Carnival Proceeds To Provide Care For The Needy

"Every year our carnival takes more extensive planning" stated S.B. Cayford, chairman of the Carnival Committee of the Rotary Club of Westmount, when questioned in connection with the 16th annual Westmount Rotary Carnival to be held in Westmount Park beginning next Tuesday and continuing all week "for every year our carnival must be bigger and more entertaining in order to collect more funds for our increasing responsibilities."

"You see," he said, "the Rotary Club of each community is pledged in so far as it is able, to help the youth of that community. In the city of Westmount the growth of its population and congestion in the lower districts have given rise to a great many youth problems which we must do our share in solving. The Unity Boys' Club is now one of our major projects and it is keeping many a boy and girl, through its organized activities, off the streets after dark, supplying them with sports and entertainment when otherwise they might be getting into trouble. We hope to be able in the near future to provide them with a permanent club house. But this costs money and we have to raise it."

"Another project we have taken up in the last two years is trying to help deserving students who are graduating from high school and need encouragement and help to carry them through their first year at the University. The four students who have already won the Westmount Rotary Scholarships during the past two years have proved that this was a worthwhile effort on our part. All four are now in a position to carry on their university courses."

"Our aid to the Montreal Children's Hospital and the Julius Richardson Convalescent Home for underprivileged children is of long standing, and every year we feel very gratified that the funds we are able to supply them with goes towards new equipment and facilities for the babies and young children who are ill, had accidents, or are in need of expert convalescent care and whose parents are not in a position to provide them with these necessities to bring them back to health."

"So every year," continued Mr. Cayford, "we have to think of more enticing means to entice more money out of the public. But," he added with a smile, "so far, the public hasn't seemed to mind parting with its money at our carnivals—we give them plenty of fun, noise and entertainment, and I think a lot go just to see us members rushing around shouting and behaving like twelve year olds."

CORRECTION

An error was made in the lines accompanying the picture taken at the opening of the new Avenue Theatre featured on page 1 of last week's Examiner. The lines indicated Mr. and Mrs. Charles James, and Chief and Mrs. R. A. Byford. They should have indicated Mr. and Mrs. James with Chief and Mrs. W. C. Cobb.

ATTEND MILITARY REUNION

Westmounters Col. and Mrs. K. S. Bjorn enjoy the show in the Officers' Mess at the Reunion of the 17th Duke of York Royal Canadian Hussars, held at their Armory over the weekend. The Banquet and Party was held Saturday night and the Reunion climaxed on Sunday by a spectacular Drumhead Service.

Rotary Club Meets With St. Lawrence Kiwanians

The usual Westmount Rotary Club Wednesday luncheon at Victoria Hall was not held this week. Instead, the Club assembled at the Ritz Carlton Hotel in a joint meeting with the St. Lawrence Kiwanis Club, who were hosts for the occasion. Also guests at the dinner were C. M. Hodgdon, president of the Montreal Rotary Club; H. C. Hatcher, president of the Westward Rotary Club, and Sam Ross, president of the newly formed Verdun Rotary Club.

President Doug McKean of the Westmount Rotary Club, introduced to the Kiwanians by their president Mr. Gustave, preceded his brief business of the day and roll call by extending appreciation to the Kiwanians on behalf of the Rotarians. He observed that if the spirit of getting together for work and play were more widely followed as in service clubs, the world should be in a happier state.

Guest speaker for the occasion was G. Lorne Wiggs, distinguished consulting engineer of Montreal, who gave an illustrated talk on Radiant Heating and Cooling. He was introduced by Kiwanian Ignace Bruillet, who pointed out that he was a graduate of McGill University; opened office in Montreal in 1929, and since that time has been a pioneer in the field of radiant heating.

Different Principle

Heating by conventional methods is accomplished through the circulation of masses of heated air, Mr. Wiggs pointed out. Radiant heating, on the other hand, is accomplished by the radiation of warmth from floor, walls, or ceilings, preferably the ceiling. This warmth is radiated like light, in the form of heat rays, through air, which does not absorb the warmth, to the floor, people and other objects in the room. This principle is easily demonstrated by stepping from strong sunlight into shade. The sun's rays carry heat through the air without heating it, and create heat where they land; when they are obstructed, the immediate heat generated by them is eliminated.

Therefore, declared Mr. Wiggs, with radiant heating, one's feet and body may be warm while the surrounding air is cool. Great

Westmount Girl Going To Europe To Aid In Reconstructing Hostels

Scheduled to sail from New York to Europe this month, is Mrs. Mary LeMesurier, of 419 Roslyn avenue. A member of the Canadian Youth Hostels Association, she goes as one of the few Canadians chosen as part of a group of 225 young Americans who will spend the summer working and hosteling in Europe. Under the sponsorship of American Youth Hostel, Inc., this group will work with hostellers from Europe and the British Isles in repairing and rebuilding war-damaged hostels in France, Belgium, Holland, Norway, Denmark, and Ireland.

Youth Hostels associations are non-profit-making organizations which make travel possible for young people in good company and at low cost. The hostels provide inexpensive overnight accommodation for those who wish to spend their vacations living simply and travelling under their own steam, i.e., by hiking, cycling, skiing, canoeing, or horseback riding.

Started in Europe

The idea started in Europe in 1902, and steadily progressed until it now operates in 24 countries; it is as popular in Europe as automobile travel is in this country. Hosteling was introduced into the United States in 1934, and this summer's Europe Work Project is under the direction of Monroe Smith, one of the American founders.

Hostels usually are farm buildings, with separate dormitories for boys and girls, kitchens, and recreation rooms. Hostellers, who usually travel in groups of 10 or less, must each carry a Youth Hostels pass, pay a 25 cent overnight fee, and sign the hostel register. Each must also carry eating utensils and a sheet sleeping sack to take the place of the usual bed linen.

Blankets are supplied by the hostel. Hostellers must do their own cooking and housecleaning, have lights out at 10.30 p.m., and rise in time to breakfast, tidy the hostel, and get off to an early start on their day's trip. No intoxicants are allowed, and smoking is discouraged.

Hostels Spreading

Canadian and American Youth Hostels organizations are growing rapidly, and have been endorsed by many educators, statesmen, and community leaders. The Canadian Youth Hostels Association has become well established in The Maritimes, Quebec Ontario, and British Columbia, and is spreading to other parts of the country. There are approximately 900 members in the Greater Montreal area.

Miss LeMesurier "discovered" the Canadian Youth Hostels Association through newspaper publicity, and joined the Association four years ago. Since then, she has made many enjoyable bicycle trips, usually on week-ends, and generally to hostels in the Eastern Townships.

Going to Belgium

She will be working at a hostel in Belgium for a month this summer, and expects to participate also in a hosteling trip in Belgium and France before returning home. She graduated this year in Arts at McGill University.

Boys' Brigade Awards Presented In Final Turnout

FIRST COMPANY HOLD COLORFUL CLOSING

The 1st Company held a most successful closing display on Tuesday, June 3rd, starting off with a banquet, held at Westmount Y.M.C.A., on which occasion a number of boys from the 8th Company in Mount Royal were the guests of the 1st Company. Following the supper, a very fitting address was delivered by their beloved Chaplain, Rev. Andrew J. Mowatt, B.A., B.D. Entertainment of a very amusing character was contributed by James B. Rice, father of Lance Cpl. Bryer Rice, following which the boys formed up and took a route march through Westmount, ending up at the High School in time for the display. The joint 1st-8th band did a bang-up job on this occasion.

The programme consisted of Flag-raising with full ceremony. Trumpeter John Shepherd sounding the salute, followed by the opening hymn, "Underneath the Banner of the Cross," then the prayer by Rev. Andrew J. Mowatt. The boys were inspected by their Chaplain, and then gave a performance in drill, followed by a drill-down competition, taken by Captain J. Howard Richardson. Lance Cpls. Donald Dunk of the 1st and Leonard Macdougall of the 8th came out victors. Cycle pennants were presented as souvenirs.

Business Ass'n Plans Activities

A meeting of the executive of the Business Men's Association of Westmount was held Tuesday evening. It was felt that any suggestions or complaints from the merchants should be sent to the executive, where the proper action could be taken collectively to benefit the association as a whole. Also plans were drawn up for the Sports Day, to be held in the fall, and a social evening for the members and their wives was decided upon. The various suggestions and plans were enthusiastically received, and we may look to a very active and beneficial season, starting at the beginning of the autumn season.

ARE ALL NAMES LISTED?

Families should immediately check to see that the names of relatives who served during the late World War are included in the Westmount High School Honour Roll if formerly connected with the School in any way. It is desirable to have a final request for names as the memorial of suitable nature is now being considered and it is hoped that not a single name will be omitted from the Honour Roll.

Further information may be had by contacting High School authorities and every co-operation of Westmount citizens is anticipated in helping to make the Roll as complete as possible.

WESTMOUNT WHIMSIES

By Oliver Towne

One of Westmount's oldest businessmen, T. Senecal, well-known tailor, is sick in the hospital right now and his daughter is looking after the business. . . not for long, however, as the building has been sold and a new, modern business premises will be erected at this spot (St. Catherine, near Greene Ave.) after the old building is torn down . . . Mr. Senecal claims he has the oldest business in Westmount but John Smithers is believed to have been in business a year or two longer. . . Mr. Senecal has a rather unique sign outside his shop, bearing the words "L'Echoppe du Tailleur" . . . we always thought the French word for store was "magazin," but maybe this sign has been there for forty or more years.

HERE AND THERE IN WESTMOUNT . . . Dave Jassly, of Macy's, just recently returned from a very successful fishing trip . . . he was at a club just above St. Donat . . . enjoyed himself immensely . . . the route of the Glen tramways autobus has been changed temporarily while the tracks are being replaced . . . now goes west to Prince Albert along Western, up to Sherbrooke, east to Victoria and down again to Western . . . Herbert J. Eddy, another well-known local businessman, in the florist business, is in the Central Division of the Montreal General Hospital . . . been there since Saturday . . . doing well . . . Tramways are certainly a nuisance replacing their tracks . . . St. Catherine Street is blocked for east-bound traffic from Greene to Gladstone Avenues . . . traffic re-routed to Dorchester . . . a Canadian Pacific Express truck, in a hurry, no doubt, mad, a "U-Turn" in the middle of St. Catherine Street Wednesday afternoon . . . Westmount motor cycle policeman riding by at the same moment, serenely observed this and kept going . . . time some of these laws were enforced.

