OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

THE SUMMER CRECHE.

IS CELEBRATING ITS 'WOODEN' ANNIVERSARY.

While many citizens are preparing for their annual flitting to seashore, mountain or quiet country place away from the dust and heat of the city, there are many others to whom such an escape is impossible. For the women and children who must pass the summer months in their homes in close, narrow streets, sometimes in crowded tenements, there has been for the last five years the way provided for a day's outing whenever they can take advantage of it. The summer creche, conducted by the King's Daughters, is one of the established philanthropic works of the city.

For the five years that the creche has been in operation, the amount expended in car fare has been $1,676.75. On an average, 3,500 visits have been made yearly to the Home. The idea is to furnish a place where a mother with a family of little ones can spend a quiet, restful day, free from care and anxiety, and amid inviting and pleasant surroundings. Many a mother with a child pinning away in the close atmosphere of its home, has felt gladdened by seeing the little one revive after a day spent in the fresh air, on a visit to the creche. Cots and hammocks are provided for the children to rest in when tired of play. Bowls of soup and bread, milk and bread, are to be had for two cents.

Kinloch (secretary), Mrs. S. M. Baylis, Mrs. Duff, Mrs. Starke, Mrs. Scarff, Mrs. McDunnough, Mrs. Calder, Mrs. Hardman, Miss K. Mudge, Miss M. Williams, Miss M. Clay.

Friends of the creche are invited to the opening of the Home on June 9. The creche will be open for children on June 27.

THE JUNE BRIDE'S TROUSSEAU.

The trousseau of the June bride, this year, tells the story of all that is newest in summer frocks and frills. Her honeymoon outfit makes apparent the fact that only the softest of fabrics are being used. Voile, chiffon, taffeta, soieane and novelty veilings are all in high favor.

Another noticeable fact is that the majority of the gowns which the June bride has chosen will make her look as if she had just stepped out of an old miniature. Picturesqueness in fashion is more a fact than a fad. To carry out the finished picture idea, every little detail of the costume is carefully considered. The June bride has given up as much thought to her neckwear and her shoes as she has to her gowns and hats. In selecting her collar she studies its effect from every point of view. It must harmonize with her gown, soften it, in fact, and in one way or another it must positively add to her own individual charm.

As for the shoes, they have never received before the history of dress as much consideration as this summer. The trousseau of the June bride proves that there are distinct and new fashions in shoes. Among her trousseau collection she has shoes to match her different colored gowns. To wear with her poncee frock she has dainty high-heeled shoes of poncee tan leather. With her walking costume she emphasizes the fashion of the shiny shoe which is the distinct new vogue of the season.

Whether the skirt trails gracefully upon the ground all the way around, or whether it is made instep length, it is much fuller than it was in the early spring. The smartest walking skirts are now finished at the bottom with a self-colored facing of velvet. They cling to the hips and yet at the bottom they have the most approved fashionable flare; just how this has been accomplished, especially when the skirts have been made of thin materials, has been a puzzle to many a woman. It is due to the neat, trim velvet binding, which is either corded or is made with a tiny featherbone cord run through it. Plaits and shirrings are used according to the individual figure of the wearer.

A decided preference for silk is shown in the honeymoon outfit of the June bride. She has more than one gown of the new soft taffeta, which is so extremely dainty with its embroidered designs in a contrasting color. She is very partial also to poncee. White poncee is extremely smart for summer wear; not only made up into a quaint little dinner gown with many soft shirrings and puffs, but into a skirt and coat costume and midsummer wear. Flower-scattered organdies and nets are also among her collection of gowns.

These frocks are very lovely worn with wide swathes of soft pompadour ribbon. And a little touch which gives character to a delicate blossom-flecked gown of this sort is to have the pompadour ribbon bordered with an edge of black, and to wear with the gown black hosiery, and the fashionable shiny black shoe.

The going-away hat is in the smart tailored style; it is usually of a fancy straw braid, very beautiful in itself, and the hat is but little trimmed. The lingerie hats, which are so becoming to a certain type of girl only, will be much worn all through the summer. These are very lovely made of finely-plaited frills of silk mull edged with lace, and having the soft mull crown almost hidden from view by a wide bow of filmy ribbon in some delicate shade; the ribbon generally matches in tint the special color note in the gown.

DAILY TABLE HINT. Banana Short Cake—Make a rich tea biscuit crust, bake in jelly cake tins in not too thick layers. When done, split open with forks and butter while hot, three layers being enough for one cake. The two bottom layers and one top make the best shape. Take about three good sized thoroughly ripe bananas and shred finely with a fork. Spread a layer of the fruit on the crust, adding the least bit of salt, and sprinkle well with powdered sugar. Add the next layer in the same way. On the last one spread fruit very thickly, well mixed with sugar so as to form a sort of icing. Serve with soft custard flavored with vanilla.

BELANGER MUST DIE.

Ottawa, May 31.—It has been decided that the law shall take its course in the case of Theophile Belanger, under sentence of hanging for the murder of his brother-in-law, Seguin, at St. Eustache, the winter before last. The cabinet has carefully reviewed all the circumstances of the case, which has about it many peculiar features, and is satisfied that there is not sufficient ground to warrant the commutation of the penalty.

ROYAL COMMISSION.

Head of Grand Trunk Pacific Survey Admits he is an 'Importation' at $6,000 Per Annum.

SEVEN OUT OF EVERY TEN MEN EMPLOYED ON ST. RAIL ARE CANADIANS.

At two o'clock yesterday afternoon Judge Winchester held his first sitting in the board room of the Grand Trunk Pacific office under the terms of his commission. It was understood that Mr. Stephens, the head of the survey, in his possession all the correspondence in regard to the applications which had been made for employment, and the desire of His Honor to examine the first.

Mr. Stephens not being immediately available, His Honor proceeded to examine the several bundles of papers, which represented only a fraction of the correspondence in the case. There had been a matter of fact, hundreds of applications from all over the United States. His Honor said that he intended to study the whole correspondence to his own study it at leisure.

