SPUTNIK II EXPECTED TO SPEED UP ECONOMY

Monthly Pension Hike Passes Final Approval; Further Rise Hinted

OTTAWA — (CP) — The Progressive Conservative government's proposed $9-a-month boost in federal old age pensions received final Commons approval last night in a whirlwind windup to a dragging debate.

In its wake remained a hint by Health Minister Monteith that further increases in living costs might bring about another pension rise later. But there was no answer to the question of how the increase — the second this year — will be financed.

The bill will raise to $55 monthly from $46 the universal pension to those 70 and over, received by 810,000 Canadians. The measure, slated to take effect in month-end cheques for November, now goes to the Senate for passage and royal assent.

Today the Commons takes up debate on three parallel measures. They would authorize similar increases to $55 in maximum payments for old age assistance to the needy age 65-69 and to the disabled and blind in need. Means-test ceilings governing the payments also would be raised. To be put into effect, the changes will require approval by the provinces which finance the programs jointly with the federal government.

TO APPEAL JUDGMENT

In other Commons business Monday: 1. Revenue Minister Nowlan said the government will appeal to the exchequer court against an income tax appeal board judgment affecting income taxes of married couples in Quebec. The judgment upheld a claim that under Quebec's community of property law a husband could pay tax on only one-half of his income, his wife paying the tax on the other half.

Pearson Lauds Russians

WINNIPEG (CP) — The Russian launching of a dog-carrying satellite into space was described here yesterday by Hon. Lester B. Pearson as "the most far-reaching scientific development of our time."

But while Sputnik launchings have "given quite a shock to everyone," Mr. Pearson denied at a press conference a Russian claim that intercontinental rockets developed by Russia have made Western European military bases obsolete.

The 1957 Nobel Peace Prize winner and former Canadian external affairs minister said Sputnik launchings undoubtedly will expedite American efforts in this field.

"In six months the United States will launch its satellite," he said. World tensions then will drop back to pre-Sputnik days.

Commenting on Nikita Khrushchev's claim—broadcast by Moscow radio Sunday—that Russian military missile developments have made obsolete Western defence bases ringing the Soviet Union, Mr. Pearson said:

"Don't think for a minute they are obsolete, because the United States still has the ability of making a massive retaliation. As long as it can Mr. Khrushchev will be cautious in turning to war."

Mother And Child Found Murdered

SAULT STE MARIE, Ont. — A mother and her child were found shot to death in their home at Kirby's Corners, 15 miles north of here, Monday night. Police are holding a juvenile for questioning.

Police identified the victims as Mrs. Patricia Murphy, 30, and her three-year-old daughter Rosalie. Both had been shot through the head with a .22-calibre rifle.

LONDON — (AP) — Fourteen Britons out of every 100 are willing to take a trip into outer space, The Daily Express reports today.

Poem Tribute To Dog Star

LONDON (Reuters)—The London Star Monday paid tribute to the dog inside the Second Russian satellite with a parody of the nursery rhyme Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star. It goes:

Twinkle, twinkle, doggy star
 Now I know you as you are.
 Man's amazing future soars
 Held within a husky's paws
 Twinkle, twinkle, through the gloom.
 Dog within a glowing tomb:
 Can you hear the angel's wings,
 Stepping-stone to higher things?
 Twinkle, Twinkle, blinded-eyed
 Need a little dog to guide;
 So do all the human race
 Peering blindly into space.
 Twinkle, twinkle, on your way
 Every dog must have his day.
 God, who guides the sparrows
 Flight.
 Give you peace when comes the night.

90-Pound Baby

LUTON, England — (Reuters) — A 90-pound baby rhinoceros, the second ever born in captivity, has been born at Whipsnade Zoo near Luton, it was disclosed today.

Defense Re-Appraisal Seen

OTTAWA — (CP) — While Canadian International Geophysical Year Scientists continued to gather information on Sputnik II, after successfully tracking its orbit, other authorities predicted the satellite will bring a boom to the economy and a reappraisal of defence policy.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker said yesterday in an interview the Russian launching Saturday should act as a new spur for Western pooling of scientific information.

And Defence Minister Peakes said enormous expenditures would be needed for what has to be done to counter the dangers of modern attack.

Dr. D. C. Rose, chairman of the Canadian national IGY committee, said Canada has successfully tracked down the new satellite's orbit. He added that up to Monday night there had been several radio soundings of Sputnik II but as far as he knew it had not been seen in Canada because of poor sky - watching weather.

Must Fight Tories Told

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario branch of the party which vaulted last June from federal opposition to government was warned Monday it must fight to stay there.

More than 1,000 delegates to the Ontario Progressive Conservative Association's annual convention heard Justice Minister Fulton outline the Liberal return-to-power campaign as being based on exploitation of "any latent possibilities of national disunity."

Earlier, the convention heard Charlotte Whitton, former mayor of Ottawa, warn that the Liberals would "concentrate on rebuilding and they are going to begin in Ontario."

Mrs. Ellen Fairclough, secretary of state, expanded the theme and said women must play a part in the over-all picture and not just in spheres usually relegated to women alone.

PM TO SPEAK TODAY

Prime Minister Diefenbaker is scheduled to address the convention today.

Mr. Fulton said the Conservative party has emerged, as it did at the time of Confederation, "as the only truly national party."

Margaret To Visit Canada Next July

LONDON — (AP) — Princess Margaret is expected to visit Canada next July.

Although no official announcement has been made from Buckingham Palace, it is regarded here as virtually certain that the princess will go to British Columbia for the centenary celebrations there, and later visit Ottawa and other Canadian cities. A palace spokesman said today no dates have been fixed.

Smith Wins Byelection

MADOC, Ont. (CP)—External Affairs Minister Smith, now Progressive Conservative member for Hastings-Frontenac, had his own seat in the Commons today after a thumping byelection victory over a Trotskyite Communist.

When vote counting in this eastern Ontario riding stopped for the night with 138 of the 169 polls reported, Mr. Smith had 8,947 votes and Ross Dowson of Toronto, who ran as a self-styled Labor candidate, 210.

The former University of Toronto president outdrew his 40-year-old opponent almost 40 to 1. The way was cleared for the external affairs minister's candidacy by the appointment to the Senate of George S. White, 59-year-old Madoc lawyer, who had been in the Commons since 1940 and won again in the June 10 federal election.

Mysterious Egg Shaped Object Sparks U.S. Air Force Inquiry

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—A missile engineer reported seeing a "brilliant colored egg-shaped object" which stalled autos in New Mexico Monday at about the same time the U.S. Air Force started an investigation into similar reports in this and other areas.

Witnesses say a mystery object skipped about the countryside here and near scientific military bases in New Mexico during the weekend. The reported sightings startled citizens, peace officers and servicemen but apparently left no concrete trace.

James Stokes, 45, an engineer from the USAF missile development centre at Alamogordo, N.M., told news director Terry Clark of station KALG, Alamogordo, 10 autos were stopped on an isolated desert highway, U.S. 54, between White Sands proving grounds and Alamogordo Monday.

His description was similar to ones reporting a big ball of fire flitting about much of this west Texas area during the weekend. A huge, oval object "nearly as bright as the sun" was reported seen at White Sands proving ground Sunday, hovering near bunkers used in the first A-bomb explosion. Witnesses said other strange lights were seen over other parts of Texas, near Chicago and in Virginia.

Clark said Stokes told him occupants of cars saw a strange, unidentified object flying toward them from the northeast. He said his auto radio faded and died, then his engine stopped. He said several other cars were also stalled.

Looking up, he told Clark, "I saw a brilliant colored egg-shaped object making a shallow dive across the sky to the northeast. Then it turned and made a pass at the highway and crossed it not more than two miles ahead. Then it moved away toward the southwest. As it passed . . . I could feel a kind of heat wave, like radiation from a giant sun lamp. But there was no sound. It had no visible portholes and there was no vapor trail.

"When I got back to my car and checked the engine, I found it intact but the battery was steaming. But the engine started with no difficulty. I called officials at the air force development centre and notified them of the sighting."

U.S. Senators Split Over Missile Progress

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Everett Dirksen (Rep. Ill.) said today he is confident the United States quickly will "move back into the king row" in missiles and satellite development. But three other senators indicated no such confidence.

Dirksen, assistant Senate Republican leader, made his statement after a conference with Admiral Arthur W. Radford, former chairman of the joint chiefs of staff. The Illinois senator said he has reason to believe that the United States has made strides in the missile field not matched by the Russians despite their feat in propelling two satellites into space.

But three other senators, emerging from a separate seven-hour briefing at the Pentagon, did not echo Dirksen's optimistic statements.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said the United States has "not kept in step with the needs of our times."

Senator Styles Bridges (Rep. N.H.) said the United States needs a "top co-ordinator of all activities" in the scientific development of missiles and space vehicles.

Senator Stuart Symington (Dem. Mo.), a subcommittee member, said in a speech in Hannibal, Mo., that "the truth is we are at least two years behind" the Russians. He added that "under present policies and programs, (we) can only fall further behind every day."

Albania Finds Cause For Joy

WARSAW — (Reuters) — This joke was being told in Warsaw today in connection with the Soviet Sputniks:

Oct. 4, the day on which the first Sputnik was launched, will be proclaimed the national day of Albania. On that day, Albania, population 1,000,000, ceased to be the smallest satellite of the Soviet Union.

