Fifty-seventh Year

World News In Brief

Lexington, Ky. — (AP) — A permit was granted Thursday for construction of a 20-room motel for dogs and cats. Each guest will have his own room measuring four by six feet with private entrance and window. The windows will be low enough to afford the clientele a view of the countryside — even dachshunds.

London — (Reuters) — The coupon system under which overseas visitors have been able to buy clothes in Britain tax-free will end this year. Tailor and Cutter, self-styled arbiter of men's fashions, announced today. Government disappointment at the lack of response to the plan was blamed.

Tokyo — (AP) — A bus planged off a cliff 20 miles north of Hiroshima today killing 10 persons and injuring 25.

Raleigh, N. C. — (AP) — Attorney-General Harry McMillan has ruled a newspaper doesn't have to deliver papers to a would-be subscriber. The Asheville Citizen-Times stopped deliveries to M. M. Matthews, who insisted his paper be put on the porch instead of in his less-convenient mailbox. Matthews sought a ruling. The attorney-general said he thought Matthews could "protect his interests" by purchasing his paper at a newsstand.

The teacher had lectured on Communism, Fascism and Nazism. Turning to one of the bright pupils, she asked: "Johnny, what would you do with these isms?"

Came the prompt reply: "I'd make them all wasms!"

Princess Anne Is 3 Thursday

Ballater, Scotland — (AP) — Britain's most popular little girl, Princess Anne, will be three years old Thursday, and in the kitchens of Balmoral Castle a pastry cook is whipping up a pink-and-white cake.

She will be expected to gather together her deepest breath, and blow out three candles with one mighty puff. She will be encouraged in this enterprise by distinguished spectators — her mother, the Queen; her father, the Duke of Edinburgh; grandmother Queen Elizabeth, brother Prince Charles, and her aunt, Princess Margaret.

Princess Anne, say her friends of the Royal family, is ceasing to be a baby, and is becoming a personality.

"She is going to be an outstanding beauty," said the London Star with emphatic certainty.

She has no nickname. The Queen doesn't like nicknames, so the little princess is just Anne.

She seems, at this stage, to prefer dolls' toys, tin soldiers instead of boys. She likes dogs.

It's grand weather in Scotland, fine for playing in the sand.

Anne likes to respond to salutes, and is confident that one puff will be enough for those three candles.

Britain, U.S. Split Over India's Place At Conference

United Nations, N. Y. — (AP) — Both Britain and the United States stood their ground today in a split over the proposed seating of India at the forthcoming Korean political conference.

Indian sources conceded, however, that the United States appeared to have the most support among the 16 countries trying to work out a joint proposal on the composition of the conference.

Britain and Canada both feel strongly that India should be among those chosen to represent the world organization at the parley. Most of the others were reported either indifferent or on the side of the United States.

The final decision, however, will be made by the 60-country general assembly, convening here Monday.

Chief U. S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr. brought the split into the open Thursday night, saying the UN should be represented only by countries which fought for it in Korea.

That would bar India, which sent only a medical unit.

Lodge insists the U. S. has nothing against India, but feels the armistice agreement made it clear the UN should be represented by countries who had armed forces under its flag.

British officials declined to comment, but they were understood to feel strongly that both India and Russia should sit at the conference.

The British government is reported to believe that India, in view of her close contact with Communist China and the fact she drafted the UN resolution on which the Korean armistice was based, would be a constructive force in the parley Britain also feels that exclusion of Russia would be "unrealistic."

Bitter Labor Struggle In France Keeps Millions Idle As More Workers Quit Jobs

East Coast Is Lashed By Hurricane

Norfolk, Va. — (AP) — Hurricane B-for-Barbara whistled northward along the Virginia coast today after hammering the North Carolina coast throughout the night.

Hurricane warnings were displayed along the coast from the Nags Head-Maneto area in North Carolina to Cape May, N.J.

The Washington weather bureau said the hurricane will reach southern New Jersey by afternoon. It was centered in the Norfolk area early today, moving northward about 14 miles an hour.

Its gales extended outward 140 miles. Winds of 80 miles an hour were reported at the center.

The bureau warned against dangerous winds and high tides along the Virginia coast northward to New Jersey.

Winds up to 90 miles an hour were reported in North Carolina. At least one man was killed and five more were reported injured.

Power and communication lines were torn down, trees uprooted and broken, roofs and signs blown away. High tides and torrential rains flooded streets, highways and basements.

Forewarned, however, residents batted down everything that could be evacuated the most dangerous areas and braced for the blow. Damage, as a result, was relatively light. Much of the North Carolina area swept by the storm is sparsely populated.

The long, sandy beaches from Wilmington to Kitty Hawk were packed with vacationers when the storm was reported. There was no general evacuation order, but thousands moved inland before the hurricane struck.

Houston Jernigan, 46-year-old, was blown off a fishing pier by fringe winds near Wilmington and carried out to sea.

Boatswain's mate Dudley Lewis, skipper of a Coast Guard boat trying to rescue Jernigan, was thrown overboard by churning waters through his boat's windshield and was taken to hospital.

There were narrow escapes, too. Concrete blocks nicked the heels of a couple fleeing from their trailer when a 60-foot-long wall at the Morehead City yacht basin was blown flat. The trailer and several automobiles were smashed.

The strongest wind—an estimated 90 miles an hour—struck Cape Hatteras and Cherry Point. Elsewhere 70 miles was reported near the peak.

The 398-foot Norwegian tanker Marna was out of control and directly in the storm's path some 22 miles southeast of Cape Lookout, N. C., but a Coast Guard cutter reported later the vessel apparently weathered the storm.

Strike Spreads To Civilian Workers In Arsenal, Army Hospitals And Quartermaster Outfits.

Paris — (CP) — France settled down today to a bitter struggle between striking labor and economy-minded premier Joseph Laniel. With millions already off their jobs, the walkouts spread to civilian workers in the arsenals, army hospitals and quartermaster outfits.

Only 80,000 workers were involved in the 24-hour walkout at the military installations, but they dramatized the union's determination not to stop until Laniel abandons plans to trim government payrolls and up the retirement age for the civil service.

With no end in sight, the railroads were still paralyzed, gas and electricity service diminished and the communication system tied in knots.

Employees in these and other government services—more than 1,000,000 workers—were out for an indefinite period. Their ranks were swelled Thursday by more than 3,000,000 others in numerous activities—public and private—who quit for 24 hours to support the civil servants' demands.

But Thursday's response to the strike call was only partially effective, indicating the wave might have reached its peak. Banks and insurance companies remained open, as did government offices. The stock market functioned. So did most other private businesses, though all have been slowed by the lack of communications. Only in the metal working industries was the strike generally effective.

There still was no sign of any move to end the walkouts. The salaried unions already have widened their demands to include a call for a general wage increase. And Laniel, a millionaire textile manufacturer, insisted he would not be pressured into revoking his cost-cutting decrees. The government made no step to negotiate.

New walkouts threatened. Newspaper workers were ordered out for 24 hours on Monday. The committee building trades union met to discuss a strike of its members.

The unions continued a tie-up at the Paris subway and bus system into its third day. One independent union balked at the conjunction and a few subway trains operated. But Parisians had to depend mostly on taxis and nearly 1,000 army trucks which continued to haul civilians about the city.

A few trains also were running but most had few passengers. The public no longer dared to travel for fear of being blocked in small villages, short of their destinations by sudden walkouts.

France's coal mines were almost deserted. Garbage littered the streets of many cities. Red Cross volunteers carried caskets at funerals and housewives grumbled as they tried to cook meals over weak gas flames.

A gasoline famine threatened to intensify transport tie-ups and bring overworked buses and trucks to a standstill. Garages said they had received no new gasoline deliveries for several days.

This week should have seen the big annual vacation rush of French city-dwellers to the coast. Last year 639,000 Parisians left the capital from Aug. 12-16.

But today the trains stood silent in stations and on sidings. Most of the 350,000 railroad workers are on strike.

Okinawa Faces Typhoon Threat

Naha, Okinawa — (AP) — A raging typhoon with winds of 184 miles an hour bore down on this great U. S. base in the western Pacific today.

The forward edge of the howling storm, one of the wildest ever recorded in the part of the world, was about 200 miles southwest of this island and was expected to hit Saturday morning.

Already angry gusts whipped across air base runways and some B-29 Superforts took off for safer waters.

Freedom Is Anniversary Gift For Canadian

By BILL BOSS (Canadian Press Staff Writer)

In Korea. — (CP) — A grinning, red-headed Canadian soldier today celebrated his seventh wedding anniversary as well as his first day of freedom from a Red prison camp.

Pte. Thomas E. Rothwell, 27, of Dundas, Ont., third Canadian to be exchanged at Panmunjom, and eight Americans repatriated with him were classed as sick or injured, but none was a litter case.

Medical officers said Rothwell reported stomach trouble recently but said that superficially his condition appears good although he is suffering understandably from nervous excitement.

The first thing he will do on arrival at Britannia Camp is send a message to his wife, Marion, over Army cables.

Rothwell was captured on the night of Oct. 23 last year during the epic battle of the 1st battalion of the Royal Canadian Regiment in defence of Little Gibraltar.

Power Plan Opponents Are Silent

By JOHN LEBLANC (Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa — (AP) — The chances of a fast start on the St. Lawrence seaway-power project will be determined today.

This is the deadline for the filing of any court appeals against granting of a power licence to New York state, and none is in prospect.

If New York gets the licence from the United States federal power commission, it will join Ontario in building the $450,000,000 hydro development, and the $300,000,000 navigation works will go ahead concurrently.

As the situation stands now, officials here believe Canada will build the navigation works alone and on the Canadian side of the river, which the Canadian government wants. Congress at its recent session failed to act on bills providing for U.S. participation in the canals.

Government officials here consider that, should New York get its power licence now, both phases of the big job can be in high gear by next spring. Preliminary work is under way and would be stepped up from now on.

There has been some surprise in government quarters that U.S. seaway opponents—railways and some other interests—have not launched court action against the FPC's announced intention of granting New York the licence to share in the 2,200,000-horsepower hydro development on which the whole seaway project hangs.

One move by a private New Jersey power organization, based on preliminary action by the FPC, already has been thrown out by the New York Court of Appeals.

Canadian officials had expected that further opposition might develop in the U.S. courts today, but informants said the government—with representatives in Washington watching developments closely—had received no hint of impending action.

It was learned also that the Canadian government has received no suggestion from the Eisenhower administration that it delay action to give the U.S. a chance to get in on the navigational end of the job in the international rapids section of the river.

Earlier this summer, the U.S. administration approved limited federal participation by that country in the construction of the canals and other shipping facilities.

That would have involved their laying out between $90,000,000 and $100,000,000 on the U.S. side of the river while Canada spent about double that amount on facilities in down-stream Canadian territory.

The government here would prefer to take over the whole operation. For Canada, this would have the advantage of putting all the shipping facilities in Canadian territory, and also eliminating objections that might be thrown up by sectional blocs in Congress.

The additional cost of an all-Canadian seaway gives no worry in Ottawa. The project is intended to be self-liquidating. It would be financed by bonds paid off over about 40 years through tolls on shipping using the seaway. Most of the tolls would come from U.S. ships.

Prisoners Got Reasonable Care

Britannia Camp, Korea — (AP) — A Canadian medical officer examining returned Commonwealth prisoners said Thursday he had discovered no evidence of Communist treatment of war prisoners which was detrimental to their health.

Col. J. McCannell of Victoria, reaffirmed an earlier opinion that Commonwealth prisoners had been treated "with reasonable care and given decent medical attention."

About 300 Commonwealth prisoners have been processed at Britannia Camp.

"The last few days the men have been a little thinner," McCannell conceded, "but they are healthy. A few broken bones will have to be reset, but then the Communists did not have X-ray equipment."

GREEK EARTHQUAKE — This family of Cephalonia, Greece, survey the wreckage of their home after an earthquake reduced it to rubble. A series of quakes has hit the Greek coast for days, leaving hundreds dead and injured. (NEA Radio Telephoto)

Fresh Earthquakes Add To Death Toll On Greek Isles

Patrai, Greece — (AP) — Modern Greece's worst disaster today continued to give up its dead and injured in uncounted numbers as fresh earthquakes brought new landslides, fire and misery to three small Ionian islands.

