

ONLY FIVE ACCLAMATIONS THROUGHOUT THE PROVINCE

Electoral Battles Will Be Waged In Eighty Out Of The Eighty-Five Counties—First Time In Many Years That Battle Looked So Formidable—Two Acclamations Contested

The electoral battle has officially begun. In eighty of the eighty-five electoral divisions in this Province, Government and Opposition candidates were placed in nomination yesterday, and present indications are that the campaign will be keenly fought in all parts of the Province.

This is the first time in more than a quarter of a century that the people of this Province have seen such formidable political armies lined up for the fray. In the last Provincial election, which was held in May, 1918, forty-three Liberals and two Conservatives were elected by acclamation, leaving contests in thirty-six seats. Yesterday there were only five Liberals elected by acclamation and no Conservatives.

In the last Legislature the total number of seats in the Assembly was 81, but during the last session four new electoral divisions were added, which means that at the next session there will be eighty-five members sitting in the Assembly. Nomination day passed quietly in this city, and throughout the Province generally, but not at Chateaufort where a few electors who take politics too seriously exchanged jests and, as a result, are nursing sore heads.

Although acclamations have been proclaimed in both Quebec County and in Quebec East Divisions, the Opposition candidates are protesting that the Returning Officers were not justified in refusing the nominations, and are contesting the decision.

The acclamations were as follows:—Lobline, Hon. J. N. Francœur; Magdalen Islands, Hon. J. E. Caron; Quebec County, Aurele Leclerc; Quebec East, Louis Leclerc; Wolfe, Dr. J. P. C. Lemieux.

Montreal Nominations
Montreal, Jan. 29.—The close of the nominations in Jacques Cartier, where Hon. E. L. Patenaude, one of the Opposition standard bearers, is opposing the late member, J. S. A. Aubry, was the subject of a duel between the candidates.

Mr. Aubry, when the meeting was thrown open to the candidates, launched an attack on Mr. Patenaude and charged him with having "packed" the joint meeting on Sunday when Mayor Martin of Montreal was so vigorously assailed by hecklers.

"How could I have organized such a meeting?" inquired Mr. Patenaude. "I surely did not organize 1,500 electors to come to tell Mr. Aubry that he is not wanted. It was the voice of the public that was organized."

Hon. J. L. Perron, Minister of Roads, who appeared on behalf of Mr. Aubry, was frequently interrupted by a member of the audience. The crowd, however, was incensed by the heckling of the Minister and the interrupter was finally escorted to the front door of the building by the police.

At the Laurier nominations, Dr. Ernest Poulin, the Liberal candidate, spoke for a considerable time giving an account of what he had done at Quebec for Montreal. He was frequently asked to abbreviate his remarks. His opponent, Alfred Durand, complained that Dr. Poulin should have not taken up the whole afternoon with his speech, which he filled out by reading clippings from Belgian papers.

Mr. Durand contended he was a properly selected candidate chosen by Conservatives and not by clubs. A surprise was sprung by the Opposition in St. Louis, where it was expected that P. Berovitch, K.C., would get an acclamation for want of candidates to run against him. This morning, however, two Opposition candidates decided to file their papers.

In the Mercier Division, N. Arcand, representing Labor, asked why it is French Canadian families were leaving Ste. Hyacinthe, Sherbrooke and Thetford Mines. G. A. Lapointe, the Government nominee, said that the exodus of people was due to unemployment in some industries with which the administration had nothing to do.

Grouped, the nominations for the Quebec Provincial general elections today show the following approximate figures:—
Seats, 85; elected by acclamation (Liberals and Government supporters), 4; Liberal candidates, 81; Independent Liberals, 12; Conservatives or Opposition, 80; Independent and Labor, 7.

As to Yamaska Division, where

Authoritative returns were not available to-night because some points, notably Metapedia, Bonaventure and Temiscouata on the St. Lawrence, and Temiscaming in the North country, could not be reached, as the wires were down.

After the last general election in 1919 the standing of the parties was: Seats, 81; Liberals, 74; Conservatives, 5; Labor, 2. Forty-three Liberals, or a majority, were elected by acclamation at the nominations in 1919.

Township Interested
Sherbrooke, Que., Jan. 29.—That considerable greater interest is being taken in the present campaign than in the previous Provincial election contest was manifested by the large number of electors that turned out at the various County seats throughout the Eastern Townships today, Nomination Day, to listen to the remarks of the candidates in the field. In fact all the candidates have drawn up plans for hard campaigns until polling day, and it is quite likely that several Counties will witness close contests. Nomination day in the Eastern Townships passed off as scheduled, and as a result every riding will witness a contest. There will be three-cornered fights in Sherbrooke and Richmond. In Frontenac Cyrille Bailargeon of Lambton has entered as an independent candidate. There has been a change in Minto: Mr. Giroux refused to enter the field, but A. Saurette, the present Liberal member is to have opposition in the person of N. Hebert, who has entered the contest as an independent. In all the other counties the candidates were nominated as forecasted.

Good natured chaff mingled with severe condemnation of the policies of the respective candidates featured the nomination meeting held in Sherbrooke this afternoon. All three candidates were duly nominated, Dr. Ludger Forest as Liberal M. O'Bready, K.C., as Conservative and C. C. Cabana as Liberal candidate.

Commenting upon rumors that he would be bought, Mr. Cabana observed that he would not deny that attempts had been made. He upbraided Dr. Forest and the Government for taking credit for the grants to the local hospitals stating that they were entitled to them in accordance with the Public Charities Act.

Three Rivers District
(By Canadian Press)
Three Rivers, Que., Jan. 29.—Big guns will be fired on both sides this week in the Three Rivers District, where L. P. Mercier, the Government candidate, and M. L. Duplessis, his Conservative opponent are getting ready to stage a bitter fight.

The campaign will open in Three Rivers to-morrow night, Hon. E. L. Patenaude, who will be in Berthier, will to-morrow afternoon to support the candidature of Dr. J. A. Gaboury, will speak at two Conservative meetings in Three Rivers to-morrow night.

On Wednesday Hon. Adolphe Turgeon, President of the Legislative Council will address a Liberal gathering in favor of L. P. Mercier. Mr. Mercier announced today that he expects Hon. L. A. Taschereau, and Sir Lomer Gosselin to be the chief speakers at a meeting on Friday night. It is also understood that Hon. Jacques Bureau will be present and address the meeting.

Nomination Day carried a surprise in Nicolet County where Lorenzo Camblard withdrew at the last minute in favor of Joseph Desilets. Mr. Desilets is considered as a very strong opponent to J. A. Sajoie, the Liberal nominee. Mr. Desilets is very well known all over the Division as special Superintendent for Municipal Works.

In Arthabaska Division Hon. J. E. Perreault and G. Boulanger, the agrarian nominee, have thought well to adopt the method of holding contrary meetings and clash nearly every day before their electors. N. K. Lafamme, K.C., is very active in the support of the Minister of Colonization.

The campaign is very active also in St. Maurice County, where L. N. Rétard ex-Liberal member, and Mayor J. A. Dufresne of Shawinigan Falls, the Conservative candidate, both have a large following. The issue of the fight in this Division is very doubtful.

As to Yamaska Division, where

TOTAL VALUE OF OUR SEA FISH

Landed On Both Coasts During December Shows Slight Decrease

(By Canadian Press)
Ottawa, Jan. 29.—The total quantity of sea fish landed on both coasts of the Dominion during December was 450,660 cwts valued at $1,018,554 compared with 553,025 cwts valued at $1,213,625 in the same period of 1921.

The catch of cod, haddock, hake and pollock during the month was 53,943 cwts compared with 70,737 dock catch showed a decrease of 24 percent while the pollock catch increased 57 percent.

There were 1,720 cwts of lobsters landed, compared with 2,357 cwts during the same period last year, where the regular season was in operation. (The latter figures do not include the catch in Western Nova Scotia for the special season.)

Owing to the failure of the lobster catch of the American coast, the price paid to the fishermen was the best in years.

JUDGE SWORN IN
Montreal, Jan. 29.—Mr. Justice Gosselin, Desautels was this morning sworn in as judge of the Superior Court at the Court House before an auspicious gathering of legal and civil functionaries. He succeeds Mr. Justice McDougall, of Hull, who recently resigned.

Reminiscences of the Past.

Edouard Ouellette, the Liberal nominee, was elected by acclamation, there are two opponents to his candidature, Omer Hebert, Liberal, and H. Duquette, Conservative. It was said a few days ago that Mr. Ouellette would go to the Legislative Council and this probably explains why there is another Liberal candidate in the field.

In 1912, Dr. J. O. Gaboury, the Conservative candidate in Berthier, was elected by a majority of one against the late Joseph Lafontaine. His Liberal opponent is Simeon Lafontaine, who represented the Division in the last Parliament.

In Maskinonge Division the Conservative candidate is Armand Lamy, a farmer, against Rodolphe Tourville, mill owner.

Another ex-Member of the Legislature, Joseph Labonne, a farmer, who was submerged by the Liberal wave which put the Gouin administration in power in the last election, is running again as the Conservative opponent of Dr. Bruno Borel, in Champlain County. The situation has now changed and the Conservative element think they have brought to the fore the strongest candidate available.

Liquor Law Scored
Ottawa, Jan. 29.—Contending that the Quebec Government's surplus, derived from the sale of liquor at stores operated by the Quebec Liquor Commission, was reached as a result of a "flagrant violation of the law," Dr. J. U. Archambault, Labor-Conservative candidate for Hull County, at the nomination meeting today, urged that the Quebec liquor laws be abolished. The speaker asserted that the liquor law stated explicitly that liquor could be sold only to bona fide residents of the Province, and according to statements credited to Premier Taschereau at Sherbrooke, the liquor surplus was provided by non-residents of Quebec. Dr. Archambault said the Government's announced surplus was not "honestly reached," as the people were heavily taxed to bring about the surplus. He was of the opinion that the Government should have decreased the taxes instead of augmenting the surplus.

The speaker asserted that the liquor laws should be abolished. He would suggest that the Government could have wholesale liquor stores and would sell to reputable retailers. The laws could be more stringent.

ALLIES PROTEST FINANCE POLICY

Readjustment Of Foreign Laws By Chinese Was Expected But Neglected

Peking, Jan. 29.—Protest against the financial policy of the Chinese government has been voiced by the diplomatic representatives of Great Britain, the United States, France and Japan in a joint communication to the Chinese foreign office.

