GENERAL PRESS DESPATCHES,

New York, May 17.
The Herald's Chester, S C., correspondence announces the arrest of the rebel Governor Vance, of North Carolina, and Governor Magrath, of South Carolina, being pursued by our cavalry.
General Johnston requested permission to go to Canada, but was refused.
Admiral Semmes, Captain Dinnington, and other rebels are said to be en route for some island on the pacific.
The World's Washington special says:—The President respited Mulligan and Bowles, the Indiana conspirators.
New York, May 17th.—The Steamer Scotia, to-day, took out nearly a million dollars in specie and 200 passengers.
Key West advices say, that the steamer Columbia, which arrived here from Havana, reported to our authorities that the pirate Stonewall was hurriedly receiving men and ammunition from the Owl and other Confederate steamers and blockade runners.
Capt. John M. Moffatt, had assumed command of the Stonewall.
The United States Steamer Powhatton, went to sea from Key West, on learning the movements of the Stonewall.
Washington, May 17th, 9 a.m.—To Major Gen. Dix.—The following is a communication from Gen. Canby, relating to the Stonewall.
To Hon. E. M Stanton, Secretary of War:—The U. S. Consul at Havana reports that the rebel Ram Stonewall left that port on the 11th inst., ostensibly for Galveston. I have warned all commanders on the coast.
Signed, E. R. CANBY,
Major-General.
The Steamer Nightengale brings Havana dates to the 11th and Key West of the 13th inst. The rebel Ram Stonewall arrived at Havana on the 11th inst. It was said the Government would not allow her any facilities for causing damage to our shipping and she would be obliged to leave in twenty-four hours.
New York, May 17th—Gold shows rather more strength. The continued high rates of exchange produce an expectation of a partial advance. The price has not materially changed from yesterday's quotations, opening at 130, falling to 129¾, and closing at 130¼.
The Commercial's Washington special says:—A delegation of twenty citizens from all parts of North Carolina, invited by the President to confer with him on the reconstruction of a Loyal State Government, have arrived. They report great destitution in the State, having no horses, mules, or seeds for planting the crops.
The Government has been advised that the authorities of Nassau exported coaling facilities to the Stonewall, which are refused U.S ships. This will doubtless lead to diplomatic correspondence. The British Government will probably repudiate the action of the authorities, who profess to have been threatened by the rebel officers, if their demand for coal was not complied with. Official accounts will be looked for with interest.
Testimony before the Military Commission today shows the whole plan for the capture of Booth; making it apparent that we have the best detective system in the world. General Sherman is very bitter against the authorities on account of the assaults on him. Letters from Jeff Davis, found on Booth's body, amply justifies the charges of conspiracy to murder made against him.
New York, May 17.—The Post's special says: Jeff Davis will probably not be tried with the assassins at the Penitentiary. It is not yet determined whether he will be arraigned for murder or treason. On the former he will have a seperate trial.
San Francisco, May 15th.—The scarcity and high price of flour at Boise City, Idaho, culminated on the 1st of April in a popular out-break and raid upon the flour stores. The disturbance was quitted, and the prices of flour were reduced. There is a considerable supply now on the way Gen McDowell, left on Saturday evening on the steamer Saginaw, on a tour of inspection through Southern California.
The capture of Jeff Davis created a universal feeling of satisfaction through that State. The people of Sacramento hung Davis in effigy.
New York, May 19.—Louis Fox, of Rochester, claimed the champion cup in the billiard match last night on the ground that Kavanagh did not appear. Kavanagh's excuse was illness, but the question goes before the Congress which was to meet at 11 a.m. to day.
New York, May 17.—The testimony taken in the assassination Conspiracy case last Friday, and now made public, shows that the conspiracy dates back to the summer of 1863, and that Booth was then engaged in it. The conspiracy contemplated the capture of President Lincoln; his murder, the burning of northern cities; creating dissatisfaction among the northern people at the war; and the bringing about of a revolution in favor of the Confederacy. Booth was a leading agent in the matter, visiting various parts of the country, and holding secret communication with George N Sanders, (who has since said he does not know Booth), Clay, Holcomb, Thompson and others. Booth was furnished with money from Richmond, and was the agent to hire others. An actor named Chester refused to have anything to do with the affair, though Booth promised him $2,500. He was only to see that the back door of Groves theatre where it was at first contemplated to perpetrate the assassination was kept open for exit. Booth at first coaxed him and then threatened him with death if he divulged the plot.
Indianapolis, May 17.—The President commuted the sentence of Hersey who was to have been hung on the 19th for treason to imprisonment at hard labor for life, and has suspended the execution of Bowles and Milligan, condemned to suffer at the same time for the same crime until the 2nd of June.
New York, May 17.—The Raleigh Standard of the 11th says, it is probable that steps will be soon taken to call a convention to construct a loyal State Government. A letter dated Fayetteville 3rd says a delegation was appointed by the mayor of that place to proceed to Wilmington to procure food for the inhabitants. The result was 25 to 30,000 rations were at once forwarded and though some swore they would not take anything from the Yankees they were the first to run with bags and baskets. Government mules, and horses are also furnished the farmers to work with.

(BY TELEGRAPH.)

MIDNIGHT DESPATCHES.

New York, May 17th, 5 p.m.—Gold closed at 130¼.
New York, May 17th.—The steamer Columbia from Havana on the 13th, arrived. The pirate Stonewall, it appears, left Teneriffe on the 1st April, and arrived at Bermuda on the 26th Thence she proceeded to Nassau, but was unable to go over the bar, owing to drawing over 16 feet of water, and then occupied three days in her passage to Havana. She was not saluted at Havana, but the Spanish General D. Marina, under pretence of showing the pirate to his daughter, paid her a visit. One of the captains, generals, aides, and several government officers also visited the pirate. Some difficulties were attempted to be placed in the way of clearing the steamer Columbia for Key West by our Consul, but Messrs. J. M. Morals & Co. overcame them, and she was allowed to depart to warn Admiral Stribling at Key West.
New York, May 17.—The Commercial Washington special says, Gen. Sherman is expected in Washington on Friday.
The Raleigh Standard says a reward of $25,000 for Z. B. Vance, the rebel Governor of North Carolina, would go very far towards finishing the rebellion in this State. There are others who ought to be arrested and tried for treason, and we could blame them in this article, if we thought it necessary—we may do so hereafter. Union meetings are being held in Raleigh today.
Washington, May 17th.—A general order has been issued from the War Department as follows:—All the forces of the enemy, east of the Mississippi River, having been duly surrendered by their proper commanding officers to the armies of the United States, under agreements of parol and disbandment, and there being now no authorized troops of the enemy east of the Mississippi River, it is ordered that from and after the first day of June, 1865, any and all persons found in arms against the United States, or who may commit acts of hostility against it, east of the Mississippi River, will be regarded as guerillas, and punished with death. The strict enforcement and execution of this order is especially entoured upon the commanding officers of all the United States forces within the territorial limits to which it applies. According to the order of the War Department, the Adjutant General has been directed to commence mustering honorably out of service all general, field, and staff officers who are unemployed, or whose service is no longer needed.
War Department, Washington 17, 10:40.—Maj.-Gen. Dix—A review of the gallant armies now assembling around Washington, will take place here on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Signed
E. M. STANTON, Secretary of War,
Father Point, May 17.—The S S Nova Scotian arrived here at 6 o'clock. News anticipated.

