THE BEST CANADIAN PIANO IN THE MARKET IS THE "THOMAS."

Mr. Thomas is a thoroughly practical Piano Maker, and has had the experience of nearly HALF A CENTURY in the business. Such knowledge is not acquired by intuition, or by a few months' labor, but is obtained only after long years of careful study and experiment.
Mr. Thomas imports the BEST AMERICAN ACTIONS, and uses only the very best materials throughout. He personally superintends the construction of all his instruments, and will not allow any of them to leave his factory until they are as nearly perfect as it is possible to attain.
A call at the Warehouses, 63 Beaver Hall, and careful examination of these excellent Pianos, will thoroughly convince every one that the "Thomas" is just what is claimed for it, viz. The Best Canadian Piano in the market.

CORRECTION.

This is to correct the misleading reports regarding the moving of OUR BUSINESS to St. Catherine street. We have neither purchased nor looked for a site on or near said street. The Writer's opinion about the Retail Trade of Montreal is that the BEST and BULK of it will be done in the neighborhood of our present premises for the next twenty or thirty years. The French population, also a very large portion of the English-speaking citizens will always lean towards helping to make the CENTRE OF THE CITY the best and most attractive part.

Residents of the West End, when out for a walk or drive, will continue to come down to the city, simply because of the change and gaiety of the scenes as compared with the lonesome monotony of walking or driving around a few blocks near their own houses. A walk or drive to the centre of the city is just what Ladies require for a change, and, OF COURSE, JUST WHAT GENTLEMEN IN THE CITY LIKE TO SEE.

Again, why should we think of moving so long as business keeps increasing? Our sales for the last two months show an increase of trade over any previous October or November. Everything goes to show that the CENTRE OF THE CITY is the best part for business, whereas the numbers of failures of Dry Goods and Men's Furnishing Dealers who have tried business in the West End speaks badly for that part.

In a few generations things may be different, but in the meantime THE CENTRE OF THE CITY IS THE CENTRE OF ATTRACTION.

"RANDY" ROASTED.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The Standard says with regard to the attack of Lord Randolph Churchill on the Government last night that the Government do not owe their victory to any excess of consideration on the part of their late colleagues. His sense of public duty must be morbidly acute when it blunts commonplace instincts of courtesy and fair play. The disloyalty of the escapade is only exceeded by its childish conception of military statecraft.

The Times thinks there was a deal of justification for the protest. It must not be supposed, it says, that the majority obtained indicates a general approval of the Government's policy. It was, however, inexcusable to spring the motion without the usual notice.

The News approves Lord R. Churchill's course. The Chronicle thinks Lord R. Churchill's action treacherous and cowardly because he failed in courage to defend the only alternative open to the Government, namely, the abandonment of Sudan and Egypt.

The Telegraph says Lord Randolph Churchill may be credited with perfectly proper and patriotic motives, but apparently he has no other policy to suggest.

The Post says it is glad Parliament voted against assuming a responsibility properly belonging to the Executive Government.

PREPARE FOR THE WORST.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The Cologne Gazette in an article on the armaments of Russia says: Russia is not meditating an immediate breach of the peace, but is gradually mobilizing and making colossal preparations for the conflict which is possible at any moment through developments in Bulgaria and which she considers inevitable. It believes Germany, therefore, the paper continues, to be wise in her generation while trusting to the approved wisdom and resources of her great Chancellor.

THE POPE NOT INVITED.

PARIS, Dec. 5.—The report that the Government had addressed a communication to the Vatican advising the Pope to come to France in the event of war is officially denied.

BOULANGISM.

The Boulangist committee at Paris, finding that a number of adherents objected to the proposal to support the Royalist candidate in Ardenne, has been obliged to adopt a resolution that no candidate is entitled to style himself a Boulangist unless he clearly accepts the programme of Republican revision. The French Government's intention in dealing with Boulangism will be disclosed in the Chamber of Deputies in the course of a debate about to be raised on a question asked by M. Jouveval (Radical), as to what measures have been taken to ensure respect for the established government. In Premier Floquet's circle it is asserted that the Government's policy is to allow Gen. Boulanger full swing to destroy himself.

CABLE NOTES.

Russia will despatch a peremptory demand to the Persian Government to grant an exequatur to the Russian consul at Meshed.

The relations between Germany and Spain are becoming decidedly unpleasant, owing to the hostility of Senor Armigo, Spanish Minister of Foreign Affairs, to the triple alliance.

The Empress Frederick took with her to England six immense trunks crammed with the precious articles left by the Emperor Frederick.

(Gazette.)

LONDON, December 4.—The Hudson's Bay Company's meeting to-day was long and stormy. Sir Donald Smith's selection as deputy governor was confirmed. Messrs. Maclean and Russell Stephenson were proposed for the vacancy on the committee. A prolonged and heated discussion ensued in which Mr. Maclean and many other speakers impugned the whole policy of the Company and urged that new blood was wanted on the board to meet the altered conditions of the North-West. A show of hands largely favored Mr. Maclean, though Mr. Stephenson is approved by the board. The result of the poll will be declared to-morrow.

THE LEAGUE'S "BOYS."

SOME OF THEIR LITTLE PLEASANTRIES WITH OBSTINATE PEOPLE.

TIMOTHY HARRINGTON'S METHODS FULLY EXPOSED.

LONDON, December 4.—On the reassembling of the Parnell Commission to-day the authors of the placard made public last week convening a public meeting to hear addresses by Norah Fitzmaurice and a man named Mitchell, who had appeared as witnesses for the Times, presented themselves in Court and made an apology, which was accepted.

THE FESTIVE MOONLIGHTERS.

A man named Kellaher testified that by means of threats that they would burn his house and barns, a party of moonlighters succeeded in gaining entrance to his house and assaulted him and his family. Witness was compelled to swear loyalty to the League, and that he would quit the employment of a farmer who was then under boycott.

"THE BOYS" AT WORK.

