On Tuesday evening, June 7, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Akester, of Roxham, N.Y., were greatly surprised when around seventy guests arrived at their home to help them celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary. This surprise was arranged by their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Akester were married on June 7, 1905 at Champlain, N.Y. Mrs. Akester was formerly Hattie Wing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wing of St. Luc, Que. Mr. Akester was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Akester of Roxham. They have lived in Roxham all their married life. They have four children, two daughters, Mrs. John Smith of Roxham, Mrs. Fred Kyle, of Barrington, two sons, Albert of Roxham and Leslie of Rosemount. They also have seven grand-children.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful anniversary cards, each card containing money. These were placed in a box and presented to the bride by 50 years by her grand-daughter, Brenda Akester. These were passed around for the guests to see. They also received a lovely pair of sheets and pillow cases and two China cups and saucers with gold trim.

The dining-room table was centred with a three-tiered bride's cake made by her daughter (Florence) Mrs. John Smith and decorated by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Albert Akester. Cards were played through the evening and delicious refreshments served.

Among those from a distance who attended the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Akester and daughters Luena and Kenna of Ville LaSalle, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Akester, Brenda and Bonnie of Rosemount, Mrs. Mary Trepanier of Anvers, Mrs. Louise Dods and Mrs. J. Michel of Plattsburg, N.Y. Mr. and Mrs. Akester's many friends join in congratulating them on this golden anniversary.

Editorial Notes...

The Old Two-way vs. One-way Argument is on Again

A TOPIC of conversation since the recent report on the Town Council meeting and the traffic regulations, is that old debate on two-way traffic on Chateaugay Street. There is plenty of argument on this matter which has been a bone of contention for several years now. We believe that if it would be possible to get a vote of opinion on this matter, that the vote would be against two-way traffic on this street. In conversation with various people both in town and in the country, the preponderance of opinion seems to be against the two-way system. Time and time again, we hear people who drive cars say, that they avoid this street if at all possible.

A very weak argument was put up that people should be allowed to go up or down the street because they have business on the street and because strangers to town did not know the street was one-way when this was in effect. Doing business on the street is not affected by the one-way rule.

Parking on both sides of the street is allowed under either ruling, but more checking should be done on double parking which has the tendency of blocking the street. When this is done under the two-way system, the practice is to be more condemned, for this happens on both sides of the street and the blocking is more effective as it holds up two lanes of traffic. Just stopping to allow a passenger to alight and then driving on could be condoned, but not absolute parking. In this the biggest offenders are the truckers who unload at the various stores. To ease this, the council ordered that only one-way truck traffic would be allowed for those trucks which are delivering merchandise to the stores on the street. Usually trucks are so wide that when they are double-parked even on one side, they prevent traffic from passing through. With two lanes of traffic passing in each direction, such a stoppage requires much untangling before passage can be regained.

In the interest of highway safety, this part of Chateaugay Street should always remain a one-way thoroughfare. When two cars pass each other in the remaining part of the street between the rows of parked cars, it is dangerous for any car in the parked line to even turn out a few inches. Such a move might involve an accident to three or four cars. If one of the passing cars attempts to avoid the one turning out, there is so little room that a collision is almost unavoidable. Such a state of affairs is positively dangerous and hazardous to all concerned and the council should give more thought to such matters than just that Chateaugay Street ought to be two-way. It is for this reason that car drivers avoid this street, in this way the council is causing the general public more inconvenience than by leaving the street one-way. As several of the Aldermen said at the meeting, it is bad whichever way it is. This being so, then common sense should intervene to know that it is very bad as a two-way thoroughfare. It was also said that more enforcement of the parking regulations would be done on this street. Some said it would take a policeman full time on this street at certain times during each day and on busy shopping days and nights. Knowing that the two-way system involves all this extra work and time, surely it should be the turn of logic to leave the street a one-way thoroughfare at all times. Nearly everyone is of the opinion that the lesser of the two evils is when this street is operating one-way and it is most satisfactory under such condition.

There are many problems of traffic in this town, which should have careful study by the police committee in conjunction with the police dept. One very bad point is the McCoy corner and another is whether traffic is to be allowed to pass on both sides of the Fountain site. There are several more. In discussing these matters, the opinion was again viewed that the traffic lights used a few years ago as a trial should have been left and others installed at strategic points. McCoy's corner was one of the points stressed. The reason the lights were not installed permanently, was the cost involved. We believe the cost would be easily liquidated in a more orderly traffic control and the safety feature for all concerned. Every year more and more traffic is appearing on our roads and highways, the congestion is not going to be less, it is going to increase and measures must be taken to combat it.

