DR. G. WOOLLEY, EX-RESIDENT, EARNS PRAISE

Native of Westmount Writes Commemorative Book on Stephane Mallarme

A new commemorative book on Stephane Mallarme, (1842-1898) has just been written by Dr. Grange Woolley, Professor of French at Brothers College, Drew University.

Dr. Woolley was born in Westmount and educated at Westmount High School. He attended McGill University where he received a bursary. He studied three years at the Sorbonne in Paris. He is the son of the late Frank C. Woolley and of Mrs. Woolley, and grandson of the late Rev. T. G. Williams, D.D., who preached in many of the churches of Montreal, including the Sherbrooke street Methodist and the St. James Methodist, now the United.

He has lectured here frequently, and has written another book on Wagner's influence on the symbolic poets of France.

According to the Madison Eagle (New Jersey), Professor Woolley's presentation is both timely and instructive. In parts two and three of the volume, he has translated portions of Mallarme's prose work and his poems in verse. Professor Woolley's translations are poetical to the original which is given in French on opposite pages.

Dr. Woolley became a member of the faculty of Brothers College in the fall of 1932. He is spending the summer months in Montreal.

WASTE PAPER IS SOUGHT IN SALVAGE DRIVE

Children Asked to do Part By Turning in Used School Books

A special drive for waste paper is being conducted this week by the Westmount Salvage Committee which seeks the co-operation of residents in making the campaign a success. While no quota has been set approximately 15,000 pounds was collected in a previous special drive for paper.

Salvage campaign officials here particularly urge school children to do their part in the drive by turning in their discarded school scribbles, writing pads, etc.

There are large quantities of waste paper in practically every household and residents have been asked to bundle it up and place it alongside garbage cans on garbage removal days. In cases where particularly large quantities are obtained the city will send a special truck for its collection.

Nearly all paper products are valuable. These include newspapers, magazines, cartons, cardboard boxes and wrapping paper. Tattered wrapping paper and oil paper used for wrapping meats are of no value.

Paper is used in the manufacture of many vital war products such as food containers, shell cases and rifle cases.

The phone number at the local headquarters of the drive is FI. 5531.

When he slipped and fell while running to third base during a ball game between Pat's and Mount St. Louis last Thursday evening at the Atwater Ball Grounds, Moe Sporn, 18, of 3941 Clarke street, suffered a fracture of the right ankle.

LOCAL SCHOOLS CLOSE FRIDAY

Almost 4,000 school pupils in Westmount will end the current scholastic term tomorrow when both Protestant and Catholic public schools will close for the summer holiday period. Only students not to be affected by the closing will be those writing school leaving and senior matriculation examinations in grades 11 and 12 in the High School, and those in the primary grades who have to write tests because they failed to pass on their year's work.

The total enrollment in the schools under the jurisdiction share of the Protestant Board of School Commissioners is slightly over 3,000, believed to be one of the highest on record.

In the two schools operated by the School Commissioners of St. Leon de Westmount, St. Leo's and St. Paul's, pupils number approximately 925.

Marking the opening of Reserve Army Week, an impressive drumhead service was held by the 2nd Battalion, Royal Montreal Regiment (M.G.), in its armoury on Sunday afternoon. The service was originally scheduled to take place outdoors but bad weather caused it to be held in the armoury.

F. H. FRENCH PARENTS GROUP HERE SEEKS MODIFICATION IN SCHOOL CURRICULUM

Association Sends Memorandum to Quebec Council of Public Education Now Studying Reforms

Having already taken up with the local Catholic School Commission, the question of modifying the French curriculum at St-Leon's Academy, so that French pupils may obtain a diploma equivalent to that granted by English High Schools, the Association des parents, Academies St-Leon de St-Paul, has forwarded to the Council of Public Education which is at present studying reforms of the French Educational system in the Province of Quebec, a memorandum expressing the opinion of a representative group of parents. The committee on studies of the Association did not confine itself to the rather limited question of Primary schools. It has presented a plan for the co-ordination of the whole system of education in the Province from the kindergarten to the university. Such a plan would permit a more democratic and economic segregation of students according to their abilities and temperament, and independently of their financial means.

As regard possible reforms of the primary schools curriculum, the parents association suggested:

1. The formation of kindergartens.
2. Amending the law which sets the age at which a child may enter school, so that younger children who are mentally and physically fit, may be admitted before they reach the age of seven, provided that their qualifications have proved satisfactory to the school director or to an examining board constituted of a doctor, a specialist in child guidance and the school director or a qualified teacher.
3. Reducing the elementary school curriculum from seven to six years by cutting out from the first three years certain secondary subjects which have to be taught in greater details in later years, at a time where the children can more readily assimilate them.
4. Teaching of the English language in the third year of the primary school.
5. The co-ordination of the curriculum of the last four years of the public school with that of the first four years of the classical course, so that pupils from French public schools may have the same advantages as pupils of English High Schools who can enter the university directly after leaving the public High Schools.
6. The adoption of uniform text books in all French public schools of the province.

WESTMOUNT, THURSDAY, JUNE 18, 1942

FIRST ANNIVERSARY

Next week the Kent Theatre, Notre Dame de Grace's popular west end picture house, will celebrate its first anniversary with a special program that will include the pictures "Hellzapoppin'" and "Through the Night." A special effort has been made by Manager Bob Johnson to observe the occasion by giving his patrons the best program the theatre has yet billed. "Hellzapoppin'" features Olsen and Johnson and Martha Raye, while Humphrey Bogart is the star of "All Through the Night." The Kent is a thoroughly modern, streamlined playhouse, equipped with the latest word in projection efficiency and sound equipment, and in air conditioning. Not only the picture auditorium proper, but the Lounge as well has proved extremely popular with local theatre-goers. The Lounge is unique. A place where one may obtain light refreshments, taken in comfortable booths, or dance. Local residents who like good pictures and a comfortable place to see them, will continue to give The Kent their patronage.

FOR A BETTER CANADA

The Department of National War Services has made an excellent move in appointing a committee to further co-operation in Canadian citizenship. Between one-sixth and one-fifth of the population of Canada is of people whose forebears were neither British nor French. These people have valuable cultural ties with their countries of origin—assets which should enrich and strengthen our country rather than be the cause of differences, friction and prejudice. It is especially important in time of war that we all understand one another and pull together.

The committee above referred to has been formed for the purpose of promoting co-operation between Canadians of British and French extraction and these others, and to keep the various Government departments which are especially concerned fully informed. Chairman of the committee is Professor G. W. Simpson, Head of the History Department of the University of Saskatchewan. Professor Simpson has travelled extensively in Central Europe and is an international authority on the history and culture of that region, especially of the Ukraine. Other leading members are Tracy Phillips, M.C., D.C.L., F.R.I.A., and Dr. V. J. Kaye. Mr. Phillips spent many years, as foreign and diplomatic correspondent, in the countries of the Mediterranean and Eastern Europe after twenty years in the service of the British Government. Dr. Kaye is Liaison Officer to the foreign language press. He took his doctorate studies in agriculture, engineering, and the Slavonic languages at the Universities of Vienna and London.

