R. Henderson, Grand Old Man, Passes

Was Member of Huntingdon Borderers In 1866—Last of Fenian Raid Veterans

Robert Henderson, a grand old man, died at his home on Henderson St. on Sunday evening, August 1. 1943, in his 94th year. To most people in Huntingdon the late Robert Henderson has been known as an elderly gentleman, and always an honourable gentleman.

Mr. Henderson was born and grew up as a farmer on the Gore, and since coming to Huntingdon forty-three years ago, has conducted a coal business in co-operation with his son-in-law, Mr. W. A. Hunter. In the early days of Mr. Henderson's life he was a member of the 50th Battallion of the Huntingdon Borderers'. In 1866, when the First Fenian Raid took place at Trout River, Robert Henderson was one of the Borderers' He was quite proud of his having been a soldier in his early life, and rightly so. Had the Huntingdon Borderers not faced the Fenians as though a living shield of Canada, any successes the Fenians might have gained would more than likely have seen tens of thousands of Fenians mobilize in the U.S.A. and march on Montreal. The Fenians were repulsed in 1866 and 70, and in this feat Robert Henderson played his part.

In 1936, The Huntingdon Borderers' Colors which had been presented to them by His Royal Highness the late Duke of Connaught, in 1870, were restored and duly deposited in St. John's Anglican Church, Huntingdon. The ceremony that marked the depositing of the Colours took place on November 11, 1936, and it was an impressive ceremony. Robert Henderson and eight other Fenian Raid Veterans were then known to be living. In the passing of Mr. Henderson, all have now passed away.

Mr. Henderson for a period of years occupied a seat in the Huntingdon Municipal Council. He held various offices throughout his life at St. John's Anglican Church, of which he was a devoted member.

His wife, Elizabeth Donnelly, predeceased him in 1925. To their union was born one daughter, the late Mrs. W. A. Hunter.

Mr. Henderson was very fond of his grand children and particularly so of his great grand children, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kyle, who lived with him. The great grandfather never felt too old to play with and care for the children. In recent months Mr. Henderson has been confined to his home.

The funeral service was held from St. John's Anglican Church, on Tuesday afternoon.

Mitchell Gets Army-Farm Plan in Action

Reinforcements For Farmers From Armed Forces

Labour Minister Mitchell announced he had telegraphed to premiers of the provinces asking co-operation with the Dominion Government in the plan to place soldiers from army units stationed in Canada at seasonal farm work.

The plan, announced by Defence Minister Ralston in the House of Commons recently, was worked out with Col. Ralston's co-operation.

Mr. Mitchell said there had not been time for all the provinces to reply to his offer. He added that he hoped the provincial governments would undertake the scheme on a 50-50 partnership basis with the Federal Government.

Under the plan, it is proposed that farmers will be invited to advise the governments of their labour requirements. Government agencies dealing with the matter will be named later. Requirements will be passed on to the army, and district officers commanding will direct army personnel to proceed to the farms to fill the vacancies. While the soldiers will remain under military discipline and orders, they will work for the farmers in the same manner as civilian farm workers.

Rates of pay are being fixed, at which the farmer will engage the soldier's services, but the soldier will continue to draw his regular army pay, and any allowance to his dependents will also continue. After return to his unit, the man will be given any additional money which he may have earned, over and above army pay and allowances.

The employing farmer, on the other hand, will be required to pay in full the wages the man earned to agents representing the governments of the provinces and the Dominion. Money collected will be turned over to army paymasters. It is expected the farmer will be required to guarantee full wages for the period during which a man is engaged, regardless of weather or other working conditions.

The plan does not interfere with the previous system of men in the army being given compassionate leave to return temporarily to their own farms or those of relatives.

Celebrate Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary

Mr. Pierre Bariteau, hotel keeper, and Mrs. Bariteau, of St. Chrysostome, recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. A solemn high mass was celebrated at 11 a.m. for their intentions. Mr. and Mrs. Bariteau arrived at the church in a horse driven carriage, conducted by our honourable member, D. Black, with them were their two sons, Soldier Patrick Bariteau and Sarto Bariteau.

With the exception of one daughter, a White Sister in Africa, St. Pierre Celestire, the whole family and their families were reunited for this occasion, namely:

Mr. and Mrs. Dollard Turgeon (Juliette Bariteau), Roger, Andre, Rene, Gisele and Francois Turgeon;

Mr. and Mrs. Herve Thibault (Germaine Bariteau), Claude, Janine and Marcelle Thibault;

Mr. and Mrs. Hermas Metras (Gertrude Bariteau), Maurice, Therese and Helen Metras;

Mrs. J. M. Gabias (Yvonne Bariteau), Yves, Pierre, Maurice, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Pierre Nantel;

Mr. and Mrs. Veranda Lemieux (Jeanne Bariteau), Hughette and Jean Pierre Lemieux;

Mr. and Mrs. Patrice Bariteau, Pierrette, Monique, Patricia, Lorraine, Nicole Bariteau;

The Misses Eglantine, Dolores, and Mercedes Bariteau, and Sarto Bariteau.

After the religious ceremony a sumptuous banquet was served by Dupuis Freres in the parochial hall, to some three hundred friends and relatives gathered to celebrate with the happy couple this grand event.

Hospital Fund Exceeds the $20,000 Objective Set

Plans For Layout of Hospital and Equipment Being Proceeded With as Quickly as Possible

Subscriptions and pledges for the benefit of The Huntingdon County Hospital now exceed the $20,000 mark. Many people, who now realize that the Hospital is going to be a reality and will be operating this fall, are now making their contribution toward carrying on the good work. So far three contributions have been received to go towards a special fund to carry out specific hospital appointments. It is fully expected that other donations along this line will be forthcoming. People who wish to make contributions of money or kind may do so and are invited to communicate such desires to any one of the Board of Governors. Whilst the objectives for the hospital was set at $20,000 that figure was believed to be the essential mark but a much larger amount would augur well for the future of the institution. The canvass for funds is to be continued and it is hoped $25,000 will be obtained in the not too distant future.

The medical fraternity have arranged for the placing of orders for essential and desirable equipment to be used in the hospital. It might also be mentioned that the doctors have been alert to the situation, and months ago had supply houses posted as to the probable requirements so that when the time came to officially place orders the goods could be supplied.

Mr. Smith, an experienced hospital architect has been checking the hospital building over and had the plans in Huntingdon, on Saturday, when he went over same with some of the interested people. He expects to have final plans blueprinted for this week, and at the same time obtain the essential permits for the carrying out of the works. The plan allows for three wards on the ground floor providing accommodation for eight beds. On the second floor three wards providing 8 beds for maternity cases plus a nursery, and delivery room, etc. On the ground floor will be found the operating room thereby making it possible to have all matters pertaining to maternity cases handled on the second floor whilst all sickness, emergency and surgical cases would be cared for on the ground floor. The staff quarters will be on the top floor of the Hospital.

American Golden Eagle Captured Near Huntingdon

Above will be seen the Golden Eagle (Aquila chrysaetus) which was caught at the Cunningham Farm, a description of which is given in the accompanying article. In the inset an idea of the wing spread of the bird will be obtained, while the larger picture gives a close-up of this eagle.

An American visitor who apparently crossed the border without passport or passing the customs officers, entered Canada sometime during the past week and staged a couple of robberies and attempted a third, on a farm about one mile north of Huntingdon. The visitor concerned was a distinguished one and carries much weight in American officialdom. Despite this, however, he was shot and captured for his part in the crimes he committed. He will not be brought to trial, but will no doubt remain in captivity to become the object of the curiosity of many people of the district.

Despite all the rumors to the contrary, this American visitor is not the friendly type we hear so much about, in fact he is quite hostile and vicious. In order to get him to do what is wanted, persuasive methods have to be used and he persists in snarling and hissing, but won't say a word. Just the same, this visitor will be well looked after and will no doubt remain here for some time.

We say he (or maybe it's she) is a distinguished visitor, because it happens to be a large American eagle, and as is well known, the eagle is symbolic of the United States as an emblem and as the Coat of Arms. Of course it did not require a passport, but we believe it is probably the first of its species to be seen here for some time at least. This bird is not the type used on The United States emblem, but is known as the Golden Eagle and is a habitant of North America, but is seldom seen this far north. It is a bird of prey and feeds on lambs, hares, rabbits and various birds.

Thus it was only natural, that this bird should be caught in the act of stealing a chicken on the farm to which it paid its visit on Tuesday, July 27th. The farm happens to be owned by Mr. Ken Cunningham and his brother Howard, and they naturally resented the intentions of the intruder and tried to beat him off, as this could not be done, Ken took his gun and shot the eagle through the wing, thus bringing it down with an injured wing. Previous to seeing this eagle, two small pigs had mysteriously disappeared, and these are credited to the activities of this bird of prey.

When this bird was brought to the ground the two brothers immediately took steps to effect its capture and succeeded in doing so. By the means of sticks, they managed to get the bird's head down and slip a rope over one leg. This was by no means as simple as it sounds as this type of bird has plenty of fight and is quite vicious, but they did it, and now have it in a shed on their farm. They intend to make a large cage in which to keep their uninvited guest and have treated it quite generously by feeding it pigeons and some meat. The injured wing does not seem to be bothering it a great deal as the wound is slight and below the wing joint. The theft of the pigs occurred during the early part of Tuesday, but the bird returned about noon for the chicken which resulted in its capture.

This eagle is about four feet in height, has a wing spread of approximately seven feet and weighs about twenty pounds. It's tallons are about the size of a man's hand, with vicious looking hooks, while it's bill is about three inches long and about one inch wide and of the hooked type. It is brown in color with a mottled effect. It is termed Golden Eagle because of the ruddy brown feathers of the back of the neck. The accompanying pictures show this bird and were taken by the Gleaner photographer. Many people have paid a visit to the Cunningham farm to see this monster of the air. The Cunningham brothers said they thought it was a small airplane, when it began to circle around the farm and as it swooped down intent upon having a chicken dinner. Much persuasion had to be used in order to get a picture of the bird, but the results show that our photographer was successful and we believe a good idea of the size of the bird is reproduced.

Representative Meeting Elects Fifteen Board Members by Acclamation

Much Work to be Done Before Hospital Ready For Opening—Board of Governors Will Decide All Matters in Connection

A representative number of people attended the meeting of the members of the Huntingdon County Hospital, held in the Court Room of the County Building, on Thursday evening, when the election of fifteen Governors took place.

