

Won't Retreat

Concern For Ike's Safety

WASHINGTON—CP—Qualified authorities said Friday they are extremely concerned over the safety of President Eisenhower on his scheduled Japanese visit but the president will not retreat, feeling Japan has become a site to wage a propaganda battle against Premier Khrushchev.

The 70-year-old Eisenhower will take off by jet Sunday, accompanied by his son and daughter-in-law, Lt. Col. John and Barbara Eisenhower, on a Pacific tour that will take him to Tokyo June 19.

There is a mounting feeling here that the experts may have underestimated the degree of violence that may be shown by the Japanese mobs whose anti-American sentiments have been whipped to a feverish pitch.

The degree of violence was illustrated Friday when an automobile bearing Eisenhower's representatives, including his press and appointments secretaries and the U.S. ambassador, was halted, stoned, its windows smashed and its tires slashed.

Concern was heightened by indications that Tokyo police were slow to act. The car's occupants had to wait an embarrassing 80 minutes before sufficient police arrived to clear a path through the demonstrators and allow the Americans to be rescued by a helicopter.

The police said they were caught by surprise but here is some feeling here the police were well aware of the situation and were deliberately slow to act.

Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi holds a majority of seats in the Japanese parliament and has guaranteed Eisenhower's safety but the circumstances seem to indicate either that Kishi is not as popular among his people as his parliamentary majority might suggest or that he himself realizes there is rising Japanese sentiment against the visit of Eisenhower.

As seen by some U.S. experts, Kishi represents the military factions in Japan and the Socialists who oppose him represent pacifists.

Suspect Pigeon Hitched A Ride

NESQUEHONING, Pa. (AP)—A Pennsylvania pigeon picked up in Honolulu Thursday didn't get there on its own wing power, that's for sure.

But a tag on one of the bird's legs bore the name and address of Patsy Fauzio, a coal contractor in eastern Pennsylvania.

"I haven't the faintest notion how this one wound up in Honolulu," he said.

It couldn't fly the 5,000 air miles to Hawaii. The best a pigeon can do at a stretch is a couple of hundred miles. So the best guess is that the pigeon hitch-hiked on a boat leaving the west coast.

But that stumps Fauzio, too. For how did it get to the shores of the Pacific?

Operation For Hendrick Voerward

PRETORIA, South Africa (Reuters)—Prime Minister Hendrick Verwoerd was admitted to Pretoria General Hospital Friday night to undergo an operation on his right eardrum, shattered in an assassination attempt April 9. The operation, part of a series Verwoerd has undergone for head wounds, will try to reconstruct the eardrum. The prime minister is expected to remain in the hospital several days.

Castro Claims Espionage

Protest 'Spying'

3rd Blast At US In 36 Hrs.

HAVANA (AP)—Premier Fidel Castro said Friday night a U.S. military plane took "movie films and photographs" of a Soviet ship off Cuba's coast and denounced it as "an act of espionage."

In his third blast against the United States in 36 hours, Castro rejected two U.S. protests received by his government. He countered with the "pirate plane" disclosure and an attack on foreign oil companies in Cuba.

The Cuban leader showed a TV audience pictures of a two-engine plane that appeared to be a U.S. Navy patrol craft flying near a ship he identified as Russian.

The Soviet ship was 10 miles off the north coast of Cuba, Castro said. The plane hovered over the vessel so long, he added, that the Soviet crew had time to row out and take the pictures.

Castro rejected as violent and virulent the two U.S. protests and declared they "reveal the spirit of aggression" by the United States against Cuba.

SHARP NOTE

Washington said in a sharp note Friday that Cuba was making false and offensive charges against the United States. An earlier note accused the Castro government of an official campaign of slander against the U.S. government.

Castro declared his government would never reply to Washington's demand for an explanation of the shooting at a U.S. submarine in Cuban waters last month. He referred to the incident of the sub Sea Poacher, fired on by a Cuban frigate.

Switching to the petroleum issue, Castro charged that refusal of foreign oil firms to refine Soviet crude oil was an "act of treachery" oriented by the U.S. state department.

2,000 Awards

Queen Dispenses Honors

LONDON (Reuters)—Queen Elizabeth today dispensed honors among more than 2,000 of her subjects, including a soldier, an actress and a woman missionary who has spent 30 years in lonely Pacific islands.

The Queen also recognized the work of a restaurateur, a scientist who bamboozled the Nazis and the husband of mystery writer Agatha Christie.

Biggest award in the birthday honors list went to Field-Marshal Sir William Slim who was created a viscount. Slim, 68, was credited with defeating the Japanese in Burma in the Second World War as commander of the 14th Army there. He retired last February as governor-general of Australia.

British actress Flora Robson, who started her stage career at five and specializes in portraying distraught, neurotic women, was made a Dame of the British Empire—female equivalent of knighthood.

Missionary Miss Nellie Fagan was made a member of the Order of the British Empire. She has devoted her life to humanitarian work among the 54,000 people of the New Hebrides.

The title of Knight Bachelor was conferred on Samuel Salmon, managing director of the Lyons' chain of tea shops.

Dr. Robert Cockburn was created Knight Commander of the British Empire. A government scientist, Cockburn confused Nazi defences during the Normandy landings by faking a "gigantic battle fleet" at Calais with a squadron of planes, some launches and large quantities of silver paper.

The title of commander of the British Empire went to Prof. Max Mallowan, a noted archaeologist who has not matched the popular acclaim of his wife, author Agatha Christie.

West Indian cricket player Everton Weekes was made an officer of the Order of the British Empire. The same title was awarded to Tommy Walker, former international soccer player and now manager of the Heart of Midlothian club who was dubbed "the first gentleman of the field."

Lady Chatterley Found Obscene

MONTREAL (CP)—Sessions Judge T. A. Fontaine Friday ruled the book Lady Chatterley's Lover unfit for the public and 16 copies of it seized by police were confiscated.

Defence counsel Manuel Shacter announced immediately that the judgment will be appealed. Judge Fontaine, in an 11-page judgment, found the book obscene.

Police counsel J. E. St. Laurent said the effect of the ruling is that the book, in any version, cannot be sold anywhere in Canada on pain of prosecution against the distributors.

Two Men Die In Accidents

Two men died and two others were injured in three local and district accidents yesterday.

Dead are Donat Lafond, 79, of St. Germain, near Drummondville, killed in a level crossing accident; and Laurence Boivin, 35, of Compton, fatally injured by a falling branch from a tree.

Injured were two Sherbrooke men, Gilles Vallancourt, 18, and Merrill Martin, 43, in another level crossing crash not far from Lake Megantic on the Quebec Central Railway line.

Both men are believed to be critically injured.

Provincial Voting Tops The News

By DAVID ROWNTREE

THE WEEK: Voters re-elected Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan administrations. Diefenbaker proposes NATO meeting in Canada. Baffling murder case faces police in Newfoundland.

Socialism in Saskatchewan and Conservatism in Nova Scotia were heartily endorsed by voters in provincial elections. Both governments were returned with bigger majorities.

"We felt we would win by an increased majority... and the voters have given us this satisfactory result," Premier Robert Stanfield said after Tuesday's vote in Nova Scotia.

His Progressive Conservative party took 27 of the 43 legislative seats, three more than in the 1956 vote. The Liberals, turned out of office in the 1956 election with only 18 seats, lost three more. The CCF kept one constituency.

In Saskatchewan Wednesday the voters made it "abundantly clear" that they wanted CCF Premier Thomas Douglas' pre-paid medical care plan despite the opposition of the medical profession.

The CCF won 38 seats, compared with 36 in the last election four years ago. Two of these came from Social Credit, which was left without representation in the House, and two from the Liberals. However, the Liberals had a net gain of two seats—to 16 from 14. Three of them were won from the

Campaign Warms Up

By RICHARD DAIGNAULT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

QUEBEC — CP — After a quiet start a month ago, Quebec's election campaign seems to be moving to a slambang finish.

There's no red hot issue in the contest, carried on by the Union Nationale and Liberal leaders in grueling travel across the big province, unless it's the obvious one whether the government deserves re-election June 22 for a fifth consecutive term.

The Union Nationale under Premier Antonio Barrette is preaching from platforms, placards and in broadcasts the idea of "new summits" of Quebec achievement with its government.

Liberals, led by Jean Lesage, by the same channels are trying to drive across the idea it's "time for a change."

COTE OF THE FIGHT

In the various ridings local situations are at the core of the election fight. In rural constituencies and in the smaller towns, the individual popularity of a candidate has a bearing in the campaign. In one town the issue may be construction of a bridge and in another, construction of a hospital or a road.

The presence of many independent Liberal and independent Union Nationale candidates is more a sign of campaign tactics than anything else but in some areas it indicates party disagreements.

At leadership level the tone of the campaign has changed from high-toned generalities about government policies to biting attacks and name-calling.

Some of the most violent language has come lately from Liberal Leader Lesage, once cabinet minister in the St. Laurent federal administration, who has been whipping up enthusiasm in Quebec Liberal ranks since he became leader in 1968.

He has called Mr. Barrette an "ignoramus" and an incompetent.

"A TRAITOR"

Mr. Barrette, for some time now, has been calling Mr. Lesage "a traitor to his province and his people" because he was in a roars into the final days epithets are apt to fly more wildly from each side.

Religious advice, favoring more restrained campaigning than Quebec normally is accustomed to, has acted as a bit of a brake. Some are wondering whether the brake will hold much longer.

English Speaking Vote Is Much Sought-After

By CUTHBERT JONES
Record Staff Writer

One feature of the current provincial election campaign, especially in the Eastern Townships, is the effort being made to enlist the support of the English-speaking voters who have been more or less generally ignored in recent years.

Already the Liberal party has held two meetings for the English electors—one at Knowlton and the second at Ayer's Cliff—both of which received substantial public support.

On Monday night, Finance Minister J. S. Bourque is staging an English meeting in the Mitchell School auditorium opposite Portland Square. In addition to the Finance Minister, seeking his eighth term as Sherbrooke representative, the speakers will include Lt. Col. Bert Lyon, Ken Halpenny and Mrs. George B. Scott.

Mr. Bourque will be introduced by Harry E. Grundy, Q.C., and thanked by Charles Emile Belanger, Victor Newton and Gaetan Cote will act as joint chairman. The Liberals plan to keep up their campaign, with an English meeting at the Richmond town hall, also on Monday night, in favor of the candidate, J. Emilen Lafrance.

Speakers will include Commodore Paul Earl, Liberal member for Notre Dame de Grace since 1948, George O'Reilly, Liberal candidate in Verdun, Glen

First Graduation Dance In New Thetford School

THETFORD MINES — Friday evening, June 3rd, the High School Graduation dance was held in the charmingly decorated gymnasium of the new Andrew S. Johnson Memorial High School.

This being the first graduation dance in the new school, the decorations varied from former years, chiefly because this year there was a new emphasis on mobiles, particularly of a nature motif. Decorating one wall was a drawing of the school crest. Decorations were in the hands of Grade X pupils, directed by Miss A. Rahal and Mr. J. Visser.