Tories Propose Women Peers

LONDON — (Reuters) — The government, in the speech from the throne, said today it will create "life peerages" bringing women into the House of Lords for the first time.

Government legislation foreshadowed in the speech will create both men and women life peers. They will have equal sitting and voting rights with hereditary peers who now compose the bulk of the Upper House.

Next French Premier

Gaillard Likely To Win Approval

PARIS — (AP) — Felix Gaillard, youngest man to seek the French premiership in more than 75 years, appeared certain today of winning National Assembly approval.

Endorsement of Gaillard and a cabinet drawn from all factions except the Communists and the extreme-right Poujadists would install France's 24th post-war government and end a 36-day government crisis.

Gaillard is 38 today. The previous age record in the premiership was set by Armand Fallières, who took the job in 1883 at 41.

Experts reckoned the young financial expert should get at least 350 votes in the 695-member assembly, even allowing for some individual defections. Some estimates ran as high as 395. Only the 149 Communists and Fellow Travellers and 42 Poujadists were ranged solidly against him.

WAS FINANCE MINISTER
 As finance minister in the last cabinet headed by Maurice Bourges-Maunoury, Gaillard made headlines with a sweeping austerity program to bolster France's tottering government finances and foreign exchange position. He trimmed the budget, devalued the franc, slapped a 20-per-cent tax on most imports and proposed a switch to cheaper foods to combat inflation.

The components making up the system are on display at the Air Industries and Transport Association's annual meeting here.

The plane was due here at noon. With the system, a pilot sees his course traced for him in ink on a roller map mounted on the instrument panel.

World News In Brief

LONDON — (Reuters) — About 180 persons were killed in more than 39,000 "hooligan" brawls throughout Poland between January and September this year, Warsaw radio reported today.

QUEBEC — (CP) — Quebec trappers will be allowed to kill 31,520 beavers during the present season which opened Nov. 1 and ends April 15.

OTTAWA — (CP) — The students' council of the University of Ottawa has reversed an Oct. 9 decision to withdraw from the association of French-language University Students, it was announced Monday night.

OTTAWA — (CP) — The government is considering changes in the basis for federal grants to municipal airports. Transport Minister Hees said Monday in the Commons. He added that his department is planning to ask Parliament for funds this year to help develop the municipal airport at La Malbaie, Que.

OTTAWA — (CP) — Agriculture Minister Harkness left Monday by air for Rome where he will head Canada's delegation to the forthcoming meeting of the UN's food and agricultural organization.

Gaspé Copper Opposes Union

MONTREAL — Gaspé Copper Mines has renewed its attempts to bar the United Steelworkers of America as bargaining agents for employees at the company's Murdochville, Que., operations.

The company Monday asked the Quebec labor relations board to reject a union application for certification on the grounds that the union does not now represent a majority of the mine employees.

Red UN Threat Propaganda

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — Russia's threat to pull out of the United Nations' two working disarmament bodies was regarded generally today as more of a propaganda move than an actual step away from international consideration of this vital issue.

The implication, however, as expressed in Vasily Kuznetsov's statement to the UN's political committee late Monday remained unmistakable: that further talks within the UN on disarmament are useless without Russian participation; and such participation can only be achieved now through some compromise agreement on the Soviet demands.

The political committee was called again today to resume consideration of some 10 resolutions and amendments put before it for streamlining by the parent general assembly. But the Soviet move indicated that these procedural votes would have to wait until the interested powers expressed their views on the new stumbling block to a disarmament settlement within the UN.

Canada was expected to take the floor today, as a member of the five-power disarmament subcommittee, to give its reaction to the threatened Soviet walkout. Britain also called for rebuttal time and the United States, as the power most concerned in an East-West dispute with Russia, was reported working on a rejoinder as well.

The neutralist members, most of whom have considered that last week's Soviet call for a permanent full-member disarmament commission of the UN went far beyond their previously expressed idea of an expansion of membership in the working groups, were regarded as the real target of Russia's open statement in the political committee that Moscow "does not see any sense in further participation" in the UN's machinery outside the assembly itself.

This machinery, summed up in brief, consists of two bodies: the subcommittee made up of the United States, Russia, Britain, France and Canada; and the 12-power commission, composed of the 11 security council members with Canada again represented as a major atomic power.

Canada, as a relatively small power compared with her co-members of the subcommittee, has gone on record through Prime Minister Diefenbaker as being willing to step out of the five-power group if this would facilitate its efforts at reaching an East-West agreement. But in line with the other expressed view, Diefenbaker also left the way open for a change by indicating that Canada would not oppose extension of the commission's membership if this could have the same result.

Russia's proposal of a permanent working body made up of all the UN members would not fit any of these conditions, and so it was regarded as being on the lines of a "let's ask more and then settle for less" move by the Soviet Union.

Kuznetsov called for "immediate implementation of practical measures in the field of disarmament." These involved the Russian program of immediate suspension of nuclear weapon tests, "assuming an obligation to renounce the use of these weapons of mass destruction," reduction of armed forces and dismantling of foreign military bases on foreign territories.

WEST'S VIEW
 The Western proposals, turned down by Russia at the London talks last summer of the subcommittee, carry in them this major difference: that suspension of tests and the obligation not to use nuclear weapons should be tied in thoroughly with an overall disarmament agreement.

As Canada's Wallace Nesbitt reiterated in the debate, "An undertaking not to use nuclear weapons is by its nature uncontrollable and would be valid only until one government decides to change its mind."

Nesbitt added that Russia may have been prompted by realization that delegates were cool to a proposal India has been circulating privately. It calls on the assembly to turn all arms proposals over to the subcommittee without expressing a preference for any of them.

One informed U.S. source said Russia had persuaded India to sound out delegates on this idea—similar to one which went through last year.

Skating Rink Operation Discussed At Coaticook Home, School Meeting

COATICOOK — The regular monthly meeting of the Home and School Association was held in the auditorium. The president, Rev. Nevil Tucker, presided, and the minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Fred Green. A discussion took place concerning the operation of the skating rink this coming season. The School Board has looked after the preparation of the rink boards, making them easily erected or dismantled. It was agreed that season tickets would be sold to users of the rink and that the proceeds therefrom would ensure the services of a caretaker.

A committee consisting of Mr. Marsden, Mr. Lawrence and Fred Green was appointed to look in to further details in connection with the rink operation.

A hot plate for the school cafeteria was to be purchased. It was announced that the cod-liver oil capsules would again be available for the children and would be distributed early in November. The Association will again make $30 available for school prizes at the end of the year.

Mr. Green has completed the cutting of the lumber for the bicycle racks for the school and Homer Cutler will be in charge of getting them assembled, with the help of volunteers. A Halloween party will be held at the school through the co-operation of the Association, the Boy Scouts and the Girl Guides. Reports from the treasurer, the cafeteria fund, and other committees were approved.

Mr. McKeen, supervisor of County Schools, and Mr. McElroy, of Magog, gave information on the conducting of a dental clinic. Members showed much interest in the possibility of holding a dental clinic for the children of the school at an early date.

Rev. N. F. Tucker welcomed Mr. McKeen and Mr. McElroy and also introduced Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Marsden to the gathering. Mrs. Homer Cutler and Mrs. Charles Williams gave reports on the recent School Board meeting. Mr. McKeen extended an invitation to all interested members to attend meetings of the Central Board, which are held at Ayer's Cliff High School, on the second Thursday of each month.

Mr. Philip Lawrence, principal of the school, gave an interesting talk on the subject of "Home-work" and also answered several questions put to him by members on the same subject.

Following the meeting a social hour was enjoyed and lunch was served from the school cafeteria facilities.

NEW YORK (AP)—Almost recovered from the loss of a baby Marilyn Monroe says she is eager to get back to work—and also to have a big family.

In her new apartment, Marilyn displayed a svelte figure in a tight, beaded white dress which emphasized her loss of weight since her miscarriage in August.

"I'm almost well again," Marilyn said in her usual breathless style. "I don't quite have all my energy back, but it's returning bit by bit."

PRIVATE ACTING LESSONS

"I've started going back to the Actor's Studio, to observe and also to take private lessons from Lee Strasberg. I'll be ready to do a picture though I don't know if it will be Blue Angel, as the studio has announced. I haven't seen the script yet.

"Arthur (Miller, her husband) and I are also busy with our new farm—we bought 200 acres in Connecticut. We have just a farm house on it now, but we're going to build a house.

"Frank Lloyd Wright is going to design it for us, and he'll go up there with us the next time he's in town. We'll need a house with plenty of room. We have two children (Miller's by a previous marriage) and there'll be plenty more."

Marilyn and Miller live in a tastefully decorated apartment filled with modern paintings and sculpture and hundreds of books. I commented that she looked like a teen-ager with her slim figure and dewey look.

"That's just because I'm not wearing any lipstick," she said. "As a matter of fact, somebody at Fox sent me a script that would have had me playing a teen-ager. I sent it back with the comment that I had hoped I was progressing as an actress and didn't want to go back to playing teen-agers."

Does she miss California? "I miss the weather, definitely," she replied. "I also miss a few (emphasizing few) of the people there. But I'm very happy with what I'm doing here. I keep very busy."

One of the roles she enjoys playing, she remarked, was that of Mrs. Arthur Miller.

"I enjoy being a wife," she said. "I like to go in the kitchen and thumb through the cook book to find something that looks interesting."