The meeting was under the chairmanship of Mr. D. Faubert and Mr. James E. Barrett acted as secretary. After a few opening remarks by the chairman on the purpose of the meeting, the contents of the Charter for the Hospital was read, followed by the reading of the By-Laws of the new hospital. The particulars contained in these articles set forth what could be done and what constituted a Board of Governors and the rules governing meetings and appointment of various committees for the proper function of the institution. The constitution called for the election of fifteen governors among which a chairman, treasurer and secretary could be chosen at a meeting of the governors when elected, or the acting secretary could be chosen from someone outside the Board.

The resignation of the provisional committee was read and accepted by the members, pending the election of the Board of Governors for a period of one year.

A vote of thanks was accorded this committee for the splendid ground work they had covered and which made the founding of The Huntingdon County Hospital a possibility and now a fact. Special mention was made of the work of Mr. N. F. Manning in this connection and a vote of thanks was given.

The By-laws of the hospital were passed by the meeting and all members present appended their signatures to same as part of the constitutional proceedings. Mr. D. J. O'Connor, M.P.P., in seconding the adoption of the By-law, congratulated the people on the founding of the institution and remarked that he felt it was a step in the right direction.

For the purpose of the election of the Board of Governors, Mr. Manning was named as presiding officer and Messrs. Leo. Cappiello and W. S. Brown were named as scrutineers. Dr. F. G. McCrimmon read a proposed list of names as the suggested Board of Governors and asked the meeting to act as they saw fit. This list was seconded and all voted in favor, thus avoiding the necessity of taking a vote and the persons named were elected by acclamation. Those so named are as follows: James E. Barrett, Albert Dupuis, Wm. D. Fraser, D. Faubert, Alex Fawcett, A. A. Lunan, Gilbert McMillan, Mrs. D. J. O'Connor, George Paul, Charles R. Reid, John S. Ross, Mrs. W. D. Shanks, Adam L. Sellar, P. H. M. Somerville and W. C.. Winter.

Mrs. John S. Ross made a few remarks to the meeting, in which she stated that she had always had in mind an institution for Huntingdon and had wondered what the Presbyterian Residence could be used for. It was her idea that it could be used for a nursing home or something of that nature. But the hospital idea when proposed, appealed to her and she was ready and willing to support it. She said she realized the great necessity at this time for an institution of the nature of Huntingdon County Hospital, but she doubted if the people of Huntingdon County realized the seriousness of the hour or the need. She said we have not stood up to our responsibility to the committee in donations, interest or suggestions, but hoped that now the hospital was really going to be a fact that more people would come forward and take a greater interest and swell the fund with their contributions. She said she favored the establishment of an endowment fund and would be willing to contribute annually to such a fund.

Dr. H. R. Clouston addressed the gathering on the matter of what the provisional committee had done and the idea that was prevalent of what future general intentions were. He said that the Presbyterian Residence was rented for a period of two years and that it was not the intention of the Board to do a lot of repairing or alterations until such time as it was ascertained that the building was the most suitable place for a hospital. At the time it is the most suitable and will do very nicely. He pointed out that if an epidemic broke out as it did during and after the last war, it would be a wonderful place to have, as about thirty beds could be put in the building in a short time. The proposed idea was to use the second floor as the maternity department, while the ground floor would be used for other cases for male and female. The top floor will be used as staff quarters. The building would have to be painted both inside and out and some partitions would have to be put in where required. It was also proposed to provide a fire escape so that patients could be slid down from the second floor on the mattresses. Also a dumb waiter would be installed for getting instruments and other things from floor to floor quickly and easily. He pointed out that it was practically impossible to obtain all the equipment they would like to have at the start, because of priorities and the difficulty of obtaining certain goods from the States. He was certain, however, that with the equipment available at the time and that could still be procured, The Huntingdon County Hospital would be as well and better in some cases, equipped as a good many institutions functioning at this time. Previous to this meeting, the committee in charge had no power to spend money or do anything further than promote the idea of The Huntingdon County Hospital, but now a Board of Governors had been elected. It would be the duty of this Board of Governors to see that the proposed building was made ready for occupation, attend to its financial needs and the proper running of the institution, the hiring of personnel and all other matters pertaining to it. They had the power to make changes they felt were necessary or to add to, in the interests of efficiency of the institution and it will be to them that we shall look in the future.

The meeting of the members adjourned and followed immediately by a meeting of the newly elected Board of Governors. The officers of the Board were chosen as follows: Adam L. Sellar, chairman; James E. Barrett, Secretary, providing E. C. Martin can be secured as the active secretary, as is permitted in the By-laws; A. A. Lunan, Treasurer. Mr. Barrett felt that the pressure of his other duties prevented him from accepting full responsibility as secretary for the Hospital Board and thus the ed to look after the renovations proviso is to be exercised.

A committee that will be expect- and grounds, etc., will not be named until the plans have first been viewed and studied in detail by the Board. The plans are expected to be forthcoming from the architect this week.

The Sister of the Congregation of Notre Dame who are presently occupying the Hospital building will be vacating it in the course of a few days' time, as their new quarters are just about ready for occupancy.

The financial campaign by Friday morning had reached $19,671. Many sections have not yet been canvassed therefore no time was lost in naming a permanent Finance Committee which will first make it a point to see that the canvass is continued and looked after the various financial matters in connection with the hospital throughout the year. Those named to this committee were: George Paul, Charles R. Reid, Albert Dupuis, D. Faubert, John S. Reid and Mr. P. H. Somerville.

Board of Management committee is composed of the Chairman, A. L. Sellar; Treasurer, A. A. Lunan; Secretary, James E. Barrett and Governors William Winter and Gilbert McMillan.

The House Committee is composed of Mrs. D. J. O'Connor, Mrs. W. D. Shanks, A. A. Lunan and Alex Fawcett.

The meeting adjourned to the call of the chair, when it is expected a great number of details will be given progress.

TEA-COFFEE RATIONS TO REMAIN THE SAME

Stock piles of tea and coffee in Canada are not such as to make it possible to increase the rations of either of these commodities for some time to come, it is announced by the administrator of tea and coffee for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

This statement was made in view of a number of inquiries from the public when it was announced that coffee rationing had ceased in the United States.

Stocks in Canada and future supplies presently in sight are such that rationing must be continued on the present basis, it was stated.

Huntingdon County Hospital Now a Fact

AFTER months of campaigning and seeking funds to launch the project of The Huntingdon County Hospital, it became an accomplished fact on Thursday evening when a Board of fifteen Governors was elected. Until this time no one had been vested with authority to actually make plans as to the operation of the institution, thus it was a project without functional abilities. Now this is past and the work of organization and preparation for opening can go ahead.

There is much to be done before the official opening can be announced, but the opening will come in due course because it has been established that the County of Huntingdon needs the service of a hospital and it has been endorsed by the many contributions which have been sent in for the purpose. The objective of $20,000 will no doubt have been reached by the time this appears in print, and that fact points conclusively to the general idea that a hospital is needed in this county. That need is now about to be consummated, the election of the Governors is the beginning of the final steps to this end.

The people of the county will not realize the full value of this fulfilment until the hospital is actually in operation and caring for patients. The time will come when it will be marvelled that the people of the county got along for so long without an institution of the kind. It will then be seen that the doctors will have more time to give to their patients at their offices and in the patients' homes. Not everyone will go to the hospital for treatment, any more than they do now, but cases that need hospitalization can be better looked after and attended to than if they were scattered all over the county. Not only that, but the patient in a hospital is under constant surveillance by the hospital staff which is trained in the knowledge of what to look for and when the doctor is needed, much more so than the average person.

Seeing that the project has had such an overwhelming endorsation by the people of the county, the new Governors will be able to enter their offices with zest in the knowledge that a majority of the people are behind them. They will have to guard their trust with care as a hospital is an institution for caring for the sick, and lives are entrusted to the care of the staff and its medical practitioners. All rules will have to be strictly enforced that the care of the patients is first and foremost. A good reputation must be built up and maintained by all who have anything to do with the operation of the institution. Careful management in the matter of upkeep, expenditures and equipment, will make much for the confidence of the people who have contributed to this very worthwhile project. Attention to details of administering to the sick and the comfort of the patients will build a confidence in the minds of those who may be forced to seek admittance to this hospital. All such things tend to make or break a reputation, but a reputation once gained must be maintained at all costs.

We feel that the Board of Governors chosen, will do all in their power to see that The Huntingdon County Hospital is properly managed and well looked after and that it will be an institution that the people of the county can be proud of. This county has a reputation all its own and the projects launched are built on this reputation to do the right thing and do it well.

Time Marches On

IN these days it is not unusual to see many old cars on the road and in a dilapidated condition, neither is it unusual to see cars with badly worn tires. These cars are being driven along the roads as fast as they can travel and oftentime it is at no mean rate. They rattle and snort and wheeze along and shake in every limb, the wheels wobble drunkenly and one would think that they would just simply fall apart, but in some miraculous manner they still seem to hang together and keep going.

It never seems to occur to the drivers of these near wrecks, that their cars may be a menace to others on the road or to themselves. They seem bent on getting every ounce of speed that the engine of the car will give, the rattles, the bangs, the shakings and all the rest of the queer actions of the car as it speeds along, are paid no heed. As a car goes along on the road, it is not unusual to hear queer noises coming from the wheels as if something were broken or coming apart, but the driver appears to ignore them all and drives merrily on. The only thing that really seems to bother car drivers is a flat tire, they stop more promptly, because it may mean that the tire will be marked finis, if they don't.

But the time is here when many a car needs attention to its mechanical workings and a little overhauling would not come amiss. It might surprise some car drivers to know just how close they had come to having a serious accident. In these days when replacement parts are hard to get, if you can get them at all, it pays car owners to check over their cars more often and to find out what the cause of all the squeaks and rattles are before they proceed to let them go all out for speed. Many an accident could be prevented if the car driver would drive according to the ability of himself and his car. Some cars are not safe to be driven over ten miles an hour, but they can be seen driven along at 30 and 40. They then become a menace to other drivers on the road and to pedestrians as well. After a car has been driven on the road at high rates of speed and over all kinds of ground, often with very little attention, for several years, there is no telling what may be found. A little defect in the steering mechanism, a flaw in the brakes or in the axles and the chances of a serious accident are prevalent. Just such a defect was the cause of an accident a few weeks ago, which might have had more serious consequences; the car was a wreck and all because of a defect in the steering mechanism.