A witness named O'Connor testified that George Twiss and John Connell induced him to join the inner circle of the League, saying it was a fine thing to be a soldier of Parnell's, and that he would get a little pay for doing almost nothing. The circle which he joined was known as "The Boys." Witness took part in moonlight expeditions of "The Boys," carrying guns and revolvers. Timothy Horan, secretary of a branch of the League, paid witness and nine others six shillings each on the occasion of one outrage. Timothy Harrington promised to pay the witness and others their own price if they could secure the election of a member of the League as poor law guardian. He instructed them not to kill voters, but only to frighten them greatly and compel them to sign voting papers. Those who refused were covered and compelled to sign. Mr. Harrington paid witness £7. All the members of the inner circles belonged to the League. Membership in the League was essential to membership in "The Boys." O'Connor said the day before Culloty was shot his offence was discussed at a meeting of the League Committee. Afterward Father O'Callaghan said he knew Culloty was an ugly man and he would soon be uglier. The Carran branch of the League applied to the general League for aid for evicted tenants, and received a reply refusing any relief, on the ground that the district was too greatly disturbed. By the post, however, was received a private letter signed Timothy Harrington, in which the reason given for the refusal to respond was that the place was too dull.

A CLERGYMAN'S TESTIMONY.

Canon Griffin was called as a witness. He described the disturbed condition of Castleland in 1881 and 1882, and said he believed that many persons were coerced and compelled to do things which were contrary to their wishes. On cross-examination, he stated that there were a thousand good exemplary priests who approved of the creation of the League. He believed that the League kept up the spirit of malice and spleen. Before it began the work of agitation the land was greatly overworked. Witness had in several cases applied to landlords in behalf of their tenants for a reduction of rent, and his application had been successful.

QUEBEC, Dec.

THE BOODLE WITNESSES.

The rumor was current in town last night that notification had been received from the Minister of Justice that the Governor-General-in-Council had granted pardon to witnesses in the matter of the boodle investigation, who otherwise feared to incriminate themselves. This is from the Chronicle this morning. But, as explanatory of it, may be added the further rumor that precautions have been taken to get Maguire, the principal witness, whose speaking out is likely to endanger the Ottawa Government's friends, out of the way until the investigation is over. It is said that he has left for England, where he has already acted as a kind of immigration agent for the Dominion Government. At all events,

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

THE GOVERNMENT NEARLY DEFEATED.

A FIGHT AT SUKIM EXPECTED.

LONDON, December 4.—In the House of Commons, this evening, Lord Randolph Churchill moved to adjourn the debate in order to discuss the sending of troops to Suakin. He said he believed that the Government was going against the advice of high and responsible military authorities. Within a few days a battle would be fought, and probably a desperate one, between British and Egyptian troops and Arab tribes. For what end were a mere handful of British soldiers exposed to the risk of an encounter with the Sudanese? They were in a totally inadequate force, and the presence of 4,000 utterly unreliable Egyptians did not remove the danger. Even if success attended the battle it would necessitate larger operations in the interior. He implored the House to prevent renewed slaughter in the Sudan and to save the lives of the soldiers who were being uselessly sacrificed.

Mr. Stanhope, secretary for war, said that Lord Randolph spoke without knowledge regarding the position at Suakin, whereas the Government's action was based upon full information as to what troops were required. The black battalions at Suakin were most unjustly styled "unreliable." They had been tested as a force upon which thorough reliance could be placed. The natives composing the battalions were of more than ordinary stamina and courage. The English troops who were going to Egypt were, in the opinion of the military authorities there, adequate for the purpose. Their operations would be limited and of an easy nature and they would be certain of success. (Cheers.) Sir William Vernon Harcourt supported Lord Randolph, saying the latter's motion was amply justified by the gravity of the situation. The motion was rejected by 231 to 180.

THE GOVERNMENT'S ESCAPE.

Lord Randolph Churchill's challenge of the policy of the Government in Egypt in the House of Commons to-night was a surprise to the Conservatives, and nearly caused the Government a severe defeat. They had no intimation that Lord Randolph intended to move to adjourn the debate in order to ensure the Government for the Suakin expedition. During the debate messengers were sent in all directions to drum up absent Conservative members. At one time the Government whips, seeing that the Opposition was growing in force, despaired of the result. The Liberals were alive to the numerical weakness of the Ministerial supporters, and sought to cut short the discussion in order to have an early division. The Government, however, succeeded in postponing a division until their benches began to show a majority. The conduct of Lord Randolph Churchill was severely censured by the Conservatives.

THE VOTE.

All the Gladstonians and Parnellites and four Conservatives supported Lord Randolph Churchill's motion. Several Conservatives abstained from voting. Lord Hartington and twenty-seven dissidents supported the Government. The Conservative papers infer that Lord Randolph Churchill informed the Gladstonians of his intention to move an adjournment. The Conservatives were ignorant of his proposed action, and when they learned of his intentions summoned Lord Hartington from Devonshire House and sent urgent whips to the various clubs in order to rally the Liberal-Unionists.

THE IRISH DEBATE.

Mr. William O'Brien, resuming the Irish debate, made a long and vigorous attack on Mr. Balfour for his treatment of John Mandeville. He accused Mr. Balfour of showing poisoned arrows at his prisoners, and then indulging in peals of laughter as a requiem over their graves. The Government's defence depended mainly upon Mr. Mandeville's speech, in which he stated that he was not affected by his imprisonment. Was ever so ungenerous a use made of a brave man's cheerful description of his treatment? He defied Mr. Balfour to face the English people again and try to do to death the Parnellites who refused to acknowledge themselves miscreants. If Mr. Balfour was afraid to do this let him not imagine that such wrongs as Mr. Mandeville's could be disposed of by sarcasms of a girl of the period stamp. The hour of his condemnation would surely come for his levity and cowardice.

Mr. Balfour replying said he failed to understand how a gentleman using such flowers of rhetoric as those employed by Mr. O'Brien could accuse others of using coarse and brutal language. He denied that he had described Mandeville as a drunkard. The medical evidence showed that Mandeville could not have contracted his disease in prison, while nothing was more likely to cause disease than the life led by him after his release. In conclusion, he said that the matter had now been thoroughly threshed, and it might safely be left to the judgment of the country. After further discussion a vote was taken on Mr. Ellis' motion relative to a reduction of the Irish appropriations. It was defeated by 233 to 181.

THE LAND PURCHASE BILL.

In the House of Lords, Lord Ashbourne moved an extension of the land purchase act. Earl Spencer introduced an amendment and made a speech in which he attacked the salient features of the bill. His amendment was defeated without a division.

A CONSTABLE IN TROUBLE.

The committee of the House of Commons investigating the circumstances of the arrest within the precincts of the House of Commons of Mr. Sheehy, M.P., will report that Constable Sullivan, the officer who made the arrest, committed a breach of privilege.

GERMAN SOCIALISM.

