifle whose sights were a "puzzle," owing to usage in the hands of some corps to which it had previously been issued before coming to Sherbrooke.

Its present holder took the pains to study its eccentricities and now has no desire to change.

Those who have read Kipling's "Soldiers Three" will remember Private Learoyds' remarks about his old Martini-Henry, when he and his two partners were out for an afternoon's sniping.

DRILL ON SATURDAY.

The Easter Holidays being over, the Guard will parade for instruction at 4 p. m., when Pickets, and Outpost duties will possibly be taken up.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McLeay from Montreal, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. McClung, Lennoxville, at the Easter season, and also visited Mrs. John McKechnie, Moore Street, Sherbrooke.

The popularity contest for the Cercle La Gaité, at the Premier Theatre last evening, resulted as follows:—First, Miss Alice Maguire; second, Miss V. Boisse; third, Miss B. Girard; fourth, Miss Y. Boulanger. The good sum of $103 was netted for the building fund of the new club house soon to be erected. The prizes consisting of $5.00 gold pieces, and to the first prize winner, a handsome cushion in addition, will be presented on Saturday morning in Mr. N. Blanchard's establishment, Wellington Street.

The annual Easter supper was given last evening by the ladies of the congregation of the Church of the Advent, and was even more successful than usual, the receipts and attendance being most satisfactory. The three long tables were laden many times with all sorts of good things to eat, and though supper was served to about one hundred and fifty-two-thirds of these being soldiers—there seemed little diminution in the refreshments provided. The room was beautifully decorated, flags, bunting and streamers of red, white and blue, covering the walls, and the stage. Easter lilies, hyacinths and pussy willows were on the tables, with ribbons of red, white and blue reaching from corner to corner. At the door the guests were received by Mrs. Callis and Mrs. J. H. LATEST AUSTRIAN OPERATIONS COLLAPSE

Russians Now Considering The Best Approach Into Hungary

Bucharest, Roumania, April 9.—(Special)—Despatches reaching here from the frontier of Galicia describe the Austrians as very depressed by the reported Russian successes further to the north.

The Austrian attempts to cross the River Bruth near Boyan have failed and their troops are demoralized by lack of food. Arbitrary arrests of Roumanians again are being made in Bukovina.

AUSTRIAN OPERATIONS COLLAPSE.

Petrograd, via London, April 9.—(Special)—With the Russian forces possessing all the main summits and slopes of the Beakid Mountains, army officers here assert that the Austrian operations in the Carpathians have collapsed. The Russian general staff is now considering the best approach into Hungary.

The operations centering about Mezolaborez, including the important points of Bartfeld, Lupkav and Uzesek, appear virtually to have ended with the Austrians on the defensive along the whole line.

BRITISH TROOPS REPEL ATTACK.

Paris, April 9.—(Special)—The official communication from the War Office today says:

"British troops repelled during the night of April 7-8, a German attack. We left unoccupied in the teeth of the enemy German trenches at charges which were completely choked with corpses, and we repelled at the close for the day two counter attacks made by the enemy."

"In the wood at Ally we captured new trenches and repelled two counter attacks, as already reported. We also secured six machine guns and two trenches mortar."

"The enemy ceased his counter-attacks after mid-day."

THAW WANTS TEST ON SANITY ISSUE

Even If Allowed To Return To New Hampshire He Wants Decision By Jury

JUDGMENT IS EXPECTED TO-DAY ON THAW'S APPEAL ON ORDER TO RETURN TO MATTEAWAN.

New York, April 9.—(Special)—Counsel for Harry K. Thaw hoped that a decision would be rendered to-day by the Appellate Division on Thaw's appeal from the order of Justice Page that he be returned to Matteawan Asylum.

Whether the Court ordered him back to Matteawan or gave him liberty to return to New Hampshire, it was understood that either the State or his attorneys would be given an opportunity to take the case before the Court of Appeals.

Argument on the order obtained by Thaw's counsel requiring the State to show cause why he should not have a jury trial on the question of his sanity has been set for Monday next.

Abe I. Smith, one of Thaw's attorneys, said that there was a possibility that an order of the Court permitting Thaw to return to New Hampshire would make further action on Thaw's part unnecessary. It was reported, however, that Thaw was anxious for a jury trial on the sanity issue regardless of the decision of the Appellate Division on the question of his return to Matteawan.

been completed for the prosecution, were continued till Saturday, the 10th instant, at the request of the defence, for them to declare whether they had any evidence to offer in their own behalf at the preliminary hearing of the cases.

FAREWELL TO MR. AND MRS. MONTGOMERY.

An interesting event took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Welsh, Ontario street, where a few friends were invited to meet Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery, who are shortly leaving for the West, where Mr. Montgomery will take up his duties as organist at the Pro-Cathedral, Calgary, Alberta. Dinner was served at 7.30. The table decorations were pink and white carnations. After dinner the evening passed very rapidly with music and singing. Before the party broke up Mr. Welsh, in a few well-chosen remarks, expressed the regrets of the company at Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery's departure, and expressed a hope that they would meet with every success in their new sphere of labor, and presented them with two cases of silver as a small token of esteem and friendship from those present. Mr. Montgomery replied, thanking the company for their kindness and expressing regret in having to leave, but felt that there was a larger field for his work in Calgary. Both he and his wife were very sorry to leave Sherbrooke, but the "call of the West" was too strong. The evening closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne." Those present besides Mr. and Mrs. Welsh, Mr. and Mrs. A.

GERMAN SHIP MUST LEAVE PORT

Merchant Vessel Was Using Wireless at Fishing to Assist Enemy

DUTCH GOVERNMENT ORDERS THAT SHIP MUST GET OUT TODAY AT THE LATEST

Amsterdam, April 9.—Sudden activity has been caused among the military authorities at Flushing by the discovery that wireless messages have been sent from a large German merchant ship, the Main, which has been anchored in Flushing harbor since the beginning of the war. The presence of wireless-sending apparatus on some ship has been suspected for some time, and the suspicions have now been confirmed.

In order to preserve the neutrality of the ship while in Dutch waters a body of Dutch soldiers has been placed on board and orders are said to have been issued by the Dutch Government that the vessel must leave Flushing by sunrise on Friday at the latest. Great interest prevails concerning the fate of the vessel when she puts to sea.