Air-sea rescue units and supplies from many countries converged on the devastated islands of Zakynthos, Kefallinia and Ithaca. There still were no definite figures on the total number of casualties.

The Greek government said the death toll may reach 1,000 but an American observer who flew over the stricken areas said Thursday that all casualty figures "appear to underestimate the situation."

Rescue workers counted more than 400 dead in only two communities.

Hundreds of other persons were injured and almost all the 120,000 population was homeless, many without food or water.

Islanders and thousands of rescue workers spent another night of terror as 11 more earthquake shocks rocked the Ionian Sea area.

Survivors subsisted on greens and roots from their ruined garden plots.

American and British sailors are working non-stop alongside Greek troops and rescue squads to bring food, water and medical supplies to the islands.

Most of the 2,000 or more injured were being treated in makeshift tent hospitals and in the open. Many, however, were brought to this mainland port, the nearest large Greek city.

Fires still raged through towns and villages on the stricken islands 50 miles off the west coast of Greece. Smoke and dust from huge landslides towered above their rocky hills.

Ships, planes and emergency supplies of food and medicine flooded in at the disaster scene from at least seven countries.

The Canadian Red Cross announced that an emergency supply of 250 cases of clothing stored in Geneva, Switzerland, is en route to the islands.

Mexico City — (AP) — The government seismograph observatory reported it registered an earthquake of "moderate intensity" about 750 miles away at 6:10 a.m. EDT Thursday. It said the epicentre was probably in El Salvador.

Turin, Italy — (AP) — A light earthquake jarred the outskirts of Turin Thursday night causing widespread panic but no damage.

P.O.W. Lauds Chinese Doctor

By DON MATHESON (Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Vancouver — (AP) — An anonymous Chinese doctor received high praise early today from the first Canadian prisoner of war to return home since the Korean armistice.

Handsome, tanned, 26-year-old Cpl. James A. Pelletier of Chatham, Ont., flashed a happy grin as he stepped back onto Canadian soil just after midnight following a flight from Tokyo by commercial airplane.

Wounded in both legs and an arm by shell fragments and burp gun bullets when captured May 2, Cpl. Pelletier had fragments removed from his legs by the Chinese doctor.

"I had complete confidence in him," he said.

"The Chinese medical facilities were limited compared to our own, but if he was working under the conditions ours did, he would have been one of the very best."

Cpl. Pelletier, nervous as he faced a battery of reporters, photographers, newsmen and television cameras, spoke first into a radio microphone in the press room, and then suddenly turned and sat down.

Rubbing his left leg, he said a wound there had not yet healed after becoming infected before field dressings were changed for the first time 10 days after he was captured.

In five months the former taxi-driver crummed in enough action to last a lifetime.

Arriving in Korea March 22, he was 21 days in the line until the night of May 2. A section commander, he was alone in his trench when what seemed like "hundreds of Chinese came over our position."

"I know I killed four who came into my trench. Then I was wounded and three Chinese grabbed me and took me into a valley."

"There were nine other Canadians there. They banded my wounds and we walked back through our own barrage through the Chinese lines."

The next day, his muscles stiffened from the wounds. He was taken to a camp behind the lines on a stretcher. Later, he was moved to a camp near the Yalu river and then to a hospital outside the camp for his operation.

He didn't see any of the nine Canadians again after he began his walk through the Chinese lines.

While in hospital, he chatted with the only Canadian he saw until he returned to South Korea.

Cpl. Pelletier said Gnr. Orville J. Jenkins of Hamilton and Toronto visited the hospital to see some American friends and that he talked with Jenkins for 20 minutes. He didn't see him again during his three months and two days in captivity.

"I don't know how Jenkins could visit the hospital," he said, under questioning from reporters.

Jenkins, the second Canadian released by the Reds, now is in Tokyo preparing to fly home.

"We had a pretty good time in hospital," he said. "The rest of the fellows, mostly American and British, would have sing-songs and so on."

"I no time, he said, was his group forced to take "political studies" although there was "plenty of propaganda."

While in the "MIG Alley" hospital, Cpl. Pelletier said the prisoners saw vapor-trails lacing the sky from a jet dog-fight but that it was too far away to keep score.

Anxious to get home he will spend a day in military hospital before a check-up before continuing east by air.

"My wife phoned me in a camp near Tokyo last night, but I don't remember much—I was too excited. All I can remember is my wife saying,

Conflict Over Prisoners Grows; Canuck Is Freed

Panmunjom — (AP) — Pte. Thomas E. Rothwell, of Dundas, Ont., the third Canadian to be released under the armistice, and 405 other Allied troops including 84 Americans rode eagerly from Red captivity today but the great Korean prisoner exchange was shadowed by angry charges of prisoner hold-outs on both sides.

Rothwell, 27, a member of the 1st battalion of the Royal Canadian Regiment, was captured Oct. 23, 1952.

The first Canadian to be released was Cpl. Joseph Pelletier of Chatham, Ont., who was freed in the first prisoner exchange Aug. 4. He was on his way home by commercial plane from Vancouver.

The second Canadian, Gunner Orval Jenkins of Toronto and Hamilton, was released Sunday. He is in Tokyo where he will stay for a few days before flying home.

Both the Reds and the UN accused each other of holding back prisoners entitled to go home.

On the Allied side, there was an apparent conflict between Korean and Washington sources whether all eligible Chinese POWs already had been freed.

Returning Allied POWs have said some UN prisoners left behind were jailed on phoney Red charges. There has been no official report of the number.

U. S. State Secretary Dulles yamed the Reds to send back every Allied prisoner and threatened to hold back some communist POWs as a safeguard against any Red holdouts.

The Reds' Peiping radio in turn charged Dulles with "blackmail" and accused the Allies of illegally holding out 120 Chinese. Peiping said it has a right under the Geneva convention to hold back any Allied prisoners charged with an "indictable offence."

But the U.S. state department denied the Red charge and said the truce agreement specified that all POWs who want to return must be sent back with no exceptions.

The tense debate was snarled further by conflicting reports whether all Chinese who want to go home have been returned to the Reds at Panmunjom.

The UN command said Thursday that its shipment of 222 Chinese that day was the last delivery of 5,495 Chinese scheduled to return.

However, Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens stepped from his plane in Washington after a Korean visit and said 250 Chinese Reds involved in crimes during their captivity might be held back. He said he understood that not all eligible Chinese POWs had been repatriated.

Asked to explain the apparent conflict, a UN spokesman said the POW situation and all related matters have been reported to "high authority in Washington."

He said any comment would have to come from Washington.

ors attended the August meeting of the W.I. held at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Maynes, at Waterloo. Mrs. C. Mairs presided and opened the meeting with the recital of the Club Women's Creed. Minutes were read by Mrs. Martin with the financial report being given by Mrs. Sicard. The sum of $20 was voted towards prizes for the Junior W.I. fair, to be held on August 28. Plans were made to assist with the luncheon being held in Granby on August 27, when several delegates from the A.C. W.W. convention will be entertained. A contest on the most attractively folded paper serviette was held. Mrs. D. Martin and Mrs. Barnes won the prizes. A sale of miscellaneous articles was held. This netted $8.65. Following the adjournment, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Courtemanche, Mrs. Marcotte, Mrs. H. Jones and Mrs. Barnes.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wing are spending a holiday in Ontario. Mrs. Cameron and Mrs. Bloomfield, of Bolton Centre, were visiting Mrs. Gordon Cousens.

Mr. L. A. Kenyon and Mr. Lloyd Kenyon, of Montreal, spent a day with Mrs. Kenyon, who is in Waterloo owing to the illness of her mother, Mrs. E. M. Perkins.

Mrs. H. C. Wallace spent a day with Mrs. H. E. Wallace, in Magog.

Mrs. A. J. Buckland was home from Lake Lyster, to attend the play featured by the "Brae Manor" players at Knowlton.

After enjoying a holiday at Bromo Lake, Knowlton, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Betrix and Miss Madeleine Betrix, of Montreal, spent two days at the National Hotel, Waterloo, in order to visit Mrs. W. N. Bennett.

Mr. Kenneth Ashton, of Montreal, has been spending his two weeks' holidays here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ashton.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lewis and son, Alan, of Milton, Ont., visited Mr. and Mrs. Croft Caw. On their return they were accompanied by Mrs. Caw, who will be their guest for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lewis, of Cowansville, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. Lewis.

Mrs. Isabel Peever and son, James, Miss Clara Hill and Mr. Bennett, of Seven Bridge, Ont., were guests of Miss Annie McGovern and Mr. J. McGovern, and called on several other friends.

Veteran E.T. Railwayman Retires Today After 42 Years' Service

Montreal, August 14 — "A little fellow, two young to run these big trains," retired from the Canadian National Railways today after 42 years of service as a conductor.

The little fellow — height, five feet, four inches, weight, 145 pounds — is Wilfrid Hutchison Gordon, who has a million-mile railway career over Quebec routes to his credit.

Being called a "little fellow" by a woman passenger 10 years his junior this year is a compliment for the spry, 65-year-old conductor. But during the past eight years on the Montreal-Nicolet-Victoriaville line, conductor Gordon has been called an old man, too, by a centenarian on his line who refuses help getting on and off the train.

"I always offer a hand, and he always says the same thing: 'I'm younger than you are. When I need your help I'll ask for it.'"

Mr. Gordon has one daughter, but during the war years, he found himself the father of some 450 young girls working at the Fairchild's Aircraft plant at Longueuil. He served as conductor on the special train service to the plant from Montreal from 1942 to 1945.

And he still remembers his young charges. Staying in a Montreal hotel last week-end, he insisted on taking his wife to restaurants where "his girls" work now as waitresses.

Mr. Gordon considers his extra-duty chores during the past 42 years as part of the job of being a conductor. He has been known to arrange transportation by private car for forgetful passengers, who have not followed his instructions. "It's funny," comments Mr. Gordon, "you can talk yourself hoarse telling people what to do, but they always end up following the man in front of them." In this particular instance two matrons followed the man in front of them from St. Lambert to St. Johns. But Mr. Gordon had the two ladies driven back to his train at St. Lambert in the private car of one of the St. Johns' passenger agents, so that they could continue their trip to Sorel.

He has had his share of lost articles. On his run to Sorel one day he noticed a purse left behind by one of his passengers at St. Lambert. There was some $6,000 in that purse. Mr. Gordon phoned back to the operator in St. Lambert, who in turn phoned the young woman who owned the purse. "We got in touch with her, before she even missed the purse," said Mr. Gordon.

One of his regular extra-duty chores on the Nicolet run was feeding a bottle of pop to a three-year-old bear at Boucherville. "That bear was always standing up at the fence as soon as he saw the train coming."

Wilfrid Gordon was born at Danville, Quebec, on September 3, 1889. He graduated from public school at Danville, and worked on his father's farm there, and at the age of 19 joined the railway as a brakeman with the Grand Trunk Railway, eastern division.

He became a yardman at Pt. Levis in March, 1909, and in the same year transferred to Richmond, Quebec, as a brakeman. He was promoted to conductor in 1911.

He worked out of Richmond on the Richmond-Quebec City run for the next 25 years. During that period, in 1913, he was married to a young woman who was born at New Westminster, British Columbia, but had lived all her life in Richmond, Que.

"Those were the days," says Mrs. Gordon, "when I had to pack a two-day lunch for Wilfrid when he went on his run to Quebec City. There were no restaurants open there by the time he had his lunch hour."

Following his work on the Richmond-Quebec City run, Mr. Gordon served on the Montreal to Cochrane, Ontario, route, and also on the Transcontinental lines. In 1942 he began service on the C.N.R. trains to the Fairchild's Aircraft plant at Longueuil from Montreal. In 1945 he was assigned to the Montreal-Nicolet-Victoriaville run.

For the past eight years, Mr. Gordon and his wife have lived in Montreal, but now they plan to move to Saskatoon where their daughter is.

When Mr. Gordon arrived at Central Station this morning after completing his last run from Victoriaville and Nicolet, he was presented with a cow-hide valise and a cheque by his fellow workers. Mrs. Gordon was presented with a rose bouquet. And there were handshakes for conductor Gordon from his regular passengers as they stepped off the train.

So armed, the two walked to their hotel where they are spending a few days before leaving for Saskatoon.

