SECRET TREATIES WRONG, SAYS SIR ROBERT BORDEN

People Must Get Full Information Regarding Compacts

A HIGH TRIBUTE

American Writer Says Canadian Premier One of Conference Leaders

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 10.— The New York Herald this morning publishes the following special from Paris:

Sir Robert Borden, Premier of Canada, and one of the great leaders of the Peace Conference, is flatly opposed to secret treaties and just as strongly in favor of complete co-operation on the part of the United States and Canada in working out the problems and policies of the Pacific.

"Canada has no secret treaties," he said when I mentioned those poisoned thorns that have pricked the patience of the peace makers. I assured him that Americans appreciate that fact. Canada does her work in the open. Probably that is one reason why Sir Robert is so powerful in Paris.

"Is it not time that the rule and practice of nations be brought into line with modern interpretation and application of the old Anglo-Saxon rule of law as to the sanctity of covenants?" I asked.

"I am not a lawyer, but it is my understanding that now the governing principle in our courts is that private covenants, or so-called vested interests, must give way to the needs of the public welfare. Is it not an international necessity that this modern practice be applied to secret treaties or arrangements between nations?"

"You are quite right," replied the Canadian leader. "I am strongly of the opinion that there should be no secret treaties. The people of each self-governing nation are absolutely entitled to full information respecting all treaties into which their governments have entered.

"As to any understanding to which their governments may have committed them, apart from formal treaties or conventions, the people are entitled to equally full information. It is perfectly true that negotiations must frequently be conducted under the seal of confidence, as otherwise they would be ineffective; but this is entirely consistent with the principle that the conclusions reached through such negotiations must be publicly announced. Moreover, nearly all treaties and conventions must receive the final approval of the people, through their representatives in Parliament, before the nation as a whole can be committed."

"Sir Robert," said I, "American-Canadian comradeship is a real thing. On all vital things we think the same thoughts. I am sure that Americans would appreciate an expression of your views as to the interests of Canada in the Pacific."

PACIFIC'S CONTROL VITAL.

"Our country, like yours," said the Premier of Canada," fronts not only on the Atlantic—which hitherto has been the main theatre of world-activities,—but also on the Pacific, which in the future will become more and more a predominant centre of those activities. We are therefore, directly and even vitally interested in the Pacific."

"The creation of a great world highway connecting the two oceans has lent a new importance to our interest, which will become more and more intense as the population of our western provinces, and especially the province of British Columbia increases. Our point of view on both the Atlantic and the Pacific is much the same as that of the United States, with whom we hope to action cordial co-operation with respect to all matters affecting the common interest of the North American continent."

The importance of both these statements can only be appreciated by those who grasp the one outstanding fact that, stripped of bewildering verbiage, the Paris Conference is a contest between secret schemers seeking special advantages at the expense of the world at large and men who have really learned the lessons of the war and who are bent upon setting up a really sane and just "government of the world, under law."

Every grain of gossip that I have heard has been favorable to the Canadian delegation. Once or twice it was Sir Robert Borden who intervened to keep the consideration of Far Eastern matters along safe, smooth and satisfactory channels. He has a remarkably complete knowledge of many details that are not understood by all our own delegates. I am quite sure that he has the full confidence of President Wilson and Mr. Lloyd George.

STILL HOPING AGAINST HOPE

Special Star Cable by United Press.

DUBLIN, March 10.—"Will Wilson do anything about Ireland?" is the question uppermost in the minds of Irish politicians, particularly the Sinn Feiners today.

Thus far the Republicans have been bitterly disappointed at President Wilson's silence to their appeals. On the other hand, the few surviving Irish Nationalist politicians of any importance see in the President's action some hope for the revival of their party.

John Dillon, leader of the Nationalists, said:

"The day is not far distant when the country will awaken to the great mistake made by the majority of Nationalists at the recent elections in voting for the Republicans, and it will fall back on the old Parliamentary or constitutional policy pursued so long by the late John Redmond."

The Sinn Feiners, however, have not yet lost hope of Wilsonian intervention, according to Harry Boland, M.P., acting head of the Sinn Fein during the imprisonment of the leaders.

"We realize the very difficult position President Wilson is in," Boland declared, "but we cannot believe he will turn down Ireland's claim at the Peace Conference. We are satisfied that American opinion is behind it."

TO INVESTIGATE LONDON RIOTING

American Prisoners Turned Over to U.S. Military Authorities

QUIET PREVAILS

Charges and Counter-charges Regarding the Cause of Trouble

LONDON, March 10.—The riot in the Strand yesterday resulted primarily out of a clash between London civil policemen and American military policemen, according to information obtained today.

When the civil officers arrested two Americans near the Y.M.C.A. Eagle Hut on a charge of gambling, and started for Bow Street jail, several military policemen followed and asked that the prisoners be turned over to them for military trial, it was said.

An argument resulted, which turned into a fight. The military policemen were clubbed and placed under arrest.

The news spread to the Eagle Hut. Several hundred soldiers and sailors, together with a few Canadians and Australian soldiers, started for the jail, police reserves charged into their midst, swinging clubs. A free-for-all fight ensued, in which four American soldiers and sailors were severely injured, and five policemen and several score Americans, Canadians and Australians were slightly hurt. Mounted policemen were called out, but the fighting continued for two hours.

Order was finally restored through the intervention of additional military policemen, who persuaded the soldiers and sailors to disperse. About fifteen Americans who had been arrested were later turned over to the American military authorities.

The Americans charge that the London policemen were over hasty in using their clubs against military policemen, who really were trying to quiet the disturbance. The civil authorities make the counter-charge that the soldiers were attempting to storm he jail. All military policemen, soldiers and sailors were ordered to report immediately to their bases. Army, navy and police officials were co-operating in an investigation.

Major Campbell, of the American military police, placed most of the blame for the riot on British policemen who attacked the military police. He said, however, it was "probably due to a misunderstanding the British police having neglected to ascertain the status of the American police."

The British police declare the Americans were arrested under the law prohibiting gambling in the streets.

Colonel Mitchell, chief of staff at American headquarters, said:

"I greatly deplore the fact that there should be the slightest friction. Every effort will be made to maintain order among the Americans."

At Canadian headquarters it was denied that Canadian soldiers had participated in the riot.

The American military police are today inquiring into the riot. Major Campbell, of the American military police, was among those knocked down and trampled on.

It is claimed that the real culprits made a getaway, and that the police arrested three American sailors.

Corporal C. R. Zimmerman and Pte. L. N. Wilson, American military policemen, who were injured during the fighting today between London police and soldiers and sailors, are resting quietly at a hospital tonight. It is not known how seriously they are hurt.

Two Canadians, arraigned in Bow Street Court, were fined $10 each. A Highlander was bound over. The American and British army authorities will continue their investigation pending consultation with the American Embassy.

Balfour, the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs in the Lloyd George Cabinet, will retire at the close of the Peace Conference, the Evening Standard today says it understands. BRITISH TAXPAYER FACING GIGANTIC AFTER-WAR BURDEN

Govt.'s Hope for Relief Through German Indemnity Lessening

GLOOMY FORECAST

England's Immediate Safeguard is Industrial Peace and Production

Special Star Cable From Our Own Correspondent. Copyright.

THE MONTREAL STAR OFFICE, 20 Cockspur street, London, March 10. — The British taxpayer is facing a gigantic after-war expenditure. Complete disillusionment is coming to those Englishmen who imagined the singing of peace would bring taxation back to something like the old level. Mr. Churchill's army budget, submitted to the House of Commons last week, totals $1,500,000,000 for the coming year, or over ten times that of the last pre-war figure. Naval estimates, also submitted last week, total $745,000,000, or three times that of the last pre-war figure.

The total of the army and navy budget alone reaches $2,500,000,000, as compared with $1,000,000,000, in 1913. To this gigantic total must be added the huge future expenditures on roads, transport, new housing, education, vast electricity and other reconstruction projects. Nobody has yet arisen to show how the swollen Government department can be rapidly demobilized, or how these stupendous estimates can be substantially and quickly reduced.

It is with this prospect before Parliament that Sir Donald MacLean leader of the Liberal Opposition, startled the House of Commons by declaring that unless some means of ruthless retrenchment is discovered, England is heading straight for bankruptcy.

The sober truth is that the British Parliament has no serious lovers of retrenchment or economy, and certainly no such spirit is shown by those who might be expected to show it most, namely the labor members.

Indeed, immediately following Mr. Maclean's gloomy prophecy, Mr. Adamson, the Labor leader, proposed that payment to members should date from the declaration of the poll instead of from the meeting of the House. Also, that the railway expenses be added to the present salary of $2,000.

HOPE OF RELIEF LESSENS.

Statements by Bonar Law in the House of Commons indicate the Government's lessening expectations of much relief through German indemnities. One figure suggested, namely, $12,000,000,000, is now regard in authoritative circles as far beyond the German powers of payment, even if Germany is spared a descent into such domestic chaos as now prevails in Russia.

All that the British Ministers can be induced to say is that the Allies will get whatever they can squeeze from Germany, while the British delegates are seeking to dissuade France and Belgium from their demands for priority in repayment from Germany.

Another direction in which some Englishmen look for relief is international disarmament as a result of the destruction of Germany's power for mischief, but the new military preparations and the Budgets of Great Britain, France, United States and Japan, hardly suggest expectation for an early realisation of this relief.

Winston Churchil made an interestin disclosure when he showed the uphill battle the British Government was fighting in Paris against maintaining conscription. Lloyd George is pressing with all his influence for the abolition of conscription in Germany as a part of the peace terms, but the British House of Commons, especially the labor sections, has been deeply concerned to learn that the compulsory system will probably survive after the war in Japan, France, Italy and even in America.

Britain on the other hand, started last week to build a purely voluntary army on a basis of higher pay. The British soldier now enlisting voluntarily gets board, lodging, clothes and a guinea per week as pocket money which, says Mr. Churchill, is "more than many of us get when we were boys of eighteen." It is by the magnet of this increased pay and better conditions that England hopes to secure its new army of 900,000 without compulsion.

Where, then, lies England's immediate hope? Only in industrial peace and increased production. Yet England's basic industry, coal mining, upon the prosperity of which her international commerce especially rests, is still in jeopardy from strikes.

All that can be said, at the moment, is that last week's proceedings of the judicial commission of inquiry seem to point to a concession to the miners' demands of a six-hour day and 30 percent. increase in wares, with the ultimate nationalization of coal-mining properties.

Behind this problem lies the further problem of railway nationalization. And even these concessions to labor if made, will not avert the clash which is certainly coming over the general industrial policy.

The new Parliament is overwhelmingly pledged to measures to prevent dumping and unfair competition, also to safeguard industries and secure Empire preference. Organized Labor and Liberalism are definitely opposed to anything of the kind.

Woman Homesick for Denmark, Attempted to Row Across Atlantic

NEW YORK, March 10. — Victoria Nielson, formerly of Denmark, displayed some of the spirit of the ancient Vikings when she bought a fifteen-foot rowboat and started out to cross the Atlantic in it. The boat, with the woman in it, sound asleep, was picked up 30 miles from the Battery, ten miles south of Sandy Hook, by the pilot boat. The woman declared she was homesick for Denmark, and not having the money to cross otherwise, had determined to row there. She was brought to Seaview Hospital, States Island, under suspicion of being insane, but escaped during the night and is still at large.

FRANCE AND ITALY TO OPPOSE UNION

Energetically Resent Inclusion of German-Austria with Germany

TO PUNISH GUILTY

Supreme War Council to Investigate Italo-Jugoslav Incidents

By Associated Press.

PARIS, March 10—.(Havas Agency)—France and Italy, according to the Gaulois, are fully in accord in opposing energetically the union of German Austria with Germany.

Premier Clemenceau, as President of the Peace Conference, has sent a letter to the head of the Inter-Allied Commission at Triest, advising him that the military commission appointed by the Supreme Council to investigate the Italo-Jugoslav incidents, which caused the recent acute feeling between the two peoples, will proceed at once to Laibach.

The Matin prints the text of his letter, which says that after the facts have been verified the commission will take all necessary action, including orders for punishment of the guilty and any compensation or satisfaction which it may be decided is due the Italian Government.

The commission will give notice, the letter adds, that any similar incidents in the future will cause Inter-Allied military occupation of the localities where such incidents arise, under the terms of the Austrian armistice, and that such action will not exclude the taking of any more severe measures the commission might deem to be warranted.

BRITAIN TO SINK HER SHARE.

A change in the attitude of the British Government regarding the plan to sink German warships, has been noticed since the return of Premier Lloyd George to Paris. It now appears probable that instead of the German craft being sunk, Great Britain will be willing to permit France and Italy to keep some of the ships, but will consent to sink her own allotment.

In this way, it is said, Great Britain would relieve the United States of the necessity of carrying out her projected great naval building programme, which, it is understood, was based on the intention to prevent any one nation from having such a predominant navy as would give her control of the seas against the powers of the League of Nations.

The addition of a limited number of the German warships to the French and Italian navies would not sensibly disturb the present balance of naval power, excluding Austria and Germany.

The desire of American naval experts that the German ships be eliminated completely, it is said, is based on considerations of economy, as they hold that if the German ships are given to Great Britain in the proportion proposed, the United States would be compelled to spend one billion dollars to maintain her place in the naval lists.

PEACE PRELIMINARIES MARCH 20.

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, March 10.—Preliminary peace negotiations may begin at Versailles about March 20, according to reports in circulation here today. Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the Foreign Minister, is now arranging for a small party of prominent business men to accompany the German commissioners as experts. These men have been instructed to hold themselves in readiness for possible departure on March 17, or March 19.

COUNT LESS ON GOODNESS OF MEN.

By Canadian Press.

LYONS, France, March 10. — Rene Vivian, former premier, speaking today at a meeting of the French Association for a League of Nations, at which Leon Bourgeois the French proponent of the League, presided, said:

"To make the league of nations a reality, we must count less on the goodness of men than the interest of nations. Hundreds of thousands of our children have fallen to deliver us from the nightmare of war, and if we do not succeed in demonstrating that institutions to assure liberty are stronger than those of autocracy, because the former have for a basis an object, reason and conscience, and the latter force, we shall not be worthy of the heroic testament which those young men, swept away in the flower of their youth, have transmitted to us."

KOREA DEMANDS SEPARATION.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 10. —Korea will demand recognition of her independence from Japan at the Paris Peace conference, according to a cablegram received from Korean Unionists here today. BERLIN REVOLT GETTING OUT OF LEADERS' HANDS

Strong Minority Demands Complete Overthrow of the Cabinet

SPLITTING PARTIES

Reports from Various Centres Indicate Widespread Turmoil

Special Star Cable by United Press.

COPENHAGEN, March 10 — German Government troops had completely surrounded Leipzig on Saturday and were expected to enter the city yesterday, according to delayed dispatches received here today. Aviators from Weimar were heavily bombing the Sparatacans entrenched on the outskirts.

Special Star Cable by United Press Staff Correspondent.

BERLIN, March 10 — The revolution appears to have got beyond the control of its leaders.

Although the general strike was officially called off on Saturday afternoon, following a compromise agreement with the Government, fighting was still going on in several parts of the city yesterday.

A strong minority, accusing the strike leaders of treacherously playing into the hands of the Government, is demanding the complete overthrow of the Cabinet and turning the country over to the control of the Soviets. This sentiment is being fostered by fear of hunger, as well as money and propaganda alleged to be furnished by Russia.

TO SEPARATE MOVEMENTS.

Labor leaders are now trying to separate the workmen's political demands from Spartacan terrorism and violence, with which the radical element of the workmen is closely connected. It was sympathy with the workers rather than a formal alliance, which led sailors and soldiers of the Republican guard to break with the Government. These men never had been dependable supporters of the Cabinet, but were assigned to patrol the region around the Alexanderplatz last Sunday. Meanwhile, the Government brought in additional volunteer troops from the environs.

This provoked jealousy and ill-feeling among the guards, who sought trouble. Rival detachments met while patrolling abusive words led to shooting. This was the signal for 6,000 Guards to revolt and begin a warfare which wrecked an important business district and caused the heaviest casualties which Berlin has experienced so far.

It is unofficially estimated that 500 persons have been killed, and 1,000 wounded, including many women and children.

The iron hand of the War Minister, Herr Noske, was really the determining factor in causing the strike leaders to accept a compromise with the Government, as they feared terrorism by the radical elements which had not been invited into the strike—would lead the Cabinet to declare a military dictatorship.

The Spartacans among the workmen, however, refused to recognize the authority of the more conservative leaders, whose conference with the Cabinet at Weimar led to the compromise.

The Government gave in, to the extent of granting the Soviet's constitutional recognition as directors of labor and production, and promising partial socialization of industries. But the radicals want the Soviets to be supreme, and apparently are determined to fight until this is accomplished or they are completely crushed.

With the radicals preaching a new revolution, the people are pessimistically anticipating a new calamity.

There is common talk that food will give out completely in May and that everyone will starve unless peace comes and the blockade is lifted. Discouragement and bitterness are increasing. The general lack of confidence is provoking a startling irresponsibility and disregard for human life. The public goes about its business dejectedly, ignoring dangers on all sides.

The fighting later was limited to a species of guerilla warfare, with the radicals resisting in isolated streets and buildings. But rebellion seemed to be in the very atmosphere, and it was feared the continued fighting might again set the whole city seething with revolution.

Berlin seems ripe for Bolshevism, unless the Weimar Government is strengthened by the Allies.

CALLING OFF STRIKE.

AMSTERDAM, March 10. — The Berlin Workmen's Council has decided to issue an order officially calling off the general strike in the German capital, says a Berlin message, presumably filed on Saturday night, which says the decision was taken late today."

The decision, says the message, followed a stormy session of the council in which the Independent Socialists accused the Major Socialists of treason to the proletarian cause and the Spartacans charged the independents with weakening the cause by compromises.

Richard Mueller, the strike leader, declared the workmen must now return to work and "await a suitable time for renewing action. We shall learn from out experiences," he added.

DAMAGE IS $10,000,000.

Special to The Star.

BERNE, March 10. — Berlin newspapers estimate the damage resulting from the latest revolution at $10,000,000.

Heavy artillery was used in the final fighting for possession of the Alexanderplatz, according to the newspapers. Spartacans brought two 105-millimetre guns to the square through the subway. Government airplanes bombed them as they were being taken out of one of the exits. One off them was set up, however, and fired a round or two before it was captured.

MANY DEAD AT HALLE.

LONDON, March 10.—Many were killed and wounded in serious fighting which occurred at Halle, Germany, according to a Copenhagen despatch to the Central News.

Spartacans are said to have drowned many students and officers in the river there, and it is reported that

GOOD-NATURED RUSH AT RHYL DEVELOPED INTO DEADLY AFFAIR

Soldiers Who Had Been Comparatively Good-natured in the Early Rush, Obtained Liquor, and Agitators Stirred Them Up

Special Star Cable by H. N. Moore.

RHYL, North Wales, March 10.—After a full personal investigation of the riots at Rhyl I am now able to give an accurate account of the deplorable occurrences which brought disgrace to all Canadians in England. This disgrace is felt by none more than those who actually took part. This is shown by the quantities of loot returned voluntarily and the scores of letters of protest against exaggerated and misleading reports published and the anxiety of the men to assist in fixing the blame for the more serious events.

The seriousness of the occurrences cannot be minimized. It is only fair, however, to state that at the commencement of the demonstration there was no intention or expectation that the affair would end in injuries and deaths.

Undoubtedly there was widespread discontent over the postponed sailings, which was intensified when the departure of the battalions of the Third Division was announced. The men, many of whom are actually originals, were told they were only to remain at Rhyl for three or four days when they came back from France, but many had been in camp for ten weeks, including repatriated prisoners.

The camp was organized for transients and could only result in overcrowding. It was difficult for the men to find occupation when the weather is bad. The nearest town is five miles away.

The pay was not forthcoming on time, owing to the books being completed for demobilization.

The permanent camp officers realized they were sitting on the edge of a volcano and warned Argyle House and repeatedly urged action. A full and frank statement explaining the situation it seems would certainly have prevented trouble.

The lack of candor on the part of headquarters in London was certainly largely responsible.

CIGARETTE SALE DISPUTE.

The men had no complaint whatever as to the treatment by the local officers. Everything possible was done for their comfort. The effectiveness of the administration is shown by the fact that, despite the immense quantities of food destroyed, all meals were served.

The officers mixed with the men practically all through without insult or danger. The demonstration was started by the men of one hut from the Kingston and Ottawa districts. The immediate complaint was against the Navy and Army Canteen Board not under Canadian control, where, though large stocks of a popular brand of cigarettes were in stock, none were sold.

The men decided that if it was not possible to purchase them, they would go and get them. They did. They rushed the canteen and got the cigarettes and also beer. Many more men joined in, and, flushed with success, rushed the civilian temporary stores, where they alleged they had been overcharged. They looted these, and then the crowd, growing every moment and inflamed with the destruction, broke into parties and rushed other canteens, including the Y.M.C.A. and one sergeants' mess. More liquor was obtained. Looting began at 9 o'clock on Tuesday evening, and continued on Wednesday morning. Many canteens were saved in the various camps by loyal men.

There was no trouble from the Montreal district. The permanent officers urged the men to desist, and the pickets broke up the crowds, but it was difficult on account of no distinguishing marks to know the rioters.

ONLY 600 RIOTERS OUT OF 17,000.

Not more than six hundred men of the seventeen thousand in camp were actually concerned. Hundreds more joined in the looting, merely because the cigarettes and clothing were available.

It was the policy of Colonel Colquhoun, of Brantford, not to use force if possible. He knew that to use force against the drunken rioters would mean a pitched battle. However, reports of a senseless project to raid headquarters and destroy the records necessary to demobilization decided that a counter-attack was necessary. This took place at midnight while the area of the Quartermasters' store was being looted.

Officers, with a subaltern staff, numbering fifteen, armed with shovels and baseball bats, rushed and dispersed three hundred men. It was hoped the riot would die out by morning.

All ammunition was taken to the office of the Commandant and all liquor canteens not looted or destroyed were closed.

Where the men obtained further supplies is a mystery, but I am informed by many that a good part of some of the beer and whiskey remained.

In the search of the canteents large quantities of lemon extract were discovered. This mixed with beer caused fighting drunks and resulted in more serious occurrences on Wednesday.

At noon a large crowd suddenly attacked the guard-room of District No. 10. The guard, without orders, fired in the air and caused a retreat. Despite a bombardment of rocks, the picquet charged and took three prisoners.

NO TRACE OF TROUBLE NOW.

By Canadian Associated Press.

LONDON, March 10. — A visit to Kinmel camp, the scene of the rioting among Canadian soldiers last week, on Saturday showed that the holiday afternon was being spent in the usual fashion. Football and baseball games were proceeding. For the previous seventy hours the camp had been normal. Any newcomer would have had difficulty in discovering that it had recently been otherwise.

Colonel Colquhoun, in an interview with newspaper men confirms the statement that women camp helpers were never personally molested. He also denied the statement that General Turner went to the camp in an airplane. The General went by the ordinary train and was received cordially by the men at every one of the eleven meetings he addressed.

In the last three days I have travelled about five hundred miles across England in connection with the rioting at Kinmel camp and other matters in connection with demobilization. I can honestly say that in general conversation amongest soldiers and civilians, English and Canadian, I find not the least desire to magnify last week's regrettable incidents beyond their true perspective. At Liverpool, for instance, when the Princess Patricias and three other battalions went homeward, there was nothing but the most obvious cordiality shown them. Conversation in railway trains, hotels and places where men commonly meet is wholly sober and restrained in discussing the Kinmel incident."

SUNDAY PAPER COMMENT.

The Sunday papers, which naturally are always ready to boom a sensation, hardly mention the matter today. The Sunday Chronicle, which largely circulates in North Wales and the North of England, has an editorial which says:

"Characteristically enough, newspapers are blamed for exaggeration, yet it is admitted that five men were killed and over twenty injured and that many others are under arrest. Considerable material damage was done and military rioters acted in collusion with civilians, of whom twelve have been handed over to the civilian authorities.

"It really seems difficult to exaggerate the gravity of all this, particularly when we know that there was a distinct Bolshevik element in the affair. Publicity is sound policy in all these matters, however distasteful full disclosures may be to the official mind. There can, of course, be no question of pandering to insubordination. So long as men are under discipline, discipline must be maintained. But it is also most important, in these nervous times, to secure that no undue strain shall be placed on the sense of duty of the soldier, and if stupidity or injustice have contributed to this lamentable affair, there should be no attempt to obscure the facts. The public will not be satisfied by mere routine procedure."

This is the general feeling here, and we have been promised a full enquiry. It may be added that there have been demonstrations among the English troops during the last few weeks which received as much publicity in proportion as has been given the present matter.

STATEMENT AT OTTAWA.

Special to Star by our own correspondent.

OTTAWA, March 10.—General Mewburn has the floor in the House this afternoon, and he is expected, apart from a review of the country's war effort, to answer criticism of Sir Sam Hughes and also to acquaint the House with what information he has regarding the riots at Kinmel Camp.

An investigation is being conducted by Brigadier-General McBrien, and pending its conclusion little is expected from the Overseas Ministry, apart from the official statement on Saturday.

While there is allowance for some exaggeration, the view at Ottawa is that the affair was rather serious and, in view of the unrest which has been indicated from time to time, an outbreak, while much deplored, was not wholly a matter of surprise.

Every effort, it is said, is being put forth to secure the expedious transport of the troops, and with the opening of spring the movement will be greatly facilitated.

Clergyman Nearly Precipitated Riot in Brooklyn Y.M.C.A.

NEW YORK, March 10 — Riot was threatened yesterday afternoon in the auditorium of the central branch of the Brooklyn Y.M.C.A., when the Rev. George A. Simons, fourteen years a Methodist missionary to Petrograd, who recently testified before the Senate committee investigating Bolshevism, denounced President Wilson as guilty of criminal "pussy-footing" and playing to the Bolsheviki.

Seven hundred civilians, soldiers and sailors were present and immediately there were cat-calls and hisses from all parts of the house, intermingled with cries of "Throw him out!" "He's a seditionist" and "Shut him up!" The turmoil continued until police arrived. Mr. Simons then continued his talk.

When he had finished, Sergeant McCauley, of the Bergen street station, said he would report the speaker's remarks to U. S. Marshal Power, so the latter might judge whether Mr. Simons was guilty of sedition. The sergeant and three other policemen escorted the clergyman through the angry crowd to his automobile.

Road Now in Hands of Govt. Receiver Distinct from National System

Special to The Star From Our Own Correspondent.

OTTAWA, March 10.—The somewhat startling development in the railway situation was the principal theme around the corridors of Parliament today, and Sir Thomas White's statement to the House arouses interest. The whole situation has caused a surprise all round. The Government was surprised when it was notified of the intention of the Grand Trunk Pacific to quit and, it is believed, the company was surprised when the Government took the action it did.

But for the War Measures Act, a serious tie-up would have resulted, had the operation of the G. T. P. ceased today. Under ordinary circumstances, a receiver could not have been applied for till the end of thirty days.

However, by invoking the War Measures Act, the Government takes over the lines itself. The order became effective last night. In the House today, Sir Thomas tabled the correspondence and the Order-in-Council.

There is only one letter—that of Thursday, from Mr. Scott, vice-president of the Grand Trunk. It asserts that the increased rates granted the company have been inadequate to meet the operating expenses and that he was, therefore, instructed to say that the line would suspend when the finances in hand were exhausted, which would be about the 10th Inst. He asked for an acknowledgement of the letter.

The War Measures order-in-council, which is the Government's rejoinder is a long and wonderfully constructed affair, designed evidently to be watertight. It recites the fact that last year $7,500,000 was voted by Parliament to secure the continued operation of the line, and that this purpose would be defeated should the company suspend. It next quotes the letter of Mr. Scott. Reference is made to the need of the service for the conveyance of passengers, returned soldiers, freight and the country's commerce, and the authority of the War Measures Act is cited.

The Minister of Railways is appointed receiver, and on the authority of the Exchequer Court is empowered to issue receiver's certificates, which are to have priority over other claims. They are a first charge on the revenues.

OBLIGATIONS MAINTAINED.

There is a further technically-worded provision, whose purpose is to maintain intact the rights now possessed both by the Government and the holders of bonds guaranteed by the company, as well as maintaining the obligations of the company. If the Grand Trunk should default on future bond interest, the right of the bondholders to apply to the Exchequer Court for a receivership is fully maintained, but the present receiver is entitled to be heard, having regard to the public interest involved. Rights of seeking foreclosure and other privileges of the bondholders are continued.

SUBJECT TO PENALTIES.

Heavy penalties are provided for any officers or employes who should fail to exercise their functions as directed by the receiver. Borrowing by the receiver from the consolidated fund are authorized. All the books for the transfer of G. T. P. stock are to be closed.

The order embraces, not only the Grand Trunk Pacific, but all the branch, subsidiary, hotel, steamship and development companies. The operation by the receiver is to be wholly distinct from the national railway system.

The general effect of the order is to maintain the status quo—to operate the line, and to sustain intact the rights and obligations of all parties in interest.

KAISER THE FIRST AUTHOR OF THE WAR

By Associated Press.

LONDON, March 10. — "There is no doubt that the former German Emperor was the first and responsible author of the war. He absolutely wished for it, and conducted it himself in all its ruthlessness and barbarity."

This is a statement attributed to the Prince of Monaco by the Mail's Paris correspondent, who interviewed the Prince there. The correspondent recalls that the Prince of Monaco was formerly a personal friend of Emperor William, but that friendship was severed by the Prince in a telegram sent to the former Emperor in September, 1914.

"Until a few years before the war," the Prince is quoted as saying, "the German Emperor seemed to sincerely wish peace and a renewal of intercourse with France. I know this, because I was entrusted with a mission to try to bring it about. But at the same time a terrible megalomania was growing in him. He was anxious to see Germany over all, and from the day when he felt it impossible to attain this end by peaceful means, war became an obsession with him.

"I shall never forget the fury in his face and the hatred in his voice when in July, 1914, he told me: 'If they oblige me to make war, the world will see what it never dreamed of.' These words were hypocritical, because the Emperor could not pretend the war into which he declared himself driven was not at that very time being prepared for in every detail."

COL. GUTHRIE BACK

Commander of MacLean Kilties Wounded—Pays Tribute to Privates

By Associated Press.

PORTLAND, Me., March 10 — The wounded Canadian soldiers who arrived here on the hospital ship Essequibo late Friday left for home to all points in Canada on Saturday night, while those bound for Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia left early Saturday morning. The Ontario contingent were the last to leave the ship.

The men were in much beter condition physically than those on the first ship to arrive here two weeks ago. There was only four serious cases. Less than a score were confined to cots, and there were no deaths on the trip across.

Lieutenant-Colonel Percy A. Guthrie, of Fredericton, N.B., organizer and commander of the Maclean Kilties, and Lieutenant-Colonel G. W. Mesereau, of New Glasgow, N. S., who were among the forty-one Canadian officers aboard the Essequibo, both paid high tribute to the private soldiers.

Colonel Guthrie, upon reporting at Fredericton, will remove a sign placed on his law office door, more than four years ago, which reads: "Gone for the duration of the war."

As he sat in his berth, to which he was confined while suffering from the effects of some of his many wounds, he was asked to tell about himself.

"There isn't anything to tell," he said, with a smile. "If there is any hero in my family, it is my litttle wife down in Fredericton. When I wanted to go to the war, she gave her consent. She was brave, and now I am going home to her and my three children."

TRIBUTE TO PRIVATES.

He paid a high tribute to the private soldier, to whom he gave the credit of winning the war, whether it was the British Tommy, the American doughboy, or the French Poilu.

"We thought we were coming to a foreign country," said Colonel Mersereau, "but the greeting extended us by the people of this city is simply beyond all description. We have always called the Americans cousins, but now we must call them brothers. We will always remember our homecoming to Portland, and I appreciate this reception given our boys."

13TH CHAPLAIN, D.S.O.

Major Edwin F. Graham, of Digby, N.S., a chaplain attached to the 13th Battalion of the Royal Highlanders, who won the Military Cross eighteen months ago at Passchendaele, and the D.S.O. at the last battle of Arras, last August, was hobbling about on crutches. He had a bullet wound in his leg, but is now coming along in good shape. He took part in the Dardanelles campaign in the spring of 1915.

Captain J. W. McDonald, of Pictou, N.S., of the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade, who was shot through the side, east of Amiens, on August 10 last, wore the Military Cross.

WOUNDED PLEASED WITH RECEPTION

The Canadian wounded who returned to Montreal this week end from the hospital ship Essequibo, speak in the highest terms of the reception accorded them by the people of Portland, Maine, on their arrival there, and of the arrangements made for their comfort on the railway journey over the Grand Trunk lines. The wounded men were carried on three special trains, which made excellent runs, reaching Montreal within twelve hours after leaving the port of disembarkation. The weather in Portland was ideal for the work of disembarking the wounded, being warm and springlike. The reception given to the Canadians at Portland, where they received gifts of all characters, was duplicated all along the Grand Trunk Railway, the citizens of the various towns, with the local bands, being down at the stations to greet the men as they passed through.

MILK BY-LAW UPHELD BY COURT

Holding that the city's milk by-laws are intra vires, Mr. Justice Fortin on Saturday delivered judgment in the Superior Court quashing a writ of prohibition obtained by Paul Emile Senecal, milk dealer, who sought to restrain the city from executing a condemnation of the Recorder's Court, which imposed on Senecal a fine of $40 and costs for having in his possession for sale a quantity of milk below the standard laid down in the city by-laws.

The tribunal said the only question at issue was whether the Recorder had exceeded his jurisdiction in condemning Senecal as he did for the offence charged. The Court was of the opinion that the Recorder had full jurisdiction to act as he did, and, therefore, the city's contestation to the writ was maintained, with costs.

BURGLARS BROKE INTO SHOE STORE

The premises of the wholesale firm of Bignell and Knox, boot and shoe dealers, of 59 St. Henry Street, were visited by burglars early Saturday night, but quick action by the police prevented them from getting away with their booty. The officers were unable to take the gang, who are said to have numbered four, into custody, with the single exception of one man, who in his haste to escape jumped from a second story window to the ground, fracturing a leg. He was taken to the General Hospital, and will appear in court when his condition permits.

CHILDREN'S MEMORIAL HOSPITAL.

The Hospital hereby acknowledges receipt of $400, the nett proceeds of the Concert given on Feb. 27, by Signor Bonano, Mrs. Barker and others; and has pleasure in publicly tendering its thanks to the artists who gave their time, services and talents without remuneration.

RUSSIANS GAVE A GREAT CONCERT

But Orchestra's Program Was Damaged by Unnecessary Encores

RUSSIAN SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA: Modest Altschuler, conductor, His Majesty's Theatre, program: symphony, No. 5, Tschaikowsky. Idylle, from Symphony No. 2, Scriabine. Fantasie, The Cliff, Rachmainoff. Tableaux Musicaux, Moussorgsky. Management Louis H. Bourdon.

Once more the Russian gave us a great concert. All the greater the pity, therefore, that it should have been damaged by the ill-fitting encores which Mr. Altschuler dragged across every number. After the symphony there was nothing more, for the moment, that could be said; the unfoldment of the music had been complete, the audience had been stirred, thrilled, and needed, or wanted, nothing added to it. But instead of allowing pause for digestion, Mr. Altschuler played a cradle song which was pretty enough, in a commonplace way, but which was as inappropriate as a poem by Ella Wheeler Wilcox would have been jabbed into a reading of "Hamlet" after the Soliloquy. Why, O! why, does Mr. Altschuler insist on these extra numbers? This concert was spun out to an unnecessary length and not a few persons had manifested signs of tedium by the time the musical tableaux of Moussorgsky were reached, a section of the program which should have been especially instructive. The program, as it stood, was adequate; why add paint to the lily, or gilt to the rose?

ELOQUENT PLAYING.

The playing of the orchestra in the symphony was superb. The great themes of the first and second movements were voiced with an eloquence of compelling power. There was everything in the music that the individual listener might be looking for,—in that lay its genius, that it could speak with a different message to everyone. It was universal music. Mr. Altschuler has not played any work here more impressively; it meant much to him, apparently, and it was his wish, carried into ripest effect, that the orchestra and his audience should share it all with him, and be moved by the might of it.

Along general lines, the orchestra's playing was not, of course, different from its playing at former concerts. If Mr. Altschuler makes, or lets, a trombone player play very loud, he also gets a tone of mellifluous softness from a horn; and there can be no denial of the richness of the stringed tone, or of the broad coloring which he constantly employs. In "The Cliff," for example, the effect of nature—sea, wind and rain, was startling in its realism; and in the Scriabine Idylle we were taken out of doors to a world of vastness and teeming with life. The Moussorgsky tableaux came too late in the afternoon to be appraised at their true worth.—P. K.

TRAINS AFFECTED BY SNOWSTORM

Severe Blizzard in Quebec — Some Trains Were Late

QUEBEC, March 10.—Quebec was visited by the worst snow blizzard of the season yesterday. Snow fell for about ten hours, but the fall was so heavy and the wind so strong that transportation in general was greatly hampered. For a time the street car service was held up, while incoming and outgoing trains were seriously delayed. The C.P.R. train from Montreal, due here at 10:20 last night, had not arrived at one o'clock this morning, and the train due to leave here at 11:58 p.m. was in consequence delayed awaiting the arrival of the Montreal train.

LITTLE DELAY HERE.

