RENT AGITATION IN IRELAND.

The Irish rent agitation continues to gain headway and is causing considerable stir in England. The Archbishop of Tuam, Dr. McHale, wrote a letter denouncing a meeting held at Westport, county Mayo, but in spite of his Grace's denunciation, eleven thousand people attended. The proceedings were of a mingled Communist and Nationalistic character, the design being to make a demonstration which, by its noisy revolutionary aspect, might frighten the landlords of the county into foregoing the collection of rents. Among the speakers were no Roman Catholic priests, in consequence of the bishop's inhibition, but the assemblage was addressed by Mr. Mitchell Davitt, an ex-Fenian prisoner, who pointed their attention to the something beyond the Home Rule which they should struggle for, and was replied to by the cry, "We want total separation." They could not be stopped by any man, he added, no matter what was the colour of his coat or cloth. Mr. Parnell, M.P., was the chief speaker. He said that they should refuse to pay unfair rents, and not permit themselves to be dispossessed. They must keep a grip of their farms. No concessions would, he added, ensnare him. He would give the Government a return for them, but that given, they would again be quits. They would get their nationality acknowledged whenever the farmers became possessed of the soil. Resolutions were carried, declaring the man who charged an unfair rent an enemy to be resisted. Mr. O'Sullivan said he would tell them to meet together and propose fair rents, and if they were not accepted pay no rents at all. He asked them not to imagine for a moment that this advice was given thoughtlessly. He was advising them to do what was right. The doctrine of "the land for the people, and the people for the land," must be laid down even if they fought for it. In the midst of the proceedings, cheers were called for the Zulus and were heartily given.

The Dublin correspondent of the Times writes:—"The Roman Catholic priests of Kerry have thrown their influence into the agitation which has been commenced to obtain a reduction of rents. At their monthly conference in the Deanery house, Tralee, on Thursday, they adopted a long statement in which they attribute the present agricultural distress in the first place to excessive rents, alleging that for the last twenty years there has been very generally a steady increase of rents that were already high enough, until they have been raised to from 50 to 100 per cent., and in some instances more, above the valuation. The tenants, they say, struggled to pay these exorbitant rents, until the prices of agricultural produce have fallen 20 per cent., and several bad harvestings succeeding each other, while the cost of labour and of their own support had trebled within the last few years, they had found it utterly impossible to pay such rents. The latest harvest was especially bad, the potato crop having failed, and oats being the worst crop that farmers had had for years. Owing to the extreme severity of the winter and spring, which is felt even in this month, farming stock has been reduced to a very low condition, and very little hope is felt that the coming season will prove a prosperous one. It is not to be expected, they observe, that the present depression will be only temporary, because some of the causes of it are permanent, and although there may be good harvests, there is no prospect that foreign competition in agricultural stock and produce will become less active; and they ask how it is possible for Irish farmers, overburdened as they are, to compete successfully with the foreigner? If this state of things continues, the farmers, they say, must go to the wall, and the country will be reduced to as bad a condition as that of the famine times. 'The landlords,' they add, 'have the salvation of the country in their hands. While times were prosperous the tenants punctually and satisfactorily paid their rents, and now that the times are adverse the clergy of the people most respectfully and earnestly implore the landlords to come to the relief of the suffering tenantry and make such just and reasonable reductions in their rents as will enable the people to hold their ground, notwithstanding bad harvests, heavy taxation, high wages and foreign competition.' This statement is signed by Dean Mawe, P.P., and all the clergy of the district."

THE BONAPARTES AT BALTIMORE.

