EVENTS MOVING RAPIDLY TOWARDS A GENERAL ELECTION IN BRITAIN

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald Today Held Two-Hour Conference With Rt. Hon. Lloyd George, Veteran Liberal Leader—Generally Accepted Premier Was Making a Final Effort to Secure Liberal Chieftain's Agreement to an Early Appeal to People.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Everything awaits definite announcements of the general election. Events move rapidly towards the climax. Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald went to the Surrey home of Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, veteran leader of the Liberal party, today and had a two-hour talk with Mr. Lloyd George. It was generally accepted the Prime Minister was making a last effort to secure the Liberal leader's agreement to an early general election. There was no statement after the conversations.

Afterwards the Prime Minister came back to London for an afternoon meeting of the Cabinet. The Labor party gathered in conference at Scarborough and tendered an ovation to Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, leader of the Laborites. Mr. Henderson told the gathering that in the absence of a definite date for the election they could only follow the safe policy of being prepared.

Sir John Simon, who broke with his former leader, Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George was understood likely to head a new party to be known as the "National Liberal Party," and to start active campaigning in a few days. In some quarters it was said the Prime Minister might rely on this faction, claimed to number twenty-five members, for Liberal representation in a future Cabinet if he was unable to reconcile the party's differences over a tariff programme.

Prime Minister MacDonald's personal position in the coming fight continued a leading topic of interest. His visit to his constituency of Seaham, Durham, on Friday did not alter the determination of the Seaham Labor executive to repudiate him and place another Labor candidate in the field.

But now two independent groups of Laborites in the constituency—Murton Miners' Lodge and Murton—have decided to renominate Mr. MacDonald. His resignation from the nomination, the Prime Minister would be an independent Labor candidate.

Whether the Prime Minister would run as an independent Labor candidate in his old seat was highly doubtful. His resignation from the nomination, the Prime Minister would be an independent Labor candidate.

YOUNG LAD IS DROWNED NEAR GEORGEVILLE

Nine-Year-Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Desnoyers, of Granby, Fell into Memphremagog Lake Yesterday Afternoon—Searching for Body.

MAGOG, Que., Oct. 5.—A sad fatality occurred on the Memphremagog Lake near Georgeville yesterday afternoon, when the nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Desnoyers, of Granby, who were here for the week-end, fell out of a motor boat and was drowned. The depth of the water where the lad disappeared is said to be over two hundred feet, and so far efforts to recover the body have been unsuccessful. The Magog police and volunteers rushed to the scene of the tragedy and have worked persistently to locate the remains of the unfortunate youth.

Mr. Desnoyers is well known in Magog, as he owns a large shoe store which is in charge of Miss Marie Louise Desève. He also owns two stores in Granby, where his home is located.

Accompanied by his wife, his son, Raymond, and Miss Desève, he was operating an out-board motor boat yesterday afternoon when the accident occurred. Young Raymond presumably while looking over the side of the craft, lost his balance and fell into the water. He disappeared from view, and did not return to the surface.

An inquest into the drowning will be held as soon as the body has been recovered.

NEW EVIDENCE UNCOVERED IN COLLINGS CASE

Milk Bottles, Old Newspapers and Bits of Rope Found on Camp Site May Help to Identify the Slayers of Benjamin P. Collings.

HUNTINGDON, N.Y., Oct. 5.—Milk bottles, old newspapers and bits of rope gave District Attorney Blue new hope today in his search for the slayers of Benjamin P. Collings.

Felix Di Martini, private detective retained by Blue, examined the camp site where the bottles and other articles were found yesterday, and declared the place had been used as a camp about three weeks ago.

He said the rope corresponded to the one used in tying up Collings before he was thrown into the Sound the night of September 9th.

William A. Kelly, counsel for Mrs. Collings, criticized Blue yesterday for withholding information and causing Mrs. Collings to make a fruitless and needless trip to Daytona Beach, Fla. Mrs. Collings went there to try to identify a father and son detained by Florida police. She exonerated both men.

Kelly said that if Blue had given them full information about the Florida suspects, the trip to Daytona Beach would have been avoided.

PRINCE OF WALES TAKES UP NEW FORM OF SPORT

His early morning spin around the chateau where he spent his vacation in France kept him so fit that it is reported his bicycle is being sent to England for him.

ADVISABILITY OF HOLDING SILVER CONFERENCE URGED

Senator Borah Lays Emphasis Upon Possibility of Giving Silver Better Status in International Trade.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 5.—Senator William E. Borah, who helped President Hoover win his election in 1928, has talked to the White House about an international monetary conference, laying emphasis upon the possibility of giving silver a better status in international trade, but the Canadian Press is informed the administration looks askance at the white metal.

Washington is not insensible to the appropriations of the time for a silver campaign. The ability of silver states and traders to grasp the opportunity was demonstrated during the last two weeks of September when following suspension of the gold standard by Great Britain, the price of silver jumped from twenty-eight cents to thirty-one cents an ounce and again fell back to the price which it has maintained during the summer. While economists here are decidedly not enthusiastic about silver prospects it is generally agreed the situation contains sufficient latent potentialities to make it worth watching.

SCOTSTOWN MAN WAS VICTIM OF MOTOR CRASH

William G. McLaughlin Died from Injuries Received in Automobile Accident Near Bury Early Yesterday Morning—Inquest Being Held Today.

William Gillespie McLaughlin, 33 years old, of Scotstown, was the victim of a fatal automobile accident yesterday morning, when the car in which he was riding with a companion swerved off the highway near Bury and plunged into the ditch. The car was a small open roadster, and Mr. McLaughlin was thrown out, sustaining severe injuries about the head and body. He passed away last evening without having regained consciousness.

The accident is presumed to have been caused by a puncture of one of the front tires. Norman Nicholson, the driver, lost control of the wheel and the car plunged into the ditch. Nicholson himself escaped uninjured. Dr. McEneaney, of Bury, was summoned to the scene of the accident and rendered first aid. The victim was then removed to Scotstown, where all that medical hands could do to save him was attempted. However, his condition was hopeless from the first and he had not the strength to rally. An inquest is being held today.

Mr. McLaughlin was a popular figure in Scotstown, where he lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. McLaughlin. He was unmarried, and is leaving to Mrs. Malachuk by automobile Tuesday morning.

YOUNG GIRL IS BADLY INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Marie Rodrigue in St. Vincent de Paul Hospital With Probable Fracture of Skull and Broken Leg, Following Accident Last Evening.

Miss Marie Rodrigue, sixteen years old, of Stanstead, was removed to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, suffering from a probable fracture of the skull, a broken leg and other injuries, sustained in an automobile accident near Derby Line last night.

An automobile containing six persons, driven by Roland Lefebvre, of Stanstead, was travelling along the highway, when the driver lost control and the car plunged into the ditch, crashing into a tree. Miss Rodrigue was the only occupant to sustain any injuries.

