FIGHTING AT TANGIER

NO GREAT IMPORTANCE ATTACHED TO THAT OF YESTERDAY.

Paris, Nov. 28.—No great importance is attached to a fight which occurred yesterday between Moroccan government troops and some of the forces of Raisuli on the one hand, and a number of Angheras on the other, about the house of Mr. Harris, a newspaper correspondent near Tangier, except as showing that the prevailing anarchy has reached the very gates of Tangier and the timeliness of the Franco-Spanish preparations to restore order.

This scheme involves the extension of the intake pipe to the middle of the present aqueduct, and the placing underground of the new supply pipe.

TENANTS' RESPONSIBILITY

MUST PAY FOR DAMAGE RESULTING FROM LEAVING SNOW ON ROOF.

In a case of Evans vs. the Webb Manufacturing Co., the Superior Court on June last dismissed the action of the plaintiff, who claimed $12,118.53 damages from the defendant, his tenant. While the Webb Company occupied as a tenant the warehouse, bearing Nos. 141-3-5, of St. Maurice street, in this city, belonging to plaintiff, the roof of the building gave way and collapsed under the pressure of ice, water and snow, carrying with it and destroying or damaging all the stories and the flooring down to the cellar.

The Montreal Water Committee is asking the city to borrow $2,000,000 to build a covered aqueduct alongside the present open one, extending it far out into the centre of the river where the water is free from shore pollution. Mr. Janin also proposes to replace the present steam and turbine gear by a new hydraulic plant run by the old aqueduct and expects by this to effect a saving to the city of $10,000 a year.

SEQUEL TO RUNAWAY

MUST PAY FOR DAMAGE DONE BY NEGLECTED HORSES.

The Court of Review has confirmed the judgment of the Superior Court condemning the defendant to pay the value of a plate glass broken by his runaway horses, in a case of Miller vs. Desjardins. The court found that the horses were left in an open shed during a cold night in February, from 5 p.m. to 10.30 p.m., tied by one rein only, without food or care of any kind. This was sufficient even if the horses were covered by blankets, as pretended by defendant, to render them temporarily vicious, if they were not so by their nature, and was in itself clear neglect sufficient to render defendant responsible for their getting away, and for the damage done.

A STEAMER FOUNDERS

LOSS OF THE 'J. H. JONES' AND TWENTY-FIVE LIVES.

Wiaraton, Ont., Nov. 27.—The coasting steamer 'J. H. Jones,' owned by the Crawford Tug Company, a local institution, it is now conceded, foundered off Cape Croker on Thursday afternoon, and all hands were lost. One crew consisted of twelve, all from Wiaraton, and the blow to the town is a severe one. The 'Jones,' which plied between Owen Sound, Wiaraton and Manitoulin Island ports, was one of the staunchest steamers on the Georgian Bay, was fitted perfectly, was commanded by one of the best and most experienced men on the lakes, Captain Crawford, and carried a crew that were born sailors. Part of a cabin, a lifeboat, and two unidentified bodies have been found by Indians on the north shore of the Christian Islands. Boats are now out from here, Owen Sound, Penetanguishene, and Parry Sound, looking for survivors and wreckage, but it is hardly likely anything or any body will be found.

LARGE LOANS CONTRACTED IN EARLY HISTORY RAPIDLY FALLING DUE.

Courtney, remarks that 'The Dominion has now fairly entered upon the period when loans contracted in its early history are falling due year by year. In the last fiscal year $1,000,000 four percent loan of 1895 is due on Nov. 1, 1905. On Nov. 1, 1906, the $2,500,000 falls due. On May 1, 1907, the portion of the 1874 loan extended in 1904, amounting to $1,926,654

15s. 11d. matures, and in each year until 1910 large sums will have to be redeemed or refunded. To carry on the large projects now under way and at the same time meet maturing obligations will require the greatest care in order that the credit of Canada now so deservedly high may suffer no impairment.'

The net debt of the Dominion at the close of the fiscal year was $267,042,977, being an increase of $818,811 over the previous year.

Railway subsidies were paid during the year to the amount of $1,637,574, as follows:

COLONEL STEELE

ARRIVES IN LONDON FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

(Canadian Associated Press.) London, Nov. 28.—Colonel Steele, in speaking to the Canadian Associated Press, said he would have resigned the position he held on the staff of the South African Constabulary seven months ago, but was asked by the High Commissioner of South Africa to remain until Oct. 1 for the purpose of assisting him as Inspector-General of that corps with some details of the organization. He consented, but when the work was completed he again sent in his resignation. It was his intention on his arrival here to report to the authorities for the purpose of being attached at Aldershot to any arm of the service other than his own for a period of three months, and would have been there had not Mrs. Steele become dangerously ill on the ship, and is still so, so that he had been obliged to put off his visit to Aldershot until she is quite recovered. Asked regarding the likelihood of his rejoining the North-West Mounted Police, Colonel Steele said he was quite sure that there was no likelihood, nor has he even thought or hinted at such a thing. 'I entirely severed my connection with the force several years ago, and I am now on its retired list.'

LETTERS FROM READERS.

MR. HYDE TO MR. MCGOWN. (To the Editor of the 'Witness.') Sir,—I read in your last night's edition what purported to be an answer to my letter which appeared in the 'Gazette' of Nov. 21, and was surprised that Councilor McGown should have so carefully avoided replying to the specific questions set forth in my letter. In no part of my letter did I put forth a claim that I considered that I possessed more legal knowledge than all the bar and the bench and this statement in the letter is quite gratuitous and uncalled for. What I did say was, 'I have been interested in a large number of lawsuits, and have won a good average of them. On the other hand I have found that it was cases which counsel were pretty sure of that went against me, for unfortunately the judges did not agree with counsel.' This is a fact and not a personal opinion, even if stated by an ordinary layman. When a lawyer possesses all knowledge and is able to tell beforehand, as Councilor McGown claims he can, what is to be the final decision on a contested lawsuit, then all that a layman can do is to take a back seat and look with wonder upon the great intelligence and spirit of prophecy with which the legal gentleman has been endowed. I will again repeat the questions that I asked in the 'Gazette,' leaving out the fourth, as Councilor McGown has already decided that there is no question but that the town will win its suit if it comes to trial.

1. What is the earliest date at which the case No. 2705 can be inscribed and heard by a judge of the Superior Court? 2. How long after trial of the case would it likely be before judgment would be rendered by the trial judge? 3. How many courts could the case be taken to before a final judgment is rendered which would be binding on all? What length of time would all this cover? There is no necessity of any controversy in the newspapers about these questions, as all that is required is that they be directly answered. JOHN HYDE. Montreal, Nov. 27.

KILLED IN A THRESHING MILL. Charlottetown, P.E.I., Nov. 27.—A terrible accident occurred at Richmond yesterday. He died five hours later.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 28. MISSIONARY INSTITUTE

Importance of Religious Influences on Children Emphasized.

CLOSING SESSION WILL BE HELD THIS EVENING.

Last night's session of the Montreal Interdenominational Missionary Institute took up the study of missionary work in the Sunday-school. The speakers included the Rev. A. E. Armstrong, who gave an address containing much interesting statistical information; Mr. M. W. Elmes, whose conferences have become a prominent feature of the institute, and Miss Brooks, who illustrated the methods by which models of various sorts may be effectively used in teaching missionary topics to children.

At the outset Mr. Armstrong showed the great need for increasing interest in missions on the part of young people. He regretted to note how little was being done in the way of educating children along missionary lines, and pointed out the defects of a system which, while emphasizing the acts of apostles in bygone days, practically ignored the acts of their spiritual successors of to-day. He laid stress on the fact that the Bible was Rev. A. E. Armstrong, a missionary book in its purport. He reminded his hearers that, important as was a knowledge of God's past dealings with the world in his scheme of drawing mankind to himself, a study of present day conditions in heathen lands was even more to be desired.

Of the fourteen million Sunday-school children in Canada and the United States, only two in five became church members after leaving the Sunday-school. Of church members in these countries, ninety-two percent joined before the age of twenty-three, and the majority of these before eighteen. These figures he considered to be a significant illustration of the great importance of impressing children with religious ideas, especially those of a missionary character. The best definition of a Sunday-school, Mr. Armstrong thought, was 'A church studying the Bible,' because it embraced both adults and children. In heathen lands ninety-six percent of the Sunday-school children and seventy-five percent of the children in boarding schools became church members. Such statistics, he said, must prove that there was something wrong in the Sunday-school methods of the Protestant churches on this continent. The speaker referred to the late Dr. Livingstone, who, before he was twenty-one, had decided on mission work; and spoke of Bishop Thoburn and James Chalmers, of New Guinea, whose missionary resolves had dated from youth. The moulding of young character by teachers was treated at some length, and the speaker showed how children were most easily approached on the social side. A child's interest, he continued, could best be aroused by giving him something to do. Children liked biographies, and the reading of such works proved a splendid source of mental and spiritual development. It was only when they were at a plastic and impressionable age that the best lessons could be learned. If children were saved, the world was saved.

Mr. Armstrong spoke of the work accomplished by the meeting of eighty-four delegates at Silver Lake, which took place last summer, and to the resolution which they had adopted, testifying to the immeasurable need for active participation in mission work. In closing, he held up the ideal of evangelizing the world in this generation, the responsibility of which he considered to rest largely with the Sunday-school teacher.

THE 'BAVARIAN' CAPTAIN SAUNDERS' QUEBEC YESTERDAY ABOUT HER WIFE'S QUARTERS.

A meeting of the gentlemen in the formation of the North American Wrecking Company will be held in the city on Friday next when the connection with the company organization will be determined. Captain Saunders, the only one of the Lloyds in New York who was real yesterday from the time when he succeeded in obtaining the support of several capitalists, in the enterprise. Captain Saunders, after discussing the matter with the directors, left for Quebec this noon to look over the SS. 'Bavian' in order to arrange for her sale during the winter season.

Captain Saunders yesterday reported the floating of the 'Bavian' in the North American Wrecking Company very favorably commented upon the success of the syndicate in that special undertaking, and that widespread interest across the 'Bavian' was an achievement of any company might well feel proud of. Mr. C. R. Hosmer, who is one of the members of the syndicate, said that it was very gratifying to him to see a man who took up the matter with success. At least seven of the experts from England and the United States had examined the steamer and abandoned her after several offers had been made to haul her off with powerful tugs, at an expense of about one hundred and twenty thousand dollars. Following this, Lloyd's special agent reported that the boat was a total wreck and the question as to whether or not they would strip her was considered, and the government would have insisted on her being blown up if she had not been taken off. After the steamer had been provisionally formed work on the 'Bavian' was commenced by the joint efforts of Captain Leslie, Mr. R. O. King, and Mr. W. W. Wetherston, the latter bringing with him several New York experts.

