

KENSINGTON'S PASSENGERS LANDED SAFELY IN QUEBEC

From the Steamer Gaspesien After a Stormy Run from Matane to This Port—They Were All in Good Health.

THE ROUVILLE YET TO BE HEARD FROM

There was considerable satisfaction expressed in town yesterday morning when the news was circulated that the steamer Gaspesien, with nearly 500 passengers from the stranded steamer Kensington, had reached the Quarantine Station at Grosse Ile, and that she would arrive in port at noon. At the hour named the staunch coasting steamer rounded the point at Indian Cove. As the vessel approached the Breakwater it could be seen that her decks were crowded with humanity. At precisely 12.30 the Gaspesien was safely moored, and her living freight began to disembark. Although the shipwrecked people must have had considerable inconvenience from the crowded state of the Gaspesien, their landing resembled that of a joyous picnic party more than people who had passed forty-eight hours tossing about on boisterous seas. They all appeared in the best of spirits, and laughed and joked over their experience.

On the dock to meet the passengers were Mr. G. B. Ramsay, of the Dominion Line, and some of his assistants, Messrs. T. P. and James Ross, J. Lawlor and Wolfe. Immediately on landing the passengers were taken to the Immigration Building, where Mr. Ramsey ordered a hot dinner to be prepared for them. The women and children were first inspected by the medical officers so as to permit them to go to dinner with the least possible delay. As the whole of the people could not be accommodated in the dining-room at the same time they were divided into three parties, the youngest men taking their places last.

PASSENGERS INTERVIEWED.
While a portion of the passengers were at dinner a Chronicle representative interviewed a number of those awaiting their turn. One of them, a Mr. LeBlond, an ex-military man, who served in the Imperial army as a sergeant-major, said the Kensington left Liverpool on the afternoon of Thursday, 1st instant. Moderate weather was experienced until Wednesday, 7th instant, when a terrible storm was encountered. The ship had to run for a considerable time before it, and on that day she only gained something over 200 miles. After the storm subsided the weather was fine until the steamer was coming up the Gulf of St. Lawrence when fog and snow set in, clearing slightly at intervals. On Saturday night the weather was very thick, with snow. This state of affairs continued throughout the night, and snow was falling fast at 8.30 o'clock on Sunday morning, when the steamer ran ashore. She did not strike violently, but rather with a grating sound. There was no confusion or panic of any kind. In fact many of the passengers who were at breakfast did not know of the accident until some time afterwards. About 10 a.m. the steamer Gaspesien hove in sight, and came alongside the Kensington. Captain Morle, of the latter vessel, requested Captain Bouchard, of the Gaspesien, to take off the Kensington's steerage passengers, which Capt. Bouchard readily agreed to. At 11.30 a.m. dinner was served on board the Kensington to the steerage passengers, and when the meal was concluded all those in the steerage, except two families (numbering twelve), embarked at 12.30 p.m. The greater part of Sunday night the weather was moderate, but coming on morning the wind increased rapidly, accompanied by blinding snow. By eight o'clock Monday morning it was impossible to see any distance and the Gaspesien came to anchor under the lee of an island. She remained there until five o'clock this (Tuesday) morning, when she got under way and proceeded for Quebec. When the Gaspesien left the Kensington it was expected that she would reach Quebec in about twenty hours, and provisions were only supplied for that length of time. They therefore ran out, and from Monday afternoon the male passengers had only potatoes, which were taken from the cargo of the Gaspesien, to eat. There was some flour, but it was made into pancakes and given to the women and children. Some eight stewards were sent up from the Kensington to attend to the passengers on the Gaspesien, and these with the captain, officers and crew of the latter did everything in their power to make the shipwrecked people as comfortable as possible. Passengers one and all speak in the highest terms of Capt. Bouchard, his officers and crew.

All baggage belonging to passengers was left on board the Kensington, but the ship's clerk was sent up on the Gaspesien to get a list of it and the night boiling them for the men. On Tuesday morning the only bag of flour remaining was made into pancakes, with butter and eggs for the women and children. After all no one on board could have suffered much from hunger.

The Gaspesien had some forty passengers on board when she reached the Kensington. His cabin passengers generously gave up their berths for the use of the women and children from the stranded ship. Passengers who were obliged to sleep on the floor or tables did not suffer from cold, as all the rooms were heated by steam. Take all things into consideration the passengers did not suffer much hardships.

The only cabin passengers brought up on the Gaspesien was Adjutant Finchen, of the Salvation Army, who was in charge of a party of 230 women and children, families of settlers who previously arrived in Canada. Including the 458 passengers from the Kensington, the Gaspesien had on board 600 people.

THE KENSINGTON.
The latest despatch received from Matane yesterday was as follows:—"Kensington heading n.e. Steam still up. No sign of other steamer or craft. Heavy n.e. gale, with snow. Cannot communicate with ship. She is invisible at times."

Up to last evening the Lord Strathcona was not reported as having reached the Kensington. The Druid, which left Quebec on Monday, only passed L'Islet yesterday afternoon.

Steamer Rouville, with the remainder of the Kensington's passengers, was not reported yesterday, but she is supposed to be in shelter at Bic Island.

names of the places to which its owners are bound. When it is brought up from the steamer it will be forwarded to the owners at the company's expense.

The passengers were sent to three different destinations by the 11.30 train on the C.P.R. last night, apparently none the worse of their experience.

Of the two families who were left on the Kensington, the mother of one had been confined the day previous, while one of the children in the other was suffering from a bronchial affection.

Captain Bouchard, of the steamer Gaspesien, was seen on board his vessel by a Chronicle representative. He said he was coming up the Gulf on Sunday morning last. During the night it had been foggy and snow was falling. When Matane was reached the weather cleared up and he saw the Kensington ashore. He asked Capt. Morle if he wanted assistance. He replied "Yes." The Gaspesien then went alongside the stranded steamer, when Captain Morle asked Capt. Bouchard to take off the steerage passengers, which was agreed to. When the steamer Gaspesien left for Quebec at 12.30 p.m. With regard to landing the passengers at Rimouski Capt. Bouchard said when the Gaspesien reached there it was dark, and Rimouski wharf is a dangerous place for a vessel drawing over ten feet of water to reach at low tide. He could not attempt to land the passengers in boats, and would, therefore, have to wait until daylight. By that time a storm might arise, and it would be impossible to land them. He, therefore, decided to proceed on to Quebec. If he was placed in the same position again he would adopt a similar course. On Sunday night the Gaspesien encountered heavy weather, which increased to a gale with blinding snow on Monday morning. At 5 o'clock that morning he came to anchor under the lee of Goose Island. The storm never abated the rest throughout the day.

On board the Gaspesien were Captain Bouchard's three brothers, joint owners of the steamer, all four having master mariners' certificates. At midnight the gale had increased to hurricane force, and although the Gaspesien had two anchors out and steam on the vessel to ease the strain on the chains, the captain expected every moment to see the cable part. The four brothers then held a consultation to decide what course to pursue if such a casualty should occur. They came to the conclusion that should the cable part it would be best to run the steamer up on the beach and thus save the passengers' lives, as they considered it would be fatal to attempt to reach any point where shelter might be obtained. However, as daylight came on yesterday morning, the storm abated and when it ceased snowing the Gaspesien got under way and headed for Quebec, where she arrived safely as stated above.

Captain Bouchard speaks highly of the passengers of the Kensington and their conduct during the time they were on board his steamer. They never uttered a word of complaint, although packed together like sardines, and this was the more surprising as they were composed of different nationalities. They at all times appeared to be most thankful for the very slightest favors, or even a word of encouragement. He also paid a high mode of praise to the stewards who were sent up from the Kensington on the Gaspesien. He said these men done everything in their power to assist the passengers, and their efforts were fully appreciated. The chief steward was a great favorite with the people, and no matter what part of the vessel he went to the passengers would sing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." He said the steward of the Gaspesien never went to bed from the time the Kensington was left until the Gaspesien reached Quebec.

With regard to lack of provisions for the passengers Capt. Bouchard said that what shortage there was was through an error of judgment. It was reasonable to expect that the Gaspesien would reach Quebec in 20 hours, and as a consequence provisions for that time only would be taken. A snow storm lasting for thirty-six hours was not taken into consideration. In this connection, the captain said that in his twenty-six years' experience on the St. Lawrence, between the 15th April and the 25th November, he never before saw a snow storm last more than ten or eleven hours. When the provisions began to run short he took six barrels of potatoes he had among the cargo, and the cooks spent Monday

EDUCATION BILL
Speech of President of Board, Looked Upon as Ultimatum on Subject.

Bristol, Eng., Nov. 13.—In a speech delivered here to-night, Augustine Birrell, President of the Board of Education, said the Education Bill, as reconstructed in the House of Lords, was a sheer impossibility. As the measure came from the House of Commons, it was undenominational, but the Lords had fostered and bolstered up the denominationalism. Mr. Birrell said he hoped the Lords would recognize, during the committee stage of the bill, that they had gone too far and that a Liberal government could not be carried on with advantage and sincerity if measures prepared in accordance with its pledges were mutilated and destroyed by an unrepresentative assembly.

London, Nov. 13.—The Liberal papers this morning comment upon the speech of Augustine Birrell, President of the Board of Education, at Bristol last night, as an ultimatum on behalf of the government to the House of Lords. The Tribune declares the Education Bill is the last effort that will be made to reconcile popular control with religious education and avers that if the present bill is destroyed, it will be to substitute not a denominational but a secular system of religious education.

THE THAW CASE.

New York, Nov. 13.—District Attorney Jerome said to-night that the trial of Harry Thaw would be moved for the first time in December. He stated that the judge who would try the case had not been decided upon, but that it probably would be heard before Recorder Goff in the Court of General Sessions. Mr. Jerome said that he would conduct the prosecution and would be assisted by Assistant District Attorney Garvan.

MARINES KILLED IN WRECK.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 13.—A special second section of No. 96, east bound Canadian Pacific Railway, Pacific Express, collided with the first section near Kamloops at ten o'clock last night, killing seven marines in the first train, which was a special carrying fifty-three of the crew of H.M.S. Sparwater recommissioned for another term of service on the Pacific. They were in charge of Lieut. Scott, and intended sailing from Quebec November 21st. The whole crew was singing on the streets of Vancouver yesterday. No fatalities are known on the second section. The trains ran within twenty minutes of each other.

FEDERATION OF LABOR

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 13.—The most important action taken at the second day's session of the 26th annual convention of the American Federation of Labor was the reference to the convention of 1907 of the matter of adoption of a universal label design. The cigarmakers, printers and hat makers opposed. President Gompers plan of creating a political party out of the combined union strength was endorsed by the convention who approved the report of First Vice-President James Duncan, in which he denounced the policy of Mr. Gompers. Mr. Duncan's report showed that the Federation's campaign fund amounted to $8,050. A recommendation to adjourn Saturday noon until Monday, was carried. To-night witnessed the largest informal gathering incident to the convention. The Auditorium, which seats nearly three thousand persons, was filled with friends of labor who had gathered to listen to addresses by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation, John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, and John Duncan, first vice-president of the American Federation.