Check your car over regularly, inspect it well when strange sounds develop or it does not function as well as it did, you may be able to remedy a fault that if left may cause an accident. Keep it well oiled and greased, this prevents undue wear, it is the inaccessible parts that need the most attention, give them special care. Don't drive your car at high rates of speed, unless you are sure it is mechanically perfect, then drive with caution. The man driving at forty has been known not to get there, while the man driving at twenty usually does. Remember—Time Marches On—the older the car, the greater its decline.

Anti-Semitism

IT was with a feeling of horror that we read an account of the racial disturbances at Plage Laval that had broken out between French-Canadians and Jews. We were of the opinion that that kind of thing was reminiscent of the Nazi and Fascist doctrine and that people in this country were above such ideas. But it happened and the people of the district were appealing for protection.

During the disturbances one Jewish person was injured enough to need hospital treatment, and several more were in fear of their lives and property. From accounts about 75 persons were involved in the fracas and the Jewish Congress charged that the action was premeditated with a view to terrorizing Canadian Jews for no other reason than that they were Jews. Such acts cannot be tolerated in this country, where we are fighting the greatest battle of freedom ever known to mankind. The leaders of the flare-up should be treated very severely in order that such ideas shall be stopped at the start.

During last week-end precautionary measures were taken to protect the inhabitants and to prevent any possible re-occurrence of the affair. It was previously announced that further disorders could be expected. However, a strong guard was posted and while thousands of people flocked to this summer resort, it was more or less peaceful.

According to Biblical teachings, the Jews have been condemned to a life of persecution, with no real national status or country, but our Christian education has taught us to love our neighbor as ourselves. Under the Christian life, the democratic way of freedom and liberty has been built up, and any man given shelter in a democratic country is supposed to enjoy its freedoms as long as he obeys the laws of that country. The Jewish people as a whole are usually law-abiding and cause little trouble, they have their religious beliefs with which we might not see eye-to-eye, but then there are all kinds of religious beliefs. Their religion is theirs and their methods of doing business is theirs, that is all part of the democratic way. Under democratic laws, protection must be afforded these people because they compose part of the country's nationals. This racial feeling reflects no credit on the leaders of the disturbances and does not help in creating the national unity we are striving for in this country.

Sentimentality May be Dangerous

THE recent events in Italy have brought about a lull on that war front in the hope that Italy might capitulate in an unconditional surrender. The United Nations have issued one or two ultimatums to the newly formed government in Italy, but so far there has been no answer. Rumors are rampant that Italy will fall at any minute and the Cabinet in London has been standing by for such an event. Over the week-end, the patience of the Allied Nations has evidently been sorely tried and a threat to commence operations on a renewed and larger scale has been made unless Italy makes its decision.

But why all the sentimentality? If Mussolini or Hitler had been in the same position, would they have stopped the war while their enemy made up its mind? Of course not. They would have kept on going and doing all they could until a decision was reached and in their favor. It happened in France, it happened wherever the Axis secured the upper hand. We have secured the upper hand in the Mediterranean and it is expected that we shall maintain it. President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill have told the Axis their terms—Unconditional Surrender—why not stick to it and go right ahead until the enemy is absolutely ready to make such terms. Stewing in their own juice is all right, but why give the enemy time to strengthen his defences and make it just that much harder to win the victory. The United Nations have done too much waiting for the enemy to do something, let us keep on doing what we started out to do—break and smash the Axis Powers for all time. If they have trouble in their own countries which makes it look more favorable to our cause, let us pound a little harder and make it that much worse for them to cope with it. If Italy surrenders, the war is not won, Germany will fight that much harder and with a more consolidated front, it will merely mean that a bloodless victory was obtained over Italy.

The people of Italy want peace, according to the reports we receive, but do they realize what is required to obtain that peace? Perhaps they do or maybe they do not. Their leaders know what is involved, they know how their country is situated within and they know how they are placed with their German partners. All these things make it difficult for them to reach a decision. Meanwhile, the Germans sensing the dangers confronting them, are losing no time in strengthening their positions of danger. The more time allowed the Italians to make a decision, means more time for the Germans to strengthen their defences against the United Nations attack which is sure to follow. Total war has no place for sentimentality.

CHATEAUGUAY, BEAUHARNOIS and HUNTINGDON COUNTIES

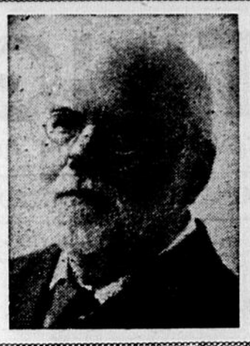
The Late ROBERT SELLAR



JOHN MUIR — Hinchinbrook — The first minister was Danskin. He was passenger on the same ship as ourselves. He came out in hopes of getting a church. He opened school at the village and preached on Sunday, but there being few children old enough to attend school, he moved to Elgin. He left owing to Parlan McFarlane's indignation at his kissing his wife. He married and baptized. His father, who came after him with the family, was a decent man. He had a farm on the Ridge. He went in with the Dobielles until repelled by their Americanism, when he cast his lot with the Free Kirk and was an elder in it until he moved to the States. Andrew Miller was the next minister but he did not baptize nor marry. He also kept school. He was a famous preacher, and his controversial sermons on Universalism drew hearers from as far as Georgetown. He courted Ellen Miller, whose father lived near Dewittville, and was to be married to her, when her father got a letter, that he was a married man. Accused of this, Miller denied its truth, but the match was broken off, and it was well, for the following year a wife and two children arrived, and were followed by another lad, now minister at Malone. We all liked Rev. Mr. Walker, and had he remained there would have been no Free Church. After we went, the ministers of both Old and Free Kirks were allowed the use of St. Andrew's — at least Alexander and Bain preached in it. Alexander was a little man of no great force but Bain was a loud, strong preacher, and bitter on the Old Kirk. Objection was raised to the Free ministers, and a vote was taken whether they should get the use of the church; it was decided they should by one vote. A revote was demanded next Sabbath, when it was against. The change was made by Jesse Hayter, who had been induced to turn. All the sort of big boys, like Reid, Rose and Gardner, were against the Frees. The Methodist church was got for Bain. Dr. Burns followed and made a strong impression. He was a grand preacher, always ready, and always at work. He boarded with me part of the time. In visiting he would not talk much, but saying time is short, let us have prayer, would so engage and leave. When the weather suited he preached in the open air and had great crowds. One place he preached was on the banks of the creek at Dewittville. When Mr. Walker left, there was a stir about getting a minister, but they were scarce. Mr. Wallace was then a student and was keen for the Free Church movement and circulated tracts issued in support of it. He continued strong in that opinion until he saw that by joining with the Old Kirk he would be called by those who stood by it in St. Andrew's and get his share of the clergy reserves. On coming to Old McNaughton, who was an elder, and telling him of his final decision, McNaughton was disgusted, and with the words, "I am an Auld Kirk man mysel, but being yer'e a body that can change about in this way, I'll have naething tae dae wi you." He refused to continue if Wallace was made minister, and withdrew. His decision carried all his sons with him to the Free Church. We now set about getting a minister. For a while we had supplies, and had the use of the Methodist Church for nothing, then we paid them something. Milne had built the house that is now the manse for a tavern, and could not finish it. We bought it and service was held there. The bulk of the Frees lived near Athelstan and they offered to help us to put up a church. Mr. Leishman, afterwards of Montreal, was with us a while, but our own first minister was P. D. Muir. He was a splendid preacher, but read. On driving him one day to Dewittville to preach, I told him people did not like the paper and as he could not hide it at Dewittville, he had better give something offhand. "O that is all right", he answered, "I can screed off Peter on the rock", and so he did.

The majority of Presbyterians not only in the District of Beauharnois, but of the province, sympathized with the Disruption, Muir, Anderson, Roach were all Free Kirk at first. There was a feeling that all the Presbyterians would identify themselves with the movement against patronage and that whatever enrolments or vested interests had been created would go as before. A meeting or conference of the collective church was held at Kingston, when Dr. Cork and Dr. Mathieson from this province, united with others from Upper Canada, worked to continue the Old Church and to drive the Frees out. Dr. Mathieson got the ministers from the Montreal Presbytery inclined that way together in a room. He told them to abandon the idea that the established Kirk would release its hold in Canada, it would stand and take with it Queen's College and the clergy reserves and the Frees would be treated as disserters and driven out. He appealed to them strongly from the worldly standpoint, thus — It is your duty to maintain gospel ordinances among your people, you cannot do so without the grant from the clery reserves, therefore it is incumbent upon you to continue qualified to receive it. He enlarged on this, asking what would become of their families, had they to depend on the pittances contributed by their people. He succeeded, and clergymen, who went to Kingston resolved to cast in their lots with the Free Kirk movement, returned to their flocks zealous against. The disgust caused is evidenced in Mr. Wallace's reception by old McNaughton.

How to Control Garden Slugs

Like other pests, garden slugs are more easily controlled when they are small and few in number. Often they are numerous on heavy land where they do considerable damage to beans, lettuce, cabbage, cauliflower, and suchlike crops. For control, the infested plants should be dusted with hydrated lime in the evening after the sun has gone down when the slugs have commenced feeding, states the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Care should be taken to cover the upper and lower surfaces of the leaves and the soil imemdiately surrounding the plants. Hydrated lime is effective only when it is in the form of a light dry powder. When subjected to moisture, it becomes hard and in that condition does not hurt the slugs. For this reason, a few light applications of the lime at intervals of three or four days are much more effective than one heavy dose.

Another method of control is to spray the infested plants thoroughly with Bordeaux mixture. This mixture is repellant to slugs, and if the foliage of the plants is completely covered, many of the slugs will confine their intentions to weeds growing in the field. Another method that has given satisfactory control in gardens is a mixture of metaldehyde and bran but it is too expensive under field conditions. This material may be purchased ready mixed at most seed stores, under a definite trade name.

BEAR AS SHOCKED AS BERRY PICKER

Gananoque.—When Charles P. Hagen, of Clayton, N.Y., came face-to-face with a big black bear while picking berries the other day the feeling was mutual. After the first shock, the man and the bear each went his way, fast. Hagen dropped his berries.

Opinions of Others

THE "WE WAZ ROBBED" PARTY

Very pointed and brief is the Toronto Globe and Mail's reference to the opposition Col. George Drew is to face in the forthcoming election. A place of insignificent prominence is given Premier Harry Nixon and the Liberal Party, but brevity of reference is reserved for the C.C.-F., which is referred to as the "We Waz Robbed C.C.F.-Socialists."