The dance opened with the grand march, led by Gail Power with Richard Brink and Patsy McNaughton with Ted Reid and directed by the principal, Mr. S. L. Hodge.

Refreshments were served at midnight, after which Mr. William J. Johnson, representing the School Board, summoned the graduating class to the platform to receive their class pins. The graduates included Peter Davidson, Thomas Coleman, Winn Oughtred, Kenneth Scott, Kenneth Power, Sheila Allan, Joan McFadden, Susan Hodge, James Brink, Daryl Wright, Andrea Michaud, David Whitham, Donald Kelso, George Flesch, Ann Cruickshank, Joan Dinning, Charles Jirada, Carole Stokoe, Charlotte Coleman and Ivan Litouski.

Valuedictorian was Andree Michaud, who, on behalf of her classmates said: "In a few weeks we will be on our own... all of a sudden, life looms ahead — a difficult problem, whose solutions are varied and complicated. We wish to achieve a goal... and a few years from now, perhaps we shall have done so... and then we will look back on our high school days in Thetford High and silently thank all of those who have played such an important part in our individual successes, and who will then be proud of our accomplishments." Miss Michaud was presented with a bouquet of flowers.

The graduation exercises closed with Miss Andree Lavigne of Grade X reading the class prophecies.

Prior to the dance, a dinner was held in the Faisan Bleu for the graduation class, at which the Home and School Association were hosts. Guests included the parents, teachers and Mr. L. Beattie, representing the School Board.

Aerial Photography Can Be Fun Even For The Amateur Hobbyist

Lately, we have heard a lot of talk about aerial photography, the U-2 and espionage, and I thought we might talk about the kind of equipment used and show you a sample of work done in this specialized field.

Many years of research have gone into aerial photography, which is a science in itself. With new techniques of developing aerial film and the use of fantastic lenses of super resolving power amazing shots can be obtained, as in the sample above. If you could see the actual print and had a magnifying glass, details such as cars and roof tops could be seen clearly. This photograph was taken at 17,000 ft. with an aerial survey camera using a Zeiss Ikon wide angle F.5.6 lens, 152 mm.

(6in) and B filter on Super XX film, 1/200 sec.

This camera has tremendous value to our country as it tells accurately how much land we actually have. The approximate cost is $17,000, not exactly a hobbyist's proposition. Topographical maps are made from these photographs.

The aerial camera which takes 400 foot rolls of non-perforating film gives negatives of 7" x 7" or 9" x 9", depending on film size. The film is held perfectly flat by means of a vacuum suction and the shutter is electrically driven and based on the principle of continuously rotating blades. As a result, the speed of these shutters are considerably increased; as much as 1/1,000 sec. Focal plane shutters are of no value, as they give distortion due to the forward movement of the plane.

How do you take good shots from aircraft? Shoot as fast as possible with the type of film used in the neighborhood of 1/300 to 1/500 second. Less can be used, but the hazards of moving would slightly soften the sharpness of your picture. Set your focus at infinity, as you will be at least 1000 ft. up, hold the camera as close to the window as possible without touching it, as this would cause vibrations. If you are in a chartered plane, the pilot, possibly could co-operate by banking the plane at your direction and in this way, you can keep the camera at right angles to the window, thus minimizing distortion by reflection in the glass. Use a G filter or K2. This will help give contrast, as there is plenty of blue haze, killing the contrast. If you are using color film, put on a sky filter. Use the highest shutter speed possible. The time for these photos is not at high noon, as the shadows are too short in summer for good third dimensional effects.

Auctioned Chain Saw Stolen One

A 49-year-old Melbourne farmer was acquitted of charges of stealing and having in his possession a chain saw valued at $275 when he appeared before Judge Joseph Marier in Court of Sessions yesterday.

Alfred Hardy produced receipts which showed that he had purchased the saw at an auction sale in Danville more than six months after it had been reported stolen by Raymond Blais, 66, of St. Felix.

Gerard Lafrance, 50, licensed auctioneer of Danville testified as to how he had come into possession of the chain saw which he sold to Mr. Hardy at public auction. He said that a man identifying himself as "Mr. Lacourse" came to him and asked him to sell the saw.

Mr. Lafrance explained that this was not an unusual happening and that he had done so, deducted his ten per cent commission from the sale price, and paid the rest to "Mr. Lacourse" whom he never saw again.

Retarded Children's Home Knits Afghan For Elderly Lady Living In Hong-Kong

MRS. WU LIN SHIN CHING of Rennie's Mill, Hong Kong, smiles her delight with the afghan which was knit and sent to her by the children living at the Alderbrook Home and School for retarded children in Knowlton, Quebec.

By MALCOLM DAIGNEAULT

KNOWLTON (Special) — A small amount of donated wool, some spare time spent in knitting and an old lady receives a deeply-appreciated gift.

The gift — a wool afghan. The donor — Alderbrook Home and School for retarded children in Knowlton, Quebec. The recipient — Mrs. Wu Lin Shin Ching, an elderly resident of Rennie's Mill, Hong Kong. The idea originated when Mrs. Agnes Duncan and her daughter, Mrs. Rose MacLean, who operate the home here with Mrs. M. W. Miller as classroom teacher and Miss Shirley Woodard as housekeeper, were looking for activities for the children during cold or rainy weather.

14 CHILDREN

There are usually about fourteen children living in this residence which is not labelled as an institution in any way but is a comfortable, neat, well-kept home.

One of the inside projects is the teaching of knitting—so last winter the children decided to make an afghan from small amounts of wool donated by friends. When it was completed, it was sent to Miss Isabelle Miller, R.N., daughter of Mrs. M. W. Miller, for use in her work as medical missionary at Rennie's Mill, Hong Kong.

Miss Miller gave the afghan to Mrs. Ching, who has no relatives and lives alone in a tiny, shabby room. In a letter to the children, Miss Miller described Mrs. Ching as a neat cheerful person who deeply appreciated the gift.

The children were shown the letter and accompanying picture and fully realized the happiness brought to them by giving to someone who is needy and whom they do not even know, according to Mrs. Duncan.

Danville Man Arrested For Tearing Posters

A Danville man was arrested yesterday afternoon as he was in the process of tearing down election posters near that town.

Leonard St. Amant was brought to Provincial Police headquarters in Sherbrooke and later taken to city jail. A companion, whose name St. Amant did not reveal, managed to escape arrest.

The two men destroyed posters valued at approximately $30 and St. Amant will appear in court this morning.

"Another climax during the reunion was the opportunity of meeting and speaking to Mrs. A. K. Richardson, national president of I.O.D.E. at that time," Mr. Walger said.

One thousand I.O.D.E. delegates were meeting in Toronto for a six-day conference running concurrently to the veteran reunion.

Stay In School

Now that the end of the school year is at hand, many students will be contemplating leaving their studies for good and taking up permanent employment. This does not only apply to graduates, but also to a great number who have passed the compulsory school age limit.

There will be various reasons why these youngsters leave school before finishing properly.

One is the lure of a regular salary and independence. Another, in many cases, will be parental advice about earning one's own way.

Both reasons are, in the long run, very poor ones. The bald fact of modern living is that education is a necessity, not a luxury.

A letter on this subject from Labor Minister Starr, currently being sent to newspapers across the country, states the case eloquently and succinctly.

"About 70 per cent of the pupils enrolled in Grade Two in our schools," the Labor Minister writes, "will leave the school system before receiving their junior matriculation, or its equivalent, in many cases ill-equipped to compete for anything but unskilled and semi-skilled types of employment — without the necessary flexibility to meet the problems workers are bound to face in the rapidly changing occupational categories resulting from the application of more and more advanced technology."

"The magnitude of the problem is brought into sharp focus by a recent study carried out by the Department of Labor on figures produced by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Of the 396,000 youngsters who enrolled in Grade Two in 1957-58, 131,000 will leave school before reaching high school, some with a Grade Eight education, some with less.

"Between first year high school and junior matriculation, 139,000 more will drop out, and 95,000 additional students will leave between matriculation and first year university. Only 31,000, less than 10 per cent will go on to university."

"What awaits the person who drops out of school without enough education to guarantee his or her future in a highly industrialized country? An examination of occupations in Canada provides a pretty clear indication. About 70 per cent of the jobs available in this country today are of a professional, semi-professional technical or skilled nature, and only 30 per cent of employment consists of semi-skilled or unskilled occupations. It is in this last category of employment that most of those with less than a junior matriculation will find themselves competing, and if the present trend continues, the problems will become worse as the proportion of unskilled and semi-skilled jobs in the economy decreases in the future."

Labor Minister Starr points out that what is required is a basic change in the thinking and social attitudes of parents. The trend, he says, shows that adults are not yet convinced of the desirability or necessity of advanced education.

They, not the students, are the ones who are behind the times. But it is their children who will suffer.

Inefficient Service

If you go home after work feeling like upbraiding everyone around you — don't.

Your state of mind may well have been by inefficient service in some store downtown.

That's the opinion of Viscountess Lewisham, a self-appointed fighter against rude sales personnel in England.

She claims that when a customer runs into this problem — and who doesn't especially on this side of the ocean — the customer often goes home and takes out his feelings of frustration on husband, wife or children.

The redoubtable Viscountess had quite a bit to say on this subject while speaking at the 100th anniversary of a big London department store.

"The customer of today," she railed, "has to fight against a constant barrier of boredom, hostility and downright incompetence to buy what he or she wants."

While there is pardonable exaggeration in what the Viscountess says, we all know what she is referring to. It happens in every town, and in more than a few stores.

Alert store managers and owners wage a constant battle against it. Those who do not, or are unsuccessful know the situation spells failure at the cash register.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

HAND SEPARATES MEN FROM BOYS

Just look at the North and South hands and see how you would play at six clubs.

The nine of diamonds is opened and it looks like a short suit lead. You won't in your hand and lead the ace of trumps. You would have liked to try the trump finesse, but you can't afford to use up one of the entries to dummy right away.

East shows out and things look bad indeed. West is sitting in back of you with two potential trump tricks and you will have to work out a right smart end play if you are to make your contract.

Jorge Cardenas of New York, who was declarer, did manage that end play. He risked going down several tricks, but what are a few tricks or so when you are trying for a vulnerable slam.

Jorge decided first of all that West was really short in diamonds, but that he could not make the hand if West held no more diamonds. Hence he decided to play him for one more.

Then if West held three spades to the queen and three hearts to Jorge could handle his case. So Jorge cashed the aces of hearts and spades; led a spade toward dummy and finessed the jack; discarded his low heart on the king of spades; trumped a heart; got back to dummy with the king of diamonds; trumped the third heart and when West had to follow everything was "hunky dory."

He simply led out the jack of clubs and let West suffer.

