Byford Hopes Movie Aids Over Holiday

Westmount traffic safety officials were well satisfied today, at the effect of a new motion picture on traffic safety.

A special showing of the film Devil Take Us was held last night at the Avenue Theatre, sponsored by the Westmount Police Department, and attended by traffic safety officials from all of the island and surrounding municipalities.

Produced by RKO Pathe Inc., the film tells a powerful traffic story, giving a camera's eye view of the traffic accident problem as seen through the eyes of a California State Highway trooper.

It was made through the co-operation of the National Safety Council, the Associated Press and the California State Highway Patrol.

Attending the special showing were members of surrounding police departments, as well as officials of the West End Traffic Safety Council, and members of the Westmount city council.

In addition, several companies employing a large number of motor vehicles sent representatives, such as the Bell Telephone Company, Montreal Tramways Commission, and trucking firms.

Chief R. A. Byford, who first heard of the film and arranged for the showing in conjunction with the Avenue theatre, told The Examiner he hoped widespread publicity about the film would aid in cutting down traffic accidents over the coming Labour Day weekend.

The film is expected to be booked shortly into local theatres. It was shown last night along with another feature film, after the regular evening program.

Devil Take Us had some time ago established itself with a high reputation in traffic safety circles. In 1952 the film received the David S. Beyer memorial award from the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, as the best theatrical motion picture on traffic safety produced in that year. It also received a documentary nomination from the Academy of Motion Pictures, Arts and Sciences. It was chosen by the

Be Extra Careful During Next Weeks

Local motorists were asked this week to keep in mind the return to school next Wednesday of young boys and girls, following the long, summer vacation.

Chief R. A. Byford made a special plea to motorists to be especially careful during the next month, when youngsters who have been running wild all summer might do the same thing in the city.

"All too often the young ones spend their summer time heedless of any dangers, and generally there are none to be on guard for. Then when they return to school their reflexes are not conditioned to practice safety rules as they should," he said.

It is up to motorists everywhere to be even more careful during the first week of school, when the boys and girls are just beginning to get used to traffic safety rules again."

Valuable Tabby Still Missing

Up to yesterday, Ming, the prize Siamese cat, was still missing from her master's home on Sunnyside avenue, police reported.

The roving feline, owned by Dr. Richard Monohan, of 100 Sunnyside avenue, strayed from her home on Sunday, after she had been disturbed by some squirrels.

Dr. Monohan, Westmount police and the SPCA have made appeals to citizens in the district to be on the lookout for the missing tabby.

Westmount police report they have received numerous phone calls from people who have reported seeing the cat, all the way from Grosvenor avenue here, to St. Lambert.

So far however, Ming has been able to elude all those keeping an eye out for her, and no one has been able to catch up with her. Ming, is a three-year-old Venetian Siamese cat of noble birth.

Banners, Costumes Feature Park Closing

Banners flew gaily at the Westmount Athletic Grounds last night, as the city parks and playgrounds climaxed their summer with the annual Parade of Playgrounds.

Over 300 youngsters, costumed and decorated, turned up for the event. A feature of the evening was the opening parade when each playground marched around the WAG, led by the Royal Montreal Regiment Bugle Band.

The boys and girls gave on-lookers a demonstration of their activities, starting with sports. These included softball, paddle tennis, volleyball, touch football, table tennis, dodgeball and relay races.

Boys and girls who won honor awards this year at the playgrounds were introduced to the city council. These included the most popular boy and girl, most athletic boy and girl and the best boy and girl in handicrafts.

Mayor J. A. De Lalanne and parks and playgrounds commissioner J. C. Cushing both addressed the young gathering.

The evening closed with the presentation of prizes and exhibition of handicrafts. These included feltwork, plastic lac-ing, leathercraft, etc.

Westmount has an organized program on three playgrounds — Stayner, Prince Albert and Westmount parks. It operated from 9 am to 5 pm Monday through Friday.

The program consists of sports, handicrafts, swimming, tours of interest, and lasted for 10 weeks. Average daily attendance was 258. Registration numbered 265.

There was a qualified playground supervisor on each, and all equipment was supplied by the City of Westmount. Department head B. A. Rothwell termed the year "one of the most successful ever."

Summer Program

In conjunction with affiliated clubs of the Montreal Boys' Association, the Unity Boys' Club of Westmount rang the curtain down on its 1955 summer-time season activities, last Tuesday at the Point St. Charles Boys' and Girls' Club.

The closing day festivities began at 10.30 a.m. and ended at 4 p.m. Competition for a variety of field events and inter-club soft-ball, soccer and volleyball games was provided by the East End Boys' Club, the Lions Boys' Club of Montreal and the Point St. Charles Boys' and Girls' Club. Swimming in the spacious Point Pool was another highlight of the day's outing. Other items on the agenda for the day included: Races for all age groups, softball throw, discus throw, tug of war and a hot-dog feed.

Participation Record

The 1955 Summer Program which was under the supervision of Boys' Work Supervisor Russell Skinner and Girls' Work Supervisor Giselle Mauer topped all previous participation records, this year's attendance totalling well over the 6000 mark as compared to 1953's 4775 and 1954's 4857.

Nearly 250 youngsters were enrolled and special activities were conducted for the 6 to 15 year olds — the accent of the program was on outdoor arts, crafts and sports, tours, picnics, hikes and swimming.

Last Week — Busy Week

In addition to regular playground activity and games room activity which has been growing steadily during the past two weeks, Club members have enjoyed several trips top laces of interest, a hike and picnic. They are as follows:

Mrs. Morrison took a group of youngsters to see the special Art Exhibition at St. Louis Park.

Another group under the direction of Mrs. Mauer attended the Small Fry Frolics at the T. Eaton Company. Club member Penny Hodgson was chosen to participate in a balloon contest and she received a prize.

Popular Louis Thomas took a large group of boys and girls to Plage Mon Repos.

