CHARLTON MOTION WAS OVERWHELMED

The Premier, in Powerful Speech, Shows it to be Inopportune and Ill-advised—Mr. Bourassa Supports It.

(From The Herald's Special Staff Correspondent)

Ottawa, April 23.—Canada's men but no suggestions to offer for the settlement of the Boer war. Parliament to-day declined to recommend clemency for the battling burghers. A motion by Mr. John Charlton, and seconded by Mr. Henri Bourassa, that the Boers be mildly dealt with was promptly and emphatically overwhelmed. The concensus of opinion expressed by the men who spoke was that the Boers would get good treatment perhaps too good—and the resolution was not necessary. The quality of mercy will not be strained to any great extent if the views of Col. Sam Hughes and Mr. Frank Oliver prevail. The latter, a member from the boisterous West, strongly intimated that the mover and seconder were influenced by unworthy motives.

The sympathetic motion which Mr. Charlton put to-day, and which the House firmly put back at him, differs considerably from the one he gave notice of yesterday. The mind of the member for North Norfolk seems to have changed a good deal in a night. His motion to-day was:—

"This House is of opinion that British supremacy should be maintained and firmly established in South Africa, to which end Canada has cheerfully contributed men and money. Having in view the effect of a policy of magnanimity and mercy at the cession of Canada and at the close of the civil-war in the United States, and for other reasons, this House is of the opinion that, in the interest of peace and future tranquility, harmony and homogeneity in South Africa, the broadest policy of magnanimity and mercy may be extended to a brave foe now opposing British arms upon condition of submission to British control, and upon this opinion, humbly presented with the prayerful hope that it may aid in securing a favorable and honorable settlement of South Africa hostilities and difficulties, this House invokes the considerate judgment of His Gracious Majesty the King."

MR. CHARLTON DEFENDS HIS MOTION.

"This resolution," Mr. Charlton said, "is not offered as a vote of want of confidence; it is not intended as a pro-Boer resolution, and is not intended to embody any political principle. At my own request, it will be seconded by a representative French member, who, I am glad to say, believes that British supremacy must and should be the future of South Africa. The reasons for the strife or the causes of the war are not touched upon by the resolution. It deals only with the character of the settlement. It may be said it is impertinent to offer this humble expression of opinion. (Loud "Hear, hears," from both sides of the House). But have we, who have given blood and treasure, not a right to express an opinion when peace is about to be declared?"

The motion might be useless, might have no weight. On the contrary, it might be extremely useful and exercise a welcome moderating influence in opposition to the pressure on the British Government from Cape Colony and Natal calling for condign vengeance upon the conquered. If it did no good, it would at least do no harm.

"I will," said Mr. Charlton, "probably be criticized for having introduced this motion, but what bothers me is only whether I ought to have done as I have done."

The passage of this resolution would not be taken as evidence of a lack of loyalty. The assistance furnished by Canada in the struggle was not due to a feeling of self-interest, and the passage of the resolution would be looked upon as a natural desire to see the struggle brought to an honorable end.

While generous treatment is desired, British authority must prevail. No other peace proposition can be accepted by Canada. The Transvaal, the Orange Free State and Cape Colony must acknowledge one authority. The South African territory consists of a million and a half of square miles, with vast possibilities for the development of wealth. It has been the scene of a great struggle, which has demonstrated the supremacy of British arms, and now we had come to guerilla war and the eve of peace. In the Transvaal, the Orange Free State and the Cape Colony, the Boer and Afrikander should be treated alike. The Boer has been a brave foe, has fought and has been defeated. Two courses now present themselves. The war can be terminated by protracting the struggle until the Boer cause is stamped into the dust. It can be so continued, but it will take a long time, and a great expenditure of men and money, and will leave in South Africa the dregs of terrible bitterness. There is another way to end the struggle, and that is by the exercise of peace and mercy.

Great Britain is to-day facing reconstruction in South Africa. The whole of South Africa must go under one flag and acknowledge one king. To establish such a union the Afrikander and Boer must be assimilated, and a federation, similar to that of the United States, Canada, and Australia, formed. There are thousands of Boer prisoners in St. Helena, in Ceylon, and in Bermuda, who must be returned to their homes. How much better that they should go back with grateful hearts for generous treatment than sulking in bitterness for harsh usage. But in Cape Colony and Natal there are men who are clamoring for revenge, and to strengthen the hand of the British Government against these the resolution is offered.

The Boers have been a brave foe. They will make a fine component ethnic [illegible] South African Federation. The Boer comes of a noble [illegible] drove the Duke of Alva from the country and furnished the Prince of Orange to England.

As an [illegible] the beneficent effects of generous treatment accorded the conquered by the conqueror, he instanced the Treaty of Paris, which in 1763 had made the French in Canada loyal and satisfied subjects, the Dutch of New York, and the [illegible] the United States. He hoped the same treatment would be given the Boers, and was certain the same result would follow.

MR. BOURASSA DOES NOT WHOLLY AGREE.

Mr. Bourassa said he did not agree with all the sentiments uttered by Mr. Charlton, but the sentiments embodied in the resolution, but agreeing with it in the main, he had decided to the requisition of his English fellow-member to second the resolution. As far as British supremacy is concerned, said Mr. Bourassa, he had stated from the beginning that it was necessary, and still maintained that it must be the outcome of the war. But British supremacy can only be established by keeping British traditions of amnesty to a conquered foe. A resolution of the Canadian Parliament to offer such a resolution as this, he was absolutely no question. It could not be held that Canada can be [illegible] up to offer money and blood but the Canadian Parliament cannot offer an opinion. This Parliament should not attempt to be more loyal than the people of England or his ministers. In the budget speech a day or two ago Sir Michael Hicks-Beach said it was the hope of the Government to be able to grant generous terms to the Boers, and it was intended to stock the [illegible] This declaration was cheered in the British Parliament. The Chancellor of the Imperial Exchequer had stated this generous treatment was to be extended not only to the citizens of the Transvaal and the Orange Free State who took up arms, but to all other avowed enemies that had been dealt with in this war. The example of England's generosity to the Free State in 1866 was not a parallel case. Then, though the Danish had won on the battlefield, they had been defeated in Europe, and the peace had been a peace of give and take.

Mr. Bourassa thought that the resolution would be useful, as there were men in Cape Colony and Natal who were insisting upon receiving their pound of flesh by way of revenge, even though they jeopardized the blessing [illegible] of peace. Mr. Bourassa said that it he had been a Boer he would prefer to have his case submitted to the British Government than to certain colonial public men.

NEWS OF CITY AND DISTRICT.

CANADA'S TRADE WITH WEST INDIES

It Would be Greatly Increased by Direct Transportation Facilities.

At the regular meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade, yesterday afternoon, Mr. Robert Munro, treasurer of the board, who has returned from a trip to the West Indies in the interests of the Manufacturers' Association, of which he is president, stated that the chambers of commerce and the merchants on the islands were willing to do business with Canada, but direct transportation facilities were first required. At present the greater part of the trade between Canada and the West Indies was via the United States. This is unsatisfactory to both parties.

President McFee told the council of his trip to Ottawa on Tuesday to oppose before the Private Bills Committee, on behalf of the board, those provisions of the bill incorporating the Montreal & St. Lawrence Bridge Company which provide for the alienation of harbor property for the company's works. Consideration of the bill, however, was again postponed.

Mr. McFee and the president of the Chambre de Commerce again interviewed the Premier with respect to the proposal to invite the chambers of commerce of the Empire to hold their next congress in Montreal. Sir Wilfrid's attitude towards the project was very encouraging.

An interview was also had with the Minister of Trade and Commerce touching on the need of subsidizing a steamship service between Canada and South Africa.

The council has addressed a letter to the Postmaster-General stating the matter of the desired reduction of the postal rate on newspapers and periodicals between Great Britain and Canada and vice versa was deemed of sufficient importance to engage the attention of the forthcoming conference of colonial premiers in London, and expressed the hope that the desired reduction might be brought about. Mr. Mulock had answered that he would carefully consider the board's suggestion.

The St. Stephen, N.B., Board of Trade had written that it had adopted a resolution concurring in the resolution of the Montreal board with regard to Imperial preferential trade; and the St. John Board of Trade had communicated a copy of the resolution on this subject adopted at a special meeting of that board.

Notification had been received from the Toronto Board of Trade that the conference of boards of trade, to which the Montreal Board had already agreed to send delegates, would be held at Toronto June 4-5, and, if necessary, June 6, and stating that the resolutions adopted at that conference would be submitted to Sir Wilfrid Laurier prior to his departure for England. The following subjects were cited as deserving the consideration of the conference: Trade relations within the Empire; transportation, defence, postal and telegraph communication, and the recent levying by the Imperial Government of a duty on wheat and its products without preference to the colonies.

Another letter stated that Mr. Paul Jarvis, secretary of the Toronto Board of Trade, would call on the secretary of the Montreal board to-morrow, and expressed a desire to meet the executive in order that the best ways and means might be discussed to ensure the success of the conference. The executive will meet Mr. Jarvis to-morrow afternoon.

Mr. George Robertson, president of the Imperial Dry Dock Company, St. John, N.B., had written, asking the council to support the efforts of his company to procure such amendments to the act to encourage the construction of dry docks as would provide for the subsidy of 2 per cent. per annum on the cost of the work, during twenty years, being made 3 per cent.

The council ordered that Mr. Robertson be informed that it heartily endorsed the application he was making to the Government.

The Halifax Board of Trade had communicated a very lengthy resolution on steel shipbuilding, adopted by that body, and the gist of which was contained in the closing paragraph:—

"Be it resolved, therefore, that in order to encourage the investment of capital and labor in this industry, this board recommends that the Government at Ottawa pass a measure granting assistance to steel shipbuilding in Canada, which shall be sufficient in amount to place Canada on a parity at least with our chief competitors, and extend over a term of years long enough to thoroughly establish this industry, so that it may hold its own against outside competition."

The council, which recently petitioned the Government in favor of subsidizing inland marine shipbuilding, was quite in accord with the Halifax Board of Trade to procure a like encouragement to ocean shipbuilding, and it ordered that the Halifax board be informed to this effect.

Attention was called to the proposed amendment by the Harbor Commissioners of their by-law 57, in connection with the commissioners' responsibility for damage to goods passing over the wharves, both inwards and outwards, a copy of the by-law as proposed to be amended being submitted.

The matter was referred to the Harbor and Navigation Committee, in case any action thereon might seem to it to be desirable.

Mr. Alexander B. Rattray, produce merchant, was admitted to membership on the board.

There were present at the meeting:—Messrs. Alex. McFee, president; Robert Munro, treasurer; C. Coughlin, James Davidson, J. C. Holden, T. F. How, Dumont Laviolette, Jas. Thom and W. W. Watson.

ADMIRALTY AWAKE TO SHIPPING DANGER

London, April 24.—In the House of Commons to-day, the Secretary of the Admiralty, Hugh O. Arnold-Forster, replying to a question, said the Admiralty was considering the whole matter of ship subsidies, with the view of defining the rights of the Admiralty, in the event of contingencies arising, such as the suggested shipping combine. When the present form of agreement was settled upon, no trade combinations under foreign control were contemplated, but the Admiralty had appointed a committee to consider and report on the purpose and form of future subsidy agreements. The Admiralty in the meanwhile had made arrangements with the White Star line which preclude the possibility of any of their armed cruisers or merchant steamers being transferred to a foreign flag without the consent of the Admiralty during the unexpired portion of the Admiralty agreements. Important legal points were involved, including the question whether, in the event of war, there was anything to prevent these companies from substituting a foreign for the British flag at short notice, and whether the Admiralty has the means of enforcing its right of pre-emption or hire in such case; or if, by abandoning the subvention, the companies could claim that the right of pre-emption ceased. All such points would be carefully considered, and the Admiralty's rights would be ascertained.

LATEST NEWS FROM MILNER AT CAPE

London, April 24.—Government circles are to-day more optimistic regarding peace in South Africa than they have been for some days. This optimism is the result of information from Lord Milner more definite than that which heretofore has been received and of a most interesting character. What the information is has not yet been announced.

SYDNEY WOMAN LOST IN THE WOODS.

Sydney, C.B., April 24.—A woman named Mrs. McKenzie, of North East Margaree, Inverness County, a widow, has been missing from home for seven days and friends now think she has perished. Her footprints were followed on the snow leading in the direction of the Big Intervale Mountain, but here further traces were lost, the snow having melted. Large searching parties are making every effort to discover her, but so far have been unsuccessful. The woman was eighty years of age and at the time of her disappearance the weather was very cold and the snow is current that she strayed off in the dense forests on the Intervale Mountain and perished.

INVADING CANADA.

The "Mail Order" Periodical, Evicted from the United States, May Get a Foothold Here.

Washington, April 24.—(Special.)—The "mail order" papers recently excluded by the Postoffice Department from second class mail privileges are planning to go to Canada. One has already gone. The Postoffice Department has requested the Canadian postal authorities to check their operations in Canada.

These papers, which formerly claimed the cent-a-pound rate, are now ruled out as being purely for advertising purposes. They are substantially periodical catalogues of houses doing a mail order business, and are sent free to regular or prospective purchasers.

RECURRENCE OF FEVER.

The Hague, April 24.—A bulletin issued this morning from Castle Loo says Queen Wilhelmina had another quiet night. The patient's temperature is satisfactory and she is taking sufficient nourishment.

A bulletin issued from Castle Loo at 3 o'clock this afternoon says:

"A recurrence of high temperature this afternoon makes it manifest that every care is still requisite."

The three o'clock bulletin regarding the Queen's condition occasioned some anxiety, but the fact that Prince Henry took his customary ride and that the Queen's mother went for a drive was regarded as a favorable sign.

Dr. Roessingh will continue to remain at the Castle Loo for the present.

Remodelling Digestive Vigor.

MALT BREAKFAST FOOD
DOES THE GOOD WORK.

A breakfast grain food that can remodel impaired digestion is surely worth trying. Malt Breakfast Food does this good work in a way that cannot be accomplished by any other breakfast food seeking public recognition.

A noted city physician, an authority on scientific dietetics, recently asserted that the majority of prepared grain foods tended to indigestion and stomach derangements, for the reason that these foods contained too great a quantity of insoluble starch and other elements difficult to digest.

Malt Breakfast Food, partially cooked and predigested, is free from insoluble starch and other ingredients that hamper digestion. It has given new digestive vigor to thousands of dyspeptics and banished their troubles. No other grain food is so delicious, appetizing, satisfying and healthful for young and old. Ask your grocer for it.

COMBATING THE INSANITY PLEA

Beauharnois, Que., April 24.—Evidence to combat the plea of insanity in the Long murder trial was continued yesterday afternoon. George Miller, one of the coroner's jury, said he had heard Long correct a witness when he called the deceased a wron gname. He had known the prisoner and his appearance after the murder was the same as it had always been. James Vas gave corroborative evidence and then Sam. M. Miller, of Dundee Centre, was called. He had always considered the accused to be a cool and intelligent man.

Andrew Philps, Justice of the Peace, of Huntingdon, produced receipts of insurance money paid to the prisoner after the burning of his house and also receipts of the money realized by the auction sale. All these receipts are signed by prisoner. He then related that on October 3 last Long came to him to give himself up, saying that he had shot a man. Witness asked him whom he had shot and he answered it was Daniel Labre, and he added that he did not have any quarrel with Labre, but killed him because his beans had been stolen. The prisoner made these declarations of his own free will.

Dr. E. P. Chagnon, of Montreal, gave an explanation of the wound and of the red spot found on the victim's body. To-day the first witness was William D. McCallum, the bailiff, who had charge of Long after he had given himself up.

CONVOCATION OF BISHOP'S COLLEGE

Medical and Dental Degrees Are Conferred on Graduates Yesterday.

The Synod Hall of the University of Bishops' College was the scene of an interesting ceremony yesterday afternoon, when the annual convocation of the medical and dental faculties was held. The Union Jack, the purple and white flags of the medical faculty, and the blue and red of the dental, formed appropriate and bright decorations for the platform, and lent a pleasing color to the scene which was witnessed by a large assemblage of friends of the participants and partisans of the university who filled the auditorium.

Rev. Dr. Whitney, vice-chancellor of the college, presided, owing to the much-regretted but unavoidable absence of the chancellor, Dr. John Hamilton.

The dean of the medical faculty, Dr. F. W. Campbell, after the opening prayer, reported that the following had passed all examinations for the degrees of C.M., D.M.:—

C. M. Cass, D. K. H. Cowley, E. G. Gale, James McGregor, W. H. Still, C. W. Smith, W. F. Roach.

The following are prize-winners:—

Wood Gold Medal—James McGregor.

Nelson Gold Medal—Jas. McGregor.

Chancellor's Prize—C. M. Cass.

David Silver Medal—James J. McGovern.

Practical Anatomy Prize—First year, F. W. Aris; second year, G. F. Faulkner.

Histology Prize—R. F. Barrett.

The attendance at the college had been about the same as last year, there being students from all the Eastern Provinces of the Dominion, England and the United States. A building fund had been instituted during the year; it now amounted to $2,000, and was in the hands of Sir Melbourne Tait, Dr. G. R. England and Dr. Geo. Fisk as trustees. Dr. Wood, for ten years in practice in Montreal, and now one of the best-known oculists in Chicago, had endowed permanently the gold medal that he had for some time given annually. The faculty had been reorganized during the past year, and a large number of the younger practitioners had been admitted, with very good results.

MEDICAL FACULTY.

Dr. Giles, dean of the dental faculty, in his report said that the students who had passed the examinations for the degree of D.D.S. were:—Walter C. Bazin, Lorne R. Morrin and H. B. Adams. Twenty-four students attended during the session, all of whom came from the Province of Quebec, and had passed a matriculation examination equal to that of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the Province of Quebec. Over forty operations had been performed at the Dental Infirmary, and Dr. Giles expressed the earnest wish that money could be found to keep the institution open for eleven instead of six months a year, whereby much suffering, which the large hospitals of the city do nothing to relieve, might be obviated.

CONFERRING DEGREES.

The ceremony of conferring the degrees and presenting the diplomas, prizes and medals was then gone through, the oath of allegiance to the king being administered to the British subjects, and the medical oath to the graduates.

Dr. D. K. H. Cowley delivered the valedictory on the medical class. He referred to the excellent relations of the class to the faculty, to the number of Bishop's men in the Transvaal and to the degree of LL.D. given by the university to an old graduate, Dr. W. H. Drummond.

