'Company Attitude Cavalier'

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker says 14,000 workers on the CF-105 Arrow jet interceptor were dismissed Friday by an employer who knew the project was finished last September and who was trying deliberately to embarrass the government.

A. V. Roe (Canada) Limited "had no misunderstanding whatsoever," Mr. Diefenbaker told the Commons Monday night. "Its attitude in letting out thousands of workers . . . was so cavalier, so unreasonable that the only conclusion any fair-minded person can come to is that it was done for the purpose of embarrassing the government."

No hope was held out to the company last fall that the government would buy the plane although development was allowed to continue largely because of the serious situation in the Far East.

But the company "continued to lead its workers to believe that there was going to be a change."

DEBATE ALL DAY
Mr. Diefenbaker delivered his blunt indictment of A. V. Roe near the end of a day-long debate on the final cancellation order announced Friday. The Commons set aside normal business to launch an emergency debate in which the opposition attacked the Arrow decision.

Paul Hellyer, former associate defence minister who moved the formal motion that brought on the debate, described the decision as "cruel, heartless and incredibly short-sighted."

The Liberal MP for Toronto Trinity said the government acted without giving adequate consideration to what should be done to replace the Arrow program. He predicted a further 10,000 to 20,000 families dependent on subsidiary industries will be affected.

Opposition Leader Pearson said that if the cancellation was postponed last fall because of danger in the Far East an equally valid reason existed today for not in-

US Recruiting Avro Technicians

TORONTO (CP)—A United States firm began recruiting some of Canada's top aircraft industry technicians today even as the clamor grew for a program to keep A. V. Roe (Canada) Limited plants in nearby Malton alive.

Continental Aviation and Engineering Corporation of Toronto began interviewing turbine engineers among the 13,800 workers laid off Friday following cancellation of the Arrow jet program at the Roe-owned Avro Aircraft Company and Orenda Engines Limited plants.

Close Oscar Race For Movie Girls

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The spotlight was on the ladies today in Hollywood's annual carnival of Oscars.

For the first time in years, there was no clear-cut favorite among the woman nominees. Not a tinted hair separates these five:

Elizabeth Taylor (Cat on a Hot Tin Roof); Susan Hayward (I Want to Live!); Deborah Kerr (Separate Tables); Shirley MacLaine (Some Came Running); and Rosalind Russell (Auntie Mame).

With the men, the story is different. David Niven and Spencer Tracy were established as odds-on favorites with Niven given a slight edge in the early betting. Niven was nominated for his role as the pathetic woman molester in Separate Tables and Tracy, up for his third Oscar, was nominated for his one-man show in The Old Man and the Sea.

CANCEL ONE ANOTHER

Tony Curtis and Sidney Poitier, who went through The Defiant Ones handcuffed to each other, are expected to cancel each other out of the running by virtue of their well-matched performances.

LEFT HIGH AND DRY—The Wabash River rose to flood height, froze and then receded, leaving this large chunk of ice hanging on a slender sapling in Wabash, Ind. In two days, the river dropped five feet from a 25-foot crest, highest since 1913. In background is the Wabash Water Corporation pumping station where employees and volunteers worked 48 hours with sandbags and portable pumps to keep the flood from contaminating the city's water supply. Their efforts were successful.

Khrush Chills Unity Talks

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today the four major powers—the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and France—cannot discuss German reunification because "this is a question for the two German states themselves."

He told a political rally in the Kremlin the four powers might discuss how to avoid militarism in the two German states, but that reunification should be settled only by the Germans themselves.

Speaking after a series of talks with visiting Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain, Khrushchev again warned that any violation of the borders of East Germany would be considered an act of aggression against the Warsaw Pact powers. Khrushchev spoke as Macmillan took time off for a sight-seeing tour.

Three Shots Hit Montmagny Man

QUEBEC (CP)—A man was shot three times at close range Monday night in a restaurant at Montmagny, 35 miles east of here.

The victim, Willie Proulx, 36, of Montmagny, was reported in serious condition in hospital.

Provincial police said they are holding a Quebec City man in connection with the shooting. They declined to identify him.

Khrushchev appeared to oppose the Western suggestion of a four-power meeting on Germany and instead reaffirmed the Soviet proposal for a conference of heads of government of those nations which participated in the war against Hitler.

CALLS OFF HUNTING

Macmillan called off a hunting trip scheduled for Wednesday and instead planned a day of informal talks with the Soviet premier at the British Embassy's villa outside Moscow.

The sightseeing today was with a purpose, a motor trip 90 miles northeast of Moscow to look over the world's largest atom smasher—the 10,000,000-volt synchrotron at the atomic research institute in Dubna.

Among the chief researchers at the institute is Italian-born scientist Bruno Pontecorvo who slipped out of England in October, 1950, to work in the Soviet Union. He and Macmillan were not expected to meet.

The party was scheduled to return to Moscow late this afternoon for a British Embassy reception.

WARM RECEPTION

Moscow newspapers Monday and today gave Macmillan the warmest reception since his arrival Saturday. The Communist party organ Pravda and government paper Izvestia carried front page photographs of Monday's formal meeting between the two leaders and devoted nearly two of their six pages to recounting Macmillan's activities and speeches.

The papers and Moscow radio also gave full play to Monday night's dinner at the British Embassy, where Khrushchev hailed Macmillan as a man of peace. Macmillan opened his speech with a tribute to Red Army Day and the Soviet role in the Second World War.

Thirsty, Hardy Scot Wanted

LONDON (Reuters)—Wanted: A Scotsman with a good palate and a deep thirst. Duties: To find 50 varieties of Scotch whisky.

The stuff is wanted by a regiment called the London Scottish, a national guard unit.

They are throwing a party to mark the regiment's 100th anniversary and—because the unit was founded in 1859—they want 50 kinds of everything at the shindig.

So far they've been able to find 50 kinds of cocktails and 50 kinds of appetizers. Still lacking are the requisite varieties of Scotch.

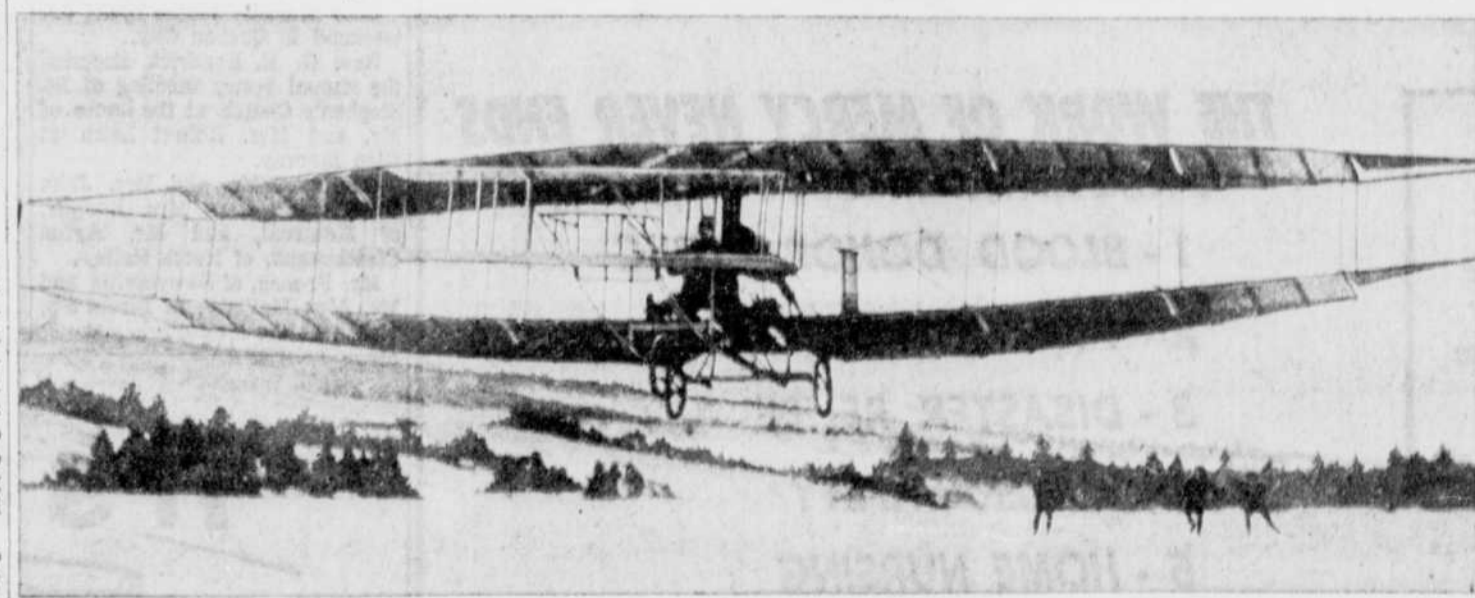

glorious memory of those heroic days," he said. "When I ponder the present state of the world, I ask myself whether we have not today a common interest of at least equal degree. This common interest is peace."

