NEWFOUNDLAND.

Wintry Weather—Cattle Dying—Failure of the Cod Fishery—Vessels Injured by Ice—Whales Driven Ashore—The Mail Boat in the Ice.

QUEBEC, June 8.—Mr. Rennie, the lighthouse keeper at Cape Ray, Nfld., writes on May 3rd:—"I have very little of any importance to write, with the exception of the severity of the weather, and that is something fearful, snowing every day and every night. Cattle and sheep are dying for want of food, and the snow is too deep to get through the woods to look for anything and the animals are very weak. The cod fishery has been almost a failure, owing to so much rough weather in the first part of the Winter, and latterly the ice preventing the men from getting out on the ground. A very great deal of destitution prevails amongst the fishermen in many of the harbors. There are some of the sealing schooners returning from the ice with very poor returns, which in many cases will not cover expenses. Some were very badly hurt by the ice, and fears are entertained that some of them will not be able to get through the ice at all. The crews are exhausted from pumping. Some of them have been pumping constantly for two weeks. There has been quite an excitement here lately by the capture, or rather the driving on shore, of six large whales at Codroy river. Two drove on shore at the Great river and four drove on shore in one night at the Little river,—quite a providential thing for the people, they being actually in a state of starvation at that time. They have had hard times to get along. They cut off the fat and sold it to a party in the Channel for $1.25 per cwt. taken from the spot. They had not the means of rendering out the oil themselves. The purchaser sends it to St. John's in bulk. There are numbers of vessels and steamships hovering round, keeping clear of the ice and lying by the light at night. The mail boat was three weeks behind time last trip, therefore we are not very well posted. She was fast in the ice off Placentia Bay. She is badly hurt; her port bow was stove in, and six of her iron ribs were broken. They got patched enough to enable her to get along providing she can keep clear of the ice on her route to St. John's, but goodness knows what time we will get another mail. Yours most respectfully, ROBERT RENNIE."

ANGLICAN SYNOD.

Close of the Proceedings.

KINGSTON, June 8.—The meeting of the Synod closed last evening at 10.30 o'clock.

Among the most important reports was that presented by Rev. Dr. Jones of the Board of Foreign Missions, showing receipts of $1,347.-67, an increase of $400 over last year; lamenting the death of Bishop Fauquier, and bearing witness to his lasting missionary services; congratulating the Church at large on Dr. Sullivan's election, and confidently pledging a full share of support from this diocese.

After a number of other reports had been received and adopted, Mr. Reynolds moved that the Mission Board take into consideration the employing of missionary agents, who shall urge upon members of the Church throughout the diocese the necessity of contributing liberally and systematically to the mission fund and for general mission service.

The following committee was named to consider the Parnell matter as introduced by Rev. Dr. Wilson: Judge Macdonald, S. McMorine, R. T. Walkem, the Chancellor, Rev. R. Low, Canon Pettit, E. P. Crawford and Dr. Wilson.

It was moved that the salary of the Clerical Secretary be increased to $1,400, until he shall receive benefits from the commutation fund. The motion was carried.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

Debate on the Repression Bill—The Ministry Accused of Imbecility.

LONDON, June 8.—The debate on the Repression bill was resumed in the House of Commons. Mr. Russell's amendments defining intimidation as threats or acts of violence to persons or property, or incitement thereto, was rejected. Before the vote Sir Wm. Harcourt undertook to insert the words, "providing acts prescribed by this clause must, to be punishable, be done with animus." Mr. Parnell declared the so-called concession made the clause worse.

The amendment offered by Mr. Parnell, seeking to define intimidation, and limiting it to certain definite acts, was rejected.

Mr. T. P. O'Connor, supporting the amendment, accused the Ministry of imbecility. Objection was made, but the Chairman ruled that the language was not unparliamentary.

COLLISION AT SEA.

An Unknown Steamer runs into the United states Man-of-War "Alert."

KOBE, Japan, May 9, 1882.—The United States man-of-war "Alert" steamed away from Kobe on the afternoon of April 13. The next morning saw the "Alert" return to the anchorage she had quitted almost a wreck, with a heavy list over on her port side and a yawning hole in her side abreast of the foremast to starboard. The night had been clear and starlight, there was hardly any wind and the water was perfectly smooth. The "Alert" was under steam, on her way to Yokohama, about one and a half miles from the coast, proceeding down the Kil Channel heading south-south-east and going at a speed of about seven knots per hour. At twenty minutes to ten p.m., Master W. P. Clason, the officer of the deck, made out the masthead light of a steamer about two points on the starboard bow, and shortly afterward her green or starboard light, showing that she could pass well clear of him. At four minutes past ten, however, for some reason not yet known, the passing steamer, bearing at that time three and three-quarters points on the "Alert's" starboard bow, suddenly put her helm to port and apparently attempted to cross the "Alert's" bow. Mr. Clason first seeing all her running lights and then losing sight of the green light saw at a glance the stranger's intention and put the "Alert's" helm to starboard, then hard to starboard, blew the steam whistle twice to attract attention, slowed and stopped the engines. The order was given to back hard, but before it could be obeyed the collision took place. The "Alert" fell off, obedient to her helm, to south-east one-half east. But too late to avoid the blow. At six minutes past ten the steamer struck the "Alert," coming from a direction one point abaft the beam, and apparently at full speed. The "Alert" was cut down to six inches below the water line, the iron hull curling like paper under the steamer's sharp prow. One poor fellow, a Chinese servant, who was asleep on a chest, directly in the wake of the place struck, received severe and fatal injuries from which he died next day. No one else on board was seriously injured, though the "Jenzei's" bow came among the sleeping watch below. Work was begun at once repairing, the barge "Shipyard," of Kirby & Co., furnishing every facility, and it is expected that the little ship will be once more homeward bound by the 1st of June. It is understood that an offer was made by the Japanese Government to pay the expenses incurred repairing the damages to the "Alert," caused by the collision.

IRISH AFFAIRS.

Double Murder Near Gort — Davitt's American Tour.

DUBLIN, June 8.—Walter Bourke, a Galway landlord, was shot dead to-day. A soldier, his escort, was also killed. A volley was fired at Bourke and his escort from behind a wall as they were riding near Gort. Both fell dead. Bourke was a magistrate, and son of the late Crown Solicitor. He was a barrister, and had amassed a fortune in India. He contested the seat in Parliament for Mayo against Nelson, had disputes with tenants, and recently left London to carry out evictions. A few months ago he entered the church at Carraro with a rifle while mass was being celebrated. The priest ordered him to leave. He escaped by the side door to avoid being mobbed.

LONDON, June 8.—The news of the murder of Bourke created a sensation in the House of Commons to-night. Mr. Parnell and other Irish members expressed regret at the assassination. They stated that the Land League of Gort district ceased to exist six months ago.

CORK, June 9.—Davitt, addressing a meeting this evening, explained that his object in going to America was to make an appeal toward the support of Anna Parnell and the Ladies' League, and contradict the lying rumor of a split in the League.

TROY, N.Y., June 8.—Michael Davitt, the Irish leader has cabled that he will be in Troy at the festival of the Amalgamated Land League on July 4th.

THE EGYPTIAN CRISIS.

Dervisch Pasha and the Military Party —Demonstration at Cairo.

CAIRO, June 8.—Dervisch Pasha is the bearer of letters written by the Sultan's private secretary and the President of the Council of Ministers, explaining that the mission is intended to re-establish order and give fresh strength to the Khedive's authority. Arabi and other officers waited upon Dervisch this afternoon. It is reported that they were coldly received. It is rumored that Egyptian officers held a meeting, and decided that after a show of resistance, they would yield to the Sultan's commands, and abandon Arabi and the other leaders.

Yacoub Pasha, the emissary of the military party, despite the commands of the Khedive, travelled on the special train conveying the Turkish mission to Cairo. He afterwards proceeded to the Ghezirah Palace, seated in Dervisch Pasha's carriage. The military party arranged a demonstration. Several hundred youths of the lower classes ran before and behind the cortege, shouting "Allah, make Islam victorious, Allah, destroy the heathens." They also grossly insulted Europeans on hotel verandahs. The Khedive gave an audience to the principal members of the mission this evening. The Khedive afterwards returned the visit.

DEATH OF HON. LUCIUS ROBINSON.

NEWPORT, Vt., June 8.—Hon. Lucius Robinson, died here, this morning, at 3.40, after several weeks of intense suffering. At first a sore of the nature of gangrene appeared upon the right foot, and though painful, it was thought by the physicians that it could be controlled, and no serious results were immediately apprehended further than the probable loss of a part of the foot. It continued thus for four or five weeks, when a rapid decline, with great loss of strength and a general breaking down of the entire system, took place. Prominent physicians from Boston, Montreal and the surrounding country were summoned, and at length, as the last hope, on Tuesday forenoon last one leg was amputated above the knee. The operation was succesfully accomplished, and the patient bore it as well as could be expected. It did not avail, however, but though his death was not expected so soon, it is not supposed the amputation had any effect, certainly not to hasten death. The immediate cause was no doubt mortification. Mr. Robinson was born in Derby, Vt., about four miles from this village, on April 5, 1823, and so had just passed his 59th birthday.

GARIBALDI.

Last Moments of the Dead General—Funeral Obsequies.

ROME, June 8.—Garibaldi died with the window of his apartment open and while the sun was setting. Before the last agony, a bird alighted on the sill, where it remained twittering. Garibaldi saw it and stammered "how joyful it is."