There is a strong and growing suspicion, that Mr. Drew may find the C.C.F. party an even more formidable opponent than the Nixon Government. Into every riding in the province, C.C.F. candidates are being nominated. This formidable activity has never before been attempted. It illustrates the growing strength of the movement throughout Ontario. It promises to give a very clear indication of the actual voting power of the C.C.F., for it will not be hard to summarize the registered sentiment in favor of the C.C.F. when every riding has opportunity to go to the polls and express its preferences.

The disdain with which reference is made by the G. and M. to this new political factor in Ontario, may be modified when the election results are known. Despite the limitations imposed upon the C.C.F. from lack of funds for extensive election advertising, it would not be surprising to find the "We Waz Robbed" party figuring formidably in the returns. Their electioneering methods do not conform to those of the old parties. They have no horde of paid workers; they have no jobs to promise; they have only one great promise to make, and that is, that, if entrusted with government of Ontario, they will inaugurate an entirely new approach to the whole problem of provincial administration and establish a new and more intimate contact with those classes of citizens, who, have too often and too long, been used as pawns on the party chess-board.—Huntsville Forester.

TOO MUCH SILK

An American schoolboy wrote the other day that the United States does not raise silk worms now because it gets its silk from the rayon, which is a larger animal and gives more silk.

Well, perhaps. But you tell that to the average woman today, and she will take one look at the wrinkles round her sister's ankles and the fit of her stockings elsewhere, and tell you that the rayon produces altogether too much silk these days.—Huron Expositor.

ON BOMBING GERMANY

Tass News Agency reporting from Moscow last week, stated that a letter taken from a German prisoner said that oft-bomber Essen "looks like Stalingrad".

"You write that it is not so bad in Essen," said another captured to her soldier husband, "you don't letter written by a German girl know what you are talking about. We sit in the cellar and wait for death."

Another letter, Tass said, reported that Essen had been "converted into a pile of ruins."

And that is the country and the people who were told by the Nazi leaders that no British or Allied bomb would ever drop on Germany. —Huron Expositor.

A WEEKLY EDITOR LOOKS AT Ottawa

Written specially for the weekly newspapers of Canada

Most productive of argument speech in the House for some time—that of Justice Minister St. Laurent on the resolution for deferment of redistribution during the war. There was a distinct tenseness in the House. Party leaders and supporters approved, but nine Quebec members voted against putting the motion. There seemed unanimity with Mr. Coldwell the day must come when Canada will make decisions of this kind without reference to Imperial Parliament. That Canada by this time is wearing long pants. Mr. St. Laurent who talks in clipped and measured tones, drew fire from quiet speaking Conservative House Leader Graydon for "side-stepping the resolution and injecting racial controversies." The minister claimed some people mongered that "that man in the Vatican" and Quebec clergy plotted to control government of Canada. He said such talk was rampant. Saw the desirability of having our own flag and national anthem although that shouldn't be pressed during the war. Claimed vigorously that Quebec was entitled to more equitable representation based on population. Mr. Graydon countered that raising of these side issues now was provocatively dangerous to national unity.

Who'd ever thought it! Research experts of the Department of Agriculture, although mum on the subject yet, are working on the production of rubber, resins and a superior kapok from species of the lowly milk weed. A group have returned here from the U.S.A., where they conferred with experts on progress made there along the same line. It appears it's getting into the post-experimental stage because I hear they are even working on harvesting methods and machinery to make the once-pest get to work for the war-effort.

Probably more CWAAC's, etc., in Ottawa than any other single place. My observation here is that Canada can be proud of them. From what I've seen in the nation's capital their bearing, conduct and deportment on the whole is excellent. It could be that some civilian woman do not set the same standard.

Come prepared. Probably tradition, but lady visitors to the House of Commons galleries without a hat have to spread a kerchief or piece of Kleenex over their heads before entering the august presence. Men, of course, uncover. Seems—and sometimes looks—a little silly.

Directed toward greater efficiency in manpower allocation it is announced here that a representative of National Selective service will be located at army reception centres to interview rejected applicants for enlistment. If sympathetically handled, in my opinion, this should help to put more round pegs in round holes of the agricultural and industrial war effort.

The Prices Board has granted an increase of 2-3 of a cent a dozen on clothes pins. Doesn't seem much, but does it mean to Canadian housewives? Curious I checked, found they use annually around one million 320 thousand gross or over 190 million pins to hang out the wash.

1941 census figures show that 82.5 per cent of the population of Canada was born in this country, as against 77.9 in 1931. Of the 11,506,655 total about 8.7% were from British countries, mainly the British Isles; European, 3.7%; United States, 2.7%; Asia born only 0.4%.

Get Ready Now to Eat For Health Next Winter

Get Ready Now To Eat

Now is the time to "put up" all the fruits and vegetables you are going to need for next winter's use. If you are lucky enough to have a Victory garden, you will grow your own. If you live near fruit or vegetable growers or near farm communities, try to obtain extra fruits and vegetables. Help pick them, if necessary.

Give Special Attention To Fruits and Vegetables

The chief need for preserving foods at home this year, is to make eating-for-health a reality next winter. So, be sure to seal into your cans the greatest possible value in vitamins and minerals. Put up plenty of green and yellow vegetables. Chard, spinach, kale, peas and beans for the green ones. And don't overlook carrots for the yellow. It's good to know that the deeper the color, the richer they are in vitamins.

Choose the fruits that will give you the best food value. Above all, have plenty of tomatoes for they're rich in the vitamin C needed daily to prevent scurvy, help us have good teeth, and help build resistance to certain infections. If the overtaxed railroads can't bring us enough citrus fruits, tomatoes are a good alternate. But remember, you must eat greater quantities of tomatoes to replace citrus fruits.

Pickles, chow-chow, preserves and other fancy foods do a lot to relieve mealtime monotony, but it will be wise to take care of the essentials first, as you might run out of materials.

Use Good Quality, Fresh. Clean Fruits and Vegetables

Put up only freshly gathered food in prime condition. Attempting to use overripe or partly spoiled food for canning is just a waste of energy—the food won't keep. Throw away anything that is bruised, blighted or spotted.

Two hours from garden to can is a good, safe rule to follow to make sure your food will keep. The fresher the food, the less chance the tiny organisms that cause decay have to get in their work.

Dirt may harbour organisms that cause spoilage, so wash fruits and vegetables thoroughly clean.

Blanch All Vegetables

All vegetables to be canned, dehydrated or frozen must be blanched in a steam bath. This is necessary to stop enzymatic action; set in colour; save vitamins; and improve the flavor.

We used to blanch vegetables by plunging them in boiling water and cooking them for 5 or 10 minutes. Recent research by noted authorities proves definitely that the best way to blanch vegetables to retain vitamins, is by steaming.

Beware of Botulinus

Of the many organisms that may be present in all vegetables, except tomatoes, botulinus is the most dangerous. Though not itself poisonous, botulinus produces a toxin that is deadly. It doesn't betray its presence by odor of spoilage, or discoloration, so we don't discover it until too late. Only pressure cooker canning, dehydration, brining, or quick freezing will kill botulinus. Only these methods are safe for preserving vegetables. The one exception is tomatoes—they may be preserved by several methods.

Some Reasons Why Foods Spoil . . . After You've Put Them Up

Poor quality food and delay in canning. Bad!

Too little processing time. Follow the rules.

Containers not properly washed, sterilized.

Imperfect Seal. Jar rims must always be clean, dry.

Defective containers frequently cause spoilage.

Careless storage. Store upright—cool, dark place.

All home-canned vegetables, excepting tomatoes, should be cooked at boiling temperatures at least 10 minutes in a covered container before serving . . . even when they are to be used for a salad.

High Cost Of Fruit is Protested

Housewives Told Not to Pay Fantastic Prices

The Prices Board is at a loss to find some way to control the "fantastic" prices charged for fresh fruit and vegetables and advises housewives not to buy.

"Unless we can get the co-operation of the women in the country, we simply don't know how we can control this thing," a spokesman said last week.

Women Are Mad

"The women of the country are plain mad; we are getting complaints from all over, but as yet we have been unable to find any way to control the situation."

Several reasons were given for the Prices Board's inability to control fruit and vegetable prices. Perishability, unpredictable supplies and the manner in which they are marketed were given as the most important reasons.

Carrots were given as an example. Were the Prices Board to put a ceiling on a bunch of carrots or say that three carrots were to comprise one bunch, that would only result in countless complications, said the official. Carrots would have to be sold three in a bunch, but how could the board regulate the size of the carrots?

Potatoes Mentioned

Potatoes were also mentioned. At present there is a ceiling price on a bag of potatoes but that does not prevent a farmer or merchant from selling potatoes in baskets which are probably only half full.

Meat turnovers are delicious but take a little more meat than a roly-poly. Roll biscuit dough ¼ inch thick and cut in 6 inch rounds or squares. Place a spoonful of meat mixture on the dough and fold over, making half-moons or triangles. Press edges together and prick the top. Bake and serve like roly-poly.

DELICIOUS MEATLESS MAIN DISH

"MAGIC" VEGETABLE CHEESE ROLLS

2 cups sifted flour
3 tsp. Magic Baking Powder
1 tsp. salt.
2 to 4 tbs. shortening
⅓ to ¾ cup milk
½ lb. whole cooked carrots
½ lb. whole cooked string beans
3 tbs. chopped onions
3 tbs. shredded green pepper
Melted butter
Seasoning to taste

Sift dry ingredients, cut in shortening. Add milk to make soft dough. Knead lightly on floured board, roll into ¼ inch thickness, cut into 3 inch squares. Quarter carrots lengthwise. Combine all vegetables with butter and seasonings, place a portion on each square of dough. Wrap dough around filling, press edges together. Bake on baking sheet in hot oven (450° F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Serve with cheese sauce.

MADE IN CANADA

DAHLIA'S WHATNOTS

CAROLINE CHISHOLM

The first emigrants to interest Mrs. Chisholm were a party of Highlanders, who were without a friend, and could speak or understand only Gaelic. She lent them money and put them in the way of cutting and selling fire-wood, thus relieving their immediate necessities till something else turned up.

There were times when probably the persons responsible for the difficulties of emigrants considered Mrs. Chisholm an officious troublemaker, but it is pleasing to know that her generous efforts had the hearty approval of her husband. When in 1840 Captain Chisholm joined his regiment in India, leaving his family in Australia, we find him urging his wife to continue the work of ameliorating the condition of the emigrants. At this time the utmost disorder existed on board the emigrant ships. At the ports in England and other countries we are told that "a heterogeneous mass of human beings were congregated: broken-up families, young couples without children, and friendless females, who were only too often the prey to the wiles of the designing before the ship reached its destination. Frequently, too, when the vessel arrived in port, there were fiends in the shape and dress of ladies ready to make overtures to the young women for the vilest purposes."

