IMMIGRATION THAT WOULD BRING MORE PEOPLE BUT WITH CAREFUL SELECTION

Government Policy, Says Minister, Was To Welcome Immigration Generally, No Matter What The Occupation, Provided New Comers Were Physically And Mentally Sound

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—Moderation of immigration restrictions which would bring more people to Canada but would not mean the elimination of the selective principle, was approved today by Provincial representatives who addressed the immigration conference which closed this evening.

In a final review of the discussions which had taken place at the conference, Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Immigration, referred to the "open door policy" which had been receiving so much attention of late. The government of the day, he said, must always reserve to itself the right of final inspection at the port of entry.

Another matter Mr. Robb referred to in his final remarks was that of transportation rates. He was not satisfied, he said, but that rates for immigrants were susceptible to some reduction in view of the fact that the large proportion of the personnel on the steamships coming to Atlantic ports were drawn from Great Britain, where unemployment was so rife, he was unable to accept the transportation companies' claims as to their increased cost of operation.

Canada today was in as good shape as it could be in any other of the countries which had participated in the Great War. The Minister emphasized the healthy condition of Canada's foreign trade and said that people from other countries were not being invited to come over and help pay the national debt, but they were invited to come to Canada and share in her prosperity.

Stressed Five Important Points. Speaking as a transportation official, Col. J. S. Denis, Commissioner of Colonization for the C.P.R., stressed five important points which he thought should receive careful consideration in formulating a comprehensive immigration policy. They were:—

Invitation, selection, transportation, distribution and consolidation. The Dominion Government should extend the invitation to people in Canada, Col. Denis maintained. This had not been done in the past and he felt it was a mistake, which he was glad to hear the Government intended to rectify.

Selection was important, the speaker admitted. This should be carried out in the native country of the immigrant. So far as transportation was concerned he felt that the accommodation afforded by North American steamships and Canadian railways was the best possible. He referred to the C.P.R. as the greatest colonizing influence which had been felt in Canada.

Hon. George Headley, Minister of Agriculture, for Alberta, contended that the selection of immigrants should be made in their native land by officials of the Dominion government and that this important matter should not be left in the hands of interested parties.

Mr. Robb's suggestion that steamship rates should be lowered was touched upon by several of the transportation representatives. Col. Denis thought there should be a decrease but added that he was not in the transportation department of the company.

Hon. J. E. Meyers of Prince Edward Island voiced opposition to any proposal which looked to bringing only farmers to Canada. The farmer today, he said, was raising pork and beef, for which the demand was not sufficient to command remunerative prices.

Production Need More Population. If production were doubled, he asked, how could it be disposed of? The railways needed increased population, he admitted and more people would mean a larger demand for Canadian goods. But, he said, immigrants of all callings and professions must be brought in, he they

OFFICERS' LEAGUE SEND THE PRINCE THEIR GREETINGS

NOT A MENACE

Leading Newspaper Does Not Believe His Presence Will Help Monarchists

Oels, Upper Silesia, Nov. 15.—Among the messages of welcome awaiting former Crown Prince Frederick William on his return to his castle here from exile in Holland was an effusive greeting from the League of former army and naval officers. The communication was addressed to His Imperial and Royal Highness, General of Infantry, Crown Prince Wilhelm.

In the message the former Crown Prince was welcomed as "our former army leader and illustrious comrade," and the hope was expressed that his activities and behaviour would prove themselves a blessing to the house of Hohenzollern and the German people. Among the signatories were numerous officers who served under the Crown Prince on the Western battlefield during the world war.

Breslau, Germany, Nov. 15.—Neighbourhood sentiment in Breslau refuses to wax warm over the advent of former Crown Prince Frederick William in Oels. It is taken for granted that he will be no Hitler and will promptly refuse to make his castle the headquarters for monarchial plotting.

No Menace to Republic. Cologne, Nov. 15.—The former Crown Prince, says the Volks Zeitung, the leading Catholic journal in the Rhineland, is no menace to the present republican form of government.

The newspaper adds that it believes Frederick William never will become a candidate or a rallying point for the monarchists.

It is inclined on the other hand to view him as an element which in all probability will constitute a disturbing factor in the monarchist ranks, in that it will keep them divided.

FOUR MURDERED BY "BAD MAN."

Killmer, Minn., Nov. 15.—Argument over a fifteen-year-old girl by two rival suitors resulted in the murder of four persons near this village today. Leonard Portano, the alleged murderer considered in this vicinity as a "bad man" had taken to woods after the murders. The girl is Myrtle Sanders, 15-years-old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sanders, victims of the desperado.

The Weather

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Pressure is high over the western portion of the continent and the Gulf of St. Lawrence and relatively low over Northern Ontario and the Great Lakes. The weather has been mild throughout the Dominion with light showers in Manitoba and Western Ontario.

Table with columns: City, Min., Max. Vancouver, 40, 40; Calgary, 20, 54; Edmonton, 28, 48; Regina, 23, 35; Winnipeg, 32, 36; Port Arthur, 38, 44; Toronto, 29, 36; Ottawa, 30, 42; Montreal, 30, 42; Quebec, 28, 40; St. John, 30, 44; Halifax, 32, 46.

Lower Lakes and Georgian Bay — Moderate to southwesterly winds, mostly cloudy with some showers. Ottawa Valley and Upper St. Lawrence — Moderate winds; mild with showers.

Lower St. Lawrence — Moderate winds; cloudy and mild; becoming showery. Gulf and North Shore — Moderate winds, fair and cold; probably followed by showers in western districts at night.

Maritime — Moderate winds; not much change in temperature; probably showers by Saturday. Lake Superior — Fresh northwest winds; partly cloudy; stationary or a little lower temperature.

Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta — Fair; not much change in temperature.

STUNNED BUCK BY THROWING STONE. Brockville, Ont., Nov. 15.—Dazzled by the headlights of his motor car a buck weighing 135 pounds dressed was stunned by a stone hurled at his head by Simon Richards, Carleton Place, on the road between Ferguson Falls and Lanark and finally dispatched by him and his companion, Vincent Stafford, with a jack knife.

Richards intended starting upon a hunting trip the following day but abandoned it.

ALLIED COUNCIL OF AMBASSADORS STILL UNDECIDED

Unable To Agree As To What Should Be Done With The Crown Prince

NO MORE JUSTIFIED

Asking His Expulsion Than That Of Other Heirs To Thrones

Paris, Nov. 15.—The Allied Council of Ambassadors, which readily reached an agreement to send a warning to Berlin respecting the ex-Crown Prince before he returned to Germany, seems unable to reach an accord as to action now that Frederick William has arrived in the fatherland. The Council adjourned until Saturday morning after a lengthy discussion today with the understanding that the members would seek instructions from their governments in the interim.

Great Britain, which took the initiative in notifying the German government that the return of the prince would be regarded as a grave menace now raises objections to action because of juridical difficulties. It was argued during today's session that the Allies were no more justified in asking the expulsion of the Hohenzollern heir than of the heirs to the other thrones in the Reich.

Will Not Resort To Force. The presence of former Crown Prince Ruprecht in Bavaria, it was pointed out, is quite as much a menace to the peace as the presence of Frederick William in Silesia or Prussia, and the suggestion was made that if the Allies engaged in forcing the prince into exile the task would lead them very far, with most doubtful chances of success, unless they resorted to force. Great Britain is understood to be stoutly opposed to any thought of the latter.

The French View. The French view is that the return of the Crown Prince, the threatened return of the ex-Kaiser and the protection which the Allies are demanding for their military control mission in Germany are all connected, forming really three different phases of the same question; that they ought to be treated together, and that, unless the Germans are made to understand that the Allies are determined that all the clauses of the treaty must be respected, there is no hope of obliging them to execute any part of the treaty.

We posit a happy life in tranquility of mind.

A SECOND BOWSTRING

Dear Reader, Was considered a wise and even necessary precaution by old-time archers and, similarly, the publisher of today usually finds it good business to maintain a commercial printing plant by way of supplement to the earnings of the newspaper proper.

Even with the combined revenue from circulation and advertising, the paper of high standards is not able to keep many jumps ahead of the cost of production and distribution and, for that reason, the "job department" is frequently looked to, to provide a modest return on the capital that has been invested in the enterprise.

When you patronize a commercial printer whose activities are confined solely to "job work", you get the work that you have ordered and nothing more. By dealing with a newspaper print shop, on the other hand, you not only get your order filled but are also helping to maintain the newspaper on the basis of a nominal charge to the subscriber. Put otherwise, every dollar that you spend away from the newspaper office makes it so much harder for the publisher to give you the news of the world for two cents.

We do not desire to be unfair to any commercial printer, nor to solicit business under the guise of charity. The proposition is essentially a business one for us, and we want it to be the same for you. Place your work by all means where you believe that you will get the most value for the least money. But where other things are equal, think of the newspaper value you receive before turning away from the newspaper shop.

Are we not entitled to ask, at least, that you will give us a chance to quote on every order you may have to place? It cannot cost you any more to do so and will probably help you to make a saving. We are confident of our ability to satisfy you in the matters of price and workmanship but, if we cannot do it in fair competition, we shall have no complaints to make.

If you appreciate, then, the public service we are rendering, we urge that, in addition to subscribing for it and patronizing its advertisers, you will give a just share of your printing work, if nothing more, to THE QUEBEC CHRONICLE.

LABOR CENSURE MOTION WAS DEFEATED IN HOUSE AMID GOVERNMENT CHEERS

Formal Dissolution Of Commons Will Take Place Today And Struggle Will Be Transferred To Constituencies—Premier Told Parliament Something About Tariff Plans

London, Nov. 15.—The House of Commons to-night, after a debate in which the Prime Minister and Mr. Lloyd George took part and much heckling and derisive remarks were indulged in, rejected the Labor motion of censure introduced by J. Ramsay MacDonald, by a vote of 285 to 190 amid Ministerial cheers.

