SEVERAL RUHR CITIES ARE FINED BY FRENCH Will Not Carry Out Transfer Of Prisoners Agreement

Will Hold Cities Responsible For Acts In Future

French Authorities Will Hereafter Hold Cities and Towns Throughout Ruhr Valley Responsible for Sabotage or Other Acts of Disorder Designed to Hinder the French and Belgian Armies of Occupation—Several Cities Were Fined Today—French and Belgian Forces Are Adding to Their Rolling Stock for Operation of German Railroads—Many Locomotives Have Been Seized by the Troops.

(Associated Press Despatch)

ESSEN, March 2.—Cities and towns throughout the Ruhr Valley are to be held responsible hereafter for sabotage or other acts of disorder designed to hinder the French and Belgian armies of occupation, and fines will accordingly be assessed by order of General Degoutte, the French military chief in the district, it was announced today.

German officials of such towns will be liable to arrest and trial by court martial in serious cases.

The town of Bochum, which has been the scene of troublesome incidents lately, has been fined 35,000,000 marks as an outcome of German civilian attacks upon French and Belgian civilians, it was announced in this connection. Two news dealers were beaten by a crowd of Germans, who resented the men's efforts to sell French newspapers there.

The fine was quickly collected. French troops swooped down on the Rathaus yesterday, took exactly the amount of the fine and left without further incident.

The town of Kettwig, near Essen, where military telephone wires had been cut, was fined one million marks. This sum has not yet been collected.

In Dusseldorf, Herr Wenzel, assistant director of posts and telegraphs, was sentenced to six months imprisonment. He is charged with being implicated in sabotage on the military telephone apparatus.

The French and German forces of occupation are adding to their rolling stock for the operation of the German railroads. Yesterday, at Muelheim, French troops seized one hundred and fifteen locomotives, sixty cars of coke and thirty cars of coal and took over the roundhouse and repair shops.

FINAL STEPS TAKEN FOR OPERATION OF THE RAILROADS

(Associated Press Despatch)

DUSSELDORF, March 2.—The Ruhr Allies today have made full preparation to operate all railroads in the Ruhr and Rhineland, with the exception of those in the Cologne area.

General Payot, the transportation chief of the French Mission, will be the administrative officer. He will have French and Belgian experts as his assistants.

In announcing the final steps for taking over the roads, French headquarters said the step was designed to smooth out the difficulties in the way of the occupation forces, who have been hampered by strikes and the menace of a food shortage. The railway administration is empowered to hire as many men as are needed. Several hundred Germans, the French officers assert, have requested work.

General Degoutte has ordered the collection of an internal revenue tax on all tobacco and spirits sold in the Ruhr and Rhineland. Persons who refuse to pay this tax will be arrested and their places of business will be closed.

FRENCH ABOUT TO OPEN A NEW CAMPAIGN OF ACTIVITY

(Associated Press Despatch.)

ESSEN, March 2.—The Havas correspondent has forwarded the following despatch to Paris:

The French are about to open a new period of activity which will involve direct utilization of the riches accumulated in the Ruhr, and, if necessary, thorough exploitation of the Ruhr resources. Attempts will be made to bring the total deliveries as close as possible to the amount to which the Allies are entitled.

The heads of each branch of industry in which the Mission of Civil Engineers in Essen is dealing will go to Dusseldorf in order to insure close contact with the military command. The Mission, which was sent into the Ruhr on the supposition that as soon as the military occupation was affected, the large German industries would surrender, has been obliged, owing to the resistance of the Germans, to prepare penalties.

PRINCE BROKE INTO SLANG IN HIS ADDRESS

Lady Astor Termed Prince of Wales Strongest Link Between Britain and All Other Countries.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Mar. 2.—The Prince of Wales broke into slang last night while addressing the American University Union. Speaking of the benefits of overseas experience, he said that he had probably been more "lucky" than most of those present and that he might be able to "put one over" on many of them by asking how many had visited Honolulu and the Philippines.

A jazz band enlivened the proceedings and caused the Prince to remark that it would be difficult to keep his eyes on his notes during the fox trot tunes. Before dinner he shook hands with all the guests.

Lady Astor termed him the strongest link between the United States and Great Britain, in fact between Great Britain and all other countries. Yale, Harvard, Princeton and Columbia men gave their college cheers for his benefit.

Resolution To Prohibit Commercialized Race Track Gambling Defeated In House

Resolution Was Supported by Progressives on the Principle that Betting Was Pernicious and that No Such Activity Should Be Legalized—Liberals, Including Sir Lomer Gouin, Minister of Justice, Opposed Motion—Sir Lomer Willing to Recommend Legislation Prohibiting Publication of Racing Tips and Other Betting Information.

(Associated Press Despatch)

OTTAWA, Mar. 2.—On a free vote, the House of Commons last night rejected by 96 to 76 the resolution moved by W. C. Good, Progressive member for Brant, to prohibit commercialized race track gambling. The division came after a couple of days debate and cut across party lines, members of the Cabinet itself differing in opinion.

James Murdock, Minister of Labor, and Hon. W. L. Mowbray, Minister of Agriculture, voted for the resolution. Sir Lomer Gouin, Minister of Justice, Hon. D. D. McKenzie, Solicitor General, Hon. Dr. Beland, Minister of Health, Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, Hon. A. B. Copp, Secretary of State, and Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, voted against.

All Liberals present but twelve and, curiously, all Conservatives present but twelve voted against the resolution. Progressives present voted for the resolution with the exception of Angus McDonald, of Temiskaming, who voted against.

As the votes were being recorded, T. L. Church, of North Toronto, cast his vote in error in favor of the resolution. Realizing his mistake, Mr. Church protested: "Don't count me. I made a mistake. I intended to vote against."

The House laughed and Mr. Church was permitted to correct his vote.

During the debate, Sir Lomer Gouin, Minister of Justice, intimating the possibility of new legislation on racing. The Attorney General of Ontario, he declared, had recommended such amendments to the criminal code as would make illegal the publication of racing tips, selections, odds, winning money prices, pari-mutuel payments or similar intelligence, except on the premises of a racing association while a meet is in progress, whether the race be held within or without Canada. "I am prepared," added Sir Lomer, "after reading the proposed amendments, to recommend to my colleagues that we should make a Government measure of the substance of the amendments which I have just read to the House."

That the government has no scheme for old age pensions in view was elicited in the House of Commons in reply to a question.

Another question brought the information that Hon. Ernest Lapointe had gone to Washington on official business. The precise nature of the business would be given if the question were put on the order paper said Hon. W. S. Fielding for the government, in the absence of the Premier, who is sick but expected back in parliament on Monday.

BELOW ZERO FOR TWENTY DAYS IN FEBRUARY.

Out of the twenty-eight days in the month of February, the thermometer registered below zero on twenty, according to the monthly report of the Dominion Experimental Station at Lennoxville. The highest temperature of the month was thirty-five degrees and the lowest point touched by the mercury was forty-three degrees below zero. The mean temperature for the month was 3.38 degrees. During the same month last year the maximum temperature was forty-seven degrees, the minimum was thirty-five degrees below zero and the mean temperature was 14.28 degrees.

The total hours of sunshine during the month amounted to 125.9 as compared with 104.2 in February, 1922.

A SHORTAGE OF 80,000,000 POUNDS

The Tea Business, like nearly everything else, has been having a hard time since the war. Unfavorable tea growing weather, labor troubles on the plantations, and the unsettled political atmosphere generally, have so seriously reduced this year's crop, that the world is now faced with a shortage of over 80,000,000 lbs., or more than two years supply for the whole Dominion of Canada. The inevitable result has been steadily increasing prices, until today, tea is bringing higher prices than ever before in the history of the industry. In Canada, the Salada Tea Company, our largest Tea concern, has been forced by this condition, to recently increase the price of all their teas, in order to maintain their standard of quality.

SIGNS OF SPRING.

Spring has been in the air during the last few days and warmth of the rays of the sun has had its effect upon the winter's accumulation of snow and ice. During the week the sun has been shining steadily and the streets of the city have taken on the dingy aspect which is in evidence every spring as the snow and ice begins to disappear.

In many places on the principal streets the pavement is visible, and at the corner of King and Wellington Streets a large portion of the pavement is clear, and the sleighing is consequently poor. Heavily loaded teams coming up King Street and crossing the intersection of streets, are met with this bare patch and the horse are forced to strain themselves to the utmost to draw the sleds across.

WOMEN'S REALM

(By Sylvie West)

A pleasant feature in connection with school life is noted in the announcement that today, Friday, is visitor's day at the Marlinton school. All parents and interested friends are cordially invited to pay the school, teachers and pupils a friendly visit. It is a precept that could be followed elsewhere; undoubtedly with the result of a new interest on the part of many parents as well as the teachers. Educationalists are calling for co-operation.

In an article, "Canadian Women in the public eye," Mrs. E. Atherton Smith, of St. John, N. B., is referred to as "one of Canada's notable women." She is described as a woman having remarkable ability as an organizer and executive; as a platform speaker of charm and force, and as one result of extensive travel and literary talent has given many delightful lectures, the proceeds of which have gone to charitable causes.

During the war she made a record for splendid service. The Royal Standard Chapter I. O. D. E. formed in 1915 with Mrs. Smith as Regent, raised some $53,000 during her five years' term in office. In doing this it earned the distinction of being called "the banner chapter of Canada."

It was through her efforts that the St. John County Hospital was built by the Municipal Council for a home for advanced cases of tuberculosis in connection with the Women's Hospital Aid. By her unique organization methods, she brought up the membership to twenty-five hundred, and by the public sentiment so created succeeded in getting the Municipality to grant $200,000 with which to erect a Nurses' Home, which in its turn relieved the congestion at the General Public Hospital.

She succeeded Lady Tilly as president of the Women's Club, in which the membership increased from one hundred and twenty to nine hundred in her five years of presidency. At the time of the terrible catastrophe at Halifax, Mrs. Smith was sent for to assist in the organizing for relief, and her help was, as ever, of the best.

The writer tells of honors that have been bestowed upon the notable worker, one of which was the medal of Queen Elizabeth of Belgium, for her services on behalf of that country. She was the first woman to greet the Prince of Wales when he arrived at St. John in 1919. The Prince asked to be introduced to Mrs. Smith and publicly thanked her on behalf of the King for her splendid war work, and for what her Chapter had done.

