WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1938

PRICE—TWO CENTS

City Pays Half Montreal's Total In Income Taxes

Westmount Contributes Huge Share of Levy While its Population is but One Fiftieth the Size of Montreal—Paid in $502,554 During 1937-38 Fiscal Year, Report Shows

While its population is only one fiftieth the size of the City of Montreal, Westmount nevertheless contributes almost one half as much as Montreal to the metropolitan income tax levy, a report released this week reveals.

Under the existing system receipts from income and sales taxes on the Island of Montreal are pooled and then divided up, returning to some municipalities a great deal more than they contributed and giving others far less.

Westmount, with a population of approximately 25,000, paid in $502,554 in civic income taxes, while Montreal, with about 1,200,000, contributed but $1,063,430, during the 1937-38 fiscal year which expired on April 30.

R. E. Lyons Funeral Held On Saturday

Victoria Avenue Resident Was Member of Westmount Municipal Association

Friends and relatives paid final tribute to the late Robert Edwin Lyons, of 618 Victoria avenue, on Saturday afternoon at Dominion Douglas Church, the minister, the Rev. A. Lloyd Smith, officiating. Mr. Lyons, who was well known in advertising circles in all parts of Canada, died on Sept. 29 at the Summerlea Golf Club following a heart attack. He was 67 years of age.

Mr. Lyons was fatally stricken when he was playing a twosome with E. E. Wallace. He collapsed when they reached the fourth hole and was taken to the club house. Dr. L. E. Vasseur, of Lachine, was called immediately but pronounced him dead upon his arrival.

A former manager of the lithographing firm of Rolph Clark Stone, Limited, Mr. Lyons resigned from that company but recently had been in the lithographing business for 45 years and travelled throughout Canada. Born in Smith Falls, Ont., he had been a resident of Westmount for the past quarter of a century and was an active member of the community. He was well known for his interest in Dominion Douglas Church where he served as an elder for many years. He had also filled the capacity of steward, was a member of the finance committee, and was chairman of the ushering and choir committees.

Mr. Lyons was a member of the executive of the Westmount Municipal Association and was a past president of the Montreal Health Club. He was also a member of the Advertising Club of Montreal and the Engineer Club, besides his membership in the Summerlea Golf Club. He belonged to the Smith Falls Masonic Lodge.

Although never actively engaged in the political field, he was known as a strong conservative.

Besides his wife, nee Hattie Benson, Mr. Lyons is survived by one son, Robert Benson Lyons, of Montreal, and three brothers, J. Lyons, R. Lyons and A. Lyons.

Enrolment In Squadron Is Sought By Over 800

So keen has interest in aviation in this country become the but one-year-old Westmount No. 115 R.C.A.F. (non-permanent) Fighter Squadron has already received over 800 applications from persons wishing to join the ground crew of the unit, Flight Lieut. R. G. Briese, reported this week.

As the full complement of the squadron's non-flying crew consists of but 107 men, the majority of the applications have had to be refused. However, they still continue to come in regularly. Flight Lieut. Briese reported that persons living as far away as Sherbrooke had sought to join up with the squadron, and inquiries have been received from persons living in all sections of the Island.

It is useless, however, for anyone living outside of a 15-mile radius of the squadron to attempt

An interesting contrast, also, is that between Westmount and Verdun. While having a population of almost 70,000, the latter city returned but $3,313.97 in income taxes during the twelve-month period.

The Westmount return of but $57,834.63 in the sales tax category as against Montreal's $4,180,002.69, is apt to be misleading as it shows a much lower total than the amount actually paid out by residents.

This is due to the fact that local citizens do a great deal of their shopping in Montreal stores, and while the amount paid out by them in this way could not be accurately estimated, it is believed that it would at least double the sales tax figure.

The Montreal Metropolitan Commission is in charge of the distribution of the amounts collected to the various municipalities.

Complete figures are as follows:

William Wren, Chief of the Westmount Police and Fire Departments, now on one year's leave of absence prior to his official retirement, was presented with a silver salver, by the City Council at a regular meeting Monday night, in recognition of the Chief's forty years of service in the employ of the city.

The tray was suitably engraved with the crest of the city and the occasion which it marked was inscribed on it.

Alderman W. B. Scott, police and fire commissioner, also spoke briefly, commending the Chief for the efficient manner in which he had conducted the police and fire departments during the years he has spent as its head.

"Y" Branch Opens Class In Debating

Inaugural Meeting of Season Held Last Night—Joseph Cullen is Leader

The debating group resumed its activities at the Westmount Y.M.C.A., last evening when the inaugural meeting of the new term was held. The class this year is under the direction of Joseph Cullen, former secretary of the Montreal Debating League.

The opening session attracted an encouraging turnout and gave indication that a large number of young men will attend future classes.

Twenty lectures will be given, the course to comprise of the art of speech delivery, the importance of good speech, the preparation of a speech, rules of debate, Parliamentary procedure, introduction of a speaker, moving and seconding a vote of thanks and kindred other subjects.

This debating class has been part of the regular "Y" program. Pupils who were fortunate enough to take advantage of the course, found it very useful in preparing their inter-Collegiate and City League debates.

It has also been announced that the City of Montreal "Y" Association will inaugurate a "Y" championship in debating, Westmount "Y" should make a splendid showing as a few of the former pupils will be attendants at this year's class.

Debating is undergoing a new wave of popularity at the present time. The Westmount "Y" will see to it that a high standard is maintained in all their debates.

Parent-Teachers Group

The Parent-Teachers' Association of Shaar Hashomayim will have an "At Home" for parents and teachers, on Sunday, October 23rd, at 4 o'clock, in the Auxiliary Room of the Synagogue.

Cyclist Is Injured In Collision

Alphonse Paquette, 16, Taken to Hospital Following Accident at Intersection

When an automobile and bicycle collided at the intersection of Cote St. Antoine road and Strathcona avenue at 1.10 p.m. on Friday, the cyclist, Alphonse Paquette, 16, of 3557 Vendome avenue, suffered severe body wounds and was removed to the Homoeopathic Hospital by a passing motorist.