The 'Bavian,' concluded Mr. Hosmer, was valued and insured at Lloyd's for $650,000, and she was supposed to have originally cost $850,000. Lloyd's is understood, paid to the underwriters, about $650,000. It has not yet been decided whether the boat will be disposed of at Quebec at New York, or in England, as it is stated that offers have been received from various points at different prices.

LECTURE ON RAPHAEL. Professor Giuseppe Nelli, of the McGill Conservatorium, on Monday evening gave a lecture on Raphael, in the Fraser Hall, illustrated by lantern slides. The lecture was in Italian, and therefore attracted only a small, though distinguished audience. Captain Saunders, the only one of the Lloyds in New York who was real yesterday from the time when he succeeded in obtaining the support of several capitalists, in the enterprise. Captain Saunders, after discussing the matter with the directors, left for Quebec this noon to look over the SS. 'Bavian' in order to arrange for her sale during the winter season.

Captain Saunders yesterday reported the floating of the 'Bavian' in the North American Wrecking Company very favorably commented upon the success of the syndicate in that special undertaking, and that widespread interest across the 'Bavian' was an achievement of any company might well feel proud of. Mr. C. R. Hosmer, who is one of the members of the syndicate, said that it was very gratifying to him to see a man who took up the matter with success. At least seven of the experts from England and the United States had examined the steamer and abandoned her after several offers had been made to haul her off with powerful tugs, at an expense of about one hundred and twenty thousand dollars. Following this, Lloyd's special agent reported that the boat was a total wreck and the question as to whether or not they would strip her was considered, and the government would have insisted on her being blown up if she had not been taken off. After the steamer had been provisionally formed work on the 'Bavian' was commenced by the joint efforts of Captain Leslie, Mr. R. O. King, and Mr. W. W. Wetherston, the latter bringing with him several New York experts.

The 'Bavian,' concluded Mr. Hosmer, was valued and insured at Lloyd's for $650,000, and she was supposed to have originally cost $850,000. Lloyd's is understood, paid to the underwriters, about $650,000. It has not yet been decided whether the boat will be disposed of at Quebec at New York, or in England, as it is stated that offers have been received from various points at different prices.

LECTURE ON RAPHAEL. Professor Giuseppe Nelli, of the McGill Conservatorium, on Monday evening gave a lecture on Raphael, in the Fraser Hall, illustrated by lantern slides. The lecture was in Italian, and therefore attracted only a small, though distinguished audience. The lecturer traced the development of Raphael's genius, first through the influence of his father, who was keenly interested in art, and afterwards through Elizabeth, Duchess of Urbino, and Raphael's... the distinguished court painter... letters. Raphael's religious... great painter of his time... cussed. The lecture, although... of a simple character, had... ery merits, and was highly... pleasure of enjoying this... by Miss Barker.

A MAGIC BOX
The Advance of the Healing Art

The healing art has advanced vastly since the days when wounds were cauterized by red-hot iron to stop bleeding, and the tourniquet was in everyday use. In the treatment of skin diseases and injuries the greatest discovery of modern times has been that of the herbal preparation so widely known as Zam-Buk. In the arenas of ancient Greece healing balms, the secret composition of which has long been lost, were used by gradators and contestants, but in Zam-Buk is found a healing balm surpassing anything hitherto known. This balm is compounded purely from herbal essences, a fact which at once places it on a plane by itself. Most ointments and salves are open to objection that they contain animal fats or mineral ingredients, or both. Not so Zam-Buk. To the women in the home a box of Zam-Buk is literally a magic box—a good fairy. Are her feet blistered, or sore, with being on them all day—Zam-Buk cools and eases. Are her hands sore or chapped—Zam-Buk soothes from Zam-Buk. An eruption breaks out on her face—Zam-Buk removes all skin disfigurements like magic. Baby's skin is chafing and hot—Zam-Buk is the purest and most wholesome emollient known. Her little boy cuts his finger, or her daughter burns her hand—Zam-Buk again is the healer. The fatigues at the factory or on the farm gets a nasty cut or bruise—Zam-Buk stops a bleeding, stops the smarting, always inflammation and heals. It is always handy and always useful in any emergency.

old Montreal High School. He lead the A.A. examination lists in June of 1901. Entering McGill he showed unusual ability, and graduated in 1905 with first rank honors in mathematics. He also won the Anne Molson medal for proficiency in the same subject. Shortly after graduating, Mr. King was nominated by McGill to a scholarship of £80 per year, offered by Christ's College, Cambridge. In his examinations in May last he took a first class and a first prize in mathematics. The scholarship just won holds good until he attains the standing which will entitle him to an M.A. degree. In addition to his intellectual capacity, Mr. King is a notable oarsman, having won his oar both in the Lent and May-week races.

To be elected a scholar of Christ's College is regarded as a great honor among British students.

LAKE LOUISE CHALET.
Miss Hollison, the lady who has charge of the C.P.R.'s summer chalet at Lake Louise, in the Rockies, was in Montreal yesterday, on her way to visit Scotland while the chalet is closed for the winter. She stated that there had been more visitors to the chalet this year than ever before, and that already there had been inquiries for accommodation for next season, which promised to be a record breaker. Next summer's meet of the Alpine-Club in Paradise Valley is going to be very largely attended, and undoubtedly will do much to popularize that part of the mountains. The building of the new wing to the chalet, which will double the capacity of the house, is progressing satisfactorily.

On their return they will visit the groom's brother, Mr. John M. Cavanagh, of Montreal, before taking up their residence in Cornwall. ST. ANTOINE DIVISION.
Convention to Select a Candidate Called for To-morrow Night.

ALD. ROBINSON IS MENTIONED AMONG OTHERS FOR THE SEAT.

The Liberal convention, for the selection of a candidate to replace the late Ald. C. B. Carter, K.C., in St. Antoine division, will be held in Karn Hall, St. Catherine street west, to-morrow evening, at 8 o'clock.

For some time past the leading Liberals of the division have been considering the question of a candidate, and some eight or ten names have been secured, which will be submitted to the convention. At the same time, every member of the convention will be at liberty to propose any other candidate. The convention delegates have been selected by the party organization to represent the sixty-nine polls of the division, three delegates being chosen from each poll. The convention will thus number 207 delegates, and will be thoroughly representative of the Liberal sentiment of the division.

As the Legislature has only two more sessions to run, and it is recognized that there is a strong demand for an independent business man to watch over the commercial interests of Montreal and district in the Quebec Legislature, there is a probability that the convention will not insist upon a straight party candidate, but may express approval of an independent one.

There is a rumor that the candidacy of Ald. James Robinson is meeting with strong support. Ald. Robinson has never been identified either with the Liberal or the Conservative organization, although he has been well to the front in the Board of Trade, the Dominion Commercial Travellers' Association, and other organizations. His record in the City Council has been above reproach. It is understood that Ald. Robinson's business connections are now in such a position as to permit of his devoting some of his energy and talent to public affairs. A straightforward character and sterling honesty have won for him hosts of friends in both parties and among all sections of the community. However, there is a possibility of a strong fight being made for the endorsement by the Liberal convention of other candidates, among whom are mentioned Colonel Hibbard, K.C.; Mr. F. G. Leman, Mr. J. M. Duff, Mr. Percy Ryan, K.C.; Mr. Alexander Falconer, K.C., and others.

A witness representative to-day called upon the Hon. W. A. Weir, who is the minister in charge of the election, but the latter preferred not to say anything on the subject until the convention had expressed its wishes. He would, however, be in attendance at the convention, and was sure that his decision would result in the election of its nominee.

WILLARD Y'S.

A meeting of the Willard Y's will be held to-morrow evening at the home of Mrs. John Currie, 75 Inspector street. Friends interested in Y. W. C. T. U. work are cordially invited to attend.

Do You Seek Health?

Thousands are in the same boat—all sickly, bilious and feeling far from well. Trouble is, the system is clogged with impurities which need to be cleared away.

Before downright sickness arrives you should cleanse and purify the system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

At once you'll feel their mighty influence building up weak spots, clearing out disease, and putting you again on your feet.

These purely vegetable pills change your tired, worn-out condition to one of health and vigor, because they supply the body with nourishing blood that builds up and enlivens the entire system.

Mr. John Whitley, of Stanwood P. O., Ont., knows the merit of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and says: 'I wouldn't be alive to-day had it not been for Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Last winter I was sick with grippe, and when spring came I was weak, bilious and rheumatic. I used enough medicine to cure twenty times, but I didn't get any help till I tried Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They purified my blood, took the yellow color out of my face, put new tone in my stomach, and increased my appetite. The bilious attacks and rheumatic pains gradually departed, and Dr. Hamilton's Pills made a new man of me. I proved their merit, and proclaim them a medicine for all men.'

THE BUCKINGHAM STRIKE

MR. ALEX. MACLAREN AND MAYOR VALLILEE ARRAIGNED FOR MANSLAUGHTER.

Buckingham, Que., Nov. 28.—Alexander MacLaren was arraigned this morning on a charge of manslaughter for killing Belanger and Theriault, and with him eight policemen, Frank Kiernan, John C. Cummings, Roy Ingram, T. J. Thompson, Albert Liot, Peter Picard, Joseph Delorme and William C. McManus. Mayor J. E. Vallilee was charged with manslaughter because he neglected to read the Riot Act.

All pleaded not guilty. Messrs. McDougall and Aylen united in a protest against immediate proceedings, as they had not heard the charge until this morning. Charlemagne Rodier and Yvon Lamontagne, for the strikers, argued for the strikers for proceeding at once and Crown Prosecutor Guerin was astonished at the defence not being ready. The judge gave the defence till two o'clock to confer with their clients. Messrs. Aylen and McDougall represent Mr. Alex. MacLaren, Mayor Vallilee, Constable Kiernan, Detectives Cummings and Ingram.

Mr. C. L. Perron is appearing for Thompson, Picard, McManus and Albert Liot.

The charge of manslaughter against Mayor Vallilee for neglecting to read the Riot Act is in progress.

Mayor Vallilee, arraigned for manslaughter, was discharged this afternoon. The Crown moved for this when the evidence failed to show that he was at the scene of the riot.

London, Nov. 28.—Mr. Hamar Greenwood, interviewed by the Westminster Gazette regarding the Hindu emigrants in British Columbia, said personally he was in favor of a white Canada, but he was far too humble a person to dictate or even advise the great Canadian people.

Referring to the severance of the Church from the State and the elimination of the hereditary principle, Mr. Greenwood remarked that if Canada were polled to-morrow the bishops and peers would be out of a job.

McGILL AT PRACTICE

PERCY ROBERTS AND GORDON, OF MONTREAL, WILL COACH THEM.

In anticipation of their game for the championship of Canada with the Hamilton Tigers next Saturday on the McGill campus, the College team practised yesterday under the rules which will govern the game. Percy Roberts, the well known scrimmage man, and Hammy Gordon, the quarter-back of the Montreal team, doing the coaching.

There were some twenty-three men in uniform, the intermediates turning out to help their seniors out in their training for the great struggle.