Mr. Stephens, when he arrived, examined in a very deft way, the being to discover, not only the position of the survey and the men employed, but the personal names and nationalities of the men employed. Mr. Stephens gave his opinion with great apparent frankness. He admitted, in the first place, that he had self had been invited by Mr. Stephens to come from the Santa Fe road at a salary of $6,000 per annum. He was employed by the Grand Trunk, and not by the Grand Trunk Pacific, but he was the head of the survey of the new line, he directed the operations of the survey parties, and he himself had appointed at least three of the divisional engineers. He admitted also that he had brought at least four engineers from the United States—Messrs. Bacon, Collyard, Gaudin and Von Arsdol. At the same time the witness was very certain that he had been no thought in the matter to discriminate against Canadians. He employed Americans when Canadians were not available. For instance, that was the case of Mr. Bacon, who was employed at $300 per month. He remarked that that seemed a pretty salary, and suggested that probably a Canadian could have been employed of equal ability. To this Mr. Stephens replied that when he had spoken of Canadian engineers they had told him that their time was fully occupied with more remunerative work, and that they would not be disposed to accept the terms offered by the Grand Trunk. At the same time, the witness was unable to recall the names of any Canadian engineers whom he had spoken about the matter. He never advertised for American engineers, and he was quite sure that examination would show that for every Canadian man employed on the survey seven would prove to be Canadians.

The witness went into detail as to the organization of the surveys. There were probably eighteen or nineteen parties in all. He appointed the divisional engineers, and the latter appointed the men under them. There were three headquarters—North Bay, Winnipeg and Edmonton. He remained at Montreal, directing in a general way the operations, or, rather, overseeing what was done. Reports were made to him, and to him the pay lists came. The engineers were employed at from $150 to $100 per month, while draughtsmen received from $75 to $100 per month. Then there were chainmen and the like, and all the features of a regular survey were established. Each of the divisional engineers had about seven parties under his charge.

The witness insisted that the matter of nationality never entered into his head. It was a question of ability entirely. When Canadians were available, when they offered equal ability with the Americans, they were preferred, but naturally what the company wanted was the best skill.

His Honor read over a list of names which had been furnished to the government, and in most of the cases Mr. Stephens admitted that they were Americans.

Finally, the witness offered to place every scrap of correspondence at the disposal of His Honor, and to show the pay lists, the names and nationality of every man presently employed on the survey, and His Honor agreed to send over to Mr. Stephens's office and to cover the same.

Mr. H. M. Goodman, assistant to Mr. Stephens at headquarters in Montreal, admitted, upon examination, that he had been appointed to his present position as draughtsman within the year.

Mr. A. E. Beckett, Grand Trunk Pacific solicitor, and Mr. W. H. Bogue, assistant solicitor, were present on behalf of the company, and said that the Grand Trunk would be glad to aid His Honor in any way in furtherance of the purpose of the commission.

THE POLICE WERE ON HAND.
A group of four, two men and two women, dressed like persons who might have just come from some part of Britain, put in an appearance at the lower and most unkept end of Fletcher's Field on Sunday at about 5 p.m. One of the women was so drunk that she could hardly stand, and the quartette seemed to have made up their minds to make their abode in the field, where there were many hundreds of respectable citizens enjoying the quiet of Sunday evening. A police corporal happened to be on his way down Pine avenue eastward at the time the obnoxious group were about to select their camping place. He saw that the more tipsy woman showed a disposition to lie down. He walked the whole part off out of the park, ordered them to go home, if they had one to go to, and followed them until he saw them well under way eastward past the Hotel Dieu Hospital. It was a service well performed.

CORNER STONE LAID.

NEW SALVATION ARMY CITADEL AT CORNWALL.

Cornwall, May 28.—In the presence of several hundred people, this afternoon, the corner stone of the new Salvation Army Citadel was well and truly laid by Dr. D. O. Alguire, one of Cornwall's most prominent citizens. Owing to the unavoidable absence of Mayor Lalonde, ex-Mayor Peter E. Campbell presided, and Brigadier Turner, of Montreal, conducted the services. Among those who delivered short addresses of approval of the Army's work in Cornwall and elsewhere were the Rev. Dr. Harkness, of Knox Church; the Rev. S. Sheldon, pastor of the Baptist Church; the Rev. Dr. Ryckman, of the Methodist Church; Messrs. Duncan, Monroe, Angus, R. MacLennan and James L. Groves.

The Army has been twenty years in Cornwall, and although the number of its adherents was never very large it has done a lot of good work. The new citadel will be a handsome brick structure, in the business part of the town, near the corner of Pitt and First streets.

LOW DEATH RATE.

Only ninety-one deaths were recorded at the City Hall last week. Seventy-seven were Catholics, twelve Protestants and two Jews. Infantile mortality was registered opposite twenty-four names. Twelve persons died of consumption, four of pneumonia, two each of grippe, congestion, bronchitis, broncho-pneumonia and diphtheria. There were three deaths from typhoid fever and one from scarlet fever.

Father and Daughter

Were Great Sufferers from Kidney Disease and Pains in the Back—Now Unite in Praise of

DR. CHASE'S Kidney-Liver Pills.

Those who are best acquainted with the merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills do not wonder at their immense popularity as a family medicine.

In thousands of cases they have cured where physicians and ordinary medicines have failed. This is the test by which they have been proven.

Here is a letter we have just received from Prince Edward Island.

Miss Kate Doyle, lot 1, post-office, P. E. I., states:—About three years ago my father was seized with a severe form of kidney disease, which caused him much suffering, as well as anxiety lest the ailment should become chronic or prove fatal. We immediately obtained Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and he began at once to improve under this treatment, the symptoms gradually disappearing, until he became quite well again. Since then we always keep these pills in the house for use in the case of sickness of this kind.

For some time I suffered from pains in the small of the back and accompanying ills, and though I was treated by a doctor at considerable expense, I could obtain no lasting benefit until I used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which seemed to be exactly suited to my ailment. Father and I are greatly pleased with the excellent medicine, and wish to recommend it to others.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Company, Toronto. To protect you against imitations, the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box of his remedies.

ANOTHER JAPANESE VICTORY.

Ai yang pien Men Occupied After Skirmish With Cossacks.

FORWARD MOVEMENT BY GEN. KUROPATKIN—ATTACK ON PORT ARTHUR TO BEGIN JUNE 15.

St. Petersburg, May 30.—The Emperor has received the following despatch from General Kuropatkin, under yesterday's date:

"A detachment of Japanese cavalry, consisting of a hundred and fifty sabres, moved forward from the main body on May 27, and approached within eight kilometres south-east of Wa fang hoon station, but on encountering our frontier guards fell back rapidly."

"On May 28 a Russian patrol heard heavy artillery fire in the direction of Kin chow."

The War Office has received the following despatch from General Kuropatkin under to-day's date:

"This morning received a report stating that the Japanese advance on Kwan tien has begun from Saimatza. The numbers of the enemy are not known."

