

Pravda Defends K Policy

MOSCOW — (AP) — The Soviet public today avidly discussed a strong defence in Pravda of Premier Khrushchev's policies and its denunciation of his "leftist" critics.

The article by N. Matkovsky in Sunday's issue was called "The Ideological Weapon of Communism."

It said that some persons mistakenly consider such things as meetings between Communist and non-Communist chiefs of state—Khrushchev's much-discussed policy of summit diplomacy—a departure from Marxism and Leninism.

"Comrade Khrushchev has said, on questions of ideology we have firmly stood and will stand like a rock on the foundations of Marxism and Leninism," Matkovsky wrote.

Publication of the article and the discussion of it took public note that in the world Communist movement there has been some difference of opinion on policy.

MISTAKEN ASSERTIONS

The article said: "The course of socialist development is objective. Assertions of temporary leftists in the international Communist movement that, having taken power in their hands they can proceed immediately to communism, sidestepping definite historical stages of development, are mistaken and incorrect. Such assertions contradict Leninism."

(Although the article identified Khrushchev's opponents only as left-wing Communists, it appeared to refer to the "leftist" critics mentioned in the article.)

Marriage 'Joke' Taken Seriously

DUDLEY, England (Reuters) — Two young people who got married as a joke and then began taking it seriously have had their union dissolved—on the advice of their families' minister.

The marriage, complete with $140 worth of bridal trappings including gown, rings, best man and maid of honor, was performed by the "bride's" mother who arranged it to live up to a birthday party.

But afterward the "bride" and her "husband" began referring to each other as "my wife" and "my husband" and showing off their wedding rings.

That was too much for Rev. Ronald Crips. He suggested that the families terminate the "marriage."

After all, Pearl and Ralph are each only 9.

President Reaches Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska — (AP) — President Eisenhower, hailed warmly in Alaska, was to fly to the Philippines today on the next leg of a potentially perilous Far Eastern tour.

The risk of danger to the 69-year-old president is expected next Sunday on his scheduled arrival in Tokyo. There Japanese left-wing mobs egged on — perhaps now controlled — by Communists still are trying to prevent or disrupt the Eisenhower visit.

Eisenhower arranged to take off at 6:50 a.m. Anchorage time (1:50 p.m. ADT) aboard his jet airliner and arrive at Clark Field near the Philippine capital of Manila at 3:45 p.m. Manila time (4:45 a.m. ADT Tuesday) for a three-day visit.

The president arrived in sunny Anchorage, biggest city in the new 49th state, Sunday morning after a 3,700-mile non-stop flight from Washington.

REJECTED ADVICE

On leaving there, Eisenhower said he had rejected advice that he abandon or postpone his visit to Tokyo because of riotous demonstrations there against the visit, the U.S. - Japan security pact and the government of Premier Nobusuke Kishi.

He is going ahead, Eisenhower said, because the visit "represents an important phase of a program whose paramount objective was, and is, to improve the climate of international understanding."

At Anchorage Eisenhower was met by his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, who last week was besieged by a screaming Tokyo mob from which he narrowly escaped.

The press secretary still declined to make public the details of the scheduled June 19-22 Eisenhower stay in Tokyo. And Hagerty again refused to say whether he was satisfied that Kishi can make good his "guarantee" of Eisenhower's personal safety in the Japanese capital.

Buffalo Won't Shuffle Off

SANTA MARIA, Calif. (AP) — All the callers were apologetic. "I haven't had a drop to drink," a man telephoned the state highway patrol Sunday. "I don't expect you to believe this, but there's a buffalo on the highway near Nipomo and he won't let traffic by."

Patrolmen hurried 10 miles north of Nipomo.

The Buffalo standing in the middle of the southbound lane was real enough, and he was angry and determined that no car would get by him. Nobody knows just why.

Anyway, patrolmen were relieved when he jumped a fence, pursued by his owner, Jay Doty, who maintains a small herd of bison.

Confident Of Coping With Mob

TOKYO — (AP) — Some Japanese leftist groups appeared today to be backing away from massive airport demonstrations on the day President Eisenhower arrives in Tokyo, but the Communist party leadership was reported still threatening to mark the day with violence.

The headquarters of the leftist Sohyo labor federation said most members felt they should not demonstrate at the airport itself next Sunday.

Even the Communist wing of the Zengakuren student federation said it would refrain from such acts of violence as staged against Eisenhower's press secretary James Hagerty last Friday.

Japanese security officials went ahead with plans to mobilize 25,000 police to protect Eisenhower should mob action develop when he arrives on June 19.

A high Tokyo police official expressed confidence that the force would be able to cope with any mob action, but added: "No amount of security can guarantee there will be no incident from an individual terrorist."

The car that will carry Eisenhower and Emperor Hirohito on the 11-mile trip from the airport to the palace will be accompanied by 13 trucks loaded with 600 policemen, 52 motorcycle police plus six sidcar motorcycles, four radio cars and patrol cars.

Foot police will spread all along the route to the imperial palace, with orders to take strong action against any attempt at interference. Mobile units also will patrol along the route, and guards will be increased at the United States Embassy.

As a dress rehearsal of the security measures was held Sunday, police source said the Communist party had seized control of the campaign against the Eisenhower visit and the U.S.-Japan security treaty.

Claim Toll Hidden

JOHANNESBURG — (AP) — Local newspapers have accused South African authorities of concealing the full casualty toll from last week's clash between police and 400 Negro demonstrators in Pondoland.

The papers claimed police shot 29 Negroes to death and wounded 50 in the restive native reserve bordering Cape Province and Natal. Reporters said they had trouble getting into the area and that whites living there had been told by authorities to keep their mouths shut.

The justice ministry has reported that only six were killed and claimed police fired in self-defence. It blamed the outlawed African National Congress for the trouble.

The Durban Tribune gives the following account of the clash which followed a demonstration last Monday against the government plan to rule the Negroes through appointed chiefs:

More than 400 Negroes had assembled when a "Harvard aircraft" dive-bombed them with tear gas bombs.

Miles Of French Red Tape Too Much For Lost Crocodile

PARIS (AP) — French officials calmly talked an uncomplaining young crocodile to death last week.

The crocodile was playing quietly in a shallow river in suburban Saint Denis when it was spotted by a band of boys engaged in a water fight.

One of the boys fearlessly lifted it out of the water and cradled it in his arms during a trip to the police station. There it was dutifully noted as a lost object.

The particulars were carefully set down. It was about a yard long. About two years old. Color grey - green. Sex indefinite.

The crocodile lazed about the police station for most of a day. Mostly, it slept — and caused no trouble to anyone. But once, during a yawn, the crocodile bit a policeman's stiff-billed cap on a corner of a table.

Finally, the police bundled the crocodile off to the Vincennes Zoo. No one there was interested.

Crocodiles should go to the Museum of Overseas France, officials said.

Meantime, the inevitable police investigation got going. The sleuths learned that the crocodile had sneaked away from a circus.

Getting this information was more difficult for the police than getting word from the aquarium that their guest would be welcome there. Finally, however, the aquarium agreed to accept the crocodile. But before it could be moved, it died.

Now the body has been taken to the Museum of Natural History.

Anglican Bishop Criticizes Police

VERBENING, South Africa (Reuters)—Dr. Ambrose Reeves, Anglican Bishop of Johannesburg, said in a memorandum today that South African police deliberately fired into the backs of a fleeing crowd of Negroes at Sharpeville on March 21.

The memorandum from the bishop, who now is in Britain, was read at an inquiry here into the shootings, in which some 70 Negroes were killed.

Reeves described the shootings as "punitive" and not in self-defence as South African officials claimed.

Reeves left South Africa at the beginning of April, stating he had been warned that he might be arrested if he remained in the country.

Combines Report Warns Insurance Firms

Uniform Car Rates May Infringe Law

OTTAWA (CP) — A federal commission report gave strongly-worded advice today to one sector of Canada's automobile insurance business to abandon its system of compulsory uniformity in insurance premium rates.

The report by the restrictive trade practices commission said there is a "distinct possibility" that this practice may be a breach of the combines law.

Justice Minister Fulton, in making the report public, gave no indication of any immediate legal action.

Today's Chuckle

Once the world was slated to be destroyed by wrathful gods. Now it's a do-it-yourself project.

dealt mainly with the activities of so-called "boards" which fixed minimum premium rates for their member companies in various areas of Canada.

Named in the report were: Canadian Underwriters' Association, which established rates for member companies in Ontario, Quebec and the Atlantic provinces; Western Canada Insurance Underwriters' Association, which set member company rates in the three Prairie provinces; and the British Columbia Underwriters' Association.

The commission report said that although the share of member companies in the country's insurance business had dropped from 49 per cent in 1950-52 to 37.8 per cent in 1957, their actions had had "a substantial effect on the degree of competition in the automobile insurance business."

It indicated that one reason for the influence of rates set by the boards was the existence of "conferences" of other insurance companies operating in Ontario and Quebec, in the Prairie provinces and in B.C.

COLLABORATION EXISTS

The report said that while these conferences recommended — but did not endorse — premium rates for their members, there were varying degrees of collaboration across Canada between the board and conference organizations.

Each organization knew of rate changes to be made by the other, and conference rates "were generally set as a result of conscious price leadership" by the board organizations.

The commission's report made no recommendations for new legislation to deal with the situation. It said this field is entirely within the jurisdiction of provincial governments.

FEW PROVINCIAL LAWS

But it indicated that provincial laws on the subject are scanty. Only Nova Scotia had legislation in that field.

The combines commission did not completely oppose the existence of rating bureaus to do statistical research on auto insurance risks and costs so that premiums could be set at levels adequate to guarantee a company's solvency.

But it said there is no good

My Fair Lady Nets Russ Praise

MOSCOW (AP)—The musical My Fair Lady ended a two-month tour of the Soviet Union Sunday with another round of praise from audience and critics. Tass reported in a dispatch from Kiev. The Soviet news agency quoted critic Boris Ponomarenko as saying Kiev theatre-goers were impressed by the "artistic ingenuity and freshness of interpretation."

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — One of television's brightest ornaments disappeared from the air this week, never to reappear.

It was the Steve Allen show, the passing of which caused lament in many quarters. It was also a sad event for the Allen company, which gathered for a farewell party after the show Monday night.

