JAPANESE ARMIES FOLLOWING UP THEIR GREAT VICTORIES

Doubt Expressed as to Whether Kuropatkin Will be Able to Reach Mukden—Russians Cling to the Hope That the Japanese Are Divided and That Kuropatkin Will be Able to Defeat Both Armies.

Tokio, September 2, 3 p.m.—It is reported here that a conflagration is raging at Liao Yang.

The chief of staff of the centre Japanese army (General Nodzu's), telegraphing early this morning, reported that the Japanese centre was continuing to advance to-day with the object of taking a line from Shinchiyen to Liao Yang and effecting a rejunction with the Japanese left, commanded by General Oku.

THE RUSSIAN RETREAT.

The Russians began to retreat on the right centre at Liao Yang early Thursday. They were thrown into great confusion while attempting to cross to the right bank of the Taitse River. The Japanese, pursuing them vigorously, seized a Russian cannon which they used to shell the Liao Yang railway station. Field Marshal Oyama's right attacked a heavy force of Russians in the vicinity of Haiyingtai, 12 miles north-east of Liao Yang, at 11 o'clock Thursday. His left began at dawn to-day, pressing the Russians toward Tatzho. It is thought that he will severely punish the Russians.

JAPANESE CASUALTIES.

The Japanese casualties in the Liao Yang engagement have not yet been ascertained officially. It is announced that they will not exceed ten thousand.

London, September 2.—The Japanese Legation here had a despatch from Tokio, under to-day's date, giving Field Marshal Oyama's report of the fighting of Thursday. It is practically identical with the press despatches from Tokio. It specifies the number of Russian cannon captured, and subsequently used to bombard Liao Yang station, as being "ten and a half centimetre cannon."

RUSSIAN STOCK OF OPTIMISM NOT YET EXHAUSTED.

The War Office Professes to Believe That it is All Part of a Definite Plan.

St. Petersburg, September 2.—1.25 p. m.—No absolute information has reached the War Office confirming the reports that Liao Yang has been occupied by the Japanese, but it is positively known that General Kuropatkin decided to withdraw from his positions south of Liao Yang to the north or right bank of the Taitse River, Tuesday night, and the orders were actually given, as stated in these despatches yesterday. The War Office presumes that the movement was carried out, as the latest advices yesterday were that the crossing of the river was not being opposed. The fact, disclosed for the first time in these despaches last night that the strongest Russian position prepared by General Kuropatkin was not around the town of Liao Yang, as the public had been led to believe, but on the right or north bank of the Taitse River, was a secret so successfully guarded that not even an intimation of it had leaked out. It is now explained that the Russian commander-in-chief had all along anticipated that the Japanese, when they made their advance on Liao Yang, would pursue the identical tactics which had been so successful in every previous stage of the campaign, and while attacking in front would attempt by a wide detour to outflank the Russian position. This time General Kuropatkin was not caught napping. He was prepared for just what happened, and so soon as he received word that General Kuroki had crossed the Taitse, twenty miles above Liao Yang and was moving westward, Kuropatkin met the move by throwing his whole army over at night.

GAINED AN ADVANTAGE.

By this piece of strategy Kuropatkin, in the opinion of the general staff, gained an immense advantage. His army is concentrated on one side of the river and the road is still open for his retirement northward, while the Japanese armies, which must act in unison, are separated by the river, which places Kuropatkin in a position to oppose Kuroki with his whole army, while Generals Oku and Odzu stranded on the other side, which gives Kuropatkin a possible opportunity to imitate Napoleon's tactics and defeat the opposing forces in detail.

"There is only one parallel in history," said a high officer of the War Office to-day, "and that is Metz, when Prince Frederick Charles straddled the Moselle with the German armies. But, Kuropatkin has not repeated Marshal Bazaine's mistake of sitting still while the enemy closed him in."

Kuropatkin's great strength in cavalry, in the opinion of the war office, will stand him in good stead now.

Whether the whole of Kuropatkin's army got across yesterday is not definitely established, the War Office not having yet received complete advices, the latest information being that the crossing of the river was not being interfered with. In view of the Tokio despatch received this morning, it is possible that the troops forming the Japanese screen and a portion of the Japanese right flank did not succeed in crossing the river. There are two good, regular bridges at Liao Yang, over which the Russian crossing was effected, and then there is the railroad bridge, about two miles down the stream.

The Tokio report that Kuroki's forces were in action at Heiyingtai, north of the Taitse River, indicates that General Kuropatkin has already engaged him with a portion of his army.

It is understood that throughout the fighting of the last few days Kuropatkin's main reserve did not leave their position on the right bank of the river.

DON'T ADMIT THIS.

The report that telegraphic communication between Liao Yang and Mukden has been severed, is not admitted at the War Office, which points out that it has only been receiving two telegrams daily from Generals Kuropatkin and Sakharoff. Two were received yesterday and two are expected to-day, although none had been delivered up to noon.

The absence of press telegrams is explained, as announced in these despatches yesterday, by the transfer of the head telegraph office at Liao Yang to Shakhe, fifteen miles north, which was necessitated by the fact that Japanese shells were dropping into the office, although the line was situated on the north bank of the Taitse River. A shell killed two operators Monday. The field telegraph, which is working between Shakhe and Kuropatkin's headquarters, is not available to correspondents, who would have to send their messages by express rider to Shakhe, a difficult task owing to the heavy roads.

INTEREST AT WHITE HEAT.

The public here is still in complete ignorance of the new phase which the battle entered upon yesterday, but interest is at white heat. Every foreign telegraph is eagerly pounced upon, the newspapers printing extra editions four or five times a day, a thing heretofore unprecedented in the history of the Russian capital.

TERRIFIC FIGHT AROUND KOULACK HILL.

St. Petersburg, September 2.—8.20 a. m.—A delayed despatch to the Official Messenger from Liao Yang under date of August 31, gives some details of the three days' fighting from August 29. The despatch fails, however, to throw additional light on the state of telegraphic communication because it arrived Thursday morning, too late for publication. Nevertheless, it is among the last communications.

The correspondent states that he was with a battery on Koulack Hill, to the left of the railway line, that dawn Monday when the Japanese guns opened. "It was," he continues, "a simultaneous salute by hundreds of cannon, and during the first hour the firing was simply terrific. We were under a perfect rain of shrapnel bullets and splinters of shells. The Japanese did not know the country or the location of our defences, so they constantly shifted their batteries, trying to search out our positions.

"It was in the course of these manoeuvres that Koulack Hill became an object of interest to the Japanese artillerymen. The sight was a beautiful but terrifying one. Although we were masked and tolerably protected, the side of our hill was rent and torn by bursting shells, dirt, dust and rocks filled the air, sand and smoke hung like a golden halo overhead. We watched the shells fall upon the ruins of the thousand-year-old watch tower where they completed the ravages of the centuries.

"The Japanese got our range and tried to enfilade us from a village on the right. Here we had the advantage in knowing the ranges, and simply smothered them with shells. Consequently, the Japanese withdrew hurriedly. A second attempt to enfilade us was made at 10 o'clock in the morning, but again it failed. We swept the Chinese cornfields whence the fire came and turned out the Japanese gunners like a nest of angry wasps. Our rifle brigade held the village of Maletung against the rolling waves of Japanese infantry thrown out against that position time and again, until our reserves swept down and cleared the front at the point of the bayonet.

CANADA'S COMING GOVERNOR-GENERAL

The London Times Speaks Highly of Earl Grey.

FAMILY FAMED IN HISTORY

Lady Minto's Brother is a Man of Affairs With a Notable Record.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, September 2. — The Times says Earl Grey combines the essential qualities of success in his earnest belief in the Empire and with his eminently conciliatory temper he will hold the balance even between the parties, and we doubt not will be able to maintain with firmness the position as representative of the Crown which we are bound to maintain. He will be liked by the French-Canadians and English, and will maintain cordial relations with the United States, while at the same time he will know how to treat those petulant demonstrations of a separatist spirit which now and then from a few obscure quarters claim a certain notice. His African experience will lead him to look with sympathy on the expansion of the North-West. He has the gift of imagination. Regions large as states are ready for the plough, and no problem will more appeal to Lord Grey's mind than development of Canada as a field for British imigrants.

EARL GREY,
Who will succeed Lord Minto as Governor-General.

THE 4TH EARL GREY.

Albert Henry George Grey, 4th Earl, LL.M., was born November 28, 1851 and is the son of General Hon. Charles Grey and Caroline, daughter of Sir Thomas Harvie Farquhar. In 1877 he married Alice, 3rd daughter of Robert Stayner Holford, M.P., Westonbirt, Gloucestershire. The present Earl was educated at Harrow and at Trinity College, Cambridge (Senior in Law and History Tripos, 1873). He was elected to the House of Commons and sat for South Northumberland in the Liberal interests from 1880 to 1885. He represented Northumberland (Tynside) 1885-86. In 1894 he succeeded his uncle and became Earl Grey, entering into estates to the extent of 17,600 acres. He went to South Africa in 1896 and was the Administrator of Rhodesia in 1896-97. In 1898, he became a director of the British South Africa Company and still remains such. He has been Lord Lieutenant of Northumberland since 1899, and lives at Howick House, Lesbury, Northumberland. He is a brother of Lady Minto. His oldest son and heir, Charles Robert Grey, Viscount Howick, was born December 10, 1879, and is a second lieutenant in the 1st Life Guards. Earl Grey published "Hubert Hervey, a Memoir," in 1899.

A NOTABLE FAMILY.

Lord Minto's successor numbers among his immediate ancestors, two famed in history, one a great soldier and the other a great statesman.

General Charles Grey, the first Earl, was a distinguished soldier. He served on the staff of Prince Ferdinand of Brunswick in the Seven Years' War, and was wounded at Minden. While his son, the second Earl, who became so famous in political life, was making verses at Eton, the father was serving against the revolted colonists in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. While the son, as the then young member for Northumberland, was denouncing Pitt's war aginst the Convention, the veteran soldier was destroying the remnant of the French colonial empire by the capture of Martinique and Guadaloupe. When Napoleon threatened an invasion, General Grey took command of the southern district, and at the peace of Amiens he was rewarded with a peerage. His elder brother, Sir Henry Grey of Howick, the head of the family, had supported the Government. But the political career of young Grey, who was heir presumptive to the family estates, took a different complexion, which needs to be explained by the circumstances in which it began.

WHY GREY OPPOSED PITT.

Young Grey expected to occupy the seat which had been his uncle's; and his early years were spent in preparation for a Parliamentary career. He was sent to Eton and proceeded thence to Cambridge. William Pitt, a youth five years older, was then in residence as a master of arts, studiously paying court to the Whigs of the University; and in 1780 he came forward as a candidate for the Academical seat. His name stood last on the poll, but he was brought in elsewhere, and his first speech proved him a man of the first mark. The unparalleled successes which followed portended grave changes. Pitt's elevation to the premiership, his brilliant and hard-fought battle in the house, and his complete rout of the Whig party at the general elections of 1784, when he came in for Cambridge at the head of the poll, threatened the great territorial interest with nothing less than extinction. It was to this interest that Grey belonged; and hence, when at length returned for Northumberland in 1786, he at once came forward as a vigorous assailant of the Pitt Government. He was hailed by the Opposition, and associated with Fox, Burke and Sheridan, as a manager in the impeachment of Warren Hastings. During the nineteen years which remained of Fox's career he followed the great Whig statesman with absolute fidelity, and succeeded him as leader of the party.

Without going into the history of his career in Parliament, it may be said that he was never anxious for power, being actuated by a sense of duty rather than inclination. When the Reform Bill was passed in the House of Commons it was Grey's task to introduce it to the Lords, where it was defeated. The last months of 1831 were the beginning of a political crisis such as England had not seen since 1668. The two extreme parties, the Ultra-Radicals and the Ultra-Tories, were ready for civil war.

Between them stood the ministry and the majority of the intelligent peace-loving people of England. Their course of action was soon decided. The bill must be passed and there were only two ways of doing it. One was to declare the consent of the House of Lords to the measure unnecessary; the other to create, if necessary, new peers in sufficient number to outvote the opposition. The question whether the ministry should demand the King's consent to such a creation of peers was debated in the Cabinet. Brougham proposed it, and gradually the others were won over. Grey was from the first opposed to such an unconstitutional proceeding, but to have resigned would have broken up the ministry. The breaking up of the ministry just then meant revolution. When the actual time came for asking the King's consent to swamping the House with new peers it was Grey who—then became Premier—had the task of seeking that consent. It was reluctantly given in writing, and has been called the Magna Carta of responsible government. It established the right of a ministry to break down by the most convenient means a factious opposition in the Lords; and this right has never since been practically disputed. Grey had won. Of course it was not necessary to carry out the threat, which would have been equivalent to the abolition of the House. The King's consent once made known, a sufficient number of peers withdrew to permit the bill to pass. This movement was headed by the Duke of Wellington, himself, and the bill was carried by a majority of 84.

In public life Grey could always be bold, strenuous and self-sacrificing; but he was little disposed for the active work of the politician. A certain stiffness and reserve ever seemed to hedge him in. The scrupulous uprightness of Grey's political and private character completed the ascendency which he gained; and no politician could be named who, without being a statesman of the highest class, has left a name more enviably placed in English history.

SUCCESS

Sir William Van Horne as a Type.

BEGAN EARLY, WORKED HARD

Only by Being Enthusiastic

Over Your Work Can You Do It Well.

All men who discuss success here in Canada quote the example of Sir William Van Horne.

They regard his success as expressive of all the things which are most interesting and important in analyzing this question.

Before I interviewed Sir William I had secured a clear idea of his life, his character, and his success from what others had told me and from a study of the great enterprise with which he is so intimately associated.

From Sir William himself I secured very little information as to his own success. That is a subject which he declined to discuss.

"No man can be considered a success until his life-work is over," was the way he expressed it.

Sir William's life-work might end to-day and it would be worthy the man.

It is by what a man does that we judge his success. It is by what a man is that we estimate his influence.

What Sir William has done and is doing is the story of hard work.

His hard work began when he was a boy.

Of course he began low down in the scale of advancement.

All great men seem to do that. Early in his career he was a telegrapher.

Sir William Van Horne as a Telegrapher

The way he did his work as a telegrapher is the way he has done all his work.

He did all the work that was coming his way.

He was always down at the office ahead of time.

He was always ready to stay at the office when his shift was over.

He wanted to do all he was paid to do, and a good deal more.

He wanted to do more because if he did more he would eventually be paid for more.

Those who only do what they are paid for doing never get paid for more than they do, nor quite as much.

We all have to do a little more than we are paid for or there would be no profit in employing our services. Those who do a good deal more than they are paid for are the ones whom it is most profitable to employ.

There is a universal law of compensation that governs this.

Read Emerson on compensation, if you want the higher philosophy of it.

The Every Day Philosophy of Compensation

The every day philosophy of compensation is an open book.

It is one of the books you can read in the store or office as you work, and the boss won't call you down for it.

If you don't read this book the boss may call you down for not knowing the rules that govern your success and his success.

Sir William Van Horne had read this book—everybody who succeeds has to read it.

It is the book of life.

Said Sir William—"If you're getting $30 or $40 a month as a telegrapher and do $60 or $80 worth of work, you'll get

THE RUSSIANS ABANDON LIAO YANG

General Kuroki's Flanking Movement Forces Kuropatkin to Take His Forces Across The Taitse River.

Russian Army is Probably in a Critical Condition as Communications to Mukden Are Probably Cut—Fighting at Port Arthur Has Been Suspended.

St. Petersburg, September 1.—General Kuropatkin has withdrawn his whole army to the right bank of the Taitse River, to meet General Kuroki's flanking movement.

Tokio, September 1, 7 p.m.—At daybreak to-day the Japanese army on the left delivered a fierce and successful assault against the heights to the west of Hainglingtun, and the high ground to the west of Shoushanpao. It pierced the Russian lines, and probably later forced the retirement of the Russian troops from their position on the right and centre. Marquis Oyama telegraphs that his losses in these assaults were heavy.

It is believed here that General Kuropatkin has been sweepingly defeated.

THE NEWS IN LONDON.

London, September 2.—Yesterday's news from the seat of war closed with the receipt of two despatches, giving information of a most significant character, as bearing on the domination of Manchuria at the close of the present campaign.

The first came from St. Petersburg, filed there at 10.16 p.m., and said that General Kuropatkin had withdrawn his whole army to the right bank of the Taitse river, so as to meet General Kuroki's flanking movement. The inference drawn from this despatch was that Liao Yang had been evacuated, that city lying on the left bank of the river.

Nothing to confirm this was received until several hours later, when a despatch from St. Petersburg, dated September 2, and timed at 1.26 this morning, said that "The news of the evacuation of Liao Yang and the withdrawal of the Russian army to the right bank of the Taitse river had caused intense excitement and disappointment."

WITHDRAWAL NECESSARY.

Late Thursday night a St. Petersburg correspondent obtained an opinion from the War Office that the withdrawal to the right bank of the Taitse River became necessary, so that the Russians would be able to repel a blow in that direction and that Gen. Kuropatkin's movement was the carrying out of a well defined idea, rather than a retreat. The same despatch points out with notable lack of comment that the Japanese took advantage of Gen. Kuropatkin's withdrawal, to occupy the city of Liao Yang.

TRAIN SERVICE INTERRUPTED

The second despatch which may have a significant bearing on the campaign is that filed at Mukden at 9.27 p.m. on Thursday, stating that the train service between Mukden and Liao Yang was interrupted, and it may mean the cutting of railway communication, which would deprive Gen. Kuropatkin of an opportunity to retreat to his more northerly base at Mukden. As pointed out in the St. Petersburg despatch the Mukden correspondent does not mention whether the telegraphic communications are open.

GREAT REJOICING IN JAPAN'S CAPITAL.

Tokio, September 1.—(8 p. m.)—Tokio rings with shouts and cheers for the victory at Liao Yang. Lantern-bearing crowds swing through the streets and swarm around the staff officers, shouting "Banzai."

The details of to-day's fighting are scanty. It is only known that at dawn to-day General Oku's army was hurled against the Russian right centre on the southern line, and that the Russians were forced to abandon their line and positions and retreat. Their pursuit is now in progress. The result of this pursuit and the result of the fierce battle waged on the eastern line, where General Kuroki is assailing the force which held long screened Liao Yang, together with the abandonment of the Russian right centre on the southern line, exposes the Russian left. But here the Russian force is so heavy that it may possibly be able to protect and extricate itself.

The question of the occupation of Liao Yang by the Japanese is in doubt. The official despatches do not make mention of such occupation, but it is assumed that the Russians are withdrawing through Liao Yang, and that the Japanese possibly occupied it late to-day.

To-night no estimates are obtainable of the losses on either side. Field Marshal Oyama describes his losses in the morning assault as heavy. The early success of the attack was somewhat unexpected, on account of the strength of the Russians, and the nature of the Russian defences. It is confidently believed that Field Marshal Oyama will press the pursuit with desperate vigour, and inflict on General Kuropatkin the most crushing blow possible. It is believed that his trophies will prove valuable. It is the opinion here that the Russians were not able to carry many guns with them, and that they were forced to abandon or destroy vast quantities of stores.

There is a universal belief that General Kuropatkin suffered an overwhelming defeat in giving the Japanese possession of Liao Yang. The Government will not confirm this. It has issued nothing later than the report of the successful rush at dawn whereby the Japanese left pierced the Russian line on the heights four miles south of Liao Yang, and west of Shoushanpao, compelling the enemy to withdraw from the right and centre positions, with the victors in pursuit. It is known that the success to which several days' fighting led has been gained at enormous sacrifice of life, but the various guesses as to the number of casualties are worthless. Field Marshal Oyama, the Japanese commander-in-chief, telegraphs that he lost heavily in assaulting Liao Yang., but gives no figures. General Kuroki admits that his losses were 2,225 between August 24 and 28.

The other commanders have made no report of their losses. An estimate of 25,000 casualties on both sides is not regarded as excessive.

KEEN DISAPPOINTMENT AT ST. PETERSBURG.

St. Petersburg, September 2.—(1.26 a.m.)—The news of the evacuation of Liao Yang and the withdrawal of the Russian army to the right bank of the Taitse River reached only a small section of the people of St. Petersburg at a late hour and caused intense excitement and disappointment. The majority of the inhabitants retired to rest believing that the Russian arms had again been successful and that the Japanese attacks had been repelled. Ugly suspicions, however, had been rife during the day, owing to the absence of press telegrams from Liao Yang, leading to the belief that the communications had been cut by General Kuroki. The following statement was obtained from the War Office at ten o'clock Thursday night:

"General Kuroki's army crossed in force to the right bank of the Taitse River, and it therefore became necessary for the Russians to be in a position to repel a blow in this direction. In view of this development in the operations, General Kuropatkin decided to abandon his positions on the left bank and to concentrate his whole army on the other side of the river. This position is of the strongest, both in character and in site. The great issue will be finally decided there.

"By withdrawing to this position the Russian army avoids the danger of being divided by the river and enjoys the advantage of compactness.

"General Kuropatkin's move, therefore, is not to be considered as a retreat, but rather as the carrying out of a well-defined idea."

LIAO YANG ABANDONED.

The withdrawal of the Russians to the right bank involved the abandonment of Liao Yang, which is situated on the left bank. The Japanese took advantage of this to occupy the city, but the sternest part of the fighting is still before them unless General Kuropatkin decides at the last hour to again fall back to the northward. It is more than likely, however, that he will decide to finish the fight. He has the Japanese divided by the river, thus effectually turning the tables on his foes. The determined pursuit by the Japanese of the Russian outposts when General Kuropatkin gave the first order to withdraw was probably due to their anxiety to keep the Russians south of Liao Yang until General Kuroki should be able to strengthen the south-east. General Kuropatkin, however, cleverly saw the ruse and avoided it.

Up to the hour of filing this despatch the War Office has not given out the details of the fighting of September 1, but it is believed that this fighting exceeded in fierceness that of any previous day.

The absence of press telegrams from Liao Yang on September 1, aroused suspicion that changes of importance were proceeding which the military censors did not wish to be made known.

A telegram from a correspondent filed at 9.27 on the evening of September 1, states that the train between Mukden and Liao Yang has been interrupted, but the despatch does not mention whether telegraphic communications are open.

THE ATTACK ON PORT ARTHUR HAS BEEN SUSPENDED.

After Continuous Fighting for Several Days the Japs Find it Necessary to Rest.

Tokio, September 2. — Popular estimates of the date of the fall of Port Arthur incline to the last week in September.

