

NEARING THE END.

Verdict in the Daignault Case Will Probably be Rendered To-Night.

ADDRESSES TO THE JURY.

Mr. Belanger Makes An Eloquent Plea in Behalf of the Accused.

At two o'clock yesterday afternoon, the cross-examination of Dr. Elie was continued by Jos. E. Genest, Esq., for the crown.

In the opinion of witness, according to the evidence, it was impossible for hemorrhage to have taken place after the blow at Magog. He thought Gignac's nose must have been broken by a direct blow.

Dr. Laidore Fregeau then took the stand. He knew accused about seven years ago, and he had a good reputation. He agreed with Dr. Elie, after the evidence he had heard. He thought the hemorrhage took place before the last fall, coming on progressively, and in his opinion the fall in Roy's yard at Magog was the terminating point, causing his death by concussion. He considered that the last fall caused concussion. Death was caused by hemorrhage and concussion.

Dr. J. O. Camirand then took the stand. He had heard Dr. Elie's testimony and nearly all the evidence in the case. What he had heard was of the nature to confirm his opinion, as related by him in his examination on behalf of the crown, that the hemorrhage had been caused and came on progressively after the fall at Eastman, and that death was hastened by the fall in Roy's place. In the condition he was when he arrived at Magog, it was natural that a moderate blow would have more effect than in other circumstances.

Gilbert Fortin was then recalled at the request of the crown. Had not said before the District Magistrate that Ducharme threw Gignac on the floor, because he was not asked the question. The defence then declared their case closed.

Madame Anselme R. y of Magog, was called in rebuttal by the crown, but the evidence which the crown wished to adduce was not admitted by the court.

L. C. Belanger, Esq., Q. C., moved that the deposition of Daignault before the coroner, which was yesterday read to the jury, and used in cross-examination of the prisoner, should be rejected from the record by the court.

A legal argument as to the admissibility of this deposition then followed between Mr. L. C. Belanger, Q. C., counsel for accused, and J. S. Broderick, Esq., Crown prosecutor.

L. C. Belanger, Q. C., also cited to the court some authorities and law, which he wished the court to take a note of and consider in addressing the jury.

Court then adjourned till this morning, when the addresses to the jury will begin, and probably a verdict will be rendered tonight.

MRS. SHORES' FUND

Twenty Dollars More Wanted.

The contributions for the assistance of Mrs. Shores, reach today $79.65. We had hoped and still believe that the fund will reach $100 this week, though its daily increase will need to be a little larger than for the past two days.

Our readers must remember that even the $100 which we believe will be contributed, will not succeed in placing Mrs. Shores in comfortable circumstances. It will only meet the expense of the new barn and will not pay for the contents destroyed in the fire. The lot of the poor widow will still be a hard one, with her family to support, a mortgage on her little farm which will have the new barn but not the summer crops which it should shelter.

The struggle for her family's support must continue, but it will be rendered easier and more bearable.

There are many in this city and outside the city who are always ready to assist one in distress, who have not, however, been heard from in this most pressing case of need. They are invited to consider Mrs. Shores' difficult situation.

The contributions to date are as follows: Previously acknowledged $74.40 G. G. Bryant, 2.00 Friend, 2.00 Friend, 1.00 W. W. Beckett, 2.00 Total $79.65

DISASTROUS FIRE.

Ten Stores and an Hotel Burned.

Kingmont, Ont., Oct. 13.—(Special)—Ten stores and an hotel were destroyed by fire here last night. The burnt district comprised the business section of the city. The loss is heavy.

G. T. R. TELEGRAPHERS.

They Have Not Yet Laid Complaints Before the Management.

Montreal, Oct. 13.—(Special)—The management of the Grand Trunk have as yet received no official notification of the presence in the city, of the Committee of Telegraphers, in the service of the company, who are understood to be here for the purpose of seeking an interview with head officials in regard to wages and other matters. The G. T. R. officials were informed of their arrival yesterday afternoon, but some such visit was expected in view of the rumors which have been going round in reference to dissatisfaction of a number of men over their present arrangement with the company.

The committee of men continue in session at Richelieu Hotel for the purpose of going thoroughly into the question of what demands will be presented when they are prepared to go before Supt. F. H. McGuigan.

W. C. T. U.

Montreal, Oct. 13.—(Special)—At this morning's sitting of the W. C. T. U. Provincial Convention, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Sanderson, Danville; vice-president, Mrs. S. W. Foster, Knowlton; corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. W. McLachlan, Montreal; recording secretary, Miss Bazin, Montreal; treasurer, Mrs. Leet, Montreal.

SIR OLIVER MOWAT.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 13.—(Special)—Sir Oliver Mowat who has been seriously ill for some days is somewhat better.

MRS. GEORGE TO BE TRIED.

Canton, O., Oct. 12.—Mrs. George was held to answer to Common Pleas Court at the conclusion of the preliminary hearing today in the matter of the Saxon murder case, and her case will be investigated by the next grand jury.

The presiding justice of the peace, in passing on the case, said there was sufficient circumstantial evidence connecting Mrs. George with the crime to justify holding her for the investigation of the higher courts.

HORSE AND WAGON FOUND.

The team stolen at Melbourne by two girls from Lisgar, was located yesterday at Stratford, N. H. The girls there had attempted to exchange horses, without leave of owner, and were soon overtaken and horse retained. The girls then skipped cut and have not yet been located.

OTTAWA ITEMS.

