Bourque retires hits Grit 'smear'

By CUTHBERT JONES
(Record staff writer)

Col. John S. Bourque, Union Nationale Member of the Legislative Assembly for Sherbrooke County from 1935 to 1960 and holder of various cabinet portfolios over the 25 years, has removed himself from the next provincial election race.

Addressing a gathering of Union Nationale supporters at the St. Charles auditorium Sunday afternoon, Mr. Bourque declared that following his defeat in the general elections of 1960, he had decided to retire from active politics.

But in urging the 350 persons gathered in the hall for the purpose of organizing a Union Nationale Association in Sherbrooke county to speed up their work, Mr. Bourque promised that he would give his complete support to whomever was chosen as party candidate.

Mr. Bourque also took issue with statements made by Premier Jean Lesage that the provincial treasury was empty when the Liberals took office in June, 1960. Mr. Bourque, former Finance Minister, termed the statement an "incredible falsehood." He deplored the "smear tactics" of the Liberals for driving good men out of politics.

The announced purpose of the meeting was to organize the County Association. At the gathering, 32 members were named to an executive committee which will draw up a constitution and prepare a slate of officers to be submitted at a general meeting later.

Chief speaker was Yves Gabias, MPP for Three Rivers, who declared that never in the history of the Quebec Legislature had a government made as many mistakes in a single session as had the Liberals since June, 1960.

These mistakes had caused a prolonging of the Legislature session, he continued, because the Opposition to do its duty had to criticize these obvious errors, which resulted in an extension of debate.

The Union Nationale, continued Mr. Gabias, was ready for an election at any time to give the people of Quebec an opportunity to correct these errors. During the 1960 elections, the Liberals told the Quebec electors they were capable of governing the province, but since taking power had named 32 commissions and committees to study provincial problems. By this means the Liberals were able to avoid making decisions on controversial matters, Mr. Gabias claimed.

Claude Gosselin, MPP for Compton, who acted as chairman of the meeting, lauded the record of Mr. Bourque during his 25 years at Quebec. Sherbrooke was beginning to miss Mr. Bourque, he said, as Quebec province was beginning to miss the Union Nationale.

Other speakers included J. J. Bertrand, MPP for Missisquoi, and Armand Russell, MPP for Shefford.

Named to the executive of the new Association were: East, Gerard Marquis, Ernest Davies, Claude Richer, Liguori Brodeur and Gaston Gagnon. West, Jean Beauchemin, Bernard Codere, Armand Gagnon, Edouard Letourneau & Mrs. F. Larochelle, North, Amedee Roy, Roland Dugre, Jacques Mathieu, Camille Messara and Armand Blais; Centre, Adolphe Gaudet, Armand

Reds hope Summit will end deadlock

Assassin-suspect is slain by posse

By E. L. ALMEN

CIUDAD TRUJILLO (AP) — Soldiers and police shot down retired Gen. Juan Tomas Tiaz, the accused chief assassin of dictator Rafael Trujillo, in a gun battle Sunday night in the heart of the city. An alleged accomplice was slain with him.

Diaz, 52, was ripped by machine-gun fire and died on the street. His companion, Antonio de la Maza, died soon after in a military hospital.

The two had been trying to find refuge in the neighborhood when a house-to-house search squad of 100 men, acting on a tip, suddenly came upon them. Authorities said de la Maza was carrying the gun that Generalissimo Trujillo had with him during his fatal ambush last Tuesday night on a road outside the capital.

An army communiqué said Diaz and de la Maza jumped from their car and began shooting after pursuing security agents had given chase. No police casualties were mentioned.

WAS A FRIEND
Diaz had been a friend of Trujillo during much of the slain dictator's 31 years of power. Gen. Rafael L. Trujillo Jr., who took over as armed forces chief when his father died, said Diaz led the assassination plot because his forced retirement from the Dominican Army had made him bitter.

A brother of de la Maza is on the army intelligence list of those wanted in connection with ing political news is likely to be announced, however, until after the nine-day period of official mourning for the generalissimo ends Thursday.

Trujillo backed up the pledge to hold elections when Balaguer's term expires. An invitation was extended to the Organization of American States (OAS) to send a committee in to observe the elections and see that they would be free.

'Jim Crow' barriers face new challenges

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—"Freedom Riders" in Mississippi's capital city today settled down to serve their sentences quietly, while a fresh flow of Negroes and whites challenging "Jim Crow" barriers of the deep south were expected to head to Jackson.

During the last 13 days, 65 bus-drivers have come to Jackson with the announced intention of violating the state's curfew-old segregation laws and customs. Subsequently, all 65 have been jailed and 52 were convicted on breach of the peace charges.

The remaining 13—the latest group to arrive—go on trial in municipal court this afternoon and are expected to receive the same sentence. All previous groups have been found guilty, fined $200 and given 60-day suspended jail sentences.

So far, 14 riders have been released from jail, 13 by posting $500 appeal bond, and one paying a fine of $197. The rest have quietly settled down to working off their fines at the rate of $3 a day.

A three-day hunger strike weakened Saturday night when all Negroes in Hinds County jail ate supper. But at the city jail, a hard core of white prisoners continued their hunger strike. Jailers said an eighth white

Man bites dog doctor

CARMARTHEN, Wales (AP)—A man bit a veterinarian at a dog show here Saturday.

The biter was Peter Green, a professional dog handler. His victim was Aelwyn T. Morgan, a local veterinary surgeon.

Morgan was gnawed in the wrist while examining a Welsh terrier which Green had lifted onto a bench.

"I bit him because I was concerned about the way the animal was being treated before going into the show ring," Green explained. "There seemed no other way of stopping it."

GENEVA (Reuters) —

The Russian delegate to the Laotian conference here said today the summit meeting between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev had a "favorable influence" on world problems.

Georgi Pushkin said his government hoped the Vienna summit meeting would help break the deadlock in the 11-day-old conference on Laos.

Pushkin told a 55-minute session that the "favorable influence" of the Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting on the international situation could not be ignored.

A Western source described the tone of Communist speeches at today's meeting as moderate but added that the session "had produced absolutely nothing new."

WELCOME REFERENCE

Both Communist and non-Communist delegates Sunday night welcomed a reference to Laos in a joint communiqué issued by Kennedy and Khrushchev.

The two leaders reaffirmed their support of international agreements for the neutrality and independence of Laos. The communiqué said that "in this connection they have recognized the importance of an effective cease-fire."

A Soviet spokesman said here Sunday night the communiqué was "very important" for the future of the Laos conference. He said "we trust" the Soviet-American stand "will now enable the conference to get back to work."

A spokesman of the right-wing Laotian delegation termed the Vienna communiqué as "a good thing which might speed up a really effective cease-fire."

TALKS STALLED

The negotiations here stalled on the question of the effectiveness of a cease-fire in the Laotian civil war. Delegates marked time while the outcome of the Vienna talks was awaited.

Conference sources pointed out that the Vienna communiqué did not clearly indicate that the West had prevailed in its demand that a cease-fire be effective in Laos before the conference continued.

The Communists said a real cease-fire existed in Laos and that the conference should get to grips with more important matters.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodian head of state, said in Grasse, France, Sunday he had repeated his invitation to leftist, rightist and pro-Communist Laotian leaders to meet in Nice, France, to form a unified government.

Quebec houses

To exhibit Quebec's culture?

OTTAWA (CP) — "Quebec houses" may soon pop up in places like Digby, N.S., and Gravelbourg, Sask., as a result of a resolution passed Sunday at a joint convention of the Federation of St. Jean Baptiste Societies of Ontario and Quebec.

The federations recommended that the Quebec government establish tourist information centres to improve relations among French-speaking Canadians across the country.

The centres would be used to exhibit Quebec art. They would have film and record libraries and might become social centres for French-speaking Canadians.

The convention, first joint gathering of the Ontario and Quebec branches, ended Sunday.

The French-language cultural organization recommended support of French-speaking youth movements; encouragement of student exchanges between provinces; establishment of a federation youth movement; and sponsoring of French-speaking students at Quebec universities.

Delegates called for a national council of teaching, decided to approach the CBC about a weekly program in Quebec, and agreed to form a team of French-speaking newspaper men to write and distribute weekly feature stories among French-speaking minorities living outside Quebec.

Overtones of separatism — a developing issue in Quebec — were noted in the formation of a civil rights committee which will back up financially French-speaking Canadians whose rights have been infringed upon.

The five men are Gaetan Legault, an Ottawa lawyer; Claude Trotter, Quebec City industrialist; Pierre Laporte, Montreal newspaper man; Paul-Emile Robert, Montreal life insurance underwriter; and Hull, Que., translator Jacques J. Paris.

Police bullet hits youth

MONTREAL (CP) — A 16-year-old north-end youth was injured in hospital today with a bullet wound in the left arm suffered Sunday when a policeman shot him as he allegedly tried to rob a parked car.

Patrol Sergeant Georges Jeannot and Constable Jean-Louis Deziel said they fired two warning shots before shooting the youth as he fled.

He suggested marketing and production research on a light-salted product, perhaps paying a bonus for quality like that offered after the Second World War on bacon.

Warns Commons

'Fantastic' sums said shelled out

By STUART LAKE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

OTTAWA (CP) — Political parties shelled out "fantastic amounts" in the last federal election to have candidates elected and future campaigns will become more and more expensive, the Commons was warned Saturday.

Burly Douglas Fisher (CCF—Port Arthur) said his prediction was based on CBC television rates provided to the Commons committee on broadcasting.

"If the expenses in that regard are an indication . . . the totals are rather fantastic," he said during debate on the spending estimates of the department of the secretary of state.

Candidates in the last federal election spent more than $2,000,000 in individual constituency campaigns.

"I am convinced that there are many hidden expenses, which if added to this total, would at least double or triple it," Mr. Fisher said.

PUBLIC COULD PAY

Also to be figured was the cost of the national campaigns carried on by the parties—such as the full-page ads in national magazines.

One way out was to pay the cost of campaigns out of the public treasury, Mr. Fisher suggested. In this way a ceiling would have to be set and the amount of campaigning cut down.

If something of this nature were not done then the major parties would have the tremendous advantage of being able to find the money to finance the campaign while the minority parties would find their tasks more difficult.

The problem would certainly be a major one in the future of democratic political parties.

The Liberal party's rally in January gave this problem serious consideration, Mr. Fisher said, but noted there was no reference to it in the Conservative party meeting in Ottawa last March.

WINNERS DON'T WORRY
"I can only assume that when you are a winner, these things are not important," said Mr. Fisher.

In a series of questions directed at Secretary of State Dorian, Mr. Fisher also established that if the government waits for redistribution of the 265 Commons seats there can be no federal election before September, 1962.

J. W. Pickersgill (L—Bonaville-Twillgate) advocated the distribution of surplus salt cod through non-commercial channels to needy nations when the Commons resumed its debate on the fisheries department budget.

He suggested marketing and production research on a light-salted product, perhaps paying a bonus for quality like that offered after the Second World War on bacon.

Kennedy, Macmillan huddle over Summit encounter

(CP from Reuters-AP)

LONDON — President Kennedy spent more than 2½ hours today briefing British Prime Minister Macmillan on his summit talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Sources said the two leaders were alone for most of the time and the extended talks made Kennedy and Macmillan late in joining their wives at a luncheon.

Meanwhile, it was learned Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Charles Bohlen, state department expert on Soviet affairs, will fly from Paris in time to attend a banquet for the Kennedys at Buckingham Palace tonight. Rusk reported on the summit today to the NATO permanent council in the French capital.