The heavy snowfall of the past few days has not caused the railways any inconvenience to speak of, according to reports from the C.P.R., the G.T.R. and the Canadian Government Railways received this morning. One train due to arrive from Quebec this morning at 6:45 was an hour and a quarter late, and the Maritime express, the Canadian Government Railways report, was ten minutes late, but with these exceptions there does not seem to have been any trouble. The railway companies had their ploughs out, and although this was the heaviest snowfall of the season, they were able to handle the service without much difficulty.

KILLED IN EXPLOSION.

WORCESTER, Mass., March 10.—One man was killed and four badly injured here today, when a barrel of naphtha exploded in a building attached to the plant of the Baldwin Chain and Manufacturing Company, on Chandler street. Charles W. Berthiaume, fifty years old, a steam fitter, was killed. The explosion completely demolished the building and the flying fluid set fire to four three-tenement houses that adjoined the shops. The firemen had a hard fight to curb the flames, but the buildings suffered comparatively slight loss.

SHIPYARD STRIKE SETTLED.

SEATTLE, Wn., March 10.—The strike of 45,000 shipyard workers in Seattle, Tacoma and Aberdeen, Washington, in effect since Jan. 21, was officially declared off by the officers of the Metal Trades Council last night, and the owners of Tacoma announced today that the yards will re-open tomorrow. The men are to return to work at the wage scale and under the working conditions prevailing when the strike was called.

THE CANADIAN CONSTITUTION.

"The Good and the Bad in the Canadian Constitution," is the subject of a lecture by Rev. J. B. Pyke, M.A., in the Tooke Building tonight at 8.15.

"The French mission, at the moment of leaving your province, desire to express to you and your colleagues of the Provincial Goyernment, their full gratitude for the charming reception which you have given them. We thank you for the words in which you saluted France on the occasion of the luncheon that you offered us last Tuesday, and personally I will never forget the gracious words with which you recalled certain chapters of my career as a soldier.

"We were sincerely happy to meet the fine French-Canadian population of Quebec to which we are allied not only by our common origin but by our common affection for this glorious France of which you spoke in such moving terms. And we will be proud if our visit has contributed to maintain and develop the friendship that centuries of separation have not destroyed. Thanks, Mr. Prime Minister, from the bottom of my heart and believe in the expression of my best and most sincere sentiments. (Signed) General Pau."

VOL. LI., No. 58 — THE WEATHER—FAIR — MONTREAL, MONDAY, MARCH 10, 1919 — PRICE ONE CENT

42ND BATTALION ARRIVES AT 9.15 TOMORROW MORNING

HIGHLANDERS' PARADE WILL COMMENCE FROM PLACE VIGER AT 10 A.M.

Station Reserved for Reception Committee — March via St. James, Beaver Hall, St. Catherine and Peel Streets

To the skirl of their own pipes, and the pipes and music of several brass bands of the city, the 42nd Highlanders will commence their march of triumph from Place Viger Station about 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. All Montreal will give itself over to a day of exultation, and the "brither" Scots of the returning soldiers and comrades in battle will continue a program of reception and celebration through Wednesday and Thursday.

A pathetic detail of the program will take place at the armory on Bleury street on Thursday afternoon, when Chaplain J. B. Kilpatrick D.S.O. will meet the relatives of the Battalion's dead. The chaplain has always written to her whose boy or husband made the supreme sacrifice for his country and he now seeks to meet each personally. This meeting is a necessary but pathetic incident of the otherwise glad reunion period.

It has been definitely ordered by Major-Gen. E. W. Wilson, C.M.G., that the special trains bringing Lieut.-Col. Ewing, D.S.O., M.C., and the remnant of the 42nd, will reach Place Viger station at 9:15 and 9:30 a.m. tomorrow. The parade at the detraining point will be in charge of Lieut.-Col. G. S. Cantlie, D.S.O., who was the first commanding officer of the unit in France.

The station has been completely reserved for those who form the reception committee Major-Gen. Wilson and staff, with the C.G.R. band, will be on the platform, and Gen. Wilson invited this morning Major-Gen. E. Guglielniotti, of the Italian Embassy at Washington, to accompany him. Gen. Guglielniotti is on a special visit to Montreal, and with the Italian Vice-Consul, called on Gen. Wilson today.

PARADE STARTS AT 10.

Arriving at Place Viger at 9.30 a.m., the parade will not commence the march through the city streets until probably 10 o'clock, when they will move off in the following order of march:

1. Detachment of city mounted police.
2. Detachment from 5th R. H. C. with pipers.
3. Returned men of overseas R. H. C. battalions without arms, accompanied by the band of the 4th Garrison Regiment.
4. Invalided members of the R.H.C. overseas unit. Those who cannot march will be conveyed in motor cars.
5. The 42nd Battalion under command of Lieut.-Colonel Royal Ewing, D.S.O., M.C., accompanied by the brass band of the 5th R.H.C. and the 42nd pipers.

CIVIC PROCLAMATION.

The Mayor's proclamation of honor reads as follows:

"The City of Montreal, desiring to do honor to its returning soldiers, I, Mederic Martin, Mayor of Montreal, hereby proclaim Tuesday, the 11th instant, as a public holiday and request the citizens generally observe such and turn out in force to give their soldiers a welcome worthy of the city.

"The battalion will arrive at Place Viger Station and pass the reviewing point on Champs de Mars at ten o'clock sharp proceeding to Peel Street Barracks by the following route:

Craig and Gosford street.
Across the Champ de Mars (passing in front of the Reviewing Point).
Along St. Gabriel to St. James.
To Victoria Square (west side).
Up Beaver Hall Hill to Phillips Square (east side).
To St. Catherine.
To Peel street.

"Citizens along this route are requested to decorate their buildings with flags, banners and streamers and to keep the streets on which the parade will pass entirely clear.

"Clergy of all denominations are respectfully invited to have the bells of the different churches rung during the parade, manufacturers are requested to blow the whistles of their establishments and automobilists are requested to blow their horns.

"Let all citizens join in welcoming our victorious soldiers."

ACCOMMODATE RELATIVES.

The portion of the steps at the east end of the Champ de Mars, immediately behind the City Hall, will be reserved for friends of the Regiment. Entrance will be by Gosford street, and tickets will be distributed for the parade in the Armory tonight, or can be had on application to the Orderly Room, Bleury street.

After passing the Champ de Mars the parade will continue without interruption until Peel street is reached. When the returned men in the parade on wheeling into Peel street will open out, line each side of the street and turn inwards so that the 42nd may pass through the ranks into the north entrance of the barracks.

The R. H. C. detachment will then proceed to the corner of Burnside street where they will form up and salute the colors.

In order that a good showing of 5th R.H.C. veterans and other returned men may be made, it is requested that these parade at 8 a.m. sharp at the armory on Bleury street, and these will then march to the station headed by the 5th R.H.C. band. Automobiles will be provided for those unable to march.

CELEBRATION AT ARMORY.

The arrival and tomorrow's celebration commences a three day's celebration of the Highlanders. On Wednesday and Thursday afternoons the Regimental band and an orchestra will play at the armory, and dancing and refreshments will be provided. To these features all of the men in uniform and the relatives of the Highlanders are cordially invited, and those who need entrance tickets will be given them on application.

There will be 35 officers and 556 other ranks who will arrive on the trains—Only about 300 of these are Montrealers, but it has been decided to bring them all to Montreal for this parade and effect dispersal of all the strength here. Discharge papers, pay cheques and transportation to their homes will be given out to the entire strength at Peel street barracks, at the completion of the parade tomorrow.

SPECIAL DECORATIONS.

At the Place Viger there will be a brilliant display of the flags of the Allies with an immense sign 300 feet long, giving the names of the places where the 42nd were in action—Ypres, Maple Copse, Sanctuary Wood, Hooge, Fabeck, Graben, Zollern Trench, Vimy Ridge, Passchendaele, Hill 70, Regina Trench, Arras, Le Quesnoy, Petit Fontaine, St. Olles, Tilloy, Valenciennes, Mons and the Rhine. Another sign on the hotel facade will show the list of honors won by the officers and men, namely: One Victoria Cross, eight Distinguished Service Order, 32 Military Crosses, 21 Distinguished Conduct Medals, 122 Military Medals, five Meritorious Service Medals.

SIGNAL FOR "BIG NOISE."

In connection with the arrival of the 42nd, the C.P.R. Angus Shops will lead the way for the whistle blowing and hooting by announcing the arrival of the special train as it passes the Shops after leaving Mile End. This will be the signal for the general tooting of whistles.

People are specially asked to help in keeping the route clear for the marchers. Do not crowd into the centre of the street. Keep back to the curb, and by doing this all will have a good view of the returning heroes.

Relatives are asked not to break through the lines of their loved ones so that the march to the barracks may not be interrupted, and thus allow the reception to continue the whole of the route.

Mother Leaves Baby Girl to Die; Cannot Be Traced

A tiny, sickly baby lies dying in the Grey Nunnery, while the police are searching for the mother who abandoned it to the mercy of the world in an east end rooming house this morning. The mite was left in the care of Mrs. Lapariere, of 120 Parthenais street, by its mother, who said she was going out to buy food. The woman did not return and noticing how ill and wan the child looked, Mrs. Lapariere informed the police. Mrs. McDonald, the kindly matron at police headquarters, was put on the case and took the little sufferer to the Grey Nunnery, where the doctors state that death will soon end the brief and unhappy life. Meanwhile no trace can be found of the heartless mother.

ENTERED STORE BY THE AIR-SHAFT

The thieves who on Sunday morning broke into the tailor shop of Harry Vosberg, 153 Peel street, added a new "kink" to the gentle art of "burgling" by unceremoniously forcing their way up an air shaft, a feat which had been previously thought impossible. The air shaft is situated in the rear of a shoe shine parlor, and leads into the tailoring establishment. Th door leading to this shaft was found open yesterday morning by an employe who went to open the shoe-shine parlor, and it was discovered that the tailoring shop had been broken into. Twelve bolts of blue serge, valued at $2,000 were missing. So far no arrests have been effected.

FINED THREE DOLLARS FOR PROSTITUTION

Found guilty by Recorder Geoffrion this morning of keeping a disorderly house on Sanguinet street, and of selling liquor without a license, Florence Lalumiere was fined $10 on the first charge and $100 on the second. Elavie Racine, who in addition to keeping a disorderly house on Sanguinet street, was charged with soliciting passers-by from the window, was fined $50, and Berthe Giroux, charged with keeping a disorderly house on St. Justin street, was fined $10, while three girl inmates were fined $3 each.

STRONG PLEA FOR CHURCH UNION IS MADE BY BISHOP

Addressed Ministerial Ass'n on Reconstruction and Anglican Position

TIME RIPE NOW

Would Abandon 39 Articles But Retain Faith Contained in Creeds

"Reconstruction: the Anglican Position" was the subject of an address by Bishop Farthing before the Protestant Ministerial Association in the Y.M.C.A. this morning.

The Bishop pleaded ardently for the cause of church union, pointing out carefully, however, that no real union could be accomplished by any sacrifice of principle on the part of the different churches. Unity of action had made the Allied victory possible in the Great War, and only complete unity of purpose could make victory possible in the confronting of the problems that come with reconstruction. "It is the old, old conflict of good and evil, God and the devil, the Church and the World," said the Bishop.

Corruption in public administration, the social evil, commercial wrongs, "the graceless falsity of women and girls who parade our streets," and other evils he instanced as those against which the church must cope.

The Anglican Church, though desiring union and willing to co-operate in any great movement for righteousness, felt that it could not surrender any part of its faith as contained in its Apostles' and Nicene creeds.

Bishop Farthing expressed himself as willing to abandon the 39 Articles which he considered were no more than "definitions of theological opinion of the time of the Reformation."

Real union was vey far removed from mere co-operation, declared the Bishop. Some persons were inclined to believe that co-operation in social work partook of the nature of church union, but such persons were confounding religion with its product, social service.

TAKE FIRST STEPS NOW.

Bishop Farthing thought that the time was ripe for the taking of the first steps toward the ultimate union that all desired. It was necessary that the various churches should view their common ground and there find what each could contribute to the united church. In the past the idea of surrender of fundamental ideas rather than the idea of contribution had been emphasized too much when church union was discussed.

The speaker thought that the Anglican Church could do well to contribute its historic episcopate to the united church and the Presbyterian Church could contribute its board of elders, a body that was much needed at present in the Anglican church.

Touching on the question of liturgical worship, the Bishop said that in the free churches there was a growing appreciation of the value of liturgical service while in the Church of England there was a growing desire for a more flexible order of service. The latter desire had resulted in a number of bishops consenting to variations in the Sunday evening service. He believed that the matter of a liturgy could be arranged by compromise, and in a united church it would be possible to arrange that liturgical and non-liturgical services both be held.

The Rev. Dr. Hanson, Dr. Hugh Pedley and the Rev. Mr. Deeprose took part in the discussion which followed. Dr. Pedley, though declaring himself a "democrat to the hilt" in matters of religion, and declining to acknowledge that any special divine grace attached itself to the historic episcopate, said he was willing to accept it as an administrative order of economic importance.

HAD FINGER CUT OFF.

While tending a machine in the Lowney chocolate factory at 169 William street this morning, Tony Sissi, of 3040 Clarke street, had the middle finger of his right hand torn off. He was taken to the General Hospital.

WAITERS' STRIKE NOW A DEADLOCK

Managers Refuse to Sign Agreement—Union to Use Compulsion

A meeting held at the Windsor Hotel this morning to discuss the strike of the hotel waiters was unsuccessful in arranging a settlement. The hotel managers, not only refused to sign a modified agreement presented by the waiters, but declined to sign any agreement whatever. As the waiters refuse to accept a verbal compact the situation is a deadlock. There were present at the meeting this morning, J. Davidson, of the Windsor Hotel; C. L. de Rouville, of Freeman's; Mr. Allerton, of the Place Viger Hotel; C. E. E. Ussher, passenger traffic manager, C.P.R.; T. J. Foster, president Trades and Labor Council; T. Bertrand, Labor Department; George Pierce, Editor Canadian Railroader," and J. J. Henley, organizer of the union.

Mr. George, president of the union, told The Star that since the hotel managers refused to sign an agreement voluntarily the union must now use compulsion.

Milk Strike on, Says the Drivers; Off Says Dealers

J. Harrison, secretary of the Milk Distributers Union, local 448, says the strike is still on, that the drivers have not gone back to work, and that what rigs are on their routes are driven by non-union men.

The milk dealers claim that their routes are being looked after and that the strike is over.

TO SALVAGE FURNESS LINER.

ST. JOHNS, NFLD., March 10.—Further attempts to refloat the Furness Line steamer, Appenine, driven on on a reef by the ice pack in Witless Bay last Tuesday, were believed today to be futile, and arrangements were made for salvaging operations. Part of the crew came ashore Wednesday over the ice, the others remaining aboard. The Appenine left Liverpool for this port on February 19. Her gross tonnage is 3,684.

AN HONORABLE DISCHARGE IS ALL HE WANTS

Soldiers Coming Back All Have Same Story to Tell —Glad to Be Home

SAID PRAYERS

Was Bayonetted in Neck by Hun But Hun Sleeps for Ever Now

"The only honor I expect to get after four years of war will be an honorable discharge—I got myself back and I'm satisfied to be minus any decorations." So spoke Sgt. C. B. Penrose, of St. Lambert, who went across in 1915 on the strength of Cape's Battery. And Penrose looked satisfied as he smiled a farewell to The Star representative and stepped from the train vestibule at St. Lambert yesterday morning, knowing that in a few more minutes he would be in the home he had seen only in imagination for four long years of war.

"Yes I'm a genuine Irishman in a Scots kilt," said Mike Kilbride, of 324 Magdalene street, Point St. Charles. Kilbride came over on the "Megantic" and reached the city yesterday on the troop special. He has been wounded twice, the first time during the third Ypres affair and again last August at Monchy. "The incident of the war that really affected me the most," said Kilbride, "was when I saw Colonel Bartlett McLennan fall, wounded by a stray shrapnel shell."

Kilbride wears a Mons 1915 riband. He joined the 42nd in 1915. Asked about his most thrilling experience whilst with the famous 42nd, Kilbride recounted an incident of August 13 last.

GAVE FRITZ A DRUBBING.

"It was at Amiens, the 42nd went over without any artillery barrage, and gave Fritz an awful drubbing, beating them back and holding the new position for ten hours without assistance, even our own heavies opened on us thinking the Boche occupied the position we were in, then the 49th came up at 3 o'clock in the morning, went forward and because of the stand the 42nd had made took a number of villages and thousands of prisoners."

COLLECTED SOUVENIRS.

"Did you get wounded?" The Star asked Pte. H. Houde, of 605 Alma street. "Once with a bayonet wound, there's the place," and Houde showed the place in his neck. "What did you feel like when getting bayonetted?" He chuckled. "Just like saying my prayers and for a few seconds, I did—Fritzie must have felt much the same way whilst he had any feelings left, but he didn't pray long, for he went sound to sleep without wasting any time." Pte. Houde went out in 1915 and was nine months with the 22nd and fifteen months with the 1st Canadian Tunnelling Company. He brings back with him a lot of souvenirs, a lot of these small things—he got off of his friend of the bayonetting episode. "This Boche must have had pretty good luck before he met me, for he had Algerian, Yankee, Canadian, French and English money. I transferred his collection to my own pocket." He also has a Prussian helmet or two, a gun of German make and a beautiful Bavarian Guardsman's automatic.

REAL ESTATE SALES

The following real estate sales were registered this morning:

Abraham A. Levin sold to Louis S. Margolese, lot 188-30, St. Lawrence ward, area 9,618, with apartment building, fronting on Sherbrooke street west, No. 56, for $110,000.

Solomon Vineberg sold to Mrs. Moses Zelicovitz, lot 1061 Papineau ward, measuring 45 x 95, with buildings fronting on Maisonneuve street, Nos. 443 to 447, and Lafontaine street, Nos. 851 to 859, for $10,500.

Wilf. Laplante sold to J. Emile Theberge, lots 4209-2, 3, 4154-6 to 9, 4160-12, St. Paul ward, area 26,863 feet, vacant, fronting Aqueduct Blvd., for $16,439.96.

J. C. Walsh sold to Denis Guilbault lots 21-17, 18, Outremont City, measuring 100 x 120, with buildings fronting on McCulloch avenue, for $12,000.

FLAT DENIAL OF NO REFERENDUM ON BEER AND WINE

Rumor from Quebec That the Temperance Forces Would Agree to it

CARTER SAYS NO

Claims That Such Statements are Inspired by Interested Parties

A flat denial of the report that the temperance interests in the province will be willing to forego the referendum and will agree to have beer and wine licenses under local option, is made by S. J. Carter, president of the Dominion Alliance.

"Such a report, as contained in the newspapers has no basis whatever," says Mr. Carter. "There has not been a single suggestion to that effect made by the prohibition forces. We wanted 'bone-dry' legislation. We may have a referendum forced upon us, but we certainly have made no decision to agree to half measures. Statements that we are willing to permit beer and wine licenses under the law are clearly inspired by interested persons. It may be to the advantage of the liquor interests to have it appear that we are weakening. We are not. No concerted action can be planned until the prohibition covention called for Friday by the Dominion Alliance."

TO PAY $400 OR SPEND YEAR IN JAIL

Fines totalling $400 or in default, one year's imprisonment, were imposed upon Joseph D'Emilio, when found guilty on four separate liquor charges by Recorder Geoffrion this morning. The accused conducts the European Club, at 34 McGill College avenue, and as a consequence of a raid carried out on his place by Inspector Egan, he was faced with two charges of having liquor, and two charges of selling liquor. He was fined $100 or three months upon each.

The Story of the Diamond

Chapter 23. South African Stones

As intimated in one of our earlier chapters, the important jewels of the world with perhaps one exception, came from India until the discovery of the South African mines.

Of the most important stones discovered there, the first to be mentioned is the one known as the "Jubilee," which was found in the year 1895 This stone lost very heavily in the cutting, weighing in the "rough" 640 carats It was reduced to 239 carats when finished

The "Excelsior" was another "great find" eclipsing all previous world records.

This was found at "Jagersfontein," in A D 1893, by a native workman when loading a truck and brought to him a very substantial reward from the Company.

In the "rough" it weighed 971 carats. As the market for such stones is very limited this was subsequently cut into 10 stones weighing from 68 to 13 carats each.

Tomorrow we'll tell you about the greatest of them all.

You never saw a "Birks" Diamond of inferior quality. We always insist upon "nothing but the best."

GOVERNMENT HAS TAKEN CONTROL OF G.T.P. LINES

Minister of Railways Becomes Receiver of Famous Railway Co'y

SUDDEN ACTION

Grand Trunk Notified Govt. Operation Would Cease Today

Special to The Star by a Staff Correspondent.

OTTAWA, March 10.—The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has gone into the hands of a receiver, in the person of the Minister of Railways. This action was taken, not on the initiation of the company, but of the Government.

Financially embarrassed because the increase granted in its freight and passenger rates was unequal to the financial load it had to carry, the company a few days ago informed the Government that operation of the lines would cease today.

The Government's action, whether or not it was that which the company anticipated and some opinions here are that it was not, was to take steps under the War Measures Act to appoint the Minister of Railways receiver for the company, and arrange that in place of ceasing today the operations will be carried on as usual.

Sir Thomas White will reveal all the facts to the House today.

The appointment follows an official notification, which Sir Thomas White received on Thursday from the vice-president of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company, that, in view of the fact that the increased rates applicable to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway have not been sufficient to meet the increased operating expenses, it would not be possible for the company, owing to lack of funds, to continue its operations beyond March 10.

In view of this notification, it became necessary that the Government should in the public interest immediately take steps to ensure the continued operation of the system. Under existing legislation, this could not be accomplished by an application to the courts for the appointment of a receiver. The War Measures Act, however, was found to provide adequate authority for action by the Government, and consequently an order-in-council was passed appointing the Minister of Railways receiver of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway system, which includes the branch lines, telegraph, steamships, hotel and development and other companies.

Mr. W. P. Hinton, general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway system, has agreed to conform to the requirements of the order and to facilitate the carrying out of the powers and duties required of the Minister as receiver. The immediate object of the order, viz., to prevent interruption in the operation and management of the system, has therefore been already attained.

RIGHTS ARE MAINTAINED.

An important feature of the Order-in-Council is that which preserves to the Government any other and ultimate remedies which it possesses under the provisions of trust mortgages securing issues which it has guaranteed or otherwise as creditors of the system. Similarly, the rights and remedies of other parties are not interfered with by the Order.

The acting Prime Minister will today make a full statement to the House respecting the matter. He will lay upon the table a copy of the Order-in-Council, and read the correspondence leading up to and connected with the action taken by the Government. Legislation will be at once introduced for the purpose of obtaining the sanction of Parliament to what has been done.

In February, the Government informed the officials of the Grand Trunk and the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway companies that it was not the intention of the Government to ask Parliament to provide a further vote for the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway while the negotiations with the Grand Trunk Railway Company remain in their present unsatisfactory condition."

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has a length of 1,746 miles. Running from Winnipeg westward, alongside Canadian Pacific or Canadian Northern lines to Miniota, it strikes northwestwardly, through Saskatoon to Edmonton, and then on to the Pacific at Prince Rupert. Besides guaranteeing £7,200,000 of the bonds of the company, the Government has £6,800,000 purchased direct to avert loss through the sale to the public of the securities below par.

Had the Grand Trunk Company defaulted in the payment of interest due last Monday no surprise would have resulted. The Government fully expected and had heard from what were supposed to be reliable sources that the obligation would not be met. However, the payment of about one million dollars was liquidated. Notice which came to hand three days later that on Monday the operation of the Grand Trunk Pacific would cease came, therefore, as more or less of a shock.

Just what motive the company had in meeting liabilities one day and in ceasing practically the next, will be for it to explain. One opinion which is expressed is that the company wished to meet its liability, inasmuch as default would prejudice others of its securities. Another is, that by taking such action the company would be in a better position to seek further temporary financing by way of loan or otherwise, to enable it to maintain the Grand Trunk Pacific service for public convenience.

The immediate effect will simply be that the Grand Trunk Pacific will be operated by the Minister of Railways and not the Board of the Canadian National Railways. Neither the obligations of the Grand Trunk nor the Government, in respect to the guaranteed securities, are in any way affected.

The situation is largely if not wholly brought about by the refusal of the Government to put up any more interest for the company. It may not be generally known that for years the Government has been meeting as they came due the interest liabilities not only on the bonds which it guaranteed, but also advancing for those guaranteed by the Grand Trunk Company.

G. T. P. HAS NEVER PAID.

The Grand Trunk Pacific has never paid. It is a splendidly built road, up to the standard of the Toronto and Montreal division. The cost was therefore inordinate, and the fixed charges correspondingly high, but the revenue, far from being sufficient to meet the bonded indebtedness, was never more than enough to pay the actual operating expenses.

Inasmuch as the Grand Trunk interest was paid during the year, and by itself met this week's obligation there was no default, and so by the ordinary process a receivership could not be asked for. The War Measures Act was therefore, relied on to appoint a receiver to ensure that the road would be continued in operation, and that without the need of more advances.

The situation now is that the Minister will operate the line. When bonds next come due the Government will pay whatever share of the interest it is liable for, but will expect the Grand Trunk to assume its own liability. Further developments are essentially contingent upon the ability of the company to "raise the wind." While there is no particular information upon which to rely, the opinion prevailing here, in the light of past experience, is that the company may find difficulty in the magnitude of its financial undertaking, though the money markets are devoid of many of the limitations imposed by war conditions.

If the obligations cannot be met, the Government will have a potent lever to pull in bringing about the desired nationalization of the entire Grand Trunk system. Heretofore negotiations, though protracted have led nowhere.

The Grand Trunk has been only too willing to be relieved of the Grand Trunk Pacific, but it has been just as unwilling to part with its own property, the system in the east. So long as the conditions continued the Government could not force the company to sell the whole system, and it is the whole, not the Grand Trunk Pacific alone, that is desired. There is no intention of taking the one and leaving the other. The old Grand Trunk was particularly desired, because, while there are abundant lines owned by the Government in the west, it lacks feeders in the east, which the Grand Trunk Railway is admirably fitted to furnish.

The negotiations heretofore have proved abortive. This summer two Ministers, Messrs. Meighen and Calder, negotiated at length in London, but the company could not be induced to view the situation as the Government did. What the latter offered was, on broad lines, was that which was suggested by the Drayton-Acworth report. That report recommended the acquisition of the guaranteed stock, first, second and third preferred stock and the common stock. By way of payment it was proposed that the shareholders be offered a substantial percentage of $3,600,000 per annum, this amount representing the average annual dividends when such were paid upon the stock in a period of ten years. The report further recommended against relieving the Grand Trunk Railway of its liability in regard to the Grand Trunk Pacific.

The Government last year improved somewhat on this offer, but the company refused, and likewise it refused an offer to arbitrate without the award being limited. The company, it is understood, wanted its potential earnings taken into consideration.

OBLIGATIONS ARE HEAVY.

The obligations of the Grand Trunk Pacific Company are heavy. They total about $200,000,000, made up as follows:

First mortgage, guaranteed by the Government, $69,000,000.

Second mortgage, guaranteed by the Grand Trunk, $23,000,000.

Third mortgage, guaranteed by the Grand Trunk Pacific, $60,000,000.

Fourth mortgage, guaranteed by the Grand Trunk, $50,000,000.

Fifth mortgage, securing Government loans, but not guaranteed, $53,000,000.

The Dominion Government has made in all five loans to the company, ten millions dollars in 1909, fifteen millions in 1913, six millions in 1915, eight millions in 1916, and seven and a half millions in 1917, a total of $46,500,000. The direct investment of the Dominion Government up to June, 1916, in the Grand Trunk Pacific enterprise by way of subsidies, purchases of bonds and loans was estimated by the Drayton Ackworth report at $70,311,716. Since that time the loans of 1916 and 1917 have been made to the company.

The Grand Trunk Railway and its branch lines, according to the Drayton-Ackworth report, in the year ending December 31st, 1916, showed a net income on operation of $826,000 before meeting any fixed charges. Since then until the year ended December 31, 1918, cost of operation has about balanced revenue. Last year, however, there was a deficit of about one million dollars on operation alone, it is stated.

The obligations of the Grand Trunk Pacific amount approximately to $200,000,000, represented by a lengthy list of issues of bonds, debentures and notes, and the five cash loans by the Government.

On operating expenses alone the Grand Trunk Pacific has about broken even in the last three years, though in the fiscal year now ending it is pretty far behind. The operating liability and fixed charges alone have amounted to about $7,500,000 a year.

The general railway situation goes back many years to its inception. The embarrassment of the Grand Trunk dates back to the days when it was built at convenience to the public, but not at a profit. More recently, and this is regarded as the culminating difficulty, two transcontinental lines in addition to the Canadian Pacific Railway were built. The standard was high and the expense heavy. Then came the war with its restricted finance and the result was further difficulty in which the Government had to assist the companies. Finally the Canadian Northern was taken over and incorporated in a national system, but negotiations to take in the Grand Trunk have, as stated, proved useless.

Whether it will now be acquired will depend upon its willingness to sell and its ability to meet its obligations to the Grand Trunk Pacific, its own indebtedness, and the outlays necessary for equipment and betterment.

Nationalization of the railways now owned or of those which are sought is induced not so much by the fact that the Government is enamored of state ownership, as by conditions of expediency. If it has to go on year by year assisting these corporations with public money, the Government view is, take them over and be done with it.

It is expected that Sir Thomas White's statement today, while not perhaps a subject of debate at this particular stage, will give rise to numerous questions, as the action taken by the Government will need to be ratified either by a resolution or a bill.

PREMIER BORDEN'S RETURN DELAYED.

OTTAWA, March 10.—Lack of definite information as to the return to Canada of Sir Robert Borden is strengthening the impression that the Prime Minister will not be able to come home as soon as was expected. The idea prevailed ten days ago that he would arrive in the capital before the middle of April. It is now understood that it may be may be a month and perhaps six weeks later before he will be able to sail for Canada. In other words, it may be the middle of May or even early in June before Sir Robert is back.

STORY OF BRITAIN'S SKAGERRAK LOSS

H.M.S. Valiant Hit Twenty-Eight Times During Battle

LONDON, March 10.—The damage inflicted by the Germans on British battleships participating in the great naval battle off Skagerrak, in the North Sea, between Norway and Jutland, on May 31, 1916, is declared by Reuter's Limited to be as follows:

A torpedo struck the Marlborough, flooding one boiler room and killing two men. The Marlborough was not hit by shellfire.

A 12-inch shell struck the superstructure of the Colossus, causing a fire. Another shell burst short, its splinters wounding three men and inflicting unimportant damages.

The Barham was hit five times by heavy shells, one of which, wrecked one of the hydraulic pumps, the auxiliary wireless office and the medical store, causing heavy casualties among the wireless and medical staff. The damage done by the other hits was comparatively unimportant.

The Farman was hit five times. The siren steam pipe was fractured and a large shell wrecked the galley canteen on the gun deck and smashed the mounting of one 6-in gun. Two of the hits caused a large hole below the armor, flooding the adjacent compartments. A heavy shell bulged the roof of one turret without exploding, but put the range finder out of action.

The Valient was not hit in the first part of the action, but at about six o'clock in the evening was struck by two heavy shells. Both perforated the six-inch armor and did considerable damage, jamming the helm hard aport and causing the ship to turn in circles. While thus circling the Valient was hit 28 times, 16 of the hits being from big guns and inflicting more or less serious damage. Two guns were put out of action. One shell tore a large hole at the water-line, and another under water below the armor belting, but the casualties were light.

The damage to cruisers and destroyers will be announced later.

REPRESENT CANADA ON ECONOMIC BOARD

Lloyd Harris and Dr. Robertson on Supreme Council

PARIS, March 10.—The Supreme Economic Council, which is to have extensive powers with respect to all questions of food supply and raw materials, as well as general direction over trade questions until the signing of the peace treaty, has been organized. The British members of the council are to be selected from a panel upon which the Dominions will be represented, and there will be a committee representing the whole British Empire, which will keep in touch with the British members of the Supreme Economic Council.

The Dominions are also to have representation on this committee, Canada's members being Lloyd Harris, of the Canadian mission, London, and Dr J. W. Robertson, of the Canadian Department of Agriculture. The Canadian ministers will be on the panel from which representatives of the British Empire on this Supreme Economic Council are to be selected.

The question of food supplies for peoples of enemy, as well as some neutral countries, is one of the big problems before the Council, and, owing to the conditions in the countries referred to, must be given early attention.

The committee on the Greek boundaries, of which Sir Robert Borden is vice-chairman, has about completed its labors. The committee took hold of its work with vigor, and will submit its report at the end of the week. Claims of all the peoples affected were heard, and while they were very conflicting, the committee has arrived at the best conclusion possible under the circumstances.

Sir George Foster went to London today, and will return on Sunday. Next week he goes to the Lyons fair.

SINN FEIN MEMBER DEAD.

DUBLIN, March 10.—The body of Pierce McCann, Sinn Fein member of Parliament for East Tipperary, who died of influenza in the prison at Gloucester, England, reached Dublin yesterday morning. Pierce McCann was elected to Parliament last December by a majority of 2,500 votes out of a total of 12,000. He was in prison when elected.

Berlin Revolt Getting Out of Leaders' Hands

GOVERNMENT RECOGNIZES THE SOVIETS.

Special Star Cable.

BERNE, March 10.—The compromise agreement entered into by strike leaders and the German Government at Weimar, whereby the strike was called off, contained the following provisions, according to an official despatch from Berlin today:

First—Recognition of the Soviets as representatives of the country's economic interests, and incorporation of this principle in the constitution, agreement to enact a law at once regulating the Soviets' powers, duties and method of election; co-operation by the Soviets in social and economic legislation.

Second—Enactment of a law unifying all labor legislation, to be presented immediately to the National Assembly for codification.

Third—Socialization of public industries, specially mines and factories.

Fourth—Trial of all military offences by civil tribunals.

Fifth—Handling of foodstuffs by municipalities, eliminating the middleman.

Chancellor Scheidemann during a debate in the German National Assembly regarding socialization of industries, declared the Government partially granted the demands of the workmen, not because of the menace of the general strike, but because the workmen were right.

"I energetically deny the Government acted under popular pressure," said Scheidemann. "We believe we can best accomplish our task if, after breaking the political chains, we also break the economic chains and make the workmen members of economic life with equality of rights.

"The plan will be executed. It cannot fail, because these have been the aspirations of millions of workmen in all countries since the labor movement started. These aspirations must be realized in Germany."

The Chancellor characterized the strike in Berlin as 'a crime against the German people," and declared the Government should not reply to "such follies" by committing others.

MUNICH IS QUIET.

BERLIN, March 10.—Advices from Munich indicate the situation there is quieter and that the Majority Socialists are in the ascendency. The Soviet congress has voted to release hostages seized at the time that Kurt Eisner, the Bavarian Premier, was assassinated. The strike situation in Central Germany is reported to be improving.

AN UNUSUAL LAW.

MUNICH, March 10.—The Central Council of Soviets here has issued a decree forbidding speculation in real estate. Nobody will be allowed to buy more real estate than he needs for his personal use.

PREDICTS PERMANENT ATLANTIC AIR ROUTE

CALGARY, March 10.—An aerial service across the Atlantic ocean will be established before many years go by, a service which will be commercial in every way, and entirely practical. This is not even a theory, is the view held by Flight-Commander Collishaw, the Canadian ace who visited Calgary on Saturday.

Commander Collishaw may himself be one of the first to establish such a route, for he is now on his way to England to take part in the trans-Atlantic prize flight arranged for by a group of English newspapers. The prize, Commander Collishaw, in an interview said, is $250,000. The one making the most successful and speediest flight will receive the money. He explains that in his flight across the Atlantic he will use a Handley-Page plane.

GERMAN PERIL IS STILL A REALITY?

Czecho-Slovak Foreign Minister Says Danger Exists

PARIS, March 10.—The German danger still exists, in the opinion of Foreign Minister Benz of Czecho-Slovakia, according to an interview printed in the Matin.

"That danger must be guarded against," he is quoted as saying. "Those in power in Germany today are those who supported the war and, in addition, the material forces of Germany are diminished but little. If France is attacked, the smaller nations to the east will be called upon to face war. There must be safeguards on both sides of Germany.

"I advocate the neutralization of the left bank of the Rhine, German-Austria and a part of Silesia, which being German cannot be given to either Poland or Czecho-Slovakia, and forms a dangerous salient between the two countries.

"Some day international problems will be settled by the League of Nations, but the plan for this organization is not yet completed. For the moment, it is impossible to think of absolute guarantees. The continuance of the alliances created during the war is the only assurance that peace can be maintained."

TAKE NO CHANCES.

PRESSBURG, March 10. — The Czecho-Slovak military command has proclaimed a state of siege throughout Slovakia as the result of the discovery of a German-Magyar plot, according to the newspapers here. By proclaiming a state of siege, the Czech Government hopes to forestall disorders and protect traffic.

PRINCESS PATRICIAS GIVEN GREAT SEND-OFF

3,000 Canadian Troops Embarked from Liverpool Yesterday

LIVERPOOL, March 10.—Another cordial send-off was accorded the Canadian troops yesterday when the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, the 49th Battalion, the 5th Mounted Rifles and the 9th Field Ambulance embarked on the Carmania. Nearly 3,000 troops came direct from Bramshott, accompanied by Major-General Loomis and Brigadier-General Draper. At the landing stage refreshments were served by Liverpool ladies. The Lord Mayor addressed each unit, expressing the city's cordial feelings towards all Canadian troops who throughout the war had earned the gratitude and admiration of the Old Country.

Hearty cheers were given by the men for the Lord Mayor and "good old Blighty." The demonstration was renewed as the Carmania, with the Princess Patricia's band playing, left the dock.