Parking is a problem in many parts of the town and parking limits are not going to solve all these cases. When the traffic is dense and there is no further space on one street, a shift is made to another and the problem commences at such point also.

We would like to have letters from our readers on this important matter expressing their views as we believe everyone who drives a car should be vitally interested and their views may be the means of arriving at a solution.

Carnival In Aid of Huntingdon County Hospital

ORMSTOWN Exhibition completed its run under weather conditions which were the most favourable for several years. The week-end brought a few welcome showers, but they did not mar the possibilities of the show.

This week-end, June 17 and 18, the well publicized Carnival in aid of the Huntingdon County Hospital, will take place at the Huntingdon Exhibition Grounds. Much time and effort is being put into the final plans for this event and it is hoped that the weather man will again favor us with fine weather. It, being an outdoor feature, must have fine weather for its success, among other things. The ultimate objective is the raising of money to wipe out the deficit of the 1954 operations of the Hospital, therefore the cause is purely local and a good one. Such should receive the utmost support from local minded and community citizens. If present indications are a criterion, then we fully believe that this carnival will receive the support it deserves.

There are plenty of attractions for everyone, such as are not seen here on every occasion. Therefore, we believe we are safe in saying that this Carnival will be something entirely different and unique. It is truly a community effort in every way, with all organizations large and small playing a part in the staging and carrying out of this event.

Your support of this venture will prove your appreciation for the service the Huntingdon County Hospital is rendering to this community.

The Case of the Guaranteed Annual Wage

THE big push for the Guaranteed Annual Wage scheme has started and it seems to be gaining a little ground, at least in the United States. The strike at the Ford Company Works in the United States was overcome by the company agreeing to the demand for a Guaranteed Annual Wage scheme. There are other demands being made for the same scheme upon other large concerns in that country.

How long before this same scheme will be demanded in this country is a matter of conjecture, but once it has a good hold on the U.S.A. it won't be long before it will have to be faced here. We cannot quite see the ultimate benefit in the long range of this scheme. It would seem that it may be detrimental in the end. While business is at a high level and all that can be produced can be consumed by the consumer, then the ability of business to pass along the security of the Guaranteed Annual Wage looks fine. But when business slackens and the products are not being consumed so readily, layoffs could be a very costly affair for those businesses affected. Unless the present Unemployment Insurance Act is amended, complications are liable to arise which could be quite controversial for all concerned. Employment levels under this scheme of Guaranteed Annual Wage, could be greatly affected and the chances of persons securing new jobs would, it seems, be minimized. Expansion of manufacturing premises would likely be retarded on account of the extra expense involved when hiring new personnel to man such expansion. Every new person hired would involve an additional set aside to cover the requirements of the Guaranteed Annual Wage scheme. To those who would not be covered by the scheme, there is quite likely to be a measure of dissatisfaction. This dissatisfaction could lead to requests to the government to bring unemployment insurance benefits to the level of the Guaranteed Annual Wage scheme. If the onus of this was passed along to all employers, it is more than likely that a large number would find it impossible to comply with. By this, we mean that their volume of business would not permit them to do it. Even the larger concerns may find in the course of time that they must increase their prices to the consumer. Under such circumstances it would seem that any increase would be for the purpose of paying for work that is not done.

While we are not too conversant with this scheme, it would seem that the unions by pushing for its institution will ultimately be pricing themselves right out of their business.

Random Glimpses of The Past Taken from Gleaner Files

March 9th - On Friday a number of business men held a meeting in the County Building, with a view to forming a Board of Trade. After reading bylaws of Board of Trade organizations in other towns it was moved that a Board of Trade be formed to be known as the "Huntingdon Board of Trade". The motion was carried unanimously. The membership fee was set at $2.00 and all present joined.

At the Sunday morning service in St. Andrew's Church the Rev. Mr. Maclean on behalf of the congregation paid an appropriate tribute to the faithful service Miss Walker has given the church during her sixteen years as organist. He then called on the Church secretary, Mr. T. B. Pringle, who presented Miss Walker with a purse donated by the congregation. Mr. Walker in a few words thanked all.