(From the Baltimore Gazette, June 21.)
The cable dispatch announcing the death of the Prince Imperial created considerable interest in this city, especially among the Baltimore branch of the Bonaparte family and their immediate friends. Some speculation was indulged in as to the possibility of one of these Bonapartes being called upon, in the event of a restoration of the Bonapartist dynasty to occupy the throne of France. To the credit of Mr. Charles Joseph Bonaparte's good judgment and sense, however, it may be said that he disclaims any part or interest in such chimerical schemes and does not regard the prospects of either himself or his elder brother, Col. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, being called upon to aid in the Bonapartist restoration as within the range of possibilities. A reporter of the Gazette found Mr. Bonaparte busily engaged in examining legal documents in his office preparatory to his daily drive to his country seat in Baltimore County. Mr. Bonaparte, though independently rich since the death of his grandmother, Mme. Bonaparte, continues his law practice, and by close application promises to distinguish himself in the profession he already adorns, and in which he has displayed great legal acumen and forensic ability. He received the visitor pleasantly, and when the subject of the Prince Imperial's death was mentioned, expressed deep regret at the calamity and sincerest sympathy for the Empress, now in her solitude at Chislehurst. He had received no advices confirming the report, but the character of the sad intelligence left little or no room to hope that it might prove erroneous. Immediately upon reading the dispatch he telegraphed to his brother, Col. Bonaparte, at Newport, asking if he had received any private advices from Chislehurst. The reply was that, up to noon yesterday, the Colonel had received nothing. The writer inquired of Mr. Bonaparte his views as to the succession to the French throne and the effect, if any, the death of the Prince would have on the chances of a restoration of the Bonaparte dynasty. Mr. Bonaparte smiled pleasantly as the subject was broached, and remarked that in his opinion the dynasty would never be restored. The death of the prince Imperial had, in his opinion, rather diminished than strengthened the chances of the Bonapartists. It had snapped asunder a link in the chain, and certainly the heirs apparent would be no nearer the throne than ever. While he did not say so directly, Mr. Bonaparte's conversation and manner in discussing the subject was such as to clearly establish the fact that neither he nor his brother had any aspirations in the direction of the French throne.

LORD CHELMSFORD AND CETEWAYO.—The London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian says:—"Grave dissatisfaction, which, however, has not yet fully found expression, is felt concerning the treatment by Lord Chelmsford of Cetewayo's envoys' conduct which Sir M. Hicks-Beach has apparently sanctioned on the part of the Government. Cetewayo's messengers were repulsed, yet Lord Chelmsford in his telegram dated May 17th, says that John Dunn, the best authority, believed they had with them the elephant's tusk, the sign of being in earnest; and again, 'Dunn thinks the King means business.' The attention of the Government will be called to another part of Lord Chelmsford's despatch, in which John Dunn, on his Lordship's behalf, threatened all the Zulu chiefs in those words:—'They must come in at once, trusting English clemency, and they would not be badly dealt with, but if they stay with the King when I advance all would be destroyed. It is thought extraordinary that an English Commander-in-Chief could transmit a message so inconsistent with the usages of modern warfare, and so grossly injudicious, as tending to prolong the war to the last extremity by leaving to the Zulu chiefs no alternative but unconditional surrender or destruction.'

THE JEWISH SABBATH.

TO THE EDITOR.
Sir, The Prime Minister is reported to have said in the interesting debate initiated by Lord Thurlow on the opening of the Museums on Sunday:—"I am perfectly free to admit that there is a difference between the Christian Sunday and the Jewish Sabbath, and I cannot agree with those who would extend to the observance of the Christian Sunday the rules and regulations of the Jewish Sabbath. If there be any who desire to do it, they would utterly fail to accomplish that purpose."
I regret the noble earl could not agree with those who would extend to the observance of the Christian Sabbath, coming down to England through Puritan times and a Calvinistic age, the rules and regulations of the Jewish Sabbath. If he had so agreed, he must have voted with Lord Thurlow and, perhaps, have decided the question more satisfactorily than it stands at present.
According to Jewish law and practice, intelligent recreation and even amusements which carry with them nothing vicious or degrading are not only permissible but are enjoined for the due observance of the Sabbath. The Sabbath is termed in the Talmud the "Bride of the week"—a day, not of gloom, but of light and joy. The Midrash naively observes on the verse in Canticles—"I am black but comely"—"If I am black, filled with dark and anxious cares during the week, I am comely on the Sabbath day. There is nothing morose, nothing ascetic in Judaism or in Judaic observances. Our reading rooms are open on the Sabbath, and the most pious Jews take pleasure, as well they may, in visiting art galleries and museums on the Sabbath day. We are punctilious in regard to servile work. We would not, for instance, permit our servants to remain outside the church listening to the neighing of the carriage horses while the devout congregation inside were listening to the Bishop eloquently reminding his absorbed listeners that the blessing of a Sabbath day must extend to all men alike, even if they are servants, and to all beasts, even if they are carriage horses, and that the prohibition against servile work should in Mosaicism be associated with what, to us, may appear untold rigour is perfectly natural when we reflect that the prohibitions were primarily addressed to a nation just emancipated from cruel and long continued bondage, and who, on the one hand, had to be elevated to a knowledge of the dignity of labour and to the appreciation of intellectual culture on the other hand.
One visit to the house of an observant Jew on the Sabbath day would do more to give Christians a clear and comprehensive notion of the serene and happy social influence of the Sabbath and the true religious character of Jewish home life, and how important a place the Sabbath occupies in Judaism, than the most graphic delineation in word painting. And not only is the Sabbath regarded as the rainbow of days in the cloud of the working man and as the best respite from the cares of life to the richest, but the Jew is enjoined that his rest, however hardly earned, must not be limited even here to selfish pleasures or pious contemplations, but that on the Sabbath day, while he must studiously eschew works of self-interest, he must with avidity perform all public duties, however onerous, required of him such as attendance at the Imperial, Legislative and kindred associations to promote as far as in him lies and in every way possible the interest of the State and the well-being of society. This is enjoined in Talmud Bible, Tract Saabat, F. 103-4; Ketubot, f. 5, and adopted as law by all past Talmudical legislators. I hope, Sir, on a future occasion the Prime Minister will agree with those who wish to introduce the benign spirit of the Jewish law of the Sabbath and successfully support a large measure for the "opening of museums on Sunday."
I am, Sir, yours faithfully,
A. L. GREEN.