Almost simultaneously the Minnedosa left with a large number of Canadian solders and their dependents.

CALAIS AND DUNKIRK SUFFERED HEAVILY

Special to The Star.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 10—James B. Milner, United States Consul in this city, who prior to coming here in January, 1917, had been for twenty years U. S. Consul at Calais, France, has received a copy of the Calais Phare, which gives interesting facts regarding the part Calais, Dunkirk and other places played in the war.

An official list of the shells and bombs dropped on Calais between Sept. 25, 1914, and Sept. 25, 1918, is given and on the front page of the newspaper is shown a large map of Calais showing the places in and about the city where bombs and shells landed. Black dots mark these places and the map looks like a bespattered target in a shooting gallery.

The official statement shows that 4,719 shells and bombs were dropped on Dunkirk, while 2,751 projectiles were dropped on Calais by the German airmen. In four years there were 64 raids on Calais by Zeppelins and Taubes, and in Ajril, 1917, the city was stormed by destroyers which threw 300 shells into the town.

Calais suffered more than did Dunkirk, even though the Hun airmen paid fewer visits, for the death list in Calais due to the raids was only ten more than in Dunkirk. Dunkirk has 45,000 population, and Calais 80,000.

The number of killed in Calais was 229, while Dunkirk had 239. The wounded in Calais totalled 423, and in Dunkirk 328. Calais had 200 houses completely demolished, and the only explanation that can be given of the small number of casualties, both in Calais and Dunkirk, is that those municipalities constructed armored cement refuges inta which the people went when a raid was on. The cellars of the town were also fortified.

BOULOGNE RAIDS.

In the city of Boulogne-Sur-Mer there were only 17 raids, and the number of houses destroyed was 42, and 65 were partially destroyed. Among the houses destroyed in Boulogne was the large hotel Divernieux, which hotel is very well-known to English-speaking people the world over. This hotel was completely demolished. Boulogne is twenty miles from Calais, and Dunkirk twenty-three miles from Calais. Boulogne had 65 people killed.

In Dunkirk there was only one Zeppelin raid, while Calais had five. There were twenty-five bombardments on Dunkirk by long-distance cannon, but none on Calais.

Mr. Milner's wife and children are still in Calais, and he says that during the awful bombardments from the air and the sea, his wife could anticipate the coming of air-craft by the condition of the weather. She took the family to the seashore about half a mile from her home in Calais, and there, in a small house, she would let them go to sleep while she acted as sentinel, keping watch ofttimes the entire night. When she signalled the coming of the German aviators or Zeppelins, she would arouse the family and all would take refuge in a fortified cave beneath the house until the bombardment was over. Their chance was the improbability of a chalet or small house being hit by a bomb. In the event of it being struck there was no hope. Throughout the entire four years the Milner family were under bombardment, the only material damage they sustained was the breaking of three windows in their private home.

Believed Miners' Strike is Inevitable if Demands Withheld

Special Star Cable.

LONDON, March 10. — Benjamin Talbot, on behalf of the National Federation iron and Steel manufactures, told the Coal Commission yesterday that when the Government subsidy is removed next month, the manufacturers would be paying for blast furnace coke 39 shillings, per ton, against, the United States price of 20 shillings a ton. Every one shilling advance in the price of coal meant a four shillings advance in the price of steel.

Sidney Webb asked the witness whether, from the steel trade viewpoint, he would prefer, a coal strike to the granting of the miners' demands. Witness replied that he preferred a strike.

The evidence given before the commission makes it increasingly clear that the questions of wages and profits cannot be separated from the question of Nationalization. All parties admit that under the present system of management the miners' demands cannot be conceded. Nationalizers urge, however, that unified control of public ownership would make greater economy and greater production possible.

A leading labor man stated today that a strike was inevitable, unless the miners' demands were substantially granted. The ballot for a strike was so overwhelming that the men's leaders dare not compromise.

POWERFUL PLEA MADE FOR IRELAND

Officers Sign Petition to King Asking for Aid at Conference

MR. TAFT'S VIEW

Conference Has Big Task, Which Domestic Issues Might Imperil

Special Star Cable.

DUBLIN, March 10.—Irish officers serving in the army during the war yesterday took an unprecedented step in sending to the Prime Minister, for presentation to the King, a memorial praying His Majesty's assistance in laying Ireland's claim to self-government before the Peace Conference. The memorial is signed by two generals, three colonels, seven majors, forty-two captains and eighty-four other officers.

The memorial begins by drawing attention to the great number of Irishmen serving in the Allied forces. Then it proceeds:

"In our opinion Ireland, as a nation, has been robbed of her treaty rights and the Irish people as a race reduced to the position of helots by the withholding of that which is in virtue the citizenship they had won by constitutional action.

"Of those for whom we speak, the survivors feel that their reliance on the Home Rule compact was ill-founded, and that their comrades who have given their lives in that reliance have made a sacrifice fruitless, up to the present, of benefit for the fatherland they loved."

The document closes with the submission to the King that "the issue between the kingdom of Ireland and the kingdom of Great Britain should not, either in expediency or natural justice, be finally determined by Ministers who represent the preponderant British majority in the Parliament of the United Kingdom, but by an impartial tribunal such as that now sitting in Paris."

MR. TAFT'S OPINION.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 10. — Former President William H. Taft was both hissed and cheered here last night when, speaking at the weekly forum of the Church of the Ascension he declared that the Irish question could not be settled at the Peace Conference.

Mr. Taft had just stated that one problem facing the delegates was the setting up of several small nations, when there came from the audience cries of "How about Ireland?"

"No," said Mr. Taft, not loudly, but in a tone which could be heard all over the church.

Then broke out the hissing and cheering, but the speaker retained control of the situation.

"I don't consider it helpful to the President or the Conference to introduce into the Conference domestic and internal questions," he said. "We must do one thing at a time.

"We must bring about a closer co-operation between the nations already in Conference and try to strengthen that. There are lots of embarrassing questions that might be brought up. There might be a proposition for us to let the Philippines go, or for France to let Algiers go, and there might be other matters brought up that might be embarrassing to us, but that would not be helpful just now."

WONDERFUL ESCAPE AT NIAGARA FALLS

Lad Went Over 200-Foot Cliff and Will Live

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 10.—Maurice Knight, a twelve-year-lad, is still alive and likely to recover from a two hundred-foot drop over a precipice of Niagara River. The boy who lives on the American side was playing with other lads when, to avoid a companion, he made a jump right over the bank. An alarm was immediately sounded, and firemen arrived with extension ladders and ropes. It was believed the lad had caught on a tree or landed in a crevice on the face of the cliff, because he could not be seen from the top of the bank, but while the searchers were trying to locate him, a motorman on the Gorge Railway, two hundred feet below discovered him lying on the tracks just in time to avoid running over him. Doctors declare the boy is not seriously injured.

TRAM SMASH NEAR TOLEDO

TOLEDO, O., March 10.—A train on the Clover Leaf Road this morning crashed into a Toledo, Bowling Green and Southern Interurban train, at Maumes, ten miles from this city, according to reports from that point. A call was sent for all ambulances in Toledo. Traffic from St. Louis on the Clover Leaf is held up.

$2,000 IN TIPS.

WASHINGTON, March 10—President Wilson's first trip to Europe cost him in the neighborhood of $2,000 out of his own pocket. This dent small as it seems besides the gifts made by European rulers when they visit foreign capitals, will probably find its twin in his pocketbook when he returns from the next voyage.

The President was unable to make any great bestowals, such as that of President Poincare of $20,000 to servants of the Czar in Petrograd or $10,000 to the royal household of Sweden. The President's money was scattered in "small" tips of $25 and $50 to porters in trains, at hotels and in the palaces he visited. He also spent considerable money in buying presents for attendants for Mrs. Wilson, himself and his staff. Framed photographs of himself constituted his favorite gift, with gold cuff links running a close second.

LLOYD GEORGE HOLDS BRITAIN THROUGH YIELDING POLICY

Most Suitable Leader in Phase of Shifting Problems, but Premier's Personal Power is Failing, Says T. P. O'Connor

Special Cable by T. P. O'Connor to Public Ledger and Montreal Star. Copyright.

LONDON, March 10—As I anticipated, the country is relieved by the Government offer of an immediate labor commission from the affrighting peril of the holding up of all our industries by a miners' strike.

The debates in the House of Commons in regard to a Government bill were more or less window dressing, made necessary by the spirit of exasperation in the miners' ranks, and with that spirit is a morbid auspicion of their own leaders which would be aggravated if these leaders made no show of a struggle to refute the charge of being sold out to capitalists and the Government. But there is no heart in the Opposition, and at all events it secured a promise from the Government of an early decision on wages and hours, at least a week before the date originally fixed—that it, by March 20 instead of March 31.

There is little doubt that such big concessions will be made to these demands as will satisfy the men for the moment. The other question, that of nationalization of the mines, can stand over for a while. The miners are vehemently in favor of this, but public opinion still fluctuates.

STEP TOWARD SOCIALIZATION.

Meantime advocates of socialization of public utilities, which is the chief demand in all labor and socialist circles have received further satisfaction in the measure dealing with communications. Though the measure does not completely nationalize the railways, it goes to the verge of that settlement. It also gives powers of such sweeping character, taking in not merely the railways, but docks, harbors, roads and electricity, that it is hard to say what will be left. This creation of a vast bureaucratic control has startled even a people accustomed to all the stunning surprises of wartimes, and the main criticism is that such powers require the service not of men but of a superman.

Opposition will develop against the measure from many great bodies such as the dock boards, which have conducted business as a rule with conspicuous success without any demand on the general taxpayers. Simultaneously, there is a gigantic health bill, which again sweeps away many old authorities. So far Premier Lloyd George has carried out his program of breathless and gigantic social changes and revolutionary changes in the procedure of the House of Commons to enable him to carry through such measures as allotting the main discussion of these measures to committees instead of the floor of the House of Commons, and promises a rapidity of progress, even with such vast changes as were never possible before in England.

THE PREMIER'S POSITION.

But even these enormous concessions to popular unrest do not still the voices of criticism against Premier Lloyd George, and my anticipations of the unsteadiness of his position do not decrease. He has just been entangled in one of many contradictions which have been imposed on him by his dubious position as a Liberal by the leaders of a big Conservative majority.

At a by-election in a suburb of London two candidates—one a pronounced Radical, the other an equally pronounced Conservative—contest the seat. The Tory candidate, who has been thirteen years a member of the House of Commons, has always opposed every democratic measure, such as health insurance, old age pensions, shortening hours of labor, for which Mr. Lloyd George used to stand in his Liberal days, and though the Tory candidate was the embodiment of the narrowest school of capitalist and Tory reaction, nevertheless he got the usual coupon from Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Bonar Law, with the result that Mr. Lloyd George's Liberal critics once more point out that Mr. Lloyd George's professions of liberalism are in entire contradiction of his political action.

The best that can now be said for Mr. Lloyd George is that his dexterity and absence of any settled political conviction, combined with his energy, make him the most suitable man to carry the country through the innumerable complexities of the situation after the war, and to the Tories and capitalists besides he is the only breakwater between them and all the grave perils of labor unrest. But trust in him personally steadily deteriorates the more he falls into the inevitable contradictions between his professions of democratic opinion and his practice as a slave of the Tory machine.

PEOPLE STILL RESTLESS.

Though the labor conflict for the moment is stayed and though the papers contain long accounts of fashionable marriages, I cannot describe life in London as even yet approaching pleasanter conditions than during the war.

The maintenance of Government control of so many things frets the people of all classes and trades, the poor by the still enormous price of food; the newspapers by the holding up of paper; ship owners by the control of shipping, and though the patient no longer writhes in pain as during the war he tosses restlessly and ill-temperedly on his bed of slow convalescence.

Some indication of this is seen in the continued attacks in Northcliffe papers on the different members of the Ministry, showing that such a shrewd observer of the signs of the times is not satisfied that Lloyd George's administration possesses much of a hold on the country.

The Times also continues its criticism, veiled but easily recognized, of the Irish policy of the Government. The new chief secretary, Mr. MacPherson, in his first speech in Dublin talked of large new schemes of social reform, such as housing development, mines, and so forth, without even approaching the question of self-government. You might as well talk of a trip to Monte Carlo to a man dying of malignant diseases, and it really means that for Lloyd George's administration, Ireland's claims for liberty will never be allowed to disturb their sleep or occupy a moment of their thought.

CONTROVERSY OVER CYPRUS.

A curious little controversy has arisen in the London press with regard to the island of Cyprus. Its population three-fourths Greek, has been protesting in favor of a union with Greece from the first hour of taking over the island by Britain from Turkey, and as is known Britain offered the island to Greece in the first year of the war. Nobody thought there was any possibility of a withdrawal of this concession until the Daily Telegraph, a very trusted organ of Mr. Lloyd George and the administration, issued an article declaring the retention of the island necessary to the security of Britain in the Mediterranean.

It is supposed this article was inspired by the War Office. I have already written a long protest in the Daily Telegraph, and the feeling of all Liberals is unanimous that a refusal of the clear wishes of the people would be a scandalous abandonment of our own and President Wilson's principles.

KINMEL CAMP TROUBLE DESCRIBED AT LENGTH IN THE LONDON PRESS

By Canadian Associated Press.

LONDON, March 10.—The inquest on the bodies of the victims of the Canadian outbreak at Kinmel Park was formally opened on Friday and adjourned until Thursday next, the coroner for Flintshire merely taking evidence of identification. Lieut. Edward Small, 5th Battalion, identified the bodies as Pte. David Gillem, aged 20, 85th Battalion, home at Florence, Nova Scotia; Gunner Jack Hickman, Artillery, who came from France as a casualty, having served in the 50th Howitzer Battery, and belonged to Dorchester, N.B.; Corporal Joseph Young, ager 38th, 52nd Battalion, next of kin, sister, living at Pacific avenue, Rhode Island; William Haney, aged 22, Artillery, of Talbot, Alta.; and William Taraslawich, nationality unknown, real name believed to be Taranko.

No other evidence was taken.

The Times in an editorial referred to the Kinmel camp riot as the worst that has happened in the country, and adds that the discipline of the Canadian troops is normally so good that this lapse from a splendid record is naturally a subject of the gravest concern and deep regret of Canadian officials, and their anxiety to give the affair its right perspective is evident in every line of the statement they have issued.

NO POLITICAL MOTIVE.

Some correspondents have written as though the riot were a Bolshevist demonstration, but the real motives are to be found, not in any body of political doctrine, but in discontent at purely executive action.

The immediate cause of the outbreak was the fact that some men who had been conscripts were sent home before those who were volunteers and who had seen longer service. The reason for so apparently unjust a preference was, as is explained in the report of Sir Richard Turner, that some Canadians are being returned by units; others on the principle of first come, first served. The shortage of shipping contributed to the grievance that was felt over the working of the rules, and further discontent was caused because the officers in the camp were not those who had commanded the men in the field.

In spite of the extreme gravity of their offence, it is to be hoped that the case of the men will be stated fully at the Court of Enquiry and given publicity.

The Daily Mail claims that it is only fair to the Canadians at Rhyl and to the Dominion that an open enquiry should be held, and that there should be no hushing up. The outbreak is said to have started in the Montreal camp, and then spread to the others. A correspondent says that three of the killed were rioters and two loyalists. One was killed by a stray bullet while writing a letter in his hut, and the other, Private Gillem, was shot through the head while defending a Montreal lieutenant, who was lying on the ground and being threatened. In all over 400 soldiers have been arrested and conveyed out of the district.

The women camp helpers agreed that they had been well treated.

The Manchester Guardian says that the ascription of the Kinmel riots entirely to the influence of a few Russian Bolshevists among 15,000 Canadian soldiers will not do. It is obvious that the conditions of the camp were unusually bad, and the fact that the food stores were first plundered is proof. Probably demobilization grievances, real or fancied, were a more potent cause, and finally it would seem that the rioters were not wholly to blame for the bloodshed.

DAILY CHRONICLE'S STORY.

By Canadian Associated Press.

LONDON, March 10.—Further details of the outbreak at Kinmel Park Camp, Rhyl, are now available. The special correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says the disturbances were started by a man stated to be of Russian origin, crying "Come on Bolsheviks," at 9:30 p.m., when the camp was preparing to go to bed. A rush was made for the guardroom and members of the guard were speedily overpowered and their rifles wrested from them. The rioters utilized these rifles, as well as their own.

In the attack on the stores they threw out every article, and then proceeded to wreck the building. They found some stocks of liquor and, inflamed with drink, went on to fresh excesses. Fiercely assailing the canteen they quickly tossed outside most of its contents including cigarettes, provisions and confectionery, which were trampled in the mud.

Attached to the camp are a number of girls employed by the Army and Navy Canteen Board, who live in huts close by. The rioters marched there with wild shouts and forced an entry. Most of the girls were in bed, and they cowered before the intruders, who roughly seized their clothes and walked away with them.

The disturbance continued all night, and broke out again Wednesday afternoon, and the camp was practically laid in ruins. The scene was almost indescribable. Men were seen parading around the camp dressed in clothes taken from the girls the previous night, while others staggered about intoxicated, or lay around in a drunken stupor.

The next step was a raid on the ammunition stores, where cartridges and firearms were secured. An attack was then made on the officers' quarters. Wild and indiscriminate firing took place in the initial stages of this attack, during which a man on sentry duty was killed, and many rioters wounded by the fire of their own comrades.

The cavalry was called out, but it is stated were helpless owing to their not being allowed to use their arms. Having done their worst in the camp, the bolder spirits started to march on Abergele but were met by troops detailed from Chester for the purpose, and overcome by superior forces and turned back. A proposal was made to march on Rhyl, but was not carried out, though the inhabitants had many anxious moments. At nightfall, the men, exhausted by their excesses, were persuaded by the steadier element, and quieted down. The riots then came to an end. Ringleaders to the number of between 20 and 30 were arrested and taken to a detention camp.

OFFICER WARNED MOB.

Writing of the most serious part of the outbreak on Wednesday afternoon, the Llandudno correspondent of the Canadian Associated Press says:

"It was at this stage that the casualties occurred. A detachment with loaded rifles grimly stood their ground, an officer warning the rebellious mob of the gravity of the situation. This did not appear to be fully grasped by a number of the men. Still there was no room for misapprehension, as the mob still came on. The order was given to fire and the ranks of the mischief-makers were forthwith broken. Besides an officer, four of the rank and file lost their lives, and about twenty others were more or less seriously wounded. Many arrests followed. This was practically the last incident of the outbreak.

"I am told many of the men who joined in the disorders simply indulged in a weakness for horseplay, while others were inflamed by liquor and were more ugly customers to tackle, but behind these were some companions of sinister influences who were believed to have deliberately fomented the mad attempt to defy authority and order.

"Inquiry at the camp on Thursday night was met with a disposition to minimize the importance of the affair, the information given out being that the trouble came to an end with the rounding up of the rioters, and that the camp was absolutely quiet and no danger of further disturbances existed."

EYEWITNESS'S ACCOUNT.

The Daily News Wrexham correspondent says that a Canadian soldier who witnessed the outbreak, thus describes some of the scenes:

"I was one of about 200 who marched with rifles, and upon our invitation an officer marched in front of us. On the way when we were within speaking distance, we were asked by the enemy to drop our firearms, and have it out with fists. We agreed, so at it we went, hell for leather. One of our opponents, who wielded a big piece of wood evidently part of a wrecked Canadian billiard table was stalking behind our officer and was about to club him when one of our men whisked out his weapon and shot him dead."

A general officer had the men paraded, and told them that their riotous conduct would cost them a lot of money, for the whole of the damage, which amounted to thousands of pounds would be deducted from their pay.

A court of inquiry has been convened to make a thorough investigation into all circumstances in regard to the disturbances in which Brig.-General J. H. MacBrien, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., is the president.

ATTACK ON OFFICERS DENIED.

LONDON, March 10.—Major-General Colquohon, in the course of a statement on the rioting of Canadian soldiers at Kinmel, said that no attack was made on the officers, who were treated with courtesy.

"I myself went in and out among the men freely," he added, "and some of them actually put down loot in order to salute me—then they picked up the loot again.

"The reports of the damage to the camp are greatly exaggerated. Some fifty or sixty men got out of hand and attacked some canteens. The men in one camp, anticipating danger, armed themselves and, contrary to express orders, fired. That was on Wednesday, when the fatalities occurred.

"The girls' camp was not attacked. As a matter of fact, the girls were treated with the utmost chivalry. No man entered the girls' rooms while they were occupied.

"One man raised the red flag in an attempt to introduce Bolshevism. He was shot."

PREFERENCE TO U.S. COLORED TROOPS.

By Canadian Press.

TORONTO, March 10.—That the dissatisfaction among the Canadian troops at Kinmel Camp which terminated in riots, was due to preference being given to United States negro troops in returning home, is the allegation made to The Star by a Toronto man recently returned from overseas. This man states that the man who is responsible for the taking of the Olympic, Aquitania and Mauretania from the Canadian transport route was the man responsible for the riots.

"I came home on the Olympic's last trip," he is quoted as saying. "What happened? We sailed from Liverpool empty. Then we cruised over to Brest and loaded up with 4,800 American colored troops. Before we got away from Brest we could have been nearly to Halifax with a shipload of Canadians. In the end we landed in New York with these 4,800 colored troops who probably hardly smelled smoke, while 4,800 Canadians, who had had three years of fighting, kicked their heels around Rhyl."

"When I was at Rhyl the men knew about the big ships carrying Americans and were very sore, though they had not heard about the colored troops then.

"Why were the big ships taken away from the Canadians? Authorities over there say they couldn't be handled at this end. Authorities here say they can't be handled at the other end. Both statements are untrue. The last time the Olympic docked at Halifax the whole 5,300 soldiers on board were entrained in nine hours, and, at Liverpool, I know she can be loaded in a few hours.

"There was a lot of discontent at Rhyl, when I was there. Some men know personally were about ready to riot. Veterans with three or four years' service were being held up for six weeks or more because some of their papers were not complete. Missing papers was a widespread grievance and then, the transport business kindled the flame."

SMALL RIOT IN STRAND.

London Times-Public Ledger Cable. Copyright.

LONDON, March 10. — American, Canadian and some Australian soldiers engaged in a riot yesterday in the vicinity of Eagle Hut, in the Strand, and of the Police Court, in Bow street. The trouble started with the arrest of two American sailors playing cards for money. Other sailors and soldiers attacked the police in an effort to rescue the the arrested men. Police reserves were summoned and met the reinforced soldiers and sailors, stiff fighting in the streets following. There was some gunplay.

Two serious and three other cases were taken to the American Red Cross Hospital. There was also one Australian stretcher case. An effort by five hundred men to storm Bow street police station failed. Two or three American military police were hurt.

WHITLEY CAMP HAD TROUBLED.

Canadian Press Despatch from Reuter's, Limited.

LONDON, March 10.—A riot on a miniature scale occuring at Whitley Camp was mentioned at Guildford on Saturday when the camp canteen manager was fined ten pounds for selling for profit cigarettes issued by the Government. The cigarettes were issued to the Canadian troops free of duty, but the manager purchased large quantities and sold them at ordinary prices. The soldiers, thinking the authorities were cheating them, wrecked the canteen. The officer commanding the camp was assaulted when he tried to quell the disturbances and had to be taken to the hospital.

INTERNED SINN FEINERS RELEASED

LONDON, March 10. — Sinn Feiners who have been interned in England, have been released in batches during the last few days. A score returned to Dublin on Sunday. Among those recently released from Holloway Prison, London, was Countess Georgina Markievicz, who, according to the Daily Sketch, is likely to attend the meeting of the House of Commons on Monday and claim the seat for St. Patrick's division of Dublin, to which she was elected at the recent general elections.

It is pointed out that the question of her eligibility to the seat will arise, as her husband is a Polish count who was never naturalized. She, therefore, is said to be legally a Pole.

CANADA'S SHOW AT LYONS NOTABLE

Shares with Australian Booth as Honor of Central Attraction

Special Canadian Press Cable by Leon T. Trepanier.

LYONS, March 10.—"Canada's participation at the Lyons Fair this year demonstrates the great part your great Dominion intends to play in the economic world after peace has been signed." The foregoing statement was made by Senator Herriot, mayor of Lyons, who really initiated the fair.

This statement summarizes the opinion expressed by hundreds of those who have visited the Canadian section since the opening of the fair. Similar eulogistic references have been made by most of the thirty-six members of the Allied press party, representing twenty-one different nationalities, who were the guests of the Lyons fair committee.

The Canadian section, which occupied two rows of booths at Place Bellecour, the great central square of the city, shares with the Australian section, the honor of being the great attractive point of all visitors. As a consequence more inquiries were made during the first three days of the exhibition than during a week of the previous fair.

Orders follow inquiries, but local agents of Canadian firms say that objection is being made by some buyers to the quick payment asked. This is because of transport conditions, and especially the French traffic. This necessitates longer credits for goods which may require three months in transit before reaching destinations.

Among the guests visiting the fair with the press party who displayed keen interest in the Canadian exhibits were Prince Vaidyakara, of Siam, and M. Argyropoulo, minister of Greece at Stockholm. Correspondents of the Spanish press of the South American republics, and Italian and Japanese representatives also showed great eagerness in their inquiries about Canadian products and exportation facilities.

TO TREAT HUN ECONOMICALLY.

Visitors came in crowds to the cinema pictures organized by the Government. They evinced great delight in the views of the mountains, fishing trips in New Brunswick, harvesting scenes in the west grain elevators, the loading of steamers on the great lakes destined for European ports, traffic in the commercial streets of Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, Winnipeg, Victoria, Vancouver, Halifax and other cities of Canada, and many other interesting features of Canadian life.

At a dinner prepared for the visiting journalists, Senator Herriot declared: "We can now say to the Germans: We have won the game on the battle-field, we shall also beat you in the economic struggle."

Canada is also being complimented in the journals for her fine showing. Frank Webb in the Lyons Foire, writes of the war efforts of Canada, and concludes by saying that the Canadian section is the "clou" of the fair. Le Journal de la Foire, the official organ of the committee, remarks that the duty of French importers is to encourage Canadian products. La Depeche de Lyons says that Canada's exhibition is particularly remarkable. Le Journal France Etranger declares that Canada is building up a monument of fame, at Lyons by a brilliant display of her natural resources and industries.

The band of the Canadian machine gun corps has arrived and will give daily concerts at the Place Bellecour.

DR. DILLON'S CABLES

GERMANY FAST MAKING IT HARD FOR NEGOTIATIONS

The Famous Correspondent Holds Developments Growing Unfavorable

BIG LABOR GAINS

Weimar Proposal to Erect Soviet Branch is Revolutionary

Special Star Cable. Copyright, 1919, in Canada and the U. S. by London Telegraph and Public Ledger Company.

By E. J. DILLON.

PARIS, March 10.—The difficulty of negotiating with Germany is increasing steadily, as is evidenced by the rupture of the conversations at Spa respecting the surrender of Germany's remaining commercial fleet. An Entente representative assured me, when starting for Spa, that the Germans would surrender unconditionally. I told him I apprehended difficulties, but he dissented emphatically. The incident at Spa is typical of what may occur at Versailles when the preliminary peace terms are presented, if Germany still has a responsible Government.

The draft of the constitution under discussion at Weimar is being radically altered by the Workmen whose Councils if formally recognized, will constitute a part of the future constitution, absorbing the functions of the Government in economic affairs and limiting ministerial powers in matters containing political bearings. This innovation is destined to profoundly influence labor legislation throughout the world as may further constitutional changes contemplated at Weimar.

Although, according to Mr. Balfour the conclusion of peace with Germany is extremely simple, somehow unforeseen hindrances are continually cropping up.

The Gaulois publishes a leader demonstrating Germany's ability to pay everything. "She is rich and has reserves derived from many years of former prosperity," it says. "She can work to produce, and repair all the evil she has done, and can rebuild all ruins she has destroyed, however irksome the burdens."

After analysing the report by Dr. Helfferichs published six years ago, the article concludes: "Germany must pay, she has the means, because she is rich. If she refuses we must compel her without hesitation and without ruth."

France is fervently desirous of interweaving the League of Nations obligations with the peace terms in order to bind Germany in advance to accept the conditions when she will be admitted to membership and to bind the United States Senate which cannot then reject the League without rejecting the peace terms.

SMALL STATES' POLICY.

International parliamentarism made an interesting start with the amusing tactics of the lesser states, which, when they were refused ten members for the financial and economic committees and restricted to five, elected, Brazilian, Peruvian, Bolivian and other uninterested delegates, requesting the Powers to appoint four supplementary ones. This comedy is a doubtful augury for the future of the league.

Mr. Winston Churchill's declarations are severely criticised in private, especially his announcement that the British Government is striving to have an obligatory military service abolished in Europe and is setting a good example.

The critics answer is that wealthy Britain can afford the luxury of paying high prices for 900,000 men, but the continental nations cannot. Therefore it is absurd to talk of setting a good example. Moreover, if Germany is barred from maintaining a standing army, her productivity, it is argued, will overwhelm that of the other European peoples unless Bolshevism runs riot.

POGROM REPORTS UNTRUE.

According to a private message from German-Poland just received, the 500 Jews reported killed in the recent pogroms dwindled down under examination to thirty-five proved dead and thirty still contentious.

Investigators distribute the blame among the Ukrainians, Jews and Poles, and explain that popular feeling is against the Jews, as the result of illicit trade at profiteering rates, and because of lucrative contracts with the Austrians.

The Jews are unable to prove that Polish officers led the crowd and the Poles are unable to make their good assertion that the Jews fought with the Ukrainians.

Trustworthy accounts despatched to the Entente governments characterize many narratives of the pogroms as gross exaggerations and in this judgment the Jews themselves agree.

The Montenegrins are reported to be fighting against the Serbs to avoid incorporation in Serbia. Bloody combats are reported north of Nikshitch and further battles are expected shortly elsewhere.

TO CONTINUE MORATORIUM.

WINNIPEG, March 10.—The Moratorium Act will not be changed at this session of the Legislature. It was announced Saturday that the law amendments committee refused to report a measure reducing the period of protection for land contract arrears from one year, as now obtains, to three months.

CANADIENS FOR COAST TONIGHT---VICKERS DROP ROSS CUP

CANADIENS GO TONIGHT TO COAST

The Canadiens, champions of the National Hockey League and Stanley Cup holders, leave tonight ten men strong for the Pacific Coast in charge of George Kennedy himself, and there will no doubt be a large number of supporters to see them off on the 10:15 train of the C.P.R. at Windsor street station.

If Vancouver wins the championship the first match will take place there on the 18th of the month, and if Seattle wins, the first match will be played there on the 19th.

Special to The Star.

OTTAWA, March 10.—The Ottawa Hockey Club's squad will probably leave for the Coast the latter part of this week to play exhibition games against Victoria and Vancouver at Seattle. President Dey has been in touch with Frank Patrick, and it is likely that the Senators will leave on Wednesday or Thursday. They will take their regular team, minus Jack Darragh, who cannot get away.

On Wednesday of this week the Hamby Shore Memorial game will be played at the Laurier avenue arena between the imported stars, captained by Frank Nibor, and the Ottawa home crews in command of Eddie Gerard. Art Ross and Dave Ritchie are coming up from Montreal for the occasion, while Bert Lindsay and Corbett Denenny will also be on hand. His Excellency the Duke of Devonshore will extend his patronage and Dey Brothers have given the rink free of charge. All the proceeds will be turned over to the widow of the late Hamby Shore for the erection of a monument to the famous Ottawa defence man.

The race was a keen competition from start to finish and all competitors finished out the course.

The competitors finished in the following order:

2—W. Sanscartier	7:00
3—P. Morton	7:05
4—H. Goodbody	7:25
5—E. Scott	7:30

The four first winners were the recipients of four handsome medals in gold, silver and bronze, the voluntary gifts of friends of the club.

In giving out the numbers to the competitors, W. Sanscartier drew the number 13, which at first he did not wish to accept, thinking it was an unlucky number, but he seemed much better pleased when his 13 drew the second prize, and now thinks this hoodoo number is very lucky.

President Provencher and other officials were greatly encouraged at the result of this the first club's championship race.

The officials were as follows:
Starter—Champlain Provencher.
Scorers—Leon Bachant and Henry Heckman.
Judges—J. Black, Frank Grant, E. St. Pierre.

SCHOOLBOY JUMP COMPETITION SAT.

The Montreal Ski Club held their annual jumping competition for their members attending school, on Saturday afternoon, under ideal weather conditions. There were 16 entries. The junior jump, at the club grounds on Cote des Neiges Road was used and some very good distances were made; quite a number of spectators were present and enjoyed a good afternoon of sport. These boys who jumped run in age from 13 to 18 years, and show some very promising material for future senior jumpers in the club. The judging was done by Mr. Huntly Drummond and Mr. C. Hollefsen, and the other officials and Messrs. H. P. Douglas, A. C. Harlow, P. Mackinnon, C. S. Mitchell and E. Tighe. The results are as follows:

The N. D. des Victories were challenged last week by the Pointe aux Trembles, who said they were sure to beat them. They appeared on the N. The N. D. des Victories will play the Verdun Commercial School Hockey team next Wednesday at 9.10 p.m., at Dickson Rink.

THE BELL TELEPHONE HOCKEY TROPHY

Odd and unusual trophy that will be played for tonight.

RECORDS BROKEN AT N.A.A.A. BATH

One of the most excellent bills of aquatics ever witnessed in this city was provided for the official opening of the National A.A.A. Natatorium on Saturday night. Young George Vernot succeeded in lowering the Canadian fifty yards time by two-fifths of a second. The previous record was as follows: 50 yards, May 1913, G. R. Hodgson, Montreal, 26 1-5 sec. George Vernot's new record is 25 4-5 seconds. In the finals there was a dispute. Three judges claimed that Vernot won and two said it was a dead heat, the referee took the decision of the two and called it a dead heat.

The 200 yards Canadian record was also smashed by George Hodgson, the previous record was as follows: 200 yards, Oct. 1912, A. D. McDonald, Victoria, B.C., time 2:37 3-5. Hodgson's time Saturday night was 2:30. This record of McDonald's was never looked upon as a bonafide record, as the distance is not a standard distance and also the record for two hundred and twenty yards by Hodgson in 1913 was faster than McDonald's time, for only two hundred yards. Miss Helen Fitzsimmons was a bit slower in her exhibition swim than her record of .32 3-5. Hon. Mayor Mederic Martin was on hand and congratulated the Nationals for the brilliant show tendered to the members and President A. L. Caron spoke thanking the two officials, Jos. Cardinal and Armand Gariepy, for the fine arrangements that had been made. Saturday night marked the official opening of the bath section and the National club was highly pleased when it was learned that such excellent times had been made in the various events, they have good material and they hope to soon have a fast string of swimmers themselves. The bath is seventy-five feet long and is filled with remarkably pure clear water. Emile Bouchard is the bath attendant and he has already started to teach several large classes of members in the simple art of aquatics. The whole meet was sanctioned by the C. A. S. A., of which the National is a member.

The results of the program were as follow:—

PRO. BOXERS

LONDON, March 10.—Fight lovers antisipate a lively scrimmage tonight when Jem Driscoll, ex-featherweight title holder, and Pedlar Palmer, the former bantamweight champion, clash in a fifteen round bout. Public opinion as to the outcome is evenly divided.

Both Driscoll and Palmer are well-known to American fight followers. Palmer fought and won some memorable battles, his contests with George Dixon being particularly spectacular. He fought a six round draw with Dixon in 1894. In 1908 he won an 8 round bout from Dixon in London. Palmer was knocked out by Terry McGovern in one round in 1899.

Driscoll fought some of the best men in his class and some who were out of his class. These included Freddie Welsh, Matty Baldwin, Leach Cross, Abe Attel, Spike Robson and Owen Moran. Moran and Driscoll fought a 20-round draw for the championship of England in 1913.

Bdiding for the Olympic Games

ROME, March 10.—It is hoped to have the Olympc games of 1920 held in Rome not no definite decision as to this has yet been taken. Premier Orlando was recently approached by the Italian Olympic committee on the question and a reply is expected from him within a few days.

GENEVA, March 10.—In quarters here close to the International Olympic Committee it was stated that no decision has yet been reached as to the place for the holding of the Olympic games in 1920.

VICKERS IS NOT TO PLAY OTHER GAME

The Vickers Hockey Club undisputed champions of the City League, although no longer belonging to that body, have refused to play for the Art Ross trophy, because the trustees would not allow them to play certain men.

St. Bridget's, of Ottawa, is coming down next Saturday and Trustee Gathercole announces that he is now considering an application from the Athletic hockey team of Levis.

Special to The Star.

OTTAWA, March 10.—It was announced yesterday that the Art Ross Cup match at Montreal between St. Brigid's team, champions of the Ottawa City League, and the St. Ann's, at Montreal, would take place on Saturday evening. However, the arrangements have not as yet been entirely completed, but should matters turn out as at present expected, the big amateur clash for the Eastern Canada title will be staged at the Metropolis this week-end.

On Saturday, Rev. Father McGrugor was in communication with Art Ross, donor of the trophy, and it was announced that a large crowd of supporters, probably 500, would go to Montreal.

MELVILLE AND O'SULLIVAN'S TIE

A very interesting exhibition game was played between the Melville squad and the O'Sullivan's Business College. The result read five all. Although the ice was rather sticky the play was always fast and the few spectators present were treated to some exciting play. Melville played without their regular goaler while the Collegians used their usual line-up.

At first Melville was caught unawares and Clement scored after three minutes' play. This tally however was soon equalled by the Orange and Blue jerseys. By half time the score stood 3-2 for Melville. The second period was a duplicate of the initial one only the O'Sullivan's bunch equalized matters and when the final gong sounded the tune was 5-5.

