BROOKINS HAS VERY CLOSE CALL

With Collier Aboard His Aeroplane Engine Stopped High in Air.

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, May 9.—Five hundred feet above the decks of the armored cruiser Washington, which is anchored off foot of West Ninety-Fifth st., in Hudson River, Robt. J. Collier, president of Aero Club of America, and Walter Brookins narrowly missed a fatal fall to-day, when the engine of hydro-aeroplane they had flown in from Seabright, N.J., went dead and they were compelled to volplane precipitately to the surface of the river.

Drenched by heavy rain and soaking mists they had traversed a zig-zag course from Collier's country home at Wickatunk, near Seabright, with the object of delivering an invitation to Rear-Admiral Osterhaus and his staff to attend this afternoon's banquet at the Aero Club.

It was Brookins' plan to circle the cruiser several times for the benefit of men and officers and then soar down to the whitecapped surface of the river and prove seaworthiness of the hydro-aeroplane by running alongside the Washington and permitting Collier to step out and deliver the invitation. The moment the engine stopped the aeroplane gave a bad lurch and seemed on the point of turning turtle. Brookins could be seen working frantically with the levers that control the planes and rudder and at the same time striving to coax the engine back to life. Collier was also working desperately to prevent the machine from toppling over.

The machine struck the water with a splash fifty feet from the yacht Florence, owned by John C. Eaton, a Canadian millionaire, who picked up the aviators.

Says Sir Cosmo Refused Return

London, May 9.—The escape of Sir Cosmo and Lady Duff-Gordon from the Titanic in lifeboat No. 1, which was less than half filled, was inquired into searchingly this afternoon. Sir Hendrickson, a fireman of the Titanic and one of the crew in the boat in question, on being asked why he did not return to the scene of the disaster to try and rescue some of those in the water who were crying for help, said that he suggested that the boat should return, but Sir Cosmo objected on the ground that it would be dangerous. Lady Duff-Gordon agreed with her husband and the boat did not return.

Lord Mersey asked the witness: "You mean to tell me that both these passengers objected the rest of you kept your mouths shut and did not go to the rescue?"

Hendrickson replied.—"That's right."

The witness said that Sir Cosmo Duff-Gordon gave each member of the crew of the boat £5 ($25.00), but he insisted that no arrangement to that effect had been made and the first he heard of a reward was after the lifeboat reached the Carpathia.

Hendrickson had previously testified that his boat which could hold thirty-four persons contained only twelve, made up of seven members of the crew, and two women and three men passengers.

The objection of Sir Cosmo Duff-Gordon to going back to the scene of the Titanic's sinking was that it would be dangerous as the boat might be swamped. Hendrickson agreed with Sir Cosmo that it would be dangerous but said with so many men in the boat they should have been able to keep those in the water from swamping her.

Purtell and Hartman should perfect their team-play around second base. They missed two double-plays yesterday.

LAWSUIT, 10 TO 1, WON MAIDEN

Silas Grump Was a Disappointment at Pimlico To-day.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Pimlico, Md., May 9. Honey Bee, running yesterday in the colors of John Whalen for the first time, made her bow in the opening dash. Took checks. There was a well-circulated tip on Stockton, and he was backed from 4 to 1 down to 2 to 1. The latter showed a flash of speed for the quarter but then stopped, and was beaten off.

Honey Bee, incidentally, was the first winner that ever carried Whalen's colors. Whalen handled August Belmont's horses last season, but is racing a small string of his own this year. He purchased Honey Bee from Allie Simons a few days ago. Simone has a band of thirty-five two-year-olds, the property of Harry Payne Whitney, and it is his intention to dispose of the entire lot during the season. R. I. Miller purchased one of them, Grosvenor, yesterday afternoon.

Jockey J. Wilson left hurriedly for New York this week, and it was learned he had sailed for France. The lad has signed contracts to ride for H. E. Duryea in France and England.

Harry Ritea has arranged to ship his horses to Louisville at the conclusion of the Pimlico meeting.

J. McGinley has left for Toronto to school the two-year-olds stabled at the Woodbine. McGinly has been engaged by James Milton as one of his assistants for the Montreal meeting.

MISS BICKERDIKE REPORTED MISSING

Niece of Well Known Montreal Member of Parliament Being Searched for.

Miss Bickerdike, a niece of Mr. Bourassa Bickerdike, M.P., is missing from her home at Cartierville, and fears are entertained for her safety. Miss Bickerdike, for some weeks past, has been suffering from nervous prostration, and it is supposed that she left the house early yesterday morning, since when she has not been seen or heard of.

Enquiries at Mr. Bickerdike's office elicited the fact that although he had received the news of her disappearance, he was not alarmed for her safety, search parties have been dragging the river at Cartierville, but so far without any result.

REDMOND OPENS REAL DEBATE ON HOME RULE BILL

Nationalist Leader Claims Measure One of Mere Justice — Says Irishmen Not Such Fools as to Attempt to Wreck the Union if Liberty is Granted Them by the Act.

London, May 9.—The biggest guns of the attack and defence have been reserved for the conclusion of the second reading stage of the Home Rule bill in the House of Commons. Before the vote is taken to-night, John E. Redmond, the leader of the Nationalist party, Andrew Bonar Law, the leader of the Opposition, and Premier Asquith will have delivered broadsides for and against the measure.

Only Justice, Says Redmond.

Mr. Redmond entered the fray this afternoon with an assertion of the justice of the claim of Irishmen to manage their own affairs, which, he said, was now generally conceded. Ireland, he thought, had reason to be well satisfied with the course of the debate. The critics of the bill had built their arguments on the remarkable proposition that having obtained a great charter of liberty the Irish would prove themselves a nation of fools and would immediately set to work to wreck and ruin their own constitution. Such malicious folly had never been committed by any other section of the Empire to which Home Rule had been granted, so why should it be attributed to Ireland, he asked.

The moment Home Rule was granted, continued Mr. Redmond, it would become the highest interest of the Irish nation to safeguard the constitution, to utilize it in moderation, to cultivate the most friendly relations with Great Britain, and for the first time in her history to do all in her power to promote the unity, the prosperity and the welfare of the Empire.

Would Appoint Opponents.

The Irish leader, said he firmly believed that in a very short time all the old party divisions in Ireland would disappear. Responsibility would have the effect of steadying men of all political views. If he had the task of nominating the Irish Senate to-morrow, he would put in it a large majority of men who had not been on his side in the struggle for Home Rule in the last thirty years.

Irishmen of World Accept.

Mr. Redmond said he had been a fatalist all his life and welcomed the declaration of the present Bill as the first step towards a great system of federation all round.

Nationalists, he said, accepted the bill as a final settlement of the international quarrel between England and Ireland, and when saying this he spoke not only for Irishmen in Ireland, but for those in Canada, the United States, New Zealand and Australia.

From the point of view of foreign policy and military strength of Great Britain, Home Rule in Mr. Redmond's opinion was the most urgent step that could be taken for safeguarding the British Isles. He concluded: "If you want to present to the world in those events which England may have to face a spectacle of real solidarity, and if you want to remove the obstacles that stand in the way of the natural unity of understanding and action which should exist between this country and the great English-speaking republic in America, you have a means of doing it now by passing this bill into law."

STOCKS EXTRA

WALL STREET MOVE CONFINED WHOLLY TO PROFESSIONALS

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, May 9.—The Post's financial review says:

With a somewhat elaborate machinery of "advance tips" distributed through Wall Street before the opening, another effort to stir up speculative enthusiasm was made on the Stock Exchange to-day. For a time it was more successful than the attempts in the same direction yesterday and the day before, the reason probably being that the original "bear secrets" were distributed. Attention appeared to be paid to such minor specialties as [illegible] but it was Reading shares again on which the chief effort converged.

At intervals market [illegible] of fair activity with advances [illegible] this was almost wholly confined to three or four speculative favorites, business in other stocks was of [illegible] dude and in last half hour when it was seen that the market had followed foremost movement [illegible] heartedly, prices held [illegible] off again until close.

ENGLAND LEADS IN AVIATION

Wonderful Waterplane, Piloted by Commander Samson, R. N., Performs Remarkable Evolutions.

KING GEORGE SEES GREAT DEMONSTRATION

Possible Conditions of Naval Warfare Completely Revolutionised by This Invention.

New York, May 9.—A London cable says:

King George reached Weymouth Bay on board the Royal yacht, early yesterday (Wednesday) amid thunderous salutes from the great fleet, but fog caused the cancellation of the day's manoeuvres. The King visited the submarine aboard which Mr. Winston Churchill and Mr. Balfour took an hour's trip, and watched the torpedo practice, but he was most deeply interested in the flights of the aeroplanes and hydroplanes.

In a thick fog Commander Samson rose from the water at Portland yesterday morning and flew in his famous naval hydroplane at a speed of thirty miles an hour for sixty minutes. He went to meet the Royal yacht. The fog broke momentarily when he was one thousand feet above her, so the King could just see him. He alighted with ease in broken water after flying around the fleet.

STRIKING FEATS BY NAVAL AVIATORS.

Commander Gerrard ascended at Lodmoor nava, flying ground a few minutes after Commander Samson went up from Portland. He used a Nieuport monoplane, and rose to a height of 3,000 feet, trying to get above the fog. He passed right over the fleet and flew for more than one hour.

Then Lieutenant Gregory flew for seventy minutes in a short biplane fitted with floats. He passed over the Royal yacht at an altitude of 1,500 feet, descending at the naval aviators' landing place at Portland.

Lieutenant Longmore flew for fifty minutes in a Deperdussin monoplane, which had been fitted with floats in case of a fall into the sea.

Mr. Grahame-White rose in his Bleriot monoplane at twenty minutes to three p.m. and circled the entire fleet and the towns of Plymouth and Portland. He circled also the Royal yacht twice.

The greatest feat of the day came after 3 o'clock, when Commander Samson, in his hydroplane, rose from the water and flew very high, descending 200 yards from the Royal yacht. He carried a passenger and a letter to the King.

Both were taken off from the hydroplane as it rested in the water, with the engine stopped, and conveyed to the Royal yacht by a picket boat.

AVIATOR COULD HAVE SUNK SUBMARINE.

Lieutenant Gregory, in a biplane fitted with floats, then passed over the harbor and the Royal yacht. When it was deemed safe his passenger dropped a lump of metal weighing 300 pounds into the water just inside the breakwater from an altitude of 400 feet, causing a tremendous splash.

He then swooped down upon a submerged submarine and alighted in the water a few feet from it, causing the sailors on board the nearest battleship to cry out in alarm. A passenger in the biplane could obviously have sunk the submarine with an exploding missile.

After the naval aviators finished their display, Mr. Grahame-White gave a wonderful exhibition of flying. He flew out around the various warships so near the water as to be scarcely above the level of their decks, demonstrating his supreme skill in controlling the machine.

HYDROPLANES TO GO AT 150 MILES AN HOUR.

London, May 9.—Mr. A. V. Roe, one of the best known aviators in England, makes the startling prophesy in the Daily Mirror this morning that the hydroplane of the future will carry one thousand passengers and revolutionize ocean travel.

He says the speed obtainable will be enormous, exceeding one hundred and fifty miles an hour, and, as the hydroplane will soon be as safe as any human invention can be, it will do away with seasickness. There is little doubt that ocean travellers would choose it in preference to a steamship.

If Mr. Roe's startling prophesy is ever realized, passengers from New York can be in London within twenty-four hours after their start.

GREAT BRITAIN HAS BEATEN ALL NATIONS.

New York, May 9.—A London cable despatch this morning says when Englishmen read in their morning papers to-day of a wonderful new machine, both aeroplane and hydroplane, which had been invented by one of their countrymen, acquired by the navy, and was shown at the naval review by King George in Weymouth Bay, the news seemed too good to be true.

The reports, however, were not exaggerated, and it is now declared that Great Britain has the most remarkable and satisfactory machine of its kind in the world, that other Powers have been left behind in the race for aerial supremacy, and that the British waterplane has already performed feats completely altering the conditions possible in naval warfare.

The waterplane is described as having "the powers of an albatross," able to fly over the water, float upon it, and rise again.

REVISED NOMINATIONS FOR THE PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS

Following is a revised list of the nominations which took place yesterday. It will be seen that there are several three-cornered contests in prospect, and that in only one instance, that of Terrebonne, is there no Liberal candidate. In that constituency Mr. Jean Prevost and Mr. C. de Martigny, both Conservatives, are fighting it out between themselves.

The nominations for the Magdalens are held later. It is thought that in some of the triangular fights one candidate may drop out in the interests of the party, to allow of a straight fight.

MR. W. H. RIDDELL, OF WATERLOO, DEAD

Was Assistant Manager of Mutual Life Assurance Co. of Canada.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Waterloo, Ont., May 9.—W. H. Riddell, assistant manager of the Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada, died here this morning after a few hours' illness, death being due to apoplexy. Deceased was in his office as usual yesterday, but when leaving his residence to go to church last night was taken suddenly ill.

He was born in Sparta, York County, of Irish parentage, on August 18, 1837. He was educated in the Collegiate Institute, Collingwood and taught school for several years in the counties of Grey and Bruce, subsequently going into newspaper work in Toronto.

In 1870 he became an editorial writer on the Toronto press and in 1876 joint owner and manager of the Toronto Tribune. He joined the staff of the Mutual Life in 1882 as secretary which position he filled until 1907, when he was appointed assistant manager.

It is worthy of mention that he had a part in the organization of the company, having been for a short time associated with the founders in 1869, in securing the five hundred charter members requisite to its foundation.

Mr. Riddell took a keen interest in the general affairs of his town, having been an active member of the Board of Trade, the Berlin and Waterloo Hospital, Board of Health, Library, and Board of Park Management. He was also a valuable member and past president of the Berlin Club, and an active member of the Canadian Club.

His widow and two daughters, Sister Mary Carmel, of the Ursuline Academy, Chatham, and Miss Bertha Riddell, survive.

FAVORS MR. MARECHAL.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star:

Sir,—There is a special reason why the electors of Chambly should be proud of the opportunity to vote for Mr. L. T. Marechal, K.C., apart from his high professional attainments and personal worth, Mr. Marechal rendered a notable public service some years ago, in conjunction with Mr. Donald Macmaster, K.C., in courageously and thoroughly probing a scandal affecting the administration of justice in Montreal. Both of these gentlemen were inspired by motives of public duty, and while their task appeared thankless at the time, it had far-reaching results, the benefits of which are enjoyed to-day by the people of the entire district of Montreal, of which Chambly forms part. This is well known to many persons, and especially to some of the leading members of our commercial bodies in Montreal; but I feel that it is well to remind people of matters of this kind, because democracies are not famed for long or accurate memories.

CITY'S DEBT IS PILING UP IN ALARMING WAY

And Seven Millions More is Now Proposed to Be Added to it.

Civic statistics show that during the past twenty-five years the city has paid out the huge amount of twenty millions of dollars on its debt. The debt has been increasing to the tune of almost a million a year. The debt has increased from $12,682,400 in 1887, to $48,575,305 in 1912. The city has thus borrowed in 25 years, $35,893,905 for its permanent works. It is now trying to float an additional seven million loan for various permanent works.

TALK OF WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC TO THE MAYOR.

Mr. W. A. Coote, who represents the National Alliance of England, and whose aim is to stop the white slave traffic, called at the City Hall to-day to have a talk with the Mayor. As His Worship was very busy an engagement was made for to-morrow.

Mr. Marechal's Views.

To the Editor of The Montreal Star.

Sir: I regret to be informed that the opponents of Mr. L. T. Marechal, the Opposition candidate in Chambly County, are seeking to paint him as a man of narrow views. This is a very despicable method of proceeding to belittle the good qualities of an adversary.

Without in any way wishing to discuss party programmes or candidates, I wish to state that I have had opportunities of studying (unknown to him), his views and utterances. He is a full-fledged and broad minded Canadian, absolutely devoid of any prejudice, a man of the utmost good humor and the widest human sympathies. Even his most bitter opponent will admit that he is a born orator and an efinent barrister.

It may not perhaps be known to your readers, particularly the English speaking, living in Chambly Conny, that at the time of the differences that took place in Buckingham, Mr. Marechal's services were given gratuitously to the men who were placed on trial. Not only that, but, as your correspondent in to-day's issue, who signs himself "An English Voter" rightly says, "on more than one occasion has he given his services gratuitously."