GOOD ROADS IN TOWNSHIP.

At the regular session of the Township Council, held on Tuesday, the subject of good roads occupied most of the sitting. At a previous meeting of the Council held last summer, a resolution was unanimously passed authorizing the loan of $128,000 from the Government in accordance with the Good Roads Act, and a distribution of this amount for the improvement of the roads throughout the township was decided upon. The question then arose as to whether the roadwork should be done by contract or by day's work, many arguing that by the latter method the money disbursed would be left in the country. Negotiations were entered into with a firm of contractors in Montreal, when the war caused a halt in proceedings. Seeing that there was such a difference of opinion among the ratepayers on the subject the Council decided to submit the whole question of good roads to a popular vote, and at the meeting of the Council on Tuesday, a resolution was moved by Councillor Choquette, seconded by Councillor Desnoyers, calling a plebiscite to be voted on the 28th inst at the Town Hall, when the following questions will be asked each voter and his vote registered thereon, viz.: "Do you approve of hiring the money to be expended on roads? Are you in favor of having the work done by contract? Are you in favor of having the work done by day's work?"

NOTES.

Mr. Hiram Darby has bought the residence on Elgin street, formerly owned by the late Isaac Seale, and will take immediate possession. Rev. A. E. BANQUET AT WINDSOR MILLS

MR. J. A. BEGIN, GUEST OF HONOR ON OCCASION OF LEAVING TOWN.

Windsor Mills, April 9—(Special)—The citizens of Windsor tendered a banquet at the Chateau on Monday night, in honor of one of their most distinguished townsmen, Notary J.A. Begin, on the occasion of his leaving the town with his family to take up his residence in Montreal.

Mayor McCarthy and Mr. F. Millet presided over an attendance of fifty of the most influential residents. Among the invited guests were Hon. W. G. Mitchell, Provincial Treasurer, and E. W. Tobin, M.P.

After short addresses from the joint chairmen, the Provincial Treasurer and Mr. Tobin made an appreciative and sympathetic review of the guest of honor's life in Windsor, who had served the town as secretary-treasurer and adviser for some twenty-seven years. Messrs. C. C. Cabana, of Sherbrooke, T. A. King, of Windsor, and F. J. Campbell, manager of the Canada Paper Co., also made eulogistic speeches.

Mr. Begin very feelingly replied, thanking all his friends for their kindness and good wishes and expressing his regret at leaving the town he loved so well.

Songs were rendered by Mr. O. A. Begin, of Sherbrooke, and enjoyable selections were given by an orchestra composed of Mr. M. Pre and his two sons with Mr. Frank Dunn as conductor. "O Canada" and the National Anthem closed a very interesting gathering.

The arrangements for the banquet were ably carried out by Mr. Remi Hebert.

WOMEN WARRIORS

Even in Recent Times They Have Fought Well as Men

The present war has already produced the inevitable crop of stories, more or less true, of patriotic damsels who, fired with military enthusiasm, have disguised themselves as men, shouldered a rifle, and fought in the trenches. One of these heroines, who did a very gallant deed in rescuing a soldier, was discovered among the Russian forces, and, though probably she will not be allowed to take any further part in the campaign, she will go down in Russian history as a minor star—a follower of Joan of Arc and some of the Spanish heroines of the Peninsular War.

There has been scarcely a war in history, however, in which members of the fair sex have not played a part in the fighting line. During the Balkan War women of all classes in Serbia, Montenegro, and Bulgaria, who can handle a rifle as well as they can a saucepan, fought for their respective countries. A notable case was that of Miss Sophia Yovanovitch, a young Serbian girl, who obtained permission from King Peter to fight like an ordinary soldier, and, dressed in military uniform, accounted for several Turks.

A Belgrade schoolgirl, Milena Manditch, was also found among the volunteer forces raised by the Serbian Committee for National Defence. She was only seventeen years of age, and went from the high school at Belgrade to take her place in the fighting line, wearing an ordinary soldier's uniform. Another extraordinary case of a woman in a recent war hiding her sex and fighting as a soldier was that of Xenia Kritskaya, a Russian girl, on whom the Czar conferred high military honors for the part which she took in the Russo-Japanese War. No one suspected her of being a woman, and this brave "soldier" gained renown by saving three wounded comrades, dressing their wounds, and then re-entering the firing line, until she herself was wounded.

Another Russian woman, Harletena Korotkewitch, donned man's attire, and fought in many battles during the Russo-Japanese War, in order to be near her husband. One day, while riding to the trenches with despatches, a large shell struck and destroyed certain earthworks. Harletena was seen to stagger as the shell exploded, and she was picked up dead. It was only after her death that her sex was discovered.

The British army has had its women soldiers, and two of them are buried in the cemetery of Chelsea Hospital. One of these dames—Hannah Snell, a truce-looking person, whose portrait is preserved in the Great Hall of the Hospital, served in the siege of Pondicherry, and was badly wounded, her sex being discovered when she was removed to hospital.

Christina Davis was the other female soldier buried in this cemetery. She is described as a "fat, jolly woman." When she acknowledged her sex she resumed some of its privileges, for she married, in succession, three husbands, the third being a Chelsea pensioner.

The most famous Englishwoman "soldier," however, was "Dr. James Barry," who joined the Medical Corps in 1813, and served at Waterloo and in the Crimea. In 1858, after many promotions, she became Inspector General, and it was not until many years later that the fact that she was a woman was discovered.

Poultry Cleanliness

Cleanliness is one of the most important factors for poultry-keeping. Dirt means disease, and when disease appears the death-rates usually high. Houses should be kept clean by sweeping down the walls, by removal of all rubbish, by renewal of the material in nest boxes, and by occasional lime-washing. Disinfectants are most valuable, but do not remove the cause. The air in houses must be purified by constant circulation, and plenty of sunlight should reach every part of the house. The soil must be kept sweet by cultivation, or, in the case of small plots, by removal and renewal. All appliances of whatever kind must be kept clean. Parasites cannot live unless the conditions are favorable. Food troughs and waste vessels should be regularly washed in hot water. The body-feathers of fowls must be kept clear of parasites by nature's own method, a dustbath. The food should be carefully prepared, the birds should be fed regularly and they should receive just as much as they will clear up rapidly.