Political Rumors in the Capital.

Talk of Cabinet Reconstruction and General Elections.

Ottawa, Oct. 12.—Mr. Clement, private secretary to Sir Henri Joly, minister of inland revenue, has resigned. This is probably the basis for the revival of the story that Sir Henri himself has resigned. So far as can be ascertained, there is no truth in the story. As an evidence that Sir Henri has no immediate intention of resigning, as Mr. Clement's successor.

There is much talk of Cabinet reconstruction but it is not likely to take place until after the conclusion of the conference, which is to be resumed at Washington on the 1st prox., and after it is made, the story goes, that there will be a general election. This idea of an appeal to the people at as early a date as possible, gains ground here, and the impression is constantly growing stronger that there will be a general election either before the meeting of Parliament or immediately after the close of the session.

Hon. John Costigan returned to the city today, after about four months' absence on a trip to the Peace River district. Mr. Costigan is in excellent health and good spirits, and enjoyed his trip thoroughly. He went by train to Edmonton, taking two canoes with him from Ottawa. From Edmonton he proceeded to Athabasca Landing, Slave Lake and the Peace River district. Speaking of the Peace River, he said that many parts of the agricultural purposes, gold is to be found along the river, but under the present system used by the miners, not more than 25 per cent of the gold is saved. When they introduced a system of saving all the gold it would no doubt pay to work claims that are now abandoned.

The Governor-General and the Countess of Aberdeen will visit Kingston on Tuesday, the 18th inst., on the occasion of the convocation of Queen's University. In the evening, a civic reception will be afforded to their Excellencies and an address will be presented. On the following day, Wednesday, in accordance with a promise given some time ago, their Excellencies will visit Whitby, and the party will leave for Ottawa the same night.

THE DREYFUS CASE

The French Government Cannot Help Col. Picquart.

Paris, Oct. 12.—The Cabinet at its meeting yesterday discussed the question of the seclusion of Lt.-Col. Picquart. Prime Minister, Brisson, M. Bourgeois, minister of education, and M. Delcasse, minister of foreign affairs, urged that the secret confinement of the prisoner ought to cease.

M. Sarrien, minister of justice, declared that Lt.-Col. Picquart was completely out of the jurisdiction of the Cabinet. He suggested that General Chanaine, minister of war, might appeal to the military procurator or to General Zurlinden, military governor of Paris, who alone were able to relax the rigors of Lt.-Col. Picquart's imprisonment.

BATTLE IN ILLINOIS.

Coal Miners and Negroes Engage in a Bloody Fight.

EIGHT KILLED, MANY WOUNDED.

Negroes Had Been Engaged to Replace Strikers, But Were Fired on as They Arrived by Special Train.

Virden, Ill., October 12.—The little town of Virden is comparatively quiet tonight after a day of riot and bloodshed, the long expected clash between the Union miners and imported negroes. A Chicago & Alton special train, bearing 200 negro miners from the South, arrived at 12.40 p.m. at the stockade around the Chicago-Virden Coal Company's mines, and immediately terrific firing began. The list at 10 o'clock tonight stands seven dead and eighteen wounded. The dead are Ed. Welsh, Springfield; Frank Bilyeu, Springfield; Albert Smith, Mount Olive; Joe Kitterly, Mount Olive; Ernest Keutner, Mount Olive; A. M. Brennan, Girard; D. H. Kiley, a Chicago & Alton detective.

It is said that six men were wounded inside the stockade, but this has not been verified, and those inside the stockade refuse to communicate with outsiders.

For the past two weeks rumors have reached Virden that negroes from Alabama would reach the city, and the Chicago & Alton depot has been surrounded day and night by vigilant miners determinedly awaiting their arrival.

Today the Chicago & Alton limited, due to pass here at 10 o'clock, passed, displaying flags on the rear, indicating that a special was following. Immediately the word was spread and a dense crowd of miners lined the station platform, while another crowd collected at the entrance of the stockade a half-mile north of the station. D. B. Kiley, a Chicago & Alton detective, stood guard at a switch at the south end of the station platform to see that it was not tampered with.

At 12.40 the special train passed the station, and signal shots were fired from the south end of the train announcing the special's arrival. Immediately shots were fired from the moving train and outside, and the battle began. A few moments after the train had passed the switch where Kiley was stationed, and while he was talking with two citizens he threw up his hands and dropped dead, with a bullet through his brain. He was the first man killed. The train continued to the stockade, the miners firing into it all along the route, and the negro passengers returning the fire. The moment the train reached the stockade, the miners opened a desperate fire with Winchesters, revolvers and firearms of all kinds. The negroes on the train answered with a steady fire. The miners and the train were enveloped in a cloud of smoke and the shooting sounded like a continuous volley.

Engineer Burtgart received a bullet in the arm and dropped from his seat. His fireman seized the throttle pulled it open with a jerk, the train was under speed, carrying a load of wounded negro passengers to Springfield. How many were wounded is not known. The train stopped at the stockade but two minutes. Its departure did not cause the firing to cease. The tower of the stockade was filled with sharpshooters armed with Winchesters and they kept up a steady fire into the crowd of union miners. Eye-witnesses say the dead miners were killed after the train had departed.

An Associated Press reporter secured admittance to the stockade late tonight. He found one man, A. T. Morgan, of Chicago, dead, and seven seriously wounded. There are about 35 men stationed inside the stockade tonight, each keeping watch through a loophole. Manager Luckens remained at his desk in the office inside the stockade all night issuing orders to his men.