Khrushchev in reply expressed regret that "it has not been possible to uphold the wartime alliance between Britain and Russia in the post-war world."

But he said the Russians "think that the conversations between us will bring results; we think you will agree even if all obstacles cannot be solved at once."

Massey's Advice:

'Don't Play Down Canadian Achievements'

FIRST FLIGHT—The Silver Dart leaves the ice at Baddeck, N.S., Feb. 23, 1909, with J. A. D. McCurdy at the controls. The first flight in the British Commonwealth is being commemorated with ceremonies this month.

MONTREAL (CP)—With widely separated celebrations, Canadians Monday honored one of the country's aviation pioneers—J. A. D. McCurdy, the first British subject to make a controlled, powered flight in the Commonwealth.

In Baddeck, N.S., the 72-year-old pilot watched a replica of the aircraft he used for the history-making flight 50 years ago take to the air again.

Later he was whisked back to Montreal in an RCAF Comet jet to attend the golden anniversary of flight dinner. Roughly 1,000 persons attended the $7.50-a-plate function at which Governor-General Massey lauded the role of aviation and its pioneers in Canadian development. Mr. Massey urged Canadians not to play down their achievements.

"As everyone here knows so well—and everyone in Canada should know—on Feb. 23, 1909, Mr. McCurdy flew his aircraft from the ice of Baddeck Bay, Nova Scotia.

RECALLS EARLIER FLIGHT
"A year before another Canadian, F. W. Baldwin, flew the Red Wing on a lake near Hammondsport in the United States and so our country, thanks to these courageous men—followed closely by many others—proudly entered a new era in transportation.

"We are celebrating this evening a Canadian event. I am one of those people who feel that we are inclined in this country of ours to play down our own achievements.

"We do not want to be boastful or smug, but things have happened and are happening of which we can honestly be proud and, if so, why should we not honor these events and pay tribute to the men who made them possible?"

About 5,000 persons turned out on the windswept-ice of Baddeck Bay to see the historic event relived.

"It warmed my heart, and the hearts of many people, to see this event relived," Mr. McCurdy told the Montreal dinner.

"I hope I will be here 50 years from now to celebrate another anniversary," equipped the 72-year-old aviation pioneer.

CONGRATULATIONS POUND IN
Messages from around the world were read during the golden anniversary dinner. These included cables from Prince Philip and George Drew, Canadian high commissioner to the United Kingdom.

Two of Alexander Graham Bell's granddaughters attended both the Montreal and Baddeck functions. They are Mrs. J. M. Jones of Washington, representing her mother, Mrs. Gilbert Grosvenor, and Mrs. Leonard Muller of Coconut Grove, Fla., a daughter of Mrs. David Fairchild.

Mrs. Fairchild, who lived with her family at Baddeck in 1909, saw Mr. McCurdy lift the fragile bamboo and piano wire craft from the ice 50 years ago.

"She wouldn't have missed this celebration for anything," said Mrs. Muller. "All of us consider it was a great privilege to be able to attend."

Also present at the dinner was Mrs. Baldwin, widow of one of Mr. McCurdy's closest associates in the Nova Scotia flight experimental work.

TERMED GODESEND
Mr. Massey said that the aircraft came to Canada "as a Godsend."

"It probably has meant more to us than it has to any other country. I think it's true to say that nowhere else did pioneer flying play such a part in national development."

His speech included tributes to early Canadian flyers such as the late W. A. (Billy) Bishop, to the spirit which provided the impetus for the RCAF and to pioneer bush pilots such as Wop May and Vic Horner.

Trapped As Roof Falls In

MONTREAL (CP)—Ice-coated firemen combing smouldering debris in the white glare of searchlights early today recovered the bodies of two of their fellow-workers who died battling one of three separate fires in Montreal Monday night.

Edward Normoyle, acting assistant director of the department, and fireman Jacques Daudelin were killed when the roof of a burning three-storey mid-town building collapsed upon them.

Two other firemen—both unidentified—leaped aside and clung to a wooden sign until they were hauled to safety with aerial ladders.

Flames ate through the building for more than seven hours and left but a burnt-out shell of what was a thriving business block. A combination restaurant and bar occupied the two upper floors and on the ground floor there were four commercial establishments.

36 ESCAPE

A party of 11 eating in the American Spaghetti House at the time and the restaurant's staff of the 25 made their way to safety down a flight of stairs at the front of the building without difficulty when flames were discovered at 7:50 p.m.

An adjoining four-storey cement building was damaged and several occupants of a rooming house on the three top floors were evacuated.

During the blaze two other fire calls came in—one from an apartment block fire in the west-central section of the city and the other a minor blaze in a rag factory two blocks from the big fire.

No casualties were reported in either of the smaller fires but extra fire-fighting equipment had to be called in from the outlying districts to handle them because the city's central equipment was taxed to the limit.

Expansion Costs Money

Quebec Prepares New Assault On Ottawa

By RICHARD DAIGNAULT
QUEBEC (CP)—The Quebec government appears to be preparing for another offensive against the federal treasury.

One paragraph in Finance Minister J. S. Bourque's provincial budget speech Friday provided a rather strong hint that:

1. The government's 14-year stand of no-taxation-deal with Ottawa is unchanged.

2. The government is planning to claim a larger share of direct taxation collected by the federal government.

The paragraph that has stirred much speculation reads:

"No new provincial tax will be levied during the ensuing fiscal year. It is, however, the desire of the provincial government to claim and to recover the provincial rights appropriated by the federal authorities during the past years."

DEBATE WEDNESDAY

Probably Premier Duplessis will develop the theme during the budget debate which opens Wednesday with the reply of Georges Lapalme, Liberal opposition leader.

The government has record expenditure budget on ordinary account of $451,643,500 against revenues estimated at approximately $541,895,000. This leaves a fat surplus on ordinary account of $90,251,500. But since the government pays out of ordinary revenue the bulk of its capital works program—set at $97,295,000 for the coming year—the over-all operation will close with a deficit of $7,043,500, compared with an over-all surplus of more than $379,000 for the 1948-49 year ending March 31.

Mr. Duplessis has often said that expenditures are increasing in rapidly-expanding Quebec and at the same time referred to the large share of the over-all tax dollar collected by the federal government.

If there is to be no new provincial tax to meet increased expenditure then obviously Quebec is looking for a larger share of direct taxation.

Quebec has no tax agreement with the federal government. It is the only province which collects its own tax on personal income.

Joey Starts Forming New Union

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Premier Smallwood was to leave here today for Grand Falls with the unanimous blessing of the Newfoundland legislature in his bid to form a loggers' union independent of the International Woodworkers of America (I.W.A.). Mr. Smallwood announced his union-organizing plans at the opening of the legislature Monday. Later he asked the people of Newfoundland in a radio-television address to support him in "saving Newfoundland from this terrible scourge."

H. Landon Ladd, president of IWA District 2, will reply over a provincial network of radio and television stations tonight. He said Monday night that the premier's remarks does not "in any way affect the determination of the IWA to get a fair deal for the loggers."

The IWA struck the Anglo-Newfoundland Company Dec. 31 for higher wages and a shorter work week. About 1,200 woodsmen were employed by A.N.D. at the time. Another 450 loggers working for independent contractors hired by Bowater's Pulp and Paper Mills Limited in western Newfoundland have also stopped work.

IMPORTANT TO ECONOMY

About 30,000 persons are employed in the Newfoundland pulp and paper industry. The forest products industry is worth $30,000,000 annually to the Newfoundland economy.