She was brought to the hospital this morning by J. Albert's ambulance, where X-ray examinations are being made to discover the extent of her injuries.

TERMINAL WORK SUSPENDED AS ECONOMY MOVE

Statement Issued by C.N.R. President Explains Why Montreal's Huge Enterprise Is to Be Discontinued for Present.

MONTREAL, October 5.—According to a statement issued by Sir Henry Thornton, President of the Canadian National Railways, the postponement for the present of further expenditures upon the Montreal terminal of the Canadian National Railways has been decided upon after careful consideration and after conference with the Government.

The statement follows: "In view of the very serious decrease in railway revenues, due to the depression in world trade which has equally affected all railways on the North American Continent, the Canadian National Railway management has of necessity been giving very serious consideration to the curtailment of expenditures in every possible direction.

It is now apparent that the railway will be able to provide from earnings little, if any, towards the fifty-seven millions required to meet interest charges. In addition, there are other large expenditures necessary to the operation of the railway itself to be provided for during the current year. In view of this, and the unsettled state of international financing, the management, after careful consideration with the Government, has decided to postpone for the present further expenditures upon the Montreal terminal plans of the railway. The management takes this step with regret, but considers it necessary in view of the unprecedented demands of the general situation. It does not mean that the work will be closed down entirely as there are certain features now in course of construction which will require to be completed. This will continue to provide employment for considerable number of men for some time to come. Meanwhile the management wishes to point out that the present action involves suspension only and we are looking forward to the time when a general improvement of business and the stabilizing of the financial situation will allow us to complete the plans which we have in view."

CONTESTATION BY CONSERVATIVES IN THIS DISTRICT VERY UNLIKELY

So Far as Eastern Townships Are Concerned Conservative Leaders Seem Prepared to Leave Verdict of Recent Election as It Stands—Proceedings, However, Have Been Started for Contestation in Eleven Seats on Montreal Island.

THE Conservatives of the Eastern Townships do not seem to be giving much official attention to the contestation of seats won by the Liberals in the recent provincial elections.

Press despatches from Montreal this morning announced that Conservative forces late Saturday afternoon started contestation proceedings in eleven seats won by the Liberals on the Island of Montreal.

Mr. A. C. Crepeau, Conservative organizer for the province of Quebec, was out of town today, but the Record was informed at the Court House that no notifications had been received there of any possible contestations, while Mr. W. H. Lynch, a prominent local Conservative, said that he had heard no rumors of any contestations either in Sherbrooke or the surrounding counties.

The Montreal seats to be contested are Dorion, Laurier, Mercier, St. Lawrence, St. Mary, St. James, St. Henri, Laval, Maisonneuve, Jacques Cartier and St. Louis.

St. Ann division, where the Hon. Joseph Dillon, Minister without portfolio, defeated two Conservative opponents, is the only Island division so far unaffected by the contestations, but it is possible that proceedings will be started in that division today if the Conservatives carry out their announced intention of contesting every one of the 73 seats awarded to Liberal candidates.

Several features made the institution of proceedings unique in a Superior Court history here. Ordinarily the Prothonotary's office, where actions are started closes at one o'clock on Saturday. During last week J. B. A. Tison, chief deputy Prothonotary, was asked to have some of his clerks remain through Saturday afternoon to receive the contestation petitions.

NEW PROJECT OUTLINED BY SWISS PRESS

Establishment of International Currency Advocated as Means of Fighting World-Wide Uneasiness.

BASEL, Switzerland, Oct. 5.—A project to establish an international currency to fight world-wide uneasiness was disclosed in the Swiss Press today.

The creation of such a currency would be based on a deposit of $1,000,000,000 in the World Bank by the central banks of the various countries. France would deposit one-third of the amount, and the United States the balance, under the plan.

Certificates would be issued by the World Bank and distributed among the depositors, covered either by thirty per cent or fifty per cent of their gold deposit. They would also draw coverage from money circulating in the various countries.

World Bank quarters were confident the plan would assume concrete form in the near future. This was based on a belief that France and United States would call an international currency conference right after Premier Laval's visit to Washington.

Giordano and Dominic Adiermo, also arrested with Coll, were identified as the slayers of Joseph Mullins, who was shot down on Park Avenue on Friday.

SOCIAL FIGURE SEEN IN ROLE OF LONGSHOREMAN

Twenty-Seven Members of Cunard Company's Office Force Volunteered to Handle Passengers' Baggage and Merchandise Following Strike.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 5.—A young member of Boston's social aristocracy toiled yesterday in the role of longshoreman on the Cunard Line pier rolling barrels and lugging dirty hampers of merchandise being discharged from the anchor liner Caledonia and the Cunarder Transylvania.

He was Francis Peabody Hamlin, associated with the Boston offices of the Cunard Line and who held public attention a few months ago when he furnished information during the investigation of the strange death of Stary Faithful, after her body was found in Long Island Sound.

The reason for Hamlin's new role was a disagreement between Boston longshoremen and steamship companies over the rate of payment for work on Sundays and holidays. To expedite the unloading of the steamers, twenty-seven members of the Cunard company's office force volunteered to undertake the handling of passengers' baggage and merchandise destined for this port.

NO CHANGE IN CONDITION OF THOMAS EDISON

Noted Inventor Rallied Slightly This Morning Following Relapse, But Still Remains Feeble and Tired.

WEST ORANGE, N.J., Oct. 5.—The lamp burned brightly for Thomas Alva Edison today, but it burned feeble and tired, the "Wizard of Menlo Park" rallied this morning after a relapse in which his own physician, Dr. H. S. Howe, admitted "I was really worried."

His condition was described as "mentally drowsy." Yet he was able last night to take some nourishment with relish and announce "I enjoyed my supper." He slept fairly well.

Throughout the long night a special police detail watched the house. Dr. Howe, after issuing a night bulletin describing Mr. Edison's condition as much worse than before, said he looked for no marked change for one or two days. Many messages and inquiries arrived at the Edison home.

Two cables from the Vatican touched the Edison family deeply. The messages sent by the Papal Secretary of State at Vatican City read: "Kindly send information regarding the health of Mr. Edison," and the next message: "The Holy Father desires further information regarding the health of Mr. Edison. Please ask family direct and inform them of the Holy Father's deep interest."

John Eyre Sloan, Mr. Edison's son-in-law, answered the Pope that Mrs. Edison and family "sincerely appreciate the deep interest of the Holy Father."

The inventor is suffering from uremic poisoning, gastric ulcers, diabetes and Bright's disease.

