PUBLIC-SPEAKING QUINTET

Rotary hosts speakers

High school debating and public speaking excellence continues to improve — it was evident Wednesday as members of the Westmount Rotary Club heard five semi-finalists in the annual contest sponsored by the Montreal Rotary Club.

Westmount Rotarians annually host the semi-final level at Victoria Hall.

Winners were: Christopher Osborne a pre-law student at Bishops College School and B. Krawchenko of Westmount High.

Runners-up included: Ed Harper of Montreal High; Jack Krasney of Baron Byng and Bill Casey of Bishop Whelan High.

Judges were: Andre Chapdelaine, Lloyd Saunders and Michael Steeves.

'Seeing things'

Both winners took "Seeing Things" as their subject.

Osborne dealt at length in the time allotted to him on the question of the civil rights struggle on the North American continent and made a plea for tolerance and for a fuller realization.

City seeks $500,000 loan for police HQ

City Council voted Monday to request a half million dollar loan from the Federally administered Municipal Loan Fund to help finance the new police and fire station now under construction on Stanton street.

The motion, introduced by Alderman P. M. McEntyre, noted that under a new agreement the Quebec Municipal Commission may grant to municipalities not only long term loans but forgivenesses, under certain conditions, of a sum equivalent to 25% of the loan.

The loan is granted on the basis of $20.00 per person in the municipality, he added. Westmount's population is slightly over 25,000.

Total estimated cost of the new police and fire station, now half completed, is $886,440.

In other business, Alderman Fred Gross, Commissioner of Parks and Recreation, was named acting mayor for the months of May, June and July.

Council agreed to pay $346,850 for ten properties expropriated in the widening of and redevelopment program on Dorchester. Included were two claims for damages arising out of the proceedings. This brings to a total of 113 the number of properties bought. Total amount spent to date on expropriation in the area is $4,446,980.

Also approved was a commitment of $5,000 to provide further working capital in connection with planning for improvements to the Corporation Yards. It will cover partial payments to the architects and expenditures for test borings.

Local CHA campaign lags at 50 per cent

The Westmount division of the Combined Health Appeal and Red Cross has raised slightly over 50 per cent of its $50,000 objective, chairman Mrs. Pierre Sevigny said Wednesday.

A "mop-up" campaign will continue over the weekend and workers say they are confident the Westmount division will come "at least very close" to its objective.

About 1200 residents are taking part in the campaign as canvassers. Headquarters is Victoria Hall.

Mrs. Sevigny paid special tribute to the 200 high school students who helped out, taking cards that others had given up. Representatives from Westmount High, St. Paul's, Villa Maria, Selwyn House, Sacred Heart, St. Leo's, Weston School, and Trafalgar all took part.

The overall city wide drive also lags. Reports given early

'Building boom' well under way

Westmount's "building boom" forecast several years ago when plans for the extension of the subway into this municipality were first revealed is now strongly underway, according to most observers.

Added this week to the Westmount Centre high rise complex, the $6,000,000 Nurses Headquarters now under construction at Greene and Dorchester, the new office building on Victoria plus new apartments on Sherbrooke and one on Western will be a six-storey office building soon to rise opposite Westmount High School and a similar one on Sherbrooke street between Mt. Pleasant and Elm.

In addition, City Council this week gave the go-ahead to builders of the large medical centre on Sherbrooke, just west of Claremont.

Construction of the office building on St. Catherine next to Reader's Digest will begin "almost immediately" according to the property owners, Industrial Realities Corp. Ltd. Cost of the project was not revealed.

It will be completed by early next year. Architects are Harold Ship and Co; general contractors, Purdy and Henderson.

Sherbrooke re-zoning

City Council Monday night approved the re-zoning of the nine Sherbrooke street properties covering the entire Mt. Pleasant-Elm block. Demolition of the houses is due to start in 10 days with construction commencing immediately afterwards. Occupancy of the six-storey building is set for May 1, 1965.

Principal tenants will be the newly formed Westmount Insurance Co. (Continued on page 15)

Next week's weather

By ERIC NEAL

Mainly sunny and warm all this week. Nights cold. Scattered showers and some thunder activity in the south. Light snow in all the north. Last year we had a surprise snowstorm with 6 to 9 inches at this time, but that was exceptional. Temperature range: 30-60 or 65°F.