Premier Smallwood was applauded by the 32 Liberals and four Progressive Conservative members of the legislature as he moved a resolution urging men employed part- or full-time in the woods to withdraw their support from the IWA and form their own union. It passed unanimously.

He said that of the 20,000 loggers, 17,000 are fishermen. "The wicked plot of the IWA is to confine logging to 3,000 or 4,000 men equipped with chain saws and the latest equipment. These men would do 17,000 fishermen out of their part-time jobs."

Today's Chuckle

The two women were discussing a third. Said one, "Well, you have to admit she's awfully kind to her inferiors." After a pause, the other retorted, "But where does she find them?"

COATICOOK — The 103rd anniversary of Sisco Memorial United Church was observed on Sunday morning, Feb. 15. Rev. Geoffrey Joyce gave a most interesting talk on the theme, "Where do we go from here?" On Monday evening the ladies of the W.A. served a turkey supper to a capacity crowd. Mr. Joyce, who asked Grace, was seated at the head table with Rev. A. MacLeod, of Waterville United Church, Mrs. MacLeod and children, and several members of the official board of the church.

HEALTH UNIT REPORT
A report by the Stanstead County Health Unit reveals that of 932 children examined by the Unit in local clinics 892 had decayed teeth. These figures reveal that 97 percent of the children of school age have teeth problems.

The High School, through the co-operation of the Home and School Association and the local dentists, is doing something about the situation as far as the Protestant children are concerned. There has been no report of similar activity among the other schools of the community.

Estimate Cost Of Union Demands On Civic Treasury At $504,000

Initial contract demands by the unions representing the 481 employees of four municipal departments would cost the city an estimated $504,676 or the equivalent to more than five mills increase in the tax rate.

The unions submitted their demands preparatory to opening negotiations with the city for new two labor agreements. The old contracts ended Dec. 31, 1958.

A fifth group of employees, the white collar workers at City Hall, resigned from the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers which represented them at last contract negotiations. They joined the United Mine Workers (CIO) but the union has been refused certification by the Quebec Labor Relations Board on a question of legal technicalities.

It is expected that this union will make a second request for certification.

The unions representing the other departments and the costs their demands would entail for the city are police, the Association of Sherbrooke Police Inc., $143,262; firemen, International Association of Firemen of America (AFL - local 987) $73,150; electricity and gas department workers, International Brotherhood of Electricians (AFL - local 1885) $86,047.49, and the public works employees, Municipal Employees of the City of Sherbrooke Inc. (CCCL), $202,216.51. Estimated total cost is $504,676.

Salary costs in 1958 alone were $2,000,000, Mr. Bachand pointed out, and the new demands were about 25 percent of this total.

Union demands and city cost estimates are broken by department as follows:

POLICE

The union is asking the following benefits: A general increase of $12 a week; increased city contributions from 40 to 50 percent in the group insurance for accident-sickness and again for life insurance; separate increases for sergeants; a reduction in the work hours from 48 to 40 hour weeks and a fixed period in which to take holidays.

A general increase would cost the city an estimated $45,552 while a reduction in the work hours would mean hiring 16 new men at a cost of $54,000.

Should the city permit the employees to take their holidays during a certain fixed period in the summer, the cost is estimated at $23,600.

Additional contribution by the city to the group accident-sickness insurance and the life insurance would be $1,200 and $150 respectively.

Other expenses arising from the demands are the cost of insuring the new men that would be hired because of the shorter hours, $1,770; cost of increases to sergeants, $1,800; additional city contributions to the pension fund, $7,000 and cost of uniforms for new personnel, $8,050 a total for the police alone of $143,262.

Constables at present earn $1.41 an hour (this includes benefits) and would rise to $2.00. There are 73 employees.

Seven direct demands are made by the firemen's union. A general weekly increase ranging from $8 for a fireman to $27.60 for captains, the cost estimated at $39,000 to the city; an hourly increase from $1.50 to $2.00 in overtime wages, giving estimated costs of $500; a special wage for answering out-of-town calls, estimated at $500; raising the number of days for sick leave from 7 to 12 days, cost estimated at $6,500; increasing the additional of sick leave from 30 to 60 days giving an increase of $20,000.

The union also is asking for the city's increased participation in the life insurance group plan from 40 to 50 percent at an estimated cost of $1,650; an increase weekly sickness indemnity bringing the salary for 13 weeks from $20 weekly to $40 weekly, with the estimated extra costs to the city placed at $1,300.

Another union demand, permitting the firemen to take their three weeks holiday split two weeks at one time and the remaining week later, has not been calculated on a cost-to-the-city basis.

The total demands would cost the city an estimated $73,150.

Fix Date For Loan Meeting

A public meeting of property owners to decide whether the city will adopt a bylaw guaranteeing a $3,000,000 loan or advancing a loan on a first mortgage to the Walter M. Lowney Company will be held March 5 between 7 and 8 p.m., the city council decided last evening.

The bylaw was adopted in three readings last evening after being introduced by Ald. Paul Gervais, chairman of the Industrial Promotion committee.

Lowney intends to build a $5,000,000 plant here employing over 1,000 hands. Construction is expected to start in fall if the bylaw is approved by the property owners.

REPAIR SHOPS

Council struck off a clause in a bylaw restricting automobile repair shops to certain streets. The amendment will permit the construction of shops on streets classed as commercial B.

The restriction holds for service stations however. This measure is only temporary and expected to be changed once the master plan has been completed.

STREET NAMES

On a recommendation from the Toponymy Committee of the St. Jean Baptiste Society, the names of two streets, Marguerite Bourgeois and Garnier will be changed to Godbout and Daniel.

The committee made the suggestions because they want the name of Marguerite Bourgeois to be used on a street which will run in front of a new church by the same name which will be constructed eventually.

RICHMOND PULP

A city's proposal that Sherbrooke be permitted to repurchase the Bromptonville dam in 10 years at a 5 percent yearly depreciation on improvements to the property was found acceptable to the Richmond Pulp and Paper Company.

The city is selling the dam for $125,000 to the Richmond Pulp. The company intends to make improvements on the dam at a cost of $1,500,000. If the city decided to develop its electrical resources in 10 years, it could repurchase the dam at the selling price plus 5 percent yearly depreciation (50 percent of the improvements made).

The repurchase price would be over $900,000.

Trio Held In Break-in Plead Not Guilty

Three men charged with an attempted safe-cracking at the Leclerc Dairy, 76, 12th Ave., S., Sunday morning pleaded not guilty yesterday when they appeared before Judge Edouard Boisvert, but were released on bail until March 10, the date set for their preliminary hearing.

Yvan Jean Paradis, 39, Roland Peter Clare, 33, and Andre Tremblay, 26, all from Montreal, were also charged with having burglar tools in their possession.

The incident occurred about 2:30 a.m. Sunday morning when two patrolling constables noticed that the door to the dairy had been forced open and then locked by the inside.

When the police entered the building they found that the safe had been damaged by dynamite and a full set of safe cracking instruments was found nearby.

Capt. Genest of the Sherbrooke municipal police, said the burglars must have fled into the basement when they heard the constables entering the building where they were found a few minutes later hiding behind some old tires and a furnace.

Judge Boisvert set bail at $4,000 on property or $2,000 cash for Paradis and Clare, who had been released for the penitentiary since last November while bail was set at $2,000 on property or $1,000 each for Tremblay, who had no previous record.

Windsor Chief Ousted

WINDSOR MILLS—The off-again, on-again, gone-again dismissal of Police Chief Edgar Belisle apparently has been sent off in a definite direction, when the Town Council last night decided to dismiss the chief.

The decision was reached after a letter from the town attorney indicated that the cost of holding an investigation into certain alleged irregularities would be excessive.

After the reading of the letter, Ald. St. Louis, supported by Ald. Henry Wheeler proposed that the first of the two methods of inquiry suggested by the attorney be adopted but the motion failed to pass.

The same aldermen then proposed that the chief be reinstated in his functions, but their motion was amended on a resolution by Ald. Bruno Dion that Mr. Belisle be relieved of his duties.

The amendment was approved with only Mayor Bolduc dissenting.

The police chief was suspended several weeks ago by the Council but later reinstated, only to be suspended for the second time. Last night's action by the Council makes the last suspension final.