DARING AIRMEN COMPLETE FIRST NON-STOP FLIGHT OVER PACIFIC

Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon Today Landed Plane at Wenatchee, Washington, Minus Landing Gear, Which Had Been Dropped Shortly After Take-Off at Samushiro Beach, Japan, on Epoch-Making Flight—Dumped Excess Gasoline Overboard Before Landing to Prevent Possible Outbreak of Fire.

WENATCHEE, Wash., Oct. 5.—Completing the first non-stop airplane flight across the Pacific Ocean, Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, United States fliers, landed here today.

Before coming down the flyers circled overhead a few minutes and dumped their excess gasoline in order to prevent any possible outbreak of fire when they hit the ground minus landing gear, which had been dropped shortly after their take off at Samushiro Beach, Japan.

The plane landed on her "belly," tipped over on her nose and then settled back. She slid along slowly in a cloud of dust.

The plane came to rest on its left wing. Its propeller was smashed in the landing. Aviators described it as a "fish tail" landing.

FRANCE IS DETERMINED TO PROTECT ITS HOME MARKET

Imports of Cattle, Dressed Meats of All Kinds, Milk and Other Dairy Products Subject to Rigorous Limitations.

PARIS, Oct. 5.—Further drastic steps to protect the home market from foreign competition, especially from the tariff on luxury articles may soon become decreed have been taken by the French Government. Under the terms of a decree published in the Journal Officiel, the import of cattle, dressed meats of all kinds, milk and other dairy products will be subject to rigorous limitations. The decree is an extension of the previous one published August 27, regulating the entry of wood and foreign wines.

It is not unlikely that other measures will soon be taken with a view to the tariff on luxury articles. Imports from countries where suspension of gold standard has caused a fall in the value of currencies, although in the case of Britain it is hardly possible that such steps will be taken until the proposed new tariff on luxury articles actually materializes.

One French paper protests against the recent series of tariff increases and importation restrictions, and warns the Government that such measures of "super protection" are not destined to lower France's unfavorable balance now in excess of nine billion francs. Since January 1, the same newspaper points out, twenty-two categories of tariffs have largely increased, some of the raises being in excess of one hundred per cent.

CHURCHILL TO LONDON VOYAGE IS COMPLETED

Captain Moutat Ended History-Making Voyage Yesterday, When He Docked Steamer Loaded With 277,000 Bushels of Grain from Churchill.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Captain Moutat had an air of quiet satisfaction about him when he was encountered on the bridge of the steamer Farnworth today. The Farnworth arrived in London docks yesterday at the conclusion of a history-making voyage of sixteen days from Churchill, Canada's newest seaport on the shores of Hudson's Bay, bringing a cargo of 277,000 bushels of grain over the New Hudson's Bay northern route which cuts one thousand miles off the journey from the Prairies to Britain.

In the captain's view it was a most matter-of-fact achievement to navigate from Churchill through the Hudson's Straits. The spare looking skipper could find very few remarks to make about the voyage simply because it had been like so many others he had made.

Jack Miner and the Birds

From his "Book of Birds."

GAME PROTECTION

Some protection, a sportsman's problem, may appear to you as being entirely out of place in a series like this. Yet I want you to read, for I feel fully qualified to discuss this matter in a conscientious, fair and square, look-you-in-the-face manner. I have the itching of my own trigger-finger fairly well harnessed, and have no desire to shoot any bird other than the Canada; but, on the other hand, my boy, Ted, who is twenty-three years of age, and for whom I would willingly lie down and give up the ghost if it were actually necessary, likes shooting. In fact, sometimes I think he is as crazy for a gun as I once was, but that seems impossible.

Nearly twenty years ago I organized the South Essex County Game Protective Association, which, by the way, now has advanced into the lands of some of the best and most self-sacrificing sportsmen the earth can produce. And let me say right here that they have stood, and are still standing, right behind me, backing me up in every just association. If every county had an association of the same material the question would all be solved, for when these men asked our Dominion Government to proclaim a bird sanctuary around Jack Miner's home, in less than three months no shooting was allowed within a mile of my house. The game warden came and declared it a Crown Lands' Bird Sanctuary.

To be sure, I have tasted the insults one experiences when he changes from a pull-down to a builder. An insulting doctor once said to me, as he stood in the safety zone and shook his fists at my red face: "Jack, you are just like old Uncle Joe. When he used to dance he wanted everybody to dance, but when he got religion he wanted everybody to pray."

Now the first thing to consider is that over ninety per cent of the people in America don't want to shoot. They take nothing from the shooter, but the shooter takes all from them. Which should control, the ninety per cent, or the ten per cent, say there can be pleasure for both if properly managed. But the shooter must be considered last, for the fall of one bird out of the air from his deadly aim gives pleasure to one only, while thousands are deprived of the thrilling enjoyment of seeing that bird alive. God says, "In any wise let the mother, and take the young to thee," yet some of our people want to shoot the mother before she lays the eggs to hatch the young that He says we can have. Yes, a man may be a good, shrewd business fellow, but when he gets a gun in his hands he appears to lose all self-control, and does not expose enough brains to give him a headache.

Government game wardens are usually a bunch of men appointed by pull and favor, and don't know a bit more about game protection than I know about the price of soft groats in Jerusalem. If called by its right name it would be "political protection," and I don't have to lie to tell the truth about it. However, the less said the better, and it is of no use to us to look back at the past. We must remember Lot's wife stopped and looked back, and she turned into a pillar of salt; Pat's wife stopped and looked back, first over one shoulder and then over the other, and she turned in a beer saloon.

In his next article Jack Miner outlines his plans for game protection.

CENSORIOUS

An old tenant on Queen Victoria's Balmoral estate used to be greatly concerned when the Queen went driving Sunday afternoons. She even ventured to speak about it. The Queen, who allowed a good many liberties to her tenants, smiled and said to the old woman: "But, Janet, the New Testament tells us distinctly that the Sabbath was made for man."

"Aye," said Janet, severely, "I know it does; and I think none the more of the New Testament for that."

DECEPTION BY THE BUNGLERS AT THE DAM.

Men are deceivers ever. But when public men try to deceive their community they soon fall by the wayside.

We do not close our columns to any citizen on any matter of public interest, not even when the views expressed are in direct variance with the truth as enunciated by this journal.

Even when the Mayor of Sherbrooke characterized as misleading and untrue the reports from the Westbury dam, together with statements by competent engineers, and though insulting our reputation for veracity by stating that what was said was untrue, we granted the space upon which he might hang himself, "tooth-and-nail."

Citizens were invited to visit the Westbury dam last Saturday. Five men in our 29,000 population accepted the invitation, and when they reached the dam and gazed down at the turbines, they were turning and producing sparks of power. To the uninitiated the plant looked quite alright.

But no sooner had the last civic limousine disappeared over the hills than the water was again turned off, and the tools and repair men were hurried back to the job of rebuilding the faulty construction. They are at it yet, and will be there for some time to come.