The committee's activities are political in the sense that the government wishes to promote the adjustment of relationship between new and old Canadians; and it is Christian in the sense that its work is inspired by a sense of fundamental duty toward one's neighbour. Causes of misunderstanding, dissatisfaction and discord are investigated. The points of view of various Canadians are interpreted to the others. Full co-operation is maintained with the Director of Public Information, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, the National Film Board, and the Canadian Council for Education in Citizenship.

The work already done gives great promise. Such a committee cannot help but enrich and strengthen our country. It is laying a groundwork which will serve us well in the post-war period when we should welcome large numbers of immigrants.

MAKE IT RESTFUL!

June ushers in the holiday season, and at one time or another during the next three months practically all local residents will be away from the district for a fortnight or more. This year, holidays won't be quite the same—gas rationing, restricted bus service, the ban on travel to the U.S. seaboard, and other wartime restrictions, will all tend to make this year's vacation a quiet and restful one. And perhaps that is all for the best, for everyone is under some anxiety and stress these days, and the antidote for that is rest. War workers, and those indirectly engaged on the war effort, should especially make a point of taking a real restful vacation this summer—their work will benefit. Come back from your vacation this year refreshed, not with frazzled nerves, tired bodies and foggy brains. And before you leave, incidentally, be sure to notify the police, advising them how long you'll be away.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper and it does not accept responsibility for them.

"Freedom means that the White House and Congress and the Supreme Court of the United States can be inhabited for a long period by moles, and by the tools of money-grubbers. But freedom also means that a crisis may throw up a successor to Lincoln, a man of courage, a man of vision, a man who can do impossible things."

"Many years ago a learned and eloquent professor in Oxford, who became a professor in the United States and later settled in Canada, and gave us a sample of enlightened journalism, looked forward to the day when Britain and the United States should unite in thought and action. I wonder what Goldwin Smith would have thought of Winston Churchill and Franklin D. Roosevelt meeting on a ship in an 'Atlantic Bay'." President Carleton Stanley of Dal'ousie University.

At the morning service Dr. Johnston will have as his theme: "The Man Who Sees God—Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God." Here is an experience within the reach of any one of us. ROTARY CARNIVAL PLANNED

A four day Carnival to be staged in Westmount Park from September 8 to 11, is being planned by the Rotary Club of Westmount. It was announced today. The event is being given in order to raise funds for the Montreal Children's Hospital, the Julius Richardson Home and LaMothe-Cadillac, founder of other charities aided by the Club.

TOURIST ATTRACTION

One of the most unusual attractions for the stranger in Montreal is the massive St. Joseph's Oratory, which was built by the "miracle man" of Montreal, the late Brother Andre. It is visited by one million pilgrims a year. One block east of it is the Musee Maheuala, another Quaker centre. The moderator of the United Church of Canada, Dr. A. S. Tuttle, announced that a movement for the federation of all Protestant churches in the Dominion is under way. Archbishop D. T. Owen, Primate of the Anglican Church, is said to be sympathetic toward the movement and may bring it up for discussion at the next session of the House of Bishops of that church.

William Allen White of Emporia has won world fame. In a recent biography by Frank C. Clough, his managing editor, some good stories are well told. One tells why Mr. White left his job as a reporter in Lawrence, Kansas. He concluded a paragraph announcing a wedding with the sentence: "The happy couple will continue to live at No.—on—Street."

Helen Partridge wrote "A Lady Goes to Hollywood" (Macmillan) and continued to be a lady after she got there. It is the experience of a writer who is the wife of a writer. Allies Recital Is Given By Miss Nichols' Pupils

In spite of the intense heat some 500 people attended the Allies Recital given by Miss Irene Nichols, L.R.S.M., at Westmount Intermediate School in aid of the Westmount High Red Cross.

The majority of the children taking part were between six and seven years old and they are to be congratulated on their ability not only to perform but for their hard work in connection with selling all the tickets themselves for their concert which resulted in approximately $100 being raised for the Red Cross Fund.

The adult performers, none of whom were more than fourteen years old, outlined the various groups of small children by rendering two piano numbers.

Robert Webster dressed as a Canadian Mounted Police was a most able Master of Ceremonies. The first group of six years old were dressed in costumes representing their respective selections. Norman Davis was much admired for his graceful technique and was ably supported in Sugar Plum Fairy by Anne Rubenstein and in the Waltz of the Flowers by Yvonne Bousquet.

The second group of children formed a colourful background for the Flower Waltz and played Folk Song duets.

Wendy Stevenson's original composition of the Booby Woogly Bear was delightfully descriptive of the teller, Maureen Lescarte and Sandra Herman showed much versatility and excellent technique in the two piece number which they transposed.

Six-year-old Sandra Herman put many adults to shame with the ease and confidence in which she rendered the Blue Danube. Colie Irving, seven years ably rendered the theme from Tchaikowsky's Fifth Symphony and eight-year-old Charles Coswell showed finish and style in his playing of an Etude.

The Gilbert and Sullivan group came as a welcome change. Barbara Chambers sang Little Buttercup with charm to the excellent accompaniment of Esther Pierce. Alva McLeod's interpretation of "The Willow" received much favourable comment.

The grand finale was an unusual and colourful finish to the recital. The background was formed by tiers of uniformed small boys each holding a flag of an allied nation.

Completely costumed in the foreground was John Bull, David Gould, who played Rule Britannia with much spirit. Uncle Sam, Martin Kersh, followed with the Star Spangled Banner and the following children played the national anthems of their respective country they represented: Russia, Heather Munro; Norway, Patsy Burns; Netherlands, Jeanne Dornell; Canada, Robert Webster.

Jessie Chang, a charming Chinese child, received a warm reception for the solo of her native land.

Robert Everson, who represented the Westmount High Red Cross, was much admired for his able address on the work being done by the three senior classes. He thanked the children and their teachers for their contributions to the fund which was to be the beginning of their next year's efforts towards raising money for an ambulance.

Bogart Stars As Gangster Who Battles The Gestapo

The new picture scheduled to open on Saturday at the Kent Theatre is "All Through the Night," an action-packed drama of cops, robbers and fifth columnists. Humphrey Bogart is starred as an ex-gangster who leads his mob against the Gestapo in one of the most exciting chases in movie history.

The dialogue is crisp and picturesque. Here's a sample: "Now listen, Marty, I know you're no mental giant, but try to juggle this —"

He turns to all of them — Barton MacLane (Marty), Jane Darwell, Wally Ford, Jackie Gleason, Frank McHugh, William Demarest and their henchmen. They're all, with the exception of Jane, of course, ex-gangsters turned gamblers and night club operators.

Bogart operates: "I got a first-hand report to-night of what it's like over there from this Hamilton babe (Karen Verne) and, brother, we are to wake up. These guys are strictly no good from way down deep. They're no bunch of petty racketeers trying to chisel in on some small territory. They want to move in wholesale—take over the whole country."