A trip to Beaver Lake was also on the agenda for the week. Mrs. Mauer and a group of girls had a lovely day.

Craft Cupboard Painted

Some boys and girls are always looking for jobs to do and particularly the following group who offered their services to paint the craft room cupboards. And a fine job they did too ... We want to say thank you to Ellen Rowland, Beverley Rivet, Pearl and Harriet Mauer, Norman Weeks, Wayne Cummings, Ruth Driver, Barbara Fein, Linda Jamieson and Susan Fein.

John H. Hand, 76,
Dies; Prominent
In Business Here

John H. Hand, for many years prominent in westend business circles, died yesterday in the Ross Pavilion of the Royal Victoria Hospital. The late Mr. Hand was in his seventy-seventh year.

A native of England, he came to Canada at an early age and received his education in Montreal. He entered the building business following his graduation, and later founded his own contracting company which was active in business, especially in Westmount and Notre Dame de Grace, from before the First World War until the mid-thirties.

During this period he built many of Westmount's largest and most luxurious homes and also played a large part in the early development of Notre Dame de Grace as a residential area. He was closely associated with the late Alderman W. H. Biggar who relied upon his advice and experience in solving the many problems associated with the transition of N.D.G. from farmland to urban area.

Mr. Hand was active in many business and service organizations. He was the first President of the Westmount Rotary Club.

He is survived by his widow, the former Mary Ashcroft, and three daughters, Mrs. P. B. Cowper and Mrs. A. H. Dingham of Montreal, and Mrs. R. F. Minty of Vancouver.

Kisufim - Desert Settlement

By Paul Unterberg

A word must be said about these children. First of all even if they lacked quality they would have made up for it in quantity. The sun, the healthy vegetable diet, (a child doesn't mind monotony as much as an adult) the care which they are given from birth, all combine to form an extraordinary healthy, powerfully built set of youngsters. Almost any one of them could be used in a baby food advertisement! In addition they are self-confident and precociously self-reliant. While visiting some friends during my short stay in Tel Aviv, their young son was sent to the grocery store. He was asked to get about six items and given three 10 Shilling notes. He should have been back within ten minutes. Twenty minutes had passed and "Gadi" wasn't back yet. A half hour and I became worried and asked his mother about him. "Oh, don't worry. He can take care of himself." After almost an hour Gadi turned up. He had all the items but he looked ready to drop.

"Gadi, where have you been?" "I got all the items except the bread. Bakery had no bread. Went to another bakery. Still no bread. Know a bakery downtown where I got bread. Walked back to save busfare!" Gadi was not yet four years old!

The children at Kisufim were of the same type. Husky, bronzed, self-reliant, they were ready to tackle just about anything, anytime. They ate first, in their own dining room while the adults ate later in the main hall. After supper the parents spent part of the evening with their children. This system of communalization of child raising has many pros and cons. It has been violently attacked and strongly defended. One thing is certain! There is almost no other practical method available. The mother's work is needed in the kibbutz and this is the only way to take care of her children.

As the sun fell lower in the sky the people who did not have to stand guard duty gathered in the recreation room. Sten guns and .303 rifles were stacked near the door. Always handy in case of attack. Those men who were to stand guard that night, filed to their posts. The searchlight atop the watchtower was manned, and the gate closed and locked.

Having arranged to stand "Shomer" that night, I got a Sten gun from the locker checked it, put a couple of clips of .30 calibre ammunition in my jacket pocket and took my post near the cabbage patch, on the side of the settlement nearest the Arab border.

Within a matter of minutes the dusk had come and gone. The desert darkness and cools quickly. Before the sun went down I had been sweating in a light cotton jersey. Half an hour later I had put on a flannel shirt, a wool sweater, my leather jacket. Nevertheless I felt uncomfortably chilly. Eerie is the best way to describe guard duty in a desert always on the brink of a flare-up. Only "eerie" is a gross understatement. The forest after dark is filled with night noises. Fields are alive with crickets, insects and birds. Even the ocean has the slap of the waves and the occasional leap of a fish. The desert is silent. From the recreation room came the sounds of singing and the stamping of a Hora. The merriest rang violently in the silence. Far off in the distance twinkled the lights of Arab-held Gaza. Between Gaza and myself was the no-mans land, in which snipers played their deadly game. I knew that I stood out a perfect silhouette against the sky. There was simply no cover to be found. I crouched even lower and waited. My knees became cramped and I shifted position as silently as possible. The sounds from the recreation hall only served to emphasize the stillness.

For several nights the Arabs had managed to steal irrigation piping from the patch. It was a question of survival on both sides. In Arab Gaza the peasants needed the piping to sell for food. If we lost the piping our vegetables would wither and die within twenty-four hours. So we stood armed guard day and night and had orders to shoot intruders on sight.

It is absolutely silent. Not even the whisper of a breeze. Suddenly I hear a slight rustle about twenty yards forward and slightly to the left. They're pretty desperate and he's probably got his rifle trained ... If I get up to signal ... I watch Yakov, about thirty yards to my left. Suddenly he looks toward the same place which has attracted my attention. He's heard it too! He looks at me, sees I've heard it and begins to creep toward the sound. We're both flat on our bellies trying to show as little as possible. Now it's silent again. We both stop. There it is. It's moved further left. I hear the safety catch on Dov's Sten and take mine off too. It's silent again. Suddenly we see a white patch rise slightly higher than the surrounding plants. Dov fires a split second before me. The night is torn apart by the jammering of automatic

Another brick was added to the structure of inter-faith friendship this week, by an old hand at the business.

Temple Beth Shalom — currently moving to a new location in the westend — announced they would make use "of the gracious offer" extended by the board of Knox Crescent and Kensington Presbyterian Church for the Jewish New Year and Yom Kippur solemn rites.

Knox Crescent has been noted in the past for similar offers, all done without fanfare. Their program in this respect has always been one to break down the differences and build friendships.