CAPRERA, June 8.—The remains of Garibaldi were interred in the cemetery this afternoon. A storm of wind and rain raged the whole time. The coffin was covered with garlands and flowers, and was borne by the survivors of the thousand of Marsala, and followed by the Duke of Genoa, Zanardelli, Gen. Ferrero, representatives of both Chambers, and delegates of three hundred various associations. Speeches were delivered at the grave by the Vice-President of the Senate, President of the Chamber of Deputies, two Cabinet Ministers and Crispi. All applauded the deeds of the deceased. As the coffin was lowered salutes were fired by the Italian men-of-war "Washington" and "Garibaldi."

THE CLAYTON-BULWER TREATY.

English Press Opinions on Mr. Frelinghuysen's Despatch.

LONDON, June 8.—The News says, regarding Mr. Frelinghuysen's despatch, that "Lord Granville will not fail to remember that commercial as well as legal and political considerations are decisive against the position Mr. Frelinghuysen has chosen to assume. "The Standard says: "Mr. Frelinghuysen's considerations are certainly not arguments that affect the validity of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty and can only be regarded as topics of local prejudice introduced to show the strength of the motives which urge the American Government to withdraw from their engagements and render it impossible for their representatives to take a just and dispassionate view of the legal side of the question. The answer to all this rhetoric is that the treaty has been made and ought to be kept."

HON. ALEXANDER MACKENZIE.

TORONTO, June 8.—The Evening Telegram to-night has the following:—Mr. Mackenzie is lying at Markham village seriously ill. We regret to hear that his condition to-day is not improved, and that it gives rise to the gravest apprehensions. A consultation of medical men has been held. As the nomination of candidates takes place on Tuesday next the advisability of nominating a Liberal candidate in his place is now being discussed. In that event it is thought likely that Mr. Badgerow will be selected. It is to be hoped, however, that Mr. Mackenzie will still be able to remain in the field.

OTTAWA, June 8.—A private despatch received in the city to-day says Hon. Mr. Mackenzie is much better to-day.

THE LATE DR. DESOLA.

Impressive Services—Oration at the Grave.

The funeral procession having reached the Chenneville street Synagogue the coffin was received by the Rev. Dr. Mendes, of the Nineteenth street Synagogue, N.Y., who chanted a brief service. A long line of carriages then conveyed the funeral procession to the gates of the Jewish cemetery. The coffin having been placed by the grave Dr. Mendes, as is usual in such cases, walked seven times round the coffin chanting portions of the Hebrew burial service.

Rev. Dr. Mendes then pronounced an eloquent eulogium on the life and character of the deceased. In brief, he said, that they could call to mind myriad instances wherein he proved his zeal for all that is dear to the Jewish people, his energy in all the duties that devolved upon a minister; his truth in all that marked the friend and counsellor. They could also remember how when the dark shadows of affliction came to their homes, when death called some dear one, or when disease held them in his painful hold; how Abraham DeSola hurried to their sides with words fragrant with heavenly sympathy. They could call to mind how he shed lustre on the name of Jews; how, if respect be attached to the name of Jew throughout the length and breadth of Canada, to Abraham DeSola belonged the chief glory of having gained it. The reverend gentleman went on to speak of the religious character of the deceased, his faith and study of religion in all the objects of nature, his usefulness and his adherence to duty. Dr. Mendes impressed upon his hearers that they should show their love for the deceased by following out the instructions he had laid down. By doing so they would raise a monument to him far more enduring than the granite.

This address was received by nearly all present with unaffected grief and sympathy for those on whom the loss fell heaviest.

Mr. L. A. Hart, M.A., then added a few eulogistic remarks. He alluded to the fact that for the past five and thirty years their beloved minister had been to the outside world a leading exponent of Jewish principles, of orthodox Jewish belief and of Jewish thought. But they knew what the outside world did not the fact of his being a friend, an adviser and a judge to whom his people had at all times turned for comfort and advice.

The coffin was then lowered into the grave and the ceremonies were concluded by the relatives each throwing in three spadefuls of earth according to the Jewish custom.

MONTREAL CALEDONIAN SOCIETY.

Medical.

Brilliant Scientific Triumph, in France and England.

It is now recognized by the leading medical men that Dr. M. Souvielle's Spirometer is the most wonderful invention of the age for the cure of Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all lung diseases. After having been used in the leading hospitals, it was proved that 75 per cent. of those diseases, by many called incurable, can be cured by the Spirometer, an instrument which conveys medicinal properties direct to the parts affected. This discovery is proving a blessing to mankind and a credit to his name. Many persons in the city of Montreal, and all over the Dominion, have been cured of the above diseases. Below are a few of the many hundreds:—Mr. G. Hill, Montreal, catarrh and bronchitis. Mr. DeBoucherville, of the Indian Department Ottawa, catarrh of many years; now cured. Mr. Geo. Ager, Ottawa, catarrh and lung diseases; cured. Mrs. Smith, London, wife of Medical Detective, cured of catarrh. Geo. Maguire, Toronto, 432 Adelaide street West; daughter cured of asthma. "Several of my family and friends have been cured of bronchitis, asthma, and catarrh by using the Spirometer." John P. Whelan, Manager of the Post and True Witness, Montreal. Geo. Willis, Exeter, Ont., catarrh and bronchitis. John Dunn, 8 Robert street, bronchitis. J. D. Armstrong, 186 Yonge street, Toronto, catarrh and catarrhal deafness. Thomas Telfer, 12 Melinda street, Toronto, asthma cured. Mr. Benj. A. Drake, St. Urbain street, Montreal, for many years suffering from bronchitis and asthma, is now cured. Thousands could be given, but the above is sufficient to convince the public of the merits of the Spirometer. Call or write, enclosing stamp, to M. Souvielle, ex-Aide-Surgeon of French army, 13 Phillips Square, Montreal. Physicians and sufferers can try it free.

Trade and Commerce.

WEEKLY REVIEW — WHOLESALE PRICES.

STAR OFFICE, MONTREAL, June 9.

The trade situation is not materially changed. The elections are now engrossing a large share of public attention, and the effect of this is greatly to restrict the business done by travellers now in the interior. The festival of Corpus Christi occurred this week, and added one more to the holidays we have already had this Spring. Several more will occur within the next month. We are glad to notice a better feeling, and a larger movement among our dry goods merchants, the weather now being most favorable for the dry goods trade, and, in fact, for most branches of trade and commerce. The imports at this port continue heavy, but our exports, consisting of grain, flour, butter, cheese lumber, live stock and phosphates, are light as compared with the large amount of tonnage offering hence for European ports. Ocean freight charges on imports to Canada continue very high, while on exports the charges are exceedingly light.

GROCERIES.—The city jobbing trade is quiet, but there is a fair country demand for all grocery staples. Prices steady; remittances very good.

TEAS.—Low lines of Young Hysons are in demand, and sales have been made at about 18c for round lots. The demand from the country is increasing. Green Teas—First Young Hysons are firmer in both New York and London. There is a better enquiry for choice Japans at 35c to 40c, but buyers are hard to suit as to figures. We hear of the sale of about 500 half-chests of low grade Japans at 19c to 20c. Young Hyson, the finer grades, has been inquired for West at 50c to 60c. The latest quotations from Japan indicate for the new crop a very firm market. Japan, common, 15c to 20c; good common to medium, 22c to 27c; fair to good, 30c to 35c; fine to finest, 38c to 43c; choicest, 45c to 50c; Nagasaki, 20c to 30c; Young Hyson, firsts, 40c to 47c; seconds, 33c to 40c; thirds, 27c to 30c; fourths, 18c to 23c; gunpowder, low grades, 28c to 32c; good to fine, 35c to 45c; finest, 55c to 65c; Imperial, medium to good, 33c to 38c; fine to finest, 45c to 60c; Twankey, common to good, 00c to 00c; Oolong, common, 33c to 38c; good to choice, 40c to 65c; Congou, common, 20c to 25c; medium to good, 27c to 35c; fine to finest, 40c to 55c; Souchong, common, 28c to 30c; medium to good, 38c to 45c; fine to choice, 50c to 70c.

SUGARS.—Market steady. Refiners are selling heavy lots of yellows and are firm at 9¼ to 9⅜ for granulated in large lots. Granulated, 9⅛c to 9¼c; grocers' "A" 9⅛c to 9¼c; bright, 8½c to 9c; medium, 8c to 8⅜c; yellow, 7¼c to 7½c.

SYRUP.—Scarce and high. In molasses we hear of the sale of a fair amount of Barbadoes at 55c, which cleans out the market. There has been an offer of 54c for a cargo to arrive, and refused. Antigua is scarce at 49c to 50c. Cienfuegos is quiet and steady at 47c to 48c. There is a good enquiry for Trinidad at 49c to 50c. Sugar house, 34c to 35c. Samples of Porto Rico are not offering, but would fetch 52c. The stocks are all light.

FRUITS. — Fruits firm all round. Valencia raisins are quoted at 11c to 11¼c, and currants at 6c to 6½c; Layer raisins, $2.95 to 3.00; loose muscatel, $3.10 to 3.15; London lays, $3.35 to 3.40.

