9 KILLED IN DRUMMONDVILLE ACCIDENT

World News In Brief

Pusan, South Korea, Sept. 10.—(Reuters)—Three senior South Korean officers have been indicted before the central military court at Taegu, South Korea, on charges of manslaughter arising from the massacre of 187 civilians at Kuchang, south-central Korea, Feb. 12.

They also face charges of interfering with the official investigation of the massacre.

Two of the accused are Brig.-Gen. Chai Tok Shin, commander, and Col. Pak Hwan Won, chief of staff of the South Korean 11th division, a unit of which shot the civilians.

The other is Col. (Tiger) Kim Jong, then deputy commander of the South Korean military police, who was alleged to have organized an unsuccessful ambush of the investigation group.

Honolulu, Sept. 10.—(AP)—An unidentified body was found last night in the ashes of a $1,000,000 fire that destroyed four civilian housing barracks near Pearl Harbor yesterday.

Naval headquarters said the body probably was that of a civilian worker who was asleep when the fire broke out.

Of unknown origin, the blaze roared through the wooden structures for 1½ hours before fire-fighters brought it under control.

Laval-sur-Lac, Que., Sept. 10.—(CP)—The Laval-sur-Lac golf club house was destroyed by fire early today. Damage was estimated at several hundred thousand dollars.

The fire started in the kitchen and spread quickly through the clubhouse structure which last month was home base for competitors in the Canadian ladies close and open golf tournaments.

No one was injured.

Paris, Sept. 10.—(AP)—French Premier Rene Pleven's coalition cabinet chalked up a victory today as the National Assembly voted 322 to 251 to grant increased funds to Roman Catholic schools.

The bill provides 3,000 francs (about $9) a year for every child of elementary school age. The money may be used to help either public or private religious schools.

Noumea, New Caledonia, Sept. 10.—(Reuters)—Almost 6,000 natives are grimly holding out in a tiny South Pacific island being slowly consumed by a crippling volcano.

A shipment of 200 natives who arrived at a neighboring island Sunday said that the remaining 6,000 refused to leave their homes. A total of 2,000 natives now have left.

The island is a tiny speck named Anibani—16 miles by 24 miles—in the South Pacific Outer Hebrides group.

Reds Ousted From T.L.C. Conference

By JOHN LEBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Halifax, Sept. 10.—President Percy Bengough will address the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada today as the big labor organization swings into business sessions of its week-long convention here.

The Congress took two swipes at communists yesterday in preliminary sessions as part of its two-year cleanup of Red-liners. Its credentials committee tossed out a left-wing British Columbian and got set to throw out other leftists.

His executive council barred from the convention press table the editor of the Canadian Tribune, Toronto communist weekly.

The first move was in line with an anti-Red congress policy that has been stiffening since 1948, but the second one came as a sharp surprise to observers since the T.L.C.—along with the Canadian Congress of Labor—always has allowed the Red Toronto newspaper full working press facilities.

Barred as a delegate was Alex Gordon of Vancouver, youthful former vice-president of the Congress who is known as a left-winger. Gordon, top man in the B.C. fishermen and allied workers' union, was a delegate to the Soviet-sponsored world peace congress in Birmingham. Gordon's appeal was thrown out by the executive.

With the anti-Red T. L. C. executive having pretty well flattened its communist minority in the last few years, Gordon was one of only four who were down on the Congress' black books among the 400-odd delegates here for this meeting of representatives from the 500,000-member Congress, largest labor body in Canada.

Also due to be thrown out—or at least questioned—were another delegate from Gordon's union and a B.C. member of the Painters' union.

Charles Sims, editor of the Toronto Tribune, was handed his walking papers by Leslie E. Wisner, public relations director of the Congress, after a decision by the executive council under president Bengough of Ottawa.

Sims was told he could not sit at the press table, though he was not barred from the public galleries of the Congress. He immediately said he would appeal to President Bengough.

Red Bank, N.J., Sept. 10.—(AP)—An Aberdeen Angus bull was sold for the record price of $57,000 yesterday at a public auction. The Ralph L. Smith farm of Chillicothe, Mo., made the purchase from Dr. Armand Hammer.

Seven In Car, Two In Truck Are Killed — Driver Of Second Truck Critically Injured.

Drummondville, Que., Sept. 10.—Nine persons were killed late Saturday night in the largest single highway tragedy of the year in Quebec province as an automobile and a light delivery truck collided head-on near this Eastern Townships centre.

There were no survivors and no eyewitnesses to the crash which developed into a four-way collision before Quebec provincial police could clear the highway of charred and twisted bodies and wreckage.

Seven of the victims — on a pilgrimage to St. Joseph's Oratory in Montreal — found death as the car in which they were riding became their funeral pyre, catching fire after the impact turned it over.

Police said all were knocked unconscious and were unable to get out of the overturned car.

The other two victims were occupants of the truck and were identified as Lionel Messier, 23, and Benoit Gaudreault, 30, both of St. Hyacinthe, Que.

Car victims were identified as: Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Lemelin, 40 and 47 respectively, and their four-year-old daughter, Noella; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Filiault, 25 and 23 respectively, all of St. Camille, Wolfe County; Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Lefebvre, 29 and 21, Wotton, Wolfe County.

A second truck, driven by Emile Girard of St. Felix de Kingston, crashed into the wreckage. Girard is in hospital here suffering the loss of an eye and severe head injuries. His condition is described as "very critical."

Before lapsing into unconsciousness, Girard told hospital attendants he saw the mangled vehicles on the highway but could not stop in time. He remembered nothing following the crash.

Another car piled into Girard's truck but the occupants were only shaken up and were allowed to proceed on their way.

Removal of the bodies to undertaker establishments here and clearing of the highway was not completed until 4 a.m. yesterday.

Detective Sergeant C. Farah-Lajoie, in charge of the Provincial Police detachment for Drummondville, said he saw the wreckage at the scene. It was the worst Quebec traffic mishap he could recall.

He said occupants of the truck were thrown out of their vehicle by the impact and added: "The highway around here is straight and our investigation so far shows that the truck struck the car and that both men in the truck had been drinking."

After the nine bodies had been identified by relatives, district Coroner Dr. Rene Millet postponed the inquest indefinitely pending completion of police investigation.

In addition to the Drummondville fatalities, 14 other persons lost their lives in Eastern Canada over the week-end.

A Canadian Press compilation early today showed that the street and highway death toll during the week-end was 20. One man died when fire destroyed his home, one man succumbed to carbon monoxide poisoning and police said one man died from the effects of poison taken internally.

Fourteen violent deaths were reported from Quebec, eight from Ontario and one from Nova Scotia. Near Maniwaki, Que., Charles Smith, 24, of the nearby Ingonish Indian reservation, was killed in what police termed a hit-and-run accident. Joseph Simard, 31-year-old taxi driver was killed when his cab was struck by a train near Chicoutimi, Que., and Lionel Cameron, 36-year-old farmer from St. Anselme, Que., was killed when his horse-drawn vehicle was struck by a car.

Montreal police said early today they are investigating the death by poison of Adam Davidson, 58, of suburban Chateaufort, at Baie d'Urfe, 12 miles west of Montreal. David G. Owen, 35, was burned to death when fire destroyed his home.

Near Smith's Falls, Ont., Eleanor Kerr, 19, of Smith's Falls, died when a car missed a curve and overturned in a swamp. Doctors said she was drowned in foot-deep water.

Two Buffalo youths, Carl Hoerner, 16, and William Olsen, 17, died when they were trapped in a car which plunged into the Welland canal near Port Colborne.

