This report is sent out that counterfeit ten dollar bills of the Bank of Commerce are in circulation. It does not take the counterfeiters long to get hold of a new bill and make a copy of it. They find that it is easier to pass off a bill of a new issue than a bill of an old one, as people have not become used to the look of the new issue and are more easily deceived by it.

The feeling seems to be increasing that the Canadian Government should concede to the American fishermen the right to trawl in their fish in bond. As has been admitted by some of the Ministerial journals the concession of the right would work no injury to Canada, while it would embolden the United States that the people of this country were desirous of being on the most neighborly terms with their neighbors.

The proper place in which to settle the dispute between the Manitoba Government and the Canadian Pacific railway company is in the courts, and to the courts it has been taken. The Manitoba authorities appear to have taken a rather high-handed course in dealing with the subject, seeking to do by force that which, if they have a right to do at all, the courts would give them the power to do in a legal way, and which if they have no right to do, they are no more justified in attempting than would a private individual.

It is becoming monotonous to read in the despatches from the other side of the boundary line after every defalcation or breach of trust that "it is believed the defaulter has gone to Canada," or that "the defaulter has been traced to Canada," or that "the defaulter has reached a place of safety in the Dominion." The people of the Republic do not desire to see defaulters go unwhipped of justice, and it is a reflection on the two countries that the laws fail to fully provide for the prompt extradition and punishment of fugitive offenders.

Progress was made in this direction some years ago and the draft of an enlarged extradition treaty now lies in the pigeon holes of the office of the United States Secretary of State, awaiting signature. Canada has gone as far as she could in the direction of securing such a treaty, and it is on the records of parliament that whenever the United States Government is prepared to sign the draft treaty Canada is ready to accept it.

It would prefer to draw the line at absconding defaulters. This was clearly shown the other day when Picher, the bank defaulter was sent to penitentiary for bringing stolen money into this country.

It is rather a joke on our neighbors that the New York Herald should demonstrate beyond a doubt that the only navigable channel in the Detroit river is in Canadian territory, especially as all the cost of improving the channel has been borne by the United States. It has long been contended that the St. Clair Flats canal was on the Canadian side of the boundary line, but United States Journals were indisposed to admit the fact.

It is to be presumed that the search for the mysterious author of the Whitechapel crimes still continues, although nothing further has been heard regarding him since the perpetration of his last murder. Possibly he is lying quiet until the excitement has somewhat subsided, to then emerge from his place of concealment and try his hand again.

The Boston Transcript thinks that the talk about Mrs. Sheridan's party must annoy her extremely, for she is a woman of great dignity and integrity, and while it is hard to credit her with the murder of a public man's family, no matter how well furnished, and accepts alms from people who look upon her as a benefactress.

The Austrian Empress is believed to have the smallest waist in Europe. Miss Braddon is said to be writing her memoirs, and sensation lovers are looking for much enjoyment. Queen Victoria is to be presented with a dress of black silk pillow lace by the ladies of the nobility.

The Rev. Charles Hall, pastor of the Methodist Church in Liverpool, Ky., was tried by the District Conference last week for falsifying one of the bibles of the village. Instantly after the trial the transportation he pleaded not guilty, and now his usefulness in Kentucky is destroyed.

Jefferson Davis's present wife is forty years his junior. His first wife was the daughter of Zachary Taylor, and Gen. Taylor died only a few days after the marriage. An elopement resulted and the angry father-in-law would have little to do with Davis after it until the battle of Buena Vista took place, where Davis excited Taylor's admiration by his bravery.

York. On the other hand Pauline Perle of the Leipzig Stadt Theatre, who is expected to appear in German comedy in New York, contemporaneously with Frau Moran-Oldor, is one of the most fascinating young women in the German stage. Frau Perle's forte on the stage is making love, and she realistic manner in which she flutters in the arms of stage lovers and his head to the curve of his forehead always provokes the applause of the house.

The late Prince Schwarzenberg, whose landed estates were so enormous, as to be called the Schwarzenberg empire, left a fortune of $50,000,000, from which a sum of $400 was bequeathed to the poor of Vienna. That was his sole charitable bequest.

M. Arthur Meyer, editor of Le Gaulois, Paris, is said to have died in his youth; I shall be a gentleman of science. I shall for my way into the most carefully guarded drawing-rooms. I shall be the equal of princes. I shall be the hands of a chessman. I shall be an intimate terms with the greatest houses of the Faubourg St. Germain. In short, I shall be the Beau Brummel of the Jews.

Rider Haggard has a curious theory regarding the fate of Henry M. Stanley. He thinks that Stanley never died, but that he has been seized, taken into the interior of Africa and deified by some of the tribes. He thinks that Stanley will be treated with the greatest kindness, and will be treated with the greatest kindness, and will be treated with the greatest kindness.

The harbor of the youthful Empire of China is growing, and he will soon be as much married as any Eastern potentate could desire. He will have a fleet of native power, no less than 136 Pekin craft were to be seen outside a gate of the harbor on the morning of the 9th of July, each containing a candidate for the Emperor's harem from mandarin families of the north and south.

It is said that next session the Cabinet will create a new department, that of "Public Instruction," which will be administered as in Ontario.

It is of the highest importance that the law be made to regulate the sale of arms, and rest under its surveillance and its control. This arrangement of our national armory ought to be made, if we would not see justice lose its prestige and its dignity.

THE CITY'S STREETS.

Under Fire to their State at the Special Meeting of the Council Yesterday. A Lively Meeting.

The City Council set for over two and a half hours yesterday, but the amount of business done was not so proportionate to the amount of talk consumed in doing it. Acting-Mayor Clendinning took the chair, and showed considerable administrative abilities as the president over the session of the assembly.

The vote was then taken, the amendment being carried by a majority of 12. The Mayor's motion was subsequently carried by 29 yeas to 2 nays. Ald. Villeneuve and Ald. J. B. St. Laurent were elected members of the Council.

THE DOCTORS' REPORT.

ON THE DEATH OF EMMA GENEREUX. A Paraphrase on the Inquest-Evidence of the Parish Priest and Miss Paquin.

The investigation into the causes of poor Emma Geneureux' premature death was opened yesterday afternoon at 8 1/2 o'clock at the morgue. A great number of witnesses waited in the ante-room, among them Rev. Father Lessor, the assistant priest of St. Genesio. His evidence was taken first. It was he who was called in by the jury.

Whist Dr. Mount was completing his report of the autopsy, Dr. Leonard read his report of the treatment of the unfortunate girl, emphasizing every phrase as he read. On October 2 he was called to the patient, and he had been attending her for some time.

After recess, which was granted by the Coroner to allow Doctor Mount to finish his report, the two physicians re-appeared in the room, Doctor Mount reading and explaining the report the substance of which was published in yesterday's Star.
