Next week's weather By ERIC NEAL

November 18 to 25

Mostly sunny with frosty mornings and very cold clear nights to open this typical November week. This moon Last Quarter week we usually have traffic troubles with freezing rains, fog and heavy falls of soft snow, 5 to 8" even more for some districts. December rains will wash it away again. Much colder to end the period, with cold, gusty winds, powder snow and deep drifts. Next week: STORMY. Temperature range: 25-45 deg. F. Sun only 15 to 20 hours.

Mayor M. Tucker places a wreath at the base of the cenotaph on behalf of the City of Westmount.

WMA meet is set for Dec. 12

December 12 was set as the date for the Westmount Municipal Association's annual general meeting at the Association's executive meeting on Tuesday night. The executive was fortunate in obtaining the Expo movie "Montreal 2000" along with the services of Mr. Desautels Montreal's Director of Planning as commentator, for the annual general meeting.

Air pollution was a topic of discussion at Tuesday night's meeting. It was reported that the Association's committee on air pollution is working with the City of Montreal's authorities. Air pollution as a result of contamination from buildings is being closely watched by Westmount, however it was pointed out that City officials have little control over pollution emanating from vehicles as this is under provincial jurisdiction.

W.M.A. membership to date was reported to be in the area of 1800 people. The Association strongly urges all Westmount residents to join and points out that membership in the W.M.A. is one very good way to take an active participation in City affairs.

Also discussed was the cross-walk situation particularly at certain dangerous intersections such as Victoria and Sherbrooke and Greene and St. Catherine. The current density of traffic in the City was discussed and it was agreed that steps would be taken to ameliorate the circulation problem.

Readers Question Wording of Verse

Following the printing of an excerpt of poetry on the front page of last week's Examiner, the Examiner office was treated to a series of calls pointing out a variety of error in the excerpt.

The poem, used to mark the passing of Remembrance Day 1967, was reprinted from a former issue. A reporter was dispatched post-haste to the Westmount Library to determine the origin of the piece of poetry and to verify the accuracy with which it was reproduced in last week's issue.

The excerpt was taken from Lawrence Binyon's "For The Fallen" and with the exception of one word was printed correctly last week. Following is the section from which the excerpt was taken:

LAURENCE BINYON

From For the Fallen

They went with songs to the battle,
they were young,
Straight of limb, true of eye,
steady and aglow.
They were staunch to the end
against odds uncounted,
They fell with their faces to the foe.

They shall not grow old, as we that
Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them.

Demolition deadline Nov. 28 there's life on the old street yet

The calling of demolition tenders for Selby Street by the Provincial Government has again raised the question of a further extension of the evacuation deadline for Selby St. residents.

In a recent Examiner survey of the area it was discovered that approximately twenty families are still staying on. Some families are staying in hope of obtaining the full price for their property before leaving. Most however, simply cannot find suitable accommodation elsewhere.

The problem of suitable accommodation is understandable. Selby St. residences, although old and perhaps out of style, are well-built and subscribe to the city's code of building standards. Selby Street was one of the very few areas in metropolitan Montreal where a flat suitable for six or seven persons could be had for eighty dollars a month.

The City of Westmount has done all possible to aid in the relocation of Selby families and has spent considerable time and effort in the search for the elusive 'suitable accommodation'. The number of people referred by the city numbers in the hundreds but no records are kept as to the number of families actually accepting referred housing. The city is under no legal obligation to relocate the families and is operating from a strictly humanistic motive.

Apparently the 'deadline extension' question is also academic. Authorities claim that no deadline has been extended past the original September 30 date. All further extensions have been non-official.

A constant problem on the street now that the majority of the residents have left is the danger of fire. Several families were living in upstairs flats with the downstairs flat unoccupied. These families would not have had sufficient warning of a fire in the building. The Fire Brigade, with tenants' permission moved most of these families into lower flats in an attempt to consolidate those residents left on the street and thereby to minimize the fire hazard.

Despite rumours of further extensions and reprieves Selby Street is evidently doomed to the scheduled demolition. Deadlines for demolition tenders is November 28. Actual demolition work could start as soon as a week after the deadline.

Residents seem unconcerned with this news. Although most avow that they'll be long gone a few stalwarts maintain that they'll be hanging on and these could go right to the wire resulting in bailiff action.

Westmount Home and School Attendance a Record 800

Monday night's record-setting meeting of the Westmount High School Home and School Association opened with the Association's President Mrs. Fletcher welcoming the record eight hundred people in attendance.

In her welcoming address Mrs. Fletcher commented on the great co-operation always shown between parents teachers and the school board. She pointed out that the election of a new school board is imminent and also commented on the fact that since 1919 all openings in the school board have been filled by Westmount Municipal Association nominees acclaimed to the posts.