Inflation Holds Greatest Danger In Canada Today

One of the most pressing problems facing the Government today is that of inflation, Maurice Allard, M.P. for Sherbrooke, declared during an interview here.

Inflation results when production diminishes and too much money is in the hands of purchasers. The inflationary situation is further complicated when accompanied by seasonal unemployment.

The remedies for these two evils, Mr. Allard continued, seem opposite and contradictory. To ease ordinary unemployment more money must be placed in the economy to activate production. On the other hand, inflation is controlled by reducing the flow of money and restraining credit. When, like the present, unemployment and inflation appear jointly in the Canadian economy, equilibrium must be established between these opposing forces. This the Diefenbaker Government is seeking to accomplish at the present moment, he added.

All Canadians must collaborate, the Sherbrooke M.P. said, in fighting these two problems.

District Rally Honors Founders Of Guide System

The annual Sherbrooke District Rally of Guides and Brownies took place Saturday in Trinity United Church, attended by girls from the 1st, 2nd and 3rd Sherbrooke Companies, the 1st Lennoxville and the Sea Rangers from S.R.S. Cayuga. The rally is held to celebrate the birthdays of Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, founders of the movement.

The 1st Lennoxville group opened the program with a very suitable ceremony led by their Captain, Mrs. E. L. Warner. The Lennoxville Brownies then wished the founders a Happy Birthday, each Brownie representing a different country and placing a candle on a large cake made especially for the occasion.

The 3rd Sherbrooke (St. Patrick's), under their leader, Mrs. Harris, presented a song and dance entitled "Heidi", and this was followed by two short campfires presented by members of the 1st Sherbrooke Company who sang their Company song.

Refreshments and the singing of the Evensong by the Brownies and Taps by the Guides and Rangers brought the event to a close.

On Sunday, church parades were held by all the Companies and Packs. The 1st Sherbrooke paraded in Trinity United, the 2nd in St. Paul's and Sangster Memorial, the 3rd in St. Patrick's and the 1st Lennoxville and S.R.S. Cayuga in St. George's.

No Time For Panic

A note of hysteria has crept into discussions of the future of the Canadian aircraft industry following announcement that the Avro Arrow program has been scrapped.

The firing of some 14,000 employees of Avro Aircraft and Orenda Engines is certainly cause for alarm. But company officials can hardly claim that they had not been warned. The whole Arrow operation had been in a state of suspended animation since last fall when the government first made public its doubts about the feasibility and practicability of Canada producing the multi-million dollar jet interceptor.

Certainly, Canadians are concerned at what has happened. The fate of the 14,000 skilled workers and technicians is important to Canada. They face grim times if alternative employment is not found and may eventually leave Canada for the United States or Great Britain. The Canadian government must make up its mind how much it is prepared to do to keep them here.

The Arrow program, which was started under the Liberal regime and continued — up until last Friday — by the Conservatives, has cost the taxpayer $400 million so far. It may cost another $100 million, estimates vary, before final settlements are made. If it had been continued, Canada would have had 100 or so of the finest jet interceptors (however obsolete in terms of missiles) at a cost of some one billion dollars.

Civilians and others not in the confidence of the inner sanctum of Western defence councils are not competent to criticize the scrapping of Arrow in strategic terms. What we are concerned about, and what we have a right to ask the government to do something about, is the fate of a work force of highly skilled and competent men and women who can make a vital contribution to Western defence as well as the Canadian economy.

Premier Frost of Ontario has acted wisely in calling a conference of the best brains of his province to discuss what can be done. The province's powers are limited, however. The federal government should make a supreme effort now to extract from the United States a commitment that defence production will be shared equitably between our two countries. It would be worthwhile for the government to subsidize Avro's payroll for a limited period — as they subsidize others — until the fate of Canada's aircraft industry is known.

Uncontrolled Experiments Dangerous

The death of a Cowansville boy and the narrow escape of three of his companions during their efforts to fire off a miniature "moon rocket" lends tragic emphasis to the repeated warnings issued by the authorities in recent months against amateurs attempting to experiment in the field of higher science.

Undoubtedly Canada needs more scientists if it is to continue its great economic and industrial progress and the youth of the country must be encouraged to turn their attention to this most important field of endeavour.

But once the rudimentary elements of chemistry or similar science have been taught, more advanced experiments should be carried out only under the most careful supervision.

Few homes have the facilities required for proper control and supervision. This makes it imperative that such experiments as young people seek to carry out should be restricted to school laboratories or to other institutions having the proper equipment.

We Pay The Piper

Recently, CCF leader Hazen Argue was asked by newsmen what his party would do to solve the unemployment problem in this country.

He replied that his party would undertake a vast program of public works, much broader, he indicated than that upon which the present government embarked this winter.

Mr. Argue would increase old age pensions, family allowances, unemployment benefits.

Asked how all this would be paid for, he replied that, admittedly, a great deal of borrowing would have to be done.

With all due respect to Mr. Argue, it must be pointed out that where there is increased state assistance, no matter by what party in power, in the long run there is only one way to pay for such activity — and that is through increased taxation.

Mr. Argue, an astute politician, was understandably reluctant to mention this distasteful fact.

Since the end of the Second World War, the federal government has taken on more and more social security functions. The trend, felt all over Canada, is for more and more government assistance in many spheres.

By and large, public demand has been responsible for the trend.

But it is a curious thing that the public, while generally in favor of increased government welfare activity has, at the same time, clamored for lower taxes.

It simply can't be done without driving the country into bankruptcy. If Canadians want health and hospital insurance schemes, pensions, unemployment benefits, family allowances, and all the other public welfare trimmings, as it seems they do, they must be prepared to finance them.

We have called the tune, and must pay the piper.

We Can Do Without the Mattress

St. Lawrence Seaway

To Increase British Business

The opening this spring of the St. Lawrence Seaway and the large new trading area it makes available to European exporters has stimulated intense business activity among British manufacturers. This article reviews current planning under way in Britain.

By THOMAS O. KENNEDY
LONDON (Reuters) — British businessmen have been supplied with a wealth of detailed information by trade organizations on what the St. Lawrence Seaway can mean to them in terms of increased trade.

Basic to all of this has been the wealth of the area which the seaway opens up to overseas shipping.

Through their trade bodies and such organizations as the Dollar Export Council, it has been pointed out that about 35 per cent of the United States population lives in the eight states bordering the seaway and the Great Lakes.

They have been told that the seaway provinces of Ontario and Quebec account for nearly 80 per cent of Canada's manufacturing and processing industries.

At the same time, it has been stated that Britain exports only about $3.90 worth of goods per head of U.S. population, but imports from the U.S. $19.60 per head of British population.

In this respect, British experts feel that only the surface of the American market has been scratched despite the fact that the U.S. now is Britain's biggest customer, taking eight per cent of all British exports.

But despite their hopes for increased trade through the seaway, British businessmen are adopting a cautious attitude toward it.

A big factor in their considerations is the adequacy of port facilities.

As G. R. Newman, manager of a firm of agents for Great Lakes shipping since 1930, pointed out: "Unloading at Cleveland absorbs one-third of our income from the cargo."

Only Milwaukee and Chicago "have adequate facilities" for overseas freight lines.

This is further complicated by the present eight-months-a-year lakes shipping season, which puts overseas shippers in the position of having to maintain alternate coastal facilities for the winter months.

Confidence that the difficulties in time will be overcome to permit a gradual expansion of trade through the area was expressed by a spokesman for Manchester Liners, the first British firm to buy ships especially for the seaway trade.

He said that despite difficulties, Churchill, Man., on Hudson Bay, now is one of the most efficient grain-handling centres from an overseas shipper's point of view on the North American continent.

For the time being, however, shipping into the lakes, he said, is still a costly experiment since it takes more than $1,000 a day to operate an ocean ship on the lakes and a tri, up the seaway could mean an expenditure of $5,000 before any profits were in sight.

REPORTING

OTTAWA — Early in their careers, and indeed as a price of their survival, politicians develop the ability to duck questions and evade issues.

The Conservatives are most active and adept at this. Naturally. Any government in office is confronted with unfulfilled election promises and semi-promises, and with new issues arising day by day which present shaky political ground on which to take stands.