London, September 2. — A despatch from Shanghai to the Daily Mail says recent advices from Tokio state that the general attack on Port Arthur having lasted since August 18, it became necessary to give the troops a rest and make some changes in their organization. Military circles are now intentionally laying great stress on the difficulty of the enterprise and urging patience, presumably to prepare the public for a postponement in taking the fortress. The original programme has evidently been modified, as it has been found impossible to press forward operations as the Japanese hoped. There is general surprise that the place has been held so long, and it is said that the defenders have shown themselves stronger and more resolute than their countrymen who are fighting elsewhere. Another cause of the delay in the fall of the fortress is that the fleet cannot co-operate with the army owing to the vital necessity of preserving its naval unit. For this reason the battleships and best cruisers are not employed near Port Arthur, and the warships assisting the troops are mostly of an inferior type, like the Hashidate, though other ships will come in case of emergency.

WILL KUROPATKIN ESCAPE TO MUKDEN?

London, September 2.—Can General Kuropatkin escape is the problem to which all attention and criticism is directed. None of the news received up to 4.30 a.m. enables one to give a satisfactory answer. The consensus of opinion is that the Japanese have probably won a great victory, but whether it is a decisive one is doubtful. It is pointed out that the capture of Liao Yang itself will not carry matters further than the successful operations at Tashichao, Haicheng and elsewhere. Moreover, even if the Russians, as rumoured, are in full retreat, it is questioned whether General Kuroki will be able to interpose a sufficient force between Liao Yang and Mukden to bar the retirement of General Kuropatkin's huge army. The Yental mines, toward which General Sakharoff reported part of the outflanking force was directing its march, is nearly ten miles from the railway, with which the mines are connected by a branch line.

It is contended that Gen. Kuroki's advance westward from the mines to a point where he might hope to successfully intercept the Russians, will undoubtedly be resisted by forces allotted for that purpose, probably also in carefully prepared positions, and it may easily cost the Japanese whole days of fighting to break down such resistance. Meanwhile the Russian army if retreating may reach Mukden despite probably heavy losses of men, guns, and stores, and though demoralized it would be far from crushed. It is urged that these and some other reasons make impossible the assumption to which the unofficial reports seem to point that Gen. Kuropatkin is surrounded. Little attention is paid to yesterday's rumour that a Japanese detachment is northeast of Mukden, and nothing more has been heard of the Japanese column which was yesterday reported to be to the west of Liao Yang. There are significant omissions in the official report of both sides, and deductions therefrom, pending more definite information can only be hypothetical. There are again reports of battle on August 30 and 31, but they add nothing to the knowledge thereof and only supply further evidence that never in the annals of war has there been a contest more sternly fought or with more devoted courage by both combatants.

INTERRUPTION OF TRAIN SERVICE IS IMPORTANT.

London, September 2.—This morning's newspapers comment upon the press despatch from Mukden saying that the train service between Mukden and Liao Yang is interrupted, and that the roads are impassable, as the most important news from the far East, and say that the only meaning is that the Japanese have seized the railway between Liao Yang and Mukden.

Correspondents of the Daily Chronicle and the Daily Mail assert that the Japanese occupied Liao Yang Thursday.

There is no official confirmation of these statements, but the latest despatch from the Japanese legation here reports the capture of the heights southwest of Liao Yang at dawn Thursday. This despatch adds: "Thereupon the enemy in the south of Liao Yang commenced to retreat. Our armies are now pursuing him."

The Daily Mail's Kupantse correspondent, under date of August 31, says that 35,000 Japanese are en route from Dalny to Kai Cheng by railway. Originally they were intended to reinforce the besiegers of Port Arthur, but Field Marshal Oyama was satisfied that they were not required there and therefore sent them north.

A special despatch from St. Petersburg reports that General Linevitch, from Vladivostok, is within two days march of Mukden, with 30,000 troops.

The Standard's Tokio correspondent says that Pekin despatches state that China is increasing her military forces on the Liao river, and that she has ordered General Ma to firmly enforce neutrality should the Russians be defeated at Liao Yang and attempt to enter neutral territory.

Russian Vessel Struck Mine.

Tokio, September 2.—A Russian steamer engaged in clearing the channel at Port Arthur struck a mine and was destroyed last Wednesday.

GENERAL KUROKI,

Whose Forces have scored a sweeping victory over the Russians at Liao Yang.

BARROW SAYS THEY ARE GONE FOR GOOD

Had to Let Yeager and McManus Go.

The news that Montreal will have to do without Yeager and McManus in future seasons will be heard with general regret by the local followers of the game.

Fortunately they will be allowed to play with the team till the end of the present season, and as from September 7th, the team will be here almost continuously till the finish, and we will be able to see a good deal of them.

Rain Spoiled the Games.

Rain interfered with nearly all the games in the Eastern League. Only two were played:

Raid on the Minor Leagues.

Cincinnati, O., September 2.—The National Baseball Commission met here yesterday in annual session, with President August Hermann, presiding. Secretary John E. Bruce, reported the list of players purchased by the National and American Leagues from minor leagues. The National League has purchased 52 and the American League 50 players, making 102 cases for the commission to settle, Brooklyn had the largest list of 23.

Among the cases reported as still pending, were those of Detroit against McAllister, of Buffalo, and the claim of Brain against Buffalo.

The adoption of new rules disposes of many of the 102 pending cases of players purchased from minor leagues. The rules were intended to prevent all cases of "covering up players." It was stated that there would be "no hiding of players" by major leagues to be returned to minor leagues. Copies of all major league contracts or agreements with players are to be filed with the commission. No claims will be considered from National Association clubs against drafted players after September 10. The second instalment of the draft price will not be paid unless the player has been secured. Herman was re-elected president, and Bruce secretary.

STOTT & JURY, Bowmanville, Ont.

YEAGER AND McMANUS GO TO NEW YORK AND BRING HIGH PRICES.

Rochester, N. Y., September 2.—In an interview with the Star correspondent Manager Barrow said: "I deemed it advisable to release Yeager and McManus to Clark Griffin's New York American League team. You see these two players were sold conditionally, that is they will stay in New York if they make good. They will finish the season with Montreal and not go to Griffin until next year. The New York management would have drafted these players any way and then the Montreal Club owners would only have received $750, whereas by the present deal they receive a much larger sum, how much I am not at liberty to state. I have also released Barry, who will return this fall to the Harvard Law School. Barry was weak at bat and only fielded his position in an indifferent manner. Barry's place in right field will be taken by Thoney, formerly of the New York American team and recently of Rochester. Thoney will doubtless be an improvement on Barry. He reported yesterday and will play in today's game. I have my eye on several young players. I will try out this year. Among those in view is a second baseman, two outfielders and a couple of pitchers. It is hard to say who will win the two games with Rochester. It is difficult for a team to win when on the road."

Baseball Here To-morrow.

Mascotte and Farnham meet tomorrow in a League game of the Eastern Canadian Baseball League, and a lively game may be expected, as the club that wins will lead the league and will give them a good chance for the pennant, and the fans will see a game of baseball worth the money. Bishop and Farrell, of Farnham, are in fine condition and will give a good account of themselves at the Montreal Eastern League grounds at 3 p.m. to-morrow.

Nattress Was Spiked.

Nattress was spiked by Harley at Buffalo Thursday. This is the second time this has occurred this year.

Mr. Kreitner Does Not Object.

Manager Kreitner says now that he does not object to Rochester transferring a series to Baltimore.

Toronto's Happy Fifteen.

Toronto is carrying fifteen players at present on its trip abroad. Francis, shortstop for Toronto, is sore on Buffalo, and he roasted all the Bisons in front of the stand Thursday.

Laporte's Work at Buffalo.

Laporte made eight assists at Buffalo yesterday. The first three Toronto batters in the game were retired on his throws. Had Baltimore won yesterday and Buffalo lost, as it did, the Bisons would still lead by two points.

Only two game: took place in the Eastern League yesterday.

Falkenburg allowed Buffalo but six hits yesterday and Buffalo lost to Toronto.

Gessler is the only .300 batsman of the Brooklyns, with .304 in 61 games. Sheckard has hit for .210.

Francis is hitting the ball for Toronto. Yesterday he made four safe taps of Bliss, of Rochester.

Keeler has batted for .347 in 97 games. Dougherty has batted for .291 in the 65 games he has played with the Highlanders.

Thoney recently signed by Montreal, played his first game at Buffalo in a Royal uniform. He did nothing sensational.

"Rube" Kissenger added another scalp to his belt, that of Montreal, when he sent the Royals down to defeat.

Arlie Latham never had an equal in attracting attention to himself in a game. Only a few days after Arlie and McAleer had their famous fight at Cincinnati the Reds went to Cleveland for a series. Latham expected a roasting, and he got it all right, but it was amazing the way he won the crowd back again.

About the second time up he batted a ball over Child's head—one of those low, mean drives that are safe 19 times out of 20. Coming in like a streak, Jimmy got the ball at his shoe laces. The speed he had been going threw him down and he went over and over, but hung on to the ball.

When the yells had died down Arlie turned to the stands and said, in a half-whisper:

"Do you blame me for trying to put that man out of business? That's the way he robs me."

This little tribute to the great ability of Cleveland's centre fielder—known then to be Arlie's bitterest enemy—won the crowd, and thereafter Latham was immensely popular there.

Manager Stallings did not return to Buffalo with the team. He said that he had remained over in New York to perfect a deal or two that he believed would aid the Buffalos in landing the much-desired first place.

"I think our chances are fully as good as those of Baltimore and much better than Jersey City, which team shows good spirit by not giving up the fight. There are only two baseball races in the country, the Eastern and the American. I never knew clubs to hang so closely together for so long a stretch. We may have a player or two in a day or two that I believe will be of great service to us. Then again, Jake Gettman may be back into the outfield before the week is over. Jake is feeling stronger each day and is anxious to resume his play on the nine. Shoddy Shaw's thumb is all one now and he will be here to-morrow. He has been up to Urichsville to see whether his chicken crop has fallen off or increased. Limrich is back with us. The Trolley League has gone up and Limrich returned to the fold. We ought to land that flag and are trying hard to do so."

THE GOLFERS

Opening of Niagara Tourney.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., September 2.—The tenth annual tournament of the Niagara Golf Club opened yesterday on the Fort George links, with the largest handicap entry for some years. The weather looked lowering, but cleared, and an excellent day's play resulted. The low-net gross score was won by Mr. Fritz Martin, Hamilton, while Mr. D. Laird, Toronto won first place. Mr. Thompson, New York, and Rev. J. O. Miller tied for second, Mr Miller winning the play off. The score:

	H'cap.	Gross.	Net.
B. Fosythe, Listowel	14	103	89
Geo. J. McKie, Simcoe	10	97	87
F. Brady, Simcoe	6	93	87
U. H. Cooper, Rosedale	18	116	95
E. A. Scott, Rosedale	19	107	88
Park Wright, Buffalo	Plus 2	87	89
Geo. S. Lyon, Lambton	Plus 2	85	87
F. R. Martin, Hamilton	Plus 2	79	81
A. Wright, Rosedale	6	90	84
W. Ince, jr., Rosedale	9	92	83
J. H. Burns, Niagara	8	100	92
D. Laird, Toronto	6	81	75
Dr. Killmer, St. Catharines	6	92	86
J. O. Miller, St. Catharines	13	91	78
G. B. Burson, St. Catharines	13	111	99
Mr. Ransom, Buffalo	Scratch	97	97
W. H. Faust, Buffalo	7	93	86
R. E. Carlisle, Buffalo	10	97	86
E. S. Glassco, Toronto	10	95	85
D. Thompson, New York	10	89	79

In the qualifying round of the men's open event, the best 16 scores out of 24 entries, were:

G. S. Lyons	77
F. R. Martin	84
D. Laird	86
P. Wright	86
Alf. Wright	87
Ransom	88
Carlisle	88
Faust	90
Hunter	91
Boomer	91
Burns	92
Coldham	93
Brady	95
Ince	95
Glassco	95
Thompson	97

Ladies' driving competition was the first event for the ladies in the tournament, and resulted as follows:

Total of three drives, Miss Mills, 444 yards, first; Mrs. Woodruff, 404 yards, second.

The draw for the first round of the open event is as follows:

Parke Wright vs. Brady, Hunter vs. Faust, A. Wright vs. F. R. Martin, Glassco vs. Boomer, Burns vs. Laird, Carlisle vs. Ince, Ransom vs. Coldham, Thompson vs. Lyons.

LACROSSE

The Match on Shamrocks Grounds.

As exponents of systematic lacrosse, the Shamrock team has reached a degree of perfection greater than that attained by any other team during recent years, and it has been repeatedly admitted by former stars of the old-time game, that the style of game being played at present, is superior to that played in the '70's and '80's. The Shamrock team which now holds the championship will doubtless retain the title again this year, which will make the fourth successive season during which the green-jerseyed players will have succeeded in earning that much-coveted title. These honours have not been easily obtained, but they have been striven for with method and system, and have been well merited. It has been said several times that the Shamrock team is not an all-star aggregation and several western critics have professed to believe that there are C. L. A. and other teams fully capable of defeating the N. A. L. U. champions. Be this as it may, the fact remains, that none of the western challengers for the Minto Cup has succeeded in wresting the big trophy from the Irishmen. The statement that the Shamrock team is not an all-star one may be combatted, and when the success of the team is considered the thought occurs that the Shamrock team possesses the necessary amount of players of stellar capacity. Indeed, the great strength of the Shamrock team lies in the number of players capable of holding their own in any company, and the furthermost important essential of success, is the unselfish manner in which the twelve men play. It was the wonder of western critics who have witnessed recent cup games, that there were occasions when home players who had fairly good opportunities to score and might have shot, would suddenly make an unexpected pass to a player, who, unnoticed, had obtained a better position, and this has been done so often that it no longer excites comment among the local followers of the game. The almost perfect balance of the team lends it additional strength and the mechanism of the whole machinery is such that no one part is compelled to bear unusual strain. As the schedule now stands, the last opportunity to see the Shamrocks at home will be Saturday, when the Cornwall team will play the champions on the grounds at St. Louis de Mile End.

Cornwalls Play Montreal After.

The Cornwall and Montreal teams are busy preparing for their game in Montreal on Labour Day. Both teams are most anxious to win. They have met on two occasions this year without deciding which is the best team. The game in Cornwall ended in a draw, score 3 to 3, and the match in Montreal was called at the end of playing time, neither team having scored a goal. The Montreal team on the latter occasion appeared to have the best of the argument, but the wretched weather prevented either of the teams showing their true form.

Mr. Chitty Revenged.

Toronto, September 2.—The C. L. A. executive has awarded last Saturday's game to Brantford and confirmed the suspension of Lamb and Querrie of the Tecumsehs.

Montreal defence will be strengthened by the presence of Jno. Davidson.

Roddy Finlayson has fully recovered from his recent illness and can be depended on to deliver the goods.

Barney has one, possibly two youngsters to take places on the home. He states that they will give a good account of themselves.

Owen Sound defeated Seaforth Wednesday at Stratford by a score of four to one, the game giving Owen Sound the district championship.

Cornwall defence is a difficult one to beat. The two Brodericks and McDonald are well up in the tricks of the game and can block their goals to perfection.

AQUATICS

Chateauguay Local Races.

On account of the success of the annual regatta at Chateauguay some weeks ago, the decision was arrived at by the officers of the Chateauguay Boating Club to have a series of local races. These were competed for yesterday. Quite a large crowd was present to witness the events. The president of the club, Mr. W. Creighton, had the good fortune to win the handsome cup presented for the sailing yacht race. Mr. Creighton's yacht is named the Ruel, and it won the race with ease.

The different events were as follows:

Single canoe — Won by Hy. Crepin and W. A. Creighton.

Double canoe—1, Edward and H. Crepin; 2, Creighton and Schmidt.

Ladies' double skiff—1, Misses Greer and Lang; 2, Miss Hope Smith and Miss Mayhury.

Yacht race—1, W. Creighton.

ONE CHAMPIONSHIP AND THREE SECONDS AT OLYMPIC GAMES FOR US.

E. DESMARTEAU, WHO WON THE OLYMPIC WEIGHT THROWING CHAMPIONSHIP.

Montreal distinguished herself.

Yesterday Constable Desmarteau, now wearing M. A. A. A. colours, won the 56-pound weight throwing championship, and Lukeman came second in the 220 yards.

To-day privats despatches state that Peck came second in the half mile handicap, and Deer third in the mile.

St. Louis, Mo., September 2.—The expectation of the crowd at the Stadium yesterday that the Olympic record of 2.01 2-5 for 800 metre run would be shattered was realized when James D. Lightbody, of the Chicago Athletic Association, knocked 5 2-5 seconds off the former mark made by A. E. Tysoe, Sanford Harriers, England, at Paris, in 1900.

H. L. Hillman, of the New York Athletic Club, broke the Olympic 200-metre hurdle record of 25 3-5 seconds, made by A. G. Kraenlein, University of Pennsylvania, at Paris, in 1900, by going the distance in 24 3-5 seconds.

M. Prinstein, of the Greater New York Irish A. A., broke the Olympic record in the running broad jump on his fourth trial, with a distance of 24 feet 1 inch. The record was formerly held by A. C. Kranzlein, University of Pennsylvania, who jumped 23 feet 6 1-8 inches, at the Paris Olympia in 1900.

M. J. Sheridan, of the G.N.Y.I.A.A., throwing from scratch in the discus handicap, broke the world's record for throwing the discus with a throw of 132 feet. Sheridan held the former record of 127 feet 9 1-2 inches, and in the trials he threw the discus 130 feet 9 inches. The discus was officially weighed and found to be one-eighth of an ounce over weight. Summary:

200 metre, hurdle — H. L. Hillman, N.Y.A.C., New York, won. Time, 24 3-5.

Throwing the 56-lb. weight—E. Desmarteau, Montreal, won; 34 feet 4 inches.

220 yard hurdle—L. G. Syks, M.A.C., Milwaukee (10 yards) first. Time, 27 1-5.

Running broad jump — M. Prinstein, G.N.Y.I.A.A., New York, won; 24 feet 1 inch.

Throwing 56-lb. weight (handicap)—Albert A. Johnson, C.Y.M.C.A., St. Louis (11 feet) won, 35 feet 3 inches; E. Desmarteau, Montreal (6 inches), was fourth, 34 feet 10 3-4 inches, actual throwing.

800 metre run—James D. Lightbody, C.A.A., Chicago, won. Time, 1.56.

Running hop, skip and jump — M. Prinstein, G.N.Y.I.A.A., New York, won; 47 feet.

International tug-of-war, finals: teams of five men, unlimited weight—Milwaukee A.C.'s defeated N.Y.A.C. Club. Time, 1.44 3-5.

Throwing the discus — M. J. Sheridan, G.N.Y.I.A.A., New York (scratch) won, 132 feet.

220 yard run—James D. McGann, C.Y.M.C.A., Chicago (10 yards), won; J. T. Lukeman, Montreal (19 yards), second. Time, 22 4-5.

THE TURF

Attempt to Lower 2.02 1-2 Mark.

Providence, R. I., September 2.—Eight thousand persons attended the Grand Circuit meeting at Narragansett Park yesterday, the big attraction being the attempt of Major Delmar to lower the world's trotting record of 2.02 1-4, without a wind shield. However, the son of Delmar failed although he was at the quarter in :30 1-2 and at the half in 1.01, and then stepped the third quarter in :29 3-4, making his total there 1.30 3-4. In the home stretch his speed failed, and for the last fifty yards he dropped back to a 2.30 gait, making the mile in 2.03.

First on the card was the unfinished 2.14 pace of yesterday, in which three starters had two heats each. Don Carr put up a sturdy fight, with Geers trailing with the favourite, Baron Gratton. At the three-eighths pole Bad News made a break and Geers caught Don Carr at the head of the stretch, beating him a sixteenth of a mile further.

Knox's Gelatine King, in the 2.24 trot, was backed at 4 to 1 over the field. He won each heat with ease, pulled up from the distance flag to the wire.

In the 2.02 pace Dan R. was thought to have a chance of beating Henty G., though the latter was favourite. The mare won easily in straight heats.

The surprise of the day came in the 2.10 trot. Norrie was barely the choice of the talent over The Roman and Direct View. The gray gelding, John Taylor, raced into the lead in the initial heat at the head of the home stretch, after Snyder McGregor had led to that point, and winning by a half length, gained a new record of 2.08 1-4. The second heat he won even more easily. The Roman was third in the opening heat until just beyond the seven-eighths pole, where he made a break and danced until he was shut out by the flag.

The First Polo Match.

There was a fair crowd of members of the two hunt clubs, and their friends, at St. Lambert yesterday, to see the first of the two Polo matches between the Montreal and Toronto Polo Clubs, although the weather was rather threatening.

Those who went saw an exciting game, and one that was well worth watching, which ended with a victory for Toronto by a score of six goals to two.

Montreal played hard and did its best. The players at times took their lives in their hands to score, but in some cases their very eagerness defeated the object which they aimed at.

Individually there was not very much to chose between the two teams, but collectively the Toronto players made a much better showing. They played a more open game, where Montreal was inclined to bunch too much. On the whole there was a great improvement, however, in the work of the Montrealers over that shown last year, and no doubt a little more practice will enable them to give other teams a pretty hard fight.

There was some magnificent horsemanship shown on both sides, and in riding and the quality of the ponies, Montreal need not lower the flag to the visitors.

An entirely new team will be put in the field by Montreal on Saturday, when if the weather is good a large crowd of spectators will be expected.

A special train will leave Bonaventure station at 2.30.

The players yesterday were:

Toronto (6)	Montreal (2)
M. Osborne	No. 1	Mr. McLennan
Capt. Van Straubenzie	No. 2	Mr. Simard
Lieut. Young	No. 3	Mr. Hugh Watson
Capt. Elmsley	Back	Major Geo. R. Hooper

CRICKET

Team to Meet Ottawa.

A general meeting of the Montreal and District Amateur Cricket Association was held last night at the Carsbake Hotel, Mr. G. Ferrabee, president, in the chair. There were present: W. Bothie, vice-president; C. W. Bathe, hon. treasurer; Geo. H. Bamford, hon. secretary; and other delegates. The principal business of the meeting was the selecting of the team to represent the league against Ottawa on the M. A. A. A. grounds, to-morrow. The following team was chosen: G. Ferrabee (captain), Hill, Babb, Saunders, Wood, Ayers, Hopkins, Boosemore, Simpson, Jones and Mowbery. Umpire, Hainsworth. Scorer, Wallace.

A smoker is to be held in the present month, when all interested in the good old game will be welcome.

ATHLETICS

Y.M.C.A. Meet at Toronto.