Mrs. Fletcher stressed the increasingly active role which parents are being called up to play and the need for close co-operation between parents and teachers. She stated that the next meeting will be held on January 22nd for which an informative programme on "Some Alternatives to University" has been planned.

Mrs. Fletcher's address was followed by a few remarks by the High School principal Mr. N. Hamilton. Mr. Hamilton expressed his delight at the record attendance. He then commented on the fact that Parents, Teachers and Administration working together can contribute a great deal to the students' education.

Mr. Hamilton also discussed the many outside pressures that act on today's student. As examples Mr. Hamilton pointed out the ever-growing pressure on the student to succeed academically and to follow up his high school education with courses in university. Entrance requirements are getting tougher and so pressure on the student is increasing.

He also mentioned that despite over-emphasis on the part of news media, drugs are a problem. He pointed out that any child might experiment with drugs without the parents actually realizing what was going on.

Following the address by the principal, a group of students

NEO-NAZI MARS SERVICES

Westmount Remembrance services were marred slightly by a man insisting on reading aloud from a Nazi booklet. The man held forth until a citizen alerted nearby Westmount Police.

Police picked up the man and questioned him. After checking his identity Police allowed him to leave. Canadian Law protects the freedom of speech of everyone as long as the exercise of this freedom doesn't interfere with others' enjoyment of the same freedom and doesn't constitute a public disturbance.

Hundreds Turn Out at Cenotaph Service

The sun made an appearance but the temperature was down. A cold wind kept the flags on their poles fluttering and waving. The hundreds of people attending remembrance services at the Cenotaph on Sunday must have blessed the intuition that had them dressed warmly.

Standing in front of the Cenotaph to pay their respects were Mayor Michael Tucker DSO and members of the city council.

Both Minister of Industry Drury and Richard Hyde M.P.L. for Westmount, were in attendance.

It was the official Commemoration Service of the City of Westmount -- remembering the dead of two World Wars. Conducting the services were Captain the Reverend Canon J. N. Doidge chaplain of the Royal Montreal Regiment, Captain the Reverend B. A. Jones chaplain

Commission Merger Fact Board Awaits Quebec Decision on Date

The solution to the St. Leon de Westmount School Commission's proposed merger with the Montreal Catholic School Commission came peacefully in recent weeks after the stormy debate that led up to it.

The St. Leon de Westmount commission is too small to implement the suggestions of the Parent report regarding secondary education and unless its merger with the larger Montreal body had gone through it would not have been able to comply with the Ministry of Education's edicts on schooling at the high school level.

Both the Montreal commission and the St. Leon commission were in agreement on the need for the merger. Problems arose when the Montreal City Council objected strenuously and loudly. Montreal City Council felt that the merger would be unfair to Montreal residents as they would supposedly have to assume the added load of supporting St. Leon's two schools in Westmount.

Despite all the fuss and confusion an agreement was reached with Montreal and the merger will go through. The plan is currently being studied by Provincial Education authorities.

The only question still open is the exact date that the merger will go into effect. St. Leon de Westmount officials are hoping that the merger will be retroactive to the first of July 1967. However, Quebec authorities could reject this date in favour of a July 1968 alternative.

Invalid homes marked for emergency rescue

For some years the Westmount Fire Brigade has operated a system for quickly locating homes where an incapacitated person is residing.

These are people who are bed-ridden, in wheel-chairs, etc. and who would require assistance to get out of the building in case of a fire.

Through the Order of Malta, a special emblem has been made available for the fire brigade, who will place them on request. The usual location is on, or near, the front door of the house.

When responding to a fire call at a building marked with the emblem, the Brigade is immediately alerted to the fact that there may be someone in the building requiring special assistance and so concentrated efforts can be made to locate these persons and get them to safety.

Anyone wishing to take advantage of this service should call Fire Brigade Headquarters at 933-2239, and a fire inspector will be pleased to call and install the emblem.

Westmount counts 5 of 13 U.R.F. award winners

Five Westmount residents were among the thirteen campaign trophy winners recognized at the United Red Feather closing dinner on November ninth. The Leslie Cup for the leading group in the professional and public service division was awarded to Mr. Terence Dingle. The Mappin and Webb Cup for the district in the Women's division having an objective of more than one thousand dollars and up to five thousand to be the first to reach the highest percentage of that objective by noon on October the fourth was awarded to Mr. Wilson McLean.

Mrs. John Porter was presented the Sutherland tray for being the first to reach the greatest percentage of an over-five thousand dollar objective by noon of October 4 in the women's division.

Mr. Wilson McLean, winner of the Mappin and Webb cup also was presented the Gregor Barclay Award for the District Chairman in the Central Area who was the first to reach his objective without emergency anonymous or special donations.

Mrs. Peter Boulton won the Eaves and Bessette cup for the highest percentage obtained as between the Men's Divisions and the Women's division.