Letter To The Editor

The final concert of the season given in Westmount Park (on Monday, Aug. 29, 1955) by the Band of the Royal Montreal Regiment, under the distinguished leadership of Captain T. E. Jackson, M.D., was most excellent in all respects, not forgetting the pleasant public choral singing. It rounded off a series of summer programmes that — in the opinion of those qualified to so judge — rank this band the best in Montreal.

It is true that the individual musicians create the band and give it its prestige. Yet it is equally certain that the director of music, by his enthusiasm, quality, training, and charm, furnishes the performers some valuable added flare, courage, and power to coordinate their skills and efforts. Thus the band gave uniformly good musical renditions through this fine unity.

Westmount is surely lucky to have so perfect a band, with bandmen so experienced and so well-trained. As a miniature John Phillip Sousa band, they ought to give us a special concert this winter in our Westmount Hall where the acoustics are good for music in general and for brass instruments in particular.

I am prepared to say — and many other citizens will join me in so saying — that the people of Westmount are unanimously thankful and full-heartedly proudful in being given the most welcome opportunity to enjoy and to applaud this disciplined gentlemanly and so well-instructed a military band.

Heating Homes Electrically Has Made Much Progress In Europe, White Holds

Heating homes by electricity has made much progress in many European countries, W. E. White told members of the Rotary Club of Westmount at Victoria Hall on Wednesday.

Mr. White, who is sales director for Glassheet of Canada Limited, told the Rotarians, because of our abundant power resources and other advantages there was no reason why heating by electricity could not show similar progress here.

"Many local power companies have in the past denied citizens the right to heat their homes efficiently and economically by electricity," Mr. White stated.

He said he has made an extensive study of the problem and can see no reason why certain power companies cannot sell power to home owners at an equitable rate, so as heating by electricity would become economical.

Mr. White maintained citizens should be told what the power companies can do about electrical home heating.

He stated that due to the amount of home owners switching to electricity for nearly every appliance in the home, and even to heat by, years ago the power companies put these people on demand rate.

During the past eight years power companies in the United States have made extensive surveys into the problem. In British Columbia he said, the power company there established a rate with a discount of as high as 20 per cent for home owners who were using electricity for appliances as well as heating.

In Quebec, where electricity is king, a terrible sales resistance to heating by power was set up by the companies. He said people were misinformed and discouraged in regard to heating by power.

Three years ago, Mr. White stated, private companies applied for rates in Quebec, which if granted would have brought the cost of power to all-electric home owners, ridiculously

Scottish Concert Party Open At Victoria Hall

The Robert Wilson Scottish Concert Party direct from Scotland will open this year's tour at Victoria Hall, Westmount on Wednesday and will give repeat performances on Thursday and Friday, Sept 8 and 9. The Scottish Societies Association is sponsoring the appearance of the Wilson Party in Montreal.

Headed by Robert Wilson "The Voice of Scotland" who will be heard in all the old favorites as well as his latest numbers including his smash hit "Here's To The Gordons" one of the Scottish top ten selling records, the party is composed of artists whose names are household ones in the Old Country.

Wilson who first was heard here with the D'Oyly Carte Opera Company has had the honor of appearing on several Command Performances and is now recognized as the foremost singer of Scottish Songs with a flare for style all his own.

Jack Anthony the comedian in the show needs no introduction to local audiences as he is the same gent who kept capacity crowds at Victoria Hall last fall in great glee with his own peculiar Scotch humour. Miss Bertha Ricardo Comedienne will be heard in solo numbers and in comedy with Jack Anthony, made many friends last year with her typical music hall style of putting a song over.

Jimmy Shand Scotland's best known accordionist whose records are in every Scotchman's record library will be heard with Robert Wilson in the new number "Doonaree" in which they teamed up to make this best seller record early this Spring.

Margaret Mitchell the lady with the beautiful voice who charmed her listeners in Victoria Hall will be back with the party. Miss Mitchell was formerly Principal Soprano with the O'Lyly Carte Opera Company. Tammis Fisher at the piano has been described as the rare combination of the perfect accompanist as well as an outstanding soloist. Jimmy Neil will M.C. the show.

"I've never seen anything like it"

"I'm wearing out plenty of shoe leather these days delivering Dow Ale to customers. Waiters in other clubs and taverns are saying the same thing. None of us has ever seen anything like the tremendous increase in calls for Dow. Seems that Dow's 'Cool Control' brewed flavor is exactly what the customers want."

Oratory Issues Warning Against Sales of Goods

Montrealers and tourists were warned this week to be on guard for persons claiming to sell articles in the name of St. Joseph's Oratory.

"No person or institution, even though they claim to be the soul of piety, has been authorized to sell any article whatever in the name of St. Joseph's Oratory," an official said.

"The merchandise which is being peddled does not come from the Oratory, nor is any profit derived by the Oratory from this trade."

YOU CAN SEE AND FEEL the mountains and valleys on this unique new map of all Canada, which will be seen in many school-rooms and offices this Fall. First plastic relief map of Canada ever made, it shows land forms in vivid third dimension, and 8 colours indicate land use. 3,000 place names are shown. Map scale is 1 inch equals 75 miles. Its size is 45 by 49 inches, and it weighs only 2 pounds. It was published jointly by two affiliated mapping organizations, Canadian Aero Service Limited and Spartan Air Services Limited, Ottawa.

bronze statues of the King, exactly similar, on the Island of Hawaii, and thereby hangs a tale.

According to "Paradise", Hawaii's well-read monthly magazine, the people of Hawaii commissioned a bronze statue of their beloved King from Florence, Italy. The statue was eventually finished and shipped via Boston where it was transhipped again. The last leg of the trip would take the boat around the Horn. Unfortunately, however, the ship caught fire and sank off the Falkland Islands.