AI YANG PIEN CAPTURED.

Seoul, May 29.—It has been reported here that Japanese troops, after an engagement with the Russian forces, in which the latter were defeated, have occupied Ai yang, a village to the north of Kwan tien cheng. (This latter place is about forty miles to the east of Feng huang cheng). There are at present no Russians at Ham heung on the eastern coast of Korea; the troops which were there have marched to the south. The Cossack soldiers who were sent to Ham heung have been withdrawn.

LIKELY TRUE.

St. Petersburg, May 30, 8.40 p.m.—There is no confirmation at the general staff of the reported defeat of two thousand Cossacks at Ai yang pien men (north-east of Feng huang cheng), but the message from General Kuropatkin, issued this afternoon, regarding the Japanese advance from Kuan dian shang (Kwan tien) to Saimatza, lends color to the Tokyo report, in view of the fact that Ai yang pien men lies between the above points.

COSSACKS DEFEATED.

London, May 30.—A despatch to the Central News from Tokio to-day says the Japanese captured a quantity of powder and fifty-six railway cars at Liu shu tun.

The despatch also says that the Japanese, after defeating the Cossacks at Ai yang pien men, north-east of Feng huang cheng, occupied that place and reinforcements were sent forward to support them.

DISCUSSED IN ST. PETERSBURG.

St. Petersburg, May 31.—The reported defeat of Cossacks at Ai yang pien men was the only news and almost the only topic of conversation in St. Petersburg last night. No official despatches were given out last evening, but officers at military headquarters were reluctant in accepting the Japanese despatches. They think it possible that the Japanese met General Mishchenko's command, which recently has been raiding in Korea. It is formed of comparatively hardy recruits, though now tolerably hardened by three months' campaigning. It is conceivable that they might have been defeated, but not Renkamps' force patrolling the Ai yang region, who are veterans of that old command which accompanied him on the famous ride through Manchuria.

These men are esteemed here as the hardest fighters and the most reckless in the Trans-Baikal army. Any disaster to them would have a greater sentimental effect than the more serious reverse at Kin chow.

GENERAL KUROPATKIN'S PLANS.

London, May 30.—The accurate news which the St. Petersburg correspondent of Paris newspapers, send to their journals alternates with such erratic nonsense that it is difficult to decide in which class to place the report received yesterday that General Kuropatkin is moving southward to take General Oku in the rear and succor Port Arthur, while General Kasratovitch holds General Kuroki in check. The "Daily Mail" whose Paris correspondent claims to learn from a well informed source, apart from the French newspapers that General Kuropatkin has begun moving south in a serious fashion, and a serious battle is to be expected shortly, gives great prominence to the statement and describes the movement as a futile one which the Russian commander-in-chief is impelled to make by political pressure. According to this view Admiral Alexieff is the moving spirit, he having induced the Czar to force General Kuropatkin into a dangerous line of action. If this is so, General Kuropatkin, it is pointed out, is acting like Marshal McMahon, the French commander, when, in 1870, he yielded to Empress Eugenie and made the fatal attempt to join Marshal Bazaine at Metz, which led up to the disaster at Sedan.

A FORWARD MOVEMENT.

That General Kuropatkin is either conducting or directing some forward movement seems pretty certain. The Chefoo correspondent of the "Express" says that the main armies about Liao yang are moving. The Russians are reported to be marching south under urgent orders from the Czar. General Kuropatkin is striking out to a position slightly south-east of Liao yang. His activity is caused by the steady circling movement of the Japanese, who threaten to surround him unless he breaks out and offers battle. According to the correspondent it is not considered that the southward march has any connection with the Port Arthur position, but is an attempt to restore the prestige of the Russian arms. The Japanese have several cavalry brigades operating to the westward, who are in touch with the Russians. The Japanese are moving up infantry and guns from Feng huang cheng. The simultaneous advance of both armies causes the belief that a battle is imminent.

THE RUSSIAN OBJECTIVE.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the "Daily News" refers to the same movement which, like some other correspondents, he represents to be the outcome of a conference between General Kuropatkin and Admiral Alexieff. The "News" also makes General Oku's rear the Russian objective, adding that General Kuropatkin's advance guard is believed to be already rapidly nearing Kin chow. This is obviously gathered from the same source as the Paris story to the effect that the Russian vanguard is further south than Wa fang tien, which is sixty-five miles north of Port Arthur.

Finally, there are General Kuropatkin's own announcements of a Japanese advance from Kuan tien, and General Kuroki's report of activities at Ai yang pien men, and elsewhere northward of Feng huang cheng, to show that it is very improbable that the Russian commander will remain inactive at Liao yang in view of recent events, so, while the curtain temporarily falls on the Liaoting promontory scene it appears about to rise on interesting, perhaps decisive, events further north.

JAPS ARE ACTIVE.

The "Standard" prints a despatch dated Japanese headquarters, May 29, saying that news of skirmishes is received daily. The Japanese are showing great activity in road making. The Japanese, who landed at Taku shan, seem to have struck the fringe of the rainy season. There have been the heaviest downpours.

The Tashichao correspondent of the "Mail" says heavy rains prevail throughout Southern Manchuria, and are retarding military movements.

CZAR DISSATISFIED.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the "Telegraph" represents General Kuropatkin's position as being shaky. His military reverses represent the Russian reverses as being the outcome of his faulty strategy now, and his neglect to make needful preparations when he was Minister of War. The Czar, according to the correspondent, is daily growing more dissatisfied with General Kuropatkin and would dismiss both him and Admiral Alexieff if it were not for the seat of light that would thus be thrown on the government. Officials, professors, politicians and even former occupiers of positions of the highest trust in the empire, maintain that it is to Russia's interest to make peace if Port Arthur is taken, but nobody at court has the moral courage to suggest it to the Emperor.

The intelligent classes maintain that the continuation of the campaign after the fall of Port Arthur will entail the necessity for German diplomatic support after the war, implying German influence in Russia's policy.

PORT ARTHUR DOOMED.

London, May 31.—The Tokio correspondent of the "Chronicle" says that ten thousand Russians are travelling in junks up the Liao river, their destination being Tieling, some forty miles north of Mukden. The Russians are building a pontoon bridge across the Liao river above Niu chwang.

The despatch adds that it is expected that the attack on Port Arthur will begin on June 15. The correspondents will leave Tokio on June 10, in time to see the capture of Port Arthur, which is expected to occur by June 20.