Mr. Marechal is very highly regarded by his English speaking friends, and it is needless to say that he is beloved by his own compatriots. He is the type of man that, in view of the racial complexion of this country and province, is greatly needed in legislative chambers. It is such men as he that can strengthen the "entente cordiale" that should exist both in this and other provinces.

The electors of any constituency should deem themselves extremely fortunate in being given the privilege of electing as their representative a man of his sta

NEED 2 YEARS TO 'THAW OUT' SHERBROOKE

No Permanent Improvement Inside That Time Say the City Engineers.

VEHICLES TRAVEL OVER STREET AT OWN RISK

Sewer Contractors Filled Excavations With Frozen Earth is the Explanation.

That it will be quite two years before any permanent pavement can be laid in Sherbrooke street is the opinion of City Engineers who say that it will be fully that length of time before the earth will be properly settled, following the construction of the big trunk sewer from the eastern limits to Guy street.

Meanwhile it is quite possible that other accidents may happen such as that of yesterday when a steam motor belonging to a local contractor was held prisoner for several hours following a cave-in. Recently Dr. Grant Stewart came to grief when his motor-car fell into a great hole when the street gave way under it.

The engineers assert that the work should not have been allowed to continue during the winter months and to this is attributed the present unsatisfactory condition of the street. The frozen earth required a long time to settle and this is the cause of the trouble.

Owing to the settling of the street many gas and water pipes have been broken greatly inconveniencing residents, many of whom have been compelled to move to other neighborhoods. A consequence of this is a series of claims against the city.

Contract of Old Reign.

The contract for the work was given out four years ago, before the establishment of the Board of Control. Commenting on this to-day, Mr. Stuart Howard, assistant city surveyor who is in charge of sewer work, said that no contract should have been given out for winter work on such a big sewer. The contractors had to dig to a depth of thirty feet and when this great hole was filled, with frozen earth it stood to reason that it would take a very long time for the earth to thaw out and for the street to settle to its proper level.

"I have always been against winter work," said Mr. Howard.

Due to Frozen Earth.

Mr. John Barlow, city surveyor and Mr. T. W. Lesage, superintendent of the Water Department, also frankly admitted that much of the treacherous condition of the street was owing to the way the contractors had dumped frozen earth into the excavation.

The contract was given out by the aldermen at the time when there was no Board of Control to examine such matters, and nothing was done to stop the contractors working in winter. Neither was there anything done to prevent the use of dynamite in order to do the work more cheaply. It is because of this unbusiness-like way of giving out the contract that the Board of Control now finds itself with one of the finest streets in the city in such a state that it is almost as dangerous to vehicles as a quick sand. None of the civic officials, or the members of the Board of Control can hold out any immediate hopes of comfort. The earth must take its time, perhaps two years to settle, and vehicles must take a chance when they use the street.

At present men are at work on the street temporarily resurfacing the street with macadam and trying to get it into decent condition for those who are compelled to use this thoroughfare.

KING GEORGE HAS TEN-MINUTE TRIP IN A SUBMARINE

Says He is Delighted With Experience — Aerial Corps Want Him for Passenger.

Weymouth, Eng., May 9. King George, who is here seeing for himself the progress toward the re-organization of the Home Fleet, as outlined by First Lord of the Admiralty Churchill on introducing the Navy Estimates for betterment has again taken up the role of a naval officer and enjoyed the experience.

His Majesty already has added one item to his experience in naval work by going down in a submarine. He spent ten minutes below the surface of the water in one of the latest "D" type of boats, which carried a disappearing gun, and expressed himself as delighted with the venture.

The aerial corps, which is continually manoeuvring over the fleet, is hoping to get the King as a passenger. His Majesty to-day witnessed big gun practice by the fleet on board the Neptune, the flagship of the Commander in Chief.

Premier Asquith, Mr. Churchill, and Mr. Balfour, who are attending the manoeuvres, all have been down in a submarine.

DR. BARCLAY RESIGNS AS HEAD OF BD.

Colleagues Loth to Accept His Resignation and Defer Taking Action Thereon.

SALE OF HIGH SCHOOL AGAIN DISCUSSED

Mr. McGreevy to Be Given One More Chance to Close Up Deal.

The members of the Protestant Board of School Commissioners were surprised at to-day's meeting when Rev. Dr. James Barclay tendered his resignation as chairman of the board.

Dr. Barclay stated that he was leaving Montreal on June 14 for Scotland, and would be absent all winter. He did not want to retain a position which he would be unable to fill and he begged to resign the chairmanship of the board, effective at the end of the present school term, which will be on June 30.

Rev. Dr. Symonds asked Dr. Barclay to reconsider the matter. He wanted to know if arrangements could not be made for the filling of the position during his absence?

Dr. Barclay replied that he did not want to hold a position which he could not fill, and he did not know just how long he would be absent. He intended to make a prolonged visit in the Old World.

Rev. Dr. Young paid a tribute to the retiring chairman, and Dr. Symonds moved, seconded by Rev. Dr. Young, that the Board "learns with profound regret of the retirement of its chairman."

Rev. Dr. Young said it was a great advantage to have a man like Dr. Barclay to look after the affairs of the board.

Ex-Ald. Turner declared that Dr. Barclay's retirement would be a decided loss to the educational institutions of the city.

It was finally decided not to accept the resignation until a full meeting of Board on June 10.

SALE OF H. S. SITE AGAIN UNDER DISCUSSION.

The sale of the High School, in Peel street was discussed at to-day's meeting of the Protestant Board. It was decided unanimously to tender Mr. Joseph C. McGreevy a deed of sale, and served a notarial protest requiring him to execute the deed and pay the first instalment of the purchase price under penalty of the final cancellation of the agreement.

Mr. Binmore, the secretary, informed the commissioners that two or three days ago Mr. McGreevy, accompanied by Mr. J. W. Gibb, notary, and a bank official had called at the Board's headquarters, stating that they were prepared to offer $342,000 as part payment for the property. The banker, he said, counted out the money, and put it back in his satchel. He never took his eyes off the money, and made no effort to hand over the cash.

Terms of the Sale.

Mr. Binmore then explained that the option of purchase granted by the Board to Mr. McGreevy on June 14, 1911, under which the High School property was to be sold to Mr. McGreevy for $15 per foot, making a total of $1,369,755, on September 14, Mr. McGreevy took up the option. Delays, he said, occurred in consequence of objections made by Mr. McGreevy, and on March 21, 1912, a supplementary agreement was made by which Mr. McGreevy agreed to fulfill the terms of the option and to pay to the Board the first instalment of the purchase price, $342,000, within thirty days from the passing of the Act of legislature authorizing the Board to dispose of any of its property by private sale. On May 3, he stated Mr. McGreevy called at the office of the Board, and served a notification and protest. He was accompanied by Mr. Gibb, who stated that the bank official was prepared to pay a sum of $342,000 conditionally upon the Board's signing a deed of sale in the form annexed to the protest and giving evidence of the execution of the by-laws concerned by the discharge of certain hypotheques upon portions of the property alleged to be outstanding.

Mr. Binmore said he was not the person to sign, on behalf of the Board, and informed Mr. Gibb that the hypotheques in question had been paid off in 1906.

The bank official then produced the money, counted it in the presence of the trustees, put it back in his bag and left the premises.

The protest left by the notary was forwarded to Messrs. Greenshields, Greenshields and Langlois, who submitted a letter at the meeting to-day recommending that Mr. McGreevy be tendered a deed of sale and requested to pay the first instalment without any further delay.

Rev. Dr. Barclay stated that the Board had acted with undue patience with Mr. McGreevy. It was decided to follow the advice of their attorneys.

New Junior Lacrosse League Schedule---Third Division Soccer Schedule

THERE WERE THREE BRILLIANT PERFORMANCES AT THE HORSE SHOW YESTERDAY.

"Man's best friend" again romped supreme at the Arena last night and a large number of spectators in Morning dress turned out for the second afternoon session of the Montreal Horse Show. The afternoon [illegible] presence of His Royal Highness the Duke and the [illegible] and Princess Patricia with the Duke out in the [illegible] presented the cup he had donated for mares and geldings.

The feature of the evening programme came when the judge summoned the empire in Class 789, the closing event. Thirty-one hunters, mounted and ridden by amateurs presided the box-holders with the chief excitement of the night. They were a likely looking lot, but many had much coaxing before they would attempt the jumps. Being all local horses and with local riders in the saddle, the interest was keen. The guardians of the Blue Ribbon in A. E. Cockburn, Carlingford, with the winner in the saddle made merry with popcorn at present.

But three pairs trotted out for the judging of teams of officers, riding two abreast over the jumps and the resulting contest was not very satisfactory, the mounts behaving badly. The first prize was awarded to Patterson, ridden by Captain Walter Long, D.S.O., A.D.C., and Donly, with Captain Walker-Sheriff in the saddle.

A Sellers Gough Fur Co's light waggon, with a magnificent gray in the shafts, walked out with the blue ribbon in Class 34. This was also a popular competition with the audience.

In the afternoon, lady riders were considerably to the front. Miss Enid Campbell on Mrs. Charles Meredith's Cerise won first in the ladies' saddle horses class (unbacked), with Miss G. Allan on Mr. C. W. McLean's entry, May Flower, second. Miss Campbell took second in the combination saddle and harness horses exceeding 15.2.

Mr. Charles Cassils was present in the afternoon and presented the Cassils Cup for heavy draught horses to the winning team of the Shedden Forwarding Co.

Judge E. C. Leeds has expressed himself as very much taken with the horses in the Show as typical of the Canadian breed. He is of the belief that the horses he has seen here this year rival the pick at the best shows in the United States.

The musical programme last night was much appreciated by those attending the show.

His Royal Highness the Governor-General will attend the performance Friday evening, Saturday morning and again Saturday evening. It is especially for the children that His Highness has consented to attend the Saturday morning session for this year, as in the past, the final session of the closing day will be an open one for the youngsters.

The following classes will be judged this evening, commencing at 8.15:—

Class No. 8.15 p.m.

31 Judging 5 heavy draught horses, shown to coal or Scotch carts. 8.25 p.m.

37 Judging 7 roadsters, 15 hands 2 inches and over. 8.45 p.m.

51 Judging 20 jumpers, over three jumps, 4 feet 6 inches, 5 feet and 5 feet 6 inches. 9.15 p.m.

55 Judging 4 pairs of horses shown before an appropriate trap for Gentlemen's use. 9.30 p.m.

BASEBALL GAMBLING HEAVY IN NEW YORK

Investigation Shows That Thousands of Dollars are Wagered on Big Games.

New York, May 9.—Reports that bookmakers and gamblers have been operating heavily at the big league baseball parks here and in other cities have stirred the New York club owners to an investigation. Every trace of the gambling evil is to be stamped out summarily, it is agreed, in a determined effort to save baseball from the stigma which crushed out the sport of horse racing in the United States. The club owners have been assured of help from the police in any action they take against the gamblers.

According to newspaper investigators, thousands of dollars are being wagered here daily on the results of the big league games, most of it being ventured through pools, for which tickets may be purchased at a price as low as 25 cents.

Hundreds of these pools are being operated from saloons and cigar stores in various sections of New York and Brooklyn.

A discussion arose over the speeding of the Montreal Fire Chief's automobile on the local streets, it being said that the car has been driven at a great speed when the Chief was not in it, and on the wrong side of the street.

Mr. Geo. A. McNamee, the secretary, reported that he received many inquiries from tourists regarding roads between Montreal and Toronto, but could not recommend any of them to automobilists.

It was decided to ask His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught to be patron and the following were elected as honorary members, Sir Lomer Gouin, Mayor Lavallee and the members of the Board of Control.

Changes in the Toronto Regatta

An Eight-oared Event for 140-lb Crews Added—Medals for Races on May 24 to be Different.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, May 9.—The Dominion Day Regatta Committee decided at a meeting last night to make some changes in and additions to the programme, chief among which will be the inclusion of an eight-oared event for 140 pound crews. It was decided also in stead of one kind of medal for all of the events to have three dies cast, one for the rowing, one for the swimming, and one for the canoeing events. Heretofore, swimmers and canoeists have received medals bearing a rowing design. A shield will be presented to the winning war canoe crew and medals to its individual members.

It is not expected the new island course will be ready for Dominion Day in which event the usual bay shore course will be utilized.

C.C.A. Regatta On August 3rd

Association Favorable to Affiliation With A. A. U. of C.—Ryan Not Likely to be Reinstated.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, May 9. Rufus Ryan, of Rugby fame, put under the ban by the Amateur Union, is in the limelight again. Rufus paddles in the New Edinburgh war canoe, and now wants the Canadian Canoe Association to lift the ban, and let him paddle in the C.C.A. regatta this year. It is hardly likely his request will be granted.

This year's C.C.A. regatta will be held over the Toronto Canoe Club course on August 3. The senior single blade race will be over a half mile course, with a turn instead of a half mile straightaway as in former years, the Canadian Canoe Association looks kindly on the A.A.U. of C.'s proposition to affiliate with the Union, and likely will get into line before the annual regatta.

ROY GEORGE CHALLENGES.

Wants to Meet Welterweights or Middleweights in Montreal.

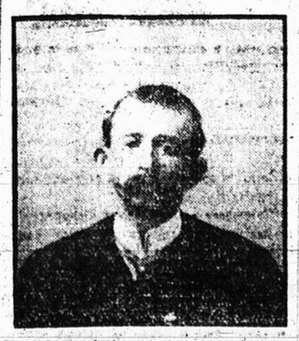

Sporting Editor, Montreal Star.

Sir,—I would like to challenge, through your paper, any welter or middleweight for a ten or twelve-round contest, to take place in or near Montreal. I am practically unknown here, but in my last bout which took place in Lethbridge, Alta., I knocked out in three rounds Mark Nelson, of Minot, N.D., who claims the North-West welter championship.

I am, Sir, yours respectfully,

ROY GEORGE.

MR. THOMAS McKEOWN.

President of the newly organized Big Four Junior Lacrosse League.

SOCCER MEN HELD FOUR MEETINGS LAST EVENING

The Third Division Drew Up Its Schedule for the Season.

Things were busy in Soccer affairs at the Central Y.M.C.A. last night, for four meetings were held. The First Division talked over the situation as it affected themselves, and had very little business to transact beyond receiving registration of players, as they have no league games for Saturday.

The Second Division, at their meeting, decided to play off Saturday's league fixtures, so as to keep their schedule intact. But followed the lead set by the Third, inasmuch as they will hand over all moneys collected on the grounds for the Titanic Fund. Rosemount said they could not play their Saturday's game against Crusaders, as the men wanted to see the Quebec Cup final. This means that Crusaders receive two point gratis.

The Third Division got through quite a lot of work, seeing that they ratified the schedule, as served up by the committee appointed for same. Very few remarks were passed upon it, and though running into October, the delegates appreciated the difficulties, set the committee owing to grounds being shared by so many different clubs, in the three leagues. Royal Rovers were not represented nor have they handed in their bond, or registered any players. This forgetfulness would ruin their chances of playing on Saturday, but the league did not want to deprive Rovers of the opening match and the loss of two points. So it was decided that if the Rovers paid in by Friday to the secretary, Mr. S. G. Harris, 1651 Mance street, and at the same time registered the players, all will be satisfactory.

The Referees' Association also met and fixed the officials to handle Saturday's league games.

WRIST BROKEN BY A PITCHED BALL.

Washington, May 9.—One of Walter Johnson's speed balls put Lee Tannehill, utility infielder of the Chicago White Sox, out of the game indefinitely yesterday. Tannehill's wrist was broken by a pitched ball. The crowd jeered the White Sox infielder as he trotted to first base rubbing his arm, for the ball seemed to have struck the bat.

Tannehill tried to field his position at short stop in the next inning, but his first attempt to throw to first resulted in a wild throw. An x-ray examination of the arm showed a cloth break.

Tannehill will return to Chicago to-day, and Blackburne will take his place.

The teams were practising on Fletcher's Field last evening.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Halifax, N.S., May 9.—The Wanderers' Rugby Football team, who are going to Montreal have been fortunate in the arrival of H. M. S. Cornwall, from Bermuda, yesterday afternoon, to give them a good practice this early in the year, and the teams will meet Saturday afternoon. Last of the Cornwall players who won the Rugby championship last year have been transferred to another station but they have a good team on board.