MARYLAND AFTER EMANCIPATION.—The new era which has commenced for the Southern States of the American Union by the emancipation of the Negros has been lately marked in a very decided manner. Hitherto the Southern States have been little attractive to emigrants on account of the inferior position which has been there occupied by the labourer, who has had to take position in a class degraded by the laws. Nor have the authorities of these States shown much desire to obtain an increase of a poor white population, which might, on many accounts, have been found inconvenient to the dominant class and their interests. The consequence of this state of things has been that other States have increased in population, strength and riches in a ratio very greatly exceeding that which has prevailed in Maryland. At the time of the revolution, Maryland was the sixth of the States in population, and from the excellence of her soil, and the splendid harbours on her coast, gave promise of continuing to hold a high rank in the Union. She now takes rank only nineteenth in the list, eleven of the States which are now in advance of her having had no existence in 1790. Of course, this change would have been explicable on merely natural grounds if the State had been fully settled, so that no more persons could have found homes on her soil. That, however, does not appear to be the case—in fact, her population, for so large a territory, is absolutely small. It amounts to only 687,034, and half of these reside in the city of Baltimore. The beneficent change in the feelings and policy of the people of the State, which we have noticed, is manifested in one of the most recent resolutions of her Legislature, which has for its object the filling up of the territory in the same way as the free States have been filled up—that is to say, by immigration of industrious men. To attain this end the chief clerk of the Legislative Council has been ordered to prepare a pamphlet, setting forth the great natural advantages of the State; the excellence of her soil; mildness of her climate; abundance of timber, &c.—her richness in mineral resources of coal and iron, and all those other points which invite the attention of settlers. Among these are conspicuously pointed out the admirable means of water communication between different parts of the State, caused by the deep sea bays and inlets, and the waters of the Potomac upon the Western boundary. There is little doubt that all these excellencies will now be practically appreciated, and that there will be a response such as could never have been had before to an invitation which would never before have been held out. The publication of this pamphlet denotes, therefore, the commencement of a new period and the inauguration of new ideas.

THE ASSASSINATION TRIAL.—On Monday the trial was continued and a number of witnesses were examined, but the evidence is not of much importance. It chiefly went to show the intimacy of Booth, Arnold and O'Laughlin in Washington and Baltimore. It appeared from the testimony of Mr. David Stanton, that on the night of the 13th April O'Laughlin was seen prowling about the house of the Secretary of War and ordered away after he had asked for the Secretary and had been told where he was. His time seems to be accounted for on the night of the assassination. The evidence of one witness was against Spangler, to the effect that he was in company with Booth in front of the Theatre during an hour preceding the assassination and announcing to him every five minutes the elapse of time by the clock in the theatre and lobby. Other witnesses, however, testified that Spangler was not in the front of the threatre that night. The telegraphic news last evening indicates that we shall have the testimony, hitherto suppressed, in early American papers.

A correspondent of the Quebec Chronicle explains that Mr. Cameron, the Southerner who lately joined the Church of Rome, was not a clergyman, but a deacon of the Episcopal Church in the United States, and that his peculiar views prevented his obtaining promotion in that body.

THE EPIDEMIC AT HALIFAX.—The town council of Halifax has appropriated $2,000 to take the necessary preventative measures against the spread of the fever.

OIL IN LONDON, C. W.—It is reported that a bed of oil has been discovered in London, C. W. The village of Delaware is also in a state of excitement from a similar cause.

NEW STEAMER.—The Inland Steam Navigation Company seem determined to prosecute their business with the same energy which has hitherto characterised them, and to leave nothing undone to secure the confidence of the business public, and to provide for the comfort and enjoyment of travellers and tourists on the St. Lawrence. They are about to place on the line an addition to their fleet, the "Spartan," sister ship to the "Grecian," so favourably known last summer. We had an opportunity afforded us yesterday, by the kindness of Capt. Howard, late of the Kingston, who is to command the new ship, of inspecting her. The following is some of the information we have obtained. The "Grecian" was built on the Clyde and brought out here in sections. She was put together by Mr. E. E. Gilbert, in Messrs. Cantin's ship yard. The same gentleman also built the engines which are of the same dimensions and power as those of the Grecian, as well as on the same principle, the horizontal. There are a few differences, the chief of which is the substitution of iron instead of wooden framing, the others are more in matters of minor detail. The passenger accommodation is very complete. On the upper deck is the saloon, divided into two compartments by the casing which, however, leaves on each side an unbroken promenade of 140 feet in length. Forward is the dining room, with, on the port side, the very necessary adjunct of the steward's pantry, a very commodious wash room being on the starboard side for the convenience of gentlemen who believe ablutions necessary before sitting down to table. The after part is fitted up as a drawing room, with two or three convenient nooks for a little quiet flirtation, or for a political discussion for those who like that better. Stained glass lights filled with mythological emblems are very appropriately fitted in along the whole length of the saloon. The lovers of music have not been forgotten, for a beautiful piano forms part of the furniture. The state cabins which are more than usually spacious, occupy each side of the saloon, and in each is placed a cork life-preserver for every passenger. These are on a simple but very safe principle, and are not liable to accident like those which require to be inflated. The matresses in these as well as in all the others are all of curled hair and of first rate quality. Descending to the ladies cabin, we find a very tastefully fitted up boudoir, covered with Brussels carpet, having a plentiful supply of easy chairs covered with rich plush velvet. The state cabins here, also, are most comfortable. This cabin, as well as the saloon, are painted dead white, without any undue ornamentation; the effect is very pleasing. Lower still we descend to two rows of sleeping berths, not open, as is usually the case, and merely divided off by screens, but all properly enclosed berths. The stairs leading to the various decks are of polished oak with mahogany bannisters and rails, and they are so arranged as to give easy access to the different decks. Nor must we forget the silver plate, which has been furnished by Mr. Joseph Walker of this city. The style is plain and chaste. On each article is the name of the ship, inclosed in the garter, with the letters C. I. S. N. Co. inscribed on it. In event of accident to the ship the safety of the passengers has not been forgotten. Besides the life buoys already mentioned there are three of Francis' metallic life boats, the qualities of which are so well known. Outwardly the "Spartan" looks a noble ship Her dimensions are as great as the size of the canal locks will admit of, and her model promises great speed. Her paddle wheels are 31 feet 6 inches in diameter. On each paddle box is a well executed medallion of a Spartan warrior, surrounded by the laurel crown and classical emblems. Altogether strength, beauty and comfort seem to be combined in this fine ship and credit is due to the tradesmen who have so faithfully executed the work entrusted to them. We think it well to give their names. As we have already mentioned the hull and machinery are by Mr. E. E. Gilbert, the Ship Carpenter work is by Mr. Cantin, the Joiner work by Mr. Currie, the stained glass and decorations by Mr. J. C. Spence, the furniture by Messrs. J & W. Hilton, the plumber work by Messrs. R. Mitchell & Co., and the kitchen furnishing by Messrs. Prowse & McFarlane. No expense seems to have been spared to insure the work being done thoroughly. It is not often so fair a chance occurs to test the merits of two ships so entirely alike in size, power and model, as the Spartan and Grecian. The friends of the respective builders of the two vessels, will no doubt, watch with interest the comparative performance of each, doubtless looking upon the result as a sort of trial of skill between two very able firms in the same business. We wish the good ship success in her voyages and her owners satisfactory returns for their enterprise.