The Quebec Chronicle

QUEBEC, NOVEMBER 14, 1906.

THE GREAT NORTHERN.

One of our French contemporaries finds fault with the Mayor and City Council for having been too lenient in agreeing to accept security for the payment of the arrears of taxes due to the city by the Great Northern Railway. Our confrere is not just in this attitude. It is true the city of Quebec has been very badly treated by the Toronto people now in control of this enterprise, both in the manner in which it has been conducted in directing to Montreal all the traffic which formerly came to our port, and most important of all in removing the head offices and management of the road to Montreal which never gave a dollar towards it, whilst Quebec gave the company $200,000. Nevertheless every sinner is allowed to repent, and if the sinners in question who now profess repentance restore the head offices and management to Quebec, rebuild the workshops here, and bring back the trade they have diverted, they will no doubt be pardoned. If they do not do all and every one of these things they may rest assured that the Mayor and Council will have no mercy on them, and that they will be compelled not only to pay their taxes but to disgorge our $200,000.

THE LONDON LIMPET.

The report that Hon. Mr. Hyman was preparing to resign his seat in consequence of the exposures in the London investigation has been denied by that gentleman himself, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, on being questioned on the subject, professed himself to be, with regard to the Minister of the Interior, in that blissful state in which wisdom is the height of folly. When it comes to holding heretical opinions on Government policy and airing them in public Sir Wilfrid is uncommonly well instructed and remarkably prompt in action as Mr. J. I. Tarte could easily testify if he would, but a mere trifle of holding a seat obtained by such an abnormal, even in these late Laurier days, amount of bribery and corruption as to set the whole press of the Dominion, to say nothing of journals in Great Britain and the United States commenting on it is not worth a moment of Sir Wilfrid's attention, still less is it occasion for drastic action. And no doubt the Dominion Premier is right; under his regime there is so much bribery, fraud and corruption in the conducting of elections, so much and so extensive graft in the Governmental department, such unblushing partizanship in the decisions of the Bench, that the London affair is a comparatively pure and moral transaction, and for Hon. Mr. Hyman to resign his seat, or for Sir Wilfrid to dismiss him from the Cabinet would be a chivalrous regard for common decency verging on ardent Quixotism. So Mr. Hyman retains his seat, and his position in the Cabinet, which is not a bad thing for the press of either party, as it gives them something to talk about.

The Toronto News figures out that so far a total of over two thousand three hundred dollars has been shown to have been paid out in the London election. Of this amount eight hundred dollars are put down to legitimate expenses representing, according to one of the witnesses the payment for livery service on the day of the election, and including four hundred dollars contributed by Mr. J. C. Duffield to Mr. Chas. Pepper for reducing the Conservative majority in one of the wards, and one hundred dollars subscribed by Mr. Hyman towards a reception to be tendered to himself. The remaining fifteen hundred dollars were devoted to the purpose of educating the London electors in the principles of true Liberalism with such success that already no less than ninety persons have come before the Court and given testimony to their experience of such generous ardor for the advancement of true electoral morality.

Mr. Hyman retains his seat, not having been brought before the electoral courts, in which case he probably would have lost it; we say probably, for since the Laurier Government after having "reformed" the Senate, has been trying its hand on reforming the Bench also, it would be rash to predicate with any assumption of certainty, as to judicial decisions in political matters. So Mr. Hyman retains his seat, and we repeat, the country owes him a debt of gratitude for it, for his retention has been the means of bringing out some highly novel and interesting explanations from his friends, and incidentally, some very judicious squirmings. Thus, the report of his resignation emanated from a well-meant suggestion on the part of the Toronto Globe, which has of late been suffering from a severe attack of virtue, that he would probably do it because it really seemed the only decent thing to do, and would greatly contribute to his honor. Another section of the Liberal press argues that he should not be expected to resign because the Conservatives were just as bad as himself, and refrained from protesting his election because they feared exposure, and this, also, was the ground taken by that eminently scrupulous and fastidious legal luminary, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, when he was campaigning lately in North Bruce. This is the color theory, and goes on the principle that two blacks make a white. But the most amazing, and amusing, defence of Mr. Hyman's limpet habit is that put forward by the Liberal organ in St. John, which gravely argues that if all the members of Parliament who had secured their seats by bribery and corruption were to be seized with a sudden fit of morality, and return their mandates, there would not be enough members left in the House of Commons to transact the public business—ergo, Mr. Hyman would do a very mischievous thing, and set a very bad example, if he were to listen to the strictures of a part of the press, and seek re-election. The theory is so astounding, that for fear of being accused of misrepresenting it we reproduce it in the St. John Sun's own words:—

"Despatches from Ottawa intimate that if the charges of conspiracy against Liberal workers in London, Ont., are proven Mr. Hyman may resign his seat.

"Of course, viewing the matter from the standpoint of political morality, he should—there is no disputing that. If his seat is not the free gift of his constituents he is not entitled to it. But if Mr. Hyman does resign under these circumstances, his position will be unique.

"There is not one man in ten in Parliament in whose behalf illegal methods of some kind were not practised, and who is fully aware of the fact. Probably few were openly accessory to corruption, but few were not purposely blind and deaf to the actions of zealous supporters. It makes the case of these men none the better that the evidences of those practices have not been made public through the courts; morally, they are under as much obligation to resign as Mr. Hyman.

"It is true that Mr. Hyman by giving up his seat voluntarily, by placing himself in the hands of his constituents and by seeing to it that nothing improper was done to influence their actions, would earn a high place in public esteem and would set a good example. But if every member of Parliament, similarly situated, were to do the same there wouldn't be enough left to transact the public business."

That is rather a sweeping indictment to bring against a House of Commons, the great majority of whose members are Liberals, to say that ninety per cent of them are what Cardinal Gibbons more emphatically than politely designated as breakers of that commandment which forbids stealing—in brief, thieves, and if thieves, then worthy of the penitentiary. We knew that the Laurier Government had reduced political morality to a low ebb, but it required the assurance of a Government organ to make us believe in such a depth as this. Surely, Hon. Mr. Fielding when he again appears in the House resplendent with the white wash of Shelburne-Queens will feel singularly out of place in such a corrupt assembly, and yet he must feel very grateful to his colleague of the Department of the Interior who by his heroic retention of his seat has prevented a stampede for purification, and kept enough members in the House to listen to his tariff proposals.

PRESS OPINIONS.

POLITICS AND THE BENCH.—Another case of party enthusiasm on the bench is furnished in the County of Elgin, where County Judge Colter has just given his decision in the unfortunate Hepburn matter. Hepburn was the Liberal candidate in the recent East Elgin bye-election. Charges were made in relation to the administration of the liquor law, and Hepburn was mixed up in the accusation. The Liberal leaders dropped Hepburn as a consequence and substituted another candidate for him. The case was tried before a magistrate and the breach of the law was declared to have occurred. Then an appeal was taken, and Judge Colter heard it.

Nobody desires Mr. Hepburn to rest under a cloud. If Judge Colter can find that Mr. Hepburn is not guilty, so much the better. But the judge has not been content with exculpating his political friend. He has proceeded to make assaults upon Conservatives. His judgment implies that Conservatives conspired against this man's character and then misdirected justice for party advantage. The judge's view, delivered with much heat, is based entirely upon inference. Possibly, it may be said, it is an argument to save one Liberal by aspersing a great many others. Judge Colter, when in politics, was a very strong Liberal. It is scarcely probable that he will admit that he ever saw an honest Conservative, or a Liberal, who was not a saint. Approaching the Hepburn question with this one-sided view influencing him, it is easy to understand that he should argue himself into the belief not only that his party friend is sin-clear, but that he is the victim of Tory wickedness. If the judge had exculpated Hepburn without making insinuations against others for which there is no evidence, his judgment would have been very welcome. But the tone of the deliberance, and the unfortunate suggestions it contains, detract from its value and give it the appearance of a campaign document. This incident introduces once more the question of the propriety of placing heated partisans upon the bench. There are, of course, fair-minded public men on both sides, who can be trusted to administer justice evenly, and without bias. But all men are not so constituted, and it is to be feared that the Laurier Government is not making the best selection. Certainly the election decisions in Nova Scotia and in the West have gone far to shake public confidence in the judiciary, while the judgment of County Judge Colter does not improve the situation.

The conduct of judges on Royal Commissions of a political character adds to the disquiet with respect to the impartiality of notable case before us. Judge McTavish, who had charge of the West Elgin Commission, actually reported that the accusations of election fraud by Liberals were mythical. This jurist could not find out the public crimes committed on behalf of his party. But, as an insurance commissioner, he is making a close examination of the private business of Conservative M.P.'s, although that business has no direct bearing upon the matter in respect of which he is making enquiry. The bench, it is to be feared, is becoming too political under Laurier and his corruptionist colleagues.—Mail and Empire.

AS TO WOMEN'S CODES.—It is reported that at a conference of the National Union of Women Workers at Tunbridge Wells, England, Miss Soulsby, one of the vice-presidents, in discussing "Honor Among Women and Girls," said that she had asked some of her girl friends in what way females are apt to do dishonorable things. She is said to have received these among other replies:—

Women will give in wrong scores at golf.
They will cheat at croquet and whist.
They will cry "fault" at tennis when they simply mean that they cannot take the ball.
They will take the benefit of the doubt when a man would not.
They will hand on confidences.
Cheat at examinations.
Break promises.
Back out when they find they are on the unpopular side.
Face both ways in conversation.
Read other people's letters.
Overhear conversations and get letters in an underhand way.

Miss Soulsby's comment was that although she did not think that men never did any of these things, she was sure that if they did them they would be looked down upon by their fellowmen. She concluded that women were not less honorable than men by nature, but were less honorable by training.

The point might be worth examination, but the Journal is inclined to the suspicion that Miss Soulsby's correspondents may have been picked with a desire to create an impression which she herself had already formed. The Journal's conviction is that women are on the average more conscientious than men in most things.—Ottawa Journal.

SENATOR FORGET makes this most serious allegation: "I am satisfied that Mr. Ross is endeavoring to break up the Dominion Iron & Steel Company." He charges that the Dominion Coal Company, of which Mr. Ross is president, has not lived up to its contract, and he concludes: "I am at a loss to understand the action of Mr. Ross in the present struggle." Mr. Forget's specific charge is that the Dominion Coal Company did not supply the quality of coal to the Dominion Iron & Steel Company that the contract demanded, but a much inferior grade, the object being deliberately to injure the latter company. The charge is denied by Mr. Ross, who has just returned from Sydney, and who claims that the Dominion Coal Company has lived up to all its engagements. So certain is he of this,

When the Liver is out of Order calomel, cascara, salts, strong liver pills and purging mineral waters won't do any permanent good.