BERLIN, Dec. 4.—The spread of Socialism appears to affect even veteran soldiers' associations. Uneasy under the indications of discontent among veterans the Emperor directs that no soldiers' associations, old or new, be authorized unless the statutes of such associations contain an article affirming attachment and devotion to the Emperor. Such associations must also exclude from discussion at their meetings all political and religious questions.

Mr. John Bright was somewhat better yesterday, but his general condition was not improved.

Lord Balfour of Burleigh has been appointed Parliamentary secretary to the British Board of Trade.

The Rome correspondent of the Chronicle telegraphs that the Irish bishops have sent a letter to the Pope announcing their full adherence to the last Papal rescript.

The Emperor William drove out yesterday, his first outing in two days. The Emperor's appearance set all the false rumors, circulated by French and Austrian newspapers to the effect that his condition was serious, at rest.

Advices in Vienna from Sofia say that Prince Ferdinand is seeking a marriage alliance with the Russian branch of the Oldenburg family. He hopes to solidify his position by marrying an Orthodox Russian related to the Czar.

Among the latest orders issued by the German Emperor is one prohibiting officers in Berlin and other great garrison towns, under penalty of five days' arrest, from using civilian dress when off duty.

AMERICAN.

THE LAND OF THE ALLEGED FREE.

CINCINNATI, December 4.—The excitement about White Caps in Southern Ohio continues and is kept active by numerous and startling rumors. The facts are, however, that only two persons have been whipped so far, the last victim being Adam Barker, of Sardinia. But no notices written in red ink and bearing frightful devices are plentiful. Just now a troublesome state of affairs exists in Clermont county growing out of an effort to drive colored children out of the schools. Some children were forcibly ejected and their parents went before the grand jury and gave testimony in the matter. Since then the houses of these colored people have been assailed after night with stones, and windows and doors broken down. In some places colored children are guarded to and from school and an unwelcome feeling pervaded the neighborhood.

McGLYNN'S FULMINATIONS.

CHURCH AND POPE ATTACKED.

New York, Dec. 4.—Dr. McGlynn came out very bitterly to-night against the Roman Catholic Church to almost as large an audience as he formerly addressed when the priest of St. Stephen's Church. Concerning the Pope he said he was nothing more than a carpenter, and yet it is claimed we must learn God's religion, God's law, God's power and God's will from him as he states it, or else there is nothing we can do to save our damned souls. Men are getting tired of what is at present known as religion. Although millions and millions of dollars had been sent to convert the heathen in other countries, it is an undoubted fact that there are more pagans to-day than when Christ preached the Gospel. Christians are still engaged in discord. While he was whacking away at the Pope, now and then banging away at an archbishop or a cardinal, or slaying a brick at a monsignor, other Christian ministers were consigning him to hell. He again turned to the Pope and called him "an ignorant, absurd creature, an ignorant, meddling Pharisee, who consigned to perdition all those who did not see in religion what he saw," and claimed there was nothing in it for other people to see which he did not see.

NOT SMALLPOX.

CHICAGO, December 4.—Mrs. Garrett and Montgomery this evening returned from South Chicago where they made an examination of the two patients said to be suffering from smallpox on the steamer "Gratwick." Dr. Garrett declared the disease of the two patients was smallpox. The disease he said was not infectious. It was simply the result of vaccination.

OBITUARY.

LONDON, December 4.—The death is announced of the Countess d'Arroz, widow of Mr. Grenville Murray. She was engaged in correcting for the press a life of her husband, which is expected to contain sensational attacks on public men, especially the Earl of Derby, who dismissed him from a consulship at Odessa. The Countess was a Spaniard. A title was bestowed on her by Pope Pius IX.

PARIS, December 5.—Gen. Boyer, the friend of the late Gen. Bazaine, is dead.

has been on the market long enough to prove its rare merits to the satisfaction of the thousands who have been benefited by its use, and whose restored health and happy lives bear living testimony to the power and virtue of this excellent preparation.

has stood the most severe tests of the medical profession, and the fact that no other preparation on the market has been so freely prescribed by doctors in their regular practice, is conclusive evidence that this has been the most efficacious in all wasting diseases, such as Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Scrofula, Dyspepsia, General Debility, and any low state of the system brought on by exposure, overwork, impurities in the blood, hereditary taints, etc.

for the instruction of children and the development of their vocal and respiratory organs.

The attention of parents is invited to the following certificate:—

MONTREAL, 16th Nov. 1888.

Mr. CHARLES G. GEDDES has communicated to us his method of VOCAL GYMNASIUM training, and we have great pleasure in expressing our appreciation of his plan. While the indiscriminate use of children's voices may be of serious injury, we are satisfied that Mr. GEDDES has eliminated all possibility of danger from his method which cannot fail of being beneficial to the VOCAL and RESPIRATORY ORGANS, as well as to health generally. If practiced under his direction by the rules he has explained.

SKETCHES FROM CANADIAN HISTORY.

SURPRISED IN THE DARK.

BY L. LEACH.

Two days steady progress followed, during which there was little to note, except that René grew constantly more interested in his charge. The circumstances threw them naturally often together and promoted a certain confidence and intimacy between them, while the presence of Margaret's old nurse gave the girl a sense of comfort and security which made her quite at ease.

It was the evening of the third day since the party had left the ill-fated village of Tchenectady, or Corlaer as the French called it. The weather had been very stormy and disagreeable all day, but they had traversed the last part of the forest bordering on the Hudson, and after crossing Lake St. Sacrament, now called Lake George, hidden under its thick covering of ice and snow, were camping for a few hours' rest on Lake Champlain. The sun was near its setting when they reached this place, and the scene if wild was very beautiful. Margaret sprang from her seat on the rude sledge, glad to stretch her cramped limbs. Her old nurse was busy with some preparation for the night, but the girl had entirely lost any fear she might have had of the rough strangers by whom she was surrounded, and by whom, indeed, she was treated with unvarying respect and kindness, born partly, no doubt, of a wholesome dread of Captain de Biron's wrath should they fail to conduct themselves properly towards her.