SPICES.—Nothing new to report. We quote:—Cassia, per lb, 13c to 18c; mace, 90c to $1.00; cloves, 40c to 50c; Jamaica ginger, per bl, 22c to 28c; Jamaica ginger, unbl, 17c to 21c; Cochin ginger, 14c to 20c; African, 10c to 11c; black pepper, 15c to 17c; pimento, 12c to 14c; mustard, 4 lb jars, 15c to 20c; mustard, 1 lb. jars 24c to 25c; nutmegs, unlimed, 85c to 95c; limed, 65c to 95c.

DRY GOODS.—Remittances appear to have been fairly satisfactory the past week. Our retail people are more than busy and what between the preparations being made for the grand procession of Corpus Christi and the preparations for the exodus to the country quarters of our citizens, business in this department has been very satisfactory so far this month. A good many travellers are now out with special lines in Fall goods, but the great event of the 20th inst., viz., the elections, seems in the meantime to absorb the attention of the shop keepers in all directions and little business is being done on the road in consequence.

IRON AND HARDWARE.—Information from Europe was rather meagre this week. Bar iron was still reported easy and tin plates firm. Spot sales were not numerous in any line, but prices were steady in consequence of a continued firm freight market. In hardware a moderate movement is reported. Pig iron, per ton, Siemens, $22.00 to 23; Summerlee, $22.00 to 23; Langloan, $22.-25 to $23.00; Eglinton, $22.00 to $23.50; Carnbroe, $23; Bars per 100 lbs, $2.25 to 2.35; Canada plates, per box, Hatton, $3.50; other brands, $3.25; tin plates, per box, charcoal IC, $5.75 to 6; coke, IC, $4.50 to 4.75; Tinned Sheets, No. 26, charcoal, $11 to 11.25; Galvanized sheets, No. 28, best $7.50 to 7.75; hoops and bands, per 100 lbs, $2.50 to 2.75 sheets, best brands, $2.60 to 2.75; Boiler plates, $3; Russia sheet iron, per lb, 12½c. Ingot tin, 24½c to 25c. Ingot copper, 18½c to 19c. Sheet zinc, per 100 lbs, $5.40 to 5.75; spelter, $5.25 to 5.75. Horse shoes, per 100 lbs, $4.75 to 5. BOOTS AND SHOES. — The main features of the market are unchanged. Trade is still fairly active and the factories are in receipt of seasonable orders from travellers now out on their Fall trip. Remittances are very fair and prices are steady. No serious trouble reported so far with the operatives. Men's thick boots wax, $2.25 to 3.25; men's split do, $1.60 to 2.25; men's kip boots, $2.50 to 3.25; men's calf boots, pegged, $3 to 3.75; men's kip brogans, $1.35 to 1.40; men's split do, 90c to $1.10; men's buff congress, $1.50 to 2; men's buff and pebbled bals, $1.75 to 2.25; men's split do, $1.25 to 1.50; shoe packs, $1.00 to 1.75; women's pebbled and buff bals, $1.00 to 1.50; do split bals, 90c to $1.10; do prunella bals, 50c to $1.50; do inferior bals, 45c to 50c; do congress bals, 50c to $1.25; do buskins bals, 60c to 80c; misses' pebbled and buff bals, 90c to $1.15; do split bals, 75c to 90c; do prunella bals, 60c to $1; do congress bals, 60c to 70c; childs' pebbled and buff bals, 60c to 90c; do split bals, 50c to 60c; do prunella bals, 50c to 85c; infants' cacks, per doz., $3.75 to $6.50.

LEATHER.—The market may still be called very quiet. The scarcity of the best grades of B. A. sole leather is as marked as ever, holders placing such grades on the market in a very conservative spirit. Sales of No. 1 B A Spanish are reported at 25½c. The market is rather bare of No. 1 Slaughter and sales are readily made at 29c, provided the quality is strictly first-class. A good supply of inferior grades is offered at prices varying from 24c to 26c. The movement in black leather has been mainly confined to buff, several round lots of which have recently been placed on special terms, said to be in the neighborhood of 15c. We quote 13c to 16c, as to quality. Stocks are not accumulating, tanners having been forced to succumb by the high price of the raw material, and the unremunerative rates paid for the manufactured article. FRIDAY, JUNE 9, 1882.

THIRTY-TWO thousand beggars were arrested last year in Berlin. Heaven knows how many could be arrested in Canada if the party hacks were counted in.

"PARNELL and the Irish members expressed their regret at the assassination," says the despatch about the murder of another landlord. It is too bad to keep troubling Mr. Parnell in this way.

His name is Chesbrough, he is an American from New York, and he has been engaged as sanitary engineer at a liberal figure by the City of Winnipeg, and we mention these facts because Winnipeg has been kicking up dido about the alleged preference shown to Americans by the Canada Pacific Syndicate in its official appointments.

THE Toronto World, which stands almost alone in Canada as actually an independent party paper, urges that no candidate for Parliament, of whatever stripe, be allowed to go without pledging himself to assist in putting a final stop to the process of gerrymandering constituencies. The advice is good, and the question ought to be put to every nominee by electors who are concerned for the good name of the nation.

THE remains of Garibaldi have been buried in Caprera cemetery, the intended cremation having been abandoned from want of proper appliances. Amid a storm of wind and rain hundreds of the first men of Italy watched the interment of the man through whom their rise was made possible, and over the grave thundered the guns of the ironclads that have replaced the fishing boats in which the Liberator set out to accomplish the freedom of his country.

BOTH political parties are howling about the young men of the country. The fact is, that until very recently the young men of the country have had no reason to care a continental for either party. Until very recently there was not, outside of the National Policy, a solitary plank in either of the political platforms possessing any live interest for Young Canada, which is totally unconcerned about Grit and Tory records, wrongs and wranglings. There have been signs of late that Young Canada has a mind of its own.

A REMARKABLE protest has been issued by the Russian Nihilists against the charges that they were in complicity with the recent assassinations in Ireland and the attempts in New York against the lives of Vanderbilt and Gould. The protest says:—

"Should our Russia enjoy such liberties and opportunities as are possessed by the people of England and of the United States, then every execution carried out here under our authority would be foul murder. Give us the ballot-box and we will joyfully and forever give up bombs. We fight against despotism, and as soon as our Russian people win the right to set up through the ballot-box their own Government, and we have freedom of speech and of the press, our regenerative revolutionary mission shall be at an end."

The regenerative revolutionary mission stands a chance of lasting a long while yet.

THE Globe persists in periodically ejecting crazy arguments against the Government and the Pacific Syndicate in which the staple statement is that time has justified the Globe's contention that the 25,000,000 acres of land given to the Syndicate were worth, not $1 or $2 an acre, as estimated by the Conservative Government at the time, but $5 or $10 at least. It seems impossible to make the Globe understand that the enterprise, vigor and ability shown by the Syndicate in the performance of its contract have doubled and trebled the marketable value of the north-western prairies. To give the Globe a home sample, no business man would have taken the Globe itself as a gift not a life-time ago, but George Brown's brains made it worth half a million inside of a quarter of a century.

CERTAIN ungodly newspaper men on the other side of the line are making merry over William Linkhaw, of North Carolina, a shining light in the Methodist Colored Church. William Linkhaw used to sing in church, and his singing used to break up the rest of the congregation, the officiating ministers sometimes skipping the hymns in order to avert the consequences. Brotherly remonstrance was of no avail, and finally things reached such a pass that William was arrested, charged with disturbing divine worship, and after trial was found guilty by the court and ordered not to sing any more. But William appealed to the Supreme Court of the State, and the higher judge decided that if a brother was conscientiously singing in meeting, there was no power in the courts of North Carolina to stop him though he brayed like an army of government mules. William was accordingly released again from restraint, and at latest advices was again on the war-path.

The Objection to Col. Ingersoll and a Work on "Faith."

Our correspondent, Mr. Martin, need fear no addition to his "scars" on account of the very proper letter he has written us calling for some explanation of our remarks of the other day upon Col. Ingersoll. It is obvious at the outset that Mr. Martin has misunderstood the point of our objection to the eminent unbeliever. He thinks we censure the latter for having undertaken the defence of the Star-route thieves. But no, the very words which he quotes show that that is not the case; we simply took exception to "some of his recent performances" as counsel for the gentlemen in question. We referred to the cynical breach of faith of which, according to the published reports, he was guilty in the matter of the production of one of the parties of the suit, and to the extraordinary violence of his behavior in court, when his bad faith in the matter was exposed. We referred also—though regarding it as a matter of much less moment—to the vulgar manner in which he offered, in open court, to bet the counsel for the prosecution that there was not sufficient evidence to convict the Star-routers, and to the yet greater vulgarity of his reply, when the lawyer so challenged quietly remarked that the case was not one for betting on, "Well put up or shut up!" As Mr. Martin says, it is a difficult question how far a man may rightly undertake the legal defence of persons presumably guilty; but in a case of this kind, where vast frauds are known to have been perpetrated on the Government, one would prefer that one of the ablest lawyers in the country should not devote his fine talents to screening the evil-doers. This, however, was not the point we raised; our objections were to the manner in which Col. Ingersoll had conducted himself as counsel. His offer to bet on the amount of evidence in possession of the prosecution drew down a rebuke from a paper as little given to theological bigotry as the New York Sun. That in many respects Col. Ingersoll was a very suitable man as orator for Decoration Day, we do not deny. We simply said that he had lately been exhibiting himself in a light which was not favorable to the moral effect of his discourse.

