BRITAIN MAY GRANT BELLIGERENT RIGHTS TO BATTLING SPANIARDS

Doubted However Whether Either Side in Civil War Has Naval Power to Make Blockade Permissible Under Recognition Effective—Recognition of Blockade Would Carry with It Right to Search British Ships on High Seas—Alternative Plan of International Control of Frontiers to Be Studied.

London, November 21.—Great Britain, it is predicted in usually well-informed quarters here, may shortly grant belligerent rights to both sides in the Spanish civil war.

Theoretically, this would recognize their authority to declare a blockade, providing that either one has the power to make a blockade effective. This would mean, in other words, that each has a naval force sufficient to prevent foreign ships from gaining access to blockaded ports.

So far, however, it does not appear that either side has this naval force.

Recognition of an effective blockade would carry with it the right to search British ships on the high seas.

To a blockade by both sides in the Spanish civil war there is an alternative which will come before the next full meeting of the international Non-Intervention Committee. This is an elaborate scheme for international control over the entry of armaments into Spain. It is estimated that more than one thousand persons would be needed to make the scheme effective on land and sea frontiers. It would cost £1,000,000 ($3,000,000). The scheme would need the approval of both the Madrid and the Burgos governments before it could be adopted.

BRITISH ARMAMENTS NOT PLANNED FOR AGGRESSION

Leamington, Warwickshire, Nov. 21.—Great Britain will defend her vital interests everywhere and would go to war also to defend France, Belgium, Egypt or Iraq from unprovoked aggression. Foreign Secretary Eden told a meeting of his constituents here last night.

The British navy, the army and air force "will never be used in a war of aggression," the Foreign Secretary declared. "They will never be used for a purpose inconsistent with the covenant of the League of Nations or the pact of Paris."

"They may—and if the occasion arises they would—be used in our own defence and in defence of the territories of the British Commonwealth of Nations."

"They may—and if the occasion arises they would—be used in the defence of France and Belgium against unprovoked aggression, in accordance with our existing obligations."

"They may—and if the occasion arises they would—be used in a new western European settlement they would—be used in defence of Germany were she the victim of unprovoked aggression by any of the other signatories of such a settlement."

"Those, together with our treaty of alliance with Iraq and our projected treaty with Egypt, are our definite obligations. In addition, our armaments may be used in bringing help to a victim of aggression in any case where in our judgment it would be proper under the provisions of the covenant to do so."

"I use the word 'may' deliberately, since in such an instance there is no automatic obligation to take military action. It is, moreover, right that this should be so, for nations cannot be expected to incur automatic military obligations save for the areas where their vital interests are concerned."

Eden reaffirmed the Government's determination not to become entangled in the Spanish situation.

LONDON PRESS COMMENT ON EDEN'S PLAIN SPEAKING

London, Nov. 21.—Foreign Secretary Eden's speech at Leamington in which he outlined Great Britain's foreign policy was received with varying degrees of approval by the press today.

The Manchester Guardian said "Eden's speech at Leamington is regarded here as a particularly important pronouncement on British foreign policy. Even those who hold that the policy he has expounded is a mistaken one will, it is believed here, welcome his plain speaking."

"Great Britain, France and Belgium form one indivisible strategic unit for the purpose of the barest self-defence."

The Daily Telegraph said the speech clearly revealed the Government's determination to avoid participation in any crusade or rivalries resulting from conflicting forms of government.

RISE NOTED IN EXCHANGES OF FARM PRODUCTS

United States' Total Agricultural Exports to Canada Valued at $36,074,000 for Nine Months, of Which $13,689,000 Were Reduced Duty Items.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Increases of agricultural trade between the United States and Canada were reported today by the Agricultural Department.

Value of farm products imported from Canada was placed at $66,320,000 for the first nine months of 1936, a gain of $22,183,000 over the corresponding period of 1935.

Imports on which the United States has reduced duties under a reciprocal trade pact were valued at $13,749,000, a gain of $7,019,000.

There was an increase of $6,104,000 in the value of farm products sold by this country to Canada, of which $3,656,000 represented items on which Canada reduced duties.

Total agricultural exports to Canada were valued at $36,074,000 for the nine months, of which $13,689,000 were described as reduced duty items.

Total value of all American exports to Canada for the nine months, including non-agricultural products, was placed at $265,659,000 or a gain of $34,091,000.

A similar aggregate on imports from Canada the first three quarters of this year was $262,393,000, or $58,744,000 above 1935.

Non-agricultural exports to Canada amounted $27,087,000, or more than four times the gain in agricultural products.

Non-agricultural imports from Canada were $36,561,000 larger this year, or less than twice the gain for farm products.

SEVEN PERSONS LOST LIVES IN SHIP DISASTER

Ten Other Persons Aboard Ill-Fated Motorship Hibou Reached Shore on Rafts and in Lifeboats After Vessel Foundered and Sank in Georgian Bay.

Owen Sound, Nov. 21.—Seven members of the crew, including Captain Norman McKay, were drowned and ten others reached shore on rafts and in lifeboats when the motorship Hibou foundered and plunged to the bottom four miles north of here in Georgian Bay today.

The dead are: Captain Norman McKay, J. McReynolds, Chester Bunham, R. Earls, Miss Iona Johnson, James Minard and M. McIvor.

Surviving are: James Agnew, first mate, Howard Allen, second mate, Orville Parr, purser, Daniel Rouse, Duncan Smart, F. Record, D. McIntosh, Ross Galbraith, E. Carr, Ernest Rouse, brother of Daniel.

Cause of the disaster has not been determined. The vessel, a steel hulled 100-foot remodeled tug from Detroit, cleared this port at 4:30 a.m. today and is believed to have sunk within half an hour of Squaw Point four miles north of here.

Miss Johnson who was drowned was the only woman aboard. She was listed as a member of the crew.

The body of Minard was the only one recovered.

The Hibou was making its last run of the current navigation season and sailing for Klamath on Manitoulin island with a cargo of 150 tons of general merchandise.

Captain McKay and Howard Allen, second mate, were on the bridge when the vessel suddenly listed in the gray dawn several hundred yards from shore. As the ship plunged both were reported to have been hurled into the water. Captain McKay lost his life and the first mate made his way to shore.

The Hibou was owned by the Dominion Transportation Company of Owen Sound. During the summer of 1935 it operated between Kingston and Cape Vincent, N.Y. This year it ran from Tobemorey to Georgian Bay and Manitoulin island.

The majority of the crew are believed to be from Owen Sound.

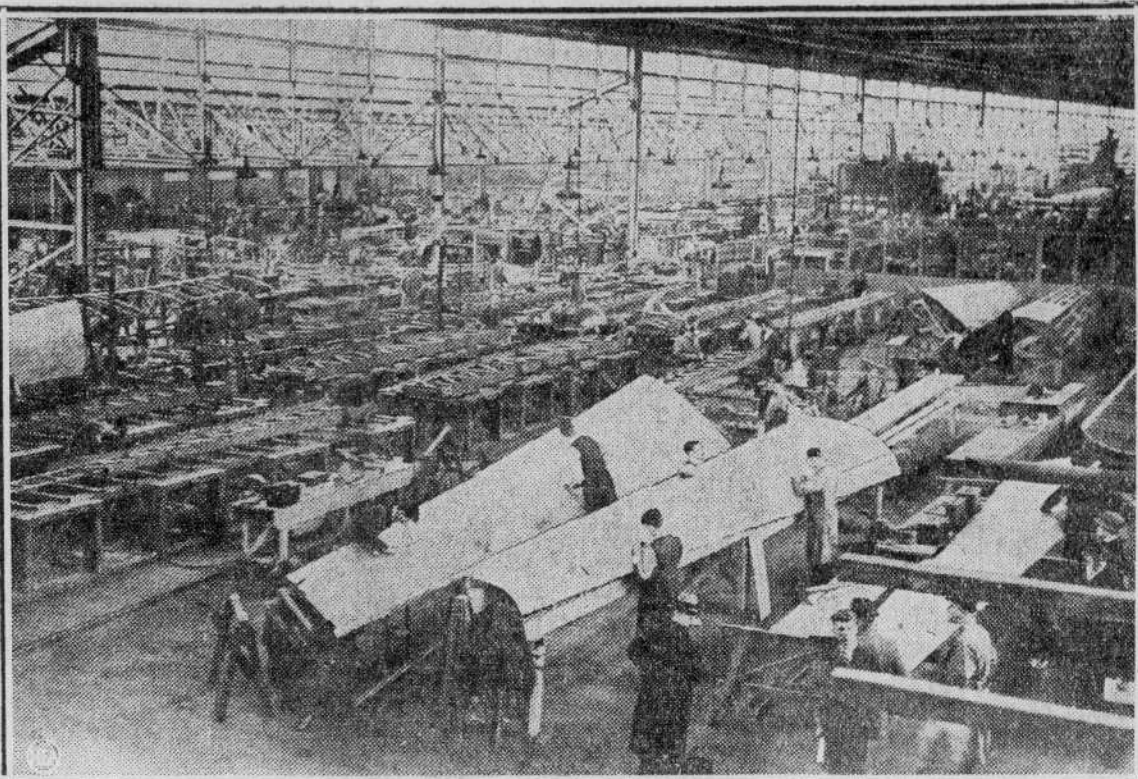

Loss of the motorship Hibou off Owen Sound early today brings to forty-six the life toll in Great Lakes shipping disasters in the 1935 navigation season.

The two major disasters of the 1936 season sent two sand-luckers to the bottom. On July 29th the material service carried fifteen men to death when she sank in Lake Michigan, not far off Chicago. On October 17th the Sand Merchant, battered by a Lake Erie storm, sank off Cleveland. Nineteen perished.

On Nov. 13, only a little more than a week ago, the tug Frederick A. Lee, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., disappeared in Lake Huron, five men were lost.

Although the Atholl Highlanders never have appeared in the army list, the War Office recognizes their existence.

BRITAIN SPEEDS AIR REARMAMENT

Concern over the critical state of European affairs has resulted in a rapid increase in British rearmament, especially so far as aircraft are concerned. The mass production methods used to speed manufacture of planes at the Cricklewood factory, near London, are shown in the above picture. The deadly Harrow bomber, shown below, is produced at this factory. The growth of the British air force since the armaments programme was instituted revealed by estimates that the total of first line planes has been increased from 550 to 992, with three to four craft in reserve on each type, making a strength of more than 4,000 aircraft.

'BENEVOLENT NEUTRALITY' AMONG FASCIST POWERS IN FUTURE WARS

Although Denying that "Hard and Fast Alliance" Has Been Signed Between Germany and Japan, Berlin Government Spokesman Declares Community of Governmental Ideas Make It Possible that if Either Should Become Involved in War with Russia, Other Would Exercise at Least a Benevolent Neutrality.

Berlin, Nov. 21.—Japan and Germany have "much in common" in their governmental ideas, a high government spokesman acknowledged today. He denied, however, there is a "hard and fast alliance between the two."

"It is quite conceivable Germany and Japan—opposed as both are to Bolshevism—may in given situations decide to proceed jointly," he added.

"It is also possible if either should become involved in a war with Soviet Russia, the other would exercise at least a benevolent neutrality."

"It is also clear Japan and Germany have much in common in their authoritarian conception of government."

Official sources described themselves frankly puzzled and worried over persistent reports from Russia of a German-Japanese pact aimed at Russia.

Stoutly maintaining that "nothing is known here," one official, however, declined to be pinned down to an absolute denial.

It was disclosed, however, the propaganda ministry has issued definite instructions to German newspapers not to discuss the reported Berlin-Tokyo pact.

SOVIETS CLAIM AGREEMENT IS THREAT AGAINST WORLD

Moscow, Nov. 21.—High Soviet sources today pronounced the reported Japanese-German alliance as a "progressive but not final action directed in preparation for a world war."

Informed sources hinted the Soviet general staff had considered the situation.

Speaking with the full authority of the Kremlin, the newspaper Izvestia declared "this mobilization of the forces of war" demanded the immediate organization of the world's forces of peace to counteract it.

"It is necessary to be an enlightened politician fully to understand that the Japanese-German alliance increases the Japanese menace to the United States and Great Britain as well as the German menace against all Europe," the newspaper said.

"The truth is that the alliance is not a plot against the U.S.S.R. alone but against the world."

"The alliance is one of the gloomiest developments of the contemporary international situation," Izvestia said. "It represents a progressive but not final action directed in preparation for a world war. It is now proof that the forces of war are being vigorously organized and that the danger of an outbreak of conflict is definitely greater than before."

FIG LEAF MAN'S FIRST INVENTION

Washington, Nov. 21.—The fig leaf was recognized officially today as man's first invention.