The Tramways work around Victoria and Sherbrooke intersection has slowed down to almost nothing . . . the men are just digging the holes in the road and leaving them for a while . . . doesn't help local businessmen or traffic either. There are some very bitter comments to be heard on this score . . . talking about crabbing . . . we do it all the time . . . if the weather's cool, we crab, . . . and if it's hot, witness Wednesday . . . What do we do . . . we crab again . . . never satisfied, that's us . . . did you notice that picture of Fire Chief Cobb on page one of last week's paper . . . only thing wrong was that the cut line, brazenly stated that it was a picture of Police Chief Byford and his wife . . . no fires and no arrests in Westmount this past week . . . Only a few minor accidents . . . a lot of people expressing opinions on our new theatre, The Avenue . . . many say they like the theatre, but not the pictures . . . Westmount Rotarians had red faces again on Wednesday . . . they had gone to the Ritz Carlton Hotel for a combined dinner with the St. Lawrence Kiwanis . . . but they forgot to tell the three or four usual guests from the Military Hospital about the change . . . you guessed it . . . the poor fellows showed up at Vic Hall and no lunch and no meeting . . . and so it goes . . . and so do we.

Canadas' Chief Scout, Viscount Alexander, has received the following St. George's Day message from Lord Rowallan, Chief Scout of the British Commonwealth and Empire:

"I send to you and your Scouts my warmest good wishes for this St. George's Day.

"There are Dragons abroad in the World today seeking whom they may devour; Dragons of Hatred, Jealousy and Selfishness. The Scouts of the World must face these Dragons with the same courage and determination which inspired St. George of old. Let us, therefore, go forth together clad in the armour of spirit to slay the Dragons and bring peace and happiness to mankind."

THE PILLAR

By GEORGE COCHRANE

EXPLANATION

Westmount Highlights was born back in November, 1943. Since that time I have written about 200 Westmount Highlights columns, starting with a very modest allotment of space, working up so that at peak production times the Highlights and a beer ad have occupied a whole page in your favorite weekly newspaper.

It has been a lot of fun writing Westmount Highlights. It was enjoyable reading the work of guest columnists too. Guys like the inimitable John Clennel Dickens and Arthur Aurel Voronka, whose Billy Rose-ish work has kept Examiner readers entertained for the past nine months. Then there was Wright Balfour, a gent whom I christened "Westmount's ace fictioneer" and who has now returned to his first love — newspaper-work. He's working for British United Press in Winnipeg . . . Then there was William Atwood "Ikey" Macdonald, the high-powered politico who has broken into print on several occasions with some very good stuff. Ike is working for the parks department this summer, will return to McGill in the fall for his fourth year of arts and will then betake himself to Toronto to study law . . . Then just last week Geoff Merrill, the Modernaires' drummer boy, came through with a sprightly, nostalgic effort.

Now Westmount Highlights is dead.

This is a new column, with a new name, written by a guy who wants to write about whatever he feels like writing — not just the worthy students of Westmount High, not just the worthy burghers of Westmount. So one week you might find here a discussion of women's hats. Or an interview with an exotic danseuse. Or an anatomical description of a rodent. (No slurs intended, Art.)

So, it is with sadness that we announce the death of Westmount Highlights, with glee the birth of THE PILLAR.

ITEMS

This week I'd like to bridge the gap between Westmount Highlights and The Pillar with a few good, old-fashioned items. Remember 'em? . . . Goldie McCullough, the belle of Cowansville who enrolled in the ranks of WHS last year, seen anking along downtown St. Catherine the other evening. She's working in the metropolis for Canadian Converters . . . Doug Heron, the husky footballer and hockeyist, toiling for the parks department along with quite a few other of "the boys" — among them: Ray Lank, Jack McKissock, Moe Strachan, Shorty Fairhead. . . Bryson Berry, the departmental store man, planning to spend his two weeks' vacation at Potter's Camp this summer. . . Brother Bob successfully completed his first year of phys. ed. at McGill. . . Hank Blakeney, after a session in hospital, now working for a transportation company and really enjoying it . . . Evelyn Bremner back in town and will doubtlessly be adorning the King George tennis courts soon. The lass has also been playing a lot of golf. A real, all-round girl is Evelyn. . . BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

BY WINIFRED E. WILSON

Scarlet Tanager

When a vivid scarlet bird with black wings and tail flew into our wild black cherry tree there was absolutely no doubt in our minds as to its identity. The nearest to an all-red bird we have is the rosy Summer Tanager, and it is a most infrequent visitor. There are birds with red on heads or throat, pink patches, magenta colouring, cardinal with a black face, pinky-red bodies with black and white wings. But here was the breath-taking sight of pure vermilion in bright sunshine, offset by jet black. It could be none other than the male Scarlet Tanager.

Maybe his wife was with him, dressed in dull greenish-yellow with a lighter wash on breast and underparts. We did not see her; our eyes were fastened on her gorgeous mate. When he flew over the pasture to the woods behind we watched until he disappeared into the mass of green foliage. Mrs. Scarlet Tanager probably hovered nearby, unnoticed, but applauding our appreciation of her beautiful husband.

But our mid-June exclamations were as nothing to our early-August shouts, which grew in volume as one bird after another made its appearance in the bushes two yards from our back door.

"Look! A green bird larger than a Sparrow, but not so plump, and with a less stubby bill."

"There's one yellowish underneath—another with patches of scarlet, and black wings and tail. See that one with light wing-bars! Another mottled. Here's one with brownish wings scolloped in dull olive. There must be two dozen, all alike, but different!"

"Some look almost as if they might be female Baltimore Orioles. But the bills are wrong—they have a downward curve and are not long and slender enough."

"They may be Scarlet Tanagers moulting, even though they have started on their journey south."

Sure enough. The flock was composed of adult females in green costumes, adult males in various stages of change from scarlet spring suits to more modest winter clothes, and a lot of immature birds. These last looked like their mothers, except that young males have pale yellow margins on some wing feathers which give the effect of light wing-bars.

Tanagers are slow-moving, so that it was comparatively easy to follow them with field-glasses—though often they were too close for anything but our unaided eyes.

The last meeting of the year for the Montreal Wolf Cub Pow-

Wow (District Cubmasters, Cubmasters and Assistant Cubmasters) was held at Scout Headquarters last Wednesday evening. Attendance was slightly more than usual and discussion was held over future Pow-Wows and their programmes. Some useful ideas and suggestions were garnered from among the many present.

Calvary Wolf Cub Pack held its annual Parents and Visitors Night on Tuesday, June 3rd. The Cubs told the Mowgli story in a musical pageant and demonstrated many phases of their work. Col. A. Powis, District Commissioner, and W. Foote, District Cubmaster, presented First Stars to Charles Gibson, Calder Black, William Carter, Carl Anderson, Sidney Rollins and Douglas Rollins.

Alex Svendsen received Swimmer's Badge and Mackie Barr and Harold Moody received Cub Crests for Courtesy and Sportsmanship, respectively, from Mr. C. Gillhooly, Wolf Cub Badge Examiner. Sidney Jeffrey, Paul and Robert Hamilton and Douglas and Danny Wright were all invested. The evening ended with refreshments, and a good time was had by all.

CIVIC SUPPORT

The 6th Galt Sea Scout Group is to have a new landship headquarters. The Corporation of the City of Galt, Ont., has donated four lots overlooking the Grand River and the sponsor of the Troop, the Galt Civic Service Club, has voted financial and physical aid to build the new headquarters. Already the Sea Scouts have cleared the site and have commenced work on the foundation of the new building.

Pull in the "Waste"

One of the best efforts made in the recent Scout Paper Salvage Drive from Ontario eastward was that of the 7th St. John's (Stone) Church Troop in Saint John, N. B. Under the direction of Scoutmaster, E.A. Burdon, this small group collected waste paper. The drive was an outstanding success in all five of the provinces participating.

WHAT LITTLE FAITH

A man on the coast of Florida wrote to a New York store for a new barometer. When it arrived he unpacked it and discovered that the instrument was set at "Hurricane."

He tapped it, and it did not budge. He hung it up, tapped it again and still it did not budge.

Very angry, he wrote a strong letter to the store and then went out to post it. When he returned his house as well as the new barometer had blown away.

Unity Boys' Club Fights Delinquency Aided By Rotary Carnival Proceeds

Plans for the provision of permanent quarters in the very near future for the Boys' Unity Club are almost within sight, it has been declared by the chairman of the Youths' Committee of the Rotary Club of Westmount. These plans which provide for a building equipped with full facilities and under the expert supervision of trained workers have been the aim of the Rotary Club for the past two years. During this time a special building fund has been set aside both from donations and earmarked proceeds from the carnival held in Westmount Park. This year members of Westmount Rotary feel that if their carnival, which will be held in Westmount Park from June 17 to 21, is as well supported as it has been in the past, definite steps can be taken for the coming winter.

Need Urgent

The need for such quarters is urgent. In spite, however, of having to operate under serious handicaps during the past two years, since the founding of the club, its membership now numbers more than 200 boys and girls from the more congested areas of Westmount. The Club's teams of hockey, basket-ball, baseball and other sports, already rank high in the sports leagues of the community. Other competitive sports matches with outside boys' clubs are also now a regular part of their schedule in season. This success has been due to the generosity of the Westmount Y.M.C.A., the School Boards of the City of Westmount, and the churches, who have loaned the Rotary Club of Westmount meeting halls and gymnasiums for the boys and girls to carry on their activities until permanent quarters could be provided that this has been possible.

Youth conditions and the lack of adequate supervised play and activities for teen age boys and girls in the lower and more congested districts of the City of Westmount, which had led to many unpleasant incidents in the early spring of 1944, determined the members of the Rotary Club to do something to alleviate this condition if it was within their power. A survey was made by members of the club who toured the streets after sundown, and it revealed very definitely that if these boys and girls had meeting places to which they could go after the parks had closed and could carry on with sports, recreational interests and hobbies, much potential harm and delinquency would be avoided.

Hence on June 16, 1944, the Unity Boys' Club was founded and the first night saw an enrollment of over a hundred members. Through the kindness of the press in bringing the matter before the public, hundreds of games, much sports equipment books for the library, magazines and cheques from interested citizens poured into the temporary club rooms. The coming winter saw the formation of sports teams and supervised training soon placed these teams in the competitive leagues of the city.

The successful activities of the year 1945 placed the Unity Boys' Club as a definite entity in the youth life of the City of Westmount. But now this flourishing club which has done so much for these boys and girls must be placed on a firmer basis and this can only be done when a permanent club house is built. For literally hundreds of boys and girls are now waiting to join the club which must now limit its membership. The Unity Boys' Club is open to all boys and girls of any color, race, creed, or class from the congested districts at a fee of ten cents a month. The Rotary Club of Westmount have undertaken the full financial sponsorship of this, one of their major projects.

COLLISIONS

Two autos were involved in an accident at Grand Blvd., and Terrebone Avenue intersection at 7.20 p.m. on Monday, with much damage to both, one driven by Abraham Rabinovitch, 746 Wilder Avenue, Outremont, and the other by Arthur Dingman, 29 Redfern Avenue, Westmount.