Manager Luckens said tonight. "The blood of every man shed here is on the Governor's head. He is absolutely outside of the law and has no jurisdiction whatever in refusing to send troops to protect the men brought here by us. His statement that the miner had the same right to fight for his property, which was his labor, as the mine owner did to protect his property, inspired these men to the action which

NEW EMPEROR FOR CHINA.

Shanghai Reports That the Dowager Empress' Choice Will Be Proclaimed.

London, Oct. 12.—A despatch to a news agency from Shanghai says that the Dowager Empress and her supporters have adopted a new Emperor. He is the son of the late Emperor Tung Chi, and will be proclaimed shortly. It is announced that the choice of Kwang-Su was a mistake that has proved disastrous to China.

An American Consular officer, accompanied by thirty armed men, who belonged to the recently discharged Korean bodyguard, invaded the Foreign bureau early to-day for the purpose of rescuing Huang, lately Minister-designate to Japan, who was arrested in Shanghai by order of the Dowager Empress in connection with the reform movement.

The prisoner, who is awaiting removal to Peking, refused to accompany the rescuers. Owing to the edict suppressing the native press a majority of these newspapers have been registered as owned by foreigners. Consequently the edict will not apply to them.

ALBERT CORRIVEAU RETURNS TO JAIL.

He Assaulted His Wife and Nearly Killed Her.

Montreal, Oct. 12.—A short time ago Alfred Corriveau was released from St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary, after having served a term of four years for theft. He did not return to live with his wife, but boarded at Joseph Lepage's, 99 1-2 St. Paul street. Three days ago he met his wife and so cruelly assaulted her that the woman had to be brought to the hospital for treatment. Tuesday Mrs. Corriveau laid a complaint before Magistrate Lafontaine, who immediately granted a warrant for the man's arrest. This morning he came up for trial. In view of his recent incarceration, the Magistrate said that he would be lenient, but he hoped it would remind him that he had nearly been a murderer. Two months' imprisonment was his sentence.

TRANSPORT AGAIN ON FIRE.

OBDM REACHES NEW YORK WITH HER BUNKERS SMOLDERING.

Had 250 Sick and Convalescent Soldiers on Board.

New York, Oct. 12.—The United States transport Obdam, which sailed from Ponce, Porto Rico, September 28th, via Santiago, Oct. 5, arrived at quarantine this afternoon. The transport brought about 250 sick and convalescent soldiers, and about 35 passengers. The Obdam sailed from Santiago for this port on Oct. 2, but when two days at sea a fire was discovered in her coal bunkers, and she was compelled to return to Santiago, when the fire was extinguished. The transport sailed again on Oct. 5, and experienced fairly good weather. On the 9 a fire broke out again in the coal bunkers, and although every effort was made to get it under control, the fire was smouldering when the Obdam reached quarantine this afternoon. The ship's officers did all in their power to stamp out the fire with the aid of steam, but the fire proved very stubborn, and caused much uneasiness to all on board, more especially as the transport has stowed in her hold a very large quantity of ammunition and a large number of rifles. The men had improved steadily during the voyage, being provided with excellent food and medical supplies.

EMPEROR WILLIAM STARTS FOR THE HOLY LAND.

He is Well Equipped for the Journey.

Berlin, Oct. 12.—The Emperor and Empress of Germany started at nine o'clock this morning on their journey to the Holy Land. They will go direct to Constantinople and from there to Palestine. The suite of the Emperor included General Physician Leuthold, Count Von Luttenberg, the grand marshal of the court; Gen. Von Hahnke, the chief of His Majesty's private military cabinet; Dr. Von Lucanus, the chief of His Majesty's private civil cabinet; Baron Von Buelow, the Minister of Foreign Affairs; Legation Councillor Klehmet, and a number of other officials. The Empress has with her three ladies of the court and Court Marshal Baron Von Mirbach. The Imperial party is also accompanied by a body of gendarmes and by eighteen equestrians. The gendarmes have been taught photography, and by the Emperor's order will photograph everything of interest, under the instructions of Sergt.-Maj. Cuessov and Sojuenstahl. There are 110 trunks in the baggage cars, many of them of immense size and containing the ball dresses of the Empress. One enormous box, which does not leave the Emperor's vicinity, is in charge of a high functionary. It contains valuable gifts and diamond decorations for Oriental officials, valued at 4,000,000 marks.

Only six horses were taken, and they are for the Emperor's personal use. The Sultan of Turkey bought thirty-six carriage horses in Berlin for the use of the Empress of Germany and her suite. The Sultan also bought in Berlin all the uniforms and weapons needed for the ceremonies.

THE ST. LOUIS RESUMES SERVICE.

Will Run Between New York and Southampton as Heretofore.

New York, Oct. 12.—The American line steamship St. Louis, which was chartered by the Government at the beginning of the war with Spain and converted into an auxiliary cruiser, resumed her regular passenger service between this port and Southampton this morning. The St. Louis was stripped of her armament and war paint at Cramp's shipyard in Philadelphia, and arrived in this city last week. The St. Paul and the Paris, or Yale, have also been reconverted, and will sail on Oct. 19 and 26 respectively.

Mr. R. B. Hutchison, who succeeded in winning the individual championship from Mr. Bray on September 24th, in Sherbrooke, was also successful in defending that trophy on Saturday last in a match with Mr. H. H. Wootton, whom he defeated by a score of 38 to 34.