Adventures With God

Miracle Seed For The Major

By JANE SCOTT

Nineteen years ago The Major was snapping orders to his subordinates. He was a striking figure in his immaculate uniform, handsome of face and erect of carriage. Father of two small children and husband of a charming wife; he had a comfortable income, was satisfied with his lot and more than satisfied with himself. He was in command of the troops and (he thought) of his own destiny. He was "enduring hardness as a good soldier," so he reasoned, and he was sure he could take any adversity standing up. But he had not reckoned with the adversity that men and women have to endure lying down. When acute multiple sclerosis hit him, The Major collapsed both physically and morally.

The Major who was ready to face hell and torture on any battlefield, became an embittered, complaining, hopeless, self-pitying patient who fought everything but the ravages of disease. For several years he was completely immobile. He had to be fed and turned and comforted by his faithful, patient wife, and attendants. All that medical science could do was being done for him, but the embittered Major continued to major in self-pity and deteriorate physically.

SEED OF A MIRACLE SOWN
Then one day, about 14 years ago, the late Dr. Albert Cliffe came to town, and at the request of The Major, the preacher visited him and convinced him of his spiritual needs. That day the seed of a miracle was sown.

The Major was on my list for a visit. He had read my writings and his wife had heard me speak. I promised to call. Knowing that I could not cover all the shut-ins on Sunday, I started with a visit to The Major at home and went on to the Queen Elizabeth Hospital Friday evening. And what an adventure it has been!

I telephoned to say that I would be there, and when I arrived a few minutes later the Major, in his wheelchair and his patient wife at his side, greeted me at the door of their lovely apartment. For an hour I listened to The Major's story.

BEGAN TO SEE THE LIGHT
"I thought I was a pretty good guy," he said. "I thought my kids everything they wanted and I was decent with my wife and a good fellow with friends. I could not understand why I should be singled out for this kind of treatment by a God who is supposed to be loving. I sought healing for my body by contacting Dr. Cliffe and Oral Roberts. They told me that any healing would begin with right relationship to Jesus Christ, who alone could change my attitudes and MUST change them before I could be healed. Finally, I began to see the light and read the New Testament. Slowly, the process of recovery began."

The Major demonstrated how he could raise himself with his hands, to swing from a bar. The upper parts of his body are almost normal, but the process of healing began, he relates, "when I stopped looking for physical recovery and accepted the forgiveness of God and then accepted whatever He sent as chastening rather than judgment upon me."

"Now," he went on earnestly, "I wouldn't have missed this physical affliction for the spiritual benefits that have accrued through it."

Looking fondly at his wife, The Major remarked:

"I have so many things to be thankful for. My wife has been so devoted and patient and strong through the years. I don't think that if the circumstances had been reversed I would have stood up to the strain as well."

This column is a salute to the men and women who respect and honor their marriage vows to "love and cherish in sickness and in health."

Have Canada's First Crop Insurance

Manitoba Farmers Feel Secure

By STAN McCABE

Canadian Press Staff Writer
WINNIPEG (CP) — More than 2,500 Manitoba farmers know that this year they could have a total crop loss and still have money coming. The reason: Canada's first government crop insurance plan.

A. P. Dueck, who farms 1,070 acres in the Sanford area southwest of Winnipeg, says: "It's good security. I feel kind of safe."

He planted 370 acres of wheat and insured it all under the plan that went into effect May 1. If he had wished, he could also have insured oats, barley and flax.

For premiums of 83 cents an acre, or a total of about $307, Mr. Dueck is certain he will receive $11.85 an acre or a total of $4,384 if his crop is wiped out by hail, drought, flood, excessive rainfall, frost, wind, rust, disease or pests.

He signed for crop insurance with little persuasion from one of the salesmen the Manitoba government crop insurance agency put in the field.

The only form of crop insurance he had before was under the federal government's Prairie Farm Assistance Act (PFAA). Although he has paid towards PFAA throughout his life, he has never collected. He said simply: "I don't like it."

With a choice between the two, he dropped PFAA coverage automatically when he signed for insurance coverage.

To pay for PFAA, a levy of one per cent is deducted from the amount a farmer receives for grain sold through normal channels. If benefits are greater than the amount collected, the difference comes from the federal treasury. Maximum payment is $4 an acre where the yield is under three bushels an acre.

LIMIT 200 ACRES
The payment is $3 an acre if the yield is three to five bushels and $2 if the yield is four to eight bushels. Payment is made on half a farmer's cultivated acreage up to a maximum of 200 acres.

Average yield of wheat in a township or block of sections is the basis on which payments are made. If smaller areas are affected by a crop failure no payments are made.

Manitoba farmers have complained that they have subsidized PFAA in Saskatchewan and Alberta because this is the only province which has paid in more than what it has received in benefits.

Manitoba crop insurance legislation is complementary to a federal law setting out conditions under which the federal government will help pay for the cost of the plan. If these conditions are met, federal money will cover 50 per cent of administration costs and 20 per cent of premiums.

35-YEAR AVERAGE
Federal crop insurance legislation also provides that the amount of insurance on any crop in any area shall not exceed 60 per cent of the long-term average yield of the crops in the area. In Manitoba the average is for a 35-year period.

The new Manitoba plan set up four test areas in the province. At least 25 per cent of the farmers in a test area had to buy insurance to make the area a reality. Because of low sales in some parts of the original areas, their boundaries were changed and the over-all size of the total test area reduced to meet the 25-per-cent requirement.

However, the original areas or parts of them still are the basis for the Manitoba test. The areas are in the northwest around Dauphin, in the southwest corner of the province, in the south-central area south of Portage la Prairie and in the western section of the Red River Valley south of Winnipeg.

The Manitoba government appointed a board of directors and Dr. L. B. Kristjanson, former extension economist of the provincial agriculture department, was named managing director.

SELLING JOB
With public meetings and advertising in weekly newspapers paving the way, he sent out 50 salesmen—some farmers, some already selling other types of insurance.

"Farmers have been under PFAA for 20 years and it's going to take education to get the protection angle across," he said.

"Some farmers signed immediately. Some took several trips. It has to be sold, there's no question about it, like any other insurance."

About 2,500 farmers will be covered this year for a total of about 250,000 acres of wheat and about 100,000 acres of oats, barley and flax combined. The total potential liability is $4,250,000.

COVERAGE VARIES
The amount a farmer receives depends on his location. Coverage ranges from $10.50 an acre to $15.15 an acre.

If he had an average wheat crop, a farmer in an area with $10.50 coverage would expect to get about $15 at today's wheat prices from selling the grain normally. If he was in an area where the insurance return would be $15.15 an acre, he would expect to receive about $22 by selling the grain.

Of the four test areas, coverage is extended on nine bushels in the Southwest, 10 bushels in West Red River, 11 bushels in South Central and 13 bushels in the Northwest.

The average cost to the farmer is 6.4 per cent of coverage. The rate varies from township to township. There are 14 townships involved altogether. On 338,000 acres farmers paid a total of $261,000, working out to an average of 77.5 cents an acre.

ELDERLY WAITERS
(Kitchener-Waterloo Record)
Men who never do things in a rush live the longest, says a doctor. There must be a lot of elderly waiters.

matter of FACT

The next time someone tells you he is double-jointed you can laugh up your sleeve. No one is actually double-jointed—not even the circus contortionist. People who appear to be double-jointed are that way because the ligaments which fasten their bones together are looser than average, either naturally or through practice.

SCOUTING AND CUBBING

COOKSHIRE — Scoutmaster John Gill and Assistant Scoutmaster E. Waldron accompanied twelve of their scouts over to the Sherbrooke "Y" for the purpose of receiving swimming instruction. During their visit four of the boys passed their Proficiency Badge and six of them their swimming badge.

Scoutmaster Gill also took his troop to the Bury Armory where he demonstrated to them the proper handling of a gun. Judging from some target practice which the boys had, Scoutmaster Gill feels there has been great improvement in this connection with his troop as compared to a year ago.

Cubmaster of the Cookshire Cub Pack reports on a recent hike he and his Assistants planned for their Pack. The boys were driven part way, then had a walk of approximately one and one half miles to their destination, which was the hunting camp of their Scouters. The boys carried their lunch with them, preparing hot dogs and making hot chocolate when they arrived at the camp. A very enjoyable time was had by all. This Pack have also had several Ball Games recently which have proved to be very successful for all concerned.

Travel Talk At June Meeting Of Fordyce W. I.

FORDYCE — Mrs. William Jones, Mrs. Eric Jones and Mrs. W. Bromby entertained the Fordyce W.I. June meeting at the home of Mrs. Eric Jones. There was a good attendance of members and several guests.

Conveners' reports were interesting. Mrs. J. Syberg, who had attended the Short Course at Macdonald College, reported an interesting course. She gave short excerpts from the course on nutrition, good grooming and showed samples of work done with Lino tiles.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Katherine Winsor was introduced by Mrs. J. C. Longeway and she gave a vivid and interesting travel talk on her trip to the Scandinavian countries. Mrs. E. Dryden thanked her.

Mrs. Cedric Douglass was appointed to attend convention with Mrs. E. Dryden.

Notice of the historical picnic on June 18 was given.

Abbotsford W.I. members are to be invited as guests for the August meeting. Twenty dollars was voted for the Hobby Show. The monthly drawing was won by Mrs. E. Dryden.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Spotlight On Business

By JOHN PICTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

New York stock brokers sit in their counting-houses, counting out their money . . .

West German and Japanese finance houses never had it so good . . .

And London, with its internationally strong currency and a booming economy, is playing a profitable game . . .

But the Toronto stock market continues to trip the light fantastic in the opposite direction—down, down, down with daily volume just making the 1,500,000 mark.

The reasons?
Brokers say: Tight money; despite government denials; low prices on the metal market; the premium on the Canadian dollar; and the withdrawal of American investors who are finding quicker rewards on Wall Street.

TEMPORARILY SUNK
Briefly, Toronto—essentially a mining market—temporarily is sunk.

And industrials, too, are having their problems. Although Canadian business activity is being maintained at high levels, generally, there is little or no evidence of any substantial upward movement in the economy.

On index, industrials were ahead 1.19 at 500.25 over the week compared to a 28-point gain on Wall Street or with base metals up .73 at 156.65 and western oils up .27 at 86.11. Golds were off .56 at 78.33.

Banks saw the best gains among industrials, where buying has been on a most selective basis, with imperial showing the way on the basis of an increase in its quarterly dividend.

International Paper carried the torch among less favorable paper issues with a seven-point gain, keeping pace with Wall Street buying. And Dominion Stores gained three points on the strength of its annual report.

Both the mines and western oil sections were sluggish. Index changes at Montreal: Banks up .95 at 55.10; utilities down .3 at 140.6; industrials up .5 at 285.6; combined up .1 at 237.2; papers down .9 at 451.8, and golds down 1.61 at 70.45.

Magog Red Cross To Hold Clinic
MAGOG — The Blood Donor Clinic of the Canadian Red Cross will be held here, June 14 and 15.