OPENING OF THE NEW WESLEYAN CHURCH IN SHERBROOKE STREET.—We understand that this church will be opened for public worship on Sunday next, and that the Rev. Mr. Elliot will preach in the morning; the Rev. H. F. Bland in the afternoon, and the Rev. John Gimley, of Kingston, in the evening. On the following Sunday there will be three services also, which which will be conducted at the usual hours, by the Rev. Henry Wilkes, D.D.; the Rev. Lachlan Taylor, D.D., and the Rev. Geo. Douglas.

We learn, by special telegram from Father Point, that the Nova Scotian, from Liverpool on the 4th May, had arrived at 7 p.m. She brings 66 cabin and 408 steerage passengers. The Moravian arrived at Liverpool on the 4th May.

OBITUARY.

Died, on Wednesday last, May 10th, in the obscure corner of the State of Georgia, the so-called Confederacy of the Southern States of America. Born of fraud and force, and cradled in infamy, the subject of our notice dragged on a miserable existence for four years, having during this short term caused more destruction of life, and devastation of property, than has ever before been chronicled in a career of crime. As, during its brief tenure, it was subject to the execrations of honest men throughout the whole world, so it expires without the regret of a single person whose regret is worth accepting. Villainies of every kind have been crowded into its short life, from assassination down to the stealing of postage stamps; guilty of every crime in the calendar, it has resorted to every mean and despicable trick to postpone its downfall, apparently giving up the ghost even in disguise. In addition to its wicked parentage, the rickety bantling has had the misfortune to be watched over by attendants whose characters were tainted even before its birth; whose foul inventions of the repudiation of State debts, and the iniquitous Fugitive Slave law, were the fitting forerunners of later villainies.
The offspring of Slavery and oppression, the turbulent child of an accursed parentage, it has existed long enough to enlist the sympathies of the whole civilized world with the victims of its cruelty and arrogance, and falls at last unwept and unhonoured, followed by the unanimous condemnation of Christendom, mingled with the hosannas of enfranchised millions.

"The Roman legions, boasting once so loud of liberty, and fighting bravely o'er
The torrid and the frigid zone,
————to make mankind
Their thralls, untaught, that he who made or kept
A slave could never himself be truly free."—POLLOCK.

CITY ITEMS.

We visited the Theatre Royal on Tuesday night to view Bulwer's beautiful drama of "The Lady of Lyons," which, with Morton's farce of the "Two Buzzards," constituted the bill of the evening. The encomiums passed upon Miss Mary Gladstane's acting, have, we should judge, been merited. Her personation of Pauline, we have never seen surpassed, her reading was good, her voice clear and distinct, and her action natural. Her conception of the character, moreover, was excellent and in the more earnest and feeling portions, she displayed a power and beauty which testified her right to the name of a gifted and brilliant actress. Mr McCollough performed Claude creditably, but hardly reached our conception of the part. His reading was not quite perfect, and the same may be said of his action and business. Mr Bowers was good both as Glavis and as John Small, in the farce. The same may be remarked of Mr Spackman as the bluff old Colonel and as Mr Buzzard. Mr Keller was rather tame as Deschapelles, but otherwise good, and Mr Clarke was well suited to the part of the villain, Beauseante, although we have seen it better performed. Lastly we should state that Mrs Hill appeared at home in the character of Madame Deschapelles, and Mrs Holmes did all that was assigned her as Widow Melnotte. Altogether, the Company of Mr Buckland this year is a good one, and we trust he will be successful in obtaining a fair share of the patronage of the theatre-going public of Montreal.
BODY FOUND.—We learn that the body of Wm Hallahan, belonging to the Royal Artillery, who has been missing since the early part of April, was found, on Tuesday last, at Vercheres. It was taken charge of by Lieutenant-Colonel Dansereau, and delivered to the military authorities.
SPECIAL SESSIONS.—Before Col. Ermatinger.—James Nolan, was brought up charged with assisting a soldier to desert.
There were three witnesses in all. The first, an official on the Grand Trunk Railway stated that on the 9th of this month, prisoner bought two tickets at the Bonaventure Station for Rouse's Point. He was accompanied by another man named Fitzgerald, a soldier, now in custody by the military authorities. By mistake the two men took a train which brought them to St. Armand, then they were told they would have to return to St. Johns, they were desired to remain till the evening. They had passed the look out party having got into a car containing emigrants. They had with them a black bag and were both sitting together. The look out party were informed that two men, apparently deserters, were at St. Armand and they were arrested. Prisoner said to Fitzgerald when they were arrested that he need not be afraid, he could come to no trouble.
The other two witnesses corroborated the evidence of the first, adding that in the bag were found some regimental necessaries belonging to Fitzgerald, that these were in possession of the prisoner, and that Fitzgerald had on part of prisoner's clothes.
The prisoner, who was undefended by counsel, was sentenced to six months imprisonment with hard labour. Mr. Betournay conducted the prosecution.
Edward Alty, a pressman, was accused of stealing a cash-box containing $450, the property of Michael Shelly, tavern-keeper, corner of Craig and George Street. One Thos. Murphy, a storeman, was also charged with being an accomplice. It would seem that on Saturday night last the prisoners were drinking together in the complainant's tavern, ran into the bar, took the cash-box, and hid it in the gateway. Alty suspects that Murphy returned and robbed the box of all but $28, which sum was found in it on Sunday morning when it was discovered by the police. The prisoners were committed for trial.
Thos. McEvoy, for stealing planks, was sent to jail at hard labor for six weeks.
One James Jackson, suspected of stealing fowls, was fined $5 or two months.
Napoleon Bordeau, was charged with assaulting Narcisse Lemay. The case having been heard, was dismissed,
Eusebe Lemay, for assaulting Simon Bordeau, was fined $1 and costs.
Also Leger Portugois, for assaulting one Henri Cochu, was also fined $1 and costs.
CORONER'S INQUEST.—Yesterday forenoon an inquest was held on the body of John Ainslie, a boy about fifteen years of age, an apprentice on board of the ship Iona, of Glasgow, now in harbour. From the evidence it was shewn that deceased was attending the steam winch used in discharging the cargo of the ship. While so engaged he had incautiously placed his hand on the barrel of the winch, where it was caught by the rope, and his body was drawn in between the roller and the boiler. The man in charge of the engine at once reversed motion, but death must have been instantaneous. We understand the parents of the boy reside in Dublin.

FIRE.—Shortly before one o'clock this morning, a one story house in Dorchester street, between St George and Urbain streets, was discovered to be on fire and the alarm was given. The engines were on the spot immediately, but, although the hose were laid, there was no necessity to use them, as the firemen managed to get the fire under with a few buckets of water. Beyond some of the wood-work being scorched there was no damage of any consequence. The fire had originated in some loose straw lying in the back room, but no cause for its ignition could be discovered. The chimney in the front room had been on fire in the forenoon. The tenants had moved out in the course of the evening and no one was living in the house.