The Government thus maintained its parliamentary majority, and cleared for formal dissolution tomorrow, when the struggle, which already bears evidence of being of an exceptionally determined character, will be transferred from the Parliament to the constituencies. Ministers and members alike will distribute themselves all over the country, where a great oratorical campaign is already in full swing.

Premier Baldwin today told the House of Commons something about his tariff plans and the reasons for precipitating a general election. He was specific regarding only what he proposes to exclude from taxation, that is, wheat, flour and meat, including mutton and bacon, and cheese and butter and eggs.

For everything else the Prime Minister reserves "a perfectly free hand" for later decision. On what articles he proposes to raise the tariffs he awaits the advice of a committee appointed to consider the subject.

Plea For Necessity of Protection. His plea of necessity for protection was based largely on the argument that in the matter of tariff every nation's hand is against Great Britain. Several nations, especially the United States, Italy and Spain, had greatly increased tariffs since the war.

Mr. Baldwin's speech was in no sense an oration. He gave the House a perfectly plain talk, such as the Chairman of the company might give to his board of directors. On foreign affairs, which under the excitement of the impending campaign, are almost forgotten, he said, the Allies had been informed that the British people could not continue indefinitely to maintain the spirit necessary for co-operation under the existing situation and he deplored the failure to accomplish anything without American co-operation.

Mr. Lloyd George replied briefly, criticizing the Government's policy in calling a general election. He maintained that a settlement in Europe would be better remedy for unemployment than tariffs and regretted that the Government had dropped international negotiations just when the United States had joined with Great Britain in them.

The Labor members heckled both speakers, wanting to know particularly what Mr. Lloyd George had done for the unemployed when he was in power.

The debate was started by J. Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the Opposition, who offered a vote of censure to the Government. Mr. MacDonald said that over a third of the unemployed were from the engineering and other metal trades. The engineering and iron and steel trades in the first nine months of 1923 had imported goods to the value of £19,000,000 and exported to the amount of £14,000,000. Tariff reform in such conditions offered no help for the unemployed. Bringing agriculture with £11,000,000 annually, he asserted, was of doubtful legality.

Altogether today's session was a tame affair, contrasting sharply with other historic days when other Prime Ministers have had to expound policies of vital importance to the nation's destinies. During his remarks on the tariff, Mr. Baldwin said that what the Government desired was a release from the pledge made by the late Andrew Bonar Law, to enable the Government to impose duties on manufactures generally for the purpose of revenue and tariff negotiation, together with full power to impose larger duties when the circumstances of particular industries so required.

The safeguarding of industries act, he said, "could only deal with Germany, and there are more countries than Germany threatening our industries today. To negotiate effectively, to give Dominion preference or to raise revenue, you must make your duties general. Even if they be but duties for revenue purposes you could have free trade by negotiation."

MINISTERS COMING HOME ON REGINA

Large Party Of Czechoslovaks And Rumanians For Quebec And Ontario

On her last voyage of the present St. Lawrence season, the White Star-Dominion liner Regina is expected to arrive at Father Point at 5 a.m. Saturday, at Quebec some time Saturday afternoon and at Montreal on Sunday.

The Regina is bringing home to Canada a large list of travellers amongst whom are a number of ministers and others returning from the sessions of the Imperial Conference held recently in London.

Those on the Regina include Duncan Marshall, Commissioner of Agriculture; Dr. Charles Cansell, Deputy Minister of Mines; Hon. A. C. Hardy, member of the Provincial Government of Ontario, and F. C. Blair, secretary of the department of immigration and colonization. Others on the Regina include Little Miriam Hulme, aged five, who is travelling unescorted to her father in Winnipeg; a large party under the auspices of the British Dominion Emigration Aid Society, a big party of Czechoslovaks and Rumanians coming to work in the Quebec and Ontario lumber camps and a party in charge of the Empire Settlement League.

Commenting on the number of passengers which the Regina has carried during the present season, an official of the company stated yesterday that the ship had during the past year made eight round voyages to Montreal, and that she had carried over 10,000 passengers in two classes to and from this country. "A remarkable tribute to the popularity of the ship is the fact that during the two years in which she has been in service she has carried more passengers out of Montreal than any other vessel in the Canadian trade," he said.

BELFAST SHIPYARDS LAUNCH 102,000 TONS

Total For Past Nine Months Exceeds That For Same Period In 1922

During the nine months ending Sept. 30 eight steamers aggregating 102,000 tons were launched from Belfast shipyards as against nine of 89,943 tons on the corresponding period of 1922. In the same period four new vessels launched prior to January 1 were completed and two vessels aggregating 46,000 tons were reconditioned. Comparatively few new orders were booked, the principal of these being the two 21,000 motor vessels for the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company now under construction at the new yard of Harland & Wolff. Workman, Clark & Company secured two cargo boats for the Court Line, of London, and Harland & Wolff a passenger vessel for the Belfast Steamship Company which has not yet been laid down. Half the building berths in the port are empty as they were at the beginning of the year and it is over two years since a keel had been laid down in the Abercrombie Basin yard of the Harland & Wolff, the bulk of whose work has for some time been concentrated on the new yard at the Muskycave Channel. Harland & Wolff have launched 65,000 tons of shipping this year and Workman, Clark & Co. 33,000 tons—four ships in each case. There will be three or four more launches this year so that the total for the year will be considerably more than that of 1922, although it does not follow that there has been so much more activity this year.

Why Bovril puts pep into people—

MEAT is of the highest dietetic value. It not only supplies the necessary protein to our bodies, but directly stimulates cellular activity, says Prof. E. F. Cathcart, speaking to the British Association.

That is why Bovril, which contains all the most valuable part of beef in highly concentrated form, fills you full of "Pep" and does away with "that sinking feeling."

Scientific Excellence.

"My exhaustive analysis proves that Zam-Buk is possessed of anti-septic and bactericidal power which promptly alleviates skin disorders due to parasites and pathogenic organisms. Moreover its astringent and balsamic constituents render Zam-Buk an emollient of rare healing power.

"Zam-Buk's constituents are exclusively of herbal origin, it contains none of the irritating mineral drugs and animal fats commonly found in ordinary ointments.

"In my opinion Zam-Buk, is well adapted for treatment of superficial injuries and prevalent skin disorders."

NEW BRITISH LIFEBOAT MAKES APPEARANCE

A strange motorboat painted red and blue, bulky in the beam, with a single mast and peculiar contraptions on her deck, came out of Cowes Harbor, England, at dawn recently and made her way through Spithead at 11 knots. She was the William and Kate Johnston, described as the largest and most complete lifeboat in the world. The new craft is fitted with every device man's ingenuity can conceive for fighting storm and saving life. Her length is 60 feet and she is 16 feet wide. She is driven with twin propellers in protective funnels, and her engines are two six-cylinder 20 horse power motors. The engines are encased in separate watertight compartments full of water for three hours, and kept going full speed all the time. Forward and aft of the engine are cabins, each capable of holding 25 people. One has a stove, and for the first time the rescued will have shelter, warmth and food immediately they get aboard. The lifeboat can hold 150 persons in cabins and on deck.

VETS. BAZAAR ATTRACTS MANY

Opened Last Evening By Hon. F. Carrel—Many Pleasing Features

Never before has the quarters of the Quebec Unit 33 of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association presented such a festive and animated appearance as they did last evening when the Bazaar and Sale of Work was formally opened by the Hon. Frank Carrel.

Lieut.-Colonel J. S. O'Meara, President of the unit introduced the Hon. Frank Carrel to the large assemblage, and the latter gentleman in the course of a short address first thanked the Unit for having done him the honor of asking him to open the Bazaar. Continuing, he said he was not quite certain whether or not an address was expected, but to judge by the heavily laden tables around them, with impatient crowds of purchasers, it would be only necessary to say a few words. He felt, however, that he would be lacking in his duty, if he did not congratulate the good ladies who have helped to organize the Bazaar, but it was also the duty of the public to do its best to make the final results a huge success. The splendid work carried on by the Army and Navy Veterans among their less fortunate comrades deserves every commendation, but it is necessary to carry on this work of assistance, and as would ask those present not to forget the charitable object for which the entertainment had been organized. Mr. Carrel then mentioned several cases that had recently come before the Association where assistance had been freely given and the receipts sent from Quebec to points where they could be looked after by friends and employment found for them. He then declared the Bazaar formally open, with all best wishes for its ultimate success.

Following the ceremony of opening, the public quickly crowded round the different stalls at which many varieties of articles were on sale at reasonable prices; among which were home-made articles, fancy work, dolls, plants, flowers, gift packages, sweet green baskets, stationery, groceries, kitchenware, electric articles, etc. Those in charge of the various stalls and their assistants were kept quite busy disposing of their respective wares, and if the sales for the next two days are as brisk as they were last evening, then there is no reason to think otherwise than that the Bazaar will be an unequalled success.

Besides the stalls there were also a number of those side lines which are necessary to the success of such ventures as this, such as rifles, shotguns, and a number of articles of greater value, such as a complete radio set, tea wagons, etc., for which there was a great demand for tickets.

The tea room, under the direction of Mrs. J. Sharples did an immense business, and proved a great attraction to the many ladies in charge.

Home-made articles—Mrs. H. P. Blodreau and Mrs. J. A. Ellis. Fancy Work—Mrs. J. McQuillan and Mrs. A. Staten.

Dolls—Mrs. F. Nicol and Mrs. G. H. Garlick.

The Band of the Royal 22nd Regiment, under the direction of Captain Chas. O'Neill rendered a splendid selection of music during the course of the evening. Today and tomorrow there will be a mandolin and guitar orchestra on hand.