In his address at the dinner, General Chairman Alex Duff announced a total of two million four hundred and sixteen thousand thirty-nine dollars obtained during the campaign. Mr. Duff pointed out that this total was obtained despite the fact that a total objective had not been set.

We Say

Something Westmount could start rolling

All the vocal and emotional exercise being increasingly devoted to pollution underscores yet another area where inter-municipal co-operation and common concern must be focussed.

Particularly air pollution.

For noxious fumes know no urban boundaries. What befoils Montreal's, or Lachine's, or LaSalle's atmosphere may equally well and, given the right or wrong winds and other weather conditions, sometimes affect Westmount even more.

By and large, Montreal area municipalities have made great strides in controlling the undesirable pollutants turned out by factories, chimneys, incinerators, etc. The real enemy, growing each year with urban concentration and the numbers of motor vehicles, is the internal combustion engine.

The experts tell us that the accumulations of carbon monoxide and hydro-carbons in our city streets frequently reach danger levels and that, unless determined action soon is taken, we are confronted with emergency conditions.

There is an overwhelming case here for the cities and towns of the Montreal region to join together in a very obvious common action which otherwise may be considerably longer coming from other parts of the country. That is:

Bring utmost pressure to bear on the Federal government to impose in the shortest possible time upon the automotive industry the mandatory installation of fume control devices on all new cars, trucks and buses sold in Canada.

The effect of such legislation would not be long in being felt, since a relatively rich area such as Montreal and its neighbors is where a high proportion of each year's new vehicles are placed on street and road.

New cars lead the growth of vehicle numbers increases each year, while a commensurate number of older, offending vehicles are retired or scrapped.

Surely such legislation, already adopted in California and some other states, is due here. Best effect would be nationwide imposition of control devices; that is, by Ottawa.

Only the most seriously affected areas, such as ours, can lead the demand. And it will require co-operative effort of as many urban municipalities as can be mustered if the traditional lethargy and indifference to such problems of a still rural-dominated Parliament are to be overcome.

Westmount, its pleasantness and desirability as a place to live undeniably threatened, might show leadership in this matter and initiate the action -- and gain the kudos. Why leave it to St. Laurent, St. Leonard-de-Port Maurice, or even Montreal?

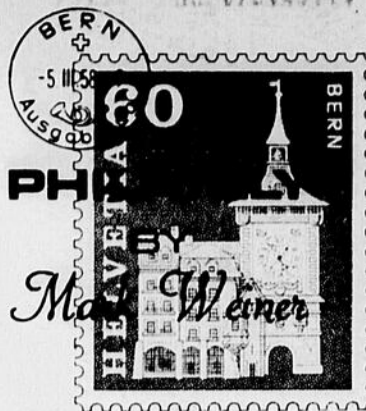

Did You Know That . . .

. . . The Westmount Golf Club petitioned the City Council to remove a contagious disease hospital from the mountain and allow them the use of the land . . .

. . . in 1909 Westmount Police gallantly denied the rumour that a venturesome lady from Upper Belmont had become the first woman driver in the Montreal area to be fined for speeding . . .

. . . D. W. Griffith's "The Birth of a Nation" was the first movie to be shown locally in the Westmount Arena, the forerunner to the Montreal Forum . . .

. . . Almost fifty years ago prospective residents were advised that a car was essential, particularly one that would not boil over, because the streets were steep and provided "an approximation to mountaineering".

The "Voor Het Kind" series of semi-postals issued yearly by the Netherland Antilles have long been popular for their unusual design, culminating with the 1965 series depicting underwater scenes photographed around the islands. There is no doubt that this outstanding set did much to stimulate tourist traffic to the Antilles. However the designs of this year's series, to be issued Nov. 15th, take an unusual turn, depicting four "Nanzi Stories." What are the Nanzi Stories? They are the enactment and miming for over a hundred years of an assortment of weird African myths added to which a number of Caribbean voodoo tales all put together by a talented Spanish tale weaver.

The central character the Nanzi, a spider, symbolizing the sun, diety of health, destruction and even seduction, appears in this series a super hero, a swindling cheat, a sly confidence artist and a generous benefactor: 6+3c, "Princess Long Nose" - Nanzi with a diabolical desire for revenge, sells three magic apples to King Arey, which cause the royal noses to grow, then collects a fantastic fee for curing them for the King and Queen and leaving the Princess with a long curved nose; 10+5c, "Turtle and the Monkey" - In a plot to satisfy his pregnant wife's peculiar hunger, the eating of the heart of her husband's closest friend, Compa Monkey, the turtle lures his pal on a river crossing with the intention of drowning him.