Witnesses to this mishap were R. W. Neway, 4396 Harvard Avenue, and E. Mercier, 4440 Kensington Avenue, state police. Dingman's auto swerved following the collision and snapped a Hydro Pole.

NEW COURT STENOGRAPHER

Paul Bird who successfully passed both the French and English tests at the exams which were held at the Court House in Montreal on the 30th of May. The tests consisted of 140 words per minute during four minutes. Mr. Bird was awarded the Diplomas of Official Court Stenographer both in French and in English conferred by the Bar of Montreal. He is a student of Miss Robichaud's Commercial Academy, Westmount.

Queen's School Children Sell Own Handicraft

A colourful and interesting combined display and sale of handicrafts by the pupils of the Auxiliary Class of Queen's School was held at the School the last three days of last week. It was highly successful. This was the culmination of the year's work by the children under the instruction of Miss Evelyn Beban.

Articles in the display and sale included: wooden bread boards, fish boards, book ends, nut bowls, ash trays, and door stops; lunch cloths, laundry bags, children's clothes, baby's quilts, dish towels, face towels, toys, sewing kits, knitting needle holders, pot holders, socks, and small articles.

Fifteen pupils from Grades 2 to 6 comprise the Auxiliary Class, where they learn to sew, knit, braid rugs, mend their clothes, and handle tools. They are Joyce Green, Florence Wallis, Eddie Carr, Kenny Cathro, Bobby Cote, John Higgins, Bobby Hough, Herbert Johnson, Jimmy Keir, Hugh Laws, Drummond Marshall, Carl McInnes, Henry Noel, and Gordon Wilson.

Amateur Script Writing Contest

The Saint Genesius Players' Guild has launched its second script writing contest which commenced on June 1st, and concludes on September 1st, 1947. The rules will be similar to those of their recent contest with the exception that scripts should be written for twenty-five minute programmes.

Any subject may be chosen as the theme of the play bearing on history, biography, social conditions, or fiction. All plays are submitted with the understanding the Guild has the right to produce them on the air.

Cash prizes of $50, $25 and $10 will be awarded for the first, second and third best plays chosen in the contest. Further information and entry blanks may be had by writing Guild Headquarters at 3454 Peel Street, Montreal.

Rotary Carnival Will Provide A Wide Variety Of Entertainment

Every conceivable form of entertainment is promised by members of the Rotary Club of Westmount for those who visit the Westmount Rotary Carnival in Westmount Park next week which will open on Tuesday, and close Saturday night. For it is reported that the members of the club have combed the shelves of the suppliers of fair and carnival entertainment, vying with each other to attract the great crowd to the front of the booths which they will man at the event.

For the 60 staid and solid citizens, members of the Rotary Club of Westmount, will next week turn carnival men and shout themselves hoarse as barkers to sell their wares and gather in the five and ten

Hospital Room To Commemorate Allard F. Brophy

Five hundred dollars was presented to the Homoeopathic Hospital of Montreal on Friday afternoon by the United Commercial Travellers of America. This money is to cover the now completed refurnishing of Room 215, newly equipped with most modern hospital furniture distinctively coloured in a cool green hue, which was dedicated in honour of Allard F. Brophy, of 4179 Hampton Avenue. Mr. Brophy is to become Supreme Counsellor of the U.C.T. of A. at Detroit on June 26th.

In a brief dedication ceremony which took place in the Hospital's Griffith Memorial Hall, Frank Pritchard, of Hamilton, Grand Counsellor of the U.C.T. of A. for Ont. and Que., on behalf of his jurisdiction presented a cheque for $500 to Mr. Douglas Bremner, president of the Hospital Board of Management. The ceremony was witnessed by delegates attending the 24th annual session of the Grand Jurisdiction of Ontario and Quebec United Commercial Travellers of America.

Bowling Ball Loss Believed Due To Pranks

The Carpet Bowling Club of Westmount Park United Church has been having some misfortunes within the last few months. It has lost a large number of bowling balls which is handicapping them in their activities because of the fact that balls are impossible to buy. It is believed that boys entered the church on a couple of occasions and have taken them to play with outside. It is not felt that they have been intentionally stolen. If any parent has noticed their boys playing with such balls (about 5 inches solid wood) they would be doing the Bowling Club a great favor if they would phone the above mentioned church at EL 2771 advising where such balls could be recovered.

cent pieces to refill their depleted coffers in order to carry on the project financed by the Rotary Club for another year. Once a year for five nights no holds are barred and vocal self expression and interpretation can be given full vent.

The following week the Rotary Club of Westmount will settle down to serious business again and allocate the proceeds of its efforts to aid the Unity Boys' Club, the Julius Richardson Home at Chateaugay, the Montreal Children's Hospital, the Westmount Rotary Scholarships and other youth services and activities to which it has pledged its help and support.

Lots of Fun

This year the Midway will feature a greater number of booths and a more extensive selection of valuable prizes for winners of the tests of skill. Music, refreshments and other features that highlight carnival entertainment will also be found.

All precautions are being taken for the handling and protection of the public and the policing of the grounds and information service will be in the hands of the Young Men's Section of the Board of Trade.

The carnival is under the chairmanship of S. B. Cayford with W. W. Murray as vice-chairman, J. C. Colton, treasurer and S. A. Neilson, secretary.

Fine New Show Well Received

The new show which opened at the Colonial Room in the Manor House at Ste Agathe des Monts is marked by the presence of three qualities that make good entertainment: Singing, dancing and comedy.

The singing was in the hands of Raymonde Moisan, the well-known and charming French-Canadian songstress whose pleasant voice and self-assured delivery registered well with the audience. Miss Moisan sang popular songs in the English and French vein.

The dance department of the show was looked after by Raymon and Raquel, the Latin American dance duo. This team has a neat sense of showmanship and their routines are executed in a direct and colorful style. Raymon and Raquel also led a cocktail hour on Sunday afternoon giving lessons to those anxious to acquire the art of the rumba, samba and tango.

Jackie Kahane was, again, the irrepresible and very comical master-of-ceremonies, adding some new bits of material to his routine which is very funny all the way.

The Manor House Orchestra under Herman Apple provided discreet background for the show and melodius music for dancing.

Norman Clark Memorial Trophy: This beautiful trophy, presented by Gordon Clark in memory of his brother Norman, who was accidentally killed last year, went to Corporal John Gillingham, whom it was felt had justly earned it. The trophy is based upon altruism, the very spirit which was always manifest by the lad in whose memory the trophy is given.

Walter Goodale Memorial Trophy: The requirements for this trophy were altered somewhat this year, taking in the boy who had made the greatest progress during the session. L/Cpl. Gordon Turner was given this distinguished honour.

Red Cross Swimming Badge was presented to L/Cpl. Bryer Rice.

Captain Richardson, in his remarks, expressed his deep appreciation to all those who had made this year so successful: Rev. A. J. Mowatt, the Company's Chaplain who meant so much to the unit this past year together with Lieut. A. G. Anderson, Drill and First Aid Instructor, and Leonard Gough, Bandmaster, who put the band on its feet and did a grand job in training them, and to Lieut. Sam Hallam, the one who does so much behind the scenes which means a great deal toward keeping things running smoothly. The 8th Company was praised for the splendid way they had co-operated on all occasions.

Exposition At The William Lunn Arts and Trades School Is Held

The students' work of the Montreal William Lunn Arts and Trades School will be on exhibition at the school on Friday, between 9 a.m. and 10 p.m., and on Saturday, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. The work exhibited will include samples on Machine shop practice, Electricity, Building construction, Sheet metal work, etc. On the same occasion, the school which is located at 261 Ann street will be open to the public who may visit the various shops and see the pupils at work.

The William Lunn School is the only essentially English Arts and Trades School operating under the provincial Department of Social Welfare and of Youth. It was opened in 1941 as a War Emergency Training Centre and is equipped to accommodate two hundred day students and as many evening pupils. During the conflict, the William Lunn School gave impetus to the industrial war effort of the province of Quebec and the country by enabling soldiers, airmen, sailors and civilians to become skilled hands in many trades.

Camp Stedfast, from the 12th to 26th of July. Advance crews shall take over clean up work within a week or so, that all may be in readiness, well in advance.

And in this postwar period it is of great help to veterans' rehabilitation as well as to young boys who wish to get technical knowledge and become conversant with modern methods used in small and large industries. Most graduates are already holding interesting, steady and remunerative positions. This school is thus of great importance in our economic life.

Canadian Follies 1947 The Show Of The Year

Friday night brings the show of the year to the Victoria Hall, the Canadian Follies 1947. Here is an outstanding revue featuring a wealth of talented performers in a wide variety of dances to suit every taste, Miss Carrie Biggers, of the Carrie Biggers school of dancing is entirely responsible for production and direction. Long one of Montreal's foremost teachers, Miss Biggers has welded together an eye appealing original show well worth your patronage. Dorothy Cunningham as majorette ushers in the stirring swirl of Highland music and dancers. A pipe band will furnish the accompaniment for all time favorites the highland fling, the shean trows, sword dance and the reel of Tulloch brilliantly exhibited by such solo artists as Jean MacMillan, Ruth Randlett, Audrey O'Connell and a budding young star Kenneth Matheson. Douglas Waldie sings the haunting lovely old refrain "Annie Laurie" in memorable style to conclude the scottish presentation. The remainder of part 1 is composed of a series of national numbers with unique chorus arrangements, acrobatic dances and pleasing tap selections. Clever solo interpretations are given by Noel Beck, Margaret and Beatrice Noakes and Irene Waldie.

The central portion of the musical truly demonstrates the versatility of Miss Biggers cast as they dance their way through waltzes, tangoes, modernistic ballets and grand old Irish folk dances. The curtain rises on a beautifully executed ballet number accompanied by Joan Collier's unforgettable rendition of the Lords Prayer. George Waldie furnishes a thrilling highlight with some leaping acrobatic, followed by smooth choruses entitled "Waltzes of Yesterday." The shows younger member three-year-old Wayne Mackness bids fair to capture your heart with an introduction to the Irish selections. Part three of the well paced revue contains some apt interpretation of every conceivable form of dancing art, woven into intricate and appealing routines. A chorus of twelve beautiful girls set an attractive background for memorable sweethearts waltz, a featured selection.

Jean C. Purvis sings the immortal "Will You Remember." A rapid succession of unusual and spirited dances lead up to the finale as a vividly costumed chorus enacts life in a gypsy encampment and Eleanor Duvall has an opportunity to show her wares as gypsy queen. Jean Sutherland partners Bill Waldie with a fascinating bit of rhythm and Eva Watt gives a polished and finely interpreted ballet study, "The Swan". A catchy melody tap winds up a splendid performance designed to send you home humming a remembered tune and reviewing the "Canadian Follies 1947", for many months to come. Smart costume design, attractive scenery and special effects have been planned so that everyone young and old will enjoy this revue.

