Fifty-fifth Year

World News In Brief

Inverness, Scotland, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Sir Donald W. Cameron of Lochiel, lord lieutenant of Invernesshire and chief of the Cameron clan, died in an infirmary here last night. He was 74 years old.

Sir Donald, a deputy governor of the Bank of Scotland, served in both the South African and First World Wars with the Cameron Highlanders. His title, Cameron of Lochiel, was granted by Royal charter in 1528.

Hanoi, Indo-China, Oct. 12.—(Reuters)—The French army has won the 14-day battle for Nghia valley, north-west of Hanoi, killing more than 1,000 communist Viet-minh rebels and wounding about 2,000, a bulletin said today.

Paratroopers dropped in one of the biggest air lifts of the five-year war were chasing remnants of the rebel forces through the mountains.

In the big "Operation Mandarin" southeast of Hanoi, the French claim to have killed 1,200 guerrillas and captured 12,000 suspects.

London, Oct. 12.—(Reuters)—Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh have suggested no change in plans for the journey to Australia and New Zealand next year in place of the King and Queen, a usually-reliable source said today.

Although their internal tour was expected to be more extensive than that planned for the King and Queen, the Royal couple would follow the existing timetable and leave Southampton Jan. 22, arriving at Fremantle, Western Australia, March 1.

Manila, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Buildings swayed noticeably as earthquakes were felt in the Philippines today. The heaviest tremor here was a 40-second tremor of intensity three on a scale of 10.

A few residents of Manila walked into the streets for safety but there was no panic. Two tremors had been reported earlier today.

No casualties or damage were reported from any of the three quakes.

London, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Britain's bettors, getting down on the outcome of the Oct. 25th general election, are showing increasing faith in the chances of Winston Churchill's Conservatives.

The odds against a Labor government victory shot up to 3 to 1 in one of London's leading legal handbooks today.

Goteburg, Sweden, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Six crew members of the 1,919-ton Costa Rican vessel Ranna are missing after a collision between the ship and the Greek steamer Tharros. The Ranna was sunk.

Egypt May Declare British Troops In Area Of Suez Canal To Be "Enemy Forces"

Blue-Print Completed For Forcing British From Strategic Waterway.

Cairo, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Official sources said today Egypt will declare British troops in the Suez Canal area "enemy forces" after Parliament cancels Egypt's treaties with Britain.

Legislative action voiding the treaties is expected when Parliament meets next Monday. Britain has said she would not recognize abrogation of the pacts, which let her keep troops in Egypt and provide for joint Anglo-Egyptian control of the Sudan.

Informants said the government has completed blue-prints of measures aimed at forcing British forces from the strategic waterway. These sources said the moves—still officially secret—would include:

1. Declaring British troops on Egyptian soil "enemy forces."
2. Ordering non-co-operation with the Britons. This would cut off their drinking water, fresh food and employment of Egyptian labor.
3. Cancellation of all British privileges such as the right of Britons in the Suez area to be tried by British courts, British military jurisdiction over British forces, exemption from duty of goods bound for the British garrison and the use of "military ports" in the area.

British military sources say that even if Egypt did cut off supplies and communications, the British base at Suez could get along for a considerable time because it is "a living system which has its own stores, communications and power systems." They said that if Egypt blocked the base and supply ships could not get in, supplies could be airlifted if necessary.

Brockville, Cornwall Are Visited

Brockville, Ont., Oct. 12.—(AP)—A welcoming crowd estimated at more than 20,000 broke through police barriers today to surround Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh when their train made an unexpected stop for water as it was leaving Brockville after a 15-minute visit.

For a few minutes a dense throng swirled about the last car as the Princess and her husband stood on the observation platform waving. There was no disorder and after a brief, unscheduled stop, the train pulled out for Kingston, next centre to be visited in the Ontario phase of the Royal couple's Canadian tour.

Brockville, a city of 13,000, turned out in force to welcome the royal couple who arrived at 10:35 A.M. EST, five minutes ahead of schedule. The population was swelled by visitors from the surrounding farm area and from the United States, across the St. Lawrence river, two miles wide at this point.

The Princess and her ever-smiling husband walked about the low platform after the official welcoming ceremony was over. Both spoke to several persons in the crowd and the Princess expressed regret that she was unable to see the Thousand Islands, famed scenic stretch of the St. Lawrence west of Brockville.

Cornwall, Ont., Oct. 12.—(AP)—Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh opened the Ontario phase of their Canadian tour today with a 15-minute visit to this flag-bedecked eastern Ontario industrial city.

The Royal couple, looking refreshed and relaxed after an overnight train trip from Ottawa, 75 miles north of Cornwall, made their first small-city stop of the month-long tour in a community of some 32,000 persons, divided equally between English- and French-speaking Canadians. They arrived at 8:45 a.m. EST and left Brockville at 9:15 a.m.

Howling crowds Wednesday attacked British, American and French property in demonstrations of anti-foreign feeling. Thousands paraded here yesterday in support of the government drive against the Britons, but there was no violence.

Britain and France have protested to the Egyptian government over the rioting.

Last night several thousand members of the Moslem Brotherhood of Egypt demanded that Egypt declare war on Britain. The brotherhood, second-largest political party in Egypt, said it would support such a move.

Sidelights On Royal Visit To Capital

Ottawa, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Harvey Delorme got closer to Princess Elizabeth yesterday than perhaps any other Canadian.

And he saw her let her hair down, then helped her to put it up again.

The 34-year-old beauty parlor operator was summoned to Government House yesterday morning to do the Royal tresses for yesterday's events on the Royal visit here.

When the 90-minute hair-dressing session was over, the breath-taken Mr. Delorme told reporters: "She was very, very nice. She was very friendly. She was charming."

He said the Princess asked him scores of questions about the capital, talked about her children—Princess Anne and Prince Charles—and said her father is improving rapidly.

"The Princess talked about Ottawa. 'How nice and clean and pretty your city is,' she said."

"Then she said: 'And Hull, it is a most interesting industrial city.'"

The Princess confessed a fascination for the changing colors of the russet-hued autumn leaves.

"Such wonderful colors," she exclaimed. "I am amazed at them."

Mr. Delorme said the conversation inevitably turned to the Princess' family and she spoke fondly of her children.

"I miss them," the Princess told the hairdresser.

He inquired about the King's health and she replied: "The King is really getting along fine and is much better."

Of the Princess herself, Mr. Delorme said her skin is "beautiful."

"I had a good chance to see it, of course, and it is flawless. Her skin is so beautiful as to seem transparent."

As to her hair, "it is very good. It is an extremely light brown, but it is not blonde. It has a very nice texture. She also has a natural wave of her own."

"She had a permanent before she left, but this was just at the ends of her hair."

Ottawa, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Princess Elizabeth yesterday wore her third one-color ensemble of the Royal tour.

The color was red.

Officials said her costume for a civic luncheon would be a red crepe dress, with a shorty-draped bodice coming to a fitted, narrow waist.

Princess And Duke Leave Ottawa For Central Ontario

By GEORGE KITCHEN

Ottawa, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Princess Elizabeth went away from the Capital today with a lesson in a revolving North American custom.

She learned to square-dance. So did her big, fun-loving husband, Prince Philip.

They got their lesson, of all places, in swank, yet sedate Rideau Hall, the rambling 19th century home of Governor-General Viscount Alexander, as they completed a triumphant two-day official visit to the Capital.

The lesson came at a private dance, the Viscount's own private party for the gracious, 25-year-old princess and her sailor husband. There were no reporters or public present; only 70 personal friends of the Viscount and Viscountess Alexander. A lone tour official reported the Royal hoedown.

The National Film Board took photographs.

From all accounts, the Princess and the Duke enjoyed the evening. Photographs of the Princess show a gay, carefree girl swinging through the brisk strains of the square-dance music. She had doffed formal, daytime. She had doffed a brown-checked blouse and a steel blue flared skirt in true barn-dance style.

The pictures were in sharp contrast to the strained, white-faced Princess who a few hours earlier had stood for approximately an hour and 20 minutes to shake the hands of some 1,000 officials at a government reception.

The Duke put on brass-stapled blue jeans for the dance and a white-checked shirt with red kerchief around his neck.

Those were the costumes the Royal couple wore when they slipped away from Rideau Hall about 11 p.m. to head for their 10-car Royal train at Ottawa's Union Station. Against the chill night air, the Princess wore a mink wrap, the duke a blue overcoat.

East-West Split Over Italy Seen

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Russia announced last night that Italy must quit the Atlantic alliance and bar foreign military forces from her soil before the Russians will agree to revision of the Italian peace treaty.

A Russian note to the big-three western powers also set a second condition for Russian agreement to the treaty revision and Italy's admission to the United Nations. The United States, Britain, and France must agree to peace-treaty revisions and U.N. membership for Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania and Finland.

Western diplomats here predicted that, in view of the Soviet stand, the westerners now will press ahead with their plans to edit arms restrictions from the Italian treaty without Russian agreement.

They forecast that such western action would create resentment here and that the Russians probably would seek some form of retaliation.

The diplomats expressed these conclusions after studying a Russian note which foreign minister Andrei Vishinsky handed to charges d'affaires for the western powers.

The Russian communication was in reply to a three-power western declaration of Sept. 26 proposing revision of the Italian treaty and Italy's acceptance into the U.N.

The reply set forth for the first time Russia's position on the western plan to let Italy increase her arms and armed forces beyond the lightly-gunned 300,000-man limit imposed by the 1947 treaty.

It said Russia could join in cutting arms limitations out of the

French And U.S. Troops Capture Heartbreak Ridge

By JOHN RANDOLPH

U.S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Bayonets of American and French infantrymen today cleared the communists off the last peak of Heartbreak Ridge, climaxing the longest and most costly hill battle of the Korean war.

Pierce fighting continued on the northern slope below the crest. U.S. Eighth Army officers referred to it as "mopping up."

The allies captured two other nearby peaks in the eastern Korean mountains.

In a blazing air battle over northeastern Korea, U.S. F-86 Sabre jet pilots reported they shot down one Red jet and damaged six. The Fifth Air Force said the Sabres were outnumbered 100 to 32. It said no American jets were lost in the 20-minute fight.

Along the western front Chinese Reds hurled three attacks at the United Nations' line. Two were beaten back.

The third forced elements of the U.S. 1st Cavalry division to withdraw in the Yoncheon sector, 25 miles northeast of Panmunjon where liaison officers were reported near agreement on reopening truce talks.

(Reuters News Agency reported that a Canadian patrol fought machine-gun duels in the darkness with Red Chinese patrols, driving off the communists. The remainder of the Commonwealth division reported all quiet.

Allied planes were out in force Friday. They mounted 1,045 sorties Thursday—the highest number in four months. Four carriers sent their planes aloft, including 90 sorties off the Australian escort carrier Sydney.

(Reuters said the Canadian destroyer Cayuga, under Cmdr. J. Plomer of Winnipeg, joined with the British cruiser Belfast, the U.S. battleship New Jersey and the British destroyers Concord and Comus in bombarding communist concentrations and supply points near the east-coast port of Kojo.)

All battle action was overshadowed by the capture of the northernmost peak of Heartbreak Ridge.

A little band of haggard Frenchmen and Americans seized it in a night-long attack. At 8 a.m. they stood looking across the crest at the climax of 31 days of incredible fighting.

At their feet were the bodies of North Korean communists whose fanatical defence was equalled only by the courage that won the bitter admiration of the men who killed them.

The Reds dogged defence made the month-long battle for the four-mile ridge probably the costliest allied regimental attack of the Korean war.

Some companies almost disappeared. Some battalions were cut down to little more than companies.

The devil-may-care French battalion, which fought for the ridge with the U.S. 2nd division, suffered terribly.

Strategically, the capture of Heartbreak rounds out gains of the big allied eastern offensive, begun Aug. 18. During the collapse of truce talks it pushed the U.N. line 15 miles northward through rugged mountains.

The 23rd regiment and the French fought 15 hours before they won the height. Later Friday the were reported

Trade Unions Give Labor Full Backing

By SIDNEY WEILAND

London, Oct. 12.—(Reuters)—Britain's powerful trade unions have thrown their full weight into helping Labor retain power in the Oct. 25th general election. They have warned supporters to "view with grave apprehension" a Conservative victory.

More than 80 unions are directly affiliated with the socialist political machine, and dues from their 4,900,000 members form a lion's share of Labor's election fund.

Also squarely behind Labor is the great Trades Union Congress of 8,000,000 men and women.

Impressive donations are pouring into party headquarters from the richer unions. Hundreds of trade union leaders are stumping for Labor.

Bigger unions are financing the candidatures of 138 of their members on the Labor ticket.

The militant highly-disciplined Mineworkers' Union, with 600,000 members, is sponsoring 37 candidates. The 1,200,000-strong General Transport Workers' Union, biggest in the western world, is putting up 18.

The unions have issued their own manifestos urging all-out back-

Communists Charge Further Violation Of Neutral Zone

By NATE POLOWETZKY

Munsan, Korea, Oct. 12.—(AP)—The communists summoned allied liaison officers to Kaesong tonight to investigate new neutrality-violation charges.

The call came as the Reds and allies appeared near agreement on reopening truce talks at a new site, Panmunjon, six air miles southeast of Kaesong.

The Reds charged that a United Nations' plane attacked the Kaesong neutral zone at 5:35 P. M. (3:35 A. M. EST)—only 1½ hours after the truce meeting ended.

They made the charge by radio-telephone from Kaesong, original site of truce talks which the Reds broke off Aug. 23 because of an alleged allied plane attack.

Air force Col. Don C. Darrow and Army Lt.-Col. Norman B. Edwards left the allied peace camp by jeep at 8 P. M. for Kaesong.

Simultaneously, a U. N. spokesman said, the United States Air Force began checking to see if any allied plane could have been in the area.