Kennedy will leave on schedule tonight, but his stopover in Goose Bay, Labrador, has been extended to about six hours to allow him to get some sleep before arriving in Washington.

After assessing the Vienna summit encounter, the Allied ness to keep talking at all levels about issues that divide the West and East.

The president will have lunch with Macmillan and dinner with Queen Elizabeth at Buckingham Palace.

Before taking off for Washington tonight, Kennedy also will be godfather at the christening of this afternoon of the daughter of Princess Radziwill, Mrs. Kennedy's sister. The Kennedys stayed at the Radziwill home.

Some likely highlights of Kennedy's rundown for Macmillan:

Berlin and Germany — No great crisis seems imminent. Khrushchev still wants a new status for Berlin in the absence of a peace settlement for all Germany. Kennedy warned the Allies would resist any Red threats or thrusts to rob them of their rights. Another East-West negotiation seems unfavorable.

Laos — There was an exchange of new assurance that each side wants the torn kingdom neutralized, reunited, independent and pacified. Kennedy thinks it's still up to the Reds to call off the shooting and abide by the cease-fire.

Banning nuclear tests and disarmament — The outlook is gloomy. Khrushchev wants a Communist-neutral Western directorate of the control machinery, with each member having a veto. Kennedy insisted this was unacceptable.

Nevertheless, Khrushchev has indicated he will make a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany late this year. The treaty presumably would recognize East German sovereignty over supply lines from West Germany to the city 110 miles inside the East German border. If the East Germans tried to enforce their treaty rights to control allied military traffic, a shooting war

Macmillan went to London airport Sunday night to greet Kennedy as he arrived with his wife from Vienna.

The president was obviously warmed by the cheers and waves of 250,000 Londoners who lined the 15-mile route from the airport.

Hope Mr. K. will modify his anti-western policies after J.F.K.'s warnings issued at Vienna meeting

Today's Chuckle

The way these new diet drinks are going, pretty soon nobody will need teeth except a dentist.

He warned Khrushchev against miscalculating Western intentions.

More broadly Kennedy sought to assure the Soviet leader that in spite of recent setbacks in Laos and Cuba, the United States intends to fulfill its defence commitments to other nations around the world. The president left Vienna Sunday night nourishing the hope that Khrushchev will weigh his words seriously.

Kennedy is reported to have told the Soviet leader emphatically that if he forces a showdown over West Berlin, the Allied powers will defend the city.

Kennedy was reported to be encouraged by the fact that Khrushchev discussed his aims for Berlin without trying to impress the president with their urgency. He did not give any ultimatum, it was said, about withdrawal of U.S., British and French forces from the city by a specific date.

Two men foiled in attempt to rob Bedford bank

FIERY RUIN — Smoke and flames can be seen pouring out of the Rene Guenette house and neighboring shed at 302 Williams Street, Thursday evening. The $6,500 fire, believed to have been caused by an exploding oil drum, destroyed the two-story shed and gutted the house. Mrs. Guenette and her three children were in the house at the time of the fire, but they escaped and no one was injured. (Record Photo by Studio Eclair)

New record Heaviest snowfall for May

Four seasons in one month could easily describe the weather during the month of May, 1961, in the Eastern Townships.

The heaviest snowfall registered at the Lennoxville Experimental Farm for May in 47 years was recorded this month when on May 2, 4.4 inches of snow fell in this district. This brings the snow for the winter of 1960-61 to 89.7 inches compared to 4-year average or 96.6 inches.

According to the meteorological data from the Experimental Farm for the month of May, 1961, there was little sunshine. Only 199.0 hours of sunshine were recorded compared to 217.3 hours of sunshine for the month last year.

Average monthly sunshine for 47 years was 203.0 hours while the highest May sunshine was 268.1 hours in 1959. The low sunshine mark was in 1945 with 114 hours for the entire month.

Compared with the average temperature for the month of May last year, May, 1961 was considerably cooler. The average temperature for May, 1961 was 51.94 degrees while, May 1960 was 60.23 degrees.

Average monthly temperature for May for the past 47 years was 52.22 degrees. The highest temperature for May, 1961, was 88 degrees on the 15th, only four degrees below the highest temperature for the month for 47 years, 89 degrees on May 16, 1932.

The lowest temperature was on the 6th and the 21st when the temperature dropped to 25 degrees, which is higher than the lowest temperature for the month for 47 years, 19 degrees on May 18, 1924.

The rainfall for May, 1961, achieved no record with 4.32 inches, somewhat lower than last year, 4.49 inches. The average monthly rainfall for 47 years was 3.10 inches. The highest monthly rainfall for 47 years was set in 1945 when 6.69 inches of rain fell. The year 1921 proved to have the lowest monthly rainfall for 47 years, 0.74 inches. The highest rainfall for one day during May, 1961, was 1.17 inches on the 9th. The highest rainfall for one day during May for 47 years was 2.04 inches on May 6, 1945.

Bicycle rider struck by auto

COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — A seven-year-old Cowansville boy narrowly escaped serious injury Saturday evening when he was struck by a passing automobile.

The boy, Yvan Girard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Girard, 185 Dieppe Street, was riding his bicycle on the wrong side of the road when the accident happened.

The accident occurred about 7.45 p.m. Saturday when an automobile driven by Maurice Chasson, 21, of Audet Range, Farnham, struck the boy.

Profitable hobby

Sherbrooke man makes lures

Turning a hobby into a lucrative business, doing what you enjoy most and making a living at the same time—this is what George Breckenridge of Sherbrooke has accomplished since 1945.

Mr. Breckenridge has always been an ardent fisherman and when he stopped far farming in 1945 he decided to use his knowledge of fishing to start a business, Breck's Sporting Goods Co.

His first venture was importing Spanish fishing flies to Canada because they were not available here immediately after the war.

In 1947 he started manufacturing sparky lures and in 1948 dartees. These lures which are sold across Canada are made from strips of copper. Mr. Breckenridge buys these strips by the thousand. In his Sherbrooke plant on 9th Avenue the copper is stamped out into 1000 brass lures of the same size in an hour.

Then the lures are nicked and chrome so that they will not rust. Next plastic flake which has been stamped into the same shape is riveted onto the underbody. The plastic flake comes in gold, silver, and mother of pearl. Only the final touches now need to be added. A split ring is attached to one end to which the line is tied and a hook is attached to the other end.

Of the five varieties of sparky and six varieties of dartee which are thus manufactured, Mr. Breckenridge says that the No. 1 dartee and the No. 1 and 2 Sparky are the most popular.

Not all of the 23 people employed in Mr. Breckenridge's plant are working on fish lures and nets. Some are cutting out and making vinylite rainwear and sporting goods. The vinylite is made completely waterproof by the use of an electronic sealer. These products are the most recent addition to Mr. Breckenridge's stock.

On his fishing trips Mr. Breckenridge personally tests most of the equipment he sells. He has many photographs which attest to the effectiveness of his wares. One of which he is especially proud is a picture of him holding a 30 pound salmon which he caught on a Gaspe River in 1954.

In 1954 he started manufacturing Mepps which are small spinning lures. He now has three women employed at this work and he sells 200,000 of these a year.

Randboro twin sisters celebrate

RANDBORO — What's it like to be twins, especially when both have lived together almost all of their 85 years?

Ask Lily Sarah (Mrs. Gardner Rand) and Lottie Margaret (Mrs. Charles MacCallum) who Saturday celebrated their 85th birthday and were 'at home' to all their friends and relatives at Mrs. MacCallum's home in Randboro, five miles from Sawyerville.

Two loveable, elderly ladies who seem to disagree on everything and everybody provided a lively interview at Mrs. MacCallum's home Thursday and both gave their very definite opinions on what it is like to be twins.

"I don't like having a twin sister. Everywhere I went, I had to pull her around behind me. She was always so slow," Mrs. MacCallum said firmly.

"Oh, you could always tell me from my sister, she was always so bossy," Mrs. Rand shot back.

"And why shouldn't I be, I'm older," (by one half hour we found out later) Mrs. MacCallum replied.

By then it was time to change the subject.

settlers in the district, Lily and Lottie were the third youngest children in a family of eleven. Mrs. Rand and Mrs. MacCallum are the only members of the Parker family still living.

Recalling their childhood days, neither of them would or did dress alike. "In fact," said Mrs. MacCallum's daughter who is living with them, "it took all I could get them to dress alike for their 85th birthday."

"We were never identical in dress or manner, Lottie was always the boss," Mrs. Rand insisted, "and everyone could always tell us apart."

Both sisters agreed they didn't like being twins.

"The best times of our lives were before we were married," said Mrs. MacCallum. "They were the good times. We used to have a big home and every one gathered there for parties."

"We have both been very lucky though," said Mrs. Rand, "and we have had a good life."

Mrs. Charles MacCallum has raised seven children and is now grandmother to 21 and great grandmother to five. Mrs. Rand had one son who predeceased her some years ago.

Frightened away in early morning try

By PAT BOUGIE
(Record Staff Reporter)

BEDFORD — Montreal and Cowansville provincial police are still on the lookout for two men believed to be responsible for the attempted robbery at the Bedford Canadian Bank of Commerce early Saturday morning.

Although the thieves failed in their attempt, they caused several hundred dollars damage by digging a hole in the outside rear wall of the bank by breaking into the basement of the establishment.

According to provincial police, the attempted robbery took place about 3.15 a.m. Saturday morning, minutes before two men were frightened away from the scene by a passing automobile.

The thieves apparently gained entrance to the building of the bank by removing a steel grill from a basement window leading to a bathroom. No damage was reported in the basement.

SUSPICIOUS NOISE

Bernard Gagne, a grocery store merchandise distributor, whose business is located across a lane from the bank, was working with his wife early Saturday morning, and saw and heard the thieves at work.

"It was about 3.15 a.m. and I had just finished work," Mr. Gagne said, "I turned off the air conditioner and was set to leave when my wife asked me about hammering noise she heard."

"It seemed to come from the lane near our air conditioner. My wife and I thought it was the air cooler. We went over to it to investigate. Then we heard two men talking. They were discussing how a safe was made. The talk stopped and the pounding started again," he continued.

"I went downstairs and out saw two men pounding away at to see what was happening. I the back wall of the bank where the safe was located," he said.

Mr. Gagne then came back to his store where he phoned Bedford police. Three policemen including chief Georges Perron, arrived at the bank 12 minutes later, but the two men seen earlier were nowhere in sight.

The only evidence left by the two men was a sledge hammer found in the basement of the bank. Montreal QPP hold-up squad detectives under detective Albert Bisailon, Saturday dusted for possible fingerprints which could lead to identification of the men.

According to Mr. Gagne, one of the men was about five feet nine inches, blond and was wearing a plaid windbreaker and dark colored pants. Both men spoke French.

This is the first time since John H. Pope was named manager of the bank that someone tried to rob it. The square, brick building is located at the Main-Pine Streets corner and was erected in 1949.

Thieves would not have been very happy even if they had been successful, the manager claimed. The bank had little money in its possession after closing Friday evening.

"I am sure they were amateurs," Mr. Gagne said.

Accused convent-robbler cries

Judgment in the case of Gabriel Debrody, 39, a Hungarian immigrant facing three charges of theft, will be rendered in Court of Sessions June 8 by Judge Joseph Marier.

Debrody appeared Thursday and pleaded not guilty to charges of stealing $1,078 from a convent in Garthby, clothing worth $75 from the home of J. F. Codere and clothing worth $85 from the home of Henri Vachon, all of Garthby.

Earlier another Hungarian, Gabor Szabo, had pleaded guilty to charges of theft from the Codere and Vachon homes but denied any part in the convent robbery.

