MANCHURIAN GOVERNMENT INSISTS THAT CHINESE LEAVE TERRITORY

Administration Protests Entry of Dr. Wellington Koo With League Commission—Indignation Over Nanking Denunciation of Pu-Yi Regime Given as Cause of Action—Japan Plans to Strengthen Military Forces in Manchuria and Korea.

OKYO, April 4.—Henry Pu-Yi's new regime in Manchuria intends to order officials of the Chinese Government to keep out, the Japanese Consul at Chang Hun reported today to the Foreign Office here.

First, the Manchukuo Government of the young former boy emperor plans to protest the entry of Dr. Wellington Koo, the former Chinese Foreign Minister, into the country with the League of Nations investigating commission, when it proceeds there, the Consul reported, and officials were understood also to be drafting a note to send to Nanking, declaring all Chinese officials are unwelcome.

Dr. Koo is acting Chinese assessor with the League investigating commission. The cause of the ban, as reported by the Consul, is indignation over Nanking's denunciation of the Pu-Yi regime and its refusal to consider Manchuria as anything other than still part of China.

In the meantime, General Sadno Araki, Minister of War, prepared to ask the cabinet tomorrow to authorize sending two army brigades to Manchuria to replace Korean units sent there during the campaign last year.

This will give Japan a total of five divisions in Manchuria and adjacent Korea, three in Manchuria and two just across the border. There are also several groups of auxiliaries of the Manchuria divisions.

Tokyo gave a hero's welcome today to Lieutenant-General Tokutomi Koto, commander of the 11th division, and Major-General Mukaya, commander of the 24th brigade, when they returned from Shanghai with their troops.

BROWNLEE AGAIN OPPOSED MORATORIUM FOR ALBERTA

Warns Province's Unemployment Problem Would Be Greatly Increased if Such a Plan Was Adopted.

EDMONTON, April 4.—Warning that the province's unemployment problem would be greatly increased if a moratorium is adopted was sounded by Premier J. E. Brownlee in the Alberta Legislature Saturday. The premier vigorously opposed a resolution put forth by J. C. Moyer, Independent, Drumheller, proposing a moratorium for Alberta.

Premier Brownlee also declared that adoption of such a proposal would destroy present sources of credit while it would mean that the province would have to shoulder burdens now carried by the banks. Debate was adjourned.

DISPUTE OVER SHAVING ENDS IN SHOOTING

Montreal Italian Badly Wounded Following Argument With Father Over Preparation of Lather in Saucer.

MONTREAL, April 4.—The proper method of mixing lather appears to be a vital question for Montreal Italians as Frank Gangarossa, twenty-five year old resident of Montana street lies in a local hospital in a critical condition and his father is held on a charge of attempted murder. The shooting of the young man followed an argument over the use of a saucer instead of a shaving mug for mixing lather.

The shooting took place at the Gangarossa home, Frank Gangarossa was preparing to shave himself and was using a saucer in which to make soap. When his father noticed that, he is said to have reproached his son and an argument ensued. During the argument, in which Mrs. Gangarossa interfered, the police say, the elder Gangarossa ran into the bedroom and remained there for a few minutes.

Frank Gangarossa had finished shaving and entered his father's room when Mrs. Gangarossa heard the report of a revolver and a cry. She rushed into her husband's bedroom and there saw her son lying on the floor and blood was streaming from a wound in the left side.

The elder Gangarossa, the police say the woman told them, was standing over the young man holding a revolver in his right hand and was kicking him. He then raised the revolver once more, the detectives claim, when Mrs. Gangarossa grabbed his right arm and held him back. The mother then summoned a nearby doctor who called the police.

REPORT TERMED GROUNDSLESS SAINT JOHN, N.B., April 4.—A report from Fredericton that there is a possibility of Mr. Justice Grimmer, Saint John, retiring from the Supreme Court Bench of New Brunswick to accept the chairmanship of the Workmen's Compensation Board was termed groundless in authoritative circles here Saturday. Premier C. D. Richards had been mentioned as a possible successor to Mr. Justice Grimmer's place on the Bench.

GRAF ZEPPELIN SLIGHTLY DAMAGED IN TAKING OFF

Delay Occasioned in Start of Flight to South America by Rip in Side of Covering.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, April 4.—The Graf Zeppelin, veteran of several nonstop flights from here across the Atlantic to Pernambuco, Brazil, was forced to postpone a scheduled flight today when, in taking off, a great rent, thirty-five feet long, was torn in the hull.

The start was made at 5:05 a.m. Less than an hour later persons at the aerodrome were surprised to see the ship returning. It circled for some time and landed at 6:32.

The Zeppelin works issued a statement declared that because of the great difference in temperature the ship rose slowly, causing the hull to swipe a radio tower.

An inspection by Dr. Hugo Eckener, the Graf's commander, and other officials, showed that the gas bags were not damaged and the tear not serious, but it was stated the flight would be postponed until tomorrow.

SENSATIONAL TRIAL OPENS IN HONOLULU

United States Society Woman and Two Naval Men Face Charge of Second Degree Murder.

HONOLULU, April 4.—With police guard surrounding the judiciary building to keep the curious away, trial of the most sensational criminal case in the history of Honolulu opens in a little court room in that gray stone structure today.

The case is held by R. W. Bruhn, Minister of Public Works. Discussing the matter here Saturday, Mr. Bruhn said the matter would be pressed by British Columbia representatives at a conference which will be held in Ottawa, British Columbia, he said, will ask the right to refuse admittance to non-resident unemployed men who would obviously become a charge on the public. He hopes that some measure of protection may be afforded.

HUGO KAUN, COMPOSER, DEAD BERLIN, April 4.—Hugo Kaun died Saturday, aged 69, of a heart attack. He was one of Germany's best known composers of choral music and oratorios, but he also wrote five operas, three symphonies, half a dozen string quartets and instrumental soli.

CHURCH OFFICIALS WILL DISCUSS FABRIQUES BILL Measure Places Certain Restrictions on Financial Operations of Ecclesiastical Authorities.

QUEBEC, April 4.—His Excellency Archbishop Villeneuve of Quebec has called a meeting of the representatives of the various parishes, church wardens and trustees for May 1st for the purpose of discussing the terms of the Fabriques Bill, which was passed at the last session of the provincial Parliament. The measure places certain restrictions upon the financial operations of ecclesiastical authorities in the different parishes of the province owing to the fact that a number of parishes were facing difficulties through loans without proper supervision.

PREMIER LYONS ADVISES IRELAND TO USE CAUTION Cablegram from Australian Premier to De Valera Warns Against Danger of Breaking Imperial Bonds.

CANBERRA, Australia, April 4.—Premier J. A. Lyons of Australia cabled today to President Eamonn De Valera of the Irish Free State, expressing the hope the Free State Government might take no action which would endanger the existing unity of the British Commonwealth of Nations or the relationship between the Free State and her sister Dominions and the United Kingdom.

ANOTHER NEW INDUSTRY FOR CANADA MONTREAL, April 4.—Another new industry has been obtained for this city, according to an announcement made last night by Norman Holland, Industrial Commissioner. This is the Altorfer Brothers Company of Peoria, Ill., manufacturers of washing machines since 1909.

This company, after months of consideration, has chosen the city of Montreal for a plant.

PRINCE'S RANCH SCORES CALGARY, Alta., April 4.—Crusader, sturdy Clydesdale from the Prince of Wales' ranch near High River, Alta., captured the championship in the Clydesdale stallion class at the Calgary spring show. Horses between the age of four and seven years were eligible for this event. Princeton Benefactor, another Clydesdale stallion owned by the Prince of Wales, captured third place.

DELEGATES TO TRADE PARLEY ARE SELECTED Leaders in Indian Commercial and Political Life Chosen to Attend Imperial Economic Conference.

NEW DELHI, India, April 4.—Announcement was made in the Legislative Assembly today that Sir Atal Chandra Chatterjee, a member of the Council of India since 1931 and High Commissioner for India in the United Kingdom from 1925 to 1931, would head the Indian delegation to the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa in July.

Other members of the delegation will be R. K. Shanmukham Chetty, prominent lawyer and member of the Legislative Assembly, Sir Padamji Pestonji Ginnawla, well known authority on economics and a former president of the Indian Tariff Board, Sir George Paine, a member of the Executive Council of the Viceroy, the Earl of Willington, in charge of the commerce and railway departments, Haji Abdullah Haroon Sahibzada and Samad Khan.

UPWARD TREND IN CANADIAN INDUSTRY SEEN Latest Government Statistics Show Slight Increase in Industrial Production Throughout Canada.

OTTAWA, April 4.—Latest available Government statistics at the end of the first quarter of the present year indicate that the general industrial and economic conditions of the Dominion are on an upward trend. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics index of industrial production for February shows a slight increase over the preceding month as compared with a decline of approximately two per cent in the corresponding period of 1931. This index of industrial production indicates the composite trend of forestry, mining, manufacturing and construction.

Substantiating these figures, manufacturing industries reported on March 1 an increased employment of 5,500 persons over the preceding month. The most pronounced recovery in employment in manufacturing industries took place in textile factories. Iron and steel work also showed important seasonal gains and considerable increased activity was recorded in leather, lumber, food, nonferrous metal and beverage factories. The increase in manufacturing employment was not however sufficiently large to offset the seasonal decrease in employment in out door industries.

Bank debits showed a gain of 9.5 per cent in February over the preceding month, after seasonal adjustment. A gain of nearly 60,000 k.w.h. in the average daily output of electricity is reported for February, bringing the average daily total to 45,852,000 k.w.h. While a seasonal contraction in the value of retail sales, amounting to five per cent, was shown in February, the decrease was not as great as in the corresponding months last year. Increased purchases of new cars and trucks and a decrease in automobile financing statistics, although the number of used cars being purchased still greatly predominates.

Increased activity in the volume of shares traded on the Montreal and Toronto stock exchanges, despite spurt in value, was recorded in February. Sales recorded in the last week of March were considerably greater than in the preceding week.