STEALING PLAYERS ALL THE TIME FROM CORNWALL

The Nursery of the Game Produces a New Crop Every Year.

Cornwall, Ont., May 9.—The Town of Cornwall is very often called the cradle of lacrosse in Canada. Nobody has ever disputed the title, and, indeed, it would be a hard matter to do so, for if there is a city, town, village or hamlet on this hemisphere that has sent abroad more lacrosse players than has Cornwall to uphold the lacrosse prestige of other places, that community would willingly be given all the credit. This year alone a full team, all good men, have left their Cornwall homes and are scattered all the way from Montreal to Vancouver. And, besides these twelve men, five others who have been away from Cornwall for a few years, will be found in the game again this year. In all, seventeen men who were reared in Cornwall will figure on outside teams this season, and this number may be slightly increased if some of the outside promoters have their way. Vancouver heads the list, with six; the Nationals are next, with five; Ottawa third, with three; Toronto, Tecumseh and the Canadians tie for fourth place, with one each. The complete list is as follows:—Newsy Lalonde, Angus Allen, Dalton Phelan, Donald Cameron, Cory Hesse, Fid. Cumming, with Vancouver; John White, with the Canadians, of Montreal; Henry Decarie, Ed. Clement, Secours, Charlie Degan and Eddie Degan, with the Nationals, of Montreal; W. Eastwood, John Tallon, John St. Thomas, with the Capitals, of Ottawa; Donald Smith, with the Tecumsehs, of Toronto; Henry Donihee, with the Torontos, of Toronto, and even without taking the names of the above players into consideration, there is still about a team and a half of seniors scattered through the town, and at least two full teams of coming players in the ranks of the intermediate teams of the town and immediate neighborhood. Lacrosse does not look like a dead letter in Cornwall.

LACROSSE NOTES

Ottawa, May 9. — The Capital Lacrosse Club made a start last evening, when the inaugural practice was called at Lansdowne Park. The round up was just for the purpose of allotting the players their uniforms and sticks, but the number of men on the job was far in excess of that at the inaugural practice in other years. The Capitals will practice every night from now until Victoria Day, when they open the National Lacrosse Union season against Cornwall at the Factory Town.

Billy Hague, of hockey fame, was present, and it was announced that he had signed up as goalkeeper. Herb. Goodwin, Harry Lavelle, Bruce Fairbairn, Jack Ashfield and Ernie Butterworth turned up, and it was announced that Pringle, Shea and Gogman would be in uniform Friday night. Lodge and Armstrong, of Almonte; Lyness, who played at Vancouver, and Tallon, a Cornwall boy, also reported.

New York, May 9. — A woman pleading before the Board of Review of the National Trotting Association yesterday was a feature of the proceedings, which are usually confined to men. Mrs. W. J. Whitton, of Peterboro, Canada, appeared, after her husband had twice failed to turn the board in his favor, and won the case of The Lady of the Lake, the mare which Whitton bought in alleged good faith as Susie Hall, to discover later that the horse was disbarred as a "ringer" in 1910.

CANADIAN OLYMPIC ENTRIES

Names Will Be Sent by Mail to Prevent Mistake—Cancellation by Wire.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, May 9—The Olympic rowing trials will be held at St. Catharines as scheduled. The committee this morning mailed the following entries to Sweden:

Argonaut and Winnipeg, eights; Argonaut and Don Rowing Club, fours; the latter entry being a new one. For the singles the names of Butler, Lepper, Kennedy and O'Neill. All but the latter will be at St. Catharines.

It was found advisable to mail the entries so that there would be no mistake about names, etc., while of any men who do not make the trip the entries can be cancelled by wire.

There will be a meeting of the Olympic athletic committee some time this week, when a list of athletes who appear to have a chance to make the Swedish trip will be drawn up and the men entered in the various events. Cancellations will then be sent of those not making the trip after the trials in Montreal on June 8.

Seasick all the Way Across

Jim Corkery, the Runner, Had a Rough Time.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, May 9.—Elwood Hughes, who has charge of Jim Corkery, the Irish-Canadians long distance runner who has entered for the polytecnic marathon, the annual English classic, reports in a letter received from Liverpool that Corkery was seasick almost throughout the entire voyage across. Their ship, the Virginian, was delayed by the sinking of the Titanic. The Virginian stood back but was of no assistance.

If Corkery's showing in England is sufficiently good the Irish-Canadians will send him to the Olympic games in Sweden.

Notes of Game

Yeager's return to the infield makes the Royals look like a new organization.

Mattern kept the Orioles guessing, and Dunn and his men were unable to solve the problem all afternoon.

Matty looks like the best pitcher that has come out of the majors this year. At least he is the only one winning any games.

That first-base movement of his is something that can't be duplicated and he caught two of the Orioles standing up.

Besides working well on the mound all day, Mattern drove out a pair of singles, one of which scored two runs. His fielding consisted of six assists and one error.

The Orioles got a man on in every inning, but there was nothing doing in the way of hits when hits meant runs.

Hanford got as far as first twice on errors by Gettman, but these did not figure in the scoring.

It was a lucky blow by Demmitt in the sixth that put the game away for the Royals. With two on ahead of him and no one out, Demmitt was instructed to bunt. He made two unsuccessful attempts, then he outguessed Dunn's men by bunting the third one. It went up in the air, and Danforth, caught off his guard, ran underneath it. That stirred the fireworks that ended with four runs.

Schmidt was pretty lucky again yesterday. Tuesday he got to first four times as a result of errors and the first time up yesterday got on in the same way. The next time he was hit, and the last trip up whipped a single to centre.

When it comes to getting away from first, however, the Butcher Boy was not there, and it was largely due to his poor baserunning that the Orioles did not score. In the first inning, with no one out, he was caught napping by Mattern and run down.

When the Orioles are going bad, they look like the worst team in the league. A winning club always looks good.

Adkins pitched the first inning, but was chased after pitching two balls to Demmitt in the second. He waved his arms and started to walk towards third base when the second one was called, and was immediately removed from the scene.

Roth had a pretty good day again. He drove in the first run of the game and held the Birds glued to the bases.

Catcher Kleinow, who retired from Tuesday's game with an injured hand, will be sent home to-night, and will rejoin the club again in Rochester in about ten days.

Dunn said last night that he was well satisfied with his team as it stood at the present time, and that he was not in the market for any players.

If rain does not prevent to-day's contest, it will be Vickers or Dygert against Viebahn.

Dunn says Umpire Doyle had no cause for putting Adkins out of the game. It did seem as if the Ump was a little hasty, and then after the trouble started Doc told him something worth while.

Cincinnati had a close shave yesterday, but Bobby Keefe was equal to the occasion, and they still lead the Giants by half a game.

There was an opportunity for a lot of double plays yesterday, but the Royals infield did not seem to be working just right. There was some work around second base.

Let us hope the rain will not interfere with the winning streak.

ROYALS WITH MATTERN ON FIRING LINE AND YEAGER BACK AT THIRD WHITEWASHED JACK DUNN'S MEN

Behind every cloud is a silver lining, gentle reader. If you don't believe us, ask the 1,400 dyed-in-the-wool fans who journeyed out to Atwater Park yesterday afternoon, grimly expecting to see Jack Dunn's pirates again stamp all over our hired men.

Those estimable persons afflicted with angina pectoris, i.e., weak hearts, should not read further. The shock may be too great for their constitutions.

For, instead of being again and once more ingloriously vanquished, the Royals performed like a real ball team and not only defeated but applied the kalsomine to the visitors.

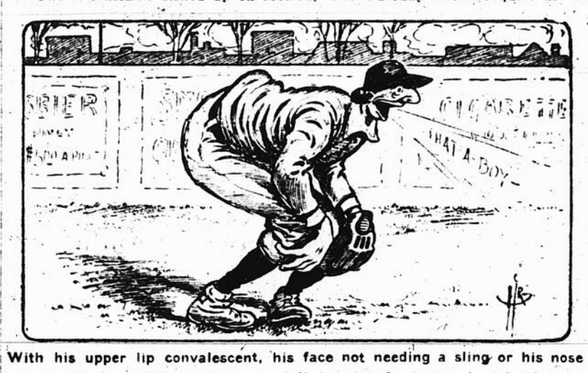

This marvellous change of front is not hard to figure out. There were two chief factors in the unexpected victory: one was the presence of a live wire pitcher on the firing line, and the other was Joe Yeager.

Joe has been under medical attention for some days, and he reported for duty with about a yard and a quarter of sticking plaster adhering jauntily to his chin. However, his voice was in good repair, and he had it working overtime all through the encounter.

Yeager Makes Things Go.

You have got to hand it to Joe. He not only third-bases with distinction and eclat, but his presence on the line-up not only puts ginger into his fellow craftsmen, but into the paid attendance as well. Joe keeps talking, and the habit spreads to the grand stand.

The two affairs dished up on Monday and Tuesday were as quiet as a

With his upper lip convalescent, his face not needing a sling or his nose a crutch any longer, that genial dispenser of ginger, Joseph Yeager, Esq., once more made his appearance at third, amidst many audible sounds of satisfaction.

Quakers' meeting or a Pine Avenue bridge party, but yesterday's matinee was marked by witty quips and jests and frequent laughter. Joe got the crowd enjoying themselves, and at the same time had his team playing air-tight ball.

Once more and all together, you have got to hand it to Joe.

The encounter was marked by two unseemly displays of temper, the silvery soprano leader and the beef trust twirler, Doc Adkins, being the perpetrators.

Dunn has been feeling pretty good since planting his number tens on this fair portion of President Taft's Adjunct. He was counting on taking four straight games from the Royals and four more from Toronto before shaking the dust of Canada off his classic hoofs aforesaid.

Unseemly Display s of Temper.

However, at the end of one and a half innings, he began to have a premonition that all was not going well, and he grew peevish. A close decision at first on Parent upset his equilibrium.

He ran over and grabbed Umpire Guthrie by the left elbow and the following animated conversation ensued:

"X X ! ! !" yelled Dunn to the arbitrator.

"To the coop," retorted the latter icily.

"X X X ! ! ! — X X X X," said Dunn in stinging accents, as he retired savagely to the bench, where he viewed the subsequent proceedings in sullen silence.

Adkins, the fattest pitcher in captivity, was not to be outdone by his boss, and immediately afterward his temper slipped its moorings.

Demmitt was at bat. "Ball one," shouted the arbitrator. The elephantine twirler lobbed another to the plate which was so high that the batter would have required a stepladder to reach it. "Ball two," announced the paid minion of President Barrow.

This was too much for the perspiring but otherwise worthy curve artist, and he threw his glove to the Dominion of Canada, glaring all the while at Doyle.

"To the bench," announced that official. Adkins marched half way to that destination, all the while ejaculating a vociferous cross fire of vituperation, and from that vantage point he hurled the aforesaid glove into the grand stand, where it struck an inoffensive elector on the proboscis.

Danforth Was the Victim.

Outside of these two unseemly incidents, the game was a pleasant one to witness. A young man named Danforth, who had the pleasure of participating in the Philadelphia Athletics' share of the world series gate receipts last autumn, and who has been loaned to Dunn, took up the Fat Man's burden.

This same young man won several games for Connie Mack last summer, but the local hired men took to his offerings like a young girl to a Picture representing the dramatic removal of Doc Adkins from the ball lawn. When the Doc is at one end of the field the other end goes up in the air.

Sunday ice cream, touching him up for eight hits and five runs.

Danforth may win quite a few games in this league before the summer is spent, but not just yet at our expense, thank you.

Schmidt Fell Into Trance.

One of the features of the combat was the display of base running staged and produced by one Schmidt, who first bases for the visitors.

He had evidently been out late the night previous and was trying to overtake a little much-needed sleep on the base paths. He was slumbering peacefully just to the leeward of first, when Catcher Roth signalled to Pitcher Mattern, who threw the sphere to Gandil. "Wake up, you're it," said Chic as he applied the pill to Mr. Schmidt's estimable but bulky person.

Again in the fifth inning Mr. Schmidt got down to first by one of the many devious ways he has of attaining that station. Mr. Walsh came up to bat and scorched a single into left field. A fast runner would have got to third easily.

Not so, Mr. Schmidt! He reached second all right and after taking a few steps toward third anchored his bulky person and went off into another snooze.

Our Mr. Demmitt, who has an arm like a piston rod, threw the ball to second and our talented shortstop informed the sleeper that it was Tag Day.

We have no special call to aid Baltimore towards the pennant, but we cannot refrain from advising Mr. Dunn in future to see that his first baser gets all the sleep his system requires in the usual period for slumber.

Roth Starred Again.

What may be called the Lush-Roth Mystery deepens. Roth was once more behind the bat, and he performed very satisfactorily. Not a base was pilfered on him, and his hitting was away above par.

Once more it seems timely and in order to remark that while Mr. Roth may not come up to the requirements of Mr. Lush, he looks very good to the hoi polloi.

Mattern allowed eight hits and three passes, but when men were on the paths he put on the brakes and they couldn't solve his delivery. He was also prominent at the bat with two healthy singles and his six assists indicate a busy and highly successful afternoon in the field.

INTERNATIONAL THREE-BALL GAME AT NORTH BERWICK

French Champion Beats Herreshoff, New York, and Laidlay, London.

London, May 9. Fred Herreshoff, of New York, who was runner-up to Hall Hutton, last year's American champion, played a three-ball match with J. E. Laidlay, ex-amateur champion of England and Arnaud Massey, of Nivelle, the French champion, over the North Berwick old course this morning.

Massey beat Laidlay five, four, and Harreshoff four, three. The American defeated Daidley two to one in a single in the forenoon.

Johnson has Started to Train

Special to The Montreal Star.

Chicago, May 9. When Jack Johnson enters the ring July 4 against Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, he will weigh 215, according to a prediction he dies when the champion lifted the beam at 234. Johnson planned to do his first boxing to-day with Marty Cutler. Since his accident in Paris some time ago he has not dared put the gloves to fear of injuring his shoulder.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

Toronto, May 9.—Toronto carried off yesterday's game from Jersey City with a score of 2 to 1. Their victory was due to the work of Rudolph. Besides pitching a two-hit game, Rudolph had three doubles out of three times at bat. In addition he stole third, making it possible for the Leafs to win in the seventh. The Skeeters should have been shut out, getting their single run on three successive errors. President Barrow, of the International League, was a spectator.

Score by innings:

Jersey City	000000100—	1
Toronto	00000010x—	2

Batteries—Rudolph and Fischer; Mc Hale and Wells.

Rochester, N.Y., May 9.—Ed. Klepfer, the big boy of the Rochester staff, pitched a great game, and had his pals been up to snuff in their fielding he would have shut the Grays out instead of beating them 6 to 3. The visitors made but three real hits, though credited with eight. The Busters hit the ball hard at all times. Rochester bought Bennie Kauf, an outfielder from the New York American Score.

Rochester	10201100x—	6	1
Providence	00000002—	3	4

Batteries—Klepfer and Blair; Harden, Thomas and Beckendorf.

Buffalo, N.Y., May 9.—Newark trimmed the Buffaloes 6 to 3, with Beebe the Bisons' best pitcher, in the box. As in the previous games of the series, the visitors out-hit the locals and gave Dent excellent support, while the mis-plays of the Bisons helped to fill up the Indians' run column. Score:

CRITICIZE SYSTEM OF FINING WOMEN TO STOP TRAFFIC

Mr. W. A. Coote Tells of Efforts in Great Britain to End the Evil.

[illegible] of the white slave traffic throughout the world and the organized [illegible] movement to put an end to it, especially in operation in Canada, formed the principal themes of the [illegible] meeting to hear Mr. William Alexander Coote, secretary of the National Vigilance Association of Great Britain.

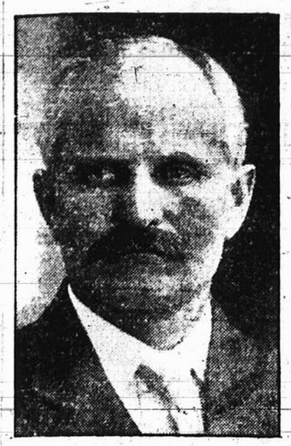

The meeting was held in the new rooms of the Chapel Organization on Mansfield street under the auspices of the Local Council of Women and was attended by a number of the most prominent of those interested in social work in Montreal. The proposal of the speaker of the afternoon to [illegible] up courts for the welfare and protection of women with European and British organizations engaged in the same work received the cordial support of those present, the gathering voted it proposable that co-operation with the international bureau for the suppression of traffic will be effected without delay.