Barton MacLane: "So what? It don't make no difference to me who runs the country just so they keep out of my way." Bogart: "That's just it. They won't keep out of your way. They'll tell you what time you can get up in the morning and what time you can go to sleep. They'll dictate what you can eat and the kind of clothes you can wear, what you say or think and the morning paper you read."

MacLane: "What's that?" Bogart: "I'm telling you if these guys ever stick their noses in here we're all washed up. The city boys and the yokels, the smart boys and the suckers, all of us. Because these monkeys don't play for a laugh and a little fun — they're out for blood. It's in the papers. Look at the front page any day, any week, and what do you see? A fire in one place, a plane accident in another, an explosion in another. Every order that Berlin dishes out these boys follow through."

Demarest: "And these are the only preliminaries. The main bout's lined up for tonight and

June 27 Opening Date Set For Kamp Kanawana

On June 27, some two hundred young campers from various parts of great Montreal will entrain for Kamp Kanawana to spend a summer amidst the towering hills of the Laurentians.

Kamp Kanawana is the Montreal Y.M.C.A.'s camp and is situated in the Laurentians fifty miles from Montreal near the village of St. Sauveur. This is the forty-ninth year of operation of the camp and promises to be one of the most successful.

The Kanawana staff has always been concerned about health and safety measures in the camp but this season particular emphasis will be put on this aspect of camping. The older campers will be encouraged to participate in toughening activities, including swimming, canoeing, hiking and other events of an outdoor nature. The program for the younger campers will be carefully scheduled to avoid overtaxing of strength and will include such activities as crafts, swimming instruction, short hikes and camp games.

The camp has been fortunate in securing an excellent staff to direct the various phases of camp life. R. H. Hanagan, boys' work secretary at the Central 'Y', will be the camp director; E. E. Smee, B.A., secretary at the Rosemount branch, will be the resident director. Section directors will include Ross Seaman of the Westmount 'Y' who will be in charge of the bantams, boys ages 8 and 9 years, Peter Gibbs, B.A., who will be in charge of the juniors, boys 10 and 11 years, John Withall, teacher at the Lachine high school, who will direct the intermediate section, boys 12, 13 and 14 years, and Murray Shantz of the N.D.G. 'Y', who will direct the senior section, boys ages 15, 16 and 17 years.

The camp doctor will be Dr. David K. McLaren, of the Homeopathic hospital. Doctor McLaren is an old camper and is well aware of health problems in the camp. Assisting Dr. McLaren will be Miss Margaret Reid R.N., who has been at the camp in previous years.

This year the camp was fortunate to secure as chef, J. C. Chapman, the chef at Lower Canada College. Mr. Chapman has had a wide experience in cooking for boys. Other staff members will be Keith Farquharson of Bishop's College who will be in charge

R. Wilson-Smith Wins Putting Tournament

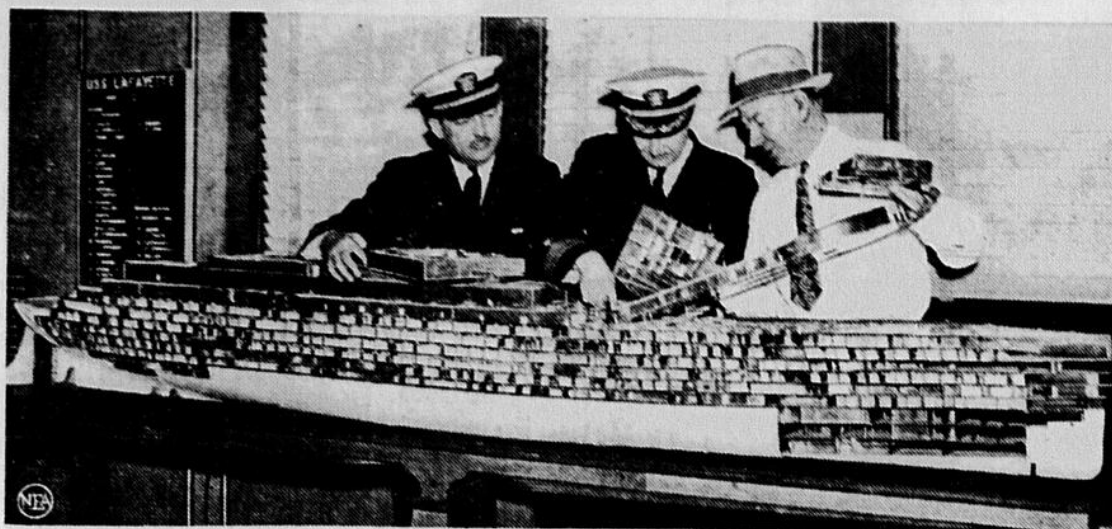

R. Wilson-Smith, who captured top honours in the putting tournaments three or four times last year, won his first event of the season last Thursday night at the Adult course in King George Park. Wilson-Smith scored a 93 for the 36 hole event. F. W. Dengate took the runner-up honours with a 96.

Another tournament will be held this evening on the course. The event will start at 8.00 p.m. Persons residing in Westmount are eligible for these tournaments which are weekly affairs. F. W. Dengate is in charge of the tournament committee running the tourney.

of waterfront activities. George Barker of the North Branch 'Y' will be the business manager of the camp. Mrs. Smee, wife of the resident director and Mrs. Barker, wife of the business manager, will also be one of the camp staff and will act as camp mothers for the younger boys in camp.

The advanced registrations for the camp is heavy so it is suggested that any parents interested in sending their boys to the camp contact the Westmount 'Y'.

MODEL GUIDES DIVERS SALVAGING NORMANDIE

Divers will study this transparent model of the capsized Normandie so they'll know where to go when they are under water. Officials in charge of salvaging the burned liner, now a transport, left to right: Lieut.-Comm. Carl Chandler, in charge of pier where ship burned; Comm. William A. Sullivan, director of naval salvage operations, and Capt. John I. Tooker, salvage officer.

Pupils Show Ability In Radio Broadcast

Clear and clean performances, singing tone, musical interpretation and accurate time were the chief features of the program broadcast by some of the pupils of Catherine H. Smith over C.B.M. on Saturday last, at 2.30 p.m. This was the fifth consecutive season for these broadcasts.

The following is a list of the performers, whose ages range from seventeen down to seven; they are all holders of one or more either distinctions, honours, prizes or, in two instances, silver cups: Colin Campbell, Alice Benett, Audrey Speirs, Viola Russell, Jane Benett, Charlie Grant — who accompanied a solo played by Larche Paul, violinist — Elizabeth Gould, Emily Anne Nasmith, Celia Benett, Derek Speirs, and Gwendolyn Gover.

The pieces played were by Rachmaninoff, Chopin, Grieg, Lemoine, César Cui, Gade, Beethoven, Carrol, and a duet.

"If I a Bird Could Be." The band played "The Woodchoppers and the Linnet" by Godard; and "Evening Bell" by Kullak was a duet on the glockenspiel with pianoforte accompaniment played by three little girl band members.