When a person is bilious, the liver is not giving up enough bile to move the bowels regularly—and some of the bile is being absorbed by the blood. In other words, the liver is in a weakened, unhealthy condition.

Now, purgatives don't act on the liver at all. They merely irritate the bowels, and afford only temporary relief. But FRUIT-A-TIVES are the one true LIVER TONIC. They act directly on the liver—strengthen and invigorate this vital organ—and put it in a normal, healthy condition.

FRUIT-A-TIVES also stimulate the glands of the skin—and regulate the kidneys and sweeten the stomach. When skin, liver and kidneys are normally healthy, there can be no biliousness, no constipation, no kidney trouble, no impure blood, no headaches.

No other medicine known to science is so reliable and so effective in curing Biliousness as these fruit liver tablets.

FRUIT-A-TIVES are fruit juices with tonics added—and are free from alcohol and dangerous drugs. 50c. a box or 6 for $2.50. Sent on receipt of price, if your druggist does not handle them.

so far as the quality of the coal tendered is concerned, that he professes to be willing to wager, or bet, fifty thousand dollars upon it, if any director of the Steel Company will to the same, the loser to pay over the money to hospitals. An offer to bet is, however, no more of an argument than abuse is, and is a frivolous treatment of a dispute of such a momentous character. Whoever is to blame in this matter need not hope, by the spinning of a coin or the flourishing of a bank bill, to escape the country's severe condemnation. It is no light thing to hold up an industry, throw many out of work, and jeopardize the public's investments.—Montreal Witness.

BOARD OF TRADE TALKED TERMINALS
Discussion Over Union Station and Site
STATE LIFE ASSURANCE
Winter Communication with the North Shore —Resolution Adopted Favoring Holding of an Exhibition.

The subject of a Union Station in the city of Quebec occupied the greater part of the time of the monthly meeting of the Board of Trade, which was held at the Board Rooms yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance of members, and a very spirited debate. The meeting was presided over by the President of the Board, Mr. Geo. E. Amyot, and the other members present included Messrs Apollinaire Plamondon, J. E. Martineau, Aug. Choquette, J. F. Guay, Ed. Picher, P. J. Paradis, P. E. Fugere, J. Muir, Jr., C. Kirouac, Alex. Hardy, Wm. Bisset, Chs. Flamand, J. Picard, J. A. Chabot, A. Pouliot, M. Joseph, A. N. Drolet, A. Boivin, Jos. Picard, Wm. Brodie, J. Macnaughton, Joseph Samson, T. L. Nadeau, Jos. Cote, E. Turcotte, J. T. Lachance, W. H. Wiggs, Ulric Barthe, A. Gingras, Theo. Hamel, Wm. A. Marsh, Geo. Carrier, O. Chailour, Gus. Proteau, Jos. Savard, E. E. B. Rattray, J. O. Jacot, Cyr. Duquet, V. E. Beavris, A. Leclerc, D. O. Lesperance and T. Levesneur, Secretary.

After the reading of the minutes and the report of the Council, it was, on motion, of Mr. O. W. Samson, seconded by Chevalier Martineau, unanimously decided to send a letter of condolence to the family of the late P. Rheume, a former member of the Board.
Mr. Amyot then gave some explanations in connection with matters alluded to in the Council report. He referred to the conference with the Transcontinental Commission on the terminal arrangements, and also spoke of the recent trip of inspection down the river on the steamer Lady Grey. He had been surprised at the good work being done by the dredge Galveston. As regarded the matter of the new graving dock, the Minister of Marine and Fisheries had inspected a spot close to that occupied by the present one, and which he seemed to think one of the most suitable for the second dock. The matters of holding an exposition in Quebec and the proposed new Post Office for St. Roch were also touched upon.

Mr. J. F. Guay then moved the following motion, which was seconded by Mr. U. Barthe:—That the Secretary of the Board of Trade procure all information possible upon the workings of state life insurance plans wherever they exist, and particularly in New Zealand, for the instruction of the Board of Trade at one of its coming meetings in order to decide whether it would not be timely to recommend the institution of such a plan of insurance either by the federal or provincial authorities.
Mr. Guay, in support of his motion, said the question of life insurance had for a long time been causing a considerable amount of discussion. These days nearly everybody carried life insurance for a larger or smaller amount, in either a company or a mutual society. There was a wide variation in the rates charged by the The information sought by the motion should prove most valuable. The motion was adopted.

The following resolution, which was moved by Mr. Geo. Tanguay and seconded by Mr. M. Joseph, was unanimously adopted:—
"Whereas important establishments of the North Shore along the Lower St. Lawrence, are completely isolated during the long winter months for want of communication with Quebec; whereas some generous effort should be made to relieve the residents of this establishment in their hardship; whereas fully eight hundred workmen from Quebec will be employed at the industrial work in course of erection at Seven Islands, and that these workmen who all have their families residing in Quebec are surely worthy of mail accommodation; whereas last year the Montreal was utilized to butt the Cap Rouge ice bridge all winter long, without any effective work, except to occasionally break off portions of the ice formation that would float down the river and impede the Quebec and Lewis ferry boats on their regular trips to and from Lewis; resolved that this Board of Trade urge respectfully and earnestly the Minister of Marine and Fisheries to order that the ice-breaker Montcalm, make three or four stated trips down the St. Lawrence during the winter months, calling at points on the North Shore, on the trips to supply the isolated stations with mail matter, and afford them passenger accommodation if they desire it."

The question of the Union Station was then brought up by Senator Choquette, who held that it was in the interest of the city to have a Union Station. He expressed dissatisfaction with the manner in which the matter had been dealt with by the Transcontinental Commission, stating that the plans had been prepared by interested parties and that the city had not been consulted. The Champlain market site was, in his opinion, totally unfit for a Union Station. There was not sufficient room and it would be an impossible task to carry out the project there. He insisted that the whole question should be reported upon by an independent commission of competent engineers.

Mr. Tanguay, in reply to Senator Choquette, stated that the station at the Champlain Market was not to be a Union one, but a terminal station for the South Shore route. The C.P.R. and other roads on this side of the river would retain their own stations. As to the assertion that the fact was that the Mayor, the Chairman of the Harbor Commission, the President of the Board of Trade as well as all the interested parties had been invited to attend and give their views.
Mr. Barthe stated that the Transcontinental Commission were charged with the location of the terminals, and what had been done at Quebec had been done at Winnipeg. All the parties interested had been consulted. It was not by changing schemes or coteries that a solution of the subject could be arrived at. The work was not yet finished. It had been well known for four or five years past that the Champlain Market site had been looked upon as the natural terminus of the railways using the bridge. The railways on this side of the river had made no complaint about the matter and were apparently satisfied. As to the suggestion to refer the matter to men of experience, the men who had reported on the plans were all men of experience.

The Terminal Committee as represented at last meeting comprised representatives of the Grand Trunk Pacific, Grand Trunk Railway, Delaware & Hudson Railway, Intercolonial Railway, Quebec Central Railway, Canadian Northern Railway, Quebec & Lake St. John Railway, Quebec R. L. & P. Co., Allan Line of Royal Steamships, Dominion Line, Quebec Transport Co., Lloyd's, City of Quebec, Quebec Harbor Commissioners, Quebec Board of Trade.
Senator Choquette said that it was a well known fact that there was dissatisfaction over the matter. There was not space at the Champlain Market for a Union Station. An independent commission of experts was demanded. Some of the railways had pronounced against the proposed plan. It was to the interest of the city to have a Union Station.

The debate was continued by Messrs, Tanguay, Amyot, Barthe, Samson, Martineau, Duquet, Cote, Plamondon, and the following motion was finally adopted on motion of Mr. W. H. Wiggs, seconded by Senator Choquette:—
"That the same committee that has charge of recommending a site for a Union Station in the best place possible for the use of all railways entering Quebec be again asked to study anew the question and report at next meeting recommending the most eligible site."
The following motion was moved by Mr. Jos. Picard and seconded by Mr. J. A. Chabot and adopted:—
"That this Board considers that it would be important that a Federal industrial and agricultural exposition be held on the occasion of the tercentenary anniversary and the inauguration of the new Quebec Bridge to show as much as possible the progress accomplished by the country since the foundation of our old city, which was the cradle of civilization in North America."

Before adjourning, the President, Mr. Amyot, said he wished to correct a misunderstanding in regard to a remark which had been made as to the reasons why no Quebecers had been invited to participate in the recent trip on board the steamer Lady Grey. The trip had been specially organized for the members of the Champlain Federation of Shipping Montreal, and the only Quebecers invited had been the President of the Board of Trade and the Chairman of the Harbor Commission.
CITY TERRORIZED
An Epidemic of Murder and Robbery Raging in Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 13.—Pittsburg terrorized and likened to a mining camp of a frontier town, is the scene of all this morning's papers. With three murders, a number of robberies on the highway, accompanied by violence, and an attempt at crucifixion, all in twenty-four hours, added to the large number that have occurred during the past two weeks, there has been such a public demand for extra police that Mayor Guthrie and Mr. Rigway, Director of Public Safety, last night put on a number of extra police without legal provision for their compensation, trusting to the effect of public clamor upon the Select and Common Councils for favorable action upon this move.
The record for twenty-four hours besides the murder of Henry E. Smith, a young business man of the fashionable East End, who was shot by burglars, who entered the Smith home, is extended by the robbery of Charles R. Lawrence, who was knocked unconscious with a slung shot and robbed of a gold watch and all his money while going home from the Hotel Schenley, where he is employed as waiter. He will be confined to his bed for a week with his injuries. Nielson Lewis, of Sharpsburg, a few miles from this city, was also beaten and robbed, and did not recover consciousness for several hours.
Raymond White, of Dupuis, was also found early yesterday with several ribs broken. He too, had been robbed, and could give no description of his assailants.
The crucifixion case was brought to light by the screams of a woman in a tenement on Forbes street. Neighbors rushed in and found Mrs. Jean Mitchell, 19 years of age, in the kitchen, huddled in a kneeling position on the floor, with both hands nailed to the draining boards of the sink, with the blood running down her arms.

The woman was unconscious when released, and she was taken to a hospital. On recovering, she said that when she entered her flat early in the morning something struck her on the back of the head and she felt herself drawn toward the sink, her hands pressed against the board and two nails driven in.
The police are looking for William Neely, known as William Mitchell, and the husband of the woman.
The days series of violent deeds was further augmented by the death of Sciana Randuite, an Italian, who was stabbed in a fight among railway laborers in a boarding house. Three others were badly cut up by stilettos and razors. Peter Nazidenci, an Italian, died in the Allegheny Hospital, from a bullet which was fired by Peter Fodora. Nazidenci was playing a mandolin, to which Fodora objected and threatened to shoot off Nazidenci's thumb. The threat was carried out, and in addition to carrying away the thumb, the bullet penetrated Nazidenci's body. Fodora is under arrest.