The first annual championship meet of the Athletic League of the Y. M. C. A. of Canada will be held October 1 at Toronto, the events being open to all Canadian amateurs. The programme consists of 100 yards dash, 220 yards, 440 yards, 880 yards and mile runs, 120 yards hurdle, high jump, pole vault, broad jump, 16-lb hammer, 16-lb. shot, discus throw and 3-mile walk.

Dunlop trophy for 5 mile team road race—Open to all harrier clubs in Canada, 6 men to constitute a team—4 men of any team making highest number of points to hold trophy for one year, also to receive silver medals.

Penman annual championship trophy—To be held for one year by the Young Men's Christian Association making the highest number of points (not including the 5-mile road race.)

Spalding gold medal—To be given to the individual making the highest number of points during the day.

For information write J. Howard Crocker, Central Y. M. C. A. Toronto, or N. H. Crow, Central Y. M. C. A., Toronto.

Strachan, Murphy and Haynes will, in all probability, have the attacking forces of the Cornwall team to look after.

Extra Train From St. Agathe to Montreal on Labour Day.

On Labour Day, September 5, a special train will leave Ste. Agathe at 7 p.m. for Montreal, and will stop at intermediate stations between Ste. Agathe and St. Jerome inclusive.

On the same day train leaving Morningue at 4.00 a.m., and arriving Montreal at 8.40 a.m., will only run as far as Ste. Agathe, and will be cancelled between Ste. Agathe and Montreal.

SWIMMING

A Half Mile Race.

A half mile swimming race for a handsome silver cup donated by a friend of the club, will be held to-morrow afternoon at half-past three o'clock at the Montreal Swimming Club, St. Helen's Island.

This race will be open to all amateurs and several of the best swimmers in the club are entered for it. A senior and junior duck hunt will be held after this race to finish up the afternoon. The balance of the silver spoons will be presented to the winners and those who have not yet received theirs are requested to be on hand to receive them.

This will finish the season, as far as racing goes, which has been a most successful one, and will enable the treasurer to carry over a handsome balance to the credit of the club. The bath will remain open until the end of September, and if the weather prove fine there will be several weeks' outdoor swimming yet.

LAWN BOWLING

An Indefatigable Match.

The officers of H. M. S. Indefatigable have accepted an invitation from the members of the Westmount Bowling Club to play on their lawn next Saturday evening at eight o'clock. It is expected that at least two rinks will play. The lady friends of the club will entertain the officers and members in the Marquee and a cordial invitation is extended to every member of the club to be present.

The Points Competition, which was unavoidably cancelled on account of the weather, will take place this (Friday) evening, weather permitting.

PHENOMENAL SCORES AT D. R. A. MEETING

There Was Ideal Weather and Great Shooting.

AUSTRALIA HEADS THE LIST

The Governor-General's Competition Exceeds Anything Seen at Bisley —British Columbia Leads.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, Ont., September 2.—Nothing possible could have been better for shooting than the weather which greeted the riflemen looking for the big prizes in the Governor-General's match yesterday. It was the first and the only prize money which came to tyros. It was only during a short time that rain fell and bothered the marksmen. The principal feature of the day was the phenomenally high scoring that was done in the match, and many fine marksmen who would have been well up in the 150, who qualify for the second stage, were counted out with scores that would have put them well up last year. Tom Mitchell, who is an authority, if any one is, said after the last range that the shooting was far ahead of anything that would be seen at Bisley. At the 20 0yards' range, which is for some reason disliked by marksmen, there was a dozen men who piled in possibles, and Captain Forest, the crack of the British Columbia men, followed it up with a possible at 500 yards. Captain Hutcheson was close after him, with several others, but by putting on 32 points at 600 yards he made a total of 102, which none of the others could beat, and he, therefore, won the silver medal given by the D. R. A. in the first stage. The completion of this match enabled the statistical office to make up the Bisley aggregate from which the Bisley team is picked, and it also decided the Transvaal Cup match, in which the highest South African soldier wins. The cup will remain in the possession o. Pte. W. A. Smith, G.G.F.G., for the year, and he has a medal as the individual prize, with a score of 97. Lt.-Col. Rogers, 43rd, entered this match to win the cup, and while he failed, he put on 94. It is the first time he has fired this year. During the firing at 600 yards, in the Governor-General's match, a unfortunate, but fortunately not serious, accident happened to Captain C Fraser, 53rd Regiment. He was shooting by the side of Capt. Davidson, Q.O.R., and the latter was firing, when the cartridge exploded and blew out the breech block of his rifle. The block missed Capt. Davidson, who was nearest it, but hit Capt. Fraser on the left side of the head, and inflicted a severe wound. Dr. Gardner attended to the injured man, and he was able to continue shooting after a short time. In the Bisley aggregate Pte. Willoughby, of Australia, who is on his way back from Bisley, came out as top man, being 3 points ahead of Capt. Forest, of Vancouver, who, in turn, is two points ahead of Sergeant Kelly, of the 10th Royal Grenadiers, Toronto. The British Columbian won out in this match ahead of any other province.

The daily $5 prize for the Running Man competition was won yesterday by Captain H. Y. Complin, of the 23rd Regiment, Parry Sound. Captain Complin served for a considerable time in the 43rd D.C.O.R.

"Just what the Doctor ordered"

In cases of extreme weakness—in "run down" conditions of the system—and especially in curing the after effects of La Grippe and Typhoid Fever—the Doctor prescribes

Vin St Michel

It's his favorite tonic, the one he knows he can rely on. He has seen how quickly his patients take on flesh—how their eyes brighten and their hollow cheeks fill out—how their appetite improves—how soon all their former strength and vigor come back, when they have taken Vin St. Michel.

DR. P. CARLES, Prof. in the Colleges of Paris and Bordeaux, says: "I have used Vin St. Michel with great success—and find that it acts very quickly in toning up every organ and nerve in the system."

A wine glass full three times a day before meals is the dose prescribed by doctors generally.

THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY.

The visit of the Primate of all England to Canada brings more fully than anything which has happened in recent years before the people of this country, and that old country we all delight to call the Motherland, no matter of what ancestry we be, the strength of the sentimental tie which binds the Empire together. The old Anglican Church, rich in an historic past, with its noble institutions of learning, its vast enterprises, its glorious present and hopeful future, is one of the greatest powers for good that the world ever knew. The head of that mighty organization is with us to-day.

It was the Primate that we welcomed, the great head of a great church, but the personal contact, that "handshake which means so much," as His Grace himself so happily put it, has given added devotion to the loyalty which the church in Canada has for its head in England; and hereafter they will remember the Archbishop of Canterbury not only as the supreme ruler of the church, but as a genial, kindly gentleman, tactful and sincere in speech, thoughtful and considerate for others, worthily filling a position which calls for the highest order of talent. And those of all denominations join their Anglican brethren in giving heartiness to the welcome. All will have a personal devotion to the Primate such as they may not have had before, and the bonds of loyalty to the Empire have been strengthened. His Grace also will take away with him a wider knowledge of that Greater Britain proud to own allegiance to the greatest living monarch. We join the people of the Anglican church and all the loyal subjects of His Majesty in Canada in hearty greetings to the head of England's church.

WHEN A RAILWAY MAN BLUNDERS.

The terrible accident at Richmond shows that there is no way to eliminate the human element from the running of a railway train. The best planned system will not prevent accidents through the mistakes of the very men most certain to suffer by them. The fact is that the men who do railway work are precisely like men who do any other kind of work—their tasks become more or less routine and they lose that quick sense of a change which is necessary to make a change safely. But in most other callings a man's mistakes are not followed by such frightful consequences.

No men deserve the sympathy of the community more truly than do those who earn their living by the daily performance of duties in connection with trains and boats, the neglect of which may bring tragic results. It is impossible for them to always be keyed up to a keen sense of the grave responsibilities resting upon them. The daily task becomes common-place, and their appreciation of the risks they are perpetually carrying must be blunted in time.

Consequently only those who never make mistakes in their own business should be very ready to throw the first stone at the railway official who makes a mistake, the record of which is written in blood. If anything can be done, it probably is to put railway men under less strain—give them fewer hours' work and less constant responsibility. This will increase the cost of railway operation; but the public would probably pay this insurance premium on their lives very willingly.

SUICIDE.

Suicide is a crime which can only be punished when it is unsuccessful. This makes it difficult for the community to suppress it in a manner which has had measurable success with other crimes. People are not to be frightened into witholding their hands from self-murder. At one time, the fear of punishment beyond the grave was a real deterrent; but it is doubtful if it now seriously affects many people whose sense of earthly duty is so slack as to lead them to contemplate calmly the possibility of evading it by voluntary death.

Yet it is as plain as can be that suicide is a very real crime against the common weal, and that the community is bound, in self-defence to do what it can to discourage it. Something might be effected by making very clear the common impression that a uicide is a fugitive—an absconder. We cannot reproduce the methods of a ruder age and bury suicides at midnight at the cross-roads with a stake through the heart; but we can attach to it the taint of cowardice. But even this punishment will be escaped by the common plea of temporary insanity.

A more promising procedure would be to lessen the pressure upon the unsuccessful which now drives so many of the suicide class to their fatal step. If we condemned lesser offences less severely, we might have fewer of these graver offences to deplore. There should be more forgiveness of the sinner by human contemporaries. A man or a woman should not be made to feel that one serious slip calls for a life of expiation. A greater readiness to extend the friendly hand to the disgraced would probably restrain the hand of self-destruction in more cases than one.

Certainly the alarming increase in suicide calls for very earnest consideration on the part of thoughtful people who feel themselves in some sense their brothers' keepers. Neither socially, nationally nor individually can we view with equanimity, this fateful tendency to end all with one rash act. And there is no use depending upon prohibitions that do not prohibit. It is almost ludicrous to threaten a man who fully intends to kill himself, with imprisonment if he fails. We had far better try to make life seem better worth the living, even to those who may have made a serious mis-step.

The selection of the Rev. Archdeacon Worrell, of Kingston, as Bishop of Nova Scotia, will bring about a transfer which will leave the Anglican Church in Ontario the poorer, while Nova Scotia will be much the gainer. Archdeacon Worrell has been one of the most popular and esteemed clergymen in Ontario, and is precisely the sort of man, self-respecting and widely-liked man, who cannot fail to make a successful Bishop. It is significant of Canadian unity that Kingston should thus be giving a Bishop in one church to Nova Scotia when Nova Scotia has just given Kingston an eminent divine in another church to act as Principal of Queen's College. We Canadians are in such close touch with each other that we know where men are to be found to fill our positions, though they may live in another province. And, as Dr Gordon is proving a great success in Kingston, so will the new Bishop of Nova Scotia undoubtedly win all hearts in his new field.

THE GRANDFATHER OF THE PRESENT EARL GREY.

The grandfather of the present Lord Grey was with Fox, Sheridan, Burke and Windham, among the accusers of Warren Hastings. In his famous description of the accusers, Macaulay concludes that description with these words:

"At an age when most of those who distinguish themselves in life are still contending for prizes of fellowship at college he had won for himself a conspicuous place in Parliament. No advantage of fortune or connection was wanting that could set off to the height his splendid talents and his unblemished honour. At 38 he had been thought worthy to be ranked with the veteran statesmen who appeared as the delegates to the British Commons at the bar of the British nobility. All who stood at that bar, save him alone, are gone—culprit, advocates, accusers. To the generation which is now in the vigour of life, he is the sole representative of a great age which is passed away. But those who within the last ten years have listened with delight as the morning sun shone on the tapestries of the House of Lords to the lofty and animated eloquence of Charles, Earl Grey, are able to form some estimate of the times and race of men among whom he was not the foremost."

LABOUR DAY PARADE. — At last night's meeting of the Executive Board of the Cigarmakers' Union, No. 58, it was unanimously decided that members must take part in the Labour Day parade under a penalty of $2.00 fine. Each member shall provide himself with two cards, upon which he shall write his name. Said cards will be taken up by the secretary during the parade. The union will leave the corner of Marie Anne and Mitchison streets at 7.30 and march to their place in the parade on Park avenue.

THE WAR SITUATION.

Again the pendulum has swung from rejoicing in Russia over a gallant victory to anxious conjecture as to the disaster of the defeat. Kuropatkin, hurriedly retiring from those elaborate defences around Liao Yang, has swung as many divisions as he could muster in the path of Kuroki's advance around his left flank, and at the same time has offered what resistance he could to the smashing attack on his right and centre delivered under the eyes of Oyama himself. It was not safe to halt even at the village of Liao Yang itself, whose fortifications, we were assured, were even more elaborate and impregnable than those at Port Arthur and, except for the time lost in setting fire to whatever was most inflammable, the Russian retreat swept on towards the Tse Ho River and safety. Closely pursuing were Nodzu's victorious columns and pressing on from the centre were Oku's troops, equally anxious to take part in the capture of whatever was to be captured. At the narrow bridges which span the river, the retreat seems to have become a rout. From their own captured cannon, the Japanese bombarded the struggling mass of men, crowded on the narrow crossings, but the pursuit stopped at the banks of the river.

What Kuropatkin's position is to-day, it is difficult even to guess. Communication has been cut between Liao Yang and Mukden, but whether this means a raid and temporary damage or the final working out of the flanking movement from the north-east and the consequent investment of Kuropatkin's army in a low marshy plain with no permanent fortifications prepared, it is impossible to say. It is significant to note that St. Petersburg authorities now predict that the great battle of the campaign will be fought here, which would seem to indicate a confession that Oyama had forced the battle when and where he pleased.

The rigours of the Port Arthur bombardment have lessened and there are reasons for believing that Japan is willing to risk no more men in attempts to take the fortress by assault, but will wait for famine and pestilence to work out their inevitable end.

A BIT OF DAILY COMMENT.

It was on the second of September, 1666, that the Great Fire of London, destroying four million dollars worth of property, broke out in humble Pudding Lane. From there it swept across 396 acres of houses, mostly wooden, damaging the picturesque old Guildhall and destroying St. Paul's Cathedral.

When a Canadian visits London he will assuredly penetrate the narrow busy streets that lie between St. Paul's and the Tower. Here close to the water side, swarming with life, filled with the clamour of trade and shipping, is the heart of old London. Pudding Lane will be pointed out to him, and after a short walk through grimy streets odorous of fish, he will reach the Monument. Up and around the winding stone stairs that seem interminable, he goes—only to find on emerging at the top that a haze of London smoke has veiled the miles of shipping on the Thames and the spires of the vast city itself.

Disastrous as this fire undoubtedly was, much good came of it. It cleared London of the germs of many fatal epidemics; it gave the world Wren's magnificent dome of St. Paul's; to the Cockney it bequeathed a memory out of which this monument evolved. And what would the Cockney be without Bow Bells and the Monument? Not overfond of exertion or very curious, he may never climb the Monument's tortuous steps; nevertheless to him its dingy, Doric column is a pillar of the Empire.

It is interesting now when an insurance rate war is being waged in Canada, to recall that the system of fire insurance was first organized after this fire. Up to that time voluntary contributions were given for the relief of sufferers, but the need of systematized insurance was one of the lessons Londoners learned in 1666. In 1681 the first regular insurance office was opened in a street behind the Royal Exchange. It was soon followed by four or five others. Of these early companies only one remains. Wooden houses were banned after this, although, unlike the England of to-day, timber was then plentiful and cheap. With admirable Old Country thoroughness, the utmost care was taken to make them safe from fire, and this rule has been so strictly adhered to that a large fire is a rarity in the metropolis. For this reason, perhaps, the numerous destructive fires in Canadian cities are freely commented upon. Londoners will say to the Canadian teasingly, "Yes, Canada is noted for its great wheatfields—and big fires."

The first insurance companies not only agreed to reimburse losses by fire, but they undertook to prevent fires, employing as one old prospectus says, "watermen and other labourers." In time the watermen took on uniforms and became organized bodies. For 150 years the insurance companies maintained these fire brigades not only in London, but in many provincial towns. Rivalry between the different brigades grew, and the picturesque incidents this gave rise to may easily be imagined.

In 1860, the various brigades were given over to the control of the Metropolitan Board of Works by whom the system was largely extended. The London fireman, like his co-official, the policeman, looks particularly well fitted for his work. Alert and supple and reckless of danger as he is, it is not surprising to learn that he must always take a course of naval training before he qualifies. The fire stations are large and handsome buildings, containing not only fire-fighting apparatus, but apartments where many of the firemen and their families live.

John Bull, as represented by the Councils and Boards of London's various boroughs, is a very kindly old soul.

A monogram or crown or other symbol, conspicuously placed upon the sides of buildings that boasted little antiquity or state puzzled a Canadian in London one time. Enquiry brought out the fact that these were the marks of the companies by which the buildings had been insured. And when fighting fires in the old days the men of the rival brigades knew just what houses claimed their companies' special care. The need for these symbols is gone, but they will remain as relics of the past beside the stirring historical trophies of witching gray old London.

TOWN OF WESTMOUNT ENTERS ACTION.

The town of Westmount has entered an action against the Montreal Water and Power Company for damages, the action being based on the alleged failure of the company to carry out the terms of its contract with the municipality. The town alleges, among other things, that while the water supply for Westmount was to be furnished from the Back River, the company got it from the St. Lawrence; that the quality of the water has not been satisfactory; that no adequate protection is furnished against fire, and that a reservoir, such as was provided for, has not been given.

THIS DATE THIRTY YEARS AGO.

His Honour Mr. Judah this morning discharged the delibere and ordered a re-hearing in the case of Hagans and Co., merchants, accused of selling their goods with intent to defraud their creditors. Mr. Ritchie, Q.C., on behalf of the prosecution, mentioned that he had further evidence—discovered since the taking of the case en delibere—to offer. Mr. D. Macmaster, for the accused, objected to the introduction of new evidence at this stage of the proceedings as extremely irregular. Mr. Judah decided that it should be admitted.

THE late Mr. Judah was regarded as a very sound and impartial jurist, and for years he dealt out justice in the Police Court jointly with his colleague, the late Mr. Brehaut. The late Mr. Thomas W. Ritchie, Q.C., was an eminent member of the Lower Canada bar, to which he was admitted in 1852, and created Q.C. in 1867. For many years he was Crown Prosecutor for Montreal District. He died very suddenly 4th September, 1882, while taking a sail on Lake Memphremagog. Mr. Donald Macmaster, K.C., was admitted to the Quebec bar in 1871, and to the Ontario bar in 1882.

Captain and Adjutant Barnjum states that the annual drill of the 1st Prince of Wales Rifles will begin on the 5th inst., at eight o'clock, when the regiment will parade, without arms or uniform, at the Victoria Skating Rink. Respectable young men desirous of joining the corps can do so by applying at the sergeants' mess room, St. James street, or at the parade.

THE late Captain Frederick S. Barnjum was a most enthusiastic volunteer and an all round athlete. His "gym" alongside the old High School was one of the best fitted up in the Dominion, and was always well patronized by the youth of the city. He died many years ago. The regiment has discarded the rifle green for the scarlet, and are now styled Fusiliers.

Colonel Rhodes, president of the North Shore Railway, arrived in town this morning to attend a meeting of the directors called for to-morrow morning. He has just returned from England on the SS. Austrian.

THE late Colonel Rhodes served for some years in the British army, and during the troubles of 1837-38 marched from Halifax, N.S., to Quebec. He entered the Provincial Assembly in 1857, and became Minister of Agriculture in the Cabinet formed by the late Hon. Mr. Mercier.

MEETING OF THE BUILDERS' LABOURERS.

At a meeting of the Building Labourers' Union, held at St. Joseph's Hall last evening, a decision was arrived at whereby strike action will be deferred for another week.

The agreement with the bosses expire on Wednesday evening. In February last notices were sent out by the union asking for a renewal up to May, 1905, of terms such as have existed. In this matter the union was successful in getting those who had previously signed, with the exception of thirteen, to affix their signatures to the document. Since, however, they have secured the signatures of eighteen who had never signed before.

Last night's meeting was for the purpose of deciding whether to call the shops out to-day or to adopt the recommendation of the Committee of Management, asking for a delay of one week before taking any definite action, in order that a sub-committee may be formed to interview the thirteen employers who are standing out.

Regarding the Labour Day parade, it was decided that the association would make a good showing.

'Gerhard' Heintzman Paid For by Royalty.

It was no small credit to "Gerhard" Heintzman when the Canadian Government placed with him the order for the "representative Canadian piano" at the Osaka Exposition in 1903, and it was a "distinct honor" to Canada when the Emperor of Japan commanded his commissioner to purchase the instrument for the use of the Royal family.

Exact facsimiles of this piano can be seen at the warerooms of J. W. Shaw & Co., 2274 St. Catherine street, and under their building sale you can secure one of these beautiful "art" pianos at about the price of ordinary good pianos by "old makers" in the regular way. Easy terms of payment without increasing the price. J. W. Shaw & Co., only agents of "Gerhard" Heintzman in Montreal.

a better position pretty soon and $60 a month. Then you want to do $120 worth of work so they'll put you ahead and give you $100 a month, and when you get that do $200 worth of work."

And Sir William did this.

He always did more work than he was paid for—that is, paid for in cash. He was paid all right—paid in promotion and paid in wider opportunities—paid in the appreciation of those above and around him.

Now how do I know all this about Sir William Van Horne?

Success Tells Its Own Story

Sir William did not tell me.

Nobody else told me, except a scrap here and there such as the statement made by Mr. C. R. Hosmer, who, in his interview quotes Sir William Van Horne and Andrew Carnegie as examples of great men who began as telegraphers.

It was not necessary for any one to tell me.

Success tells its own story.

Show me a man that has risen to the position occupied by Sir William Van Horne and I know at once that at every stage of his career he has done more work than he was paid for doing.

Otherwise he could not have succeeded.

The fellow who does less work than he is paid for is the one who does not go ahead. He stands still. Standing still is really going backward.

It is going backwards because the rest of the procession goes ahead.

Men Who Stand Still Really Go Backward

There are telegraphers earning small salaries to-day who started about the time Sir William Van Horne and C. R. Hosmer started.

Most of them did only what they were paid for doing.

"Oh I ain't going to do anything that I ain't getting my cash for," was their theory, and so they came down to the office just on time and they quit just on time at night—begrudging a single minute given up outside of what they could cash in for.

So the company looking for heads that were above the surface didn't see these fellows when the promotion man came around, and so they stood still and the other fellows like Van Horne moved onward along the avenues of success, and to-day the standstill fellows are telling their friends how luck favoured Van Horne and how it was somebody's else fault that they were not promoted to the presidency of the C. P. R.

It is always that way with the fellows who don't win.

They lay it to everything else but their own lack of work—lack of ability—lack of loyalty and intelligence.

The Story of Those Who Win

How is it with those who win?