Dr. W. E. Deeks addressed the medical graduates on behalf of the faculty. He advised them to take hospital work at first if possible, and criticised the clinical methods of instruction as not dwelling enough upon the simple medical and surgical cases.

Dr. Lorne R. Morrin read the valedictory for the dental students, and Dr. Stephenson, president of the Dental Board of the Province of Quebec, replied.

Rev. Principal Whitney cited the history of the medical schools at Cambridge and Manchester as illustrating the great principles on which all medical advance must be based. He urged the graduates, while preparing themselves for their work, to aim at the success that, if it is not always paid for in wealth or fame, never misses its reward of love and sympathy.

Among those present were:—Rev. Principal Whitney, Dr. F. W. Campbell, Dr. Giles, Dr. George Fisk, Dr. G. T. Ross, Dr. Reddy, Dr. Stephenson, Dr. McConnell, Dr. W. Deeks, Professor Donald, and Mr. F. W. Frith.

FRANCE WANTS TO KNOW ABOUT OUR INDUSTRIES

Mr. T. Oholaski, the brother of Mr. Oholaski, Inspector of mines for the Province of Quebec, has been delegated by the Minister of Public Instruction of France, and by the Natural History Museum, to visit Canada, report on the different industries of the country, principally paper and pulp making, and to make collections for the national Museum. Mr. Oblaski will explore the Northeast extending to Georgian Bay, but will first go to Quebec for the opening of navigation on the rivers and canals. He will then visit Ontario.

SHIP FEVER STONE NOW IN NEW PLACE

Historic Monument Moved Early This Morning to St. Patrick's Park.

The large historic boulder, which has for so many years marked the resting-place near the northern approach of the Victoria Bridge of the thousands of Irish emigrants who perished through ship fever, has recently become a veritable "stone of contention." Those sturdy, intrepid settlers, to whose memory it has been a lasting monument, symbolic in its rough, unpolished state, of the rough and weighty hardships which they endured, were some of them Catholic and some Protestants. Some time ago it was suggested to remove the monument to a place midway between the two cemeteries of these different denominations, situated back of the mountain; others desired that it occupy its old original location, while yet others wanted it to be placed in the centre of St. Patrick's Square in Point St. Charles.

It was eventually moved to the intersection of Wellington and St. Patrick Streets, where it remained until about three o'clock this morning. At about that hour the Grand Trunk Railroad built a temporary siding from there to the centre of St. Patrick's Square, and thither brought the boulder on a car; an excavation was soon made and a foundation of cut freestone put in place, and unless something unforseen intervenes, by three o'clock this afternoon the historic monument will occupy this new-found resting-place.

Whatever the merits or demerits of the new location, one thing is certain, and that is that the Irish Society most strenuously object to having the G.T.R. or anybody else interfere with what disposition shall be made of it, since it is a question which they deem peculiarly their own, and the action of the G.T.R. has elicited a storm of indignation. It is hard to predict what the outcome will be, but that some speedy action will be taken seems more than probable.

In certain quarters to-day the atmosphere is decidedly heated, and the action of the railroad is deprecated and condemned in terms both plain and forceful. That the move made last night had been carefully planned is eloquently testified to by the quick results accomplished, and that preparations had been made is evidenced by the cut stone ready to hand.

MONTREAL HAS SENT 131 MEN

Recruiting for the South African contingent closed at the Drill Hall at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, and unless further orders are received, no more will be examined.

So far as is now known, then, the Montreal contribution to the contingent will consist of one hundred and thirty-one men, of whom 109 have already been enrolled, and the remaining 22 have passed the medical examination and will be sworn in to-morrow.

Eleven men, the last of those already enrolled, left this morning by the Grand Trunk Railway for Halifax, under command of Acting Sergeant R. B. Williams. Their names were: F. Rinton, R. Brown, A. F. Burns, E. V. Coodican, H. Darregon, S. Martin, G. Martin, E. Henderson, A. V. Demuche, G. D. Condie.

WIND TO-DAY WAS IN PLAYFUL MOOD

It is generally conceded that April is the month of all months, in Montreal at any rate, which keeps one guessing and this month thus far, might be designated as a meteorological interrogation point. There has been no lack of weather, and the greater part of it has not been pleasant.

During the past two days the wind has been running things, causing the weather to resemble that of the late fall rather than that of balmy spring. It began to gather strength yesterday afternoon, and since then has blown with considerable violence at times. Trees in some parts of the city have been injured, weakened shutters and signs torn down, and other damage done, but no very serious injury to property has been reported.

In one of its frolics this morning the wind toyed with an empty barrel on Craig Street, and after doing a Japanese whirling stunt with it, dumped it in front of a trolley car. Those citizens who live in houses with English sliding windows complained that their rest was disturbed during the night by the rattling of the windows. The period of the equinoctial gales was just a month ago, so this meteorological disturbance may be looked upon as a vernal freak and not likely to amount to much. It may be worth mentioning that it snowed slightly about one o'clock this afternoon.

FLAMES BLOT OUT COOPERVILLE, ONT.

Chatham, Ont., April 24.—(Special.)—Cooperville village, 12 miles north of this city, was wiped out by fire yesterday, and as a result hundreds of people are homeless.

A neighboring marsh had been set on fire, and the flames, carried by a strong wind, swept down on the village and obliterated it. Four teams were used to plough a break in the path of the fire, but huge volumes of smoke and fire came rushing on at such a rate that the men were forced to cut the horses loose and seek safety. The horses went to their stable and perished.

Fortunately, all the inhabitants were warned, and there were no fatalities.

Cooperville had been built up around the saw mills of John Cooper, and was a thriving village of twelve hundred people. Mr. Cooper places his loss at $400,000. Farmers in the vicinity are taking care of the homeless.

DEATH OF CAPT. BLISS, FORMER YUKON OFFICER

Sherbrooke, Que., April 24.—(Special.)—Capt. A. Bliss, of Compton, formerly of the Government office in the Yukon, died late last evening. The funeral will take place on Saturday at 1.30 p.m.

BOYS STOLE BICYCLES.

In the Police Court to-day John Brogen and Frank Smith pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing two bicycles of the value of $95 from H. Simpson and Dr. Fraser. The two were recovered. Sentence will be given in eight days.

CHARGED WITH INTIMIDATION.

The trial of Hildinge Biondin, for intimidation of workmen of the Light, Heat and Power Company, has been set for Tuesday at request of his counsel, Mr. J. C. Walsh.

CONSECRATION OF BISHOP CARMICHAEL

Elaborate Services to Take Place at St. George's Church To-morrow.

The consecration of the Rt. Rev. Dr. Carmichael, coadjutor bishop-elect of the diocese of Montreal, takes place at St. George's Church to-morrow forenoon, and the interesting event will be solemnized with the beautiful and impressive ceremonial which the Anglican ritual prescribes for such an occasion, and with the elaborate musical accessories that the musical director of St. George's knows so well how to provide.

This act of consecration is not only interesting in itself, but appeals to the imagination with all the force of ancient usage for it is older than the Christian Church itself, and can be traced through sacred writ to the time of Aaron, who, with his sons, was consecrated.

THIRD AT ST. GEORGE'S.

To-morrow's celebration will be the third that has taken place in the history of St. George's during the last quarter of a century. It was there that the present Archbishop, who will perform to-morrow's rite, was consecrated by Bishop Medley of Fredericton in 1879, and it was there that three years later Bishop Sullivan was consecrated by Bishop Bond.

It is expected that the majority of the members of the House of Bishops of Canada and very many of the clergy of the diocese will be present on the occasion.

THE SERVICE PROPER.

The service will begin with the processional hymn, "The Church's One Foundation." The ante-communion will be read by the Bishop of Toronto, the epistle by the Bishop of Ottawa, and the gospel by the Bishop of Quebec. Then will follow the hymn, "The Earth, O Lord, is One Wide Field," and the special sermon by the Bishop of Niagara.

After this comes the presentation of the Bishop-elect by the Bishops of Huron and Niagara. The formality of reading the certificate of election will be gone through by the Rev. J. Gilbert Baylis, secretary to the Synod, and subsequent to this is the administration of the oath, the administrator being Dr. L. H. Davidson, K.C., in his official capacity of church advocate.

The Archbishop will then offer a special prayer and the choral litany will follow, the leader being the Rev. E. Bushell.

THE CONSECRATION.

All this is by way of preparation to the consecration itself, which is preceded by the asking and answering of the questions set forth in the consecration service in the prayerbook. The hymn "Christ is Gone Up" will be sung while the bishop is robing. After this the "Veni Creator" beginning "Come Holy Ghost our Soul's Sustain" is rendered. Here follows another special prayer, the act of consecration and the delivery of the Bible with the injunction "Give heed unto reading, exhortation and doctrine."

A procession of the bishops will then be formed and will follow the Archbishop into the sanctuary.

After the consecration will be the reading of the offertory sentences and the communion service with absolution. In the administration of the communion the bishops of Vermont, Saskatchewan, and Algoma will take part.

The closing collect will be recited by the Bishop of Huron, and the benediction pronounced by the Archbishop. The recessional "For all the Saints," will bring the service to a close.

For the past month the choir of St. George's has been in special training under the direction of the organist, Mr. Percival J. Illsley, for the rite, and great attention has been given to all details of the music. The communion service will be Danks in F, throughout; the anthem is to be "Send Out Thy Light," by Gounod, and there will be a solo by Mr. E. A. Burke. The choir will number about sixty voices.

CABINET MET IN CITY TO-DAY

For the first time since a month before the opening of the last session of the Legislature, the Provincial Cabinet Ministers are in regular session at the Government building, on St. Gabriel Street, this city.

Those in attendance are Premier Parent, Attorney-General Archambault, and Messrs. Guerin, Duffy and Gouin. Mr. Turgeon, Provincial Secretary, and Mr. Dechene, Minister of Agriculture, are not present, the first-named being in New York, and the latter detained at Quebec by reason of the serious illness of his brother, Senator Dechene.

This morning's session lasted from 10.30 until 1.10 p.m., during which time the claims of various deputations were heard and will be later taken under consideration.

The Colonization Society of Rouville sent a deputation, headed by Mr. Girard, M.P.P. for that county, to ask for additional grants of land; and another deputation representing the college at Joliette, and headed by Mr. Tellier, M.P.P., for that county, also asked for assistance.

Mr. Archambault, vice-rector of Laval University, had an interview with the Ministers, but it is understood that the grant to be made to the university was not discussed. This question, it was intimated, would likely be deferred until a meeting of the full board.

The other Provincial members present in the interests of their respective constituencies were Mr. Champagne, of Two Mountains; Mr. Weir, of Argenteuil; Mr. McKenzie, of Richmond, and Mr. Dupuis, of Chateauguay.

There will be another session lasting well on toward evening, and it is hoped all of the routine business will have been finished to-day, so that the Ministers may return to their homes to-night.

SKULL FRACTURED BY STREET CAR.

Mr. Alfred Goyer, a well known wholesale hide merchant, 25 years of age, living at 1202 St. Denis Street, was brought to the Notre Dame Hospital this afternoon, as the result of injuries sustained by being struck by a street car at the corner of Mount Royal Avenue and Papineau Road. Mr. Goyer was being driven home to lunch in a cab, and at the crossing the street car struck the vehicle and he was thrown out, his skull being fractured. It is not known that the coachman was injured. The number of the car is unknown.

THE BELL AMENDMENT.

Ottawa, April 24.—(Special.)—The Senate sub-committee gave the Bell Telephone Bill another twist this morning by drafting an amendment which will enable the Governor-General-in-Council to get evidence through a judge and on that evidence raise or lower the telephone rates. On this condition the sub-committee is willing to have the company given the $10,000,000 stock increase asked for.

The Senate Banking Committee recommended the incorporation of the Metropolitan Bank and the Crown Bank, two Toronto institutions.

REITZ AND MEYER HAVE CONCLUDED THEIR CONFERENCES

Balmoral, Transvaal, April 23.—Secretary of State Reitz, of the Transvaal, General Lucas Meyer, commander-in-chief of the Orange Free State forces, and other members of their party, have concluded their conferences with the burghers composing General Lucas Meyer's command. Nothing has leaked out regarding the result. Secretary Reitz returned here yesterday, and proceeded to Pietersburg to meet Commandant Beyers.

JAMES M. AIRD.

WAS ISAAC OULTON VICTIM OF MURDER?

Indications of a Base Crime on an Aged Miser at St. John, N.B.

St. John, N.B., April 24.—(Special.)—While many people think that Isaac Oulton, the aged miser who was found dead in his house on Douglas Avenue, was murdered, there are many more who believe that death resulted from a fall. The suspicion that points to foul play is that his skull is fractured in a way that doctors do not think possible from a fall. It is also suspicious that a short time after Thomas Gillespie who found the dead body, had notified the coroner, and before the police arrived, the bed was discovered on fire. This looks like an effort on the part of someone to burn the old man's body and so destroy traces of a crime.

To-day there is evidence that someone was moving about in the house about seven o'clock Wednesday evening, but it was not until two or three hours later that the body was found. W. B. Wallace, barrister, who looked after the old man's business affairs, says he always carried a wallet around his neck containing from $25 to $100. No trace of a wallet was found on the dead man. The police are holding Gillespie pending the inquest. He bears a good reputation, and those who know him do not believe him guilty of such a crime. Campbell Bros., axe makers, for whom he has worked for 19 years, are sure he is innocent.

Oulton was a miner in California in 1849, and made about $20,000, which he invested in houses, and is now worth only a few hundreds.

This morning fresh evidence of a murder was found in the shape of a bloody spike covered with hair. There are now suspicions which point to a man named John O'Brien. He was arrested on Wednesday evening on suspicion of having committed burglary, and is therefore in custody.

MRS. McLEOD WINS CASE AGAINST McLEOD CREDITORS

Ottawa, April 24. (Special.) The case of Cheney (for the creditors of late Rev. John McLeod) vs. McLeod, was concluded in chambers yesterday. Judge Street dismissed the action. The spring assizes open here to-day.

ALD. WALSH'S SUGGESTIONS.

New Site for Fire Station and an Additional Playground for Children of St. Ann's Ward.

Ald. Walsh has drawn the attention of the Parks and Ferries Committee to the necessity that exists, for immediately improving the old hay market square in St. Ann's Ward. Chairman Coutlee has promised that the entire surface will be carefully levelled this summer, and then next spring sod, trees and shrubbery will be introduced. Ald. Walsh is attempting to secure a ninety-nine years' lease from the Federal Government of a lot at the corner of St. Etienne and Wellington Sts. Here he purposes the new No. 9 fire station shall be built, the old site in Centre St. being turned into a playground. This, he thinks, would be accomplished at a very small outlay.

THE HERALD

Established 1869.

A WORD FOR THE CANADIAN MANUFACTURER.

It is as well to bear in mind just what are the elements of the position that will confront the British and Colonial ministers when they assemble in London. There is nothing to be gained by declaiming about the advantages of a preference in the British market if we deliberately close our eyes to the importance of the considerations which stand in the way of our securing it.

There are three considerations that might influence the British Parliament to grant a preference on Canadian wheat. First, it might be done as a recognition of the preference granted by Canada to British imports in 1897 and succeeding years. Had this been thought sufficient warrant, it is difficult to know why the concession was not made when the new taxation was introduced. It may be, it is true, that the British authorities wanted to use the suggested preference by way of inducing Australia and New Zealand to adopt the principle of a preference for British goods. In that case, it may still be possible that a preference will be extended to Canadian grain without further sacrifice by Canada, should the party now in power in Great Britain decide to face their electorate with that policy.

Secondly, there is the consideration indicated in Mr. Chamberlain's note to Lord Minto, that a trade preference might form part of a large political and military agreement. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has already gone upon record as disinclined to confuse matters of commerce and matters of war, and as being of opinion that the political relations between the two countries are what they ought to be. Canada thirty years ago agreed to the doctrine, then laid down by the British authorities, that this country should rely upon itself for its defence, and the Canadian people will now, or at any time, independently of trade relations altogether, willingly undertake whatever new tasks may be thought by the Parliament of Canada to comport with the increasing importance of the Dominion. If, for example, the suggestion made by Lord Charles Beresford in 1897, that Cape Colony should equip and maintain a strong naval base at Cape Town, should be made to Canada as regards Halifax and Esquimault, there can be no doubt Canadians would approve, whatever might be the fiscal policy in vogue at the moment. We are pretty well agreed that we are on this continent for peace, and pretty well agreed also to do in all circumstances what comports with our national self-respect. It would be humiliating if our public men were to proclaim that by a subsidy to our grain-growers the dignity of our citizenship would be enlarged.

Finally, having in mind what Mr. Chamberlain and Sir Michael Hicks-Beach have said, it is possible a preference for our grain might be secured by a further reduction, not to say a total abolition, of the customs duties on Canadian imports from Great Britain. Mr. Chamberlain said not so long ago that, except on the basis of free trade within the Empire, he would not touch the zollverein proposals with a forty-foot pole. And Sir Michael was lately of opinion that we must not go to England looking for bargains unless we are prepared to place British manufactures on an equality with our own in the Canadian market. The Montreal Star is for keeping a still tongue and saying nothing on this subject until such time as it has been discovered by means of what tariff reductions the preference could be secured.

But let us pause a moment there. Let us remind ourselves how rapid has been the advance in the grain-growing industry of the Canadian North-West in the past few years under present conditions. Let us recall our own boasts about the North-West being the wheatfield of the world. We are talking every day of an exportable surplus of a hundred million bushels within a few years. If, in short, there is one industry for which this Dominion has exceptional advantages, if there is one industry that stands not in need of coddling, it is that of wheat-growing in the North-West. Already they grow so much the railways cannot take it off their hands. On the other hand, the manufacturing industry does need the help a reasonable revenue tariff will give. Not too high a tariff, for that only invites destruction of capital and waste of enterprise by the unnecessary multiplication of establishments, whose proprietors are tempted by the expected profit into forgetting the limitations of the market. The lower the tariff under which our manufacturing establishments can live by putting forth all their ingenuity, the better for them and the better for the country. But in so far as British imports are concerned, the Canadian tariff is already, in the main, at a level below which there will be little disposition to carry it. We imported from Great Britain last year some $31,701,632 worth of dutiable goods, on which the duties charged were $7,845,406. In passing, it should be said that in 1891 the duties charged on an importation of $31,417,660 were $9,114,271, so that we now pay on the same value of goods a million and a quarter less duties. The reduction is thus seen to have been material. But it is greater than appears on the surface. Of the $7,845,406 we paid in duties on British imports last year, no less than $1,285,314 was paid on wines and liquors of a value of $745,027. As for the ordinary articles of commerce, therefore, we paid in duties only $6,560,092 on a dutiable importation of $30,956,527, or 21 per cent. Who is there ready to say that with our present population, in our present stage of development, with our present financial necessities and our present limited resources for supplying those necessities, this rate can be at present more than fractionally reduced? Sir Richard Cartwright, not so long ago, mentioned that the tariff on British imports is now just about what he was prepared to recommend in 1878, and not nearly so high as those were prepared to put it, and later did put it, whose answer to the plea that Britain might object was "so much the worse for British connection."