Charges of violations of the Kaesong neutral zone were the main reason for moving the talks.

The size of the protected area to be maintained around Kaesong in the future appeared today to be a major stumbling block in the path of resuming negotiations.

The new Red charge—which could disrupt preparations for renewing negotiations—was telephoned at 7 P. M. The Reds gave the time, place, extent of damage and nature of the asserted attack. The U. N. command did not announce whether it was supposed to have been bombing, machine-gunning or fire-bombing.

A U. N. command spokesman said the Reds never had been informed officially that the 5-mile neutral zone no longer existed. He added:

"This gives us an implied obligation to respect it."

He said all that could be hoped for Friday night was to obtain the communists' story and "lay the groundwork" for a full investigation if the asserted incident appeared to have some basis in fact.

The complaint was the 14th in a long list of communist charges.

The U. N. officers driving to Kaesong to make the investigation went by jeep through Panmunjon, where other liaison officers met earlier.

A United Nations' spokesman said the major remaining question was the size of security areas to be drawn around the U. N. advance peace camp at Munsan and the communist headquarters at Kaesong.

Communist reporters said four major issues had been settled.

The liaison officers scheduled another meeting for 10 A. M. Saturday at Panmunjon.

A U. N. spokesman said they will try to straighten things out then.

A U. N. announcement said the Reds today proposed small circular neutral areas surrounding the new conference site in the Panmunjon area and the allied camp at Munsan. The five-mile neutral area around Kaesong would be left unchanged.

The announcement said the allies submitted a counter-proposal which would give "both base camp areas equal security."

"If this point is not settled, we are a long way from opening the talks," said Brig-Gen. William P. Nuckols, spokesman for the U. N. command. "If the point is settled, I believe we certainly are on the verge of resuming the talks."

Nuckols said liaison officers had agreed truce talks should be

JACOBY ON CANASTA

WHICH IS THE SAFE DISCARD?
By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
One of the most interesting hands of the recent international Canasta match in London found Johnny Crawford, well-known American expert, badly stuck for a safe discard. See if you can pick the right play with his hand.

Both sides needed 90 points for the initial meld, and the player at your right melds ace-ace-joker very early in the play. The discard pile survives for a few more plays, and you finally freeze it by discarding a deuce.

The discard pile continues to grow until the stock pile is almost exhausted. In this situation, you draw from the stock pile and hold: three tens, three eights, three sevens, a pair of fives and one ace.

No ace had appeared except the two that were melded by your right-hand opponent at the very beginning of the hand. Only two fives have appeared, both thrown by your partner fairly early in the play. Both got by safely, of course. No eights or tens have appeared at any time. The last three discards of the player at your left have been two sevens and a deuce, in that order. No other sevens have appeared at any time.

What do you discard?
Crawford knew that the ace was very unsafe. That had to be ruled out, since there were five aces still to be accounted for. His partner would have thrown aces if they seemed at all safe, so it was very likely that his partner had no more than one ace. That left too many aces for the opponents to hold.

The fives were very unsafe also. Crawford's partner wasn't saving fives, and his two discards had gotten by safely, thus indicating that fives were not held at his right. It was a near certainty that the player at Crawford's left did hold fives.

By elimination, Crawford knew that his discard had to be a ten, an eight, or a seven. What was safest?

The answer was that the player at Crawford's left simply had to have another pair of sevens still in his hand. He couldn't have discarded at that late stage from fewer than four of a kind. The correct play, therefore, was to toss a mental coin in choosing between a ten and an eight.

As it happened, either the ten or the eight would have been safe. A seven was not.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

Mr. Archer and Mr. D. G. Loomis for their artistic work. The front row of seats on the platform were occupied by the royal suite, Mayor and Mrs. Worthington with Capt. E. Winn Farwell as chief usher.

A long list follows in the story which appeared in the Daily Record, using the entire front page. A few may be mentioned as citizens of Sherbrooke fifty years ago: The Mayor of Sherbrooke and Mrs. Worthington, Hon. Mr. Justice Lemieux and Mrs. Lemieux, Hon. Henry and Mrs. Aylmer, Wm. Farwell, Esq., and Mrs. Farwell, Mr. R. W. and Mrs. Heneker, the Bishop of Sherbrooke, the city clergy, representatives of the local press and of members accompanying the royal party. These few names bring memories of the men who were among the builders of the "Hub."

The Civic address was given by the Mayor and replied to by the Duke who spoke briefly, but extended greetings from himself, his Duchess and their entourage. A bouquet of 100 white roses with streamers of purple and white was presented to Her Royal Highness by Gladys, little daughter of the Mayor and his wife. This was given by Diamond Jubilee Lodge of the Daughters of England. Then Mrs. Worthington on behalf of the ladies of Sherbrooke presented a beautiful bear rug to the Duchess for which she graciously gave her thanks and expressed her deep appreciation for the gift.

A unique feature of the program was the presentation to the Duke and Duchess of beautiful pieces of Indian work from the squaws of the Caughnawaga Indians. During the early part of the proceedings the delegation of Indians had stood at one side of the civic platform, 16 in number, then when their turn came Chief John Standup and Chief Joe Foster, clothed in their gorgeous robes came forward into the Royal presence bearing a beautiful collection of Indian handiwork to lay at the feet of "the son of the big white Father who rules from beyond the seas." The gifts were accompanied by an address in the Indian language. This delegation arrived in Sherbrooke the evening before and was given quarters in a hotel. Among them was Big John Canadien, a well known Indian of his day.

The day was warm, sunshiny, typical of Eastern Townships Indian summer; all arrangements were well carried out and in every way it was a memorable event, similar to the reception for the Prince of Wales in 1860, and both highlights in the "growing years"

HOLLYWOOD SMARTS AT RABBI'S BLAST AT HOLLYWOOD MARRIAGES
Hollywood — Hollywood's still smarting over Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin's short-lived curbing of the rash of short-lived Hollywood marriages. The Rabbi hit the nail right on the head with: "Marriage certificates are not intended to be used like streetcar transfers."

A legal tempest is brewing in Nevada over Hollywood stars who complete necessary residence and accept out-of-state work before getting around to filing for divorce.
The boys in the black robes insist that Rita Hayworth nullified her legal residence by rushing to Hollywood to prepare for her Columbia picture and will have to start all over again as a Nevada dweller before she can file her divorce suit against Aly Khan.

The same legal point prompted Frank Sinatra to record his divorce action from Nancy before taking off for New York for his TV show.
Danny Thomas, who hit the TV jackpot when Hollywood couldn't recognize his talents, just fixed a long-term Warner contract. He promised to think about it again after he sees the public's reaction to his Gus Kahn role in My Dreams.
A week after Al Johnson's death, it now can be told, Warners were after Danny for a remake of "The Jazz Singer." He's still stalling.

It's wonderful to be rich. The Bob Hopes are redecorating their home. For a place to live while painters swarm over the hope homestead, the comedian bought the house next door.
Flicker Bound
Add the name of lanky, loose-jointed funnyman Gil Lamb to the list of comedy birds who are coming back to roost in Hollywood now that exhibitors are screaming for lay-em-in-the-aisles movie fare.

Wowing audiences at Wilbur Clark's lush Desert Inn at Las Vegas, Gil told me that he's movie-town-bound to take up the exciting career he dropped after scoring in "The Fleet's In" and other comedy hits of the early '40s.
The Lamb nose?
And the legend that Paramount decided he had lost his comedy zip after plastic surgeons whittled down his beaver?
"It's not true," said Gil. "I never worked with my nose, anyhow. I was careful about the operation and I made sure that they wouldn't make me beautiful. I spent a fortune on plaster casts just to see how I'd look with a new nose."

A Hollywood scenic postcard arrived by airmail today from Farley Granger and Shelley Winters. The message: "Dear Erskine. In Paris—and who has time to buy French postcards?"
Despite the lack of a will, there will be no legal dispute over Maria Montez' estate. Her daughter and mother are well taken care of by insurance policies.
Susan Peters, now a TV star, is hatching plans to return to Hollywood.

Ayer's Cliff Scene Of Birthday Surprise Party

Ayer's Cliff, Oct. 12.—Mrs. M. Sherman was guest of honor at a charmingly arranged surprise party on the occasion of her birthday, when Mrs. N. Claude Whitcomb invited the neighbours to her home to wish Mrs. Sherman "Happy Birthday."
Mrs. Sherman was asked over to Mrs. Whitcomb's to assist her in a task she had to do and upon arriving, her hostess led her in to the spacious living room overlooking beautiful Lake Massawippi, where she found her friends assembled, who showered her with some lovely gifts as tokens of friendship, and each containing their best wishes for "Many Happy Returns of the Day."

This gracious lady was indeed greatly surprised, but soon, gaining her composure, was able to voice her sincere thanks, and the sparkle in her eyes expressed her appreciation as much as her words.

A most enjoyable hour was spent and Mrs. Whitcomb served refreshments, at the attractive table centered with low bowl of Cosmos and green tapers in silver holders was presided over by Mrs. Sherman's daughter, Mrs. L. O. Piercy.

The community join in expressing their good wishes to Mrs. Sherman for continued years of health and many more birthdays.

General Notes
Mrs. Harry Messenger, with her friend, Mrs. Nellie Russell, of West Lebanon, N.H., were in town last week to close the Messenger cottage for the season. Their many friends here are indeed sorry to hear that Mr. Messenger is a patient in the Andover Hospital, and his condition is serious. Mr. Messenger has been a summer resident here for many years and has many friends to join in good wishes for his recovery and will be anxiously awaiting good news from him.

Mrs. Mary Raymond, of North Hatley, spent a day last week with Mrs. A. H. Vance.

Financial Independence Can Be Built On Instalment Plan
Very Small Down-Payment Starts You Off in Fascinating Hobby — Collecting Bonds
"Despite the high cost of living that often makes saving seem impossible, a good many people have found a way to build a solid nest-egg for the future," according to Gilbert Rheaume, Sherbrooke manager for the Bank of Montreal.

In the course of a conversation yesterday on the subject of building financial independence, Mr. Rheaume asserted that the first requisite to saving money was to "go into debt to yourself for a definite amount, no matter how small."

"The best way I know to go about this is to sign yourself up for a Cash Savings Bond in whatever amount you feel you can squeeze out of your income over a year — of $50, $100, $500 or $1,000 denomination."
"You can buy a bond on the instalment plan with a very small down-payment. For example, with as little as $2.50 down you can make the first payment on a $50 bond. On a $100 bond the down-payment is $5. The remaining instalments can be made on an easy, regular basis over the following 12 months."

A special feature of the 1951 issue is the high rate of interest, the B of M manager emphasized. Each bond bears 10 coupons at the rate of 3.5 per cent. The first coupon covers a period of 21 months (equal to 2 per cent per annum), due August 1, 1953. From that date, one coupon at 3.5 per cent is payable annually on August 1, until 1962. This replaces the old rate of 2.75 per cent and amounts to 3.21 per cent over the life of the bond.

One-Third Of Objective Is Reached In Catholic Charities Campaign

J. L. Gilbert, secretary-treasurer of the Catholic Federated Charities Campaign, announced at the dinner last evening that returns up to yesterday totalled $8,140, as compared to last year's $6,825. The objective is $25,000.

The dinner was for parishioners of St. Patrick's and St. Joseph's Churches and was largely attended. In fact the sisters at the Hospice—where the meetings are being held—were obliged to set up a number of extra tables to accommodate the crowd.

Rev. J. R. Moisan, pastor of St. Patrick's, addressed the gathering briefly. "A charity campaign is a concerted and effective demonstration of Christian love," he said. "It is realizing in practice that we must love our neighbor as ourselves because our neighbor is created to God's image, because Christ died for him and because He commands it, because we are all brothers."

"The principle is undebatable—we have to be charitable," he continued. "The first charity that we owe our neighbor is that of food and clothing. The second is the food of intelligence, then after the enlightening of the intelligence, the heart must be formed and elevated to God."

He pointed out that it is through agencies such as the Hospice, the Rehabilitation, and the Little Sisters of the Poor that people can satisfy the precepts of charity.

Rev. R. Bruneau, parish priest of St. Joseph's, also spoke, reminding the faithful that all measure of prosperity comes to them through God. He urged them to give in large measure, not counting the cost, because the need is great.

Frank J. Conway and J. E. L. Blais, joint chairmen of the campaign, presided at the dinner meeting, and asked all who had not already contributed to send their subscriptions to campaign headquarters.

As has been the case every night this week, parishioners from various churches in the city have enjoyed a chicken pie supper, cooked by the Sisters and served by the young orphans. There has been a record attendance each night.

Seated at the head table with the joint presidents and parish priests were Mr. Justice and Mrs. Cesaire Gervais, Rev. Canon N. Codere, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lamy, Maurice Parsons, Henry Crochier, Mr. and Mrs. M. Bryson, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Chartier, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Labrecque, Rev. Georges Bruneau, of Paquetville, Mrs. E. J. Wolfe, Rev. Fernand Pouliot, curate at St. Joseph's, Mrs. Fred Conway, Miss Helen Conway, Dr. Leo Blais, Miss Blais, Mr. and Mrs. G. Pouliot, Mr. and Mrs. L. Veilleux, Mr. and Mrs. A. Trudeau, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ellyson.

Red Feather Totals Pass Two Thirds

Reports issued from the campaign office of the Red Feather Community Chest at noon Thursday indicate that the amount received up to that time had slightly passed the two-thirds mark. This means that another $8,500 is still needed to reach the objective of $25,000.

Citizens of Sherbrooke and district are reminded that unless the total objective is realized, the Salvation Army, the Y.W.C.A., the Y.M.C.A., the St. John Ambulance Association, the Boy Scouts and the public libraries of Sherbrooke and Lennoxville will not be able to continue their vital services which mean so much to the community except at a reduced level, and this would be a bad situation.