At the outset of her campaign against this evil, Mrs. Chisholm could only expostulate with the captains of the vessels, and when she saw any special case of danger, take the young girl to her own home; frequently having as many as nine there at one time.

After witnessing many instances of the evils existing, and having received many communications from poor girls who had suffered on landing in Sydney, Mrs. Chisholm resolved that some public measure should be taken. Her first move was to form a committee of ladies, and those whom she asked were willing to aid in the cause. But it was not without opposition, because it was supposed the colony would suffer if all the facts were to be made known in England. This opposition became so strong that even Mrs. Chisholm, brave and determined soul that she was, found herself almost worn out with it. She was about to retire from the work, for a time at least, when, as we are told, "Providence enabled her to prevent the suicide of one of the young female emigrants who had been cruelly deceived." Speaking of this incident, she says, "I did not leave the place until, without subdued feelings, I heard her vow never to attempt self-destruction. I procured her lodgings; my spirits returned; I felt God's blessing was on my work. From this time I never thought of human help; I neglected no steps to conciliate; I increased my exertions; but, from the hour I was on the beach with the girl, fear left me."

The Governor, Sir George Gipps viewed the movement with suspicion. At length, after Mrs. Chisholm's plans had been discussed by the press and accepted by the clergy, he was induced to grant an interview to the "lady labouring under amiable delusions."

Said Sir George after the interview, "I expected to have seen an old lady in white cap and spectacles, I was amazed when my aide introduced a handsome, stately young woman, who proceeded to reason on the question, as if she thought her reason and experience worth as much as mine."

Which one of this pair of people, this man and woman, C.C. or G.G. was the brainer of the two? Which had initiative and which was the original thinker. Mrs. Chisholm inspired the clergy and the editors, and they in turn impressed the Governor, Sir George Gipps. Pioneer in the world of thought was she!

Her purpose, born of righteous indignation, when arrayed for the world of action with dove's gentleness and serpent's wisdom, was sold to the Governor by the middlemen of press and pulpit. But—it "got there just the same." Eventually, a room for the "Emigrants' Home" was found in a Government building.

Canning Corner

By Laura C. Pepper,
Chief, Consumer Section,
Dominion Department of Agriculture

When canning fruits with sugar this year it is important to use, for each fruit, the syrup that will give a palatable product with the minimum amount of sugar.

In order that no syrup be wasted the amount of syrup required should be carefully calculated. Small fruits, berries and cherries will require ½ to ¾ cup of syrup per pint sealer and large fruits such as pears and peaches will take from ¾ to 1 cup for each pint sealer.

Here are the syrups that we have found to give the most satisfactory and economical results in our experimental work.

Apples and pears:—
A one to three syrup, that is 1 cup sugar to three cups water. Yield approximately 3 cups of syrup.

Apricots, blueberries, raspberries, sweet cherries, peaches, sweet plums and saskatoons:—
A one to two syrup. 1 cup sugar to 2 cups water yields approximately 2¼ cups syrup.

Blackberries, currants, gooseberries, loganberries, strawberries:—
A one to one and a half syrup. 1 cup sugar to 1½ cups water yields approximately 2 cups syrup.

Sour cherries, sour plums and rhubarb:—
A one to one syrup. 1 cup sugar to 1 cup water yields approximately 1½ cups syrup.

For all syrups, sugar and water should be brought to boiling point and boiled 5 minutes. The syrup should be kept hot until used.

HERBS AND VITAMINS

No matter how small the victory garden, it should contain parsley, chives and radishes. Parsley is, of course, rich in iron and Vitamins A and C. Chives and radishes contribute more than flavor which goes hand in hand with good nutrition.

WEDDING AT CHATEAUGUAY BARRACKS CHAPEL

Sergeant and Mrs. Edgar O. Jones are shown above leaving the Chapel at Chateauguay Barracks, Huntingdon, Que., after their wedding on Saturday, July 31st; and the Guard of Honour which was formed by comrades of the groom. Mrs. Jones was formerly Miss Margaret Mary Elizabeth MacArthur, daughter of Mrs. E. MacArthur, of Huntingdon, Que., and the late J. J. MacArthur. The groom is the son of Mrs. Glyn Jones, of Montreal, Que. This is the first wedding to take place at the newly erected Chapel and the ceremony was conducted by the Protestant Chaplain, Major H. Andrews.

Weddings

FERNS—ARTHUR

The marriage of Grizella Roberta Joan, daughter of the late Robert A. Arthur and Mrs. Arthur, of Huntingdon, to Mr. John Donald Ferns, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Ferns, of Huntingdon, Que., took place on Saturday, July 31st, 1943, in Elgin Presbyterian Church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. G. MacMillan and Rev. J. H. Woodside.

Baskets of summer flowers and ferns were used as decoration in the church. The wedding music was played by Mrs. W. J. Smellie, aunt of the bride, and Mr. R. G. MacMillan sang, "I love you truly."

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. William Arthur, the bride wore a floor length gown of white sheer chiffon, fashioned with a full skirt, shirred waist and bracelet length sleeves. Her finger tip veil of tulle illusion was held in place with a coronet of roses and forget-me-nots and she carried a bouquet of pink Delight roses. Her only ornament was a silver locket, the gift of the groom.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Janet Arthur, who wore a street length frock of pale pink sheer, made in peasant style with a shirred waist line, high neck and long sleeves, white slippers and a small flowered hat to tone with her dress. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

Mr. Kenneth Ferns, acted as best man for his brother, and the ushers were L.-Sgt. R. Daniel of Halifax, N.S., and Mr. Kenneth Rutherford.

Mrs. Arthur, the bride's mother, wore a two-piece street length frock of navy and white printed crepe with navy blue accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Ferns, mother of the bridegroom wore a figured crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Weekly Tips for Meat Rationing

Biscuit dough can be used in many ways to extend rationed meats.

As a topping for meat pies it's a better bet than pastry for the conservation-conscious, because biscuit dough requires so much less fat.

Left-over meat may be diced, heated in gravy and served over hot, split biscuits as a meat shortcake.

If there isn't enough meat for this, put it through the food chopper, season well, and moisten with left-over gravy, tomatoes or chili sauce.

Roll biscuit dough into a rectangle ¼ inch thick, spread with the meat mixture, roll up like a jelly roll and bake in a hot oven. Serve with extra gravy and plenty of vegetables and the family will never notice that the meat part of the meal is a bit skimpy.

Dumplings are closely related to biscuit dough but contain less fat or none at all. Feathery light, they make a delicious and filling addition to a stew that may be more vegetable than animal. The Consumer Section of the Dominion Department of Agriculture suggests Tomato Dumplings with beef stew, the addition of finely chopped parsley to dumplings for veal stew and chives when the stew is of lamb. Tomato dumplings are made by substituting tomato juice for the milk or water used in plain dumplings.

What's in The Wind ...

Our International Relations

Early in July Mr. Francisco Pacanins, Consul General for Venezuela and Mrs. Pacains, Mr. and Mrs. M. Osmay of Istanbul, Turkey, took a picnic party to St. Anicet, calling at "Brackenglade" for Carlos and Dolores Pacanins and Jacqueline and Peter Mickles, who are summer guests at the farm.

Miss Jacqueline Mickles is receiving congratulations upon leading the High School Entrance class at St. Paul's Academy, Westmount. Mr. and Mrs. Lovell. G. Mickles motored from Montreal on Sunday and took their grandchildren for an outing at their Island off the St. Anicet shore.

Morris Joubert, of Montreal College, and Andre Robertson of St. Leo's Academy, age 15, are tops in the haying gang, doing the loading, while the girls drive the tractor and mow back in the loft. They have been assisted by L.A.C. Joe Carr, who has had a two weeks' furlough from R.C.A.F.

Miss Ruth VanHorne, of Bedford, spent three weeks at Brackenglade Farm, and Allison Carr has returned home with her, Michael Barnard, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Barnard, Melville Ave., has returned to town. His brother David is staying with Mrs. B. J. O'Connor and helping Ralph with the haying. Florence Carr is spending the summer at home after a year's absence attending Bedford High School.

These children are realists and are all out to see action on the home front. They pass up with disdain vacations at the best Laurentian resorts or private cottages. What they appreciate is activity with a purpose. The girls practice at housework as well as outside gardening and field work, while the boys do a share of the dishes. Peter is a budding naturalist and keeps a collection of skins of groundhogs, mice, rats, snakes and has stuffed a bat. Charlie takes to the woodpile and is proud of the split kindling he produces.

Occupation on rainy days presents a problem. We have solved it by turning to interior decoration. One week the halls and sunporch got a coat of paint. Rain again helped the kitchen get a fresh appearance. Morris, being tall, painted the ceiling and the others went at the walls. If wet weather continues the whole house will benefit to some extent, provided the paint holds out.

Our living room is a reminder of similar efforts two summers ago on the part of a young French-Canadian who is now a pilot, possibly in Sicily.

It is something of a sight to see seven or eleven of them pile into the old milk waggon and drive to the Ol' Swimming Hole . . . coming back in the moonlight singing . . . or yelling at the top of their voices. The devastating raids that take place thereafter fall heavily on the ice box and pantry, when the fifth meal ends the day.

On a recent Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Pacanins visited the farm and were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Juan Ricardo and daughter. Mr. Ricardo is the Consul-General to Canada from the Dominican Republic.

The City Cat

When the children come from the city to the farm they adopt various animals, wild and tame, as pets. Last year they had a craze for snakes and turtles. One went home last year with a snake curled in his pocket and Peter took home two turtles. Andre adopted one of a litter of kittens and took him home.

The little farm kitten thrived on a diet of cream and fancy cat foods provided by his new master. He lived the life of Rielly on the top floor apartment in a luxurious Westmount home, that is Andre's special domain. Willis, indeed, became famous. He was entered in the Westmount Boy Scout Hobby Show and won first prize.

Andre returned to Brackenglade Farm this summer and brought Willis with him. An enormous fat-faced tomcat, weighing ten pounds. Willis is not happy at all in his native environment. He looks with scorn upon his country cousins and even his brothers and sisters are enemies. He hates his mother and they fight on sight. Old Tissie is mothering a new brood of four in the shed as close to the screen door as she can squeeze. Willis' favorite perch is a window-sill, where he meows mournfully. Moreover, he is losing weight, as the food provided is not up to his accustomed standard.