All the rooms as well as the hall were tastefully decorated with palms, bunting and colored streamers, adding not a little to the attractiveness of the event.

The Bazaar will be continued this afternoon from 2 o'clock, and also tomorrow from the same hour.

LOOKING FORWARD TO HEAVY EXPORT BUSINESS

Montreal, Que., Nov. 15—E. N. Todd, Freight Traffic Manager Canadian Pacific Railway announced today that the company is looking forward to an exceptionally heavy export business from the port of St. John, N.B., this winter. A very heavy grain movement is anticipated and to accommodate this the Canadian Pacific will operate its two elevators in West St. John, day and night. In addition to the regular line calling at St. John, Mr. Todd stated that the new Scandinavian-American line would use the harbor and make for the additional prosperity of the port.

It is hardly possible to suspect another, without having in one's self the seeds of baseness the party is accused of.

He who has received a kindness ought to have it on his memory, and not the man who bestowed it.

HAS MUCH TO LEARN FROM NEIGHBOR PROVINCE

Ottawa, Nov. 15—That the control of the Ottawa river should be placed in the hands of a joint commission, agreed upon by the Federal, Ontario and Quebec Provincial Governments, so that it could be dammed so as to regulate a proper flow of water, was the suggestion offered by E. St. Jean, member of the Hull Industrial and Publicity Commission, speaking to Hull Rotarians yesterday.

Mr. St. Jean stated that Ontario had much to learn from its neighboring province with regard to water control, and that if such a commission was appointed as he suggested the existing interference with industrial and manufacturing concerns at the Chaudiere, which occur seasonally owing to high and low water, would be done away with.

CUSTOMS COLLECTOR AT NEW YORK

Winnipeg, Nov. 15—Appointment of a Canadian collector of Customs at New York will be recommended to the Federal Government by Hon. Jacques Bureau, Minister of Customs and Excise, in response to many appeals, he declared here today.

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 15—The official closing up of the voting records in the recent liquor plebiscite will not be possible, it is thought, until about the middle of December.

Athabasca, which is the most remote and difficult electoral district in the Province will need another month, according to its returning officer, to get in all the ballots. Peace River, the other northern district, expects to make better time and will be ready by the end of this month.

WOLVES HAVE BECOME SERIOUS MENACE IN PARTS OF MISSOURI

Washington, Nov. 15—Wolves are more of a menace in many sections of Missouri this year than they have been within the last 40 years and the state and federal governments have combined to exterminate them.

So troublesome have they become to live stock and poultry that a special appropriation of $15,000 for fighting them was made by the state. The biological survey of the Department of Agriculture is operating and bearing part of the expense of wolf trappers. The government has sent an inspector to select trappers, plan and direct their work, and to receive requests from counties needing assistance.

Missouri wolf No. 17 was killed near Rolla, Phelps county, early in September, and since then wolves have been trapped in other counties.

Drafts Of Two New Conventions Have Been Sent To Great Britain

Washington, Nov. 15—Drafts of two conventions giving the United States full equality of commercial opportunities in former German territories mandated to Great Britain and her Dominions have been sent by the United States State Department to the British Government for its consideration.

The territories covered include Naru Island, mandated to Great Britain the former German possessions in the Pacific, south of the Equator which were assigned to Australia; Western Samoa, assigned to New Zealand and the South African protectorate, assigned to the South African Government.

While no reply has been received from the British Government, it is believed that the conventions will be approved as soon as the British officials have had an opportunity to study them.

GERMANY LEADS WORLD IN POTATO PRODUCTION

Washington, Nov. 15—Nobody knows just how many potatoes are grown in the world yearly, but the Department of Agriculture estimates more than 5,000,000,000 bushels were harvested last year, exclusive of Russia and the many small patches grown in gardens for home use the world over.

Northwestern Europe is the world's greatest potato producing region because of favorable soil and climatic conditions and its climatic conditions and its people utilize the potato to a greater extent in their diet, in the manufacture of alcohol, and as feed for livestock than in other sections of the world. Germany is the world's largest producer of potatoes, producing 1,484,181,000 bushels last year. The United States produced 451,185,000 bushels last year.

HON. E. LAPOINTE TALKS OF WEST

Entertains Knights Of Columbus With Instructive Talk On Western Provinces

The Hon. E. Lapointe, in the course of an interesting speech at the Knights of Columbus dinner last evening, referred to a trip he recently made out West. He said that Canadians generally did not know their own country. In the old days it had taken weeks to cross the continent but at the present time it took but a few days. Today, in the train-de-luxe it was a pleasure to cross over from Halifax to Vancouver, but there was a time when the trip was not so pleasant.

In the far west he felt bound to admit that the climate was far more pleasant than in the East. Throughout the year the climate was equable. There were no sudden snow storms and at the same time there were no sudden heat waves. As far as climate went he felt that the West had the advantage.

It was a pity, he thought, that East and West could not become more at one on matters of a political nature. If they would only get together then a good many problems would be solved.

The speaker referred to sport in the West and said that sport was more generally popular than in the East. Sport, he considered, was a great factor in the determination of the destiny of a race for sport went hand in hand with more serious matters. In the question of education the West was well advanced. There were over 6000 students drawn from a very limited population. There were great possibilities in the West and these possibilities were made the most of by the population in the way of advertisement.

One thing particularly, the speaker noticed, and that was that every meeting was concluded with the singing of "O Canada". He thought that this foretold a love of country. It was a love that as well might be developed in the East as in the West.

After he had resumed his seat a vote of thanks was moved, seconded and carried with loud applause.

LEGAL EXPERTS HAVE PERFECTED LIQUOR TREATY

Agreement In Connection With Search Of Ships At Sea Completed

London, Nov. 15—The British legal experts have perfected the draft of the liquor search treaty from their standpoint and the document is now being examined by Secretary of State Hughes and his advisers.

When the United States authorities have brought the treaty into a shape considered impregnable against attack regarding its form and constitutionality, the document will be returned to the Foreign Office here for further scrutiny and study. The completed treaty is expected to be signed some time before the United States Congress re-assembles.

Distance Not Be Specified. As already indicated, the right of the United States authorities under the proposed treaty to seize and search British-owned vessels suspected of carrying alcohol contraband will not be restricted to any arbitrary radius like twelve miles but will extend to a reasonable range from the United States shore.

The element of distance will be embraced in the broad general term "an hour's steaming distance from shore."

The question of distance within which search might be made was purposely left open by the British legal experts who are anxious to committing the government to any precise distance in miles on the ground that any specific or arbitrary limit might constitute an impairment of the traditional three-mile limit which is the foundation of British maritime governing territorial waters.

RUMP CABINET CANNOT SURVIVE

Stresemann's Gov't. Will Go Down Before Nationalists And Socialists

Berlin, Nov. 15—The Rhineland and the Ruhr and the numerous internal and foreign issues interlocked with them, together with the immediate economic and political future of Germany, now constitute the outstanding problems confronting the Government of Chancellor Stresemann, and, although the Reichstag at present is not in session and Berlin still is without its regular complement of newspapers, political circles confidently predict that the Stresemann "rump Cabinet" will not be able to survive the Parliamentary attacks awaiting it from the German Nationalists and the powerful Socialist parties.

The situation with regard to the Government's decisions concerning the Ruhr and the Rhineland remains wholly obscure tonight, although inspired official bulletins and utterances continue to make emphatic declaration of the Government's intention to withdraw money subsidies and unemployment doles, permitting the situation in the occupied zones to lapse into an informal industrial and economic autonomy.

Chancellor Stresemann will go before the Reichstag's committee on foreign relations Saturday for the purpose of discussing the negotiations now going on with the Ruhr and Rhineland leaders. He will inform the parliamentarians that the Government no longer is capable of "mothering" the occupied areas, and that a resumption of reparations by Germany is out of the question, as long as the Ruhr and the Rhineland are removed from German jurisdiction or France declines to arrive at an amicable working agreement with the industrialists and Germany's local administrative organization.

In the event that political pressure does not force a change in the policy of the Government, it is believed the local authorities in the occupied regions will be empowered to deal with the French and Belgian regime, thus making the future of the areas dependent upon such agreements as may be effected in local negotiations. This also, it is pointed out, would place a preponderant share of the responsibility for the people's fate on the shoulders of France and Belgium.

POPPIES SOLD WELL IN SILLERY

Large Number Of People Responded To Appeal For Funds For Needy

Sillery, Nov. 15—(Special Correspondence) Poppy Day was quite a success this year, the greater number of people responding cheerfully to the appeal though the sums given in most cases were small.

Judging from experience in past years some of the collectors started out in a very pessimistic frame of mind but when the ten cent pieces began to drop into the boxes with a sprinkling of quarters and even a bill or two, their spirits rose accordingly. Perhaps it was the beautiful sunny day that helped open the purses of the public and brought smiles to their faces, even the dog and cats sunning themselves on the doorsteps wagged and purred welcomes to the Poppy ladies.

There were refusals of course, but mostly given with an apology.

The Armistice Day service in St. Michael's church was very impressive, the silence of two minutes during which the congregation stood was preceded by the singing of the hymn "O God our help in ages past" and followed by the National Anthem. During the service Kipling's Recessional was very feelingly sung by the choir and congregation and the hymn "For those in peril on the sea" was sung for our sailors. The Rector took for his text Psalm 30-5 "Heaviness may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning."

The sale in aid of St. Michael's W. A., which was postponed from November 3rd will be held in the school house, St. Louis Road, on Saturday the 17th. Home-made bread, cake and candy, jam and pickles, fruit and vegetables will be for sale and tea will be served from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Flowers instead of snow in November are a novelty in Quebec, last week a bouquet of seven or eight different kinds of blossoms was gathered and raspberry blossoms and farmed fruit were noticed.