STOESSER'S ACTION.

A despatch to the "Daily Mail" from Tashichao, dated May 29, says that a Russian staff officer, who managed to get through the Japanese lines, has arrived there from the Kinchow isthmus with despatches from General Stoessel, the commander at Port Arthur, to General Kuropatkin. The officer confirms the reports of the recent fighting. He says that the Russians retired in good order upon their next line of fortifications, leaving the Japanese in possession of Dalny and Talien wan. During the fighting General Stoessel sent troops over the Port Arthur Railway to reinforce General Fock, thus greatly prolonging the Russian resistance and making it more stubborn.

EXPECT IT SOON.

Liao Yang, May 30.—The impression at headquarters is growing that the main objective of the enemy is Port Arthur, and it would not be surprising if the actual assault on that fortress began within a fortnight.

FOUR LINES OF DEFENCE.

The too, May 30.—From Chinese sources it is learned that the Russians have four lines of defence between Nan shan and Port Arthur.

AGAINST PORT ARTHUR.

Mukden, May 30.—Sunday, (delayed in transmission).—So far as can be judged from the grouping of the enemy's forces his attention is directed principally against Port Arthur. It is possible that part or the whole of the second Japanese army may be sent thither.

A RUSSIAN YARN.

St. Petersburg, May 30.—A semi-official telegram from Mukden, dated to-day, says:—Owing to the impossibility of defending the position southward of Kin chow without the aid of the fleet, the Russian defence at that point was only of a demonstrative character. The defending force was armed with guns taken from the Chinese in 1900, and had little ammunition. The occupation of the position by the Japanese at a great cost to themselves does not alter the situation.

ANOTHER ARMY DIVISION.

Washington, May 30.—Advices received here report the departure from Japan of another army division. While its destination is not stated, it is conjectured that these troops are about to close in the Russian rear in north-east Korea, cutting off the retreating parties, which have threatened Gen. Kuroki's communications. There are no less than 15,000 soldiers in the expedition.

THE EXCHEQUER COURT.

Ottawa, May 31.—In the Exchequer Court yesterday Mr. Justice Burridge made an order for judgment, dismissing the action in the case of the King and H. E. Lyon vs. Malcolm MacKenzie and Felix Montalbeti. This action was instituted for the purpose of cancelling letters patent for certain lands within the loan site of Blairmore, N.W.T., issued to the defendant, MacKenzie, as assignee of defendant, Montalbeti. H. E. Lyon claimed to have a better right to the land as a settler. Mr. A. W. Fraser, K.C., for the motion; Mr. F. H. Chrysler, K.C., for the Crown.

In the case of the King vs. De Bury, involving compensation for lands taken at St. John, N.B., for a rifle range by the Dominion Government, Owen Ritchie obtained an order for distribution among the persons interested. The total compensation amounted to $975.61, of which defendant, Lucy Gertrude Visert De Bury, gets $891.81, and the defendant, Robert V. De Bury, $83.80.

PROHIBITION ONLY.

Maine, a Prohibition State, is Wealthier than either Ohio or Illinois.

THE WORST OF PROHIBITION BETTER THAN THE BEST OF LICENSE—SENATOR TILLMAN DISCREDITED.

Quite a number of enthusiastic temperance advocates were present in the American Presbyterian Church last night to hear Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, president of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and Miss Anna Gordon, Mrs. Stevens's co-worker, speak on the liquor traffic. Mrs. Stevens dwelt on "Prohibition versus government control, or any other form of license," while Miss Gordon's subject was "Our young people," but, unfortunately, there were not very many young people present, so she spoke instead to the older ones of the young people.

Mrs. Stevens, who succeeded the lamented Frances E. Willard, in the great work of guiding the temperance forces of the United States, has in the six years of her incumbency exhibited in no small degree the executive ability, the indefatigable, tireless zeal, the delicate tact, the splendid moral courage, which distinguished her honored predecessor. In Miss Gordon Mrs. Stevens is fortunate in possessing such an able co-worker. Determination and energy such as marked women like Florence Nightingale, Maria Edgeworth, Harriet Martineau, Miss Hall, and Miss Clara Barton, the founder of the Red Cross Society, are written on every feature.

The Rev. Dr. Johnston, the pastor, in a very happy little speech introduced Miss Gordon.

Miss Gordon referred to the convention of wholesale liquor dealers held at Pittsburgh two years ago, when they formed a "Protective Bureau" for the purpose of fighting the total abstinence sentiment then commencing to alarm them by its progress. At that time the liquor people raised a fund of $3,000,000, and distributed nearly three million pieces of literature with the intention of creating among the young men of the United States an appetite for liquor. Utterly conscienceless they were, said Miss Gordon.

"Any trade capable of such diabolical plotting against humanity deserves to be crushed out of existence by the force of the most stringent prohibition laws. You all remember," continued the speaker, "the terrible fire in the Iroquois Theatre at Chicago some months ago. Well, I was talking to a young woman who was present when the fire broke out, and she told me she was hurrying madly with the terror-stricken crowd to a place of safety. On the way, lying on the floor, she discerned a little boy of perhaps eight or nine years. The little fellow looked up with agony in his eyes and in a voice, pathetic beyond words, gasped, 'Oh, lady, don't step on me, you're hurting me!' But she could not stop; the maddened crowd pushed her on, and in a moment the little boy was trampled to death. What, then, shall we say of a traffic that is crushing the life out of—not one—but thousands and tens of thousands yearly? Oh, shall we not help to gain prohibition? The National Woman's Christian Temperance Union is working to the best of its ability against wrong." And then Miss Gordon paid a glowing tribute to Mrs. Frances E. Willard, whom she knew and loved so well.

After a hymn, Dr. Johnston introduced Mrs. Lillian Stevens, the worthy successor to Miss Willard. She spoke substantially:—

"Not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord." I would not here to speak for reform did I not know the Spirit of God was in the navy. There are, indeed, hands of ribbon white around the world, and the Women's Christian Temperance Union is extending its blessed sway with the days. "Not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord." Here is the condition that confronts us in the United States. Ninety percent of the poverty, eighty-five percent of the crime, eighty percent of the lunacy, is due to drink. Your people are like ours. When we remember the degradation, the suffering, the shame, the misery that result from this cursed traffic, should we not be strenuous in our endeavors to blot it out forever from our fair land? I am not pessimistic—far from it. Great progress is being made—wonderful progress. For instance, in the United States liquor has been abolished in the navy. The army canteen has been abolished—and it is going to stay that way. A few weeks ago Miss Gordon and myself were in the national capital, and we went into the national restaurant, and we were overjoyed at finding that Congress had decreed that no more liquor be sold in the Capitol restaurant. A few days later we were in New York City at the Immigration Bureau, and again we were overjoyed at finding that Congress had forbidden the sale of liquor at the Immigration Bureau.