Added to her claims to distinction as a philanthropic and social service worker, she is a writer and lecturer of great charm and through these has been made an Associate Member of the Royal Colonial Institute of London, England. After her return from extensive travels, among them a visit to the war zone, Mrs. Smith prepared a travelogue, illustrated with one hundred views, many of which were taken on the spot by her husband, and "Flanders and France Revisited," has been given on many times for the benefit of soldiers' memorials and hospitals. Last spring she was one of the many notable women who attended the Pan-American Conference of Women in Baltimore, and the "Sun" said of her, "Mrs. Atherton Smith, of Canada delivered the real oration of the evening." Her address, it is stated, was impromptu, and was about the Canadian heroines who had by noble deeds written their names into the country's history.

Mrs. Smith is a daughter of New Brunswick, before her marriage, Miss Nan MacPherson Robinson, and she is justly proud of her descent from the MacPhersons of Cluny. She cherishes a gold brooch bearing the MacPherson coat of arms, which she presented to her by the Chief of the clan, when with her husband she visited him in his Highland home, Cluny Castle, some years ago. Her personality is spoken of in warmest terms, the writer saying: "the strain of war work turned her to a brown hair to grey, but it is a most becoming frame for her fresh-colored face, in which black-lashed grey eyes sparkle with vitality. Her charming presence, robust health, tact and magnetism combine in making her a woman which it is a pleasure to meet and one that will always be remembered."

OFFICERS FOR THE 53rd CHAPTER I. O. D. E.

At the annual meeting of the 53rd Chapter I.O.D.E. the following officers were elected: Mrs. W. A. Farrell, Regent; Mrs. Loughheed, 1st Vice-Regent; Mrs. Grimes, 2nd Vice-Regent; Mrs. Morgan, Secretary; Mrs. Foster, Assistant Secretary; Mrs. McLean, Educational Secretary; Mrs. Green, Echoes Secretary; Mrs. Wilson, Treasurer; Mrs. Devault, Standard Bearer.

TWO ENGINES HAULED ONE CAR.

Interested spectators watched the departure of the Grand Trunk train for Montreal at three o'clock yesterday afternoon, and many comments were heard upon the make-up. The train consisted of two locomotives, one passenger coach and a conductor's caboose.

It was ascertained however, that this peculiar train was simply made up here for the convenience of travellers leaving for Montreal and intermediate points, since the regular express from Portland was several hours late.

Pioneer Teaching In The Townships

By Rev. Ernest M. Taylor, M.A., Inspector of Schools.
(From Teachers' Magazine)

As one of the fruitful means of obtaining fresh thought and inspiration for future service is through comparison of past and present, in this article an effort is made to record some occurrences in the life of a Country District Schoolmaster who began to teach in the autumn of 1863. He was then only fifteen years of age. His school was a small private one, and matters ran smoothly. The next year, for six months, he attended the Academy at Waterloo under the tuition of R. W. Laing, M.A.

Previous to this time Diplomas or Certificates were granted by the School Inspector. Diplomas issued by Rotis Parmelee, M.D., the first Inspector appointed for the District of Bedford, are still to be seen occasionally. One was issued to a precocious girl, twelve years of age, who proved herself to be a successful teacher. A few years later she married a farmer of Bolton Township and raised a large family. Each of her six daughters became a successful teacher. A change came under the direction of the Honorable P. J. O. Chauveau and Examination Boards were formed which sat in many local centres. The candidates were to be not less than 18 years of age.

Though but 17, our youth was advised by Principal Laing to try the examination to be held in Sweetsburg in November, 1865. Armed with recommendations he set out, on foot, after school, and walked twenty miles to the house of a friend, reaching his destination at midnight. At the advertised hour he presented himself at the New Court House in Sweetsburg for examination. This examination was begun, continued and ended, in one day. He received his Diploma which reads "18th year." The late Senator Baker was one of the Examining Board. The new-fledged teacher walked to his father's farm-house, twenty-four miles distant in North Potton. The next day, mounted on one of his father's horses, he rode thirty-five miles "hither and yon" in Bolton Township seeking a school. He will never forget the experience of that day of disappointment nor his disinclination to mount a horse for some time thereafter.

Though in Bolton—then undivided—there were 23 English Schools, each had a teacher engaged, as this was in November. Schools were then operated for four months, namely, November, December, January and February. Summer Schools were held from May 1st until September 1st. Female teachers were usually employed for the Summer Schools and male teachers for the winter terms. Small children and some grown-up girls attended the Summer Schools. But when the harvest was over, frequently the school attendance was nearly doubled. Then bearded young men and marriageable young women were found in nearly

BAPTIST LADIES' AID ELECT OFFICERS.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Baptist Church was held last evening at the home of Mrs. James Byrd, Elgin Avenue, with a good attendance of members. The secretary's and treasurer's reports showed a year of activity and progress in the women's work for the church.

The officers for the coming year are president, Mrs. Jones; vice-president, Mrs. Hunter; secretary, Mrs. Hopkinson; treasurer, Mrs. Byrd; social convener, Mrs. Holgate and Miss Leman. Plans for the anniversary supper on Monday evening were completed and work for the coming Easter sale was carried on, the remainder of the evening being spent in a social way.

LENNOXVILLE

Sugar social, Douglas Hall, Friday 7.30. Admission 25 cents. Mr. Charles B. Frost, of Lennoxville, met with quite a serious accident one day recently. While unloading a car of coal a pry with which he was working slipped, striking him on the temple and inflicting an ugly cut quite close to his eye.

The many friends of Mr. J. C. Herking, who has been very ill in his home at Lennoxville for the past three months, has so far recovered as to be able to be up and around again.

Mr. Van Layercraft was the guest of Mrs. E. Booth on Tuesday afternoon.

Lenten services are being held in St. George's Church each afternoon and are being well attended. The preparation of Easter music is adding to the interest of choir rehearsals each week. Several anthems, solos, etc., are being prepared for the Easter services in all the churches.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Marlin and Mrs. Smith spent Thursday in Waterville with relatives.

GRIFFIN AND BISSELL ROAD

Misses Isabell and Eliza Mitchell, of Stanstead, spent the week-end with Mrs. Harris. Miss Cora Sim, of Bishop's College, Lennoxville, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Sim.

Miss Katherine Kelly, of Lowell, Mass., spent Thursday, Friday and Saturday with her sister, Mrs. A. Layfield, and family.

Mr. Joseph Little's family and Mr. Pete Charlier's have several members down with influenza. Miss S. Layfield is still confined to the house, but able to be up a while each day, and is gaining slowly.

every school. The late Loftus Smith taught a school in East Farnham with 74 pupils of varying grades and ages. They were taken 98 Protestant District Schools in Bromie County. Today there are only 49, one-half the original number. And Bromie County is now the most English of all of the Eastern Counties.

Our newly certificated teacher did not desire employment in his native Township. But failing to obtain a school in Bolton, he went to Manonville, where two years before Elson I. Rexford and himself had been pupils of Miss Susan Faulkner, who held a Model School Diploma from McGill Normal School. Mr. Samuel Peabody, a successful teacher of extensive experience, had now become the Secretary-Treasurer of the Township of Potton.

These were the days of "knock down and drag out," and the winter teachers were often men who could outlift, out-jump and roughly handle the bullests of the school. Our candidate for a winter school, two years before had met with an accident which led to spinal curvature, and the strength which afterwards came to him was lacking at this time. Although his former teacher, the Secretary, gave him encouragement, he acknowledged that of the 18 schools then in the Townships of Potton he was taken except one. This no teacher was willing to undertake. The Secretary wished the post filled and put forth the following alluring inducements:

First, Whereas a day laborer on the farms had to work 26 days a month, only 24 working days would be required of the fortunate teacher in this school. This meant a holiday on alternate Saturdays, with the possibility for our teacher of spending every second Sunday at his father's home.

Second, He would receive the large sum of thirteen good Canadian dollars a month, which at that time would be worth about twenty-five dollars in greenbacks (U.S. currency). Of course he would receive his board from the people, going from house to house, as "boarding around" was well nigh universal. Here was an opportunity to earn real money.

In passing it may be of interest to note that nearly all the men who have occupied prominent positions in the history of our Eastern Townships have taught school. The late Judge Lynch earned his first dollars in teaching the Duboyce School and "boarded around." Judge Archibald taught the High School in Knowlton. Mr. Victor Morrill, B.A., the recently appointed member of the Protestant Committee once taught the Dunham Academy. The list might be extended almost indefinitely.

The school under consideration had 37 pupils. The incidents connected with this winter term would furnish frame-work for a larger book than Dr. Eggleston's Hoosier Schoolmaster. Our young teacher had veterans of the American War of Secession, ex-convicts from Sweetsburg jail; one young man had served three years in the Northern Army and re-enlisted as a substitute, obtaining a bounty of one thousand dollars, and then with the larger part of this money in hand deserted, coming to Canada. He carried a very expensive gold watch and chain. He soon spent all of his ready cash.

Among the first men our young teacher had ever seen in the condition called "dead drunk" he recognized one of his pupils who had boasted that he had knocked down a policeman on the streets of Boston and boarded the first train for Canada. There was a "runaway" match among his pupils during the winter. The first bloody fight the schoolmaster had ever seen was on the highway in front of the school house after the dismissal of the school. The "fighters" were two of his pupils. An account of this struggle may be described in a future article, as well as some of the experiences of boarding around. Many of these incidents are much more amusing in detail than they were pleasant in effect. This system was abolished in the Eastern Townships through persistent efforts of the one-time Secretary of the Department, now the Principal of the Diocesan Theological College, Dr. Elson I. Rexford. There are distinct advantages in the "Boarding Around System," but not sufficient to justify its continuance. Several of the houses of this District, which was of the U.S. border, had been very hastily constructed during the war for the convenience of those persons who preferred a temporary residence in Canada to taking their share in the struggle between the North and the South. Some houses were of logs, but others of balloon frames, and unfinished. Let me picture our teacher's quarters in one such house. One cold Sunday morning when the family, which consisted of a man and his wife and one daughter, a pupil of the school, was taking a lengthened rest, the teacher opened his eyes and scanned his surroundings. This home was the only one where he had the privilege of sleeping alone. His room had been partitioned off from the kitchen by rough boards from floor to ceiling. It was just large enough to hold the bed and give place for the occupant to clothe himself in. The boards had seasoned after being put up and cracks had become large. The careful wife had prudently covered these cracks with pieces of newspaper pasted over them. In his cramped quarters the teacher was able to read the following lines and found them of such interest that he copied them into his home-made journal which after more than half a century he still possesses. As he lay there he solved the Problem:

"A farmer youth at close of day O'ertook a schoolmiss on her way; Thus haply met they smiled and talked, As side by side along they walked, Till very soon we suppose The question of her scholars rose. 'How many scholars,' then quoth he 'Had you today, pray tell to me?'

