MADRID LEADERS FACE NEW REVOLT

Planes Used In Effort To Rout Rebels

Continued Communist Activity Forces General Miaja to Withdraw Regular Forces from Defence of Madrid Despite Presence of Powerful Nationalist Army — Reported Communists Plan Attack on Valencia.

Madrid, March 9.—(AP)—Republican aircraft bombed groups of rebellious Communists on the outskirts of Madrid today in an attempt to suppress their uprising against the new Defence Council.

All exits from Madrid were guarded by General Jose Miaja's Republican forces.

With a powerful Nationalist army arrayed for an assault just outside the Republican capital, Miaja called his regular forces from Madrid's trenches to crush Communist nests persisting in resistance to the Defence Council within the city.

REBELS PLAN DRIVE AGAINST VALENCIA

Hendaye, France, March 9.—(AP)—Official French reports from Madrid today described a "New Communist Revolution" against General Jose Miaja's Defence Council.

Rebellious Communist party detachments, these reports said, were attempting to march on Valencia and seize that port, one of the main cities still in Republican territory.

Communications between Madrid and Valencia were said to have been cut by roving bands of Communists moving toward the seaboard. Inside Valencia, it was reported, Defence Council commanders were organizing the city's defences against the advancing Communists.

The new uprising came after Miaja had quelled a first forty-eight-hour Communist insurrection and while Spanish Nationalists were reported planning to attack Madrid and Cartagena after having established a "starvation blockade" of the Republican coast.

Valencia was described as outwardly calm despite rising tension.

Throughout the Central Zone, Defence Council agents were arresting Communist party members suspected of participating in the revolution.

No reports were available from other cities where Communists have risen against the Defence Council.

Dispatches reaching the border indicated Nationalist General Franco planned a double attack against the coast and against Madrid to speed up surrender by the Madrid Defence Council under General Jose Miaja, without wasting any more time on discussion of terms.

A message reported to have been intercepted from the Republican naval base of Cartagena said the Nationalist fleet had arrived off that port, and that the few small warships remaining there under Republican command were ordered

CLAM ARRESTED FOR DUCK HUNTING

Florence, S.C., March 9.— (AP) — Marshal Hal Harvin took a clam into custody for duck hunting out of season. He found the clam clamped on the foot of a duck. The clam was so heavy the duck could not escape.

ATTACKS RIGHT OF DOMINION TO CONTROL DRUGS

Opposition Leader in Senate Declares that Food and Drug Act Is Likely Ultra Vires of Dominion Parliament.

Ottawa, March 9.—(C)—The Government's bill to set up a commission to administer penitentiaries probably will be debated on second reading in the Senate today.

In the Upper House yesterday, the measure was given first reading, five minor bills were advanced to third reading stage and the bill to amend the Food and Drug Act was referred to the Public Health Committee.

Conservative Leader Meighen was critical of the bill to amend the Food and Drugs Act to give National Health officers wider supervision over the manufacture and sale of certain drugs and cosmetics. He doubted if the food and drug legislation was within the powers of the Dominion.

Two years ago the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in reporting adversely on the "reform" legislation of the former Bennett Government, had refused to base Dominion jurisdiction on the Government's obligations assumed under the Versailles Treaty. It seemed to him that if the present legislation were contested, and it went to the Privy Council, it might be found ultra vires.

On the bill extending the Technical Education Act to enable Manitoba to spend its unused portion of the Dominion grant, amounting to $286,000, Mr. Meighen charged that the present youth training plan of the Government was a scheme of political education. Out of thousands trained only twenty-five youths had so far been placed in positions.

FIRE CHIEF TO GIVE EVIDENCE ON HOTEL BLAZE

Head of Halifax Fire Department Scheduled as Chief Witness at Probe Expected to End this Evening—Hotel Filled with Gas.

Halifax, March 9.—(C)—Investigators, probing the Queen Hotel disaster, expected today to hear Chief J. W. Churchill of the Halifax Fire Department tell his story of the fire which claimed at least twenty-eight lives. The probe, under Major J. A. Rudland, Nova Scotia's Fire Marshal, will probably end today.

Another witness is expected to be William Morrow, houseman at the hotel for nine years. Morrow left the hotel in January of this year. Leonard Fraser, counsel for the family and estate of A. Dewitt Foster, reported missing since the fire, suggested yesterday that Morrow be subpoenaed.

Authorities heard sworn testimony from eleven witnesses yesterday. Two of them, Clyde MacIntosh, clerk, and Mrs. Sophie Martell, headwaitress, said guests had complained of fumes in the hotel during the winter. "We were troubled with gas and fumes in the hotel all winter," the clerk said.

SKUNKS TO PROVIDE UNUSUAL PROBLEMS

Salt Lake City, March 9.—(AP)—After months of suspicion, Val S. Snow knows the horrible truth—he has skunks in his basement. While firing the furnace he came onto two of them at too close range. He laid his problem before the Biological Survey and received the comforting information skunks are excellent mousers and harmless, except when annoyed. Snow's immediate concern is how to keep the furnace in coal until the animals get the spring wanderlust—if they do.

PLAN RECOVERY OF BODIES OF PLANE VICTIMS

Party Due to Set Out from Lac-a-la-Croix to Bring Back Bodies of Three Men Trapped in Crashed Plane at Unnamed Lake.

Lac-a-la-Croix, Que., March 9. —(C)—A party was due to set out today for a spot ten miles from here where a wrecked airplane holds the bodies of three men who died when the ship crashed on a pleasure flight..

The expedition intended to fly to a lake four miles from where the twisted wreckage lay, and cover the remainder of the journey on foot. The plane carrying John C. Stadler, Jr., thirty-two, of Westmount, Que.; Capt. Herve St. Martin, forty-two, of St. Felicien, Que., and Oscar Therrien, St. Jovite, Que., crashed on the edge of a small unnamed lake.

Two commercial pilots sighted the plane from the air yesterday. The three men had been missing since Sunday, when they set out from this place seventy-five miles west of Chicoutimi for St. Felicien. They had spent a few days at a camp St. Martin was building.

Pilot Pat Twist, of Dominion Airways, who made the discovery with Albert Funke, of Quebec Airways, landed his plane on the lake's snow covered ice and examined the crashed ship. He found the bodies crammed together near the front of the plane, where they had been flung evidently by the impact of the crash. Twist, who left the bodies untouched, was unable to give any reason for the disaster.

ANOTHER GROUP FORCED DOWN

North Bay, Ont., March 9.—(C)—Young Harold Chandler, North Bay private pilot, today recounted the experience of having an airplane forced down through engine trouble, while W. J. Hebert, North Bay, continued by dog-team an inspection trip of lumber areas he had planned to make from a cockpit.

Missing since Tuesday when they set out from here by plane to Wolsley Bay on the French River, Chandler and Hebert were found yesterday on the shores of Lake Nipissing by a search plane chartered by the Sudbury Star.

Chandler said their machine was forced down Tuesday through a broken piston and that they spent the night with a French-Canadian couple in a nearby cabin. The couple loaned Hebert a dog-team yesterday to continue his trip, while Chandler was flown to Sudbury by

Army Leaders Convinced Period Of U.S. Immunity Has Closed

Washington, March 9. — (AP) — President Roosevelt's recommendation to a receptive Congress that the United States army air corps be tripled without delay reflected the firm judgment of his military advisers that the end of America's immunity from aerial attack is in sight, writes Ed. Bombar, Associated Press staff writer, in the first of a series of stories on United States air rearmament and defence.

Already, Major General Henry Arnold told a Senate Committee behind closed doors, Germany has 1,700 bombers capable of flying the Atlantic to South America. He advised that a potential danger existed to the Panama Canal and continental United States

The 3,500-odd additional warplanes in the Emergency Arms Bill approved by Congress will require a full two years to build, it was estimated. Once acquired, the air corps would have 6,000 planes.

The United States' huge area, the necessity of protecting the Panama canal and the Monroe Doctrine's promise of aid for other American nations, all pose one of the world's knottiest aerial defence problems.

The navy's warships and patrol planes man the outer line. To meet its responsibility of keeping inviolate continental United States, the army has some 1,800 planes of all types—a fraction of the 10,000 or more credited to Germany. Of these, fewer than half are first line combat planes. The navy's strength is about the same.

The air force would have to defend the Atlantic seaboard from any initial onslaught, or speed a detachment to the Caribbean to prevent establishment of a hostile base within striking distance of the can.', i' the navy were engaged in the Pacific.

General Arnold estimates present American aircraft plants can be extended to produce 6,000 planes a year, but asserted this would be far from sufficient in war.

The provision for new army and navy aerial bases in the $552,000,000 arms programme President Roosevelt submitted to Congress and in accompanying legislation attest the importance attached officially to this phase of air defence.

PARTIAL BLAME ON COMPANIONS OF DEAD WOMAN

Vancouver Coroner's Jury Blames Unknown Companions for Allowing Woman, Killed by Street Car, to Leave Auto While Drunk.

Vancouver, March 9.—(C)—A verdict of accidental death with partial blame attached to two unknown companions was returned yesterday by a jury investigating the death of Mrs. Alice Anderson, formerly of Calgary.

Mrs. Anderson, also known as Alice Arnold, was crushed beneath the wheels of a street car as she lay across the tracks in a sparsely settled residential district last February 26. Absence of shoes, stockings and under clothing led police to investigate. The shoes and one stocking later were found 127 yards from the death scene.

"Evidence indicates that the deceased was driven to a point near where her death occurred by two unknown men, and that their negligence in allowing her to leave the automobile while in a state of intoxication was partly responsible for her death," the jury found.

Evidence of intoxication was given by Inspector J. F. C. B. Vance of the Police Bureau of Science who conducted a blood analysis.

After the inquest James Arnold was arrested and charged with living in part on the avails of prostitution. He had testified the woman had lived with him for two years and had worked on several occasions as a "hostess" at downtown addresses. He said on a few occasions she helped in support of their home.

POPE STUDIES VATICAN-REICH RELATIONSHIPS

Exact Nature of Conversations Between Pope Pius and Four German Cardinals on Situation in Germany Not Revealed.

Vatican City, March 9.—(AP)—Authoritative German sources reported today that Pope Pius XII had discussed the church situation in Germany when he received four German cardinals Monday. They said it was impossible to disclose the nature of the discussion "because of the great delicacy of the situation."

German quarters, however, expressed the hope that relations between the Vatican and Germany might be improved. The four German princes of the church are: Michael Cardinal Von Faulhaber, Archbishop of Munich; Karl Joseph Cardinal Schulte, Archbishop of Cologne; Theodor Cardinal Innitzer, Archbishop of Vienna; and Johannes Adolf Cardinal Bertram, Archbishop of Breslau.

Officials at the German Embassy asserted nothing was known there of a message Chancellor Hitler was reported to have sent the Pontiff. Berlin dispatches published in the Italian press said Diego von Bergen, German Ambassador to the Holy See, delivered a message of congratulation from Hitler to the Pope when he called four days ago.

(In Berlin, the authoritative news service Dienst aus Deutschland yesterday said information received there indicated after the talk of the German Ambassador and the Pope that Pius XII would take a "neutral

SIX CANADIANS PRESENTED AT PALACE COURT

Four Montrealers Included Among Group to Curtsy Before King and Queen at First Royal Court of Season Tonight.

London, March 9.—(C.P. Cable) —Six Canadian women are expected to curtsy tonight before the King and Queen at the season's first Royal Court at Buckingham Palace.

They will be among about one thousand women who will have the privilege of bowing to Royalty in what is regarded as the world's most brilliant social function.

The Canadians are:

Mrs. Jackson Dodds, of Montreal, and her daughter, Miss Roma Dodds;

Mrs. Sidney Dawes, of Montreal, and her daughter, Miss Joan Dawes;

Miss Beatrice Simson, daughter of the special attache at the Paris legation and formerly of Ottawa, and,

Mrs. Francis Stanton, wife of the Attache of Canada House, formerly of Ottawa.

A second Royal Court will be held March 15 when another group of Canadian women will be presented to Their Majesties.

CURFEW TOO NOISY FOR VILLAGE FOLKS

Rochester, N.H., March 9.—(AP)—Curfew shall not sound tonight—it's liable to wake up the old folks. The City Council rejected petitions by women's groups who sought to have the fire siren sounded at nine p.m. nightly to remind children to go home to bed. The reason: The siren was discontinued three years ago because aged residents complained the noise disturbed their slumbers and "there's just as much noise this year.'

STATEMENTS OF WAR MINISTER MEET APPROVAL

London Press Almost Unanimous in Supporting Plan to Despatch Large Force to France in Event of New Hostilities.

London, March 9.—(C.P.-Havas) — War Secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha's indication that Great Britain is planning to send nineteen divisions to France in case of war was approved by London newspapers today.

The Daily Telegraph (Conservative) suggested that nineteen divisions may be insufficient.

The Times (Independent) remarked that the territorial army "is to be completely rearmed with modern weapons instead of being given merely a quota for training."

"It may justly be said that if there is still a good deal that could be visualized in the way of army reform, Mr. Hore-Belisha has done more in less than two years of office than has been achieved before in a generation," The Times declared.

"Britain's pledges to France are so strong that if another war should come she might again be called upon to send an expeditionary force overseas," The Daily Mail (Independent) said. "That is the meaning of the Hore-Belisha statement."

The Daily Herald (Labor) stressed that the plan for dispatching a field force to the continent, like all other military preparations, was the result of the failure of collective security.

BRITISH STATEMENT IS LAUDED BY FRENCH PRESS

Paris, March 9.—(C.P.-Havas) — The statement of British military policy by War Secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha was commented upon enthusiastically by the French press today.

Le Figaro (Conservative) said: "For the first time the organization and development of Franco-British military co-operation were unequivocally disclosed and there can be no doubt as to the degree and quality of British military assistance."

L'Epoque (Rightist): "England took a long time to see the need of rearming. But today she understands and is advancing with giant steps. The last arrival in the mad race will have the most modern arms and her immense wealth will enable her to 'hold on' to the last."

Le Jour-Echo de Paris (Rightist): "The fact that after so much hesitation Great Britain has at last adopted a policy of land rearmament is of truly incalculable practical and political importance."

British Demand Italian Explanation Upon Large Scale Troop Movement

Announcement from Rome Indicates that British Minister Was "Reassured" on Italian Stand After Conference with War Ministry, However—British Army Plans Call for Despatch of Nineteen Divisions to Continent.

Rome, March 9.—(AP)—Concerned over reports of large Italian troop movements to Libya, North African colony adjoining French-protected Tunisia, Great Britain asked Italy today for particulars.

Authoritative sources said Sir Noel Charles, Charge d'Affaires at the British embassy, was "greatly reassured" after a conversation with the Italian Foreign Minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano.

These sources stressed that the conference was "very satisfactory."

ARGENTINE - ITALIAN AIR SERVICE

Buenos Aires, March 9.—(AP) The Argentine Government has authorized the Italian aviation concern, Ala Littoria, to establish airmail and passenger service between Rome and Buenos Aires with an option to extend the service westward to Santiago, Chile.

Natal, Pernambuco, Bahia, Rio de Janeiro and Porto Alegre—all in Brazil—will be stops on the Rome-Buenos Aires run.

BIG EXPANSION IS PLANNED BY JAP INDUSTRY

President of Cabinet Planning Board Tells Lower House that Arrangements Have Been Made to Absorb North China Raw Materials.

Tokyo, March 9.—(AP)—Hitherto secret details of a gigantic industrial expansion programme designed to give Japan complete self-sufficiency in war materials within three years was disclosed today in Parliament.

The plan embraces Japanese-occupied China and Japanese-protected Manchoukuo as well as Japan proper.

Kazzuo Aoki, President of the Cabinet Planning Board, told the Lower House Budget Committee that the programme already was under way and was scheduled for completion in 1941. Hence, he said, some phases might be disclosed.

Raw materials derived from newly-occupied areas of China play a major role in the production scheme. The majority of industries and articles coming under the plan relate directly to war materials.

The plan envisages the following percentage increases over present output: Ordinary steel 60 per cent; special steel 100; steel ingots 60; pig iron 100; iron ore 150; coal 30; magnesium 1,000; copper 80 lead 90; zinc 70; tin 100; natural gasoline 30; synthetic gasoline 2,900.

The gasoline would be ordinary medium test, not airplane fuel.

Still other products and the proposed percentage increases: Natural oil 40; synthetic oil 800; dehydrated alcohol 1,200; soda 20; caustic soda 40; industrial salt 60; amonium sulphate 40; paper pulp 20; gold 20; machine tools 100; railway locomotives 30; passenger cars 70; freight cars 50; automobiles 400; wool 240.

Haughley, England, March 9.—(C) —Parishioners here were asked to sign an anti-gossip pledge by their vicar, Rev. W. G. White.

DECLARATION SEEN AS FRENCH PLEDGE

London, March 9.—(AP)—Announcement of Great Britain's army reorganization to provide for a vastly increased field force was interpreted in political quarters today as a new assurance to France and as a precautionary answer to any prospective Italian territorial designs upon French African colonies.

Britain would be able to send an initial force of close to 200,000 troops to the continent in the event of conflict under the plans which War Minister Leslie Hore-Belisha detailed to the House of Commons last night.

A shipping schedule already has been outlined for transport of the 195,000 troops, nineteen divisions as compared to four that were sent to France in 1914 at the outbreak of the Great War.

Richard Butler, Undersecretary for Foreign Affairs, told the House that Italian troop shipments to Libya, next to French African possessions, now were approaching approximately the same number as before the British-Italian agreement, by which they were reduced.

"I have said they are increasing them," said Mr. Butler in answer to a question as to whether Italy had said they would be reduced when conditions became normal. (On February 20 Mr. Butler said Italy had informed Britain she was sending 30,000 more troops to Libya, where 30,000 had remained after reductions under the British-Italian accord ratified last November 16. The Italian press in a vigorous campaign has demanded concessions in French Tunisia, which adjoins Libya, and elsewhere in the French African empire. Italy has made no formal public demand.)

Consultations between French and British general staff officers are to be held soon to discuss further the scope of a British expeditionary force in war time.

Mr. Hore-Belisha recalled Prime Minister Chamberlain's recent Parliamentary declaration of solidarity with the French and added that, while the consultations had not committed Britain, nevertheless:

"Prudent minds should be ready for any eventuality.

"If we are involved in war, our contribution will not be half-hearted

Urges Co-Operative Action To End Unemployment Problem In Province

Quebec, March 9.—(C)—Need for new measures against unemployment and suggestions for remedy of the big problem facing federal, provincial and municipal administrations have been expressed in almost every speech on the budget debate which will continue today in the Quebec Legislative assembly.

Last week's budget address announcing the Union Nationale Government's fiscal plans for next year described unemployment as the "black picture" in the Provincial situation and yesterday the Lower House was told unemployment relief costs threaten to "overthrow the economic balance."

Laurent Barre (Union Nationale, Rouville), a budget debate speaker, who warned against the dangers of top-heavy unemployment relief appealed for joint action by the Federal and Provincial Governments with financial interests lending a hand to "suppress unemployment." He contended unemployment would only be removed through stimulation of business and that could come but as a result of increased circulation of the money in Canada's banks.

Barre said bank funds were not lacking. He quoted figures to show in twenty-four years since 1913 bank assets then estimated at $1,538,093,071 had more than doubled but circulation had dropped from

BLAME MELANCHOLY FOR SUICIDE JUMP

New York, March 9. (AP) —Mrs. Gladys Banks, former actress and divorced wife of Monte Banks, associate producer for 20th Century-Fox Film Company, died early today in a plunge from the sixth floor apartment of her parents in West End avenue.