Mr. Arthur French criticized freely the practice followed in the local Recorder's Court in dealing with offenders against the social laws. The system of fining persons of this class, he stated, was not effective, however profitable it might be to the treasuries of the city and province. Imprisonment was the only way to check the ever-growing evil, he insisted.

Mr. Coote in his address told those present of some of the women-trafficking evils of Europe had directed its efforts towards the United States when the exercise of the continent had made the operation difficult in Great Britain and the continent. Now that the United States was co-operating with other European countries there was danger that the syndicate might seek new fields in Canada and, Mr. Coote declared, that it behoved all true Canadians to be on their guard against the invasion. There might not be any well-defined activity at present in this respect, he said, but the danger was at the very doors of the Dominion.

The principle upon which the British society worked, Mr. Coote explained, was to co-operate with officialdom, should backed by strong public opinion and the sympathetic co-operation of the societies, would do the most effective work towards the stamping out [illegible]

AUTOBUS SERVICE FOR CITY STREETS IS RECOMMENDED

Civic Legislation Committee Reports Favorably to Council—Five Cent Fares.

The principle of permitting autobuses to run in streets of the city was approved of at the meeting of the Civic Legislation Committee and a series of streets were mapped out in which they should operate.

In the report made to council no mention was made of any particular company to which the right to operate the busses should be given but it is practically certain that the Montreal Autobus Company will be given any franchise that the Council may give out at present.

Representatives from this company appeared before the committee and informed the members it was their intention to run such vehicles and asked for a contract. They were willing to give each passenger a seat, but at the same time they desired to have platforms on the back of busses on which several passengers could stand. They did not intend having straps in the busses, as is the case in the street cars.

A Five Cent Fare.

It was further decided that the company getting a franchise should charge a five cent straight fare and that there should be a five minutes' service during rush hours. During ordinary hours the service will be ten minutes. It will be optional with the company to run busses after midnight, but if they are operated the charge will be ten cents.

It was stated by Ald. O'Connell that council in all probability would demand many changes in the routes decided upon, but Ald. L. A. Lapointe pointed out that it would be hard to satisfy all the aldermen as to routes. It will not be possible for the company to compete all at once with the Street Railway Company," he said. "We had better now submit the scheme to the city council for consideration."

This was done and the committee adjourned. The following routes were drafted:

OUTREMONT TO BORROW.

A Quick Start in Public Works in the Town.

At last night's meeting of the Outremont Council it was decided to call for tenders for municipal bonds to the extent of four hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

Councillor Little reported that the skating rink which had been conducted by the council during the winter months had been a success. The receipts from the rink amounted to $779.15, and the disbursements had been $819.45, but the council had assets in the shape of timber and other articles to the value of $100 which would do for next year.

It was stated by the engineer that thirteen hours after the contracts for sewers had been awarded work of construction was commenced, which was a record.

A letter was read from M. Samuel, on behalf of the Spanish and Portuguese Jewish Congregation, holding the council responsible for damage to their cemetery by the overflow of water. The matter was referred to the engineer.

Drink Now Means

Hard Work In Old Age.

Use your brains a little. Just think. If you succeed in coaxing yourself that liquor does you no harm, mentally or physically, you will admit that it does you NO GOOD. It costs money and keeps you from making money. You can't add to the property you now have by drinking liquor, but you can subtract from it. You should now be planning for plenty. Old age will come. You can pass it in peace and plenty—if you stop drinking. If you live to reach old age—well, you can guess the kind of an old man you will be—nervous, shattered, palsied, a burden to yourself and to your family. The Gatlin Treatment cures the liquor habit in THREE DAYS under contract. Come to the Gatlin Institute to-day and be cured. The Gatlin Treatment is harmless. There are no hypodermic injections, and the cure is positive. In THREE DAYS you can return home, renewed in mind and body and nerves, and in a fit condition to solve life's problems—and to live and enjoy living—to grasp all the good things that come your way. The Gatlin Institute contracts to cure all its patients in THREE DAYS' time, to their perfect satisfaction, or treatment costs nothing. Call, or write for interesting books of particulars, copies of contract to cure and other information. THE GATLIN INSTITUTE, 148 St. Hubert street (corner Dorchester), Montreal. Tel. East 4224.

Golden Nuggets.—Beat yolks of two eggs lightly, add six level teaspoons granulated sugar, six heaping teaspoons chopped walnuts, half teaspoon vanilla; drop on paper half teaspoon of mixture about two inches apart; bake in moderate oven; remove from paper when cold.

Vanilla Strips.—To a quarter pound almonds ground through grinder (or a quarter pound almond paste) add one pound granulated sugar and whites of two eggs beaten stiff, one tablespoon vanilla; put powdered sugar on bread board and knead mixture like bread dough, roll out very thin, then cut into strips about two inches long and half an inch wide; bake in moderate oven.

Almond Diamonds.—Beat whites of four eggs stiff, add yolks and beat again; then add four ounces each of finely cut almonds and citron, half ounce each of cinnamon and cloves; add flour enough to make soft dough, roll out thin and cut into diamond shapes about an inch long and wide; bake slowly. Do not use any baking powder.

OUR EIGHTH COMPETITION

How Best to Develop a Child's Character—Competition Will Close on May 18—Ten Prizes Will Be Given.

We have had competitions about clothes and housekeeping and accounts and various domestic problems and now we feel it is time to turn our attention to the child. The twentieth century is said to be the child's century and there is much to uphold this view. In this Canada's leading city we are preparing for a Child Welfare Exhibition and all matters connected with the child are prominently before the public. What we now want is to get our mothers to tell the means adopted by them to bring up their girls and boys so that they will be strong men and women, physically and spiritually, prepared to cope successfully with the trials and temptations of the world. This competition is very broad in its character as we want to know all about the child's training from its first dawning of intelligence to its final launching into the world. Practical experiences are the most helpful and the telling of mistakes assists others to avoid them.

Answers are limited to three hundred words and must be received at The Star Office, marked Eighth Competition, not later than May 18.

The first prize is ten dollars, the second five, third three, and seven prizes of a dollar each.

Clothes at the Horse Show

The Horse Show has been called a Clothes Show and this might be amended to a Clothes-horse Show. It is certainly true that every woman makes an effort to look her best and brightest and prettiest for the social event which ushers in the fair month of May. The trees and shrubs are putting on a fresh mantle of green. Why should not we don a fresh mantle likewise? The tulips and the hyacinths are making bright splatches of color on the brown earth. Why should not we blossom like the flowers? Every woman cannot bud and blossom as she might wish as there is always the financial side to be considered. But few indeed are the women who cannot give some fresh touch to their appearance if it be but a pink rose in the hat or a spotless muslin tabot. Old suits can be cleaned and pressed, old blouses renovated, old hats brightened by fresh trimming.

It is an innate characteristic of womenkind to wish to look well in the spring, and it is a good characteristic if it kept well within the bounds of the purse. But all can enjoy pretty things on others, whether they can afford them on themselves or not, and therefore a chat on clothes seen at the Horse Show may not come amiss. Hats are always the first consideration. A smart hat will lend chic to the quietest dress, while a dowdy hat will spoil the prettiest frock that ever came from Paris packed in layers of tissue paper. Therefore let us look at the hats first. Feathers, feathers, everywhere, is the first impression. We have been told that feathers are going out but this decree is absolutely contradicted at the Horse Show. There are not many of the old willow plumes laid across the hat crown, but when they are used they are put upright and twisted into cockade shapes. Ostrich feathers there are in abundance, but they are chiefly in the natural, uncurled style. Good it is to report that ospreys are distinctly less worn. Few, indeed, were the hats on the opening night of the Horse Show trimmed with what a humane society in London called last summer on a sandwich board, "The Badge of Cruelty." This may be due to the influence of the Royal family who never wear ospreys. I do not remember ever having seen either Her Royal Highness, the Duchess of Connaught or Princess Patricia with an osprey-trimmed hat, so doubtless they are keeping up the traditions of the reigning house. After feathers come flowers. Some of the smartest and prettiest hats were trimmed most simply with wreathes or upstanding spikes of flowers. These were chiefly small, the enormous flowers apparently having given place to the smaller. The hats themselves were of all shapes and sizes. Large, small, turned up or turned down, as long as they suited the wearer and did not perch high upon the head they were acceptable. The frocks were exceedingly pretty, the tendency towards brighter colors giving a gay note to the assemblage. Taffeta was much worn and when made in rather a quaint and picturesque style was extremely effective, especially on the slim young girls. One such wearer had a sweet rose-pink taffeta jacket over a grey frock, another had a shot blue and grey frock with fichu and deep girdle. Chiffon and other soft and semi-transparent materials were also popular, two or more colors often being combined. The panier effect was not in evidence, although many of the skirts showed a distinct tendency to greater fulness.

Some London Fashions

The towering height of the new millinery creations is also observed in the hair ornaments this season. Even jewelry has been affected by this craze to make oneself look several inches taller. Coronets, which last year took the form of a flat fillet of gems, this year are made in a high, upstanding design. Gemmed wings for the hair, or ribbon mounts, glittering with precious stones, will also be worn. These rise from the right-hand side instead of, as is more usual, the left, and are very high.

Jewel Fancies.

To name a favorite jewel for the season of 1912 is almost impossible, for all the large counturiers are advising each of their patrons to adopt a certain jewel, and to make the color of the dress blend with it or at least to choose carefully the jewels worn with each gown.

Pearl chaplets for the hair and neck will be seen, but the braided necklet will be most popular. This may be due to the fact that only a few can afford a single row of matched pearls, whereas little seed pearls can be woven into a lovely braid and interlaced with diamonds at a much smaller cost.

Dainty little ribbon watches are being worn by some of the smartest women. These are made of pale tinted velvet ribbon, studded down each side with tiny brilliants. The watch, which is no larger than a threepenny piece, is surrounded by small diamonds and is set at the end of the velvet. The velvet band is fixed to the dress with a diamond brooch in the shape of a bow, or it may be buckled to the wrist.

Lucky charms are still worn by the superstitious. One of the most popular at present is the black cat made of Irish bog oak, which is worn on a little black velvet ribbon. The black cat can be used as a pendant, but it is usually worn tied round the wrist with its black ribbon "lead."

Heavy earrings made of curious, tinted stones are being shown by several jewellers in Regent Street. They are almost grotesque in size, but they will appeal to those women who adopt an oriental style of dress. Red, blue and flame-colored stones, that gleam dully like an opal or amber rather than with the clear sparkle of the diamond, are much used. These large gems are set in silver claws and hung on a silver chain.

Revivals in Bijoux.

Brooches have been out of fashion for some time, but this year will have a revival. This includes not only the little gemmed safety-pin for laces, but also brooches of larger and more solid design. Some weird but effective oriental looking brooches are formed of flat pieces of enamel in extraordinary shades of green and gold, green and blue, and orange and rose, surrounded by a narrow band of tiny stones to match.

Many will be glad to hear that the enormous rings are going out of fashion at last, for it was impossible to wear gloves over these gigantic jewels with any degree of comfort or without risk of ripping the gloves. There has been a revival of the flat getting seen in the days of our grandmothers, and even the little posy rings with an old-world motto printed inside may now be bought.

The Real Pierrot Ruff.

The newest think in neck fixings is an altogether joyful, really, truly ruff for Pierrot. There have been heaps of them, so-called, but this at last is the real thing. Daring and dainty, built out of fine white tulle, wide as one's shoulders—impossibly wide—as exaggerated and silly and delightful as ever the heart of Mademoiselle herself could wish, it fairly sings of itself the "Au claire de lune, mon ami," etc., that this style always recalls till no one, saving the wee pointed rosebuds darting out of the silvery mist of its folds, could help loving it to distraction. Sheer as a dragon fly's wing, exquisite, perishable—it would take the moth-eaten soul of the stupidest old German professor, deep dyed in philosophy, to condemn this delicious piece of "folly."

TRENCHANT ATTACK ON ADMINISTRATION BY MR. MARECHAL

Ald. Boyd and Mr. Gault Address Stirring Meeting in St. Lawrence Division.

Mr. L. T. Marechal, K. C., the Conservative candidate in Chambly County, and Dr. Dessauliniers, the Liberal candidate, addressed a large gathering of electors on the square outside the Town Hall at Longueuil yesterday afternoon, after the nomination formalities had been dispensed with. Mr. Marechal was supported by Mr. Joseph Boucherville, Mr. J. Archambault, and others, while Hon. Jeremie Decarie was present to back the claims of Dr. Desaulniers.

Mr. Marechal, who was the first to address the meeting, repeated the trenchant attack he had made on the previous evening at St. Lambert on the Gouin administration, declaring in the most emphatic terms that it had squandered the money of the province in an absolutely scandalous manner.

He strongly criticised the good roads policy of the Government pointing out that there was an utter lack of system in the proposed method of spending money on roads, and that much of the money would be lost by being expended on isolated patches of roads in parishes far distant from the big towns and the national highways of the province. He was warmly applauded when he said that what was wanted first was good main highways, giving adequate intercommunication throughout the province, and that if elected this would be the policy he would adopt in order to get the best results for all.

Building of Highways.

He was prepared to support the giving of generous assistance to the building of highways on a systematic basis, and he was prepared also to support generous expenditures on education—not by building manificent monuments for the benefit of contractor friends, as the Gouin Government had done, but by building schools in localities where they would be of the most assistance to working men, and by augmenting the present meagre remuneration of the school teachers.

He also denounced as scandalous the building of a three million dollar gaol at Bordeaux, saying criminals had been given a palace, while the hard-working teachers who moulded the minds and hearts of the coming generation were kept on starvation wages.

Dr. Dessaulniers defended the policy of the Gouin Government as regards roads and education, and claimed that he had greater claims to the consideration of the electors of the south shore than Mr. Marechal because he had been chosen by the Electors of the south shore, while Mr. Marechal was the naminee of people on the other side of the river. He claimed that the Gouin Government had not only made the province greater and more prosperous, but that it had been the best administration the province had ever had. Mr. Marechal, he remarked, had not attacked him personally, but had admitted he was a good deputy. He was sure the electors would endorse Mr. Marechal's opinion by a great majority.

Hon. Mr. Decarie spoke at considerable length on what the Gouin Government had done for education and agriculture, and he defended the building of the three million dollar prison by declaring that it was necessary, and that the money spent on it had not been wasted.

MR. BOYD DENOUNCES GOUIN ADMINISTRATION.

Scathing denunciations of the administration of affairs under the Gouin regime were delivered last evening by Ald. Leslie H. Boyd, K.C., Conservative candidate in St. Lawrence division, and Mr. C. E. Gault, conservative candidate in St. George's division at a rousing rally in the former's committee rooms, 41 St Catherine street west.

Ald. Boyd said that he had accepted the nomination in St. Lawrence division as the Conservative candidate, because he felt that the Conservative party was advancing a progressive programme.

The Gouin Government, by their long lease of power, had forgotten the wishes of the people, who had handed over their interests to them, and had become neglectful and wasteful of the funds, which the people of the province were contributing to be expended in their general interests. During the past fifteen years, the revenues of the province have been increased by three millions of dollars, and, notwithstanding that fact, the Government has not given the people any results, proportionate with such an increase.

A Government of Taxation.

The Gouin Government is known as a government of taxation. Notwithstanding the large increase in the revenue, instead of reducing the taxes, they have added new ones. They have increased the taxation on commercial corporations, which taxation is a discrimination against these companies. Furthermore, the Government has collected enormous revenues on all estates in the way of a succession duty of which the city of Montreal bears three-quarters.

Mr. Boyd declared that the Government has become a money-spending one, absolutely ignoring the people, who are compelled to pay these taxes.

The policy of the Government as regards the city of Montreal has been one which should arouse the indignation of every elector of the city. The actions of the Government during the past two sessions in connection with the Montreal Tramways Company should alone condemn them. The representations of the city as regards the Montreal Tramways Company have been entirely ignored, the city's rights having been trampled on at every opportunity.