There wasn't much gaiety, although two or three of the comedians performed. Allen thanked his fellow workers and expressed hope they would get together again.

Not much chance. The Allen show, unable to amass sizable ratings in the Monday night slot, was not renewed by the network. Allen himself expressed relief. He has spoken against the rigors of a weekly show, wanting to spread himself less thinly in the future.

TO MAKE TOUR

Allen and his wife, Jayne Meadows, will tour to publicize their film, College Confidential. They may make another movie and he will probably do occasional TV in the fall.

Funnymen Louis Nye and Don Knotts will remain in California. There's talk of a TV series for the pair. Nye did a role in the Bob Hope-Lucille Ball movie and will play Charlie's Aunt in Chicago.

Admittedly, the product of the Allen shows was uneven. But when the assembled comics got on a compatible theme and played with outrageous variation, the results could be as hilarious as anything the TV tube has produced.

The end of the Allen show was inevitable. It was impossible to come up with enough good comic ideas every week to maintain a high standard. But those who love to laugh can still bemoan that inevitability.

About Television

by Cynthia Lowry

NEW YORK (AP) — The television industry, which has been belted this year with scandals, investigations and criticism, now has been hit by the hardest body blow of all. It is accused of being fattening.

A physician at a conference held by the New York Academy of Sciences commented on the possible effects to the public's health in the combination of little exercise and "rich snacks" while TV-watching.

Obviously snacking is an accepted accompaniment to viewing. An ad agency, drumming up interest in a forthcoming program, has sent out an "Emmy watcher" kit which contains, in addition to a foam-rubber seat cushion, a half-pound box of chocolates.

I recall, however, that a survey made several months back showed potato chips to be first choice of munching viewers, with candy second.

Time was when the constant viewer could get a little exercise when he arose from his easy chair to switch channels. Today, however, it is estimated that there are some 3,000,000 sets equipped with remote controls, and the number is increasing steadily. Viewers with sets equipped with these electronic aids can change stations, adjust the sound volume — even turn off the set — without flexing more than a finger muscle.

Stanstead Guild Closing Banquet Held At Newport

NEWPORT — Members of Christ Anglican Church Guild of Stanstead and two guests, Mrs. Harry Farrow and Mrs. Galloway, were at the Nelson House for the season's closing banquet. Nineteen enjoyed the dinner.

A business meeting followed, with Mrs. Norman Chamberlain, Sr., presiding. Routine reports of the secretary and treasurer were heard. The card convener stated cards sent to the sick. The date of Sept. 24 was set as the date for the annual turkey supper in the parish hall and Dec. 3 for the Christmas sale and tea.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to planning the July 7 lawn supper, to be held on the Parish lawn, starting at five o'clock. Various committees were appointed for the supper, the home made food table, handicrafts and a white elephant table.

The next meeting will be held on Sept. 14 with Mrs. Maynard Sargent and Mrs. George Hatch, the hostesses, the place to be announced.

P.B. Buckland Of Way's Mills 92 Years Young

BARNSTON — Mr. and Mrs. John MacKinnon entertained on June 4 in honor of Mrs. MacKinnon's father, Mr. P. B. Buckland, of Way's Mills, who observed his 92nd birthday.

A large family party of about 40 from the ages of five months to 92 years gathered to offer their congratulations to this remarkable man who takes care of his own home and looks after a sizable garden. Having an excellent memory, his reminiscences of the olden days were most interesting to the family.

Mr. Buckland's daughter, Mrs. Mackinnon and Mrs. I. K. Lowry of Montreal, and daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. B. Buckland, served tea on the lawn.

Two sisters, Mrs. Claribel Buckland, 89, and Miss Mary Buckland, 82, of Coaticook, were among the guests.

Relatives Fete Sweetsburg Couple

SWEETSBURG — On the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Jay M. Ladd spent a few days in Magog and also were entertained at a delightful anniversary dinner party for 35 relatives held at the home of their son, Maro 'Hap' Ladd, and Mrs. Ladd, 116 St. Charles Street, Granby.

Ornaments befitting the occasion were used on the table, which was centred with a decorated wedding cake, made by the daughters of the honored couple, Leila, Mrs. Stanley Peron, of this village, and Vera, Mrs. Wallace Coburn, of Granby.

On entering the living room, Mrs. J. M. Ladd was presented with an orchid corsage by her eldest granddaughter, Alta, Mrs. Keith Dryden, of Cowansville, while the groom received a boutonniere from his eldest grandchild, Richard Ladd.

The happy couple expressed thanks for the dinner and many useful and attractive gifts presented to them by those present and by others unable to attend.

RICHMOND

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilkins, of Montreal, spent the weekend with Mr. G. B. Husk, Mrs. F. Fontaine, of Montreal, also spent a few days with her father, Mr. Husk.

"Nope, there ain't any natives around here. I've lived here always, so I reckon I'd know!"

COATICOOK

The Tanguay Block on Cutting Street has now been completely vacated of tenants in preparation for the demolition of the building for the extension of the Post Office facilities.

The land around the new Tucker Plastic factory has been levelled and graded by bulldozers and the plant is now completed and ready for occupancy.

Mr. George Engelhardt and Mr. Archie Fraser represented the Coaticook Home and School Association at a regional gathering of H. and S. groups.

Mr. John Nils Drolet suffered a broken thumb on his right hand during a ball game.

A successful paper drive was held on June 4 when members of the Scouts and Cubs, assisted by committee members and parents, picked up a fair amount of scrap paper. Another pick-up will be held later this season.

Political Rallies Tonight

Campaign Meetings Reach High Pitch During The Week

By CUTHBERT JONES
(Record Staff Writer)

With slightly more than a week of campaigning remaining until the Quebec electors go to the polls on June 22, a week from Wednesday, political enthusiasts can pretty well select their favorite type of meeting on any particular night.

For instance, tonight sees three major rallies scheduled in the Sherbrooke area, two of which are aimed essentially at the English-speaking voters.

Headlining the program is a Union National meeting in the Mitchell School, opposite Portland Square, at eight, the main speaker being Finance Minister J. S. Bourque, the Government candidate in Sherbrooke County.

The Liberals of Richmond County have slated an English meeting at the Richmond Town Hall tonight at which the speakers will include their candidate in Richmond, J. Emilian Lafrance, Glen Brown, Brome, and Paul Earl, Notre Dame de Grace.

Charles Lemieux, Independent Union Nationale candidate in Sherbrooke, is holding a rally at Saint Sacrament hall, East Sherbrooke at 8:30 tonight.

TRADE MINISTER

Tomorrow night, Hon. Paul Beaulieu, Minister of Trade and Commerce in the Quebec cabinet, will pay a visit to the Sherbrooke area, addressing a rally for Denis Gerin, UN candidate in Stanstead, at Ste. Marguerite Marie church hall at Magog, and for Hon. J. S. Bourque at St. Sacrament hall in Sherbrooke.

Also addressing tomorrow night's rally at St. Sacrament hall will be Mr. Bourque and Maurice Allard, M.P. for Sherbrooke.

Liberal candidate L. P. Brousseau will speak at St. Jeanne d'Arc hall Tuesday.

Union Nationale activities in this district will be suspended for Wednesday to allow the faithful to participate in the monster rally scheduled by Premier Antonio Barrette in Montreal Wednesday night. Special arrangements are being made to transport groups of local supporters to the Montreal gathering.

But Mr. Lemieux will continue his campaign with a meeting at Ste. Jeanne d'Arc church hall, on Galt Street West, on Wednesday at 8:30 p.m.

Mr. Brousseau will hold an English meeting in the High School at 8:30.

Denis Gerin, UN candidate in Stanstead, is making a direct appeal to the English voters of his county with an informal social evening at Cabana Lodge in Magog from eight to ten Thursday evening.

At this gathering, Mr. Gerin will discuss the problems facing the county and the work he has accomplished in his 12 years at Quebec.

Accompanying Mr. Gerin will be Wesley Bradley, Q.C., of Montreal and Sherbrooke.

A buffet supper will be served during the evening.

Magog Blood Clinic Wednesday

For the seventh time in seven years, the Red Cross will hold a blood donor clinic in Magog, on Wednesday, June 15, at the Armouries, 247 Main Street from 2 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. This was announced today by Dr. J. L. Bergeron, chairman of the Blood donor committee.

The first two-day clinic held in September 1953 was a most successful one, when 427 residents of the town and district of Magog contributed to the blood bank. During the six previous clinics a total of 1,57444 pints of blood have been collected. The objective for the June 15 clinic has been set at 200 pints.

Organizers of the clinic besides Dr. Bergeron, are, Dr. J. A. Bryant, vice-president; Miss Claire Carriere, secretary and Miss F. Brown in charge of a group of volunteers who will assist Red Cross personnel in the registration of donors. They will also serve refreshments.

The University of Sherbrooke constitutes a shining example of understanding, unity and tolerance which runs in the blood of all Canadians . . . without distinction of race or creed . . . a magnificent movement of solidarity." Visiting Sherbrooke

Mid-East Patriarch Lashes Communism

Mer Ignatius Yacoub III, Patriarch and spiritual leader of some 2,000,000 members of the Syrian Orthodox Church throughout the world, yesterday afternoon endorsed recent persecution of Communism in the United Arab Republic.

His Holiness was replying to questions on the influence of Communism on people of the Syrian Orthodox faith in the Middle East, asked during a press conference in Sherbrooke.

The Patriarch is in Sherbrooke for about 12 days as part of his first trip to North America since his elevation to Patriarch in October, 1957.

Speaking mostly in English (His Holiness is fluent in the language as well as Arabic, Syriac, and Malayalam, an Indian dialect) he insisted the Iraqi government has never been truly in favor of Communism in spite of early affiliations for reasons of obtaining power.

By NICK POWELL
(Record Staff Reporter)

Syria, he said, at the moment is maintaining active persecution against Communism. Any diatribes against the west, he added, are never levelled against Canada, but rather the United States.

"We do not want Communism," he said, speaking as Patriarch. "Nor do we want Communists. "One of our own priests was found actively involved with a group of rebellious Communists. We excommunicated him right away. We will not tolerate any such activities by our priests. Any doings concerning with politics are out!"

