THE RECIPROCITY "WILL-O'-THE WISP."

There seems to be danger that the Liberal party will be led into a self-deceptive attitude on the reciprocity question. It is clearly their will and intention to abandon Unrestricted Reciprocity. No one in authority now uses this discredited phrase. But there is such a thing as reversing the case of the dog with the bone, and dropping the shadow while keeping the substance. Outside of a small, if clamorous, section of their party, the Opposition leaders will find that the great mass of their following are, at heart, only in favor of such a reciprocity treaty as would not imply discrimination against Great Britain nor the surrender of the control of our tariff to Congress. Going outside of their own ranks, which they must do if they hope to win an election, they will discover that the independent, decisive group of voters are in favor of the protective principle, and that they would oppose any reciprocity arrangement which made impossible the protection of important home industries against American competition. These three conditions then must be observed in any reciprocity treaty which is to carry the country; and the average Liberal has not much stomach left for any policy, reciprocity or otherwise, which can bring only defeat. An untrammelled plebiscite of the rank and file of their voters would show that very few of them are so much in love with the notion of free access to the American market as to risk for it the danger of going into the next contest weighted with the disloyalty handicap of the last.

But the coming convention is in great peril of being committed to an indefinite reciprocity policy, deftly disguised by the "surmises" and "assurances" of unofficial commissioners to Washington, which, when stripped bare in the fury of a campaign, will be seen to present so many dangerous opportunities for the bartering away of the country's commercial independence that those who "shied" at Unrestricted Reciprocity will "shy" again. The Toronto Globe discusses the reciprocity question in a dispassionate leader, far removed from the cock-sure, cure-all tone of a year or two ago, favoring in general a liberal measure of reciprocity. It hopes better things from the Democrats than from the Republicans, and is inclined to credit to some extent Mr. Charlton's "opinion" that the treaty can be negotiated without ever raising the question of discrimination at all. It says:

> That is the opinion of Mr. Charlton, who has been in communication with William J. Springer, Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means of the American House of Representatives; Senator Voorhees, Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate, and John G. Carlisle, Secretary of the Treasury. Mr. Charlton says that the Democrats are willing to negotiate a treaty which must include manufacturers; that discrimination against Great Britain is not necessarily involved, and that there are a great many articles which Canada does not import from Britain which may be included.

Mr. Charlton should know the American people better than that. His contention practically is that they will open their markets wide to us, and ask only in return that we admit free of duty such productions of theirs as they now monopolize so far as our import trade is concerned; for the very essence of his scheme of non-discrimination is that we import them from no one else. This is hardly a trade to the Yankee mind. Then, again, under this arrangement, the Americans could only gain an inch on their present sales to us by killing out such of our home industries as we now protect solely against them. That is, Mr. Charlton proposes to be kinder to the manufacturer in Britain than to the manufacturer in Canada; for, in his anxiety to avoid the unpopular policy of discriminating against Great Britain, he would carefully preserve the Canadian market of the British manufacturer, while crushing out without pity any Canadian industries that might be included in the treaty. Mr. Charlton makes an awkward fist at loyalty. The need of practice is painfully evident. And it is useless in any case for the Liberals to pretend to expect an unreasonably favorable reciprocity arrangement.

The Globe protests that "we ought not to send our representatives to negotiate with their hands tied by instructions that they must agree to such-and-such stipulations and no other." Now this is precisely what we must do. If the Liberals pledge themselves to send commissioners to Washington practically uninstructed, except that "the independence of Canada shall not be jeopardized"—to quote Hon. Mr. Davies—then the country simply must not entrust the Liberals with power. If we cannot get reciprocity upon certain well understood terms, favorable to Canada, then we do not want it at all. The majority of us believe the late Mr. Blaine, who warned us that we cannot be "British and American at the same time." This sentiment, we are inclined to think, will underlie any reciprocity offer made us by an American Government; and it is absolutely necessary that any Commissioners who go to Washington shall be bound hand and foot to the necessity of keeping our path Britishward wide open and free from obstruction.

The Globe lets fly a Parthian shot at opponents of a sweeping reciprocity scheme by reminding them that the present tariff disloyally discriminates against Great Britain. This is a well aimed arrow, and cannot but bring down all those who refuse to aid in correcting this fundamental error. This same shaft is one of the deadliest in Mr. McCarthy's quiver; and most effectively does he use it. The present duties upon English goods are several per cent. higher than those upon American goods; and whatever other opponents of the U. R. fad may have done, we at all events have agitated for at least a levelling down. But the Globe will not be well advised if, under cover of this blunder, it leads its friends to commit their political fortunes to a policy founded upon a new disloyal discrimination, infinitely greater and graver.

THE Comptroller of Customs has ruled that olive oil shall be admitted to Canada free for the manufacture of "sardines" in this country. Why should he not now raise the tariff on cocoa-nuts to protect the home growth of that indigestible luxury? There is nothing like having a practical grocer at the head of the Customs Department.

THERE seems every prospect that the Chicago Fair will be all ready in time to compete with the usual autumn exhibitions.

L'Union St. Vincent.

L'Union St. Vincent celebrated the feast of its patron saint yesterday by attending high mass in a body at St. Henri Church. The procession, headed by band and banner, paraded along Richmond, Notre Dame, Seigneurs, St. James, Vinet, Richelieu, Atwater, St. Emelie, St. Augustin, Notre Dame and Gareau. Several houses were decorated along the route. Rev. Abbé Laforce, the chaplain of the Society, delivered the sermon laudatory of the Society's good work. After mass speeches were delivered at the Society's hall by the president and visitors from other societies.

Wit and Humor.

Taking one's life in one's hands is not to be compared with taking her in one's arms.

When a man persists in drinking like a fish he shouldn't complain if he finds his reputation growing scaly.

"The point I'm trying to make is this," remarked the brunette as she whittled desperately at the lead pencil. But none of the others could see it.

"Dear me," cried mamma. "What is the baby crying for?"

"He's mad at me, mamma," said Mollie, "I was trying to make him smile with the glove-stretcher."

Jones is now of opinion that what the belated husband needs is a keyhole as large as a horse collar, so that he can stick his head through it and call his wife to come down and open the door.

"I hear you are going to marry Miss Bullion. I should think you would marry Goldie Sterlinger, she is just as rich and much younger."

"Yes, my dear boy, but Miss Bullion's papa is much older."

Rollo: "Tell me, pa, is there any difference between common salt and chloride of sodium?" Mr. Holiday: "Yes, Rollo, a great difference. Salt is two cents a pound at the grocer's, while chloride of sodium is fifty cents a teaspoonful at the druggist's."

Mrs. Kerstyle: "I gave you more material to make this dress than I ever used before, and the skirt is hardly full enough to fit a churn. How does that happen?"

Dressmaker (shrugging her shoulders): Madam inseested on having ze sleeves in ze height of ze fashong."

Brown—"Hello, Smith! What are you doing here in Chicago with that lumber and mucilage?"

Smith—"Going to build a 'fair' hotel."

Brown—"But won't it fall down?"

Smith—"I don't care if it does; all guests pay in advance."

Mrs. Knight—"How did you tear your clothes so dreadfully?"

Johnny Knight.—Trying to rescue a boy from getting a nawful beating."

Mrs. Knight—"That's a good little man. Who was the boy?"

Johnny Knight—"The boy? Why me! And the teacher didn't get the best of him, either."

A captain was relating some of his marvellous adventures to a listening crowd.

"I had a narrow escape once," he commenced, "while we was taking in coals at Madeira. Me and my poor mate, Bill, had thrown off our clothes and was having a swim one morning, when all at once we sees a couple o' sharks making clean for us with open mouths. There was no chance, so I makes one dive down into my shark's throat. Poor Bill was cut fair in halves with one bite. But I outs with my knife and rips the beggar clean up with one cut. Not a scratch on me when I gets out."

"One moment, please," said the quiet Scotsman in the corner. "I thought you said you were swimming. How about that knife, then?"

"Oh, if you're so particular about a eightpenny knife, you tell the story yourself," replied the captain. "Besides, it wasn't my knife at all—it was poor Bill's."

A Daily Hint From Paris.

COSTUME WITH EMPIRE JACKET.

A Change in the Bill.

'Twas yesterday the violets came peepin,' creepin' out,
An' the sweet winds were a-blowin' all the blossoms roundabout;
An' the bird notes were a-ringin' loud from every rumpled tree,
An' the rivers were a-singin' as they splashed towards the sea!

But they've kinder changed the bill,
For the weather's got a chill;
The violet's gone back to sleep
An' the birds are still!
An' its freeze, freeze, freeze,
From the mountains to the seas,
For they say that spring's a woman,
An' she's mighty hard to please!

'Twas yesterday the flannel was too itchersome to wear,
An' we jumped into the duster for the balance o' the year;
An' the straw hat o' last summer come a-tumblin', rumblin' down,
An' the feller with the ice cart went a-gallopin' through town!

But they've kinder changed the bill,
For the weather's got a chill;
An' we're huntin' for the flannel
An' the fire fit to kill!
An' it's freeze, freeze, freeze,
With the thaw in your knees,
For they say that spring's a woman,
An' she's mighty hard to please!

DR. MACDONALD LOST HIS LIFE.

HE WAS RESCUED ONCE, BUT VENTURED OUT AGAIN.

A Drowning Accident in Cataraqui Bay Caused by Attempting to Pick Up a Derelict Sail-boat, Which Had Nearly Lost Four Persons.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

KINGSTON, May 22.—While four young men, named Dr. Hector MacDonald, Peter Bureau, Dr. Alexander Bureau and William Lyle, of Morrisburg, were sailing in Cataraqui Bay yesterday afternoon, the sail boat upset and all four went into the water.

Men on shore saw the accident, went to the rescue and succeeded in landing them on shore.

Shortly after MacDonald and one of his companions went out in another boat to pick up the upturned craft, when they were again upset. Before assistance arrived, MacDonald went to the bottom and was drowned, and his companion was nearly unconscious when rescued.

The unfortunate doctor graduated as an M. D., from the Royal Medical College, a couple of months ago, and was preparing to leave the city to practise. Lyle, his companion, is at present attending the summer session of the Royal College. Dr. Mac Donald was about twenty-one years of age.

A DISEASE THAT KILLS HOGS.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

BELLEVILLE, May 22.—A disease has broken out among hogs in this district, which the veterinarfes are unable to diagnose. Mr. James Farley Reeve, of Sidney, recently bought forty hogs in Toronto, and was feeding them at Mr. John Browers' cheese factory in the third concession. They were attacked with the new disease and died in a few days.

A number of similar cases have been reported in this section.

FAST RUN ON THE C. P. R.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

CALGARY, May 22.—The special train on which Mr. Vau Horne and his party are travelling reached here yesterday afternoon, making the run of six hundred miles from Broadview, Manitoba, by daylight.

MRS. FOLGER DEAD.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

KINGSTON, May 22.—Mrs. M. H. Folger, wife of Henry Folger, president of St. Lawrence Steamboat Company, died Friday afternoon.

NAVIGATION AT PORT ARTHUR.

PORT ARTHUR, May 22.—A southwesterly gale blew here Saturday and the ice has started to move seaward and to the bottom of the Bay. The fleet for this port will likely get through some time this afternoon or evening, and navigation may, therefore, be considered fairly open.

No advices have yet been received of the departure from Owen Sound of the Canadian Pacific steamers. They will likely leave to-day. On only one occasion has navigation opened later than this year, and that was in 1888.

The "Craigside's" Logs.

HALIFAX, N. S., May 22.—Further particulars received about the sinking of the steamer "Craigside," state that when she was nine miles southwest of Whitehead she struck some submerged object, supposed to be a sunken wreck, which injured her so badly that in ten minutes she had ten feet of water in the hold. The crew were in double danger of sinking with her, or being blown up by the explosion of the boilers when the cold water would reach them. They hastened to their boats, saving nothing but what they stood in, and from a safe distance watched the vessel as she gradually filled. In about four hours she sank with a great explosion which sent debris flying in all directions. The crew of twenty-two men, including the officers, safely reached Whitehead. The accident occurred a few minutes past midnight in a part of the Atlantic where, although soundings were made to the depth of seventeen feet, no bottom was found.

Mishap to Other Ships.

QUEENSTOWN, May 22.—The British ship "Lord Templetown," commanded by Captain Hawthorn, which sailed from London for Philadelphia with Bombay as a further destination, on April 12, arrived here on Friday after the loss of a number of the crew in a hurricane. The voyage appears to have gone well until the first of May, when the vessel was in latitude 45 north, longitude 45 east. The hurricane broke so severely on the vessel that sixteen men were sent aloft to shorten sail. The truss broke and the yard fell to the deck. Eight of those who had gone aloft were hurled into the sea and drowned, one was killed by the fall of the yard and seven were severely injured. Among those who lost their lives were the first mate and the boatswain. The sea stove in the main hatch and the vessel lost sails and yards in the storm. The ship ran before the wind until the hurricane abated, when the survivors insisted upon the captain making the nearest port, and the vessel accordingly came to Queenstown as fast as possible in her crippled condition.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The steamship "Roanoke," of the old Dominion Line, backed into her dock pier at the foot of Beach street at eight o'clock last night with a fire burning fiercely in her hold. A hundred men were at once set to work unloading the cotton freight and the fire boat "New Yorker" was alongside the steamer ready to turn on the water as soon as the hatches were opened. Captain Huller said that the fire was evidently one of spontaneous combustion. It broke out of the hold just before one o'clock in the morning, and the "New Yorker" at once began to throw water on the flames. The men of truck No. 8 were also called in and descended to where the cotton was burning. Four of them were overcome by heat and were rescued with difficulty. At 1.30 the fire was under control. The loss on the cargo is estimated at $10,000.

The Infanta at Washington.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The Infanta Eulalia and her suite called on the President and Mrs. Cleveland at exactly 11 o'clock on Saturday and were received in the Blue Room. There was little in the reception that suggested formality and the party indulged in pleasant conversation, which lasted 25 minutes, when the royal visitors withdrew. During the Princess' visit to the White House, she was invited by the President to dine at the White House to-morrow evening, and the Princess accepted the invitation very graciously. The President has invited the members of the Cabinet and their wives, the justices of the Supreme Court and their wives and some members of the diplomatic corps to meet the Princess at the dinner.

Bouchard Arrested.

QUEBEC, May 22.—A despatch from Escoumains says that Bouchard, who was accused of killing his child by attempting an operation upon it, was arrested on Saturday, fourteen miles back in the bush. Constables Simard and Buteau, who made the arrest, had hard work, as Bouchard resisted violently. He was finally handcuffed and taken to Murray Bay.

Immigrants Released From Quarantine.

WINNIPEG, May 22.—Three hundred immigrants, who have been detained at quarantine here for five or six weeks on account of the cases of smallpox discovered among them on their arrival, were released yesterday.

Mr. Wiman's Affairs.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The World says: Erastus Wiman's creditors think now that they will have their claims paid in full. Mr. King, Mr. Wiman's assignee, said that he had not obtained sufficient knowledge of the affairs of the bankrupt to make a statement. The assets of the firm of Wiman & Co. are approximated at $600,000. Among these are notes for the Electric Power Company, of Staten Island, to the amount of $150,000, indorsed by Mr. Wiman, who owns all but twenty shares of the stock of the company. Other creditors are said to be R. G. Dun & Co., $300,000; H. S. Archer, $50,000; E. A. Wood, $16,000; the Central National Bank, about $35,000; Ladenberg, Thalman & Co., $14,000; Chemical National Bank, $30,000; $5000 each to two Canadian and $5000 to two Staten Island banks. The assets comprise real estate on Staten Island, valued at $500,000; stocks and bonds of Staten Island Railway and Electric Light and Power companies, and stocks of other corporations, aggregating in value about $750,000.

QUEBEC CITY JOTTINGS.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

"Cataraqui," the magnificent residence of the late Mrs. Levey, is shortly to be occupied by her son, Mr. E. Levey.

Miss Oliver has returned to town from a visit to Montreal.

This promises to be an early season at the seaside, as already a number of people have passed through Quebec on their way to Murray Bay, among others Mrs. and the Misses Buchanan, Miss Connolly and Mr. Duggan.

Mr. Edward Holloway, who has been for the last two years at Hong Kong, in the employ of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is shortly to return to Quebec. Mr. Holloway was in delicate health when he left Quebec, but is now very much better.