Both Roberts and Gordon, who will continue to coach the team during the remainder of the week, expressed themselves as satisfied with the manner in which the team shaped. The style of the Intercollegiate football game differs somewhat broadly in certain respects to that played by the Quebec Union and the Northern Rugby Union, but it is considered, from the showing made yesterday that the team will easily adapt itself to the new conditions, and by Saturday be able to give the Tigers the game of the season.

The campus yesterday was covered with snow, and the present cold snap continues, this will have to be all cleared off for the match, the McGill Club having decided to stick to their original intention of playing on their own ground. Temporary stands are being arranged at the north and south end of the campus, and it is expected that there will be ample accommodation for 4,000 people.

While McGill are sanguine of success, local experts, who have seen both Tigers and McGill teams at work, are not so confident. There are one or two points about an option on the matter, however, which are well worth considering. One of these is the fact that McGill have been so erratic in their career this season, winning when they were expected to lose, and losing when victory might reasonably have been hoped for. Another is the fact that the Tigers have been a notoriously indifferent team when on the road. Their four hundred mile team journey may do a great deal towards lessening their chances.

They have a distinct advantage in already having played a stiff match, that with Montreal, under Canadian Union rules, and again they have a disadvantage of having gone practically out of commission for the past ten days. Whichever way the result goes, it is safe to say that the game will create more widespread interest in Montreal than perhaps any played through the past season. The price of admission to the match is fixed. In ordinary College games the fee has been hitherto 35 and 50 cents. At Hamilton, when Montreal played there last Saturday week, $1.50 was the price of a reserved seat. It is more than probable that McGill will increase the price, though it is thought scarcely likely that it will reach the Hamilton figure.

The addition of Zimmerman to the McGill half back line has done a great deal towards strengthening what was considered the forward line. The inclusion of Hale in the forward line has also been a judicious move. Hale, Winslow, Pare and Stephens, on the wing line should prove to be so many thorns in the sides of the Tigers. All of them follow the ball well, and are first class tacklers. George Stephens is, without much question, the finest player in the Intercollegiate Union on the wing division. With great punting ability he is also fast and strong. He is a rather weak spot of McGill's is at full back. Ballantyne is a strong and clever kicker, but is not at all a clever catch or tackle.

Frank Woodworth and King Clancy, of Ottawa, have been suggested as the officials for the match. It is unlikely, however, that the latter will be able to act since he has not been able to follow the new rules at all during the present season.

ROUGH RIDERS II. VS. TIGERS II.

WILL PLAY FOR INTERMEDIATE CHAMPIONSHIP AT KINGSTON ON SATURDAY.

Ottawa, Nov. 27.—Rough Riders II, will go to Kingston on Saturday to play the final for the intermediate championship with Tigers II, of Hamilton. The Rough Riders, received a telegram from W. B. Hendry, secretary of the Canadian Union, ordering the game to be played in Kingston. The officials have not yet been decided on. Rough Riders have been practising faithfully since the season closed, and now that snow has come it is likely that they will be secured for their use. Through this will, of necessity, render team practice out of the question, yet it will give the men plenty of opportunity of handling the ball.

Berlin, Nov. 27.—A memorandum, submitted to the Reichstag to-day, dealing with the legislation concerning public loans since 1875, shows that the Imperial debt amounted to $850,000,000 on Oct. 1, 1906, and more than half that sum was spent on the army and navy.

INTERNATIONAL HORSE SHOW AT LONDON

CANADIAN AND AMERICAN HORSE-MEN FORM COMMITTEE TO DISCUSS ARRANGEMENTS.

New York, Nov. 28.—The Hon. Adam Beck, of London, Ont., presided over a large meeting of prominent horsemen at the close of the New York Horse Show to discuss the question of the proposed International Horse Show to be held in London, England, June 7-13 inclusive, of next year, at Olympia.

Among those at the meeting were Dr. Andrew Smith, Canada; Clarence Moore, Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Reginald Vanderbilt, George Pepper, Toronto; Alex. Genuill, Scotland; John Gerken, H. Cooke, J. L. Conaway, J. A. Cochrane, Hillhurst, Que., and many others.

It was explained that the show would be under the control of a syndicate with a capital of $100,000. The English directors of which had subscribed $25,000 between them. The price list totalled $35,000. The judging will be performed by an international jury, each country concerned to have representation.

Messrs. A. G. Vanderbilt, Clarence Moore, and George Pepper, among others, signified their intention of sending horses over. On the suggestion of Mr. Adam Beck, a committee from those present were elected, consisting of Messrs. A. G. Vanderbilt, John Gerken and Jas. T. Hyde to elect an American committee to take charge of the arrangements.

Mr. Beck stated that the Canadian Government would assist the Canadian representatives, and suggested that the American Government might be approached with a view of obtaining a similar concession for the American entries.

NATIONALS MAY BUILD RINK

WILL LIE LOW THIS WINTER, BUT HOPE TO HAVE THEIR OWN ICE NEXT SEASON.

What are the Nationals going to do about hockey this season? said Mr. Gauthier, the secretary of the National A.A.A., in reply to a question from a 'Witness' representative. 'Well, the Nationals are out of season, at any rate. We fully appreciate that it was impossible to get any ice at the Arena, and as for the other rinks, it is almost impossible to get suitable arrangements, since some of the smaller ones have been closed or made into roller skating rinks. We shall lie low this winter, and perhaps next summer will float a scheme whereby we may have a rink of our own. We are convinced that there is plenty of room in Montreal for another large rink.'

PRESIDENT ELIOT AND COLLEGE SPORTS

HEAD OF HARVARD APPROVES OF ROWING AND TENNIS ONLY.

Boston, Nov. 27.—The position of President Charles Eliot, of Harvard University, with reference to the different branches of college sports, was given in an interview made public here to-day. In it basketball and hockey are classed with football as objectionable, and baseball is declared to be open to many objections. President Eliot said that discontinuing football, basketball and hockey at Harvard would do no harm. Basketball is very objectionable. It is too rough and there are too many chances for cheating. The rules have been stretched so that they spoil the game. It would be a good thing to have basketball especially discontinued.

Rowing and tennis are the only sports in which honorable play altogether is practised. You can no more cheat in those two sports than in a game of cards; you would be crowded out of society if you tried.

Rhein, general passenger agent of the Big Four, to be promoted to succeed Mr. Lynch, in Chicago; Mr. J. W. Daly to be general passenger agent of the Lake Shore; Mr. C. L. Hilleary, assistant general passenger agent of the Big Four, at St. Louis, or Mr. S. D. McLeish, general passenger agent of the Lake Erie and Western, to be promoted to succeed Mr. Rhein. In the event of Mr. Hilleary becoming general passenger agent, Mr. Charles Krotzenberger, general agent of the Big Four in Cincinnati, to take the place of assistant general passenger agent in St. Louis.

REGINA HOTEL FIRE

VERDICT OF THE JURY.

Regina, Sask., Nov. 27.—Shortly before midnight the jury inquiring into the deaths of the five victims of the Windsor Hotel fire brought in its verdict. The verdict declares that the management of the hotel was negligent without malice in that they had not the necessary fire fighting appliances on hand, and that adequate means were not taken to arouse the inmates after the fire was discovered. A long list of recommendations follow, concerned with the improvement of the present fire protection and life-saving appliances in hotels. In conclusion, the jury urge upon the City Council the establishment of a paid fire brigade and the improvement of the existing fire apparatus, making no reflection, however, upon the conduct of the fire brigade on the occasion.

A POOR IMITATION

THE KOPENICK INCIDENT RECALLED

Hamburg, Nov. 27.—The Kopenick affair, in which the City fathers were held up and robbed by a bogus military captain, with a squad of German soldiers to back his demands, has had many feeble imitations, but none came so near success as an attempt that was made today. A smartly dressed man appeared at the Dammtor Railway station. He said he was Herr Breitenback, Prussian Minister of Railways. His self-possession and commanding manner seemed to endorse his claims. He issued a series of orders that were promptly obeyed. He required all the cabs to leave the station and proceeded to examine the cash in the ticket office. Meanwhile, the only person who suspected him was a baggage porter, who notified the police. The latter took the risk of arresting the self-styled minister, and later found that he was a counterfeit.

DWARFS IN THE PAMIR.

Copenhagen Nov. 26.—Two Danish officers, who recently returned from an exploring tour in the Pamir territory, report the discovery of a whole tribe of dwarfs, the tallest of whom is hardly four feet in height. Even all the domestic animals are diminutive, cows being no bigger than an ordinary calf, dogs the size of a dog, and sheep no larger than a rabbit.

VOICE BETRAYS NATIONALITY.

Paris, Nov. 26.—A writer in the "Radical" asserts that a person's nationality can be detected in his voice. For instance, Italy is noted for tenors, Russia and other north European countries for baritones and basses. M. Lichtenstein, the explorer, says both men and women in South Africa have good tenor voices, and the same may be said of the majority of the Chinese.

WHAT WILL THEY DO?

The Bishop.—I've bagged my bird; I'll help with yours if you look like missing him. (But Mr. Balfour thinks it would be dangerous to shoot.) —'Morning Leader,' London.

HIS PET TOO.

Mr. Balfour.—Good old doggie—come on, then; it's all right, I won't hurt you! (Mr. Bonar Law recently said that the Liberal Party, being afraid of that dangerous animal on their hearth-rug, the Labor Party, had decided to make a pet of it.) —'Westminster Gazette.'

[It was possibly good tactics of the Liberal Government in Great Britain to bring on, in one session, a number of contentious measures to all of which the Lords would object, so that that House must either let some of them pass, or else heap up a very large amount of indignation against them and their prerogatives. The Liberal Education Bill having been chopped to mince meat under the superintendence of the bishops, the next to come on is the Trade Disputes Bill, peculiarly offensive to the Lords temporal. It is said to be the policy of the Conservative party to let this measure pass, as to kill it would be a positive relief to the Liberal government, in view of its radical quality and the contention it is qualified to breed in the Liberal ranks.]

POISONED FOR INSURANCE

A WOMAN'S FEARFUL ORIME.

Philadelphia, Nov. 27.—Bridget Carey, aged thirty-two years, was arrested tonight, charged with having poisoned her husband, Patrick, her two children, Mary, aged eight, and Annie, aged six, who died a week ago, and Patrick and Cecilia Cook, tenants in the Carey house, in Hamilton street. All of the alleged victims died within eleven months, and the police allege that Mrs. Carey benefited by their deaths to the extent of $1,000, through the collection of insurance.

THE POPE SPOKE FRENCH.

The 'Semaïne Religieuse' reports that in the course of the audience granted by Pope Pius X. to Mgr. Archambault, Bishop of Joliette, on the occasion of the latter's recent visit to Rome, His Holiness spoke French nearly all the time, and although he prefers to use his own language or Latin, he readily speaks French to visiting bishops who use that language.

DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE.