Before we Canadians set up an unanimous shout for a preference in the British market, let us reflect upon what we are shouting for.

THE WEALTH OF THE WEST.

If one were asked to name the greatest wheat exporting point for local growth in the whole world, what would he say? If he were frank, that he did not know. If he were unusually well-informed, he might mention Indian Head, in the territory of Assiniboia, in the Dominion of Canada. At least, the Indian Head people say so, and they ought to know. At all events, so the Globe's travelling correspondent says, the people about Indian Head, which is a little this side of Regina, are hustlers, and are busily engaged in getting rich as fast as the owners of wheat elevators will let them. In the thinly settled district served by this station on the C.P.R. there were raised, last year, some two million bushels of wheat. Of this, 1,750,000 bushels were available for shipment, the remainder being needed for seed and local grinding. Between the close of the harvest season and the middle of November, 600,000 bushels were shipped out. Then came the blockade. The railway had too much to do, and, according to the local authorities, preferred to do what it could in the competitive district. Thus, 250,000 bushels were put into elevator, and there was room for no more. Before the bins were all full, however, the elevator men squeezed the farmers into taking a No. 2 price for a No. 1 article. On this grievance arose an agitation. The situation is estimated to have caused, in one way or another, a loss of ten cents a bushel on 700,000 bushels. Temporary granaries were built for part of this, more of it has been carried in improper quarters on the farms. But a remedy is certain to be found for these conditions before very long, for when one man can take 22,000 bushels from his farm of 500 acres and another 9,000 bushels from his farm of 180 acres there is too much wealth lying about for the capitalists not to be interested in securing their share of it, and that can only be done by moving the grain. Railway sidings and increased equipment will soon solve the difficulty.

IN THE COMMON INTEREST.

The discussion of the Terminal Railway proposals is in some quarters developing into another of those East End versus West End controversies which are fraught with so much danger to the community. This is, in part, because only the East End is affected by the proposed route, and in part by the fact that the English-speaking aldermen are showing little disposition to give the matter the attention it deserves. It is wrong to turn the affair into a factional fight, and it is wrong to help along the game by ignoring what is a grave administrative problem. It is to be hoped that before the matter again comes before Council the proper means will be taken to deal with the whole subject in the way it ought to be dealt with in the interest of all the citizens.

PROGRESS OF THE ONTARIO CAMPAIGN

Toronto, April 24.—Premier Ross is engaged in arranging a tour, in which he will speak at several points in Ontario during the campaign. On Friday night, in company with Hon. J. R. Stratton, he will speak at Havelock, in the interests of Mr. William Anderson, the Liberal candidate in East Peterboro'. On Monday evening next, the 28th inst., the Premier will speak at Brampton in the interests of the candidature of Mr. John Smith, ex-M.P.P., in Peel. It is expected that the Premier will address several meetings in Eastern Ontario later in the week.

Mr. Marter has sent a challenge to his opponent, Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, to meet him in a public debate, and yesterday the Conservative candidate replied stating his willingness to do so, provided Mr. Marter will assure him that no Liberal candidate will run in North Toronto, and will state the position he occupies as a candidate and the stand he takes toward the Liberal party.

The Liberals of South Renfrew will meet at Arnprior at 1 p.m. on May 1st to select a candidate for the coming election. Hon. F. R. Latchford represented the constituency in the last Parliament.

The North Bruce Prohibitionists.

Port Elgin, April 23.—A convention of the Prohibitionists of North Bruce was held here yesterday, and a Prohibition Association for the riding was formed and its efforts pledged to the carrying of the referendum. Mr. C. M. Bowman, the Liberal candidate, addressed the convention, setting forth his position as a temperance man, and assumed full responsibility for the support he gave Premier Ross in dealing with the problem. It was then decided that definite questions be put to each candidate to ascertain the position he will take in the event of a majority of the votes cast being in favor of prohibition. If either candidate pledges himself in these terms then another convention may be called to nominate a Prohibition candidate.

The Brockville Meeting.

Brockville, April 24.—A long list of candidates were put in nomination at the enthusiastic meeting of Liberals at Lyons of Delta, held in honor of Mr. C. E. Britton. Messrs. W. J. Webster, Dr. Sinclair, R. G. Murphy, F. Cross, J. B. Wilson, Hugh Wilson, O. Brown, Alex. Stevens, W. A. Lewis and W. J. Gibson were also nominated. All rejoiced in favor of Mr. C. E. Britton, who made a splendid speech, and asked for ten days in which to consider the matter. Good addresses were also made by Mr. W. J. Webster, late candidate for the Legislature, and Mr. W. A. Lewis, candidate for the House of Commons. Resolutions of confidence in the Laurier and Ross administrations were also passed. Mr. Britton is a good fighter and will make an interesting contest.

Returning Officers.

Belleville, April 24.—Dr. Day, registrar, has been appointed returning officer for West Hastings, and Sheriff Hope for East Hastings.

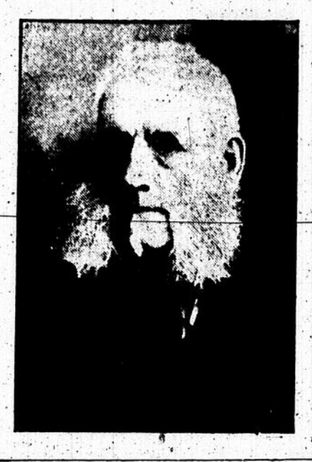
Canadian Legislators.



DR. W. J. LEWIS, M.P.

William James Lewis, M.D., the venerable member for Albert, New Brunswick, who in 1896 redeemed that constituency from a long period of Conservative domination, by defeating Dr. R. C. Weldon, the former member, is the son of the late Hon. John Lewis, M.L.C., New Brunswick. He was educated at Hillsborough, Sackville and Glasgow, and is also a member of the Edinboro College of Surgeons. He was born at Hillsborough in 1830.

Mr. Lewis sat in the Legislative Assembly from 1878 to 1896, and was on the Executive Council in '82 and '83.

MR. CHARLTON'S MOTION WAS OVERWHELMED

The British civilization is the very civilization which will give what South Africa in the Transvaal has not had, equality of rights for all, whether they be Dutch or British. That was the cause of the war, to secure this equality of treatment, which did not exist in the Transvaal. The outlanders had long sought to obtain it, but they could not do so. The resolution affirms that the authority in South Africa must be British, and we know from past experience of British civilization everywhere over the world that if British supremacy reigns over South Africa there shall be freedom, not only for the British, but for the Dutch as well. (Applause.) The second resolution affirms that there should be the most generous treatment accorded by the victors to the vanquished, by the British to the Dutch. Sir, for my part I do not think any resolution is necessary to obtain this generous treatment for the Boers in South Africa. A brave foe always commands the respect of a brave opponent, and that is enough to show that the Dutch shall receive generous treatment at the hands of their brave foe. Why, it was only a few days ago that on the banks of the Heart's River a position had been entrusted to a few men, most of them, I am proud to say, Canadians. They were assaulted for a part of the day by an enemy eight times their superior in numbers. Each assault was repulsed, but after each assault the thin band of defenders were reduced in numbers, and so reduced were they at last that there was not one man in that small force who had not been either killed or wounded. At last, when the position was carried, there was still a man, defiant and proud, Bruce Carruthers was his name, I am proud to say, a name that is honored in the heart of every one of his countrymen, who by all the rules of war might have been killed; but from the ranks of the enemy, in their sympathy, came the cry, "Do not kill him; he is too brave a man; he must live." (Cheers.) This, sir, is the lesson of the war, and I have no doubt the victorious British now in South Africa will display the same spirit. I have no doubt they will say the Dutch must live; they have earned it by their gallantry in the field. Sir, this is the position left to the men who are now engaged in South Africa, not only with war but with negotiations as well.

CANADA'S RIGHT TO PASS THE MOTION IS UNQUESTIONABLE

As to the right of this Parliament to interfere in this question, to affirm this resolution, for my part I unhesitatingly say there can be no discussion whatever. The Parliament of Canada to-day is a sovereign Parliament. It is a sovereign Parliament within the British Empire. Many years ago the Parliament of Canada asserted this authority, and claimed not only the privilege, but the right to interfere in any question which might affect any part of the British Empire of which we formed a portion. It is now almost twenty years since the Parliament of Canada passed a resolution in favor of granting home rule to Ireland. We were not directly concerned with the question; but why did Parliament twice in succession affirm the position that home rule should be granted to Ireland? Because we felt that it was in the interests of Canada that the wrongs of Ireland should be righted. It was only two years ago that Parliament passed a resolution praying the British Parliament to amend the coronation oath. Why did we do so? Because we considered that it was a question which affected the rights and privileges and conscience of a large section of His Majesty's subjects. It was only three years ago that this Parliament passed a resolution expressing its sympathy with the Uitlanders in the Transvaal. We then affirmed that we sympathized with the efforts of the British Government to right the wrongs which the Uitlanders were suffering. Surely to-day we have the right to pass such a resolution as the one presented by Mr. Charlton and seconded by Mr. Bourassa.

BUT NOT OPPORTUNE.

But while I do not hesitate to say that we have the inherent right to pass such a resolution and to present our views, I ask my hon. friend from Norfolk, and my hon. friend from Labelle, is it opportune? Is it judicious, is it advisable to present such a motion to-day? That is the question for me, and I do not hesitate to say that in my opinion at the moment such a motion is very injudicious. I will go further, and I will say to my hon. friend from Labelle that if I thought, as he does, that the passing of this resolution to-day would strengthen the hands of the British Government to be merciful and to grant an amnesty, I would not hesitate to pass it, but the question to-day is not in this position. On the contrary, in my humble judgment, and I think I can make it clear to any man in this House, if we were to interfere at this moment, we might hinder that peace which we all desire to see established. (Hear, hear.) Sir, my hon. friend from Norfolk knows, and my hon. friend from Labelle—who has been a close student of all these events—knows that at this very moment negotiations are going on for a settlement of the terms of peace. My hon. friends know that only a few days ago Lord Kitchener and Lord Milner met the heroes of the war on the Boer side, General DeWet, a brave soldier; General De la Rey, another brave soldier; General Botha, another brave soldier, and they have been in close conference, and we have every reason to believe, though we are not yet informed officially, that terms of peace have been agreed upon. We know that the Boer delegates have gone back to those in the field to submit to them the terms upon which peace may be secured. What these terms are I do not know, but is it advisable at this moment, when the conditions are submitted to the Boer commandoes, that we should interfere and excite perhaps in them hopes which might clash with what has been done and prevent the negotiations being brought to a peaceful and satisfactory conclusion? (Hear, hear.) My hon. friend from Norfolk may say perhaps that this is a remote contingency. My hon. friend from Labelle may say that what we want is not to reach South Africa, but the King, but in these days of rapid communication, when news travels on the wind, if we were to pass such a resolution the very terms would be wired at once to South Africa and possibly excite fresh hopes in those now in the field, and induce them perhaps to break off the negotiations in order, if possible, to gain better terms. I do not know what is the nature of the negotiations, but let me suppose the case, which is not a violent supposition.

THE PRECEDENT OF THE CIVIL WAR.

My hon. friend from Norfolk a moment ago referred to the civil war in the United States. Well, it is due to the American people to say that there never was more generous treatment accorded by a victorious foe to its enemy than was accorded by the men of the North to the vanquished South. There never was a page more glorious in the history of any nation than that which was then written. But my hon. friend knows as well as I, and perhaps better, because he also, has been a student of those times and events, that after the war the amnesty granted was not given to all those who participated in the strife. It is to the eternal pride of the American nation that not a drop of blood was shed on the scaffold, that not a man was punished for his participation in the war, that even Jefferson Davis, after a few years of seclusion, was set at liberty again. But my hon. friend knows well that immediately after Appomattox, which he described to us so eloquently, the amnesty granted by Generals Grant and Sherman did not cover all those who took part in the war, but only those who had laid down their arms after the surrender at Appomattox to the American army. A number of civilians were debarred from the enjoyment of civil rights, but gradually as the peace of the country increased and dangers were removed, all the shackles and disabilities were struck off and at last a universal amnesty was proclaimed. Suppose at this moment terms were agreed on between Kitchener on the one side and the Boer generals on the other, and suppose those terms did not include a general amnesty, but only an amnesty which covered the great mass of the belligerents, but exempted certain individuals. And suppose the resolution of my hon. friend was adopted and wired over to Africa, "upon this opinion humbly presented with the prayerful hope that it may aid in securing a favorable and honorable settlement of South African difficulties," supposing these terms were agreed upon and telegraphed, and supposing this resolution were adopted and telegraphed to South Africa, might not the Boers then say, "Oh, we have the Canadian Parliament standing behind us and we must insist on better terms?" (Hear, hear.) I do not know that my hon. friend would then find that by his resolution he was promoting the cause of peace.

RECOMMENDATIONS LATER, IF AT ALL.

I think we had better, at this moment, leave this question in the hands of the brave soldiers who are dealing with it—Lord Milner and Lord Kitchener on one hand, and Generals De La Rey and DeWet on the other. I think we had better leave them to determine the issue, and I humbly believe in my heart that the terms which will be accepted by these brave soldiers will be such as can be accepted by every British subject all over the world. When the terms of peace have been agreed upon when the country enjoys the blessings of peace, if it is found that the terms are not as generous as, in the judgment of my hon. friend from Norfolk and my hon. friend from Labelle, or perhaps my own, they ought to be, we shall not abdicate the right of the Canadian Parliament to affirm and send its views to the Imperial authorities. It will not be too late then, because that is the time when we can speak effectively. But, at this moment, when negotiations are pending, it seems to me the argument is overwhelming that perhaps we would lose all in our attempt to save all. These are the views I have to submit to the House and to my hon. friend from Norfolk. If I have any wish which I can express to him, Speaking, I believe, the sense of both sides of the House, it would be that he ought not to press this motion, but agree to withdraw it. (Applause.)

MR. MONK IS GLAD TO FIND SUCH A QUASI-UNANIMITY

The leader of the Opposition was not in his place, and his absence was apologized for by Mr. E. D. Monk, the Quebec Opposition leader. "I must confess," said Mr. Monk, "that I can fully agree with the remarks that have fallen from the lips of the Prime Minister. It struck me that the resolution was extremely untimely and out of place. Negotiations for peace are now pending, of which we know very little. I believe that even the Home Government does not know all that is transpiring. Under these circumstances it would be untimely for a distant Parliament to interfere. It is a satisfaction to see that upon a matter of this Imperial importance there is a quasi-unanimity in Parliament."

Mr. Monk said that not only might the passage of this resolution interfere with the negotiations now going on in Africa, but such a resolution passed by this House would embarrass Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the conference which was to be held in London this spring, in which in more senses than one he would represent both sides of this House.

Dr. Sproule thought the Imperial Government could get along very well and would grant honorable terms without advice from the Canadian Parliament. Col. Sam Hughes said there is too much maudlin sympathy for the Boers in England, and this country as well. The Boers began the war and must accept the consequence. When they show a contrite spirit it will be time enough to extend sympathy to them.

MR. OLIVER IS FIERY.

A fiery speech was made by Mr. Oliver, a Western member. If plain, every-day Canadians, he said, are good enough to fight the Boers, a plain, every-day member of Parliament is good enough to express an opinion on the war. Canada has reason to be proud of her contribution of men, but not the same reason to be proud of the contribution of money. "I object to the resolution," said Mr. Oliver, "and I object to the motive behind it. It demands in the name of Canadian soldiers that amnesty be granted to men who have added treachery to treason and committed deeds that have placed them outside the law of every civilized land. Such a resolution is absolutely treasonable. We cannot be both for and against the war. What is needed in Africa is not more clemency, but less; so it will be clear that it is not cheap to practice treason and be disloyal. If the men who moved this resolution are loyal to the Empire—if they are loyal, I say—"

The Speaker—I cannot allow the honorable gentleman to impute treason to a member of this House.

Mr. Oliver—I was asking a question.

The Speaker—The question conveys an inference that cannot be permitted.

Mr. Oliver—If I am not allowed to express a doubt as to the loyalty of these members I can only leave it to the House to form its own opinion. This is no time for the passing of such a resolution.

Mr. Monet supported the resolution, and taunted Mr. Monk that after having made speeches to the French electors of Quebec against the war he had endorsed the position of the Premier as he did in his speech.

Mr. Kemp asked how Mr. Bourassa could have brought himself to second a resolution moved by Mr. Charlton, who, on the eve of the last general election had demanded that Quebec be garrisoned with a regiment of British soldiers.

A resolution affirming that it was inexpedient to offer any advice to the British Government was offered by Mr. Jabez Robinson, and he was greatly disgusted when the Speaker told him an amendment to the amendment was not in order on a motion to go into supply.

Then on the suggestion of the Premier Mr. Charlton tried to withdraw his resolution, but Col. Sam Hughes objected, and the House by yeas and nays killed it. Only two or three affirmative voices were heard.

The census estimate was taken up at eleven o'clock and discussed until a quarter past one, when the committee arose and reported progress and the House adjourned.

FIRST AND THIRD READINGS.

The following bills were given their first readings to-day: Respecting the Great Eastern Railway Company; respecting the Atlantic and Lake Superior Railway Company; to incorporate the Molsons Bank Pension Fund; respecting the Algoma Central and Northern Railway Company; respecting the Manitoulin and North Shore Railway Company; to amend the act respecting the incorporation of boards of trade.

Mr. Sifton introduced a bill "to amend the Rocky Mountains Park Act, 1887." At present the park comprises 260 square miles or 166,400 acres. With the proposed addition it will be 4,900 square miles, or 3,136,000 acres. Alongside of this in the railway belt in British Columbia, there has also been set apart under the name Yoho Park, 832 square miles, or 532,480 acres.

The bill respecting pensions for the Northwest Mounted Police was passed through committee.