A large "At Home" was given at the Citadel by Mrs. Montizambert, wife of Lieut.-Colonel Montizambert. The battery band discoursed sweet music, and dancing and tennis was kept up with much spirit. Amongst the guests were Mrs., the Misses and Mr. A. Dobell, Mrs. Beckett, the Lord Bishop and Mrs. Dunn, Miss Routier, the Misses Dean, Miss Stevenson, Mr. Macpherson, Major and Mrs. Wilson, Miss Caussault, the Misses Dunbar, Miss Thibadeau, Miss Lemoine, Capt. and Mrs. Forrester, Mr. Cook, Miss Wotherspoon, Mrs. E. Joly de Lotbiniere.

Cards are issued for an "At Home" at the Citadel on the 23rd inst., by Mrs. Wilson, wife of Major Wilson, of B Battery.

THREE HUNDRED BUILDINGS BURNED.

SAGINAW VISITED BY A GREAT CONFLAGRATION.

But One Life Known to be Lost—The Damage About One Million Dollars—Set by a Spark.

SAGINAW, Mich., May 22.—A little spark and a strong southwest gale on Saturday afternoon, between the hours of four and seven o'clock, resulted in the fairest portion of Saginaw being left a mass of smouldering ashes. The spark is said to have started from the chimney of the Briggs and Cooper factory, on what is known as the middle ground, and was carried to the dismantled mill plant of Sample & Camp on the docks, where there were a number of piles of lumber. Here it found rich food and in the twinkling of an eye the single spark had grown into a roaring mass of flames and started on its mad career. Thence the flames leaped to the east side, just below Bristol street, and north of the City Hall, where were located a large number of buildings, including Hose House No. 6 and J. E. Winkler's ice-houses. Eleven residenies on Tilden street and on both sides of Washington avenue down to Holden street were quickly licked up. Then the sparks were carried across the old bayou into the premises of the George F. Gross Lumber Company. The planing mill, lumber in the yard and a dozen tenement houses melted like snow. Next came the Allington & Curtis Manufacturing Company's extensive plant and Passott's old shoe factory, all of which were wiped out. Here the fire struck Jefferson avenue, and in an hour some of the finest residences in the city were in ashes.

The flames made a clean sweep north to Emerson street, where the fire continued eastward, south of and along Emerson street towards the city limits. It cut a wide swath on Owen, Howard and Sheridan avenues and other streets east. The Orphans Home succumbed early, but the inmates were all removed to places of safety. The patients were all removed from St. Mary's Hospital, which was in extreme danger for a time, but was saved. The fury of the gale carried the sparks long distances, and at 6 o'clock the fire had reached the planing mill, factory and lumber yard of E. Germain, which was destroyed, as well as a large number of dwellings in that section of the city. The excitement was at fever heat, and in many instances houses caught fire and were destroyed before the occupants were hardly aware they were in danger, and dozens of families saved practically nothing. The Fire Department labored heroically, but with little success. Fully 1000 men employed in the factories burned are out of employment, and hundreds of families are homeless, as about three hundred buildings were burned.

Vehicles loaded with household goods drawn by horses on a frantic run, were rushing in all directions to places beyond the reach of the devastating flames, and vacant lots were soon occupied by household goods. In many instances these refuges were unavailing, as property after being removed to supposed places of safety was found by the fire and destroyed. All the hotels in the city were pressed into service to remove invalids, old people, ladies and children to places of safety. The body of a man who perished, was identified as Robert Turner, aged 80 years. He was feeble, and resided with his daughter, Mrs. Charles Heward. When the house of the latter burned he wandered away and was found burned to a crisp. John Clark is missing. The total loss sustained is $800,000. The total insurance will aggregate about $600,000.

CADILLAC, Mich., May 22.—Terrible forest fires are raging all around here. The saw mill of Edward Malgeridge, four miles south of here, was burned on Saturday morning. The lumber camp of Louis Sands, near Lake City, was burned on Friday night, and four men were burned to death. Eight others are missing. The horses were all burned, and the camp is totally destroyed. A farm house near Tusin was destroyed, and the farmer, his wife and two children lost their lives.

Persia Much Disturbed.

TEHERAN, May 22. — The situation at Shiraz, the capital of the province of Fars, Persia, has grown worse since the people broke out in riot on account of the alleged forestalling of grain by the authorities. It is now reported that the bread question is really a pretext to cover the counter intrigues and jealousies of persons prominent in the disturbed locality who believe they can advance their individual interests by promoting public disorder. The soldiers who were sent to Shiraz to subdue the riot, could not resist the opportunity which the occasion offered for plundering on their own account, and they took sides with the rioters against the opposite faction.

There is said to have been a fierce struggle, the two factions firing upon each other and many were killed and wounded.

French to Blockade Bankok.

BANKOK, Siam, May 22.—It is reported the French intend to blockade this port. The Chinese, who constitute half the population of the city, are much disturbed by the report and are believed to be preparing for a revolt in case the blockade is enforced. The British residents have made a demand upon their government for a guard to protect them.

No Cholera in Germany.

BERLIN, May 20.—At a meeting of medical societies Friday evening, Prof. Virchow said the recurrence of cholera anywhere in Germany this year was improbable.

The Hamburg police will prosecute the Hamburg newspapers which stated that several cases of Asiatic cholera had been found in the city and its suburbs recenlty.

From Paris to Chicago on Foot.

PARIS, May 22.—The champion long distance walker Lardeaux, has announced his intention to challenge two competitors to walk to Chicago by way of Siberia and the ice fields and Alaska, the winner's purse to be 20,000 francs.

Woman's Congress Closes With an Accident.

CHICAGO, May 22.—A disastrous accident [illegible] the close of the great congress of women. A section of flooring, 30 by 20 feet in extent, forming an entrance to Washington Hall, in the Art Institute, suddenly gave way and fell to the ground, a distance of twelve feet. Seventy-five panic stricken women fell in a mass of struggling humanity and the cries of thousands of women already assembled contributed to the excitement that followed. Cries of pain and terror arose and from the collapsed section of the building came the most exaggerated reports of many persons killed and injured. After scores of people had rushed to the rescue and nearly four score of women had been extricated it was found that about eight of them had been seriously injured, but none fatally.

The members of the International Council of the Women's Congress have settled the cause of their difference in regard to the distribution of officers to the various countries. It was decided that England should have the presidency; America, the vice-presidency; France, one secretary, and England one; and the treasurership should go to Finland. Officers were elected as follows: Sady Aberdeen, president; May Wright Sewell, vice-president; Mme. Maria Martin, recording-secretary; Eva McLaren (England), corresponding-secretary; Baroness Alexandria Gripenberg (Finland), treasurer.

RECEPTION TO ABERDEEN.

Canadians in Chicago Congratulate Him on His Appointment.

CHICAGO, May 22.—The Herald says that three hundred Canadians attended the reception to Lord Aberdeen on Thursday at the Canadian offices on the Fair Grounds. He was received with many expressions of friendly feeling, the Countess being presented with an elegant bouquet of red roses. The Earl was introduced by J. S. Larke, the Canadian Commissioner in charge of the World's Fair exhibits, as the new Governor-General. He assured the Earl that his appointment met with the heartiest approval of the people of Canada. They almost considered him a Canadian by adoption, since his home had been among them for a time. His personal interest in Canada was well known and appreciated, and paved the way for a pleasant and successful administration. The agitation for annexation to the United States was directly characterized as of little importance by the assurance that the Governor-General would find the Canadians loyal to the throne. Mr. Larke referred to the part the Countess had taken in the Woman's Congress, and congratulated the Earl that he had so true and accomplished a helpmate in his new and dignified position.

The Earl, replying, assured the speaker and his audience that both himself and the Countess were heartily thankful for their very cordial reception. The fact was gratifying and encouraging and always to be remembered. He was not present as the occupant of the high office to which he had been appointed. Until he was sworn in he could not be regarded as holding the position. But having heard that the presentation of his name had been approved by the Queen, he was entitled to receive congratulations. He thought himself fortunate in being able to receive so many congratulations. He and his wife would not come to Canada as strangers, as they had already resided in the Dominion. This fact had intensified the interest with which he should return as the occupant of the honorable position to which he had been appointed. He was impressed with the ever-increasing importance of that part of the British Empire, and was glad to know of its loyalty. He gave his hearty concurrence to what had been said of the Countess, knowing that she was able to do more than her part.

Three cheers, at the Earl's suggestion, were then given for Her Majesty. Aberdeen and the Countess will return to Chicago in October.

Aberdeen Sails for England.

NEW YORK, May 22.—On Friday evening Lord and Lady Aberdeen arrived at the Brevoort House and sailed on Saturday morning by the "Aurania." A Herald reporter tried to interview the nobleman with the following result: I showed him a published despatch from Ottawa, the gist of which was that the Government is anxious that Lord Stanley, the present Governor-General, shall remain in office as long as possible in the hope that something will occur to prevent Lord Aberdeen's appointment. "Well, bless me, this is amusing," laughingly remarked Lord Aberdeen, as he read the clipping. "It is absolutely rot, but very funny for all that. Why, it forces me to assure you that my nomination has been cordially received by every one of political prominence in Canada so far as I can judge. Lord Stanley himself has most heartily congratulated me. But, there, I'm talking, and it will not do. You must excuse me." But if reticent as to politics, His Lordship was eloquently communicative on World's Fair matters, especially the successful establishment of the Irish village in which Lady Aberdeen is so deeply interested. "We are proud of our Irish village," said he, "and believe that it will work a great benefit to clever fingered girls of Ireland. Lady Aberdeen wishes simply to bring the remarkably clever handiwork of the Irish girls before the world so as to establish a market for their laces."

THE "WANDRAHM."

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

QUEBEC, May 22.—Mr. Simons, who went down on board the "Lord Stanley" to make a survey of the "Wandrahm," has not yet returned to town. The tug "Florence," with three schooners in tow, containing part of the "Wandrahm's" cargo, arrived here about noon Saturday.

LONDON, May 22.—The bitterness of the union dockers at Hull does not abate. Instances of the abuse of non-unionists multiply. The Dragoons and extra police remain on duty.

OTTAWA, May 22.—Mr. Thomas Kenny, agent for the McLaren estate, reports the drowning of two men on Monday in the Lievre river, fifty miles above Buckingham. Their names were Matthew Kearney, of Sudbury, and John Leclair, of Blanche. They were bound up the river in a canoe.

OTTAWA, May 22.—An order-in-council has been passed authorizing a refund of 90 per cent. on all duties paid on cutlery and tents imported from the United States for the entertainment of the thirty thousand members who are expected to attend the Christian Endeavor Congress in Montreal.

ROME, May 22.—Herr von Buelow, the Prussian minister to the Vatican, applied late Saturday evening for an audience with the Pope. It was granted on Sunday, although the Pope desired to pass Pentecost Sunday in absolute seclusion and rest. A matter of urgency appears to have been discovered.

CYNTHIA WAKEHAM'S MONEY,

By Anna Katharine Green,

AUTHOR OF "THE LEAVENWORTH CASE," "HAND AND RING," "THE MILL MYSTERY," "THE DEFENCE OF THE BRIDE," ETC., ETC.

BOOK II.

The Secret of the Laboratory.

CHAPTER XVII.—(Continued.)

"I don't understand you," she protested, puckering her black brows and growing very energetic. "I don't want to do it now any more than I have for the last twelve months. Only I am getting desperate. I am not one who can want a thing and be patient. I want Miss Hermione Cavanagh and her sister to laugh and be gay like other girls, and till they give up all nonsense of self-seclusion they never will; and so I say to myself that any measures are justiable that lead to that end. Don't you think I am right?"

He smiled warily and took her pail of currants from her hand.

"I think you are the brightest woman and have one of the clearest heads I ever knew. I don't remember when I have seen a woman who pleased me so well. Shall we be friends? I am only a solitary bachelor, travelling hither and thither because I do not know how else to spend my money; but I am willing to work for your ends if you are willing to work for mine."

"And what are they?" she simpered, looking very much delighted. Doris was not without ambition, and from this moment not without her hopes.

"To make these young ladies trust me so that I may visit them off and on while I remain in this place. I thought it was pleasant here before, but now—" The old fellow finished with a look and a sigh, and Doris' subjugation was complete.

Yet she did not let him at this time any further into her plans, possibly because she had not formed any. She only talked on more and more about her love for the young ladies, and her wonder over their conduct, and he, listening for any chance word which might help him in his own perplexity, walked back at her side, till they arrived in sight of the house, when he gave her the pail and slunk back to come on later alone. But a seed was sown at that interview which was destined to bear strange fruit; and it is hard telling which felt the most satisfaction at the understood compact between them—the hard, selfish, and scheming miser, or the weak and obstinate serving-woman, who excused to herself the duplicity of her conduct by the plea, true enough as far as it went, that she was prompted by love for those she served, and a desire to see the two women she admired as bright and happy as their youth and beauty demanded.

CHAPTER XVIII.

SUSPENSE.

The letter which Frank sent to Edgar described his encounter with Huckins, and expressed a wish that the Doctor would employ some proper person to watch his movements and see that he did not make himself disagreeable to the Misses Cavanagh whom he had evidently set himself to annoy.

What, then, was Etheridge's surprise to receive on the following day a reply from his friend, to the effect that Mr. Huckins had not only called upon the young ladies mentioned by him, but had made himself very much at home with them, having lunched, dined, and report even said breakfasted at their table.

This was startling news to Frank, especially after the letter he had written to Hermione, but he restrained himself from returning at once to Marston, as he was half tempted to do, and wrote her again, this time beseeching her in plain words to have nothing to do with so suspicious a person as he knew this Huckins to be, and advised her where to appeal for assistance in case this intolerable intruder was not willing to be shaken off. This letter brought the following answer.

DEAR MR. ETHERIDGE:

Do not be concerned about us. Mr. Huckins will not trouble us unduly. Knowing his character, we are not likely to be misled by him, and it amuses us in our loneliness to have so queer and surprising a person as our guest.

Aunt Lovell is very sharp and keeps a keen eye upon him. He does not offend us except by his curiosity, but as that is excusable in an old man introduced into a household like ours, we try to make the best of it. When you come yourself we will dismiss the intruder.

Ever sincerely yours,
HERMIONE CAVANAGH.

This letter was put very near Frank's heart, but it did not relieve him from his anxiety. On the contrary, it added to his fears, because it added to his mystification. What did Huckins want of the Misses Cavanagh, and what was the real reason for the indulgence they showed him? Was there a secret in their connection which he ought to know? He began to hasten his business and plan to leave the city again, this time for more than a single night.

Meantime, Dr. Sellick was not without his own secret doubts. Hide it as he would, he still cherished the strongest affection for the once dimpling, dainty, laughing-eyed Emma. Not a day passed but he had to combat a fervent desire to pass her gate, though when he yielded to this temptation he went by like an automaton, and never looked to right or left unless it was a dark night. His was a proud soul and an exacting one. His self-esteem had been hurt and he could not bring himself to make even the shadow of an advance towards one who had been the instrument of his humiliation. And yet he trembled when he thought of misfortune approaching her, and was almost as anxious as Frank about the presence in her house of the hypocritical and unprincipled Huckins. Had he listened only for a moment to the pleading of his better instincts, he would have gone to their door and lent his entreaties to those of Frank for a speedy dismissal of their unreliable guest, but the hour had not yet come for such a self-betrayal, and so he refrained, even while cursing himself for a pride which would not yield even at the impending danger of one so passionately beloved.

He, however, kept a man at watch upon the suspected stranger, a precaution which certainly did not amount to much, as the danger, if there was any, was not one which a detective stationed outside of the Misses Cavanagh's house would be able to avert.

A Child's Tear.

THE DRAMATIST'S STORY.

[From the French of Edouard Lemoine.]

In a Parisian green-room a new performer was complaining of nervousness. From some of her companions she received encouragement, but the majority expressed themselves after this fashion: "Such tremors are incurable. As nature has formed us, bold or timid, cold or ardent, grave or gay, so we must remain. Whoever saw an ambitious man cured of his ambition, or a miser of his avarice?"

Some members of the company objected to the fatalism of these observations, and one said: "If you ask for a converted miser, I can show you one. Here he is! I am one."