No Changes In 1958 Tax Rate At Lennoxville

The Lennoxville municipal tax rate for 1958 was set at 17 mills, unchanged from the current year, in the budget adopted at the regular town council session last evening. The total expenditures for the coming year were estimated at $117,000.

A detailed breakdown of the expenditures from the gross income of $1,179,228 is as follows:

Administration, $29,100; Town Hall and Relief, $6,060; Light, $5,000; Roads, $32,650; Police and Fire, $15,850; Water, $28,738.

In presenting the budget, Finance Committee chairman Ald. E. A. Lunderville urged the department chairmen to exercise the greatest possible economy in carrying on their operations for the coming year as the budget did not make any provision for salary increases.

Supporting Ald. Lunderville's call for strictest economy, Mayor E. W. Gilbey stated that committee chairmen should be prepared to shave amounts totalling $1,000 from their estimates to allow for salary augmentation.

Action was deferred until next year on proposals to purchase a plot of land at the northeast end of Atto street to permit the ultimate establishment of a free-way connecting Atto street with the next range road.

A letter was received from the proprietor offering to sell the lot. Although the aldermen favored the purchase of the land, it was decided that it could not be done at the present time as no provision had been made in the budget to this effect.

No action was taken on a letter from the Kingston City Council suggesting the Lennoxville Council petition the federal and provincial governments for grants to cover revenue losses through tax-free university properties.

The decision to take no action was reached after Mayor Gilbey pointed out that the provincial government was already doing much towards the financial support of education.

During the reading of committee reports, Mayor Gilbey stated the police committee deserved a great deal of credit for their efforts to keep Halloween damage down to a minimum and praised the work of volunteer constables.

He also thanked the parents for the part they played in keeping the evening comparatively quiet.

Ald. C. W. Dougherty stated that a number of amendments to municipal by-laws which were due for presentation last night were still in the course of preparation and would be ready at the next meeting.

Charter Changes Sought

The City of Sherbrooke will seek five amendments to the civic charter in a private bill to be presented to the coming session of the Quebec Legislature, according to an official notice appearing in the press.

One of these seeks approval for the sale of the Bromptonville dam to the Richmond Pulp and Paper Co. Ltd. The company at present holds an option on the dam and powerhouse, but the Council cannot sell the property without express permission of the Legislature.

Another amendment seeks ratification of four public works by-laws and a third asks that tenant and business taxes become privileged claims in the event of bankruptcy.

A fourth deals with the powers of the Sherbrooke Athletic Commission and the fifth would provide a fixed valuation for a ten-year period of the plant of Combustion Engineering-Superheater, Ltd.

Will Organize Guide, Brownie Units At Magog

MAGOG — Girls in Magog will be interested in knowing that a company of Girl Guides and a pack of Brownies are being organized in their community.

These groups are being sponsored by the Canadian Girl Guides Association and are under the direct supervision of Mrs. A. H. Stoddard of North Hatley, Commissioner of the Stanstead Division, and Mrs. K. L. Spafford, of Waterville, who is in charge of training for the same area.

Membership will be open to all girls who wish to join, the Guide Movement being non-denominational. Girls ranging in age from 8 to 11 are eligible to become Brownies, girls from 11 to 15 to become Guides.

The ladies who are organizing these groups are very grateful to the Wardens of St. Luke's Anglican Church for granting the use of the Church Hall for meetings.

The first meetings will take place on Wednesday at 4:00 o'clock for Brownies, and at 6:45 p.m. for Girl Guides. A suitable day of the week for future meetings will be discussed at this time. All girls who would like to join should present themselves at the Hall at the above-mentioned times.

Junior Players Entertained By Kiwanis Club

Discipline, physical training, sportsmanship and team spirit are the four main assets a youngster can desire from playing sports, Henry Crochetiere, district QAHA vice-president, member at the Optimist Club and guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club said last night.

Guests at the same meeting were the members of the Kiwanis' club's Little League Baseball team, "The Senators."

Speaking especially to the youngsters, Mr. Crochetiere said: "The Kiwanis Club doesn't give money for your club because they don't know what to do with it. They want you to have a chance to play your favorite sport."

He said baseball could hold the youngster first by discipline. "There is a need for a chief in all classes of society just as in baseball. Sometimes he takes decisions that you do not like but he is older and more experienced and you should take his word. He is interested in the game and wants you to win."

Umpires, he said, were not popular but that most of the time it was the fault of the players. He said players should have more respect for the umpires because they represent authority.

Touching on physical training and condition he maintained that the youngsters should not keep late hours nor smoke.

Further he said "Sportsmanship is a must in a game. The players must work together and know how to lose."

He cited examples from professional sports where the players and the coaches had this attitude.

Concluding, he noted that team spirit was essential. "One man does not make up a team. All must work together. Sometimes a player will play an extraordinary game and he will be boastful about it."

He said that the Kiwanis Club supported a team in the League because they realize that the experience the youngsters will gain will help them when they grow up.

Mr. Crochetiere was introduced by Roland Theroux and thanked by Come Trudeau.

The Little Leaguers were presented with gifts as well as the coach, Bruce Smith and the assistant coach, Keith Jameson.

Among the players who attended were Claude Cote, Germain Bergeron, Claude Dion, Andre Boisvert, Claude Theriault, Richard Payette, Roland Provencier, Lionel Lamontagne, Marcel Corbeil and Paul Boisvert. Absent were Guy Lessard and Dudley Coates.

Art Display Lacking In Imagination

The exhibition billed as "Contemporary French Painting" which continues at the New Sherbrooke Hotel until Thursday evening of this week, is pleasant but hardly what one would expect to find as representative of contemporary French artists.

The exhibition, being presented by Sigmund de Szalmszay under the auspices of the Alliance Francaise of Sherbrooke, contains about 100 paintings. They are mostly oils, with a few water colors, representing, to quote the prospectus, "figurative painters, taking their inspiration from nature."

The use of the term "contemporary" is misleading. One does not expect—but can only hope—to find a gallery of Buffets, Roualts and Bracquas. One does expect to find paintings to excite the imagination, rouse the passions or at least start a hot argument.

The tone of this exhibit is pleasant, pastoral but, unfortunately, dull.

The paintings shown are well executed and truly represent their subjects, no doubt. One likes to think that the artists experienced some emotion as they painted their pretty pictures of Notre Dame, Montmartre, the Cote d'Azur and Brittany. But alas, any emotion experienced is not communicated to the viewer. And, the viewer may ask, what value is art if there is no communication between artist and those who come to view his work?

Not all the paintings are of landscapes. There are several studies of flowers, and a few involving the human form. In this latter category, Fried is outstanding. His painting of two girls is a portrait of youth, full of warmth and life.

Whether this exhibition is to everyone's taste or not, such an undertaking certainly deserves the support of the citizens of a municipality with no permanent art gallery of its own. Mr. Szalmszay and the Alliance Francaise are to be commended for bringing these paintings to Sherbrooke. More such exhibits should be encouraged—but the sponsors should remember that a good many people's taste is a little more esoteric.

Outlines Role Of Newspaper In Developing Youth

"Newspapers have a great role to play in the formation of youth by contributing to the understanding of problems which they will face in the future," declared Arnold Agnew, Editor-in-Chief of the Sherbrooke Daily Record before the Sherbrooke Optimist Club last night.

Mr. Agnew addressed members of the club as part of their Youth-Appreciation Week. Attending the meeting were student council representatives of Sherbrooke High School and St. Patrick's Academy.

"Everyone should read at least one newspaper," the speaker stated, "because they were created to form public opinion. By studying world events one can put things in their proper perspective," he explained.

Pointing to the fact that three Canadian dailies had ceased operations in the last months, Mr. Agnew decried this as a "sad thing" because "it means there is one less voice to express opinion."

Tracing the history of newspapers, Mr. Agnew said the newspaper of today is not the type portrayed by Hollywood, but rather a craftsman who takes pride in his work.

The speaker was introduced by Al Caplan and thanked by Bernice Hollingsworth.

Amongst other activities scheduled for Youth Appreciation week are a TV panel discussion this afternoon, movies for the children at the Granada Theatre Saturday morning and radio day, also on Saturday. The local English radio station has handed over the entire operation of the station to the Optimist club for Saturday.

Members of the club will also visit the Rehabilitation Centre at Katevale Wednesday evening. Seated at the head tables were Maurice A. Mercier, Al Caplan, Royce Gale, of Sherbrooke High School, President Jerry Besserer, Arnold Agnew, Bob Drury and Fred Bean.

President of the Sherbrooke High Student Council George Bourrelle and Michael Enright of St. Patrick's expressed their thanks to the Optimist Club for making it possible for them to attend the meeting.

Home And School Group Debates Effects Of TV

A lively discussion took place Monday evening when the Sherbrooke Home and School Association met at the High School on the effect of television on school children. The members were separated into groups and their conclusions given at the close of the buzz session. After weighing the advantages and disadvantages of the new medium the following conclusions were reported:

To foster cooperation between parents and teachers in the training and guidance of children, both during and after school periods.

To obtain the best for each child according to his physical, mental, social and spiritual needs.

To give parents an understanding of the school and its work, and to assist in interpreting the school to the public.

To confer and cooperate with organizations other than schools which concern themselves with the care and training of youth.

To foster high ideals of citizenship and patriotism, and to promote through educational means, international goodwill and peace.

The secretary was asked to send for copies of these principles, to the Canadian Federation, for distribution to the parents.