Many calls have been made on citizens who have been away from their homes or offices at the time of the calls, and as a result they have not been able to make their contributions yet. Phone 2-7524, and someone will call on you, or leave your contribution at the Campaign Office, Bank of Commerce, Dufferin avenue. REMEMBER: EVERYONE BENEFITS. EVERYONE SHOULD GIVE.

Milk Price Goes Up One Cent Tuesday; Production Of Cheaper Brand Studied

The price of milk in Sherbrooke district and in 10 other Quebec province districts will be increased by one cent a quart on Tuesday. This will make the local price 20 cents a quart.

There will be no increase in the price of cream.

Increasing cost of operation of the province's 168 dairies and authorization that milk producers be paid $4.50 per 100 pounds of milk, an increase of 22 cents per 100, were listed as the reasons for the cent advance.

Concurrent with the announcement of the milk price increase was news that the Quebec Dairy Industry Commission, the provincial government's milk control body, was studying a proposal for the production of a "vitamin fortified" milk with less butterfat than standard milk which would sell at three to four cents less per quart.

Alphonse Savoie, provincial secretary of the commission, said last night no decision on this matter would be forthcoming for "at least a few days."

The new price of 20 cents a quart for milk was announced yesterday by L. R. Roy, of the Province of Quebec Milk Distributors Association, the dairies spokesman.

Mr. Roy said that "the ever-increasing cost of operations to the dairies, due to inflationary pressure since September, 1950, (date of the last increase to 19 cents a quart), and the decision by the dairy commission to increase by 22 cents per 100 pounds the price paid for raw milk delivered by the producers," were the two major reasons for the hike in milk prices.

"Dairy operation has increased from five to 40 per cent during the past 12 months, or an average of 22 per cent generally," Mr. Roy explained. He said 60 per cent of the cost of operating a dairy went in salaries, the equivalent of four and a half cents out of each quart of milk.

A total of 38.75 quarts of pasteurized milk is derived from each 100 pounds of raw milk delivered to the dairy by the producer.

Mr. Roy pointed out that research has shown a new and special type of milk may be produced "within one month," providing authority can be given by the provincial milk commission.

The new brand will call for a reduction of the 3.5 per cent butterfat, now in all standard milk, to two per cent butterfat. The government minimum is 3.25 per cent.

The new milk would be fortified with vitamins A and D, and would contain all the nutritional value of other milk.

Object of the association in producing the new type milk would be to help large families who have to buy considerable quantities of milk and who would be unable to afford such quantities at the new prices.

Once the provincial government authorities its production, Mr. Roy said, the new brand could be on the market in about one month. There would be no federal government decision except, under law, to name the brand on each bottle and state its contents.

Last year dairy producers asked that the price be increased from $4.28 per 100 pounds of milk to $5.06 per hundred, because of increased costs of production. The control commission took the appeal under consideration and last week announced the 22-cent boost.

Tank "Bomb" Presentation Is Tomorrow

Presentation of the tank "Bomb" to the City of Sherbrooke as a war memorial will be the principal feature of the Sherbrooke Fusilier Regiment Association's annual reunion tomorrow and Sunday.

Following is the detailed program for the two day meet: Registration at William Street Armoury until 2:30 p.m., Saturday, October 13th; Opening address by the president, Lt.-Col. Aime Biron; presentation of tank "Bomb" crew members.

At 3 p.m., Mayor C. B. Howard will unveil the tank, which will be blessed by Rev. John Comfort. The ceremony will be held at the Parade Grounds and is to be followed by a general meeting at the William Street Armoury at 4 o'clock.

The banquet at the New Sherbrooke Hotel is scheduled for 7 o'clock, music to be provided by Jack Lenaghan and John Codere, with Tom Keeley in charge of the sing song.

Sunday's schedule is as follows: 10:30 a.m. Fall In, New Sherbrooke Hotel; 11:00 Church Service at William Street Armoury; 2 p.m., reception at the Canadian Legion.

The parade will march via Queen, Belvidere, King West, Wellington North, Dufferin and Court Streets to the Armoury. A wreath will be placed at the cenotaph on King Street West.

Banquet Of Sherbrooke Ploughmen's Association Draws Bumper Crowd

Some 300 attended the seventy-second annual Sherbrooke Ploughmen's Association banquet held in the Gertrude Scott Hall in Lennoxville last evening.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of prizes to the winners of the ploughing match held on Wednesday at the Willowdale Farm, on the East Sherbrooke Road.

Following the supper, served by the Asot Women's Institute, several films were shown in the church hall. The films were shown by the Imperial Oil Company and the Adult Education Association.

Magician Albert Perry entertained the audience and several musical selections were rendered by Sam Hopper and his orchestra.

Francis P. Kenalty, representing the Hon. J. S. Bourque, Minister of Lands and Forests and Hydraulic Resources, congratulated the winners and the organization which made the match a success.

J. A. Ste. Marie, president of the E.T.A.A., and Stan Hamilton, one of the judges for the match, spoke briefly. Both spoke highly of the ploughing.

Lem Clark, president of the Sherbrooke Ploughmen's Association, presided. He thanked those who turned out for the ploughing matches and hoped that still more would come out next year.

W. G. McDougall, secretary of the association, helped in the distribution of the prizes and compiled all the results.

Twenty-two teams and twenty-two tractors competed in the matches.

Trudel is in a critical condition at the Hotel Dieu today with burns to his hands, chest and legs.

The explosion also injured Michel Provencal, nine, who lives at 61 Olivier Street. The child was playing in the back yard of Trudel's home at 54 Olivier Street and there is an open door leading from the yard to the cellar. The boy suffered severe body burns but his condition is reported as fair by the Hotel Dieu.

Det. Anicet Gosselin investigated for the Municipal Police department and Gaston Masse, superintendent of the city gas and electric works, believes the explosion, which caused considerable damage to the rear wall of the house, occurred because of a broken gas pipe line leading into the house.

The parade usually lasts for a little more than an hour.

Habitual Thief Given Sentence In Local Court

Roland Maheu, 35, of St. Hyacinthe, was today sentenced to a year in jail on each of two charges of theft, sentence to run concurrently.

Judge Joseph Marier handed down the sentence in local Magistrate's Court.

Maheu was convicted of stealing two electric clocks from St. Famille Church, Richmond, and $75 worth of tools from his employer, Melvin Bruck.

Maheu was arrested at Richmond recently by Provincial Police Detective Rene Coupal and Richmond Chief of Police Donat Sevigny.

He had already served a total of two years in various prisons on six other occasions, most of his crimes being theft.

In 1940, he served six months; in 1942, two months; in 1945, one month; 1946, one month; 1947, one year; 1951, two months.

Paton Company Host To Firemen At Plant Drill

In co-operation with the fire department during Fire Prevention Week, the management of the Paton Manufacturing Company yesterday invited leading fire officials of this city to the plant for an exhibition of a Paton fire drill.

The drill, which is arranged for all the 520 Paton employees over three shifts, was organized some time ago by manager Robert Neill and plant engineer John Stark.

The drills are carried out in the various sections of the company, at different times.

Busy showing the fire officials around at the Paton Company was Paul Lauzon, personnel manager, who was in charge of arrangements.

Fire Director W. P. Donahue was pleased with what he saw at the plant. "Their fire prevention housekeeping is excellent," Director Donahue said.

Attending with the Director were: Col. Emile Cron, deputy fire commissioner for the province, Gaston Tallon, chairman of the civilian fire prevention committee, Leo Thibault, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee, Alphonse Saumier, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Inspector Wilbrod Lapierre and Lieut. L. P. Harton.

Brother O'Neill Died Yesterday At Longueuil

Montreal, Oct. 12. — (CP) — Rev. Brother Thaddeus O'Neill, 82, who founded the first house of the Congregation of the Presentation Brothers in Canada, died yesterday in nearby Longueuil.

Brother O'Neill was living in partial retirement at the Congregation's Canadian house in Longueuil.

Born in County Cork, Ireland, he came to Canada in 1910 to establish the first congregation house at St. Gabriel's parish in Point St. Charles district.

He also taught in St. Patrick's Academy in Sherbrooke, Que.

Two Persons Are Burned In Explosion

Two persons were burned—critically—in an explosion which occurred on Olivier Street late yesterday afternoon.

The explosion happened in the cellar of a two-storey wood-constructed house when the occupant Henri Trudel, 35, attempted to put on the lights of the cellar.

REFUTING A STATEMENT ON THE SALE OF HORSEMEAT

We wish to make clear our stand on the sale of horse meat. There was a statement made by a city alderman before the city council to the effect that everyone realizes when he buys ground meat that it is horse meat; unless it is clearly labelled as beef. This statement is definitely untrue. Such a statement is bound to plant a doubt in the minds of some Sherbrooke and district housekeepers as to our honesty. We have, for the past twenty-one years, striven for the confidence of the public. Neither an alderman nor anyone else has the right to destroy this accumulated good-will.

We wish to make clear that we have never sold horse meat by the piece, in ground meat, or in any form. The member of the city council should look into matters more fully before slandering Sherbrooke butchers as a group.

All beef sold in our establishment is genuine WESTERN BEEF, and each quarter bears a government stamp identifying it as such. All this first quality western beef is inspected. We felt we should make this statement to combat any wrong ideas instigated by the false utterances of this councillor. We state further that you may buy beef with confidence from us; you may rest assured that you receive only GOVERNMENT INSPECTED AND APPROVED WESTERN STEER BEEF.

Symphony Campaign Nears End

The Sherbrooke Symphony Concerts subscription campaign ends tomorrow and directors of the Symphony are confident that the objective of 1,200 subscribers will be reached.

Earlier this week the campaign was only 100 subscribers short of the goal.

In making a final appeal for subscribers for the three concerts scheduled this season, officials of the Symphony stressed the fact that no tickets will be sold at the door for any of the concerts. Only season ticket holders will be admitted.

The first concert is scheduled for October 23, with Alexander Broth, distinguished Canadian conductor and composer, as the conductor. Soloist will be a young Israeli violinist, Yaela Hertz.

The program for the opening concert will consist of Dvorak's New World Symphony, the Rumanian Rhapsody by George Enesco, and the Concerto for violin by Beethoven in which Miss Hertz will appear as soloist.

PUBLIC NOTICE

1951 Valuation Roll

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the Valuation Roll of the City of Sherbrooke for the year 1951, has been prepared according to law and is now deposited at the City Hall, Valuation Roll Department, 79 Wellington Street North, and shall remain open to the examination of interested persons or their representatives during the 30 days following its deposit, to wit: from the thirteenth day of October instant (1951) to the twelfth day of November instant (1951) inclusively.

During such time, any person having reason to complain against the Roll as prepared, either for himself or for another person, may appeal therefor to the Council by giving for that purpose a written notice to the City Clerk, stating the grounds of his complaint, and if he complains that the valuation of his property is too high, he shall mention in the notice the amount of the valuation considered by him to be just. The said notice must reach the City Clerk on or before the twelfth day of November instant (1951) at five o'clock in the afternoon.

Complainants will be advised in writing of the day and hour when their protests will be considered by the Board of Revision, appointed by the Council. They may then appear in support of their protest or be represented.

Owing to the change in the mode of valuation this year, no notice will be sent to property owners advising them of a raise in their valuation.

Given at Sherbrooke this 12th day of October 1951.

ANT. DESLAURIERS,
City Clerk.

RUSSIA'S ATOM BOMB

Premier Joseph Stalin's acknowledgment that Russia recently exploded another atomic bomb inevitably stirs a lot of guesswork about his motives.

The last time the White House disclosed a Soviet atomic explosion, the Kremlin responded with the obviously transparent claim that it was using atomic energy for such peaceful purposes as diverting rivers and blowing up mountains.

Now the propaganda tactics have changed. Frankly, almost boastfully, Stalin admits he is making bombs and will continue experimenting with atomic weapons. Why this new tactic? Possibly Russia recognizes that the world has grown weary of its succession of phony peace offensive, its absurd moral posturing. Moscow may have decided that in the present state of world opinion rattling the saber is more effective than waving the olive branch.

There have been other signs that threat is replacing soft talk in the Soviet propaganda arsenal. Military maneuvers in Europe are well advertised. Satellite taunts at Yugoslavia grow shriller. Communist negotiators in Korea give ground only grudgingly, after long delay.

If menace is the new Russian device, the free world's "neutralists"—those who pine for a sideline seat at the great world power struggle—are undoubtedly his target. Disillusioned at the evident falsity of Soviet peace moves, the neutralists still tremble with fear. Gestures of atomic strength may be well calculated to stimulate greater tremors and send them scurrying for the bushes.

Stalin's admission had other interesting aspects that support the conclusion he was appealing to neutralists. Though he dropped all talk of "peaceful uses" of atomic energy, he still insisted that the aim of Russia's A-bomb program was "the defense of our country from attacks from the British-American aggressive bloc."

This is pretty thin stuff. No existing or contemplated plans call for a Western armed force big enough to constitute an offensive threat against Russia. The United States backlog of A-bombs is unquestionably a potential danger to the Soviet Union; but the U. S. has made it unmistakably clear she does not intend to use that strategic weapon except in answer to enemy attack. Furthermore, there is no proof in the present stage of atomic development that any A-weapon is a "defense" against the big bomb, unless you regard counter-offense as defense.

Stalin hinted, too, that conditions may now be more favorable for international prohibition of all atomic weapons. Once again, the neutralists must have been his intended audience, since the Soviet premier surely could not expect the West's hard-headed realists to fall for this ancient dodge.

From the moment atomic energy first came on the scene, Russia has persistently blocked all measures for effective world control. The crux of any acceptable control plan is the right of an international authority to inspect every nation's atomic facilities. Moscow is firmly opposed to that necessary inspection. Consequently all its pious calls for control constitute mere hollow propaganda.