Mrs. Banks, who was attired in her night clothes, left a note saying she could not stand to suffer any longer. Relatives said she had been melancholy since a recent nervous breakdown.

The former actress, about 38, appeared on the stage as Gladys Frazin and as Glayds Frazin Banks. Her first husband was Leo Lowenstein, a businessman. They have a son, Leo Jr., 19.

ORIGINATOR OF NOVELTY INSURANCE DIES

Holmwood, Surrey, England, Mar. 9.—(C.P. Cable) — Cuthbert Eden Heath, sixty-nine, originator of burglary, profits, earthquake, hurricane, smallpox and twin insurance, died here yesterday. One of his greatest risks as a member of Lloyd's was insurance on the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley in 1924.

Early Trade Treaty Revision Hinted During House Debate

Opposition Member Declares that Dominion Government Will Seek Remedies for Some of Inequalities Under New Canada-United States Agreement — Change in Cattle Quota System First Sign of Policy.

Ottawa, March 9.—(C)—Representatives will be sent to Washington seeking remedies for some of the inequalities of the new Canada-United States trade agreement when the treaty debate in the House of Commons ends, Albert A. Brown (Conservative, Hamilton East), predicted in the House of Commons yesterday.

Mr. Brown obtained the floor just before the adjournment hour and continues his speech today, outlining what he claims are the injuries the treaty will work on manufacturing industries in Hamilton.

The debate continued all day yesterday with Members for the most part discussing effects of the agreement on fruit and vegetable growers in Ontario and in the Maritime Provinces. From the latter section J. P. Barry (Liberal, Northumberland, N.B.), and J. J. Kinley (Liberal, Queens-Lunenburg), were enthusiastic about it, Hughes Cleaver (Liberal, Hamilton), supported the treaty but wanted some adjustments made for the benefit of growers in his constituency.

Harry Clarke (Conservative, Toronto-Rosedale), charged that American duties on certain Canadian manufactured products remained higher than Canadian duties on the same products which came from the United States.

Mr. Brown based his prediction that representatives would be sent to Washington on the fact that an adjustment had already been necessary in connection with the cattle quota. A definite percentage of the annual quota of cattle more than 700 pounds in weight admitted at a reduced rate of duty is now allotted to Canada since Mexico threatened to use up a large proportion of the quota.

Manufacturing industries in Hamilton employed 33,000 people, said Mr. Brown. Indirectly they supported a large group of merchants, profession and trades people and farmers and gardeners.

"Practically all of these industries are dependent for their existence on a reasonable amount of tariff protection," he said. "This reasonable protection was seriously impaired by the trade treaty of 1935 with the United States and considerable harm was done to our industries.

"By the trade treaty now before the House this reasonable measure of protection is again impaired. Our industries are being handicapped further by the mass production competition of the United States and the competition of low wages and living conditions which prevail

Increased Japanese Activity Hints Drive Against New Chinese Region

KANSAS CITY SEEKS TO END CAR DEATHS

Kansas City, March 9.—(AP)—This midwestern city, which attracted attention in 1937-38 by completing more than a year without a school child being killed in traffic accidents, now has called a halt on car deaths of all ages.

It is in the early stages of an intense campaign which already is getting amazing results.

The campaign opened the first of this year. There were only six persons killed and 131 injured in the months of January and February. For the same two-month period in 1938, twenty persons were killed and 250 injured.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Evansville, Ind., March 9.—(AP)—Railroad men on a Louisville and Nashville train gasped when they saw a man lying between the tracks ahead—too late to keep from running over him. The engine and six six cars passed over the man and stopped. The crew found the man, who said he was Ophus Maxwell, of Nonnell, Ky., unharmed except for a scratch on the cheek.

Shanghai, March 9.—(AP)—Authoritative neutral foreign sources at Ichang, goal of a Japanese offensive into the heart of China, reported today that 1,500 persons had been killed or wounded there in two days of terrific bombardment by squadrons of Japanese warplanes.

It was estimated that 120 bombs had crashed into the centre of the city which lies on the Yangtse river, nearly 1,000 miles by water from Shanghai. The ancient north wall was levelled almost completely, along with many shops and houses.

There was no definite word on the situation of one hundred foreigners at Ichang, mostly missionaries.

In view of past tactics, foreign observers at Shanghai believed the Japanese quickly would follow up the air raids with an advance westward from the Han river, Yangtse tributary, seventy-five miles away.

One of the recent series of Japanese bombing forays into the Chinese Northwest brought a complaint to the British Embassy.

The English Baptist Mission reported to the Embassy that the Mission Hospital at Sian, Shensi province capital, was struck and seriously damaged yesterday when eighteen planes bombed the city. A Chinese nurse was killed.

The Mission emphasized that the hospital had been plainly marked with a Union Jack painted on the

Promises Early Showdown Vote On Move For Foreign War Referendum

Washington, March 9. — (AP) — Advocates of a national war referendum, which the United States Government opposes, won a promise today of a showdown Senate vote at the present session.

Senators La Follette (Progressive, Wisconsin), and Clark (Democrat, Missouri), two of the twelve sponsors of the proposed constitutional amendment, received assurances from a Judiciary Sub-committee that hearings would be held soon.

This disclosure coincided with information from members of the House of Representatives Military Committee that their group had approved a plan for accepting strategic war materials in part payment of European war debts or in exchange for surplus agricultural products.

The scheme was inserted in a bill authorizing the war department to spend $100,000,000 over a four-year period for reserves of manganese, tin, chrome ore and other minerals in which the United States is deficient.

The war referendum proposal would require a popular vote before the United States could go to war, except in case of foreign attacks on any nation in the Western Hemisphere.

A similar plan was killed in the House last year after the President and State Secretary Hull had opposed it. They contended then, and the President renewed the objection this week, that a referendum might delay military operations necessary for the nation's defence.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR TRAINING AVIATORS

Washington, March 9.—(AP)—The United States Government's plans are complete, authoritative sources said today, to train additional aviation mechanics to build and service the thousands of new warplanes provided in the country's defence programme.

The army expansion bill voted by the Senate and House of Representatives contains sufficient authorization to go head with the instruction as soon as President Roosevelt signs it.

Supplementing proposals to train some 20,000 pilots annually in selected colleges, the mechanics programme has been delayed largely because a half dozen Government agencies besides the army and navy were involved.

Details were withheld, but well-informed administration and Congressional sources reported far more mechanics than pilots will be required in expanding the army air corps to 5,500 or 6,000 planes, and building up the navy's force to 3,000 aircraft.

Both Senate and House have authorized an increase of 25,000 enlisted men in the army air corps alone. Plane construction in the next two years will require doubling or tripling the 27,000 skilled workers now employed in plane factories, it was estimated by Major General Henry Arnold, Army Air Corps Chief.

SASKATCHEWAN OFFERED CROP STORAGE PLAN

Minister of Agriculture Presents Scheme for Diversion of Grain During Good Crop Years for Use in Off-Seasons.

Regina, March 9.—(CP)—Hon. J. G. Taggart, Saskatchewan Minister of Agriculture, outlined last night a plan under which 1,000 country elevators could be used for storage of grain to be returned to farmers in years of poor crops.

Mr. Taggart spoke before the annual convention of the Saskatchewan Association of Rural Municipalities.

The proposal to divert 1,000 of the province's 3,000 country elevators from usual channels to storage purposes was made as he criticized the voluntary crop insurance scheme in force in the United States as ineffective.

Mr. Taggart said the 1,000 elevators would not be needed to handle delivery of the wheat crop and could probably be obtained at low cost. Farmers could leave three per cent or less of their crop at these elevators and receive back their grain in years of need.

URGES BETTER HIGHWAYS

Regina, March 9. — (CP) — Saskatchewan's highway plans for this year should include completion of ungravelled "gaps in numbered highways," particularly those connecting with United States paved roads, with a view to building up the tourist traffic, Highways Minister A. T. Procter said in the Legislature yesterday.

The Minister emphasized value of the tourist trade and said that of an estimated $294,000,000 spent by tourists in Canada in 1937 less than $1,000,000 was expended in Saskatchewan.

roof and another spread out on the grounds. In all, seven persons were reported killed and eighteen wounded in the raid.

Japanese planes and cruisers also bombed and shelled coastal points of Southern Fukien province today in what may be the prelude to extension of the Japanese invasion to a new quarter of the South China coast.

There were no reports of an attempted landing but dispatches from Amoy told of severe punishment from sea and air of mainland points opposite Kulangsu, International Settlement island. Flights of bombers flew over Kulangsu several times.

Four planes from a carrier outside the Amyo harbor continued the bombing attacks today in conjunction with cruiser operations. The Japanese-sponsored press at Amoy reported one hundred persons had been killed in the attacks since Monday but offered no explanation of the operations.

Doctor Gives New Hopes To Detroit Man

Detroit, March 9.— (CP) —Roger Carr, thirty-four, of Detroit vibrated with new hope today after Dr. W. J. McCormick of Toronto wrote to tell of a new treatment that may end the multiple sclerosis which for six years has been slowly breaking down Carr's motor nerves.

Carr, once a high school track star in Detroit, suffered the disease first six years ago after he had donated eleven pints of blood in twenty weeks. He gave himself to the medical profession as a human guinea pig to aid the search for a cure. "More than fifty experiments have failed, but maybe Dr. McCormick will succeed," Carr said.

Dr. McCormick, a frequent contributor to Canadian and United States medical journals, said his treatment of sclerosis was an outgrowth of his advancement of a new theory that a vitamin B deficiency was responsible for poliomyelitis, often called infantile paralysis.

Dr. McCormick said he heard of a case of multiple sclerosis, "so-called creeping paralysis," after he had worked out his theory of poliomyelitis cause.

"Thinking that inasmuch as it is a form of chronic poliomyelitis it might be responsive to the new vitamin treatment I took on his case as an experiment after his case had been given up as hopeless by the neurological staff of Toronto General Hospital," wrote Dr. McCormick to Carr.

"The patient, John Baxter, living at 218 Chisholm avenue was so completely paralyzed when I began treating him June 10th last that he had developed the habit of turning over the pages of a book with his tongue.

"His arms and legs were completely useless. Even his breathing and swallowing had begun to be effected. Under my vitamin treatment, consisting of injections of the pure vitamins and a diet rich in same, he has gradually recovered his strength until at the present time he has the free use of all his muscles. He can walk smartly without even a cane, go up and down stairs without assistance, chop wood and shovel snow."

Carr said a Seattle doctor tried vitamin injections in his spinal column last April, but the experiment failed and he almost died. "I'm not afraid," Carr said. "Probably this is different. It will be a godsend for hundreds of people in Canada and the United States if he can cure me, for I'll tell 323 similar sufferers right away."

Urges Co-Operative Action To End Unemployment Problem In Province

seventy-six per cent in 1913 to thirty-four per cent in 1937.

While money laid idle in the banks it was of no value, said the Rouville member, advocating a "co-operative system" by Governments and financial interests to bring its circulation, to restore business and remove unemployment.

He called for slum clearance possible through an urban credit project similar to the Quebec Farm Loan organization under which the Province's farmers have received $27,000,000 and are due to get $8,000,000 more.

As a measure to eliminate unemployment, Dr. Lionel Bellemare (Union Nationale, Vaudreuil) also favored a loan system to help establish jobless on small lots near cities where they might take up "specialized farming such as vegetable gardening."

The Vaudreuil member was opposed to removal of unemployed from cities to colonization lands or large unoccupied farms he said would bring "work they can hardly accomplish."

Their establishment near the cities as truck-gardeners would give jobless the benefits of handy markets and modern comforts and greater assurance of remedying their condition permanently, Dr. Bellemare told the House.

in other favored nations which are to receive the same benefits under this agreement as the United States without granting any concessions to Canada."

Mr. Kinley declared the agreement was the best thing any Government had done for the fishing industry in the Maritime Provinces in many years. A more favorable market had been obtained for all classes of fish except salt mackerel and the reason the duty was not reduced on that was that Norway was the chief source of supply for the United States.

Later on, if Norway made a trade agreement with the United States, Canada would get a reduction in duty under the most-favored-nation agreement without making any concession in return, just as Norway would have received a reduction had the duty been reduced as against Canada.

Mr. Barry said high protection had meant discrimination against the Maritime Provinces in favor of the manufacturing areas of central Canada. The agreement marked a downward move in tariffs and would be welcomed in the Maritimes.

It was Mr. Barry's first speech in the House and replying to earlier comments from Conservatives on the fact he had not spoken, he said there was no reason for his speaking as he had no criticism to offer. Every action of the Liberal Government met with the approval of himself and his constituents.

nor upon any theory of limited liability."

The announcement was accepted with pleasure by the French, who lost a measure of their defensive alliances by the Munich agreement which partitioned Czecho-Slovakia and the military effectiveness of that French ally.

French fears of German military might increased after the partitioning of Czecho-Slovakia when it became apparent Germany could divert her eastern forces to the western front in the event of conflict with France.

Under the programme which the War Secretary outlined, Britain would send about thirteen divisions of her territorial army recruits as part of the nineteen initial divisions, in the event of continental war.

She plans also a fast, mobile force in the Near East to cope with any Mediterranean zone emergencies, and to increase anti-aircraft and coast defence units at home.

Sixteen thousand reserves will be called up this year to keep abreast of new tactics and equipment. Army units are being increased in Malta, Singapore, Hong Kong and Ceylon.

PLAYS MARBLES AS PIANO DEBUT ENDS

Boston, March 9.— (AP)—Pretty, seven-year-old Sylvia Zaremba returned to her practice for the spring marble season today after making her concert piano debut with the Women's Symphony Orchestra of Boston last night in a display of what critics termed "exceptional musical talent."

The blond youngster, a neighborhood marble champion in her home town of Chicopee, Mass., played through the entire fifty-five-page score of Mozart's A-Major Concerto from memory and with complete poise. She has been studying for two years under Charles Mackey of Boston and Springfield.

The audience gave her an ovation.

STANBURY

Mr. Douglas Crosby spent a day in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Grenia attended the funeral of the latter's grandmother, Mrs. Reuben Welch, in Farnham.

Mr. Allard, of St. Johns, spent a week-end with his family here.

Miss Addie Wescott, of Stanbridge East, was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Black and family.

Miss Mae Ingalls has gone to Bedford, where she has a position with the Torrington Company.

Mr. H. M. Ingalls has been confined to his room with the grippe.

Mr. Harvey Black, who has been working in Stanbridge East, spent a week-end at his home here.

Miss Jennie Hunter, of North Stanbridge, has been spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clough.

JOHNVILLE

Several men employed by the Bell Telephone Company have been making repairs to the line through this place.

Miss Bernice Shaughnessy spent a week as guest of her sister, Mrs. Cecil Chute, and Mr. Chute, in Bulwer. Master Curtis Chute accompanied her home and is the guest of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Shaughnessy, for a few days.

Mr. J. Mcpherson, of Sherbrooke, is a guest of Mrs. Bone.

Mr. Chester Caswell, of Sherbrooke, has been spending a few days with his parents here.

Mrs. W. Caswell was a guest of friends in Sherbrooke recently.

Friends in this vicinity will learn with regret of the death of Mr. Harold T. Stewart, which occurred at his home in Santa Barbara, California, on February 26. The late Mr. Stewart was well known here and made many friends during his stay here, when he was employed by the firm of W. L. Fish and Son, butter box makers. Mr. Stewart is survived by his wife, who was Miss Grace Moore, of Lake Megantic, two children, his mother, Mrs. Charles Stewart, of Wolfeville, N.S., three sisters, Mrs. A. E. Fish, of St. Thomas, Ont., Mrs. Hubert Bird, of Moose Jaw, Sask., Miss Jean Stewart and two brothers, of Wolfeville, N.S., to whom sympathy is extended.

Mrs. Asa Cote has been in very poor health.

President of Women's Institute Branch Returned at Annual Meeting—Financial Statement Tabled.

Spooner Pond, March 9.—The Spooner Pond Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Eva Rodgers and Mrs. Robert Rodgers for the annual session. The president was in the chair and the meeting was opened in the usual manner. Roll call was answered by payment of dues, after which minutes and the financial statement of the past month were approved.

The treasurer's report for the past year was then given, showing $166.04 raised during the year and $107.81 spent. Conveners' reports of work done in each department during the year were given. Mrs. R. E. McArthur and Miss Alida Lampron were appointed to audit the books for 1938-39. President Mrs. F. Blanchard, thanking the members for their kindly co-operation in the past, asked Mrs. J. F. Noble to take the chair for the election of officers for the coming year, which resulted as follows:

Mrs. Blanchard, unanimously re-elected president; Mrs. F. Sykes, vice-president; Mrs. C. J. Hannan, secretary-treasurer; Miss M. D. Boast, assistant secretary-treasurer; conveners: home economics, Mrs. T. Abercrombie; agriculture, Mrs. T. Lambert; child welfare and public health, Mrs. Oscar Lockwood; Canadianization and national events, Mrs. Clifford Gunter; education and better schools, Miss Francis Sykes; legislation, Mrs. F. Noble; immigration, Mrs. Frank Taylor; Canadian industries, Mrs. Raymond Lampron; publicity, Mrs. Clara J. Hannan; social committee, Mrs. Raymond Lampron, Mrs. F. Sykes and Mrs. T. Abercrombie; buying committee, Miss M. D. Boast and Mrs. C. J. Hannan.

After the business meeting was adjourned, lunch was served by the hostesses, assisted by Miss Alida Lampron. The members presented the president, Mrs. F. Blanchard, and the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Clara Hannan, with luncheon cloths in appreciation of their work during the year.

General Notes

Mrs. R. Boast, of North Bay, Ont., and Mr. Chester Boast, of Kapuskasing, Ont., were called here by the death of their mother, Mrs. Sarah Boast.

Mrs. F. Blanchard, Mr. Harold Blanchard and Miss Gracie Blanchard spent the week-end in Kingsbury as guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Hawker, Jr.

Misses Gwen and Helen Killingbeck, of Lachine, attended the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Sarah Boast.

Miss Pauline Barrie spent a few days as guest of Mrs. Clara Hannan.

Mrs. F. J. Noble and Mr. Noble were Sunday guests of Mrs. Frank Taylor.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Sarah Boast in their bereavement.

out in "suicide patrol" to prevent the Nationalist landing "at all costs."

Franco himself was reported by dispatches from Burgos to have taken personal command on the Madrid front He was said to have established his headquarters at Carabanchel, only three miles behind the front lines which pass through the outskirts of the capital.

General Miaja was reported to have clamped down a machine-gun rule on Madrid in preparation for surrender to the Nationalists—if he could win a few days of grace in which Republican leaders could flee.

After checking a forty-eight-hour Communist insurrection against his Defence Council, reports from the capital indicated Miaja was taking no chances of a new outbreak interfering with negotiations he was said to have opened with Franco.

The Nationalist blockade proclaimed at Burgos yesterday extended from Sagunto to Adra, northern and southern limits of the Mediterranean coast-line which is held by the Republicans.

All shipping, regardless of its cargo or flag, was warned it would be liable to capture if it entered within the three-mile limits between those points.

Submarines patrolled before Cartagena and were ready to sink suspected shipping at sight.

The first victim of the blockade was the French merchant vessel, La Corse, which was captured and taken into the Nationalist port of Barcelona.

The Franco blockade assumed belligerent rights for the Burgos regime — illegal in British and French eyes. Many observers, however, did not expect those two countries to take any action since they have recognized the Franco Government and want the civil war brought to a quick end.