"Why, it's just like another honeymoon," said Mrs. Gordon to Mr. Gordon.

Boundary Club To Hold Auction, Supper Tomorrow

Rock Island, Aug. 14 — The Welcome Club met at the Club house at Beebe Plain the evening of Friday, August 7, with Miss Mae Bean conducting the business session. There was an attendance of eleven members, and reports were heard from the secretary and treasurer.

The president reminded the members that those who want to go to 4-H camp the week-end of August 28-29 must register with Mrs. Rudolph Bean before or on August 21, so that plans can be made for accommodation.

Definite plans were to have the auction at the club house the afternoon of August 15, starting at 2 o'clock, rain or shine, with a baked bean supper to start at five o'clock and to continue until all are served.

It was reported that repairs to the club house roof are progressing as planned. The next meeting will be held on August 21 with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cote and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones acting on the lunch committee.

Following adjournment of the meeting refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. P. Pecteau and Miss Bean.

Local Airman Goes To France

Montreal, Aug. 14 — Aircraftsman First Class Jean-Guy J. Fournier, 21, of Sherbrooke, has been transferred to No. 2 RCAF Fighter Wing based at Gros Tenuin, France, where he will be employed in the Armament Section, RCAF Air Transport Command announced today.

He departed for France on an RCAF North Star aircraft from Dorval airport, near Montreal, on Monday, making the journey across the Atlantic via Labrador and Iceland.

His parents are presently residing in Sherbrooke.

City Budget To Be Tabled In November

An important revision of municipal financial practice is envisaged in Sherbrooke, according to information in City Hall circles.

The practise of tabling the annual budget as late as April of this year for which the estimates are prepared will be abandoned and in the future they will be submitted in November of the preceding year. Thus the figures for 1954 will be presented to the Council during November 1953.

The former system had certain major disadvantages in that important projects had to be delayed until the department concerned found out how much money would be available or as an alternative the Council found that much money had been spent or that it was committed to certain major expenditures before the budget was presented.

Under the new system, these expenditures would be avoided and a truer picture of the revenues and expenditures for the coming year could be prepared.

Local Council Meets Monday

A special session of the Sherbrooke City Council has been called for Monday afternoon to consider and approve an extended list of committee reports covering payment of accounts and the purchase of equipment.

Actually, this meeting replaces one called for Tuesday afternoon which was canceled when the number of aldermen turning up was insufficient to form a quorum.

This will probably be the last special session of the summer months, as the Council is scheduled to resume the regular evening meetings on Tuesday, September 8.

Kindergarten At Lennoxville

Kindergarten classes will again be sponsored in Lennoxville this year by the Lennoxville and Ascot Home and School Association. Plans Made For Catholic Charities Campaign Opening On September 27

Under the joint chairmanship of Yvon Lanctot and Maurice Parsons the executive of the Catholic Charities Campaign met last evening to plan for the annual drive which will open officially on Sunday, September 27, with the traditional supper at the Sacred Heart Hospital.

It was decided that a meeting would be held on September 10 for parish priests and committees, at which His Excellency, Archbishop Cabana will be present.

Solicitors in the various parishes will be visited by members of the executive who will explain their work to them and urge them to show even greater zeal in their soliciting than in the past.

On September 14, solicitors for the parishes of Notre Dame de l'Assomption, Ste. Famille, Coeur Immaculee de Marie, St. Jean Baptiste and St. Sacrament, will meet in St. Jean Baptiste Hall. On the 15th, those of St. Michael's Cathedral, Christ the King, St. Columban, Immaculate Conception, Our Lady of Perpetual Help and St. Charles Garnier will meet in the Cathedral Church Hall. On September 16, solicitors for St. Therese, St. Boniface and St. Jean Breboeuf will meet in St. Jean Breboeuf Hall and finally, on September 17, there will be a meeting in St. Jeanne d'Arch parish hall for solicitors for St. Esprit, St. Joseph, Notre Dame du Rosaire, and St. Jeanne d'Arc.

His Excellency Archbishop Cabana will give a special talk at the general meeting of September 20, to be held in the Superior School, for solicitors of all nineteen parishes. Refreshments will be served by the executive, courtesy of local firms.

Although the campaign's closing date is October 7, the final supper will be held on October 11 and total results will be announced.

Every Effort Being Put Forth To Make 1953 Sherbrooke Exhibition Best Yet

The directors of the Sherbrooke Exhibition are putting every effort into making the 1953 Fair the best yet. W. G. MacDougall, president of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association, said this week in the agricultural broadcast.

"You'll want to see the 68th annual exhibition at Sherbrooke," Mr. MacDougall stated. "Between August 29 and September fourth, you will see large displays of livestock, agricultural produce, flowers, ladies work, automobiles, farm machinery and the largest display of industrial exhibits on record. There will be livestock parades, horse races, grandstand performances and the midway.

"Prizes are offered for Belgian, Clydesdale, Percheron, Canadian Standard Bred, Thoroughbred, Hackney and Palomino horses, five breeds of dairy cattle, six breeds of sheep, three breeds of hogs, all leading breeds of poultry and prizes are offered also for dairy products, field crops, fruit, vegetables, maple products and ladies work, including handicrafts.

Provincial competitions are held at the Sherbrooke Exhibition and through these are picked the teams who will represent Quebec in the National contest at the November Royal show in Toronto. There will be approximately 100 calves on display by members of the 4-H calf clubs of the Eastern Townships. Judging competitions for young men and women under 26 years of age is another junior activity.

The large industrial building will be filled with industrial exhibits of various kinds. The automobile building will be filled with various makes of automobiles, and outside of the building there will be a large display of farm implements.

There will be grandstand attractions each night. These attractions are provided by Geo. Hamid & Co., New York.

There will be horse racing each afternoon, $9,000.00 or more will be offered in purses. The race track has been rebuilt. The E.T.A. has one of the best tracks in Eastern Canada.

The midway is again provided by Conklin Bros. Rides for the children, amusements of various kinds for all. Midway in operation Saturday to Friday.

Two large wings have been built on the arena. In these wings, there will be ample space for all agricultural exhibits such as Dairy Products, maple products, field crops, vegetable, fruit, etc. New restaurant facilities are provided in these new additions. Further, modern toilet facilities have been installed in the arena.

There's thrill, excitement, entertainment for you at the 68th Annual Exhibition, Sherbrooke. There's something for everyone. From the official opening Saturday evening to the closing, grand stand performance, Friday evening. Come and bring your friends. Invite your relatives and friends to visit you at the time of Sherbrooke Exhibition.

Let us make Sherbrooke Exhibition week the "Old Home Week" of the year. The Sherbrooke Exhibition is a community enterprise. It is operated by the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association as a non profit organization.

Let us make the Sherbrooke Exhibition the biggest event of the year in Sherbrooke. Last year, approximately 100,000 people passed through the gates, with all the improvements, 125,000 should attend the exhibition in 1953.

Our purpose: To promote a "Better Agriculture and display our industrial activities in the Eastern Townships."

C. N. R. TO BUILD BIG HOTEL IN MONTREAL

Canadian National Railways, has announced that the board of directors has approved plans to build a large convention hotel on the Central Station site in Montreal. The project will be included in the budget the company will submit in 1954 to the sessional parliamentary committee on railways.

The hotel containing upwards of 1,000 rooms and having convention space capable of seating 4,000 persons at meetings and 2,500 at banquets will, it is estimated, cost in the neighborhood of $20,000,000. It will benefit all agencies engaged in the travel and tourist industry, Mr. Gordon said, and do much to attract conventions and visitors to Canada.

The architects' drawing shows the new hotel facing on Dorchester Street (left) and Mansfield Street (right). At the far left of the sketch is the present International Aviation Building, also owned by the C.N.R., and an idea of the size of the new hotel is to be had by comparing the bulk of the two buildings. Between the hotel and the Aviation Building is a sketch of the proposed new headquarters office building.

It is also part of the carefully-conceived terminal area development plan which has been under discussion between the railway and the City for several years. When completed by C.N.R. and private capital the development will rival in scope that of the world-famous Rockefeller Center in New York.

BRYANT'S Dry Ginger Ale is 15 better... Probably the first Dry Ginger Ale to be brewed in this country, was BRYANT'S.

The formula for BRYANT'S dry is very old and is a treasured family heirloom which was brought from Ireland over a century ago.

BRYANT'S Dry Ginger Ale is not a Lime or Lemon flavoured soft drink, like so many other so-called dry ginger ales, but a real dry ginger brew.

The meaning of the word DRY, is very little or no sugar, and GINGER is the imported product from India, GINGER ROOT.

PROBLEMS OF THE TRAILER INDUSTRY

The gypsies are almost extinct as a race on this continent, but their blood still flows in the veins of two million persons in the United States and an unknown number in Canada.

The American magazine "Holiday" discloses that many U.S. citizens make their permanent or temporary homes in trailers, and a good percentage of them say they will never go back to permanent houses. In this country, because of the rigors of our climate, few persons by choice use them as permanent homes; but they rest in countless backyards, just waiting for the summer season to arrive.

The modern trailer is not only more numerous; it is also much bigger. Back in the 1930's, according to "Holiday," most trailers used for living purposes were less than 15 feet long. That is probably still true in Canada, but in the U.S. these vehicles are beginning to look more like railroad cars. They run from 30 to 40 feet in length, and are jammed with the comforts of living — guest rooms, dinettes, television nooks and what have you.

This has led to strange consequences because it means that the trailer, originally designed for mobility, has partly defeated its own purpose. Now most of these big models spend most of their time at rest, hitched up to the local facilities of a trailer park, and are more like houses than vehicles.

There are 200 trailer manufacturers doing a quarter-billion dollars' business annually in the U.S., and they are mildly concerned about this problem. The proposed answer, at least by one manufacturer, is to make the "trailer" a self-propelled vehicle — in other words, not a trailer at all.

This new creation is called a land yacht or "Safari." The one now on display is just 22 feet long, and is mounted on a three-quarter-ton truck chassis. This model features its own water and electric systems a four-burner gas stove, refrigerator, three piece bathroom, a sun deck, etc., etc. The price is said to be "high for a car and low for a home."

For those who want even more manoeuvrability, there are plans for an added feature. The manufacturers are dickering with the makers of a small car to provide one that will ride astern of the land yacht, just like a dinghy. What more could anyone ask?

TIME FOR DEMOCRACY

Representatives of the government of the United States have pledged the military strength of that country in support of South Korea, in the event that the communists should break the truce and attack once more in the Far East. To become effective, the pledge will have to have the approval of the U.S. Senate.

Coinciding with the announcement of the agreement between South Korea and the United States, a United Nations headquarters announcement declared that 16 countries which have had troops with the forces resisting aggression in Korea have also promised "to take up arms again in the event of a new communist attack." Among those 16 nations are the United Kingdom and Canada, singled out because the United Nations spokesman said the two Commonwealth countries had made certain reservations. Apparently neither Canada nor Great Britain believes it wise to commit the two nations to the sort of war resumption which would involve a direct attack on China.

Before Canada declared war on Germany, following Hitler's thrust of aggression, the people of Canada were consulted. The question of action was presented to several score of men who were the elected representatives of citizens of every part of Canada — members of the Canadian Parliament.

It seems the part of wisdom for representatives of this country and of Great Britain to refuse to bind the peoples of the two countries to a military action that could plunge the nations of the world into another world war — without the consent of the peoples of the two countries. Even at the risk of a dangerous delay, from a military standpoint, there should be time in this day and age for democratic practices.

The era in which diplomats secretly signed millions of their people to a war effort in the event of this or that contingency belongs to the past.

That is not to argue that the free nations of United Nations could not be justified under certain circumstances to take major military action in the Far East, but that in arriving at any such decision, the autonomy of individual nations should be respected.

Press Comments

CANADA'S LAW IS WINDSOR'S

Toronto Globe and Mail
In his recent statement to management, labor and the public on the subject of strike law, Premier Frost made it clear that the law of Canada had to be maintained not merely by the police under Provincial authority, but by those under civic authority, as well. He said in part:

Our police, Provincial and municipal, including the large and efficient police forces in such cities as Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa, London, Windsor and other places are all lawfully appointed enforcement officers. . . . It is their duty to enforce the law and it is our duty to help them because the laws are ours.