Apologizing for being tardy in getting around to Adam, U.S. patent office officials listed "The Fig Leaf Apron" as the forerunner of a long list of costume design patents.

OPINIONS UPON HUDSON RIVER PLAN DIVIDED

Transportation Interests Claim Proposed Montreal-New York Seaway Would Drive Railways and Shipping Companies into Bankruptcy.

New York, Nov. 21.—The International Joint Commission met today to hear advocates and opponents of the proposed Montreal-New York waterway who did not get an opportunity to appear at the Commission's hearings Thursday and yesterday.

Members of the body, composed of three members from Canada and three from the United States, said they expected today's session to be short.

Hearings will be held at Albany, November 23, Burlington, Vt., November 24, Plattsburg, N.Y., November 25, and Montreal, November 26, 27 and 28. The commission will then draft its report to the Dominion Parliament and to Congress either approving or disapproving the proposal.

The proposal calls for a deep sea waterway for Montreal to New York by way of Lake Champlain and the Hudson River. The advocates of the so-called cut-off waterway argued it would reduce the passage time from Great Lakes ports to New York about eighty-seven hours and would increase the benefits of the project St. Lawrence waterway by fifty per cent.

They predicted the St. Lawrence project and the cut-off together would save shippers $100,000,000 a year.

Opponents contended there were already ample transportation facilities in the United States and that the projected waterways would not only place heavy taxes on the people but would seriously damage railroad and shipping interests, possibly driving them into bankruptcy.

INDIAN BLOOD TREATY IS FOUND BY RELIEF WORKERS

Agreement Signed in 1830 Between Sioux Chiefs and Three White Men Discovered in North Dakota Unclaimed Safety Deposit Box.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The W.R.A. writers project claimed credit today for unearthing the only Indian Blood Treaty known to exist.

Signed in their own blood by ten tribal chiefs of the Sioux, the treaty was made with three white men—who signed in ink.

Officials said the paper—"A treaty of peace and friendship made and consummated by William Clark, Marian Edwards and Auguste Chouteau granting plenipotentiary rights by the United States to the Sioux tribe"—was probably signed as early as 1830.

It was found by North Dakota researchers in an unclaimed safety deposit box.

LOYALIST FORCES LAUNCH GREAT COUNTER DRIVE TO CLEAR MADRID

Important Sections of University City Regained by Socialist Forces, Government Spokesmen Claim—Reports Reach Madrid of Sinking of Loyalist Merchantman by Insurgent Cruiser—Foreign Diplomats Endeavoring to Prevent "Recurrence of Cruel Aerial Bombings" of Past Sixteen Days.

Madrid, November 21.—Madrid's gunners rolled batteries up to University City this afternoon and began a heavy, short-range bombardment of the positions still held by Fascist invaders.

They announced the recapture of the National Institute of Biology in the northeastern Madrid section and said withdrawal of their forces from Casa de Campo park, across the Manzanares river from Madrid on the west, had strengthened the University City corps.

Reports reaching Madrid told of the sinking of a Spanish merchantman off Palamos, on the eastern Spanish coast, by forty Fascist shells from the insurgent cruiser Canarias.

A day of heavy, freezing rain gave the grateful capital respite from aerial bombardment.

The cold increased the hardships of the homeless. All available apartments in the so-called neutral zone in the northeastern part of Madrid were ordered listed, to find a refuge for the destitute. As many as nine or ten families were living in single apartments as the evacuation of the northwestern and western sections increased.

However, the defence junta announced all entrances to Madrid were blocked effectively and promised the suffering of Madrilenos would be only "temporary."

REBEL LEADER SENT HIS "WARM THANKS" TO MUSSOLINI

Rome, Nov. 21.—General Francisco Franco today telegraphed Premier Mussolini his "warm thanks" for Italian recognition of Franco's Fascist regime in Spain.

OLD NEGRO TO EXTEND TRAVELS

South Hill, Va., Nov. 21.—"Uncle Jack" Hamilton decided today it was about time he enlarged a bit on the two-mile triangle in which he has passed seventy-one of his eighty-seven years as a church-going, tobacco-raising southside Virginia negro.

"I feel a craving" to see dem street cars," he confessed to a member of the South Hill Lions Club. So the club will take him to Richmond and show him not only street cars but elevators and escalators.

SIGNATURE ON STATEMENT WAS THAT OF WIDOW

Experts Declare Signature on Mrs. Ambrose Small's Will Same as that on Statement Admitting Part in Plot to Murder Husband.

Toronto, Nov. 21.—Litigation over the $2,000,000 estate bequeathed by Mrs. Theresa Small to Roman Catholic institutions will continue next week before Mr. Justice Nicol Jeffrey. Before the week-end adjournment yesterday evidence was placed on record linking the dead widow of Ambrose J. Small with his disappearance in 1919.

A handwriting expert testified the signature on Mrs. Small's will and that on a statement attributed to Mrs. Small had been written by the missing theatre owner's widow.

"You will be surprised to learn that I am, more than any other person, responsible for your brother's death," read the statement, addressed to Mary Florence Small, sister of Ambrose. It said Small was killed, his torso buried in a dump and other parts of the body burned.

Mrs. Small died a year ago, but earlier in the hearing the presiding judge remarked she was really on trial in the present action, a move instituted by Miss Mary Florence Small to have distribution of Mrs. Small's estate delayed. Should Miss Small win the case, she and another sister of the missing Ambrose would share approximately two-thirds of the fortune.

Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman declared yesterday Mrs. Small as far back as 1917 had threatened to kill her husband, and that "there wouldn't be an ash left of him when she got through."

LORD TWEEDSMUIR SPENT A BUSY DAY AT WINTER FAIR

Toronto, Nov. 21.—Named by Lord Tweedsmuir as the world's greatest agricultural show, the 1936 edition of the Royal Winter Fair today marched into the second half of its nine-day engagement.

Yesterday was vice-regal day with the Governor-General gracing the exhibition with his presence. His Excellency arrived early and thoroughly covered the fair.

A young French-Canadian, Roger Elverson, speaking in French, carried off the honors in the Dominion-wide oratorical contest amid the plaudits of a large crowd that had scarcely understood a word he said. The youth from St. Celestin, Quebec, spoke in competition with eight others, representing each province and heard Senator Arthur Meighen declare him the winner.

PROFIT-TAKING PREDOMINATED ON EXCHANGES

Net Loss of Slightly More than a Point Registered in Toronto Industrial Index During Past Week After Having Reached Highest Point in Several Years.

Toronto, Nov. 21.—The run of consecutive weekly advances in Canadian industrial stocks, dating back to September 18th, was broken this week and a setback on Toronto Exchange was recorded instead. The retreat started Wednesday after the price level at noon had registered high tide for several years. The week records a net loss of slightly more than a point in the Toronto industrial index. Mining stocks continued the advance.

Toronto Exchange index registered gains in twenty-six of the forty-two sessions since the end of September and the indicator rose from 142.4 to 163.24. From the 1935 low of 125.71 to the high of Wednesday last, the price average showed an advance of about thirty per cent. Golds were up twenty-nine per cent, and the miscellaneous mines forty-four per cent.

Losses recorded by the industrials Thursday and Friday may have been merely a reflection of the setback in New York where some anxiety is felt over the prospect of further trading restrictions and also over the renewal of European disturbances.

The Canadian market, however, appeared ready for a rest if not a technical reaction. Some of the steel and implement stocks had been going the pace on reports of promising munition business and these, in recent sessions, have encountered considerable profit taking.

Canadian Car's rise of four dollars last week to $34.00, Dominion Bridge was not far behind with a gain of $3.50. Other steel and implements holding part of the week's advance were Steel of Canada, Dominion Steel and Coal B., Massey-Harris and Cockshutt Plow.

International Nickel, always sensitive to foreign influences, declined about one dollar and losses were boarded for Ford A, Walkers Common, Industrial Alcohol A, The Quebec power stocks, Pressed Metals, Page-Hersey and Laura Secord. Page-Hersey declined four dollars and Laura Secord $4.25.

Lake Shore anticipated an extra dividend declaration by advancing a couple of dollars at a new high and holding $1.35 of the gain. Macassa advanced one dollar to seven dollars—a record high price.

Both Dominion and McIntyre sold down more than two dollars and next in line was Consolidated Chibougamau Goldfields with a drop of sixty-one cents. Noranda was up to a new all-time high at $74.90.

Is Your Will

Up To Date?

Events in the last few years may have made your Will obsolete. Your Estate may have changed its size and structure.

Your business, home, securities, life insurance, etc., may have changed their relationship to its total value.

Read your Will — does it meet today's conditions? If not, have it redrawn bearing in mind the modern practice of appointing a Trust Company as your Executor — either alone or in conjunction with a member of the family or a friend.

UTILITIES AND MOTORS ACTIVE ON WALL STREET

Number of Specialties Also Participated in Upward Trend After Fairly Active Opening on New York Stock Market This Morning.

New York, Nov. 21.—With tension lessening over European affairs, the stock market today sat up and took a little nourishment.

After a fairly active opening, however, the trading pace slowed. At the start of the final hour gains of fractions to a point or so were well distributed.

The utilities and motors were relatively active on the recovery move. A number of specialties also participated in the upward reversal.

Among the principal gainers were Consolidated Edison, North American, International Paper & Power Pfd., Western Union, General Motors, Chrysler, Bethlehem, U. S. Steel, Crucible, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, International Harvester, Stoney & Webster, Loew's, Newport Industries, U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Anaconda, Kennecott, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central and Southern Pacific.

Bonds registered some improvement, as did grains and cotton.

GAPE MAN CONFESSED TO POLICE HE KILLED FRIEND

Kingsley J. Carter Held Criminal Responsible for Death of Arnold Morgan at Gaspe, Que.

Gaspe, Que., Nov. 21.—Royal Canadian Mounted Police held Kingsley J. Carter in jail today after a coroner's jury inquiring into the death of Arnold Morgan, of Douglastown, Que., and the former mayor of Gaspe Village criminal responsible for the fatality.

Morgan was shot to death early yesterday and at the inquest R.C.M.P. Constable St. Pierre testified Carter told him he shot Morgan "three times." Later, the policeman declared, Carter said he had fired in self-defence.

"He's dead, I shot him with a revolver three times," St. Pierre quoted Carter as replying when asked if Morgan had been drunk.

St. Pierre told the coroner's jury he had been called by Mrs. Carter to the Carter home in the Gaspe Peninsula village about four a.m. Mrs. Carter told them her husband and the twenty-eight year old Morgan were drinking.

On arrival there, the policeman said, he found Carter in his office and Morgan's body on the floor.

EMBROIDERY HAS RETURNED TO THE SCENE OF FASHION

Gold and Silver Thread, Beads and Spangles Are No Longer Reserved for Evening Gown but Serve to Brighten Aspect of Little Woollen Office and Street Dresses.

Paris, Nov. 21.—Embroidery has returned to the scene of fashion from the retirement it had been subjected to during recent years.

Of divers inspirations, the embroidery of today makes use of the most varied materials—wool, silk, tulle, chenille, little ribbons, metal thread, beads and spangles are mixed in designs whose irregular disposition is not the least of their charm.

These gay motifs are in strong competition to the simply sumptuous materials whose richness is such that the gowns they form have no other ornament.

Gold and silver thread, beads and spangles are no longer reserved for the evening gown. They serve to brighten the aspect of little woollen office and street dresses.

These dresses, often cut on shirt-maker lines, are trimmed at the collar and cuffs with gay designs as well as bearing splashes of color on their many pockets.

ANYBODY WANT A SUBMARINE?

Portsmouth, England, Nov. 21.—Does anybody want a submarine? The Lords of the Admiralty are prepared to accept any reasonable offer for submarine X 1, which once cost more than $1,000,000 ($5,000,000) to build.

Idle and unwanted, although ten years ago she was described as a "diving cruiser" and "dreadnought of the underseas," X 1 is just gathering rust in Portsmouth dockyard for want of a buyer.

With accommodation for 110 men she was once the largest submarine in the Royal Navy, but smaller craft are now preferred for strategic reasons.

forced to desert from the Government forces, Fascist commanders asserted today.

Insurgent officers said Joseph was completing his military training in an engineers' battalion when the battalion was ordered to the front and he went along.

Near Segovia, the engineers decided to join the Fascists, the High Command related. Joseph was forced to go with them, they said. Since then, he has been held prisoner.

NEW IRISH CONTINGENT SAILS TO AID FASCISTS

Dublin Nov. 21.—The second Irish contingent sailed for the Spanish civil war today to help Fascist insurgents.