The monkey, however, cleverly explains this is impossible as he always leaves his heart on a coatrack at home before taking a trip. His friend thereupon carries him back to shore; 20+10c, "Nanzi and the Tiger" - King Arey offers a huge reward for the capture of a tiger that has been raising havoc, but no one but Nanzi is willing to take the risk. Through trickery Nanzi induces the tiger to give him a ride into the camp of the King, where hidden soldiers take the tiger prisoner; 25+11c, "Shon Arey and the Balloon" - Compa Nanzi, anxious to get the throne suggests that the aging king take a vacation balloon trip, which results in an accident over the Caribbean, where the king is saved from drowning by a fisherman. Printing is by multicolor offset by Joh. Enschede & Sons, of Haarlem, Holland and as usual the semi-postal's sur-tax will be used for the support of the several child welfare and caring institutions on the six islands of the Netherland Antilles. There is no doubt that this issue will be of great interest to the collector of "Folklore" on stamps.

In earlier columns it was noted that many countries would be issuing postage stamps to commemorate the beginning of Martin Luther's reformatory movement 450 years ago. On Nov. 4th Finland issued a 0,40mk stamp portraying Luther after a portrait by Lucas Cranach the Elder. Printing was by a combination of photogravure and intaglio.

C. M. DRURY

Your MP Reports From Ottawa

This column is not about high resolution nuclear magnetic resonance. I suppose most Examiner readers know as little about that subject as I; but if you wanted expert information or advice about it, you could turn to Dr. William Schneider who has written a book on it and who recently became President of the National Research Council.

Dr. Schneider, who earned his Ph.D. in Physical Chemistry at McGill in 1941, has enjoyed a distinguished career in scientific research and administration. Before becoming President, he was Vice-President in charge of fundamental ("pure") research.

The Council is engaged in a vast array of pure and applied scientific, engineering and medical activities, many of which have unpronounceable and, to a layman, unintelligible names. (What do you make of lipoproteins, fibrogenesis, cryoscopy, microbial metabolites, differential monometry, photodegradation, neutron dosimetry or neothioinapharidine?) Others have a more familiar ring -- egg yolk proteins, plant tissue culture, and snow loads on roofs.

In this column, I will mention only two NRC projects, a contribution to Expo and the life of a satellite tracker.

Many of you may have visited the unusual looking "People Tree" which stood in front of the main Federal Pavilion on Isle Notre Dame. It was a six-storey structure carrying 1500 nylon panels, on 500 of which were printed photographs of Canadians.

A special type of dye was developed by NRC which would not fade in outdoor weather conditions or weaken the fabric. The inflammability of nylon offered another challenge. By using a new printing procedure, applying a special finish, incorporating flame-resistant (but non-printable) strips in the hems and sewing with an expensive new thread, the desired effect was achieved. I wonder how many of the 50 million visitors appreciated the ingenuity which went into this exhibit.

About 13 miles north of St. John's, Newfoundland, NRC has set up a satellite tracking station, one of 13 which make up a world-wide network.

In its six years of operation, it has provided information on 55 different satellites, including the Canadian Alouettes I and II.

An average satellite is in view of the station at predicted times for as long as 20 minutes on each orbit. Such a passage will be repeated three or four times at perhaps two-hour intervals followed by a much longer period in which no passages occur within the station's range. Thus, on certain days, it is possible for the station to be handling six to eight satellites involving 30 to 40 separate operations.

A typical day's operation for the 24-man station staff, working in three shifts, would include 20 recordings of the positions of satellites, 20 passages during which data are received from the satellites (and, on about half of which, command signals are sent to the satellites) and perhaps half a dozen camera shots of reflecting or flashing satellites against star background.

It sounds like a most unusual job.

Bulletins from Birdland Pellets

By Winifred E. Wilson

What does the word "pellet" make you think of? An ice pellet? A pill? Shot? We are thinking of a food pellet which is disgorged regularly by certain kinds of birds that go under the heading "carnivorous". It is indigestible food neatly wrapped into a little parcel and has the general appearance of a greyish cocoon. Scientists, biologists, ornithologists, and just ordinary birdwatchers find it very useful for finding out exactly what our predators eat. It proves to the general public that there actually are very few birds that go into the class called "harmful" or "injurious". Nearly all these meat eaters are beneficial.

All Owls, Accipiter Hawks, and several other birds such as Gulls and Whip-poor-wills bring up pellets by mouth. Owls serve as a very good example. They can be watched all year round as many of them stay in Canada throughout the winter. Like many other birds, Owls have their own favourite perches, and this is useful if we are interested in food pellets because we can be pretty certain that all found under one special tree must come from one individual. Being predators, no other species would want to come inside that territory, and only the mate of that particular species would be allowed there. Owls remain for a long time on the one perch, sleeping away the hours of daylight until darkness comes and they fly about finding food.

Owls catch their prey in their feet and swallow it whole unless it is so big that it has to be torn in pieces. The nutritious part is absorbed. But before more food is eaten all hair, fur, teeth, bones, feathers, scales (in fact anything that cannot be digested) are rolled into a solid, elongated ball by the action of the muscles of the stomach, and regurgitated. These pellets, made up of the remains of so many undesirable animals, prove beyond doubt that Owls are beneficial birds.