STIMSON SAILS FRIDAY WASHINGTON, D.C., April 4.—Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of State, will sail next Friday to assume his position as chairman of the United States Delegation at the Geneva Disarmament Conference.

Mr. Stimson plans to remain in Geneva only a few days. After a brief survey of conditions he will return to this country with Hugh Gibson, Ambassador to Belgium.

Secretary Stimson's visit abroad, it was said authoritatively, has "no other purpose than the work of the conference."

A MYSTERIOUS TRIP WAS MADE BY LINDBERGH

Returned Shortly After Midnight from Twenty-Four Hour Trip Which Police Refused to Discuss.

HOPEWELL, N. J., April 4.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh became today an active figure in the hunt for his stolen baby.

His own automobile, with the Colonel at the wheel, slid into the garage at his Sourland Hills estate shortly after midnight, ending a mysterious twenty-four hour trip which Lindbergh and the state police declined absolutely to discuss.

"We will answer no questions as to the whereabouts of any member of the Lindbergh family," was the way state police put it.

On a back road near the estate the Lindbergh car had met a machine carrying newspapermen, and stopped.

"Are you police officers?" Col. Lindbergh asked.

The reporters identified themselves and asked him where he had been.

"Thank you," Col. Lindbergh replied, ignoring their questions, and drove on to his Sourland home.

The Associated Press had learned earlier that Col. Lindbergh left the estate by motor Saturday night. Where he spent the twenty-four hour period, however, remained a secret.

An amphibian plane landed at Gosnold Island near Martha's Vineyard, Mass., yesterday. Three men, two described as elderly and one as young, disembarked and made inquiries concerning a boat they referred to as the "Sallye." No such boat had been seen in those waters, and after a two hour stopover, during which the men lunched, they flew away. One of the men was frequently addressed as "Colonel" and one of the others as "Doctor." Residents of the island said none of the men resembled Colonel Lindbergh.

Significance was attached to the plane's flight to Gosnold Island in view of the fact that John H. Curtis, Norfolk, Va., shipbuilder and one of the three Norfolk "Intermediaries" acting in the kidnaping case, left Norfolk Saturday on a motor boat believed connected with the kidnaping. Neither of his two associates at Norfolk, Rear-Admiral Guy H. Burrage and the Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock, would comment.

The possibility that Col. Lindbergh himself may have been at Martha's Vineyard yesterday was not overlooked, though it was without confirmation.

State police revealed yesterday that they are pursuing their search in the belief that Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., is still alive.

"The attitude of the police must be that the baby is alive and well until the contrary is proved," said Col. N. Schwarzkopf, superintendent of the state police. "The police must persist in the primary objective, namely, to accomplish the return of the baby alive and well."

Col. Lindbergh's trip over Sunday was the first he has made from the estate so far as is known, since his (Continued on Page 4)

THIRTY-FIVE PER CENT OF TOTAL WHEAT EXPORT WAS FROM CANADA

Argentina Was Second Exporting Country, United States Third, Australia Fourth, Russia Next—United Kingdom Shown to Be "By Far Premier Grain-Purchasing Country of the World."

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—Canada shipped thirty-five per cent of the total wheat exports of the world in the years 1927-28 to 1929-30, the United States Department of Commerce discovers in a brochure on the "international marketing of surplus wheat." Its exports were the next largest, shipping twenty-two per cent, the United States came third with twenty per cent, Australia ten, Russia, six and all other countries seven.

The United Kingdom is "by far the premier grain purchasing country of the world. The United Kingdom imports about seventy-five to eighty per cent of its total annual consumption which, based on the average of the past five years, represents approximately twenty-seven per cent of the total overseas movement. Its crops always fall far short of supplying its enormous demands and it is always in the market for wheat. France, Italy, Germany and Spain on the other hand, frequently have large crops of their own, so their takings vary from year to year.

Of a total Canadian export of wheat in 1930-31, amounting to 228,480,000 bushels, the United Kingdom took 135,118,000 bushels, which was 30,000,000 bushels more than in the previous year but considerably less than in '26, '27 or '28.

The department lists a six year average for United Kingdom imports of wheat and flour as giving Canada thirty-two per cent of the trade, the United States twenty-five, Argentina eighteen and Australia twelve. It notes that "before the introduction of Canadian wheat into world markets the hard spring wheat from the United States was considered the best of choice. Today the Canadian grown hard red spring wheat commands the premium."

Discussing shipment of Canadian wheat the report says considerable quantities of the deficiency countries, flows through the North Atlantic ports of the United States. "The average for the past six years shows that forty-nine per cent of Canada's total exports of wheat and flour so benefited United States railroads, grain elevators and shipping agencies."

Noting the opening of the Churchill route it remarks "while the season of navigation is short, barely two months, there is a tremendous saving in rail freight, the outlets in the past for the regions that this new port can tap being Vancouver on the west and Montreal on the east. While effects, if any, this new gateway to European markets will have on the movement of Canadian grain through the North Atlantic ports of the United States is too problematical for discussion at this early date.

The report pessimistically estimates while wheat production has increased 20.5 per cent since the Great War, the population of the world for a practically comparable period has increased only 11.92 per cent.

It also observes in "recent years Russia has re-entered the world markets and if its performance of the last two years continues, it again must be considered as an important factor in the international movement of wheat."

PRIVY COUNCIL WILL HEAR DAVIS APPEAL THIS TIME

Only Canadian Case Listed for Hearing Before Judicial Committee of Privy Council.

LONDON, April 4.—The only Canadian appeal listed for hearing before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in the ensuing term is the Davis appeal, and appeal by Lady Eleanor Davis and Mortimer Davis, Jr. from rulings in the Quebec courts against their action to remove Lord Shaughnessy and Alexander Reaser as trustees and executors under the will of the late Sir Mortimer Davis.

An important case is the appeal from Australia which raises the question of whether the Parliament of New South Wales has power to abolish the State Legislative Council without first taking a referendum. The Labor Government of the state has charged the Upper House with obstruction on many occasions, but the Governor refused to sanction bills abolishing the Upper Chamber.

SHAW DEPLORES RESTORING OF ANCIENT FEUDS South Africa and Ireland Receive Cynical Comments from Mouth of Returning Bard.

SOUTHAMPTON, England, April 4.—George Bernard Shaw arrived today from his winter sojourn in Cape Colony, South Africa, with Shavian remarks about South Africa in particular and Ireland in general.

Here's what he told the reporters who met him at the gangplank. "South Africa does not know the war is over—the Boer War. The British and Dutch are still conducting a lively feud.

"The Dutch are a remarkable people mentally and physically, but religiously they live in the seventeenth century and believe in a brimstone hell. The Empire ought to send a few missionaries to them. I have done all I can.

"There is a terrible native question in South Africa and no place for poor white people. The only thing for poor whites is the lethal chamber.

"Ireland is like South Africa—the Irish don't know the war is over. The Irish Republican Army still thinks Ireland is enslaved and must go on being 'agin' the Government."

C.P.R. TELEGRAPHERS COME TO TERMS ABOUT WAGE CUT Negotiations Completed Over Week-End and Ten Per Cent. Cut Announced.

MONTREAL, Que., April 4.—Negotiations between the Canadian Pacific Railway and commercial telegraphers in regard to reduction in wages were completed over the week-end when the latter agreed to accept a ten per cent cut. The following official statement was issued:

"Negotiations have been satisfactorily concluded between the committee of the commercial telegraphers and clerks of the Canadian Pacific Railway system and the company for a reduction of ten per cent in rates of pay for a period of one year as from May 1, next."

Verdict Given that Edward Marjoribanks Took His Own Life While of Unsound Mind Caused by Overwork.

HALSHAM, East Sussex, England, April 4.—The coroner today returned a verdict that Edward Marjoribanks, brilliant young Conservative member of Parliament from the Eastbourne division, committed suicide Saturday night while not in his sound mind.

Young Marjoribanks, in his early 30's, was found shot to death in the billiard room in the home of his stepfather, Lord Hailsham. Relatives said he had been suffering from insomnia as the result of overwork.

The M.P. well over six feet, was one of the best looking men in the House of Commons, and his death caused a sensation in social and political circles.

Mr. Marjoribanks was the son of Archibald John Marjoribanks and the former Myssis Brown, of Nashville, Tenn. Mrs. Marjoribanks remarried later, becoming the wife of Douglas McGarel Hogg, later Lord Hailsham.

The young man was educated at Eton and Oxford and admitted to the Bar in 1924. He was first elected to Parliament in 1929 and was returned in the general election of last year.

WOMAN IS DECLARED LEGAL MOTHER OF FOSTER-SISTER CHICAGO, April 4.—It may sound like a riddle, but Mrs. Clara Schaubberger has become the legal mother of her foster-sister, who is her own child. Here's how:

When Mrs. Schaubberger and Paul Schaubberger were divorced last July she won the custody of Juanita, their seven-year-old daughter. Later the child's father consented to the child's adoption by her grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Munn, on condition that alimony be waived.

In this manner Juanita became her grandmother's foster-daughter and her mother's foster-sister. On Feb. 27, Mrs. Schaubberger was declared legal mother of her foster-sister.

Further Reductions Announced GENOA, Italy, April 4.—The Italian lines today followed those of the North Atlantic shipping lane in announcing passenger rate reductions. It will cut rates twenty per cent for first and second class passages and ten per cent for third class on vessels in North Atlantic service. South American rates will be unchanged.

MONTREAL TODAY DECIDES FATE OF TWO DOUGHTY POLITICAL FIGHTERS

Camillien Houde and Hon. Fernand Rinfret Chief Contenders for Mayoralty Honors—Which Group Will Control New Council Overshadowing Question in Montreal Civic Elections Today—Intensity With Which Campaign Was Waged Points to Huge Vote.

MONTREAL, QUE., April 4.—Two doxy political fighters today awaited the decision of the voters as to the next occupant of the chief magistrate's chair of Montreal. A new City Council was also being chosen.

Camillien Houde, leader of the Provincial Conservative party and present mayor, concluded his campaign for re-election last night. His principal opponent was a former Liberal Dominion Cabinet Minister, Fernand Rinfret, ex-Secretary of State.