We regret that we should have puzzled our correspondent so seriously by our use of the word "faith." What we said in effect was that going to hear first an invocation of the Deity in prayer and then an oration by a man who stands most conspicuously in the public eye as an atheist lecturer was more favorable to a confusion of mind than to the growth of any vigorous faith. Now by faith it should be evident to a man of our correspondent's intelligence that we here mean that settled state of mind in regard to fundamental truths which is favorable to energetic action and self-control. What every man needs is some consistent scheme of thought, or some scheme of thought which, to his mind at least, is consistent, and can therefore serve him as a basis of action. Now what must be only too evident in these days is that people may so trifle with contradictory and mutually destructive opinions as to lose all conviction of truth and all sense of mental unity. It is most important for every man to retain the sense that some things are true and that some are false, and that what is true cannot be false, and that what is false cannot be true. This seems elementary; but one has not to go far in these days to find people whose minds are enveloped in a perfect haze, and who in matters of intellectual speculation have almost lost all sense of difference between true and false. The man who has strong convictions which serve to him as a rule of conduct and enable him to act with unity and force of purpose, has, in our sense of the word, a faith; the man who has no such convictions has no faith, and is much the worse for the want. The last thing in the world THE STAR would object to is free enquiry. Let people enquire as freely as they will; but let them always remember that enquiry is but a means, not an end. Enquiry is a faith which should lead in some definite direction and to some definite goal. When we start out to enquire, we should mean to arrive. If free enquiry does not excite so much enthusiasm now as it may have done in an earlier day, the reason probably is that so many start out to enquire without caring whether they arrive at any conclusion or not. Our correspondent may rest assured that THE STAR is true to the principle of intellectual and moral liberty; but he must not be distressed if we now and then put in a word suggesting that we look upon intellectual and moral order, even though based upon incomplete and partially incorrect data, as better any day than intellectual and moral confusion.

BISMARCK AND GLADSTONE.

Lecture by Rev. A. J. Bray on the Exponents of Paternal and Constitutional Government, Respectively.

A very large audience assembled last evening in Queen's Hall, to listen to a lecture by the Rev. A. J. Bray on Bismarck and Gladstone.

"I propose to-night," said the lecturer, "the study of Government, a subject in which we are all interested; for while it is true that in a country like ours, the people make the Government, it is also true that Government, of whatever kind it may be, in its turn reacts upon its creators; but recasts of it cannot re-create the people, and perhaps it may be said that the people can re-create the Government. There are forms of Government which we call tyranny, and others which we call loose and irregular, but I suppose it is safe to affirm that those who use Government for the best forms of low and order are fully convinced that they use it from sincerity of purpose. But sincerity is a very wide prevailing virtue. The Czar of Russia may be sincere in principle, but in practice be wrong in toto. I have chosen Germany and England for study to-night, because neither presents the extreme of that governmental idea which it represents. The German rule, though paternal in its progression and character, is not so autocratic as that of Russia; England, while according great and beautiful freedom as the inalienable right of every class of the people, is entirely distinct from the Republics of France and the United States. Each nation also possesses its great man, in whom is embodied and reflected the strongest and most distinctive traits which mark the national character and life. Germany has a Bismarck, England has a Gladstone."

The lecturer then proceeded to give very interesting sketch of the career of Otto Von Bismarck, describing his parentage and early training, how his innate ambition was fostered by his mother, who, during his childhood, destined him for the diplomatic service; then his erratic college life, and so on, through his military, diplomatic and political experience and acts down to the present time. He graphically depicted the unvarying devotion with which Bismarck fought for his king and against the progress of events in Germany towards constitutional Government. He spoke of the conflicts between Germany, and Austria and France, and said that when in the Palace of Versailles the King of Prussia was proclaimed Emperor of Germany, Bismarck had crowned his idea, the Emperor William was an absolute sovereign, his government was paternal, he was at the head of the finest standing army in the world; Bismarck had succeeded for the King, and that success, the lecturer said, was the greatest, the most notable and the most certain disaster the world had ever looked upon. The conflict had gone on against the Catholic Church by the Falck Laws, when blood and iron were of no avail, against Socialism by the aid of the Church, and was going on now, not against the Austrians and French, but against the people of Germany, against freedom, industry and progress against Europe, against humanity, against God. Already, however, the great edifice was tottering to its fall; the Germans were beginning to find that agriculture and commerce were not at the command of sword and needle-gun. If the King was King by right divine, the people have some rights divine which they demand to have respected. He said that Bismarck still fought to hold what he had won, but the set of the tide was against him, and he was the most egregious failure of this nineteenth or any other century, because he had set up, and for a time magnificently sustained the divine right of the

Turning to the man of England—Gladstone—the lecturer said that what the British Premier is and has done was due to the place he holds in the social scale and to his inheritance of progressive ideas. He proceeded to sketch Gladstone's character and his political career. Contrasting him with Bismarck, he said the latter looked back and stemmed the tide of advance; Gladstone looked forward, and kept well in the van of advance. But the most noticeable feature in Mr. Gladstone's character was his great moral earnestness, all his great gifts of mind and tongue being devoted unselfishly to the public interest. Even ambition had left no stain upon his character. They could see him now, with a will that would not yield, fighting against English Toryism and Irish ingratitude, Irish disloyalty to the Irish cause, unpatriotic Irish obstructiveness in the House, unpatriotic Irish agitators in Ireland, and, probably, Irish devils on this continent,—never for a moment driven from the path of duty. If he failed, the speaker continued, to restore Ireland to peace and concord, if he failed to establish there a broad and permanent content, Gladstone's failure might be held in demonstration that only a Cromwell could succeed. Gladstone had been for the people, but how had it fared with the Throne? They would not hesitate to say that the Throne of England was firmer and safer in the affectionate loyalty of the British people than ever before. While Bismarck was fighting for the King, and Disraeli was fighting for—Disraeli, Gladstone fought for the people. To-day, the Irish Church was disestablished, tyrant landlords were being divested of their power to tyrannize, and in the not far-off future the English Church would be disestablished and the English land laws changed, but there was no fear for the Government of England; it was the strongest and most stable in the world, stronger far than that of Germany. Gladstone, said the speaker, is now as he always has been, honest, earnest and pious, and no more disinterested man than he ever trod the floor of the British House of Commons. To such earnest, large hearted, patriotic men as Gladstone they owed the Great Britain of to-day. The throne of that Empire was not supported by the regiments of the British army, nor was it supported by the aristocracy of Great Britain. The people there mean it when they say—as we here in Canada mean it when we say—"God save the Queen and the Constitution."

The lecturer was frequently and heartily applauded.

THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN.

Political Notes—The Grits and Garibaldi.

Hon. Mr. Geoffrion, the nominee for Vercheres, is very seriously ill.

Hon. Dr. Cameron has resigned his seat in the Legislative Council, Nova Scotia.

It is expected that Mr. Angus Morrison, ex-mayor of Toronto, will offer as an independent Conservative candidate for Toronto West.

Garibaldi has been pressed into the Canadian election campaign. The latest Grit campaign poem is twenty-six lines of iambic pentameters, contrasting the great Italian patriot with our "Gerrymandering Chief," as he is called in the last line, to the great disadvantage of the former.

Sir John Macdonald will appear in West Durham in a day or two. An attempt was made by the Reformers of the riding to get Mr. Blake there at the same time, so that the two leaders might be heard at the same time, but the Conservatives for some reason did not take kindly to the proposition, and Mr. Blake will be heard next Monday in Bowmanville apart from Sir John.

In North Perth Mr. Robert Jones, reeve of Logan, has come out as an independent against Mr. Hesson, Conservative. Mr. V. Kertcher and Mr. A. Monteith were the previous independent candidates, but both resigned.

"Grand rallies" are now the order of the day in Ontario by both parties. Hamilton was the scene of one of the largest kind last night. Sir John Macdonald, accompanied by Lady Macdonald, who keeps at his side wherever he goes, arrived in the early evening by special train from Toronto. The Premier and Mr. J. B. Plumb, his faithful satellite, addressed a large crowd in Dundurn Park to which they were escorted with procession and bands of music. An address of confidence in the national policy and the Conservative Government was presented to Sir John.

MONTREAL WEST.

Two more mass meetings are down for to-night. One in Chaboilles Square by the Reformers, and one in Richmond Square by the Conservatives.

The Alliance in Richmond County.

A short series of meetings, under the auspices of the Dominion Alliance, has just been held in Richmond County, commencing with Windsor Mills, on Tuesday evening, when Mr, William Angus, President of the Canada Paper Mill Co., occupied the chair and urged the economic aspect of temperance work as of vital importance to the interest of the country. Messrs. Dougall and Gales also addressed the meeting. On Wednesday a meeting was held in the Town Hall, Danville, at which Messrs. Dougall and Gales with several residents of the village spoke. A county convention was held in Richmond on Thursday, Rev. Wm. McIntosh presided. After an interchange of views the meeting resolved to organize a County Alliance; the meeting was harmonious and interesting. The evening meeting was well attended, and the addresses of the deputation from the Alliance, Messrs. Brown, Dougall, Rev. G. H. Wells, and the Secretary of the Alliance, were listened to with great interest. Similar meetings were held at Eaton, Tuesday, Sutton on Wednesday, Waterloo, Thursday, and Granby, Friday.

The Late Dr. Campbell.

