

Timely Tips On

TELEVISION

By MARY HILTON

The Broadway hit, "My Fair Lady", and the screen adaptation of "Gigi" — two award-winning productions of Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe — will be the basis of a special 90-minute color telecast General Motors will present Friday, November 13. The NBC-TV Network will carry the program from 8:30 to 10 p.m.

A top cast of stage and screen stars will be featured in Lerner-Loewe's first TV production. Mr. Lerner is writing a musical story especially for the GM program. Scenes from two other Lerner-Loewe productions, "Brigadoon" and "Paint Your Wagon", will also be woven into the show. The telecast, originating in New York, will present for the first time together the entire line of General Motors' new 1960 passenger cars.

"The Lawbreakers", a new weekly full-hour series probing in depth American criminals and the social, political and economic implications of their nefarious operations, will make its debut on the CBS-TV Network Tuesday, September 22, with Ralph Meeker starring in "Dillinger: A Year To Kill" as the premiere presentation.

The new series, slated for the 7:30-8:30 p.m. spot, is based on an idea by veteran crime reporter and television film writer George Ellis and by Lester Gottlieb, director of program development for the CBS. It will be produced by John Houseman, one of the most distinguished talents in television, motion pictures and the legitimate theatre.

"The Lawbreakers" will dramatize and vigorously recreate the true-to-life deeds of the most dangerous criminals of all time, and the men who eventually apprehended them. Each show has been documented in depth and with a thoroughness that only the passage of years has made possible. This includes interviews, eyewitness accounts, court, police and prison records, and personal revelations not previously attainable.

Also appearing in "Dillinger — A Year To Kill", are Phillip Abbot, Steven Hill, John Gerstad, Jane Rose and John Alexander.

The program, written by David Davidson, will be presented "live on tape" under the direction of Mel Ferber. Charles H. Schultz is associate producer.

The Armstrong Cork Company has renewed its sponsorship of the "Armstrong Circle Theatre", on the CBS-TV Network for the fifth year. The program, presented on alternate Wednesdays from 10-11 p.m., will start its new season September 30. During the summer, the program will present taped repeats of outstanding presentations of the past season.

"The Joseph Cotton Show", an anthology of half-hour dramas, will be the summer replacement for the Ann Southern Show on CBS-TV. Joseph Cotton will host the rebroadcast series and star in several of them.

"America Pauses for Summer's End", a variety program with all America as a background, will open the NBC-TV Network's newly announced series of Friday night entertainment specials September 18, 8:30-9:30 p.m. NYT. Allan Neuman will produce the special.

Phillies Cigars has purchased for the 1959-60 season on NBC-TV one of the most comprehensive sports packages in the history of network television. The order covers five major sports — football, baseball, basketball, racing and bowling — representing year-round weekend coverage of sports events and full sponsorship of two bowl games at the end of the season.

"The Deputy", a new Western adventure series starring Henry Fonda, will be telecast Saturdays, 9-9:30 p.m. NYT during the 1959-60 season over NBC-TV. Co-starring Allen Case as deputy Clay McCord, the series presents Mr. Fonda as chief marshal Simon Fry, who operates out of Prescott in the Southwest Arizona Territory of the 1880's.

The Dennis O'Keefe Show, a bright new situation comedy series starring the popular motion picture personality in the role of a syndicated newspaper columnist, will make its debut on the CBS-TV Network Tuesday, September 22, 8-8:30 p.m. under the sponsorship of Oldsmobile.

'Swing Easy' underway, new CBC musical show

Swing Easy, a new musical variety show starring Ruth Walker, the Rhythm Pals, Alan Millar and Billy Richards and his orchestra, will start Saturday, July 4, at 7:30 p.m., on the CBC television network.

The program replaces Saturday Date with Billy O'Connor.

According to producer Bob Jarvis, the show will place emphasis on quality music and also include some tongue-in-cheek humor.

"In general, we're after a simply-presented but imaginative show with standard pops and novelty numbers," says Jarvis.

Singer Ruth Walker is a comparative newcomer to television. The green-eyed platinum blonde has been singing professionally for more than two years and has spent most of that time on the night-club circuit. She has made guest appearances on Here's Duffy during the past season.

The Rhythm Pals, from Vancouver, are best known for their singing of western songs but they are equally adept at singing standard and pop numbers. On Swing Easy they will desert western music and devote their talents almost solely to standard and pop tunes.

Master of ceremonies, Alan Millar, estimates that in the past six years he has interviewed about 2,000 celebrities, including Louis Armstrong, Gene Krupa, the Mills Brothers and Hedda Hopper.

Billy Richards, who will lead the 14-piece orchestra on the show was last seen on Canadian TV as a fiddler on Holiday Ranch.

In addition to the regular performers, the show will feature two guests each week — professional talent that has not had the opportunity before of appearing on television.

Writer of the show is Alex Barris.

CONFESS OR DIE: Captain Molet (Albert Carrier), professional soldier in Emperor Maximilian's Mexican Army, threatens Isaacs (Than Wyenn), frontier storekeeper, with death if the whereabouts of the Mexican president and a fortune in gold are not disclosed. The drama: "Death Valley Days — A Town Is Born," Monday, July 6, 7:30 p.m., on WMTW-TV channel 8.