A TRUE FAIRY TALE

One of the most touching stories to come from the Royal visit so far concerned the displaced persons who, from their ship in the St. Lawrence river, watched the Royal train pull into Quebec this week.

The dispatches from Quebec told of these D.P.'s, many of them possessing little more than the clothes on their backs, cheering and waving as the train bearing Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip approached.

What a happy coincidence that these new Canadians should reach their land of hope and promise just at the moment when their new Prince and Princess were about to start their tour of the Dominion.

What a contrast with the life they knew in Europe, where many of them had lived during the last war as little better than Nazi slaves.

Quebec, in all its historic glory, had turned ed out to welcome the Prince and Princess. But, unwittingly, it also was providing a welcome for these displaced persons, who, in the years to come, will always be able to look back with pleasure and pride upon their arrival in Canada.

FLOUNDERING CONGRESSIONAL "ECONOMY" DRIVE BACKFIRES
By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
Washington—(NEA)—Government bureaucrats are now going to be authorized to ride around town in taxicabs. On official business, that is. And they will be authorized to tip the drivers, too. At taxpayers' expense.

This is the upshot of the great Congressional economy drive to reduce the number of government chauffeurs who had been riding government officials from conference to conference in government automobiles. The fantastic bill of red tape that has been wound and unwound to solve this latest government crisis is almost unbelievable. But it has now all been reduced to administrative orders. This is how it happened:

First, General Services Administrator Jess Larson—the government's chief housekeeper—asked Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren, head of the General Accounting Office, for a ruling on how he was to move his employees from one office to another in Washington, since the 18 chauffeurs' jobs in GSA had been abolished.

GAO then told GSA how it could be done. GSA can't tell other government agencies how to do it. But the pattern established for GSA will apparently be applied to all the other departments.

Every official wanting to go from A to B on government business must fill out Form No. 1012. This is the official travel voucher. It's about the size of a bank check and isn't too complicated. But on Form 1012, which must be filled out every month, every official must list every trip from point of origin to destination, time, date and amount of fare.

May Tip Only To "Nearest Nickel"
If he goes by street car or bus, he enters that. If he goes by taxi, he enters that. He may tip 10 cents on every fare up to $1. On all fares over $1—get this— he may tip only 10 per cent "to the nearest nickel."

If he goes to the Pentagon, fare $1.25, he may tip 10 per cent or 12 1/2 cents. But which is the nearest nickel—10 cents or 15 cents? Anyway, the tip is not entered on form 1012 as a tip, but as part of fare. Amount entered will then be $1.35 or $1.40.

Heretofore it has been almost impossible for government employees to get approval for taxicab fares entered on their expense accounts. Reasons for taking a cab instead of a streetcar had to be explained in detail in every case, and sometimes it took GAO weeks or months to audit and approve these expense items.

The new authorization for taxi-riding is quite a concession, but it is only the beginning of the red tape which the "economy" legislation has made necessary. Since it would not be fair to ask government employees to finance their own transportation about town on official business, a petty cash window is to be opened in every government office.

Here the bureaucrat who is broke may go and get his taxi or bus fare in advance. By filling out the necessary voucher, of course.

"Economy" Created More Government Jobs
So, by cutting out the chauffeurs, Congress has in effect created new government jobs for cashiers in every department, and so increased government employment.

What's more, it is now estimated that it may cost the government from $3 to $5 to audit and process each monthly travel voucher. The increased paper work may be staggering.

When all the government chauffeurs' job were abolished by law, the automobiles which they formerly drove were not abolished. They're still on hand. In order to get some use out of these cars, new administrative orders are being prepared which will authorize government officials to drive these cars themselves, on official business.

Any official who holds a drivers' license may call up his department's garage and reserve a car for a government business trip. The regulations will of course say he must be sober, of good moral character, and a responsible driver. If there's a car free, he may then drive it to wherever he is going—free to the Pentagon. The car will then sit there—idle—till he gets through his business. Then he drives it back.

In this manner he doesn't have to fill out Form 1012 as a travel voucher. But the mileage he burns up is charged to his particular bureau or branch. It will take an undetermined amount of bookkeeping to get all this straight and audited.

What happens if the bureaucrats wreck a government car on official business hasn't been figured out yet.

HANDS OFF DR. SCHACHT

Ottawa Journal
Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, who did his part in preserving the evil Hitler regime a decade ago, was cleared of war crimes at the Nuremberg trials but it is too much to expect he should be looked on with much affection by democratic people. At the same time we have no inclination to send bouquets of praise to Dr. Hugh Kenleyside, formerly a Canadian diplomat, who refused to shake hands with Dr. Schacht when they met in Indonesia.

Handshaking does not, we think, now commit a man to approval of the individual he is greeting. Up until the moment they began shooting at each other the Russians and the Germans, the Germans and the British, the Italians and the French, and the Americans and Japanese, shook hands with tremendous vigor for the benefit of cameramen and in private. The handshake in diplomatic circles, we suggest, is as non-committal a gesture as saying "Hello" and as innocent as courteously addressing as Mister a man your privately consider a deceitful lout.

LACK OF DISCIPLINE

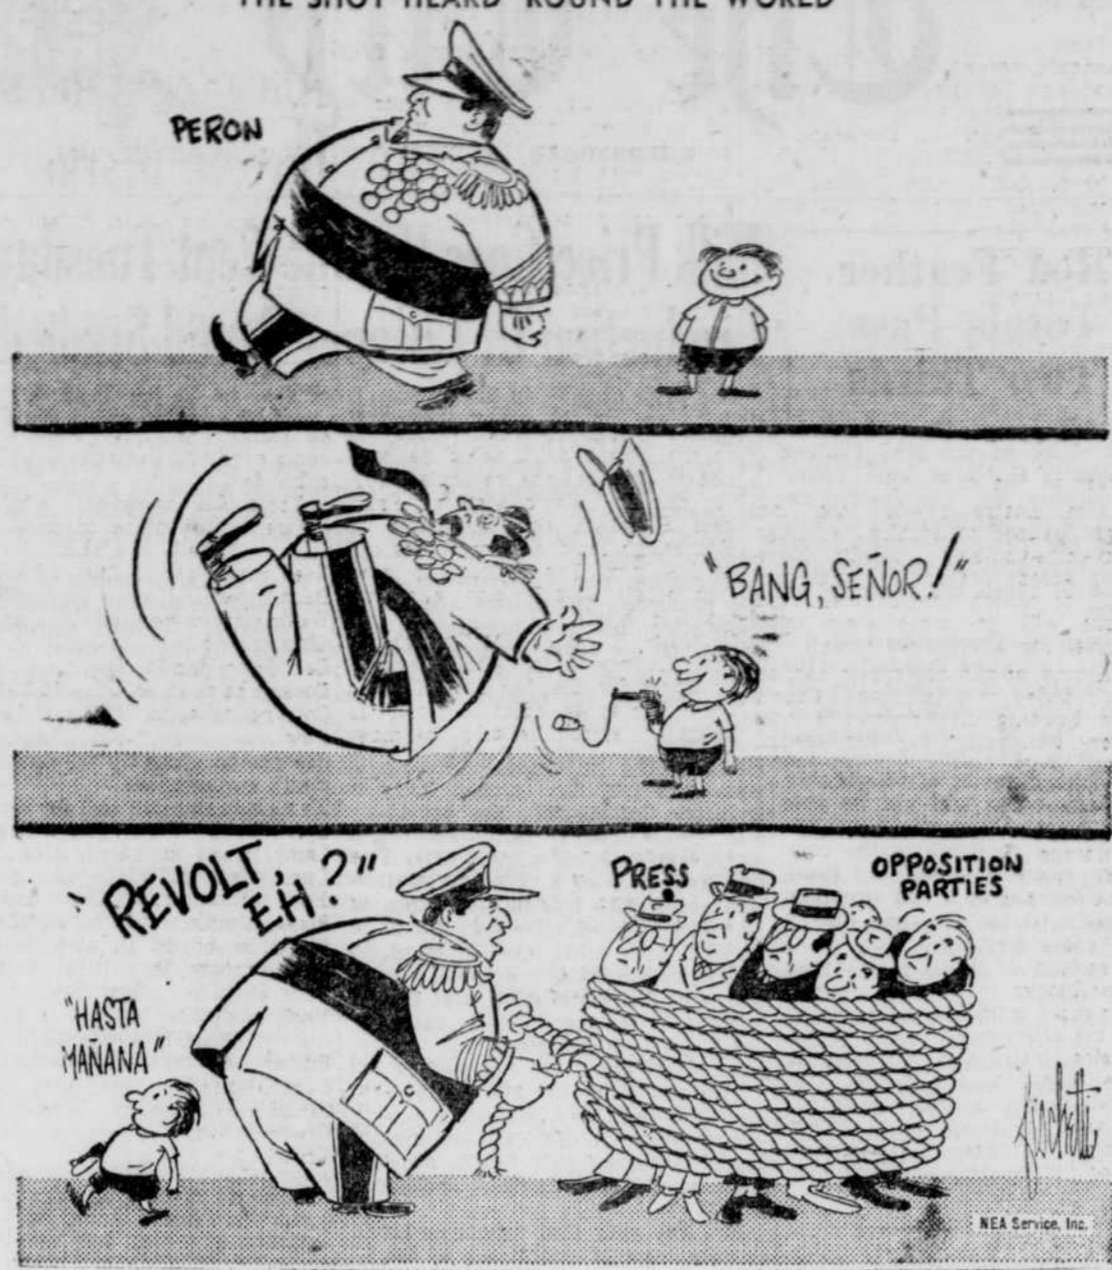

London Daily Mail
The Scottish branch of the Prison Officers' Association decided in Aberdeen to press for the re-introduction of dietary punishment and a tightening up of discipline in Scottish Borstal institutions.

Mr. W. Gordon, Polmont, said his branch was of the opinion that something would have to be done regarding the indiscipline which has been creeping in during the last four years in Borstal institutions in Scotland.

"Their present forms of punishment do not deter offenders," continued Mr. Gordon. "My branch asks that the dietary punishment be reintroduced. If this form of punishment is necessary in England it is also necessary in Scotland."

Mr. W. Anderson, Peterhead, said that discipline had deteriorated.

ROYAL VISITORS OF YESTERYEAR

Salvete! Valette!
Son of our King, and Grandson of a Queen
Whose peer has seldom on this earth been seen,
And thou, the chosen treasure of his life,
Loved by the people as his loving wife.

Welcome! Thrice welcome on this festive day!
Note with kind eyes our loyalty's display,
And carry back across the ocean's foam
Canadian blessings to your Island Home.

G.M.

(These words, written as a greeting to the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York fifty years ago, may be repeated in honor of Her Royal Highness, Princess Elizabeth, and the Duke of Edinburgh.)

Coincident with the anticipation of and gratitude for the Royal visit to Canada of Princess Elizabeth and Philip, Duke of Edinburgh come memories of old days when Nature smiled upon us with the glories of Autumn's foliage and on our forests' and fields' rich backgrounds. It is October 16th, 1901. The sun is shining on the City of Sherbrooke; the people are happy and eager for the day's festivities to begin when they will welcome the King's son and his gracious consort, the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York. It is one month to a day since their Royal Highnesses entered the fortress gate of Canada and the war-scarred City of Quebec.

They have visited the Metropolis; the capital of the Dominion; the great wheat fields of the West, and the mighty heights of the Rockies and now have reached the heart of the Eastern Townships, coming through the fertile valley of the St. Francis River en route to Sherbrooke, where in the brief time allowed they will be surrounded by the loyal sons and daughters of the Townships. The people know that memories will be retained by the Royal party from across the sea of the bright autumn day, October 16th, 1901.

The city is in gala attire; for hours the people have been coming from all parts of the townships to the open space between the Union Station (now C.N.R.) The military guards arrive and take their position; they consist of the 53rd Regiment under Lt.-Col. Fraser; Bishop's College and St. Charles Seminary Cadets and a mounted escort. Soldiers are stationed on the east side of the railroad track and the space allowed for the reception is well cleared and protected. The 53rd and Harmony Bands are on duty and entertain the waiting hour with gay music. It may be of interest to readers to have glimpses into the preparations for the welcome to Royalty. The platform and dais erected between the hotel and station under the direction of Mr. W. H. Archer, F.A.I.A., represents a mediaeval city gate with towers thirty feet high, connected by battlement embrasures and surmounted by two stone turrets having cross bow portholes and tiled roofs, from which float the flags of Canada and England, respectively.

The Royal Standard will be hoisted from the battlements on the arrival of the Royal visitors. A large gate arch of twenty feet space between the towers, resembling the traitor's gate of the Tower of London, is half raised as if to admit the visitors. The arms of Canada, the Province, the United Kingdom, bursts of flags and lions complete the decorative effect. The dais and approach are crimson carpeted, with the two gilt thrones of Gothic design and cushions of crimson velvet, resembling the coronation chairs at Westminster Abbey. These special articles were loaned by Mrs. Worthington and Mrs. Paton. Great credit is due

The Record Short Story

HEART TEST

By LLEWELLYN HUGHES

Daylight was etching the foothills of Washakie County as Carl Rosson ate his last meal with his Uncle Lom. Even in this last hour the study old homesteader kept begging him not to go.

"You ain't heard from her in six months," he said for the hundredth time. "How do you know she ain't married?"

Carl laughed. "Maybe she is." It struck him that he had spoken almost indifferently. "Just the same I've stuck it out here for the three years I gave myself, and now I'm on my way back where I figure I belong."

"Here's where your happiness lies, son, if you'd only come to your senses and see it. And another thing," his uncle pointed out. "Look what it's done for you. When you first came here you were thin as a rail, hardly able to lift a pitchfork."