Wright Gibson, Principal of the High School, introduced the new teachers who were present.

After various other matters were taken up, the meeting adjourned, refreshments being served in the cafeteria by Mrs. R. D. Mawhood and Mrs. A. E. Harris.

Closing Date Of Roman Catholic Drive Extended

The Diocesan Charities campaign, launched on Oct. 27, and which was scheduled to end today will be extended a few days in order that canvassers may complete their work.

Reports have been slow in reaching campaign headquarters and figures compiled are two to three days late. As of last Saturday the amount collected by the parochial committees reporting had barely gone over the half-way mark.

Reports of part of their collections have been received by headquarters from 77 parishes out of 133. These have attained 53.2 per cent of their objective or $30,744.40. Special names and company donations bring the total reported to date to $41,940.35.

38 per cent of the total $110,000 objective.

Little Leaguers, Ladies Guests At Lions Club

It was Little League and Ladies' Night at the regular weekly meeting of the Sherbrooke Lions Club, held in the main dining room of the Sherbrooke Hotel last night.

The members of the Athletics, the Lions-sponsored team in the Sherbrooke Little League, were feted by the club for the winning of the League championship.

Manager Clarence Greenough and Coach Jack Joncas were welcomed by President R. D. Rice who congratulated the players on their splendid achievement.

Vice-President Oliva Noel welcomed the ladies to the event.

During the evening, President Rice presented to players Yvon Roy and Gilles Vallee special trophies for leading hitter and top pitcher of the team. Each player also was presented with a monogrammed pen.

Manager Greenough was presented with a Merit Certificate and Coach Joncas with a combination cigarette case and lighter.

Dr. O. Noel was the speaker for the evening and in his address complimented the boys on their ability and sportsmanship on the playing field. He said he was sure that the training they had received while members of the Little League would help them in future years.

The evening's entertainment ended by a sing song ably led by Lion member Gerry Villeneuve.

The Ladies were entertained later at the Social Club.

Past President Dr. G. Saine brought to the members' attention the Advisory meeting being held at the Sherbrooke Hotel on Nov. 16. He asked that the local club be well represented at the meeting.

Gadgets Or Muttnik?

The idea of a dog whirling through space 1,000 miles above the ground, his heartbeats and physical reactions being recorded by scientists on the ground, strikes the man in the street with wonder and awe. That this tremendous scientific achievement, this leap forward in man's drive to conquer outer space, was the work of the Soviet Union, comes as a shock to the West.

A remarkable point in the whole affair is that Soviet Scientists were sufficiently confident of their ability to send Muttnik into space that they actually predicted it several days ago. What new scientific sensation they are planning for the 40th anniversary of the Russian Revolution on Nov. 7 is a matter for speculation. A projectile to the moon is being freely predicted.

Sputnik and the intercontinental ballistic missile brought forth a chorus of indignation and a spate of soul-searching among thinking people in the West.

Muttnik has underlined the necessity for the West to knuckle down to the challenge of the communist world's scientific achievements. Of course, it is much easier to get things done in a dictatorship. Orders can be given for a dozen different projects to be developed on a priority basis regardless of cost. If anyone objects, he will be brushed aside or ruthlessly crushed by the power of the state.

In this connection, former Canadian External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson, the 1957 Nobel Prize Winner, warned during the weekend at the University of Minnesota that there are signs the social, economic and political institutions in the West are not equal to the Soviet challenge. A car in every garage, frozen food in every refrigerator and kissproof lipstick, he said, are not good enough to bring victory in a world of competitive co-existence.

Perhaps if one-tenth of the resources devoted to discovering new ways of putting chrome plate on cars, or building bigger and more complex gadgets had been devoted to scientific research for defense, the United States might have been ahead. In a free society, what has happened may have been inevitable — but it is also disturbing.

Please, Mr. Smoker!

A few days ago in Montreal a gas corporation worker was burned about the face when gas suddenly ignited while he was repairing an outlet valve. A cigarette butt tossed by a passing motorist was blamed.

A few weeks ago a major disaster was averted in the same city when a gasoline tank driver, thinking and acting quickly and with courage, extinguished flames shooting from beneath his truck. An underground tank was being filled; within a matter of feet were 28,000 gallons of gasoline. A motorist, inadvertently of course, had tossed a lighted match beneath the truck.

A few years ago in Toronto a motorist was puffing away as his car tank was being filled. The nozzle slipped and the gas splattered; within seconds the smoker was a mass of flames. He died of his burns.

It should not be necessary to urge the obvious danger of smoking or of throwing down a lighted cigarette or match in the vicinity of open gasoline or gas.

There is danger, too, in barns, in factories and other premises where inflammable material is stored or litters the floor.

A lighted rag should never be tossed from a car window. And matches can be highly erratic; the flames of 99 out of 100 may be extinguished before they strike the ground. There is still the 100th match, the freak that goes on burning merrily.

Smoking gives comfort to many but smokers in both town and countryside should remember the possible cost of carelessness in lives and livelihoods.

Tobacco companies do their parts by distributing thousands of warning posters. If all smokers did their part scores of lives and millions of dollars would be saved to this country every year.

PRETTY FAST, TOO!

Mine Disaster Town

People Of Springhill Have Jitters

By DAL WARRINGTON
SPRINGHILL, N.S. (CP)—The people of Springhill today have a bad case of the jitters. Their future and the very existence of their town are in doubt. The one coal mine still working is threatened with closure.

It was at 5:07 p.m. on Nov. 1 last year that an explosion trapped 118 men deep in the No. 2 mine of the Cumberland Railway and Coal Company. It left five men dead or dying on the surface, and sent deadly gas through the tunnels below. After four nights and three days of horror and heroism, 88 miners were rescued alive—but 39 men had died.

That was the start of the worst 12 months most Springhillers have known—a year of unending crisis.

Springhill is a one industry town; all its 7,000 people live, more or less, on coal. And coal here as elsewhere is caught in a shrinking market.

Before the explosion 1,350 men worked in the town's two mines—No. 2 and No. 4. But No. 4 never reopened. About 450 men were left jobless.

The company said in July that No. 4 mine was closed for good. Cost of reopening would be more than the coal was worth. Some miners and their families had already left for Ontario and other places. With the announcement, more went away, some to the mines in Cape Breton. But many quit mining for good.

No. 2 continued to work but all wasn't well. The company says it needs 839 men to operate the mine efficiently. Some days many of them didn't show up. Other days they shut down part or all of the mine by wildcat strikes. The company said it was losing money.

In October William Campbell, the mine superintendent, issued an ultimatum; a full day's work from everyone for the next two months or No. 2 closes too.

Rev. William T. Mercer, United Church minister who heads the Springhill Citizens' Committee, says:

"If No. 2 closes there'll be nothing here. The company owns the railroad and that'll go too. Springhill will be a ghost town."

Charlie Albon, editor of the weekly Springhill Record, says there are two sides to every question, but in an editorial his paper said:

"Coal mining in Springhill has reached the crossroads. . . The problems of wildcat strikes and absenteeism must be faced by all concerned if coal mining is to be carried on here in the future."

Harry Terris, United Mine Workers' district board member for Springhill, says he thinks things are better now.

"We've had meetings with the management. One two weeks ago, another last Saturday. Small groups of the men. They're helping to clear the air. It does 'em good to go in and argue it out from both sides. A lot of them have never met the management before."

Why do the men stay away from work? Why do they walk out in unauthorized strikes? Mr. Terris says the reasons are as numerous as the walkouts; arguments over the pay for this job or that, working conditions in a particular section of the mine, the attitude of an official.

But visit a coal mine when the shifts are changing, and one basic reason becomes clear — Springhill mining is especially tough. No. 2 mine is the deepest in North America, getting toward a mile straight down at the lowest. Ventilation is a big problem.

"It's hot down there," a miner said. "The pressure is fierce. Sometimes the sweat is running of you before you even get to the bottom. Five days in a place like that is hard to take."

Mine superintendent Campbell says Nov. 30 is the deadline for No. 2 but he offers some hope.

"I think the men realize now how serious the situation is, so drastic measures probably won't be necessary." He was a miner himself once.

The shift in control of the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation to A. V. Roe Canada Limited raises another question. The local company is a Dosco subsidiary.

Everyone asks, "What will Roe do?" The Citizens' Committee hopes the new management will do something to help their town. In the meantime, the people hold on, but they say they don't know how long they can. Merchants say business has slumped, collections are slow.

Editor Albon is a member of the Disaster Relief Committee. He says the almost $500,000 that thousands donated is being managed carefully. Half of it went to set up a pension for widows. The rest is used to help needy miners and their families.

For them and for everyone here Nov. 1 was a day for sober reflection.

HUNGRY BIDDER WORKS TO WIN

There are a lot of ifs about today's hand. If both sides didn't have part scores, or if South had not been hungry for the rubber, he would never have wound up at four clubs doubled.

If South hadn't been able to back his bidding by very good play, and if East had led a diamond at trick four, South would not have gotten away with his contract. As it was, East won the opening diamond lead, cashed the ace and king of spades and led a third spade.

South ruffed in dummy and played the king of trumps. East showed out but South was ready for the bad break. He led a diamond to his king, led a trump and finessed dummy's nine, cashed dummy's last trump, ruffed a diamond to get back to his hand and finally played the ace of trumps.

This pulled West's last trump and South was left with one spade and two hearts. Dummy was down to the ace, king and jack of hearts and East was squeezed.