Warm, sunny periods to end the week with scattered showers in the south and snow flurries in the north. Forsythia in flower, a sign of spring.

Voting is heavy in WMA poll

Preliminary results of the Westmount Municipal Association's Annexation Poll should be available by April 27, president J. H. Richer told The Examiner Tuesday. He said that "a huge volume" of return ballots was being received daily at association offices in Victoria Hall.

The poll, conducted recently by the WMA in a newsletter sent to all homes in Westmount asked citizens to mark their preferences for or against annexation and sign their name. Its primary object is to enable the association to make residents' views known at meetings of the Intermunicipal Council, it was revealed.

This survey parallels one conducted by The Westmount Examiner in February, following what were termed "take-over threats" by Montreal Mayor Jean Drapeau and Executive Committee Chairman Lucien Saulnier.

The hundreds of Westmounters who replied made it clear that they wish Westmount to remain autonomous. Only about two per cent urged Westmount to join with Montreal or indeed any other municipality.

Much mileage in a single line of type

For lack of a line the story was lost . . . While all agree that modern headlines are a great boon to the harried reader, it is astonishing what havoc can result when the gremlins become active in a newspaper plant and cause the disappearance of even a single line.

Last week's story of the supposed "appointment" of E. J. Anderson to the post of supervisor of the Westmount Park Department should merely have been an item for the popular feature "26 Years Ago in The Examiner." But with the disappearance of the overline reading "26 Years Ago" Mr. Anderson's appointment was brought forward from April 1938 to April 1964, a lot of mileage for a single line.

Mr. Anderson is no longer connected with the city. He resigned in 1953 to take a position in Corpus Christie, Texas. The Park's Department is now administered by Robert Daye, city engineer and George Griffiths, general park superintendent.

2 30 trees are hit here by Dutch Elm disease

Dutch Elm disease struck 30 local trees last year, it was revealed this week in a report from the general manager's office. All were removed.

Cutting down the individual tree is the only known way to slow down the spread of the disease, a parks department official explained. And the individual affected trees are doomed anyway, he added.

Municipal officials in their fight against the Dutch Elm disease, and indeed any blight affecting trees, are operating in a particularly difficult area, it is explained—for in addition to tree lovers who may misunderstand why certain trees have to go before the axe, the chemicals used in the fight against the disease are blamed for a decimation of the bird population.

When you add the tree lovers and the bird lovers you come up with a sizable group of citizens who can rise in what they consider "righteous horror" that the trees are being cut down and the birds, killed.

Aside from Dutch Elm disease, other factors such as general decay, storm damage, old age, weak root systems, etc. did force the removal of 126 other trees. Crews planted 115 trees.

SPCA names Westmounter

Hon. Mr. Justice G. H. Montgomery, Westmount avenue, has been named chairman of Montreal's Be Kind to Animals Week, being held from May 3-9.

"During the week we want to emphasize kindness—in terms of animal care and protection" says Judge Montgomery. "We want everyone to learn about the services offered to Montreal by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. There are many benefits from the work of animal welfare agencies which are shared by everyone in the city, whether or not they are pet owners" he said.

The slogan for this year's Be Kind to Animals Week is "A time for kindness." During the week the SPCA will be organizing a number of special events.

Air Cadet exercise set May 11 at RMR

The No. 1 West Mount Air Cadet Squadron will hold their annual parade and awards ceremonies on May 11 at 7.30 p.m. in the Royal Montreal Regiment Armoury on St. Catherine street in Westmount.

About 80 air cadets including at least a dozen from Westmount will take part. The group meets every Monday for training in Westmount Park School.

S. Crabtree awarded

Stafford Crabtree, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Roy Crabtree, Belmont avenue, this week received the Lower Canada College Fosbery Scholarship, awarded to the son of an Old Boy going into grade seven.

The awards are based on examinations held recently at LCC.

Reports from Ottawa

OTTAWA — April 22, 1964, is a significant date for all liberal members of Parliament in that it marks the first anniversary of our party's takeover of government. The present government is a year old this week and this seems to me to be a good opportunity to take stock of our achievements and study our performance in the administration of the nation's business.

This, of course, has to be related to our position as a minority government. However, despite the fact that we are submitted to a certain amount of "obstructionism" in the House — as demonstrated recently by a 16-day debate on a matter that is usually dealt with in two or three days — I feel that the government has accumulated an impressive record of achievements in its first 12 months.