The Red Cross financial campaign objective of $2,500 in this district was over-subscribed this year, it was reported in the annual meeting.

Philias St. Jean was elected president of the Magog branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society for the coming year.

Other officers elected are as follows: vice-president, Mrs. Henri Lefebvre and Irene Fortier; treasurer, Richard Roux and secretary, Miss Claire Carrier.

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

These are mostly in the rural areas.

POLITICAL CONVERSIONS—The long-distance argument now underway between the Union Nationale and Liberal leaders over the alleged attempt to bribe a prominent Liberal worker for $3,800 in money fits in with the propaganda campaigns emanating from both party headquarters.

In an effort to convince the electorate of the manner in which their particular cause is snowballing through the province, the publicists for the two major parties almost daily issue statements from some erstwhile supporter of the opponents' camp who has suddenly seen the light and who in the future pledges himself to support the candidate of the party releasing the statement.

The reasons given for these conversions vary widely, but for the most part they charge that undemocratic methods were used at the nominating conventions for the selection of candidates. Very often the signer of the declaration was a candidate at the convention when he was "robbed" of the choice.

All converts, of course, deny that the prospect of present or future favors had anything to do with the change of heart.

have the Liberal leader arrested.

A brief respite, however, came at midweek when both leaders signed a Sacred Heart League manifest calling for Christian ethics in the campaign.

The Social Democratic (CCF) leader Michel Chartrand, announced Wednesday that his party will not contest the election. Lack of funds was the reason he gave.

With the socialists out of the running and the Communist party contesting only two constituencies, nominations closed June 8 with 269 candidates to contest 95 ridings.

Canadian Guards To Troop Colors

OTTAWA — Canadian Guardsmen will participate in the trooping of the color ceremonies by the British Army of the Rhine in its June 11 official celebration of the Queen's birthday at Dusseldorf, Germany army headquarters said Thursday night.

More than 70 members of the 1st Battalion, Canadian Guards will join members of the 2nd Battalion, British Grenadiers and the 1st Battalion, Scots Guards in the colorful ceremonial parade.

Other Canadian troops will include the 1st Battalion, Canadian Guards Corps of Drums under Drum Major T. E. Robson of Kentville, N. S.

EVACUATE GRANBY

With notification of the explosion early Thursday morning the column, camping at Farnham as part of summer exercises, moved directly south towards Bedford to avoid excessive radiation.

From Bedford the Group moved east to Stanbridge East and Dunham, Northeast towards Cowansville and then further north and west to Adamsville, just outside the "danger" area, for the jumping-off point.

At Adamsville, decontamination areas were set up for radioactive rescue and reconnaissance teams returning, headquarters for the column, a point for a petrol supply and vehicle repairs, vehicle storage, rest area, and a civilian refugee area near the railway station for emergency evacuation.

Early yesterday, teams moved into Granby, following carefully posted decontamination lines, used as danger signs for the radioactive sections of the city.

Rescue teams entered buildings and removed some 40 simulated casualties by stretcher, ladder and vehicle. Each "victim" in this case represented some 10 seriously injured persons in case of a real attack. Each walking "wounded" represented 100 similar victims.

"In case of real nuclear attack" said General Rockingham in a post-operation briefing, "it is imperative that all people in the area be notified by press, radio or television of the disaster and the impending danger of radioactive fallout."

"The importance of such an exercise cannot be overestimated. It is only by such exercises in National Survival that the militia can fulfill its functions, whether in time of flood, earthquake, or nuclear attack."

OBITUARY

LESLIE O. HAMPTON, OF TORONTO, (Formerly of Richmond) RICHMOND — The many friends of Leslie "Sonny" Hampton, of Don Mills, Toronto, Ont., a former resident of Richmond, learned with deep regret of his accidental death in Toronto, on May 8, 1960.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hampton, of Richmond, the deceased was born here on Oct. 27, 1927. He was educated at St. Francis High School and left after completing his studies for Ontario, where he took employment with an uncle, J. Parker, then joined the Canadian Pacific Railways in Toronto for the next 10 years. Until his death, he was employed by Molson's Breweries in Toronto. He was well-liked by his many friends and will be missed greatly.

On June 16, 1948, he was united in marriage with Joyce Haney, of Toronto, by Rev. C. A. Gowans at College St. United Church in Toronto. Of this union, two children were born, Lois, 5, and Larry, 8.

The remains rested at the Gissen and Mack Chapel. Service was conducted by Rev. Gowans. Two favorite hymns were sung, Rock of Ages and Abide With Me. Interment took place in Resthaven Memorial Gardens.

Bearers were Winston, Elmer, Gordon and Reginald Haney and Ken Major, brothers and brother-in-law of the wife of the deceased.

Mr. Hampton leaves his widow, two children, his parents and a sister, Pauline, Mrs. Arthur Baglione, of Seven Islands.

Those from a distance attending the funeral were from Richmond, Melbourne and Seven Islands, Que., and London, Hornby, Oakville, Clarkson and Streetsville, Ont.

Card of Thanks

EVANS — We would like to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all those who were so kind to our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. William Evans, before and at the time of her death. Special thanks to the Sisters and assistants at the St. Vincent's Hospital, who were so attentive to her. Dr. Brodeur, Rev. R. Jervis Read, the organist and choir members of St. Peter's Church, the bearers, all those who furnished cars, sent flowers, cards of sympathy, to the ones who called at the funeral home and those kind neighbours who sent in such welcome cooking, especially the wonderful people on Alto Street. Such kindness can never be forgotten.

SONS AND DAUGHTERS-IN-LAW, DAUGHTERS AND SONS-IN-LAW, AND GRANDCHILDREN.

GRUBER — I wish to extend my sincere thanks to my relatives and friends for the many gifts, flowers and cards I received while a patient in Montreal General Hospital. Your kindness will always be remembered. FLORENCE GRUBER.

HARRISON — We wish to thank all our friends and neighbours for the generous help given to us when our house was struck by lightning on May 29th at Bury, Que. Our thanks to the Bury Fire Department for their prompt and valuable assistance. Your kindness and help will always be remembered. ROY and BEATRICE HARRISON, ROBERT HARRISON.

MCCUTCHEON — I wish to thank all those who sent flowers, cards, letters, and visited me while a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital. Your kindness was appreciated. MRS. ROBERT W. MCCUTCHEON, Lennoxville.

In Memoriam

CARTWRIGHT — In memory of Mabel Cartwright who left us June 12, 1949.

We cannot call the old days back. Her hands we cannot touch, But treasure happy memories Of the wife and mother we loved so much.

HARRY CARTWRIGHT, AND FAMILY.

CROOK, Muriel — In loving memory of a dear wife, mother and grandmother who passed away four years ago today.

"Memories in our hearts today, Mean more than words can ever say."

Ever remembered by: EVELYN and HAROLD, DALE and PAT.

WHITEHOUSE — In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Edwin G. Whitehouse, who passed away one year ago today, June 11th, 1959. I miss you more than anyone knows. As each day passes the emptiness grows.

The tears in my eyes will wipe away, But the ache in my heart will always stay. Remembered by: HIS WIFE, MAGGIE, SONS, LESTER and EARL.

DANVILLE —

Miss Grace Hall, of Montreal, was a weekend guest of the Misses Gwen and Elsie Elliott. Other guests at the same home included the Misses Effie and Doris Jack and Miss Mary Lindsay, of Quebec, Mrs. J. E. Jackson, of Montreal, and Mrs. Gordon Peabody, of Sherbrooke.

Miss D. Harper Gives Lecture At Rock Island

ROCK ISLAND — Miss Dorothy Harper, scientist from Cornwall, Ont., was at Sunnyside School on June 4 and gave a lecture to a large number of Sunnyside students and teachers and town residents.

A. Karr, Grade XI teacher introduced the speaker, telling of the responsible position held by Miss Harper in Britain during the war and of the scientific secret work she had contributed during those years. Miss Harper is now with the Howard Smith Paper Company, department of research, in Cornwall.

Miss Harper lectured on and demonstrated solar light, heat, chemical, electrical and nuclear energies. Each subject was most interesting, and the speaker was assisted in the demonstrations by Jamie Edgar and John Griffith, students of Grades XI and X. In one demonstration of a reflector drawing heat from the sun, Miss Harper was assisted by Peter Channell and Terry Probyn, who cooked hot dogs.

Miss Dorothy Harper was an overnight guest of her sister, Miss Kathleen Harper, principal of Sunnyside.

Also creating interest was a display of the manual training class of Sunnyside, which included many fine articles made by the boys under the teachings of Douglas Cass.

L'ville Wing Plans Garden Tea

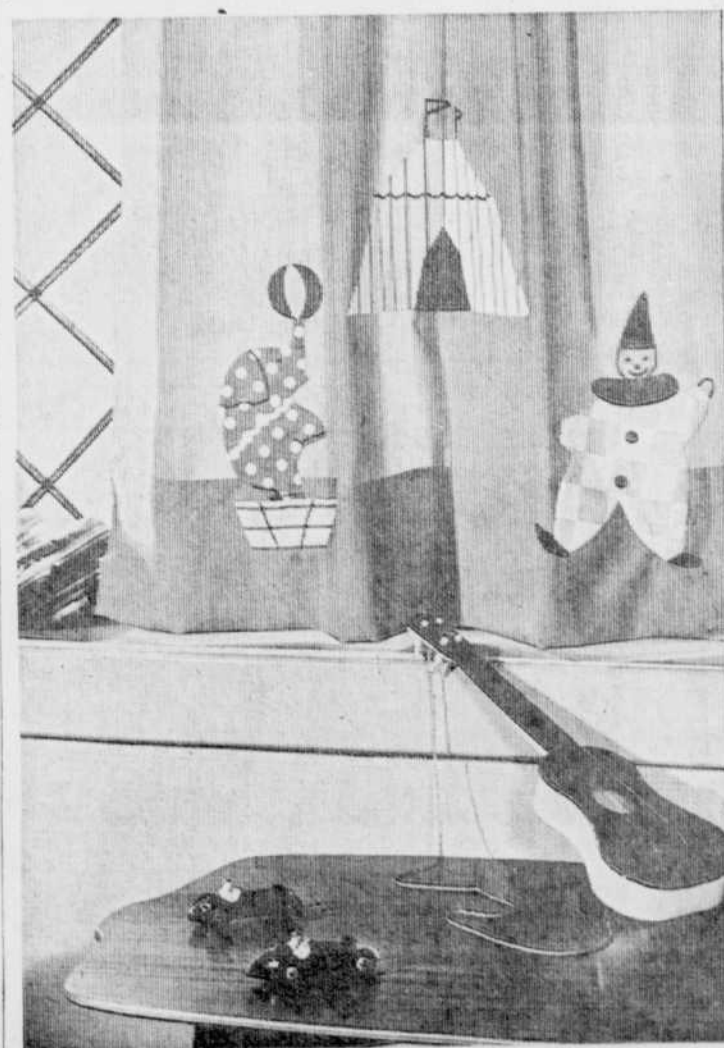

To aid in their fund raising to purchase supplies for the Sherbrooke Hospital, the Lennoxville Wing of the Ladies' Auxiliary are giving much energy and thought in the preparation of their annual Garden Tea to be held on Thursday, June 16.