OFFICIALS OF COWANSVILLE GROUP NAMED

Mrs. Howard Drennan President of Women's Institute Branch — Work of Past Year Reviewed.

Cowansville, March 9.—The annual meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. A. C. McMillan on Tuesday, when the election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Howard Drennan; first vice-president, Mrs. Clare Buzzell; second vice-president, Mrs. W. D. Smith; secretary, Miss Annie Lowe, re-elected; treasurer, Mrs. Walter Daglish, re-elected; conveners, agriculture, Mrs. L. H. Stowe; Canadian industries, Mrs. H. Reynolds; Canadianization, Mrs. C. J. McOuat; education and better schools, Mrs. D. A. Rodger; child welfare, Mrs. E. Palmer; home economics, Mrs. M. Demague; immigration and legislation, Mrs. W. D. Smith; publicity, Mrs. W. G. Brown. Delegate to county executive named was Mrs. B. Miner, with Mrs. H. Reynolds as alternate. Mrs. Borwn was named delegate to the provincial convention at Macdonald College.

Mrs. W. D. Smith presided and the roll call was responded to by payment of fees. Several members subscribed to the new national magazine, which will shortly be published.

The secretary, in her annual report, said twenty-six members were enrolled and ten regular meetings were held with an average attendance of sixteen. In May, 1938, the county executive was entertained in the United Church parlors. Mrs. Drennan, delegate to the provincial convention, gave a very full report of that gathering. Four members attended the county picnic on August 10 at Eccles' Hill. Candy was donated to the hospital fete in July. Papers and roll calls on all departments were given by the several conveners.

In November a social evening was held to welcome the High School staff. Books were donated as prizes at the formal opening of the High School A scholarship was given in Grade VIII and won by Beverly Bowles. About forty-five Christmas boxes were distributed to the needy.

Several members attended the semi-annual meeting at Stanbridge East, when Miss McCain was the speaker, and urged the undertaking of a common county project. In February Miss Thurnham, of the Industrial School, gave an interesting address on her work.

Death of Mrs. A. C. McPhee and the departure of Mrs. John Harvey were noted with sincere regret. The Adult Study Club, which is sponsored by the W.I., has had a very successful and profitable season studying the Scandinavian countries.

Convener of Canadian Industries, Mrs. C. Hamilton reported that articles on milling, radium mining and salt had been read. Mrs. D. A. Rodger, convener of education, reported nine books donated as school prizes, a reception for the teachers in November and a travelling library of forty books received from McGill University for the use of the members.

Highlights of the report of the convener of child welfare, Mrs. Drennan, were lessons on beneficial habits for children and care of babies, the packing of Christmas boxes which averaged a value of of five dollars each, and toys and books were sent to Children's Memorial Hospital and kindly delivered by McCrum's transport. Appreciation of the co-operation of the Board of Trade, Town Council and private individuals in this work was expressed.

The treasurer, Mrs. W. Daglish, reported that the cash balance on March 1, 1938, was $39.77, and receipts $38.63, making a total revenue of $78.40. Total expenses were $68.90, leaving a balance $9.50.

A vote of thanks was tendered the president, Mrs. W. D. Smith, who has carried on so efficiently under the handicap of illness in the home.

Sympathy was expressed at the absence of the vice-president, Mrs. C. Buzzell, who is a patient in the Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins Hospital, and the other members who were detained by illness.

The generosity of the Sherbrooke Daily Record in giving freely of their valuable space for the reports of W.I. meetingst was gratefully acknowledged.

It was reported that Mrs. Brian Ashworth, of Aylmer, Ont., has been named accredited representative to the Congress of the Associated Country women of the World, which will be held in London, England from May 30 to June 10. Mrs. Ashworth is also convener of immigration for the Canadian Federated Institutes. To her special attention will be directed proposals regarding Empire emigration and the burning problem of European refugees, Jewish and otherwise.

Mrs. Ashworth did nursing during the World War and carries a piece of shrapnel in one ankle. She came to this country twelve years ago and is making her first trip back to her native land.

The conveners were called to meet at the home of Mrs. Brown Friday evening, March 10, to arrange next year's programme. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. S. Henderson.

General Notes

The Misses Bahan, of Bath, N. B., were guests of their sister, Mrs. T. McCormick and family.

Mr. Martin Funk has resigned his position at the W. F. Vilas Enamel Company and has gone to Vancouver, B.C., where he expects to make him home. Mrs. Funk and young son have been in Vancouver for a few months as guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Filon.

Miss Moore, trained attendant, is assisting in the care of Mr. P. E. Hauver, who is suffering from the grippe.

Mrs. A. C. Paintin, who has been ill for the past week- is improving and able to be about her room.

The regular meeting of the Young People's Union was held in the church parlor's Tuesday evening. David Christie presided and conducted the devotional. It was decided to send a shower of cards to their president, Medland Tessier. During the business session plans were made for a sugar social to be held next week. A "quiz" game was conducted by Miss Hilda Judd.

Coventry, England, March 9.—(CP) —More than twenty years after it was embedded, shrapnel was removed from the tongue of a Great War veteran here.

Witnesses Attribute Cures To Seventh Son

Deny Desfosses Gave Any Treatment Other than to Ask for "Confidence"—Varied Ailments Described by Witnesses from Different Parts of Canada and the United States.

Claims that accused had cured various ailments were made by defence witnesses today at trial of J. Anatole Desfosses, charged with practice of witchcraft, magic and fortune-telling. Witnesses denied Desfosses had touched them in any manner when they went to consult him, and stated accused had merely asked them to have confidence in him.

Testimony that his two-year-old son had been cured by accused of serious eye trouble was given by Constable Arthur Grandchamps, of Three Rivers.

Desfosses, Grandchamps said, had come to his home to carry out a business transaction with his, Grandchamps', brother, and witness asked him to look at his little boy.

"What was wrong with your son?" asked Defence Attorney Emile Rioux.

"He had very sore eyes." Witness explained that hot grease had been accidentally splashed into one of the boy's eyes a few weeks before Desfosses' visit. "Both his eyes were very red and he could not stand the light."

Witness said a doctor has suggested using applications, but this had brought no relief. Another physician advised Grandchamps to keep the boy in a dark room. "We did that for two weeks but there was no improvement."

"When Desfosses came to the house what did he do?"

"Well, I had heard about him so I asked him to look at my boy. When he consented I brought the boy out of his dark room, Desfosses looked at him and then told me to have confidence in him. That very afternoon my son's eyes were better and in two weeks he was playing with the other boys, his eyes in perfect condition."

"Did Desfosses touch him?"

"No, he didn't lay a hand on him."

"Did he prescribe any treatment?"

"No."

Crown Prosecutor Antonio Drolet took up the cross-examination of Grandchamps and asked: "You say that after Desfosses looked at your son he started to get better."

"Yes," said the witness. "We noticed it the same afternoon."

"Can you swear it was because of Desfosses that the little boy was cured?"

"I can swear that after his visit the boy started to get better."

"Can you swear that if the accused had not come to your place your son wouldn't have been cured?"

"That's a difficult question to answer."

"Do you believe in the powers of a Seventh Son of a Seventh Son?

"I believe in Desfosses."

"As far as you are concerned you believe he has certain powers?"

"Yes."

Joseph G. Blais of Berlin, N.H., stated he had been cured of a thirty-year-old ailment by the intervention of Desfosses.

"What sort of trouble did you have?" he was asked by Mr. Rioux.

"My stomach was very bad. I had indigestion, trouble with my liver and kidneys."

"What was the result of your visit to Desfosses?"

"I was greatly relieved."

"Did you see any doctors before you went to the accused?"

"Yes. Many times."

"What was the result of your visits to the physicians?"

"Always the same. I got no relief."

"And after you saw Desfosses?"

"I've hardly been troubled since."

Blais stated he gave fifteen dollars to Desfosses for his "treatment" and asserted that the accused had never touched him at any time. Questioned by the Crown Prosecutor witness said he went to see the "Seventh Son" because he "heard a lot of people had been cured and perhaps he could do the same for me."

"Did he give you any special diet to follow?" asked Mr. Drolet.

"No, but since his treatment I've been able to eat things I didn't dare touch before."

"Did you believe in his powers?"

"I had complete confidence in him."

Euclide Therriault, of Brompton-ville, and Victoria Lalonde, of Cornwall, also heard this morning, testified to cures from diseases and ailments and attributed them to Desfosses.

Evidence of a Catholic priest that he believed in Desfosses' healing powers was the high point of interest yesterday afternoon as the Crown completed its case.

A motion for non-suit, made by Defence Counsel Emile Rioux immediately after Crown Prosecutor Antonio Drolet had called his last witness, was rejected by Mr. Justice White at the opening of the session yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Rioux, in moving that the case be taken from the jurors, claimed that the Crown had failed to prove any part of the indictment against Desfosses, in that no witness had given evidence that the accused had practised magic, sorcery or fortune telling.

Mr. Drolet argued that two witnesses, Mrs. Davignon and Mrs. Caron, had stated they heard the accused promise them relief from their supposed sufferings and that the testimony of the two women supported the charge.

In dismissing the motion, Justice White concurred with the Crown Prosecutor and stated that it was up to the jury to decide on the merits of the case.

Indications that the Desfosses hearing will be a long affair was given when Mr. Rioux stated he would call sixty-eight witnesses for the defence. All the names were read out in Court before taking of evidence was started and those to testify were asked to leave the room.

Statement that the interview given to the two women investigators who went to see the accused lasted no more than two minutes and that Desfosses did not speak to his callers other than to mention a future appointment, was made by Eugene Gagnon, seventeen, first to testify for the defence.

"You know Desfosses?" asked Mr. Rioux.

"Yes, I am his secretary," answered the youth.

"You were at his house on the day of the visit of the two investigators?"

"Yes."

"Were you present during the interview with them?"

"I took the notes."

"How long did the visit last."

"They were in the house about twenty minutes and were with Desfosses only about two minutes."

"What did the accused say to them when he received them."

"He hardly said anything. I took down their names and their complaints and he gave them each a book and asked them to meet him in Quebec a week later."

"He said nothing about curing them?"

"Not a word."

Witness was presented with the reports fyled by Mrs. Caron and Mrs. Davignon and spent some time examining the documents.

"You will notice," said Mr. Rioux, "that the two ladies claim they were with Desfosses for the better part of half an hour. Is that true?"

"That is absolutely false. They were with him only about two minutes."

"Why did you particularly notice these two ladies?"

"We had been warned earlier in the day that two spotters were in town and we were on the look-out for them."

"You will notice in the report that the ladies claim Desfosses discussed their ailments with them."

"That is not true. I was with him all the time they were in his presence and he hardly spoke to them."

"Did you see Mrs. Davignon give him any money?"

"No, there wasn't any question of that at all."

Gagnon, questioned by Mr. Drolet, was firm in his declaration that the report made by the two investigators was for the most part false.

Expression of belief in Desfosses power to cure was made by Rev. Father Lucien Legurrier, parish priest of Bishopton, second witness called to the stand yesterday afternoon.

"You know Desfosses?" Mr. Rioux asked.

"I've gone to his place a few times."

"Why did you go to his place."

"For treatment."

"What was your ailment?"

"I was troubled with acne."

"That is a kind of rash?"

"Yes, I had it all over my back."

"Were you ever treated by a doctor for your trouble?"

"I was under the care of a doctor

THIEF SHOOTS AT ACTON VALE POLICE CHIEF

Makes Escape After Four-Mile Chase Following Theft of Shoes — Officer Uninjured in Gunfire.

Acton Vale, March 9.—Provincial Police today joined in the search for a fugitive who fled with a companion following the theft of a pair of shoes and who fired two revolver shots at Police Chief Alphonse Chatigny, of this village, when a posse caught up with the pair following an exciting chase over snowy roads. The officer was unharmed by the gunfire.

According to Chief Chatigny, the two men entered the store of Alphonse Champagne yesterday afternoon and told Mrs. Champagne, wife of the store proprietor and alone in the shop, that they wanted to see a pair of shoes. When a five dollar pair was brought, one of the men immediately tried them on, laced them and then hurried from the store with his companion.

Fleeing on foot, the two were cornered near the Canadian Pacific Railway station at St. Theodore d'Acton, four miles from Acton Vale, by a posse consisting of the police chief and two volunteers who had taken up the chase in a villager's sleigh.

When the posse came up with the pair, Chief Chatigny ordered the two men to hold up their hands while one of the volunteers searched them for weapons. Without warning, one of the pair—the one who had taken the new shoes—pulled a gun from his coat and fired two shots in the direction of the police officer. He then turned and fled. The officer did not return the gunfire.

The second man, unarmed, did not attempt to escape again and was placed in the village jail pending further developments. Provincial Police headquarters in Montreal were notified of the incident and are taking part in the search for the armed and newly-shod fugitive.

NEWSY ITEMS

HIGH FOREST DEATH FOUND NATURAL

A verdict of natural death was returned yesterday at an inquest conducted by Coroner Maurice Delorme into the case of Robert McRae, sixty-six, of Stoke, who dropped dead Tuesday at High Forest. Death occurred from heart failure.

LITTLE DAMAGE IN SERIES OF FIRES

Flames which started in a wardrobe near the kitchen in the New Windsor Hotel on Depot street caused damage to a wall and destroyed a quantity of linen stored in the closet last evening. The blaze was quickly controlled by firemen, however.

During yesterday and last night firemen were called out several times to quell small blazes, none of which did any great amount of damage. Outbreaks occurred in a building at 108 Montreal street, owned by Charest and Codere, at 136 Brooks street, in property owned by Mrs. Joseph Belanger, 12 Camirand street, in a building owned by Mrs. E. Desjarleis, and 95 Gillespie street for a chimney blaze in the home of Ovide Asselin.

This morning a brigade was called to the property of G. A. Dugre, 12 Dugre Lane, for another chimney fire.

NOTICE OF MEETINGS

SHERBROOKE HOSPITAL ANNUAL MEETING MONDAY

The Annual Meeting of the Sherbrooke Hospital will be held Monday evening next, March 13th, 1939, at the City Hall, at 8 p.m., when the report of the year including the financial statement, will be given.

All those interested in the hospital are urged to be present, especially those from surrounding towns, as it is pointed out by the officers that the Sherbrooke Hospital does not care only for resident sof Sherbrooke, but has during 1938 had patients from all surrounding villages and towns.

Record News Story Resulted In Remedy For Hiccoughs

Magog, March 9.—As a result of a story which appeared in the Record last Friday a remedy was found which proved effective in stopping an attack of hiccoughs which lasted eight days and the victim of the unusual sickness, William Buckland, of Magog, is now improving and is expected to recover.

A veteran of the Great War, during which he was gassed, Buckland was growing gradually weaker and when the story was printed hope had been virtually abandoned for his recovery by his physician, Dr. George A. Bowen.

The remedy which cured the hiccoughs was sent by Dr. W. W. Lynch, of Sherbrooke, Dr. Bowen said. Buckland has not coughed since last Saturday, it was said, and can now retain nourishment. During the hiccoughs it was impossible for his stomach to hold food.

Many different remedies were used in an effort to stop the hiccoughs, but none would react favorably until the one suggested by the Sherbrooke doctor was attempted. When methods approved by medical science proved fruitless, Dr. Bowen resorted to methods used in pioneer days, such as a mixture of sugar and water, but none would bring relief to the suffering victim.

Dr. Bowen said today that since the story appeared he had received approximately twenty letters from various points in Quebec and Ontario, in each of which was a suggestion which the sender hoped would stop the hiccoughs.

William Buckland, thirty-eight, married but childless, was gassed overseas and has been in poor health since. The hiccoughs were a direct result of the gas.

LENNOXVILLE YOUTH GROUP PROGRESSING

Enjoyable Programme Given by Members of Children's Educational Theatre—Annual Meeting of Bridge Club

Splendid progress is being made by members of the Children's Educational Theatre of Lennoxville, under the instruction of the Misses Erma and Isabel Ross. On Tuesday evening eleven of these youngsters, between the ages of six and twelve years, gave an enjoyable broadcast.

The programme, which was announced by Frederick Cooper, of Lennoxville, opened with one of Edgar A. Guest's well known poems, "The Making of Friends," given by Ruth Evans, after which Margaret Ann Forbes was heard in the song, "My Task," accompanied by Miss Eleanor Leith, who acted as piano accompanist for the entire programme. After Edson Warner's recitation, "Castor Oil," by Edgar A. Guest, Mary Bown sang "Good Morning, Merry Sunshine," and Betty MacKenzie gave the recitation, "The Bird and the Song," (James W. Foley). Margaret Macdougall was heard in the musical reading, "Grandma's Minuet," Melba Wood gave the recitation, "Her Reply" (Elizabeth Belmay), and Donald Sutherland recited "The Second Table." Margaret Ann Forbes was again heard in the popular song, "The Umbrella Man," Gerald McKindsey gave the recitation, "Sonny Meets the Smith," (Walter Ben Hare), and Gwendolyn Jenne recited another of Edgar A. Guest's poems, "Practicing Time." Two readings, "Aunt Priscilla," given by Elaine "Buddy" Evans, and "Sixty Years Ago Today," recited by Joan Tapp, brought the entertainment to a close.

Two other members of the Educational Theatre, Alan Sutherland and Chandler Wood, were to have taken part on this programme, but unfortunately, due to time limits, were not heard. However, it is expected that another programme will be presented at a later date, and these boys will be heard at that time. Master Alan Sutherland has been chosen for the lead in the immortal "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer," by Mark Twain, which will be presented by the children soon.

The Misses Erma and Isabel Ross deserve much credit for the splendid progress which the children are making under their direction since the inauguration of the Educational Theatre.

BRIDGE CLUB IN ANNUAL SESSION

The annual meeting of the Past Noble Grands' Bridge Club was held last evenng at the home of Mrs. J. E. Bellam, on Prospect street, with Mrs. Maude Mills, the retiring president, in the chair.

Miss Beatrice Everett, the treasurer, reported a substantial balance in the bank with which to begin the new term, and announced the winners of the prizes for the year's scores. Mrs. Arnold Bown carried off the first prize, Mrs. Maude Mills the second, with the consolation going to Mrs. E. J. Astell. The highest single score of the year was obtained by Miss Estella Wellman.

During the election of officers Miss Ruby Pegg presided, and the following officers were elected by acclamation: Miss Betty Cole, president; Mrs. E. B. Dundin, vice-president; Mrs. Gladys Dawson, secretary, and Miss Beatrice Everett, treasurer.

The retiring president expressed her sincere thanks to the officers and members for their loyal support during her term of office, and Miss Ruby Pegg extended a vote of thanks to Mrs. Mills for her successful efforts in connection with the annual banquet.

The programme committee named consisted of the Misses Ruby Pegg, Estella Wellman and the president, and the Sunshine Committee consists of Mrs. Gladys Dawson, Mrs. Maude Mills and Mrs. Frank Spry.

The retiring president, the president and Miss Estella Wellman were named as a committee to investigate and report on the purchase of next year's prizes.

Mrs. Rufus Dunn will be hostess to the members at the next meeting to be held at her home at the Lennoxville Experimental Farm.

At the conclusion of the business period, contract bridge was played at three tables, the prize being won by Mrs. Arnold Bown.

Later a dainty lunch was served by the hostess, who was assisted by her daughter, Miss Audrey Bellam, and Miss Barbara Greene.

General Notes

Mrs. W. J. Marlin was hostess to a few friends at an enjoyable afternoon tea at her residence on Conley street, when a pleasant hour was spent in friendly conversation. She was assisted in her duties as hostess by Mrs. Grace O'Keefe.