Patriarch Yacoub, who employs the plural "we" when speaking, will be travelling next through to Detroit and on through the United States where a new Archdiocese was established three years ago, the first act following his elevation. Prior to the time all the eight churches and 30 stations in America came under the administration of an Apostolic delegate.

The Sherbrooke Syrian Orthodox Church, St. Ephrem, on 13th Avenue, South, he said, is the only church of that denomination in Canada. It includes some families from Montreal and the remainder of the Eastern Townships comprising about 1,500 parishioners.

Action Against Polio

The need for continued action against polio is being stressed by both the Health Department in Ottawa and by the Health League of Canada.
 And the best way to take action is for all persons to receive vaccinations of Salk Vaccine.
 The Department reported Friday that there were 107 cases of polio from the first of the year to June 4. In the same period last year there were only 39 cases reported. There have been seven deaths this year compared with eight in the same period in 1959.
 Officials of the department have said that while this shapes up as a high incidence year it is expected that the rate will level out comparable with last year.
 This is not particularly encouraging however, since in 1959 there were 1,870 cases, second only to the epidemic year of 1953 when there were 4,000 cases reported across Canada.

 The Quebec Department of Health has placed vaccine at the disposal of municipal health departments and Provincial health units. Free clinics are operating throughout the province.
 But the Health League warns that the public should not rely solely on health departments nor postpone till tomorrow what can be done today. Public health agencies, they point out, have no monopoly on Salk Vaccine. Physicians in private practice and those employed by many industries can also obtain vaccine on the open market.
 The main thing is to assure that the vaccine is obtained and used by as many people as possible before it is too late.

An Object Lesson

An object lesson to school boards everywhere lies in a project now underway in Mexico.
 Between now and school opening in September that country proposes to build 2,000 one-room rural schools.
 The program was launched in March when the first 200 "model rural classrooms" were dispatched to locations throughout the country. Pre-fabricated elements for 20 such schools are now going out daily.
 By use of some pre-fabrication plus local materials and manpower, cost is being kept to 35,000 pesos or about $2800 per school.

 Each school is erected in several stages but the procedure is always the same. First, villagers chosen by a Federal Construction Committee prepare the ground and lay the foundation and floor. The committee then sends them the metal framework.
 When this is in place the villagers erect the walls and put on the roofing. The committee then arranges for electrical and sanitary equipment to be installed.
 In this way a school for 50 pupils can be built in two weeks.

Money Goes West

Allister Grosart, national director of the Progressive Conservative party, is somewhat philosophic about $1,000 of his money "going west," as the result of a bet on the results of the Saskatchewan general election.
 "It is the first election bet I ever lost and I suppose there has to be a first time for everything," he said during a Toronto interview.

He made the wager with W. C. Fines, former Saskatchewan Provincial Treasurer. Mr. Grosart bet that the Conservatives would win at least one seat in Wednesday's Saskatchewan elections. All the Conservative candidates were beaten.
 "Even with this, I'm still a little ahead on election bets," said Mr. Grosart.

but the play is still correct. Defending against four hearts in the bridge game at the World Bridge Olympic, Sam Stayman opened the four of clubs.
 The king was played from dummy. Morty Rubinow, sitting East, won with the ace and shifted to the seven of diamonds. South took the trick and played ace, ten and queen of hearts. A club and two diamonds were thrown from dummy and when Sam won with the king Morty let the deuce of spades go.
 Sam led a diamond and dummy's ace won the trick. The jack of clubs held the next trick when Morty refused to put up the queen and the ten of clubs was led next. Again Morty refused to cover and Sam ruffed. Meanwhile South had discarded two of his four spades.
 At this point, Sam could have beaten the hand two tricks by leading the king of spades, but

Study New Mode Of Gas Export

OTTAWA (CP)—A cloud of natural gas on the economic horizon is being watched intently by Canadian petroleum experts in government and industry.
 The cloud consists of methane, chief component of natural gas, chilled by temperatures of 253 degrees below zero Fahrenheit and shipped by sea in liquid form.
 The 2,000-ton Methane Pioneer, a test project, has made at least six voyages to Britain from the United States with the liquefied gas and some authorities speculate that as many as 50 large-sized gas tankers may be operating within 10 years.
 Possibilities of good news and bad exist for Canada in the experiment with chilled natural gas. If the system proves economically feasible, ocean tankers might stimulate Canadian gas exports. This applies particularly to areas beyond the economic reach of pipelines, perhaps in the Arctic archipelago which some regard as likely to be among the top eight petroleum basins in the world.

On the other hand, the refrigerated tanks before being allowed to vaporize again.
 Backers of the scheme are the Continental Oil Company, Union Stock Yard and Transit Company of Chicago and the Gas Council of Great Britain. Canadian Shell Limited, owned by Dutch Shell, also is a participant in the project which up to the Spring of last year had cost more than $11,000,000.
 The United Kingdom, Japan and continental Europe are regarded as the best potential markets for liquefied gas. The tankers would have to be several times the size of the Methane Pioneer and it has been calculated that their cost would run about twice that of conventional oil tankers. There is less concern about obtaining quantities of low-cost gas.

 Venezuela last year is estimated to have flared off 600 billion cubic feet of gas—or 10.5 per cent of the quantity of natural gas authorized April 1 by the federal cabinet for export by Canada to the United States in the next 20 to 25 years.
 The Middle East is a substantial gas waste too with French companies investigating both pipelines and refrigerator ships as means of getting surplus Sahara desert gas to European markets.
 Offers have already been made for Venezuelan gas at 10 cents and seven cents per 1,000 cubic feet. This compares with the 13 1/2 cents paid by Trans-Canada Pipe Line Limited in its last contracts, drawn up to obtain gas for export to the U.S. midwest.