Also seeking office of mayor were Seraphin Guinet, civil engineer, and O. L. Gingras, Labor.

The intensity with which the campaign was waged during the past eight days apparently pointed to a huge vote today. In all, the city had 212,538 duly qualified voters. Polls opened at 9 a.m. to close at 7 p.m.

Overshadowing all else in the aldermanic contest was the question as to which group would control the next City Council and elect the executive committee, a "cabinet" of five members. During Mayor Houde's first two-year term of office, from 1928 to 1930, he faced an antagonistic council. Then in 1930 he led his own slate into the field and was successful, capturing a majority of the thirty-five seats.

Today he was again at the head of his group, fifteen former aldermen and twelve new candidates being pledged to support him. Opposing his slate were ten "anti-Houde" members of the retiring council and a large number of new candidates.

Mr. Rinfret declared during his campaign he was leading no party and did not intend to interfere with the Council. He was in favor, he said, of "restoring" the position of mayor to what he interpreted the charter meant it to be. Under the charter, he claimed, the mayor was limited to honorary functions, with the right of making such suggestions as he saw fit. The mayor was not to be much less the hub of the administration, Mr. Rinfret said.

An elaborate plan of constructing subways and other engineering projects formed the basis of Mr. Guinet's plea for election. He desired, he said, to improve the city on a large scale, thereby providing work. Concentration on labor problems, lower electricity rates and revision of tramway schedules formed Mr. Gingras' chief planks.

Mayor Houde has engaged in a sturdy defence of his administration which he has called "the most industrious, efficient and 'up and going' one the city has ever had."

Unemployment conditions had caused it to make huge expenditures. He has accused Mr. Rinfret of being a political servant of Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Premier of the Province.

MANY EARLY HOUR ARRESTS MADE PROCEEDINGS LIVELY MONTREAL, Que., April 4.—Police cells were filled quickly this morning as a force of police officers swooped down on committee rooms, gambling resorts and other rendezvous for an early haul of seventy-five alleged impersonators as the Montreal electorate went to the polls to choose a mayor and council of aldermen.

A bright warm sun coaxed the voters out of their homes and indications pointed to an unusually heavy vote. The extra large squad of provincial police were on active duty at an early hour and made a long series of quick raids.

O. L. Gingras, Labor candidate for the mayoralty, said that the provincial police raised his committee room, refused to show him a warrant, and carried off all his election papers and lists.

Police claimed to have seized thousands of impersonators' cards in their raids.

MANY WOMEN DEPRIVED OF MONTREAL VOTING RIGHTS MONTREAL, Que., April 4.—Although the Quebec Legislature gave thousands of women the right to vote in municipal affairs, this amendment to the city charter was passed too late to allow them to have their names inscribed on the voters' lists and as a result they will have to wait another two years before exercising their newly won privilege.

Even as matters stand, many of the married women separate as to property and possessing the necessary qualifications to vote.

JUST TIE THESE GAY NEW SCARFS!

The role of the scarf is all important in a spring ensemble. With a black wool suit (left) the necessary touch of color is supplied by the white tulle de laine scarf dotted black. The dot itself is repeated in the background and black on the white. At right a dress featuring a gray and white pattern on a black background, shows a scarf of white maroon crested with gray. The hat is of a white and black taw braiding.

PARIS, April 4.—There are many reasons why the scarf, which is enjoying an unprecedented vogue at the moment, should have endured so long. The truth lies in the fact that it can no longer be considered as an accessory momentarily favored by the mode and its place in the scheme of fashion seems about as durable as any of the other important pieces of an ensemble.

So far as present styles are concerned, it might be slightly exaggerated to say that the scarf is indispensable, but in many cases the utility function it fulfills is very nearly akin to a necessity. It is therefore as much from a practical as from a decorative point of view that the scarf must now be considered, and the results obtained are all the stronger when the final impression conveyed is that both these practical and decorative aims are satisfied.

To take advantage of a necessity to create something agreeable to the eye is very tempting to any creator and this perhaps explains the almost infinite variety that can be found today in the scarf line. The fantasy they display, in spite of the fact that this has, at times, bordered on the eccentric, has now reached perfect proportions.

Much more so than any other accessory, the scarf must never be so blatant as to detract from the harmony of the costume. When you consider a sports suit, where the fantasy note is usually confined to the fabric, the scarf represents the direct complement to the ensemble. The question of equilibrium also finds itself solved automatically, especially if the scarf features the colors stressed in the costume.

A scarf, however, can also complement an ensemble without following its color scheme too religiously, especially so when the ensemble is uni-colored, in either light or dark shade. In such an instance, the scarf is necessarily called upon to supply a contrast, but here too arises a problem of color harmony which demands a perfect artistic eye.

If, on the other hand, the model is fashioned of fancy material and the monotonous effect of a matching scarf must be avoided, you then have to find a link, often furnished by the hat. This liaison between the hat and scarf is often further emphasized by harmonizing other accessories, such as bag and gloves.

Summer ensembles and sports clothes, particularly when they are of the all-white variety, need a vigorous touch of color to enliven them. The scarf intervenes here almost inevitably on several counts,—because of its decorative element, its suppleness and the fact that no two women wear it in exactly the same manner. It is a very personal accessory.

MYSTIC HOUSE WAS DESTROYED IN BAD BLAZE

Mr. R. Soule Dislocated Shoulder Fighting Flames Which Razed His Home to the Ground.

MYSTIC, April 4.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Soule was completely destroyed by fire on March 28th. Practically all the furniture and some clothing from the first story were saved, but the rest of the contents were destroyed.

During the day, a chimney fire had broken out, but this had been quickly subdued. That evening, Mr. Soule was returning home when he noticed that the roof of the building was ablaze. The whole structure was a mass of seething flames before any assistance could be summoned, and as a terrific gale was blowing at the time, the house was destroyed in a short time.

Mr. Soule sustained a dislocated shoulder when the floor beneath him gave way as he was fighting the blaze in the attic.

The family is at present staying with Mr. K. Smith, and much sympathy is extended them in their sad loss.

"COUNTRY DOCTOR" DISCOVERED GERM OF TUBERCULOSIS

MAN WHO REFUSED TO OPEN DOOR TO POLICE IS FREED

Judge Rules that Man's Act Did Not Constitute Offence of Interfering With Officers of Law.

QUEBEC, April 4.—Refusing to open a door at the knock of Liquor Commission Police, after it had been bolted for the night, does not constitute the offence of interfering with officers in carrying out their duties, Judge Demers decided in Sessions court here in connection with the case of the Quebec Liquor Commission against Captain Goulet, whose premises the police visited last week after 11 p.m. and found the door locked, Goulet refused to unbar the door to their summons and the charge was entered. Defence counsel contended that because Goulet refused to open the door of his own residence when he had locked it for the night, he could not be found guilty of interfering with the execution of the officers' duties, an opinion which was upheld by the judge.

Dr. Robert Koch . . . whose research made possible science's way on tuberculosis

Fifty years ago a group of doctors gathered in Berlin to hear an obscure little scientist tell how he had isolated a disease germ and had learned how to cultivate it for study.

Dr. Robert Koch had been a country doctor in East Prussia, and to the great scientists he addressed he must have seemed a presumptuous backwoodsman.

But Dr. Koch had brought his proofs with him and was able to show beyond dispute that he had discovered the dread germ of tuberculosis. Also, he revealed to his astounded listeners that he could make the germ grow in an artificial medium and had been able to stain it so that it could be put under a microscope.

Almost over night he became a greater figure than Pasteur, and today—on the fiftieth anniversary of his discovery—physicians and bacteriologists the world over are paying tribute to his genius.

Those who are carrying on the war against tuberculosis still use the fundamental methods of the early experiment made by Koch.

Dr. Koch became associated with the Imperial Health Bureau in Berlin, and after the scientist's death in 1910 this agency became the Robert Koch Institute. Dr. Koch never cared for the honors that the world sought to heap upon him, and he died in such poverty that a foundation had to be provided to keep his family from want.

Since the day of Dr. Koch's discovery, the ravages of this disease have been reduced to one-fourth of what they then were.

As to the presence of alcohol in the blood: A person is killed by an automobile and the driver is arrested. He alleges that the victim staggered and appeared to him to be under the influence of liquor. No one is there to contradict him, nor can anyone corroborate what he says. The police are perplexed. Analysis of the blood will leave no doubt in the mind of the jury of the driver's statement. It is possible to determine in very precise manner by this analysis the degree of intoxication of the victim. Likewise in the laboratories there can be made analyses of all stains to determine their nature. These chemical and biological analyses are made by expert chemists.

And now come to false signatures and writings, where in places there are surcharges of ink and in others the paper is scratched. The provincial laboratory possesses the most modern instruments for this purpose. The traces of ink are decipher the age of the writing; various types of inks and materials used for the manufacture of these inks; microphotographic instruments to determine the exact surcharge of ink; all types of graphometers for comparing identification of writing, etc.

By means of photography and microphotography the medico-legal expert can identify an instrument from the marks it will leave on a door or a broken piece of wood left at the scene of a robbery, an axe with the splinters found near a maliciously mutilated tree, and a number of other things.

The late Dr. Derome, like Dr. Fontaine, was particularly noted for his wide knowledge of ballistics. It is to the study of this science and its application that such experts have given the better part of their time in the last six years, and it can safely be said that great success has crowned their efforts. The ability of Dr. Derome in this matter was generally admitted, and the book which he published on the science of ballistics is authoritative.

In 1914 the Quebec Government created the Provincial Medico-Legal and Technical Police Laboratory and placed Dr. Derome at its head. The field became too great for one man and a chemist was appointed in the person of Mr. Franchère Pepin, who still holds that position. Dr. Rosaire Fontaine was also appointed as assistant to Dr. Derome. Now the laboratory is manned with a photographer and a number of technicians. For the present it is under the direct charge of Dr. Fontaine.

The Province of Quebec has one of the most up-to-date police technical laboratories in Canada. It regrets the loss of the late Dr. Wilfrid Derome, who by his energy and knowledge of science had been the principal factor in solving some of the most important crimes which occurred in the Dominion in recent years. In his laboratory Dr. Derome was assisted by Dr. Rosaire Fontaine, who has taken charge since Dr. Derome's death.