Peter reports that Willis wouldn't eat a mouse that he caught and gave to him. It is quite likely that Willis has never eaten a mouse. He wouldn't think of lowering himself by providing his own meat. He will stare most resentfully through the pantry window when I am cutting meat, and then let out a loud screech through the side of his mouth. Willis is the unpopular villian in the current animal collection.

Nobody likes to pat the snobbish cat who wants to walk by himself.

This story carries some points that might be considered morals. If a brief year in the City can unfit even a cat from providing for his own needs when the usual cat fodder is to be had for the taking, what can we expect after the wholesale dislocation that is presently taking place in every sphere of life?

Charlie brought his pet rabbit with him from the City. The second day a horse stepped on it. Funeral services for Peter Rabbit followed.

The Children's Corner ...

LUMINOUS INSECTS

While cutting their way through a South American jungle, two explorers were invited to spend the night in a native chief's hut. To their surprise they saw the primitive family going about their tasks under fairly good lights. Surprise became amazement when they discovered that the illumination came from beetles about the size of sparrows, suspended from pegs by means of plaited grass strings.

It was a striking example of the cold light man must learn to copy from plants, animals and insects if he is ever to have a lamp that combines efficiency with economy. The best lamp man has invented thus far wastes far too much of its energy in giving heat.

The sea is often so infested by tiny animals, called noctiluca, that it shines like pure silver, and receding breakers leave a greenish-blue afterglow on the shore. Sometimes a dead fish will glow with a strange light caused by millions of tiny plant bacteria growing in the decaying flesh.

Observant nature lovers also have seen flashes of "fox fire" playing along moss-covered logs. This greenish glow emanates from a fungus which grows on the rotting wood. All this has no connection, as Myers reminds us, with the "will-o'-the-wisp," which is ignited gas over swampy ground, nor with phosphorus, which is a chemical composition that glows when placed in the dark.

Most cold light, however, is created by insects. A few fireflies—or lightning bugs, as many call these fireless creatures—placed under a thin, clear tumbler, will cast a surprising amount of light. Their abdomens glow with an eerie illumination. Some species of fireflies, common in the tropics, fly in almost straight lines and emit continuous light—often enough to read by. And our famous glowworms are only wingless female fireflies and their larvae.

Probably the most curious of all luminous insects is the "automobile bug", also from South America. Its head shines white after dark, while its tail sends out a red glow.

It seems strange that nature's light, while so different from manmade illumination, reacts in many of the same ways. It can be reflected, refracted, and polarized. It takes a positive effect upon photographic plates, and can be completely blocked off by materials which negatively affect our heat lamps. Also, nature makes lavish use of colored light—greenish blues and yellows, lilacs, purples, pinks, and reds.

Huntingdon Locals

Lieut.-Col. C. C. Brooks, M.C., V.D., who has been in England for some months, returned to Chateauguay Barracks, this week. During his absence, Major J. H. Molson has been Acting Officer Commanding.

Among the many encouraging letters and voluntary contributions received in connection with the founding of a Hospital in Huntingdon, in order to relieve the medical service situation that is facing the community, is the following received from Major J. H. Molson. The men and officers of Chateauguay Barracks have time and again supported community affairs as well as the civilians have considered it their pleasure to help the soldiers being trained at Chateauguay Barracks. In connection with the Hospital drive it was never considered that subscriptions should be solicited among the soldiers, for actually they are merely in Huntingdon to get their training. Major Molson, Acting Commanding Officer feels it will be a pleasure and honour to be a contributor to The Huntingdon County Hospital, and so contributing has subscribed himself a Life Membership. The many thanks of The Huntingdon County Hospital officials goes to Major Molson.

A sudden storm at about midnight on Sunday has caused many remarks to be made on the din of the thunder and the vividness of the lightning. It was of short duration, but it is doubtful if many were able to sleep without being disturbed. A very heavy rainfall for a few minutes accompanied the storm until it passed over and peace once again reigned. No damage has been reported in the immediate vicinity.

It Pays To Advertise

When it comes to getting results through advertising we believe it would be hard to beat this one. Last week, on Wednesday morning just as the Gleaner was going to press, Mr. Gilbert McMillan came into the office to put in an advertisement for his lost dog, a black Scottie, which was blind in one eye. The advertisement was duly placed in the Gleaner Lost Column and the newspaper was being printed and distributed later in the afternoon, when the dog himself presented an appearance outside the office of the Gleaner. He was spotted by one of the staff, and the dog being the friendly type, was enticed to give himself up. Of course, we do not know if he read the advertisement in the Gleaner, but it looks awfully suspicious. The moral of this story is that before the type was cold and the ink dried on the paper, the lost dog had been found. Now who says it does not pay to advertise?

Business Men to Help Farmer

A new order of community co-operation is presently being organized amongst the business men in Huntingdon. Business men who have been open to participate in softball games, in order to exercise new muscles, are now offering their services to farmers who find they are short of help. The idea is to get twenty or more men in town to volunteer to go out to farms three nights a week, working from around 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. The services will of course be gratis. Men wishing to offer their services are requested to phone Mr. Norman Brown, 2121, Leach Textiles Limited. Farmers who wish to avail themselves of having the men assist them might also phone Mr. Brown, who in turn will do his best to arrange for a group of men to go to the farms. It is hoped this scheme of gratuitous assistance will be accorded throughout the month of August.

These willing workers are offering their services without charge. People who avail themselves of such gratuitous assistance may in turn make a contribution in recognition of such assistance to The Huntingdon County Hospital, Red Cross or some other worthy cause.

Aubrey-Riverfield

A meeting of the Howick W.C.T.U. was held on July 30th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ewart Orr, with 14 members and 9 visitors present.

A short business session was held during which Mrs. Geo. McArthur mentioned that an effort was being made to form an L.T.L. for those between the ages of the White Ribboners and the "Y" group.

Mr. McBride, supply minister for the Howick-Riverfield Presbyterian congregation, addressed the meeting, giving a very illuminating lecture on the question, "Why Do People Drink?" He answered this question through the realm of psychology, classifying the drinkers in three groups: chronic, periodic, and moderate. The individual drinks because of lack of harmony within himself. This lack of harmony affects his mental, physical and spiritual nature. He mentioned three types of disorganized persons: 1, Those not able to cope with life's problems; 2, The shy, retiring natures; 3, The coward, those afraid of the realities of life.

All of these persons use alcoholic liquors to help them overcome these problems, as its use takes them into a little world of their own, far removed from their troubles. But the sorry part of it is that the stimulant does not last.

He concluded by giving the remedy that these persons should have. That is to accept Christ and his teachings, and by so doing, they receive the strength to overcome this desire and become men and women who do not find the need for further stimulant. And our duty as christians consists in acquainting youth and adults with the wrong use of drink.

Mary McKell sang a song "Busy For Jesus."

Fire Inspector Gauthier Well Satisfied With Tests Made While Here

New Method Suggested For Handling Chimney Fires—Council Decides to Act Upon it

Huntingdon Town Council met on Monday evening with Mayor W. E. S. McNair in the chair and Aldermen Barrett, Cappiello and Warden present.

The bills as read were passed and ordered paid.

Mr. Peter Galipeau applied to the council for permission to build a garage on his property. Permission was granted if the applicant would complete and file the proper form.

Mr. Cecil Stark, Fire Chief, submitted a written report of the recommendations made by Inspector Gauthier when he visited Huntingdon recently, and inspected the fire equipment. Inspector Gauthier was well satisfied with the tests made and also with the booster pump and made several suggestions for the improvement of the equipment for fighting fires. Among these was one whereby about 50 feet of half-inch garden hose should be purchased for fighting chimney fires. A special attachment could be obtained to fit on any tap in a house and the hose could be used upstairs or down. The idea is that with a hose of this type the fire in the stove could be put out and the steam created would go up the chimney and dampen the fire there, the soot would fall as it became moist and bring the fire with it to the bottom of the chimney, where it could be handled quickly. The inspector said that many chimney fires were now being handled in this manner and quite successfully, and with very little serious damage by fire or by water. Mr. Stark explained this method to the council. It was also suggested that a "Y" piece be obtained for attaching to the couplings so that two lines could be run off where required, and that 300 feet of 1½ inch hose should be procured for this purpose. The Council decided to obtain prices on the latter, and to procure the half-inch hose as soon as possible.

Several applications for building permits were read. The following: Charles Lalonde for a double chimney and The Huntingdon County Hospital for making necessary repairs to the hospital building, were approved and granted. Those of O. Deschambeault, Patrick Barr and Antoine Langevin were not approved.

The milk report on samples submitted on June 28th, were all reported good with one exception.

Mr. H. Boucher made a complaint regarding refuse from the Town Dump overflowing onto his land and asked that it be cleaned up and a fence be placed near his land. The committee in charge of the matter reported that they found no cause for the complaint, but had investigated the cost of erecting a fence and found same to be in the neighborhood of $50.00. It was decided to write Mr. Boucher and ask him if he would be willing to pay half the cost of erecting such a fence.

Rev. Father Pigeon, on behalf of St. Joseph's Parish, made a proposition to the Town regarding 400 feet of 4 foot sidewalk from York Street to Wellington Street. This would be constructed of cement by the contractors employed by the Parish and the proposition was that the Town pay part of the cost which was set at $125.00. The stone blocks which had been removed from this point could be used for a sidewalk from Wellington to Chateauguay Street. The Council decided to accept the proposition providing the walk will be built according to town specifications and under supervision of a member of the Town.

The next meeting of the Council will be held on September 7th, at the usual hour.

In the evening a reception was held in the Community Hall, Flinton, where about 300 friends greeted the young couple.

Mrs. Neil Reavie and Mrs. David Lockwood received the guests, each wearing navy sheer, with matching accessories and corsages of red roses and pansies.

Farmers' Equipment Problems Dealt With by Prices Board

You've been wondering how you would get through another year with that leaky hog trough, the dilapidated two-row potato planter or your limping tractor. You've looked into all the possibilities for repair and concluded that the worn out equipment just isn't worth it. It's past redemption and ready for the salvage heap.

For you, there's good news in the announcement of H. H. Bloom, administrator of farm machinery, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, who says there will be greatly increased quotas for the 1943-'44 period in nearly all lines of farm equipment of both domestic and imported manufacture. Most encouraging aspect is the fact that over the whole field of farm equipment, the quota increase is from 35 per cent of 1940 sales up to 80 per cent on the same basis which is an improvement of 130 per cent in the whole situation.