The following bills were read a third time: Respecting the Montreal, Ottawa & Georgian Bay Canal Company—M. Belcourt; respecting the Bay of Quinte Railway Company—Mr. Harty; respecting the United Gold Fields of British Columbia (Limited)—Mr. Galliher; to incorporate the Essex Terminal Railway Company—Mr. Cowan; to incorporate the Yukon Pacific Railway Company—Mr. McCreary.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

"A Royal Rogue," which furnishes Mr. Jefferson De Angelis with his best part since he has starred in comic opera, returns to the Academy next week. This was one of the most enjoyable performances seen here last season, and there is no doubt the success will be duplicated. Among other well known people in Mr. De Angelis' company are Henry Norman, Charles Dungan, Edwin Lawrence, Aedella Barker, Gertrude MacKenzie, Adine Bouvier and Alice Maud Poole.

"The Night Before Christmas," a play without a single word or action which could possibly offend, a play which sings beautiful songs of the hearthstone, of motherhood, of childhood, and of happy Christmastide, will play a week's engagement at the Theatre Francais, beginning next Monday, April 28, with the usual matinees. The company is said to be capable, and an entertaining production may be expected.

"The Bells" is to be put on at Proctor's next week. The way in which the company has been strengthened makes it fitted for handling the strong dramatic work. On account of their popularity the living studies in art are to be continued. New studies will be added. Paley's unique moving pictures are also to be continued, and several new views will be seen.

"The Lost Chord," one of the pictures being put on at Proctor's this week, is perhaps the most enthusiastically received of any of the series. Sullivan's well-known setting for the words is sung behind the scenes before the curtains are drawn on a Ste. Cecilia figure sitting at the organ. The effort is very fine, and no expense has been spared in obtaining a suitable setting.

"A Jolly American Tramp," a comedy-drama by the author of Sol Smith Russell's successes, "Peaceful Valley," and "A Poor Relation," will be the bill at the Theatre Royal on Monday next. Among the players are the names of Jack Allen, Kitty Bingham, Carrie Godfrey, Margaret Meredith, Vera Wilson, Harry Clifton, C. E. Grahame and others.

A contest will take place to-night at the Theatre Royal in the shape of a cake-walk between Sherman Coates, the champion cake-walker of America, and partner, and G. Brown and partner, two local cake-walkers, who have won several contests in this city and elsewhere.

POPE RECEIVES PILGRIMS.

Rome, April 24.—The Pope received 20,000 pilgrims at St. Peter's this morning. His Holiness seemed to be in perfect health, and thanked the pilgrims for their loyalty to the papacy. He was accorded a warm ovation.

Mrs. John Low, McGregor Street, is confined to the house with an attack of la grippe.

LABOR NEWS

ELECTRICIANS ARE CONFIDENT

Men Congratulated on the Way in Which the Strike is Being Conducted.

A meeting of electric workers was held in St. Joseph's Hall last evening, when addresses were delivered by Vice-President Hurd and others, congratulating the members on the manner they had conducted the strike. The opinions was expressed that the men would soon be back to work under better conditions then they had hitherto been obliged to put up with. Their demands had been very moderate, Mr. Hurd said, and most of them would probably be conceded by the companies. He hoped the men would stick by the union after the present difficulty was settled and endeavor to make it the strongest organization under the jurisdiction of the International Brotherhood. If all the electrical workers in Montreal and vicinity had been in the organization, the present strike would not have lasted 15 minutes, he said.

HALF HOLIDAY SATURDAY.

It seems that the operative plasterers are rather sorry that they did not make a demand for a Saturday half-holiday when they asked for a reduction of the hours of labor. As the present agreement holds good for a year the union cannot make any effort towards a further reduction of hours for the time being, but, as a prominent official of the organization stated last evening, if the members can make arrangements with their employers to secure a Saturday half-holiday by working overtime during the other days of the week, they will be at liberty to do so. It is said a considerable number will try to obtain a Saturday half holiday on this basis.

MACHINISTS IN DEMAND.

There was a good attendance at the meeting of Mount Royal Lodge of Machinists last evening, and a number of new members were enrolled. Organizer Howe delivered an address. There is a great demand for machinists in Montreal this season, but owing to the prevalence of the piece work system the men have to work long hours to make a wage equal to that paid in other cities for a nine hour day.

CLOTHING CUTTERS' UNION.

The Wholesale Clothing Cutters' Union held their regular meeting last evening, their being a fair attendance. The union has decided to affiliate again with the International organization, and will make a strong effort this season to complete the organization of the trade. Trade was reported fairly good, and the members seem satisfied with working conditions.

INTERNATIONAL SHOEMAKERS.

The International Shoemakers' Union held a meeting last evening, when Business Agent Grayel stated that the public meetings held recently had done much to promote a better understanding of the International among local shoeworkers.

OPERATIVE PLASTERERS.

The Operative Plasterers' held a meeting last evening, under the presidency of Mr. Maillhiot, and congratulated themselves on the success of their strike. A resolution was adopted condemning the City Council for not interfering to compel the electrical companies to recognize their employes' union, and consider the demands made upon them.

WITHDRAWS RESIGNATION.

After explanations from the officials of the Labor Department at Ottawa, Mr. Joseph Ainey has withdrawn his resignation, and will continue to act as correspondent of the Labor Gazette. The news was received by labor men last evening with considerable satisfaction.

CARVERS NOT CARRIERS.

Owing to a typographical error the organization of a union of wood carvers appeared as a union of wood carriers last evening.

WHY AID IS VOTED.

The reason local unions are voting assistance to the electrical workers is that the International Brotherhood does not pay strike benefit during the first week of a difficulty, and the local union has not been organized long enough to raise any considerable fund for this purpose.

LABOR NOTES.

The Bookbinders' Union will hold a special meeting in St. Joseph's Hall this evening for the purpose of adopting a new wage scale for the ensuing year, and also discuss other matters pertaining to the welfare of the trade.

The Bricklayers' Brotherhood have voted financial assistance to the electrical workers.

A public meeting in favor of the electrical workers will be held this evening at 1242a Notre Dame Street. Ald Lamarche, Ald. Guimet, Dr. Lacombe, M.L.A., and others have promised to address the gathering.

Mr. Geo. Warren, organizer of the A.F.L., is arranging to organize the brickworkers of Montreal and vicinity.

MEETINGS THIS EVENING.

Brotherhood of Boilermakers—2042 Notre Dame Street.

Canadian Association of Mechanical Engineers—Monument National.

Wood Carvers' Union—St. Joseph's Hall.

THE MARCONI WIRELESS TELEGRAPH COMPANY OF AMERICA.

The Marconi Wireless Telegraph Co. of America has been organized with $6,650,000 capital stock to control the Marconi system of wireless telegraphy and all inventions and patents relating thereto in the United States of America, Cuba, Porto Rico, the Hawaiian Islands, the Philippine Islands, Alaska, the Aleutian Islands and all ships under the American flag. Only $1,200,000 of the capital stock will be offered to the public. Messrs. E. Rollins Morse & Bro. have charge of the issue, and are selling the stock at $05 a share, the par value being $100.

It would take volumes to review what has been said regarding Marconi's wonderful wireless telegraph. It is generally conceded by scientific men to be one of the most important inventions of the age. No less an authority than Lord Kelvin at the reception tendered him in Columbia University Monday night said in his speech: "Science has advanced greatly during the years along all lines, and one of the greatest achievements is that of Marconi and wireless telegraphy. It is a great achievement to send a message unfind from 100 miles out at sea, or for several hundred miles. The work that he has done indicates that the time will come when messages will be sped over the ocean without an intervening wire."

The Marconi Company has a station at Cape Cod almost completed for trans Atlantic work, and another station is to be erected at once at Montauk Point for marine service, and it is expected that the company will soon be doing a commercial business upon a very profitable basis. Mr. Marconi, at a speech made in London, Feb 20, said that the supposition is certainly not an extravagant one that over £73,000 (about $355,000) could be made annually from each pair of transatlantic stations by sending messages at half the present rates.

LANARK PRESBYTERY MEETS.

Pembroke, April 23.—(Special.)—The Presbytery of Lanark and Pembroke have been in session here for two days. At the same time and place the young people's societies met for organization and discussion.

The chief business before the Presbytery was an attempt to settle the difficulties which have arisen between two sections of the congregation at Lanark. This case is likely to be appealed to the Synod, which meets at Carleton Place next month. The young people's societies were addressed by Mr. Strachan, of Brockville, on the Heritage of the Church, and by Mr. George McNab, of Douglas, on the Duties of Christian Citizenship. The attendance of clergymen was large.

SUES FOR WRONGFUL DISMISSAL

Hamilton, April 24.—(Special.) The sequel to A. M. Featherston's leaving the office of superintendent of agents of the Royal Templars of Temperance yesterday came in the form of a writ against the order for $5,000 damages for alleged wrongful dismissal. It is said that while Mr. Featherston was not asked formally to quit, correspondence which has been passing recently between the directors and himself practically meant dismissal.

A WRONG IDEA OF THE NERVES

The Action of the Heart, Lungs, Stomach, Liver and Kidneys Dependent on the Nerve Force.—Extraordinary Results from the Use of

Dr Chase's Nerve Food

There is not a single organ of the human body that can perform its functions without a liberal supply of nerve force—the motive power of the body.

The nervous system should never be thought of as a separate part of the body. Its branches extend from the brain and the spinal column to the tips of the fingers and the toes. Just as the blood is carried by the arteries to every nook and corner of the system, so the nerve force, by means of nerve fibres, is distributed and nerve force is just as important to life as is good rich blood.

When the nerve cells are wasted by overexertion, worry or disease, more rapidly than they are replaced, the action of the heart becomes slower, the lungs begin to weaken, the stomach fails to do its duty, the liver and kidneys falter in their work as filters, and the excretory organs get feeble and inactive. You may be a sufferer from weakness and exhaustion of the nerves, and may have been attributing the trouble to the stomach, kidneys or other organs. Nervous exhaustion is marked by restlessness, disturbed sleep, languid, weary feelings, headache, dyspepsia, and bodily pains, inability to concentrate the thoughts, absent-mindedness, weakened memory, twisting of the muscles and eyelids, sudden startings and jerkings of the limbs in sleep, dizziness, irritability and gloomy forebodings.

Through the medium of the nervous system Dr. Chase's Nerve Food carries new life and energy to every organ of the body. It strengthens the action of the heart, invigorates the stomach, makes the kidneys, liver and bowels more active and builds up the entire system.

If you experience any of these symptoms of nervous exhaustion, you can rely absolutely on Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to cure you. It does not stimulate, but thoroughly cures by forming new, red corpuscles in the blood and creating nerve force.

Mr. E. Rosevear, a retired school teacher, of 2 Markham Place, Toronto, says:

"I am getting up in years, and, as a natural result of severe study, my health has been undermined and my system very much run down. I got so weak and nervous and suffered so much from dizziness that I found it necessary to begin treatment of some kind. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been so highly spoken of that I decided to give it a trial, and can now speak of its merits from personal experience. It has built me up wonderfully, and strengthened and restored my nervous system."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

WHY MEAT PRICES ARE STILL HIGH

A Prominent Cattleman Predicts Continuance Until the Next Crop is Harvested.

A matter which has caused no little comment among the general public of Montreal, and which has given rise to much persistent inquiry, is the recent advance in the retail price of meats.

A number of causes have been assigned, but there seems to be some diversity of opinion, and, as a matter of fact, an actual inability would appear to exist both among the cattle buyers and the retail meat dealers to adequately account for the present state of the market.

After careful inquiry among some of the most prominent firms and stores, little light has been obtained upon the subject. These facts, however, are generally admitted and practically embody the concensus of reliable opinion: The rise in price is not a sympathetic movement with the advance in meat prices in the United States caused by the so-called Beef Trust; and neither is it the result of a local combination of either the wholesale or retail dealers.

It would seem that a general scarcity of beef cattle exists throughout the country. Just why this is so seems a mooted question, but it is probably due both to extended exportation coupled with a shortage in the supply. Certain it is that when a cattleman brings a nice lot of cattle here for sale he can realize an exceedingly good price.

CATTLEMAN SETS PRICE.

One buyer said:—"The cattleman practically sets the market price himself. We certainly must have meat for our customers, and of a good quality." Upon inquiry, however, it is stated that the cattleman in turn has had to pay more, and so it seems throughout every one who handles the cattle and meat.

One of the largest retail firms in the city said that they are paying more for beef to-day than they have for years, and that while they were compelled to charge more for the meat to the consumer, their profits were not any greater, and, if anything, a shade less, than when meat was cheaper.

GRAIN AND FEED.

By far the most satisfactory and certainly the most reasonable explanation, and moreover one which goes one step farther than the others in tracing the logical cause of a shortage of supply, was given by one of the most prominent cattle dealers of Montreal. He said:—"The high price of grain and feed throughout the world is primarily the cause of the present advance in meats. Previous short crops are responsible for the increase in cost of grain and feed for cattle. The present high price of corn and oats form eloquent illustrations of the feed market. The result has been that the farmer and cattle raiser has in most cases sold off a large proportion of his stock on account of the increased cost of their keep. In my opinion the present prices for meats will maintain the present level, and very probably continue to rise, until another crop is harvested, and should the next season turn out an excellent general yield, then, and not till then, will the old level of meat prices return.

"In substance and in fact it is simply a case of supply and demand, nothing more and nothing less, and it will not be long before the public will fully appreciate and realize the truth of this statement."

PRICES STILL RISE.

New York, April 23.—The Beef Trust has given another exhibition of its power and its defiance of the public by adding one-half cent a pound to the price of beef and sending the price of butter soaring to 26 cents and eggs up to 21 cents.

Five cents increase in the price of a pound of butter or of a dozen eggs was thus scored within a week.

Coupled with the increase was the threat of still further advances in form of a refusal by the trust to accept any orders for future delivery from the retailers. Only a sufficient supply of beef to meet immediate needs was sold to any retailer. Those who had been in the habit of ordering from two to three weeks ahead were told that the custom had been discontinued for the present at least.

Retailers were unprepared for the new assault on the pockets of the poor. They had begun to think that the exposure of the trust had arrested any further attempt to squeeze the public. When they went to market to-day they were met with the announcement that prices were up and were likely to go higher.

That this exhibition of absolute power to control the market portends the formation of a gigantic food trust by the big packers is the opinion now held by many of the better informed dealers.

It is unquestioned that the packers absolutely control the beef, pork, poultry, butter and egg market.

That it is but a natural step for the packers to utilize their cold storage facilities by including other food products under their domination is the opinion of those who have watched the events of the last three weeks.

Prices of other meats as well as beef went soaring to-day. Mutton and lamb rose to higher figures than they had brought for years. Pork was nearly two cents up, lamb had advanced 1½ cents and veal 1¼ cents a pound.

Fish and poultry have advanced even more than beef. The tremendous demand for fish as a substitute for beef has resulted in almost record prices. Fish prices in some cases have nearly doubled.

MARRIED BY 'PHONE.

Cincinnati Widow Goes to Meet Her Unseen Husband. — Telephone Charges Were $23.00.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 23.—A Dayton (Ky.) widow and a Hopkinsville man will meet to-day for the first time after having been married over the long-distance telephone, in the drug store of A. G. Goetz, Dayton. They have never seen each other before. The telephone charges were $23.

The contracting parties were Mrs. Gertrude Gallagher, a young widow of Dayton, and Theodore Cohen, a merchant of Hopkinsville, Ky. The bride, accompanied by her father, a sister and many guests, entered the store and requested the use of the telephone. The party took seats around the telephone booth and the Rev. R. D. Harding took the receiver from the hook and asked for Hopkinsville, Ky. The bridegroom answered. The minister propounded the usual questions to the bridegroom, who evidently gave satisfactory answers. The ceremony occupied fifteen minutes. The bride was ushered into the booth and answered the usual questions propounded by the minister at the other end of the wire. The courtship has been carried on by correspondence.

CORPORAL FLED IN THE NIGHT.

Halifax, April 23.—Charles Jones, a corporal of the Royal Canadian Regiment, is missing, and both the civil and military authorities are looking for him. The former want him on a charge of theft, and the latter for desertion. He was very friendly with a Barrington Street jeweller, and on Saturday secured permission to stay in his store for the night, saying he did not want to go to barracks. The jeweller came at eight Sunday morning to let him out, and found a window open, no Jones, and a number of gold watches, chains, rings, etc., missing. Jones was 28, and enlisted in Charlottetown.

NATIONAL TRUST COMPANY, Limited, Toronto, Montreal, and Winnipeg.

N.B.—Since the Prospectus of the Company was issued (about the First of April), the Company has received two offers for the purchase of its entire output of paper. These offers are entirely unsolicited, and are from parties whose standing is such as to guarantee the performance of any contract they may undertake. One of these offers covers the first year of production, and the other covers the first three years. Either offer, if accepted, would be sufficiently profitable to assure the payment of the full dividend on the Preferred Stock, provide the amount required by the Charter for a Reserve Fund, and leave a balance sufficient to pay a large dividend on the Common Stock, if no unforeseen contingencies should arise. This does not include profits estimated from the sale of sulphite pulp or from the saw mill, which, it seems reasonable to suppose, would be sufficient to cover all unexpected contingencies.

PROSPECTUS

OBJECTS OF THE COMPANY

The Atlantic Pulp and Paper Company, Limited, has been organized in order to take advantage of the unrivalled facilities for the manufacture of pulp and paper at New Richmond, on the Baie des Chaleurs, and by its charter, has powers of the fullest description. It is confidently believed that pulp and paper can be more economically manufactured there than any other place in America.

The essentials to the success of such a concern are:

1. Cheap and unlimited pulp wood;
2. Adequate water power, cheaply developed;
3. Pure water for the manufacture;
4. Cheap labor;
5. Low transportation charges;
6. Efficient management.

It will be seen that the facilities possessed by this Company assure a point of cheapness in the production of paper not attained before, while the situation of the mills on the Atlantic seaboard makes it possible to ship to all foreign ports by water without transhipment. As the Company proposes to confine itself almost exclusively to the export trade, it will readily be seen that this gives it further advantage over all other companies.

1. WOOD SUPPLY.—No paper mill in Canada has greater advantages in point of situation. Many companies do not own their own limits, being entirely dependent on outside purchases, and subject to fluctuations of supply and price. Other companies owning limits have to transport their wood from great distances by water or rail. Thus we find mills at Merriton and Niagara Falls are bringing their pulpwood from Central Quebec. Some prosperous paper companies even carry their trade in the manufactured state. The mills of the Atlantic Pulp and Paper Company, Limited, will be built about two miles from the limits, where there will also be a very large mill-pond capable of holding several million logs. The Little Cascapedia River flows from end to end through the center of the limits, and the large number of tributary streams does away with the greater part of the hauling usually entailed in getting out pulp wood, thereby greatly decreasing the cost.