Testifying at the Debrody hearing, Sister Marie-Adrienne, told the court she was awakened shortly after midnight at which time she noticed a light in her office. She awakened another sister and when they heard voices she called for help.

She said the thieves had entered by a window and had broken a statue of the Holy Virgin.

Later she turned over to police a box of matches similar to those found in Debrody's pockets. Also in his pockets were a sum of $175 in bills and $16.15 in small change.

On Saturday, June 10th, Canadians will pay tribute to servicemen and women of the United States forces who gave their lives while on duty. The Ontario Command of the Canadian Corps Association announced their 17th Annual Pilgrimage which will take place at Niagara Falls, Ontario.

The pilgrimage will see some 3,000 veterans from Ontario and the state of New York taking part in member services at the Niagara Falls cenotaph. Some 50 bands will take part in a parade being organized for the 10th.

Ladies of Magog's Unit No. 72 of the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans Association Auxiliary held a successful afternoon tea and sale at the local masonic hall last Saturday.

Sgt. E. Pegg of the 24 Technical Squadron RCEME has been shown on unit Part 2 Orders as having been awarded the Canadian Forces Decoration.

Next Thursday, June 8, The Sherbrooke Regiment RCAC will hold a commanding officers' inspection and pay parade.

June the 14th has been chosen as the closing date for all personnel of 2450 AC and W Squadron and the beginning of holiday season. Training starts next fall in September.

The last term proved to be an active one, and everybody found the season short.

E/L Art Morrison, Chairman of the Reunion Committee has made most of his final plans for the greatest and last reunion, to be held next fall near Thanksgiving. All efforts are being made to reach former members, and all officers and airmen are being invited to attend. The program will involve various interesting events, and will be made official in the next bulletin. This reunion will surpass the anniversary celebrations held two years ago, which was our most successful social event to date.

Sherbrooke summer festival

Sherbrooke will have a summer festival for the first time this year.

Running from July 15 to July 23, the festival is sponsored by a brewery which says it plans to step out of the picture once the festival is well established on a yearly basis.

Supporters of the festival have cited the Quebec Winter Carnival as an example of what a good annual event of this kind can do for a community. It has been pointed out, for example, that the return to Quebec City for its carnival, has been 1.5 million dollars, most of it spent by tourists who come from all parts of Canada and the United States.

Sherbrooke's summer festival will, of course, be different in nature, but eventually, it is hoped, similar in scope.

Although no program for the week-long festival has as yet been made public, organizers say it will consist of, among other events, golf, tennis, and baseball.

Such summer sports will naturally be part of any July festival in this part of the world, but more than these, there are a number of distinctively Sherbrooke things which would add stature and appeal to the event.

The French-Canadian flavor of the city, for example must be prominent.

One local group has already announced plans for a French-Canadian soiree to be held in connection with the festival.

Some sort of historical pageant would not be out of place. While Sherbrooke's history is not as spectacular as that of Quebec's, it is a rich and colorful one, and would add to any festival.

Culturally, Sherbrooke is wealthy. We have a symphony orchestra with a national reputation, a ballet corps that is improving each year, and a number of choral groups, both French and English-speaking, whose quality of performance is very high.

Drama is a strong point with both language groups.

At Mount Orford, the summer music camp of the Jeunesses Musicales of Camp each year attracts artists of international fame. There should be a place for them in any festival held here, the centre of the Townships.

In short, there are in Sherbrooke, a large number of established, features which could not help but add lustre to a summer festival.

It will, of course, take time for the festival to develop to any proportions. But if this year's initial effort is encouraging, and the festival is to be seriously supported, all of these local elements should be given prominent parts in future festivals.

Nation on wheels

Canada is consolidating its position of the nation most on wheels, next to the United States.

The Department of Statistical Research of the Dominion Automobile Association has just completed a survey showing that the number of motor vehicles in Canada has increased six per cent over the past year. There is now a vehicle for every three and a half Canadians.

Frequency of ownership is highest on the west coast, the report notes, for passenger cars, while Alberta leads Canada in the total number of motor vehicles per capita — 1.1 vehicles for every three inhabitants.

Ontario still leads the country in total volume by a substantial margin. Nearly 40 per cent of all Canadian vehicles are registered in Ontario, and 21 per cent are registered in Quebec.

All of this not only means more Canadians than ever are on the road, it also means that government revenue from motoring has increased.

Gasoline taxes and vehicle licences across Canada accounted for over half a billion dollars in taxes last year.

We've heard a lot about the farm vote, the labor and other kinds of votes, but the motorist's vote has never been mentioned. Judging by the figures, it's a bloc that includes just about everybody.

No slouch, Nina

Jackie Kennedy has been a definite asset to President Kennedy during his European tour.

But Nina Khrushchev has proved herself to be no slouch as well.

Her now-famous Vienna balcony scene proves the point.

The two ladies were luncheon guests at a Vienna club while their husbands were busy at their Summit talks. Outside, a crowd of 5,000 set up a chant for the glamorous First Lady of the United States. So the two ladies stepped out onto the balcony.

The crowd was cheering for Jackie but it quickly changed its target as Mrs. Khrushchev adroitly pulled a charming stunt of one-upmanship.

She took Mrs. Kennedy's gloved hand and raised it with her own in a salute to the crowd.

The crowd roared its approval.

European not so anxious to emigrate

Image of Canada deteriorating

COLOGNE — (TNS) — The image of Canada among Europeans has deteriorated to a frightening degree.

A visitor to Canadian immigration offices in Europe sees the same sad picture everywhere: Large, bright waiting rooms decorated with colorful pictures of the Canadian landscape, Canadian newspapers, pamphlets and booklets on the tables, rows of comfortable chairs along the walls — and empty chairs.

Even during the "busy" hours, the friendly, efficient staff — immigration, visa control and medical officers, secretaries, clerks and interpreters — easily outnumber the applicants. And most of the staff, except the youngest, can remember the days when waiting rooms were filled with milling crowds, stairs lined with applicants patiently awaiting their turn to get to the door with the Canadian coat-of-arms, the door to the promised land which, to many of today's Europeans, has failed to keep its promise.

Since the end of World War II, a quarter of a million Germans emigrated to Canada. In 1957 alone, nearly 30,000 came. Last year there were only 12,000. This year there will be 8,000, at least half the dependents of previous emigrants.

What has happened? It is easy to blame the decline on the European boom world, "make a little fast alone. To be sure, living standards are going up, jobs outnumber workers by hundreds of thousands and fear of war has given way to comfortable optimism. Yet European wages are still only a fraction of those paid in Canada, the threat of Soviet power still just across the back fence.

The real reason is the bad publicity Canada is getting in the European press, in the letters from disgruntled emigrants to their friends at home, in the widely repeated tales of woe from the handful of returnees who in a frustrating year or two in Canada behind them. And just as Canada's "unlimited opportunities" in the Fifties became magnified beyond all reason in the minds of people with war and collapse still in their bones, so the stories of Canadian recession and retrenchment have grown out of all proportion in comparison to Europe's "economic miracle."

There are still many Europeans with emigration on their minds. Some are young couples with children who want to escape the disastrous shortage of living accommodation which is the by-product of European prosperity. The thought of having a house — or even a modest apartment — to oneself is a powerful incentive to a family cooped up for years with in-laws. Others are the adventure seekers who want to "see the cline on the European boom world," make a little fast alone. To be sure, living stand-later. Among these, interest in Australia and Latin America is running high.

Not all have written off Canada for good. Some are talking about going there after gaining experience elsewhere. Some are waiting to see which way the Canadian economy is heading.

News of lower Canadian unemployment figures, especially of greater demand for skilled tradesmen, will quickly bring them to immigration offices.

Finally, there are those who will not be deterred by warnings of job insecurity in Canada, who are willing to trade immediate small comforts for long-range opportunities in the country where so many of their friends have found what they went out to seek.

Perhaps the biggest difference between them and those who set out for Canada five or ten years ago is their lack of illusion. Unlike their predecessors, they talk less of the "fast buck" and more of the initial struggle that awaits the newcomer, less of the big car and more of the small job they expect to have.

"To begin with, I'll take any job," says a 19-year-old cook. "Later, I want to work in a good restaurant or big hotel. Some day, perhaps, I'll start my own place. But first I'll have to save money, lots of money."

A 20-year-old butcher from Karlsruhe already has a job awaiting him in Toronto. "I'll work with a friend who went over two years ago. I am taking along enough clothes to last me a few years, he told me they are cheaper here. I make enough money here, but the taxes are too high. In Canada I'll have a chance to save."

"The most important thing to have a place of one's own," says a 24-year-old welder. "I'm doing alright here, but the way I am going it'll take me half my life. I want to work in a shipyard in Canada and if I make out o.k. I'll send for my girl. If not, I can always make enough to pay for the return fare."

FITTING PUNISHMENT TO THE CRIME

(Hamilton Spectator)
Up to the end of last month, forty-eight persons had been condemned to death since the Conservatives came to office. Only ten were executed. Sentences of the remaining thirty-eight were commuted to life imprisonment.

It may be indicative of the public attitude to capital punishment that there was little or no outcry about these commutations. The interest seemed rather to be in the number of them. The cabinet exercises the prerogative and the fact that so many escaped the gallows may be a measure of the unease it feels over those sections of the Criminal Code which cover capital punishment.

Justice Minister Davie Fulton's bill at present before the Commons should, if it succeeds in passing, remove from the cabinet much of the need for exercising the prerogative. It proposes what amounts to two degrees of murder — capital and non-capital. The two are clearly defined. Capital murder, which is defined as calculated, deliberate murder; committed as a crime of violence or with robbery, rape, kidnapping, arson and so on, is punishable by death. Non-capital murder carries a life sentence.

The cabinet appears to have been making this distinction when granting reprieves; of the thirty-eight, only fourteen had been recommended for mercy by the jury.

This bill is not a surrender to the sentimentalists and abolitionists — to abolish capital punishment would be a disgraceful surrender. Mr. Fulton's step is simply a sensible judicial adjustment.

matter of FACT

The so-called "silent world" of the sea is really a noisy place. One of the noisemakers is the dolphin. Dolphins have a sharp, high-pitched whistle and they seem to enjoy imitating. During World War II the dolphins gave the Navy an occasional scare. A favorite dolphin imitation sounded just like a submarine motor.

'HUNCH' DOUBLE UPSETS FOES

The first international bridge championship match was played in 1935 between the European champion French team and my team, known as the Four Aces. Our team won and Mike Gottlieb, one of my teammates, promptly retired from bridge. He lives in Phoenix now and is still retired except for an occasional social game.

Mike was one of the greatest players of the cards, but his speciality was the "hunch" business double.

Of course, he backed up his hunches with pretty sound reasoning, but I wonder about how many players would double four hearts with Mike's East hand.

Of course, West might well have doubled when it came around to him, but declarer might have played the hand a trifle better if Mike had not been the doubler.

South started by playing dummy's queen of spades. Mike took his king and led back a club. West won the ace and continued the suit. South discarded a diamond; led the deuce of hearts and finessed the queen. West won and forced South with a club. Now South played ace, king and another diamond, ruffing in dummy. His next play was dummy's ace of spades. West ruffed and led the jack of trumps, whereupon South had to lose two more tricks for down three.

WITH CLEAN HANDS

(Halifax Chronicle-Herald)

One of the principles associated with an intervention policy is that nations applying pressure on other countries to effect internal changes must do so with clean hands. That does not mean they must be without sin, but, as Prime Minister Macmillan suggested in regard to South Africa, they must be earnestly striving to eliminate objectionable practices in their own lands. Used in this manner, the concept promises to be a flexible diplomatic tool of considerable utility, a force for eliminating abuses not only in countries to which it is applied, but in those seeking to apply it as well.