The majority of the great railways and many large industrial corporations forbid their employees to use liquor under der pain of discharge. Marshall Field, the merchant prince of Chicago, will not allow the sale of liquor in any building or on ground owned by him.

In San Francisco a few years ago when Miss Gordon and myself were there, the great Southern Pacific Railway determined to prohibit the sale of liquor in all restaurants on its numerous lines. Several years prior to that the company had ordered its employees to abstain from the use of liquor, but it was found utterly impossible to enforce the order as long as it was sold in the company's restaurants. Once its sale was prohibited, drunkenness among the employees ceased.

It always seems strange to me that so many otherwise intelligent people do not understand the statistics bearing on the liquor traffic. Mr. Carroll D. Wright, the well-known statistician of the United States Government—and by no means a fanatic on the subject of temperance—says that for every dollar the liquor traffic puts into the revenue it takes twenty-one out. When Miss Gordon and I were in France several years ago, intemperance was something awful. Insanity was alarmingly common, and the other evils that follow in the train of drunkenness blighted the land as with a pestilence. So fearful was the pace to which the country had come that the government was obliged to step in. And the pronouncement was strong enough to suit any temperance reformer or even fanatic. At a recent congress held in a German city, a distinguished scientist said that "Germany must overthrow beer-drinking, or beer-drinking will overthrow Germany." Never was there so much advocacy of temperance as there is to-day. Never was there such a strong prohibition sentiment as there is to-day. Miss Gordon and myself have visited the forty-five states in the American Union, have studied the laws bearing on the liquor traffic in all of them, and the conclusion we have arrived at is—and I say it without the least hesitation—that a prohibition law at its worst is better than high license at its best. People to-day who come as those who twenty-five years ago were in favor of high license. I say deliberately, twenty years from to-day no intelligent man will advocate a dispensary law or government control system as a temperance measure. There is only one state in the American Union that has the government control system, and that is South Carolina. Before it was inaugurated the temperance people thought that it was a step in the right direction—even Mr. Chaflin advised it. What is the result? Two years ago Miss Gordon and I spent several weeks in South Carolina. We did not meet one man who did not condemn the system as not only totally ineffective, but as actually demoralizing. We found that the law was more flagrantly violated in the Palmetto state than in the prohibition states of Maine and Kansas. We found more "blind tigers" in Charleston than in all Maine. Now, I know, there is a movement on foot to fasten this dispensary law on you people of Canada. Do not be led away by what Senator and ex-Governor Benjamin F. Tillman, of South Carolina, says. He does not stand very high with his colleagues in the Senate. Senator Tillman eulogizes the dispensary system; but take the statements of other men, preachers, professors, merchants, doctors, who are a unit in saying it was a dark day for South Carolina when she voted for the dispensary system.

"Now, I will talk a little of Maine, not because it is my native state, but because for fifty years Maine has been a prohibition state. Before prohibition, Maine was a miserable place. There were seven breweries and five distilleries in Portland alone, but, thank God, for fifty years the smoke of a brewery or a distillery has not blackened the pine-clad State of Maine. Now see the change: There is more money in her savings banks than in the banks of either of the two great liquor states—Ohio and Illinois. Her school system is of the best, and still not one penny comes from the liquor traffic. Do not doubt the statements of such eminent men as Nelson Dingley, Senator Frye and Congressman Littlefield when they speak of what prohibition has done for Maine. There is not one of her Congressmen who is not an ardent advocate of prohibition. There has not been a governor in forty years (except one and he failed of re-election) who was not in favor of prohibition. It is true that the law is violated in Maine, but Senator Frye was right when on the floor of the Senate he said that prohibition had driven seven-eighths of the liquor traffic from the state. It is worth something to the Maine mother to know that if a man sells liquor to her son he is branded as a criminal. Oh, dear friends, insist on prohibition for Canada. There is not a single state in the American Union where some action has not been taken against the liquor traffic—and the work is going on."

Mrs. Stevens here eulogized the late Neal Dow, the father of prohibition in Maine, and paid a beautiful tribute to the women of the Southland, who are joining hands with their sisters of the North in endeavoring to throttle the demon of rum.

After Dr. Johnston, on behalf of the audience, had thanked Mrs. Stevens and Miss Gordon for their hopeful, inspiring words, quite a number of those present grasped the hands of the two doughty champions of temperance, who have endured untold sacrifices, discomfort and even loss of health in the cause.

It is well-known to all that bad blood is the direct cause of all skin diseases and is necessary for the blood to be cleansed before the eruptions will disappear. For this purpose there is nothing to equal Burdock Blood Bitters as the thousands of testimonials we have on hand will testify.

Mr. Willard Thompson, McNeill's Mills, P.E.I., writes us as follows: "I write state to you what Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. Some time ago my blood got out of order and many boils appeared on my neck, legs and arms. They were painful that I could not sleep at night. After having tried many different remedies without any success, I finally decided on the advice of a friend, to use Burdock Blood Bitters. Before I had quite used two bottles the boils had completely disappeared, and I wish to emphasize the fact that I think Burdock Blood Bitters the best blood purifier on the market to-day."

CRYING FOR BREAD.

Hundreds of Italians Without Work or Food.

GOVERNMENT AND PUBLIC WILL BE APPEALED TO.

For several weeks past the local Italian Society has been providing, with funds contributed largely by the Italian Government, for the wants of about two thousand Italians who recently arrived in Montreal with the expectation of either finding work here or going west in the employ of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company. Suitable work has not been found, and the immigrants are still here in large numbers, many of them without means of subsistence. Today it is found that the funds at the disposal of the Italian Society are very low, and assistance from other sources must be obtained.

Mr. Richard H. Lane, secretary of the Charity Organization Society, having had his attention called to the circumstances this morning, saw the Mayor in regard to the matter. His Worship sent for Ald. St. Denis, chairman of the Police Committee, and Mr. C. H. Catell, president of the Italian Society, and held a consultation about the situation.

It was decided, after going thoroughly into the question, that an appeal should be made to the public for immediate, temporary assistance, and Mr. Lane was asked to act as treasurer of the fund, which he finally consented to do.