"We now find the Government endorsing the candidature in Beauharnois of Mr. E. A. Robert, the president of this very Tramways Company," said Mr. Boyd. "And, if he is elected, and the Government sustained, it would practically hand the city over into his hands as far as any legislation is concerned as between the city of Montreal and the Tramways Company."

Mr. Gault Well Received.

Mr. Gault was enthusiastically received. In opening, he said that the reports from all over the province were of a most encouraging nature for the Conservative party, and he felt that Mr. Tellier would be returned to power with a good working majority.

In speaking of the ten million dollar grant for good roads, Mr. Gault said that the bill reads for the improvement of roads and this might be interpreted to mean repairs and not actual permanent roadways. Under the provisions of the bill, municipalities might spend a certain amount on the repairing of their roads and demand repayment from the Government. The Government was expending $500 annually for the support of each prisoner in the jail, while only about $100 a year is given to the school teachers in salaries.

Notwithstanding the Premier's expressed desire that he considered on his own record, irrespective of federal politics, pamphlets are being circulated concerning the navy, the Keewatin school question and the Ne Temere decree, showing that the Government was still appealing on racial and religious grounds.

Vigorous addresses were delivered by Messrs. G. A. Forbes and F. A. Covert.

JACKSON WIRE PORT EVIDENCE WAS DESTROYED

Testimony in Steel Trust Dissolution Suit Brings Out Startling Facts.

New York, May 9.—The destruction of the evidence used before the grand jury in the famous "Jackson Wire Pool" cases by officials of the American Steel and Wire Company, one of the big subsidiaries of the United States Steel Corporation, was the principal subject of the testimony to-day in the hearings of the Government's dissolution suit against the corporation before Commissioner Henry P. Brown. It is the Government's purpose, according to Judge Dickinson, special counsel in the case, to determine whether the papers were destroyed before or after the filing of the pending suit on October 26 last.

SALES AGENT SAYS HE BURNED EVIDENCE.

The testimony was given by Harry A. Whitney, until recently a sales agent at the Worcester, Mass., works of the American Steel and Wire Company, who asserted that he personally burned the evidence—a trunk full of minutes, and other records of one of the pools in which the wire conspiracy is alleged to have participated. Whitney said that he had received the instructions to destroy the evidence from Frank Baackee, vice-president of the company.

Judge Dickinson put into the evidence an interesting letter from E. E. Jackson, "superviser" of the pool, written on May 3, 1906, to the Roebling firm in answer to a complaint that information concerning the pool's practices were "leaking out." The letter read in part:

"If I were able to control the talk of the members of our association, I would. As far as this office is concerned our motto is "Addition, Division and Silence!" As to how the leakage can be stopped I am frank to say I don't know."

Inspectors Pass Tainted Meat

United States Department Partially Admits Charges of Representative Nelson.

Special to The Montreal Star

Washington, May 9.—The Department of Agriculture has admitted that in the past six years six million carcasses of meat, tainted by disease, have been passed as wholesome by its inspectors and sold throughout the United States.

Hurrying to its own defence against the charges brought by Representative Nelson that a conspiracy exists between the packing interests and the officials of the department, an official circular was issued saying that if an animal is so diseased as to render the meat unfit for food, the meat is destroyed, while, if the disease be slight and of such a character that the fitness of the meat for food is not affected, then the meat is passed.

SYNOPSIS.

The beautiful Miss Challoner, a millionaire in her own right, dies suddenly in the drawing-room of one of New York's most fashionable hotels. She has fallen dead suddenly on the floor, and there is no evidence of the agency by which she met her death, save one or two drops of blood over her heart. Mysterious stranger is seen to leave the hotel and stoop in the snow. He is recognized as being a great inventor and an ardent socialist, named Brotherson.

Fellow-guests in the hotel receive a letter from the police clearing Mr. Brotherson. Meanwhile a celebrated detective, Gryce, is called in by the police. He goes over the ground carefully with his assistant, Sweetwater.

Detective Gryce decides it must be a case of suicide, and searches for a weapon. Discovers one of the guests has picked up sharp-pointed paper-cutter during confusion. There are no stains of blood on it. How was it cleaned?

The clue proves disappointing. Mr. Challoner, father of the victim, gives Detective Gryce packet of love letters signed with initials only, showing that she had been carrying on "secret" correspondence with unknown admirer. One of these, threatening in tone, is read by the Coroner.

"It is the only letter of them all which conveys anything like a reproach," proceeded the coroner. "The rest are ardent enough and, I must acknowledge that, so far as I have allowed myself to look into them, sufficiently respectful. Her surprise must consequently have been great at receiving these lines, and her resentment equally so. If the two met afterwards—But I have not shown you the signature. To the poor father it conveyed nothing—some facts have been kept from him—but to us—" Here he whirled the letter about so that Sweetwater, at least, could see the name, "it conveys a hope that we may yet understand Miss Challoner."

"Brotherson!" exclaimed the young detective in loud surprise. "Brotherson! The man who—"

"The man who left this building just before or simultaneously with the alarm caused by Miss Challoner's fall. It clears away some of the clouds besetting us. She probably caught sight of him in the lobby, and in the passion of the moment forgot her usual instincts and drove the sharp pointed weapon into her heart."

"Brotherson!" The words came softly now, and with a thoughtful intonation. "He saw her die."

"Why do you say that?"

"Would he have washed his hands in the snow if he had been in ignorance of the occurrence? He was the real, if not active, cause of her death and he knew it. Either he—Excuse me, Dr. Heath and Mr. Gryce, it is not for me to obtrude my opinion."

"Have you settled it beyond dispute that Brotaerson is really the man who was seen doing this?"

"No, sir. I have not had a minute for that job, but I'm ready for the business any time you see fit to spare me."

"Let it be to-morrow, or, if you can manage it, to-night. We want the man even if he is not the hero of that romantic episode. He wrote these letters, and he must explain the last one. His initials, as you see, are not ordinary ones, and you will find them at the bottom of all these sheets. He was brave enough or arrogant enough to sign the questionable one with his full name. This may speak well for him, and it may not. It is for you to decide that. Where will you look for him, Sweetwater?" No one here knows his address."

"Not Miss Challoner's maid?"

"No, the name is a new one to her. But she made it very evident that she was not surprised to hear that her mistress was in secret correspondence with a member of the male sex. Much can be hid ien from servants, but not that."

"I'll find the man; I have a double reason for doing that now; he shall not escape me."

Dr. Heath expressed his satisfaction and gave some orders. Meanwhile, Mr. Gryce had not uttered a word.

VIII.

STRANGE DOINGS FOR GEORGE

That evening George sat so long over the newspapers that in spite of my absorbing interest in the topic engrossing me, I fell asleep in my cosy little rocking chair. I was awakened by what seemed like a kiss falling very softly on my forehead, though, to be sure, it may have been only the flap of George's coat sleeve as he stooped over me.

"Wake up, little woman," I heard, "and trot away to bed. I'm going out and may not be in till daybreak."

"You' going out' at ten o'clock at night, tired as you are—as we both are! What has happened—Oh!"

This broken exclamation escaped me as I perceived in the dim background by the sitting-room door, the figure of a man who called up recent, but very thrilling, experiences.

"Mr. Sweetwater," explained George. "We are going out together. It is necessary, or you may be sure I should never leave you."

I was quite wide awake enough by now to understand. "Oh, I know. You are going to hunt up the man. How I wish—"

But George did not wait for me to express my wishes. He gave me a little good advice as to how I had better employ my time in his absence and was off before I could find words to answer.

This ends all I have to say about myself, but the events of that night carefully related to me by George are important enough for me to describe them, with all the details which is their rightful due. I shall tell the story as I have already been led to do in other portions of this narrative, as though I were present and shared the adventure.

As soon as the two were in the street, the detective turned towards George, and said:

"Mr. Anderson, I have a great deal to ask of you. The business before us is not a simple one, and I fear that I shall have to subject you to more inconvenience than is customary in matters like this. Mr. Brotherson has vanished, that is, in his own proper person, but I have an idea that I am on the track of one who will lead us very directly to him if we manage the affair carefully. What I want of you, of course, is mere identification. You saw the face of the man who washed his hands in the snow, and would know it again, you say. Do you think you could be quite sure of yourself, if the man were differently dressed and differently occupied?"

"I think so. There's his height and a certain strong look in his face. I cannot describe it."

"You don't need to. Come, we're all right. You don't mind making a night of it?"

"Not if it is necessary."

That we can't tell yet. And with a characteristic shrug and smile, the detective led the way to a taxicab which stood in waiting at the corner.

A quarter of an hour of rather fast riding brought them into a tangle of streets on the east side. As George noted the swarming sidewalks and listened to the noises incident to an over-populated quarter, he could not forbear, despite the injunction he had received, to express his surprise at the direction of their search.

"Surely," said he, "the gentleman I have described can have no friends here." Then, bethinking himself, he added: "But if he has reasons to fear the law, naturally he would seek to lose himself in a place as different as possible from his usual haunts."

"Yes, that would be some men's way," was the curt, almost indifferent, answer he received. Sweetwater was looking this way and that from the window beside him, and now, leaning out gave some directions to the driver which altered their course.

When they stopped, which was in a few minutes, he said to George:

"We shall have to walk now for a block or two. I'm anxious to attract no attention, nor is it desirable for you to do so. If you can manage to act as if you were accustomed to the place and just leave all the talking to me, we ought to get along first-rate. Don't be astonished at anything you see, and trust me for the rest; that's all."

They alighted, and he dismissed the taxicab. Some clock in the neighbourhood struck the hour of ten.

"Good! we shall be in time," muttered the detective, and led the way down the street and round a corner or so, till they came to a block darker than the rest, and much less noisy.

It had a sinister look, and George, who is brave enough under all ordinary circumstances, was glad that his companion wore a badge and carried a whistle. He was also relieved when he caught sight of the burly form of a policeman in the shadow of one of the doorways. Yet the houses he saw before him were not so very different from those they had already passed. His uneasiness could not have sprung from them. They had even an air of positive respectability, as though inhabited by industrious workmen. Then what was it which made the close companionship of a member of the police so uncommonly welcome? Was it a certain aspect of solitariness which clung to the block, or was it the sudden appearance here and there of strangely gliding figures, which no sooner loomed up against the snowy perspective than they disappeared again in some unseen doorway?

"There's a meeting on to-night, of the Associated Brotherhood of the Awl, the Plane and the Trowel (whatever that means), and it is the speaker we want to see; the man who is to address them promptly at ten o'clock. Do you object to meetings?"

"Is this a secret one?"

"It wasn't advertised."

"Are we carpenters or masons that we can count on admittance?"

"I am a carpenter. Don't you think you can be a mason for the occasion?"

"I doubt it, but——"

"Hush! I must speak to this man."

George stood back, and a few words passed between Sweetwater and a shadowy figure which seemed to have sprung up out of the sidewalk.

"Balked at the outset," were the encouraging words with which the detective rejoined George. "It seems that a pass-word is necessary, and my friend has been unable to get it. Will the speaker pass out this way?" he inquired of the shadowy figure still lingering in their rear.

"He didn't go in by it, yet I believe he's safe enough inside," was the muttered answer.

Sweetwater had no relish for disappointments of this character, but it was not long before he straightened up and allowed himself to exchange a few more words with this mysterious person. These appeared to be of a more encouraging nature than the last, for it was not long before the detective returned with renewed alacrity to George, and, wheeling him about, began to retrace his steps to the corner.

"Are we going back? Are you going to give up the job?" George asked.

"No, we're going to take him from the rear. There's a break in the fence. Oh, we'll do very well. Trust me."

George laughed. He was growing excited, but not altogether agreeably so. He says that he has seen moments of more pleasant anticipation. Evidently, my good husband is not cut out for detective work.

Where they went under this officer's guidance, he cannot tell. The tortuous tangle of alleys through which the new felt himself led was dark as the nether regions to his unaccustomed eyes. There was snow under his feet, and now and then he brushed against some obtruding object, or stumbled against a low fence; but beyond the slight miscalculations on his own part he was a mere automaton in the hands of his eager guide, and only heard his own man again when they suddenly stepped into an open yard and he could discern plainly before him the dark walls of a building pointed out by Sweetwater as their probable destination. Yet even here they encountered some impediment which prohibited a close approach. A window shed cut off their view of the building's lower storey, and though somewhat startled at being left ceremoniously alone after just a whisper word of encouragement from the ready detective, George could quite understand the necessity which the person must feel for a quiet reconnoitring of the surroundings before the two of them ventured further forward in their possibly hazardous undertaking. Yet the experience was not displeasing to George, and he was glad to hear Sweetwater's whistle again at his ear, and to feel himself rescued from the pool of shadow in which he had been left to stand.

"The approach is not all that could be desired," remarked the detective, as they entered what appeared to be a low shed. "The broken board has been put back and securely nailed in place, and if I am not very much mistaken there is a fellow stationed in the yard who will want the pass-words. Looks shady to me. I'll have something to tell the chief when I get back."

"But we! What are we going to do if we cannot get in front or——"

"We're going to wait right here in the hopes of catching a glimpse of the man as he comes out," retorted the detective, drawing George forward to a low window overlooking the yard he had described as mentioned. "He will have to pass directly under this window on his way to the street." Sweetwater went on to explain, and if I can only raise it, but the rest would not have been audible to any one in the room. INDUSTRIAL UNREST IN GREAT BRITAIN

THE British Government is clearly of the opinion that the settlement of the railway and coal strikes by no means disposed of the social and industrial unrest of which they were but symptoms. It is, moreover, convinced that the time to study this unrest, and find, if possible, a cure, is during a period of peace and not when the passions of industrial war deflect and obscure judgment. Mr. Lloyd-George probably put the case correctly when he said that what had happened was that the wealth of the world had greatly increased in the past century, and the workers felt that they were not getting their fair share of the increase.

This statement of the case reveals in their proper light the superficious and superficial criticisms of the revolt of the workers which assert that they are amply paid now if they were only satisfied to live as their fathers did, and that what is burdening them is not "the high cost of living" but the "cost of living high." The truth is that none of us live as our fathers did. We all enjoy a higher standard of living than was possible even a half-century ago; and by what process of reasoning can it be shown that the workers in the community should be forbidden to partake in the bettered conditions of life? In Britain especially have they seen the standard of comfort go up all-round them, while their wages, though increased, have not enabled to keep pace with the general rise. Relatively, therefore, they are worse off than their fathers were.

Any visitor to the United Kingdom knows that poverty is its most terrible curse. In the midst of wealth, the appalling sufferings and humiliations of the poor spoil the scene for the stranger from this Continent. Poverty obtrudes on the notice of the most casual spectator as it does not on those of the Western European countries which we are accustomed to regard as occupying a lower place in the scale of industrial advantage. It may be that the British laborer has not learned to spend his pittance with the thrifty skill of the peasant of Germany or France, and we do know that the wages paid in England attract immigration from Germany, but this does not alter the fact that poverty is more general and more of menace in Britain than it is on the Continent.

No British Government which takes a comprehensive view of the conditions that make for British stability and prestige, can ignore this ever-increasing discontent. Home British trade suffers by the British industrial losses, more markets the yen is than through any other single defect in its system. Drinks [illegible] a mark be fatally weakened as it though it is undeniably true that the legend of the war drum would instantly silence all domestic faction and rally worker and [illegible] to the support of the flag. Some means must be found by which the general prosperity of the people of the United Kingdom will be raised. There is wealth [illegible] but it is [illegible] a few "lumps."

When we [illegible] problem [illegible] item of "doles" [illegible] is [illegible] fully understood [illegible] to [illegible] swift relief. [illegible] Old Age Pensions should be a part of the machinery [illegible] would now [illegible] the new Insurance Bill is not popular [illegible] workers. It is [illegible] that it will [illegible]. And it is [illegible] that the Opposition do not propose to repeal it. [illegible] that the final remedy is [illegible] deeper than this. It is not enough to support a certain population on the margin of life. The population must be put in a position to support itself in the fullest self-respect.

In this country we [illegible] poverty [illegible] sense of the [illegible] opportunities. The [illegible] possibilities offered to the man of industry and initiative that he cannot be goaded against the wall. He is always employed, there is work for every man-out-of-work to [illegible] be a farmer there are enough of us who are [illegible] the pressure on [illegible] and make a [illegible] for those who are not. We do not mean to say that there are no "[illegible] men and hands, but they are comparatively few when we are contrasted with Great Britain, and they can [illegible] explained by some accident of circumstance [illegible] No system can [illegible] work of the man who cannot do it.