The note states that foreign interests which have advanced loans to the departments of communication and finance have been expecting a readjustment of foreign loans, but that the Chinese government has neglected to do this while readjusting the domestic loans by means of the customs tax.

The note is reported to have been presented in accordance with a decision adopted by the Four-Power Commission organized to take care of foreign loans to China.

Appointment of an independent outside commission to investigate the economic, political and industrial affairs of China is said to have been urged during the last few days by diplomatic representatives of the various nations in notes to their home governments.

It is claimed that the notes specify the following thirteen conditions as requiring immediate remedy if China's problems are to be settled in such a way as to make permanent progress possible.

(1) The administration, particularly financial, of the Chinese government has been getting worse, which fact cannot be passed up by the powers, since their interests are so closely interwoven.

(2) The expulsion of foreigners may be feared in gaining ground in China, feeding on the hard conditions of life there.

(3) The continued defaults on payments due foreigners is causing them to suffer great losses.

(4) With the strikes of government employees, teachers, and other classes of workers constantly occurring because of lack of government funds it is feared that the peace of the country will be disturbed.

(5) With the government failing to carry out a single constructive deed, it is feared that such a policy will bring ruin to China.

(6) Due to arrogance of provincial militarism, the life and property of foreigners is unsafe.

(7) The areas affected by famine and flood have not received prompt succor from either the central or provincial governments.

(8) Although bandits have been ravaging all parts of the country, there has been no attempt at military suppression.

(9) The militarists continue to recruit soldiers and to buy ammunition to increase their power by waging war, which will remain the case so long as the militarists retain the upper hand.

(10) Parliament, despite its re-convening four months ago, has accomplished nothing material; the constitution has not been drafted, and on the whole it would appear that parliament is incapable of exercising supervision over the government and prefers to devote its time to partisan brawls.

(11) The judiciary is losing its independence because the government has made no effort to prevent meddling and bribery by the military and others.

(12) Despite endless changes in the personnel of the cabinet, there has been no improvement in the political situation.

(13) Party strife has been rampant, with each party striving for its ends and not for a united government.

The Weather.
Toronto, Jan. 29.—Pressure is decidedly high over the northern portion of the continent and lowest in the Middle and South Pacific States. Some light snowfalls have occurred in Saskatchewan. Otherwise the weather in the Dominion has been fair and in most districts decidedly cold.

PRIME MINISTER'S LETTER TO H. E. CARDINAL BEGIN

Mr. Lockwell Still Maintains With Respectful Deference To Cardinal's Letter That Premier's Letter Contained Threats—Renews Challenge To Premier Taschereau

As a result of the charges made by C. J. Lockwell, one of the Conservative organizers of this District that Premier Taschereau had written a letter to Cardinal Begin implying threats and attempts at intimidation relative to the suppression of Conservative advertisements appearing in "L'Action Catholique," Premier Taschereau yesterday wrote to Cardinal Begin in that connection and His Eminence, while admitting that he had received a letter from the Premier, said that the representations were not such as would have induced him to take a decision which he would not have taken otherwise.

Mr. Lockwell issued a statement last night in which he stated that the first letter of the Prime Minister to the Cardinal contained threats and intimations and affirms that only the production of an authentic copy of the letter will convince him that he is right.

The letter of His Eminence and Mr. Lockwell's statement follow:

Cardinal's Letter.
The Cardinal's letter is in the following terms:

Quebec, January 29th.
To the Honorable L. A. Taschereau, Prime Minister of the Province of Quebec.

Mr. Prime Minister.—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter dated today.

I regret that Mr. Lockwell should have referred to correspondence exchanged between us.

I think I need only say that the representations which you made to me, in the circumstances, to take a decision which I would not have taken otherwise.

If Mr. Lockwell maintains that it was your letter which brought the suppression of the electoral advertisement which was published by L'Action Catholique, he is in error, because that advertisement was suppressed by L'Action Sociale, Limited, on its own initiative, as I have already written to you on the 24th inst.

Please accept, Mr. Prime Minister, the assurance of my high consideration.

(Signed) CARDINAL BEGIN.
Mr. Lockwell's Statement.

"I read with respect Cardinal Begin's letter which was published today in 'Le Soleil,' and while I regret that Mr. Taschereau did not hesitate to thus drag into his electoral campaign the name of so great a dignitary, who, however, scorns the threats which were made to him by saying that they were not of a nature (note: not a sufficient reason) to induce him, under the circumstances, to take a decision which he would not have taken otherwise."

"But does this venerable letter deny my affirmations?"

"No, positively no. On the contrary, it proves them clearly."

1st.—I affirmed that Mr. Taschereau addressed a letter to the Cardinal. The Cardinal, himself, states that he answered it on January 24th.

2nd.—I affirmed that this letter demanded that the advertisement of the Conservative Committee be stopped. His Eminence writes: 'This advertisement was suppressed.' 'As I wrote you on the 24th inst.' 'I did not affirm that this advertisement was effectively or directly stopped by the threats of Mr. Taschereau's letter of today was induced to mislead His Eminence on this point, but did not succeed in convincing him, since he says: 'If Mr. Lockwell maintains...'

3rd.—I affirmed that Mr. Taschereau's letter, previous to January 24th, and which was referred to by His Eminence's letter of yesterday, contained attempts at intimidation and threats of prosecution to force, that is to say with the intention to obtain by force, the cancellation of the contract mentioned.

If these threats did not exist, would not Mr. Taschereau ask His Eminence to say so? Note rather: 'In the third paragraph of his letter His Eminence declared that he would not have yielded to such representations.—But Mr. Taschereau cannot say that there were no threats, because these threats were made.'

"I therefore maintain my challenge."

"Only an authentic copy of the letter will convince me that I am wrong, or prove to all that I am right."

"I believe my declarations are sufficiently grave to justify me in asking that Mr. L. A. Cannon, the legal associate of Mr. Taschereau and Liberal candidate in Quebec Centre, go before the Prime Minister with a delegation composed of all the parish priests of the city and ask for a copy of the letter which Premier Taschereau wrote to Cardinal Begin and which was referred to by His Eminence in his letter which was published in 'Le Soleil' today."

"I ask Mr. Cannon to get a copy of the Premier's letter and read it to the people of Quebec at his next public meeting."

"I reiterate the accusations which I made last Sunday. I reiterate my challenge. Mr. Taschereau, are you a brave man? If so, accept my challenge. I repeat it for your benefit. If your letter to the Cardinal does not contain threats and intimations, I renew my pledge to ask 25 Conservative candidates to withdraw from the contest. If, on the other hand, what I advance is true, I call upon you to withdraw 25 Liberal candidates and to resign yourself as Prime Minister."

C. J. LOCKWELL.

RUHR VALLEY IS NOW ISOLATED

Communication Cut Off For Most Part And Censorship Is Established

The Ruhr Valley is virtually isolated and communication for the most part is cut off and a censorship has been established. Berlin was out of touch with Essen and other Rhineland points after five o'clock Monday evening. The railroad strike is in full swing and the telephone and postal services are badly crippled.

The French authorities are engaged in the systematic arrest and expulsion of German officials, state and municipal, for refusal to obey orders. A number of papers in the occupied territory have been suspended by order of the Rhineland High Commission for brief periods, for the publication of prejudicial articles.

The British Parliamentary Labor Party wants Parliament convened earlier than February 13 so that the situation arising out of Franco-Belgian occupation of the Ruhr may be given full consideration. Premier Poincaré announces that the French troops will remain in the Ruhr until reparations are paid, but no longer.

Fritz Thyssen, who is in Berlin, announces that "the people of the Ruhr form a compact unit in their determination to resist French encroachment and under no circumstances will they give in. The Council of the League of Nations, which is holding sessions at Paris, will take no part in the Ruhr controversy beyond assisting in settlement, if requested by the interested Powers."

Strike Is Complete.
Düsseldorf, Jan. 29.—The strike of German railroad workers throughout the Ruhr was complete today as was that of the telegraph employees. The telephone and postal services are partially affected.

It was expected that the carrying out of the expulsion measure would be completed by six o'clock at which time probably about one hundred persons, a larger number than had been expelled during the entire three weeks of the occupation would have been escorted into unoccupied Germany in a single day.

The French have invoked The Hague conventions as authority for the expulsions, quoting the passage reading:

"Officials of the state, officers and functionaries of occupied countries must obey the orders of the de facto government."

The Germans reply that The Hague ruling applies only to a state of war, which does not exist between Germany and France.

Railway Strike.
Berlin, Jan. 29.—Differences between the military commander and the railway men at Aix-la-Chapelle in the occupied German North-Belgian border, have resulted in a strike of the entire railway staff, according to an Aix-la-Chapelle telegram today.

Representatives of all the Roman Catholic organizations and unions of the German occupied territory, according to a despatch from Cologne, have, with the express approval of the Archbishop of Cologne, decided to issue a proclamation appealing on behalf of the five million Catholics of occupied Rhineland to the Catholics of the whole world and to all mankind "in the interest of justice, peace and reconciliation."

It is reported from Treves that a German workman, while leaving a restaurant today was shot dead by a Moroccan soldier.

Newspapers Suspended.
Coblenz, Jan. 29.—Seven of the most influential newspapers in the occupied territory have been ordered by the Rhineland High Commission to suspend for periods ranging from one to ten days as penalties for articles deemed prejudicial to public order.

In addition, a number of German newspapers forbidden the occupied territory are prohibited for periods ranging from one to three months.

An order for the German civil authorities throughout the Rhineland to obey the orders of the occupational authorities, is being posted everywhere. The Commission notifies the officials that refusal to obey constitutes "disobedience of the German law and violation of the treaty of Versailles."

Assemblies are forbidden by an ordinance passed in all the cities, but crowds continue to gather nightly, singing Deutschland über Alles. A large demonstration was staged last night before the offices of the Socialist newspaper Rheinische Wort. The demonstrators were finally dispersed by the police.

Railroad traffic in the Rhineland was brought almost to standstill at four o'clock this afternoon when the partial strike which has been in progress for the last few days suddenly became general.