According to information received by Westmount police, an automobile, driven by Arthur Lefebvre, of 488 Strathcona avenue, was proceeding west on Cote St. Antoine, and on turning south onto Strathcona collided with the bicycle.

Mr. Lefebvre told police that the bicycle was being driven east on Cote St. Antoine and crashed into the side of his car as he attempted to make the turn.

First thought to have suffered a fracture of the skull, the youth was taken to the Homoeopathic Hospital by L. Rosenbloom, 400 Kensington avenue, who was driving at the time. At the hospital, however, it was reported that his injuries were confined to bruises. He was treated by Dr. Mode.

Wilson MacDonald Addressed Pupils

Wilson MacDonald, noted Canadian poet, addressed pupils of Westmount High School on Tuesday, as part of a tour he is making in Eastern Canada with the objective of increasing the already growing interest in poetry on the part of the younger generation.

Mr. MacDonald was introduced by Principal Parker. He recited a number of poems, among them being "Whist-Wee," "Georgia," and "Song of the Sky." He concluded his recitation with "Monsieur Joliet."

He expressed his sincere belief that the youth of the country were more desirous of reading and understanding poetry than the older generation, and that that was one good reason why he so much enjoyed his high school tours. He also asserted with emphasis that no one under any circumstance should be compelled to memorize verse he or she do not like. This was met with a deafening spell of applause from the students. It took a full minute before the speaker could resume.

Mr. Wilson MacDonald, was born at Cheapside, Ontario. His first published poem appeared in the "Globe," Toronto, in 1898.

Hi-Y Grads Meeting Held On Tuesday

Opening Session Held—Ven. Archdeacon Gower-Rees to Address Group on Monday

The opening meeting of the Westmount Hi-Y Grads Club was held Tuesday. There was a record attendance of 65 boys.

Following the dinner the President addressed a few words of welcome to the new members, and outlined his policy for the coming year.

A general introduction was held, which afforded much enjoyment and laughter. Neil Compton, at the piano, then accompanied the boys in a rousing sing-song.

Frank Wilson addressed the club, urging the unemployed members of the club to leave their names with E. I. Taylor, Boy's Work Sec'y., who would do his best to place them.

Stewart Hamilton, the past president, addressed a few words to the club, and wished the present Executive great success in the coming year.

The president announced that the Ven. Archdeacon Gower-Rees was to be guest speaker on Thanksgiving night, Monday, October 10th, and urged all the members to be on time at 6.30 p.m. sharp.

Mrs. A. Paré Is President Of New Club

Westmount Women's Organization Held First Meeting in St. Leo's Academy

The newly-organized Catholic Mothers' Club of Westmount held its initial meeting in the hall of St. Leo's Academy last week when Mrs. A. Paré opened the session, as president, and Brother Merry Alphonse, director, outlined the objectives of the organization.

Brother Alphonse explained that the club would be of assistance to the mothers themselves by offering the means of furthering their own culture and informing them about the modern trends of education. The Club will also help the school by assisting the boys and the teachers in their several activities, and will co-ordinate the efforts of the home, the school and the church, making of the three, in the words of His Holiness Pius XI, "so as to say, one sacred temple of Education." The members, in time, will also extend their interest to welfare and social organizations.

The Rev. W. E. McDonagh, P.P. of the Ascension parish, after extending his congratulations to the members of the Committee for their zeal in sponsoring the club, reminded the mothers of their responsibilities as the first educators of their children. The work of the mothers can be supplemented only, not substituted, their influence on their children is a lasting one. He assured the mothers of his full support and approval in this new venture, accepted the invitation to act as their Chaplain, and brought a special blessing from His Grace Archbishop Gauthier.

An open discussion followed when the members expressed their views and offered suggestions for the benefit of the Club. Tea was served after the meeting. The members of the Committee are: Mrs. A. Paré, Pres.; Mrs. J. T. Rogers, Vice-pres.; Mrs. Milloy, Treas.; Mrs. W. J. Keating, sec.; Mrs. H. Bussiere, Mrs. R. Rolland, Mrs. M. Latendresse, Mrs. G. C. Cashin, Mrs. C. Reid, Mrs. J. W. Fox, Mrs. J. Hyde, Mrs. M. Shea, Mrs. G. Marshall, Mrs. V. Heney, and Mrs. E. D. Phelan.

ASSOCIATION TO MEET

The opening meeting of King's Westmount Home and School Association will be held next Friday afternoon in the club room at 4 o'clock. Tea will be served and plans arranged for the coming year.

Novel Luncheon Meeting Is Held By Rotary Club

A. W. Callard, Principal Speaker, Addressed Members on Vocational Service—Reporter Played Large Part in Session, Querying Rotarians in Mass-Interview Style

A principal speaker, a reporter, and three Rotarians who submitted to interviews by their fellow members with the newspaperman as spokesman, constituted the highlights of a novel luncheon meeting of the Westmount Rotary Club at Victoria Hall on Wednesday.

A. W. Callard, chairman of the vocational service committee, was the main speaker. He described vocational service as the adoption of Rotary principles to business and believed that therein Rotary could do much to raise the standards of commerce throughout the world.

"Rotary is a world-wide organization and is composed solely of business and professional men. By applying the ideals of the club to our business we can do much to avert the many troubles with which industry is always confronted," he said.

Business success was not only due to adequate equipment; it consisted most strongly in personal management, the speaker believed. Each individual must serve in the highest standards of Rotary and in this way would do his part in making the world a better place in which to live.

In order to better understand the occupations of their fellow members the Rotarians, following the address of Mr. Callard, assumed the guise of reporters and proceeded to interview Wilfred Buckley, Y.M.C.A. boys' work secretary, Cecil T. Medlar, bank manager, and Dr. F. M. A. McNaughton, Westmount municipal physician and practising doctor.