The man who said this was a popular dramatist, noted for generosity. His statement was received with ejaculations of "Nonsense!" "Impossible!" "Do you expect us to believe that?" "Indeed," answered he, quite seriously, "I speak the truth. I was a miser, although now, I trust, I am such no longer. If you care to hear it, I will relate to you the story of my conversion. It was effected by a child's tear." All present immediately crowded around him, and heard from his lips the following recital:

"In 1834," said the dramatist, "I had just given to the theatre of the Porte-Saint-Martin one of the most successful of my pieces. One day about that time two letters reached me by the same post. Both were from Marseilles. One was from a theatrical manager, informing me that he intended bringing out my new piece there, and that he desired my presence at the final rehearsals of the drama. With regard to remuneration for my trouble, I might make my own terms in reason. The second letter, a very brief one, ran thus: 'Monsieur, the wife and daughter of your brother are dying of want. Some hundreds of francs would save them, and I doubt not that you will hasten to visit connexions so near to you, and make arrangements for their present and future comfort.' This letter bore the signature of Dr. Lambert, of Marseilles.

"As I have already told you, I was a miser in the worst sense of the word. The physician's letter, far from moving me to pity, merely renewed certain angry feelings which had formerly existed in my mind towards my sister-in-law. When, some years back, my brave sailor brother, who had since been drowned, had written to tell me of his approaching marriage with a fisherman's daughter, I, in my miserable pride and miserliness, had replied that in marrying a penniless girl, I considered that he was doing a most foolish and degrading action. I was even wretch enough to advise him to break off the match, if that were still possible. My brother, like the honorable man he was, wedded the girl he loved. My sister-in-law, who was a high-spirited Breton, never forgot my letter, and despised its writer. When she lost her husband, and found herself in need, it was long ere she could bring herself to apply to me. But the sight of her only child wasting away from sheer want, had at last broken down her pride.

"As the engagement at the Marseilles Theatre seemed likely to prove a highly profitable one, I, as you might expect, lost no time in accepting the offer. I wrote off to the manager at once, and followed my letter in person with as little delay as possible. When I arrived at the principal hotel of Marseilles, I encountered there, in the act of enquiring for me, the doctor who had written on my sister-in-law's behalf. As I had not replied to his letter, the good man had said in his simplicity: 'He will be here in person,' and had looked for me every day. 'You have lost no time, sir,' said he. 'Doubtless you thought, and rightly, that did you delay, death might forestall you. Ah! I am indeed glad to see you!'

"I was completely nonplussed. My sole object in visiting Marseilles had been the professional one; but how could I avow such a fact to such a man? For very shame I could not do so. Accordingly, instead of going straight to the theatre, as I had intended doing, I walked away with the doctor to my sister-in-law's poor abode.

"It was a most wretched room. Yet the first object in it that caught my eye was a very beautiful one. Near the invalid's bed stood her little girl, with large black eyes, pretty curly hair, and a face whose expression was a pathetic combination of youthful brightness and premature sadness. At the first glance I could have taken the lovely creature into my arms; then I sternly repressed this alien emotion. [illegible] when he had spoken a few words to his patient, beckoned me to approach. As I did so the poor woman tried to raise herself. The mixture of sadness and pride upon her faded countenance told me plainly how great an effort it had cost her to appeal to me. Using the strongest plea that she knew, she pointed to her child with weak, trembling finger, and said in low tones: 'See here! She will soon be alone in the world.'

"Even this touching appeal produced (I blush to say it) no effect upon my hard heart. I answered coldly: 'Why give way to such fears? You are young; why lose all hope!' A less selfish man would have added: 'You have a brother-in-law also, who means to do his best for you.' But I said nothing of the sort. My only thought was how I might most easily escape from the threatened burden. The little girl, who had been gazing at me with wondering eyes, now came to my side, and said: 'Will you, please, sit upon the bed? Because you are too tall for me to kiss you if you stand.'

"I sat down, and the child climbed upon my knee. Her mother's eyes were closed, and her hands were clasped together as if in prayer. Unaffrighted by my black looks, the little one threw her arms around my neck, and pressed her lips to my cheek. 'Will you be my papa?' said she. 'I will love you so dearly! You are like papa. He was very good. Are you good, too?' My only answer was to unclasp her arms somewhat roughly from my neck, and set her down upon the floor. She cast upon me a glance of mingled surprise, disappointment, and fear, and a tear rolled slowly down her cheek. Her silent sorrow worked the miracle that her pretty, fond prattle had failed to effect. As by an enchanter's wand, the ugliness of my character, the utter brutality of my conduct, was revealed to me in that moment. I shuddered in horror and self-disgust, and yielded at once to my good angel. I lifted the disconsolate little maiden into my arms, and, laying my hand upon her head, said: 'Yes, my child, I promise to be a father to you; you shall be my dear little daughter, and I will love and take care of you always.'

"How happy this promise made my sister-in-law words fail to describe. Her joyful excitement alarmed both the physician and myself. Joy, however, seldom kills. 'Brother! brother!' she murmured; 'how my thoughts have wronged you! Forgive me!' Her gratitude stung my newly-awakened conscience more sharply than any reproach could have done. I hastened to change the subject to that of the sick woman's removal to a better dwelling. The doctor, with ready kindness, undertook the task of house-hunting, for which I, a stranger to the place, was not so well qualified.

"He found for us a delightful cottage in the neighborhood of Marseilles. There we three—my sister-in-law, my niece and myself—lived for three months. At the end of that time the mother passed peacefully away, leaving her child to my care, with full confidence in my affection. Marie has been with me ever since. Her joys have been my joys, her life has been my life. Do I not owe her much? That tear of hers—a precious pearl gathered by my heart—has been to it what the dew-drop of morn is to the unopened flower—expanding it for the entire day of its existence!"

THE INCINERATOR INVESTIGATION.

Mr. Richard Bolton's Clear and Concise Statement.

HOW THE CITY BOUGHT THE GREGORY FARM LAND.

Mr. Mann's Letter of Acceptance Ante-Dated Two Days.

The large general committee room at the City Hall was pretty well filled on Saturday afternoon when the investigation by a special committee of the City Council into the purchase of the incinerator sites was commenced. The evidence of Ald. Beausoleil, Clendinneng, Germain and Tansey, members of the Health Committee, and of Mr. Richard Bolton, president of the Montreal Loan & Mortgage Company, was heard. The latter made a very clear and distinct statement, and showed that when Mr. William Mann decided on March 28, about 1. p. m., to take the property at 12½ cents he had already sold it that morning to the city for 18 cents a foot. Mayor Desjardins presided, and there were also present, besides those mentioned above, Ald. Stevenson, Thompson, Smith, Savignac, Leclerc and Dagenais, members of the Committee; Ald. Bumbray and James, Mr. Ethier, Q. C., joint City Attorney; Ald. James, Messrs. G. Lamothe, Joel Leduc, — Clement, W. E. Cheese, J. C. King, A. Levesque and J. Monier. To expedite matters it was decided to put the questions to the witnesses.

Mr. G. Lamothe asked if he would be allowed to put questions to the witnesses.

The Mayor—"Whom do you represent?"

"Myself as a taxpayer," replied Mr. Lamothe, and he was informed that he might ask them through the chairman the same as members of the committee.

"Will the witnesses be sworn?" he next asked.

"As there is no specific charge we cannot compel witnesses to take the oath," replied the Mayor.

Mr. Lamothe thought that in that case the investigation would not offer any guarantee of truth and was afraid citizens who had intended to assist would not think it worth their while now.

"If the investigation is not a serious one, it is because the charges made are not specific," said the Mayor.

"We are ready to conform to clause 271 of the City Charter," continued Mr. Lamothe. "It provides for the investigation of facts, not necessarily of fraud."

The Mayor—"The only fact complained of in your petition is that the land was too dear. That is only a matter of administration."

Ald. Beausoleil, who was the first witness, expressed his perfect willingness to take the oath. And this sentiment was concurred in by all the others.

Ald. Beausoleil said that he was away during all the time that the negotiations were going on for the purchase of the Gregory or Amos properties. He had nothing to do with it either as an individual or as an alderman, directly or indirectly, or in any capacity whatever. On his return from Ottawa he had moved the reconsideration of the purchase, but was in the minority. His objection was that too much land had been purchased, in view of the limited means of the Committee. He knew nothing about the transaction. Nothing had come to his knowledge to make him think there was any fraud on the part of the Committee, or anything wrong, except that it was bad policy to purchase so much land.

Ald. Clendinneng was a member of the sub-committee appointed to select the sites for the incinerators, and he did not think they had paid too much. He had visited several pieces of land, and found objections to all sites but the Gregory farm. They had been seeking for an incinerator site for two years, but could not find another about which there was not some serious objection. He was, therefore, for that property than was asked. As to the size of the lot, he had always thought that an incinerator should be surrounded by vacant land. They wanted enough property to be able to deposit the ashes and not to be obliged to cart them away at an enormous cost. He had not thought of taking the land belonging to the Water Department because he knew what difficulties there are when it is sought to transfer a property from one department to another. He was, besides, convinced that the city needed all the land it could get. "That is all I know of the transaction," concluded Ald. Clendinneng.

READY TO PAY A HIGHER PRICE

"Were you interested in the purchase of the property," now asked the Mayor.

"Interested in what, sir?" asked Mr. Clendinneng.

"In the sale of the property?" said the Mayor.

"Has it come to that," said Ald. Clendinneng with a beaming face. "Well, I had no interest, personal, family or otherwise, directly or indirectly, except as an alderman anxious to do his duty to the city. I think the property was a bargain."

"Were you personally interested in the negotiations? Did you expect a commission or anything else?"

"Most solemnly I swear no."

Ald. Stevenson now commenced a series of questions. Indeed he did a large amount of questioning with all the witnesses. Ald. Clendinneng stated that after the fire at his foundry last summer, he went into the office of the Loan and Mortgage Company and asked the price of the Gregory property. He had taken no note of the transactions at that time, but to the best of his recollection they asked 15 cents a foot for the property. He did not know whether the Company owned it or held it under a mortgage. The sub-committee had made a report and submitted the letters offering five properties.

"Were those letters sent through the sub-committee?" asked Ald. Stevenson.

"They were sent both ways," replied Ald. Clendinneng. "The letter offering the Costigan property on the canal was sent to me; the others were sent to the committee direct."

"Then the letters were not sent to the sub-committee and were not submitted by it?"

"I will make my answers. I do not want them dictated by you; and I want no lecture either."

"Did the sub-committee authorize any one to purchase the land for the city?"

"No."

"How did you proceed to ascertain the value of the property? Did you consult any one?"

"I know the value of land in that section as well as most men."

"Was not the land offered to you for 12½ cents last summer?" here asked Ald. Savignac.

Ald. Clendinneng—"I have just stated—"

"Yes," said Ald. Savignac, "I know, but—"

"Well, allow me to frame my answer or I will not allow your questions," retorted Ald. Clendinneng. "I have just declared that, to the best of my knowledge, I was asked 15 cents."

"Did you make an offer?"

Witness—"I think I offered a lump sum. I don't know how many feet there were in all. Young Shanknow how many feet there were in The Violet Lacroix. But I never entertained the meeting this evening, and it dropped out of my

ATHLETIC

"The Garrison Club were the proprietors of the Garrison Club, I presume," said Ald.

The secretary of the Garrison Club states that he has a guarantee were issued, how did the tenderers know the day on which they should make their offer?"

"The thing was public enough."

Then Ald. Stevenson asked: "Did you have any communications with the tenderers?"

Witness—"I had I think with Messrs. Costigan and Henderson. I had none with Clement and Pagnuelo."

"Did you have any with Mr. Mann?"

"None. I swear again that I did not know who the proprietor was; and when I found out it was Mr. Mann, I was more than annoyed."

This closed Ald. Clendinneng's evidence, and Ald. Germain, chairman of the Health Committee, took the stand. He, however, said he knew very little about the transaction. It had been understood that the aldermen from the western wards should chose the site of the western incinerator. He had not even examined the contract of sale of the Bayard property.

Ald. Tansey did not know who the proprietors of the Gregory property were. He had thought it could be got cheaper. However, it was the cheapest offer.

Here Ald. Savignac announced that he

HAD MADE A DISCOVERY

In connection with the tender sent in to the Health Committee. As originally written, it appeared that the property had been offered at seventeen (dix-sept) cents. Now, however, over the word sept., and with a different ink, is written the word huit, which made it eighteen cents. It was not at all well done, in fact it had become somewhat blotted in making the change, that the members who saw it said it was difficult to make out what the price really was. "Another noticeable feature," remarked an alderman afterwards "is that the correction is of precisely the same color as that used in the City Hall.

Ald. Savignac said he would like this explained, but Ald. Tansey replied that the question had not been brought up.

"Did you not know the city had some property in St. Gabriel Ward, Ald. Tansey?"

"Yes," was the reply.

"Why did you not recommend that?"

"Because I was afraid it might be too near the settling basin."

"You think the Gregory property could be bought cheaper than 18 cents?"

"Yes, but it was the cheapest offered and we had no alternative; we had to take over the work the next day, May 1."

"You did not know Mr. William Mann owned the property?"

"I found it out afterwards."

"Why did you not make some efforts to find out how cheap it could be purchased?"

"I understood that some efforts would be made, but we had only a few days to decide."

"Did you see anybody in connection with the transaction?"

"No."

"Then, you did not know who Messrs. Clement and Pagnuelo were acting for?" enquired Ald. Smith.

"No," replied the witness.

"And you made no enquiry as to whom they were acting for?"

"No."

Ald. Tansey also stated that he knew the value of property there as well as anybody else.

Some further discussion took place as to the change of the word "sept" to "huit" in the tender of the Gregory property, but no further light could be thrown on the subject.

MR. BOLTON'S EVIDENCE.

Mr. Richard Bolton, president of the Montreal Loan and Mortgage Company, was next heard. He first asked that the following letter be read:

MONTREAL, MAY 20, 1893.

To His Worship the Mayor of Montreal and members of the Investigating Committee:

In reply to your notice officially requesting me to communicate any information I possess respecting the purchase of the Gregory Farm land, I respectfully do so in writing as follows:

On Saturday, March 25, about 9 p.m., Mr. Pagnuelo called at my private residence, No. 56 Drummond street, and as a land agent asked for refusal of Gregory Farm land for a fortnight. This I declined to give, but stated if he would name the party wishing to purchase, whether sold through Clement & Pagnuelo, or by the Company, we would give them 1¼ per cent. commission. He pressed for the refusal, but I again decidedly refused. Price quoted, 15 cents, English measure, I remarking that "that did not prevent them submitting an offer of 12½ cents." I had an interview two or three days after this with Mr. Clement in his office, who stated that the land was required for an incinerator site, and again requested refusal for ten days or so, which I absolutely refused. I think the day after this a letter was sent me to the Company's office requesting the privilege of purchasing at 12½ cents per foot, I think, for a week. I wrote in pencil at the foot of the note (which I returned by bearer): "No; will give refusal until noon Saturday." On Thursday, March 30, between 12 and one o'clock, Mr. Clement requested me to come to his office to close the sale of land. On my arrival I found Mr. Mann with Mr. Clement, he (Mr. Mann) having the letter in his hand on which I had pencilled my privilege of sale until noon Saturday. Mr. Mann stated that he wished to purchase the property. After some conversation as to terms he wrote an acceptance, dating the same March 28 in error (should have been March 30). I stated that the transaction would have to be confirmed by my Board of Directors. He answered he would hold me responsible to carry out the sale at once, as he had already sold the property that morning to the Corporation at 18 cents per foot. I expressed my astonishment, as I understood Messrs. Clement and Pagnuelo were negotiating the sale with the city for us at 12½ cents per foot, English measure. I am, yours respectfully, RICHARD BOLTON.

President Montreal Loan and Mortgage Company.

In answer to the Mayor Mr. Bolton stated that the Company had had the property for a number of years and had frequently advertised it for sale. They were offering the front lots at 10 cents and the balance or back lot at 8 cents per foot two or three years ago. Since 1891 they had asked 12½ cents, but when Mr. Pagnuelo came to enquire about it late at night, he and he asked 15 cents. Mr. Pagnuelo had in the first place mentioned the name of Mr. Withall, vice-president of the Quebec Bank, but when he saw Mr. Clement on the Tuesday before the sale the city was spoken of.

THOUGHT THERE MIGHT BE SOMETHING IN IT,

"Did you see anybody else pending the negotiations?" asked the Mayor.

"To my surprise, no," replied Mr. Bolton. "I, however, drew Mr. Clement's attention to the fact that Ald. Tansey was a member of the Municipal Committee, and he should know what was the value of the property."

"From what you know of the value of the property in that vicinity, do you not consider 18 cents a big price for it?"