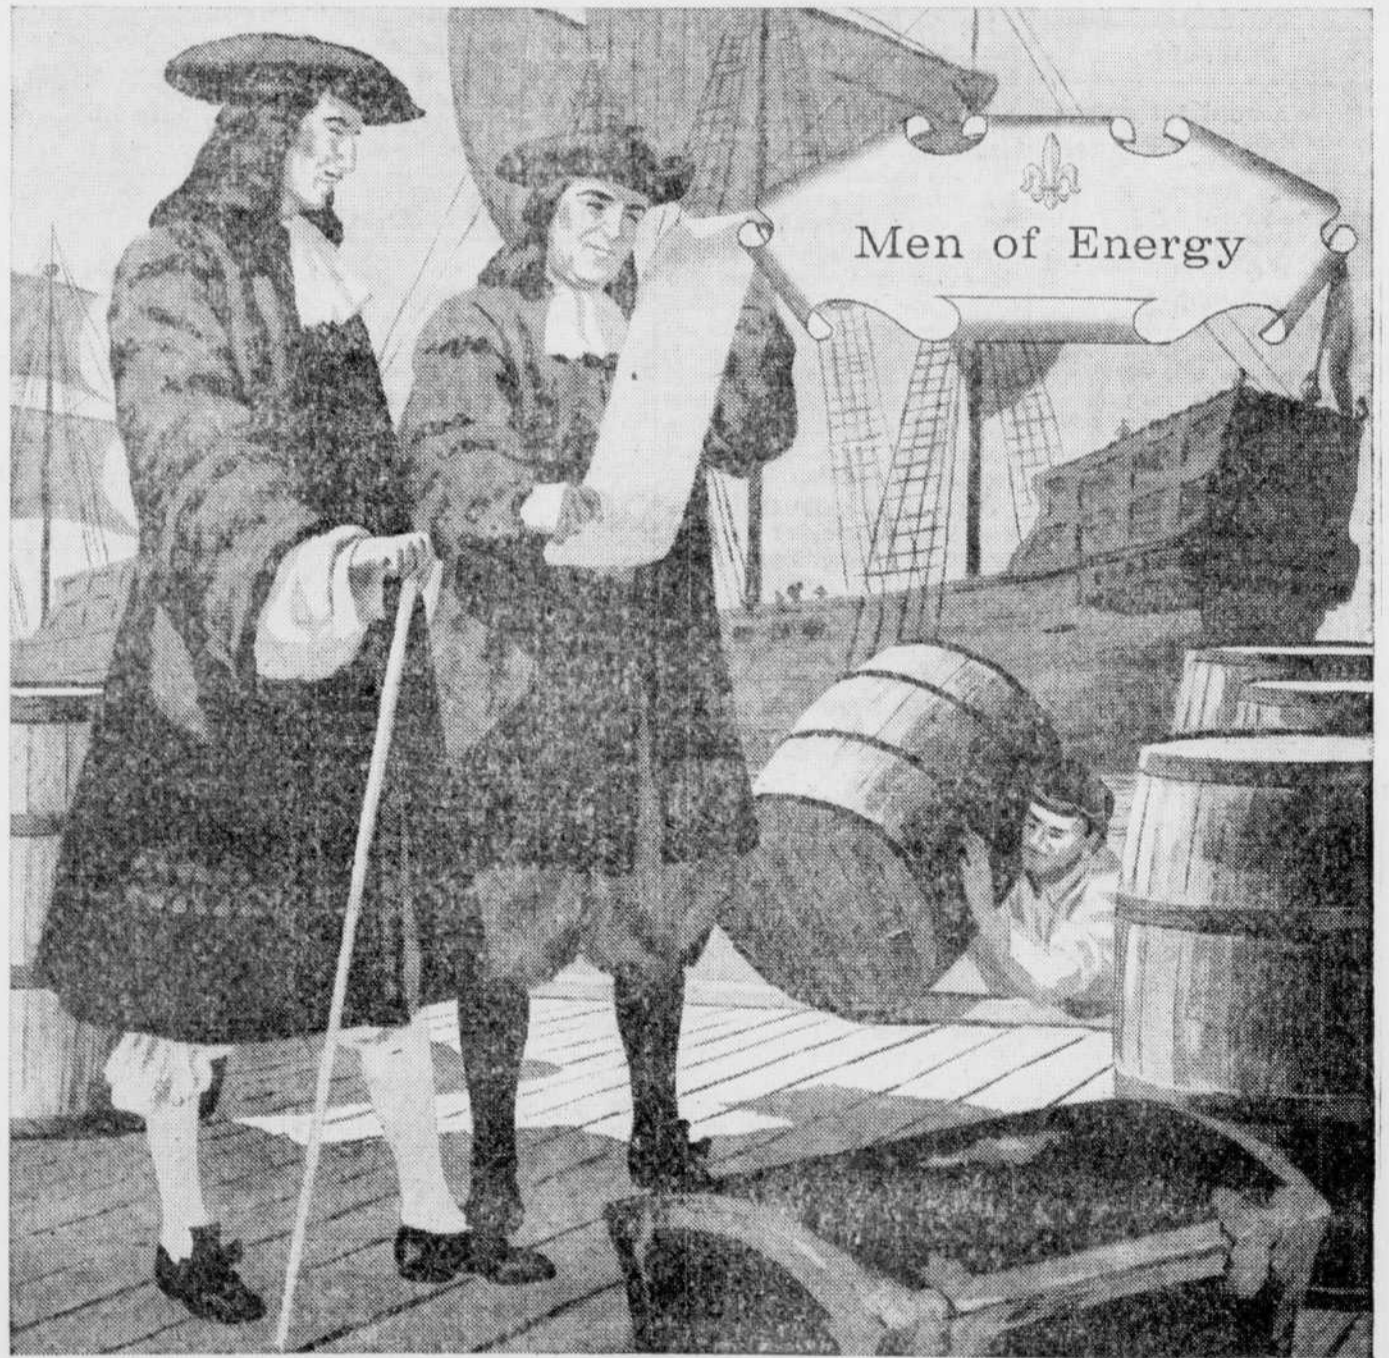

Report From Ottawa

by Clyde Blackburn

OTTAWA — in Washington recently a basic document relating to Canada-United States trade negotiations, was made available for public distribution.
 This is a customary procedure.
 In the House of Commons Mr. Pearson asked Trade Minister Churchill if he knew about this document and if it could be tabled. Also a normal procedure.
 Mr. Churchill did not say whether he had the document but said he understood it was not a final thing.
 Hardly a normal procedure. Surely, he needed only to have said he would see what he could do about tabling it.
 But he did not. And Mr. Pearson pursued. He said the document was advertised in Washington as available to all who asked for it. Surely it could be made available to members of the House.
 Mr. Churchill said, in effect, that Mr. Pearson could get it in Washington. I am not quoting Mr. Churchill but have his actual words which make him appear more impolite than my report does.
 And so it went from there.

Paul Martin, William Benidickson and George McIlraith got into the act on the Liberal side. They drew in Finance Minister Fleming and Howard Green, external affairs ministers.
 They seemed unable to believe that the government would give them such a scornful brush-off on such a simple and ordinary request.
 People in the galleries, some of them at least, had the same feeling of unreality as the government members put on this act of contempt of the opposition.
 Liberals were so flabbergasted they had to pause for breath several times during the long, time-wasting interlude and let other matters go on while they thought up fresh material for attack.
 Mr. Fleming, who only a few years ago accepted banishment from the House rather than buckle under a Liberal-organized stricture of the opposition, was most polite.
 When appealed to on this issue he said he had not seen the document but would see if it was in his department. But he maintained cabinet solidarity by assuring the House Mr. Churchill would do the right thing.
 Mr. Green simply said, when they appealed to him, that his colleagues had done whatever was necessary.
 Then, in grief and outraged helplessness, Mr. Martin appealed to Mr. Speaker to say that privileges of members had been violated by the attitude of the ministers.
 Mr. Fleming immediately protested that his words had been distorted.
 "I raise the same objection," Mr. Churchill said.
 "I too," said Mr. Green.
 For some reason this raised a hullabaloo of laughter that even extended to the galleries.
 And the Liberals simply threw up their hands.
 This is what goes on these mornings when the House is sitting extra hours to speed up work on the Queen's affairs.

No. 4 of the series MEN OF ENERGY

Jean Talon

When Louis XIV reorganized the administration of New France in 1663, he gave the important responsibilities of finance, justice and local government to the intendant. Two years later, Intendant Talon arrived, the man who is considered to be the greatest administrator in the colony's history.
 Talon was one of the few representatives of the central authorities who dreamed of a French Empire in North America, and who conceived of a plan to realize that dream. Unfortunately the enthusiasm of Talon met with the barely concealed indifference of the king and his minister, Colbert.
 However, Talon could not be prevented from doing all he could with the scanty means at his disposal.

Colonization, establishment of the export trade, creation of the crafts industry, naval construction, efforts to unify the territories; these are the works he undertook... projects which he did not have the satisfaction of completing.
 Before Talon's arrival in 1663, French colonization in North America was in a precarious state. Nobody could be certain that the French were on the St. Lawrence River to stay. But when Talon left in 1672, there was no doubt about it. Thus was the importance of his work proved.
 An energetic personality, an incomparable administrator, Talon is among those who laid the foundations of present-day Quebec, whose achievements are beyond number.

Storm, Winds Hit Ontario

SARNIA, Ont. (CP)—A vicious thunderstorm packing 100-mile-an-hour winds knifed through a 30-mile strip of southwestern Ontario Saturday, causing more than $1,000,000 damage.

At Sarnia airport the gale tossed aircraft about like toys, destroying three damaging one and demolishing a newly constructed hangar. Damage was estimated at $100,000.

The winds, accompanied by torrential rain and hailstones, the size of golfballs, cut a swath through the rich farming area at Wallaceburg, 30 miles south of here.

The 20-minute storm peeled off barn sections like paper, lifted corn cribs from their foundations and carried some as far as a mile away.

Damage to property and crops is estimated at $1,000,000. Damage to telephone and hydro facilities was heavy.

Rigid Formulas In Petty Details Sees Tax Law Good But Archaic

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—Canada's federal tax administration was praised Sunday as honest, intelligent and humane, but details of the tax law itself were called "somewhat archaic."

W. G. Leonard, professor of commerce at Queen's University, told the Canadian Association of Schools of Commerce and Business Administration that the tax law lays down rigid formulas in petty details. The association is clear cut co-ordination of the corporate income tax with the individual income tax.

Should be integrated — Professor Leonard said a corporation should either be regarded as a separate person and taxed as an individual or it should be taxed as an association of individual shareholders.

Corporation taxes should be fully integrated with taxation of the individuals who own shares in the corporation.

Until it is decided which of these two theories is to be applied, no logical or efficient system of taxation is possible.

Professor Leonard said tax on income is the most equitable that can be devised, and allows for precise adjustment.

UNIFORM CAR RATES

reason why a company with lower losses or higher efficiency than the industry as a whole should not deviate from rates suggested by a rating bureau.

Dealing with rate-fixing by the three boards in 1959-62, the report said it would appear that these rates "ruled the market in the Atlantic provinces, were of preponderant influence in British Columbia and Ontario, and of lesser importance in Alberta and Manitoba."

COMPETITION ELSEWHERE

"In Saskatchewan and Quebec there was a substantial degree of rate competition."

In the Atlantic provinces during that period, board rates applied to more than 90 per cent of insurance sold in Newfoundland, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick and to more than 95 per cent in Prince Edward Island.

It said that the boards could not set unreasonably high premium rates. Competition from non-member companies was a deterrent to this.

"However, it must be remembered that board rates are still mandatory for board members, and no doubt still have some influence on conference rates and on the rates charged by some independent companies."

Lesage Sees Education Main Need

QUEBEC (CP)—Liberal Leader Jean Lesage said Sunday night education is Quebec's most pressing problem.

Campaigning in Victoriaville, 75 miles southwest of Quebec City, for the June 22 provincial election, Mr. Lesage said the Union Nationale government has financially strangled the municipalities and school commissions.

He said the Liberals will give back the municipalities and school commissions their autonomy and prepare a just redistribution of provincial revenues.

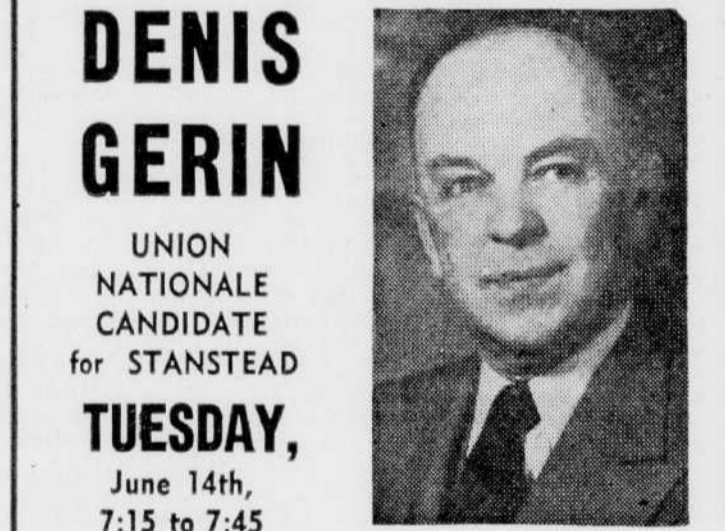

Premier Antonio Barrette, campaigning for votes in Valleyfield, 35 miles southwest of Montreal, said his government wants priority rights over the federal government in certain fields of taxation.

Speaking for 65 minutes at an open-air meeting, the premier criticized Mr. Lesage for having said in 1954 in the House of Commons that the provinces have no prior rights in direct taxation.

"In Quebec," he said, "we have sovereign taxation rights. To exercise these there must be fiscal priority in certain fields. We must have well defined powers."

He said a Liberal government has given away some of the province's taxation powers in 1942 and the Liberals, in opposition for the last 16 years, had opposed every Union Nationale effort to recover them.

Large Audience At City Piano Recital

Pupils of Mrs. Mildred Lergie Sampson, L. Mus. Mus. Bac. presented a most enjoyable piano recital last Thursday night in Plymouth United Church Hall before a large and appreciative group of parents and friends.

New Method Of Game Counting In Tanganyika

NAIROBI (Reuters) — A new method of counting game is being used in the Ngorongoro conservation area of Tanganyika. A long-focus telephoto lens is used to take photographs of game concentrations from the rim of the crater in which large herds of game are found.

Wildbeest and other game can be identified and counted up to 12 miles away by this method. By relating the picture to a map of the crater, the density of the game per square mile can be estimated with considerable accuracy.

Moral: Finish Work First, Then Bow to Spring Fever

It's hard to stick at an indoor job, like sitting at a desk writing a column, on a day when the sky is blue and cloudless, the air is fragrant with spring, and bird are sitting in the highest tree branches singing their heads off.