His many friends are sorry to learn that Mr. E. J. Astell is ill at his home on Academy street, and best wishes for a speedy recovery are extended to him. All will be glad to know, however, that Mrs. Astell, who has also been ill, is considerably improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Henderson and sons, Arthur and Alvin, Mr. and Mrs. Lennox Bowers, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Douglas, of Sherbrooke, journeyed to Windsor Mills yesterday to attend the funeral of Mr. Henderson's uncle, Mr. James Paige, of Richmond.

Mrs. Lawrence E. MacAllister last night inaugurated the first in the series of lessons on lamp shade making in the handicraft course conducted in the Lennoxville High School gymnasium. The glove-making lessons were completed last Wednesday. The shades are being made of parchment and it is expected that this phase of the course will prove equally as popular as the glove-making.

R. Alex Sim, of the Rural Adult Education Service of McGill University, was the leader of this week's meeting of the Community Council for Adult Education in Lennoxville, held in the Women's Institute Room of the Town Hall. The subject of "The Mob Mind" was considered and under Mr. Sims leadership an interesting discussion took place. During the business period, conducted by Mrs. M. Elizabeth McCurdy, several requests for assistance in the various branches of this work were considered and will be dealt with in the near future.

"Your husband has been ill with the 'flu?" said the parson.

"Yes," replied the little worried looking woman. "He has been feeling very badly. I do my best to please him, but nothing seems to satisfy him."

"Is his condition critical?"

"It's worse than critical," she answered with a sigh, "it's abusive."

SNOWSHOE CLUB MEMBERS MARK END OF SEASON

"Vice-Presidents' Night" Featured by Presence of the "Chanteclercs" — Various Presentations Made.

Members of the Sherbrooke Snow Shoe Club brought the sixty-second year of the local social organization's existence to a successful close last evening when they celebrated "Vice-Presidents' Night." As was characteristic of the entire 1938-39 season this last assembly was of an exceptionally high standard and was greatly enjoyed by the snowshoers and their guests.

The presence of Sherbrooke's premier men's choir, the "Chanteclercs" was perhaps the outstanding feature of last night's meeting. The local French-Canadian songsters charmed their listeners with a programme of light and classical songs, with Lucien Gingues and Roger Choquette featured in solo parts.

Expressing his appreciation for the fine work of the "Chanteclercs," President Cliff Bryant paid tribute to their leader, Hector St. Pierre.

Following the programme the members and visitors adjourned to the dining room where after a substantial meal the meeting was turned over to Vice-Presidents George Dick and Alex Ross. The usual singsong proved exceptionally good last night, the presence of the choristers adding both volume and melody.

Leslie Draper, famous for his characterization of Hitler, revealed himself as truly versatile when he gave two short discourses on "Mr. and Mrs. Ramsbottom and little Albert." He was followed by Lucien Gingues who led the assembly in the ever-popular "Alouette."

Included among the many visitors to the club were W. L. McSwiggan, Municipal Building Inspector; H. Rheaume, superintendent of the City Roads Department; J. R. McGregor, superintendent of the City Gas and Electricity Department, and Norrey Price, secretary-manager of the E.T.A.A.

Badges for one hundred and ninety per cent trampers were presented, as were tramping prizes won this year by George Dick, H. Munkittrick and Gordon Richards. A club uniform, donated by Col. E. B. Worthington, a past president of the organization, was won by Arthur Rider. Another presentation was that of the Terrey trophy for the volleyball championship, won this year by a team captained by Ernie Hodge.

Special mention was also made of Frank Donaldson, member for two years, leaving soon to take up residence in Galt, Ontario.

POST RESULTS OF TEMPERANCE COURSE EXAMS

Many Eastern Townships Contestants Successful in the Eleventh National Scientific Temperance Course.

In conjunction with students of schools and Sunday schools across Canada, a large number of children in the Eastern Townships took part in the eleventh annual national scientific temperance course conducted by the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Approximately sixty from Sherbrooke County wrote the examinations and fifteen of the best papers were sent to the provincial examiners to compete for prizes with papers from other countries. A number of the best papers will be sent to the national board of examiners.

Will Urge Ald. Ross To Stand For Re-Election

Representative Delegation of North Ward Citizens Will Meet at City Hall this Afternoon to Ask Chairman of Gas and Electric Committee to Accept Candidature for Another Term on City Council.

A representative delegation of North Ward citizens will meet at the City Hall at 5 o'clock this afternoon to urge Ald. Alex Ross, chairman of the Gas and Electric Committee, to stand for re-election March 21st.

Ald. Ross is one of three Sherbrooke councillors whose terms expire this month, the other two — Alds. J. W. Genest and Alfred Cinq-Mars—have signified their intention to seek to return to the municipal council and yesterday took out their nomination papers at City Hall.

North Ward citizens are appreciative of the splendid services rendered by Ald. Ross since his election to the Council in 1933. It is their opinion that no better representative can be found, and the delegation will strongly urge Mr. Ross to accept the candidature.

The present chairman of the Gas and Electricity Department has had an enviable record in municipal politics. First elected in 1933 he was named chairman of the then-existent relief committee. Ald. Ross then served for a short time as head of the waterworks department, after which he was placed in charge of the municipal roads department, heading this for four years until 1938.

Last year, Ald. Ross was named chairman of the Electricity and Gas Department, his present post on the City Council.

BUDGET BEING BROUGHT DOWN TONIGHT

The 1939 municipal budget will be brought down at tonight's meeting of the City Council. This year's budget is slightly higher than last year, owing chiefly to the increase in the city's population and an augmentation in operating expenses of the police and fire departments.

ANOTHER RAILWAY PROBE

The Senate has decided that it will hold another probe of the critical railway situation in the Dominion, but from the manner in which the subject is being referred to the special committee, the Canadian taxpayer has little reason to believe that anything of a substantial nature will come out of this inquiry. Last year the committee met and heard witnesses representing the different groups concerned at great length and then brought in a report which did little to clarify the situation.

From time to time, the House of Commons committees have met and Royal Commissions have been named to review the question of what to do with the Canadian railways, but all to little avail, the limit of progress to date being the passage of the virtually inoperative bill providing for co-operation between the two major transportation systems.

That something must be done and done immediately to remedy the railway situation in Canada is unquestioned, but unless the legislators approach the issue with less-biased opinions than they are at present expressing, the prospect for the taxpayer appears rather poor.

A CHANGING BALANCE?

It is not yet official, but one London paper has indicated that British airplane production is nearing the old war-time peak, and that within three months' time Britain may be turning out more planes than any other country, Germany included.

Big factories have been given "carte blanche" orders—that is, orders to just go ahead and build as many planes as they can, as fast as they can. Several large factories are nearing completion, and at least two large factories recently completed large orders ahead of schedule. Several are producing planes at a rate which the Air Ministry had thought impossible.

If these things are true (they are not certain as yet) then a new face has been put on European politics.

In September of last year it was widely felt that mass-production and organization of air fleets had changed the balance of power in Europe. It was the backwardness of the British and French in this field which left them with weak hands in the game Germany elected to play.

But competitive armament is a game that any country can play, given basic resources. Perhaps the next showdown may find stronger cards in British and French hands. In that case there can be no just complaint from those who have chosen the game.

PREDICTIONS

The final outcome of the present delicate European situation is anyone's guess. Rumors of war are still prevalent. Business conditions are far from reassuring. Nations are rushing war preparations at top speed and the man on the street is wondering just what it is all about, and when and where it is all going to end.

In this uncertain frame of mind it is interesting to study the following predictions which have been drafted by a prominent London brokerage firm. Its findings are that:

1.—"The Axis leaders are no longer confident that their followers and their peoples would support them in an aggressive war against anyone—although they would, of course, fight in a defensive war.

2.—"Hitler is certain that his Germans would be extremely loth to lose their lives to further Mussolini's ambitions, particularly as they have no belief in the fighting qualities of the Italians and think they themselves would have to do all the rough work.

"Furthermore, as in war conditions, the Italians would be starving, the Germans don't see themselves parting with any of their already meagre "butter" although they would be quite ready to supply "guns."

3.—"Mussolini hoped to get something from France without a war, but things are not working that way. Of course, he cannot make war because a defeat would end Italy, and a victory would make Italy the slave of Germany. So Mussolini will pipe down and, later on, try to get something on the grounds of justice, brotherly love and trade development.

4.—"Spain is not working out too well for Italy and Germany unless, of course, they have all along been quite honest in saying that all they wanted was to crush Bolshevism. That has been done and, therefore, they may have got all they want. Anyway, they are not going to get much more satisfaction than that.

"Now, granted the truth of these theories there will be no war (at any rate about present day causes of dispute).

"As we believe that the entire slump, set-back, repression, depression, or what you will, is due to the fear of war which started two and a half years ago, it seems to us that as the shadows of Hitler-Mussolini grow less opaque and finally fade away, so will depression fade away and give place to a brilliant recovery in the world.

"We predict that by the 10th of February, 1940, it will be clear that the world is well along the road to the greatest development that world trade has ever seen.

"We go further and believe that by the end of 1940 we shall all be hurrying to invest our money in the reorganization of Europe, starting with Spain (probably this year.)

"We invite you to put this letter away and re-read it on February 10th, 1940, and then check up on our fore-sight or foolishness."

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Under a new board of directors, the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce faces another year of possible great activity during which it should be able to record considerably more progress than it has in the past. An active Chamber of Commerce or Board of Trade is a distinct asset to any community, especially during times such as the present when many special problems come before the various municipal and public bodies. The Chamber of Commerce can initiate many projects and at the same time serve as a check on the councils through a close study of the various projects which come before it.

W. L. Reford Stewart, the new president, is one of Sherbrooke's younger business men who has made for himself an important place in the community, and with his direction and the co-operation of the citizens, the Chamber should advance steadily during the coming twelve months.

Thirty Years Ago Today

From the Files of the Sherbrooke Record.

March 9th, 1909.

As soon as the weather permits, work on the proposed new station will be undertaken by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. Besides the new station, the plans call for a water tank with 80,000 gallons capacity, and a round house with sufficient storage space to house sixteen engines. The yard will also be extended by six new tracks.

Effort will be made to increase Canada's trade with the Netherlands. It is the intention of the Minister of Trade and Commerce to transfer Canada's trade commissioner in the Orient, W. T. R. Preston, to Holland, to open up a new trade agency.

It is generally assumed that Whitlaw Reid will not continue as Ambassador to England and the presence in Washington of Timothy L. Woodruff, chairman of the Republican State Committee of New York, has led to the coupling of his name with that post.

Several items of business were discussed at a well-attended meeting of the Ministerial Association of Richmond County held in the Methodist Parsonage. Among those present were Revs. Hepburn, Carmichael, of Richmond, McConnell, of Ulverton, Woodley, Brunton, Murray, Le Galais, Bissell and Pergeau and Mesdames Sanderson, Stevenson, Hepburn and Pergeau.

The long-promised insurance legislation was introduced in the House by Mr. Fielding. Containing ninety-one clauses, the bill was explained by the Finance Minister and it was apparent from his explanation that the representations made by the insurance companies when the bill was before the committee last year have had the effect of removing from the present measure many of the drastic conditions of its predecessor.

IN MEMORIAM

When I see a tall boy
Walking down the street,
I always think of my lad
With his dancing feet.
When I hear a bugle
Sounding sweet and clear,
An old remembered pain
Clutches me with fear.

When I lay a garland
On his grassy mound,
I can hear the noise of war
Though there is no sound.
When I kneel a moment
By that precious sod,
Let no other lad come here—
Thus I plead with God.

—Lexie Dean Robertson.

STICK TO THE TWO PARTIES

To the Editor,
Sherbrooke Record.

Dear Sir:—There is an old saying that "you are a child twice but a man only once." Evidently this is so even in politics.

Say's one "big boy" to the bunch, my big brother "Dick" has gone, so I want you boys to play the game my way now or I will get another bunch and come over and clean out your house. If I can't do it, and get all washed up in the attempt, I know you will take me back, if I keep quiet and am a good boy.

Now, sir, if the two parties, which have been the main stay of our democracies since Confederation, are unable to cope with the "isms" how is the "Cure All" party going to do it?

I believe that there is one way and one way only, and that is through unity, regardless of race or creed, or political stripe. Let us all get together for the common good of Canada. If I remember correctly, from 1914 to 1918, when we overcame one of the greatest problems that ever confronted us, how did we do it?—only one way by standing together. I do not remember if once during the three years that I was in the army, of being asked if I was Conservative, Liberal, Catholic or Protestant. "Why?" Because the youth of our Country was joined in one common cause,—to save our beloved Country, and the civilization of the world.

Let us get back to those days of unity and stand firmly together once more in these hours of trials and turmoils throughout the world.

Let us take the advice of George MacCullagh, of the Toronto Globe and Mail, and form "Leadership Leagues" for the purpose of uniting the men and women of our Country, not as a radical party, but as a body of voters, or board of advisers, to clean up the present system of Government; to point out the things that will most benefit Canada; to be friends of both parties; to try and get them to exchange views in a kind and friendly way and not throw stones as at present.

Let us follow the teachings of men like Charles Dunning, Sir Edward Beatty, George Spinney, men that say something when they speak, and do not waste breath pumping out some fanatic idea, that they are going to change every thing in the twinkle of an eye, or sooner, for I am one who does not believe it can be done, any more than I believed that Henry Ford could stop the world war with his peace mission.

Let us stick to the two party system for a while. It may need cleaning and perhaps a few spark plugs need replacing, but I believe with a little fixing it will run far better than any "Cure All." Let's try.

Thanking you for your space and hoping to read answers from many of your readers in these columns.

Yours truly,
GEORGE I. BARNES.

Coaticook.

POLITICAL "SCREWBALLS"

(London Free Press)

Our neighbors to the south has a new and exceedingly descriptive title which they apply to eccentric characters. It is "screwball." This strange blossom blooms forth in all sorts of fields, but seem to reach its fullest flowering in the political arena.

The species is not indigenous to any one part of the Republic, but seems to do best in the South. The late Huey Long, of Louisiana, was a prize specimen. But the neighboring State of Texas carries off honors at present with its new governor, W. Lee O'Daniel. This remarkable character is not a native son, but he overcome this handicap by having a striking radio personality. He built up a big business in flour, largely through his radio technique. Last year, when the gubernatorial nomination lists were crowded with ambitious Democrats, he decided his talents could extend beyond the flour business. He set out with a hillbilly band to canvass the huge state, financing his campaign by contributions collected in a cracker-box at each meeting. Originally the campaign appears to have been a publicity stunt but to everybody's surprise, including his own, he won.

His platform was unique, including promises of economy, reduced taxes, pensions of $30 a month for everyone over sixty-five who did not have that much income, and similar incongruous items. Whenever any heckler became annoying by pointing out how these promises contradicted one another O'Daniel would order the band to strike up.

At his inauguration, which was staged in the state university football arena to the accompaniment of massed bands, the new governor called for a policy of simplicity and dignity in administration.

He has only been in office two weeks, but is already in hot water over his unorthodox policies. However he is only repeating an old Texas custom. For Governor "Jim" Ferguson, who got into serious trouble, and his wife "Ma" who succeeded him in office, had somewhat similar records. Then there was "Alfalfa Bill" Murray in the neighboring State of Oklahoma. North Carolina boasts Senator "Bob" Revnolds who has given the venerable Hon. C. H. Cahan a nightmare by suggesting that Britain cede a section of Canada linking Alaska with the U.S. border to pay war debts.

Of course, when we contemplate the "screwballs" of American politics we might remember that in the eyes of our neighbors the actions of Alberta's premier seem a bit strange, and those of some of his colleagues only slightly less so. Perhaps a good deal depends on what one is used to, in politics as in everything else.

PLENTY OF BUTTER

(Ottawa Citizen)

"We have produced five per cent more butter than we can use in Canada," V. S. Milburn of Peterborough, secretary of the Canadian Dairy Farmers' Federation, told a meeting of the Ottawa Valley Milk Producers' Association in North Gower last week-end. He was discussing the glut of butter in the Dominion.

What Mr. Milburn meant, of course, was that five per cent more butter has been produced than is normally purchased in the country. Canada could probably "use" all the butter in the land and more if the Canadian people were in a position to consume that delectable commodity according to their desires rather than their economic ability to buy. Indeed, if the people on relief alone used as much grade-one dairy butter as the people with incomes still coming in, there would be no surplus.

But of interest to consumers in the East was the explanation given by Mr. Milburn of the present butter surplus. He said:

The Western farmer is the one who has created your surplus of butter. He couldn't live producing wheat, so he went in for producing butter.

This statement is an informative commentary upon the economic disturbance of the agricultural industry of Canada, and upon the claim that is often made that Prairie farmers should take up mixed farming now that wheat is no longer a steadily profitable crop.

Mixed farming it not yet the definite policy of Western agriculture. But if it were, it is not hard to imagine the result on Eastern agriculture. It would be disastrous, as plenty in the farming industry usually is. Even with an increase in dairy production, however, the country is faced with a disastrous abundance of butter. It is ruinous to Ontario dairymen. Was ever there a time in history before when plenty meat calamity? It's a mad world if men cannot distribute the wealth that nature and industry provide.

IS THERE A BIG ALIEN SMUGGLING RING?

(Chatham News)

Canadian immigration authorities are sceptical concerning the truth of a story sent out from New York to the effect that 25,000 aliens had been smuggled into the United States, from Canada, during the last two years.

The American story describes how a resident of Montreal was arrested at Rouse's Point, N.Y., just across the Canadian border, suspected of being key man in a smuggling ring that has transported 25,000 Greeks and Chinese into the United States. It is suggested that at present, the principal business is getting European refugees into the States. These are reputed to be aliens who have obtained entry to Canada on time permits or those crossing Canada on the way to Australia. Those wanting to get into the States might buy the services of the smuggling gang by paying $100, for which, it is said, they would be driven in motor cars to the United States border, guided across at an unguarded spot on foot. Then the car would cross with only the driver and would meet the refugees at a pre-arranged place, from which they would be transported to New York.

The immigration authorities at Ottawa are inclined to discount this story. They admit that there might be a few aliens getting into the United States from Canada. There always are, but as to 25,000 having been smuggled in during a two-year period, they say that such a movement scarcely could be possible since Canadian agents are watchful concerning the movements of all foreigners who come into the country, regardless of whether they happen to be in transit to other countries or on limited stay permits. One phase in the alleged smuggling might have to do with the disposal of sailors from European ships docking at Montreal.

An exodus of 25,000 persons from Canada in a period of seven years might be possible without arousing suspicion of wholesale smuggling, but if the period were two years, the movement would be noticeable. In any event, a Montrealer is under arrest and a court will hear shortly the ramifications of organized smuggling of human beings, that seems to be an exciting business comparable to that of getting liquor or narcotics illegally across international boundaries.

NOT IN VAIN.

(Addressed to a young lady who had been long ill before she died.)

You may despair that more of pain
Than joy has come to you;
That your young life has been in vain
Among the friends you knew;
Cheer, gentle friend, this is not so,
For through your faith they gain
A hope that health could never know
Until refined by pain.

Though blindly through this fretful life
We strive the bitter way,
Yet, at the roadway end of strife,
Gleams fair a kinder way
Where all we hoped for smiles anew,
Where weary ones find rest,
Where all our longed-for dreams come true,
Out in the shining West!