The Rotarians however, called on the service of a genuine newspaperman to act as their spokesman and John R. Sturdy, Gazette staff reporter and feature writer, was enlisted to fill the roll. In the meanwhile the remainder of the "newsmen" took down notes, mentally, as pencils were barred.

Sturdy first called upon Wilfred Buckley, whom he admitted knowing for some time and was there fore a comparatively easy subject. This was not always the case, he said.

To reply to questions Mr. Buckley revealed that he had been connected with the Y. M. C. A. for the past 18 years, practically all of that time having been spent in boys work. The "Y", he said had adapted itself greatly to changing world conditions. He cited the fact that it now included a number of activities for adults in its program and was doing a great deal of work in the unemployed field. Last year the Verdun branch, alone, was successful in placing 197 persons in positions.

"Along with gaining entrance into other fields formerly occupied solely by men, are women succeeding in forcing themselves into the Y.M.C.A.?" the reporter asked. To this Mr. Buckley replied emphatically in the negative. The "Y" was merely increasing its membership.

The versatility of the corps was demonstrated at the opening supper of the Y. M. C. A. membership campaign on Monday when the members presented a display of various statutory poses taken from the "Statuary of Youth."

The Women's Auxiliary of Shaar Hashomayim will hold their first general meeting of the season in the form of a Welcome Tea and Reception in honor of new members of the organization, on Wednesday, at 2.45 p.m., in the Auxiliary Room of the Synagogue, Cote St. Antoine Road, when Mrs. Gershon Levi will be the guest speaker.

Mrs. Edward Solomon, the president, will be in the chair and will outline the program for the coming season.

"Dictatorship" Methods In Teaching Are Scored

Dictatorship methods of administration at present in vogue in many of our tax-supported schools will, if persisted in, reduce both teachers and pupils to the role of mere puppets, Principal G. H. Penrose warned an audience of nearly three hundred parents and teachers at the opening meeting of the Roslyn Avenue Home and School Association, held in the school assembly hall Monday night.

The whole system of prescribed courses of study, prescribed text books, prescribed methods, and even prescribed behaviour, reflects he said, a distrust of the teacher, a distrust dating back to the days of the untrained teacher and no longer justified today.

Unlike his conferees in other democratic countries, the Canadian teacher tends still to be, in the words of Professor Fred Clark, whom the speaker quoted: "A minor official acting under orders, rather than a trained professional solving his own problem in the light of his own trained judgment. He is approximated too much to the postal clerk and too little to the lawyer or architect."

Vice-President R. B. Hall was in the chair, in the absence of the President, Mrs. Charters.

Among those who took part in the discussion following the address were A. Sydney Bruneau, K.C., a former president of the association, W. C. Nicholson, K.C., also a past president, and S. F. Kneeland.

The Association was formed three years ago to bring the Home and the School into closer relation and to promote the study of educational problems. Membership is open to parents of pupils attending Roslyn Avenue School and to residents of Westmount.

Those eligible are urged to join the Association and thus lend it their financial as well as moral support. Last year it was found possible by supplementing from several of its members, to engage an assistant supervisor for the children's athletics. It is hoped that with an increased membership the Association can take over the full support of this important work for which school funds are not available.

The recently elected executive committee for the 1938-39 term is as follows: Honorary President, Mr. C. A. L. Hibbard; President, Mrs. Gerald Charters; Vice-presidents, Mr. R. B. Hall, Dr. L. C. Montgomery; recording secretary, Mrs. Donald Baillie; corresponding secretary, Miss Elsie Dewey; treasurer, Mr. J. H. D. Ross.

THANKSGIVING

Canadians have much to be thankful for this Thanksgiving. Our crops are the best in years; our business has held up approximately to the level of two years ago in spite of the severe recession over the line; more employment has been found for our workmen; and we have been saved from a war that seemed certain just a few days ago. In spite of the misgiving many of us have that the "peace" will be short-lived, we can at least be thankful that the catastrophe has been postponed,—and, we can be doubly thankful that there are three thousand miles of water between this continent and Europe on one side of us, and a like protective expanse between us and Asia on the other. We can further be thankful that we have a great, peace-loving, friendly neighbour to the south of us, a people of the same blood and language as ourselves, a people who understand us, and whom we understand. Yes, we have plenty to be thankful for.

HUNTING SEASON OPENS

This is the time of year when outdoorsmen are busy cleaning their rifles and examining sleeping robes and tents preparatory to the annual trek into the north woods after deer and moose. This is also the time of year when outdoorsmen pop away at one another instead of at the game, and accidents are so numerous that one is sometimes inclined to wonder if the casualties among the deer and moose aren't less than among their pursuers. Autumn nights are cold, and a tent isn't the warmest place to sleep, and outdoorsmen have found that there are liquids more warming and stimulating than tea and coffee, but outdoorsmen need to be reminded at this time of year that such stimulants can make a man cast discretion to the winds and fire away at a hunter in a khaki coat in the belief that the target is a deer. If you are going hunting, take no chances at any time. Carry your gun with the muzzle to the ground always. Unload it as soon as you get into camp. Drink moderately. And be sure that what you are firing at is a deer or moose and not another hunter.

What Others Say

THE ANGLO-ITALIAN AGREEMENT

The continuance of war in Spain necessarily postpones the operation of the Anglo-Italian Agreement, which was concluded last April on the assumption that General Franco had virtually won. Events have since written their own comment on that, and it is now understood that Italy has recently sent more men and munitions to support Burgos—presumably in consequence of the recent unexpected offensive of the Republicans. This may, of course, enable Franco eventually to impose his will on Catalonia, and to reduce Valencia and Madrid, but it can hardly improve the road that runs from London to Rome via Paris. In that respect at least the international situation has deteriorated in the past month.—United Empire.

CHAMBERLAIN POLICY SUITS QUEBEC

There are various aspects of the Chamberlain policy of appeasement which may well appeal to Canadians. The agreement with Mussolini will undoubtedly ease the strain with regard to Quebec sectionalism, which is strongly pro-Italian and pro-Franco. Quebec policy is largely governed by Papal trends. Estrangement from Hitler, marked by the rapprochement of Britain and Italy, met with French-Canadian approval. The Chamberlain solution of the Irish problem, moreover, earns the plaudits of Quebec.—Queen's Quarterly.

The Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest

The Westmount Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest is run with the kind co-operation of Mr. Godel, manager of the Westmount Theatre. Each week twelve passes are given to the six lucky winners who comply with the following requirements:—

Simply find the two "ads." in the current issue of The Westmount Examiner in which the names of the two feature pictures being shown at the Westmount Theatre during the first half of the coming week are hidden.

Submit all answers to The Contest Editor, The Westmount Examiner, 2191 Hampton Avenue, using the special coupon provided in each issue for the purpose.

Contestants must be over 16 years of age. Residents of Westmount, only, are eligible. All answers must be in the office no later than Wednesday, and the names of the winners will be published in Friday's issue.

A convenient coupon will be found elsewhere in the paper. The winners are drawn from among those who submit the correct answers as unfortunately it would be impossible to give passes to every one submitting the right answers.

Only two contestants were successful in finding the correct Hidden Titles in last week's issue. Many incorrect answers were received and some with only one Hidden Title on the coupon. For those who might be curious, the Title, "The Toy Wife," was hidden in the Metcalfe Pharmacy ad. This week's winners were: Mrs. F. A. Penfold, 3125 St. Antoine St.; Miss Lucy Morand, 447 Strathcona Ave.

THE FORUM In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C.

The family is the basic social unit, and cities and nations are but its enlargements and extensions. The characteristics of a good family are those of a good society. A good family does not live by formal rules and external disciplines, or by force or cunning between its members, but by good-will, self-control, mutual respect and affection, by informal accommodation and adjustment, and by sharing opportunities and burdens. So it is also with a good society. If we can understand the family we can understand society, for societies and government-dictatorship, autocracy, disregard by the mob of individual dignity and of personal property, coalitions, intrigues, favoritism—all occur on a small scale in family life. On the other hand, every quality which adds dignity, strength and fitness to society and government has its origin in the family. Only one family in very many comes near to realizing the full possibilities of family life, yet those few families, and the more limited excellence of many others, are the basis of our hope for a good society. The quality which a few have achieved is a general possibility.—Arthur E. Morgan, former president of Antioch College and former Chairman of Tennessee Valley Authority.

There were all sorts of foolish ways of spending your money at Old Orchard. One ex-Toronto girl in white mortarboard offered to read handwriting for two bits; she was a sort of graphologist. I tossed five cents in the sand to the man who does 'arenaceous sculpture. Afraid he had not seen it, I told him about it. "That's all right, buddy, I siff that sand every morning!" he confided. There were all sorts of noisy devices in this all-mid-way town, and I enjoyed some of the sights a trifle, but really, I am not much of a sport in that direction. I think what interested me most were the faces and clothes on the humans. . . I saw more people who looked mean, who looked silly, and shallow, who looked as if life had licked them and they were tricking their way through this vale any way they could. I saw more who had given up the struggle, and who sought the opiate of amusement to dull the drab world of failure, than I have for a long time. Yes, you can laugh at Old Orchard, but ham psychologist though I am, I saw the sordid written on so many dials that I got the car out of the parking lot.—From "A Geography Lesson" by Austin F. Cross.

"THE CANADIANS"

The Story of a People, by George M. Wrong, Author of "A History of Canada to 1783," "The Rise and Fall of New France (2 vols.) etc., The MacMillans in Canada at St. Martin's House, Toronto.

Here is a popular history of Canada, written to be read, and not for use as a text-book. Professor Wrong is an eminent historian whose scholarship in the field of Canadian history is widely recognized. In this volume he tells, from its beginnings to the present, the story of "the Canadians" who share North America with the people of the United States, and hold its northern half, fronting on three oceans.

The story of the Canadians involves that of French Canada. It is a tale of adventure and sacrifice; of black-robed priests among savages; of gentlemen of France as explorers; of traders and missionaries founding forts and missions. There were the stately governor at Quebec with a society about him that copied Versailles; the ruling prelate; the intendant watching and checking the governor; above all, perhaps, the seigneur and the curé in the villages, fostering a French culture which to this day remains virile on the banks of the St. Lawrence.

Professor Wrong points out that English-speaking Canada is largely the child of the American Revolution. Loyalists forced into exile in Canada carried with them an intense devotion to the British monarchy. As time passed, however, the Canadians would not be ruled from London. This involved a long struggle, in the main peaceful, and by 1860 the Canadians were ruling themselves so completely that British ministers began to fear that Canada might involve them in some clash of war with the United States. Consequently Canada was told, so it was said at the time, that she "might go to the liberty to become separate republic, or monarchy, or to join the United States. In spite of such hints she chose to remain British. Just then Civil War in the United States warned the British colonies in North America of their weakness. Accordingly, in the four years, 1867-1871, they united to form the Dominion of Canada. In the Great War, Canada enlisted 15 per cent of her male population and won credit on European battle fields, which was one of the causes for a striking scene in London, a few years later. In 1776 resentful men had met in Philadelphia and made a Declaration of Independence, renouncing allegiance to George III. In 1828, another group of men, including leaders in the self-governing colonies, and ministers of the King in London, met and made a solemn Declaration of Equality, linked with Union, under their common sovereign, George V. The British Parliament renounced any authority over the colonies concerned. Thus Canada became a sovereign nation, with the freedom and independence that the United States secured only after a long Civil War. Such is the standing today of the Canadians.

The Frontispiece is a photograph of the Peace Tower at Ottawa. The front cover contains a map of Canada while on the back cover is a map of the Eastern Canada.

On page 72 there is a map of Huronia and on page 263 a scene of the war of 1812-14. There is a carefully prepared and useful index.

The 27 chapters are filled with authentic as well as fascinating material.

The letter press and substantial binding of this attractive volume are excellent examples of the book-maker's art.