TASCHEREAU WILL RESIGN IF TEN ADVERSARIES ELECTED

Statement Made By Premier At Chateau Richer Yesterday—Tumultuous Meeting—Group Of Taschereau Supporters Would Not Let Lavergne Speak—Opposition Candidate Held His Own Rally Nearby

(Special Staff Correspondence)
Chateau Richer, Jan. 29.—"If there are ten Conservatives elected in the Province of Quebec, I will resign my seat in the Montmorency County," said Premier Taschereau yesterday in a statement addressing an open-air meeting after the nominations for Montmorency County in which he is the Liberal standard-bearer and Armand Lavergne, K.C., is the Opposition candidate.
The meeting was scheduled to be controversial, but it became so tumultuous as soon as Mr. Lavergne advanced to speak that a fight broke out on the highway where the crowd was assembled and before order was restored there were several over-ardent electors nursing ugly head wounds from which the blood flowed freely. The crowd for the most part did not participate in the trouble making, which all broke out after the meeting had been addressed by Premier Taschereau and when Mr. Lavergne advanced to speak. Order was restored on several occasions but it broke out afresh and finally it was decided to abandon the plan of holding a controversial meeting and to have separate meetings. Mr. Lavergne, who was accompanied by Fanning Gosselin then moved down the road followed by a large section of the crowd and held their meeting without any further trouble, while Pierre Casgrain addressed the section of the crowd that remained at the original meeting place.
The meeting was addressed over by E. Pouliot, Civil Servant, and the speakers addressed the crowd from a small gallery. In opening the meeting the chairman said that there would be four speakers. In announcing the names of the speakers he referred to Premier Taschereau as "our benefactor". He said that Fanning Gosselin, the first speaker, would have ten minutes; Premier Taschereau and Armand Lavergne would have thirty minutes each and Pierre Casgrain, K.C., M.P., would have ten minutes.
Premier Taschereau was listened to with attention and what interruptions there were during his speech were those of enthusiastic supporters. Referring to his opponent, he said "My adversary this time is Mr. Lavergne. He has already been twice defeated."
"We will beat him again," shouted a supporter.
"I hope so," continued Mr. Taschereau, "so that he may remember a Liberal as he was formerly."
"That's it," shouted Mr. Taschereau's supporters.
"We will beat him a third time," said I hope he will give us peace in Montmorency County," added Mr. Taschereau.
The Premier was given a rousing cheer as he concluded.
Cheers also greeted Mr. Lavergne when he advanced to speak. "It is useless to introduce me," he said. "I have already been introduced as having been twice defeated and it is said that I will be defeated again."
"Yes, yes," came from a section of the crowd.
"If so," continued the speaker, "it is not by those who are shouting and who have not even the right to vote."
"Monument National," cried out several in the crowd.
"Make up your minds on this matter," said Mr. Lavergne. "I have come to speak and I will speak. Come down," urged several of his hecklers in the front of the crowd.
"I will go down," retorted Mr. Lavergne, and he started to leave the veranda when he was stopped.
"There is not a man here to keep me from speaking," he shouted above the tumult. (Cheers)
The speaker kept up, but the speaker stood up defiantly. "Man to man, there is not one of you who can stop me," he cried. "You cannot frighten me and you know it."
The uproar continued with only the momentary interruption of a load of hay passing through the narrow street which separated the crowd, but they immediately fell back into place.
"Mr. Verina," you are employed by the Government," shouted Mr. Lavergne pointing to one man in the crowd.
The tumult became deafening and Pierre Casgrain tried to restore order.
"My good friends," he said, "I ask for a moment of silence. Let Mr. Lavergne speak. If you are not satisfied with what he tells you, vote against him."
Mr. Lavergne then made another attempt to address the crowd. "If there are some amongst you who are not warm," he said, "the fault is not mine. It is the fault of the Taschereau Government."
"You lie," came from one of the crowd, and the uproar broke out anew.
Here a fight broke out in the front of the crowd between partisans, and several were roughly handled. One young man had the back of his head cut while another elector was struck across the head. The fight did not last long.
At this point Edouard Verina, whom Mr. Lavergne had pointed out as an employee of the Government suggested that separate meetings be held.

COURT OF APPEAL OVER J. H. ROBERTS

Five Judges To Decide Where Civil Proceedings Re Liberation Will Take Place

Montreal, Jan. 29.—Five Judges of the Court of Appeal will decide where Civil Court proceedings incidental to the liberation from jail of John H. Roberts are to take place. Mr. Justice Allard having rendered judgment this afternoon at 4 o'clock referring to this tribunal a motion made by the representatives of the Crown asking that the habeas corpus in Roberts' favor be dismissed.
Armand Lavergne, Antoine Rivard and Lucien Gendron, Attorneys for Roberts instituted the action to have him set free, but this was opposed by the Attorney General's Department, represented by Charles Lacombe, K.C., and Alme Geoffrion, K.C., who declined the jurisdiction of this Court to hear the request, arguing that as Roberts was detained in Quebec, all actions referring to his imprisonment must be heard in that district.
The answer to this made by Roberts' lawyers was that Roberts was a state prisoner and any Court in the province could deal with the procedure.

The speech from the Throne and other matters to come up in the opening days are being finally reviewed before presentation.

OFFER FOR MANITOBA GOVT HYDRO LINES
Winnipeg, Jan. 29.—Manitoba received an offer from the Manitoba Power Company today to lease the Government hydro lines for a period of twenty years. Hon. W. R. Robb, Minister of Public Works, announced officially.
Mr. Clubb stated the Government would not reach any definite decision on the offer until after the Commission appointed by the administration had made its report on the value and general state of the hydro lines.
The Government is now operating 112 miles of lines to Portage la Prairie, Morden, Roland and other villages along the lines. The approximate cost of construction was $2,500,000.
In favor of trouble at meetings, but he was not a coward and when he met people who would not listen to reason he had to take other means. He had never been afraid of a man. He was so much convinced of the truth of his doctrine that he feared nothing of the salaried roughs and organized gangs.
For eighteen years he had given of his best to his country and his province without asking for any recompense, because he believed that the French Canadians had a right to be represented and respected. His aim had been to make of Canada a country in which all liberties were enjoyed. He said that the Government had sold some of the Province's most valuable resources for a pittance. Mr. Taschereau had spoken of colonization, but what had the Government done for colonization as compared to what had been done for the lumber merchants.
The fight for liberty was on and would continue long after his time. For 1900 years truth had battled against falsehood and good against evil and the battle would continue. Had he accepted the tempting offers which had been made him he would be a Liberal Minister today, but he had preferred to remain on the side of truth and on the side of the people. He was still the free man of the people, he was still and whether elected or defeated he would still stand by the people.
"On February 5th, next," predicted Mr. Lavergne, "Mr. Sauve will be in power. I do not fear my words." (Cheers)
"Take my word of honor, and there is not enough money in the manger to make me utter a falsehood, that two months after Mr. Sauve comes into power the murderer of Blanche Garneau will be arrested."
Touching slightly on Conscience for which the Conservatives had been blamed, Mr. Lavergne said that the man responsible for the execution was Laurier who had sent troops to South Africa. "Is that not true?" he asked.
"Yes, yes," answered the crowd.
Speaking of the promises which Premier Taschereau had made he asked where was the bridge to the Island of Orleans which had been promised. Could the electors believe such a man. He affirmed that liberty and justice would triumph on February 5th.
Pierre Casgrain, K.C., M.P., who spoke after Mr. Lavergne had left the original meeting place, urged all the electors to send Mr. Lavergne home as they had done before. He forebade a big Liberal victory on February 5th.

REFER ROBERTS' APPLICATION TO COURT OF APPEAL

Writ Of Habeas Corpus Refused By Judge Allard In Montreal Yesterday

(Special to The Chronicle)
Montreal, Jan. 29.—The complete text of the judgment by Judge Allard in the case of John H. Roberts, appellant, vs. Jean Baptiste Carbonneau, appellee and L. P. Geoffrion, and Charles Gendron, mis en cause, has been made public.
This judgment has to do with the application for a writ of habeas corpus made by John H. Roberts, and refers the case to the Court of Appeal (division of five judges), which opens its term in Quebec on Thursday next. The case was heard today in chambers by Judge Allard, before the Court of King's Bench, (Appeal side).
John H. Roberts, by an appeal addressed to one of the Judges of this Court, and which has been presented before me in Chambers at Montreal, Saturday, the 27th instant, demands the emission of a writ of habeas corpus ad subjunctum under the authority of this Court, under whose said Carbonneau, under whose guard he is held, enjoining on this last to bring before me, or any other judge of this Court, the said body of the appellant and to show cause and justification for this detention; the whole to be ordered in conformity with law and justice.
And the said appellant, in support of his request alleges: that contrary to his will and consent and without having any civil or criminal action against him, he is detained in the prison of the district of Quebec under the guard of the said Carbonneau and that through such detention he is deprived of his liberty.
The Attorney-General, to whom this request of John H. Roberts has been made known, has appeared before me by his attorneys, Messrs. Charles Lacombe, Assistant Attorney-General, and Alme Geoffrion.
Before the attorneys of the appellant, Messrs. Lavergne, Gendron and Rivard, put forward their pleas, the Attorney-General, by his advocates above-named, raised a question of jurisdiction, or rather a question of lack of jurisdiction. They submit that no judge of the Court of King's Bench, sitting in Chambers at Montreal, has jurisdiction to order the emission of the required writ of habeas corpus and that the request of Roberts should be addressed and presented to a judge sitting in Chambers at Quebec.
And in support of their exception of jurisdiction, they have cited several decisions of our tribunals, particularly the case of Gaynor and Green, vol. 9 Canadian Criminal Cases, page 255, where, on March 3, 1905, the Court of Appeal decided: "In the Province of Quebec, habeas corpus must be applied for in the judicial district in which the prisoner is incarcerated, and, in the absence from Montreal district of the judges of the Court of King's Bench, during the term sittings at Quebec, habeas corpus applications cannot be heard in Quebec in respect of prisoners in the Montreal district, but must be brought before a judge of the Superior Court."
In reading his notes, the learned Judge Lacombe, made the following remarks:
"However, our decision does not rest upon this ground. Habeas corpus must be applied for in the district where the prisoner is incarcerated. This is the provision of our law (S.L.C. ch. 95, sec. 27). It is not permissible to apply to the Court of King's Bench outside of the district, if there is a judge within the district. The judges of the Superior Court have concurrent jurisdiction with the judges of the Court of King's Bench, (S.L.C. ch. 95, sec. 1). It is in Montreal to the judges of the Superior Court to whom the appellants should have applied in the absence of the judges of our Court."
This unanimous and constant jurisprudence of our tribunals is based on chapter 95, section 27 of the Revised Statutes of Lower Canada (1861).
Whether Roberts be detained for a criminal offence or whether he be detained for one of the causes provided for by article 1114, C.C.P., this section 27 of Chapter 95, R.S.C. of Lower Canada (1861) applies, that is to say, in one or other of the two cases in virtue of the jurisprudence of which I have spoken, the application for a writ of habeas corpus should be made in the district where the applicant is detained. Whether it be made before a judge of the Superior Court or whether it be made before a judge of the Court of Appeal, it should be in the territorial division of appeal of the district where he is incarcerated, in this case, in Quebec.
I will not discuss this jurisdiction, I submit to it and treat the present application in the light of the principles which are concerned. This means to say that I cannot accord the petition of the appellant, not because I lack jurisdiction, but because I have no jurisdiction to refer the case to the Court of Appeal.