Conference publishes report

English as a second language vital in Commonwealth nations

It has recently been said that one of the dominant forces of today, almost anywhere—at both the personal and the national levels—is a passionate and insatiable demand for education," observed Mr. Michael Grant, President and Vice-Chancellor of the Queen's University at Belfast, at a conference held in Uganda.

He said one of the biggest single education undertakings in the world today was the teaching and learning of English.

The Conference, at which Mr. Grant was acting as Chairman, was the Commonwealth Conference on the Teaching of English as a Second Language, held at Makerere College, Uganda, in January 1961. It was attended by representatives from 23 Commonwealth countries and observers were present from countries including the United States and the Republic of Sudan, UNESCO and the staff of the United Kingdom High Commissioner in South-East Asia. They included members of the teaching staffs of universities, training colleges and schools; inspectors of education and other concerned in educational administration and cultural relations; also specialists in audio-visual aids—including broadcasting—and publications. They were present not as government delegates but in their individual capacities as persons with special knowledge of the subject.

As Mr. Grant pointed out, they were in the somewhat unusual position of not being consul-ed in any way with politics, nor could there be any question of their efforts attempting to supersede, weaken or dilute any of the cultures of Asia or Africa.

The place of English varies in different Commonwealth countries from that of sole mother tongue to that of first foreign language, with many subtle gradations between these two extremes. For some years to come it will be the common language of technology and commerce and of public and professional life throughout the Commonwealth, as well as being the easiest medium of communication with many foreign countries. One of the chief aims of the conference, whose report has just been published, was to discuss ways and means of increasing the efficiency of the teaching of English as a second language at all levels, and in accordance with the needs and wishes of the countries concerned. Before the Conference opened a number of papers dealing with certain basic considerations were prepared by specialists from many parts of the Commonwealth as background material for more detailed discussion of particular aspects.

MORE TEACHERS NEEDED

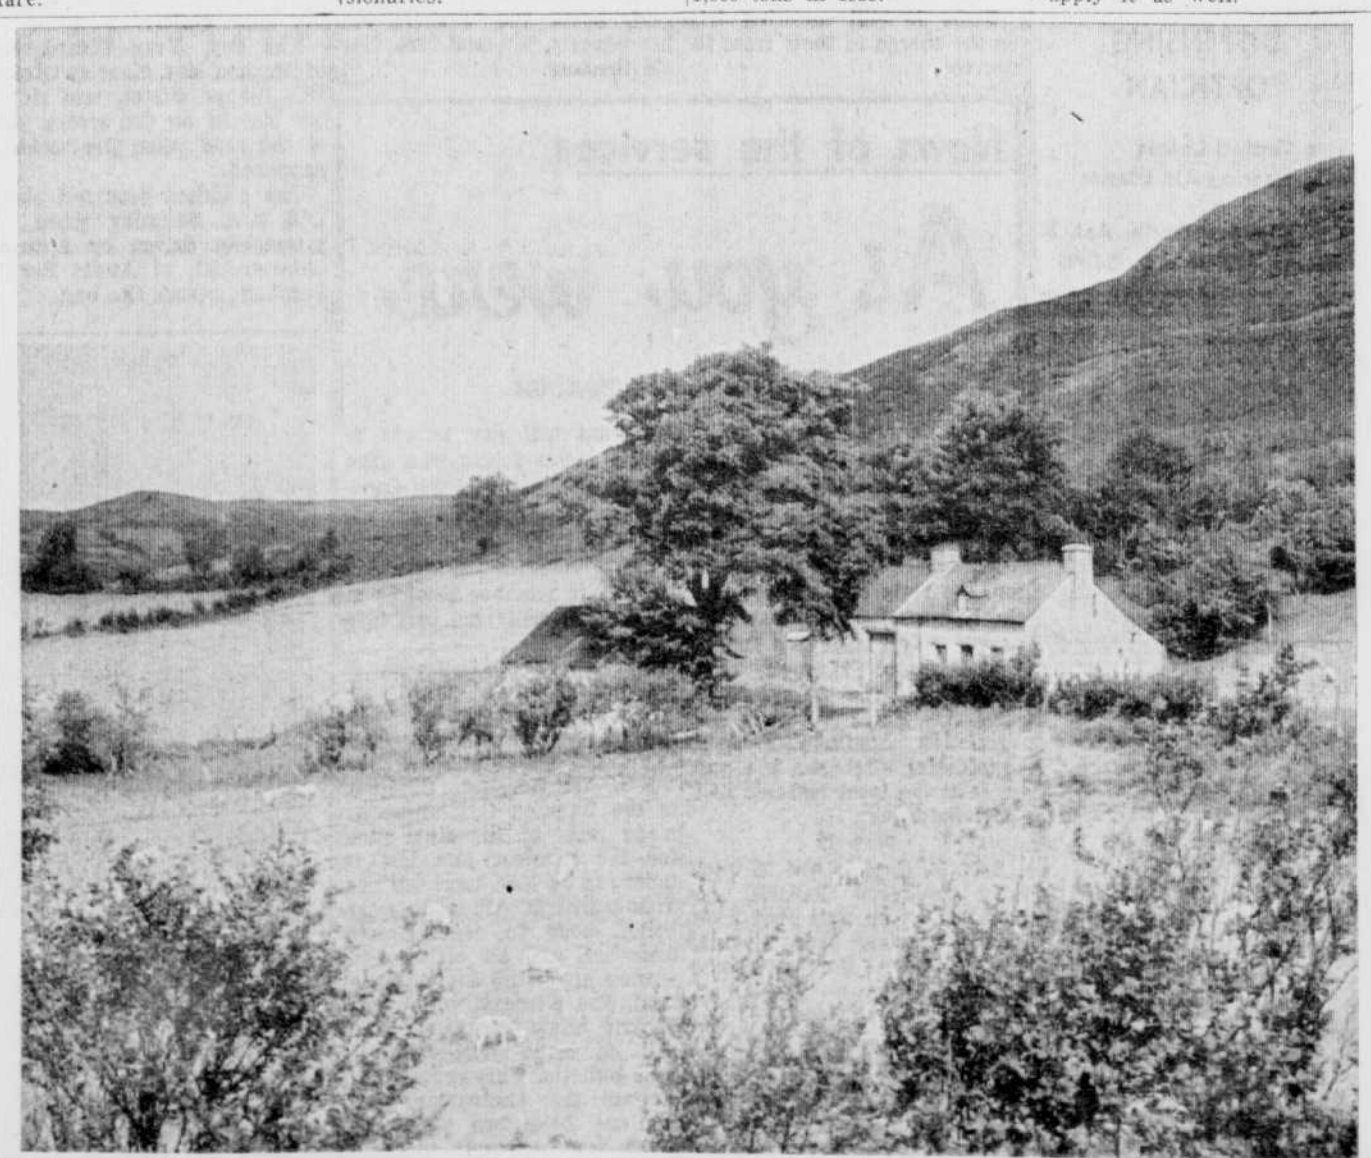

One of the chief needs at the moment is an increase in the number of adequately trained teachers and although the ultimate aim is to provide at all levels qualified teachers who are indigenous to the country in which the teaching takes place, expatriate teachers from the English-speaking countries will be needed for many years to overcome the scarcity of qualified teachers in many of the countries where English is not the mother tongue. They will be employed increasingly as teacher-trainers or university lecturers rather than as teachers in the schools. There is also an urgent need for more teaching materials such as simplified reading material, in English, including periodicals, for people whose literacy in the language is not of a high standard. The conference also drew attention to the importance of the teaching of English and to the possible use of television. Syllabuses should cater for the four fundamental skills: listening, speaking, reading and writing, and the conference considered the various types of examination and the best methods of approach to them.

English is introduced as a medium of instruction for a variety of reasons and at different stages of education systems. Where it is considered that the language of the child's own country can continue to widen the range of his experience, there may be no need to introduce English until a later stage of his development. Usually when English has been introduced the decision has been taken with an eye on what, for the child, is a distant target: the demands of future employment, success in later examinations and ultimate profit from later advance.

At the moment some of those from Commonwealth countries selected for courses at universities and similar institutions at which English is the teaching sufficient command of English language do not always have to enable them wholly to follow and understand lectures and other forms of tuition. Students and prospective students in this category form an important social group and for them, as for all other people in the Commonwealth, the purpose of teaching English is that they may, through the medium of language, gain access to what a wider international society has to offer.

A new police and fire-station is being considered by the Town council. Alderman Leo Dussault, proposed at the last council meeting that the market-place which is now rented by the Aramis Club be converted into quarters for the force.

The section, now used by the farmers would in no way be affected, and the Friday market will still be available to the public.

The old quarters could be converted into an office for the mayor, and conference room.

Quebec Provincial Police and local authorities are working on several good leads in connection with the hold-up at the Canadian National Bank May 23. Three cars were apparently used in the get-away and a check-up is being made of the owners. One person has been connected with the incident.

Allan A. Magee, C.B.E., Q.C., Chairman of the Board of Directors of Zeller's Limited, died in Montreal June 3.

He was elected a director of the company on June 17, 1944, and on September 27, 1957 succeeded Walter P. Zeller as Chairman of the Board.

The funeral will be held in Montreal at 2 p.m. June 6, 1961, at St. George's Church, Montreal.

It has been requested that in lieu of flowers donations be made to the Salvation Army.

Roger Laliberte of Asbestos was elected regional president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce for the Bois Freres District at a meeting held last week at Princeville. Mr. Laliberte succeeds Louis-David Pare. Five vice-presidents elected were: Roland Fortier, Victoriaville; Fernand Dubeau, Princeville; Andre Lupien, Richmond; Hughes Savoie, Drummondville and George Larochelle of Plessisville. Jacques Tanguay of Asbestos was elected secretary-treasurer. It was announced that the Provincial Congress will be held this fall at Shawinigan.

At a special council meeting an amount of money was voted to permit Mayor Beauchemin to travel to Montreal in the hope of interesting some businessmen in establishing new industries in the Town. The council also decided to form an industrial committee which will name seven members from different organizations to promote new industries within the Town.

A study is being made to secure suitable protection equipment for all police cars in the event of hold-ups or similar circumstances.

A new wage agreement has been signed between the Asbestos Police Force employees and the Town council. After one year's service the weekly rate has been increased from $70 to $74.90; two year's service has been raised from $76 to $81.32. Officers are receiving $85.60, and $86.67 depending on their rank. The secretary now receives $69.55. These rates are retroactive to March 1, 1961. Premium rates are paid for men working on afternoon and night shifts, six and eight cents respectively, per hour.

The Asbestos Juvenile Police Club has been abandoned after several years of formation. Instructors were hard to find and most of the work was left up to the members of the police force who are heavily taxed with routine assignments. Six hundred dollars in the bank funds will be used to equip several softball teams boys in the 10 to 14 years old group.

The Town council voted $500 towards the cadet and majorette corps formed by the Notre-Dame-de-Toutes-Joies members. Some two hundred children are being instructed in weekly courses. Father Maurice Cloutier is leading the group.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced that it intends sending some fifteen students on an exchange visit to Peterborough, Ontario. Preparations will be made to make the visit next summer as it is too late in the season to prepare the exchange for this summer.