GIRL ROOTERS FOR TELEPHONE MATCH

While St. Annes, Laval and the National Hockey Clubs claim they have large rooters' clubs, these will be nothing compared with the Bell Telephone and the Northern Girls and their voices tonight, at the Victoria Rink, when it is estimated that some four hundred young ladies from the different offices will be out to witness the first of the series of two games for the Telephone Trophy, between the Bell and the Northern boys. There will be only one game played, in which three twenty-minute periods will be the program tonight. There is also talk of a ladies' game for Thursday night in conjunction with the men's game. The game is scheduled to start at 8:30 p.m. sharp. Jack Marshall and Harry Hyland will handle the game. Those who have tickets, and will not be able to attend tonight's game can use the same ticket for Thursday.

Open Military Sculling Races Held at Henley

LONDON, March 1, (By Mail.)—The rowing fraternity of the Overseas forces are particularly anxious that an open military sculling race should be included in the program for this year's Henley regatta.

It has been decided to organize an eight-oared contest, open to members of the Allied forces, but so far no official decision has been announced as to what other events will be arranged. A race o fthis kind would add enormously to the attractiveness of the carnival, and anything calculated to produce the effect desired, and will doubtless receive, the earnest consideration of the management committee when they meet in the near future to arrange the program.

When discussing this question, a prominent sport organizer from the Dominions, suggested that the race should be open to all members of the forces, whether professional or amateur before the war.

Another suggestion is an eight-oared race from Putney to Mort Lake open to crews composed of men who have served with either the English, Dominion or United States armies. There is sufficient enthusiasm among the oarsmen in the different camps for them to submit cheerfully to the necessary training which a race of this character would involve.

March 3, 1919—Melville, 5; All-Montreal 2 (Champions Art Ross League).

BONSPEIL FOR THE CHILDREN'S MEMORIAL MAY NET $1,500

Ald. W. E. Sayer, to whom the lion share of the success of the Curling Bonspiel for the Children's Memorial Hospital is due, announces that he expects the total amount collected will not be far from fifteen hundred dollars, and pays particular tribute to the ladies who, under the leadership of Mrs. William Cairns, the president of the Ladies' Curling Association, have done such wonderful work.

An official recount of the scores will be made between onw and Wednesday, when there will be a meeting held in the Engineers' Club of all the presidents of the various rinks, and the medals will be awarded.

Certain returns, from Granby, for instance, have not yet been received by Mr. Sayer, but as far as is unoffcially knows, the results are given below, and these show that the "Reds," playing for the Memorial Hospital, defeated the "Blues," playing for the School for Cripples, by over a hundred points.

The Thistle Rink of W. H. C. Mussen, according to the returns, is the winner, with the Montreal Rink of J. Pitblado is second.

AT THISTLE.

At the regular weekly luncheon presided over by President Cleghorn, the unveiling took place on Saturday at the Thistle Curling Club of a picture containing the photos of over two hundred members. This was to celebrate the 75th Birthday of the Club.

Judge Archibald, one of the oldest living members, unveiled the picture, making a brief address. Judge Archibald, a past president of the club, also presented the club with a photo of himself, to be hung with the others 'n the various club rooms. A photo of John Greenshields, the first president of the club, is also included in the large picture.

After the unveiling, speeches were made by the notable guests, including Major Andrews from Winnipeg on his first visit to Montreal, and his being a guest at the luncheon he said would be a memorable affair. He dealt with the prevailing conditions of the country and stated that the greatest desire of his visit would be to arrange a meeting between representatives of the east and the west, by which he was sure that better conditions would be brought about. He stated that by its work in the great war, Canada had been placed in a position Canadians have never previously enjoyed, and concluded by saying that this was recognized by those overseas.

Major Tate spoke of the returned soldiers, and refered to the reports that the Government has a hard problem to deal with in the returned soldiers. Major Tate. The men are coming back better men than when they went away. They have had their horizon broadened and by the drill and discipline they have undergone, will make better business men. Major Tate compared the returning men to a business man who had been absent from business for a time, and pointed out that it took the business man some time to get back into harness, just as it will do the returning men. In Major Tate's opinion affairs will assume a normal condition within a short time and Canada will be more prosperous by what the country has gone through. Major Tate was the commanding officer of McGill Battery, which rendered such good service in several engagements.

The usual musical program had contributions by J. E. Turton, Jimmy Rice and W. Weldon.

AT ST. LAWRENCE.

The St. Lawrence Curling Club is planning to give a big reception to Captain R. L. Calder, M.C., who has just returned from the front. Previous to going to the war, Captain Calder was a member of the St. Lawrence Club. While at war, Captain Calder was wounded twice, once in the chest, and was presented by His Majesty, the King, with the Military Cross for gallant conduct on the battlefield.

AT HEATHER.

At the Heather Curling Club lunch on Saturday afternoon players from the Glebe Curling Club, of Ottawa, were entertained, after which they played in the Bonspiel in aid of the Children's Memorial Hospital and the School for Cripple Children.

A feature of the luncheon was the auctioning of four boxes for the cause. F. G. Daniels, N. D. McLeod, A. H. Vipond and F. J. Shaw were theh ighest bidders, succeeding in getting the boxes. D. J. Fraser and Frederick T. Enright acted as auctioneers for the ocasion. Over $100 was realized from the auction.

ST. ANDREW'S.

At the usual weekly dinner at St. Andrew's Curling Club on Saturday evening, a very large number of diners being present. The home club had as guests H. E. Wall, Mr. Watson and W. Murray, of the Outremont Club, and two rinks from Outremont.

The musical program was furnished by the Westmount Jazz band. Mr. Munro gave several selections on the piano. J. Macdougall and Mr. Macfarlane both gave short addresses on the future of St. Andrew's.

During the afternoon the ladies served tea, and in the course of the match the players stacked their brooms and enjoyed it. Auctions and sales netted $110 during the day. The tea was served by a committee selected by Mrs. J. F. Reipert, Mrs. A. F. Townsend and Miss Juna Boyd.

There will be a Point competition at the Heather Rink tonight, and tomorrow there will be a six-end club bonspiel played.

TEX RICKARD, we are told, intends to insure all concerned with the Willard-Dempsey set-to. Guess this includes a Governor, at least, on the side. Looks as if he'll have to have the Governor to insure a scrap.

TROUBLE IN SEMI-PRO. BASEBALL

There is more trouble brewing in the semi-pro baseball ranks.

The Independent League is the one in trouble now.

It is said that the players inflamed by the reports of the great winnings made last season are forming a union with the idea of putting up their claims for wages.

Already the league, it is understood, has made a contract binding itself to pay twenty-five hundred dollars for their grounds for the season.

In addition to this it is stated that Lachine last year's champions are dissatisfied, have incorporated and registered their club name and are likely to go over to the City League, so that there is all sorts of trouble in the air.

CENTRAL Y JUNIORS COMPLETE SPORTS

For some weeks past the junior school boys of the Central Y have been taking part in a series of competitive sports. These were divided into three classes, track, field and aquatic. One event in each class being contested every Saturday morning. The competition thermometer registered about 100 in the shade during the entire period, the boys crowding around the score board immediately after the marks were put up. Many and varied were the discussions as to who was going to win. It soon became noticeable that the boys who took part in all events, regardless of their ability, were the ones taking the leading places. This was followed right through, the boys getting the largest number of points being one who could not be classed with the experts of any one division but who was right on the job all the time.

During the course of the competition thirty-eight boys took par:.

A splendid Watch fob has been provided by the association to be given to the boy scoring the highest aggregate number of points. The second and third prizes being a silver pin and a ticket-carrying case respectively. Ribbons were also offered to the boys gaining the highest number of points in each of the three classes.

The last three events were contested last Saturday morning, the final results being as follows:—

Highest aggregate points.—1st, Harold Buck, 1224 points; 2nd, Sheldon Ross, 1213 points; 3rd, Philip Farrar, 1212 points.

Track events—1st, P. Farrar, 538 points; 2nd, H. Buck, 484 points; 3rd, S. Ross, 448 points.

Field events 1st, P. Farrar, 438 points; 2nd, H. Buck, 413 points; 3rd, S. Ross, 405 points.

Aquatic Events, 1st, David Munro, 376 points; 2nd, S. Ross, 360 points; 3rd, H. Buck, 327 points.

The prizes for these events will be presented to the boys at the annual junior gymnastic exhibition which will be held on March 29th.

JUNIOR HEXATHLON.

Now is the time for all young athletics to get out and do a lot of practising for the annual boys international hexathlon athletic contest. This is a six-event competition for the championship of Canada and the United States, all our boys are, of course, looking to Montreal to get all the honors. Watch for further details.

Stecher and Zbysco to Wrestle Tonight

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 10.—Joe Stecher of Dodge, Nebraska, and Waldek Zbysko, the Polish wrestler, aspirants to the heavyweight wrestling championship, will meet here tonight in a finish match. The men have already wrestled three times without obtaining a fall, and both declared that tonight's bout would be carried to a conclusion. The referee will be chosen today, it was announced.

SEWERAGE PLATFORM FOR G.T.B.C.

The annual meeting of the Grand Trunk Boating Club will be held on Friday, April 4, 1919, and there are great speculations going around as to who will be the next committee.

Since the commencement of the war the club has had a hard fight to make things break even and it is stated that a number of the prominent young members are endeavoring to have one of the Past Commodores' come back into harness again. The party in question thoroughly understands conditions and would be able to bring the club back to where it was in former years. He has been promised one of the strongest committees in the history of the club and one that will get results. The principle item on their platform will be to fight the sewerage questions. The members are fully aware of the existing conditions caused by the City of Verdun emptying its sewerage into the Bay, and it is a nuisance which must be remedied. Why the Provincial Board of Health allows such a state of affairs to exist is something the members cannot understand.

If the Ex-Commodore referred to above can only be persuaded to run he will be doing something for the club which will never be forgotten by the members. The majority of the members who have promised to run with him have, in years gone by, been upon the committee and thoroughly understand what is required of them.

Its high time now that everyone put their shoulder to the wheel and did something for the glory of the old G. T. B. C.

POLICE ATTACKED AT NEW GERMANY

Military Service Evaders Gave Officers a Lively Reception There

POLITICAL NEWS

Rumored Plan to Make Donald Sutherland, M.P., Ontario Leader

Special to The Star.

TORONTO, March 10.—It is said that a movement is on foot to bring about the return to the Ontario Legislature of Mr. Donald Sutherland, M.P. for South Oxford, in order to have him succeed Sir William H. Hearst as leader of the Conservative party in the Provincial House. Those favoring this change, it is said, argue that Premier Hearst is riding the Government for a fall, and that Mr. Sutherland, as a farmer, with experience in both the Provincial and the Federal Parliaments, would be able to rally the old "Whitney spirit" among Ontario Conservatives. No approach has yet been made it is said, to Mr. Sutherland, but the matter is reported to be under consideration.

A party of Dominion police constables who went from Guelph to round up some Military Service Act absentees at New Germany met with a very hot and unsavory reception from the mother of the young men whom they sought in one house, and when they finally overcame her resistance and went to mount the stairs they were met by a rifle in the hands of one of the youths who fired, seriously wounding one of the constables. The men got away, being pursued for some distance, rifle and revolver shots being exchanged without anyone being hit or at all events seriously struck, till they got into the woods, with which they were familiar. The constables had to desist, as another of their number became exhausted, and the wounded man's condition was serious, but the police are determined to get their men yet. There are a number of evaders in the district.

TEACHERS FOR PROHIBITION.

The West Huron Teachers Association has forwarded a resolution to the Dominion Government, urging that the prohibitory law now in the form of an Order-in-Council be made permanent.

The Board of Governors to the Western University, London, is going to ask the Government on Wednesday to grant $50,000 towards the building of a new medical school. The city of London has voted $100,000 towards the new building.

Two big meetings in Hamilton, on Saturday and Sunday, were addressed by Sir Adam Beck in the interests of the by-law to be voted upon next Saturday on hydro radials.

A new industry, to extract the pulp from apples, to be sent to the jam factories and manufacturing cider and vinegar as by-products, has been secured for Cobourg. The Douglas Packing Co., of Fairport, near Rochester, N.Y., have purchased the old steel plant from the Imperial Munitions Board and is going to erect new buildings and install machinery, having already appropriated $150,000 for this purpose. This industry will provide a home market for apples in Durham County, and obviate the necessity of barrelling them, an important consideration under present price conditions.

REFERENDUM RUMORS.

Premier Sir William Hearst stated yesterday that the Government had not yet reached any decision as to whether the prohibition referendum is to be submitted to the people of the province. In any event it will not be before demobilization is completed, nor could Sir William say what form the referendum would take. It is, however, considered probable that the people will be asked to decide both for or against prohibition, and for and against a wine and beer clause. Both the temperance and the liquor forces have expressed a willingness to leave the matter to the people to decide, and the Government has expressed its willingness to abide by that decision.

A promising scheme for soldiers settlement is receiving the attention of the Government. It plans the colonization of the townsaip of Shackleton, the work to be undertaken and administered by a co-operative organization composed of prominent business men of Bruce County. Local moneys have been subscribed in Northern Ontario towards the cost of administration and the Country Council of Bruce has voted $2,000 towards it. Buildings to house and care for the men will be erected along the railway including living quarters, eating houses, laundry, store, blacksmith shop, etc., to provide for seventy-five to one hundred men, while they are carrying on their clearing operations.

Medi Mattey, a young French-Canadian was sentenced to one and a half years on each of four charges of stealing goods of various descriptions from summer cottages in the neighborhood of Parry Sound, the sentences to run consecutively. A young boy, Will Rowe who was with Mattey in three of the cases, and whose information led to the latter's arrest, was sentenced to one year on each conviction, three years less a day in all, in the Port Arthur Reformatory. Magistrate Moore gave these stiff sentences as not only a penalty for the crime, but a deterrent to other looters of summer cottages.

THE PASSING HOUR

WHERE IT FAILS.

His Wife—I have a novel present for you. It's a phonograph record of my voice in a nice little talk to you. It will make you think of me while you're away in France.

Major Grimbattle — But, my dear, the phonograph will run only just so long, and then it stops.

Private Pigley's people were good to him, but after receiving a pocket service book, a pocket Bible, a pocket album, a pocket French dictionary, and a pocket volume of poets, he thought it time to say something. So he sent his mother a postcard. It read: "Please send no more pocket editions until I get some pocket additions."

A young man summoned for examination by a draft board claimed exemption on account of his eyes. He had been told of various methods employed by the doctors to detect men who were evading service and was determined not to be caught by them.

"Read the letters on the wall," commanded the chairman.

"Where is the wall?" the young man asked.

Sarcastic Cabby (to stout old lady who has just paid the minimum fare with no tip)—Excuse me, madam, would you mind walking the other way and not passing the horse?

Old Lady—Why?

Cabby—Because if e' sees wot 'e's been carrying for a shilling 'e'll 'ave a fit.

AT THE MOVIES

THE IMPERIAL.

What Manager Bloom skipped out of a Nebraska "jay burg" with the receipts of one-night stand at the local "opery house" in his jeans and left an impecunious company stranded without visible means of support, he little thought that he was playing the role of a designing Cupid. Yet such was the case for—but that would be to give away as charming a little comedy of rural life as has been written for a long time, and which has been produced to perfection in "Hard Boiled," which was screened at the Imperial yesterday, and will be continued for the first half of the week. In a role of a stranded road company star who takes to cows, and chickens, and jelly making, and everything, as readily as she formerly accepted the plaudits of her rustic audiences, Dorothy Dalton has enhanced her already considerable reputation by the exercise of an unsuspected versatility, in which she reveals no little humorous talent. The photoplay abounds in quiet digs at the narrowness of parochial life, but maintains a sane wholesomeness which should make it acceptable to all.

And serves as a mop or a hose,
And that is the reason her nerves are so calm,

THE STRAND.

From convict to war hero is the gamut run by William Farnum the popular film star, in "For Freedom" which is the feature attraction at the Strand for the first half of the week. Based on the miscarriage of justice and the right of a convict to a square deal, the story tells of a man who is released from prison to fight and who returns home a distinguished war hero. His past is then revealed to the girl he loves, but after some tense scenes everything works out satisfactorily and the fade-out comes with the usual lovers' embrace.

"In the Fire" is a comedy on the same bill in which Harold Lloyd is seen at his best, and the British-Canadian News rounds out a top-notch program.

THE HOLMAN.

"The Wicked Darling" featuring Priscilla Dean is the attraction at the Holman the first of the week. Miss Dean plays the role of a "rose of the gutter," raised to a vision of higher things through the love of a man. So far the story is by no means new. Oft repeated, also, is the incident of the hero being cast aside by a worldly woman because he has lost his money. But later on the plot is given a slightly different twist when the hero finds that the woman he has learned to love and worship is a thief. So the rose with the soiled petals is thrown back into the gutter whence it came. But after some element of dramatic suspense all ends happily. The sordid scenes of low life are presented in the usual melo-dramatic fashion. The saloons, low dives, the pickpockets lurking about dark corners, etc., etc. In strong contrast to these the picture ends with a scene of tranquil pastoral beauty. Miss Dean as a gutter rose is quite convincing.

AT LOEW'S.

A complete series of pictures of the parade of the 42nd Highlanders through the streets of Montreal will be shown at Loew's Theatre on Wednesday. These pictures will show the arrival of the men at the station and various scenes on the route of march, concluding with the final dismissal at the Peel Street barracks.

The feature picture for the week is William S. Hart in "Breed of Men" and a comedy "His Musical Sneeze."

THE NEW GRAND.

Distinctly novel from a spectacular point of view is "Infatuation," starring the celebrated dancer Gaby Deslys, showing at the New Grand the early part of the week. The picture is directed by Louis Mercanton who directed "Mothers of France" starring Sarah Bernhardt and other famous pictures, and who was at one time stage director for Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree at His Majesty's Theatre in London, Eng. He has achieved some very effective scenes in this photoplay of Parisian life, having borrowed for his purpose the Casino Theatre, Paris, stage actors, including principals and chorus and even a first night audience. The New Grand announces that it will show the parade of the 42nd Highlanders.

WARM WELCOME TO ITALIAN GENERAL

The Montreal Italian Colony gave General Ennlio Guglienlotti, of the Italian embassy staff, Washington, an enthusiastic welcome last evening when he arrived at Bonaventure station at 7 o'clock. Cheers and crys of "Vive l'Italio" and "Vive il General" greeted him.

The well-known Italian General came to Montreal to speak before the Canadian Club today. He was received by Italian Vice-Consul Signor Armao, Cavallere Mandato, Signors Rocca, Zarillo, Carillo and Dr. Ferrucio Tranquillini. He was driven at once to the Monument National and given the formal greeting of his fellow countrymen, speeches being made by the Vice-Consul, Signor Rocca and Rev. Dr. Lattoni, as well as by the General.

It is also planned that General Guglieniotti will be accorded another reception tomorrow evening, but complete plans have not yet been made.

MUSIC

Josef Hofmann, the great Polish pianist, comes next Sunday, giving an afternoon recital in His Majesty's Theatre under the local management of Louis H. Bourdon. In his youth a protege and pupil of Rubinstein, Mr. Hofmann stands today among the world's most distinguished artists On his program for Sunday will be noticed an arrangement by Saint-Saens o fthe Chruos of Dervishes, from Beethoven's "Ruins of Athens" which Auer arranged for the violin and which was first heard in Montreal, (in the Auer arrangement), at a concert given by Jascha Heifetz. Another number to be noted is the Rachmaninoff "Punchinello" piece, which the composer himself played here recently. The program follows: 1. (a) Sonate Appassionata, Beethoven, Allegro assai, Andante con moto, Allegro ma non troppo; (b) Alceste, Gluck-Saint-Saens; (c) Chorus of Dervishes, Beethoven-Saint-Saens. 2. (a) Nocturne, C minor, (b) Waltz, A flat major, (c) Prelude, D flat major, (d) Etude, G flat major, (e) Scherzo, C sharp minor, Chopin. 3. THE ANTI-LIQUOR LEAGUE TONIGHT

The annual business meeting of the Anti-Liquor League of the Province of Quebec will be held in the lecture hall of Sherbrooke street Methodist Church, corner of Clarke street this evening at 8 o'clock. In addition to the usual business of an annual meeting the temperance situation in this province will be discussed as well as arrangements for the convention of St. James Church on Wednesday and Thursday.

TWO BOOTLEGGERS FOUND GUILTY

Analyst Told Court Proof Spirit Was Double Strength

Two of the three civilians accused of bootlegging and tried by Court-Martial on Friday last, were found guilty and the third case was adjourned until Wednesday.

In the case against R. H. Latour, who was charged with delivering liquor to Pte. Mowbray, constables Torrance and Richardson, who made the arrests at Turcot yards, gave evidence against Latour. The defence was that there had been no attempt at making a profit by the accused and he had merely done a friendly act.

In the second case R. D. Lancaster was accused of supplying two bottles of beer to Pte. Monrow. The defence was that the packages containing the liquor had simply been handed to the soldier to enable the accused to light a cigarette. The case was adjourned to secure the evidence of the soldier.

In the third case, William alias "Porky" McDonough was accused of receiving $3 from a soldier for a bottle of whiskey. The soldier gave evidence against the accused whose defense was that, as he had just been freed from jail, he did not know the new regulations.

PROOF SPIRITS DOUBLE.

During the sitting of the Court, C. R. Hazen of Milton Hersey & Co. gave evidence to the effect that the proof spirits in the liquor in these cases was about twice as great as in ordinary whiskey McDonough and Latour were both returned to detention in Guy Street barracks to await promulgation of sentence.

Lieut.-Col. F. Minden Cole, D.S.O., Lieut.-Col. D. H. Hill and Capt. H. Dansereau composed the court. Lieut. M. C. Lalonde was Judge advocate and Capt. George Guimond prosecuted.

STATE AID FOR MILITARY BURIALS

State aid for the burial of soldiers, even in civil cemeteries, will probably be forthcoming in all cases, according to a letter received by A. H. D. Hair, hon. secretary of the Last Post Fund, from Sir F. G. Kenyon, adviser to the Imperial Graves Commission of London, Ingland. The writer states that the Commission recently took over responsibility for military cemeteries in Great Britain and will probably undertake to erect headstones of the accepted military pattern over the graves of any soldier buried in a civil cemetery, if so desired.

Do you ever plan a definite system of saving and investment? If you do you are one of the exceptions, for the majority are inclined to let system in these matters take care of itself. There is a good Systematic Investment Plan which you should get and study; it is issued by J. M. Robinson & Sons, Members of the Montreal Stock Exchange, with offices in Montreal and St. John, N.B.

INFLAMED GUMS— THE CAUSE OF TOOTH-BASE DECAY

Just as the strength of a building is dependent upon its foundations, so are healthy teeth dependent upon healthy gums.

Permit the gums to become inflamed or tender and you weaken the foundation of the teeth. This condition is called Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease). Loosening of teeth is a direct result. And spongy, receding gums invite painful tooth base decay. They act, too, as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting the joints or tonsils—or causihg other ailments.

Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease) attacks four out of five people who are over forty. And many under that age, also. Its first symptom is tender gums. So you should look to your gums! Use Forhan's, which positively prevents Pyorrhea if used in time and used consistently. It also scientifically cleans the teeth—keeps them white and clean. Brush your teeth with it.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

WEDDING GIFTS.

To settle an argument and difference of opinion—In a case where the death of the bride took place about three weeks after the wedding, who would you consider had the best right to the presents that were given to the bride and groom at the time of their wedding, the bride's family, or the groom himself?—"INQUIRER."

Ans.—The groom.

M. E. C.

The R. F. C. is represented in various cities. Don't you know from which one your friend wrote? The Manitoba Free Press, Winnipeg, Manitoba, is correct address. Rather a coincidence about the name!

VELMA.

If you will write to Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, they will be glad to give you the information you request. Thank you for verses.

NATIONAL AIRS.

Referring to a recent inquiry as to national airs from E. Z. B., I am sending a clipping from an American magazine which may interest her.

Not one of our national airs is American. If we accept "America" as our national air, that air was taken from the English "God Save the King." Of course, the Germans claim that the English appropriated the tune from the German national hymn "Heil dir im Siegerkranz." If that is so, then you have England and America singing a German air for their national songs. The tune of "Hail Columbia" is German. It was composed as a "President's March," in 1789 by a German named Fyles. It was nine years later that Joseph Hopkinson wrote the words "Hail Columbia," and they were adapted to the tune of "The President's March." "Yankee Doodle" is a Dutch song, and the air was used as a harvest song among the farmers. The tune of "The Red, White and Blue" was written by an English actor, and the tune for "The Star-Spangled Banner" is by an English composer. So not one of the tunes to our national songs is American.—THEMELISSE.

REFERRED TO "BOOKWORM."

I wonder if your correspondents "Bookworm" and "Another Bookworm" could tell me in which of Dickens' works they have ever found mention made of the corporal punishment of girls. I have read many (but all) of Dickens' books but have never come across anything like that. Will you or your readers enlighten me?—VERDI MONTANA.

"SOME" GIRL.

Re a letter from "A Gink," in a recent Star, in which he tells us what kind of a "Jane" to take for a wife. I thoroughly agree with "Mr. Gink," in some places, but will "Mr. Gink" please tell us poor inexperienced little Ginks what to do, and where we can find a girl such as he mentions, one who will go sliding, skiing, skating, etc., and not one who is always waiting and wondering when a fellow's pocket will run dry. "Mr. Gink," I am what some fellows call a "sport"—a real sport, not "a lounge lizard." I have won all kinds of medals and prizes, for clean sport, and I also have spent a good deal of my time in the Army, where I have met all kinds of girls, but of all the girls I met, only one ever came near "Mr. Gink's" ideal. And now we are back to the old life, we hunt for the "girl," but when we come home from work they are all kept in the house and hard luck, they turn into old maids. Woman is supposed to be the man's ideal, but many a man has his ideal shattered. "Mr. Gink," I treat every woman or girl with the same respect as "My Mother." And as for our "Charlie Chaplin" on our upper lip—just imagine having a moustache like the Kaiser, or imagine having one that covers the face like the figures on the face of a clock, or imagine drinking soup with a—oh! nothing doing, give me the Army issue any day. And I surely hope, "Mr. Gink" your sons and your daughter will find the kind of a fellow and girl you dream of, but beware, there are a lot of other fellows in the field looking for that same little girl.

"ARDENTIA VERBA."

A DISASTROUS QUARREL.

As you have helped so many young girls, I would be very happy if you would please help me. I have been engaged to a very nice young man for three years, and one night about a month ago we had a little quarrel over my dancing too much. When I told him that he did more dancing than I, he said that he was different and could do as he pleased. I was quite angry at his saying that and when he left me a short while later he asked me if I would see him the next day and I said that I could not see him as I was busy, and he said very well, and went home. A couple of nights ago I was looking at the marriages in the paper and what did I see but his name and a girl chum of mine. Now this girl knew what our quarrel was about as she has been out with me several times since. Dear Miss Currie, what should I do? Should I return his ring and send him a note wishing them happiness and honestly hope they will be happy. Although he has destroyed my life I wish him the best of luck. Should I also send him his presents that he gave me, as I have several pieces of valuable jewellery that he gave me at different times?

BROKEN HEART.

Ans.:—I would return the ring and presents, and write as you suggest. I am very sorry for you.

MRS. WM. KELLY.

I would not keep a cat in such a condition in my house if I were you. Take her down to the S.P.C.A. home, Demontigny east. Ask their advice and if they think it best to have her killed, they will do it for you so that she will not suffer.

POOR BUTTERFLY.

(1) If you don't love the boy, tell him so. Why keep him dangling? Why not ask the other one to come to see you? (2) I have never heard of the book you mention. Ask at any book store.

ONE IN DOUBT.

There is such a paper as you mention. It is published in Toronto. Write again to circulation manager, name of paper, Toronto, and I am sure you will receive a reply. If not, in another fortnight write me again.

H. G. S.

(1) Ask her what is wrong. (2) Navy or brown. (3) The girl is quite right to wait until she hears from you.

LEADERS IN THE WOMAN'S DOMAIN

MRS. D. FORBES ANGUS. President, Queen Mary's Needlework Guild.

Early in the war the name of Mrs. D. Forbes Angus figured prominently in many leading societies of Montreal. In addition to being a war head in the organization of the Canadian Patriotic Fund she was an active member of the South of France Relief and several other similar groups. On being appointed president of Queen Mary's Needlework Guild she found that to do justice to this busy organization required all her time. The Montreal branch is now devoting its energies to caring for the wives and families of soldiers passing through the city who are in need of clothing and other necessities.

LATE W. H. COMSTOCK.

BROCKVILLE, March 10. — The death took place at his home here yesterday of W. H. Comstock, at the age of eighty years. Deceased was an American by birth, but the greater part of his life was spent here. He amassed considerable wealth as a proprietory medicine manufacturer, doing business in every portion of the globe, his factories being located both here and Morristown, N.Y.

WOMEN'S WORK

Violets, daffodils and daisies were the spring flower decorations chosen for the flower tea held at the Central Y. W. C. A. on Saturday. The tables were artistically decorated with flowers, which were reproduced in the costumes and hats of the ladies who served.

Miss Hollis, the first speaker, told of the commercial classes of which she is head. These consist of typewriting, shorthand, elementary and speed, bookkeeping, filing and general office routine, the girl trained in this manner being a thorough office assistant. Reference was also made to the valuable assistance and sympathy given both to teachers and students by Miss Irwin, and in token of appreciation that young lady was presented with a magnificent basket of roses, nignonette and ferns. The basket was woven by Miss Wright who is in charge of the handicrafts work. Miss Irwin expressed her thanks in a very charming manner. Miss Elsie Wright stated that the French classes which are in her care were not yet up to the desired standard in attendance, which had fallen off considerably when the epidemic was prevalent last fall. She expected, however, that the number would increase during the next three months. A French commercial correspondence course is being conducted under the direction of Miss Macé and this is proving of great benefit to the students. Mrs. Krause, who is in charge of the millinery classes, reported a most successful week had just closed, netting $37 over expenses.

The work of the handicrafts classes as represented by Miss Wright needed no eulogy, for the dainty souvenirs in the shape of bon-bon baskets which were presented to the guests showed that the skill of the students in this department was beyond question. Miss Campbell, of the cooking school, said that in six lectures the full-course dinner had been demonstrated for the students. There had also been a course o feight lessons in sick dietary, five theoretical and three practical, at which nurses from several hospitals had attended.

Miss Davis, of the Saturday Evening Club, reported that they had assisted the Soldiers' Wives League at the Military Benefit and at the basketry booth had realized sufficient funds to purchase an automobile for the league, had paid the chauffeur's license and furnished funds for the upkeep for a considerable time.

The Loyalty Club, Maisonneuve, represented by Miss Gow, reported that they had collected $75.10 towards the funds of the association.

Miss Mount, the second English teacher, in the absence of the principal, gave an interesting account of the elementary, intermediate and advanced studies which are conducted in this department. Mrs. Matthews, head of the community work at Cote St. Paul, spoke of the great need for assistance in the prodigious task that had been undertaken in that section of the city, which work she said required the co-operation of each of the churches in Montreal.

At 8 o'clock, H. T. Falk addressed the gathering in the lecture room, the subject being "All Honest Work Makes for Social Betterment," directing his remarks to teachers, students and social workers. Teachers, he pointed out, should endeavor to understand their pupils, and by their sympathy and assistance make the studies pleasant and profitable to both. Students, also, he maintained, could by their efforts and attitude in business, create an atmosphere in everyday life that would improve working conditions generally, and he concluded by pointing out the necessity for an enlarged viewpoint on the part of social workers, whose sphere of activities should not, he maintained, be limited in any way.

LECTURE ON PASTEUR.

Professor Carrie M. Derick gave an interesting address on the life and work of Pasteur before the Quebec Literary and Historical Society in Morin College, Quebec, on Friday last.

According to Sir William Osler, Louis Pasteur was the most perfect man who ever entered the kingdom of science, said Miss Derick. The lecture dealt with the personality of Pasteur, and members of his family, and every one in the audience was deeply interested in the subject of Pasteur's life works, which made him famous. The portion of the lecture dealing with his researches and discoveries was brilliant and interesting and contained much valuable scientific lore conveyed in attractive form and couched in quite untechnical language.

The audience was made familiar with the patriotic work for France accomplished by her famous son in discovering the cure for diseases of swine, and for the anthrax which had attacked the flocks of sheep. The wonderful success attending his discovery of the cure for hydrophobia was related in a most interesting manner, and the audience was reminded of how much the world was indebted to Louis Pasteur's discoveries for the wonderful results of the surgery of the Great War.

WANT TO RAISE $300.

The Temple-Emmanu-El Sisterhood are endeavoring to contribute the amount of $300 towards the Helping Hand Fund for immediate Jewish Relief in Palestine. The campaign is under the management of Mrs. A. J. Frieman, of Ottawa, who is touring Canada to raise money for this purpose. Members of the Sisterhood are earnestly requested to send in their contributions as soon as possible, and as large as possible for this worthy cause. Remittances to be sent to Mrs. Maxwell Goldstein, care Ritz-Carlton Hotel, who is treasurer of this fund for the Sisterhood. The campaign closes March 19. Members are, therefore, requested not to delay in sending in their contributions.

WOMEN ACCOUNTANTS.

The question of woman accountants is being hotly debated in Toronto, where, say aspirants of the fair sex, women are not permitted to sit for examination in chartered accountancy, or given equal opportunity with men in the work of reconstruction.

"Up to the present time we have not had one request from a member of the fair sex to register," said the manager of the Institute of Chartered Accountants for Ontario. "When their applications come in they will be duly considered. If women wish to enter this profession all that is required of them is to apply or write for information. Personally, I do not think it is a suitable occupation for women. As juniors and even as graduates they are sent all over the country from small surrounding towns to San Francisco and British Columbia. Accountants are always sent out in pairs. A senior man is accompanied by a junior and it would be years before there would be a sufficient number of women graduates to send out with the junior members. The work is also very hard and exacting. In my opinion I feel that there are few girls who would make a life work of it, as they would not consider it worth while to give up the years that would be necessary to turn out a thoroughly experienced chartered accountant."

"There is nothing to hold women back if they want to enter this profession, but it is absolutely necessary that they acquire the practical experience as well as the theory," said Wilton J. Eddis and Sons. "It takes practically ten years before an accountant has gained sufficient experience to open an office for himself, and unless a woman is going to give up her life to it, the same as a man, I do not think it will become a popular profession for women. Personally, I do not ever expect to see women enter this field as there are so many other openings for them, where they can make good money, and receive a better all round education, which will stand them in good stead whatever sphere they may choose in later life. Speaking from a man's standpoint, I don't think it would prove satisfactory work for women as practically all our business is carried on in our clients' office, and they would be dealing entirely with men. It also demands out of town work, and a manager would not feel that he could send a woman, to many of the places men are forced to go. As regards remuneration a junior at the present time received from $30 to $35 a month. When he is a graduate and has received a thorough grounding they should earn from $2,000 to $2,500. Many experts are earning from $3,000 to $4,000 a year in the States."

WESTMOUNT S.W.L.

The speaker at the meeting of the Westmount Soldiers' Wives at 10.30 tomorrow will be Mrs. C. A. Smart, wife of Brigadier-General Smart.

MOUNT ROYAL WOMEN'S CLUB.

The Mount Royal Women's Club held a successful entertainment at the home of Mrs. Darwin Higginson, 1018 Cote des Neiges Road, on Friday evening. R. Allan Phillips gave an instructive and interesting lecture with Lantern views, his subject being "The Lower St. Lawrence River." Vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. F. Ellam, Miss M. Aveline, and Mr. Geo. Allan and pianoforte solos by Mrs. A. M. Bickley, Mrs. D. Higginson and Mr. F. Ellam were accompanists. Mrs. E. Latter charmed everyone with several recitations and monologues. Mrs. A. C. Chapman, president of the club, was in the chair. Homemade candy was sold, and refreshments served by the members of the club.

The Wolfe and Montcalm Chapter, I.O.D.E., gave money donations during the past year to the following patriotic societies: The Nurses' Club, London, England; the Boy Scouts, the Navy League, the University Settlement, the Canadian War Contingent Association, Y.M.C.A. Comforts Fund, Gazette Tobacco Fund, Prisoners of War Funds, Maternity Hospital, Patriotic Fund, Influenza Emergency Fund, Canadian Red Cross, South of France Relief, St. Anne's Hospital, Khaki Club and Honor League, in addition to Christmas bags and donations of clothes.

YOUR HOME FOOD FACTORY.

Probably nursery stock is cheaper this season that it will be for several years, as the result of the war will be felt for a long time to come. Do not hesitate to order anything you may need in the way of fruit trees and berry bushes, but you will be much safer in buying them from well-established firms which obtain their business from advertising and catalogues than from agents or plant peddlers who go from house to house. Moreover, you will get them cheaper and have a better chance of getting redress if they do not prove to be as represented. Whatever you buy, try a few fall bearing raspberries and everbearing strawberries. They are excellent additions to the home food factory.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME BY THORNTON W. BURGESS

THE SHADOW OF FEAR

(Copyright, 1919.)

"Now what is that fellow doing over here?" muttered Peter to himself."

Peter Rabbit crouched in his hiding place under the thick branch of a hemlock tree and held his breath because of a great fear which had suddenly taken possession of him. He had thought himself perfectly safe over in that part of the Green Forest, and then, just as he was about to start on, a shadow had drifted across in front of him in the moonlight.