Salvation Army Campaign Hits $110,000 Of Quota

The Salvation Army Red Shield Campaign is now at $110,000 as against its objective of $125,000, latest report of T. H. Atkinson, Campaign Chairman, reveals but, he states, this is not the final count and when the full returns are made there is every anticipation that the Campaign will prove successful. Brigadier Peter Forbes, Campaign Director, points out that employees gifts from a large picture and subscriptions so donated will be received by June 15 as will many subscriptions from subscribers of former years while outstanding pledges will also greatly assist in bringing the total figure up to the objective of $125,000, if not topping it, a result to be desired.

French Aerial Stars At Belmont

Les Kimris, currently featured daily at 5 and 11 p.m. as the free outdoor attraction at Belmont Park, are "terrific." Suspended more than 100 feet in mid-air, these French aerial stars present the last word in sensationalism. Their act considered one of the most dangerous in the world, is presented on a superstructure containing a rapidly revolving miniature aeroplane from which are suspended the trapeze and ring work. They perform such feats as standing on their hands; knee holds from the bars; hanging head downwards with only their feet supporting them and finish on a one-foot hold... the accomplishment of which has rated them among the foremost exponents of aerial daredevilry. There is no assurance of safety for Les Kimris who performs without a net. This act is definitely a "MUST" on your list of entertainment.

Benny Louis and his famous Casa Loma Orchestra, combining the rhythmic styling of Glenn Miller with the jump rhythm of Stan Kenton and featuring vocals by Lee Farley entertain nightly as well as over week-ends in the spacious dance pavilion.

Belmont Park, with its asphalt walks and ample shelter, operates daily, rain or shine; and with its many picnic facilities and vast playgrounds the park is the ideal place for a day's outing for the entire family. Picnics on Friday will be held by the Chatelain Business College; Abbott Laboratories Ltd and The Liquid Carbonic Canadian Corporation.

(Continued from Page 1) masses of air are not highly heated, and this results in fuel savings. Moreover, great masses of heated air are not in constant circulation to carry dust and bacteria, to soil walls, ceiling and furniture, and spread infection. The costs of such installations are still somewhat high, he said, but are coming down. The savings in fuel are high in multiple-floor buildings like office buildings, apartments, or hospitals.

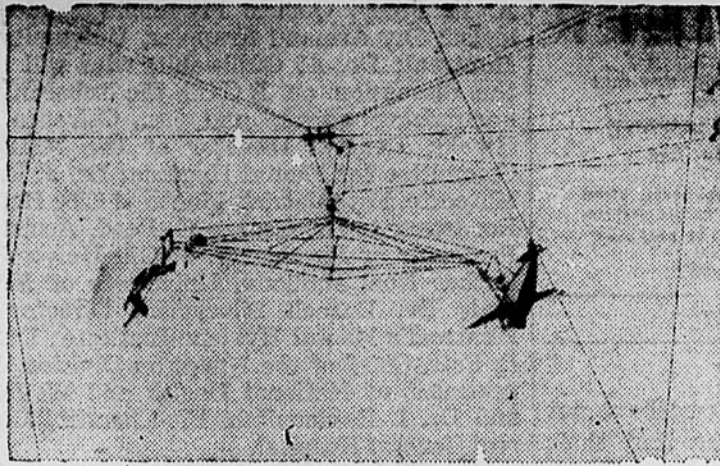

In conclusion, slides were shown, from photographs made by Mr. Wiggs, which demonstrated how radiant heating systems are installed and operate. Briefly, coils or pipe, connected with conventional heating system boilers, are laid in the surface from which the heat is to radiate. Water circulates through these pipes at temperatures of from 100 to 120 degrees. The wall, floor, or ceiling is thereby warmed, and the heat radiated out into the room.

Mr. Wiggs was thanked for his interesting address by Kiwanian Henri Labelle, and the successful joint meeting ended on time.

Today we Live in a Greater Canada

Ours Today - The POWER of a hundred million men!

TODAY CANADA is producing far more electrical power than ever. Water power installations are 25% greater than before the war! Now they total over 10 million h.p.—furnishing energy equal to that of more than 100,000,000 workers.

Our development of that power—in which we rank second in the world—made it possible for us to become one of the most important of manufacturing countries, with vastly increased opportunities in every field of activity.

Yet our present installations, [tremendous as they are, represent only 20% of our recorded resources!

With long distance transmission of electricity, water power became a dominant influence on Canadian development. The 18-mile line between St. Narcisse and Three Rivers in 1897 was the first high-tension transmission line in the British Empire.

After the turn of the century the advance was rapid. Greatest industrial user of electrical power was pulp and paper. Water power was the basis of its tremendous development as it became Canada's greatest peace-time industry.

With the war, aluminum became the biggest user; taking one-quarter of all electric energy generated in Canada. Greatest wartime development was mighty Shipshaw on the Saguenay, where the power generated is greater than that at Boulder Dam.

"UNSURPASSED OPPORTUNITIES"

KNOWLES BAILEY, after becoming thoroughly experienced in the wholesale tobacco business, started his own firm in a Toronto basement with one helper; twelve years ago. By his organizing ability, enthusiasm and plenty of hard work, he has built up a four-million-dollar business with 100 employees, 4 warehouses, sales offices throughout Canada and two factories.

MR. BAILEY says: "Twelve years ago I was sure there was no better place than Canada to start a business. I'm surer than ever today. Today, more than ever before, Canada offers unsurpassed opportunities for young men to turn their energy and enthusiasm into successful careers."

FATHER'S DAY

Young folks, at least those who have not yet been infected with the idea that their parents are "old fogies" who belong to ancient times, and fortunately they are still in the vast majority among the intelligent thinking young men and women, are planning to celebrate the one day in the year specially dedicated to father.

It is only right that the young people should, on "Father's Day", June 15, remember the sacrifices "Dad" made for them from the day they were babies until they reached the adult stage and were able to take over where the "old man" left off.

Started three years before the first official "Mother's Day", "Father's Day" was conceived in 1910 by Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Washington, U.S.A. She felt the need of a special day to honor Father, and to call attention to Father's place in the home.

Mrs. Dodd embodied her wishes in a letter to a Minister's Alliance which received it favorably. From this humble beginning, the day of remembrance grew to national importance, gaining impetus throughout the United States and Canada. It soon became the custom to wear on Father's Day, a white rose for remembrance, and a red rose for living tribute.

The Father's Day tribute on June 15 marks the first official celebration of the day in Canada since before the war, during which period, with so many men away in uniform, it was not widely marked.

HEALTH CONVENTION NEXT WEEK

Honourable Paul Martin, Minister of National Health and Welfare, heads an impressive list of prominent, health-minded citizens who will attend the 28th annual meeting of the Health League of Canada in Montreal's Windsor Hotel, next week, June 17, 18 and 19.

Mr. Martin will speak at a dinner meeting on the opening day of the conference, sessions of which will cover many subjects in the field of preventive medicine and health education. It is expected the minister of health will discuss the seriousness of the health problem in Canada and the need for health education through united action.

Luncheon speaker will be Dr. Louis I. Dublin of New York, vice-president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company; Dr. Wallace Graham of Toronto, president of the Canadian Rheumatism Association; and Mr. J. H. Brace of Montreal, vice-president of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada.

Dr. Dublin will speak at the Tuesday luncheon on "Health and the Challenge to the Voluntary Agency". Dr. Graham on Wednesday will discuss "The Arthritis Problem in Canada," while Mr. Brace will talk on industrial health at the Thursday luncheon.

The general business meeting — presentation of reports and election of officers — will be held on the morning of the opening day, Tuesday, June 17, with a meeting of the Health League's national council scheduled for the afternoon.

A nutrition conference under the chairmanship of Dr. J. C. Meakins, Dean of the Faculty of Medicine, McGill University, will be held on the Wednesday morning, with a session on mental hygiene in the afternoon. Chairman of the latter meeting will be Dr. L. R. Vezina, Chief, Division of Mental Hospitals, Province of Quebec.

The section on immunization will meet on the Thursday morning under the chairmanship of Dr. Donald T. Fraser, Professor of Preventive Medicine, University of Toronto. The Thursday afternoon session will be devoted to industrial health. Dr. Graham Ross of Montreal will be in the chair.

Participants in the various discussions will include Dr. F. O. Wishart, Toronto; Dr.

A. R. Foley, Quebec Provincial Epidemiologist; Dr. Armand Frappier, University of Montreal; Dr. A. Guilbeault, who will lead the discussion on B.C.G., the tuberculosis immunizing agent; and Dr. Calrence M. Hincks, General Director of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene; Dr. J. E. A. Marcotte, Psychiatrist, Montreal City Health Department; Dr. George E. Reed, Assistant Professor of Psychiatry, McGill University; Father Noel Mailloux, University of Montreal; Dr. Baruch Silverman, Director of Montreal's Mental Hygiene Institute; Dr. L. B. Pett, Chief of the Nutrition Division, Department of National Health and Welfare; and Dr. I. Rabinovitch, Bio-Chemist, Montreal General Hospital.

Mr. Norman J. Dawes, President of the Quebec Division of the Health League, will be chairman of the dinner meeting which will be addressed by Health Minister Martin. At this gathering, Hon. H. J. A. Paquette, Minister of Health for the Province of Quebec, and Mayor Camilien Houde of Montreal will represent the province and city, respectively.

Mr. John Paul Jones of Toronto, Chairman of the Health League's National Executive Committee, will be chairman of the business sessions. All sessions are open to the public.

FUEL OIL SITUATION SERIOUS

The rush to install oil burners has caused such a demand for fuel oil that oil companies are at their wits' end to know how they are going to meet it. Prices have advanced appreciably and are likely to go still higher. Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Reconstruction, as well as the heads of two of the largest oil refining companies, have warned the public against installing oil burners unless they have firm, written contracts for the necessary fuel oil from dependable sources of supply. The pinch in its most extreme form is likely to come this fall shortly after furnaces are started up.

Oil-burner equipment manufacturers controlled by the largest oil refining companies stopped making oil-burner installations early this year, but many others, trying to capitalize quickly on the abnormal demand, have gone ahead installing burners. Most of the stove manufacturers are now also making oil burners, and many other manufacturers besides, all of which adds to the headaches of the oil companies, who are being called upon to supply oil for them. In addition, scores of salesmen, eager to make sales while the demand lasts, have secured agencies for United States as well as domestic oil-burning equipment, and are pushing sales vigorously.

Most of our oil supplies have to be imported from the United States, and new discoveries of crude oil there have not kept pace with the growing demand for petroleum products. With the demand for gasoline increasing rapidly with the growing output of motor cars, the longer-term outlook for fuel oil is none too hopeful. Shortage of materials for building refineries and scarcity of labor and of tankers further complicate the situation.