2. WATER POWER.—Mr. George F. Hardy of New York, the foremost American authority on this subject, has made a thorough examination of the water power that can be developed on the Little Cascapedia River at a point immediately adjoining the proposed mill site, and his report shows that sufficient power can be developed to run mills of even greater capacity.

This report can be seen at the office of the undersigned, or at any office of the National Trust Company, Limited.

3. WATER SUPPLY.—Pure and clean water is one of the most important factors in connection with pulp and paper-making. The bed of the Little Cascapedia River is rocky, and owing to its crystal-like clearness and purity the water in the river is suitable for making the finest grades of paper without the expense of filtering, which is almost invariably required at other mills.

4. COST OF LABOR.—The labor employed in the mills and woods cost less than probably any other American mill, as far as known, as competent men in this section of the country, on account of the cheapness of living, ask very low wages.

5. TRANSPORTATION CHARGES.—The shipping facilities of this Company are certainly unequalled by any similar enterprise in Canada, the situation of the mills on the Baie des Chaleurs giving every possible advantage for export trade, which is probably the most profitable field. Arrangements can be made with Atlantic steamship lines to run steamers from New Richmond for eight months in the year, as required. During the winter months favorable winter rates have been arranged with the Railway Companies to St. John and Halifax, New Richmond being on the line of the Atlantic and Lake Superior Railway, which will be connected with the mills by a siding.

6. MANAGEMENT.—The Company has been fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Wm. M. McIntyre, formerly Mechanical Superintendent with the Laurentide Pulp Company, Limited, who will act as Manager of the construction and operation of the mills. Mr. McIntyre has had over twenty years' experience in pulp and paper-making, and is regarded as an authority on the manufacture of pulp and paper.

PROPERTIES

The properties and limits acquired by the Company contain about three hundred and two square miles, or one hundred and ninety-three thousand two hundred acres, more or less. The wood is principally spruce, and there is also a large quantity of cedar, pine, birch, balsam, balm of Gilead, and poplar. The Company has reports on this property made by five different expert Rangers, acting independently. Copies of these may be seen at any office of the National Trust Company, Limited, or at the office of the undersigned.

The following is an extract from one of the reports:

"I have been working in the lumber woods for twenty years or more, and have traveled and examined limits in the State of Maine, New Brunswick, and Quebec, and worked in Wisconsin and Minnesota, and I am sure this is the best pulp limit I have ever seen or traveled over."

On the basis of any one of these reports a conservative estimate shows that there is sufficient pulpwood now on the limits to supply the proposed mills for more than 65 years. As spruce wood will replace itself in from twenty-four to thirty years, it will be seen that there is sufficient wood on the limits to afford a perpetual supply to a mill double the capacity of that now contemplated.

The freehold property consists of twenty acres where the saw mill, dwellings, and office are situated, and 356½ acres on the bank of the Little Cascapedia River, where it is proposed to build the Pulp and Paper Mills.

THE PULP AND PAPER MILLS

It is proposed to erect—

A Paper Mill with a daily capacity of 54 tons.
A Ground Wood Pulp Mill with a daily capacity of 50 tons, and
A Sulphite Pulp Mill with a daily capacity of 40 tons.

Mr. George F. Hardy has estimated the cost of erecting the Pulp and Paper Mills and of developing the water power at $950,000. The balance from the sale of the Preferred Stock will be sufficient to complete the payments for the limits, water power, saw mill, etc., provide working capital, and leave a substantial balance for contingencies.

THE SAW MILL

There is on the property a saw mill, equipped with the latest improved machinery, capable of turning out from 35,000 to 40,000 superficial feet of sawn lumber in ten hours, and is equipped with all necessary power, gearing, shafting, etc., for the installation of another saw, which would double the capacity.

MARKETS

The markets will be chiefly foreign, including the Eastern States and Great Britain. In view of the expected advances in the price of paper in the Eastern States it is probable that the greater part of the output will be marketed there. Situated as the mills will be on the seaboard, paper can be laid down in Liverpool and New York, duty paid, at such a price as to defy competition.

Freight quotations can be seen at the offices of the National Trust Company, or the undersigned.

ESTIMATE OF BUSINESS AND PROFITS

Estimating the cost of pulp wood at $2.25 a cord, careful estimates made for the Company show that the ground wood pulp should not cost over $5.89 a ton, and sulphite pulp not over $16.00 a ton. The actual cost of newspaper from pulp, estimated at these prices, should not be over $16.94 a ton. This is after making all necessary allowance for depreciation and renewal of plant, and all charges of management and selling.

The following estimate of the annual output of the mills has been prepared by Mr. Wm. M. McIntyre, a practical pulp and paper manufacturer, and is believed to be conservative and well within the mark, and includes allowances for salaries and contingencies:

16,902 tons of newspaper at $37.00 a ton f.o.b. at mills	$625,374.00
8,294½ tons of sulphite pulp at $30.00 a ton f.o.b. at mills	248,835.00
		$874,209.00
Cost of producing same:
16,902 tons of newspaper, at $16.94 a ton	286,319.88
8294½ tons of sulphite pulp at $16 a ton	286,319.88

7 per cent on $1,500,000 Preference Stock		105,000.00
Available for Reserve Fund and further Dividends		$350,177.12

The ground wood pulp and the balance of sulphite pulp will be consumed in the paper mill of the Company.

The estimated profits from the operation of the saw mill are not included in these figures, but owing to the enormous quantities of cedar on the limits, substantial profits should be made from the manufacture of railway ties, shingles, etc. The Laurentide Pulp Company, Limited, in its annual report, June 30th, 1900, stated that the Company's saw mill added to the year's profits an amount equal to its entire cost, although it was operated for only three months of the year, and estimated that the future profits from this source would cover the interest on the entire bond issue of the Company.

ISSUE OF STOCK

For the acquiring of the said property, equipment of the pulp and paper mills, the development of the water power, building the railway siding to the mills, and the furnishing of sufficient working capital, the present issue of Preference Stock is made. The whole of the Seven Per Cent. Cumulative Preference Stock has been authorized to be issued on the following terms:

For every two shares of Seven per cent. Cumulative Preference Stock subscribed and paid for, there will be allotted by way of bonus one share of fully paid Common Stock.

The Seven Per Cent. Preferred Stock is Cumulative, carries yearly dividends, and has priority over the Common Stock as to both dividend and assets.

After the payment of the dividend on the Preferred Stock, and before any payment of dividend on the Common Stock, a further sum of one per cent. must be applied to a Reserve Fund, under the charter. This fund will be for the further assuring of the dividends on the Preferred Stock.

Application will be made in due course for the listing of the shares of the Company on the Toronto and Montreal Stock Exchanges.

Applications for Preferred Shares should be forwarded to the NATIONAL TRUST COMPANY, Limited, Toronto, Montreal, or Winnipeg; or to SUTHERLAND & CAMERON, Brokers, Ottawa, Canada.

Checks, drafts, etc., are to be made payable to the NATIONAL TRUST COMPANY, Limited.

If the whole amount applied for be not allotted, the surplus paid on deposit will be appropriated towards the sum due on allotment. Where no allotment be made, the deposit will be returned in full.

Further information and Forms of Application can be obtained at the offices of SUTHERLAND & CAMERON, 48 SPARKS STREET, OTTAWA, CANADA, or the NATIONAL TRUST COMPANY, LIMITED, TORONTO, MONTREAL, and WINNIPEG.

We offer the Preferred Stock for sale on the above terms.

HOW TO MAKE THE EMPIRE STRONG

Hon. George E. Foster's Address to St. George's Society Last Night.

St. George's Society celebrated the natal day of its patron saint last night with a grand banquet in Windsor Hall at which over a hundred guests were present.

The toasts of the King, the Queen and the Governor-General, were first proposed by Mr. H. A. Hodgson, who presided, and were most enthusiastically received. Mr. Justice Trenholme then arose to propose "St. George and Merrie England," which was greeted with the greatest applause and the singing of "The men, The men of Merrie England."

HON. G. E. FOSTER.

Hon. George E. Foster replied, and met with a hearty reception. After a few humorous remarks about appointing a royal commission of three, with his friend Cochrane as one of them to enquire for a large salary into the absence of the invited guests, he said it made no difference who St. George was; he stood for all that was best in Englishmen. Too close inspection might shatter many idols, gilded by the romance of history, but he had learned the value of national societies and regarded St. George as the symbol of the courage, justice and love of liberty which had characterized Englishmen ever since the race had existed. So the flag was not merely a piece of silk, but inwoven in it was the heroism of the men that had for hundreds of years carried it and died under it in every quarter of the globe in the advancement of freedom and the highest civilization.

He believed in national societies because they kept green the love of the old land, and this was the very fibre and strength of the Empire. The history of the Empire is a wonderful record of strength and growth. What other empire has a single colony from which it could draw gains, ammunition or men in the hour of need? But Britain can now, and what will it be able to do fifty years hence, when we have grown up? The Empire may be divided into the Island Empire and the Over Seas Empire, and fifty years hence the latter must inevitably overtop the former. What an Empire it will be if it only remains true to its ideals! Every climate, all resources, every scenery, every facility of a communication by land and sea will be within its borders. Wait till we have grown up! It is growing now with the accumulation of the power of centuries; what will it be fifty years hence? Only wait till we have grown up!

But the turning point is now, he said. We must make up our minds whither we are aiming, and not wobble through lack of purpose. We have learned much; we have cast off our old lowering street clothes, as too small for us; we have passed through the period when men thought long and earnestly whether they should wish the centripetal or the centrifugal forces to prevail. Now no one thinks of disintegration. The prophets who spoke of the "manifest destiny" of the little strip of territory to be absorbed in the great country to our south; the Wisemen who declared Geography forbade the union of the east and the west, and of the north to south; the yearners after the fleshpots of Egypt, who gazed across the line of 45.40 and prated of natural markets, are passed away. Some are dead; some are better than dead and are converted, and no one now dreams of leaving the Empire.

But are we contented with the colonial status? Every intelligent man says "no." It would be as wise to tell a boy of 20, he must stay at 20 always. Shall we ask for dependence? If so, why? For freedom? How can we be freer than we are? The mailed fist of Edward VII. can make every power in Europe tremble, but it cannot hurt one child in the British Empire, or take away one copper coin from his poorest subject. Is it to satisfy our ambition? Is it the power to say who is to be our Governor-General? It is bad enough when the premiership is the wager in the field of party strife, but we know that in the most heated strife there is always curtness and an absence of prejudice in the vice-regal halls. Do we ask it for economy? To take a homely illustration, that we can walk safely down the street because he can defend himself against all-comers. If Canada is to be respected she must make herself respected, and this will cost a mighty lot.

NEGOTIATIONS WITH STATES.

Mr. Foster knew from his own experience that only England's might had enabled Canada ever to negotiate with the United States, about the fisheries and other important questions. So we do not want independence, but there is something stirring for great oneness. We must not force this feeling into preconceived ideas, and we may put aside as premature all such theories as representation in the Imperial Parliament, or a consultative council. Let the impulse find its own course as a mighty river does. Let us base our policy on the points on which we can agree to co-operate and so work to the complete unity and unification of the Empire.

Three ways of co-operation are clear, immigration, trade and commerce and defence. If every British emigrant for the last fifty years had come to the colonies; if the emigrant and his children felt when he returned he was at home, what a difference it would have made! Why, too, should Great Britain, in her thoughtless generosity, spend her money in countries, every one of which is hostile to her, instead of in her colonies? Then she would build up her children in wealth and strength, instead of her enemies. Defence will be necessary till the millennium, and it is absolutely false to say arms and trade can be considered separately; where commerce goes, arms come sooner or later.

Some say we can contribute nothing and had better build up our resources; but they are wrong. We must do both together, and work hand in hand with the Empire, and is there a man who will deny that every shot fired in South Africa was fired in defence of the homes of Canada and Australia as well.

OTHER TOASTS.

Hon. A. W. Atwater, K.C., proposed "Our Guests" to which Mr. R. Russell, M.P., and Mayor Cochrane responded. The other toasts were: "Sister Societies," proposed by Mr. Richards and Hon. J. K. Ward, and replied to by the presidents of the national societies present; "The Press" given by Mr. Watson, and the "Ladies" proposed by Captain Clift, and suitably acknowledged by Mr. N. I. Joseph.

Telegrams of greeting were received from a number of societies of Englishmen. The Society of St. George of London, Eng., cabled "Four hundred under Duke Marlborough send hearts' wishes." The Canadian societies were Ottawa, London, Toronto, Quebec, Winnipeg, Guelph, Nelson, B. C.

During the evenings songs were sung by Messrs. R. H. Bartholomew, A. Tattersall, H. Rees, E. A. Mumford, and F. Baylis, which were accompanied by Mr. F. C. Fox, while Batten's orchestra played a number of appropriate old English airs during the dinner.

Among those present were Messrs. H. A. Hodgson, president; Hon. Geo. E. Foster, Mayor Cochrane; Principal Peterson, Judge Trenholme, W. E. Doran, Mr. McD. Lamb, representing the Irish Protestant Benevolent Society; R. Russell, M.P.; A. Mitchell, president of the Caledonian Society; S. Tattersall, representing the Sons of England; Hon. A. W. Atwater, K.C.; Hon. J. K. Ward, K.C., vice-presidents of St. George's Society; Captain Clift, Capt. Reid, Jas. Mitchell, G. Durnford, L. A. Whittier, W. Kenwood, G. E. Wray, Chief Harrison, H. A. LIEUT.-COL. IRVING FOURTH COLONEL

Contingent Men Gathering at Halifax—The Quebec Quota.

Ottawa, April 23.—Lieut.-Col. J. D. Irving, D.O.C. of No. 9 military district, Nova Scotia, has been appointed to the command of the 6th Regiment Canadian Mounted Infantry for South Africa. Col. Irving will take up the work of organization forthwith.

Lieut.-Col. Hurdman states that about 800 men are still required from the East and Ontario to make up the total to be recruited in these provinces. This completes the list of commanding officers which will be as follows, according to segments to be organized:

3rd Regiment Lieut.-Col. Williams, R. C.D., Toronto.

4th Regiment Major Bolanger, Field Artillery, Quebec.

5th Regiment Lieut.-Col. Irving, D.O.C., Halifax.

6th Regiment Lieut.-Col. McDonald, North-West Mounted Police, Regina.

Lieut.-Col. Irving was also in command D.O.C. at Halifax in April, 1885.

Dr. D. M. Anderson, of Toronto, and Dr. J. E. Jones, of St. Catharines, Ont., have been appointed as medical officers to the 5th and 6th Regiments of the fourth contingent.

SHERBROOKE'S OFFERING.

Sherbrooke, April 23. (Special.)—Up till this afternoon Sherbrooke and district had contributed seventeen young men as members of the Fourth Contingent. A number of others made application, but were unable to pass the necessary examinations satisfactorily. They have all gone to Quebec en route for Halifax. Of the seventeen four were from Robinsonbury. They are all young fellows who have been in different branches of the Canadian militia, and should give a good account of themselves.

Major O. Pope, of the 58th Battalion, who has been granted a captaincy of a squadron in the Fourth Regiment, under Lieut.-Col. Bourinot, of Quebec, was tendered a banquet by his friends in and around Robinsonbury, on Monday evening, previous to his departure for Halifax to assume his duties. He is the only son of Lieut.-Col. Pope, of Bury, and will in all probability be the youngest squadron commander in the contingent.

QUEBEC'S QUOTA.

Quebec, April 23.—Forty-nine members of the contingent from this city, including sixteen from Sherbrooke, left Levis this afternoon for Halifax, in charge of Lieut. Dawson. About one thousand Quebecers crossed over to Levis and gave the boys an enthusiastic send-off. All of the local men were the recipients of handsome presents from their friends and brothers-in-arms before their departure.

MAJOR MERRITT'S INJURY.

Ottawa, April 24. (Special.)—A letter written by Lieut. Bruce Carruthers from Kitchener's Kop, on March 9th, describes the injury which Major Merritt received as being very slight. The Major collided with a mule team and fractured some of the small bones in his foot. At the time of writing, Lieut. Carruthers said he hoped to see him all right in a day or two.

HOTEL DIEU RECONSTRUCTION.

The plans for the reconstruction of the Hotel Dieu will be prepared by Mr. Alphonse Content, architect, and the work in stone will be done by Messrs. Boucher, and in brick by Huberdeau, Olivier and Degause.

Members of our Union are delighted to find a practical and economical treatment to aid us in our temperance work." Mrs. A. M. Townsend, 218 Tremont St., Boston, Mass. IT IS A WOMAN'S PRIVILEGE to be beautiful, but how can she when those unsightly, superfluous hairs continue to grow on her face? It surely was not nature's intention, and all such growths are caused by careless treatment of the skin.

We eradicate these hairs by the newest scientific treatment ELECTROLYSIS. It is a dainty system, by means of which you may be relieved of the annoyance of hairs on the face. Will the treatment injure the skin is a common question. Certainly not. Our treatment improves and cultures the skin, preventing for ever the return of these troubles. It takes time, patience and regularity of treatment.

IS BRITAIN'S WAR MARINE THREATENED BY MORGAN?

Canada's Interest in the Question. A Canadian Naval Reserve.

London, April 23.—It is stated that a meeting of the Cunard shareholders will shortly be called to consider the question of joining the Atlantic shipping combination. Several questions will be asked in the House of Commons to-day with reference to the scheme. People in this country are particularly anxious to know what would be the status of British vessels controlled by the combine in time of war, and whether the Admiralty is taking any action in the matter.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE NAVY TO CANADA.

Toronto, April 23. (Special.)—In speaking at the St. George's dinner last night, H. J. Wickham, of the Navy League, said it was to Canada's advantage to have a strong British navy, as $200,000,000 of her trade was carried on the sea and at risk of war. He disagreed with Sir Wilfrid Laurier's contention that commerce and defence could not be considered together. The colonies should organize their local forces, that they might co-operate with the Imperial forces, and Canada should form a Naval Reserve and subsidize her merchant marine.

A Blaze of Glory

By JOHN STRANGE WINTER, Author of "Bootle's Baby."

CHAPER VII.—(Continued).

"I should like one of those cakes," she said, suddenly, when the fat woman passed near. "Yes, that one. By the way, could I have a cup of tea."

"Of course, miss. You would like a little teapot?"

"Yes, if you please—and cream with it."