Now in the sunlight or in the moon-light the Green Forest is full of shadows. When the Little Night Breezes wander through the Green Forest these shadows move. When no little Night Breezes are there the shadows are perfectly still. With so many shadows all about, you might think that they would not be noticed by the little people of the Green Forest. They are not, unless they move. But when they move they are watched sharply. If the movement is just back and forth the little people know that the shadow was made by a branch swayed by a Little Night Breeze. But if a shadow moves straight along those who see it use eyes and nose and ears for all they are worth, for such a shadow may be made by an enemy.

The shadow which had warned Peter was just such a shadow. It had drifted straight past and disappeared among the many other shadows which were not moving. Peter had guessed right away that this was the shadow of Hooty the Owl. There had been no sound, not the least tiny bit of sound, for you know Hooty flies silently. His wings are so made that they make no noise.

"Now what is that fellow doing over here?" muttered Peter to himself. "He doesn't belong to this part of the Green Forest. There is nothing over here for him to hunt. I guess he must just be passing over on his way to some other hunting ground. And it is a lucky thing I saw that shadow when I did. A second or more and I would have been right where he would have seen me. I guess I will have to sit here and be patient."

So Peter remained where he was and kept perfectly still. All the time he was listening with those long ears of his for just the faintest sound that might tell him if Hooty was near.

There wasn't a sound. It was still as only the Green Forest can be in the night. Things couldn't seem safer, yet the shadow of fear lay over Peter. It was the worst kind of fear, the kind that goes with uncertainty.

So Peter sat and sat and sat for the longest time. The longer he sat the less fear he felt. At last he made up his mind that Hooty had surely gone on to other hunting grounds and it was safe for him to venture forth. The shadow of fear had passed just as had the shadow of Hooty.

MONDAY, MARCH 10, 1919.

THE GOVERNMENT AND THE GRAND TRUNK.

THE surrender of the Grand Trunk Pacific to the Government came apparently as a surprise to the administration. For many months members of the Government have been trying to make the Grand Trunk shareholders sell the old Grand Trunk Railway at arbitrary figures, considered unreasonable by the owners. The people of Canada owe a debt of gratitude to the shareholders for their refusal to be forced.

The explanation of the surrender of the Grand Trunk Pacific should be interesting to the general public. It will probably be revealed that the company's advisors believed that arbitrary acts of the Government in connection with the road have given the Grand Trunk Company the right in law and an incentive to repudiate the contracts and go to the courts for a decision. Whatever the outcome may be it is to be hoped that the action of the directors may make it more difficult for the franchise manipulators behind the Government to carry out the scheme to get control of the old Grand Trunk Railway. If the Transcontinental traffic is to be at the mercy of one private railway in competition with one government road, that is bad enough. The bargaining that will result from it will create conditions only little better than would come from the entire nationalization of the railways of the country. On the other hand the surrender of the road may force the Government to accept the shareholders' price for the old company and there will begin a gloomy outlook for the people who want to enjoy the blessings of healthy competition.

The purchase of the Canadian Northern was the beginning of the mistake that threatens to result in checking the growth of Canada.

Onlookers might well think that the tens of millions of waste in connection with the war ought to restrain the Government from a reckless plunge into railway operations that may make impossible an escape from National bankruptcy.

THE KINMEL PARK RIOTS.

AFTER the lapse of some days we are at last beginning to get some light on the most unfortunate riots in the Canadian camp at Kinmel Park. Although these riots resulted in five deaths they were not as serious as was at first believed.

They are not as serious because they apparently resulted, not as was at first suggested, from any deep-seated disaffection due to revolutionary poison, but purely from local dissatisfaction with existing conditions. What these conditions are we naturally cannot fully know but The Star believes that Canada as a whole will desire the very fullest investigation and all the publicity possible in order that the same trouble may not arise with subsequent bodies of returning troops. It is a most regrettable thing that the fine record of our overseas men should have been marred by a very serious breach of discipline. The overseas authorities owe it to the good record of Canadian soldiers established in the past to get to the bottom of the trouble and if the grievances of the men at Kinmel Park are well founded to hold the responsible persons accountable. At the same time men there and elsewhere must understand that demobilization cannot be carried out in a day and that until it is completed military discipline must be maintained.

THE LOCAL IMPROVEMENT LAW.

A CONFERENCE has been held by the Administrative Commission with trade and other bodies over the subject of the imposition of a local improvement tax, and certain of them have given the project their approval.

The adoption of such a measure would mean that proprietors would be compelled to pay the entire cost of pavements fronting their properties.

As the Commission declares it has practically no funds whatever for new pavements, and precious little even for repairs, the situation is certainly disquieting.

It is not to be wondered at, however, if there are proprietors in the business and central wards who hold that, in the discussion of any such law, special attention should be given to the fact that these divisions for very many years past have supplied the lion's share of the taxation; that a large percentage of it has been utilized in building beautiful permanent pavements in "outlying wards" and that, in consequence, the older wards should be taxed little or nothing for the pavements "already laid." It appears there are those who contemplate garnering a goodly sum by this latter method.

Undoubtedly the system of borrowing for every inch of new pavement that is put down is a bad one; it has had much to do with the accumulation of the city's big debt, and has resulted in the ruthless robbing of the treasury of enormous sums by manipulating contractors, scheming aldermen and others.

The recent imposition of an additional 35 cents on the $100 of realty is another very pregnant reason why this proposed new law should be given the very gravest consideration before anything definite is done concerning it.

THE LEAGUE AND THE WORLD.

WITHIN a few days President Wilson will arrive again in Paris and discussion of the League of Nations will be renewed by the Supreme Council. Four weeks have gone by since Mr. Wilson read to the world the great democratic charter on which such high hopes are founded and during that time an opportunity has been given to friends and opponents of the League to criticize or condemn, to applaud or attack, its fundamental principles. In France and the United States especially, and in other countries to a lesser extent, the leaders of thought and the politicians have freely availed themselves of the proffered chance.

It is strange that in France where the greatest opposition was expected, the formulation of the League principles has to a large extent softened the vehemence of its adverse critics, while in America, the cradle of the League idea, opposition reflects the opinion of the great mass of opinion in America, and how far it is the individual expressions of its proponents, colored by prejudices and politics, cannot yet be determined.

The keynote of the adverse criticism directed against the League is found in the published opinion of Senator Borah, one of its bitterest opponents, who declared that he was opposed to "any kind of international agreement which involves any surrender of sovereignty on the part of the United States" and that he was "utterly opposed to entering into entangling alliances with European Powers, to the abandonment of the Monroe Doctrine." On the other hand President Wilson has, in the clearest and most definite form, stated his opinion that the "League's adoption does not mean the abandonment of one whit of its sovereignty by the United States" and further that its application is merely an elaboration of the principle of the Monroe Doctrine to the whole world. This clears the atmosphere in that it at least forms a basis for discussion. The duty now rests on the champions of both schools to win over the assembled multitudes to their respective sides.

This conflict of opinion in the United States assumes a serious aspect when we realize that, unless the League is ratified by a two-thirds vote of the Senate, the United States will not be a signatory power and the whole edifice of the League built up by some of the greatest thinkers and constructive statesmen of the world must topple over like a house of cards.

Great Britain will support the League with all her strength not on the idealistic grounds of world democracy but because it is the only practical solution of the Imperial problem. Before the Great War Britain had reached a point of saturation in Empire building. Her great problem was to preserve and not to increase her overseas domains. With thousands of her best manhood sacrificed and tens of thousands maimed and crippled, with her treasure poured out in lavish streams, the burden of Empire has become heavier.

The chief concern of Britain as an Empire is India, and in the safeguarding of this jewel of the Imperial Crown the war has added to her load. With Turkey eliminated it will be necessary to deal with Mesopotamia, Palestine and Syria just as a generation ago it was necessary to deal with Egypt. Britain therefore is confronted with the alternative of seeing some nation or league exercise a control over these countries on the broad basis of humanitarianism and without any dreams of colonial expansion or of adding to her own already heavy burdens by assuming that control herself. For the third course means the surrender of these countries to States who would develop colonies of their own across the vital pathway to the Near East.

The same rule holds good in Africa. Britain has no desire for more territory but she will have to assume a mandatory power over certain parts of what were formerly German colonies in self-preservation if the United States refuses to assume its share of the guardianship of some of the foundlings.

President Wilson has declared that the secret treaties, alliances and understandings entered into before the United States came into the war are null and void. France is to abandon her claims to Syria, England and France must give up their dreams in Armenia, the German colonies are not to be divided up according to any prearranged plan made in the great barter of world territory.

Millions of square miles are thus thrown on the market and the bids and options that have been hitherto received are null and void. Under the League of Nations the United States must take up a part of the White Man's burden. If she will have nothing to do with the League the old bids and options will hold good for so far no other acceptable cash offers have been received, and the old frenzied scramble of the auction, with all its attendant evils, will begin again in the world's market place.

Look out for the man who is forever looking out for number one.—Anon.

The use of travelling is to regulate imagination by reality and instead of thinking how things may be, to see them as they are.—Dr. Johnson.

THE WORLD'S PRESS

A Pleasant Time Was Had.

Washington Post: Our esteemed fellow townsmen Mr. W. Wilson, who has found steady employment in Paris, France, is week-ending in our city. He notes many changes since he was here, several new store buildings and fresh paint everywhere. Welcome home, neighbor!

In The Clutch Of The 'Flu.

Cape Argus (South Africa): Payments made by South African life insurance companies, as a result of deaths from the epidemic amount to over a million and a quarter sterling. The principal financial sufferer from the epidemic is the South African Mutual which hitherto has paid out £320,000 as compared with £250,000 losses arising out of deaths on active service during the whole period of the war.

Where Sunday Is Market Day.

New Orleans Times: Picayune New Orleans has been modifying its life very greatly for some time. Citizens of ten or twenty years ago would scarcely recognize the city of today. Perhaps nothing would look stranger to them than markets closed on Sunday, which were so crowded of old, were the centres of active business and did so much to build up business sections. The system of Sunday closing is now on trial in New Oreans, and we shall see how it works out.

Ottawa Can't Beat This.

Detroit News: The "Hot Air" legislative classic of the United States is said to have been the four hour speech made by a Buckeye statesman in those halcyon days when the payment of Ohio legislators was on a per diem basis. The tinsel gilt of his oratory is said to have never been surpassed, but all that careful after consideration could make of it was that he wanted groundhog day moved from the first of February to the first of January so that we could have an earlier spring.

All In The Game.

Shelby Record: A farmer on the street the other day had a sack of meal in his hands when he said: "Just look at this little peck of meal for which I paid sixty-five cents and which I used to buy for twenty cents. It is a dirty shame the prices we must pay the merchants." He was asked if his only business in town was to buy meal. "No," he said, "I brought in a load of tobacco and sold it at one of the warehouses," "What did you get for it?" was asked. "Forty-eight cents a pound," was his answer. One more question was asked: "How much did you get for tobacco when you could buy meal at twenty cents a peck?". And he simply said, "You go to hell," and walked away.

Tired Of Soldiering.

London Daily Mail: Efforts have been made to obtain volunteers for the Army of Occupation, but though a bounty of £50 has been offered, with abundant leave, this has produced an insignificant number of men. It has therefore been decided to make an appeal to the patriotism of our soldiers and to retain with the colors all those who enlisted after a certain date and who fall below a certain age. At the same time the rate of pay is to be most substantially increased. Three out of every four men in the Army, as it stood in November last, will be demobilized, and only the fourth will be retained on these new terms.

Their Name Liveth For Evermore.

London Daily Chronicle: It is to be hoped that simplicity and dignity will combine to distinguish the two memorials which are to be erected on either side of the Channel in commemoration of the war work of the Dover Patrol. Those charged with the work might do worse than take an example from the Crimean war. Florence Nightingale herself put up the only memorial she desired of her heroic labors in that war, and it has been thus described: "To-day as the ships sail past the cliffs of Balaclava, where once three nations met in battle, a gigantic cross shows clear against the sky on the summit of one of the hills. The cross bears the inscription, 'Lord, Have Mercy Upon Us.'"

Who Wants Them?

Portland Oregonian: The peace congress, however, has an opportunity to confer a boon on humanity by setting apart an island or other bit of territory, to which all countries might deport those anti-social elements which refuse to abide by any authority but practise the doctrine of terrorism, sabotage and assassination. There they could give their theories full trial, and prove their fullness to govern themselves before imposing their system upon the rest of the world. There will be difficulty, it is true, in finding a suitable place for them. First of all, the land should be uninhabited. We would have no moral right to inflict these citizens of no man's land upon any previously organized community. But perhaps the peace congress can find a way. It would be worth trying.

Fashions Of Smokes.

Irish Mail: Many smokers may be puzzled by the difficulty experienced in getting favorite brands of tobacco and cigarettes, more especially when it is known that large quantities of tobacco are lying at the docks. The official explanation is that during the last three or four months of the war tobacco came into this country in such quantities, owing to the shipping space placed at the disposal of the Control Board, that the Custom authorities were unable to pass it through their bonded warehouses with sufficient rapidity. Special efforts are now being made to overtake the work, and pivotal men are being released from the Army to the tobacco manufacturers, and everything points to the public supply being gradually increased.

A Passing Shower.

London Daily Express: The old rules and associations have vanished. The new world is strictly controlled by the Government, by the strain of effort, and by the sense of patriotism. Immediately as a reaction there comes the armistice and demobilization on a disorganized Labor world. It is natural that some trouble should follow. But we believe that the trouble will be short-lived. It is impossible to put Labor and industry on a sound basis until the working classes organize themselves under their official leaders. The nation will face the interim period of disturbance with the same calmness and courage it exhibited during the war, which, we must ever remember, could never have been won without the almost superhuman efforts that were made by the men and women workers of the Empire.

"Marching."

I hear the sound of Marching Men
Marching, Marching,
The roll of drums the echo of a bugle call.
I see pass by stern faces,
Who have seen death in far places,
And hear the shouts of Welcome
And the voice of glad accord.

I hear the Sound of Cheering,
Cheering, Cheering.
A Nation's heart is beating,
In time with Marching Men.
I see the quivering faces,
Where tears have left their traces,
The impassioned kiss of women,
The hand clasp of strong men.
I dream of a great silence,
Silence, Silence,
Of men beyond the misty sea
So mutely still they lie,
They hear not shouts of Victory,
Nor pealing bells of liberty,
As silently and dreamlessly,
They sleep 'neath alien sky.

THE EDITOR'S MAIL

CHEERS AND A TIGER.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—We are to have our first opportunity of welcoming home one of our Battalions as a unit.

Let us make it a worthy welcome.

Our splendid wounded men have been allowed to struggle in at all hours of the day and night, with only such a meagre reception as could be provided by their immediate friends, often after hours of weary waiting.

Could it not be arranged that these men might be brought into parade with our 42nd Battalion with all the discharged men and fit men still in uniform acting as Guard of Honor, so that they too might be shown what we, their fellow-citizens, really do think of them.

Let the M.A.A.A. and other Athletic Associations form themselves into an organization of "Cheer Leaders," stationing themselves at intervals along the route of the Parade (I have proved that this has a wonderful effect, even when done by two or three individuals), and our boys will get the surprise of their lives. They will run into such a "Barrage of Welcome" that all the horrors of their awful experiences will be thrust into Oblivion.

And above all, let our "Flag Experts" get busy at once on an "Educational Campaign," telling us through the press how to put our loyalty on straight; so that when we wish to display our loyalty, we will not find the next day that we have made the horrible mistake of having shown either YTLAYOL or TOAVILLX or finding ourselves hopelessly AT SEA.

In other words we do not want to see the flags hung upside down or backwards, nor Marine flags hung out on office buildings.

Yours truly,
P. K. BROWN.

THE FIRST D. C. M.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—I notice in your issue of Saturday, January 18th, under the Veterans' Column, a correspondent writes as to the first winner of the D. C. M.

It is always understood that Sergeant (then Stretcher Bearer) Drake, Reginald H., No. 25707, was the first winner of the D. C. M., in the 1st Division of the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

I recommended him to our Commanding officer, Colonel Frank Meighen, C. M. G., between the dates of the 8th and 12th of March, 1915, for an action which deserved great credit.

No. 25891, the late Private G. P. Soady was sniped just back of our lines. We saw him fall and Private Michael Gould, No. 25716, went over the parados to give assistance and when he got near to where Soady was lying he was severely wounded. At that time Drake ran back and going over a rise in the ground was shot and severely wounded but carried on to where Soady was lying and managed to get him back to French Headquarters, where poor Soady died. We received word while we were in the trenches just previous to the Second Battle of Ypres that the award had been made.

I do not know the date of the Toronto man's award but Drake's was just after the battle of Neuve Chapelle in March, 1915, I at that time being Drake's Company Officer.

I am pretty sure that the first D. C. M. was awarded to the 14th Battalion Royal Montreal Regiment.

ITALIAN CLAIMS.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—The speech delivered by Mr. Savich before the Canadian Club seems to have had a certain effect upon the Italian colony of Montreal.

Two of its members, Mr. Cesare Consight and a gentleman under the assumed name of "Pro-Italia," have just published, (probably in answer to Mr. Savich's speech), eloquent pleadings in defence of Italian pretentions to Dalmatia:

Both of them are not precisely in luck. Mr. Consight, for example, starts by accusing the Yougo-Slavs of trying to deprive the Italians of the fruits of their victory. He says that, should this "indignant" plot succeed and the Italian familiy remain disunited, it would be repeating the mistake committed by France, whose antagonism would have thrown Italy in the hands of the Central Powers.

Mr. "Pro Italia" goes even further in assuring that Italy had given a proof of her disinterestedness by renouncing to Nice and to Corsica in favor of France and to Majta, Gozzo, Comino and Cominoto in favor of England, exclusively as a proof of friendship for these two noble nations.

The two gentlemen certainly have missed a good opportunity of remaining silent. It would be childish to accept the version of Mr. "Pro-Italia," when the territories he mentions have been the price of services rendered Italy by England and France. That renunciation then could not very well be considered as a condescension of Italy in favor of these two nations. It would have been wiser for Mr. Cesare Consight not to mention this dark page in the history of Italy. Not that I know of any antagonism which would have existed between France and Italy. I will only permit myself to bring back to Mr. Consight's memory, the facts as they have happened.

To quiet France in its sentiment of revenge, Bismarck had insinuated to Mr. Jules Ferry, then President of the Council of the Republic; to establish a Protectorate upon Tunisia. That was done, the "Iron Chancellor" persuading the Cabinet of Rome that Italy's interests in Africa were threatened. Crispi, then in power, falling into the trap, was concluding an alliance with Berlin and Vienna, directly aiming at France. Annexation to Italy in case of war, of Nice, of Corsica and of Savoy, was the price of such alliance. Then only did France, threatened, start antagonism against Italy and break business relations with that Power. It is thus seen that Italy in her ambition and forgetful of the favors of the sister power, was making an alliance with its hereditary enemy, the Empire of the Habsbourgs, to defraud France. I repeat that it is a dark page in the history of Italy, on which Mr. Cesare Consight would have been wiser not to touch.

The eloquent defender of the Italian revendications, then talks statistics. He asserts that the Viennese statistics have been falsified and that the Viennese Central Bureau of Statistics is known as an absolutely grotesque institution. Perhaps. But, would Mr. Cesare Consight prefer that of Rome? He could then see for himself that the Italian official statistics corresponds exactly to those of Vienna as far as the supremacy of the Yougo-Slavic element in Dalmatia is concerned.

Mr. "Pro-Italia," evidently of a more violent disposition than his partner, is surprised that the Yougo-Slavs do not pursue their pretentions as far as to ask the surrender of Vienna and Milan. But, after all, should the Yougo-Slavs have had these pretentions, the latter would have been quite as justifiable as those of the Italians claiming Fiume—the former Slavic Reka—and the Coasts of Dalmatia. For, it is to be presumed that the Slavic element in Lombardy or at the Italian Tyrol is about the same as the Italian element at Fiume and in Dalmatia.

Coming back to Mr. Cesare Consight, I do not see very well why, to defend his cause he speaks especially of the Croatians. Can he be forgetting that the latter are Serbians just as well as the Serbians of the Kingdom or as those residing in Bosnia or Herzegovine?

But, if today it is the Croatians in particular who are aimed at by the thunders of Italian eloquence, it was the Serbians who were playing that part at the time of the Conference of London in 1913.

Mr. Cesare Consight will kindly remember that at that time, Italy acted as a witness for the Empire of the Habsbourgs when the creation of that fantastic State of Albania and the driving back of victorious Serbians to the Coasts of the Adriatic, took place.

In the whole, Italy, it appears, insists upon replacing by any means Austro-Hungaria in her role of oppresor of the Slavic nation. With that difference, however, that the Empire of the Habsbourgs has never employed the means in use today by the Cabinet of Rome, i.e., to force Yougo-Slavs to capitulate by starving them. Happily for the latter, the Italians have figured without the sentiments of Justice of President Wilson. The generous voice of the United States has already been heard and has found a favorable echo in England, and France, these two noble nations, faithful allies of Serbia and the Yougo-Slavs.

I will not insist any longer upon the other thesis Messrs Cesare Consight and Pro-Italia are using. These have been already debated many a time with success.

Italian imperialism has thrown off its mask and shown itself in full light.

Let us hope that the Peace Conference will know how to appreciate it to its just value as well as the fatal consequences which could result from same upon future peace in case the Italian pretentions, opposing the principles proclaimed as basis to the altering of the European map, should be completely satisfied.

THIRTY YEARS AGO.

March 10, 1889, fell on Sunday.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

(From The Star Files, March 10, 1899.)

Paris.—The debate in the Chamber of Deputies over the army budget brought forth the usual references to the necessity of taking precautions against German aggression. While the members complained of the budget, which totals 875,000,000 francs, they admitted the impossibility of retrenching and the necessity of meeting German military increases with corresponding additions.

Toronto.—The City of Ottawa's Sunday Street Car Bill, providing for the running of cars on Sunday, comes up before the Legislative Committee today. The Mayor of Ottawa supports the bill, while it is opposed by the Lord's Day Alliance.

Montreal.—Mr. George Janin, assistant superintendent of the Water Works, is preparing plans for the repairing of the McTavish street reservoir.

EMPIRE CALENDAR

CHARLES I. DISSOLVES PARLIAMENT.

March 10, 1629.

In the great battle for the rights of the people which the British nation waged for centuries against kings, barons and all kinds of usurpers, few incidents had a more profound influence than the arbitrary action taken by King Charles two hundred and ninety years ago today in dissolving Parliament. For eleven years after this the king ruled without a parliament. It was even predicted by some that "that noise" would never be heard on the land again. Revenue was obtained by enforcing the payment of "tonnage and poundage" and by monopolies, fines for knighthood and pretended encroachments on the royal domains and forests. But the people gradually made louder and louder protests and finally, after a trip to Scotland, King Charles returned to London on November 25, 1841, to be confronted with the Grand Remonstrance, in which, after reciting the chief points of the king's misgovernment, the Commons demanded the appointment of responsible ministers and the constitution of an assembly of divines to settle the religious questions which were then upsetting the people. The king was reluctantly forced to comply with these demands, and the people won one of the greatest triumphs in the cause of democracy and popular government. Charles was never in sympathy with Commons. He believed too strongly in the divine right of kings to accept their advice. Four months after his accession he demanded money to carry on the war against Spain, only to receive a chilly response. Thereupon Charles dissolved Parliament and attempted to raise money on the Crown jewels to help him in carrying on the war. Parliament had again to be summoned, however, and on that occasion the sovereign said: "Remember that parliaments are altogether in my power for their calling, sitting and dissolution; therefore, as I find the fruits of them good or evil they are continue or not to be." Yet Charles was fighting a losing battle and his influence was waning. He gave a tremendous impetus to the People's cause by his arbitrariness and autocracy.

The Love of Quiet

By DR. FRANK CRANE

There are some who dread loneliness and others to whom solitude is a treasure.

And such is the mixed and paradoxical nature of our clay that there are moods in which I feel myself to be one of those persons, and moods when I am the other.

Sometimes the impulse is on us to go and see, and to act. We crave novelty and fresh experiences. We love the street throng, the crowded theatre, the stirring game, the ballroom, the excursion, business and battle.

Then again the pendulum of whim swings back and we love our sitting room, the familiar chair, the worn table, the lamp and our lounge and bookcase, that have established a dear intimacy with us.

We want the long reaches of leasure, the sense of having nothing to do at two o'clock, the utter release—live, not live for something nor to from affairs, so that we can taste life do anything but just live.

There is a certain fecunity in quiet There is a poise and surety of thought that come only in unhurried spaces. There is a slow building up of inner powers in every epoch of rest. Walter Pater, in his rare essay on Charles Lamb, tells of how "to men of Lamb's delicately attuned temperment mere physical stillness has its full value; such natures seeming to long for it sometimes, as for no merely negative thing, with a sort of mystical sensuality."

This quiet of Lamb's, he says, was not one of drowsy by choice and needing some strong passion or worldly ambition to stimulate him; but rather "the re-action of nature, after an escape from fate, dark and insane as in old Greek tragedy, following upon which the sense of mere relief becomes a kind of passion, as with one who, having narrowly escaped earthquakes or shipwrecks, finds a thing for grateful tears in just sitting quiet at home, under the wall, till the end of days."

There are tragic shadows for all of us. Every life, however free, has its dreadful skeletons, its lurking horrors things that we fear to look at or to think on. And the more finely tempered the soul, the more frightful are these reserves of morbidity which ever and anon emerge from their dark cells where we try to lock them in, and frighten us like baneful witches.

It may be some hidious mistake you have made some secret you would conceal, some relative who is a source of shame and sorrow to you, some tendency to insanity in your blood, or a deadly disease that hangs over you or over one you love.

It is from these night-birds of evil, and from the whole sad burden of existence and responsibility, that we fly, like Lamb, to the everlasting arms of the commonplace, and get a comfort from the purring tea kittle and the friendly ticking of the old clock, that no philosophy nor religion can give.

ANGLO-MEXICAN RELATIONS.

MEXICO CITY, March 10.—The establishment of closer diplomatic relations with Britain by Mexico is seen in the appointment of Rafael Ruiz as second secretary of the Mexican Legation at London. It is expected that Senor Ruiz, who will act as Charge at the Mexican Legation, will discharge important duties in the United States and France before assuming his post.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. W. A. EVANS (Copyright).

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit, or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations and where a stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

ASK YOURSELF.

The Milwaukee health department advises the people of that city to take an inventory as spring opens. By inventory in this connection Dr. Huhland means taking stock of one's physical condition. They list a number of inquiries the proper answers to which will enable a man or woman to decide whether he or she has lost ground.

Question No. 1—What is your blood pressure? The ordinary wear and tear of life is only one factor in high blood pressure. Certain bad habits are important contributing factors.

There are no symptoms of high blood pressure that are dependable. Therefore the chance that it will slip up on a body is great. If periodic stock taking shows high pressure there is more than an even chance that some change in habit will save the day.

Question No. 2—How are your kidneys? Here is another group of organic conditions which may be grave but which do not give any very dependable symptoms. A large proportion of the people who know they have kidney disease discovered the condition accidentally. A man can live with kidney disease about as long as he would otherwise have lived if he will develop correct habits.

Question No. 3 might well be—What is the state of your heart? Everything which is said about kidney disease in the preceding paragraph is true of heart disease.

Question No. 4 might well be—How are you standing your tobacco? Most men who use tobacco recognize that it is a drug. They figure that they are not taking a harmful dose. While this conclusion may be correct, it is just a little safer to take stock at least once a year.

Were prohibition not so imminent question No. 5 might be—How are you standing your liquor? What is said in the above paragraph about tobacco applies to liquor.

Other questions in the Milwaukee inventory sheet are:

Have you been overworking your digestive apparatus?

Is your memory as good as it was a year ago?

Are you able to control your temper as well as you did when first married?

Are you losing or gaining in weight?

Are you pessimistic or optimistic?

Are you cranky or irritable?

T. B. AND FLU.

H. L. writes: "A lady friend of mine at Copenhagen, Denmark, was in the sanitarium with tuberculosis. She had it for some time. Then 'flu' came to Denmark. She was one of the first ones to get it.

"1. Why does a tubercular person catch 'flu' so easily?

"2. Lately I have found out that this lady turned into almost a picture of health and everything good, but very stout. Will this reverse again to bad? She is 27 years old.

"3. Will this woman, if she lives, be in condition to marry?

"4. Are tuberculosis and consumption the same thing?"

Reply.

1. People with tuberculosis are not very apt to catch influenza. Some do, but the percentage is not high. However, in the Pennsylvania sanitaria nearly every consumptive caught influenza. Every one is liable to catch it. Why should consumptives be exceptions to the rule?

2. If she will live properly the probability is that she will not relapse.

3. Many persons with arrested tuberculosis marry and bear children without having the disease light up.

4. Yes.

HEADACHE, SNEEZING.

M. H. writes: "1. What causes frequent headaches? I am a schoolgirl of 16. I have headaches nearly every day. I usually get them soon after lunch. My teeth are in a good condition. The headaches are just above my eyes.

"2. What causes frequent sneezing? Do you think this has anything to do with my headaches? I sneeze four or five times every day."

Reply.

1. We always think first of eye strain. If the sight is not very bad the eye strain may not cause headache until after several hours of study.

2. You may have a growth in your nose. Such a growth would explain both the sneezing and the headache. Irritation in the lower bowel is sometimes a cause of sneezing.

WEAK ADVICE.

R. J. writes: "Kindly give your opinion on the following: We are in the habit of giving our 1 year old baby a sponge bath every evening. A friend condemns this practice, saying that it lessens the supply of blood."

Reply.

Keep it up. It is not weakening.

BRITISH RHINE ARMY.

LONDON, March 10.—The British army on the Rhine includes a division of cavalry made up of twelve regiments, a statement issued by the War Office Friday regarding the makeup of the army shows. There are five battalions of cyclists in the force and twelve battalions of tanks, while the artillery comprises 260 batteries of all kinds. There are 32 squadrons of the Royal Air force attached to the army. Of infantry, there are 102 battalions, with 30 light trench mortar batteries. The engineers, the army service corps, the signal corps, and other technical organizations are of a size to correspond with the main force of the army.

ASKWITH GETS PEERAGE.

LONDON, March 10.—The elevation to the peerage of Sir George Askwith, chairman of the industrial council, was announced Saturday. Other honors gazetted go to Patrick Quinn, superintendent of the criminal investigation department at Scotland Yard, who receives a knighthood; to Baron Finlay, the Lord High Chancellor, who is made viscount, and to Sir Richard Atkin, judge of the high court, who is appointed Lord Justice of the Court of Appeals.

LIFT BAN ON TIN.

OTTAWA, March 10.—The British Colonial Office announces, according to a cablegram received by the Canadian Trade Commission, Ottawa, that no licenses are now required for the shipment of tin from the Straits Settlements to Canada direct. Tin, which is the chief export of the Straits ports and which is peculiar in being largely transit trade, was listed as follows: Tin ore, import value, $43,000,000. Tin, export value, $49,600,000.

LEGAL QUERIES

FATHER VS. DAUGHTER.

Q.—I am a stenographer, aged 17, earning good money and able to support myself. Can I leave home without parents' consent? Until what age have they control over me? Can parents compel me to bring home all my earnings until I am a certain age. I pay for board at home, and keep remainder myself; father complains that I am extravagant and threatens to make me bring all my money home, and support me from it in a way he considers proper. Can he do this? Can I take out a summons against him for smacking my face? I have been out after 11 p.m. when he has told me to be in at 10:30; one night he waited up for me; it happened to be 11.45 before I got in, having been to a show and walked home; he spoke crossly to me; I suppose I did not like him interfering with my pleasure and told him I would come in when I liked, with the result that he struck me in the face. Has he any right to dictate when I am to come home!—Anxious One.

A.—You remain subject to the authority of your father until majority or emancipation, and cannot leave your father's house without his permission. Your father has over you a right of reasonable correction. Until you are 21 you will have to abide by that.

OUR LEASING SYSTEM.

Q.—Noticing a considerable correspondence concerning the obnoxious leasing system in Montreal, I write to inquire if there is any legal enactment on the Statute Books of the City of Montreal or of the Province of Quebec that requires tenants to enter into an agreement with the landlord under the present lease form, or is it just a matter of custom?—F. E. D., Montreal.

A.—No person is compelled to enter into an agreement with a landlord to lease his house by the year. The parties to the lease make their own agreement and they can make the term weekly, monthly or yearly and the conditions of the notice as they wish. The few in the Province of Quebec merely says that if there is no lease, the presumption is that it is a yearly lease, and that the year ends on the 30th of April of each year.

LABOR LAWS.

Q.—Can you tell me particulars regarding the labor laws of Canada and the United States? I have been offered a position in the United States. Can I accept it? I am a British subject.—I. G. E., Montreal.

A.—In United States it is unlawful to assist the importation or migration of any alien or foreigner under any contract or agreement "to perform labor or service of any kind" and this has been interpreted as intending to prohibit the importation of foreigners under contract to perform unskilled manual labor.

A PREFERRED CREDITOR.

Q.—In case of bankruptcy is an employe with back money owing to him, paid in full, or is he paid at same rate as a creditor?—Anxious.

A.—An employe is a preferred creditor for a period of arrears not exceeding three months on the merchandise and effects contained in the store.

CANADIAN INCOME TAX.

Q.—I am an American, lately having moved to your city, and would like an explanation of Canadian income tax as it affects single men, especially following points. 1. What percentage of income is tax? 2. Is money earned in United States while residing there taxable in Canada? 3. How are securities taxed? 4. What deductions are allowable from gross income?—"Income Tax."

A.—For unmarried persons the normal tax is two per cent upon the portion of their income above $1,000 up to $1,500, in addition, four per cent upon the whole portion of their income above $1,500. On all incomes over $6,000 a graduated supertax and also a surtax, in addition to the normal tax is payable. 2. No. 3. Securities are taxed at their source. 4. Deductions allowed to individual are as follows: 1. The income derived from any bonds or other securities of the Dominion of Canada issued exempt from any income tax imposed in pursuance of any legislation enacted by the Parliament of Canada. 2. Amounts paid by the taxpayer during the year to the Canadian Patriotic and Red Cross Funds and other patriotic and war funds approved by the Minister.

ENTITLED TO A MONTH'S NOTICE.

Q.—A gentleman renting a room from me and having been with me some time, paying monthly in advance, has made it necessary to ask him to vacate; I gave him a written two weeks' notice to vacate, offering him balance in cash to end of month; this he refuses and says he will not go out until 1st of the month. Am I in the right? Can I force him to go, or can he remain until 1st? I have always understood that a two weeks' notice was sufficient at any time, more especially when roomer made it necessary.—Inquirer.

A.—He can insist on staying to the end of the month as he is entitled to one month's notice.

ENTITLED TO HIS MONEY.

Q.—A commercial traveller out second day on trip contracts Spanish 'flu; returns home at once, notifying company to that effect within two days; ill for two weeks; company alleges breach of contract and refuses to pay amounts to his credit; no actual contract ever made and salary paid only while on road, weekly or part of week. How can I proceed to collect same?—Portico.

A.—That is not a ground for breach of contract and the commercial traveller is entitled to the amount to his credit and can sue for the amount due.

CAN GET A JUDGMENT.

Q.—A runs up a bill of goods with a merchant and shortly after is conscripted and refuses to pay amount due. Can merchant obtain regular judgment and seize pay of draftee? If so, which is the department to put this through or has every battalion a different pay-officer?—M. M. M., Subscriber.

A.—He can obtain a judgment. He cannot, however, seize a soldier's pay, but could exercise any other recourse allowed by law.

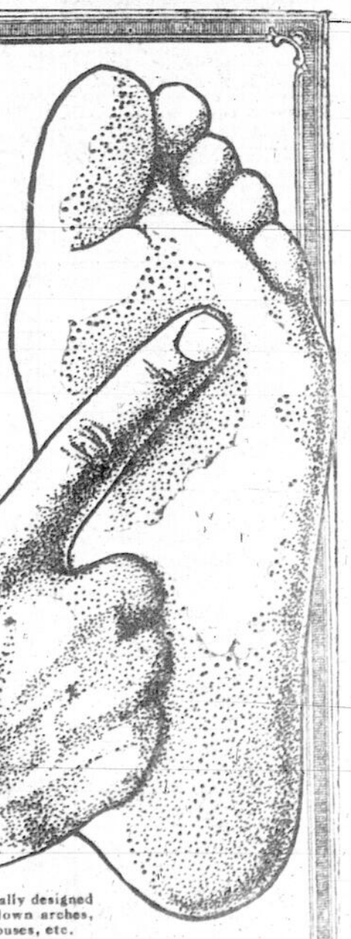
HAVE YOU

Pains, Callouses, Cramps or Burning Sensation There?



Are Your Feet Tired and Painful at Night?

Heed the first danger signals! Do not let your foot troubles develop and multiply until your bodily comfort and daily efficiency are greatly impaired.

The finger points out the location of the Anterior Transverse Arch—a very important part of the foot structure providing flexibility, toe action and gracefulness of carriage.

When this arch weakens and one or more of the tiny bones are depressed, uneven pressure is produced, the weight is unevenly distributed, causing a burning sensation, callouses, tender spots, contracted toes and frequently followed by a cramp-like pain known as Metatarsalgia or Morton's Toe, sometimes extending into the limbs. The foot widens and spreads over the shoe, the small and great toe joints become inflamed and enlarged — bodily fatigue and nervousness result.

"For this condition DR. SCHOLL'S ANTERIOR METATARSAL ARCH SUPPORTS are specially designed to reach the exact spot where trouble is—it supports the weakened parts, removes the abnormal pressure and gives the desired relief."

Dr. Scholl's Foot Comfort Appliances

What's New!