The Mayor also instructed Mr. Bauset, assistant city clerk, to write the government at Ottawa and call their attention to the manner in which pauper immigrants were being brought into Montreal, and ask that an investigation should be held, so as to place the responsibility for the existing state of affairs and prevent its being continued.

Mr. Catell said that since January ten thousand Italians had come into Canada through Montreal. There were at present probably twelve hundred here on their way west, and without work. Of these, some days the society fed three hundred, and they had provided for as many as six hundred in one day. He was informed that one hundred new arrivals were expected to-day. On a recent night 237 men had slept out in the open air in the yard connected with the Refuge. Some slept in lanes and alleys, on the seats in the parks, on the grass, on any place where there was shelter to be found, and they were allowed to occupy. Some had friends, and a few had a little money left, but the great majority were entirely without means of assistance or of gaining a livelihood. Mr. Catell said he had been to Ottawa, Mr. Hon. Messrs. Sifton, Prefontaine and Mr. Bickerdike had been seen about the matter, but so far no decision had been announced.

The Italian Government some months ago sent the society $2,000 with which to fit up and furnish a House of Refuge for the use of Italian immigrants while passing through Montreal. The property cost $600 a year in rent. It was only partly fixed up when the rush commenced, and starving bodies applied for food. It was considered that food was of even more urgency than shelter, so that the funds were diverted from their original purpose to save the people from starvation.

Now, these funds were exhausted. The consular general telegraphed last Saturday Mr. Catell explained, asking for further assistance, and an early reply was looked for. Meanwhile, the situation was serious. Most of the immigrants came through Boston, St. John and Halifax, and some landed at Quebec. Mr. Lane protested strongly against the wholesale dumping of paupers on this country, and observed that Montreal was considered a very convenient place for them to land. He had very recently had three families sent back to their native land, and thought many more should be ordered to return, as they would come under the conditions for which immigrants might be deported. The agencies which brought them should be compelled to take them back.

The Mayor wanted to know who was responsible for such large numbers coming. There must be an organized movement behind such an influx of people.

Ald. St. Denis said he had been informed, and it was a matter of general knowledge, that a certain agent in Montreal was the means of bringing large numbers of Italians here on promise of getting them work, and that he exacted a fee of $5 each from them. He must have made many thousands of dollars this season out of the poor unfortunate who now were begging for bread.

The Mayor said he thought this should be investigated by the government and, if true, some means should be found to stop the iniquitous practice and punish the persons responsible for causing so much distress. The need of immediate funds is urgent, and contributions may be sent to Mr. R. H. Lane, 98 Bleury street, who will act in conjunction with the Italian Society in the matter. The amount that may be required is not known, but the public will be kept informed. "It is a question of humanity," remarked the Mayor, "and should meet with a quick response."

DEMANDS OF MASONS.

BOSSES THREATEN TO DECLARE A LOCKOUT ON UNION MEN.

The master masons of Montreal held a meeting at the Builders' Exchange yesterday, to discuss the arbitrary methods adopted by the union.

The union requested a meeting with the bosses, to which the bosses would probably have agreed, and the secretary had notified the union that their request would be laid before the master masons on Monday morning, but in the meantime members of the union struck Saturday on some important works, in one instance fifteen men walked out because the contractor refused a peremptory demand for increase of wages, although he was paying the schedule rate. This demand is likely to cause a tie-up in building operations as the bosses have notified the union that unless their members, who are unanimously quit, return to work, a general lockout will be declared in this trade.

The bosses are determined, they say, to fight these troubles to an issue. Stonecutters, it is said, have applied at the yards for work, but have been refused up to date, pending the settlement of troubles in the trade. The bosses are making it known that all the yards are now open to men who will agree to work a nine-hour day at the schedule rate of wages, and expect this decision will tend to diminish the slight differences that exist, and prevent any further complications or delay in the operations of this trade.

ROYAL COMMISSION.

MR. J. R. STEPHENS TESTIFIES HE NEVER INDUCED UNITED STATES ENGINEERS TO APPLY FOR EMPLOYMENT ON G.T.P.

Judge Winchester sat this morning at ten o'clock, at the Court House and heard the single witness who presented himself for examination—Mr. Eugene P. Quirk, who had made application to be placed in charge of one of the survey parties, but who had been passed over by the Grand Trunk Pacific. Mr. Quirk did not really mean to complain of the action of the Grand Trunk in the premises. He said he was sixty-eight years old, and that naturally the Grand Trunk thought that he was too old for the business. But as a fact he had been out only a winter ago, and in the cold weather, on survey work. He had received before now $250 per month as engineer in charge, and at other times when the position was not so important, he had got from $5 to $10 per day.

His Honor adjourned to the board room of the Grand Trunk at the general offices, where Mr. H. W. Walker, general auditor of the Grand Trunk, was examined. Mr. Walker had nothing to do with the Grand Trunk Pacific, further than that the Grand Trunk had been paying the salaries of the men employed on the survey of the Grand Trunk Pacific. He expressed his willingness to give all the information at his disposal.

Mr. J. R. Stephens was once more examined by His Honor, in regard to the employment of Americans. Mr. Stephens emphatically stated that so far from trying to get Americans the very reverse of that was his thought and purpose. As a fact, he had given employment to some four persons who were Americans. There was the case of Mr. Raymond Heckman, who had been employed at Winnipeg. That gentleman was no longer in the service of the company. He did not know where he was. It was quite untrue to say that, in view of this enquiry, he had made arrangements to have him employed by the C. P. R.

As to the case of Mr. Goodman, he had seen what excellent work he had done at Winnipeg, and he invited him to come to Montreal. Mr. Mellan, presently in his office, had left the Santa Fe road, and reached Montreal about a fortnight after he did. He did not send for him, but he put him on the pay roll at $125 per month. There were four men who had been on the Santa Fe road, who came to Montreal, and who had obtained employment on the Grand Trunk. In regard to himself, Mr. Hays had first written him, inviting him to come to Montreal. The letter was not explicit. It did not offer him anything. "And if it did not offer you anything, what motive was there in your coming?" His Honor asked.

"Well, it was in his mind, but it was not expressed."

"But you came upon the strength of the letter?"

"Yes, and then I had a conversation with Mr. Hays, which decided me."

"Who are you employed by?"

"The Grand Trunk."

"But you have charge of the survey of the Grand Trunk Pacific?"

"Yes."