Headed by General Eoin O'Duffy, forty young Irishmen quietly boarded a mail boat for Liverpool. Their ultimate destination is the Catalan front in northeastern Spain, reliable reports said.

Ahead of them was the first group of ten which left Liverpool for Lisbon, Portugal, on November 14. Behind they left one thousand comrades ready to follow when they received the order.

General O'Duffy, leader of the Irish Fascist "Blue Shirts," announced his intention of joining the struggle against "the anti-Christian Spanish Reds (Socialists)."

"We of the Irish brigade are convinced that Christianity is attacked in Spain and we consider it our duty to make common cause with our Spanish brothers," he declared.

GERMAN MILITARY EXPERT NAMED TO SPANISH POST

Berlin, Nov. 21.—General Wilhelm Faupel, who for twelve years has been a prominent figure in the reorganization of the Argentine and Peruvian armies, was selected by Adolf Hitler today as his Charge d'Affaires to the Spanish Fascist regime.

Germany and Italy recognized the Fascist regime this week.

During the Great War General Faupel was on Von Hindenburg's general staff.

INSURGENT FORCES HAVE TAKEN IMPORTANT POST

Lisbon, Nov. 21.—Insurgent forces battling their way through northwestern Madrid have occupied the strategic Montaña barracks north of the Royal Gardens, it was reported here today.

The barracks are about one mile northwest of the busy Puerta del Sol and only about 500 feet north of the important North railway station.

UNITED STATES STUDIES CLOSING OF LEGATIONS

Washington, Nov. 21.—The United States Consul General at Barcelona reported to the State Department today he had warned all Americans still in that district the consulate was likely to be closed and that those who continued to stay in the area would do so on their own responsibility.

The situation at Madrid, meanwhile, was believed here to be giving the American embassy there serious cause for considering its closing, although officials here emphasized that no decision to that effect had been made.

There was speculation here over whether United States consular and diplomatic officials would be asked to make their way out of the besieged Capital even if they decided on the drastic action of closing the embassy. Approximately two hundred Americans still are in Madrid.

20,000 TROOPS PREPARED FOR JAP INVASION

Three Thousand Irregulars Attacked Detachment of Suiyuan Militia, but Were Routed when Reinforcements Arrived.

Peiping, Nov. 21.—General Fu Tso-yi, of Suiyuan Province, has concentrated 20,000 provincial troops near Shantung in preparation for a threatened invasion by irregular Mongol soldiers, travellers arriving from Tsining said today.

General Fu is making plans to launch an offensive against the opposing forces, most of whom are provincial soldiers from Chahar, the travellers added.

They confirmed Chinese claims that Suiyuanese troops repulsed the Mongol invaders in the Shantung region yesterday.

Three thousand irregulars attacked a detachment of Suiyuan militia numbering 1,400 west of Shantung, the travellers declared. The militia held out until reinforcements arrived and then the Mongols were routed, they reported.

JAPANESE ARE ABDUCTED.

Shanghai, Nov. 21.—Fifteen Japanese army officers and ten civilians were abducted today by Chinese troops which halted a train bound for Lanchow, the Domei (Japanese) News Agency reported.

Japanese troops were called out to aid in the search for the missing persons, Domei reported.

UNKNOWN SKULL INJURY CAUSES DEATH

London, Nov. 21.—A fractured skull, untreated for four days because neither he nor his friends realized he had an injury, led to the death of William Kennedy, of Wyoming, witnesses testified at an inquest into his death here last night.

OPEN CHAMPION ELIMINATED IN PRO GOLF PLAY

Craig Wood Downed Tony Manero Yesterday to Reach Semi-Finals in Pinehurst Title Tournament—Thomson, Shute and Mehlhorn Also Advantaged.

Pinehurst, N.C., Nov. 21.—One of golf's hard luck guys, big blond Craig Wood, wished that Dame Fortune would turn her frown into a smile for him today.

The old lady, whose favors count a lot in sport, has snubbed the Deal, N.J., better in recent years, but Craig held hopes that she would relent and give him the U.S. professional golfers' championship as a belated birthday present. He was thirty-five years old on Wednesday.

A long socker himself, Wood tackled pro golfer's bigger slugger, Jimmy Thomson, in one of the thirty-six "semi-final" matches today as slender Shute squared away with burly "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn.

Once before Craig got into the finals of this tournament, only to lose to Paul (Little Poison) Runyan in thirty-eight holes two years ago. He hopes the breaks will switch and go for him this year.

Back in 1933 Craig thought he had won the British Open crown, but Denny Shute slipped in to tie him and then won in the play-off. The next year it looked like he was the Augusta Masters' winner, but Horton Smith came in late to edge him out. And that summer he was equalized in the New Jersey Open, when he was going strong, for playing the wrong ball.

To top it all, they were congratulating him as the Augusta victor in 1935 when the impossible happened—Gene Sarazen executed the double eagle to tie and whip him in another play-off.

Wood was two under par yesterday and caught a careless Tony Manero on the greens, eliminating the United States Open champion by five and four.

Thomson advanced to the penultimate round by nosing out Harold McSpaden, of Winchester, Mass., by one up on the thirty-sixth green after whipping out a three-hole deficit incurred in the first nine holes, building up a five-hole advantage and then almost blowing it.

Shute shoved Horton Smith to the sidelines, downing the "Jonlin Ghost" by three and two, while Mehlhorn disposed of Jimmy Hines of Garden City, N.Y., ten years his junior, by four and two.

Annie Oakley continued to shoot for Mehlhorn as he defeated Hines. Annie is a putter that resembles a croquet mallet. Mehlhorn got it a few days ago and has been "hot" ever since.

"I call it Annie Oakley 'cause it's a sure shot," Mehlhorn explained. "Annie Oakley may have been a great rifle shot in her day but she didn't have anything on my Annie."

TWO RIVALS LAY CLAIM TO VACANT SULTANATE OF SULU

Sultan Mawallil Wasit Died from Heart Attack Yesterday, Scarcely Two Months After He Succeeded His Brother, Sultan Jamalul Kiram.

Manila, P.I., Nov. 21.—Two rivals vied for the sultanate of Sulu today after the spiritual leadership of the warlike Moros was vacated by death for the second time in five months.

Sultan Mawallil Wasit died from a heart attack yesterday, scarcely two months after he succeeded his brother, Sultan Jamalul Kiram.

On his death bed, Wasit proclaimed his son, Ismael, aged thirty-two, as the next ruler over the 500,000 Mohammedans of the Southern Philippines and British North Borneo.

But observers said Wasit's death strengthened his claim of vicarious rule. The great British Guiana middle-distance star, pointswinner for the team at three Olympic Games, was honored with the award at the annual meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada. His brilliant Olympic record and his years in track work with McGill University influenced the committee in nominating Edwards for the prize.

STATE AGREEMENTS URGED IN REGULATING BUSINESS

Agreements Among States Having Similar Interests Urged by Chamber of Commerce as Best Means of Safeguarding Constitutional Rights.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The Chamber of Commerce of the United States urged business men today to give "most careful attention" to state compacts as a means of industrial regulation.

Chamber directors approved a committee report asserting such agreements among states having similar interests would provide "respect for the constitutional reservation to the states of all powers not expressly granted to the Federal Government."

As possible subjects for compacts committee mentioned labor legislation, electric utility regulation, milk production, corporate charters and natural resources, including bituminous coal and its competitive fuels and timber.

The report today followed a Chamber statement yesterday that federal work relief "should gradually be brought to a close."

The Chamber foresaw continued gains in re-employment, a view supported by a Labor department report that 220,000 workers received jobs in combined manufacturing and non-manufacturing industries between mid-September and mid-October.

FIVE GAMES ON HOCKEY'S WEEK- END PROGRAMME

Leadership of Both Canadian and United States Divisions of National Hockey League at Stake—Toronto Leafs and Boston Bruins Play Two Games Each.

Five games, honors with one perfect game each, have hopes of taking the edge in that department during a busy week-end programme. With indications of a lot of wide-open play to please the cash customers, if any one of the padded guests succeeds he will likely take the driver's seat.

Wild Cude, frail Welshman who ranked the league's second best netminder last season, will be gunning for his second shutout as the Canadiens entertain the New York Rangers tonight. The Habitués can move even with the New York Americans for leadership of the Canadian section by winning while the Rangers can pass the Detroit Red Wings in the United States section by gaining a tie.

In the battle of tail-enders at Toronto tonight as the Leafs meet the Boston Bruins, goals will also be scored in for a lot of attention. Neither "Turk" Broda, who will don pads for the Leafs, nor "Tiny" Thompson, great Bruins' netminder, have yet earned a shutout, but they probably are due for one of the busiest sessions of their careers.

With Art Ross' promise to play wide-open hockey on the road if teams visiting Boston concede, it should be a great scramble as the Leafs always play offensive hockey. Broda, fighting to replace George Hainsworth in the Leafs' nets, will be on the spot. In his two starts to date he has been the "goal" of one Toronto loss and hero of the Leafs' only victory.

Alex Cornell, of the Maroons, and Roy Wretters, of the Americans, will both be working for their second shutout as the teams clash in New York tomorrow night. Mike Karakas has the same chance as the Chicago Hawks will be at home to the Bruins. The Leafs play their second game of the week-end at Detroit to round out the Sunday games.

The Rangers were Montreal-bound today for their first engagement of the season with the Canadiens, one of the league's surprise outfits. With Frankie Boucher back in action, Chief Bateck took along the ever-green captain, Bill Cook, as a utility player, leaving "Ching" Johnson at home for a rest.

Regina, Nov. 21.—Dr. Phil Edwards, dusky Montreal runner, was awarded the Norton H. Crow Memorial Trophy yesterday as Canada's outstanding athlete and sportsman in action. Chief Bateck took along the ever-green captain, Bill Cook, as a utility player, leaving "Ching" Johnson at home for a rest.

EIGHT MEMBERS OF REICH SUBMARINE CREW DROWNED

Twelve Others Had Narrow Escape when Recently Completed Craft Collided with Warship During Manoeuvres in Baltic Sea.

Luebeck, Germany, Nov. 21.—The fate of eight German sailors carried to the bottom in the damaged U-boat No. 18 was sealed beneath the waters of a Baltic inlet today.

The submarine collided with an unidentified vessel in Luebeck Bay yesterday during torpedo practice. Twelve of its crew escaped; eight others went down with the undersea craft.

Authorities abandoned hope for the eight, although they did not order a halt to efforts to raise the U-boat. The area around the harbor was rigidly policed with no civilians allowed near.

An official statement said the U-boat collided with "another warship" while still on the surface.

Twelve men, including the commander, who were above deck or near the top hatch, escaped quickly. The remainder were trapped below.

The U-18 is one of Germany's new submarines, belonging to the Weddigen U-boat flotilla which was formed after the signing of the Anglo-German naval treaty.

Country and Dairy Products Prices

Montreal, Nov. 21.—Further readings were made in local poultry prices yesterday, dealers announcing cuts of 1c to 2c per lb. in quotations to the retail trade, for small lots. Heavy deliveries are reported, largely due to a desire to market supplies as soon as possible owing to the high cost of feed this year. There is a lack of good quality stock, and practically an overloading of poorer grades, dealers report. There is no desire to store the receipts because of this and the stock is being moved into consumption even at lower prices. Trading was quiet in other produce lines.

There were no sales on the Canadian Commodity Exchange, closing market prices were noted for spot butter at 25c to 25 1/2c for Quebec grass, buyer's inspection, or Quebec regaded, with Quebec July, buyer's inspection, offered at 25 1/2c. Small lots to the retail trade were quoted by jobbers at 26 1/2c for solids and 27c for prints, with some shading of these prices 1/2c reported.

The cheese market was 13 1/2c to 13 3/4c for No. 1 Ontarios and 13c to 13 1/4c for No. 1 Quebecs, current receipts, with earlier makes higher.

The potato market was quoted as follows: Supplies liberal, demand active, market firmer. N.B. Mountains, 80 lbs., No. 1, $1.25 to $1.30; Quebec Whites, 80 lbs., No. 2, $1.10 to $1.15; Mountains, 80 lbs., No. 1, $1.20 to $1.25, P.E.I. Mountains, 80 lbs., No. 1, $1.20 to $1.25.

TECHNICAL CLAUSE MAY BAR INSURANCE PAYMENT

Ranchers of Bow Valley May Be Unable to Collect One Cent of $200,000 Loss Owing to Clause Against "Prairie Fires."

Calgary, Nov. 21.—Ranchers of the Bow Valley who suffered an estimated $200,000 property loss in Thursday's disastrous fires may not be able to collect a cent of insurance.