A path had already been made down to the shore of the lake by the tramping of many feet. Margaret passed on slowly by it, her eyes fixed upon the evening sky. The golden ball of the sun, now almost at the horizon line, shone out from beneath a drift of clouds, which, broken into a thousand fantastic shapes, and gorgeously colored in every hue from glowing orange to rosy pink and deepest crimson, rose almost to the zenith. Between the clouds the sky showed peeps of delicate blue, and lower, near the sun, of vivid golden green. Behind in the darkening east, the heavens were clearing rapidly; the storms of the day rolling away in great masses of soft woolly grey. Margaret trod lightly, feeling the exhilaration of the change of weather and the keener air. Her heart, while she gazed at the brilliant spectacle of the western sky, was full of trust and thankfulness to the great Father who has clothed the world in beauty. Were those the golden gates, she wondered, behind which stretched that peaceful region where the souls of the blessed live ever in the sunshine of their master's presence? Did they remember, and long for, those dearest to them on earth, now left so far behind? Ah! questions unanswerable. Mysteries which even the eye of faith may not pierce, until we too have passed "beyond the veil."

She was standing absorbed in reveries like these when a voice spoke close beside her. She turned, not at all startled, for those tones were becoming too familiar to cause her surprise at any time. René's countenance was more expressive of melancholy than usual, as he said, with a glance at the west.

"That is a fair sight—if it means anything," "It means a great deal to many of us," said Margaret quickly, "That God loves beautiful things, so gives them with a lavish hand to his creatures, and that we are so made that we too can delight in them. Surely the thought of the eternal love and care behind all the lovely sights and sounds of nature make them full of infinite meaning—infinite precious."

"Yes," he said, glancing at the girl's radiant face, for she had her moods like other people, and just at that moment her sense of the nearness of the unseen—her faith in it—was so strong, that her whole being seemed lifted up, almost with a feeling of exultation. "Yes," he repeated, slowly, "if one can be sure of that—but there is so much that is difficult to reconcile. Man is not only made capable of enjoying goodness and beauty. Think of his capacity for cruelty and treachery to his brother man. See, as we do, even our teachers ready to sell what they deem the highest gifts of the spiritual world for some paltry, material advantage. They say that this world is but a short preparation for a better, but one notices they keep as strong a grasp upon the things of this present life, as if they could hold them always, or—as if these were the realities and all beyond a dream. Tell me how you explain these things—there are others, but these will suffice—and yet believe in God's love for the world."

Margaret, who in her Protestant training had been well instructed in the errors of the church in which René had been reared, might guess at some of her companion's difficulties, but she only said, quietly,

"I am but a simple maid and cannot hope to explain things that have puzzled wiser brains than mine, only there is something about becoming like a little child, and sometimes one gets a glimpse of what that means. A babe cannot understand much that its mother does for it, and is fractious and contends. Yet when tired out with crying it lies at peace in her arms—at peace even in the dark because close to her. It seems to me sometimes that when we are weary, groping in doubt and fear and darkness after our Father—he draws near to us, though we may only know it then by the hush and peace that follow."

A YEAR OF BLESSINGS, AND A BLESSED YEAR.

(Compiled by Rose Porter.)

Wednesday, December 5.

"Blessed be God, for He is plenteous in mercy, and a very present help in time of trouble."—Ps. lxxxvi. 1.

"A mind kept through grace in peace; faith is upholding even in deepest trial; faith is given to rest in the blessed Saviour's care even as a child in the arms of a mother. The sacrifice of a broken heart God will not despise. Bring your sorrow, whatever it be, and lay it on the golden altar which purifies and sanctifies every gift, even the all-prevailing name of Jesus."

—Anon.

AN INDIAN'S PRAYER.—"O God, let not the good words we have this day heard be like the fine clothes we have been wearing, soon to be taken off, folded up, and hidden in a box till another Sabbath comes around. Rather let Thy truth be like the tattoo on our bodies, ineffaceable until death."

The Daily Witness.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1888.

MR. EDMUND YATES, the editor of the London World, one of the publications given over to society tittle-tattle, court gossip and scandalous tarradiddles, is also a correspondent of the New York Tribune. In his latest despatches he represents Scotland as given over to Liberal Unionism, because Lord Salisbury was given a good reception in Edinburgh by the citizens and representatives of Liberal Unionism from all parts of Scotland. If the popularity of a cause is to be measured by enthusiastic receptions Mr. Gladstone would come out ahead every time.

THE NEW MAGISTRATES' COURT is certainly capable of very materially assisting in the administration of justice. A suit against the Witness by a liquor seller for alleged libel, which took place on November 7th last, or less than a month ago, was tried yesterday and disposed of with most commendable speed. The case was a very simple one and Judge Barry after hearing the evidence had no very difficult task in rendering a decision in accordance with both equity and law. Ordinarily such cases have been held over for months with, of course, more or less annoyance and inconvenience.

SPEAKING OF THE SMALL WARS, which Great Britain has been carrying on in Africa and Asia, Lord Salisbury referred to them as merely "the surf that marks the advancing wave of civilization." The same may be said of Germany's wars on the east and west coasts of Africa and in Samoa, but they are deplorable all the same. England's Black Mountain campaign, undertaken to punish wanton murders by the lawless tribes, and the Thibetan war, waged in order to clear British territory of invaders, are defensible, but most of Great Britain's small wars, like those in Zululand and Afghanistan, are wars of aggression.

IF THE EXPLORER STANLEY had been killed, his expedition, consisting of hundreds of carriers, would have scattered in all directions and have made for the coast by the innumerable paths, beaten hard for centuries, which lead in every direction throughout Africa, and some of these would long ago, had disaster occurred last year, have reached the mission posts of the interior and the coast, and given authentic news. The tidings of Bartolot's death were quickly brought; the report was of so authentic a character that it was not doubted for a moment, and the main facts regarding the murder were accurately given from the first.

THE FIRE CHIEF should have been in uniform last night. The deeds of heroism of the Montreal firemen show that the old spirit lingers. They knew they were fighting chemicals—that an explosion might send them into eternity at any moment. Yet they worked, looking death in the face, for more than an hour. With such material, Chief Benoit should make it the first brigade in America. It is hoped the very sharp criticism to which he is subjected will make him careful. He has his reputation yet to make, and he will improve his chances by appearing in uniform on occasions when all the accessories of a commanding officer are necessary. Uniform is not the least of these.

THE CITY'S LIGHT.