THEATRE ROYAL.—MARY GLADSTANE.—The engagement of the distinguished actress, Mary Gladstane, at the Theatre Royal, has thus far proved deservedly successful. Last night she appeared in her great character of Lady Audley in Brougham's dramatization of Miss Braddon's popular sensation novel "Lady Audley's Secret." The play was put on the stage in capital style, and throughout, the acting was excellent. As Lady Audley, Mary Gladstane seemed to excel even herself. She was well supported by Mr McCullough, Bowers, and, indeed, by the entire company which by the way, is the best we have had in Montreal for several years. To-night, "Lady Audley's Secret" will be repeated, owing to the length of the drama, no other piece will be presented. To-morrow evening has been set apart for the benefit of Mary Gladstane, on which occasion, we learn, she will appear in several of her favorite characters.

RECORDER'S COURT.—Mr. Hiram Edson, of the Eagle Hotel, was charged with refusing admittance to the police on Sunday night. The patrol saw two men going into the house that evening, and from the outside saw that there was a light. They followed them up, and although the light was dim, it was sufficiently high to allow of them seeing that there were three persons inside. Constable Cullen got into the house by the private door and asked Mr. Edson to open the bar-room door, at the same time trying the handle and finding it locked. Mr. Edson said he had not the key. There was at this time a whispering going on inside the bar. There was also a light in it which was in for about five minutes and then extinguished. The policeman found a door in the passage open. This door led into a sitting room through which admission could be had to the bar.

Mr. Doherty, who appeared for Mr. Edson, contended that the policeman having got within the premises, had not proved the charge. Taking the words of the act as they stood there was no doubt that his client had complied with all its requirements.

The Recorder considered that the whole case turned upon the interpretation of the words of the act. It was well understood that all laws must be interpreted so as to give them effect. Here the mere entering into a hall or sitting room could not be considered as sufficient. All and every part must be seen. The circumstances appeared to be as follows:—The policeman sees parties in the sitting room he hears the bar-room door opened and a match struck. He enters the house, meets Mr. Edson, who tries the door of the bar-room. In this, he is unsuccessful, although in one point he is successful, that is, in keeping the policeman out and then tries to mislead him, apparently in order to get more time. Here then was clearly a refusal and the offering of obstruction. The case was clearly proved and the law on which they had to proceed was rendered necessary from the ingenious manner in which the laws had been evaded and continued to be evaded. Not only the most disreputable were guilty but even the most respectable violated the laws every Sunday and had pass-words, signs and ceremonies which had to be observed. This he believed was not the case with the defendant, who kept a regular house, but he should have considered that if his servants were guilty although he might have incurred the penalty yet he could have represented the matter to the Court who might have considered the representation. He believed that Mr. Dunkin was much to be praised for having had the courage to bring forward such a law which already had done a great deal of good. He would inflict the smallest penalty $10 and costs.

Pierre Blais, a boy was fined half a dollar for damaging one of the Guards round an ornamental tree in the Parade Ground. It would have been greater but the boy had been locked up all night.

The other cases were for drunkenness and loitering for which fines of various amounts were inflicted.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Last night a special meeting of the City Council was held, the Mayor presiding.

PETITIONS.

From certain carters asking for an increase of the tariff.

From Charles Spalding, lately employed by the Road Committee.

A letter from Brigade-Major McPherson was received, acknowledging receipt of a communication from the Council on the subject of lighting the Champ de Mars on drill nights, and expressing his satisfaction with the same. A letter from the same in regard to disturbance to the Council owing to spectators of the volunteers drill, and stating that orders would be issued to prevent any from being present, but those who were engaged in drill.

REPORTS.

From the Road Committee on a petition from Mrs. A. Dixon for damages sustained from having to leave premises leased by her resulting from expropriation of said property.

From the Police Committee, recommending that the Attorney of the Corporation take charge of cases in the Recorder's Court brought under the liquor law.

From the Road Committee, recommending the laying of sewers in certain streets.

The report of the License Committee on applications for licenses having been read, its adoption was moved by Councillor Labelle, and seconded by Coun. Archambault.

Alderman Stevenson, seconded by Councillor Brown, moved in amendment, that the report be referred back to the Committee with a recommendation to them to observe the same proportion in the various wards as was observed last year. The amendment was lost.

Moved by Councillor McGibbon, seconded by Alderman Stevenson, that the report be referred back to the License Committee with instructions that they bring up a final report at next meeting. The motion was lost by the casting vote of the Mayor.

The main motion was then carried.

Alderman David moved, seconded by Councillor Rolland, that the name of Adolphe Marcot be struck off the list, which was agreed to.

A report from the Road and Finance Committee to continue Lagauchetiere Street to Cemetery Street was, after a discussion, adopted on a division.

From the same, to widen a certain portion of Bonaventure street, the whole cost to be paid by the proprietors, was ordered to lie over till next meeting.

From the same—To homologate Forfar Street was carried.

From the Finance Committee, recommending a grant of $4,000 for the Agricultural Exhibition, to be held at Montreal was carried, Councillor Donovan dissenting.

Councillor Donovan enquired if the leases of butcher's stalls, lately leased, had been executed by both parties, and if not what would be the consequence.

Councillor Bowie stated that the leases had been prepared were now in the City Clerk's office, and had been presented to the Mayor for signature which had been refused.

The Mayor stated that whatever the consequences were the blame would rest with Mr Donovan.

Councillor Brown stated that typhus fever was likely to visit the city in its worst form, and he wished to know what steps were being taken to meet this in the way of cleaning.

Alderman Rodden said that four men were now employed to inspect yards &c. If these were not sufficient the Health Committee had only to state so and the matter would be attended to. It was their intention to lay out as much money as could be given, and he thought if the proprietors were called upon to clean their yards &c., the Corporation ought to do their duty. He regretted that some of the upper classes were to blame as well as the poorer.

Councillor Devlin said that he had visited St Ann's and St. Lawrence Wards, and he thought there were not dirtier streets than were in Montreal, in any of the many cities in which he had lately been. It was due to themselves for their own sakes and for the health of the citizens that something should be done. The filth had been raked together and there left, the shafts of the drains were stopped, and there was scarcely a street in these wards which was not fit to breed disease. The standing water was absolutely stinking and not a day should be lost in taking steps to clean these streets before opening and embellishing others.

Alderman David was glad to hear those remarks, but he had not the funds to do anything. The Committee had only $15,000 and after liabilities were met, only $12,000 would be left. Unless the Council granted more money, nothing could be done. He corroborated what Councillor Devlin had said. They were going on as fast as possible, but more means must be found.

Councillor McGibbon asked if it was not prohibited to sell hides and tallow at the market and yet it was done every day.

Councillor Bowie said it was the duty of the Clerk of the Market, and his attention would be directed to it.

Councillor Brown wished to know if the Council could adopt no measure to find means so that the City might be cleaned at once.

The Mayor said that an illegal act had already been committed in appropriating money to the Road Committee. That act could not be repeated and the only way was to lay on a special rate.

Alderman Stevenson said that last year an appropriation was asked to fit up rooms in the City Hall, for the Fire Superintendent, for which certain repairs were needed. Those repairs were not completed and the Superintendent was living at great expense in a public hotel.

Councillor McNivin said that all that was necessary was putting in a sink and water closet. These he had ordered to be put in but the men who had gone to do this had been ordered off by the Mayor, who threatened to send for the Police.

The Mayor said this was correct.

It was then moved by Councillor McNivin seconded by Councillor Rolland that $150 be voted for purposes for which no special appropriation had been made.

The Mayor ruled the motion out of order.