Death will have come—oh yearning limbs and feet
How tender will the voice of Death sound then!
Still knowing this, and confident of pain
You lie and hear our talk of small

Outside the world throngs by,
engrossed in cares,
And on your window falls the sun

Flames from the ashes of these

FOUR NO TRUMP RESPONSE TO TWO-BID LOCATES ACES FOR YOUR PARTNER

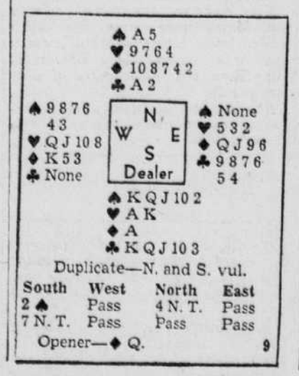

(This is the third of a series of six articles discussing a modern system of responses to the opening bid of two of a suit.)

An immediate jump to four no trump over an opening bid of two carries a conventional meaning to contract players today. It shows two aces to the bidder, and equally to the opponents. The latter, however, generally have only an academic interest in the bidding when this response is made. The next bid is usually a grand slam, as opening bids of two are made only on hands with great honor strength and tremendous distributional values.

Today's hand proved a source of trouble to some players who had not mastered the new responses. Of course, it is simple to anyone who takes the trouble to count up to thirteen, but a few players, deprived of the information given by the immediate showing of two aces by the responding hand, struggled along at seven spades or seven clubs. Neither contract could be made because of the freakish trump break. Seven no trump can be made.

Such hands as these are rare, but when they come along, there can be but one thing of interest to the holders of the South collection of cards—that is, the number of aces, if any, held by his partner.

TOOTHSOME SWEETS ADD THEIR MAGIC TO SHAMROCK'S LUCK WHEN YOU HONOR ST. PATRICK WITH A GALA PARTY

Whether or not a man has kissed the Blarney stone, St. Patrick's Day merriment is supposed to make sweet words come readily when he wears a lucky shamrock. The wise hostess adds the magic of toothsome sweets to the shamrock's spell, and so guarantees a happy occasion in honor of the merry saint.

A plate of lucky candies can be relied on to add a festive note to the refreshments. They can be made in short order with sweetened condensed milk—and they are so easy that the children can make them, and so take some of the responsibility from older shoulders.

You can form some of the fondant used for the patties into tiny Irish potatoes, and roll them in cinnamon for a brown skin, to add to your candy assortment.

Shamrock Patties

¼ cup sweetened condensed milk
½ teaspoon vanilla
1⅔ cups sifted confectioners' (4X) sugar

Blend sweetened condensed milk and vanilla. Add sifted confectioners' sugar gradually and continue mixing until smooth and creamy. Sprinkle waxed paper lightly with confectioners' sugar. Roll fondant out on waxed paper to about ¼ inch thickness. Cut with sharp shamrock-shaped cutter or by a stiff paper pattern.

* * *

St. Patrick's Candies

½ pound sweet chocolate
½ cup sweetened condensed milk

Melt chocolate, in top of double boiler. Remove from fire and add sweetened condensed milk. Stir until mixture thickens. Pat out to a sheet ¼ inch in thickness on a buttered surface. Chill. Cut small hat and pipe from clean cardboard. Lay on chocolate and cut out with sharp knife, following outline of cardboard. Scraps which remain after hats and pipes have been cut out can be reshaped and patted out as for first batch. If too solid, return to double boiler and warm sufficiently to make it pliable.

Guests at the hotel were looking through the menu, when a polite foreign waiter came to their assistance. "The ham is not, and the chicken never was," he explained, "so will you have your eggs tight or loose?"

Social and Personal

Mrs. Lacas, who has been a guest for a few days of Mr and Mrs. Walter Carter, Island street, returned today to her home in Drummondville.

The Rev. Norman Pilcher, of Lennoxville, left yesterday for Quebec where he is a guest of the Right Rev. Philip Carrington and Mrs. Carrington at "Bishopthorpe."

Friends of Mrs. Carrie Weston, who resides with her sister, Mrs. Emma Black, on Drummond street, will regret to hear that she entered the Sherbrooke Hospital last evening for treatment and observation.

* * *

Mrs. A. Arbery and Mrs. E. MacDonald were hostesses for the delightful tea party which followed the regular meeting of St. Andrew's Auxiliary in the Church hall yesterday afternoon. Mrs. L. L. Leslie did the honors at the pretty tea table which was centered with golden daffodils. The same flowers, in crystal vases, also adorned the small tables placed about the hall.

Members of the Friendly Christmas Club met yesterday afternoon at Mrs. Winslade's home on London street. Cards were played at three tables, the prizes being won by Mrs. Soper, Mrs. E. Wall and Mrs. Lacas, the latter being presented with a special guest prize. At the conclusion of the game the hostess served refreshments, assisted by Mrs. W. Carter.

Under command of Skipper Colin Standish, St. Peter's Good Companions met in the parish hall last evening after the church service to discuss future activities. Committees were appointed to continue the work of the Four Hundred Club, and to revise the constitution. It was further decided to have a special guest speaker at next Wednesday's meeting, after which the report on the progress of the play to be put on next month was presented, and proved most satisfactory to the members. Later refreshments were served by Mr. Ken Jackson and members of his team.

* * *

Mrs. J. W. Terrey and Mrs. Walter Mutchler were hostesses for this week's meeting of the Women's Association of Trinity United Church at the former's home on Portland avenue. The president, Mrs. S. McLean, was in the chair and the principal business considered was the appointment of conveners and formation of committees for the Shamrock tea and apron sale next Tuesday. A pleasant social hour ensued, several additional guests joining the already largely attended gathering. Tea was poured by Mrs. Walter Coombs, the lace-covered table being effectively centered with spring flowers in a silver bowl. Assisting in the tea room were Mrs. A. Mabbett and Mrs. F. Hicks.

Mrs. Duncan Robertson is in Scotstown, a guest of Miss Margaret Smith.

Mrs. Frank W. McCrea and her daughter, Miss Vera, left this morning for Montreal to spend a few days visiting the former's sister, Mrs. Mary Atkinson, in Westmount.

* * *

Mrs. G. E. Phelps, Mrs. R. Carson and Mrs. S. Rainey were hostesses at the tea hour yesterday afternoon at the close of the regular weekly meeting of St. Peter's Guild in the parish hall, at which Mrs. Milo Lothrop presided.

* * *

Mr. S. R. Fuller, who has arrived from New York to spend a few days at his residence on Queen street, is entertaining a house party, the guests including his daughters, Mrs. A. G. Cherrier and Mrs. Hamilton Ryder, and his brother, Mr. Robert Fuller.

* * *

Mrs. P. H. Skelton entertained at dinner and bridge last evening at her home on Queen street in honor of Mrs. W. P. Rapley, of Montreal. Covers were laid for eight, the guests including Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Robins, Mrs. Rapley, who is their house guest, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Wilson and Dr. H. S. Ellis.

Members of the Catholic Women's League Reading Club met last evening with Mrs. M. Walshe at "Rockmount," Mrs. Andrea Paton Robinson's home on Moore street. The meeting opened with a continuation of a study on poets and poetry by Katherine Bregy, read by Mrs. George Donaldson. In keeping with the spirit of the near approach of St. Patrick's Day, an interesting paper was presented by Mrs. L. E. Codere, this being based upon excerpts and comments from a lecture by the late John L. Stoddard, reminiscent of travels in Ireland and describing its natural beauties, as well as contacts made with its statesmen and scholars. After the meeting refreshments were served in the dining room, Mrs. Francis Hoare and Mrs. L. E. Codere presiding at the table which was artistically done with spring flowers.

The first of a series of bridge parties to be sponsored by the Sherbrooke Chapter, O.E.S., was given by the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Mabel Frost, at her home on Main street, Lennoxville. Acting as joint hosts and hostesses were Mr. Herbert Patton, Worthy Patron, Mrs. Sadie LeHuray, Associate Matron, and Mr. Ernest Frost, Associate Patron. Bridge was played at nine tables, five being arranged for the afternoon and four for the evening party. A pretty prize was awarded at each table, and delicious refreshments were served at the conclusion of the game on both occasions. The officers who were entertaining were assisted by Master Gerald Frost.

RELIEF FOR BRONCHITIS

A deep or hard cough which accompanies chest colds or bronchitis is extremely trying and arises from an effort of the body to remove the accumulation of mucus in the air tubes. A good way to loosen the mucus is to take a warm bath to which is added a liberal quantity of mustard mixed with water to a paste. This is ideal for opening the pores and inducing a warm tingling effect. Then go to bed and, if the cough still persists, a mustard poultice should be applied to the chest for ten or fifteen minutes.

Method for Mixing Poultice

The amount of mustard and flour to be used in making a poultice varies according to the size of poultice required, but the proportions for adults are equal parts of mustard and flour. Add just enough luke warm water to make a smooth paste and spread it upon cotton cloth and cover it with a second cloth. For children the amount of flour used is four parts to one of mustard. Apply to the chest and leave until a tingling sensation is felt, but never longer than twenty minutes. In severe cases, where quick treatment is required before the doctor arrives, a strong poultice should be made and, when the skin begins to redden, remove it and rub gently with vaseline or olive oil.

WATERVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Swanson, Mrs. Stoddard, the Misses Woodside, Mr. J. H. Woodside and Mr. Thomas Smith were in Lennoxville to attend the funeral of Mrs. J. F. Wark, nee Susan Lipsey, who passed away at her late residence, 9 Warren street, March 1.

Mrs. Fred O. Smith has returned to her home here after spending three week in Montreal, as a guest of her daughters, the Misses Winnifred and Reta and other relatives.

Mrs. J. L. MacLatchie, of Cowansville, was a week-end guest of her parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Parsons and Miss Mildred Parsons.

Miss Thelma Williams, nurse-in-training at the Sherbrooke Hospital, was a Sunday guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Holtham.

Mrs. C. J. Gustafson and little daughters, of Scotstown, are the guests of the former's mother, Mrs. S. Edgecomb. Miss Frances England, of Bishopton, was a week-end guest at the some home.

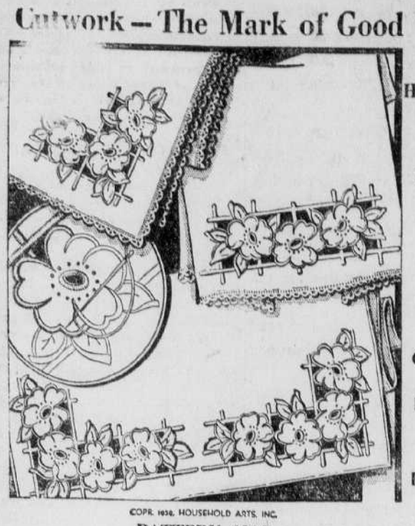

Mrs. Maurice Bowen, of the local high school teaching staff, spent the week-end at her home in North Hatley.

Mrs. W. H. Shaw has returned to her home in Dolbeau, Que., after spending the past two months caring for her mother, Mrs. John Molyneux.

Mrs. Molyneux's many friends, will be pleased to know that she is much improved in health after being confined to her room for nearly three months.

Mr. Curtis Lowry, B.A., of Bishop's University, Lennoxville, was a guest of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lowry.

Witnesses Attribute Cures To Seventh Son

for several months and I spent twelve days in hospital in Sherbrooke but I wasn't cured.

"What was the result of your visits to Desfosses?"

"I was completely cured."

"Did you follow the treatment given you by the doctor?"

"I did for a while, but it didn't do me any good."

In cross-examination by Crown Prosecutor Drolet Father Legurrier stated he had first heard of Desfosses through a friend who had arranged an appointment with the accused.

"Do you believe in the Seventh Son of a Seventh Son?" asked Mr. Drolet.

"Yes," answered the witness, "I do."

"Do you believe Desfosses has a special power?"

"Yes."

"And that this power comes from being a seventh son?"

"Yes."

"On what do you base this belief?"

"On my own case. I was completely cured of my trouble after the doctors could do nothing."

"What treatment did he give you when you went to him?"

"There really wasn't any treatment. I just told him my trouble and he told me to be patient."

"He didn't prescribe anything?"

"No."

"He didn't give you any advice?"

"No."

"You are ready to swear then that you were cured by Desfosses because he is a Seventh Son of a Seventh Son?"

"I can only say that is my opinion."

"When you went to see him did he ask you to think of him.

"There was no question of that. All he said was to have patience and I'd get better."

"He didn't suggest a diet to follow?"

"No. He never mentioned anything about that."

"Do you eat much meat or potatoes now?"

"An average amount. I eat a lot of vegetables."

"Don't you think it might be your diet that caused the cure?"

"Well, I'm eating the same things now that I ate before I was afflicted with acne."

"Don't you think your cure might have been the work of the devil?"

"No. It wasn't that. I only know it's beyond my comprehension."

"And yet you believe in Desfosses."

"Yes."

An idea of the rushing business conducted by Desfosses was given by Roger Therriault, secretary of the accused, who followed Father Legurrier to the witness stand. Therriault stated that on some occasions Desfosses interviewed as many as fifty-eight visitors in the course of an hour.

"It seems to me it would be rather difficult to give treatment to so many in the short space of time you mention," remarked Mr. Drolet.

"It isn't a question of treatment," answered the witness. "We simply take the names and addresses and the nature of the complaint and ask the visitor to call in two weeks."

"And people are cured like that?"

"We have to believe what people say. Many have come who were tended by a doctor without success and, after seeing Mr. Desfosses, came back with certificates of perfect health."

Therriault's testimony corroborated evidence given earlier in the afternoon by Gagnon and contradicted the depositions of the two investigators of the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

NAME LEADERS FOR DIXVILLE LADIES' GROUP

Dixville, March 9.—The Dixville Women's Institute held their annual business meeting at the home of Mrs. Nelson Beaton. Ten members and one visitor were present. The meeting opened with the singing of the Ode and repeating of the Creed. The yearly report of the secretary and treasurer were read and approved.

The new officers for 1939-40 were then elected as follows: President, Mrs. Kenneth Norris; vice-president, Mrs. Lawrence Melrose; secretary, Mrs. Ora McIntyre; treasurer, Mrs. Leslie Wright; assistant secretary-treasurer, Peter Mailhiot.

Conveners are: Agriculture, Mrs. Peter Mailhiot; Canadianization and national events, Mrs. Reginald A. Mayhew. Canadian industries, Mrs. Lawrence Melrose; education and bet schools, Mrs. Nelson Beaton; home economics, Mrs. Gordon Bellows; legislation, Mrs. George Tanner; public health and child welfare, Mrs. Leslie Wright; publicity, Miss Rub Drew; visiting committee, Mrs. George Tanner and Mrs. Orson Wallis.

The county delegate is Mrs. Nelson Beaton.

The retiring president thanked the members of the W.I. for their hearty co-operation during the past yea. It was decided to hold a Chinese checker party at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Norris on March 10th. Before the meeting adjourned refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Beaton and Mrs. Melrose.

General Notes.

Mr. Henry Garneau has purchased from the Henry McIntyre estate the house now occupied by Mr. Emile Favreau and family.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Jodoin and sons, Raymond and Lionel, were visiting friends at Coaticook on Sunday.

Fiery, Itching Skin Gets Speedy Relief

Here is a clean stainless penetrating antiseptic now dispensed by chemists at trifling cost, that will bring you speedy relief from the itching and distress of Eczema, Itching Toes and Feet, Rashes and skin troubles;

Not only does this great healing antiseptic oil promote rapid and healthy healing in open sores and wounds, but boils and simple ulcers are quickly relieved and cleanly healed. In skin diseases — the itching of Eczema is instantly stopped; the eruptions dry up and scale off in a very few days. The same is true of Barber's Itch, Salt Rheum and other skin eruptions.

You can obtain Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) in the original bottle at any modern drug store.

"When I cut off his hair he'll lose all his strength like Sampson did."

But he'll get it all back in no time. Think of his appetite and the way he eats Harmony Bread.

Marriages

CLACK—BARNES

The marriage of Miss Irene Hazel Barnes, daughter of Mrs. William Barnes and the late William Hall Barnes, of Sherbrooke, and Mr. Walter Dale Clack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clack, Sr., of Vancouver, B. C., was solemnized by Adjutant Stanley Williams, of the Salvation Army, at the home of the bride's mother, Perry street, on Saturday, at 5.30 p.m.

The bride's attendant was Miss Eva Humphries and Mr. Wilfred Bellmore, of Drummondville, acted as best man.

Following the ceremony and reception, a buffet luncheon was served to relatives and friends. The couple were the recipients of many useful and numerous gifts. After a brief wedding trip the young couple will take up residence in Drummondville, where the groom is engaged in the Celanese plant.

GARDEN PARTY IS PLANNED BY BEDFORD GUILD

Arrangements Discussed at Interesting Session of St. James' Church Group — Resignation of Treasurer Accepted.

Bedford, March 9.—The regular meeting of the Guild of St. James' Church was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ralph Van Horn, who was assisted in entertaining by Miss Jessie Blackwood. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Wilbur Borden, in the absence of the rector, the Rev. H. V. Fricker, after which the minutes of the preceding meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. B. R. Stevens, were read by the secretary, Miss Jessie Blackwood, and approved.

Mrs. Bordon announced that, owing to ill health, F. C. Saunders, who for forty years had filled the position of treasurer of the Guild, had tendered his resignation. Regret was expressed at the termination of a long and faithful service and Miss Blackwood was instructed to write a letter of appreciation to Mr. Saunders, expressing the gratitude of the society for the unfailing interest and help in the work of the organization. A vote of thanks was passed by the meeting to Mr. Saunders in recognition of his many years of faithful service. Miss Blackwood was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Chief business before the meeting was the discussion of plans for a garden fete under the convenership of Mrs. E. F. Currie.

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses. Tea was poured by Mrs. A. S. McCaw and those assisting were Isabella Craighead, Mary Alice and Dorothy Van Horn and June Holland.

Mourners were his wife, Mrs. Hartley, a daughter, two sons, a half sister, Mrs. George Short, Sr., and Mr. Short, Mr. George Short, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Howard Short and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson and family. Burial was in the Pettes Cemetery.

LLOYD PLANCHE, COOKSHIRE

Cookshire, March 9.—Residents of this community were saddened to learn of the sudden death of Lloyd Planche, who passed away at his home on Monday, February 13. Mr. Planche, who was the son of the late Henry Planche and Mrs. L. E. Charbonell, (Harriet Taylor), was born in Cookshire on January 5, 1884, and was educated in the Cookshire Academy. For many years he was a merchant and later was in the automobile business until shortly before his death. In 1905 he married Kate Hurd.

The funeral service, which was largely attended by both relatives and friends, was held on Wednesday, February 15 from the residence, where prayers were said by Rev. Allan Reed, of Montreal, to St. Peter's Church, where the service was conducted by Rev. Tulk. The choir rendered favorite hymns "There Is No Night in Heaven," "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say" and "When on My Day of Life the Night Is Falling." The bearers were Ray DesRuisseaux, Leon DesRuisseaux, Arthur Newport and A. H. Pope.

The late Mr. Planche was of a quiet, kind disposition, always ready to do a kind turn for a friend in need. He will be greatly missed by the Cookshire Band, where he has been an active member for a number of years. Although he had been in failing health for the past two years, he never complained and had been able to be out each day until the time of his death. The beautiful and numerous floral offerings showed the high esteem in which he was held. Interment took place in Cookshire cemetery.