The remains of mice and rats are most often found in the pellets of the great majority of Owls. The little Screech Owl that often stays right in the suburbs of our large cities keeps on a varied diet, the exact animal food depending upon what is most accessible: beetles and moths, birds, frogs, crayfish, snails, reptiles, fish, bats, and small mammals. The Great Horned Owl goes for larger prey: skunks, opossums, cats, rabbits, and quite big birds -- all supplemented by mice and rats.

Aquatic Program On Three Levels

The YMCA has produced a swimming program for the purpose of developing sound water safety habits and recreational aquatic skills.

Basically, the aquatic program works on three levels. 1. Beginner -- designed to give the student confidence in himself in the water and an adaptability in the water once he has gained confidence. 2. Intermediate Level -- in this area the student is taught the primary skills in aquatics. The standard strokes: CRAWL, BREAST, BACK CRAWL and further on to the BUTTERFLY. Water safety is also taught at this level.

These skills are taught under what is known as the YMCA NATIONAL "5 CARD SYSTEM", it is the basic outline for the intermediate stage offered at the Westmount YMCA. 3. Advanced Level -- offers instruction in life saving, skin scuba and master swimmer, speed swimming, and representative team swimmer.

These courses are carried on year round in the Y. They are not just seasonal events.

As a matter of interest, the Y was the first organization to design a structured swim program and has been moving forward for almost one hundred years. Many years of implementation and a high standard of instruction has made this program successful.

In the past many people both youth and adult have participated in the Westmount "Y" Swimming Programs.

Younger Years -- WHS Students Storm City

By Vicki Percival

Westmount graduate students have yet another memory to take with them when they leave. This time it is set against the background of New York City. It all began last Thursday, November 9, when thirty-six students and two teachers, Mrs. Drummond and Mr. Stracina, boarded a bus destined for one of the largest cities in the world. Eight long hours later, the Seventeenth Annual U.N. Trip really started. The mad rush began on Broadway during the frantic attempt to get theater tickets.

CACTUS FLOWER

Probably the most popular was Cactus Flower. Many saw experiments in stage productions such as Black Comedy and After the Rain. The long-running musicals of I Do, I Do, and Fiddler on the Roof also suited many fancies. The official visit to the U.N. started at ten o'clock on Friday morning. Unfortunately, the Canadian Delegation could not meet with the students of W.H.S.; nevertheless, the two conferences which were attended by students proved to be very informative and in some cases, surprising.

FIFTH AVENUE

Fifth Avenue was the next target for invasion and it was many a sore foot and laden arms that returned that night. Saturday morning tried to piece together the city and the bus tour from the Empire State Building to The Statue of Liberty in New York harbour didn't miss much. There was further entertainment, cultural or otherwise, with the general hope that the bus trip home would be slumber smooth. Thus, while Radio City Music Hall, and Greenwich Village are still in New York, they nevertheless came home with thirty-six W.H.S. students to Westmount.

REMEMBRANCE DAY

On Friday, while certain students observed Veteran's Day in New York, the majority attended Remembrance Day Services at Westmount. There were two services, Grades seven, eight, and nine had theirs during the second period, and grades ten and eleven, third period. The service started with the singing of O Canada and the entry of the Colour Party. Derek Gaucher and Robert Morrow carried the flags, and when they had taken their places Mr. Buckmaster read the Scripture. The singing of "O God, our help in Ages past," followed. Mr. Horsnall then read the names of the Heroic Dead. The address was given by the Rev. Gordon Guy. Following were the Last Post, and the minutes of Silence, which were ended by the Reveille. The Last Post and Reveille were played by Steven Engels and Janice Oliver; and Larry Silver, the drums. Rev. Guy gave a concluding prayer, after which students returned to their classes.

OPEN HOUSE

Monday night was the scene of great activity, but it was not the students who were taking part in it. Monday was the night of the Home and School Open House, and many keen parents were seen racing up and down the halls in an effort to keep their child's schedule and meet his teacher. The evening started off with a meeting of the Home and School and parents in the auditorium, and was followed by the still eager participants of Westmount Day. Six trumpeters under the direction of Mrs. Florida played a trumpet fanfare, and then girls, wearing white and purple leotards, performed their match to the Danish Gym Team. Black costumes and coloured bows were the costumes for the next routine, the Alley Cat. The parents of Westmount were delighted by the rhythmic and dance groups, directed by Mrs. Halsall and Miss Helleur.

TYPING POOL

However, the students at Westmount realize that there must be Work with Pleasure; therefore, several students have started a typing pool open to both students and teachers. The price is ten, and fifteen cents per sheet, and twenty and twenty-five cents per ditto. The condition of term papers and essays should pick up considerably thanks to these few devoted students. Business for the Red Cross has also improved and there has been a continual run of sales, raffles and carnivals. One class's car wash just made it in time.