OFFICER WENT BACK TO THE RANKS.
London, Nov. 13.—A young Irishman, Harold Carroll, a keen devotee of military life, has just been discharged from the British army under circumstances which have aroused popular sympathy. Carroll by his abilities and industrious study had won his commission in the Connaught Rangers in the usually short period of two years.
He soon found that the daily pay of a second lieutenant of infantry, which is equivalent to $1.25, did not suffice to maintain the position of "an officer and a gentleman." Even with all the economy he could exercise he could not reduce his expenses below $1.50 a day. As he had no other income and was not willing to quit the service, he sold his kit privately and reenlisted as a private in another regiment. His disappearance mystified his fellow-officers, but none guessed what had happened. He might have enjoyed obscurity in the ranks of his new regiment, but unfortunately he confided the circumstances to an officer in the new command in which he was serving. The result was that he was immediately suspended to await the decision of the War Office. This has now been given, and Second Lieut. Carroll is gazetted as having been dishonored from service for being absent without leave. This means that he cannot join the army in any capacity.

In an interview yesterday Carroll said bitterly:—"I have no prospects. I haven't a penny. I haven't influential relatives to appeal to. All I can do now is to go to the United States and join the army there. I love the military service, and will be a soldier in some other country if the privilege of serving in my own is denied me."
FINED FOR SNEEZING.
Berlin, Nov. 13.—The danger of sneezing loudly in the public streets in Germany has again been brought to general notice. Some time ago a citizen of Mulhausen was arrested on a charge of gross misdemeanor in rendering himself a public nuisance, but managed to get off, as the medical evidence showed that a polypus in the nose prevented him from sneezing otherwise than loudly.
The Goettingen police have now attacked this form of gross misdemeanor and arrested a master tailor who sneezed five times while crossing the street with a party of friends. The policeman declared that the tailor had purposely created a disturbance, and the prisoner was fined 3 marks on the spot. The tailor declined to pay, and subsequently a magistrate decided in his favor, saying he thought the man had not sneezed purposely, but he could not help it.

Will be found an excellent remedy for sick headache. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them.

THE Y. M. C. A. IN RUSSIA.

Half a Dozen Different Religions Are Represented—The Institution is Conducted Upon the Same Plans as the Y. M. C. A.'s in Canada.

There is a Young Men's Christian Association in St. Petersburg with 1,000 members, nearly all native Russians. The president is Duke Alexander of Oldenburg, who married Olga, the sister of the Czar. The secretary and active man is Franklin A. Gaylord, a Vermont Yankee, who went there from the Y. M. C. A. in Paris, France, and organized the institution. Mrs. Gaylord is making plans to organize a Young Women's Christian Association on similar lines.

Until recently it was almost impossible for such an organization as the Y. M. C. A. to exist in Russia, because associations of all kinds were forbidden. It was a crime to belong to one, but when the Duke of Oldenburg, a man whose motives have never been questioned and whose benevolence is known to every person of intelligence in Russia, took charge of the movement its success was guaranteed. Nevertheless when the political troubles broke out last year it was discovered that more than half the members were revolutionists and there was a lively scrap for several months to prevent them from capturing the management and turning the institution into a revolutionary headquarters. Mr. Gaylord made a rule prohibiting political discussions under the roof of the building, and finally got the upper hand of the conspirators and secured the reelection of the conservative element in the list of officers.

It was not an unhappy incident, however. Almost every member sympathized with the sentiments and spirit of the revolutionary element, although they could not endorse its judgment or permit the purpose of the organization to be perverted into political lines. You must understand that 99 per cent. of the young men in Russia are revolutionists, more or less radical, according to their previous training, their social rank and their environment. Nobody supports the Czar in his efforts to maintain the autocracy except the members of the imperial family (and they are not unanimous), the imperial household, the cabinet, army officers of high rank and the "bureaucrats" or government officials, who are likely to shift their point of view as circumstances change. Therefore it was not strange and it is no reflection upon the character of the members of the Y. M. C. A. that those who are most interested in politics should attempt to use the organization as a revolutionary machine.

It is not called a Young Men's Christian Association there, for that title would be an anomaly and would deprive Jews, Mohammedans and members of other religious faiths of its benefits. Hence it is called "Mayak" (the Lighthouse), which you will agree is a very good name, and on its rolls are the representatives of half a dozen different religions.

The Jewish element is quite strong. Jews predominate wherever they are permitted to go in Russia, in ability and energy, if not in number, and they are keen to adapt themselves to all situations and to seize upon every opportunity for self-improvement. Nowhere and at no time have the superior qualities of that remarkable race been demonstrated as during the period of their persecution. Religious freedom exists nominally in Russia, although there is no law to permit it. A better term is religious "toleration," because all people are allowed to worship according to their own creeds provided they do so quietly without offence to others and do not attempt to proselyte. On the Nevsky Prospect, the St. George street of St. Petersburg, almost opposite the Kazan Cathedral of the orthodox Greek Church, is a large Lutheran church, and a little farther down on the next block is a Roman Catholic Church at which services are held regularly every Sunday and sometimes on week days. There is no other Protestant Church except a chapel connected with the British Embassy, which is attended by members of the American and English colony. The British government maintains the chaplain. Religious services are conducted by Mr. Gaylord or one of his associates after a non-sectarian fashion in the lecture-room of the Y. M. C. A. building twice on Sunday and on Thursday evenings, including the reading of the Scriptures, prayer, hymns and usually a short talk on moral questions, carefully avoiding controversial differences.

The Y. M. C. A. moved into a new building last year and now has convenient and comfortable quarters. Anson Phelps Stokes of New York, gave $75,000 for the building fund and did the same for the Paris association. In St. Petersburg the members raised 115,000 roubles to complete the purchase of the place. It is a large two-story house with a courtyard. The rooms are light and cheerful, handsomely decorated and filled with substantial furniture. Portraits of the Czar, the Duke of Oldenburg and Mr. Stokes occupy conspicuous places upon the walls, and many other pictures have been presented or loaned by the artists. The lecture-room will seat about four hundred people, and the stage is adapted for amateur theatricals, concerts and other entertainments, which take place two or three times a week. There is a large library and reading-room, a gymnasium, a tea-room and restaurant where ordinary refreshments are served at cost prices, and a number of class-rooms in which languages, music, typewriting, stenography, bookkeeping, mathematics, electrical science and other branches of learning are taught by professors from the university and local gymnasiums, most of whom volunteer their services. A small fee is charged for membership and an additional fee for instruction. Indeed, the institution is conducted upon the same plans as the regular Y. M. C. A.'s in Canada. The only difference is the location and language.

TWO CURIOUS CUCUMBERS.

Among the curious animals which inhabit the sea we may take the holothurian, or sea cucumber, so called from its resemblance to the common vegetable cucumber, says The London Tit-Bits. When this animal is attacked by an enemy it does not stand up and fight, but by a sudden movement it ejects its teeth, stomach, digestive apparatus and nearly all its intestines, and then shrivels its body up to almost nothing. When, however, the danger is past, the animal commences to replace the organs which it has voluntarily parted with, and in a short time the animal is as perfect as ever it was.

Dr. Johnstone kept one in water for a long time, and one day he forgot to change the water. The creature in consequence ejected its intestines and shrivelled up, but when the water was changed all its organs were reproduced. Although the animal is not eaten in Europe, it is a favorite with the Chinese, and the fishing forms an important part of the industry of the East. Thousands of junks are annually used in fishing for trepang, as the animals are called.

Another curious cucumber is the squirting cucumber of the Mediterranean sea-coast. This peculiar plant alarms goats and cattle by discharging its ripe fruits explosively in their faces the moment the stem is touched. The cucumbers contain a pungent juice, which discharges itself into the eye of its opponent, and the smarting sensation which results is hard to bear.

Our ordinary little cucumber might perhaps feel itself unworthy to be classed with its curious namesakes. Yet it need not, for it has been known to double-up a good, strong boy.

THE WORLD'S SUBMARINE CABLE.

There are about 225,000 miles of cable in all at the bottom of the sea, representing $250,000,000, each line costing about $1,000 a mile to make and lay. The average useful life of a cable nowadays is anything between thirty and forty years, according to circumstances. About 6,000,000 messages are conveyed by the world's cables throughout the year, or 15,000 a day, the working speed of any one cable being up to 100 words a minute under present conditions. About 90 per cent. of these are sent in code or cipher.

A BARRISTER'S FATE. Kingston, Ont., Nov. 13.—This afternoon, about four o'clock, a kiosk was picked up off the Kingston Hoisery Mill by employes of that institution. When it was brought ashore it was found to contain the hat and coat of Joseph Bowden, the well-known city barrister. About two p.m. Mr. Bowden was at the office of Booth's clock yard, where he left an order for coal. Later he rented a boat and started out on the lake. It is thought that he was attacked with apoplexy and fell overboard. He was out trying a boat prior to purchasing to send to Fort William where he sent a boat two weeks ago. He was 68 years of age, a liberal, and a Baptist. A widow and three small children survive.

The steamer Bergenhus, with 5,512 tons of steel rails from Sydney, C.B., for the Transcontinental Railway, arrived here yesterday morning and moored at the Quebec & Lake St. John Railway pier, situated in the inner Louise Basin. A gang of ship-laborers and longshoremen almost immediately went to work to unload the cargo and place the same on platform cars in waiting, to be transported with their load of rails to Reeds Station and La Tuque, and it is anticipated that all the rails will be on their way to their destination by the end of the week.

The last cargo of rails that arrived here for the Transcontinental Railway construction, reached here in the morning, were handled with remarkable despatch, one thousand tons were unloaded and placed on the cars in waiting, by noon the next day, and on their way to their destination, which speaks volumes for the expert handling of ship's cargoes by the ship-laborers of Quebec.

STREETS OF QUEBEC. The streets of Quebec including the sidewalks are in a very disreputable condition these days, and if the Road Committee do not do their duty in some effort to ameliorate their reputation, Quebec will lose its reputation as a clean city.

The sidewalks in particular are not only in a disreputable, but in a dangerous condition, and this is entirely due to the carelessness of householders who could easily clear the snow off the foot walk in front of their houses, and thus make walking cleaner and safer. Store-keepers at least should pay more attention to the sidewalk in front of their establishments, for the sake of their trade, and if they were to study their own interests in this respect, they would observe that people out shopping invariably pass by shops that have unclean sidewalks.

GYMNASTIC EXHIBITION. The sailors' entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. last night was a grand success. The members of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium class, under the direction of Mr. C. H. Dearing, gave a splendid gymnastic exhibition. Each performance was interspersed by songs and recitations by men from the ships in port and local talent. The gallery of the gymnasium was crowded with spectators, who loudly expressed their appreciation by the hearty applause and cheers. The following items were on the programme.