Under the auspices of St. Matthew's Literary and Social Club, the Rev. K. J. Macdonald will deliver a lecture entitled "The strange case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," in the lecture hall of St. Matthew's Church, tomorrow at 8 p.m. The proceeds will be in aid of the Verdun mission fund. As this will be Mr. Macdonald's first lecture to a Montreal audience, it is hoped that there will be a large attendance.

THE SYMPHONY CONCERT.

Mlle. Eva Gauthier will not be an exception to the rule established this year that when there is only one soloist at the Symphony concert that one shall be from outside the city. A Montrealese by training alone, Mlle. Gauthier is an Ottawa by origin, and a cosmopolitan by habit and by her successes, which have been achieved all over the British Isles as well as all over this country. In Montreal she is chiefly known to the public by her appearances with Madame Albani, when she received much commendation for the purity and freshness of her voice, in spite of the fact that she was not always heard to advantage in the immense halls where the Canadian diva sang. In one or two semi-private concerts since then she has given evidence that she possesses not little warmth of temperament as well as finished vocal training, and Montrealese will no doubt welcome what is likely to be the last opportunity of hearing her before she returns to Europe for another concert tournee and further oratorio study.

YELLOW JOURNALISM

DENOUNCED BY THE ROMAN CATHOLIC ECCLESIASTICAL ORGAN.

Referring to the recent fire at the Ste. Cunegonde Convent, the 'Semaïne Religieuse,' after congratulating the Sisters in charge of the institution and their pupils on the calm and order shown by them on that occasion, and thanking the Ste. Cunegonde and city firemen for their good and intelligent services, expressed regret that exaggerated reports concerning the occurrence should have been published. It says: 'Why should certain reporters be so often too hasty and so poorly informed? We are disposed to take circumstances into account and we can understand that in his haste to come "first," a newspaper man may be somewhat zealous and even go into some exaggerations. But is a person entitled, for want of seeking information from the proper source, to be unjust and to cause considerable damage, and then give an explanation on the following day? Because one holds a pen and speaks to thousands of readers, is he entitled, without incurring any responsibility, to take for granted any rumor on the street?'

The article then mentions the statement published that the Ste. Cunegonde Convent was entirely without life-saving appliances, and that although notified to have fire escapes for the last seven years, the Sisters had not complied with the order, and in reply to these charges, a copy is given of Chief Inspector Guyon's certificate, of August, 1905, declaring that this convent affords all the required security in case of fire.

The article then concludes as follows: 'All these false statements for which the best explanation is perhaps a more or less conscious desire of creating a sensation, cause damage and remedy nothing. It is true that explanations were afterwards given, and it is only fair to take these into account; but the notion is spread that the good Sisters were at fault; and there are people—even among those whom they oblige—who are very willing to believe them at fault. Again we repeat that we regret to have to write disagreeable things; but patience has its limits and justice has its rights.'

THE MEAT INSPECTION ACT.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Alonzo D. Melpin, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, under whose office the administration of the meat inspection law enacted at the last session of Congress is carried out, has returned from a western tour of inspection, which included a visit to packing houses in Chicago, Milwaukee, Denver and Kansas City. He says everywhere there is apparent beneficial effects of the enforcement of the law and a manifest desire on the part of the packers to comply with its provisions. In some places new structures have replaced old ones, and in others extensive improvements already established have been made so as to bring them up to the standard required by the Meat Inspection Act for the health and comfort of the packing house employes.

THE 'THUNDERER'S' VIEWS.

(Canadian Associated Press.) London, Nov. 27.—The 'Times,' writing on the Canadian postal facilities, says Canada, advancing by leaps and bounds as she is, and possessing a press served by many able and patriotic writers, is still far from being sufficient to herself in the world of political and general literature, and asks: 'Is it not well worth while risking comparatively trifling sums to secure the moral and sentimental groundwork on which alone a satisfactory and enduring system of imperial defence can be built up?'

ALBERTA AND SASKATCHEWAN

FORMER LIKELY TO SECURE SEVEN SEATS AND THE LATTER TEN.

Ottawa, Nov. 27.—The population of the two new prairie provinces, as shown in the new census, means that in the proposed readjustment of their parliamentary representation this session Alberta will probably be given seven seats and Saskatchewan ten. At present both of them together have ten members.

FLOODS ON THE RICHELIEU

A STRONG DEPUTATION FROM ST. JOHNS-BERVILLE INTERVIEWS THE GOVERNMENT.

Ottawa, Nov. 27.—Mr. Demers, M.P. for St. Johns-Berville, headed a deputation from St. Johns, two hundred strong, that interviewed the government today asking the protection of lands along the upper Richelieu valley from the annual floods. They were received by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Hon. Sydney Fisher, and the Hon. Rodolphe Laframboise. After listening to their representations the Premier said that in common with his colleagues he was in favor of the government doing all that could be done without spoiling the Chambly canal.

STATION GARDENS

C.P.R. SENDS IMMENSE SUPPLIES OF BULBS ALL OVER THE DOMINION.

The fall planting of bulbs in the station gardens of the C.P.R. system has now been completed, and over 150,000 bulbs, that will blossom into such flowers as the tulip, the crocus and narcissus, are now buried in the gardens adjoining stations and section houses, from one end of the Dominion to the other. All these bulbs have been despatched from Montreal by Mr. N. Stewart Dunlop, the C.P.R. tax and insurance commissioner, who is also the head of the floral department, and has the oversight of more gardens than any other man in the world.

Next year will be the tenth year since the C.P.R. started this flower scheme, and the enthusiastic way in which the idea has been taken up by the employes has been most gratifying to the management. For the cultivation of flowers has added materially to the appearance of the stations, station houses, and other buildings, and many expressions of gratification have been received from the travelling public. The cultivation of the flower gardens is entirely optional on the part of the employes, but the seed is supplied free to all who apply, together with a little booklet of directions. At the present time fully seventy-five percent of the company's stations on the main and branch lines have flower gardens attached, and Mr. Dunlop declares he will not be satisfied until there is a flower garden at every station, and around every section house and office building on the entire system. 'Let us aim at that,' he said in his annual greeting to C.P.R. flower lovers, 'and its accomplishment is bound to come. We cannot be held back. Let us join hands across the continent, and make a flower chain which would hold when hands of iron would burst.'

FINED FOR TAKING REBATES.

New York, Nov. 27.—A fine of $18,000 was imposed upon the American Sugar Refining Company by Judge Hough in the United States Circuit Court today for accepting rebates from the New York Central Railway Company.

CONCERT FOR BREHMER REST.

A sacred concert was given in St. Paul's Church on Monday in aid of the Brehmer Rest. The church was crowded, and the concert was under the direction of Mr. F. H. Blair, the organist. The programme consisted of the Cantata 'Song of Thanksgiving,' by Maunder, which was admirably sung by a choir of about forty voices. The soloists were Miss Dawes, Miss Garfoot, Miss Stark, Miss Fessenden, Mr. Redford, Mr. Diplock, Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Dugan. Before the cantata Mr. Alfred Chamberland played Bach's Air for the G string, and Wieniawski's 'Romance from 2nd Concerto.' One of the gems of the evening was the opening number, Raft's 'Cavatina,' played as a trio by violin, cello and organ. A goodly sum was realized for the Brehmer Rest.

THAT MARRIAGE CASE.

The Rev. R. P. Duclos writes: 'My attention has been drawn to a court house item, published in the Witness, in which I appear to have celebrated illegally the marriage of Charles Rousseau and Rose Anna Vallée. In answer, I beg of you to insert the following extract from the registers of St. John's Presbyterian Church: 'This twenty-fifth day of September, 1893, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, by the undersigned pastor, and in presence of witnesses and parents, Charles Rousseau, son of the late Joseph Rousseau, and his wife, Frosine Beaudry, and Rose Anna, minor daughter of Joseph Vallée and Delima Thivierge, his wife. The contracting parties having declared themselves unable to sign and made profession to be connected with the Presbyterian Church in Canada, signed Charles Rousseau, Rose Anna Vallée, Frosine Beaudry, A. A. Lamotte, Delima Thivierge. R. P. Duclos, officiating pastor.'

I further declare that the name of Charles Rousseau appears on the roll of communicants in the year 1891. That the said marriage was called from the pulpit three successive Sundays—at the morning services; that the mother, Delima Thivierge, has declared in very precise terms that her daughter was sixteen years old, and to observations made to her of her daughter being very young to contract marriage, she answered that a husband is a protection to a young girl deserted by her father, and dependent on a mother working by the day.

ROSENTHAL'S VINT.

According to the New York critics no pianist in the recollection of the present day has effected such an extraordinary combination of sensuous beauty, technical mastery and intellectual clarity as the later Moriz Rosenthal, the man who is today dwarfing all his previous achievements by a series of almost unparalleled triumphs. He will appear in Montreal on Dec. 10, in Stanley Hall. The New York Globe says of him, after a long eulogy of his playing of a later Beethoven Sonata, for its great comprehension and depth: 'Mr. Rosenthal can make a piano sound like a flute, or like a viola da gamba, or it can cease to be a piano and become an organ. No one else has found in Chopin so much dignity or so poignant a restraint. In all the astounding exhibition of bravura that raised the hair of his hearers in the Liszt pieces, says the same critic, 'there was never the faintest of whimsicality that mars the acrobatic feats of most pianists.' The sale of tickets opens on Saturday.

GOOD FEELING EXISTS STREET RAILWAY MEN GAVE DINNER TO COMPANY'S OFFICIALS.

As an expression of their gratitude for the recent increase of wages over five hundred employees of the Montreal Street Railway last night tendered a reception to the officials of the company in the St. Denis street sheds. The Montreal Street Railway was represented officially by Mr. W. G. Ross, managing director; Mr. Duncan McDonald, manager, and Mr. A. Gaboury, assistant superintendent.

CATHOLIC SCHOOL BOARD ORDERED TO PROVIDE FIRE-ESCAPES WHERE REQUIRED.

At last night's meeting of the Roman Catholic School Commissioners, a communication was read from the superintendent of public instruction ratifying the new school by-law by which all the holidays are to be fixed at the end of the year, between Christmas and Epiphany. The superintendent, however, recommended that classes be discontinued on Good Friday, so as to permit the children to assist in religious services.

A letter from the Protestant School Board was submitted, asking the aid of the Catholic board to have the statute 32 Victoria, chap. 16, sec. 23, amended so that the proceeds of the school tax collected by the city may be paid to them in two instalments, on the first of January and the first of July, respectively. The matter was referred to the finance committee, assisted by a delegate from the Protestant board, who will be asked to take part in its deliberations.

A communication was read from the provincial building inspector, enjoining the board to provide, within fifteen days, fire-escapes at all the schools under its control. Commissioner Martineau remarked that the fire-escapes would spoil the appearance of the buildings, but after a brief discussion, it was decided that Mr. Martineau should visit the schools and report on the best way of complying with the inspector's order.