The out-of-doors calls so persuasively that you keep getting up and going to the window to watch the birds taking a "break" at the bird feeder—the cardinals eating at the table and the trim doves feeding on the ground, content with whatever the other birds scatter for them to scratch for.

It reminds you of how your mind used to wander when you were a kid in grade school and spring outside made sitting at a desk seem almost unbearable.

You sat in your seat but stared out of the window, with your mind on skipping rope, and "playing out" at dusk with all the kids in the neighborhood.

Run, sheep, run and hide-and-go-seek were always spring favorites in those days and bedtime al-sheath dress of beige organza over flowered nylon with matching three quarter length coat, beige hat, and wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church hall where the wedding banquet was served by the church Guild.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Hickman left by motor for the Eastern States and New York City, the bride wearing a green, figured terylene dress with green velvet coat, beige accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Upon their return they will reside in Ville Le Moyne.

Out of town guests were present from London, Toronto, and Cornwall, Ont., Lachute Montreal, Three Rivers, Huntingdon, Coaticook, Sherbrooke, Drummondville, Marbleton, Richmond and Asbestos, Que.

Beauty Tips

Girls who wear their hair pulled tightly back in a severe hair style should occasionally change the way they arrange their tresses. Pulling the hair back taut from the forehead constantly can cause a receding hairline.

If you're looking at yourself critically before going out on a date, don't depend on a flat mirror. You may look wonderful facing it, but don't leave the house without a good back look at yourself.

Old, New Look In Hair Styles

By PEGGY MASSIN
 PARIS (Reuters) — Paris hair styles for 1960 are like the proverbial bride who wears "something old and something new, something borrowed and something blue."

Trends incorporate classic up-swept styling adapted in new abstract ways. False hair and fake chignons have been borrowed to lend a long-haired look to short locks. The proverb is complete with blue and dark ash rinses replacing honey blonde shades as the most popular hair coloring.

Today's connotation of the word "wardrobe" no longer is confined to dresses hanging in the cupboard. "Hair wardrobes" are the newest idea, ranging from wigs to numberless small artificial pieces. Pony tails can be draped and coiled at will. Braided chignons, caged under cobweb sheer nets, come ready shaped by Paris hairdressers. Gay little fringed bangs or side wings, set on invisible hairpins, permit endless new effects and variations.

Long hair now is comparatively rare. Over the years, bleaching and permanent waves have weakened women's crowning glory, and it is rare to see the lustrous waist-length hair which was the order of the day until bobbed and shingled styles took over in the 1920s. Medical experts also agree that the growth of hair slows down considerably when a woman is over 30.

Because Paris whimsically dictates a long-haired look, false pieces are at present as commonplace as lipstick and other cosmetics.

Casually groomed and curly hair is out today, in favor of sleek, up-swept styles. Ruffing and teasing the hair by back-combing gives body and bulk, frequently avoiding the need for a permanent wave. Short locks at the nape of the neck are crossed, twisted over a rat-tailed comb, and held in place by a retaining spray of lacquer.

"BUT I NEVER USE ACIDS!"
 My lady customer was quite indignant when she made the remark to me. She had bought a dress in for cleaning. Final inspection had revealed damage down one side of the dress. Naturally we drew it to her attention. We knew the damage was caused by acid.

I questioned her about the scouring compounds she used, what her husband did for a living, if she had had trouble while driving. Finally I learned that she had changed her brand of deodorant. She agreed to bring the product to us. Laboratory tests proved that this deodorant had to be thoroughly dry before being safe for all fabrics.

Acid is present in many products in daily use. . . . Storage batteries, deodorants, scouring compounds . . . are some of the commonest in homes. Acid damage is often not noticeable until the garment is laundered or dry cleaned. Even the weakest concentrations can damage fabrics.

When you use deodorants, be sure that it is really dry before you finish dressing. When you use other products that contain acids or acid forming compounds, be sure that you wear old clothes. If you have an accident, get the garment to us as soon as possible. We'll do our best to reduce the damage. Our expert dry cleaning and pressing service makes your clothes look better . . . last longer.

Willie McCovey Rises To Occasion With Grand Slammer To Give Giants 16-7 Win Over Braves, Pirates Split

You have to hand it to Willie McCovey. That boy can rise to the occasion.

Manager Billy Rigney had McCovey riding the bench. In fact, he was hitting only 244 when he came to the plate Sunday with the bases loaded and San Francisco clinging to a shaky 7-6 lead over Milwaukee.

McCovey slammed a Carl Willey fast ball out of the ball park for the first grand slammer of his brief major league career. However, it was his 11th home run of the year. His runs batted in is 38, not bad for a bench warmer.

Naturally, the Giants went on to win after this fine effort and whipped Milwaukee 16-7. The victory moved the Giants within a half game of the first place Pittsburgh Pirates who divided two at St. Louis. The Pirates bombed the Cubs for 23 hits in a 15-3 first game romp but then lost the second 5-2, despite 10 more hits.

FOUR-HITTER

Stan Williams, the Los Angeles strong man, won his sixth straight over a two-year span—(Five this year)—with a four-hitter against Cincinnati 3-1. Always known as a wild man, Williams walked but one and struck out eight. Richie Ashburn's 10th inning single enabled the Chicago Cubs to shade the last place Philadelphia Phillies 8-7 in an uphill fight.

The Giants' game was a wild affair with a total of 31 hits. They set a new National League record and tied the major league mark by playing a nine-inning game in three hours 52 minutes. They topped the old National mark by two minutes.

Bob Schmidt had a perfect day for the Giants with two doubles, a single and a walk and Willie Mays had two doubles and a single among the 18 Giant hits.

Chuck Dressen, Milwaukee manager, started George Brunet, a left-hander brought up Saturday from Louisville. He lasted 3 2/3 innings before the parade started. Ron Piche, the second of five Brave pitchers was the loser. Billy Loe, second of five to work for the Giants, was the winner.

PIRATES HIT HARD

Dick Stuart had five hits, including two homers, and Dick Groat and Smoky Burgess had four each among the 23 collected by the Pirates in the first game at St. Louis, while Vern Law won his ninth in a breeze. Ernie Broglio, with ninth-inning help from Lindy McDaniel, hung the second game defeat on Vinegar Bend Mizell, an old teammate. The games were watched by 29,065, the largest St. Louis crowd since 1938.

Don Demeter's home run off Jay Hook eased the way for Williams at Los Angeles. The only Cincy score was Eddie Kasko's homer over the left field screen in the seventh.

Tony Taylor, a former Cub contributed a throwing error that set up the winning run for the Cubs in the 10th inning of their game with the Phils. Ashburn's single drove it home. Mark Freeman was the winner on relief and Humberto Robinson dropped his fifth straight, also on relief.

European Davis Cup Semi-Finals To Start In July

LONDON (AP)—Favored Italy goes against Britain and France takes on Sweden in the semi-final round of the European zone Davis Cup competition next month.

The Italy-Britain match will be played at Birmingham, England, on July 14-16, while the France-Sweden match is scheduled for Stockholm July 15-17.

All the semi-finalists gained their berths over the weekend. Italy had a rough time with Chile, winning out, 3-2, while Britain routed Belgium, 5-0.

France likewise shut out Denmark, 5-0, and Sweden coasted to a 4-1 victory over West Germany.

Natural GOLF No. 33 — Downswing

By JIMMY DEMARET

The all-important first move back to the ball is led by the hips, which in turn bring the arms, hands and clubhead down in that order.

The wrists remain cocked, the knees flexed at the start.

The hands unleash all the power transmitted to them by the legs, hips and arms and the wrists uncock as they reach a point directly over the ball.

Even though the hips have carried the swing past the point of impact, the general position of the entire body remains "behind" the progress of the clubhead. This seeming body lag is common to all good swings. If the feet, knees, hips, shoulders, hands and club have worked as a single force, the player will be able to stand in this position indefinitely, perfectly balanced.

This permits him to enjoy the thrill of a completely spent rhythmic, powerful swing.

American League Top Teams Have Tough Sunday, Orioles Lose Two, Rains Help Indians To Take Over

The American League's first-division clubs spent most of Sunday in reverse gear. Baltimore Orioles lost two games, Chicago White Sox dropped into fifth place and New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians bowed to rain.

By the simple process of sitting in the clubhouse while it rained, Cleveland took over undisputed possession of first place, a half-game or 22 percentage points ahead of the Orioles.

Detroit Tigers edged into fourth place by splitting two games with Washington despite three home runs by the Senators' Jim Lemon. Boston dropped Chicago behind the Tigers and learned two hours later that Mike Higgins was returning for another tour as Red Sox manager.

The Orioles had a chance to pick up ground in the league race but fell twice before Kansas City Athletics, 6-1 and 5-3 in 10 innings.

Pitcher Bud Daley tamed the Birds in the opener, allowing five hits and striking out 11 men. It was his eighth victory, the last seven in succession. Harry Chitt's two-run double and three hits by Russ Snyder paced the Kansas City attack on Chuck Estrada and Gordon Jones.

Snyder's 385-foot triple off Hoyt Wilhelm touched off the winning spurt in the 10th inning of the second game. Whitey Herzog's single and Norm Siebern's double drove in two runs, enough for relief pitcher Johnny Kucks' first victory.

A crowd of about 52,000, largest Yankee Stadium turnout of the year, waited in vain for the rain to stop after the Yanks had taken a 1-0 lead in the first inning of the opener of scheduled doubleheader with Cleveland. The idle Indians passed the Orioles and the Yanks edged to within 1 1/2 games of the top.

First-Place Kist Downs Indians 10-6 While Canucks Edge Brompton 4-3 In Two Tilts Played Last Night

Kist posted a 10-6 victory over Indians at the Municipal Stadium while Coaticook Canadians edged Brompton Royals 4-3 at Coaticook in two exciting Junior League tilts played last night.

Kist retains the lead in the loop's standings with a 1,000 percentage while Coaticook moves into a tie for second with Fuller, both teams having a .667 percentage.

In the Indian-Kist fixture, the hosting Kist club exploded for six runs in the third inning after a scoreless first two. Doyon, Aury, Lebel, Fortier, Provencier and Palardy were the marksmen for the hosts, tallying thanks to three hits, two walks and one error.