The results of this year's examinations have just been given out. Five out of the six entrants were in the honour list and one passed with good marks. Audrey Speirs matriculated in music with Distinction at McGill and also won the Highest Honours for Music certificate at the North End Hobby Show last March. Celia Benett won Distinction in Royal Schools of Music Grade II, and was also a winner in the Junior Music Section of the Westmount Hobby Show last April. Jane Benett and Viola Russell each won a Pass with Credit, Grade III, and Elizabeth Gould a Pass with Credit, Grade II, in the R.S.M. Jane Benett also received full marks in Theory.

Kinsmen's Coaster Classic To Take Place Saturday

For more than eight thrill-packed hours Saturday, coasters will roar down a specially-constructed runway on Park Row avenue east, at Trenholme Park, in the fifth annual running of the Kinsmen Coaster Classic—only Montreal soap-box derby, which is being held for the first time this year in the heart of western Notre Dame de Grace.

Held for the past two years in the north-east section of the area, and prior to that in the extreme eastern end of the city, the Kinsmen Coaster Classic brings to Notre Dame de Grace one of the most thrilling sports events of the summer season.

Interest is heightened in the event this year as the entire proceeds of the classic will be devoted to the Kinsmen Boys' Club — an organization operated by the Kinsmen Club of Montreal in Rosemount and one that at the present time boasts more than 100 members and another 200 adherents.

Vying for position in Saturday's heats and finals will be boys from Notre Dame de Grace, Verdun, Westmount, Hampstead, Rosemount and other sections of the city, many of them representing various boys' clubs and organizations.

On the speedy runway—where it is expected the cars will attain a velocity of more than 30 miles an hour—will be seen coasters of all types.

Low-slung and long entries will race side by side with stocky, though streamlined soap-box-on-wheels, depending on the individuality of their makers and drivers.

Availability of material too, will have quite a bearing on the finished product, and there is more than a whisper that the wartime rationing of certain materials will have a definite bearing on the appearance of the cars in the 1942 Classic.

And in addition to the romance of the racing cars and the repair pits which will be examined alongside the track by the general public throughout the day—a gala carnival will be staged by the Kinsmen in Trenholme Park, immediately adjacent to the course.

Here a thousand and one carnival items will be on hand to interest the general public and fill in the brief delays between the running of the various heats.

Members of the Kinettes group—wives and girlfriends of the Kinsmen—will be in charge of various refreshment and entertainment booths at the carnival while members of the Kinsmen Club will officiate in major capacities in connection with the running of the Coaster Classic itself.

Base of access to the site of the event and the pleasant situation of Trenholme Park has led the sponsors of this event to plan for a record turnout, and it is estimated that more than 5,000 will view the races.

Interest in the Classic itself, in the cars and in the drivers, started some months ago, even before the snow was completely off the ground.

Boys in all areas of the city began building trial coasters and taking them on trial runs. Then started the period of reconstruction—the adding or subtracting of this and that from the finished product in the hope that it would make the car rush down the runway just a little faster than its competitors.

And Saturday the dreams of some of the entrants will be fulfilled while for others it will be a day of brief disappointment but the birth of a resolve to "try again" next year.

Prizes include a mammoth silver trophy and replica for the grand champion, deluxe bicycles for the winners in each class and several score of other awards for runners-up.

Saturday will be a gala day at Trenholme Park. Cars will begin to arrive at their pits early in the morning and many families will bring their lunch and make a picnic of the affair. By noon the carnival will be under way and the majority of the preliminary heats will be started.

By 5 p.m. a winner will have been acclaimed, it is expected.

Pupil Of Children's Theatre Appears With Anne Neagle

Alfreda Wallace, talented young actress born in Westmount, takes the theatrical spotlight this week, as she is scheduled to appear here as one of the stars in Celebrity Parade tomorrow night, at His Majesty's Theatre, the Air Cadet League performance which will headline Anne Neagle and C. Aubrey Smith.

Miss Wallace, now nineteen years of age, has accumulated a great deal of experience and has come a long way along the theatre's success road since she first attended the Children's Theatre of Montreal, directed by Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters. When attending this school of dramatics, she was entered in the Quebec Drama Festival, winning high honors. The directors of the Montreal Children's Theatre recognized the possibilities of this young thespian, and in their performance of Queen Victoria,

Hollywood
GossipYank On Burma Road
Provides Thrills, Romance

Taking advantage of the newspaper headlines about China's famed Burma Road, the trail for supplies to the Chinese armies, "A Yank on the Burma Road," opens at the Westmount United Theatre on Sunday playing until Tuesday night.

Actually the Burma Road element only provides the background for an action romance story. It serves an admirable purpose, however, giving excellent atmosphere which is sharply realized in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture.

The performances are all good, particularly that of the leading man, a newcomer named Barry Nelson. Playing opposite Laraine Day in the role of a New York cab driver, Nelson gives a vigorous and punchy performance which should guarantee his being seen in many more pictures.

Miss Day does her usual excellent job in the role of a renegade flyer's wife who talks her way into a ride on Nelson's caravan in order to join her husband in Chungking, where the husband is held prisoner by the Chinese.

A Neat Climax

Nelson becomes the leader of a fleet of trucks traveling the Burma Road, following his single-handed capture of two killers in New York. Meeting Miss Day in Rangoon, he falls hard. The thrills of their trip come thick and fast, climaxed in a neat ending as has come from Hollywood in a long time.

Stuart Crawford, in the role of the flyer, turns in a fine job in his brief spot. Keye Luke is effective as Nelson's right-hand man and interpreter, and others in the cast include Sen Yung, Phillip Ahn, Knox Man-Yung, Phillip Ahn, Knox Man-

"RIDE 'EM, COWBOY"

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello with the Merry Macs and Anne Gwynne in a scene from "Ride 'em, Cowboy," which opens at the York United Theatre on Saturday playing for four days until Tuesday night.

George B. Seitz' direction adds enormously to the picture, Sam Marx was the producer, with story credits going to Gordon Kahn, Hugo Butler and David Lang.

STRAIGHT SHOOTER

Actor Eddie Norris, featured in Paramount's "I Live On Danger" for Producers Bill Pine and Bill Thomas, is one of the best rifle shots in Hollywood and has won cups and ribbons in skeet matches.

FASHION PLATE CROSBY

It took a lot of persuasion, but Bing Crosby dresses to the teeth for final scenes in "Road to Morocco." He wears a morning coat, striped trousers, spats, yellow gloves and a sky blue silk turban. The result is wondrous to behold.

BETTY GRABLE IN TECHNICOLOR!

Betty Grable, Victor Mature and Jack Oakie in a scene from the Technicolor production "Song of the Islands," which is now playing at the Westmount United Theatre until Saturday night.

AT MONKLAND UNITED SUNDAY!

Gary Cooper and Barbara Stanwyck in a scene from "Ball of Fire," which opens at the Monkland United Theatre on Sunday playing until Tuesday night.

BOGART AT KENT

Puts Gestapo on the spot—Humphrey Bogart holds up a meeting of enemy agents who have muscled in on his New York territory. Scene is from "All Through the Night," which starts Saturday at the Kent.