Councillor McGauvran asked what provision was to be made for the traffic in Wellington Street during the time the tunnel was open. He also called attention to the state of St. Joseph street near the Toll Gate.

Alderman David replied that he had given instructions already in respect to both matters which were now being attended to.

Councillor Isaacson moved, seconded by Councillor Alexander that all matters now in dispute between the Corporation and Judge Smith be referred for final decision to arbitrators to be named by the parties interested.

The discussion was still proceeding.

THE YELLOW FEVER PLOT.

DETAILS OF THE EVIDENCE.

From the Bermuda Advocate, we extract the following testimony:—The title of the suit was the Queen upon complaint of J H Thies President of the Board of Health against E C Swan, for harbouring a nuisance prejudicial to the health of the town.

J H Thies President of the Board of health for St. George:—I was informed by C M Allen, U.S. Consul that there was secreted in the house of E Swan three trunks said to contain clothing infected with yellow fever and on the 12th inst the Borad of health was convened and the circumstances of the case were made known to them. It was decided that two members of the said Board accompanied by the town inspector should enter the premises of Swan and obtain possible the clothing, on arriving at the house of Swan I told him the object of my visit and after some demur he acknowledged that he did have in his possession three trunks which answered the discription given by me. I told him I wished him to deliver the trunks to me, and he agreed to do so on my promising to give him a receipt and that in case the report was unfonded they would be returned to him. I asked him in presence of Mr. Fox, Nathanial Jackson, of whom he obtained the packages, and he said by Dr. Blackburn; he also said there was certain renumeration due to him for taking care of the packages, and requested that I would be responsible for the same; I asked him if he had received renumeration and if Mr Blackburn had ever tendered any compensation to him; he said he had not; the trunks were then taken in charge by the inspector, on the 13th inst an examination was made by the health Officer. The marks were as follows: on the portmanteau St Louis Hotel Uppertown Quebec; another ticket on the same was Clifton House, Niagara Falls, Canada Side; the green trunk was not quite full when I first saw it; there was no direction on either of the other packages.

E C Swan says: The three trunks were placed in my possession by the request of Dr. Blackburn and he requested me to keep them until his return; he said in case he did not return, I should receive compensation from the Confederate Government officers, he said I could apply to Mr. Black, as Major Walker was not in the Island I did apply to Mr Black, but he sent me word that Dr Blackburn was expected. I wrote Mr Black. Dr Blackburn told me the trunks were of much importance and I must be careful with them, and I should be recompensed on his return, I never had any conversation about the trunks except with my wife and Mr Alexander a clerk in Major Walkers office. I did not know the contents of the trunks; I supposed they contained clothes as Dr Blackburn told me so, the trunks were never opened while in my possession I dont know who had the keys I can't say whether they were locked Mr Black, Mr Taylor and Mr Alexander had some conversation with my wife about the trunks; my wife has told me Mr. Black had been to see her about the trunks; Mr. Black and others in his office have told my wife that if I needed money I could get it at their office: no one applied to me for the trunks previous to Mr. Thies; my wife has told me that Mr. Black and other parties at Major Walker's office have expressed a great desire to have the trunks removed to his office; Dr. Blackburn did not board at my house, but he visited several Confederate gentlemen who were boarding there; he, when leaving, told me to make out a list of articles for my shop and he would get them for me on credit at Halifax; Dr. Blackburn gave me no money; I told Buckstaff there were three trunks in my house; he did not manifest any interest in them; I am not prepared to say that he knew of the contents; I had a little anxiety about the trunks in consequence of the great interest manifested by the parties in Mr. Black's office, and I mentioned it to Mr. Buckstaff; I have nothing more to say unless I am permitted to give "Queen's evidence."

Benjamin Burland, sworn.—I am Health Officer; on the 13th instant I was called by the President of the Board of Health to inspect the contents of a green trunk, a leather portmanteau and a black trunk; I proceeded to Nonsuch Island with instructions that if on examining the three trunks, I should be of the opinion that they contained infection, I should have them buried; in the trunks I found sundry articles of clothing; in the green trunk shirts and guernseys quite new and unwashed; I directed the Inspector of Nuisances to take an inventory of the clean and unworn articles, while I made an inventory of the more suspicious articles; I next found a white blanket, rather new, but covered with dark stains—they bore all the traces of having been used in a sick chambur—the stains resembled those from "black vomit." The next thing was an old clothes-bag—then several guernseys, apparently new and unworn, and, at the bottom of the trunk, a sheet very extensively stained; some of the stains were of a dark color—others yellow as if from mustard; there were marks on the trunk, but I took no notice of them; the portmanteau I had broken open and found on the top a woolen shawl, old, but free from stains: then a pair of drawers, very dirty, with yellow stains; then socks, a pocket-hankerchief, coat and trowsers, all worn and dirty; next a quantity of guernseys, shirts, both flannel and cotton, all apparently new; then two pillow-slips, very much soiled, and a shirt stained as if from port wine, and, finally, a sheet at the bottom, stained all over with some kind of a dark color; others lighter, also mustard stains; the black trunk I also ordered to be broken open; I found in it shirts, both cotton and woolen; then a shirt and guernsey, stained and very dirty; then a white pocket-handkerchief with dark colored stains, and a few dark spots such as would be produced by black vomit; next a bandage of linen deeply stained by mustard; then two blankets quite free from stains, but not new blankets; next a pair of drawers and socks, much worn and dirty; and lastly two pillow-slips on the bottom also stained as if from perspiration; I considered the articles to be of a suspicious character, as many of them had been used in a sick chamber, and I ordered them to be buried; there were addresses on all the trunks, but I took no notice of them; the green trunk was full, but it could have contained more; the lock had been forced off, and adhered to the hasp; I considered the articles to be of a suspicious character, particularly when I remembered the epidemic of last year; but whether they were removed from yellow fever patients I cannot say; if infection existed it must have pervaded all the articles in the trunks; I considered the articles as a nuisance in a sanitary sense; assuming the articles to have been taken from yellow fever patients, I considered them very prejudicial to the health of the community; I received a fee of five guineas; none of the articles were marked with names.

G. B. Black:—On or about the 30th of September last, when the mail steamer was about leaving for Halifax, Doctor Blackburn told me that he had left some trunks with a man by the name Swan, recommended to him on account of his fidelity; he asked my opinion of Swan, and I told him I could not give him any satisfaction as to his qualification as a faithful individual; he then told me that he had made a contract with Swan; that he had paid him two hundred and fifty dollars and that the balance of the money—an additional two hundred and fifty dollars—he was to pay the said Swan on the fulfilment of his contract; which was, to carry the trunks he alluded to to New York City during the present Spring—but that he had some doubts as to his fidelity, he might after he arrived in Halifax change his mind; if so, he would send me an order on Swan for the trunks, and requested me if he did so to send them to Halifax; how many trunks there were, I never knew; a few days after I stopped at Swan's and was shown the trunks, and the matter had almost passed from my mind until about the last of March, when I received a few lines from Swan, asking me to see him about the trunks and the remuneration, which note I destroyed as it was about a matter that did not concern me, nor did I go to see Swan. On the 11th of April I received another letter from the same person, which I now produce.

St. Georges, Bermuda, 11th April, 1865.