TRAMP BURGLARS.

They Make Raids at Cowansville and Vicinity.

Cowansville, Oct. 12.—This section of the country is rapidly becoming terrorized by the depredations of one of more bands of tramps, incendiaries and burglars, who seem to be gifted with a complete disregard of the sacredness of property and human life. From all the surrounding points come stories of burglaries, and in many cases the places broken into have afterwards been set on fire for the purpose of covering up evidence that might be used effectually against the desperadoes. That their plan of setting fire to places after looting them may result in the destruction of a whole village or cause the loss of people's lives does not seem to concern these reckless gentry.

A few nights ago the Ottawa Hotel at Cowansville was entered, and a number of valuables taken. The burglars made themselves perfectly at home, and helped themselves to supper before they left. Evidently they were either in better humor on this occasion, or were scared away before they had fully accomplished their mission, for the place was not set on fire. Had it been the results would have been awful, for the hotel is full of boarders, and it would have been only by a miracle that all could have escaped safely. The burning of Mr. Wm. Robb's creamery here a week ago is also set down to the same gang. A few days ago at Glen Sutton, when a freight train on the C. P. R. stopped, it was discovered that some tramps were in one of the cars. Before they could escape the car was locked and sealed by the train hands, and word sent to Mansonville, and the railway officials and the bailiffs of the latter place were on hand at the station to make arrests. But when the train arrived they found that the car had been broken open from the inside, and that not only had the temporary occupants made good their escape, but had taken with them a quantity of the goods with which the car was laden. This last story shows the sort of men that have to be dealt with, and as private individuals are not able, and the authorities do not seem inclined to make any effort toward their apprehension, it would seem that a good plan would be for the railway and insurance companies to combine and engage the services of one or more first-class detectives to work on the case and run the criminals to earth.

FIRE AT BRIGHAM.

Store and Post Office Burned.

Cowansville, Que., Oct. 12.—Thos. E. Smith's store at Brigham, was burned yesterday morning. The fire started about 3 o'clock. The fire is supposed to have been a case of incendiarism, and some tramps are suspected of being the guilty parties. The post office was in the same building, and the contents of both store and post office were totally destroyed. The building, a frame one, was the property of Mrs. O'Connor. Mr. Smith's loss is $5,000, insured for $3,800. There was also an insurance of five hundred dollars on the building. There seems also to have been a case of burglary connected with the matter, for the safe was found blown open. People early at the fire also say that there was a strong smell of coal oil, as though this material had been sprinkled about. An effort will be made to find out the guilty parties.

INDIANS NOW AT PEACE

War in the Minnesota Land is Over. St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 12.—A Walker, Minn., special to the Despatch says:

The Bear Island Pillager Indians will surrender, and war has been avoided. It only remains for the terms to be arranged before the hostiles will come into the agency. Father Aloysius Homan, Gus Beaulieu and Chief Gay-Gwa-Che-Way-Bimung, the three peace commissioners who left on the Flora, last evening, for the hostile camp; got back at four o'clock this morning.

Walker, Minn., Oct. 12.—A council with the Chippewas was held yesterday, which was attended by Chief Flatmouth and other influential men of the tribe, including the chief of the Bear Island band. The Indians were conciliatory in their talk and declared that they wanted no further trouble. They expressed a desire that the Indians wanted in court should surrender, and said they had sent runners to the hostile camp to induce them to do so if possible.

General Bacon attended the council and told the braves that if the hostiles did not surrender the army would pursue them until they were caught or killed. Indian Commissioner Jones, who was also at the council, was welcomed by the chiefs. He was told that runners from the Bear Island camp had brought word that the braves would receive anyone for a conference except soldiers and marshals. If soldiers came they would fight. The messengers, it was said, counted thirty bucks in the camp, who claimed that they had lost but one killed and two squaws wounded in the battle.

Fr. Aloysius, who has great influence with the hostiles, started yesterday for Bear Island to make an attempt to bring them to reason. He carried to the leaders a letter from Commander Jones. No further councils will be held here until Fr. Aloysius or the runners are heard from.

PIRATES OF PUGET SOUND. BRITISH COLUMBIA VILLAGE TERRORIZED BY DESPERADOES.

Run Down at Last and Caught by the Officers of the Law. Victoria, B. C., Oct. 11.—During the past fortnight terror has been maintained among residents of isolated points on the East-end island by a sloop manned by four whiskey pirates of Puget Sound. Not a point touched has escaped robbery. Little Qualicum and Beaver Creek suffered most severely from their depredations, and the booty includes watches, diamonds, and gold rings, chains, bracelets, brooches, provisions, furniture, bedding, and even the new clock and fittings of the Public school.

AFTER CANADA'S TEA MARKET. Ottawa, Oct. 11.—Ceylon wants to get a better hold of the Canadian tea market. At present tea drinkers in Canada get most of the leaves from China and Japan. The fact that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company has a magnificent direct line of steamships between Vancouver and Yokohama and Hong Kong favors the consumption of Eastern teas in the Dominion. But Ceylon sees in the preferential tariff a means whereby it can secure a firm hold on the market if the matter is properly looked into. The benefit of the twenty-five per cent reduction in Canadian duties was to be confined to goods produced in any country in the empire, the customs tariff of which was no less favorable to Canada. India and Ceylon should come under this category.