Luckily, all eight feet six inches of the bronze statue were in-

Stopovers At Honolulu Top Tonic For Editor's Ulcers

By JOHN FREEMAN, Canadian Weekly Newspaper editorial representative and editor of the Lakeshore News, Pointe Claire, who recently returned from a 20,000-mile trip with Canadian Pacific Airlines which took him to Australia via Hawaii and Fiji.

Arrival at Hawaii is an experience no traveller will ever forget. Having read the advertising literature pertaining to Hawaii I, like other weekly editors, had admired the copy-writer's style more than I had his veracity. Phrases like "Hawaii — lotus islands of the Pacific" had sounded wonderful but unreal.

Before I left Honolulu airport next day I had cause to revise my opinion!

Elegant accommodation, warm scented winds, bright sun, people create a state of mind absolutely guaranteed to placate the ulcers of any number of weekly editors!

I could have spent the whole four weeks there, and to the devil with the rest of the tour!

Hawaiian Flag Surprises

One point that never fails to rouse the interest and curiosity of visitors to Hawaii is the sight of what appears to be the Union Jack flying in the top quarter of the Hawaiian flag next to the staff.

United States territory since 1898, when its annexation took place, Hawaii's flag is made up of "nine stripes alternate, white, red and blue, and as a union of blue the crosses of St. George, St. Patrick, and St. Andrew".

A clue to this design of the flag is found in the fact that Hawaii was originally known as the Sandwich Islands, being named after the First Lord of the British Admiralty, the Earl of Sandwich.

Actually, the first European to set foot there was Captain James Cook who some years earlier had discovered and claimed Australia for the British Crown.

The famous Captain was subsequently killed in a misunderstanding and a monument stands to his memory thereon.

Besides the natural beauty of the resort and of the maidens whose charms are an obvious adjunct to the scenery, (wonder standing on a return visit to the if this will get past the wife), the Islands themselves have a history and culture which begins for most Hawaiians from the reign of King Kamehameha I, who conquered all the Islands and brought them under one government.

sured and a copy was ordered right away. This one had a smooth trip and was unveiled in 1883 with "the heavens expressing their approval and joy by pouring rain on spectators until just a half hour before the formal ceremony. Then the sun shone brightly for the rest of the day."

The punchline is in the fact that years later the original statue was found in the Falklands by a ship's captain who took it to Hawaii in the hope of finding a buyer.

His customer was the Kingdom of Hawaii which erected the duplicate statue near the famous warrior's birthplace.

Grapefruit For Breakfast?

Breakfast at the Royal Hawaiian was marked by the incredulous observation of the beautifully gowned Hawaiian waitresses concerning the breakfast order of my new-found travelling companion, Ron Marsh,
"You come all this way to eat grapefruit in Honolulu!"

Apparently the spirit of Hawaii later caught up with Ron as he had to be practically dragged on the plane as it left for Fiji Islands on what is the longest leg of the whole flight — some 3,000 miles during which time we became members of the "Equator Club" and "Dateline Club" respectively, as we headed into the night flying below the "Milky Way", brightest of all the heavenly galaxies in the southern hemisphere.

When the stewardess announced "You are now crossing the equator" I was no different to the other passengers — all looking down for that thick black line on the ocean's surface!

It's at about this stage in the flight that you are caught with the impression that the airline is trying to give you back as much of the fare as possible in food and refreshment. The service is outstanding.

Our stop at Fiji was of short duration. We had a cold shower and I bought a set of lovely earrings of tortoiseshell and mother of pearl for the little woman at home. (Very helpful if one is to get the big welcome upon return, and especially so if she is doing the job of publishing the paper in one's absence!)

According to reports of the plane stewardesses, who sometimes stop over at Fiji, there is an excellent resort on the other side of the Island if one wants to really get away from it all.

We had breakfast on leaving Fiji and landed at Sydney around 11 a.m. after a refuelling stop at Auckland's airport in New Zealand.

We cannot omit mention of the excellent service given tourists and visitors by the customs at Sydney Airport. The familiar queue is noticeably absent and passengers are summoned by name in a quick and courteous manner.

Make sure you have the "official stamp" as required on your certificate of vaccination.

I didn't, and as a result got the needle again — administered by an Australian M.O., courtesy of the Australian Government.

I must check on my return to Quebec whether or not Doc. Mac-Donald billed me for that first needle job.

He told me the stamp was not necessary!

The Canadian visitor to Australia will find much to interest him in this land of some 10,000,- 000 people who are so very like Canadians in many ways but so different in others.

The average Australian enjoys a high standard of living, second only to the U.S.A. and Canada, with nearly every family owning at least one automobile. Mainly because of dollar restrictions most autos are of English or Continental make. However many Aussies now drive the wholly Australian-made General Motors produced "Holden", sometimes known as the "poor man's Chev-vy". It's a popular make and has astonishingly high pick-up and performance.

Residents in the higher brackets generally go for the higher priced Jaguar with some families owning, say a "Jag", and also a smaller car as a secondary automobile.

While I was in Australia
General Motors announced plans to build a $42,000,000 new plant.
They also announced a profit of $21,000,000 over the preceding year!

The climate is a direct reversal of Canada's with the heat of summer during the months of December and January! One of the most enjoyable periods in which to make the trip and yet not be in the peak travelling period would be during February, March or April.

Oh! and, yes . . . a must for all overseas guests is a visit to one of the animal sanctuaries where good close-up pictures of Australia's strange animals may be taken — and don't forget to take some snapshots of the Koala bears. They're as cute as the publicity photos depict them.

Irresponsible Statements

South Korea's President Rhee
Speaks Dangerous Words

The demand of South Korean President Syngman Rhee that the neutral supervisory commission, appointed by the U.N., to oversee the armistice which ended hostilities between that country and North Korea and Red China, pack up and go home, is dangerous and inflammatory.

Further evidence of Dr. Rhee's irresponsibility, if any were needed, lies in mob demonstrations against members of the commission, consisting of team composed of Swiss, Swedes, Poles and Czechoslovaks, and in attacks on U.S. soldiers.