March 16th: - Huntingdon - Important Ruling in Liquor Case - A point of much debate was decided at Valleyfield on Saturday when Judge Casson delivered his judgment in the case of Patterson vs. The Liquor Commission. It involved the question whether revenue officers could seize on suspicious cars bearing government sealed liquor between the place of purchase and the owner's place of residence. On the 13th of December, 1921, Commission Officer J. C. Boyd seized from John Patterson, in the Town of Huntingdon, 130 bottles of Scotch Whiskey, bearing the Quebec Liquor Commission stamp, which he was transporting in a Ford car, claiming the liquor was for his own private use having previously employed a friend at St. Louis de Gonzague, to purchase the goods for him in Montreal. The contention of the Commission was, that the liquor was being transported by Patterson for commercial purposes. The judge in a brief decision sustained the claim of the Commission, and condemned Patterson to a fine of $300.00 and costs, or one month in jail. The liquor and car being confiscated by an order of the Court for the benefit of the Commission. The fine and costs were paid.

How universal the telephone has become is shown by comparing the new telephone books with those of a few years ago when only a hundred or so had phones. The new book shows that only in Huntingdon, Ex. change there are now 838 having telephones. No estimation can be made as to the number who listen-in on party lines.

March 23rd: - Hemmingford - A German gun, a trophy of the Great War, arrived in Hemmingford Tuesday and was taken to Havelock where it is to be placed.

Huntingdon - Tuesday the Merchants Bank ceased to exist in Huntingdon, all the brass signs being pulled down to make room for the new signs of the Bank of Montreal.

Mr. A. W. Rennicks of Sedalia, Mo., has kindly presented a silver Alms Basin to St. John's Church, Huntingdon. In this he is following the generous example of his grandfather, Mr. Rennicks, who some years ago had a memorial window placed in the Church in memory of her husband.

Weekly Review What Is Automation? By LEWIS MILLICAN

What is all this talk about "Automation"? I didn't like the word when I first saw it, for it looked to me like a verbal abortion. It wasn't in the dictionary, the nearest to it was "automaton" and I knew what that meant. I presumed it had something to do with automobiles, but later found it had a much wider application. It merely means "the displacement of physical labour by machines."

A long article in the February issue of Industrial Bulletin, published by the New York State Department of Labor, presents a full account of automation, which is said to be "moving ahead at a speed that would have seemed miraculous just a few decades ago." The article deals with the questions raised by the advent of automation, the problems involved for both industrialists and labor leaders, and the compensating benefits in general. Two factors are noted: "(1) machines that perform the work; and (2) control devices, or 'electronic brains', that supervise and, if necessary, correct the production process."

In theory the goal of automation engineers is a factory operated completely without men. Set in motion, it would work day and night transforming raw materials into final finished products without human intervention. Actually, of course, that could never be fully realized, for the best of machinery must be stopped for cleaning, repairs and maintenance.

Automation is raising significant questions, says the Bulletin: "What will the shift towards automation mean to workers, to jobs, and to the consumer? How many types of industry will be affected? Is this a real industrial revolution, or just a fresh technological step in the long history of industrial development?" Some of the problems facing industrialists and labor leaders are: The plant owners' need for large investments in machinery and equipment to keep abreast of competitors; worker displacement, layoffs and retraining. The compensating benefits listed are: "Greater productivity, more and better comforts for more people, extra hours of leisure, new jobs building, servicing and supervising the automatic devices."

Automation has been notably successful in the manufacture of chemicals, petroleum products, foods, drugs and beverages, and in some metal goods. The dial telephone system represents the most fully automated industries. We are assured that some industries will never be automated. The making of hats, shoes, and clothing, for example, won't ever be fully governed by robot-machines. For that reason, we are told, there is still plenty of opportunity for small business concerns to compete with mass producers in the automation era.

An automation conference was held recently in New York which large and small concerns were represented, and advice on the future direction of automation was given by a panel of experts. One of the experts thought that in some lines full mechanization may cost more than it is worth. A General Electric engineer said: "Businessmen who don't swing to automation, if they can use it, will lose ground to their competitors. Those who swing too fast will lose their shirts." Another big businessman saw no job menace in automation. "It will create more jobs and increase the ability of people to consume," he said. "It is the key to less human effort in the future and an immense increase in our standard of living tomorrow."

Mr. Franke of the Ford Motor Company was the most optimistic: "Automation results in a greater demand for many skilled maintenance and repair technicians. Right

The Week At Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) - The government has been accused of putting a "cloak of mysterious secrecy" around the retirement of Lt-Gen. Guy Simonds, 53, as chief of the general staff.

The charge was made in a statement issued by Opposition Leader Drew following his unsuccessful attempt in the Commons to obtain additional information on the decision to retire Gen. Simonds August 31.