At a recent meeting of the Directors of the Montreal Gas Company, the following resolution was passed: "That this Board, having learned of the death at Edinburgh on the 30th ult. of G. W. Campbell, M.D., who for many years served as a Director of this Company, desire to record their profound sorrow at the loss they are called upon to sustain through the removal by death of their late highly esteemed colleague, and to convey their sympathy and condolence to his deeply bereaved widow and family."

The New Land Company.

The prospectuses of the Canadian Land Company were distributed yesterday, and the books open for subscriptions at the offices of Messrs. Macdougall & Davidson, and Barnett & Company. It may be imagined how much faith is shown in the undertaking when it is said that up to three o'clock yesterday upwards of one million dollars worth out of the two and half millions allotted to Montreal, had been taken up. The investors so far are nearly all solid, well known merchants.

Post Office Responsibility.

To the Editor of THE STAR:

SIR,—Please kindly let me and others have your opinion on the following:

On the 19th April last I mailed a registered letter containing $15 to my son, Post Office, Boston. He did not wait for it, but came on to Montreal leaving word with a shipmate who had sailed with him from Australia to Boston to ask at the P. O. for any letters and forward them on. On my son's arrival here I wrote to the Postmaster, Boston, and got reply that the letter had been delivered and signed for on the 21st, and that the party had left the ship and could not find him. I then enclosed the correspondence to the General Postmaster at Washington, but up to date have received no reply. The Post Office authorities here say the loss should be made good; the party drawing the letter should have been identified. So, the simple question is, are the P. O., Boston, authorities responsible or not. I have spoken to several on the street, some say yes, some say no, so, if not troubling too much, please say what you think pro bono publico.

The Boston Post Office should make good you loss caused by their negligence.—[ED. STAR].

Orders-in-Council.

To the Editor of THE STAR:

SIR,—In this Canada of ours, Orders-in-Council seem to be rapidly supplanting and superseding the legitimate and constitutional rights and prerogatives of Parliament, and if this usurpation be not speedily checked, the annual assembling of the Legislature may as well be dispensed with and its functions wholly relegated to a Ministerial Star Chamber. In our simplicity, we had supposed that our Government is made up of the Legislature, the Judiciary, and the Executive, but lo and behold, we are brought to realize that a suppliant party majority can readily be induced to hand over to the Executive-in-Council, the powers and functions of the several departments of the Government, and thus create a power behind the Throne, greater than the Throne itself. This new order of things is of evil import and dangerous to the public weal. Under British Constitutional Government, Orders-in-Council are the exception, but with us they are rapidly becoming the rule. At Ottawa, the exercise of this dangerous power is getting to be alarmingly frequent. At Quebec, they are out-Heroding Herod. Yesterday, it was the distribution of some five hundred thousand dollars in cash to a few select Railway corporations, by an Order-in-Council. To-day, it is the distribution of some five millions of acres of the public domain, to like parties, by the same process. To-morrow, it will be infinitely worse if this oligarchical regime be not stamped out. This Order-in-Council power, as now in use, opens wide the door for all manner of evil. No ministry should be entrusted with it except in unavoidable and emergent cases. This is the only safe rule. If the present system of granting such dangerous powers to the Executive-in-Council is to prevail, we might as well be governed by a Russian oligarchy. Eternal vigilance is the price of freedom. Z.

Why She Wants Her Marriage Annulled.

It is seldom that a bill introduced into the Legislature has within it the key to a romance, but such a one is that presented by Assemblyman Farrar, of Onondaga, providing that the marriage of Daniel Walrath to Emma A. Sawyer be declared null and void. The story of the marriage which is thus sought to be set aside is a strange one. Mrs. Walrath lived at Chittenango, and she and the man to whom she is wedded were schoolmates and playfellows. As they grew older, they kept company with each other to some extent, although Mrs. Sawyer objected to her daughter seeing much of Walrath. One evening he called upon the girl when she was alone, and without any preamble invited her to walk to Minister Irwin's house to be married. Miss Sawyer demurred at first, but pleased with the romantic aspect of the affair, at length consented, and the marriage was solemnized a few minutes afterward. On the return from the minister's house, Walrath related his plans for the future to his wife, and when the couple had reached the gate of the bride's home he bade her good bye, after telling her that she had better not say anything about the affair for a while, and that he would not be able to see her again for a few days, as he was going to Syracuse. From that day to this she has never seen her husband nor heard from him directly. Walrath was a man of quiet, studious habits, while his wife is an attractive but retiring woman of 21 or 22 years of age, who now lives at West Troy. The truthfulness of her story cannot be doubted. She cannot obtain a full and complete divorce in the courts because of a lack of grounds on which to base an action, and so she appeals to the Legislature. — Albany Argus.

Because Phosphatine supplies a want, the very properties the system is lacking and yearning for. It is not a medicine, but nutriment instantly converted into blood, bone and tissue. It is also delicious to the taste. Try it. The result is as certain as that cause and effect go hand in hand. All druggists.

Progress and Improvement

Is still a predominant feature at the famous Clothing House of J. G. KENNEDY & CO., 31 and 33 St. Lawrence street. All the newest styles and patterns of materials are sure to be found at this noted House. Another great recommendation is that the quality of materials employed is infinitely superior, and the prices much lower than any other House in this city.

See Kennedy's Business Suits.

They surpass all others in style. The materials are warranted to wear well, and the prices are very low.

See Kennedy's Dress Suits.

People are surprised when calling at this establishment to find such superior make.

Clothing.

They say they were prepared to find well made Clothing, but at the high class finish, they are highly gratified, and pronounce our Suits equal in every respect to the best custom-made Suits.

See Kennedy's Youths' Suits.

We appeal to the intelligence of the residents of this city and surrounding districts to examine those superior Suits. The style and finish, together with the quality of materials, we feel confident of the result, as to ours being acknowledged the best and cheapest.

Boys' Suits.

The reliable House of J. G. SEIZING A STEAMSHIP.

Action for Damages.

Had it not been for the circumstances related below, the "Blue Peter" would have been run up to the fore of the good ship "Brantford City" this morning, and by noon she probably would have been on her way to sea. Messrs. Belloni & Co., of New York, however, stepped in, and through their solicitors here, Mr. R. A. Ramsay, had the vessel seized for non-fulfilment of a charter party. By the affidavit upon which the seizure was made, it appears that Messrs. Belloni chartered the vessel on the 27th of April last to proceed from New York to the International mines owned by the firm at Sydney, Cape Breton, and convey a cargo of coal from there to Montreal. Instead of complying with the terms of the charter party the vessel came on to Montreal and proceeded to load a cargo of grain and cattle to Liverpool, in consequence of which an action for $5,000 damages, being estimated at the rate of two dollars per ton, for 2,500 tons of coal, has been entered, and the vessel, as already stated, seized. On the other hand Captain E. T. Fenwick, the master, claims that he proceeded as far as he could with safety on his way to Sydney, but that he could not make the harbor on account of the ice, and after lying off for some days he resolved to make for Montreal, as there was no appearance of the ice breaking up. The "Brantford City" is a fine screw steamer of 2,500 tons, and owned by Furniss & Co., of Hartlepool.

This afternoon bail was furnished and the vessel proceeded to sea.

NOTES OF SPORT.

At Home.

George Hawthorne, for many years steward of the Toronto Rowing Club, and who was with Hanlan during all the champion's races previous to his last matches in England, has resigned his position in the Toronto Club. His loss will be felt

Among the curious things in the London International Exhibition of Ship Models is the model of a yacht made of hammered silver by a workman who has given his leisure time for seven years to its construction. It consists of 875 pieces of silver.

The management of the Toronto Lacrosse Club has kindly permitted the Press team to practise on the Toronto grounds. It is the intention of the team to challenge the Rochester, Buffalo, and Montreal Press teams shortly.

A lacrosse match between the first twelve of the Montreal Club and a team of Caughnawaga Indians, takes place on the Montreal Lacrosse Grounds to-morrow afternoon. A close contest is expected.

The third of the monthly competitions of this season for the medal open to all members of the Victoria Rifle Association will take place at the Point St. Charles ranges to-morrow afternoon.

A couple of Toronto pugilists fought last night for $100. One of them, Magurn, was badly used up, and was easily knocked out of time by his opponent, Baldwin.

Owing to the illness of Hanlan, the Winnipeg regatta has been declared off. Hanlan is improving somewhat.

A London correspondent speaks as follows of Hanlan's powers. What is it that gives Hanlan such an advantage over his opponents? And how is it that he can so easily defeat the chosen representatives of England and Australia? The answer to these questions is not, I think, far to seek. It is undoubtedly his style that gives the "Canadian Wonder," as he is called, such easy victories. Hanlan does all his work with his back and legs, and not, as other scullers, with his arms. The consequence is that his stroke is a long one, and with a quick recovery. In the Hanlan-Trickett race, it was generally remarked that Trickett waited at the end of each stroke, whereas his opponent quickly recovered and commenced again. This is the secret of Hanlan's success, and the only way to wrest the championship from the present holder will be by the adoption, and, if possible, improvement of his tactics.

SPORTSMEN'S CONVENTION.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 8.—The 24th annual convention of New York State sportsmen will take place at Niagara Falls, New York, commencing June 12th and lasting one week. About 500 delegates from different shooting clubs throughout the State will participate. 15,000 wild pigeons are caged at the Falls in readiness. Several thousand dollars' worth of suitable prizes will be awarded to the winners of the numerous contests.