OBITUARY

MRS. JOHN COLLINGS.
(From a Correspondent.)
Hemmingford, Que., Nov. 26.—It is our sorrowful duty to record the death of Mrs. John Collings, sr., which took place at her home, in Hemmingford, Que., on Friday morning, the 23rd inst., aged 67 years. Mrs. Collings was the daughter of the late Francis Cookman, of Henryburgh. After her marriage to Mr. Collings, they lived in Halton, until the past year, when the family moved to Hemmingford. She was a person of a quiet, unassuming nature, a good, kind Christian woman. She was a faithful member of the English Church, and when in health and strength, an active worker in the Woman's Auxiliary. She leaves a husband and one son, Charles, to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon at St. Luke's Church, and was very largely attended. The Rev. Mr. Hutchings officiated.

Quebec, Nov. 26.—Mr. T. A. Piddington, retired manufacturer, and a director of the Quebec & Lake St. John Railway, died here suddenly to-night.

MRS. ALEX. LUMSDEN.
Ottawa, Nov. 27.—The friends of Mrs. Alexander Lumsden, relict of the late Alexander Lumsden, M.P.P. for Ottawa, and lumberman, were pained to-day upon receiving news of her sudden death at Philadelphia, N.Y., not far from Syracuse. Mrs. Lumsden went to visit friends in the town where she died, only ten days ago. She was in good health then, and the news of her death came without any warning. She was a member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, in which she took an active interest. She leaves one son, Mr. John Lumsden, of Ottawa, and two daughters, Mrs. C. C. Cummings and Mrs. T. Graham McLaurin, both of Ottawa.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 28.—The Rev. William Howe, a centenarian, and the oldest Baptist clergyman in the United States, died at his home here to-day.

THE LAST SAILINGS.
The Manchester Trader, which was expected to sail yesterday, is still in port, but will probably get away for Manchester this afternoon. The Louisville and the Christian Knudsen have sailed for Sydney, and the Degama, of the Elder-Dempster Co., is still in port unloading her cargo of lumber. The Degama is not expected to sail until the end of the week. The latest sailing from port last year was on Nov. 30.

EMPRESS OFFICERS COMPLAIN.
Halifax, N.S., Nov. 27.—The Pilot Commission have held an investigation of the report of the officers of the C.P.R. SS. Empress of Ireland, stating that they could not get a pilot when coming into port on Thursday night, and that the steamer had thereby been delayed for an hour. The commission heard J. E. De Wolfe, agent of the C.P.R. at Halifax, regarding the captain's statement. The pilots of No. 4 boats testified to having seen the C.P.R. liner go past them at a fast speed, though they burned flare lights. It is understood that copies of the evidence will be sent to the Marine Department, also to Captain Foster of the steamer, and if the latter has anything to say he will be heard when he comes back to this port on Saturday.

WARD LINE PURCHASE DENIED.
New York, Nov. 27.—Alfred G. Smith, secretary of James E. Ward & Co., who control the Ward line steamers, denied last night a report telegraphed from Galveston that negotiations are in progress by Charles W. Morse for the purchase of the Ward line. 'The report is untrue,' said Mr. Smith. 'It is the same report that has been circulated several times, but has no basis of truth.'

CATHOLIC SAILORS' LAST CONCERT.
The services of the numerous artists representative of both sailors and citizens, that have been engaged by the Catholic Sailors' Club for their final concert tomorrow night, would seem to guarantee its success. It will be under the direction of the James McCready Co., Ltd., the president of which, Mr. Charles F. Smith, will occupy the chair. Among the features of the evening will be a one act comedy, entitled 'A Glimpse of the Race Track,' and the presence of the McCready Co.'s own orchestra.

Previous to the programme the Rev. Gerald McShane will briefly address the gathering. The following will contribute: Mrs. Payette and a chorus from St. Gabriel's choir, Misses Mamie Chambers, Eva Sproule, Flossie McCoy, Maud Adams, Della Fox, A. Hebert, A. Donald, Messrs. L. D. Willet, J. Waldron, W. Matthews, C. Leroux, Bob McLaughlin, T. Dougherty, Quigley, C. Killoran, G. Archer, C. A. Adams, L. O. Howard, E. Laberte, A. Chaput, J. Picard, G. Valjan, J. K. Hackett, Leo. French, William McCloskey, J. Lussier, Bob McLean, P. Danne, A. J. Conolly, G. Pierman, Maxime Lavallee and O. Mercier.

In the comedy there will be Messrs. Deegan, Edouard, Durocher, G. LaFont, Tremblay, Michaud, Le Blanc, Patrie, Roul Durocher, Cloutier, Turgeon, and Peter Damour in the character of the Red Jockey. The McCready orchestra will play selections of popular airs, and a good time generally is expected.

SS. DUNDÉE MAKES RECORD.
The SS. Dundee, from the port of the same name, arrived in port yesterday afternoon, after the most stormy passage across the Atlantic. Her arrival creates a record so far as vessels from the other side of the water are concerned. The Dundee is bound for Hamilton, Ontario, where she will be engaged next season in the great lakes trade, and has already cleared for that port. The Dundee is commanded by Captain Baird and, on her passage across the Atlantic, experienced such terrific weather that she was compelled to put into St. John's Newfoundland, a few days ago where minor repairs had to be made. The Dundee is a vessel of 1,431 tons, and for her size stood the weather well.

PLENTY OF GOSSIP ON BOTH SIDES But Public Apathetic in Face of Uncertain Monetary Influences - Markets Irregular.

MEXICAN SOLD UP TWO POINTS - OTHER STOCKS WERE SOFT.

Opening prices on Wall street showed considerable gains over last night's level and the demand was active and well distributed. St. Paul, Great Northern and N.Y.C. were carried up 1/4 point. U.S. 4 1/2% and Rock Island pd. a point. The other prominent speculative stocks advanced a large fraction generally, the outstanding Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Reading, Aachison, Kansas and Texas and American Ice. Prospects for an early recovery to bull conditions are not very bright in face of the uncertain money conditions existing on this continent and in Europe. The Bank of England is evidently just holding its own in the struggle for gold. Brazil has been withdrawing receipts from the bank's coffers, but the receipts from South Africa and the Bank of France have offset that unfavorable influence. The London market is reported to be optimistic and Americans rose fractionally.

The market at this point was not unduly buoyed by any particularly conspicuous feature, iron common being irregular, though inclined to stiffen in price somewhat. Mexicans were the most prominent, at 37 on a fair turnover of Detroit was weak and lower, as steady; iron preferred sold in lots preferred at a fractional

COBALT ATTRACTS UNLIMITED CAPITAL Permanence of Silver Camp Ensured by Anxiety of Capitalists to Secure Properties

ANOTHER WEALTHY SYNDICATE PICKING UP GOOD MINES

Toronto, Nov. 28.—The Cobalt mining crowd around the King Edward Hotel yesterday were considerably stirred up by a report of one of the largest deals which has yet been put through in connection with the silver fields of Northern Ontario. It was stated upon what was regarded as excellent authority that Mr. George C. Campbell had yesterday purchased over $700,000 worth of Cobalt properties, including the Bailey Mine, adjoining the University and Foster, in consideration of the payment of $500,000 in cash. Investigation showed that title papers were drawn yesterday covering the purchase of some 250 acres of land surrounding the Town of Cobalt in return for a cash consideration of half a million dollars. It was also rumored that the same interests were negotiating for sixty acres of land, with all mineral rights adjoining the Tretthewey mine. An air of mystery seems to surround the transactions of Mr. Campbell, who refuses to state for whom or for what interests he is acting, but it is generally believed by some well known operators of the Cobalt district that the syndicate may have some connection with the Cobalt-Nipigon syndicate, a recent organization. This, however, cannot be confirmed. The Trusts and Guarantee Company, Limited, of this city, who are registered and transfer agents for the syndicate, refuse to either deny nor affirm the rumors which are current, or to make any statement except that they know the members of the syndicate, and that it would be a matter of a few days before the public is given inside information as to this transaction.

Needless to say, the Cobalt colony in Toronto, whether belonging to Canada or to the United States, is greatly excited over this news, because it ensures the permanence of Cobalt, and makes it certain that capitalists are willing to pay over good cash for legitimate mining properties.

T. & N. O. RAILWAY

Toronto, Nov. 28.—The Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway will have a nice surplus of net earnings at the end of the present year. The returns to the end of September show aggregate earnings since July 1 of $388,300, operating expenses totaling $245,000, leaving a balance to the good of $143,300. The earnings for September were $43,428, and the expenditures, $11,612. This figures out a percentage of 73.3 for operating expenses.

PROVISION MARKET

Receipts of live hogs were fairly good on the local market to-day, but prices have advanced again, and the ruling figure at which selected lots changed hands was $6.75 per hundred pounds. That there is a firmer feeling on the market is evident from the rumors of even higher prices being asked for stock among packers. There is more encouraging outlook in English bacon situation, according to the latest advices, but though this has had an effect on the market here, it is claimed that it is the competition for the stock among packers that has sent prices up again, rather than the bullish influence of outside markets. Fresh killed abattoir dressed hogs are quoted at $9 to $9.25, and country dressed bring from $8 to $8.50 per hundredweight. Cured and smoked meats are firm and moderately active, and there is a good demand for lard at strong prices.

DIVIDEND PAYMENTS IN DECEMBER. Christmas Shopping Made Easy for Stockholders with Receipts of $2,345,330.

TWO COBALT COMPANIES WILL PAY $90,000.

Dividend and interest disbursements on Canadian securities during the next four weeks will aggregate nearly two and a half million dollars. No less than fourteen of the thirty-five chartered banks will pay quarterly or half-yearly dividends, amounting to approximately $1,900,000. Many industrial companies will also be paying on capital stock and interest on bonds, while two Cobalt mining stocks will be represented in a combined sum of $90,000. The following figures do not, of course, represent the entire payments to stockholders during the month of December, as it only embraces those companies that are actively associated with the stock market. The large number of close corporations, the earnings of which are never published, might possibly bring the total disbursements to a point not very far from the ten million dollar mark.

Competition was strong, and most of the offerings sold readily. A good demand for America caused an advance of 5 to 10 percent in merinos, and also brought out higher prices for deep combing grades. BIG COBALT MERGER

A large merger of Cobalt properties has been completed, including the McCormack Silver Cobalt properties, consisting of ninety-two acres in the very heart of the richest part of Cobalt camp, entirely surrounded by the University Mines, the Foster Mines, the Lawson Mines, the Kerr Lake Mines, the Badger Mines, the Temiskaming Mines, these forming almost a complete circle, and amongst the Major Mortimer property in the Camp. Upon the McCormack Silver Cobalt Properties three thousand feet of work has been done, exposing some seventeen veins. The merger also includes the Major Mortimer claim, immediately adjoining to the South, the Silver Queen and Hudson Bay Company's properties and adjoining on the east the R. F. right of way and the Provincial Government land. Five veins have been located and uncovered on this property. One Silver Cobalt vein, and to be of almost solid metal, from ten to twenty inches in width, has been uncovered four hundred feet in length, and the Provincial Government set a gang of men sinking and developing its side of the line. Another vein, the calcite vein from six to sixteen inches in width, has been uncovered two hundred and twenty-five feet. Mr. J. B. Woodworth, one of the most reliable engineers, and one of the pioneers of the Cobalt Camp, gives this opinion in writing: "I consider the Major Mortimer the best available claim I know in the camp, and has great possibilities. I examined it about two months ago." The name of the holding-transfer agents are the Trusts and Guarantee Company, Toronto; the bankers, the Sovereign Bank of Canada and the Standard Bank of Canada; Fox and Ross, Toronto, are the brokers.