EDUCATION - the right kind of education - represents the most valuable capital on which young people can draw in their adult years. Recognizing this fact, we limit our enrolment and use the INDIVIDUAL system of instruction, which enables our teachers, through a friendly and intimate contact with pupils, to discover their individual requirements and characteristics, and thus fit each pupil into the position best suited to his or her capacity. The exceptional success of our graduates during the past 30 years is thus explained. This year's class won the Great Gold Seal Proficiency Certificate, in a competition which brought together 30,000 shorthand writers from every quarter of the globe. Ask to see it. Early enrolment recommended. Only a limited number accepted.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA'S WAR MACHINE PREPARES TO RETURN TO STORAGE

With European war clouds dissolved, Czechoslovakia's excellent war machine which stood defiantly on the borders of the little Central European country just a week ago, is already being prepared to return to storage. Throughout the crisis, there was not a country in the world that underestimated the plucky army of the Czechs, which stood mobilized for the moment when the attack might come. Most of the large equipment has already been moved further inland, trenches have been abandoned, and men are preparing for more peaceful pursuits. At top left, a regiment of horse artillery climbs a mountain pass. A group of men, top right, cluster about a light rapid-fire gun, which the Czechs had in great numbers. At center left, a heavy howitzer is moved back, while, in center, a light fast-moving armored car laden with machine-guns and light artillery is moved. Lower left, a machine-gun outfit is on the march, while, lower right, the crew of a plane squadron is seen.

Goodyear Maintains Favorable Earnings

Toronto. — In a letter to shareholders of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. of Canada, Limited, accompanying dividend cheques for the third quarter of 1938, the President, A. G. Partridge, says: "The earnings of your Company, for the first three-quarters of the current fiscal year compare quite satisfactorily with those for the same period last year. Dividends have been fully earned on both Preferred and Common shares, after ample provisions have been made for depreciation obsolescence and the usual reserves. During this period our sales volume has been somewhat lower than last year, due to general business conditions which, we are happy to say, show signs of improvement and with the automobile manufacturers rapidly getting into production on their 1939 models, our sales volume should keep up very well during the last quarter of the year."

HOSPITAL RECORD IS ENVIABLE ONE, MEMBER ASSERTS

W. Allen Walsh, M.P., Urges Support of Homoeopathic Hospital Campaign

"In more than 5,000 maternity cases at the Homoeopathic Hospital in the last ten years, only one out of every 428 mothers has died," W. Allen Walsh, M.P., told a radio audience on Friday night in his appeal for generous support of the hospital campaign for funds.

"Think of what that means to mothers whose lives are equally as precious as the newcomers to this world, and then just compare those figures with others. For the whole of Canada the proportion is one in 94, and for the whole of Canada and the United States, including cases both in and out of hospitals, one in 177. What a magnificent record! What an achievement! What a credit to the Homoeopathic Hospital, and what a sense of relief to those interested in this particular department. If for no other reason, this campaign should meet with success when a hospital has such an enviable record in this one department of its work alone," Mr. Walsh continued.

"Do you know that within the last ten years the mortality rate in the Homoeopathic Hospital has been only 2.6 per cent—that is the average rate per year for the last ten years. Does that not re-assure? Does that not prove that hospitals are places in which people do get well? And it may surprise you to learn that the average stay of patients in the Homoeopathic Hospital, over a ten-year period, has been 10.5 days. And, now having had a very quick look into the Homoeopathic Hospital, let us consider a few more facts.

That hospital is serving in an area of approximately 100,000 people. Only a few years ago, when it was built, the population was 75,000. In other words, the population has increased 33-1-3 per cent. This has meant an increase in the hospital's work, but its facilities have not during that time been increased to meet this additional demand. Its facilities must be increased. Its equipment must be modernized. If $250,000 is obtained, the hospital will be able to continue its work on a scale made necessary by these increased demands."

Hi-Y Girls Addressed On "Scientific Eating" Boys Brigade Bible Class Opens Sunday

Westmount Hi-Y girls recently heard a very interesting and educational address by Mrs. Reid, dietician, who spoke on "Scientific Eating." The speaker held the attention of her listeners by relating many amusing incidents in her career. Mrs. Reid stated that the study of dietetics is a real profession and a science of interest and value, to aid the sick and protect the well.

Following the general meeting, new members were welcomed and plans for a speakers' committee were outlined. Miss Norma Neilson presided over the meeting.

Carillon For Fair In San Francisco Tried In England

San Francisco's Golden Gate International Exhibition of 1893 is to be rung in from the 400-foot "Tower of the Sun" at Treasure Island by a carillon of 44 English bells, cast and assembled at the foundry of Gillett & Johnston here. A pleasant sound that will be heard from what was heard by a party, including the Second Secretary of the American Embassy in London, David Williamson, which listened to the carillon being played for the first time by Miss Audrey Housman.

As the keyboard was not completed, a special framework was erected to enable the bells to be operated by hand. They weigh, altogether, 18 tons, the heaviest being the low G—a matter of 5½ tons—and the lightest the high G, only 12 pounds. Complete with frame, fitting and gear, the whole outfit totals 34 tons. The bells are suspended in six tiers on a framework 24 feet high.

The carillon is the gift of Dr. Nathaniel D. Coulson, who went out to San Francisco from Penzance in Cornwall, England.

"White Banners" Tells New, Absorbing Story

OF MASKS AND MIKES AND THINGS BY JACK HIRSHBERG

Jack Hirshberg, who is on a brief vacation, has asked Parkyakarkus, whom he met during his recent Hollywood sojourn, to be guest columnist this week. Parky's literary gem glistens below.

Dere Frans: Jack Hirshberg, who is the regular radium editor of this column is gone away for a week vacation so he send me a ladder and said, "Dere Parky, etc., we would like for you to having you be a guess columnist for one (1) and no days." So my frans here is my guess column.

So I sat down with my type writer in hand and b'liev me it was heavy. And I think to myself while my brains is rattling -- what shall I'm going to write about? G! wiz! etc. So suddenly I got inspiration! I think I will write about why I happen to come to California, Hollywood. An so, my friends, here is my story and if you don't b'liev it I'm don blame you because you know what a liar I am!