"That's right." He could afford to grin at the series of Army hospitals following the removal of a piece of shrapnel from his heart. Here in Wyoming he had accomplished two purposes; regained his full vigor and saved enough money to marry the laughing carefree girl he had met in Bethesda, Md.

On the six-mile wagon drive to the depot there was nothing to Carl's inexperienced eye to hint of a snowstorm that would forever put an end to his thoughts of Joy Manning. But his Uncle Lom knew. The spring grass had come too soon. There was something wrong when the flowers bloomed in mid-March.

Halfway along the road was a frame house, barn, and a yardful of machinery owned by a young woman who lived there alone with her 3-year-old daughter Josie. Elsa Deane was both capable and resolute, and Carl had continually helped her with the rough work, in return for which she had washed and mended for him.

After a few minutes visit there, he disentangled Josie's arms from their tight grip around his neck, only to kiss and hug her again. "Good-bye, Elsa," he said, hanging the thought of not seeing her again.

"Good-bye, Carl." Her eyes, blue as the roadside bluffs, lacked the laughing provocation of Joy Manning's, but they were braver and lovelier. Quite suddenly he knew that the picture of her standing in the doorway waving him farewell would be impossible for him to forget.

From there on to the depot the winding dirt road passed no other horse man landmark save a small patch of timber about midway. The horse and wagon plodded on, now under the increasing cold of a slate-gray sky and, unbelievably, furies of snow. Arrived at the depot Carl lugged his two duffel bags to the platform, the packs and snowshoes he wanted to keep as souvenirs of bitter winters.

From the wagon seat a saddened earth-brown face stared by sun and wind watched his every move in their parting. "Well good-bye, son. It's been a right pleasing time for me having you around. I guess you know the homesteader will be yours when I'm gone."

Carl struggled with his feelings. He had grown to love his Uncle Lom, yet nothing was going to dissuade him from his plans. "Listen, old timer," he said, a lump in his throat, "if things don't work out back there, you'll be hearing from me pronto."

Through the driving snow his gaze followed the wagon out of sight. Lom going on south to a farm where he expected to hire a necessary new hand to help him. Carl went to the office of the depot to buy a ticket on the spur line as far as Casper.

RIGHT DISCARD WAY IS A VALUABLE TRICK

The Mid-South Regional is one of the most important tournaments of the year, so when it begins in New Orleans in a couple of weeks it's a cinch that Mrs. W. L. Terry will travel down from her native Memphis to defend the pair championship that she won last year. The hand shown today is one of those that enabled her to win the tournament in 1950.

Mrs. Terry, holding the West cards, opened the queen of diamonds. Declarer won with the king of diamonds and looked pleased until he had tried one round of trumps with dummy's ace of hearts. With a normal trump break South would lose only one club. Now his prospects looked rather bleak.

Undiscouraged, declarer took the top spades, discarding a low club, and ruffed a spade with the six of hearts. He continued by taking the ace of diamonds and ruffed a low diamond with dummy's three of hearts. Then he led dummy's last spade and ruffed in his hand with the king of hearts. At this point Mrs. Terry had three trumps and a worthless club. Which card should she discard on declarer's high ruff? Mrs. Terry came up with the right answer by discarding the eight of hearts. Now she still had a trump trick, and her partner still had a club trick.

Toronto, Oct. 12.—(CP)—The mayor apologized to the judge and vice versa—and Toronto's latest Royal tour crisis ended happily yesterday. The judge will close his court.

Mayor Hiram McCallum suggested yesterday that employers in the downtown area to be banned to unnecessary vehicular traffic during today's visit of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh.

On the eve of the visit, the city took on something of a night-before-Christmas atmosphere. Preparations were made to close a section of the downtown area nine blocks by three blocks to all vehicular traffic for the latter part of the afternoon.

Most citizens count on glimpsing the Royal couple during tomorrow's activities, as, apart from the drive into the heart of the city, tonight's program will afford little opportunity for Torontonians to see the visitors.

After the civic reception, the Royal couple will leave city hall for a short drive, then go to a siding where the Royal train will be waiting. The day will close with a private dinner at Lieutenant-Governor Ray Lawson's suite at the provincial Parliament buildings.

The visitors face a heavy program tomorrow. They are to receive the acclaim of thousands of children massed in the west-end Canadian National Exhibition grandstand and in east-end Riverdale park, visit Hart House at the University of Toronto, the Parliament buildings, Maple Leaf Gardens for a hockey game, Sunnyside veterans hospital, the Hospital for Sick Children and the University Avenue armory.

The Duke will address the board of trade at noon. The royal couple will be given a state dinner in the evening. During Saturday night the visitors move on to Niagara Falls.

Ottawa, Oct. 12.—(CP)—The Royal couple planted two trees in Canadian soil yesterday. On the main driveway into Government House, home of the Governor-General, Princess Elizabeth planted a maple.

About 100 feet away, Prince Philip planted an oak. Victoria, B.C., Oct. 12.—(CP)—A blue-eyed Elizabeth will meet a brown-eyed Elizabeth when a Princess calls at city hall here Oct. 22nd. Both are from London, England.

Pretty 17-year-old Elizabeth (Betty) Dolman, Victoria's brown-eyed May 24th queen, will be the first citizen presented by Mayor Percy George to Princess Elizabeth in the City Council chamber ceremony.

"It will be a wonderful experience but I suppose I shall be nervous," said the friendly girl who came to Canada from London two years ago.

Medicine Hat, Alta., Oct. 12.—(CP)—Mayor Wilson Riley is boss at meetings of the City Council, but when it comes to getting aboard the Royal train he takes a back seat to Alderman J. W. Douglas.

Both are railroad conductors. But Alderman Douglas has the seniority and will be in charge of the train carrying Princess Elizabeth and her husband on its run from Swift Current, Sask., to Calgary.

The mayor will have to be content as conductor of the pilot train carrying press correspondents covering the tour. The Royal train will not stop at Medicine Hat.

ing for the socialists. The Mineworkers' Union has flooded the mining areas of Durham, Wales and Yorkshire with pamphlets recalling pre-war depressions and warning that Winston Churchill's Conservative party is the "traditional enemy of the workers."

Top union leaders say this election is the most critical for years because they are convinced the Conservatives plan laws such as the American Taft-Hartley act to curb labor.

The Conservatives have tried to ease union fears. Sir David Maxwell-Fyfe, strongly tipped as Labor Minister if the Conservatives win, wrote recently: "The Conservative party recognizes the necessity of preserving collective bargaining—with its concomitant of free combination, truly independent arbitration and, in the last resort, the right to strike."

Churchill himself said early this week "the Conservative party has no intention of initiating any legislation affecting the trade unions." But union leaders are still suspicious.

Under the 1936 treaty Britain can keep 10,000 troops and 400 planes in Egypt to guard the Suez Canal.

IN MEMORIAM

SAGE—In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Edward Sage, who passed away one year ago today, October 12th, 1950. You were always true and patient. Through the years you struggled on, and those hands that rest forever, Made the home that now is gone. Father in thy gracious keeping, Leave me now our loved one sleeping, Is early missed and always remembered by EDWARD SAGE, Husband, AND FAMILY Coaticook, Que.

DINGMAN—In loving memory of a dear sister, Ethel Dingman, who passed away October 12th, 1947. Your memory to us is a keepsake, With which we will never part. DINGMAN—In loving memory of a dear sister, Ethel Dingman, who passed away October 12th, 1947. Only a memory of by-gone days, And a sigh for a face unseen, But a constant feeling that God alone, Knows just what should have been. Always remembered by sister and brother-in-law, GOLDIE AND MICHAEL THOMPSON AND FAMILY

DINGMAN—In loving memory of my dear wife, Ethel, who was accidentally killed October 12th, 1947. Her last farewell unspoken God called her home to rest, And those who miss her most, Are those who loved her best. They say time heals all sorrows, And helps us to forget, But the years so far have only proved How much we miss you yet, God gave us strength to fight it, And courage to bear the blow, Ever remembered by her husband, HORTEN DINGMAN Hamilton, Ont.

POOLE—In sad and loving memory of Annie Almeda Poole, who was taken from us on October 11th, 1948. Sadly missed by MR. AND MRS. C. W. CURTIS, Son-in-law and Daughter, MISS SANDRA JEAN CURTIS, Granddaughter.

The briefing officer said tentative agreement was reached that each side would provide "token forces" of military police for the conference site. He said each would supply less than 25. The M.P.s would bear small arms.

Nukols said the Reds proposed security areas having a 1,000-yard radius around Panmunjom and 3,000 around Munsan. U. S. Marine Col. James Murray, U. N. liaison officer, counter-proposed that a 3,000-yard circle also be drawn around the Red camp at Kaesong. The communists had not mentioned Kaesong. Under their proposal it presumably would have retained its five-mile protective zone.

Friday's communique and briefing were the first by the U. N. since the liaison officers began meeting this week. Nukols said daily summaries will be issued. Heretofore allied reporters had had to depend largely on communist reporters and broadcasts to find out what happened.

Brockville, Cornwall

Continued From Page 1 ville, 70 miles to the west at 9 a.m. Two stiff days of ceremonies and other official functions in the federal capital behind them, the slim, gracious Princess and her smiling husband did not leave the newly-painted station during the stop.

A crowd estimated at between 15,000 and 20,000—"most of the town was out," said one observer—was on hand to greet them. Eight thousand flag-waving children were in a special, roped-off area.

As soon as the train stopped, the last car beside a ramp leading to a three-deck, decorated platform, the Princess and the Duke walked up for the brief, official ceremony. Transport Minister Chevrier presented Mayor and Mrs. Aaron Horowitz and 34 of Cornwall's leading citizens.

The Mayor's 12-year-old daughter, Barbara Ann, presented a bouquet of yellow roses to the Princess. Cornwall's gift to the Royal couple was a $300 sterling silver tray bearing the city's crest and an illuminated address in book form.

One Week of Sundaes

BY VIOLET M. ROBERTS

HERE is a week of delicious sundaes which you can make for yourself and your friends right in mom's kitchen. (Remember, to clean up when you're finished!)

Maple Nut—This is as easy as opening a syrup pitcher and chopping nuts. Dribble maple waffle syrup over vanilla ice cream, sprinkle liberally with finely chopped pecans, garnish with a dollop of whipped cream, and top with a red maraschino cherry.

Why not save a half dollar from your allowance this week and buy one of those squirt-type whipped cream dispensers? There's enough to garnish a month of sundaes, and it keeps for some time in the refrigerator.

Butterscotch—Mix one-third cup brown sugar (firmly packed into container) with three-quarter cup corn syrup, one tablespoon butter, and one tablespoon water. Place in saucepan and bring to a boil over medium heat. Boil one minute. Remove from fire. Cool, then pour into a jar, cover, and chill in refrigerator. Serve cold over ice cream. Garnish with toasted almonds.

Chocolate-Maple—Add two squares melted unsweetened chocolate to one cup maple syrup. Stir until blended. Chill before using.

Lemon-Cocoanut—Pour over each serving of lemon ice cream one tablespoon corn syrup blended with a few drops of lemon flavoring. Sprinkle with toasted cocoanut.

Strawberry—If strawberry preserves are too thick to pour, break lightly with a fork and combine with enough corn syrup to give the preserves a sauce consistency. Serve on strawberry or vanilla ice cream.

Orange—Stir together one-half cup sugar and one tablespoon cornstarch. Add juice and grated rind of one orange, one cup water, and one teaspoon lemon juice. Cook about five minutes, or until thick, stirring constantly. Cool. Stir in orange segments broken into small pieces and serve on ice cream or sherbet.

Peppermint—Crush six sticks of peppermint candy and combine with one cup corn syrup. Serve on chocolate ice cream.

Experiment with sundae sauces of your own invention. There's fun in making up a sauce and then giving it a name of your own choosing. Start off with "carnival sauce." Surely, this would have all the colors of the rainbow. Bits of red and green maraschino cherries, whipped cream, colored cocoanut, chopped pecans. Gee!

GEORGE - PORTER

Theford Mines, Que., Oct. 12.—The marriage of Williamina Charlotte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Porter, of Theford Mines, Que., and Edwin S. George, eldest son of Mr. C. H. George, and the late Mrs. George, of Lennoxville, took place on Saturday afternoon, September 15, at half-past two o'clock, in the Church of St. John The Divine, the Rev. M. H. W. Seeley officiating. Mrs. T. R. Johnson, organist, played the wedding music. Pink and white gladioli arranged in baskets adorned the church, while white gladioli and white baby mums decorated the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white satin, which fell into a train, the fitted bodice, buttoned up the front, having a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves ending in points over her hands. Her shoulder-length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a white satin crown and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls.

Miss Lois Lockwood, as bridesmaid, was gowned in a floor-length frock of Nile green satin, fashioned with a fitted lace jacket buttoned to the waistline, and she wore a matching cap and mitts, and carried a colonial bouquet of variegated scabiosa.

Mr. John L. George acted as best man for his brother, and Mr. Allan B. George, brother and the groom, and Mr. Jack S. Bateman, brother-in-law of the bride, were ushers.

Mrs. Porter, mother of the bride, was in a street-length dress of navy blue serge with cream trimming and she wore navy accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

Mrs. George, stepmother of the groom, wore an afternoon dress of green paisley silk with black accessories and a corsage of Tallismans roses.

The reception was held in the Masonic Temple embellished with gladioli. The guests' tables, arranged in horseshoe form, enclosed the bride's table which was decorated with sweet peas and centered with the wedding cake, flanked by white candles in silver holders.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. George left for their honeymoon, the bride wearing for travelling, a coffee brown harem suit, dark brown and yellow accessories and a corsage of Tallismans roses.

Mr. and Mrs. George have taken up residence in Lennoxville.