FINDING GIVES SATISFACTION. Washington, Oct. 12.—The intimations from New York in regard to the findings of the naval "position board" gave genuine satisfaction to naval officers here. They are pronounced Sampson men as a rule, and the statement that the board sustains the reputation of Admiral Sampson and gives support to his claim for credit for the Santiago battle is approved on every side. Officers returning from the squadron have been quite as much responsible for this sentiment in the Navy Department as any other incident. None of them has questioned Sampson's right to the glory of Cervera's defeat, and the board's findings cause no surprise.

NO TRACE OF ANDREE. German Arctic Expedition Returns to Norway. Trondheim, Oct. 12.—The German steam yacht Helgoland, with the members of Herr Theodor Lerner's expedition, returned from Spitzbergen, having reached 81 degrees north. They had not seen Andree, but had collected much zoological material.

ARBITRATE FASHODA QUESTION. St. Petersburg, Oct. 12.—The newspapers here urge that the question of the possession of Fashoda on the Nile, in dispute between Great Britain and France, be settled by arbitration.

THE RATE WAR.

C. P. R. Blames the G. T. R. for the Cuts Still Existing. Mr. McNicoll Attending the Meeting in New York.

Montreal, Oct. 11.—There is no truth in the story that the Canadian Pacific will not be represented at the passenger meeting which will take place tomorrow in New York. General Passenger Manager McNicoll left for New York this evening to represent the company at the meeting at which the rate question will be discussed. When asked how long the meeting would likely last, Mr. McNicoll said: "Probably only about one hour. All I have to say won't take more than five minutes."

"Is it true that the Western lines are boycotting the C.P.R.?" "Yes," responded the general passenger agent. "The Grand Trunk is now being paid its price for fighting us. The steamship companies are giving it immigrants from Europe, and endeavoring to cut us out altogether from that business."

"Regarding the restoration of local rates, Mr. McNicoll said: 'We are prepared to take action as soon as the Grand Trunk shows a disposition to live up to the decision of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, and restore its Manitoba rates to where they were before the rate war began. At points which are not competitive with us, the G.T.R. is selling tickets to Manitoba at less than regular fare. When this difficulty is settled we will be prepared to do something toward restoring the local rates.'"

THE STRUCTURE COLLAPSED. Six Men Thrown Into the Rapids, but Escape. Winnipeg, Oct. 12.—While engaged in tearing down the old Government bridge across the west branch of the Winnipeg river, Rat Portage, the structure collapsed, and six men were thrown into the rapids. All escaped unhurt after a thrilling experience in the rushing waters. J. Keating, night janitor in the Post-office here, dropped dead while at work.

TO BALK TRAIN-ROBBERS. Western Express Officials Agree Upon a Co-Operative Plan. Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 12.—Express company officials from several Western cities met here today, and agreed to act together in suppressing train robbery. Plans were agreed upon, but will be kept secret. The superintendents of the Pacific, American, Wells-Fargo, United States, and Adams Express Companies from Omaha, St. Louis, and Kansas City were present.

MADRID IS GRIEVED. Painful Impression Caused by the Attitude of United States Peace Commissioners. Madrid, Oct. 12.—The rumors which have been published here as to the attitude of the United States Peace Commissioners are described as having caused a painful impression, especially the reported decision of the American commissioners not to recognize the Cuban and Porto Rican debts.

TRAIN ROBBER RECEIVES LIFE SENTENCE. Port Worth, Tex., Oct. 12.—George Moore, another of the Santa Fe train robbers, has been found guilty of murder and given a life sentence in prison. The jury was out one week. Dave Garlington, one of Moore's accomplices, who was convicted last week for the same offence, was given the death sentence. Two more of the same gang are awaiting trial.

Mr. C. E. Lyman and Mrs. Chapman are in Sherbrooke today, attending the funeral of Mrs. John McDonald. Several of the teachers in our public schools will leave tomorrow for Montreal, to attend the Teacher's Convention, which will be held there Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Mr. W. B. McCutcheon, station agent G.T.R., Sherbrooke, and who is very shortly to be moved to our station, was in town today, looking over his future place of business. Mr. McCutcheon will not come to Coaticook as a stranger, he having spent some years here when quite a young man.

MAGOG. (News items for insertion in the DAILY RECORD will be gladly received by R. G. Toimie, local correspondent, Magog.) Oct. 12.—Magog is in darkness tonight. Shortly before six o'clock a gear wheel broke at the power house and the lights went out all over town without a moment's warning. All the streets, stores, hotels and a large number of private houses are without light, and people who during the last twelve months stored away their oil lamps, thinking that they were of no more use, are now groping about in dark corners, hunting for them out. Every effort is being made to repair the damage, but it is doubtful if the lights can be turned on again tonight.

RICHMOND. (News items for insertion in the DAILY RECORD will be gladly received by E. R. Jones, local correspondent, Times Office Richmond.) Oct. 12.—A tea-meeting and choral service was held in St. Anne's Church on Tuesday evening, in honor of the Lord Bishop of the Diocese of Quebec who is paying a two days' visit here. Tea was served in the basement of the church from 5 to 7 o'clock and was largely attended, after which the choral service was held in the church above, commencing at 7.30 p.m. The service was under the leadership of Mr. C. P. Green and the Church was filled. The Bishop spoke on "The Sacrifice Aspect of the Holy Communion."

MOE'S RIVER. Oct. 11.—The wife of Mr. Hooper died yesterday at the Good Samaritan Hospital, Montreal. The Rev. R. S. Sidelinger had large congregations at the Free Baptist Church on Sunday, and on Monday he delivered his lecture "Life in the West" consisting principally of reminiscences of his observations and experiences while in the U.S. army. The regular Baptist oyster supper on Monday was very well attended.