I was once ridding a book called U-Sap's Fables--Oh! this was long time ago--when I was small baby--Oh! it is most be about four five years ago--and I read in that book a story about Merry had a little lamb! It was a poen. I love poens but my mother (by marriage) is don't let me read poens because said it might affect my mind and make me intelligent. Bot one day my mother went out for the afternoon an the poen went like this: Merry had a little lamb, His fleas was white like snows, An evrywhere what Merry's gone, Then it had a last line, too bot the last line is don make no cents so I don't even bother with it.

Bot the first line Merry had a little lamb! Just think of that! It hit me like a thunder from the lightning! Yes! I shouted with a lull! Merry had a little lamb--so I will loose no time but take the next covered wagon for California, Hollywood. That is was my inspiration, dere ridders, and that is how I happen to come here.

And Just think! If I don rid that poen that day maybe I would never come to California and more than that!... who cares? Well, This is my guess column for today! I don think what I'll be here tomorrow. After ridding what is a bove I KNOW I won't be here tomorrow!

You frans, PARKYAKARKUS. Star In Suspension Ann Shirley has been suspended by the studio for refusing to play in "Law West of Tombstone." Jean Rouverol was given Miss Shirley's hole. Ann probably does not realize how foolish she has been in acting the way she did. Jimmy Cagney did the same thing a couple of years ago but Warners developed a new star in Wayne Morris. Last Spring Dick Powell indulged in a imilar walk-out forcing the studio to build up John Payne. A dozen similar instances could be cited.

STARDUST On and Off the Set By Morty Green

PODDEN MAH RUS'IAN ACCENT Norma Shearer is learning how to speak with a Russian accent for her new picture, "Idiot's Delight." The other day she went to lunch with Gregory Rattoff to digest a little of the famous comedian's St. Petersburgian lingo. A m o n g other things they ate "Bourscht."

Climb Upon My Knee Sonny Boy Ruby Keeler and Al Jolson may adopt another child in a couple of weeks at the Cradle.

Answer To a Quiz On one of the radio programs emanating from Hollywood they conduct a questionnaire between the employees of leading business organizations in the city. The other night two of the local markets were represented and the announcer was asking a young lady in what particular part of the market she was employed. "I work in the office," she said. "What do you do--bookkeeping or--?" "Both," was the reply.

Toupe or not Toupe On the "Peck's Bad Boy" set, Director Eddie Cline noticed that one of his cast was wearing a startled expression--and that it persisted in every scene. Finally he had his assistant investigate and the assistant after one searching look, doubled up. "The old boy got up in a hurry this morning," he reported. "He got his toupe on too tight again--and he just can't get his eyebrows down."

Warners are negotiating to purchase screen rights to the Joe Palooka comic strip. They intend to star Maxie Rosenbloom in the title role.

A man walked out of the Pantheatre the other evening after seeing "You Can't Take It With You." He remarked to his companion, "They copied most of that picture from a play I saw in New York."

Hepburn Selects Cary Grant For Pet Leading Man

When Katharine Hepburn chose Cary Grant as her co-star in "Holiday," which George Cukor was to direct, Hollywood sat up with a gasp. Miss Hepburn had, apparently, kicked over the traces of tradition!

Katharine Hepburn, in her six sensational years in the film capital, had upset a lot of traditions. But those had been Hollywoodian and Miss Hepburn was now bent upon destroying the legends she herself had created. Never before had Katharine Hepburn left her home lot to make a picture for another company! Never before had Katharine Hepburn played opposite the same leading man!

Cary Grant co-starred with Miss Hepburn in her recent comedy, "Bringing Up Baby." He's in "Holiday," the film now playing at the Snowdon United Theatre, because Miss Hepburn had so much fun playing comedy with him. And Miss Hepburn's in "Holiday," because she had always wanted to do the play.

John Barrymore was Katharine Hepburn's first leading man, in 1932, when the young stage actress started Hollywood for the first time with her brilliant artistry in "Bill of Divorcement."

In "Christopher Strong," her leading man was the late Colin Clive, of "Journey's End" fame. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., was cast opposite the scintillant star of "Morning Glory." Paul Lukas played the male lead opposite Hepburn in "Little Women." In 1934, Robert Young and Ralph Bellamy shared the honor of appearing opposite Hepburn in "Spitfire."

Errol Flynn hasn't got the tropic fever as was reported a while back. He is suffering from a bad attack of the flu. The studio probably wanted to remind you that Errol spent some time adventuring in South Africa. When he is well enough to resume screen work, the studio will cast him in "The Sea Hawk," which some of you will remember from the silent films.

INTERNATIONAL EXCHANGE In an international Boy Scout camping exchange, ten New York Scouts spent two weeks with Montreal Scouts at Camp Tamara--out this summer, and ten Montreal Scouts returned with them to spend two weeks at the New York City Scout camp at Ten Mile River, N.Y.

Warner Baxter Worked His Way At High School

Princeton and Yale may give sheepskins to their graduates but Cobblestone College turns its sons out into the world with hides of leather.

This star started out in the world fore-ordained to the necessity for hurdling the proverbial eight-ball. He was a half orphan before he was a year old.

After high school, young Baxter figured other men had done fairly well without square black hats and football letters, so he took his first steady job as a farm implements salesman.

Later, Warner shifted from farm implements to insurance policies. In between were other jobs and most notably he ran a garage.

And beneath all this was a consuming yen for the stage.

His battle with the stage is the story of every trial and tribulation that goes with starving, stock and the sticks. Movies eluded his grasp for years until Baxter was given his big chance in "In Old Arizona."

His performance as the Cisco Kid won the Academy Award. Warner is swashbuckling again in his newest 20th Century-Fox picture, the Darryl F. Zanuck production of Robert Louis Stevenson's "Kidnapped," now playing at the Monkland United Theatre. Freddie Bartholomew is co-featured with Baxter, whose leading lady is the sensational new star discovery, Arleen Whelan.