For apostles of darkness see the Light Committee majority. Fortunately, this Committee has few contracts to deal with. Its history for a quarter of a century has been that of foster-parent to the Montreal Gas Company. Now that there can be no further interest in contracts for that Company for nearly a score of years to come, the mantle of darkness falls upon advocates of the Royal Electric Light Company. That Company came into the street lighting business when there was little or no competition, securing a contract for five years to light certain streets. It was thought at the time that five years would develop many improvements in electric lighting, and that on the expiry of the contract more advantageous terms could be had by public tender. This is precisely what has happened. Although the contract has nearly three years to run there are already other companies seeking for leave to make a bid. In a year or two the competition will be even greater. The Royal Electric Light Company knows this. Alderman Rainville, Chairman of the Light Committee, knows it. Is that why the Royal Company all at once express a desire to have eight years added to the present contract? Alderman Clendinning might well ask why they should not continue to take the arc lights from the Royal until its contract expires, and meantime ask for tenders for incandescent lights for the rest of the city. Even Alderman Rainville's answer was that there was no reason, except that it was ridiculous to expect a company to tender for such a contract. It could not be half so ridiculous as the Alderman's course in this matter, which is outrageous and wrong. Is the Light Committee never to escape the odium of binding our city over to the tender mercies of monopolies? The Royal wants its monopoly at nearly $140 per light per year, while Alderman Clendinning says Quebec pays $80. The Barr-Edison Company offers to do it for thirty cents per night, or $109.50. The price for eight hundred lights would then be—Royal, $119,000; Barr-Edison, $87,600; Quebec price, $64,000—so that if Montreal did as well as Quebec she would save $55,000 a year, and by the Barr-Edison system $31,400. Yet the majority of the Light Committee stuck to Alderman Prefontaine's outrageous policy. If Quebec can produce light for $80 per lamp, why can Montreal not do as well? A bad feature of this, whole business is that a monopoly not now in existence is sought to be created for ten years. A worse feature is that it is to be done without giving other companies, by public advertisement, a chance to tender. Aldermen Rainville, Tansey and Laurier may have their own reasons for their action in trying to force this contract to completion. If so, they have not made them public. It has yet to pass the Finance Committee and Council. There should be turned on it the light of popular enquiry, and, that done, popular indignation will make short work of the Royal scheme.

"THERE'S FOUR OF US."

ALDERMEN RAINVILLE, PREFONTAINE,
LAURIER AND TANSEYVOTE TO LAY THE CITY UNDER ANOTHER EX-PENSIVE MONOPOLY.

The Light Committee held a meeting yesterday afternoon for the reception of the report of the sub-committee on the Royal Electric Company's offer to light the whole city at a reduced rate, provided the Company's contract was extended another seven years from July, 1891.

The report contained several modifications from the original proposal published in the Witness last week, and was as follows:—

Conditions upon which the "Royal Electric Company" will undertake the lighting of the entire city of Montreal by electricity:—

1st. The city to give to the Company an extension of its present contract of ten years, dating from 1st July next (1891).

2nd. The Company to supply a total of 300 arc lamps of 2,000 candle power, or their equivalent in incandescent light, at the option of the city—six incandescent lights being equal to one arc light.

3rd. The city will pay to the Company an annual sum of $119,000.

4th. The city will have the right to order the Company to place every additional light within the limit of the city (including future extensions) in consideration of 42 cents per night.

5th. The city reserves to itself the right at any time to put an end to the contract by buying the plant necessary to light the city according to the valuation of arbitrators.

6th. The city reserves to itself the right to place upon the Company's poles its fire alarm boxes.

7th. The Company to erect a second station in the eastern part of the city, and communication to be established between the two stations in such a way that the city shall not run the risk of being short of light.

8th. In case, when during the existence of the contract the city shall be in a position to furnish water power as a motive force, the Company shall make use of it and reduce the cost proportionately according to the estimate arrived at by arbitrators.

9th. The Company shall be ready to place its 300 lamps in full operation on the first July next (1891).

10th. All the clauses of the present contract shall equally apply to its extension, except in so far as they shall be incompatible with the present agreement.

The report was signed by Ald. Rainville, Prefontaine and Tansey, the Chairman (Ald. Rainville) remarking that he had not asked Ald. Clendinning to sign, as he knew he would not.

In the discussion which followed, Ald. Clendinning opposed the contract. Ald. Prefontaine said he "didn't see any monopoly in it."

Ald. Rainville said that all cities having to be lit with steam power had to pay 50c a lamp.

Ald. Clendinning called attention to the Royal's own map furnished the Committee, which showed that any amount of incandescent lamps were to be put up.

Ald. Prefontaine declared against incandescent lamps, yet he was ready to order the Royal to put them up.

The Chairman said that the incandescent lamps were for lanes.

Ald. Clendinning said he wouldn't recommend a ten years' contract involving millions.

Ald. Prefontaine said—"You're speaking for the papers." Ald. Clendinning remarked that these city contracts were always on the public side.

Said he, "I'm speaking for the public side. I have 100,000 people behind me." "But there's four of us," shrewdly observed the Chairman.

The offer of Messrs. Barr to light for $23 each incandescent lamp per annum was here read, and at the end of the Royal's contract to put up arc lamps at 30c per night.

Ald. Prefontaine moved the adoption of the report.

Ald. Clendinning objected to awarding another contract when the Craig recommendation was yet before Council. He also said that the Royal would get 550 arc lamps for $119,000 on the present terms of the contract. Why not let it run out. He also proposed the following amendment:—

That inasmuch as the Royal are now bound to supply lights for two years from the 1st of July next, and inasmuch as the city can get various tenders to supply incandescent lamps, and as it is not the intention of the Committee to light the whole city with arc lights, but to use both arc and incandescent systems, it would be much more to the advantage of the city to submit the incandescent part of the system of lighting to public competition, and to order what are lights are necessary for the Royal for the unexpired term, say two years from next July, and by that time the city will be in a position to deal with the whole question, and that in the opinion of this Committee it is not in the interest of the public to give a monopoly of the lighting of the city for so long a period as proposed.

The vote on this amendment stood: Yes—Ald. Clendinning and P. Kennedy.

Nays—Ald. Prefontaine, Laurier and Tansey.

On Ald. Clendinning declaring that Quebec only paid $80 a lamp per annum, Ald. Prefontaine said they had water power there.

Ald. Clendinning—And what's to hinder us getting power from the Lachine Rapids?

Ald. Prefontaine—Let us vote. If that had been practicable, manufacturers would have done it long ago.

The vote in favor of recommending the extension of the Royal's contract another seven years stood: yes—Ald. Prefontaine, Laurier and Tansey.

OLDEST IN ALL KENTUCKY.

WE ARE ALL INTERESTED

IN THE FIGHT WHICH AN ENGLISH BREWER SO CLOSELY WELL DESCRIBED.