The Tories are currently trying to avoid taking any action or committing themselves any more deeply on their promise to re-open a federal-provincial fiscal conference. They are embarrassed by their election promises to give the provinces a fairer share of the tax dollar. What with a deficit this year Conservatively estimated at $700 millions, they can't afford to up the ante. Neither can they afford to call the premiers into the long-promised conference only to tell them that Old Mother Fleming's cupboard is bare. So they are stalling; marking time by setting up consultative machinery, by announcing plans for a study group get-together with the provincial treasurers later—probably much later—this year.

Unless war intervenes, the government will have to come through in the end, and before a 1962 election. But in the meantime it is evading the issue more or less successfully, apparently hoping that its financial position will be better when it finally has to pay up.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker's promise of "sympathetic consideration" for deficiency payments to western grain growers is another example. Any voter who trades his vote for "sympathetic consideration" is most naive, but I suspect thousands do. The CCF is hoping to pick up those votes next time by keeping this semi-promise of deficiency payments and the government's lack of action before the public.

Anglophile Ontarians and Anglophobe Quebecers are both so important to the government in the political sense that it runs for cover whenever the twin questions of a national flag and national anthem are raised. The Liberals gleefully put the Tories on a spot with a private bill which would require the government to prepare a flag design immediately. The government arranged for Tory back benches to filibuster preceding divorce bills in the Commons so there would be no time to debate the flag bill. Liberal leader Pearson was annoyed that his party's strategem was temporarily foiled. But for a decade the former Grit government ran from this issue just as rapidly as the Tories are running now.

For their part, the Tories are enjoying the Liberals' embarrassment over Newfoundland Premier Joey Smallwood's intemperate attacks on the International Woodworkers' union. So is the CCF.

I have no doubt that Pearson was personally and politically aghast at Joey's antics, but he rejected suggestions from other Liberals that the party take disciplinary action. He may well have feared that Joey would turn Tory, taking Newfoundland along with him.

And the CCF, busily wooing union support for the new leftist party to be launched next year, charts its course carefully to avoid offending labor. For example, it advocates price controls, but for political reasons it cannot agree that wage controls would be necessary to make price controls work.

FAREWELL, HORATIO

(Winnipeg Tribune)
Well, at last we know what is wrong with the younger generation — the younger generation in Toronto and Winnipeg, that is.

The underprivileged children of these cities are being deprived of the inspirational, educational books that contributed a great deal toward making the older generation what it is.

Librarians in Toronto and Winnipeg ban the famous authors and heroes of a quarter of a century ago. Tom Swift has been told to buzz off in his Flying Machine; Horatio Alger's heroes have been banished because they give youngsters "a wrong outlook on life"; G. A. Henty has been ordered to quit teaching history in that sugar-coated, sneaky way.

The Wizard of Oz, the Campfire Girls and the Bobsey Twins have been ordered to hit the yellow-brick road and not come back. Come to think of it, we haven't seen a Chums' Annual around lately either.

The librarians complain that many of the old classics were poorly written and were really literary rubbish. But there seems to be more than literary criticism involved. There seems to be resentment against the rags-to-riches theme that ran through so many of the books, particularly those of H. Alger. It almost sounds as if some of the librarians had tried being industrious, thrifty and energetic without being rewarded by becoming millionaires.

WELL-HEELED MARCHERS
(Ottawa Citizen)
From a progress report on the raising of funds for sending a mass delegation of Saskatchewan grain growers to Ottawa, it would seem that the trekkers can count on a good round $100,000 to carry them there and back, maybe more. The delegation will be seeking deficiency payments on wheat and other grain, a plan that could cost the national treasury at least $100 million. If they succeed in making their point, therefore, the prairie farmers will have made a tidy return on their investment.

CAUSE MUCH MISERY
(Kitchener-Waterloo Record)
When inflation and unemployment are with us at the same time a great many people suffer from their effects. Inflation causes hardships among people no longer active in the production process as unemployment does in the case of those able and willing to work but find themselves in enforced idleness. In other words, unemployment causes misery among people who are in their prime and quite capable of working and earning money. Inflation, on the other hand, means misery for those people who cannot work any longer and must get along as best they can, often on meagre savings diminished by rising prices.

JACOBY On Bridge
TYROS WIN AS EXPERTS MUFF
A beginner would have no trouble making five hearts. He would win the opening spade lead in either hand, draw trumps with two leads and eventually lose one spade and one diamond.
A top expert would also make five hearts but he would do a little worrying about it. He would be afraid to play two rounds of trumps until he could get ready to trump out two of his own diamonds. Trumps could break three-one and in that case some unkind defender might pull that third round of trumps and leave declarer with an extra diamond loser.
So the top expert would win the spade lead in dummy and then play the ace and another trick and then draw trumps with perfect safety since he would have the diamond ruffs set up.
The actual declarer only made four odd. He knew enough about the danger of a three-one trump break to postpone playing two rounds of trumps but he made the mistake of playing the king of hearts from dummy at trick two.
Now, when he played the second diamond East overlooked his partner's pack with the king and led a third diamond which West ruffed with the queen.

COOKSHIRE — Dr. Schmitt, one of the leading doctors of the Bell Telephone, in Montreal, will be the guest speaker at the A.B.C. Home and School Association's meeting on Thurs. Feb. 26 at 8 p.m. in the High School. The topic will be Preventive Medicine.

UNWIELDLY GROUP
Dr. Matthews explained Monday, the expiring conference was unwieldy with 224 members, and it was decided last June at Edmonton to make a switch. Heads of 21 universities will sit on the foundation—with a board of directors of seven members—and will be responsible for the grants which now have risen to more than $25,000,000 a year.

The foundation will handle negotiations with the government, parcel out the grants and cache away those grants which most Quebec universities have felt themselves unable to accept on grounds that Premier Duplessis regards them as encroachments on provincial autonomy.

United States — Mr. O'Hurley said that in the final analysis the degree of Canadian sharing in production of major weapons would depend largely on the extent to which Canadian scientists and engineers shared in developing the weapons.

To that, George McIlraith (L-Ottawa West) replied heatedly that Canada was losing its scientific and technical personnel through the scrapping of the Arrow.

that Canadian firms will have to dig if they want the orders.

"The real success of production-sharing endeavors depends, to a large degree, upon the determination of Canadian industry vigorously to seek defence business in the United States," he said in a statement before the Arrow debate began.

He said that last year $40,000,000 worth of direct U.S. contracts came to Canada. Recently Canada had got a $1,700,000 contract for wings and eilerons for Bomarc missiles.

Mr. O'Hurley's statement promptly came under fire.

Paul Hellyer (L-Toronto Trinity) said it was "positively staggering in its insignificance."

Mr. Argue called the statement "hollow, inadequate and a great disappointment." He added that government statements "add up to an abject surrender to the

CCF VIEW

Hazen Argue, CCF House leader, said the government should have continued the Arrow contract insofar as it was necessary to provide employment of the people involved and, if the experts advised against buying the plane for the RCAF, the program should have been discontinued "in the words of the president of the company, in an orderly fashion."

His reference was to the statement of Crawford Gordon, A. V. Roe president who charged at a press conference Sunday that the suddenness of the government announcement was the cause of the layoff of 14,000 employees.

The prime minister and a number of his cabinet ministers are scheduled to meet with A. V. Roe officials today.

Defence Minister Pearkes, speaking during the Commons debate, said one of the factors considered was that military experts advised that the threat of Russian manned bombers was rapidly diminishing.

Universities Set Up 2 New Groups

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian universities are sorting themselves out into a more business-like arrangement for mutual discussions and handling of $25,000,000 a year in federal grants.

The National Conference of Canadian Universities is passing out of existence, executive secretary T. H. Matthews said Monday. Two organizations will take its place.

One will be a 21-university group called the Canadian Universities Foundation.

The other will be the National Conference of Canadian Universities and Colleges.

ROLL OF HANDICAPPED WHO ACHIEVED FAME IS LONG ONE

The splendid accomplishments of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults are well known to all. The society's Easter Seal Campaign is now on, and I urge readers to support it.

History records many individuals who have gloriously overcome their physical handicaps. According to an article entitled "Famous Cripples of the Past," written by Dr. Bernard J. Ficarra, there are numerous persons whose deformities or handicaps have been largely forgotten because of their accomplishments.