RE-ORGANIZING THE ATLANTA.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., June 8.—A letter from New York states that work on the Canadian yacht Atlanta is nearly completed. The yacht's hull has been planed smooth, mast cut down 5 feet 6 inches, canvas cut to fit, cast iron ballast, moulded to fit between the frames, substituted for the iron ore which was in her, the tiller replaced with a wheel; and with sundry other small improvements, it is believed that she will hold her own with the best of the New York fleet against which she will shortly be tried.

Abroad.

Harry Watts, of the Undine Boat club, of Baltimore, will have charge of the Hillsdale crew in England.

The inter-university bicycle race at Cambridge, England, May 6, saw Cambridge take two out of the three events. W. F. M. Buckley won the two-mile race in 6 minutes 52 1-5 seconds; J. S. Sutton, Cambridge, won the ten-mile race in 31 minutes 31 1-5 seconds; G. D. Day, Cambridge, won the twenty-five mile race in 1 hour 20 minutes 7 seconds.

Yale defeated Dartmouth on the Polo Ground at baseball by a score of 8 to 3.

The annual regatta of the New York Yacht Club will take place on Thursday, the 15th inst.

Prince, a well-known dog, was killed after fighting two hours near Cincinnati.

FASTEST PACING ON RECORD.

RED WING, Minn., June 8.—In the races of the Northwestern Circuit yesterday, pacer Little Brown Jug made the fastest time ever paced on a half-mile track. Time, 2.16¾ for the mile.

Baron Charette.

The former commander of the Canadian Pontifical Zouaves, will arrive here from New York on the evening of the 20th June. He will be received at the Bonaventure Station by the Zouaves and citizens. On the 22nd he will attend the general meeting of the Zouaves at St. Hyacinthe, and on the 23rd will be tendered a reception by the Union Catholique in their hall at the Gesu. There is also question of offering the General a banquet in the name of the Roman Catholic population. Letters are being received from all parts of the Province in which ex-Zouaves claim the privilege of entertaining their old Colonel. Invitations have been sent him from Quebec, Sherbrooke, Terrebonne, St. Barthelemi, and other places. The Baroness de Charette is a Southern lady, and the two are now spending some days in Baltimore.

More Cattle Poisoned on the Price Farm.

Again has the deadly disease, which breaks out every Spring and Fall among the cattle pasturing on the Price Farm at Verdun, made an appearance, and all the cattle which appeared to be affected with it, numbering fifteen, died in a very short time after the first signs of sickness. The disease is attributed to some poisonous plant growing in the pastures; but although medical men have for years been trying to find it, they have not yet succeeded. The pastures have never been under cultivation. Immediately the fifteen cattle which died were discovered to be indisposed, the whole herd then pasturing on the farm were removed to Messrs. Acer & Kennedy's yard, Point St. Charles, and it was there the cattle died. Mr. Kennedy states that the poisoned cattle appeared not to suffer the least pain, and died in a stupor. The only indications of indisposition were drowsiness and a refusal to take food or drink. They died within a couple of days of being first noticed to be ill.

A Sidewalk Demanded.

It is reported that a greatly incensed crowd of passengers boarded the Longueuil ferry-boat on a recent very wet evening, after they—ladies as well as gentlemen—had waded through a small sea of mud and water between St. Mary street and the wharf. The apology for a sidewalk, which formerly accommodated, to some extent, foot passengers, has been removed. There is great need for a suitable footpath.

Delinquent Butchers.

Summonses are out against the following butchers for infraction of the Abattoir by-laws:—

Mathias Ritchot, David Sanscartier, Edouard Leduc, Arthur Taillefer, Onesime Burnet, Ledger Bourbonniere, Henri Dieudonne, Ed. Laramee, Louis Durand, Jas. Pearson, Joseph Desjardins, Joseph Mallette.

WHERE DID THE MONEY GO.

A Mysterious Case.

On the fourteenth of June, 1881, Mr. E. V. H. Bouchard, the paying teller of the Bank Nationale, at Quebec, found in balancing his cash that he was $3,169 short. After investigating the matter, he discovered this amount corresponded with a bundle of bills which the receiving teller, Mr. Huot, claimed he had paid to him when handing over to him all the cash received that day. Further enquiry, however, failed to show where the money had gone to, or to throw any light on the subject whatever. Mr. Bouchard simply acknowledged having received the money from Mr. Huot, and accepted his civil responsibility. Both gentlemen are highly respected by their superior officers, and not the slightest suspicion attached to either of them as being implicated in the mysterious disappearance of the money, and both of them are still employes of the bank. Mr. Bouchard having acknowledged his civil responsibility, an action was instituted against the Citizens' Insurance Co., to recover the deficiency who held a guarantee bond for $8,000 in favor of Mr. Bouchard. The case was heard to-day before Mr. Justice Taschereau, and judgment reserved.

Messrs. Geoffrion, Rinfret & Dorion for plaintiff, and Mr. Bosse, of Quebec, for the defendant.

BLASPHEMY IN THE STREETS.

A Lecture From the Recorder.

Stanislas Lavoie, aged 43, laborer, of St. Jean Baptiste, appeared in the Recorder's Court this morning, to answer to a charge of being drunk. Constable Lauzon who arrested him stated that the prisoner was uttering the most horrible blasphemies on St. Lawrence street, heaping the foulest abuse on the Saviour. His Honor, when he knew of the nature of these blasphemies, became exceedingly irate, and read the prisoner a severe lesson in which he characterized his conduct as being that of a demon, and his utterances as "inspirations from hell." The Recorder also read the statute on the crime of blasphemy to the prisoner, and pointed out to him that he could send him to the Court of Queen's Bench to be tried, and that if found guilty there, he could be sentenced to three years penitentiary. Addressing the police present, His Honor told them it was their duty to arrest every one who should dare to blaspheme in the public streets. The prisoner was then fined $10 or one month. Three other cases of drink, where it was stated by the witnesses that bad language had been used by the prisoner's were fined double.

DIED IN THE CELLS.

A Carter's Singular Death—Inquest—Verdict.

Hubert Gravel, a carter about forty years old, was found last night, about one o'clock, by sub-Constable Logan, lying drunk in his carriage at the corner of Craig and St. George streets. His head was on the floor of the vehicle, while his limbs and part of his body were on the seat. He was restored to his normal attitude, and taken to No. 5 police station, where he was put in the cells and made as comfortable as possible with a pillow under his head. This morning about 6 o'clock, Constable Beech went to awaken him, found him, apparently, still very drunk. Not liking the man's appearance, Dr. Kennedy was sent for, and promptly responded, but arrived too late to be of any service, as the man expired almost at the moment the doctor entered. The coroner was notified, and he ordered the body to be taken to the morgue, where an inquest was held at 11 o'clock this morning. Dr. Kennedy gave it as his opinion that the position the man was found in had done a good deal towards causing his death. Sergeant Miller and Constables Logan and Beech gave the particulars of the man's death. A verdict of death from cerebral apoplexy was returned.

AMERICAN.

A MISSIONARY ROBBED.—MATAMORAS, Mex., June 8.—News has just reached here of a riot, with loss of life, in Littletown, near Guadaljarah, Jalia county, this morning. It appears that Rev. Mr. Watkins, an American missionary, went to Littletown to preach, and asked the protection of the political chief. He was refused, and the chief soon afterward led a mob in an attack on the building in which the Watkins party held their services. The latter fled to the roof and fired down on their assailants, killing four or five and wounding several others. The mob then set fire to the building. The Watkins party were smoked out, and only escaped being murdered by Mr. Watkins guaranteeing to pay $1,000. General Talentino, with a detachment of troops, marched on the town and arrested all the participants.

ELOPER AND EMBEZZLER.—WILMINGTON, Del., June 8.—James H. Aaron, a builder and contractor, of mature years, and having a family of grown daughters, has been some days missing. It is now reported that he has eloped with a young woman named Emerson, leaving debts for considerable amounts, among others $2,000, to H. L. Tatnail & Co., lumber dealers; $600 to Gillespie & Co., plumbers, and smaller sums to various persons. He also forged releases from mechanics' liens in the name of workmen, and mortgaged buildings in the course of erection. His checks presented at the bank by workmen proved worthless.

FIVE CHILDREN KILLED.—COSCOB, Conn., June 8.—John Lockwood's five children, aged four to fourteen, were run over and killed by a train in the Harlem Railway yesterday. Two were ground to pieces. The uncle of the children was the engineer of the train. No blame is attached to him. The children were walking on the track, and when they heard the train behind them they crossed to the adjoining track, but had hardly put a foot out when the New Haven express dashed up. Bewildered they were unable to get out either way. Three were girls.

AN INSANE MAN'S LONG FAST.—LINCOLN, Neb., June 8.—Adolph Schomger, a Polish Jew, who was sent to the Penitentiary for stealing, but was subsequently, about a month ago, transferred to an insane asylum, has persistently refused food, except what was forced upon him. His weight fell from 150 to eighty pounds, and yesterday he died. A few hours before death he ate voraciously. At the last moment he lamented having violated Christ's commands to him by eating. His abstinence had lasted seven months.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE STAR.]

GREENFIELD, Mass., June 9.—Watchman Whitney was at a switch at midnight when two masked men came from behind a freight train and discharging a revolver, fled. The ball passed close enough to singe the clothing on Whitney's breast. It is probable the object was murder and robbery.