Two Stars Shine
In Snowdon Movie

The film version of "King's Row," one of the most popular novels of this decade, will be the new screen offering at the Snowdon Theatre commencing Sunday. Ann Sheridan, Robert Cummings, Ronald Reagan and Betty Field head one of the most distinguished casts ever assembled in one motion picture.

Vividly brought to life on the screen is this story of young people hemmed in by the stifling inhibitions and taboos of a small midwestern town in the early years of this century. Struggling to find happiness against the opposition of the seething undercurrent of gossip and backbiting, the strong and brave emerge victorious, the weak are submerged.

Two young men, and the two romances in which each becomes involved provide the central dramatic situations. The love affair of Robert Cummings, as Parris Mitchell, the gently-reared grandson of a foreign noblewoman, and his childhood sweetheart, Cassandra (played by Betty Field), meets a tragic end. He eventually finds some consolation and a promise of future happiness with Elise (played by Kaaren Verne). The other young man, Drake McHugh, who is portrayed by Ronald Reagan, is embittered by the parental opposition which Louise Gordon's (Nancy Coleman) family put in the way of their marriage, but finds his true mate in Randy Monaghan (Ann Sheridan), the right girl from the wrong side of the tracks.

No Dull Moments
In York Feature

There are no dull moments in "We Were Dancing," which opened yesterday at the York United Theatre playing until Friday night, with Norma Shearer and Melvyn Douglas co-starring.

This is Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's partial adaptation of Noel Coward's stage hit, "Tonight at 8.30," and it loses none of its sparkle or originality in translation to the screen. Robert Z. Leonard directed, and an excellent cast surrounds the stars.

Miss Shearer is seen as a daughter of royalty, penniless but game, and very much in love. The lucky man is Melvyn Douglas, also a scion of royalty decidedly on his uppers. Both of them are professional guests, living in luxury at the homes of

Power Scores In
"Son Of Fury"

In the five years that Tyrone Power has been on the screen, he's given many stirring portrayals—but his latest, "Son of Fury," the story of Benjamin Blake which opened last night at the Monkland United Theatre, surpasses them all.

Based on Edison Marshall's best-selling novel, "Son of Fury" has everything—swashbuckling adventure, action on the high seas, torrid romance in the South Sea Islands, realistic fights. The story is laid in the early 1800's, and depicts the adventures of a nameless urchin who must go through life battling the world for his birthright. It is the blazing history of a man who rises from stable boy to ruler of a South Sea paradise, and who deserts this paradise to claim his name.

"Son of Fury" marks another step forward in the career of Miss Gene Tierney, whose portrayal of the exotic native girl is her best to date. As the langorous Tahitian beauty, she makes it doubly hard for Power to return to his native England—and who would blame him for not leaving!

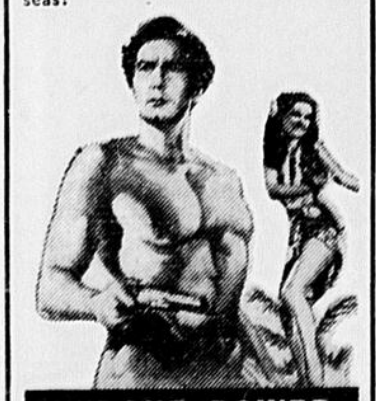

George Sanders, Frances Farmer and young Roddy McDowall complete the top featured cast, and each turns in a well rounded performance. Sanders is at his sinister best as the treacherous conniving Uncle, while the talented Miss Farmer makes a most appealing young English girl. Roddy McDowall follows up the splendid work he did in "How Green Was My Valley" with a remarkable portrayal of the youthful Benjamin Blake.

Also included in the impressive cast are John Carradine, Elsa Lanchester, Harry Davenport, Kay Johnson and Dudley

Diggs, John Cromwell directed from an excellent script by Philip Dunne, Darryl F. Zanuck produced the picture, and William F. Perleberg was the associate producer.

Hospitality Is Keynote Of Eastern Townships

The Eastern Townships, in the sunny southeastern corner of Quebec Province provide the vacationist with almost every attraction in the tourist guide. This vast holiday land, whose landscape ranges from peaceful farmlands to giant hills, lakes, rivers and valleys, has a number of well established vacation resorts easily accessible over Canadian Pacific lines.

There is something about the Townships that endears them to the visitor and native alike. They have a character distinctly their own. Their people are cheerful, industrious, and of chief importance to the visitor—hospitality. They are justly proud of their farms, whose prosperity is reflected by peacefully grazing herds of horses and cattle. The Eastern Townships are in short a land of plenty, and of absorbing scenic beauty.

The busy little city of Sherbrooke, a three hour journey from Montreal, might be called the "capital" of the Eastern Townships. Beautifully located at the junction of the St. Francis and Magog Rivers, it is the commercial and industrial centre of the district. Not far away lies the pretty town of Lennoxville with its widely known school and university.

To the summer vacationist the chief appeal of the Townships lies in lakes, rivers, hills and valleys. Lake Memphremagog, Massawippi and Brome Lakes are all well established summer resorts, their waters abounding in scrappy bass, pike and pickerel, and their surrounding woods rich in rustic beauty. Boating, swimming, sunbathing, and mountain climbing head the pleasure list in this lovely region of lakes and hills.

To Knowlton, at one end of lovely Brome Lake, summer vacationists come year after year at-

LAURENTIANS LURE TOURISTS

A delightful stretch of rolling country, flanked by high mountains, is characteristic of the Laurentian resort area, lying north of Montreal along the line of the Canadian National Railways. It is a district abounding in lakes and hills, summer homes, lodges, boarding houses and hotels an area where sportsmen may find fishing and hunting to their liking and where families from the city discover restful relaxation from the burden and heat of congested centers. The Laurentians are among the oldest mountains in the world and possess a charm all their own.

Although attractive at all seasons they are particularly beautiful in the fall of the year when their blue-watered lakes are set in the golden and red of changing leaf coloring. For a distance of ninety-three miles a branch of the Canadian National Railways penetrates this region, serving the summer colonies which have sprung up on the outskirts of quaint old-time settlements and on the shores of lake and stream. Many of these lakes, rivers and brooks will reward the angler with sporty speckled trout fishing, while at some points along the line, excellent sport is assured to those who prefer to battle small mouth black bass.

A large number of Montreals have summer cottages by the shore of lakes in the Laurentians, making the Tunnel Terminal a very busy station during the holiday season and particularly so at the week-end, when it is thronged with happy crowds anticipating a brief spell up in the hills. From Montreal to St. Jerome, the gateway to the Laurentians, there is a gradual rise of from 100 to 300 feet above sea level. From St. Jerome the Canadian National Railways cuts through one of the most rugged sections of the Laurentians until at Laurel, only 66 miles from Montreal, the height of land is more than 1,300 feet, the highest point crossed by the railway in that direction. Then there is a gradual descent to the terminus at Lac Mer, where the altitude is 701 feet. It will therefore be seen that the numerous waters are clear and cold, with rapid streams making ideal territory for fishing. Speckled and grey trout, bass and pickerel are fairly well distributed throughout the lakes and streams. The best fishing, however, is beyond the locations occupied by summer homes and resorts.