Rand drills, with compressed air, are tearing down the inside or hidden structure which had been covered with rushing water whilst the five distinguished visitors peered down the shafts and were assured that all was right.

Was this misleading? Was it fair to the people? Was it the truth we should expect from public men and civic officials?

The story reminds me of one which came under my observation in 1878 when in the village of Fenelon Falls a large group of silk-hatted members of Parliament visited that then thriving lumber town in the Valley of the Trent waters. It was proposed to build a series of canals along the Trent waters, from Trenton, Ontario, to Lake Simcoe, Ontario, and thence across to Georgian Bay. It was a contractor's job, an idea gotten up to provide fat work for needy Government contractors who even yet swarm the lobbies at the Capital.

The Trent Valley Canal cost around $10,000,000, but to-day the contractors talk in billions about Georgian Bay-Ottawa River Canals and St. Lawrence Deep Waterways. They need the money, and it often flows freely from the spigot of the Dominion Treasury.

It was in the month of May, each recurrent year, that Sir Charles Tupper led his band of legislators over the railway from Ottawa to Peterboro and thence northerly to the upper lakes and rivers. The water was high. The spring freshets were on—

"Look at that magnificent water going to waste—oceans of it!" the promoters exclaimed.

But in the month of August the rivers were rivulets. The lakes had bottom too near the top, and when the deceived members of Parliament had echoed the "magnificent water" to the House of Commons, there were shallow ponds one could walk across. Hence the use of cuffs on trouser legs.

Yet another million was passed each session by inland members who were easily deceived by professional deceivers and the crass expenditures on the Trent Valley Canal went merrily on. There were Sir Henrys in those days who thought the Dominion Treasury was as bottomless as the Widow's Cruise and as easy to touch as an Aladdin's Lamp.

Public utilities invite the political bandits and the vultures who preach philanthropy and practice deception.

Small wonder that Dentist Forest and Mr. Crepeau resented criticism of the power plant, but it was a downright shame when the dentist laid his forceps upon the mouth of the mayor and threatened him with the opposition of Ex-Mayor Brant unless he swallowed the loathsome pill of public operation of civic utilities.

They have many things to hide and to try to smother in the secret sessions which the Mayor so tenderly guards with paltry solacisms.

THE BANKRUPT WHO DEFRAUDS HIS CREDITORS.

Complaint is being made by many merchants, both retail and wholesale, that the Bankruptcy laws are inadequate, that they are so loosely drawn that the dishonest debtor can drive a horse and cart through them and come forth from his failure with a new house and a new store next door, all amassed at the expense of those who trusted.

The Better Business Bureau, organized to prevent dishonesty and rascality, would be the basic structure to pass upon dishonest debtors, and might well be given the power to forgive and forget the debtor who may be honest, but unfortunate. The Bureau is but the executive office of the merchant creditor, and theirs could be the power to give or to withhold a discharge before the bankrupt could again enter into business by securing the necessary amnesty.

The man who preys upon his creditors is not to be trusted by his customers, and he should be "named," and his further ventures into business should be prevented.

There are assignees in Montreal who can be thoroughly distrusted on well-founded suspicions of both collusion and complicity in business juggling. These men should be driven out of business purloins. It is not enough to send these fellows into oblivion. They should be punished.

Wherever you see a sign of "a bankrupt sale," it were well to know of the exodus and the genesis of both the merchants and the stock. Unless they are vouchered for, one should enquire before entering.

We do not encourage that sort of thing in Sherbrooke. Before any such bankrupt stock can be mentioned in the Record, we must know all about it, for only thus can we prevent the practice of fraud upon our readers.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

Twenty per cent. of the assessed value of the taxable real estate in the City of Sherbrooke is invested in the public utility plants, and the Socialistic advocates consider that they have and hold twenty-five per cent. of the voting power through its political direction. It is a great temptation to the jacks in office to maintain the political operation of utilities.

R. S. White, M.P. has not yet received his official call to the Senate of Canada, where he would be acclaimed by all his colleagues as a worthy successor to the late lamented Senator George G. Foster.

His call would open the safest Conservative constituency in all Canada, where only foolish opposition candidates rush in where wiser men will not tread. His years of political service harking back some fifty years, are worthy of recognition beyond all others. Prime Minister Bennett is not likely to make the mistake of calling to the Senate mere millionaires as such. His predecessor forgot that the average run of millionaires would sacrifice all their wives' relations for more millions.

Taking time by the forelock, the residents of the busy little town of Windsor Mills are actively presenting the project of the open road for winter. They wish to keep the highway to the north and to the south clear for motor traffic in the snowbound months, and believe that an early start will make it quite easy, as was proven in the Magog to Sherbrooke open way last winter. The work last year was helped materially by the Canada Paper Company, the town's chief industry, a modest contribution from the Provincial Roads Department and also one from the Town Council. To this was added generous donations from many private car owners. In all, $802 was collected, and the sum of twenty dollars is still in the bank as cash on hand. One can see that the winter tax on gasoline might be augmented to practically cover the cost if the operations were conducted by some responsible private contractor.

ANNUAL DINNER OF SHERBROOKE COUNTRY CLUB

Final for Club Championship Played on Saturday Afternoon, Bart Holtham Defeating Philip Robins in a Keenly Contested Match.

The golfing season of 1931 was officially closed on Saturday last, the event being marked by the annual President vs. Vice-President match, followed by the closing dinner.

Ideal golfing weather attended the event in which the largest field to date competed. So evenly matched were the teams that the result was uncertain until the very last foursome was in, and it was then found that Vice-President McAnulty's team was leading President Murphy's delegates by the scant margin of two points. During the course of the evening the President-Vice-President Shield, emblematic of this event, was presented to Col. McAnulty.

The afternoon also witnessed the final match of the club championship in which Bart Holtham won out over Phil Robins in a keen contest. These two players were the finalists only after the close competition from their fellow members, Holtham being carried to the very last green by Harold Peabody in the semi-finals and Robins having to play two rounds and extra holes before beating off the challenge of Gordon Miller. This latter match was undoubtedly the most closely contested that the club tournament witnessed this year. In the first round between Robins and Miller, Robins was leading by five holes with only eight to play, but Miller caught him at the eighteenth. Extra holes were played, but darkness compelled postponement to a later date. On their second attempt to settle matters Miller had the advantage being three up at the end of the seventh hole, but this time Robins overcame Miller's advantage and caught him on the very last green.