It would be the last cup of tea she would ever drink, so her thoughts ran as she sat by the fire waiting. Of course, it would be more natural to have coffee after Irish stew and stout, but she had had coffee no less than three times since leaving home, and she longed for a cup of tea as much as any old washerwoman over her tub.

And then her thoughts went back to the home she had left, to the lover who had failed her. Well, she had made a sad hash of everything. She had never realized that what Victor L'Estrange had called being in a "mess" meant in reality that he was in honor bound to another woman.

She edged a little nearer to the fire, and her thoughts wandered on. Which of them did he love best, which had his heart—she, the little, inexperienced, uniformed, country girl, or that tall, pale, fashionable-looking young lady, who had seemed as cold as an iceberg?—which of them—which? Oh, she—she—she—Betty Garnett, no doubt about that.

And yet she must go on. If she were to go back to Rockborough and face the music, it would mean marrying Johnson Galbraith. Than that doom should be hers, she would infinitely rather die.

And to die would be quite easy—just to find where she could get that small bottle of laudanum, a gulp, a falling to sleep, no suffering, no pains, only sleep, like the dreamless sleep of a little child.

CHAPTER VIII.

No Hesitation.

Betty had more trouble to get possession of the sixth dose of laudanum than she had to obtain all the other five. She was so dead tired that the actual walking was difficult to her, and, of course, it was essential that she did not go to any of the same chemists as she had visited before, because, naturally, being quite unknown, she would have to give her name and address. If she gave the same one as before—Mary Jones—it might be remembered; if she gave a different one, she might be remembered, and extremely awkward questions put to her. So she must carefully avoid the risk of such a danger; and then it occurred to her that she did not even remember or had noticed the names of the shops where she had already been, with the exception of the one which had "Drug Stores" writ large over its windows.

To guard against the contingency of unwillingly running the chance of going twice to the same place, she stealthily took the five little bottles, and carefully conned over the names on the different labels—Wilson, Chalmers, Stephenson, Sykes, and Laurence. She must see that she did not make any mistake. Then she, having burnt the white paper in which they had been wrapped, got up and went to the desk where the fat mistress of the eating-house was sitting.

The fat woman considered for a moment. "One and eightpence. Thank you. You fele warmer now, don't you?"

"Oh, yes, delightfully warm, thank you," said Betty.

The biting wind was full in her face as she went along the street, and she was sleepier than ever. But she must keep on.—Ah, luck, here was a chemist's shop. No good. "We cannot serve you without a doctor's prescription." On again—down one street after another, another chemist's shop. What was the name? Stephenson! No good trying that she must keep on yet further. Still more interminable street. She had got out of the track of business now, and among the dull drab streets of a locality. Was there no end to them? At last, Betty pulled up short, and spoke to a decent woman, who was coming along with a basket over her arm.

"Excuse me," she said, "but could you tell me the way to a chemist's—any chemist's?"

"Why, yes," replied the woman, civily. "See, go down that street to the right there, and at the end of it, just round the corner, you'll come to a chemist's shop."

"Thank you so much," said Betty. "What did you say the name was?"

"The name? Oh, Chalmers."

"Thank you so much," said Betty, and went on her way sicker at the heart than ever. For it was no use her trying any chemist shop with the name of Chalmers. She, therefore, walked along for a good way, and took a turning in an exactly opposite direction to the way pointed out by the woman. More dull drab streets, row after row of small, featureless houses, with never a shop among them. Then another turning, and yet another, and then she became conscious that the afternoon was waning. She must hurry on ah! here was a chemist's shop at last a shabby and mean little shop rejoicing in the name, the good old homely name of Tomson. Betty pushed open the door, with a sense of relief and proffered her request for two-penny worth of laudanum, with such a sigh that the man behind the counter took flight at once, and asked, in most suspicious tones, why she wanted it?

"For toothache," said Betty, and truly she looked sufficiently woebegone to justify a pain in any part of her body.

"You'd much better have it out," said the man, quite kindly. "Toothache's very wearing. Come inside. I'll take it out for sixpence. It will be out before you know I've begun."

"Certainly not," said Betty, with dignity, "I wouldn't let you touch my teeth for the world."

Of a truth, there was not a single unsound tooth in the girl's head, the only one that had ever troubled her having been dealt with about a year before in a chemist's shop at Rockborough.

"It's much the best way," said Mr. Tomson.

"Oh, no. If you cannot sell me the laudanum—" Betty began, when he interrupted her.

"I mean no offence," he said, half-apologetically, "but it's not very long since a lady came in here and asked for a few pennyworth of laudanum, for toothache, just as you've done. 'I'm suffering horribly,' she said, 'and I want it to rub in.' As I knew her, I let her have it, and the next thing I heard was that she was dead. I wasn't blamed for I'd done all that the law requires, but I made a vow then that I'd never, never, as long as I was in the business, sell a drop without a doctor's order. I'm sorry, miss, but—" and then he shrugged his shoulders, as if words to express more had failed him.

"Very well," said Betty. Then a bright thought struck her? "Couldn't you sell me something else for toothache?" she asked.

"Certainly. There's Maguire's Nervine, excellent it is—one and a penny ha'penny."

"I'll take that," said Betty, laying the money on the counter.

This reduced her little store of money to ten pence, but that did not trouble Betty at all. She had allayed suspicion, and she walked away quite briskly, until she was out of sight of the shop. Then, alas! she flagged again. Oh, how footsore and weary she was! What a treat it would be to sink into a long, delicious, dreamless state of rest! How could people, especially those in trouble, those with whom life had gone all wrong, have any hesitation in putting themselves out of the way of wrong for ever?

At last she came to another chemist's the name over the door was Hedderburn, and there she was served with what she had asked for without a word, beyond a request for her name and address, which she duly gave.

So, at last, her weapon of self-defence was ready. She went next into a small china shop, and asked for a tumbler.

NAME FIFTEEN NEW CONSTABLES

Police Committee Had a Busy Session Yesterday—Case of Scavenging,

On May 1st fifteen new constables will assume their duties. They were appointed yesterday by the Police Committee, after having passed a most rigid examination, conducted by Ald. Lebeuf (chairman), Ald. Ames, and Ald. Lamarche. This sub-committee, appointed to examine applicants, reported that 55 candidates had submitted themselves. Of that number 24 had passed the examination, and were placed in the first class. They were the following:—

French-Canadians—Joseph Maisonneuve, Albert Genest, Eustache Coulombe, Joseph S. Jean, Wilfred Brunet, Joseph Parent, Horace Ganoin, Joseph Landreau, Louis Hebert, Henri Bricault, Homere Lalontaine, Arthur Gagnon, Hector Mercier, Narcisse Trudeau, Hulbret Langevin, Magloire Desjardins, Wilfrid Rochon, Alexandre Pilotte.

Irish Catholics—Patrick McGrath, Donald Gibbons, Patrick Broden.

English Catholics and Protestants—Geo. G. Wand, David H. Booth, Charles S. H. Holdstock.

"On the first of May," said Ald. Walsh, "fifteen new constables are to be appointed. Now, the first eighteen on that list are French-Canadian. Are we to understand that the first fifteen on the list will be appointed?"

"Not at all," replied Ald. Lebeuf. "We will first determine how many French-Canadian are to be appointed, how many Irish Catholics, and how many Protestants. The appointments will then be made on that basis."

"I guess all the English will be appointed," said Ald. Ames, laughingly. "There are very few of them."

The report was laid on the table until almost the conclusion of the meeting, when, all outsiders having withdrawn, the chairman suggested that the new men might as well be appointed.

Ald. Ames indicated that the proportion between the two races in regard to these appointments should be based on two-thirds French-Canadian and one-third English, or ten of the former and five of the latter.

The committee agreed without demur, and the first ten French-Canadians on the list were selected. All six of the English candidates were taken, as an English vacancy had previously existed. Ald. Ames nominated the English-speaking candidates and Ald. Walsh the Irish.

HELP FOR THE SCAVENGERS.

Ald. Lavallee, chairman of the Incineration Committee, appeared to enquire whether the police could not do something to assist the scavengers in keeping lanes and yards properly cleaned.

"We haven't got enough police," was Ald. Lebeuf's preliminary objection.

"Some action," said Ald. Lavallee, "should be taken against proprietors who are in the habit of placing their garbage outside after the scavengers have passed. Complaints have been made by citizens that scavengers do not do their duty, but the citizens are themselves to blame for a great deal of the inefficient work."

"There is a by-law," said Ald. Ames, compelling people to put out the garbage barrels at certain hours, and it should be enforced."

"We cannot enforce it without the aid of the police," retorted Ald. Lavallee.

"In Boston," said Ald. Lebeuf, "all difficulties of that nature are met by the scavengers passing along lanes and asking for the refuse. The receptacle is then handed to them, and after its contents is dumped into the waggon the receptacle itself is handed back to the householder. In that way no unsightly barrels are permitted to stand in lanes and streets."

"We could not do that here," remarked Ald. Lavallee. "It would take too much time. We have no bells or gates to the rear of most of the houses."

"There is a great lack of intelligence on the part of the scavengers," observed Ald. Couture; "they don't know enough to look inside a yard."

"Well," asserted Ald. Ames, "there have been much fewer complaints this year than last."

It was decided that in the commercial part of the city the police would order barrels in as soon as they are emptied. Should barrels be placed outside after the scavengers have passed the police will insist on their being taken in again.

FINANCE COMMITTEE CRITICISED.

Chief Legault drew the attention of the committee to the fact that the Finance Committee had decided to pay the constables by cheque instead of in cash, and that now the City Treasurer wanted the pay days made by-weekly instead of weekly.

Ald. Lebeuf said he did not think the Finance Committee had any right to interfere with the payment of the men, and in support of his contention cited rule 88 of the Council, which reads:—"Each member (of the force) shall receive his pay weekly, but the committee (this is the Police Committee) may order otherwise if it deems necessary." So that, observed Ald. Lebeuf, the Finance Committee did not seem to have anything to do with it. "I spoke to Ald. Laporte about this," he continued. "I did not think it was nice in him to make such a change without first consulting the Police Committee."

"I don't think," remarked Ald. Ames, "that there can be any difficulty about the payment by cheque. There is much to be said in its favor. But I do think that the paymaster should always be on hand to cash the cheques when the men desire him to do so."

"The payment of the men on the force, as it was done before, was always regular and satisfactory," asserted Ald. Lebeuf. "The money was taken to the various stations in individual envelopes and given by the respective captains to the men. The men then signed a list to show that they had got the money. It was a simple and expeditious way of payment. Now the men will have to run themselves for their cash. As a question of law, payment by cheque is no payment at all, and the men would be justified in demanding cash. Even an accepted cheque is not legal tender. And then think of the wasted labor in making out 400 cheques for sums of 89 and 10. There is no sense in it; it is ridiculous. I think we should ask the Finance Committee to withdraw the regulation."

"We should reach the Finance Committee through the Council," said Ald. Ames. "Let us make a report at the meeting to-morrow setting forth the reasons why it is extremely inconvenient to pay by cheque, and then the Finance Committee will be able to take it up on Friday."

"That will be all right," said Ald. Lamarche, "so long as it is understood that the Finance Committee will take the matter up immediately, because it is extremely urgent. I have known constables who have found themselves in an awkward position through having the cheque and not knowing where to cash it."

Ald. Lapointe, a member of the Finance Committee, said that that body had not made the change on its own initiative. Comptroller Dufresne had written a complaint regarding the old system.

"What had he to do with it?" queried Ald. Lebeuf irascibly.

"He complains about everything," exclaimed Ald. Lamarche.

"Mr. Dufresne said that the old method was not according to rule," continued Ald. Lapointe.

"He knows a lot about rules," interrupted Ald. Lebeuf. "He should have known that we are the Police Committee, and that, as a Police Committee, we are the only ones who can change the method of paying constables."

Representations will be made through Council to the Finance Committee looking towards a reversion to the old order of payment.

STUDY SOCIAL EVIL.

Some time last fall Chief Legault made a report to the committee on the question of regulating the social evil, and Ald. Ames pointed out that in order to study it intelligently a supplementary report should be obtained giving the court statistics on the subject. He wanted the number of houses raided during the last two or three years, the addresses, the amount of fines collected, and so on.

The committee will consider the question in private.

Ald. Lamarche drew attention to the publicity given to police raids on disorderly houses. He remarked that as a father of a family he regretted to see so much space taken up in newspaper accounts of these occurrences. He wanted his children to read the papers, but not that kind of news. The names, addresses, amount of money paid in fines, were all a powerful commentary on the social evil, and on the minds of children, it might do much harm. He thought the trials in the Recorder's Court should be held in private.

Ald. Ames remarked he thought the court had to be public, to which Chairman Lebeuf added that was a right guaranteed by English law. He also remarked that the Recorders did on occasion order the public out of court. As a committee, of course, they could offer no suggestion to the Recorders, although a private interview might be acceptable.

Some of the aldermen thought the newspapers were the most concerned, and that the reform should begin in their offices.

It was decided to call for tenders for suits, rubber coats and boots. The latter will have to be guaranteed for a year, during which the contractor undertakes to keep them in proper repair free of charge. The soles are to be of natural leather with no stains.

DIRECTORS MAY KEEP STEEL ISSUE

According to the latest declaration on the subject, the Dominion Iron & Steel Company are not by any means anxious that the public should rush after the new $10,000,000 issue of common stock which it has been decided to float. The directors think the undertaking is so good that they will be just as well pleased if a large part of it is left in their own hands.

The underwriters, who consist of the leading directors of the Steel Company, are said to be extremely well satisfied with a report just received by several leading financial companies who sent down a delegation to look over the whole field.

The statement that three banks had underwritten the common stock is now declared to be incorrect, and it is asserted that the real undertakers of the concern are Mr. James Ross, Hon. George Cox, and their co-directors of the Steel Company.

Mr. Ross, before his departure for England, announced that the directors would ask the shareholders to take the new issue at a certain rate, and this promise, made by the president-to-be of the company, will, of course, be kept. It is known, however, that the shareholding public will not be pressed to take the Steel stock, and that as a matter of fact, the big holders will be just as well pleased if they have to keep it all in their own hands, so well satisfied are they with the general outlook.

It is considered probable in some quarters that on the date of issue a circular will be addressed to all those holding "Steel" on the 1st of May, informing them that they are entitled to their share pro rata of the new issue, and this will end the efforts of the directorate to secure public co-operation. This attitude on the part of the underwriters has been strengthened by the result of the delegation to Cape Breton. Messrs. W. T. White, of the National Trust Company, and several other gentlemen representing the Canadian Bank of Commerce and the Canada Life Insurance Company have just arrived from the scene of their enquiry, and have made a report to the underwriters both in Montreal and Toronto. They say the situation is most satisfactory, and that by August nothing can prevent the Steel Company from earning $2,000,000 a year.

NEW CATHOLIC PARISH.

Meeting to be Held This Evening in Fire Station No. 17.

A meeting will be held this evening at fire station No. 17, corner of Laurier and St. Denis streets, to discuss and promote the organization of a new English-speaking Catholic parish lying north of Mount Royal Avenue. Rev. Canon Archambault and the be present, and a large gathering of all diocese, representing the Archbishop, will be present, and a large gathering of all those interested in the matter is requested at eight o'clock.

The proposed parish will include the English-speaking Catholics of the following parishes, where religious ministrations are now conducted in French: St. Louis du Mile End, St. Louis de France, St. Edouard, St. Denis, St. Hilaire and Outremont. It is estimated that between five and six hundred Irish and English families are included in these parishes.

Mr. Richard McCallum

WELL-KNOWN CITIZEN OF STIRLING, ONT., CURED OF CHRONIC CATARRH AND IRRITABLE THROAT BY CATARRHOZONE.

A Remarkable Case Exciting Great Interest in Stirling, Which, if Possible, Adds to the Popularity of Catarrhozone as a Cure for Catarrh, Bronchitis and Throat Trouble.

Catarrh is one of the most disagreeable and at the same time one of the hardest to cure diseases. This has been Mr. McCallum's experience:—

"For many years," he writes, "I have suffered from catarrh and continually hawked and coughed, so that my throat was always in an inflamed, irritable condition.

"Doctors' medicine did not help me in the least, and all other remedies I used were quite useless. In one case it was time wasted in snuffing a powder up the nose; in another using a greasy ointment, and so on. Not one of them was the least bit of good.

"I heard Catarrhozone favorably spoken of and tried a sample, and it really benefited me more in a few hours than years of treatment with doctor's and other so-called remedies.

"Receiving such immense benefit from the sample size I got the complete outfit, large hard rubber inhaler, etc., and but a few weeks of its use completely cured me of catarrh and throat trouble.

"I recommend Catarrhozone as the most satisfactory catarrh remedy on the market. Every word said about it is true.

(Signed) "RICHARD McCALLUM."

Now perhaps you need a remedy like Catarrhozone. It is the only treatment that is applied locally as well as constitutionally. The inhaler clears the air passages, stops hawking and spitting, and purifies the breath.

The Ferrozone tablets which are used in conjunction with Catarrhozone Inhaler drive all the poisons from the blood and build up the system to a healthy, vigorous condition.

The complete outfit costs $1.00, at all druggists; trial size, 25 cents; by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont. Buy Catarrhozone to-day.

POINT ST. CHARLES A.A.A. DROPS ALL FIELD SPORTS

Were Forced to This by the N.A.L.U.'s Refusal.

HAVE GIVEN UP THE QUEEN'S PARK GROUNDS

They Will Have No Lacrosse, Rugby or Association Teams.

MR. GEORGE TATE,
President of the P.A.A.A.

The Point St. Charles Amateur Athletic Association has dropped out of all outdoor sports. That is the announcement made by President George Tate.

This is the immediate result of the refusal of the Senior Lacrosse League to admit them to membership.

The facts of the case are these: In order to have outdoor sports, it was necessary to have grounds. So the P.A.A.A. entered into an arrangement with the Queen's Park syndicate and secured those fine grounds. They put out good teams in Rugby, Association football, and lacrosse in the intermediate and junior series. But naturally these were run at a loss, for the simple reason that the public doesn't pay to see anything but the senior game. The P.A.A.A. was quite satisfied, hoping that after proving their ability to play senior lacrosse they would be admitted, and so their gates would be sufficient to carry on the grounds and build up the association.

When the N.A.L.U. turned them down the second year of application they were face to face with a serious proposition. The gates for the intermediate teams are so small that not one of the teams in the league pays expenses. The Points were no exception. Their intermediate team cost money to run the Queen's Park cost them over $500 a year. And all this deficit had to come out of the ordinary membership receipts of the association. This was an impossibility, for the running of the club house had to be attended to from those receipts.