If you farm in Eastern Canada, British Columbia, and the irrigated districts of the prairie provinces, and can manage for the time being, next year you will run a pretty fair chance of being able to get 11-run grain drills, two-row potato planters, 10-foot cut tractor grain binders, aerated or surface type milk coolers, power potato sprayers and dusters. If in the prairie provinces outside the irrigated districts, you will find such additional lines as potato and corn planters, two-furrow riding gang plows, potato diggers, feed mixers, aerated or surface type milk coolers and watering equipment.

Perhaps you do mixed farming, with bees, cows and chickens, a pig or two . . . your equipment difficulties are eliminated since there are no restrictions on the production of bee hives, hog troughs, poultry and livestock feeders, milking stools, provided they are made from non-critical materials.

At any rate you can be assured of getting your fair share. Rationing, as introduced last October, is still in effect and a farmer's claim to new machinery will be judged entirely on how badly he needs the equipment.

At the Movies

"Commandos Strike at Dawn" Stars Muni

Columbia's "Commandos Strike at Dawn", which shows Sunday and Monday, Aug. 8 and 9 at the O'Connor Theatre, is known to Hollywood as the motion picture more eagerly awaited than any in recent years. And Hollywood knows the film, too, as the motion picture which exceeded even the fondest anticipations.

It enlisted the enthusiastic support and co-operation of three great governments—the United States, Great Britain and Canada.

It was considered so important by Paul Muni that he insisted upon playing the starring role—his first screen venture in more than two years.

It marks the screen return of Lillian Gish, world-famous stage and silent screen star, after a nine year absence from Hollywood.

Its cast includes several hundred Canadian-trained Commandos, who appear as themselves and who present a grimly realistic picture of warfare, as they know it!

Irwin Shaw wrote the screen play from C. S. Forester's Cosmopolitan magazine story of a Norwegian patriot who leads a Commando raid upon a secret Nazi airfield in his beloved homeland.

"Commandos Strike at Dawn" was filmed, almost in its entirety, in British Columbia.

The need for Permits and their Purpose

The issuance of permits enabling their holders to purchase distilled liquors is a recent innovation on the part of the Quebec Liquor Commission, although in other parts of Canada this method of regulation has always been an important feature of the Government Control system of the various Provinces. It has only been adopted in the Province of Quebec because of necessity.

This necessity arises from the fact that there are more people desiring to buy larger quantities of these beverages than the stocks now on hand and obtainable in the future, will accommodate.

There are various methods which can be adopted in ordinary business when a similar situation presents itself. The usual one is so to increase prices that the demand adjusts itself to the supply. Since, however, the disparity between demand and supply arises from war conditions and since no one can foretell the extent to which it will continue, the use of this method would only lead to serious trouble and hardship. Quite properly, not only public opinion but the law prohibits it.

These observations apply to practically all commodities consumed by the public, and in the case of essential articles, such as food, in order that there shall be equal and fair distribution of supplies among all the people, a system of rationing, meaning by that limiting the quantity which an individual may purchase in a specified period, has had to be put in operation. Everyone is familiar with this.

The Quebec Liquor Commission, after careful consideration and survey of the position in which war circumstances had placed their stocks and supplies, and actuated solely by the purpose of serving the public in the fairest possible manner, authorized the use of permits.

There is a similarity in some respects between these permits and the food rationing cards which are in general use. There are, however, marked differences, and these should be emphasized and remembered.

In the first place, the foods rationed are essential to the health and well-being of the whole nation. Whatever else may be said of alcoholic beverages they do not compare in that respect with them.

In the second place food rationing is predicated on each and every person in the community exercising his or her right to have a ration card, and the quantities allowed have been calculated on that basis. This is definitely not the case with liquor permits.

In adopting this permit system the Quebec Liquor Commission contemplates that permits will only be asked for and issued to bonafide consumers of distilled spirits, and that those who are not in this category will not apply for them, nor lend themselves to the issuance of permits in their names. The quantities of spirits which permit-holders may purchase is based on the knowledge which the Commission has of the approximate number of bonafide users.

Those, therefore, who obtain permits not only for themselves but for the members of their families who have not been in the habit of using spirits, are only frustrating the wishes of the Commission and bringing nearer the time when quantities must be still further reduced.

It should always be kept in mind that a condition of obtaining a permit is that it is not transferable. The permit system will only function satisfactorily if this condition is rigidly obeyed.

Further, the fact that a permit enables its holder to purchase a specified quantity is not an invitation to buy that quantity. Quite the reverse is the case. It represents the maximum which any permit-holder can buy, and the earnest effort of everyone should be directed towards avoiding the purchase and use of that maximum.

One of the principal purposes of the permit is to ensure that during these difficult days and those that lie ahead, our Provincial system of liquor sales will not be jeopardised. Something of sacrifice or self-discipline may be entailed, but calm consideration will amply demonstrate that by comparison with surrounding circumstances, and in the conditions which prevail, very little is asked. It should be promptly and willingly granted by every loyal citizen.

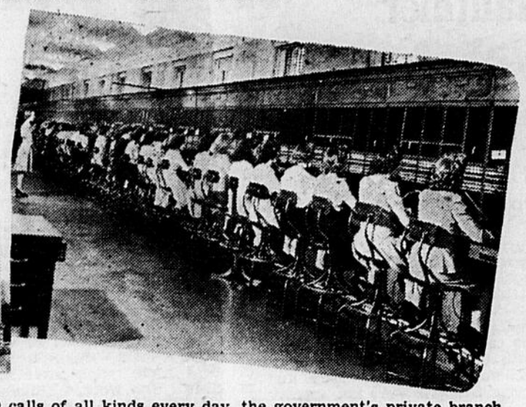
OTTAWA—BUSY WARTIME TELEPHONE CENTRE!



Since the beginning of the war, the Dominion Government's telephone switchboard (left) has been extended from eight operators' positions to 25; the Ottawa dial telephone building (centre) has been expanded as telephones in service rose from 39,000 to 54,000; and out-of-town messages handled by the capital's long distance switchboard (right) have jumped from 37,000 a month to 100,000.

That, in brief, is the story of wartime Ottawa. Serving over 7,000 telephones and handling 110,000 calls of all kinds every day, the government's private branch exchange today is large enough to serve a city the size of Kingston.

New long distance facilities have also been provided between Ottawa and Washington, New York, the Maritimes, and the Prairies. Circuits to Montreal have increased from 19 to 52, those to Toronto from 12 to 48. Altogether, voice channels leading from the city have jumped from 114 to 203.

What the C.C.F. Plans To Do With Canada

"It Sure Is A Honey"

Article No. 7

Some of us in our younger days have been known to say foolish things and to depart from them in later life as we gain experience and common sense. In its attitude towards the present war the C.C.F. has occupied an unfortunately youthful position, most of the record of which, the editor imagines, the leaders of the C.C.F. would give their very eye teeth to escape from. The socialist external policy laid down in "Social Planning for Canada," the authentic literature of the Socialist Party for Canada, the product mainly of Professor Frank Scott of McGill University, who at present is National Chairman of the C.C.F., is a policy of open neutrality.

In this book they say that they are much more interested in staying out of a war than in preserving world peace.

The editor does not intend to seek for one moment to hold the leaders of the C.C.F. Party to the strictest of accountability for their pre-war attitude. When we quote what they say—though we imagine that some of them are good and sorry for it—it is solely to show that it is possible for the C.C.F.-Socialists to be, in some highly important matters wholly wrong. The point is that if they were wrong then—as they so evidently were—they can be and probably are just as wrong now in most other important aspects of socialist doctrine.

Let us take a look at what they said in anticipation of this war. This is what appears at pages 521, 522 and 523 of the book, Social Planning for Canada:

"Canada has a strong interest in European stability and prosperity. We desire a Europe which enjoys a high and secure standard of living, where we shall find a good market for our products. But we ought to have learnt from everything that has happened since 1914 that sending Canadian troops to fight on one side in a European war is no contribution to European stability or prosperity. Europe will eventually have to reach a healthier balance of power among her states than exists at present, but there is not the slightest reason to believe that we can assist in the process towards this healthier condition by throwing our weight into one side or the other of the balance. This is one of the cases where the patient can only be cured by his own exertions. We should therefore make clear to London and to Geneva that we intend to fertilize no more crops of poppies blooming in Flanders' fields.

"This is admittedly a somewhat negative policy. By adopting it we frankly proclaim that we are for the moment putting more stress upon keeping out of war than upon preserving world peace. But the plain fact is that a big war is more than likely now, and that a policy of neutrality seems just as possible for us, as it does for the United States. In a world at war we should inevitably suffer, but it will certainly cost us less to stay out than to go in. We should serve notice now that we intend to remain neutral, and prepare ourselves for such a position by adopting in advance neutrality legislation of the kind proposed to the United States Senate by the Nye Committee on Armaments.

"Unhappily it is not only in Europe that war threatens. The bankruptcy of both the League and the Kellogg Pact means that nothing can now stop further Japanese aggression in China except the intervention of the United States. It has been a cardinal feature of American policy for the last two generations to maintain an open door in China for American commercial expansion. The big navy policy of the present American government points to a collision sooner or later with Japan in the Pacific, and this would affect us in Canada more directly than troubles in Europe. It is a hopeful sign that many Americans are arguing that the American stake in China is not worth the cost of a great war, but the inherent drive of American capitalism for overseas markets may force a conflict. The Canadian people as a whole have no more interest in this American imperialism than they have in British imperialism, and we must try to keep from being entangled in its operations."

These Utopian socialists were living in a little world of their own. Doubtless they have now awakened but their intentions were good and undoubtedly they are keenly humanistic. We must give them credit for that. Let us quote again from page 523:

"At the same time, while the immediate urgency is to concentrate on keeping out of the wars that threaten, we must work for a world which is genuinely based upon the collective organization of security . . . But the best contribution we can make in such a direction is to establish a socialist commonwealth within our own borders."

It is not necessary to seek to prejudice the socialist case by pointing out that while many of the rest of us were getting alarmed for the future of our freedom, these socialists, acknowledging to themselves that another big war was in the making, at the same time blinded themselves with the idea that we could retain our freedom and our national existence by refusing to fight for it.

We have said that some of the boys would give their eye teeth not to be on record as they are in the thusiasm of youth is a strange thing light of the present war, but the en- and E. B. Jolliffe, young Ontario leader of the C.C.F., told his party's last annual banquet:

"The C.C.F. policy in Ontario would enable the citizens of the province to make a far more effective contribution to the winning of the war."