The demonstration against licenses in Hochelaga last night was a rousing one. The Cross Mission Hall was crowded to the doors. The audience applauded every point against the saloon to the echo, and after Mr. John A. Nicholls sat down prolonged the applause for several minutes until he rose and acknowledged the compliment. Prof. Lane sang a number of solos in splendid style.

The meeting was presided over by the Rev. J. Edgewood, Church of England, who was glad to take the chair at a meeting in the interests of temperance, and to help to strike a blow at the common enemy. In this contest they could come together and unite—Catholics, Presbyterians, Methodists or Episcopians—as common soldiers against the liquor traffic. This traffic should be dealt with like a mad dog. Someone said once, in answer to the question, "What shall we do with a mad dog?" "Chain him up." That was the high license plain—monopoly for a few. The proper plan of dealing with a mad dog was to kill him. This dangerous traffic should be dealt with like a mad dog, by the proper method, prohibition. He was glad to see such a fine audience present to hear Mr. Nicholls, who had been striking such valiant blows for the right.

Mr. Nicholls showed that the cause of temperance deserved the aid and assistance of all.

CHARLES DUNTON, THE GREAT ENGLISH BREWER, wrote "the struggle between the church and the schoolhouse and the library on one side, and the beer shop and the ruin palace on the other, is simply another phase of the war between heaven and hell." Believing this to be true, he urged them to aid the church, the schoolhouse and the home in the fight. Total abstinence for the individual and prohibition for the State should be their motto. The 1,200 licensed dram shops of Montreal were arrayed against the best interests of all. All were interested because all were affected. The oft recurring tragedies in this city through drink should not only shock but also arouse to action. Mr. Nicholls concluded by a fervid demand upon the audience to take up every legal weapon to drive out the saloon.

The Committee anticipate a very large audience at the mass meeting in the East End Methodist Church to-night, and to-morrow night at St. Luke's.

THE MACKAY INSTITUTION.

ANOTHER $3,000 A YEAR NEEDED.

Mr. F. W. Thomas presided at the 18th annual meeting of the Mackay Institution yesterday afternoon, in the secretary's office. The report of the secretary, Mr. Durnford, called attention to the fact that the $22,000 endowment fund only yielded $1,300 a year, which, with the government grant of $1,700 and about $2,000 from pupils who could afford to pay, made a total income of only $5,000, while the annual expenses were $80,000, leaving $3,000 to be subscribed by the public. The managers thanked the Rev. J. A. Newham for educational supervision since Canon Norman's departure, the Rev. F. H. Marling and Dr. Robins for conducting the annual examinations, and Principal MacVicar and his students for conducting Sunday afternoon services.

The Governors and Directors were re-elected. The Governor-General has subscribed $100 towards the Jacques Cartier monument at Quebec.

HOW I SUFFERED

SEVENTEEN YEARS FROM A SKIN DISEASE. Could not walk or dress myself. A mass of disease from head to foot. Cured in eight weeks by the CUTICURA Remedies.

At the age of three months a rash (which afterwards proved to be eczema or salt rheum) made its appearance on my face. A physician was called. He said nothing was the matter, but prescribed some cooling medicine, but the sores spread to my ears and head. Another M.D. was called. He professed to know all about the case, called it "King's Evil," and prescribed guaiacum, bromine, and other medicines, but the disease continued, and I could do nothing with it. Another physician, water and four: another and another. None did me any good at all, but made me worse. The disease continued unabated; it spread to my arms and legs, till I was laid up entirely, and from continually sitting on the floor on a pillow my limbs contracted so that I lost all control of them, and was utterly helpless. My mother would have to lift me out and into bed. I could not get around the house on my hands and feet, but I could not get my clothes on at all and had to wear a sort of dressing gown. My hair had all matted down or fallen off, and my head, face and ears were one scab and I had to have a towel on my head all the time in summer to keep the flies off. My parents consulted a prominent physician before mentioned, who was of Dundas and Hamilton, Canada. He said he could do nothing for me. He wanted to cut the sinews of my legs, so that I could walk, but he would not let him, for if I did get better I would have no control of them.

The disease continued in this manner until I was seventeen years old, and one day in January, 1879, I read an account in the Prophets, of your CUTICURA REMEDIES. I described my case so exactly that I thought, as a last resort, to give them a trial. I was all raw and bleeding, from scratching myself, but I went to sleep almost immediately, something I had not done for years, the effect was so soothing.

In about two weeks I could stand straight, but not walk, I was so weak, but my sores were nearly well. As near as I can judge the CUTICURA REMEDIES cured me in about six to eight weeks, and up to this date (i.e. from January, 1879, to January, 1887) I have not been sick in any way, or have had the least signs of the disease re-appearing on me.

LYMANS' BLOCK BURNED.

ST. PAUL STREET AGAIN ATTACKED BY FIRE.

LARGE WHOLESALE DRUG WAREHOUSES DESTROYED.

Another conflagration last night. The wholesale drug store of Messrs. Lyman, Sons & Co., covering an extensive range of warehouses at 382 St. Paul street, caught fire in the lower flat shortly before eight o'clock, and the flames spread rapidly up the hoist into the roof. After business hours St. Paul street is usually one of the most deserted thoroughfares in the city and it was only whilst patrolling along by the warehouses that Constable Morrison discovered smoke issuing from the top windows of Lyman's block. He instantly rang the alarm from Box 132, and this promptly brought the central brigade to the spot under Sub-Chief McCulloch, who at once took in the serious nature of the outbreak, and ordered the second and third alarms to be sounded. Engines and reels soon came thundering up from every part of the city, though meanwhile the flames had got a firm hold of the premises, which by the time the first stream was thrown, were well alight throughout the upper story.

The Skinner ladder on arriving was hoisted at the corner of the burning building on St. Paul street, and two streams were carried up from No. 3 and 12 reels, which did most effective service. The flames, however, seemed gradually to get a firmer hold, and STRAIGHTLY CREPT DOWN to the lower stories, long tongues of fire shooting out almost every moment from the windows and threatening the safety of the brave fellows at work on the ladder. The heat inside was most intense, the centre of the building being by this time a body of flame, while the smoke was stifling at every point. The blaze illuminated the sky for miles around, and attracted thousands of people to the spot, though the efforts of the firemen were not impeded in any way, as the police drew a wide cordon around the burning pile. The fire was attacked at every available point, but was so thoroughly fed with inflammables from within that the entire block seemed doomed. Explosion followed explosion in quick succession, and some remarkably vivid effects were produced as the hungry flames devoured the piles of chemical compounds stored in the centre floors; indeed,

ALL THE COLORS OF THE SPECTRUM, seemed alternately represented with almost diaphanous effect through the dense mass of sheeting flame.