Andrew Bender, 73, was killed in a truck collision near Kitchener, Ont.

Killed when automobiles knocked them from their bicycles were: Charles Rathwell, 47-year-old deaf-mute, near Kilmory, Ont., and Hilda Alderton, 17, of West Lorne, Ont., near Wyoming, Ont.; Bobby Lee, 9, of Ingewood, Ont., near Ferndale, Ont.

Iran Premier Is Blocked By Deputies

Tehran, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Premier Mohammed Mossadegh — having failed twice to get a parliamentary confidence vote, for his "get-tough" oil policy — says he will send Britain an ultimatum any way on reopening the disrupted talks.

A continued boycott by opposition deputies blocked a second attempt by the Premier to force action in the Majlis (lower house) yesterday. Only 68 deputies showed up, instead of the minimum of 75 needed for a vote of confidence.

Pounding on his desk, Mossadegh said that, vote or no vote, he would go ahead with his ultimatum giving Britain two weeks to reopen the talks or face the ouster of the 300 British technicians still in Abadan—site of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company's vast refinery.

The cabinet decided late Saturday to back the Premier's stand, even if the opposition continues to block a favorable vote.

Deputy-Premier Hossain Fatimi told reporters last night the boycotting deputies will be invited to a closed Majlis session today to explain their objections. It was doubted they would accept for fear the session would be converted into an open meeting with the required quorum present. Fatimi said the ultimatum will be sent tomorrow.

During his speech to the Majlis, Mossadegh said: "I warn the British. If we are brought to our knees there is a bigger power than Britain waiting in ambush for us."

British leaders in London indicated last week they would not negotiate with a government headed by Mossadegh.

Acheson, Morrison Meet Today

Washington, Sept. 10.—(AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson and Britain's Herbert Morrison today discuss their difference over cold-war tactics in the opening meeting of the big three western foreign ministers' conference.

A proposed new partnership deal for west Germany, the British dispute with Egypt over Suez and the Iranian and Far East crisis were expected by diplomats to figure in the talk.

Acheson, Morrison and foreign minister Robert Schuman of France flew here last night from the Japanese peace conference at San Francisco. For the next four days, in the first full-dress big three meeting in a year, they are due to talk over a global range of problems.

Today's Acheson-Morrison talks are to be followed tomorrow by a similar session between Acheson and Schuman. Beginning Wednesday it will be a three-way discussion. The three allied high commissioners for Germany were on hand for consultation in the scheduled effort to iron out final details to the plan to bring the German government into the west.

Acheson said he and the British and French leaders agreed on procedure.

The United States and Britain, diplomats said, now see mostly eye-to-eye on a plan to offer the Bonn government a "contract" giving west Germany almost complete sovereignty, abolishing the high commission, and transforming the occupation troops to domestic police.

Miss Utah Wins Beauty Crown

Atlantic City, N.J., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Colleen Kay Hutchins, 25, tall blue-eyed blonde of Salt Lake City, Utah, Saturday won the 1952 Miss America contest.

The University of Utah graduate student, who weighs 143 pounds, was crowned at the conclusion of a five-day pageant in which 51 girls sought the coveted title.

Rated second was Miss Indians, Carol Mitchell of Rochester. Next was Lu Long Ogburn of Smithfield, N.C., the only two-time preliminary contest winner.

Marjorie Alma Kelly, of Courtland, Ont., entered as Miss Canada for 1951, won a special $1,000 scholarship for the most talented non-finalist. A lyric soprano, the 23-year-old Miss Kelly is the daughter of a tobacco farmer. A graduate of Alma College and the University of Western Ontario, she is five feet 2½ inches tall, and weighs 115 pounds.

Miss Hutchins, the first blonde to win the contest since 1938, was the tallest girl in the contest at five feet 10 inches. She has a 24-inch waist, 36-inch bust and 36-inch hips.

A veteran of Utah beauty pageants, she receives a $5,000 scholarship, gifts including a new automobile, and a chance to earn thousands in personal appearances. Pageant officials said that Yolande Betbeze, last year's winner, earned about $30,000 during her reigning year.

Field Marshal Papagos Leads In Greek Election

Athens, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Field Marshal Alexander Papagos, military hero who smashed communist resistance in the Greek civil war, led decisively today in Sunday's voting on leadership in the government.

Unofficial returns from nearly 60 per cent of the nation's precincts made Papagos virtually sure to take command of the country with an absolute majority in Parliament. He appeared certain of from 90 to 100 of the 260 Parliament seats.

With 1,603 of the 3,910 precincts to report, his new rival Greek Rally party led the ticket with 36 per cent of the votes.

Unofficially dubbed "the man on the white horse," Papagos is a right-wing leader counted to lead Greece out of the political instability it has had since it was liberated seven years ago.

Second in the race was another former cavalry officer, Gen. Nicholas Plastiras, with nearly 25 per cent of the ballots.

Plastiras, a war hero called "the man on the black horse," is counted as left of centre by Greek political observers. He leads the Progressive Union party.

The complicated reinforced proportional system.

It did not appear certain, however, that Venizelos would maintain the 17-per-cent necessary to qualify. The party had 76 seats in the last Parliament.

Early in the returns, the communist-backed Democratic Front party ran third, but later dropped behind the Liberals.

A clear-cut winner would have the premiership backed by a single majority party instead of a coalition of several parties, the practice in the past.

Papagos is regarded as the hero of the second-world-war defence against the Italian invasion and of the more-recent defeat of the Greek communists.

To win, Papagos had to beat back palace opposition, led by King Paul, and charges by the other eight parties that he is seeking a dictator's ship.

Demand For Price Controls Is Renewed By T.L.C. Head

Halifax, Sept. 10.—President Percy Bengough, of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, addressing the opening session of the T.L.C.'s annual convention, today renewed labor's demand for price controls.

He said the skyrocketing cost of food and household commodities is the "immediate worst" of the "unwanted babies on our doorstep."

Mr. Bengough in his address to more than 400 delegates, laying down one of the major themes of the annual session of the 500,000-member Congress, declared:

"It is true that the government has sought to restrict credit buying, but this is comparable to mopping up the floor without stopping the leak and at best is class legislation, restricting only the buying of the poor unless they, as many have been forced to do, borrow the required down payment from a shark loan company."

The veteran president delivered a blow at the Federal government for its recent statements—through Prime Minister St. Laurent and Labor Minister Gregg—that more production by Canadians would be one of the key ways of overcoming inflation.

Propaganda Blast Expected As Reds' Reaction To Pact

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
San Francisco, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Andrei Gromyko is going home from the San Francisco conference with Russia's worst postwar diplomatic defeat on his record—and with ammunition for a new wrecking campaign against the Japanese peace treaty.

American diplomats predicted Russia will do its utmost to undermine popular support for the treaty with a massive propaganda attack throughout Asia and the Far East.

Gromyko, who left by train for New York yesterday, prepared the ammunition for that assault in his speeches and actions at the peace conference—notably by his charges of American "dictation" and his repeated forecasts of a "new war" in the Orient. He also made much of communist China's exclusion.

At some point, furthermore, it is considered probable that Russia will put forth, in collaboration with communist China, plans for a separate communist-bloc peace treaty with Japan.

Forty-eight countries signed the peace treaty with Japan Saturday. For three tense days of debate Gromyko had cried his warnings of war and had tried to get acceptance of amendments which would have fendered Japan defenceless.