A "prairie fire" clause in ranch insurance policies, it was learned here today, may prove a stumbling block. In most policies this provides "no money shall be paid" the policyholder if his property is destroyed by a prairie fire.

Survey of the district where 100,000 acres of ranch lands were fire swept, homes destroyed and cattle perished, continued today. Many head of cattle were trapped in barns or corrals and burned to death.

J. H. BRYCE, C.P.A.

62ND ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS

To the Shareholders:

Your Directors submit herewith the Sixty-second Annual Report for the year ending September 30th, 1936, which we trust will be considered as satisfactory, showing as it does a substantial increase in total assets and also improvement in net earnings over those in 1935.

The Profit and Loss Statement for the year discloses net profits of $40,639.65, or an increase over the preceding year of $9,941.58. After providing dividends at the rate of 6% amounting to $18,000, $6,660.82 for Federal Income and Quebec Corporation Taxes, $3,127.39 for depreciation of Office Premises, Furniture and Fixtures, and adding the sum of $9,624.38 as additional reserve, there remains at the credit of Profit and Loss the sum of $27,230.22.

In accordance with our usual practice, all property coming into our hands through mortgage accounts during the year was transferred to Real Estate for Sale, bringing total cost of property held to $110,269.08 against which the Contingent Reserve of $43,500.00 is considered to be in excess of actual requirements for losses that may occur on eventual sales.

While mortgage investments are slightly lower, our holdings of high grade bonds have increased by approximately $113,000.00. Total bond investments of $647,700.00 represent actual cost, which was $33,000.00 under market values as at the close of our fiscal year. In this connection it is interesting to note that the percentage of liquid assets to public liabilities is 47%.

In addition to the regular semi-annual audit of the Company's books and accounts, a Committee of your Board has made its usual thorough inspection of all mortgages and loans.

Included with the report will be found a letter from the Auditor covering work carried out in connection with the audit as well as complete list of bond investments held as at September 30th. Like most financial institutions, trust companies have felt the effects of the conditions through which the country has been passing during the past seven years. It is gratifying to note that our estates under administration have steadily increased during these years. In a period of difficulty which all financial institutions have experienced, it will be recognized by everyone engaged in business, and especially by those who have been charged with the care of all kinds of real and personal property, that the management and services required have been very much greater than when conditions are normal.

The principle underlying the whole of the trust company business is, of course, that it embodies group judgment. It is important to point out that the personal executor is only one man; that he is subject to all the hazards of life, health and financial circumstances; that he has restricted sources of information and the limitations of training and experience. Although there are, and have been, exceptions, the fact remains that through wars and peace, through depressions and booms, the conservative balanced nature of group judgment is a safer and surer way of conserving estates. The growth of trust company business in recent years is undoubted proof of this.

Submitted on behalf of the Board.

JAMES MACKINNON,
President.

SAFETY FIRST IN INDUSTRIAL PLANTS URGED

Responsibility for Safety Lies with Everyone, R. B. Morley Tells Quebec Association for Prevention of Industrial Accidents.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—Responsibility for safety in industrial plants lies with everyone in the concerns, R. B. Morley, general manager of the Industrial Accident Prevention Association of Ontario, in an address here.

"Each of us has a responsibility to learn from history and to prevent accidents," Mr. Morley said. "This responsibility is divided, but not in such a way that any one may shirk his responsibility or transfer that responsibility to another."

Continuing, Mr. Morley said in part: "Self preservation is said to be the first law of nature. I have heard one reason why safety work is not acceptable to many people, and that is the statement that we must all take chances to live. The safety movement does not say that you should not take chances—it does say, however, do not take unnecessary chances, because a chance once taken cannot be put back."

"In both the Provinces of Quebec and Ontario, accident prevention in industry has been made a function or responsibility of management, through a section of the Workmen's Compensation Act, which authorizes industry to set up accident prevention associations, and in both provinces management has accepted that responsibility and has directed accident prevention work in industry. That is the start of things, and to those of you who are in a supervisory capacity, or who are working in any other way for industry, I say to you that management having been forced to accept the initial responsibility, which is the payment of costs, the rest of us must fall in line and play the game."

"Accident prevention has, as its basis, the orderly manner of performing work, and undoubtedly has a steady effect on men and improves the general morale. I take it for granted that no one present needs to be convinced that the number and cost of accidents can be reduced by a campaign of education, beginning with the president, or other chief executives, and going through the organization until every employee from the general manager down to the most junior employee has been reached. But each must accept that responsibility. Management must accept the responsibility for labor turnover and production costs. Management must accept the responsibility for enlisting the co-operation of all other ranks in accident prevention work. Management must accept the responsibility for providing safeguards and for inaugurating any other safety work in the plant. Management must accept responsibility of an analysis of the accident and for corrective measures necessary after accident analysis."

"Accidents and accident costs can be controlled through the provision of adequate safeguards for machinery and processes; through the provision of first aid services, and arrangements for medical aid where necessary; through supervision of all ranks; through safety rules and their enforcement; through plant inspection committees, and safety committees of other types; and through constant instruction in the practice of safety in and out of the plant. These things are a responsibility for everyone connected with industry."

PLAN REGULAR DIRIGIBLE FLIGHTS ACROSS ATLANTIC

Representatives of U.S. Commerce Department, U.S. Navy and Private Business to Meet to Formulate Recommendations.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Dirigibles will soon be carrying passengers and freight across the Atlantic with the aid of government subsidies if plans now coming to a head here are finally approved.

Representatives of the U. S. Commerce Department, the U. S. Navy and private business will meet next Tuesday to formulate recommendations for such a subsidized service.

The meeting will make a report to the new Maritime Commission, which, in turn, will submit its findings to Congress.

Called by J. Monroe Johnson, assistant to Secretary Roper in charge of the Commerce Department's transportation activities, the meeting will be attended by Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, who has been prominently identified with the navy's lighter-than-air activities; Commander Garland Gulton, another navy expert; Robert G. Elbert, of New York, and Samuel P. Wetherill, of Philadelphia, both members of the Business Advisory Council, and Gill Rob Wilson, of Trenton, N.J., an aviation authority.

Johnson said today the conferees would study subsidy plans which would place United States operators of a trans-Atlantic service "on a parity" with operators in other countries.

He said some subsidy system closely resembling that provided for the merchant marine might be worked out. The latter provides direct construction and operating subsidies, based upon differences between American and foreign costs.

Under the Council's plans, two dirigibles would be operated by U.S. interests on regular trans-Atlantic flights.

SOLVES "HOME VS. CAREER" ISSUE

MORE FISH ON BILL-OF-FARE IS DESIRABLE

Fish Is Economical Source of Energy and Cannot Be Too Strongly Recommended for Working People of All Classes—Makes Pleasing Variation of Daily Diet.

Swift once wrote: "Fish should swim thrice—first it should swim in the seas (do you mind me?) then it should swim in butter, and at last sirrah, it should swim in good claret." Dispense with the claret, for this would not be in keeping with the Dominion Government's effort to help the housewives of Canada stretch their food dollar to the limit.

From an economic, as well as from a health standpoint, it is desirable that fish should have an important place on our bill-of-fare. It cannot be too strongly emphasized that for working people of all classes, those who work with their heads as well as those who work with their hands, fish is an economical source of energy necessary to enable them to carry on their work; and that for children and young people it furnishes the very materials that are needed to enable them to grow healthy and strong.

Fish is one of the important protein foods. It makes a pleasing variation of the daily diet and should be included at least twice a week in one's menu. There is a wide variety to choose from: fresh or frozen, filleted, bonedless, dried, canned, pickled, cured and smoked. Fish is very easy to digest—a fact of particular importance in these days when so many people are of sedentary habits.

Large fish are, as a rule, better when steamed or boiled; medium-sized ones should be baked, or split open and broiled, and small ones should be fried. Whitefish, trout, mackerel, and small cod should be split down the back and broiled whole. If preferred, cut off the head and tail. Halibut and salmon should be cut into inch slices and turned often while broiling.

To clean, wipe with a cloth wet in salt water and dry on a fish towel. For seasoning: Oily fish need only salt and pepper, but dry meaty fish should be spread with oil before broiling. Use a double wire broiler greased well with salt pork rind. Put thickest edge of fish next to the middle of broiler and turn often. With split fish, sear the flesh side first and then turn.

The fire should be hot and clear. The time of cooking will vary with the thickness of fish. When ready to serve, loosen the fish from broiler on each side. On a broiler, slide fish on platter, flesh side uppermost. Spread with butter, salt and pepper. Garnish with butter cream and a border of potato balls. There are any number of sauces to be served, too, with scalloped fish, creamed, also baked fish, but these shall be dealt with in another article.

Choose a steak two inches thick, and weighing from two to four pounds, according to the size of your family. Sprinkle with salt on both sides, and let stand for one-half an hour, then drain and pat dry with absorbent paper. Put into a pan of suitable size, one-fourth of a cup of lard or fat and the juice of a large lemon. Let all heat together, then lay in the fish

MODIFICATION OF BRITAIN'S DIVORCE LAWS

House of Commons Gives Second Reading to Bill Designed to Bring Marriage Law of England into Line with Laws in Nearly Every Other Country.

London, Nov. 21.—The House of Commons yesterday gave second reading to a private member's bill designed to modify Great Britain's stringent divorce laws. The vote was seventy-eight to twelve.

De La Bère said the bill would bring the marriage law of England into line with laws in nearly every other country. The bill, second reading of which was moved by R. De La Bère, Conservative, provides no divorce would be granted within five years from the date of a marriage. But other relief, such as a judicial separation and nullity, would be available.

It provides that grounds for divorce should include desertion for a period of at least three years, cruelty, incurable insanity where the spouse has been continuously certified insane for at least five years, habitual drunkenness and imprisonment under a commuted death sentence. At present infidelity is the only ground for divorce.

A. P. Herbert, humorist and author of "Holy Deadlock," who is an Independent, supported the bill. He estimated that hundreds of thousands would be affected by the provision regarding desertion. With regard to incurable insanity, he said that in 1930 there were 40,000 married lunatics in England of whom 20,000 had been certified insane for more than five years.

ETON SCHOOLBOYS OBJECT TO MANNERS OF VISITORS

Windsor, England, Nov. 21.—Top-hatted boys of Eton College are annoyed because American visitors call them "cute little fellows." They don't like it at all.

Sharply rapping what he termed the bad manners of visitors to the college, the editor of the Eton College Chronicle wrote in the latest issue of the school's magazine:

"It is usually Americans who desert from the ranks to do their own sight-seeing."

"Suddenly they catch sight of a lower boy examining the school notice board."

"Why Mamie," one says, 'Just look at that cute little fellow over there.'"

The 'cute little fellow' is then requested to take off his top-hat and smile while his photograph is taken. "With a whimper of terror he turns and runs, and so has his back view taken by a moving picture camera as he darts into a passage."

PRICES AND DETAILS OF SHERBROOKE MARKET

There were few price changes on the local market yesterday afternoon during a period of fairly busy trading. Best creamery butter remained at the same price as the previous Friday, twenty-eight cents a pound, likewise best dairy butter at twenty-five to twenty-six cents a pound, and strictly fresh eggs were also unchanged at thirty-five to fifty cents a dozen.

In the provision section, beef carcass was six to seven cents a pound. Bacon was cheaper at twenty-eight to thirty cents a pound, but pork carcass was up a fraction at nine to ten cents.

Improved Service At Post Office.

Canadian businessmen and private citizens who have found themselves seriously inconvenienced by the frequent holidays of the postal service will welcome the announcement of Hon. J. C. Elliott, Postmaster-General, that in the future Canadian post offices and mail deliveries will operate every day of the year except Sunday.

In recent years business men have been devoting more and more of their efforts to speeding up business, but in many cases their attempts have been considerably retarded by the tardiness of the postal service in delivering letters and parcels.

Apparently a slight addition will be made to the staff of the postal services to compensate the employees for their lost holidays, but this addition should not have to be very extensive as in many cases the holidays were far from an unmixed blessing. The mail would pile up in the post offices over a holiday and clerks and carriers would have to labor overtime for several days to catch up with the accumulated work.

In its efforts to speed up business the Government might also reduce the number of holidays observed by the civil service. At the present time Government offices in the Province of Quebec close on at least fifteen federal and provincial holidays, many of which are not observed by business houses.

King Edward's Example.

The keen personal interest taken by King Edward VIII in any movement to improve the general condition of the poorer classes of his subjects is an example which could be profitably followed by all the more fortunate people.