Do they ever tell you about luck?

No.

Do they ever tell you that they were ever used unjustly?

No.

Do they ever cry out against the hard work they have to do that they are not paid for doing?

No.

Do they ever kick because as they become masters of men and serve as superintendents and managers and presidents they are held responsible for the mistakes and shortcomings and laziness and lack of knowledge of the men under them?

No.

Do they ever complain that the work was too hard?

No.

No; the harder the work is the more pleasure they take in doing it.

Men Who Take Pleasure In Hard Work

How do I know that?

Because they said so?

No, because they prove it.

How?

They prove it by keeping on at work when they could lay down the shovel and the hoe and still enjoy a large income and plenty of honour and plenty of power.

Sir William Van Horne has certainly earned the right to rest.

He doubtless has sufficient property and a large enough income to enable him to enjoy leisure any way he might desire.

He could go to Europe, have a castle on the Rhine, and go yachting with Emperor William, or have a country place in England, and be a honoured and respected member of the highest social circles, not that he is less than that now, but I mean that he could put all his time into shining as a social light, and leading the life which so many men of wealth and eminence lead when their achievements entitle them to be recognized in the highest courts of the world.

There are many other things he might do.

Sir William could very easily spend a large amount of time in the pursuit of art. He is an artist of no ordinary ability. He is able to do work that is highly rated by the best art critics.

Sir William's Success As An Artist

At his house I have seen landscapes painted by him that bring to canvas the beauty of nature as he sees it at St. Andrews.

Another painting of his depicts the peculiar noonday glare of a tropical city.

It is an achievement in atmospheric effect.

Another shows the depth of a forest at midnight, luridly lit by a flickering camp-fire.

That is a remarkable artistic achievement.

Another picture brings to canvas Kipling's "007," a wonderfully realistic story of an express train whirling through the night, and it is not less realistic when reproduced on canvas by the brush of Sir William.

These and many other canvases all prove that Sir William is worthy of his reputation as an artist. They are lesser proofs than the exquisite little paintings with which he is making a catalogue of his collection of Japanese art. These pictures are so small it takes a magnifying glass to bring their details to the appreciation of the eye. How any one can paint with accuracy of colouring and form in so small a space and so rapidly is a mystery. Sir William paints 15 or 20 of these little pictures of a night after he has finished his other work.

But Sir William Prefers to Work

It is clear that Sir William finds a very large amount of pleasure in the pursuit of art, not only as an artist but as a collector.

His house is filled with objects of art collected from all parts of the world. They exhibit the art knowledge and the trained taste of the collector.

But Sir William puts only a small amount of his spare time into art.

He puts practically all his time into work.

The first time I called upon him he had just returned from New York.

The next time he was just leaving for Cuba.

Another time he was just taking the train for St. Andrews.

Each time he was buried in correspondence and documents.

His clerk, his secretary, his stenographer were all busy

Dictating the Details of a Banana Contract

What was he doing?

Well, at one time I heard him dictate the details of a banana contract.

He showed in that dictation absolute knowledge of the banana business.

The contract was with a steamship company. Sir William went minutely into the question of how many bananas there are to a hand, how many hands to a stock, how many bananas make a ship load, how many dollars should be paid for the service, what the profits should be and a score or two of other details implying an accurate knowledge of the whole subject of banana production from the tree to the Italian.

Sir William is a Master of Detail

This showed that Sir William is a master of detail. All successful men are.

Nothing is too small to escape their notice. Nothing too trivial.

I have heard it told how when Sir William was president of the C. P. R. a contractor tried to change the height of a banister in the C. P. R. hotel at Winnipeg four inches.

Sir William was perfectly familiar with the hotel and their specifications.

He had ordered the height of the stair rail reduced four inches because in his observation of people going up and down stairways, he had reached the conclusion that the average bannister was too high.

The final specifications were brought in. The average railroad official passes specifications with a casual enquiry to his assistant "Is this all right?"

"Not so with Sir William.

With a quick keen glance he took in every line and every figure and saw at once that his instruction regarding that four inch change in the stair rail had not been observed.

He sent for the party responsible, the specifications were changed, and the hotel a Winnipeg, the same as every other hotel in the C. P. R.—the same as every station and car of the C. P. R.—was fitted up with a regard for every item that would make it a thing of beauty, comfort, and profit.

Character Enters Into Every Man's Work

The personal attention Sir William gives to details illustrates the universal law that great achievements express the personality of the achiever.

It takes a great personality to build a great railroad or a great anything else.

It takes a great personality to organize and promote a great system.

Sir William Van Horne was the man most intimately associated with the building of the C.P.R., and with the system by which it has been made an operative success.

Men who know like to tell how he went out into the wilderness of the west and put through the giant task of C.P.R. construction in an incredibly short space of time and with obstacles to overcome which lend dramatic force to the portrayal.

It was an uninhabited region.

There were Indians and bears, and mountains and millions of acres of uncultivated land.

Sir William's Work In Western Canada

It is said that the men who worked in the construction camps were overwhelmed again and again by a sense of the vastness of the country through which they were putting a road and by the vastness of their own problems.

Then it was that Sir William threw his personality into the equation.

Wherever he was most needed there he was found.

He put ambition, energy, determination into the hearts of those men. He inspired them with his own spirit.

He drove them onward to their own success and the success of the construction, and he drove them so successfully that in 18 months they had built 3,000 miles of railroad—an achievement unparalleled in the railroad history of the world.

There were engineering problems of mountain construction that had been solved for the first time. There were vast problems of grades and curves met and conquered by Sir William and his fellow workers.

What the Imagination Does to Spur Men Onward

The imagination plays a wonderful part in these great achievements.

It enables men to see into the future and to pre-create in the realms of the intellect the resuls which make the effort worth while.

Great men see not the obstacles but that which is beyond.

Sir William saw what it meant to build a railroad into that region.

He saw the cities that would rise.

He saw the millions of acres of fertile farms that would follow.

He saw heavy laden trains carrying the products of Western Canada to the merchants, manufacturers and the workingmen of Eastern Canada, who would in their turn produce the goods to be carried westward by the C.P.R. for consumption by the millions of people who would dwell in prosperity in Western Canada.

He saw a nation of three or four millions multiplied again and again until it should have realized the prediction of J. J. Hill, who said that Western Canada would eventually have a population of 50 millions.

And when Sir William had built the C.P.R. it was with increased enthusiasm he plunged into the work of making it a success as an operating road.

His Success as a Railroad President

Vast was the task before him.

He had dealt previously with rivers and mountains and far stretches of trackless prairie.

Now he has to deal with men and trains and traffic rates and emigration and city building and farm promoting. His was the work of organizing an army of thousands of employes into a great machine that would enable the C. P. R. and the C. P. R. steamships to be operated with the highest possible degree of enterprise, and the least possible percentage of expense.

The fact that the C. P. R. within a very few years of its completion paid fair wages to its employes, disbursed several hundreds of millions in Canada addtional to the 300 millions it cost to build the road, was able to declare fair dividends upon its stock and interest on its bonds, and also each year diminish its charges for carrying freight and passengers, are all evidences of the success of the system worked out by Sir William.

To get a graphic story of Sir William in his relation to the personnel of the C. P. R. talk to C. P. R. employes.

Sir William and the Men of the C. P. R.

I saw him on the platform at the Windsor Station, waiting the other afternoon for a conference with Sir George A. Drummond.

He was chatting with the gateman and with one of the baggage men.

Another evening when I was waiting at the Windsor Station to see President Hill of the Northern Pacific, I fell into conversation with the Eastern Superintendent, Mr. Oborne, and Station Master Smith.

"Yes, success on the C. P. R. is a question of hard work and merit," said Mr. Oborne.

"There is no body on the road works any harder than the men at the head of the road—Sir William Van Horne has always been a hard working man and he works harder to-day than ever he did. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy is a hard working man. When Sir Thomas boards a train to go any where it isn't 15 minutes before he knows how all the air brakes are working, and every detail from one end to the other of that train.

"It's will-ability, do-ability, and stick-ability that make success. There is plenty of promotion on the C. P. R. for men who have these qualities."

The Case of a Man Who Started as a Newsboy

"Where did you start Mr. Oborne?"

"Oh, I started as a newsboy. I was about seven years old. I remember selling the first issue of the Star. Great paper the Star. I was selling 24 dozen a night when I quit."

"That was when?"

"Oh, I was 13."

"Another lucky thirteener," I remarked.

"There wasn't much luck about it. It was work. I was an office boy in the office of the Grand Trunk shops. Afterwards I came over here and served for a time in the president's office, was his chief clerk, then went west to be superintendent, and then to other positions until I reached here, and I have noticed that at every step what counted was the work I was doing. The men at the head of the C. P. R. are all hard workers, and know how to appreciate hard work in others. I never stayed in a position more than three years before I was given an opportunity to get into something higher up.

"This road is always watching for chances to promote its men."

The Station Master's Statement

"That's my experience exactly" said the station-master. "But for that matter there is nothing that the road does not watch carefully. If anything goes wrong it is immediately reported to the head of the road and is traced down to where the responsibility belongs. If the train is notably late it isn't 24 hours before the president has traced out exactly who or what is to blame. We all feel that we can't afford not to work just as hard as we know how to make a success of the C. P. R."

Secret Service

Now I will make a little statement here that may interest the public, and that is that in the C. P. R. system there is a secret service by which every man is checked up about every so often, so that his superiors know exactly what he is doing. This means not only the work he is doing in the office, but probably in most cases what he is doing outside the office, what his habits, who his associates are, whether he is leading a respectable, thrifty, debtless life, or whether he is demoralizing himself by the other kind of life.

This is the system followed by the great banks of Canada and all great institutions. It is absolutely necessary in order that the road may know whom to trust and promote and whom to beware of.

In the case of men like Sir William Van Horne such a system is unnecessary. Their lives are open to the whole world.

Everything that they do is a matter of public knowledge and public concern, and that in itself is a secret service by which the affairs of every man high up in the world are kept under constant scrutiny. I mention this thing here because I want to show that no matter whether a man is a clerk or chairman of a board, he is subject to the same rules and those who are high up in the world, those who are successful, those who are doing good work, do not object to this scrutiny of their conduct.

They realize the more that is known about them the better it is for them.

It is those who are not doing their work as they ought to, who do not wish close scrutiny of their conduct, and it is those who have habits and associates and affairs which they are ashamed of who resent enquiry into their private characters.

The calcium light of publicity that reveals every nook and corner of the character of a man like Sir William Van Horne is a good thing for the world.

It inspires by example.

That's the best kind of inspiration and the only kind, for Sir William, as I have said, will not discuss his own success.

Interviewing Sir William Van Horne

The first time I interviewed Sir William was in the Windsor Hotel rotunda.

Sir William had walked in briskly and was leaning against the desk.

"Sir William, I want to interview you regarding success."

"What can I say about success?"

"Everything."

"Success is all summed up in one word—work."

"But your life Sir William is an interesting illustration of the success of work?"

Sir William declined to go into this branch of the subject, but when I had switched the conversation around to the question of success in developing nations through railway facilities, and asked him for information about Cuba, the field of his present labours, he said I might drop in at his house and get the facts about Cuba.

"On the subject of Cuba, Sir William said: "I found there a country ripe for development. We are putting through a railway which will open up a large tract of very productive country and create conditions under which agriculture and trade will prosper.

"Why did you undertake to develop Cuba?" I asked.

Sir William said in reply that his chief enjoyment in life was work, and that he did not wish to be idle even in a relative sense of the word and that he found Cuba, Guatamala and South America, fruitful fields for the development of railways and other great enterprises.

Sir William Is Never Idle

It was after his other guests had left that Sir William discussed the general subject of success and there was much that he said as to the philosophy of early impulses, developing the idea that it is in extreme youth between the ages of 3 and 5 that one receives the impression of some particular thing which dictates a life career through arousing the intense interest which leads to the intense application by which one develops expertness and achieves success in a given line of endeavour.

I shall not undertake to quote Sir William upon this philosophy of success, for if he should decide to give his ideas to the world, ideas that are evolved from a life time of observation and the most profound study of this subject, it will be in his own words, and after he has had opportunity of giving the subject more attention than it received in our interview.

Sir William's Observation Regarding Young Men

There is one thing that I feel Sir William would not object to my putting in print, and that is the fact that all his life he has taken a deep interest in the success of the young men who work for his various enterprises, especially the C.P.R.

He stated that he had observed in every instance that all the success that a man attains is earned by his labour, and that there was no success possible for any man through pull or influence, for no matter where a man may be placed on the ladder of success, whether he goes up or down that ladder will depend upon his own exertions.

I could see that Sir William deplored the fact that so many people who work hard, or think they work hard are not deeply interested in what they are doing—do not feel the keen thrill of ambition, and are not driven to strenuous effort through intense interest, and thus do not accomplish the results which can only be accomplished by those who concentrate their will power and energy in doing what they have to do as well as it can possibly be done.

What One Learns From Studying Successful Men

One thing almost above all others I observed in studying Sir William Van Horne, and that is his physical power.

It goes to prove the theory that success in a measure depends upon strength. Sir William's work requires great powers of endurance.

The hard work and the long hours would wreck an average man in less than a month.

It is the same as putting an ordinary horse to pull a 6 ton truck, or putting one of these little old-fashioned engines that can pull only 20 or 25 of those small out-of-date freight cars ahead of a train of 60 of those big modern box cars which can only be pulled by one of the big modern engines.

A man is a machine.

His power of doing things is regulated by his physical strength.

Sir William's physical strength is phenomenal.

Sir William Van Horne would not have these great physical powers if he did not use them.

For instance, he walks down from his residence to the C.P.R., when he is in the city, instead of taking a carriage. I noticed him the other day, when he wished to see Mr. R. B. Angus and had learned that Mr. Angus was just taking a train at the Windsor Station. It would have taken a smart walker to run down the platform abreast of Sir William as he hurried to overtake his co-official.

All these great men show clearly that it is by the constant use of physical and mental powers that one develops his strength and his ability to achieve success.

It is by doing work the way they do it, that work becomes pleasure as well as profit.

WHOLESALE DRUGGISTS AND THE PATENTS.

Drug and proprietary medicine circles are somewhat disturbed at the present moment owing to the issuance of a proposed agreement between the wholesale and retail druggists of Canada, to the effect that proprietary medicines or patents shall be, in future, supplied to the drug trade only by the wholesale druggists. The circular issued in the name of the Canadian Wholesale Druggists' Association and the Retail Merchants' Association, of Toronto, will be put in force as a binding agreement as soon as the wholesalers have secured the signatures of two-thirds of the drug trade in Canada. It is stated there are some 1,800 retail druggists. The retail druggist who signs this agreement undertakes to obtain all his supplies of patent medicines from the wholesale druggist, and to pay as a minimum the dozen price, irrespective of the quantity he may purchase at a time, and, further, that the sale through the retail drug stores is to be discontinued of the medicines of any manufacturer who will not agree to the furnishing of his products through the wholesale druggists alone and at the prices these dealers may fix. With this proposed agreement effective, general stores and grocers will be unable to deal in the articles.

CURIOUS CLAIM RECEIVED AT CITY HALL.

A curious claim, from a man who is thought to be of unsound mind, has been received at the City Hall. The complainant wants the city to pay him the sum of fifteen thousand dollars for alleged false arrest and persecution. From enquiries made the police have no record of the man's arrest. The claim was filed away with many other peculiar claims which are received from time to time.

Bound for the Wheat Lands.

The Intercolonial Railway has just delivered to the Canadian Pacific Railway 3,600 young men, who are being taken to assist in the harvesting operations in the North-West. The excursionists are from the Maritime Provinces.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

Buffalo, N. Y., September 2.—At yesterday's session of the Executive Committee of the International Sunday School Association much of the time was taken up in framing plans for the triennial convention of the association, which is to be held at Toronto in July next. The report from Justice J. J. Maclaren, of that city, was made to the committee, concerning preparations already under way in Toronto, and everything was seen to be well on the way toward the largest as well as the most enthusiastic convention ever held by the association. In making up the Toronto programme the committee in charge of that work had conferences at Boston, Philadelphia, Toledo, Chicago and Denver, and at early dates similar conferences are to be held at Philadelphia, New York, Nashville, Atlanta, St. Louis, Chicago, Toronto and Boston, and later in New Orleans, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Denver, Omaha and Salt Lake City.

Changes in Train Service.

The Great Northern Railway of Canada announces the following fall changes, effective Sunday, September 4th:

Sunday train will leave 9.00 a.m. and run as far as Joliette only, returning to Montreal 8.30 p.m.

Weekday trains leave Montreal at 8.50 a.m. instead of 8.45, as heretofore, and 5.25 p.m. instead of 5.15. A through car for Grand Mere and Shawinigan Falls will be attached to the 5.35 p.m. train, and the former seven o'clock train cancelled.

Trains arrive: Montreal 9.15 a.m., from Hawkesbury, Joliette, Grand Mere, etc., and 6.00 p.m. from Quebec, Joliette, etc.

Montfort division passenger trains run as at present, but morning and afternoon mixed trains have been withdrawn, and will run as freights on a longer schedule.

Gamblers Were Fined.

Judge Desnoyers yesterday afternoon fined Henry Rawlins $20 and costs for keeping a gambling house on Bleury street. The frequenters were fined a like amount.

Women and Subjects of Interest to Women.

TO-DAY'S RECIPE.

For curried rice wash in several waters one cupful of rice; put it into two quarts of boiling water; add one teaspoonful of salt; when the rice is nearly tender pour it into a strainer; put over the fire one cupful of stock; add to it two teaspoonfuls of curry powder rubbed smooth in a little cold water; then add the rice to this and cook until tender; serve in the centre of a platter; pour the broth over it, also the juice of half a lemon; then sprinkle with chopped parsley.

A Woman About Town.

The holidays are over. Fast on the heels of September come trooping the merry, happy, wholesome crowd of holiday makers.

Back to the cities, back to their homes, sunburnt and rested, fresh for their toils.

At least God grant it may be so!

It will be if they have left worldly trials and worries behind for a time and lived close to nature.

But it will not be if they have gone to big, fashionable hotels, where children are rigidly suppressed and where mothers and daughters spend their time in the donning of elaborate toilets and the out-vying of one another. A holiday spent in such a fashion is no holiday. It is a waste of time and money, and those who are foolish enough to spend their summer in such a way are pretty sure to regret it. The whole object of a vacation is to cast aside all worries for a while and gather up fresh health and strength and energy to face the trials of our daily life and to carry us through the long winter.

If this object has not been accomplished the holiday has been in vain.

"Oh yes, I had a pleasant time," we often hear, "but the beds were so uncomfortable and the children so noisy."

And it is very often true. The beds of strange hotels, particularly at the seaside have a way of being hard and lumpy! The children are often noisy and troublesome. But, unless one is more or less an invalid, such things can be borne and can be looked upon as part of the scheme of things.

Stewart Edward White, who writes such delightful books, tells the story of how once, when he was staying in a hotel where there was only a thin door between his and the next, he overheard a man's voice say, "Mary, I'm mighty sorry I didn't join that association for artificial vacations. They guarantee to get you just as tired and just as mad in two days as you could by yourself in two weeks."

Perhaps some people will echo this man's regret. But one hopes not.

It is to be hoped instead that one and all have come back with the spell of God's beautiful earth still strong upon them.

FOR HEADACHES.

No remedy is as effective nor so absolutely recommendable from every point of view as Mathieu's Nervine Powders—18 for 25 cts.—for headaches and neuralgia. They do not contain any dangerous narcotics and give instant relief.

THE NEW HAT WITH THE FLARING BRIM.

Shirred mirror velvet is used for this smart new autumn hat, which shows the new pronounced flare brim. Silk and velvet flowers are used for the trimming. The velvet is in varying tints of brown, and the flowers are also brown, with a shade of cream here and there at the edges of the petals.

THE STAR'S NEW SERIAL—"THE GRAFTERS."

By Francis Lynde.

The Star announces, with considerable pleasure, that it has secured for serial publication Mr. Francis Lynde's new story, "The Grafters," one of the most accurate as well as one of the most interesting word-pictures of modern industrial and economic conditions that has ever been written.

"The Grafters" has been an instantaneous success; even those who know only vaguely of the competitions and developments which are forced by the bitter industrial struggle in certain parts of the country cannot but be fascinated by the story itself and the masterly way in which it is handled. Mr. Lynde's knowledge of his subject and his character sketches of the various types of promotors, as well as the sustained interest and rapid action of the story itself combine to make this one of the talked-about novels of the year.

The first instalment will appear in The Star next Saturday.

Mrs. Gordon Osler has returned to Toronto.

Rev. J. and Mrs. Fleck return to town on Friday.

Mr. J. J. M. Pangman, Union avenue, has left for Metis.

The marriage took place this week, in the Anglican Mission, Amherst Park, of Mr. Arthur Taylor, of St. Denis Boulevard, to Miss Charlotte (Effie) Warren, daughter of the late Mr. A. Warren, Rev. Dr. Borthwick officiating. The bride, who was gowned in white muslin, with silk applique, and hat trimmed with white tulle and ostrich feathers, carried a shower bouquet of lilies and maiden hair ferns. She was given away by Mr. John Marsh, of Amherst Park. Miss Florie Taylor was bridesmaid and Mr. Fred. Taylor acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor have left for the West, the bride travelling in blue voile trimmed with Persian embroidery.

MEN FROM WARSHIP GIVE DRILL AT ARENA.

The first of the two entertainments by sailors from the Indefatigable, assisted by detachments from some of the local regiments and the Highland Cadets, drew a fair crowd to the Arena last night, as entertainments by sailors always do in Montreal. Admiral Douglas and many officers from the warship were present the greater part of the evening, and several officers of local corps in uniform added a touch of colour to the scene.

The programme was interesting and comprised physical, bayonet and cutlass drill by the sailors, wrestling on horseback, tugs-of-war and a very interesting drill with field guns. A crew of local firemen easily won the tug-of-war from the sailors of the Indefatigable and the team from the Field Battery defeated that of the Hussars in the wrestling on horseback.

A Waltz by Miss Eva Plouffe.

Among the musical numbers to be played at Sohmer Park during the soiree du gala to-morrow night is a waltz composed by a young French Canadian pianiste, Miss Eva Plouffe, entitled "Rives Dores." Miss Plouffe is well known in Montreal musical circles.

LORD MINTO AND PARTY IN A FATAL RAILWAY WRECK

Train to Which Cars of Vice Regal Party Were Attached Clashed Into a Freight Train—Four or Five People Killed and a Number Injured.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Winnipeg, September 2.—One of the worst accidents in the history of the Canadian Pacific Railway occurred yesterday afternoon at Sintaluta, a small station on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway near Indian Head.