Mr. Drew said Prime Minister St. Laurent's official reason — that the general has "completed the normal four-year tour" as army chief — "is no explanation at all and merely emphasizes the need for frankness."

"The people of Canada are entitled to know why our most brilliant field officer has been retired under circumstances which demand a full and satisfactory explanation," he said.

NATO Reference - There was considerable talk in London and Paris military circles last week that Gen. Simonds would succeed Field Marshal Montgomery as commander of NATO land forces. Mr. Drew said. If such an appointment were planned, the government should say so.

Parliament and the people of Canada have a right to demand that so important a subject should not remain shrouded in a cloak of mysterious secrecy."

Mr. Drew's statement said that he apparently had been trying to say in the Commons before he was interrupted by shouting Liberals.

He said Gen. Simonds was appointed army chief Feb. 1, 1951, and that same day his predecessor, Gen. Charles Foulkes, was made chairman of the joint chiefs of staff. He was not suggesting Gen. Foulkes should be retired, but if the length of appointments were to be fixed by length of service Gen. Simonds would be succeeding Gen. Foulkes.

Meanwhile, some observers in Ottawa believe Gen. Simonds was retired because he is not politically astute. They say this has resulted in a series of political embarrassments for the government, probably minor in themselves but accumulative.

His successor, Maj-Gen. Howard Graham, nearly five years older, is reputed to have so-called "political sense" as a result of his law training and a hitch as mayor of Trenton, Ont.

The armed forces were much in the news last week. In addition to announcing the Simonds retirement, the government announced appointment of Air Vice-Marshal Frank R. Miller, 47, as deputy defence minister, succeeding Brig. C. M. (Bud) Drury, 43, who is going into private business. Air Vice-Marshal Miller will resign his RCAF commission and serve as a civilian. His appointment becomes effective Aug. 15.

Air Vice-Marshal Miller, a native of Kamloops, B.C., is the first RCAF officer to become deputy defence minister. As such, he will be senior to his present boss, Air Marshal Sten-

Appointment of an RCAF officer to the vital defence post points up the government's growing concern with and emphasis on North American defence. The air force now is the largest of the three services and spends as much as the navy and army combined.

The Prime Minister, who announced the appointment, said Mr. Drury has made an "outstanding contribution to the defence program of Canada and to the public service generally."

Air Vice-Marshal Miller has served in the RCAF since 1931. In recent years he has worked closely with American and European military planners. He will be succeeded as air vice-deputy at NATO headquarters in Paris by Air Vice-Marshal Hugh L. Campbell, 46, of Salisbury, N.B., commander of the RCAF air division in Europe.

Poet In Economic Role - Douglas LePan, who went down the army ladder instead of up and who has since written prize poetry along with economic reports, will be named this week as secretary and research director of the royal commission delving into Canada's economic future.

The 41-year-old Toronto career diplomat will direct a small army of economists of his own under the six-man commission that is to scan economic horizons for an inkling of problems Canada may face 30 or more years from now.

His group will act as the commission's research arm, preparing papers and reports on various issues and projecting problems into the future to see how they are affected by expected developments.

Mr. LePan himself likely will play a key role in drafting the commission's report at the end of about 18 months of cross-country public hearings. The research arm or miniature bureau of statistics will operate mostly in Ottawa.

Mr. LePan graduated from the University of Toronto, studied English at Oxford and lectured in English literature at Harvard. In the first part of the Second World War, he was adviser to Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, in charge of the Canadian overseas, on army education.

Two years later he stepped down to the army's bottom rung to be an artillery gunner — "from the top," as he says, "to the bottom." He fought as a gunner for 18 months in Italy.

In 1945 he was in Canada House, London, where the then High Commissioner, Hon. Vincent Massey, expressed worry over the lack of economic reporting his office had done to diplomatic headquarters in Ottawa. He asked Mr. LePan to take on the job and he agreed.

His economic reports led the government to send him to world trouble spots for major assignments. Lately he has been minister-counselor at the Canadian embassy in Washington.

You wanted it
 All over Quebec people are showing a preference for a milder, full-bodied ale — Milder than ordinary ale, but more full-bodied than lager.
O'Keefe's found it
 The secret of a mild ale was discovered by O'Keefe's — Brewing with seedless hops eliminates all the unpleasant bitterness found in ordinary ale, leaving a tasty, full-flavoured ale that's pleasantly mild. Your increased purchases are proving that O'Keefe's have found the mild ale you want.
HAVE YOU TRIED O'Keefe's ALE?
 Try O'Keefe's Ale — compare it with the ale you have been drinking — notice that O'Keefe's has no unpleasant bitterness. When you taste this good, mild ale, you will understand why so many of your acquaintances are switching to O'Keefe's!