MORENCY BROS. OTTAWA ITEMS.

Future of Klondike—The Fast Atlantic Line. Ottawa, Oct. 12.—Mr. H. S. White, who was Reuter's special correspondent at Dawson City this year, and Mr. E. Halder, a mining engineer of several years' experience in the South African gold fields, arrived here today on their way to Montreal and London. Asked regarding the prospects of the Klondike gold fields, they both agreed in considering that the main prospect of making it a permanent and prosperous camp lies in the promise of the many miles of low grade gravel which can only be worked in large blocks by joint stock companies, operating with machinery on a large scale. The rich placer diggings will be worked out in a few years, and without the larger operations the camp would exist only a short time. Large companies, they say, can only be induced to come into the country if arrangements can be made to give expensive outfits sufficiently employed for at least twenty or thirty years. The history of all gold fields shows that almost as much gold is put into them in the form of capital as is taken out.

A Cabinet Council will be held tomorrow, when the Premier and most of his colleagues will be present. The business to be attended to is the letting of the contract for the winter mail service. Tenders for this service were opened in Quebec last week. They call for a six months' arrangement, covering the winter season. This to be followed by a two years' contract, commencing on the 1st of May next. There is hot competition between the rival steamship companies for the securing of the contract. Mr. H. A. Allan and Mr. Henry Allan, representing the Allan Steamship Company, were in the city today in connection with the matter.

Stiegfried Wagner's new comic opera, "The Idler," will probably be produced at Munich in November. Josef Hofmann, the youthful pianist, carried back $30,000 to Europe as the result of his spring concert tour. Truly Shuttuck heads the Bowery burglars this season. Evidently this means a preponderance of purple tights. Mascagni's new Japanese opera, "Iris," will receive its first performance on or about Oct. 14 at the Teatro Costanzi, Rome. Brema has been re-engaged in Brussels on account of her success as Della in Saint-Saens' opera. She will sing there next season. Johann Strauss, the elder, and Joseph Lanner, the creators of Viennese dance music, are to have a combined monument, costing $20,000, in Vienna.

THE PLEBISCITE.

Witness Comments on the 'Soleil' Figures. With regard to the latest table of plebiscite returns, published by the 'Soleil,' the Montreal Witness says, editorially:

'The 'Soleil,' the principal federal government organ at Quebec, has concocted plebiscite figures showing a majority of 91,295 in Quebec against prohibition, over against majorities for prohibition in Ontario of 14,911; Nova Scotia, 26,350; New Brunswick, 17,378; British Columbia, 1,184; Prince Edward Island, 6,160; Territories, 2,024; Manitoba, 3,194, making a total majority against of 20,094.

The Liberal organs in all parts of the country had already assured us on their own authority that the government was not going to obey the plebiscite. Even many papers which strongly advocated prohibition, with amazing coolness assumed that of course under the circumstances it would not be granted. This was too universal not to show that the government was very anxious to manufacture a public opinion in this sense, and we see the success of the tactics in the tone of many expressions of genuine prohibitionists which have come to hand since. It was obviously necessary, however, to do something more than this to save the government from a distinct dilemma, as there were ways those who would be simple enough to hold that the government had broken its promise. The 'Soleil' seems to realize this, and the above figures are its way of getting the government out of that hole. We are not prepared to say that the returns from the French parishes do not show a negative majority of ninety or a hundred thousand. We see nothing to hinder its being made much greater according to the methods used in some quarters.'

JUST A LITTLE MISTAKE.

You say that I am fickle. You call me false," she wrote. "So I return your letters. By the bearer of this note, with all the pretty presents You lavished at my feet. And the lock of hair you gave me When love was new and sweet."

PLANT NO. 9063.

My friend Willmore told me a surprising story the other day. Doctors—and Willmore is one—do meet with surprising cases at times. I had not seen my friend, for some time, when he invited me to spend a few days with him at his pretty villa overlooking the Royal gardens at Kew. On the first evening of my visit I sat with him on the balcony of an upper room.

Close to us was the great palmhouse. Willmore pointed to it. "Whenever I look at that house," he said, "I think of the events of a night that I spent in it with a man who would have committed a murder had I not been instrumental in preventing him."

"I did what any one else would have done—asked Willmore to tell his story. "Don't mind if I do," he replied, "only I must not be too long about it. "Well, it is almost 25 years since I settled here near this wonderful garden. I put up my brass plant and waited for patients. I could do this with little anxiety, for I had a slight income to keep me going.

"There came to Kew about the same time a colonel, his wife and his daughter. Apparently they did not intend to reside here permanently—they took a furnished house by the quarter. "I met three of them in the gardens constantly. Like myself, they had obtained a private pass and used to enter by that little gate opposite to us. They were seldom in the gardens when the general public were admitted.

"To be candid with you, the beauty of the colonel's daughter was to me far more enchanting than the beauty of the gardens. Yes, it was a case of love at first sight. "I am not going to describe her except to say that every man before he reaches my age experiences the sort of intoxication that I did then, and to him the beauty of the loved object is incomparable. "The girl, I must tell you, was one of the most healthy looking girls I have ever seen. We doctors know at a glance where health has its abode.