Young People's Corner

Uncle Jim's Letter

Dear Corner Children:—

Well, didn't March come in with a little bow and a smile? Not one bit like the blustery old chap we have heard so much about. We all hope that the old-fashioned saying about going out "like a lion" will be forgotten for it is such nice weather we do not want to think about anything unpleasant. But what if we do have a few blustery days? I think Canadian boys and girls are good enough sports not to mind them, but go right on having a good time with skates and sleds until there is too little snow and ice. Then hurrah! for the summer and all its joys.

I am going to make my letter short today, for there are so many letters waiting for their rightful place on the table. No, Rena, there is no need to send in all the pictures. I think it is much nicer to keep them or give them to some one who does not have much amusement. If you could send them to some shut-in, and add a few crayons or pencil, then they would make a souvenir worth putting away until you are old people, then you would smile and re-tell the story of the old days.

The little poem in today's corner sounds all right, except that the writer did not know what a nice March 1st we were going to have. I have about twenty-five colored pictures so far, and will have a big bundle to choose from at the last. The decision will be made known in the corner, then the prizes will be sent out. Until tomorrow, best wishes from

UNCLE JIM.

LETTERS FROM THE CORNER FOLK.

Dear Uncle Jim:

It has been a long time since I wrote to your club. I have colored the pictures and I am going to make a scrap book and send it to some poor children. The one in Saturday's Record I am sending to you. I hope I shall be one of the lucky ones for I like to read books. I will close, hoping Uncle Jim will sleep good tonight.

HARRIET LODGE,

Dear Uncle Jim:

It is a long time since I wrote last to you. I enjoy reading the letters and stories in the corner. I have quite a few pets. We have fourteen puppies. I have done quite a lot of knitting and crocheting this winter. I am coloring the picture in the Record and hope to win a prize. I am sending in some riddles. I will close wishing the Record every success.

DOROTHY STURTEVANT,

Knowlton.

Dear Uncle Jim:

This is my second letter to your page. I got my B. P. club pin, and I thank you for it. I think it is very nice. I am signing the J.R.C. form and hope to get a badge; I haven't seen any yet, and I hope I can join. I wish the B. P. club and the J.R.C. success. I remain your nephew,

ALEXANDER K. McIVER,

Echo Vale.

Dear Uncle Jim:

It has been a long time since I wrote to the corner, which I enjoy very well, and I like the pictures. I colored all of them, but I am only sending the contest picture. I have been sick with the gripe for a week and a half, but am well again. I am learning to skate and have had a good many bumps, but I like it all the same. It has been very cold here and we have a lot of snow. I will close hoping to see my letter in print, and also hope I will receive a prize.

Your niece,

MARION MORRISON,

Lake Megantic.

Dear Uncle Jim:

I am sending in the contest picture. I did not know if you meant to have all the pictures sent in. If I am to send them in, please let me know. I will be glad when sugaring comes, won't you? I like the letters in the corner and the pictures to color. I go skating and sliding and like both very much. I like reading and have read a number of books. I will close as my letter is getting long. With love, your niece,

RENA BOOTH,

Waterville.

She answered him for well she knew That he could read and cipher too And to tell the truth she loved him well.

To my direct I will not tell, But if I had just seven more Added to my present score, The square root of the sum would be Exact one-sixth they send to me. And then she smiled and tripped along Singing the while a joyous song. So now to know we would be glad How many scholars that day she had."

Sometime, perhaps, I will send a letter from my dog; will it be all right? My uncle and aunt came out from Sherbrooke, yesterday. I have not seen them since Christmas, and was glad to see them again. But when the sun smiles and bids him be kind
His growth will grow low and less fierce,
And he checks in the ice and the snow and the sleet
And the winds cease to bite and to pierce.

And when March goes out he's as gentle and tame
That the birds in their joy start to sing
For that blustering March is no longer the same —

"The Crimson Hour"

(By Sidney Warwick)

CHAPTER XXIV.

Above all, her voice was curiously different from that of the Lucia he had known. It was like another woman's voice now, in its clear, rather delightful intonation—the accidental result of an operation on her throat that some months ago had become necessary. It might have been a stranger's voice.

And Lizzie Jebb had been a trump card to play—that cousin of whose existence Jim had already known, who in appearance might almost have been her twin. . . . she had bluffed Jim Ferrers, her own husband, into conviction. But she could not bluff Carfax. Carfax knew.

"You've been uncommonly lucky, my girl—don't spoil your luck by quarrelling with me!" he said.

The woman did not answer, as she looked at him with smouldering eyes of mingled aversion and fear and hatred.

From the first she had felt a queer sense of aversion for Carfax. Even on the raft she had been vaguely conscious of it, though for the greater part of those long night hours, as the man and the woman on those frail floating planks had waited for the dawn to break over the Atlantic wastes, she had lain in an exhausted stupor, wrapped for warmth in his coat. . . .

She had felt too apathetic and played out even to give a thought to the fact that she was a fugitive from the law, when the passing ship had picked them up. . . . until she had heard Carfax say to the captain.

"We are survivors of the Rosetta, his lady is Miss Justine Dangars, the celebrated dancer."

She had believed it to be a genuine mistake on Carfax's part—but her mind had suddenly leapt to it eagerly. He had given her her cue!

She and Carfax were the only two survivors of the lost liner that this ship had picked up—a ship bound for France, for Cherbourg, as Lucia had learned with a thrill of relief. At first she had dreaded that it might be taking her back to the port she had fled from.

The captain had wirelessed the news to New York that Miss Justine Dangars had been picked up—news that had forthwith been blazoned forth in the American Press. One of the stewards of the Rosetta, who had seen the drowned form of the dancer washed past his boat, had been misled by the resemblance, and by the fact that "Aida" was reported safe into believing that the dead woman he had seen was "Aida's" cabin-companion; he had given evidence accordingly.

As Carfax told her, she had been uncommonly lucky; everything had seemed to fight for her. The dead woman's manager was a marriage connection of Lucia and her cousin, a man with no scruples worth mentioning, and with a very keen eye to his own interests.

At Cherbourg, where the report of "Aida's" rescue had sent him hurrying to meet the ship—there to receive the shock of his life—Lucia had suggested her scheme.

"Well, it does seem like flyin' in the face of providence to turn down the Arabesque's good money," Ben had said judicially. "And if you don't altogether click on your merits—and, and of course, you're not in the same street with Aida in the footwork—we can give a hint to the dear old sympathetic public that you're not up to your form through injuries in the wreck. Yes, I think we can put it across 'em, kid."

These thoughts crowded back on her now as she confronted Carfax, this man who was infatuated with her, and whose mad passion and jealousy looked like wrecking all her ambitious plans, her very security.

Suddenly with an effort she pulled herself together from the first shock. After all she had her woman's weapons to fight with.

Hitherto she had scarcely troubled to hide her contemptuous indifference from this man whose infatuation had irritated rather than flattered her. . . . now she must assume a different role.

"You saved my life then, it seems, only to threaten me, to make me miserable?" she broke out.

The almost child-like face, that this woman of the world's greatest asset, looked wistfully pathetic.

"No, by heaven you know that isn't true!" he cried. "You know I don't want to hurt you—what man wants to injure the woman he cares for? And I think I cared for you at sight—I know that since that night when I fought with death for you on the open sea I've been mad on you, fascinating little witch! There's something about you that sets my blood on fire!"

The queer restless eyes, lit as by a flame, looked wilder than ever, hinting at the unbalanced mind. The look on his face almost frightened her.

"Only you drive me to show you that I have the whip-hand. If I can't win you in any other way—why, I'll buy you, with your safety as my payment for the bargain!" Carfax cried.

"But you say I'm a New York crook—I don't admit it, but that's what you assert. Well, if so, why should you want to marry so depraved a character?"

Lucia's self-possession was back. She smiled into his face, bringing all the appeal of her coquetry into her eyes, into her voice, into her very pose. She had the gift of an

LAYING CONTEST PRODUCES NEW COMPETITORS

Prize Winners at the Close of the Sixteenth Week—Beebe Hens Take Many Prizes.

The close of the seventeenth week of the egg laying contest at the Experimental Farm has shown a large increase in production and more high pen scores for the week than have been received any week since the start of the contest. Some new rivals for first place in the week's production have come to the front, and the Experimental Station Barred Rocks in pen 17 made a weekly score of 49 eggs, despite their having one of their number not working. E. White's White Wyandottes in pen 6 followed closely in 2nd place with 47 eggs for the week.

The pen leaders to date remain in the same placing and each pen added very good scores to their totals. The White Wyandottes in pen 18 have now a lead of 89 eggs over their nearest opponents. In the individual leader contest E. G. White's No. 67, W.W., is determined to reach the 100 egg mark first and has now a total score to date of 96. A change has taken place in 2nd standing, when No. 191 in C. Warner's pen 19 stepped ahead of No. 113 in pen 11, No. 191 now having a score of 84 eggs while No. 113 in pen No. 11 and No. 186 in pen 18 tie for 3rd place with 83 eggs each. Three other individuals have equal scores of 81 each.

Prize Winners.
To the pen laying the largest number of marketable eggs during the first four periods of four weeks each:

1st, pen 18, W.W., owned by Miss R.G. Knight, Beebe, $3.00; 2nd, pen 3, W.L., owned by H. S. Beane, Beebe, $2.00; 3rd, pen 11, B.R., owned by Laurel P. Farm, Rougemont, $1.00.

To the hen laying the largest number of marketable eggs during the first four periods of four weeks each:

1st, No. 67, W.W., owned by E. G. White, Lennoxville, $2.00; 2nd, No. 113, B.R., owned by Laurel P. Farm, Rougemont, $1.00.

To the pen laying the largest number of marketable eggs during the fourth four week period:

1st, No. 180, B.R., owned by Exp. Station, Lennoxville, 2nd, No. 169, B.R., owned by Exp. Station, Lennoxville, not taking any prize money; 3rd, No. 67, W.W., owned by E. G. White, Lennoxville, $1.00.