JOELESS WOMEN GREAT BRITAIN

250,000 Without Employment And Situation Daily Becoming More Serious

(By Canadian Press)
London, Jan. 29.—It is estimated there are 250,000 workless women in Great Britain and the outlook for them is becoming daily more serious. The official figures do not give this number, yet even these showed that nearly 200,000 women were unemployed early in December last, or at least were registered at the employment exchanges as out of work. This represented an increase of about 14,000 over the number registered in October, 1922.
Despite this discouraging state of affairs the daily cry goes up from housekeepers who want domestic servants and want them badly. Every time the figures of the women's unemployment are published, letters pour in from overworked mothers who cannot obtain domestic help and who find it an added irritation that unemployed factory workers should not at once seek this form of woman's employment, the oldest form of all woman's work.
While sympathy may be largely with the housekeeper in her cry for help in the kitchen and nursery and dining room there is another side to the question. Before the war the factory worker would not for a moment have been considered as a possible domestic servant. The household worker was of the gentler class, the factory worker was herself usually the child of factory hands or unskilled laborers. This idea of recruiting workers from these girls is a new one. It has been done, with the aid of a brief training in spite of many difficulties, by the Central Committee on Women's Employment, supplemented by a grant from the Government, but that training will have to cease on Mar. 31, unless the Minister of Labor can see his way to the allocation of a further grant.
"How difficult it would be to take unemployed women without training into the home and expect them to grasp in a moment the work and routine can perhaps be realized from a few particulars regarding London's unemployed women," says a correspondent of the Times.
"Many of them have never lived in a house. One room has been the circuit of their lives—eating, drinking, resting and sleeping; they know nothing of the amenities of family life, of the laying of tablecloths, the meal of several courses, or of the preparation of other than coarse food. Their ideas of bedmaking are often most primitive and they have no more possessions than a working woman of many years ago."
"The trades in which they have been employed are often rough. In East End there are at present 600 unemployed women ropemakers, as many rope firms are working one week in three. There are 300 women makers of upholstery buttons who have been out of work for two years; many of them are widows with children dependent on them; and some have been in the trade for thirty years. They are exhausted by their unemployment and are seeking as best they can on Poor Law Relief. In Deptford and Shadwell there are many tin-box makers out of work.
"In the North and Northwest districts of London thousands of women who were employed in the drinker's trade during the war have been unable to get work for months past. Recently women have been turned away from the canteens for post-office employees, and women who have worked in these canteens for long periods are now being dismissed in order to cut down expenses."
"Things are as bad, or even worse, in the country, and the case of out-of-work or home-workers who do not come under the Unemployment Insurance Act and who have had long periods of unemployment is particularly hard."
"Many young women chain-makers at Cradley Heath and lace-makers at Nottingham and women formerly employed in putting hanks and eyes on cards in the Birmingham district who have been out of work for more than a year have had a desperate struggle to live. Not all of these women are suited for domestic service. Some are old and toil-worn; others are adaptable, but from the numbers of the young there are still several thousands willing and eager for training."

ARTICLE 10 UP FOR DISCUSSION

When Council Of League Of Nations Began Session Yesterday

Paris, Jan. 29.—The Council of the League of Nations, which began its session at the residence of Leon Bourgeois this morning, occupied itself promptly with one of the oldest and most familiar subjects on its agenda—Article 10 of the League of Nations Covenant and once again put off a decision whether or not it shall be eliminated from the Covenant until the States, members of the League, can send in any suggestions they may have to make concerning the proposal originally made by Canada to amend the Covenant by striking out the article or modifying it by introducing an interpretative clause.
This was the first meeting of the Council since the last assembly of the League of Nations gave the small states a majority in it and the representatives of some of the big minority states came to Paris for the session with some apprehensions as to the announced aggressiveness of the new members on such important subjects as occupation of the Ruhr and reparations generally.
Conferences between the members of the Council prior to the session, however, dissipated these fears and when Rene Viviani who presided, called the Council to order it was practically certain that no radical move would be made by any new member, if the Ruhr is mentioned during this session, it will be only with the view of announcing that the League of Nations is ready to undertake negotiations for a settlement of the reparations controversy whenever the interested powers ask the Council to do so.
The Council today decided to ask the Governments of States belonging to the League of Nations to send in before July 1 their suggestions as to the proposal to amend Article Ten of the League Covenant.

ATTACK MADE UPON BALDWIN

American Senator Calls On Administration To Demand British Repudiation

Washington, Jan. 29.—The administration was called upon by Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, speaking in the Senate, to make "immediate demand upon the British Government to disavow the statements of its Chancellor of the Exchequer casting aspersions upon the American Senate and the American House of Representatives and upon the American people, and lastly upon the American Debt Funding Commission."
The Tennessee Senator read the statement given out Saturday by the British Chancellor, upon arriving in England, and said that if Mr. Baldwin "exhibited the same elements of sordid parsimony and uttered the same crude attacks upon the American people and the American Congress while he was here, then the American Debt Funding Commission should not have treated with him at all."
"The British people," said Senator McKellar, "have always been a debt paying people and it is inconceivable to me that these self-respecting, these contract observing people will permit one of their own number to utter these uncalled for, untrue and discourteous words toward the American people and the American representatives."
Continuing, Senator McKellar asked:
"Where is the great Ambassador Harvey? Why does he not raise his voice in behalf of his Government and the American people? Has he lost his voice permanently? He never seems to be on hand when something real is going on."
The Tennessee Senator's attack was the first outbreak in either House of Congress on the Baldwin statement, but rumblings of resentment have been heard in various quarters at the Capitol since its publication.

SIR ROBT. HORNE AND THE RUHR

Thinks Nothing Of Any Benefit Can Result From Action Taken

Montreal, Que., Jan. 29.—Right Hon. Sir Robert Horne, former Chancellor of the Exchequer, speaking here today before the Women's Canadian Club and referring to the situation in the Ruhr district, said:
"I do not propose to discuss precisely what the rights and wrongs of my station may be, I think it is obvious that to everybody who is watching the progress of events in the Ruhr that nothing good, nothing of benefit is going to emerge from the action which has been taken. It looks as if the whole situation were one of paralysis and as if nothing could be got out of Germany by France of the cash which Germany owes her."
In regard to the funding of the British war debt to the United States, he said:
"Personally, I have supreme confidence that arrangements will be made which will settle a question which has caused some controversy and which, if dragged on, might lead to irritation."
He declared that the action taken by the British Government in sending troops to Turkey prevented "one of the most appalling massacres of Christian people that has ever been contemplated in the course of history."

VISITING TORONTO
Toronto, Jan. 29.—Dr. A. S. Essey, of Calgary, Supreme Grand Master Knights Templar of Canada, and E. A. Evans of Quebec, Deputy Supreme Grand Master, accompanied by W. H. A. Eckhardt, of Montreal, Grand Chancellor, and other notables of the Sovereign Great Priory of Canada, are in the city for an official visit to the two local preceptories. One of the important matters of their official visit is the advancement of the scheme to raise a fund that will provide sufficient revenue to properly maintain the orphanage of Knights Templar.

MR. PIERRE BERTRAND HELD TWO MEETINGS

Addressed Crowds Estimated At Six Hundred People In St. Sauveur Last Night

Mr. Pierre Bertrand, Independent-Labor candidate in St. Sauveur, held two very successful meetings last evening in continuing his campaign in connection with the Provincial elections, which will take place next Monday.

His first meeting was held in his committee-room on Morin street, where he and other orators addressed an audience of some three hundred people, dealing with the political questions of the day.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. Boissonault, while the speakers were Mr. J. Shindia, late Secretary of the Central Labor Committee, Mr. Bertrand and J. H. Delisle, the last named touching upon the Royal Commission inasmuch as he stated that while the Government was paying its lawyers a hundred dollars a day during the enquiry, the laborers were receiving but twenty-five cents an hour.

There was no chance for laborers or workmen in St. Sauveur, he said, and urged that his listeners vote for Mr. Bertrand on Monday next.

Immediately after his meeting in the Morin Street committee hall, Mr. Bertrand held another assembly in St. Malo, where he again addressed an audience of like dimension.

ELECTRO-MOTOR DEVELOPMENT

Mr. Julien C. Smith Dwelt Upon Recent Advances In Lecture Last Evening

"That the Shawinigan Electric System had an abundant supply of power available at all times for the City of Quebec, which will be brought here over the two circuit transmission lines as soon as industries are established to use the power," was stated last evening by Mr. Julien C. Smith, Vice President and General Manager of the Shawinigan Water and Power Co. of Montreal, in the course of an interesting lecture on "Recent Advances on Hydro-Electric Developments," delivered at the Chateau Frontenac last evening to the members of the Quebec Branch of Engineering Institute of Canada, which was presided over by Mr. A. R. Decary and was largely attended.

At the close of the lecture which was illustrated with a series of lantern slides, the lecturer was proposed by Mr. Gibault, and carried by acclamation.

Mr. Smith in the course of his lecture spoke of the problems confronting designers of water wheels and traced the gradual development of the design of these wheels from the earliest horizontal type to the modern high speed vertical wheel, operating at a high efficiency relatively, and in comparison with the earlier models, at almost double the speed.