In every major area — social security, foreign trade, unemployment and economic stability — positive steps have been taken to further the interests of every Canadian.

Unemployment

In its first year of office, the government managed to bring unemployment down to its lowest level since 1957 and at the same time it took several measures to provide new jobs to a rapidly-increasing number of workers. Some of these measures have not yet had time to produce full benefits but we have already reached the point where, more and more, problems of unemployment are becoming regional problems — not national ones.

In the field of social security, we have made considerable progress by increasing old-age security pensions by $10 a month; old age assistance pensions by $10 a month; blind and disabled pensions by $10 a month. And as you know, we are now making every effort to enact our Canada Pension Plan.

Balance of payments

During our first year of office, we have increased exports by 6% and reduced the deficit in our balance of payments by $300,000,000. Moreover, the government managed to do this and still reduce the expected deficit in its budget for the current year.

At the same time, we have had to face another problem of deep, national significance: that of holding Canada together as a nation. Never in the history of Confederation has the problem been so acute but recent developments lead me to believe that most of the difficulties between the federal government and the provinces will be ironed out.

I will readily admit — as the prime minister does — that we have made mistakes during that first year. Nevertheless, I am convinced that we have succeeded in doing the very thing that Canada expected of us: put the country back on its feet and give it a new start toward prosperity and well-being.

A lot remains to be done, but if the first year is any indication, I can safely predict that this will be one of the most productive parliaments in our history and that it will do a great deal to re-establish Canada in the position of prestige it once held.

Mumps, measles 'popular' in '63

The number of communicable diseases among Westmounters reported to the Westmount Health Department last year was almost double that of 1962 but never reached "epidemic proportions," according to a city report released this week.

The Health Department investigated 456 reports of communicable diseases in 1963 as opposed to 236 in 1962. These were mainly cases of measles and mumps, it was noted.

The Anti-Tuberculosis Clinic, accommodated at Victoria Hall, X-rayed over 2,000 persons. Immunization service to residents increased to 726 as compared with 558 in 1962.

The School Health service comprises the main work load of the Health Department. They gave 995 medical examinations and corrected 259 defects, a slight increase over the previous year. School nurses conducted 4,509 inspections and gave 1,291 treatments.

As of December 31, 1963 the Child Health Clinic had 214 families and 302 children under supervision, a slight decrease from the previous year.

Over 15,000 see city's Flower Show

Over 15,000 people from all over the island have visited Westmount's 32nd annual Flower Show in the conservatories of Westmount Park, head gardener Eric Aho reported this week. He said that the displays would remain up for at least two more weeks, or until the blooms start to fade.

Sunday remains the most popular day for viewing the colorful displays and the greenhouses are open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Monday through Saturday they are open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

There are over 26,000 pieces on view ranging from short hyacinths used to border the greenhouse paths to the taller Easter lilies which are arranged in the shape of a cross. Also included are such favorites as tulips, iris, and daffodils and the rarer polyanthas and snow flowers.

'Scotch Mix' at WHS

The Montreal Highland Dancing Association and the City of Montreal Pipe Band will present its annual variety concert "A Scotch Mix" on Friday, May 1, at the Westmount High School Auditorium.

This concert is under the direction of Lorraine Grant Painchaud and the pipe band is being led by Pipe Major George Grant. Featured on the program will be Andrew Murdison "Auld Sandy" in a wee bit of Scotch in song and story. Mr. Andrew Murdison is now 73 years of age and has been performing since the age of 16 is still Canada's most popular Scottish performer and entertainer. Scottish and Irish dancers will also be on the program with singers and instrumentalists.

City parking lot tenders are called

Westmount is this week calling for tenders for demolition of three properties on Greene avenue Sherbrooke expropriated recently for a new city parking lot. Bids will be received at City Hall up to May 1. Work should begin the following week, a city spokesman said.

The job will be about two months behind schedule. The spokesman said that Westmount had hoped to open its lot before construction of a two-storey building began on the site of a private parking lot near Western. Two of the three owners, however, were out of town most of the winter and could not be served with expropriation papers, it was explained.

We Say

Churchill's claim is balderdash

BALDERDASH describes ex-Veterans Minister Churchill's claim of "disturbance, confusion and dismay among veterans of this country."

Veterans are taxpayers like less-privileged citizens. Taxpayers deplore waste. And any government will be applauded for eliminating, or at least reducing, waste.