FROM OTTAWA.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE STAR.]

THE COMING ELECTIONS.—OTTAWA, June 9.—The meeting last night was largely attended. The speeches were excellent. The rowdy element, however, succeeded in creating a disturbance. This was put down by an organized effort of the Blakeites, who afterwards marched, several hundred strong, through the streets, singing campaign songs and escorting Messrs. McIntyre and St. Jean to their homes. The excitement runs tremendously high, and both parties are working with all their might. The city seems about equally divided. The Liberals, who were nowhere in 1878, declare they will carry both seats. To-day a convention will be held to bring out a Liberal in Carleton.

A RESERVOIR BURSTS.

Twelve Million Gallons of Water Deluges The Streets of Portland.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE STAR.]

PORTLAND, Me., June 9.—The reservoir at the water works broke this morning at Bramhall Hill, half a mile from the centre of the city, and twelve million gallons of Sebago watch deluged the entire western portion of the town. Buildings were destroyed, streets torn up and an incalculable amount of other damage done.

LATER.

BOSTON, June 7.—A Portland, Me., despatch shows that people there are more scared than hurt. The water started from the east side of the reservoir toward Vaughan street and soon a space 20 feet square was torn out, pouring down the street and washing it into gullie's, destroying pavements and sidewalks. Then the water crossed Congress street and turned down Haggetts Hill, ploughing chasms 10 feet deep, down to Deering's Oaks, on the level land, where the flood subsided. The total damage is about $15,000 dollars.

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH.

Seventh Day—Criminal Side—Morning Session.

Presiding the Hon. Sir A. A. Dorion, Chief Justice; J. Alderic Ouimet, Q.C., representing the Crown.

His Honor entered Court at 10.15 this morning, and the jury in the Skelton robbery case, which had been locked up since Wednesday afternoon, entered.

THE M'NAMEE-WHELAN CASE.

Mr. T. W. Ritchie, Q.C., fyled a demurrer to defendant's plea of justification to the effect that the matters therein contained are not sufficient in law to bar or preclude our Lady the Queen from prosecuting the said indictment.

Mr. Kerr for the defence suggested that the further hearing of the case be laid over until to-morrow. Mr. Ritchie agreeing, the case was accordingly postponed.

THE SKELTON ROBBERY CASE.

Mr. Ouimet, Q. C., Crown Prosecuter, asked that he be allowed to re-open the case for the Crown, as he had a few more witnesses to examine. Objected to by counsel for the defence; objection maintained. Mr. St. Pierre asked that the Crown Prosecutor be required to state on what particular charge he intended proceeding, and what particular charge he wished to bring against the prisoner; held that no evidence tending to show that the prisoner had received other stolen property, not connected with this case, should be admitted as a sign of guilt in this one. Cited section 6 of Canadian Larceny Act, chap. 21, in support of his pretension that if in any indictment for larceny, the articles stolen had been so stolen at different times within a space of six months, the prosecuting counsel would be be obliged to state on what particular charge he intended proceeding. The learned counsel considered that in a charge of receiving stolen goods the case would be exactly similar. He quoted from Fisher's digest on criminal law. "Rex vs. Dunn," and from 1st Moody, Crown cases, in support of this pretension.

His Honor referred to several authorities, and cited the case of Glass, in which $15,000 had been stolen in various sums at different times, not one of which amounts the prosecuting counsel could distinctly proceed upon, nor was it deemed necessary. The Court would note the objection, but the case would go on, and if any doubt arose in his Honor's mind later on, the case might be reserved for a full bench.

THE DEFENCE.

George Sumner, merchant. Is a member of the firm of Messrs. Hodgson, Sumner and Company; is well acquainted with prisoner at the bar. Suprani was a peddler, and had bought goods of their firm; the dealing had extended probably over three years; he had been in the habit of buying quilts, towels, hosiery, silk pockethandkerchiefs &c., from them. Witness identified a number of articles produced as having been purchased at their establishment; did not think that any firm could easily identify this class of goods, having no private mark, unless the patterns were made to their special order; the articles claimed by Mr. Skelton could have been obtained from many other houses in the trade; the gloves produced were kept in stock at many places; the firm witness belonged to, had not, to his knowledge, been robbed. Prisoner had always been honest and straightforward in his dealings with them and was considered a thoroughly trustworthy man. In reply to a question by Mr. Ouimet. The silk pocket-handkerchiefs shown witness would be worth from $9 to $10 per dozen.

Counsel for the defence—They cost in England 12s 6d.

Mr. Skelton, hastily, "I didn't say that."

Theophile Turgeon, merchant.—Knew the prisoner, Suprani; had sold him goods, always considered him honest; could not identify any of the articles produced in Court as having been sold by him; it was very difficult to identify such goods as many dealers kept similar brands; thought most of the things claimed by Mr. Skelton could have been obtained at a number of city houses. The prisoner had always borne a good reputation.

I. Dansereau, clerk, in the employ of Messrs. Hodgson, Sumner & Company, corroborated the evidence of Mr. Sumner.

Jean Suprani, a lad about 14 years of age, and son of the prisoner, said that he was present when Verity sold goods to his father, and that Verity represented himself as being a commercial traveller; it was not true that the witness had ever received goods from Verity on the street, or that he ever came to their house at night, the goods were always brought during the daytime.

The Court adjourned until two p.m.

Amusements.

SYNOD HALL.—Mr. Neil Warner's entertainment was well attended last night, and all his old friends and admirers were delighted to find him in such elegant form. His voice has lost none of its power and resonance, while his intonations have been remarkably mellowed by schooling. It is worthy of note that although Mr. Warner's roles on the stage were ordinarily of a tragic character, it is in comic delineations that he seems to excel on the platform. His readings from Dickens last evening were excellent. It is to be hoped that Mr. Warner will appear more frequently before our public.

QUEEN'S HALL.—The pianoforte recital given by Mr. Frederick Archer in this hall yesterday afternoon was quite largely attended, and the audience were well rewarded for their presence. It is not every organist that is a pianist, as the instruments are of distinct class; but Mr. Archer proved on this occasion that he is quite a master of the piano. The programme was devised with a view to instruction, being nicely graduated and artistically varied. There were nine numbers in all, including rondos, gavottes, waltzes, romances and fantasias, and the compositions bore the names of Heller, Mendelssohn, Rubenstein, Rameau and Benedict. All these pieces were interpreted with rare skill and expression, and all the resources of the instrument were brought out.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Glengarry.

A political meeting called in the interest of the Hon. D. A. Macdonald, the Liberal candidate was held in Williamstown yesterday. An address was made by Hon. Mr. Macdonald, who was followed on his own side by Messrs. D.B. McLennan, Q.C., of Cornwall, Simpson, of Alexandria and McBean. Mr. Macmaster being engaged at his advertised meeting elsewhere was represented by Messrs. R. D. McGibbon, of Montreal, and John McLennan, ex-M.P., who were limited to half an hour each, the Liberal speakers being unlimited as to time. The discussion towards the close became very animated and some hot words were exchanged by the rival orators. The same parties meet to-day at Summerstown. Both sides are working hard and each seems confident of success. The Conservatives are making capital out of the Hon. Mr. Macdonald's refusal to hold union meetings as had always been the custom in the county heretofore.

The Vaudreuil candidates are as numerous and mixed as ever. Mr. G. F. Archambault has not yet accepted the Liberal Candidature, but will likely so.

Jacques Cartier.

The contest waxes warmer and warmer in this county. The two heroes met each other face to face at a public meeting yesterday. Hon. Mr. Laflamme accused Mr. Girouard of saying at St. Laurent that the former had a hand in the "trap" affair at Ste. Anne's in a former election. Mr. Laflamme demanded of Mr. Girouard a direct answer to the question, whether he (Laflamme) had anything to do with the said affair, or if he was aware of it at the time. Mr. Girouard replied in the negative. Mr. Laflamme is very sanguine of victory, as, he says, many of Girouard's supporters have been struck off the voters' list.

It is believed that the vote polled in Montreal at this election will be smaller in proportion to the number of voters than for many elections past. Both parties report much indifference on political matters on the part of the majority of electors.

In the political meeting, yesterday, at Ste. Therese, Hon. Messrs. Chapleau and Mercier "paired" and did not speak in consequence of the large number of younger political speakers present who wished to air themselves. The two honorables returned to town this morning.

Huntingdon.

A telegram from Fort Covington, N.Y., to-day, says Mr. C. P. Davidson's candidature is receiving most refreshing support. At a largely attended meeting at Kensington, last evening, the audience was with him to a man, and pledged their vote in his favor. He has been received everywhere most courteously and promises of support were general with scarcely an exception. The canvass so far could not be better. This morning he held a meeting at the Sneigh and was cheered to the echo. This afternoon he speaks at Dundee.

Funeral of the Late William Wilson.

The funeral of the late Mr. William Wilson, printer, took place this afternoon from his residence, No. 256 St. Hubert street. There was a large attendance of friends, chiefly consisting of compositors, all the English papers being represented. The Rev. Mr. McCaul read the funeral service at the house. The casket was ornamented with one of Campbell's beautiful floral wreaths with a star in flowers in the centre, the gift of the STAR compositors. The following gentlemen acted as pall-bearers:—Messrs. Wm. Galt, T. J. Finn, W. Dalton and W. Higgins. The chief mourners were Robert Wilson, son of the deceased, Joseph Wilson, brother of the deceased, and several cousins.