AEROPLANES AND WIRELESS

Wireless telegraphy for communicating between an aeroplane in flight and its headquarters is now adopted for urgent reports. A light apparatus weighing 80 pounds is carried on the machine for this purpose, and the necessary electric current is provided by a small petrol motor which develops 2½ horsepower. The aerial wire by means of which messages are sent from the aeroplane is unwound from a reel situated beneath the landing chassis. It trails for a length of sixty to a hundred yards, and a weight is attached to the end of the copper cable so that it hangs vertically below the machine when in flight. In the event of the aeroplane having to make a forced landing a winch is provided so that the cable may be wound up out of the way. If there is not time to do this before the machine touches the earth, the wire is severed by means of an aerial cutter fitted to the side of the winch, and it falls clear of the aeroplane and does not catch in trees or entangle the propeller. The keyboard by means of which messages are sent from an aeroplane in flight is generally strapped on the knee of the aviator, so that he can manipulate it easily with his free hand.

It is very difficult to send a message to an aeroplane when in mid-air, not that the wireless waves fail to reach the machine, but that the noise of the engine is so terrific that it makes the faint signals inaudible. Aviators flying many hundreds of feet in the air find it a comparatively simple matter, however, to keep up communication with observers on earth by means of wireless, and in this way messages have been sent over a distance of one hundred miles.

BACK FOR MORE.

A manager was once informed that a gentleman wished to speak to him, and on their meeting, the following dialogue took place. "Do you remember kicking out a poor fellow who was unfortunate enough to be unable to pay his bill?" "The manager, with visions of successful gold prospectors in his mind, replied, apologetically: "Well, sir, you know business is business, and—" "Pray don't mention it," said the diner. "But—er—might I trouble you again?" (Exchange)

How Boucher, Lacroix & Fisette Keep abreast of the Times.

Montreal, April 7th, 1915. Messrs. Boucher, Lacroix & Fisette, ... Dear Sirs,—We shipped you yesterday the latest down to the minute model, produced for the members of the "New Thing Club," in the shape of an "English Form Fitting Cover Coat," which, I trust will reach you in good condition and, am sure, will open up a fresh selling power in your Overcoat Department. I may say that this style is fast coming to the front and will prove a desirable overcoat for those who do not want a loose sleeve slip-on, or kimono effect. The price charged you for this model is extremely low considering the material and the manner in which it is finished, and I hope that you may be able to obtain some good results in the shape of orders from this sample garment. With kind regards, believe me, Yours sincerely, ROD. WEIR, Mgr. Sales & Advtg. Dept. FASHION-CRAFT MFGRS., LIMITED.

PRESIDENT OF COSTA RICA NEARLY DROWNED

AGRICULTURAL BULLETINS.

So great has been the demand for Bulletins, Pamphlets, Records and Reports upon the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa as a result of the Patriotic and Production Movement, that it has been found impossible to comply with all the applications as promptly as could be desired. Of some of the Bulletins the supply has been exhausted and no time has been afforded for reprinting, while of others the quantity asked for individually has been such that instant compliance would mean many applications might have to go without. This has meant extra correspondence and consequent delay. The situation is, of course, satisfactory as indicating the success of the campaign, and the widespread interest created, but the inability to respond on the instant with the multiplicity of applications is greatly regretted. At the same time it is impossible that the size of the demand could have been foreseen. As far as possible the requests will be attended to, but in the meantime there will have to be reprinting and in cases revising. In such circumstances patience appears to be a desirable and necessary quality.

DEFORMED GERMANS FIGHT

One-eyed Prisoner Among Those Captured in France

According to the Paris Journals some of the Germans captured are so deformed they could only work for hours they managed to carry pack and rifle. Some deaf and dumb soldiers were taken, others were club-footed, and finally one soldier, named Hermann Weber, born at Siegen, in Westphalia, had only one eye, the left. The rifles brought in from the battlefields are of the most diverse description. Mausers of 1871, Mauser Knopatchek, and even Sniders, a type of rifle with old-fashioned breech-blocks. This is ample evidence that the German arsenals are empty.

Germany's First Submarine

Among the historical relics on exhibition in Berlin in the "Flourour Marine," Germany's earliest submarine. It was invented by a Bavarian named Wilhelm Bauer. The boat is of iron and dates back to 1850. It was tried at Kiel but its thin sides were crushed by the pressure of the water, and it remained at the bottom until it was discovered when the first excavations for the Kiel Canal were being made. The old submarine was then raised, and placed in the Naval Museum in Berlin. Old as it is, this submarine is not the first one ever built. References to submarine operations date back to 1872. In 1872 no less than fourteen submarine patents had been issued in Britain.

Grim Night Truces

I have known our burial party to go out at night and work side by side with a German party, each digging trenches to bury its own dead, related Private Mackenzie, of the Gordon Highlanders. After the work was over, the two parties would return to their respective lines without a word having been spoken on either side, although either could easily have killed the other.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

"CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS," CAN'T HARM TENDER STOMACH OR BOWELS.

A laxative to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipating poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleaning" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness. Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

SUBMARINETS HITS BRITAIN? Berlin, by wireless to Sarville, N. Y., April 8.—Certain local newspapers declare that reports are beginning to be received in Berlin which show that the submarine warfare of Germany is having an effect in England.

In addition to the daily announcement of the sinking of vessels reports have been received showing great increases in the price in England of objects necessary to the maintenance of life, many of which appear to be greatly above the prices prevailing in Germany.

A ROYAL SOLDIER-PRIEST. There are many German princes in the fighting line, but probably only one royal priest. This is Prince Max of Saxony, a brother of the king of that country. His royal highness must have mixed feelings regarding the conflict in which he has been called to take his part as a man of religion and consoler of the wounded.

Prigo Max labored for a time in the East End of London, and his work among the poor in the crowded districts of Whitechapel is still held in memory. The prince was popular in this country, and was always looked upon as essentially a poor man's priest. (Tit-Bits.)

CONSOLIDATION OF RURAL SCHOOLS

Mr. J. C. Sutherland States That System is Growing in Province of Quebec

PROTESTANT RURAL SCHOOLS MUST BE CONSOLIDATED TO BRING ABOUT RESULTS, HE SAYS.