The increase in speed of water wheels means corresponding speed in the generators which they drive, and a corresponding decrease in the price of the generators, and a consequent economy in the development of water power. Mr. Smith brought out the fact that the latest development of the latest type of water wheel, namely the propeller type, which operates at an extremely high specific speed will mean that numerous low head water powers will now be able to be developed economically, which before this type of wheel was used, would have required such a large investment of horse power as to be economically impracticable.

A number of slides were then shown depicting the different types of wheels in various stages of manufacture and also drawings showing the installations in the power house.

Continuing, Mr. Smith also touched upon the development by the engineers of the Shawinigan Water and Power Co. of an electric steam boiler which, affords the means of converting into steam any excess power available. The economies of a steam generator of electricity were explained and the fact was brought out that the amount of money which could be paid for one electrical horse power for the purchase of parts of turning it into steam was about equal to 1-1-3 cent of cost.

During the past year the installation of electric boilers have been in operation in the plants of the Belgo-Paper Co., Shawinigan Falls, and the Laurentide Co. at Grand'Mere, and have at times supplied the entire steam requirements of the mills, almost 300,000 kilowatt hours have been supplied to the electric steam generators during the past year, which amount of energy is nearly six times the total amount of energy used in the City of Quebec in the year. Mr. Smith added that there were at present some 26,000 horse power of electric steam generators now installed in Canada, and the development in this apparatus, which permits of the utilization at all times of all the power available from power developed, means that many water powers, capable of development at this time, with the ability to convert into money excess power, would otherwise have to remain undeveloped for years to come, until such times as large mills were built in their vicinity to absorb the power developed.

In concluding Mr. Smith briefly described the transmission and generating system of the Shawinigan Water and Power Co., stating that the total generating capacity at Grand'Mere and Shawinigan Falls was in the neighborhood of 340,000 horse power. The next development is now under way at Gray's Falls, some 18 miles below Shawinigan on the St. Maurice River, where 120,000 horse power will be developed, bringing the total development of the Shawinigan system up to 460,000 horse power.

From the generating stations transmission extends to Quebec, Montreal and Sherbrooke, and supplies all the cities in this area with light and power. There is an abundant supply of power at all times available for the City of Quebec, which will be brought here over the two circuit transmission lines as soon as industries are established to use the power available.

DR. PAQUIN REPORTS

PUBLIC HEALTH GOOD
The Municipal Health Department, presided over as Medical Superintendent by Dr. C. R. Paquin, reports that the public health of the city is excellent. There is much less sickness here this winter than last, and the contagious diseases of measles, scarlet fever and diphtheria have greatly diminished. There are only nine patients in the Civic Hospital at present, one case of diphtheria, and the others are children, recovering from scarlet fever and measles. This is the smallest number of patients undergoing treatment at this season of year, since the opening of the Civic Hospital at Beauport.

2 ACCLAMATIONS ARE CONTESTED

Nomination Day Passed Off Quietly — One Three-Cornered Fight Scheduled

Nomination Day passed off quietly in this city and district yesterday with the exception of a lively meeting at Chateau Richer in the Prime Minister's constituency of Charlevoix-Montmorency.

There were four acclamations, in Lotbiniere, Quebec County, Quebec East and Magdalen Island, two of which declared on the grounds of irregularities in the papers of the Opposition candidates, are contested. The two contested acclamations are those of Louis Letourneau in Quebec East and Aurele Leclerc in Quebec County.

These two members were declared returned by acclamation, Aurele Leclerc by Dr. Beliveau, returning officer, on the grounds that Mr. Louis Dion was late in filing his nomination papers, and Louis Letourneau, by Sheriff Lemieux, because the nomination papers of Mr. L. N. Dorion were not in order, as they had not been sworn to before a Justice of the Peace.

In answer to these contentions the Conservative organization claim in the case of Mr. Dion, that his papers were filed at 1.30 yesterday afternoon, and that the returning officer was slowly checking the names on the nomination list, and at 2 o'clock he had but a few names to yet check up, when he said that it was too late, and declared Mr. Leclerc elected by acclamation. The Conservative organization claims that Dr. Beliveau had no power to act in such a manner, as the law allows eight days for the checking up of the names on a nomination list, and that all a returning officer has to do when nomination papers are presented him are to accept or reject them.

In the case of Quebec East, where Mr. L. N. Dorion's papers were refused as not being in order, on the grounds that they had not been attested to before a Justice of the Peace, they claim that the nomination papers had been signed and sworn to before Notary Dionne, supposed to be a Justice of the Peace ex-officio, and that they were in order.

In the other seats of the city and districts exciting contests are promised in all constituencies. In Lotbiniere, Pierre Audet, Conservative, and Dr. Roy, Liberal, are the candidates, while in Quebec two candidates will battle for the St. Sauveur seat in the persons of Mr. Arthur Paquet, member for the constituency of the last House, and Pierre Bertrand, running on an Independent-Labor ticket. In Quebec West Messrs. Martin Madden, member in the last Legislature; Wm. Sahpries, Conservative and E. Tremblay, Independent, running as a Liberal, are engaged in a three cornered fight for the seat, while in Quebec Center Dr. P. V. Faucher, Conservative, opposes L. A. Cannon, who represented the division in the last House.

SOUR STOMACH IS CAUSED BY ACIDS

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry. Avoid Exposure, Eat No Sweets.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat no sweets of any kind, for a while, drink lots of water and above all take a teaspoonful of Jad Salts occasionally to help keep down uric and toxic acids.

Rheumatism is caused by poison toxins, called acids, which are generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the kidneys to do double work; the second weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this poison, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first signs of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove body waste also to stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

LA FILLE DE MME. ANGOT

French Operetta Company Scored Success In First Offering Of Week

The French operetta company made their bow before a Quebec audience in the Auditorium last night and were tendered an enthusiastic reception that was well deserved.

They opened with the comic opera "La Fille de Madame Angot" written by Messrs. Clairville, Straudon et Koning, with music by Charles Lecocq. This is one of the prettiest comic operas ever staged in this city and was enthusiastically appreciated by the audience from the rise of the curtain to the fall at the conclusion of the third act. The company is well balanced, every member above the average and it may be said that individually as well as collectively the entire cast can be ranked among the very best that have ever appeared before a Quebec audience.

The orchestra, numbering 25 instruments, under the leadership of Mr. Maurice Jaquet was also a revelation, and contributed in a large measure to the unqualified success of the opera. The solo parts and chorus singing were excellent and the opera very pretty likewise the music and a special feature was the tone of refinement all through the performance.

Miss Buchette was superb in the role of Clairette Angot. She is the possessor of a rich clear and melodious soprano voice, full of charm, and which she controls without the least effort, her low notes are mellow in their sweetness and her high notes are clear and flute-like in their ring. She is demure and graceful in her acting, and was simply overwhelmed with applause by the audience.

The comedy parts in which Messrs. Roland Leroux, Delagay, and Marquis were excellent, and refined.

The stage setting and costumes were pleasing to the eye, and the situations in all three acts replete with variety of scene and pleasing singing, while the program was each and every act was a masterpiece.

SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS IN SHORT SESSION

A short session of the School Commission took place last evening at the City Hall. Among the things that came up was the repairing of the Sailors' Club on Champlain Street, which the Commission decided would be repaired, and the question of the raising of the reinstatement of a furnaceman who had been suspended in connection with the near explosion of a furnace in a school recently. It had been claimed that it was through the furnaceman that the furnace had nearly exploded, and he had been suspended by the insurance people, but it was pointed out that he had always been a reliable man, and the Commissioners decided to urge his reinstatement.

POPULAR QUEBEC LADY WAS LAID TO REST

Interment Of Late Madame Vohl Took Place Yesterday Morning

The funeral of the late Madame Vohl, wife of Lieut.-Col. L. P. Vohl, took place from her late residence, St. John street, yesterday morning and was largely attended by mourners, the chief of whom were her sorrowing husband, Lieut.-Col. L. P. Vohl; her sons, Messrs. Ben and Henry Vohl of New York and Leon E. Vohl of Port Alfred, Ont.; her nephew, Mr. Albert Vohl, of Montreal; her grandsons, Douglas Porter, Henri Fréchette, Leon Brunet, Paul Renaud and Paul Fréchette, the latter of Montreal; her great-grandson Paul Brunet, Jr., and her cousin, George Cloutier.

The funeral cortege proceeded to the St. Jean Baptiste Church, where a solemn requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. Abbe Pettigrew, assisted by Rev. Abbe Gagne and Moreau as deacon and sub-deacon respectively. Mrs. Rouleau officiated at the levee du corps.

Following the service the remains of the deceased lady were transported to the Belinck Cemetery, where interment took place, a large number of relatives and friends following the body to its last resting place.

During the service solos were beautifully rendered by Madame Adeline Morency and Mr. Placide Morency.

MOTHER! MOVE CHILD'S BOWELS

"California Fig Syrup" is Child's Best Laxative

Hurry mother! Even a cross, sick child loves the "Fruit-a-tives" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A ten-cent bottle today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, vomited, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

QUEBEC LADY CURLERS WIN IN MONTREAL BONSPIEL

CITY LEAGUES PLAY TONIGHT

Emeralds Meet Laval And St. Valier Clash With Loyola At Arena

Two good games are on the bill to be played in the City Hockey League at the Arena this evening. In the opening match of the double-header Emeralds will tackle Laval while in the closing contest of the night St. Valier will cross sticks with Loyola. Both matches should prove to be hard-fought affairs and they sure will be if the four teams put up the same brand of hockey which they did in the last matches which were the opening games in the second half of the schedule.

The race for the second half championship of the League will be a hot one if the showing of the clubs in the last games are to be taken as any sample for the remainder of the season. In these games Laval played a 5-5 draw with Loyola after ten minutes of overtime and Emeralds made St. Valier, first half titleholders, show their best hockey of the season to come out on the long end of a 3-2 score. The Emeralds, however, are not the only ones who will be on the bill which will not doubt be a keenly contested one. These two teams although falling to show anything worth mentioning during the first half of the schedule, are now putting up a good brand of hockey and will make it mighty interesting for the other clubs in the league for the second half title. Emeralds although losing to St. Valier in the opening match of the second half are determined to capture the championship and vow that the one defeat suffered will be the last of the season. Laval are also bent on capturing the honors and can be depended on to put up a great struggle.