The latest demonstration of His Majesty's desire to know the actual conditions prevailing in many sections of the country is seen in his visit to the depressed areas of South Wales, where for six years or more every other man has been on relief. The King went into these homes darkened by unemployment and want and learned first hand the manner in which these people lived, of their many needs and of their almost abandoned hopes for the future. And in departing he left with these people probably the most cheering news they have heard in many a month when he gave his solemn pledge that "something would be done."

For many years, the present King, in co-operation with his father, sponsored many movements for bettering the conditions of this class in the country, and it is in the recollection of the many things that he has already accomplished in the work of the Jubilee Trust and in slum-clearance that the residents of South Wales base the hope that in those four words may be the key to changed conditions in the distressed areas.

By precept and example, King Edward has endeared himself to the hearts of his subjects, and with each passing day he shows some additional touch of kindness that makes his people more and more appreciate their Sovereign.

The Real "Capitalists."

With much loose talk going on in the world today about the evils of capitalism and the picture of a "capitalist" being drawn as a man who owns or controls factories, railroads and mines, the fact is often lost sight of that the farmer is as definitely a capitalist as the industrialist. So is the owner of a small store, a life insurance policy or a savings account.

Commenting on this fact, the monthly commercial letter of the Canadian Bank of Commerce says: "Canadians own more life insurance per capita than any other nation in the world, except the United States. That is stating the case mildly."

With less than one per cent. of the population of the world, Canada owns nearly five per cent. of the life insurance.

At the end of 1930 our life insurance totalled $7,392,706,000, or 4.8 per cent. of the life insurance in the whole world. Only the United States and the United Kingdom own more life insurance than Canada. Canada, with only a fraction of their population, owns more life insurance than Germany, France and Italy combined.

Canadian owners of one or more ordinary and industrial policies number approximately five million, or practically every other man, woman and child in Canada.

Most of Canada's owners of life insurance are people in modest circumstances. The average coverage is about $1,400. But the fact that they are men and women of moderate means makes their investment in insurance the more important.

Each year since 1929 Canadian life insurance companies have sent into Canadian homes sums varying from one hundred and ten million to one hundred and seventy million dollars.

These sums represented, besides death payments, matured endowments, annuities, dividends, surrender values and disability benefits.

More than twice as much money has gone to living policyholders as to beneficiaries of deceased policyholders.

Thus, including both policyholders and beneficiaries, three-quarters of our population are largely dependent for their financial stability and security upon insurance. They have a vital interest in the well-being of the insurance companies—a vital stake.

Yet the well-being of the life insurance companies is inextricably bound up with the well-being of Canadian industry and the Canadian capitalistic system as a whole. For the monies paid in constantly by these five million policyholders must be, and are, put to some productive work. And this is done by investing them in securities important to the national welfare.

Therefore, every man, woman and child who owns an insurance policy has a direct and immediate stake in industry and the Canadian business system and is, by the same token, a capitalist.

The same is equally true of savings accounts. Savings accounts and insurance are the two great means of building up an estate for the average Canadian.

The notice deposits in the ten chartered banks of Canada, which can be classified as savings accounts, total almost $1,500,000,000. They are owned by over four million people.

These deposits, like all bank deposits, are put to work and earn interest through the medium of loans used to develop Canadian business enterprises, and investments largely in governmental securities.

Every dollar of the $1,500,000,000 which the Canadian public has put away for safekeeping in savings accounts is dependent upon the safety and well-being of industry and Canadian business life. Every man, woman and child who has so much as a dollar in a savings account, is a capitalist.

These facts are apparently overlooked by those agitators who seek to stir up dissension and to arraign class against class.

What Editors Say

A MILLION MORE JAPANESE IN A YEAR.

A million more Japanese were born than died in the year ended October 1st, according to the Japanese Statistical Bureau.

Japan proper now has a population of 70,150,000. When it emerged from its seclusion in the middle of the last century, Japan had a population of about 30,000,000.

As a result of the industrialization of its economy its population has more than doubled and today about a third of that population is to be found in urban centers.

As far back as the census of October 1st, 1930, Japan had seventy-nine cities with a population between 30,000 and 100,000, and twenty-six cities with a population between 100,000 and 1,000,000. Osaka then had a population of more than 2,450,000 and Tokyo a population of 2,070,000. The population of Greater Tokyo today exceeds 6,000,000.

The rapid increase in Japan's population, which has been encouraged by the industrialists, who want cheap labor, and the army leaders who want more cannon fodder, explains, to no small degree, Japan's foreign policy.

Japan must have markets abroad for its manufactures and dependable sources of the raw materials for its industries, which it does not itself produce, if it is to support more than 70,000,000 people on the same land which could support only 30,000,000 people, when it was an agricultural country.

The pressure of population thus forces it to an aggressive policy beyond its own borders.

And perhaps the peak of that pressure has not yet been reached.

Japan still has a very high death rate. If its public health measures succeed in cutting the death rate, and its birth rate does not decline, the annual increase in population will become still more of a problem—for Japan and for its neighbors.

DEATH RECALLS SOUTH AFRICAN WAR INCIDENT

Brigadier-General Robert White Had Served Seven-Month Prison Term for Part in Dramatic but Ill-Fated Jameson Raid on Johannesburg.

London, Nov. 21.—Memories of that fateful incident in Imperial history forty years ago known as the Jameson raid were stirred by news of the death today of Brigadier-General Robert White.

On New Year's eve, 1895, the world was startled to learn that "Dr. Jim" with six hundred men had advanced from Mafeking to Johannesburg with a view to supporting the projected rising against President Kruger's Government.

The raid was a fiasco. White, chief staff officer to Sir John Willoughby, was a leader of the raid and amongst those captured and sent to England for trial under the Foreign Enlistment Act. He was sentenced to seven months in prison and served his term.

It was not, however, until January, 1931, that it was revealed that for thirty-five years White had accepted the blame for the action of a friend. When Jameson's force surrendered, a despatch box bearing White's name was found amongst the impedimenta. It gave the history of the preparations for the raid. This obviously was highly valuable to the Boer cause.

Not unnaturally, everyone jumped to the conclusion that White was responsible for taking such dangerous evidence upon so hazardous an expedition. But in 1931, Col. H. M. Hole, author of a book on the raid, revealed that a staff officer who shared a cell in Pretoria jail with White had himself seen the box placed on a cart not by White but by Willoughby himself. White, however, kept chivalrously silent and the truth remained concealed for thirty-five years.

White fought in the South African war and was present at Paardeburg, where the Canadians suffered so severely. He raised and commanded the 10th battalion of the Royal Fusiliers, largely recruited from London banking and stock-broking houses, at the start of the war. From 1916 until 1918 he was Brigadier-General commanding the 184th Infantry brigade.

He was seventy-five years old and unmarried.

THE FRENCH PRESS

TWO BLOWS DEALT COMMUNISM

L'Action Catholique.

France's Popular Front party, received two severe blows from the military alliance formed between Germany and Japan and the suicide of Salengro. Salengro was accused by the government's opponents of having deserted the French army during the Great War to join the enemy's forces.

A court of honor exonerated him, but nevertheless his adversaries maintained that he was guilty of treason. His suicide does not prove his guilt but, as far as public opinion is concerned, it is likely that his tragic end will settle the question. As Salengro was practically the only Frenchman whose disappearance Blum's "right arm," the French Government, which owes its power to the Communist party, this incident, together with the anti-Soviet stand of Japan, Germany and Italy, will have profound repercussions upon France's political situation.

He later associated himself with Messrs. Charles, Wilfrid and Philip Bienvenue, becoming vice-president of the English Lake Lumber Company, Limited, Lake Frontiers. In 1919, together with his father, he purchased the holdings of D. J. Salls in the B. C. Howard and Company, Limited.

On July 27, 1923, his father having passed on, Mr. Howard became president of the B. C. Howard and Company, Limited. Early in 1924 he sold the B. C. Howard and Company properties at Lake Frontiers and the English Lake Lumber Company, Limited, to the Brompton Company. On July 15, 1924, he organized the B. C. Howard Company, Limited, which company was succeeded in 1925 by the Howard-Bienvenue Company, Limited, of Charny, Quebec.

Mr. Howard has also devoted much time to numerous other organizations. He is on the directorate of many important concerns and is actively associated with many varied business concerns.

He has also given freely to countless worthy enterprises and has proven a loyal friend to many institutions such as hospitals and schools. A graduate of Stanstead Wesleyan College, he has never lost interest in the welfare of this important seat of learning, while the Sherbrooke Hospital, the MacKay Institute for Protestant Deaf Mutes, the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association, the Sherbrooke Y.M.C.A. and other worthy institutions always found him a loyal and generous friend. He has also enjoyed membership in numerous fraternal and social organizations.

"Howardene," the picturesque residence of Mr. and Mrs. Howard, situated in the midst of a beautiful park with a commanding view of the City of Sherbrooke, has been the scene of many outstanding social events and on more than one occasion has been honored by vice-regal patronage.

Mrs. Howard, who before her marriage was Alberta May Campbell, of Sherbrooke, has proven a wonderful helpmate to her husband and has ably played her part as wife and hostess for Sherbrooke's active and busy member of Parliament.

Known to his friends as "Charlie," he enjoys the friendship of citizens in all walks of life. His friends are legion because he is himself a friend to all. He is proud of Sherbrooke, proud of Canada, proud of the British Empire and ever ready to devote his time and talents to the general development of the country, the province and city in which he is happy to live.

SONG
J. Singer.

Maiden, herald not these dreams,
Walking softly, walking sweetly.
All thy gifts it surely seems
Vanish slyly, vanish fleetly.
Maiden, herald not these dreams
I will not unthink
Will-o'-the-wisp no more thy gleams,
Enough—an end, an end.

Maiden, herald not these joys
Walking calmly, walking proudly,
Victims of the "regal boy's"
Clamour sadly, clamorously:
Maiden, herald not these joys,
I will not unthink.
Go, thy pleading is but noise,
Enough—an end, an end.

Maiden, herald not this bliss,
Walking bravely, walking gladly;
Those who yield to thy wild kiss,
Caper strangely, caper madly.
Maiden, herald not this bliss
I will not unthink.
O there, walk, impatient miss,
Enough—an end, an end.

PROMINENT PEOPLE OF THE EASTERN TOWNSHIPS

CHARLES B. HOWARD, M.P.

The name of Canada is at present being taken to South Australia by none other than Sherbrooke's genial member of Parliament, Charles B. Howard, who has been singularly honored by having been selected to personally represent the Prime Minister of Canada at the South Australian Centenary celebration.

Not only is this mission an unique honor for Mr. Howard, but it is also an honor of which Sherbrooke may be justly proud, for Mr. Howard will make known the name of his home town and the advantages and beauties of the Eastern Townships to the people of South Australia.

Today at the age of fifty-one years Charles Benjamin Howard can look back upon many successful years as a businessman, a politician and an energetic citizen who has contributed much to the general progress of his country, his province and his home city.

Since October 29, 1925, Mr. Howard has represented Sherbrooke County at Ottawa. He first went to the nation's capital with a majority of 1,117 votes and he has since been re-elected three times. On September 14, 1926, he began his second term at Ottawa with a majority of 2,042 votes and on July 28, 1930, was again returned as Federal representative with a majority of 498 votes. In the last elections, which were held on October 4, 1935, he again carried the county by a margin of 1,777 votes.

Like his father, the late Benjamin Cate Howard, Mr. Howard has for years been actively engaged in the lumber business.

At the age of six years the young Charles Benjamin Howard came to Sherbrooke from Smith's Mills, near Tomifobia, where the future member for Sherbrooke was born on September 27, 1885, the son of Benjamin Howard and Helen E. Salls Howard.

His ancestors on the Howard side came from Ireland. They first settled in Barnston County and later took up government homestead land at Apple Grove, four miles west of Beebe. It was there that the great-grandfather homesteaded the Howard farm. He and his wife, Mary Ann Williamson, are buried in the Catholic cemetery at Stanstead.

James Howard, grandfather of the member for Sherbrooke, later took over the Howard farm. He married Clara Hunt, daughter of Mehitabel White, a descendant of the Whites of Griffin Corner, whose ancestors came over on the "Mayflower" and moved into Canada after the United States had gained their independence.

At the age of fifteen years, C. B. Howard entered the employ of his father to learn the lumber business. He became a partner of B. C. Howard and Company in 1908, the other members of the firm being his father and D. J. Salls. After acquiring extensive timber holdings in the counties of Beauce, Dorchester, Bellechasse and Montmagny, the firm disposed of their properties to the Brown Corporation in 1912.

Mr. Howard pioneered the settlement of Lake Frontiers in Montmagny County and built mills there when his company acquired extensive limits.