Civic officials in Windsor apparently have not seen the statement; or if they did see it, failed to understand that it meant precisely what it said. For, only two weeks after it was made, we have the spectacle of that city's chief magistrate, Mayor Arthur Reaume, publicly criticizing his own police for enforcing the law; and getting support in that criticism from at least one member of City Council.

On a number of occasions, city police at Windsor have been asked to escort non-union trucks through picket lines. As law enforcement officers, they were bound to comply. But Mayor Reaume says they should not have complied. He told a Council meeting last week: "Constant police protection offered to scab drivers never settled a strike." Backing him up, Alderman Maurice Belanger objected to the number of police cruisers being used, in some cases, to protect a few trucks.

Somebody — possibly Premier Frost or Attorney-General Porter — should take Mr. Reaume aside and explain to him that as chief magistrate of Ontario's fourth city, it is his duty to maintain the law both in letter and spirit. His police must grant protection against violence, or the threat of violence, to any person who seeks it — including non-union truckers. If, as Alderman Belanger claims, that takes up too many of Windsor's police, then Windsor's picket lines are too big and should be cut down to size.

Mayor Reaume has the power to do that — and the responsibility. Section 501 of the Criminal Code makes it clear that picketing is only legal when carried on "merely to obtain or communicate information." Mass picketing — certainly, the kind that requires a lot of police cruisers to protect a few trucks — is illegal, and Windsor authorities should use the ample powers vested in them to stop it.

This is by no means the first time that civic officials at Windsor have closed their eyes to blatant defiance of the law made by Parliament; or actively sided with those defying it. The result has been to give that city a reputation for lawlessness which gravely threatens its economic future. If Mayor Reaume doesn't know this, Windsor's business and industrial leaders do. They, too, might take him aside and tell him a few simple facts.

BOMBS — AND BOMBS

Christian Science Monitor
The first, and possibly the greatest, effect of Russia's H-bomb announcement was to explode American complacency.

We need not assume that the Kremlin has actually touched off a hydrogen bomb. (Mr. Malenkov merely said the United States no longer has a monopoly.) He may only have the technicians' word that they have mastered the process. He may be "jumping the gun" to reassure the people under Soviet dominance and to bolster his rule.

Within a few days we should know. It may require two weeks for air currents to be sampled and assayed. But American researchers are confident that these and other methods will tell very definitely whether there has been a fusion explosion.

However, whether there has been is not the most important question in this situation. For it merely involves time; if the Russians have not exploded an H-bomb, they probably will do so within months. The important question is how the world responds to the Malenkov warning.

The announcement has plainly jolted American thought. We trust this will prove more than a temporary titillation, producing no action. We hope it will not merely engender frightened efforts to build more and bigger engines of destruction. We hope it will turn thought to more adequate preparation of home defenses. Above all, it should be a new spur to more positive and imaginative thinking toward peace.

The H-bomb is a horror bomb. Indeed, it is so terrible and so destructive it may never be used. There are few targets for it. Even as a weapon of terror — to erase large cities — some experts count it less efficient than a number of atomic bombs. For military targets most military experts would prefer 100 A-bombs to one H-bomb. They figure that with a "saturation" attack several planes carrying the smaller bombs have a good chance of getting through, while one plane lugging the hydrogen monster could be stopped by engine failure or one shot from the defenders. Using it is like putting all your eggs in one basket.

Moreover, the H-bomb is expensive. Some estimates say that the materials and labor required to get the tritium for one fusion bomb would produce enough plutonium for 100 fission bombs — with five times as much explosive power.

So even if Russia know how to make H-bombs, she may find them more profitable to talk about than to make. Unless she has an atomic stockpile far greater than has been indicated, H-bombs will remain a luxury for some time to come. While the United States has a stockpile which permits some experimenting, the fusion bomb is also relatively expensive for it. Moreover, this weapon could prove to be like poison gas — held in reserve for retaliation but never used.

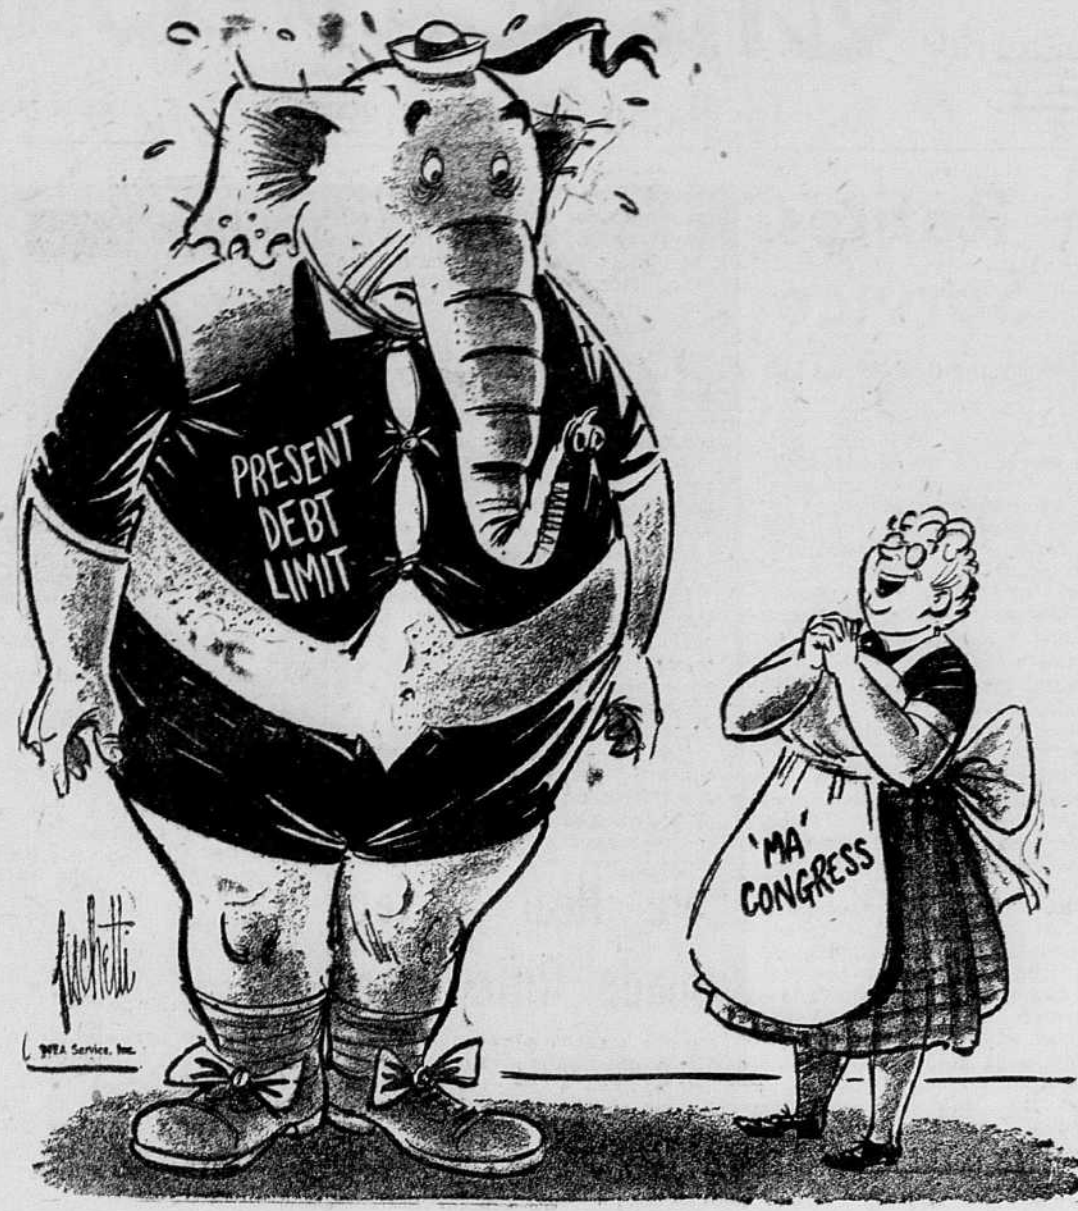

The free world cannot make that assumption. It must not only make sure it has this weapon; it must prepare better defenses against it. It must build more adequate defenses against a surprise attack. This means radar fences, advance warning systems, interceptor planes, and guided missiles. So far the American people have only begun to awaken to the necessities of such preparedness.

Government Craft Begins Long Voyage Into Northern Waters

Churchill, Man. — The 50-foot ketch-rigged Calanus, department of fisheries craft previously based at Halifax, sailed out of here recently with a crew including three university students who will travel 2,500 miles of northern waters to count white whales, walrus and seals.

The three, all of Montreal, are Ian McLaren and Ted Granger, zoology graduates of McGill University, and Art Dawson, second-year medical student.

The count will be confined mostly to Hudson Bay. Fuel for the entire trip was taken on by the diesel-powered Calanus, along with food and fresh water to last them until they reach Eskimo Point.

The ship's pantry was well stocked with all essential foods and everything in canned delicacies from olives and shrimp to fruit cocktail.

In addition to their count, the young scientists hope to return with a specimen of every form of northern sea life "from copepod to a 10-foot shark."

As well as casting and drawing mesh and wire nets, lowering and lifting small dredges and harpooning seals, the students must find time to take daily water samples. This is done with hydrographic equipment which registers the temperature of the water at desired depths, its salinity and its oxygen content.

In describing the method used to obtain accurate figures on the number of larger-type fish in the bay, Granger said:

"We will choose a calm day when visibility is good, take bearings on our location, and estimate the amount of water we can see around us. We will then count the seals, whales and walrus in the area, and by applying the simplest mathematics, determine the population of that area. This procedure will be repeated until we have covered the entire bay."

Asked about the possibility of commercial fishing in Hudson Bay, Granger replied: "There is no evidence yet of any commercial fishing here but this investigation should determine the value of the bay's sea life and the federal government will no doubt base their decisions on our estimation."

THE MATURE PARENT

BULLYING PARENTS DON'T BUILD "BACKBONE" IN THEIR CHILDREN

Recently in this space, I discussed the problem of a mother whose nine-year-old son is abusive to her. It has attracted the intense interest of a father of seven children.

He writes to me: "I could reform this boy in 12 hours. His mother just has no backbone. Nature often fails to provide one. I never allowed one of my children to cry or even pucker the lips to cry. They were never allowed to speak a word after going to bed. They knew who was boss in their home — and they worshipped me."

That's too bad. I'm sorry to hear it. In America, we are not supposed to train children to worship their ancestors, near or remote.

Nor does Nature withhold a backbone from any of us. We're each born with one. If they don't hold us up straight and strong, Nature is not accountable.

We've just not had any exercises in holding them up straight and strong. We've had a near ancestor who demanded obedience and kowtow. We may have had a "boss" who stifled our cries of outrage and sadness, because he wanted no "backtalk."

I am suspicious of people who take great pride in their backbones. They are fond of boasting about them whenever we are struggling with a problem of a bullying child. They are treating us with contempt, of course. When they urge us solicitously to acquire a backbone like theirs, we are just on the receiving end of more bullying.

We shouldn't take it. "My wife had no backbone," con-fides my correspondent to me.

He doesn't report on the state of his children's vertebrae.

Perhaps it's too depressing a subject.

I bet his daughters have bullying children. For that's how it goes. When we've taken great pride in bossing our family, our old age is not apt to be as peaceful as it should be.

We may often have to shake our heads over the defiant goings-on of grandson Bill and granddaughter Mary. We may be very depressed indeed over the bullying treatment they give to the children whom we have cowed into submission.

If we have been such parents, we should have the grace to keep our alarms to ourselves. We should do so. To the grownup child who is struggling with his inheritance of submission, we give no grace.

We're the very matter with you? "What's the matter with you? Why don't you put your foot down with those youngsters? Haven't you your backbone?"

Then it happened. Marjory Higgins whirled about and faced Harry Lang. She was trembling. "You cheap skater!" she shouted. "You penny pincher! It's not the money, but the principle of the thing that burns me up. All this embarrassment over a measly nickel or two. Ninety cents—well, you don't get it for ninety. I hid one dollar. So there! And now that the vase is mine, I'd like nothing better than the privilege of breaking it over your head!"