But can opportunity be provided in the Empire for all who ask it with readiness and desire to work? That is the problem which [illegible] statesmen face. There are those who say that [illegible] of the French people [illegible] breaking up of the great estates and the parceling out of the land and opportunity—among the peasants. The great estates in Ireland have been broken up to a considerable degree by the land purchase measures, and the process must [illegible] be impossible in the large [illegible] were deemed advisable. Nationalization of railways and coal mines and other "natural monopolies," as declared by Mr. Lloyd-George, is hedged about with difficulties and [illegible] that will be tried by the present Government. The Tariff Reformers propose to help the workingmen by making industry [illegible]

ROOSEVELT'S EXPLANATION.

EX-PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT says that when he [illegible] that [illegible] free trade with Canada for [illegible] economic and political reasons, he [illegible] that [illegible] believing that the annexation of Canada would [illegible] the consummation of [illegible] he did not [illegible] that [illegible] he could be a [illegible] explain [illegible] to be explained away [illegible] position [illegible] Roosevelt [illegible] with [illegible] Roosevelt [illegible] to take [illegible] judging [illegible] opinion [illegible] to [illegible] Mr. Roosevelt [illegible] to the effect [illegible] people [illegible] to [illegible] Republican party [illegible] Roll of his [illegible] frank [illegible] that [illegible] does not read [illegible] he were thinking of the political tactics of the Republican party [illegible] accept that [illegible] with Mr. Roosevelt [illegible] that [illegible] hear [illegible]

We [illegible] Roosevelt [illegible] hole-hearted, the statement contained in the last sentence in his [illegible] letter to the Hilles Cabinet [illegible] is [illegible]

Speaking [illegible] Roosevelt has often [illegible] and [illegible] occasion [illegible] joken of, and ridiculed Canada [illegible] Taft has [illegible] on [illegible] independence, he would be [illegible] dream of [illegible] encouraging [illegible] annexation [illegible] than he would dream of encouraging [illegible] suggestion [illegible] other section of the Empire of the United States.

[illegible] suggest that the danger [illegible] seriously [illegible] as [illegible] [illegible] could hardly be described as exaggeration. [illegible] could be better [illegible] and we [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to be advertised. We do not imagine that the Americans will care to [illegible] country. We cannot even imagine condition, under which it would be anything but an act of folly for them to do so. For them to attack Canada while Britain commands the sea would be to invite the bombardment of New York and Boston, and the loss of all their overseas possessions, or nothing. [illegible] total [illegible] between [illegible] great English speaking [illegible] [illegible] until [illegible] And for them to attack Canada [illegible] British sea power was broken, would be [illegible] and [illegible] exasperating. The could make our position on this continent untenable without ever sending a man or a gun against us.

When ex-President Roosevelt gets through with his little difference of opinion with President Taft as to who made the best President, we wish he could write another letter in which he would tell us not what he did not mean, but what he did mean when he wrote: "I firmly believe in free trade with Canada for both economic and political reasons."

CLEARING THE WAY.

UNPREJUDICED observers of the fight for the Republican nomination for the presidency of the United States might well be pardoned for thinking that it purposed [illegible] to blacken the record of the only two living Republicans who have ever held the position rather than to name a candidate capable of discharging the duties of the office around whom the rank and file of the party may rally at the crucial moment.

Last week Mr. Roosevelt went one step further than he had previously gone in his denunciation of Mr. Taft and his record. Full of unpleasing and encouraging fraud. President Taft rejected with a repetition of his charge that Mr. Roosevelt as President of the United States had bought the support of Mr. Morgan's crowd, to quashing the prosecution of the Harvester trust.

Already the party [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] would rather defeat one of their own [illegible] election next November. If Taft is renominated, Roosevelt enthusiasts are pledging themselves to [illegible] the Democratic ticket. If Roosevelt stampedes the nominating convention, Taft supporters, being naturally more conservative, intimate that they will not vote at all. The National Committee is scanning the roster of favorite son [illegible] hoping to find in the whole [illegible] of them one who has antagonized neither faction and possesses a strong enough personality to make him a presidential possibility, but so far without success. Meanwhile it looks as though the President and the Colonel between them [illegible] to [illegible] the way for an [illegible] the Democratic [illegible] to [illegible] and including "Champ" Clark.

If Roosevelt has no chance for the nomination which is repeatedly said by the American press, there are a lot of Republican politicians who are voluntarily putting themselves outside of the breadwinning and separating themselves from the party funds for the coming four years. If they were managing the Roosevelt campaign and carrying it to success, all the various States must have hopes. Leaders are not found for a forlorn hope, so easily. It would probably be a waste of energy to the trouble to [illegible] Taft [illegible] now [illegible] for the nomination, though the [illegible] of the [illegible] Roosevelt will get it. A dead [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] for a dark horse. If that is a mixed metaphor [illegible] more mixed than the situation.

PREMIER McBRIDE ON STRONG NAVAL POLICY FOR CANADA

Says Government Will Take Matter Up at Once and Deal With it Effectively.

Canadian Associated Press.

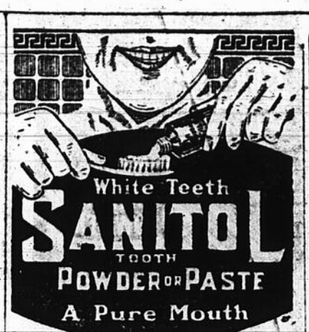

London, May 9.—At the Canada Club dinner last night, Sir E. H. Rose presided, the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs Hanson and Briggs were the chief guests. There were also present, the Hon. R. McBride, Sir F. Borden, the Hon. C. Campbell, John Hendry, Sir H. Graham, Donald Macmaster, the Hon. J. H. Turner, the Bishop of Saskatchewan, Major Malcolm Murry, Colonel Burland, General Elliott, Captain and I. Hanson, and Sir T. Skinner.

Colonel Burland, responding to the toast of the "Imperial Forces," eulogized the work done by Sir F. Borden for the militia, a body unwilling to be classed as Imperial reserves, but in the firing line from the first.

Premier McBride, responding to the toast of "The Dominion," referred to the wonderful success the Duke of Connaught was achieving. It was a gratification that His Royal Highness intended to visit the West. He suggested that the Lord Mayor should pay Canada a state visit on the lines of his Continental visits. The loyalty and patriotism of Canada had never been questioned, continued the speaker, but lately it had been intensified by political exigencies which perhaps it would be unfitting to enter into here.

Proceeding to discuss the navy question, Mr. McBride said: "I assure you that intense interest is being taken in British Columbia on this question. We have assurance from Mr. Borden that the Government proposes to take up this question at once and to deal with it effectively. We in British Columbia are reminded day by day of all that a navy means. I have confidence that when the Premier proposes, as he will do shortly, a strong policy making for an active and efficient Canadian navy, he will have the entire Dominion behind him.

"One is very much encouraged to believe that there will be results, and quickly, too, when one has watched the earnest and splendid fashion in which First Lord of the Admiralty Churchill has discharged the duties of his office. Without meaning any reflection on his predecessors, I think I may safely say that Mr. Churchill has made a name for himself in the annals of his department. I want to emphasize the strong determination of the Canadian people, as far as I can guage it, to deal with this question quickly, and we may expect good results from the fact that at the head of the Admiralty is such a strong personality as Mr. Churchill."

CONSIDER PLANS FOR TUNNEL TRAINS IN C.N.R. TUBES

Many Safety Devices Under Study by Mr. Lancaster, Electrical Engineer.

Plans for the electrification of the Canadian Northern Railway's tunnel under Mount Royal are now being completed by the company's engineers here.

A complete study has been made of the systems in use in the various tunnels of the United States and the choice has narrowed down to those in use on the Pennsylvania, New York Central and New York, New Haven and Hartford roads. The two former use the third rail system while the New York, New Haven and Hartford has the overhead trolley equipment.

Although there has been found to interfere but slightly with the third rail system, the climatic conditions prevailing on this continent in this respect are being closely looked into by the C. N. R. engineers, as the railway line from west of Cartierville to the western portal of the tunnel at the other side of the mountain will be in the open and the third rail installation may not be practicable. It is possible, however, according to the company's engineers that a composite arrangement may be adopted with the overhead trolley system in the open and the third rail principle employed in the tunnel.

Many Safety Devices.

The multiple-unit system, whereby every second car is a motor and the alternate ones trailers, will be employed and when the tunnel is in operation the C. N. R. equipment will be a model of safety. An electrical device will preclude the starting of trains from the stations until all the doors have been closed so that there will be absolutely no danger of cars starting until all the passengers have either boarded the train in safety or have begun to step on the station side of the tracks. Another device which will be employed will be the automatic shutting off of the power and the consequent stopping of the train should an engineer, through carelessness or otherwise, run past a block signal against him. This device has been employed in several of the United States subways and the number of accidents due to this cause have been reduced to the vanishing point.

A further arrangement which will be installed on the Canadian Northern will provide for the automatic shutting off of electric power should any accident or mishap occur to the man in charge of the locomotive. Drivers have been known to faint or expire suddenly in their cabs and the locomotives run away, but with the new device employed in the Mount Royal tunnel anything of this nature occuring will mean the instantaneous shutting off of the power and the automatic stopping of the train.

Mr. W. C. Lancaster, the engineer in charge of the electrification of the Montreal tunnel, stated to-day that 120 ton electric locomotives would in all probability be employed by the C. N. R.

Will Have High Speed.

These, he stated, would be capable of a speed of 70 miles per hour, although there would be no necessity for running at such a high rate of speed in the tunnel. Trains would consume about five minutes, he said, in making the run between the station at the Mackenzie and Mann model city and the Dorchester street terminus of the Canadian Northern.

Aside from the safety equipment possible to an electrically equipped system, Mr. Lancaster stated, that economy of time and running expenses were the salient features of the multiple-unit system. An electric driven locomotive of the type to be employed here was capable of accelerating its speed at the rate of two miles per hour per second, allowing for a speed of sixty miles per hour in thirty seconds. A steam locomotive would require from eight to ten minutes to attain this speed, he said.

Economy in the cost of running was also a characteristic of the electric locomotive.

"A steam locomotive, while lying inactive is still consuming coal, whereas the minute an electric one is stopped the power is turned off and there is absolutely no waste of energy. It is simply a matter of concentration as opposed to scattered consumption under inefficient conditions."

The Suburban Service.

The suburban trains connecting the Mackenzie and Mann model city and the Montreal terminus will be similar to those employed on either the Pennsylvania, New York Central, or New York, New Haven and Hartford roads, which one of these different systems will be ultimately adopted has not yet been decided.

The ventilation of the tunnel Mr. Lancaster declared would be a comparatively simple matter as the grade of the tube under the mountain would provide naturally for a sufficient supply of fresh air at all times. The two tubes would be divided, in all probability, by a concrete wall, so that the trains passing through would act as pistons forcing out the air ahead and providing the necessary suction to draw in the fresh supply from the rear. This wall between the tracks will be built by the C. N. R. engineers so that the efficient ventilation of the tunnel will be assured beyond all doubt.

TOM MANN GUILTY OF MUTINY

Labor Leader Sentenced to Six Months' Imprisonment for Inciting Soldiers to Disobey.

ADMITTED HIS GUILT; PLEADED EXTENUATION

Said He Did Not Intend to Persuade Soldiers to Disobey Any Lawful Commands.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Manchester, May 9.—The trial took place here to-day of Tom Mann, the English Labor leader and Socialist, who was charged with "feloniously, maliciously and advisedly publishing certain printed matter called 'The Syndicatist,' endeavoring to persuade persons serving in the forces of His Majesty the King, by land or sea, from their duty and allegiance to His Majesty, and inducing the said persons to commit traitorous and mutinous practice contrary to the Mutiny Act of 1797."

Mann was arrested on March 19, at his home in Wimbledon. He was remanded on March 21 at Salford, and bail was refused.

Mann had urged British soldiers to refuse to shoot their fathers and brothers during the coal strike, if they were called out to preserve order, and the War Office took action against him.

Bail was refused, owing to the fact that the Government desired to keep him behind the bars as long as possible during the coal strike, as his vitrolic utterances were likely to inflame passions while the temper of the working people was strained so keenly.

Following his confinement, many demands were made that Mann be released, and the Radicals in Parliament brought the case up. Bail was permitted on March 28, but the Labor leader was obliged to give a pledge that pending his trial he would not attempt to influence the soldiers. Since that time he has been active in preparation for the shipping strike.

According to the contentions of the Labor leaders, freedom of speech in the United Kingdom depended on the decision in this case.

The Crown Prosecutor offered as evidence many of the articles written by the Labor leader in which he discussed the coal strike. Particular emphasis was laid on one article, which told of the manner in which army recruits were obtained and alleged that they were secured from the working classes and were commanded by the sons of wealthy families. The article concluded by stating that every soldier who shot a striker "murdered one of his own family."

MANN'S ARGUMENT IN HIS OWN DEFENCE.

Objection was taken by Mann in regard to the introduction of this evidence. He conducted his own defence, and most of the Courts rulings were against him.

In his defence Mann admitted his guilt, but attempted justification, citing the conditions that existed at the time. He argued, however, that his words must not be construed as asking soldiers to disobey any lawful commands.

"The commands of officers to soldiers," said Mann, "must be lawful, and an order to shoot, and shoot to kill, brother Englishmen, would be a violation of rights guaranteed to all citizens. I ask no mercy from this the court, but I claim that the rights of any man or citizen working for reforms should be granted. All I have tried to do in my work is to benefit the working class and reform crying evils."

Mann was found guilty, and sentence was immediately imposed, but it was not very harsh, Mann being condemned to six months in prison. The sentence imposed was in the second division, which means that it was without the usual hard labor attachment.

MIGHT HAVE SAVED LIVES: DIDN'T TRY

Story Told by Member of the Titanic's Crew Who Escaped in First Lifeboat That Was Picked Up.

OFFICER IN CHARGE TOOK WOMEN'S ADVICE

Failed to Row Boat Back to Wreck Though There Was Plenty of Room.

By Special Cable From Our Own Correspondent.

London, May 9. The Titanic inquiry adjourns to-day till Tuesday, to enable the Court to view the Olympic.

To-day's proceedings elicited why the calls of distress from the drowning passengers and crew were unheeded by the survivors' boats.

James Johnson, a saloon steward, who spoke with a sharp Scottish accent and an ignorance of nautical terms, said he was in one of the first boats got away from the sinking Titanic. After rowing in pursuit of a light, they came back towards the Titanic, and were rather less than three-quarters of a mile away when she sank.

As they were pulling towards the ship, they heard the surge of water against an iceberg in the darkness, and saw it just ahead of them.

Q. Did you try and row on towards the wreck?

A. No, we stayed off.

Q. Was there no suggestion by anybody that you should go back?

A. The officer asked if we were to go back, but we were just nearing an iceberg and a lady said:

"No, it is dangerous."

Q. Was your boat full?

A. No.

Q. Did you hear any cries of people in distress?

Witness nodded his head.

Q. The boat could have gone back towards the wreck if it had been decided to do so?

A. Yes. We lay in the vicinity and did not row at all.

Q. Were there any boats near you?

A. We did not row at all.

Q. Were there any boats near you?

A. We did not see one, but we heard a whistle. We were the first boat to be picked up by the Carpathia at dawn. We signalled her with a lamp. The Carpathia was about 200 yards from us.

Mr. Scanlan, barrister, representing the sailors and firemens' union, asked: Is it your evidence that instead of the fourth officer in charge of the boat deciding whether it was possible to go and rescue the people from whom he heard shrieks he consulted the lady passengers in the boat?

A.—He asked the lady passengers the question.

Q.—There would have been no difficulty in going?

A.—That is a question.

Mr. Scanlan was pressing the witness when the president said:

"Put your question clearly. What you mean is this: Is he of opinion that there was any cowardice on the part of the man who accepted the suggestion of the ladies? That, I understand, is what you are suggesting.

Mr. Scanlan: "I don't wish to suggest cowardice, I do feel inclined to suggest that there was a great lack of discretion on the part of the officer in charge of the boat, which could be rowed easily in not going to the rescue of these people. I would not like to say it was cowardice.