Feeds and its Cost.
It might be interesting to note that during the first sixteen weeks of the contest, pen 18 has consumed 166 lbs. scratch grain, 124 lbs. mixed mash, 8 lbs. grit, 20 lbs. oyster shell and 112 lbs. green feed. Total feed was $9.64, while the 576 eggs laid amounted in value to $29.23, leaving a profit over cost of feed of $22.59. Another pen in the contest has consumed feed to the value of $7.35, while the eggs laid by that same pen only amounted to $5.12, making a loss to date of $2.23. The second highest pen to date, pen 3, has consumed 148 lbs. scratch grain, 107 lbs. mixed mash, 15 lbs. grit, 11 lbs. shell, and 112 lbs. green feed. Total cost of feed $5.88, while the 491 eggs laid amounted in value to $24.37, leaving a profit over cost of feed of $18.49. The average cost for feed during the sixteen weeks was 64 3-4 cents per bird.

LONDON, Mar. 2.—For the first time since the war, the German ambassador and his wife lunched with the King and Queen at Buckingham Palace yesterday.

undeniable allurements—Vail was conscious of it, many men had been conscious of it.

Carfax gave a little laugh. "But I don't care what you have been, you fascinating little devil—I'm no saint myself," Carfax shrugged his shoulders. "But I want you. . . . Whatever you are, or have been—it's you I want!"

She gave a little provocative laugh. She was conscious of her power of fascination over this man, and she meant to play on it as this woman of wiles knew how.

"But if, as you say, I am Lucia March—not that I admit it—how could I marry you?" She shrugged her shoulders smilingly. "Lucia had a husband in America, even though she left him."

"Oh, we'll count him out! As far as he's concerned, you're dead. You're another woman, you're Justine Dangars and the woman he married lies somewhere at the bottom of the ocean; she's officially dead!" Again he laughed—a queer, wild laugh that made her suddenly shiver behind her smiling pose.

"You shall marry me," he went on. "We'll go through the ceremony just to make it all respectable. No one in the world but ourselves—and I suppose, your manager, whom you've squared and will keep his mouth shut—as much as dreams that Lucia March escaped when the Rosetta went down."

Then with a sudden return of his jealous suspicious mood: "And you've got to give this man Vail his conge!"

HIGHWAY PROGRESS.

The Provincial road department has recently issued a statement showing work done during 1922.

On what is known as regional highways the report of work completed in the Eastern Townships is as follows:

	Feet.
Sherbrooke	23,702
Stanstead	20,825
Brome	14,886
Shefford	29,759
Megantic	37,743
Frontenac	32,650
Arthabaska	13,600
Richmond	2,020
Drummond	18,800
Missisquoi	21,221

Summary per Highway.

The work completed on the various trunk line highways in which the Eastern Townships is particularly concerned is as follows:

	Miles.
Montreal-Sherbrooke	22.93
Beauce-Jet-Sherbrooke	6.95
Beauceville-Sherbrooke	4.88
Levis-Sherbrooke	4.29
Richmond-Yamaska	3.56
Lacolle-Knowlton	3.39
Victoriaville-Woburn	3.60

This indicates progress, even though the completed work was not very great in the case of the various highways.

The great progress has been in the definite classification of the various roads of the Province and the Government control of the regional highways.

The Eastern Townships as well as the rest of the Province is within measurable distance of a completed system of Provincial highways, under Government maintenance.

THE CANADIAN DOLLAR.

The Canadian Dollar continues to about hold its own with its American brother. It has even been quoted at a premium in New York but the balance on the average for the past few months has been slightly against it.

A financial paper which has come to hand discusses interestingly the question of "Why The Canadian Dollar Is Near Par."

"The rise of the Canadian dollar to practically a parity with gold took place at a time of the year when Canadian exports of commodities were tending to their maximum. But it is open to doubt whether even that maximum of export could have completely overcome the discount on our funds without the aid of a considerable volume of export of securities; that is to say, the Canadian dollar has been in strong demand in New York to pay for bonds purchased from the Dominion by United States investors.

"Also, it may not have been uninfluenced by the shipment of large quantities of gold to the United States from Great Britain in settlement of war obligations, with an accompanying rise in the rate on the pound sterling.

"The truth of the situation seems to be that the United States, with its enormous claims against the Allies and other nations, and its refusal to accept goods in payment, is in process of being flooded with gold, with the natural consequence of a high price level and a low rate of interest. An abnormally high tariff, applying to most all commodities, prevents this price level from being adjusted by the importation of cheaper foreign goods, but no such barrier hampers the importation of securities, which under the circumstances offers the only relief to the overloaded gold reserve of America.

"It really looks as if the currencies of the stronger of the non-gold-basis countries, such as Canada and Great Britain, would go higher in New York, not on account of American demand for the goods of those countries, but on account of the low value of gold itself in the United States and the consequent irresistible tendency to send it to seek employment elsewhere. Possible Canadian Government borrowing in the United States would immediately bring the Canadian dollar to par, or even a premium, in New York."

The above appears reasonable. Interest rates are higher in Canada. Security in many cases is unquestionable. It would not be surprising if the American investor would look more and more to Canadian offerings as an outlet for his surplus cash.

U. S. AND LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

Will the United States eventually join or co-operate in some official way with the League of Nations? Editors are noting what appears to be a drift in this direction. President Harding's recent address leads the Toronto Globe to remark:

"Every worker for European reconstruction and international peace will welcome President Harding's declaration in favor of the admission of the United States to the protocol establishing the Permanent Court of International Justice at The Hague. His message to the Senate for that purpose is a pleasant surprise, as the Court is a creation of the League of Nations, and the President is the leader of the party which opposed the entrance of the United States into the League. The Secretary of State in an accompanying letter recognizes that it is a question of domestic politics by expressly affirming that membership in the Court would not involve any legal relation on the part of the United States to the League or the assumption of any obligations under the League Covenant.

"The Secretary's reservation will not abate the satisfaction of the champions of the League in the United States. They have always maintained that the nation would be compelled by events to retrace the steps which led it away from Woodrow Wilson's policies and ideals. They believe that the Washington Government has taken the first step, despite its disclaimer, and that it will be propelled the full distance by the force of public opinion, even if it moves only by degrees. The next stage will be co-operation with Great Britain in trying to achieve a European settlement, when the situation in the Ruhr has reached a point at which both France and Germany will accept intervention. Such a move was foreshadowed on Saturday by the American Ambassador at London, who denied that he had ever said the United States was fortunate in being out of the 'European mess,' and added: 'I was as glad that we were out of the mess as England would be to get out.

But England can't get out, and we shall probably have to get in. We can't get away from necessities. We know it. We have no illusions about it."

"Washington despatches indicate that the 'Bitter-enders,' the Senators who fought the League Covenant even with reservations attached to it, will fight the present proposal, but the Democrats will vote for it because it is a vindication of the pro-treaty attitude of their party, and the majority of the Republicans will probably stand by the Administration. The most important nations of the League have been consulted and will bow to the conditions laid down at Washington. They rejoice at even the most distant approach by the country whose inclusion in the League would solve its weightiest problems. The admission of the United States to the World Court will mean that all the Great Powers, except Russia and Germany, have agreed to submit to the arbitration of law all justiciable questions. It would be an immense gain, even if the United States progressed no farther in the League's direction."

MARY TUDOR.

In reference to the argument that historical facts have been somewhat distorted in "When Knighthood Was In Flower," a brief resume of the "family tree" of the two Henry's may be considered necessary to clear up what seems to be haziness regarding the Mary Tudor around whom the romance is woven.

There were two Mary Tudors. Henry VII. had four children, Arthur, Henry VIII, Margaret and Mary; Henry VIII. had three children, Mary, Elizabeth and Edward VI.

Mary, youngest child of Henry VII., and sister of Henry VIII., married Louis of France, and when he died in 1515 she married Charles Brandon, Duke of Suffolk. Mary, eldest child of Henry VIII., known as "Bloody Mary," and niece of the above mentioned Mary, held the throne of England, but the romance has to do with the other Mary as noted above.

TODAY'S A HOLIDAY.

March 2, 1923.

Sam Houston Day, Texas.

It was on the 43rd birthday of Sam Houston that Texas became a republic, on March 2, 1830. People of Texas, in making this an official holiday, honor both the birthday and the historic event of independence.

Houston was the most outstanding figure in Texan national affairs, being called, after the secession from Mexico, to be president. The flag with one star, chosen as the national emblem, gave rise to the name Lone Star State, by which Texas still is known. This is Texas Flag Day and also Sam Houston Day.

Leaving his home at an early age, Houston went to live with the Indians, learning their ways, and being adopted by the Cherokees. When a young man he returned to civilization and was married. It was not long, however, before he was galled with the Indians, having however first served under Andrew Jackson, and having made a name for himself as a soldier.

His decisive defeat of the Mexican General Santa Anna at Jacinto brought Texan independence. When the state joined the union Houston was one of the first senators, and later served as governor, being removed, however, because he opposed secession.

PRESS COMMENT

PANTOMINE.

Gesture, indeed, cannot be denied its place as a means of expressing thought and feeling. The theatre would be a poor thing without it. The attractions of the cinema it can claim almost entirely for its own. One serious fault it has, in that it may easily become exaggerated, or even misleading, without exposing itself to the clear conviction of untruth, which sooner or later, awaits the verbal inexactitude.

CANADIAN UNITY TO ADVANCE PROHIBITION.

A merger of the prohibition forces of Canada into one national organization, the Canadian Prohibition Federation, is a step in the right direction. A memorial from this unified organization, representative of churches, church auxiliaries, and temperance workers, has been presented to the Dominion Government, respectfully requesting that immediate action be taken in the direction of more effective prohibition law enforcement. The Dominion Parliament can do much to increase the efficiency of the provincial prohibition laws. Hence it is requested "that the Parliament of Canada so legislate that in any province in which the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes is forbidden, the manufacture be also forbidden." The right to suppress manufacture is vested with the Dominion authorities. The provinces can take the initiative, after voting themselves dry, only to the extent of asking the Dominion Government to act.

PROSPERITY FOR NEW ENGLAND'S FARMERS SOUGHT

Agriculturists Are Thoroughly Aroused Over Drift of Population from Country to City.

(Associated Press Despatch.) BOSTON, March 1.—New England, thoroughly aroused over its abating prosperity and the drift of population from the country to the city, which has been more marked than ever since the war, is making a determined effort to build up an agricultural prosperity which shall rest on a firm foundation. Co-operation is being stressed as the great necessity, and not merely co-operation among the farmers themselves and between the farmers and the agricultural colleges and the state experiment stations, but between all these elements and the industrial interests of this section of the country.