"We have offered it to Warden King, Ald. Clendinneng and Forget & Co. for 12½ cents, and we never had an offer for it. We thought it a very good price."

"Were you offered any price?"

"No."

"Either by Mr. Clendinneng or Mr. Forget?"

"No. Last July or August I told Mr. Clendinneng that if he would make a bona fide offer of 10 cents I would recommend it to my Board."

"What is the lowest you would have taken for the property?" asked Ald. Smith. "Would you not have taken 10 cents a foot?"

"Why should I recommend 10 cents to the Board when I got an offer of 12½ cents," replied Mr. Bolton.

"Then Messrs. Clement and Pagnuelo were acting for you also?"

"Yes; and we paid them a commission of 1¼ per cent. I was at Messrs. Clement and Pagnuelo's office between 12 and 1 o'clock, and I called a meeting of the Board for three o'clock."

Ald. Stevenson then asked: "What hour did you get the offer?"

"About one o'clock," replied Mr. Bolton.

"And Mr. Mann told you then that he had sold it that morning to the city for 18 cents?"

"Yes." And Ald. Clendinneng's name coming up, Mr. Bolton continued:

"I knew of nothing to reflect upon Mr. Clendinneng as far as this transaction is concerned at this time. Mr. Clendinneng came in and asked me if it was true that he had been offered that land. I said 'Yes,' and that was all. That was last August when I told him that if he would make a bona fide offer of 10 cents I would present it to my board. Mr. Clendinneng did not negotiate with me, nor had he spoken to me about it since, until he came and asked me if it was true that I had offered him that land last year."

"Have I in any shape or form negotiated with you for that land for incinerator purposes?" asked Ald. Clendinneng.

"No, to my surprise," replied Mr. Bolton.

Mr. Mann here asked the Mayor for the privilege of asking a question, which was conceded. He asked: "Is it not a fact that you offered this land two years ago for 8 cents for the back lot, and 10 for front lots?"

Mr. Bolton—"It was on our printed list, which is still in existence."

Mr. Mann—"According to that, then, it increased in value over fifty per cent. in two years. You have nothing to grumble about."

Ald. Thompson—"Certainly not."

Mr. Bolton—"We are not. We are perfectly satisfied, I won't say but what we would have taken 10 cents for it, but when a man comes to you at 10 o'clock at night you would naturally suppose that there was something up."

Mr. Bolton here challenged either Mr. Mann or Mr. Clendinneng to deny any of his statements, but Mr. Mann had nothing to say.

"Jumping up 50 per cent. in two years is quite a different thing to jumping up 50 per cent. in two hours," put in Ald. Stevenson.

"Mr. Bolton is not to blame for getting all he could," said Ald. Thompson.

"We can see through the little scheme," remarked Ald. Stevenson. "The little scheme evidently being to obtain the refusal of that property sufficiently long to enable negotiations to be completed with the Purchasing Committee.

This concluded the proceedings for the day. The Committee adjourned till this evening, when the investigation will be continued.

SONS OF ENGLAND.

Church Parade to St. Stephen's Church.

Some two hundred and fifty members of the Sons of England Benevolent Society, representing every lodge in the city, attended Divine service at St. Stephen's Church yesterday afternoon. Before reaching the church the Society, headed by its own band, paraded through some of the principal streets. The service was conducted by the Venerable Archdeacon Evans, and the Litany was read by the Rev. J. H. Dixon. The preacher was the Rev. R. P. Taylor, of Kingston, who is a member of the order. He chose for his text the words of the 45th verse of the 17th chapter of First Samuel:

"Then said David to the Philistine: Thou comest to me with a sword and with a spear, and with a shield; but I come to thee in the name of the Lord of Hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, whom thou hast defied."

This, he said, was the splendid avowal of a brave and loyal heart, who had faith in God. Even as he spoke David prepared the sling, let the stone fly and the giant, Goliath, fell dead. It was a victory of righteousness, and it was righteousness only that exalted a nation. Such it was that had made the Motherland what she was at the present day, Queen and Empress among the nations of the earth. There was no country in which justice was so firmly administered or truth so fearlessly maintained. There were no braver men than British seamen and sailors, whether courageously facing death on a sinking ship or keeping at bay ten thousand Russians. In our own land it had been proved that English blood flowed in Canadian veins, by the North-West rebellion when young men from the banks and offices went out and endured many hardships. Patriotism was a great thing, but when charity, love and patriotism went hand in hand, as they did in the Sons of England, it was glorious, nay, divine. Their objects were to show mercy and help the fallen and to succor those in distress, not as charity, but on the grounds of a common brotherhood. The Society was founded as recently as 1874, and in 1885 there were only 33 lodges in Canada. To-day there were 172 lodges, with a membership in Canada of 11,000. The preacher closed by reciting the lines:

"Little deeds of kindness,
Little words of love,
Make this earth an Eden,
Like to that above."

The pulpit was draped with the Union Jack and the singing of the National Anthem concluded the service.

RAILROAD SCHEME REVIVED.

The Atlantic and Lake Superior Elect Their Officers.

An old railroad scheme was revived on Saturday afternoon in an organization meeting of the Atlantic and Lake Superior Ry. What the company proposes to do is to open a new route to Great Britain, and, if successful in acquiring the necessary funds, to offer active opposition to the Canadian Pacific Ry. By the company's charter it is empowered to issue debentures to the extent of $25,000 a mile equal in all to about $20,000,000. The capital is placed at $10,000,000. At the meeting on Saturday the officers were elected as follows: President, Hon. J. R. Thibadeau; first vice president, Col. A. R. Chisholm, New York; second vice-president, Dr. Bergin, M. P. for Cornwall; treasurer, Archibald Campbell; secretary, Charles N. Armstrong. The Board of directors are Messrs. A. F. Gault, Montreal; R. R. McLennan, M. P. for Glengarry, M. P. Davis, Ottawa, and J. N. Greenshields, Montreal. Mr. A. F. Gault is now on his way to England, and, it is said, will look over the grounds there so as to judge when the bonds might be advantageously placed on the English market. The route of the new road, if built, is to be from Sault Ste. Marie to Ottawa over the Booth, Parry Sound road, and over the Canada Atlantic from Ottawa to Montreal. The St. Lawrence is to be bridged with a five million dollar bridge, the charter for which was obtained a couple of years ago. The road will then go over the Montreal and Sorel, thence to Levis, and then down the Intercolonial and Baie des Chaleurs roads to Gaspé basin. It is intended to connect there with a fast line of steamships to the Old Country. At the "Soo" the road is expected to connect with a fast line of lake steamers running from Buffalo in connection with the Northern Pacific Railroad. Such is this big scheme as outlined by the promoters, and it is said the city will be asked, through Alderman Prefontaine, to contribute a million dollars towards the building of the bridge across the St. Lawrence.

Col. Chisholm Talks.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

NEW YORK, May 22.—Col. A. R. Chisholm, of A. R. Chisholm & Co., bankers, who was elected on Saturday in Montreal the first vice-president of the Atlantic and Superior Railway Co., said to-day regarding the new enterprise:

"The people of Canada and the Northwestern States have for a long time felt the necessity of more direct railroad facilities for an outlet to the Atlantic, and have recently obtained a charter from the Dominion Government, notwithstanding great opposition having been made to it by the Canadian Pacific. It is proposed to consolidate a number of lines either finished or partly finished, which will give them an outlet at the Baie des Chaleurs. This will reduce the total distance across the Atlantic to 1072 miles, the shortest known distance.

The men interested in this company are some of the most prominent citizens, not only in the Ottawa district, but also in Quebec and New Brunswick. The names comprise several senators in the Dominion Parliament and the present Mayor of Montreal. The Baie des Chaleurs Railway, now free from all debt, funded or otherwise, which is the extreme eastern outlet, is approaching completion, 80 miles of its 100 being finished.

An official, identified with the local management of the Canadian Pacific, spoke lightly of the new scheme, as if it was not to be regarded seriously. He declined, however, to speak further about the matter.

Vaudreuil Again Contested.

Mr. Bisaillon, Q. C., filed a petition this morning on behalf of Wm. Hendro, Vaudreuil, contesting the recent election of Mr. Harwood, M. P., on the usual grounds. Mr. Harwood is determined, as he says, to fight the matter to the "bitter end."

Church Parade.

The 65th Battalion had a church parade yesterday morning to St. Bridget's church where Mass was celebrated. The battalion, which mustered over 200 strong, was headed by both brass and bugle bands and looked very creditable.

An Episcopal Anniversary.

The first anniversary of the consecration of Mgr. Emard, Bishop of Valleyfield, will be marked by a dramatic and literary soiree in honor of His Lordship, at the Bourget College, Rigaud, on Tuesday, the 30th inst.

The Exhibition.

There will be an exhibition in Montreal this year provided the City Council gives the grant asked for. If not the directors of the Exhibition Company have decided to postpone it until next year.

TRADE, COMMERCE —AND— FINANCE.

MONTREAL WHOLESALE MARKETS

Grain.

The grain market presents no new features of importance. Shippers are busy handling through grain, and freights are active. A fair local movement is noted in oats and peas, while wheat is quiet and nominal. Other lines move slowly. Values are within the following range:

No. 2 hard Manitoba wheat	84c	to 86
No. 3 hard Manitoba	81c	to 82
Corn, duty paid	61c	to 62
Peas, per 66 lbs., in store	74c	to 00
do. do. afloat	75c	to 00
Oats, per 34 lbs., in store	38c	to 38½
do. do. afloat	39c	to 39½
Rye	59c	to 61
Barley, feed	41c	to 43
Barley, malting	52c	to 55

Flour.

Enquiry from outside points does not, as yet, show much improvement, and local dealers buy sparingly. A fairly brisk demand is noted in strong bakers and straight rollers for home requirements at about steady prices. Other grades are quiet. We quote:

Patent spring	$4 15	to	$ 4 30
Patent winter	4 00	to	4 25
Straight roller	3 50	to	3 65
Extra	3 00	to	3 25
Superfine	2 70	to	2 90
Strong bakers	3 75	to	4 10

Oatmeal.

There is no change in the meal market. A quiet business is doing at prices within range of quotations, outside figures being for small lots. We quote:

Granulated and rolled, per bbl	$4 10	to	$4 30
Do do per bag	2 05	to	2 15
Standard, per bbl	3 90	to	4 00
Do per bag	1 90	to	2 00

Feed.

The demand for mill feed is somewhat quieter, and values have an easy feeling, outside prices being difficult to get for car lots. Quotations range as follows:

Bran, per ton	$14 00	to	$14 50
Shorts, per ton	16 00	to	17 00
Moullie, per ton	20 00	to	22 00

Potatoes.

Dealers report a brisk jobbing demand for good stock at firm prices. Stocks are light, but there is no immediate scarcity. We quote Stars from $1.00 to $1.10, and Rose and Hebrons from $1.10 to $1.15 per bag of 90 lbs., in car lots, with the usual advance for smaller quantities.

Eggs.

There is no abatement in receipts, and stocks in store here are increasing notwithstanding the demand is active. Dealers continue to ask 11½c, but retailers are holding off for 11c which is about the basis for jobbing lots to-day.

Provisions.

The provision market rules steady, but the demand is quiet and chiefly of a local character, smoked meats and lard receiving most attention. Pork is inactive. The following values rule:

Canada short cut mess pork, per bbl	$21 00	to	21 25
Mess pork, Western, new, per bbl	21 50	to	22 00
Ham, city cured, per lb	0 12½	to	0 13½
Bacon, per lb	0 12	to	0 12½
Lard, compound	0 9½	to	0 10
Lard, pure Canadian	0 12	to	0 12½

The following were the receipts posted on 'Change:

	G. T. R.	C. P. R.	Canal.
Wheat, bush	26,200	1817	214,381
Corn, bush	.....	.....	37,933
Peas, bush	10,800	7460	.....
Oats, bush	17,800	11,109	.....
Barley, bush	.....	21	.....
Rye, bush	.....	2109	.....
Flour, bbls	1700	2085	.....
Meal, bbls	.....	357	.....
Ashes, bbls	1	1	.....
Butter, pkgs	224	139	.....
Cheese, boxes	4563	895	.....
Lard, tierces	.....	95	.....
Eggs, cases	779	231	.....
Ham, bacon, boxes	.....	90	.....
Leather, rolls	17	140	.....
Raw Hides	1	.....	.....
Tobacco, pkgs	56	14	.....
High Wine, bbls	105	25	.....

Cheese.

The cheese market remains practically unchanged. Receipts are light and the movement on "spot" is of a very limited character, while export enquiry shows little, if any, increase as yet. English markets are quiet and easy. We quote 9½c to 10½c as a fair range of values here.

Butter.

The receipts of new made butter are increasing steadily, for which the local demand is fairly active. The feeling is slightly easier in dairy, and roll, but creamery holds steady, old lots are irregular, and prices are wide in their range. We quote:

Creamery	21c	to	22½c
Township dairy	21c	to	21½c
Morrisburg and Brockville	20c	to	21c
Western dairies	18c	to	21c
Western roll, new	17c	to	20c

Honey.

A small jobbing business is doing in honey, and the market is well supplied. Extracted brings from 6c to 7½c, and comb 8c to 12c, as to quality.

Maple Products.

Dealers report a moderate enquiry for maple syrup and sugar, with receipts quiet ample for the demand. Values are about steady. Syrup, in wood, brings from 4½c to 5c, and 47½c to 52½c in tins; sugar ranges from 6c to 7c per lb.

Hops.

There is very little doing in hops, as brewers are pretty well stocked, and sales are confined to small lots on the basis of 20c to 21c for "new," and 14 to 15c for "yearlings." Round lots are nominally quoted at from 16c to 18c for new, 12c to 13c for yearlings and 6c to 9c for old hops.

Ashes.

The market is unchanged in tone, the feeling being quiet and easy. Foreign enquiry is very dull, but extra good tares might bring outside figures. Stocks in store are moderate. We quote:

Pots, first sorts	$4 35	to	$4 45
Pots, second sorts	3 90	to	4 10
Pearls, first sorts	5 40	to	5 50

Toronto Produce Market.

TORONTO, Ont., May 22.—Market dull. Quotations: Flour, straight roller, $2 90 to $3 10; extra, $2 65 to 2 70; wheat, white, 67 to 68c; spring, No. 2, 63 to 64c; red winter, 67 to 68c; goose, 62 to 65c; Manitoba hard, No. 1, 87 to 88c; do, No. 2, 85 to 86c; do No. 3, 81 to 82c; No. 1 frosted, 70 to 71c; peas, No. 2, 58 to 60c; barley, No. 1, 41 to 42c; No. 2, 37 to 37½c; No. 3 extra, 34 to 35c; No. 3, 30 to 32c. Oats, No. 2, 37 to 38c. Sales: No. 1 Manitoba hard wheat, at North Bay to arrive at 91c; oats on track at 37½c.

BRITISH MARKETS.

This being Whitsuntide and a holiday in England, we are without our usual market reports.

Liverpool Provision Market.

Messrs. Hodgson Bros., under date Liverpool May 13, 1893, report as follows: Bacon—The demand this week for all cuts has been somewhat disappointing, but there is an improved enquiry to-day, and, with light stocks and favorable cable reports, holders continue firm. We quote choice Staffordshire (lean on), 35 to 40 lbs., 56s to 57s; Birmingham cut, 33 to 35 lbs., 56s to 57s 6d; clear Staffords (lean off), 40 to 50 lbs., 52s to 54s; Cumberland cut, light, 24 to 28 lbs., 60s to 61s; 28 to 35 lbs., 56s to 58s; short clear backs, 18 to 20 lbs., 54s to 56s 6d; short middles, rib-in, 20 to 25 pounds, 56s to 57s; long clear middles, 33 to 35 lbs., 55s to 55s 6d; 43 lbs., 54s 6d to 55s; 55 lbs., 52s per cwt. HAMS are in good demand, and being still scarce, are firm and dearer. We quote: Choice long cut, 11 to 13 lbs., 71s to 72s; 15 to 17 lbs., 69s to 71s. Short cut, 14 to 16 lbs., 65s to 68s per cwt. PORK being still in very limited supply is hardening in price, and for choice quality of prime mess 90s to 100s per 200 lbs. is asked. LARD, in sympathy with American advices has advanced fully 2s 6d per cwt., prime western, in tierces, to-day being quoted at 55 to 55s 6d per cwt. CHEESE—There is little or no alteration to report this week. There has been a steady demand from the country for choice autumn makes at our quotations, with holders firm, especially for white. Medium cheese from 20 to 25 lbs. has also been in improved request, which has been freely met by holders, as this grade has been rather quiet for some time past. We quote to-day: Finest (September-October) made Canadians, colored, at 54s to 55s, and white, 55s to 56s; ditto States, 53s to 55s for colored or white. Common to medium grades, 4s up to 52s, as in quality. BUTTER—In without change, there are only a few lots of American and Canadian on the market, which are offered at 70s to 85s per cwt. We quote choice Australian in boxes, at 88s to 90s per cwt., also Irish butter—Cork firsts, 84 per cwt.; seconds, 83s; thirds, 81s, and fourths, 65s. FLOUR AND WHEAT—These markets have been quieter this week, the demand for wheat being on a smaller scale, but without any decline in values. Flour has also been quiet, but unchanged in price. We quote to-day: Canadian white wheat, 5s 10d to 6s 1d per 100 lbs; Canadian red, 5s 10d to 6s 1d; American winter red, 5s 11d to 6s 3d; spring, 6s 4d to 6s 9d. Flour — Extra States and Canadian, 21s to 23s per 280 lbs; patent, 24s to 25s; Canadian peas, 5s 5d to 5s 6d per 100 lbs.