Scientists, philosophers, musicians, artists have all counted among their ranks illustrious cripples.

The famous Athenian philosopher, Socrates, had a deformity which included a malformation of the shoulder. The philosophers, Spinoza, Kant, Erasmus, Schopenhauer and Nietzsche were also afflicted. Plato was known to be a hunchback.

Among the deformed scientists was the famous English chemist, Humphrey Davy, who had a limp. The English physicist, Robert Hooke, living in the 17th century, was described as being crooked and low of stature, and probably suffered from tuberculosis of the spine.

Of the musicians, Mozart was deformed of body, probably due to the softening of his bones from rickets as a child. George Frederick Handel and Charles Gounod were both lame.

Even on the stage cripples achieved fame. Sarah Bernhardt lost one of her legs but this did not stop her stage career. David Garrick was known to have been deformed, though just what was wrong is not clear.

In the fields of arts and letters, according to Ficarra, prominent cripples abounded.

Sir Walter Scott had trouble with one leg, probably as a result of infantile paralysis. He also acquired tuberculosis. Lord Byron suffered from a club foot. The English poet, Alexander Pope,

At the next meeting of the Guild and W.A., quilting will commence in preparation for the annual sale for mission fields.

A pleasant tea hour and social time was enjoyed.

WOMAN'S ASSOC.

Mrs. W. M. Stowe entertained the Sweetsburg Unit of Emmanuel United Church Woman's Association at her home with 13 members and three visitors present. Mrs. M. R. Hodge presided and also conducted the devotional opening.

Mrs. Paul Mahannah was on hand for the secretary's work, and the treasurer, Mrs. Walter Sturtevant, in her report showed over $400 in the bank, after the $40.10 had been added as proceeds of the last rummage sale.

A special vote of thanks was offered Mrs. Clarence Perrott for the sale of so many of the Emmanuel Church plates 15 dozen having been sold since December. The total net profit is $130.49. Several other members assisted Mrs. Perrott. Mrs. C. J. Gustafson expressed thanks to the group for the plate given to herself and Mr. Gustafson.

The work convener is Mrs. H. P. Stowe, and card party convener, Mrs. W. M. Stowe.

Cards have been sent to Marcel Fregeau and Ronald Sanborn, who are ill. The pastor suggested at the Church's annual meeting that all gentlemen of the church who are ill be remembered by the church groups in some way with either a card or parcel signed, Emmanuel United Church.

Fifteen dollars was donated to the Women's Missionary Society and $200 to the general fund of the church.

The proposed card party was laid over until early autumn but a decision was made to put on a sale of home-cooking in April in conjunction with the Woman's Association, of Cowansville, whose members will serve afternoon tea. The date will be announced later.

During the recreation period Mrs. Paul Mahannah held a contest called, "The bride's first cleaning day." Mrs. Gustafson was believed to have been a hunchback and dwarf. Charles Dickens was lame and Shelley was a deformed cripple. The French poet and novelist, Balzac, was also a cripple.

Many famous statesmen and public figures were crippled. The first Frederick to be king of Prussia was a hunchback. Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany, of World War I memory, was born with an arm deformity. These are only a few of those who achieved world renown.

Almost any physical deformity can be overcome by those who have the intelligence and grit to do so. Pity is out of place. The handicapped should be encouraged and given the opportunity to do what their abilities permit. Many handicapped contribute more to society than we who have no such excuse.

was prize winner. Mrs. H. P. Stowe and Mrs. W. Sturtevant assisted Mrs. Stowe at the tea hour and a short social period followed.

Mrs. E. Bruce Allnutt will entertain the March meeting at her home.

Gripping About Husband? Try Listing His Merits

Is the average wife too critical of her husband? A male reader claims that if men went around talking about their wives' faults as much as women do about their husbands' shortcomings the men would be considered cads.

There's at least some truth in what he says. Even a columnist gets far more letters from wives complaining about their husbands than praising them.

Maybe it would be a good idea for every wife to make a list now and then under the heading "What I like best about my husband." Never mind what he does wrong. What does he do right?

Whether the list is long or short, just acknowledging his good qualities ought to start a wife thinking along the right lines.

While a wife is thinking about what's right with her husband she isn't brooding about the ways in which she would like to change him.

And if she thinks about his good qualities now and then, she might even be tempted to let him know that she appreciates them.

Then instead of telling him "I wish you wouldn't..." or "You never do..." she might surprise him with an occasional sentence beginning, "You're so good about..." or "I'm glad you..."

And once his wife begins to praise instead of to criticize, even a far-from-perfect husband might try a little harder to please his wife and even to comment on the things she does well, instead of the things she neglects to do.

More Students Needed To Fill Nursing School

TORONTO (CP) — The school of nursing at the University of Toronto is running at half-speed. Nettie Fidler, director of the school which has 318 students, says it could accommodate twice as many.

"More girls are entering nursing every year," she said. "It is a satisfying job and the pay is improving, but we have never yet filled the school."

About 170 of the students are taking a four-year course leading to a bachelor's degree in nursing. This incorporates hospital training and public health training.

GRADUATE COURSES

A year's course in public health is also given to graduates of other schools of nursing, and graduate nurses can take courses in nursing education and supervision.

"We already get a good share of the high school population," she said. "An explanation of the low number may be in pay—a university graduate in any other job can usually command more money than a hospital nurse."

Miss Fidler, who graduated from Toronto General Hospital in 1919, has studied at McGill University, worked at Englehart and Dryden, Ont., when the Red Cross had outpost hospitals there, and first joined the University school as a lecturer in 1936.

MODERN METHODS

She is a pioneer of modern methods. From 1947 to 1952 she operated a demonstration school of nursing at the Metropolitan Hospital at Windsor, Ont., to test ideas that student nurses need not work in the hospital as part of their staff during training.

Miss Fidler showed that the scheme could work if schools of nursing were financially independent — and also showed that nurses could be trained in two years instead of the customary three.

"The trend in nursing today is toward a shorter training period," she said. "Other trends are towards more preventive medicine, particularly in mental health and care of the aged."

Beauty Tips

Chronic nailbiters have as hard a time stopping as do smokers or inveterate bridge players. One woman discovered that if she got a good manicure she hesitated to bite her nails and spoil it. However, few people find it this easy to stop biting nails. The best thing is to smooth ragged edges so there is less temptation to chew.

Even though we seem to be a sitting-down nation when it comes to exercise, women still have aching feet. One reason is improperly fitted shoes or wrong shoes for the occasion. Foot exercises will help strengthen foot muscles and also ease tension on the day. One good one is to stand barefoot on a towel and plait the towel with your toes. This is good for the arches.

PRINTED ARNEL - TERYLENE PIQUE, made in Canada, is used in a dress designed by Raoul-Jean Foure (with Jacques de Montjoye) for the Spring-Summer 1959 Collection of the Association of Canadian Couturiers. The wide-top silhouette is achieved by the back panel of the blouse top and the skirt, draped in large folds, lends soft flattery to the feminine form.

Girls' Presence Keeps Male Students On Best Behavior

OTTAWA (CP) — The University of Ottawa, officially a man's world, nevertheless has a feminine touch.

There are 328 girls among the Roman Catholic university's 2,323 students, although the church doesn't officially approve of co-education as such.

However, university officials say women are admitted for degree work in courses such as science, law, nursing or commerce which are not offered at the university's two affiliated colleges for women. The two colleges, Bruyere and Notre Dame, grant arts or philosophy degrees.

Working within this compromise between official approval and convenience, women have been studying and getting degrees from the University of Ottawa since 1946. Last year there were 123 girls in the university's graduating classes.

Rev. Louis Raby, the Oblate priest who is students' chaplain, said women students are appreciated on the campus.

"Not only do they (women) decorate the place, but their sole presence in class and at recreation keeps the masculine element on its best behavior," Father

Rady wrote in a weekly bulletin. The largest number of girls, 150, are registered in the school of nursing; 30 are in pure science; 29 in medicine; 25 in domestic science and 25 in social and political science. Other faculties have fewer women.

Library science, for instance, has one woman. There are five women law students and first-year student Theresa Nassa of Ottawa wishes there were more.