From the paragraphs we have quoted above on C.C.F. foreign policy, our readers can judge for themselves just what contribution Canada would be making to the war under the C.C.F.

The only point, as we have said before, about this article is to prove that like Mayor LaGuardia, the C.-C.F.-Socialists can make mistakes—and they can also be likened to Mayor LaGuardia who said of his mistakes: "When I make one it sure is a honey."—The Canadian Statesman, Bowmanville, Ont.

to eastern provinces for feeding will double 1942 figures, and probably reach 100 million bushels. Government pays cost of freight from Ft. William east, thus they buy at Ft. Wm. prices. He also said the reason there will be no subsidy on corn this year is because fertilizer is short, has to be distributed largely in connection with grass and other grain crops.

Widely quoted in the press was an article on political union with the U.S.A., appearing in London Free Press. In brief it opposed union because "the British system is best; there is greater respect for law and order under it; there is a greater future under the British Commonwealth of Nations than becoming the 49th state in the Union.

West coast members like Mr. A. W. Neill, have been particularly anxious for the government to say what will be done with Japanese nationals after the war. There are, roughly, 9,000, a third still subjects of Japan; another third naturalized; remainder born in Canada. Mr. King said the policy must depend upon the times and the situation prevailing, to be, maybe, related and co-ordinated with the same problem facing the United States.

Government was sharply queried on the European refugee question. Canada will co-operate in recommendations of the Bermuda conference, the P.M. told the House; said little could be done now, shipping being such a vital factor. ". . . best way to save these helpless people is to win the war quickly." Our total immigration from April, 1933 to March, 1942 was 39,000, mostly refugees and thousands others "temporarily admitted."

Home front quickies: Owing to short supply of allied nations, such seeds as alfalfa, red clover, alsike from 1943 Canadian crop badly needed. Farmers asked to harvest, save as much as possible, sell at ceiling through usual channels . . . formerly only bought in Britain, U.S.A., for the first time, we now have delivered, Made-In-Canada, 50 special operating tables for use on naval vessels, a million dental burs for drilling teeth . . . total value of contracts and commitments on Canadian and United Kingdom accounts by Munitions & Supply neared nine billion dollar mark end of June. Don't kid yourself, Canada is pulling its load.

There was a lump in my throat. Other morning watched national film board crew shoot scene for a documentary film. Wave after wave of soldiers, airmen, C.W.A.C's., Wrens, air-girls marching down the massive, broad steps of the House of Commons toward the cameras; khaki, blue, white; six abreast, arms swinging, proud of themselves and the historic background. Canada's thrilling youth in uniform. You might see your own boy or girl in that film some place, some day.

You asked about bicycles. I'm told present intention not to increase number manufactured. No change in number of models till end of war." "We have developed a wartime model, expect to be able to continue its production as it represents the barest essential for cheap rtansportation," is the statement.

No increase in butter ration, officials say. Your little meal-time pat works for victory. Increased stocks not abnormal, but consumption higher. Every time a coupon comes due, they have to provide for 5,700,000 lbs. weekly. To build up reserve stocks for winter, as production lags, they need at least 70 million pounds.

Here's news. Pacific coast salmon, a favourite food, will likely be lower in price than otherwise, and if the run is good supplies will be available for Canadian tables. Prices Board, fishermen and department have come to an agreement. Previous order setting maximums and price to fishermen revoked.

Scouting Around

By Lorne Barnewall V . . . B.P.

Typical of the majority of groups throughout the rest of Canada, the 1st Huntingdon Troop closed up for the summer months. That is the time when it is more up to the individual Scout's own initiative to go out and do Scoutlike things rather than a group project. In this respect I naturally refer to camping and hiking. Two Scouts can go out on 1st Class Journey, under sealed orders of course, which the Scoutmaster gives them. Only two can go along at a time. This test is one of the most important parts of 1st Class work.

This type of weather affords much opportunity for those of you who would try out for athlete's badge, tracker's, pioneer's, master-at-arms, and similar others.

Did you know that Canadian Scouts are going to make contributions toward rehabilitation of Scouting throughout Europe after the war. One of these will be to supply the publication of "Scouting for Boys" in the Polish, Netherlands, Flemish, Norwegian, Czech, and French languages.

John Bingley will be glad to hear that one of his friends from Woodlands Troop, Douglas Cooke, now a Knight of Tamara, left last week for Camp Yawgoog, Rockville, R.I., for two weeks as an exchange guest of United States Scouting. He will have an opportunity of visiting New York City and meeting Sir Godfrey Haggard, and be a guest of the Canadian and British Clubs. He won't be alone, though, for he will have seven other Montreal boys to keep him company.

Well, since there isn't any further highlighting events, I think I'll let this column go to bed, but before closing, let me remind you good lads who anticipate going on overnight camping trips and parking on private property, first get permission, then remember what B.-P. would tell you, on breaking up camp always leave behind you two things:

1st—Nothing.
2nd—Your thanks to the owner of the ground.

Till next week.—Chief.

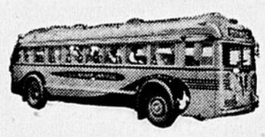
WAR TIME BUS TRAVEL ADVICE



DON'T TRAVEL ANYWHERE, ANYTIME

—Unless It Is Absolutely Necessary!

Buses and bus drivers have war jobs to do, supplying essential service to war industries and the armed forces. Please don't travel, unless you have to.

DON'T TRAVEL AT WEEK-ENDS

If it is absolutely necessary for you to go somewhere, please do not go or return on Saturday or Sunday, unless it is quite impossible for you to travel at any other time.

Above all, do not wait for the last bus on a Saturday or Sunday evening. Members of the active forces, men and women, must have first call on all available bus services for week-end leaves. There may not be accommodation for you.

START VACATIONS IN MID-WEEK

Perhaps you are going home to spend vacation doing Farm Commando work, or you may have some other genuine reason for requiring holiday transportation.

Please remember that, even if there were plenty of rubber and gasoline for civilian travel, there are not enough buses and there are not enough drivers, to serve all those who prefer to start their vacations at week-ends.

Plan yours to begin on any mid-week day, Monday to Thursday.

From now until Victory, the United Nations will need every ounce of rubber and of gasoline. Only ESSENTIAL travel should be undertaken in Wartime.

This WAR is a family affair...

CANADA'S FOOD RULES

MILK—Adults: one-half pint. Children: more than one pint. And some cheese.

FRUITS—One serving of tomatoes daily, or of a citrus fruit, or of tomato or citrus fruit juices, fresh, canned, or dried.

VEGETABLES—(In addition to potatoes, of which you need one serving daily)—Two servings daily of vegetables, preferably leafy green, or yellow, and frequently raw.

CEREALS and BREAD—One serving of a whole grain cereal and four to six slices of Canada-approved bread, brown or white.

MEAT, FISH, EGGS, etc.—One serving a day of meat, fish or meat substitutes. Liver, heart or kidney once a week. Eggs, at least three or four weekly.

PLUS OTHER FOODS YOU WISH

ON the women of Canada rests the responsibility of Canada's health, strength and fighting energy. Good food in abundance is one of our most powerful war weapons. But much depends on how that food is stored and cooked. A balanced diet calls for vitamins; the preservation and serving of vitamins calls for right methods.

So keep your electrical kitchen equipment in good working order. Few articles can now be replaced, but all can be repaired. See your local electrical dealer to-day and have him check those appliances which are not in perfect working order.

THE Shawinigan WATER & POWER CO.

LET'S ALL DO MORE TO WIN THE WAR

BEFORE THE WAR: Piling the family into the car to go for a drive, or a picnic, was lots of fun.

TODAY: Gasoline is too valuable to waste on pleasure-driving. A picnic in your back-yard can still be loads of fun for the whole family.

Our boys overseas are certainly not having any picnic. They have sacrificed plenty for us. Here, at home, we should cheerfully accept every sacrifice we are asked to make to help get this war over . . . and won! Saving gas is one of them. After all, there's plenty of fun to be had in our own back-yard!

SOFTBALL—

Highlights of the past week in the softball world included two league games being played, both at Parc Sauvé, in Valleyfield. Last Thursday night saw the sometimes called "Gentlemen in Khaki" centre team up against Garde Champlain. The game started with L/Cpl. Doug. Beaupit pitching and our little star Pte. Bill Barry behind the plate, giving Doug. the signals. Doug. pitched an excellent game, with of course, plenty of support as usual, from the infield. Starring in last week's game was Quartermaster Sergeant Al. Powers, better known to the fans as "Fat Boy". They aren't far wrong, I heard one of the boys say. However, Al. did play a good game at his usual position of short stop, with lots of covering up by Pte. Jim Fleming, playing 3rd base, better known as the "Goon". Corporals Jack MacIntyre and Verne Brown also showing lots of strength behind the bat. The game's final score was Army 9, Garde Champlain 7.

Tuesday night, this week, saw the boys back at Parc Sauvé, this time playing Hotel Mallette, of Valleyfield. This team is well known, as they have as manager, the crowd's favourite, Lucien Leduc. However, we don't know where some of those players come from, but Tuesday saw the Army get beat 12-4. It must have been just one of our bad nights. Also we were short some of our regulars such as Pte. Joe Kavanagh, Pte. Ray Marshall (The Kid). These shortages, plus our friend Cpl. Tommy Osborne, who pitched a fair game, but seemed somehow just not on the beam, may have been the cause. Watch those late nights Tom.

The Centre team at present, has won eight games and lost 5. We have one more league game to play before the play-offs. This game is against D.I.L., of Nitro, and weather permitting, it will be played on Thursday of this week. On our home diamond opposite the Log Lodge. We understand D.I.L. won at Nitro on Tuesday night, against the Army T.C. 47. So Thursday should see some good ball. Manager, Sgt. George Tolhurst has a few changes to make, due to conditions beyond our control, but still says he will get that cup which is at stake for the league's winning team.

TENNIS—

Monday night this week saw a tennis tournament on the new courts, at the Barracks, the Officers vs. the Sergeants. Some very good players were seen in action in this tournament, namely Major J. H. Molson, who plays a very steady and scientific game. He really has his opponents running around that court trying to return that Molson cut.

Lt. S. E. Richardson showed excellent form in winning his set, also "By the gee's" Sgt. Geo. Clary in charge of building the courts, plays a very puzzling game, very puzzling. His opponents don't know whether the ball is going over the net or under the net. The tournament ended with the Officers winning two sets and the Sergeants two. As the courts have just been completed recently we will see plenty of action very shortly.