The Quebec Mercury.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 25, 1879.

The voting in Chambly County for the election of a member to the Quebec Assembly takes place to-morrow. It is regarded as certain that Mr. Prefontaine, the Government candidate, a gentleman of education, great talent and eminence in his profession, who formerly sat for the county, will be returned.

Her Majesty's conduct throughout her reign has not been departed from in the visit so hurriedly and benevolently paid to the afflicted Eugenie by her former host and guest the Empress of India. The benevolence of her sex and the graciousness of her rank, have ever peculiarly distinguished the present English monarch, and she has simply done as might reasonably be expected from her, but if the French Imperialist conspirators imagine that their intrigues against the happiness of France and the peace of Europe are contemplated by the people of England with any other feeling than disgust and abhorrence, they are greatly deceived.

Imperialism in France has allied itself with ignorance, with the prejudices of the peasantry, with barbarism and retrogression, and the darkness of the worst ages of European history. Eugenie, in her affliction, presents a graceful no less than a melancholy spectacle; but in the rear sneers the spectre of Ruggieri, and the ghost of the Medici whispers the suggestions of her black and felon policy. Fortunately, the "Bourbons are impossible" so far as France is concerned, and it is already obvious that the Bonapartists will disintegrate, leaving the moderate Republic to proceed in the course of enlightenment and a correct and philosophical education of the masses.

Mr. Kerr, Q.C., in defending a client at Montreal, charged with an infraction of the liquor law, assumed that all the license statutes passed since 1869 were illegal up to the present time inasmuch as the jurisdiction in such cases belongs to the Crown, and no act authorizes any other power to enact license laws.

Mr. W. Weld, editor of the Farmer's Advocate, who is at present in Manitoba, telegraphs from Emerson to London that the destitution there is fearful, and that many who arrived there from Ontario are walking back.

A Paris despatch says that during a pilgrimage of 60,000 Poles to a miracle-working picture at Crenetokew, 15 pilgrims were killed in a thunder storm.

The reason Garibaldi seeks to annul his marriage with Mme. Raimondi is that the pension of 50,000 francs annually granted to his heirs would otherwise go to Mme. Raimondi's child, though he is not its father, while his own children, who are all legitimate, would get nothing.

The sum payable by the Government in the case of Murray vs. the Queen, amounting to $101,697, was paid out on Saturday to Mr. G. J. O'Doherty, attorney for the plaintiff.

DUST HO!—SWEEPS WANTED!—Dust, dust! everywhere and not a watering cart visible. The Corporation have all the facilities for properly watering the streets and yet they don't utilize them; "why is this thasy?" We never gave the civic rulers credit for much energy, but surely they can cope with this small question, or buy a few sweeping carts and then the water will be less called for.

PERSONAL.—Hon. Dr. Fortin, M.P. for Gaspé, and ex-Speaker of the Local House, has arrived in town. Mr. James Stewart, Managing Director of the Montreal Herald, and Captain Kerwin, of our lively evening contemporary the Montreal Evening Post, are also in town.

From Montreal To-day.

(By Montreal Line)

Montreal, June 25.

The tourist season has commenced and great numbers of strangers are arriving here daily. Our hotels had 140 new arrivals yesterday.

Catherine Armer, a young single woman, who came here from Ottawa to be confined, threw herself out of a third story window of the hospital last night. She escaped serious injury.

Bishop Fabre has left town for Rome.