The St. Valier-Loyola match should be the bit-bit of the evening as a great game always results when these two teams meet. St. Valier, who are the first half champions, are determined to continue their good work during the second half and are quite confident that they can pull over another win on the wearers of the Red and White as they did twice before. However, the Loyola boys are equally determined that they will not be on the short end of the score this time and intend administering the first defeat of the season to the "Saints". The first game will be commenced at 8:00 o'clock sharp.

"NEWSY'S" TEAM IN VANCOUVER

Famous Hockey And Lacrosse Player Will Be Presented With Watch

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 29.—Newsy Lalonde and his party of hockey players who this year wear the colors of the Saskatoon Crescents, arrived in Vancouver this morning on the C.P.R. Transcontinental including the players, twelve in number, the party consisted of nearly thirty residents of Saskatoon, who accompanied the club to cheer them on their tour of the Coast.

"Newsy" himself looks just the same as ever. His first words, when he emerged from the C.P.R. depot were: "Here we are in Vancouver again. It's looking back home."

The party left at noon today by the C.P.R. S.S. "Charmes" for Victoria. Before the Saskatoon-Macdonald game on Monday night, Archie MacNaughton, an old-time friend of "Newsy", will present him with a gold watch on behalf of himself and other admirers of the veteran hockey-lacrosse player. R. H. Gale, ex-Mayor of Vancouver, will assist in the presentation. "It will be something," said Mr. MacNaughton, "at which Newsy can gaze on twenty years hence, and we hope it will bring to his mind fond memories of his staunch friends on the slopes of the Pacific."

HANDLEY'S RINK FINAL WINNERS

Will Represent Quebec In Play In Royal Victoria Jubilee Trophy Matches

The Quebec rink skipped by C. H. Handley will go to Montreal to represent Quebec on February 9 and 10 when play for the Royal Victoria Jubilee Trophy takes place in the Metropolis, as his quartette of players captured the honor in winning last night in the Quebec finals of the affair by a score of 15-11 over the team skipped by T. J. Delany in a thrilling battle, during which each rink captured seven ends. This makes the third consecutive time that a rink skipped by C. H. Handley has won the Quebec finals in this event, and his fellow curlers hope that he will meet with as much success in Montreal as he has met with here. There were three other games played on the ice of the Quebec Curling Club last evening, one of them being in Grade A, another in the Junior Singles and the third in the Mixed Doubles. In Grade A, Hignell's rink defeated Whyte's quartette by 15-3, while in the Mixed Doubles F. S. Stocking and Col. W. J. Ray scored an 8-7 win over J. M. Stobo and J. Norton. In the Junior Singles J. M. Whyte defeated W. D. Fleming by 8 to 7. The rinks and scores:

VOLTIGEURS WIN 1ST. HALF TITLE

Scored Seventh Straight Win In Military Indoor Rifle League Last Night

The first half of the schedule of the Military Indoor Rifle League of Quebec came to an end last evening with the shooting off of the seventh match of the season. Last night's results summarized, are R.C.A.V.C. defeated R.C.E. by 423-373. Voltigeurs de Quebec defeated 6th C.G.A. by 446-436, and Royal Rifles of Canada won from Royal 22nd Regiment by 438-421.

As a result of their victory the Voltigeurs captured the first half title and also maintained their winning streak, last night's shoot making their seventh straight. Three teams were tied for second place, with five wins and two losses, Royal Rifles, 4th C.G.A. and R.C.A.V.C. finishing in the order named, the total number of points scored during the season determining their positions in the league standing, while Royal 22nd are fifth in the race, with three wins and four losses. They are followed by R.C.E., with two wins, and 5th C.P.A., who have one victory marked up all season.

The best score of the evening was that of Capt. L. Gignac, of the Royal Rifles, who made 94. He was closely followed by Capt. Matte of the Voltigeurs, one point behind. Other good scores made were those of Pte. A. Emond, of the Voltigeurs, 91; Major C. Fletcher, Royal Rifles, 90; Staff-Sergeant E. T. D. Rose, R.C.A.V.C., and Gunner Jos. TENDLER KOD LAWLOR.
Philadelphia, Jan. 29.—Law Tendler, Philadelphia's leading contender for the lightweight championship, scored a technical knockout over Jack Lawlor, of Omaha, in the fifth round of a scheduled 8 round bout here to-night. Tendler was to have met Charley Pitts, of Australia, but Pitts failed to appear.

INDIA FIRST DAVIS CUP CHALLENGER
New York, Jan. 29.—India is the first nation to challenge for the Davis Cup, emblematic of the world's tennis championship for 1929. The formal challenge, which took more than two months to reach this country by mail, was received today by the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

MANITOBA HAS FIRST RESTRICTED AREA
Winnipeg, Jan. 29.—Manitoba has first restricted area in Canada under the Animal Diseases Act. Operations are being commenced today for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis in the municipalities of Rolland, Dufferin and Thompson, where 15,000 head of cattle will be subjected to the tuberculin test and all animals which react will be destroyed.

The tests will be conducted under the supervision of Dr. O. Hall, Supervisor of tuberculosis eradication in Canada, who will have a staff of ten veterinary surgeons assisting him.

MAY AVOID DEFICIT IN STATES THIS YEAR
Washington, Jan. 29.—A possibility that the Federal Government may completely avoid a deficit during the present fiscal year and start the new year on July 1 "with a balance on the right side of the ledger" was suggested by President Harding today in a message read at a conference of officials of the Budget Bureau and other governmental agencies which hold the reins of public expenditure.

TURKEY REACHES STAGE OF DESPAIR

Allies Draft Of Treaty Of Peace To Be Presented At Lausanne Tomorrow

Lausanne, January 29.—Constructive influences are being brought to bear on the various delegations at the Near East Peace Conference to reduce to a minimum the chances of a rupture of the conference on Wednesday when the Allied draft of the proposed treaty of peace is officially submitted to the Turks.

Although the Allied front still remains unbroken, there are clear indications that France and Italy, at least, will not subscribe to any proceedings having the ring of an ultimatum to the Turks when the draft treaty is handed them.

As for the Turks they are beginning to show evidences of despair. The draft was presented privately to them today, it consists of more than one hundred and fifty typewritten pages and contains many clauses to which they are absolutely opposed and many others, inserted at the last minute, which they say they are unable to understand.

The Ankara delegates have worked themselves into such a state that they are now distrustful of anything and everything the Allies put forward and they hesitate to make definite decisions. If the Ottoman delegation returns an answer Wednesday which will permit further negotiations on the vital essential clauses it seems likely that the French and Italian delegations will be ready to remain in Lausanne for a limited period, even if Marquis Curzon adheres to his announced programme of leaving Friday night.

Lord Curzon's departure is deemed quite justified in view of the imperative duties calling him to London, but it is believed the representatives of the other Allies will hesitate to abandon the conference while there is still hope of reaching an accord.

The idea of an adjournment is becoming repugnant. It is pointed out that such a step might be interpreted as a rupture and despite the terms of the Mudania armistice this would open the possibilities for renewal of hostilities from even the consideration of which all Europe shrinks.

A delicate situation exists at Lausanne and alarming possibilities are liable to follow a brusque rupture of the conference; this is further emphasized by reports relating to the movement of troops and threatened troop movements, Turkey and Russia were alleged to have already signed a special accord whereby Russia would hasten to the aid of Turkey in the event of resumption of hostilities and occupy Mesopotamia, wresting the disputed territory from the British.

The Russians and Turks, however, have declared this report to be an invention. But these and other rumors are causing the statesmen to hesitate to make decisions which would menace the Orient with war. Efforts will be made to induce the Turks to submit an answer on Wednesday that will obligate the Allies to continue the negotiations.

MAYOR DISQUALIFIED.
Welland, Ont., Jan. 29.—Mayor James A. Hughes, was today declared disqualified from holding office. Mayor Hughes says he will appeal the case. The judgment was given by Judge Livingstone of Welland County Court.

CO-OPERATIVE MOVEMENT IN APARTMENT FIELD
Evanston, Ill., Jan. 29.—The co-operative movement to the very "nth" degree has entered the apartment field, created for the same purpose as those in grain and livestock—for a reduction in rent and the cost of building and home owning.

Prof. C. E. Tharaldsen of Northwestern University promoted the project, a twelve-apartment structure, and care was taken that liberal yard space was provided. It is about ready for occupancy. Tenant-owners are to include several other members of the Northwestern staff, a banker, editor, attorney, government employee and a few Northwestern alumni.

"Other co-operative flat buildings have been erected, but so far as I can ascertain they were built by brokers and contractors who sold them by apartments to new owners. Our building started as a co-operative project, was built without overhead cost through free service of the tenant-stockholders as supervisors, and will be paid for at actual cost of operation plus interest and part payment of principal year by year. Funding and financing will be completed within fifteen years," says Prof. Tharaldsen. The building cost about $100,000 and has all latest conveniences arranged on the family style.

EDUCATIONALIST DEAD.
Ada, Ohio, Jan. 29.—Dr. H. S. Lehr, 85, founder of the Ohio Northern and a widely known educationalist, died this morning here, following an illness of three months. Up to the time of his recent illness, Dr. Lehr was active in educational research. He is survived by a wife and two daughters.

RUHR VALLEY IS NOW ISOLATED

Polish workmen have been sent to the Ruhr basin or that any plans to that effect have been, or are being made.

The reports to which the Polish agency denial refers were to the effect that the Polish War Ministry had ordered former servicemen familiar with railway, mining and smelting and postal service work to hold themselves at the disposal of the French Government. The men, it was alleged, would be shipped from Danzig to the Ruhr.

Twenty Killed.
Paris, Jan. 29.—Twenty Germans are reported to have been killed today when French soldiers were obliged to use their arms to protect themselves during a violent nationalist demonstration at Boppard, near Bingen, says the Echo de Paris.

The newspaper says it has been impossible to obtain confirmation of the report on account of interruption of communication with the Rhineland.

It is asserted the demonstration originated through the arrest of the burgomaster at Boppard.