At the recent agricultural conference in Boston the interdependence of agriculture and industry was emphasized, and means of making New England more nearly self-sufficient in its farm products were discussed. It was brought out that such products to the value of approximately half a billion dollars were being brought into New England annually from other parts of the country.

Even under present conditions the New England farmer is well off as compared with those of other sections, according to state and college authorities. President Ralph D. Hetch of New Hampshire College of Agriculture and Mechanic Art, said in a recent address that the old-time trend to the West had passed, and that western farmers were now coming to New England because they saw a bright future here, due to the nearness of markets. The Massachusetts department of agriculture, in one of its publications, said it could be proved that the average Massachusetts farmer was more prosperous and not more out of life than the average farmer in any of the wheat-growing western states.

"Farming in Massachusetts," said this publication, "has changed from extensive to intensive crop production. The importance of a state agriculturally is usually rated according to her production of grain, cattle and swine, with little attention to such crops as potatoes, onions, market garden vegetables, orchard fruits and berries. It is in these agricultural specialties that Massachusetts and the other New England states excel."

Giving detailed figures comparing farm costs and production in Massachusetts and in a certain western grain-growing state, the publication sets the general value of the whole farm crop per acre here at $59.10 and in the western state at $19.20.

Various methods to bring about the desired result are being worked out. Farmers are being encouraged to devote thousands of acres of land, which have proved too barren for raising crops, to the creation of new forests to replace those cut down by lumbermen. Dairy farmers, livestock owners and fruit growers are forming co-operative associations for buying feed, fertilizer and other supplies, and for marketing their products.

In Aroostook county, Maine, which leads the country in potato raising, a campaign is in progress to increase interest in bettering the crop, grading it properly for market, and selling it to the best advantage.

In Vermont livestock owners are getting together in a "better sires, better stock" effort. In New Hampshire the extension service of New Hampshire College has mapped out a programme of assistance to farmers, which includes detailed studies of selected farms in different parts of the state in order to point the way to a better organized farm unit; surveys of the best methods of crop rotation in order to promote soil fertility, and examination of production and cost records to determine the most profitable farm methods. Pruning and spraying demonstrations are being arranged for fruit growers.

Prof. John C. Graham, of the Massachusetts Agricultural College, thinks that New England should go in more extensively for poultry raising. "A great and growing agricultural production," he says, "can be based upon the hen as it cannot upon any other element in our New England farming."

BANK EMPLOYEE IS SENT TO THE REFORMATORY

Toronto Man Pleaded Guilty to Charge and Made Clean Breast of Whole Affair.

(Associated Press Despatch.) TORONTO, Mar. 2.—Angus Smith, acting manager of the Gerrard and Woodbine branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, was sentenced to two years, less one day, in the Ontario Reformatory for theft of $4,752 from the bank, by Judge Denton in the police court yesterday.

Through his counsel, W. B. Perkins, Smith pleaded guilty and made a clean breast of the whole affair. The theft, according to Mr. Perkins, date back to 1921, when Smith made a bad loan of $800 which he covered from the funds of the Bank in order to hide it from superior officials.

Smith is forty-one years of age, and a married man with two young children. He had been with the Bank since it amalgamated with the Bank of Ottawa in 1919.

In the witness box, superintendent of branches McIntyre admitted that Smith's salary was $1,850 a year. He had twelve years banking experience.

ANNUAL MEETING OF PROVINCIAL MOTOR LEAGUE

J. C. McConnell, of Sherbrooke, Elected Vice-President at Meeting Held in Quebec on Monday.

Mr. J. C. McConnell, secretary of the Sherbrooke Auto Club has returned from Quebec where he attended the annual meeting of the Quebec Provincial Motor League held in that city on Monday. The meeting was well attended and included representatives from the following clubs: Bonaventure and Gaspere Automobile Association, Sherbrooke Auto Club, Granby Auto Club, Club d'Auto de Plessisville, Joliette Auto Club, Club d'Auto de Mont Joli, Club d'Auto du Bas St. Laurent, Touring Club de Thetford, Club d'Auto Riviere du Loup, Auto Club de St. Hyacinthe, Auto Club de Matapedia.

The meeting was presided over by the President, the Hon. Frank Carrel, M.L.C. Other executive officers present were Mr. Auguste Pion, Vice-President and M. J. E. Renaud, secretary. Among others present were Mr. A. L. Caron, honorary president; Mr. J. A. Duchastel de Mont-rouge, president of the Automobile Club of Canada, and Mr. George A. McNamee, secretary, directors.

At 3 p.m. there was a meeting of the directors, after which the annual meeting was called. Following the transaction of general routine business, the aims and ambitions of the Motor League were discussed at length.

It was pointed out that the chief reason for the inauguration of the League was to have all the clubs brought under one head, whereby they would all be in a position to work together for the common welfare. One of the main ideas of the League is to demonstrate and make known the beauties and natural facilities which this province affords to all motorists. The clubs are intending to make a complete tour of the province next summer in order to get in touch with conditions at every point, and to do everything to even increase the large influx of motorists from across the border. Last season there were 94,000 automobiles which came to this province from the United States, as compared with 42,000 in 1921.

The opening feature of the meeting was the address by the president, the Hon. Frank Carrel, M.L.C., who gave an account of the work of the League during the past year.

It was decided that the League would again urge upon the government a proposal to have the Quebec Bridge opened to vehicular traffic.

The question has been before the motorists for some time and the Provincial Government has already been approached on the subject. Each time the Government's reply has been that the Quebec Bridge was not built for vehicular traffic.

In spite of this fact the Automobile League has again decided to push the matter. It is pointed out that the opening of the bridge to motor traffic would be of great benefit to the Province as a whole and not only to the Quebec district.

On the question of gasoline taxation, after a lengthy discussion, Mr. Duchastel and Mr. Geo. W. McNamee of the Montreal Club, were appointed a committee to study the question from all angles and to report to the League. This report will be sent to each club for its respective consideration. It will cover the pros and cons of the question in order that the League members may become more conversant with the subject should it come up before the government.

It was also decided that the president and directors of the League would interview the government at the earliest opportunity with the object of offering their co-operation and assistance in making any further amendments to the Quebec Vehicle Motor Law.

Another question discussed was that of the installation of lights on all vehicles that circulate on the roads of the Province. The Provincial Government has already announced its willingness to pass a law on this point and is waiting for the measure to be put in definite form by the Motor League. At yesterday's meeting it was decided to purchase a number of lanterns and to distribute them among the automobile clubs of the province to be redistributed among the farmers in the various districts.

The question of the Trans-Canada highway was also brought up and it was decided to see that the road did not end at Riviere du Loup before turning to St. John, N.B., but was continued right through to the Matapedia Valley before turning into New Brunswick, via Campbellton.

It has been the practise of a number of hotel-keepers to raise their prices at the opening of the tourist season but this year the Motor League will take steps to see that a close watch is kept and a report made of any hotel-keeper who is thought to be adopting this practise.

The election of officers was then proceeded with and resulted as follows:

Honorary President, Hon. Frank Carrel, M.L.C.

President, Mr. Auguste Pion, President of the Quebec Automobile Club.

1st. Vice-President, Mr. Norman Labelle, president of Three Rivers Automobile Club.

2nd. Vice-President, Mr. J. C. McConnell, secretary of Sherbrooke Automobile Club.

Secretary-treasurer, Mr. J. E. Renaud, secretary of the Quebec Automobile Club.

The executive committee will consist of the president and vice-presidents, together with Mr. George McNamee.

The presidents of all the clubs were elected members of the Board of Directors.

Man Who Brandished a "Jimmy" Created a Furor Among London Worshipers.

Police Captain James McKenzie had entered the church to worship, when he saw the man attempting to open the poor box. The thief struck Captain McKenzie on the head with an iron rod, rendering him unconscious.

ALBERTA GOVERNMENT HAD A HEAVY DEFICIT

Statement Shows that Deficit for Last Two Years Amounts to About $4,000,000.

(Associated Press Despatch.)

EDMONTON, March 2.—For the second year in succession the Alberta Government has faced a heavy deficit on the financial operations of the province, the loss for 1922 amounting to $1,910,302.49.

This, added to the deficit of $2,118,209.66 for 1921, makes the total deficit for the last two years $4,000,000 in round figures, according to the provincial public accounts tabled in the Legislature by acting Premier Hon. J. E. Brownlee.

LABORER'S WIFE HAS VISIONS OF IMMENSE WEALTH

English Woman Claims Share in Half-Billion Dollar Fortune.

(Associated Press Despatch)
COOTHAM COMMON, Sussex, Eng., March 2.—Another claimant has arisen to a share in a fortune of $500,000,000, said to consist in title to extensive lands in the city of New York leased long years ago to King George III. Since the expiration of the lease various unsuccessful claims have been advanced, but the lawyers of Mrs. Mary Jane Harrison, of Cootham Common, Sussex, the wife of a laborer, tell her they think she has a chance.

It seems that at the end of the eighteenth century a certain Robert Edwards, of Perth, Scotland, emigrated to America, made money and purchased land. This land, which he obtained for a comparative trifle on account of its marshy nature, he afterwards leased to King George III. for ninety-nine years, and after the War of Independence is passed to the United States. It is now a part of the site of the city of New York. Robert Edwards was drowned while returning to Scotland from America, and efforts to trace his brothers and sisters failed.

It is known that the eldest brother of the Edwards family was called John, and Mrs. Harrison claims to be the eldest child of Samuel Richard Edwards, himself the son of John Edwards, brother of Robert. The argument is advanced here that according to American law, money reverts to the United States if no successful claimant appears within one hundred years of the death of the legatee. Mrs. Harrison, believing herself entitled to a share of the fortune of a long-dead Scottish-American millionaire, hopes to be able to prove her claim within a short time.

SECOND READING GIVEN CRIMINAL JUSTICE BILL

Abolishes Ancient Legal Presumption Regarding a Crime Committed by Wife in Presence of Husband.

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, Mar. 2.—Second reading was given in the House of Lords yesterday to the criminal justice bill which was drafted by the Lord Chancellor and is designed to abolish the ancient presumption that when a wife commits a crime in the presence of her husband she is acting under his coercion.