In the fourth frame, neither squad could score due to some excellent pitching by Indians' Desbien and Kist's Tanguy. It was evident at this stage in the game that pitching would be a major factor in deciding the victor.

The top of the fifth saw the visitors rack up three runs when Desrochers, Lanthier and Marquis crossed the plate. For the remainder of the fifth and top of the sixth, each team held off the other and the score remained 6-3.

Kist started another scoring spree in the bottom of the sixth when Doyon, Aury, Perrault, and Letarte tallied with four hits off hurler Desbien.

In the top of the seventh, the Redmen tried desperately to score the needed seven runs out could only pull off three. Desrochers, Goody Robinson and Moreau chalked up the three, bringing the final tally to Kist 10, Indians 6.

In Coaticook, the hosting Canadians team edged Brompton Royals 4-3 in a thriller. Louis Michaud was the winning pitcher for the hosts, whiffing ten batters and allowing nine hits. Losing hurler for Brompton was Bibeau.

Pinky Higgins Returns As Manager Of Boston Red Sox Succeeding Jurges Who Had Replaced Him Last Summer

BOSTON (AP)—Michael Francis Pinky Higgins returned Sunday as field manager of the Boston Red Sox, succeeding Billy Jurges who had replaced him last summer.

The announcement from owner Tom Yawkey came two hours after the last place Boston club defeated Chicago 4-1.

Higgins, who was taken off the job last July "regrettably" comes back under the terms of a "gentlemen's agreement." The salary was not revealed.

As in Higgins' previous term which began in 1955 no time limit is included in the understanding.

Higgins will rejoin the team to start a road trip either tonight or Tuesday morning depending on how soon he can get a flight reservation from his Dallas home.

Since he was replaced, Higgins has been serving in the capacity of a special assistant to Yawkey, working out of the southwest area.

Ol' Archie Moore All Huffed Up Because Paul Pender Has Nerve To Challenge Him, Criticizes Sugar Ray

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Wrestle-O-Reenie is brought down. It is angled at 90 degrees and bears 500 pounds of pressure per square inch.

"When I bring this punch down the heels of the other man go up," smiled Moore.

Archie said he thought Robinson outpointed Pender Friday, but he doesn't feel sorry for the sugar man.

"He's a contemptible fellow," Moore said. "I watched him in the ring before the fight. Jack Sharkey came to shake his hand. Robinson ignored him. And what he did to Joe Louis was disgraceful. He all but turned away from him."

"Joe Louis paved the way for guys like Robinson and me," said Archie, speaking of the great Negro heavyweight. "We could not start to repay him."

Archie, a 206½-pound tower of jello in his last bout, said he'll have a new look when he meets Eric Schoepner for the 175-pound title next month. Archie gave this reason why he picked up the extra blubber:

"I was just trying to prove that fat men have their place in the world, too."

Italy Assigns Small Army To Olympics

ROME (AP)—Italy has assigned a small mechanized army—complete with naval and air units—to help stage the summer Olympic games.

Italian military men call it "operation zero."

This is the force:

The midshipman training ship Vespucci, a sailing vessel, and two destroyers to sail to Greece to get the Olympic flame.

Three helicopters, 130 trucks, 25 ambulances and almost 600 other vehicles, to help control traffic, to help move athletes from the Olympic village to the stadiums and to do other chores.

A force of 4,500 men, including signal corps and engineering personnel.

Great quantities of army equipment, such as thousands of cots, to help furnish the Olympic village where the 7,000 athletes will be housed.

The signal corps personnel have been given the job of putting in telephone and other communications lines between the many Olympic stadiums, press rooms and other installations.

The engineers are being used mainly to prepare Lake Albano, south of Rome, for the Olympic rowing events. They are putting up temporary stands, fixing roads, and erecting piers.

Hundreds of other soldiers will be used in odd jobs, like helping referees and officials during the games or working around the Olympic village on maintenance duty.

New York—Jose Torres, 161, Puerto Rico, outpointed Randy Sandy, 156, New York, 10.

Yankees Come Up With Hitting Display To Post Win

Mac Winget, Johnny Beerworth And Jeff Planche Lead Attack, Two Games Tonight, Indians At Lennoxville

Yankees, showing at last some of the power they possess, ran up a barrage of 15 hits that netted them 14 runs against the Red Sox in a Little League game played Saturday morning on the Parade Grounds. Tonight two games are slated, Indians travel to Lennoxville to take on the Yanks, while Senators and Red Sox clash at the Parade Grounds. Both games to get underway at 6.30.

Eight big runs in the first inning got the Yanks away to a flying start in Saturday's game. Planche, Winget, Beerworth and Garard driving in the runs. Three walks and a single by catcher Thibault got one of these back for Red Sox in their half of the first inning.

Beerworth and S. Kingsley hit safely for the Yanks in the second but no further scoring took place. Red Sox went scoreless in their half of the same inning.

Garard, Planche and Beerworth, with a triple, and McLeod sent the Yanks further ahead in the third as three runs crossed the plate. Red Sox clicked for four in the third and homers by R. Stewart and Begbie and a double by Tim Dwane. Yankees added one run in the fourth and finished out their scoring with two in the six to bring their total up to fourteen runs.

Red Sox making a desperate effort to come close chalked up two runs in the fourth and added three more in the fifth but that was all as they were held off the score sheet in the last of the sixth. Yankees taking the game on the long end of a 14-11 score.

Yankees showed up well in this game and once they tighten up their outfield they won't have so many runs scored against them. Winget and Beerworth each with four hits and Planche with three were their stars. R. Stewart, Dwane and Thibault were the Red Sox stars. Roy, Dorey, and Webb were the Umpires.

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Two men have been arrested at Yonkers Raceway as they attempted to pass counterfeit pari-mutual tickets.

Later, police disclosed that audits last week at Yonkers and at Roosevelt Raceway on Long Island showed $80,000-$70,000 had been paid out recently on bogus tickets.

The men, Victor Zaleski, 37, and William Carlin, 61, both of Beacon, N.Y., were charged with forgery.

Doug Kyle Cracks Canadian Open, Three-Mile Record Running Distance In 13 Minutes, 21.2 At Vancouver

VANCOUVER — Doug Kyle, 27-year-old geologist from Calgary, cracked the Canadian open three-mile record Sunday, running the distance in 13 minutes, 21.2 seconds.

He took 22.6 seconds off his own previous Canadian native mark and knocked 3.6 seconds off the Canadian open record of 13:34.8 set in 1958 by European three-mile champion Zlato Krzyszkowiak of Poland in the centennial games here.

The time was the fourth best run in the world so far in this Olympic year and was well under the qualifying standard of 13:45 set for the Olympic Games in Rome in August.

Kyle ran each lap in slightly over 67 seconds on the quarter-mile track, then finished strongly with a 65.2 final 440 yards.

Victoria Park Wins 101st Running Of Queen's Plate In Breeze, Now Heads Back To U. S. For Big Stakes

TORONTO — Victoria Park, a pigeon-toed colt that no one wanted at the asking price of $12,500 as a yearling, is lining millionaire-sportsman E. P. Taylor's pockets at a scandalous rate. And the end isn't in sight.

The three-year-old picked up $43,425 Saturday with an easy galloping win in the 101st Queen's Plate to boost his two-year earnings to $218,307, a record for a Canadian-owned horse. He ran as he pleased with no urging from jockey Avelino Gomez and covered the 1 1/4-mile distance in the Plate record time of 2:02 flat.

Would-be buyers shied away when Taylor put the $12,500 price tag on Victoria Park at his annual yearling sale. Taylor was "stuck" with him and veteran race observers now say he could command $300,000 or more.

"This was the strongest horse I've ever ridden," said Gomez shortly after Taylor received a $3,000 gold cup from Governor-General Vanier in the winner's enclosure at New Woodbine track early Saturday evening. "He ran the race perfectly and could have won it by an eighth of a mile easily," the Cuban saddlesmith added.

That was the feeling of the 25,052 onlookers for the big bay colt who was making his first appearance in Canada as a three-year-old after a highly successful campaign in the United States. They showed it by betting him down to pay five cents to the dollar.

Victoria Park had placed second in the $100,000 Flamingo Stakes, third in the Kentucky Derby and second in the $150,000

Preakness Stakes this year and returned home to compete in North America's oldest continuously-run classic. Taylor felt he had an obligation to run him before Canadian fans.

The colt had a slow start, was pinched in at fourth spot in the stretch, moved out wide just past the clubhouse turn and then winged away to victory.

Many thought Victoria Park had been bumped at the gate. "Don't believe it," said Gomez. "I followed instructions to break him slowly from the gate because there was no point letting him run himself out."

PHONE THREAT

Gomez, Canada's leading jockey four times since 1955, was told track officials had received an anonymous telephone threat saying he would be "shot off" Victoria Park's back.

"That didn't worry me," he said. "I figured it was just the work of a crackpot."

Victoria Park was 7 1/4 lengths in front of Quintain. Another 3 1/4 lengths behind was Champagne Velvet, a photo-finish winner for the show spot over Men at Play.

Victoria Park paid $2.10, $2.20 and $2.10. Quintain returned $5.70 and $2.00 and Champagne Velvet $2.10. Wagering on the race for win-place-show was $99,504, against the record $208,371 pool in 1957 when Taylor's Lyford Cay won the Plate in the previous record time of 2:02 3/5.

Gomez also was aboard that time. Jockey Club officials allowed quinella betting—pick the first two horses in order of the finish—for the first time in Plate history and Victoria Park-Quintain ticket holders received $26.80.

Victoria Park now heads for the United States and a shot at the $35,000-added Leonard Richards Stake at Delaware next Saturday.

France Enters Davis Cup Semi-Final Round

LONDON (AP)—France took a clinching 3-0 lead over Denmark Saturday and joined Britain in the European zone semi-finals of the Davis Cup tennis competition.

The doubles team of Jean Claude Molinari and Jean Noel Grinda sent France into the last four with a 6-3, 9-7, 7-5 victory over Kurt Nielsen and Jorgen Ulrich in Paris. The French surprised Friday by sweeping the opening day singles.