What is the work of the medico-legal expert and what aid can he give to the solution of crimes? This question is often asked by people reading in newspapers how, through the testimony of the medico-legal expert, an accused man is found guilty, and how through his aid a crime is quickly solved.

In medical law everyone knows that a medical examiner should be a doctor of medicine, but why must he know police technique? What has medicine to do with police work? It is thus explained: The medico-legal examiner, by his work, is needed in dealing with murders or attempted murders, suicides and fatal accidents. It remains for the medico-legal expert to establish the difference between a crime and an accident, or between a murder and a suicide. The scalpel of the physician will show that an apparent suicide committed with a firearm can be contradicted by the direction of the bullet in the last analysis. He can show that a person, though submerged in water, and bears centusions, was dead or alive before submersion; that a workman suffering from heart trouble who fell from a height was dead before the fall or died as a result of it.

The detectives keep count of the deductions of the medical examiner and conduct their investigation in the direction indicated by him. The medico-legal expert is not only a collaborator but natural counselor of the police. This is why medico-legal and police work are inseparable, so much so that in Europe professors of police technique are all doctors or internes. Looard, chief of the police technical laboratory in Lyons, France, who is considered one of the greatest investigators of modern times, is likewise a doctor. The Great Man is a man who lives a long way off. If you doubt this proposition go to any little town where resides a Great Man, and ask his neighbours; they will undeceive you. They will tell you he is a quiet, unpretentious fellow, and that all he wants is a cup of tea, some toast, two boiled eggs and quiet.

FIX OUR OWN FENCES FIRST.

British Columbia has already fallen in with objection to the St. Lawrence Deep Waterway when the Dominion is not financially able to undertake such a stupendously costly work.

The Beauharnois construction and the sale to Ontario of a vast horse-power production, has but whetted the appetite of our Western province for hydro-power to offset the challenge of industrial supremacy which Quebec has thrown out in recent years.

The struggle in Quebec is not so much to measure the economic advantage of ownership by individuals over that of public operation, but it rather lies as to which province shall provide the unlimited amount of electric power which our growing industries will require.

With the Long Sault rapids harnessed and other installations between Prescott and the Quebec border line, the Ontario capitalists feel they would stop the migration of industry to Quebec, where there are contented, competent and skilled workmen.

We have had domestic squalls with the projectors of electric power sites in Quebec, and have at times listened to demagogues who would hamper further development, but it is in the larger interest of the province, and of each municipality, to try and work in harmony with those who do and can continue to attract industries.

It is to the direct interest of every person of consequence in Sherbrooke that these petty quarrels should cease, and that we, too, join heartily in the quest for more industries. Over one hundred branch industries have been launched in Canada since the Canada First policy was put into force. Unfortunately we have not gotten a single one of these for Sherbrooke, for the business man prefers doing business with business men, rather than with an elective body of changing personnel.

The refusal of the City Council to even meet the Street Railway Company may have conserved the pride of the aldermen, but it was just another blow, another fore-shortening of our own noses so we could make faces at ourselves. It is to be hoped with the incoming Council some get-together team play can be arranged, so that we, too, may share in the oncoming building of new plants in Canada. With our solid front bristling with high-tariff walls and an Empire preference assured to our natural industries we can look forward to a sound revival in Canada within the year. But to attain our share we must proceed to envision the policy we need to follow and to do it courageously.

The St. Lawrence Waterway power above Beauharnois will be transported to Ontario and New York State. Again to our disadvantage. The border cities to the South are boasting about it already. Quebec is asked to contribute to its own undoing. Mr. Taschereau is right.

OUR TOURIST TRADE SHOULD GROW THIS YEAR.

Much of our tourist trade comes from the "See Canada First" movement which is accelerated by the high cost of exchange or the doubts cast on our dollars in the United States.

There has also been a falling off in the stream of visitors from below the border. Our American cousins have been hard hit by their bank failures, and though they come to see our country they have not so much money to spend, nor do they tarry as long with us as they did.

We have not advertised our hotels and beautiful watering places during the past year, and there has not been that brave effort to show that the cheaper hotel rates in Canada make it the most economic place for a motoring holiday.

In 1929 the United States' tourists spent four hundred millions in Canada. In 1930 they spent three hundred millions. In 1931 they spent but $250,000,000.

In 1932 we should make a determined effort to overcome the sales resistance, or the hard times in the United States by pointing out that a holiday in Canada costs half as much as it does in the United States. Thus would we be meeting the conditions with a strong argument.

Canada has no quarrel with the United States because of its high tariff policy. We have a fondness for our Neighbours, and we like to have the opportunity of showing them that the bonne entente is existent, even whilst we take measures to meet them in trade bargaining. Our visitors go away with a better understanding of us.

We have much to offer them in a country where all roads lead to Sherbrooke. We may even restore our circled look with the revival of the street car system ere the summer begins. We are at the gateway of the most beautiful touring country in the world, extending from the border line north to the circling of the Gaspé peninsula on the Perron highway.

WE WRITE WHAT WE BELIEVE, AND WITH CONVICTION.

A considerate correspondent says in a letter: "You would be the gainer if you would spare your opinions for yourself . . . sometimes." "I must remind you that people in our days are well informed, and many have travelled extensively, and they dislike to swallow things they really know are contrary to their belief."

Quite right, or quite often is he right. But what would my editorial column be to me or to my readers if I were modifying or modulating opinions which are sincerely believed and decisively expressed. An editor does not consider gain nor count loss if he has a message to convey.

We have no apologies to offer for any expression of opinion, past or present, for I think what I think, and like what I like, and take joy in owning my own newspaper that I may write what I think, and say what I like. Nor is there a line in the editorial columns for sale. When a man invests his all in a newspaper, surely he is not to be rebuked for being himself.

There is never in the Record a "nevertheless" and a "whereas," for behind the fifty years of studying journalism is the knowledge that the modifying adjectives are a bore to the reader. Nor care I whether the occasional reader refuses to swallow that which may disagree with him. For I wouldn't do it myself, and I read many papers which do not arouse an appetite, yet I continue to read them for the good that is in them.

Travelling for fifty years, visiting every town and city in North America, and in England, there remains only the thought that the world is too big for any one man to know in a single lifetime. But travelling does give one the appetite to swallow all that is soluble and digestible.

EDITOR'S NOTES.

Quebec dairymen produced 69,633,340 pounds of butter in 1931, but from New Zealand there was imported into Canada in the same year 13,000,000 pounds of butter. At the close of two years on July 28th, we still have the waning faith that some one of the one hundred and twenty-one promises will be carried out to the xyz point. There has been too much hawing and geeing, such as that $2,000 a year perquisite to Cabinet Ministers for the upkeep of their cars. We consider ourselves quite superior to any Cabinet Minister, and get along very nicely on $200 a year for the upkeep of a first-class puddlejumper. Let us have one sample of real reconstruction through economy and lessening of government cost, and that without visiting it all upon the poor government clerks throughout the country.

The first great Peace Congress held in Vienna in 1815, after a gory twenty years of strife in Europe was broken up by Napoleon's escape from Elba. Even as now the nations of Europe and America, shortly before all arrayed against Britain, were talking of disarmament and of permanent peace on earth. The Peace Congress at Geneva pursues its way whilst Asia is afire with both volcanic and smouldering war. Thus does History repeat itself, as told by King's Counsel McMillan in his book.

Empire trade unity, when once inaugurated, will right the exchange rate. It's coming is already doing the fiscal trick in New York. It was an error of judgment for Canada to borrow money in Gotham, just as it has been proven unwise to enter into any treaties made to look reciprocal.

A Yamaska voters' ballot cast in an election for the House of Commons weighs as much as eight and one-half men's votes in the St. Denis constituency in Montreal. Tow men in Yamaska and Bagot counties have as much weight and influence in Ottawa as sixteen voters in St. Denis, and each of the Yamaskans outweigh six men in Mount Royal, which constituency is looked upon as the most cultured center in all Canada.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From the Files of the Sherbrooke Record, April 4th, 1902.

The concert of the Ladies' Musical Club attracted a large audience. Contributions to the programme included Miss Wiggitt, Miss Bostwick, Mrs. J. M. Jencks, Miss Mitchell, Miss Edgell, Miss Morey, Mrs. McKinstry, Miss Caron, Miss Teresa Doherty, Miss Olivier, Mrs. William Morris, Messrs. Victor Lefebvre, Charles D. White and E. B. Cochrane.

T. M. Craig and N. G. Bray won the matches at the Sherbrooke Gun Club's first meet of the season. Other competitors were J. B. Goodhue; W. E. Loomis, A. B. Hood, W. B. Ingalls, C. G. Thompson and C. H. Clark.

Among visitors to the city were Fred T. Enright, of Montreal; Mrs. A. E. Beckett to visit her son, Merrill, at Bishop's School; George M. Howard to superintend the manufacture of explosives at Capelton.

On the way to a small fire at the residence of Henry Odell on Melbourne street, a chemical engine driven by Officer F. Couture was overturned and wrecked. The officer was injured, as was also the horse which drew the engine.

Interesting letters from Reginald Brookhouse, nephew of J. H. Partington, and R. F. Morkill, son of James F. Morkill, were published in the Record, describing their experiences in South Africa.

The year just passed having been a prosperous one for the woollen industry, employees of the Paton Mills were granted an increase in wages of from five to ten per cent.

Captain Fred H. Bradley announced his resignation from the command of his company in the 63rd Regiment.

Social and Personal

Mrs. Olive Mann is returning from Quebec today.

Miss E. A. J. Wilson, R. N., of Saranac Lake, N. Y., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Andrew Steele, Dufferin avenue.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wilcox, who was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilcox, Prospect street, during the Easter holidays, has returned to her home in Portland, Maine.

Mrs. Matthew Graham with her children, Master Neill and little Miss Peggy, Prospect street, returned last evening from Montreal, where they spent the Easter holidays, guests of Mrs. Graham's sisters, the Misses Isobel and Mary Alice Berry.