That is what is proposed by handing DVA hospitals, such as l'Hôpital Reine Marie des Anciens Combattants, (Queen Mary Veterans' Hospital, to les Anglais) at Westmount's back door, over to civilian use and perhaps operation.

Our guess is that most Canadian ex-servicemen resent being continually tarred with the brush of the professional legionnaire, such as Mr. Churchill, who would make political or financial capital of the exploded claim that the country owes a living to the man who once was privileged to serve his country in uniform.

Veterans comprise a significant segment of the population, to make them nothing specially distinguishable from the next loyal citizen.

Veterans in Canada already are well blessed with priorities, privileges, provisions, pensions and even praise.

They will be guaranteed ample priority and attention in hospitals without it being at more than necessary expense to the general public.

Something is clearly amiss

THE Canadian taxpayer will undoubtedly be pardoned for asking what the multi-million deficit of the Federal Agricultural Stabilization Board actually accomplishes.

Recently, Parliament passed with very little fuss or fanfare a $122-million deficit run up by the board in the 1963-64 fiscal year. Of this amount, $74-million might be termed the operating losses incurred during

YOU SAY

Seeks playing field on hill

Sir, I am interested to read about all the fuss and all the money being spent on Westmount Park. Before the city puts in formal gardens and bigger ponds there wouldn't it be better to think about building a playing field for children who live in the upper section of Westmount?

This whole area has no place where pupils like myself can properly play baseball, football, soccer and most other sports. Not all of us like to play in the school leagues or the Westmount Recreation Department leagues. We need someplace close to home for Saturday afternoon and after school pick-up games.

Otherwise we have to play in the streets which the police and motorists don't like. And when you fall, you really hit hard.

In most ways in Westmount everyone is well looked after. There is a reserve for birds with signs telling us not to molest them. Yet when a group of boys start a football or baseball game they are molested by the police. In Lower Westmount there are putting greens, horseshoe games and shuffleboard courts for the older men. There is a park with swings, see-saws and slides for the younger children. But the boys in Upper Westmount can't play games close to home at any time.

Perhaps we could get a few hundred yards of the acres and acres of Summit Park for use as a playing field.

Until that time at least we should be allowed to play harmless games on some of the quiet streets on the mountain. It's the only place we have.

BY THE WAY

TRA-LA-LA BOWLING-PINS, according to information sent to me, can now be made with a magnesium core. If that news does not go to your head like wine, you are not the man I took you for. What is more, this exquisite core "is covered with plastic foam."

the year while the remaining $48-million resulted from the more realistic devaluation of foodstuffs held in inventory by the board.

Surely something is very seriously amiss when the cost of price stabilization for butter, eggs and miscellaneous farm products reaches these astronomical proportions.

Free education is a must

Sir, — As one of the students who participated in the march on Quebec for free education, April 9, I would like to reply to statements made by Millicent Hickmore in her column "Tea Time Topics." She implies that students are mistaken to apply for free education while they are sick and unemployed.

If she had read the demands of the students before making a statement she would have seen that they called for a redistribution of funds in favor of all of these things. It does not make sense to talk of the bankruptcy of the government while millions are wasted on supposed "defence" which is actually useless in the present situation.

Mrs. Hickmore suggest that "not all youth are university material and this is probably the type that organizes demonstrations . . ." This seems an unusual statement since the demonstration was made by university students who have already achieved college entrance requirements. She also draws links between University of Montreal students who took part in the march and "several students in their teens" who "have committed robberies and other crimes." The demonstration on Quebec was backed by the student governments of the French Universities, surely the most responsible students in the colleges.

The most naive statement in the article is the sentence "the youths who work during vacation time to help defray their expenses will be the successful men of tomorrow." There are few university students who do not work in the summer. In spite of the acknowledged scarcity of good jobs for students it is possible for a boy to earn his college fees during the summer: it is a different matter to support oneself while going to university or to help meet family obligations and the needs of younger brothers and sisters.

And it is impossible for a boy or girl to earn enough money in the summer to both pay fees and support oneself. It is odd that Mrs. Hickmore speaks only of the "successful MEN of tomorrow."

The only valid criteria for college entrance examinations is ability. We must have a government which will provide education, medical care and employment for all. If the present form of government cannot do this, we must have one that can; a socialist government.