He later associated himself with Messrs. Charles, Wilfrid and Philip Bienvenue, becoming vice-president of the English Lake Lumber Company, Limited, Lake Frontiers. In 1919, together with his father, he purchased the holdings of D. J. Salls in the B. C. Howard and Company, Limited.

On July 27, 1923, his father having passed on, Mr. Howard became president of the B. C. Howard and Company, Limited. Early in 1924 he sold the B. C. Howard and Company properties at Lake Frontiers and the English Lake Lumber Company, Limited, to the Brompton Company. On July 15, 1924, he organized the B. C. Mr. Howard has also devoted much time to numerous other organizations. He is on the directorate of many important concerns and is actively associated with many varied business concerns.

He has also given freely to countless worthy enterprises and has proven a loyal friend to many institutions such as hospitals and schools. TO ALL THINGS THERE'S A LIMIT

Houston, Tex. Nov. 21.—Night watchman Albert Homer, a patient man, argued with another about a dog and was told: "Wait here until I get back." Homer waited.

The man returned with a six-shooter and snapped it five times. On the sixth it fired, but the bullet missed. Flinging down the pistol, he said "Wait here until I come back." Homer did.

The antagonist came back with a rifle, shot once, and missed again. "By that time," said Homer, "I thought he might hurt me if he kept on, so I called the police."

A Poet's Version of Genesis

Psalm CIV, 24: "O Lord, how manifold are Thy works, in wisdom hast Thou made them all."

There have been heavy storms at sea in the last few days; even the magnificent "Queen Mary" was many hours past her schedule. Such occurrences serve to illustrate the helplessness of man in the presence of those mighty natural forces, whose working he may foresee, but cannot control. And this is very wholesome for a cock-sure generation like ours. It brings us clever, sophisticated moderns into momentary touch with those simple primitive folk who first listened to the Psalmist's songs.

The ear and heart of David were ever open to the voices of Nature. Storm and calm alike were to him sources of inspiration. From a hillside he sees a tempest sweep across the desert, and he sings: "The Voice of the Lord is in the thunder; the Voice of the Lord shaketh the wilderness; yea, the Lord shaketh the wilderness of Cadest." The calm glory of the starlit skies of Bethlehem constrains him to profound speculation: "When I consider Thy Heavens, the work of Thy fingers, the moon and the stars that Thou hast ordained, Lord, what is man that Thou art mindful of him, and the son of man, that Thou so regardest him?"

Like the Englishman, Wordsworth, this great Hebrew nature-poet sensed in the Universe about him, "A Motion and a Spirit that impels all thinking things, all objects of all thought, and rolls through all things." "O Lord," he cries, "How manifold are Thy works, in wisdom hast Thou made them all, the Earth is full of Thy riches."

For the modern reader, this Psalm serves to illustrate the essential harmony between Nature and Spirit, Reason and Revelation. In the Middle Ages this harmony was simply taken for granted, but with the rise of the modern critical spirit arose doubts as to even the most fundamental of the Christian verities. In the opening years of this century many scientists felt quite secure in their agnostic position. Then came the New Psychology and the New Physics, bringing Mind and Matter into a closer synthesis than had hitherto been conceived possible. And the net result of some decades of agnostic criticism has been to establish the wholesome conviction that there are more things in Heaven and Earth than are dreamed of in the philosophy of godless materialism.

Far from being mutually exclusive, or antagonistic, Nature and Spirit are merely two aspects of the One Infinite Reality, two ways in which God has seen fit to reveal Himself. Reason and the light of Revelation to focus and stabilize belief; and Revelation calls in the aid of Reason to establish by logic the intuitions of faith. It is true that some men have, by unassisted reason, found out God—men like Buddha, Zoroaster, Socrates—but at best theirs were but flickering candles, yielding little light and less heat. Nothing but the revelation of the Divine in the Person of "the true light that lighteth every man" could dispel the darkness, and reveal not only God to man, but man to himself! Man learns that he is not what he seems to be: a poor, short-lived creature, the plaything of circumstances, subject to sorrow, sin and death; but that he is numbered among the Immortals!

It has been a hard lesson for Christianity to learn, and even yet it is not fully assimilated, that the Church has nothing to fear, and much to gain, from the discovery of New Truth, in whatsoever department of human endeavor it may be found. Danger, of course, lies in the attitude of some of the minor scientists—but not really great men like Rutherford, Einstein or Patten—that Science and Revelation are irreconcilable. And yet, even Spencer admitted the presence in Nature of "an infinite and eternal Energy from which all things proceed." The Christian believes that what we term the "Laws of Nature" were not the outcome of blind chance but were ordained by an Eternal Will which perceived beforehand the necessity for such laws. In the light thus thrown by Revelation upon Nature we can perceive everywhere manifold evidences of Intelligent Design, and can join in the Psalmist's song of praise: "O Lord, how manifold are Thy works, in wisdom hast Thou made them all."

Exercising our reason without prejudice, we cannot but acknowledge the existence of an all-wise and beneficent Will, and see the hand of Him "who maketh the clouds His chariot, and walketh upon the wings of the wind."

Wordsworth's ode in "Tintern Abbey" rivals in both truth and beauty the 104th Psalm: "I have learned to look on Nature, not as in the hour Of thoughtless youth; but hearing oftentimes The still, sad music of Humanity—Not harsh, nor grating, though of ample power To chasten and subdue. And I have felt A Presence that disturbs me with the joy of vivid truth, Of elevated thoughts; a sense sublime Of something far more deeply interfused, Whose dwelling is in the light of setting suns, And the round ocean, and in the mind of man; A motion and a spirit that impels All thinking things, all objects of all thoughts, And rolls through all things."

ing posters, etc. The world has been so dazzled by this appealing front that it is only lately that they have been looking behind to the vile thing that is war.

Peace is very attractive, but it has never had an attractive front. Why don't we find a front that is more attractive and appealing than war, and then sell the idea to the world in the same manner that the idea of war has been forced on us. Young men of today do you want to be shot to pieces at the age of eighteen, nineteen or twenty and buried under a little white cross, or do you want to live out your lives gloriously and adventurously as God intends you to? If you want to save yourselves you must get busy and think!

There is one more point to face. War always built up about a "great cause," but after the war the cause is hard to find. When you work for peace you are working for a cause, the greatest cause in the world. You are bringing in God's Kingdom, and you have the greatest powers in the universe behind you.

YOUNG LAD REPORTED MISSING
Police feared today that seven-year-old Germain Desrochers, son of Alfred Desrochers, 20 George street, who has been missing from his home since yesterday afternoon, may have drowned in the Magog River.

The young lad came home from school yesterday afternoon and left shortly afterwards with several companions. Taking advantage of the first real snowfall of the year, they took their sleighs with them to slide on George street. At supper time the boy had not appeared and his parents, becoming worried, searched for him in the neighborhood, but to no avail.

Police were notified and also inaugurated a search. Chief of Police H. O. Camirand this morning expressed the fear that the lad may have fallen into the nearby river and drowned.

When last seen the missing lad was wearing a blue aviation cap, a gray coat, a red sweater and brown breeches. He has brown eyes and brown hair. Anyone having information concerning his whereabouts should communicate with Chief Camirand or with the boy's father, Alfred Desrochers, 20 George street. Mr. Desrochers' telephone number is 583-3.

INSTRUCTIVE ADDRESS GIVEN AT H-Y CLUB
An instructive address on public speaking by B. N. Holtham featured last evening's meeting of the Sherbrooke H-Y Club at the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Holtham declared that there was much personal satisfaction in being able to express one's self, and advised that a person should be familiar with the subject upon which he is speaking. "Watching one's voice," in the opinion of the guest-speaker, is essential. "Do not speak too loudly, but try to pour your voice to the size of the room in which you are speaking," he said.

The club enjoyed another of its hundred per cent. attendance meetings with twenty-four members present. After the tasty meal prepared by Captain Butler and served by the convener, Bob Smith and George Rothney, several sing-songs were enjoyed under the leadership of Al Bryce. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Paul Falkner, and approved. Bruce Bishop then gave a talk on "Aeroplanes and Airships." It was decided to entertain the Sherbrooke High School rugby team next Friday and a committee consisting of John Rugg, Sherman Pembury and Bill Jowett was appointed to look after the programme.

Social and Personal

Mrs. William Bailey and Miss Nellie Bailey are spending a few days in Montreal.

Miss Christine Castonguay, of Windsor Mills, is a guest for the week-end of Miss Fifi McManamy, Queen street.

The many friends of Master Raymond Thorne, Belvidere street, will be sorry to hear that he is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

The Misses Ruth Eichenberg, June Graham, Anne Eichenberg, Ruth Bourgeois and Rita Greenberg were hostesses at the tea hour yesterday afternoon, following a meeting of the Tenzelverein Club at the Sherbrooke High School. During the afternoon final arrangements were made for a dance to be held early in December.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mitchell and their small son, Bradley, of Montreal, are visiting Mrs. Mitchell's parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Bradley, Wolfe street.

Miss Helen McManamy left this morning for Montreal, where she will be a guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett McManamy, for the week-end.

Congratulations are today being extended to Ald. J. R. Sangster and E. S. Stevens, of Sherbrooke, and Col. R. F. Stockwell, of Sweetsburg, on the occasion of their birthdays.

The annual Nurses' Dance at the Mayfair last evening was a brilliant success, over two hundred attending this eagerly anticipated social event given under the patronage of the Sherbrooke Hospital Alumnae Association. Mrs. Gordon MacKay, president of the Alumnae, was assisted by Mrs. G. W. Wingrove in supervising all arrangements for the successful party, and Mrs. Harry E. Grundy, treasurer, acted as cashier.

The many friends of Rev. and Mrs. Peter M. Dennis, formerly of Sherbrooke, who for eight years have been residents of Dacatur, Alabama, where the former was rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, will be interested in hearing that Mr. Dennis has recently accepted a call to the Grace Episcopal Church in Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis and their son, William, are now comfortably settled in Woodlawn, which is situated about three miles from the business center of the city.

Mrs. Harry E. Grundy and Miss Margaret Mason entertained at a delightful dinner party last evening at the former's home on Portland avenue, prior to the Nurses' Dance. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCrea, Mr. and Mrs. Webster Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Porter Bangs, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Badger, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Rosenbloom, Miss Mildred Lyster, of Fitch Bay, Miss Beatrice Dennison, of Kinsey, Messrs. Bertram Lyon, Frank Grundy, Clifford Moore, Everett Lyster, of Trenholm, and Kenneth Patterson, of Knowlton.

Society en masse played bridge yesterday afternoon with the benevolent intention of helping the Junior Welfare League to carry on its works of mercy in providing milk for needy children, clothing for the indigent and daily lunches at the Central School, the members having decided to resume this last undertaking again this winter. Card parties, large and small, were the order of the day, the hostesses and their guests afterwards going on to Mrs. Arthur M. Edwards' residence on Dufferin avenue for tea. The hostess, president of the League, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Albert A. Munro and Mrs. Dean Bishop acted as treasurer.

Tea was served in the dining room, where Mrs. Gordon Miller and Mrs. O. R. Webster presided at the beautifully appointed table, which was covered with an exquisite cerise cloth and centered with yellow anemone chrysanthemums in a Sheffield bowl and pale green candles in four Sheffield candlesticks. There was also a tea table arranged in the living room, where tea was poured by Mrs. V. G. Southern, thus facilitating serving the large number of guests who arrived almost simultaneously at the conclusion of their bridge games.

A profusion of chrysanthemums were placed about the already attractive rooms, which presented a very festive appearance with the many animated guests chatting in various groups and the bevy of League members who so assiduously waited upon them during the rush tea hours.

Mrs. S. H. Gallinger was convener for the bridge committee, assisted by Mrs. W. L. Reford Stewart and Mrs. W. McAdams, while Mrs. Harold Brown was in charge of the tea arrangements, and en passant, both conveners and their capable band of helpers are to be congratulated upon the excellent and efficient manner in which they carried through their very onerous tasks. Mrs. Mattheu Graham, who was in charge of the dozen pairs of silk hose, was also very busy, every one wanting a chance to win some part of this generous donation. The fortunate winners were Mrs. George Robins, Margot street, six pairs, Mrs. W. F. Steele, Melbourne street, and Mr. Robert Dunsmore, Portland avenue, who each won three pairs.

ARKANSAS GIRL SLOWLY REGAINING LOST SIGHT
"It's Wonderful" Declares Twenty-Five Year Old Girl in Describing Mysterious Restoration of Sight Lost Twenty-One Years Ago.

Helena, Ark., Nov. 21. — "It's wonderful" was the sum of Jane Borsch's reaction today to sight that is returning to her in some unexplained way after twenty-one years of total blindness.