House and Garden tour tomorrow

Farm home has commanding view of North Hatley and the lake

(Record Staff Reporter)

NORTH HATLEY — The A. R. Virgin home sits high above North Hatley showing up against the side of the hill with its green pastures and red barn. The Virgin home is one of seven which will be on display tomorrow during the House and Garden Tour sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Sherbrooke Hospital.

The oldest part of the house is the living room which was a log cabin built about 1830. What is now the dining room was the summer kitchen at one time and the opposite end of the house, which contains the parlor and a bedroom was built about 1860.

The living room is large and contains an extremely fine collection of antiques. One of the most interesting pieces in the room is an early 18th century desk with pigeon holes and secret compartments. A corner chair adds to the charm of this part of the room. Another unusual feature of the room is a portable minister's pulpit. Very small and compact, it was used when a minister travelled around the countryside preaching.

A highboy from the period of William and Mary stands on long slender legs against one wall of the living room. Against the opposite wall has been placed a gate leg table and in the far corner, an 18th century corner cupboard.

The high-backed sofa from the period of Queen Anne is covered with green velvet and in front of it stands a butler's table. The fireplace also attracts attention because of the hand carved wooden pineapples at each end, the Canadian bird carving that stands in the middle and the magnificent leather pig which stands before the hearth.

Ladderback and wing chairs complete the furnishings and an old painting of Georgeville hung above the fireplace adds the finishing touch to the room. The old summer kitchen which opens off the living room has large windows and bright flowered wall paper and some lovely antique pieces. The large oval table was brought to the house from Connecticut.

A set of cream jugs in the shape of cows sit on little stands on the wall. A chest of the late 18th century, Sheraton-inspired and a butler's chest with long drawers for the wine made about 1785 are the only other large pieces of furniture in the room. The fiddleback chairs with stencilled patterns on the back are used as dining room chairs.

Another of the delightful rooms in the Virgin home is the small library which opens off the living room. Books line two walls and a fire place and a French Canadian gateleg table stands against the third wall. A handcarved woman at prayer from an old Quebec Church, stands on the table. The Virgin's collection of pewter, stands on the shelves. Windows take up the entire fourth wall of the room with window seats below them. The windows give a wonderful view of part of the Virgin's extensive gardens.

The Virgin home will be open from one to five on Tuesday and there will be hostesses present to guide visitors through the house.

Other homes on display will be those of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Ogilvie, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Scowen, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Saint Pierre and Mr. and Mrs. John York.

Those who are unable to provide their own transportation out to North Hatley for the tour should contact Mrs. Frank Simms, at LO 2-7274 and she will arrange for transportation. Tickets for the tour can be obtained from members of the Ladies Auxiliary, from the Hospitality Shop at the Sherbrooke Hospital, from H. C. Wilson and Sons, Clark's Pharmacy or the Connaught Inn. Maps showing the location of the homes will be included with the tickets. Refreshments will be served at one of the homes during the afternoon.

At the termination of the last meeting and business session, members of the Wing, together with personnel of the Radar Squadron gathered in the mess to view the film "Fighting Lady."

Members of the Air Force Association have a common bond, they are all veterans of Her Majesty's Air Forces, and as Association members they have aims and objects and by the medium of this column they would like to quote some of these from time to time. The first is directed at unit personnel of the reserve and former RCAF members; to preserve and foster the spirit of fellowship among all who have served in Her Majesty's Air Forces.

Any veteran of the Air Forces is eligible for membership, and anyone discussing further information in regard to the Association in Sherbrooke is asked to call president Ed Martin at LO 9-4026 or LO 9-1115.

WELL DESERVED SALUTE

One of the most difficult responsibilities in any military unit is planning and conducting of training. In the 24 Technical Squadron RCME, WO-2 Tom Walker is doing an excellent job in this respect, serving as assistant to the training officer. SM Walker deserves today's portion of praise.

During the last war Tom was in the Navy. In civilian life he is employed as maintenance engineer at the Sherbrooke Hospital, where he also does a marvelous job.

SPIT 'n POLISH

Today I'll say a word about moustaches, fairly common among soldiers. If you must wear a moustache, he it a pinch or handlebar, keep it even on both sides. These growths add the gruff fighting appearance to some men. However it may give the sloppy don't take care of their moustaches.

Major R. W. Sweet, O.C. of the 24 Technical Squadron RCME and Capt. E. L. Warner of The Sherbrooke Regiment RCAC returned to Sherbrooke this past weekend after attending the field officers' course, part 2 at Camp Borden, which they successfully completed and passed.

Ninety-four years of service is a record to be proud of, Lt.-Col. Earle P. Hall, CD, former commanding officer of The Sherbrooke Regiment RCAC said last Saturday evening at the unit's annual officers' mess dinner. Lt.-Col. Hall was proposing a toast to the unit, which was replied to by Lt.-Col. D. Ward, CD, C.O.

Other speakers at the banquet were Brig. J. P. Gautier, DSO, CD, Commander of 9 Militia Group; Lt.-Col. A. Penhale, honorary lieutenant-colonel of The Regiment; and

The fisheries department was also missing an opportunity in not selling more salt cod in Canada. Mr. Pickersgill said many thousands of Italians who have come to Canada eat fish by preference and more should be done to see they had adequate supplies.

In other business; Finance Minister Fleming said his 1961-62 budget won't be brought down next week but refused to go any further in reply to prodding from Lionel Chevrier (L.-Montreal Laurier);

Prime Minister Diefenbaker said no Canadian lives were in danger in the Dominican Republic despite the possible evacuation of Americans from that republic;

Mr. Diefenbaker also announced that he doubted the report of the royal commission on publications would be tabled in the House Monday as expected. A delay of several days was expected.

Col. F. I. Richie, CD, Commander of No. 10 Militia Group.

Also seated at the head table were Major W. Lesser, the newly elected mess president; Major J. Hawkins, retiring mess president, who acted as director of ceremonies; and Capt. Archdeacon T. Matthews, padre.

Capt. E. L. Warner toasted The Queen and Major Lesser toasted fallen comrades.

HOPE MR. K.

might result.

Whether the Soviet leader will go through with his peace treaty plan is still uncertain. The hope is that despite his stated intentions he will in the end avoid a showdown.

REJECTS SUGGESTION

The most clearly discouraging outcome of the conference, from the U.S. point of view, resulted from a discussion of disarmament, including the nuclear test ban conference at Geneva.

Khrushchev suggested to Kennedy that nuclear test negotiations be merged into a general disarmament conference due to open at the end of July. The president rejected this, at least for the time being, by saying the United States, Britain and Russia should continue the present Geneva negotiations.

Khrushchev's attitude appeared to be something of a blow to Kennedy's expressed hope for a nuclear test pact. This may compel Kennedy to consider soon whether the test explosions of nuclear weapons.

The big three have had a moratorium on nuclear conferences since the Geneva conference started. But during this time the Western powers have had no accurate way of determining whether Russia was living up to the moratorium.

A FIRST STEP

An agreement to ban nuclear testing under an international inspection system would constitute an initial step to broader disarmament measures aimed at halting the nuclear arms race. Collapse of the test talks would be a blow to disarmament hopes. It now appears there is a serious possibility the talks will collapse.

At the centre of this threat to disarmament prospects is a Soviet demand that the nuclear test inspection system be controlled by a three-man board. The board would consist of one Communist, one Westerner and one member from a neutral nation.

Khrushchev is said to have told Kennedy that this plan grew out of Russia's experience with the United Nations in the Congo. He blamed the UN administration for a loss of Soviet influence in The Congo last year. He said he had decided there was no such thing as a neutral man.

Khrushchev said that any man who could be appointed to a higher international position as a neutralist would certainly be non-Communist. When faced with a critical decision, he said, a non-Communist would rule against Communist interests.

In Memoriam

ALLAN — In loving memory of our dear husband and father, John M. Allan, who left us June 4, 1956. Loving and kind in all his ways. Upright and just to the end of his days. Sincere and kind in heart and mind. What a beautiful memory he left behind.

EDITH, wife, MARGARET and RUSSELL, (daughter and son-in-law); LAWRENCE and AUDREY, (son and daughter-in-law); KENNETH, (grandson).

MUNKITTRICK — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Ernest Herbert Munkittrick, who passed away June 5th, 1955. He is gone but not forgotten. And as it dawns another year. In our lonely hours of thinking. Thoughts of him are always near. Days of sadness will come o'er us. Friends may think the wound is healed. But little they know the sorrow That lies within the heart concealed. Ever remembered and sadly missed by—

THELMA, (wife), BETTY LOU, (daughter), DORA, (daughter), HENRY, (son-in-law), DIANE and ALLAN, (grandchildren).

EDDY EVERYBODY

comes to the point -

"WHAT DO I GET... FOR FREE?"

well, here are those
HOSPITAL INSURANCE BENEFITS

these services are FREE OF CHARGE

- 1 The usual accommodation and meals in a standard ward. A private or semi-private room is provided only in exceptional cases, as explained below.
- 2 The nursing care normally required, such as the nurses on duty and additional hospital personnel, if necessary.
- 3 Lab tests, X-ray examinations and other normal means of diagnosis used to determine your condition.
- 4 Medication, medicines and other products prescribed by the doctor and administered at the hospital.
- 5 The use of the operating room and the delivery room, including anaesthetic facilities and standard surgical requisites. In other words, whatever is required at the time of an operation.
- 6 The use of radiotherapy and physiotherapy facilities, namely X-ray and electrical treatments, massages and exercises, etc.

this you must PAY FOR

- 1 The bills sent by the doctor, the surgeon and the anaesthetist.
- 2 Medical care received in the out-patient department, or outside the hospital such as at home or at the doctor's office.
- 3 Hospital services received for the sole purpose of "check up" examinations.
- 4 Ambulance or other transportation costs, to and from the hospital.
- 5 Patent medicines plus any item you take home from the hospital.
- 6 Except in two cases (see below), you must pay for private or semi-private room accommodation at the new low rates established by the Hospital Insurance plan. Important: if you choose a private or semi-private room, please be sure to inquire about the daily rates before your admission to the hospital. Thus, you can determine exactly how much your room will cost. The private room rates vary according to the hospital. But semi-private room costs are the same — $5.00 for a two-bed room and $4.00 for a room containing 3 or 4 beds, on the Island of Montreal; but $4.00 for a semi-private room containing 2, 3 or 4 beds anywhere else in the province.

Please note: While services received in a mental hospital, in an old people's home, in a sanatorium ward reserved for TB patients, or in an institution providing only custodial care are not covered by the Hospital Insurance plan, in most cases hospitalization costs in these institutions are covered under the terms of other laws.

this you must NEVER FORGET

- * The Hospital Insurance plan provides private or semi-private rooms, free of charge, in two instances only: in emergency cases when there is no vacancy in the standard wards, or where a person's condition is such that for his own good (after an operation, for example) or for the good of other patients (an agitated person) the authorities rule that the patient should be transferred to a private or semi-private room. In all other cases, you must bear the cost.
- * Tourists, transients and visitors do not qualify under the Québec plan. Services received here will be charged to them or to their provinces.
- * On leaving the hospital, make sure you get a Form AH-108 properly filled out. It will indicate clearly what the Hospital Insurance plan pays for you — and what you must pay, if you requested a private or semi-private room.
- * Never ask your doctor for hospital treatment unless it is absolutely needed. Never remain at the hospital one day too many: this is an unfair and costly practice!

Here's how to do bound buttonholes

Beautifully made bound buttonholes add greatly to a garment. They are not difficult, once you know the simple, precise way to make them.