Not always actions show the man; we find. Who does a kindness is not therefore kind; Perhaps prosperity becalmed his breast; Perhaps the wind just shifted from South; Not therefore humble he who seeks retreat. Pride guides his steps, and bids him shun the great.—Pope.

FISCAL MOVE OF BALDWIN VERY IMPORTANT

Former Premier Believes Dominion Would Benefit Through Preference

Hamilton, Ont., November 15—Canada has a deep interest in the fiscal crisis through which Great Britain is now passing and the attitude of the British public towards the preference proposals of Premier Stanley Baldwin will have a big bearing upon the future prosperity of the Dominion, according to the declarations made here tonight by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, in the course of an address before the Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce of Ontario.

The matter was of such vital importance to Canada that he felt all business men should comprehend the significance of the fiscal move on the part of the British Premier and should realize that a consistent preference trade policy for the British Empire would be one of overshadowing importance in the development of Canadian export trade.

While all the Dominions would undoubtedly benefit by any such a policy as Mr. Baldwin is seeking to put into effect, Hon. Mr. Meighen said he was confident that Canada would benefit most of all.

Has Advantage of Distance. That would be due to the fact that Canada has the advantage of distance over the other Dominions and to the further fact that industrial development has gained the firmest foothold in this country of any part of the Dominions.

Even if Canada were to get preference in nothing more than her manufactured goods—though Hon. Mr. Meighen trusted it would come for the products of the farm as well—the benefits to this country would be almost incalculable. The past had already demonstrated that. As a direct result, Mr. Meighen was certain that any adoption of British preference on manufactured goods on a large scale would mean the immediate influx of factories into Canada from the United States for the big industrial operators across the line would be keen to take advantage of the preference.

Capital Would Come to Canada. While taking advantage of the preference in that manner their capital would come to Canada for investment and their wage bills would be paid to Canada instead of to workers in their own country. So Hon. Mr. Meighen felt that the efforts of factories into Canada should be directed towards furthering the aims of Premier Baldwin.

"It does not behoove us to retire in shyness," he continued, "but by that I don't mean that we should cross the water to harangue the British sectors."

The way in which Canada should have reached the theory of preference was through the Imperial Conferences, for if

CARAVAN HEALTH CAMPAIGNS.

The name of Emmeline Pankhurst has been always a synonym for the unusual, the courageous and the effective. Whether as a notable social and political worker in her native city of Manchester; a militant leader demanding political justice for her sex in Britain; mobilizer of an industrial army of women, during the war; as organizer of the land army of "farmettes"; fighting striking labor unions and miners of Wales; or going as special emissary to Russia to report to the British Government on conditions in that country; or, since coming to Canada, becoming a citizen of the Dominion and a staff worker on the Canadian Social Hygiene Council for whom she has addressed hundreds of audiences from coast to coast, or as a health caravaner and crusader now allied with two other intrepid women gossellers, Mrs. Pankhurst has always maintained the same high level of selfless sacrifice for a cause and of doing the unusual thing.

She came to Canada three years ago, was first resident in Victoria, but is now established permanently, with her daughter—the almost equally famous—Christabel, and their four war orphaned little girls, in a modest home in Toronto. From this base she works unceasingly for the Social Hygiene Council, an organization created through the vision and efforts of Dr. Gordon Bates, its present Secretary, and now nation wide in its scope.

Recently, Mrs. Pankhurst, accompanied by Mrs. R. A. Kennedy, President of the Ottawa Women's Club, and Miss Estelle Hewson, Ontario Secretary of the Canadian Social Hygiene Council, departed on a five weeks' motor tour of Northern Ontario. They travelled every day, talked every afternoon and evening, covered some three thousand miles of territory, addressed twenty-five meetings big and small, and came in personal touch with over five thousand people. Miss Hewson ran the car, arranged the meetings, managed the finance and organized new councils; Mrs. Kennedy, a notable humanitarian and social worker, was the "mixer" for the party, giving the glad hand to all and sundry, while Mrs. Pankhurst preached the gospel of racial betterment through social hygiene, which she describes on all occasions as "the great crusade of the twentieth century and perhaps the greatest reform movement of all time."

Results of this truth telling, health campaign in the north included the formation of several Branch Councils, the organizing of many groups of workers, the lining up of medical health officers, doctors, nurses, ministers, judges, magistrates, business and club men, mothers of families, clubwomen and business women in the cause of community health; the distribution of much educational literature, besides, a general awakening of the citizenry to the dangerous menace in all places of venereal diseases.

So successful were they in punching home their message of health and interesting their audiences, which varied from fashionable summer colonies in Muskoka to lumber jacks in the saw mill towns, miners along the North Shore, farmers in Manitoulin Island and the usual gatherings in the larger towns, that they were enabled to pay the expenses of the tour through the generous offerings made all along the way.

Another tour was immediately planned, this time into Eastern Ontario, where the three social hygiene gossellers caravanned through the big district enclosed, roughly in the triangle made by Toronto, Cornwall and Pembroke. They covered not less than two thousand miles of territory, visited some twenty towns, and distributed quantities of educational literature. Big meetings in Kingston, Brockville and Smith's Falls where the Pankhurst party appeared reinforced on the platform by Dr. Gordon Bates, the General Secretary of the Hygiene Council, and Dr. J. J. Heagerty, Chief of the Division for Venereal Disease, Control in the Federal Department of Health, who presented the purely medical aspects of racial improvement through social hygiene. In Ottawa Mrs. Pankhurst was the special speaker at one of the sessions of the Eastern Convention of the Women's Institutes as well as at a luncheon of the Women's Club and in Kingston she appeared before the Rotary Club. As a result of this tour the gossellers reported the formation of seven new councils and much public interest.

Backed as they are by both the Federal and Provincial Boards of Health, by the Women's Institutes throughout the Province and by many other powerful bodies of women, the social hygiene missionaries found this tour to be not less successful than the last and relied on their invariable text, which is, "every child in Canada ought to be assured of its threefold birthright of physical, mental and moral health," to gain them a hearing and hearty support wherever they went.

BRITISH WAGES SHRINKING.

Wages in British industry are continuing to show a downward trend according to official figures of the British Ministry of Labor. The downward readjustment has been especially marked in the shipbuilding trade but it also extends to various other trades.

The following detailed figures received by the Chronicle from the Bankers Trust Company, of New York, through its English Information Service show the changes in wage rates at the beginning of October, 1923, compared to the rates at the same period of 1922 and at the end of 1920 when wartime inflation prevailed. These figures are of shillings and pence in every instance, a shilling normally equalling 24.3 cents:

Table with columns: Building Trades, Shipbuilding, Printing, etc., and rows for various trades like Bricklayers, Carpenters, Plasterers, etc., with wage rates for Oct. 1, 1920, Oct. 1, 1922, and Oct. 1, 1923.

Wage rates prevailing at October 1, of the present year, were, however, considerably above the rates paid in 1914. The rates in the building trades, above referred to, were from 90 per cent to 94 per cent above pre-war rates; in the shipbuilding trades they were 18 to 26 per cent above pre-war rates; printing, 107 to 117 per cent higher; furniture making 82 to 87 per cent up, and in baking, 141 per cent above pre-war wages.

Other figures are given indicating that in terms of food purchasing power British wages, as of August 1, exceeded those of various European countries. Assuming the average of London wages in the above trades—shipbuilding excepted—to be 100 in food purchasing power, the comparative figures show an average of 57 for Brussels, 94 for Christiania, Norway, 66 for Madrid, Spain; 86 for Paris; 77 for Prague, Czechoslovakia; 88 for Stockholm, Sweden; and 100 for Amsterdam, Holland.

Comparative figures for the United States are not given, but the average for Ottawa on the above basis was 183; indicating a much higher food purchasing power of wages in Canada than in Great Britain.

IMPERIAL POSTAGE.

Among the many important subjects brought up for consideration at the Imperial Economic Conference in London was that of inter-Imperial communication, by mail, cable and wireless services. The discussion was inaugurated by a speech by the British Postmaster-General, Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, who was followed by representatives of the overseas Dominions, led by Hon. Mr. G. P. Graham, our own Canadian Minister of Railways and Canals. It has long been a puzzle why people resident in Canada should have to pay four cents to correspond with the Old Country. It costs less to send a letter from the United States to Britain than it does to send it from Canada; while the person resident in the British Isles is likewise able to send his letter to Canada at a rate one cent lower than in the reverse direction.

Mr. Graham explained that the three-cent rate from Canada to the United States is due to the fact that there has been a convention on postal rates for the last half-century between the two countries; the implication, apparently being that, were it not for this convention, the charge would be higher.

The impression was further conveyed to the British authorities that it was for them to make the essential moves for bringing about an improvement (judging by the remark of the London Times that "they (the Dominion representatives) were all extremely polite, but they made it clear that, while they are ready and anxious to do everything in their power to bring their countries into closer touch with Great Britain, they look to this country to take the lead and to give them all the help in its power." In this matter of postal rates, at any rate, the next move would seem to lie with Canada, but Mr. Graham happily gives evidence of being alive to the importance of the question.

The Allied Powers don't know what to do with the German Crown Prince. We admit that it defeats us to think of anything useful.

Germany leaves the Rhineland to its own fate, which is perhaps the most helpful thing that Germany could do for the Rhineland.

Germany has also decided to repudiate the Versailles Treaty on the ground that it has been made a scrap of paper of by France and Belgium. When it comes to making scraps of paper Germany certainly ought to be an authority on what's what.

The delegates to the Imperial Conference have hidden each other farwell, but the cable report tells us nothing of the internal ejaculation of each of them: Thank Heavens I got through it without committing myself on or to anything!

A Verse Or Two

THANKSGIVING.