So the finish has come, and for this year, at least, Points will not play either of the footballs, lacrosse or hockey. They will confine themselves to gymnasium work and social functions.

There is not a true sport in the city that will not very much regret this crisis in P.A.A.A. affairs. The association was doing an excellent work, and was amateur from the word go. It was an association of first-class sports, and their retirement from active participation in field sports is a cause for very great regret.

LACROSSE PLAYERS DIVIDE.

This means that their lacrosse players will join other clubs, and already half a dozen of them have done so.

Jack Roach, Kerwin and George Finlayson have cast in their lot with Nationals. Masterson, Taylor and Lawlor are likely to play in the scarlet and gray of the Montreal club.

QUEEN'S PARK.

There are two possibilities for the future of Queen's Park. It is understood the Y.M.C.A. have made an offer of the proprietors, which may or may not be accepted. So far nothing has been decided. If the Y.M.C.A. offer is not accepted, it is probable that the land will be broken up into building lots.

LAJOIE WAS TAKEN OUT OF THE GAME

Court Has Issued a Temporary Injunction on Philadelphia American Club.

Philadelphia, April 23.—Following up the decision of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court against Napoleon Lajoie, of the Philadelphia American League team, John J. Rogers, of the Philadelphia National League Club secured a temporary injunction to-day restraining the second baseman from playing with any other organization than the Philadelphia National Club. The injunction which was granted by Common Pleas Court No. 3, the same tribunal which dismissed the application for an injunction last year, and which was reversed by the Supreme Court on Monday also restrains the local American League Club from employing Lajoie. Col. Rogers wanted to include Pitchers Fraser and Bernhard, but counsel for the American League objected. The court remarked that when the case was argued originally no testimony was heard on Fraser and Bernhard. It was finally decided to limit the injunction to Lajoie. The court ordered that all three cases come up for action on Monday on a motion of the American League's counsel to dissolve the injunction against Lajoie.

The court fixed the amount of security before the injunction should issue at $2,000. Col. Rogers secured the necessary bond.

Baltimore, April 23.—To-day, while the second half of the eighth inning of the Philadelphia Baltimore-American League game was being played Manager Mack, of the Athletics, received a telegram from Philadelphia, announcing the court had issued a temporary injunction restraining Second Baseman Lajoie from playing for five days. While Mr. Mack was not advised to take Lajoie out of the game, he decided to do so pending a conference with counsel.

Mat and Ring

Sharkey and Ruhlin Matched.

New York, April 23.—Tom Sharkey and Gus Ruhlin were matched this afternoon to box fifteen rounds, to a decision, before the National Sporting Club of London, during the week beginning June 23, for a purse of $5,000, the winner to get 75 per cent. The men are to box at catch weights, under the Marquis of Queensbury rules.

The famous race mare Lady Ballard, by Ballard, owned by John B. Ewing, foaled a bay colt by imp. Top Gallant, at Willamette stud. This foal is a half-brother to the sensational Kingdon, the first noted performer sired by the famous Kingston.

VANDERBILT'S NEW AUTO RECORD

Willie K. Astounds Paris by Making Eighteen Miles in Sixteen Minutes.

Paris, April 24.—The Herald's European edition publishes the following:—

The automobile run made by Mr. William K. Vanderbilt, jr., on Sunday, when, without the stimulus of a race, he covered twenty-nine kilometres (eighteen miles thirty-five yards) in sixteen minutes, has been the topic of pleasant discussion, coupled with many complimentary remarks, in automobile circles.

Men in whose veins runs that sporting blood which quickens when a worthy feat is accomplished or new records are made or foreshadowed, took great interest in learning the details of the Sunday run on the Chartres Road, and everyone expressed the hope that nothing would interfere with the proposed race between Mr. Vanderbilt and Baron Henri de Rothschild.

Experts who read the figures of time and distance saw at a glance what had been done on Sunday's informal trial on the Abis-Chartres route, but a man may be interested in sport generally and yet not comprehend exactly what twenty-nine kilometres in sixteen minutes means and will ask his more knowing friend how fast Mr. Vanderbilt went. How fast, for instance, compared with a spanking four-in-hand or a railway train, to swing from one extreme to another, and how much of a journey twenty-nine kilometres means, using the distance between well known points or landmarks as an example to make it clearer.

WHAT THE FIGURES MEAN.

For the benefit of the uninitiated such questions may be answered in the following way:

When M. Serpollet made his sensational kilometre (five-eighths of a mile) run at Nice recently, the record, which smashed all previous figures, was 29 4-5 seconds.

Perhaps you can better imagine what the speed was when you are told that M. Serpollet's automobile, over the smooth, perfect road of the Promenade des Anglais, went at such a terrific pace that it lurched all over the course, jumping and leaping along the road, and the Mahedo, who accompanied M. Serpollet, had the greatest difficulty in bracing, having to turn the head for the pace, and that the almost fainted when the automobile pulled up.

That was at the rate of 24 1-5 seconds.

Well, Mr. Vanderbilt did event nine of them straight away in 23.10 seconds per kilometre, or one of them on a slant decimal 2.58 seconds.

For the benefit of the man who knows his London and the roads leading there from it may be added that Mr. Vanderbilt's run was equal to the trip from London to Brighton and two miles in about forty-six minutes, a distance which takes a train about one and a half hours.

COMPARISONS OF RAILWAY SPEED.

Talking of railway speed, he was going at a pace exactly equal to that of the famous two mail, on England's Great Western Railway between London and Bristol, when a run of sixty-three miles was made at sixty-six miles an hour.

Or, if you like to compare it with the distance between Charing Cross and Hampton Court, fifteen miles, he would have done the journey in fifteen minutes and thirteen seconds, provided the double thirteen did not bring him to the municipal jail first.

Billiards

Where Ignorance is Bliss—

New York, April 23.—Julius Adorjan, an Austrian billiard player, has come to the country under the misapprehension that Jacob Schaefer will play no more match games in France. The Austrian says he has played in the Paris academies for ten years, but now he would challenge Schaefer to play for the championship of the world.

Adorjan arrived on the St. Paul Saturday, hopefully impressed that Schaefer is to sail for Paris a few days. Like many celebrities, the billiard expert came incognito, but was recognized by a fellow-countryman on the pier.

PACIFFIC AND POWER WERE ONLY FEATURES

The Market Was Otherwise Very Dull and Flat This Morning.

EXPLANATION OF BORROWING OF C.P.R.

Crop Scare is Over for the Time Being and New York Was Better.

The market was quieter this morning than it has been for many a day.

Apart from a fair amount of activity in Pacific and increased trading in Power, which put the stock to 103, there was very little done, Steel and Coal only figuring in a few transactions.

It is plain that Toronto people are now keenly interested in Canadian Pacific and are responsible to some extent for most of the bull literature on Pacific that is floating about.

The talk emanating from Toronto of a heavy short interest in Pacific in New York is easily explained. Although there has been quite a heavy borrowing demand for Pacific in that market New York has not gone short of the stock to any extent. A more likely explanation of the situation is found in the fact that London was a heavy seller of Pacific in New York on the advance, and naturally the stock had to be borrowed until delivery could be made from across the water. It is a temporary shortage of the stock in New York that may exist eight or ten days more.

Pacific advanced to 126 3-4 today in sympathy with the American roads recovering on the reports of rains in the West. Indeed the crop scare is over for the time being, wheat in Chicago this morning declining 1 1-2 cents.

$ $ $

The strength in Power was due to a little renewed buying on the part of people who have confidence in it and are looking for a satisfactory statement.

Coal held fairly well in spite of the less favorable statement about to be issued and the rumors of a strike of some of the employes.

Nova Scotia was off to 100 on one sale, and the rest of the market was flat and without feature.

L. J. Forget & Co.'s London cable quoted Grand Trunk first at 100½, second at 84, third at 35¾, Canadian Pacific at 128½ and Anaconda at 45⅝.

The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes:

Total reserve, increased	£ 889,000
Circulation, decreased	118,000
Bullion, increased	661,256
Other securities, increased	1,250,000
Other deposits, increased	327,000
Public deposits, increased	1,715,000
Notes, reserve, increased	809,000
Government securities, increased	30,000

The proportion of the Bank of England's reserve is 49.82 per cent. Last week it was 50.24 per cent. Rate of discount unchanged at three per cent.

Mr. C. D. Monk's messages said: Americans in London are strong and fairly active at advances of ⅜ to ¾ per cent. above N. Y. close. Illinois Central the feature, 1½ pts. Current says general crop conditions fair. Ontario and Western shows earnings capacity of 2 per cent. on stock. Pressed Steel Car declared regular dividend on common and pfd. yesterday. Seaboard contemplates extensive developments possibly in connection with Detroit Southern. Reorganization Mexican Central will be taken up shortly. Lake Shore surplus in annual report equal to 14½ per cent. on the stock. Considered this market temporarily short. Canadian Pacific. Gates' crowd reported bulling T. C. I. Sugar prospects in Wasshington considered better. Iron Age says idle of steel business still running at flood. The Industrials will come to the fore to-day: T. C. I., R.B.C., probably be active. The weather scare west has about petered out for the time being. Coalers and tractions should resume upward course stayed by the crop scare. Sentiment considerably changed, and more confident feeling prevails.

Bank of England rate unchanged.

London Government circles are more optimistic regarding peace in South Africa than they have been for some days. The result of information from Lord Milner, more definite than that which has heretofore been received and of a most interesting character, not yet announced. Copper opening spot 52 2-6, Dec., 2s 6d, futures decline 2s 6d, market easy.

Look for a quieter market to-day than we have had with activity in a few specialties such as T.C.I. and Reading.

Kansas City—Weather quite cool here this a.m., clouds coming up and wind from east possible, showers predicted, but reels too cool for much rain.

Inside sentiment on B.R.T., is very bullish and while there is no particular news, some stress is laid on the fact that last summer when the property was by no means in as good condition as it is to-day the stock was strong between 80 and 90, the Company will be able, by reason of increased facilities to take charge of a very large seaside business this season.

Chicago—Pretty general rains reported over Kansas and Missouri.

Robert Meredith & Co., received the following over their private wire from Zimmerman and Forshay, New York:

The stock market this morning was strong and fairly active, prices being fractionally better throughout the whole list, caused by shorts covering. Brooklyn Rapid Transit advanced over 2 per cent., Manhattan 1¾ per cent., Readings, nearly 1 per cent., Illinois Central 1½ per cent., and Canadian Pacific over 1 per cent. Grass twine continued very strong. There was a sharp upward movement in American District Telegraph. Good rains are reported all through Kansas. Sales to noon, 612,000 shares. Canadian Pacific closed in London, 128½. Reports of heavy rains in Kansas bettered the Grangers but there seemed to be some pressure there. Exchange market is very firm demand sterling, being 488.

Pimples, Blotches and Skin Eruptions.

How unsightly, sometimes even disgusting, and certainly very mortifying to the sufferer. They are merely an evidence of impure, poisoned blood, and lowered vitality of the elementary organs, which can be quickly changed by taking Ferrozone after meals. Ferrozone cleanses the blood of all poisons and eruptions, makes it rich in red corpuscles that manifest themselves in a healthy, ruddy complexion. To have a pure, soft skin and good complexion simply use Ferrozone regularly. Price 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

MONTREAL MARKETS

Firmer Feeling in Grain and Flour, in Sympathy With U.S. Advance.

GRAIN—There has been a firmer feeling in grain of late with more demand for oats. Some fair sized cable orders were filled. Business in Manitoba wheat with foreign buyers was checked owing to the sudden advance in prices on this side. There was some demand for buckwheat and a sale

SLUMP IN TIN

New York, April 24.—The cable this morning brought news of a further very decided slump in pig tin values on the London market. It was learned that the break was due to the withdrawal as a buyer of the interest which had been supporting that market, owing to the fact that it was compelled to take too much metal to maintain its position. The price of spot tin broke £3 10s, making since Friday's close a total decline of £4 15s. Futures dropped £3 early in the day, but recovered 5s later and closed steady under liberal buying.

TO-DAY'S CATTLE

About thirty drovers arrived at the Exchange Hotel yesterday with live stock for both local and through sale. The receipts of through stock at the Montreal Stock Yards were 75 cars for Portland and Boston. The SS. Irishman is now at Portland to load. The local receipts were good but the bulk of the stock was of the small variety, mostly calves. The prices ranged about as follows: Calves, $1 to $5; sheep, $3 to $4; hogs, $6½ to $6¾; cattle, common, $2.50 to $3.50; fair, $3.50 to $4.50; choice, $5 to $5.50. The market is steady and there is a very good demand.

LADIES PRESENT GIFTS.

The elevation of Dean Carmichael to the episcopate has been an opportunity for the members of St. George's congregation to show their deep affection for their rector by the presentation of gifts, and for the Diocesan Women's Auxiliary to present Mrs. Carmichael with a provincial life membership and card. The presentation was made by Mrs. Bayhs.

Yesterday afternoon a large number of ladies assembled in the school house, when Mrs. A. F. Gault, with whom was associated Mrs. King, presented Dean Carmichael with his episcopal robes and case, and a handsome purse of money, with the earnest hope that in his new capacity Dean Carmichael might long be spared to St. George's, where he is so much loved.

The Dean, who was deeply touched, responded in a feeling and sympathetic manner. He referred to his affection for St. George's and felt thankful that while carrying on his episcopal duties he would still be with his people. It was a pleasure to know that he would be robed and vested by the members of St. George's Church. In conclusion the Dean said he prayed that while fulfilling his new duties he might be of use to the congregation whose devotion he so fully appreciated.

Special Notice.
REMARKABLE DEMAND.

Outremont Junction building lots at the head of Park Avenue (where the new Electric Car Line has been installed to Van Horne Avenue) have for the last month been in great demand. The lots are close, and adjoin the large C.P.R. Yards and Works, and rumor says it is most probable that the Canadian Pacific Railway will extend their yards, and will employ about 800 more men, and as most of them will in all probability have families, the population will very soon make a town of 5,000 inhabitants. Already the water has been laid on many of the streets, and a number of enterprises and industries have been started, such as Foundry, Piano Factory, Hay Press, Wood and Coal Yard, Lumber Yard, 5 to 8 Stores, Land Office, Hotel containing 40 rooms, and nearly always full. Outremont Junction Post Office is open. The new Roman Catholic Church (St. Jean de la Croix) is completed, and a fine new School is in course of construction. The new Electric Car Line is a boon to the neighborhood, and the lots are still cheap, and the payments easy.—adv.

A factor worthy of attention in connection with Canadian Pacific is the low capitalization of the road. The following table shows how great an advantage the Canadian road has in the matter of capitalization and fixed charges:—

	Capital per mile.
Erie	$151,931
Baltimore and Ohio	92,554
Union Pacific	79,468
Northern Pacific	63,049
Atchison	53,187
Great Northern	47,649
Canadian Pacific	29,302

The fixed charges per mile of road compare as follows:—

Erie	4,032
Baltimore and Ohio	2,902
Union Pacific	1,934
Atchison	1,303
Canadian Pacific	903

The low amount of the capitalization and fixed charges is partly accounted for by the fact that cash subsidies and proceeds of the land sales, received by the company, amounted to $52,500,000, or 25 per cent of the cost of the road and equipment. The object of the management is, first, to obtain all the traffic and gross revenue possible; second, to reduce the operating cost to a minimum; third, to cut down the fixed charges so as to produce a surplus for the common shares.

The success of the company in obtaining traffic may be shown from the following statement of earnings:—

	Gross earnings.
For year 1897	24,049,555
For year 1898	26,138,977
For year 1899	28,220,037
For year 1901	30,855,203
For year, 1902 ...(estimate)	37,030,842

This would represent a gain of 20 per cent. over last year, and 54 per cent. in five years.

Bull literature on Canadian Pacific is naturally a feature of the present movement and a broker is now out with the following: "We have been asked to give a detailed statement of the agricultural, timber and coal lands owned by the Canadian Pacific Company. The same will be found among the items named below. The actual capital issue of this great railway is about $29,300 per mile, but when the total of the items named below is taken into consideration the capital issue per mile is reduced to about $12,500.

Balance of profits held by the company in cash	9,793,462.00
Total	$121,251,340.72

The facts that this company earned on the common stock for the six months ending December, 1901, 13.37 per cent.; that the earnings have increased very largely every week of the present year; that the company having provided by the issue of 20,000,000 of new stock to place the railway in as good physical condition as any other railway on the continent; that there is every prospect that the earnings will increase with the rapid development now going on in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, all these facts make it easy to believe that the directors will decide to put Canadian Pacific common stock on a 6 per cent. basis.

As to the probable income which may supply dividends on the stock, we quote from the speech of Mr. Marconi at the meeting of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Co., Ltd., held in London on February 20th last.

He said:—"Returning to the question of commercial working, I may mention that it is no uncommon thing for the messages passing to and from a liner, either outward or homeward bound, to realize, apart from service messages, a sum of from £30 to £40. Upon a recent arrival of one of the American liners in home waters no less than 8050 words were transmitted and received within the space of sixteen hours. I would point out that if in each complete day of twenty-four hours only that same number of words should be transmitted between two of our transatlantic stations—and the supposition is, surely, not an extravagant one—that, at 6d a word, would represent an annual income of over £73,000 from each pair of such stations, of which, in the first instance, we are proceeding to install two pairs."

From the directors' report submitted at that same time we quote as follows:—

"A formal agreement has also been concluded with Lloyds, whereby that Corporation has adopted Marconi's system exclusively in connection with their signal stations; the necessary instruments are now being installed at ten of their stations, and these will also be worked for the passenger and commercial traffic of the Marconi International Marine Communication Company.

"The chief Steamship Companies are also giving orders for installations on their vessels; the Cunard Line, Nord-deutscher-Lloyd, Compagnie Transatlantique, Beaver Line, Belgian Mail Packets, etc., etc., are regularly and successfully employing the Marconi system to the great satisfaction of the passengers and of the officers of these vessels. This example will doubtless soon be followed by other Steamship Companies.

"By the organization of an extensive system of shore stations, and by means of the agreement with Lloyds, the Marconi system has secured a practical monopoly of mercantile marine signalling and sea telegraphy, and the instruments have therefore become the standard instruments for the ships of all nations. It may be noted that ships fitted with the Marconi instruments will alone, to the exclusion of all others, have the right and power, of using for wireless telegraphy Lloyds and the International Shore Stations established and being established throughout our organization. The instruments specially designed for sea purposes are used in everyday commercial work over a range of 100 miles or more, and great improvements have been effected in other respects."