Miss Gertrude Chadsey, who spent the Easter holidays in town the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. T. Flaherty, Fulton avenue, returned to her home in Bedford on Saturday. Mrs. H. Desaulniers, of Windsor Mills, spent the past week-end at the same home.

Mr. James Mitchell, who has spent the Easter holidays at his home on Moore street, left this morning for Montreal en route for Port Hope, where he will resume his studies at Trinity College. The Misses Isobel and Louise Mitchell accompanied their brother to Montreal, where they will spend a day or so.

Mrs. A. A. Munster presided at the regular business meeting of the Junior Welfare League held at the MacKinnon Memorial on Friday afternoon. Following the reception of reports the nomination of officers for the ensuing year took place. At the close of the meeting afternoon tea was served.

The closing meeting for the season of the Young Women's Christian Association Badminton Club, was held on Saturday evening at the MacKinnon Memorial. Following a very enjoyable game, the members met in the club room for refreshments were served. Miss Ann Merrill acting as hostess. This year sports club organized only three months ago has most enthusiastically carried on during the winter months.

Under the co-sponsorship of Mrs. J. Keith Edwards, assisted by eighteen captains of the Sherbrooke Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary, a wonderfully successful tag-day. Working at Lansdowne Market on Friday, the indefatigable ladies continued their good work on Saturday, when they took possession of the city streets, and with very few exceptions every one wore the little "hats" showing that the wearer had done his "bit" to help the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Rumors flew early today that the baby's nurse, Betty Gow, left the estate last night in a state police car. This gave rise to reports that she had been taken elsewhere for further questioning. There was no confirmation, however, of any of these reports. The police have stated repeatedly that they are satisfied Miss Gow has told them all she knows that might be helpful in leading to the baby's return.

Major Charles H. Schoeffel of the state police landed last night at Southampton, England, on a mission connected with the kidnapping but disappeared without making any comment concerning his visit.

There has been no word in many days of several semi-official agencies which have been seeking the return of the baby independent of police. Morris Rosner (described as a man with valuable underground connections), Sully Spitalo and Irving Blitz (authorized by Col. Lindbergh as intermediaries presumably because they command the confidence of gangsters) and various private detectives.

The three Norfolk intermediaries, who hold no official status, but who have been the most active of all during the past week, had no progress to report.

Major Schoeffel has been dubbed "mystery man" by a host of newspaper men who have vainly sought some trace of him since he landed in England.

He entered Scotland Yard unrecognized and when he emerged a half hour later he drove rapidly away in a taxicab still unidentified by a large crowd which had gathered outside.

The New Jersey trooper saw Lord Treachard, the Police Commissioner, and the heads of the criminal investigation department while at the Yard.

The authorities there obviously were helping him maintain the secrecy with which he wished to surround his movements, and all they would say after the conference was: "He has been in communication with the Yard but no information regarding the nature of the communication must come from the New Jersey state police."

The plans of Major Schoeffel were not revealed, but the general impression was that he intended to go to Glasgow, Scotland, and persons in close touch with the authorities admitted that there was "little doubt" that his visit was associated with the Lindbergh kidnapping.

Glasgow is the home of the mother of Betty Gow, the nurse in the Lindbergh home. Miss Gow herself is native of Scotland and has been in the United States several years. It was she who first discovered that the Lindbergh baby was missing on the night of March 1st.

CONFERS WITH SCOTLAND YARD

LONDON, April 4.—Major Charles H. Schoeffel, of the New Jersey State Police, who came here in connection with the investigation of the kidnapping of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., visited Scotland Yard this morning and conferred with high police officials there.

COMPLIMENTARY BANQUET GIVEN JUDGE COUTURE

Newly Appointed Magistrate Was Guest of Honor at Dinner Attended by Conferees of Bar of St. Francis.

His former conferees, the members of the Bar of St. Francis, turned out "en masse" Saturday night to attend a banquet tendered Judge J. Sylfrid Couture, whose appointment as Magistrate for this district has been received with universal satisfaction and acclaim. With but few exceptions, every member of the Bar attended the reception to pay a tangible tribute to the well-deserved honor awarded Mr. Couture, whose long practice since he was admitted to the practice of law has rated him as one of the most distinguished members of the local association.

At the tea table with the guest of honor were Mr. Justice Charles D. White, Hon. Jacob Nicol, Edouard Boisvert, batonnier of the Bar, Oscar Drouin, member of the Provincial Legislature for Quebec East, and one of Judge Couture's classmates, and Magistrate Lemay. After toasts had been proposed to the King and Mr. Couture, several complimentary addresses were made in which the various speakers eulogized the qualities which fitted Judge Couture for the position to which he had been elevated.

Greetings and hopes of success were contained in the remarks of Mr. Boisvert, while Judge Couture's knowledge of law, based on long years of experience, his common sense and unquestionable ability were described by Hon. Jacob Nicol, Judge White, Magistrate Lemay and Mr. Drouin.

In his reply to the warm congratulations he received, the newly-appointed Magistrate asserted that he would strive to uphold the honor and prestige of his predecessors by performing his multiple duties and functions to the best of his ability.

Among the lawyers who attended the banquet from out of town were Kenneth Wilson, of Montreal; Hector Verret and J. C. Sanson, of Coaticook, and Albert Fregeau, of Rock Island.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

DISTRICT COMMISSIONER VISITED EAST ANGLUS

The East Anglus Boy Scout Troop received its first official visit from the recently-appointed District Commissioner, J. R. Sangster, who was guest at a banquet sponsored by the members of the troop and their fathers. The Commissioner was accompanied on his visit by his assistant, Clarence G. Blake.

H. Grinstead, chairman of the East Anglus committee, presided over the banquet and paid tribute to the leaders and boys who had prepared the full-course meal without aid. Toasts were proposed to the King, the Chief Scout, Lord Baden-Powell, and the ladies who willingly looked after the serving of the guests. T. L. Apps delivered a brief address of welcome which was responded to by both Mr. Sangster and Mr. Blake.

Following the banquet, the group repaired to the meeting room where a regular meeting was conducted, including the impressive investiture of two tenderfoot scouts. During the course of the meeting, Mr. Sangster presented District Scoutmaster Bown with his warrant of appointment for Compton County.

SECOND TROOP COMMITTEE MET

The regular meeting of Group Committee of Second Troop Boy Scouts was held Friday evening at the headquarters. The President, Mr. A. J. O'Boyle occupied the chair and various matters of business were discussed. Plans were made to hold a card party at the headquarters in the near future.

A Rover Crew is to be started in connection with Second Troop with Scoutmaster J. W. Blake as leader. A. S. M. E. Brownlow will act as scoutmaster of Second Troop.

EXHIBITION OF CARROLL'S WORKS HELD IN NEW YORK

Collection Contains Manuscripts, First Editions, Letters, Photographs and Illustrations.

NEW YORK, April 4.—A collection of Lewis Carroll manuscripts, first editions, letters, photographs and illustrations, assembled from bibliophiles throughout the country in honor of the hundredth anniversary of the birth of Alice in Wonderland's creator, is on public view here.

The exhibition is made up of nearly 500 items related to Carroll's literary career, including the original longhand manuscript of "Alice," with Carroll's fantastic drawings in the margin. Nine of the fifteen known copies of the extremely rare first edition (1865) of "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland," which was suppressed because of the poor quality of the woodcuts, are shown. The original drawings of Tenniel, who illustrated the book, are also on view.

REV. DR. PATTERSON DIED IN MONTREAL

MONTREAL, April 4.—Dean of the Presbyterian Ministers of the Dominion, Rev. Dr. James Patterson, aged one hundred and two, died today. Rev. Dr. Patterson retired from active church work in 1917 at the age of eighty-seven, but followed church affairs very closely since his retirement enjoyed good health until a short time ago.

POLITICS TAKE HEAVY TOLL IN GERMAN CITIES

Three Killed, Scores Wounded and Hundreds Arrested During First Day of Second German Presidential Campaign in a Month.

BERLIN, April 4.—Three dead, scores wounded and hundreds arrested today marked the toll of the first day of Germany's second presidential election campaign in less than a month, to be held on April 10.

Throughout the country, while Adolf Hitler, National Socialist leader, mounted the stump again to denounce in fiery speeches the government under President Paul Von Hindenburg, his "Nazis" forces fought with Communists, Communists fought with "Nazis" and both battled the police and the "Iron Men" of the republic.

Hitler began his campaign promptly at the stroke of noon yesterday, ending the political truce ordered by the government for the Easter holidays. He mounted a rostrum at Leipzig before an audience of 50,000 and scored the government for "failing to show any positive achievements in fourteen years of existence."

"I will fight to the bitter end," he said. "Whether fate has chosen me to achieve the final victory I leave to the Almighty but my incessant labors to that end entitle me to carry the fight to the finish."

Preceding him on the platform was August Wilhelm, son of the former kaiser, who declared the Nazis were not fighting President Von Hindenburg as a man, but the "poltroons who misused his name for their own nefarious purposes."

Adam Stegerwald, Minister of Labor in Chancellor Heinrich Brüning's cabinet, led off Von Hindenburg's campaign.

The Nazis, he said, "seek to establish a dictatorship similar to that of Italy and to create a party of the army to enforce their dilatory views upon the German people. Such a state of affairs would put everything the country has suffered in the past into the shade."

In Berlin a group of Communists was badly battered by the police in the Gneisenau Strasse. One was shot in the chest and four arrested. Four Nazis were injured in the northern section in a fight with Communists.

At Chemnitz, where Ernst Thaelmann, Communist candidate, opened his campaign, one Communist and one Nazi suffered bullet wounds. Communists fired on a group of Nazis at Mittweida, killing one and wounding two, a Communist was shot and killed at Katal.

Thirty were injured at Altona when mounted police charged upon a fighting Nazis and Republican Reichsbannermen. Several were injured and sixty arrested at Kiel in a clash between Nazis and members of the Republican "iron front." At Luebeck, police used their clubs when "Nazis" and Communists attacked a Republican "iron front" procession.