In the finals between Holtham and Robins the difference between winning and losing lay in their putters, Bart's working to perfection and Philip's betraying him at the crucial moment. After halving the first six holes Bart went one up at the seventh, where he negotiated a complete stymie, thanks not so much to the skill of his putter as to the slope of the famous seventh green, where the roll of the green carried his ball around Philip's and into the hole. From there on Bart never looked back, for when he offered a chance for Philip to draw on even terms, his usually reliable putter would just fail to drop them, many of them just stopping on the edge of the cup or rimming it. Incidentally, this win of Bart's created a cliff-hanger in Sherbrooke, Mrs. Holtham having won the ladies' championship in the Country Club, and so for the first time husband and wife have won the two major events in the same season.

President George Murphy presided at the dinner which followed some fifty-five members and guests being present. Following the dinner various members of the club spoke including Messrs. Fred Briggs, George Ewing, Dave Salls, Colonel McAnulty, Charles Mignault and Frank Hearle of the Dufferin Highlands Country Club. Prizes won during the season in various events and during the day were then presented as follows:

Club Championship, McKinnon Cup, B. N. Holtham. Page-Sangster Century Cup, B. Beaudry. Junior Championship, George Murphy Memorial Cup, Ronney Welsh.

Junior Handicap Cup, Stewart Construction Cup, T. Stevens. Tennis Tournament prizes: Men's singles, Albert Reid; men's doubles, Albert Reid and Trevor Stevens; mixed doubles, Fredericka Bradley and Fredericka Baldwin. Junior tennis events still remain to be finished, namely the ladies' singles and ladies' doubles, and in the golfing end of the club's activities the Kenneth Turnbull competition has only reached its semi-final stages. All of these will no doubt be completed during the present week.

The sweepstake competition played during the afternoon resulted as follows: Class A—Dr. Lynch, 69. B. N. Holtham, 70. Class B—Dr. McDonald, 69; J. T. Hawkins, 70; R. A. Webster, 71; Class C—William Nadeau, 71; Dr. Ethier, 71; Henry Welsh, 72.

AIR PAGEANT FLYERS THRILL LARGE CROWDS

Captain J. D. Parkinson and Captain Bernard Martin Furnished Thrills at Aerial Show Staged at Compton Airport Over Week-End.

There were thrills galore at the Compton Air Port over the week-end, when noted flyers from various parts of the Dominion, members of the famous Trans-Canada Air Pageant, staged an entertaining aerial show—a unique event for this district and the first of its kind to be staged in Sherbrooke.

One did not have to be "air-minded" to enjoy the pageant, for it was impossible not to be thrilled and not to marvel at the daring and skill of the aerobatic aviators.

With supremely fine weather and a large crowd numbering into the thousands present on both days, the show was a fine success. While there was a slight hitch on the first day and the performance did not get under way until late in the afternoon, the officials met with better luck yesterday when the programme excelled that of the previous day.

Many planes were lined-up on the field, including a large cabin machine and three siren-equipped ships that screamed through the blue, sunny skies as they dashed wildly through space.

Captain J. D. Parkinson, war ace, and Captain Bernard Martin, "Peck's Bad Boy of the Air," furnished the thrills. Stunt flyers par excellence, they performed their planes with uncanny skill and precision, delighting the large crowds with their death-defying tricks.

Prior to the official opening of the pageant, the siren-ships took off for Sherbrooke, travelling in "V" formation. Upon their return, the other ships warmed up and then led by Flemming and moving in a single file flight, circled the surrounding district, swooping down over the air port and presenting a striking spectacle. When all the planes had been lined up, the bugle call was sounded and the pageant was declared formally opened by the Mayor of Sherbrooke. Addresses of welcome were delivered by Mr. Charles B. Howard, M.P., and Mr. Emery Fortier, M.L.A.

Captain J. D. Parkinson provided the first feature of the afternoon. At the controls of a small, fast aeroplane, he rose into the bright skies and performed a number of breath-taking stunts.

With the reputation of being one of the foremost aerobatic flyers in Canada, Captain Parkinson delighted and thrilled the spectators with the various manoeuvres through which he piloted his craft. It was beautiful to watch him fly. His ship gliding smoothly through the air, he performed barrel-rolls, loops and drove the plane vertically for some on to stop it, it did seem as though an unskilled pilot was in charge of the controls. Taking off limply, the ship rose crazily into the sky. But no sooner had it cleared the ground than it swooped above the field and disappearing over a near-by hill.

But the plane was not pilotless. At the controls was a man with nerves of steel, Captain Bernard Martin, "Peck's Bad Boy of the Air," famous throughout the aviation world for his "crazy" flying. Defying all flying rules, he piloted his plane over the landing field, ploughing the ground with his wing-tip and skimming the earth dangerously.

Following this performance, which undoubtedly was the most thrilling of the afternoon, Captain Boisvert, winner of the on-to-Sherbrooke derby, when the Squadron of planes raced from St. Hubert to Compton via Sherbrooke early Saturday afternoon, gave an exhibition of fast flying.

Handling the fastest plane on the field, equipped with a steel propeller that whirled with a mighty roar, he flew across the tarmac at a speed of nearly a hundred and fifty miles per hour. Captain Martin then took up the fire-work ship that passed over Sherbrooke and district on Friday and Saturday nights and emitted brilliant displays of vari-colored lights. Posing as an enemy aviator about to bomb the airport, Martin was shot down out of control.

A long-awaited feature of the afternoon was the parachute jump. Much interest is always centred in this. Spectators are always keyed to a high pitch of excitement as the jumper leaves the plane and trusts to his "silk umbrella" to bring him safely to earth. In order to demonstrate the safety of the act a young man from Montreal, said to have never jumped before, performed the feat. He was taken into the sky by Pilot Lee McKay, and when he had reached a high altitude dropped off from the ship's wing into space. He had fallen only a short distance, however, when a stream of white shot out behind him and his descent was sharply arrested. With the chute spread out above him, the jumper descended slowly to earth, outlined against the afternoon sky like some huge spider. He landed without mishap. As dusk was settling, Captain Martin prepared his fire-work plane and took off to stage another beautiful display. People who had remained behind after the parachute jump were treated to an awe-inspiring spectacle. It was a fitting climax to a grand day. During the two days of the show, despite the large crowds which flocked to the air port, there were no disorders of any kind. Captain J. D. Parkinson, of the local force, with a squad of men, had been dispatched by Chief of Police H. O. Camirand, and maintained order. A large number of people also took advantage of the opportunity and went up for a ride in most cases it being their maiden flight.

LAW BREAKERS ADOPT BOLD TACTICS. Day by day, thieves and house-breakers are adopting bolder tactics. Two more attempted robberies in this city, believed to have been undertaken by the same individual, are now occupying the attention of the local police, who have as yet been unsuccessful in tracking down their man. Both of these offences were of a bold and daring character, and reflect upon the desperate methods being adopted by law-breakers.