He couldn't throw away a heart, as that would make all dummy's hearts good. He did chuck his last spade in the vain hope that South had started with only three spades was a trick and the contract wheeled in.

OLD HAT

Queen Elizabeth is getting letters of apology from two George Washington University lads who crashed the royal press reception in Washington by palming them selves off as a clergyman and his secretary.

The letter is proper, but we doubt that the boys need feel too abashed when examining their exploit in retrospect.

England happens to be a country where the collegiate prank is a tradition. Apparently the fellows elsewhere give a good deal of their time to contriving intricate undergraduate fun. Much of it is pretty good, too. Contrary to one of this country's widespread legends, Englishmen have—and often exercise—a terrific sense of humor.

We imagine that among British students the business of getting aboard a reception line wearing a cassock might seem rather rudimentary, and disappointingly uncomplicated in its outcome. But apart from that there would be no condemnation.

So, what with having been raised in England, we don't believe Her Majesty found it amazingly extraordinary that collegiate pranksters got themselves presented to her. The incident might produce a moment of queenty boredom, but it seems unlikely that it would be remembered by Elizabeth as an affront.

WHAT ABOUT GLASS?

(Brantford Expositor)
Super zoologists tell us that the old saying "drink like a fish" is in error and that fish do not drink. The water goes in through their mouths and out by their gills. What do they say, however, about the codfish recently found off the Danish coast with an entire schnapps glass in its belly?

Matter of FACT

Perhaps the most well known signature in American history is that of the patriot, John Hancock, on the Declaration of Independence. When his turn came to sign the document, Hancock, who represented Massachusetts, affixed his signature in the bold hand so well known now and said: "I write so that George III may read without his spectacles."

Escaping in Australia with 10 other U.S. Navy ships, submarine Cmdr. Dwight Towers learned radiation from cobalt bombings had annihilated life in the northern hemisphere and that the lethal radiation was relentlessly drifting south.

Placing himself under command of the Australian Navy, Towers was assigned an Aussie liaison officer, Lt. Cmdr. Peter Holmes.

Holmes introduced him to Maria Davidson, a vivacious blonde daintily reminding of Dwight's wife. Dwight preferred to believe that Sharon Towers and their two young children were still alive in West Mystic, Conn.

Maurice L. Dubois — Louis Desjardins, director of sales for the eastern region of the Sales Division of Salada-Shirriff-Horsely Ltd., has announced the appointment of Maurice L. Dubois of Montreal to the position of associate director of sales, eastern region. Born and educated in Montreal, Mr. Dubois is well-known throughout Canada and the Eastern United States in the sales and promotion field. Formerly general sales manager of Strider-Inventus Shoe Co. Limited, Mr. Dubois, under the direction of Mr. Desjardins, will be in charge of sales to the grocery trade from the Atlantic Coast to the Ottawa Valley of all products sold under the Salada, Shirriff and Lushus brands.

Paul Morel, presided at the organ and the men's choir sang during the Mass and during the signing of the register rendered a favorite hymn. The choir was under the direction of Jack St. Sauveur.

Interment was in Mount St. Mary's cemetery, Stanstead. Born at Magog, Que., May 18, 1883, Rose Albanie was the youngest of a family of nine children born to Cleophas Joseph and Agnes (Dame) Fortin. She attended school in Magog and graduated from the Holy Cross Convent in Label, Que., where she was the first prize winner in piano.

She later graduated from Leroy Business College in Montreal as a stenographer. She was employed at the Travellers Assoc., Fairbanks Scales and National Drug Co., in Montreal. Later she came to Granby, where she was employed for several years.

About three years ago Miss Fortin accepted a position in St. Lambert where she resided with Miss Blanche Clemont, a friend of long standing. A few months ago she retired from active business. Her death occurred suddenly on Friday, October 25. Miss Fortin loved music, spending many happy hours at the piano as she was also a vocalist. When residing in Magog she was a member of the Children of Mary group.

During the repose of the remains at the home of her only remaining sister, Mrs. George Garceau, in Rock Island, numerous friends called, many coming from as far distant points as Montreal, St. Lambert, Granby, Magog, Eastman, Sherbrooke, Coaticook and other places, as well as many from the Boundary Villages. The hundreds of spiritual bouquets, masses and floral offerings were silent tokens of the high respect and esteem felt for the deceased.

Miss Fortin is survived by her sister, Mrs. George ((Georgiana) Garceau; a niece, Mrs. Gaston Girard, Mr. Girard and sons, Ronald and Mario, Granby; a nephew, Rorick Fortin, Magog.

NEW CHRYSLER — The Windsor, 2-door hardtop (shown above) incorporates all of the many "Flying Wedge" styling features being offered on the 1958 Chrysler passenger cars. A total of four hardtops and one convertible will be offered this year in the Windsor and New Yorker series along with 4-door sedans and Town and Country wagons. Evident on the car above is the wide, low-slung, aluminum-grid "airseop" grille, the dual headlights, which are standard equipment on all Chryslers for 1958; the towering rear fins, and the "double-wrap" front windshield that blends into the roof line.

confirmed Oldham's description of the object and said its route was substantially correct but said they were unable to verify the description because clouds blocked their view.

One high financial authority said it may take a little time to sink in, but Sputnik II would probably bring an abandonment of the U.S. tight money policy. The country would embark on new and heavy expenditures to catch up with the U.S.S.R.

This would have an effect on Canada where the economic boom had slowed down and unemployment was steadily increasing.

Labor union estimates have predicted unemployment as high as 500,000 during the winter months unless current trends shift.

TO REVIEW DEFENCE — Defence officials said Monday a policy review, begun soon after the Progressive Conservatives took office in June, would be intensified following appearance of Soviet moons in the sky.

Mr. Peacock said, at a service club luncheon it was useless to fight with weapons proven to be obsolete. The second satellite would give the Russians information enabling them to further develop their means of attacking with intercontinental ballistic missiles or supersonic aircraft.

Other defence officials said the Russians have already developed the propellants for long-range missiles.

And if they also fired a rocket to the moon, it would mean they had the guidance system to put missiles on target almost anywhere in the world.

Beauty Tips

Binding the polish at the tip of the nail will check excessive chipping of nail polish. Do this by applying a cover coat at the nail tip after the first coat of nail polish. Then finish with a protective coat over the entire nail.

Homemaking

A young girl who religiously scrubs her face with soap and water is following good beauty habits. However, if she tends to dry skin, she will need to substitute a cleansing cream for soap and water during the day.

Leavitt, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Leavitt and the groom is the son of Mrs. Miles McPherson and the late Mr. McPherson, of Foster. (Photo by Brereton)

McPHERSON—LEAVITT

KNOWLTON — The marriage of Doreen Alice, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Leavitt, to Mr. Malcolm Eric McPherson, youngest son of Mrs. Miles McPherson and the late Mr. McPherson of Foster, took place recently in the United Church, Rev. H. Boomhour of Waterloo, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Baskets of autumn flowers adorned the chancel and the guest pews were marked by white satin bows and autumn leaves.

Mrs. L. Tuxen played the wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. William Badger in the rendition of the "Lord's Prayer" and during the signing of the register, "I'll Walk Beside You".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white arnel faille fashioned with an overskirt of net, sprinkled with pearls and rhinestones. The fitted bodice had a V neckline and sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her finger tip veil of embroidered net was held in place by a sequin and pearl tiara, and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations. Her only jewellery was a double strand of pearls and earrings to match, a gift of the groom.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Merton McPherson, sister-in-law of the groom, was in a Princess style waltz length dress of Nile green taffeta, the low V neckline and skirt panels accented with bows of green velvet, she wore a small matching hat and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow snapdragon and mauve asters.

Miss Beverly Durrell, as bridesmaid, was in a daffodil yellow taffeta dress styled identically to that worn by the matron of honor, a small matching hat, and carried a colonial bouquet of crimson asters and yellow snapdragon.

The junior bridesmaid, Miss Mavis Dougherty, cousin of the bride wore a blue flowered nylon frock with full bouffant skirt. The bodice was finished with a flower petal collar and a sash at the waist of blue taffeta, she carried a nosegay of pink and white snapdragon.

Little Miss Sylvia Rand, as flower girl for her cousin, wore a short dress of shrimp pink nylon over a crinoline with a pink flower petal collar and sash. She wore a floral bandeau in her hair and carried a nosegay of blue cornflowers.

Master Jimmy Rand, as ring bearer carried the wedding rings on a velvet cushion.

Mr. Merton McPherson acted as best man for his brother and the ushers were Mr. Keith Leavitt, brother of the bride and Mr. Bruce McPherson, brother of the groom.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Leavitt, chose a street length gown of horizon blue flowered acetate and silk, with a navy hat and accessories, and a corsage of deep pink roses.

Mrs. McPherson, mother of the groom, was attired in a street length dress of mauve polka dot faille, with a navy hat and accessories and a corsage of yellow baby mums.

The paternal grandmother of the bride was in a dress of navy blue arnel crepe with which she wore a black hat and toning accessories, and a corsage of red and white asters.

Mrs. George Parsons, maternal grandmother of the bride, wore charcoal grey embossed crystal dress, with a hat of amethyst velvet and a corsage of purple and yellow pansies.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors where members of the Brill Farm Forum assisted in serving refreshments.