ADVENT SEASON WILL AFFECT FISH TRADE Ten Fast Days This Month Will Cause Increased Consumption

HADDIES AND FROZEN HERRING AGAIN ON THE MARKET

The Advent season begins on Dec. 2, and between that date and Christmas there will be ten fast days that will be very generally observed in the Province of Quebec, the fish trade is exceptionally active during this month, and dealers have made extensive provision for a large volume of business. There are some changes in prices, and the varieties of fish offered this week, and the selection of fresh frozen fish has increased noticeably. An important addition is made in the offering of frozen herring, which are quoted to-day at $1.90 per pound; halibut at 8c; mackerel at 11c, and Gaspe and British Columbia salmon at 16c and 9c per pound respectively. Fresh market cod are quoted at 4c per pound; cod fish at 6c; haddock at 4 1/2c, and sea trout at 12c per pound. The available supplies of shell oysters on this market are represented by a comparatively small number of barrels in the hands of a few dealers, and there is every indication that prices will be very high during the winter. The supplies that are being carried and held in cold storage warehouses, and kept at a temperature of 40 degrees, and apart from the high original cost, will have some expense of January or February, and the loss from stock that has not kept well, will make the price to the consumer very high. Bulk orders are arriving more freely, but the high prices are not likely to be maintained, and have given a very firm tone to the local market. Haddies have been practically out of the market for the past two or three weeks, and the supplies of this variety have been made in limited quantities and dealers are quoting 15 lb. boxes at 90c per pound. There is an extensive list of salt and pickled fish offered to the market, and the quotations are generally firm. Green cod is not at all plentiful, and the prices are likely to advance. Large dry cod are now offering, and an increase in the receipts of Labrador herring is reported. Lake trout and sea trout in half barrels are quoted at $5 to $5.25; No. 1 salt eels are offered at 8c per pound.

TORONTO MARKETS

Toronto, Nov. 28.—Receipts of wheat at Winnipeg show a nearer approach to last year's figures. The arrivals on Sunday and Monday inspected yesterday totalled 69,000 bushels. Grades—No. 1 hard, 308 No. 1 Northern, 155 No. 2 Northern, 10 No. 3 Northern, 6 No. 4 Northern, 152 other grades, and 8 winter wheat. This had little effect on winter prices, as wheat is wanted to fill vessels already chartered. Local dealers quote prices at lake ports: No. 1 hard, 83c; No. 1 Northern, 81 1/2c; No. 2 Northern, 79c. Quotations on the local Grain Board to-day: Wheat—Ontario, No. 2 white, 72c asked, east; No. 2 red wheat, 71c asked, outside; 70 1/2c bid, east; No. 2 mixed, 70c bid, C.P.R. east. Feas—30c cents. Flour—Firm, at 81c to 82c. Corn—Firm; No. 2 yellow, American, old, 55c to 55 1/2c; No. 3, new, 51c to 51 1/2c. Oats—36c to 36 1/2c outside. Rye—71 1/2c to 72c outside. Buckwheat—55c to 56c. Bran—Scarcely, $16.50; shorts, $16.50 to $19. Flour—Ontario extra; offered at $2.70 for 90 percent; patents, for export, buyers' bags, outside. Manitoba first patents, at $4.50; second, $4; bakers, $3.90.

DAIRY PRODUCE

There is a good demand for butter on the local market, and twice dealers are quoted the ruling price for finest creamery grades. Under finest and medium grades bring from 21c upward, according to quality, and dairy which is very scarce, is selling at 21c to 22c, the price varying according to the packages and the grade of the goods. Nobody is offering early fall made cheese just now, owing to its high cost, and about the only business being done in this line is being worked in the late November cheese that is coming in from the boards. The market is not active, as most of the cheap cheese has been bought up and shipped, and the following prices are little better than nominal quotations. For October grades, 12 1/2c to 12 3/4c is asked for Westons, 12c to 12 1/2c for Quebecs, and for November, 12 1/2c for Quebecs, and 11 1/2c to 12 1/2c for Westons. There are 696 packages of butter, and 3,148 boxes of cheese. Messrs. Hodgson Brothers' Liverpool dairy produce report for the week ending Nov. 16, says that the price for cheese has risen to moderate, and there has been some further disposition to meet buyers; but on the whole values are unchanged, and general trade is very disappointing and unprofitable. There is a fair enquiry for choicest qualities of butter, and more attention is now paid to new season's arrivals of Colonial. Canadian creamery is entirely neglected, although offered at reduced prices. Medium grades of butter, for confectionery purposes, are slow sellers.

DAIRYMEN MEET AT KEMPTVILLE

Kemptville, Ont., Nov. 25.—A dairy convention, under the combined auspices of the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association, Kemptville Cheese Syndicate and the Grenville County Dairy Association, was held in the town hall at Kemptville yesterday. The Broad street curb market, although paying no rent to the city of New York for the use of the public street, enjoys many of the advantages and escapes some of the limitations of the organized stock exchange. Nominally the commission for executing orders on the curb is the same as on the stock exchange, namely, one-eighth of one percent, irrespective of price; but it is admitted that people who know how to do business don't through regular New York Stock Exchange houses at one-sixteenth of one percent on the low-priced issues, and that some of the curb houses will buy the stock and clear them for 1-32. It is further stated that the stock exchange houses hire their curb men on a regular salary, paying them from $25 to $50 per week, while a man without much experience may be had as low as $10. Those manipulating stocks on the curb do not have to pay a commission on each share bought or sold, but can have the job done by the week, although there are a number of houses which pay their curb brokers two dollars per hundred dollars.

SUPERIOR COURT

JUDGMENTS BY MR. JUSTICE FORTIN.

Mr. Justice Fortin rendered several judgments in the Superior Court yesterday.

Mendel Mallek claimed $200 from the Fidelity & Casualty Co., under a policy protecting him against loss resulting from the acts of burglars. The company pleaded that Mallek had voided his insurance by concealing a previous burglary on his premises. The Court did not find proof of the alleged concealment, and maintained the action, but to the extent of $150 only, as some watches included in the claim were not covered by the policy.

An action by Mrs. H. Corbeil, who claimed damages from the Montreal Street Railway Company for injuries received through being struck by a falling trolley pole, was maintained to the extent of $150.

N. Bontot, employed in the service of Lymburner & Mathews, was awarded $400 damages on account of injuries received while working in defendants' shops. The Court assessed the damages at more than that sum, but reduced the amount on the ground of contributory negligence.

Mr. Arthur Deisle, advocate, claimed $800 from the Montreal Exhibition Company on the ground of services rendered when representing the Quebec Government in an arbitration between the government and the company. The company pleaded that they had never asked Mr. Deisle's services, and that they owed him nothing. The Court maintained that plea, and dismissed the action.

THE LATE MR. MONTGOMERIE.

The many friends of Mr. R. C. Montgomerie will learn with deep regret of his death, in his seventy-sixth year, which occurred on Monday afternoon. He was the son of the late Alexander C. Montgomerie, who came to this country many years ago from Scotland, and engaged in business as a general commission merchant. Mr. Montgomerie was

THE LATE MR. R. C. MONTGOMERIE, a native of this city, and was in his early life a partner in the firm of Lewis Kay & Co. Subsequently he became the Canadian representative of the firm of Henry Bannerman & Co., of Manchester, England.

On his retirement from this position he was a manufacturer in the town of St. Johns, Que. Twenty years ago he retired from active business life, and has since resided in St. Johns.

Mr. Montgomerie was a man of sterling qualities, a firm friend, a loving parent, and an earnest worker in and supporter of all that made for righteousness and the extension of Christ's kingdom among men. Although a Presbyterian, he was a liberal giver and an honored member of the Church of England in St. Johns, and served that institution for many years as one of its lay readers. He married the only daughter of the late William McGinnis, of Ilerville, Que., whose death occurred some eight years ago. His death will be felt by a large circle of friends and relatives. He is

INJUNCTION AGAINST BAILIFFS.

Mr. Justice Davidson has rendered judgment, granting the petition of Chas. St. Armand, bailiff, who asked a writ of interlocutory injunction against the corporation of bailiffs. On Nov. 11 the members of the corporation of bailiffs decided, by a vote of 11 to 10, to hold an examination of three candidates for admission to their profession on Nov. 28. Thereupon St. Armand made the present petition, asking that the proposed examination be not allowed, on the ground that the date named is not one regularly fixed for examination; that the resolution was not passed by a vote of two-thirds of the members, as required, and that the decision was not sanctioned by the Council of the Bar. The Court found the grounds of the petition well founded, and it was granted upon the petitioner giving $500 security.

G. T. R. OFFICIAL DEAD.

Mr. James H. Muir, one of the oldest officials of the Grand Trunk Railway, has just died. For many years past Mr. Muir had been treasurer of the Grand Trunk lines west of the St. Clair River, with headquarters at Detroit, Mich. He was a Scotchman, and was in the service of the Detroit & Milwaukee Railway when that line was taken over by the Grand Trunk. Mr. Muir was 71 years of age, but had attended to his duties until a few days before his death.

LABOR SAVING APPLIANCES.

Mr. Barlow, city surveyor, presented a report yesterday afternoon to the Road Committee of the Harris excavator and trenching machines, which the committee inspected recently at Maisonneuve. Mr. Barlow estimated that the saving effected would be one-half in a kind of earth that was fairly free from boulders. A special advantage was that a machine of that kind would never go on strike and other difficulties incident to a large gang of men would also be done away with if it were generally used.

The committee took no action for the reason that the season is too far advanced to do anything this year, and the report was filed for future reference.

IN THE ADMIRALTY COURT.

Captain Louis Dugre, proprietor of the barge 'Carolina,' through his attorneys, Messrs. Lamothe & Trudel, has entered an action in the Admiralty Court claiming $400 from the steam barge 'Armenia' on account of damage alleged to have been done by the latter to his own vessel in a collision which took place at Three Rivers on Saturday last.

THE SCOTTISH WOMAN.

(By Edwin Orchard, in the 'British Weekly'.)

I don't like the Scotch," said Lidgett. "It is a man, he assumes superiority, as if he meant to rule the earth. It is a woman, a woman, well!"