BUSY CLEARING UP ODDS AND ENDS OF AMERICAN OBLIGATIONS IN ENGLAND

Several U.S. Military Men Left England Without Settling Their Accounts.

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, March 2.—Following the steps taken by the British Government to settle its war time debts to America, the United States Government has begun clearing up odds and ends of American obligations in this country.

The commission sent to England recently is holding daily sessions to hear claims which will cost the United States government thousands of dollars, while the historic banking firm of Messrs. Cox has just received from Washington about twenty thousand dollars to pay overdrafts of approximately fifty United States officers. Those military men during the war took advantage of the banks liberality and then left England without settling their accounts.

FARMERS' MEETING

A farmers' meeting will be held at Tomfobia on Thursday evening, March 8, at 8 o'clock sharp, under the auspices of the Tomfobia Women's Institute and the Co-operative Agricultural Association, when the following speakers will be present: Miss E. M. Roach, superintendent of the Quebec Women's Institutes, who will speak on some subject that will be of interest to everyone present, especially the ladies; Mr. L. V. Parent, Quebec manager of the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers, Ltd., will speak on co-operation. Mr. Parent has been engaged as Quebec manager of the Canadian Co-operative for over three years, therefore he is well qualified to speak on farmers' co-operative organizations. Mr. W. G. MacDougall, local demonstrator, will also be present to address the meeting.

An interesting feature of the evening's programme will be motion pictures. The film that will be shown has been prepared at Macdonald College. This picture should be very interesting. Every person in the community is asked to make a special effort to be present at the meeting. Come to the meeting and bring your neighbors, and thus encourage the Co-operative Association and the Women's Institute.

NURSERY STOCK

Members of Horticultural Societies, Agricultural Societies and Farmers' Clubs can secure nursery stock, including apple trees, strawberry plants, ornamental shrubs and shade trees, through the Horticultural Branch of the Quebec Department of Agriculture. The Horticultural Branch is doing this to help farmers to secure good stock at reasonable prices. Farmers wishing to take advantage of this offer should apply to the different demonstrators for application forms.

The demonstrators in the Eastern Townships are as follows: Sherbrooke and Stanstead, W. G. MacDougall and J. R. Belzile, Lennoxville; Compton, L. C. Roy, Cookshire; Richmond, J. A. Proulx, Richmond; Wolfe, E. Lemire, D'Iserli; Bromfield, L. D. McClintock, Knowlton; Shefford, Oscar Descoches, Waterloo; Missisquoi, J. P. Reddy, Bedford.

A WORD PAINTER

Writing about the late Katherine Mansfield, a reviewer says: "She squeezes the fat tube of her memory and out come bright, beautiful perceptions." We should judge from this that her works are full of color.

EASTERN TOWNSHIPS FARMER

RECENT INVENTIONS OF INTEREST TO EASTERN TOWNSHIPS FARMERS

(By C. J. Lynde, Macdonald College, Que.)

AUTOMATIC VEHICLE-OPERATED GATE

When a vehicle, such as an auto, approaches this gate, its axle slides upon the bar and causes the arms upon which it rests to turn downwards. The middle arm then turns a rod having bevel gears at each end. These in turn engage other gears at the lower ends of the upright bars near the posts, turn them, and open the gate. The spring on the middle arm and the weights on the gate cause it to shut again.

(J. R. Rollman, Encampment, Wyoming.)

This gate is provided with a bumper attached to the upright at the middle. When this is struck by a vehicle, it moves in such a way that a rope which passes from it to the left end of the gate raises the upper and lower latches out of the notches in the catches attached to the post, and allows the gate to open. Springs bring the bumper back to normal position and close the gate.

The front beam of this drag has attached to its forward side a scraper which loosens and distributes the soil, and the rear beam has a smoother which presses down the soil. The operator, by shifting his weight while standing upon the platform at the rear, regulates the amount of earth loosened and distributed by the scraper.

(B. E. Blount, Palestine, Texas.)

EQUALIZING HARROW HITCH
This hitch is used to equalize the strain which is applied to a drag beam when several harrows are attached and extensions are added to the beam. It does this by providing five points of attachment, and by allowing free movement of all connections.

(Keller Mfg. Co., Minneapolis, Minn.)

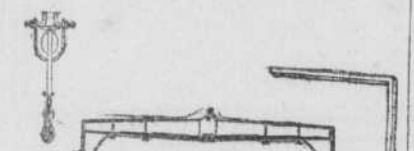

MAIL BOX SUPPORT
The springs here are attached to a cross bar near the top of the upright and also to the bar supporting the box. They prevent the box from swinging in the wind and thus keep it in a convenient position for the insertion of mail. They also allow the box to swing if struck by any object and then bring it back to its proper position.

(S. L. Wright, Clay City, Ind.)

The curved metal bar at each end of the double tree here holds the single tree in such a way that it cannot be displaced accidentally. One end passes through the eye of the angle bar, through the top of the single tree, and around the shank of the angle bar. The other end is clamped to the double tree by thumb nuts.

(W. A. Daniels, Dermott, Ark.)

SELECTION OF THE VARIETIES FOR PLANTING

Very Often Plants and Vegetables Selected Hastily Before Sufficient Enquiry Made as to Their Real Merit.

How often has it happened in Canada that varieties of fruits, vegetables and ornamental plants are chosen blindly and ordered hastily by insufficient enquiry is made as to their real merit for the special purpose desired. Quality is one of the most important things that most persons want in fruit and vegetables, and beauty in flowers, and with the many fine varieties of each now available there is no good reason why such a want should not be satisfied.

There are now many experimental farms and stations in Canada, covering most of the marked climatic conditions found there, and agricultural college farms as well, and at all of these places it is the endeavor of the staff to find out, by experiment, what are the best things, and then to recommend these to the people in the particular district that each one serves. Now, this information is free for the asking, and if full advantage had been taken of these institutions in the past, there would have been much greater satisfaction than there is and many thousands of dollars would have been saved also by those who planted fruit trees which, later, were winter killed; for hardiness is even more important than quality. In regard to quality, more unbiased judgment can be obtained from the experimental station or college than from those who have the varieties for sale. If often happens that when a tree comes into bearing, or a vegetable is ready for the table, there is much disappointment in the quality, and this experience could be improved to a large extent if varieties recommended by the experimental stations were chosen. Again, in regard to ornamental plants, it is quite natural that those having these plants for sale should bring into prominence or possibly somewhat exaggerate the strong points of a plant in order that the chances of sale be improved, whereas it may not be worthy of being placed on the list of best varieties of that particular kind of plant. If lists of best varieties as tested out at the stations were consulted before ordering, much greater satisfaction would be obtained.

In choosing varieties to plant, it is usually desirable to have those which will extend the season the longest, and by a judicious selection of early, medium and late sorts, the season of most of the fruits and vegetables can be much lengthened over what it will be if this is not carefully worked out.—W. T. Macoun, Dominion Horticulturist.

IMPORTATION OF LIVE STOCK TO HELP INDIA

In a letter to J. B. Spencer, of Ottawa, Sam Higginbottom describes the progress being made by missionaries in India, and particularly makes reference to what is being accomplished on the farm of which he has charge. This is in connection with the missionary school at Allahabad, which is accomplishing so much in the way of better cropping methods and improved live stock. Mr. Higginbottom makes reference to a shipment of bulls from United States breeders and terms them "Missionary bulls." He writes as follows: "Late in September I went down to Bombay to meet a consignment of five purebred dairy bulls. One was a dairy Shorthorn, one a Brown Swiss, and three Jerseys. They are all very fine individuals and should mean much in improving the milk supplies to the city of Allahabad, where pure milk is almost unobtainable and the infant mortality very high. As they were so valuable I went down myself to get them. I told the first mate of the S.S. City of Harvard, a fine young Scotchman, in whose personal charge the bulls had been, that they could not have come the long journey from New York in such good condition without more care, then money would buy; that he must have given a lot of time to seeing them well taken care of."

"I immediately went and got a motor truck and had each crate slung over the side of the ship and dropped to the truck. The railway authorities helped all they could and soon the animals were safely stowed in a horse box. I paid extra for a horse box rather than take a cattle, because I felt there was less chance of disease in the horse box. I put in the American hay and feed, made myself a comfortable bed between the mangers and cared for them on the forty-eight-hour journey to Allahabad. The guard of the train wired ahead telling of these wonderful American humbless cattle that were so valuable that the Sahib was caring for them himself. The result was a sort of triumphal march to Allahabad. At nearly every station a deputation waited to pay their respects to the bulls. I went to write to Dr. Ridgeway, of Coatesville, Pa., who labelled the crates bearing the purebred Fowls to us some years ago. 'Missionaries in Feathers.' If chickens are missionaries in feathers, what are purebred bulls?"

DE LAVAL CREAM SEPARATOR PRICES

A word about De Laval Cream Separator prices to prospective 1923 purchasers is pertinent at this time.

De Laval prices were reduced last year to practically the pre-war level, allowing for increased capacity and other improvements made meanwhile.

This reduction was made in anticipation of a further reduction in labor and material costs. The reverse has happened. Labor and material costs are going up rather than down.

If they continue to do so De Laval prices will have to be advanced. They are now too low. The economies possible through greatly increased production can alone permit of their remaining so.

In any event, De Laval prices cannot be reduced. They may easily have to be advanced at any time. The safe thing to do is to buy now and take no chances.

This is the more so by reason of the fact that 1923 De Laval machines are even better than ever before, that dairying was never more profitable, and that no one having use for a cream separator could ever less afford to be without the best or to continue the use of an inferior or half-worn-out machine.

Why not see your local De Laval agent at once or write us direct at the nearest address given below?

Won't Shrink Woollens

—true, says MONARCH KNITTING CO.

The above firm, one of the largest manufacturers of woollens in Canada, investigated the best method of cleaning sweaters—and they recommend LUX.

Here is their letter, which tells how sweaters should be washed.

Messrs. Lever Bros., Limited
Toronto, Canada

January 17, 1922

Gentlemen:

Sweater coats or blouses, where they are manufactured out of pure wool or silk, can be washed as satisfactorily and as easily as ordinary goods, provided the proper material and methods are used for the washing, and to-day there is on the Canadian market a product entirely suitable for who buy these goods to wash them with LUX.

The slogan of the manufacturers—"Don't shrink woollens"—is true if proper washing methods are used. The thin, water-like flakes of LUX dissolve readily and there is no possibility of any pieces of solid soap sticking to the soft wool or silk and yellowing it, ultimately ruining the garment.