Piano Solo—Miss Caruthers. Dumb Bell Drill—Juniors. Song—Mr. Palmer. Marching and Wand Drill—Seniors. Song—Master F. Meyers. Parallel Bars—Seniors. Song—Mr. Redley. Song—Mr. McKenzie. Horizontal Bar by Mr. Dearing and leaders.

Recitation—Miss Green. Vaulting Horse—Seniors. Song—Mr. Gain. Foil vs. Foil, by Dearing vs Poston. The God Save the King. Last, but not least, was the humorous performance by an odd character, gaily dressed, who took a prominent part during the entire evening.

CHIBUGAMOO. A press despatch says:—Mr. Charles Raibe, who has been prospecting at Chibugamoo in the interests of the Montreal and Lake St. John Syndicate, has brought down some silver ore that was assayed $2,800 to the ton, while his copper and gold samples are also very promising, but not of such value. Mr. Armand Tessier has also returned with a quantity of excellent samples of copper, silver, and cobalt bloom which were found so rich by Monseigneur Lallame, of Laval University, that he has sent them to be assayed.

RAILWAY EXTENSION FRIENDS ADVISED USE OF PE-RU-NA.

To Open Up and Develop the Chibugamoo Mines.

Last evening a number of gentlemen together with mining engineers held a private meeting at the Chateau Frontenac, to discuss the extension of the Quebec and Lake St. John Railway from Roberval, north-west to the Chibugamoo Eldorado, with the object of opening up and developing the mineral deposits of the country. A representative of all the mine syndicates were present, including Messrs. J. G. Scott, General Manager of the Quebec and Lake St. John Railway; A. E. Doucet, Chief Engineer of the same railroad, and Mr. Blake, representing the Quebec Mining Syndicate. The resources of the Chibugamoo district were thoroughly discussed, and it was recognized that their great value in gold, silver, copper, asbestos and iron deposits could not be worked to any great commercial value without the aid of railway communication, and it was decided to make every effort to secure the necessary capital to extend the Quebec and Lake St. John Railway from Roberval. It appears that the gentlemen interested who have invested their money to secure claims, almost despair of receiving any aid from the Provincial or Dominion Governments, to build a railway, notwithstanding the rich resources of the country, and the great advantages that both Governments would ultimately derive from the opening up of the Lake St. John region north-west of Roberval.

In the meantime Messrs. Mackenzie and Mann are pushing forth all their efforts to construct a railway from Toronto to the James Bay, and no doubt will end by going as far as the Chibugamoo district, a Toronto obtain the rich returns that rightly belong to Quebec. Something must be done to frustrate this great injury to Quebec, and if the Government at Ottawa, and the Provincial administration neglect their duty, the directors of the district of Quebec will hold them accountable.

Suffered Much—Catarrh Affected Throat and Nose—Pe-ru-na Proves Highly Satisfactory.

Mr. Raoul Pilon, 116 Rue Notre Dame, Lachine, P. Q., writes: 'I wrote you a few words to express to you my satisfaction at being cured.'

'I was afflicted with catarrh of the throat and nose and suffered much. I was greatly discouraged. I had a bad breath and a bad taste in my mouth in the morning. I took treatment for some time without obtaining relief.'

'At the advice of friends I tried Peruna and the results have been highly satisfactory. At the end of four months I was completely cured.'

Neglected catarrh becomes chronic. Having developed into the chronic stage, a longer and more persistent treatment will be required to cure it than if the disease were treated at the onset.

However, Peruna will bring relief, whether the catarrh is acute or chronic. If you are wise you will keep Peruna on hand and take a few doses at the first appearance of a cold or cough, and thus save yourself both suffering and expense.

Here is something new for an evening's entertainment. Beautiful colored pictures, with part of the outlines cut out, are slipped into a frame behind a piece of oiled paper. Then on looking through the paper against the light an unexpected transformation has taken place. The outlines of the picture appear and make another picture of an entirely foreign character. INDOOR BASEBALL A BILLIARD EVENT

Proposition to Form a League Among Officers and Men of Garrison. Official Opening of the Quebec Club on Saturday Evening.

A movement is on foot amongst the officers and men of the Quebec Garrison to organize an indoor baseball league. With this object in view a meeting will be held in the near future when it is hoped the scheme will materialize. The idea is to have the league divided into two sections. Section "A" to be composed of teams drawn from the officers of the Q. O. C. H., 8th Regiment R. R., and 9th Regiment Val. Q., and Section "B" to be composed of teams drawn from the rank and file of the following corps:— Q. O. C. H., 1st Field Battery, K. C. G. A., R. C. R., 8th Regiment, 9th Regiment, and No. 5 Field Hospital. The winners of each section to play off for the championship. It is expected a trophy will be secured for competition. The games will likely be played in the Drill Hall, the District Officer Commanding having already signified his approval of the idea. It is to be hoped all ranks will enter into the scheme enthusiastically, as there is no doubt if the league is formed it will be of great benefit to the city corps in keeping the officers and men in touch during the winter months. Something of the kind is certainly needed in Quebec, as there are no company armories or sergeants messes, and the officers and their men almost completely lose touch between the drill seasons.

TO PLAY VICTORIAS. It was announced at the annual meeting of the St. Lawrence Curling Club on Monday night, that a new fixture with the Victoria Club, of Quebec, had been arranged, and two rinks are to go to that city in the beginning of the new year. Mr. W. Cairns presided, and O. W. G. Detmers, the hon. treasurer, read the reports of a most successful year.

CHESS COMPETITION. A chess competition has been organized by the Union Commerciale of Quebec for the championship of this city, to commence on the 24th instant, in the club rooms, 213 St. Francois street. Entries will be received from the 15th to the 22nd instant. Entry fee, $1.00, open to all Quebecers. All those who intend to enter or for further information, may apply to Mr. Henry A. Bedard, during the evening, at the club rooms, or during the day at La Banque Nationale, Lower Town.

OTTAWA WILL BE AMATEUR. Ottawa Free Press:—"Our players will all be amateurs this winter," remarked a member of the Ottawa Hockey Club executive this morning. "The decision of the league calling for each club to make out a list of its players designating those who are paid and those playing as amateurs, will not affect us in the least. Everything will be just the same as last winter. The move of pulling away from the C. A. A. U. was a wise one and we should benefit by it."

O. H. A. OFFICERS. Nominations for the office of the Ontario Hockey Association closed on Saturday with Secretary Hewitt. Four of the most important posts are filled by acclamation. President Duroch, Secretary Hewitt and Treasurer Macpherson are re-elected without opposition. The second vice-presidency is also filled by the unanimous choice of Mr. Louis Blake Duff, of Welland, Mr. Duff, who is president of the Western Football Association, has served for several seasons on the executive of the O. H. A., from which he steps up to his new post.

LASKER'S VISIT. All lovers of the royal game in Quebec, will be interested to learn that Lasker, the champion of the world, will be here on the 26th inst., and will deliver a short lecture on the game before the Quebec Chess Club and their friends, after which he will play simultaneous games against those wishing to compete. The Morin College trustees have very kindly consented to allow the meeting to take place in Morin College building and the public are cordially invited to be present without charge. Players wishing to take part in the simultaneous games are requested to communicate with the secretary, Mr. Arthur Vensky, No. 9 St. Louis street, Phone No. 85. Ladies are particularly invited to play. The hour of play will appear later.

BOWLING MATCH. There was an interesting bowling match at the Y.M.C.A. alleys last night between the Railway Bowling Club team and one from the Y.M.C.A., the latter winning by two games to one and a pin majority of 83. OPEN PLAY WINS CROWD.

Canadian Rugby Union Rules a Revelation to Eastern Followers of Game. Montreal, Nov. 12.—The season which has just closed undoubtedly marks an era in Rugby football in the Quebec Union. The rules which have been in force this season have brought Rugby out of what under the old rules was more or less a scramble with chaotic masses of players hiding the ball for nearly three-quarters of the time, into a clean, open, and scientific game which will, beyond doubt, eventually supplant the rules now in force in other parts of the Dominion. The first two matches or so of the season players showed a lack of the fine points of the game which could be adopted by the new rules, but in the last couple of games, when they had a better acquaintance with them, the game became what Rugby football of the best type should be, viz., a game in which skill stands above mere brute strength, but in which, none the less, a combination of strength with skill makes a most desirable side. It is not enough for a game that a man simply because he is big and heavy may turn out to be counted a valuable adjunct to a side even though his attentions are always given to the

HOCKEY SITUATION

Clubs will Have to Face Open Raids on Their Players.

The Montreal Gazette has the following:— With all rumors as to changes in the make-up of the Eastern Canada Hockey Association discredited and the six original clubs still in the game speculation has now turned to the personnel of the teams that will fight it out for supremacy in the winter of 1907. The rivalry for players was keen in the season just passed, but with the action of the E. C. H. A. in cutting away from the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union and deciding to allow amateurs to play with or against professionals the rivalry is passing into a more acute stage where dollars and cents can be hung up, and hung up openly, to tempt the player whose club allegiance may incline to the fickle. In fact, from now on to the opening game of the season there is going to be the liveliest kind of bidding for the services of stars and for the ambitious clubs it is going to take some close figuring to avoid the shoals of financial ruin before the last bids are in. It was significant that the association at its annual meeting on Saturday turned down a proposition for a reserve list, the proposed aiming at some system whereby one club would be protected from raids from the other five. Briefly, the situation was this: Victorias are to play a strictly amateur seven, Quebec, for financial reasons, precluding the possibility of their paying fancy prices for players, will also be, in the main, at least, amateur. The other four will probably have professionals predominating over amateurs. Of these four two clubs are weak, and two strong. Both Wanderers and Ottawa have good reasons for wishing to keep the men they had last season, and naturally favor a reserve list. Montreal and Shamrocks are both in need of reinforcements, and as naturally oppose any such scheme. It was two to two so far as the four were concerned, and as neither Victoria nor Quebec had any desire to simplify the coming troubles of the clubs that will play professionals, the reserve list business failed to go through. The one protection that the clubs are to have in respect to players is that once a man has signed his contract he cannot shift to another organization that season. In the meantime there is nothing to prevent a man holding off to the last moment, and taking advantage of the bidding for his services. Some, in fact, may hold off until after the first games have been played, keeping two or three of the clubs on uneasy street as to his intentions. There is already talk of grabs among the local clubs, and with the exception of the Victoria Club, which will depend largely upon its last year players, there is the prospect of a considerable shake up in the teams that represented the other clubs last season. Montreal, it is said, has covetous eyes on two of the Wanderer players of last season, although no declaration has yet been made as to whether these men will continue along as amateurs or whether they will jump into the pro ranks. Another factor this season will be the possibility of drawing players from many Montreals are now playing openly for what is in the game. Many of these, it is said, would be willing to return, even if they were obliged to take less money than they are now receiving. Wanderers, Ottawa and Montreal are being given the credit for the victory on the pro question, in the caucus which preceded the annual meeting. Shamrocks, not so well off financially as the other three, were indifferent, while the opposition came from Victorias and Quebec. The thing went through on the ground that there was more danger from hidden professionalism than from out-and-out plan-other players and seldom to the ball. It is speed, endurance, and the power to think quickly and to put the thought into action just as quickly as it occurs that make a game desirable, and this the game under the new Q. R. F. U. rules comes as near doing as any other. There are one or two changes that may yet be made which experience will dictate as time goes on. For example, another man on the half-back line might result in faster play in the back division. It is fortunate for eastern football generally that the services of an expert like Mr. Frank Woodworth, who has been available to referee many games. Mr. Woodworth probably knows the new code and the contingencies arising therefrom as well as any man concerned in the game, and his decisions are always clean-cut and beyond dispute. DUFRESNE WON 7TH. Montreal, Nov. 13.—The fight between "Kid" Dufresne and Patsy Haley tonight was won by the former, who knocked his man out in the seventh round. QUEBEC & LAKE ST. JOHN RY. R. & O. NAVIGATION CO.