"Why the correction?" inquired Lidgett. "I am observing how slowly his conversation lingers on every subject."

"I also among the unregenerate," Lidgett said, "I was a Scotch, which I was proud to be, but I was unregenerate and unclassical."

Lidgett enjoyed it in his own way. He was an old campaigner and traveller, but in resource, never at a loss. But the greatest charm of the present spell was that it gave him his friend to himself. He was a peculiar affection, arising out of pure gratitude.

Burnham nodded tranquilly, stepped forward to the cab, got in, and the ancient vehicle ambled away. Lidgett watched it out of sight. One of those curious intuitions which seldom err came to him, and he felt that it was not an ordinary visit or consultation which Burnham had been called to pay.

"Where have you been?" he asked gruffly. "And why do you come back looking like a cherub who has been up aloft?" Burnham laughed, and the sound was good to hear. It was a fine, large laugh, which came up from the depths of a joyous heart.

"I suppose you are looking for tea, eh? Sit down and I'll boil a kettle for the sixteenth time." "I think I've had some; yes, I have; sit down, Jimmy. There isn't any hurry, is there?"

"I would doubt it very much you're consumed at this very moment," replied Burnham, quietly. "I do want to tell you, only—only, I don't quite know how."

"A year, no, two years ago, a woman came to see me one day in Wimpole street. She was afraid of something, and I had to see a good deal of her. Her husband was alive then. It was not a happy marriage."

"There were no children, and her life had not been what she deserved. I was sorry for her, and interested. I did what I could." Lidgett nodded. He fully understood what possibilities were hidden under the commonplace words.

pose of manner which seemed to indicate that she could master circumstances the most unpromising. She knew perfectly well that Burnham was angry, that he resented his brief respite from colossal toil being intruded on, but she showed no shrinking. She had an errand, a duty to perform, it would be performed at whatever cost.

"I shall have to go, Jimmy; it's a pity, but I'll get back as quickly as possible." "Who is he, or is it a she?" "Go to school, Jimmy," said Burnham with a smile as he passed into the house to wash his hands. "Ask her to sit down, take her to the carriage, will you? I'll be out presently."

In an incredibly short time, considering what he had accomplished in it, Burnham reappeared. He had changed his flannel suit for the professional garb of his daily life, and he carried his gloves in his hand.

"She's in the cab. It's a shame, old chap," murmured Lidgett sympathetically. "Don't be long. I'll wait tea for you, perhaps have a snooze in the interval." Burnham nodded tranquilly, stepped forward to the cab, got in, and the ancient vehicle ambled away.

Lidgett watched it out of sight. One of those curious intuitions which seldom err came to him, and he felt that it was not an ordinary visit or consultation which Burnham had been called to pay. But he was not a curious man; he could wait. Experience had taught him the value of waiting, that it was one of the few virtues which does not fail of its reward.

"I didn't want it, Jimmy," was the reply, and there was a cadence in the voice which struck Lidgett's quick ear ominously. "It was a joyous cadence, something vibrated in it which stirred him with vague fears."

"Where have you been?" he asked gruffly. "And why do you come back looking like a cherub who has been up aloft?" Burnham laughed, and the sound was good to hear. It was a fine, large laugh, which came up from the depths of a joyous heart.

"I suppose you are looking for tea, eh? Sit down and I'll boil a kettle for the sixteenth time." "I think I've had some; yes, I have; sit down, Jimmy. There isn't any hurry, is there?"

"I would doubt it very much you're consumed at this very moment," replied Burnham, quietly. "I do want to tell you, only—only, I don't quite know how."

Debate on the Address Continued—The Hon. D. Tisdale Wants a Law to Punish Corruption in Both Parties.

THE NORTH-WEST COAL FAMINE.

Ottawa, Nov. 23.—The debate on the Speech from the Throne was brought to a close last night by the adoption of the usual address of thanks to His Excellency the Governor-General. The participants yesterday were Messrs. Archie Campbell, Liberal, of Centre York; Andrew Broder, Conservative, of Dundas; the Hon. David Tisdale, the ex-Minister of Militia, and Dr. Stockton, Conservative, of St. John N.B.

The debate on the address was resumed shortly after three o'clock by Mr. Archie Campbell, who recalled the revelations of Conservative corruption in 1891, that drew from the London 'Graphic' a declaration that Tammany Hall smelt sweet beside this Canadian stinkpot. In 1891 the Conservative candidate in South Ontario confessed to the expenditure of $1,200 in bribery. Had the Conservatives ever heard of the Conservative party methods in London in the elections of 1891 and 1896? Had they heard of the disclosures before the Insurance Commission into the use made of certain trust funds? Speaking of the inquiry into the London by-election before the Toronto Police Court, Mr. Campbell asserted that the Conservatives had this trial all their own way. The police magistrate had overruled every objection to the form of evidence, but in spite of the most searching inquiry, they had found nothing against the Hon. Mr. Hyman. Sir John Carling had carried London in 1891 through the Conservative party leading the election lists with names that had no right there. Mr. Hyman was defeated by this means in 1891, but Sir John Carling sat through his term without ever offering to resign. In London in 1896 there was one of the most scandalous and corrupt elections ever held in the country. The records showed no less than 280 spoiled ballots in 15 polling places. These were spoiled under instructions sent out by Robert Birmingham, the Conservative organizer. Money flowed like water, and when the election petition came up for trial some twenty Conservative workers left the country. The truth was that Mr. Hyman had been twice robbed of the seat that he had really won. South Ontario, West Northumberland, South Grey, Parry Sound, North Middlesex, all had contributed to swell the record of Conservative misdoing in election matters.

Mr. Andrew Broder followed up the 'Graphic' argument, claiming that more Liberals had been disqualified than Conservatives. The Hon. David Tisdale took the higher ground that both parties had been guilty of corruption, and that the question now was to find a remedy for an acknowledged evil. He thought it might be better to go back to the old law that punished the tempter.

Col. Talbot—What about the man who asks for money? Who is the greatest tempter? Mr. Tisdale could not see much difference between them. What was needed in his judgment was a public tribunal with simple and summary powers, and if he was a young man he would take up a propagandist in favor of open voting. In his own constituency in the past young men had come to him and urged the use of the 'devil's fire,' but he had always discouraged it, considering that it was useless as well as wrong. He had faith in public opinion, but it was being sapped, and as an illustration of how corruption had grown he mentioned that he knew a constituency in which from five to ten thousand dollars were being spent now where years ago the amount was only six hundred dollars.

Mr. Tisdale's sentiments were applauded by both sides of the House, the Prime Minister joining heartily with several others of his colleagues. Dr. Stockton, of St. John, returned to the story of Liberal bribery and corruption, quoting largely from the evidence in the Queen's-Sherburne case. The Prime Minister, he thought, had scarcely measured the gravity of the situation. He argued with Mr. Tisdale that there was urgent need for electoral reform that would supply machinery at once simple, expeditious and free from all legal technicalities for the punishment of all crimes that occurred.

NORTH-WEST COAL FAMINE.

The leader of the Opposition asked whether there was any further information regarding the Lethbridge coal strike. The situation, he added, was plainly of great moment, and he would like to know what was being done to relieve the distress that already prevailed. The prime Minister answered that the last message from Mr. Mackenzie King indicated that negotiations for a settlement were making satisfactory progress. Mr. King had expressed also a hope that the basis of settlement proposed would be approved by the authority which controls the miners' union. He would not be too sanguine, but there was a strong probability that the expectations in the telegram would be realized. If they were not realized the situation would certainly be most serious, but he must frankly state he did not know what fur-

DALE ON LAKE ERIE

RAGES AT SIXTY MILES AN HOUR. Cleveland, Nov. 23.—A gale which reached a velocity of sixty miles an hour raged on Lake Erie the greater part of yesterday, and compelled even the big passenger boats to seek shelter. The 'City of Erie,' which left Buffalo on Monday night, did not arrive here till 11 o'clock last night, over twelve hours late. Several vessels from the Upper Lakes which had been caught in the storm in that section, and about whose safety great fears had been felt, came into port late yesterday. The only craft missing from here is the whaleback barge, No. 118, bound from Conneaut, with coal, in tow of the steamer 'J. B. Eids,' which broke away from the steamer fifteen miles north-west of Fairport, yesterday. The tug 'Monarch,' which was bound from Conneaut to Toledo with a scow, dropped her tow and she was sent out to search for the missing whaleback. The latter, it is thought, will ride out the storm safely, and will be found at anchor.

DR. HEBERT OPERATED UPON.

(Canadian Associated Press.) London, Nov. 27.—Dr. Hebert has undergone an operation in Paris, which will retard his convalescence. In examination at Versailles, the woman Pesnel, or Guerin, replied to the accusation of a plot to murder the doctor: 'Do you think we wanted to make sausage meat of the poor, dear doctor.'

PRIZE CONTEST.

A great deal of interest is being taken in the Sovereign Photograph Contest which the 'Illustrated Witness' has announced to close on Dec. 31. It will be a trial of skill. Any photographer, amateur or professional, man, woman or child, may compete, and there is no restriction as to subject. The prize will be awarded for what the judges decide to be 'THE MOST ARTISTIC PHOTOGRAPH.' Entries should be sent in as early as possible. All photographs submitted become the property of the publishers. Mark 'Photo Contest,' and address: The Editor, 'Illustrated Witness,' 'Witness' Block, Montreal.

ther measures would be taken by the government.

Mr. Borden considered that the government would be justified in taking charge of the available supply in the North-West, so as to avert suffering.

The Premier answered that such a step would be unconstitutional and would involve unwarrantable interference with the rights of property. The ordinary law of the land ought to be sufficient to cope with the difficulty.

THE SENATE.

In the Senate the Hon. Mr. Scott, continuing the debate on the address, said the aggregate trade had increased four million in a year under the Conservatives, and at the rate of $23,000,000 a year under the Liberals, and claimed that the government must have had something to do with promoting the great increase of prosperity. Mr. Loughead had hardly been fair in stating that the Liberals had promised free trade and had practiced protection, and that the new tariff would embody high tariff principles. The government had never promised free trade. The Liberal party had, and still had, its aim in the direction of lower tariff. All the Liberal Government had said it would do or had attempted to do was to modify the high protection of Conservatives and bring the tariff toward a revenue basis. He could not go into the tariff, but it would be no breach of confidence to say that it would not be a high protective tariff. With regard to the criticism of the London election and charges of electoral corruption, Mr. Scott pointed out that most of the improvements in the Election Act had been made by the Liberals. Liberals had offered more from corrupt practices in the elections than had the Conservatives. It must be remembered that there had been bribery in London before the last election. The first time the Liberals heard of ballot switching was when Birmingham sent Freeborn to Macdonald to train ballot switchers.

He favored compulsory voting and thought deputy returning officers should be prominent residents of the districts in which they acted.