Havana's Sugar Yield.

HAVANA, May 22.—The result of the sugar season, now practically ended, shows that the yield of the whole island will amount to between 750,000 and 800,000 tons, a yield considerably below the average total production.

Ladies Will Co-operate.

A meeting of ladies was held on Saturday afternoon at the residence of Mayor Desjardins. The object of the meeting was to make arrangements for the reception to be tendered delegates to the St. Jean Baptiste convention to be held in June. All parts of the city were represented and all the ladies promised to do all in their power to secure the efforts of Madame Desjardins. Nothing was finally settled as to the reception and another meeting will be held. Among the ladies present were: Lady Lacoste, Madame L. O. David, wife of the president of St. Jean Baptiste Association, Mesdames Baby, Taschereau, Jetté, Mathieu, Loranger, Ouimet, Dugas, Desnoyers, P. E. Leblanc, G. A. Nantel, Tassé, J. R. Thibaudeau, G. "Only the Scars Remain,"

Says HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., who certifies as follows:

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

Mother Urged Me

THE ISLAND BATH -OPENS AGAIN.

GOLFERS ARE FAVORED BY THE WEATHER.

Association Football Played Out in Force—Baseball in the States—Miscellaneous Sporting News.

Lovers of swimming will be delighted to hear that the Island bath will again be opened on the Queen's Birthday, and Mr. Darling who in past years has made the institution such a success will again be in charge. The following report will be presented at the annual meeting to be held in Mechanics' Institute next week:

GENTLEMEN,—In placing before you the seventeenth annual report of the Montreal Swimming Club, we have to state that although there has been quite a decrease in the number of members for the past year, owing to unfavorable weather at the commencement of the season, it is with pleasure that we can point to a larger cash balance on hand than we have had for some years, our outlay having decreased considerably.

The annual races were held on the 19th and 20th August, and were of more than usual success, great interest being taken in the championship races, 100 yards and 1 mile, both of which were captured by Mr. A. T. Kenny, of the Philadelphia Amateur Swimming Club, with one of our own members a good second in each race, Mr. A. H. Burton in the 100 yards and Mr. C. E. Benedict in the 1 mile.

Our bath was again opened to ladies on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays of each week, from 9 a. m. to 12 noon, and although the attendance was small, the privilege was greatly enjoyed by our lady members, and it is to be hoped a larger number will avail themselves of the opportunity this season.

There was considerable work done on the beach last autumn, a large quantity of rock having been blasted and taken out and the holes filled in with sand, adding greatly to the appearance of the bath and also to the comfort of our members.

The grounds were as usual made very attractive with plants, etc., and our buildings kept in good order.

During the past season the Executive held three meetings, which were attended as follows: President, Wilfred A. Huguenin; 3 meetings. 1st vice-president, R. Reinhold; 2 meetings. 2nd vice-president, A. H. Burton; 1 meeting. Hon.-secretary, Fred. G. Henry; 2 meetings. Hon.-treasurer, Thos. J. Darling; 3 meetings. Committee—C. E. Benedict, 1 meeting; H. R. St. Michel, 1 meeting; J. C. Allan, 2 meetings; Dr. R. Beaudry, 1 meeting; E. Favreau, 2 meetings; G. C. Jackson, 2 meetings; L. Terroux, 1 meeting. The whole respectfully submitted,

Your obedient servant,
FRED. G. HENRY,
Hon. Secretary.

CRICKET.

McGill vs. Montreal.

The cricket season opened in earnest on Saturday when the McGill College grounds was for the first time this year the scene of a contest between the McGill and Montreal clubs. These two old rivals appear as evenly matched as ever, and, although the M. A. A. A. men won rather easily, the result of the game must not be looked upon as indicating with any degree of certainty the relative merits of the two clubs. The men on both sides were clearly suffering from want of practice and the batting was necessarily affected on that account. The bowling and fielding were good, and the catch of Bell's, which disposed of Mackie, was very neat indeed. Lyman's 18, not out, was a very meritorious performance, and came in just at the right time, when things were looking bad for McGill. The score was:

BOXING.

Miss Fitzsimmons Really Seems to be No More.

New York papers publish the following addition to the notice of the boxing kangaroo's death, which has already appeared. The sad news comes from Chicago that the $5000 Australian boxing kangaroo will box no more. She died on Sunday night in a Wabash avenue barn, and the Chicago Times reporter says she expired with her face towards Timaru. She had a chill on Saturday. Sunday morning her owners called in a veterinary surgeon, who made a superficial examination, but not being familiar with the inside of a kangaroo was unable to do anything but look wise. The kangaroo was known as Miss Fitzsimmons and had been brought to the country by Joe Harris and Barney Allen, the Australian bookmakers, who have also in their string Martin Denny, the light-weight pugilist, and Tom Treacey, the welter-weight, besides a monkey that swims. Miss Fitzsimmons' style of attack was to balance herself on the bone of her tale and jab her adversary in the shins with her two long and pointed feet. These feet were armed with vicious claws, and had a way of shooting out and upper-cutting a man on the knees. She also used her short upper legs with some effect in clinches and while in motion kept them paddling like an egg-beater.

GOLF.

For the Burnett Trophy.

The Burnett trophy was the prize for which twenty members of the Royal Montreal Golf Club went over the links on Saturday afternoon. It was not by any means an ideal golfing day, but, at any rate, it did not rain, as it had all the week previous, so the players appreciated the sun. The turf was soggy, and the shots were not always as true to the mark as they were intended to be. Mr. John Taylor, the captain of the club, was the successful competitor, and will have custody of the trophy until it is next competed for in the autumn. Mr. Taylor's score was 95, plus a handicap of 2, making a net score of 97 strokes. The Rev. Dr. Campbell was second with a score of 108-8=100 strokes. There were three players tied for third place:

Mr. J. Meeker	109 - 8=101
Mr. J. Law	99+ 2=101
Mr. F. Stancliffe	119 -18=101

The fourth was Mr. Robert Archer with a score of 114-12=102 strokes, so it will be seen that there was some very close playing. This was the first time that the trophy was competed for. It was presented by Mr. J. Burnett, broker, and is a very handsome silver cup. It is urn-shaped and is beautifully engraved around the base. Two photographs are to be taken of the Club House and grounds and they will be engraved on the body of the cup. There is a blank space for the name of the golfer, who shall win it three times, and who then will become its owner. The trophy is to be competed for twice a year.

FOOTBALL.

Saturday's Association Games.

A large crowd witnessed an association football match between the Senior Scots and Thistles on Saturday afternoon. After a well contested game the match resulted in a victory for the Scots by 6 goals to 2. The second teams of the above clubs also played, the Thistles being the victors by one goal to nothing.

The Mohawks and Druids seconds played at Cote St. Antoine, the Mohawks securing an easy victory, taking 7 goals to 1.

A game between the Excelsiors and Heathers resulted in a draw, each team securing one goal.

Mr. R. A. Devine, captain of the Ashton football team, was presented by his colleagues in the C. P. R. with a handsome purse and illuminated address on the occasion of his marriage, which takes place to-morrow.

THE WHEEL.

Cyclists Beware.

Attention has often been called to the evil habit of "hunching," assumed by 70 per cent. of wheelmen, and the Medical Press comes out in the following straight-from-the-shoulder style on the execrable fashion:

"All pastimes doubtless have their physical debt which must be paid. The physical debt of football, if nothing more serious happens, is as often as not a broken bone; that of tennis a 'tennis elbow;' that of riding a tendency to bandy legs, and so forth.

"And it must be conceded that in a similar degree the physical debt of cycling is an ungraceful rotundity of the back, which bids fair, under present circumstances, to deprive the young men of the generation of any claim to that suppleness of form inseparably connected with an upright figure and a well expanded and prominent chest.

"Apart altogether from a health point of view, nothing could exceed the inartistic attitude which is now assumed by wheelmen trundling themselves about on "safeties." With arms outstretched and elbows ungainly projecting, with slouching shoulders, and backs curved to the arc of a hoop, with heads thrown back, causing the chin to assume somewhat a "prognathous" position—these are several features of the riders which attract the attention of the observant spectator at the meet of the cycling club.

"To say that such a spectacle is a melancholy one is by no means to exaggerate the truth. In the best sense of the word, the sight is a melancholy one, to witness the sacrifice of so much of that gracefulness which naturally belongs to the "human form divine" by the pursuit of a pastime which in all other respects has everything to commend it.

"But how will this perversion of physique end? The devotees of wheeling now include a very large proportion of the rising generation of young men, and this question is therefore one which can scarcely be ignored. In view of the fact that in process of time some defect of form originated by this means may come to be transmitted as an acquired characteristic of the race. Unfortunately the attitude adopted by cyclists is the antithesis of that which creates straightness of figure and prominence of chest, and yet both of these characteristics are inseparable from a gracefulness of form, a manly presence and an attractive personality.

"Under present circumstances a man can never look his best on a bicycle."

In conclusion the Medical Press gives the following hint to manufacturers: "It would seem that for many reasons manufacturers should put their heads together for the purpose of introducing a machine which would tend to make cyclists adopt an attitude when riding by which both health and physique would be improved to a greater extent than can be the case at present."

WATER POLO.

The Y. M. C. A. Club.

The first annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Polo Club was held on Friday evening. The election of officers resulted as follows:

Hon. President, Mr. W. H. Ball.
President, Mr. C. Irwin.
Vice-president, Mr. F. Laverty.
Captain, Mr. H. Bellin-Carter.
Secretary, Mr. W. Irwin, Belmont park, city.

Mr. H. Barber was elected captain of the Otters of the Y. M. C. A.

Committee, Messrs. Smaill, Sharpe, Sissons, Cook and Lindsay.

The Y. M. C. A. will be represented in the 100 yards, 400 yards, polo, diving and tug-of-war, on June 1st, at the Laurentian baths.

AQUATIC.

Valois Boating Club.

A large number of the residents of Valois and Lakeside are already out, and the boat-house is going to be opened on Queen's Birthday as usual with a bonnet hop, to which all members and friends are invited. The annual meeting will be held early in June.

To Beat the Lake.

The deep-draught racing yacht which Messrs. Sabiston and Stanton have been building during the winter at Carillon will be launched on Wednesday. The owners expect her to beat everything on Lake St. Louis this season. She has a standing keel, and will draw four feet of water.

World's Sporting News Condensed.

May 31 has been set apart as wheelman's day at the World's Fair in honor of the 30,000 bicyclists of Chicago.

Twelve members of the M. B. C. rode to Lachine on Saturday, going out by the lower and returning by the upper road.

The champion long distance walker, Lardereux, has announced his intention to challenge two competitors to walk to Chicago by way of Siberia, the ice fields and Alaska, the winner's purse to be 20,000 francs.

A general meeting of the Wanderers' Bicycle Club will be held on Wednesday evening, June 7, for the purpose of amending by-law article X, sec. 5. It is the intention of the club to ride to Belœil on the 24th, leaving the corner of Roy and Dorchester streets at 8 a. m. sharp. All wheelmen are cordially invited to join.

All the wild talk about the Brooklyn Handicap came to an end Saturday, when John Huggins, the trainer of "Lamplighter," said he had no charges to make against anybody, that he had never said Sims pulled the horse and that he believed whatever happened to "Lamplighter" was entirely accidental. It was unfortunate that "Lamplighter" lost, because he was the best horse at the weights and distance, but it was still more unfortunate that the honesty of the jockeys in the race should have been questioned.

The Night-Soil Contract.

When Mr. Henault was voted the contract for removing the night-soil it was stated that he would have an incinerator and all necessary appliances. There was only one incinerator between Mr. Mann and Mr. Henault, but only one could get the contract, so it was thought that one incinerator would be enough. Mr. Henault has the contract, but 86 has no incinerator. Mr. Mann was quite willing to rent his outfit, but he asked too much for it. There was the farm to rent and the incinerator to rent, and Mr. Mann insisted upon all these being taken if he sold his carts and apparatus. The servitudes would amount to an annual expenditure of about $2000. Mr. Henault declined to enter into such a bargain. Still he is going to begin work on Monday next. Mr. Henault has rented a farm near Sault au Recollet from a Mr. Curran and there the night soil is to be deposited. It is the plan of Mr. Henault to convert it into fertilizer. He has purchased carts and other needed appliances and will begin work on Monday. The superintendent of the scavenging department states that he will have all the lanes of the city cleaned by Tuesday night.

NEW METHODIST SUNDAY-SCHOOL.

The Corner-Stone Laid on Saturday Afternoon.

On Saturday afternoon the ceremony of laying the corner-stone of the Douglas Methodist Church Sunday-school was performed by Mrs. Thomas Jordan. She smoothed out the mortar with a very handsome trowel, which had been duly presented by Mr. Thomas Patton. Then the great stone, which was suspended over the spot, was lowered into position. The words that accompanied the ceremony were to this effect: "I lay this stone for the use of the Methodist Church, in accordance with its law and discipline, in the name of the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost. Amen." The coins deposited are taken from the corner-stone of the old building erected in 1875. Copies of the current issue of the STAR and other Montreal newspapers were also stored away, also sundry reports in connection with the church work. The service was largely attended. A temporary platform was stretched across the foundations of the new building at the end fronting Chomedy street. Chairs were placed in rows, and a small church organ was at hand to furnish an accompaniment to the singing. The service commenced at 3 o'clock. The Rev. Geo. Douglas, the Rev. S. P. Rose, (pastor) the Rev. Dr. Hunter, the Rev. Dr. Shaw, the Rev. T. S. Williams, the Rev. Wm. Hall, the Rev. A. C. Courtice, the Rev. Mr. Pitcher, Messrs. Thomas Jordan, Wm. Patterson, Thomas Patton and many other prominent Methodists were present.

Immediately after the laying of the stone Dr. Douglas delivered an address. He congratulated the pastor, the Rev. S. P. Rose, on the success of his ministry, and complimented Mr. Patton for his services in connection with the new building. Mrs. Jordan was, he said, the first lady to lay the foundation stone of a Methodist institution in Montreal. Mr. Jordan was the only man the doctor had ever heard quote Shakespeare in his prayers. The Sunday-School was commencing to take a foremost place in church work. Formerly it had been a subordinate appendage. This magnificent building would do a grand work. It proposed to teach children to uphold the banner of Christ, it would build up a Christian manhood. "When I think of the youth and young manhood lost from the Methodism of this city, it shadows my advancing years. Scores had been lost for the want of just such an institution as the present one. They would have been a source of financial and intellectual gain to us." Now the Methodism of Montreal would have this centre for Sabbath school inspiration.

The spot where they now stood would, within twenty-five years, be in the heart of the city.

The Rev. T. G. Williams also spoke and praised the activity of those who had been instrumental in erecting the new schools. The Rev. Wm. Hall also delivered an address and the service concluded with the doxology and a benediction.