... this famous blend contains less astringent Tannin by actual test and more Theol (flavor essence) than other teas*

WHEN you sip a cup of Chase & Sanborn's Tea you notice instantly how rich and mellow it tastes.

Here's tea at its best, delicious, stimulating — without the slightest trace of bitter, puckery-tasting tannin that you get in ordinary teas which lack flavor essence.

Millions of pounds of inferior teas are sold every year in this country. Teas picked in the wrong season — during tropic rains. Avoid them.

If you want tea at its best, try Chase & Sanborn's. This famous blend is picked at the peak of its flavor.

Science has actually found it richer in flavor essence—and more healthful than other teas. For it aids digestion—instead of impeding it. Try a package.

Blended and packed in Canada. Sold in 1/4, 1/2 and 1 lb. packages.

PRESIDENT OF ALUMNAE GROUP VISITED CITY

Interesting Address by President of Canadian Federation of Convent Alumnae Featured Meeting at Mont Notre Dame Convent Yesterday.

At Mont Notre Dame yesterday afternoon, Madame Aurelien Belanger, of Ottawa, Dominion president of the Canadian Federation of Convent Alumnae, was the speaker at a general assembly of the four local branches, the Mont Notre-Dame Alumnae Association, St. Mary's Academy Alumnae, Marguerite Bourgeoys Normal School Alumnae and Notre-Dame Academy Alumnae.

Madame J. S. Couture expressed the thanks of the local Alumnae to Madame Belanger for her instructive and interesting talk and also thanked the Sisters of Mont Notre-Dame for the reception extended to them. Two charming songs were contributed by Miss Kathleen Leonard, "Do You Know My Garden?" (Haydn Wood) and "The Flutes of Spring" (Laurel Biane).

the alumnae in general and its members provide the material for leadership in alumnae circles, she said. The speaker cited instances in which the committee on social action had obtained results after several years of effort. Credit for this was given to the feminine flair for detail, the members of the committee having seized upon a method of working which has previously been overlooked.

The motion picture committee is particularly active and is arranging, in conjunction with several other organized bodies, a convention for the study of the question of proper motion pictures for Canada, pictures in which other countries will not be featured to the detriment of Canada and which will not be offensive to good taste and morals.

An appeal was made for the support of "Amica," the official bulletin of the federation, which keeps the members in touch with the activities of the organization and which is published at practically cost price as the editors receive no remuneration.

INITIAL FINES ARE INFLICTED BY MAGISTRATE

Magistrate Couture Imposes First Fines of New Career on Two Men Accused of Stealing Ride—Judgment Rendered in Favor of Grolier Company.

P. E. Guy and Antonio Richer, of no address, received the first two fines imposed by the new magistrate for the District of St. Francis, J. Sylfrid Couture. The two men were accused and pleaded guilty of stealing a ride on the Canadian National train between Richmond and Windsor Mills.

This morning, Nee Breton, Joseph Vachon and Hermenigilde Dupuis, all of Stornoway, appeared before Magistrate Couture on charges of cutting down and stealing trees on the property of the Brompton Pulp and Paper Company. The trio admitted their guilt and sentence will be pronounced this afternoon.

Visitor: "You will be sure to tell your mistress that I called while she was out?" Maid: "Oh yes—she'll be delighted to hear it!"

AT THE CITY HALL

Seeing a new member of the Record staff entering the City Hall this morning the Mayor thought that he had a good chance to "put something over" and give his side of the famous picture story. As the press representative was "relieving on the City Hall beat" and had never had an opportunity of seeing this new picture of Sherbrooke's Mayor he also was anxious to find out just what was what.

"Good morning, Mr. Mayor," he said, "I'm looking for that picture of yours." The Mayor smiled. "Surely," he replied, and led the way into the Council Room. This appeared to be nothing new for him—lead admirers before the work of art.

"There it is," said the Mayor, as he indicated his smiling photograph, set against a silvery background, in striking contrast to the sombre appearance of the forty other pictures that hang in the Council Room.

"But it is a different from the others," remarked the newsman. "Ah yes. There seems to have been a slight mistake," explained His Worship. He was hurried about this, and not very explicit. "You see," he continued, "the photographers did not give it the same finish as the others." He swept a hand towards the numerous other pictures hanging on the wall.

"Yes, it is a good picture..." The reporter might have added that it was flattering, but he was not so bold.

Chief Magistrate if certain aldermen have their way tonight at the regular council meeting and decree that the gay picture be taken down and replaced by one that is more in keeping with the other photographs that adorn the Council wall. The meeting will be quiet, it is predicted; principally because it is the last session before nomination day, and no important business is likely to be brought up or any new project launched.

LENNOXVILLE PRIMARY SUNDAY SCHOOL DEPARTMENT HOLD SUCCESSFUL TEA

Numerous as were the afternoon teas held during the week, the Primary Department of the Sunday School of the United Church held yet another very successful tea in Douglas Hall on Saturday afternoon. The gathering was in charge of the three primary teachers, Mrs. L. W. Smith and the Misses Greta Frizzell and Helen Harris.

While the tea and refreshments were being enjoyed, a musical programme was carried out very pleasingly. A piano duet was played by Misses Fern and May Coates, and solos sung by Miss M. Smith, Mr. Charles Coates played a violin solo and Miss Eleanor Leith gave a vocal solo. Other numbers were a vocal duet by Mrs. Pergau and Miss Mina Pergau, piano solos by Mr. Roosevelt Sterling, and a saxophone solo by

Little Ideas for Spring Chic

For the Easter parade of little ladies, there are coats, dresses and diminutive suits, quite as beautifully colored and as carefully designed as Mother's.

Easter Day, in sunny climes, will bring out dozens of cute little girls in linen and cotton frocks this year. For Sunday wear and parties, no-

Little daughter will gladly get an early start to Sunday school on Easter morning if she has a nice spring coat and hat to top her frock. This one is of a cheery spring green diagonal woolen, made with a scarf collar that buttons over the shoulder in military fashion. The hat is made to match, of the same material and straw.

thing could be more beautifully simple and in better taste than this periwinkle blue linen made with cap sleeves and a cute bib motif of lavender and rose linen, all hand-finished and designed to give little daughter the wide-shouldered effect that Mother loves this year, too. It has side pleats to give fullness and a sash belt that ties on one side. Over it a stitched periwinkle linen-hat floppy-flops in chic informal

Out for an Easter hoop race, little Sister can be sure of being ahead in style, whether she wins the race or not, if she has one of the new little bouclé suits that are designed to give young girls charm and beauty this spring. Practical, neat, smart, this little sleeveless frock and coat suit is made of blue and white material, with fan-shaped insets in the skirt to give it width for play.

NOVA SCOTIAN CABINET FACES MUCH TROUBLE

HALIFAX, N.S., April 4.—With a battle looming over redistribution of seats, forecast in the Speech from the Throne, and the probability of extended discussion on the highways report, the Government has abandoned plans for prorogation of the Legislature this week.

It is expected the House will be adjourned on Wednesday, when Premier Gordon S. Harrington, Hon. Percy C. Black and Hon. J. Fred Fraser will leave for Ottawa to attend the inter-provincial conference arranged by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett. The conference will open April 9.

The House sat on Saturday when the committee on supply voted $83,974 on defraying costs of transient poor, the provincial museum, public printing and binding and legislative printing, all administered by the Department of Public Works and Mines.

EXTEND SCOPE OF DANUBIAN CONFERENCE

War Debts, Reparations and Disarmaments Are to Be Discussed at London Parley on Wednesday.

LONDON, April 4.—It was definitely settled today that the four power conference which meets here Wednesday will discuss not only means of extending financial aid to the nations on the Danube, but the whole of Europe's difficulties, including reparations, disarmament and war debts.

The conference, at which representatives of France, Germany, Italy and Great Britain will sit in, originally was intended to go into the finances of Austria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Rumania.

BONUS BILL TO UPSET BALANCE OF NEW BUDGET

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—A little matter the Canadian Government will not have to deal with in its budgetary endeavors will for the next few weeks disturb United States executives and legislators.

When the Senate gets through with the House bill and when it is again gone over by a joint committee of the Senate and House, it will probably look entirely different.

Special interests affected by the taxes in the bill have already gone into action determined to save their own particular bacon.

President Hoover is holding sessions with the Senators urging them to speed the tax bill on its way.

Two other interesting figures are those of an aged French count, who in his youth lost approximately two million francs when the war broke out.

BROTHER ANDREE'S CONDITION IMPROVED

MONTREAL, April 4.—The condition of Rev. Brother Andree, founder of St. Joseph's Shrine on the side of Mount Royal, was reported at the Hotel Dieu Hospital here today to be steadily improving.

This is enough to try the patience of Job," exclaimed the vicar to his wife, after reading the newspaper. "Last Sunday I preached from the text, 'Be ye therefore as viaticans,' and the printers have made it read, 'Be ye there for breakfast.'"

MONTE CARLO DESCRIBED AS STRANGE PLACE

Activities at the World's Great Gambling Centre May Be Viewed from Many Angles.

It seems only necessary to speak the words Monte Carlo for a vista of glittering gambling rooms to rise, thronged with those whose sole thought is for the turn of a wheel, their hands, clawlike, itching to gather to them stacks of gleaming money.

There is also the idea that Monte Carlo is no place to visit unless pockets are plentifully supplied with this world's goods.

Another idle idea is that the casino hates the big sums; the reverse is very much the case. For every big win, there are a dozen little fellows who will lose their thousand francs, and it is an accepted fact that the newspapers will carry big stories of the wins made.

Some time back, Camille Blanc was head of the Societe des Bains de Mer, the official style of the corporation which controls all the activities of the principality.

When the Senate gets through with the House bill and when it is again gone over by a joint committee of the Senate and House, it will probably look entirely different.

LA TUQUE WON OPENING GAME FROM BISHOP'S

Northerners Carry Twelve-Point Lead into Second Game of Provincial Ladies' Intermediate Basketball Title by Virtue of 19 to 7 Victory.