PERKINS - WEBB

Asbestos, Que., Oct. 12.—The Advent Christian Church of Danville, Que., was the scene of a very pretty wedding at half-past two o'clock, on Friday, August 24, when Thelma Joanne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Y. Webb, Asbestos, Que., was united in marriage to Mr. Chester Ronald Perkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Perkins, Asbestos. The pastor, Rev. David A. Dean, performed the double ring ceremony. The wedding music was played by the organist, Mrs. J. A. McCoy, and the soloist was Mr. Charles E. Webb, brother of the bride, who sang "Wedding Song" just prior to the ceremony, and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

Large baskets of gladioli in pastel shades, together with vases of sweet peas and baby's breath formed the decorations in the church. Friends of the bride were responsible for the beautiful arrangement of the flowers. Pink, blue and white satin's buttons tied with white sash bows marked the guest places.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional white satin gown with French lace insets and panels. Quilted scrolls set with seed pearls enhanced the loveliness of a gown fashioned with circular neckline and gathered skirt. A finger veil of nylon net and embroidered lace gathered on a coronet of satin and seed pearls completed her costume. Her only jewelry was a triple strand of pearls, a family heirloom. She carried American Beauty roses in an attractive arrangement, cascaded with white scabiosa.

The bride's attendants were her sister, Miss Luvia Webb, as maid of honor; her cousin, Miss Betty Fessenden, of Fulford, as bridesmaid, and another cousin, Miss Miss Pamela Hutchison, of Quebec City, as flower girl.

The maid of honor was attired in a floor-length gown of deep pink moire taffeta fashioned with round neckline and full gathered skirt. The bridesmaid's dress was of aquamarine nylon taffeta fashioned on the same lines, and both wore headresses and stoles of white net, and carried nosegays of multi-colored roses and baby's breath.

The flower girl wore a floor-length gown of yellow nylon marquisette over taffeta. Her full scalloped skirt was bordered with a ruffle of her coronet was of matching marquisette. She, too, carried a nosegay of multi-colored sweet peas and baby's breath.

Mr. Alfred Perkins, of Danville, acted as best man for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Russell Perkins, of Belleville, Ont., another brother, and Mr. Merton Webb, Asbestos, brother of the bride.

The brides' mother wore orchid silk contrasted with accessories of black and crystal. A corsage of white scabiosa accented the classic lines of her dress.

The groom's mother was attired in black and white printed silk with redingote of printed sheer. Accessories of black and a corsage of red roses completed her attractive ensemble.

Mrs. Lucia K. Fessenden, maternal grandmother of the bride, was dressed in grey with black accessories and wore a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Bertis Webb, the bride's paternal grandmother, was in grey flowered Bemberg silk, with which she wore navy accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the United Church Parlors, Danville, and was attended by upwards of one hundred guests. The bride's table was attractively arranged with fall flowers and white tapers in silver holders, and centered with the four-tier wedding cake, which was topped and banded with sweet peas in pastel shades. Place cards were set for seventeen guests which included three grandparents of the bride. Unable to be present were two aged relatives of the bride: Miss Cora Matthews, great-great-aunt, 87 years, whose pearls were worn by the bride, and Mr. George Allen, great-great-uncle, 86 years, both of Brookline, Mass.

The bridal couple left later for

QUEBEC EPSILON CHAPTER, BETA SIGMA PHI

The Quebec Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its model meeting at the home of Mrs. W. M. Richardson, Lennoxville, on Monday, October 7, with the president, Mrs. H. G. Brooks, in the chair.

After the Opening Ritual, repeated in unison by the members, routine business followed.

The history of Beta Sigma Phi was read by Mrs. R. MacMillan, and Mrs. J. Coyle explained its purpose and scope.

Plans were made for the initiation banquet which will take place on Monday, November 5, at "Rockcliffe," Quebec Street.

Mrs. J. D. Stark presented the schedule of activities drawn up by the social and ways and means committees for the coming year.

The meeting was then turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. E. Fuller. The chairman introduced the speaker of the evening, Mrs. T. Hanson, who presented a very interesting paper on Happiness. "Happiness, she stated, means personal satisfaction on the job and at home; a sense of harmony with people and the world we live in, making life easier, and making it a pleasure." She was thanked by Mrs. Richardson, after which an open discussion ensued.

The meeting was brought to an end with the Closing Ritual. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Modern Bowlorium Has Been Opened On King Street

Gerry Mathieu, Top Man At Bowlorium, Well Known In Local Sport Circles

Gerry Mathieu, a native of Sherbrooke and a well-known athlete and official, is the top man at the new modern Bowlorium, situated on King Street over the new A & P Store.

"Give my wife credit, she has been of great help to me," stated Gerry, leaning over the counter of his sanitary and attractive snack-bar—located a few feet away from the alleys.

Gerry has officiated in baseball and hockey leagues in both Canada and the United States.

He plans to referee this year in the Q.S.H.L. and also to umpire in the U.S.A. when the baseball season rolls around again.

For five years a referee in the Pacific Coast League, he was well known for his quick and accurate decisions. He speaks highly of Al Leader, president of the Pacific Coast League. "There's a man who works hard for the success of hockey," said Gerry.

Last summer Gerry umpired in the Provincial Baseball League and prior to that with the Northern League and the Western International League in the United States.

Gerry and his attractive wife, of the former Miss Jeanne Turcotte, of Sherbrooke, spent the last five years of their 13 years of marriage in the United States. Gerry was officiating in baseball and hockey circles.

This is not the first time that Gerry has gone into business. He was in the taxi business and later went into the trucking business and made a success of both.

Souvenir plates which Mr. and

GERRY MATHIEU

Mrs. Mathieu picked up while travelling through the states can be seen hanging up at the back of the snack bar. There is a plate for almost every state in the U.S.A.

Gerry has gone into a new business and the popular sportsman is certain to make good once again.

Vacation Hazards Hit Manitoba M.P.

London. — G. P. Renouf of Manitoba, Man., a member of the Manitoba Legislature, will long remember his 1951 holiday in Europe.

En route from Britain to Jersey, in the Channel Islands, a trunk containing most of Renouf's clothing went astray. He then applied for some funds which he had invested in bonds in Jersey.

But the British treasury declined: visitors from the dollar area are expected to use dollars for spending in Britain. So Renouf had to call on Canadian officials in London, including the branch office of a Canadian bank, before he could get money to replenish his wardrobe.

Fine Furnishings

This picture shows the attractive lounge and snack bar at the King Street Bowlorium. It is furnished in rustic wood, supplied by Le Meuble Rustique, Reg., of which Romeo Hebert is the proprietor. Gerry Mathieu, well-known sportsman, operates the Bowlorium.

Says Draft Horse To Make Comeback

Regina. — Some people may think the horse has had its day—except for racing and butcher shops—but not Hardy Salter of Calgary.

A breeder of percherons, a heavy draft type, Salter says he'd "just as soon eat my brother or my relatives as eat horse meat."

"A horse is a man's friend," he says.

And he thinks people who believe the draft horse is headed for extinction via meat-packing plants are badly off the trail. Ordinary draft horses, well-broken to harness, brought good prices at horse sales this spring—so good that horse-packing plants had to raise their prices.

Sales at Stettler and Lacombe, Alta.—usually the biggest in the west—were cancelled for lack of animals.

Mr. Salter said work horses are coming into demand. The Maritime provinces have banned the use of caterpillar tractors in tree-cutting because the machines crush young trees.

"A horse can get in and out between the trees without breaking them down," Salter says.

He doesn't think the horse will regain its old place on the prairies as the main source of power. But he says there is a use on every farm for three horses—a draft team and a dual-purpose horse for riding and winter driving. Horses can do innumerable farm chores much cheaper than tractors.

Mr. Salter admits interest in heavy horses has dropped, but he says he doesn't like the suggestion of some cattle breeders that prize money for horse classes at Prairie fairs be turned over to cattle classes.

"When beef animals were selling at a cent a pound during the depression and you could get $1,000 anywhere for a good stallion, we didn't suggest that the prize money for cattle be turned over to us.

"They didn't ask us horse breeders if we were through. 'I'm not through by a long ways.'"

Restaurant Cooking Intriguing Subject

Calgary. — The secret of good restaurant cooking is small-portion cooking done often, says Mrs. R. A. Denny, director of the restaurant management classes at the provincial institute of technology and art in Calgary.

Officially termed "rotation cooking" the method guarantees that the eggs you eat at 8:30 in the morning were not cooked at 6:00 A.M. and left to harden until you were ready for breakfast.

The problem that is bothering Mrs. Denny is that she has not enough students to fill positions offered to her graduates. "People want qualified and trained personnel," she said.

The classes, begun in 1949, teach all sides of the restaurant business. They include bookkeeping, staff handling and public relations, efficient equipment arrangements, and legal aspects (leases, payments, labor and so on).

Cost control in all its forms is stressed.

Students spend six hours a day from Oct. 1 to May 24 in the course. During this time they work 600 hours in the "shop"—the school cafeteria and snack bar. All the preparation, ordering, bookkeeping is handled by the students.

Two hours a day are spent in theory work or field trips to city restaurants.

Modern Bowlorium On King Street Can Accommodate 1,000 A Week

Sherbrooke's new and modern "Bowlorium," owned and operated by Gerry Mathieu, will accommodate more than 1,000 players weekly.

Situated on King Street, over the new A & P Store, the Bowlorium is the most up to date bowling spot in the city and possibly the Eastern Townships.

More than 700 players, playing in 19 leagues, will play weekly and an additional 300 non-league performers are expected to try for the strikes and spares.

The Bowlorium consists of seven modern alleys, a cozy lounge and a sanitary snack bar.

The snack bar, chairs and sofas are constructed of rustic wood and as soon as one steps through the door of the establishment he gets the feeling of comfort.

Play started on the alleys last Wednesday and the alleys have been kept active ever since.

Teams performing on the alleys include: Dominion Burlington, Canadian Ingersoll Rand Drill, C. P.R. Express, Bruck Silk, Bell Telephone, Julius Kayser, J. S. Mitchell, Dominion Textile, Canadian Silk, Elks Club, a twelve-team city league and Restaurant Laforest, a six-team league.

Top man of the Bowlorium is Gerry while Tony Gingues is general manager and Mrs. Mathieu, Gerry's attractive wife, is the cashier.

Green, yellow and rust are the colors which lend to give the establishment an attractive appearance.

Fluorescent lights, guaranteed maple wood alleys and spacious accommodation for the performers add to make the bowlorium tops.

There is a free check room and bowling shoes are rented at a small fee. You may use your own but there is a rule and it is a very sensible one—"no one, can play without bowling shoes."

Modern spacious wash rooms add to the comfort of the establishment.

Bowling enthusiasts will have to look far for a better location with such accommodation.

With the operation of the new bowlorium it is expected that the popularity of bowling will take a sudden increase.

Bank Vault's Guard Is Charming Blonde

Toronto. — Custodian of a bank's safety deposit vaults is a job you'd think for a hefty fellow with a gun in his belt. But in the newly-opened Bank of Nova Scotia building it belongs to Grace Olafson, a charming blonde from western Canada.

Grace—she's 30—took over the job in 1948 after a year in the bank's clearing and remitting department. Now she sits in a room whose walls are of two-inch bullet-proof glass. Near her is a 55-ton door which opens at the press of a button and is the entrance to what is believed the first atomic blast proof vault on the continent. Forty feet above her mill the crowds which daily move through Toronto's downtown business section.

This slight, good-natured girl, whose outdoor activities include golf and skating, confesses she was "very nervous" at first about the importance of her job. But she soon got over that. And you "meet a lot of nice people" in a job like this, she said.

As vault custodian it's her duty to see that contracts for leases of safety deposit boxes are signed. In addition she admits customers to the vaults and makes certain that no one gets the wrong safety-box key.

"I've always had a horror of something like that happening," she said. "I've read about it in newspapers—but it has never happened to me—it could certainly cause a lot of trouble."

"In case of a customer's death," she explained, "succession duties officials come in to list the contents of the safety deposit box. It's my duty to check the list with them and make sure everything is properly replaced."

She recalled that one day the officials came in to list the contents of a box which was discovered to be crammed with torn bits of newspapers, rags and other refuse.

"Why anyone would rent a safety deposit to keep waste paper is still a mystery," she said. Born in Civerton, Man., Grace spoke her grandparents' native Icelandic before she could speak

High School Girls Shown Fancy Desks

Toronto. — A desk on wheels complete with shelves for snack bar and radio—that's what the modern teen-ager may find in her room one of these days.

The piece was among items at a recent showing of furniture in a Toronto department store.

The desk on wheels was the main piece of furniture in a room designed for the high school miss.

The exhibit stressed that colors in rooms should suit the personality of their occupants. For the girl who is blonde there was a room with red maple furniture and evergreen walls.

A sophisticated background of Chinese modern furniture with touches of blue and yellow in drapes and walls was the setting for the dark-haired girl.

The best "catgut" comes from the intestines of lean, ill-fed sheep, horses or mules.

Mr. J. D. Hutchison has returned home, after spending a few days with his sister, Mrs. John Fortier and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Parker and family, in Newport, N.S.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Custeau, of Lennoxville, spent the holiday week-end with his mother, Mrs. M. Custeau.

Mr. Ernest Hutchison, of Montreal, and Mr. Robert Wilkin were evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Gillanders.

Mr. Clifford Ross is spending a few days in Sherbrooke.

Mr. Raymond Custeau and Mrs. Joseph Custeau were guests of friends, in Lennoxville.

The semi-annual meeting of Megantic Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Oliver. Eleven members from Inverness were present and five members from Lemesurier. The meeting was opened with a Salute to the Flag and Opening Ode, Mary Stewart Collect was repeated in unison. It was decided to make scrap-books for Children's Hospital in Montreal. The next annual County meeting will be held in May, when Inverness will entertain the members of Megantic County.