Dr. Rhee claims that Communist members of the commission are engaged in espionage. He is sadly mistaken, however, to imagine that the free world is ready to support the idea of a new war in Korea merely because Dr. Rhee, in common with free world, regards partition of the country into two 'sovereign' states unrealistic.

The South Korean President's latest proposal is on par for stupidity with his utterances of last year before the U.S. Congress, when he urged that fighting in Korea be resumed by his own and Chiang Kai-shek's forces, supported by arms from the U.S. Dr. Rhee, it will be recalled, stunned not only Congress but the entire democratic world by asserting that the proposal, if acted upon, would touch off third World War, in which Soviet intervention in Asia would provide the West with an excellent opportunity for wiping out Russia's centres of production.

The Dignity of Labour

Unseen, unsung, the simple days passed by,
He drove the nails, and sawed and planed a board,
Intent upon His Father's business bent,
As when, with care, He fed a hungry horde.

We do not know, what happened in those days,
As He grew up, to face His tragedy;
Still, what we know, is much the better part,
The lesson taught, of work's true dignity.
Dorothy Sproule.

The Kingdom of God III

By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor,
Rector of Trinity Memorial Church

Let us consider what Our Lord teaches us in the Parable of the Kingdom. We shall not analyse each parable but outline the general teaching and illustrate from the parables. We shall try to answer the question: What is the Kingdom of God like? Notice, the question is not: What is the Kingdom of God? Our Lord never answered that question, for the very simple reason that the Kingdom of God is infinite and cannot be defined. He only says that it is like this and that. He says the Kingdom of God is like some material thing, or like a person; or He tells a story and then says, now the Kingdom of God is like that.

So we shall pick certain characteristics of the Kingdom without any suggestion that we have told the whole story; or that we have completed the description of the Kingdom of God, for that would be an impossibility.

To begin with the Kingdom is a living thing. It is compared with the sowing and growing of seed. The field is the world, the seed is the Word of God, and yet the two together are in some sense the Kingdom of God. The seed is sown in the field, and the great part of the field respond and received the seed. But not all receives it effectively; for in some parts of the field there is no depth of soil, in other parts the seed is choked by weeds, but where the soil is prepared and ready to receive it the Kingdom is effective and bears fruit unto eternal life.

Another parable indicates that the kingdom has an independence of human activity. It is compared to the seed that is sown by man but grows of itself. The farmer sows his seed, but he does not make it grow. So the Word of God is sown but from thereon can do things which surprise even the sower. So Isaac Stringer sowed the Word on Herschel Island in the Arctic. Nothing seemed to happen for time, then suddenly the seed came to life and the Eskimos of Herschel Island were Christians, or to use another parable, the leaven had worked in the mass of dough till the whole was leavened. Isaac Stringer would have been the first to say that the work was of God.

Yet, while it has life in itself, the seed, or the soil and the seed which together are like the Kingdom of God, can be hindered. For the Kingdom is like a man who sowed good seed in his field. And when no one was watching an enemy came and sowed tares, weeds so like the wheat that it was hard to distinguish them. The harm was discovered and the servants were deeply distressed. Presumably they were the same servants through whom the seed was sown, and who should have watched against the enemy. Probably a good many of the Lord's servants would have to plead guilty to that lack of watchfulness. But even so the harm was not fatal to the Kingdom. It was harmed and damaged but was not destroyed. In fact, the Kingdom ultimately cannot be destroyed, for it is God's Kingdom; and it is God's will that it should prosper in that whereto He has sent it.

Christian Science

Man's real spiritual status as a son of God, not subject to sin and disease, will be emphasized at Christian Science church services on Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Man."

From the King James Version of the Bible will be read the account of Christ Jesus' healing of the man "whose right hand was withered" which concludes (Luke 6:10): "And looking round about upon them all, he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored whole as the other."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following selection will be among those read: "The understanding of his spiritual individuality makes man more real, more formidable in truth, and enables him to conquer sin, disease, and death."

The Golden Text is from Romans: "As many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God."

MECHANICS INSTITUTE

The Mechanics' Institute Library, 1200 Atwater avenue, will resume regular hours Tuesday, as follows: Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Saturday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

GOLF IN JASPER

One of Canada's best known resort and tournament golf courses, Jasper Park Lodge's championship layout, is marking its 30th anniversary this year. It was in 1925 that Field Marshal, The Earl of Haig, officially opened the course. Snuggled in the mountain beauty of the Canadian Rockies, the 18-hole, par 71 course was built under the direction of famed designer Stanley Thompson. It took 50 teams of horses and 200 men to prepare it and trainloads of top soil were hauled to Jasper to make the fairways and greens. In 1926, the Totem Pole Golf Tournament was established and has since drawn top-ranking amateurs for the annual September classic. Winners of this trophy include crooner, Bing Crosby, in 1947, while outstanding professionals who have found Jasper delightful and challenging include Ben Hogan of United States golf fame and Stan Leonard of Vancouver.

Official records reveal that it was a former Jasper pro, Kenny Rimmer, who scored the best round—an eight under par 63—a number of years ago. While no records of women's scores are kept, it is believed Marlene Stewart, present Canadian open champion, carded the best with a 72 score.

New Year-Round Resort Proceeding Near Rawdon

A significant new development is proceeding near Rawdon Village, some 45 miles from this town, this being nothing less than a new year-round resort — the Domaine Pontbriand.

Here, within what will shortly be commuting distance of the city, is being developed a 4000 acre resort in the magnificent Ouareau Valley.

This vast domain should readily arouse the interest of Mon-trealers who are looking for a country residence in a scenic year-round resort swiftly becoming the habitation of refined families. It is fast becoming a modern resort town, having its own golf course, aviation field, riding academy, churches, schools, and will be a sport centre for both winter and summer sports. In fact, Mr. Henri Pontbriand, the developer, states that nothing is being omitted which will add to the enjoyment of those fortunate enough and foresighted enough to locate there.