Though, as the name implies, the tea would be held on the lawn, the ladies are taking no chance with the antics of the weatherman, and will hold the tea in the Scott Hall of the United Church.

The tea will be convened by Mrs. G. H. Moffat with Mrs. C. E. Parkins, co-convenor, and the guests will be received by Mrs. N. S. Aird, Mrs. Douglas Ross and Mrs. E. W. Gilbey.

Pourers will be Mrs. Austin Scott, Mrs. W. J. Klinek, Mrs. Jan Pick and Miss Clara Aitkenhead.

Needle Novelties

NURSERY CURTAINS

Children will be delighted to have this circus decor for their bedroom. Big tent, trained elephant and clown will accompany them in dreamland at night. Easily and quickly done, the appliques are fabricated with scraps of printed cotton. If you would like to receive the sewing instructions, simply send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlecraft Department of this paper, requesting NURSERY CURTAIN, Leaflet No. S-6231.

Social and Personal

Mrs. C. F. Simms will convene the tea being held on Tuesday afternoon at the Sherbrooke Country Club by the Ladies' Branch.

Hostesses will be Mrs. George Logie, Mrs. Donald MacLennan, Mrs. Walter Muter, Jr., Mrs. Izzie Echenberg, Mrs. Russell Marois, Mrs. Armand Leduc, Miss Edith Bonneau and Miss Eileen Cillis.

Pourers will be Mrs. Thomas Fox and Mrs. A. L. Gagnon.

Mrs. Fred Phillips, of Sussex, N.B., and Mrs. June McCarty, of Halifax, N.S., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cohen, Dominion St., while here to attend the funeral of their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Oscar Viotti.

Mrs. John Knutson and Rev. F. Knutson attended the graduation exercises of Mr. Norman Knutson, who received his M.A. degree at Western University, London, Ont.

Mrs. Ernest Picken, Queen St., Lennoxville, spent a few days with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fleck at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fleck, Kinnear's Mills. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Cutler and children, Bryan and Wendy Lou, of Mimico, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maybury and four children, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cole, of Granby.

Master Dale Peter Faith has arrived from Largo, Fla., to spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Faith, Rioux St., before accompanying them on a trip to Calgary, Edmonton and Banff.

Relatives from out of town who were here to attend the funeral of Mrs. Williams Evans which took place on Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Evans and children, George and Thelma, Dundas, Ont., Mrs. Oliver Mappin, Delhi, Ont., Miss Joan Mappin, Ottawa, Ont., Miss Gwen Evans, St. Johns, Que., Miss Sylvia Evans, Ste Agathe des Monts, Mr. and Mrs. A. St. Anthony's Society Names New Slate

At Saint Anthony's Ladies' Society final meeting of the season held at the home of the president, Mrs. Edward McKercher, Maple Ave., Lennoxville, the following slate of officers was presented: President, Mrs. M. D. Castonguay; vice-president, Mrs. A. J. Marier; secretary, Miss A. Mooney; treasurer, Mrs. S. H. Parker; publicity, Miss R. Corbett. They will take office when meetings are resumed in September.

Following the business session, books were donated to the graduating class at Mont Notre Dame and the Lennoxville convent.

The meeting adjourned with prayers for world peace and refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. E. McKercher, assisted by Mrs. M. D. Castonguay.

Beauty Tips

If you want to give your neck the illusion of length, wear your hair piled high on your head. And don't nullify the effect by wearing a necklace. The minute you encircle your neck, you shorten it.

Freckles need not necessarily be covered completely. Instead, camouflage them with a veil of make-up, and accentuate eye and lip make-up to detract from the freckles.

Story of a little-known sailor

TOBIAS FURNEAUX, Circumnavigator by Rupert Furneaux — 180 pages — British Book Service — $7.00 — There must be many readers who have, at one time or another speculated on the identity and character of the man who took over the ship of the dead explorer Magellan and brought it safely home, the first to circle the then largely unknown world.

Curiosity over such matters as the manner of life of the ordinary seaman in the days of the great explorers and the way in which the dread scurvy was finally overcome, has surely pricked many a mind.

This book is for all such readers and any others who have rebelled against everyday life by sailing mentally to visit strange peoples in far off lands.

Rupert Furneaux discovered that the younger brother of his great-great-grandfather had, as a British naval officer, become the first man to sail around the world twice, once in each direction. From ships' logs, officers' journals and other sources, the author pieced together an account that shows his ancestor to have been a competent, courageous man, as humane and decent as the hard, rough conditions of ship-board life would allow, but lacking the spark which set apart his leader, James Cook as one of history's great explorers.

Tobias Furneaux began his naval career early, probably before his fourteenth year and worked up to the Second Lieutenantancy of the Frigate "Dolphin" in which Captain Wallis set out in 1766 under Admiralty orders for a search in the Southern hemisphere for islands and continents still believed to be undiscovered. Wallis sailed from East to West and discovered among others, the island paradise of Tahiti.

In 1772, James Cook was sent out with two ships, both tiny and horribly crowded by modern standards. Cook commanded the "Resolution" and Furneaux, newly promoted, had the "Adventure". Cook decided to sail in a West to East direction and carried out the most thorough exploration to date in the South Seas, including a visit to Tahiti, which had already become a much desired port of call. The two ships later became separated in a storm and Furneaux arrived home first, thus accidentally attaining his principal claim to fame, as Circumnavigator.

Tobias Furneaux Circumnavigator

According to the author, Tobias Furneaux never learned to spell, but extracts from his quaintly worded journal and those of some of his contemporaries, give a fascinating picture of life aboard ship, the customs and morals of the natives on the islands visited, and the gradual elimination of scurvy by the use of such things as sauerkraut, "rob" of oranges and lemons and infusions of spruce boughs. Tobias gradually comes through as a quiet man one would like to have known.

DREW GIBB

A prophet in politics

A PROPHET IN POLITICS by Kenneth McNaught — 339 pages — UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO PRESS — $5.95.

A PROPHET IN POLITICS, though I read it religiously, (not even skipping one of its many footnotes) did not, I regret to say leave me with a sufficiently clear picture of either James Shaver Woodsworth or the C.C.F. party to write an adequate review.

The reason that it left me with such a blurred picture is twofold, I believe. First Professor McNaught has tried to incorporate far too many facts and figures into the book and second he has completely forgotten the pictorial value of an anecdote.

Perhaps because in the earlier stages of his life Woodsworth was more concerned with ideas than agendas and so forth, I found this part of the book easier to read than subsequent passages although even here I felt the author indulged in too many tortuous meanderings of thought and emotion before he got to Woodsworth's final decision to leave the Methodist ministry.

I had the feeling at this crucial point in Woodsworth's life and again when he made his final stand to maintain his "integrity" at the outbreak of the war in 1939, that the biographer himself was not entirely sure that Woodsworth had made the right decisions and therefore felt the need to go to extra lengths to justify them.

Despite my criticism however, I would not give the impression that this book is not worth reading. On the contrary, despite the many points of difference I had with the author — particularly in his cavalier treatment of the Western farmer and his effect on the C.C.F. party — I still found much in A PROPHET IN POLITICS to admire. For one thing it recalls all the events of domestic history through which most of us have lived but from a different angle than that from which many of us saw it when we lived it. In this respect alone it serves a valuable purpose in that it adds a third dimension to our political picture.

But most of all this book appealed to me in its portrait of a man who refused to conform. In an age when pressures to conform bear upon us from all sides, Woodsworth was strong enough to stand alone — and people respected him for it. Every person who has ever dreamed a dream should read this book — preferably before his dream has been "conformed" out of him. But even if the pressures have proved too much for him, he can still read A PROPHET IN POLITICS and exult that it wasn't for Woodsworth.

Recommended — to the reader interested in the third dimension of politics or in the cult of non-conformity.

Gladys Taylor.

MOSCOW (Reuters) — A Soviet film producer Friday showed reporters a previously unknown movie shot of Adolf Hitler with a bullet wound in his forehead. Producer Lev Danilov said the 30-second shot was taken by a Soviet army cameraman during the battle for the Reichstag in Berlin 15 years ago and remained undiscovered in Soviet archives since then.

An interest in clothes

HOW YOU LOOK AND DRESS by Rachel Carson MCGRAW-HILL COMPANY — $5.50 The basic purpose HOW YOU LOOK AND DRESS is to meet the needs, interests and problems of the girl taking an interest in clothes for the first time.

Each section of the book has points of interest which can help in buying clothing and matching the colours. There are helpful tips on which type and colours suit your weight, height and complexion.

If you are worried about which hair-style you should wear there is a part in which the shape of the face and skin considered to show the style for each face.

Not only is there advice on how to buy clothing but also how to make dresses, skirts and blouses. Patterns are given and how to use a sewing machine which is not only helpful to the teenage girl but mother too.

For each chapter examples are given by illustrations either coloured or black and white.

This is a book which every girl should have to keep her prim and well dressed. MARGARITE HADDOW, Grade VIII.

Playwright is a waiter part time

LONDON (CP) — A prize-winning playwright works as a waiter to eke out his earnings in the theatre.

Thomas Muschamp, born in Winnipeg 42 years ago, would rather write plays than anything else but he finds you have to strike it really rich to make both ends meet.

So this versatile, travelled man who has worked as disc jockey in Timmins, Ont., and as department store clerk in Toronto, pounds a typewriter by day and collects tips by night waiting on table in a Kensington bistro.

If there is any surplus from the two salaries, he plunks it into a small property he owns in Brighton. Mostly through his own efforts, he has rewired the house, put in new plumbing and decorations and even done some brick-laying.

He says he finds physical labor refreshing. While toiling, he often gets inspiration for new plays or for resolving difficult situations in a story he doesn't find satisfactory.

"Writing plays for a living isn't very lucrative unless you hit the jackpot," says Muschamp, a slim, boyish-looking writer. His Bridge of Sighs, a satirical comedy, won the Charles Henry Foyle Award for the best new play of 1959. This was presented at the Tower Theatre in London and won good reviews when shown on British television.

CANADIAN BACKGROUND His latest play, One Man's Meat, now is being presented by the Birmingham Repertory Company. His wife, Margaret Lang, is the leading lady.

Muschamp's father, originally an actor who also worked as a street-car conductor in Toronto when times were tough, ran a film projection unit in Canada. His grandmother, once wardrobe mistress of the old Gaiety Theatre in London, lived to the age of 104.

Children's films Need not be dull

WINNIPEG (CP) — Children's films need not be dull or burdened with an overly obvious message, says one of the leading authorities on the subject.

Miss Mary Field, chairman of the International Centre of Films for Children in Britain, was interviewed in Winnipeg, which she visited so "my brains can be picked" by persons interested in movies for youngsters.