She stepped up to the stand and snatching the vase from the first speechless auctioneer, threw it with all her strength at Harry Lang's dome. Lucky for Harry he had made his record in football catching forward passes. A moment later it lay neatly tucked away under his arm.

"Touchdown," someone shouted and the crowd surged forward pushing Harry Lang until he was face to face with his assailant.

"Thanks, madam. Thanks very much for the vase—the clerk will be along in a minute to collect your bid," he managed as the crowd pressed up. And in the riot that followed, Harry edged his way outside.

ample, if a spade is led and two players play the ace of spades, those two aces cancel each other out, and the trick is won by some lower spade.

If every card in a trick is paired, nobody wins that trick for the moment. Those cards are saved until the next trick is won. Then the winner of that trick gets the cards that were being saved.

The odd cards in the widow are given to the winner of the first trick. As every hearts player knows, this is a doubtful benefit.

The scoring is the same as in regular hearts. Various localities favor different scoring rules, but the most common scoring is to count 1 point against you for each heart that you have taken in a trick and 13 points against you for the queen of spades.

Q—The bidding has been: North East South West 1 Diamond Pass 1 Heart 1 Spade 2 Clubs Pass?

You, South, hold: Spades 7-5, Hearts A-Q-7-3, Diamonds Q-5-3-2, Clubs K-7-4. What do you do? A—Bid three diamonds. With 11 points in high cards, 1 point extra for the queen of your partner's bid suit and 1 point for the doubleton, you can well afford to show a sign of strength. Since your distribution is balanced you avoid going past the level of three no-trump.

Uranium Prospecting Done From Air

Saskatoon — The old-style pick-and-shovel prospector, even if he is armed with a geiger counter, is apt to become a little discouraged if he ventures into certain parts of Saskatchewan's northland. He might see a red-pontooned plane flying low over the country about 350 miles north of Lac La Ronge. Inside the machine four men are peering at a dial. If the needle jumps sharply across the dial, it indicates the presence of radioactive material.

This is the method used by one Saskatoon company, which is satisfied by tests of the efficiency of an airborne electronic "gamma scintillation counter recorder."

This device, sensitive enough to detect one per cent uranium oxide from 350 feet high, has detected tiny amounts of radioactive uranium from an altitude of 500 feet or so.

The system first was used by the National Research Council and the Canadian atomic energy board, through the government-owned Eldorado Mining and Refining Company.

The Dee Exploration Company of Saskatoon in one test made two passes over an area where a piece of radium, donated by the University of Saskatchewan, had been placed on one end of a railway bridge. They detected the metal.

Under this method the gamma rays emitted by radioactive minerals are picked up by a highly sensitive crystal. The impulses are registered on a graph.

The terrain and situation of radioactive minerals in northern Saskatchewan led to an expansion of this device. Pitch-blend deposits containing the radioactive uranium are scattered here-where among humps and hollows.

Therefore the Saskatoon company installed what is believed the first successful radio altimeter. Synchronized with the recorder, it registers the land contours in relation to traceable deposits.

By correlating the terrain chart with the radiation chart, and applying certain mathematical corrections, the surveyors are able to determine which areas of pitch-blend have commercial possibilities.

IT'S YOUR DEAL . . .

VARY YOUR HEARTS FOR FUN

By OSWALD JACOBY and Alfred Sheinwald

Those who like the ordinary game of hearts may enjoy trying a variation that makes it suitable for a larger number of players. The standard game of hearts is good for three to five players, and probably four players is the best number. The game of cancellation hearts is planned for seven to 10 players.

Take two regular decks of cards and shuffle them together. Deal them out one at a time to all of the players as far as they will go evenly. Any remaining odd cards are placed face down in the middle of the table as a widow. (For example, if there are 10 players, each player gets 10 cards, and four cards are left over for the widow.)

The player at the dealer's left leads the first card, and the hand is played in much the same way as ordinary hearts. That is, a trick is won by the highest card of the suit led. Each player must follow suit if he can, and may discard any card from his hand if he cannot follow suit. The winner of a trick leads to the next trick. The object of the game is to avoid taking tricks that contain hearts or the queen of spades.

The game is called cancellation hearts because in any trick that contains identical cards those cards cancel each other out and neither can win the trick. For example, if a player leads a heart and another player has a heart, the heart is cancelled and the player who led the heart cannot win the trick.

When it happened, Marjory Higgins whirled about and faced Harry Lang. She was trembling. "You cheap skater!" she shouted. "You penny pincher! SIGNAL IS WAY TO IMPROVE GAME

When it is properly used, the suit-preference signal can be of great assistance to the defenders. In general, a player who wants to use this signal plays a higher card than necessary (when not trying to win a trick) to indicate strength in a high-ranking suit, and plays a low card to indicate strength in a low suit. We can see one way for the signal to operate in today's hand.

West opens the three of spades, dummy plays low, and East wins with the king. East returns a low spade, South hopefully finessees the nine, but West covers with the ten. If declarer takes this trick with dummy's ace of spades, the defenders have no chance to signal. If declarer refuses the second round of spades, however, West should lead the suit again in such a way as to indicate where his re-entry happens to be.

In this case, West's entry is in hearts, the higher ranking of the two red suits. (It is obvious that declarer will promptly go after the clubs, and East will then have to guess whether to return a heart or a diamond to allow West to run the rest of his spades.) To indicate that his entry is in a high suit, West returns the queen of spades even though dummy has only the blank ace of spades left.

East had no trouble in noticing that West has played a higher spade than necessary. When East wins the ace of clubs, he will return a heart, and West will defeat the contract.

If East and West were not using this signal, East would probably return a diamond after taking his ace of clubs. Then South would make his contract with five clubs,

SHORT STORY Majolica Vase

By L. T. McFARLAND

Harry Lang had come prepared to spend fifty dollars for the vase. He sat nervously watching the auctioneer, the people, and the door and prayed that Marjory Higgins (that horrid spinster who seldom missed an auction, and always outbid him for his treasures) had broken a leg or something so she couldn't appear this time when the Majolica vase was to be put up on the block.

He strained his neck for the hundredth time toward the entrance. He wondered if her knowledge of antiques covered old pottery. Maybe not. Maybe his auction-sparring enemy didn't know a Majolica vase from a beer mug. Yet the very thought of those snapping eyes and that crisp sanguine voice sent his blood pressure soaring.

"What am I bid for this Majolica vase? A rare antique! Rarest thing in this room!" the auctioneer called.

"Fifty dollars," Harry called out. The girl was nowhere in sight.

"Thank you, sir, five dollars. Who will make it ten?" Thus the bidding proceeded until thirty was reached.

The crowd was swaying restlessly. Interest was on the wane. Harry took a plunge. "Forty," he finally said. Now the vase was practically in his lap, but the auctioneer held on. "Forty-forty—is all I am offered—what'll make it fifty?"

"Fifty," called a clear voice near the door.

"Seventy-five," the crisp voice came back at once as Miss Higgins tossed a swift challenge back in Harry's direction.

"Eighty," Harry took the challenge, and this time Marjory flushed and seemed embarrassed.

Royals Gain On Leading Herd With Win Over Red Wings; A's Take Two From Cubs As Leafs Stop Orioles

As International Baseball League leaders, Montreal just couldn't shake loose Buffalo. Now it's the other way around.

The second-spot Royals Thursday night climbed to within one game of the Bisons. The Montrealers stopped Rochester Red Wings 4-1 behind lefty Tom LaSorda's three-hit pitching, while the Herd dropped a 6-5 decision to Syracuse Chiefs.

The Royals are starting a six-game series with the Wings at Rochester and with the season more than two-thirds through, the outcome of the affair might hold the key as to who will take the 1953 pennant. Montreal won its last season.

In other Thursday night games, Ottawa Athletics swept a double bill from the tail-end Springfield Cubs, 2-1 and 4-1; Toronto Maple Leafs climbed to within 21 games of fourth-place Baltimore, defeating the Orioles 7-5 as Don Johnson pitched five-hit ball.

Marlene Stewart Is Only Canadian Survivor In Women's Open Golf; Defeats Seattle Lady, 1952 Champ

London—(P)—Canada's cases for a champion in the women's open golf tournament today rested with 19-year-old Marlene Stewart who came up from the caddy ranks five years ago to the No. 1 spot among the country's feminine shotsmiths.

Only home-bred left from a big Canadian field that teed off in the week-long championship last Monday, the freckle-faced, chunkily-built youngster advanced to the semi-finals with a 2-and-1 victory over defending champion Elean Anderson of Helena, Montana.

Marlene started the quarter-final round with 21-year-old Barbara Davies of Vancouver, the only other Canadian left in the running, but the west coast girl was no match for 20-year-old Pat Lesser of Seattle, Wash., who sent her to the sidelines with a decisive 7-and-6 triumph.

In the semi-finals today it is Marlene against the Seattle brunette while Grace Lenczyk of Newington, Conn., meets Barbara Romack of Sarmiento, Calif., in the other bracket.

Miss Lenczyk, who won the open title in 1947 and 1948, defeated Pat Devany of Grosse Ile, Mich., 5 and 4, and Miss Romack outlasted Polly Martin of St. Clairsville, Ohio, on the 20th hole of their quarter-final matches.

International Canoe Classic Begins Tomorrow At La Tuque; 17 Two-Man Teams Entered To Battle St. Maurice

Shawinigan Falls, Que. — One of Canada's unique and most colorful sporting events—the International Canoe Classic—will get under way this Saturday at La Tuque, 200 miles north-east of Montreal.

Seventeen two-man canoe teams are entered in the 100-mile dash down the treacherous St. Maurice river, from La Tuque to Shawinigan Falls.

Most contestants are ush workers from the St. Maurice region but included in the competition are Irvin Peterson and Wayne Carlson of Minneapolis and John Hanley and Laurent Bernier of Longueuil, near Montreal.

The classic, run in two stretches on the turbulent St. Maurice, is considered the only race of its kind in the world as it demands not only speed, strength and endurance but full navigational skill. The river is full of rapids, eddies, and drifting logs.

The 52-mile lap from La Tuque to St. Roch de Mekinac, which is covered Saturday, is the relatively smooth part of the journey. The second, from St. Roch to Shawinigan, includes a two-mile portage to get around absolutely unnavigable water near Grand Mere.

Total purse is $2,725 with second and third place teams getting $500 and $300 respectively. Lowest money is the $200 for 11th-14th positions.

Winner of the classic last season was the duo of Ovide Denomme and Henri Goyette of Grand Anse, near La Tuque, who finished the course in a record time of 10 hours 31 minutes 16 seconds.

They were nine minutes ahead of the second-place American team of Peterson and Carlson. As both teams are entered again this year, an exciting race is expected and official predictions are that a record will again be set.

The youngest team entered is that of Jean-Marc Lambert, 20, and Normand Meunier, 19, both of Shawinigan Falls.

The classic originated in 1934.

Five Marksmen Score Near Perfect In Dominion Of Canada Rifle Meet

South March, Ont. — Five marksmen Thursday scored perfect scores in the qualifying stage of the Governor-General's match to tie for first place at the fourth day of the 85th annual Dominion of Canada Rifle Association prize meet.

The marksmen — S. Sgt. G. B. Kay, 41, Hamilton; Lt.-Col. Steve Johnson, 48, Calgary; Maj. R. W. Hampton, 39, Camp Borden, Ont.; Lieut. Gilmour Boz, 28, Toronto; and Sqd. Ldr. Dave Reynolds, 45, Ottawa—scored 148s of a possible 150 firing 10 rounds from each of the 200, 500 and 600 yard ranges.

The men, all Bisley shots, chalked up identical cards. The top 300 men qualified to enter the final stage of the Governor-General's Gold Medal match Saturday which winds up the week-long meet. A shoot-off to decide the winner in the qualifying stage will be held today.

Five other marksmen posted 147s. They were A. J. Tellow, H. G. T. O. Doyle-Dumas, both of Britain's Cambridge University rifle team; Lieut. Frank C. Sullivan, New Westminster, B.C.; P. A. M. Hughes, St. George, N.B.; and Maj. A. J. F. Roberts, Montreal.