Publicity helps hospital work

Sir: — I would like to express the gratitude of the members of the Executive Committee of Montreal West Operatic Society for your kindness and co-operation in the past regarding the publicity for our annual performances of Gilbert and Sullivan operettas.

Any increase in ticket sales arising from newspaper publicity can never be fully measured, but we sincerely believe that our ability to aid the marvelous work of the Cardiovascular Department of The Montreal Children's Hospital, through the proceeds of our productions, is largely dependent on our Society's publicity in which the newspaper medium plays so vital a part.

Ode to Westmount Park Cannon

Great iron hulks of weather-beaten brown,
You snooze upon the sagging and the rotting axles;
Your many-spoked wheels clutch feebly at
Rusted hubcaps and root within the ground.

How many years has it now been
Since they first dragged you to this restful field
Beneath the rustling elm leaves,
With flowers around you, sparrows on the limbs?

Since first I marched across these twigs and lawn
Advancing gloriously on the squirrels,
Or steered my fleet upon the sail-boat pond,
You squatted gruffly near the mound beyond.

There was a time on distant, foreign hillside,
When you reared your long, stout finger
Menacingly towards the bursting flames
Of dawn's great cannon on the sky-line.

And then your wicks were pricked with fire
Which crawled within your armoured chest,
Until you gasped in seething fury,
Billowing forth volcanic boulders with a tremendous fire.

Through long, hot hours you mangled foemen.
Amid war-shrieks and pattering drum,
They slumped to earth with blood and groans;
While at sunset you rolled forth again.

Now you preside in aged splendor here,
Two dotting veterans, still beside the flag;
All friends and enemies now hidden
On the field or in the worm-chewed bier.

You creak in wind and warp in rain;
In warm days children's armies play.
Your arms seat girls and old men drowse,
For battle's storm has passed away.

Robert Charles Wilkins.

ROVING REPORTER

By Oliver Towne

If the elderly lady who was badly splashed by a thoughtless motorist as she walked along the north side of Western at Westmount Park on Tuesday at about 4.45 p.m., would like to do something about it, we have help for her. A kind gentleman called The Examiner office on Wednesday and said that he had seen the incident, had taken down the make and license number of the offending car and had the names of two other helpful witnesses he would like to give her. We would like the lady to call this office if she is interested.

Carina Shoe Salon has a big choice of new Spring styles in stock. Everything from hi-styled, dressy shoes to walking shoes. Worth a look, ladies.

We're patting ourselves on the back so hard that we're practically gasping for breath. In our issue of March 20 last, we ran an ad for the Three East Traders offering men's imported Fuji silk pyjamas. Lo and behold, they sold 120 pairs. Not bad for a local journal like this. See that man walking down the street? Wonder what he's wearing underneath...

The Eastern and Chartered Trust branch on Greene has a new manager, Mr. Mentiply has departed for other shores and Mr. Hallé is now in charge.

Mrs. C. B. Taylor is giving up the Swop Shop for reasons of health. The new owner takes over on May 1st.

By the way, home-made chicken pie is a big favorite for Sunday dinner at Macy's Restaurant. Have you tried it?

And talking about chickens, it looks as though Mr. Barker, former owner of the Egg Shop, has flown the coop. Bill Allen, who played hockey in England for several years, is the new prop.

It's just three years since the new owners, headed by Jim Speirs, took over the operations of Westmount Taxi. And in that time, the fleet of cabs has been almost doubled.

Everybody out by May 1. That's the word along the north side of Ste. Catherine from Wood nearly to Elm. Demolition work has already started in the middle of the block evidently in preparation for the Westmount Centre project. Two business places will remain, Young's Market and the Deauville Beauty Salon next door. Cloutier the Barber is taking a rest and then joining up with a shop in N.D.G.; Fred Schultz, the floor man, is moving further west on St. Catherine, out near the corner of Abbott; Associated Commercial Photographers are moving to Monkland avenue; Mr. Carson of Telectronics Corp. has his eye on a store on Sherbrooke street; Acme Photo has already moved to their other store on Sherbrooke near Victoria.

Allan Bronfmann lectureship is set at Shaar Hashomayim

Dr. Harry C. Ballon, President of Congregation Shaar Hashomayim has announced the establishment of the Allan Bronfmann Lectureship at Shaar Hashomayim, in Westmount.