The thermometer registered 87 in the shade at 11 o'clock this forenoon.

THE ZULU WAR.—Mr. Charles Pentland, advocate, of this city, is the possessor of an assegai and club, two of the weapons used by the Zulus in their present war with the British. These weapons were brought from India by a ship-captain who was there at the time of the battle of Isandula.

RECORDEE'S COURT TO-DAY.—Louis Martineau, for being drunk and lying on Finlay Market, got one month's jail. Telesphore Minguy, for being drunk, swearing and resisting the police, was fined $15 and costs, and in default of payment, two months' jail.

POLICE COURT TO-DAY.—Before T. Anderson, Esq., J.P., and Dr. Belleau, J.P.—Pierre Bourret and Alexandre St. Amand, of St. Ambrose de la Jeune Lorette, on their plea of guilty of selling liquor without license, were each fined $75 and costs or three months' jail; the trial of Widow J. Stokes, of the same parish, for the same offence, was fixed for the 11th July. Alphonse Bertrand and Charles Gagnon, for larceny, pleaded guilty and were sentenced to six months' jail at hard labour.

SACRED HEART EXHIBITION.—We invite all those who are desirous of visiting this exhibition to attend specially to-day or to-morrow. The objects are to be sold.—Com.

BARQUE LORRAINE.—The barque Lorraine, Capt. Bennet, which arrived here on the 5th instant from Montevideo, and which was in collision during the passage, has been placed in Mr. Valin's shipyard, where she is undergoing extensive repairs—in fact is being almost entirely reconstructed.

KILLED BY A REAPING MACHINE.—A correspondent in Trenton, Ontario, telegraphs that Mr. Walter Hendricks, son of Mr. John Hendricks of that place, was horribly mangled by a reaping machine this morning, expiring shortly afterwards. Although the young man was at work in a field about two miles from the railway track, his horses were frightened by the screech of a locomotive and became unmanageable, with the fatal result stated.

A Grand Pilgrimage of the Catholic societies of Montreal to Ste. Anne de Beaupré will take place on the 1st of July. The steamer Canada has been chartered for the occasion, and will leave on Monday night, the 30th of June, and return on Wednesday, the 3rd July. The pilgrimage, which will be directed by the chaplains of the various societies, is got up for the purpose of raising funds to erect an altar in the Church of St. Anne's by the diocese of Montreal.

TEMPERATURE.—The following is the state of the temperature during each day, by Negretti and Zambra thermometer, in the shade, at the "MERCURY" Buildings, Bunde street, 150 feet above spring tide level:—

The body of the late Prince Imperial will arrive from Cape Town in London about the 28th July.

Three tramps have been arrested at London, one of whom is supposed to be the fellow who stole a watch from a house in Petersville after the mistress had given him a meal the other day.

CAUGHT IN NIAGARA RAPIDS.

Sad Close of a Tour Around the World—Mme. Rolland, of Belgium, Carried Over the Canadian Fall before the Eyes of her Husband, who is Unable to Save Her.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 21.

The guests at the watering-place were shocked this afternoon at the report that one of their number, a lady, had been swept over the Falls. At first the story was disbelieved, owing to the peculiar circumstances connected with the case, but investigation soon showed it to be true. Four days ago A. Rolland, a wealthy gun-smith doing business at No. 51 Boulevard Doavray, and residing at No. 24 Rue Magnal, Liege, Belgium, arrived here with his wife. M. Rolland had been an exhibitor at the Paris Exposition, and at its close started, with his wife, on a pleasure tour around the world. They had been married only a short time, and were making a sort of extended bridal trip. They visited China, Japan, and numerous other countries, and crossed over to San Francisco, whence they came to Chicago, and then here, proceeding leisurely and visiting the country on the way. They took rooms at the Falls House, but boarded at Romaine's French restaurant. They were in the habit of having a cup of coffee in the morning at the hotel.

M. Rolland informed M. Romaine yesterday afternoon that this would be their last day here, as they intended to take the 2 P. M. train for New-York, whence they proposed sailing for Paris. He exhibited his railway tickets, already purchased, and said that by way of passing the morning pleasantly he and his wife intended to visit the islands at the head of the falls, where they could lounge in the shade and enjoy a last, long look at the wonderful scene before quitting it forever. He therefore requested his host to have breakfast ready for them at 7 o'clock, and said that they would return in time for the parting dinner. They reached the restaurant promptly on time, and seemed to enjoy the meal very much. They were both in the best of spirits, and on going out waved M. Romaine a laughing adieu.