THOUGHTFUL MALES

Miss Nassa, 23, said her male colleagues are thoughtful and considerate. But the law faculty's "bull sessions" are primarily male.

"If there were more girls we might more readily meet to exchange ideas on our classes," she told a reporter.

Elizabeth Beatty, 21, of Ottawa, a fourth-year chemistry student, said women students are "set just a little apart." She wouldn't like to be treated like "one of the boys" anyway.

Miss Beatty vehemently denied that women students are "husband hunters," particularly in such courses as law, medicine and science.

"A girl would be crazy to go into science to get a man," she said. "There must be easier ways than that."

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

The longer you delay thanking a person who has done you a favor, the less appreciative you will seem to be. A casual "thank you" months after the favor has been granted is almost as bad as no thanks at all.

Never put off until tomorrow the thanks you should express today.

League Gives Len O'Donnell Vote Of Confidence At Special Meeting

Six Leaders Heading Into Stretch Run And NHL Scoring Derby Could End In Tie For First Time In History

MONTREAL (CP) — The way the six leaders are heading into the stretch run in the National Hockey League scoring derby, there's a good chance the league will have its first tie in history.

Dickie Moore of Montreal Canadiens, winner last season, made his move last week with an eight-point production and sprinted from a fourth-place tie into first place. His two goals and six assists sent his point total to 69.

Bunched behind him, with some shifting of positions during the week, are Eddie Litzenberger of Chicago Black Hawks, 68 points; Andy Bathgate, New York Rangers, 67, and Bernie Geoffrion, Montreal, 66.

Closing fast and tied at 63 points are Jean Beliveau of Montreal, who scored three goals and four assists last week, and Gordie Howe of Detroit Red Wings.

GOALS BREAK TIE
What happens in case of a tie on points? NHL regulations say the fellow with the most goals gets the title—and the $1,000 that goes with it. The runner-up gets $500.

Moore heads the goal-getters with 32 and Bathgate 31. If the tie still persists the fellow who has played the fewer number of games is the winner.

If a tie still exists the player who scored the first goal of the season is the champ. Moore has the edge there. He scored his first at 6:56 of the first period of Montreal's first game.

Montreal Canadiens, in front with a 15-point lead, and the second-place Chicago Black Hawks had the best team record of the week—two wins and loss.

Boston Bruins won and lost in two starts while New York won, lost and tied. Detroit dropped two of three and Toronto Maple Leafs lost and tied in two outings.

Sherbrooke High School Seniors moved a step further along in the PQPSAA hockey playdowns Saturday when they defeated Cowansville High School 8-4 in overtime at the local arena. Sherbrooke will now meet Ormstown in Granby next Saturday.

Sherbrooke got an early jump and rammed home three goals in the opening period. In the middle session Cowansville registered one but in the third frame when Sherbrooke slackened the visitors banged home three while holding SHS to a lone tally to knot the count and force overtime. In the overtime Sherbrooke came to life and they registered four goals to win the game. In the third frame the local squad failed to give their goalie the proper protection while the forwards weren't helping any by back-checking.

J. Mills was the big gun for the winners with a hat-trick while Gordon Robinson came up with two and Batrie, White and Beaulieu notched the others. For Cowansville Horner accounted for two with Nagano and Whitehead getting the others.

Burke Emery To Fight Scottish Champ

LONDON, England — (Special) — Burke Emery of Sherbrooke, Que. will be gunning for his third straight win since arriving here when he meets Chic Calderwood in Glasgow, Scotland, tomorrow night. Calderwood is the Scottish light-heavyweight champion and has scored eighteen straight wins, mostly K. O.'s.

Emery beat Noel Trigg last month in his first bout in England and followed this with a win over Dick Whittaker, February 14th. The Whittaker fight was a real brawl with both fighters scoring a knockdown. The Englishman was disqualified in the sixth round for a low blow with Emery ahead on points.

Emery is expected to weigh in at 170 pounds for tomorrow's fight, about three less than Calderwood.

Bishop's Post Win Over Laval In Cage Tilt

The Bishop's basketball Gaiteers broke out of a prolonged mid-season slump last Friday night in Bishop's Memorial Gymnasium with a 31-24 victory over Laval University.

The low-scoring game was characterized by tight defensive play on both sides, and a lack of offensive scoring thrust, making the game dull from a spectator's point of view.

The Gaiteers jumped into a quick 8-point lead in the opening minutes, and then the brand of play became slow and sluggish with both teams playing a clumsy brand of ball.

Defensive stand-out for Bishop's, but poor offensively, like everybody else on the Gaiteer team, was Mike Caswell. Caswell held Laval's top basket-scorer, Bob Giroux to four points. Normally Giroux averages 20-30 points a game.

With a solid height advantage, Bishop's was able to work the ball in under the basket to 6' 4" rookie centre Murry Smith who was high man on the floor with 11 points.

The score was 19-14 for Bishop's at the half. The Gaiteers stopped the Laval offense with a tight diamond zone defense which saw Caswell float on the play to cover Giroux.

Bob Cleroux Stops Edwards In Third Round

MONTREAL (CP) — Robert Cleroux of Montreal Monday night knocked out Sam Edwards of Newark, N.J., at 2:04 of the third round of a savage fight scheduled for eight rounds. Cleroux weighed 206, Edwards 192.

Edwards opened cuts above Cleroux's eyes early in the first round but the Montrealer rallied in the second, landing an overhand right that dropped Edwards for a count of five.

Cleroux, number one contender for the Canadian heavyweight boxing title, put Edwards down for a nine count in the third with a barrage of punches then caught him with a left hook to end it.

Some 2,200 spectators watched the fights at St. Jean Baptiste Gym.

In a four-round preliminary Clement Sarrazin, 141, of Montreal, won a split decision over Rocky Ford, 143½, of Sherbrooke.

Round Table Is Beaten Bad In Washington Race

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Round Table ran into all kinds of trouble and finished last, beaten 32 lengths by the Japanese horse, Hakuchikara, in the $50,400 Washington's Birthday Handicap Monday.

The all-time money-winning champion pulled up bleeding from a kicked left front leg as the $91,400 longshot from Japan won the 1½-mile grind over Santa Anita's turf course.

Preliminary examination disclosed an ugly flesh wound. Jockey Willie Shoemaker apparently was unaware of the injury and said only that Round Table did not like the rain-soaked grass course.

Anisado from Argentina was second and Aorangi from England third. Anisado paid $17.90 and $11.90, and Aorangi, coupled in the betting with Anisado as a field horse, also returned $11.90.

San Francisco — Paoli Rosi, 135, New York, outpointed Flash Elorde, 132, Philippines, 10.
New York — Chico Velaz, 135½, Puerto Rico, outpointed Roger Harvey, 140½, Bermuda, 10.

Sherbrooke High School Pee Wees Edge Lennoxville High 4-3 In Close Overtime Tilt To Win Series 6-5

Taking a two-game total-points series by a 6-5 count Sherbrooke High School Pee Wees knocked off Lennoxville High School 4-3 in the second game played yesterday. The first game last Saturday ended in a 2-2 tie.

Before going down to defeat the Lennoxville youngsters fought all the way and it was anyone's series down to the final whistle.

Sherbrooke High broke into the scoring column at the seven minute mark in the opening period. J. Haffenden scoring on passes from D. Mills and M. Boyd. At the eight forty mark the High School went further ahead with Boyd scoring and Dennis Mills getting the assist.

Lennoxville got their first point half way through the second stanza, D. Harrison from Gary Taylor. Mills on a solo rush a few minutes later gave the Sherbrooke High a 3-1 lead. This was all the scoring in the second period. Two quick goals by Lennoxville tied the game in the third period. Harrison from J. Planché and D. Montgomery getting the first point, Gary Taylor came up with the tying score to send the game into overtime.

Both teams fighting desperately for the goal that would break the deadlock. G. Conner taking a pass from Dennis Mills was in close on the Lennoxville defence and seeing J. Henderson in the clear he laid a perfect pass to Henderson who had no trouble pushing the puck home for the winning goal. This goal came at the six minute mark of the second overtime period.

D. Timmons in the Sherbrooke goal played an outstanding game his saves turning the Lennoxville boys back time and time again. D. Mills, Haffenden and Boyd also played well. The Lennoxville youngsters played well with Gary Taylor and Harrison standing out.