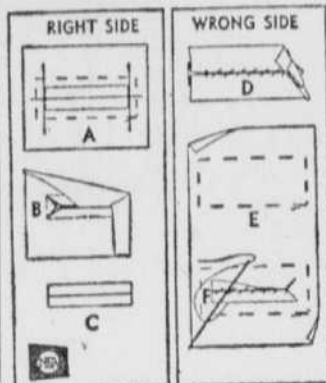

Make buttonhole before you apply the facing. Use the lightest weight pelt, lawn, or organdie for support under the buttonhole. If lawn or organdie, cut on a true bias, in a length long enough for all the buttonholes and twice as wide as buttonhole will be when finished. Place this support strip wrong side of fabric.

Mark position with pins for the top buttonhole—then measure an exact distance between each buttonhole. Chalk a line on each cross-wise grain where buttonhole is to be. Make this as far from the seamline as your pattern indicates, and 1/2-inch longer than your button is wide.

Cut as many pieces of garment fabric as you are to have buttonholes. These can be cut on bias or crosswise. Make them eight times wider than the welt is to be. Example: two inches if welt is to be 1/4-inch. Cut this piece 1 1/2 inches wider than the finished buttonhole is to be.

A. Lay center of a buttonhole piece of fabric precisely over the chalk mark as shown. Baste it to position. Use a short stitch and stitch a scant 1/4-inch from the center line. Pivot at each corner.

B. Remove bastings, cut exactly through the center, and diagonally to each corner. Do

Summer fashions for kiddies offer easy care

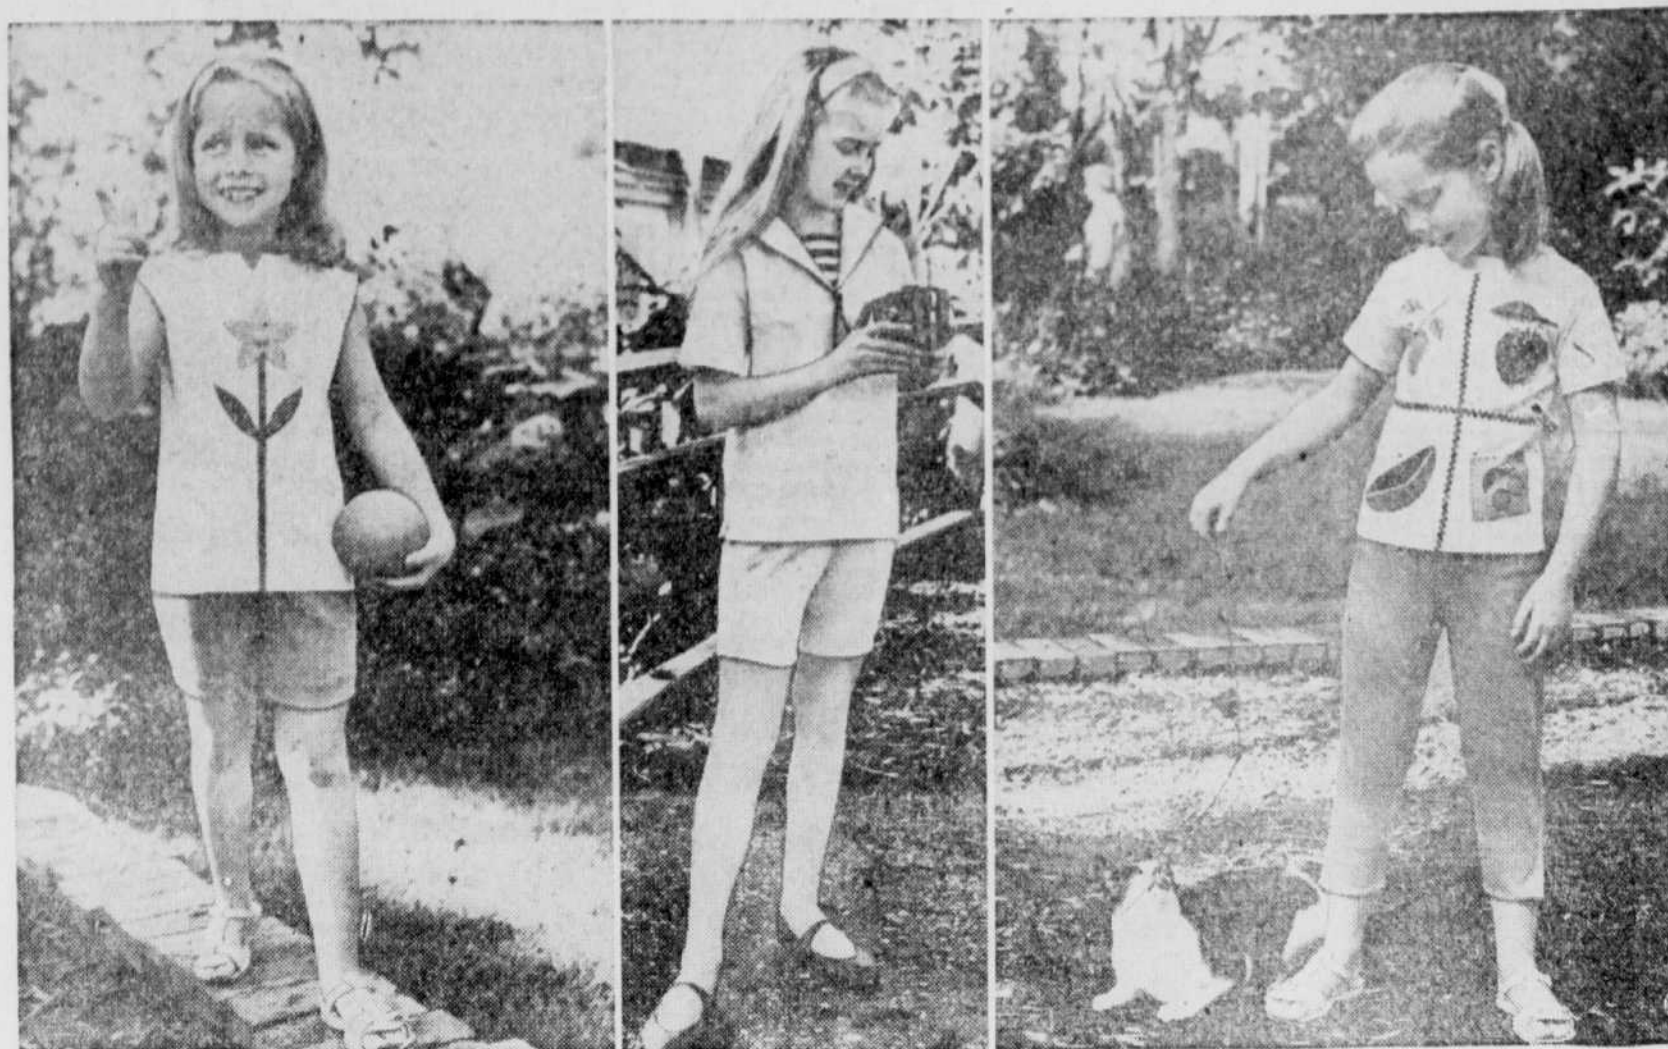

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Summertime means lazy living out-of-doors and far from the classrooms for the kiddies. But it shouldn't mean three months of additional hard work for mother.

No doubt about it, the end of the school year means that most mothers can count on the harmonious sounds produced by slamming screen doors, up-lifted childish voices and scuffling feet. And they can count on food vanishing and laundry piling up with equal rapidity.

There isn't much that mother can do about the food but keep the refrigerator full at all times. Things are just a bit easier in the matter of clothes. They must be washed but they need not be ironed. Cotton knits, for instance, will retain their shape and resist creasing even through laundering if they have been given a special finish.

Some never need ironing; others need touching up with a warm iron. But even the latter, if cut along easy lines, are a breeze to press.

Keep all of this in mind when you shop for summer tops and shorts for children. Children respond to bright colors and attractive design. Mother is likely to respond to anything that promises she won't still be ironing at 11 p.m. Combination of the two can keep everyone happy.

The small fry move outdoors in summer in clothes that are easy to wear, easy to care for. Long-stemmed posy is the sole adornment on this white cotton knit shirt (left). Middy follows the season's relaxed line (center) in adult fashions. It sports a bio in red and white stripes. Fruit forms the design on this printed cotton knit play shirt (right). Shorts and pants repeat shirt colors in these designs by Cromwell.

Que.-Sher. Presbyterial W.A.

9th Annual meeting held in Coaticook

One hundred thirty two delegates and guests gathered in the Sisco Memorial United Church in Coaticook to attend the ninth annual meeting of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbyterial Women's Association on Wednesday May 31. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers.

Following the singing of the theme hymn, Mrs. C. A. Akhurst welcomed the ladies.

In the report from Dominion Council Mrs. N. S. Lothrop emphasized that the programs for the balance of 1961, and those for 1962, had been planned to acquaint members with the aims and objects of the United Church women.

Mrs. N. Flint spoke on the literature available and suggested that the programs for the balance of 1961 could be ordered now from her, the address being Box 33, Lennoxville.

Mrs. H. N. Burgess, Immediate Past President of the Montreal-Ottawa Conference Women's Association, led an open forum on the United Church women. She emphasized that any Woman's Association that had tried faithfully to carry out the aims and objects of that organization as set out in the handbook would find little difference except for a minor change in finances. An allocation is to be given each group, the amount to be approximately the same as that given by them in the past to the missionary effort, plus a small assessment for the expenses of their own Presbyterial.

In the worship service Mrs. W. J. Lane spoke on "The World for Christ".

The Summer School for Women is to be held at Macdonald College, Ste Anne de Bellevue, August 8-11.

Mrs. L. Curtis and Mrs. B. E. Jarvis will be attending the Keswick Conference for the women of the United Church to be held in Ferndale, Ontario, September 15-17.

A joint summer executive meeting, with the executive of the Presbyterial, will be held on August 15, for the purpose of planning the regional meetings in October when Miss Dorothy Young of Dominion Board will be guest speaker. After a most delicious luncheon prepared by the ladies of the church, greetings were brought by Mrs. W. H. Boomhour, president of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbyterial, and by Rev. Graham Barr, chairman of the Presbyterial.

Mrs. A. Sutherland, accompanied by Miss Madeleine Brunet at the organ, sang "The Stranger of Galilee".

Addressing the ladies in the afternoon, Mrs. H. N. Burgess stated: "As the Woman's Association and the Woman's Missionary Society join together, we must not keep looking back, nor be as sleeping giants guarding the treasures of the past; but rather to move forward as United Church Women which could be likened to a much bigger, alert, wide-awake giant with unlimited potential." Not only would the United Church women be concerned with the local church but their interest should include, for example, the teenager searching for Christian convictions, the alcoholic facing many problems, the New Canadian in need of a friend.