St. Paul's Student Council Meets

by Martine Del Giudice

On Tuesday, the Student Council of Saint Paul's Academy held its first meeting. The executive, which is composed of Susan JOHNSON, Andrée GAREAU, Debbie HUSHION and Diana SCHUTZ planned the framework of activities for this year. As funds are needed to cover the expenses of the clubs, the council decided to hold a chocolate bar sale next week.

The International Club held its third meeting on Wednesday, in which the Republic of Lebanon was under discussion. The meeting was made possible thanks to the courtesy of Mr. George RABBAT, Manager - Canada of Middle East Airlines-Air Liban. For this week's meeting Martine Del Giudice was President, Patsy LANGAN was recording secretary and Valérie SECARDIN was Treasurer. Guests of honor were Sister A. M. MULCAIR, Sister M. MURPHY, Miss K. McMORROW, Sister SULLIVAN, and Mademoiselle G. LABBE. The room was decorated with numerous scenic posters of Lebanese countryside and cities, music was played, and Valérie SECARDIN modelled an original

Lebanese costume. After the opening remarks, Betty BRAULT, Mary GREEN, Judy BEDFORD and Valérie SECARDIN spoke on different geographical aspects of the country. Cathy COLVEY and Martine Del Giudice examined the history of Lebanon. A break was taken in which slides of Lebanon were

Ladies' Auxiliary To Be Re-established

Unity Boys' & Girls' Club is entertaining in a big way. Miss Barbara Halperin, Girls' Program Director, sent out a letter to all former members of the Ladies' Auxiliary asking them to come to the Club for tea tonight. Children from 1 - 5 will be cared for in the Games Room by Group Leaders during the meeting. A letter was also sent out to new club member's mothers asking them to join in. The idea is to reactivate the auxiliary to assist with the many functions held at the club. The Auxiliary in the past took a great interest in the activities of the members and have also been most generous to the Club by donating useful equipment such as Ping Pong Tables, a Kiln and many other articles. It is hoped that this Auxiliary will be reformed and will be as interested in their children's activities as they have been in the past. If any mothers failed to receive an invitation, please come along anyway. It is very difficult to track down all those who have recently moved from Selby St. and the environs. We welcome anyone interested in this project.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA:

A tea was also held last week for members of this group from McGill. Some twenty young girls who are interested in doing volunteer work at the Club were entertained and shown around the Club.

VAMPIRE GROUP CLUB:

The Penny Carnival which was to be held last week by this group had to be postponed and did not get under way until last Tuesday. However, better late than never! This group is under the direction of a new volunteer Mr. Alex Cullen. Welcome to Unity.

ST. JOHN AMBULANCE:

Mrs. Thornhill and Miss Grant, two very faithful volunteers, are continuing this course and have many interested students. It is held every Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

TEEN COUNCIL:

An open meeting of the Teen body was held last week and much firey discussion took place. Further meetings will be held to hopefully settle matters which were causing dissention.

OPEN DANCE:

From all accounts this event held at the Club on November 3rd was a great success. The band was excellent but expensive and the crowd, although not as large as expected was very select and well behaved. It is hoped that such an evening can be repeated in the not too distant future.

Laurie Maxwell:

A most interesting letter was received from Laurie last week. She is in Denmark taking a gymnastic course in Ollerup. She finds it most interesting but the language rather difficult. Laurie was the Girls' Worker at Unity last summer.

DANCING:

Don't forget the dancing classes held every afternoon by Brenda and Karen. If you can't dance you'll be an expert in no time if you attend a few classes.

COMBINED BANQUET:

For many years very successful banquets have been held at Unity. A Father and a Son and Mother & Daughter. This year we are combining these events. The date is Tuesday night December 5th. More details later but start planning now to attend.

Literary Society

The Dominion-Douglas Ladies' Literary Society will meet on Friday, 17 November at 2:30 p.m. in the Church Hall.

Mr. Leslie Roberts, Author, Broadcaster and Columnist, will speak on "Canada - as the Centennial Ends". Musical entertainment will be provided by Arminé Alexinian - cellist.

Tea will be served. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone.

Guest Speaker

Dr. Thomas Francoeur will be the guest speaker at the Westmount Women's Club on Friday, November 24, at 2:30 p.m.

The president, Mrs. R. T. Stackhouse, will preside and tea will be served.

projected, while all enjoyed Lebanese cake "Basboozza". The meeting then continued with Christine Reutlinger, Patricia Marks and M. Del Giudice discussing the economic life of the country. Paemela Marks and Nicole Gareau examined social life, customs and points of special interest. Last but not neast Doreen DAY discussed the fine arts. While all were invited to visit the numerous exhibits displayed, Lebanese folkloric music was played. All members drew from this meeting an enriching knowledge of this small but beautiful country situated in the Middle east. Once again we would like to express our most sincere gratitude to Middle East Airlines-Air Liban for having helped to make our meeting a complete success.