In hats it's a Mitzi model of oak brown caterpillar straw, the smartest thing you can imagine, with camellias in several shades on the crown, veiled in tulle which is carried over the tip tilted brim to form a puff bandeau. No wonder it's all the rage in New York.

Straight up stand some of the feathers in Hussah style—and one of the most notable models is in navy blue Georgette with the brim turned sharply back.

There's a very clever reproduction of a very clever hat which you may have in black and Victory red. The simple crown is of rustic weave straw, set black, the art of the designer lies in the upstanding ruche of wide Victory red taffeta ribbon used instead of a brim. A trim straw bow with aglets is posed exactly where it will be most effective.

A Sport Hat, soft, crushable and most decidedly attractive is in high colors. The crown of Kumsi Kumsa silk is in pink with a brim of robin's egg blue fuzzy straw braid. The crown is trimmed with a big tassel and embroidery stitches of deep rose wool, which looks just as gay as it sounds.

A most emphatic contrast is a very closely fitting turban of silver grey with Peace blue velvet poppies appliqued at even distances.

Many hand made flowers are being shown for those who are planning to trim their own hats

Ruffles on blouses of fine batiste and mull plenty of them with tucks and tiny buttons.

A Sport Skirt that the outdoor girl will rejoice in is of white galatine, broadly striped with black, over bars of shadow grey. It is buttoned from waist to hem with really truly buttons and button holes.

A box suit dress for a girl of about 17 is of sand colored serge with the lower edge of the coat laid in many fine tucks. You know Dame Fashion is pinning her faith to tucks this season. The coat almost, but not quite, closes at the neck, but the designer really had not the heart to conceal the tabliere vest of gold and blue Fantasi-Silk, even for an inch.

High school and college girls will rejoice in the coatee dresses of serge trimmed with many yards of military braid and dozens of buttons.

Fringe has found it's way on to long coats for Spring and is so well pleased with it's appearance there that it's going to stay.

The men folk who like plain ties will revel in the shipment of good poplins that just arrived. Surely every shade that a man can wear is included. There are many handsomely patterned heavy silks as well.

BATTLE-SCARRED FORTY-SECOND IS ON ITS WAY HOME

Halifax Citizens Gave the Fighting Battalion Great Welcome

EAGER FOR HOME

Veteran Montreal Battalion Impatiently Awaits Sight of Home City

Special to The Star by a Staff Correspondent.

ENROUTE WITH THE 42ND ROYAL CANADIAN HIGHLANDERS, March 10.—Having completed inscribing their names on the Empire's roll of glory, the final flourish being the capture of Mons, the 42nd Royal Canadian Highlanders arrived at Halifax at 10 o'clock Sunday morning on the steamer Adriatic.

There was a scene of unparalleled enthusiasm, befitting the reception of brave men, and as the great liner forced her twenty-seven thousand tons slowly up the harbor a myriad of whistles screeched their welcome.

Halifax welcomed the 42nd as royally as she did her own Royal Canadian Regiment. Thousands of people lined the docks adjacent to Pier No. 2, and the small craft moored near by resembled the swarming of bees in their stupenduous load of cheering enthusiasts.

The sun was shining brightly and the harbor glistened silver white while the Adriatic herself was in holiday attire bedecked with many flags.

Much scarred and decorated, and most eager, the soldiers swarmed over the outrigging of the steamer as she swung majestically, almost proudly into the pier. The boys are more eager to get to Montreal than they were to capture Mons, if that could be possible. On all sides the men asked me how conditions were in Montreal, and more than one modest fellow with ribbons on his tunic said when told of the reception awaiting them, that he had but done his duty and was not deserving of so gallant a reception.

"There is not all joy and gladness in our return," said Col. Royal Ewing, the Commanding Officer, in speaking to your correspondent. "We old originals look over our battalion now and we search in vain for the gallant fellows who will not be received with enthusiasm, and who can never return to their homes."

Col. Ewing, who looks hale and hearty, said that four thousand six hundred and forty-nine men had passed through the battalion since it was started, and of that total no less than two thousand seven hundred and ninety-seven were killed, died of wounds, or were wounded. Of the casualties five hundred and six had been killed in action and one hundred and eighty had diedof wounds, a total of seven hundred and forty-four who had given their lives for the cause, from the 42nd alone.

I passed through the cars of the long troop train today looking for originals in the ranks and being marked by the Mons ribbon, it is surprising to find how few they are.

As the men piled down the gangplank they looked the part of the veteran. Many of them wore their tin hats and all were equipped with rifles and side arms; others wore their jaunty balmorals with the bright red cockade, once so familiar in the streets of Montreal and to be greeted again by the people there on Tuesday morning.

IMMENSE CROWD THERE.

Every organization in Halifax was represented at the pier, and so great did the civilian crush become through the efforts to reach the boys with comforts that the authorities stopped allowing people to enter, with the result that one of the troop train crews had considerable difficulty in getting inside the barbed wire entanglements to take charge of the train.

The photographers and movie men present had difficulty in securing vantage points to obtain a picture. Just before the train pulled out their enterprise was successful in getting the officers toreturn to the ship and group themselves on the gang-plank. The trainmen, not knowing this, ordered the first train off and a few of the officers who had posed with smiling countenances, made a mad rush for the train and succeeded in getting on board, but the Colonel and members of the headquarters staff were left behind, and the train had proceeded about half a mile before it was stopped and the officers finally regained their places.

Thus the movie men secured a splendid picture of the first real charge by the officers of the 42nd Highlanders two hours after their arrival on Canadian soil, and no doubt the film will show determination registered in their faces.

The first train contains the headquarters staff and "A" Company, while the second train contains "B," "C" and "D" companies. The total strength of the battalion returning to Montreal is five hundred and eighty-six officers and other ranks.

Major J. W. Margeson, formerly a member of Parliament, returned on the ship and is now on the accounting staff at Ottawa. He has been in England and France on demobilization duty.

The trains will join on the road and proceed to Montreal via C.P.R., from Cardona. It is possible for the trains to arrive in Montreal on Monday night, but easy running time is being maintained so that they may enter Montreal at ten o'clock on Tuesday morning in good time for the reception.

ROSTER OF OFFICERS.

The original officers with the battalion now, are: Lt.-Col. R. L. H. Ewing, D.S.O., M.C.; Major E. R. Pease, D.S.O.; Major S. J. Mathewson, M.C.; Major A. Grafferty, M.C.; and Capts. E. Finley, M.C.; L. G. Black, M.C.; and J. K. Deveridge, B.C., and Lt. J. C. Stewart, M.C.

The following officers returning with the unit who left with the originals, but were then in the ranks, are Capt. H. S. Sewell, Lieuts. J. W. Cave, M.C.; C. J. Fletcher, and J. Knox, of the originals in the present unit, now en route to the home city, there is a total of about one hundred and twenty-five.

A sturdy little battalion typewriter has been loaned me by the Adjutant. It too is a veteran and saw active service at Vimy, Somme and Passchendale, and at the latter place received rough treatment and is consequently somewhat battered but still in the service lacking only a ribbon, for it lost its ribbon in the Passchandaele show, and I am pounding out the welcome news of the unit's return by means of a piece of carbon paper.

Capt. the Rev. E. W. Christie, the padre of the unit, said to The Star that while he had several pleasant ministries, never had he enjoyed his labors as he did when ministering to the boys. "Fine fellows, above reproach, and above all gallant soldiers," was his recommendation for the unit. The returning unit is happy in the fact that there are two padres on board, a former officer who followed in the footsteps of Principal Bruce Taylor, of Queens University, in the person of Major Fitzpatrick.

Transport officers point out that various organizations throughout Canada in their zeal to help are already hindering the work of transport movement on arrival in Canada. Their zeal, while commended by the authorities, they state is an overlapping process which often leads to congestion and additional red tape. Organizations like the Y.M.C.A., Salvation Army, Knights of Columbus and others long identified with war work are absolutely able to handle the needs of the occasion.

Lieut. Andrews a former member of the advertising staff of the Star and now decorated with the Military Cross and the Mons ribbon is among the returning officers of the Forty-second.

The spirit that prompted the outbreak at Rhyl was not at all general in England, and the officers of the battalion state that it was only a brief outbreak. At Rhyl they say are stationed only drafts, regular units not being sent there.

Since the arrival of the 42nd it is possible to straighten out the argument relative to the capture of Mons. The 42nd did capture Mons in spite of the statement of the former Minister of Militia, Sir Sam Hughes.

ON THE BATTLEFIELD.

The 42nd was in Jemeppes on the ninth of November, the Princess Pats were ahead of the Montreal unit and the Royal Canadian Regiment unit ahead on the left of the 42nd. The Princess Patricias had been chasing the enemy in his retreat. The enemy at this time had decided to pursue the policy of holding on to the town in front of Mons just long enough to allow their retirement to be carried out in order. At each place machine-gun nests were placed and when these were hard pressed the troops advanced with as little artillery fire as possible for the bombing of these towns meant death to the civilian inhabitants.

The 42nd Battalion reached Mons at 1 o'clock on the morning of the eleventh and at five o'clock the unit entered Mons. At seven o'clock the headquarters company of the battalion marched into the now occupied territory having been at Jemeppes up until this time. With pipes skirling the unit marched to the Grand Plaza and was there met with enthusiasm by the populace. A few hours after the 42nd got in its telephone communication to headquarters was established and the first message to come over the line was that the armistice had been signed and hostilities would cease at eleven o'clock that morning. Nothing was done after that except to hold the position.

After that the battalion did occupation duty outside of Brussels at a place called Jenneval. Among the officers on the Adriatic was a Victoria Cross man who also has the Military Cross with Bar. He is Lieutenant Grange who is adjutant of the battalion. He is a New Brunswick boy from the county of Carleton. Before the war he was a student at Acadia college and won the coveted decoration at Cambrai.

THE OTHER BATTALIONS.

With the 42nd on the Adriatic were 146 of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police and 722 of the Royal Canadian Regiment.

With the Mounted Police, or cavalry as they were at the front, is Lieut. J. M. Tupper, a son of Sir Hibbert. Before leaving Canada he was an inspector in the R. N. W. M. P.

The Royal Canadians were the first to leave the Adriatic. Their band struck up the regimental march with which the Halifax people are so familiar and then "O Canada." Then followed the Northwest Mounted Police and a few western details. The 42nd Highlanders then disembarked. The Royal Canadians at once marched to the common, where they had dinner, thousands of people lining the streets and cheering the men as they passed.

The new system of documentation had been inaugurated, and when the steamer reached the pier every man had been paid and all they had to do was to march to the train. Three trains took them and the N.W.M.P. away. The first train had the N. W. M. P.'s and the western details, the train leaving at 11.45 a.m. The first Montreal train left at 12.13 and the second at 1 p.m.

LLOYD GEORGE AND ASQUITH

THE CORRESPONDENCE LEADING UP TO THE FORMER PRIME MINISTER'S RESIGNATION

The February Atlantic Monthly publishes an important chapter of "unwritten history" relating to the formation of the Coalition Cabinet in England. The chief feature of it is the reproduction of the correspondence between Mr. Asquith and Mr. Lloyd George.

The first communication from Mr. Lloyd George is in the form of a brief memorandum, which is as follows:—

December 1, 1916.

Memo. to the Prime Minister:—

1. That the War Committee consist of three members — two of whom must be the First Lord of the Admiralty and the Secretary of State for War, who should have in their office deputies capable of attending to and deciding all departmental business — and a third Minister without portfolio. One of the three to be chairman.

2. That the War Committee shall have full powers, subject to the supreme control of the Prime Minister, to direct all questions connected with the war.

3. The Prime Minister in his discretion to have the power to refer any question to the Cabinet.

4. Unless the Cabinet, on reference by the Prime Minister, reverses the decision of the War Committee, that decision to be carried out by the Department concerned.

5. The War Committee to have power to invite any Minister and to summon the expert advisers and officers of any Department to its meetings.

REPLIED SAME DAY.

To this Mr. Asquith replied later in the same day:—

Secret 10, Downing-street S.W.
December 1, 1916.

My Dear Lloyd George,

I have now had time to reflect on our conversation this morning and to study your memorandum.

Though I do not altogether share your dark estimate and forecast of the situation, actual and prospective, I am in complete agreement that we have reached a critical situation in the war, and that our own methods of procedure, with the experience which we have gained during the last few months, call for reconsideration and revision.

The two main defects of the War Committee which has done excellent work are:—

1. That its numbers are too large.

2. That there is delay, evasion and often obstruction on the part of the Departments in giving effect to its decisions.

I might with good reason add:—

3. That it is oten kept in ignorance by Departments of information essential, and even vital, of a technical kind upon problems that come before it, and

4. That it is overcharged with duties, many of which might well be delegated to subordinate bodies.

The result is that I am clearly of the opinion that the War Committee should be reconstituted and its relations to, and authority over, Departments, &c., more clearly defined and more efectively asserted.

I now come to your specific proposals. In my opinion, whatever are made in the composition or functions of the War Committee, the Prime Minister must be its chairman; he cannot be relegated to the position of an arbiter in the background or a referee to the Cabinet.

In regard to its composition, I agree that the War Secretary and the First Lord of the Admiralty are necessary members. I am inclined to add in the same category the Minister of Munitions. There should be another member, either without portfolio of charged only with comparatively light departmental duties. One of the members should be appointed vice-chairman.

I purposely do not in this letter discuss the delicate and difficult question of personnel.

The Committee should, as far as possible sit de die in diem, and have full power to see that its decisions, subject to an appeal to the Cabinet are carried out promptly and effectively by the Departments.

Reconstructions of the War Committee should be accompanied by the setting up of a Committee of National Organization to deal with the purely domestic side of war problems. It should have executive powers within its own domain.

The Cabinet would, in all cases, have ultimate authority.—Yours very sincerely, H. H Asquith.

SUGGESTED ARRANGEMENT.

After narrating the history of the next two days from the point of view of Mr. Asquith's supporters, the Atlantic publishes the next instalment of the correspondence as follows:

10, Downing St., S.W.,
Dec. 4, 1916.

My Dear Lloyd George,

Such productions as the first leading article in The Times of today, showing the infinite possibilities for misunderstanding and misrepresentation of such arrangements as was considered yesterday, make me at least doubtful as to its advisability.

Unless the impression is at once corrected that I am being relegated to the position of an irresponsible spectator of the war I cannot possibly go on.

The suggested arrangement was to the following effect:

The Prime Minister to have supreme and effective control of war policy.

The agenda of the War Committee will be submitted to him; its chairman will report to him daily; he can direct it to consider particular topics or proposals; and all its conclusions will be subject to his approval or veto.

He can of course at his own discretion attend the meetings of the committees.—Yours sincerely,

H. H. ASQUITH.

Mr. Lloyd George within a few minutes sent the following reply:

War Office, Whitehall, Dec. 4, 1916.

My Dear Prime Minister,

I have not seen The Times article, but I hope you will not attach undue importance to these effusions. I have had these misrepresentations to put up with for months.

Northcliffe frankly wants a smash. Northcliffe would like to make this and any other rearrangement under your Premiership impossible. Derby and I attach great importance to your retaining your present position —effectively. I cannot restrain or, I fear, influence Northcliffe.

I fully accept, in letter and in spirit, your summary of the suggested arrangement—subject, of course, to personnel.—Ever sincerely,

LLOYD GEORGE.

PLUCKED UP COURAGE.

Mr. Asquith, in the words of the chronicler, felt that he "could take bolder measures, and without defying Lloyd George bring his restless lieutenant into line, so he plucked up courage" and sent him this letter:

Secret. 10, Downing St., S.W.,
Dec. 4, 1916.

My Dear Lloyd George,

Thank you for your letter of this morning.

The King gave me today authority to ask and to accept the resignation of all my colleagues and to form a new Government on such lines as I should submit to him, and start therefore with a clean slate.

The first question which I have to consider is the constitution of the new War Committee.

After full consideration of the matter in all its aspects, I have come decidedly to the conclusion that it is not possible that such a committee could be made workable and effective without the Prime Minister as its chairman.

I quite agree that it will be necessary for him, in view of the other calls upon his time and energy, to delegate from time to time the chairmanship to another Minister as his representative and locum tenens; but if he is to retain the authority which corresponds with his responsibility as Prime Minister he must continue to be, as he always has been, its permanent president.

I am satisfied, on reflection, that any other arrangement, such, for instance, as the one indicated to you in my letter of today, would be found, in experience, impracticable and incompatible with the retention of the Prime Minister's final and supreme control.

The other question which you have raised relates to the personnel of the committee. Here again, after deliberate consideration, I find myself unable to agree with some of your suggestions.

I think we both agree that the First Lord of the Admiralty must of necessity be a member of the committee. I cannot, as I told you yesterday, be a party to any suggestion that (here a word is missing in the telegram or Balfour should be displaced.

The technical side of the Board of Admiralty has been reconstituted, with Sir John Jellicoe as First Sea Lord.

I believe (here again a word is missing from the telegram) or Balfour to be under existing conditions necessary as head of the Board.

I must add that Sir Edward Carson (for whom personally and in every way I have the greatest regard) is not, from the only point of view which is significant to me—namely, the most effective prosecution of the war—the man best qualified among my colleagues, present or past, to be a member of the War Committee.

I have only to say in conclusion that I am strongly of opinion that the War Committee, without any disparagement of the existing Committee, which, in my judgment, is a most efficient body, and has done, and is doing, valuable work) ought to be reduced in number so that it can sit more frequently and overtake more easily the daily problems with which it had to deal.

But in any reconstruction of the Committee such as I have, and have for some time past had, in view, the governing consideration, to my mind, is the special capacity of the men who are to sit on it for the work which it has to do.

That is a question which I must reserve for myself to decide.—Yours very sincerely.

H. H. ASQUITH.

LETTER WAS SURPRISE.

Mr. Lloyd George's reply to this was:—

War Office, S.W., Dec. 5, 1916.

My dear Prime Minister,

I received your letter with some surprise.

On Friday I made proposals which involved not merely your retention of the Premiership, but the supreme control of the war while the executive functions subject to that supreme control were left to others.

I thought you then received these suggestions favorably. In fact you yourself proposed that I should be chairman of this Executive Committee, although, as you know, I never put forward that demand. On Saturday you wrote me a letter in which you completely went back on that proposition.

You sent for me on Sunday and put before me other proposals; these proposals you embodied in a letter to me written on Monday:—Prime Minister to have supreme and effective control of war policy." "Agenda of Committee to be submitted to him." "Attend meetings of Committee."

These proposals safeguarded your position and power as Prime Minister in every particular. I immediately wrote you accepting them "in letter and in spirit." It is true that on Sunday I expressed views as to the constitution of the Committee, but these were for discussion. Today you have gone back on your own proposals.

I have striven my utmost to cure the obvious defects of the War Committee without overthrowing the Government.

As you are aware, on several occasions during the last two years I have deemed it my duty to express profound dissatisfaction with the Government's method of conducting the war.

Many a time, with the road to victory open in front of us, we have delayed and hesitated while the enemy were erecting barriers that finally checked the approach. There has been delay, hesitation, and lack of forethought and vision.

I have endeavored repeatedly to warn the Government of the dangers both verbally and in written memoranda and letters which I crave your leave now to publish if my action is challenged; but I have either failed to secure decisions or I have secured them when it was too late to avert the evils. The latest illustration is our lamentable failure to give timely support to Rumania.

I have more than once asked to be released from my responsibility for a policy with which I was in thorough disagreement, but at your urgent personal request I remained in the Government.

I realize that when the country is in the peril of a great war, Ministers have not the same freedom to resign on disagreement. At the same time I have always felt—and I felt deeply —that I was in a false position inasmuch as I could never depend in a whole-hearted manner on the action of the Government of which I was a member.

We have thrown away opportunity after opportunity, and I am convinced, after deep and anxious reflection, that it is my duty to leave the Government in order to inform the people of the real condition of affairs, and to give them an opportunity before it is too late to save their native land from the disaster which is inevitable if the present methods are longer persisted in. As all delay is fatal in war, I place my office without further parley at your disposal.

It is with great personal regret that I have come to this conclusion. In spite of mean and unworthy insinuations to the contrary—insinuations which, I fear, are always inevitable in the case of men who hold prominent but not primary positions in any Administration—I have felt strong personal attachment to you as my chief.

As you yourself said on Sunday, we have acted together for 10 years and never had a quarrel, although we have had many a grave difference on questions of policy. You have treated me with great courtesy and kindness; for all that I thank you.

Nothing would have induced me to part now except the overwhelming sense that the course of action which has been pursued has put the country, and not merely the country, but the world—and the principles for which you and I have always stood throughout our political lives—in the greatest peril that has ever overtaken them.

As I am fully conscious of the importance of preserving national unity, I propose to give your Government complete support in a vigorous prosecution of the war; but unity without action is nothing but futile carnage, and I cannot be responsible for that. Vigor and vision are the supreme needs at this hour.—Yours sincerely,

D. LLYOD GEORGE.

ULTIMATUM ANSWERED.

Mr. Asquith's reply to Mr. Lloyd George's ultimatum was as follows:

Private.

10 Downing street, S.W.,
Dec. 5, 1916.

My dear Lloyd George,

I need not tell you that I have read your letter of today with much regret.

I do not comment upon it for the moment, except to say that I cannot wholly accept your account of what passed between us in regard to my connection with the War Committee. In particular you have omitted to quote the first and most material part of my letter of yesterday.

Yours very sincerely,

H. H. ASQUITH.

In the meantime I feel sure that you will see the obvious necessity in the public interest of not publishing at this moment any part of our correspondence.

Mr. Lloyd George's reply was as follows:

War Office, Dec. 5, 1916.

My dear Prime Minister,

I cannot announce my resignation without assigning the reason. Your request that I should not publish the correspondence that led up to and necessitated it places me, therefore, in an embarrassing and unfair position. I must give reasons for the grave step I have taken. If you forbid the publication of the correspondence, do you object to my stating in another form my version of the causes that led to my resigning?

Yours sincerely,

D. LLOYD GEORGE.

Mr. Asquith wrote in answer to this:

10 Downing street,
Dec. 5, 1916.

My dear Lloyd George,

It may make a difference to you (in reply to your last letter) if I tell you at once that I have tendered my resignation to the King.

In any case, I should deprecate in the public interest publication in its present form at this moment of your letters to me of this morning.

Of course, I have neither power nor wish to prevent your stating in some other form the causes which have led you to take the step which you have taken.

Yours very sincerely,

H. H. ASQUITH.

MEMORANDUM ON RUMANIA.

The chronicler of the Atlantic Monthly here interpolates in the correspondence the text of the memorandum on Rumania which Mr. Lloyd George wrote on September 4. He says that the present Prime Minister is rightly proud of this document, which reads:

War Office, 4|9|1916.

I have just seen telegrams announcing the declaration of war by Bulgaria against Rumania. This is additional ground for the anxiety which I expressed to you on Saturday as to the possibilities in the immediate future in the Balkans.

I then expressed some apprehension that Hindenburg, who has strong Eastern proclivities and has always been opposed to the concentration of the Germanic forces in the West, would direct his attention to the crushing of Rumania, and that we ought to be thinking out every practical plan for giving effective support to Rumania in the event of her being heavily attacked.

We cannot afford another Serbian tragedy. We were warned early in 1915 that the Germans meant, in confederation with the Bulgars, to wipe Serbia out. In spite of that fact, when the attack came we had not purchased a single mule to aid the Serbians through Salonika.

The result was that, when our troops landed there, owing to lack of equipment and appropriate transport, they could not go inland, and Serbia was crushed.

I hope that we shall not allow the same catastrophe to befall Rumania through lack of timely forethought. There are three disquieting facts in the situation.

1. Hindenburg's well-known Eastern inclinations.

2. The declaration of war by Bulgaria against Rumania. I cannot believe that Ferdinand would have taken this risk, where it was quite unnecessary, unless he had received substantial guarantees of German assistance in an attack on Rumania.

3. The slackening of the German attack on Verdun. Hindenburg will certainly give up this foolish attack at the earliest possible opportunity. The abandonment of this operation will release hundreds of heavy guns and hundreds of thousands of good troops. If, in addition to this, he were prepared gradually to give ground on the Somme, making us pay for it as he retires, he could transfer several more divisions from the West to the East. He could give up four or five times as much ground as we have won during the past two months without surrendering any vital positions.

4. I can hardly think that the equipment of the Rumanian Army would enable it long to resist an attack from an Austro-Germanic-Bulgarian force armed with hundreds of heavy guns and supplied with enormous quantities of heavy shell. The Rumanians are very scantily supplied with heavy guns, and I doubt whether their supplies of ammunition are sufficient to enable them to get through a continuous fight lasting over several weeks.

I therefore once more urge that the General Staff should carefully consider what action we could, in conjunction with France and Italy, take immediately to relieve the pressure on Rumania if a formidable attack developed against her. There may be nothing in my fears, but no harm could be done by being prepared for all contingencies.

(Signed D. LLOYD GEORGE.

FEAR OF PUBLICITY.

Mr. Asquith's, reply to Mr. Lloyd George's ultimatum was as follows:

Private.

10 Downing street, S.W., Dec. 5, 1916.

My dear Lloyd George,—I need not tell you that I have read your letter of today with much regret. I do not comment upon it for the moment except to say that I cannot wholly accept your account of what passed between us in regard to my connection with the War Committee. In particular you have omitted to quote the first and most material part of my letter of yesterday.—Yours very sincerely,

H. H. ASQUITH.

In the meantime I feel sure that you will see the obvious necessity in the public interest of not publishing at this moment any part of our correspondence.

Mr. Lloyd George's reply was as follows:

War Office, Dec. 5, 1916.

My Dear Prime Minister,—I cannot announce my resignation without assigning the reason. Your request that I should not publish the correspondence that led up to and necessitated it places me, therefore, in an embarrassing and unfair position. I must give reasons for the grave step I have taken. If you forbid the publication of the correspondence, do you object to my stating in another form my version of the causes that led to my resigning?—Yours sincerely,

D. LLOYD GEORGE.

EXIT MR. ASQUITH.

NEW PLANS FOR FEEDING HUNS

Difficulty of Payment — Coal Potash Credits and Foreign Securities

Special Star Cable.

PARIS, March 10—In a dramatic outburst, in which he produced a telegram from General Plumer declaring that the British army of occupation would revolt rather than see German woman and children starve, Lloyd George yesterday swept aside the recalcitrants of the council of ten toward the plan of feeding Germany.

At the close of the session it was put into execution forthwith, but before the final drawing up of the method of payment by Germany, the British Premier, in a great, colorful speech, had painted a picture of the fearful abyss on which the world is poised.

He declared that with Germany joining Russia in anarchy and famine, every fabric of civilization was threatened. The feeding of the enemy, he said, was a matter of self preservation for the Allies as a duty to themselves.

Last night a communication was sent to Weimar, informing the German Government that if they comply with the conditions and surrender their merchant fleet, the allies will give full undertaking to ration Germany until August. Another conference is called for at Brussels instead of Spa.

At the outset of the session, Premier Lloyd George's efforts promised a smaller result, for Premier Clemenceau expressed himself as standing with the French Finister Minister, M. Klotz, against any proposition that threatened to affect the German funds that can be used for French reparation.

Louis Loucher, of the French Ministry, offered a compromise by a method which would have placed the costs of the feeding operations, which will be in excess of $500,000,000, upon America.

The American mission pointed out that by Congressional action they wede debarred from acceptance of the plan, and another deadlock was threatened when Premier Lloyd George, always a master of strategy, played his trump card. He read with dramatic effect a telegram to him from General Plumer, commanding the British army of occupation, and regarded by many as Great Britain's greatest military leader next to Field-Marshal Haig, which read in substance that the British soldiery would revolt rather than continue to be compelled to see starving children and women on the streets of the German towns.

HAD ELECTRIC EFFECT.

The effect of this telegram was electric. It brought home to all present, not so much the plight of the Germans, as the reaction upon the men who had for four years and more fought against the very people they now demanded food for. The Prime Minister added that General Plumer would scarcely be accused of any pro-Germanism. His attitude was based on reason and justice and vision as to what was right, as well as sympathy, the speaker said.

Then, as an added stress, records were produced showing that there had been general comment on the part of the Council of Ten, as well as the supreme economic body, that Germany was to pay for her food directly. With these two points before them, the council agreed unanimously that no further obstacle extend to action, and Premier Clemenceau himself announced full participation on the part of the French.

Accordingly, when the German Government has been told the conditions, food will begin to flow, the payments being made in three ways. The first through raw materials that Germany will supply; second, through the use of credits in neutral countries; and third, if the sums involved make this course necessary, by outright payment from German gold reserves.

As a preliminary to everything Germany turns over her merchant fleet, which will be used to take Allied troops home at the rate of 70,000 monthly, and bring back food.

RELIEF MAY BE TOO LATE.

Reports of the serious extent of the German revolution, as received by the council, had the effect also of swinging the recalcitrants into action. Last night the fear is expressed that the relief now promised may come too late, for private advices indicate that the forces of order are being overwhelmed, and that the population is turning toward Bolshevism under the impression that the Allies propose to do nothing for them. The next two or three days will tell the story.

Herbert C. Hoover is to be put in charge of the feeding arrangements, with full power in regarding to transportation and other details. This program will be observed in Austria, too. In that country the bread ration is now three ounces daily, and that amount is not always provided.

Much of the Allied supplies will flow through Antwerp and Rotterdam, and will be distributed through the Rhine.

INDEMNITY BILLS PRESENTED.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, March 10.—All the Allied belligerent nations have presented their bills for indemnities to the reparation commission, except France. That of France will not be ready for another week.

The amounts claimed by the various nations from Germany cannot yet be made public, the commission reserving to itself the right to give out the figures. It can be stated, however, that Belgium's demands total between thirty-five and forty billion francs—twenty billion francs for actual physical war destruction, and the balance for theifs, unpaid-for requisitions, seizures and the like. This is the largest figure claimed by any belligerent with the exception of France.

"There is one thing, however, of greater immediate importance, and absolutely vital to Belgium than representing its indemnity bill," said one of the Belgian delegates to the correspondent this afternoon. "That question is priority for Belgium's claim on the first instalment paid by Germany. If this amount be guaranteed, then an inter-Allied loan must be made to Belgium immediately. Otherwise the present stagnation will continue, and Belgium's economic situation will be crippled and helpless for long years to come.

This delegate placed the figure of Belgium's immediate need at a credit of 10,000,000,000 francs.

WANTS COMMITTEE IN FORCE AGAIN

Ex-Ald. Levesque Made a Strong Fight at Quebec

RECORD BAD

Was One of the Famous 23 High-Tender Aldermen

It will be a matter of peculiar interest to the taxpayers of Montreal at this time to know that the Mr. Levesque, who fought so strenuously before the Private Bills Committee of the Legislative Assembly, to have the Administrative Commission cast out, and the government of the city given over to committees, was at one time a member of the City Council and that his voting record was decidedly bad.

Ex-Ald. Levesque had the honor of belonging to the famous "23" high tender city fathers. The outrageous manner in which this body gave contracts to the highest tenderers was scathingly denounced by Mr. Justice Cannon, who presided over the Royal Commission.

When Mr. Levesque first entered the City Council he was looked upon as one of the reform members; but as time went on and as Giroulism began to infect Council, ex-Ald. Levesque fell under the influence and his votes soon evinced a decided Giroux stamp. He soon became one of the most faithful followers of this famed leader—voting for nearly all his high-tender motions.

As nothing gives an elector a better idea of the fitness of the men they elect to Council than their votes the following record of ex-Ald. Levesque is very illuminating:

MANY HIGH TENDER VOTES.

At the meeting of the City Council on July 5, 1909, a motion was made to lay a huge quantity of sidewalks, and it was asked that the contracts should go to men who had asked the most fancy prices. For this motion ex-Ald. Levesque voted.

So aroused was public opinion at the time over the manner Council was wasting funds by favoring high price contractors, that several petitions were read at this very session of Council, praying the aldermen to conduct the city's affairs in a more business-like and just manner; prayers, however, availed nothing, and ex-Ald. Levesque, as stated, cast his vote in favor of this Giroux report.

A remarkable deal was put through Council on July 14, 1909, for which ex-Ald. Levesque cheerfully voted. It was that the city should purchase two sites, for corporation yards, for $90,000 when the City Surveyor had stated in writing that only "one" yard was required.

It was on July 14, 1909, that motions were made in Council, favoring high tender contractors for paving works and the purchase of paving materials amounting to the goodly sum of $400,000. The minority of Council fought in the most strenuous manner against passing such unfair contracts, but when the vote was called ex-Ald. Levesque was with those who sustained the motion.

ENROLLED WITH THE "23."

One of the most famous votes cast by ex-Ald. Levesque was on Aug. 9, 1909. On this occasion, after months of fighting, the leader of the Council, ex-Ald. Giroux, got the famous "23" so cemented together that they never deserted him afterwards. Reports were submitted at this meeting asking that hundreds of thousands be expended on paving works. The high tenderers were all selected for special favors. For these reports ex-Ald. Levesque voted, and this in the face of most bitter reproaches and protests from the minority; there were also protests from the press and the public.

So outrageous were the contracts awarded that citizens took out injunctions in the courts to prevent the contractors going ahead with the work. On the aggregate some two millions of works were held up by these injunctions. When issued the injunctions were so binding that it was impossible for any work to be commenced. There was weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth among the "23" over the action of the courts.

On Nov. 2, 1909, a vote was cast by ex-Ald. Levesque that should never be forgotten. He voted that the city should be compelled to take over and pay for the notorious No. 13 police station, the scandals connected with which had enraged public opinion. The manner in which the acceptance was made possible was characteristic of the "23." When members of Council had left the Council chamber a "snap" vote was taken ordering the city to take over the station.

WAR RELICS

Want Souvenirs of Great War for Fort Chambly

L. J. N. Blanchet, conservator of the olda Fort Chambly, in a letter to The Star, makes an urgent appeal for war relics for the old fort. He claims that if there is one spot in Quebec where the deeds of our soldiers in the present war should be commemorated, it is that of Fort Chambly, which recalls so many battles of the past and which still stands as a sentry at the foot of the Richelieu river rapids, at Chambly Canton.

Last summer, the Fort was given a superb stained glass window by Henri Perdriau, of Montreal. Now, Mr. Blanchet wishes to get others, which will recall the deeds of heroism of the Princess Patricias and those of the famous 22nd French-Canadian Battalion. In bas-relief on these windows, it is the intention to mention the names of the Canadian heroes who died for the great cause, and to narrate some of their deeds. To further this end, Mr. Blanchet will make a tour of the county of Chambly within a week or two to gather from the families of the dead soldiers in the county, the history of the braves who made the supreme sacrifice.

UNVEILED TABLET TO CAPT. J. C. CARSON

Special Memorial Service Held in St. Stephen's Church

A bronze memorial tablet, in remembrance of the late Capt. John Clontarf Carson, M.C., an officer of the Canadian Grenadier Guards, who saw service overseas with the Royal Montreal Regiment, and who was killed in action near Amiens last August, was unveiled yesterday morning by Brigadier-General W. O. H. Dodds, C.M.G., D.S.O., at a special service held in St. Stephen's Church, Weredale Park, Westmount.

There was a large congregation present, and the service was conducted by Dean Evans, assisted by Rev. Dr. Charters, Archdeacon Robinson and Rev. Capt. Thomas, C.E.F. The sermon was preached by Dean Evans, who took as his text: "He that loseth his life for My sake shall find it." This promise, he said, must apply to the soldiers who, from a sense of duty, had given their lives to save humanity from the ruthlessness of the most degenerate of men. Referring particularly to Capt. Carson, Dean Evans said that his friends knew that he went to the front from a stern sense of duty.

A touching tribute was also paid the departed officer by Brigadier-General Dodds, prior to the unveiling of the tablet. The tablet bears the following inscription:

"In loving memory of Capt. John Clontarf Kelvyn Carson, M.C., 14th Royal Montreal Regiment, 1st Canadian Division, B.E.F., Born at Montreal, March 21st, 1895, killed in action at the battle of Amiens, France, August 11th, 1918."

The ceremony was attended by Brig.-General Sir John Carson, father of the dead officer, with his son-in-law, Lieut.-Col. I. P. Rexford, and other members of the family. Major-General E. W. Wilson, C.M.G., G.O.C., was present, with Lieut.-Col. S. H. Hill, G.S.O.; Lieut.-Col. W. S. C. Sullivan, D.A.A., and Q.-M. G. Lieut.-Col. Robert Starke, O.C. 12th Infantry Brigade, and Major Pugh.

SPOKE ON LAURIER'S IMPERIAL POLICY

Lindsay Crawford, editor of the Toronto Statesman, was the guest of the Montrtal Reform Club at luncheon on Saturday. The gist of Mr. Crawford's speech was that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was the man who defeated Joseph Chamberlain's Imperialistic policy by substituting the British statesman's slogan of "Think Imperially," with that of think nationally and view world affairs as Canadians. Mr. Crawford said that Chamberlain represented the rebound from Republicanism to Imperialism for he had jumped with one stride from the extreme of democratic thought to the extreme attitude of Imperialistic mind. He conceived the Empire as a single British state with one flag, one fleet, one army and one Parliament, all centered in London, and flinging defiance at war. The Laurier Empire was a spiritual communion of people bound together by the attachment to a common ideal.

Mr. Crawford said that now that Laurier was gone and that his task only remains, it appertains to the Liberal party to accomplish the work, although, he remarked, Sir John A. Macdonald had the cause of national independence much at heart and always championed it.

BIG SNOWFALL

Twelve Inches Fell Yesterday — Pedestrians Had Hard Time

The heaviest snowfall of the winter occurred yesterday when a full twelve inches of white flakes tumbled over Montreal and mantled the city.