Laurentians Offer Restful Vacation

When collars wilt, when asphalt blisters and sidewalks bake under the scorching rays of July sunshine, Montreals can truly thank their stars for the Laurentians. For this glorious retreat, resplendent with lovely lakes, wooded valleys, and lofty mountains, lies literally at the great city's doorstep, and has never been more "get-at-able" than it is today.

Though the Laurentians cover a vast area of Quebec Province—some say nine-tenths—the Montreals are inclined to concentrate his vacation ideas between Shaw-

Quebec Province Pushing To Front With War Effort

Far from lagging behind, Quebec Province bids well to stand in the lead when actual deeds are counted in contribution to war work and service, according to figures that come week after week from munitions factories, military training centres, enlisting offices, government groups, and overseas divisions where French-Canadians are serving at the war fronts. The words of Hon. Adélard Godbout, Prime Minister of Quebec Province, emphasize these facts boldly: "In men, industries, agriculture, finances, the Province of Quebec's effort is stupendous, and we are proud of our contribution."

Showing the facts and figures of this war work, Premier Godbout in a recent article pointed out that "from September 1939 to October last, 4,177 men have voluntarily enlisted in the newly organized Canadian Navy, which would be equivalent (in proportion to population) to 165,000 men in the United States. In the course of the same period, 47,556 men joined the army and volunteered to fight anywhere in the world. This number would be the equivalent of 1,807,128 men enlisting in the United States Army to serve anywhere in or outside the United States."

Another recent testimonial of Quebec's work in the war came recently from Brig-Gen. George F. Vanier when he publicly deplored the tendency to "belittle the war effort of Quebec." Brig. Vanier cited the camps within the province where "thousands of young men, enthusiastic, eager for the fray, are being trained to take their place by the side of their brothers overseas."

He pointed to the war industries where munitions, guns and tanks, aluminum, chemicals and other vital war supplies are being turned out day and night. At one shipyard in the province, he emphasized, the 1942 program involves an outlay of $25,000,000 and calls for the construction of a dozen freighters of 10,000 tons and three ships of 4,700 tons, in addition to corvettes for the Royal Canadian Navy.

Proof of Quebec's increased manufacturing work for the war is again found in a recent report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association, which shows that for the first time in Canadian history the number of men and women engaged in manufacturing has broken the one million mark.

The work of French-Canadians on the war front, thousands of whom are on service overseas, is revealed in the record of Larry Robillard and Paul Emile Morin, first two French-Canadians to receive the Distinguished Flying Medal. Robillard has five confirmed victories and nine possibilities to his credit, while Morin participated in thirty-two bomber raids over occupied Europe.

On the home front of national defence, Quebec Province has given 1,334 surplus trainees to Canada's draft army for national defence up to the training period which began April 9. In the factory, at war on land, in the air, and on the sea, French-Canadians are working shoulder to shoulder with their fellow-Canadians.

Sky Ballet Held At Belmont Park

Five beautiful young ladies and a single man ascend a tall steel rigging towering more than one hundred and twenty feet in the air, and thrill patrons of Belmont Park with their daring gymnastics and graceful dancing in the sky. Billed as "The Hollywood Sky Ballet," this act is undoubtedly one of the finest, most sensational and pleasing offerings yet presented at the park and together with the many fun centres along the Midway keep patrons in high glee. "The Hollywood Sky Ballet" is being held over for another week and can be seen twice daily at 5 and 11 p.m.

Through special arrangements with the management of Chez Maurice, Miss Mitzi Green, who is currently headlining the floor show at this cabaret, will be at Belmont Park on Saturday afternoon as guest of the management. Picnics being held on Saturday include the R.C.A.F. No. 1 Wireless School; the R.C.A.F. No. 12 Equipment School; the St. Laurent United Nations School; the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Club; the Association Des Fonctionnaires Municipaux and the first of the Thift-Stop and Shop Kiddies Day.

CITY OF CONTRAST

A city of contrasts, Montreal, Quebec, shelters ancient and Araway village sections within the bustling limits of a modern metropolis.

bridge and Mont Laurier, that scenic trip of scenic paradise that follows the Canadian Pacific Railway line along the North River and beyond for a distance of almost 120 miles.

This special discrimination on the part of the Montreals is not without a sound reason. In the first place the great vacationland unfolds itself before the passenger's eye after only an hour's journey from Montreal; secondly the district is liberally supplied with good hotels, lodges, camps and other guest accommodation; and thirdly it includes the last word in Laurentian scenic highlights.

For the tired city dweller visions alone of the Laurentians are sufficient to lower his bodily temperature by several degrees. Their cool crystal waters, pine-scented woodlands and bubbling mountain streams loom up in refreshing contrast to the hot city streets, and start the office worker or viscerously marking "X's" on his calendar in anticipation of the big day, the big week-end or extended vacation in the high hills north of Montreal.

The Montreals can make his Laurentian vacation as close to or as far from the city as he desires. If he's planning one day in the Laurentians, he can leave at an early hour, spend a day fishing, canoeing, rowing, swimming — or, better still just loafing. He can do all this and still be back in time for his eight hours' slumber.

TRAINING COMMAND CONTINUES TO HOLD LEAD IN MUNICIPAL SENIOR SOFTBALL LOOP HERE

As each issue of the Examiner goes to press the No. 3 Training Command team in the Westmount Municipal Senior Softball League manages to edge its way into the top spot in the loop standing, and then for the rest of the week the Dodgers take over. This situation should be settled by this time, however, as the two teams met last night in a crucial encounter.

The No. 3 Command team is back in the top spot through the superlative hurling of George Scully. Scully pitched a no-hit game on Monday night to down the Royals 3-2. Not only did Scully hurl a wonderful game but he also won it with his long single in the last inning that scored Jack Keen.

from first base. It would have been a shame if the lanky hurler had lost this game as he had dropped a two-hitter to the Wireless School last week. Jack Keen, one of the league's leading batters, led the No. 3 Command's attack with two hits and scored the winning run with some smart base-running on Scully's hit.

The No. 3 Command lost their other game of the week when the Wireless School riding on a winning streak took them into camp 4-1. Although the winners only got two hits, one of them was Janisse's home-run with Martin on base and this was enough to win the game. Butler was the leading hitter for the losers with three hits.

The Wireless School won their other game of the week when they defeated the Radiolocators 9-7. Home-runs by Allan and Parker played a big part in this win.

The Dodgers won the only game they played in the week when they beat the No. 12 Equipment Depot team 8-6. Johnny O'Connell hurled for the Dodgers and won his first start of the year, striking out seven men. Don Durno's heavy hitting sparked the Dodgers win. Durno hit two home-runs and a triple in four times at bat.

First Anniversary Of Kent Theatre Held On Saturday

Opening Ceremony, Attended by Many Notables Including Fay Wray, is Recalled at End of First Year of Service

The Kent Theatre situated on Sherbrooke Street at Hingston avenue is celebrating its first anniversary week on June 20th. The management has planned a gala week for its patrons, something different for each day.