Those left to mourn his loss are his wife, five daughters, Mrs. William Parker, of Birchton, Mrs. George Gill, of Cookshire, Mrs. John Mitchell, of East Angus, Miss Norma Planche, of Cookshire, and Miss Laura Planche, of Drummondville; one son, Harry Planche, of Cookshire; his mother, Mrs. L. E. Charbonell, of Cookshire; two sisters, Mrs. Hamilton, of Ottawa, Ontario, and Mrs. Harold Scott, of Toronto; one brother, Dr. Howard Planche, of Vancouver, B.C.; two half sisters, Mrs. Allan Reed, of Montreal, and Mrs. Ronald Hilborn, of Niagara, and six grandchildren.

PLEA FOR WAR VICTIMS READ AT INVERNESS

Need in War-Torn China Described in Article Heard at Meeting of Women's Institute.

Inverness, March 9.—An appeal for the poor of war-torn China was the feature of the February meeting of the Inverness United Women's Missionary Society held at the home of Mrs. James E. Robinson.

The president, Mrs. J. H. Stewart, presided and led the devotional period following which the secretary, Miss Betty Robinson, read a letter from the supply secretary giving a list of the articles of clothing and bedding needed for the Alberta Indian Reserve.

The president read the appeal of Dr. A. Stewart Allan which gave an account of the desperate need in China caused by the war, and appealed to members of the Women's Missionary Society to send used postage stamps to his address at the Canadian Mission Hospital, Chungking, Sze., China.

Mrs. Lloyd Beattie read an interesting letter from Miss Ada Sandell, of Hamheung, Korea, giving a most vivid picture of conditions and work at that Mission Station. The pastor, Mr. Stewart, then gave an outline of the work done by the pioneers in planting the Church in Canada. It was noted with satisfaction that the Society had fully met its Presbyterial allocation for the year.

NEW SHIP-BUILDING HELD IN ABEYANCE

London, March 9.—(C.P. Cable)—Oliver Stanley, President of the Board of Trade, told the House of Commons yesterday plans for construction of two new steamships for the Canada-New Zealand-Australia route are "in abeyance."

He recalled the companies decided last July construction costs are currently too high. Harry Day, Labor, had asked if any final conclusions were reached by the Imperial Shipping Committee on the problem of the Australasian service.

Mr. Stanley said: "I have no information to that effect" when Mr. Day asked whether the service might be abandoned unless "a subsidy is given in time."

WAY'S MILLS GROUP NAMES ITS OFFICERS

Mrs. Max Grainger Heads Slate of Officers Chosen at Annual Session of Women's Institute Group.

Way's Mills, March 9.—The annual meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the Union Hall, when dinner was served at noon to a large number, after which the president, Mrs. Sutton, called the meeting to order.

Following the opening exercises, bills were voted paid, including one for street lamps for 1938. It was decided in the future to collect money for the street lamps instead of holding a dinner. Several letters were read and roll call was answered by paying dues.

The new slate of officers was presented by Mrs. Sargeant. Three resignations had been handed in, including hat of the president, Mrs. Sutton, who had filled the office so acceptably for two years. The new slate which was adopted was as follows:

President, Mrs. Max Grainger; first vice-president, Mrs. F. C. Humphrey; second vice-president, Mrs. Freeman Sutton; secretary, treasurer, Mrs. W. B. Sargeant; conveners, agriculture, Mrs. W. B. Holmes; child welfare, Mrs. George Sheard; Canadian industries, Mrs. Clair Libby; education and better schools, Miss Agnes Oliver; legislation, Miss A. B. Davidson; immigration, Miss Esther Ewing; home economics, Mrs. T. Adam; Canadianization and national events, Mrs. F. Sutton; publicity, Mrs. W. B. Sargeant.

Mrs. Sheard read the new programme, which was unanimously accepted.

The new president, Mrs. Grainger, then took the chair and new business followed. It was decided to again furnish paper towels for the school. A salad contest was to be a feature of the April meeting.

Miss Oliver then conducted a questionnaire of the opening chapters of "The Flame of Freedom," by Ethel M. Chapman.

PRAYER DAY MARKED

The annual World Day of Prayer was observed on February 24, by a group of women from the United and Anglican Churches in the Intermediate School. The leader was Miss Amy Davidson and those taking part in the devotional period were Mrs. J. H. Gledhill, Mrs. George Sheard, Mrs. W. B. Sargeant, Mrs. P. B. Buckland and Miss Agnes Oliver.

Mrs. W. B. Holmes gave an interesting account of last year's Day of Prayer as observed over the world and also gave a talk on the theme of the day, "Let us put our love into deeds and make it real."

After the prayer for peace the Misses Lillian and Caroline Moir rendered the beautiful hymn, "God Will Take Care of You." Miss Dorothy Hovey acted as organist. An offering was taken to provide Christian literature in many languages to be distributed in different parts of the world.

Producer: "I sacked the whole orchestra last night." "Why?" "They absolutely spoiled the big scene. Remember the scene where the judge condemns the hero to death? Well, I told the leader to pick out a suitable tune." "Yes?" "When the judge put on the black cap, the dam fools played 'Wnere Did You Get that Hat?'"

A survey of 10,000 rural homes in thirty-three states show that 87 per cent of the women on farms never have vacations.

HEAR DEBATE BY WATERLOO CHURCH GROUP

Comparative Benefits of Radio and Theatre Argued by St. Paul's Young People's Society Members.

Waterloo, March 9.—Under the auspices of St. Paul's Young People's Society, a delightful evening was arranged in the church parlors, when forty-one members and visitors enjoyed the entertainment provided by an instructive and amusing debate, "Resolved that the radio is more beneficial to the general public than moving pictures." The affirmative was upheld by Roger and Chester McKergow, with D. S. Rattray and C. Howard Bradford defending the negative side. Some well thought-out arguments as well as many amusing suggestions were put forth by the opposing groups.

In summing up the points at the conclusion of the debate, the judges, J. G. McKergow, Arnold Plowright and Peter Gunter conceded the victory to those defending the affirmative.

The second part of the programme was devoted to a box social, with George Young as auctioneer, who, with his wit and humor, stimulated spirited bidding for the boxes of edibles provided by the ladies, most of the prices averaging one dollar each. After the sale of the last box the young men searched for the owner of the box to be his supper partner. Every one in attendance pronounced the event a gratifying success in every way.

Mrs. F. G. Campbell, of West Lebanon, N.H., is visiting her sister, Mrs. V. A. St. Denis and family.

On Friday Mrs. R. R. McKibbon was hostess at a delightful dinner bridge. Cards were enjoyed at two tables, the prize going to Mrs. Robert Millenchamp.

FOSTER CHURCH GROUP ENJOYS BUSY SESSION

Report of 53rd Annual Meeting of Auxiliary in Montreal Delivered at Interesting Meeting.

Foster, March 9.—The regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary was entertained by the Misses Jean and Emma Hunter and in spite of the inclement weather and the icy condition of the roads, was well attended.

The Rev. H. P. Mount conducted the devotional period, reading from the thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians and the Litany and members prayers followed, recited in unison.

The minutes of the annual meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. N. N. Crowhurst, and after one unintentional ommission was corrected, were approved.

The roll call showed twelve members in attendance and several visitors were also present. The "memorial roll," which had been overlooked at the prevoius meeting was called by the secretary, and Rev. Mr. Mount led in prayer, a silent tribute to departed members.

Dorcas secetary, Mrs. A. B. Young read an interesting letter received from Mary Wesley, telling of her life in the school and expressing her delight at the splendid bale which had been sent her.

Treasurer, Mrs. G. H. Durrell reported five dollars sent fom the Diocesan Free Will Offering. Mrs. Mount gave a splendid report of the fifty-third annual meeting which she recently attended in Montreal, and Mrs. A. M. Hunter conveyed to her the sincere appreciation of the work which she had put into her report for the benefit of the branch.

The next meeting of the Women's Auxiliary will be entertained by Mrs. Crowhurst. At the close of a busy afternoon refreshments were served by the hostesses. Mr. Mount expressed the appreciation of the assembly for kind hospitality.

Benediction brought the meeting to a close.

General Notes

The news of the death of Mrs. Miles Rhicard, Sr., was regretfully received by her friends and old neighbors in Foster, where she resided for many years. Mrs. Rhicard passed away at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. E. A. Duboyce, Bolton Pass. The remains were brought to Fulford Cemetery for burial on Wednesday, March 1, and laid to rest beside her late husband. Mrs. Rhicard is survived by an only son, Mr. Bert Rhicard, of this place and four grandchildren, Mr. Guy Duboyce, of Verdun, Mrs. Doris Allen, of Bolton Pass, Mr. Ray Duboyce, of Duboyce's Corner, and Mr. Miles Rhicard, of this place. Sympathy is extended to them in their bereavement.

Mr. H. D. Wells, Inspector of School, of Waterloo, made a visit to the local school on Friday.

Mr. Wilson Mosher, of Sherbrooke, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. de Solla and family during the illness and burial of his wife. Mrs. Mosher and two daughters had been spending several months here, when Mrs. Mosher became ill with pneumonia and passed away after only a week's illness.

Friends are sorry to learn that Miss Donna Hillhouse, of Sherbrooke, suffered an accident while skiing in the Laurentians and is convalescing at the home of her brother, Mr. William Hillhouse, Ayer's Cliff. Miss Hillhouse has many relatives and friends here who wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. J. N. Snodgrass entertained the bridge club at her home on Tuesday afternoon when cards were played at two tables. The prizes for the afternoon were won by Mrs. Eula White and Mrs. A. L. Chamberlain. The hostess served dainty refreshments.

George Knowlton, who has been attending Knowlton High School, is ill at his home here with grippe.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown and son, Earl, of South Stukely, were recent guests of Mr. E. W. Chamberlain and Mrs. L. D. Dimick.

Mr. E. W. Taylor is a patient in Ward O. Ross Memorial Pavilion, Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, where he has been under observation for the past week. Friends here sincerely hope Mr. Taylor will soon be restored to health.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wing were in Waterloo recently the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Heman Wing.

Friends and relatives are sorry to learn Mrs. George Williams, of Fulfod, is seriously ill and has been taken to the home of her elder son, Mr. Floyd Williams, where she is receiving medical attention.

Miss Kathleen Bockus has returned to her duties in Waterloo following her illness at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bockus.

Mrs. M. Beard, Mrs. Rammage, Mr. J. R. Bockus, Mr. Harold Bockus, Mrs. Donald Bockus, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Williams and Mr. Baxter Williams were in Fulford on Saturday, February 25, to attend the funeral of Mrs. W. Mosher in St. Stephen's Church.

Friends are sorry to learn Mr. Edward Booth is in poor health.

Mr. Hiram Williams was in Knowlton last week.

Mr. Royce Wing spent a day in Montreal and called on Mr. Ernest Taylor at the Royal Victoria Hospital.

Friends regret to learn that Mr. Luther Hayes is seriously ill. Mr. Hayes is making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Guy Graves, since the death of Mrs. Hayes.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Williams were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Murphy in Sutton.

Mr. Elmer Crowhurst is spending an indefinite time in Montreal and is the guest of his sister, Mrs. J. H. Muncey, and Mr. Muncey.

Mrs. Mosher, of St. Lambert, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. de Solla while here to attend the funeral of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wilson Mosher.

Mr. Avery Allen, of Farnham, was a week-end guest of his aunt, Mrs. N. N. Crowhurst.

The World War cost a total of $107,000,000 a day.

YOUNG PEOPLE HELD MEETING AT SAND HILL

Arrangements Made for Social Evening at Well-Attended Meeting of Youth Group—Cards Enjoyed.

Sand Hill, March 9.—With about forty present, the Young People held their regular meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lofthouse, when a most enjoyable evening was spent. The president, Miss Muriel Hemming, presided over the usual business meeting, which opened with a Lenten hymn, "Sinful Sighing to be Blest," followed by the Lord's Prayer. The roll call showed an attendance of nineteen members, seven new members were enrolled and the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

It was decided to have sugar on snow at the next meeting and a social evening under the leadership of Mr. Ashley Shaughnessy was planned. Following adjournment progressive "500" and crokinole were enjoyed. The prizes in "500" were won by Bill George and Miss Mary Darby. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Lofthouse, assisted by others.

HEAVY DEMAND FOR OTTAWA RESIDENCES

Ottawa, March 9.—(C)—The visit of the King and Queen to Ottawa is still more than two months away but accommodation for the four-day period they will be here is being snapped up quickly.

Hotel rates have risen and it is impossible to obtain a room in the Chateau Laurier, the capital's largest hotel. Many of the smaller hotels have some rooms at increased rates which average about six dollars a day for a room and bath for two persons.

Many persons have rented their homes and apartments and are planning moving in with friends. Small apartments bring as much as twenty dollars a day and houses much more. It is reported Edsel Ford, the American motor magnate, has offered five hundred dollars for a Sandy Hill home for the four-day period.

MARBLETON

Mr. and Mrs. V. Mackey and young son, Byron, of East Angus, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Currie.

Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Montgomery, of East Angus, were guests for the week-end of Mrs. Montgomery's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Barter.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Weston were recent guests of relatives in Bury.

Mr. E. O. Weston went to the Sherbrooke Hospital for observation. Mr. Weston was unfortunate enough to break his leg last November and it is not mending as rapidly as his many friends would wish.

Messrs. H. H. Bishop and P. Thibodeau were in Sherbrooke recently.

Miss Lucy Weston is spending a short time in Sherbrooke.

A severe electrical storm, accompanied by heavy rain and sleet, passed over this vicinity at noon Monday.

Mrs. H. G. Weston, who was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Butler, Sherbrooke, has returned home.

Fifteen young farmers have been taking the short agricultural course under the supervision of the district agronome. The meetings were held in Marbleton Town Hall.

Mr. Richard is spending a few weeks in Asbestos, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. Storrey.

The beautiful rose and white carnations on the altar of St. Paul's Church on Sunday were in memory of Mr. E. J. Westman, who passed away March 10th, 1933, and were placed there by his wife and family.

Mr. H. S. Gilbert's condition is not improving. He is still a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

The first marriage in Plymouth Colony occurred on May 12, 1621.

BEDFORD SCOUT TROOP IN FINE DEMONSTRATION

Different Phases of Scouting Activities on Display—Proceeds to Be Used for Building of Scout Cabin.

Bedford, March 9.—A most interesting and instructive evening's entertainment was presented in the High School auditorium by the members of the First Troop Bedford Scouts when they gave a comprehensive demonstration of various phases of scouting activity.

Under the direction of Scoutmaster Gerald Smith the scouts first gave a practical example of the manner in which an over-night camp is constructed and also built a wooden bridge without using any nails or bolts, connecting the pieces by lashing them together. Following the building work the scouts gave a display of signalling, demonstrating the use of this means of communication when others are lacking. Scouts Cameron McCaw, Bill Van Horn, Timmie Smith and Arlie Casey participated in the signalling exhibition.

First aid work was the next to receive attention and Scout Killick's unit, consisting of Abie Claman, Sidney Lapointe and Arnold Gilman, demonstrated their knowledge and ability in bandaging and stretcher-bearing, with Scout Gittens as the patient.

At the conclusion of the various demonstrations the lowering of the flag and the routine of the close of a day in camp were gone over. Scoutmaster Smith announced that the funds obtained would be used towards the building of a Scout cabin, on the ground known as Scout Island which, through the kindness of the owner, has been given to the Scouts.

The members of the Girl Guides were also present with their leader, Mrs. Gerald Smith, and a good sum was realized from the sale of candy during the evening. The Cubs, with their Cubmaster, J. Mayhew, attended in uniform.

Through the kindness of Mr. John Oman, manager of the Shawinigan Chemicals plant here, a very comprehensive exhibit of the various items produced from the company's quarry was on display. Work done by both Scouts and Guides were also exhibited, while the cups won by the Scouts at the Ormstown meet were also shown. A large album filled with snaps taken during the Scouts' camping trip at Scoutmaster Smith's summer home in the Laurentians received much praise.

SERVED by itself, Heinz Cooked Spaghetti has every essential to lure appetite and provide nourishment. Combined with other foods it makes a multitude of appetizing dishes. It goes with everything, diced or ground meats or fowl—green peppers—mushrooms—sausages—vegetables—anything that's "left over".

In Heinz Cooked Spaghetti you get gluten-rich wheat, nippy Canadian cheese, milk, butter, everything necessary for alluring flavour and generous nutriment. Order a few tins from your dealer today. Heinz Cooked Macaroni is a great favourite, too. Both are ready to heat and eat.

SPAGHETTI WITH MEAT BALLS

1 lb. ground beef
1 small onion, chopped
1 teaspoon salt
1 dash pepper
1 27⅛ oz. tin Heinz Cooked Spaghetti

Mix meat and onion with salt and pepper. Form into small balls and brown in frying pan with butter. Heat in saucepan 1 large 27½ oz. tin Heinz Cooked Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce. Pour heated spaghetti into medium sized casserole, dot with meat balls and serve at once.

6 O'CLOCK CASSEROLE

Combine 1 cup diced cooked turkey or chicken
1 cup cooked peas

Place 1 large (27½ oz.) tin Heinz Cooked Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce in two layers in individual casseroles, placing the meat mixture between the two layers of spaghetti. Top with Buttered bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) 30 minutes.

Note:—Heinz Cooked Macaroni may be substituted for spaghetti.

BAKED SAUSAGE ROLLS WITH SPAGHETTI

Trim crusts from 10 slices fresh bread. Spread bread lightly with Heinz Prepared Yellow Mustard. Roll a cooked sausage in each slice of bread and secure with toothpicks. Place in a pan and bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) about 15 minutes, or until toasted lightly. Place hot spaghetti in centre of platter. Arrange the toasted sausage rolls in a border around the spaghetti, then garnish with slices of fresh cucumber pickle and sprigs of parsley. (Serves 5—2 sausage rolls per serving.)
Cook in skillet 10 small link sausages. Heat 1 large (27½ oz.) tin Heinz Cooked Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce.

VALLEYFIELD IN SECOND WIN OVER FLYERS

Braves One Step Away From P.S.H.L. Crown

Spectacular End-to-End Scoring Rush by Jo-Jo Graboski All But Spells Curtains for Flyers' Allan Cup Hopes as Braves Triumph 2-1—Wilcoxmen Need Only One More Victory.

Valleyfield, Que., March 9.—(CP)—With little to choose between a pair of great netminders goaling the games of their careers, the hero's role in this series between Cornwall's Flyers and the Braves, of Valleyfield, for the Provincial Senior Hockey League's crown has fallen to a stick-handling wizard of a centreman— hefty, young Jo-Jo Graboski.

It was Graboski's stick again that fired the winning goal as Braves took a two-game edge in the best-of-five series with a two to one triumph over Flyers last night. He notched it in the third period on an end-to-end solo dash, a replica of his winning tally when Braves scored a two to nothing victory in the series opener at Cornwall.

They all but spelled curtains for the Flyers' Allen Cup hopes, these two individual forays. Don Penniston's clan now must win three straight from the Braves to remain in the hunt while Archie Wilcox needs only one more victory to lead Valleyfield into Provincial playdowns.

Cornwall finished the regular season well in front of the runner-up Braves and the brilliant goaling of Floyd "Phats" Perras was expected to give them an edge in playoffs. Perras was the deciding factor that eliminated Lachine Rapides in the semi-finals but the Braves have nullified the advantage with an equally-sensational performance of Johnny Lascelles.

Lascelles goaled Braves to a semi-final triumph over Sherbrooke Red Raiders and has allowed Cornwall's sharpshooters only one goal in the championship series.

Unable to beat him through eighty minutes of hockey, Flyers counted their first goal of the series at 8:43 of the second frame last night. It was a counter by burly Mike McMahon that gave them a short-lived lead, Theo Hamel made the score one to one four minutes later and Graboski bagged the winner in the next session.