Information received here is meagre, but it appears that the second section of No. 1 train with the cars of the Vice-Regal party attached, dashed into the train No. 118, head on. No. 1 was running at high speed and the whole train was wrecked. Seven are said to have been killed and many injured. Lord Minto and party were badly shaken up, but not seriously hurt.

No. 1 was a particularly heavy train yesterday, and went west from Brandon in two sections. The first section passed along safely.

In it were some leading railway official including F. W. Peters, Robert Kerr and W. R. McInnes.

The second section was made up almost exclusively of sleepers and these are now a hopeless mass of ruins, under which some may be buried.

It appears that the accident was caused through the carelessness of the crews of the freight train. They were ordered to take the siding at Sintaluta to let the passenger pass. This it did but unfortunately the switch was left open behind it and the fast train dashed to its destruction.

CONFIRMED BY OFFICIALS.

At the local offices of the Canadian Pacific Railway the report of the wreck at Sintaluta confirmed the accident was given as due to a misplaced switch as a result of which the second section of No. 1 transcontinental, struck a freight train on a siding, causing several passengers to lose their lives. The dead will number four and possibly five, all women. The only body identified is that of Mrs Dorsett, ticketed to Edmonton. She was a sister of F. L. Parrish, grain merchant of Winnipeg.

The names of the other victims have not been received. Four passengers required medical attention, but are not seriously injured.

A MONTREALER INJURED.

It is reported that R. L. Hart, of Montreal, had his leg crushed considerably and is now in Regina Hospital.

The Vice-Regal party escaped without injuries whatever. All of the injured were in the first car, which was a tourist sleeper. The line was cleared and the Vice-Regal party proceeded at three o'clock this morning.

MANY DOCTORS ON THE SCENE.

Many doctors were taken to the scene as soon as possible, and the citizens of Sintaluta rendered all possible assistance in caring for the passengers. General Superintendent Bury, accompanied by Superintendent Brownlee and Skully, left Winnipeg this morning at two o'clock on a special train for the scene of the wreck.

CONDUCTOR ATKINSON IS STILL MISSING.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Richmond, Que., September 2.—The inquest on the victims of the railway accident here will be resumed this evening, at 7.30. Conductor Atkinson has disappeared as completely as if the ground had swallowed him up. His father lives in Lower Melbourne, just across the river from here. Atkinson was last seen crossing the bridge to Melbourne a few minutes after the accident. It is generally supposed that he got a team and drove across the country to the State of Vermont, about sixty miles from here.

Special to The Montreal Star.

St. Hyacinthe, September 2.—All the residents of this city who were injured in the recent collision in Richmond are rapidly recovering except Paquette and Marceau. Grave doubts are entertained for Paquette's recovery, as he is badly bruised internally. He was operated on last night in the hospital here, but the surgeons cannot yet state positively whether he will survive or not. Mr. Marceau is in a more critical condition than yesterday, but it is expected he will recover. Col. A. Denis is improving nicely. The funerals of Messrs. Blanchette and Simard will be held to-morrow morning.

Official Statement of Wreck.

At the head office of the C. P. R. this morning it was denied that the accident that occurred at Sintaluta was as extensive as had been reported. There were five killed and four injured.

Among the dead is Mrs. Duffett, of Edmonton.

A freight train was standing on a siding, but the switch remaining open enabled the transcontinental express going west to rush into the freight. The transcontinental express in question left Montreal on Tuesday morning.

JAPANESE STRATEGY IS HIGHLY PRAISED.

Special Cable from a Montreal Star Correspondent.

Tokio, September 2.—In yesterday's fight at Liao Yang, the Japanese pressed the retreating Russians so closely that the left of the central army was attacking the railway station while the enemy's main forces, surrounded on three sides, were flying to the right bank of the Taitse river. The policy of the Japanese commander is understood to be to assail the Russians without pause. Japan's unwavering confidence in the outcome of the struggle in Manchuria, strengthened as it was by the firm tone of Marshal Oyama's official dispatches, have been justified by the work of the armies and the perfection of the strategy of the Military Council. The latter planned the patient holding back of the extreme right and left of the combined armies until Kuropatkin should either come within easy reach or should reveal his determination to remain at a safe distance inland.

The Japanese Generis employed every tactical strategem they could conceive to draw the Russians southward and induce them to stake everything on a series of great engagements. That is believed to be what has taken place. It is surmised that Kuropatkin had not lost sight of the possibility of his defeat and that a prompt retreat might be necessary. Indeed, the war office knows that he had pontooned the Taitse river, built many roads northward, removed large quantities of stores to Thieling, and disposed a certain number of entrenched troops as a screen for his left rear. But, it is thought highly improbable that all his precautions will enable him to lead his beaten army safely away. Kuroki's force across the Taitse river numbers three divisions, and contact with Kuropatkin's screen has been established.

Following Out Original Plan.

Paris, September 2.—The Foreign Office has no confirmation of the Japanese occupation of Liao Yang, but its advices lead officials to believe that General Kuropatkin decided to carry out his original plan to retreat on Mukden. This plan, it is added, was temporarily abandoned, as Kuropatkin believed that the defences of Liao Yang would permit him to hold back the Japanese. This failing, it is stated, the Russian commander will attempt to revert to his first plan, that of effecting a concentration at Mukden.

The officials here have almost given up hope of finding Lieutenant De Cuverville, the French naval attache, who left Port Arthur in a junk with Lieutenant Gilgenheim, the German naval attache, about the middle of August. He cabled to the authorities here August 15, that he was about to leave and that the American naval attache had succeeded in getting out on a junk. De Cuverville has not been heard of since starting. His family and the officials here are greatly alarmed. He is a son of Admiral De Cuverville.

Sedan Day in Germany.

Berlin, September 2. — Sedan day was observed to-day by a parade of the Potsdam and Berlin garrisons, numbering thirty thousand troops. All the household regiments took part in the display. Riding with the Emperor in the reviewing party were Prince Henry and twenty other members of the royal family, a number of other princes and the Foreign Military Attaches and some other foreign guests, including the Earl of Lonsdale. The Empress, in a white uniform, led the Queen's Fusiliers, of which she is colonel. The Emperor afterwards entertained the commanding generals and foreign guests at breakfast.

IT'S A "BALLY" SHAME.

Che Foo, September 2.—Mr. Melton Prior, the Illustrated London News correspondent, has arrived here from New Chwang, en route home. Mr. Prior says he was not nearer a battle than eight miles, owing to the restrictions placed on correspondents by the Japanese.

Quebec Exhibition Opens.

Quebec, September 2. — The Provincial exhibition opened yesterday and will continue until September 10. The display of goods and live stock is extensive and varied. The goods are in splendid condition. In the morning 250 blue jackets landed from H.M.S. Ariadne, in command of Commander Webb, and marched to the Plains of Abraham for practice drill. The seamen were put through company and battalion movement and field movements and marched past the saluting point with excellent precision, and afterwards were drawn up in line, when they advanced in column and quarter column, and finally formed in fours. Returning from the plains, the blue jackets met the funeral of the late Joseph Archer. The naval men stopped and presented arms while the hearse and mourners passed and stood at shoulder arms until the entire funeral procession passed along.

ST. CUNEGONDE RESIDENTS RESENT ENCROACHMENTS FOR CHURCH BUILDING.

The last special meeting of the Town Council of Ste. Cunegonde was an important one. The trustees of the neighbouring municipality desire to obtain the Council's permission to encroach upon a part of the Rue Quesnel for the construction of the new church, and naturally this does not meet with the approval of the residents in that street.

In a word, the trustees are asking to be allowed to remove a portion of the pavement measuring 3 feet wide, the result of which will be that the view along there will be obstructed. This, in the opinion of a large number of people, is too great a concession, and they have not hesitated to make their displeasure known.

One of the proprietors whose property is next to the church's, has even caused a notarial protest to be served on the mayor and aldermen of Ste. Cunegonde holding the town responsible in damages for any wrongs he may suffer in consequence of the encroachment, and other protests are expected to follow.

A general meeting of the City Council will be held on Wednesday, when the matter will be gone into.

The Case of Detective Cote.

The body of the unfortunate girl, Mamie Lalonde, who committed suicide in the Jacques Cartier Hotel, was shipped for burial to Prescott last evening. The case of Detective Cote in this matter will be dealt with at the next meeting of the Police Committee. In the meantime Detective Cote has been suspended from duty.

MR. W. STEPHEN PASSED AWAY TO-DAY.

The death of Mr. W. Stephen, brother of Lord Mount Stephen, occurred to-day at his residence, 645 Sherbrooke street. The deceased, who had been ailing for some months, suffering from complication of diseases, was about 63 years of age, and his death was not unexpected by the members of his family and his friends, who have been aware of his poor health for some time.

Mr. Stephen was also a brother of Mr. Frank Stephen his sister being Mrs. Herbert Meighen, of this city. Funeral arrangements have not been made, but it is understood that the final obsequies will be conducted privately.

The marriage of Mrs. Lina A. Lloyd, daughter of W. G. Murray, Esq., to Dr. Charles Harold Church, of Montreal, was celebrated at the home of the bride's father, Massawippi, Quebec, Wednesday evening. Dr. Howard M. Church, Westmount, acted as best man, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Arthur Stephens, of Coaticook, assisted by the Rev. G. H. A. Murray, Hatley. Immediately after the ceremony, Dr. and Mrs. Church left for Boston and the New England States. On their return they will reside at 84 Mackay street.

Ald. H. B. Ames has returned to the city, after having made a trip to the Temiscamingue district.

LAST DAY OF HIS GRACE'S STAY IN MONTREAL A BUSY ONE.

Archbishop of Canterbury and Archbishop Bond Were Photographed Together — An Interesting Visit to McGill —Inspection of Other Institutions in the City.

A drive to several of the local institutions had been arranged for His Grace of Canterbury this morning at 10.30 o'clock, but the start was delayed for some moments owing to the fact that their lordships had paid a visit to Notman's studio. The two prelates had their photographs taken together, the first official photograph of the Archbishop of Canterbury taken on this side of the Atlantic having been taken by the local photographer. Mrs. Bond accompanied them on their walk to the studio.

At 10.40 the party entered the carriages which had been prepared for them. His Grace of Canterbury, with Bishop Carmichael, Sir Melbourne Tait and Mr. Crathern took the first carriage. Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Bond, with th Rev. J. A. Ellison and the Rev. Hyle Holden, occupied the second carriage. They proceeded directly to McGill University. Up Union avenue and along Sherbrooke to the front gates of that institution, the carriages proceeded, and then along the gravel drives to the Macdonald Engineering and Electrical Building. His Grace commenting upon the beauty of the grounds as they passed.

Arriving at the third building, the party alighted, and were greeted by Professor Owens, Professor Herdt, Dr. Coker and Mr. Clay, secretary of the University. They were conducted along the spacious halls to the electrical laboratory. Under the direction of Dr. Owens several electrical apparati were set in motion and on the request of a number of the party a slight shock was administered to those who desired the novelty.

Proceeding downstairs just as they were about to enter the Thermodynomic Laboratory they were met by Dr. Moyse, Dean of the Faculty of Arts, and vice-principal, who welcomed them on behalf of the governing bodies, in the absence of Principal Peterson, who is still in Europe. Dean Moyse had hurried in to the city from the seaside immediately on receipt of news of the intended visit.

INSPECTED APPARATUS.

The apparatus in the Thermodynamic Laboratory having been exhibited, the party proceeded to the dynamo room, where His Grace commented upon the beautiful order and economy of space which the arrangements of the dynamos afforded.

In the meantime Mr. Ellison, who takes a keen interest in educational matters, was obtaining particulars of the workings of the Canadian educational systems.

"Ah," he remarked to Mr. Clay, "the zeal for education among all classes in Canada is truly remarkable. "I am told that boys will come straight to the colleges from the farms."

Mr. Clay was careful to point out that these boys who came from the farms were first obliged to pass a severe matriculation examination, and had probably passed a number of years in some of the High schools of the country. Mr. Ellison then remarked on the report of the Mosely Commission which had been sent out from England to report on the American system of education. That commission had found the American schools filled to overflowing, in fact the zeal for education was truly remarkable, but there was one serious trouble which was met with in Canada which was not met with in the United Kingdom, that was a scarcity of teachers. In England there were any number of male teachers to be found.

As the party proceeded through several of the intervening rooms, His Grace the Archbishop noticed a Star staff artist sketching his profile.

"Ah, my friend," he remarked "you are working under difficulties," and then laughed heartily at the "will rather" of the artist.

WATCHED THE TESTS.

Reaching the Material Testing Laboratory, several tests were shown the visitors. A piece of hardened steel about a foot long was subjected to a pressure of some 60,000 pounds. When it smashed with a loud report, the Archbishop was the only one, with the exception of the attendant professors, to retain his composure. The ladies gave excited little cries. bar of wood was similarly crushed.

As the distinguished visitors proceeded along the halls His Grace and Dean Moyse discussed educational conditions in this country. Both were inclined to lament the little regard paid to the higher classics.

Leaving the engineering building, the party walked along the curved walk to the chemistry building, where they were received by Prof. Rutherford. The Archbishop had heard of the Professor's position in the field of investigation of radium, and the radio-activities. He was anxious to see some experiments.

Proceeding to the laboratory, they seated themselves while the room was darkened. While awaiting the experiment Dean Moyse confided some of his troubles with the Ontario Board of Education but, however, it looked at last as if the McGill degree would permit its holder to teach in the province to the west of Quebec. His Grace was most sympathetic. Just then the apparatus was started, only to have a fuse blown out. When the doors were opened the party proceeded to the room beneath, where they were compensated by a sight of some remarkably interesting experiments with liquid air.

His Grace and party watched while the liquid was manufactured, then, when some of it had been gathered in a tumbler water was frozen, mercury was changed into a solid form, frozen so hard and cold that when a match was touched to it, the match lighted.

"Well, really, I can hardly believe my eyes," he remarked.

The party proceeded up stairs and there they divided, His Grace of Canterbury, with Bishop Carmichael and Sir Melbourne Tait proceeding across to the William Redpath library, while Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Bond with the rest of the party remained to view an experiment in radio-activity.

At the door of the Chemistry building, His Grace, turning to shake hands with Professor Rutherford, remarked: "I really have much to thank you for. It was all very, very marvellous. As we say in the old country, 'almost as good as you get.'"

INTERESTED IN LIBRARY.

The index system at the library was an innovation which the Archbishop had never before seen. It struck him that there were several places in England where it could be employed profitably. For a few minutes he rambled around through the maze of bookcases, taking down old favourites and longing eagerly for a chance to skim through them.

"Good bye Dr. Moyse," he remarked as the party left the handsome building, "I feel as if I knew much more about your wonderful institution than I did before." Dr. Moyse bowed, smiled, looked pleased and the Primate, entering his carriage drove on.

THE ANDREWS HOME.

The Andrews Home, the next point visited. Arriving there they found the Rev. Canon Renaud on the steps to greet them. A necessarily short visit was paid to the various rooms of the institution. A chat with the matron elicited an exclamation of surprise from His Grace when he learned the large number of immigrants who are assisted at this institution yearly.

After a glance at the grounds, the Archbishop returned to the library of the institution, where he signed the registrar, "Not as an emigrant," he remarked.

After he had been presented with a copy on the report, His Grace, at the request of the head of the institution, pronounced the episcopal benediction.

Just as they were leaving the institution, they were met by the ladies and the rest of the party, who had remained at McGill.

"Ah, here's my wife," he remarked, turning to Canon Renaud, then to Mrs. Davidson. "Science was too much for you, my dear. You are, I'm afraid, a pack of deserters," he added, and, entering the carriage of the first division of the party, left for the Y.M.C.A., while the others remained to inspect the institution.

VISITED Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Calhoun, the assistant secretary, met the party at the steps, and a short visit was paid the establishment. The spacious halls and parlours, the gymnasium especially interested His Grace as he told those assembled how he had taken part in the last great convention which had taken place at London last spring. The fact, too, that the institution was self-supporting interested him.

Lunch hour was drawing near, and there was no time to visit any of the other institutions, so the Archbishop called at the residence of Bishop Carmichael, where he remained for a few minutes. Having been escorted to his carriage by the Bishop, he entered it, and with Sir Melbourne Tait, drove back to Bishop's Court, and went in to rest until luncheon.

The second division of the party, after inspecting St. Andrew's Home, drove direct to Archbishop Bond's residence.

Holy Communion was celebrated at Christ Church Cathedral at 8 o'clock this morning. The communicants were numerous for the fact had gone abroad that His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury would officiate. Rarely perhaps has a service of greater solemnity taken place in the historic edifice. His Grace of Montreal assisted, while dozens of the local clerics were present. The service lasted until after nine o'clock.

His Grace of Canterbury, with Mrs. Davidson, the Rev. Mr. Ellison with the Rev. Hyle Holden will leave the Windsor Station on a special train at 10.30 p.m. to-night. They will reach Toronto to-morrow morning about 8 a.m.

Mrs. Randal Davidson, Guest of Honour.

Mrs. Randall Davidson, wife of the Archbishop of Canterbury, was the guest of honour yesterday at a small luncheon given by Mrs. Norton, wife of Archdeacon Norton, at Christ Church Cathedral Rectory. Mrs. Davidson was gowned in gray voile, with a most becoming black and white picture hat.

After luncheon Mrs. Davidson returned to Bishopscourt, where she was waited upon by a deputation of the Women's Auxiliary, who were introduced by Mrs. Frank Bond, and who presented her with an address and a life membership badge on the General Board of the Women's Auxiliary for all Canada.

The deputation included Mrs. Tilton, of Ottawa, president of the Canadian Women's Auxiliary; Mrs. Baldwin, wife of Bishop Baldwin, and president of the Huron Branch of the Women's Auxiliary; Mrs. Holden, president of the Montreal Branch; Mrs. Patterson Hall, general corresponding secretary; Mrs. Baylis, Miss McCord and Miss Raynes, secretaries, and Mrs. R. Lindsay, widow of the late Archdeacon Lindsay, of Montreal.

Following is the address which was read by Mrs. Patterson Hall:

THE ADDRESS.

As representing the W. A. to the M. S. C. C., we beg to tender to you and to His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury, our warmest greetings, on this occasion of your visit to Canada. We thank our Heavenly Father that He has permitted us to enjoy the great privilege of welcoming such illustrious guests to our beloved land, and we pray that your sojourn in America may be a time of joy and happiness.

We rejoice to meet face to face a daughter of that saintly woman, Catherine Tait, so well known for her zeal and good works, whose name will always be honoured and revered by Christian women. As a slight token of our appreciation of the blessing conferred on us by your presence amongst us, we beg of you to accept the accompanying badge of life membership of the Woman's Auxiliary, trusting that it may always remind you of a happy epoch in your life, and prove a link uniting you with your Canadian sisters of the Church, in the missionary work of the world.

It will thus be our privilege to enroll among our members a name already familiar to us in His labours of love. We pray, dear Mrs. Davidson, that together, we may be stimulated and strengthened more and more in the service of Christ and His Church by the spirit of the motto of the Archbishop.

"The love of Christ constraineth us."

On behalf of the Woman's Auxiliary to the M.S.C.C.

(Signed)

ROBERTA E. TILTON,
President.

CAROLINE M. HALL,
Secretary.

At the conclusion of the address Mrs. Tilton pinned the membership badge on Mrs. Davidson's dress. In a happy little speech Mrs. Davidson thanked the deputation, and expressed her surprise and appreciation of the honour the Women's Auxiliary has bestowed on her.

The membership badge given Mrs. Davidson was in the form of a gold bar with the letters "W. A." in blue enamel, from which was suspended a Winchester cross of gold bearing the same letters in raised gold. On the back were Mrs. Davidson's initials, "E. M. D." the word "Canada," and the date.

After the presentation Mrs. Frank Bond and Mrs. Davidson drove as far as the residence of Sir George Drummond, on Sherbrooke street, where they were joined by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

This afternoon Mrs. Bond gave a ladies' luncheon of twelve covers, at Bishopcourt, in honour of Mrs. Davidson. Later the Archbishop of Canterbury and Mrs. Davidson attended the garden party given by Mrs. James Ross, of Peel street.

Mrs. James Ross, Peel street, gave a very largely attended garden party at her residence, Peel street, this afternoon, in honour of the Archbishop of Canterbury and Mrs. Randall Davidson. The gathering, which was a most representative one, included a large number of the Montreal clergy and their wives. The whole house, including the beautiful picture gallery, was thrown open to the guests. Tea was served on the lawn, the table being effectively decorated with potted plants.

MR. J. P. MORGAN LEAVES THE CITY BUT WILL RETURN.

A special car was attached to the morning train for Burlington, Vt., for the accommodation of Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan. Mr. Morgan undertook this journey with the object of seeing a sick friend, and he will return to the city this evening in time for dinner. The train went over the Rutland Railway.

No personage at the Windsor Hotel has attracted more attention than Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan has during the past few days.

Every time that Mr. Morgan puts in an appearance in the corridor or in the rotunda conversations cease, and the great financier becomes the one object of curious interest.

Mr. Morgan's presence here is due to the fact that he is a great personal friend of the Archbishop of Canterbury, having met Dr. Davidson many years ago prior to his becoming Primate of All England.

THREE MEN FELL SEVENTY FEET.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Lethbridge, Sept. 2. — Walter Rauh, Geo. Moore and Albert Lombard fell 70 feet from the New Steel Waterworks tower at Lethbridge. Lombard is dead and the other two are probably fatally injured. All came here six weeks ago as employes of the Chicago Iron and Bridge Works to build an eighty-foot tower for the town system. After dinner the three men hoisted to the top a painted strip; then one rollickingly called out to the man at the windlass, "Let her go." "Don't say it like that," said one; "we might go sooner than we wanted," and as he said it the rope parted and the heavy cage with its human weight crashed down the seventy feet, striking the concrete foundation.

SHERBROOKE FAIR WILL CLOSE TO-NIGHT

Special to The Montreal Star.

Sherbrooke Fair closes to-night. The Sherbroke Fair closes to-night. The week must be regarded as a successful one. As an exhibition the fair of 1904 has not been equalled by any of its predecessors. The gate receipts will be somewhat less. Wednesday's attendance fell 500 short by that of Wednesday last year, and yesterday the attendance was considerably less than last year's Thursday. The Richmond wreck undoubtedly has had a considerable effect upon the attendance. The gate receipts however are not seriously affected and the directors will in all probability be able to make both ends meet.