 The Huntingdon County Hospital had a comparatively small operating deficit of $1,758 in 1954. The Ladies' Auxiliary aim to see this deficit liquidated and hope to raise sufficient funds so as to be able to have the Huntingdon County Hospital acquire additional equipment in 1955. Your financial support accorded in whatever manner you so prefer, will be greatly appreciated.

Red Cross Award Made to Herman Quenneville, Dundee

Dundee — On Friday night, June 10th, the relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Quenneville gathered at Dupuis' Hotel, Dundee, to celebrate with them their 40th wedding anniversary. There was a very large crowd present, and many of the faithful Red Cross members, so this seemed like an opportune time to present to Mr. Quenneville the Badge of Service and Service Pin awarded him by the Canadian Red Cross. The presentation was made by Mr. Adrian O'Reilly, Vice-President of the Huntingdon Branch of the Red Cross and Mr. O'Reilly said in part:

"It gives me a great deal of pleasure to present this Red Cross Badge of Service and Service Pin to our good friend, Herman Quenneville. During my many years of Red Cross work, I can truthfully say it would be hard, if not impossible, to find such a willing, co-operative and untiring worker for the Red Cross. Never would he even hesitate when asked to help, and again I say, this is a merit well earned."

Mr. Quenneville replied with some well-chosen words and he was very enthusiastic in his praise of the Red Cross.

Mr. and Mrs. Quenneville were the recipients of a purse of money given to them by their many friends who were present at the gathering. Danching was enjoyed to the music of the Westernaires with Franklyn Cameron as caller. Refreshments were served and a very enjoyable evening was had by the 200 guests who were present.

Miss Mitzi McDonald of New York City, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian O'Reilly of Dundee, won the "Oscar" for the best actress of the year in Fordham University. The following is from the Fordham paper: "To vivacious Mitzi McDonald will go the 'best Actress' award for her work in 'Twelfth Night'. The dramatic ability as well as the sparkling zest with which she played the part of Viola has won many ovations for this talented Sophomore."

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dupuis motored to Potsdam, N.Y., on Sunday to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Folsy. (Mrs. Folsy was the former Miss Lucille Dupuis. Mr. and Mrs. Dupuis were godfather and godmother for their granddaughter, whose christening took place at a ceremony in the R.C. Church in Potsdam at 2.30 p.m. The infant received the names Wanda Ann. The baby was born on 5th June in Potsdam hospital. Since leaving the Navy, Mr. Folsy and his wife have been living in Potsdam. He is now employed on the Seaway.

Mr. Folsy has been attending Clarkson Technical College, Potsdam, where he is taking an engineering course. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Folsy of Fort Covington, N.Y.

New Road to Lakeside— Road building operations being carried on by the Quebec Roads Dept. on what the Dept. engineers call the Montée Woods from the North end of the present side road to Lake St. Francis have been proceeding rapidly since the initial start on the project was made about 10 days ago. A large fleet of heavy dump trucks have been busy hauling fill from the gravel pit at the Caza farm at Cazaville dumping it on the marshland and having it spread and packed by an attending bulldozer. It was intended to procure fill from nearby adjacent hills but after one day's hauling it was found to be too moist, absorbent to provide a good road base. Last Wednesday operations were halted to allow the engineers to describe an "S" curve in the course of the road about three-fifths of the way to the Lake. This, an informant said, would allow the new road to strike the high land along the side of the land being set aside as a park, instead of it entering it in the centre thereby saving much of the property for use by the public when the park is finished. About 1/4 mile remains to be finished. The heavy rains over the week-end cancelled work on Monday after some of the trucks had found the going tough on the newly spread fill. However, given a break in weather conditions the work could be finished in about a week. According to reliable information about $14,000 is available as a grant to spend on the project. It is understood that as much as possible will be done with the funds on hand to make the new beach and park usable this year. If funds allow, an extension to the new road might even be made along the length of the high land near the river, providing that the interested parties grant a right of way for the road.