The steamer Quebec, after having been lengthened some twenty-five feet came out of the Graving Dock yesterday, and left last night in tow for Sorel, where she will be completed and get ready for service by the end of next June. Mr. Thomas Henry, General Passenger and Freight Agent, Captain Johnson, Mechanical Superintendent, and Mr. Percy Smith, Secretary of the Company, were present when the Quebec floated out of the dock. Besides being lengthened the stern has been greatly strengthened, four bulkheads have been placed in her, making her practically unsinkable. This work has been performed under the supervision of Mr. James Laverie, Superintendent for Messrs.
G. T. Davie & Sons. The wood work in the steamer has been executed by the employees of the R. & O. Navigation Co. Two additional gangways have been placed on either side of the steamer, thus affording greater facilities for embarking or landing of passengers and freight. The lengthening of the steamer allows the adding of eighty additional staterooms for the accommodation of saloon passengers.
In fact when the Quebec is completed she will strongly rival the splendid steamer Montreal, her consort on the line between Quebec and Montreal.

Through the kindness of Mr. M. P.
Connolly, the courteous agent of the company, in this city, a Chronicle representative was shown over the Quebec yesterday, and he was greatly struck with the handsome lines of the vessel and the large additional space which has been added to her hull and passenger department.

The storm having abated, steamer
St. Irene left for Montreal at 4 a.m. yesterday. The steamer Murray Bay arrived from Montreal at 9 a.m., about three hours behind her regular time.

Steamer Tadoussac will arrive here from the Saguenay this morning. She will make another trip this fall to Chicoutimi and probably follow with one to Tadoussac, weather permitting.

THE MARTINEAU DEFALCATIONS.
Ottawa, Nov. 13.—In the supreme court yesterday the argument was begun in the case of the Bank of Montreal vs. the King. The following counsel were present: Gormully, K.C., and Shepley, K.C. (Ords with them) of Canada and J. H. Moss for the King; for third parties (banks) Lafleur, K.C., and Mathieson for the Quebec bank; G. F. Henderson, and Al
Green for the Royal bank, and J. A.
Ritchie for the Sovereign bank. The action was brought by the government of Canada to recover from the Bank of Montreal the sum of $75,707, the aggregate of the amounts paid by the bank upon checks forged by Martineau, a clerk of the militia department, who was convicted of the forgery of these checks and sent to the penitentiary. All these checks were paid by the several third party banks, in each of which Martineau kept an account—in the Quebec bank in the name of Charles Cote, in the Sovereign bank, Charles D. Cote, and in the Royal bank in his own name.
The defence of the Bank of Montreal was that the loose system in the accountants branch of the militia department gave the facilities to Martineau for the preparation of the forgeries and that the crown was, therefore, estopped by its own negligence.
They claimed relief over the third party banks in case they were liable to the crown. The trial judge and the court of appeal for Ontario held against the Bank of Montreal on both claims.

INTERNATIONAL WATERWAYS
Buffalo, N.Y., Nov. 13.—The International Waterways Commission met here to-day. The application of the Rochester Canal Company was under consideration. Canadian interests, it is said, are behind this proposition.
If it is presented and carried out, it will open a direct water route between Montreal and New York. Men prominently identified with the project arrived here to-day and they will be given a chance to lay their plans before the Commission to-morrow. It was learned to-night on good authority that the company proposes to make Lake Champlain a storage basin for the canal, and that they want to use about 2,000 cubic feet per second from the waters of the lake. The promoters intend to utilize the waters of the lake for both navigation and power purposes. The Minnesota Canal and Power Company's application for water rights was considered but no definite action was taken. The Commissioners also discussed the Lake Erie international boundary question and the present status of Niagara Falls power. No recommendations were made, the discussion being largely over matters of detail.

IN THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES.
Paris, Nov. 13.—During the debate in the Chamber of Deputies to-day on the application of the law providing for the separation of Church and State, M. Donyx Cochin, Conservative, sustaining the attitude of the Vatican, protested against the repeated assertion that the Pope had accepted similar legislation in Germany and Switzerland, pointing out that the law of associations in those countries, unlike the French law, recognized the hierarchy of the church. Amid a lively demonstration by the members of the Right Party, M. Donyx Cochin predicted that the church would emerge triumphant from the fight with its persecutors. M. Jaures, the Socialist leader, announced that the Socialists were weary of the religious controversy and anxious to pass on to the discussion of social reforms. Being convinced of the Government's intention to apply the separation law firmly but without violence, the Socialists have decided to support the Cabinet and join in a vote of confidence in the Government. The vote of confidence was taken and gave 416 against 163 votes. It voted the

Inspector of Agencies Bredt Returns from Northern Trip.

P. M. Bredt, of Regina, Dominion government inspector of agencies and foreign colonies, accompanied by Mrs.
Bredt, arrived in Victoria yesterday after attending the New Westminster fair.

In the fall of last year Mr. Bredt visited the coast for the benefit of his health impaired by too close application to the arduous duties of his office and made his headquarters in Victoria. The balmy climate of this Island had its customary effect and in a few weeks Mr. Bredt was sufficiently recovered to undertake excursions about the Island taking notes of its conditions and advantages; and among other functions he attended the Cowan Agricultural exhibit at Duncan, where he acted as one of the judges, afterward taking a sea trip up the coast as far as Port Simpson.

"My opinion of Victoria and its surroundings," said Mr. Bredt, "is sufficiently expressed by the fact that I have taken the earliest opportunity of coming back again to spend my summer holiday with you and that I have brought Mrs. Bredt this time to share my enjoyment. I have this year repeated my west coast trip, this time extending it as far as Skagway. It is certainly the most picturesque country one could imagine. We were delighted and surprised at its grandeur, it is like several Norways in one wonderful panorama.

Among many other changes for the better that I noticed was that of the improved conditions of travel. The boat in which we made the trip was so spacious and comfortable, luxuriously fitted with the latest improvements with the additional recommendation of good cuisine and attendant, a good seaman, a genial commander and pleasant and capable officers. We enjoyed the trip immensely and were fortunate enough to have as fellow passengers, President Hayes of the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad.
We had thus the change to visit Prince Rupert. In my opinion it is an ideal location for the terminus and the harbor is unsurpassed on the coast. At present plans are being surveyed still incomplete and mariners enter for the first time with natural caution but once having made the entrance they say that they would have no fear about entering at any time. While we were there the weather was very stormy with a nasty sea running outside. Inside, however, it was perfectly clean, the position being well protected from the prevailing winds.

would carry out the separation law

Education Briand then assured the House that the Government would not negotiate directly with the Vatican.
He declared also that there had been formed under the auspices of Cardinal Lacot, Archbishop of Bordeaux, legal and diocesan associations, which were composed of a federation of local, lay and worship societies and that these associations would organize the financial arrangements for worship in each posed exclusively of members of the NEW BOOK ON QUEBEC "IN TREATY WITH HONOUR" By May Catherine Crowley.

MOORE'S, 148 ST. JOHN ST., QUEBEC.

PREMIER BOND IS AGGRESSIVE

Will Proceed Against Illegal U. S. Fishers

THE MODUS-VIVENDI

Will Enforce the Bait Act Regardless of Great Britain's Agreement.

New York, Nov. 12.—A dispatch to the Times from St. John's Nfld., says that Sir Robert Bond, premier of the colony, has taken the law into his own hands and, despite the modus vivendi, arranged some time ago between England and the United States has ordered the arrest of American fishermen violating the bait act, an ordinance of the Newfoundland government. Solicitor Edinburg, acting for the government, has gone to the Bay of Island to cause proceedings to be taken.

While there is general sympathy throughout the colony with the stand of the premier regarding the modus vivendi, his action in the present instance is blamed as precipitate. While, however, there is no feeling in Newfoundland adverse to the United States, there is a strong sentiment against sacrificing any of the interests of the people of the colony to acquire the goods will of any nation. Sir Robert Bond contends that any rights granted American fishermen are subordinate to the laws governing the people of Newfoundland, that the fishermen are bound to observe the statute known as the bait act, and that his action is merely one to enforce that law. While this is the official stand of government there is a feeling throughout the country that the action is really intended to test the extent of the provisions which grant special rights to American fishermen. These rights are at present not enjoyed by the colony's own fishermen, and were but recently, after years of negotiation, cut off from the French fishermen of St. Pierre and Miquelon.

Sir Robert Bond's action, therefore assumes international importance and may call for delicate diplomatic negotiations, but the premier is determined to test the law at once.

FATAL COLLAPSE.

Schenectady, N.Y., Nov. 13.—A special to the Gazette from Richmondville says that Ward Mattice was killed and Harry Dingman fatally injured by the collapse of the floor of the Shafer crane factory at that place to-day. Both men were buried under the debris. Mr. Dingman purchased the factory only a few days ago and it was Mattice's first day at work. The injured man was taken to the Albany Hospital. There is no hope for his recovery.

Tricked by Dyspepsia

The Doctor Couldn't Tell Where The Trouble Lay.

"For the past seven years I have been a victim of dyspepsia and chronic constipation and have consulted the most noted specialists to be found on diseases of this character. None, however, seemed to locate the difficulty or give relief. In addition to this medical treatment, I have resorted to the use of many remedies and have given them faithful trial, but all to no purpose. Upon the recommendation of a close friend, I purchased a 50c. package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and in less than five days noticed that I was receiving more benefit than from any remedy I had used before. I continued to use the tablets after each meal for one month and by that time my stomach was in a healthy condition, capable of digesting anything which my increasing appetite demanded. I have not experienced any return of my former trouble, though three months have elapsed since taking your remedy."