Sir,—Aware of your knowledge with respect to the importance of the trunks remaining in my charge, and also the interest manifested by you concerning the same, I beg to call your attention to the fact of my not having heard or received any answer to my previous letter of the 31st of March, respecting payment of promised remuneration; I therefore deem it imperative to notify my intentions to you to seek undoubted remuneration from another source, should I not hear from you within the space of twenty-four hours.

I am, sir,

Mr. G. P. Black. EDWARD C. SWAN.

Considering this epistle as one that would be called a black mail letter issued for the purpose of extorting moneys under threat of exposure and not fearing any exposure took no more notice of this than I did of the former note, except to keep it for future reference; I know nothing further; I have never heard from Dr. Blackburn; I never did exhibit any interest in the trunks. Dr. Blackburn never told me what the trunks contained.

F. Buckstaff:—Three or four months ago Mr. Swan told me that three or four trunks had been left in his possession by Dr. Blackburn, and frequent allusion has been made to me since both by Mr. Swan and his wife, and also by Mr. Alexander, employed in Major Walker's office, About a month ago Mr. Swan told me what the trunks contained, and repeated a conversation he had with Dr. Blackburn, and which was to the effect that the clothing in the trunks came from yellow fever patients, and that they were intended to be sent to New York or Philadelphia, or it may have been to both places; he also told me that Dr. Blackburn had promised him a remuneration of $150 a month, during the time he had never received anything from either Dr. Blackburn or Major Walker's office; I saw a letter written by Mr. Swan to Mr. Black about the trunks, and also reminding him of the promised remuneration, and as he did not receive any answer during a space of two or three weeks, he wrote a second one threatening Mr. Black that if he did not receive an answer he would draw the remuneration from another source. Some two months or ten weeks since Mr. Black came to Swan's house and had an interview with Mrs. Swan in a room adjoining the one occupied by me, and without listening I heard him say that he would pay her a considerable sum of money if she could get the trunks out of the house without Mr. Swan's knowledge; Mr. Swan told me that Mr. Blackburn had informed him that the intention of sending the clothing to New York was for the destruction of the masses there. Swan told me he knew the contents of the trunks from what Dr. Blackburn had told him; Mr. Swan also expressed his suspicion that other trunks taken by Dr. Blackburn were infected.

Dinah Amory, I am in the habit of nursing invalids: during the late epidemic I attended some at the Hamilton Hotel. Dr. Blackburn attended the housemaid; Dr. Blackburn boarded at the hotel; I had Dr. Blackburn's washing done for him; I packed up one trunk; the clothing consisted of shirts, robbins and socks which I had just brought from the wash, beside which there were some new articles, such as brown Holland coats, robbins, and a blanket which I also took to be a new one; the articles belonging to Dr. Blackburn were all marked with his name; I mean those washed by me; he had more than one trunk in his room; that same night the housemaid was taken and I attended her; her sister who was the cook of the establishment, requested that Dr Blackburn might attend her, and he attended her; I also nursed her. Dr Blackburn again visited her, and said she must have more covering, and be sweated more; I requested a blanket from Miss Crowell, but she told me she did not wish others used but those which had already been done with the fever patients. I did not think the woman required any extra clothing as she was sweating profusely at the time; when Dr Blackburn found I had not put any extra blankets over her he seemed annoyed and told me to come to his room, and I did so; and I then helped him to lift down a trunk, from which he took some guernsey coats, trowsers, and different things, all of them woolen, and laid them over her and around her, as he said, to prevent the air getting to her, and he ordered me not to disturb them till he returned; he put the things on the top of the bed clothes; he took the trunk into the room of the servant woman; during the night the woman was so exhausted by the sweating and the weight of the clothes, that I removed the things placed over her by Dr Blackburn down to her feet, and when he returned on Sunday morning he scolded me for removing any of the things before he came; he then took all the things and placed them in his trunk; Dr Blackburn said the woman was suffering from yellow fever, which was broke in about twenty-four hours; after the doctor had re-packed his trunk, I assisted him to take it back to his room; I don't know what became of it. I did not get as much from Dr Blackburn as I have from others I mean he was not so liberal.

William Blackman—I drive a cart the last five or six years; some months ago Mr Harnett told me a namesake of mine wanted to know what I would take his baggage to St George's for; I told him a pound and the ferriage; this I told to a Dr Blackburn, who replied that it was very hard to charge him so much, as he was doing duty and getting nothing for it; he finally agreed for me to take his baggage, and I got some of his baggage at the Hamilton Hotel; I also called at Mrs Slater's for baggage, but am not certain; I don't know how many trunks I had; it was a pretty fair load for the cart; there were several small articles besides trunks: I brought them to St George's and left them with a Mr Swan at the foot of Barrack Hill; a man whom I took to be a blockader, also assisted to remove some of the things; I left everything that I brought down: Mr Swan seemed to know the trunks were coming, as he said it was all right: he also told me Dr Blackburn cured him of yellow fever; he looked very bad; I have never seen Dr Blackburn since

Francis Cameron, I nursed several patient with yellow fever during the epidemic. Dr. Blackburn attended one that I nursed—Captain Galloway of the Confederate army, he was one that died; Dr. Blackburn came about 12 o'clock and remained there until he died; after he was dead Captain Stevens asked what was to be done with the clothes; and then Dr Blackburn turned to me and said, "you go out of the room for a little while," and I went out; Capt. Stevens immediately followed me and gave me directions to go at once and see about his being buried; he then said I must go and see what is to be done about the clothes; when I returned, about an hour afterward, I found the dead body shrouded, but I saw nothing of the clothes. I don't know what became of them; just before he died he had hemorrhage of the lungs—or at least the doctor said so—and Capt. Stevens held a handkerchief at his mouth and received the blood; it was Capt. Stevens's handkerchief. I don't know what became of the handkerchief; Capt. Stevens is a Southerner; he was captain of a vessel when the war first broke out; I never packed any trunk at Mrs. Slaters; the sheet on which he lay I buried, and the other bed-clothes were thrown out of the window; Mrs Slater told me she had missed a great many things; I did not see any black vomit, and I understood from Mrs. Stevens that he did not have it, two others died at Mrs Slater's, but both of them after Dr. Blackburn had left.

J. H. Rainey; during the epidemic of last year I was bar-keeper at the hotel; Dr. Blackburn attended one of the chamber-maids; he was in the house about nine or ten days; when first he came to the house he had one trunk, but when he left he had more; I know he had two because I received one he had bought at Hamilton; I don't know anything personally about Dr. Blackburn but I heard some things from the nurse, that I thought were strange. The nurse asked me if I did not think it strange that Dr. Blackburn should put so much woolen clothing round Mary, [the sick woman) and then have them all packed in his trunk with blankets—and I told her I thought it very strange. Dr. Blackburn's baggage was all sent to St. Georges the day before he left the hotel; I saw a portion next day at Mr. Swan's, it was behind the counter; he took away one trunk from Swan's; I know he only took one, because he asked me to see after it and I sent a drag and got it; I did not get the other portion, because he instructed me only to bring one. I heard Dr. Blackburn tell Swan to see that he attending to the shipping of the boggage left behind by the first opportunity; the reply Swan made, as near as I can recollect, was "very well, sir."

The court adjourned until the 25th April, and C. Swan having refused to enter into recognizance for his appearance saying that he considered himself safer in jail than out of it, in consequence of his life being in danger.