LA TUQUE, Que., April 4.—La Tuque will carry a twelve-point lead to Sherbrooke on Tuesday in the provincial women's intermediate basketball finals by virtue of their nineteen to seven win over Bishop's College, Lennoxville, Quebec over the week-end.

Showing the effect of the long train ride, Bishop's were outplayed by La Tuque, and at the end of the first half the northerners led by nine to one.

The line-ups were: La Tuque: Smith, forward, 1; Griffiths, forward, 5; M. R. Tremblay, guard; Olsen, centre, 3; Roadnight, forward, 10; M. L. Tremblay, forward; Potvin, guard; Morrison, guard, Total 19.

Basketball holds centre of Canadian sport stage. Toronto, April 4.—Interest runs high in Canadian basketball circles today following a series of week-end matches which decided the title-holders in two provinces of the Dominion.

A dashing offensive which bewildered Toronto Lizies at times brought Windsor Alumni a 31 to 29 victory and the right to meet the winners of the Ottawa-Montreal game in the first round of the Dominion playdowns.

With the majority of provincial champions already declared, the Dominion playdowns will get under way this week.

LARGE STEAMER CLASHES WITH SMALL NAVAL SHIP

Submarine Chaser Reported to Be Badly Damaged After Being Struck by Steamer Japanese Prince Off San Pedro.

SAN PEDRO, Cal., April 4.—The steamer Japanese Prince collided last night with Eagle Boat No. 34, navy submarine chaser, about ten miles north of San Diego harbor.

The eagle boat was badly damaged, but in no immediate danger of sinking, wireless reports said.

The Japanese Prince began efforts to put a line aboard the smaller craft. In the meantime the coast guard cutter Camarillo put out from here for the scene.

Previously, the doorman remembered him. Then there is the question of disputes at the table. Many make a good thing of claiming other people's wins. They are soon noted by the authorities and given to understand that their room is preferable to their presence; tactfully, of course. But, in the case of two unknowns joining the same stake, the casino invariably pays both.

SUDBURY EVENS JUNIOR SERIES WITH WINNIPEG

Wolves Captured Second Game of Memorial Cup Final Series by Taking Two to One Overtime Decision on Monarchs—Deciding Game This Evening.

WINNIPEG, Man., April 4.—The drama of a Memorial Cup final is to be climaxed here tonight by a victory to either Sudbury Wolves or Winnipeg Monarchs. With one win each, the Canadian finalists battle in the third game of the classic series to the bitter end.

From the head of the lakes have come Fort William, conquerors of the Olympic champion team, the Winnipeg, while central Ontario is represented by Toronto Nationals, who wear the red shirts of the National Yacht Club, and who defeated the Quebec champions, the Montreal Winged Wheelers.

At full strength, the teams will line up something like this: Fort William—goal, Gordon Haquouli; defense, Bert Anderson and Ross Knowles; centre, Ossie Haquouli; wings, Gordon Houston and Jazzy Manahan. As alternates there will be Bert Milligan, Don McLeod, Johnny Salonen and Arnie Hermonson.

The Nationals will use the same team who eliminated M.A.A.A., Norman "Stuffy" Mueller goal; Hearne and Lampert, defence; goal, Adelard Lafrance drove it past Goalie Rice-Jones after snatching up Red Porter's perfect pass inside the Winnipeg defence.

Monarchs had come from behind to tie up the game late in the third period. Gordon Grant gave the Wolves a lead in the second period, scoring on Blake's pass. Not until the Sudbury defence wobbled momentarily with less than three minutes of the last session remaining could Monarchs break through.

Then Cam Shewan, defence giant, banged it into the cage from a few feet out.

ALLAN CUP FINALS START THIS EVENING. MONTREAL, April 4.—Two Ontario teams will clash on Quebec ice here tonight for the opening honors in the best two out of three series for the amateur hockey championship of Canada and possession of the twenty-five year old Allan Cup.

Lough, Paul and Kane, forwards, with McMullen, Collins and Chisholm, relief forwards, and McAlpine, tenth man. Al Pudas, of Port Arthur, and Johnny Mitchell, of Hamilton, will have charge of the match.

DISCUSS AMATEUR HOCKEY AFFAIRS

MONTREAL, April 4.—Amateur hockey affairs were under discussion here today as officers of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association held their annual meeting.

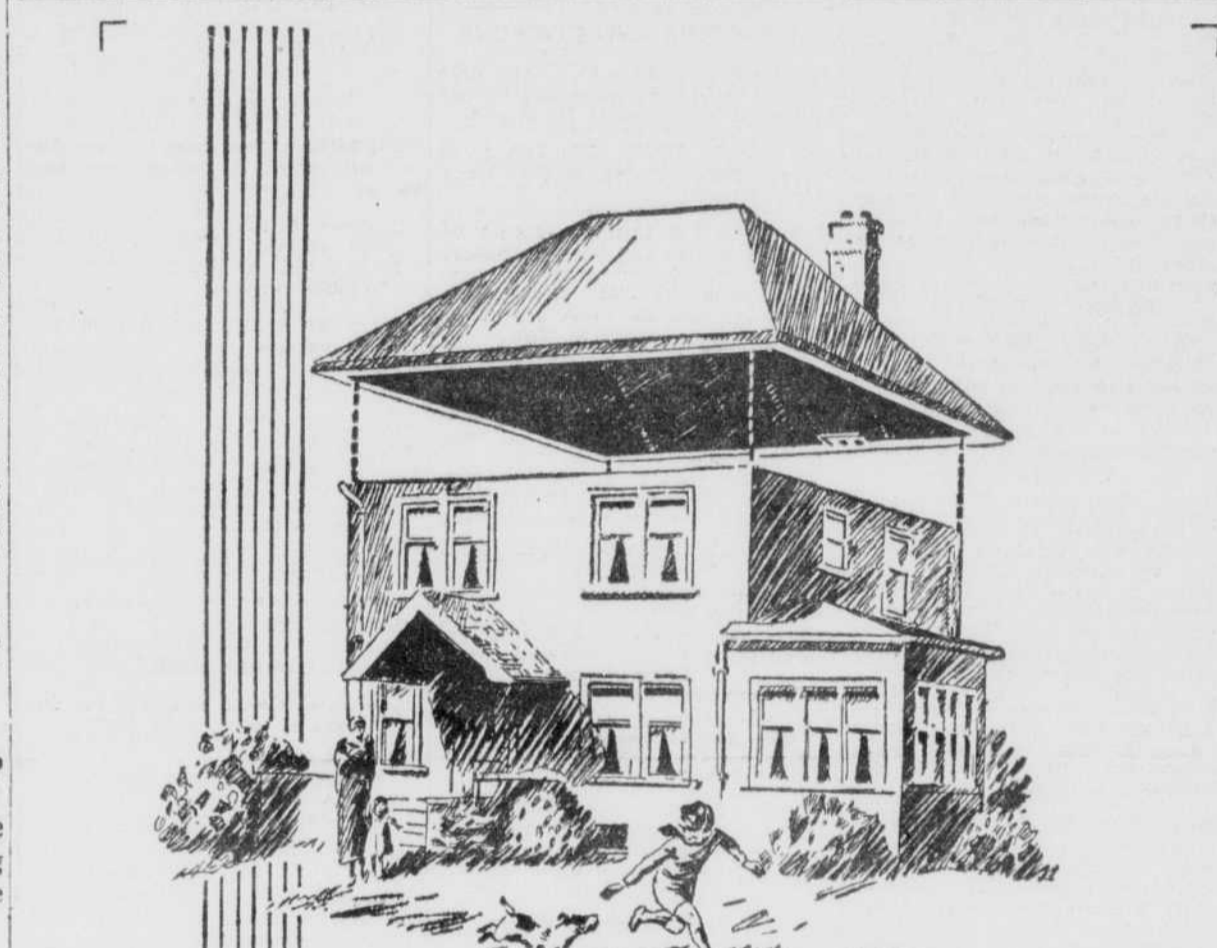

At the outset there appeared to be no controversial item on the agenda of the meeting and the delegates plunged into the routine business. Venue of next year's Allan Cup play-off series will be decided and a new slate of executive officers will be elected.

The meeting is expected to be continued until tomorrow night or Wednesday.

BUFFALO BISON LEAD PLAY-OFF RACE

TORONTO, April 4.—Buffalo Bisons stand to the fore in the International Hockey League's round-robin championship series. By downing Herbie Mitchell's Windsor Bulldogs, last year's title-holders three to one, in Buffalo Saturday, Bisons scored their initial victory of the series and along with Windsor stand as the only clubs to have registered a win.

Two tie games against a stalemate and a defeat for Windsor give Bisons a one-point edge over Bulldogs and show them heading the parade with five points. London and Detroit, the two contending teams continued their scoreless sessions in the American city last night when they battled through seventy minutes of bruising hockey to their second goalless draw of the week.

HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATED BY OTTAWA SQUAD

Glebe Collegiate Administered a Decisive 68 to 25 Defeat to Quebec Provincial Champions to Take Two-Game Round by Total Score of 111 to 62.

Glebe Collegiate, of Ottawa, one of the smoothest functioning junior basketball machines ever to perform before a local audience, crushed Quebec's hopes for the Canadian junior cage title when they smothered the Sherbrooke High School here Saturday night in the second fixture of the two-game series. Producing a brand of basketball which swung the determined opposition of the local students, the Ottawa Valley representatives captured the final encounter by the decisive count of 68 to 25, to win the series by a round score of 111 to 62. Showing a decided superiority in all departments of the game, the Ottawa Valley monarchs left no doubt of their strength even in the most partisan supporter of the home team. From the opening whistle, they assumed an offensive which was not to be thwarted, and before many minutes had elapsed the issue was decided. Throughout the remainder of the one-sided battle it was just a matter of how great a count the visitors would roll up.

Playing out of their class, the High School, who reached the Dominion Interscholastic finals last year, showed a remarkable determination which failed to flinch before the relentless, systemized attack of their more experienced opponents. Clearly outplayed before the half-time interval had been reached, and confronting an insurmountable barrier, the High played doggedly, and when the final whistle sounded the death knell to their aspirations, the sting of their defeat was tempered and softened by the realization that they had been beaten by a better aggregation.