CBC schedules 13 new shows

CBC television is introducing 13 entirely new Canadian produced live talent programs this summer. Six of the 13 programs will be sponsored.

In addition, CBC will produce 11 other live features. Some are favorites of last year, returning for the summer months; the balance are continuing winter-time programs. This means that a total of 24 live-talent Canadian produced programs will be available to network viewers.

The 13 new programs are: The Joan Fairfax Show, Live a Borrowed Life, Parade, the Don Messer Show, Swing Easy, Studio Pacific (Vancouver dramas), This is Ottawa, Astronomy Today, Long Shot, The Show That Jack Built, Two for Physics, Who Knows? and Albert. The first six listed above will be sponsored.

Programs returning are: Rhapsody, Rope Around the Sun, Ed and Ross, Holiday Edition (summer version of Junior Magazine) and World Passport. Continuing are Country Calendar, Explorations, Playbill, Mr. Fix-It, This Week and Viewpoint.

'Fidelio' in full color will open opera season

The NBC Opera Company will open an augmented season in November with a two-hour color production of Beethoven's opera "Fidelio," announces Samuel Chotzinoff, producer.

Mr. Chotzinoff said the NBC Opera Company will present four productions during the 1959-60 season, bringing to 54 the number of operas it will have produced over a 10-year period. As in the past, all will be sung in English. They also will be telecast in color.

In addition to "Fidelio," the opera company plans two-and-one-half-hour presentation in April of Mozart's "Don Giovanni," for which the noted poets W. H. Auden and Chester Kallman have been commissioned to do the English translation; a mid-Winter presentation of Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana;" and the annual December production of Menotti's modern classic, "Amahl and the Night Visitors."

The NBC Opera Company was formed in 1949 under the leadership of Robert W. Sarnoff, then Director of Unit Productions and now Chairman of the Board of NBC. Under his guidance, it has become one of the major musical influences in North American cultural life.

Following a series of experimental opera scenes in 1949, the NBC Opera launched its regular schedule in January, 1950, with a production of Kurt Weill's "Down in the Valley." Since then it has presented 50 television productions, all sung in English, to millions of viewers across the country.

'FOR WHITE CHRISTIANS ONLY'

Study of prejudice in housing, will be presented on season's final 'Briefing Session'

Bigotry and prejudice in the nation's housing will be examined closely in "For White Christians Only," on NBC "Briefing Session" telecast Sunday, July 5, at 2 p.m. EDT.)

It will be the last telecast in the current 13-week cycle of this NBC Educational Television Project program series, which will resume in the Fall.

ROBINSON TO TELL STORY

Jackie Robinson, big-league baseball player now an executive of a large corporation in New York, will tell the story of his efforts to buy a house in a commuter town near New York. Frank Finneran, a contractor who has built and sold houses throughout the country, will tell what happened when Jews attempted to buy houses in "restricted areas."

Frank Blair, the program's facts communicator, interviewed Finneran on film in Darien, Conn., a suburb some 30 miles from New York City. Darien was the setting of the motion picture "Gentlemen's Agreement" several years ago. Blair interviewed Robinson on film in NBC's New York studios.

Guest panelists will be Frances Levenson, executive director of the National Committee against Discrimination in Housing; Alan Emlen, director of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, and W. Beverly Carter Jr., publisher of the Pittsburgh Courier.

WHAT COMES FIRST?

What comes first — a person's right to choose where he lives or a landlord's right to manage his property? This will be the first of three leading questions the panelists will explore. The others: What are the social consequences of discrimination in housing? Can discrimination be curbed by law?

Dean Edward W. Barrett of Columbia University's Graduate School of Journalism is the program host. "If White Christians feel the need of any guidance in these matters, they don't have to look any further than their churches," he will say. "In the past 15 years the Catholic bishops, and the conventions and conferences of the Unitarians, Baptists, Lutherans, Methodists, Presbyterians, Protestant Episcopalians, and Congregationalists all have come out strongly against discrimination in schools or housing."

MANY DELAYED TELECASTS

"Briefing Session," produced in co-operation with the National Educational Television and Radio Center, is telecast to the country's interconnected educational TV stations over NBC's regular network facilities Tuesdays from 10.30 to 11 p.m. EDT. Many NBC affiliates carry the sessions delayed.

Joel O'Brien is the producer, Lynwood King the director.

Talent search for Music Hall

"Ted Mack and the Original Amateur Hour," weekly CBS Television Network program (Fridays, Channel 3, 8:30-9:00 p.m.), and Radio City Music Hall are associated in a combined project to discover and develop new talent, and to assist ambitious beginners in winning recognition in the entertainment field.

The plan, effective immediately, provides for auditions and paid appearances for talented newcomers in live productions of the famous stage spectacles at the Music Hall.

The Original Amateur Hour, in its twenty-five years of tenure on radio and television, has auditioned approximately 800,000 acts. From these have emerged such stars as Frank Sinatra, Pat Boone, Teresa Brewer, Robert Merrill, Paula Winchell, Mimi Benzell, Jack Carter, Dave Barry, Vera Ellen and many others.