Britain blasted Belgium 5-0 by winning the final two singles matches at Scarborough, England. Bobby Wilson defeated 18-year-old Eric Drossart 6-2, 6-1, 6-2, and Billy Knight turned in the best tennis of the round in defeating Jackie Brichtant 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

In the semi-finals, Britain will play the winner of the Italy-Chile quarter-finals and France will meet the winner of the Sweden-West Germany match.

Brown Flash H Trots Mile In 2:09.3 At Local Track Last Night

Posts Best Time Of Season In Main Class For Weekend; Sunday's Double Pays $68.50 For Top Payoff On Cards

Brown Flash H, with his old driver up, set a merry pace last evening at the local track when he stepped the mile in 2:09.3 for the best time of the current season. R. Babbin, who took over from F. St. Denis, drove Xavier Maurice's brown gelding home ahead of the field in fine style and left no doubt regarding his performance. It was Babbin's first start behind Brown Flash H and getting away in the third position the big trotter made no mistake as he stepped the half in 1:04.3 and came back in 1:05. He upset the favorites in the class and beat Beaudoin's Boum Boum Bumpas in a stretch drive.

It was a close battle behind Brown Flash H and Hickory Orphan, with A. R. Reynolds driving, finished a strong third. Mrs. Martel's B.A. Majesty, another favorite, broke stride as well as Roger Bergeron's Mervin Hal to ruin their chances.

The winning combination went to the fore at the start, or on the first turn and set the pace for the balance of the mile. After the three-quarter mark was reached some of the field pulled out in an effort to catch the leader but he still had plenty left to maintain his advantage and pull out the victory.

He paid $20.80, $8.60 and $10.70 across the board. Mathieu's Dream Direct set the high for a place and show bet during the evening when $16.60 and $12.80 was collected for his second place finish in the seventh.

The double of $68.50 was picked up for the combination of Demers Fair Show, in the first, and Gordon Adamson's Fair View. It was the top payoff for the weekend. The rest of the prizes were fair. The quinellas were $15.90, $7.60 and $9.20.

On Saturday night C. Bennett teamed Sarrasin's Coaticook Directly home ahead of the field in the third race and was clocked in 2:11 1/5 for the best time. The quinella paid $16.70 while the double was $12.80 and in the sixth $7.70 was picked up for winning combination of Herbie Direct and Freedom Direct. In the tenth $19.80 was paid for Graham Abbe and Ridgetown.

REMEMBER WHEN . . .

Charlie Gardiner, one of the great goalies in hockey history, died 26 years ago today at age 30. The Scottish-born star went from Winnipeg to Chicago Black Hawks and was at the peak of his National Hockey League career. Just two months before his death Gardiner had helped Chicago to its first Stanley Cup triumph in final against Detroit, which Chicago won by three games to one—and his last game was a 1-0 victory.

National Golf Week Ended Yesterday

TORONTO (CP) — National Golf Week ended Sunday, but it probably will be several weeks before it is known who beat Canada's top professional golfers.

Organized by the Royal Canadian Golf Association, the country-wide competition is open to professionals and amateurs of any age or sex.

Entrants pay a $1 entry fee and play to try to better the score of this year's Canadian Professional Golf Association champion Stan Leonard of Vancouver or the Canadian women's champion, Mrs. Marlene Stewart Street of Toronto.

Last year about 13,000 golfers competed during the week. RCGA assistant secretary, Mrs. Marion Doherty of Toronto said Sunday the association hopes about 15,000 entries played this year.

Prize for the best male golfer is a gold medal inscribed with "I beat Stan Leonard." A similar one for women bears Mrs. Street's name.

Playing Tuesday in Vancouver, Stan Leonard shot a 66 for competitors to shoot at. Mrs. Street, playing at a Fonthill, Ont., course near Welland carded a 78.

Entrance fees collected by the RCGA are distributed among provincial golf associations for use in junior development programs.

Celtic Ash Romps To Victory In $150,900 - Belmont Stakes Beating Venetian Way For Top Money In Event

Celtic Ash, a new challenger for the three-year-old championship after his powerful victory in the $150,900 Belmont stakes Saturday, will take on older horses in the $100,000-added Monmouth Park Handicap July 16.

The colt then will start in the $50,000-added Choice Stakes for three-year-olds at Monmouth Park Aug. 3 before meeting horses of the same age again Aug. 20 in the $75,000-added Travers Stakes at Saratoga. The Monmouth handicap and Travers are both a mile and one quarter, the Choice a mile and one sixteenth.

Bally Ache, withdrawn from the Belmont because of a slight ankle injury, is pointed for the $100,000-added Arlington classic in Chicago July 23. Venetian Way finished second in the Belmont.

Celtic Ash, who had finished third in both the Preakness and Jersey Derby, paid $18.80—for $2 in winning his first stakes race, and was timed in 2:29 3/5 for the mile and one half on a fast track. The chestnut son of Sicambre-Ash Plant netted a record Belmont purse of $96,785.

It was the first Belmont Stakes appearance for Bill Hartack who piloted Celtic Ash for Joseph E. O'Connell.

At Chicago Travis Kerr's Top Charger $12.20 nosed out W. S. Miller's Better Be in the $54,800 Citation Handicap at Washington Park. Little Tytus was third, as favored On-And-On finished fourth.

The C. R. Mac Stable's T.V. Lark $11.20 won the $38,300 Argonaut Stakes at Hollywood Park by almost two lengths over Henrijan. New Policy finished third.

The Charter Oak Stable's Brush Fire $15.80 took the $24,450 Select Handicap at Monmouth Park. Golden Spy was second and Conestoga came in third.

Delaware Park had two stakes, with Mrs. George Brown's Lady's Maid $48.60 winning the $30,600 Kent Stakes in 1:41 4/5 for a mile and one sixteenth track record. W. Logan Grier Jr.'s Itsa Great Day $2.80 took the $11,950 Caesar Rodne Stakes. M. H. Chlosberg's Lord Gregor $8.40 captured the $10,990 Colonial Handicap at Suffolk Downs.

Some Of Golf's Finest Players Meet In U.S. Open

By FRANK PITMAN

DENVER (AP) — Even spectators, along with players, are sharing in the unequalled financial success of the 60th U.S. Open golf championship that begins Thursday over the finely-tuned 7,004 yard par 71 Cherry Hills course.

The United States Golf Association and the sponsoring club sweetened the pot for players with a $10,000 bonus that raised the total prize money to $60,000—the most ever in the open. The winner will receive $14,000 instead of $12,000 under the original plan.

The gallery got a financial break Sunday too. The public had been invited, at $2 a head, to watch the players practising.

Those who showed up, more than 1,500, got a free look. Instead of ticket takers they found a welcoming sign: "You are guests of Cherry Hills Country Club today — have fun — and thanks for your support of the 60th Open."

RECORD CROWD EXPECTED

H. R. (Potts) Burglund, the club's general chairman, explained: "These regional fans have supported this tournament like no other tournament in history. We'll go over 60,000 at the gate." That would surpass the record 56,000 last year at Winged Foot, Mamaroneck, N.Y.

The extra $10,000 for players means a 20 per cent hike all down the line. Second place will be worth $7,200 instead of $6,000. Claude Harmon, host pro at Winged Foot last year, said after a practice round Sunday that the Cherry Hills layout is one "of the most beautifully conditioned courses in the world." Harmon, among the 50 competitors already here, shot a three-under-par 68 Sunday. Ben Hogan, the four-time champion seeking an unprecedented fifth title, shot a 69 with Harmon.

George Knudson Maps Plans For Future After Winning Ontario Open Golf, Gunning For Low Canadian In Open

RIDGEWAY, Ont. — (CP) — George Knudson, one of the finest young golfers produced in Canada in several years, has mapped out an ambitious program following a runaway victory in the $5,000 Ontario Open.

"First of all I'd like to be low Canadian in the Canadian Open at St. George's Toronto St. George's next month," said the 22-year-old assistant professional at Toronto Oakdale.

"Then I hope to go back on the tournament circuit next winter. When I feel I can hold my own down south I'll stay on the tour full time."

Knudson left the field gasping here Saturday when he finished the 72 hole Ontario Open at the Cherry Hill Club course with a score of 275, 13 under par to win $1,300. The pre-tourney consensus was for a winning score of between 282 and 286.

BROKE COURSE RECORD

The alert former Winnipeg star climaxed his performance with a six-under-par 66 on the final round, breaking the competitive course record of 69 he set in the first round. The pre-300.

vious competitive record was 71. Knudson, with rounds of 69, 70, 70 and 66 on the par-72 layout, led from the opening round. He was the only player under par for all four rounds of the tournament.

His final margin was a fantastic 11-strokes over Toronto amateur Gary Cowan, 21, another member of golf's youth brigade, who shot a pair of 70s Saturday to finish at 286, two under par.

Third place went to Bob Hill, 30-year old pro from Rochester, N.Y., who was top money winner in the tournament last year when it was a 54-hole affair. He closed with 76-71 for 288 — even par — to earn second money of $900.

U. S. CHAMP FOURTH

Toby Lyons, 45-year-old PGA club champion in the U.S., placed fourth. The veteran from Jamestown, N.Y., finished all alone at 289.

Nick Westlock, Windsor, Ont., who was defending Open champion, was still in the Wellington Cup running with a total of

Adios Butler Turns In Best Time Of Season At Scioto Downs Pacing Mile In 1:59 4-5; Speed Keynote At Tracks

Speed was the keynote at the harness racing tracks Saturday and there figures to be more of it this week with Countess Adios heading the field in the $85,000 Cane Pace at Yonkers Raceway.

Adios Butler, 1959 three-year-old champion pacer, turned in the fastest time as he stepped a mile in 1:59 4-5 over a soft Scioto Downs' track in winning his second leg of the Harness Tracks of American pacing series.

The time over the Columbus, Ohio, half-mile track was only two-fifths of a second slower than the world record for three-year-olds hung up by Adios Butler in the Little Brown Jug at Delaware, Ohio, last year.

Tar Boy reeled off a mile in 2:00 4-5 in taking the $12,000 Pace at Yonkers Raceway. That was the fastest pacing time of the year over a half-mile oval until Adios Butler beat two minutes about an hour later.

OTHER FAST TIMES

Gold Rice travelled even faster in the $2,500 Invitation Pace at Vernon Downs when he was caught in 1:59 3-5. But it was on a three-quarter mile track.