Mr. J. C. Sutherland, of the Department of Public Instruction, Quebec, was in Sherbrooke this morning on his way to visit a school board in Stanstead county in connection with school consolidation. He stated that the policy is meeting with increasing favor. Asked with regard to the recent public meeting in Bromfield county where the proposition had been voted down by the ratepayers, he said that the Department had not been represented at the meeting, nor had it been informed of it before-hand. When a fair opportunity is given to explain the working of the consolidation plan is almost invariably approved. As a matter of fact there is more consolidation in actual operation this year amongst the English schools of the province (and this principally in the Eastern Townships) than in the whole Province of Ontario. The government grants for this specific purpose are undoubtedly stimulating interest in the subject, and then the many existing small schools are making it more and more obviously imperative.

As to the reasons why the plan has made less progress in Ontario than in Quebec, Mr. Sutherland said—

"First of all it is necessary to remember that on this continent consolidation has had two historical stages. The first stage was that of its inauguration in the state of Massachusetts shortly after the close of the Civil War. That state suffered heavily in its rural population by the war, and also by the exodus to the West, still remembered in Horace Greeley's famous advice. The rural schools of Massachusetts fell off in many cases from an attendance of forty to sixty before the war to a dozen or less after it. Consolidation was born of necessity.

"The second historical stage began about twenty years ago, in the middle and western states. Out there the urging idea was not small schools so much as the growth of a feeling among the progressive farmers that the rural districts should have just as good schools as the towns and cities, and it was recognized that equally good buildings could only be afforded if the existing one-roomed schools were grouped into a central large one. The 'Massachusetts plan,' therefore, was not only adopted but greatly improved upon, as far as the quality of the schools is concerned. The rural consolidated schools of Ohio, Wisconsin, Illinois and other states are frequently larger and more magnificent than any Academy or High School in our province, with the exception of the new High School at Montreal. This second stage may be called that of 'consolidation for efficiency.'

"Now the appeal to Canada is along both lines, namely, that of necessity, because of diminished rural school population, and that of the greater efficiency which the larger schools can offer. Manitoba has responded on the latter ground. In that province the plan is making rapid headway, and on the larger scale. Pupils are brought such distances as 8, 9, 10, and 11 miles, to schools of nearly 200 pupils, and in every case the average attendance is greater at the consolidated school than it was in the combined records of the abandoned schools. Ontario has responded less. There seem to be two chief reasons for this. In that province every district has its own school board. This 'Township' plan is not followed as with us. Consequently, it is more difficult to secure cooperation between several boards in any given case where consolidation may seem advisable. The other chief reason is that the existing rural school-houses in Ontario, although built in most cases years ago, are usually of good and substantial quality (brick or stone) and there is a natural disinclination to abandon them for a central school. Again, the greater part of rural Ontario can still afford a fair number of pupils for the schools. At the same time, the consolidation policy is still actively preached in Ontario in connection with the new movement for a larger measure of agricultural instruction in the schools.

"But for our Protestant rural schools in Quebec we simply must have consolidation. Schools of half a dozen pupils are impossible, except on the basis of being taught by unqualified teachers and of being kept open only some 4, 5 or 6 months in the year. It is these hopelessly inefficient units that the Department is constantly endeavoring to eliminate."

Local Farmers Start Move To Improve Their Field Crops and Live Stock

WILL CONDUCT THEIR BUSINESS ALONG THIS LINE THROUGH THE FARMERS' CLUB

Scotstown, April 9.—(Special)—

The local farmers have shown their determination to improve their field crops by purchasing their seed for wheat, oats, barley, timothy and clover from one of the large seedsmen of Montreal, through the Farmers' Club here, each bag of seed having the Government seal, as required by law. This is decidedly a move in the right direction, as there have been a lot of destructive weeds introduced in this section from foul seed in past years, among them being paint brush and white daisies, two weeds which are extremely difficult to kill out once they get a good hold on the fields. It is reported that sheep are about the best thing to kill out the paint brush if they are let in the fields early. It would be a great boon to this section if a corn could be found that would have a reasonable chance of ripening as it is almost impossible to raise any of the varieties best known, even Quebec Yellow not being by any means sure, on account of the frost which nearly always comes in June and another in September. Some of the members are going in for improving their herds of cattle there being a particularly fine herd of Holsteins belonging to one of the members. Some of this herd produce sixty pounds per day, which makes it a paying dairy proposition. When the first of this pure bred herd was bought there was a good deal of skepticism expressed by neighbors, but it has turned out in such good shape that other farmers are falling in line. It would be an excellent investment for any farmer to improve either his beef or dairy cattle as it often happens that a low grade cow will cost more than a thoroughbred, and will not produce as much by almost 50 p. c. The work done by Macdonald College through its demonstrator and professors is bearing good fruit to the lasting benefit of the farmers themselves and indirectly to the community at large.

KIRKDALE AS SUMMER RESORT

Move on To Advertise This Section of Valley of the St. Francis

SO FAR THE RUN OF SAP HAS BEEN POOR—CLIMATIC CONDITIONS BIASED.

Kirkdale, April 9.—(Special)—An effort will be made in this section to advertise this portion of the famous St. Francis Valley in the States in an effort to induce the American tourists to spend their outings in the Townships. This is considered the opportune moment to advertise the manifold attractions of the Townships, as the European war has rendered travel in that continent impossible until the close of the conflict. No other country possesses better scenery, a better system of highways, with railroad communications, bringing tourists within 75 miles of Montreal, or sixty miles of Newport, Vt. No other part of the Townships possesses better facilities than this section, famous as the Garden of Quebec.

The financial depression, incident to the declaration of war, bringing to the ground that airy castle of over-speculation, bringing ruin and hardships to thousands of victims to speculative mania, tightening the lines of credit upon the many thousands of hardworking citizens, who were not speculators, and retarding business activities of all kinds, fell lightly upon the farming community of Kirkdale. Although slightly depressed, such was their prosperous condition that the hard times made no change in their building plans for the summer, carpenters, masons and other tradesmen finding a good summer's work ahead of them. And for this prosperous showing there is a reason.

POOR SAP YEAR.

The run of sap in the maple orchards has been very disappointing so far. The cold weather and dryness of the atmosphere is blamed by sugar makers for the poor results. Owing to the lack of snow this winter, and to the equally great lack of rain this spring, there is very little moisture in the ground with the resultant minimum amount of sap available.