THE RACES.—ASCOT, June 9.—In the race for the Alexandria Plate of £1,000, "Fiddler" won, Keene's "Foxhall" 2nd, "Petronel" 3rd, "Exeter" 4th. "Fiddler" was ridden by Watts, "Foxhall" by Cannon, "Petronel" by Archer, and "Exeter" by Rossiter. Only four ran. For the Hardwicke Stakes of £2,000, three-year old and upwards, "Tristan" won, "Sweetbread" 2nd, "Poulet" 3rd.

THE MURDER OF BOURKE.—LONDON, June 9.—Bourke, who was assassinated at Ariahan yesterday, recently informed the authorities that he knew he would be shot. When the news of Bourke's murder reached London, his brother went into the lobby of the House of Commons and accused Parnell and Biggar of being the cause.

SAFETY OF THE KHEDIVE.—CONSTANTINOPLE, June 9.—The British Ambassador has suggested to the Minister of Foreign Affairs that Dervisch Pacha be instructed to take measures to secure the safety of the Khedive.

AMERICAN

FIRE IN A MINE.—WILKESBARRE, June 9.—The Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal Company's mine is burning. The fire originated from a stove in the shanty at the foot of the shaft firing the timbers for the preparations being made to flood the mine. One hundred men are fighting the fire. When the fire broke out a large number of miners were compelled to travel through the abandoned works to escape. This is the third time the mine has been on fire.

CANADIAN.

TO LEAVE FOR EUROPE.—TORONTO, June 9.—Rev. Mr. Rainsford leaves shortly for a three months' trip to England.

FROM QUEBEC.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE STAR.]

POLITICAL GOSSIP.—QUEBEC, June 9.—The opposition of Mr. Bedard to the Hon. Mr. Caron, is not regarded as of a very serious nature. Mr. Caron addressed the electors of Valcartier after Mass yesterday and of Stoneham after Vespers. The Hon. Minister met with most flattering receptions at both places. Mr. L.P. Pelletier spoke in favor of Mr. Caron's interest after Mass at Lorette. Hon. Mr. Irvine and Hon. F. Langelier were in Megantic yesterday addressing the electors of the county in favor of the Liberal candidate.

THE CONTEST IN LEVIS.—There was a large political meeting yesterday at Levis which was addressed by both candidates, Hon. Mr. Blanchet and Mr. L. H. Frechette. The latter is said to have had the show of hands in his favor. In the three divisions of the city the sitting members will be returned. The Centre is the only division in which there will be a real contest. A meeting in this division yesterday was very small.

The Unbroken Vow;

OR,

LOST AND FOUND.

After one or two ludicrous attempts at an imitation. War-Eagle shook his head, saying, "It is not good—may his Lenape friend call him 'Netis?'"

As soon as Reginald was informed of what had passed, and of the meaning of his new name, he accepted it with pleasure, and Wingenund repeated it again as our hero bid him farewell.

War-Eagle insisted upon accompanying him, and leading Nekimi through the forest until they reached the broad wheel track which passed Colonel Brandon's house, and thence led through other clearings to the village of Marietta. As they went along Reginald desired Baptiste, in a whisper to talk with the chief, and endeavor to draw from him what article of dress, ornament, or use he would most value, as he was most anxious to make his Indian brother a present; and the guide, by skilfully manœuvring his conversation, soon learned that War-Eagle had, on this last excursion, lost his rifle, and that he was also short of ammunition. They now emerged from the forest upon the great road, if it might be so called, leading to Marietta; and the Indian, putting the halter of Nekimi into Reginald's hand, said that he would return to his camp. Our Nero, taking him by the hand, said, "Netis wishes to see his brother at this spot to-morrow, at noon."

"War-Eagle will come," was the brief reply, and shaking both the white men cordially by the hand, he turned and disappeared among the trees.

Reginald and the guide were within a few miles of Colonel Brandon's house; but they could not proceed very fast, owing to the evident reluctance shown by Nekimi to follow his new master; he neighed, snorted, jumped, and played all manner of pranks in his endeavor to get loose; but this War-Eagle had foreseen, and the tough halter of undressed hide was well enough secured to defy all his efforts at escape.

"This has been a strange day of adventures, Baptiste," said Reginald; "It has been to me one of the pleasantest of my life."

"Why, Master Reginald, it has been a day of events, such as they are; you have been twice at the outside edge of t'other world, with water and cold iron."

"Oh, there was not much harm in the water," said Reginald, laughing, "had it not been for the knock which one of the horses gave me on the head; but that villanous attempt of the Huron makes me shudder; to offer a man food, and stab him while he is taking it! I thought such a thing was unknown in Indian history."

"It is, almost," said the guide. "But a Huron, and a Dacotah," he added, bitterly, "would murder a brother to gratify revenge."

"But I had never injured him, Baptiste."

"His memory is better than yours, Master Reginald. He and his brother were two of the leading warriors in that unfortunate affair where St. Clair was killed by the Ingians, upon the north fork of the Miami. I was there, too, and the 'Doctor's' pills did some sarvice, but not to signify, neither. Colonel Brandon did all that a man could do, but at last he was forced back. Well, that Tarhe and his brother, first in the pursuit, killed two of our poor fellows, and were scalping 'em, when the Colonel called out to 'em, and fired. He killed Tarhe's brother dead. I see'd it all; and I took a long squint with the Doctor at Tarhe, which only lamed his arm a bit; for you see, Master Reginald, I was a long ways off, and a chap don't shoot quite so fine when he's a retreatin' double quick, with a few hundred redskins yellin' in his rear. However, that Tarhe has been more than once down at Marietta, and round the neighbors' clearins, and he knowed you, Master Reginald, just as well as a Kentucky hog knows an acorn."

"Now I understand it, so far, Baptiste. But if the fellow wanted to take my life why did he not hide in the laurel thicket, and shoot me as I passed? Why did he make the attempt where my death was sure to be revenged?"

"Now, Master Reginald, you are asking a poor, ignorant crittur, who knows naught but a little huntin', and, may be, knows a beaver skin from a buffalo hide, all the inns and outs of a red Ingian's crooked mind! May be he wanted to force War-Eagle into shedding white man's blood. I saw that one of those Shawanons was up to his game, and if a general scrimmage had come they'd have tried to do for me. Or, perhaps, when he found his knife so convenient to the back of your neck, he couldn't lose the chance, for the bad spirit had got hold of him."

"By heavens!" cried Reginald, "I never can sufficiently admire the quickness and the heroic courage of that boy, Wingenund! Did you see, Baptiste, how he drew that great knife slowly out of his wounded arm; and how all the time he smiled upon War-Eagle, as if to show him that he despised the pain?"

"He is a brave youth," said the guide. "I know the stock he comes from; if he was a coward the grizzly bear might breed sheep!"

"Pray tell me something of his parents and of his story. Is he related to War-Eagle?"

"He is," said the guide. "They are the children of two brothers. War-Eagle of the eldest, Wingenund of the youngest."

"Are these two brothers alive, Baptiste?"

"No; both were murdered by the white men, in time of peace, without provocation. There was a third brother, who, happening to be absent from the village on a hunt, escaped. He has now gone to the far west, beyond the great river. Both War-Eagle and the boy are called his sons; and the latter, as he told us to-day, lives in his lodge."

"Then all these three brothers were the children of Wingenund?"

"Yes."

"And who was he?"

"One of the old Lenape; first in council and foremost in the fight. I remember him well when I was a boy," said the guide, warming with his subject. "He taught me to follow a trail, and to travel in the woods, with no other guide than the wind, the stars, and the bark of the trees; and before I was as old as that boy, his grandson, he lent me his rifle to shoot the first Dacotah as I ever killed."

"What was the party, Baptiste," said Reginald anxious to keep the guide from the subject of the Dacotahs), "what party was it that committed the atrocious murder upon the Indians in time of peace?"

"Why, Master Reginald, though you were but a youngster, don't you remember hearing that twelve or fourteen years ago a party of white men, led by Williamson Harvey, and some other rough chaps from the Kentucky side, fell upon a village of friendly Indians on the banks of the Tuscarawas river, and murdered all they found, man, woman, and child? Some of these poor redskins had been made Christians and were called Moravians; and their village, as was destroyed, was called by some outlandish name, too long by half for me to speak or to remember. They had given over their own nat'ral life of smoking, hunting, and fishing, and did nothing but plant, and sow, and pray! And after all, that's the way they were served, Master Reginald."

"Horrible and disgraceful cruelty!" said the young man; and rather thinking aloud than addressing his companion, he added, "it is no wonder that the Indians receive so unwillingly Christian precepts, when they have such examples of Christian practice. I am not surprised that War-Eagle finds it hard to forgive such injuries."

"And yet you are surprised, Master Reginald," said the guide, in a deep voice, almost hoarse from repressed emotion, "that I do not forgive the Dacotah! Did he not burn the log hut where I was born and raised? Did he not murder those who gave me birth? Did he not drive me out, a child into the woods to live by berries, or wild fruits, or what I could find or kill? Is not my father's scalp (not half revenged) now hanging before a Dacotah lodge? Oh! let me come but within rifle range of the Throatcutter, and if he comes off with a whole skin I will forgive him!"

"I was entirely cured of rheumatism by St. Jacobs Oil," says Col. C. W. Herbert, of the Forest Park Restaurant, St. Louis, Mo.