United States Secretary of the Interior Krug has just warned the American public that oil refineries must operate at full capacity if critical shortages are to be averted, and Max Ball, director of the Oil and Gas Division, says the country's oil plant is running so near its limit that a slip anywhere could mean cold homes and idle factories this winter.

WANTS TO BE ALONE

Garbo, who glumly informs the world she wants to be alone, could learn from Anton Walbrook. He, too, likes to be alone but he's taken steps to prove himself a man of his word. Walbrook has bought an island. The forest-covered property, entirely surrounded by water, is located in Norway and it has become the star's favorite retreat. Walbrook emerges soon from his voluntary exile to start work in "Red Shoes", Archers-J. Arthur Rank production, which is due for location jaunts to Nice, Monte Carlo, Paris and Copenhagen. The actor will see his island once more before sailing for America next winter where he has an American movie commitment awaiting.

Maybe the grass will come up greener after you've burned off the old crop, but it's doubtful if a better-looking house or garage will result. Building material is hard to come by these days.

THE FORUM.

Conducted by Howard S. Ross,
K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General
Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

Seven GI's fire shot for peace by forming nonprofit organization in two-car garage at Evanston, Chicago. They were students at Northwestern University with scars to keep their memory of war fresh. They call their organization Students for Federal World Government and set out to sell the world an idea—that civilization's last and only chance is organize a federal government of the world and banish war forever. They know it is not a new idea and that mankind had toyed with it for hundreds of years but cannot afford to wait any longer. They said: "We are given the choice of working for peace or submitting to annihilation. We've got to bring peace to every block, every Main Street in the United States. There must never be another war." Thirty-eight young men and women including the original seven quit their jobs and their studies. Thousands of others now give long hours of volunteer work every week.

They are constantly seeing a number of prominent leaders in all walks of life. "This is not just another war we are talking about, brother," one startled Senator was informed by a fresh-faced youngster the age of his grandson. "This is it—the finish, the end. What's left after the next war, you won't want to be around to see. If you're alive at all, you'll wish you were dead."

Their new headquarters has a radio recording studio, photo dark room, print shop, separate offices for each of 16 divisions and dormitory space for men who work full time. Their meals will be prepared in a basement kitchen by women volunteers. Next year the group plans to raise and spend $2,000,000 and by May 1 to have 50 members on the road at all times selling the idea and soliciting funds. The president of a large oil company sat shaking his head and saying to himself: "It's a regular children's crusade." One veteran reporter, not noted for crusading zeal, admitted that the youngsters frightened him. "They have so much guts and so much imagination. They are too young to be afraid. They just don't know. They are so sure they can pull it off that—well, somehow, they almost make you believe it." A columnist wrote: "Perhaps the little garage on Library Place, Evanston, Chicago may someday be as famous as Constitution Hall in Philadelphia."

No one likes to be a killjoy or to discourage the sincere enthusiasms of youth but if anyone thinks there is a fundamental weakness in this worthy plan most people will agree it should be pointed out. And what is the weakness? It is in my opinion the fact that further wars are inevitable from time to time as long as the world has the faulty economic systems at present in force and in particular any system which has a faulty monetary system — that is any monetary system based on gold or any other commodity because it is beginning at long last to dawn upon the world that the vital problem, namely, on what terms should one person work for another, can only be answered correctly by adopting a monetary system which measures work by a work-unit—work for work, hour for hour according to time the only common denominator when one works for another. With the law of supply and demand having full play and with mutual banking the world would for the first time have real free enterprise and people everywhere would co-operate in a state of equal opportunity to carry on the work of the world free from the economic exploitation with other-wise is inevitable and which makes wars inevitable. In the U.S.A. budget before Congress the biggest item (11 billions) is being spent in preparation for the next war. Almost 12 billions is going to pay for past wars. In sharp contrast, less than a billion is allocated for social welfare.

Life, in a recent editorial discussing the foreign policy of the U.S. now that help is to be given to Greece and Turkey, stated a crisis has arisen which calls not for actions alone, but for clearer aims and more vigorous ideals.

In the editorial it was stated in part: "Said he (President Truman) to the Congressmen, 'Nobody knows where this will lead us.'"

"No, of course nobody knows. But we can be sure of this: no Moscow conference, no Greek loan, no diplomatic step of any kind will lead us very far unless we can surmount such challenges with a clearer idea of what we think we are up to. Representative Eaton, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, spoke the general need when he asked the President to "enunciate a world policy" into which the Greek, German and other parts of the puzzle could be fitted. At last week's end the President was working on it. But the issues in this crisis run very deep. Not only the President, but every interested citizen should think where we are heading."

Five hundred members of the National Housing Conference, U.S.A., met recently in Chicago. Their position was stated by Congressman Carroll of Colorado who declared that adequate housing for low income groups constitutes the only adequate attack upon crime and other social ills. Private industry he said has no proposal to meet the need. He said the national economy can be maintained only by a housing program to provide at least 1,000,000 new homes a year. Congressman John Kennedy of Massachusetts said that in the matter of housing the U.S.A. has failed to realize America's historical pride—being able to produce anything that people are able to pay for.

That government housing competes with only one segment of private real estate enterprise—slum development—was pointed out by the conference by the chairman of the Norfolk Redevelopment Authority. As society must deal with the evils which slum living produces, he said, it has a right to attempt to correct their source. He said that private industry will not undertake improvement of slum housing since no substantial profit would accrue to its investment, and therefore any discussion of unfair competition is beside the point. The problem, he said, is comparable to that of public education, which promises no private profit but is properly considered a public necessity. A comparison of the state of public housing in the U.S.A. and that abroad was given by Catherine Bauer, vice-president of the conference, who pointed out that Sweden built 60,000 new dwellings in 1946 (a figure which would be comparable to 1,200,000 units in the U.S.A.) and that 80 per cent of building in England is for low income groups and that Britain has raised her standards in terms of space per family above those of the U.S.A., and that Holland and the Scandinavian countries have practically limited construction to co-operatives and limited dividend undertakings. Miss Bauer said the conclusion drawn from

Just what is entailed in the advice when Jesus offers to us in the words "Ask, Seek, Knock?" Surely no merely passive response on our part is sufficient, but rather a very decided activism.

WEEKLY REVIEW

"The Timeless Moment"

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

We have heard a great deal lately about splitting the atom, but what do we know about the split moment? One is the smallest particle of matter and the other is the smallest partition of time. The atom of matter can be handled or held in place and examined under a microscope, but the moment of time is intangible and elusive. "The fugitive moment refuses to stay," says the old hymn, but Warner Allen, who has written a book on "The Timeless Moment," believes that much can happen in what we call a "split second."

Warner Allen is an English journalist who has lived a normal life and had thought little about the nature of time until something happened in a tick which changed his whole outlook—and he was passionately fond of music and poetry, and he also had detective stories and sampled them. His friends knew him as a man in comfortable circumstances and a good "mixer", and he was probably the last man they would have expected to be subject to sudden conversion. He says himself that he had "lived for nearly half a century without discerning a life any pattern or rational purpose."

Then a curiously vivid dream took his faith in his sceptical view of life and the universe. This dream led him on a quest of truth through paths of intellectual darkness, but within a year of "clock time" an answer came. "It flashed up lightning-wise during performance of Beethoven's seventh Symphony at the Queen's Hall, in that triumphant fast moment when 'the morning stars sang together and the sons of God shouted for joy.'"

We have heard of such things happening at revival meetings, but Warner Allen does not claim that his sudden conversion had anything to do with Christianity any other religion. He says that the experience shook him to the depths of his being, made him a "changed" man, and drove him to devote the remainder of his life to an intensive study of the Vision and to its interpretation in ordinary human terms. His book is the fruit of that study.

It would be impossible in this brief article to trace the author's progress, but it can be said that the philosophical conclusions at which he has arrived are curious—orthodox. The problem of immortality does not bother him—the question does not arise. The soul is immortal because its consciousness is timeless. Mr. Allen holds that there are two states of consciousness, one which he calls "awareness" that has to do with the ordinary affairs of life. The real consciousness is that of the higher Self which at times breaks through the temporal veil of awareness or lower Self. He says: "Most of his life the ego is conscious without being aware of it, and he is still conscious when he is aware of nothing." That is not very clear, but it may sound silly; but it is worth thinking about.

Mr. Allen, however, has worked his way through this mysticism to practical politics—or perhaps should say to a point of view in which he regards certain things as impracticable and futile. He interprets the life of the soul in this world of time as an exile, yet an exile that is not from home and redeemable by love. In the very nature of things, life in this exile can never be perfect. The utopias of political logicians are condemned before they are planned. Eternal and universal happiness cannot be had in our precarious and temporal condition, and security cannot be built by human hands.

If the world is to be made better," says Mr. Allen, "the work must not begin with the tearing of the outer walls with laws and cramping regulations. . . . Freedom and security only be reconciled if the intellect begins within. The world only be changed by a change of heart, and the heart can only be changed by those inward changes which are the way to enlightenment." And he might have added that all the great these figures is that America lags far behind poorer nations in what she is doing in the way of housing for low income groups.

D. S. Meyer, Commissioner of the Federal Housing Authority reported to the Conference that 31 per cent of urban families in the U.S. receive under $40 per week and that 18 per cent receive less than $30; among veterans 34 per cent have incomes under $40 per week. R. J. Thomas, of the United Automobile Workers and chairman of the C.I.O. housing Committee, declared that the U.S.A., has a "housing cartel" whose purpose is "to produce as little as possible and sell for as much as possible" with the result that housing costs have risen 98½ per cent above the figure for 1940.

The only encouraging note heard at the Conference came from the president of Lustron Corporation, who described his firm's new type steel house with 1,000 square feet of usable space, which can be set down on a lot provided by the buyer for $7,000, with landscaping thrown in. He hopes the price will ultimately go down to $5,000. The firm's maintenance of union standards throughout the manufacturing process has won the support of organized labor.

White Linen Glitters With Ornamentation

Two white Irish linen evening dresses, created by a leading designer, revel in unusual glitter. A pair of falcons embroidered in beads balances on the shoulders and hip of one of these dresses. The other, even more medieval in its approach, adapts the idea of the heavy chain necklace worn by knights of old, and uses it to circle the neckline in rhinestones. In the past one so seldom associated linen with after-dark clothes, that now this type of dress appears to establish a precedent.

Playclothes, slacks and bathing suits must take hard wear in any wardrobe, and those made of linen are no exception, but they can stand it. Besides linen is actually cooler to wear than fabrics of equal weight woven of other fibers, since it is highly absorbent and also quick to give up moisture by evaporation.