For dear Canada our own, For its beauties manifold, For it sunshine and its rain Bringing harvest-wealth untold— Dear Lord, we thank Thee! For those men, who stout of heart, Ventured o'er the unknown deep, Strove with Nature, quelled the foe, Sowed the harvest we now reap— Dear Lord, we thank Thee! For our splendid men who lie Where the Flanders poppies blow; For the rest who lived to keep Freedom's torch for us aglow— Dear Lord, we thank Thee! For our women clean and sweet, Loving truth and purity; For our Motherland so dear, For her strength on land and sea— Dear Lord, we thank Thee! —Constance I. Davies in Christian Guardian.

ENTIRELY TOO MUCH.

The Edmonton Bulletin says that at the present rate of going it would take about 1,500 days to put the Alberta crop through the Vancouver elevator, and that the accommodation would need to be enlarged ten times to handle the grain.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES.

This is the time of year when the goosebone prophets announce what kind of winter is in store for the country. The date of wild bird migrations, the thickness of fat on far bearing animals, the structure of muskrat houses, the size of the boards of nuts laid up by squirrels, the date when cockle bur withers, are some of the signs trusted by ignorant forecasters to determine the length and severity of the cold season.

WHAT NEWSPAPERS CORRECT.

Speaking of complaints of misrepresentation of public men by newspapers, the Almonte Gazette shows that there is something to be placed on the other side of the account. It tells of a temperance meeting held in a church in Ottawa, where the chairman, a well-known citizen, sat in the pulpit. He had evidently dined not wisely but too well. He fell asleep and snored audibly. "But the newspapers next day contained no story about a drunken chairman in a pulpit flanked by temperance orators. Of course, something might have been said if he hadn't really been a very excellent citizen and a good man."

In order to judge newspapers fairly, we must consider not only what they print, but what they refrain from printing. Not only is a good deal of charity exercised, but by investigation reporters often prevent the spread of wild rumors, which otherwise would grow bigger as they pass from one to another in conversation. Some of our readers may remember a poem telling of a story that a man had swallowed three black crows, which began with a story that he had swallowed something black. It has been observed that such marvellous tales often gain circulation on Sundays, when no newspapers are published.

MANY "MAYORS" IN NEW YORK

Only One Official Executive Head But Many Others Rule in Their District

New York, Nov. 15.—To the stranger and the uninitiated, New York, the metropolis, has only one mayor, John F. Hylan, but to those intimately acquainted with the highways and byways there are many more who, notwithstanding the informality of their choice, rule and hold title fully as strongly as the city's chief executive. There exist almost every kind of title on the East Side from mayor down to "clerk," and from "duke" to the most fledgling of princelings.

Not only do the "mayors" hold title in themselves, but the personality of some of these quasi rulers has been so strong that the fame and the glamor surrounding their names have been transmitted to their lineal descendants. So, for instance, did Edwin Steingut, "mayor of Second Avenue," come into the title which gives him social leadership in that section where he reigns.

Most of the city's "mayors" and "nobility" however, are the first possessors of their titles. Among the best known of these is "Stitch" McCarthy, "mayor of Grand Street," whose real name is said to be Rosenthal. His pool room "kingdom" at Grand and Forsyth streets has been one of the landmarks of the East Side for a generation.

McCarthy has numbered among his friends men who have risen to fame and fortune, including the late President Theodore Roosevelt and his son, Colonel Roosevelt. His claim for distinction is a double one, for not only is he "mayor of Grand Street," but he also is one of the two founders of the Grand St. Boys' Association, which now numbers on its rolls 1,500 men including judges, lawyers, senators and others of even greater distinction.

Fifth avenue's smartest clubs are no more exclusive and rigid in entrance requirements than this unique organization. One is ineligible unless born or "brought up" on the East Side below Fourteenth street, and sometimes not even then. "Uncle" Nathan Vidlicker, mayor of Eldridge street, who numbers many city and state members of the judiciary among his friends, has been "re-elected" to his position for the last twenty-one years. He recently sailed for Europe and among the host of friends who saw him off were three city magistrates, two judges, a banker and a wealthy manufacturer.

A mention of "mayors" is incomplete unless the city's "nobility" is accounted for and in this connection the "duke" of Essex street looms at the forefront. Joe Levy, whose dual estate for years has been the Essex Market Court, both old and new, probably is the leader in the city's princely ranks. Among others whose history is embellished with East Side glory is Max Berger, "mayor of Avenue C."

The East Side also has its poet laureate, but the title, as many East Side ones are apt to be, is in doubt. There are two on whom others would thrust it—"Doc" Morris Marx who with "Stitch" McCarthy originally organized the Grand Street Boys' Association, and Joe Levenson.

A man named Desmond, who was for ten years night watchman at the Roberval Hotel, and who has lately been assistant to Mr. R. E. He was crossing the pool alone, as he already had done thirty or forty times, when he suddenly became alarmed lest he should be thrown into the rapids, and losing his nerve, jumped into the river from his canoe, which was washed ashore while he was drowned. The scene of this drowning is a very beautiful expanse of water with heavy falls immediately above it, and another series of similar cascades immediately below.

98 Out of Every 100 Women Benefited

An Absolutely Reliable Statement Importantly to Every Woman

Remarkable Results Shown by a Nation Wide Canvass of Women Purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. 50,000 Women Answer

For some time a circular has been enclosed with each bottle of our medicine bearing this question: "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?" Replies, to date, have been received from over 50,000 women answering that question. 98 per cent of which say YES. That means that 98 out of every 100 women who take the medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it.

This is a most remarkable record of efficiency. We doubt if any other medicine in the world equals it. Think of it—only two women out of 100 received no benefit—98 successes out of a possible 100. Did you ever hear of anything like it? We must admit that we, ourselves, are astonished.

Such evidence should induce every woman suffering from any ailment peculiar to her sex to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and see if she can't be one of the 98

THE LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO., Cobourg, Ont. and Lynn, Mass.

Of course we know that our medicine does benefit the large majority of women who take it. But that only two out of 100 received no benefit is most astonishing.

It only goes to prove, however, that a medicine specialized for certain definite ailments—not a cure all—one that is made by the most scientific process; not from drugs, but from a combination of nature's roots and herbs, can and does do more good than hastily prepared prescriptions.

You see, we have been making, improving and refining this medicine for over 50 years until it is so perfect and so well adapted to women's needs that it actually has the virtue to benefit 98 out of every 100 women who take it. Its reliability and recognized efficiency has gained for it a sale in almost every country in the world—leading all others.

EXPECTED E. C. H. L. WILL KNOW FATE THIS EVENING

FATE OF EASTERN CANADA HOCKEY LEAGUE MAY BE KNOWN BY THIS EVENING

No Statement As To Result Of Vote Was Given Out After Q.A.H.A. Meeting—Votes Expected Today May Give League Necessary Majority—Considerable Opposition

Montreal, Nov. 15.—On the result of a few votes to be received regarding the fate of the Eastern Canada Hockey League, a new senior amateur body which proposes operating as a provincial organization and which was launched last spring with six clubs as members—Three Rivers, Quebec, and four Montreal clubs—M. A. A., Victoria, Nationals and Irish-Canadians.

When the officials of the Quebec Amateur Association met today to give the final vote on its membership relative to the application by the new league for admission into the Q. A. H. A. no statement of the result was vouchsafed, beyond that it was expected to have the full count completed by tomorrow evening at the latest.

Apparently there has been considerable opposition to the inclusion of the new organization, it being well known that several leagues voted against admission and it seems likely that the margin in the vote at present does not give the new body a safe passage into the fold, although completion of the vote expected tomorrow might provide the necessary majority.

In the meantime the Eastern Canada League officials are going ahead with their work of organization, though they are somewhat tied down in their actions until the Q. A. H. A. matter has been settled. The new league executive will meet here next Monday night to complete arrangements for the season, it being expected by that time that the way will be clear for them to proceed.

Only Four Clubs. The Eastern Canada Hockey League, which a few days ago was composed of six clubs—Sons of Ireland, Victoria, Irish-Canadians, Nationals, M. A. A. and Three Rivers—is now left with four clubs, if a report that reached here yesterday is correct.

According to what can be learned the Irish-Canadians and M. A. A. have resigned from the circuit, though no news of their withdrawal has been received by officials of the Sons of Ireland.

It seems that the two teams have decided to resign so as to permit the new league gaining admission to the Q. A. H. A. With four clubs operating from Montreal, it means the breaking up practically of the Montreal City League, and it is mainly for this reason that the two teams have withdrawn. It is thought here that M. A. A. and Irish-Canadians will join the Montreal City League, thereby permitting this league to operate and assuring an affirmative vote of this circuit in favor of the admission of the Eastern Canada League to the Q. A. H. A.

The Provincial, City and National Leagues, all operating here, have voted in favor of the new league being admitted to the Q. A. H. A.

HISTORY OF THE N.Y. YANKEES

Entered American League In 1902—Clark Griffith Was The Manager

New York, Nov. 15.—The New York Yankees, youngest club in the American League, pennant winners this year for the third consecutive time, brought an end to the first major league baseball war when they entered the circuit in the winter of 1902.

Frank J. Farrell, whose finances and enterprises established the American League team in New York, built the first Yankee home in Washington Heights. He placed Clark Griffith, who had achieved success as a manager in Chicago, in charge of an all-star organization selected to represent New York in the junior circuit.

Players whose names are now set down in baseball's corridor of fame wore the first Yankee uniforms. They included Jack Chesbro, Harry Howell, Jesse Tannehill, Jack O'Connor, John Gansel, Jimmy Williams, Herman Long, Wild Conroy, Willie Keeler, Daveultz and Lefty Davis.

Griffith piloted the club until late in the season of 1908 when he resigned in favor of Elberfeld. George Stallings took charge in 1909 and held an until late in 1910 when Elberfeld became manager. Chase was succeeded in 1912 by Harry Wolverton, then came France Chance who led until September 1914 when he resigned after failing to make a pennant contender of the club.