Successful Windup To Toronto Ex

Toronto, Sept. 10.—(AP)—The 1951 Canadian National Exhibition which ended Saturday has been termed the greatest ever held here, although its run that started Aug. 24 fell short of breaking attendance records.

Hit by chilly winds and persistent drizzle during its last few days, over-all attendance reached 2,699,000, some 24,000 below that of 1950. Saturday's turnout was 235,000, or 11,000 less than the 1950 closing day.

However, an official said that the London section of Festival of Britain, which started early in May and continues until Sept. 30, took nearly four months to pass the 4,000,000 mark.

Directors had hoped that the C.N.E., largest annual exposition in the world, would have an attendance of more than 3,000,000 this year.

Said Elwood Hughes, general manager: "financially this has been a better than last."

Sir Denys Lawson, Lord Mayor of London, spoke at the same luncheon. He said that although the Commonwealth may still have to develop newer and closer bounds to define relations, the main lines have been laid to such an extent that its nations not only will be able to save themselves from tyranny but may also save the free world.

Just before a shower of sky rockets and star shells signalled the end of the fair, officials announced the winner of a give-away bungalow. He was W. H. Giles, married 15 months—and a real estate salesman who until now hasn't had a home of his own.

She flew up from Acapulco during production of the Republic picture to take part in a mammoth benefit performance in Mexico City.

Because of faulty plane connections, Katy showed up at the theatre shortly before midnight, a time when the audience was growing restless and noisy.

A soprano had already left the stage in tears when Katy began her song, cat-calls and jeers filled the air.

Katy glared at the audience and walked off.

A few seconds later she was back, pointing a dandy-looking revolver at the loudest hecklers.

"Ladies and gentlemen," boomed Katy, "I have volunteered to entertain for this great cause. I receive not one penny for this."

"Natives say white men get big empty heads," came the answer.

The movie director paused to look at Bogey wearing a black beard, Katie in her slacks, and the flames shooting into the sky.

"You know," he said, "I think those natives are right."

"I wanted him to talk things over with Alice, but he went all to pieces at the idea. John frowned, puzzled. Suddenly he put a hand over Vinnie's. 'Honey, would you mind if I left you alone this week-end? I could take Tom up to Lake Hopatcong, to your brother's cabin. He can tell Alice he's going fishing. Then maybe I can go over things with him, help him sort himself out. Otherwise he'll crack up.' John's eyes were worried. 'I don't see how he can afford to keep that house—unless Alice manages something—'

"Maybe she can get a job and help out. Alice is smart," Vinnie said, slowly. Her heart was beating fast; she clung to John's hand, savoring her own happiness, her security. Poor Alice, she thought, with her subtle methods, her handling! Not such a smart wife at all, really. Because there was one thing she hadn't managed—she hadn't managed happiness!

When should a family borrow?
A family should borrow only when a loan is the best solution to a money problem. For example, to pay old debts, medical expenses, taxes, fuel, education, car or home repairs. Loans for these reasons are not inflationary, for the money is not used to buy goods in short supply or increase indebtedness.
SOLVING MONEY PROBLEMS
At HFC—Household Finance—we believe a family should borrow only when, by careful planning, the money problem can be solved, and the loan repaid in an orderly manner. When a family borrows under these circumstances, it is simply "renting" money on terms it can afford. At HFC you may borrow $50, $250, $500 or more on your signature, without bankable security.

Premier Duplessis Says Padlock Law Protects Youth Against Propaganda

By CUTHBERT JONES
Actonvale, Sept. 10.—The laws of the Province of Quebec are made for the people of Quebec by the people of Quebec to meet the needs of the people of Quebec, Premier Maurice Duplessis told a gathering of several thousand persons who had gathered in this Bagot County town for the blessing of the recently completed St. Andre de Actonvale school.

The Premier's remarks were directed at those, especially from other provinces, who criticized the application of Quebec's padlock law. The people of this province, he said, had determined to fight Communism with all the power they could muster and the padlock law was an effective weapon in protecting youth against the insidious propaganda of Stalin's agents.

The educational theme predominated throughout the entire proceedings yesterday afternoon. During the public meeting which preceded the blessing of the new school, His Excellency Rt. Rev. Arthur Douville, Bishop of St. Hyacinthe, stressed the important part education played in guiding the future of the youth of the Province. He praised the Government for the progressive attitude it had taken in advancing the cause of Christian education in the province.

The Premier paid high tribute to the Actonvale School Board for its work in improving educational facilities, especially the chairman, Dr. Leon Gauthier, who had occupied that post for the past twenty-five years. As a tribute for this long service and in recognition of the important help Dr. Gauthier could give education in this province, the Premier said that at the next session of the Provincial Cabinet he would recommend the appointment of Dr. Gauthier to the Roman Catholic Committee of the Department of Public Instruction.

Brief addresses were also delivered by Dr. Gauthier, Roger Labrecque, Mayor of Actonvale, and Daniel Johnson, M.L.A. for Bagot.

These were followed by the benediction of the new building by Bishop Douville assisted by Canon Rene Gagnon, Actonvale parish priest, and Rt. Hon. Brother Gerard, superior of the Order of the Sacred Heart which is charged with the operation of the new school.

A three-story fireproof structure, the new school has fifteen classrooms, including one for manual training, one for commercial subjects and one for science. In addition there is a large recreation hall and living quarters for the staff. It is designed to handle 300 pupils, although if the minimum standards suggested by the Department of Health were adopted, the number of pupils could be increased to 445.

After being introduced at the political meeting later by Daniel Johnson, M.L.A. for Bagot, who thanked him for the many things the Government had done for the county and reminded him of the many things that were still needed, the Premier launched out in his attack on Communism and his defence of the padlock law.

Quebec laws, he said, were tailored to the needs of the people of Quebec "and those who don't like them know what they can do."

Quebec, he said, was determined to fight communism with all the weapons it could muster and the padlock law had proved effective in protecting youth against the insidious propaganda of Stalin's agents.

"Recently a minister of the Crown from Australia visited me and he asked for all the information he could get on the padlock and its administration," said the Premier. "Apparently word of the success we have had with the Padlock Law had spread to his country and it is possible that they might consider imitating it."

"There are those here and in other provinces who have condemned the Padlock Law," Mr. Duplessis declared. "It is their right to criticize if they want to. But I say that we in French Canadian and Catholic Quebec want to run our own affairs to suit ourselves and in keeping with the tradition of this province. We know what the people want and we intend to do what the people want. We know that the people of this province want to be protected against the ungodly attacks of Stalin's agents and the present government will do everything in its power to assure the people of this protection."

"If the other provinces don't want to follow suit, that is their business; but let us run our own affairs in our own way," the Premier asserted.

The Premier, without referring to Massey report by name, said some people claimed there was a wide difference between culture and education. He did not share this opinion and said that Quebec would continue to encourage the development of French-Canadian culture in the provincial educational system.

He said the National Union Party had done more than any other government for the cause and cited figures to show that since 1944 the present administration had built some 1,192 schools and had repaired and enlarged more than 6,000 others. It had also built a large number of schools where workers' children could obtain training in specialized subjects at a minimum cost.

The Premier went on to review some of the other accomplishments of his government in road construction, winter highways, loans to farmers, land drainage, etc.

To criticism that his government has a $200,000,000 budget compared to the $300,000,000 which the former Liberal administration had

V.O.N. Seeks Financial Support

The annual campaign of the Victorian Order of Nurses for funds to continue the fine work the Order is doing in the Sherbrooke and Lennoxville areas got under way during the week-end.