When the fire had almost created a panic, because the safety of the entire neighborhood seemed seriously threatened, Sub-Chief Naud, who with his colleague of the central brigade worked with the most commendable energy and skill, directed a couple of streams to be carried to the opposite roof, and from this coign of vantage a heavy deluge of water was poured with good effect into the burning building. Fears were entertained that the fire might force its way down to the cellar, which was stored with large quantities of benzine, turpentine, oil and other combustibles, which would have not only fallen an easy prey to the devouring element, but might have scattered destruction in every direction. This danger, however, was fortunately averted.

The men of No. 5 station were at one time in most imminent peril of their lives, and several of them are likely to bear the marks of their intrepidity for some time to come. As soon as a ladder had been run up they ran to the roof and did some most effective service by attacking the advancing flames with hose and hatchet, quite oblivious of the fact that their way of retreat was every moment becoming more hazardous, as the flames had shot out from under the eaves of the great building and

ACTUALLY FIRED THE LADDER ITSELF.

The crowds below were breathless with excitement, while the men of the brigade who witnessed the scene were almost paralyzed with fear. Fortunately the brave fellows above must have heard the frantic shouts which went up, for one by one they were seen emerging from the furnace raging around them, and descended through the sheets of flame dragging the hose and nozzle after them. They were severely singed, though not dangerously burnt, but their mackintoshes and helmets suffered severely. The plucky fellows received a perfect storm of applause on reaching the ground.

Chief Benoit was in attendance, but few seemed to recognize him, as he did not wear his uniform. The firemen worked individually with a skill and determination deserving the highest praise; but there was certainly room for improvement in the matter of discipline and system compared with the discipline even in many of the provincial towns in England, where the orders are given by bugle or shrilly blown by whistle. There was last night an utter babel of confusion and noise in the direction of the men, hoarse commands being seemingly shouted from several throats. There appeared also a demand for more hose, and several exciting incidents occurred in consequence of the failure of water just at some of the hottest corners of the fire.

It was not until ten o'clock that the flames were thoroughly subdued, and a stream was played on the ruins all through the night.

The total estimated loss is fixed at upwards of $100,000, which is fully covered by insurance, the Citizens' Office being most deeply involved. Messrs. Benny, McPherson & Co., hardware merchants, suffer considerably from smoke and water.

An official enquiry into the cause of the disaster is to be opened by Commissioner Perry tomorrow morning.

To use his own words, it is no business this certificate but the truth.—Having purchased from Willis & Co. an upright grand piano, of the firm R. S. Williams & Son, Toronto, I have the greatest satisfaction in bearing testimony alike to the honorable and gentlemanly character of the dealers, and the very superior excellence of the instrument. Nothing could exceed the kind and courteous bearing of Messrs. Willis & Co. in their negotiations, while the highest expectations have been thus far realized in the piano sold by them. It is mechanically artistic, and musically rich. The sweetness and fullness of tone command the admiration of all. With sincere pleasure we recommend these pianos. J. THE DOMINION CAPITAL.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

OTTAWA, Dec. 4.
CANADIAN ABILITY.

It was frequently urged in Parliament last session, in support of Sir Richard Cartwright's policy of reciprocity, that Canadians did not suffer by comparison. Everyone knows that Canadians in the United States are uniformly successful. The journalistic calling furnishes many examples. In Detroit alone last winter the managing editor of the News, of the Free Press, and the city editor of the Free Press, were all Canadians, though some of them recently resigned. Fresh evidence of the go-ahead character of the Canadian abroad is furnished by the recent elections in the United States. Here is a list of a few who were honored: The Hon. R. S. Hudspeh, nephew of Mr. A. Hudspeh, M.P., of Lindsay, Ont., elected to the New Jersey Legislature; the Hon. Lewis Frank, brother of Mr. A. Frank, of Victoria, B.C., elected to the California Legislature; J. W. Murtagh, a native of London, Ont., returned to the Michigan Legislature; O. Mowat Fraser, a Kingstonian and nephew of the Premier of Ontario, elected a county member in Dakota; W. James, son of B. James, of Lantz, Ont., elected Sheriff for Pembina County, Dakota; Wm. Turner, of Pembroke, Ont., elected Registrar of Deeds for Walsh County, Dakota, a $3,000 position. The Witness has already contained the names of twelve Canadians returned to Congress for various districts in Massachusetts and New Hampshire. Here are eighteen Canadians who have attained eminence in their adopted home, and, of course, another list, equally as imposing, could be compiled from the electoral returns of other States.

THE SCOTT ACT.

A petition has been filed here for the repeal of the Scott Act in Kent, Ont. The chances are that the effort to bring the repeal of the Dunken Act in Essex Centre, Ont., will be abortive.

NOTES.

It is said that the evidence on which many G. T. R. conductors were recently discharged, was obtained by Detective Wilson alias Hayner. The settlement of the disputed accounts between the Dominion and old Canada seems as far off as ever.

Lord and Lady Stanley have returned from the West.

Lieut. Laurie, of the Royal Lancaster regiment, a graduate of the R. M. C. at Kingston, has been appointed a lieutenant in "D" School of Infantry, London, Ont.

Dupuy Sheriff Sherwood, brother of the Superintendent of Dominion Police, has been confined in the Guelph Asylum, suffering from acute melancholia.

Mrs. Archard, said to have been the first white child born in the Township of Chatham, Argenteuil County, has just died near Buckingham, at the age of nearly a hundred. She had fifteen children.

The surplus that the Canadian advocates of cheaper postage hoped for in the year's transactions of the United States department has not been realized. There was a postal deficit of over $4,000,000 last year, but then the receipts were enormous, $2,600,000.

The Market Committee meets to-morrow afternoon to open the tenders for the stock market fees. Seven or eight sealed proposals have been received.

Mr. A. W. Kneeland writes that his appointment to the Council of Public Instruction was in succession to the late Mr. Ferrier, not to fill another vacancy mentioned.

Mr. J. G. Barthe has taken an action for $1,000 damages against the Montreal Street Railway on account of injuries received by falling from one of the cars.

The Chief is having a list of the firemen by nationality made out. His idea of proportion is two French-Canadians to one English Protestant and one Irish Catholic.