The residence of Mr. William Akerman caught fire Monday and was completely destroyed. Although the neighbors arrived quickly on the scene and did their utmost to render assistance, they were powerless to save the furniture as the smoke poured out of the house in a stifling volume, making it impossible to enter. Mr. Akerman's loss is complete as he lost his clothing, a sum of money, a splendid collection of books, and in a great many cases, treasures of a sentimental nature, many of them brought from England over half a century ago, the value of which was priceless and can never be replaced, was lost in the burning pile.

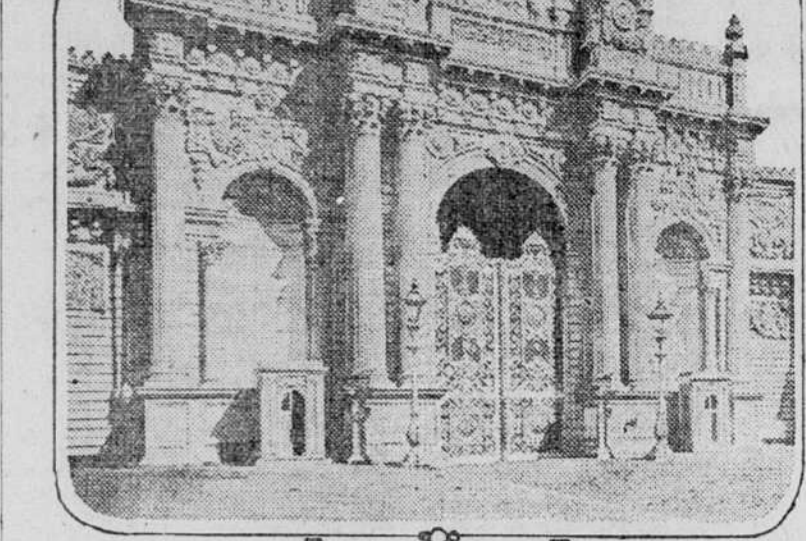

The house was built by the late Gardner Stevens, of Windsor Mills, a native of this place; built in the day when timber of the very best was plentiful. The house was erected with the best wood and best workmanship procurable, and standing amidst the cold and heat of half a century it was a fitting monument to the energetic work of the men of those days.

The fire driven by a high wind raced through the fields towards Mr. R. L. Billingsley's, where it was checked by the untiring work of many volunteers.

E. T. VESTRY MEETINGS

ST. JAMES' CHURCH, SOUTH DURHAM.

South Durham, April 9.—(Special)—The Easter festival was celebrated in St. James' Church by a bright and hearty service on Sunday at 7 p.m. and a celebration of the Holy Communion on Monday at 10.30 a.m. Both services were well attended.

Monday afternoon the members of the Vestry held their annual meeting when the following officers were re-elected unanimously: Clergyman's Warden, Mr. E. N. Griffith; People's Warden, Mr. Geo. Johnston; Treasurer, Mr. Woolfrey; Cemetery Warden, Messrs. Wm. McCrea and A. Johnston; Delegate to the St. Francis District meeting, Mr. A. Johnston.

The treasurer's report was considered highly satisfactory, showing the year's work as standing well among the best in the history of the congregation. The excellent work of the Ladies' Guild was well marked by the improvement of the interior of the church, but more particularly by the improved appearance of the interior itself. This committee was reappointed, and it is intended in the near future to install a more adequate lighting system.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH, BURY.

Bury, April 9.—(Special)—The services on Easter Day in St. Paul's Church were remarkably well attended, with a very large number of communicants. The first service was at 8 a.m. The next was a children's service at 9.45, there being 68 present. At 11 o'clock there was a choral celebration of the Holy Communion. The special Easter music was effectively rendered by the choir. The altar, sanctuary and chancel were beautifully decorated with flowers, including Easter lilies. The altar itself was profusely decorated with tulips, narcissus, hyacinths and daffodils from Montreal, being a memorial gift from the daughters of the late Mr. A. Hawley.

The church warden's report for the past year, submitted at the Vestry meeting, was most highly satisfactory, showing that a large amount of money had been raised in connection with the various branches of church work. The Vestry endeavored to make efforts of the People's Warden, Mr. Wm. Vintiner, and re-elected him for the ensuing year. Mr. Thos. Harrison was appointed Rector's Warden again.

The St. Paul's Guild, St. Thomas' Guild and St. John's each contributed towards installing electric lights and fixtures in the Rectory. Mr. O. T. Anderson, canvasser for installing electric light in St. Paul's Church, was complimented for his success.

Complaint was made by the members of the Vestry that the Westbury Electric Light Co. failed to supply electric current when it was needed on Sunday mornings. It was stated that there was no clause in their agreement with the Council exonerating them in this regard. A motion was unanimously carried placing this protest on record.

Messrs. O. T. Anderson and John Manes were appointed a deputation to wait upon the Town Council to request that the street be properly raised so as to avoid floods in the Rectory grounds.

The Rector reported that during the year there had been 16 baptisms, 23 confirmed, 5 marriages and 14 burials. In four years the late Bishop Dunn had confirmed 126 persons in the parish of Bury. The Vestry adjourned until the 12th inst.

The annual Easter Vestry meeting was held in St. Thomas' Church on the 7th inst., with Rural Dean Lewis in the chair. The Warden's financial report showed a balance on the right side after all debts had been met. Heartily votes of thanks were given to the organist and also to the Ladies' Guild. During the next year the latter had put new matting in the church, the belfry and roof repaired, and a donation of $25 towards wiring and fixtures for electric light in the Rectory. Mr. C. A. Beaton was appointed Rector's Warden and Mr. Thos. Smyth People's Warden.

NOTES OF NEWS FROM RICHMOND

G. N. W. Telegraph Office Re-opened By Order of Railway Commission

RICHMOND AND CLEVELAND COUNCILS GIVE DONATIONS FOR RED CROSS WORK.

Richmond, April 9.—(Special)—

The regular meeting of the Richmond Town Council was held on Tuesday evening at the Council Chambers, the mayor and all the board, with the secretary-treasurer in attendance. The applications for licenses for the various hotels were confirmed.