In a letter to friends of the Order, J. Guy Blanchette and Henri L. Gagnon, vice-presidents, stated that in 1950 the four nurses of the Sherbrooke-Lennoxville branch made 8,517 visits at a cost of about $1.40 a visit.

At the year end, the branch had a surplus of $14.45 on the year's operations.

The cost, said the letter, included the operation of two automobiles and supplementary taxis or bus fares where necessary. It included clothing allowances for the nurses, rent, office supplies, pensions, insurance and other sundry expenses.

"Due in some part to careful supervision the total of these costs has not increased materially over a period of several years but, as anyone who exchanges money for things will know, it is taking constantly more money to buy the same amount of goods or services," said the letter.

"The principal increase in costs is covered in well merited salary increases to nurses made effective early in the year and amounting to slightly more than $500 annually. Broadly speaking, this is the amount of new money needed for our budget again this year."

"In theory and in practice we are truly a community service. Over the past two years, 84 per cent of our patients were French-speaking and 16 per cent English-speaking. About half of the visits were free and, in 1950, only 444 were paid in full ($1.50)."

In addition to the letter campaign the V.O.N. is holding its annual tag days on September 21 and 22. The Thrift Shop, another of the Order's major projects, will take place October 24 and 25 at Plymouth United Church.

to spend, the Premier said: "It is true that we have a budget of more than $200,000,000. That is because we make sure that the taxes are collected and that these 'axes' find their way into the provincial treasury."

It also means that industry and commerce has grown to such an extent that the revenue of the province has grown in proportion. It means that right now the province is enjoying a period of prosperity never before experienced in history. That has been the record of the National Union and I am sure that when general elections roll around next year that the people of this province will remember."

H. L. Gagnon Is Field Representative For Canadian International Trade Fair

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—The Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce, today announced the appointment of two field supervisors and seven field representatives for the Canadian International Trade Fair. One of the field representatives is H. L. Gagnon, of Sherbrooke.

Trade Fair field supervisor for the whole of Quebec Province is F. A. Serdongs, of Montreal, a naturalized Canadian who was born and educated in Belgium. Prior to his C.I.T.F. appointment he was chief of the Belgian Government Economic Mission in Canada, and has wide experience as a commercial director of both Belgian and Canadian import-export firms. He was educated in Belgium, received a Bachelor of Commerce degree at the University of Antwerp.

Field representative for the Trade Fair in the City of Montreal is M. J. Edwards, of Montreal, formerly chief inspector of the Express Traffic Association in Montreal.

Mr. Edwards was born in England, educated at colleges in Guilford and the Isle of Wight, and came to Canada in 1911 after working with a law firm for 10 years. He joined the staff of the Canadian Pacific Express Company in Winnipeg, and transferred to the Express Traffic Association in 1930 as an inspector.

Field representative for the rest of the province is Mr. Gagnon, who served 41 years with the Royal Bank of Canada prior to his retirement in 1950. During his banking career, Mr. Gagnon, a native of Nova Scotia, spent 22 years outside the country, with posts ranging from the West Indies to Barcelona, Spain, and Paris, France. He is married with four children.

These men will work directly with the Trade Fair administration in Toronto, and will collaborate closely with the Trade Fair Provincial Committee, headed in Quebec by Louis Coderre, deputy minister, Provincial Department of Trade and Commerce.

In announcing the appointment, the Minister stated that they were three of a number of Field Representatives being appointed across Canada for the purpose of meeting with Canadian manufacturers and producers to provide them with first hand information on the purpose of the Canadian International Trade Fair and its value to them through exhibiting. The Trade Fair, patterned after the time honored and successful Trade Fair in Western Europe, was the first to be inaugurated on this continent. It was held in 1948 as an experiment, and a number of Canadian manufacturers have exhibited in all four fairs to date. Now, after the success story of the amount of business development at the Fair, both by Canadian manufacturers and exhibitors from abroad, there is a substantial indication of the value of the Fair to more of Canada's manufacturers and producers.

For the first time since its inception sales organizations have been established to carry the story of the Trade Fair to manufacturers and producers in every Canadian province. It is hoped that participation by Canadian firms will, as the result, show a marked increase at the 5th Trade Fair now being organized for June 2nd to 13th, 1952. While the Fair is primarily designed to assist in promoting two-way trade between Canada and other trading nations, the presence of thousands of business men from all parts of Canada also provide a unique opportunity for the development of business right here at home.

Churchman Addresses Meeting Of Kiwanis Clubs

Murray Bay, Que., Sept. 10.—Very Rev. Dr. C. Ritchie Bell, former moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, told members of the Ontario, Quebec, and Maritime Kiwanis clubs here Saturday night that the major difficulties of humanity today derive from incorrigible child-mindedness.

He was speaking at the opening meeting of 24th annual convention of "spiritual architects." He said "the trouble with humanity is not so much its perversity as its immaturity. Its major difficulties do not derive so much from original devilishness as from incorrigible child-mindedness."

Faith, wisdom, courage and service were listed as the four qualities necessary for spiritual building.

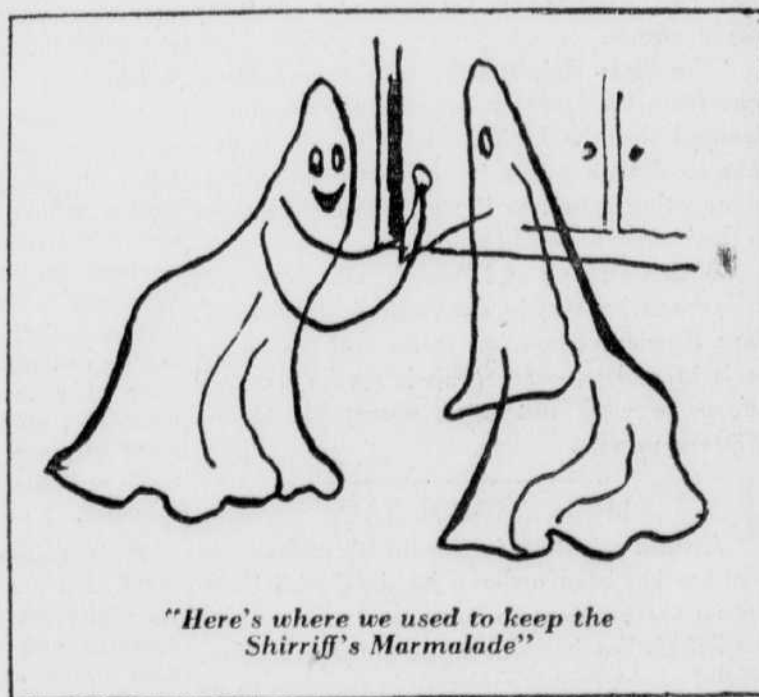

Delegates from 114 clubs, representing 7,200 members, are attending the convention, presided over by Ralph D. Steel of Chatham, Ont., governor of the Ontario-Kiwanis district.

Past president Newman Hunter and treasurer Reginald Bishop are the delegates of the Kiwanis Club of Sherbrooke at Murray Bay.

If you were a bee, you could, as bees do, use your wings as a fan to cool the house. But while bees are busy ventilating, they can't be gathering honey. So hives with aluminum roofs (ten to fifteen degrees cooler) make bees more efficient. Some day aluminum houses may do the same for housewives.