These lectures have been made possible by a Foundation established by Mr. Bronfman for the purpose of bringing to Montreal, over a period of years, outstanding names in the world of Jewish scholarship.

"The purpose of this Lectureship will be to indicate what the thinking of Judaism can contribute to the problems now facing mankind as well as to make the community more familiar with the great names and the important work now being done in the field of Jewish scholarship" Rabbi Wilfred Shuchat said.

The idea of an endowed Lecture at a Synagogue is a new development in adult Jewish education at the Congregational level and holds high promise of adding an important new dimension in the life of our Jewish community," he added.

Mr. Bronfman is Honorary President of the Jewish General Hospital of Montreal, Deputy Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem, President of the Canadian Friends of the Hebrew University.

The various rooms at Victoria Hall were used on 1,548 occasions — last year — 71 more than in 1962, it was reported this week. Major building renovations reduced the number of occupancies possible in some of the higher revenue-bearing rooms with the result that the total revenue, $38,250, was approximately $1,000 less than in 1962.

It was noted that, with the completion of general building renovations, increased room rental rates were put into effect in October. "The increase in revenue will not be noticeable until the existing 1963 contracts expire and new contracts come into effect in 1964," the report said.

RVH mental patients benefit by shopping at 'Corner Store'

Shopping as a therapy for mental patients is the chief reason for the Corner Store, a clothing and variety shop maintained by the Auxiliary of the Verdun Protestant Hospital. The store will be open for visiting during the Open House to be held at the hospital on Wednesday, April 29, from 2 to 4 and from 7 to 9 p.m.

"Patients used an opportunity to make decisions. They should be given a choice and encouraged to budget their purchases, just as they must do in society," emphasizes Dr. C. A. Roberts, Executive Director of the Hospital.

The Auxiliary founded the store just over two years ago and staffs it regularly four days a week.

From very modest beginnings, the Corner Store has developed into an engaging, cheerful shop-emporium for men and women patients. "They really enjoy browsing around, whether they buy or not," says Mrs. Montague Matthews, chairman of the auxiliary's committee in charge of the shop. "Like shoppers everywhere, they just love a bargain."

Clothing, toiletries, jewellery and scores of other items are gaily displayed in the recently redecorated store. "Patients were very interested in the improvements. And it has made the store more attractive to our other customers, volunteers and staff working at the hospital."

The store is operated in a businesslike fashion, aiming to earn a moderate profit which is used to buy new and more varied merchandise. "At first, all we had was donated, second-hand stuff. But we soon found that certain items just never seemed to come in. We had to start buying to meet the specialized demands of patients."

Donations still form a great part of the stock. "Unfortunately, some of the most beautiful things we receive are just too small for our patients. What we need mostly, is plain, easy-to-wear clothes in sizes from large to extra large."

Trinkets and costume jewellery are most popular with patients.

Tea Time Topics...

The engagement announcement -

By Millicent Hickmore

MAY AND JUNE PROMISE to be popular months for weddings, according to the numerous engagement notices received for publication, and many young brides-to-be wonder what is expected of them after the engagement is announced.

From the moment the engagement is announced until the last handful of rice is thrown, a hundred and one social details must be observed—details that have behind them the weight of tradition. The appearance of the engagement ring is, an announcement in itself, but many people still prefer an engagement announcement party. This may be a luncheon, tea, buffet, supper, dinner or an evening reception.

The announcement on this occasion is made by the bride's father, guardian or by a close relative. After the announcement of the engagement, the parents of the bridegroom-to-be are first to call on the bride-elect and her parents. If they live too far away to call in person, they should write to their future daughter-in-law. When their overtures have been acknowledged, the bride-elect will find herself caught up in all sorts of happy activities.

There are many things that will demand the bride-elect's time and energy—entertainments, letters, gifts, acknowledgements, days and weeks of careful shopping and selection. Every detail from the design of a monogram for the bride to the decorations of the chancel must be as flawless as planning can make it.