The trustees of the new building are Thomas Jordan, Thomas Patton, George Young, Henry Allen, Charles Morton, C. A. Hanson, C. P. Heaton and William Hanson. The pastor, Rev. S. P. Rose, D. D. The Sunday school officers and teachers are: Chas. Morton, superintendent; Miss Caldwell, Mr. Alex. R. Hall, assistant superintendents; J. A. Blair, Geo. Munroe, secretaries; E. P. Heaton, treasurer; C. A. Jacques and R. B. Shaw, librarians. Teachers—Thos. Patton, C. T. Williams, W. T. Ware, A. Benn, W. Gaden, L. Legraw, M. Walker, M. Rosevear, Mrs. J. A. Knox, Mrs. B. Sawyer, Mrs. Hogle, Mrs. Hariss, Mrs. J. F. Junkin, Miss Hanson, Miss Keddie, Miss Frost, Miss Hall, Miss Bond, Miss Shaw, Miss Lynch.

Fire in a Load of Straw.

A habitant lost a load of straw, while driving up Dubord street, this morning. It caught fire likely from some one's pipe and the fire brigade was called out. The driver of the load unhitched his horse with all possible despatch. When hose cart No. 1 came up a stream of water was turned on and the fire extinguished. The load of straw was destroyed.

Errors of Youth.
SUFFERERS FROM
Nervous Debility, Youthful Indiscretions, Lost Manhood,
BE YOUR OWN PHYSICIAN!
Many men, from the effects of youthful imprudence, have brought about a state of weakness that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever being suspected, they are doctored for everything but the right one. Notwithstanding the many valuable remedies that medical science has produced for the relief of this class of patients, none of the ordinary modes of treatment effect a cure. During our extensive college and hospital practice we have experimented with and discovered new and concentrated remedies. The accompanying prescription is offered as a CERTAIN AND SPEEDY CURE, as hundreds of cases in our practice have been restored to perfect health by its use after all other remedies failed. Perfectly pure ingredients must be used in the preparation of this prescription.
R— Erythroxylon coca ½ (drachm.
Jerubebin, ½ drachm.
Helonias Dioica, ½ drachm.
Gelsemin, 8 grains.
Ext. ignatiæ amaræ (alcoholic), 2 grains.
Ext. lupulandra, 2 scruples.
Glycerine, q. s. Mix.
Make 60 pills. Take 1 pill at 8 p. m., and another on going to bed. In some cases 11 will be necessary for the patient to take two pills at bedtime, making the number three a day. This remedy is adapted to every condition of nervous debility and weakness in either sex, and especially in those cases resulting from imprudence. The recuperative powers of this restorative are truly astonishing, and its use continued for a short time changes the languid, debilitated, nerveless condition to one of renewed life and vigor.
As we are constantly in receipt of letters of inquiry relative to this remedy, we would say to those who would prefer to obtain it of us, by remitting $1 a securely sealed package containing 60 pills, carefully compounded, will be sent by return mail from our private laboratory, or we will furnish 6 packages, which will cure most cases, for $5.

THE RUSSIANS FEEL JEALOUS.

THEY WISH TO WIPE OUT THE MARK OF INFERIORITY.

Three of Their Great Warships Coming to New York to Show Off Their Naval Prowess as Compared With Great Britain.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

NEW YORK, May 22.—Some interesting discussion has been started here, by the remark publicly attributed to an officer of high rank in the Russian fleet now lying in the Hudson River, to the effect that Russia proposed to out-represent England at the port of New York. He referred to the much heralded fleet of three line of battle-ships of the Russian navy that are expected to arrive here in the course of the next month, namely, the "Nicolai," the "Admiral Nachimoff" and the "Pamyat Azova."

It was a matter of common talk here some time ago that the splendid appearance of the four English ships in the parade, their position at the head of the line, and particularly their wonderful night illuminations excited the envy of the officers of the other ships. The local papers were unstinted in their praises of the Englishmen. Our navy officials were recommended to profit by the example of the splendid equipment of the British ships. In a word, with one accord the palm was awarded to the Britishers without hesitation or qualification. That this humiliated the Russians in particular was evident from the frequent statements emanating from their ships, that if the review had only been postponed a little while longer Russia would have sent a fleet worthy of the occasion, the only reason for not doing so being that all her fine ships were frozen fast in the Baltic when the time of departure for America was fixed.

Naval officers here regard the determination to send the battleships at this late day, when there is no special reason for them coming, as an evidence of the Russian feeling and their desire to remove the impression of inferiority to Great Britain. The expedition will cost not less than $500,000, an expenditure not likely to be undertaken for mere fun. That Russia is anxious to maintain more than the ordinary relations of amity with this country has long been noticed especially where there is a question of British interest. To-morrow the two Russian cruisers "Dmitri Donskoi" and "General Admiral," will leave New York for Annapolis to attend the commencement of the exercises of the naval cadets. On the completion of the exercises, the two ships will return to New York and await the arrival of the Russian iron-clad fleet. The combined fleet will remain here during June and July.

THE ROYAL WEDDING IN JULY.

The Princess of Wales—Cabled Gossip.

LONDON, May 22.—The wedding day of the Duke of York and Princess May has been unofficially fixed for the first week in July, and the wedding ring is being made out of pure gold dug from the mines of Wales. The struggle at the Imperial Institute to see the betrothed pair was greater than to get near any of the other notables.

NEW YORK, May 22.—A paper has the following cable: The Queen left Windsor by special train Friday evening for Scotland. The Princess of Wales arrived in London Saturday morning from her prolonged continental trip. The careful manner in which these Royal ladies avoided meeting each other after their long separation is too marked to escape attention, and people are everywhere asking what it means. The general impression, however, is that an all round reconciliation and kissing will soon take place. Interest as well as sentiment requires the Princess of Wales to affect delight in her son's approaching marriage, even if she does not feel it.

Another London cable says: In spite of the big Chicago Exposition posters which stare at one everywhere on the Continent and throughout England, there is no shutting one's eyes to the fact that very few people, and almost none of importance, are going from here to the World's Fair. Leaving out those who have made exhibits and will go on that account, the number dwindles to minute proportions. The steamships are not leaving here full and the advance bookings show that this season will be no better than last, if as good. No important personages have said they will go, and as for the reigning monarchs in Europe not one has any intention of honoring Chicago with his presence. Enquiries have been made of every king and queen in Europe whether or not a visit to America would be a possibility this year. In every case the answer was a decided no.

A New York paper's correspondent in London made the following observation at the last drawing room: Here is a hint as to fashions in jewellery, gathered from the drawing-room. Diamonds, which for the past few years have been going out, are altogether good form again. They were seen on all sides Tuesday, the ornaments larger than ever. The Rising Sun of Persia is now a formidable design of much beauty, worn in the hair or on the front of the bodice. In several instances the lace was kept in place on the skirt with gems, and many old scarfs of rare lace were arranged around the bodice so that the ends fell to the hem of the skirt from the shoulders, where they were kept in place by brilliants. The hair is frequently dotted over with small diamond brooches and stars, and the lace lappets, now much worn, are fastened with diamond pins. Necklaces are becoming longer and more important, and jewelled pendants of various kinds are attached to rows of pearls, which are becoming more the fashion, especially where interthreaded with pink coral or the favorite turquoise. Earrings have quite returned to favor, and are much worn by possessors of diamonds. Any other kind is out of date. Bracelets are worn over the long gloves, but mostly of a slender make. All massive jewellery is out of fashion.

THE "WANDRAHM'S" POSITION.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

QUEBEC, May 22.—The three schooners containing part of the SS. "Wandrahm's" cargo which arrived in port on Saturday, and four more which arrived up this morning, all left for Montreal this afternoon in tow of the "Florence." People arriving here from the scene of the wreck, report that all the dry portion of the cargo has been discharged into schooners. Mr. Davie has placed his pumps on board the "Wandrahm," and as soon as she is clear of water, the remaining portion of the cargo will be discharged. The engine room was full of water and all the holds were partially filled from that room. When all the cargo shall have been discharged the steamer will be floated and brought up to Quebec. The work of discharging the cargo is going on rapidly. Besides the Quebec ship laborers engaged taking out the cargo, are a number of men from Grosse Isle.

MISS WASSON DROWNED.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

HAWKESBURY, Ont., May 22.—A drowning accident occurred here on Saturday afternoon, when Miss Katie Wasson, a bright girl of 15, lost her life. She was out rowing after dinner, and the boat capsized and she was carried away by the current.

In spite of valiant efforts made by an eight-year-old boy named Morrison, she was drowned. The body was recovered shortly after.

The Largest Spool Mill Burned.

PORTLAND, Me., May 22.—The spool mill of J. W. Bennett, at Gilead, was burned yesterday. It was the largest mill of the kind in the world and the loss is heavy.

Harvard's New Star Finder.

BOSTON, Mass., May 22.—Prof. Pickering, Harvard, was interviewed yesterday on newly completed Bruce photographic telescope, which is to be sent to Arequipa, Peru. He said the telescope, which will make a complete sidereal map every year, is more powerful as a star finder than any other instrument in the world. Prof. Pickering also said the new telescope marks a distinct departure in astronomy, and will enable astronomers to make many new discoveries as well as radical changes in present astronomical data.

LEON CARRIER'S SWINDLE.

How He "Made" $30,000 and Disappeared With It.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

QUEBEC, May 22.—The whereabouts of Leon M. Carrier, the missing commission merchant of this city, are yet unknown. But some new facts about his transactions are coming to light. He is a young man, about 25 years of age, and appeared to be doing a good business here. He purchased from millers in Ontario and sold in Quebec or took orders from local dealers. He lost some money in speculation in the Chicago markets.

About two weeks ago, he visited Ontario and purchased, it appears about fifty car loads of flour and grain. Upon his return to this city he called upon most of the flour and grain merchants and told them that he had purchased at great advantage in Ontario, as the merchants in that province were demoralized with the state of trade. As he was offering at 2 to 2½ per cent. below the current market prices he did not have much trouble in making sales. A few days after his arrival large shipments of flour, grain and seed arrived here, but as the goods had not been paid for they were not shipped to Carrier's order but to that of the banks, viz., the Merchants, the Quebec, the Montreal, Union and National.

Nevertheless without the production of the bills of lading, Carrier had no trouble in having the goods delivered by the Canadian Pacific Railway delivery clerk. The cars were unloaded and their contents delivered to the purchasers, who, not having the slightest suspicions of the transactions, paid Carrier and the latter, after having collected about $30,000, took his departure by the Canadian Pacific Railway 10.30 p. m. train Wednesday, May 10.

Before leaving he had told some of his customers that other cars would arrive in a few days, but that he had to go to Cobourg, where he was summoned as a witness. His wife went to see him off at the train, expecting to see him back in a few days. He was next heard from in New York, where, on Monday last, he wrote to several of his friends here giving them such information as to his affairs as he said he hoped would prevent them losing anything by him. While in New York, he also drew upon a leading firm here for $800, but as the firm owed him nothing the draft was not acknowledged. In the meantime the banks are holding on to their bills of lading.

On Sunday Observance.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—In the Presbyterian General Assembly to-day the committee on Sabbath Observance recommended the adoption of a resolution, setting forth

That the Assembly expresses its profound gratitude to Almighty God for the success of the effort to secure in our national legislature a prohibition of Sunday opening at the Columbian Exposition, and its appreciation of the action of Congress in deciding, by so large a majority, to continue the time honored course of the American people in doing reverence to the Lord's day. It joins the whole church in hearty thanksgiving that we have been spared the humiliation, as a Christian nation, of a public sanction of the Sunday opening of the World's Fair; and it hereby voices, what it believes to be the well-nigh unanimous judgment of the church it represents, in declaring that any attempt after this public and official expression of the nation's will, to open the gates of the Exhibition on the Sabbath, would be a gross affront to the Christian conscience and a flagrant breach of faith.

The Late Mr. Acer.

On Saturday a meeting of live stock men was held to pass a resolution of condolence on the death of the late Mr. C. M. Acer. Among those present were: R. Bickerdike, Nathan Kennedy, J. H. Smith, W. Cameron, C. Coughlin, John Crowe, N. Bickerdike, W. W. Craig, N. Telfer, John Strachan, M. Green, W. Cunningham and others. The following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That this meeting of cattle men assembled in Montreal has heard with deep regret of the death, at a comparatively early age, of C. M. Acer, president of the Montreal Stock Yards Company, and desire to place on record their high appreciation of the very able services so readily rendered by the deceased to the cattle trade of the Dominion of Canada, and more particularly to all matters relating to the cattle trade of the port of Montreal, his sterling business qualities endearing him to all he came in contact with.

A copy of the resolution will be sent to Mrs. Acer.

The Removal of Night Soil.

Mr. Henault will begin the removal of night soil to-morrow; he intended to begin to-day, but is not ready to do so. He will begin to-morrow with two waggons, and will add one each day until the number reaches twelve; that is, he will add more waggons as soon as they are finished by the maker. Each one costs $330 besides the tubs, all of which are new. The night soil will be drawn to the Curran farm, near Sault au Recollet, and in time an incinerator will be built there. The foundation will be laid to-morrow and the incinerator will be built at a cost of $4000.

Almost Suffocated.

When Sergeant Beauregard was patrolling Ontario street last night he noticed smoke issuing from a Chinese laundry near the corner of Plessis street. Constables Cote and Lemieux, who accompanied the sergeant were despatched to the nearest fire station and in the meantime Beauregard broke open the door and found a Chinaman almost suffocated in his bed. He was at once taken out and resuscitated, after which he was looked after by a fellow-countryman. The fire was soon extinguished.

St. Anne's Boating Club.

The committee of the St. Anne's Boating Club met this afternoon at the office of Messrs. Grier & Mudge, St. Francois Xavier street. After the close of the annual meeting for the election of officers, etc., to be held at the Club House, St. Anne's, on June 3, a special meeting will take place. This will be for the purpose of considering certain amendments to the by-laws of the Club. The Committee have decided to hold the annual regatta at Ste. Anne's on Saturday, July 15.

Expropriation Matters.

The Notre Dame street Expropriation Commissioners have heard evidence respecting the amount of damages sustained by Costigan & Co., dealers in coal. The witnesses on behalf of the proprietor assessed the damages at $3600; those called by the city thought $330 would pay the damages sustained by reason of the widening of the street. This afternoon the Commissioners in charge of the annual expropriations will begin the hearing of evidence in the case of the Montreal Board of Trade for property on St. Peter street.

No Intention to Defraud.

In the case of George Esplin versus John R. McLaren, Judge Gill has ordered the liberation of defendant who had been arrested on capias on the ground that he was secreting his property, etc. The court held that defendant's action in selling portions of his property before departing for Burlington, Vt., where he had secured employment, after having failed to secure any here, could not be looked upon as evidence of any intention to defraud his creditors.

The Quebec Loan.

Premier Taillon this morning denied the stories published that Hon. John S. Hall, Provincial Treasurer, had failed to negotiate the Quebec loan. Mr. Hall, he said, would no doubt experience some difficulty in raising the loan owing to the tightness of the money market consequent on the recent crash in New York and the still more serious financial troubles in Australia. They had, however, every expectation that the loan would ultimately be negotiated upon favorable terms.

Anti-Home Rule Meeting.

A meeting has been called for this evening at the Windsor Hall, of all supporters of Ulster in its opposition to the Home Rule measure now before the Imperial Parliament. Mr. Clarke Wallace, Comptroller of Customs, and several other gentlemen have been invited to deliver addresses.

DAMAGE DONE BY WIND AND WATER.

BOAT-HOUSES ON LAKE ST. LOUIS COMPLETELY SWEPT AWAY.

Parts of the Road Along the River Rendered Impassable—The Yacht "Eagle" in Danger—Water Higher on the Wharf.

The storm of yesterday has made sad havoc of the wooden buildings and boat sheds along Lake St. Louis. The wind drove the waves in to shore and of private boat houses from Pointe Claire to Lachine nothing is left beyond the bunches of driftwood which are coming down the rapids. Old residents say that the water in the lake has not been so high for the last seventeen years. Valois and Lakeside suffered severely. Not a private boathouse there could be saved, and great fears were entertained for the home of the Valois Boating Club. At Pointe Claire also the storm did a great deal of damage. Boat-houses were carried away and boats and skiffs were smashed to pieces. The boat-house of the Ku-Ku bachelors was beaten in splinters and four canoes broken, one of them being smashed in half. Mr. Napier's boat-house was also carried away. Sidewalks became loosened and floated down stream and at the Point, the large stone wharf belonging to Mr. Charlebois was struck by the water severely enough to drive two large holes in it. Several boats were found floating in the bay swamped. At Beaconsfield the water was so high that it came over on the road. At Lachine the water invaded the lower part of the town and in some of the houses stood

A COUPLE OF FEET HIGH.