Children's sweater coats or suits are often ruined in the first laundering because they are improperly washed. But if LUX is used, they will wear longer and give more satisfaction to the buyer.

We also recommend that garments should be dried quickly and when drying lay them out flat and straighten to shape. Never hang them up when wet.

We are pleased to say that our silk and woollen sweaters, skirts, suits, etc., in the most delicate colors and weights can be safely washed with LUX.

Yours very truly,
THE MONARCH KNITTING CO., LTD.

DAIRYING IS A BIG INDUSTRY

Dairy Congress Will Be Held in Washington from October 2 to 5.

The International character of the dairy industry is responsible for the organization of the World's Dairy Congress Association. Under the auspices of this body and of the government of the United States a World's Dairy Congress has been arranged to be held in Washington from October 2nd to 5th this year. The vast extent of the dairy industry and its international status are recognized by those responsible for the congress. Scientists, health officials, government officials, social welfare workers, and producers of milk and milk products will contribute to the discussions. These will relate to improving the quality and reducing the production and handling costs of dairy products and improving national health through their more general use. The international aspect of the commercial side of dairying has not been overlooked. It is recognized that the movement of surplus dairy products from Australia, New Zealand, the Argentine Republic and South Africa northward profoundly affects prices in Canada and the United States and Western Europe. The Congress is called together by President Harding, who has been authorized by Act of Congress to invite foreign representatives to attend.

WINDSOR

Funeral of the late Geo. H. Wilkie. The death of George S. Wilkie, which took place on February 19th at the home of his son, Mr. George Wilkie, removes from the community one of Windsor's pioneers. Mr. Wilkie had made his home with his son since last May, and as he had been in poor health since that time, his passing away was not unexpected.

The late Mr. Wilkie was born in Danville in 1841, and at the age of twenty-one came to Hardwood Hill to take up farming, where he remained for over thirty years, taking a prominent part in all the activities of the community. When he sold his farm in 1894 he moved to Danville, where he remained until 1911, then going to the New England States to reside with his children and returning to Windsor as above mentioned in 1922. The late Mr. Wilkie was married to Alice Ann Dearden, who predeceased him fifty-five years ago. He later married Susan Barnes, who died thirty-four years ago. He is survived by his third wife, Susan Yale, and the following children: George H. Wilkie, of Windsor; Mrs. Beattie, of Haverhill, Mass.; Mrs. J. W. Field, of Berwick, Me.; A. E. Wilkie, of Plaistow, N. H.; and James Wilkie, of Barre, Vt.

The funeral services were held at St. George's Church, Windsor, on February 22nd, Rev. B. Watson officiating; and the interment was made in the cemetery at Hardwood Hill. The bearers were Messrs. S. J. Ward, Walter Henderson, N. Perkins and J. Cascard. The late Mr. Wilkie was a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and was the recipient of many kind attentions at his hands. The members of Jubilee Lodge No. 31 attended the funeral services in regalia.

MAKES REPORT ON CONDITIONS IN AUSTRALIA

Report Shows an Increase in Exports—General Review of Conditions.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Australia's financial situation gives substantial evidence of steady improvement, J. W. Sanger, United States Trade Commissioner at Melbourne reports in a recent review of conditions. Features of the report show an increase in October exports of 3,070,000 pounds sterling over those of September, while imports increased by 690,000 pounds during the same period, thus reducing the unfavorable balance by 2,380,000 pounds sterling. The money market is reported stable. Exchange is advancing and bank deposits are increasing.

Following is a summary of the report: "October exports amounted to 112,000,000 crowns as compared with 85,000,000 crowns in August and 114,000,000 crowns in September. The following commodities comprised the principal exports during October: Live stock, 2,600,000 crowns; packing-house products, 32,600,000 crowns; dairy products, 34,600,000 crowns, and eggs, 12,700,000 crowns.

"October imports amounted to 148,000,000 crowns as compared with 135,000,000 in August, and 134,000,000 in September. The following commodities comprised the principal imports: Textiles, 18,700,000 crowns; grains, 8,700,000 crowns; groceries, 8,800,000 crowns, and foodstuffs, 7,800,000 crowns.

"Shipping was fairly active, but at low freight rates. There was no idle steamship tonnage during November, but idle sailing tonnage increased. Several more new ship orders were placed with Danish shipyards.

"A tariff bill has been introduced into Parliament for shifting the tariff schedule to ad valorem basis and for somewhat higher rates. A similar bill failed of passage last year and will probably again fail to pass.

"The general financial situation in Australia shows a steady improvement. The total bank clearances for Melbourne and Sydney from January 1 to December 4, 1922, were 1,247,000,000 pounds—an increase of 24,000,000, or approximately 2 per cent, over the same period of 1921. The rate of exchange in Melbourne has advanced. In December the buying rate for the pound sterling was quoted at $4.65, and the selling rate at $4.61 in U. S. funds. Savings deposits in banks are increasing and checking deposits are recovering from the decline reported last month, and approaching more nearly normal conditions. The bank rate remains unchanged.

"The outstanding figure of Australia's foreign trade for October is the 42 per cent. advance in exports over those of September, increasing from 7,350,000 pounds to 10,420,000; and the consequent reduction of the unfavorable trade balance by 2,380,000. The imports also recovered somewhat from the decline registered during September, totaling 11,020,000—an increase of 690,000 pounds, or 6.45 per cent, over September, 1922, and an increase of 4,120,000 pounds, as compared with October, 1921. For the four months ended October 31, 1922, exports and imports totaled 32,600,000 pounds and 42,250,000 pounds respectively, compared with 35,324,000 and 28,448,000 respectively, for the corresponding period of 1921.

"An improvement in the sale of building materials is evident from the increase in imports and the increased activity reported in construction work. A comprehensive plan to extend and electrify the Melbourne tramways has been submitted to the Minister of Public Works.

"The unemployment situation remains unaltered. The cost of living decreased 2 per cent. during October. The commodity index number for the month was 1,589 (July, 1914, 1,000.)

"The estimate of the wheat crop at 102,000,000 bushels remained unchanged.

"New Zealand's favorable crops, estimated to be much above the average, are reported now as beyond the influence of weather changes.

"Free wool stocks on hand and unsold amounted to 29,000 bales in October and 70,000 bales in November, while 45,000 bales were produced in October and 98,000 bales in November.

"In New Zealand's foreign trade for October, totalling 4,030,000 pounds sterling, imports amounted to 3,440,000 pounds and exports were valued at 590,000 pounds—marked decrease compared with the imports and exports for September, which were 3,540 and 2,470,000 pounds respectively.

"The principal commodities exported during October were: Wool, 17,000 bales; wheat, 7,200 bushels; butter, 520,000 pounds sterling; mutton, 108,000 pounds; lamb, 92,000 pounds. Compared with September the figures for mutton remain practically unchanged; the value of butter exports more than doubled; and all the other exports show a very decided decrease."

NEW YORK PRESS MARKET COMMENT

Furnished by McManamy & Walsh

Journal of Commerce—Toward the end of the day there was considerable loss of ground in many of the groups, due to the fact that realizing and profit-taking sales had resulted in cutting prices, at least for the time being, although the levels which remained, were, as already seen, chiefly higher.

Sentiment as to the general position was bolstered by the banking circulars, all of which were in agreement as to the remarkable betterment of conditions of trade and industry. The absence of suggestion in these circulars of any danger of present inflation was particularly noted.

TRADING AGAIN QUIET ON MONTREAL EXCHANGE

(Associated Press Despatch.) MONTREAL, March 2.—Trading securities on the local stock exchange was quiet this morning. Steel of Canada led the market in activity with a gain of 1/2 point over yesterday's closing price, while Twin City was second with a gain of 3/4 to 63 1/2. Canada Car preferred was up 1 1/2 points to 78. Fractional gains were netted by Detroit Railway up 1/2 to 71 1/2, Montreal Power up 1/2 to 115 1/2, and National Breweries up 1/2 to 52. Bell Telephone was the only issue to register a loss, dropping one point to 121. Canada Cement was unchanged at 87.

PROFIT-TAKING FAILED TO HALT THE ADVANCE

(Associated Press Despatch.) NEW YORK, Mar. 2.—Heavy profit-taking throughout the morning, particularly in California Petroleum, which cancelled its three point gain, and in the equipment and copper shares, some of which yielded a point or more, was unusually well absorbed failed to halt the advance in other quarters. The buying was the broadest witnessed in some time, with impressive strength being shown by the domestic oils, motor accessory, independent steel, tobacco and food shares and a number of specialties such as Wells Fargo Express, Sears Roebuck, Eastman Kodak, Piggly-Wiggly, Loose Wiles and United States Realty, all up 1 to 4 points.

STRONG TONE CONTINUES ON CHICAGO WHEAT BOARD

(Associated Press Despatch.) CHICAGO, Mar. 2.—New upturns in the price of wheat took place today during the early dealings, a forecast of much cooler weather being taken as a bullish factor. The opening, which was from unchanged figures to 3/4 cent higher, with May at $1.18 1/2 to $1.19 and July at $1.16 to $1.16 1/2, was followed by a slight advance all around and then by a setback to a trifle below yesterday's finish.

Corn and oats made further response to the bullish estimate which was circulated yesterday in regard to the amount of corn held on the farms. After opening unchanged to 3/4 cent higher, with May at 73 1/2 to 73 3/4 cents, the corn market scored moderate general gains before beginning to sag. Oats started unchanged to 1/4 cent higher, with May at 45 1/2 cents and later showed a little advance on all deliveries. Provisions were firm in line with the hog market.

LOCAL SKIERS GUESTS OF THE SNOWSHOE CLUB

Delightful Evening Spent by the Skiers at the Snowshoe Club.

Ideal weather conditions prevailed for the "moonlight" ski hike held yesterday evening, under the auspices of the Sherbrooke Ski Club, when eighty-seven members turned out in response to the invitation extended by the Sherbrooke Snowshoe Club and, after a splendid run through the forest, spent the evening under the roof of the old "chalet," the scene of many pleasant remembrances associated with the promotion of good clean undiluted sport.

With a view to encouraging outdoor winter sports among the younger generation, the members of the Snowshoe Club, at their regular meeting on Wednesday night, unanimously extended an invitation to the Sherbrooke Ski Club, a young organization, temporarily homeless, to spend an evening under its paternal roof. Many members of the Ski Club are also members of the Snowshoe Club, but the majority of the visitors last night were in the clubhouse for the first time.