Seixas Beats Rose In Gruelling Sets

Newport, R.I. — Wimbledon champion Vic Seixas came from behind in a gruelling battle to defeat Australia's Mervyn Rose 3-6, 6-2, 13-15, 6-2 Thursday and gain the semi-final rounds of the Newport invitation tennis tournament.

In the other quarter-final, Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, the United States No. 2 hope, outstroked Straight Clark of Pasadena, Calif., 6-0, 6-3, 6-8, 4-6, 6-3.

Both Seixas and Rose were off their games at times and in the end it was the Australian who had the most trouble. Rose, a left-hander rated No. 1 in Australia, let the gallery in on his dissatisfaction with his strokes by slamming his racket to the turf several times.

Today's two quarter-finals will pit Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., against Australia's Lewis Hood and Ken Rosewall against Rod Hartwig in an all-Australian affair.

Williams Cops Slugging Duel

Philadelphia—(P)—Ted Williams spotted the American League's leading home run hitter six months of conditioning Thursday night and still won slugging duel, four home runs to three.

It was just a good-natured battering exhibition with Gus Zernial before Philadelphia and Boston tangled in a night game—but the pressure was on and when it was all over Williams was still the $1,000,000 beauty.

Taking his spring training somewhat late this year—after a long tour as a Marine flyer in Korea—Williams appeared before the batting contest to be taking it as a joke. After it was over Ted was still smiling, only a little more broadly.

Williams and Zernial, who has 29 home runs this season, each took two turns and were permitted five fair blows each time up.

OUR FAMILY ROSARY CRUSADE...

Over the centuries the Family Rosary has never failed. To the weak it brings strength. To the strong, victory.

(Editor's Note: Following is another in a series of contributed articles that the Record is publishing for the benefit of its Roman Catholic readers during the Family Rosary Crusade.)

For Peace Among Nations God's Blessings On Homes

The World Crusade of the Family Rosary to rid mankind of its mounting troubles is moving with giant strides today as laymen organize to enlist every Catholic home under the banner, "The Family that Prays Together Stays Together."

Leading the Crusade under the shepherds of these parishes is Father Patrick Peyton, who during every past four years has enlisted 6,000,000 men, women and children in 17 States, all Canada, and parts of England and Australia to say the Rosary with their families every day.

During the past week the work of organization has rapidly advanced. Pastors have met with parish and district chairmen and associate chairmen and lists of team captains are in preparation. During the next three weeks scores of volunteers will list all families. Backed by special prayers the workers are making preparations for pledge week.

The fact that this great Crusade is strictly on the spiritual level, and that it has no money aspect whatever has been stressed in every meeting. The Crusade seeks by prayer and prayer alone to bring peace to this troubled world, and to restore to all families happiness, contentment and security.

Everyone is urged to pray fervently that the Crusade may continue to have the great success that has marked its progress on this continent before spreading recently to Australia, England and South America.

People yearning for the blessings of peace among nations and in the home are eagerly enlisting in what has been called the greatest Crusade of modern times. Organized in response to the appeal made by the Blessed Virgin to St. Dominic, to Bernadette at Lourdes and the children of Fatima, the goal is to enlist at least 10,000,000 families.

All are urged to assist the working organization in each parish, and particularly to send in to the pastor the names of all Catholics or former Catholics who are not on the parish lists. Thus the blessings of the Crusade will become available to the greatest numbers.

In all of the 75 dioceses in which the Crusade has already been conducted 90 per cent and more of eligible people have signed the Rosary pledge. It is a striking fact that the Crusade has so promoted the spirit of co-operation and good will that large numbers of Protestants have asked to sign the Rosary pledge, and a great many Jews have likewise pledged co-operation.

$34,000 Damage In Jet Crash

Montreal, — Omer Lavoie, whose three children were killed Tuesday when an RCAF jet crashed into his home at nearby Ville Jacques Cartier, said Thursday night he estimated his losses at $34,000.

Lavoie said he estimated the value of his five-room house at $9,000 and his furniture at $5,000. Also destroyed was a cottage he was building next to his home.

"I won't be able to return to work until I can replace all my carpenter's tools that were lost in the fire," said Lavoie in an interview.

He said the RCAF has already paid him $500 to cover funeral expenses and one week's hospital care for his wife, seriously injured in the crashing plane.

"The RCAF has been very good to me," he said. "Ever since the night of the crash they have kept touching—asking if there was anything they could do for me."

An RCAF official said a committee is investigating the claims of those who suffered damages in the crash and "full settlement will be made as soon as possible."

Questioned about reports that RCAF guards had barred him from inspecting the ruins of his home Wednesday, Lavoie said an officer told him "anyone entering the area would go so at his own risk."

"I didn't go because I was scared they would shoot at me."

PHILADELPHIA
Philadelphia—(P)—Ted Williams spotted the American League's leading home run hitter six months of conditioning Thursday night and still won slugging duel, four home runs to three.

It was just a good-natured battering exhibition with Gus Zernial before Philadelphia and Boston tangled in a night game—but the pressure was on and when it was all over Williams was still the $1,000,000 beauty.

Taking his spring training somewhat late this year—after a long tour as a Marine flyer in Korea—Williams appeared before the batting contest to be taking it as a joke. After it was over Ted was still smiling, only a little more broadly.

Williams and Zernial, who has 29 home runs this season, each took two turns and were permitted five fair blows each time up.

OUR FAMILY ROSARY CRUSADE...
Over the centuries the Family Rosary has never failed. To the weak it brings strength. To the strong, victory.

For Peace Among Nations God's Blessings On Homes
The World Crusade of the Family Rosary to rid mankind of its mounting troubles is moving with giant strides today as laymen organize to enlist every Catholic home under the banner, "The Family that Prays Together Stays Together."

Leading the Crusade under the shepherds of these parishes is Father Patrick Peyton, who during every past four years has enlisted 6,000,000 men, women and children in 17 States, all Canada, and parts of England and Australia to say the Rosary with their families every day.

During the past week the work of organization has rapidly advanced. Pastors have met with parish and district chairmen and associate chairmen and lists of team captains are in preparation. During the next three weeks scores of volunteers will list all families. Backed by special prayers the workers are making preparations for pledge week.

The fact that this great Crusade is strictly on the spiritual level, and that it has no money aspect whatever has been stressed in every meeting. The Crusade seeks by prayer and prayer alone to bring peace to this troubled world, and to restore to all families happiness, contentment and security.

Everyone is urged to pray fervently that the Crusade may continue to have the great success that has marked its progress on this continent before spreading recently to Australia, England and South America.

The Doctor Says

COLOR BLINDNESS IS HEREDITARY

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.
The ability to see different colors is one of the remarkable attributes of the human eye and brain. Without it we would have few artists, none of us could appreciate the enormous variety of color in nature, and those engaged in certain occupations would certainly be severely handicapped.

Color sense is a quality of that portion of the eye known as the retina, which records impressions through the optic nerve to the brain. Some color rays are not consciously appreciated and some people are more aware of differences in shades of color than others.

But what we are interested in is this discussion of disturbances of the color sense known as color blindness.

Color blindness is classified as either partial or total. There are three varieties of partial color blindness: one in which there is a lack of ability to "see" red (this is known as red blindness); another is inability to see green, and the third is deficiency in seeing yellow and blue, though red and green can be readily identified. The latter is rather rare.

The totally color blind are those who cannot distinguish any color, but only variation in the brightness of the object. To such persons the world is all black, white and gray.

Color blindness is of extreme importance, particularly the red-green variety, to those in certain occupations, such as railway, air or marine service, because the ability to discriminate between red and green signals is of vital significance. Keen ability to discriminate colors is also of importance to many chemical workers, lithographers, painters and, of course, artists.

Most color blindness is inborn or congenital. It is believed to be truly hereditary and transmitted through the mother to the male children. This is probably responsible for the fact that it is 10 times as common among the male population as among the female; one man in 25 is said to be affected by some form of color blindness.

Exercise Is Futile
The question of treating color blindness has come up repeatedly, particularly in the last war, when many young men tried to overcome color blindness in order to get into the branch of service they desired.

True color blindness, however, cannot be overcome or improved by exercise, though it did seem at one time that some of those who had this difficulty made fewer mistakes after a period of training. Probably the most important thing to be said about color blindness is that those who are afflicted should be aware of their defect and govern their lives accordingly.

MARRIAGES

TAYLOR—MacLEOD
Birchton, Que. — The marriage of Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice MacLeod, of Bury, to Mr. Neil Taylor, of Birchton, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Taylor, took place on July 31, at eight o'clock, in St. Peter's Church, Cookshire, the Rev. W. C. Dunn, officiating. Mrs. George Gill, organist, and cousin of the groom, played the wedding music. The church was decorated with large baskets of summer flowers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Francis Gaulin, was in a street length gown of white nylon sheer over taffeta. She wore a shoulder length veil caught with sweet peas and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and maidenhair fern.

The bridesmaid, Miss Frances MacLeod, sister of the bride, was in pink nylon sheer over nylon and she carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas.

The reception was held at the home of the groom's parents. From the dining table, covered with a white damask cloth and centered with sweet peas and white candles in silver holders, refreshments were served, buffet-style.

For the wedding trip, the bride and groom were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kirkby, brother-in-law and sister of the groom, to Glace Bay, Black Lake, N.S., on Cape Breton Island, and other points. On their return they will make their home in Birchton.

Those who attended the wedding were the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, of Toronto, Ont., who were present were from Bury, Sherbrooke, Birchton, Tamworth, N.H., and East Angus.

BROWN—VAUGHAN
Cowansville, Que. — The Anglican Church of the Ascension was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, August 1, when at half past two o'clock, Muriel Lucy, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Vaughan, became the bride of Mr. David Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Brown, of Cowansville, the Rev. F. W. Gedy officiating. Miss Emma Coughtry, organist of the church, played the wedding music.

The soloist was Mrs. James Williams, of Quebec, who sang "I'll Walk Beside You" after the ceremony. The interior of the church was decorated with flowers for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an afternoon dress of ice blue nylon net over taffeta with cap-shaped bonnet holding her shoulder length veil of tulle illusion. She carried a nosegay of sweet peas and white gladioli centered with white roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Shirley Clark, of Sweetsburg, wore an afternoon dress of pink frosted organza, a matching shoulder veil caught by a wreath of pink sweet peas and she carried a nosegay of snapdragon, sweet peas and fern.

The best man was Mr. William Brown, brother of the groom. Mrs. Vaughan, mother of the bride, wore a navy crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of red gladioli.

Mrs. Brown, the groom's mother, was gowned in aqua crepe with black lace, and she wore a corsage of yellow flowers.

The wedding reception for over forty guests took place in the hall of Cowansville, where decorations consisted of flowers, bells and crepe paper. The bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom under a horseshoe.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Aston and three children, of Fordyce; Mrs. Thomas Stewart, of Chertouville, Park, Montreal; Mrs. Harry Vaughan, Miss Anita Vaughan, Mrs. R. The Outdoor Sugar-On-Snow Social At Sutton Proved A Popular Event

Sutton, Aug. 14. — The annual sugar-on-snow social sponsored by the United Church was held on the church grounds on Friday evening. The weather was warm and many turned out to enjoy this popular event. Several who were visiting in town from a distance were heard to say that it was the first time they had ever tasted this popular treat, and for many it was certainly the first time they had sugar-on-snow in the middle of summer.

Homemade doughnuts, pickles and coffee were also on the menu. A fancy work table and a mystery table also proved very popular, as did the fish pond for the children. Hot dogs and soft drinks were also available.

A guessing contest was held on a fruit cake, which had been made and donated by one of the members. The one guessing the correct weight received the cake as a prize. Mr. Hector Harris, of Farnham, was the lucky winner.

A very gratifying amount was realized to aid in the church work. THE LEND-A-HAND CLUB

The Lend-a-Hand Club of the United Church was pleasantly entertained at the United Church parsonage with Mrs. Robert Osborne for the hostess.

The president, Mrs. James Flannigan, presided over the meeting and the minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Hollis Dyer. Mrs. Arnold Thomson conducted the devotional period. Her theme was "Humility."

Plans for coming events were discussed, after which the meeting was brought to a close.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. Stanley Whitford.

Mr. Terry McElroy, who is in training at the Valcartier Military Camp, spent a leave at home here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McElroy. On completion of his course at Valcartier, Terry plans to go to Camp Bedford, where he will train as a paratrooper.