There will be an extra term of the Merits division of the Superior Court on the 12th and 13th inst. presided over by one of the judges from the country, in the Court of Appeals room.

Five sheep, two hogs and 300 pounds of bad beef were seized at the Eastern abattoir during the week. A feature of the week was the killing by Mr. James Pearson of 600 head of very fine horned cattle.

A fox was seen on Jacques Cartier square on Monday, and pushed its investigations as far as the grass plot in front of the City Hall, but deemed it prudent to run away after ascertaining the proximity of the police quarters.

Owing to some trouble with the horses a loaded street car was kept waiting at the corner of Bleury and Craig street for about a quarter of an hour last evening, while the driver proceeded to Cote street stables and brought back another team.

Mr. John L. Jensen, referring to his case before the Recorder's Court for "allowing" a plumber to disconnect a water meter, who put it on backwards, points out that the work at the meter was performed entirely without his knowledge, as he proved before the Court.

PROHIBITIONISTS IN COUNCIL.

EX-GOVERNOR ST. JOHN TO SPEAK IN MONTREAL—CONGRATULATIONS TO RICHMOND—HUNTINGDON GETTING READY—THE TIME FOR A GENERAL ONSLAUGHT IN THE CITY.

The war on the saloons in this city occasioned a large attendance at the meeting of the Dominion Alliance Executive, yesterday afternoon, and the spirit of the meeting was decidedly aggressive. Mr. J. R. Douglass presided. Mr. J. H. Carson, Secretary, reported upon his victory crowned month of work in Richmond county, and recommended that a Scott Act campaign be inaugurated in Huntingdon county. This was referred to the General Work Committee.

Mr. John A. Nicholls, Provincial Lecturer, reported that in accordance with an arrangement with the General Work Committee he had spent the last four months as lecturer for the National Prohibition party in the United States. He urged upon the Dominion Alliance the importance of making a general onslaught on the saloons at this time, and recommended that the arrangements for the annual Provincial conference should be immediately undertaken.

On motion Mr. A. M. Featherston, chairman, Messrs. H. Morton, J. H. Carson, C. Farney, E. L. Bond and John A. Nicholls were appointed a committee of arrangements. The Convention is to be held on or about January 15th. The Hon. John P. St. John, of Kansas, is likely to be secured to address the mass meetings at night. This special committee will meet at 3.30 on Friday to divide the work and fix the date.

Bishop Ussher reported that the General Work Committee was co-operating with the Royal Templars in the anti-liquor campaign now in progress. He had recently visited Huntingdon and delivered an address to a crowded meeting in the place. The sentiment in that county was ready for a battle against the traffic. The General Work Committee will meet at four to-morrow afternoon to decide on further action in the anti-liquor fight.

The literary committee, with the addition of Bishop Ussher and the Rev. T. G. Williams, was requested to prepare a report on temperance text books.

On motion of Mr. J. M. M. Duff, the executive officers were appointed a special committee to arrange as early as possible with the Hon. H. Mercier for a deputation from the Dominion Alliance and temperance organizations of the city, to wait upon him with reference to amendments to the liquor law and the question of law enforcement in this city.

At the suggestion of the provincial lecturer, it was moved by the Rev. T. G. Williams, seconded by Mr. A. M. Featherston, and unanimously resolved—

That this Quebec Branch of the Dominion Alliance, in view of the self-denying and successful work accomplished in the County of Richmond, by which the attempt to repeal the Dunken Act was so signally defeated by the large majority of 510, this Alliance tenders its hearty congratulations for the success attained, and its sincere thanks for the efforts put forth, to the ladies and gentlemen who, under the Divine blessing, have been enabled to secure such a grand victory for the cause of prohibition. The Alliance desires to express its gratitude to the clergy of the county who, with so great unanimity labored diligently in the cause of temperance. Special mention is also due to Messrs. Geo. O. Goodhue, A. McCallum, John Greenhalgh, Esq., of Danville; John Ewing, Jr., of Richmond; W. H. Lambly, of Inverness, as well as many other true and earnest men. The Alliance cannot omit mention of the noble, womanly, Christian work done for God and humanity by the W. C. T. U. of the county, under the leadership of Mrs. J. D. Sanderson, and trust and pray that the success obtained by the united action of the workers in the cause of temperance may be the omen of still brighter days for the good cause to which their energies have been consecrated.

The course to be pursued regarding the remaining cases against liquor sellers for violation of the minor clause was referred to the Vigilance Committee with power to act.

The general secretary was instructed to take immediate steps for the calling of a general meeting of the Temperance Electoral League, so that a temperance candidate should be placed in the field in every ward.

DROWNED BY A MOE.

BUFFANISM IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD OF WASHINGTON, GEORGIA.

WASHINGTON, Ga., Dec. 2.—This region is the scene of a war of races likely to assume large proportions, so large, indeed, that Governor Gordon is to be called upon to use the power of the State to restore order. About ten days ago in that portion of the country bordering on Broad River, a white woman claims to have been insulted by several negroes. Her husband was absent at the time of the occurrence. When he reached home and heard the story he was furious and called in his neighbors. A posse was organized for the purpose of arresting the negroes. When the posse reached the cabin of Huldah Smith, where the negroes were hiding, they were met by a sharp volley of musketry, and retired in disorder. A force of 300 white men assembled on Tuesday night. The fact that these men were on their way toward the Broad River negroes into alarm. "Tim" Smith and John Coleman, the two who were most in demand, sought protection in the convict stockades at Honey Hill. The mob made an assault on the stockade and secured the men. The poor wretches howled and pleaded for mercy, but to no purpose. They were bound hand and foot with stout cords and a bagful of rocks tied round their necks. Thus weighed down, they were tossed into the Broad River and drowned. Huldah Smith and John Smith were tied up and lashed. The cruel manner in which the negroes were drowned has rendered their friends desperate, and they are arming for an attack on the whites.

DESRIVIERES SUNDAY-SCHOOL.

A pleasant time was spent at the social held by the Desrivieres street Sunday-school last evening under so able a chairman as the Rev. Dr. Antiff, and with such performers as Mrs. Bradshaw, Misses Allen, Craig, Patton, Murphy and Swan. Messrs. Bell, Allen, Bradshaw and Fisk. All felt that the end of a well filled programme of songs, readings and musical selections came too soon. Coffee and cake were served during intermission, and formed not the least attractive feature of a delightful evening.