Shortly after eight o'clock the skiers met at Portland Square, and proceeding up the Avenue, went through into the forest and out into the open. The running conditions were ideal, and considerable time was spent sliding down the hills which dotted the immediate vicinity. Ahsymal crevices held no fear for the intrepid gliders, who gave a creditable performance, availing themselves of the brilliancy of the moonlight to avoid the numerous pitfalls, such as yawning precipices or barb wire fences.

Arrival at the Sherbrooke Snowshoe Club was made shortly before nine thirty and strains of the enticing dance music played by Mrs. Sheppard and Mr. Jutras soon resulted in a general attendance on the floor.

Mr. Charles Foss, Hon. Purveyor to the Snowshoe Club, very kindly undertook to make the skiers feel at home, and the enticing refreshments, thanks to the absence of any red table, were accorded their true merit.

During the course of the evening, the Hon. Secretary-Treasurer was instructed to write to the Sherbrooke Snowshoe Club expressing appreciation of the courtesy extended them in offering the use of the clubhouse for the evening, and the hope was expressed that within the course of a few years the Sherbrooke Ski Club would have the opportunity of reciprocating. The thanks of the club were extended to Mr. and Mrs. F. Briggs for their activities in making the evening a success, as well as to Mr. C. Foss, who arranged for such delectable refreshments at so short notice.

During the course of the evening, ice cream and cake were served, the former having been very graciously donated by the Sherbrooke Pure Milk Company, while the latter were provided by the ladies. Dancing was carried on until shortly after half past twelve, after which the members took a short cut home across the fields.

LAND JUNIORS DOWNED BOY SCOUTS.

Last Monday the Rand Juniors defeated the 4th Troop to the tune of 6 to 2. In the first period the Scouts started at a great clip and outskated the Rand boys at all times in the period, and in short time McGinty and E. Conley had each notched one apiece.

In the second period the Rand came back strong with the help of their coach, Odell. B. Cutts went down the side and slipped one in pass Banks. A few minutes later D. Hamel scored on a pass from B. Cutts.

In the third period both teams started out at a great pace, as the score was tied, and Twyman made a nice shot from the centre of the ice and R. Cutts slipped in two more notches a few minutes later. Then Twyman scored once more on a pass from Middleton, which finished the scoring for the evening. McGinty and E. Conley played well for the Scouts and Twyman, R. Cutts and Middleton for the Rand Juniors. Both goaltenders pulled off some smart saves.

Mr. H. Goldman handled the game to the satisfaction of both teams. Line-up:

Scouts—A. Banks, T. Smith, McGinty, H. Conley, E. Conley, Spafford.

Rand Juniors—Jameson, R. J. Cutts, Middleton, B. Cutts, H. Twyman, Pearson, Subs. A. Foster, D. Hamel.

Frank Genaro Defeated Pancho Villa in Fifteen Round Bout Last Night.

(Associated Press Despatch.) NEW YORK, March 2.—A new king rules today on the United States throne of the Kingdom of Tiny Fighting Men.

Frank Genaro, one of the east side boys, formerly one of the large army of amateur boxers who always draw a laughing crowd, the man who won the world's amateur championship of his class in the last Olympic, and one of the most skillful defensive boxers of today, is the new ruler. He is now the United States flyweight champion ruler of the one hundred and twelve pounders.

The deposed monarch is Pancho Villa, the mightiest mite of a fighting man that ever came out of the Philippines. He is a sad boy today, minus his title and stripped of his chance to meet Jimmy Wilde, of England, world's flyweight champion.

There are a good many of the fifteen thousand who saw the crown change hands last night in Madison Square Garden who think the clever Filipino was treated harshly, and at least should have received a draw. It is the second questionable decision in seven days at the Garden, many objecting to the award last week of the light heavyweight title to Gene Tunney, of New York, who defeated Harry Greb, of Pittsburgh.

Villa appeared more aggressive last night, but he was a shade more tired at the last going. Their punches seemed of about equal force, their defenses were largely similar. The decision was made of hairline reasoning and might have been based on any one of a number of conditions. Pancho was warned often for overt acts, but he seemed to have the upper hand the longest.

The two midgets, cool, quick and game, gave the capacity crowd one of the most spectacular battles the historic arena has ever housed.

ST. PATRICKS RETIRE FROM HOCKEY LEAGUE

Section "A" Finals at Stadium Tonight—East Angus vs. Lennoxville.

Disgusted with what they termed the unsportsmanlike methods adopted by certain delegates, the St. Patrick's Hockey team officially withdrew from the Eastern Townships Hockey League at a special meeting of Section "A" of the League, held at the Chateau Frontenac yesterday afternoon.

This decision was reached after a refusal of the delegates to consider Wednesday night's game with Lennoxville as being perfectly in order. The meeting was called to consider the best method of arranging the play-offs as well as of considering the Lennoxville protest of Wednesday's game on the grounds that Larabee had no amateur card. The game had been won by St. Patrick's by a score of 4 to 1.

It was shown at the meeting that Larabee's application form, dated January 24th had been handed in to the secretary without having been completed and without the signatures of the St. Patrick's officials. The secretary undertook to have the application signed but the matter was overlooked and the form was not sent along to Montreal and naturally no card was issued.

Knowing that the application form had been delivered to the secretary, the St. Patrick's management took it for granted that everything was in order but failed to assure themselves that Larabee actually had his card.

Although acting in the best of faith and believing Larabee was registered, St. Patrick's were technically at error inasmuch as the constitutions state that every player must have his card when he appears on the ice, and the management should have seen to this.

After a somewhat lengthy discussion, it was moved by the St. Patrick's delegate, Mr. J. P. Redmond, that the game played with Lennoxville be allowed to stand. This was seconded by Mr. Gardiner, of Bishop's College University, who gave a very clear expression of his unwillingness to penalize a team for an unfortunate error for which they were only partially to blame.

On the motion being put to the vote, St. Patrick's and Bishop's voted in favor and East Angus, Stanstead and Lennoxville, represented by Messrs. Tite, Gagne and Johnston voted against. The motion was accordingly lost by an adverse vote of 3-2.

Had the game been sustained it would have meant that a three cornered tie would possibly have resulted as Lennoxville, East Angus and St. Patrick's had all lost two games.

The St. Patrick's delegates observed that the matter was apparently cut and dried and decided that, under the circumstances, they had no other alternative than to retire from the League. They expressed regret and surprise at the attitude taken by certain delegates and laid the responsibility largely on outside influences not connected with the League.

On the retirement of the St. Patrick's delegates, it was moved by Mr. Tite, of East Angus, that the resignation of the St. Patrick's team be accepted and that previous games be considered as cancelled. This was also carried with East Angus, Stanstead and Lennoxville in favor and Bishop's University opposed to the motion.

As a result of the above motion Lennoxville and East Angus remain tied for first position and it was decided to play this game at the Stadium tonight at 8:30 p.m. immediately following the Q.C.R.-Fairbanks game. The winner of this game plays Fairham here tomorrow night. The officials at tonight's game will be Messrs. Hugh O'Donnell and Rex Moore.

There will be a splendid double header at the Stadium tonight and hockey fans are assured of an interesting evening. At 8:15 p.m. Fairbanks and Q. C. R. are scheduled to meet for the championship of the Industrial League, while immediately following this game East Angus and Lennoxville will meet to decide the winners of section "A" of the Eastern Townships Hockey League. CO-OPERATE TO BRING SWISS FARMERS HERE

Representative of Swiss Association for Colonization Expresses Thanks to Hon. Mr. Stewart.

(Associated Press Despatch.) OTTAWA, Mar. 2.—Fritz Beck, of Bern, Switzerland, representing the Swiss Association for Colonization, has called on Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of Immigration and Colonization, to express the thanks of the association for co-operation given to Mr. Beck by the department in the work entrusted to him in Canada by the Swiss Government.

Mr. Beck came to Canada about six weeks ago in connection with the settlement of Swiss farmers in Canada. "Through the assistance of Hon. Mr. Stewart and officials of his department, the difficulties of securing farm work on a yearly engagement plan for prospective settlers on the basis of mutual probation have been removed," said Mr. Beck. "Arrangements have been made with transportation companies and private interests in Western Canada for placing during the coming spring, several hundred experienced farm hands with good farmers."

The first contingent of about two hundred will leave Switzerland for Canada in March. "The settlement of Swiss farmers in Canada is a project of long standing. It was first suggested by the late Sir James Alcock, the former Governor of the Province of Ontario, who was a strong advocate of the settlement of Swiss farmers in Canada. The project was revived by the late Sir James Alcock, the former Governor of the Province of Ontario, who was a strong advocate of the settlement of Swiss farmers in Canada."

ments were made to play off the game between Tuxis and Bishop's, the former winning by a score of 51 to 19. In the first half, the score stood 28 to 7 in favor of Tuxis, but in the second half Bishop's were able to find the net a little easier adding 12 points against 23 by Tuxis. Again Bishop's showed up well in combination and headwork, but always fumbled around the basket. Bell, the star goal getter for Bishop's, was very carefully watched and it was hard for him to get through. For Tuxis, all of the boys had a hand in the scoring, Loughheed, Robertson and Hole each making 10 points. The game was very pleasing to watch though just a trifle slow.

The line-up:

Tuxis—Loughheed, McCaw, Hole, Robertson, Macdonald, Loomis, Mitchell, Green, Grime.
Bishop's—Coulson, Bell, Jenne, Walsh, Savage, Pickford.
Referee—J. Cortfield.

HOUSING PLAN UP IN MANITOBA LEGISLATURE

Motor Vehicles Act Increases Minimum Automobile License Fee—Nineteen Bills Receive Assent.

(Associated Press Despatch.) WINNIPEG, March 2.—Nineteen bills received the assent of the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir James Alkins, in the Legislature yesterday. The two of most general interest were the Legislative Assembly Act and the Motor Vehicles Act. Under the former the indemnities of members are reduced from $1,800 to $1,500. The latter act provides for an increase in the minimum automobile license fee for rating on the wheel-base system, instead of the horsepower system, and for cancellation of certificate in the event of a person being convicted of driving when in an intoxicated condition.

The resumed debate on the resolution calling upon the Government to continue its housing loan policy resulted in the amendment proposed by Hon. F. M. Black, Provincial Treasurer, being carried. Under the amended resolution, the Government will give attention to the question of a housing fund to the end that under proper safeguards it is