SCOUT DAY AT FAIR Plans are being discussed for a Boy Scout Day at the New York World's Fair next year. Boy Scout Day at the last Chicago World's Fair drew the fair's third largest attendance.

YANKS ROLL THEIR OWN TO WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS

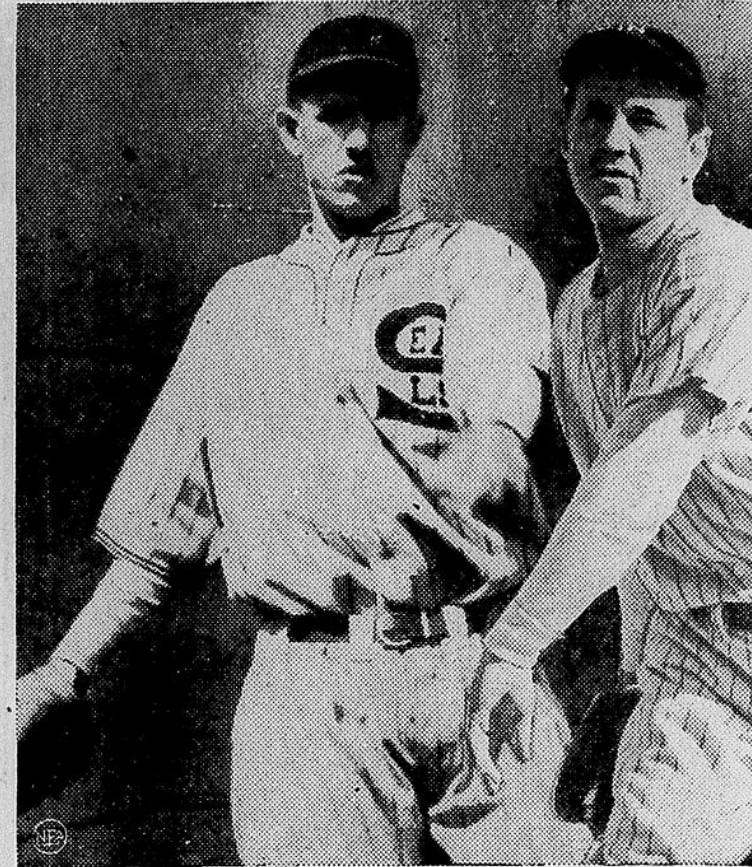

Frank Crosetti . . . kid and star

Joe DiMaggio . . . then and now

Lou Gehrig . . . at start and in stride

Lefty Gomez . . . peagreen and polished

The Yankees are the first 100 per cent home-grown organization in the history of major league baseball.

Col. Jacob Ruppert a year ago started the world series against the Giants with a club no member of which ever played with any other big league outfit.

The only change this trip is Joe Gordon at second base, and the world champions signed him while he was representing Jefferson High School of Portland, Ore.

Rogers Hornsby doubts that the Yankees ever will be beaten, and I will be as surprised as the Rajah when they are.

The reason is that they have the organization, the money, and the jump on the field. The only baseball company that can compete with them now is the St. Louis Cardinals, and they are wholesale dealers in ball players. Breadon, Rickey & Co. sell to remain solvent, Colonel Ruppert doesn't have to sell.

NO SEAL HAS FAILED

The backbone of the present Yankee machine came from the Pacific coast . . . Pitchers Vernon Gomez and Monte Pearson, the slick second basing combination of Frank Crosetti and Gordon, and the remarkable center fielder, Joe DiMaggio. Pearson alone performed for another major league club.

Gomez, Crosetti, and DiMaggio were purchased from the San Francisco Seals. A graduate of that baseball school . . . conducted by Prof. Charles Graham . . . has yet to fail to make good, and the fascinating city at the Golden Gate has sent up a long line of athletes.

William B. Dickey, the finest all-round catcher in the dodge and one of the grandest hitters, was brought up from Little Rock in 1928. His assistants, Joe Glenn and personable Arndt Jorgens, never have worn any other uniform but that of the Yankees. I doubt that even Joe McCarthy realized just how capable Glenn was until he caught that key series in Cleveland. From a receiving standpoint alone, Jorgens perhaps is the most accomplished catcher in the game today.

THEM AS HAS GITS

The Yankees took Pitchers Spurgeon Chandler and Johnny Murphy direct from the campuses of Georgia and Fordham, respectively. Chandler is one athlete whose baseball career wasn't ruined or hampered by football. He played in the backfield of the Athens teams that trounced Yale.

The Ruppert aggregation plucked Lou Gehrig right from the sidewalks of New York. Columbia Lou, who was raised on a Harlem fire escape, hasn't missed a game since Miller Huggins sent him in to pinch hit for Wally Pipp in June, 1925.

Red Rolfe forsook football at Dartmouth with his Yankee run-in mind.

George Selkirk was developed on the Newark farm. Myril Hoag came from Sacramento when John McGraw paid no heed to Mike Donlin's messages.

Colonel Ruppert outbid all others when Judge Landis declared Tom Henrich a free agent. And who do you suppose would have landed Bob Feller had the commissioner set the Iowa farm boy free? Them as has gits.

ST. LEO'S FOOTBALL SQUAD DOWNS CATHOLIC HIGH 10-2 IN INTER-SCHOLASTIC GAME

Game Marked Local School's First Venture in Senior League—Touchdowns Scored by Tom Browne and Paul Pare—Eddie O'Toole Has Misfortune to Fracture His Leg in Line-Play

If the spirit to overcome adversity is a mark of virile manhood then the St. Leo's team which beat Catholic High on Tuesday at the Westmount Grounds, has graduated already. St. Leo's football squad inaugurated both the opening of the Inter-Scholastic League and their first venture into Senior Company. Lacking in weight and experience, last year's City Intermediate Champions defeated their opponents by the score of 10-2.