The opening of the Kent a year ago was featured by a ceremony at which many notables appeared. These included Fay Wray, Christopher Ellis, and Flt.-Lt. Hartland Molson. The West Hill High School Glee Club also took part. The gross receipts for the opening week performances were donated to the Wings for Britain. These receipts reached a total of over $3,000.

The management wishes to acknowledge the gratifying support that it has received from the public during the past year and confidently expects to continue showing the type of pictures which will warrant continued patronage by local residents.

QUEBEC HEAT WAVE IN 1818

(From the Quebec Gazette of July 30th, 1818.)

"Exceedingly warm—Such was the heat of yesterday, that the mercury, rose to the unexampled height of one hundred and one degrees. A gust followed in the evening, accompanied by almost incessant flashes of lightning, and continued roll of thunder, and cooled off the atmosphere with a fine shower."

Bnnmerangs Beat Panthers In Second Game Of Series

Jack O'Connor's Boomerangs, Earl MacDonald, Bob Harwood and Ken Black were the batting leaders for the winners while Ian Forrest and Ronnie George were the best for the Boomerangs. Ronnie George and Bob Lunny clouted triples.

Camie McFadden hurled five hit ball to beat the Panthers 31-2 in the final game of the Boomerangs-Panthers series. Ronnie George, Dave Binnmore and George Thomas picked up three hits each for the winners all of whom got at least one hit. McFadden was the only Panther who could do anything with McFadden; Burris got three of his team's five hits.

Once a fading art among French-Canadians, the making of handicraft objects has now been accelerated, due to the great demand for them on the part of interested American tourists.

Physical Fitness Through Exercise And Diet

This is another in a series of health articles by P. M. McFarlane, Physical Director at the Westmount Y.M.C.A.

Swimming has long been recognized as a most desirable and beneficial form of exercise. Participation in it leads to a general all round development in which every muscle of the body is brought into play. Although it does not produce huge muscles, it tends to develop and condition the muscles, nerves, heart, lungs, skin, glands and organs in general. Another desirable feature of swimming is that it offers an opportunity to teach a great many hygienic fundamentals, such as care of the eyes, ears, and feet; and methods of warm-up, exercise and recovery. Learning to swim develops qualities of courage, poise, mental control. Co-ordination between mind and body is developed. Learning to swim is one of the surest ways to prevent and reduce drowning accidents. A trained swimmer is in a position to help save the life of someone else. If the need arises. From the recreational standpoint, swimming is one of the most popular activities, and is open to all for a minimum cost wherever there is water. Many and varied social events can be centered around a swimming program.

For these and many other reasons, swimming has become the most popular sport of all physical activities. But swimming, like many other worthwhile activities of humans, has its health problems. During the past ten years considerable progress has been made in gaining the confidence of the public with regard to the cleanliness of swimming pool water. Ten years ago many health officials looked upon the public swimming pool as a potential medium for spreading disease. Today these officials may even be ardent advocates of swimming.

They now know that by proper control measures the purity of water in the pool may be maintained at the highest standards. Therefore, if one is in doubt as to the standard of cleanliness of a pool in the community, they should communicate with the local public health department for the information desired.

The most satisfactory method of disinfecting swimming pool water at the present time is by chlorination. If the residual chlorine in the water is properly controlled, the health officer, the pool supervisor and swimmer all are assured that the pool meets drinking water standards.

The Flying Squadron from St. Hubert defeated them 18-5 with all of the batters of the winners bailing out at least one hit. Lloyd Daniels did a little better than the rest with three. Smiley Meronek hit the only circuit clout of the game.

The Swans defeated the Wireless School 7-4 and got back in the contention. Hagarty on the mound for the winners held the Airmen down to five hits while Earl Kelly helped him out by banging out three hits, one of them a triple.

The Flying Squadron from St. Hubert finally broke into the winner's column this week when they staged a six run rally in the last inning of their game with the Radiolocators to win out 13-8. A home-run by Sevi-gny with two men on provided the necessary wallop to capture the game.

According to the league batting averages issued this week which include games played on or before June 12th, Johnnie Mahaffey of the Royals who has been setting the pace since the beginning of the season, is still in front with an average of .565. One of the No. 3 Command and Tommie Brennan of the Dodgers are right on his heels with averages of .520. Other men above the .499 mark are Lloyd Daniels of the Royals, .517, and Don Durno, Dodgers and Dumoulin of the No. 3 Command with .500.

The Royals are leading the team batting with a mark of .339 with the Dodgers in the runner-up spot.

Smiley Meronek was the leading hurler with six wins and no losses but his loss to the No. 3 Command on Monday evening will hurt a little.

This week's games:
Tonight: Wireless School vs St. Hubert; Radiolocators vs No. 12 Depot.
Friday: Swans vs Dodgers.
Monday: No. 12 Depot vs Royals; Swans vs Radiolocators.
Wednesday: St. Hubert vs Swans; Dodgers vs Wireless School; No. 3 Command vs No. 12 Depot.

Men's Tennis Tourney Is Drawing To Close

The Men's Open Doubles tournament on the municipal tennis courts is drawing to a close with one of the finalists already named. Dave Schwartz and Jim Macken have won their way into the final round by defeating Smith and Salter on Tuesday night in four sets 5-7, 6-3, 6-3 and 6-4. Smith and Salter who proved to be one of the surprises of the tournament gave the favoured pair of Schwartz and Macken quite a battle and set them back somewhat when they captured the first set of the match. Smith and Salter had previously eliminated Sid Quinton and Ed Spearing 6-2, 6-3.

Stu Beaulne and Donnie Mann will meet Les Smith and L. A. Tucker in the other semi-final match this evening. The winner of this match will meet the Schwartz-Macken combination on Monday evening on the Adult court for the title. All final and semi-final matches are three out of five set affairs.

Beaulne and Mann defeated Lovesque and Forget 7-5, 6-0 in the quarter-final match while Les Smith and D. A. Tucker eliminated Ross Miller and John Pierson 6-0, 6-0.

The Ladies' Open Singles event which is also underway is hitting its second week of activity in great style. The quarter-finals and semis will be finished this week. Two persons have already reached the fourth round of the tournament, Margot Corbell and Mrs. V. Andreef.

Results of the first three rounds are as follows: first round: Ethel Aikin def. Pauline Strachan default; Betty Wickham def. Marg Whitby, 6-1, 6-0; M. Maxwell def. Olga Pollock, 6-3, 9-7; Mrs. McNaughton def. F. E. Arama, 7-5, 6-0; R. E. Smith def. M. A. Zink, 6-1, 6-1; Mary Powers def. M. M. Scott, 6-2, 6-2; Mrs. Edwards def. E. GIRLS' SQUAD DOWNED 14-8 BY C.W.A.A.C.

The Westmount girls' softball team met their first defeat at the hands of another girls' team on Tuesday night when they dropped a 14-8 decision to the C.W.A.A.C. softball team. Previous to this the Westmount team had played only the boys' pee wee teams.