The Marconi system has been adopted by the British Admiralty, and the ships of the navy are being steadily equipped, over 37 vessels having been already equipped. This is under a contract giving the English Company a substantial royalty and for a period of 14 years.

The Marconi system has been adopted by the Italian navy, and negotiations are being carried on with various governments, and work is in progress for other engagements of an important and beneficial character.

It is intended that the station at Cape Cod, now almost completed for transatlantic work, shall be equipped in the most efficient and thorough manner, and immediately. Another station is to be erected at once at Montauk Point for marine service.

With such a revolution in world-around communication it would be inadvisable at the present time to make detailed statistical estimates of the commercial profits that are confidently expected, but of all wireless telegraph inventions the Marconi alone have shown commercial value, and this Company is the sole owner of all rights to the Marconi system in the United States.

MANAGERS FOR THE MONOPOLY

Morgan Steamship Combine Has Eyes on English Trunk Railways.

London, April 24.—The Daily News says there is hardly any doubt that the next link to be acquired by the shipping combination will be certain selected English trunk railways. Tuesday's reports indicated that the London & Southwestern Railway Company has already received overtures, though this is officially denied. The News revives the rumor that Americans are buying the Great Central Railway.

It is stated at Southampton that Mr. Wilding, who succeeded Mr. Ellerman as manager of the Leyland Line, will be the British manager of the steamship combination. Mr. Griscom, of the International Navigation Company (the American and Red Star Lines) will look after the American end.

VIENNA COMMENT.

Vienna, April 23.—The comment here is generally adverse to the Morgan steamship combine. The Neues Weiner Journal characterizes it as the first world trust, and says: "The interests of the entire world are opposed to America monopolizing the whole shipping traffic of the world, or using international navigation to develop its own export trade and serve its own political ends. The present organization contains the root of a still closer combine, of which America will be the strongest member, notwithstanding the fact that Germany is able to bring into the pool a hundred times the traffic of America; yet, the superior organized financial power of the Morgan syndicate will eventually give the United States supreme control. From the standpoint of national interests, the trust is the most dangerous conceivable, and it is only natural that the States affected should watch the development most closely and take every precaution possible. It may be found necessary to extend the system of state ownership to the sphere hitherto left exclusively for private initiative. Yet state ownership of the commercial marine would greatly reduce its mobility and give a fresh advantage to America, which has other means of defending and concentrating its own interests."

WORSE THAN WATER CURE.

Rossland Youth Had His Stomach Filled With Cycle-Pump Air, and is in a Bad Way.

Rossland, B.C., April 24.—(Special)—George Smith, a 15-year-old boy, is under the care of a physician, suffering from one of the most peculiar cases known to medical science. Some time since a playmate suggested to young Smith that he open his mouth and that he would "blow him up" with a bicycle pump.

The lad assented, and the threat was fully carried out, the boy's stomach being literally converted into a balloon. The bow was taken sick as a result. The stomach was relieved of its surplus of atmosphere, but the boy did not get well. This went on until several days ago, when the physician was called in. He made a thorough examination of the case, and made the astonishing discovery that the pressure on the boy's stomach had been so strong as to dilate the walls thereof, and that the lad's food receptacle was nearly a third larger than it should be. The lad's condition is very critical.

Burdock Blood Bitters.

Turns Bad Blood into Rich Red Blood.

This spring you will need something to take away that tired, listless feeling brought on by the system being clogged with impurities which have accumulated during the winter.

Burdock Blood Bitters is the remedy you require.

It has no equal as a spring medicine. It has been used by thousands for a quarter of a century with unequalled success.

HERE IS PROOF.

Mrs. J. T. Skine of Shigawake, Que., writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters as a spring medicine for the past four years and don't think there is its equal. When I feel drowsy, tired and have no desire to eat I get a bottle of B.B.B. It purifies the blood and builds up the constitution better than any other remedy."

THE BILL PASSED IN THE LANDSTHING

Sensational Sitting Before the West Indies Sale Goes Through.

Copenhagen, April 23.—The Landsthing, by 34 to 30 votes, to-day, adopted the majority's report on the treaty providing for the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States. The treaty now goes back to the Folksthing.

The session of the Landsthing was one of the most sensational on record. The lie was passed twice and charges and counter-charges were hurled back and forth, while the opponents of the sale of the islands went so far as to impugn the accuracy of the United States State Department's official records. The president of the House twice called a former minister of justice to order, and the president also left the chair and spoke passionately against the ratification of the treaty. M. Jensen, one of the opposition leaders, quoted a private conversation which he had with the foreign minister, Dr. Deuntzer, claiming that the latter expressed himself as being personally opposed to the sale. This the minister heatedly denied. It was at this stage of the proceedings that the lie was twice passed.

Former Premier Estrup, during the course of the debate, denied the Foreign Minister's assertion, based on statements from United States official publications, the reading of which caused a sensation in the Landsthing yesterday, that M. Estrup, who is the leader of the Opposition, offered to sell the islands to the United States in 1892, when M. Estrup was premier.

The Foreign Minister then quoted the Foreign Relations Committee of the United States Senate on the subject, and M. Estrup excitedly reiterated his denial, declaring that the State Department's publication was wrong, and that the American minister who was in Copenhagen at that time must have conveyed a false impression to Washington. M. Estrup admitted there had been some talk of a sale, but he declared he had never made overtures to the United States.

The Foreign Minister finally read a telegram from 400 planters and merchants of the Danish West Indies urging the immediate ratification of the treaty setting forth that the condition of the islands was critical, and asserting that the sentiment among the inhabitants was strongly in favor of the island's sale.

GRAFTED DOG'S SKULL.

Saginaw College Physician Inserts Piece of Canine in Hole in John Olberg's Head.

Saginaw, Mich., April 23.—Physicians of the Saginaw General Hospital are much interested in getting a piece of a dog's skull skilfully grafted into the head of John Olberg, of Kenton Harbor, Mich. He is now recovering from the operation.

Olberg's skull was fractured four years ago. Over the hole, which was an inch and a half in diameter, there formed a fungous growth. This pressed on the brain and caused convulsions. When it was decided to operate on Olberg two doctors chloroformed a dog and removed a piece of the skull. The piece taken out was then implanted in the opening in Olberg's head.

PLAYS MORPHINE MISSIONARY.

Paris, April 23. M. Emile Lunarchard uses morphine. He was walking on the boulevards, when he suddenly drew a case from his pocket containing a syringe and a flask of the poison, and went to a bench where Mr. Jacques-del Piste, a peaceable, resting, was quietly reading.

Suddenly the latter gave a start; he had been pricked severely in the neck. His stupefaction was great at seeing the young man with the syringe in his hand. The latter bowed politely and said:

"Monsieur, excuse me if I have caused you suffering. I consider that the use of morphine is not sufficiently general. I am obliged to take steps to convince the public of the benefits of the liquor."

Including the $1,500 to be added to the Inaugural, the Association will give away $3,200 on May 3. Two stakes are down for decision the first week of the meeting. AN ONION BANQUET.

Belleville, April 23.—Mr. Henry Foster, agent for the Spring Brewery Company, of Hamilton, gave an onion party to a number of his friends last evening to celebrate his first anniversary with the company. About forty young people sat down to the festive board. The table was decorated with green and white. Large bunches of tender spring onions were placed at each guest's plate.

All agreed that an onion party was away ahead of ping-pong.

THE INSULARITY OF GREAT BRITAIN

Mr. Balfour Calls for Educational Awakening as to What is Going On.

London, April 23.—Mr. Arthur Balfour, the Government leader in the House of Commons, spoke at the Mansion House this afternoon before a large gathering of city men on the business outlook of Great Britain. The occasion was the distribution of prizes in connection with the commercial education scheme of the London Chamber of Commerce. He stated that English people prided themselves with being the architects of an Empire world-wide in extent and cosmopolitan in character. Yet it was a curious paradox that they, among the nations, were the most insular in character ever known. It was strange that they should be the nation which lagged behind all nations of the world in the matter not only of commercial education. They had taught others many lessons in government, liberty, toleration, freedom, enterprise, initiative, and great moral and intellectual qualities. But they had not themselves been ready to learn, and this was chiefly so in education. If commerce was to be treated from a higher and wider point of view it must be approached in a broader spirit of investigation.

ADVICE FOR LEINSTER.

Mr. O'Sullivan Thinks That County Will be Disgraced if it Doesn't Make Coercion Necessary.

London, April 23. — Speaking at Shannonbridge, King's County, says a telegram from Dublin to the Times, Mr. O'Sullivan, the official organizer of the United Irish League, declared that, as the fighting counties of Munster and Connaught had been proclaimed, Leinster would have to take up the burden of the work. The people of Leinster, he said, would be forever disgraced if, in a few months, they did not compel the exercise of coercion in that province.

WIDOW SAYS SHE WAS UNDER OPIUM

When Power of Attorney Was Signed—Sensations in M'Leod Case.

L'Orignal, April 23.—(Special.)—The attempt to invalidate the power of attorney given by Mrs. McLeod to Mr. A. N. Cheney, under which the entire proceeds of the late Rev. John McLeod's insurance were being used in the settlement of his debts, including one to the firm of which Mr. Cheney is a member, assumed an interesting phase when Mrs. McLeod testified that she was under the influence of opium when she signed the document.

The cross-examination of Mr. A. N. Cheney was continued yesterday afternoon. Witness said he had told the creditors at first that the debts would amount to over $3,000, and that Mrs. McLeod would pay the balance out of the insurance. He could not remember when he collected the first instalment of insurance, but thought it was about the 6th of October. The last was paid about one month after Mr. McLeod's death. The estate was finally administered by Mr. Donald McInnes. Witness had never received any money from Mrs. McLeod's own possession to help pay the debts. The late Mr. McLeod did not, said witness, owe him anything personally at his death, but only to the firm of McCraig, Cheney & Co. His reason for contemplating taking out letters of administration was solely his respect for Mrs. McLeod and her family.

The only other witness for plaintiffs was John A. McInnes, barrister, of Vankleek Hill, who testified that Mrs. McLeod had agreed to pay her husband's debts in full, and that he had read over to her the power of attorney before she signed it, and that she fully understood what she was signing. He knew that Mr. Cheney had been asked by Mr. McLeod's brothers to wind up the estate.

MRS. McLEOD TELLS OF THE SIGNING.

Mrs. Melvina Ross McLeod then took the stand, and created a sensation by asserting that at the time of the signing the power of attorney to Mr. Cheney she was unwell and under the influence of opium. She had no recollection whatever of the first meeting spoken of by Mr. Cheney and Mr. McInnes, and the first business she remembered talking over with them was on the morning of the day she signed the power of attorney. Mr. Cheney came in and asked her to do some business, and said that it would not require very long to do it. She told him that she was agreeable to any course of action that might have been decided upon by her brothers. Mr. Cheney told her that the debts would amount to $1,800, and she thought at that time that the estate was sufficient to pay all claims in full. She never asked Mr. Cheney to act as administrator. Her brother, Mr. A. Ross, impressed very strongly upon Mr. Cheney the necessity of keeping the insurance matter entirely distinct from the business of the estate. She had not consulted with her brothers in regard to business before the papers granting the power of attorney were signed.

Mr. Henderson here read over a letter from Mr. Crawford McLeod to Mr. A. N. Cheney, stating that the insurance money should be kept separate and should not be mixed up with the assets of the estate.

"I wanted my husband's affairs first wound up," said the witness, "and then I would deal with the deficiency. I had no intention of repudiating any just debts of my husband, but would pay for them as soon as I was able to do so out of my own means."

Mr. Henderson read a letter from Mr. John A. McInnes to Mrs. McLeod asking her to send him a cheque for $3,000 to pay the creditors. Mrs. McLeod replied by telegram as follows: "Will settle all reasonable claims." A letter was also read from Mrs. McLeod to Mr. McInnes, in which she stated that she wished to have all claims paid that could be substantiated.

Judge Street here interposed, and suggested the inadvisability of taking further evidence, as it was fully established in his opinion that Mrs. McLeod had made Mr. Cheney her agent and given him power of attorney. However he consented to hear further evidence, and Mrs. McLeod in concluding said, "I had expected and wished Mr. Cheney to act as my administrator. After I went down to Sherbrooke, I heard from Mr. McInnes that serious charges were being made against my late husband. This letter from Mr. McInnes was written on the 10th September, 1901."

Mr. Alex. Ross, brother of defendant, said positively that one of the meetings referred to by Mr. Cheney did not take place. He never knew Mrs. McLeod was agreeable to paying her late husband's debts, and he was told by Mr. Cheney that the debts would not be over $1,400 and that the estate would realize $1,000. He never advised his sister to repudiate her husband's debts.

Mr. Charles Ross, another brother, testified that his understanding was that Mr. Cheney was to act as administrator only.

The arguments of counsel will be heard by His Honor Justice Street in chambers in Ottawa city some day this week.

WINDSOR MILLS LICENSES.

Windsor Mills, Que., April 23.—(Special.)—The City Council on Monday granted several hotel licenses, but the effect of the no-license petition was visible in the oration of Mayor Dooley to the Chief of Police, who was called in and given rigid instructions to see that no card-playing went on in the saloons, no selling after hours, and no selling to habitual drunkards and minors. There was a big temperance delegation present. The licenses granted were River View, Grand Central, and St. George hotels, and Mr. John Healey.

DRUGS COULDN'T CURE HIM.

JAMES STEVENS, GARDENER IN THE EMPLOY OF JOHN H. DUNLOP, ESQ., THE WELL-KNOWN FLORIST, OF TORONTO, CURED BY A NEW METHOD.

Suffered 30 Years With a Running Sore.—Cured a Year Ago and Has Since Had No Return of This Diserder.

The science of curing has advanced very rapidly lately. With the discovery of the germ theory as a cause of disease, means have been sought to combat these terrible parasites other than the ordinary drug methods which were found ineffectual. Antiseptics came in vogue but the usual antiseptics were so powerfully injurious to the ordinary tissues of the body that they couldn't be taken internally, consequently their use was strictly limited. Medical science decided that Nature herself could vanquish these poisonous germs as she had always done, and consequently scientific investigation sought to make use of that element which assisted Nature to rid the body of germs and attending disease.

Oxygen or Ozone was found to be the proper element. Since its discovery, medical science has been adapting this element in a great many ways, the most effective and by far the most economical way is as it is used in Powley's Liquified Ozone. At last the unsatisfactory drug methods are being done away with. In Powley's Liquified Ozone a curative agency has been discovered which produces permanent beneficial results.

JAMES STEVENS, Toronto.

James Stevens, of 1218 Bloor Street, West, was cured of a running sore on his leg which he had had for over thirty years. The condition of the sore was exceedingly bad. It was discharging matter constantly, many times would the pus run into his boots. People who saw it declared that it would be impossible to ever heal it. We published a statement from him that we received a year ago. This statement was corroborated by John H. Dunlop, Esq., the well known florist of this city, in whose employ Mr. Stevens has been for several years. Now we publish a statement lately received from Mr. Stevens, which speaks eloquently for the permanent character of his cure.

February 28, 1902.

The Ozone Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

My Dear Sirs,—You have asked me if the Eczema on my leg, which I gave you a testimonial on, as being cured a year ago, has appeared again. I am glad to state to you I have had no appearance of this trouble during the past year. Your excellent preparation which cured me of the awful torturing disease I had for over thirty years, did the work so well that the disease has not appeared since.

I am also pleased to state to you that my general health has been splendid since, showing what a good blood builder you have in Powley's Liquified Ozone.

You have my best wishes for success with your grand remedy. (Signed) JAMES STEVENS, 112 Bloor Street, West, or H. Dunlop's Greenhouses, with John H. Dunlop, Florist, Lansdowne Ave., near Bloor Street.

MR. STEVENS' FORMER STATEMENT.

The Ozone Co., Toronto.

Dear Sirs,—Having undergone Divine Providence, by the use of your Ozone been cured of a bad leg, that has baffled the skill of the best medical men in three hospitals and one infirmary, beside local skill both in England and here; after thirty five years of less or more suffering, the last two of which have been the worst in my experience, having through constant discharge, brought me very low, and suffering from weakness of the heart's action, which it has apparently cured. I feel it my duty and privilege to return thanks to the great author of all means and to you, sirs, whom he has used as my benefactor after having passed the age of three score and ten, am now almost to youthful vigor, which I owe to your remedy, Ozone. I have in the past spent fabulous sums on various advertised cures to no purpose, but too often put myself to pain without profit after making it the worse for their use. I, therefore, return you my heartfelt thanks, and pray your life may be prolonged for many years and that thousands of suffering humanity may be blest as I have been, which I feel sure they will by patient preserverance according to your directions. "For confirmation of this statement I may be seen at any time in the day in my employment under the, to me, great and good Dunlop, Esq., Florist, Lansdowne Ave., North of Bloor, or at my home at night, 1218 Bloor Street, West. Yours truly,

(Signed) JAMES STEVENS,
1218 Bloor Street, West, Toronto.

MR. JOHN H. DUNLOP'S LETTER.

December 7, 1900.

To the Ozone Co., Ltd., Toronto.

Gents: I can cheerfully endorse all that is contained in the testimonial furnished by James Stevens, who has been in my employ since May, 1898.

He is a faithful employe and would not exaggerate any statement he might make. I can also say that the sores on his leg (by the way, the worst I ever looked at) are completely healed. He has told me on several occasions that he never expected to have them healed, so many attempts having been made and remedies used without avail and that he expected to have to bandage and use remedies until his death.

I consider it a wonderful cure, all the more so, from the fact of his advanced age and length of time it has been standing.

Very truly yours,
JNO. H. DUNLOP,
644 Lansdowne Avenue.

The great value of Powley's Liquified Ozone in curing blood and skin diseases is due to its blood purifying and disinfecting action. By increasing the oxygen-carrying power of the blood the tissues of the body are restored, the skin given back its natural freshness and transparency. Druggists everywhere report an enormous sale of Powley's Liquified Ozone and they state further that they hear the very best possible results from its use.

ANOTHER TRIBUTE

To the Great Excellence of the

Mason & Risch Piano

From the Cantatrice, Miss Caroline Montefiore, who sang with such acceptance at the Orchestral Concert, last Friday afternoon.

TO MESSRS. MASON & RISCH:—

After singing and playing upon the Mason & Risch Piano I wish to state that I consider it a delightful instrument, with a rich, mellow tone, and I hope to have the pleasure of singing with the Mason & Risch Piano very often.

Sincerely,
(Signed) CAROLINE MONTEFIORE.