TELEGRAPH OFFICE OPENS AGAIN

The Great North Western Telegraph Company having summarily closed their office here, the matter was discussed by council, with representatives from the Richmond Board of Trade and from the Sherbrooke branch of the company. The representative of the company complained that the tax of $20.00 per annum was too onerous, and asked that council reduce it to $10.00. A motion was passed to the effect that council could not remit the tax for this year, but when levying taxes next fall, if the company would have a representative at the council meeting and could show good reason, the council would seriously consider the matter of reduction. The opinions expressed by several of the councillors and members of the Board of Trade in regard to the company's procedure, made things rather interesting for awhile.

In this connection the telegraph office is now open, the Railway Commission at Ottawa having so ordered.

CADASTRAL PLAN OF TOWN

The secretary was ordered to secure a copy of the cadastral plan of the town of Richmond from the government at Quebec.

DONATION TO RED CROSS

The sum of $100.00 was granted to the Surgical Branch of the Richmond, Melbourn and Cleveland Branch of the Red Cross Society, to aid in defraying the cost of the material to be used in making supplies pledged by the ladies of the Branch.

The question of Mr. Cote's claim for alleged damages for fall on sidewalk, was discussed and Mr. Cote was offered the sum of $75.00 in settlement, the offer being made without prejudice to the corporation's right or position in the matter, and without admitting any liability therefor.

MUST PAY UP ARREARS

The secretary was instructed to notify all those in arrears for the cost of building new concrete sidewalks, that same must be paid before April 25th, failing which same will be handed to attorney for collection.

ROAD WORK.

The secretary was authorized to make arrangements for a meeting between the delegates from the council and the Hon. Provincial Treasurer, in regard to road work for the coming season in Richmond. Sundry accounts were ordered paid.

CLEVELAND TOWNSHIP COUNCIL.

The regular monthly meeting of the Cleveland Council, was held on Tuesday at the office in the McGovern Block, Main Street. Mayor Smith presided, with Pro-Mayor Geo. Taylor, Councilors W. R. Stevens, Chester C. Healy, Louis Tremblay, and C. M. Wattle, with Sec.-Treasurer Montgomerie in attendance.

PREVENTION OF FOREST FIRES

The new rules and regulations regarding the prevention of forest fires, issued by the Department of Lands and Forests at Quebec, was read, and it was decided to post copies at St. Cyr and the Spooner Pond Cheese Factory.

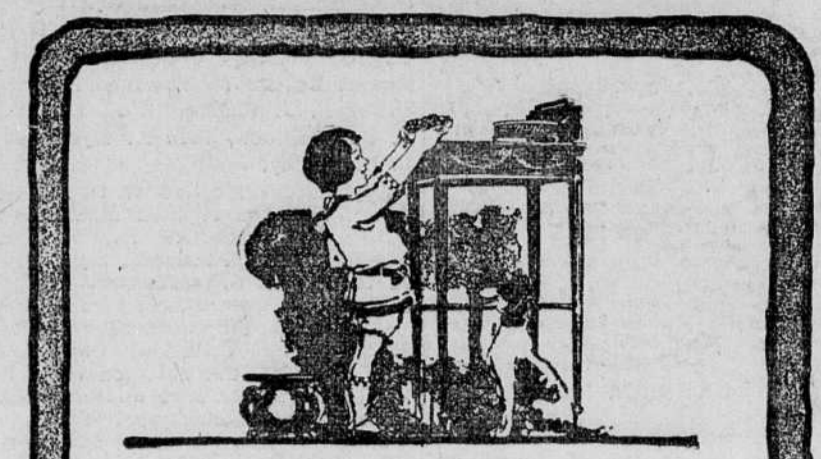

TO BUILD SNOW FENCE

The council decided that a snow fence should be built at St. Cyr, on the properties of Joseph Tremblay and J. Cooper Frost, through which a winter road passes. Pro-Mayor Taylor and Councillor Wattle were

The Gold Dust Twins' Philosophy

WHEN young Miss Housewife first aspired, to build the home her mate desired, she dreamed of castles in the air, with never toil nor woe nor care. She half imagined, in a way, that keeping house was only "play."

Too soon the sordid side of life—the dust and grime and soot and strife—each one, in turn, reminded her, that little problems must occur. A part of thrift is in the knack of fighting dirt around you, back; of keeping constantly at work where dust and germs of illness lurk.

Oh! Ye who feel that, once begun, a housewife's work is NEVER done, have cheer! The Gold Dust Twins make play of any task that comes their way. A mop—a cloth—a busy brush, and honestly it makes us blush, to think we ever played the drone by working in the house alone.

appointed a committee to have this done.

Pro-Mayor Taylor explained that he was going west in a week and expected to be away two months. Council granted him two months leave of absence.

Pro-Mayor Taylor reported that the Ward Bridge was needing attention, and it was agreed to send rural inspector D. McDonald to attend to same.

LADIES UNDERTAKE MUCH WORK

The official title of the Red Cross ladies in Richmond is now "The Surgical Department of the Richmond, Melbourn and Cleveland Branch of the Red Cross Society." Twenty-four ladies composing the branch have recently signed to make one thousand articles per month, required by the Red Cross at the front such as bandages, etc. They are meeting every Tuesday to carry on the work.

Germany Threatened Unions. Mr. J. A. Seddon, President of the British Trade Union Congress, speaking at the Labor Temple, Toronto, told of an incident at the last International Trades Union Congress in Europe which throws an interesting sidelight upon the war from the German point of view. "A regular feature of all our congresses," said Mr. Seddon, "has been a resolution urging the nations towards a state of peaceful relationship. But last time the German delegates asked to have the peace resolution eliminated from our program, and in an explanatory conference with the Executives of the congress, they told us that they had received a direct intimation from German officials that if peace resolutions were passed with their consent all funds of labor unions in Germany would be sequestered and the organizations themselves be dissolved."

Ingenious German Helmets. Despite the heavy appearance of the German soldiers' helmets, they are exceedingly light. They are made of steel, but they are nearly as light as a straw hat, and far more comfortable. The large military-looking spike is not placed on the top of the helmet for ornament alone. There are several large holes in it, which ventilate the wearer's head. The steel from which the helmet is made is exceedingly thin—almost as thin as paper, and all round the inside, where the helmet touches the head, there are a number of springs. These springs, which are covered with leather, serve to keep the helmet firmly on the head, without any great pressure.