Will Not Strike.
London, Jan. 29.—A Havas despatch from Dusseldorf says the municipal gas and electricity workers have decided against striking by a two-thirds majority vote.

The German telegraph workers at Cologne, adds the despatch, are "systematically mutilating telegrams to France and Belgium, both military and private."

MEASURE TO REDUCE MEMBERS' INDEMNITY
Winnipeg, Jan. 29.—A bill to reduce members' indemnity will be brought before the legislature tonight by Hon. F. M. Black, Provincial Treasurer.

Members are at present receiving $1,800 annually. Under the amendment to the Legislative Assembly Act, to be introduced by Mr. Black, the indemnity will be decreased to $1,500.

A reduction was made in Cabinet ministers' salaries from $5,000 to $4,000 last year.

The decrease in the pay of members is a step in the Government's policy of economy and has been sanctioned by the Government caucus.

ELEVATOR MANAGER IS SHORT IN ACCOUNTS
Saskatoon, Sask., Jan. 29.—Alleged to be $2,500 short in his accounts, D. Buchanan, 30, manager of the Western Elevator at Sutherland, Sask., the C. P. R. shop town near Saskatoon, was arrested Sunday morning and is held here pending preliminary hearing. Police say the shortage was discovered when an official of the company took stock at that elevator a week ago.

ALCOHOLIC MENTAL DISORDER CASES
Boston, Mass., Jan. 29.—Increase of six percent in the number of alcoholic mental disorder cases admitted to state institutions during 1922, over the preceding year is reported by Dr. George Kline, State Commissioner of mental diseases. He believes the increase may be traced to poisonous liquor. More than 10 percent of the number of admissions last year was due to alcoholism, he asserted. The number of such cases up to 1917, he said, averaged about 12 percent.

GRIPPE OR INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC AT TORONTO
Toronto, Jan. 29.—A type of grippe or influenza affecting chiefly the digestive tract has made its appearance in many Toronto homes, but Health department officials scout the idea of an epidemic. Nurses agencies report that it is impossible to respond to all the calls to attend to cases of grippe. It being no uncommon thing to find three or four laid up in every family affected.

GERMANS BUY COAL.
London, Jan. 29.—(By Canadian Press Cable)—The reported purchase by Germany of 200,000 tons of Yorkshire and Nottinghamshire steam coal is confirmed by the Grimsby Coal Market. The English coal is for shipment to Germany in the next three months and the total price is 300,000 pounds.

ABRUPT DECLINE IN FOREIGN EXCHANGES IN N. Y.

AN EXTRAORDINARY BUYING DEMONSTRATION IN RAILWAY SHARES SEEN IN NEW YORK

Sharp Depreciation Of Foreign Exchange Had No Effect On Market—Several French Bonds Established New Low Records

New York, Jan. 29.—Sharp depreciation of the foreign exchange and further liquidation of French bonds several of which established new low records apparently had no effect on today's stock market which was featured by a remarkable buying demonstration in railway shares, gains of 1 to nearly 3½ points being recorded by more than a score of active issues. Industrials were irregular during the early part of the session but rallied later when the demand for rails embraced a number of investment issues.

The abrupt decline in foreign exchanges was generally construed as a reflection of the local and European financial communities pessimism concerning the success of the French invasion of the Ruhr. French francs dropped 16 points to 8.13 cents, the lowest price in two years, and the German mark continued its course toward the vanishing point, being quoted at .0025 cents to 40,000 to the American dollar. This represented a week-end depreciation of approximately 28 per cent. Saturday's closing price for the franc was 8.05 cents. Demand for sterling sold around $4.63, or six cents below the high mark established a few weeks ago.

Switching of speculative interest from the industrials to the rails on the stock market followed publication of additional December earnings statements which disclosed in several instances substantial increases in net income. The rise in railroad shares was used to cover selling of a number of industrials. Pacific Oil was depressed to 42½ on reports of new financing but rallied later to 43½. Saturday's closing price. Other oils were irregular. Producers and refiners were pushed up ten points, buying being stimulated by additional announcements of higher prices for mid-continent crude. Royal Dutch continued under pressure, dropping 1½ points.

Flower Body broke 14 points to 170 on announcement of a new note offering. Steel and Tube preferred dropped to 94 and then rallied to 95½ for a net loss of 4½, selling being attributed to speculative fears that the Federal Trade Commission will oppose its merger with Youngstown Sheet and Tube. Other weak spots included Yakuka Tobacco Common and preferred, off ½ and 1½ point respectively, and Kelsey Wheel off 5½.

Call money held at 4½ per cent until towards the close when it advanced to five per cent. Brokers bid 4½ and Bankers demanded 4½ for time funds for all maturities with the volume of business small. Commercial paper was somewhat firmer with the bulk of the prime names at four to six months maturity commanding 4½ per cent.

Today's total sales were $42,000,000. Twenty industrials averaged 98.26; net gain .26. High 1922, 103.43; low 75.50. Twenty railroads averaged 87.20; net gain .73. High 1922, 92.99; low 73.43.

Interest in today's bond market was divided between a sharp decline in French bonds, coincident with lower exchange rates and a brisk advance in a number of railroad mortgages. New low records for all times were established by French 7½s at 85, French 8s at 88½; Seine 7s at 75, Bordeaux 6s at 70, Lyons 6s at 70, Marseilles 6s at 70, Paris-Lyon-Mediterranean 6s at 64½, and Francoroman 7½s at 84. Partial recovery was made later, the French 8s closing at 90 and the 7½s at 86½, the net loss on the day ranging from ½ of a point in the case of Lyons 6s to 2½ in the case of Seine 7s. Prague 7½s and Czechoslovakian 8s also established new lows; the former at 65 and the latter at 79.

Selling by frightened investors combined with a lack of fresh buying power was held responsible for the decline, international bankers generally being of the opinion that although the European financial and economic situation is in a somewhat chaotic state, the possibility of France's default on her external obligations is remote.

Railroad mortgages, particularly the converted and debenture types, were bought heavily in response to materially higher stock prices, which in turn were founded on exceptionally good December earnings statements. Industrial bonds were irregular. United States government securities were slightly reactionary the losses ranging from two to six cents on $100.

Total sales, par value, were $11,529,000.

Closing Letters By Local Brokers

(By L. G. Beaubien & Co.)
New York, Jan. 29.—The market with the exception of the railroad shares has not done very much today. It has been an irregular and small affair exhibiting quiet strength underneath, but without a great deal of activity. Railroad shares held most of the gains they established and in fact have led the market all day. The exchanges were particularly soft with pressure against the mark and against the franc and lira.

The three of them established new low records for the year. This tended to slow up trading here because of the fear that it forecast grave events abroad. Producers and refiners in the oil group acted remarkably strong.

Daily Gossip On Leading Stocks

(Special to The Chronicle)
The outstanding feature of daily stock market movements is the failure of the bear element to cause important liquidation notwithstanding repeated attacks on the active list. Investigations indicate that this selling is steadily increasing the short interest, and unexpected favorable news might result in a sharp covering movement.

Belgium, which has promised Canada participation in its favored nations treaty arrangements, imported from the Dominion in the last fiscal year goods to the value of $202,866,000. The principal item was preserved fish, accounting for $178,226,000.

The Irving Bank, of New York, in their mid-month review, says:—
"The assurance of one of the best winters ever known in American business history gives a cheerful tone to forecasts of industrial and trade conditions during the near future in the United States. To contrast the situation here today with that existing twelve months ago is to gain indisputable evidence of an astonishing revival from the previous depression. Expansion has occurred in virtually all the country's basic industries, particularly in automobile manufacture, building construction, railroad improvements and new equipment, and also in retail trade."

In official announcement made yesterday on the status of the British national debt on March 31, 1922, shows that the debt on that date totaled $7,742,147. This was an increase of $108,877,815 over the previous year.

A GENERALLY SOFTER TONE PREVAILED IN TRADING ON MONTREAL MART YESTERDAY

Decided Falling Off In Volume Of Business—Montreal Power Most Active Issue And Closed With Net Gain Of Half A Point—Steel Of Canada Preferred Strong Feature

Montreal, Jan. 29.—Accompanied by a decided falling off in volume of business, a generally softer tone prevailed in the trading in listed shares on the local stock market today. Montreal Power was the most active issue and closed at 106 for a net gain of ½. Quebec Railway and Canada Steamships preferred came second and third and each closed fractionally down at 33½ and 46½ respectively.

Steel of Canada preferred was the strong feature of the list having a net advance of 3½ points at the close of 98 ex-dividend. The greatest loss was in Lake of the Woods which was off 2 points to 178. In the papers, Abitibi was up ¼ to 67½; Brompton was off ¼ to 37½; Laurentide was unchanged at 92½; Price Bros. was unchanged at 44 and Spanish Common declined ¼ to 94.

The textiles were mostly firm. Converters was unchanged at 98; Dominion Textile (new stock) was off ¼ to 67 and Penmans advanced 2 to 135.

In the tractiones Brazilian was unchanged at 43; Quebec Railway was off ¼ to 23½ and Toronto Railway was off ¼ to 92.

Other price changes were Bell Telephone, up ½; Canada Cement up ¼ and the preferred up ½; Smelters off ½; Dominion Bridge off ½; Illinois Traction off 1½; MacDonald off 1½; Mackay up ¼ and Shawinigan off ½.

Total sales listed 5,120.

Trading in bonds on the local stock market today was mostly confined to the government issues which showed little change. The future of the industrial list was the advance of Quebec Railway bonds to a new high of nine year at 73½.

Total sales $171,700.

MEXICO NEEDS FRIENDLY RELATIONS

Havana, Cuba, Jan. 13.—By Mail—"Mexico needs a Messiah in the form of a man who has the courage to brave unpopularity by seeking the friendship of foreign countries, especially the United States," declares Emeterio de la Garza, pre-revolutionary Mexican statesman, who has arrived in Havana from Europe after nearly a decade of exile.
"Mexico needs foreign capital and immigration," Señor de la Garza continued, "and must encourage and protect them. We must lay aside our exaggerated patriotism, which tends to isolate us from the world. We must consider ourselves from an international viewpoint."
Señor de la Garza, who asserts that Mexico is being estranged even from her Latin American neighbors, is unable to find even a ray of silver lining to the cloud he sees hovering over his country.

THE HORSE BLEW FIRST.