Late last evening the home of Mr. Gedion Fortier, 79 Ball street, was entered, but the culprit was frightened away and escaped with nothing more valuable than a pair of shoes. It was about 11.30 o'clock that the robber made his appearance. Mr. Fortier was asleep in an arm chair near the door, and Mrs. Fortier was in her room. The door of the house was unlocked and slightly ajar.

A man suddenly pushed open the door and walked into the house. Mr. Fortier remained asleep. Mrs. Fortier, however, hearing a noise, entered the room and saw the strange man. The latter saw her at the same time, and grabbing up a pair of shoes which were lying on the floor, dashed out of the door and escaped. The police were notified and are endeavoring to locate the man, who was described by Mrs. Fortier as being in his early twenties, fair-haired, and dressed in a dark blue suit. He was bare-headed.

Last week an offence of a similar nature, only somewhat bolder in its character, was committed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Labonte on Montcalm street. During the night a man, answering the description given by Mrs. Fortier, placed a ladder against the side of the house leading to an open window. The man had climbed the ladder through the window when he was frightened away by Mr. Labonte. The culprit made good his escape before the police arrived.

HIGH-SCHOOL ADDED SECOND RUGBY VICTORY

As the teams changed ends for the second quarter, the visitors tried to deadlock the count. Duchesne featured with the fine line backings while Franklin tackled well.

Ross opened the third quarter with a kick to Quebec's eight-yard line. The Ancient Capital representatives failed to make yards and kicked.

Mac Dunsmore inaugurated the fifteen minutes by booting the pigskin for a rouge. Play returned to the local High's territory, but the visitors' efforts availed them naught as the local warriors turned back their attempt with a series of yard-gaining plays deposited in the hall on Quebec's one yard marker.

INTERMEDIATES WON AND LOST OVER WEEK-END

Defeated Bishop's at Parade Grounds on Saturday by 3 to 0, But Were Badly Crippled for Exhibition With Loyola, Which They Lost by 26 to 1.

Sherbrooke Athletics divided their two games over the week-end. After scoring a three to nothing victory over Bishop's University on the Parade Grounds on Saturday, the local intermediates represented by the team they defeated on Saturday.

The score yesterday afternoon was not an indication of the superiority which the students had over the Athletics. The local pigskin chaps were exhausted and badly crippled after their gruelling exhibition with Lennoxville collegians on Saturday.

could score, although both aggregations came close in the final minutes of the game. The exhibition produced hard rugby and resulted in members of both sides receiving injuries.

Harper's attempted drop kick which went to the dead line was the only point registered in the first quarter. Play was fairly even during the initial fifteen minutes. Off-sides were frequent on both sides, the referee penalizing both aggregations on numerous occasions.

Shortly after the beginning of the second frame Sherbrooke made one of the finest plays of the game. A forward pass from Ball to Harper was good for forty yards, and the Purple and White line was shoved back to its own thirty-yard marker.

During the last half both sides lost regulars through injuries. The Athletics were harder hit than their opponents when Ball and Harper were both obliged to quit the game.

The game was in the capable hands of Ken Bryce, Jack Chamberlain, physical instructor at the Y., acted as head linesman.

The line-ups were: Sherbrooke snap Baker, McKenna inside Poiry, Riff inside Erick, Mead middle Henderson, Purdy middle Franklin, Tomlinson middle Patterson, Martin outside Presho, Hall outside West, M. COLONEL JIM DOES HIS BIT ON HOOKER DAY

Dudswell Presents Trophy for Annual Competition Which Has No Counterpart in Canada—The Octogenarian Marksman Wins Place in the Annals of the Century to Come.

The dinner tendered to their old Brigadier of the Rifle Ranges, James B. Hooker, by the members of the Dudswell Rifle Association, was an unqualified success. It was a tribute to age and to skill, offered by his fellow-citizens to a veteran marksman who, even at the ripe old age of eighty-five years, will lay aside his farm duties, and be on the rifle ranges with the first passerby, and remain there until the last target has danced downward, all the while hoping that each contestant will hit the black spot and the scorer will show the white.

Not alone the men of Dudswell were there to the last rifle, but the ladies came to cheer "Jim" Hooker, and to hope that he would make the highest score of the day.

Not even a D. R. meet nor a provincial meet will ever average more spectators than there were at this closing meet on the old Mathison farm at Bishop's Crossing.

But it was at the chicken-pie dinner in the Town Hall that the distinguished Dudswell veteran was given an ovation and Henry G. Kidd, the romanticist and author was as happy as "Jim" for it was his summer's work to bring the tournament and the dinner to its happy fruition.

Every spare hour that Henry could spare from his pen, his family and his herds, was devoted to extolling the life and the sporting talents of the octogenarian.

After most everybody had "two goes" of chicken pie in the main hall, an adjournment was made to the chamber of the soldiers of the county where Captain Gray, in charge of the ministry of the Anglican Church, was called to the chair by the Mayor of Dudswell, A. B. W. Skinner.

The first speaker called upon was Alfred Wood, Editor of the Record, who was asked to dedicate "the Centennial Shield" which is to keep the name of James B. Hooker green in the memory of his fellow citizens for an hundred years to come.

Mr. Wood presented Mr. Hooker to his friends gathered there as the "veteran whom they had all come to greet and to accord a deference whilst he was yet able to enjoy the fragrance and beauty of a wreath festooned upon a jovial old comrade and friend.

When my friend and literary confrere, Henry G. Kidd, told me briefly the life story of James B. Hooker, whom we fondly call "Jim" or often "Colonel" Hooker, the thought came to both of us that he was a figure of romance and the man whom we could all love and respect.

Our inspirations, our admiration, Mr. Kidd to construct a proposal whereby we could all lay before your beloved townsman some tangible evidence of our loyal regard and of our veneration for the grand old sportsman he is.

Though the blush of youth may mount to his brow, as we pay tribute to his sterling qualities, I but express the view of every man here present that the record of a life such as his has been formed both a precept and an example which we can all follow with profit to ourselves.

"No man need go to crowded cities to attain eminence, for in the great open spaces, in the neighbourly love and respect which speaks each neighbour as "Jim", "Tom", "Jack", or "Harry" there you find the sincerity of companionship, the blessing of fond friendship. One week together in the open spaces with any man unfolds his whole character. You have but to live with a man to know his character.

"Colonel" Jim Hooker a commander-in-chief in his four score years, for we can commend him to his every neighbour and friend in Dudswell, and in the Eastern Townships, as the Commander of Respect.

Long may he live and enjoy life, and may his hand over to a man whom we all revere, the proud opportunity to dedicate this shield, which I now unveil to be whom we this day venerate and do obeisance to as a true sportsman who radiates the loyalty and the gift of true friendship, James B. Hooker.

"I do wish that I could more fittingly and faithfully express that which my heart feels, though my diction fails."