Rev. and Mrs. Hall and family, of Brookline, N.Y., are spending the month of August at the rectory, while Rev. Mr. Hall is supplying in the pulpit of Grace Anglican Church during the absence of Rev. K. B. Keeffe, who is on holiday.

Miss Jean Oughtred, of Ottawa, is a guest of Miss Glenna Murns. Miss Oughtred will be remembered as having been on the teaching staff at the High School, where she taught home economics.

Mrs. Fordyce Ingalls and daughter, Diane, are in Bedford, for a week with Mrs. Ingalls' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Westover.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Russel, of Lanesboro, Mass., are spending a week with Mrs. Russel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Derrick. They will be accompanied on their return home by their three children, Audrey, Barbara Ann and Derry, who have spent the past several weeks with their grandparents.

Mrs. Arthur Gaudreau and daughter, Barbara, of Valleyfield, spent a few days with Mrs. Gaudreau's sister, Mrs. Mabel Eccles, at the home of Mrs. Bernice Russel.

Mr. Edward Eland is spending a week in military camp at Picton, Ont.

Mrs. Kenneth Jenne has returned from Lachine, where she was the guest of friends for a week.

Mrs. Bernice Russel and Mrs. Mabel Eccles called on friends in Frelighsburg, Abbott's Corner and Richmond, Vt.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Miller have left by motor for Port Albani, B. C., where they will visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Drew, and family, for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur LePitre and son, of Lacolle, and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Sylvester, of Farnham, were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Flannigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Darrah, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Miller, Mr. and Mrs. L. Reid, Mrs. Hugh Stetson, Mrs. Annie Stetson, Mrs. C. Cavell and Mr. C. Powers were in Knowlton, where they attended a session of Colfax Rebekah Lodge on the occasion of the annual visit of the president of the Grand Lodge of Quebec.

Miss Ruth Bessie, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., is spending a holiday in town with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Darrah.

Mr. Donald McKell has received an appointment as immigration inspector at the local port.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family of Mr. Floyd Macey, who passed away in the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal. Mr. Macey had been in poor health for some time but his last illness was of short duration and his death came as a shock to relatives and friends.

In the interest of Founder's Day to be held on August 29, the program committee hopes that any one who has authentic costumes dating from the 18th century will either wear them on that date or if willing to lend them will contact the Junior Board of Trade on or before August 23.

Mrs. Mabel Eccles has returned from Valleyfield, where she spent a week with her sister, Mrs. A. Gaudreau, and family.

Friends of Miss Mary Gatenby will regret to learn that she is ill in a hospital in Montreal.

Shipton W. I. Met In F. Hall At Danville

Danville, Aug. 14. — Members of the Shipton Women's Institute met in the United Farmer's Hall, Danville, for their August meeting with sixteen members and six visitors present.

The roll call subject was "Where I would like to spend a vacation," and the collect, was repeated in unison.

The secretary, Mrs. Kerr, read the report of the last meeting, which was approved.

The president, Mrs. Saffin, reported that the ice cream social was a great success, and thanked the members for their assistance; those who were not able to help gave in their donations.

Mrs. Evans, the treasurer, being absent, there was no report. There was a drawing to raise money for the flower fund.

The program was on "Publicity," and Mrs. Vermeeren read a paper on that subject. A gift is to be sent to a new baby.

A discussion followed about the fair, which is sponsored by the W. I. for the boys and girls on August 28th. Entries are to be in at the Farmers Hall by 11:00 a.m., and the judging will commence at 1:00 p.m. All doors will be closed, and opened again at 2 p.m. for the public.

Tea and cookies will be served and there will also be articles on the handicraft table; some will be for sale.

There will be another dance for teenagers, on August 21st. The meeting then closed and the hostesses, Mrs. A. Paige, Mrs. W. Verba and Mrs. K. Gallup, served refreshments.

WATERLOO
Miss Rosemary Jones accompanied Miss Marjory Moysey home from Montreal for the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Moysey. On Saturday afterwards Miss Moysey and Miss Jones motored to Enosburg Falls, Vt.

Mrs. C. P. Hunter was calling on her sister, Miss A. M. Hunter, in the Courville Rest Home, at South Stukely.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bailey, of Montreal, and Mrs. David Gunn, of Vancouver, B. C., attended the Waterloo Fair on Saturday. Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Gunn are daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Martin, formerly of Waterloo.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dandurand and children, Raymond and Marie, Levis, have been guests of Miss Annie Lessard.

from Valleyfield, where she spent a week with her sister, Mrs. A. Gaudreau, and family.

Never ignore that little R. S. V. P. at the end of a written invitation. It's the hostess' plea: "Please, please let me know how many guests to count on."

And the more promptly you reply—the better.

MAPLE HILL
Miss V. Nugent has returned to her duties in Sherbrooke, after a vacation spent at her home here. Mr. Kenneth Nugent and Mr. Billy Henderson visited Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Nugent.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Little, of Theford, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Montgomery were week-end guests of the Allan families here.

Opportunities FOR YOUNG MEN 16 YEARS OLD

Apprentice Trades Training... New Courses Start During August and September

The Canadian Army's Soldier Apprentice Plan is the answer for many young men 16 years of age seeking a job with a future. This plan offers a combination of:

- ▶ thorough trades training in one of 16 trades.
- ▶ academic training — in such subjects as physics, chemistry, algebra, English.
- ▶ military training — the basic training of the Canadian Soldier.

Soldier Apprentices live in separate wings under the supervision of selected military and civilian teachers. A carefully balanced programme of study, play and work helps to bring out the best in these young men. Learning and living with other young Canadians of their own age stimulates healthy and happy comradeship as well as intense pride in their squadrons and units.

Soldier Apprentices are eligible for all Army benefits, pensions, and the 30 days annual leave. They receive half pay while 16 but upon reaching their 17th birthday they receive full pay with extra group pay as they qualify.

The young man who is interested in the happy, healthy and purposeful life of the Soldier Apprentice should investigate immediately.

The coupon below will bring you full details without any obligation.

Numerous Rewards Offered Exhibitors At Marbleton Fair

Excellent Exhibits Will Feature Wolfe County Exposition; Fleury Music Hall, March Midway Signed

The annual Fair of the Wolfe County Agricultural Society No. One is being held at Marbleton on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. A gala entertainment program and the usual excellent exhibits will highlight this year's fair. Bob Fleury's Music Hall, featuring European entertainment, will provide the grandstand show on Tuesday evening. During the entire three days of the Fair, March Midway shows will feature the latest in rides and other special events. Races will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday. Following are the rules and regulations of the Society, to which all exhibitors must adhere:

HONORARY PRESIDENTS: Left to right are: J. A. Stewart, Henri Vachon and Dr. Gerard Lemieux, MLA, three of the honorary presidents of the Marbleton Fair, which begins on Monday and continues Tuesday and Wednesday.

regulations of the Society, to which all exhibitors must adhere: The competitors must have been bona fide owners for thirty days previous to the animals exhibited, except purebred stock. All fruit produce exhibited must be the product of the farm of the person in whose name the entry is made. No animal shall be entered for more than one class and section, prize and will not be entitled to any prize unless the party in whose name the entry is made is a member of the Society and has paid his subscription for the current year. No prize will be awarded any exhibit whatever unless the exhibit appears to deserve it. Gratuities other than the prizes mentioned in the list may be awarded by the Society in extraordinary cases. The weight of farm, draught and heavy driving horses must be attached to animals together with the tickets. All entries will be numbered by the Secretary in an entry book, and cards bearing the same number will be given to the exhibitor or those in charge of the exhibits. All hand-made articles must be made by the parties exhibiting the same. There will be no appeal from the decision of the judges but the Directors can refuse the payment of the prizes if the regulations have been violated. No prize will be awarded any exhibit unless the full amount called for in the lists is on exhibition. Competitors cannot place their names or their initials on animals or articles exhibited, on penalty of being excluded from the competition, except in the case of registered marks on stock. All articles and animals that follow will be judged at the time and date mentioned: Main Building, 10 A.M. August 18; Poultry, sheep, swine and cattle, 1 P.M. August 18; Horse, 10 A.M. August 19. All exhibits must be produced on exhibition grounds not later than 4 P.M. on the opening day of the exhibition and must remain there until 4 o'clock on the last day unless by special permission of the President. All animals must be tied up to the satisfaction of the Directors or other persons who may have charge of such animals. The prizes awarded may be discounted by the Directors if necessary. Subscriptions to be $2.00 and must be paid to the Secretary at least three days before the exhibition. Animals must be classed according to age. No prize will be awarded any stallion unless the exhibitor produces a certificate signed by a qualified veterinary surgeon stating that the stallion in question is sound and perfectly fitted to reproduce his species. Every exhibitor must reside within the limits of the Society, except the owners of stallions that have made the season within the limits of the Society. Every member who draws a prize shall, when the prizes are paid, leave $2.00 in the hands of the Secretary-Treasurer as a subscription for the succeeding year. No entries will be received by the secretary-treasurer on animals, horses, cattle, sheep and swine unless the competitor when making his entry produces a proper pedigree, certifying that the animal in question is purebred and has been properly registered as such. This rule will be strictly observed. Members' sons over 12 years

Mormon Town Is Stamped By Poverty

By JAMES CARY

Short Creek, Ariz. (AP) — Trees lining the lone street droop in the heat.

Dirty, ramshackle buildings, stark against the faded red backdrop of the vermilion cliffs, cluster along this dusty road.

Hordes of children play quietly in the pink sand that stretches over the dreary, monotonous wasteland. The stamp of poverty is everywhere.

This is Short Creek, tiny village near the Utah border where polygamy has flourished for 20 years; where time seems to have been turned back three-quarters of a century to a rude frontier culture.

The women wear long, 19th-century dresses. There is practically no electricity, and plumbing is a luxury not all can afford.

It was this remote settlement, almost lost in the isolated vastness north of the Grand Canyon, that was the scene recently of the largest police action in Arizona's history.

A hundred and two officers descended on the community before dawn July 26 and seized virtually the entire populace, 34 men, 50 women and 263 children.

From that date a running argument began. Some said the state was wrong in taking such drastic action. Others said it was right.

Leroy Johnson, 65, purported leader of the colony, said in the early light of that fateful day: "We have done no wrong. We just practise our religion according to our beliefs. We believe in the original tenets of the Mormon church.

"The women don't have to marry if they don't want to. I defy anyone to prove that any girl was ever forced into a marriage. The constitution permits us to worship as we please and the state would try to take that away from us."

The attitude of the state contrasts sharply, Governor Howard Pyle expressed it in a radio address following the raid.

He said the operation was launched to suppress an "insurrection within our own borders," and to protect children who "are the product and victim of the foulest conspiracy you could possibly imagine."

He said the town was dedicated "to the production of white slaves who are without hope of escaping."

The adults were accused of a wide range of crimes, including bigamy, open and notorious cohabitation, statutory rape and adultery.

The polygamists, defiant and angry, reject this view.

"We are not immoral," said Spencer Johnson, 32. "Every woman is sealed to a single man by the church."

Others pointed out that the bible tells of both David and Abraham having multiple wives.

In 1890 the Mormon church outlawed polygamy and in that action the seeds of the Short Creek colony were sown. The "fundamentalists" who disagreed with the ruling drifted south of Utah into the Arizona strip" country, isolated from the rest of the state by the Grand Canyon. In 1933 they began moving into Short Creek.

Attempts to root them out in 1935 and 1944 failed. Now the state is determined to crush the group.

"Every adult will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law," said Ross Jones, Arizona attorney-general.

His plan calls for breaking up the communal "united effort" fund into which all assets of the town are poured, for stripping the cultists of their property rights in the area and sending the participants in the "conspiracy", both men and women, to jail.

Meanwhile the state is making exhaustive efforts to feed and clothe the mothers and children pending the day when their fate will be decided.

Indians Blast Royals, 25-4, After Losing Opener In 12

Dennis Luby And Bob Diers Homer, Each With Bases Loaded As Danny Osinski Wins 14th; Here On Sunday

A base-hit famine in one game and too many safe blows in another was the menu served 1,251 partisan ball fans at Municipal Stadium last night. The League-leading Sherbrooke Indians bowed out in 12 innings, 5-3, to Drummondville Royals in the opening game and rank amok against the visitors in the afterpiece, 25-4.