Mrs. Oliver, assisted by friends, served a delicious lunch at noon. Misses Gwen, Mary J. and Edith Wilkin spent a day with their sister, Mrs. William Hutchison, of Thetford Mines.

Municipal Meeting At Rock Island

Rock Island, Oct. 12. — The regular meeting of the Rock Island council met in the municipal hall, with Mayor Lawrence Tilton, in the chair.

After discussion, it was decided to purchase land from Mr. W. Holmes, on which, to erect a building to house municipal equipment this to be done as soon as possible.

At this meeting, there was no reply from the Provincial department of Health, regarding the approval for the proposed sewer system in this village, however, since then, the secretary Eugene Cagne, has received a letter, stating that the plans had been drawn up for a complete system at a cost of $112,000. These plans must now be placed before the village ratepayers in the form of a referendum. It will then be up to the taxpayers to decide whether, the sewer will be built or not, however, the present system is very undesirable and could be condemned by the Health authorities at any time.

SECTIONAL MEETING

The 1951 Sectional meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held at the Cowansville United Church. The morning session opened with Mrs. E. H. Gray, the vice-president, for this section in the chair. Mrs. E. Windsor of the Cowansville W.M.S. extended a word of welcome to all delegates present. She then conducted the opening worship, assisted by Mrs. W. D. Smith, who offered prayer. Mrs. Gray then took a moment to introduce the visitors at the meeting. Mrs. William MacMillan, president of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbyterial, Miss Jean King, missionary in Montreal, who was the special speaker and Mrs. Carl McClay, Presbyterial literature secretary. The roll of Auxiliaries represented were called and reports were then given by delegates from Cowansville, Knowlton, Waterloo and Sutton, stating the work of their Auxiliaries, C.G.I.T.'s, Mission Bands and Baby Bands. It was decided to have the reports read from one Sectional meeting to another. Miss Lucia Knowlton, treasurer of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbyterial, gave the financial report of the Presbyterial for the first half of 1951. Miss Knowlton stressed the need, not only of reaching our allocations, but of exceeding them if at all possible. The amount received in excess of the allocation last year, for the building advance, was sent to Japan, since that was the country we were then studying. The report of the school for leaders for August, 1951, was given in two parts by the two delegates, Mrs. M. Shower, of Cowansville, gave her very full and accurate account in the morning.

The Hymn, "Lord of All Beings Throned Afar," was sung. Then followed the address of Miss Jean King, Home Missionary in Montreal. It is Miss King's duty to meet the train's and boats of immigrants to Canada. She told many interesting stories of her experiences, with these people. The people who arrive are thrilled with the warmth of their reception in Montreal, and Miss King urged us to do our best to see that they were as warmly received in the places where they make their homes.

Mrs. MacMillan mentioned that the new supply secretary is Mrs. Donald MacLean, of Sherbrooke. The secretary then drew attention to the very excellent display of literature, which she had brought. She received a number of books, which she considered of especial merit. The Cowansville ladies served a very delicious dinner in the Church basement, during the noon recess. Mrs. Gray led the worship services, which opened the afternoon session. She quoted Dr. Lanbaach as saying, "We do not need to fear Communism so much as indifferent Christians." Mrs. MacMillan offered prayer.

Mrs. MacMillan then gave a paper on C.G.I.T. work, which had been prepared by Mrs. Perry, the Presbyterial secretary for affiliated C.G.I.T. groups. Mrs. Perry made four requests of Auxiliary members. 1 members should encourage girls, their daughters or friends to attend C.G.I.T.; 2 Members should go to special meetings, when they are invited, never without an invitation; 3 Auxiliary can help with the expense of the C.G.

I.T. group's literature; 4 Auxiliary can ask the girls to help at special occasions, such as devotional services, Baby Band meetings, etc. Why should C.G.I.T. affiliate with the W.M.S., asks Mrs. Perry? They receive special missionary study work; 2 the fell of fellowship with girls all over the world through this study.

Mrs. Arnott of Waterloo, then gave her very fine report on the school for leaders, in August, to which she was also delegate. Mrs. Gray then told the story of Miss Betty Bridgman missionary elect to Africa, whose picture appeared in the August Missionary Monthly. She also mentioned that Miss Isabelle Miller is now left alone in Chengtu, awaiting her passport home. Silent prayer was offered for Miss Miller and Miss Aca Sandell, both missionaries from our Presbyterial. Mrs. Henrietta Scott then gave a prayer for these two missionaries and their families.

An offering was taken with the dedication by Mrs. Gray. An open forum was conducted by Mrs. MacMillan, who put several questions before the delegates present. The suggestion has been made by Mrs. Dorian that there is a need for a home for unmarried mothers and unwanted children, within the district of our Presbyterial. A committee has been formed with Mrs. Dorian as chairman, to inquire into the situation. At each sectional meeting, a committee had been formed to assist Mrs. Dorian. Mrs. E. H. Gray was appointed chairman of a committee to investigate the need in this section of such a home. Mrs. Gray was to choose her own committee.

Miss Jean King then spoke again of her work in Montreal. She said that what the world needs is friends, we can all be kind and helpful and so aid the newcomers to Canada in their loneliness. Mrs. Gray then extended the thanks of the entire meeting to the Cowansville ladies, who entertained at dinner, to Rev. Gerald Fee, pastor of the Cowansville United Church; to Mrs. William MacMillan; Miss Jean King and Mrs. Carl McClay.

The hymn, "O'er Those Gloomy Hills of Darkness," was sung and the 1951 Sectional meeting closed with the benediction from Dr. Wesley Boyd, of Sutton.

The Women's Association of the United Church met at the home of Mrs. E. H. Gray recently. The president, Mrs. L. H. Raymors, was in the chair and conducted the meeting and Mrs. Gray led in the opening devotional.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Edward Perry and approved.

The treasurer, Mrs. Stanley Haradacker gave the financial statement. The president stated that an appeal had been made for new mortar boards and collars for the choir and Mrs. Elton Bockus, Mrs. George Coote, and Miss Ethel Nesbitt were appointed to look after this.

It was decided to hold a rummage sale in the church basement on October 27. The meeting was brought to a close with benediction after which, the hostess served refreshments.

Mrs. Graydon Tibbitts, with Miss Eleanor Irwin, as co-hostess, entertained at a delightful miscellaneous shower, in honor of Miss Marion Irwin, whose marriage to Mr. James Battley is taking place at St. Paul's Anglican Church. The rooms were decorated in pink and blue and a specially decorated chair, with wedding bells suspended above. The gifts were presented in baskets decorated in the same color schemes. Miss Irwin expressed her sincere thanks for the many lovely gifts, received and at the close of a very pleasant evening, refreshments were served. A special Thanksgiving service took place in the United Church held, with the pastor, Dr. E. H. Gray in charge. The church was beautifully decorated and provided a fitting background for the impressive service. Mr. Ian L. Bockus, of Montreal, former organizer of the church, was guest organizer on the occasion and at the conclusion of the service, Dr. Gray, on behalf of the congregation, presented Mr. Bockus with a purse of money and extended sincere wishes for success in his chosen career. Mr. Bockus has entered the Arts division of Sir

Increased Business Is Reason For Addition; Old Bank Is Renovated

Due to an increase in business and to accommodate the public an in addition to building the annex, the interior of the bank has been renovated.

One of 600 branches, the Magog office is now one of the most modern in the country.

J. A. R. Schinck, manager of the Magog branch, was instrumental in having the annex built.

It is interesting to note that the Canadian Bank of Commerce amalgamated with the Eastern Townships Bank in 1912. The Eastern Townships Bank was founded in Sherbrooke during the year 1859. All the names of the managers of the Eastern Townships Bank are not known but the following men managed the Canadian Bank of Commerce in Magog since 1912:

1912-1914—A. W. Watson.
1914-1921—H. A. C. Scarth.
1921-1927—C. E. Soles.
1927-1933—F. A. Morgan, (deceased).
1933-1944—A. H. Russell, (deceased).
1944-1948—A. T. Roy.

Interior Of Bank

This picture shows part of the interior of the Canadian Bank of Commerce branch at Magog.

merce operates branches in Canada, the U.S.A., England and the Antilles.

The manager of the bank, Mr. Schinck, was born on Nov. 5, 1903, at St. Etienne de Bolton.

One of eleven children born to Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Schinck, he studied at the St. Etienne de Bolton high school and later at the Waterloo College and Laval College, at St. Vincent-de-Paul.

He joined the Canadian Bank of Commerce in 1921 at Acton Vale. He stayed there one year and then was employed at branches in Montreal, Sherbrooke, Quebec, St. Hyacinthe and Shawinigan.

Prior to being named Manager of the Magog branch he was assistant manager and then manager of a branch situated in Dominion Square, Montreal. In 1948 he moved to Magog.

The head of fourteen employees, he is well-liked by all.

A Bank Grows With The Town!

The Canadian Bank of Commerce . . . serving the public for 85 years . . . takes pleasure in announcing that their branch on Magog's Main Street, in the heart of the business district, has been completely renovated and considerably enlarged.

This branch is now one of the largest banks in the district of Magog and one of the most important in the Eastern Townships. More commodious facilities and the tasteful interior decoration scheme combine to make this a really pleasant place for those using the bank.

Nothing was spared to make this branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce a credit to the community. Everything expected of the largest branches is here: large safes, numerous safety deposit boxes and 15 competent, courteous employees who are determined to please clients.

J. A. R. Schinck, who manages the Magog branch, is at the disposal of anyone who has business with, or would like to have business with, the Canadian Bank of Commerce. He extends an invitation to people of the district to visit him, he assures them of his co-operation. Mr. Schinck thanks Magog and district residents: it is they who made this branch successful and made possible the recent expansion.

The Magog branch was founded at the turn of the century, when Magog City was a small village. Magog and the Canadian Bank of Commerce have weathered good and bad times together. It is the proud boast of this branch that it has contributed its share to Magog's present day prosperity, and the hope is expressed that this spirit of co-operation will extend well into the future. The Canadian Bank of Commerce is proud of its place in Magog community life; proud to have contributed so substantially to the growth of Magog, one of the leading communities in the Eastern Townships, a pleasant place to live and a pleasant place to work.

Montreal And Detroit, Top N. H. L. Teams Last Year, Cop Openers From Black Hawks And Boston Bruins

Two of last year's top National Hockey League teams took two of last year's bottom teams for a ride last night as the N.H.L. season officially got under way.

The defending champion Detroit Red Wings blanked fourth-place Boston Bruins 1-0 on a first-period goal by Glen Skov in Detroit and Montreal Canadiens, who lost the Stanley Cup last year on a seventh-game overtime goal, defeated sixth-place Chicago Black Hawks 4-2.

Maurice (Rocket) Richard, last year's second-place scorer, got one goal for the Canadiens. Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion fired two and Jim McPherson the other.

Roy Conacher notched the first goal for the Black Hawks when his team was down three goals. Bill Mosienko scored the second a little more than a minute from the end of the game.

The pace of both games slowed slightly from time to time but all four teams showed bursts of mid-season speed in stretches. The Canadiens put on a more finished show than the Black Hawks and the Red Wings demonstrated better control than their opponents but the play of both winners tended to be scrambling.

Red Wings got their marker

when Sid Abel dug the puck out of a corner and fired it to Ted Lindsay in front of the net. Lindsay's shot was deflected by Skov's hands into the goal.

Canadiens took a wide margin over Black Hawks in the shooting as they peppered goalie Harry Lumley 37 times. They took only 18 shots in return.

The Montrealers appeared at full strength. Hawks were short Bill Gadsby, Max McNab and Fred Hucll, all with pre-season injuries.

Five N.H.L. games are scheduled for the week-end. Bruins will play a home-and-home series with Canadiens at Montreal Saturday and in Boston Sunday. Stanley Cup Champion Toronto Maple Leafs will entertain Black Hawks Saturday at Toronto and will play Red Wings Sunday at Detroit. New York Rangers will play Hawks Sunday at Chicago.

Reports last night had it that Fleming Mackell and Howie Meeker would be doubtful starters in the Leafs' games this week-end. Mackell injured several ribs during a scrimmage this week and Meeker's duties as Progressive Conservative member of Parliament at Ottawa will likely keep him out of action.

High School Gridders In For Busy Week-End

Sherbrooke High School Junior and Senior football teams will both see action this week-end at the local high school Saturday morning and afternoon.

In the morning, the Senior's play St. Pat's at ten. St. Pat's have been training hard since their last game with the maroon and white.

In the afternoon, the Juniors tangle with Lennoxville High School at 2 p.m., also at the Sherbrooke High grounds. All spectators will be welcome.

Stan Warecki Paces Halifax To Victory

Fredericton, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Halifax St. Mary's defeated Moncton Hawks 6-3 last night in a pre-season exhibition game between the two Maritime Major Hockey League teams.

Stan Warecki led the Halifax attack with two goals and an assist. Billy Watson, Muckle Hollett and Gordie Pearson picked up one goal and an assist each. Pete Leswick and the other St. Mary's marksmen. Two other visitors, Conny Poitras and Danny Wilkes, had two assists each.

Moncton scorers were Danny Horeck, Burman and Denis Fillion. The latter gained two assists.

Halifax led 3-0 at the end of the first period. The middle frame was scoreless.

Jackie Gibson, of Hawks, played goal for Halifax and made 25 saves. Denny Brodeur stopped 19.

Moncton forward Ray Marshall and defenceman Bill Wingham were absent because of injuries.

Locals Made Move In Preparation For League Opener Here Sunday; Former Pro Due To Report Here

"Five players, Joe Lepine, Bill Kyle, Tom McDougall, Sandy Milne and Bud Smith, signed their contracts with the Saints and Bobby Fillion was declared a free agent," stated Forest Keene, business manager, at a late hour last evening.