To the Witness: Can you explain why it was that with an unfilled boat the fourth officer failed to go to the rescue of the drowning people?

A.—I have answered that question.

Q. If you had had charge of that boat would you have done more than he did?

A.—I don't suppose so.

Replying to further questions, the witness said there were no women near the boat he was in when she was lowered. Some of them would not go in, although Mr. Ismay tried to persuade them to go. They did not think the boat would sink. Mr. Ismay was still on the Titanic when the witness' boat left.

WINDERMERE

ISMAY'S CONDUCT IS DEFENDED BY WITNESS

London, May 9.—Evidence that the doors of four watertight bulkheads had been opened after having been closed from the bridge, was introduced to-day at the British Wreck Commission's inquiry into the loss of the White Star Steamer Titanic. It was done, according to Thomas Ismay, by one of the engineers' staff in order that the engineer crew might reach the pumps. The order came from the chief engineer.

The attorneys for the White Star people told the court that these doors, having once been shut, could not be again opened except by being raised from the bridge.

Premier Asquith Invites Bankers' Association to Co-operate With Government.

COMMONS DISCUSSES INDUSTRIAL PROBLEM

Chancellor of Exchequer Does Not Think Nationalization Would Prevent Strikes.

Through Reuter's Ottawa Agency.

London, May 9. Premier Asquith was the principal guest last night at the dinner of the Central Association of Bankers. Sir Felix Schuster, who presided, referred to the depreciation of consols. He said we would deprecate any artificial measure, purely natural causes must be left to work and would work.

All the bankers were unanimous in impressing upon the Premier the importance which they attached to sinking funds, both old and new, and said that every possible means should be sought to restore a ready market for consols.

"I have just come," said Premier Asquith, "from witnessing a spectacle to which I suppose there has never been a parallel in the history of the world, the great British fleet which is now assembled under the eyes and in the presence of the King at Weymouth. There never has been, I believe, in the same space of water such an aggregation of the implements of destruction, and as I went around the fleet and inspected at close quarters some of these magnificent, if monstrous achievements of modern science, the thought could not but occur to me whether the time might not some day arrive, perhaps within the lifetime of some of the younger of those who are sitting at these tables, when this gigantic expenditure would be diverted into more fruitful and fertilizing channels and the world saved from the incubus which at present rests upon some of its best aspirations.

BRITISH FLEET FOR DEFENCE, NOT AGGRESSION.

"So far as we are concerned, and so far as the fleet of great Britain is concerned, we know it to be and the world knows it to be, an instrument not of aggression, but of defence, and with the countless and ever-multiplying interests of which we are the trustees and guardians we cannot afford, so long as the world remains in its present temper, to neglect any means for making these interests secure against every danger. The maintenance of supremacy, of our indisputable and invincible supremacy, at sea is the first and fundamental condition, not only of the integrity of the British Empire, but of the life of the British people."

Mr. Asquith, proceeding to discuss banking affairs, expressed satisfaction that the prosperity and stability of British banking institutions remained unaltered. Deposits at the banks within forty years or less had risen by between four hundred and five hundred millions. Moreover, banking facilities had enormously increased.

Referring to the fall of Consols Mr. Asquith mentioned three causes, namely, the enlargement of trustee securities, the general demand for higher interest, trade activity and finally that the fall in Consols had taken place markedly during a series of years when Parliament had made provisions at a far greater rate than ever before, for the reduction and extinction of the Public Debt.

"We may say without undue arrogance or self-complacency, that our position and action compare very favorably with those of any European State," said the Premier.

Proceeding to the discussion of the relations between capital and labor Mr. Asquith said that there were signs in the industrial sky which ought to warn against complacent optimism.

He said that despite the unexampled prosperity of trade last year the relations between capital and labor had rarely been more [illegible] The recurrence of accidents like the railway and coal strikes made the fact, not only of the government but of the business and banking community, to look beneath the surface and distinguish between money and the real value of increases, whether in wages or in profits and above all to study the common [illegible]

NEW ROADS, LA., IS NOW MENACED BY THE MISSISSIPPI

Government Officers Cetralizing Boats in Readiness for General Exodus.

New Roads, La., May 9. By tearing away 1,100 feet of the south end of the Morris crevasse, a wall of water from eight to ten feet deep and half a mile in width, is to-day bearing down upon the already overflowed area of Pointe Coupee, St. Landry and several other parishes, to complete its work of ruin.

New Roads, heretofore considered safe, is rapidly inundated from the Torras flood, and is rapidly becoming inundated. Boats are being built and other preparations made by the townspeople for a hurried exit.

That section of the parish, being thickly populated, much rescue work will be required. Motor boats and skiffs are being centralized here by the Government representatives. In some cases the officers confiscated boats and are holding them in readiness.

Farmers driving their live stock in advance of the flood, arrived here early to-day from the country around Fordoche. They report that hundreds of families are marooned in their homes in Avoyelles, who are in urgent need of relief. Motor boats were unable to reach that district yesterday.

Levees in skiffs are reported to be passing on rich harvests in the inundated country. Many refugees from the west bank of the Mississippi, who were hastily driven from their homes, are now being fed and housed.

Looters Robbing Homes.

The size of the flooding among the refugees is surprising. One robust white woman had sixteen little children strung out after her when she climbed down the slope of a relief train at this place.

Mothers with eight, nine and ten children are numerous among the people coming from Pointe Coupee parish.

Over ten thousand refugees have passed through New Roads during the last twenty-four hours. All of them tell stories of hardship, misery and suffering. Most of them have been rendered penniless.

FOUR THOUSAND REFUGEES AT BATON ROUGE NOW.

Baton Rouge, La., May 9. There are now 4,000 refugees here, and of these nearly 500 came from New Roads, where they had gathered from the surrounding country.

Reports from Lutcher indicate that the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley Railway is in danger and should the flood continue to rise the gap still existing in the Morrison will widen and result in disaster there. The work of strengthening levees and railway embankments is being pushed forward incessantly.

There is much activity around relief headquarters where provisions for the marooned inhabitants of the Point Coupee country are being sorted out and shipped out by the carload.

DRILLING OF MEN IN ULSTER HAS CAUSED ALARM

Lord-Lieutenant's Office Orders Census of Officers Engaged in it.

DRILLING IN ULSTER.

Belfast, Ireland, May 9. — The drilling of the members of the Unionist Clubs in Ulster has at length attracted the attention of the Government.

The Lord Lieutenant's office in Dublin has made a requisition to the authorities for an immediate return of the names of all officers and non-commissioned officers, active or retired, who are engaged in drilling the members of the clubs and Orange lodges, and the men in the factories and shipyards.

CHIEF SECRETARY BIRRELL IS VERY OPTIMISTIC.

London, May 9. The Rt. Hon. Augustin Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland was the star speaker in yesterday's debate on Home Rule in the House of Commons. He declared that the establishment of a strong executive in Ireland was the only cure for the ills of that country. It would prove to be the pulse of the whole machine. Its absence was the real source of all weakness and troubles, both before and after the Union.

There were, he said, tens of thousands among the Irish, capable of undertaking the heavy responsibilities of Government as was proved by the way they carried on the local boards.

In giving the House of Commons information on the subject of Ireland, he was he said generally merely a gramophone transmitting views obtained from the local commissioners. He believed that the fears of Ulster were groundless and it would be found that Catholics and Protestants could work together for the common good of the people.

HINTS AT SEPARATE PROVISION FOR ULSTER

William O'Brien, leader of the Independent Nationalists, in a letter to the Times this morning, asks whether the country has not materials for a friendly consultation and a rational compromise on the home rule question. Pointing out what he regards as indications in this direction, Mr. O'Brien says that while nobody on the ministerial side now laughs at Ulster's discontent, no Ulster leader has yet pledged himself to resist any settlement arrived at with the understanding that it has the approval of England.

Considerable curiosity has been aroused in the course of the debate during the second reading over questions put to the Opposition by Mr. Churchill, Sir Edward Grey and other ministers, as to whether they would agree to the home rule bill if Ulster were excluded. This has been interpreted in some quarters to mean that the Government is inclined to consider an arrangement dealing with Ulster separately.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS FELT THROUGH MEXICO.

Mexico City, May 9. — Five earthquake shocks were felt in Guadalajara yesterday. The first was at ten minutes to seven o'clock in the morning, and was violent, but did no damage.

Other shocks occurred at intervals, beginning at a quarter to three o'clock in the afternoon, and were accompanied by subterranean rumblings which terrified the inhabitants.

The town of Guzman and Colima reported similar shocks.

Banks Use Finger Print System

And Customers Seem to Like It—Invented by Englishman Named Flack.

New York, May 9. The finger print system for the identification and the protection of depositors is being rapidly adopted by New York banks. The North Side Bank is the latest institution to adopt the finger-print system, regarding which Secretary Arthur Ekirsch said today:

"It is not the Bertillon system used by the police, but was devised by an Englishman named P. A. Flack, who for fifteen years was employed by the British government at Singapore, India. Instead of the thumb, we take the imprint of three fingers of the right hand—the tips of the index, middle and third finger.

"We provide blanks for our depositors upon which they write their signatures and leave their finger prints. These we keep on file, to have in case of emergency, as when, for instance, the genuineness of a signature may be questioned. We have yet to come across a depositor who objects to this. In fact they seem to like the idea immensely."

The son of Ovida Dussault was struck by a Quebec Central train near Marbleton, Que., yesterday, and probably fatally injured.

MEXICO AWAITS NEWS OF BATTLE NEAR TORREON

Opposing Forces Approaching Each Other—Ambassador Protests Looting.

From a Special Correspondent of the Central News, Limited.

Mexico City, May 9.—News is momentarily expected here of a big battle in the vicinity of Torreon. The latest advices are to the effect that the outposts of the opposing forces are about to clash a few miles above Bermijillo. The belief is entertained that the policy of the Federal commanders, in waiting for the rebels to attack, will greatly favor the formers' chances of victory.

General Trucy Aubert is busy quelling the outbreak in the State of Coahuila. The Government reports a rebel defeat west of Monclava, with a loss of fifty dead, and Aubert's column is thought to be executing an important flank movement, with a view of striking the main body of the enemy from the rear.

Ambassador Protests Looting.

American Ambassador Wilson has made strong representations to the Government relative to the looting of the Tlahualilo cotton plant in the Laguna district northwest of Torreon, by Federal soldiers last Sunday. The plantation is owned by an American and an Englishman, and was first occupied by rebels, who, according to the Embassy's advices, evacuated it on the approach of the Federals, without doing damage. It is claimed that the Federals looted the property and carried off three automobiles, many pack mules and many other things, without giving a receipt.

When the manager, a Canadian named Fairburn, protested, he was maltreated. As English interests are affected, it is probable that the English Minister, Francis Wm. Strong, will also file a protest.

The distribution of anti-American circulars throughout the City of Puebla has caused great alarm in the American colony there, and the resident consular agent has advised American women and children to leave. Many refugees are arriving in this city from that centre.

Big Strike Threatened.

Mexico faces a new peril in the shape of a threatened strike of employes in the cotton, wool, and jute factories. Last January their wages were increased 10 per cent., but they are now dissatisfied, and demand a 50 per cent. advance.

The employers have refused to grant it, maintaining that their business has been hurt by the revolution.

The Ministers of the Interior and of Agriculture are holding conferences with the labor representatives, with a view to averting a general strike.

Washington, D.C., May 9.—Major-General Leonard Wood, Chief of Staff of the War Department, contradicts the reports from Wyoming that the 9th cavalry has been ordered to the Mexican border.

"As a matter of fact," said the Major-General, "all indications are that things are still quiet on the Mexican border, with the single exception of one man's toe being shot off. Up to this hour and minute we do not intend to go to war for one toe."

THREE BANK CLERKS GUILTY OF EMBEZZLING.

Gambling and Women Cause Downfall of Young Men in Vancouver.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Vancouver, B.C., May 9. Three bank clerks, Alexander Strachan and M. M. Cox, of the Merchants' Bank and J. H. Robbie, of the Imperial Bank, pleaded guilty in the Police Court yesterday to embezzling in all nearly twelve thousand dollars. Strachan stole five thousand alone. The other two worked in collusion between the banks, getting several thousand dollars. Three thousand dollars was returned.

All are young men, the eldest twenty-four and the youngest twenty, and are all well connected in the east.

Gambling in a Chinese den caused the downfall of Strachan, and fast women that of the other two. The bank managers pleaded hard for leniency.

Magistrate Shaw reserved judgment until to-day.

GOODWIN'S LIMITED, SHOW GOOD REPORT ON YEAR'S TRADE

Depreciation and Reserves Provided for After Payment of Preferred Stock Dividend.

Goodwins Limited held its first annual meeting yesterday afternoon in the board room of the big uptown store. A large number of shareholders was in attendance and the reports for the year were received with the utmost satisfaction.

Mr. D. Lorne McGibbon, the president of the organization, in reviewing the operations of the year, said that the business of the company had been highly satisfactory. After providing for the considerable extensions to the plant, allowing for depreciation, and the payment of 7 per cent dividend on the $1,250,000 preferred stock issue, the reserve had reached $136,939 and the surplus $229,519.

The assets of the company, Mr McGibbon stated, had been placed at $4,000,000. In this estimate, the value of the company's real estate holdings had been computed at the conservative figure of $18 per square foot. The difference between the present market value of the property and the amount carried in the assets would put $100 behind every share of common stock, pointed out the president.

Since the acquisition of the business by Mr. McGibbon and Mr. J. W. McConnell on March 16th, of last year and the change of name to Goodwins Limited, a complete re-organization had followed, the effects of which were not felt until the year advanced. In view of this fact, the business of the year, as shown in the annual report, was considered all the more noteworthy.

It was announced at the meeting that there would be no dividend paid on the common stock of the company and the question of paying one would not be considered for some time to come. A progressive policy would be followed and considerable additions to the plant were contemplated. These would be provided for out of the earnings.

The area of the store occupied by the company, it was pointed out, was 101,000 square feet, which compared favorably with that of the largest concerns in the same line of business on the continent. The store of Marshall Field in Chicago occupies only 86,000 square feet; while that of the big Gimbel store in New York is slightly in excess of the Goodwins' establishment. There would be no danger of Montreal getting too big for the store, stated the president, and the directors were determined to make full use of the property owned to meet the rapidly growing needs of the city.

Mr. J. H. McKeown and Mr. J. C. Holden, in moving and seconding a vote of thanks to the directors voiced the approval of the shareholders in complimenting Messrs. McGibbon and McConnell and their associates for the able manner in which the affairs of the company had been managed.

With the addition of Mr. C. P. Beaubien, K.C., the old board of directors were re-elected as follows: Messrs. D. Lorne McGibbon, J. W. McConnell, W. H. Goodwin, Clarence F. Smith, Fleetwood Ward, Dr. Milton Hersey, Victor E. Mitchell, K.C., C. W. McLean, Lorne C. Webster and C. P. Beaubien, K. C. At a subsequent meeting of the directors Mr. McGibbon was re-elected president and Messrs. McConnell and Goodwin vice-presidents, Mr. S. J. Le Huray continuing as secretary.

DEMONSTRATION FARMS IN THE FAR WEST.

Twenty-five to be Established in Sir Thomas Shaughnessy's Scheme.

Arrangements are already under way for putting into effect Sir Thomas Shaughnessy's latest scheme for establishing 25 demonstration farms for the promotion of mixed farming in Western Canada. It is announced that Lethbridge will be given at least two of the ten demonstration farms to be established in connection with the C. P. R. in the Province of Alberta. This will leave fifteen other farms to be devoted to Saskatchewan and Manitoba. It is expected that Saskatchewan will get ten of this number and Manitoba five.

As for the recent announcement by the C. P. R. to loan $2,000 to the American farmer, the policy to be followed will be as follows: When a farmer living on the other side of the line wishes to settle on C. P. R. land he will be brought over by the company. The engineering department will locate him on his land and another department will build him a house. His land will be fenced and he will be equipped and sent out to plough his land, the company agreeing to pay him the standard price for breaking.

With the money earned for doing his own development work he will be able to buy livestock for his farm and inside of a few months should have a well equipped and well stocked farm. The company has not given him any actual cash in the form of a loan but has loaned him two thousand dollars represented on the land in the improvements.