The Y. C. S. (Young Christian Students) held its second meeting on Wednesday in which plans for the annual Christmas dinner were made. Seven committees have been decided on, and the girls in charge of each will be appointed at the next meeting: Serving committee, Food committee, Reception committee, Set Up committee, Decoration com-

Bible Study; Paul to the Philippians

3:17-18: "many live as enemies of the cross of Christ".

Surely Paul must have in mind here what he said earlier in his letter (2:4-11) about Christ Jesus who "did not consider his external divine glory a thing to be eagerly clung to, but emptied himself ... became a man ... and became obedient unto death, even death on a cross".

This is the example we are to follow said Paul (2:5). To follow any other way would make them "enemies of the cross". The cross was central to Paul's teaching, and he was not one to mince words and water down his message: "We preach Christ crucified ..." (I.Cor. 1:23).

Christian Science Sermon Subject

How human progress is promoted by obedience to God will be explored at the services in all Christian Science churches this Sunday, in the reading of the week's Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Soul and Body".

Relevant Bible selections will include, from Isaiah: "Thy sun shall no more go down; neither shall thy moon withdraw itself: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended."

Explanatory passages from the denominational text-book will include: "Our theories make the same mistake regarding Soul and Body that Ptolemy made regarding the solar system. They insist that soul is in body and mind therefore tributary to matter. Astronomical science has destroyed the false theory as to the relations of the celestial bodies, and Christian Science will surely destroy the greater error as to our terrestrial bodies. The true idea and Principle of man will then appear" ("Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy).

Laymen's Sunday at St. Andrew's

Sunday, November 19, will be Laymen's Sunday and the eleven o'clock Worship Service will be conducted by the President of The Men of St. Andrew's, J. Arthur Redmond, assisted by Messrs. Newlands Coburn, Donald Sutherland and Mrs. Wm. Houston.

MRS. JACK R. LAZARE, 36 Aberdeen avenue, and Mrs. Stanton Friedman, 507 Roslyn avenue, Patrons Co-chairmen for the Angels' Ball "Bravo Expo", which takes place in the Queen Elizabeth Hotel, on Saturday, December 9. This event is under the distinguished patronage of the Hon. Prime Minister of Canada and Mrs. Lester Pearson, the Hon. Premier of the Province of Quebec and Mrs. Daniel Johnson, His Worship the Mayor of Montreal and Mrs. Jean Drapeau. Honoured guests will be the former chief executives of Expo '67.

Lambert-Grywin

The marriage of Elizabeth Sophia, daughter of Mrs. Elena De Grzywinski-Grywin, to Mr. Goulding Lambert, of Winnipeg, Man., son of Mrs. William B. Lambert, of 6 Braeside place, and of the late Mr. Lambert, took place recently in the Church of the Ascension of Our Lord, Westmount, the Rev. David Fitzpatrick, of St. Philip Neri, and the Rev. Canon J. N. Doidge, of St. Matthias' Church officiating. Mr. Aubrey Fox played the wedding music and the St. Matthias boys' choir was in attendance. Standards of white gladioli, pompons and chrysanthemums were used as decorations.

The bride, who was given away by Mr. E. Evans Christmas, was in a gown of antique satin, the bodice having a slight decolleté appliqued with Chantilly lace and sleeves of similar lace, and a cathedral train appliqued with lace. She wore a full-length mantilla of antique silk and carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses and shasta daisies.

Mrs. Sally Lowndes, as matron of honor and Mrs. John Carter, Miss Dixi Lambert, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Georges Mayrand, and Mrs. Thomas B. Thompson, as attendants, were in frocks of Nile and blue silk brocade, the bodices having scoop necklines trimmed with tiny matching flowers, with similar appliques on the cathedral sleeves. They wore Nile green carnations in their hair to match the flowers in their bouquets.

Mr. W. Ross Lambert acted as best man for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. John Markey, Mr. Anthony Maxwell, Mr. Blair McRobie, Dr. Jonathan L. Meakins and Mr. Michael Werleman.

Mrs. Grywin, the bride's mother, was in a gown of green, yellow and beige printed chiffon, under a coat of green silk fashioned on empire lines. She wore a matching looped hat, taupe accessories and had a cluster of Nile green carnations pinned to her handbag.

Mrs. Lambert, the mother of the bridegroom, was in an ensemble of oyster silk, the jacket having a round beaded collar. She wore white and wine ostrich feathers in her hair and had a cluster of orchids pinned to her pearl beaded handbag.

The reception was held at the Montreal Badminton and Squash Club, where yellow shasta daisies and bronze pompons were used as decorations.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Lambert left for Bermuda, the bride travelling in an ensemble of blue ottoman wool, and wearing tiny bronze pompons in her hair and tan accessories.