Roger Peckinpaugh finished the 1914 season, the last of the Farrell regime. In 1915, Colonel Jacob Ruppert and T. L. Huston purchased the club, paying something around half a million dollars for the franchise, players and other property.

Until this time the Yankees had been "in an outers." Ruppert and Huston immediately began building up with new players. Bill Domoan was employed as manager. His club in three seasons could do no better than fourth, however, and Miller Huggins was placed in charge.

With Babe came luck. In 1921 the Yankees won their first pennant. Ruth set a new all-time record for home runs with 59 that year. The Yankees started the world's series impressively but cracked and the Giants won the championship after eight contests. In 1922 the Yankees again won their race but failed to take a game from the Giants in the world's series. They tied one game and lost four.

After their lease on the grounds in Washington Heights expired in 1913 the Yankees shared the use of the Polo Grounds with the Giants for nine years, but after their unusually successful seasons of 1921 and 1922 the Yankee owners decided to build their own park. The Yankee Stadium, greatest baseball plant in the world, was opened to the public this year.

After some negotiation Colonel Huston, half owner of the Yankees sold his interest early this year to Colonel Ruppert for about $1,500,000, netting a gross profit of more than $1,000,000 in eight years.

In 1915 the first season under the Ruppert-Huston ownership the Yankees' attendance was 250,000. Since the war the attendance has averaged annually more than 1,000,000. In the twenty-one years of American League baseball in New York the Yankees have finished as follows:

MCGUIRE-JACOBS CASE IN COURT

Champion Filed Suit To Compel Manager To Account For Money Received

New York, Nov. 15.—Mike McGuire, world's light-heavyweight champion today filed the opening suit in the legal skirmish with his manager, Joe Jacobs, and brought into court the dispute which has been waged between the pair since McGuire nearly lost his crown in a fight with Young Stribling, Georgia schoolboy at Columbus, Ga.

McGuire filed in Supreme Court a suit to compel Jacobs to account for money received under a three-year contract they entered into August 20, 1921, and under which the boxer was entitled to 70 per cent of the profits of his engagements in the ring, on the stage or elsewhere.

McGuire charges that he was defrauded by Jacobs and also that the latter misrepresented his financial affairs to the State Athletic Commission which, in its recent hearing in the case upheld Jacobs' claim that the contract was valid and advised the pair to settle their difficulties, preferably out of court.

SPAIN ENTERED IN THE OLYMPIAD

Spaniards Believe Chances Are Bright In Sixteen Branches Of Sport

Madrid, Sept. 10.—Spaniards interested in the athletic standing of their country are turning their eyes toward Paris and the Olympiad of 1924, and considering what should be done to secure the best possible representation.

A member of the Spanish Olympic games committee said recently he thought Spain's chances were good in nine of the sixteen principal branches of sport; for the others he had little hope.

The sports in which Spain believes she has chances of success are lawn tennis, horse riding, polo, football, golf, hockey, yachting, fencing and rowing. Those in which she admits she is poor are boxing, wrestling, swimming, cycling, running and other field sports, winter sports and Rugby football.

Gabriel Maria de Laitte, president of the Royal Athletic Federation of Spain, spoke recently with King Alfonso about the games. The king was much interested and said: "The government must be asked for support, but we must not rely solely on this aid. We must do what is being done in England and the United States and open a national subscription in which sporting clubs, lovers of athletics and the wealthy class should join freely. I shall be one of the first to subscribe and will also encourage others to do so. Spain should be represented properly in these games. The Spanish competitors must be trained thoroughly, and for this purpose funds are necessary. We must take practical means to find the money, and I think we shall be able to do so."

HOCKEY LEAGUE ELECTS OFFICERS

"Toop" Egan Was Re-Elected President — Three Teams Now In Circuit

The City Hockey League knuckled down to real business at the meeting held at the Victoria Hotel last evening, and elected officers for the coming season, and transacted other important business. Walter "Toop" Egan was again elected President while the other officers chosen were:

Vice-President: Tom Fuller. Secretary-Treasurer: L. Dugal. Committee: R. V. Halpin, St. Patrick's A. A.; J. A. Belanger, Laval; and G. Pouliot, Laval-Amateur.

The League accepted the transfer of the Emerald franchise to the St. Patrick's A. A. as well as the franchise held by Sons of Ireland to the Laval-Amateur Club.

There are at present three clubs—St. Patrick's A. A., Laval-Amateur and Laval in the League, though it is rumored that the Canadian New Ramblers (C. N. R.), will operate their franchise this season. The C. N. R. has been out of the game, as far as the City League is concerned, for two seasons, and according to a ruling in the League, have to operate this winter or forfeit the franchise.

LAVIGNE GIVES AN EXPLANATION

Would Have Declared The Bout A Draw, But For Fouling

George "Kid" Lavigne, of Montreal, who refereed the Mitchell-Burnstone fight at the Drill Hall Wednesday night, which resulted in an unpopular decision being awarded the former, gave an explanation yesterday as to why he decided in favor of the local lad.

Lavigne commenced by stating that he did not know either fighter and therefore had no favorite and that his report on the fight was seven rounds to Mitchell, five to Burnstone, while the other three sessions were even.

The referee continued that if the decision had been left to him, he would have declared the bout a draw, but for the persistent low hitting of Burnstone, even after being cautioned. "The blows," added Lavigne, were unintentional doubtless, but this did not take away the fact that they were still fouls. In one round, according to Lavigne, Burnstone struck Mitchell five times almost in the groin.

Lavigne concluded by stating that he should have disqualified Burnstone for fouling, but instead gave the rounds to Mitchell.

It will be remembered that the judges disagreed on the result of the fight and the referee decided in favor of Mitchell.

ZEV IS BACK HOME ONCE MORE

Kentucky Derby Winner Is Now On Same Ground As In Memoriam

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 15.—After an absence of six months, Zev, winner of the Kentucky Derby, returned to Churchill Downs last today. Tonight he is quartered on the same grounds with In Memoriam, his opponent in another great turf match scheduled for Churchill Downs Saturday.

In Memoriam was not asked to extend himself in his workout by trainer, Bob Gilmore today. The track remains in good condition and is fast despite a slight rain that fell during a brief period early this morning.

WANT MCGILL TO ENTER SKIING TEAM

To Take Part In A Four-Cornered Inter-Collegiate Meet At Battleboro

Minneapolis, Nov. 15.—An invitation to enter a gopher team in a four-cornered inter-collegiate ski meet as one of the feature events of the national ski tournament at Stratton, Vermont, February 14 and 15, was received today by Emil Iverson, winter sport coach at the University of Minnesota. The invitation, tendered by the Brattleboro Outing Club, promoters of the National ski meet, suggests that McGill University of Montreal, Dartmouth and the University of Wisconsin be the other three competitors.

STRONG TEAM FOR BANQUE NATIONALE

Pedenault, Former Chicoutimi Star, Will Be With Champions—Officers Elected

The hockey club of La Banque Nationale, members of the Bankers' League, held a very quiet year's meeting recently at which officers were elected and plans for the season discussed.

The officers elected were the following: President: L. A. Rousseau. Vice-Presidents: Ed. Beaulieu and L. A. Maheux. Sec.-Treasurer: Leo Pelletier.

The La Banque Nationale outfit at present hold the cup emblematic of the Bankers' League, having won the trophy during the season of 1914-15 which was the final year the league operated, as further operations were called off owing to the war. The league was re-organized a week ago.

La Banque Nationale has always been well up in the standing and it is the intention of the officials to again put a team on the ice this season that will make a strong bid for the championship. There are present a number of well-known former City League players employed in the various local branches of this bank, who are eager to again don the steel blades, while Pedenault, the star defenceman of the Chicoutimi outfit of last season, will also be with the team.

FREIGHT RATES QUESTION IS FULLY EXPLAINED

Differences Can Always Be Adjusted According To The Railway Act

Vancouver Nov. 15.—In the course of an interview on the freight rates question given in Vancouver this morning, W. S. Lanigan, General Freight Traffic Manager of the C. P. R., made the following statement: "I have of course read the various expressions of opinion appearing in the British Columbia papers in reference to the question of freight rates. I would draw attention to the fact that in no province of Canada and in no city of the Dominion has the Canadian Pacific invested so much capital as in British Columbia and the city of Vancouver. The future of this investment depends on the development of the province and the growth of Vancouver. There has been no factor as yet that has contributed in this direction as largely as the Canadian Pacific. There is no individual company or corporation whose disbursement in the province or city as large as that of the Canadian Pacific. I cannot believe that either the people of the Province or the citizens and business interests of Vancouver are inimical to this enterprise.

"There will always be differences of opinion in the question of freight charges. Where these differences cannot be adjusted by mutual consent, reference between business associations or interests, and the carriers, parliament has provided a Railway Act and a competent and impartial tribunal to administer the law and to render a decision. The application of the Attorney General of the province against the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways was presented with supporting evidence and an argument to both the Court and the Privy Council, and also the evidence and argument of the carriers. On their decision rests the outcome. I have every belief that the Court is both impartial and independent. It is specially equipped both by experience and knowledge to deal with these questions. It has the advantage of the advice of its traffic, operating and legal experts. It is apparently both experienced and competent, in any event, it is the only tribunal that was created by Parliament to administer the Railway Act and to decide these questions. It is absurd to boycott Canadian carriers in favor of American interests because of an adverse decision, as it would be for Canadian carriers to retaliate in event of a reverse.

"I can review many years of railway service and during an experience of nearly half a century I have never known a community of a carrier that did not lose out when it started reprisals, and prolonged differences."

"I have no opinions to offer regarding the appointment of a Customs office at New York. It is none of business, as a Canadian, however, I think that the interests of Canadian harbours and Canadian marine service should receive adequate consideration."