Mr. Wood referred to the old families of Bishop's Crossing, the Bishops, the Gilberts, and the Compton, who had entered Wolfe and Compton counties when they were as a wilderness or forest, and said that Mr. Hooker was a direct descendant of these hardy builders of our country.

ATHLETICS AND CARDS RESUME THEIR BATTLE

Adams Back Again on St. Louis Line-Up—"Lefty" Grove and Burleigh Grimes Will Likely Get Call for Mound Duty in Today's Game.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—Champions of the world, the Philadelphia Athletics arrayed themselves in their own stronghold at the Civic Park today to repel the attack of the St. Louis Cardinals in the third game of the World Series.

Without advantage after the first pair of skirmishes in St. Louis—victorious in the opening game, subdued in the second—the Athletics tore into the first three games of the eastern front determined to sweep the engagements here and prevent adjournment of the series to St. Louis again for final decision in the sixth, and, if necessary, seventh game.

Saved from the prospect the experts painted for them—theat in four straight games by the brilliant pitching of "Wild" Bill Hallahan, the opportune clouting and reckless base running of young "Pepper" Martin—the Cardinals welcomed increased strength with the return to third base of "Sparky" Adams, whose injured leg kept him out of the opening series.

Henry Kidd preceded the formal dedication of the big bronze shield by Rev. Captain Gray, and he gave a splendid address on the century's advance in firearms, illustrating his remarks with a collection of guns and rifles used in Canada since the colonization of the country.

Mr. Kidd, who is known widely throughout Canada by reason of his writings, an author who has been honored by the Society of Authors for his ability as a writer and raconteur, concluded his remarks with: "I hope that the Red man's conception of the future land is right, at least to the extent, that there will be a little corner of Heaven with trees, flowers and hills. If there is, my father is there. In that land of eternal sunshine I have many friends. Some whose lives have not always been beyond reproach, but they had hearts of gold.

When my friend and literary confrere, Henry G. Kidd, told me briefly the life story of James B. Hooker, whom we fondly call "Jim" or often "Colonel" Hooker, the thought came to both of us that he was a figure of romance and the man whom we could all love and respect.

"I do wish that I could more fittingly and faithfully express that which my heart feels, though my diction fails."

Mr. Wood referred to the old families of Bishop's Crossing, the Bishops, the Gilberts, and the Compton, who had entered Wolfe and Compton counties when they were as a wilderness or forest, and said that Mr. Hooker was a direct descendant of these hardy builders of our country.

On rising to respond briefly Mr. Hooker modestly stated that whilst he was enjoying the evening and also the encomiums which had been showered upon him by a multitude of friends, he felt that the speaker and those present "were making too much of a young fellow who had only tried to be a good father, a good citizen who took an interest in rifle shooting ever since the Dudswell Association was formed."

Captain Davis then presented George Dick, of Sherbrooke, who together with Mr. Menck, Mr. Morkill, T. C. Thompson, Roy Rolfe and Gordon Clarke, provided a programme of music and comedy, with singing, recitations and good stories.

Though Bishop's Crossing was not in his constituency, Sam Gobeil, M. P. for Compton, together with his wife and daughter, had been interested spectators at the rifle tournament, and they had been persuaded to remain over for the dinner. Mr. Gobeil gave a brief address, and evidently fitted to the occasion, and he felt quite at home in Dudswell, his friends and acquaintances seemed to be here, there and everywhere. He so much enjoyed the fine spirit of good fellowship which such

NATIONAL LEAGUE SEASON, AND JAKE FLOWERS, ORDINARILY A SECOND BASEMAN, TOOK HIS POST IN THE SECOND CONTEST. NEITHER IS A HITTER OR FIELDER OF ADAMS' ABILITY.

Every indication today was that a capacity crowd of 32,500, among their number the champion good-luck mascot of the Athletics, President Hoover, was destined to see a pitchers' battle that was a hold-over from the 1930 world series in which the A's won their second straight world championship. In five games, two of them World Series contests in 1929 and 1930, the chief executive has never seen the Athletics beaten.

Robert Moses Grove, the lanky lefty who warded off twelve Cardinal base hits in the opening game to beat the giant rookie, Paul Derringer, by six to two, was the public choice in the face of Connie Mack's proverbial reticence, to face Burleigh Grimes, veteran spitballer, in a game that might well mark the turning point of the series.

Grove bested Grimes last fall, although the Cardinal veteran allowed only five hits, and, despite a tender finger on his pitching hand, he was eager to battle the pugnaspitballer again for the game that would give the victor both a psychological and numerical edge in the series.

Under the brilliant leadership of their captain, "Curly" Grant, the Lennoxville aggregation maintained an offensive which would have tested the strength of many teams in the intermediate series. The purple-clad lads worked together with the precision of a well-balanced machine and their steady battering brought its reward time after time when the speedy Bishop's backfielders broke away to make lengthy gains.

The Stansstead team found themselves in difficulties from the opening whistle when the Lennoxville boys recovered their own kick-off just a few yards from the Stansstead line. Grant tore through to put the red and white squad at a five-point handicap. The first quarter ended with the visitors down thirteen points. No greater tribute can be paid to the visitors' fighting spirit than the fact that they held the Bishop's team at bay throughout the whole of the second quarter.

Farley and Kneeland were probably best for the visitors, while Cadham and Johnston also performed well. Cadham was forced out of the game through injuries just before half time and his teammates missed the little fellow a great deal.

Grant kicked off for B.C.S. and a knot of purple players swarmed in on Cadham who fumbled to lose the ball for Stansstead. Dale and Grant moved the sticks and Grant pierced the red line to tally the first touch, which went unconverted. Grant ran to centre when he caught Kneeland's kick-off and Wilson and Cadham were unable to get the ball for Stansstead. STANSTEAD WAS OVERWHELMED BY B. C. SCHOOL

Captain Curly Grant Scored Five Touchdowns to Obtain More Than Half of Points Scored by Lennoxville Aggregation—Final Score Was 42 to 0.

A smooth-working squad of footballers from Bishop's College School started their season in sensational fashion on Saturday afternoon when they met and defeated the representative of Stansstead Wesleyan College by the overwhelming score of 42 to 0. Playing on the campus at Bishop's University, the purple-shirted lads took the lead in the opening moments of the game and were never seriously threatened by the red and white warriors, who, however, fought gamely throughout in spite of the steadily rising margin against them.

Under the brilliant leadership of their captain, "Curly" Grant, the Lennoxville aggregation maintained an offensive which would have tested the strength of many teams in the intermediate series. The purple-clad lads worked together with the precision of a well-balanced machine and their steady battering brought its reward time after time when the speedy Bishop's backfielders broke away to make lengthy gains.