The bride's table, decorated in pink and white, was centered with a three tier wedding cake featuring a miniature bride and groom topped with a decoration of white roses used previously for the 50th anniversary cake of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Parsons. Miss Irene McLaughlin was in charge of the guest book.

Later Mr. and Mrs. McPherson left for a motor trip to Oshawa and Niagara Falls, Ont., and points of interest in the New England States, the bride wearing a caribbean blue Fairloom tweed suit, with matching top coat, small black velvet hat, black and white accessories and a corsage of blue cornflowers and yellow baby mums. Upon their return they will take up residence in Foster.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

"He overcharged me; I'll never hire him again," said the woman about a repair man she had hired. She didn't ask the cost before she hired him. So she runs the man down to others and feels she was cheated. There's nothing wrong in asking "How much?"

In fact, it is much better than letting yourself be surprised and resentful when you get the bill.

Hats For Winter Are Small Head-Hugging And Feminine

By MURIEL PENN

LONDON (Reuters) — Hats for the winter are small, head-hugging and feminine. Many of them are really pretty.

Gone are the hard "buckets" of last year and, except for a few models for formal occasions, so are the enormous cartwheels with shallow brims.

This season's hats are soft and draped, off the face, but more often than not, hair hiding. Possibly because of the scarcity of rabbit fur, stiff felts have given way to soft jerseys, crocheted chenille, satin, tweed and, above all, velvet, fur and feathers.

The summer residence of the bride's parents, at Sunnyside Beach, N.B.

Mr. and Mrs. Huet later left for a motor trip through the southern states and Mexico, the bride travelling in a royal blue ensemble with winter white hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of pink and white sweetheart roses. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Huet will reside in Moose Jaw, Sask.

Mrs. Huet is a graduate of Netherwood School, Rothesay, N.B., and of the Montreal General Hospital School of Nursing and the groom attended Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S., and the University of New Brunswick, Fredericton.

Out of town guests were from Montreal, Granby, Fredericton and St. John, N.B.

FEATHER EFFECT

There is something particularly feminine in the light, airy effect of feathers on the head, whether osprey or the more humble pheasant, cock or pigeon, while mink or ermine invariably spell luxury.

All the London milliners are showing models trimmed with feathers, and sometimes made entirely of feathers.

Madame Simone Mirman, who makes hats for Princess Margaret and the Duchess of Kent, makes wide use of both feathers and mink in her current collection.

Among the more striking feather models shown by Madame Mirman is an open crown fez made of white cock feathers flecked with dark green feathers forming three rows of almost regular squares. And there is a black velvet tambourine, this year's version of the pillbox, trimmed all around with pendant peacock feathers.

PIGEONS TOO

Pigeon feathers are used by Kate Hamilton to trim a white melusine beret.

Natural cock feathers are used by Edward Harvane for a head-hugging helmet complete with "ear-hiding" flaps, with a soft, "spiky" effect, while red feathers cover the red velvet brim of one of the only three large hats in his collection.

Mink emerged, alongside feathers, as No. 1 trimming for the winter's hats as long ago as last June when the Associated Millinery Designers of London showed one of the first collections of model hats for the fall and winter season. It has reigned supreme ever since.

One of the more original models made almost entirely of mink appears in the collection of Jenny Fischer, a Frenchwoman who designs hats specially for British women.

"Typical French hats look wrong on typically British faces," she says, "because the shape of a Frenchwoman's head is entirely different." Madame Fischer uses 28 mink tails mounted on a coral red brim to make a becoming cap reminiscent of a sea urchin.

More fantastic, and less wearable, is a Victorian bonnet of white fox mounted on black velvet and tied primly under the chin.

Fashion

Nice for evening wear is the pouch bag made of satin with a covering of lace. Comes in black or white and is moderately priced.

The Right Way With Rice

If you're one of the many homemakers who really puts rice "through the mill" when cooking it, now's a good time to practise the correct way of preparing this versatile, easy-to-use food.

Firstly, washing packaged rice is a waste of time and nutrition — it doesn't need to be washed, and shouldn't be washed. By just following these simple directions, you'll have perfect rice every time in the century-proven Oriental tradition.

To make three heaping cups of white, fluffy rice, put one cup uncooked rice into two cups cold water with one teaspoon of salt added, using a two-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil and then turn down the heat as low as possible. Cover the saucepan with a lid and cook over this low heat for 14 minutes. If not used immediately, keep the lid on the saucepan and the rice will stay hot and fluffy until serving time.

Because of its delicate flavor and good texture, rice is a good mixer with many other foods. In this recipe for Tuna Rice Casserole it blends deliciously in a quick-to-fix entree, comprised of handy pantry-shelf ingredients.

TUNA RICE CASSEROLE
3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon butter on margarine, melted, 2 cups grated American cheese, 2 cups cooked rice, 1 cup (7-oz. can) tuna fish, flaked, 1/4 cup chopped parsley, 1 cup Rice Krispies (oven-toasted rice cereal).

To make cheese sauce, melt butter, stir in flour. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook until thickened, stirring occasionally. Add salt, paprika and cheese, stirring until cheese is melted. In greased casserole, arrange layers of rice, tuna fish, parsley and cheese sauce. Crush Rice Krispies slightly; combine with melted butter. Sprinkle over tuna fish mixture. Bake in hot oven (425F.) about 15 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Serve at once. Yield: 6 servings.

Richard Brothers Dominate National Hockey League Scoring Race

Tied For Top Spot With 19 Points Each; Moore And Beliveau Follow To Give Canadiens Top Four Berths

MONTREAL — (CP) — Les Freres Richard, who have scored nearly half the 46 goals rolled up by Montreal Canadiens so far this season, are making the National Hockey League scoring leadership a family affair.

Maurice, the 36-year-old Rocket, and Henri, the Pocket Rocket who is 15 years younger, are scoring like twins. Each has collected 10 goals and nine assists for 19 points.

Henri popped in three goals and counted two assists last week to catch up with his big brother. Maurice scored two goals and had one assist.

The league's official statistics, released today, give the veteran rocket top billing. It isn't because he's older. It's because he hasn't served any time in the penalty box in all of Montreal's 11 games — a startling accomplishment for the fiery Rocket—while Henri has watched his mates play short-handed for nine minutes.

MONTREAL MONOPOLY

Another Montreal pair are deadlocked for third place with 15 points. Dickie Moore, who works on the line with the Richard brothers, scored a goal and an assist while Jean Beliveau picked up two assists along with one goal.

Next come Andy Bathgate of New York Rangers and Gordie Howe of Detroit Red Wings, each with 12 points.

Best scoring feat of last week was the seven points gathered in by Barry Cullen of Toronto Maple Leafs, who rattled in three goals and assisted on four others for a total of seven points. The accomplishment boosted him from a 32nd-place tie to a tie for 10th among the point-scorers.

On the week's play, New York Rangers had the best average. They had three wins and one loss, for six of a possible eight points, and with 15 points now are only one behind the league-leading Canadiens. The Montrealers played three games, winning two and losing one.

The leaders:

Als' Hal Patterson Holds Big Four Scoring Race With 15-Point Lead Over Rough Riders' Garry Schreider

TORONTO — (CP) — Unless somebody goes on a great scoring binge in the schedule-ending games next Saturday, Montreal Alouettes' Hal Patterson is the 1957 Big Four football scoring champion.

Patterson has a clear 13-point edge over runner-up Garry Schreider of Ottawa Rough Riders, statistics compiled by The Canadian Press show. The University of Kansas pass-catching end scored his 13th touchdown last Saturday as Als lost 40-27 to Toronto Argonauts for a 79-point total while Schreider booted a field goal in Ottawa's 9-4 squeaker over Hamilton Tiger-Cats to give him 65 points.

Deadlocked in third place with 54 points each are Ticats' Cookie Gilchrist and Steve Oneschuk. Bill Bewley, conver-kicking ace with the Als is next with 53.

An eight-touchdown surge in the final two games gave Jim Waddell, import half from California's Compton Junior College, the Senior Ontario Rugby Football Union scoring title. The Sarnia Golden Bears ended with 90 points on 15 touchdowns, leaving the field far behind.

Mike Norcia of Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, last week's leader with 57 points, added 12 in the final two games to make sure of second place, three points up on Don Wright of London Lords.

The intercollegiate scoring race still is dominated by Jan Sandzelius of McGill Redmen with 37 points. Bill Britton of the University of Western Ontario Mustangs took over sole possession of second place with 30 points, scoring a touchdown in Mustangs' 21-8 Saturday victory over Queen's Golden Gaels.

J.P. Poirier of the Redmen and Dale Creighton of the Mustangs failed to pick up ground during the week-end and are deadlocked in third place each with 24 points.

Mrs. Jake Mintz Applies For Licence To Act As Second For Her Fighter, Wilf Greaves Who Meets Giardello

DENVER (AP) — A woman fight manager's battle to get into the ring with her fighter between rounds heightened interest in tonight's Joey Giardello - Wilf Greaves middleweight bout.

The non-televized fight is for 10 rounds at the Denver Coliseum, starting about 1 a.m. AST Wednesday.

Mrs. Jake Mintz, a sprightly grandmother, who inherited Greaves's contract when her husband died, went to the Colorado Athletic Commission offices Monday to apply for permission to act as a second during the fight. But she got no immediate action. Greaves, a native of Edmonton, now fights out of Pittsburgh.