The mountain, which has an altitude of 1,200 feet, is called Oak Mountain because of the stately oaks. Several sites have been reserved for exclusive hotels. The houses are being built of various architectural designs, or will be built specifically to purchasers' instructions. An 30 foot boulevard will cross the property alongside 5-mile long Lake Pontbriand.

Keep Your Name Out of Press

Tuesday's newspapers will be filled with names of accident victims of Labor Day weekend.

The Province of Quebec Safety League wants everyone to remember this before taking off on the last long weekend of the summer.

The Travel Log . . .

weapons. Within a matter of seconds the lights in the kibbutz have gone out and positions are manned. The searchlight sweeps over our prostrate forms. Silence again. Our fire has not been returned. Yakov and I creep toward the now motionless white object, our Stens trained on its middle. We approach closer.

Suddenly Yakov bursts out laughing: "The $!$!$! thing is only a cat!" It was true. It was one of the mangy, brown and white cats which sometimes stray across the border, looking for food. Yakov signals the all clear and the settlement reverts to normal. Laughing, but still a little jumpy, we go back to our posts to pass the rest of the night patrolling and waiting, patrolling and waiting.

Byford Hopes . . .

National Safety Council as one of the outstanding accident prevention films produced in 1952.

In conjunction with the film, Chief Byford warned that unless local motorists practice extra carefulness and courtesy while driving, "you may be one of those unfortunate ones who are likely to be killed on the highway during the weekend."

In an effort to establish a non-fatality record around Westmount during the critical three day period, he warned:

1. Don't be a "broken-field" driver — cutting in and out like a halfback on a touchdown run.
 2. Don't be a non-stopper. Pull off the road every 100 miles for a rest and a cup of strong coffee.

3. Don't be a driving dummy. Small talk with your passengers will keep you alert and help to prevent drowsiness.

4. Don't be a "car creep". Move with the traffic, but don't try to lead it.

5. Don't be a hog. Let the other fellow have the right of way; and don't try to pile up a record number of miles in one day. Finding a place to sleep while it's still daylight can help you avoid a permanent sleep.

Children's Footwear Of Utmost Importance

Schooldays are getting nearer, and with their approach comes the planning of school wardrobes for active Canadian youngsters. "One thing is a must at this time, and that is the choice of footwear", declared Mrs. Elizabeth Hammond, director of the Shoe Information Bureau of Canada, "for it is during active school years that a youngster's feet are being formed.

Not so many years ago children's footwear was an item of little interest, other than from the point of view of durability. The old adage of buying shoes that would last for a long time has been proved to be a bad theory. Children's feet continue to grow until they reach the age of twenty, and shoes bought this season will more often than not be too small for next season.

Mrs. Hammond pointed out that children's feet should be checked at frequent intervals to make sure that they are not wearing shoes that they have outgrown.

WEDDINGS

D'AURIOL - MULLIGAN

The marriage of Miss Eileen Leishia Mary Mulligan daughter of Mrs. Mulligan and the late John Joseph Mulligan, of Westmount, and Henry Charles Leonard d'Auriol, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave d'Auriol of Lima, Peru, took place Saturday, August 27, at 10:30 a.m. in the United States Ascension of Our Lord, Westmount. The Reverend Father Lapointe officiated. The soloist sang "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus" and the music arrangement on the organ was "The Rose of Traltee." Standards of white gladioli were used as decorations.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. William Cosgrove and wore a model gown of white Chantilly lace over ivory slipper satin; the bodice was fashioned with embroidered set-in pearls and beads, the sleeves ended in points over her hands, and the waistline flaring into a graceful floor-length skirt and falling into a chapel train. Her veil of tulle illusion was held by a crown of mother of pearl, and seeded pearls and beads. She carried a bouquet of red roses fashioned on her prayer book and her blue Rosary.

Mrs. W. Cosgrove, Joyce Kathleen, sister of the bride, as maid-

Basement Enterprise Becomes Profitable

If your husband suddenly acquires a preoccupied air and a bag of plastic chips, don't scoff. Encouragement may enable you to share in a very interesting, not to mention profitable, business.

Mrs. Karl Fabricius, wife of a German mechanical engineer, did just that. One day shortly after their arrival in Canada from Germany, Mr. Fabricius came home with a bag of polythene chips and two reels of wire. In the basement of their Toronto home, Mrs. Fabricius helped her husband convert these materials into swim leads for TV sets.

With the money earned from this first effort, they bought more bags of polythene chips and more reels of wire, which were converted into working capital in the same manner. Today Mr. Fabricius' Plastic Profiles Company in Long Branch employs 19 people in the manufacture of plastic-covered wire and cable.

A true pioneer in his field, Mr. Fabricius brought some his machinery from Germany. The rest he designed and built — most of it with his own hands.

of-honor and wore a model gown of pink shimmering tulle, pleated skirt, and carried a Colonial corsage of pink roses attached to her prayer book. She wore a matching hat of pink, fashioned with beads and pearls.

Miss Maureen Mulligan, bridesmaid and sister of the bride, wore a model gown of white Chantilly lace over shimmering tulle, waltz-length and carried a Colonial corsage of pink roses, attached to her prayer book. She wore a pearl and tulle illusion veiled hat.

Mr. Leo Beaudoin Ramsperger acted as best man for Henry C. L. d'Auriol and the ushers were Mr. William Sauve, and Mr. Pax Desjardins.

Mrs. Mulligan, mother of the bride, wore a model suit dress of crystal blue, having a Victorian collar and carried a corsage of orchids.

Countess Gustave d'Auriol, mother of the bridegroom, wore a model dress of royal blue silk and matching shawl and carried a corsage of orchids.

The reception was held in The Vice Regal Suite of the Ritz Carlton Hotel, where white gladioli, candelabra and assorted arrangements were used as decorations.