With careful attention to details, the wedding day will have all the gentility of a family party, combined with the dignity and good-taste of long tradition. * * *

WOMEN IN THE NEWS: Mrs. L. P. Patterson, newly elected president of the Notre Dame de Grace Women's Club . . . Mrs. J. Malcolm McDougall and Mme Pierre Jorri, co-chairman of the House and Garden Tour of the Royal Edward Laurentian Hospital, taking place May 6 . . . Mrs. Charles Everest, newly elected president of Temple Emanu'El Sisterhood . . . Miss Ada Shea, president of the Alumnae Association of the Montreal General Hospital School of Nursing, who will preside at the dinner being given to honor the graduating class on May 5. * * *

A WORTHY CAUSE: The Grenfell Labrador Medical Mission, Montreal Branch, is making its spring annual appeal for new or good used clothing, hospital supplies and equipment, rayon underwear and stockings to be used for rug making, and layettes. These articles are needed for the Labrador coast. Kindly send donations to St. Andrew's Church, 22 Stanton avenue, Westmount, during the month of May. For further information call HU. 6-5414.

ED. note: In answer to a letter signed, Eleanor Robinson, in reference to my article in this column, on free tuition for university students—this letter savors of the type of youth I wrote about. Miss Robinson refers to the "government's waste of millions of dollars spent on supposed defence." Does she propose that university students might defend our country in time of disaster? My article specified that higher education is imperative today, however, I still maintain that monies collected from higher levied taxes should be used for the ill, the unemployed and the aged, before being used for free tuition for university students. Miss Robinson says "if the present form of government cannot provide, education, medical care and employment for all, we must have one that can—a socialist government." Everyone has an opinion of their own and Miss Robinson is entitled to hers—after all, Canada is a free country.

Westmount Park School display of paintings

The extra-curricular Art Classes at Westmount Park School have closed for this academic year, but the enthusiasm engendered by the 50 pupils who took part will not end with the classes.

The results of this enthusiastic work can be seen in two places this coming week. The puppets, made by 20 children in the theatre arts group, are on display in the Westmount Public library. These were made for "Alice in Wonderland."

Entertainment was provided by Mrs. W. A. Messenger, soloist, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. N. W. Hardy. Mrs. A. R. Ramsay played piano selections during the coffee hour.

The paintings, masks, and modelling of the other section of the class are being displayed at Westmount Park School on April 30 and May 1, in conjunction with a school drama presentation.

This class was sponsored by the Home and School Association, and the association is happy to announce that these paintings will again be on display at the annual meeting of the Quebec Home and School Federation to be held in Montreal on May 8 and 9.

This year's art class scholarship was awarded to Oliver Esmond-White who will study next year at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts, in the School of Art and Design.

Musical Sharps, Flats & Naturals

By FRANCES GOLTMAN

A PRECIOUS BOOK

Josef Hofmann, (1876-1957) one of the few prodigies to fulfill complete expectations and become a world-famous piano virtuoso, was later a celebrated pedagogue who headed the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia. The Polish genius, who became an American citizen in 1926 was brought to Montreal by impresario Louis H. Bourdon and I heard him several times.

Under the pseudonym Michel Dvorsky, he composed a vast number of piano pieces and several compositions for orchestra but word soon leaked out that they were the works of Josef Hofmann.

In 1909 the eminent musician wrote a book, "PIANO QUESTIONS ANSWERED" and five years later, "PIANO PLAYING" with "PIANO QUESTIONS ANSWERED" by JOSEF HOFMANN.

Distribution

As I have said on many occasions, both in public and in print, that some of the very valuable music books are often unobtainable since the demand is not great at the time they are written. I was fortunate to secure a copy of Hofmann's book in 1957 in the States and I would not part with it for any price. It is second hand but in perfect condition.

For quite some time it has been my habit to underline important points (in my own books) so that I can quickly find an essential principal and this wonderful treatise and information bank is underlined frequently in red as well as black.

Hofmann's book is dedicated "To My Dear Friend Constantin von Sternberg" (a great pianist, composer and editor, whom I will write about in a future column). This Russian-born musician, later a naturalized American edited many compositions and serious students are familiar with his name.

There are 250 Piano Questions answered by Josef Hofmann following "Piano Playing" (90 pages) under the same cover. The Questions (105 pages) start at page one in the centre of the volume. There is a "forward" to each of the two books and a very helpful "Alphabetical Index of Questions" at the end.

There are 10 questions about the Pedals and the majority of students do not realize that using the pedals incorrectly can ruin a good performance. (In reverse, no matter how well the pedalling is done, it cannot enhance poor playing.) BOTH PLAYING and PEDALLING must be correct to attain good results.

Cadet shots finish second in tourney

By PETER G. MATHON

I'm back again to report some more news from LCC.