Part vision returned to the twenty-five year old student while she was attending a class at Arkansas State College at Jonesboro, but she did not grasp what was happening until three days later.

Her returning sight amazed physicians at a Jonesboro hospital, she said, who could give no explanation.

"I don't exactly know what to think about it," she said today, "but it's wonderful. Of course, I can't see to read yet, but I can see colors, people and the sun. I still can't see an artificial light."

"I was sitting in class at college two weeks ago when I suddenly had the impression that the teacher and pupils were looking at me. Then I became dizzy, nervous and ill. There were flashes of light before my face."

"They took me to the hospital and the doctors thought I was bilious. Canada during the week ended with $10,947.57 for the corresponding week of last year. Fire losses from January 1 to November 18 totalled $12,241,300 compared with $10,947,475 for the corresponding period last year.

ABORNMAL FEAR CURED BY NEW BRAIN SURGERY

Scientists Describe Operation that Has Given Relief to Persons Suffering from Worry, Apprehension, Anxiety, Sleeplessness and Nervous Tension.

Baltimore, Nov. 21.—A new form of brain surgery which in a few selected cases has given a worthy relief to persons suffering from abnormal worry, apprehension, anxiety, sleeplessness and nervous tension was announced today before the closing session of the Southern Medical Association.

Dr. Walter Freeman and Dr. James W. Watts, of the George Washington University Medical School, Washington, D.C., described the operation, which to date has been performed on six patients, all of whom have been materially improved, they declared. The first operation was performed only two months ago and they stressed the facts that they have no data yet on the permanent effects of the operation or the ability of the patients to return to work.

The symptoms of extreme nervousness, worry, apprehension, anxiety and sleeplessness seem to constitute a "common denominator" in several mental diseases, the Washington scientists said, but they declined to classify their cases on the basis of any definite psychoses, or mental derangements.

The operation consists of boring two holes with a surgical augur through the skull at points three centimetres to the right and left of the midline of the skull and about three centimetres in front of a line extending across the top of the head between the fronts of the ears.

Through these augur holes a hollow needle is inserted into the brain and through the needle, by means of an attached wire loop, six cores of white brain tissue about the size of a marble are removed.

Few had post-operative effects have been noted. It was pointed out, since the brain tissues are apparently entirely insensitive to pain.

Dr. Freeman and Dr. Watts declared that anxiety and apprehension in patients operated on ceased immediately after they came out of the anesthesia and have not recurred to date.

A Pennsylvania Dutchman went to Niagara on business, and his host took him out for a walk. Presently they came to the great Falls, but the Dutchman said nothing.

"Well," said the host, "ain't it a wonderful sight?"

"Ain't it a wonderful sight?" replied the Dutchman.

"Why, that vast body of water pouring over the great precipice!"

"Vell," said the Dutchman, "vot's to hinder it?"

tives of the Fortin family from Henryville.

The bearers were Messrs. Edward Fortin and Auguste Trebault, of Henryville; Philip and Charles, of Edward LeComte and Emile Phoenix, of St. Sebastien, and Joseph Fortin, of St. Armand. Interment took place at St. Armand Cemetery.

Those from a distance who attended the funeral included Mr. and Mrs. Phidime Fortin and son, Eugene, and wife, of Puxukeet, R.I.; Mrs. Isidore Lemoine and daughter and Mr. Auguste Desnoyers, of L'Acadie; Mr. Philip Fortin and Mrs. Helen Benoit, of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. E. Robert, of Dunham; Mr. Emile Fortin and son, Joseph, of Bath, Maine, and Mr. Esdras Fortin, of New London, Conn.

All join in extending sympathy to the Fortin family in their sad bereavement.

MR. ROBERT McCUTCHEON, NORTH SHEFFORD.
North Shefford, Nov. 21.—The funeral took place here on Monday, September 21st, of Robert McCutcheon, who passed away at his home on September 19th, after only a few weeks' illness.

The funeral service was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends. Rev. G. M. Lidstone, of Granby, and Rev. MacKinnon, of Iron Hill, officiated, and the choir rendered, "Abide With Me," "While the Light Forever Shines" and "A Few More Years Shall Roll."

The bearers were Messrs. Frank Swett, Clarence Hanna, Alfred Barnes and Melvin Kennedy.

The remains were laid to rest in St. John's Cemetery, West Shefford.

Mr. McCutcheon leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, four daughters, Georgia, Mrs. Lyle Ashton and Helena, Mrs. Oscar Ashton, both of Warden, Edna, Mrs. Percival LeDoux, of Waterloo, and Miss Robert McCutcheon, three sons, Messrs. Earl, Lyle and Willis, all unmarried; one brother, Henry McCutcheon, of Boston, Mass.; one sister, Mrs. Isabella Beauregard, of Montreal; ten grandchildren, cousins and many nephews and nieces.

The deceased was born in 1866, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. McCutcheon. Except for a few years spent in Boston, Mr. McCutcheon passed the greater part of his life in West Shefford until about twenty years ago, when he moved to North Shefford. He was a member of the Church of England, where he acted as warden for a number of years.

In 1900 he married Rosanna Borden, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Borden. To this union there were born eight children, five daughters, one dying in infancy, and three sons.

A Friend to the Aged As the Years Creep On
In the later years of life we start to lose that snap and vigor of our younger days. The blood does not circulate as it once did, the vitality is on the wane, and the nerves not just as steady as they used to be. Little sicknesses and ailments seem harder to shake off; and evidences of a breakdown begin to appear. Those who wish to maintain their health and vigor and retain their energy should use Milburn's II & Nerve Pills at this time of life.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

SACRIFICES ACE FOR "SET"

"Red" Reilly's Refusal to Take Sure Trick Prevents Declarer From Making Small Slam Contract.

By Wm. E. McKenney
Secretary, American Bridge League.

"Red" Reilly, Chicago's spectacular bridge star, will be one of the shining lights at the national championship tournament of the American Bridge League in Chicago, the week of November 30. When he gets his mail and registers, he is known more formally as Mathew S., but I predict that the bridge players who meet him in Chicago will be calling him "Red" before they have finished bidding the first hand against him; for he is that type of chap.

In today's hand, "Red" had no chance to make a spectacular score

South's contract is six no trump. After winning the opening lead, it is apparent to South that, even though the missing honors are in the East hand, he must have at least three entries to dummy, for finessing. What are they?

WINDSOR MILLS COUPLES MARK ANNIVERSARIES

Family Reunions Held to Mark Fiftieth Wedding Anniversaries of Two Windsor Mills Couples which Occurred During Past Week.

Windsor Mills, Nov. 21.—Mr. and Mrs. George R. Fowler entertained at a luncheon on Monday to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. They were married on November 16, 1886, in Windsor at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bingham Caswell, by Rev. J. H. Fowler, father of the groom, assisted by Rev. Barry Pierce, resident pastor of the Methodist Church. The bridesmaid was Miss Carrie Frye, afterwards Mrs. Waldo and the best man was Mr. Robert Fowler, of Gardner, Mass., brother of the groom. Both are now deceased. Other relatives surviving who were present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Caswell and their daughter, Mrs. M. Mackay, of Sherbrooke, Mr. John Caswell, of this town, and Mrs. A. Peatfield, of Georgetown, Mass.

Mrs. Fowler, nee Ellen Irene Caswell, has been a life-long resident of this place, having been born here seventy-one years ago. Mr. Fowler, who has attained the age of seventy-five was born at Whitehaven, Cumberland County, England, but came to this country when only a year old. He has resided in Windsor since 1880, at which time his father was called to be pastor of the Methodist congregation, an appointment he filled until 1883. Mr. George Fowler remained here and secured employment with the Hamilton Powder Company, with which plant he was connected for thirty-nine years, retiring in January, 1923. Of a family of nine children, Mr. Fowler, and his brother, Mr. Joseph Fowler, of Colorado Springs, Colo., are the sole survivors. In the Caswell family there were four sons and three girls, of whom there are living, besides Mrs. Fowler, Mr. Charles B. Caswell, of Richmond, Mr. Otis H. Caswell, of Sherbrooke, Mr. John N. Caswell, of Windsor, and Jeanette, Mrs. William Shanks, of Vancouver, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Fowler are still active members of St. Andrew's United Church, the former holding the office of treasurer for the congregation at the present time. The latter is a member of the Women's Association. They were both charter members of Willowdale Rebekah Lodge, when it was instituted in Windsor in 1910, and Mrs. Fowler still holds the office of financial secretary. Mr. Fowler joined Pioneer Lodge, I.O.O.F., in Richmond in 1882, withdrawing in 1897 to become a charter member of Jubilee Lodge, No. 31, in this town.

Their two daughters and their grandsons, Mrs. Philip Davis, and son, Charles, of Bridgton, Maine, and Mrs. Charles Gould, of Cowansville, were present on Monday. Other guests were Mr. J. N. Caswell, of Windsor, brother, Mrs. A. Peatfield, Georgetown, Mass., Mrs. M. MacKay, Sherbrooke, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hicks, Lowell, Mass., Mrs. William Rattray, Mr. Roy Jones and daughter, Thelma, of Richmond, and nephews, Mr. William Douglas, cousin, Rev. and Mrs. P. Pollitt and son, Keith, Mrs. Charles Henderson and Mrs. W. F. Mountain, all of Windsor.

MR. AND MRS. G. A. WITTY ALSO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

On Tuesday, the congratulations of the community were extended to Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Witty on the occasion of their fiftieth wedding anniversary, which date also marked the seventy-sixth birthday of the former. They were married in Sorel, at the home of Mrs. Witty's parents, on the evening of November 17, 1886, Rev. Sidney Kendall, of Montreal, officiating. The bridesmaid was Mrs. Witty's sister, Mary, afterwards Mrs. Ronkey and now deceased, the best man was Mr. William Bennett, now living in Calgary, Alta. Other guests who still survive are Mr. William Finlay, of Napanee, Ont., Mrs. George Ellis, of New Newton, Mass., brother and sister of Mrs. Witty, and Dr. M. S. Macdonald, of Sherbrooke.

Mr. George Alford Witty was born in Melbourne, Que. He came to Windsor at the age of thirteen as an employee of the Windsor Powder Company, where he continued to work until his retirement five years ago. For over twenty-five years he was superintendent of this plant. During this time the industry changed hands, being known for some time as the Hamilton Powder Company, and was finally merged in Canadian Industries, Ltd. Of Mr. Witty's three brothers, one is still living, Mr.

Henry Witty, at the present time in Lower Windsor.

Mrs. Witty, whose maiden-name was Sarah and Finlay, was born in Cohoes, New York State, in 1867, but came to Canada sixty years ago. She resided in Windsor twice for a short time before her marriage at Sorel in 1886, which event brought her to this town as a permanent resident. Of a family of eleven, she has a brother and a sister still living. She is a member of the Women's Association, and an associate member of the W.M.S. Auxiliary of St. Andrew's United Church, to which congregation they belong, having formerly been Methodists. Mr. Witty has served as a councillor for Windsor Township and on the School Board of the town.

They entertained at a dinner party on Tuesday, at which the immediate family, with the exception of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Witty were all present.

They have three sons, three daughters and thirteen grandchildren. Mr. Royal Witty, of Ottawa, Mr. George Witty, of Windsor, Miss Elizabeth Witty, of this town, Mr. home, Mrs. Douglas Ross, of Waltham, Mass., Ethel, Mrs. Chester Bruce, of Windsor. How Many Pennies Your Child's Life?

Don't Try to "Save" on Home Remedies—Ask Your Doctor. There is one point, on which practically all doctors agree. That is: Don't give your child unknown remedies without asking your doctor first.

All mothers know this. But sometimes the instinct to save a few pennies by buying "something just as good" overcomes caution.

When it comes to the widely used children's remedy—"milk of magnesia"—many doctors for over half a century have said "PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia." Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is the standard of the world. Safe for children.

Keep this in mind, and say "PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA" when you buy. Comes now, also in tablet form. Get the form you prefer. But see that what you get is labeled "Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia." 25¢ for a big box of the tablets at drug stores.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM: Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

BEDFORD GROUP HEARS WORK OF BIBLE SOCIETY

Secretary of British and Foreign Bible Society Branch Guest Speaker at Bedford United Church—Other Notes of Interest.

Bedford, Nov. 21.—Rev. George Adams, secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, paid his annual visit to the United Church and St. James' Church Sunday morning, November 15. Taking his text from Isaiah 55:1, Rev. Adams delivered a very interesting address, in which he told of the wide scope of work done by this worthy association.