FIRE CHIEF IS CHARGED WITH ASSAULT.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Shebrooke, Que., September 2.—Fire Chief Benoit has been arrested here on a charge of committing an assault on a man named Heath, of West Stewartown. The allegation is that Benoit struck Heath in the face, knocked him down and afterwards kicked him. He has been remanded to District Magistrate Court.

THREE MEN HURT IN AN EXPLOSION.

Samuel Butler, Frank West and A. Mavor, three workmen, were taken to the General Hospital in the ambulance this afternoon, suffering from the effects of scalds and burns received, as the result of an explosion in the chemical works, on Duke street. The men were engaged in pouring phosphorus into water, when an explosion followed immediately. Butler and Mavor were not seriously injured, and after medical treatment were taken to their homes. Frank West, however, was badly scalded about the arms and face and had to be placed under medical care. He is expected to recover.

Daylight Robbery at Brandon.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Brandon, Man., Sept. 2. — While C. P.R. Ticket Agent D. D. Niblock was absent at dinner, yesterday, the ticket office was entered and cash and cheques stolen to the amount of over $1,000. The cheques were all endorsed.

A Wealthy Former Montrealer Remembers His Old Home.

THE PRESS ON EARL GREY

An ex-Minister of Australia Admits Having Been Bribed by Shipping Companies.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, September 2.—The press generally commend the appointment of Earl Grey.

St. James's Gazette: "If ever an administrator had a fine chance of serving a British Colony, that administrator is Earl Grey. If tact, prudence, wise conciliation, were ever needed, they are needed now in the Dominion. An extended acquaintance with the Colonial Government should enable him to look upon Canadian affairs from a Colonial standpoint, an important factor in the task of keeping unimpaired the bonds which tie to the Mother Country. Children abroad may have failed because they lacked this comprehensive sense. More subtle wisdom will be required to direct the destinies of Canada at the present moment than those which Earl Grey was called upon to exercise in South Africa."

The Globe: "In the choice of Earl Grey the Government have undoubtedly secured an excellent representative of the sovereign in our great North American dependency. In politics, before all things, he is an Imperialist in the fullest sense of the word.

The Westminster Gazette: "Canada will obtain a Governor-General of parts in Earl Grey. Whatever he puts his hand to he does with a will."

The Pall-Mall Gazette: "It is a curious coincidence that Earl Grey's aunt was the wife of Canada's Lord Durham and his sister is the wife of Lord Minto. Canada will therefore take kindly to him. He has a statesman's mind and a diplomat's temper."

CANADA'S NAME.

The Standard has an article on Imperial place names. It says: "Too many are characterized by a lack of exercise of imagination, or sometimes an abuse of that faculty. Canada is of doubtful interpretation, some claiming it is an Iroquois term for village, others as derived from the Spanish, 'aca nada,' meaning 'nothing here.'"

ADMITS RECEIVING BRIBE.

Webb, ex-minister of agriculture for Australia, admitted to the butter commission that he received £3,700 as his share of the secret commission given by British shipping companies to one firm of butter agents.

AGAINST STEEL RAIL DUTY.

The Commercial Intelligence on the duty on steel rails imposed by Canada says: "While loath to admit it, the recent customs legislation of Canada might as well, as regards its bearing on British trade, be that of a hostile nation."

BEQUESTS TO MONTREAL SYNAGOGUES.

The late Samuel Moss left $200 to the English, German and Polish synagogues of Montreal, his native city.

THE KING AND LOUISBURG MEMORIAL.

Lord Strathcona has received a letter that the King has consented to become a patron of the Louisburg memorial fund.

FINAL STAGE OF GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S MATCH TO-DAY.

The Weather Opened Splendidly—The Statistical Office Busy on the Lists.

(See also Page Three.)

Special to the Montreal Star.

Rockliffe Rifle Ranges, Ottawa, September 2—The weather opened splendidly to-day for the final stage of the Governor-General's match. The wind came at 11 o'clock, and shooting started at 8 o'clock with the extra series at 800 yards. The regular match proceeded an hour after, the men having had time to get some sighting shots with extra series tickets. The statistical office is a scene of much activity to-day and the first list given out was the extra series at 600 yards, where the shooting had been good.

Then came the Lansdowne aggregate when the British Columbia team won, followed by the Govrnor-General's Foot Guards. The first place in the Gordon Highlanders' trophy went to the 10th Royal Grens, who beat out the 43rd Ottawa by reason of having a better score at long ranges. The men from Vancouver again came well in.

There was a misunderstanding as to the tyro prizes in the first stage of the Governor-General's. The statistical officer made the rule read that the best 28 men in the first stage got the $4 prizes, and made the list out in this way. It happened that all these men were in the second stage, and the match committee this morning decided the awards could only be made to the tyro who did not qualify for the second step, and a new list was made out as follows:

TYROS IN GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S.

$4 each—Corp. J. Thorne, R.G., 92; Sgt. A. H. Stone, 13th, 92; Mr. N. S. Brown, R.R.A., 91; Capt. J. H. Charlton, 69th, 91; Col.-Sgt. F. Hutton, R.C.R., 91; Corp. J. A. Claire, 1st Hussars, 90; Pte. WINNER OF GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S PRIZE.

Ottawa, September 2.—At the D. R. A. meeting, the Governor-General's prize was won by W. G. Willoughby, of Australia, with a score of 191 out of a possible 210. It was won last year by W. G. Mortimer, 10th Royal Grenadiers, Toronto, with a score of 197.

Coppers Active in Boston.

Boston, September 2.—The renewed buying in Coppers, which was not looked for until after the Labour Day holidays, appeared this morning, and stocks were in some cases carried several points above their previous level. The leaders in the upward movement were Tamarack, which advanced six points to 120. Osceola, advanced 5 points to 76. Wolverine, five points to 93. Ile Royale, one point to 20 1-3. Centennial, 1 point to 28. Range one point to 58 1-4. Other active stocks were Mohawk Atlantic and Allouez all strong. Mohawk selling at 46 1-2, Telephone lost to 137 3-4. We... pfd. advanced to 81 1-2. Dominion Coal advanced to 59 1-4 bid. Iron sold at 12.

EVIDENCE SHOWED NO FOUL PLAY

Edouard Poullot's Death Was Due to Injuries Caused By Fall.

DIED IN THE HOSPITAL

Mysterious Circumstances Unravelled at the Coroner's Inquest Held To-day.

Coroner McMahon held an inquest to-day over the body of Edouard Poullot, a plumber and steamfitter, who died in the Notre Dame Hospital yesterday as the result of injuries.

It was at first suspected that Poullot had met with foul play, but the jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict to the effect that death was due to a fall.

Dr. Duncan MacTaggart, medical expert, who made the post-mortem examination, testified that death was due to peritonitis and a rupture of the bowels, caused by a blow or a fall. He said there were a few marks of violence found on the face and head, which might have been caused by a fall.

Dr. Fleury, medical superintendent of the Notre Dame Hospital, corroborated the evidence of the previous witness.

Mr. Joseph Poullot, father of the deceased, said that his son was 39 years of age, and was of a very quiet disposition. He had no knowledge of how his son came by his injuries.

Miss Martel, of 33 St. Urbain street, with whom the deceased roomed, deposed that Poullot came home about 12.30 o'clock Wednesday morning, but must have left again shortly afterwards. He returned at 5.30 o'clock the same morning and complained of feeling ill. He had terrible pains in his stomach. She advised him to retire, but a short while afterwards he asked to be sent to the Notre Dame Hospital. He did not complain to her of any person having beaten him, and did not say how he got hurt.

Mr. Alphonse Verville, business agent of the Plumbers and Steamfitters' Union, testified that the deceased was at a meeting of the union on Monday evening, held in St. Joseph's Hall. When the meeting broke up he went away with the others. At that time he was all right, and did not complain of being unwell.

The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his father's residence, 62 Prince Arthur street, to the Cote des Neiges Cemetery. The members of the Journeymen Plumbers and Steamfitters' Union will attend the funeral in a body. The members have been instructed to wear their funeral badges.

The question of whether the position of the Canadian Pacific Railway will be jeopardized by the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific is discussed in a lengthy article in the Wall Street Journal. The paper professes to have received enquiries on that point, and states that although the officials of both companies laugh at the idea, it believes from a study of the situation that there is some ground for the suspicion. In support of the theory the case of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific, in the United States, is brought forward as a parallel case. The disastrous competition which forced the Northern Pacific into a receivership is offered as a reason for expecting something of the kind in the case of the Canadian transcontinental line and its prospective competitor.

In the case of the two roads in the United States mentioned, it is pointed out, spur lines were constructed into the territory of one another, with the result that rate wars followed, which proved disastrous. It is said that the Grand Trunk Pacific may be expected to do the same thing, although the main lines will be a good distance apart. In the building of these spur lines, and in their administration, it is urged, there is a great chance for destructive competition, such as wrecked Northern Pacific and many other roads of the American West. The management of Canadian Pacific and of Grand Trunk Pacific will probably be quite as human and quite as liable to make mistakes as were the men that administered the American transcontinentals through the period of war.

One favourable point urged is the fact that the Canadian Government, by subsidy, by appointment of regulating bodies, and by guarantee of bonds, is directly interested in both Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific. The Government will, therefore, maintain peace between these two roads at all costs. Such a peace would ensure, indeed would make necessary, the concurrence of the Canadian Pacific. The Canadian Railroad Commission is far more than an advisory board. It has direct powers of discipline and regulation, which are given it with the prime object of compelling the railways to maintain a prosperous peace, while at the same time serving the public on a reasonable basis.

Another important consideration is the undoubted fact that the spirit of railroading to-day is peaceful, as compared with ten years ago. The railroad world at large has undoubtedly learned very well the lesson taught by the period of receiverships in the United States. The names of Shaughnessy, Van Horne, Hays and many others on the roster of Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk Pacific are the names of the same men who figured prominently in the great railroad wars of this country a few years ago. If any one on the continent is qualified to know all about the result of sharp warfare it is the men who administer these two roads.

The City Council of Ottawa, at a special meeting last evening, accepted the offer of E. H. Gay, of Montreal, for $688,000, Ottawa city debentures at 99. The debentures bear interest at four per cent.

Advices from Nova Scotia state that the new vein of coal discovered by the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company on Point Aconi peninsula, is estimated at over 50 millions of tons, and comes within a few feet of the surface. A gentleman connected with the company is in receipt of the following telegram from North Sydney:

"Furnace blown in 10 a.m. yesterday. Made first cast pig iron noon to-day. Everything highly satisfactory."

STEADY TONE IN STOCK MARKET

Dominion Coal's Rapid Advance Attracts Much Attention.

IRON BONDS ARE BUOYANT

Twin City Fractionally Easier—Less Trading in Montreal Power, But Steady.

FORENOON STOCK REPORT.

The tone of the stock market was strong to steady during the forenoon operations. In some issues there were indications that the absorption at the higher level reached this week was barely equal to the task of maintaining the best price level attained.

This was not the case with Dominion Iron and Steel and Dominion Coal. The latter made another striking advance to 59½, after opening at 58, compared with 57¼ at the close yesterday.

Montreal Power opened strong, but was quieter than in yesterday's dealings. Nova Scotia acted likewise and barely held the advance. Twin City was a shade easier, while Richelieu evidenced some weakness, although there were no transactions.

DOMINION COAL'S RISE.

Dominion Coal's advance is one of the most surprising features of the market. Nothing has developed to account for it, and the most plausible explanation seems to be that some short interests must have overstayed their market. At the time of the passing of the dividend some weeks ago the price declined to 40¾. The floating supply appears to have largely disappeared on the way down. It will be remembered that from 147 a couple of years ago the stock had a long and persistent decline of over 100 points.

If as has been suggested some shorts have delayed too long to cover their contracts, it would not be unreasonable to suppose that they would find considerable difficulty at this stage in securing the stock, and would naturally have to bid up the price to get it. With the stock held very largely by interests close to and friendly with the management of the company it does not seem strange that they would hesitate to oblige the shorts.

FIFTEEN POINT RECOVERY.

It is readily admitted in the "Street" that the company is doing a good business and is strengthening in its financial position all the time but for anything like active buying demand to develop, aside from shorts, so soon after the passing of the dividend seems unreasonable. The stock has had a recovery of about fifteen points since a month ago, which for a non-dividend paying stock beats anything else in the market.

The buying of Dominion Iron bonds continued, resulting in a new high price level for the year at 71¾. The trading commenced at 71¼, compared with 71 at the close yesterday. The preferred also touched the highest of the year at 37¼, after opening at 36½, compared with the final transaction yesterday at 35½. The common's progress was slower, but there was a fair volume of business at 11¾ to 12 with the last sale of the forenoon at 11⅞.

TORONTO RAILS SCARCE.

Toronto Railway was the only conspicuous feature of the railway list and had a rise of a point at 103 1-4. The stock for sale seems to be very scarce. Montreal Power opened strong at 78, but later sold at 77 3-4, which is a point under yesterday's best and equal to the closing figures yesterday. Twin City was easier at 97 3-4 and Canadian Pacific was quiet and steady at 124 1-2 to 124 3-8. Nova Scotia Steel opened strong at 65 1-4 and later sold at 65. Bell Telephone was more active than usual and strong at 147.

GENERALLY STRONG IN WALL STREET

From the Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star in Wall Street.

New York, September 2.—The stock market opened generally strong, with more active trading concentrated in same directions which were prominent in yesterday's dealings. United States Steel securities continued conspicuously firm on very large transactions, and were wholly unaffected by later reports with regard to the results of Tuesday's pool meetings, which were to the effect that no agreement whatever had been reached with reference to selling prices. Other strong features in this same quarter of the market were American Smelting, General Electric, Sugar Refining and People's Gas. Consolidated Tobacco four per cent. bonds again fluctuated irregularly on very large transactions. In the railway list dealings were largest in Rock Island, Southern Railway, Erie, Wabash stocks, Union Pacific, St. Paul and Baltimore & Ohio.

Penna was also steady notwithstanding the very heavy decrease in net earnings shown in the July report. Metropolitan stocks opened lower in connection with the annual statement of the New York Railway Company, published this morning, but transactions in them were in small volume.

American stocks in London market showed slight advances for more active issues, and moderate buying orders for foreign account were observed here upon opening of business. Canadian Pacific was very dull but steady, its sales to 1 o'clock 300 shares.

STOCKS WERE ACTIVE IN TORONTO MARKET.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, September 2.—A sharp advance in Dominion Coal was the feature of the Toronto market this morning. Steel issues, too, were active and firm, and some other stocks showed gains, though interest was monopolized by Steel and Coal shares. No news was in circulation to account for the movement. Coal opened 1 1-4 up at 57 1-4 bid and was steadily advanced until the first sale at 58 1-2 for 25 shares. Shortly after it sold at 58 3-4, 59 and 59 1-4, with 59 1-4 bid for more. Nova Scotia Steel was unusually active, being dealt in small lots early at 65 to 65 1-4. Dominion Steel common opened 1-8 up at 117, two 100 share lots changing hands at that figure. The bonds at 71 3-8 showed a gain of 1 3-4. Tractions were firm. Toronto Railway at 103 showing a gain of 1-2 and St. Paul at 105, a gain of 3-8. Twin City for two very small lots sold 5-8 lower at 98. General Electric was firm. Forenoon transactions were:

Bank of Commerce, 5 at 152 1-4.
Can Gen. Elec., 65 at 146 to 146 1-2.
London Elec., 10 at 90.
Niagara Nav., 5 at 112.

OCEAN FREIGHTS FIRM BUT DULL—OATS MAY GO VIA N. Y.

The ocean freight market is firmer, notwithstanding the present dulness. It is expected that during the present month there will be increased offerings of practically all lines of produce for shipment, save, perhaps, in the case of live stock. This has not been offering so freely of late, the result being a larger quantity of untaken space for this month than there was for last. The result is that rates are not quite so high as they were expected to be a few weeks ago, though there has been no actual change of late. In fact, some ports are perhaps getting a little more for the balance of September than they secured for the first sailings of the month, this being probably the case with Manchester. Other ports are holding about steady.

Grain rates have advanced from 3d to 6d, all round, for September, as steamship agents are looking forward to an increased offering for this month. They do not expect any special activity, however, there being little enough doing so far.

A new freight is now coming into the market. This consists of apples, which, from this forward will be going forward from this port. It is certain, however, that the quantity will not be anything equal to that of last year, as the Canadian crop is not so large and the English crop is much larger than in 1903. Some think that the rates for oats and hay may be affected by the offerings of apples, and that higher prices may be asked owing to the space being better occupied, but others think this will have very little effect, if any.

It is also claimed, and probably with some measure of accuracy, tht the new Canadian grain inspection act is working against the shipping interests of this port. Dealers state that there will probably be very little oats shipped through Montreal this season, as the act inconveniences shippers here and they will probably send much of their goods through the ports of New York, Portland and Boston. It is also said that a grade of No. 2 white Canadian oats may be made at these American ports, based on last year's Canadian standard.

FIRST PEARS IN BARRELS AND FIRST ONTARIO MUSK MELONS.

Among the fruit sold at the Montreal Fruit Auction Room were the first offerings of the season of Canadian Bartlett pears, in barrels, as well as the first offerings of Ontario musk melons. Canadian fruit offered in considerable quantities, some four carloads or more being disposed of under the hammer by Walter M. Kearns. The barrel pears sold at $3.60 per barrel, and the melons at 60 to 80c per small crate, the quantity offered being large. The offerings of Canadian harvest apples were large also, and prices showed a decline of about 40c per barrel, prices ranging from $1.20 to $1.60 per barrel.

Part of a carload of bananas sold at 80 to 90c per bunch, prices being rather firmer than for some time past.

Some three cars of California fruit were sold also, bringing the total sales to a little short of eight cars. Bartlett pears were in strong request at $2.65 to $3.25 per box, this being 10c or so per box more than at Monday's sale, when prices were unusually high. The inference is that the demand for pears is considerably in excess of the supply. Half boxes of Bartletts brought $1 to $1.65 each, and a quantity of Buerre Hardy pears, in boxes, were knocked down at $2 to $2.40 each. The peaches were quite cheap, selling at $1.30 to $1.80 per box. Plums sold at 95c to $1.80, which was somewhat dearer than on Monday.

California Tokay grapes sold at a decline of about 35c per crate, at $3.25; Muscats being 25c cheaper also, at $1.60 each.

A further sale of fruit took place at the Montreal Fruit Auction Rooms yesterday, no less than eight cars in all changing hands under the manipulation of Walter M. Kearns, auctioneer. The bidding was brisk, as indeed it has been all week, and prices were fairly firm. Three cars of California fruit, including one of Buerre Hardy pears, changed hands, at $2.40 to $3.05 for Bartlett pears, a decline of 20c from Wednesday's prices; Buerre Hardies at $2.10, which was a shade easier, and plums at $1.40 to $1.65. Muscat grapes brought 50c to $1.40, and Tokays $2.80, both of which showed a decline.

The first full car lot of Maryland peaches of the season were disposed of at $2.60 to $2.95 per crate, and a car of sweet potatoes sold at $2.75 per barrel.

About three cars of Canadian fruit were offered, and all sold quickly.

Bartlett pears, in barrels, brought $3.05 to $3.10 each, apples bringing $1.30 to $1.60 per barrel, the pears showing considerable decline. Basket pears sold at 25 to 50c per basket, peaches 35 to 55c, and plums 45 to 70c each.

Labor Day

All over the land from ocean to ocean will march on Monday next the grandest army that ever trod the earth. An army of peace, but of ponderous power—the brain, blood, bone and brawn of our land—the backbone of our nation, and Canada's pride.

Hats Off!

THREE CHEERS FOR THE LABORING MAN!

Look your best in honor of the day and for anything new you may need in new Fall Suits, Overcoats, Raincoats, Pants, Hats, Caps, Shirts, Neckwear, Underwear, Socks, etc., bear us in mind, as in patronizing us you patronize a house with Union principles. There is always a GLAD HAND here for the laboring man.

CHEESE WAS HIGHER HERE AND ABROAD.

Many Look for Lower Market, However—Eggs Firm—Potatoes and Honey Easy.

CHEESE.—The sharp advance on Wednesday's cheese boards was fairly well maintained on some boards yesterday, while on others there seemed to be a disposition to hold back again. Kingston and Brockville sold at 9c, Winchester refused, Tweed sold at 9 1-16c, Vankleek Hill at 9⅛c, and Madoc at 9⅜c. Everything considered, the result had a strengthening effect on yesterday's prices in the local market. Buyers began to make definite offers, and sellers are also prepared to do business. It is doubtful if much cheese changed hands this morning, however, but fair prices would seem to be, 8¾ to 8⅞c for finest Quebecs, 8⅞ to 9c for Townships, and 9 to 9⅛c for Ontarios. These figures are a little higher than those of yesterday, but recent purchases certainly could not be turned over at less,—in fact, holders are asking ⅛ to ¼c more than the figures mentioned. Buyers are not yet prepared to concede that much, many being of the opinion that the market has been boomed up too high, and that a decline will follow. Shipments this week will be very heavy.

The Liverpool public cable was 6d up, at 40s 6d to 43s.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 10,694 boxes.

BUTTER. — The market showed no change this morning. Demand was anything but active, importers on the other side giving no response to cable offers from this side. Holders of finest Townships are still demanding 18¾ to 19c, and 18½ to 18¾c is being asked for Quebecs, but no purchases at those figures have been heard of lately. Factorymen were offering to sell at 18 to 18½c at the cold stores to-day. Fine creamery can be had at 18 to 18¼c, and mediums at 17¾ to 18c, Ontarios being 18c, and dairies being quoted at 14½c. A large lot of June and July makes held in cold store are being shipped this week.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 10,185 packages.

EGGS.—The market is somewhat firmer in tone in the country, and steady in the city. Dealers are still able to secure straight gathered stock at 16 to 16½c at country points, but some appear to be paying rather more, and one section near by demanded as high as 17¼c. So far as is known, no one granted any such figure, however. It would seem as though higher prices might result from the appearance of things at present. In the city 17½ to 18c is the figure quoted, according to quantity and quality, some declaring that the latter figure is impossible for anything but small lots. Selected, 20½ to 21c.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 1,047 cases.

POTATOES. — The market is about steady, though the tone is reported easy. The stock is said to have been considerably damaged by the recent rains, and much of that arriving is showing signs of rot. There will be some arrivals of potatoes from below Quebec next week, and it is hoped that they will be entirely sound. Dealers are paying 70 to 75c, mostly the latter, for good stock, laid down here, in bags of 90 pounds, and selling them from store at an advance of 10c or so per bag.

HONEY.—Light strained is offered at 7½c, comb being obtainable at about 9½c, the market being lower.