What followed must be gathered from Mr. Rolland's lips, as nobody else can be found who saw the accident. He says that they reached the islands about 8.30 o'clock, and, passing out to the Third Sister, sat down and spent a pleasant hour reclining under the trees. There were on the island when they first went there another lady and two little boys, but these persons subsequently went away, though M. Rolland was unaware of their absence until he looked around to call for their assistance. About 9.20 o'clock, as nearly as he can judge, Mme. Rolland became thirsty, and asked him for a silver drinking-cup which he carried in a velvet case in his breast-pocket. He handed it to her, and abstractedly looked in another direction while she arose and proceeded to fill it on the spot where the accident occurred. There is a flat rock jutting out of the sward and extending to the water, above which it rises about a foot. Two dead cedar-trees lean across from left to right, their tops resting on another dead stump, thus forming a sort of arbor. About 20 feet distant is the small island known as Little Brother. The channel between the two is very deep, and the water pours between with tremendous force. Mme. Rolland went to the edge of the flat rock, and, stooping down, attempted to dip the cup into the current. She was within two months of her confinement, and probably became dizzy. Her husband heard a splash and a shriek, and sprang to his feet in time to see the poor woman swept out into the rapids on the outside of the old boat which lies stranded between the island and the falls. He says that she arose three times to the top of the tumbling water, throwing up her hands and appealing for help, and then disappeared forever. Her body was almost immediately carried over the Canadian Falls.

M. Rolland says he was tempted to spring after her, but the futility of the attempt was so manifest as to restrain him, although he was almost beside himself with grief. He waited a quarter of an hour in vain hope that his wife would arise again, and then rushed off to give the alarm. Being unable to speak English, he went direct to M. Romaine, who published the first tidings of the disaster. The fact that M. Rolland did not inform any of the island keepers, and that nobody else saw the accident, caused his story to be doubted at first, but when his standing was learned, and it was found that there were very few persons along the shores at the time, and those in such positions that the bushes between the road and the water would naturally obscure their view of the rapids, with M. Rolland's undoubted intense grief, the current of opinion changed, and a deep gloom has been thrown over the community. Mme

Rolland was only 29 years of age, and was of good family in her native place. Her husband has announced his intention of remaining here several days longer, in the hope of recovering her body.

THE FORGETFULNESS OF PEOPLE.

The Oxford Professor who, to avoid the wind when taking snuff, turned around, but forgot to turn back, and walked six miles to the country, was no more forgetful than those who still use the huge, drastic, cathartic pills, forgetting that Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pills, which have sugar-coats, and little larger than mustard seeds, are a positive and reliable cathartic, readily correcting all irregularities of the stomach, liver and bowels. Sold by druggists.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which saves us many heavy doctor's bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Cavalry Surgeon General.—Sold only in Packets labelled—JAMES EPPS & CO., Homoeopathic Chemists, London, England. Berkeley, Sept., 1869.—Gentlemen, I feel it a duty to owe to you to express my gratitude for the great benefit I have derived by taking Norton's Camomile Pills. I applied to you agent, Mr. Bell Berkeley, for the above-named Pills, for wind in the stomach from which I suffered excruciating pain for a length of time, having tried nearly every remedy prescribed, but without deriving any benefits at all. After taking two bottles of your valuable pills I was quite restored to my usual state of health. Please give this publicity for the benefit of those who may thus be afflicted.—I am, sir, yours truly, HARRY ALPHEA.—To the Proprietors of Norton's Camomile Pills. 26-1411

NERVOUSNESS.

It affords me great pleasure to bear testimony to the benefits I have received from using Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypo-phosphites. I have recommended it to many of my friends, and it has proved an excellent curative for nervousness and general debility. It is also a first-class tonic—enables a person to take on flesh rapidly, and is free from the constipating effects characteristic of other tonics I have tried. HENRY JOHNSTON, Montreal.

Read Dr. Earle's Testimonial.

Mr JAMES I. FELLOWS, Manufacturing Chemist Sir.—For several months past I have used your Compound Syrup in the treatment of incipient phthisis, chronic bronchitis, and other affections of the chest, and I have no hesitation in saying that it ranks foremost amongst the remedies used in those diseases. Being an excellent nervous tonic, it exerts a direct influence on the nervous system, and through it, invigorates the body. It affords me pleasure to recommend a remedy which is really good in cases for which it is intended, when so many advertised are worse than useless.