To determine what children enjoy, Miss Field and a team photographed youngsters watching selected films.

From this they learned that children are bored with adult conversations, even in westerns; that they enjoy seeing other children; and that it is possible to put over a moral without seeming to be obvious.

How can children be shown that power corrupts and that absolute power corrupts absolutely?

Simple, says Miss Field.

You make a movie about a magic stone which, when rubbed, grants the wish of the first person making one. But the stone brings only unhappiness, and this point is not lost on children. A 14-year-old boy showed the advantages of film appreciation courses, she said.

The boy made a private project of timing Western movies so he could prove to his friends that they were produced according to a timetable with a certain number of minutes between fights.

The result was that all the students stopped watching run-of-the-mill westerns.

Miss Field's tour across Canada is sponsored by the CBC, Canadian Film Institute, National Film Board and the United Kingdom Information Service.

One of the most engaging personalities we've met on our safaris to New York is a gentleman named Martin Caidin, who is considered one of the most highly competent military science, aviation and astronautics writers in America today.

Young Mr. Caidin has flown his own plane many thousands of miles around the United States and visited dozens of military installations to research his books which are currently being used as textbook material throughout the country.

He has also been a former consultant to the Commander of the Air Force Test Missile Centre and flown every aircraft from a transport to a TF-102A supersonic fighter.

How did we meet him? Well, kids, we were both interviewed on the same New York radio show and we discovered that he had the greatest collection of Outer Space stories this side of Mars. Naturally we asked for one for the column and here it is, proving that truth is stranger than science fiction.

General Electric, according to Caidin, has developed a new space satellite, which will cost 84 million dollars. The satellite itself costs one million dollars, and the other 83 million dollars is for the extension cord.

Here's a good way drive a rock and roll singer crazy... glue the teeth on his comb together.

One the more expensive restaurants in New York advertises an eight-course dinner for only a dollar and a half. It turns out to be a piece of seven-layer cake and a cup of coffee.

Socrates Schwartz, the thinking man's philosopher, says... "You learn more as you get older but by then it's not important."

Here's the first Shaggy Mule story we've ever come across. It may be the last. Two donkeys were walking by a zoo when they spotted a zebra.

"Man," said the first donkey to his pal, "dig that ivy league jackass!"

RUSSIAN WEATHER REPORT — Sunny tomorrow — and that's an order!

We understand there's a new dance craze sweeping Paris called the Khrushchev Cha-Cha. It's very simple. All you do is get to the middle of the floor and then you walk out on your partner.

Professor Waynegartner, the first man into space, (he was hit by a woman driver) has come up with another first. He crossed an octopus with a bale of hay and got a broom with eight handles.

We understand that the Toronto traffic department is so impressed with the point system of demerits for drivers that they're going to try it out on pedestrians.

If you have four tickets for jaywalking, the police take away your shoes.

'Notorious' Oscar Wilde shows up in two movies

By TOM A. CULLEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

LONDON — (NEA) — British bulldogs were once trained to growl when Oscar Wilde's name was mentioned.

Music hall comedians joked about the long-haired playwright, aped his mincing ways, flaunted the green carnations he wore in his buttonhole.

And only a few years ago, when a plaque was unveiled at Wilde's house in London, staunch opposition labeled him "notorious."

But today, 60 years after Wilde's death, two film versions of his life play to packed audiences in London. They will soon appear in the U.S.

And the only controversy that has resulted from their showing is a dispute between the two producing companies, one British, the other American.

The American version stars Robert Morley who bears a striking physical resemblance to Wilde. The British did not try for any physical similarity, casting Peter Finch as the playwright on trial for gross indecency. Finch is much younger than Wilde was at the time of the trial and lacks his mannerisms.

The British company, claiming copyright infringement, has tried to prevent the showing of the American version.

Some credit the Wolfenden report on vice relaxing film censorship taboos. Others say the rash of Tennessee Williams' plays and films here prepared the way for these film biographies.

But whatever the cause, Britain is no longer the "bull-dog nation" of Oscar Wilde's day. Strip-tease clubs flourish in Soho, "Lolita" is published, and no one is picketing the films about the playwright.

Both productions present him in a sympathetic light without trying to gloss over his immorality. They intimate that he was a more-or-less innocent bystander caught between his friend, Lord Alfred Douglas, and Douglas' father, the eighth Marquis of Queensberry, who laid down the rules that govern amateur boxing.

It was the Douglas-Wilde friendship that brought the writer into the prisoner dock at Old Bailey only a short time after he was hailed as the author of "The Importance of Being Earnest" in 1895. Wilde was married and the father of two sons at the time.

His name dragged through the mud, Wilde spent two years in prison. He fled to Paris afterward where he lived his remaining days drinking absinthe at sidewalk cafes.

But it is not for this life that he is remembered but for his witty writings and sayings, including: "I put my genius into my life, my talent into my plays."

It's been rumoured that some people hold one of two theories about writers. Either that they are all quite eccentric—even verging on the crackpot in their ideas—or else that they are all "old women continually spouting bad poetry."

To prove that authors are comparatively normal, I thought you might be interested in some of the things planned for the Canadian Authors Convention in Victoria this year. By the way if these plans sound attractive to any writer or would-be-writer, who is planning a trip to the Coast in July—why not get in touch with Mrs. Queena Lett, 2170 Evergreen Place, Victoria, B.C.—or myself—for further details about it.

This is what Mrs. Lett says about the convention:

"Distinguished speakers from across the nation, tea with Lieutenant Governor, Mr. Frank Ross and his gracious Chateau, Awards Dinner at the renowned Empress Hotel as guests of the Provincial Government of B.C., a picnic luncheon in the world famous Butchart's Gardens... all this and more awaits delegates, and those interested in writing, to the Canadian Authors Convention to be held in Victoria, July 5th-8th."

"Business sessions in picturesque Crystal Gardens will enable delegates—should discussion become too heated—to cool off in the soothing waters of the Garden Pool. Panels, addresses and Buzz Sessions will cover all classes of writing, poetry, juvenile writing, fiction and non-fiction, T.V. and radio. Among the speakers will be Bruce Hutchison, Dr. Douglas Leechman, John Webster Grant, editor, RYERSON PRESS, Dr. Brock Chisholm, H. Gordon Green, Catherine Anthony Clarke, Edith Creighton, Gladys Taylor and other noteworthy speakers."

All that is what Mrs. Lett says about the convention. It sounds quite normal — and even a little inviting—wouldn't you say?

Edgar Andrew Collard in his ALL OUR YESTERDAYS series for THE GAZETTE had a wonderful article in last Saturday's edition about the poet-art relationship between Dr. William Drummond and Frederick Simpson Coburn. It really should be read along with the HABITANT POEMS review, elsewhere on this page, to get the best picture of these two men whose successes were surely nurtured in the Eastern Townships.

Ever write a play? HALLMARK HALL OF FAME TV SERIES is certainly trying to make it worth your while. They are offering $10,000 in 1960 (three prizes beginning at $5,000) for the best original TV dramas entered. To make it especially attractive to Canadian writers an additional $500, Merit Award is being offered to the writer of the Canadian manuscript judged best even though this best might not be sufficiently good to win one of the top three prizes. For further information write to HALLMARK HALL OF FAME, Box 2805, Grand Central Station, N.Y. Closing deadline is Sept. 1st, 1960.

Mazo de la Roche, we are glad to learn, is slightly improved in health though the holiday she had planned in Sicily this spring had to be cancelled. It is perhaps superfluous to mention that Mazo de la Roche is the author of the Jaina books, the 16th of which is scheduled for publication this fall.

'Pathfinder of a new land of song'

"Habitant Poems" by William Henry Drummond, McClelland and Stewart, 110 pages, $1.00.

"But little Bateese! please don't forget

Leetle Bateese!"

Irish-born William Henry Drummond in the words of Dr. Louis Frechette was indeed "a pathfinder of a new land of song." Although the national vogue for Drummond has faded, his influence and fame persist. By its new paperback collection of "Habitant Poems", some 22 poems in all, McClelland and Stewart, the Toronto publishers, may succeed not only in making a happy acknowledgment of the Drummond achievement but in reviving his former wide popularity.

Four years of medical practice in the Eastern Townships at Stornoway and Knowlton gave Dr. Drummond a special insight into the French-Canadian character. He interpreted to the world what he had come to admire and love and did so in a distinctive verse-form and language. By the use of patois and in flowing rhythms born

Beulah Evening Association Meets At Ayer's Cliff

AYER'S CLIFF—Beulah Evening Association held its regular meeting in the Church Hall with a good attendance. The co-president, Mrs. R. G. McHarg, presided and opened the meeting with Scripture and read an article from an English magazine. Discussion arose regarding the washing of walls and ceiling in the Church Hall and repair work on the parsonage floors. It was agreed to have the walls in the hall done at present, also the floor at the parsonage and to purchase a new runner for the hall there.

The rummage sale was put over to June 18.

Final plans were made for catering for a wedding reception and arrangements completed for the C.G.I.T. mother and daughter banquet. Committees were named to assist the board of stewards at the Fish and Game Club banquet on June 14.

Mrs. F. Brooks agreed to give flowers for the church for the month of June and Mrs. McHarg for the month of July, thus assisting the flower committee.

A basket lunch was served at the conclusion of the meeting and a pleasant social hour spent.

GENERAL NOTES.

Mrs. J. E. Lavers has been spending ten days in Sherbrooke with her daughter, Mrs. W. Orr, and Mr. Orr. Mrs. Lavers is not in the best of health and Mrs. Orr returned home with her mother to spend the summer months here caring for her.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Alexander of Bourlameau, have been spending a few days with the latter's sister, Mrs. H. N. Pierce, and Mr. Pierce while here to attend the graduation of their daughter, Nancy, who has been attending Sunnyside School, Stanstead.

Mrs. R. S. Hamilton, of Burlington, Vt., spent a week with her father, Dr. C. L. Brown, who celebrated his 89th birthday. All joined in sending congratulations to this family doctor who has for so long been rendering service in this community.

BEDFORD—Miss Nettie Lovering has returned from Stanstead, where she visited her sister, Mrs. A. Ketchum.

Mr. Peter Whitcomb, of Lachine, was with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Whitcomb, over the weekend.

Mrs. Howard Buzbee, with her children, John, Sandra and David, have returned to Springfield, Mass., after several weeks' visit with Mr. Buzbee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Reed. They were joined for the weekend by Mr. Buzbee. On Sunday their infant son was christened at St. James Church, receiving the names David Scott, the rector, the Rev. W. J. White officiating.

Mrs. Eric Hibbard, of Lachute, also Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hibbard and son, of Montreal, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hannibal Sheltus at Dutchman Farm.

The Missisquoi County Agricultural Fair will be held on the local fair grounds on August 12-14.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Boomhower, with their son and daughter, were guests of Mr. Boomhower's mother. On their return to their home in Whitesville, N.H., they were accompanied by Mrs. Brown.