This left only three players working out with the local club to reach agreements. Adj. Cote, Lloyd Ferguson and Lucien Gilbert are still unsigned but Manager Keene hopes to have the boys within the fold before tomorrow.

In the case of Bob Fillion Manager Keene stated that the former pro was turned loose from the squad and can now make a deal for himself with any other team. The club purchased Tommy McDougall's contract from the Boston Bruins and he is now the property of the Saints.

General Manager Frank Boucher, of the New York Rangers, allowed Bill Kyle, the hustling forward working out with the local team, permission to remain with the Saints for the coming season and he reached terms with the locals.

A deal for another forward has been completed with Hershey Bears, of the American Hockey League, and the player is supposed to report to the Saints today.

Coach Dugre put his charges through a stiff two-hour drill yesterday morning in order to brush off the rough edges in preparation for the week-end encounters with the power-packed Senators of Ottawa. Bill Durman's team will present practically a complete new lineup made up of members of the Toronto Maple Leaf organization plus a few of last year's team.

Basketball League Will Meet Tomorrow

A meeting of the Eastern Townships Intermediate Basketball Association will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Y.M.C.A., Dufferin street.

Any persons interested in entering a team in either the men's or ladies' division of the league are invited to attend this meeting, as well as others concerned with the future of basketball in these parts.

The meeting has been called by president D. A. Wooton, of Sherbrooke, and its purpose is not only to discuss the coming season but also to elect a new league executive.

Team representatives from Granby, Asbestos, Thetford Mines, Windsor Mills, Sherbrooke and Lennoxville are expected to attend this meeting.

Football In For Another Busy Week-End; Als Hosts To Hamilton; McGill Redmen Travel To Kingston

Eastern and Western football fans are in for a week-end action as every senior team in the country whips into high gear.

Biggest crowds will probably attend the senior Interprovincial games. In the East, Toronto Argonauts are scheduled to play Ottawa Rough Riders Saturday in Ottawa and Hamilton Tiger-Cats will take on Montreal Alouettes in Montreal Sunday.

Ti-Cats and Riders are tied for leadership of the Big Four Union, with a six-point edge on third-place Argos.

In the West, Saskatchewan Roughriders, leaders of the Western Conference, will take on third-place Winnipeg Blue Bombers at Regina and Calgary Stampede will play second-place Edmonton Eskimos at Edmonton. Both are Saturday games.

Coach George Trafton of Winnipeg Blue Bombers wondered whether to put his top men in the Saturday game with Riders since the Western Union schedule winds up Oct. 20. Bombers are four points behind the league-leading Roughriders and appear, with two more games to go, out of the running for top place.

But if Trafton nurses his team through the next two games, he will have a better chance of winning the sudden-death semi-final scheduled between the second- and third-place teams in the Western Union. Winner of the semi-final plays a two-game total-point series with the winner of the regular schedule for the Western Union championship.

Bombers, with Calgary Stampede definitely out of the running, are certain to qualify for the semi-final.

The Winnipeg team will go into action Saturday with halfback Tommy Ford back in the line-up. He broke a collar-bone in an exhibition game with Argos at the start of the season.

Toronto Argonaut fans will keep an eye Saturday on the activities of quarterback Nobby Wirkowski, the youngster whom coach Frank Clair picked to replace Al Dekdebrun, who called the shots for the Grey Cup champions last season.

Wirkowski drew a flood of criticism last Saturday when he tried two short passes in the shadow of the Argo goal posts. Intercepted by Tiger-Cat players, they set up the Hamiltonians for two touchdowns in a game which ended in a 22-6 Argo defeat.

But Nobby turned the tables on his critics Monday. He played an almost flawless game as Argos whipped the mighty Cats 10-0. And if he can do that to the Riders, a lot of Torontonians will be forced to eat large servings of crow.

Manager And Coach Get Life For Throwing Hockey Game While Team Is Set Down In Scandal At Kingston

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Under wraps for seven months, a hockey scandal involving 16 men was ripped wide open today—the official opening of the 1951-52 season. When the air cleared, one senior B club was written off the books.

Charged with throwing a four-game playoff series to Peterborough last spring, the manager and coach of Kingston Nylons were suspended for life by the Ontario Hockey Association. Two players were suspended for two years and one-year suspensions were tacked onto another 12 Kingston players.

The O.H.A., ruling body of amateur hockey in the province, announced the penalties today after a sub-committee interviewed the officials and players here Wednesday night. Those suspended were: Life: Manager D. L. McKnight and Coach George Patterson. Two years: Players Rawlin

Aitken and Edward Plumb. One year: Players Jack Stone, Ken Murphy, Walter Gerow, Ken Paris, Jack McKeown, Freddy Harrison, Joe Watts, Glynn Udall, Robert Joyce, Kenny Potts, Douglas Patterson and Jack Armstrong.

Two other players—Joey Catlin and Bob Landry—were exonerated. They did not attend an alleged meeting when arrangements were said to have been made to throw the series.

Manager McKnight termed the action the "most unjust and apparently pre-arranged decision I have ever seen."

"We were given five minutes to answer questions and no opportunity to present any defence. As there is no opportunity to appeal to the O.H.A., consideration is being given to court action," he said.

The sub-committee said it reached a unanimous decision that proof was shown that the Kingston team threw a four-game series to Peterborough in senior A competition, so the Nylons would advance in the O.H.A.'s Senior B playoffs.

Peterborough went on to the Senior Allan Cup playoffs.

In league competition, Peterborough finished first and Kingston second. Kingston was defeated by Markham four games to two in the senior B semi-finals.

The committee emphasized the Peterborough club had no knowledge of the Kingston plans. No indication was given whether betting took place or money was exchanged in the series.

New York—Joey Giambra, 150½, Buffalo, knocked out Maurice Jenkins, 149, Newark, N.J. (1).

Baseball's Monopoly Evils--If Any --To Be Bared At Probe Resuming Monday Before Special Committee

Washington, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Baseball's bosses and hired hands, along with assorted fans and sports writers, are going to get a chance starting Monday to speak their piece on baseball's monopoly evils — if any.

The forum is being provided by a house judiciary sub-committee resuming hearings on the U.S. national sport and the Federal Antitrust Laws. Sessions have been scheduled for Oct. 15-24.

Committee counsel Ernest Goldstein said lawmakers will go into a huddle later with Department of Justice attorneys and lawyers for organized baseball to see if Congress needs to pass a law.

There are several bills pending before the house which would exempt all organized sports from the anti-trust laws. These laws say there may be no business monopolies in restraint of trade.

Lawmakers agree baseball is a business. But they haven't decided whether it needs curbing or protection.

It was pretty much agreed by committee members that blanket exemption of organized sports from the Clayton and Sherman anti-trust acts was too far-reaching.

Rules To Be Strictly Enforced, Says Voss

Montreal, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Carl Voss, referee-in-chief of the National Hockey League, said in a statement yesterday that rule violations will be strictly enforced.

The edicts stem from action of the Board of Governors.

Voss made no comment, but hockey observers recalled that during the Stanley Cup playoffs last spring there appeared to be a minimum of rule violations and an accompanying maximum of first-class hockey.

"Specific orders have been received from the Board of Governors of the National Hockey League to enforce strictly all violations of the rules pertaining to board-checking, high-sticking, hooking, holding and interference."

"In accordance with their decision, I have issued instructions to all referees to interpret these rule infractions literally as set forth under the N.H.L. playing rules."

The 1951-52 N.H.L. season opened last night with Chicago at Montreal and Boston at Detroit.

Baseball Trade Winds Start To Blow With Also-Rans Already In Rebuilding; Yanks After Garver

New York, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Major league teams, especially the also-rans, have launched their 1952 rebuilding programs and it appears that one of the most spirited trading sessions in years is on tap.

No "big deals" have been completed yet but a number involving name players are expected. Most teams are on record as saying they will trade anybody in order to strengthen.

The biggest deal brewing involves Ned Garver, the brilliant 20-game winner of the tail-end St. Louis Browns. Both the champion New York Yankees and the Chicago White Sox are supposed to be dickering for Garver's services.

Reports persist that the Yanks made a down payment on Garver when they sold outfielder Cliff Mapes to the Browns on waivers during the season. Second baseman Gerry Coleman and three other Yanks along with a bundle of cash are supposed to complete the transaction.

The rumors say that the White Sox will send a number of players including Jim Rivera, a rookie who burned up the Pacific Coast League, and cash to the Browns. Rivera played for Seattle under Rogers Hornsby, the Browns' new manager.

Meanwhile, the Browns have been stocking up with minor leaguers. They purchased pitchers Sal Hudson and Johnny Hetki from their Toronto International League farm club and yesterday obtained infielder Leo Thomas from Portland of the Pacific Coast League.

Thomas, a former Brown, was obtained for cash and pitcher Fred Sanford and infielder-outfielder Jack Maguire. Sanford was traded by the Browns to the Yanks in 1949 for $100,000 and three players.

The White Sox also reached into the minor leagues the other day for help. The Sox obtained pitchers Marv Grissom and Hector (Skinny) Brown from Seattle for five minor leaguers and cash.

Grissom, a 20-game winner, is a former Detroit Tiger. Brown was drafted from Seattle last year but was returned when he failed to click.

The White Sox also reportedly have the inside track in a deal that will procure third baseman Hector Rodriguez from Brooklyn's Montreal International League team. Rodriguez was the International's rookie of the year.

The Chicago Cubs, National League tail-enders, have been the most active in the senior circuit. Yesterday the Cubs obtained outfielder Bob Addie from the Boston Braves in exchange for slick fielding but light-hitting shortstop Jack Cusick. Shortly after the season closed the Cubs swapped outfielder Bob Barkowski and catcher Smoky Burgess to Cincinnati for catcher John Bramesa and outfielder Bob Usher. The Braves also released veteran catcher Ray Mueller yesterday.

The heaviest trading session is expected during the major league meetings in New York in December. There also may be some action during the annual minor league player draft in Cincinnati next month.

Sydney Makes Two For One Deal With Moncton

Sydney, N.S., Oct. 12.—(AP)—Sydney Millionaires of the Maritime Major Hockey League last night announced that right winger Sam Kennedy had been obtained from Moncton Hawks in a trade for two rearguards.

Millionaires, overstaffed with defencemen, sent Laurie May of Winnipeg and Norval (Red) Olson of Port Arthur to Hawks.

May, a steady performer with Millionaires last season, is a reinstated pro. Olson jumped into senior ranks with North Sydney Victorias last season. He joined Sydney's training camp early this week.

Kennedy, also a reinstated pro, was with Toronto St. Mike's in the Ontario Major Series last year.

Wolfe-Compton League Hold Meeting Monday

The annual meeting of the Wolfe-Compton Intermediate Hockey League will be held Monday evening in East Angus at 8:30.

The gathering will take place in Aubine's Hotel and President Larry Merrigan has called the meeting to discuss plans for the coming season. Last year the league had one of their best years since the foundation of the circuit.

Eight teams comprised the loop and the league champions, Garthby, copped the Eastern Townships Intermediate "C" championship when they downed Bromtonville, Massawippi Valley League winners, in the final playoff.

All teams interested in entering the league are requested to have representatives on hand Monday evening. If more than the eight clubs apply for entry in the loop the circuit will operate in two sections.

Police To Investigate Leo Durocher's Letter

New York, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Police began an investigation yesterday of a letter sent to Manager Leo Durocher of New York Giants offering a $15,000 bribe if the National League club would throw some of the World Series games to the New York Yankees.

Ford Frick, new commissioner of baseball, turned the letter over to Chief of Detectives Conrad Rothengast after he had received it from Durocher. The Giants lost the series in the final game Thursday.

The detective chief said the envelope carried the name of the Strand Hotel, Atlantic City, N.J., and was postmarked Oct. 6. It was typewritten on loose-leaf paper.

Scotch Rhythm Places First In Commerce Trot

Detroit, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Scotch Rhythm, second place winner in the Hambletonian, copped first place in the $10,000 Board of Commerce Trot at the Detroit Race Track last night.

A record Thursday night crowd of 5,855 saw the race, a revival of Michigan's second oldest harness event.

Scotch Rhythm won the first heat in 2:05 4-5, but finished second to Thunderation in the second heat. The Grand Circuit champion was driven by Ralph Baldwin.

Reds And Cataracts Play To 3-3 Tie

Shawinigan Falls, Que., Oct. 12.—(CP)—Providence Reds of the American Hockey League and Shawinigan Falls Cataracts of the Quebec Senior League played to a 3-3 tie in an exhibition game here last night. Rene Pepin scored twice for the Reds and Powell got a singleton. Buchanan, Dawson and Gross tallied for the home team.

Bruins Sold To Boston Garden By Weston Adams, President Of Club

Boston, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Arrangements for the purchase of a 60-percent controlling interest in the Boston Bruins National Hockey League club were completed today by the Boston Garden-Arena Corporation.

For all practical purposes the deal, which has been in the making for about six months, was settled when Weston W. Adams resigned the club's presidency in favor of Walter Brown, General Manager of the Boston Garden-Arena Corporation.

In a joint statement, Brown and Adams explained that it called for the purchase of 16,320 of the club's total of 27,200 shares of stock held by a comparatively small group.

"We hope each of the Bruins' original stockholders will sell 60 per cent of his present holdings on or before the Oct. 25 transfer date," Brown explained.

"But if some do not see fit to do so, Mr. Adams and one other stockholder will turn over the 16,320 shares from their own holdings. We financed this deal entirely within the Boston Garden-Arena Organization and have earmarked sufficient funds for the purchase of a controlling interest in the Bruins."

After stepping down in Brown's favor, Adams said: "It is for the best interests of the Boston Bruins and hockey fans that we put the club to have the Boston Garden-Arena control the club's franchise."

Brown added that the contracts of General Manager Art Ross and Coach Lynn Patrick would be assumed by his organization. Ross, who introduced professional hockey