Considering the fact that three or four of the players on the C.W.A.A.C. team have had senior experience and that their pitcher was a leading hurler in the Montreal Ladies' Major Softball League last year, the local team did not do so badly.

Once again a bad inning spoilt things for the Westmount team. The military girls scored eight times in the last half of the fourth inning and this decided the result of the game.

Evelyn Munro on the mound for the C.W.A.A.C. team limited the Westmount team to five hits, two of them extra basers by Marge Forrest and Gladys Morgan. Jean Wigglesworth pulled off a nice catch in left field while Marg

ARGOS AGAIN TAKE MIDGET LEAGUE TITLE

Kevin Kennedy's Argos won the midget section title in the Westmount Municipal Baseball League for the second successive season on Friday afternoon when they outscored Dave Harvie's Beavers 6-3 on Friday afternoon at Atwater Park. This win gave the Argos the series three games to two. After losing the first two games of the series the Beavers came back to capture the next two but they were not equal to the task of winning the third straight game.

With Kevin Shea back on the mound for the winners, the Argos breezed through to win with the Beavers threatening in one inning only, the fifth. But this rally was cut off when Eric Swaine was tagged by Dick Beattie at the plate when he attempted to score from third base.

The winners picked up a run in the second frame when Light walked and then tallied on Kevin Shea's single. Another run came in the third inning after Kevin Kennedy doubled; he scored on a passed ball.

The Beavers got one of these back in their half of the third when Jim Macaulay walked and scored on Cornell Strachan's single.

The Argos scored three times in the fourth for their big inning. Light and Tubby O'Connell walked and scored when Kevin Shea came through with another important hit. Shea subsequently scored on O'Brien's single. The last Argos run was scored in the fifth inning when Bill Reade hit Light on the hand with a pitched ball and Light then scored for his third counter of the game on John Kennedy's double.

The Beavers tallied twice in the last half of the fourth inning when John Porter reached first on O'Connell's error and then scored on John Pierson's single. Pierson scored the other run on a passed ball. The Beavers' last effort to win the game ended when Swaine attempted to score on John Porter's single and was tagged by Dick Beattie at the plate.

"Tomorrow afternoon the Royals and the Beavers meet in the third game of their series at Atwater Park while the Bruins and the Bombers meet on Tuesday at Atwater Park to decide the bantam title.

Armstrong played a good game in the infield.

Pye, Munro, Clark and Ginn led the winner's batting attack with three hits each. Munro struck out six of the Westmounters while Dolly Thompson, pitching for the local team, fanned four.

The team played two more innings for practice after their seven inning stint was completed but no score was kept for the added time.

Next Thursday the local girls will meet one of the girls teams from the Verdun Ladies' Softball League, either Mansfields or Olympics. The Westmount team also hope to arrange a game with the Air Force girls from St. Hubert.

Girls playing on Tuesday night against the C.W.A.A.C. were: Pat Logan, c; Dolly Thompson, p; Marg Forrest, 1b; Marg Armstrong, 2b; Gladys Morgan, ss; Mary VanTangeren, 3b; Jean Wigglesworth, lf; Beverley Condon, cf; Shirley Thompson, rf; Meredith Millen, rf; Mary McGee, cf.

Snorts Equipment Given To Armed Forces Of U.S.

The Baseball Equipment fund, handled out of the National league office in New York, has already provided the armed forces of the United States with 80,000 pieces of baseball equipment — almost everything but uniforms and shoes.

The "A" kit consists of one dozen balls, three bats and two rule books. The "B" kit includes a catcher's glove, mask and chest protector.

Most men in military service take their gloves to camp or buy them at cost at post exchanges.

Throughout the big leagues fans have been asked to return balls hit into the stands. (Some minor leagues are doing this, too.) It is estimated that 1,000 dozen balls will be obtained for army use through this throw-back plan.

Sons Teach Father How To Play Tennis

Instead of "I owe it to dad" it's "I owe it all to my sons" in the case of the tennis-playing Ball clan of El Paso, Texas. W. H. Ball, coach of the Texas Mines netmen, has been credited with tutoring his noted tennis-playing sons — George and Russell. But it's the other way around.

The elder Ball learned the game from them in 1935 after they had become well-known in national tennis. And he became a college coach two years after picking up a racket for serious study.

MAPLE LEAFS, ROYALS WILL MEET SUNDAY

Burling Grimes' surprising Toronto Maple Leafs are due to provide the opposition for the Royals in Sunday's double-header at the Stadium. It will be the first Sunday appearance of the Royals in Montreal since late in May. The first game will start at 2 o'clock.

Rivalry between the two Canadian clubs has been intense. Smarting from three defeats administered to them in Montreal, the Leafs turned on Sukeforth's team on the Royals' first visit to Toronto, and won twice in two starts.

The Maple Leafs concentrate on pitching, fielding and base running. Latest averages showed them leading the league in fielding. Their keystone combination of Burgess Whitehead and Eddie Lelp has been sensational. Joe Mack provides them a good-finding first sacker. In base stealing they are far out in front of the rest of the league, with 63 to their credit. Bill Brandt, Nick Strincevich, Joe Sullivan, Shuman and Hallett have provided plenty of good pitching for the Leafs.

The Royals made only five hits in their last two games against Toronto, but since that time have done exceptionally well with the willow. Les Burge, besides assuming the league home-run lead with fourteen, also boosted his batting average tremendously. Stanley Rofek, recognized as one of the outstanding short-stops in the league, has been getting better almost every time out.

Gene Moore should win the award for being the most consistent player in the league. If there were such an award, Gene is well above the .300 mark. He is fielding his position excellently and as this is written, is tied with Jack Graham for runner up position in the Royals' home-run derby—Burge being first with 14, of course.

The Royals are within striking distance of the league lead. After Sunday's double-header against the Maple Leafs, Toronto will play at the Stadium Monday night, Tuesday will be open, with night games against Buffalo Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Ruffing's Wife Rewards Trooper

A state trooper's politeness won him a ball autographed by all members of the New York Yankees, it was revealed the other day, when Trooper J. L. Fuchs of the Georgia highway patrol received the souvenir from the wife of Charles Ruffing, whose name headed the autographs.

The trooper recently stopped a woman for driving too fast and politely warned her. She thanked him and asked his name. A letter from her and the autographed ball followed.

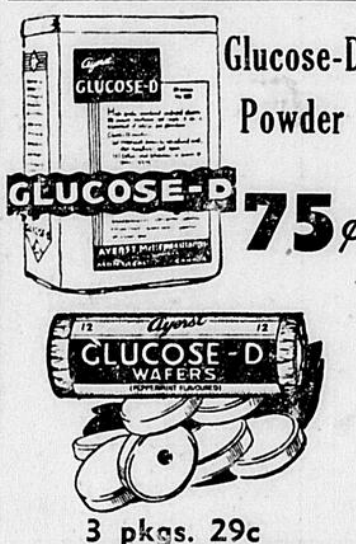

Thetford Mines in the Province of Quebec produce over one-half of the world's asbestos. The largest deposits ever discovered of this valuable mineral are situated in this region.