Mrs. Burgess then installed the officers, all having agreed to continue in office until December 31, 1961. The slate of officers being as follows: Honorary President: Mrs. J. MacKay, Quebec; Past President: Mrs. R. Gale, Waterville; President: Mrs. N. S. Lothrop, Sherbrooke; 1st Vice-President:

Mrs. K. Walker, Coaticook; 2nd Vice-President: Mrs. Morris Smith, Bulwer; 3rd Vice-President: Mrs. N. Flint, Lennoxville; Recording Secretary: Mrs. A. Sutherland, Bury; Corresponding Secretary: Mrs. J. Mitchell, Lennoxville; Literature Secretary: Mrs. N. Flint, Lennoxville; Assistant Literature: Mrs. A. Tolhurst, Lennoxville; Treasurer: Mrs. A. Noble, Lennoxville; Press Secretary: Mrs. F. Ross, Lennoxville; Visiting and Christian Fellowship: Miss Marion Kerr, Kingsbury; Parsonage: Mrs. R. Cillis, East Angus; Organization: Mrs. L. Taylor, Thetford Mines; Co-Operation of Christian Education and Christian Leadership: Mrs. R. Gale, Waterville; Christian Stewardship: Mrs. E. McCartney, Valcartier Village; Citizenship: Mrs. Volney Hurley, Sawyerville; Programme Planning Secretary: Mrs. N. Lothrop and five key women; W. A. Historian: Mrs. Mackie Fuller, Sherbrooke; Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbyterial W.M.S. President: Mrs. W. H. Boomhour, Waterville; Devotional: Mrs. H. Griffith, Sherbrooke; Nominations: Mrs. H. S. Beane, Beebe; Regional Key Women: Quebec: Mrs. L. H. McHarg, Thetford Mines; Scotstown: Mrs. Morris Smith, Bulwer; Waterville: Mrs. C. Thomas, East Farnham; Richmond: Mrs. J. Hamilton, Kingsbury; Stanstead-Sherbrooke: Mrs. H. S. Ball, Waterville.

The report of the Courtesy Committee was given by Mrs. Douglas Hadlock, and a worship period led by Mrs. V. Hurley concluded the meeting.

These teenagers deserve our admiration

"You hear a lot about today's spoiled teen-agers and what an easy time they have," says a high school teacher, "but the truth is that a lot of today's teen-agers are meeting bigger problems than most people realize.

"There are girls in my classes who are doing most of the housework for their families because their mothers work full time.

"There are both boys and girls from broken homes with all kinds of parental problems to worry about.

"There are plenty of young people who earn all of their own spending money and even their own clothes.

"They get by with nothing from their parents but board and room.

"There are ambitious boys and girls who are planning to these young people is having it hard.

"They don't talk about their troubles. Instead, they put the best possible face on them.

"We teachers only find out when they get to the point where they have to have someone to talk to."

The teacher is right, of course.

It's easy to say that teen-agers have never had it so good, without investigating enough to know that while some young people today have it too easy there are plenty who have it too hard.

"One of the most popular girls in our school has a mother in a mental institution.

"Though this girl is only 16, it is mainly through her efforts that the family is holding together.

"To look at her you would think she was just another teenager with not a care in the world, and yet her young shoulders are carrying a heavy burden.

"Perhaps, that is the real reason why so many adults assume that most teen-agers today have it easy. You can't tell which of

The game played before a large crowd saw the White Sox take a 7-2 win over the Yankees. In tonight's games the White Sox travel to Lennoxville to take on the Yankees and at the Parade grounds the Senators and Indians clash.

Prior to the game Henri 'Pocket Rocket' Richard, who was the guest of honor, and a monster parade formed up at the Lansdowne Market and led by the pipes and drums of the 24th Tech Squadron R.C.E.M.E. proceeded to the playing field. The pre-game battery included, Mayor A. Nadeau, batter, Ken Herring, catcher, and Henri Richard as pitcher. Mayor Nadeau connected with one of Henri Richard's deliveries and got himself a long single into left field.

In the game in which quite a few of the players were awed by the big occasion the teams battled it fairly even. Errors were a big factor in the White Sox win. Yankees made five 'boots' in the game. Yankees in the top of the first came up with a single hit, George Garard connecting.

In the Sox part of the inning they tallied three runs getting these on two errors and hits by Duplessis and Brooks. All this happened after Dudley Coates, the Yankee pitcher, had struck out the first two men to face him.

Athletics Now Demand $50,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charles Finley, owner of Kansas City Athletics, is demanding $50,000 from Minnesota Twins because of pitcher Paul Giel's retirement.

The Athletics obtained Giel and infielder Reno Bertoia from the Twins last Thursday in exchange for outfielder Bill Tuttle. Giel said Saturday he is quitting.

"I want $50,000 for Giel or else I want the deal called off," Finley said. "We certainly wouldn't trade Tuttle for Bertoia. Tuttle is a $150,000 ball player. In fact I'd say he's worth $200,000."

"I've instructed Frank Lane (Athletics general manager) to tell Calvin Griffith (owner of the Twins) to give us either $50,000 or send Tuttle back. As far as I know Frank hasn't been able to get in touch with Calvin, but we should hear something soon."

The American League commissioner's office has told Lane able to get in touch with Calvin, but we should hear something soon."

The American League commissioner's office has told Lane and Griffith to work out a solution.

Indians Making Big Move For Top Spot But Can't Match Tiger's Power At Plate, Clout Eight Homers Sunday

Cleveland Indians are making streak, hitting safely in his 18th big move in the American and 19th consecutive games in League race by winning 18 of Cleveland's sweep over the Angels. Jim Perry needed help from Bob Allen and Frank Funk in the first. Wynn Hawkins, all of whose five victories have come on Sunday, got a hand scores. The Tigers' eight home runs were hit by eight different men.

The secret of Detroit's ability can be read in the Sunday box scores. The Tigers' eight home runs were hit by eight different men.

The big men hit a few—Rocky Colavito got No. 15, Norm Cash No. 12, and Dick Brown No. 9—but the list also included Chico Fernandez, Ubbu Morton, Mike Roarke, Jake Wood and Billy Bruton.

In fact, the Tigers lead the league in home runs with a total of 61, a statistic almost as startling as their long tenure in first place.

Detroit defeated Minnesota Twins Sunday 10-4 and 9-3. The Twins now have lost nine in a row and 14 of their last 15.

Cleveland continued streaking along on the trail of the Tigers, defeating Los Angeles Angels 5-3 and 8-4. In other games, New York Yankees walloped Chicago White Sox 10-1, Boston Red Sox edged Baltimore Orioles 6-5 and Kansas City Athletics defeated Washington Senators 8-5.

Saturday, Cleveland went through four Los Angeles pitchers, including reliever Ted Bowsfield of Pontiac, B.C., en route to a 9-4 victory. Chicago edged the Yankees 6-5 in 13 innings. Baltimore topped Boston 3-1, Kansas City whitewashed Washington 8-0 and Detroit squeaked by Minnesota 2-1.

The Tigers rally exploded the power to back up Frank Lary en route to his eighth victory in Sunday's opener. Brown, Wood and Fernandez hit their homers in the eighth inning. But Bob Bruce gave way to Paul Foytack, the eventual winner, in the second game of a doubleheader played before 32,761 at Detroit. John Romano continued his

Carry Back Blew Chances To Become Ninth Triple Crown Hero

Favorite Finished Poor Seventh, May Have Injured Left Front Ankle, Sherlock Wins By 2 1/4 Lengths

OCEANPORT, N.J. (AP) — Carry Back, the Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner who flopped in the Belmont Stakes, must have been "hurting" in the left front ankle Saturday when he blew a chance to become the ninth triple crown hero.

Further examination of the little Florida-bred colt, who captivated sports fans with great stretch rallies in Kentucky and Maryland, was scheduled today at Monmouth Park.

Another colt owned by a Miami resident, Jacob Sher's Sherlock, a 65-1 shot, won the Belmont Stakes at Belmont Park. Carry Back, the favorite at 9-20, came home seventh in a field of nine.

Ridden by Braulio Baeza of Panama, Sherlock hit the wire 2 1/4 lengths ahead of Leonard P. Sasso's Globemaster.

FLUTTERBY WAS LAST

Globemaster was 2 1/2 lengths in front of Mrs. Robert L. Dotter's Guadalcanal. Robert Lehman's Ambipose was fourth. Carry Back was 15 lengths behind the winner. Alberta Ranch's Flutterby came in last.

The Belmont was a $148,850 race and Sherlock collected the richest winner's share of $104,900. Sherlock returned a record $132.10, $50.20 and $18. Globe-master paid $15.30 and $9, while Guadalcanal returned $7.90.

The time was 2:39 1-5, compared with the track and United States record of 2:26 3-5 set by Gallant Man in winning the 1957 Belmont.

Carry Back is owned by Mrs. Katherine Price of Miami, and trained by her husband, Jack, who reported the colt lame upon arrival Sunday at Monmouth Park from New York.

FOUND NO FRACTURE

"It's his left front ankle," said Price. "Preliminary X-rays show no fracture and I'm inclined to think it's a pulled muscle. But we intend to take other X-rays to make sure."

Harold Young, trainer of Sherlock, and Price both said they hoped for another meeting in the $75,000 Dwyer Handicap at Aqueduct July 15, and again in the Choice Stakes, a $50,000 event, Aug. 2 at Monmouth Park.

Officials replayed the race movies on a closed circuit TV later. They showed Carry Back bearing in from the middle of the track over to the rail, most of the final quarter mile. That indicated his left fore ankle, as stated by Price, was giving trouble and Carry Back was favoring it.

Dave Dorman Of Smiths Falls Breaks Canadian Junior High Jump Record, Wins Six Of Eight Events He Entered

MONTREAL (CP) — Dave Dorman, 19, from Smiths Falls, Ont., broke the Canadian junior high jump mark Saturday at the Greater Montreal Inter-scholastic Athletic Association track meet.

He cleared the bar at six feet 3 3/4 inches, one-quarter of an inch better than a jump recorded in 1956 by Ken Grant of Vancouver. The previous Montreal meet record was five feet 11 1/4 inches.

Dorman, competing in class five for boys under 20, broke another meet record when he won the 120-yard hurdles in 16.4 seconds against the previous meet mark of 16.5.

In all, he won six of the eight events he entered in his class and placed second in the two he did not win. He won the broad jump, the discus throw, the 12-pound shot-put and the hop, step and jump in addition to his two record-breaking victories. He came second in the javelin throw and pole vault.

Bob Fisher - Smith, 17, of registered two victories, both of them record-breakers. He won the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds flat cutting 3 seconds from the previous mark, and breezed home in 22.3 seconds to win the 220-yard dash, beating the old record of 23.4.

Fisher-Smith was competing in class four, for boys under 18. There were five classes in all, ranging from boys under 14 in class one, to boys under 20 in class five.

Nine records were topped by athletes among the 500 who competed.

Dorman's sparkling display in the senior competition provided the points to win the class five aggregate championship for Smiths Falls.

Verdun, Que., high school capped class four aggregate honors and tied for first place with Beausfield, Que., in class one. Verdun also won the grand aggregate for the five classes and was awarded the Sir Arthur Currie Memorial Trophy.

Dorman scored a total of 106 points. Beausfield High was second with 77 and Ridgmont, Ottawa, third with 75.

Ridgmont won the class two aggregate and Beausfield class three. Points were awarded on a 6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for the first six places in four classes. In class five the basis was 5-3-2-1 for the first four placings.

The favored Italians, winners of the European tournament a year ago, had to go to the final match to eliminate Belgium, 3-2 at Brussels, and France defeated Brazil, 4-1, at Paris.

Sweden's lead over Hungary at Budapest was cut to 2-1 when the Hungarians scored an upset victory in the doubles. The final two matches will be played today.

Quarter-final matches already lined up are: Italy vs West Germany; France vs Poland, and Britain vs South Africa.

Alouettes' Camp Gets 72 Rookies

MONTREAL (CP)—Seventy-two rookies reported Saturday for two weeks of football practice and trials at Montreal Alouettes' Canadian camp.

The roster includes four players from American colleges, three from Mount Allison University in New Brunswick, two each from Kitchener - Waterloo and Kirkland Lake and one each from Sarnia Bears of the ORFU and Windsor Jets intermediates. The rest are from Montreal and other Quebec points.

After physical examinations Saturday, the rookies were scheduled for running trials of 40 and 100 yards Sunday. They will begin scrimmages today.