April 25.—Catherine Slater. I kept a boarding house during the yellow fever of last year, and there were several sick gentlemen at the house; Dr. Blackburn, I believe, attended two of them, one of whom died, and I was told his name was Galloway; I dont know what became of the clothing which he had on when he died; the bed-clothing was thrown out into the yard; spoke to Dr. Blackburn about the things, and he told me to have them spread out in the night I missed many articles of bed clothing, and don't know what of became them; Dr. Blackburn did not visit the house often, I never knew he had any trunk at my house; but he had a carpet-bag which he used to carry about with him.

JUDGMENT.

On considering the foregoing evidence we deem it advisable to send the case to the Attorney General for prosecution before the Court of General Assizes of Quarter Sessions, at either of which he may see fit to indict E. C. Swan, and therefore remand him to the jail in this town, there to be kept until summoned to appear as above, unless he enter into full and sufficient recognizance himself in the sum of £50 with two sureties of £25 each for his appearance as aforesaid.

MAJOR-GENERAL DOYLE ON THE ASSASSINATION.

By the favor of a friend we copy part of a letter from Major-General Hastings Doyle, Commander-in-Chief of her British Majesty's forces in Nova Scotia, Newfoundland and Bermuda, dated Halifax, which will be read with grateful appreciation by our fellow-citizens:—

"I only returned from my inspection of the troops in the island of Bermuda a few days ago, and heard for the first time of the assassination of poor Mr Lincoln, and the attempt on Mr Seward's life, to both of whom I am indebted for the utmost kindness, hospitality, and consideration. I need scarcely say with what horror I heard that awful intelligence. Of Mr Seward, there is, I hope, every prospect of recovery; but who can replace such a man at the head of a nation as the late President proved to be!

"The death of any public man, in any country, under such dreadful circumstances, is an event to be deeply deplored; but in this case most especially, when Mr Lincoln conducted himself, in all his dealings with foreign governments, with so much moderation and discretion, the loss he is to both our countries is scarcely to be estimated.—N. Y. Times.

A RELIC OF THE PAST.—Last week a large bomb shell, rusted and antique in appearance, was dug out of the cellar of a house at the corner of Grant and St. Francis Street, St. Roch's, occupied by Mr. Rheaume, lumber dealer. It was found about five feet below the surface, and was filled with powder.

REMARKABLE DREAM.

The legal proceedings which lately took place in the Sheriff Court of Clackmannanshire with regard to the violation of a grave in the churchyard at Alloa and the unwarrantable exhumation of the body of James Quin, had their origin it is stated, in a remarkable dream of the mother of the deceased. Young Quin died in September 1863, and was buried in a lair in the churchyard which was purchased by his father from William Donaldson the kirk treasurer, it being agreed that the price was to be paid by instalments. About six months afterwards Robert Blair, the sexton or gravedigger took upon himself (without the authority it would appear of Donaldson) to sell the same lair to another person and to inter therein a relative of the new purchaser, without, however, at that time exhuming the body of Quin the former tenant. Some considerable time after this the mother of Quin, being desirous of erecting headstone on the grave of her son made some inquiries with that view, in the course of which she heard something of another person having been buried in his grave, this having as she stated, been 'cast up' by Blair's nephew to a younger son of hers on their way from the Sunday school But the gravedigger denied the truth of this story and managed to pacify her. Feeling however that he had got into a scrape by the lair having been resold he some weeks after Mrs Quin had interrogated him on the subject dug up the body of her son on the night of Thursday the 23rd of March last and re-interred it in other ground. Now on that very Thursday night as sworn to by Mrs Quin at the trial, she had this remarkable dream:—She dreamt that her boy stood in his night gown at her bed side and said to her, 'Oh, mother. put me back to my own bed.' She then awoke her husband and forgetting in her half-dreaming state that her son was dead, said to him, 'Jimmie is out of his bed put him back into it,' after which she fell asleep, and had the same dream. A third time during the same night she dreamt that her son was standing beside her bed; but on this occasion remembering that he was dead, the figure of the gravedigger was mixed up with that of the boy and he appeared to be shoving his spade into the body. Awakening in great trepidation and feeling certain that her boy had been taken out of his grave, she went to the gravedigger and vehemently accused him of having dug up the body, which after some prevarication, he at last admitted. Hence arose the action of damages against Donaldson the kirk treasurer, and Blair, the gravedigger which being restricted to £12 was brought in the small Debt Court.—The Sheriff after a long proof assoilzied Donaldson and found Blair liable in damages which, the parties not having settled the same extrajudicially, have been since assessed at £5.—Scotsman.

ANTIQUARIAN DISCOVERY AT FALMOUTH,—While a labourer at Pennance-farm, Budock, was engaged in removing some earth, he discovered, about two feet below the surface, on a foundation or floor of stone, a quantity of second brass Roman coins, of the reigns of Constantine, Diocletian, and Maximianus, There are about 20 different types of the above reigns, but the Genio Populi Romani type of Maximianus is greatly in excess, There are several varieties of the reign of Constantine, among which may be noticed the Principi Inventori, the Prince standing between two standards, and one type with P. L. N. in the exergue, struck in London. There are about eight or ten third brass, some of which are attributed to Gallineus. The second brass are in excellent condition, and are beautifully patinated.

THE NEWSPAPER APPRECIATED.—Without any newspaper, life would narrow itself to the small limits of my personal experiences, and humanity be compressed into the ten or fifteen people I mix with. Now, I refuse to accept this. I have not a sixpence in consols, but I want to know how they stand. I was never—I never in all likelihood shall be in Japan; but I have an intense curiosity to know what our troops did at Yokohama. I deplore the people who suffered by that railroad smash; and I sympathise with the newly married couple so beautifully depicted in the 'Illustrated,' as they drove off in a chaise and four, the bald old gent, at the hall door waving them a last adieu. I like the letters of the correspondents, with their little grievances about unpunctual trains or some unwarrantable omissions in the Liturgy. I even like the people who chronicle the rain fall, and record little facts about the mildness of a season. As for the advertisements I regard them as the glass and mirror of the age. Show me but one page of the 'Wants' of any country and I engage myself to give a sketch of the current civilization of the period. What glimpses of rare interiors do we gain by these brief paragraphs! How full of suggestiveness and of story are they.—Blackwood's Magazine.

A CURIOSITY—FREAK OF NATURE.—Mr. Henry Williams, of the Great Western Railway, has in his possession a full grown lamb, which exhibits a decidedly queer freak of nature. The animal was presented to Mr. Williams by a farmer in the township of Nassagaweya. It has but one ear; the orifice where the other organ should be, is hermetically sealed by nature. The lamb has also six well developed legs, all of which are brought into motion during its movements from place to place.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

Montreal, 17th May, 1865.

The sky which was this morning early very bright, has clouded over and some few showers of rain have fallen. So far this warm rain has been beneficial to our farmers, not being sufficient to impede outdoor work, and yet to give plenty of moisture to the seed sown.

ALBANY LITE STOCK MARKET.

Albany May 15, 1865.