"I took a dislike to the colonel—naturally perhaps, for he seemed to guard his daughter with exceeding sternness. He disliked me, too, it was plain. I shall never forget how he used to watch me and frown. Though I was in love, I was not quite devoid of reason and could find many excuses for the man's apparent antagonism. Besides he wanted a quiet time, as I did. Besides, the colonel might well have imagined at times that I followed them. It had really reached that stage, with me that I felt dependent when I could not see them. Of the colonel's wife I need say little, she seemed to be an unusually modest, quiet, and unassuming woman.

"For two weeks I had to be absent from Kew on business. "On returning, my first visit was to the gardens—to the rhododendron walk. They were splendid sight, but I saw nothing of them—I was looking for a face. Just as I reached the open I saw three figures coming from the direction of the grove of bamboo.

wood that had not been attended to. With a cry of delight he said that the sahib's wife would live. "I sought out the 'medicine man,'" continued Willmore after a pause, "and after some persuasion he told me that the weed he had found was of the sort supposed to be used now by thugs instead of their former strangling cord. Its odor was poisonous, was emitted only at night; must be inhaled from the plant or from some article saturated with it; that the thug covered the plant during the night and collected the poison.

"Now, in the handkerchief I had picked up in the gardens I recognized the odor of the plant—unmistakably it was the smell of the 'Thug plant' that the 'medicine man' had made me acquainted with. "The girl, it seemed, was dying from the effects of the poison. I could not administer it and why? Where had it been obtained? What was I to do? These questions absorbed my attention. "I did not follow the ladies farther. To save the girl, I felt that I must not lose a moment.

"That evening the director of the gardens was to hold an at home. I decided to go, to confide in the director. It came to me like an inspiration that the 'Thug plant' might be in the gardens. I found the director's house crowded—it was an old-fashioned place, partly in the gardens. When the host saw the urgency of my case, he arranged with some special friends to take his place in entertaining the guests. Then he listened patiently to all I had to say, making particular inquiries concerning the 'Thug plant.'

"I met three of them in the gardens constantly. Like myself, they had obtained a private pass and used to enter by that little gate opposite to us. They were seldom in the gardens when the general public were admitted. "To be candid with you, the beauty of the colonel's daughter was to me far more enchanting than the beauty of the gardens. They were splendid sight, but I saw nothing of them—I was looking for a face. Just as I reached the open I saw three figures coming from the direction of the grove of bamboo. "I fancy I betrayed my feelings a little—I could not help it. I was shocked, almost paralyzed, to see the girl, upon whose image every fiber of my brain had dwelt, supported by her mother, pale, sickly, utterly broken down in health.

"She looked at me—oh, what a pitiful look! Her eyes were unnaturally large and unnaturally bright. Her face had become thin; its color had deepened. She was plainly suffering from some sort of slow fever, a fever that was consuming her strength little by little. "Later in the day I was at the railway station, getting some books from Smith's library. He saw the colonel at the ticket office. He was inquiring for a ticket to Holyhead. He did not see me. "It occurred to my mind all at once that I might see his wife and daughter by themselves next day. Perhaps I should have a chance to introduce myself in my professional capacity. That night I concocted all sorts of plans. In the morning I was in the garden early. As the time drew nigh that those who were to see arrived I was close to their customary gate. They came somewhat late, and I followed them. I felt mean—very mean—in doing so.

"They made their way to the quietest place in the gardens—the rhododendron valley. There is a fountain beside the path to it. They stopped at it. I saw the older lady take a handkerchief, saturate it at the fountain and apply it to the girl's forehead as she stood beneath the arching shade of a yew tree, leaning against a branch of it. Presently they proceeded slowly, I following. Fortunately there were no others at that early hour to see me. The two disappeared round a turning into the valley. As they did so I saw something white fall. When I reached it, I found it to be the handkerchief. "Well, as I am telling the story, I had better tell it all. I put the handkerchief to my lips and kissed it. To my amazement an odor came from it that I had smelled once before and had never forgotten. It was the odor of the 'Thug plant.'

A Deadly Gas. Millers and the owners of grain elevators look upon the bisulphide of carbon as one of their most useful agents. When a mill, an elevator or a granary becomes infested with weevil, bisulphide of carbon is the cheapest and most effective thing to exterminate the pest. So deadly is the gas, however, and so rapidly does it act that the utmost care must be taken in applying the bisulphide. It is usually sprinkled over the grain from watering pots. The liquid is rapidly converted into a gas, and the latter sinks through the grain, carrying death to the weevil and even to the unbatched eggs.

So long as the persons applying the liquid stand above the point of application they are pretty safe from the fumes, but occasionally the workmen breathe a little of the gas and have to be removed at once to the open air, as the heart is quickly paralyzed by the action of the bisulphide. It is usual to treat the lower floors of a granary first, so that those employed in the work may keep constantly above the gas. Any animal, as a cat or a dog, shut up in an apartment where the bisulphide is doing its work is found dead when the place is opened.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

A Cuban Milkman. "How many cows there are about the streets!" somebody exclaims, and then he is calmly informed that the morning's milk is simply being delivered. A bunch of cattle and their driver stop before a house, and the portero comes out with a cup for the morning's supply. It is seen then that the cows are being milked from door to door by the dairymen, for this is the way the acute Cuban housewives have taken to assure for their tables a lactical supply which is entirely fresh and absolutely pure. Even with the cows milked before the door one must continue to watch the milkman, for I have even heard of their having a rubber bag of water concealed under their loose frocks and connected with a rubber tube running down inside of the sleeve, its tip being concealed in the hollow of the milking hand. Only a gentle pressure upon the bag of water within is needed to thus cause both milk and water to flow into the cup at the same time. The milk venders of Italy and India have also learned their trade to perfection, for they practice this identical trick.—Edward Page Gaston in Woman's Home Companion.