Hints On Fashions

By MRS. MARY MORTON

White birdseye pique, not in evidence for a few seasons, is back again to add a crisp, cool note to the summer scene. This fabric is used for a neat little jacket dress cut on simple lines and trimmed with sawtooth edging at the sleeves and jacket peplum. The snug jacket is fastened with tiny gilt buttons and has set-in sleeves. The skirt is smartly flared.

Delightful Menus Often Built With Well-Cooked Veal Basis

Veal and chicken both being white delicately flavoured meats, have much in common and are often used interchangeably. At this time of the year, the homemaker shows good sense and good taste in using well cooked veal as the basis for substantial supper salads and creamed dishes.

Baste Well With Fat

For the tender cuts of veal, which are legs, loins and shoulders, the home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, recommend cooking at a low to moderate temperature in dry heat. A moderate oven 325-350°F. should be used for the entire cooking period. Since veal is a dry meat with really little fat, it is recommended that the top of the roast be lightly spread with fat. Pork fat, either fresh or smoked is excellent for the purpose as it gives a very nice flavour to the meat. It will also mean that more gravy of good colour can be made. Rolled or flat roasts are placed on a rack and rolled ones are turned every half hour. All veal roasts should be basted occasionally. For well-done veal, roast approximately 30-35 minutes per pound in a moderate oven 325-350°F., which you will notice is longer than the time allowed for either beef or lamb.

Braising and Stewing

Less tender cuts like breast, flank, neck or stewing veal require long, slow cooking in moist heat, this means either braising or stewing. When these cuts are ground they may be pan-fried or made into an oven-cooked meat loaf just like any other minced meat. In braising, the meat is seasoned, then browned in a small amount of hot fat in a heavy pan. The meat may be floured before browning if desired. The liquid, which may be water, meat stock, milk, water from cooked vegetables, tomatoes or tomato juice, is added, the pan covered and the cooking done either on top of the stove over very low heat or in a slow oven, 325°F., until meat is tender. Raw vegetables are sometimes cooked along with meat. The liquid in the pan serves as the base for the gravy.

When making muffins substitute half a glass of jelly for part of the liquid required.

HOME EDUCATION Cradle Of Democracy

By FLORENCE JANE OVENS

Children are chief in importance of our products, and much the most difficult to raise; yet how many parents undertake this project without giving the necessary time and trouble to prepare themselves. Haphazard parenthood fills our reformatories and gives us a large surplus who make similar mistakes in bringing up the next generation.

A step forward is now being taken in the study of nutrition and physical development. More children are being properly fed and otherwise correctly cared for, bodily, than ever before. If care for their mental and spiritual growth keeps pace with this advance, there is a good chance that the babies of today may really become fitted for the big tasks of world co-operation which will be theirs tomorrow.

A multitude of parents think that education begins with the first lesson in reading, according to a writer in "My Baby" magazine. Instead, it begins when the child is born. Whatever he touches, sees, or hears educates him. Gradually impressions are made that are lasting.

Parents need to prepare themselves—to read, to observe, to study, and, most important of all, to discipline their tongues and censor their behavior. As the child approaches the nursery-school age it is generally advisable to investigate the opportunities which the community affords. A good nursery school is of incalculable value to the child, both directly and through his parents. Many of these classes will accept young children only upon the signed statement of the parents that they themselves wish to learn how best to assist their child's development.

At four-and-a-half or five the child should enter the kindergarten. Now the nursery school experience is a privilege and a very great benefit, but the kindergarten is a necessity. Yet only a small percentage of even urban children have been provided with kindergartens. This means that by far the greater number of our boys and girls suffer from a lack of one of the necessities of a well-organized school life.

Let me try to make my meaning clear. The kindergarten period is a time for making adjustments, for getting acquainted with the world outside the home, for learning to live happily with those who have been brought up differently, for experiencing the need and developing the urge for learning to read and to write and to compute.

In the kindergarten the fundamentals of our democracy are learned and this is done through daily practice and experience. There is always a period each day when the children may choose their own materials and use them in any reasonable occupation that appeals to them, the only limitations being availability and the rules that prevent infringement upon the rights of others.

Before long the children find satisfaction in orderliness and co-operation, in taking turns and sharing. The spirit of fair play is daily built up and assimilated.

Some people seem to think that a child can learn the kindergarten lessons without going to kindergarten. A mother says, "I shall teach my boy at home. Already he can recite three poems and can count to one hundred; he knows his letters and is learning to read." Those are not the lessons he needs; they are not the lessons of the kindergarten.

First of all, the child needs the give and take that comes from mingling with his peers—under wise supervision. If he is timid, the kindergarten teacher will help him to assert himself. If he is too forward or inclined to be a bully, the teacher will encourage him to listen to others, to become interested in group achievements, and to find pleasure in an appreciation of what other members have accomplished.

WVS Flower Project

Do your plans this summer include a thought for the men still fighting battles in the veteran's hospitals?

WVS has sponsored a Flower Project to supply fresh flowers for the Queen Mary Hospital every Tuesday and Friday. The mainstay of supply will be the Montreal West Horticultural Society on Tuesdays, and the Diggers and Weeders Club on Fridays.

There may be other garden clubs whose members would help if there are, and you know them, please telephone to Mrs. Gregor Barclay, chairman of the Flower committee, PL. 2492.

It's hard to be crooked and keep a straight face.

Couple Observe 59th Anniversary

The Rev. and Mrs. William Hood celebrated the fifty-ninth (59th) Anniversary of their marriage on Friday, Sixth day of June, at their temporary residence, 5890 Cote St. Antoine Road, N.D.G., and received Congratulations and gifts from their relatives and friends. They were married in Scotland on the sixth day of June 1888.

CLEAN THE BRUSH

If you live or work in the city where the air is loaded with dust and grease, you should treat yourself to a fresh brush every morning—have two brushes, rinse one out every night the same as you do your nylons, and give it a 24-hour rest while you use the other. The new detergents are wonderful for this sort of laundering. Simply put your comb and brush to soak in the basin, with a bit of the soapless powder in the water, while you have your bath. By the time you finish bathing, the comb-and-brush laundering will practically be finished. Rinse thoroughly, dry the brush with a towel, and stand it on its side for the night.

People who have but little usually are the ones who make the best of what they have.

Non-Crushables Good For Vacation Wardrobe

The burgeoning popularity of travel by air is already influencing not only designs, but fabrics. Non-crush materials and those light in weight are more than ever in demand because the wrinkles shake out and they're ready to go places the moment they're unpacked. (Who wants to add a flat iron to air luggage!)

The traveler makes her mental notes in favor of warm wool jersey, sheer light wools, and maybe sweaters for cool weather; and for hot climates, seersuckers, meshes, printed sheers.

The "costume complete" comes more than ever into its own for the vacation wardrobe. Clothes simply must "go together." This means a nice discrimination in the purchase of accessories not only for color harmony, whatever suit or frock is selected, but for texture and type. If a hat, a handbag, or a pair of shoes is as pleasing with a fluffy frock as it is with a tailored stand-by, then the accessory gets priority for the holiday.

One look at a real pessimist and —maybe that's why he is one.

THE WARTIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD

For Ward Playtime

There has never been a housing shortage for gingham dogs and calico cats; the shortage has always been the other way, with plenty of cozy corners that can't be filled. The children's ward in any hospital can absorb a good many playthings, and for the last few months the Women's Voluntary Services have collected, a few things at a time, for the children's ward at the Royal Victoria.

Playtime Helper

Much as the children love their toys, they can't get up and get them for themselves. Here a volunteer can serve, although it is said that service here is pleasure, and not duty. Sometimes children need to be shown how to use a game, or how to use it properly.

The hours for voluntary service are approximately 2.30 to 4.30. The children rest immediately after lunch and have an early supper, and so their recreation period is not too long or tiring. WVS is asking for more volunteers for this work. If you can spare even two hours a week will you consider this service?

A Pennsylvania boy played hockey for three months. Absence makes the heart grow fonder — for more of the same.

Stack pancakes with jelly spread between, and cut in pie-shaped wedges to serve.

Paper draperies, which look and feel like fabric and are ready to hang are already available in some cities in a variety of colors and patterns.

MTL Festivals Summer Operas Big Undertaking

The largest undertaking of summer opera has been determined upon this year with an eye to future musical developments in the city, it was stated by Madame Athanase David at the annual meeting of the Montreal Festivals held recently at the Windsor Hotel. Madame David stated that the Festivals had turned whole-heartedly to summer opera in the belief that this would lay the foundations of what may well prove to be a permanent opera company in the city as soon as a concert hall and adequate theatre facilities are provided.

Madame David stressed that the task under present circumstances was a very difficult one. "The high cost of production, the rising cost of the fees of artists and musicians and technicians has made it almost impossible to produce opera and other great musical works indoors. When such productions are undertaken now, the cost of seats to make such undertakings financially sane are practically prohibitive to the public."

Madame David hopes that when proper accomodation has been built for fine music in Montreal that, by their continuing work under those difficult circumstances, the Montreal Festivals will be ready to take full advantage of the situation in respect of the furtherance of the art in Montreal.

It was also stated in the annual report that the recent Montreal Festivals campaign for membership and funds had placed the organization on a decidedly better basis. The steady support and bonne entente of the citizens of Montreal was stressed as the basic cause of the success. An expression of gratitude was extended to the Federal Government, to the Government of the Province of Quebec, to the City of Montreal and to the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation for their valuable aid. Deficits were nearly covered by the campaign, city donations and the efforts of the board of directors and volunteer workers.

For its coming opera season out of doors at the Molson Stadium from July 23 to August 13, The Montreal Festivals has engaged the best talent available in New York. Stars from the Metropolitan Opera Company and the New York City Opera Company have already been engaged. There will be a full symphony Orchestra, chorus, corps de ballet and a completely new stage and scenic setup. Laszlo Halasz will be the musical director.

"Bedelia", First-Run British Film Is Held Over At Avenue

The first-run British film hit, "Bedelia" starring Margaret Lockwood, Ian Hunter and Barry K. Barnes, has proven so successful at the Avenue Theatre, that it has been held over at this attractive new theatre for a second week. The film, "Bedelia", has been adapted from the best-selling novel of the same title by Vera Caspary, whose "Laura" was also made into a notable film success. Miss Lockwood is cast as the newly-married wife of Ian Hunter, who conceals from him the truth about her previous marriages. Hunter accepts her story of having been married to an impoverished French artist who died a year before.

Miss Lockwood's troubles begin when she is trapped in a lie by Barry K. Barnes, playing an artist whom she and Ian Hunter met in Monte Carlo, but who is actually a private investigator. The newly-weds return to England, followed by Barnes, and slowly Miss Lockwood realizes that Barnes' interest is of more concern than just an artists'.