On Saturday, April 4, the LCC Cadet Corps Rifle Team competed in the Province of Quebec Rifle Association's Annual Cadet Shoot at the Harsars Armory on Cote des Neiges.

There were 45 Cadet Corps competing in the tourney and the LCC squad, composed of Ross Peebles, Steve Lyman, Edward Raymant, Douglas Peron and Adrien Devries, finished second in the standings. Bishops College School was the only school to score higher.

The 11 and 12 grade students who finished writing exams last Wednesday, April 15 started school again on a regular basis on Monday, April 20.

Last week the Junior Quintilian Club had a debate against the girls of the Sacred Heart Convent. The Resolution was "The United Nations has been a failure". The boys of LCC had the positive, that the UN has been a failure. LCC lost.

Unity Boys' Club

Group experience seen as key to character building

By MAURICE MARIASINE

The Unity Boys' Club of Westmount is providing group experience for 741 boys and girls from the districts of Westmount and St. Henry. March statistics recently compiled indicate that 72 individual groups are actively engaged in a variety of activities in the Club.

The Club believes that group experience can be one key to character building because groups influence the way we learn; groups influence our attitude, habits, beliefs and feelings; groups give us goals; groups set standards; groups behaviours is 'catching'; groups give us support in times of trouble; sometimes provide us with limitations within which we learn to get along with others.

That groups are important to character because they focus on people, not just activities; because they recognize that the individual is more important than the program; and because the aim of the group is to provide fun, with a program as a means to a constructive end.

That the friendly, intimate, personally satisfying human relationship of a gang of boys or girls in small groups with an adult has infinite possibilities in molding character, which after all is our reason for being.

Close Personal Relations

It is through small group experience that youth has a chance to form close personal relationships with other boys and girls and with an adult.

Boys and girls get from the relationship with a group advisor something that is so simple and commonplace that some of us forget how important it is. "Understanding"

The Unity Boys' Club, ever on the lookout for the opportunity to implement new program and new group experience, is happy to announce that the group club program that was introduced by Tom Stephens last autumn has enjoyed tremendous success with something like 220 boys and girls enrolled in 22 group clubs, each club with an adult advisor and operating on a weekly basis.

Program

The Staff is currently working out a special program for the month of May. Three students, Peter Dawson, Allan Bechard and Gary Repta, who have been attached to the Unity Boys' Club for field work purposes have been assigned to special duty at the Club. The accent of the program will be geared to the great outdoors.

'Y' Gym Show planned May 8-9

"Carnival Time" — is the name for this year's annual Gym Show which is to take place at the Westmount YMCA on Friday and Saturday evenings, May 8 and 9. The show is put on by the members of the various physical classes in an attempt to show the parents and visitors some of the things that they have learned throughout the winter season.

Mossman Dudgeon, Physical Director, said that there will be displays of marching, gymnastics by all age groups, relay races, dancing and even the traditional clowns. Youngsters can still get into the acts by applying as soon as they can this week.

Members of the 'Y' are now selling tickets. Tickets may also be obtained from the door if there are any left. There is a "ticket selling contest" on now and ends Saturday, May 2. Prizes will be given to the boy and girl who sell the most tickets and the second most number of tickets. There will also be a special prize to the person who sells the greatest number of tickets.

Summer Fun Club

"Fun Time" is not restricted just to the winter activities at the 'Y' — but carries right into the summer with the Summer Fun Club program for boys and girls 8-13 years of age. Their motto is: — "Summer Can Be Fun For Youngsters In The City". "In addition we have also built in other 'learnings' about our City by studying various parts of the city, visiting places of interest and some of its cultural heritage," said Youth and Community secretary Ron Watt.

Campers are also able to acquire new skills in swimming, sports, games, crafts and how to get along in groups. A staff of over thirty older teenagers and University Students work with the youngsters in "small groups" by giving leadership in some activities and helping the children to take responsibilities for other activities. The youngsters have an opportunity to share in the planning of their own programs.

Some of the activities in which both the campers and their parents are able to participate are:

swimming instruction, trips and tours, beach trips, sing-songs, handicrafts, outdoor and indoor sports, sleep-ins, Parents Night and our traditional Penny Carnival which is open to the whole community.

Registration is limited during the first four weeks of program (July 6-31st). There are six weeks of fully planned program, July 6 to August 14 — this is followed by a "swimming instruction only" program for two weeks, August 17 to 28.