Other fast clockings were turned in by Harry's Dream at Saratoga Raceway, Elton Hanover at Buffalo Raceway and Knight Time at Baltimore Raceway. Harry's Dream packed a mile in 2:02 2-5, fastest of the meeting. Elton Hanover tormented a mile in 2:04 for the fastest trot of the Buffalo session and Knight Time stepped a mile in 2:03 1-5 in taking the $14,380 Lord Baltimore Pace.

Countess Adios, owned by Hugh Grant of Bradford, Pa., and the Armstrong Brothers, J. E. and C. E. of Brampton, Ontario, goes after the second leg of pacing's triple crown in the Cane Thursday. She won the Messenger at Roosevelt Raceway last month with a 2:02 1-5 clocking. The Little Brown Jug is the third leg. It will be raced at Delaware, Ohio, in September.

Dublin Range Bridge, Old Landmark, Is Torn Down

BY EVA MELROSE
(Record Correspondent)

DUBLIN RANGE — On May 31st a demolition squad set to work to dismantle a bridge commonly known as Dublin Range bridge.

As long as most people living in this part of Megantic County can remember, the old covered wooden bridge has been a landmark here.

This structure gave travellers a crossing of the Thames River between Inverness and most points in a south easterly direction.

It was built approximately 85 years ago by Mr. Powell and was made entirely of wood, the timbers being floated down the river from a place known as Dundas Landing on the outskirts of Halifax village, to be used on the present site.

George Little now residing in Inverness recalls the day, when, as a very small boy, seeing those timbers floating past his farm home on the shores of Lake William.

William Learmonth Sr. 94 years old, now living on the farm adjoining the bridge, remembers the day when he was going to Inverness Fair with his aunt in a horse and buggy.

As they approached the new structure, they were told they would have to wait until three more planks were laid before driving across, his aunt, not wishing to wait, crossed by the old route but he, boy fashion ran across the new bridge on foot. On the return trip the same evening they drove across the bridge now being demolished.

This spring it was apparent that the added twist given it by spring floods meant it must go.

So it was with a pang of both sorrow and joy that we see the demolition crews move in before serious damage is done.

The new modern bridge is expected to be completed by mid-summer.

MYSTIC —

Mrs. John Austin has returned to St. Albans, Vt., after spending the weekend with Miss Edith Bockus.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Bockus spent the weekend in Sherbrooke with Mr. and Mrs. W. Ewing.

Mr. Warren Wilson accompanied Mr. Vern Korths on a motor trip to Ottawa, where they visited the former's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Watson and also called on friends at Vankleek Hill, Ont.

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN,

"How am I going to lose those extra pounds I've gained over the winter?" doctors are asked this time of year.
This is the time to lose them. The daylight hours are long and pleasant. The evenings are delightfully cool.
If you're a city dweller, you can walk part way to and from work. Or take a stroll in the park after the evening meal.
If you're one of us country bumpkins, there's the lawn to be mowed and the garden to be weeded and the trees to be sprayed and the outside furniture to be repainted and maybe a round of golf or a catch with the kids.
And the eating is good and low in calories.
There's cold cereal with sugar, milk and berries or cut-up fruit to make the main dish at breakfast.
There's a fish or fruit salad or cold meat with ice tea or ice cream for the principal course at noon.
For the evening meal, you can start with vegetable juice or

Let me show you how convenient a T-D JOINT ACCOUNT can be

"A Toronto-Dominion Joint Account can be used for a variety of purposes. For example, many couples find it the ideal way to plan family finances. Here's how it works:

Usually a husband and wife share a Joint Account. It can be operated as a Joint Savings or Personal Chequing Account. Either party can make deposits and either can write cheques on the account. Whether you're shopping uptown, doing business downtown, or paying cheques by mail, only one signature is necessary.

Joint Accounts have another important advantage, too. In the event of illness or accident . . . and when the husband or wife is away for any reason . . . the funds in the account are still available to the other party.

Opening a Joint Account is easy. Any of our people will be glad to supply you with complete details.

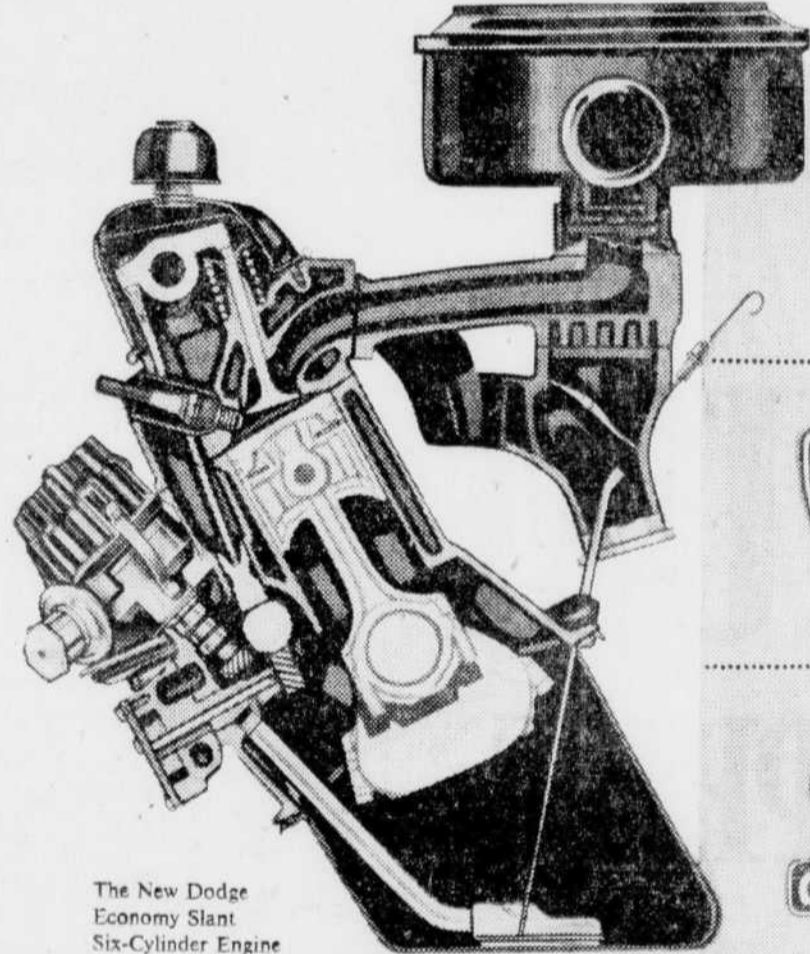

Joint Accounts are just one of the many convenient banking services the people at Toronto-Dominion have to offer you. Be sure to visit the branch near you soon. You'll really enjoy our kind of "interested" service. See for yourself why . . .

FINA PREMIUM
AT "REGULAR" GRADE PRICE

Now you can save safely!

here's how — FINA PREMIUM GASOLINE gives premium performance at regular-grade price and is designed for all the cars that can use a "regular" gasoline. But Fina Premium is more than just a "regular". It has the highest road octane in its field and delivers performance that rivals many of the ordinary "super" grades.

Fina Premium also contains alkylate — the cream of petroleum. Alkylate is a pure, high octane, sulphur-free fuel, normally reserved for the production of high performance aircraft fuel; but now utilized by Fina in blending this great new gasoline. The extreme purity of Alkylate helps keep your engine clean — unhindered by harmful deposits — and produces the highest road octane.

If your car normally needs a "regular", try Fina Premium. You'll get road performance you cannot get with ordinary or cut-rate regulars. Best of all, you'll save money, too — because Fina Premium means extra miles in every tankful.

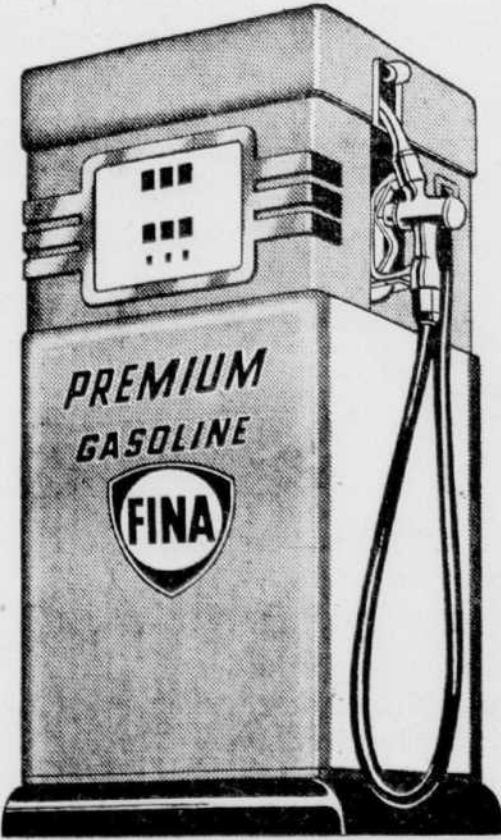

- HERE'S WHAT EXTRA MILEAGE MEANS TO YOU
- 1 Extra Mile — 2 to 2½¢ per gal. saved
 - 1½ Extra Miles — 3 to 4¢ per gal. saved
 - 2 Extra Miles — 4 to 5¢ per gal. saved
- Based on an average range of 15-20 miles per gallon.

You will save safely, too, because you will save without sacrificing what represents the best "insurance" for the large investment you have in your car — quality and service. You will also be getting performance that ordinary or bargain gasolines cannot give you.

Fill up with new Fina Premium — road test it yourself — the results will surprise you.

Graduation Dance Held At Cowansville High School

COWANSVILLE — The gymnasium in the High School presented a fairyland appearance for the recent graduation dance sponsored by Grades IX and X.

The decorations were built up around the graduation theme. Quantities of spring flowers transformed the room into a veritable flower garden. A waterfall in the background, with fawns drinking from a pool at the base, was encircled with cedar to represent the green of the woods, and a spotlight shone on the scene.

Enlarged pictures of the "Grads" were in the lower part of the windows, and each picture rested on a giant blossom, the girls on pink and the boys on white. Huge letters, spelling out "Grads", were placed in the upper parts of the windows.

The emcees were Gary Shufelt and Claudia Gunson. Dancing was enjoyed to the music of Lloyd Benoit's Orchestra.