Mr. Lanigan will leave for the East this evening.

CATCHER ED. AINSWORTH SIGNED BY GIANTS

New York, Nov. 15.—The New York Giants made another move in their reconstruction campaign today when they signed Eddie Ainsworth, veteran catcher, who was a free agent.

Ainsworth played most of last season with the St. Louis Cardinals, but was released late in the summer. He was signed by Brooklyn as an emergency back-stop but let out unconditionally at the end of the diamond year.

GREB DEFEATED WIGGINS. Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 15.—Harry Greb of Pittsburgh defeated Chuck Wiggins of Indianapolis in 10 rounds here tonight in the opinion of newspaper writers. Greb did most of the leading throughout the fight but neither boxer scored many effective blows. Greb weighed 168 pounds and Wiggins 177.

GAMELESS NATIONS LIFELESS WATERS

Trustee Of Permanent Wild Life Protection Fund Issues Serious Warning

New York, Nov. 15.—The "pump" and "automatic" shotguns, said to be finding increased favor with sportsmen, "are a disgrace to the American Nation," according to Dr. William T. Hornaday, trustee of the Permanent Wild Life Protection Fund, and director of the New York Zoological Gardens in Bronx Park.

Dr. Hornaday says that he is planning a model national game bill having for its aim the reduction, by 50 per cent, of the wholesale slaughter of wild animals and birds and fowl "at the hands of thoughtless hunters." The bill would reduce both the bag limits and open seasons. It probably will be submitted in December to the legislative body of every state in the Union, and, says its author, "it undoubtedly will be strenuously opposed by sporting men, and especially by the rich game-killing class."

The Bird Has No Chance. A bulletin entitled "Our Vanishing Game," setting forth by means of illustrations and text the alleged ravages that are being made upon American game, in which "pump" and "automatic" shotguns play important roles, has just been issued by Dr. Hornaday, who declares in his bulletin: "They (the above-mentioned guns) are nothing more or less than finely finished and thoroughly effective machines for spraying lead upon game birds so rapidly and so forcefully that the gunner has every advantage and the bird none. Any man who says that these guns are any less than twice as deadly as an honest double-barreled shotgun is fatally mistaken. With one of them a really good shot can get about twice as many birds out of a flock as the man with a double-barreled gun. If you don't believe me, ask John D. Phillips, president of the Pennsylvania State Game Commission, 2227 Jane street, Pittsburgh, and see what he will tell you."

No, we cannot induce the state legislatures to ban these guns. The gun and ammunition makers won't permit such laws to be passed. And the sportsmen won't either. Only Pennsylvania and New Jersey ever have been able to prohibit them when not reduced to two shots. The only way to put an everlasting crimp in these machine guns is by reducing bag limits and open seasons one-half....

In the United States on July 1, 1923, there were 11,573,000 passenger automobiles. In hunting land game, and ducks on inland waters, the automobile is in very general use. It has increased the perils of wild game by at least 50 per cent. I could fill this page with pictures of automobiles loaded with appalling exhibits of dead game—ducks, geese, shore birds, quail grouse and deer. It is the same all over the world wherever game exists and automobiles can travel....

Unnecessary Slaughter. The champion legal game killer is a member of the Lake Arthur Club of Louisiana. The club's president writes thus: "Imagine the pleasure of one member who shot the limit of duck, quail and snipe and caught the limit of black bass, all in one day's sport. What a wonderful place for you to enjoy yourself among congenial associates."

That means the killing of 25 ducks, 15 quail and 25 snipe, and 25 black bass—at least five times as much as that club member's family could possibly consume in two days.

"To the men and women who dress the following plea in the interest of game conservation via his bulletin: Yes, I do indeed say, 'To the men and women.' It is high time for the mothers of the Boy Scouts and other boys of America to take a hand in the game of reducing game over to them for them to put a crimp in some of the wicked things that are going on. Apparently only about 25 per cent of the sportsmen are now willing to 'make large reductions in big-bag limits and open seasons.' The other 75 per cent seem resolved to stand pat on their present privileges, regardless of the future; and of course the gun-and-cartridge millionaires are against us.

Do you want your sons and your grandsons to inherit from you a devastated Continent? Will you turn over to them a gameless Nation. Lifeless waters, and a land of stumps and rocks? Look out! We are now in line to do all those things. The timber forest situation is even worse than the game situation.

"Quick and Sure Remedy" Concerning the present awful slaughter of game—and of birds not really "game"—I am herein proposing a quick and sure remedy. It is this: Reduce all game killing 50 per cent, by reducing the bag limits and open seasons to that extent. Yes, that would be a drastic remedy.... Our game-killing situation is rotten to the core. Our game laws are now a deadly delusion and snare

They are not conserving our game on a permanent basis. Yes; you can do something. Start a reform bill in your state Legislature. If you do not know what figures to ask for, I can tell you in 10 minutes! And also ask the Secretary of Agriculture to reduce the killing of all migratory birds by one-half.

QUAKE PREDICTION HOPE OF WEATHER OFFICIALS. Washington, D.C., Nov. 15.—Earthquake records cannot be used directly in predicting earthquakes, the Weather Bureau announces, but study of a collection of these records throws a great deal of light on the nature of earthquakes generally, and it is hoped that at some future time this information may lead to successful methods of prediction.

The Hawaiian volcanic observatory of the Weather Bureau utilizes these records and has been instrumental in the saving of life and property. When a violent earthquake that appears to have occurred in the Pacific Ocean is recorded the observatory officials send out warnings by cable and otherwise to the regions likely to be affected. Such earthquakes frequently are attended by so-called tidal waves and there usually is an interval of many hours between the occurrence of the quake and the arrival of the destructive oceanic wave at any given point.

Winter Overcoats Strain-free styles

The Chief Designer Says: Some men are born great; others achieve greatness; and the achievers have cigars, streets, cities, hotels and Overcoats named after them.

Lord Raglan, the hero of the Crimean War, is long since dead, but deathless is the easy-fitting Raglan Overcoat named after him; its strain-free shoulders and sleeves are easy. The Raglan has become one of the world's standard styles—just as the Chesterfield Overcoat, named after the Earl of Chesterfield, away back in 1773.

Any loose-draping Overcoat is best for the man who buys but one Overcoat, because it is strain-free and attractive on the man of good figure.

STRANGE FORCE CAUSES WRECKS

Old Mariner Does Not Believe Tidal Waves Responsible For Recent Trouble

Los Angeles, Nov. 15.—Neither tidal wave nor currents of seismic origin, but some other strange force was responsible for the recent wreck of 7 United States destroyers and the crash a few days later of the super-dreadnaught Texas and the freighter Steel Seafarer in the waters off Point Arguello, north of Santa Barbara, Calif., according to Captain Alfred Davis, a mariner of the old school who sailed his clipper ship around the Horn a decade ago.

The west entrance to Santa Barbara channel, between Point Conception and San Miguel islands, always has been in ill repute among seafaring men, said Captain Davis. His nickname, "the graveyard of ships," was earned about the time of Cabrillo, who there lost his life and was buried on one of the channel islands, according to stories which have become legends. It is said at no other point on the Pacific have so many ships met disaster, and always the cause remained a mystery.

Captain Davis said he recalls many wrecks along the coast near Point Arguello dating back to the time of the mystery disaster of the Golden Horn. Always, said the old sea captain, those who escaped alive from the wrecks, when any escaped, have had the same story to tell, of suddenly becoming enveloped in a fog and then, without warning, crashing on rocks. Invariably, he said, the navigators had thought themselves in mid-channel, their instruments showing them to be on a safe course, when in reality they were miles from their course.

"Something unexplained by scientists," declared Captain Davis, "beckons the ships to shore, and every man who has sailed this coast for any length of time knows that something will get him if he doesn't watch out."

Egg Market

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—Markets generally are firmer for fresh specials and extras. A few United States storage eggs continue to arrive at Windsor costing 32 1-2 delivered. Further export enquiries have been received in Montreal for storage eggs. Small lots of fresh extras are being offered from Vancouver at 80c and fresh 55c. The freight rate from Vancouver to Toronto is about six cents a dozen.

Toronto firmer, official quotations unchanged. Montreal jobbing sales of specials reported 85c to 70c. Storage stocks are reported in active demand, extras 48c to 42c; firsts 35c to 37c, seconds 30c to 31c.

NEW YORK BONDS

New York, Nov. 15.—Bond prices on the whole were steady today with a broadening of the variety of issues in which transactions were recorded. The continued stream of new financing apparently has not tended to slacken activity in listed securities.

While a sizeable number of railroad mortgages receded in today's market, a slight majority of the secondary issues is pointed upward on commission house buying. Announcement was made that the offering syndicate in the recent California Petroleum $10,000,000 issue of ten year bonds has been dissolved. The bonds, however, held relatively steady. Buying of public utility issues continued in fair volume with the price firm domestic industrial firms moved irregularly with an upward trend.

Selling of American writing paper issues and Wickwire Spencer Steel issues carried both issues down more than a point to new lows for the year. Poor buying support resulted in further recessions in the foreign list.

TRAINED DOGS GUARD RECORDS

Two Enormous Canines Quiet By Day Become Terrifying By Night

Geneva, Nov. 15.—When Americans pass the main portal of the League of Nations building, which overlooks Lake Leman, they often stoop to caress two enormous, beautiful dogs which recline there, docile and stretching their huge bulk out on the carpet in lazy satisfaction, blinking and acknowledging the passing hand of the admiring visitor.

This is in day, but at night these harmless appearing canines become the terrifying guardians of the league temple with all its countless treasure of document and record. One is a great German dog, lithe and powerful, the other a huge St. Bernard, and they go the rounds with the night guardians, running down this corridor and that, poking their noses in a room here and a room there, seeking the possible ill-doer.