Andy McGillis' team is still living up to their reputation, acquired last year, of clever opportunists. Their speed and lightning plays again and again proved that the modern High School football rules give a fighting chance to a lighter team while providing excellent entertainment for the enthusiastic crowd of spectators. Yesterday's game had but one jarring note. Eddie O'Toole of St. Leo's, had the misfortune to fracture a leg below the knee on a line-play.

Taking into consideration that it was St. Leo's first game of the season, the many fumbles and, at times, lack of timing can be leniently regarded. With more competition, the green-helmeted St. Leo's squad should round into a smart team—worthy successors to the fighting champions of last year.

Tom Browne and Paul Pare scored the touchdowns — the former on a 60 yard run which was made possible by clever deception — the latter on a line-plunge from 4 yards out. Tom Browne also carried the kicking and passing chores. With added practice and improved protection, he should be able to loft them far and high.

Outstanding for the winners were T. Browne, P. Pare, Jim O'Reilly, D. Browne and Jim Lellig. For the losers, Nower and Gilmore impressed.

St. Leo's play an exhibition game against Lower Canada College at Westmount Grounds this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Their juniors get their first baptism of fire on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock against Catholic High at the same grounds.

Westmount Jrs. will play host to Clear Point tomorrow afternoon at Westmount Athletic Grounds. . . will be shooting for second win of year. . . and it's pretty certain they will succeed, for the riverside boys were swamped by Rocklands 45-3. . . last week at Valois, our boys took the measure of the lakeshore team by a 7 to 0 count. . . Jerry Gilbride played smart football and was easily the star of the tilt. . . Eric Fleet at snap played a steady game—he played all of 60 minutes without relief. . . team is looking forward to game with Rocklands. . . they regard the west-end boys the team to beat. . . fumbles massed last Saturday's contest. . . but Andy McGillis has been stressing handling of ball during this week's sessions and fumbles are likely to come far and in between. . . squad now down to 28 men. . . only 24 allowed to dress.

St. Leo's inaugurated their 1938 football season in Senior Company by dowing Catholic High 10-2. . . a casualty took away the spark of victory when Eddie O'Toole was set down with a broken leg. . . It was Eddie's first year with the team and great things were expected of the hefty lineman. . . Tom Browne's 65 yard run for a touchdown was the highlight of the game. . . Nantel and Millette were the blackbones of the linemen while Hughie Wady at end impressed with his tackling. . . wide-open football was the order dished out by both sides.

It is expected that the Academy squad will face L.C.C. this afternoon at Grounds. . . It just looks as if this isn't a Westmount High year. . . the seniors dropped a game to Montreal 11-7 on Monday and

Play To Health Through EXERCISE

BY HUGH A. NOBLE

Although the summer vacations are over, and with that the passing of most of our water activities, never the less throughout the winter there will be thousands of children who will be swimming in the various pools in the city. And because I, personally, feel that swimming — besides being one of the very best forms of exercise — offers such a variety of relaxation and enjoyment, this article will be devoted to that subject.

Often I have heard people say, "well why learn to swim, when I can be devoting my hours to other leisure-time hobbies and interests?" But it is quite apparent in recent years there has been observed in the various educational institutions a distinct tendency for the youth to indulge in those activities which have a "carry-over" value, such as swimming, golf, tennis, etc. These sports have distinct social and recreative values both in youth and in middle age.

It is only natural for one to enjoy the activities that he can perform skilfully, and under these conditions the satisfaction and enjoyment is far more complete. The proficient hand-ball player accomplishes two objectives when he plays; he not only gets a good 'work-out' but he thoroughly enjoys his game from a recreative point of view. The same thing may be had in swimming, but only after the skill of the individual has reached a certain degree which will make his swimming a pleasant recreation.

For years swimming has led the field as the most desirable as well as the most beneficial form of exercise. From a conditioning point of view it develops the muscles, nerves, heart, lungs, and general organic efficiency; and from a hygienic point of view it is equally as important; swimming educates the participant to the habit of taking baths, and here (as is the case in our pools), where supervision is adequate — the opportunity is presented to learn various forms of basic hygienic facts, such as care of feet, hair, eyes, etc. And where competition is involved there is the likelihood of education through diet, sleep, etc.

Swimming has a very definite psychological approach; it develops in the individual participant, particularly the youth, courage, (first attempt to swim, his first drive, etc.), mental control, mental relaxation, poise and coordination. And through this field of acquiring skill, the swimmer unknowingly is acquiring confidence. From a very personal point of view, the more progress one makes in swimming the more he is protecting personal and public safety. Swimming exercises the large fundamental muscles of our body. There is no single exercise that accomplishes the same all around development as does swimming; a bit of Barney to their appearance against Cath. High. . . trotted out is green head-gears. Johnny Thorbur w appointed captain of Junior squad preceding last Saturday's struggle. . . Don't tell anybody I told you but Smoky put his money on Cubs in the world's baseball classic. . . It's a hot tip if it's not too late. . .

and in so doing, it tends for general body development. The leg kick in the crawl stroke has a marked effect on the abdominal and lower back muscles. The arm movements develop the chest and upper back, and through swimming our lungs are unusually developed. At the same time we have a general loosening and relaxing condition, permitting the full even development of our posture.

Y at 2 for a Treasure hunt.

Juniors had a splendid turnout on the gym and swim on Tuesday and this afternoon at 4 they go on the gym again with Mr. John Pearson. Supper will be served in the club room at 6 p.m. followed by a sing song and special program. The Finals in the Table tennis tournament will be played at 7.30. At 8 basketry, fretwork, leatherwork, model airplanes and swimming club will call the boys to several parts of the building for a worthwhile hour or more of creative recreation.

Membership Campaign is in full swing with every member trying to bring in a member. The team captains need the hard work of every team member on his team and in order to get our whole objective we need the help of every member in the 'Y'. The boys a 'divided into Carpenters and Painters with five captains in each divis'. Preps George Penrose and Paul Kenwood; Juniors Ramsay, Brown and Ken Lindsay; Intermediate, Hugh Fraser and Ken Lindsay.