TECHNICOLOR MUSICAL! Betty Grable and Dick Haymes are co-starred in "The Shocking Miss Pilgrim", in Technicolor, which starts on Saturday at the Monkland United Theatre, playing until Tuesday night.

Grand Starring Trio In "Secret Heart", Now Playing Westmount

The age-old problem of the misunderstood stepmother is given a fresh twist in "The Secret Heart," which is now playing at the Westmount United Theatre until Saturday night. The stellar talents of Claudette Colbert, Walter Pidgeon and June Allyson are enlisted in a story packing a terrific emotional wallop.

As Lee Addams, successful New York realtor, Miss Colbert has turned down the love of Chris Matthews (Walter Pidgeon) in order to devote her life to her two stepchildren, whose father has killed himself because of dishonorable business dealings. The daughter, Penny, (June Allyson), a sensitive, introverted musician, kept from knowing the true motive of her father's suicide, blames her stepmother for his death and withdraws from the affection of her family in a neurotic attachment for her father's memory. This is brought to a tragic turn when Chris again enters their lives and Penny falls in love with him mistakenly believing her love to be reciprocated. The shock of discovering that it is Lee whom Chris wants persuades Penny that her stepmother has destroyed her happiness for the second time. The denouement of this conflict is engendered with terrific suspense and power, with Penny finally convinced of her grave error and set on the path to a normal life.

As the woman engaged in the heartbreaking struggle to win her stepdaughter's confidence and love, Claudette Colbert again proves herself one of Hollywood's top actresses. It is a role which requires warmth, finesse and subtlety, and Miss Colbert gives it all three. June Allyson, as the neurotic daughter, is superb in the most difficult role she has yet attempted, and Walter Pidgeon handles the part of the man they both love with force and understanding. The stars are given splendid support in the work of Lionel Barrymore as the psychiatrist who insists that Miss Allyson be told the truth about her father; Robert Sterling, Elizabeth Patterson, Marshall Thompson, Richard Derr and Patricia Medina.

THREE GREAT STARS! Walter Pidgeon, June Allyson and Claudette Colbert are the popular stars of "The Secret Heart," which starts at the Seville United Theatre on Saturday, playing until Tuesday night.

Annual Recital Funds Are Given To Cedar Club

The Annual Recital by pupils of Irene Nicholl L.R.S.M., (Linda) will take place Friday night June 13th at 7.30 p.m., at Westmount Junior High School, Academy Road.

The proceeds of the concert will be given to the Cedar Club. This Club was formed in January, 1945, by ex-pupils of The School for Crippled Children, to be run by and for the Physically Handicapped.

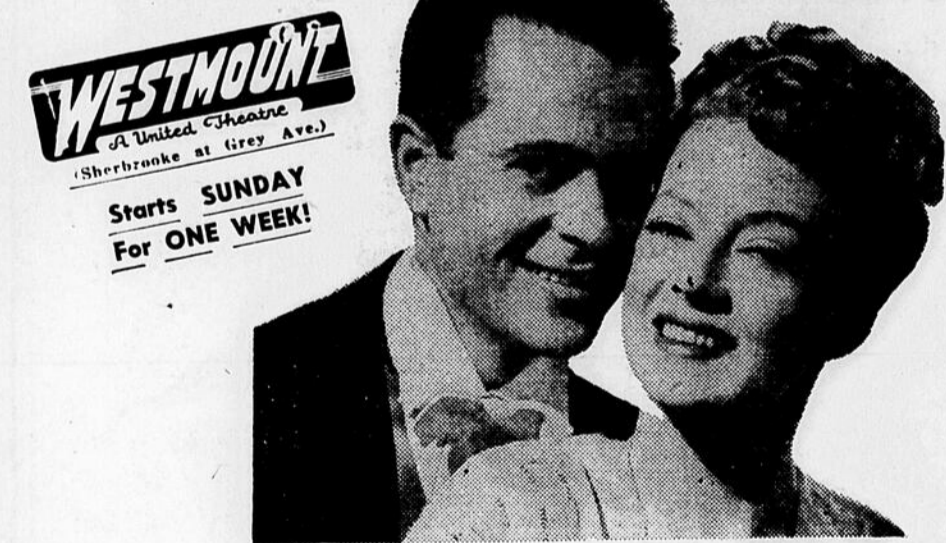

The main purpose of organizing this group was to provide the means whereby the crippled persons of Montreal, who have so much in common, may assemble together to exchange ideas, and to extend the limitations of their handicaps as much as possible.

These aims have been partly achieved, as may be witnessed in the programme of Welfare and Social Work which has been developed, and it is the firm conviction

HELD FOR SECOND WEEK AT SNOWDON! Lilli Palmer and Albert Lieven are co-starred with Sir Cedric Hardwicke in the film version of Stefan Zweig's book, "Beware OF Pity", which is having its first Montreal showing at the Snowdon United Theatre where it has been held over for a second week.

Hedy Lamarr In Film Adapted From Best-Seller At Seville

Hedy Lamarr appears on the screen as Jenny Hager, the most devastating and, at the same time, the most enchanting figure in modern fiction. The film is "Strange Woman", which starts on Wednesday, June 18th, at the Seville United Theatre, playing until Friday night. As Jenny, Miss Lamarr gives an unforgettable performance. The story is an exciting, dramatic adaptation of the Ben Ames Williams' best-seller of the same name.

Co-starring with Hedy in the film are George Sanders, playing her second husband, a sympathetic role for a change, and Louis Hayward, cast as a handsome but unfortunate young man who is putty in her hands. The story, set in Bangor, Maine, at the beginning of the 19th Century, concerns the ambitious rise to the heights of little Jenny Hager, one of the town's poorest citizens. Her first step upwards is given her by old Isiah Poster (Gene Lockhart), a wealthy lumberman, who marries her and makes her one of the most envied women in Bangor. After his death by an untimely accident, leaving Jenny his entire fortune, the world is Jenny's to do with as she pleases. And Jenny, strange woman that she is, baffles everybody. To some, she is goodness, sweetness and sheer beauty, to others, who know her best, she is cold and ruthless.

Hedy Lamarr is magnificent in this role, while both George Sanders and Louis Hayward deserve

Rex Harrison In Sophisticated British Drama At Monkland Now

Thanks to an excellent story, deft direction and fine acting, "Notorious Gentleman" is one of the best films to hit the screen of the Monkland United Theatre, where it is now playing until Friday night, in many months.

Rex Harrison, one of Britain's top stars, who has already won many fans in this country with such films as "Night Train", "The Citadel", "Blithe Spirit" and "Anna And The King of Siam", should at least double his following with his light hearted, irresponsible playboy role in this film.

"Notorious Gentleman" is the story of a likable playboy who is constantly on the social toboggan because of his utter irresponsibility either to himself or anyone else. However, the very characteristics which carry him steadily downward also bring him redemption via a hero's death in the war. But this is not a war picture, except for the opening and closing scenes.

Harrison's vivid personality and flawless performance lend a great deal to the high quality of this production. But he is closely pressed by numerous members of the cast, outstanding among them being Lilli Palmer, his off-screen wife. She plays the part of Harrison's wife in the film, and does a remarkable job of transition from gay to serious moods.

Margaret Johnston, another victim of Harrison's fickle love, is a newcomer to the screen, but audiences are going to see her regularly after her fine performance in this film.

Jean Kent, one of Britain's most photogenic female players, handles a difficult role with finesse.

Godfrey Tearle, as Harrison's father, and Griffith Jones as his

WHEN YOU STICK YOUR NECK OUT

We seem to have gone off the deep end a little previously last week in expressing the opinion that Hal Newhouser and Bobby Feller were not pitching up to expectations, for on Sunday both came through with superb pitching performances. Hal shut out the Boston Red Sox, and Bobby administered like medicine to the Philadelphia Athletics. Both pitchers were absolute masters in administering their shutouts, neither Boston nor Philadelphia getting the smell of a run.

THE FASTER-THAN-FELLER TALK

Gordon Cobbledick, veteran baseball writer, wrote an article on Feller's speed recently in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, in which he intimated that Bobby is working on a slider and a change of pace that is already increasing his effectiveness.

"Carl Hubbell was saying the other day that in his opinion Dizzy Dean, Paul Dean, Van Lingle Mungo and Dazzy Vance all were faster than Feller," wrote Cobbledick.

"I called to mind an old argument. It used to be that you couldn't mention the name of Feller without someone coming forward with the claim that, while Feller was pretty fast, all right, old So-and-so had been a lot faster.

"The first time I ever heard the faster-than-feller verdict was when I was quite visibly excited about Bob's first appearance in a Cleveland uniform — the time he struck out eight Cardinals in three innings of an exhibition game back in 1936.

"The first opponent who voiced the judgment that Feller was by no means an express rifle was Dick Bartell, the Giants' old shortstop and a teammate of Hubbell's. It was in Vicksburg, Miss., that Bartell first battled against Bob. He contrived a tall fly and went back to the players' bench to state contemptuously that Mungo was faster than Feller. The opinion reached Robert's young ears and on what remained of the 1937 barnstorming trip he fanned Bartell thirteen times in sixteen tries.

STILL CLAIMED MUNGO FASTER

"Bartell kept getting madder and madder, but he never retracted his words. When he moved over to the Detroit Tigers a few seasons later he kept right on striking out against Feller, but he still said Mungo was faster.

"I don't know for sure that Feller saved a little extra for those characters who belittled him publicly, but he was and is a proud youth and I shouldn't be surprised if he poured it on Bartell just for fun."

FELLER HAS MORE THAN SPEED

It doesn't make much difference anyhow whether or not Feller is the fastest pitcher of his day, but it is probably safe to assert that no pitcher of any era ever owned such an assortment of the stuff that makes batters wake up at night screaming. Probably no pitcher with his speed ever owned such a curve.

As yet his change of pace is in the experimental stage, but don't bet that within a year or two he won't be driving hitters to the verge of suicide with it.

The question of whether Feller is as fast as someone else recalls the occasion when Cy Young was asked who was the faster, Amos Rusie or Walter Johnson. Cy turned the matter over in his mind before answering. Then—

"Johnson was no faster than Rusie," he said, "and Rusie was no faster than Johnson. But Cy Young was faster than both of them."

A young girl called on a farmer in response to an advertisement for a shepherd and offered her services.

"No, no, my lassie," said the old farmer. "I advertised for a shepherd, not a shepherdess."

"I know that," replied the girl; "but surely there is no reason why the work should not be undertaken by a woman?"

"Well a woman once tried it and made a mess of the job," exclaimed the farmer.

"Who was she?" asked the girl. "Bo-Peep!" was the sharp re-secure public address systems for the games.

The manner of selecting the teams has been left up to the league presidents. It's their baby, to do whatever they deem fit.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

Each team will be restricted to 13 players, including two catchers, two pitchers, five infielders, and four pasture-keepers.