The road between Dorval and Lachine was almost impassable, and those who drove to Dorval found water up to the hub of the wheel. At Vaudreuil the portion of the town adjoining the river was inundated, and the water has not been so high there since 1876, when people had to go to church in boats. It was reported that the "Eagle," the commodore's yacht of the St. Lawrence Yacht Club, was severely injured, but it seems she rode at anchor throughout the big gale. The only trouble was that the horse that supports the boom got adrift and about eleven the Commodore, his brother-in-law, Mr. Black, and Harry, the caretaker of the Grove, launched the dingey and attempted to make the "Eagle" and actually got within 20 feet, but she was pitching so severely from the tremendous sea that was on that it was impossible to get aboard without danger of being swamped or smashed. So it was decided to make for shore, also a difficult feat, as the dingy had to be turned and the danger lay in being broadside for over twenty seconds as the sea was running ten feet in height and swamping could take place instantly. However, we got around and ashore without rowing and simply had to guide the boat and prevent her being pooped, swamped from astern. About two o'clock another attempt was made by Messrs. Black & Mitchell, and as the seas had gone down somewhat, the "Eagle" was reached and everything made fast. Life preservers were the order of the day. The Ku-Ku Boathouse, which was smashed, contained five canoes.

About eleven o'clock yesterday morning some members of the Grand Trunk Boating Club who were at the Club House saw what appeared to them a row boat with a human being in it capsized by the wind. They called for Joe Laing, who happened to be about, and he immediately put out in his own boat for the spot where the boat was last seen. All he could discover, however, was a boat filled with water, but without oar-locks or anything, beached on Nun's Island. No persons have been reported lost and the impression is that the boat belonged to some resort higher up the river, which had broken loose by the storm and drifted down.

In Port and at Laprairie.

There are no signs of any receding in the waters of the river. On the contrary the water was four inches higher this morning than it was on Saturday. A fall of a couple of inches took place yesterday, but there was a rise of six inches last night, and this morning the registered depth was 36 feet 7 inches. No particular damage has been done to any of the goods on the wharves yet, as perishable merchandise has been moved out of the way of danger. On the Reford wharf the water is higher, but the fruit near the edge of the pier had all been taken away to prevent loss. At Laprairie the water is right up over the road. The wharf is completely under water, and passengers for Montreal had to reach the steamer in skiffs. Teams could not reach the steamer, and to cross to the city had to take the boat at Longueuil.

The Flood About Ottawa.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

OTTAWA, May 22.—The water in the Ottawa River rose six inches yesterday, but is stationary to-day. Thousands of sightseers are visiting the Chaudiere Falls. From Parliament Hill the spectacle presented is magnificent. Many of the lumber yards are half submerged twenty-seven dwellings in Gatineau Point, a village two miles below the city on the Quebec shore, are under water. The occupants, who belong to the poorer class, have removed their furniture to a place of safety. Three wharves at Aylmer, Que., nine miles above here, were carried away yesterday.

A NEW STEAMER.

What is Doing and Said in the Fruit Trade.

A new steamer came into port this afternoon, the "City of Kingston," which is to run in the fruit trade between the West Indies and Montreal. The "City of Kingston" is the property of Messrs T. S. Vipond & Co., Montreal, and was built especially for the fruit trade at Middlesboro. She is an exceedingly handsome boat, although not a very large one. She took a cargo of fruit from Jamaica to Boston, and then returned for a second cargo which she is bringing to Montreal. Her cargo consists of 16,000 bunches of bananas, 1000 cocoanuts and a quantity of pineapples and sugar. It is pretty well understood here that these direct fruit boats to Montreal have not paid. The steamer "America" ran all last year at a loss, and this year has been withdrawn and is running to Boston. Sending the "City of Kingston" to Montreal is a good deal of an experiment on the part of Messrs. T. S. Vipond & Co., and if the financial results are not better than those of previous experiments she will be withdrawn also. There is not a little complaint among fruit men in regard to the way in which fruit cargoes are handled here. The cargo of the "Charrington" turned out all right, there being no shortage, this year, although last year there was a very heavy shortage. Some shortage is said to exist, however, in the cases of the cargos of the "Fremona," and dealers complain also that owing to the bad way in which the goods have been put on the wharf they have great difficulty in making out the parcels they have purchased. The reason for this is said to be that the different lots are not kept together and thus considerable confusion ensues.

Boats Coming Out of Winter Quarters.

Several other boats of the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company are to come out of winter quarters in a few days and go on their routes. The steamer "Montreal," which has been in dry-dock in Quebec, was inspected to-day, and is expected up here to-morrow. Besides a general overhauling a new steam drum has been added. Over a hundred thousand dollars have been expended altogether on repairs to the "Montreal" and the directors devoutly hope that she is all right this season. The "Montreal" will take her place on the Montreal and Quebec route, the "Canada" which was on the route being sent down to the Saguenay. The new steamer of the company, the "Carolina," left St. Johns, Newfoundland, to-day for Montreal and is expected round here about the end of the week. The western boats of the line have all been inspected, and will commence to run between Montreal and Toronto on June 1. The first boat from here will be the "Spartan," which leaves Montreal on May 31. The boat to St. Helen's Island started on Saturday and is now running regularly. Mr. N. K. Connolly, president of the Company, was in the city to-day. He stated that although the season had opened later than usual, the Company still expected to do a good business.

THE LATE ABBE SEGUIN.

Funeral Services at Ste. Cunegonde.

The funeral services of the late Abbé Seguin took place this morning in Ste. Cunegonde Church. The body was lying in state and the building was thronged with people who came to pay this last mark of respect to the departed priest. The interior of the church was draped and flags were flying at half-mast all over Ste. Cunegonde. A large number of Roman Catholic clergy from different parts of Canada attended and the ceremony was most impressive. Archbishop Fabre and Bishop Lorrain's, of Pembroke, took part. The latter sang the requiem; he is an old class mate of the late abbé. They attended St. Therese College together and there commenced a friendship which has lasted up to the present time. The Grey Nuns and the Sisters of St. Anne occupied two small galleries at the back of the chancel, overlooking the altar. Mgr. Lorrain's was assisted by Father Fortin as deacon, Father Lesage as sub-deacon and Father Neven as assistant priest. These three were formerly curates of St. Cunegonde Church along with the late Abbé. Father Payette was master of ceremonies and Father Guillbault the incense bearer. The acolytes were Fathers Bonneville and Deslauriers. The Christian Brothers were interspersed amongst the choir and in the sanctuary. Amongst the clergy who took part were the Revs. A. Archambault, chancellor; J. B. Proulx, vice rector, St. Lin; R. Decarriers, curé, St. Henri; L. M. Lavallee, curé, St. Vincent de Paul; J. A. Renaud, C. S. C.; J. D. Michon, P. J. Brady, vicar St. Henri; P. Simard, C.S.R., J. Primeau, cure, Boucherville; G. Dugast, E. Choquette, chaplain, St. Jean de Dieu; M. Roulx, vicar, St. Vincent de Paul; H. Lecours, cure Longue Pointe; Father Fulcran, C. S. E., Father Augustin, A. Xoual, vicar St. Jean Baptiste; Father Donnelly, cure St. Antoine; Ed. Prieur, vicar Sacred Heart; P. D. De Guere, cure St. James; P. D. Jacques, C. S. D., St. Hyacinthe; P. Filiatrault, C. J. M.; H. Beclaret, S. S., H. Legault, O. M. J., A. Tranchemontagne, S. S., J. B. Nolin, S. J., Jos. Leclerc, cure St. Joseph; H. Dupret, S. S., Z. Delinelle, chaplain Bon Pasteur; J. A. Larose, cure Laprairie; P. Beaudet, cure St. Laurent; J. Martin, cure Chatham; F. Lilandais, S. S., Director Montreal College; J. Lonergan, cure St. Bridget; M. Auclair, cure St. Jean Baptiste; A. Viau, cure Mile End, and many others. The remains of the late Abbe will be deposited in the basement of the church.

FINANCIAL.

To-day is a holiday in London and the Stock Exchange is closed, so that we are without our usual quotations. In speaking of the advance in the Bank of England's rate of discount the Economist of the 13th inst says "It will not do, of course, to allow the Bank reserve to be run down in any extent. We have to reckon not only with the Australian troubles, and their possible ramifications here, but also with the difficulties of the United States Treasury, which may cause drafts to be made upon the European stocks of gold. On the other hand, however, some shipments of the metal are on their way here from South America; in a few weeks hence a portion, at all events, of the gold recently taken North by the Scotch banks will be returned to London; there is usually a considerable contraction of the internal circulation in the latter part of May and the early portion of June; and the foreign exchanges, which were favorably influenced by last week's advance of the Bank rate to 3 per cent., will now be turned still more in our favor. While, therefore, it will be necessary for the directors to keep a close watch over their reserve, and to seek to maintain it at a higher level than usual, there is no call for anything like precipitate action.

There is no change to note in the local money market. Rates are steady and unchanged. Sterling Exchange is dull and weaker. We quote: Sixties 8 15-16 to 9 1-16, and demand drafts 9⅛ to 10⅛ between banks. Counter rates for sixties, 9¼ to 9⅜, and sight, 10⅛ to 10⅜. Cables 10⅜ to 10⅝. Documentary sixties, 8⅞ to 8¾. Cattle bills, 9⅛ to 9⅜. New York funds, 1-10 dis par, and ¼ premium to ½ over the counter.

The local stock market was not very active this morning and the tone was not strong. Canadian Pacific and Gas were the features. The former opened with sales at 77¼ and very soon had advanced to 78, while from that it fell off and hand dropped to 195. Duluth preferred sold at 20, and Richelieu at 67½. Bell Telephone changed hands at 133, and "Rights" at 31 to 32. A few shares of Dominion Cotton were placed at 121. Banks were quiet, but firm Montreal x. d. changing hands at 222. The rest of the market was neglected. According to R. G. Dun & Co.'s review of trade for the week the failures number 247 in the United States against 169 for the same week last year, and 14 in Canada against 25 last year. Only four of the failures were of firms having more than $200,000 rating, 31 were of ratings from $10,000 to $200,000, and all the rest of smaller concerns, more than half the whole number of failures having no rating or less than $500 each.

The New York money market is very firm. Call money ranging from 2 to 4 p. c., and time funds 6 p. c. for all periods. Sterling Exchange was about steady. The posted rates were 4.86 for sixties and 4.90 for demand. Actual rates were 4.84½ to 4.85 for sixties and 4.89 to 4.89½ for demand and 4.90½ to 4.90¾ for cables. Commercials were 4.84 to 4.84½, and documentaries 4.83⅞ to 4.84 and Paris francs 5.18⅞ for long and 5.16¼ for short.

As to the New York shares market, private advices to Lamontagne, Clarke & Co. to-day state that the market has been dull and without feature. More melancholy news about the Distillers Co., including the withdrawal of some of the Pennsylvania companies, was accompanied by a raid on the stock, carrying it back to last week's low prices. From there it rallied slowly on covering, and long buying to about Saturday's close. New England was the only railroad stock to show any strength in the morning, and crossed 30 on scattered purchases.

The grangers and industrials as a rule lacked life, and at times trading was almost suspended.

The million gold ordered for to-morrow's steamer was talked of. Considerably more to go during the week seemed to disgust last week's bulls who let it go all round the room. Exchange was at last week's prices, 4.85½ and 4.90, but London being on a holiday there was no quotation for discounts there. The discussion of the country's condition at large, and of financial matters in particular, in the Sunday and Monday papers seems to have resulted in a less hopeful view of the outlook, and people who were talking very bullish last week, are inclined to-day to hedge. At the same time there is no question but that liquidation here has been very complete so far, and it will require fresh bad news to start it again and carry the market lower.

In the meanwhile, with both buying and selling reduced to a minimum, a dull market seems to be before us for a time, and purchases on weak spots for quick turns may realize small profits.

The following were the important changes in the New York bank statement for the past week:

Surplus reserve	Increase	$6,227,150
Loans	Decrease	3,886,400
Specie	Increase	425,200
Legal tenders	Increase	7,153,300
Deposits	Increase	3,817,400
Circulation	Decrease	44,400

The week's averages compare as follows with the same period in 1892

	May 20, '93.	May 21, '92.
Loans	$416,961,300	$493,946,700

DON'T LISTEN to the dealer who is bent on bigger profits. The thing that he wants you to buy, when you ask for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, isn't "just as good." Proof of this is easy. The only guaranteed remedy for the ailments of womanhood is the "Favorite Prescription." If it ever fails to benefit or cure, in making weak women strong or suffering women well, you have your money back.

Anything "just as good," or as sure to bring help, could be, and would be, sold in just that way.

This guaranteed medicine is an invigorating, restorative tonic, especially adapted to woman's needs and perfectly harmless in any condition of her system.

It builds up, strengthens, regulates, and cures.

For periodical pains, bearing-down sensations, ulceration, inflammation—every thing that's known as a "female complaint"—it's a remedy that's safe, certain, and prompt.

MR. CHAPLEAU IN PARIS.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

OTTAWA, May 22.—Lieut. Governor Chapleau, writing from Paris to an Ottawa friend, states that he had been laid up in bed for three weeks, but expected to be around in a few days.

Owing to his indisposition he recently declined an invitation to dine with Lord Dufferin, the British ambassador, but agreed to accept the hospitality of the noble lord on the Queen's birthday. Hon. Mr. Chapleau added that Guyon, his medical attendant, expected to see him convalescent before he left Paris in June.

"HONOR THE KING."

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

KINGSTON, May 22.—In Queen's Street Methodist church last evening the Rev. C. O. Johnston preached on "Our Queen." His text was from the first Epistle of Peter, "Honor the King." He said many men had found this impossible, because their king was unworthy of honor; but God had given us a Queen who was worthy of all honor and love. Mr. Johnston hoped she might reign for many years to come, for the man who would succeed her, he feared, "was not worthy of his mother."

If you have never used Carter's Little Liver Pills, go at once to the nearest drug store and get a vial. They will surely please you. Don't forget this.

FOR A NEW OCEAN RECORD.

THE "PARIS" AND THE "CAMPANIA" TRY AGAIN.

This Time They Race From East to West—The Boats Expected in New York Friday Next.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The new Cunard steamship "Campania," the record-breaking marvel from the Fairfield Yards, left Liverpool on Saturday, bound for this port. With the black smoke pouring from her cavernous stacks the steamer glided towards Queenstown and out to the open sea. Simultaneously with the departure of the big Cunarder the American line steamer "Paris," one time queen of the transatlantic fleet, cast off her hawsers at Southampton and started on her voyage to New York. The departure of these two vessels represents a marked incident in the history of the merchant marine. The "Paris" left port with the intention of fighting for her laurels, and the "Campania" passed out of Liverpool with the determination of taking them away by lowering the transatlantic record. In October, 1892, the "Paris" arrived at this port from Queenstown with a record of 5 days 14 hours and 24 minutes, beating her own previous time, made in July, by 1 hour and 34 minutes. Since then her record has stood absolute, and although other ocean steamships have made remarkable time between here and the other side, no vessel has surpassed it. The "Campania," however, has shown her abilities, and to-day she is a more remarkable vessel than the "Paris." On her trial trip she averaged a speed close on to twenty-seven miles an hour; on her trip to this port she made the record for maiden voyages, and on her voyage from New York to Queenstown two weeks ago she lowered the eastward record held by the "New York," the "Paris's" sister ship, from 5 days, 19 hours and 57 minutes to 5 days, 17 hours and 27 minutes. When the "Campania" sailed on her two first voyages her captain, Commodore Hains, received explicit orders not to press her, and although the steamer did let out a link or two, it is understood that she went across in a somewhat leisurely fashion. When this and the fact that the "Campania's" engines are not yet in their best condition are considered, it can be seen what she may do when she gets down to the real serious business of breaking records. Shipping men, who have watched her from the time her plans were drawn until the moment she set sail on her first voyage, understood that she would do great things in the way of speed, but when she broke records on her first two voyages they were more than surprised. The are rarely satisfactory from a speed standpoint, and they argue that when the "Campania's" engines are in thorough condition she will make time that will put her far in advance of anything now in commission. To break the eastward record, now held by the "Paris," the "Campania" will have to make better than 20.70 knots an hour. The "Campania's" speed from this port to Queenstown, however, averaged 20.80 knots an hour. Maintaining this speed all the way across and taking the same course as the "Paris" did the "Campania" will arrive here in five days, thirteen hours and twenty-two minutes. Those who have watched the "Campania" think that she will do even better than that, and if their predictions are correct, she will pass inside the lightship at the Hook by sunset on Friday. The probabilities are that this trip of the "Campania" and "Paris" will establish a remarkable time standard. The weather during the past week has been clear and fine on the Atlantic, and the indications are that it will continue for the next few days. The season for storms has passed, and there is no reason to believe that there will be any disturbance of the elements sufficient to retard the vessels. In this race there will be a pacemaker of no mean merit. On Friday the Hamburg-American steamship "Fuerst Bismarck" left Southampton, also bound for this port. The "Bismarck" holds the record both eastward and westward from that port to New York. While she is by no means a faster vessel than the "Campania" or the "Paris," she is, nevertheless, a speedy liner. In April, 1892, she made the distance from Southampton to New York, in 6 days, 11 hours and 44 minutes. The "Fuerst Bismarck," however, is hardly in the race. If she was going at her regular speed when the "Paris" and "Campania" set sail, she was at least five hundred miles off the Irish coast when the two other vessels were leaving port. Unless she makes better time than usual both the "Campania" and "Paris" will pass her before she gets up to Quarantine. The fact that the "Campania," on her voyage from this port, overtook and passed the "Paris" off Fire Island, does not mean that she is capable of doing so every day. Ships, like horses, depend greatly on form. The most trivial causes militate against their speed, and it requires a vessel in the pink of perfection to do herself justice.