"The commission couldn't do anything today," a spokesman said Monday, "because one member, Dr. John Finesilver, is out of town. He may be back tomorrow, but there may not be any decision until just before the fight."

"The commission rules say plainly a woman cannot act as a second, but I suppose the commission has the power to waive the rule if it thinks it is necessary."

Aces May Fold If Attendance Fails To Improve

QUEBEC — (CP) — Unless home attendance picks up sharply by next Sunday Quebec Aces of the Quebec Hockey League may consider folding, Dr. Bruce Crutchfield, principal shareholder in the club, said Monday.

"We'll simply have no choice," Dr. Crutchfield said. "We're spending more money than is coming in. And I understand Trois-Rivieres and Shawinigan Falls are in the same boat."

"If we could get 2,000 fans at a game we'd breathe easier, but up to now our crowds have only been 800 to 1,000 a game."

"I'm not saying we will drop out if we don't draw better in our next three games," he said, "but we certainly will have to consider it."

A meeting was held last night but this was delayed for an hour waiting for representatives of Windsor Mills, who failed to show up following the lengthy delay.

The first item on the agenda was the discussion of a letter received from Maurice Parr stating his case regarding being voted as assistant coach of Windsor at the last meeting. Player Parr claimed he was never approached in any manner to play with Windsor and that it was his intention to play with Sherbrooke Castors.

Following the reading of the letter President O'Donnell pointed out to all clubs that no one has the right to put a player's

Lions To Give Crowe Another Chance As Coach

VANCOUVER (CP) — Directors of British Columbia Lions voted Monday night to retain Clem Crowe as coach of the Western Interprovincial Football Union team next season.

The club's 26 directors voted by secret ballot in favor of giving Crowe a one-year contract. The vote count was not announced.

In Crowe's second year as head coach, Lion's this season finished fourth in the five-team league, two points ahead of Saskatchewan Roughriders, B.C. won four games, lost 11, and tied one.

A report to the directors' meeting showed that 1957 football attendance in Vancouver's 30,000-seat Empire Stadium dropped 26,000 from last year's 207,000 or 3,250 a game.

Jackson No Shape To Fight Machen, Says Dr. Kilroy

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Dan O. Kilroy, California Athletic Commission chairman, Monday attacked "innuendoes" that heavyweight boxer Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson is in no condition to meet Eddie Machen in San Francisco next week.

He said some unnamed sports writers had given the impression that Jackson was a physical wreck after his last fight with champion Floyd Patterson.

Kilroy said the athletic commission in New York, Jackson's own state, assured him Jackson was not hurt in the Patterson fight.

Kilroy said reports that Jackson went to a neurological hospital for treatment of head injuries suffered in the bout are not true.

"He was in hospital, yes," Kilroy said, "but for an illness that has no relation to the Patterson fight at all."

Canadian Champ Fractures Foot

TORONTO (CP) — Canadian Champ, Canada's "horse of the year" in 1954, has suffered a fractured bone in the front right foot.

X-rays taken Monday disclosed the injury, believed by trainer John Passero to have resulted from stepping on a stone.

Len O'Donnell Returns As Prexy Of Massawippi League; All-Star Game To Be Held In Asbestos On Nov. 17

Len O'Donnell, who resigned last week as president of the Massawippi Valley Intermediate "B" Hockey League following refusal of the teams to allow Granby, Drummondville and Victoriaville into the league, accepted to return following a demand by a special committee on behalf of the clubs.

A meeting was held last night but this was delayed for an hour waiting for representatives of Windsor Mills, who failed to show up following the lengthy delay.

The first item on the agenda was the discussion of a letter received from Maurice Parr stating his case regarding being voted as assistant coach of Windsor at the last meeting. Player Parr claimed he was never approached in any manner to play with Windsor and that it was his intention to play with Sherbrooke Castors.

Following the reading of the letter President O'Donnell pointed out to all clubs that no one has the right to put a player's name on their list unless they had contacted him and signed him to a form. These forms will be distributed to the teams in the near future in the meantime a letter will serve the purpose.

The players' list will be discussed at the next meeting which is slated to take place Tuesday, Nov. 12. The final plans for the All-Star game, which will take place in Asbestos Sunday, Nov. 17, were completed. Pee Wee Theriault will coach the team in the annual classic. Last year he coached the Magog Aces to second place in the standing.

President O'Donnell also pointed out that this year the league would be very severe with players who abuse referees or officials in any manner. He also stated that it is the responsibility of the home clubs to provide the proper police protection at all times.

The schedule was presented by secretary Norm Batrie and after a few changes it will be adopted at the next meeting.

Asbestos Still Setting Pace In Richmond Darts League; Two Tilts Slated This Evening In Circuit

RICHMOND — Bell Telephone, RD C and Rovers suffered setbacks in the Richmond Softball League. The leading Asbestos team was idle while the three next teams came up with overwhelming victories.

As a result of their win over RDC Trenholm moved into second place one point behind Asbestos and Legion's over Rovers moved then into third place. Valcourt is fourth, a point behind the Legion. It's a real battle for the league honors at this point and Asbestos will have a chance to extend their lead when they play hosts to Bell Tonight. Trenholm has a bye tonight while the rest of the teams will be gunning for wins.

While Bell Telephone went down 32-8 at the hands of the Valcourt crew, they came up with something of a record not yet seen in this circuit. For in their loss, each of the teams participating won one round in the game. The Valcourt club came up with three five-round winners with Pat Desrosiers-Roch Martin; Roman Malouin-Victor Pratte and Gerry Desrosiers with Rouville Beaudet registering. Three others on the Smith crew won four out of five, Paul Belair with Ted Lacroix; Roger Champagne-Louis Pickle and Guelph Husk with Marsh Gregory. In the fifth round the Belair-Lacroix team lost out to Connie Pariseau and Joe Marchand while trying for their fifth win.

In the other upsets, Ken Reid with Ross Davidson paced the Trenholm crew to a 28-12 win over the Richmond Dart Club while mates J. P. Langlois and Cliff Rodgers came through for a four-round effort. In the third tilt played at the Brunswick Hotel, Legion came up with a similar 28-12 win over Len Boast's Rovers.

Bob Heale and Harold Kydd paced the Legionnaires with five rounds while four-round winners were Les Dalton-George Relyea, Omer Mallette-Maurice Davis and J. Stott with Bert Deane. Best for Rovers was the team of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Massey with a four-round win. F. Butler with Louis Tremblay and the Millar Scotts won three out of five.

RDC meets Rovers tonight and each will be looking for their third win of the young season. Bell will have to go some when they meet Asbestos, who have won eight and tied one of their ten games played.

Ottawa's Jim McCaffrey Tosses Nice Little Bombshell In Big Four With Hint To Importing US Officials

By JACK SULLIVAN
TORONTO (CP) — Jim McCaffrey is a thoroughly amiable fellow endowed with good-natured rascality. He's also one of the shrewdest football men in Canada, as any executive will tell you.

He's been in football 30 years or more in an executive capacity with Ottawa Rough Riders of the Big Four. He's bumped into many ticklish situations in the administration of football and has got out of them with the subtlety of a career diplomat.

No one really knows when he's kidding or hatching a plot. The other day, for instance, he said he Big Four officiating this season has been "extremely unsatisfactory." He hinted that the possibility of importing one or two Americans next year to act as head linemen as a start to a career in the Canadian game would come up at the union's annual meeting in January.

NOTHING TO FEAR

With this off his chest he probably hid himself off to a corner for a quiet chuckle while league officials handled his hot potato. Jim hadn't a thing to worry about, except possibly a rap on the knuckles for making such a statement, but that wouldn't ruffle him.

As an unpaid club official he's on sacred ground—he isn't liable to a fine by Judge Allan Fraser, Big Four commissioner. There is no such immunity in Western Canada. Syd Halter of Winnipeg, Western Interprovincial Football Union commissioner, has the authority to fine anybody connected with the game. Halter is the judge of what the fine will be.

Unfortunately, football officials on the field can't defend themselves by saying, for instance, that the rules the executives put in the books are phrased in such a way that a lawyer couldn't interpret them.

They can't talk about such things in public without inviting a $200 fine and, possibly, the loss of a job.

However, referee-in-chief Cec McFadden of Toronto, went to bat

Bitter Words Fly As NHL Players Association Makes Bid For Right To Bargain; Conn Smythe Blasted

TORONTO — (CP) — The National Hockey League Players Association has made its first bid for certification in Ontario and has accused the Toronto Maple Leaf owners of attempting intimidation.

The Ontario Labor Relations Board Monday announced it has an application to certify the association as bargaining agent for players of the Toronto Maple Leafs and scheduled a hearing for Nov. 18.

The OLRB matter-of-factly called the applicant "a trade union."

Not so, says New York lawyer Milton Mound whose firm has dispatched—or is drafting—similar applications to government agencies in all six NHL cities. He was quoted Monday night as saying the association is dedicated to the welfare of past, present and future players, has no paid officers and no affiliation.

BLASTS SMYTHE

Mound also opened fire on Conn Smythe, Maple Leaf Gardens managing director, saying he tried to intimidate players during a private meeting Monday. The meeting, which also drew NHL president Clarence Campbell, Gardens' solicitor Ian Johnston and Stafford Smythe, chairman of the Leafs' hockey committee, broke up with no formal statement of what went on.

There was a report that the players would vote today on whether they want the association to act as bargaining agent.

Stafford Smythe claimed Monday the Toronto players knew nothing of the plan to seek certification.