I am, sir, yours truly, Z. S. EARLE, JR., M.D. It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus' Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria. Do not be deceived by a medicine bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances. Price $1.50 per bottle, Six for $7.50. Sold by ALL DRUGGISTS. WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 25, 1879.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

Quebec June 25.

The Speaker took the chair at 3 p.m. the galleries being crowded to the doors.

The Provincial Secretary laid on the table.

1. The report of the Commission of internal economy of the House.

2. Answers to several addresses of the last session.

3. A statement of all appointments and promotions in the Civil Service since last session.

In continuation of the discussion on the Address in reply to the speech from the Throne,—

Mr. Chapleau made a lengthy speech laying stress on the completion of the North Shore Railroad, which, now an accomplished fact, had all along been intended to have been carried out by the DeBoucherville Government, but had failed because the Federal Government were expected to have provided half a million dollars which they failed to do. The Province, however, is yet rich enough, he said, to meet all honest claims for outlay in the real interests of the people, and he objected to the saying that all the property of the country was hypothecated, a remark made use of in soliciting a recent loan. Mr. Chapleau was still speaking when our report left.

From Toronto this Evening.

Toronto, June 25.

There are at the present time 300 prisoners in the Central prison, employed principally at brick making or broom manufacturing. At the former trade sixty find work and in making brooms and brushes 86 are employed. The bricks are utilized in building the Mercer Female Reformatory. The remaining prisoners are engaged in blacksmithing, shoemaking, mat making, gardening and on work about the prison and grounds.

There is a great outcry against the impurity of the water now supplied to the city. It is of a dirty colour and full of animal and vegetable life.

At the Police Court this morning, George Beard, a prominent citizen, was condemned to pay a fine of $5 and costs or spend 30 days in prison for assaulting Mr. Henry Pellatt, a stock broker. Beard is a life member of the Horticultural Society and because of that Society, would not supply him with a number of tickets for the concert in the Horticultural Gardens, he wickedly assaulted him in the ticket office.

Peter Mackenzie, a farmer, was sun-struck on Church street to-day. He was insensible for over an hour.

James Williams, an old man, dropped dead from apoplexy on the street this morning. He leaves a widow and grown up family.

The Sabbath Alliance of Scotland seem by their report for the past year to have met with several painful snubs while prosecuting their efforts to obtain a more rigid observance of Sunday. Having learned last summer that in consequence of the opening of the Tay Bridge line, the North British Railway Company would no longer require a Sunday train between Broughty Ferry and Dundee, but that the directors of the Caledonian Company had resolved to continue the train "on their own account," the Alliance, through their secretary, wrote to the chairman of the board of directors begging that the objectionable resolution might not be carried out. After some delay the following unsatisfactory reply was received from the chairman:—"While respecting conscientious convictions I cannot admit that you (the secretary) and the society whom you represent have any right to catechise me and my company as to the details of the management of this railway; and you must excuse me for declining correspondence on the subject."

BY CABLE THIS EVENING.

The British, French and German Consuls-General proceeded after midnight to the palace and declared to the Khedive that his deposition by the Sultan and the despatch of Halim Pasha to Egypt, to succeed him was imminent unless he immediately abdicated. The Khedive, in reply, again referred the Consuls-General to the Sultan.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors from the worst Scrofula to a common Itch, Pimples, or Eruptions, Mercurial Diseases, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Freckles, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetters, Itch, Hives, Carbuncles, Boils, Erysipelas, Herpes, and Swellings, White Swellings, Gout, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have yellow color of skin, or yellowish-downy spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chilliness attended with hot flashes, low spirits, nervousness, frequent appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from "Tetter Liver," or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Tetter Liver," or "Biliousness," the system is so affected that the patient is unable to perform his ordinary duties. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects a perfect and radical cure.

In the cure of Rheumatism, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and caused eminent physicians to pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and restores the blood to its natural purity.

Pierce's Pleasant Pellets

No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of cheap crude and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being so easily taken, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation.

For Rheumatism, Headaches, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Diarrhoea, Sour Eructation from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pains in regions of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Headed feeling about Stomach, Head of Blood in Head, late Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, in fact, are a "Little Giant" in remedial power of these Pleasant Pellets over so great a variety of diseases. It may be said that their action upon the system is not so rapid as that of a glass of wine or a dose of opium. But this is precisely the reason why they are so valuable. They are always ready to be taken, and they are always ready to be taken, and they are always ready to be taken.