THE "VANCOUVER" IN PORT.

Other Arrivals Since Saturday.

The flagship of the Dominion Line fleet, the steamship "Vancouver," reached port last evening from Liverpool on her first trip here this season. Although it was eight o'clock when the steamship got into the wharf there were several hundred people awaiting her arrival, and warm welcomes were extended to Captain H. C. Williams, her commander, and the other officers of the vessel. The "Vancouver" had 100 saloon, 95 intermediate and 617 steerage passengers. She left Liverpool on the 12th, and had a pleasant passage across the Atlantic. Near the banks several icebergs were passed, while considerable fog was met with off the banks. Within an hour of landing the passengers had been despatched to their various destinations, Mr. E. W. Summerskill looking after the Grand Trunk list and Mr. Harry Ibbottson the Canadian Pacific list. There have been some changes in the officers of the "Vancouver" since she was last in Montreal. Mr. A. Latimer, formerly chief steward of the "Oregon," is now the chief steward of the "Vancouver," and he has as his second Mr. C. McMaster, late chief steward of the steamship "Dominion." The other officers of the "Vancouver" are M. J. Comanton, chief officer; Mr. L. Murphy, chief engineer; Dr. McMahon, surgeon, and Mr. H. Main, purser.

The Dominion Line steamship "Dominion," Captain Cross, also arrived from Bristol yesterday. The "Dominion" brought over 200 sheep and a valuable bull, the property of Graham Walker, Ilderton, Ont., W. Hawkshaw, Learmonth, Ont., and Alfred Evans, Manitoba. The steamship "Chittagong," Captain Davey, arrived in port yesterday morning. The "Chittagong" is from Rangoon, India, and has a cargo of 2500 tons of rice. The "Escalona," Captain Milne, arrived on Saturday evening from Cadiz, with a cargo of fruit and wines. She left Cadiz on May 1. While coming up the river, when near Longue Pointe, a man in a small boat tried to cross the bows of the "Escalona," and was nearly run down for his temerity. Captain Milne, who commands the "Escalona," was last year in charge of the "Avlona." A new boat which will run in connection with the Donaldson Line arrived in port on Saturday. She is the "Hestia," Captain Rainie, from Glasgow. She was built about two years ago and has been chartered by the Donaldson Line for the season. She landed 17 Clyde horses here.

WHERE IS MR. WOOD?

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

TORONTO, May 22. — Passengers from Sault Ste. Marie announce that there is considerable excitement at the Canadian Sault over the mysterious disappearance of Henry Wood, keeper of the lighthouse at Point-aux-Pins. Wood left the Sault on May 5 to attend to his duties, since which time nothing has been heard of him.

DEATH OF AN EMINENT FREEMASON.

THE LATE MR. J. FRED. WALKER, TRAFFIC AUDITOR G. T. R.

The Highly Successful Railway Career of a Gentleman Highly Esteemed and Respected in Masonic Circles.

The announcement of the death of Mr. J. Fred Walker, traffic auditor of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, which occurred at his residence, 264 University street, yesterday, will cause a severe shock to his wide circle of friends, and especially the members of the Masonic fraternity, in which he had always been looked upon as a leader among men—a man whose personal and other qualifications fitted him for the very highest honor that the Order could confer upon him. The deceased gentleman was born in Brantford, Ont., in 1842, and was, therefore, 51 years of age. He commenced his railway career in 1858, when he entered the services of the Detroit & Milwaukee Railway, accepting a position in the stores department. Four years later he entered the services of the Grand Trunk Railway, connecting himself with the stores department at Montreal. He was subsequently transferred to the audit department, where he was for many years assistant auditor. He was subsequently appointed traffic auditor, which position he held at the time of his death. He married Miss Champion, of Toronto, who, with two daughters, the elder of whom is Mrs. G. H. E. Blaiklock, survives him. He was also a much esteemed member of Christ Church Cathedral, and was universally respected for his many sterling qualities with whom he came in contact.

The loss caused by his death will be very greatly felt by the Masonic Order, in which he had filled most important positions. He was a Past Master of Montarville Lodge, a Past District Deputy Grand Master of Montreal district, and a Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Quebec. He was elected Most Worshipful Grand Master in 1886, in succession to M. W. Bro. E. R. Johnson, who died about three weeks ago, and was re-elected in 1887. He was also an honorary member of a large number of several subordinate grand lodges throughout the province of Quebec, and was at the time of his death Grand Representative near Quebec of the Grand Lodge of Maryland. He was also Right Excellent Grand J. of the Grand Chapter of Quebec of Royal Arch Masons and Grand Representative near Quebec of the Grand Chapter of Massachusetts; Supreme Grand Director of Ceremonies of the Supreme Council, 33rd degree, of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite for the Dominion of Canada, and illustrious Commander-in-chief of the Montreal Sovereign Consistory, A. & A. S. Rite. During some few months past, he had been a prominent and most active member of the committee appointed to further the building of a Masonic temple in Montreal, and with M. W. Bro. I. H. Stearns, Grand Treasurer, and R. W. Bro. B. Tooke, D. D. G. M., has been a recent frequent visitor to the subordinate lodges in the interest of this project. In every position which he held in the craft he distinguished himself at all times with pre-eminent ability, which was always recognized by Freemasons throughout the entire Dominion. A meeting will be held in the British Masonic Chambers this evening to make arrangements for the funeral, which takes place to-morrow afternoon. The Grand Lodge of Quebec will meet in the Royal Albert rooms, on Phillips square, at two o'clock to-morrow afternoon and will take charge of the Masonic burial service. The Grand Chapter of Quebec will also meet to-morrow afternoon to attend the funeral in a body. All Masons attending the funeral will meet to-morrow afternoon, at 1.30 o'clock sharp, at the Natural History Hall, University street. Flags are at half-mast at both the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railway general offices out of respect to the memory of the late Mr. Walker.

OPPOSITION GAS COMPANY

May Not Materialize After All—What Some of The Aldermen Are Said To Be After.

There is a possibility that the new Gas Company's scheme may not materialize, that is, if the aldermen are to be depended on to make it a success. It is a well-known fact that some of the city fathers, acting on this information, which they received from the promotors of the new company, sold gas stock "short" at between 220 and 230. They got tired waiting until the stock fell to 150 as they expected it would, and most of them bought in the stock again at about 198 or 200, thus making a handsome profit. It now seems that some of those self-same Aldermen are anxious to compromise with the present Gas Company so that it will be spared opposition for some time to come. It is understood that the president of the Gas Company has been approached in an indirect way and asked to come to some arrangement whereby it could supply gas at a cheaper rate than at present and thus enable the promoters of the new company to retire gracefully from the field. "Of course," said a friend of the aldermanic speculators, "the city will allow Messrs. King and Coates a "consideration" to retire, and then the aldermen will buy Gas stock and send it back up to where it was before, so that they will make money both by the decline and rise. It is known that for some time back efforts have been made to induce Mr. Jesse Joseph to retire from the presidency of the Gas Company. They have, however, so far been unsuccessful.

The Ill-Treatment of Horses.

A most miserable looking horse attached to a two-wheeled cart drew up in front of the City Hall this morning. The driver went in to get a license to peddle milk in the city. When he came out Inspector Racey, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, was waiting for him. His eagle eye had noticed a loathsome sore on the animal's back and certain other signs of physical exhaustion. Napoleon Hurteau was the owner's name and when taken before the Recorder he promised to put the animal in the stable at once and keep him there. The man was poor, so His Honor let him off on paying the costs. After the case had closed, the extent of the brute's suffering was fully explained to His Honor and he stated that had he been fully informed of the facts, he would have imposed a much heavier sentence.

Protestant Ministerial Association.

At the regular meeting of the Protestant Ministerial Association to-day, the Rev. W. D. Stevens delivered an able address on "The Relation of the Minister to the Holy Spirit." The conversation which followed was maintained by the Rev. Messrs. McManus, Dixon, Chiniquy, Patterson, Grant, Therrien, Everett, Ross, Hill, Hall, Fleck and Dr. Williams. Dr. Chiniquy made an earnest appeal in favor of union by means of the influence of the Holy Spirit showing each the need of new enlightenment and opportunities of promoting unity. The Rev. Mr. Fleck uttered a warning against too absolute distinctions between dispensations and persons in the God-head; but urged instead the attainment of a life constantly seeking to glorify Christ as the surest way of securing a true revival. Dr. Williams pointed out that the early divisions of Protestantism were due to intensity of convictions but are now due rather to difference of church government than to difference of church doctrine. It was finally decided that special meetings should be held in order to promote a deepening of spiritual life in the churches.

On Saturday evening the friends of Dr. H. M. Duhamel, son of Mr. Joseph Duhamel, Q.C., tendered him a dinner on the occasion of his marriage, which takes place to-morrow morning at the Archbishop's Palace. Among those present were Drs. John Mount, John Rourke, Kennedy, Larin, Boulet, de Martigny, O. F. Mercier, Rod. Beaudry, and Messrs. John Chaffers, J. W. R. Brunet, J. E. Drouin, and G. Langlois and others.

Mr. John J. Arnton, Miss Arnton, and Mr. William G. Arnton have just returned from a trip to Washington. In that Capital they were entertained by Colonel John Cassels and Mr. J. W. Thompson, president Metropolitan Bank, and Senator's Chandler's family. Through the good offices of a mutual friend and Hon. William McAdoo, assistant Secretary of the Navy, a private audience was had with President Grover Cleveland at the White House. The President was most affable and cordial. Mr. Arnton expressed the gratification he felt on being received so informally by the chief ruler of sixty-five millions of people, also complimenting him on his excellent and brief speech on the opening of the Columbian Exposition, and that without any spread eagleism. The President said he did not know about the ruling but he did a good deal of serving. He made his speech short and so did the gentleman who followed him. He had felt nervous with the immense surging and swaying of the great multitude of humanity around him, fearing a stampede that would precipitate many into the lagoons accentuated by the many ladies that fainted.

DOMINION COAST SURVEY.

A CHARGE THAT IT HAS BEEN MUCH NEGLECTED.

The Remedy Said to be Largely in the Hands of the Royal Society—The Charts of the River St. Lawrence.

Dr. Alexander Johnson, Dean of the Faculty of Arts in McGill, goes to Ottawa to-day with an important mission in his capacity as a delegate of the Royal Society of Canada, which begins its annual meeting in the Capital to-morrow. The Royal Society has done much practical and valuable work in inducing the Federal Government to establish the Dominion Coast Survey. But Dr. Johnson pointed out to a STAR reporter this morning that this department of Governmental service is shamefully inadequate; otherwise, he asks, how comes it that within eighteen days six Atlantic ships met with serious disaster in Canadian waters and one has gone to the bottom of the St. Lawrence. Now the remedy for this state of things lies largely in the hands of the Royal Society. An understanding exists between the Society and the Dominion Government that the Federal authorities shall accept suggestions from the Society for the management of all scientific affairs within the jurisdiction of the marine Department. In accordance with this understanding, after considerable importunity by Dr. Johnson and others, the Coast Survey was established some six years ago; but owing to lack of sufficient funds the work has been carried on in a disorganized and utterly inefficient manner. For example, the charts of the River St. Lawrence are, in Dr. Johnson's opinion, very unreliable. The proof of this is that off Fame Point the "Hurona" struck on a rock which is not mentioned in the chart.

Dr. Johnson will read a paper before the Royal Society to morrow urging immediate attention to this subject. A committee will be appointed to act with representatives of the shipping interest in Canada, to urge upon the Government the necessity of making more liberal appropriations for this service and of placing the Coast Survey on as efficient a footing as that of the Geological Survey of Canada, which is a separate department thoroughly organized and officered.

Killed by a Passing Train.

At about 8 o'clock this morning the Montreal General ambulance was called to the Windsor station. A man had been struck by the incoming train from the west. He was conveyed to the General Hospital, but died on the way. The only clue to the identity of the unfortunate is a peculiar card found in his pocket. This card bears in very legible writing the words "Henry J. Atty, passenger to Montreal, per C. P. Railway." Yet the man was on his way to the city on foot. He was near the village of Caughnawaga when the conductor saw him and whistled "down brakes;" but the man appeared deaf. The train slacked too late. The poor fellow was thrown off by the engine and badly crushed. No paper but the card mentioned above was found on his person, and he is unknown to the railway managers and employees.

Bitten by the Dogs.

At an early hour yesterday morning a man named Henry Douglas wandered into the East End Abattoir and was set upon by three big dogs, who tore his coat off his back and inflicted some twenty-five wounds on various parts of his body. He managed to reach No. 13 Police Station and Sergeant St. Pierre sent him to the General Hospital.

A NEW C. P. R. TARIFF.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

NEW YORK, May 22.—Local railroad men do not expect a serious railroad cut between the Southern Pacific and the Canadian Pacific Railroad Companies, although it is likely that the cut made by the latter will be met. The new tariff which the Canadian Pacific put into effect to-day is regarded as a direct cut, notwithstanding its claim to a differential of 10 per cent. less than that of any other line between the two coasts.

C. P. Huntington, of the Southern Pacific, said to-day that his Company would not meet the Canadian reduction, but a lower officer is authority for the assertion that the Southern Pacific may be depended upon to meet any reduction by its Northern rival.

The trouble arises out of the old trouble between the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and the Panama Railroad. The severing of that combination has resulted in unsettling rates ever since.

The local C. P. R. freight agent, Mr. Olds, states that he knows nothing of the alleged new tariff.

TARTE'S ELECTION CONFIRMED.

The Trading Was Light.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

NEW YORK, May 22.—The Post's financial article says:—"Partly by reason of a Stock Exchange holiday in London, trading opened quiet on the local market. Prices were all fractionally lower, but considering what had been expected from the announcements of Saturday's mercantile failure, they were well held. Distilling certificates broke 4½ points at the start, on the news of the partial breaking up of the combination; but prices recovered somewhat later on. Among the other dealings worthy of special note were those of 8 points in Burlington, 2 in Manhattan, 1½ each in Sugar Certificates and Chicago Gas, and one in Rock Island and General Electric. But even with those, the heaviest breaks were in the first hour, and there was a general recovery later on. Some few stocks scored advances, and in all the trading was light.

Purify Your Blood

Now is the Time to Take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Master Cassell Purcell
Piqua, Ohio.

Almost Blind

With Humor and Inflammation in the Eyes.

"My little boy fell from his high chair, injuring his nose, and severe inflammation appeared in his eyes. They were very sore for a long time. He could not bear the light and we had to Keep him in a Dark Room.

He grew worse and worse until we feared he would lose his sight entirely. Medical advice and various medicines failed to benefit him until, hearing the good Hood's Sarsaparilla had done for others, we concluded to try it. I must say Hood's Sarsaparilla

Worked Like a Charm.

While taking two bottles the inflammation gradually disappeared, his eyes grew stronger so that he could bear the light. He was soon completely cured. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla for all diseases arising from impure blood." MRS. J. R. PURCELL, Favorite Place, 809 South St., Piqua, Ohio.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, jaundice, biliousness, sick headache and constipation. 25c.