BEEVES.—The market closes even heavier than it opened, and the decline on all the sales made is equal to 1c per lb., live weight. The receipts it will be seen, were remarkably large, and the Cattle are of usually good quality, so that the supply of meat is double an ordinary supply and more than twice enough to meet the demand. The Western contract cattle continue to come in, in large numbers the owners being compelled to press the market in order to realize. The highest wholesale price this week is not above 9½c per lb live weight, and this for Cattle that five weeks back have brought 13c per lb., with the sellers quite indifferent whether buyers took them or left them alone. Here then is a decline of 3½c per lb., live weight or about $40 per head, within thirty five days—a decline the full benefit of which ought to, but does not yet reach the consumer.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

MEDICAL SCIENCE.

The history of Hoofland's German Bitters, the most remarkable medicine of the day and the many cures that have been performed with it in cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, and diseases arising from a disordered liver or stomach, place it among the most astonishing discoveries that have taken place in the medical world. The diseases to which these Bitters are applicable are so universal, that there are but few of our friends who may not test their virtues in their own families or circle of acquaintances, and prove to their own satisfaction that there is at least one remedy among the many advertised medicines deserving the public commendation. It is a fact that, in the minds of many persons, a prejudice exists against what are called Patent Medicines; but why should this prevent you resorting to an article that has such an array of testimony to support it as Hoofland's German Bitters? Physicians prescribe it, why should you discard it? Judges, usually considered men of talent, have and do use it in their families; why should you reject it? Clergymen, and those the most eminent, take it; why not you? Let not your prejudice usurp your reason, to the everlasting injury of your health. If you are sick, and require a medicine, try these Bitters.

These Bitters are prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, for JONES & EVANS, Prop'rs, 631 Arch St., Philadelphia.

Ask for Hoofland's German Bitters. Take nothing else, and see that the signature of C. M. Jackson is on the wrapper of each bottle. These Bitters are for sale by druggists and storekeepers in every town and village in the United States, Canadas, West Indies, and South America.

IT IS A MELANCHOLY FACT—That corrupt politicians aim at benefiting nobody but themselves, and do a vast deal of injury to those whom it is their duty to serve. But while such a state of things exists it is gratifying to know that some people still have the welfare of the people at heart, by giving them such good medicines as Henry's Vermont Liniment. Read the advertisement in another column, and get a bottle of it without delay.

Few persons can tolerate cod liver oil, whether white or brown, purified or natural, mixed with substances which tend to disguise its taste and smell; it is very frequently either vomited or badly supported. We are glad to learn, that after a great number of experiments made in the hospitals, the greater part of the Physicians of Paris have adopted the Iodized Syrup of Horseradish, prepared cold by M. Grimmault, to treacle it with advantage.

HUNNEWELL'S TOLU ANODYNE.

The real necessity of this splendid preparation was two-fold, and well has it proved how this necessity has been met. To have a true and natural Opiate for all cases of Loss of Sleep, and Nervous Debility, and Anti-spasmodic for all Neuralgic, Rheumatic, Gout, Hysteria, Paralytic, and St. Vitus Dance cases as an inward application, without producing any of the horrors, or bad effects of Opium, or preparations of Opium, but a preparation that, should it fail of reaching the complaint would leave no stain of debility behind. For Tooth and Earache, for Nervous or common Sick Headache, for the suffering in Monthly Menstruation, Distress after Eating, it is almost infallible. It is the production of a celebrated herb from India, perfectly natural in its color, uniform in action, and by confidence to test it, will be found the greatest necessity in every family. This preparation has the most unqualified confidence of large numbers of Physicians, is controlled by a thorough knowledge of medicine, and it is the wish of the proprietor that it may be accepted with perfect confidence by all, as free from every species of quackery, and based on most perfect laws in Materia Medica. Asthma is perfectly relieved by the Anodyne, and among its great points.

"QUI VIVE."

When the army of General Wolfe were climbing the steep that led to the Plains of Abraham they were met by the quick "Qui Vive" of the French Sentinel, but having Frenchmen with them, they replied and thus gained the heights on which the glorious battle which decided the fate of Quebec was fought. As all know "Qui Vive" is the expression used by French Sentinels to challenge an enemy,—then let all who own Horses be on the alert and challenge the first appearance of disease in their favorite charger, and if they ask

The New York Tribune says, "the reason why Drake's Plantation Bitters are so universally used, and have such an immense sale, is that they are always made up to the original standard, of highly invigorating material and of pure quality, although the prices have so largely advanced, &c."

The Tribune just hits the nail on the head. The Plantation Bitters are not only made of pure material, but the people are told what it is. The Recipe is published around each Bottle, and the bottles are not reduced in size. At least twenty imitations and counterfeits have sprung up. They impose upon the people once, and that's the last of them.

The Plantation Bitters are now used in all the Government Hospitals, are recommended by the best physicians, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. Facts are stubborn things.

"* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.

C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway."

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Nov. 24, 1863.

DEAR SIR,—I have been afflicted for many years with severe prostrating cramps in my limbs, cold feet and hands, and a general disordered system. Physicians and medicine failed to relieve me. Some friends in New York, who were using Plantation Bitters, prevailed upon me to try them. I commenced with a small wine glassful after dinner. Feeling better by degrees, in a few days I was astonished to find the coldness and cramps had entirely left me, and I could sleep the night through, which I had not done for years. I feel like another being. My appetite and strength have also greatly improved by the use of the Plantation Bitters.

Respectfully, JUDITH RUSSELL.

If the ladies but knew what thousands of them are constantly relating to us, we candidly believe one-half of the weakness, prostration and distress experienced by them would vanish. James Marsh, Esq., of 159 West 14th street, N.Y., says "he has three children, the first two are weak and puny, his wife having been unable to nurse or attend them, but that she has taken Plantation Bitters for the last two years, and has a child now eighteen months old which she has nursed and reared herself, and both are hearty, saucy and well. The article is invaluable to mothers." &c.

Such evidence might be continued for a volume. The best evidence is to try them. Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, diabetes, &c., will find speedy relief through these Bitters. They speak for themselves.

Every bottle for exportation and sale out of the United States has a metal cap and green label around the neck.

Beware of refilled bottles. See that the cap has not been mutilated. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is an impostor. We sell it only in bottles.

Sold by principal dealers throughout the habitable globe.

The Wonder of the Age
MYSTIKOS
BOGLE'S MYSTIC HAIR TINT.

THE NEWEST AND GREATEST DISCOVERY.

The indispensable appendage to every toilet—The companion of young and old.

The "long sought for and now found."

IT IS NOT AN INSTANTANEOUS HAIR DYE, but it gradually and mystically restores hair to its original color, and gives to grey, or to any unpleasant hue of hair, any tint, varying from the lightest through all the intermediate shades, to the deepest black, lifelike and natural, at pleasure. It can be used as easily as oil to the hair. The directions are so simple that a child may apply it. It is contained in one bottle. There is no washing of the hair before or after the application. It will not stain or discolor the scalp. It is as harmless as water. It is chiefly composed of vegetable ingredients, and no sulphur lead or deleterious minerals are contained in it. It nourishes and strengthens the hair, promotes its growth, and sustains it in prestine beauty to the latest period of life. In short, it is a wonder, a luxury, none should be without it. Try! Be convinced!

The Mystic Hair Tint is peculiarly adapted for ladies, on account of its easy application. Also, and for the same reason, to gentlemen in the army or navy.

The Mystikos is also the cheapest article as one bottle will last from nine to twelve months.

⁎ Concise and simple directions accompany each package.

PRICE, $1.50 PER PACKAGE.