The camp will end Saturday, June 17, with an intra-quad game sponsored by the Quebec Rugby Football Union.

Alouettes coach and general manager Perry Moss and his staff will put the Candidates for selection to the Als training camp, through their paces. A number of U.S. college coaches will be on hand to look for possible prospects.

End Arnold Sanders, half David Cuthbertson and fullback Milan Zipay are from Mount Allison University.

TV Entertainer Danny Thomas Bids For Chisox

CHICAGO (AP) — President Bill Veeck is expected to hand down the final decision today on the sale of controlling interest in the Chicago White Sox.

"It's all up to Veeck," said vice-president Hank Greenberg. "If he decides to sell, we sell. If not, we stay."

Veeck, Greenberg and A. C. Allyn Jr. own 54 per cent of Sox stock. Their interest is being sought by a syndicate which includes entertainer Danny Thomas, Spokesman and apparent head of the group is Chicago attorney Bernard Epton.

"We can raise up to $6,000,000 and if it is necessary, Danny Thomas could put up the entire amount himself," he said.

The Epton group reportedly has offered $4,800,000 for Veeck stock. Veeck's combine bought the 54 per cent from Mrs. Dorothy Comiskey Rigney for $2,700,000 two years ago.

The other 46 per cent of the club is held by Chuck Comiskey. Rumors cropped up Sunday that there were other groups interested in buying the White Sox but nothing came of them.

Toronto baseball magnet Jack Kent Cooke, who for sometime has been trying to buy into a major league club, appeared on the scene but Greenberg said Cooke was in town only to try to get some player help for his International League club.

Suspensions And Close Races Feature Weekend Racing At Sherbrooke Track

DRIVING FINISH — Cardinal Prince C, number three, is seen under the wire ahead of the six-horse field when he won the main feature Sunday afternoon at the local track. All horses in the class are caught by the photo-finish with Roum Bumpas, number two, nosing out Royal Match, number five, with Breton's Nifty Chief, number seven, up close. They were clocked in 2:11 1/5.

W. St. Cyr teamed Cardinal second time romped home in Prince G under the wire in 2:11 easy fashion to top the class in 1/5 Sunday afternoon to win 2:17 4/5.

The main event of the eight-class program at the Sherbrooke driver Dube failed to give his track. It was a battle right to the end on both occasions and after the wire and all six horses in the class were caught in the photo-finish. It was a fight from the start till the finish. They went to the half in 1:07 and came home in 1:04 1/5.

Two suspensions and one fine were handed out by the judges. Florent Brochu drew the other suspension for failing to race when programmed as well as insubordination. He was suspended indefinitely until Saturday evening G. Dube who drove Super Sonic C was suspended for failing to drive when programmed as well as insubordination. Als Drop Two To Granby 6-1, 7-4 While Waterloo Wallops Coaticook 11-1, 4-1

Mike Burrack, Granby hurler, held the Alouettes to three hits to post a 6-1 win last night at the baseball stadium in a regular Provincial League game. The Als dropped the afternoon game at Granby 7-4.

Burrack allowed only one hit in the first eight innings. He was tagged for two in the last of the ninth to give the lo-cals their only run.

Prud'homme, starting pitcher for the Als, had seven strikeouts before he was taken out and replaced by Potrias. Burrack allowed only one hit in the first eight innings. He was tagged for two in the last of the ninth to give the lo-cals their only run.

World Welterweight Champ Griffith, $50,000 Richer, Has His Sights Set On Middleweight Championship

LOS ANGELES (AP)—World welterweight champion Emilio Griffith, 22, $50,000 richer and his crown intact, has his sights set on the middleweight title.

The New Yorker wrecked challenger Gaspar Ortega in 12 rounds Saturday night and handed the game boxer from Tijuana, Mexico, the first knockout in his 86 ring engagements.

Griffith and his co-managers, Gil Clancy and Harold Arnold, left word they will honor their contract to give ex-champion Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba a return match for the title.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner of New York said the Paret engagement probably will be held in Madison Square Garden Sept. 16.

MAY FIGHT SUGAR
Brenner, with the Griffith faction nodding in agreement, also said he would try to persuade Sugar Ray Robinson, the former welter and middleweight champion, to box Emilio in a non-title 10-rounder. Brenner said a possible date is July 29.

The Robinson go would fit in with Griffith's idea of invading the 160-pound division. He weighed 145 1/2 for Ortega, Ortega, who lost a split decision to Griffith in February 1960, was badly outclassed Saturday by a vastly improved champion.

Griffith toyed with the courageous Gaspar until late in the 11th round. Suddenly the bombs dropped again and Ortega went reeling on rubber legs to his corner at the bell.

Griffith opened the 12th with an aggressive attack and Hart lost no time stopping it after 48 seconds.

A bloody, sobbing Ortega was helped from the ring, his first and possibly last chance at a world championship gone.

A crowd of 8,500 paid $52,739 to see the affair at the Olympic Auditorium.

Sam Snead Wins Medals And Cash In Canada Cup Matches But Plaudits Go To Jimmy Demaret, Canada Is Third

DORADO BEACH, Puerto Rico (AP)—The records and the cash in the ninth annual Canada Cup golf matches went to Sam Snead, the millionaire hill-billy from West Virginia, but the plaudits belong to Jimmy Demaret, his United States teammate.

The two combined for an aggregate of 560 strokes that sent the huge trophy to the United States for a second straight year. Snead hammered his way four times around the lush 7,115-yard layout of the Dorado Beach course in a record 272 strokes, 16 under par.

But the plaudits belong to Demaret. Once the beau brunel of the links, the Texas granddaddy cut short a fishing vacation to replace Arnold Palmer, U.S. Open champion, when the latter was refused permission by the Professional Golfers Association to compete here.

Demaret, 31, puffed through the four steaming rounds in 288 strokes—exact par and better than some active stars.

GOT HIM MOVING
"There were mornings when I didn't think I could get him out of bed," drawled Snead, now the winner of three straight tournaments and who must try to qualify Tuesday for the U.S. Open. "And when I did get him up, I didn't think I'd get him moving again."

The favored team of Peter Thomson and Kel Nagle of Australia finished second with 572. Canada's Al Balding of Toronto and Al Johnston of Montreal were a surprise third at 579, with Ireland fourth at 582 and the Philippines fifth at 585.

Ben Arda of the Philippines zoomed to a four over 76 on the final round although he got the good word just before teeing off that two cables informing of his wife's serious illness in Manila were a hoax. Instead of relaxing he sprayed his shots after having made the first three rounds in six under par.

Thomson, with 280, was second to Snead's 272 in the individual race. Snead's total broke the record of 274 Torakichi Nakamura of Japan set on his home course in Tokyo in 1957. Christy O'Connor of Ireland was third with 282 and Balding, next with 283 after a last round 69.

Balding's final score might have been better but for a poor third round Saturday. He came home then with a 75, three strokes above par. His 69 final round matched his previous low on the first day of the tournament. He shot a 70 in the second round.

Johnston's final round of 70 was his best of the tournament. A last-minute replacement for Vancouver's Stan Leonard, Johnston said he was suffering from the jitters throughout. His earlier rounds were 78, 72 and 76, giving him a 296 total.

Leonard had been barred from playing in the Canada Cup matches because of a previous commitment to play in Memphis, Tenn. Open scheduled for the same time. The same fate befell Arnold Palmer of the U.S. and Gary Player of South Africa.

Under the rules of the U.S. Professional Golfers Association they could not play in any other tournament but the Memphis Open. If they did, they faced possible fines of $500 and suspensions of six months. All three passed up both tournaments.

The U.S. team victory was worth $2,000 in prize money. Australia won $1,000 and Canada $800.

Snead also picked up $1,000 as the individual winner. Thomson got second-place money of $500, O'Connor got $400 for third place, and Balding got $200 for finishing fourth.

Hometown Boy Cary Middlecoff Wins At Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—There's no place like home and nobody knows it better than Cary Middlecoff, who came from behind to win the Memphis Open golf tournament Sunday for a $4,300 pay cheque—his biggest in three years.

Middlecoff, born in nearby Halls, Tenn., nailed Gardner Dickinson with a three-under-par 67 and finished with 266, a tournament record. The previous mark of 267 was set in 1958 by Billy Maxwell.

Dickinson, from Tequesta, Fla., who led the first three days, slipped to a 73 and a second-place tie with Mike Souchak at 271. Souchak had a 67 Sunday. Each collected $2,500.

Bob Shave Jr. was fourth at 272 after a seven-under-par 63 Sunday that tied the competitive record over the 6,423-yard Colonial Country Club course. Lionel Hebert, Gene Litter and Buddy Sullivan were next at 273, with defending champion Tommy Bolt and Ken Venturi tied at 274.

It was Middlecoff's biggest payday since he collected $5,300 for winning the Milwaukee Open in 1958.

New York Beats Bangu Of Brazil

NEW YORK (AP)—John McCole scored three goals Sunday and led New York Americans to a 4-2 International Soccer League victory over Bangu of Brazil.

Giants Reliever Stu Miller Hasn't Much Speed But Doesn't Need It

Stops Dodgers While Milwaukee Belts Cards 7-1, Redlegs And Cubs Split, Pirates Blanked 5-0

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Staff Writer

It takes a fellow like Stu Miller to prove the race isn't always to the swift. They say he has three pitches — slow, slower and slowest.

Whatever he has, it seems to work. Miller, who has a 4-0 record, was called in for San Francisco Giants when Sam Jones ran into a wild spell at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Jones had walked in a run by passing pinch hitter Ron Fairly with the bases loaded and had a 4-2 lead when Miller entered. Stu shut out the Dodgers the rest of the way.

The Giants' 4-2 victory, set up by Felipe Alou's two-run homer off loser Stan Williams, cut the Dodgers' National League lead to a half-game. The Giants and Cincinnati Reds are tied for second, five percentage points back.

STUMBLING OVER CUBS

Cincinnati stumbled over Chicago Cubs 8-2 after winning the first game 3-1. In other games Milwaukee Braves walloped St. Louis Cardinals 7-1 and Philadelphia Phillies defeated Pittsburgh Pirates 5-0.

Saturday, the Dodgers edged San Francisco 4-3, Chicago defeated Cincinnati 10-7, Milwaukee trounced St. Louis 9-3 and the Pirates downed Philadelphia 5-1.

The Giants' victory over the Dodgers Sunday was the first in their last six meetings and salvaged the final game of a series. A crowd of 47,463 saw the Giants get two off Williams in the first and add another pair on Alou's homer in the seventh. Los Angeles scored their first on Johnny Roseboro's homer in the fifth.

Cincinnati's Jim Maloney threw a three-hitter at Chicago in the opener. Maloney had a shutout until Chicago's George Altman homered with one out in the ninth.

WASN'T LUCKY

Jim O'Toole did not have the same good fortune in the second game. Back-to-back homers by Ron Santo and Ernie Banks in the first started him on the way to his fifth defeat despite Frank Robinson's 13th home run.

Warren Spahn won his sixth of the year and the 294th of his career by holding St. Louis to six hits. He lost his chance for his 53rd big league shutout when he uncorked a wild pitch that let in a run in the fourth inning. Home runs by Lee Maye and Frank Bolling accounted for five of the Braves' runs off Bob Gibson.

Don Ferrarese, a refugee from the American League, won his first victory for Philadelphia. It was the second time in three days the Pirates had been shut out by the Phils.

The Phillies knocked out Vinegar Bend Mizell in the second inning. Manager Danny Murtaugh for the second time this season called on Bob Friend, a starter, for relief work. Ferrarese allowed only five hits.