Seated at the head table were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Charles d'Auriol, bride and bridegroom, Reverend Father Lapointe, pastor of The Church of the Ascension of Our Lord, Westmount, P.Q., Mrs. J. J. Mulligan, Countess Gustave d'Auriol, of Lima Peru; Miss Maureen Mulligan, Mr. and Mrs. William Cosgrove; His Excellency, Dr. Emile Vaillancourt, Canadian Ambassador to Peru; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ross, Mr. and Mrs. E. Meneghini; Mr. L. B. Ramsperger, best man, and ushers, Mr. William Sauve and Mr. Pax Desjardins.

Mrs. William Cosgrove played piano solo arrangements immediately following the reception.

Mr. and Mrs. d'Auriol left by car for points in the United States. The bride wearing a midnite blue silk dress and matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Ritchie, who spent some time abroad, returned on the Empress of Scotland.

Dr. and Mrs. Irwin Scott Disher have returned from Fulford Place, Brockville, Ont., where they were visiting Mrs. Disher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Fulford.

Bar-B-Q Beef on Buns for Labor Day Picnic

TORONTO TEEN-AGERS enjoy cook-out with barbecued beef on buns the mainstay of the meal.

How about a cook-out over Labor Day?

We talked with some Toronto teen-agers yesterday who gave us their secrets of a successful cook-out for the gang.

First plan to eat in the cool of a canyon, they advised. Make barbecued beef in bakery buns the mainstay of the meal. Take along potato salad topped with stuffed eggs, whole tomatoes, relishes such as olives, pickles and carrots sticks. Buy a high and handsome chocolate cake and lot of fresh fruit to eat as is. That's for teen-age appetites on a hike.

Surely Toronto's teen-agers eat good!

Barbecued Beef

(Makes enough filling for 24 sandwiches)

Two pounds boneless meat, cut in 4-inch pieces, 1 tablespoon shortening, 4 cups chopped onion, 2 tablespoons shortening, ¼ cup undiluted tomato soup, ½ cup catsup, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce 1½ teaspoons salt, dash pepper, celery salt.

Brown meat well in 1 tablespoon fat in heavy saucepan. Add 1½ cups water, cover and simmer until tender — 1½ to 2 hours. Put meat through coarse grinder. Fry onions in 2 tablespoons hot shortening until tender and transparent.

Combine with meat. Add tomato soup, catsup, Worcestershire sauce, salt, pepper and celery salt. Add about 2 cups meat broth to make the mixture moist. Heat to bubbling and serve between buns.

Tip-Top Potato Salad

Six potatoes, cooked in jacket (4 cups, cubed), 1 onion, chopped,

3 hard-cooked eggs, sliced, 1 cup chopped celery, 1 cucumber, diced, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika, ¼ cup French dressing, mayonnaise.

Combine all ingredients except mayonnaise. Chill 4 to 6 hours. Just before serving, add mayonnaise and mix carefully. Serve in lettuce cups.

Let's Eat By IDA BAILEY ALLEN

"Here is a big basket of fine mushrooms fresh from the market, madam, said the chef. "See how white and firm they are!"

"A sure sign they're fresh — and how crisply they break! When they are well washed, dried and sliced, raw mushrooms are good as a dip or in a salad. But few persons know it," I added.

Fashion Hints

Dining, dancing, dating this autumn will see us dressed in delightful silk dresses and suits. Typical of the rich season ahead is this dress of black silk brocade designed on long torso lines. The low-placed belt line is an up-turned cuff criss-crossed at the waist in a one-sided bow and caught with a rhinestone button centre front. The skirt is gathered from there. It has brief sleeves and an extremely graceful neckline.

Dinner To Launch Membership Drive

The 1955-56 annual membership campaign of the Young Men's and Young Women's Hebrew Association will be launched at a dinner to be given by Mrs. Samuel Bronfman, O.B.E. and Mr. Sol Kellert, Honorary Presidents of the Association. This dinner, at which the guest speaker will be The Honorable Mr. Justice Harry Batshaw, will be held at the Snowdon Building, 5500 Westbury Avenue, on Wednesday evening, September 7.

The chairman of this year's campaign is Mr. Irving Riddell, and representing the women's section is chairman Mrs. S. Buckman. Assisting Mrs. Buckman in this important annual event is Mrs. Philip Levy, Chairman of Special Names, and the following vice-chairmen: — Mesdames R. Leopold, H. Robinson, J. Stewart, J. B. Becker, J. Carin, M. M. Chorney, V. Levy, S. L. Mendelsohn, S. Bagan, M. Deitcher, A. Maron, M. Shapiro, M. Flanz, N. Steinberg, and C. Vosberg.

This membership drive is concentrated into a period of four to five weeks and the funds constitute the sole source of revenue for the carrying on of the numerous activities both at the Snowdon and the Sir Mortimer Davis Buildings.

The phrase, "It's a feather in your cap" has come down to us from the customs of primitive people who stuck a red feather in their headdresses for each enemy defeated. We still have enemies which we help to defeat when we support our Community Chest.

Don't Peel

"Another thing they do not understand, madam," he continued. "Is that mushrooms should not be peeled and the black lines or gills underneath the caps should not be removed. Just wash thoroughly in cold water and dry. The ends of the stems should be cut off and the stems sliced crosswise to make tender, just as meat is cut across the grain. And another point, overcooking mushrooms make them tough.

"Unless the tops — or crowns, to use the technical word — are to be used whole for garnishing, I prefer to slice them before cooking. It releases more flavor and makes them go farther."

To Bring Out Flavor

"Mushrooms contain a little vegetable protein, which adds nutriment when released by combining with any animal protein, as in a mushroom omelet or a cream soup. A very little nutmeg brings out the delicate meat-like mushroom flavor."

"How about the calories, madam?"

"Good news there for calory-watchers, chef. Plain-simmered in broth, there are only 16 calories to 10 small mushrooms. But cook them in butter and the calories zoom to nearly a hundred!"

THE UDELL FAMILY veteran Lake sailors, enjoy a sailboat picnic supper.