Sir Eric Drummond, the secretary general of the League, is taking no chances with the wealth of documentary material committed to his care, and figures out that if men will go to the extreme of trying to steal rattlesnakes, as they did recently in New York, they might take it into their heads to lighten the historical archives of the League of Nations.

LABOR CENSURE MOTION DEFEATED

Emphasizing the advantages nations drew from their ability to bargain, the Prime Minister mentioned other local remedies proposed for unemployment. Then, in concluding, he said he had never claimed infallibility. He might be wrong, but it was for the Opposition to prove him wrong.

Would Put Country in Better Position

He would not have risked his great position unless his convictions were sincere and he believed that the proposals he outlined would put the country in a position, better able to meet the storms around it.

Mr. Lloyd George, answering Mr. Baldwin, said the Prime Minister's policy was ill-considered, precipitate and foolish. A labor member shouted: "It has brought Liberal unity."

Mr. Lloyd George flashed back: "That will go down in history as the solitary achievement of this Government."

Continuing, Mr. Lloyd George said: "I am amazed that the Premier should choose this of all moments for directing the attention of the country and diverting the attention of the Government from the situation in Europe. An event has happened: that is one of the most hopeful since the Armistice. The United States had for the first time declared her intention of coming in to assist settlement and relations had been established between our Government and the United States with a view to bringing united pressure to bear upon our Allies in Europe, to effect a settlement."

Premier Had Raised New Issue "It is a great and momentous fact that when negotiations were beginning there were difficulties with one of the Allies. But all the others had agreed and just then before there was an issue and while negotiations were going on, the Premier had to raise a new issue, which has divided the nation and has even divided his own Cabinet."

"Does anyone imagine that a settlement in Europe would not affect unemployment infinitely more than any tariffs? No tariff decided upon at this moment can have any effect for months, and in the meantime imports of all goods which are going to be taxed will be pouring into the country. The first effect will be to aggravate unemployment, not improve it."

A curious incident of today's debate was that the third woman member, Mrs. Philipson, made her maiden speech in the House on the last day of the expiring parliament.

As might have been expected, her forthright experience, as the actress, Mabel Russell, served her well. She made a most effective three minute speech supporting Mr. Baldwin's policy, and her manner captivated the House.

PENNYLESS KARI SOUGHT THRONE

When the deposed emperor was making the attempt he was forced to ask members of his suite for cigarettes and other luxuries.

LETTERS MAILED IN 1914 AWAITED IN GERMANY Berlin, Nov. 15.—There will soon be delivered in Germany a consignment of letters posted nine years ago in one of the South Sea Islands. Most of the men who wrote these communications are dead, and many of the addresses will be hard to find, so much have conditions changed in Germany in the last decade. In view of all the circumstances, stamp collectors are hopeful of getting some interesting specimens.

When the German Pacific cruiser squadron under Admiral Von Spee, which kept the shipping world guessing for the first four months of the great war, put into Ponape, one of the Caroline Islands, in August of 1914, the sailors filled the local post office with letters to friends and relatives back in the fatherland. Then they sailed away.

All examples are like contagious diseases. Sweet is the breath of praise when given by those whose own high merit claims the praise they give. A wise man adapts himself to circumstances as water shapes itself to the vessel that contains it. He who is puffed up with the first glare of prosperity will bend beneath the first blast of adversity.

A GENERATION ago parents thought that sickness was a part of a child's life, but we know better now. you can give it with absolute safety to an infant at the breast. "Magic" in a Teaspoonful. FORWARD MOVEMENT IN INDUSTRIALS AND TRADING IN RAILS IN NEW YORK

Stock Market Moved in Seeming Indifference To News From Europe—Baldwin Was Individual Feature In Industrial List Soaring Nearly 4 Points

New York, Nov. 15.—Resumption of the forward movement in the industrials and the development of a reactionary tendency by the rails, characterized today's session of the stock market. Speculators for the advance continued to encounter the resistance in various sections of the list but a squeezing of the short interest in some of the equipment issues resulted in some marked gains in the group.

The foreign exchanges continued to yield to the disquieting foreign political news but most observers were agreed that the stock market moved in seeming indifference to cable dispatches. Special dividend distributions by Texas Gulf Sulphur, International Cement and Beecham Packing were offset by a cut from $8 to $3 in the semi-annual dividend on Illinois Pipe, which is traded in on the curb and rumors of a reduction in the dividend on Jones Bros. Tex. next month, that stock breaking more than 5 points to 27 1/2 by railings to 29 3/4 before the close.

Baldwin was the individual feature in the industrial list, soaring nearly 4 points to 127 3/4, a new high on the current upswing, but ending at 126 3/4 at the close. Lima Locomotive and Pullman each closed about a point higher and General Electric and American Locomotive improved fractionally.

U.S. Steel, Studebaker and American Can. closed fractionally lower. Tobacco, Chemical, Independent steel, copper and oil shares also developed special points of strength.

Oil shares were helped by the report of a further reduction in crude oil production for the week ending November 10 by the American Petroleum Institute.

Coppers were aided by the favorable quarterly statements of the Porphyry companies and reports that sales of the red metal in the first two weeks of this month totalled between 200 million and 225 million pounds.

Small order and farm implement issues were bought on Secretary Wallace's announcement that the value of eleven principal crops has jumped from $5,200,000,000 in 1921 to about $7,000,000,000 this year.

Maxwell Motor issues which were strong yesterday on publication of an official denial. Small selling took place in Texas Gulf in reflection of a disappointment over the amount of the extra dividend.

Considerable profit-taking took place in the low priced rails which have been strong recently but recessions, as a rule, were held to fractions.

Call money opened at 4 3/4 per cent. but dropped to 4 1/2 before the close. The time money and commercial paper markets were quiet with no change in rates.

Foreign exchanges were again weak. Demand sterling selling around the year's low of $4.32 7/16 but rallying later to $4.33 1/2. French francs established a new low for all time at 6.32 3/4. Dutch Guilders broke sharply with nominal recessions in the other principal currencies.

Total stock sales $56,200 shares. 20 industrials averaged 90.87; net gain .46. High 1923, 105.38; low 85.76. 20 railroads averaged 83.46; net loss .21. High 1923, 90.51; low 79.68.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

Montreal, Nov. 15.—A moderate amount of business was done in the cash grain market here today. There was no improvement reported in the flour trade. A good steady demand prevailed for milled and rolled oats met with a fair sale. Trade in bald hay was rather quiet.

The market for eggs was fairly steady. The potato market was unchanged. Prices were up quarter cent to half cent per pound in butter. There was a much better feeling in the cheese market.

Everything is dear to its maker.

The Chapter at its last meeting decided upon organizing a bridge and tea to be given at the Chateau Frontenac on the fourth of December. The proceeds of the bridge will be devoted to a Christmas tree for the patients of Laval Hospital, St. Foy Road.

FORMER QUEBECER AS SUCCESSFUL AMATEUR

Whatever may be said about the lack of good plays or the periodical theatre stumps, British interest in theatrical matters is pretty clearly indicated by the extraordinary number of semi-amateur dramatic companies both in the provinces and London. I went last night to see an able performance of John Drinkwater's Mary Stuart, which the ambitious members of the Amateurs Art Centre's Repertory Company had chosen for their autumn performances to be given in London.

CANADIANS AT CONFERENCE

London, Nov. 15.—The wives of the visiting premiers and members of the delegations to the Imperial Conference are profiting by their stay in London to do a little sight-seeing. Lady Gouin told me that she had spent a delightful hour in Hertford House enjoying the wonderful French pictures in the Wallace collection, and the museums, theatres, and other places of interest report an influx of visitors, who seem to revive the glories of the season.

ARE WOMEN OVERWORKED

Yes, hundreds of thousands of them are. This applies to the housewife and mother who struggles on a small income to make both ends meet by doing all the washing, ironing, cooking, making and mending for a large family. There are others who not only support themselves working in factories, shops, stores and offices, but often have an invalid father or mother to support, therefore do housework beside. These are the women who break down early and are afflicted with various forms of female weakness. Ninety-eight out of every 100 women who have tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have proved that it is a successful remedy for woman's ills. For nearly fifty years it has been restoring women to health, and it will pay every ailing woman to try it.

TO HAVE NEW BULL RING.

Madrid, Nov. 15.—There seem to be little danger of bullfighting dying out as the national sport of Spain, for some years at least. Although the people of Madrid and other cities have become somewhat bored because of the poor quality of the contests recently and despite stronger competition from other sports, the construction of a new bull ring of much larger dimensions than the present one is proceeding.

DAVE FASHION AND COMMON SENSE agree

It's astonishing how many ladies are wearing wool "undies," particularly when they can wear pure woollen vests—as soft as the finest flannel—made with low neck and no sleeves, that can be worn with the present fashion of dresses.

This is partially the reason for the great demand for

RADIO OPERATION OF TRAINS URGED.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Progress of electricity on the railways of North America was emphasized by E. S. M. MacNab, president of the Association of Railway Electrical Engineers at the annual convention here today and the use of electricity in every department was declared essential to the proper functioning of railways.

The committee on radio is discussing the possibilities of using radio as an entertainment feature on trains and for communication to and from trains at any time, and a any place on the line, or between the front and rear of long freight trains.

While the committee sees a dull future for radio as entertainment for passengers on transcontinental trains, it believes wireless control of the movement of trains through certain localities will develop rapidly.

THIRSTY GERMANS WON'T BE DENIED

Bochum, Germany, Nov. 15.—Boycotts on beer to bring down the price do not work in Germany because the public is not sufficiently self-sacrificing.

Four hundred saloon keepers of Bochum recently agreed to sell no beer because the brewers fixed too high a price. Thirsty customers begged for the larger at any price, and within 24 hours the strike was over and the Wurtzberger flowing again, but at prices so high as to materially reduce sales.