As graceful and sportsmanlike in defeat as in the victories they achieved in their triumphant march towards the Provincial crown, Captain Paul McKenna's squad felt far from disgraced over the final result. Effectively bottled up, the school was unable to unleash the attacks which helped it to conquer the Quebec Y.M.C.A. juniors and the Young Men's Hebrew Association Whites. Before the scintillating style of Coach Bob Campbell's proteges, every combination the locals produced was powerless to prevent the score from soaring to a mark seldom registered on the Y.M.C.A. floor, which has been the scene of many memorable battles.

Led by their brilliant pilot, George Laughren, who was the spearhead of the majority of Glebe's attacks, and who alone registered as many points as the entire High School squad, the boys from the Capital went through their paces with a lightning-like rapidity and with clockwork precision. Few of their passes went astray and their shooting from all parts of the floor was done with amazing accuracy. Backed by a solid defence, before which the local efforts wilted, the visiting forwards ran rampant with their clever footwork, and as the game wore on Sherbrooke slowly faded from the picture.

At only one stage of the proceedings did the High School reduce the six-point margin gained by the visitors by virtue of their 45 to 37 victory on Friday night. Laughren had opened the scoring, to be followed by Ross, who sent the ball spinning through the draperies without touching the rim. Horsfall added a foul shot and a field basket from long range to whittle Glebe's margin on the round to three points. Laughren was responsible for three baskets from the floor in a row, and Nixon had contributed another brace of points as the High called time out after five minutes of play.

The short rest failed to throw the visitors off balance and when the home team again requested a rest with ten minutes to go, Glebe led on the round by 60 to 45. From this stage until the end of the first half, the Ottawa boys controlled the play, and were on the long end of a 30 to 13 count as the ten-minute interval arrived. Dunsmore opened the scoring in the second half, and there was evidence that the High would stage a rally similar to the previous evening. However, their scoring was effectively guarded while the visitors ran wild to bring the count up to 60 to 53 when Sherbrooke called a third time out after eight minutes.

There was no stopping the yellow and black-clad youths. Their scoring spree was intermingled with a few fouls which Sherbrooke converted to gradually bring their total up to twenty-five on the game and sixty-two on the round. In the closing minutes, Glebe gave a fine exhibition of their ability in controlling the play when they passed among themselves in their own defence area to prevent Sherbrooke from obtaining the ball. In the closing minutes, Jowett sent two baskets, his final effort bringing relief to the overworked score keeper.

TORONTO TOOK OVERTIME GAME FROM MAROONS

Canadian Hopes for Retention of Stanley Cup in Dominion Dependent on Maple Leafs, Who Captured Thrilling 3 to 2 Overtime Victory.

TORONTO, Ont., April 4.—On the smooth team work and slicked stickhandling ability of Toronto Maple Leafs today depend Canadian hopes for the retention of the Stanley Cup in the Dominion. Saturday night before more than thirteen thousand rabid fans in Toronto, Leafs earned a thrilling overtime victory over Montreal Maroons. Their victory entitled them to a three-out-of-five game series with New York Rangers for the coveted trophy and the world's professional hockey championship.

Maroons fell victims to a carefully-planned system of play developed by Dick Irving mentor of the Toronto sextette, and lost out three to two after almost twenty minutes of overtime. Having tied in the first game at Montreal one-all, Maroons dropped the round four to three, and lost a chance of stepping into the Stanley Cup finals.

Playing a heavy offensive game with their forwards always willing to back check, Leafs clearly deserved their win over the conquerors of Detroit Falcons and held a wide margin in play in all but the second period.

Freak goals paved the way for two of the five scores tallied before the capacity crowd. Toronto's first score, one of the fluky markers, came from the stick of "Red" Horner, rugged defenceman, who looped a long shot into Maroon's cage while "Flat" Walsh was lying on the ice in the first period.

Jimmy Ward notched an equalizer late in the middle period while Hookey Smith got another fluke goal early in the third period to send Maroons into the lead. Happy Day came through with a "million dollar" score when he tied the count for Toronto midway through the final stanza on a solo dash while Bob Grace delivered the finishing blow driving a hard shot into the Montreal net after more than eighteen minutes of overtime.

Although Maroons went down fighting before a flashy Toronto attack they never really had a chance with the speedy Leafs. "Flat" Walsh, sterling net guardian, was responsible for Maroons remaining in the hunt as long as they did for his spectacular saves continually drew applause from the crowded Gardens.

Several times during the regulation time, Harvey Jackson, youthful Toronto wingman, and leading point getter in the National Hockey League's regular schedule, was through the Maroon rearguard but failed to outguess the clever Walsh. Grace, however, proved the hero with the overtime tally and was carried from the ice by his team mates when the red light flashed behind the Maroon citadel after the overtime period.

and one point, respectively. Ken Ross, who was top-notch, was caught by the night before, was closely guarded, and his scoring activities were restricted to five points until he was ruled off with four personal fouls near the end of the game. To pick any individual star from the Sherbrooke ranks would be a very difficult matter as every one of Eddie Loomis' squad gave his best in the face of overwhelming odds.

CITY BOWLERS CLOSE SEASON WITH BANQUET

Largely Attended Function Saturday Night Marked Conclusion of 1931-32 Bowling Season.

One of the most successful banquets in the history of the circuit brought the 1931-32 season of the City Bowling League to a close on Saturday evening. No less than thirty-five players and friends sat down in the Royal Hotel, with the president of the league, Art Jobel, in the chair. Following the excellent-prepared repast, the president reviewed the history of the circuit briefly, after which prizes won during the past season were presented.

The Mathurin Cup for the championship of the big pin section, was presented to Vic Brownlow, captain of the Royal Hotel squad, by R. Mathurin, while the Des Ruisseaux Trophy, emblematic of the championship of the duck pin division, went to the same team, the presentation being made by E. O'Donnell. The individual prizes were then presented, M. T. Stenson distributing the prizes in the big pin division and Rosario Gagne handing out the awards in the duck pin section.

Following the presentation of prizes, short speeches were delivered by Mr. J. W. Terrey, president of the Industrial Bowling League, and Mr. George Carrigan.

ROAD DEPARTMENT DEFEATED The Gas and Electric Department defeated their intra-mural opponents, the Road Department, by the odd string in three. DeBlois, a member of the victorious quintette, captured the honors of the evening with a high single-string of 204 and the highest three-string aggregate, 549.

FINE FENCING BOUTS STAGED AMONG CLUBS

Fencing Exhibition Redeeming Feature of Tournament Held at 53rd Armoury Saturday Evening—"Pat" Slattery Wins Inter-Club Championship.

"Touch!" The umpire sings out the word. The two men behind the thin wire masks fall back; then they are on guard again, their foils lifted. One lunges, parries; the other sways backward and covers up to meet the whirlwind assault. The foils clatter, then cling to each other like a magnet, twisting. On guard one minute, one of the two men bends into the half-squatting posture that the position necessitates, and then releases his lunge and parry like a flash, thrusting forward against his opponent's defence. He breaks through.

"Touch!"—the umpire's voice again. The match is over. An interested crowd was treated to a fine exhibition of fencing Saturday evening, and the finished manner in which that noble art of self-defence which entails so much grace, litheness of movement, quick vision and rapid thinking was demonstrated indicating that young Sherbrooke sportsmen have made much progress along this new line of activity during the past few months.

This exhibition of fencing, together with one wrestling match, proved to be the redeeming feature of the tournament held at the 53rd Armoury, when boxing, wrestling and fencing cards were presented.

The fans who had attended especially for the boxing matches were disappointed. Bill Dowsett's "amateurs" weren't in form. Jem Smith—knocked out Young Lessard in the third round, while G. Gaudreau won over Jack Coolie by a technical knock out in the second bout of the evening.

It is no wonder boxing has lost prestige in this city. The other two so-called fights that were staged Saturday night were nothing more than a farce.

In the two cases, the "fights" were discontinued because the participants were not fighting! In the wrestling events, Henry Delesseleuc and Francis Quimet fought through fifteen minutes to a tie. They were two plucky youngsters and delighted the fans.

The fencing contest between the Y.M.C.A., Sherbrooke Regiment and Carabiniers de Sherbrooke was the outstanding event of the evening and proved really interesting. The inter-club championship was won by Pat Slattery, who duelled his way into the finals to defeat K. Muzey of the Y.M.C.A. Slattery also represented the "Y". Under the able coaching of Charles Delesseleuc, the representatives from the three clubs have become quite capable at the art of fencing. It is a strenuous sport, one that requires much practice and perseverance, and is becoming popular in Sherbrooke.

In the elimination rounds, Gaston Authier, of the Y.M.C.A. defeated Dr. Romeo Lamy, of the Carabiniers; K. Muzey, of the Y.M.C.A. defeated Hector St. Pierre, of the Carabiniers; Pat Slattery, of the Y.M.C.A. defeated George Loggie, of the Sherbrooke Regiment defeated Hector Codere, of the Carabiniers.

In the semi-finals, Muzey defeated Authier and Slattery defeated Cook. Slattery then disposed of Muzey in a few seconds to win the inter-club championship. He was presented with a pretty trophy by Dr. Fred Bradley.

Mr. Delesseleuc announced his intention last evening of staging a fencing contest later on in the year. PROVIDENCE WON OPENING GAME WITH BOSTON BOSTON, April 4.—Providence Reds blunted the Boston Cubs with speed Saturday night to take the opening clash of the Canadian-American Hockey League's championship series, four goals to two. A capacity crowd of 16,400 saw the game. The Reds, who set the pace in the six-club loop during all the season, put on a terrific second-period drive that netted three tallies and clinched the victory. "Hago" Harrington, second string left-winger, drove two goals into the Boston net and Leo Murray and Art Giroux provided the other pair of Providence scores. Lloyd Klein, Boston left-winger and the circuit's leading scorer, registered both of the Cubs' goals. (Additional Sport on Page 7.) "Did that cure for rheumatism I recommended you do any good?" "Not a bit." "Fancy, it didn't do me any good, either!"