Miss Marilyn Brownriggs, of Montreal, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brownriggs.

EAST DUNHAM—Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Sherrer and two children, of Glen Sutton, were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. George Dymond and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCollough and daughter, Magdalene, were in Dunham to attend the Plant—Paradise wedding.

Trinity W.A., Cookshire, Holds Final Meeting

COOKSHIRE—Mrs. F. Tredinnick entertained the final meeting of the season for the W.A. of Trinity United Church at her home. Mrs. E. Parker was in the chair and Mrs. Breen and Mrs. N. McLeod were in charge of the devotional period.

The treasurer, Mrs. Tredinnick, reported very satisfactory returns from the recent hot turkey dinner served to the Compton County Teachers Association. The hot water gas heater installed in the Church Hall is proving most efficient.

The treasurer was authorized to pay all bills which might be incurred from now until meeting reconvenes in September.

Arrangements were made to put flowers in the church for the Sunday services during the summer months.

The ladies were reminded to save clothing for a missionary in the North-West Territories, which will be sent in the autumn.

A number of articles were on display and some sold. A social hour followed and the hostess served refreshments.

LIGHTNING SETS FIRE TO HOME AT HARDWOOD FLAT

HARDWOOD FLAT—During a severe electric storm, Roy Harrison's farm house was struck by lightning Sunday afternoon, May 28.

Due to the prompt action of the neighbours and Bury fire department, the house was not completely destroyed, but the upper floor was a total loss. The furniture downstairs was saved.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison have been living in Melbourne, where he is employed and have often spent weekends and holidays in their old home. Their son Robert was remodeling the house, intending to live in it and commute to his work in Sherbrooke.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison and Robert Harrison were in Melbourne at the time of the fire, and came as soon as word of the blaze reached them.

GENERAL NOTES

Mrs. Grady Bennett and her daughter, Mrs. Robert Ladd, Lennoxville, were hostesses at a kitchen shower in honor of Miss Faith Olson, a June bride-to-be.

Mrs. V. Montgomery, Sawyerville, is spending a couple of weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Garth Harrison.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Harrison were guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Beyle Webster, in Lennoxville during the week. Weekend guests at Harrisonholm Farm, with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. Garth Harrison were: Mrs. Beyle Webster, Harrison and Christina Webster, Lennoxville, and Mr. Don Harrison, Granby. Other visitors were Mr. V. Montgomery, Mr. Dalton Montgomery and Mrs. Phillips, Sawyerville.

World Refugee Work Topic At Cookshire W.I.

COOKSHIRE—The special feature of the June W.I. meeting, held at the home of Mrs. J. W. French, was an address given by the Rev. Canon W. C. Dunn, who spoke on World Refugee Work.

The Canon maintained that there is a great need for thought and support of refugees, millions of whom, through no fault of theirs, have no home they can call their own, due to results of war, political or economical conflicts.

Although the task of helping is a big problem, nevertheless, it is not altogether hopeless, and can be partly solved by repatriation, immigration and integration. This challenge to help should appeal to the hearts and consciences of everyone, so that each will feel his personal responsibility.

Mrs. Darker introduced Canon Dunn and he was thanked by Mrs. J. W. French.

Mrs. Farnsworth read the minutes and Mrs. Cassidy gave the treasurer's report, which showed the general and the School Fair funds to be in fair condition.

Several thank you notes were read, and the ladies were reminded to send in articles of their hobbies or of their recent leather course to the annual convention at Macdonald College not later than June 16.

One minute of silence was observed in memory of the late Mrs. H. S. Osgood, who had been a devoted and helpful member of the society.

QUEBEC'S NEW LOOK

THE MONTREAL DAILY STAR in a special 112-page supplement has taken a long, hard look at the position of the province of Quebec at this juncture in history... and the consensus is that Quebec is prosperous and progressive... to a degree that would have been unbelievable even a quarter of a century ago.

In a word-picture of modern Quebec staff members of the Star and other writers have spelled out the progress story to indicate the size of the heritage and the promise it holds.

Truly the growth of Quebec, in every way, is remarkable — and just as certainly the confidence afforded by the National Union government of Quebec has provided an important phase of the financial climate so essential to the investment that has opened the way to the present-day progress and prosperity, of which every citizen of this great province is so much a part.

"QUEBEC has come a long way — and is now in a better position than ever to make a valuable contribution to the Canadian economy as well as the advancement of North American civilization."
— Hon. Antonio Barrette, Premier of Quebec.

(Montreal Star, May 28, 1960)

THE PROGRESS STORY...

(a few quotations from the pages of THE STAR'S searching review of the amazing development of Quebec as milestone 1960 is passed)

- "Today Quebec accounts for over 30% of the value of Manufactured goods in all Canada" — H. W. Joly, Chairman of the Quebec Division of the Canadian Manufacturers Ass'n.
- "The inhabitants of Quebec are the richest people in the world, rich in the most precious commodity of this modern age — electricity" — Ian McNaughton, technical coordinator of the Canadian Electrical Ass'n.
- "Quebecers buy a higher proportion of premium gasoline than motorists in other provinces" — James Stewart, Star staff member and former oil industry writer.
- "Daily, Quebec mills produce some 14,000 tons of pulp and paper, enough to fill a 500-car freight train" — Michael Sinclair, career writer on pulp and paper.
- "In 1945 Quebec boasted 65 motor vehicles per 1,000 population, today this figure has trebled to 195" — J. W. McGiffin, vice-president, Kingsway Transports.
- "Quebec has the greatest percentage of paved roads in Canada — 24%, as against a figure of 19% for Ontario" — Charles Lazarus, Star staff member and roads specialist.
- "Quebec's new premier has something the National Union has lacked for many years; a solid appeal to the labor vote" — John Maffre, associate editor of The Star.
- "Today more than one-third of the aggregate revenues of all institutions (of learning) in the province are derived from government grants" Dr. F. Cyril James, principal and vice-chancellor of McGill University.
- "The real explosion in hospital construction all over the province has taken place since the last war. This expansion represents nearly $200,000,000 in provincial grants alone." Fred Poland, Star medical writer.
- "The Province of Quebec has been making very striking progress in economic development in recent years, particularly since the end of the Second World War" — J. H. Goldsmith, Star financial editor.
- "Shortly before prorogation of the last session of the provincial legislature, Premier Barrette's government introduced legislation authorizing Quebec's universities to transfer the $25,000,000 held in trust for them by the Canadian Universities Conference" — Fernand Renault, head of the Star's Quebec City bureau and chief correspondent in the Legislature.

BURKE EMERY SCORES ANOTHER VICTORY

Promoter Warren "Pee Wee" Berwick presented his second boxing card of the current season Thursday evening at the Sherbrooke Arena and we wouldn't be the least surprised if it is the last to be held here. A crowd of only 600 was on hand to see two Canadian champions in action.

We know that four KO's were registered in the fight but that is something that must be expected. While they lasted they packed plenty of action and we are sure that the fans were on the edge of their seats several times as the boys slugged it out.

A lot of people went home claiming it was too short and that some of the unfortunate fighters were faking. Well from where we sat, near the ring, all we can say is that we wouldn't want to be on the receiving end of the blows which put Hank Mercer, Claude Lortie and Gerry Raymond away. You could hear them land with a thump.

Now some of the fans can say that is hard to understand. It took quite awhile to revive them with smelling salts and ice packs and if that is what you call a set-up then we don't know very much about the sport. Let me tell you that they were really out cold and there was no monkey business about it.

The fights were good and it just was a case of landing at the right time. Even Emery had some trouble with Mercer but the champ came through with the big ones to win his fight. It was a hard-hitting affair and some real blows were landed by both boys.

Our reason for saying that it might be the last fight to be held here is simple. In the first place two Canadian champions were on the card with one a local boy and only a meager crowd of 600 came out to see the bout is really something.

If Sherbrooke is to have boxing cards then they must be supported. Al Bachman tells us that he turned down a good offer to fight in the Maritimes in order that Burke Emery could fight in his home town but after all he must get the support if he is to stay here.

It looks as though the promise made by Bachman regarding the title defence would be held in Sherbrooke is gone and we don't blame him very much. We think that it will be held at Sydney, N.S., where they really jam the Arena to see their home talent in action. It is a shame but what can you expect.

Anyway we are sure that no matter where it is held that the real boxing fans wish Burke Emery the best in his defense match and may be continue to floor them in succession. It was a pleasure to be associated with Al Bachman and speaking for the few local boxing fans we wish to thank you for the pleasant and interesting evenings spent watching the boxers in action. Good luck.

The Yamaska Conservation Association is holding their last meeting till the fall on Wednesday evening at Knowlton. It is going to be a little different from the others with a demonstration of fly casting. This will take place at 7.15 at the pier end of Benoit's Boat Livery.

Mac Morrison of St. Lambert, an expert fly fisherman, and Tom Smith, vice-president of the club, who is adept with a fly rod will be doing the tossing. The indoor part of the meeting will commence at 8.00 at the Lakeview House so members don't forget to be on hand and get a few pointers on how it is done. As an added attraction there will be seven door prizes.

Congratulations are in order for Gary Quinn who was voted Sherbrooke High School's student possessing the finest qualities of "Sportsmanship." He will receive the Reg Newton Memorial Trophy which is quite an honor.

This award is not presented for the most popular or the best player but to the individual who by his conduct exemplifies the finest qualities of sportsmanship in football and another major sport at the school. Gary was voted the trophy by his fellow students which speaks very well for him. Nice going Gary.

Coach Del Baker of the Boston Red Sox stated he wanted it known that he was only a fill-in for Manager Billy Jurges, who was ordered to take a complete rest by the club doctors. He wants no part of managing and is content as a coach. Doctors claim Jurges is under a terrific strain and who wouldn't be the way the club is going. Interesting to see what will happen in the near future. Maybe he is on his way out despite all the talking by owner Tom Yawkey.

The Orleans Country Club is staging a Spring Ramble tomorrow at tricky 18-hole layout across the line. This should be quite an affair and we are sure that the prizes will be terrific. So golfers drop down and enjoy a game over a tricky but interesting course.

See where the City has been painting the streets once again. We wonder why they waste time doing this as nobody seems to pay any attention to them. We saw an individual driving over the double-line, which is supposed to be a grievous offence, but he got away with it right before an officer, who was busy writing out an over-parking ticket. We wonder which is the worst, over-parking or speeding around cars and over the double-line?

As for the poor pedestrians it seems to be "open season" on them. You have to be a good broken-field runner if you wish to cross the streets. Some drivers figure they own the City because they are in a car and everybody should get out of their way. In fact some don't even stop when the policeman puts up his white-gloved hand.

If you think I am talking through my hat drop down to Wellington Street on a Friday evening and see what I mean. They say King and Portland are worse, if that can be. We know that policemen can't be all over the City but we think that some of our drivers should use more caution especially when women and youngsters try to cross the street.