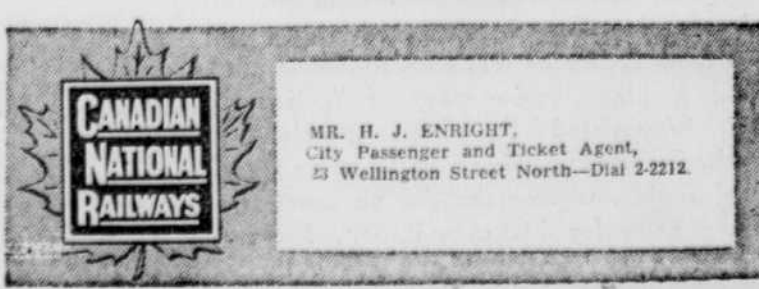

Aluminum is an ideal insulator for hives—and homes. This is one of a dozen reasons why the demand for aluminum is growing so rapidly, and why we are building new plants and powerhouses to make more aluminum. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

sunk. A communist shore battery opened fire, but scored no hits.

Munsan, Korea, Sept. 10.—(AP)—United Nations' officers today swapped sharp words with communists in Kaesong after investigating a communist charge that an allied plane strafed the cease-fire conference city this morning.

The U.N. officers refused to give the Reds an on-the-spot report of their investigation. They also refused to concede that an attack had occurred or that a U.N. plane was involved.

They acknowledged only that during a four-hour check-up of the alleged neutrality-zone violation they found one bullet mark and a dozen 50-calibre slugs in and around a group of stone houses. The houses were about three-quarters of a mile from the site of the suspended armistice talks.

The investigators said the bullets appeared to have been fired from several directions and at different angles.

This would conflict, they said, with the Red assertion that the plane made one pass over the house.

When the investigation was completed, the senior allied officer refused a communist demand for a reply to the charge.

Col. Don Darrow told the senior Red liaison officer, Col. Chang, that the evidence would be studied further. He said he would report his findings to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme allied commander, and Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief U.N. negotiator.

Several times Darrow and Chang exchanged sharp words.

At one point Darrow called a statement by Chang "stupid" and Chang demanded that Darrow be replaced.

Chang charged that "this kind of violation" had no purpose other than to delay resumption of the cease-fire negotiations.

While checking on alleged bullet holes in a field near the group of houses, Darrow told Chang "all the evidence you have shown is evidence which could have been put there by several different means."

Chang replied in anger: "Unless you admit that the bullets came from a plane, what is the use of further discussion?"

Darrow refused to make such an admission, saying "I have not adequate proof."

The Queen then sent for the King's physicians from London.

Two of them flying to Balmoral last week-end to give him a hurried examination. They ordered Saturday's detailed X-ray examination.

The Sunday Pictorial took the long optimistic approach. It filled its front page today with a long picture of the King coming out of his physician's office.

The Pictorial described it as "a happy and reassuring picture of a monarch about whom his people have been anxious for a long time."

ed by Mossadegh. They also hinted Britain would use force against any attempt to remove the technicians from Abadan by the threatened voiding of their residence permits.

In his Majlis speech, Mossadegh referred to talk in political circles of moves to bring in a new government to solve the four-month-old oil nationalization crisis.

"I hereby declare," he said, "that if I knew any other government would safeguard our interests, I would resign and go; but because I believe to the contrary, I am not going to leave this trench until this dispute is solved to the interest of Iran."

ence forces. Some differences remain over details.

Morrison was expected to seek the support of Acheson in the dispute resulting from the demand of Egypt for the withdrawal of British troops from the Suez Canal zone.

The breakdown of the British-Iranian talks made the Iran oil crisis almost certain to be a topic for consideration.

Also on the agenda for the big three meeting were the Korean crisis and the mounting threat of the Chinese communists to Indo-China.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—The external affairs department announced today that Canada has expressed "grave concern" to Peking "at (communist) China's policy toward Canadians and request that measures be taken in the near future to bring about an improvement in the situation."

Noting that seven Canadians are known to be under arrest in China, the department said that Canada made representations Sept. 1 through the United Kingdom charge d'affaires in Peking to the foreign minister of the central people's government of China.

This action marked the first time the Canadian government has publicly assailed China for conduct which has caused considerable concern here.

The Vokes "Gasmaster" is easily and quickly installed between the carburetor and the intake manifold. It was a product of government research during the war and was fitted to military aircraft at that time. It is now re-engineered for use on all makes of cars, trucks, and motor-cycles including 1951 models. The "Gasmaster" does not admit additional air into the engine to burn valves. The extra power and improved performance is gained because of a more complete vaporization and distribution of the fuel.

- ★ IMPROVED ENGINE PERFORMANCE
- ★ EASIER STARTING
- ★ REDUCED GASOLINE CONSUMPTION

The "Gasmaster" is engineered for all cars, trucks and motorcycles—including 1951 models.

The success of tag days rests to a great extent on a large number of taggers and to this end several organizations have been approached for taggers among their members and the appeal has met with favor. In addition to these recruits the committee would much appreciate offers from any person willing to tag who would kindly call Mrs. George Smith, dial 2-2977. Boxes and tags will be on hand at the Sherbrooke Library, Sun Life Building, Frontenac street.

MARRIAGES

NORRIS—MOULDY

A pretty wedding took place in St. Patrick's Church on Saturday morning, August 25, at 9 o'clock, when Juanita Claire, second daughter of Mrs. Marguerite Mouldy and the late Mr. Ernest Mouldy, of Sherbrooke, was united in marriage to Allan Edwin Norris, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Norris, of Sherbrooke, in a double ring ceremony, Rev. Father J. R. Moisan officiating. The altar and communion table were decorated with pink and white gladioli and the pews reserved for the guests were marked with pink carnations tied with white satin bows. Mrs. M. C. Shea, organist, played the wedding music, and Mr. Raymond Gaudet, soloist, sang Schubert's "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus."

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Wesley King, wore a full skirted floor-length gown of white brocaded nylon over taffeta, the fitted bodice having a plain nylon yoke, finished with a trimming of small leaves made of the same material, and a calli collar which was fastened at the throat with tiny buttons, continuing down the front to the long point below the waistline, and long sleeves ending in points over her hands. Her fingertip-length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a bandeau of white silk leaves and plumes of the valley. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, the gift of the groom, and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and sweet peas tied with white ribbon.

The bride's attendants were her two sisters and her niece, Miss

DOROTHY DIX

Courageous Girl

Takes Burdens Of Entire Family On Her Shoulders

DEAR MISS DIX: I come from a poor family, but I am married now with two children. I have always vowed to do my best to better my life and my family's. Now I have the chance, and wonder if I will succeed.

My father is going to a veteran's hospital for the third time, and my mother, who is unable to do any housework, will be left with very little income. So my mother, two sisters, one brother and my own small family are moving into a large house. With mother's things and mine we will have a home with all necessities in it. Our income will be sufficient, with my husband's salary and my father's pension.

DOROTHY DIX

I want to teach my sisters how to do things to make a nice home, to cook and care for their clothes. Only one can cook a little, and as things were a little haphazard at home, they don't know how to plan meals or anything like that. I'd also like to make my other sisters and brothers realize that, when they visit with their children, the youngsters should not be given the run of the house to do as they please.

Answer: You are a wise and courageous girl to undertake the terrific job ahead of you. I hope your family appreciates what you are trying to do and co-operates with you.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young man of 24 and unfortunately, prematurely bald. Although there have been many times when I've been desirous of the company of some charming female, I've hesitated to make an acquaintance because of the aforementioned "handicap." Although I may be wrong, I feel sure a girl would take one look at my hairless pate and turn me down for a date. Most people think I'm eight or ten years older than I am. I've become quite interested in a young lady and seem to be adopting the same course of inaction that I've followed on similar, previous occasions. Do you think a girl could become seriously interested in me?