All games will be nine-inning affairs.

It is expected that a number of the city's sports dignitaries will attend the July 4 tussle.

A portion of the playing equipment necessary for the games has been donated by sporting goods impresario, Gerry Snyder, who, after business hours, patrols a hustling centre-field for Steinberg's, '46 city champs.

Advance outing tip: The proper time to change seats in a canoe is before you get in.

SHORTS ON SPORTS

By George Cochran

Elsewhere in this section, unless George Mitchel and his composing cohorts have got their signals mixed, you'll find a story on the softball tournament which will be underway July 1 between teams representing the Westmount, Verdun and East End Softball Leagues and the Snowdon Senior Fastball League. I do not intend to repeat those facts here. There's just one important little item omitted from that story which I would like to add.

That is this: the man behind the whole idea is Red Fisher, he of the Standard sports staff and a frequent and welcome contributor to these columns. Red has kept his name out of all accounts of the benefit tournament to date but it's this observer's opinion that it's time for the carrot-topped lad to step out of the wings and into the spotlight to take a well-deserved bow.

It was the Red who got the various league presidents together and it is he who is looking after publicity. All proceeds will go to some worthy cause, likely the Cancer Research Foundation.

I asked Red the other day if he was sure that the profits weren't going to set up a Red Fisher memorial. He replied quite indignantly in the negative and added "There'll be a guy on hand at the last game to accept all the money taken in the games — and he won't be my father!"

JOTTINGS

Toots Prevost, the Westmount dodger lad, as you can also read elsewhere in this section, is pacing the Hampton Snowdon fastball team at bat. The Toots has a .400 average . . . Rock Cliff Inn For A Vacation

Situated at Morin Heights, Quebec, in the heart of the Laurentian Mountains and only 54 miles from Montreal, readily accessible by rail and auto. Standing in the privacy of its own spacious grounds, with shaded lawn sweeping down to a lake of crystal purity, thus affording bathing on the premises, Rock Cliff Inn offers a full variety of vacation activities — swimming, boating, fishing, tennis, ping pong, shuffle-board, dancing, hiking, picnics . . . and, at no extra cost. The Inn itself is only 10 minutes from the village of Morin Heights where moving pictures are shown twice a week, and where churches and other communal amenities are to be found.

In winter, the Inn is the rendezvous for many ski enthusiasts, being only 5 minutes from the nearest ski-tow, while many well-marked trails lead from its doors.

During the hunting and fishing seasons many sportsmen make Rock Cliff Inn their headquarters for in the surrounding country are hunting places and streams which can always be depended upon to provide a good day's outing, and a satisfactory "bag". Every effort is made by the Management to attend to the personal requirements of guests so that maximum comfort is provided. Care is exercised to maintain a high standard of cuisine. Lounge rooms are large and comfortable, provided with radio and the latest reading material.

All rooms are bright and airy and absolute cleanliness may be depended upon. Modern sanitation — hot and cold water.

Westmount in the all star tournament will be published here next week . . . Jimmy McCormick writes that he's still as busy as ever managing the Waterloo (Ontario) Memorial Arena. The visits of big name bands and wrestlers are engaging much of the night mite's time . . . Some of the Snowdon players worried about the all star game in Verdun on July 1 because the Verdunites don't permit spikes on their diamond . . . Incidentally, an American type of softball will be used in the round robin jousts. Gerry Snyder, the sports store man, is donating two of the spheroids for each game.

Parents are reminded that small objects placed in mouth, nose, or ears may disappear beyond reach when children are playing with them. Such tiny objects as beans, peas, berries, nuts, buttons, pins, coins, beads, small toys and parts of toys, may be lost in one of these apertures.

The danger isn't so great when watchful adults are about, but such objects fascinate little children. Therefore, small things which may harm the infant, should be kept out of reach — and sight — when a child is left alone, even for a few minutes.

Westmount Cricketers Lose To Maisonneuve

Summer Season Is Now Opened At Manor House

With the resumption of the floor-shows in The Colonial Room, The Manor House in Ste Agathe des Monts has officially opened its summer season and is prepared to receive a new trek of tourists and native Quebecers who are anxious to take advantage of the beautiful Laurentian peaks north of Montreal.

The Manor House is located on the shore of the sparkling Lac des Sables, and, having been built only two years ago, now has the reputation of being among the most modern resort hotels in North America. The building is an all-season structure, with the most modern steam heating being provided for the hosts of enthusiastic ski addicts who trek northward every winter.

Jos. B. Laing, president and director, has asserted that the hotel is extending special welcome to American and other tourists, who will find, he said, that features like phones, bath and shower facilities in all rooms, and the intimate, relaxing decor will go to make any vacation a happy one.

The recreational aspects of the guests' vacations have not been ignored, and besides the full range of sport and water facilities, The Colonial Room, "first Laurentian night club", has been provided to help the visitors while away their evenings.

In The Colonial Room can be seen a full-scale night club floor show, headed by Jackie Kahane, a comedian who has already made a name for himself as an up-and-coming entertainer. There is an orchestra led by Herman Apple in attendance at all times.

Price Ceiling Removal Affects All Residents

Following the announcement made in the House of Commons last Monday by Finance Minister Abbott, on the removal of price ceiling regulations on a number of items, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has issued the complete list of those goods freed from price control by this latest step. The new order No. 737 became effective immediately.

In the food field the list is as follows: honey, natural or processed; butter; casein; cheddar cheese, processed cheese and cream cheese; concentrated milk products of all kinds; ice cream; salt; fresh apples; dates; processed, canned or frozen peas, cherries, plums; canned soups; poultry and poultry products of all kinds and jams, jellies and marmalades except those jams containing either strawberries or raspberries. All jams, jellies, honey as well as butter are also being removed from ration control as of last Monday.

In the clothing field some items of minor importance are being removed from price control and include, dressing gowns; women's, misses' girls' and children's bibs, dummies, cuffs, neckwear, collars, aprons, halters.

In other textile and leather products, the items affected are bath mats, curtains, dish cloths, towels, drapes, toilet seat covers, window blinds, window shades, and floor rugs and mats chiefly of cotton; sewing embroidery and crocheted yarns, floss and threads, bobbinets; dress or curtain nets or netting, mosquito netting; elastic webbing; hemp; sheepskin shearings, tanned but not further processed than combed or sheared and coloured on the flesh side.

Household Equipment
In the field of household equipment and supplies, fireplace heaters including grates and baskets are no longer under price control. Construction products now freed from control in the new order are hardwood lumber, plywood made wholly of hardwood and hardwood veneers.

Turning to non-ferrous metals and their alloys, the new order removes from control, lead, copper and zinc leaving only primary and secondary tin and alloys containing more than 95% tin.

In Board Order 711, a control was maintained on newsprint paper when the products was sold by anyone other than a manufacturer and this final control is now suspended, together with all grades of paperboard.

In the section dealing with services, the only important change made in the new order is to free from control the supplying of meals or refreshments in all public eating places.

Boarding houses when rooms and meals are supplied for a combined charge remain under price control.

GREETINGS & SALUTATIONS

This ad is to introduce to the people of Westmount, a Deep Sea Master Mariner, who had enough sense to swallow the anchor before it was too late. I have permanent shore position. I require an unfurnished apartment for self, wife and small daughter and ask that the rent be reasonable. The housing shortage has forced me to be separated (by 2500 miles) from my family for over a year — a very depressing situation to say the least. My excellent references include Westmount residents so you know we are nice people. Let me introduce myself to you by doing a bit of baby sitting. — If You Trust Me With Your Children, You'll Trust Me With Your Property; Phone DE. 3026 evenings. U-38 would be considered a complete wilderness.

It is these wildernesses of the Province of Quebec that are kept very much in mind by the men and women who head the work of the Canadian Red Cross here — the officials who decide where it is best to spend money that you and I give each year to the famous humanitarian Society.

Starting with Canada we find that the Red Cross has no fewer than 54 outpost hospitals and nursing stations located in the far-flung reaches of Canadian civilization. In Quebec, some of these isolated places where human beings struggle to build up our country are served by mobile medical and dental clinics. The Abitibi region is an example. Others are served by outpost nursing centres where professional care is given — free, or nearly free — to the small communities located there and which — were it not for Red Cross — would have no medical or dental or nursing services at all. They are simply too small, numerically and economically, and are too out-of-the-way to make it worthwhile for a doctor or a dentist or a nurse to practice there.

The Gaspé Coast and the Magdalen Islands are examples of what we mean. In those two isolated regions the Canadian Red Cross has four outpost nursing stations which operate the year round. Several more will soon be opened, it is hoped. In each there is a nurse who resides there during the winter and most of the rest of the year. In summer she takes a holiday from her relative exile and devotes herself for several weeks to learning more about her profession and its application to the people she serves.

Still another example of communities neglected from the point of view of medical services, dentistry and nursing is the vast region along the North Shore of the Lower St. Lawrence River. It is estimated that some 50,000 people are spread over this vast region. At least 5,000 of them are in dire need of care from a doctor, a dentist, a nurse — or all three. One of the plans of the Quebec Division of the Canadian Red Cross is to attempt to bring such services to these isolated communities on the North Shore of the Lower St. Lawrence.

You may have read the news some months ago that the Red Cross and the Federal and Provincial Governments are considering a plan to have a boat fitted out to visit the coastal communities of the North Shore. It would be a veritable floating clinic, manned not only by seamen but also by doctors, dentists and nurses. However, this is still merely a projected service — something devoutly hoped for. Let us for the moment take a look at what has already actually been accomplished by Red Cross in this province.

Its outpost nursing stations in Gaspé and in the Magdalen Islands last year recorded 3,000 individual visits by nurses; more than 60 babies were delivered. More than 3,500 visits were paid to teach fundamentals of home nursing. At one point — known generally as Black Whale, in Gaspé — the Red Cross last summer extracted 1,500 abscessed or decayed teeth — and saved more teeth by treatments

Red Cross Outposts Are Always Centres For Rural Health Work

Canada is a vast country with relatively small population.

For example, Canada is about the same size as the whole of Europe; but Europe has about 10 times as many people as Canada. Another example: The United States, with roughly the same area as Canada, has ten times as many people living within its area.

Of all the provinces of Canada, the Province of Quebec is one of the least populated, relative to its area. To fix the matter in our minds, let's quote a few standard facts: The Province of Prince Edward Island has 43 persons for each square mile of its area. Ontario has 10 persons for each square mile. Quebec has only 6 persons for every square mile.

This figure — 6 persons for each square mile in the Province of Quebec — is not nearly so low as the figure for certain countries of the Province. In many countries, our county called Chamby would be considered very sparsely populated, having only about 225 persons per square mile. But the census district called Abitibi, in the Province of Quebec — with less than one person per square mile —