We wish that you could see with your own eyes the countless other bona-fide signed letters from grateful men and women all over the land who had suffered years of agony with dyspepsia, tried every known remedy and consulted eminent specialists without result, until they gave Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial. Like the doctor above, they couldn't locate the seat of the trouble.

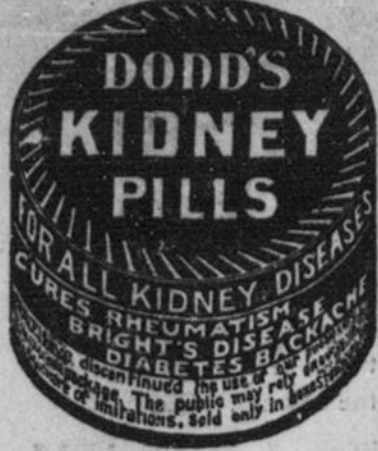

Dyspepsia is a disease which has long baffled physicians. So difficult of location is the disease that cure seems next to miraculous. There is only one way to treat dyspepsia—to supply the elements which nature has ordained to perform this function and to cause them to enter the digestive organs supplying the fluids which they lack. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets alone fill these requirements, as is shown by the fact that 40,000 physicians in the United States and Canada unite in recommending them to their patients for stomach disorders.

We do not claim or expect Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to cure anything but disordered conditions of the stomach and other digestive organs, but this they never fail to do. They work upon the inner lining of the stomach and intestines, stimulate the gastric glands and aid in the secretion of juices necessary to digestion.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box. One box will frequently effect a perfect cure. If in doubt and wish more adequate proof send us your name and address and we will gladly mail you a sample package free. F. A. Stuart Co., 61 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

ONTARIO BANK CASE

Defence of Ex-Manager McGill Now Outlined.

Toronto, Nov. 13.—The cross-examination of J. G. Langton, for years chief accountant of the Ontario Bank, lasted throughout almost an entire police court day, and incidentally disclosed the outlines of the case for the defence of Chas. McGill, ex-manager of the Ontario Bank. The efforts of Mr. R. E. McKay, who is representing Mr. McGill in these proceedings, were plainly directed towards proving the connivance of the president and the directors of the bank in the series of marginal stock speculations and in the manipulation of the accounts. The purpose appeared to be to establish that the acts of Mr. McGill were the result of a certain policy, and that he did nothing unknown to or at least some of the directors. Mr. Langton was on the stand throughout the day for cross-examination and in several instances Mr. McKay succeeded in securing statements which indicated that the bank's investments in speculative securities and its accounts with New York stock brokers must have been known to some of the directors. Before Mr. McGill came from Peterboro to be general manager of the bank the directors were engaged in an effort to maintain the quotations of the bank shares on the market and according to the evidence of Mr. Langton, Mr. A. E. Ames assisted in these operations so materially as to breed suspicion in the mind of President Cockburn that Mr. Ames was endeavoring to secure a place upon the board. It was also established by the testimony of Mr. Langton that the condition of the bank when Mr. McGill took hold was anything but enviable, that it had sustained large losses and that up to 1901 his policy of looking to the stock market for a relief for the bank's difficulties had been successful in adding $200,000 to the bank's assets. This appeared to be the maximum of profits attained under the system of leasing in speculative securities and afterwards the losses came heavy and fast. President Cockburn through his counsel, Mr. Frank Arbolli, K.C., submitted to the Crown attorney a series of questions intended to explain the impression regarding the purchase by Mr. Cockburn of Ontario Bank shares and the subsequent sale at a profit of some $4,000 to the officers' guarantee fund of the bank. With the permission of the magistrate these questions were put to Mr. Langton and it was stated that he had not secured the loan from the bank to purchase the stock, but that the loan was given upon a demand note for other purposes. The main facts concerning the transaction, however, remained unchanged. Mr. Chas. Holland, the predecessor of Mr. McGill as general manager of the bank, was a witness, and he stoutly maintained that the bank was in sound financial condition when Mr. Cockburn and Mr. McGill came into power. He said that there was no reason for the subsequent reduction of capital and that there had never been any deals in margins or any "selling short" in the market while he was general manager. Mr. McKay went over a long list of losses which the bank is said to have sustained just after Mr. Holland's resignation, intending to prove that Mr. McGill had been left a legacy of bad debts extending through every branch of the bank from Montreal to Port Arthur. Mr. Holland expressed great surprise that accounts which he had regarded as first class had turned out so badly. While the criminal proceedings were in progress civil action was also being taken against Mr. Cockburn by Mr. James Bicknell, K.C., counsel for the Ontario Bankers' Association, acting for Curator Stavert. The writ issued asked for the cancellation of the conveyance of property on Bay street made by Mr. Cockburn on October 25th to Mrs. Cockburn. The action was taken upon behalf of the bank and all the other creditors and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn were both named as defendants. The property in question consists of two lots on the west side of Bay street, south of Wellington street, and include 48 feet frontage by a depth of 107 feet. Recent sales of property in the vicinity would make a valuation about $1,600 a foot or a total of $48,000 for the property. The assessment is $550 a foot. The conveyance was claimed to be fraudulent and void and the court is asked for a judgment directing the premises to be sold for the satisfaction of the liabilities of Mr. Cockburn. The President of the Ontario Bank stated some time ago that the property had always belonged to Mrs. Cockburn, having been purchased originally with her own money and that the conveyance was nothing more than a legal formality.

THE CANADIAN CAMP

New York, Nov. 13.—The fourth annual Canadian Camp dinner was held to-night at the Hotel Astor with a roast beef from the preserves of the late Austin Corbin as the piece de resistance. Rev. Dr. Robert S. MacArthur acted as toast master. The announcement by Dr. Lennox Curtis, President of the Camp, that President Roosevelt had accepted honorary membership in the organization was cheered. General Cecil Clay, of Washington, D.C., was the guest of the evening. Among the speakers were L. O. Armstrong, of Canada; Chas. D. Roberts, the author; Dr. J. Allen, Stephen P. M. Tasker, and General Cecil Clay. Cy. Warner recited an original poem.

GOSSIP OF CAPITAL

Christian Social Union—Missing Student Found—A Swindler.

Ottawa, Nov. 13.—The Anglican clergy have decided to organize a branch of the Christian Social Union, which has for its object the collecting and distributing of information in regard to labor problems. The clergy hope to show that in Ottawa the church is in deepest sympathy with the working classes.

T. Shannon, of Hastings County, the Ottawa University student who has been missing for over a week, has been found. He was discovered working for a farmer a few miles from the city. He is said to be weak mentally and was sent home to-night.

Eabin, late manager of the burned Gilmour Hotel, closed a deal to-day whereby he becomes owner of the Belier Hotel, Metcalfe and Albert streets. The price paid was $30,000.

A slick customer, giving the name of Edward Olsen, lately from Norway, floated into Ottawa on Saturday, presented a bogus credit note for $600 at a local bank, got $95 on it and an account book showing the balance. The order for $600 purported to be from the Norwegian consul at Montreal. At Delhin's fur store he got a $100 fur-lined coat and gave a check. At Fisher's he bought a suit and overcoat, and at Sproule's he got a $25 watch and $15 stickpin. In the meantime the bank manager discovered that he had been duped and when the merchants presented their checks there was a disappointment in store for them. Mr. Olsen had left town and his whereabouts is unknown. The bank manager expects checks to turn up from other points.

Representatives of the policy-holders, the masses interested in the insurance business, together with the life managers, had their meetings before yesterday's sittings of the Insurance Commission. First the policy men were heard and then the commission discussed with the managers the detail of the report presented by them on the previous day. Messrs. Wm. Robbins and W. Christie appeared for the policy-holders and gave verbal views which later on will be put in the form of a memorial. Some important suggestions were made. Representation of holders on insurance boards, widening of the powers of the company in investments, Government custody of securities, publicity in newspapers, as well as in Bluebooks, guarantee of substance, as a preliminary to charters being granted, elimination of extraneous elements from the insurance business and its conduct purely as such and profits for policy, as well as shareholders, were some of the more important points suggested. In the further discussion with the managers their reports were explained in detail.

A LOW SENSE OF HONOR.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 13.—We must express our amazement at the low sense of honor existing amongst the electors, as revealed in the evidence of the perjury cases, and from the numerous election suits arising from time to time in the widely divided parts of the Dominion. It would seem as if all the electorate was tainted, void of all sense of honor, and as if the end in all cases justified the means. We beg to suggest that a law be formulated in which the receiver will be punished as well as the giver, and that severe penalties should be meted out to all participants in political corruption as well as debar and prevent repetition of such deplorable scandals. This is a paragraph from the presentment of the grand jury made to-day by Mr. Justice Teetzel in the assize court. In view of the attempted assaults on children the jury recommends that the Government should give every satisfaction to the Children's Aid Society and every organization of the kind. It was the duty of the State to see that children were removed from dissipated parents and scenes of vice. Mr. Justice Teetzel complimented the jury on its presentment and said he would have copies of it sent to the Provincial Government.

A NEGRO RUNS AMUCK.

Asheville, N.C., Nov. 13.—Fighting bravely in defense of their police captain, Patrolmen Chas. Blackstock and Wm. Bailey, of this city, were shot to death to-night by a negro, who also killed and fatally wounded another. The murderer gave his name as "Will Harris, of Charlotte, N.C., a desperado for whom a large reward has been standing for some time. Prior to the death of the two officers, a negro restaurant keeper named Ben Allison was shot and killed by Harris, without provocation. Another negro named Tom Neil lies mortally wounded, he too being shot before the officers took a hand in the melee. Harris, starting out on his tour, fired into two houses. Later he wounded Allison. On Main street he encountered Tom Neil and fired at him. Police Captain Page and Officers Bailey and Blackstock rushed from police headquarters in pursuit. Captain Page, who met the negro in Main street, received a bullet in the arm. Page called upon Blackstock to fire, but before that officer could do so, Blackstock fell dead with a bullet in the chest. Bailey fired twice without hitting and the negro then shot and killed Bailey. The negro escaped.

All things come to him who doesn't wait, but hustles.

"Grand Peninsular"

Is an Ornament to the Home.

Popular taste no longer clings to deeply carved, highly ornamental ranges.

People now want rich, yet simple, elegance.

That is the way I make my new Grand Peninsular Range.

The "Grand Peninsular" is easy to keep clean, because there are no deep carvings to collect the dust and dirt. The design is simple but very effective. No fuss or frills. Just smooth surfaces which take a beautiful bright polish. The nickelled castings are detachable, and can be lifted off without loosening a bolt, when the range is to be brushed or cleaned.

Then there is the ALL-STEEL OVEN—the THERMOMETER on the oven door—extra large GRATE BARS—and a dozen other time-and-labor-savings conveniences—that are exclusive with my GRAND PENINSULAR. Have your dealer show you all these points.