BIG CUSTOMS PIER FOR NEW YORK CITY.

Government Considering Erection of Pier to Accommodate Incoming Ocean Liners.

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, May 9.—A Customs pier, to be built and owned by the United States Government, and to be used as a point of debarkation for all passengers arriving by ocean liners at this port, is the subject of an official communication submitted to-day to the Treasury Department by General Nelson H. Henry, Surveyor of the Port.

General Henry said the pier would be large enough to accommodate passengers and their baggage from four big liners at the same time.

"It will be a temporary stopping place for liners," he said, "for as soon as the passengers and their baggage have been transferred to it the vessels can proceed to other piers and discharge their cargoes.

"The principal aim is the safety and comfort of the increasing travelling public."

Special to The Montreal Star.

London, May 9.—The threatened strike of the employes of the Peninsular and Oriental Steamship Company has been averted, at least temporarily.

The Transport Workers and National Sailors and Firemen's Union and National Union of Ship's Cooks and Stewards were represented at a conference with the steamship company's officials. The officials refused the demand for at least two white seamen for each life boat, and the men's representatives thereupon decided to refer the whole matter to the National Federation. There it rests until the Federation meets.

MAY IMPEACH JUDGE.

Sensational Allegations Against Jurist Heard in Washington.

Washington, May 9.—Charges against Judge Robert W. Archbald, of the Commerce Court, were heard yesterday before the House Committee on Judiciary, which is to determine if impeachment proceedings shall be brought against the jurist.

How Judge Archbald in partnership with Edward J. Williams, a Scranton coal dealer, while deliberating as a judge on the "lighterage cases" to which the Erie Railroad was a party, is alleged to have negotiated an option from that railroad from 42,000 tons of culm dump property to be sold at a $12,000 profit, was related to the committee by Williams himself.

PORCUPINE FOLK HUNGRY.

Burning of Trestle Cuts off Meat and Milk Supplies.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Porcupine, Ont., May 9.—The burning of the trestle over the Boston creek has cut off Northern Ontario, north of Dane, from all supplies, and to-day Porcupine is almost without fresh meat.

Fresh milk too, is very scarce and all vegetables, apart from potatoes have gone long since. The blockade is expected to be broken to-day.

TITANIC FIREMAN TURNS UP.

Name Among Missing, But Was Not on Ship.

Liverpool, May 9.—Thomas Hart, a fireman, who was supposed to have been drowned in the sinking of the Titanic, has, according to his mother's statement, turned up alive. The explanation is made that Hart's discharge book was stolen, and that it was used by another man to sign on the Titanic under Hart's name.

H. M. S. Cornwall has arrived at Halifax from Bermuda, to remain two weeks, later going to Charlottetown.

GERMAN AVIATORS MAKE PROTEST RE MONOPLANE.

Association Attacks Construction of Aeroplane Used by Bachmayer, Who Was Killed.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Berlin, May 9. The Association of German Aviators has adopted a resolution protesting against the construction and stability of the monoplane used by Bachmayer in the flight which caused his death at Johannisthal on Monday. The Association demand a rigid system of inspection of all such craft.

There is much talk of a strike of aviators at the time of the coming big meet at Johannisthal, unless the pay of professional aviators is increased.

INDUSTRIAL FATALITIES NUMBERED 242 IN U. S.

Year's Accidents Resulted in 4,706 Others Being Injured in Railway Accidents.

Washington, May 9.—Two hundred and forty-two persons were killed and 4,706 were injured in train accidents in the United States during the quarter ended December 31, 1911, according to the accident bulletin, issued yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

This is a decrease of six in the number killed, and an increase of 977 in the number injured as compared with the corresponding quarter of 1910.

WOULD LEAD TO CHAOS.

Plaintiff's Contention in Suit Against City Untenable, Says Judge.

Mr. Justice Archer yesterday dismissed a suit brought against the city by Dame Victorine Beaudry for $241. Plaintiff's contention was that her property at the corner of Dorchester and Stanley streets was sometimes flooded as a result of the city's defective sewers. She expended $241 in making a new sewerage connection which remedied the defect and claimed the reimbursement of this amount by the city.

Mr. Justice Archer ruled that to admit this principle would lead to chaos.

RECORD TRIP REPORTED.

Steamer France Lowers Time of La Provence.

Havre, May 9. The new steamer France, of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique, which arrived here on her first eastward trip from New York, made the passage from Sandy Hook in five days, nineteen hours and forty-eight minutes, beating by seven hours the previous record held by La Provence since June 9, 1906.

An extension of the London tailors' strike to the East End shops is ordered for to-day. Over 20,000 workers will be affected.

BELIEVED BABY VICTIM OF TITANIC, NOW IDENTIFIED

First Compensation Claim Paid Into Court by White Star Line in London.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Halifax, N.S., May 9. The officials at the morgue believe they have identified the two-year-old baby, the only child victim of the Titanic disaster picked up by the search-ing steamers. From a photograph received here yesterday the body of one of the victims, [illegible] Mrs. Paulsen, and she is believed to be the mother of the boy. There was a marked resemblance between the woman and child, and even before the photograph was received it was thought that she was the baby's mother.

Mrs. Paulsen and her four children were passengers on the Titanic, and all perished. They were on their way to Chicago to join the husband and father, who is employed in that city. The body of the woman was interred at Lowell yesterday in a grave adjoining that of the little boy.

General Russell Thayer, of Philadelphia, writing to Mayor Chisholm, expresses his appreciation of the manliness of the crowd of sailors in honoring themselves by honoring the little body of the lost child. General Thayer had offered to bury the child at his own expense. The General's first cousin, John B. Thayer, and several friends, were lost in the disaster.

WHITE STAR PAYS FIRST TITANIC CLAIM.

London, May 9. The first compensation claim in connection with the Titanic disaster was made at Liverpool by a bedroom steward's widow in behalf of herself and five children.

The company admitted liability yesterday and paid $1,500 into the Court, the maximum amount for which the company was liable.

ADMINISTRATION OF RELIEF FUND.

New York, May 9.—A preliminary report of the work done thus far in administering Mayor Gaynor's Titanic relief fund shows that the Red Cross committee has distributed $18 among survivors of families which were deprived of their bread-winner. Of the bodies brought from Halifax have been buried and in all about 340 applications have been taken under consideration.

Every mail brings applications from foreign countries, one such indicating calls upon the fund from this country but from Switzerland, Austria, France and the United Kingdom.

Only two bogus claims have been discovered, and both of these made by persons of unsound mind.

Special to The Montreal Star.

London, May 9. The White Star Steamship Oceanic left Southampton yesterday with 600 passengers. Among the crew were some seamen who had deserted the Olympic. The officials of the Seafarers' Union announced that as the trouble between the company agreeing to grant as far as possible the Olympic's men.

It is announced that depositions will be sent in from depositions will be sent in the United States for the British Court of Inquiry into the disaster. Frederick Barrett, who was a coal stoker on the Titanic, in his evidence yesterday said that orders from the second engineer were to keep the ships at 75 revolutions, or about 21 knots an hour.

In Wall Street

Influenced in part by the reduction of the British bank rate, the local stock market developed a fair degree of strength at today's opening, leading some advances in sympathy with substantial gains in the other markets as U. S. Steel and Amalgamated Copper.

Among the specialties American Ice and Bethlehem pref rose a point. There was some weakness in St. Paul, and a few of the minor issues.

Trading became [illegible] second hour with some very slight yielding of prices from their best. St. Paul, however, not only recovered its early loss but sold above yesterday's high price. The improvement in Great Northern preferred and Northern Pacific was naturally associated with the more optimistic statements of their titular head.

Reading and Lehigh Valley retained their advantage, however, although gossip centred on the increased interests in both.

The lower British bank rate was accepted as proof of general monetary ease at all important financial centres.

SUMMER TIMETABLE OF INTERCOLONIAL.

Ocean Limited Express on the Route June 2nd.

The summer change of time on the Intercolonial Railway will go into effect on Sunday, June 2, which is somewhat earlier than usual. The Maritime Express will depart for Quebec and Maritime Provinces at 8.15 a.m. instead of at noon, as at present, and the through Ocean Limited at 7.30 p.m. Otherwise there is but little change in the train service. The Ocean Limited will go on the route with its equipment of cars thoroughly renovated and furnished and will give to travellers between Montreal and Eastern Canada the same delightful and comfortable service as of yore. The dining and sleeping car arrangements on the Ocean Limited are excellent, and its departure early in the evening affords the opportunity for connections from Toronto, Ottawa and western points. The departure of the Maritime Express at an earlier hour also affords more convenient connections by the night trains from the west. The Ocean Limited arriving at 7.35 a.m., affords direct connection with the G. T. R. through fast day train to Toronto.

The Attraction of A Guaranteed Dividend

The puzzled investor who wavers between the high returns promised by stocks with little or no security behind them and the lower returns of a well-secured bond will be attracted to a security which offers the unusually high yield of 7%, combined with the security of investment in a large Canadian industrial concern of 27 years' standing.

The Siemon Company, Limited, is one of the largest manufacturers of Hardwood Flooring and Veneers in the British Empire. Its growth for a quarter of a century has been steady and rapid. It now owns several mills and valuable hardwood timber limits in Canada and ships its products all over the world.

We would be pleased to send full particulars regarding the Company and to describe the extensions and improvements contemplated. It is to provide these that the present offering of $30,000 of 7% Preferred stock is made.

TOO STRAIGHT AND NARROW STUDENTS' PATH, THEY THINK

Tell Faculties, in Valedictories, They Want More General Culture.

Celebrations connected with convocation at McGill University were opened on the campus yesterday afternoon. Mr. H. Gerin Lajoie was class orator and Mr. J. W. McCommon historian, while Mr. K. K. Smith, of hockey fame, delivered the class prophecy.

The graduating class held a reception at the McGill Union at five o'clock, musical selections being rendered by Miss Gnaedinger and Mr. C. A. Hule.

In the evening the valedictories were delivered at the Royal Victoria College by Miss Ethelwyn Harris, Messrs. B. St. G. French, J. C. Davis, and A. R. W. Plimsoll. In bidding farewell to the university, the speakers joined in offering suggestions for its improvement.

Miss Harris, whose valedictory was particularly good, complained that the path to a degree was too straight and narrow, and that all the stress was laid on examinations to the neglect of general culture. There were too many lectures and too many societies. The other valedictorians followed along the same lines, frequently provoking much laughter by their allusions to fellow-students and members of the faculty.

A new departure was made in the presentation of a college play entitled "Class Day." Considering the very short time that had been given to preparation, the dramatic work of the students was very fair. Mr. A. K. Hugessen as the Hon. John Buncombe, Mr. H. F. Walker as Fred., and Mr. H. L. Johnson as Lottie Taylor showed up particularly well. Musical selections, rendered by Messrs. Y. Lamontagne and Arthur Des Rosiers, added greatly to the success of the evening.

The American invasion of Western Canada will total 170,000 persons this year, according to Mr. W. J. White, Inspector of Agencies.

Old Coins on Treasure Ship

Salvers Working on the Wreck of Armada Ship Recover "Philipus" Coppers.

New York, May 9.—A London cable says.

As a relief from the output of stone cannon balls and metal plates from the sea bed where the supposed Spanish Armada treasure ship lies off Tobermory there have now been recovered thirty-two copper coins. Twenty-four of them came up in a cluster. Two are dated 1773 and 1582, respectively, and are clearly marked "Philippus."

These are the first Spanish copper coins of the period of which there is any record. It had been believed that Spain, then by far the richest kingdom in the world, handled money imperially, and did not deal in small copper coins.

When these coins came up shining like burnished gold, the staff of the salvage ship were sure that the long expected gold had been reached at last, and greeted the glittering coins with cheers. But all is not gold that glitters, and the coins turned green under the acid test.

ALBERTA GOOD ROADS PLANS.

Prince Albert, Sask., May 9.—The City Council has received a communication from the Highway Commission of the province stating that they will expend $1,500,000 to improve roads. The co-operation of the Council is urged so that a system of main roads may be established in this part of the province.

A NEW FACE WITHOUT SURGICAL SKIN PEELING

"I do not approve of the surgical operation of face peeling," says Julia Orff. "It's too radical, too often dangerous. There's a better way of removing offensive complexions and one that is entirely safe and rational. Ordinary mercolized wax causes the devitalized scarf skin to come off, but gradually and gently. Unlike the surgical process, the skin is not forcibly taken off in big pieces all at once, but almost invisible flaky particles are absorbed by the wax, and from ten days to two weeks are required to complete the transformation. There's no pain, no discomfort.

"Nature renews complexions the same way, shedding tiny cutaneous scales day by day. But deficient circulation, or other abnormal condition, may interfere with the shedding—a 'bad complexion' results. Then mercolized wax assists Nature by hastening the removal of the aged, faded, or discolored top skin. Then only the lively, young, healthy-hued skin is in evidence, as in robust girlhood. This is why mercolized wax produces the indescribable beauty of ever-renewing youth. The wax is put on at night like cold cream, and washed off in the morning. You can procure it at any druggist's; an ounce is sufficient.

Death of Major Chas. Constantine

Northwest Mounted Police Officer Succumbs, Following Second Operation.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Long Beach, Calif., May 9.—Shock following a second operation here, resulted thirty-six hours later, in the death of Major Charles Constantine of the Canadian N. W. M. P., who had been ill several months of typhoid fever.

His health having failed, Major Constantine, accompanied by his wife, came to Long Beach in January last, and secured quarters at the Hotel Virginia, where he resided until the nature of his illness required his removal to a local hospital.

An operation was found necessary and the first was performed seven weeks ago. Major Constantine improved but later took a turn for the worse, and a secondary operation was required, but his system was too weak to recover from the effects. The body will be taken to Winnipeg for interment.

AWARDS ONE DOLLAR IN DAMAGE SUIT.

Court Finds That Plaintiff Had Injured His Own Reputation.

One dollar damages was all that the Court awarded Mr. Rodolphe Thibodeau in his libel suit for $4,000 against Mr. Isidore Crepeau, who the plaintiff alleged had injured his reputation in the community by making damaging statements against his character.

Both plaintiff and defendant are engaged in the insurance business and the alleged libel was uttered by the defendant when Thibodeau was canvassing a prospective client for insurance. The words "liar" and "thief" were used prominently in the denunciation of the plaintiff, but Mr. Justice Greenshields held that the latter by his own actions had done more injury to his reputation than had Crepeau by his words and granted nominal damages.

Mr. Justice Greenshields stated that the words used by the defendant, while of a defamatory and objectionable nature and were not privileged, were yet somewhat excusable under the circumstances. The evidence showed, that the plaintiff in collecting moneys for the defendant while in his employ and failing to account for them had himself done more injury to his reputation than had the words used by Crepeau to which Thibodeau took exception.

Death Was Accidental.

In the coroner's court this morning, a verdict of accidental death was returned in the case of John Arlowski, who was killed by a fall of 35 feet at the works of the Canada Cement Company, at Longue Pointe.

Hundred Per Cent. Charged

Such is Allegation in Money Lending Case Before Judge Lanctot in the Police Court.

That a rate of interest ranging all the way from 60 to 100 per cent. per annum had been charged on a loan of $300 made by Thos. M. Morgan to Louis Friedenberg, was the evidence given yesterday afternoon before Judge Lanctot by Moses Greenberg, the complainant in the case.

Mr. Greenberg said that he commenced to borrow money from Mr. Morgan in 1910, when he was carrying on a plumbing business. The first loan was for $200, and the rate charged was five per cent. per year, but this rate fluctuated to as high as one hundred per cent., according to the names of those who signed the paper.

Mr. Peter Bercovitch objected to the question as to whether the accused had loaned money to other people, and it was brought out that accused had admitted to Greenberg that he had other customers whom he was charging a higher rate of interest than he was to him.

The case was adjourned until May 21st.

G.T.R. at Judge Mabee's Funeral.

The representatives of the Grand Trunk Railway at the funeral of Mr. Justice Mabee were Mr. W. E. Foster, assistant solicitor; Mr. A. E. Duff, district passenger agent at Toronto; Mr. H. E. Gillan, superintendent of the middle division, as well as many district freight agents. The funeral of Mr. Charles M. Hays, occuring at the same hour, kept many from attending.