Answer: While a bald head may not be the most attractive thing in the world, it certainly is not the drawback you fear it is. You undoubtedly have enough good qualities to counterbalance this one defect. However, I do seriously advocate using a toupee, or something along that line. As you say, most people will add ten years to your age, and a young man of 24 doesn't want to go around with a double handicap. You'd probably be greatly surprised at the number of men, even among your own acquaintances, who camouflage baldness.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I'm very much in love with a man who was jilted while in service. He loved the girl very much but says he no longer cares for her. I'm in love with him but he has told me he doesn't love me and doesn't want to go steady. He wants me to go out with him; we do have good times together.

Answer: To capture a man's heart on the rebound is not a difficult job but it does require patience. If you really want him, accept his dates on a friendship basis; make no mention of your love for him or of the girl who jilted him. Don't be too eager for his attentions and above all, don't expect too much. It might not work out but it's worth a try.

DOROTHY DIX helps answer the question that comes up in every girl's family in leaflet D-15, "What Age for Dating?" To obtain a copy, send a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Miss Dix, P. O. Box 98, Times Square Station, New York 18, N.Y.

Delightful Reception Held At Gallup Hill

Gallup Hill, Sept. 10.—The community hall was filled to capacity recently with over one hundred friends and relations, when a delightful surprise reception was held for Mr. and Mrs. Calvin C. Fleming, of Lisgar, in celebration of their recent marriage.

Decorations of blue and white crepe paper streamers and brightly colored balloons trimmed the stage, producing a festive air.

As the guests of honor entered they were greeted with the familiar and appropriate song, "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

A beautifully decorated cake, made by Mrs. Garth Willis Badger, and decorated by Mrs. Garth H. Burrill and Mrs. Floyd A. Burrill, centered the head table where the guests of honor were seated.

The evening was spent dancing to the music of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Johnston's orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Fleming received many gifts, and a purse of money was presented by Mr. Garth Burrill on behalf of those present.

The evening was brought to a close with the serving of delicious refreshments and best wishes extended to the bride and groom.

Educational Talk At Kiwanis Club In Waterloo

Waterloo, Sept. 10. — The Kiwanis Club of Waterloo held their weekly meeting at the Waterloo Hotel with Mr. Malcolm Dunsmore, principal of the Granby High School as guest speaker. Introduced by Kiwanian Roger McKergow, the speaker's address on "Education, Everybody's Business," provided both interesting and helpful to those present.

Mr. Dunsmore is the immediate past president of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers and is a past director of the Canadian Teachers' Federation. What is education? the speaker asked. It is not the possession of sufficient knowledge, enabling one to register at a university, nor is it sufficient training for a person to automatically enter the business world. It is the ability to live together, to work together in harmony and to appreciate what we know as the finer things, the speaker said. It is to know the difference between right and wrong as well as knowing why there is a difference; it is the firm belief in democracy and one who realizes that with democracy goes responsibility, and that it is impossible to divorce the two from each other, but to effect such a generation is a big job, one that is too big for the schools alone. Other responsible bodies must make education their business, and share with the schools, the burden of training future citizens of Canada, and to teach them to take their rightful place in the world.

Mr. Dunsmore stated that it was his belief that the present conditions of scarcity, high prices and want are due, for the greater part, to lack of understanding or education on the part of the public and if we hope to abolish forever the threat of depression, strikes, scarcities, war and other evils which seem to be ever present in our generation, it will be necessary to shift our emphasis in education from the three R's to the three C's: Character, Culture and Citizenship. This training cannot be confined to school rooms only. The province, the nation and even the world itself must become the training ground for these future citizens, and in that way only, will education become everybody's business. The home is every child's first school. Mr. Dunsmore went on. Mothers, fathers, brothers and sisters are the teachers. Their attitudes are formed and characters are developed. It is the beginning of education, and is a most important beginning. Here the teachers must be prepared to start the child off right. The speaker said, from the home to the school, and the community, as a whole must take an active interest in education. Management and labor, likewise, have a stake in today's education. There is no gap between school and the business world. Actually, there is a continuity and interdependence which should bring teachers and management into a close working relationship. Education does increase production, it was pointed out, in several ways. It encourages the worker to rise through personal effort. General and specialized training increases the efficiency of labor. Education increases productivity by promoting occupational mobility. It increases the economic possibilities of conservation. Health education has significant economic effects. Early training in science has led to important discoveries and inventions, and lastly, education contributes to effective management. The speaker made a few suggestions as to how an individual may become interested in education. Read the text books in school.

"The inclusion of communistic ideals is not an impossibility and it is the duty of every citizen to watch carefully what is taught in the classroom from the books provided. Watch what the child reads in his leisure time as well as what he does. Only a small fraction of the day is spent in the school. Do they know the facts of life? Have they been taught properly? What do they know about tobacco, alcohol, narcotics? All these things cannot be taught in the classroom, and much of it should be taught at home. Watch what the child listens to on the radio, and what he sees in the movies. Most of these programs are beamed directly to the child, and he is being educated either for better or for worse. Education is a twenty-four hour a day job—it is your duty, my duty and everybody's duty to see that it is done properly. Yes, Mr. Dunsmore concluded, education is everybody's business. Kiwanian Dick Pickford warmly thanked the speaker for his excellent address.

HIGH SCHOOL OPENS

The Waterloo High School has reopened for its fall term, with a gathering of teachers, students, parents, members of the school board and friends in the auditorium. The chairman of the board, Mr. Robert Flood called the meeting to order by singing the National Anthem with Miss Margaret Hamilton at the piano. Rev. Harry Andrews pronounced the invocation and Mr. Flood then addressed the parents.

In his talk, the chairman welcomed all the teachers who were with the school last year and then named and welcomed the newcomers to the staff in the persons of Miss Clark, Miss Wanzel, Mrs. Hamilton and Mr. Lee. Mr. Flood compared the cost of education today with that of a few years ago, and his comparison showed that but a few years ago a child could be educated for roughly sixty dollars, while today the same education costs one hundred twelve dollars. The cost of education, the speaker explained, has increased hand in hand with the general cost of living. But the education today is generally accepted as being superior to that of a few years ago, many avenues have been opened to the child of today which were closed not so very long ago. Education has progressed, it was stated, and is progressing today. It is everybody's job and everybody's burden to see that it never goes back to the old red school house with but one teacher for six or seven grades. Those days are gone forever. Robert Flood went on. We must continue to progress, and with the help of the parent and teacher, it will continue.

Mr. Flood then introduced Mr. Jack Buckland as a new member of the school board, replacing Mrs. Dorothy Adam, who, through pressure of work, was forced to resign from the board. Other members of the commission are Mr. Flood, chairman, Mr. W. A. Parkes, Mr. O. L. Lewis, Mr. F. W. Bockus, and Mr. G. E. Hanson, secretary-treasurer.