A RUSSIAN GENERAL'S DEEP LAID PLOT

To Retrieve His Sinking Fortunes
ALLEGED BOMB ATTEMPT

How Believed on Good Authority to Have Been Planned by General Rheinbat
H. himself.

Moscow, Nov. 13.—Gen. Rheinbat has received hundreds of messages, including a personal communication from Emperor Nicholas through Premier Stolypin, and a despatch from Count Witte congratulating him upon his escape from death by a bomb yesterday. In spite of these congratulations, which give color to the official version of the attempt on the prefect's life, there are ugly rumors in Moscow that General Rheinbat was himself the author of the plot against his own life. He is thought to have schemed to retrieve his sinking fortunes, and to save off retirement. It having been decided upon in official circles to relieve him from duty. Suspicious rumors are supported by certain circumstantial evidence. General Rheinbat, at the time the attempt on his life was made, was following an unusual path on foot through narrow alleys. The bomb exploded in a manner described as highly suspicious. Pieces picked up on the spot show it to have been nothing more than an imitation bomb, quite without effective covering and perfectly harmless. It failed to explode until it had rolled to the opposite side of the street, and to a safe distance from the prefect. The original theory was that the bomb did not go off because the dynamite in it was frozen. Now the police explain it was a fuse bomb and the Social revolutionists discarded such missiles long ago. On account of indignation aroused at the statement that General Rheinbat shot down his assailant while he was being held by two policemen, a statement is issued to-night to the effect, that the bomb thrower who was killed by the general, was struggling to escape and that he also fired at the prefect but the revolver which he is alleged to have used has not been found. It is declared to-night that the man did not have a revolver, that he had been promised that he would be allowed to escape. General Rheinbat, however, is alleged to have shot him to get rid of him. The claim made by the police that the man was a brother of Vladimir Mazury has been disproved. St. Petersburg, Nov. 13.—Count Witte, the former Premier, will shortly be received by Emperor Nicholas at Tsarskoe-Selo.

VICEREGAL RESIDENCE IN TORONTO
Toronto, Nov. 13.—It is rumored that the Ontario Government is considering the advisability of establishing a viceregal residence in Toronto, in which the Governor-General would spend a month or so several times during the year, and that the Goddard house at St. George and Bloor streets is to be purchased with that object.

TO BANQUET EARL GREY.
Toronto, Nov. 13.—The Canadian Club has completed all arrangements for the banquet to be given His Excellency Earl Grey at the King Edward Hotel, on November 29th. Viscount Howick will accompany His Excellency. Hon. J. P. Whitney, premier of Ontario, who is to be one of the speakers, has stated that he will have something to say at that time which will be of public interest. Tickets will be on sale at the King Edward from November 29th to 24th for members only, and after that date tickets not sold will be disposed of to non-members. The limit of accommodation for the banquet will be three hundred.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.
New Castle, Pa., Nov. 13.—One man was killed and three others were seriously wounded, probably fatally injured this evening when a fast eastbound passenger train on the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad ran into a wagon loaded with logs at a grade crossing at Edensburg, Pa., six miles west of this city. The train was running at a high rate of speed from Youngstown, Ohio, to Pittsburgh, Pa.
As it reached the grade crossing leading to the Edensburg highway bridge it struck a wagon loaded with logs.
The engine became uncoupled from the train and ran 150 feet along the ties and then crashed into a grain mill, partially wrecking the building. Fireman Patrick Carnes remained in his position and when the engine overturned he was crushed.

A MILTON STREET CAR STRIKE.
Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 13.—Mayor Biggar issued a proclamation to-day stating that the riot act will be read if the disorderly conduct on the streets, when the cars are operated, is not stopped. Judge and magistrate have agreed that all found guilty of taking part in the disturbances would be sent to prison for ten years. The Street Railway Company asked the mayor to requisition the militia and he refused, but issued his proclamation instead.
The company intended to operate the cars to-day but because of yesterday's riotous proceedings decided not to attempt it. The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board to-day decided to investigate the finances of the Hamilton Street Railway Co., and will also seek to discover the price the Cataract Co. charges it for power and the profit it makes on it.

At a meeting of the police commissioners this afternoon they decided that they were unable to give proper police protection and that if the company ran its cars it should assume the risk. The mayor has issued a proclamation to the citizens calling on them to observe good order. This evening the company officially announced that it will commence to run cars to-morrow morning and have asked the Toronto authorities for militia protection.

night invested King Haakon of Norway with the Order of the Garter, at a special chapter held in the throne room of Windsor Castle. The investment was attended with great pomp and ceremony. Although knights of the order are elected from time to time as vacancies occur there has not been an investiture like the one of today since 1855, when the late Queen Victoria conferred the honor upon Napoleon III. and Victor Emmanuel, then King of Sardinia. King Edward is the only surviving member of the royal house of Great Britain who participated in that historic rite. Queen Alexandra, as "The Lady of the Order," whose predecessor lived two centuries ago, was present to-night.
The brilliant colors of the gorgeous robes of the knights and knight companions of the order as well as the richness of the decorations of the historic chamber where the investiture took place made the scene one of the most brilliant and impressive of the present reign. The ceremony was followed by a state banquet.

DAY BY DAY.

Please shut the door! Get the habit early and avoid the rush — of profanity.

These are the days when the small boy makes a hit — and the hit makes a noise like an angry individual.

Time was made for slaves, 'tis said, but it looks mighty like as if certain bank directors were going to be handed out a share of it.

NO RAILWAY STRIKE.
New York, Nov. 13.—There no longer appears to be any danger of a strike of railroad employes in the east as the situation with reference to the demands of the members of certain organizations was cleared considerably to-day. The New York, New Haven and Hartford, and the New York Central railroads came to an agreement with committees representing the firmness of the two roads affecting the status of the men on the new electric locomotives and the adjustment committee of the Erie locomotive engineers, announced late to-day it had come to an agreement with the officials of that system. The firemen's committee will confer further with the New York Central and the New York, New Haven and Hartford officials concerning the questions of increased wages and shorter hours. Grand Chief Stone, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, left to-night for Cleveland. At the conclusion of the first session of the engineers adjustment committee, with Assistant General Manager A. J. Stone, at the offices of the Erie Railroad to-day, it was announced that a settlement had been reached with the engineers on a mileage instead of per diem basis. As there are 18 divisions in the system and about 300 different rates to be adjusted, the committee sessions with Assistant General Manager Stone will be prolonged and the work is expected to occupy at least a month. It was stated at the offices of the Erie system late to-day that there will be no trouble in reaching an agreement with the firemen at the proper time as President Underwood's letter to Chief Hennahan was not a refusal to grant concessions to the dissatisfied men, but simply a request to hold off until settlements could be made with yardmen, switchmen, brakemen and other employes of the company. It was said that when those adjustments shall have been made the demands of the firemen will be taken up and those considered reasonable be granted.

A GOOD EXCUSE.
A Washington woman prominent in the official set of the national council tells of a function to which she had invited an attaché of one of the legations famous for his extreme politeness. The invitation was formally accepted, but on the morning of the appointed day she received a note, written by the diplomatist's valet, and couched in the following terms:—
"Senior Blank regrets much that he will be unable to attend Mrs. Stan-ard-Say's reception on the evening of the 22nd instant, as he is dead.—Rochester Herald.

LAUGHED AT FIRST
But Changed His Mind on Investigation.

It often seems ridiculous what a simple thing can do in shaping our lives.

We do certain things because our fathers before us did, and don't stop to think that we might be better for a change.

A man tells how he managed from coffee to Postum and how to get rid of it.
"I have been a heavy coffee-drinker for years, got very nervous and my mind seemed dazed. I would go to work every morning with an unsteady hand, and actually endanger my life, as I am a building mechanic.

RUSSIA IN TURKISTAN.
London, Nov. 13.—Folled in Manchester and not knowing what will be the outcome of the present disastrous condition of affairs at home, Russia is still proceeding quietly and successfully with the great work on which she has been employed for the last twenty years, for it is within that comparatively short time that Russia silently and almost secretly has developed Russian Turkestan.

Twenty years ago these Trans-Caspian territories were waste places, covered with the ruins of long past splendors. To-day in travelling east by the Trans-Caspian Railway, town after town, and city after city, worthy of Europe, are passed, and in the region between the Caspian and the Pamirs there is a standing army of some half a million men. Ashkabad, Tashkend, Merv, Bokhara and Samar-cand are to-day busy industrial, commercial centres; twenty years ago they were typical Central Asian settlements.

Huge military camps, towns, and railways have sprung up practically unnoticed, and now Samarkand has a population of 65,000, Ashkabad 25, 000 and Tashkend 14,000, of which at least 35,000 are Europeans. These figures do not include huge garrisons, which are maintained throughout the country. These garrisons are increasing every year, for this is a military empire which is growing up in central Asia. Every district in every province has been carefully surveyed to see how many troops can be supported and what army supplies can be drawn upon. Even at the most critical stages of the Russo-Japanese War there was no wholesale denuding of Trans-Caspia. Its troops were permitted for the moment to garrison Merv, but were never allowed to fall below 100,000 with the proper proportion of horses and guns.

In drawing attention to the above facts the Post points out the importance thereof to the Indian Government and notes how erroneous is the general idea that an army marching against India from the north would have to cross hundreds of miles of desert, sterile wastes.

Do You Want to Know What You Swallow?

There is a growing sentiment in this country in favor of medicinal or "knows" compositions. It is but natural that our should have some interest in the composition of that which he or she is expected to swallow, whether it be food, drink or medicine.

Recognizing this growing disposition on the part of the public, and satisfied that the fullest publicity can only add to the well-earned reputation of his medicines, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has "taken time by the forelock," as it were, and is publishing broadcast a list of all the ingredients entering into his leading medicines, the "Golden Medical Discovery," the popular liver invigorator, stomach tonic, blood purifier and heart regulator; also his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, over-worked, broken-down, nervous and invalid women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated anti-bilious granules. They regulate and invigorate the stomach, bowels and bowels. Do not bore the "pill habit," but sure constipation. One or two for an stomach tonic, blood purifier, three or four for an active cathartic. Once tried always in favor.

POTATOES AND PANCAKES were seemingly very good dishes on board the Gaspesian in the morning.

And the command has gone forth to the myrmidons of the law to seize sleigh and spare not.

Some people are beginning to think that rubber and robber are synonymous terms.

It is to be hoped that the Union station will not cause disunion.

Say nothing, but shovel coal.

Wonder if the passengers on the Gaspesian found the pancakes like those that mother used to make.

To slide or not to slide is a problem
Which occupies the small boy's mind,
But if a bluecoat heaves in sight,
He'd better leave his sleigh behind.

County, who has been an inmate of the poor house for the past six years the latest information received here