Senator McMullin thought that one of the most wonderful things in Canada was the development of mines. Last year twenty-eight million dollars' worth of matte had been sent to the United States. This was bad. Smelters and refineries should be built in Canada.

Discussing the tariff, he said that there was a move in the United States to obtain better trade relations with Canada. Well, the means were in their own hands. All they had to do was to lower their own tariff. It would be a risk to make a treaty with the United States which might abort the trade Canada had built up with Great Britain. Senator McMullin favored so strengthening the electoral law that honest elections were bound to result. He would have no fear as to the results.

Senator Coffee referred to the work of fishing for scandal that had been carried on in parliament last year without result. This was not the fault of the fishers, but that there was nothing to catch. The London revelations had been unduly magnified. He hoped Mr. Hyman would again run and gain the election.

The address was then adopted and the Senate adjourned.

CUBA

CONDITIONS NOT SO PEACEFUL AS REPORTS INDICATE.

New York, Nov. 27.—Senator Fryer Andrade, who was Secretary of the Interior for Cuba during the part of the Palma administration, in which all the outstanding Liberals from office took place, and on whose recommendation most of the removals were made, arrived from Havana this afternoon on board the steamer 'Mexico.' Asked regarding peace conditions in Cuba, Senator Fryer said that conditions were not so peaceful in every part of the island as reports would indicate. Cattle stealing, he said, was continuing on a considerable scale, and owners of cattle were anxiously inquiring what is to be done about it.

Senator Fryer said the general state of mind was one of dissatisfaction with the uncertain conditions of government. Asked whether the Moderates would object to holding a general election in the near future, with its attendant possibilities of Liberal control, Senator Fryer averred that the Moderate leaders had ceased to concern themselves about it and were keeping entirely out of such matters.

HAMILTON BY-ELECTION

CONSERVATIVE AND LABOR CANDIDATES FOR VACANCY IN LEGISLATURE.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 27.—In addition to a strike, Hamilton has a local by-election on its hands. This little side show was formally opened to-day at noon, when the official nominations took place. The vacancy was caused in East Hamilton by the death of Mr. Henry Carscallen, and the candidates nominated to-day were: Messrs. J. J. Scott, K.C., Conservative; Allen Studholme, labor; S. L. Landers, labor. Mr. Landers retired after delivering a slashing speech, in which he denounced the Whitney Government, particularly for the prison labor contract. The fight will, therefore, be between the Conservative and the Labor candidate, there being no Liberal.

POST OFFICE ROBBERY

A HOTEL PORTER'S REMARKABLE FIND.

Toronto, Nov. 27.—Found in the water tank of one of the lavatories at the Iroquois Hotel this morning were about one hundred letters and postcards, addressed to different people in different parts of the province. Apparently this is the result of a mail robbery, as every letter had been torn open, and in some cases the letters had not been returned. James Faudenett, porter at the hotel, was the first to discover them. He found that the tanks would not work, and he proceeded to investigate. Several of the letters were addressed to banks and contained bank cheques. The letters were of different dates, but all in the month of November. The letters are being carefully dried and the detectives department are working on the case. So far there have been no reports of any mail robbery, and the Post-office authorities were surprised to hear it.

FIGHT AMONG ITALIANS

A LABORER STABBED AND ANOTHER SHOT.

Three Rivers, Que., Nov. 27.—Magistrate Desjardins and High Constable Lupien returned to-day from St. Onge village, near Shawinigan Falls, where they had gone to take the ante-mortem deposition of a man injured in a fight on Sunday last. It appears that an altercation took place in a cabin occupied by Italian laborers, and one of them, Cosimo Marizzo, was stabbed in the shoulder with a knife. He drew a revolver and shot his assailant, Antonio Pizzanna, in the abdomen. Marizzo is slightly wounded and Pizzanna's wound may prove fatal. Marizzo was arrested by Mr. Lupien and brought to Three Rivers. His trial is fixed for the 30th inst. Pizzanna is in the hospital at Shawinigan Falls.

CANADIAN CABLES

MEDICAL RECIPROCITY.

(Canadian Associated Press.) London, Nov. 27.—At the annual meeting of the British Medical Council, the president, Dr. Donald MacAlister, said that the reason to believe that misconceptions which existed in Canada as to the effect of recent imperial legislation on the question of medical reciprocity, between Canada and Britain, would be removed. Nothing but good could result from a closer connection and freer interchange between the professional schools of the two countries.

TORONTO SUED

SIR RICHARD CARTWRIGHT'S CASE.

Toronto, Nov. 27.—Sir Richard Cartwright has entered an action against the city of Toronto for the recovery of 21 lots of land on Shaw and Givens streets and Ossington avenue. Sir Richard did not pay the taxes on the lots, and in 1901 these were sold to the city for taxes. Sir Richard made a demand upon the city to have the lands decided to him on his payment of the taxes against them, but in the meantime the lands have become very much more valuable, and the city accordingly refused the demand.

EDUCATION IN RUSSIA

M. KAUFFMAN SUBMITS TO THE CABINET A PLAN FOR REFORM.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 27.—The Minister of Education, M. Kauffman, has just submitted to the cabinet a plan for the reform of the primary educational system of Russia, which next to the agrarian reforms is recognized as the gravest problem confronting the Russian Government. The most important feature of the minister's proposals is one providing for the abandonment of the old policy, which in accordance with the dictum of M. Popudonostsev, ex-Procurator-General of the Holy Synod, that education was synonymous with revolution, threw hindrances in the way of the effort of the zemstvo and private persons to spread elementary knowledge among the ignorant masses of the Russian peasantry and even imposed a veto on instruction being given in history and other similar branches of education. M. Kauffman recommends instead that the central government support materially and morally, all such efforts and assume the payment of minimum salaries to teachers in the popular schools opened by the zemstvos and other local administrations. As the greatest difficulty in the way of a speedy institution of general, obligatory elementary education is the lack of capable teachers the minister proposes to enlarge, at the state's expense, the number of schools where teachers are educated and to increase the allowances made to the existing institutions. In regard to the schools for the non-Russian population the minister proposes to permit elementary education being given to pupils in their mother tongue on condition that the teaching of Russian history and geography must be in Russian.

GUNNERS DINE

ARTILLERYMEN CELEBRATE THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THEIR ORGANIZATION.

Mr. James Wilson, W.O., presided last night at the annual dinner of the 2nd Regiment Canadian Artillery. It was a jubilee night, the heavy corps celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of its organization. About sixty sat down to an excellent menu and a very enjoyable evening was spent with music, song and recitation.

VICTIMS OF POISON

A VERY MYSTERIOUS CRIME.

Auburn, N. Y., Nov. 27.—After over a month's investigation by physicians and chemists it has been determined that the peculiar sickness in the family of William F. Wait is due to arsenical poisoning. Mr. Wait is still very ill at the City Hospital, and his son, Bryant, who recently graduated at Yale, is also confined there in a partially paralyzed condition. He has lost the use of his hands and legs, and physicians say he may not recover in years. The Rev. Harvey Clements, of Cloversville, a son-in-law, who recently spent a few days in the Wait household, was all ready to go abroad, but upon reaching New York was stricken with the malady and was ill for some time. Mrs. Wait was also desperately ill for several days. The servants in the household and the coachman were among the victims of the disease. All symptoms pointed conclusively to arsenical poisoning, and as a last resort detectives and the local police were called into the case, but the greatest secrecy was preserved. Analyses of sugar, flour, tea and other foods remaining in the Wait household showed the presence of arsenic in sufficient quantities to produce death; indeed, it is supposed the victims were given overdoses for horrible nausea followed meals and this may have averted speedy death. Investigation is still progressing, but there is not the slightest proof to indicate the author of the crime. Mr. Wait is a member of the old carpet manufacturing firm of Nye and Wait, and the family is among the most respected in the city.

IMMIGRANTS FOR THE NORTH-WEST.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 27.—Mrs. Arnold Forster, of Yorkshire, has just returned to Toronto from a trip to the North-West and the Pacific coast, during which she has visited many places as far as the coast, looking up the various families and men and women whom she has been instrumental in bringing to this country from England. Mrs. Forster declares herself well pleased with the results, having found those settlers who were interested in busy and doing well, and she thinks the right people for Canada are those who are healthy and strong, and willing to work. This lady is not representing any society, but has been carrying on this philanthropy on her own account. However, she was the means of influencing the municipalities of Leeds and Bradford to send out numbers who were willing and able to work, but could find nothing to do. Many of these people have already been able to refund much of their passage money. Mrs. Forster expects to leave for England next week.

A TUBING CONTRACT.

London, Nov. 27.—The Burmah Oil Company has placed contracts in Glasgow and the United States for 275 miles of tubing, for a pipe line, to bring oil to the seaboard from the interior. The Glasgow contract, which is the largest of its kind ever placed in that city, is valued at $2,500,000.

HAMILTON STRIKE

There are Prospects To-day of a Settlement.

RIOTERS BEFORE THE COURT.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 27.—The company made no attempt to run cars to-night, and consequently no violence was offered. Mr. McMahon, president of the International Street Railway Company, arrived from Chicago, and the prospect of negotiations being opened between the company and the men seems most hopeful. This morning a number of drunken strikebreakers were sent on in charge of one of the cars, and they created a lot of excitement by running through the centre of the city at a reckless rate of speed. They did not bother about their fender, and went through the city with it at the rear of the car. Several unsuccessful attempts were made to stop the car, and finally the leaders of the strike-breakers were sent for. They succeeded in stopping the car at the corner of King and MacNab streets, and placed another crew in charge. The police say that the men were on the car in the first place will be prosecuted. The strikers have also complained to the police authorities that the strike-breakers are breaking many of the city by-laws, and they received the promise that the complaints would be investigated. Several of the strike-breakers have tired of their jobs and left the city. Six left to-day by an early morning train. The company officials say that they were through with the men, and that they did not desert. Lieut.-Colonel Hemming took charge of the troops last night, succeeding Lieut.-Colonel Ogilvie, who has been returned to Toronto. When the soldiers were out on Saturday night they had only two blank cartridges each, but last night each man was given additional blank ammunition, and a few blank cartridges.

AGREE FOR ONCE

London, Nov. 27.—For the first time since the union, the Irish members of parliament of all sections have unanimously signed an official document. This harmonizing instrument is a petition, prompted by Mr. John Redmond, leader of the Irish party, asking the government to withdraw the restrictions against tobacco-growing in Ireland.

THE BUCKINGHAM STRIKE

One Woman Testifies to Lending a Gun to a Strike Leader.

ANOTHER SAYS SHE HAD TO COME UP WITH A GUN OR A STONE WITH A STONE.

Buckingham, Nov. 28.—The investigation was continued this morning when the court adjourned last night. Judge G. G. G. made no commitments, but the first case finished was the one conducted against Charles Bosten, Robinson, and Clement. Without explanation as to the effect of the judge passed on to the next case, for man-laughter.