The Stansstead team found themselves in difficulties from the opening whistle when the Lennoxville boys recovered their own kick-off just a few yards from the Stansstead line. Grant tore through to put the red and white squad at a five-point handicap. The first quarter ended with the visitors down thirteen points. No greater tribute can be paid to the visitors' fighting spirit than the fact that they held the Bishop's team at bay throughout the whole of the second quarter.

Farley and Kneeland were probably best for the visitors, while Cadham and Johnston also performed well. Cadham was forced out of the game through injuries just before half time and his teammates missed the little fellow a great deal.

ST. ROCH SPLIT DOUBLE-HEADER OVER WEEK-END

Newport Won Home Game on Saturday by 5 to 1, But Local Team Evened Series With 8 to 2 Victory Behind Thormahlen's Hurling.

Sherbrooke St. Roch and Newport, Vt. divided their exhibition double-header over the week-end, each aggregation capturing their home game. On Saturday the American aggregation took the measure of Sherbrooke by a score of five to one count, while at the local ball park yesterday afternoon, Henry Thormahlen allowed but six hits and two runs to earn an eight to two decision over the Frontiers. Both fixtures provided interesting baseball, a crowd of five hundred fans witnessing the game in Sherbrooke.

Thormahlen fanned thirteen men yesterday afternoon, while the visiting moundsman, "Bozo" Fisk, accounted for eight St. Roch batters by the strike out route. Newport assumed a temporary lead in the initial frame when two hits and an error combined to send a run across the plate, and added a counter in the fourth on two hits which went for extra bases. In the same inning, St. Roch obtained four runs. Blanchard bunted and was safe at first to inaugurate the rally. Clark also bunted and Blanchard, by fast running, scored. Clark was safe at first on error, and was sent to third on Gagne's hit to centre field. Thormahlen was intentionally passed to fill the bases. Gingsue drew a pass and the score was tied when Clark was forced across. Briere also walked after Gagne had been caught attempting to steal home. Camire forced Briere at second, Thormahlen scoring on the play. Asselin batted for Roy and dropped a single in centre field to bring Gingsue in. Savage ended the inning when he was retired at first.

Although the game was in the bag, St. Roch added three runs in the fifth frame. Blanchard walked and both he and Clark were safe on an error. Gagne advanced the runners on a hit to centre and the bases were loaded. Thormahlen's two batters over this sent Blanchard and Clark across, while Gingsue's single scored Gagne. Briere forced Gingsue, Thormahlen was out trying to steal home and Camire was put out at first.

After two men had been retired in the fifth, Blanchard was safe on an error and Clark advanced him to 3rd on a single to centre field. Blanchard later counted to end the St. Roch scoring.

Fisk was accorded better support than Thormahlen, four errors being chalked up against St. Roch, while the visitors committed three misc. plays. However, the barrage of hits by the home team in the fourth and fifth innings gave Sherbrooke their margin.

The score by innings: R. H. E. Newport ... 100 100 000—5 7 1 Sherbrooke ... 000 431 00X—8 12 4 Batteries—Fisk and Baker; Thormahlen and Gagne.

MORIN DEFEATED ON SATURDAY IN NEWPORT. Aime Morin was charged with the defeat by Newport hurler, Young, while Morin was touched for seven safeties. Four errors played a big role in Sherbrooke's defeat, the final score reading Newport, St. Roch 1.

The score by innings: R. H. E. St. Roch ... 100 000 100—1 5 4 Newport ... 121 100 00X—5 7 1 Batteries—Morin and Poulin; Young and Baker.

The purple team renewed the offensive with vigour and long gains by Wilson, Dale and Glass gave Grant his opportunity to cross the line for his third touchdown. It was converted when Glass threw an onside pass to Dale.

Wilson and Clarke made gains after the kick-off and Grant broke away for a sensational 65-yard run to register another major tally which went unconverted. Stansstead held grimly until the quarter ended with the score 2 to 0 for the home team.

Grant tried for field goal when his team was held for two downs and, when the Stansstead back was slow picking up the ball the B. C. S. captain raced through to fall on his own kick for his fifth touch of the game. It was converted. The Stansstead team were game but weary and Clarke got away on an end run soon after to enter the red and white citadel for the seventh touchdown of the game which Grant converted. Clarke and Glass combined for a long gain and Kneeland just managed to return Grant's attempted field goal. Glass booted a rouge and the game ended.

WOMEN'S CROWN AGAIN WON BY MISS ORCUTT

Champion Displayed Wonderful Golf to Defeat Margery Kirkham in Final Match for Title by Six Up and Four to Play.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 5.—Displaying a brilliant brand of golf, Maureen Orcutt, of Englewood, N. J., captured the Canadian women's open golf championship title for the second consecutive time on Saturday when she defeated Margery Kirkham, of Montreal, by six up and four to play before a crowd of 1,500 spectators in the thirty-six hole final at the Rosedale course.

The Montreal girl who proved the sensation of the championship by advancing to the final over a field of the stars of three countries, kept pace with Miss Orcutt for the first eighteen holes, at times leading the champion by three holes. At the end of the morning round the rivals were all square. Then under the strain of an amazing series of pars and birdies by Miss Orcutt, the Canadian hope began to slip and by the time the turn was reached at the twenty-seventh the champion was two holes up. Always down, always steady and at times superb, Miss Orcutt increased her lead over the faltering Forest Hills player and at the thirty-first became dormie five.

At the thirty-second three brilliant strokes carried Miss Orcutt's ball through a long valley and safely on to the elevated green. Miss Kirkham's ball overran the green a few feet. Trying hard to pull herself together and make a fight of it, Miss Kirkham measured her chip shot carefully, but her nerves failed to respond and she struck the ball a jerky stroke that sent it some ten feet short of the pin. Without a moment's hesitation she walked to Miss Orcutt. "You're won, Maureen, congratulations," she said as she proffered her hand to end the battle while the gallery applauded wholeheartedly.

For the first eighteen holes, Miss Orcutt's approximate medal score was 77, par for the course, while on the fourteen holes of the second round she was three under par. Thirty-two holes of golf in three strokes under par is match play golf well nigh unbeatable. Miss Kirkham failed as probably every star in the women's golfing firmament would have in the face of so brilliant a game.

Thus ended a battle which started last Monday with a field of almost one hundred stars from Canada, United States and Great Britain. Miss Orcutt proved conclusively her right to the title, leading the field on the first day to take the qualifying medal and scoring handy victories in the preliminary match rounds. In the semi-final she defeated Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, one up after a tight struggle, while Miss Kirkham was advancing over Mrs. Alexa Stirling Fraser, of Ottawa, two up in the lower bracket.

The final was a battle between a veteran of international golf, effortless in her style, daring in her play, uncanonically accurate, and a twenty-three year old woman, flushed with the excitement of carving a niche among the world's best, trying hard to keep up with the burning pace of her opponent, failing largely through inexperience.