After giving the new stable boy directions for treating a sick horse, the master returned in a little while to see if all had gone well.

He found the stable boy choking and spluttering, his face various hues of red, blue and green.

"What's wrong?" said the boss.

"Well, you said to put a tube in his mouth and blow the powder down."

"Yes."

"Well, he blew first."—From Every body's Magazine for February.

POPULAR GIRL IS PRAISING TANLAC

Miss Ions Declares It Completely Overcame Indigestion, Restoring Lost Weight And Full Strength

"I never gave a statement for any medicine in my life, but Tanlac helped me so much I think it is only right I should tell about it," declared Miss Margaret Ions, 440 11-1-2 St., N.W., Calgary, Alberta.

Miss Ions served overseas in the war and is a highly respected and popular girl.

"I was in a badly run-down condition for a year," she said. "I fell off fifteen pounds and felt tired and worn out all the time. My appetite left me, the little I did manage to eat didn't seem to do me a particle of good, and I suffered terribly from indigestion. My nerves were all strung, I could get no restful sleep, and I really don't believe I ever saw a well day."

"But two bottles of Tanlac changed things completely. I began to pick up at once, have gained five pounds, and never felt better. My nerves are steady. I sleep soundly, and my indigestion is gone. It is a pleasure to recommend Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists.

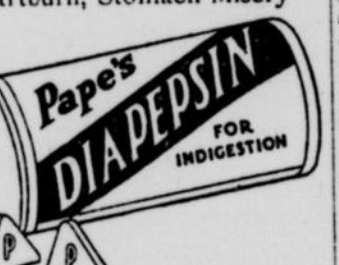

Over 35 million bottles sold.

After considerable difficulty the Chronicle has at last succeeded in perfecting arrangements for a new and thorough telegraphic report of the latest news from all parts of the world. This necessitates a very largely increased expenditure, and we hope that our readers will appreciate the sacrifices made on their behalf. The new service will be inaugurated immediately.

The Quebec Bridge.

Our readers will be glad to learn that the full amount of the capital stock of the Quebec Bridge Co., has been subscribed, that the plans have been deposited with the Railway Department, and that nothing but the proper measures of assistance from the Federal Government is now wanting to secure its construction. This assistance will be demanded by a strong deputation during the course of the coming municipal elections.

OPPOSED TO THE LIQUOR LAW.

To the Editor of the Quebec Chronicle.

Dear Sir,—I am sure that the Hon. L. A. Taschereau must feel gratified at the splendid attempt of Bernard Rose of Montreal to defend and uphold him in his present policy of commercialized liquor traffic in the Province of Quebec, by saying that "the measure had received the blessing of two very important and distinguished dignitaries of the Anglican Church." I first observe that he carefully omitted naming them, and secondly quoting them. It is quite possible for individuals from any communion to "bless the measure." But I want to say that I am a member of the Anglican communion and have been an Anglican priest for over twenty years, and that the communion to which I belong has expressed itself in no uncertain terms on the subject. At the annual meeting of the Council for Social Service held in Ottawa on Sept. 26th, 1917, which represents the Anglican Church from the Atlantic to the Pacific, adopted the following resolutions:

"That this Council of Social Service directs its Executive Committee to take all possible steps to forward the consummation of Dominion wide Prohibition," and "that this Council for Social Service of Canada desires to record its conviction that the policy of Prohibition and rigid law enforcement is the only effective and practical way of dealing with the evils of alcoholism."

Mr. Bernard Rose also says that "Legislation in favor of prohibition cannot serve its purpose, until such time as the overwhelming majority of the people in a country are fully convinced that the use and abuse of intoxicants is not only detrimental to the individual but the nation."

May I ask Mr. Rose two questions. He means that it is not sufficient that intoxicants be detrimental to individuals, what is the nation, if it is not its individuals?

And secondly does he know the sentiment of the nation on the liquor question? Does he not remember that when a Dominion plebiscite was taken in Canada in 1898 that every single province in Canada voted with a majority of 108,000, with the once exception of Quebec?

Does he know that by 1916 every single Province of Canada had adopted its own Prohibitionary Law and that Quebec after being enlightened by an educational campaign of twenty years duration and adopted prohibition for itself in 85 per cent. of all its municipalities, and that even now the government is forcing a government owned liquor traffic in a Province where they are allowed to establish their liquor stores in less than 300 municipalities of the Province out of the 1,100, does that coincide with Mr. Bernard Rose's statement that "The Temperance leaders can only speak for themselves on behalf of a minority of the population?" And does it seem as if Temperance leaders spoke only for themselves when as Mr. Taschereau has been telling his electors "There is prohibition now from Mexico to the North Pole with the exception of Quebec had wanted it and had come very near having it by" for his tactical, courageous, political action?

However great the revenue may be for this or any other government from the liquor traffic no amount of revenue can justify an immoral, wasteful and suicidal policy. If we must, as one man, told Mr. Taschereau, depend on "intoxicating the parents to educate the children," and make "bad citizens to build good roads," and lead 25 per cent. of the 4,150 cases who were treated for one disease alone in the Provincial Laboratory, contract that disease under the influence of alcohol. Or produce such conditions such as have been recently disclosed in Montreal as Judge Leach says it does then we are paying too dearly for our Provincial revenue, and our Provincial surplus. The only logical Temperance policy is Prohibition of its manufacture, of its importation, exportation and sale, and the consumption will adjust itself. We begin at the wrong end when we make and give people something which we don't want them to consume.

ERNEST R. ROY.

Holy Trinity Rectory.

Levis, Quebec.

Presbyterian Church-Union Movement.

Adelaide Street, East.

Toronto, January 26, 1923

To the Editor,

Quebec Chronicle.

Sir,

That the facts regarding the policy of the Presbyterian Church of Canada may be accurately known by the public, this Committee respectfully asks that you publish this letter as its official statement on the subject.

It has been suggested that there is some difference of opinion as to the Church's position on the Union question. Let the General Assembly speak for itself. In 1916 the Assembly by a vote of about four to one expressed its mind as follows:

1. "That in accordance with the recommendations of this General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada do now resolve to unite with the Methodist Church of Canada and the Congregational Churches of Canada to constitute the "United Church of Canada".

2. "That a Committee be appointed to carry out the policy of the Assembly."

In 1921 at Toronto, the General Assembly again expressed its mind by a vote of about four to one in the following terms:

1. "That it be resolved that this General Assembly take such steps as may be deemed best to consummate Organic Union with the Methodist and Congregational Churches of Canada, as expeditiously as possible."

2. "That a representative Committee be appointed with instructions to confer with negotiating Churches and to carry out the policy of the Assembly and to report to the next Assembly."

We submit from the above facts that to any fair-minded person the policy of the Presbyterian Church, as expressed by its Supreme Court, is perfectly clear and unambiguous. It has been contended that the presence of anti-unionists on the Assembly's Union Committee indicated that it was not intended to definitely promote the Union. In answer to this contention, permit us to state that these anti-unionists were appointed as a result of a specific request from leaders of the anti-union section of the Assembly. This was agreed to by the Unionists in a spirit of conciliation.

Signed on behalf of The Presbyterian Church-Union Movement Committee by

J. H. Turnbull.

HELP FOR YOUNG WOMEN

Mrs. Holmberg Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Viking, Alta.—"From the time I was 15 years old I would get such sick feelings in the lower part of my abdomen, followed by cramps and vomiting. This kept me from my work (I help my parents on the farm) as I usually had to go to bed for the rest of the day. Or at times I would have to walk barefoot in the snow in this way until a friend induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had very satisfactory results so far and am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends. I feel like a different person now that I don't have these troubles."—Ophelia Holmberg, Box 98, Viking, Alberta.

Letters like this establish the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking it.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills in this country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials prove this fact.

If you doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Cobourg, Ontario, for Mrs. Pinkham's private text-book and learn more about it.

ANNOUNCEMENT IS DEFERRED

Grant Hall Confirms Despatch Regarding Line Construction On C.N.R.

(Special to The Chronicle)

Calgary, Alta., Jan. 29.—Grant Hall, Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who passed through Calgary on Saturday afternoon enroute for the coast on one of his periodical tours of inspection, confirmed a recent Eastern despatch that an announcement respecting lines constructions had been deferred till March 1. The Vice-President intimated that the whole matter was receiving careful consideration and the programme that was being prepared not only included the opening up of new territory for settlement but also the provision of facilities for farmers who were now located so far from existing lines that they found haulage costs to railway stations heavy burdens. The Vice-President was accompanied by D. C. Coleman, Vice-President Western Lines, Frank Anson, President of the Abitibi Power & Paper Co., and R. Kelly, President of the Western Canada Flour Mills Company. R. H. Dobell, George W. Allen, the party only remained over in Calgary a couple of hours before resuming their journey to the coast.

"The great thing which was impressed me in the West," remarked Mr. Anson, in the course of a brief interview, "is the pressing need for more population." He remarked that it was many years since he had been West before and said he could not understand why vast stretches of land he had seen should be so very sparsely settled. "What a glorious country the West would be if it had adequate population," he said. In reply to a question, he stated that there would be no advance in the price of newprint. Practically all contracts for the coming year had been made from $3.4 to 4 cts. His company, he said, would be running to full capacity for the whole of the year. Its annual output, he remarked, was 155,000 tons. Costs would be higher during 1923 compared with 1922, inasmuch as the Company last year had been able to secure wood in Ontario and Quebec at lower price than they were able to do at the present time. Those who knew Grant Hall in the olden days in the West can recall the remarkable prowess with the gun. Although he now has little time pleasant-tasting aromatics, now known as Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin. That was 30 years ago, and today over 10 million bottles are bought annually, the largest selling family laxative in the world. You will find it in any drug store you enter, a generous-size bottle costing you less than a cent a dose.

Every member of the family from the infants to the grandparents can use it with safety. It is gentle and mild. The formula is on the package. Miss Gertrude Stevens of St. Stephen, N. B., says her mother will use no other laxative for her little sister, who is two years old, and Miss Jennie McDonald, of Parkhill, Ont., declares it is just what her mother needed. Try a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin for constipation or any of its symptoms. The results will delight you. And the cost is only one cent a dose.

After observing for years the satisfactory effect of his prescription for constipation, he placed it in drug stores in 1892, a simple vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with