Furnishing a Dreadnought. The 12-inch gun of a Dreadnought is 50 feet long, and if set upon end would be higher than many a country church tower. The cost of each gun is about $50,000, while each time it is fired $500 vanishes into the air. As a protection against the guns of the enemy, a Dreadnought is covered with armor costing $600 per ton, and as something like 4,800 tons are used in covering the vessel this means an expenditure of close upon $3,000,000. Boilers and machinery at $1,615,000, motor and steam boats at $40,000, torpedo-tubes at $15,000 each and torpedoes at $2,500 each; and $250,000 for searchlights and electrical fittings are other items in the bill which go to make a Dreadnought the costliest vessel afloat.

Turco, one of the soldiers lighting for France, captured single-handed a German captain. After carefully disarming him, he was taking him to the rear, when the officer, in a violent temper, cursed and swore at the gallant Algerian. The latter stood it for a while, but as the flood of abuse showed no signs of diminishing, he at last pointed his rifle at the German, and calmly handed him and made him carry his knapsack and the whole of his equipment. He completed the luckless German's discomfiture by sticking a saucapan on his head, and thus led his insulter through the lines amid roars of laughter.

Russia's Monster Aeroplanes

A good deal has been heard concerning the British and German aeroplanes, but the great Sikorsky biplanes used by the troops of the Omar have been rather overlooked. These machines, invented by a Russian named Sikorsky, are by far the biggest aeroplanes being flown in the war—in fact, they are the largest in the world. They stand 16 feet high and are about 100 feet wide. The Sikorsky can carry almost as many passengers as an albatross. Twenty men can be accommodated in the large passenger cabin, which is constructed of metal and contains numerous windows. In this machine three engines are fitted, which give a total of nearly 1,000 horse-power, for, owing to the Sikorsky biplane weighing in itself one and a half tons, and having so large a crew to carry, it demands high power to pull it off the ground and keep it in the air.

The weight of the machine has necessitated an elaborate landing-chassis, composed of numerous springs and pneumatic tubes, so that the huge biplane can alight safely on rough ground at a speed of sixty miles an hour.

THE ORDER OF ST. JOHN

Every large town in England sent its quota of St. John Ambulance men for service in the military and naval hospitals.

This is an ancient order, which owes its origin to the year 1059, when a few wealthy merchants obtained sanction to found a hospital within the walls of Jerusalem, the object being to succor the poor sick pilgrims who made their pilgrimage to the Holy City. Many hospitals were founded by the Order, and after the Holy Wars we find them established at Malta in 1575, which hospital still stands. Eventually the banner of the Order was planted in England at Clerkenwell—at that time a small village near London—where the Order still has its headquarters at St. John's Gate.

They were not long to enjoy their privileges in England, for in 1549 Henry VIII. decreed the abolition of all religious orders and monasteries. The Order of St. John shared their fate, to be restored again when Philip and Mary came to the throne. Again the Order was dissolved by Queen Elizabeth. Then, in the year 1827, came a great demand for the revival of the Order—commencing in France—and King George IV. became interested, and appointed a Grand Prior of the Order, and since that date it has gone steadily on, and its ambulance department to-day is one of the greatest humanitarian movements of the age.

Furnishing a Dreadnought

The 12-inch gun of a Dreadnought is 50 feet long, and if set upon end would be higher than many a country church tower. The cost of each gun is about $50,000, while each time it is fired $500 vanishes into the air. As a protection against the guns of the enemy, a Dreadnought is covered with armor costing $600 per ton, and as something like 4,800 tons are used in covering the vessel this means an expenditure of close upon $3,000,000. Boilers and machinery at $1,615,000, motor and steam boats at $40,000, torpedo-tubes at $15,000 each and torpedoes at $2,500 each; and $250,000 for searchlights and electrical fittings are other items in the bill which go to make a Dreadnought the costliest vessel afloat.

Turco, one of the soldiers

Turco, one of the soldiers lighting for France, captured single-handed a German captain. After carefully disarming him, he was taking him to the rear, when the officer, in a violent temper, cursed and swore at the gallant Algerian. The latter stood it for a while, but as the flood of abuse showed no signs of diminishing, he at last pointed his rifle at the German, and calmly handed him and made him carry his knapsack and the whole of his equipment. He completed the luckless German's discomfiture by sticking a saucapan on his head, and thus led his insulter through the lines amid roars of laughter.

PATRIOTIC WORK IN SHERBROOKE

Red Cross Ball Was a Complete and Gratifying Success

ABOUT TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY GUESTS WERE PRESENT AT
53RD. ARMOURY

The Red Cross Ball, Wednesday evening, at the 53rd. Regiment Armoury, was a complete and gratifying success. The splendid work for the benefit of which it was organized is dear to the heart of every Canadian, and as no similar function has been held this season, the dancing set turned out in numbers to indulge in their favorite amusement. About two hundred and fifty guests were present, but the immense size of the Hall prevented the least crowding and there was plenty of room for all. The decorations were particularly appropriate and striking, consisting of festoons of red, white and blue bunting, gracefully disposed around the walls, and between the windows were small flags, the British and French predominating, while over the entrance was a huge red cross reared against the white wall with the word "Welcome" below. The dais arranged for the patronesses at one side had a background of an enormous Union Jack, with sofa, arm chairs, rugs, etc., and a pot of red Azaleas carried out the color scheme. Above flashed a cross of electric lights. The musicians' stand was draped with many gay flags and further adorned with palms and stacked rifles, giving a military touch which was most effective. The music furnished by Professor Dudley's orchestra was inspiring and up to date, and the dances were announced by the regulation bugle calls. When "Tipperary" was played the guests joined with the orchestra, and the popular song was never more patriotically rendered. The pretty programmes bore with the usual date, etc., a tiny red cross, and a significant maple leaf between flags of the allied armies. The guests were received by Mrs. G. L. Deloitteville, who wore Alice blue voile, trimmed with chantilly lace and with pearl ornaments. Mrs. C. H. Bowen, who was in black lace and jet, with crimson corsage bouquet, and Mrs. Jack Morkill, whose gown was yellow with gold garniture. The brilliant lights, wide expanse of polished floor, and the charming frocks of the women, of every dainty hue, combined to form a scene of unusual beauty not often witnessed in smaller cities. Towards midnight a light supper was served, the tables placed behind screens at the end of the hall looking very attractive with a red cross in the centre, silver candelabra and miniature cannon at either end. Dancing was kept up with spirit until an early hour of the morning.