Terry Sawchuk Is Most-Peppered Goalie In NHL; Stops 153 Out Of 164 Fired At Him In Four Games

TORONTO (CP) — Here is evidence that Terry Sawchuk is a well-seasoned netminder: He was the most-peppered in the National Hockey League last week.

Sawchuk, traded to Detroit Red Wings last summer after walking out on Boston Bruins midway through last season, ventured back to Boston Sunday night. The Bruin forwards gave him a rough time, blasting 52 shots his way as they defeated Wings 4-0.

Only 24 hours earlier Sawchuk had his hands full as Montreal Canadiens clipped Detroit 6-3 under a 49-shot attack against Sawchuk. But Terry, in the four games he played, improved his position in the "fielding averages" among regular NHL goal-tenders.

Sawchuk stopped 153 of the 164 shots fired at him in the four games for a 93.3 per cent. giving him a mark of .906 on the season. The previous week he was last, excluding Jacques Plante of Canadiens, with a .885 showing.

While Sawchuk was busy, two other goaltenders made their big-league debuts a success. Len Broderick stepped into Montreal's net here Wednesday and turned aside 20 of the 22 shots Maple Leafs fired at him as the Habs won 6-2.

Broderick, a 19-year-old junior A player, was thrust into his first professional game a few minutes before the start

U. K. Scientists Studying Atomic Plant Accident

SEASCALE, England (AP)—Two weeks ago a trickle of smoke in a white concrete building near here set off an alarm that signaled the first serious accident of Britain's industrial atomic age.

Since then, atomic scientists have descended on Seascale to learn what hazards may plague a world drawing light and heat from the atom.

Counter-measures are still under way, and the full story has not been told. But this, so far as is known, is what happened when something went wrong in an atom factory:

There are two atomic plants two miles outside Seascale, a pleasant, windblown village of 2,000 overlooking the Atlantic. Calder Hall is a fullscale atom power plant. Next door, Windscale makes plutonium for atom bombs.

NO DANGER

The accident happened at Windscale, on one of its two nuclear piles.

A uranium rod somehow got overheated and burst its aluminum cover. Radioactive uranium dust escaped up a 445-foot chimney. Firemen flooded the smouldering pile. It was wrecked.

Most of the radioactive dust was stopped by a chimney filter. A little seeped out into the air.

Britain's Atomic Energy Authority said there was no possible danger to the public. But two days later police called on 10 farmers near the plant and told them not to deliver milk because it was slightly radioactive.

BAN EXTENDED

In a few days the ban was extended over 200 square miles. Since then 15,000 gallons of milk has been dumped into the sea every day. This is expected to go on for some weeks.

Sir William Penney, atomic weapons chief, came up to head a five-man secret inquiry.

Villagers accepted without a murmur the authority's assurance that no death dust would come blowing down their streets with the autumn leaves.

Stanley Ritson, a Windscale worker, got an overdose of radioactivity in the fire. He was scrubbed and rescrubbed at the plant, but still had to wear rubber gloves when he turned up for dominoes at the pub that evening.

SECRET EXPERIMENT?

Ritson will make a geiger counter click for a month but experts say he faces no injury from his exposure, which was below the danger level.

How did the accident happen? How did the uranium get overheated? That has not been revealed. Sir William Penney shut down Windscale's second plutonium-making pile to help the inquiry.

His report is expected next week. But as Windscale is a defence plant, the full story will probably never be told. One newspaper report said a secret experiment was in progress on H-bomb material but there has been no confirmation.

Home And School Well Attended At Cookshire

COOKSHIRE — The first meeting of the season of the A. B. C. Home and School Association was held in the Cookshire High School with about 100 parents in attendance.

The president, Mrs. T. Bagley, was in the chair and conducted a short sing-song, with the Rev. Canon Dunn as director and Mrs. Heatherington as pianist.

Mrs. Bagley welcomed the members and friends and gave a short resume of the Home and School Creed and Objects and the Parents' Code of Ethics.

Mrs. Mallin Westgate read the minutes of the previous meeting and also the minutes of the executive meeting. A number of the suggestions of the executive are to be tried out this year, such as more publicity, more varied programs, audience participation, report of the meeting to be sent to the parents after the meetings, etc. A card party is to be held in Cookshire High School on Nov. 7th.

Mr. H. C. Barter reported for the Dental Clinic and Mr. F. Tredinnick for the General Cod Liver Oil Funds. A large account was ordered to be paid.

Mr. Morse introduced the principal, Mr. Brenton Sandford, who spoke on "Mutual Problems". He gave a complete report of the teachers' meeting in which definite standards of conduct were expected from the pupils in the school and on the school grounds, requirements expected from the notes written by the parents, etc. These suggestions were fair and reasonable, and with the co-operation of the parents, pupils and teachers there should be a smooth-running and profitable year for the pupils.

A committee for teacher recruitment was formed consisting of Mrs. Colin Standish, Mrs. J. Vogell, Mr. D. J. Macmillan, also a member from the staff will be appointed at the next teachers' meeting.

A short period of time was spent visiting the class rooms and discussing problems with the teachers.

Refreshments were served by the refreshment committee, Mrs. Tredinnick, Mrs. Jacques, and their several hostesses.

SOUTH DURHAM —

Miss Norma Moore of Windsor, was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Coote and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Wright and family visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wright in Bury. Mrs. Wright returned home with them for a few days' visit. Mr. Harold Wright of Sherbrooke, was a guest at the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. Galen Coote spent the week-end in Montreal. While there they visited Rev. and Mrs. Mastine and family at Strathmore, and Rev. and Mrs. Beattie and family at Chambly.

France's Next PM Faces Political Jungle

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP) — The next premier of France must fight his way through a jungle of political jealousies and contradictory policies to find enough votes for approval in the National Assembly.

Already five candidates for the job have been swallowed up in this jungle, unable to enlist enough help to clear the obstacles.

There are 17 different political groupings for the 595 members in the National Assembly. Not all are full-fledged parties with central organizations, but each represents some political nuance that prevents absorption into a larger group.

The centrist Radical Socialist party has a three-way split largely provoked by personal feuding. Former premier Edgar Faure and a few of his friends were kicked out of the party by Pierre Mendes-France for forcing early elections in 1956. Later 14 other Radical Socialists walked out in protest against what they called dictatorial procedures by Mendes-France.

NOW THREE GROUPS

The result is that 70 men who largely think alike are listed under three separate political headings. Mendes-France has stepped down from direction of the party but the wounds have not yet healed enough to re-form under a single banner.

The present assembly is largely ungovernable and France is left long ungoverned because of a stubborn bloc of automatic opposition. This includes the Communists with 149 seats and the followers of tax-hating Pierre Poujade with 42 seats.

The Communists and Poujade hate each other. But they consistently vote together, for exactly opposite reasons. On any proposal for giving Algeria more autonomy the Communists vote against because they say it does not go far enough. The Poujadists vote against, saying it goes too far.

The result is that a workable majority of at least 325 members of the National Assembly must be extracted from the 400 deputies between these two extremes. This means that the independent and peasant deputies, representing the employers and farmers, must find some way to get along with the Socialists, who draw their strength from the working classes.

MUST COMBINE PARTIES

Any prospective premier must try to get the Socialists and Independents together under one roof.

can Socialist Movement, allied with Socialists, 4; Democratic and Socialist Union of Resistance plus African Democratic Rally, 21; Radical Socialists, 43; Dissident Radical Socialists, 14; Rally of Republican Left 13; Popular Republican Movement 75; Overseas Independents 7; Social Republicans (Gaullists) 21; Independents, Peasants, Social Action 92; Peasants Group of Action and Rural Action 6; Peasant Group 12; French Union and Fraternity (Roujadists) 30.

Dramatic demonstration at Quebec Winter Carnival...

New winter tire climbs ski hill, takes hold where driving seems impossible!

Solaberry Hill as a skier sees it from the top. This hill is so steep it is blocked off all winter. During the Carnival it is used as a slalom speed run.

New Suburbanite winter tires boosted this car UP Solaberry Hill. Goodyear's New Custom Suburbanites had to take hold from a standing start with the car already nosing up the incline. The snow was doubly slick from the constant polishing of skis.

Even on the slick ski run, the New Custom Suburbanite tread—delivered immediate, straight-ahead driving power.

This amazing New Suburbanite Tread boosted the car up and over the ski hill without skids, spinning or fish-tailing. This type of traction is why Quebec taxi drivers rely on Suburbanites when winter comes.

New advances in traction engineering, improving on the original Suburbanite design (for years Canada's most popular snow tire) make the New Custom Suburbanite the finest winter tire ever.

HERE'S THE NEW TREAD DESIGN THAT MAKES SUBURBANITES GREATER THAN EVER

Over 5500 hard biting edges grab hold, claw slick ice or packed snow to give you up to 55% better traction. The extra wide tread surface with V-Grip notches delivers straight-ahead driving power... gets you through winter roads safely without tiresome delays. You get a new quiet too—Custom Suburbanite's modern new tread whispers along smoothly on bare pavement, no nerve-jarring, fatiguing tread whine.

More mileage than ever before because the two continuous tread ribs carry most of the load weight. Traction notches stay sharp and efficient for extra seasons. Built with exclusive Goodyear 3-T cord, triple tempered for extra toughness to stand up to rugged winter driving. See your Goodyear dealer soon.

Let it snow—you'll go!