The initial frame was scoreless with only one penalty as play swept from one end of the ice to the other. Braves held a slight edge throughout and tested Perras with several close-in shots that he blocked off neatly.

Dominating play from early in the second period, Cornwall got their first tally on a rush by Defenceman McMahon. He slammed the puck into the end boards and then took a double relay from Harvey McClelland and Fred Gardner just outside the goaler's crease.

Pressing for the equalizer, Braves got it at 7:32 when Jerry Philbin split the Cornwall defence and fed a perfect pass that Hamel converted.

Neither team could find an opening for the next thirty minutes and it began to look like overtime when Graboski came through with a picture goal, his second of the series.

Starting deep in Valleyfield territory, Graboski needled his way through the entire Cornwall team and blasted the puck into the net with just two minutes and five seconds remaining.

The teams:

| Cornwall | | Valleyfield |
|---|---|---|
| Perras | goal | Lascelles |
| McMahon | defence | Philbin |
| Massey | defence | Godin |
| Gardner | centre | Hamel |
| Shaw | wing | Cholette |

East Angus Captures E.T. Juvenile Honors

Canadiens of Sherbrooke Bow 3-2 in Final Game of Championship Series—Jimmy Planche Bags Two Angus Tallies —Bishop's College School Wins Bantam Crown.

East Angus, March 9.—Playing on local ice last night, the young band of puck-chasers directed by Jack Westgate handed Canadiens of Sherbrooke a three-two trimming in the second game of a home-and-home series and by so doing gained the juvenile championship of the Eastern Townships and the right to advance into play-offs for the Provincial title.

Strong all the way through the line-up, from the goaler down to the last substitute forward, East Angus should be a strong contender for the Provincial crown which evaded their grasp by such a narrow margin last year, and any team that beats them will know they have been in a hockey game.

The Sherbrooke Canadiens were right in last night's game from start to finish, as they were in the opening game of the series, played at Sherbrooke. There was little to choose between the two aggregations, but superior polish, passing and all-round experience tipped the scales in favor of the Westgate lads.

Jimmy Planche, fast-improving attack player, and Jackie Westgate, starting pivotman, were the goal-getters for the East Angus champions while Vallerand and Mercier turned on the light for the Sherbrooke aggregation.

Angus bagged the opening tally of the encounter, Anatole Coulombe laying the rubber on Westgate's stick after eight minutes and ten seconds, but Canadiens hopped right back into the running only forty seconds later as Vallerand took a pass from Allen to beat Gilles Paquet.

Two goals by the older Planche in the second stanza, one alone and the other on an assist from Willis McLaughlin, proved to be just what the doctor ordered for East Angus, because Mercier, hitting the hemp in the final stanza, was the only Canadien who managed to put the puck past Paquet again.

The teams:

| Canadiens | | Angus |
|---|---|---|
| Duchesne | goal | Paquet |
| Mercier | defence | McLaughlin |
| Beaudry | defence | Bouchard |
| Vallerand | centre | Westgate |
| Martel | wing | Coulombe |
| Lalonde | wing | Gosselin |

Canadien subs: Descoteaux, Largy, Mitchell, Allen.

Angus subs: J. Planche, Lepitre, R. Planche, Beliveau, Bernard, Bergeron, Galipeau.

First Period.

Penalties: None.

B.C.S. GAINS BANTAM CROWN

Bantam hockey championship of the Eastern Townships was captured by the Bishop's College School team last night as they downed East Angus two-nothing in a game on the latter squad's home ice.

After a scorless opening period, McMaster put the School ahead in the second and Pitfield finished off the sniping in the third.

The game was unique in that not one penalty was handed out throughout the three periods.

The teams:

| B.C.S. | | Angus |
|---|---|---|
| Sewell | goal | Roberge |
| McLimont | defence | Heath |
| Day | defence | Bernier |
| McMaster | centre | B. Planche |
| Lemieux | wing | Davis |

SET DATES FOR PLAYDOWNS IN NATIONAL LOOP

Boston Bruins and New York Rangers Open Series March 21—Arrange for Meeting of Third and Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Clubs.

New York, March 9.—(CP)—Governors of the National Hockey League yesterday set dates for the four-of-seven game Stanley Cup play-off series between Boston Bruins and New York Rangers, first and second finishers respectively in the league standings.

Dates were also set for the two-of three games series between the third and fourth and fifth and sixth teams, depending on the order of the finish.

The bruising Bruins, exercising the right of league champions, chose to play the first game of the series on New York ice and will meet New York Rangers here March 21.

Other dates of this series are Rangers at Boston March 23 and March 26; Boston at Rangers March 28 and, if more than four games are necessary, Rangers at Boston March 30, Boston at Rangers April 1 and Rangers at Boston April 2.

The third and fourth and fifth and sixth teams will meet March 21, 23, 25 or 26, choice of home ice going to the top team in each bracket. The alternate date for the final tilt in this series was included in case the game involved Toronto where no hockey is played Sunday night.

Georgie Pace of Celveland goes right ahead proving his claim as No. 1 bantamweight contendar by knocking off the lads who have been beating Sixto Escobar. Is somebody giving Georgie the old run-around?

KNOWLTON IN VICTORY OVER COWANSVILLE

Benefit Series Between the Brome-Missisquoi-Shefford League Teams Tied at One-Game All.

Knowlton, March 9.—A three-two victory for the homesters over Cowansville Victories here last night evened the best-in-three benefit series between the two Brome-Missisquoi-Shefford Hockey League aggregations and necessitated a "rubber" match at a time and place not yet decided.

Cowansville took the lead when Viens scored on a pass from Isaacs late in the initial frame, but L. Crandall and Tom Mullarkey hit the twine to give the home team a two-one lead.

The only goal of the middle stanza was registered by Shanks, of Cowansville, with the aid of Barney Johnson, but in the final period Mac Dunsmore engineered the winner, slipping the disc to B. Benoit for the pay-off tally.

The teams:

| Cowansville | | Knowlton |
|---|---|---|
| McCrum | goal | Reynolds |
| Johnson | defence | L. Crandall |
| Deguire | defence | Dunsmore |
| Lee | centre | B. Benoit |
| Shanks | wing | R. Crandall |
| Leonard | wing | J. Benoit |

Cowansville subs: Isaacs, Viens, Hebert, Pickel, Jones, Forster.

Knowlton subs: Guillotte, Lefebvre, R. Mullarkey, Davis, T. Mullarkey, Warden, T. Benoit.

First Period

1—Cowansville Viens (Isaacs) ..... 17.45

2—Knowlton L. Crandall . 19.45

3—Knowlton T. Mullarkey (R. Mullarkey) ..... 20.00

Penalties: None

Second Period

4—Cowansville Shanks (Johnson) ..... 18.30

Penalties: Dunsmore, B. Benoit, T. Mullarkey Isaacs, Viens.

Third Period

5—Knowlton B. Benoit (Dunsmore) ..... 3.17

Penalties: R. Mullarkey, T. Mullarkey, Lee (minor and misconduct).

WINDSOR MILLS SET TO OPPOSE QUEBEC OUTFIT

Paper Makers and Beavers Open Provincial Intermediate Play-Off Series in Canada Paper Arena Tonight.

Windsor Mills, March 9. — With fast ice in prospect for tonight, a bang-up hockey game is expected between the Beavers of Quebec and the Paper Makers of Windsor Mills in the Canada Paper Arena.

Intermediate hockey monarchs of the Eastern Townships for the last three years in succession, Windsor Mills may be considered to have their strongest team in recent seasons on the line and ready to go in the play-off clash.

Goalie Roger Longpre should be back in the nets, fully recovered from the injury he suffered Tuesday against Granby. The twenty-six-year old netminder has been in the Windsor cage for the last eight years.

Starting on defence against the Beavers will be Moe Okilman and Ralph "Baldy" Gault. Gault hails from Cornwall, Ont., and played with the Holy Name Juniors who were Provincial champions and Dominion finalists. Carleton Place, Ont., reared Okilman, who captained Clarkson University for two seasons.

Gilles Landry, a home product, is the third defenceman, and has given his best for Windsor for seven years.

Up front Bobby Morey, a Windsor boy, Doran "Duke" Doucet, of Bathurst, N.B., and Henry "Gunner" Payette, of Cornwall, Ont., form one attacking unit. Payette played with Gault for Holy Name and plays lacrosse during the summer.

Cliff Allan, of Ottawa, who also played with Clarkson, Edward "Bus" McLenahan, a Maritimer, and Eric Bailey, Sawyerville's gift to Windsor, are the most dangerous line, while Paul Paquin and Gordie Conway, East Angus duo, are two of Dallas Grant's most valuable players.

Windsor Mills and Quebec should perform before a record crowd, and the home team will be fighting for a lead to carry to Quebec Sunday.

Al Alvarez, Toledo U. guard, is a dead ringer for Mickey Cochrane. Gene Tunney's double is head usher in a Times Square Theatre and, appropriately enough, a guy who is the split image of Jack Dempsey at eighteen, works in a restaurant in Rockefeller Centre.

Spartans Nip Bishop's Cagers In 60-56 Win

Local Cage Monarchs Hard-Pressed in Tune-Up for Game Against Montreal Y.M.H.A. Here Saturday Night—Bishop's Pull Even in Smashing Rally, but Grecian Guile Pulls Tilt from Fire—Ken Jackson Scores Thirty-One Points.

Tuning up for their return game against the Young Men's Hebrew Association intermediates of Montreal here Saturday night in a Provincial play-off series, the Spartans pumped in two baskets with only seconds remaining last night to defeat Bishop's in a thrilling City and District Basketball League game at the Y.M.C.A.

Feature of the game was a smashing rally by the purple and white lagers in the closing minutes of the last half which saw them pull up from what looked to be a one-sided defeat to tie the score. The Spartans had things all their own way in the first half and piled up a thirty-six to twenty-two advantage. In the early part of the second chapter they continued to dominate play, but at the eleven-minute mark Bishop's came to life with a bang and started to go to town in a big way.

Keeping their heads in the feverish last minute, however, the Spartans managed to work in for two field baskets and leave the floor four points to the good.

Spartans played without Bill Jowett sure-shooting forward, while Bishop's were minus the services of Ted Ames, regular centreman.

Stepping into a starry role for the Grecians was Kenneth "Pard" Jackson, who divided his time at guard and at centre. Jackson had his eye on the basket and cashed in with fourteen field baskets and three free tosses for the remarkable total of thirty-one points and he finest individual performance of the local season. He sunk the leather from all parts of the floor and the inability of the purples to flag him down was one big reason for their defeat.

Bishop's laid the brunt of their attack on the broad shoulders of their Thetford Mines trio—Bud Vissers, Merritt Bateman and Merritt Pharo, Bateman, using his height to advantage, rolled in seven field baskets from close-in and sank four foul shots for eighteen points, while Pharo turned in another stellar performance with ten baskets for twenty markers. Captain Bud Visser played a bang-up game at guard and accounted for nine points on drives from far-out.

Only six Bishop's men saw action, Jimmy Davidson relieving up front for Bateman and Pharo and Ivor Richards toiling for sixty minutes on the forward line. Walter Wood worked himself into exhaustion beside Visser on defence.

Don Wooton was good for fourteen Spartan points and showed up well in the pivot position, while "June" Mutchler sank three field goals for six points. Doug Wooton scored three points, Chick Whatley, Nick Vlahakis and Hally Evans two each.

Coach Bobby Robertson shifted his team around continually, testing out the various combinations, and discovered a good centreman in Ken Jackson, who should be able to share the duties with Don Wooton should the going get tough against Y.M.H.A.

Tall and in good condition, Bishop's gave the Spartans the toughest opposition they have encountered in Sherbrooke for some time, and only a deficiency in ball-handling ability, plus their late start, cost them the victory.

Congratulations and consolations item: To Windsor Mills, felicitations on the capture of the Eastern Townships intermediate championship, and to Granby consolations for their defeat at the hands of the paper makers in the final at the Arena. The Granby players and officials need feel no great disappointment, because they made a fine showing against the stronger and larger Windsor Mills players and were impressive even while their colors dipped.

Windsor once again carries the hopes of the Eastern Townships and they may be assured that the good wishes and support of all the various teams eliminated within the last few weeks and of all followers of hockey will be with them in their series with Quebec Beavers, and, it is hoped, their further play in search of the provincial championship.

There should be a bumper crowd in the Canada Paper Arena tonight, and the paper makers will be given loyal support by townsfolk and fans from Sherbrooke and surrounding towns. It should be the best game of the season, and while the strength of the Ancient Capital outfit is unknown, they should be strong from the goal out. It is probable that the winners of this series will tangle with St. Jerome, because the Saints should romp through the other side of the play-off bracket with little trouble.

Here is a mark for players in the City and District Basketball League to shoot at next season: Chet Jaworski — sounds Irish — Rhode Island State's flashy centre, holds the new United States intercollegiate basketball scoring record for a season with a total of 477 points in twenty-one games. This figures out to a little better than twenty-two and a half points per game, which is some shooting. The previous record, 465 points, was established by Hank Luisetti, playing for Stanford.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

San Antonio, Tex.—Billy Sullivan, St. Louis Browns' holdout catcher, was en route here today after informing General Manager Bill Dewitt from Sarasota, Fla., he decided to accept the club's terms which call for a "less than twenty-five per cent reduction" in salary from last season. Previously Dewitt said he was willing to trade Sullivan.

Lakeland, Fla.—Hank Greenberg, here to start training with Detroit Tigers Thursday, says he is going after the runs-batted-in record this season after having hit fifty-eight homers a year ago in a vain effort to equal Babe Ruth's mark.

"The boss (Owner Walter O. Briggs) seems interested in runs batted in," Greenberg said. He has led the American League twice in runs batted in with 170 in 1935 and 169 only one short of Lou Gehrig's mark, in 1937.

Sarasota, Fla.—Impatiently waiting the first Boston Red Sox practice games—one today and one tomorrow—Manager Joe Cronin nominated rookies Woody Rich, "Lefty" Lefebvre and Wayman Kerksieck to toss for the regulars and veterans Jack Wilson, Fritz Ostermueller, Denny Galehouse and Elden Auker to hurl for the regulars.

New Orleans — Manager Oscar Vitt anounced rookies will compose the greater part of Cleveland Indians line-up for the first exhibition game Thursday against New Orleans Pelicans. Catcher Rollie Hemsley and Outfielder Roy Weatherly arrived in camp leaving six absentees, including Hal Trosky and Johnny Allen who had Vitts permission to report late.

Tampa, Fla.—Manager Bill McKechnie of Cincinnati Reds, who recently said he didn't care how many games they won in the exhibition series, has added the words "after the first two games with the Dodgers." McKechnie wants to get off to a good start, and is sending "Lefty Lee" Grissom against Brooklyn Saturday, and promises to start Johnny Vander Meer and Derringer in the second game Sunday.

Avalon, Calif.—Manager and Catcher Hartnett of Chicago Cubs shelved himself and Gus Mancuso for four-game intra-squad series opening tomorrow. Instead, Bill Baker, obtained from Indianapolis, and Bob Garbark, will handle the catching assignments.

FOLLOWS LANCS

London—(CP)—Proposing the toast of the Lancashire County Cricket Club at a dinner in the House of Commons Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said he had always been an ardent follower of Lancashire cricket.

PIGEON WINS RACE

Stroud, England— (CP) —Robert Perkins, Stroud's airman M.P., released a pigeon at Westminster, motored to Heston and flew 100 miles to his home. The pigeon was home first—by a minute.

WON 2,427 RACES

Derby, England—(CP)—When Gordon Richards piloted his 200th winner of the racing season the other day it was the fifth year he passed the 200 mark. In his eighteen years in the saddle he has won 2,427 races.

RECORD SWIMMING

Aarhus, Denmark—(CP)—Miss Cor Kint broke the women's world record for the 200-metre breast stroke, covering the distance in two minutes, 41 seconds, nearly sixteen seconds better than the previous mark.

"After a tough game, there's nothing so relaxing as a nice, cool glass of Black Horse Ale", says Cliff Melville, well-known Montreal basketball star. "Black Horse calms my nerves, helps my appetite and it tastes like a million dollars. Yes, sir, for fun and fitness, I'll take Black Horse every time".

Country And Dairy Products Prices

Montreal, March 9.—Prices extended their gains on the Montreal wholesale market. Receipts were fair but demand was good. Advances of one cent per dozen were shown. Medium and pullets were particularly scarce and some jobbing houses were removing them from their list of quotations to the retail trade owing to insufficient supplies. Montreal appears to be sharing a scarcity of fresh eggs which is common throughout the Dominion. As usual at this time of year considerable quantities of eggs are going into hatcheries for incubation purposes. The other produce markets were generally steady.

On the egg market graded shipments just arriving in used free cases were offering on spot at 23c for A-large, 22c for A-medium, 21c for A-pullets, 20c for B and 18½c to 19c for C. Small lots to the retail trade were selling by jobbers in cartons, and two cents less for loose, as follows: A-1 large, 32c; A-1 medium, 29c; A-1 pullets, 27c; A-large, 27c; A-medium, 26c; A-pullets, 25c; B, 24c; C, 23c.

The open cheese market remained at 11½c for No. 1 Ontarios.

Spot butter was posted at the Commodity Exchange at 21⅞c to 22⅛c for 92 score, 21¼c bid for 38 score, and 22¼c asked for western regraded. Futures closed at 22c to 22¼c for March or April, 21½c bid for June and 23¼c for November. The open spot market was 22⅛c to 22¼c for No. 1, with small lots to the retail trade selling by jobbers at 23c for solids and 23½c for prints.

The potato market, on old stock, was as follows: P.E.I. Mountains, $1.25 to $1.30, with whites, $1.20 to $1.25, per 90 lbs.; N.B. Mountains, $1.05 to $1.10 per 80 lbs., and 70-72c per 50 lbs. New potatoes were $2.25 per 50-lb. crate for Floridas.

On the poultry market wholesale houses were quoting the retail trade the following prices for dressed stock, A-grade, and two cents less for B-grade: Turkeys, 26-28c; milkfed chickens, 26-28c; selected chickens, 25-26c; selected fowl, 19½c to 22½; Brome Lake ducklings, 27c; geese, 21c; domestic ducks, 23c.

Average weight of a dozen eggs is 1½ jounds.

Miss Brenda Styan has been confined to her home due to a severe cold.

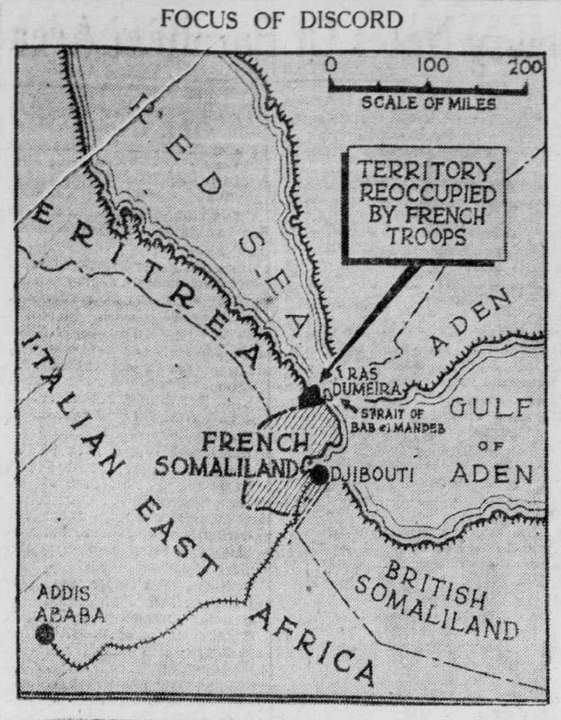

Master Gilbert Mayo has been confined to his home due to a severe cold.