Dennis Luby and Bob Diers sparked the local barrage in the second game last night, each with grand-slam home runs. Luby had six RBIs for the night and Diers five. It was the 18th circuit blast of the year for Diers.

Luby also hit a double as did Don Sauer when Jack Waters contributed two two-base blows. Every man in the Sherbrooke lineup got at least one hit in the second-game slaughter, against five visiting hurriers, even pitcher Danny Osinski, who went two for five, socked home three runs and set down Royals on six hits for his 14th win of the year, against six defeats.

It was a very different story in the first game of the twin bill which was a real pitching battle between Royal's Rocky Sgro and Sherbrooke's Len Nayman. The first game was scheduled for seven innings but five additional frames were required before Drummondville got its winning runs.

Sgro gave up only six hits along the 12-inning route. Nayman yielded 16, including a home run by Len Pearson, but was good in the clutches and left 17 Royals stranded on the basepaths. Sgro and Nayman pitched runless ball from the third inning on until Nayman weakened in the 12th. Sgro won his own ball game with a long single into center field which scored Tracy from second base.

Sherbrooke spotted Royals two runs in the first inning of the opener on two hits, two bases on balls and an error. The locals tied it up in the second on consecutive doubles by Bob O'Donnell and Don Harper and a fly ball by Waters who had been sent to third on Nayman's sacrifice. Drummondville scored a third run in the third on Pearson's homer with the bases empty, but Indians put together a hit, error and two walks to tie it at 3-3, also in the third frame. That was all the scoring until the 12th when Royals got their two runs.

Indians made up for Osinski what they couldn't give Nayman. An eight-run second inning decided the second game although Sherbrooke scored three in the fourth, four in the fifth, nine in the seventh and one in the eighth. Osinski pitched hitless ball for the first five innings, gave up two runs on one hit and an error in the sixth, three hits for two more runs in the eighth and two more hits in the ninth.

Sherbrooke took the game in the second on three walks, one man hit by pitcher and three hits, including Luby's four-run homer. Diers hit his bases-loaded four-master in the fifth inning.

Indians are on the road until Sunday evening when they play at Municipal Stadium with the fourth-place Thetford Miners as opposition.

New London, Conn. — Gib Brown, 156 Hartford, knocked out Paul Cashman, 155, Middletown (4).

A six-bout boxing program will be presented this evening at 8:30 at the Canada Paper Mills Arena in Windsor Mills.

Promoter Les Connor, who has lined up well-matched cards in the past, has signed several top-notch provincial boxers to appear in tonight's show.

The main event of the evening will see Vern Stevenson of Montreal and Tony Percy, of Drummondville over the 8-round route.

This should be one of the best battles seen locally in quite some time as both boys know their business and are rated as top Canadian middleweight professional prospects.

Maurice Everett, a former Golden Glove champion with lots of ring know-how, faces Paul Gendron in the six-round semi-final.

Two five round bouts are also on tap. These bouts will show Yvonne Twine with Gerard "Tarzan" Beaudet while "Butch" Bousquet tackles Jack Forbes.

A four-round bout between Roger Cote and Maurice Ponton should prove crowd-pleasing as both fighters will go all out in search of a win.

The opening fight of the evening will be a three-round affair between Claude A an and Gilbert Gamache.

Matches continue this week and next.

Margot Poulin and Mrs. R. Bilo-deau def. Pierrette Maltais and Jeannette Cote 9-7, 6-4.

Raise In Subway Fare Hoists Cost Of World Series From Look Of Things; Yanks And Dodgers Cop Close Ones

It looks as if it's going to cost more to commute between the World Series ball parks this fall — but only because they've raised the subway fare in New York City.

After seven nickel series and three dime classics the fare went up to 10 cents in 1948, this year's big show appears set to be a "token" affair. Tokens replaced cash when the fares were hiked to 15 cents last month.

Barring miracles, the participants will be New York Yankees, for the fifth straight year, and Brooklyn Dodgers, for the second time in a row.

Chicago White Sox and Milwaukee Braves continue to put up game, but most probably vain, fights from their second-place spots. The schedules and the standings are against both of them.

Chicago trails the Yankees by seven games and the two clubs play each other only five more times. Milwaukee is 7 1/2 behind Brooklyn with just four games remaining against the Dodgers. For both would-be contenders this means they have to rely on help from the rest of the league and no such help is in sight.

The Yankees whipped Washington 6-1 Thursday night after Chicago had turned back third-place Cleveland 7-3 in a 10-inning daylight battle. Brooklyn came from five runs behind for the second straight game to edge New York Giants 9-8 in 10 innings. Milwaukee wasn't scheduled.

In other action Philadelphia nipped Boston 1-0 and St. Louis squeezed by Detroit 1-0 in 11 innings in the American League. Cincinnati walloped Chicago 10-2 and Pittsburgh shaded Philadelphia 4-3 in the National.

Steady Eddie Lopat posted his 10th consecutive victory against the Senators. The sixth-hit triumph was his 12th of the year and his fifth this season against Bucky Harris' crew. Jackie Jensen's double and a single by Keith Thomas in the seventh produced the only Washington run. New York wrapped it up with three in the fourth on doubles by Joe Collins and Gene Woodling and singles by Gil McDougald and Hank Bauer.

Virgil Trucks pitched and batted his way to his 10th victory since joining Chicago in mid-June. After a home run by Cleveland's Larry Doby with two out in the ninth had tied the score Trucks singled home the deciding run in the top of the 10th. Minnie Minoza led the 12-hit Chicago attack with a triple and three singles.

Joe Coleman, a mainstay of the Athletics' mound staff five years ago, gave up just three singles to Boston in winning his first game in Philadelphia in four seasons. Coleman, who has had serious arm trouble, also scored the only run of the game, riding home on Joe de Maestri's single after he had opened the sixth inning with a double.

The Browns got the run at St. Louis when Vic Wertz doubled and Vern Stephens singled in the 11th. Ned Garver absorbed the loss after giving up only three hits in the first nine innings.

Roy Campanello of Brooklyn has hit 31 home runs this season but he hadn't connected in the Polo Grounds until Thursday night. With two men aboard and the Dodgers trailing by four runs in the seventh, Roy poked a Hoyt Wilhelm pitch into the lower right-field seats. In the ninth with two out and the Dodgers still a run behind he lofted another Wilhelm delivery off the scoreboard in left field for another homer.

Carl Furillo connected with Wilhelm's first offering in the 10th and drilled it into the upper left-field seats for the run that won the game.

Home runs figured heavily in the scoring at Pittsburgh, too. Frank Thomas blasted a pair for the winning Pirates and Earl Torgeson got one for the Phils. Although they won, the Pirates were mathematically eliminated from the pennant race. They couldn't catch Brooklyn now even if they won all of their remaining 35 games.

Ted Kluszewski got four hits and four runs, Willard Marshall hit his 14th home run and the Cubs contributed four errors as Cincinnati routed Chicago.

Well-Balanced Card On Agenda For Tomorrow Night's Racing Fans; New Entries Making Debut On Local Track

Judging from the racing program listed for tomorrow evening at the local race track the fans should witness some very good classes before winners are declared in the eight events on the card.

In the first two races on the program, both which are single dash-85, eight horses are entered and the experts may have a little trouble in picking the winners. Several new horses are making their debut with some of the favorites and this may cause a little upset in picking the winners.

In all the twin-heat affairs the number of horses have dropped and this is attributed to the fact that a slight attack of distemper has broken out in one of the stables at the track. However it is hoped that this will clear up and that things will be back on par once again.

In the B Pace six horses will face the barrier with the same amount in the B and BB Trot while in the A Pace only five will go after the money. Kathleen Volo, owned by Fabi and Pils, is rated a little ahead of the rest but Brooke Evans and Brady Signal could upset the dope.

In the Trot a new entry, Real McCoy, may give the rest of the event a surprise as he is making his first start at the local track. In the fifth and eighth race any one of the five starters could emerge the winner and this should be a real duel right to the wire.

Visiting Clubs Like The Money From Milwaukee

Milwaukee — (AP) — National League travelling secretaries are developing an occupational ailment this year — called thumbs from counting their club's money after a series at Milwaukee with the Braves.

Leo Ward of the St. Louis Cardinals is the latest "victim." His club drew 105,627 fans for a three-day series ending Wednesday night which means the Cardinals took close to $24,000 out of here. Visiting teams get 22 1/2 cents on each paid admission by the turnstile figures.

The series was the biggest of the season here. The previous high for a three-day set was last June when Brooklyn pulled 103,880.

The Braves already have drawn 1,344,835 paid admissions for 49 playing dates at their Milwaukee county Stadium home, top figure in the major leagues. That makes the average 27,446.

If the average holds up the Braves will come close to 1,800,000 for the season. The all-time National League record is 1,807,526 at Brooklyn in 1947.

Sal "The Barber" Figures He Will Be OK Next Year

New York — (AP) — Sal (The Barber) Maglie thinks he can return to his winning ways next year despite advancing years and physical ailments that have reduced his effectiveness by 50 per cent this year.

The one-time pitching ace of New York Giants hastens to add, however, that he will retire from baseball should his ailing back or sore arm continue to give him trouble next spring.

"I will never take money under false pretences," said the grim $36,000-a-year right-hander. "If my back hurts so that I can't follow through or my arm does not act right in training camp next spring, I will turn in my uniform. I'm not going to go through such a year as this again, no matter how much money they pay me."

Despite five straight failures, climaxed by a kyo at the hands of Brooklyn Dodgers Tuesday night, the 36-year-old Maglie thinks he will be all right soon. His season record is a disappointing 8-8, a drastic drop from his 18-8 record last year and 23-6 in 1951. His last complete game came July 16.

Doctors have advised Maglie the only cure for his aching right shoulder is steady work.

THURSDAY'S STARS
Batting
Roy Campanella, Brooklyn Dodgers, drove in four runs with two home runs as Brooklyn beat New York 9-8 in 10 innings.
Pitching
Joe Coleman, Philadelphia Athletics, gave up only three singles in defeating Boston 1-0.

New Touch Added As Canadian Junior Tennis Championships Begin At Ottawa

Ottawa — (AP) — A new touch will be added to the Canadian junior tennis championships opening here today at the Rideau Lawn Tennis Club.

Eddie Condon, chairman of the tourney and vice-chairman of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association junior development committee, said Thursday that closed championships will be held in the junior men's singles and the boys' and girls' singles for the first time in the five-year history of the event.

Only Canadian talent will be allowed to enter the closed matches.

Some 215 players from Canada, the United States and other countries have entered the 11 events of the week-long championships. Thirty of them are from the States.

In the past, American entries, backed by more tournament experience, have grabbed the lion's share of the honors at the Canadian, forcing the formation of the closed matches.

Mariette Laframboise, blond husky daughter of a Montreal policeman, won the only major title for Canada last year, the junior women's singles. She will be back to defend the title and as there is little American competition in the event, it will not be closed. Miss Laframboise also paired to win the junior women's doubles last year.

The closed title matches will not begin immediately. However, if United States players show signs of winning top honors in the open singles, closed matches will be started. About 16 players will be picked to enter each of the strictly Canadian championships.

The junior men's singles title, nearly always carried by the States, will more likely have a closed half. Plectrofted Stephen Gottlieb of New York, won it last year by beating defending champion Dudley Johnston of Jacksonville, Fla. He will defend the title.

Petite Joyce Saganski, a blonde from Hamtramck, Mich., who sparked her clubmates as they won most of the events for the young fry last year, won't be back.

John Swann of Vancouver, the only Canadian boy to win a title in 1952, is staying away this year. He teamed up with an American player to win the junior men's doubles.

No closed matches will be held in the doubles events.

Most of the 17 courts of the Rideau Club, on the shore of the Rideau river, will be taken up with the inter-provincial team matches today.

Egyptian Trophy For Canada Swim

Toronto — (AP) — A challenge cup for the annual women's 10-mile swim at the Canadian National Exhibition has been presented by the Long Distance Swimming Federation of Egypt, George Duffin, CNE sports director, said Thursday.

The trophy is to be fought for during the next five years. The swimmer with the most wins at the end of that time will take permanent possession.