"Then is it the Grand Trunk Pacific which pays you your salary?"

"Yes."

"Mr. Hays is manager both of the Grand Trunk and the Grand Trunk Pacific?"

"Yes."

"Mr. Stephens said that he had had charge of the survey since Feb. 19, 1903. The witness further stated that he never went to the United States for the purpose of hiring United States engineers; that he never advertised for such, and that the fact of his meeting with certain United States engineers in Chicago was purely accidental. The applications were made from the United States the preference."

He spoke to when in Chicago were spoken to casually, just the same as he would speak to Canadian engineers. He told them of the nature of the work which had to be done. Applications may have followed.

His Honor will examine Mr. Hays and Mr. Wainwright to-morrow, after which he will proceed to North Bay, Winnipeg, and Edmonton, where arrangements will be made by the Grand Trunk to give him all possible assistance. The men on the surveys are out at present and these cannot be examined, but the divisional engineers will be on the ground.

His Honor is going carefully over the correspondence, which is most voluminous, and he will be able, in his report, to show the name of every man employed, the rate of wages and the country to which he belongs. He will also obtain the dates of employment, which is important, because if the terms of the Canadian Alien Labor Law are observed, those who cannot show that they have been two months in Canada will have to be deported.

GRAND TRUNK CHANGES.

The following changes are announced by the Grand Trunk Railway—Mr. F. L. C. Bond is appointed acting resident engineer of the Eastern Division, Montreal, in place of Mr. T. T. Irving, transferred to Detroit as resident engineer of the Western Division, who succeeds Mr. C. C. Hill, transferred to St. Thomas, Ont., in place of Mr. C. C. McCoo, general roadmaster, resigned.

KILLED INSTANTLY.

ALBERT HANSON LOSES HIS LIFE BY BREAKING OF BOOM ON THE 'MONTEZUMA.'

Albert Hanson, a wharf laborer, 40 years of age, of 201 Wellington street, was working last night at 11.30 o'clock on the steamship 'Montezuma,' of the Canadian Pacific Line, loading lumber, at No. 1 hatch, when the boom broke and fell upon the man who was standing directly underneath. His death was instantaneous. Hanson leaves a wife and family. The body was removed to the morgue, where an inquest will be held to-morrow morning by the coroner.

ALDERMEN GET PROTEST.

EAST END C. P. R. EXPROPRIATION MATTER BEFORE COUNCIL.

Yesterday's meeting of the City Council, while not in the main important, was not without its startling incidents. The most important question presented for consideration was that of the closing of one end of Beaudry, Marjory and Wolfe streets and other privileges recommended by the special C. P. R. Pacific Railway Company. The report was moved by Ald. Nelson, and appeared to be about to pass when Ald. Couture rose and moved in amendment that the matter be left over for two weeks to allow time for all the members to study the question fully. He also mentioned that two aldermen had been served with protests in behalf of the Montreal Brewing Company, declaring that the aldermen had received passes from the railway and consequently they were not free to vote independently in the matter. It was learned that Ald. Vallieres and Lariviere were the aldermen referred to.

Ald. Payette thought the aldermen should decide the question one way or the other. Undoubtedly the city needed the kind of improvements the Canadian Pacific Railway was willing to make in the section mentioned, and the question before the aldermen was simply did they want this city or some other city to get the benefit of it.

Ald. Ekers said the report had been nearly two years before the council, and he saw no reason for further delay.

The vote was then called, and Ald. Couture's motion was carried as understood.

Ayes, St. Denis, Levy, Dagenais, Lavallee, Robillard, Wilson, Chausse, L. A. Lapointe, Ricard, Sauvageau, G. Hebert, Desrosiers, Bastien, Marchand, Leclaire, Proulx and Paquin—18.

Nays—Vallieres, Lariviere, Robertson, Clearhue, Turner, Sadler, Ekers, Gallery, James, Bumbury, Wainwright, N. Lapointe, Payette, Lemay and Duquette—10.

Ald. Chausse gave a notice that in a month he would move the first reading of a by-law to repeal by-law No. 101, concerning the establishment and maintenance of a free public library.

Ald. Bumbury enquired when it was proposed to go on with the expropriation of Notre Dame east.

Ald. Vallieres replied the work would begin in a couple of weeks.

Replying to Ald. Sauvageau, Ald. Sadler said the Grand Trunk Railway would soon have the flower plots in Chabouille square properly cared for.

ALDERMEN DENY CHARGE.

ACTION IN COUNCIL NOT INFLUENCED BY RAILWAY PASSES.

Aldermen Vallieres and Lariviere, when seen this morning regarding the charge made by the Montreal Brewing Company that they were influenced in their attitude towards the C. P. R. expropriation scheme in the east end of the city by passes received from that company, strongly denied the charge.

Ald. Vallieres, who resides at Ste. Rose, produced his coupon book, which he declared he paid for, as he always did. When he went to Quebec or other places he paid for his tickets for the express purpose of avoiding such complications.

His action would not be influenced by a pass, in any case, but although he had had passes sent him he returned them so that he might be free when questions would come up in which he might be charged with being interested. He had seen his solicitor and given instructions to have actions taken against those who had originated and circulated this unmitigated slander.

Ald. Lariviere admitted that he had recently accepted a complimentary pass, but it had not and would not affect his position in respect to the question before the council. He had voted and made a report on the matter before receiving his pass and he had not altered his opinion since. He denounced the insinuation that his judgment or action in an important public matter might be influenced by such a trivial consideration.

SERIOUS NOONDAY FIRE.

CLOTHIERS AND MANTLE-MAKERS SUFFER HEAVY LOSS.

Damage amounting to some $10,000 was caused by a fire which broke out shortly before one o'clock to-day at the corner of St. Catherine and Montcalm streets. The upper part of the premises, built over stores on both streets, were in the occupation of Joseph Lamoureux, mantle manufacturer, and it was in the offices in the rear that the fire started. The whole of the upper story was quickly a mass of flames. Companies from station and south of the city, quickly arrived on the scene, and copious volumes of water were poured on the flames and the adjoining buildings. In half an hour all danger of the fire spreading was ended. The stores underneath are occupied by Saxe & Sons, clothiers. Their damage will amount to nearly $5,000. They had only occupied these premises three weeks. The adjoining store on the first floor is rented by Mr. Nicholson, a Greek, but his shop was not open for business yet, though stored with goods in readiness to commence operations. The damage here will probably reach $1,000, while that of Mr. Lamoureux is approximately $4,000 to $5,000. For the short duration of the fire the damage is exceedingly large.