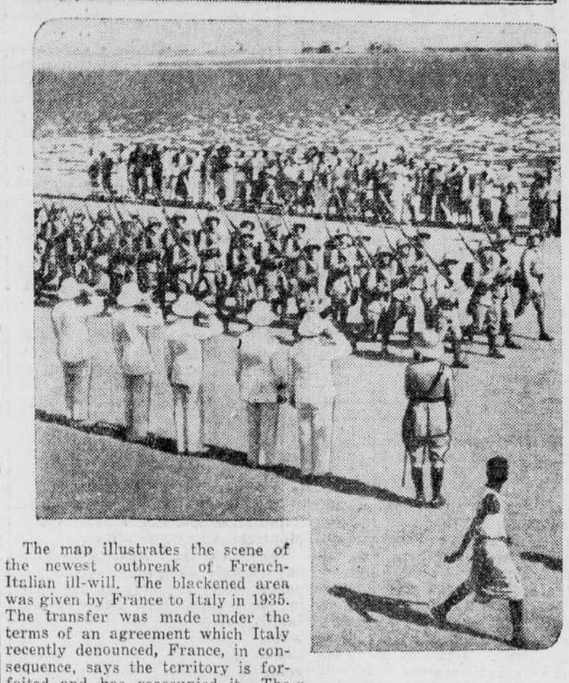

Master Garth Jackson has been home due to a cold.

A meeting of the Junior Board of Trade was held at the Union Hotel, with approximately sixty present. Resolutions adopted were that the tax on chain store, should not exceed $250 for each store and that the Town Council should write to Ottawa opposing all immigration.

The Women's World Day of Prayer was observed by members of the Adventist Church and United Church, who gathered at St. Paul's United Church at eight p.m., where the meeting was conducted by Rev. C. B. McLauchlan. The service followed was that used throughout the world. Assigned subject prayers were made by Mrs. Ball, Mrs. Fielding, Mrs. Swoger and Mrs. Phaneuf. Rev. Mr. Walden read a suitable poem. The hymns sung were "Love Divine, All Love's Excelling, Immortal Love," "Rise Up O Men of God," "These Things Shall Be" and "We Thank Thee That Thy Church Unsleeping."

FOCUS OF DISCORD

The map illustrates the scene of the newest outbreak of French-Italian ill-will. The blackened area was given by France to Italy in 1935. The transfer was made under the terms of an agreement which Italy recently denounced, France, in consequence, says the territory is forfeited and has reoccupied it. The area is of value because of its strategic position overlooking the vital gateway between the Red Sea and the Gulf of Aden. Lower picture shows a detachment of Senegalese troops sent to reinforce France's Somaliland defences on arrival at Djibouti recently.

DINNER PLANS ARE FORMED BY HATLEY GROUP

Ladies' Guild of St. James' Church Solicits Food for Annual St. Patrick's Day Event.

Hatley, March 9.—A representative attendance of the St. James' Ladies' Guild met for dinner and business in the Guild Hall. Twenty-five scholars from the High School enjoyed a hot dinner. Eleven members of the Guild were present and two visitors.

The business meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Gordon Pocock, the president, and the secretary, Mrs. H. W. Parry, read the minutes. Food was solicited for the annual St. Patrick's Day dinner, which will be served by the Guild in the hall at the next fortnightly meeting on March 15.

On behalf of the Hatley Public Library, Mrs. Leslie McClary thanked the Guild for its donation of half the rental charge for the use of the hall for the card party in February. A donation was made to the caretaker for the two nights on which the hall was rented this winter.

Sympathy was expressed to Mrs. Albert Bowen, who had slipped on the icy road while on her way to take a telephone message to a neighbor and broke her wrist. Mrs. Norman Eickmeir kindly offered to take Mrs. Bowen's place on the food committee for the month of March. A bill for four cords of wood delivered by Mr. Albert Bowen was ordered paid and a letter was read by Mrs. Eickmeier from the Robert Simpson Company, Montreal, to Miss Macdougall, accompanying a donation to the Guild of a most acceptable parcel of remnants.

Miss Macdougall's letter of thanks was also read and unanimously endorsed. The flannelette sent was donated to the Woman's Auxiliary for the Indian girls' outfit and the meeting adjourned at three o'clock.

W.A. MET

Immediately after the adjournment of the Guild, the Woman's Auxiliary convened under the presidency of Mrs. H. W. Parry, who opened the meeting with the Litany from the "Living Message," prayers for Missions, and a Scripture reading from St. Paul's Epistle to the Colossians. A vote of thanks to Mrs. George Wright, Way's Mills, was passed, for her donation of a girls coat to the outfit. The Dorcas secretary, Mrs. Hugh Bowen, reported the outfit to be well under way.

Thanks were tendered the Guild for its donation of thirteen yards of flannelette, which was a very material help towards the outfit or possible bale, and to the president for her gift of cloth to make the wool dress and bloomers. The Dorcas secretary requested all the blocks for the Friendship quilt to be handed in. The treasurer, Miss Lillian Macdougall, who was prevented from attending by the icy condition of the roads, had reported the sum of six dollars realized from the food sale, which it was hoped would cover the remaining expenses of the outfit.

At the invitation of the president, it was decided to hold the April meeting at the rectory, several of the members offering to help with the menu for dinner at noon. A good attendance was requested as it is hoped to pack a small parcel for the co-operative bale for which donations of clothing from members and friends will be thankfully received by Mrs. Hugh Bowen or at the rectory. Owing to the increasingly stormy weather, the meeting then adjourned to allow those from a distance to get home before dark.

LENTEN SERVICES HELD

Special Lenten services commenced in St. James' Church, Hatley, and St. George's Church, Ayer's Cliff on Ash Wednesday, and will be continued in these churches throughout Lent on Wednesday and Thursday evening, respectively at 7.30.

A.Y.P.A. MAKES PLANS

On Wednesday evening, March 1, the special worship service of the A.Y.P.A. was held in the church. Adjournment was made to the parish hall at the close of the service, where the regular meeting was held. The president, Ruth Hartwell, was in the chair, and called upon Rev. H. W. Parry to conduct the opening exercises from the A.Y.P.A. Hand Book. A hymn, "O Master, Let Me Walk with Thee," was sung. The minutes were read, and the roll called by the secretary, Hilda Bowen.

Reports of committees were received, the executive committee reporting through the vice-president, Eugene Bowen, that it was proposed to have a debate at the next regular meeting, which is Edification night, followed two week's later by a sugar social to which friends are to be especially invited. It is also proposed to stage a dramatic play in the fall. The executive committee also advised that the financial objective be decided at this meeting, suggesting among other things that a delegate be sent to this year's Youth conference at North Hatley from July 3 to 8. An amateur hour was also suggested for the first meeting in May, to be held in the Town Hall, and prizes awarded. These propositions were then put before the meeting by the president, and it was resolved unanimously to undertake to pay the organist's salary for 1939 and to endeavor to send one delegate to the Youth conference at North Hatley.

The other suggestions introduced by the executive committee met with approval and the president and vice-president were elected captains to choose their own teams of three for the debate, the subject to be, "Resolved that reading has greater educational advantages than travel."

Edwin Shufflebotham was appointed the chairman for the debate. Rev. H. W. Parry was appointed time-keeper and with Mrs. Parry was named to secure the services of three distinterested judges. This finished the business and the meeting having adjourned, the president called on the rector to conduct the worship night programme.

Rev. Mr. Parry showed lantern slides entitled "The Creation of the World," which proved most interesting, the programme closing with the hymn, "God Is Working His Purpose Out," followed by the benediction. Table tennis, crokinole, checkers and "down the river" were then played.

ASBESTOS

The Women's Institute held their regular monthly meeting in the Hotel Iroquois. Reports of various committees were read and the treasurer reported $70 in the bank. At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served. Mrs. Bugden was hostess for the day.

On Saturday evening Mrs. E. Flanders entertained. Five hundred was played at three tables. Prizes were won by Mrs. Lockwood, Mr. Cowdry and Mr. Olson.

HONOLULU

ADAPTED FROM THE METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER PICTURE

by LUCY HUFFAKER

Copyright 1938 by Loew's Inc.

Synopsis — Looking almost exactly alike, Brooks Mason, film star, and George Smith, Hawaiian planter, exchange names, Brooks goes to Hawaii for peace and quiet while George is mobbed by the star's admirers in New York.. In love with a dancer, Dorothy March, whom he met on shipboard, Brooks is claimed by George's fiancee, but her father has him jailed, charging that George Smith had stolen $50,000 which he had entrusted to him to put through a deal.

CHAPTER NINE

SUCH A FUSS ABOUT THE TRUTH!

"He's no good, I tell you. He's a thief." Homer Grayson stood over his daughter, crying bitterly on the sofa, for Cecilia had just learned that her father had had her fiance thrown into jail.

"He is not!" she cried, looking up defiantly through her tears. "I've told you over and over again, George wouldn't do a thing like that. I know him!"

"But I'm telling you it's a mistake!"

Grayson, who had started to pace the floor angrily, stopped and shouted furiously: "I know him, too. And I also know when a man deliberately steals $50,000 from me."

"I don't believe it! You never liked him! You're just doing this to keep me from marrying him! I warn you: It won't work!"

"Don't you talk to me like that. I'm older than you are."

"Then you ought to know he's innocent!"

"He's not!"

"He is! If you were ever in love with him, you'd know it!"

"If he's innocent, why did he run away?"

"He didn't run away. I sent him."

"You sent him?" Grayson looked down at his daughter incredulously. "Where? Why?"

Cecilia began to cry again. "We had a quarrel. I told him he was stupid and dull, a naive farmer. So he went to Hollywood—to become a man."

"Hollywood!" snorted her father. "Nobody's going to spend my money on movie actresses — unless it's me!"

The jailer stood lazily outside the cell into which Brooks had been thrust, watching in some amazement the prisoner's antics as he shook the bars and shouted:

"But I'm telling you, it's a mistake!"

"It's your mistake, not mine."

"Well, for Pete's sake," said Brooks, quieting down, "let me make a 'phone call at least."

"Have you got a nickel?"

"No. I want to call New York."

"New York!" and the jailer broke into a hearty laugh.

"Yes, a friend of mine's there. He'll clear me in a minute."

"Listen, this is a jail. You get food and lodging, but that's all. No long distance calls, no horseback rides, no pillow fights." Still laughing, the jailer walked lazily away, and Brooks sat down on the iron cot and buried his face in his hands, bitterly regretting that he had ever changed names with George Smith. Being mobbed by fans, spending days in hospitals was better than being jailed in Honolulu. Still, if he had not, he would never have met Dorothy.

At the click of a key in the lock of his cell he got up, a happy smile on his face. The mistake had been discovered and he was going to be freed!

"Pardon my intrusion, Master George," said the jailer with a teasing smile, "a lady to see you. Shall I tell her you're in?"

"Yes, let her in."

"Thank you," smirked the jailer, and stepped aside to reveal Dorothy March. She went straight into Brooks' arms, dumbfounding the jailer.

"If you require anything, Master George," said the jailer formally, as he locked the cell door. "Just ring. I'll get it to you if I have to break down the door to do it." He ended with a deep bow and left them together.

"Oh, darling!" cried Dorothy, hugging him tight. "I called and Wong told me. It's not true, is it that — "

"Certainly not! It's a ridiculous mistake."

"I'm so glad, darling."

They sat down on the cot, his arm about her waist.

"George Smith may be a thief," he explained. "He may have stolen $50,000. . .but I'm not George Smith."

"What?" she sprang to her feet at the shock.

"I'm Brook Mason."

"Brook Mason?" she repeated incredulously.

"Yes."

She looked at him silently for a moment, still disbelieving. "Look, George. We'll get out of this somehow, but don't lie to me!"

I am Mason. That's what I started to tell you last night."

"Mason's in New York. You told me that yourself, and I read it in the ship news."

"I lied to you about that."

"Oh, and the paper lied, too, I suppose."

"The paper wasn't exactly lying — "

"Of course, it wasn't. But you are. Please, George, be honest with me. Whatever you did. I'll stick by you, but tell me the truth."

"I am telling you the truth," he said in desperation.

"I don't believe you," said Dorothy icily, and, going to the cell door, she called: "Officer, I'm ready to go now."

"Dorothy," he pleaded, "don't go away like this! Please listen! Let me tell you what happened."

But the jailer had unlocked the door and Dorothy stepped out without a glance for the unhappy Brooks.

"I tell you I'm not George Smith. I'm Brooks Mason!"

"Now, now, how can you say that, George," chided the jailer. "I've known you ever since you were a kid."

Millie De Grasse was washing handkerchiefs and stockings in a basin before a mirror that was plasted with drying hankerchiefs, and trying to comfort Dorothy.

"What do you care, Dot, who he is, if he loves you and you love him?"

"But why didn't he tell me the truth?"

"Oh, such a fuss about the truth! Perhaps he is Brooks Mason."

"He isn't. If he is, why did he sneak out here under another name? If he isn't Brooks Mason, he's George Smith and George Smith stole $50,000."

"Maybe he stole it for you."

"He stole it before he met me."

"Maybe he had a vision he was going to meet you."

"But look—everybody in town can't be crazy. Mr. Grayson says he's George Smith, and he ought to know. It's all here in the paper."

"Who's Grayson?"

"The man he stole the money from."

Millie took the newspaper from Dorothy and read the account of Brooks' arrest. She threw the paper down, went to the closet, took out a suit and put it on.

"Where are you going, Millie?"

"I don't know, but when I get back I'll tell you where I was. If you want to cry any more, wait till the handkerchiefs get dry."

"I'm not going to cry any more. Not over him. He's not worth it."

"Maybe he ain't to you, but if I fell in love with a man by the name of Smith and he said he's Mason, I'd marry him and make believe he's Mason. . ."

Homer Grayson sat behind his desk, facing Millie De Grasse.

Well, Miss De Grasse, what can I do for you?"

"Mr. Grayson, you are one of the most influential men on the island, and we would like to have you sign a petition to spring an innocent man from the cooler."

"If he's innocent, why is he in the . . . cooler?"

"They said he did it, but he didn't do it."

"Well, if you're sure he's innocent, I'd be the first man to sign a petition like that. What's the man's name?"

"Sign the petition first. We'll fill in the name afterward."

Grayson drew himself up coldly. "I must know the man's name first."

"I can't tell you the man's name, but George Smith wouldn't steal anything."

"George Smith!" cried Grayson, springing up. "You want me to sign a petition to release a man who robbed me of $50,000! He's where he belongs—in jail! I gave him the money, in cash, to negotiate a deal for me with a man named Jones because I didn't want Jones to know I was connected with it, and he can't produce the deal; he can't produce the money, he can't produce Jones, because there is no Jones — "

"That shows how much you know! There is a Jones. I'm Mrs. Jones. I left him when I found out he was a crook, and changed my name back to De Grasse. Mr. Grayson, you've got the wrong man in jail. The man you want is Jones, the worst crook that — "

Grayson's secretary entered. "Excuse me, Mr. Grayson, there's a Mr. Jones to see you."

Agonizing Eczema (Salt Rheum)

No rest, day or night, for those afflicted with that awful skin disease, eczema, or salt rheum as it is commonly called.

The intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night, or when the affected part is exposed to strong heat, or hot water, are almost unbearable, and relief is gladly welcomed.

To get rid of eczema it is necessary to have the blood cleansed by the use of a thoroughly reliable blood medicine such as Burdock Blood Bitters which during the past 60 years has met with great success in relieving such diseases by its blood cleansing and purifying properties.

For Longer Wear and Greater Beauty

An Improved 3-Thread Chiffon Stocking.

Wear it with your new suit: to twilight teas: to formals: Extremely high twist, they are faultlessly sheer, dull in finish because they are of such high twist . . . and it's a natural dullness, not achieved by chemicals . . . so it will not wash out. Silk from top to toe, reinforced in vital points with silk . . . a marvel-stripe to lessen the danger of garter-runs . . . Here is a stocking that has everything! Price $1.00.

Glamour gals adore the fragile beauty of 2-threads chiffon . . . So sheer they're a mere dusting of color — fragile as a butterfly's wings — and exquisite for evenings.

With your new sheer woollen frocks and tweed coats wear misty crepes. They're so sheer and so serviceable . . The business woman adores them — and they're smartly tinted.

Extra long "FIT-ALL-TOPS" the stocking for the so active tall woman. The two-way stretchy top is accommodating to bending, reaching, kneeling. There's miles of wear!

Yours for longest wear and heavy luxury — the older woman adores the beauty of heavy service-weight: the smart modern choses it to wear with heavy shoes and sports togs. $1.00.

Introducing The New Pantie-Girdle — by Kayser

An adorable little girdle with a firm control . . . Made of two-way stretch Lastex, it answers the need of the woman who likes a figure control that is not rigid. It has a removable crotch which simplifies laundering — and extra crotches may be purchased.
Garters are made with a rubber grip which prevents tearing hose — and are attached to the girdle by a lastex strap thus ensuring the utmost "Give" when bending. In tea-rose and white. Small, medium and large sizes. Price $1.95.
(Extra removable crotches 25c)

They Fit Like A Frock — These Slips — by Kayser

Do sagging hems, popping straps, bursting seams make your life miserable? Then here's a misery-chaser. Beautifully cut on a true bias, these four-gore slips do fit even after endless washings. They have double brassiere tops, guaranteed burst-proof seams, ample give through the hip lines, yet they fit so well they're perfect under the sheerest frock. Tearose and white. Sizes 32 to 44. $1.00.
In heavy satin or rayon taffeta, $1.95.

Light as a Feather—Jaunts (rayon undies)

Jaunty as their name — in a new rayon knit run-resist fabric. They can be laundered in a swish through suds jiffy — they fit your figure like a second skin — and they're so pretty in their lacey-striped pattern. Vests, knickers, panties, band-yoke and applied elastic waistband styles. In peachblush and white. Small, medium and large. 50c.

Pick Up Your Color Contrast with GLOVES

Dusty Pink — Heaven Blue — Terra Cotta — Wine Red — Green — Beige — Navy — Black — White — Emphasize the flower in your hat — the color of your blouse — your handbag — or the posy in your printed frock . . . that's the pretty way of doing things this Spring . . . And, goodness knows we've lots of colors for you to choose from! And in such pretty styles, too. Ever so many new fabrics fashion these gloves and we have the perennial favorite leatherette. Prices 75c and $1.00.

There's Nothing Like Something NEW TO WEAR To Cure Your Spring Fever.

Yours for a Slim Silhouette: Real Silk Undies

If you simply adore the luxurious feel of rich silk next to your skin — then you'll like Kayser's real silk undies, beautifully tailored to fit sleekly, smoothly, without a wrinkle under your frock.

"HONEYS" — almost as light as your silk hosiery — specially constructed to wear with evening frocks. Fine as they are there's Mileage in Milanes. Vests and panties, $1.00.

TWO and FOUR STAR — If you're interested in the finer things of life-like Quality and Distinction. Soft, pure dye silk and Kayser's fine workmanship in the loveliest, most lasting undies you could ask for . . . Depending on weight and style — prices $1.25 to $3.50.

SPOTLIGHT—Fashion's Highlight

Flaunt the smartest glove in town—Kayser's "SPOTLIGHT"! It's a charming new slipon with a flair for adding the "smart touch" to every type of costume. Tailored with simplicity in rich rayon "Kay-Spun" fabric. This washable Canadian made glove is only $1.