Last but not least, Father O'Connor was called upon to speak. His words were those of thanksgiving for the first of all his mother for the spiritual training he received from his early childhood and for the many sacrifices she made in order to give a son to God. He then thanked Canon David for making his homecoming so welcome and for doing all in his power to make everything so grand. He thanked his family, relatives, friends and all who assisted him to the Holy Altar. Then he spoke special words of praise and thanks to Brother James Fallon, his former teacher, whom he said was greatly responsible for his religious vocation. Finally, he thanked everyone for their prayers and begged them to keep on praying that he may forever be a worthy priest of God.

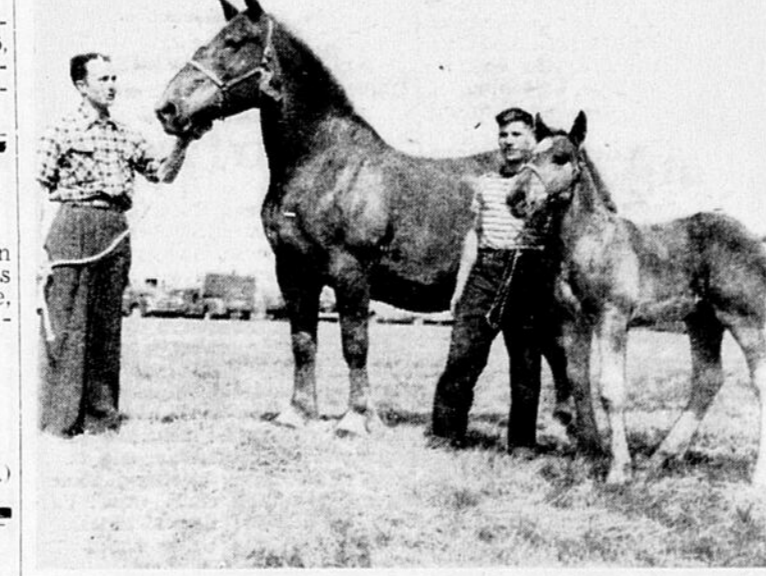

Father O'Connor said grace and all retired to the upper hall to receive his blessing and spend a social hour.

In the evening at 8:30 a reception was held in the Parish Hall. About 200 old friends from town and country called in to receive the newly-ordained blessing and to spend a social hour.

Here are some facts that will help when shopping for the sandwich makings. One small sandwich loaf, one and a half pounds in weight cut into slices slightly less than a quarter of an inch thick will make 60 to 80 small sandwiches which should serve 12 to 15. A quarter of a pound of butter is sufficient to spread this loaf. When it comes to fillings one and a half pounds or about two and a half pounds of moist spread is sufficient for one loaf of bread as is a dozen hard cooked eggs chopped and mixed with onion, mayonnaise and seasonings.

Most meat, cheese or egg sandwiches can be made a little ahead of time. They should be carefully wrapped in waxed paper and stored in a cool place where they can be placed unwrapped in a pan and completely covered with waxed paper and a damp cloth. But one word of caution - be sure that the damp cloth does not touch the sandwiches.

Every girl dreams of a lovely wedding and many dream of their trousseau tea. The matter of the first thing to decide is the number of guests to be invited and exactly the kinds of sandwiches to be served. If the cake is being made at home it is best to bake it a month or so in advance of the wedding so that it will have a chance to mellow, then to ice it or have it decorated by a professional. A simple but beautifully decorated cake will do honour to any bride.

How And Why

A Column for Boys and Girls

By Harold Don Allen

80; MONEY TALKS - III

(A story of money of many lands; third column of a special series of HOW AND WHY—H.D.A.)

Reach into your pocket and very probably you'll discover what could be the start of one of the most interesting collections that a boy or girl could make. For what you may find is "pocket change", the dimes, nickels and cents left over from purchases. These familiar coins are the money that most of us know best, which is all the more reason for them to be a stepping-stone to a fascinating collection of money of the world.

Uncle Don has such a collection which he began when he was much younger than you are now. This collection includes coins and notes of many lands and Uncle Don has learned much from it about distant lands and their peoples. He has discovered that there are many good coins at little or no expense. Read on and learn how you too might be able to begin.

Each country has its own money today. The pound of England, the dollar of the United States, the franc of France and the mark of Germany are famous throughout the world. Most such monies, like Canada's dollars, are paper notes. Change is made with metal coins of many sizes and shapes. Every nation uses both paper notes and metal coins as money, although their forms may be different indeed. Tourists bring back in their pockets coins and notes from distant lands every year. Many boys and girls have started money collections with samples given them by friends who travelled "abroad". Others, with "pen pals", have traded by mail, a Canadian dime for an Australian six pence or a German mark. You may be surprised to learn that many countries issue paper notes valued at a few cents or less in our money. People in these countries use such notes for very little. Other notes, of course, are worth many dollars; the beautiful five-pound note of the Bank of England and the one-dollar note of a Canadian Bank. Coins from foreign lands may be valued at any amount from a fraction of a cent to several dollars. Gold coins are no longer issued, but collectors keep many, usually of an amount $2, $5, $10, $20 and more.