The car service was slightly disarranged, but by noon everything was running smoothly. Those who attended churches off the car lines in the morning found the walking difficult in many cases, as it was well on in the afternoon before the sidewalks were cleared. Conditions in Westmount were similar to those in Montreal, but it was noticed that in the Outremont section the difficulties of travel were not nearly so great either for sleighs or pedestrians.

IMPERIAL RESERVISTS RETURN TO CANADA

Seven hundred Imperial Reservists, who were resident in Canada when the war broke out and immediately rejoined the colors, arrived in Halifax from Great Britain yesterday afternoon on the S.S. Tolos. In the party were 150 officers and 550 other ranks. About half the number left Halifax at 8.50 last evening for western Canadian points and of the remainder, 250 left an hour later for Montreal.

All branches of the service are represented, including Infantry, Engineers, Foresters, Aviators and Artillerymen.

Women's Spring Suits

It Will Be Specially Priced
Tuesday and Wednesday at $39.50

We'll mention the skirt first—a dainty, trim creation that just can't help pleasing you with its charming simplicity. It has the narrowness and length in vogue this season.

But the coat—rarely have we seen such a beautiful garment as this Loose Box Coat with its sixteen short rows of braid—each having a button of soft material at tip—leading up to the single buttons connected with a pretty silk chain that holds the front pad over the new combined collar and vest of white silk poplin, which is artfully sett off with pearl buttons.

Bell sleeves—slit underneath and trimmed with buttons and braid complete it,—with a rich brocaded lining.

We have it in Poiret Twill, Poplin and Serge, in navy, sand and taupe, 16 to 44 are the sizes.

Special $39.50

Our showing of Coats—Spring Frocks and Blouses is exquisite.

RED TRIANGLE PLANS TO ENTERTAIN MEN

Canadians in France Being Evacuated Through Havre

"At present the decision is to evacuate the Canadians from France through Havre, and great preparations have been made to house and entertain the boys in the new camps where they will remain a week before crossing to England," declared a returned Canadian Y.M.C.A. officer who was a guest at the Red Triangle Hut over the week-end.

This officer also stated that the problem of entertaining these men in England before forwarding them to Canada was a great one for the Red Triangle Huts, and while plans had been laid they were still incomplete. He stated that up to date some huts have been taken over from the British "Y," one 240 feet long and beautifully equipped, to which the Canadian "Y" will make additions. A cinema costing $15,000 and seating 1,500 men, is being built. At least one new hut 150 feet long is being erected at Havre and other important schemes for service to the soldiers at their last stopping place in France are being developed.

By request of the authorities a special Canadian "Y" canteen car is to be attached to every demobilization train proceedin from the camps to Havre.

INJURED BY HIGHWAYMEN.

Attacked by three highwaymen on Dumarais street Saturday night, Ernest Chartrand, aged 27, was robbed of $27 and left bleeding on the sidewalk. After partially recovering, the young man managed to reach the General Hospital where he is now being treated for a deep cut across the right side of his face, which may endanger his eyesight.

MILK DRIVERS HAVE RETURNED TO WORK

The milk drivers of the Guaranteed Pure Milk Company and the John D. Duncan Company have returned to work. They went out on strike on Friday. A few of the men had returned to their milk waggons on Saturday, but the larger number capitulated yesterday. One of the features of the milk drivers' strike has been the somewhat violent picketting which the strikers carried on, during which they succeeded in overturning several milk waggons into the street.

The milk dealers says that the majority of the men are satisfied with their wages and conditions, and that the discontent of a few had caused the trouble.

RED TRIANGLE

Over a Thousand Meals Served at Hut Yesterday

The Y. M. C. A. entertained at supper time yesterday about 600 returned soldiers, at the Red Triangle Hut. Altogether during the day more than one thousand meals were served.

The program during the evening included vocal numbers by Mrs. Welwood, Mrs. Laing, Miss Beaton and Mr. Mack. Capt. Trivett lectured on "The Life of Christ" and illustrated his words with lantern slides.

Next Sunday evening, on the invitation of Capt. Nicholson, D.S.O., M.C., the congregation of St. Andrew's Church, Westmount will entertain the veterans at supper.

Ivory Soap is free from uncombined alkali, unsaponified oil and all harsh materials which make some soaps harmful. ASPIRATIONS OF GRECIAN PEOPLE ARE EXPLAINED

Premier Venizelos Outlines His Views to Star Representative

WHAT IS HOPED

Cypress May Be Returned Thinks the Prime Minister

By The Star Staff Correspondent resident in Paris.

PARIS, March 1—The Greek Prime Minister of all the representative men who have recently laid their views before the members of the Peace Conference is perhaps the one who most quickly gained the sympathy of his hearers. The memory of the gallant stand he took when his King refused to join the Allies and as he himself said: "When most people make a revolution to avoid going to war, I had to make one to get into it," added to the sweet reasonableness of his demands on behalf of his country, made him easily persona grata before the Council of Ten. As someone remarked, he spoke to that august body on terms of equality and any one who has had the privilege of meeting Mr. Venizelos can easily understand that he was listened to in the same spirit. In spite of the fact that his leisure moments are few, I had the honor of being received a few days ago by this great statesman.

M. Venizelos is a man of the striking personality one might expect from his past history which includes an active part in three revolutions. He is a little over middle height and the patriarchal appearance given by his short grey pointed beard and moustache, and the black silk cap which adds to his 54 years, is belied by the freshness of his complexion and the eyes whose keenness is only partially disguised by spectacles. As soon as I was admitted to his sitting room in the Hotel Mercedes where his suite is lodged, the Greek Prime Minister began to talk of the subject that lies nearest to his heart. As he explained to the Peace Conference, the Greek's wish to have added to their territory Northern Epirus, Thrace, from the present Greek frontier to the Black Sea, the western coast of Asia Minor, the Dodecanese Islands and Cyprus; of the latter island M. Venizelos said not one word. I believe he takes it as a foregone conclusion that England will consent to return Cyprus to Greece, and if I may be permitted a parenthesis, the action of the English authorities in not ony giving passports to the delegates from Cyprus who wished to present to the conference their claims once more to form part of the Greek nation, but also providing them with a boat to take them on their way, was typical of the liberal spirit which has always been one of England's greatest fruits.

CLAIMS OF NATIONALITY.

Speaking of Northern Epirus, M. Venizelos told me that it must be remembered that the claims of nationality are more important than those of race if one defines the two words to mean respectively affinity of temperament, inclination and civilization, and the accident of birth. He said me that many of the Albanians by race in Northern Epirus, while they speak the Albanian language, are entirely Greek in sympathy, and in support of this statement, he mentioned the names of the two other members of his late triumvirate, M. Repoulis, the commander-in-chief of the Greek army, and Admiral Coundoriotis, who are of Greek nationality, yet speak Albanian as their mother tongue, just as, said M. Venizelos, when pressing this point before the Peace Conference, the Prime Minister of England speaks Welsh when he goes to his native village. "You, yourself Mademoiselle," said M. Venizelos, "are an example of the force of nationality over race, for you are of French descent and you speak French, yet you prefer to be British; and there are, in Northern Epirus, many people speaking Albanian and belonging to the Albanian race, who contemplate with dismay their separation from the Greek civilization to which they have belonged for centuries. When asked why there was any question of placing a people who preferred to live under Greek protection in the power of Albanians who are undoubtedly of a lower scale of civilization, M. Venizelos recalled the history of the last few years in Northern Epirus.

In 1913, when the Great Powers decided to take Albania in hand and transform her into an autonomous sovereign and hereditary principality, they appointed a committee, without any further inquiry, to decide the southern frontier off hand on the basis of the language spoken by the inhabitants. When this process had been accomplished the southern boundary was fixed in spite of the protest of the Greek Government so as to arbitrarily include a large population of Greek nationality who were separated from their country and placed in the power of a nation possessing a lower rate of civilization than themselves. At the same time, the Greek Government were ordered to withdraw their troops and promise not to support any uprising that might take place; the fact that it was expected, says volumes. The revolution was not long in coming and after several months struggle, the powers that controlled Albania were obliged to recognize officially that the revolted population were Epirotes and not Albanians. When the Prince of Wied deserted his throne, however, Albanian anarchy forced the Epirotes to make an appeal to the Greek Government to maintain order, and a mandate was entrusted to Greece to occupy Northern Epirus while Italy was to occupy Valona, both occupations being subject to the later decision of the Peace Congress. It was tacitly understood that if one were confirmed, the other would receive the same sanction. That the majority of the people want to belong to Greece is clearly shown by the fact that they made and won a revolution over this question.

CONCERNING THRACE.

On the question of Thrace, M. Venizelos is equally convincing. He points out that its Hellenic character is admitted even by the Bulgarians who agreed in 1912 that their coalition in Thrace would support seven Greek candidates against only one Bulgarian to oppose the Ottomanizing program of the Committee of Union and Progress. To the objection that the new division which would satisfy the principles of nationality would deprive Bulgaria of an outlet on the Aegean Sea, the Greek answer is that many states are in this condition, e.g., Czecho-Slovakia, Hungary, German Austria, possibly Poland, and that an arrangement could perfectly well be made whereby Bulgaria could share the same conditions that assured to the other states a commercial outlet.

As to the relative rights of Greece and Bulgaria to be considered in the division of Thrace, M. Venizelos points to the Balkan wars as giving proof of the greater claims of Greece by demonstrating that the frugility of Bulgarian pretentions to military superiority was equal to that of the pretentions to greater numbers or a higher civilization. I have no space to recall the intricacies of the Balkan diplomacy nor the reasons which caused M. Venizelos to give in to Bulgaria in a way he is certainly not prepared to do today since he thoroughly believes that militarism is as deeply rooted in Bulgaria as in Prussia.

In regard to Constantinople, the Greeks admit that by reason of the great international interests involved in the possession of the straits, the city and a certain portion of the hinterland might form an international state under the protection of the League of Nations.

LAND IN ASIA MINOR.

But what Greece does want is the strip of land along the west coast of Asia Minor where live now and have lived for 3,000 years a population of over a million Greeks. They are agriculturists, traders, manufacturers, workmen and members of the liberal professions and they support by their own unaided efforts 565 churches, and 632 schools, with 91,548 scholars. M. Venizelos points to No. 12 of Mr. Wilson's celebrated fourteen points, the one that proposes that: "The other nationalities now under Turkish rule should be assured an undoubted security of life and an absolutely unmolested opportunity of autonomous development," and comments that there is no reason why, if a people prefer to be included in an already existing state, instead of creating an autonomous state, it should not do so. On the other hand, if all Western Asia Minor were made into an autonomous Hellenic state, its existence, side by side, with another Hellenic state would inevitably provoke fresh problems. And it is unthinkable that Christians should any longer be left under Turkish rule—the rule that has exterminated 700,000 Armenians and 300,000 Greeks during the world war. Even for the Greeks that will remain in Central Asia Minor, M. Venizelos advises a system of purchase by the Turkish Government of real estate and house property, the Greeks adopting a similar policy as to Turkish possessions so that by these voluntary migrations the Turkish state would be composed entirely of Muhomedans.

As to the islands of the Dodecanese, Greece declares by the mouth of her spokesman that as they have been Greek for thousands of years they ought all to be returned to Greece regardless of any ulterior treaties. Italy, the great neighbor nation, has looked at them with longing eyes and even laid a detaining hand on them, but the Greek Prime Minister is confident that in the light of the new principles that are guiding the Peace Conference deliberations, Italy will not wish to imposer her sovereignty on a population which is purely Greek.

As to Cyprus, I said nothing fearing I might be indiscreet, but I hear that M. Venizelos is sure that that too is a foregone conclusion.

E. MONTIZAMBERT.

PRINCESS PAT SAYS FAREWELL TO HER FAMOUS REGIMENT

Princess Patricia of Connought said good-bye to h er own regiment—the famous Princess Pat's Canadian Light Infantry—at Bramshott, England, where the tro ops were preparing to embark for home. She is shown fixing a laurel wreath of metal to the colors of the fa mous regiment. The inscription on the wearth reads: "To the P.P.C.L.I. from the Colonel-in-Chief, in recog nition of their heroic services in the Great War, 1914-18."

Princess Patricia of Connaught said good-bye to h s, and presented them to the regiment before it left Canada for France in August, 1914. They were the only re gimental colors carried by any British regiment on the field.

DODGE WOOD SPLIT PULLEYS

Dominating All Else

is this one fact about Dodge Wood-Split Pulleys.

They cost less to operate than any metal pulleys of equal size.

The same amount of power delivered annually for $8.00 less for each pulley is the average money value of the saving.

Surely, therefore, when cutting overhead expenses without impairing efficiency, is so necessary, it is worth your while investigating to see whether you could use Dodge Wood-Split Pulleys to advantage.

BOLSHEVISTS' ADVANCE IS NOW BEING CHECKED

Russian and Allied Forces are Forcing Murderous Red Armies Back

TERROR FAILING

Decayed Morale of Trotzy's Men Proved—Admiral Kolchak Popular

London Times-Public Ledger Cable. Copyright by Montreal Star.

HELSINGFORS, March 10—The victorious march of the Bolshevist armies to the south has been stopped. In the Donetz mining area, Dybenko, the Soviet commander-in-chief admits the defeat of his left along a front of sixty-four miles, evidently by the troops of General Denikine, south of Ekaterinoslav. Antonoff, another Bolshevist general, admits he was compelled to beat a rapid retreat before the superior Russian and Allied forces. Similarly, south of Kiev, the Soviet General Grigoriaff was engaged this week without the slightest success in a desperate battle with Ukraine troops.

The chief cause of this check is the paralysis of the railway service in General Russia. A further cause appears in the enormous increase of mass desertions. As a means of checking this the pay of soldiers in the Red Army has been increased to 350 rubles a month.

Another sign of the Red army's decayed morale is that for the first time since the introduction of the Red terror the official newspaper publishes a long list of names of Red army officers and soldiers who were shot on the fronts of the Sixth army in the Baltic provinces. Thirty-seven soldiers of the 76th Regiment were executed for attempted desertion, while all the relatives of twenty-seven officers of the 87th Regiment which surrendered to the Ethonians have been arrested and their property confiscated.

The cleavage between the extremist group of Trotzky and Zinovieff and the "Moderate party" of Lenine is officially confirmed by the resolution of the Soviet Congress to suppress the autonomy of Petrograd.

ADMIRAL KOLCHAK POPULAR.

London Times-Public Ledger Cable. Copyright by Montreal Star.

OMSK, March 10.—Admiral Kolchak, head of the All-Russian Government, has been on a tour of the front, visiting Troitsk, where he was enthusiastically received by the representatives of the various Cossack organizations fighting on the South Siberian Railway. He then proceeded along the mainland to the outposts nearest Ufa and since has touched at various points of the front, ending his tour at Perm. He informs the correspondent that the military situation at all important points is favorable.

Everywhere the Admiral was enthusiastically received by the troops and civil authorities.

A noteworthy feature of the tour is the numerous workmen's deputations who welcomed him, operatives of the noted Klatoust Arsenal presenting him with a pair of crossed swords. At Cheliabinsk he addressed a joint meeting of the local Zemstvo and town council and made interesting statements regarding the policy of the Government. He emphasized the importance of the agrarian question in Russia proper, of which the Government now controls only an infinitesimal portion.

He was not in a position, therefore, to make a definite declaration, but indicated it was the desire of the Government to develop the situation of the small landowner rather than the large. The reform will be undertaken along principles of right and justice in the interest of national welfare. Primarily his Government existed for the purpose of extinguishing the Bolshevists, and when that object was fulfilled and a legislative convention or national assembly obtained its mission would be ended. Meanwhile any agreement or negotiation with the Bolshevists is out of the question.

BOLSHEVISTS WEAKENING.

The Bolshevist position on the Ufa front is weakening. No developments followed their occupation of Ufa and Orenburg, which some quarters regarded as a serious setback to the Siberian forces. As a matter of fact, these minor reverses are only local and had special causes, one of which was the divided command then existing.

The Czechs have now wholly retired and the front is manned exclusively by Russians, who are doing more than holding their own, pending offensive movements when the weather breaks.

The Bolshevist force on the Perm sector now comprises 41,000 men, with 400 machine guns and seventy-four guns. The Second Bolshevist Army on the Saratov sector numbers 14,000 men, with 180 machine guns and fifty-eight guns. The Fifth Army, on the Ufa sector, numbers 31,000 men, with 152 machine guns and 100 guns, while the First Army has 6,500 men, with forty-two machine guns and twenty-eight guns, and the Fourth Army 20,000 men with thirty-eight machine guns and seventy-three guns. These figures, compared with those of December show a heavy reduction both in personnel and guns, much of which is due to the Perm offensive and the constant pressure since maintained. If the Bolshevist forces are withdrawn from the Ural front they do not seem to be making any impression elsewhere. Meanwhile, on the Ural front, the anti-Bolshevists are being steadily re-inforced, and prospects of a coming offensive are regarded as most promising, despite the fact that now there are no Czech or Allied forces in the field. Incidentally, General Dutoff's Cossacks are still holding a small section of the Orenburg-Tashkent Railway and have destroyed big bridges on the Ural River, so in the event of their having to retire the Bolshevist communications will be greatly embarrassed.

HON. H. A. L. FISHER AGAIN MENTIONED

London Says He Will Become Ambassador to United States

Special Cable to The Montreal Star and New York Evening World. Copyright.

LONDON, March 10 — The Hon. Herbert Albert Laurens Fisher, Minister of Education, one of Great Britain's most brilliant scholars, will succeed Lord Reading as British Ambassador at Washington, it is reported.

Mr. Fisher and Lord Robert Cecil have been mentioned prominently before in this connection. It is generally understood Lord Robert would decline the appointment because of his pressing political duties in the readjustment of affairs in this country.

Hon. Mr. Fisher is known personally in America, having delivered the Lowell lectures at Harvard in 1909. He is 54 years old and married a daughter of Sir Courtney Albert, clerk of the House of Commons. Mr. Fisher, who lives in Sheffield, has been vice-chancellor of Sheffield University since 1912. He was educated at Oxford, Paris and Gottingen, and is a fellow of the British Academy and a trustee of the British Museum. The University of Edinburgh made him an honorary doctor of laws.

Besides rendering other public services, Mr. Fisher, with Viscount Bryce, formerly British Ambassador at Washington, and other able men, was a member of the Government committee on German outrages in Belgium.

Mr. Fisher has written historical and political works and has contributed to such journals as the Quarterly Review and the Fortnightly Review.

LOWELL, Mass., March 10—John E. Donnelly, of this city, announced that, [illegible] from the National Association of Minor Baseball Leagues, [illegible] new organization of the New England League, to contain [illegible] six clubs.

FREIGHT AGENTS EXAMINED LINES

Forty freight agents of the Canadian Pacific Railway from various points in the Quebec district made an examination of the company's terminal facilities on Saturday as a part of one of the regular monthly meetings. A special train carried the visitors from Windsor street on a 58-mile trip over the C.P.R. terminal lines and yards around Montreal, visiting Cote St. Paul, Highlands, Bortin, Outremont and Mile End. A visit to the Angus Shops was also made. At a meeting held afterwards at the Place Viger Hotel, J. [illegible] was assistant general superintendent of the service [illegible] handling foreign freight cars over Canadian lines.

PRICES CONTINUE TO SOAR IN WALL ST.---LOCAL IS STRONG

SEVERAL IN LOCAL LIST STRONGER

Although prices held firmly on the local market throughout the morning session, activity was not specially marked in any one group of stocks.

Laurentide was again a performer early in the session, the movement starting with the sale of an odd lot at 205, a board lot at 206, and a subsequent advance on but a little over 200 shares, to 207¼. This price represents a net gain of 1¾ points over the last sale on March 4.

Smelters was also notable for strength, and the stock which opened ex-dividend advanced from the opening at 25⅞ to 26½ thereby making up its dividend.

Montreal Power was in demand at the steady price of 91½. Laurentide Power sold at a new high of 69, but trading in the issue was limited. Shawinigan came out at 118¾, but subsequently lost ½, off ¼ from Saturday. Brazilian was in demand early around 53¼ to 53.

Canada Cement showed further tendencies to ease, and the price, under some liquidation from different sections of the floor, eased back to 67½, off a point from the opening and down 1¼ from Saturday.

The steel issues were quiet despite the activity and strength in this class of securities on Wall Street. Iron common was unchanged at 60½, while Steel of Canada opened ½ higher at 61 and made the further gain of ½. Steel of Canada preferred was steady at 94.

Dominion Glass was strong, moving up to 46⅛, a net gain of 1⅛. North American Pulp was unchanged at 4⅛, under fairly good demand.

Macdonald came in for a little attention, the stock opening at 24¼ and gaining another ¼ point. Maple Leaf sold at 138. Quebec Railway was quiet but firm at 21⅝ to ½. Spanish River common was 20½, up ¼, with no sales of the preferred. Wayagamack was unchanged at 50. Converters held firmly at 51. Car preferred was steady at 86½, and Steamships preferred at 78⅞. Asbestos preferred sold at 68¾.

The balance of the morning's trading was confined to Victory Loans and War Bonds round the recent high levels.

Opinions from Wall Street

Laidlaw and Co.—One thing was agreed on by nearly everyone on the street, and that was that the supply of stocks is becoming scarcer every day, and offerings are fewer after violent advances have occurred.

E. & C. Randolph:—H. K. Evans wires:—No change in character of market. It is going pretty fast, however, and if there is a big opening with any considerable advance this morning, I would favor taking profits, as some reaction should come before long.

J. S. Bache & Co. — The railroad financial dilemma, for reason that it was forced upon situation by political struggle is not disturbing.

Logan & Bryan—Still of opinion that stock market prices are in early stages of discounting better trade conditions, evidence of which is manifest at present time.

Shearson, Hammill & Co.—The market continues to broaden and is extremely strong. The whole situation is mixed and extremely hard to analyze.

Post & Flagg: Until something really disturbing actually develops it looks as if the market would continue to advance.

Oswald Bros.: It is believed that a considerable old style short interest remains to be covered. A generally better feeling is apparent.

BRITISH BUSINESS IS HESITANT AT PRESENT

LONDON, March 10.—Business everywhere is hesitant and difficult to transact because of the many uncertainties. These include the matter of the amount and method of German reparation and indemnities, the labor situation, the question of where future taxation will fall heaviest and speculation regarding the time and effect of the removal of trade controls.

It is now believed, however that the worst of the labor crisis has passed and that undue nervousness is being felt regarding new taxation. Optimists assert that the fiscal year commencing with April next will be ranked financially with the war years. Hence there will probably be little changes in taxes except the reduction of the excess profits tax, which produces £300,000,000 annually.

Press Opinions on N.Y. Situation

Times: Confidence in the country's business future was broadly expressed in the stock market last week. The expansion of trading indicated that public participation was beginning to play a part in the forward movement, and this development followed closely the precedents of other years when industry and finance were seekeing a new basis. First the stock market is thoroughly stirred up by those astute traders who possess the gift of sensing tendencies in industry and business; then the advertisement of market promises which rising prices hold forth goes out broadcast and reports on trade and business betterment work to emphasize upon the public mind the speculative qualities of stocks.

Herald: One of those tests which periodically try the temper of the stock market came last week and found it prepared. Before the close of the session the market had turned. The close of the week witnessed an incipient boom. Friday was the first million share day since last December 30, and trading on Saturday was on an equally large scale.

Tribune: It is difficult to say whether the most impressive thing about the stock market last week was its spectacular rise and activity on Friday and Saturday or its stubborn refusal to decline sharply on Tuesday, when Congress adjourned without authorizing the $750,000,000 railroad "revolving fund."

Sun: From a stock market viewpoint, the developments of last week have been of exceptional importance and show that the country is on the upgrade again. A large volume of business is being done so conservatively as to keep the record of commercial failures many points below normal. Industrial managers, instead of repeating the errors of 1903 are reducing dividends to a basis of re-construction profits and taking care to strengthen working capital to provide adequately for future needs.

BULLS KEEP POT BOILING IN WALL ST.

Special to The Star.

NEW YORK, March 10. — After hesitating for a while in the first hour, Wall Street regained the bullish ardor which illuminated the final prices of Saturday, but they eased for the most part somewhat after the initial trading.

This tendency was of comparatively short duration, the strong tone being resumed later. It was particularly strong about noon, and around that time most of the high levels of the day were created. Although the market did not continue to advance with such spectacular insistence, it was strong around 1:30, with the general run of prices very little below their best.

Steel opened at 97, went off to 96½, but later touched 97½, and was 96⅞ at 1:30. Midvale opened specially strong at 48, eased to 46⅜, but rallied to 47½. Beth Steel B made a high of 70 7-8. Baldwin touched 89Z from 87⅛ and Republic was another strong steel feature, the 1:30 price being 84½.

The rails were also strong, notably Reading, which jumped from the early low of 81¾ to 85¼. C.P.R. opened at 163½ to 163, but later rallied to 164¾. Union Pacific advanced to 103⅝.

Other features were Studebaker 61⅛ to 60⅝ to 62 7-8, Mex. Pet. 184 to 180¾ to 187, Marine 25⅝, Pref. 108¼ to 106½ to 108⅝ to 107¾, Smelting 70 to 69¾ to 70⅝, Kelly Springfield 119½ to 116¼ to 119¾, Pan-American 83½, Royal Dutch 95, Lackawanna 72, Texas Oil 197¼, Alcohol 120½, Gen. Motors 159, Crucible 67½.

Financial and industrial developments over the week-end were sufficiently favorable to carry prices forward again at lively opening. Last week's favorite issues led the further advance, Crucible, Lackawanna and Midvale, Steels, Inspiration Copper, American International, Hide and Leather preferred and Sumatra and American Tobacco gaining one to four points. U. S. Steel and investment rails were barely steady, however, and oils yielded to pressure with several of the motor specialties.

A big opening was up to general expectation. With a million-share day on FFriday and trading on Saturday reaching the rate of over 1,500,000 shares for a full session, the public was attracted anew to Wall Street. Buying orders rushed in from all over the country.

It was plainly obvious that the public thought well of steel stocks, for this group led the market. The gain in the case of Midvale ran to 1⅜ at 48, while Republic gained 1¼ to 82½. Bethlehem B and Crucible gained about a point and Lackawanna made up its 1½ per cent dividend on the first sale at 72. Steel common was unchanged at 97.

Coppers were also in favor, with Inspiration leading for a gain of 1¼ to 48⅞. Equipments, Tobacco, Alcohol, Motor and Shipping stocks were all in favor. Rail stocks sold fractionally higher.

Sales of the first hour exceeded 400,000 shares, indicating the most active session for this year so far. Temporary reactions among leaders were occasioned by the heaviness of Mexican Petroleum, Marine preferred, United Cigars and Kelly-Springfield, which fell 1½ to 3 points. Rails led the second advance, low-priced issues strengthening with dividend paying shares. Steels, equipments, coppers, motors, shippings and utilities, all at materially higher levels, were freely absorbed toward midday, activity continuing at high pressure.

Two of the strongest financial groups which ever operated in Wall street are credited with the accumulation in General Motors and Reading. These two stocks developed as market leaders in the second half hour. General Motors touched 160½, up 4 points and Reading at 85⅜, up 1¾. The buying in General Motors has come largely from two New York houses, one of them having Wilmington connections. The accumulation in Reading has been more cleverely executed, and buying has come from a large number of houses, supposedly working for the same interests.

Net earnings increased 570,000 milreis from ,697,000 in 1917 to 4,267,000. The decrease of 108,000 in operating costs is an interesting feature of the statement. Aggregate net in the same period was $52,131,000 against 47,073,000, an increase of 5,058,000 milreis.

Short Notes of Interest

The United States Comptroller of the Currency today issued a call for the condition of all national banks at the close of business on Tuesday March 4.

The net earnings of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company for the year 1918, were $54,293,016. Deduction of interest charges left a balance of $43,901,321, available for dividends which was an increase of $430,215 over the previous year. The surplus for 1917 was $3,671,622.

January gross earnings of the Alabama Power Co., operating subsidiary of the Alabama Traction, Light & Power Co., Ltd., amounted to $269,141, increase $63,819. New Toronto director of National Trust Company.

Topics of the Street

The bulls on Canada Cement chose a good time to circulate reports which would be likely to promote speculative buying of the stock. That is to say, with Mr. Jones away, they could revel in rumor to their hearts' content.

Reversely, with Mr. Jones back on the job after his European trip with the Canadian Trade Commission, their chances of securing any substantiation for their talk about an extra dividend or the bringing back of new business for the company from abroad are said to be extremely remote.

This circumstance may have had something to do with the easier tone for Cement shares today. Last week they advanced from 66⅝ to 71 and soon after the opening market had yielded the greater part of the advantage.

The action of the market for Laurentide and Laurentide Power today substantiated the view in this column some days ago that the relationship between the two issues is approaching a degree of intimacy which places them on practically the same price basis, a situation which might be anticipated prior to their adoption into a new holding company.

When the parent shares became somewhat stronger today and rallied a point or so to 207 and a fraction the power shares moved up to a new high at 69, equivalent to the three for one idea for the parent issue.

It is understood that the publication of the annual report of Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company will be a little later this year than last it having been made public prior to this date a year ago.

It is understood that Col. Cantley, chairman of the board, will be back from Europe in the course of a few days and that a meeting to consider it before issuance will be delayed until his return.

It is known that the report will be a fairly good one, showing, as already stated in these columns, between 17 and 18 per cent earned on the common stock.

The matter of more immediate moment to the shareholders, however, is the outcome of the efforts being made in the Nova Scotia Legislature to secure sanction for an agreement calling on the Dominion Coal Company to exchange some coal areas with the Scotia Company. This, it was obvious, the Dominion Company would vigorously oppose and it is announced that the trustees for the bondholders have already taken steps with a view to blocking the proceedings.

The agitation is being renewed in London Stock Exchange circles for the re-establishment of the fortnightly settlements, such as obtained before the war. At present the Stock Exchange is working under the temporary regulations imposed by the British treasury in January, 1915, the chief of these being that all dealings be strictly for cash.

It is said the Stock Exchange Committee which now has the matter under consideration favors the restoration of the fortnightly settlements as soon as peace is concluded, but before coming to any definite decision on the question it will listen to all the arguments pro and con.

According to what appears to be the prevailing sentiment, the system of cash dealings militates against the elasticity and freedom of the stock market as a whole, while complaints have come from clients of long delays in the completion of their transactions under the system. It is stated that the probabilities point to the institution of time settlements when the Stock Exchange Committee is free to deal with the matter.

Call money rates in Wall Street are expected to hold around 5 per cent and 6 per cent, although it is pointed out that if the stock market should develop extraordinary activity, necessitating heavy borrowing, rates might temporarily soar to higher levels; but despite the fact that the money pool no longer exists officially, the banks, it is believed, will endeavor to keep money rates at not higher than 6 per cent.

In banking quarters it is known that the Government would look with disfavor upon active bidding for credit just prior to another loan, but it is believed that with the present lack of commercial borrowing the stock market will be able to obtain its requirements, provided they are not excessive, and do not interfere with the Government's financial operations.

The extensive demand for credit that existed during the war period in manufacturing and other pursuits necessary to the conduct of the war, does not obtain now, and the stock market presents a timely outlet for banking funds.

VIEWS ABOUT TRADE WITH EUROPEANS

Special to The Star.

NEW YORK, March 10. — J. Pierpont Morgan, who returned from Europe a few days ago, is rather pessimistic regarding the resumption of trade with the countries which were recently at war. When Mr. Morgan was asked what the outlook for our export trade with Europe was, he answered that it depended upon the ability of Europe to pay for goods bought in the United States. The debts of the various European nations allied with the United States in war days must be liquidated. These debts are enormous and this may tend to limit purchases of American commodities.

But it was observed that notwithstanding this cautious statement Mr. Morgan also said that all these are matters for financing. In those few words is contained a hint that not only must there be financing upon a very great scale, but that it will be successfully accomplished so that our markets will be open to the advance which European consumers hope to make.

The best authorities here are frank in their admission that if we are to maintain our foreign trade at the present high rate we must be prepared to give credit to Europe on a very large scale. How large may be inferred from the fact that the billion dollar new credit—which under the bill that Congress considered the War Finance Corporation would be allowed to give to European nations —would be sufficient for the liquidation of only three months' trade balance.

Nevertheless the day must come when the nations which take advantage of these credits must liquidate them. That will involve new financing upon a very large scale. They must pay the banks and the investors and the Government for the loans they secured to pay American exporters for commodities bought in the United States.

S. R. Guggenheim, of the American Smelting & Refining Co., and Stephen Birch, president of the Kennscott Copper Corporation, who went to Europe with the four representatives of the Copper Export Association some weeks ago, returned home on the Mauretania.

They brought back no orders for copper metal, making it plain along with this admission that they were not identified with the committee from the Copper Export Association which went abroad for the specific purpose of establishing agencies studying conditions and booking what orders it could find.

"What American business men must learn to do," said Mr. Guggenheim, "is to build up a domestic market for their products and also try to establish themselves firmly in neutral countries. This should be their first thought and effort instead of depending upon Europe as an outlet for their goods.

"Europe is sick, very sick, and while reconstruction will mean big demands for products of all sorts this will not develop for some time to come.

Mining Notes

COBALT, Ont., March 10.—During the week ended March 7 five Cobalt companies shipped an aggregate of five cars, containing approximately 362,496 pounds of ore, as follows: McKinley-Darragh, 86,486; Trethewey, 81,101; Dominion Reduction, 66,000; Larose, 65,909, O'Brien, 1 car, 64,000.

Bullion shipments for week were the highest in a good many months. The Nipissing Mining shipped over four thousand ounces, made up of two shipments, one on the 4th and one on the 7th. The Mining Corporation also made a shipment this week. A summary of the week was:

DIRECT STEPS TO CUT DOWN HIGH PRICES

Special to The Star:

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The Government this week expects to take its first direct step toward bringing down war prices.

Through the newly organized Industrial Board an effort will be made to realize a big reduction in the price of iron and steel. There will be a conference here Wednesday of a committee of steel and iron men, recently appointed by the industry and headed by Judge E. H. Gary of the United States Steel Corporation.

The plan is to have the steel men and the board agree on prices at which iron and steel will be sold, and the industry has agreed to coperate in reducing prices to relieve the present business stagnation. The price of pig iron, the basis of the industry, probably will be the first to be reduced, and the board plans to fix a price that will stand for sometime so as to assure confidence in going ahead with business projects.

The prices of food, textiles, and building materials will be taken up after the steel and iron problem is settled.

STEEL UNFILLED ORDERS

NEW YORK, March 10.—Unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation on Feb. 28 were 6,010,787 tons, according to the corporation's monthly statement issued today. This is a decrease of 673,431 tons, compared with the orders on January 31, and is the fourth successive monthly decrease since October.

Steel Prices Lower; Linseed Oil Market

"Hardware & Metals" says: A further readjustment of prices on black steel sheets has been made this week, and jobbers now indicate they are down to rock bottom in relation to today's cost.

There is a feeling among the big buyers particularly that lower prices should prevail on sheets, and the first of April, ending the first quarter of the year, is looked forward to as date when a further decline may be made.

In line with declines recorded in other wire products, such as nails, smooth steel wire and annealed wire, a lowering of the price of wire fence staples has been made. Today's prices on both bright and galvanized staples are 25c per 100 pounds below former figures.

Linseed oil has moved higher again and seems slated for a further increase before the peak is reached. Argentine seed is still withheld from the United States markets, and crushers there are facing a situation with regard to supplies which may mean a shortage of flax seed. The Canadian seed market is working in sympathy with United States markets, and the higher prices have been reflected in the quotations on linseed oil, which moves up from 5c to 6c per gallon.

ESTABLISH PARIS OFFICE

Arrangements for the opening of the Paris office of Aldred and Co., have been completed. The new quarters are established at No. 1 Rue des Italians, and is in charge of P. Bon de Sousa, a vice-president of the company.

C. Norman Barclay has joined the staff of the Montreal office and will have direct charge of investigation applying to new business proposals. Mr. Barclay has since the formation of the Imperial Munitions Board been connected with the work of the explosives department in Trenton, Ont., and during the last period of its operations has been general manager of these plants. Mr. Barclay is well known in Montreal, being a son of the Rev. Jas. Barclay, D.D.

REPORT BEAN PURCHASES

The local bean market does not show much change. Wholesalers report that sales are only of a hand to mouth basis, and prices are still quoted at from $3.25 to $3.75 per bushel for good quality beans. A large quantity of beans on the market at present are of inferior quality, and dealers are having a very difficult time disposing of them. From the United States comes the report that the government of that country has purchased about 80 per cent of the dried bean crop there. Some 500 or so cars have been purchased already. It is also stated that the U.S. Government has bought a quantity of beans from Ontario growers, but the exact amount is not known. These purchases, however, have not had any remarkable effect on the market.

CORN HIGHER, TALK PRICE OF $3.50 BUS.

CHICAGO, March 10.—Corn jumped in price mainly as the result of a statement made by Director General Hoover of the Inter-Allied relief organization that there was a possibility of the cost of wheat reaching as high as $3.50 a bushel. Besides the big snowfall, and the warm temperatures prevailing were said to have put country roads into bad shape and to have made deliveries from farms extremely difficult. Buying was a large scale and offerings limited.

Opening prices which ranged from ⅝ to 3 cents higher, with May 133 to 134, and July 127⅝ to 129, were followed by decided further gains.

Oats advanced sharply with corn. After opening ¼ cent to 1¾ cent higher, with May 62 to 62⅝ cent the market continued to ascend. Provisions like grain went skyward. Maximum upturns came quickly.