Not interested in Als says Newman

Former Westmount High "Old Boys" president John Newman denied all rumours to the effect that he might purchase into the Montreal Allouettes in an interview on Tuesday.

Mr. Newman admitted that there was a time when he had been interested in the club but maintained that that time was long past. "My interest in the Allouettes extends only to seeing their games" he said.

"Most of my free time is taken up with my own club the Montreal Beavers." Mr. Newman pointed out with some justifiable pride that the Beavers were "the winningest team in town" having played fewer games than the Als and having won twice as many.

"Y" Explores Education Needs

The Westmount YMCA is half-way through its Fall Term of Continuing Education Courses. It is hoped that residents of Westmount and other surrounding communities will be participating more in their Winter Program which begins in January.

The Adult Program Department of the Westmount "Y" is presently exploring the needs for Family Educational Courses and Social and Recreational Clubs. They are also attempting to make learning easier and more enjoyable by further involving its participants in program and operation.

Because the YMCA is a lay organization which is operated by community members the Westmount Branch is encouraging non-members and members to participate. By this we mean, that its members make major decisions which directly affect the "Y". The Adult Program Department is the concern of a committee of volunteer laymen and women who work with the "Y" staff to produce the best program possible.

Those who are interested in developing themselves and others and who are interested in contributing to the program which the "Y" offers, are invited to talk with its staff members.

The "Y" Staff feels that, with the increase in automation and impersonalization, there is a growing need for the individual to be more personally involved, rather than just be an insignificant part of a very large whole.

It is imperative that Youth and Adults build closer relationships within the family and community. Based on this concept, the "Y" intends to offer Parent-Youth Communication Courses, Methods in Guidance for parents, EARLY RECREATION Lacrosse, a fast-moving netted stick game, was played in America before Columbus landed in 1492. Originated by the Iroquois Indians and used as a training requirement for warriors, this strenuous game was adopted in 1840 by the white man. It is now reputed to be north America's oldest organized sport.

Understanding Teenagers and similar courses. These are designed to meet the personal needs of Adults & Youth in this increasingly complex world.

The Young Men's Christian Association wishes to emphasize that its wide range of programs is open to all members of the family. Address all inquiries to Westmount Branch, YMCA, 4585 Sherbrooke St. West, or phone 937-3916.

Walk for OXFAM

Several thousand healthy Montrealers are expected to turn out early on Saturday, November 18, to take part in a marathon walk in favour of starving poor all over the world.

The "Miles for Millions" walk, organized by the Montreal branch of OXFAM (Oxford Committee for Famine Relief) of Canada and other organizations such as L'Organisation Outre-Mer, Le Pain Partagé, the YMCA, Brébeuf College, etc., is one of many such walks held in all the major cities of Canada during 1967. The first walk, held in Ottawa early in May, attracted over 3,500 participants and collected over $80,000 for international development. So far over $250,000 have been collected by walks in Toronto, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver.

The Montreal walk, expected to attract the greatest turnout of Canadians of all ages, will cover a route of 27 miles, starting from the EXPO Autostadium and finishing at City Hall, Octagonal Park, Ville St. Michel. The participants will walk as much of the course as they like, and each will be backed by a number of sponsors who will pledge to give a certain sum for every mile walked by their nominee. In the past, sponsors have backed walkers for sums ranging from 10 cents to $2.00 per mile, and walkers with multiple sponsors have walked for as much as $50 a mile. The money collected will be donated for various international development activities selected by a special committee of well-known people.

The long route will be closely patrolled all day during the march by Police cars, St. John Ambulance vans and other vehicles. Check-points, manned by volunteers, will be established at 3-mile intervals all along the course, where medical aid facilities will be established and light refreshments served.

Water giving you a hard time?

Buy a water softener and lead the soft life.

Install a water softener: you save both time and money.
Install a water softener: you'll see a BIG difference in your cooking and washing.

That's because a water softener in your home removes harsh minerals—leaving the water soft and easy to get along with.

When you have soft water on tap your wash will be brighter. Babies' clothes will be softer and your dishes will sparkle. Minerals in hard water make soaps and detergents far less efficient. They cause the grey scum you often see as a ring around tubs and basins. So, when you wash clothes in hard water the scum gets into fabrics leaving them dull and rough. Imagine what this scum does to your hair and skin. Try a bath in soft water to see and feel the difference—you'll step out of the tub soothed, smoothed and really clean.

Minerals in hard water solidify and cause all kinds of problems: they build up in pipes, kettles, steam irons and even dish washers and washing machines. Result: costly repairs and replacements. None of this will happen with a water softener. Everything will come clean quickly, easily—you will use less soap and detergent. The food you cook will be more tender! The tea and the coffee you drink will have a flavour you never knew. Be a "softie"! Buy a water softener, and enjoy a softer life. No matter who made your water softener, no matter where you bought it, no matter how it works, Windsor has a salt that's right for it.