BEANS—The market continues dull. Choice prime peas are about $1.15 per bush., in car lots on track, and $1.20 for broken lots in store.

POTASH.—The market is easier, and $5.65 to $5.70 will about cover the restricted enquiry for first sorts; seconds $5.25 to $5.30; pearl ash is wante dat $8 but not a barrel is on offer.

SITUATION IN HAY BELGIUM IS EXPORTING.

New hay is now beginning to come forward in increasing quantities, deliveries here during the past week being considerably larger than for some time previous. As farmers are still busy with their harvesting operations, however, the deliveries here will not be any too large for some time to come. Local dealers are buying clover mixed at $6.50 per ton here, No. 2 at $7.50 to $8, and No. 1 at $8.50 to $9. The crops throughout Canada have turned out excellent, and it is not expected that prices will be very strong for some time to come. There is a fair shipping trade going on at present, to England mostly, but dealers claim that they are doing it for the purpose of keeping in the trade, and not for any money there is in it for them just now. The English market is low and unsatisfactory. In Liverpool, on the 20th August, there were on the quays no less than 33,000 bundles.

Messrs. Quintal and Lynch write as follows regarding the hay market:

"A Government report, stating that the hay crop in Belgium was poor and intimating that most likely that country would import the present year, has recently appeared in the papers. We beg to state that from advices received by cable on the 24th ult., this report is not accurate. Our cable advice says that the first crop of hay in that country is a splendid one, but the second one is 'nil.' Nevertheless that country will be exporting next season, and, in fact, is already doing so, as can be verified by the London, Eng., arrivals of hay as reported in their trade papers."

GRAPE CROP WAS NOT RUINED BY BLACK ROT—HEAVY YIELD EXPECTED.

Special to The Montreal Star.

St. Catharines, Ont., September 1.—The report sent out by the Ontario Agriculture Department, Toronto, that the grape crop in the Niagara Peninsula had been ruined by the black rot, is denied by prominent fruit growers in this district. Before the rot made its appearance, it is pointed out, the yield promised to be exceptionally large, and it is declared that even now the supply will be in excess of last year's crop, which was considered excellent.

HARVESTING NOW GENERAL IN WEST.

Weather Was Favourable—Wheat Markets Lower To-day—New Oats Now Arriving.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Winnipeg, September 2.—Harvesting was general throughout the West yesterday owing to favourable weather.

Winnipeg, September 2.—Weather continues favourable for harvesting, and it is getting warmer. Several new districts began cutting yesterday, and practically all the districts will be cutting by the end of the week. Harvesting in Portage la Prairie district is nearing a finish, and the farmers all report themselves as surprised at the unexpectedly large yield. The damage from rust was not nearly so great as they had expected. Lots of farm labourers from Quebec arrived here during the day, and were soon snatched up, most of them going west last evening.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Winnipeg, Man., September 2.—Wheat dead, no trade, no demand. October, 103⅛; December, 101⅛. Cash wheat, No. 1 northern, 103½; No. 2 northern, 100¼; No. 3 northern, 96¼; No. 4 northern, 86; No. 1 feed, 69; No. 2 feed, 61.

Argentina complains of damage by drought. The average of wheat increased about 20 per cent. throughout Argentine. The quality of the present arrival is very good.

Fair but cloudy in England; forecast, unsettled. Fair but cloudy in north of France, and fine in south; forecast, partly cloudy.

Liverpool wheat market opened about ¼d up and closed ⅛d below last night, at 7s 3⅝d for Sept. and 7s 5⅝d for Dec. Spot No. 2 northern Manitoba, 7s 3½d to 7s 4½d.

The Chicago market was lower to-day. Sept. wheat being ⅞c down at noon, at 1.05⅞; Sept. corn ⅜ down at 53⅛, and Sept. oats ¼ down at 32.

Duluth was ½c up on Sept. at 1.15⅜.

Minneapolis was ⅜ down on Sept. at 1.12¼, and ¼ down on Dec. at 1.11⅛.

Winnipeg was ⅛ down on Oct. at 1.02¼ and steady on Dec. at 1.00¾.

LOCAL MARKET. — The market for oats is now becoming interesting. This is between the seasons, when there is still some old stock, but very little of it, and some new stock, and very little of it also. The old stock has to be depended upon to supply the trade for a few weeks yet, as the new oats are still too soft to permit feeding to the horses. In Montreal, stocks of old had fallen to somewhat less than 50,000 bushels last Monday, and no merchants could be found who had any quantity of No. 3 oats for sale. No. 2, however, has been turned over in considerable quantities, in car lots, at 41c store, and No. 3 are valued at a cent less.

Very few new oats have been received here so far, but No. 2 stock is being quoted at 37½c, afloat, Montreal. Although dealers feel very firm with respect to old oats they are a little doubtful of new, and the general opinion seems to be that a decline may take place shortly. In fact, some dealers are not operating at present at all. They say that there is apt to be more difficulty from this forward in getting ocean freight space, owing to the fact that apples are now being offered for export, and they give a better return to ship-owners, for the same space. The result is apt to be that freights for oats will advance, and as the export price for oats on the other side is not apt to go any higher on this account, prices likely have to decline here. How correct this is it is difficult to say in advance.

Peas are about steady at 73c afloat, Montreal; No. 2 barley, 50½c; No. 3 extra, 50c; No. 3, 49c.

FLOUR—The market on flour was very firm to-day. Strong bakers are offering at $5.20, and patents at $5.50; winter wheat patents, $5.25 to $5.35; straight rollers, $5.15 to $5.25; straight rollers, in bags, $2.40 to $2.50.

FEED—Stocks are light and the market firm. Manitoba bran, in bags, $17.00 to $18; shorts, $19 to $20 per ton; Ontario bran, in bulk, $15.50 to $16.50; shorts, $19 to $20; moullie, $26 to $28 per ton, as to quality.

ROLLED OATS—It is claimed that association prices again prevail, bags being held at $2.30 to $2.32½ per bag of 90 lbs.

HAY.—The market is steady, but there are now no accumulations here. No. 1 at $9 to $9.50 per ton on track; No. 2, $8; export hay, clover and clover mixed, $6.50 to $7.

Wheat Market Was Weaker.

From the Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star.

Chicago, September 2.—New September wheat sold between 1.07 and 1.05 3-4; May between 1.11 3-4 and 1.10 1-8. The close yesterday was 1.06 3-4 and 1.11 1-4 respectively. Trading was only fair and the market was easier. The selling by the Spencer crowd and the prediction of clear and warmer weather were the chief weakening influences. The trade did not want to take on much stuff as to-morrow is a short session and Monday a holiday, and were evening up. Argentine shipments were larger than those of a week ago and a year ago. At Minneapolis stocks of wheat for the week showed a decrease of 307,000 bushels. There was some selling on the report that Jones had out another estimate, making the total for the three spring wheat states 137,000,000. The Modern Miller says excellent weather conditions continue for the seeding of winter wheat.

THE WEATHER

This is real autumn weather.

There can be no doubt on that score.

Chilly?

Just a trifle, and with an uncomfortable feeling of dampness that strikes right through.

The leaves are beginning to fall in the parks, and the maples are already taking on the red dress that tells of the approach of the sere and yellow leaf season.

And the weather man says showery. High winds also.

But he says on Saturday it will be warmer.

Which is good.

SPLENDID BUSINESS OPENING.

Real Estate by Auction, as a well advertised, properly managed and successfully conducted specialty.

PARTNER WANTED, Active or Silent.

The undersigned would like to meet with a young or middle-aged man, of fair ability, good personal habits, and a small capital, to join him immediately in re-establishing this business, some call it a profession. Every element of success is now present in a more marked manner than has been possible since 1874. A permanent profitable and highly respectable business can be maintained for many years. It deals with the very best class of business and professional people, and there is ample scope for ability. I have the best possible assurances that property properly presented to the purchasing public in the press and on the platform can be sold with satisfactory results. In many cases I have proved this to be the best method, and owners were very agreeably surprised. I have sold for the Bank of Montreal, Molsons and other leading banks, the Dominion Government, Provincial Government, Corporation of Montreal, Judges of Supreme and Superior Courts, McGill College, all the leading English and French notaries public, the Trust and Loan Co., Loan and Mortgage Co., all the French and English building societies, real estate agents, etc. The list of private individuals includes the wealthiest owners and the best judges of value in Montreal. The connection is now a valuable one, the result of hard work, long experience, and continuous success. I shall be very happy to explain more fully on receipt of letter addressed to me at 204 St. James street.

Pulp Mill for Sale

Property and Works of "The St. John Sulphite Pulp Company, Limited" (in liquidation), situate at Mispec, Saint John County, New Brunswick.

The Mill property of the Company comprises over three hundred acres. Works are situate on the Mispec River, a quarter of a mile from the sea, and six miles by water from the City of Saint John, from thence pulp may be shipped to all points. There is ample wharf accommodation at the works, and schooners with coal discharge directly into the boiler-house. An unlimited supply of pulp wood is available. Works are new and substantially built of pressed brick; are fitted with modern and up-to-date appliances, including electric plant, and are capable of producing two hundred tons of pulp per week. There is room in the present building for additional plant, which, when installed, would double the output. The mill-dam is substantially built of stone, and is about fifty feet high. The water is taken to the turbine wheels in an iron flume, five feet in diameter, which gives ample supply for driving machinery and pulp-making.

Tenders for purchase of above described property will be received by the undersigned up to October first, 1904. The highest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

Further information will be supplied on application.

THE PEOPLES AUCTIONEERS Auction Sale —OF—
Real Estate Without Reserve
TUESDAY, SEPT. 6th, at 241 St. James St.,
At 11 o'clock sharp.

We will sell en bloc, lots No. 4486, 4485, 4458 and 4457, situated on the south-west corner on Wellington st. and Rielle ave., in the village of Verdun, containing 36820 feet English measure. These lots have a frontage of 263 feet on Wellington street, by a 140 feet on Rielle avenue and Rockland avenue, respectively, which streets bound these lots on three sides. These lots have all city conveniences, such as city water, sewerage, and electric cars right to them. In addition to being an elegant site for a private residence, they are admirably adapted for a manufacturing site, as a siding can be easily had to them. A good title will be given to the property. The property must be sold to wind up an estate. A large sign and flags are erected on the property, so that parties can easily locate them.

Terms made known day of sale, or by applying to Room 10, Grand Union Hotel, or to Messrs. Rae & Donnelly, Auctioneers, 241 St. James st. 207 5

AN EDITOR'S EXPERIENCE

In the Treatment of Humours with More Than Magical Effect with

CUTICURA REMEDIES.

A Remarkable Testimonial from a Most Intelligent and Trustworthy Lady.

"A tumor came on my neck and in a day or two it was as large as half an orange. I was very much alarmed for fear it was malignant. My friends tried to persuade me to consult my physician; but dreading that he would insist on using the knife, I would not consent to go. Instead, I got Cuticura Resolvent and Cuticura Ointment. I took the former according to directions, and spread a thick layer of the Ointment on the swelling. On renewing it I would bathe my neck in very warm water and Cuticura Soap. In a few days the Cuticura Ointment had drawn the swelling to a head, when it broke. Every morning it was opened with a large sterilized needle, squeezed and bathed, and fresh Ointment put on. Pus and blood, and a yellow, cheesy, tumorous matter came out. In about three or four weeks' time this treatment completely eliminated the tumor. The soreness that had extended down into my chest was all gone, and my neck now seems to be perfectly well.

"About five or six years ago my sister had a similar experience, used the Cuticura Remedies with magical effect. I am willing you should use my testimonial, with the further privilege of revealing my name and address to such persons as may wish to substantiate the above statements by personal letter to me." Chicago, Nov. 12, 1902.

Cuticura Resolvent, liquid and in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Soap are sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Australia, R. Towns & Co., Sydney; Boston, 137 Columbus Ave. Potter Drug & Chemical Corp., Sole Proprietors. MR. LOUD ON WITNESS STAND

Arbitration Court Hears Evidence of Grand Trunk Official.

CROSS-EXAMINED BY COUNSEL

States That C. P. R. Was Not Favoured at the Expense of the Intercolonial.

The Court of Arbitration was occupied yesterday in the further hearing of the dispute between the Grand Trunk and Intercolonial Railways.

During the examination of Mr. John W. Loud, freight traffic manager of the Grand Trunk, it transpired that according to the agreement of 1898, the Intercolonial was to receive from the Grand Trunk all the unconsigned freight destined for the Maritime Provinces from points west of Montreal, and particularly the export trade directed to the port of St. John.

Mr. Loud explained that by the term "unconsigned freight" was meant all consignments of goods where the shippers did not specify the route they were to follow. On the other hand the consigned freight was to be sent as directed whether it was more advantageous for the Grand Trunk to do so or not.

This led to a lengthy cross-questioning by Mr. Smith, counsel for the Government, who asked if shippers had been induced to send their goods to the Maritime Provinces through the Canadian Pacific in preference to the Intercolonial, seeing that the Grand Trunk realized larger profit in the first case.

Mr. Smith contended, that generally, shippers were not in a position to tell which was the more advantageous route and relied upon agents for advice, but could not direct reply from the witness, though the latter admitted that under no circumstances were employes to act contrary to the interests of the company.

"Can you differentiate between the freight originating from points west of Montreal that was transported through Lennoxville to the Maritime Provinces, via the Intercolonial, and that which was carried to the same destination by the Canadian Pacific?" asked Mr. Smith.

Again the traffic manager was unable to give an accurate idea of the amount of freight.

"Have you not transferred to another route than the Intercolonial a large amount of freight destined to Liverpool via the port of St. John?" was the next question.

Mr. Loud could not give a definite idea, but said that probably during the term 1902-1903, some freight was carried to the seaport by another route than that stipulated in the contract.

In answer to a question by Mr. Lafleur, representing the Grand Trunk, Mr. Loud said that the unconsigned traffic originating west of Montreal amounted from 5 to 10 per cent.

"You do not favour the Canadian Pacific Railway at the expense of the Intercolonial," put in Mr. Lafleur. "No, we do not."

Although he admitted that the Canadian Pacific Railway was a rival company at many points in Ontario, Mr. Loud said that merchants were not influenced by agents in making their shipments to the Maritime Provinces.

Mr. Shapeley, one of the arbitrators, observed that if shippers made out their own bills, the Grand Trunk must have little unconsigned freight, if any at all.

Mr. Loud replied that the consigner did not specify the route in any case.

Judgment Was Rendered.

At 11 a.m., yesterday, judgment was pronounced in the Superior Court, in the matter of M. A. J. Gareau, vs. Montreal Street Railway Co., awarding $1,900 damages with interest and costs. The action was for $10,789, which was claimed for loss of a number of tenements and the rental of the same until the property should have become worthless.

SAD DROWNING OF SCHOOL TEACHER

Miss Lizzie Bowman, of Montreal Annex, Victim of Canoe Accident.

HER COMPANION RESCUED

Deceased Was One of the Most Popular of the Fairmount School Staff.

Miss Lizzie Bowman, one of the most popular teachers in Fairmount School, Montreal Annex, was drowned on Wednesday near her father's home at Scotstown, Que. Miss Bowman, who was a daughter of Mr. W. F. Bowman, of Scotstown, and Miss Lizzie Grant, of Manchester, went canoeing on a pond near her home. In some unexplained manner the canoe was upset. Near by in another boat were Miss Annie Bowman and Miss Jane Grant. They hastened to the assistance of the young ladies, struggling in the water, but were able to rescue Miss Grant only, holding her by the hair until help came from the shore.

The late Miss Bowman was buried at Scotstown at 2.30 this afternoon.

Miss Bowman was a niece of Mr. John Scott, of 732 Mance street, and was very popular in the Annex. She was a teacher in the Annex Presbyterian Sabbath School and an active worker on the church. Miss Bowman was expected to return to the city in a few days to resume her duties in Fairmount School, the opening of which has been delayed somewhat owing to the enlargement and extensive improvements to the building during vacation, which could not be completed in time for opening on September 6.

CAPTAIN EGAN WAS REINSTATED.

At the next meeting of the Police Committee the question will be brought up of superannuating four police captains. Chief Legault, it appears, has recently notified Capt. Egan that he must retire on September 1 on account of having been in the civic service over twenty-five years. Yesterday Capt. Coleman was sent to take charge of Captain Egan's station. Hearing of this Ald. Walsh protested yesterday; the result was that Captain Egan was reinstated for the present.

Speaking of the affair Ald. Walsh said he could not see why Captain Egan should be picked out, and three others allowed to remain. Captain Egan, he remarked, and the other three captains, who he understood were Dubois, Charbonneau and Baignet, had all served the city over twenty-five years, and they all seemed to be in the same class so far as age was concerned. Captain Egan, he thought, would resign, and take a well-earned rest, if the committee wanted him to do so, but he objected to being singled out, and if one was to resign all should resign.

Mr. W. Heelan Died To-day.

Mr. William Heelan died this morning at his residence, 127 Mackay St., after an illness of four weeks.

Mr. Heelan was born in Limerick, Ireland, in the year 1832, and at an early age came to Canada. He was a lieutenant in the Volunteer Fireman's Brigade. He leaves a widow, one son, Mr. P. J. Heelan and two daughters.

Funeral of Fireman.

The funeral of Fireman Edouard Casavant, of No. 11 fire station, who died on Monday afternoon from the effects of his injuries received by a kick from a horse five months ago, took place at 7.30 a.m. to-day from his late residence to the Church of the Sacred Heart. Forty members of the Fire Brigade and forty members of the police force attended the funeral, headed by the Oddfellows' band. There was also a large number of personal friends, as well as public men in the cortege. The interment took place in the Cote des Neiges cemetery.

ROAD COMMITTEE DISCUSSES NEW SIDEWALKS.

At a short meeting of the Road Committee yesteday afternoon it was shown that about $50,000 would be available for sidewalks this autumn. The assistant city surveyor pointed out that the city could spend almost a quarter of a million on putting down walks had it the cash on hand. The committee agreed that it would be far better to put down permanent walks than wooden walks.

In this connection, ex-ald Lebeuf came before the committee in the interest of paving Dorchester street from Fort to the city limits. He remarked about $15,000 would do the job, and it was badly needed. It was a residential district, and as the traffic was heavy there, the vibration from heavy trucks and teams made at time a sort of nuisance. Paving the street would remove this, and add to its general appearance.

The chairman promised to consider the matter.

It was decided to take over Montcalm avenue, and name it Hogan avenue, in memory of the late Mr. Henry Hogan. A petition from street cleaners asking that they be allowed to be off duty on Labour Day without loss of salary, was referred to the city surveyor.

EXCITEMENT AT SHERBROOKE.

Extraordinary Parachute Drop by Two Daring Aeronauts.

Sherbrooke, September 1.—There was great excitement at the balloon ascension from the fair grounds this afternoon. The balloonists had arranged a double parachute drop and two of them accordingly went up.

When they detached themselves from the balloon, the suspense was thrilling, as the parachutes apparently refused to open. However, after dropping with great velocity through 1,000 feet of space, the parachutes opened out, to everybody's relief, and the daring aeronauts descended safely to terra firma. They used the "Sweet Caporal Cigarette" balloon from which so many successful descents have been made in various parts of Canada during the present summer.

School Girls

Mothers of young girls at this period of life, or the girl herself, are earnestly invited to write Mrs. Pinkham for advice: all such letters are strictly confidential; she has guided in a motherly way thousands of young women; her advice is free and cheerfully given.

School days are danger days for American girls. Often physical collapse follows, and it takes years to recover the lost vitality. Sometimes it is never recovered. Perhaps they are not over-careful about keeping their feet dry; through carelessness in this respect the monthly sickness is usually rendered very severe. Then begin ailments which should be removed at once, or they will produce constant suffering. Headache, faintness, slight vertigo, pains in the back and loins, irregularity, loss of sleep and appetite, a tendency to avoid the society of others, are symptoms all indicating that the organs that make her a woman need immediate attention.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

has helped many a young girl over this critical period. With it they have gone through their trials with courage and safety. With its proper use the young girl is safe from the peculiar dangers of school years and prepared for healthy womanhood.

A Young Chicago Girl "Studied Too Hard."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to thank you for the help and benefit I have received through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. When I was about 17 years old I suddenly seemed to lose my usual good health and vitality. Father said I studied too hard, but the doctor thought different and prescribed tonics, which I took by the quart without relief. Reading one day in the paper of Mrs. Pinkham's great cures, and finding the symptoms described as mine, I decided I would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I did not say a word to the doctor; I bought it myself, and took it according to directions regularly for two months, and I found that I gradually improved, and that all pains left me, and I was my old self once more."—LILLIAN E. SCHRANK, 17 E. 23d St., Chicago, Ill.

"Miss Pratt Unable to Attend School."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to tell all young women how much Lydia E. Pinkham's wonderful Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was completely run down, unable to attend school, and did not care for any kind of society, but now I feel like a new person, and have gained seven pounds of flesh in three months. I recommend it to all young women who suffer from female weakness."—MISS ALMA PRATT, Holly, Mich.

Thousands of such testimonials prove that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one sure remedy to be relied upon at this important period in a young girl's life. Look for the bottle with Lydia E. Pinkham's face on it, and accept no other.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

Delivered Labour Address.

At last night's meeting of the Trades and Labour Council, Mr. John O'Shea, representing the Western Federation of Miners, delivered a short address. He gave a history of the labour troubles in the west and appealed to the Montreal workingmen for moral and financial assistance. The labour leader was given a warm reception, and the sum of $35 was voted to assist the miners. Mr. O'Shea promised the council to make a short address at the Labour Day picnic, at Delormier Park, on Monday afternoon.

FUNERAL OF LATE MR. W. G. PROCTOR.

The funeral of Mrs. W. G. Proctor took place to-day at the Mount Royal Cemetery. Mrs. Proctor was the wife of Mr. W. G. Proctor, of the Post Office Department in this city. The funeral service, which was a very impressive one, was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Mowat, of the Erskine Church, of which the deceased lady was a member, at her late residence, 52 Crescent street, and numerous wreaths and floral tributes were sent.

The principal mourners were Mr. W. G. Proctor, her brothers, Messrs. John Leslie, of the Department of Justice; Alexander, of Moncton, N. B.; and Mrs. M. Massey, of this city, and Mrs. H. C. Taylor, of Gananoque; also Messrs. Geo. Proctor, of Ottawa, and Charles Proctor, of Toronto.

Mr. George Garratt, of Queen's Park, Verdun, leaves on Saturday for Martintown, to be the guest of Mr. D. D. Ross.

YOUNG BOY RUN OVER BY WAGGON.