Twenty Races On Weekend Cards At Local Track

Several New Horses Making Debut; Sunday's Program Moved To Evening At 8.00; Seven Starters In Big Class

A total of twenty races are listed for the weekend at the Sherbrooke Race Track. This evening four doubles and two single dashes are on the agenda with the same tomorrow night. Post Time for both nights is 8.00.

For the first time in the history of the local track elimination races were held this week in an effort to weed-out the slow horses and bad actors. They raced against time and several failed to make the grade. This will give Jean Beauchemin, racing secretary, more stable space for new entries.

On Sunday evening seven starters will clash in a single dash, a "C" Trot and Pace, which should be a real battle. Boum Boum Bumpas and Hickory Orphan, who divided the honors Wednesday evening in the main class, will meet again.

Mervin Hal, Brown Flash H. B. A. Majesty, Rip Elkington and U.N.O. complete the class which should be a good race. On Wednesday the winners were clocked in 2.10 2/5 and 4/5 and tomorrow's event should be another fast race.

In tonight's main class, a "C" Trot and Pace, another field of seven will face the starter. Jerry Tally, driven by M. Masse, will be making his first appearance at the local oval along with Bozo Elkington and Linda B. Hall. This should be a well balanced event and is divided.

Several new horses will be making their debut in Sherbrooke and the railbirds should have plenty of picking to do before coming up with a winner.

The Sunday program has been moved to the evening and at the same time the executive announced that in the future all cards will be presented the same evening they are booked. In other words rain or shine the races will be staged according to schedule.

LITTLE LEAGUE LOOP

—By TED ANDERSON—

Saturday's official opening went off with a bang and the idea of two Minor Loops sharing the opening seemed to work out fairly well. In addition great weather helped to make a success of the proceedings.

White Sox are off with a bang again this season and who is going to stop them? They have a great working team and the players are up for every game. Red Sox are beginning to go and if we know Coach Al Stewart will have his boys chasing the White Sox before long. Senators is the disappointing team so far. Bruce Smith has a good bunch of boys and once he gets them to combine to gether more they should begin to make their presence felt.

The other teams are following their usual pattern and will be doing their utmost to finish up among the top four.

Noticed at last Thursday's game was the improvement in the Tigers' play. Here is a team that Manager R. Bacon took, as you may say, right off the sandlots. Some of his boys probably two of them played ball before but the remainder were throwing a ball around on one of the city lots when Manager Bacon approached them. They neither owned a ball nor a glove yet he took these boys and the Lions Club, which is sponsoring the team, had to outfit the youngsters with gloves as well as uniforms, this is certainly Little League stuff and something we should be proud of and not criticize.

In our opinion Manager Bacon, who knew nothing of Little League rules, took upon himself this job of blending a group of boys into a team and he should, in all ways, be assisted by coaches who have been in the league for the past two or three seasons.

The word "protest" has come up early in the season. As we all know Little League frowns on this way of winning a game. We do hope the executive who is confronted with this situation will give the matter their every consideration and think also of how difficult it is to get personnel to look after players.

Service Clubs, who are the sponsors of teams in the league, must know that games are played on almost every night yet the number of members who attend these games could be counted on one hand. Why this lack of interest gentlemen? Your club's generosity is our means of survival yet it would be nice to see some of you at our games. Some members of the Little League executive could also pay attention to the above.

Had a note from Roger McKergow of the Les Hopperton Memorial Little League of Waterloo. Roger is players' agent for the league this season. Details of the executive and team players will be given in Monday's issue of the Sherbrooke Daily Record.

Beebe Little League is getting underway shortly. This is a new league this season and we do wish them all kinds of luck.

The three stars for the past week in the Sher-Lenn Little League are Germain Gravel, White Sox, Jacques Pelletier, White Sox, and Tim Dwane, Red Sox.

Little Leaguers are asked to watch next Tuesday's T.V. show on Channel 5. — "How big is a Giant?" The show starts at 8.30.

Billy Jurges Is Fired By Boston

BOSTON (AP) — Billy Jurges was fired Friday as manager of Boston Red Sox.

The Red Sox made the announcement only minutes before Friday night's Boston - Chicago game.

Jurges was given a leave of absence as the Red Sox manager only two days ago. At that time, the Red Sox said he was ordered to take a rest by doctors.

Jurges, now at his home in Arlington, Va., was reported under severe strain due to the slump that had sent his Red Sox to the bottom of the American League.

Veteran coach Del Baker was named then as interim manager. The Red Sox announcement Friday night said Baker will continue in that capacity.

No mention was made of a permanent successor to Jurges. Jurges, a one-time National League great at shortstop, took over the Red Sox field generalship from Mike Higgins in mid-season last year.

He took a last place team and brought them to a fifth place finish.

REMEMBER WHEN . . .

Paul Berlenbach scored a decisive 15-round victory over W.L. (Young) Stribling to retain his world light-heavyweight championship at New York 34 years ago tonight, before a crowd of 55,000. But Berlenbach lost the title a month later to Jack Delaney. Stribling was killed in a motorcycle accident seven years later, in 1933.

Indians Visit Kist At Local Park While Brompton Royals Travel To Coaticook In Junior League Sunday

Action resumes tomorrow night in the Sherbrooke Junior Baseball League with two games on tap. Indians go against Kist at the Municipal Stadium while Bromptonville takes on the Canadians in Coaticook. Both fixtures are slated to start at 7.30.

The Indian-Kist encounter should prove the most interesting as both these squads are flying high at present. The Indians recently ran rampage over Fuller by a score of 13-1 while Kist posted a 6-1 victory over Brompton Thursday.

Both the Indians and Kist are tough teams with almost equal strength in every department. Kist features a snappy infield while the Indians depend on their pitching and hitting, two divisions which are among the best in the circuit.

Brompton is batting zero as far as wins go and they haven't pulled off a victory in three starts.

The Canadians, on the other hand, have won one and lost one, their win being chalked up against the Royals.

Coaticook have a fairly strong club this year and retain many of their older and more experienced players. Brompton has formed its squad mainly with boys from Bromptonville but have taken on several competitors from the old Windsor Cardinal team.

Tomorrow's lineup thus puts together four good steady clubs with the result being some thrilling action ball-wise. Any spectators that wish to attend these games are more than welcome as their presence acts as an indication to the popularity of the league. So, anyone that is interested in seeing a good ball game and wants to help local sports, come out and witness a tilt in the Junior League.

Mays Smashes Three-Run Homer As Giants Blank Milwaukee 5-0, Reds Edge Dodgers 4-3, Chicago Cubs Win

Willie's wheelin' again, Sad Sam's still a stopper and the San Francisco Giants have breezed back within one game of the National League lead.

Which Willie? There's just one. Name's Mays, and he belted loose from a slump with two singles and a three-run homer Friday night as the Giants whittled Milwaukee 5-0 behind a five-hit pitching job by Sam Jones.

That halved Pittsburgh's lead after the Pirates had lost 9-6 at St. Louis.

Cincinnati managed just three hits, but one was Dutch Dotterer's grand-slam home run, giving the Reds a 4-3 victory at Los Angeles. The Chicago Cubs defeated Philadelphia 6-1.

Mays was 4-for-19 before getting a hit in his last at-bat as the Giants suffered their third defeat in four games Thursday. Now he's 4-for-4, walking in his last trip Friday night after tagging loser Warren Spahn (43) for his three hits. Mays scored twice and stole two bases.

Mays got the Giants started with a single in the fourth, coming around on singles by Orlando Cepeda and Willie McCovey. Then he walloped a 410-foot homer, his eighth, in the fifth inning after Ed Bressoud's two-out bunt single and a walk.

Jones (8-4), the Giants' only winner in the past five games, now is 7-0 at home in Candlestick Park. The big right-hander walked four, but struck out eight, bearing down when the going got tough to save his third shutout. Milwaukee has been blanked twice, both times by the Giants.

The Braves didn't get a hit until Ed Mathews doubled with one out in the fourth. Jones then fanned Hank Aaron and Wes Covington. Three times Milwaukee had two men on—in the fifth, when Sad Sam struck out Billy Bruton in the sixth, when Frank Torre lined back to Jones, and in the ninth, when Sam struck out Johnny Logan, then got pinch-hitter Del Crandall on a pop up.

Cardinal right-hander Larry Jackson (8-5) won his seventh in a row, but needed relief help after giving up home runs by Don Hoak and Smokey Burgess in the fifth and sixth innings. The Cards beat ex-mate Harvey Haddix (3-3) with a five-run fifth, scoring them all with two out. Ken Boyer hit his 15th home run, tying Ernie Banks of the Cubs for the NL lead.

Dotterer's slam came in the second inning off Sandy Koufax (1-8)—who struck out the side in the first inning, then walked the bases loaded in the second.

Bob Purkey (5-2) was the winner, blanking the Dodgers on four hits until Norm Sherry, who drove in all three runs with two homers, socked his fourth of the year in the seventh inning. Jim Brosnan saved it after Sherry's two-run shot off Bill Henry in the ninth.

Mark Freeman, a Yankee cast-off, won his first in the majors with a four-hitter for the Cubs. Jim Owens (3-6) was the loser. He gave up Banks' 15th homer in the third inning—a two-run clincher.

Victoria Park Rated Favorite In 101st Running Of Queen's Plate Today, Crowd Of 25,000 Expected

TORONTO (CP)—A crowd of about 25,000 is expected to pay up to $10 a ticket today for the privilege of watching Victoria Park gallop 1 1/4 miles. They could have seen him for nothing any day this week if they cared to hustle out to suburban New Woodbine track with the sun.

But today is something special. It marks the 101st running of the Queen's Plate, a $50,000-a-added stakes event open only to Canadian-bred three-year-olds and traditionally the most colorful race in the country. Post time is 5:49 p.m. EDT. It will be televised nationally.

Seven other entries, including the filly Balmuir, will start with Victoria Park. The only thing they're likely to see is the great colt's tail swishing in the breeze as he heads home for the $43,425 first-place payoff.

That's the way the bettors have figured it since May 31 when Toronto industrialist-sportsman E. P. Taylor decided to pass up today's $100,000 Belmont Stakes in New York and give Canadian fans a chance to observe his horse in the flesh. Besides, Victoria Park has a personal score to settle.

Balmuir, owned by Frank Sherman, Hamilton steel company executive, and Hidden Treasure, from the Bill Beasley stable of Toronto, beat him in a race at New Woodbine in 1959. It was Victoria Park's only loss on a Canadian track.

Since then, the son of Chop Chop out of Victoriana has gone on to heights unequalled by any Canadian-bred horse. In 17 starts he has earned $174,882 and a Plate victory would make him the first Canadian-bred horse to earn more than $200,000.

He campaigned in the United States this year, finished second in the $100,000 Flamingo Stakes, third in the Kentucky Derby and second in the $150,000 Preakness Stakes. And just to show he belonged up there, he beat Bally Ache, rated as the best three-year-old in North America, in a