Lennoxville High School Cagers Sweep Bill With A-D-S Squads

Lennoxville High School was the scene of three basketball games when the Junior and Senior girls and Senior boys dumped A.D.S. in all three matches. The Junior girls won 29-17 while the L.H.S. Senior girls beat Ashbestos-Danville-Shipton 44-4. The Senior boys completed the winning streak by downing A.D.S. 32-12.

The first match was between the Junior girls. Lennoxville led all the way, the half time score reading 12-9. In the second half L.H.S. racked up 17 more points while A.D.S. tallied 8 more. Buddy Werner Is New North American Alpine Champion Following His Win In Downhill; Canadians Not Too Good SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (CP) — Buddy Werner, plus some bright new faces, boost hopes that American skiers may soon challenge Europeans in down-mountain racing.

Werner, new North American alpine champion, says "Some of our boys are getting close to the Europeans."

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Hicke of Rochester Americans picked up five points last week and increased his scoring lead in the American Hockey League while closing in on two rookie records.

Rosensohn After Sugar Ray-Moore Fight For June

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Boxing promoter Bill Rosensohn is angling for a light-heavyweight title fight between champion Archie Moore and middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson.

Before leaving for the east Monday, Rosensohn said he has talked to Moore and Robinson and both are interested.

One of the fights definitely would be held in Los Angeles, Rosensohn said, and the other either in Chicago or New York.

Playoffs To Continue, Sherbrooke At Asbestos Tonight; Clubs Disapprove Magog's Action; To Ask Him To Return

Len O'Donnell, recently retired president of the Eastern Townships Intermediate Hockey League, and Jean Chartier, statistician for the circuit, received a vote of confidence from all clubs at a special meeting held last night at the Hotel Sherbrooke. Mr. O'Donnell will be asked to reconsider his decision.

The playoffs will continue as was originally laid down on Feb. 9 and no changes will be made. These points were decided at last night's meeting which was presided over by Clement Fortin, vice-president. The second game of the semi-finals will be played tonight in Asbestos when the Sherbrooke Beavers travel to the Mining Town to take on the Meteors. The Dubé clan copped the first 12-1 but a closer battle is expected tonight.

Prior to the meeting Henry Crochetiere, district vice-president of the QAHA, pointed out to the various clubs the position of the main body and stated that no club can take court action against an official of a league without immediate suspension of the team involved and that all their players would be declared free agents.

Mr. Crochetiere declared that the playoffs would continue as previously laid down as the error in the standing wasn't an intentional one and that it was the responsibility of all clubs to check their positions in order to see that everything was correct.

Upon receiving these letters the Magog Club yesterday afternoon forwarded telegrams to Mr. O'Donnell and Mr. Chartier withdrawing their action before the meeting last night.

The representatives of the clubs unanimously proposed a vote of confidence in President O'Donnell, Magog included. It was also proposed that a request be made to the retired president to reconsider his decision and return as head of the league.

Vice-president Clement Fortin praised Mr. O'Donnell's work as head of the league. A special letter was submitted by five clubs at last night's meeting pointing out the stand they took in the matter.

We the undersigned, presidents of five clubs in the E. T. Drummondville Hockey Club George Haggerty, president Asbestos Meteors A. Larocque, pres. Richmond Braves Dr. R. Bernier, pres. Sherbrooke Beavers R. Beaudry, pres. Victoriaville Club Jean-Maurice Bilodeau, pres.

Drive A Dodge COMPARATHON

SHOWS YOU HOW some cars give you the ordinary... DODGE gives you the extraordinary!

THE ORDINARY WAY to get in or out of a car is to bend, stoop and wriggle.

THE DODGE WAY gives you extra get-in-and-out ease! Dodge front doors are 5.7" wider than those of car F and car C, 1.8" higher than car F's, 2.8" higher than car C's! And Dodge offers automatic-lock swivel seats that swing out to meet you, then glide you effortlessly back in behind the wheel!

THE ORDINARY WAY to set gears in an automatic transmission is with an old-fashioned shift lever.

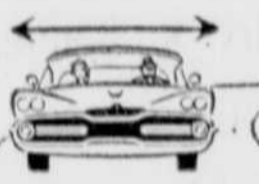

THE DODGE WAY is to simply touch a finger to a push-button on the drive control panel! Other cars still use old-fashioned shift levers. What's more, Dodge even lets you control interior temperatures with push-button heating and ventilation!

THE ORDINARY WAY to ride over the road is to ride on old-fashioned bumpy-bump coil springs.

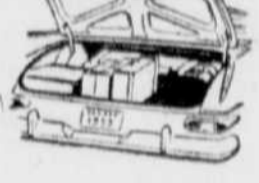

THE DODGE WAY is to smooth out every road with Torsion-AIRE Ride! This advanced front-wheel torsion-bar suspension system levels the bumps, levels you when you go around corners, levels the stops and starts. Competitive cars still use ordinary coil springs.

THE ORDINARY WAY to design a luggage trunk is to design the car first, and then "hope" there is sufficient space for luggage.

THE DODGE WAY is to design a trunk that has room to spare! That spacious Dodge trunk is 5.6 cu. ft. bigger than in car C; 1.7 cu. ft. bigger than in car F. Dodge gives you more usable width, too; 15" more than car C, 26" more than car F.

THE ORDINARY WAY to stop a car is with brakes whose shoes do not exert even pressure against the drums.

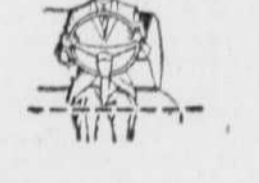

THE DODGE WAY is to stop faster, safer, more surely with Total-Contact brakes! Entire lining has even pressure exerted at all points of drum, unlike brakes of competitive cars. Thus, Dodge brakes do not need adjustment as often... work far better, wear much longer.

THE ORDINARY WAY to drive is to squeeze the steering wheel in where your "middle" should be.

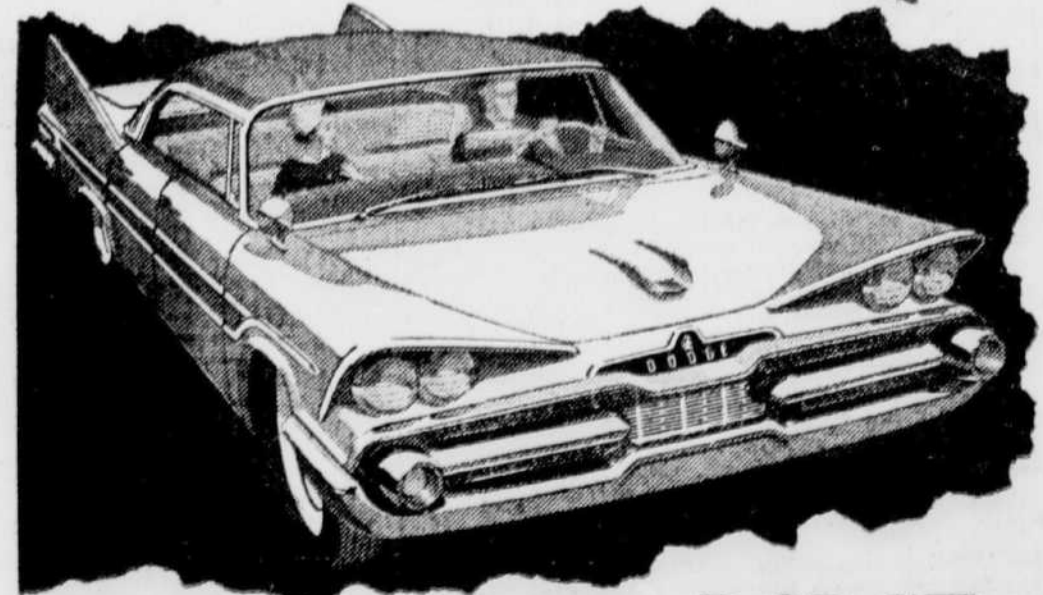

THE DODGE WAY is to keep the steering wheel out of the way of everything except your hands! There's more laproom, more room for your "middle" with Dodge... 6 1/2" from steering wheel to seat (car F only 5 1/2"; car C only 5.2").