Hillman wished to offer one suggestion, with which that speaker would agree, which was that there was a difference between conservatism and pessimism. Conservatism was always a quality to be admired, while pessimism was a quality to be deprecated and avoided. By pessimism he meant that sort of thing which led a man to say his own business was bad when he heard a remark that times were hard, although his books might show an increase in the volume of business. That kind of a man who got imbued with the idea that business was bad was a stumbling block.

BUSINESS MAN AND HIS MUNICIPALITY

Proceeding, Mr. Hillman stated that he was a member of the Charter Commission for the city of Springfield and went on to speak upon "The business man and his municipality." "The municipality needs the business man," said Mr. Hillman, "not as a critic only, but as an active participant in the administration of its affairs. The business man thinks he cannot afford to go into municipal politics because he is a practical business man. As a matter of fact, he cannot afford to stay out, if he is a practical business man. He sees the city's money—his money—being wasted through the inefficient management of the city's business by men who, he reflects, are not so deeply concerned in the conservation of the city's resources as he because their taxes are very much smaller. Heads of city departments are extravagant in their purchases. Different departments purchase the same commodities in small quantities and at different prices all of which are larger than the prices he pays for the same material because he employs a shrewd buyer and makes his purchases for the various departments of his business in large quantities through a single purchasing agent, but he doesn't care to mix in politics—he is a practical business man.

LOOKS ON AND CRITICIZES.

"He sees a beautiful street constructed, at a cost of ten thousand dollars per mile, and within a week after its completion he sees it torn up for the purpose of laying larger sewer pipes. He sees this work scarcely completed when the street is again torn up for the purpose of laying a new water main. The following week or month it is subjected to similar treatment by the Gas Company, and following the Gas Company comes the Electric Light Company, by order of the City Government, runs its wires through the street in underground conduits, and now the Street Railway takes its turn. Theoretically, each replaces the surface of the street and restores it to its original good condition. As a matter of fact, the street has been built and rebuilt five or six times, and is substantially ruined. The citizen has not only paid for it each time in taxes, gas bills, electric light bills, telephone bills and car fares, but he has been deprived of the use of the street all summer, and he doesn't care to mix in politics—he is a practical business man.

"He sees similar examples of needless duplication in nearly all departments of the city. He observes that the city pays the long price for labor and gets the short hours. He notes that an unusually large number of improvements are made in Ward 3. Because they are needed? No, because it is the doubtful ward, politically. He receives his tax bill—the rate has jumped from fifteen dollars per thousand to sixteen dollars and seventy-five cents per thousand. He swears (softly), pays his respects to the politicians and his cash to the City Collector. He doesn't care to mix in politics—he is a practical business man.

"In a few weeks a caucus is called for the nomination of municipal officers for the ensuing year. Does he attend? He does not. He is too busy or forgets about it. He is urged to run for office. Does he run? He does—in the opposite direction. Election day comes around. Does he vote? He does, because he is a good citizen and knows his duty. He tells his friends, confidentially, that one candidate is as bad as the other (and a little worse), that it is hardly worth while going to the polls to vote, and that, at best, one has only the choice between two evils, but he doesn't care to mix in politics—he is a practical business man.

"Now comes the Budget for the ensuing year. Some reference is made in his newspaper to the proposed appropriations. He notes that the tax rate will have to be increased, but he does not understand the Budget and pays no further attention to it, not realizing that no one else understands it either. A hearing is called on the Budget. Does he attend? No he does not attend. Why? Because some of his friends came in to spend the evening playing cards and he forgets about it. He reads in the paper the following morning that only three citizens appeared at the hearing and he marvels at the lack of interest in public affairs, but he doesn't care to mix in politics—he is a practical business man.

BLAME THE CHARTER.

"Finally, several of his type become aroused and make up their minds that the thing has gone far enough and, straightway, they propose to correct the whole condition by providing a new city charter. Since no one admits that the unsatisfactory conditions are due to any fault of his, obviously the fault must be with the charter. A charter revision commission is created and, to make it broadly representative, members are drawn from various walks in life. A drafting committee is appointed, made up of fourteen practical business men and one who has some political experience and, it is subsequently discovered, a following. Majority and minority recommendations with respect to the form of charter are presented to the commission. After due consideration of the form submitted by the majority, which meets with the general approval of the practical business men, minority reports modestly that he represents the "people" and offers a form of charter which is intended to conserve their rights. The practical business men are mildly shocked. They had been laboring under the delusion that they were people also, but various and sundry colleagues of the minority now testify that the charter proposed by the business men was conceived in iniquity, baptized in corruption, and is the diabolical instrument of demagogues to fasten upon the "down-trodden people" the octopus of monopoly.

"It now occurs to him that the vote of the laboring men and the man who is less highly educated and less successful than he, counts for as much in the ballot box as his own. He has always held himself aloof from politics, but has felt that if an occasion should arise when he could spare the time, it would be only necessary for him to announce his candidacy and his election would be very nearly unanimous. His friends in his club and elsewhere have assured him that this would be the case, but he begins to wonder if such assurances are a reliable indication of public opinion. He begins to realize that one class of people supplies the money for the municipality and another class spends and receives it. It occurs to him that perhaps the men who pay a poll tax only may be more interested in a prospective city job than in the reduction of taxes.

"The municipality needs the services of the practical business man, and the business man needs practical political experience. "If the business man believes that the conduct of the affairs of a municipality is purely a business proposition, he is, in my opinion, seriously mistaken. If the politician (and I use the term without reproach) believes that business methods in municipal government will operate to the disadvantage of what he is pleased to term the "people," he is equally mistaken. Each needs the benefit of the other's experience. So long as we have government we shall have politics, and the political standards of any municipality will not rise above the standard of citizenship in that municipality. The business man must not assume that he is superior as a citizen to those of lesser financial importance, and he cannot correct the unfortunate conditions which his training enables him to detect by momentary and spasmodic efforts. Those who are serving him in the municipal government are probably as sincere as he, but they view the situation from a different angle because of different training and experience. It is useless for him to criticize those in public offices which he would not accept, and equally useless to find fault with political methods for which he offers no satisfactory substitute.