A collection of Canadian coins makes a fascinating start, especially since the boy or girl who begins such a collection knows that he will have a great treasure hunt before his accumulation is anything like complete. Certain silver and copper coins less than 50 years old may truly be more than "worth their weight in gold". No boy or girl has a chance of uncovering a 1921 half-dollar, a 1921 five-cent or a 1889 dime for such coins are so rare that they are worth many dollars to collectors. That rare 1921 half-dollar for example might fetch you as much as $600 if it were new! Other coins are not worth great fortunes, but are uncommon enough to give you quite a search. You may look through hundreds of dimes before you find one dated 1948. Perhaps only one nickel in a thousand would be dated 1925. Half-dollars dated 1932 and 1934 would give you a great hunt - Uncle Don has been unable to find either. But it is not always the old and makes your collection more valuable to you as time goes by. You may wonder why certain coins are so rare. The answer is simple. Old coins are often hard to find because many coins are melted down at the Mint. Few gold coins of dates from Queen Victoria's reign remain in circulation. Millions of old coppers, silver nickels, dimes, quarters and half-dollars have been melted down. It is interesting to know though that the first coins marked "Canada" were struck in 1858 and that coins have been issued regularly since 1870, when the first half-dollar was struck.

You may wonder why coins such as the 1948 dime are rare, since it is so soon for these coins to be badly worn. The answer is different, but just as simple. The same number of coins are struck every year. The Mint makes only the amount of money that the banks need, and in certain years the numbers may be quite small. There were but a few half-dollars minted, for example, in years when that coin was so rare. In other years there were millions. In some years, no coins at all were needed. You would never be able to find a dime dated between 1921 and 1926.

A third reason why certain coins become difficult to find is that the kind of coin may be changed and the older type melted down. "Big cents", issued before 1920, are seldom seen. Twenty-cent pieces of 1856 are very rare indeed. The 1943 "nickel" is uncommon, although 43 million five-cent coins - more than in any other year - were struck in 1943. The reason may surprise you. The 1943 five-cent is made of bronze, a metal which looks like copper. This was done because the metal nickel was scarce during the war, because people confused these "fives" with cents. Millions were melted down, leaving the coin quite uncommon today.

Hundreds of different Canadian coins however, are waiting to be found in the change you receive every day. Many are cents, nickels and dimes. You collect them without really spending a cent because they always are worth exactly the amount you pay for them. You might want to try for a collection of all the Canadian coins issued during your lifetime. Most boys and girls wouldn't find that too difficult a task at all.

If you collect, collect for the fun of it. You'll be surprised at how many kinds of money you come across through the years and the

THE TOP SHELF

By BENJAMIN BEVERIDGE

BEING INTERESTING NOTES OF NEWS IN COMMENT FORM

Stewart Holbrook must have been impressed with the career of James J. Hill when he included him in his fine book on the industrial czars of America—"Age of the Moguls". Now he has written a book about the Canadian who became the empire builder of the American north-west.

Hill was one of the moguls, surely enough. He was born in a log cabin in Ontario in 1838, and started out as a Mississippi steamboat clerk. A man of vision and of some dominance, Hill allied himself with Lord Strathcona and J. P. Morgan and built a railroad across the Rockies to Seattle, opening up the west, and winning Minnesota, and settling Montana. This poor boy from Canada became a respectable millionaire. He helped build the Horns when the latter took in the way of his plans to build the Great Northern Railway.

James was such an important man that we have almost forgotten that he was one of us.

Many people in all countries who have harmonized at one time or another on the famous Australian folk song "Waltzing Matilda" are even though they still don't know what a "swagman" is—will be glad to learn that the original manuscript was not destroyed in the fire which recently raged through the Music Publishers Building in Melbourne. (Some of the early recordings of Dame Nellie Melba, the Australian soprano—1861-1931—who sang at the Metropolitan Opera when Caruso was there were lost.)

"Waltzing Matilda" is a song about a wanderer, was written by A. B. Peterson (1864-1941), the unofficial poet laureate of the county down under.