Seal Home Against Animal Visitors

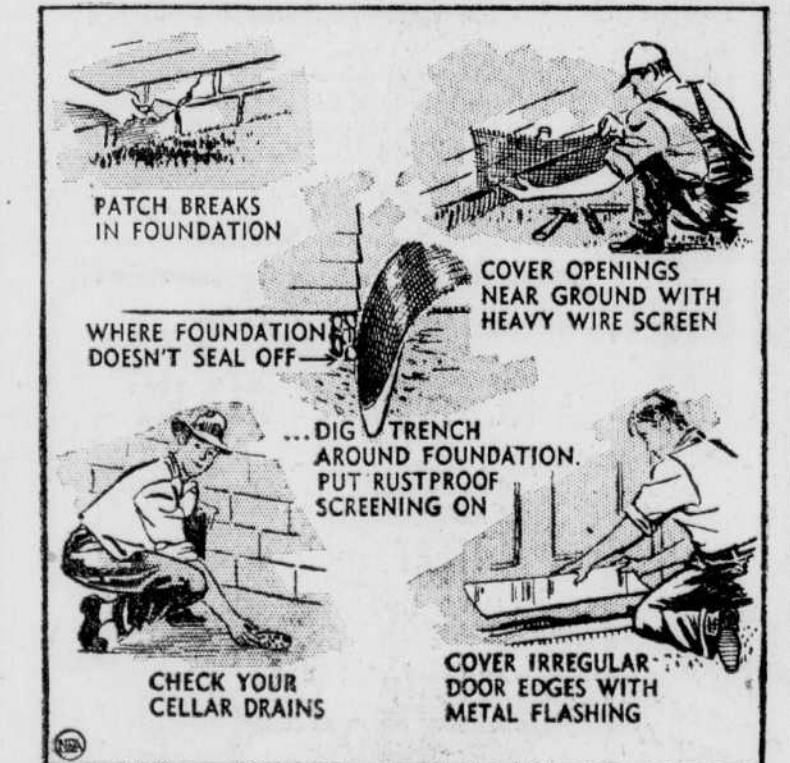

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service
Summer's almost over, and before you lock up the cottage and call it a season, you'd better do a little thinking about keeping out winter visitors.

We mean the four-footed variety of visitor in this case, and they're something to think about right now in your year-round home, too, particularly if you've left it empty for part of the summer. Rodents like to do their visiting when it comes fall and they're looking for a cozy place to set up housekeeping at your expense.

Rats are the toughest problem. They'll sneak in through the interior concrete finish. This sounds like a lot of work, and it is, but rats are a nasty enemy. Once they're in, they're apt to work their way upstairs through the walls. They do insidious damage, and since they attack viciously when cornered and carry diseases, are something the householder doesn't want to meet if he can help it.

If you find evidence of rats, don't play around with half-hearted measures, or getting rid of them. Modern rat poisons are sure-fire. But even though we believe in doing things around the house for ourselves whenever we can, we think it's a lot smarter to slightest nooks and crannies in foundations, doorways, outside cellar entrances, pipe openings and other breaks in the structure of a house. It doesn't matter how small the opening is, because rats will gnaw right through anything but concrete, stone or metal if there's a place to start.

Wherever you find places a rat might use as a starter for his welcome entrance, seal it off. Breaks in the foundation should be patched with concrete. Openings at ground level should be covered with a heavy mesh wire screen.

Corners of outside doors, particularly when they're near the ground, should be covered with metal flashing. Make sure cellar drains are tight-fitting and unbroken; otherwise they're a welcome mat for rats.

Fieldstone foundations, which still support a lot of good old houses, often make a cellar open sesame for rats. So do unexcavated spots under wings and bays when the foundation wall doesn't seal them off. In such cases, you have a choice of digging trenches around the outside of the foundation so you can put in a layer of heavy rustproof screening, or doing the same thing inside, using the screening as a lath for an call in a reputable exterminator to play the Pied Piper act. He's licensed to handle the most potent poisons, and once he has the rats under control, you can take the proper steps to keep them out yourself.

We've known intelligent cats and brave dogs to shy away from rats. Mice, however, are a different problem. Traps, various forms of poison bait harmless to everything but mice, and the family cat ought to handle this pest. And one comforting thing about having a few mice around is that you can be sure there aren't any rats. The mice are too smart to play in that company.

Q—My metal venetian blinds have become badly stained from rain. Is there any way to clean them without scouring each slat or taking them apart for refinishing?—W. R.

A—Try taking the whole blind down and soaking it in the bathtub in rich laundry suds. If the tapes are white, use some bleach in the water. After soaking, swish the blind to get the dirt off, then rinse thoroughly. Rehang, and be sure to tie the blind down to sill level until the tapes are dry to prevent shrinkage.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Bethlehem, Pa., Sept. 10.—(P)—If you have any doubt about the younger generation, taking over in amateur golf, you should have seen Frankie Stranahan and Sammy Urzetta coming off the Saucon Valley Course after a practice round yesterday. The "bobby-sox" gallery, which in the past belonged to Stranahan, converged on Sammy and kept him signing autographs for a half hour. Besides being young, reasonably good looking and the champion, Urzetta is a personable lad who almost had the staid golf "fathers" rolling in the aisles at the tee-off dinner Saturday night.

It isn't likely that Keith Tommy Jacobs, Jr., who qualified automatically for the tournament as 1951 U.S.G.A. junior champion, or blue-eyed young Don Bishop, hof, or Billy Key or Gay (Junior) Brewer, will go very far in this tournament. But don't be surprised if one of them comes to the top in a few more years. They're all teenagers who can play really good golf. Just a few years older than this group is another bunch of kids who could

Yarks Come Through
When Chips Are Down

New York, Sept. 10.—(P)—The guy was sitting there, reading the paper and shaking his head. There was a puzzled look on his face.

"Them Yankees," he muttered. "How do they do it?"

You looked at him, and there was a puzzled look on your face. "Do what?" you asked.

And he replied: "Lead the league? Just look at these records." He put the newspaper in front of you and pointed to the baseball statistics.

"Just look at this. There isn't a Yankee among the leading hitters. Or among the home run leaders. Or double leaders. Or triples. Or anything. It's just amazing."

This made you think the guy is right. You suddenly realized that the New York Yankees, once the most awesome batting team in baseball history, were leading the American League without a truly great hitter.

You took another look at the batting and slugging leaders. Names like Williams and Zernial and Minoso and even Fain and Fox were there, but no Yankees. No Yogi Berra's, or Joe DiMaggio's, or Johnny Mize's. Not a single Yankee.

Currently, a freckle-faced rookie is the top New York hitter. He is infielder Gil McDougald, a good but hardly spectacular batter. He is hitting .312.

The only other player over the .300 mark—the imaginary dividing line between outstanding and ordinary—is Berra, and Yogi just makes it with .303.

The rest of the team—including the great Joe DiMaggio—is below the magic .300 figure.

It appears as though the Yankees won't have a player who will drive in 100 runs. Berra, with 76 RBIs, is the No. 1 producer.

These statistics would indicate the Yankees are doing it with mirrors, or something. But statistics can be misleading.

Take Gene Woodling. He only has 14 home runs, but three of these have won vital games against Cleveland.

Johnny Mize only has 82 hits so far. But eight of these (in 15 at bats) have come in the role as a pinchhitter, also winning several games.

There seems only one answer: When the Yankees do connect, it's usually when all the big, blue chips are up for grabs.

Two Hurlers Go 37 Innings In Tokyo

Tokyo, Sept. 10.—(P)—When you hear the expression "stay in there and pitch," think of Eiji Amada and Masamitsu Hashimoto. They stayed in there and pitched for 37 innings.

Sept. 5, as might tell, the score after nine innings was 0-0 between Marubeni Trading Company and Jialima Coal Mining at Tokyo Stadium.

Friday the two teams started a new game.

In the 28th inning, Marubeni scored the run which broke a 1-1 deadlock.

Amada, 20, was the winning pitcher, in two days, he and Hashimoto, 18, had pitched for eight hours.