BETTER FIRE PROTECTION.

BOARD OF TRADE FAVORS INCREASING TAXATION TO SECURE IT.

A memorial on behalf of the Council of the Board of Trade was presented to the City Council yesterday on the subject of better fire protection. After reviewing the recommendations of the inspector of the Montreal Fire Underwriters' Association the memorial says:

While all the recommendations of that report are doubtless well considered and worthy of your careful consideration, your memorialists regard the following two items as of supreme importance, viz.:

1. The installation of a high pressure system for the protection of the wholesale and other important business sections of the city as outlined in said report on page 15.

2. The immediate provision of the steam pump and boilers necessary to bring the present water supply service up to its full capacity.

While the cost of the installation of the high pressure system as advocated, will undoubtedly be heavy, it appears according to the said report that it would render unnecessary expenditure which must otherwise be incurred for steam fire engines, moreover, your memorialists believe that the question of the adequate protection of the business quarter of this city from the possibility of destruction by fire is so urgent, that even if the securing of such protection involves additional taxation of the citizens, you should not hesitate to provide it.

Wherefore, your memorialists respectfully urge upon your honorable corporation as being urgently needed to safeguard this city from the possibility of extensive and calamitous conflagrations, the installation of the above-mentioned high pressure system and the provision of the steam pump and boilers necessary to bring the present water supply service up to its fullest pumping capacity.

New York, May 31.—Money on call nominally at 1 and 1 1/2 percent; prime mercantile paper 3 1/2 to 4 percent. Exchange $132,441,710.

New York, May 31.—Non-United States Steel pfd., sold off 3/4 and kept the tone of the market heavy in sympathy. Prices generally got below Friday's close. The movement was narrow and trading dull. Bonds were heavy. Some long dormant issues made wide declines.

J. B. Picken & Co.'s wire—The increase in cash shown by the banks, and marked contraction of loans, make the statement favorable one. Exports for the month of April are substantially the same as in April, 1903, but imports are about $1,000,000 less. The general position of the market is unaltered.

Wall Street, 2 p.m.—Selling orders were curtailed late in the day, and some of the weak stocks recovered slightly. Elsewhere speculation was practically at a standstill.

FOUNDLING HOSPITAL.

ANNUAL MEETING LARGELY ATTENDED YESTERDAY AFTER-NOON.

The annual meeting of the Montreal Foundling and Baby Hospital was held at the institution in Argyle avenue yesterday afternoon. Amongst the large company of ladies present were Mrs. Thon, Miss Robertson, Mrs. Leowens, Mrs. Vincent, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. LeMay, Mrs. N. W. Trenholme, Mrs. Sparrow, etc.

The Rev. Dr. Barclay took the chair and was supported in advocating the needs of the institution and testifying to the excellent work carried on by the Rev. Dr. Symonds and the Rev. Dr. Johnston. The report showed that during the year 202 cases had been dealt with. Of this number 58 were taken over by parents, four were adopted, 110 died and 39 remained in hospital.

The treasurer's report was satisfactory, showing a balance in hand in the general fund of $211. The medical report and all the speakers emphasized the need of a larger and better equipped building both for the benefit of those admitted and for the resident nurses. The place was described as totally inadequate to meet the growing needs of the district and the building itself was becoming dilapidated. It was decided to form a sub-committee to take the necessary steps for placing the present erection in the market and for securing sufficient funds to erect a more suitable home in a more favorable situation. Dr. Johnston felt that with such a splendid list of names connected with the institution no difficulty should be experienced in raising the required funds. A sum of thirty thousand dollars was needed and towards this a thousand dollars had been offered by a subscriber.

He: Excellency Lady Minto is hon. president of the institution. The patrons are Lord Strathcona, Lord Mount Stephen, Messrs. R. B. Angus, the Hon. G. A. Drummond, Hugh Graham, Sir W. C. SEWAGE FARM MAY GO.

TOWN OF ST. LOUIS MAY TAKE SEWAGE FROM ST. DENIS WARD TO BACK RIVER.

An important conference between the Road Committee, members of the Finance and Water committees and representatives of the town of St. Louis, was held at the City Hall yesterday. As a result it is considered likely that the city's sewage farm will be done away with and a sewage system will be put in to drain St. Denis Ward, the town of St. Louis, the village of Outremont, and probably, later, other neighboring municipalities direct into Riviere des Prairies, or the Back river. The officials of the Road Department had gone to the trouble of preparing estimates of the size of a drain necessary to relieve the sewage farm and also to accommodate St. Louis and Outremont. Estimates of the cost of building the drain and making other improvements were also ready, but were not wanted. Early in the discussion it was learned that the town of St. Louis had a charter giving them the right to construct a sewer to the Back river, and also to receive and carry through such sewer the sewage of surrounding municipalities whose natural drainage would lie to the north of the island. This at once changed the face of the situation. Instead of making inquiries as to what other municipalities would pay the city to carry off their sewage, it was decided to look up the probable cost to the city if the sewage from St. Denis Ward were carried through a common sewer to the Back river. It is claimed that this sewerage need not be filtered, consequently sewage farms will be unnecessary. To provide for the requirements of the three municipalities will cost, it is said, about a hundred and twenty thousand dollars. Mayor Gelin, Mr. Vanier, town engineer, Councillor Martel and Mr. Vincent, the secretary-treasurer of the town, represented St. Louis. The meeting adjourned to next Thursday, when

TERRIBLE PAINS ACROSS THE BACK.

Could not Sit or Stand with Ease. Consulted Five Different Doctors.

Doan's Kidney Pills FINALLY MADE A COMPLETE CURE.

Mr. Jacob Jamieson, Jamieson Bros., the well-known Contractors and Builders, Welland, Ont., tells of how he was cured: "For fourteen years I was afflicted with kidney trouble which increased in severity the last five years. My most serious attack was four years ago, when I was completely incapacitated. I had terrible pains across my back, floating specks before my eyes and was in almost constant torment. I could not sit or stand with ease and was a wreck in health, having no appetite and lost greatly in flesh. I had taken medicine from five different doctors and also numerous other preparations to no purpose. I finally began to take Doan's Kidney Pills and before I had taken five boxes the trouble left me and I now feel better than I have for twenty years. Those who know me know how I was afflicted and say it is almost impossible to believe that I have been cured, yet they know it is so. I have passed the meridian of life but I feel that I have taken on the rosy hue of boyhood."