Six Walt Disney film features have been lined up for distribution during the next 12 months. They are in color and include a full length story about Davy Crockett; "The Emperor Penguins"; and "The Men from Morocco". They are films of myth, travel, and heroes, and they are all on a level higher than most comic book themes and many television shows. Even the great Prokudin-Gorskii classic, "Peter and the Wolf" will be shown on the screen this year, which points out that the movie producers are fighting TV and the Bingo hall in the only way possible, by providing programs worth seeing.

Some reading footprints: C.B.C.'s "Hamlet", which cost $30,000 caused a lot of criticism among television viewers and dramatists. It seemed a lot of money to spend on one program which didn't reach all of the people who were paying for it, the C.B.C. being a government corporation.

However, the 2,000,000 people who did see the program got a top notch show for less than two cents a piece. Other Canadians, who are aware that less than 20 per cent of the films shown in Canadian schools are Canadian made, should not mind paying their small portion for "Hamlet", just to know that some attempt is being made to utilize Canadian technical and dramatic talent.

Not satisfied with high fidelity and frequency modulation, the B.C.C. will in the next 18 months open 10 very high frequency transmitting stations, designed to bring interference-free reception.

Queen Elizabeth will make her first visit to an European country as a reigning monarch when she goes to Norway, on June 24. It seems almost incredible that this can be so; that of all the world-encircling traveling Her Majesty has done in the past several years, it has all been done in the countries of the Great British Commonwealth.

Nicholas Monsarrat's "The Cruel Sea" has been read by more than 4,000,000 people.

For the first time in Canada, a Canadian film is to be produced in Cinemascope by the Nova Scotia Film Bureau, which plans to preserve the summer's historical activities.

Thirty-six countries are to be represented in the 9th International Film Festival in Edinburgh, August 21 to Sept. 11.

The nobility, the clergy and the commoners will be the official estates, but each of these has come to look upon the fourth estate—the press—with great respect. Canada has had an illustrious line of trojans in journalism, men like Hugh Graham of The Montreal Star, who became Lord Atholstan, Charles Bishop, who was elevated to the Canadian Senate; Arthur Ford and Blair Fraser, who have received honorary doctorates from universities.

The weekly press is beginning to receive just awards for the contributions its editors are making to the estates of life in this nation. S. N. Wynn of Saskatchewan's Yorkton Enterprise and George Jamieson of The Canadian Statesman, Bowmanville, Ont., have recently had degrees conferred upon them for exemplary service in their profession and toward the development of a national culture.

Famous Trichologist Will Demonstrate How to Grow Thicker Hair . . . and Guarantees It! Demonstration to Be Held Here

This new method of home treatment for saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Huntingdon, Quebec, Tuesday ONLY, June 28.

These private, individual demonstrations will be held at the Huntingdon Chateau Hotel on Tuesday ONLY, June 28, 12 noon to 9 p.m. Halifax, June 1 —

In an interview here today William Keele, internationally famous trichologist and director of the Keele Hair Experts said: "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so-called cure-all could correct all these disorders," he explained.

Guaranteed

"The Keele firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offer a guarantee," Keele said. "Once a person avails himself of the Keele treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this, we offer this guarantee: 'If you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress at the end of 30 days your money will be returned.'"

Hopeless Cases Discouraged

First the trichologist is quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Only if a man is completely, shiny bald is he in this lost category. If there is fuzz, no matter how light, thin or colorless, the Keele treatment can perform wonders.

A complete, private examination is given by a trichologist to determine the condition of the scalp, and cause for his hair trouble.

Free Examinations

This examination is very thorough and highly technical, it requires 20 to 30 minutes. The trichologist makes no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After the examination the person is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost.

After starting treatment, the person makes regular reports to the Keele firm in Halifax to check the progress of the home treatment.

To spread the opportunity of normal, healthy hair to the thousands who are desperately looking for help, independent trichologists are visiting various cities throughout Canada to conduct examinations and start home treatment.

No Cure-All

"We have no cure-all for slick, shiny baldness," Keele emphasizes. If there is fuzz, the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to be a miracle.

There is one thing Keele wants every man and woman to know. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

Hair for Lifetime

"If clients follow our directions during treatment, and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," Keele said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment. It all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules!"

How's Your Hair?

If it worries you, call Trichologist R. M. Smallwood at the Huntingdon Chateau Hotel in Huntingdon, Quebec, on Tuesday ONLY June 28, 12 noon to 9 p.m. The public is invited. You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.