Bilingual Laws
Being Tightened
In South Africa

Johannesburg. — Strict application of South Africa's language laws and regulations by Prime Minister Daniel Malan's Nationalist government has blocked promotion to civil servants who are not competent in both of the country's official languages—Afrikaans and English.

While there have been cases of Afrikaners losing promotion because they are not bilingual, the English-speaking officials in South Africa's extensive civil service have been the hardest hit.

Their case is being taken up by opposition politicians and newspapers who allege that language tests are being operated unfairly in the civil service, that a "Gestapo" atmosphere is being created and that political pull counts for more than service and ability.

All these allegations have been denied by Dr. Malan and his ministers. They point out that the South African constitution required every civil servant to be fully bilingual and say they are only carrying out the law.

The language issue, Dr. Malan told the South African parliament, was being exploited by the United party opposition for political purposes.

"I have said before that if an injustice is done to English-speaking people or to their language, I would like to be the first to see to it with all the power at my command that justice is done to them."

The United party, the Prime Minister said, would move heaven and earth to get back to power. "It has only one weapon, and that is to stir up the racial feelings of the English-speaking people and so frighten them that they will refuse to vote for the Nationalist government."

really upset the dope. For instance, there's Hobart Manley, Jr., the north and south amateur champion, who had an off day during the qualifying and wound up as third alternate. But a series of withdrawals made a place for him at the last minute.

party, no matter how good the merits of the case may be."

A more lenient interpretation was placed on the language laws by the United party when it was in power, with the result that many English-speaking officials rose to senior positions although they were not bilingual.

The present minister of transport, Paul Sauer, has said "the law and regulations with regard to bilingualism were watered down very considerably during the regime of the last government. I am going to tighten them up again. I am going to make people realize that they cannot attain the highest standard of efficiency unless they can speak both official languages."

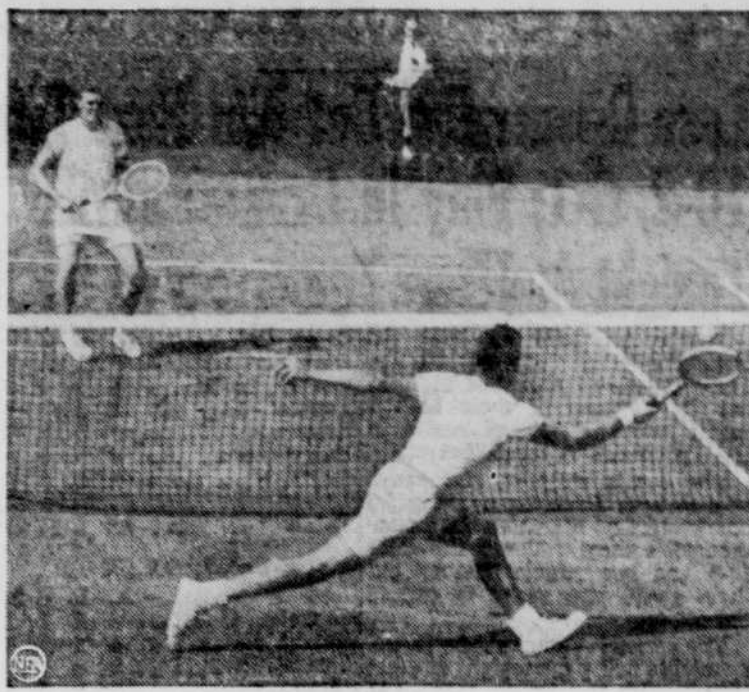

"The Afrikaners are the most bilingual section of the population," Mr. Sauer said, adding that he was glad to see that the English-speaking section was now making rapid progress towards bilingualism.

"Tightening up" is achieved through language tests, obligatory on all civil servants who are eligible for promotion. Not even the highest ranks are exempt and failure means that an official loses promotion.

The tests are imposed in a surprising number of occupations. They apply to all grades of railwaymen up to the position of general manager. They also apply to harbor pilots, tug-masters, harbor staffs, soldiers and sailors of all ranks, pilots and mechanics of the air force and the airways, radar and radio operators, medical men, scientists, and men and women in many other walks of life.

Mr. Sauer said the policy of bilingualism would apply equally to both sections of the population. He was applying the policy for the protection equally of Afrikaners and English-speaking officials who had made themselves competent in both languages. The majority of Afrikaners were bilingual, but Afrikaners who did not learn English would also miss promotion. This had happened recently in the post office.

Reynolds' Hornet
Sets Record

New York, Sept. 10.—(P)—George Reynolds' Hornet from Brockville, Ont., yesterday set a class record as Canadian Hydroplanes swept the group-111 event in the Annual Harwood's Trophy Race round Manhattan Island.

The Hornet, 1951 Canadian high-point champion in the 135-cubic-inch class, posted a mark of 43.8 miles per hour for the 30-mile run.

Local townsman George Fulford's Simba finished second in the group with a speed of 40.1 m.p.h. static, owned and driven by Bill Belfie of Gananoque, Ont., was third.

The $1,000 prize for the first boat to finish the gruelling run went to Bill Leiber's Davey Jones, entered in the unlimited class. The port Washington, L.I., entry finished in 32:09 with an average speed of 54.2 m.p.h.

The favored Tempo VI, owned by London, Ont.-born Guy Lombardo, was not among the 24 craft that churned through the Hudson River, up the East River and through the Harlem River back to the Hudson. Lombardo's truck threw a wheel in Brooklyn and arrived too late.

Red Wings And Royals
Favored In Playoffs

The pennant-winning Montreal Royals and the runner-up Rochester Red Wings will be the favorites when the International League's 19th annual Governor's Cup Playoffs get underway Tuesday.

Royals, who won their sixth championship as the circuit's 68th season ended yesterday, will be hosts to the fourth-place Buffalo Bisons. The Red Wings will oppose the third-place Syracuse Chiefs at Rochester. All games will be best-of-seven series.

In regular-season competition Montreal, winner of four previous playoffs, compiled a 13-9 record against the Bisons. Rochester captured 15 of their 22 meetings with the Chiefs.

Rochester's Don Richmond won the batting championship for the second successive year with an average of .353 as the 1950 flag visitors bowed to Montreal 3-2. Successive ninth-inning home runs by Toby Atwell and winning pitcher Dan Bankhead enabled the Royals to register their 95th triumph and finish 11 games ahead of the Red Wings.

Augie Bergamo's pair of homers paced Syracuse to an 11-4 victory over Baltimore, last year's playoff winners. The game was highlighted by a home run by the Orioles' Marv Rickert, who slammed his 35th in winning the home run crown.

Lynn Lovenguth scattered 10 hits effectively as Buffalo tamed the last place Springfield Cubs, 6-1. Archie Wilson of the Bisons knocked in his 106th run to annex the runs-batted-in title.

Toronto's Johnny Hetki won his 19th game to lead the league in victories as the fifth-place Maple Leafs subdued Ottawa Giants 5-1. The triumph was the Leafs' 12th in their last 15 games.

The festivities preceded the regular game between Washington and New York.

Representatives from every one of the 17 Yankee flag winners met in a three-inning game as part of the show. The nine, composed of players who won under McCarthy, downed a team made up of players from the Miller Huggins' era, 2-0.

Nickel helps
save lives too

Hundreds of everyday uses for Nickel have been developed by the Nickel industry through a planned program of research. Today a large share of Canada's Nickel production is being diverted from peacetime uses into channels for preparedness. So the Nickel mine facilities, greatly expanded over the past decade, are again being operated at peak capacity. There is actually more Nickel now being delivered by Canada to the free world than in any peacetime year.