Chicago grain range to noon:

Corn:	Open	High	Low	Noon
March	142	143⅞	141¼	143⅝

CATTLE MARKET BRISK, FEW PRICE CHANGES

Cattle receipts at local markets this morning show slight gains over past few weeks as far as numbers go, but the quality of much of the stock covering is not very good. At the Canadian Pacific Stockyards receipts for today's market were 600 cattle, 60 sheep and lambs, 250 hogs, and 300 calves.

Price changes during the week have been slight, and the only strong features of the market are the small meats section. Milkcalves are in demand and fetch high prices for the few good stock that are offering. Sheep and lambs are also selling well at good figures. The cattle market does not show much change as regards prices. Choice steers are selling fairly well and there is a nominal demand for bulls and cows. The tone of the market for steers was somewhat weaker, as was much of the cattle section. Actual declines in prices, however, were not marked, although some anticipate them in the near future. It seems as if values were somewhat exaggerated all along the line. Calves are in such demand that the keen demand and the somewhat fewer offering have put prices way up, where they are likely to stay.

We quote prices per 100 pounds:

Choice steers $12 to $13.50; medium, $10.50 to $11.50; good, $9.50 to $10; common, down to $7.50. Choice butchers bulls $10 to $11; good, $9 to $9.50; medium, $7.50 to $9; common, $6 to $7. Choice cows, $10 to $11; good $8.75 to $9.50; medium, $8 to $8.50; common, $6.50 to $7.50. Milkfed calves $12 to $15. Sheep, $9 to $10.50; lambs $14; choice select hogs off cars $18.

THE LARGEST EMBANKMENT.

The Belle Fourche irrigation dam in South Dakota is the largest earth embankment in the world. Its construction was authorized by the U. S. Congress at a cost of $5,000,000. From an engineering standpoint this project is one of the most interesting which the Government has yet undertaken. Its principal structure is the earthen dam. This dike, which closes the lowest depression in the rim of a lowest depression in the rim of a natural basin, is 6,200 feet long, 20 feet wide on top and 15 feet high in the highest place. The inside face of this structure, which has a slope of one to two; is protected from wind and wave action by two feet of screen gravel, on which are placed concrete blocks each 4x6 feet thick. The cubical contents of this dike are 42,000,000 feet, or about half of the famous pyramids of Cheops in Egypt. The reservoir created by this dam covers about 9,000 acres and will be the largest lake in the state.

HEALTH IN WAR GARDENS.

During the first Burmese War, British troops suffered considerably from scurvy. In cantonments in after years garden allotments were sanctioned, and the soldier was encouraged to cultivate vegetables.

Experience in the Mesopotamia campaign early pointed to the necessity of vegetable diet, and resulted in the dispatch to that area, in March, 1917, by the Madras War Fund of a body of men 250 strong, known as the Madras Gardeners Corps.

The corps largely extended a garden already in existence at Sheik Saad; they made a new garden at Bagdad, and according to a report published by the Madras Mail last spring, they "helped to start numerous gardens all over the country by supplying hundreds of baskets of seedlings to various units."

At Bagdad the estimated output of vegetables was 413,820 pounds; at Sheik Saad, 701,223 pounds.

DRAKE ANNIVERSARY COINCIDENCE.

Lieut.-Colonel F. G. Talbot appropriately enough finds a point of resemblance between the bloodless victory recently achieved by the Grand Fleet and Sir Francis Drake. It may be worth remarking, he says, that the day of November which saw the surrender of the German naval power to that of Great Britain saw also the anniversary of the day on which Francis Drake sailed from Plymouth on that expedition which laid the foundation of the naval Empire of England. It was on November 15th, 1577, as time was then reckoned, but ten days later as we reckon now, that Drake sailed from Plymouth in the "Golden Hind" on that voyage of discovery and conquest round the world. The November sun that went down on Drake sailing for the West went down 341 years later on a scene that will not be forgotten.

THE UNIQUE SCOTSMAN.

Sir Douglas Haig, the Scottish commander-in-chief of the British armies, tells this: "A Scot bored his English friends by boasting about Scotland. "Why did you leave Scotland,' a Londoner asked, 'since you liked the place so much?' The Scot chuckled. 'It was like this he said: 'In Scotland everybody was as clever as myself, but here I'm gettin' along verra weel.'"

RUNNING WHOLE UNIVERSE BY USE OF ELECTRICITY

Dr. Nikola Tesla's Dream of Some Years Ago Said to Be True

ENERGY APLENTY

Shoot it Around the World by Wireless—A New Niagara

As far back as 1898 several scientific journals published an announcement credited to Dr. Nikola Tesla, in which the assertion was made that he had found it possible to send out from an aerial terminal an estimated electrical pressure of 2,500,000 volts which would be effective at an unlimited distance. The Electrical Review, in commenting on that matter, said at that time:

"Tesla now proposes to transmit without the use of any wires, through the natural media—the earth and the air—great amounts of power to distances of thousands of miles. This will appear a dream—a tale from the Arabian Nights. But from the extraordinary discoveries Tesla has made during a number of years of incessant labor, it is evident that his work in this field has passed the stage of laboratory experiment and is ready for a practical test on an industrial scale. The success of his efforts means that power from such sources as Niagara will become available in any part of the world, regardless of distance."

That was twenty-one years ago, when wireless telegraphy was still in the land of Make Believe. Tesla made certain experiments and got certain results.

And a few days ago he explained his perfected plan for applying harnessed energy to the world-wide operation of the wheels of industry.

WHAT THE PLAN IS.

Briefly explained, the plan is to generate electrical energy at the source of supply, Niagara, Kaieteur or Rjukan, for instance, and transmit it by wireless to the nearest receiving stations in other countries. Distance will be no impediment to the transmission of this energy, but various conveniently situated receiving stations can be established for storage and supply. This energy is not to be scattered promiscuously to the four winds of heaven for the free use of all who care to "tap" it. It will be controlled. Dr. Tesla said, by a secret key or combination like that of a safe, so that only those for whom the power is intended will get it.

"Sme experts, whom I credited with better knowledge," said Dr. Tesla, "for years contended that my proposals to transmit power without wires were sheer nonsense, but I note that they are growing more cautious every day. These men labor under the impression that the energy flows in all directions, and that, therefore, only a minute amount can be recovered in any individual receiver. But this is far from being so. The power is conveyed in only one direction, from the transmitter to the receiver, and none of it is lost elsewhere.

"It is quite practicable to recover at any point of the globe energy enough for driving an airplane, or a pleasure boat, or for lighting a dwelling. I am very sanguine in regard to the lighting of isolated places, and believe that a more economical and convenient method can hardly be devised. The future will show whether my foresight is as accurate now as it has proved hitherto."

Dr. Tesla declared that he and all his followers believe that nothing can stop now a tremendous development in the wireless transmission of power, provided the Government does not impose restrictions which will hamper the enterprises and discourage capital.

IN THE LAND OF MAKE-BELIEVE.

Let us take a trip in this land of Make Believe. It is summertime, and we are off for a fishing trip in a big pleasure boat. There is plenty of room aboard for a party of twelve or more. There is a roomy cabin, noticeably free from the smell of gasoline and machinery oil. In fact, the only machinery aboard is an electric motor coupled to the driving shaft of the propeller. We are making ten miles an hour and we are out for a good time, so why worry ourselves with questions as to where that motor gets its energy? There are no storage batteries on the boat. One insulated feed wire runs from the motor to the ceiling of the cabin and from there up the mast to a bright metal ball at the top. It stops there. When we reach the fishing-ground we stop the motor by pressing a button. We anchor, or drift, catch fish, eat and enjoy ourselves until it is time to go home. Then our well-behaved craft carries us back to the pier without mishap.

FOR AIRPLANES ALSO.

Next day we go up in a Make Believe airplane.

It looks much like an ordinary airplane, but the wing spread is less. The reason for this, we are told, is because the airplane is much lighter than an ordinary plane, due to the fact that our plane has no engine — nothing but a lightweight motor, a twin brother of the motor we saw on the pleasure boat. The motor drives the propeller blades, but we cannot see what is driving the motor. An insulated wire leads from the motor to a ball above the higher plane, and that is all.

Anyway, we have faith in the thing, and we climb aboard. The pilot presses a button, the motor begins to hum and the propeller to spin, and we are off.

"Suppose the motor stops while we are above the clouds," "we suggests. "What's going to happen?"

"We'll glide," is the comforting assurance of the pilot.

Sure enough, the motor does stop, and we glide until it starts again.

And that night, seated in the Make Believe club house, we read by electric light which looks familiar and home-like. The club electrician may show us, if we are interested, the electric light meter in the basement, and he will help us to trace the feed wire right from the meter to the roof of the club house where it terminates in a metal ball perched on the top of the small round flagstaff.

A HUGE RESERVOIR.

Next morning we leave Make Believe land and pay a visit to South America. In British Guiana there is a mighty river called the Petara. At one place, Kaieteur, the river makes a clear drop of 822 feet, and at the foot of the cataract the waters of the Potara branch off in various directions. The Kaieteur cataract is the show place of British Guiana.

Twenty-eight thousand cubic feet of water pass over the edge of the cataract every second. This vast volume of water, properly applied, would be capable of furnishing four times as much power as we derive today by the harnessing of Niagara Falls. At Niagara the fall of water is eighteen million cubic feet per minute, but a flow of only fifteen thousand feet per second is diverted above the falls and harnessed for the use of man.

Although everybody is familiar in a general way with the meaning of the term "harnessing Niagara," it will not hurt to refresh our memory. At Niagara the motive power which furnishes electric light, power and heat to many municipalities, including the city of Buffalo, is not derived directly from the Falls themselves, but from the water of the Niagara River drawn off by an enormous tunnel at a distance of about one mile above the Falls. The tunnel is 6807 feet long, 21 feet high, 18 feet 10 inches wide at its widest part and 14 feet wide at the base. In shape it resembles a gigantic horseshoe. This tunnel was cut through solid rock. It took 1,000 rock men three years to make the excavation. The tunnel leads out of a pit 178 feet deep, 40 feet long and 18 feet wide, and has an outlet below the Falls. The enormous hydraulic pressure in a pit 178 feet deep drives the water through the tunnel with a force that may be considered almost irresistible. The tunnel has a slight grade, from 4 to 7 feet per 1,000 feet. The water rushing through the tunnel turns wheels geared to electric generators. It has been estimated that the 18,000,000 cubic feet of water which flow over the Falls every minute are capable of furnishing 7,000,000 horsepower, sufficient to furnish light to 25 cities of the size of New York.

Now we can pay another visit to the great Kaieteur cataract in British Guiana and visualize the harnessing of all its enormous water power by the tunnel and water wheel process employed at Niagara. And, having seen how all that energy, theoretically 2,100,000 horsepower, is obtainable, we can see the connection it has with the mysterious force which propelled our Make Believe pleasure boat and airplane and illuminated the Mage Believe clubhouse.

AMERICAN GIRL MAY BE A ROYAL QUEEN

Revolt in Portugal May Seat Princess Anita of Chicago on Throne

A Chicago girl, who ten years ago was thought to have paid millions for an empty title, is enjoying today the possibility of becoming Queen of Portugal.

Princess Anita, wife of Don Miguel of Braganza, and the stepdaughter of the late James Henry ("Silent") Smith, Chicago and New York millionaire, will be the first American woman to become a European Queen, if the monarchial movement in Portugal turns to a once scapegrace royalist as a successor to former King Manuel.

Portugal is now a republic, but the monarchial revolution appears to be gaining headway.

Mrs. James Henry Smith became the wife of the Chicago millionaire after she divorced Rhinelander Stewart of New York. "Silent Smith died in Japan. In his will he bequeathed ½ million dollars to his stepdaughter, who was at that time still untitled Anita Stewart. The major part of his vast fortune was left to his widow.

ALL DEPENDS ON REVOLT.

Reports circulated from Paris today state that if former King Manuel, who is now on a steamship off Lisbon, is not prepared to return to the throne, a counter attack by the royalists against the revolutionists will put on the throne the prince who sought his wife and wealth in America.

Anita Stewart, daughter of Mrs. James Henry Smith by her first marriage, became the wife of Don Miguel, son of Don Miguel, the pretender to the Portugal throne, on September 15, 1909, after a million dollars made on the Chicago Board of Trade and other money marts of the United States had been turned over to the bankrupt coffers of the Portuguese prince. Shortly before the marriage the late Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria gave to the heiress the highest title ever conferred upon an American girl when he proclaimed her a princess.

Miss Stewart was the first American girl to be made a princess before marriage, as she is now the first American born woman to be mentioned as a possible future queen.

The gown for her wedding was the marvellous pearl robe of the former Shah of Persia, which the girl's mother, Mrs. James Henry Smith, purchased with several hundred thousand dollars of her millionaire husband's winnings.

Much of the married life of the Portuguese prince and his American wife has been spent in Austria with the prince's father, Miguel, the pretender.

The Duchess of Vizen, as the American wife has been called during her residence in London and at the Austrian court, gave birth to a daughter in 1910. The child's titles are Princess of Braganza and Princess (infanta) of Portugal.

Under the title of the Duke of Vizen, Miguel went into brokers' offices in London, in order, he said, to master the intricacies of finance, in case his royal aspirations would some day go amiss and he would have to become a business man.

SMITH MILLIONS AID ROYALISTS?

As early as 1911 the followers of the elder Portuguese pretender were suggesting that the pretender's eldest son was ready to take his American wife to Portugal's throne. The Smith millions have since then been said to be helping the royalist cause.

The rivalry over the throne of Portugal dates from the year 1828, when Don Miguel the elder declared himself king after kidnapping his infant niece and imprisoning her. Miguel, branded an usurper by the House of Bourbon, was driven from the throne by revolutionists and the crown given to the Bourbon claimant.

The party of the pretender was banished, and Don Miguel directed from the court of Austria his intrigues for the Portuguese kingship, first in his own name and later in the name of his elder son, Miguel, the stepson-in-law of "Silent" Smith.

But when the young King Manuel became king of Portugal after the assassination of Don Carlos in 1908, the quarrels between the houses of Bourbon and Braganza were reported to have been peaceably ended.

SOCIAL REFORMS IN QUEENSLAND

Government's Policy Includes Care of Needy Class

Special Correspondence to The Star by W. Francis Ahern.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Jan. 15.—One of the most sacred duties of any State is the care of the sick, the needy and the unfortunate. Apply that test to the State of Queensland, Australia, and you will find that it stands well up in the countries of the world.

That is due largely to the liberal measures which have been instituted by the Ryan Government during the last three years. During that period the whole question of assistance to injured workmen, care of State children, poor relief, and provision for men who have contracted diseases as a result of the unhealthy conditions of their employment, has been thoroughly revised.

In the case of workmen's compensation, under the old system, the benefits were meagre and the dependents of the men who had met their deaths while at work, had almost invariably to resort to legal action to secure compensation due to them. Sometimes the insurance companies were able to wear down their opponents, and force them to accept what was far below a fair thing.

Under the system now in operation—that is, State control of insurance—there have been material increases in the amount of compensation paid; an increase from $2,000 to $3,000 in the case of death, and from $2,500 to $3,750 in the case of total incapacity, and an increase in the payments weekly made from $5 to $10. The payments of claims have been expedited and claimants now have no law costs or no vexatious delays.

CARE OF CHILDREN.

Then there is the case of State children. The old-time Governments ruled that the allowance for a fatherless child which was kept at home by its mother should be much less than the allowance for a child boarded out with a foster mother.

The rates paid in the old days were: Natural mothers, $1.20 for first child, and 96 cents for each other child weekly; foster mothers, $1.68 for children over 2 years, and $2.40 for children under 2 years, weekly. The present Ryan Government pays the same to both natural and foster mothers, the rates being $1.92 for a child over two years, and $2.40 for a child under two years. Thus it increased the rates payable to natural mothers by from 72 cents to $1.44 per week and at the same time put an end to the risk of mothers deserting their children because of the lowness of the payments.

FURTHER REFORMS.

But the generous treatment does not end here. The Government decided on a more sympathetic administration of the State Children's Act, which has conferred untold benefits on a great number of mothers. Whereas in the year before the coming of the present Government to office, the expenditure on State children was $377,690, while in 1917 it had increased to $636,130, and the figures for 1918 are even higher, owing to increased benefits being granted.

This increased benefit is that the payments are now made until the child is fourteen years of age instead of up till the child is thirteen as heretofore. This enables the child to remain at school a year longer in order that it might receive the same educational facilities as the more fortunate children. It should also be mentioned that the Ryan Government has increased the allowances paid to the orphanages run by private folk throughout the State by 10 per cent.

STATE BABY CLINICS.

The Queensland Government has followed the step set by the New South Wales Government in establishing baby clinics to save young life, which heretofore has been sadly neglected in Australia. It recognizes that in large centres, especially, people with large families often struggle to keep body and soul together without paying expensive fees to doctors for attendance on their younger children. Many babies thus died from want of knowledge on the part of the mother, owing to the inability to treat the sick child and the further inability to pay for a doctor.

The Ryan Government recognized that every baby was an asset to the State and set about preserving its life. From the clinics, it gives free advice to the mothers, and sends nurses into the homes of the people to demonstrate to mothers the correct way of handling the babes.

It provides free medical attention to all mothers without discrimination, so long as they like to ask for it, and no embarrassing questions are put to them as to whether they are able to pay or not. The service is free, waiting for every mother to use it—and that without the stigma of charity.

OUTDOOR RELIEF.

Outdoor relief is given to folk by the Government who through adverse circumstances are in need of it. Previous Governments granted to each adult under this heading 4 lbs. flour or bread, 2 ozs. tea, 13 ozs. sugar, and 4 lbs. meat weekly. This plainly was not enough to keep a person in sound health. The present Government has increased the ration allowance of the above four articles and gives in addition the following: Syrup or treacle, oatmeal, rice, potatoes, onions, salt, corn flour, biscuits, cream of tartar, baking soda, kerosene, and any special diet required for sick folk.

Perhaps the most humane measure taken by the Ryan Queensland Government was the passing of the Industrial Diseases Bill which provides for the weekly payments to those incapacitated by industrial diseases or to the dependents of those dying from them.

Under the Ryan Governments Act insurance against such diseases is made compulsory and the scale paid to sufferers by the Government is $12.50 per week while ill, and $2,000 at death. If however the family is large extra grants are made from the State Children's Department.

In addition the Government has erected a sanitorium for sufferers of miners' phthisis where all sufferers can get free treatment.

So noteworthy is this Act of the Queensland Government that recently it was announced that the British Government was passing an Act along the same lines.

CHEAPER BREAD.

It is satisfactory (says the Pall Mall Gazette) to hear that a fleet of steamers is on its way to Melbourne to load wheat. It was one of the misfortunes of the war that we have been cut off from the Australian food supplies, and so have been at the mercy of all kinds of profiteers. When this wheat reaches us we must expect a fall in the present price. We cannot possibly tolerate a ninepenny loaf in peace time.

BROTHERS UNITED BY 'PHONE LISTS

William Taylor Plays a Hunch and Calls George After 44 Years

Forty-four years ago two brothers parted in the little town of Rome, Ill. The separation, each thought, was to be but for a few weeks. Neither dreamed of the years that were to elapse before they should see each other again, so, with the exchange of a terse "So long," they separated, William Taylor to return to Bluffs, Ill., to the family with whom he had lived since the death of his mother; George to go back to the farm on which he was working near Rome. William was 8, his brother six years older.

A little while, and George had served his apprenticeship on the farm and struck out in the world for himself. He moved away from Rome, and neither he nor William ever made the tedious journey a visit would have required. Then a few years and William left the home of William Scott and came West. The last tie was broken. Their mother had died when William was but a few days old, and their father had followed a few years later. William never had seen either, as his father had let him go into the Scott home immediately after the mother's death. There were no other near relatives, and, in the carelessness of youth, neither wrote.

SEARCHES WERE FRUITLESS.

Years passed. Each made efforts to find the other as he grew older, but with no success. Then the other day they were reunited. The reunion was in the little cottage in which William lives with his wife and three children out at 5111 College Avenue, and provides a strong argument for the follower of "hunches."

The other night William was sitting in his home turning the leaves of a telephone directory for the number of a friend. He came to the "T's" and his eye followed down the list to the Taylors. About half way down the column was "Taylor, George W., 8607 Independence Road"—and here the hunch comes in. For, though all his efforts to discover his brother the last half century had been fruitless, William's hunch whispered, "Call him," and he called.

Yes, George Taylor had been born in Illinois. In Rome. His father's name had been August. Yes, he had a brother whom he had not seen for more than forty years. Such was what William learned over the telephone and the next day came George, who is the heavier, as well as the older of the two brothers, puffing up Fifty-first Street from the car line. His wife was half a block behind, William says, unable to keep up with her excited husband.

They met out on the little front porch, these brothers, and this time there was none of the boyish reticence that had marked their parting forty-four years ago. Neither worked that day. William, who is employed at the Metropolitan power plant at Second and Grand, telephoned that he wouldn't be down, and George, who is a carpenter, left his saw and hammer at home. They talked—and there was lots to say after almost fifty years.

BOTH CAME WEST.

William told of his trip to Kansas back in 1885. He had settled on a farm out in the western part of the state for a while, and then, tempted by the opening of the Cherokee Nation in the old Indian Territory to homesteaders, he had driven down there. He tried farming a while and then began to work in a sawmill. But a few years later he went to East Lynne, Mo. There he had lived until last August, when he came to Kansas City.

He told of his efforts to find George. How he had written back to friends in Rome, asking about his brother, but had never received any reply. How, finally, in 1907, he wrote the postmaster at Rome and learned that George had been living in Kansas City sixteen years before, so long ago that he considered any efforts to find him futile. And then finally he described the peculiar circumstances which led to his discovery.

George told of coming to Kansas City thirty-four years ago, after several years of alternate farming and carpentering back in Illinois, and of working at his trade here. He, too, had his story of fruitless search—of letters unanswered or returned, of old friends who had been able to tell him nothing of the baby brother he had parted from that day back in 1875.

And George brought with him a picture of the mother and father William says he never saw. The mother died when he was a few days old, and, with the death of his wife, and the breaking up of his home, the father had moved away from Rome.

DECEMBER AND JUNE ARE AGAIN MATED

Wealthy Widow of 62 Weds Young Chauffeur in Her Employ

Mrs. Helen Glidden Grant, sixty-two years old and wealthy widow of Frederick Furman Grant, was married recently in New York to William Henry Tombs, Jr., twenty-four years old, who has been employed as her chauffeur for two years. The wedding took place at St. Ambrose's Chapel of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. Mrs. Grant inherited a large fortune from her husband, who was in the brokerage business at the time of his death a few years ago.

The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. A. L. Sadtler, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church of Rahway, N.J., who was granted the hospitality of the chapel by a cathedral officer who did not know of the great discrepancy in the ages of the bride and the bridegroom. There were six in the wedding party, which arrived at the chapel soon before three o'clock, and when Thomas Metyard, verger of the Cathedral, learned that the little gray haired woman was to be married to the rather handsome dark complexioned lad with her he was clearly astounded. Mrs. Grant wore a dark travelling suit and a small black hat.

The witnesses were H. L. Hartshorn and Sarah S. Glidden, a relative of the bride. Mrs. Grant gave her name as Helen Glidden Grant, and informed the verger that her father was Captain Leonard B. Glidden and that her mother was Mrs. A. H. Fisher. Her husband, who might readily be mistaken for the bride's son, said he is the son of William Henry Tombs and Mrs. Margaret Chamberlin Tombs, who have long lived in the parish over which Mr. Sadtler has charge in Rahway.

It was learned the marriage was not altogether a surprise in Rahway or in Sewaren, N.J., at which place the bride has a beautiful home known as the Cliff Road House. Mrs. Grant had long been active socially in the little town and very recently was the president of the Sewaren History Club, in which her interest ceased as her interest in her young chauffeur increased. They were constantly together and for more than a month it had been understood from various remarks made by Mrs. Grant that the marriage was a possibility.

The young bridegroom quit school abotut three years ago and worked for a time in a garage at Rahway, after which he obtained the position at the position at the Cliff Road House.

For the last two or three weeks Mrs. Grant had closed her home at Sewaren and had been living at the Monticello Hotel, at No. 35 West Sixty-fourth street. There the bridegroom of yesterday had been a frequent caller.

Immediately following the ceremony yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Tombs left New York for a honeymoon trip of several weeks in the South.

FOCH JOINS THE "PIPERS."

Marshal Foch has acquired a British habit. The French do not generally smoke pipes. Day by day Marshal Foch saw Field-Marshal Haig and other British Generals in the vortex of the war calmly doing their work behind good high-bowled briar pipes. Foch asked Haig what it was like to smoke a pipe. He bought an English one. He filled it under careful British military instruction. He began the attempt with energy and purposeful determination, but at first smoked more matches than tobacco. Now, however, he has mastered it and thoroughly enjoys a good briar which he has bought from an English firm.

"TARS" AND THE ARTIST.

A portrait of Admiral Jellicoe at the Sea Power Exhibition in London came in for severe criticism from a group of bluejackets. They at once saw a point where the artist has stumbled. He has put the Admiral into the uniform of an Admiral of the Fleet, the highest rank of all. It is curious that no one pointed out the blunder until these lower-deck experts came along.

Stocks in New York have already begun to discount the return to normal conditions, and have had a material advance in price. Men of sound judgment believe that the low prices seen in February will not be reached again, and that stocks are still a good purchase for much higher figures during the next few months and perhaps weeks.— Securities in Montreal in very many cases are selling much lower than similar ones in the United States and appear to be excellent buys for either investment or conservative speculation, as at present figures they will give a handsome return on the money invested even if an advance should be slightly delayed.

LENTEN PREACHER AT ST. PATRICK'S

Father Barrett Spoke on Three Perennial Types of Morality

Father Barrett's theme at St. Patrick's at the High Mass yesterday was "The three perennial types of morality" and "Preeminence of the Christian type."

When the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers, said Father Barrett, surrounded Paul on the Areopagus, he was face to face with the basest and the most sublime of the moral philosophy of Greece. The soul, says St. Augustin can live in the body or in herself or in God. These are the three permanent types of morality. They occupy, roughly speaking, the whole field of ethics. They are perennial. On that historical occasion in the year of grace 51, these three types were represented on the Hill of Mars. The swinish system of Epicurus, who made pleasure the goal of human effort, is an apology for paganism—the soul materialized in the body. The stoic school propounded a sublime moral theory, made duty the standard of action, the soul living in herself triumphant over the body. Paul introduced a new moral type which he realized in his own life—the soul living in God.

THE TRUE GOAL.

In conclusion the preacher said:—Possessing the two grand prerogatives, the religion which Paul preached on the Areopagus triumphed over the Greek philosophy, all that was true of that philosophy, the Church upheld. The Fathers baptized Plato; his language colored their teaching; and in the great school of Alexandria which captivated Newman so much, the Pagan St. John lived again. The scholastics in their turn, placed Aristotle on the pedestal which his genius merited. Taking his philosophy in one hand and the Bible in the other, St. Thomas of Aquin constructed the immortal temple of Catholic theology. Thus the scattered rays of truth, "the broken lights of Greek philosophy were united and harmonized in the higher synthesis of Revelation, the Christianity is the true goal of the ethical and religious philosophy of the Ancients.

The Master fulfilled the hopes and longings of Platonist and Stoic, as He fulfilled the law of Moses and the prophesies of Isaiah. He reconciled Jerusalem, Rome and Athens and built a church which possesses the unity of the first, the Universality of the second and the intellectual greatness of the last.

WESTMOUNT DECIDES ON WAR MONUMENT

Will Be Erected at Garden Point—To Ascertain Cost

Westmount's memorial to those of its citizens who paid the supreme sacrifice in the war will take the form of a monument to be erected at Garden Point, at the intersection of Cote St. Antoine road, and Sherbrooke street, while the names of the men and women of the city who enlisted for overseas service will be placed upon tablets in some public building to be decided upon later. This was the decision reached with but four dissentients at a public meeting of Westmount citizens held in Victoria Hall Saturday evening.

There was some discussion as to the advisability of erecting a memorial hall, but it was decided this would be too expensive. The question of paying for the memorial also occupied the attention of the meeting and after a compulsory assessment had been discussed, it was decided to leave the matter to a committee which would ascertain the probable cost and other particulars before definite action was decided upon.

N.D. de GRACE CIVIC IMPROVEM'NT LEAGUE

A meeting of the Notre Dame de Grace Civic Improvement League will be held in the School Hall, Botrel Street, opposite the fire station Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. sharp for the purpose of discussing the new Civic Improvement Tax and other live issues. Alderman Dixon, Horace Gagne, K. C., and others will address the meeting. All interested are cordially invited to attend.

EULOGISE SIR SAM.

Eulogies of Sir Sam Hughes and Sir Edward Carson were made in resolutions passed at the 70th annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Quebec of the Loyal Orange Association held at Lachute on Thursday last. A resolution expressing the hope that the Government and people would keep faith with the returned soldiers was also passed unanimously.

LENTEN PREACHER AT NOTRE DAME

Heart of Christ Subject Taken by Father Ferrand

Nothwithstanding the snow storm that raged yescterday morning Notre Dame Church was crowded to hear Rev. Father Ferrand, the French missionary priest, who spoke on the Heart of Jesus Christ. The reverend father said it was the will of God which sanctified us, but one must know God intimately; "He is the divine model which we must imitate, and the greatness and the sublimity of a Christian life is the generous effort to obtain the intimate knowledge. The ideal which should follow should be and should remain to live for God and to live by Him. We can get better acquainted with God by frequenting Him, by visiting him assiduously as we do a good and great friend. We can meet Christ in His gospel, in His sacraments, in the Eucharist.

"We are hungry for truth," continued Father Ferrand, "and we wish to know all. Christ is truth itself and it is to render homage to truth that He came on earth.

"To learn all about the Heart of Christ, one needs only to refer to the Holy Gospel; there one will find manifestations from the Divine Master. Is it not a charming one, this scene, when Christ said to those who wished to drive away children from His presence: "Suffer little children to come unto Me."Later Christ resurrected the son of the widow and the daughter of Jaire, and more so when we see the Divine Master crying upon the death of His friend Lazarus and bringing him to life again to console Martha and Mary.

"And them, who knows not these words of Christ: "Come to Me all those of you who suffer and I will help you and console you."

LENTEN SERMON AT THE CATHEDRAL

Rev. Abbe Lambert Opened the Lenten Season Yesterday

Rev. Abbe Lambert oppened the Lenten season at St. James Cathedral taking for text: "The temptations of our Lord in the desert."

To be tempted explained the reverend Abbe, after relating the temptations to which Satan used in the desert against our Lord Jesus Christ, is to have one's virtue tested. Its effects are twofold: to prevent good and to promote evil. Temptation proposes evil under the guise of good. God tempts no one; it is lust, consequence of the original sin, which is the cause of temptation. Nevertheless, God tolerates temptation. Temptation is a means for us to learn how corrupt our nature in the extent of our nothingness and the power of God; temptation shakes our energies and makes us appreciate perseverance; the wind shakes the trees but it cleans its branches, temptation troubles intelligence to allow it to discern good and reject evil; the storm agitates the sea but to take away from it precious wrecks; temptation brings forth from the heart of the sinner recollections of the past which makes the heart bigger and steadier to perform its duties.

Spring Opening

We are making all this week special displays of Spring Fashions and we invite you to come in and look around whether it is your intention to make a purchase or not—

The Trimmed Hats

we show are characterized by their simplicity and good taste as well as their becomingness.

Pineapple is the straw braid most in vogue this season with the Caterpillar a close second, all in the Spring shades. Flowers, Wheat and little bunches of French as well as piquant bows of Ribbon all play their part in the modish scheme.

We are also showing some exclusive Fisk and Gage Tailored and Banded Hats. Prices as you'd expect are moderate.

We would direct your attention to our showing of

New Spring Suits

The principal features being the new Bloused or Vestee effects, the Skirts have that narrow lissome look that are so much admired.

The materials most in favor are Tricotine, Gabardine, Poiret Twills, Plain and Silver Tone Duvetyn, in plain tailored models as well as the elaborately Embroidered and Braided effects. Navy Blue seems the choice this season in color, then Tans, Sand, Rookie, Gray, etc., etc. Another important feature is the reasonableness of our prices.

"The display will surely interest you."

We have pleasure in informing our many customers that our

Dress Goods Section

is one of the features of our Store.

Our Buyer has given this Department Special attention this Season and feels confident he has all the Last Minute Weaves, Fabrics and Colorings for Spring 1919. Many of the very Latest Tints can be found in this Section.

54" all wool Broad Cloths. In all the new colorings.

CHINA DECLARES JAPAN IS GREEDY

Delegate Says Shantung Possession Claimed Dominate Resources

PLEA FOR RIGHTS

Dr. Wang Says Peace Conference Should Protect His Country

Special Cable by James M. Tuohy to Montreal Star and New York Evening World. Copyright.

PARIS, March 10—China's claims are to be considered by the "Big Five" next week. The singularity of her position before the Conference is, that while directly seeking the cancellation of her treaties with Germany, the Power really touched by China's demands is Japan, who, when with British help she captured Tsing Tau after a brief operation in 1914, seemed to assume the position of claiming a presumptive right to Germany's concessions in the rich Shantung peninsula. On January 18, 1915, Japan presented China with her famout twenty-one demands under the pledge of absolute concealment from the Entente Powers, including her own ally, Great Britain.

When the terms of the secret paper finally leaked out it was found that under the pressure of the ultimatum China had agreed to demands which not only gave Japan complete domination of the Shantung peninsula, but through its system of railways enabled Japan to tap, and to a large extent command, China's vast potential future commercial development.

DR. WANG'S STATEMENT.

Dr. Wang, the second member of the Chinese delegation and a member of China's first Senate, one of a band of brilliant and distinguished Chinese, educated in America, today gave me an extremely interesting statement of China's position before the Peace Conference. He said:

"We have come here to settle our differences with Germany along the same lines as all other Powers. We want the cancellation of the treaties under which Germany unjustly enjoyed certain rights in China, reparation for damage done our property, and, in addition, we seek ratification by Germany of The Hague Convention of 1912, for the suppression of the opium traffic, which, owing to Germany's opposition has never come into operation.

"We, furthermore demand the return of instruments looted by Germany in 1900 from the Imperial observatory in Pekin, which are of inestimable historic value.

"For us to deal with Japan over Kiao Chow would be equivalent to France treating through America for the restoration of Alsace-Lorraine by Germany. To that China will never, under any conditions consent.

"Japan took Kiao Chow in the interests of all the Allies, with the help of Great Britain. There is no question of Japan taking it unaided, for is it to be supposed that if Germany were not tied down in Europe by the Allied armies she would have failed to send reinforcements to safeguard Kiao Chow."

What is China's claim respecting Japan's twenty-one demands?

"We contend they are absolutely contrary to the principles of justice and equity. They were formulated because of the state of war and if refused were to be effectuated by force. Premier Okuma justified them by declaring that Japan then had an opportunity that would not come again in a thousand years.

"What was the opportunity? Nothing but Europe's pre-occupation in war.

"We demand these agreements shall be abrogated and revised—abrogated where they unjustly affect China's sovereign right, and revised where we assent to their principles, as for example the opening of Chinese ports to foreign trade, this policy having been pursued by China for twenty years.

"The Japanese demands were arranged in five groups, and we were warned to preserve silence respecting them, but when something became known abroad and questions were asked, Japan gave an incomplete version to her Allies, wholly suppressing the 'group of five' which would have made China a mere vassal of Japan.

"But surely now they have consented to hand over Kiao Chau?" he was asked.

"Yes. They propose to eat the oyster and give us the shell. They propose to return Kiao Chau the husk, while they propose to retain the kernel, the most valuable section of the Shantung Peninsula adjoining Tsing Tau, including the terminus of the railroad, which with its branches dominates the whole peninsula and takes in all Chinese railroads serving the richest areas of our country."

"If the conference accepted Japan's claims on the Shantung province it would only lay the foundation of a future war of justice. China is slow but tenacious. She has twice been overrun in her three thousand years of recorded history by aliens, but in the end the conquerors became conquered. If the Conference confirms China's demands, then Japan will have an equal opportunity with all the world in our trade. If Japan succeeds it will become the exclusive privilege of one—Japan."

MARRIED SECOND TIME.

NEW YORK, March 9.—Enrico Caruso, the Metropolitan Opera House tenor, and Dorothy Park Benjamin were married for a second time yesterday in St. Patrick's Cathedral, after the bride had been formally received into the Catholic faith. They were first married in the Marble Collegiate Church here, August 29, 1918, and yesterday's ceremony was to make it a Catholic marriage.

NOT ASSOCIATED WITH FORD.

DETROIT, Mich., March 10.—Harvey S. Firestone, one of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, of Akron, Ohio, denied Saturday by telegraph, that he is contemplating any association with Henry Ford in the $200,000,000 plant for the construction of automobiles to sell for $350 or $250.

OTTAWA, March 10—The Government is going to appoint a board to investigate and report upon the possibilities of aerial navigation in Canada, and Dr. Thompson, M.P. for the Yukon, was asked to be one of its members, after he had concluded a remarkable speech outlining a project for several lines between the Pacific Coast cities and Dawson.

MEN'S STORE—STREET FLOOR

Cold or Stormy Mornings

We have often noticed with regret (and we would not be human if this regret was not tinged with pleasure) many customers standing in our unprotected St. Catherine street doorways on inclement mornings, waiting for 9 o'clock and the opening of our store. May we suggest that these early and eager shoppers would find it much more comfortable to wait in the closed-in and warm vestibules of our University street or Victoria street entrances?