Pierre St. Pierre, the little 8-year-old son of Mr. Pierre St. Pierre, living on Mentana street, near Rachel street, was run over to-day by a heavy ice waggon near his home. He is now lying in the Notre Dame Hospital in a dying condition. Upon examination at the institution it was found that his head had been terribly crushed and mangled. He is also suffering from bruises on his body. The physicians entertain no hopes for his recovery.

Miss M. A. Marks, of Toronto, is in town, the guest of her uncle, Mr. Geo. Marks.

OPEN EVENINGS.

THE PRIMATE OF ALL ENGLAND ADDRESSES AN IMMENSE CONGREGATION AT CHRIST CHURCH CATHEDRAL.

One of the most impressive services ever held in historic Christ Church Cathedral took place last night. The Primate of all England had announced his intention of taking part therein, and long before the time came for the opening of the doors there was a large crowd waiting for admittance. The large cathedral was filled to overflowing, and the beautiful service and the simple address of His Grace will be remembered long by those present.

At 8.30 the choir entered, and a few moments later to the sound of "Onward Christian Soldiers" the clergy of the diocese, headed by the Rev. H. T. S. Boyle, of the cathedral, rural deans, canons, archdeacons, all in surplice, stole and bands, marched down the centre aisle of the church, until the head of the procession had reached the altar. Then, lining up on either side, they permitted the episcopal party to pass between them.

Dean Evans came first, after whom came Bishop Carmichael. Following him was Archbishop Bond. Each wore his episcopal robes, and was attended by his chaplains. A crosier bearer came next, and immediately following the tall cross came His Grace of Canterbury, fully robed and attended by the Rev. Mr. Ellison and the Rev. Hyla Hudson. The two archbishops passed on up into the sanctuary, but subsequently returned to their prayer desks.

THE SERVICE.

With the repetition of the last verse of the processional hymn, the clergy were seated in the chancel, and immediately after the deep voice of His Grace of Montreal was heard in the opening sentences of the service, which only lasted about an hour. After this came the confession, the absolution, the Lord's Prayer, with the versicles. Bishop Carmichael read the lesson, Psalm CXXII., which was followed by the Apostles' Creed and short prayers from Archbishop Bond.

The hymn, "Praise the Lord, Ye Heavens Adore Him," was then sung by all, during which time His Grace of Canterbury proceeded to the prayer desk, and at the conclusion of the hymn, in a clear, mellow voice, he addressed the congregation as follows:

THE ARCHBISHOP DELIVERS AN ELOQUENT ADDRESS.

"Brothers and sisters in the Lord Jesus Christ, we are met to-night for united prayer, united praise to Our Father which is in heaven, united aspiration and united firm resolve. It is the wish of those at whose request I stand here before you that my spoken words are to be for a single moment only, here and now. Probably it is difficult for you to whom I speak to realize fully what it means to a man whose daily work consists, in large part, in what brings him, so far as pen and ink and paper can, into touch with the work of our Church all the world over—what it means for such a man to find himself, for once, face to face upon their own workfield with the friends who, when 3,000 miles apart, are so often in his thoughts and prayers."

MET BRETHREN ACROSS THE SEA.

"We are familiar with the words told us about St. Paul; when he saw the brethren, he thanked God and took courage. Do you remember on what occasion it was he did so? It was when he met face to face, in their own land, those brethren across the sea, who welcomed him for the first time, face to face. He had known of them, cared for them, prayed for them; now he could take them by the hand and wish them, by word of mouth, God speed. Here is now our apil forum; we can see each other face to face, and give that handshake which means so much. It is when brother clasps the hand of brother we step fearless through the night, make our way onward among the perplexities which all of us, whether in the Old World or the New, find oftentimes so great and so encumbering. We speak of stepping fearless through the night, but the word surely is a misnomer. Dark clouds, no doubt, there are in our day, as in all other days, but there is glory too all along the horizon. Surely they are the lights of dawn, not the relics of departing day. We are kept safe and strong and buoyant, not by memories of departed glory, but by abounding hope of the life and light which even now grow and glow upon us. We are saved by hope; but hope must take shape in aspiration, and the aspiration in fervent prayer.

IMMENSE POSSIBILITIES.

"To one whose own experiences have hitherto lain wholly in the other half of the world, it is almost overwhelming to contemplate the possibilities which belong to this, possibilities literally of the setting forward of the kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ. Your, or rather our, Dominion, on the threshold, I suppose, only of its future greatness and glory, springs almost at a bound into the life of a people's vigorous manhood. And among all the beauties of one of the fairest lands on earth—towns, cities and marts and harbours and wharves for the output of commercial life, marts and harbours fairer than any the Old World knows—be it ours, be it yours to see that, step by step, the creation, their redemption may go forward, too. It is created energy we see in the pioneers of every sort — commercial, civic, political — whose energies are alike the pride and the support of empire's greatness. And brothers and sisters, we do want, nay we do mean that by the grace of God, the kingdoms of this world, in all their power, shall become, in the truest and most literal sense, the kingdoms of our Lord and of His Christ. He has trust us to set that forward. May we rise, each and all, to the fulfilment of the great trust, and use to the uttermost our every power, our every opportunity. The strength is, or ought to be irresistible; irresistible, because it is united, Old World and New; irresistible, yet more, because the strength is His, not ours. So may we do our all for Him, our Lord and Master, who goeth forth now, as ever, upon the world's highways and waterways, conquering and to conquer."

The strains of a "Te Deum" then rang forth, after which the Archbishop of Montreal offered up two short prayers. His Grace of Canterbury then pronounced the benediction, and to the recessional, "The God of Abraham Praise," their lordships, followed by rural deans, canons and archdeacons, retraced their steps. The service was at an end.

CLERGY PRESENT.

Among those in the procession were: Dean Evans, Archdeacons Naylor, Norton, Bogert, Ker, Davidson, Canons Ellegood, Chambers, Renaud, Baylis, Smith, Longhurst, Nye, Rollit, Dixon, Chambers, Revs. N. Sentences:

The Archbishop:

Give the Lord the honour due unto His Name; worship the Lord with holy worship.—Ps. xxix 2.

It is the Lord that commandeth the waters . . . . it is the Lord that ruleth the sea.—vs. 3-4.

Praised be the Lord, for He hath heard the voice of my humble petitions.—Ps. xxviii 7.

The Archbishop:

Dearly beloved brethren; let us confess our sins unto Almighty God, and having received Declaration of His forgiveness, thereafter praise His glorious Name for His mercies to His servant, Randall, Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, here present.

PSALM CXXII.

I was glad when they said unto me: We will go into the house of the Lord.

Our feet shall stand in thy gates: O Jerusalem.

Jerusalem is built as a city: that is at unity in itself.

For thither the tribes go up, even the tribes of the Lord: to testify unto Israel, to give thanks unto the Name of the Lord.

For there is the seat of judgment: even the seat of the house of David.

O pray for the peace of Jerusalem: they shall prosper that love thee.

Peace be within thy walls: and plenteousness within thy palaces.

For my brethren and companions' sakes: I will wish thee prosperity.

Yea, because of the house of the Lord our God: I will seek to do thee good.

Glory be to the Father, etc.

The Apostles' Creed.

Followed by the Versicles:

P. The Lord Be with you.
A. And with thy spirit.
Let us pray.

The Archbishop:

Almighty and merciful God, of whose only gift it cometh that Thy faithful people do unto Thee true and laudable service; Grant, we beseech Thee, that we may so faithfully serve Thee in this life, that we fail not finally to attain Thy promises; through the merits of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Almighty God, we humbly beseech Thee to pour out Thy blessing on Thy Holy Church, and on that branch thereof to which we belong.

Be with Thy servant whose presence with us we welcome as of Thy will.

Prosper his mission of love amongst the Churches; make him a blessing to Thy people; give him a full measure of Thy Holy Spirit that in every word and deed he may glorify Thy Great Name; And cause him to return in health and happiness to his distant home, for the sake of Jesus Christ our only Lord and Saviour. Amen.

Almighty and Everlasting God, who alone worketh great marvels; Send down upon our Bishops and Curates and all Congregations committed to their charge the healthful Spirit of Thy grace; and that they may truly please Thee, pour upon them the continual dew of Thy blessing. Grant this, O Lord, for the honour of our Advocate and Mediator, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Address by the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury.

The Te Deum.
Let us pray.

The Archbishop:

Almighty and everlasting God, give unto us the increase of faith, hope, and charity; and that we may obtain that which Thou dost promise, make us to love that which Thou dost command; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

O Lord, we beseech Thee, let Thy continual pity cleanse and defend Thy Church; and, because it cannot continue in safety without Thy succour, preserve it evermore by Thy help and goodness; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

ARCHBISHOP AND HIS PARTY VISIT NOTRE DAME.

The Primate of England, accompanied by Mrs. Davidson and his chaplains, Mrs. Bond and the reception committee, called yesterday afternoon at Notre Dame Church. Its art treasures, and historical relics, were viewed with great interest by His Grace. The call was paid shortly after the noon hour and the pastor of the church was absent. Father McShane was, however, present, and did the honours ably. The visitors were conducted throughout the church and seminary, and visited the chapel of the Sacred Heart in the rear of the main building, where the rich paintings which adorn the walls of that edifice were greatly admired. The wood carving and the decorations impressed the party very much.

Perhaps the interest of the visit centred in the inspection of the sacred vestments, which constitute the chief glory of the Cathedral. These pieces have lasted through two centuries, and while the city has grown from the small beginnings of a trader's post to be the metropolis of a great country, these relics have outlasted succeeding generations. They were the handicraft of Mme. Lebel, a wealthy lady, who resided in Montreal two centuries ago. She gave these exquisite specimens of her art as an offering to the church, and since then they have remained in possession of the Gentlemen of the Seminary. The vestments particularly interested His Grace, and he passed pleasing remarks on their art value and their historical associations. Afterward the main church was visited and the electrical illuminations of the altar were exhibited. The visit was entirely informal, and apparently was exceedingly enjoyable to the Archbishop and those who accompanied him.

The pastor, when he was informed that the Archbishop had paid a visit, expressed his pleasure.

INTERESTING FUNCTION IN HONOUR OF HIS GRACE'S VISIT.

Archbishop Bond Presents Address of Welcome on Behalf of English Church in Canada.

The Diocesan Theological College was decorated with a profusion of flowers, plants and flags last evening, the occasion being the presentation of an address of welcome to the Archbishop of Canterbury by Archbishop Bond, on behalf of the Church of England in Canada.

This event took place immediately after the service at Christ Church Cathedral, the clergy of the diocese of Montreal being lined up in anticipation of the arrival of the Archbishop of Canterbury's party, which included Archbishop Bond, Bishop Carmichael, Revs. H. Holden and J. Ellison, Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Bond, and Mrs. Fortescue, of Ottawa, a companion of Mrs. Davidson.

To the accompaniment of a hymn, the party, followed by the clergy, proceeded to the platform in convocation hall. Archbishop Bond then offered prayer, following which this address of welcome was delivered:

THE ADDRESS PRESENTED TO HIS GRACE.

"The Right Honorable and Most Reverend Randall Thomas Davidson, D.D., prelate of the Order of the Garter, K.C., V.O., Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, primate of all England and Metropolitans:—

"May it please our Grace,—

"Previous to presenting you with an address signed by myself and the coadjutor bishop of Montreal, on behalf of the diocese of Montreal, I, as archbishop and metropolitan of Canada, and as acting primate of the Canadian Church, bid you welcome, in the name of that Church, which, as your Grace is no doubt aware, is composed of 22 dioceses, stretching across the continent, from the Atlantic ocean to the Pacific. In God's most holy name, I bid you 'welcome,' as the earthly head of that dear Mother Church, dearer to us than any weak words of mine could express, and from whom, may God grant, we never may be sundered. Welcome, your Grace, welcome. The welcome to her daughter's home of a deeply loved mother.

A WELCOME TO CANADA.

"It is with feelings of profound respect, that we, the Archbishops, Coadjutor Bishop, clergy and laity, of the diocese of Montreal, welcome you to the Dominion of Canada, as the Primate of the great Mother Church of England; to whose fostering care the Church of England in Canada owes so much of its progress and development.

"Knowing, as we do, that the main object of your Grace, in crossing the Atlantic at this time, is that of visiting the great nation by our side, and attending the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in that country, we respectfully cherish the hope that at some future time, you will see your way, to visit the Dominion of Canada, and be present at our General Synod—when your Grace would meet all the members of the Canadian episcopates and the leading clergy and laity of this Dominion.

"If such would be the will of God, and your Grace should decide, we can assure you of a sincerely loving welcome on the part of the Church; and of an earnest endeavour, to make your Grace's visit as happy and profitable as possible.

EARTHLY HEAD OF CHURCH.

"We welcome you to-day, as the earthly head of that great Church to which we owe a debt of gratitude, that can never be repaid, except by our deep love, and unswerving loyalty.

"This Dominion is standing on the threshold of great possibilities; God only knows the position it may be destined to hold, within the years of this new born century; but whatever blessings God may be pleased to bestow, we think that we can speak for the whole Church of England in Canada, and say, that no development of this great country, no growth of population, no exercise of that national freedom, which we owe to England, can ever prevail to make us forget, that all we may become is due to the action of that great Mother Church of England, who, in infancy cherished us with a mother's care, whose loving bosom is still our resting place, and whose voice is the sweetest we have ever heard, or care to hear.

"Praying that your Grace's visit to the United States may in every way, be happy, and tend towards binding the great Anglican communion still closer together, in the bonds of love."

ARCHBISHOP'S REPLY.

The Archbishop of Canterbury replied briefly. Such, he said, was no ordinary moment; it would long exist in the memories of all there present. The speaker then proceeded to thank the clergy for their very kind welcome. The point in their address which most closely touched his heart was the reference to the relationship between the work going on in the mother Church and that being accomplished in Canada and the United States.

Upon such an occasion the responsibility even for a moment of the position he occupied appalled him, so vast was the field, so significant the duty.

During his sojourn here His Grace had been impressed with two thoughts, which recurred at every turn. The first of the impressions was how much bigger the world was to-day than it was a century or two ago; that is to say how much vaster was the field over which the Anglican Church held sway. And all this growth and increase of activities meant a like increase of responsibility. The scope which presented itself to the mother Church in Canada alone was enormous, to say nothing of development in Australia, India, and South Africa. And all of this went to show how important, how essential was a pivot. No less so in ecclesiastical affairs than in machinery, and it was for the centre of the Church to find out as much as possible by personal contact what were the needs, what was the aim of that Church in other kindred lands.

The second thought was the smallness of the world, for though the field was greater, progress and science had so made things that all parts were made communicable quite readily, and this added very greatly to the responsibility. When it was realized that 22,000 Englishmen and Scotchmen came out to the colonies every year, His Grace said the significance of the problem was overwhelming.

After a passing reference to his life at Winchester and Canterbury, the former the ancient seat of King Alfred the Great, the origin of political life in England, the latter the home of Becket, the origin of ecclesiastical life in the British Empire, His Grace said that the enthusiastic welcome he had received since arriving in Canada brought home to him the vigour, the power, and energy which lay in Canada alone, and which might be utilized in laying the foundations of future generations broad and large.

CLERGY INTRODUCED.

Following the conclusion of the Archbishop's address, the clergy were introduced to His Grace one by one, passing before him in a single file.

When this ceremony had been performed, the benediction was pronounced by His Grace.

Among those present were: Archbishop of Canterbury and Mrs. Davidson, Archbishop Bond and Mrs. Bond, Bishop Carmichael, Revs. H. Holden and J. Ellison, Mrs. Fortescue, of Ottawa; Very Rev. Dean Evans, Rev. Principal Rexford, Archdeacon Norton, Archdeacon Ker, Rev. Dr. Symonds, Rev. G. Osborne Troop, Rev. W. Willis, Dr. Leo H. Davidson, Mr. James Crathern, Mr. G. F. C. Smith, Mr. Geo. E. Drummond, Rabbi de Sola, Professor others.

OUR YOUNG MEN AND POLITICS.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star.

Sir,—A recent admirable magazine article by Judge Parker, Democratic Presidential candidate, appeals to men of culture and principle to devote more time and thought to municipal and legislative duties; to limit the rule of selfish office-seekers who have little at stake, and whose tendency to wastefulness and extravagance threatens American districts "in the not far distant future with a burden that will be borne with exceeding difficulty." This appeal is in accord with the growing demand for greater probity in public men, and now on the eve of an election campaign in Canada, might well be taken to heart by the young men of our country.

Man is born with an innate and quite justifiable desire to rule, and consequently men of brains and spirit and high principle invariably take an interest in public affairs.

But to-day in Montreal, as elsewhere, with scores of young men of this type, the interest is unfortunately inactive. Because in all sincerity they are disgusted with the increasing and unblushing corruption of public life. Generalities are always inaccurate, but as surely effective, and the expression on every side that "politics has run to graft" is stifling in our young men their natural instincts toward government.

The very men whom our country—on the threshold of Opportunity—needs most, men of opinions and young blood to enforce them, honourable men with scorn for the spoils of office, men with inborn power of leadership to sway weaker minds to their own. These men hold back from public life with a distaste that finally induces inertia.

Yet who that has followed public life here in recent years can greatly blame them? There has been ad nauseam a procession of Pritchetts and Prestons and Sullivans and minor manipulators to whom political science and government meant nothing higher than a wholesale manufactory of salaried offices.

It has now remained for the veteran Minister of Trade and Commerce to shock even former admirers by his stand in the disgraceful Jackson affair. Every public-spirited Canadian must regret the incident and the weight of hidden influences, at which we can only surmise, that led up to it.

Only a decade ago, Mr. Editor, Sir Richard, with his vehement appeals to the young men of the country to elevate the standard of public life aroused a noticeable degree of personal enthusiasm. Mankind rather admires an imperious temper in a man whose integrity is undoubted, and Sir Richard's pleas together with the heroic periods of his leader added to the reputation of the speakers. Last month, however, found the one-time apostle of political purity defending from his seat in Parliament the man Jackson, of Ingersoll. Sir Richard airily assumed the responsibility of his appointment as commercial agent to Leeds, England.

Yet all Canada knows that when Ross' local Government was last returned, clinging to power by a painfully tenuous majority, Mr. Jackson was sent out with persuasive pockets to unseat Mr. Donald Sutherland, of South Oxford and secure another Liberal vote. In the highways and byways this man, a solicitor and former aide of Sir Richard, in an election campaign sought evidence of alleged corruption. His paid agent, Fournier, has testified to obtaining from men who had been convicted criminals declarations of fraud by Conservative campaign agents. At the resultant investigation several of these men testified under oath that their declarations were untrue, but that they had been paid for them and promised protection of the law. Even graver charges were made against Jackson on the floor of the House, and they have never been denied or disproved. Mr. Justice Street, from the Bench said it would be impossible to trace out such underground influences as those evident in "the improper and reprehensible means" employed by Jackson; that he had never experienced anything like it before. He further stated that Jackson in his work had associated himself with men of the lowest character. Despite all this intrigue it will be recalled that no case could be made out against Mr. Sutherland and he retained his seat.

And Sir Richard, jocosely averring that he was "not addressing a girl's school on the matter," intimated that politics had got to such a state that this sort of work was necessary, and people not over-nice must be found to do it. The whilom purist!—But, as must recur to every one, why should such a man be promoted to a position of honour in the Civil Service? It is an insult to the members of the service in Canada, and an outrage to all decent Canadians that such a character should be chosen to represent them to the business-men of the mother country.

Under other circumstances it is quite conceivable that Sir Richard's suave acknowledgment that "Mr. Jackson was not by any means discreet" would have been supplemented by some bitter thrusts, more nearly expressing the average man's view of the case.

So palpably weak was Sir Richard's defense, so apparent the lapse and humiliation of the veteran politician heretofore respected and feared, that experienced parliamentarians have told me the tense situation in the House then was one of the most remarkable they had ever witnessed there.

When Mr. Robert L. Borden rose to express his views his judicial arraignment of the Minister of Trade and Commerce was so stinging and severe, so unlike his wonted consideration of an opponent's feelings, that it left no doubt of his feelings upon a matter which in a sense dishonoured the whole House. It is fortunate that the need of such an indictment in our Parliament is rare; fortunate too for our national political honour that when the occasion arose a man was there so thoroughly "white"—to use an expressive Western epithet—that the rebuke adequately expressed the feelings of honourable Canadians. Mr. Borden said in part:

"The right honourable gentleman is eloquent sometimes; he is severe sometimes; I think he told us since last session that on this side of the House we were a lot of nobodies, heard of nowhere outside of our own parishes. I say to the right honourable gentleman the Minister of Trade and Commerce that it had been better for him as a public man in this country if he had retired to the isolation of his own parish and been heard of no more, before he made the declaration which he has to-day made in this House. I believe, sir, that there never was in the public life of this country, or of any other country, a more damnable doctrine more unblushingly avowed. I do not understand how a gentleman who has had his experience in public life, who has in the past preached lofty doctrines with regard to purity of public life and in the administration of public affairs could ever have found it in his heart to stand up in this House of Commons, and to make the avowal which the Minister of Trade and Commerce has made to-day.

"It was bold; it was more than bold, it was unblushing, and if I were not transgressing parliamentary decorum I would say that it was utterly shameless. That this man, so stigmatized by Mr. Justice Street, should be promoted to the public service of Canada and that the Minister of Trade and Commerce speaking for the Government should not be ashamed to stand up and justify him, is an unheard of degradation in our public life."

This whole Jackson affair would seem to indicate that Sir Richard's sturdy character and loud-voiced protestations of political honour have been unable to cope with the quiet and more subtle influences which from the beginning have marked Sir Wilfrid's cabinet with a series of stigmata. Even the leader himself, the erstwhile idol of young hopes, a man dowered with the social charm of the courtly race that has enriched language with the chivalric "Noblesse oblige"—even he has weakly yielded his ideals, so as not to antagonize the commercialism and lower standard of some of his colleagues.

Canada demands of a successful regnant party what she does of the individual—moral principles, courage and decisiveness. She asks of the leader of her destinies not only the ability to plan a worthy programme but boldness and firmness to carry it out. In how far has her demands been met in recent years? Sir Richard and his colleagues have assuredly not elevated Canada's political standard; they have not even upheld her former code.

In the face of these facts is there need to wonder why so many men of genuine worth and self-respect have ceased to look upon public life as offering an honourable career to a man? Yet no greater loss than this could come to any country.

It is to be hoped, Mr. Editor, that Mr. Borden, to whom men now look expectantly, will with his genuine willpower and force of character, succeed in impressing upon the young politicians rallying about him his own profound convictions of right and wrong in political ethics. Assuredly something needs to be done to purify Canadian politics, and we must look to our young men—to whom alone the future belongs—to do it.