A Singular Calculation. In a recent number of Power a singular calculation is presented by J. A. Renie. It would require, according to Mr. Renie's figures, the power of a 10,000 horsepower engine about a foot in height, and to do this work, allowing 18 pounds of water per horsepower per hour, would require some 10,000,000,000,000 gallons of water, or more than would be discharged at the mouth of the Mississippi in 60,000 years. This would be enough, the writer estimates, to cover the entire surface of the earth to a depth of about 800 feet, to convert which into steam, using good boilers, would require some 4,000,000,000,000,000 tons of coal. If the latter quantity of the mineral was loaded on cars of 20 tons each, it would demand 200,000,000,000 such cars. If the latter were 80 feet long and all coupled together in one train, it would reach around the earth 45,000,000 times and, if running 25 miles per hour, would consume 25,000,000 years in running the length of itself. So much for "figures."

There are always those who will kick. For instance, if you publish jokes with whiskers on them some will say that you ought to be in a lunatic joint. If you don't print something to smile at, they say you are a pessimistic fossil. If you spread yourself and write a good, original article, they will say it is stolen. If you reprint an article, they will say you can't write. If you say a deservng word for a man, you are partial; if you compliment the women, the men are jealous, and if you don't the verdict of the women is to the effect that your paper is not fit to use in the construction of a bustle. If you stay in your office, you are afraid to remain on the streets; if you do, you are lazy. If you look seedy, you are squandering your money; if you wear good clothes, you are a dude, and don't pay for them. If you play a social game of any kind and get stuck, you are a fish; if you win, you are a tin horn, and so it goes through one continual round of pleasant complications.—Roslyn (Mich.) Sentinel.

A Philadelphia policeman the other day received a letter informing him that a "speak easy," by which term an unlicensed saloon is designated, was in operation near Franklin and Spring Garden streets. His detective instinct was at once aroused, and he made an investigation, only to discover that he was the victim of some practical joker. The place referred to proved to be an Episcopal church for the deaf.—New York Tribune.

A Military Exquisite. Marshal Ney, who was as handsome as he was brave, is said never to have appeared on the field at a great battle until he was dressed with scrupulous elegance and his beard carefully curled and perfumed. When he was led out to execution, he was cool and calm as though he were going to open a dance, only asking that the guns should be aimed low, that his face might not be disfigured after death.

The Svantians, who live in the inaccessible mountain range between the Black and Caspian seas, are probably the laziest people in the world. They have made no advance toward civilization in 2,500 years. It is their invariable rule to observe holidays four times a week, with saints' days as extras.

ANTICOSTI TROUBLES.

What Mr. Menier Says in Paris. Referring to the trouble between Mr. Menier, proprietor of the Island of Anticosti, and the Fox Bay settlers, the Gaulois, of Paris, says: "We stated a few days ago that there was a Menier question about which the English press of Canada made much fuss. Now, it appears that that question merely amounts to an insignificant fact. Mr. Henri Menier has himself declared to us that the whole matter was confined to the dismissal of a few servants with whom he was not satisfied. Every one being master at home, Mr. Menier, proprietor of the Island of Anticosti, has a perfect right to manage that island as he pleases. "Only there is this: In Canada religious quarrels are intense, and the dismissed servants thought fit to make us of the religious pretence to provoke against their former master a campaign which, they considered, would annoy him very much. They made a mistake in their calculations, for Mr. Menier is so indifferent to the squabbles of the English press in Canada that he does not even read the numerous newspaper clippings that are sent to him daily, and gave no reply to the reporters of the foreign newspapers who came to his home."

TURKEY YIELDS. She Will Comply With the Demands of the Powers but Desires Modifications. Constantinople, Oct. 11.—The Porte's reply to the ultimatum of the Powers demanding the withdrawal of the Turkish troops from Crete was delivered to the foreign ambassadors last evening. The Porte agrees to comply with the demands of the Powers, but expresses a desire that certain modifications be made. The Porte having consented to the evacuation of Crete by the Ottoman troops, orders have been issued for their withdrawal. Gens. Osman Pasha and Sabit Pasha have been ordered to proceed to Crete to superintend the embarkation of the troops. The Porte's reply, while again assenting to an autonomous Government for the island, asserts the intention of the Sultan to hold three fortified places, with garrisons sufficient to protect the Mohammedans and defend the Turkish flag. The attitude of the powers toward this claim has not transpired.

The Magic of a Word. A party of gentlemen but recently returned from a metropolitan city tell a new story on the leisurely belloy. They were stopping at a big hotel, and on the first evening of their visit were seized with a mighty thirst, but which they believed plain ice water would assuage. One of them stepped to the bell-pull. It was one of those new fangled things built on the principle of a dollar typewriter. You turn the hand around the dial till it points to what you want, then you press the button, and the business office is supposed to do the rest. The instrument was caused to register ice water a number of times in the regions below, but there was no response. The thirst kept on increasing and the gentlemen got hot in the collar. One of them spoke of going down and challenging the clerk and the bellboys to a boxing match. "No, don't do that," remarked one of the gentlemen. "Just watch me—I'll bet I'll get 'em."