In his opening remarks the preacher spoke of the illustrious reign of the late King George V, and told how in 1881 the beloved monarch had made a vow to read a chapter from the Bible every day. This vow was faithfully kept until the end of King George's life, Lord Malvern, for many years secretary of the Bible Society, declared, and was of great help to King George in the many trying years of his reign when many kings and emperors of Europe lost their thrones, while in England the Monarch became more firmly entrenched in the hearts of his subjects. Another example cited by Rev. Adams was that of Queen Victoria, who handed the ruler of a heathen state a copy of the Bible when he asked to witness the greatness of England could be attributed.

There are two thousand languages in the world, Rev. Adams continued, and at the present time 985,705 translations have been made by the British and Foreign Bible Society, the remaining 175 by the sister organization, the American Bible Society. In Canada, thirteen Bible houses are open from coast to coast. From the one in Montreal the Bible is issued in thirty-seven tongues alone, for Montreal and the surrounding district, while throughout Canada the Bible is printed in one hundred and ten languages, including a number of Indian dialects. The Anglican Church, in the work of its missions, employs over a hundred different languages.

In citing the great need of having the Bible translated into the language of the people where Christianity is being introduced, Rev. Adams spoke of the church at Madagascar, known for many years as the Martyr Church. In the years 1935-36, a heathen queen ascended the throne of the island and ordered the expulsion of all foreigners from the island. The missionaries, of course, were included in the order of expulsion and sorrowfully left the island, believing that their years of labor would be lost. They left behind them a small collection of extracts from the Bible, which had been translated into the native language, and the church, which had been completed. The queen ruled for twenty-eight years, and at her death, the island was again thrown open to foreigners. Judge of the joy of the missionaries who, returning to take up the work laid down many years before and expecting to find the island returned to its former state of heathenism, found that, instead of diminishing, the converts had increased because of the presence of the printed word. They had carefully guarded and preserved the collection, talking over the message contained in these extracts and through them constantly added to their numbers.

Despite the years of depression, Rev. Adams stated, the work of the Bible Society was going on apace and that during the past year the returns from the country districts alone had amounted to $393 over the previous year.

AYER'S CLIFF W.C.T.U. HELD BUSY SESSION

League of Nations Provided Subject for Discussion at November Meeting of Ayer's Cliff W. C. T. U. — Remembrance Day Observed.

Ayer's Cliff, Nov. 21.—The regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held at the home of Mrs. A. J. MacIntosh, with a good number of members and five visitors present. At this meeting was held on Armistice Day, "Remembrance," and was observed and prayers offered for peace to prevail.

The meeting opened with the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers," and the Scripture was read by Mrs. MacIntosh, and the president gave a very helpful talk on "Reasons for Thanksgiving."

A splendid paper on "The League of Nations" was given by Mrs. E. H. Rider, who said it had been the fashion lately to speak of the defects of the League, and ask why it had not done more for peace. In contrast, she told of the good work it had accomplished, claiming that war had been prevented, drug trade curbed and many other services it had done for the welfare of mankind.

Christmas cheer was discussed, and as usual the Flower Mission secretary, Mrs. H. I. McFadden, was asked to send cards.

A social hour was spent, when refreshments were served by Mrs. MacIntosh.

REMEMBRANCE DAY CEREMONY

On Sunday, November 15th, "Remembrance Day" was observed by the township, when a very impressive service was held in Confederation hall with Rev. E. C. Amaron, of Stanstead as guest-speaker. The service opened with Rev. H. H. A. Gillingham, pastor of Beulah United Church presiding, and the hymn "O God Our Help in Ages Past," was sung, after which Rev. Gillingham gave the invocation prayer. Mr. Amaron led the 99th Psalm responsively, and Rev. H. W. Parry, rector of St. George's Church, read the 11th chapter of Hebrews. The United choir sang the anthem, "God of Our Fathers, Known of Old" (R. Kipling).

Mr. Amaron gave a most stirring address, as only one of the returned men could have done, having served in the Great War of 1914-1918. The speaker stressed the heroism of the men and boys from this section of the country, and he said it was this "heroism" that should never be forgotten. He spoke of world peace and the League of Nations, and said world peace could be brought about, and declared if the League of Nations were to do anything, everyone had to stand back of it.

LAYMEN'S DAY WAS OBSERVED
AT SCOTSTOWN

Special Services to Mark Laymen's Sunday Proved Very Impressive at Scotstown United Church—Other Items of General Interest.

Scotstown, Nov. 21.—The Sunday morning service at St. Andrew's United Church was conducted as usual by the pastor, Rev. H. E. Parsons, who read as his Scripture lesson Psalm 90, beginning "Lord, Thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations," and selected for his subject "How we are investing our time?" based on the 2nd verse of the psalm.

Emphasis was laid on this Sunday being Laymen's Sunday throughout the United Church, mention was made of evangelization of Canadian life as evinced at the recent service of witness at the Forum in Montreal, and it was pointed out that this Sunday was good for the United States and Canadian border towns co-operated with one another in the exchange of pulpits.

The special music was well rendered, the anthem "All Hail Emmanuel," being sung by the Junior Choir of twenty voices directed by Mr. John Cox.

Laymen's Sunday was emphasized in the evening by members of the male choir taking part in the service. Mr. S. J. Scott was in charge of the service. Mr. Everett Rudd read the Scripture lesson from Isaiah 2, Mr. Payson Sherman led in prayer and Mr. Lester Godin sang a solo, "I Shall Know Him."

An anthem was sung by the choir, "Won't You Gather with The Lord." Rev. Parsons preached a helpful sermon on "Visions," based on Proverbs 29:18. "Where there is no vision the people perish," and its contrast as found in Acts 2:17, "and it shall come to pass in the last days, saith the Lord, I will pour out of my spirit upon all flesh and your sons and your daughters shall see visions and your young men shall dream dreams."

In St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on Sunday, Rev. Duncan MacColl took his text from Psalm 37:37, "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright." In the evening the text was from St. Luke 18:38, "Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me." Mr. John Cox sang a solo before and after the sermon, "In the Garden" and "Only Remembered By What We Have Done."

LEADERSHIP OF CHURCH LEAGUE AGAIN CHANGED

Two-String Victory Over St. Andrew's Guild Shoved Andrewettes Back into Position of Setting Berth of Y. W. C. A. Inter-Church Bowling League.

The Andrewettes and the Lady Amateurs are playing hide and seek with one another at the top of the Y.W.C.A. Inter-Church Bowling League standing. Since the season started these two teams have alternated as pace-setters. Today's standing reveals that both entries have played twelve strings and the Andrewettes are ahead by a single point.

The victory which sent the Andrewettes back into the leading position was scored at the expense of St. Andrew's Guild. The top-ranking team had little difficulty against the Guild, which was handicapped by the absence of a single player.

St. Andrew's Auxiliary jumped from seventh place into a tie for third position by blanking St. Peter's Guild. The Presbyterian ladies won the first string by the score of 116-110, while St. Peter's Guild, the Anglican Guild, posted a high single-string total of 116, and finished the second contest with a thirty-two pin edge.

St. Faith's Guild and Plymouth "B" shared honors in the third game on this week's programme. The Plymouth ladies were victorious in the opening tilt by thirteen pins, while St. Faith's evened matters with a nine-pin triumph in the second encounter.

Mrs. S. Belmont, of St. Faith's Guild, topped the week's three-string column with a score of 186. The results in detail were:

SETTLING LAST DETAILS ABOUT PROPOSED BOUT

Braddock's Manager Expected to Post Guarantee Today, Assuring Champion's Title Defence Against Schmeling and Paving Way for No-Decision Bout with Louis.

New York, Nov. 21.—If Joe Gould, champion Jimmy Braddock's manager, feels today as he did last night, the heavyweight situation will have stopped travelling around in circles by tonight.

Gould said last night that he would turn over to the New York State Athletic Commission today a check for $5,000, guaranteeing the champion would go through with an agreement for a title fight with Max Schmeling next June.

If this is done, and the articles of agreement for the Braddock-Schmeling fight are signed, the negotiations for a proposed twelve-round no decision fight between the titleholder and Joe Louis in Atlantic City next February should shift into high gear.

With the posting of the check, the Commission's threat of suspension for Braddock and Louis would be lifted. The boxing body ruled that the champion must sign for the Schmeling fight before putting his name on the dotted line for a go with the Brown Bomber.

The Commission gave Gould until December 15 to post the $5,000 guarantee, but Gould's announced intention to put the money on the line today indicated that he planned to sign for the Louis fight shortly.

Herman Taylor, Philadelphia promoter, guaranteed the champion $300,000 to fight Louis and brought $100,000 of it here this week as evidence of his good intentions.

Rowe, Gould asked time to think it over because of possible difficulties with Madison Square Garden, with which Braddock is signed for his first title defence.

The Commission made its ruling when representatives of Madison Square Garden, co-promoter of the fight, sought to ascertain the exact status with the New York commission of the proposed no decision contest in Atlantic City.

James J. Johnston, Garden promoter, was told by Chairman John J. Phelan that his body has only two interests in the matter—to see that Braddock first signs articles for a Schmeling fight and to satisfy itself that the champion is again in good physical condition.

Johnston then said if Braddock is physically fit to fight Louis in February the Garden would insist he defend his title then instead of next June.

Schmeling is agreeable, he could put the show in the Garden or maybe take it to Florida," he said.

Commissioner Bill Brown asked what would be done if Braddock goes ahead and fights Louis before signing the Schmeling contract and posting a $5,000 cheque as a guarantee.

Phelan said the commission could and probably would suspend both Braddock and Louis—the former for breach of contract and Louis as the party of the second part.

Johnston told the commission he would urge Braddock's title be vacated if the champion fails to sign for his title defence, but Phelan said the commission would not do that.

"Titles are won and lost in the ring," he said.

The resolution would have provided for "securing of legitimate employment by reason of sports ability." This would be the "hockey" clause.

Capitalization of sports ability in obtaining work was not submitted as a separate resolution and, incorporated in the resolution aimed to broaden interpretation of "expenses," it also was defeated 92-70.

A clause in the alternative resolution would have provided for "securing of legitimate employment by reason of sports ability." This would be the "hockey" clause.

UNION REJECTS THREE AMATEUR RULE CHANGES

Motion Favoring Exhibition Games Between Amateurs and Pros Is Only One of Four C.A. H.A. Resolutions Approved by Dominion's Amateur Body.

Regina, Nov. 21.—The annual meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada drew toward its close today with controversial questions apparently settled to the satisfaction of a majority, but with the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association's future position in doubt.

Hockey's "four points," aimed to knock a few bars from the barrier separating amateurs and professionals, held attention most of yesterday and rejection of three of the proposals led to a statement from C.A.H.A. delegates that they believed that body would nevertheless stand by its motion to accept the four points.

"We believe our proposals are for the best interests of sport in Canada," said a statement issued by W. G. Hardy, first vice-president, and George Dudley, second vice-president. Future C.A.H.A. action would have to be considered by its officers.

"At any rate, there is no idea at present in the mind of C.A.H.A. officers that there will be any recession from these four-point proposals," Hardy and Dudley stated.

President W. A. Fry, of the Union, declined to comment beyond saying "it is a matter for the hockey associations."

The rejected points would permit: "The selection of athletes for time lost while competing; participation of professionals in one line of sport as amateurs in other lines, and capitalization of athletic ability in obtaining employment."

The Union accepted a provision that amateur and professional teams may play exhibition games sanctioned by the governing body of the sport concerned.

On motion of Judge Jackson, of Lethbridge, Alta., past president of the Union, a committee was set up to place the question of payment to athletes for lost time before the International Athletic Federation.

Delegates had claimed adoption of this point, together with the "intermingling" of professionals and amateurs would bar Canada from participation in Olympic Games and other international events.

Hockey carried on a battle during the morning session and, a greater part of the afternoon for a provision that athletes might receive payment for time lost while competing. Finally a polled vote of 118-40.

Supporting hockey in the "broken time" proposal were Eastern Ontario and the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association with the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association voting six votes against and three in favor. Southwestern Ontario did not vote.

An alternative C.A.H.A. resolution would have deleted the words "intermingling" and "hockey" which qualify "expenses" payable to athletes.

George Dudley, president of the Ontario Hockey Association, stated the C.A.H.A. wished to make clear if the alternative were adopted it would interpret "expenses" in any way that the hockey associations desired.

The resolution would have provided for "securing of legitimate employment by reason of sports ability." This would be the "hockey" clause.

Capitalization of sports ability in obtaining work was not submitted as a separate resolution and, incorporated in the resolution aimed to broaden interpretation of "expenses," it also was defeated 92-70.