Clare Udell is a veteran lake sailboat skipper. Life on the water, he says, brings that delightful feeling of relaxation plus a tremendous appetite — two things that go a long way to make the Labor Day holidays perfect.

MacRae Cops 10-1 Bowles Whiffs 21

MacRae Electric finally moved back into intermediate softball playoff competition last night, and showed that their long layoff hadn't dimmed any of their potent power.

Cliff Bowles fanned 21 as the club trounced Restaurant St. Jacques from Rosemont, to take a 1-0 lead in the best of three series.

The winner of the series is slated for play Derby in the provincial semifinal.

MacRae only got two hits off hurler Roger Bourassa, a former tosser with Dow of the Snowdon League, Cliff Bowles, old squad. But what they did get came at the right time and took full advantage of five errors.

The Restaurant people broke Cliff's shutout in the fifth, when Foret doubled and Chevrefils tripled. But Collins flied out and Bowles fanned the next two to get out of the inning without further damage. He allowed only two other hits, one to first baseman Marcel Pepin who showed this way with Steinberg's for several years.

MacRae scored two runs in the second, third and fifth innings, added three in the seventh and one in the eighth. They opened with two out, when Pat Lomasney singled, Jim Beasant doubled and Bowles singled in the two markers.

Then in the third, again with two away, Lloyd Hughes doubled and Dave Kaplan tripled him home, then scored himself while the left fielder played footsie with the ball. In the fifth Hughes smashed a circuit blow after Phil Martin walked.

MacRae only got one hit in the seventh — Hugh McDonald's triple, but they got three errors and a walk to make it good for three runs. McDonald singled in Beasant, safe on an error, in the eighth for the Electricians' final marker.

A defeat and a reversed protest knocked St. Augustine's out of their quest for city honors. The Gusties lost two straight to United Steel of America from Ville Emard, by 5-2 and 7-2 scores.

The 5-2 match was played last week, but the Saints protested the tilt because of USA men batting out of turn. The protest was originally upheld, but when the umpire's report came in this week, the decision was reversed. The umpire said a pitch had been thrown to the next batter, thus nullifying any penalty.

USA defeated St. Augustine's 7-2 Friday to take their second straight from the Gusties. Boudreau went all the way for the victory scattering four safeties, one a homerun by Roberts. Boudreau, the pitcher also cracked out a pair of homers, while his teammate, Fern Martineau, went three for four. Valois was tagged with the defeat, being clubbed for nine base-hits along with his successor Thomas, who came on in the sixth.

Over 60 Archers Vie For Provincial Titles

The Quebec Archery Association's big event of the year takes place this weekend when some sixty archers from all over the Province gather in Montreal for the Quebec Provincial Archery Championships. Last year these were held in Arvida, and on Saturday and Sunday reigning champions Cora Bachelder of the Algonquin Archers, Montreal, and Fred Hicks of Sherbrooke Bellevue will be defending their titles.

Shooting will take place at the Centre Sportif, one block east of Pie IX, just below Sherbrooke St. Saturday and Sunday afternoons. There will be two events on Saturday which have not previously been included in the Quebec Championship programs. The Class A Quebec men, and those coming from Ontario will shoot a Canadian Round. This consists of 24 arrows shot at each of 5 distances, 80, 70, 60, 50 and 40 yards. Another new event is the team competition two men and two women from the same club comprise a team. They will shoot 10 ends of 6 arrows each, the men at 60 yards, and the women at 50 yards. The highest score made by any member of the team on each end will count as the team score. This should give the clubs who don't have four consistently high scorers a chance.

On Sunday all classes will shoot regular American rounds, the men 30 arrows at 60, 50 and 40 yards and the women at 50, 40 and 30 yards. Also on Sunday there will be a William Tell Shoot. Everyone knows the story of William Tell who shot an apple off his son's head. We won't be using a live model! But will have a dummy with an apple on its head. Contestants will be allowed three shots; those hitting the apple will be awarded a William Tell crest, but those hitting the dummy will be immediately disqualified. Don St. Denis of the Algonquin Archers is one of the few archers in Quebec who has won a crest.

The official opening of the tournament will be at 1.45 p.m. on Saturday, and entries will be accepted on the field until 1 p.m. For further information call FI. 9744 or RE. 7-4626.

Antique Cars Routed Here On Tour

Westend residents living on Decarie boulevard, Cote St. Antoine road and Sherbrooke street will see time rolled back a good number of years if they look out of their windows tonight.

Approximately 250 antique cars, much older than you and I, will be using the above streets as they wind their way to the heart of the City and a parade there.

The cars, driven by members of the Antique Car Collectors Club from all parts of the continent, arrive in Montreal today at the Rolls Royce plant on Cote de Liesse road, and from here will drive, in parade fashion into the city. This is the first time the car owners have held their annual tour in Canada, and is the 10th such affair.

The 10th annual Glidden Tour, left Niagara Falls on Sunday, and with stopovers on route, is expected to reach here today.

Following the parade, there will be a reception and presentation of prizes held at the Sheraton-Mount Royal Hotel on Saturday night.

Time Limit Nears On Free College For 1954 Grads

One group of children of Canadian veterans, whose fathers died on active service or because of injuries sustained on active service, have only a few weeks in which to apply for free university education or other advanced training. These are students who were graduated from high school in June, 1954, Canadian Legion Dominion President, the Very Reverend J. O. Anderson, said this week.

Dean Anderson reminded students that according to the Children of the War Dead (Educational Assistance) Act of 1953, federal assistance for the purposes of higher education will be paid only if the student enrolls in an institution of higher learning within 15 months of graduation from high school.

The plan, initiated by the Canadian Legion, and executed by the Department of Veterans Affairs, provides tuition, other fees and an allowance of $25 a month while a student attends college, university, normal school or a nursing training school. Generally, an institution of higher learning is one in which high school graduation is necessary for admission.
